Wave Of Fear Hits Japan After H-Test

Second Detonation Was Made Friday

TOKYO, March 30 —UP—New fears of atom dusting and damage to the fishing industry swept Japan Tuesday following the announcement of the second U.S. hydrogen bomb explosion last Friday in the Marshall Islands.

The "atomic jitters" were reflected in Japanese newspaper dispatches despite immediate denials from the Coast Guard and foreign office of any reports indicating that fishermen were in the danger area of the latest thermonuclear explosion.

A headline in the influential newspaper Mainichi said, "Japan not informed of 2nd H-test."

Tooru Nakagawa, director of the foreign ministry's Asian bureau, said the foreign ministry was not informed beforehand of the second hydrogen explosion at the U. S. Bikini testing grounds.

Nakagawa said the Japanese government will map out proper steps to cope with the new situation pending receipt of an official report from the Japanese embassy in Washington.

The Asian bureau director said, however, that he believed there would be no unfortunate incidents similar to the atomic dusting of 23 fishermen during the first hydrogen explosion. He said both the Japanese and U.S. governments have taken all precautions since the March 1 incident.

The Japanese fishing agency expressed "surprise" at the announcement of the second H-bomb test and indicated that it feared some fishing boats might be radio-active upon their return to Japan despite the warnings.

Bulletin

FORT BRAGG, N.C., March 29 —UP— A C-119 Flying Boxcar, attempting to land with an engine fire, crashed into a mess hall on this big military base Tuesday, killing at least two of the nine men aboard and trapping an undetermined number in the building that erupted into roaring flames.

Excise Tax Chop Due In Capital Today

WASHINGTON, March 30 —UP— Congress was expected to complete action Tuesday on a bill chopping federal excise taxes a billion dollars a year.

The measure, which President Eisenhower is expected to approve, should lower by Thursday or soon thereafter prices on household appliances, jewelry, furs, cosmetics, theatre tickets, luggage, telephone and telegraph tolls, travel tickets and several other items.

The bill would also continue excise taxes at their present levels on automobiles, gasoline, liquor, beer, wine and cigarettes. Under present law, taxes on these items would drop automatically on April 1.

The compromise bill, drafted by a House-Senate conference committee Monday, was scheduled to come up in the House first. Senate action was expected later in the day.

Although the administration had opposed all excise tax cuts, Mr. Eisenhower was expected to sign the measure into law. While the items to be cut will cost the treasury just under a billion dollars a year, the tax loss would be $1,077,000,000 if the automatic April 1 tax cuts should take effect.

The House had originally voted to cut excise levies $122,000,000 a year. (See EXCISE TAX, Page 3)

BITTEREST BATTLE — Jordan charged March 29 that Israeli troops attacked the Jordan village of Nahalin three miles inside Jordan near Bethlehem killing nine Arabs and wounding 18 before the Arab Legion beat them back. It was the bitterest battle on the Arab Land border since last Oct. 14 when an Israeli force smashed the Jordan town of Qibya. The Nahalin attack occurred less than two weeks after ambushers massacred 11 Israelis on a bus. (NEA Telephoto)

Holy Land Dispute Blamed On Israel

JERUSALEM, March 30 —UP— The impartial American chairman of the mixed armistice commission accused Israel Tuesday of engineering a raid on a Jordanian village that took nine Arab lives.

Jordan radio said U. S. Navy Cmdr. E. H. Hutchinson used extremely severe language in finding Israel guilty in the attack that threatens the five-year-old holy war truce.

The armistice commission fixed the blame on Israel at an emergency meeting which was boycotted by the Israeli delegates.

"In this case, the evidence established her guilt without question," Hutchinson said. "There seems to be little effort on the part of the attacker to conceal their identity."

"I do not believe that the Israeli officials will encounter much difficulty in apprehending the perpetrators of this crime and bringing them to justice."

Hutchinson asked Jordan to refrain from attacking areas in retaliation for the pre-dawn raid on the Jordanian town of Nahalin, located only six miles from the birthplace of Jesus Christ at Bethlehem.

The chairman deeply sympathized with the Nahalin villagers. Hutchinson said, "The terror of such a situation is unbearable."

Opposition To Statehood Bill Falters

WASHINGTON, March 30 —UP— Senate opposition to a bill to bring Alaska and Hawaii into the Union appeared to be collapsing Tuesday and backers predicted passage of the measure later in the week.

Statehood supporters privately claimed 55 votes for the measure — a comfortable margin for passage. And opponents conceded privately the bill will pass.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), a leading opponent of the bill, told reporters he would be willing to end the weeks-long debate and vote on the bill Thursday. Such an agreement, Smathers said, may be proposed Tuesday.

Smathers said a proposal to permit residents of Alaska and Hawaii to decide in referendums whether they prefer statehood or commonwealth status will be offered before the final vote comes.

In debate on the measure Monday, some senators were already discussing prospects for the statehood bill after it passes the Senate.

Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said "the odds are greased to take in Hawaii," but he predicted that Alaska would be dropped from the bill "somewhere in the 100 yards between the House and the Senate."

Monroney, a sponsor of a bill to grant the territories commonwealth status, meant that he expected Alaska, added by the Senate to the Hawaii bill as passed by the House, would be knocked out in the Senate-House Conference committee.

Western Missions Get Boot

BERLIN, March 30 —UP— The East German Communists announced Tuesday that western military missions will no longer be permitted to operate in the Soviet zone.

East German Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht made the announcement in a five-hour speech at the opening of a weeklong Congress of the Soviet zone Communist party.

It appeared from the announcement that only the 10 western nations which maintain military missions in Berlin will be affected.

Apparently the ban did not apply to the United States, British and French military missions accredited to Soviet headquarters at Potsdam.

The countries which maintained military missions here are Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Greece, India, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway and South Africa.

Extended Reciprocal Trade Program Called For By Ike

WASHINGTON, March 30 —UP— President Eisenhower asked Congress Tuesday for a liberalized trade program to improve "our domestic employment, our standard of living, our security, and the solidarity of the free world."

In a 4,500-word message on foreign trade policy, Mr. Eisenhower called for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade program and power to cut tariffs 5 per cent each year for three years.

He promised to end give-away economic aid for other nations "as soon as possible consistent with our national interest," substituting loans.

Urge Greater Exchange

He suggested a "greater exchange of peaceful goods between East and West, so far as it can be achieved without jeopardizing national security." But he would not

U. S. Presses Legal Attack On ILA Union

NEW YORK, March 30 —UP— The federal government pressed a three-pronged legal attack on the discredited International Longshoremen's Association Tuesday in an all-out effort to end a crippling 26-day dock strike in the nation's largest port.

In separate but concerted moves the U. S. attorney stepped up a grand jury investigation of the strike, the National Labor Relations Board sought to force tugboatmen back to work and a federal court judge continued over protests the $190,000 contempt trial of the ILA, eight of its locals and three of its officers.

The federal action came as rumors swept the paralyzed waterfront that warehousemen would refuse to work Tuesday in support of the striking longshoremen, who Monday picketed the White House and the Washington headquarters of the NLRB.

Officials of the striking union said after a meeting in Philadelphia Monday night that locals in ports from Norfolk to Canada would refuse to handle "hot cargoes" diverted from New York. A general coast-wide tieup was not expected, however.

Nearly 4,000 members of a rival AFL longshoremen's union crossed ILA picket lines to work 39 ships in New York Monday, but more than 15,000 other dockers continued to boycott cargo-loaded piers.

Gas Rate Expert Due Here Today

E. A. Steinberger, the Dallas gas rate consultant hired by the Pampa City Commission to appraise and evaluate Pampa's gas system, was due in town sometime this morning.

City Atty. Bob Gordon this morning told the city commission of Steinberger's expected arrival and said he did not know how long the taxman would be here.

Commissioners approved a motion authorizing Steinberger officially to investigate the properties of Empire Southern Gas Company, the Central States Power & Light Corporation and the Texas Gas and Power Corporation, the latter two the predecessors to Empire.

The commission Wednesday hired Steinberger in special session to make his investigation and testify as an "expert witness" in 13th District Court, Austin, when the next round of the gas case of Empire vs. the City of Pampa comes up. It is scheduled for 10 a.m. May 10.

Texas AFL Set To Call Area Strikes

By UNITED PRESS

AFL workmen in widely-separated sections of Texas Wichita Falls and the Sabine-Neches area of Southeast Texas — posed strike threats Tuesday.

Local 125, AFL Ironworkers, was reported at Beaumont to be preparing a Wednesday night strike to enforce demands for a 25-cent hourly wage increase and other benefits.

At Wichita Falls, about 150 millers were instructed Monday night to strike one minute past midnight Friday, in connection with the national breakdown of negotiations between the American Federation of Grain Millers, AFL, and General Mills, Inc.

The Wichita Falls plant is one of General Mills' largest in the Southwest. Union employees met Monday night at Wichita Falls, when they were instructed to leave their jobs unless a settlement is reached before the strike deadline.

Angus Bain, manager of the Wichita Falls General Mills plant, said he had not been definitely notified of an impending strike. He said he had "no comment" on reports of one.

The Wichita Falls local of the AFL grain millers union signed a two-year supplementary contract last August, but Bill Kaufhold, local secretary, said this was not involved in current negotiations, which are nationwide.

Pampa To Appoint Board Of Equalization April 6

A board of equalization will be appointed a week from today, the next meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

Commissioners this morning talked over the equalization situation but could not — by law — take any action until after the first of the month.

A tax advisory board, comprised of H. E. (Doc) Schwartz, Gene Lewis and Bob Sidwell, was appointed last fall and, in the past, the advisory board has become the official board of equalization. But it does not have to be that way.

In other action this morning, the commission:

- (1) Approved a request by Guy Lott, Amarillo, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, that the city lease to the state an additional 276 feet directly to the north of where the present THD barn stands in Recreation Park, making a total of about five acres. The building is now 480 feet by 300 feet. City Attorney Bob Gordon is to draw up the lease.
- (2) Accepted "with reluctance" the resignation of Mrs. Dick Hughes from the five-member

Amarillo Firm May Be Given Armory Job

AUSTIN, March 30 —UP— The National Guard Armory Board has recommended that a contract for construction of an armory building at Pampa be awarded to J. W. Marsh of Amarillo, it was announced Tuesday.

The Board of Control said the Amarillo construction firm's net bid was $47,901.

The recommendation must now go to the National Guard Bureau in Washington for final approval.

A Denton firm, Allen and Wilson, originally submitted the low bid on the project, totaling $68,848.

The Board of Control said Marsh's base bid was $73,896, which was reduced by alternates and deductions to $47,901.

Formal approval by the National Guard Bureau was expected to require from two weeks to six weeks.

Flash Cold Spell Kills 21 In U. S.

By UNITED PRESS

A spring storm that pulled a blanket of snow up to 16 inches deep over a wide band of territory from Wyoming to Maine left at least 21 persons dead Tuesday.

The storm, which began in the Plains States Sunday and rolled eastward Monday, was diminished early Tuesday by the heavy snow that had stopped and the cold front was spewing freezing rain, sleet and showers over much of the East.

In many areas of the Midwest, light powder snow dusted the deep, wet blanket left by the big storm. The snowstorm left 16 inches of new snow and four persons died at Rochester, N. Y., when that city was buried under 13 inches of snow. Most of the deaths were caused by over-exertion in fighting the storm.

At Detroit, in the heart of the storm area, one man slipped on an icy walk and died of a fractured skull. Another man died of a heart attack after sweeping the wet snow.

Three persons were killed in auto accidents on glass-slicked Iowa highways, and one woman died in a similar accident in Indiana.

City Okays Bus Routes

Buses will begin running at 6:40 a.m. Thursday and there'll be three different fares.

The Pampa City Commission this morning approved the proposed bus routes and stops, submitted by A. C. Howell, the sole owner, and thus opened the way for the resumption of bus service exactly six months after it was concluded.

Howell was on hand before the commission today and said there would be four routes with 20-minute runs going north and south, and east and west. Buses will run from 6:40 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Fares will be 25 cents for adults, 10 cents for school students and nothing for children 5 and less, accompanied by an adult. That 10-cent fare for school kids had not been included originally, but commissioners agreed to it.

Duncan Insurance Agency is handling Howell's insurance on the new Pampa Bus Company.

French Tabbed Fighting Fools

HANOI, Indo-China, March 30 —UP— French officers counting Communist dead on the battleground surrounding Dien Bien Phu said Tuesday the fortress's defenders had earned the right to call themselves the "fighting fools" of the Indo-China war.

The observers reported that only 30 French Union soldiers had been killed in the bold attack Sunday on a Communist artillery emplacement, an assault that slaughtered 1,400 Reds.

French foreign legion soldiers and Moroccan infantrymen hacked 400 rebels to pieces with 134.7 bayonets. Another 1,000 Communists were pounded to death in their trenches by bombers.

Body Of Airman Found On Beach

HOUSTON, March 30 —UP— A body found washed up on the beach near Freeport, Tex., has been identified as that of an airman sucked from a B-39 Air Force bomber on March 22 while it was two miles above the Gulf of Mexico.

The body of S-Sgt. Claude J. Trahan, 26, was brought to Ellington Air Force Base here and identified by officials from Randolph AFB at San Antonio, where the airman was stationed.

A Freeport pilot, R. E. Larson, first spotted the body and it was recovered by helicopter crew of the 47th Air Rescue Squadron from Ellington.

Sgt. Trahan, a native of Burlington, Vt., was pulled from the plane by a "decompression explosion" caused when a bulkhead on the pressurized plane pulled loose.

Hammer And Knife Used

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., March 30 —UP— A young marine and his teenage sweetheart lived for two weeks in the same house with the body of the girl's mother whom he had murdered when she caught them in bed together.

The marine, Pvt. William D. Byers, 17, had encased the woman's body in plaster of paris, in Mrs. Greah's home last Friday. Beer cans littered the apartment, police said, including several in the room with the body.

Byers admitted living with Theresa for two weeks after the killing. He joined the Marine Corps nine days ago and was sent here for his "boot" training.

The youth was placed in a maximum security cell to be held for extradition to New York.

Absentee School Vote Ends Today

Absentee balloting for the 13 posts up on the election block this year for the seven school boards in Gray county was scheduled to cease at the close of business today. Actual election is slated for 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday.

Sabotage Hinted In Plane Wreck

MONTERREY, Mex., March 30 —UP— Government inspectors Tuesday inspected the wreckage of a DC-3 airliner crash in the mountains near here Thursday to see whether a time bomb could have caused the plane to explode with the loss of 18 lives.

The newspaper Ultima Noticia in Mexico City said it had learned that at least four passengers aboard the wrecked plane carried "extraordinarily large" insurance policies. Officials would not say whether they had uncovered any evidence of sabotage.

Marine Confesses Murdering The Mother Of His Sweetheart

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., March 30 —UP— A young marine and his teenage sweetheart lived for two weeks in the same house with the body of the girl's mother whom he had murdered when she caught them in bed together.

The Canadian River Municipal Water Authority has "entered into an agreement" with Parsons Brinckerhoff, Hall and Macdonald of New York City, on the proposed feasibility report for the dam-and-reservoir project — but nothing has yet been signed.

C. A. (Lefty) Huff, president of the authority, late this morning gave a report on what had transpired Monday in Lubbock at a meeting of him, Robert Maxey and A. A. Meredith, authority officials, Erice Hugenin, authority attorney, and A. Bahn Jr., Parsons representatives.

"We went all over the prairie, it takes to make a feasibility report," Huff said today. But the proceedings will have to be checked with the New York office before Huff can actually sign the contract.

Huff said he expected a "called meeting in about a week." If not then, it would be at the regular meeting of the authority's board of directors, slated for 10 a.m. April 12. If Parsons' New York office mixes the deal, negotiation would have to be reopened.

He is survived by his wife, Betty, of Houston; one daughter, Cynthia, of Houston; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Winborne of Pampa; one brother, J. W. Winborne of Pampa; his grandmother, Mrs. L. E. Thurman of Childress; and his grandfather, Jim Gilbreath of Lefors.

Plans for a re-evaluation program, designed to bring schools in this area up to accredited standards, was discussed at a meeting of school officials in Pampa Junior High School Monday afternoon.

Two representatives from the National Education Agency from Austin were present for the meeting. They were Miss Ruby Bennett and Miss Martha Buttrill, who explained a proposed state plan and secured suggestions and recommendations from the group.

Under the proposed plan, according to County Supt. B. R. Nuckols, all schools in the state will be reclassified to determine whether they meet all accreditation standards. All schools in each school district must meet the standards, he said, or none of the district's schools will be termed as accredited schools.

The re-evaluation program will be conducted throughout the state during the next school year, Nuckols stated.

The state is asking local school districts to "look at themselves make such improvements as might be necessary to bring their schools up to standard," he said. "The state is asking for local help rather than making its own decisions," he added.

Attending the meeting were officials from Pampa, Lefors, Miami, Stinnett, White Deer, Phillips, Horger, Panhandle and Hopkins.

Lawn Water Rate Applications Being Taken In City Hall

It may have seemed like winter outside late this morning but the city water department was looking ahead to summer and the way residents use water on their lawns.

Miss Ellen Keough, chief bookkeeper in charge of the water office, today said that applications for the lawn water rate are being accepted in her office, located on the first floor of City Hall.

Pampa's lawn rate applies only to residential accounts inside the city limits. Miss Keough pointed out, adding that there is no lawn rate for accounts outside the city limits and for commercial accounts.

However, all residential accounts are billed on the residential rate unless the customers sign the applications requesting lawn rates on their accounts, Miss Keough continued.

If a customer is on the lawn rate now, she emphasized, he will remain that way — year after year — till he cancels it. To cancel the lawn rate, the customer must come to the water office and sign a request for discontinuance.

Applications signed from the 15th of the month till the end of the month become effective the 15th of that month, the water office official went on. Those signed from the first through the 14th of the month become effective the 15th of the previous month.

But the lawn rate is not confined to just the summer. Customers who are entitled to the rate can have it both summer and winter if they wish, Miss Keough said.

She gave an example of how the rate differs. For 5,000 gallons, the lawn rate is $3.50 and the regular rate is $5.50.

She said that no acreage has been released as yet and that the deadline for releasing this acreage is May 21.

A Panhandle-wide Republican rally has been scheduled for the night of April 12 in the Herring hotel, Amarillo.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, junior senator from Arizona, will be the guest speaker at the affair, which is designed as a chance for supporters of President Eisenhower to get acquainted with each other, according to George Shannon, arrangements committee chairman.

LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster, of Pampa, GOP candidate for Rep. Walter Rogers' seat in the U. S. House of Representatives, will also be a guest of honor, Shannon said.

Republicans of the 18th Congressional District are planning the rally.

Rail Empire At Stake Young's Fight To Control NY Central Also Feud With Wall Street Bankers

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two dispatches that background the people and the financial complications behind the current battle for control of the $2 billion New York Central railroad empire.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Wall Street is burning with curiosity and apprehension over exactly what Robert R. Young has up his sleeves in his titanic struggle for control of the $2 billion New York Central Railroad property. The showdown is May 29 at Central's annual stockholders' meeting — if no deal is made before then.

The Central includes tremendously valuable real estate holdings in Manhattan and elsewhere which will probably be manipulated to reorganize the road's complex financial structure.

Young is backed by powerful Texas and Midwest financial interests which is a challenging wedge to the long dominance of the New York business community by the J. P. Morgan, Vanderbilt and Rockefeller fortunes.

Not least, the Central's 10,738-mile road is a vital factor in tying together the nation's great industries of the East and Midwest. It's second only in size to the Pennsylvania Railroad.

It adds up to a struggle reminiscent of earlier U.S. railroad battles waged by the Vanderbilts, Jay Gould, James Fiske, Daniel Drew and the Van Sweringens.

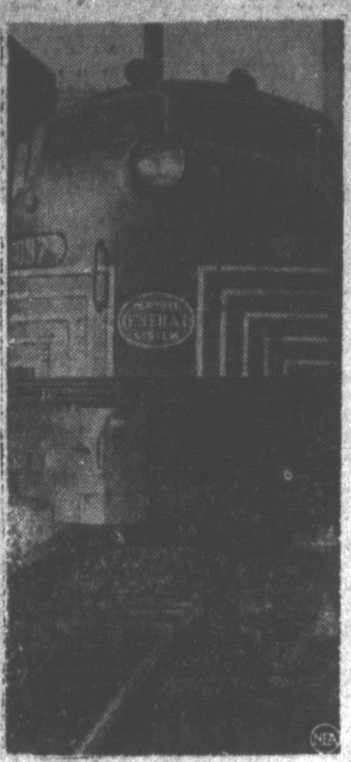

The public stake in the fight is Young's promise to transform the Central into a model of streamlined, comfortable travel, integrated for passenger convenience into a transcontinental system.

Even if Young loses, his action has already needed the present Central management into speeding up delayed modernization of its passenger facilities.

Young's most publicized motive is his long and almost fanatical feud with Eastern bankers. The Central's present board of directors is the perfect foe for him. It includes Harold S. Vanderbilt, George Whitney, director of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Percy J. Ebbott, president of the Rockefeller's Chase National Bank, and other officers of the First National Bank of New York and the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co.

The somewhat incongruous front man for the board is career-railroader, William White, Central's president. He's finding the TV, radio and public relations aspects of the fight "a helluva way to run a railroad."

Central's present board owns in the neighborhood of 15,000 shares. Young's group now owns more than 1,000,000 shares, or about 17 per cent of the $4,477,410 total shares. His impressive team includes the two fabulous Texas oil millionaires, Clinton W. Murchison and Sidney W. Richardson, Allan P. (Woolworth) Kirby and Cleveland financier Cyrus

AT STAKE: Symbol on nose of locomotive is also a symbol of prize in NY Central war.

Washington railroad expert suggest that this ties Young the current fight of another railroad magnet, Patrick B. McGinnis, to get control of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The New Haven participates in the earnings of most of the Central's New York hot properties in a complicated arrangement stemming back to days when the roads were first organized.

Young denies any connector with McGinnis. But a Central spokesman and some Washington experts concede that by working together Young and McGinnis would have a much easier time of reorganizing the finances of both roads.

Everyone on Wall Street agrees that cash alone is not Young's prime motive in this fight.

But critics insist Young is strictly a stock manipulator and only a dilettante at railroading.

Clamp Put On Duval County Bank

ALICE, Tex., March 30 — UP — The Texas State Bank, controlled by South Texas political boss George B. Farr, was forbidden Tuesday to pay out Duval county funds improperly.

A. S. Broadfoot, sitting as judge of the 79th District court for the first time, issued a temporary injunction Monday in response to a taxpayers' suit, the first of six to reach the rearing stage.

The court order forbids the bank to:

1. Cash Duval county checks without endorsement of the payee.
2. Cash checks with forged endorsements.
3. Cash checks made out to fictitious persons.
4. Cash checks with forged endorsements of county officials.
5. Cash checks lacking the endorsement of the proper county officials.

Witnesses testified the bank had paid out county funds under all five illegal conditions.

Four persons testified for the plaintiffs, and no one for the bank. But Manuel Raymond of Laredo representing the bank, filed notice of appeal.

Principal witness was State Auditor C. H. Cavness, who testified that 39 photostats of checks, introduced into evidence, were made under his direction. Cavness recently audited Duval county books as part of a state investigation ordered by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

that his highly-publicized aims and credit cards for passengers all died a quiet death. Young's answer is to compare the record of his C.&O. to that of the Central last year. Out of $844 million gross revenue, Young realized a net railroad operating income of $60 million, or a seven per cent rate of return on investment.

On $835 million of gross revenue, the Central ended with a net revenue of $63 million, or a 3.14 per cent return.

White's answer to these figures is that the C.&O. and Central are actually different types of roads with different types of traffic, and that the Central has a higher percentage of passenger business which loses money.

Supporting his claim that NYC's management is not on the ball, Young points out that the road went into the red more than $2 million during January.

White's answer is that it's not unusual for profits to go during certain months, that revenues were off 14 per cent that month and that he had kept all crews working full time to catch up on overdue maintenance and repair projects.

Rogers' Newsletter ... Concerns Dust And Domiciles

Dust and domiciles are the two main topics treated by Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, in his weekly newsletter to his constituents in the 18th Congressional District.

"It eats at the very souls of men."

That is how Rogers quotes some of the representatives from South-eastern Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and the Texas Panhandle who were in Washington, D. C., recently, urging some immediate action to prevent a recurrence of the dust bowl days of the 1930's.

"Cooperation and coordination between the state and federal governments and the respective landowners," Rogers says, "will be essential to an early and effective blocking of a recurrence of that plight."

The blowing of the land in the great Southwest is one of the number one problems of this nation today," the Pampa states, adding that Aidon Bell, Perryton, was in his office the other day and "told me that this dust was settling on the grass in our section and that many ranchers were having trouble getting their cattle to eat grass."

"Some headway has been made," the congressman says of the situation, "and it appears that some immediate action will be taken to ease the problem in South-eastern Colorado ... (where) most of the blowing seems to be ..."

Although it will cost several million dollars to carry out an effective program, Rogers points out, "this cost would multiply many times if this blowing is allowed to continue."

The housing bill which is now up for consideration by the House of Representatives "is not much different from the housing bills that we have had in the past," Rogers says, going into his second main topic.

Rogers recalls a little housing history. The Truman administration requested 125,000 public housing units to be authorized, but the Bureau of the Budget cut it down to 75,000 and congressional committees cut it even more — to 25,000. Then, when it came before the House, it was cut to a slim 5,000.

Now, the congressman says with a written chuckle, the Eisenhower Administration is asking for 140,000 units, which is 15,000 more than the former administration asked for.

"The fate of this request," Rogers figures, "is going to be most amusing, because many of those who are presently supporting the 140,000 ... request were the very ones who called 125,000 units socialism at its worst."

"I can't, for the life of me, see how the socialistic features of such a program can be erased by adding 15,000 more public housing units," he insists.

Beta Sigma Phi's Woman Of Year Choice Part Of International Plan

When the 1954 Woman of the Year is named Sunday she will be among thousands of women being honored in various parts of the world by Beta Sigma Phi chapters.

Realizing that women everywhere were contributing their time and talent to community improvement and development, the International organization planned a recognition day for the first lady of the year in every community. This year's winner will be the ninth woman honored by local Beta Sigma Phi members.

The exemplar chapter, Xi Beta Phi, is co-hostess and co-sponsor of the 1954 award.

Nominations for the Woman of the Year are submitted each year by a group of civic leaders, representing a cross-section of the city's citizenship. Sorority members are not eligible for the award.

In addition to recognizing outstanding women leaders in individual communities, Beta Sigma Phi has conferred International Honorary Membership on a number of prominent women throughout the world. Among the honorary members have been Miss Amelia Anthony, founder of Girlstown, Mrs. Frances Bolten, political figure, Sister Elizabeth Kinney humanitarian, Mrs. Grace Coolidge, wife of the late Calvin Coolidge and Helen Topping Miller, popular novelist.

Since 1946, Beta Sigma Phi has honored the following Women of the Year: Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Carl J. Wright, Huelyn Laycock, James Massa, Arthur Teed, Dick Hughes, Rufe Jordan, and Hardy Hicks.

Mrs. Hicks, 1953 Woman of the Year, has served as sponsor during the current year. Mrs. Jordan, 1952 winner, is a director.

The guests played various games and enjoyed a treasure hunt. Slick candy, bubble gum and small baskets filled with jelly beans were given to each small guest.

Decorated birthday cake, cream and pink lemonade were served to Jimmy Dyer, Karen Slavens, Mary Lou Karlin, Gaye Allen, Cary Aubert and to Mmes. Leo Dyer, Clifton Hanna and Joe Chapin.

These Crops Give Harvest That Lasts All Summer

Sowing Data on Long-Harvest Crops

Days to Grow for Size	Serving
HARDY KINDS:
Broccoli	70 2 ft.
Celery	140 1 ft.
Collards	75 6 ft.
Kale	90 2 ft.
Leek	90 2 ft.
Parley	70 6 in.
Parship	95 2 ft.
Salsify	100 2 ft.
Swiss chard	60 6 in.
New Zealand spinach	60 6 in.
TENDER KINDS:
Cucumbers	45-70 1 ft.
Eggplant	90 1 ft.
Tomatoes	60-90 1/2 ft.

Vegetables which are most rewarding to the home gardener are those which, once mature, can be harvested the rest of the season.

These do not require succession planting, and two of them—parsnips, and salsify—can be harvested all summer and winter. It is important, of course, not to sow too much, for surplus vegetables cost both money and money and are usually wasted.

Take special care with the greens—parley, Swiss chard and New Zealand spinach— which are often overplanted. Instead of a row of each, to divide 4 rows among the three will suffice for many families. All are among the richest of vegetables in vitamin A and should be eaten often, say nutritionists.

The time for planting all these crops is definite. Sow seed of the hardy ones just as soon as the soil can be prepared. Plants, even of the hardy ones, should not be set out until the danger of frost is over, and that is also the time to sow, or set out, plants of the tender varieties.

It is not so easy to determine how much to sow, because the harvest lasts from the time they are large enough to use, until frost kills the plants. This is an indefinite period, but will usually average about 12 weeks. To estimate the space sufficient to supply the table for this period multiply the figure given in column two of the accompanying table by 12, then again by the number of times per week the vegetable will be served on your table.

Parship

Peppers

Egg Plant

To obtain the yields for tomatoes and cucumbers estimated in the table, both must be trained on stakes or fences, to reduce the ground space occupied. If canning, additional space must be provided. Where catalogues offer both early and late varieties of a vegetable, space should be divided between them, to get both an early harvest and the heavier yield which the slow-maturing kinds usually give.

Wiener Roast Held For Howard Farley

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — Howard Farley, Jr., celebrated his 16th birthday with a party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Farley, at the Skelly Crawford Camp recently.

The honoree and guests enjoyed games and a wiener roast in the back yard of the home.

Attending were Janice Hess, Nell Neely, June Traylor, Barbara Homer, Sue Williams, A. C. Malone, Jerry Cobb, J. B. Roe, Donald Carlson, Dwayne Clemens, Horace Preston, Rusty and Linda Yeager; Messrs. and Mmes. Bill Puckett, Darrell Yeager and Mrs. O. E. Carlson.

State Officers Elected At Convention Of Kappa Kappa Iota Sorority Here

The Pampa chapter of the Kappa Kappa Iota sorority, an organization of teachers whose purpose is to uphold standards of teaching and promote good will and understanding between the public and the teaching profession, played host this weekend at the City Club Rooms for teachers all over Texas at the Delta State Convention.

The convention opened Saturday morning with an early coffee. Presiding at registration were Frances Fatheree, Nickie Gordon, and Lilly Nuckols. Serving at the coffee table were Nell Rankin, Ann Odum and Espar Stover. Workshops followed during which the problems and obligations of officers and the extension of good will of the order were discussed. Willie Mae Mangold and Nickie Gordon presided at the discussions during which the organization of new chapters in other Texas towns was advised. The various groups represented displayed their scrapbooks which contain the life history of each member as well as an account of the group's activities.

Following a business session the sixty guests were served luncheon in the Palm Room from tables decorated to represent the various states in which Kappa Kappa Iota is active.

Among those present were Allegra Bush, Amarillo, out-going state president and national president Irma Jean Shook, also of Amarillo.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Jane Keen And Don Mitchell

Before an altar decorated with tall white baskets of yellow roses and white gladioli, Rev. I. T. Huckabee, Lefors, read the doubling ring ceremony which united Jane Keen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keen and Don H. Mitchell, son of Mrs. Neva Mitchell of Rule. Preceding the ceremony, which was held at five o'clock in the Methodist Church, Higgins, Miss Fae Marie Beck, Perryton, played "Always," "Because," "I Love You Truly," and other pramptual music.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Paul Waldon, Canyon, who wore a tan suit with bronzes and white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow iris. Sam Turner of Rule, served as best man. The ushers were Grady Allen of Rule, and Cecil Louis of Lubbock.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a champagne colored lace suit with white accessories, and carried a nosegay of yellow roses. At the conclusion of the wedding service while the couple knelt at the altar.

RUTH MILLET

A working girl writes: "Here's hoping you read this with interest and can give me some ideas. You see, I've run out of them."

"What can a person do to keep her mind occupied? I honor myself gettin' depressed of late."

"I am a working girl (hairdresser) in my late twenties, and still single. That being the case, there is something missing in my life. A MAN. I've not given up hope for a happy married life but until that happens I just can't find enough to do to fill in the gap."

"Here are some of the things I already do. I'm a Sunday School teacher. I belong to a missionary guild. I enjoy skating and swimming parties for kids, at which I participate. I sew, paint, read, and am learning to cook."

"I know that if I were married, with all these activities, I'd be a pretty busy woman. But I'm not, as I said before."

"I've wracked my brain for ideas but to no avail. I certainly do not want to become a busy old gossip for want of something better to do. Have you any suggestions?"

"You are trying to fill the 'gap' between now and the time you find a husband, when you should be wondering how you are going to meet eligible men."

"You won't meet them at your job. You won't meet them in your missionary guild. And, sad to say, you probably won't meet them teaching Sunday School. You won't meet them taking children swimming or skating, or by sewing, reading and painting."

"Your life is full of activities, all of them admirable. But none of them is likely to bring you in contact with men."

"So it seems to me your problem isn't filling your life with more activities, but figuring out what you can do to meet some men."

"Your best bet is probably to get out of a beauty salon and into some other kind of work. You'll be wasting time just trying to fill in the gap until you marry. What you should be doing is figuring out a way of increasing your marriage chances."

Spring Cleaning Balks Deadly Elm Bark Beetle

Spring cleaning your grounds and trees before greenery appears will help curb the flight of the elm bark beetles, carriers of Dutch elm disease.

In spring an ingrown thermostat causes elm bark beetles to emerge over a period of several weeks when new tree growth is getting under way.

To reduce their numbers, fallen and diseased branches and elm wood debris must be burned before foliage unfolds, advises R. G. Carmichael of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

This, together with sprays such as DDT, follow the control measures recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture and other arboreal authorities. A DDT spray has fairly long, effective life and consequently will help control spring cankerworm, spring webworm and other crawling leaf eaters.

To be most effective, the spring cleaning and spraying should be conducted on a community-wide basis. Garden clubs or other local groups often plan and carry out such a program. The community-wide project is economical, too. Since the spraying can be handled as one large operation, the cost to individual home owners and residents is reduced.

Later applications of DDT of lesser concentration sometimes are required to achieve maximum protection against the beetle scourge and for late infestations of leaf-eaters.

Delicious and Beautiful— Korean Rice and Vegetables

With this recipe you may now know the superb delights of Korean cookery. Korean foods are generally highly seasoned, but in this recipe some of the seasonings have been used sparingly to make the recipe more pleasing to your taste.

In this very, very delicious main dish, the blend of flavors is so perfect as to make eaters rhapsodic in their praise of it. This Korean dish is lovely in appearance and therefore is perfect for a special party. The pear, carrots, celery and cucumber give a beautiful contrast of color to the other foods, as well as provide some unusual taste combinations which will assure your reputation as a hostess.

The preparation of Korean food takes time, but the results are well worth the time. Since the food is eaten with chopsticks, it must be cut into small pieces, shredded or rolled into small balls so it is just the right size to be conveyed to the mouth by the chopsticks. However, if you've accidentally mislaid your chopsticks, you can enjoy it just as much with the usual American table silver. You will find that this recipe is unusual and delicious, so for that reason you will be serving it many times to your family and will use it many, many times when you are having special guests.

INGREDIENTS:
3 tablespoons prepared sesame seed
1 tablespoonful butte- margarine
1/2 pound ground beef
1/4 cup green onion, chopped
1/4 cloves garlic, minced
Dash of pepper
5 tablespoons soy sauce
2 cups bean sprouts
4 teaspoons butter or margarine
1 cup shredded celery
1 cup shredded unpeeled cucumber
1/4 cup water
1 cup shredded carrot
3 cups hot cooked rice
1 pear shredded

PREPARING THE FLUFFY WHITE RICE: To make 3 heaping cups of fluffy, white, perfectly cooked rice:
1. Put 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups of cold water and 1 teaspoon of salt into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.
2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid nor stir rice while it is cooking.
3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from the heat. The rice is now ready to use. However, leave the cover on the saucepan to keep the rice warm if you are not ready to use it immediately.

For extra fluffiness, separate grains allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes—with heat off, but without removing lid.

METHOD: Prepare the sesame seed by placing the seeds in a hot skillet and leaving in the skillet over the heat until the seeds are a golden brown. Melt the 1 tablespoon of butter or margarine in a skillet or saucepan. Add the beef, green onions, garlic, pepper and sesame seed. Cook slowly until the meat is done, stirring frequently. Add the soy sauce and bean sprouts and cook until the bean sprouts are heated through.

In a skillet or saucepan, melt 2 teaspoons of the butter or margarine and fry the celery 2 minutes. Lift out. Melt the other 2 teaspoons of butter or margarine in the same skillet or saucepan and fry the cucumber 2 minutes. Lift out. Add the water, bring to a boil and cook the carrots about 3 minutes. The celery and cucumber may be kept hot by placing them in a covered dish in a hot oven until the carrots are cooked.

Add the rice to the beef and bean sprout mixture. Mix lightly. Serve hot in bowls or on plates or on a platter. Decorate the top with the celery, cucumber, carrot and the pear.

This recipe makes 8 servings.

Hollows May be Hills in Language of the Garden

Beginners are sometimes puzzled by garden talk, but soon learn that this hobby, like others, has its own vocabulary. To sow seed in hills, for example, does not mean to cover them with a mound elevated above the surrounding surface.

Except in localities where rainfall is heavy and drainage is poor, it means a point, as distinguished from a "drill" which is a row. Seeds sown in a drill are dropped continuously while hills are spaced some distance apart.

Among seeds sown in hills are cucumbers, melons, pumpkins and squash, which all produce vines that spread over the ground in all directions, also bush pumpkins and squash, which make fairly large bushes and require ample space to develop. Sweet corn is sometimes sown in hills, three plants to a hill, though the practice of growing this crop in drills is spreading.

Hills are lined up in a straight row, and spaced at equal distances apart in the row. The usual practice is to dig a shallow hole with a trowel, mix plant food with the soil in the bottom, fill soil on top of this, and then place the seeds, using a few more than plants are to be grown. This is to make sure that enough plants come up; if more grow than are wanted, the surplus ones are thinned out.

In sections of extremely heavy rainfall, or where land is poorly drained, hills may be elevated, so that the seeds are held above the average surface level, and drainage is thus improved. But in well drained gardens, it may be advisable to leave a slight depression above the seeds, since most of the varieties sown in hills are tender, and are sown late when warm weather dries the soil and rains have become less frequent than in the early spring. A depression will concentrate the moisture from light rains and heavy dew, to speed up germination of the seed.

To facilitate cultivation, each hill should be marked by a stake until the seeds begin to grow. When the hills are accurately lined cultivation between rows may be carried out with the same ease as between drills; and a hand-hoe can be used to keep down weeds in the row.

Workers Dinner Held By Community Concert Association Last Night

Impetus to the membership campaign of Pampa Community Concert Association was given at a pleasurable gathering and buffet supper Monday evening in Parish Hall. The group was comprised of officers and directors of Pampa's concert association, captains, workers, and guests.

Roy Johnson gave the invocation, and Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president, presided during the program. She introduced the principal speakers, Robert Payne, Dr. J. B. Veale Jr., drive chairman, who introduced the captains and their workers, and Bob Stafford. Mr. Stafford gave a short talk on the Community Concert Drive and showed a sound film on the Tan-glowed Festival.

At least three concerts during the coming season would be guaranteed to the memberships. The annual fee of $6 for adults and $3 for children and admission to the performances would be available exclusively to ticket holders. Headquarters will be at the Southwest Public Service Company, telephone 4-8956.

ATTENTION, TEXAS!

Mamie Eisenhower's Storybook Romance

They met in Texas at Fort Sam Houston, and it was love at first sight! The Doud family had spent several summers in San Antonio, but pretty Mamie Doud never dreamt that she'd meet her future husband in Texas and set up housekeeping there. You'll enjoy reading why Texas has so many sentimental memories for the Eisenhowers in "Red Carpet for Mamie." Here, for the first time anywhere, is the complete, heart-warming story of the girl "who could have married anybody in Denver"—but chose instead a Texas-born second lieutenant and a happy but hectic life which took them, finally, to the White House.

Report From The Philippines Ultimatum To Huks: 'Surrender Or Die'

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

MANILA — (NEA) — The Philippines' new president, Ramon Magsaysay, is flying, jeeping and hiking around the backwoods of the equatorial country trying to crush remaining anti-government Huk guerrillas.

Under tight security, he's shifting crack infantry units (with fresh U.S. weapons) for an all-out "Surrender or Die" campaign.

It's a rugged assignment. Old-time politicians rest their paunches against Manila's fan-cooled bars and say: "I told you this 'upstart' didn't know the score. He's sticking his neck out too soon."

Surely, for his first major mission, the president has ordered a tough steak. Outlaw, outdoor life is pie-easy in these jungles and hills. A man can build a house with bamboo and dried grass and it is said: "drop a seed with your left hand and start harvesting the crop with your right." The earth here is good earth.

There are thick sweeps of unexplored wilds where bandits and bolsheviks rest between raids. Two years ago a pair of U.S. airmen camped north of Manila, encountered a primitive mountain tribe, and were found speared to death.

Communists control remaining Huk bands, but the average guerrilla doesn't know Malenkoff from mayonnaise. He's an ordinary dead-end kid with an ache for adventure or an imaginary grievance.

He's glad to let someone else do the double-dimed political thinking, and would just as soon fight for the Chase National Bank as the Communist International.

Many, like Magsaysay himself, first practiced guerrilla warfare through 1941-45 on straggling Japanese soldiers.

At Manila's diplomatic cocktail parties, in spacious gardens under rustling palms, I've been often told that Moscow for the moment lists the Philippine revolt as a botched job. Submarines from Vladivostok have removed top-dog Comites for "further training."

Magsaysay, a smiling charmer in his early forties, made his reputation as an anti-Huk fighter. He broke the back of the rebellion then spreading like cancer and boxed remaining trouble-makers in badlands far from vital areas.

His success made him a page one dandy and jealous politicians framed his removal. Instead of smuffing the budding candidate, it jet-propelled him to the presidency. But during his temporary retirement the army restored the two-hour siesta and the campaign lagged.

Today thousands of troopers guard the fringes of guerrilla mountains and patrol the brush where chattering monkeys announce a stranger's approach like a burglar alarm.

The guerrillas still make minor raids, shaking down farmers for rice. The seven-year-old rebellion is still costly — and U.S. taxpayers pick up part of the check.

Magsaysay's new plan has pleased the foreign community which bets heavily on him as the inevitable leader of Free Asia. He carries esnady as well as carbine, admits that former Manila politicians danced the pork barrel polka and won little respect for legal government.

Light planes scoot over Huk

GUERRILLA "TRUE" MEETING: In the jungle at the foot of Mt. Arayat, Communist leaders of the Huk guerrillas huddle with Philippine government go-betweens in the campaign to end the seven-year rebellion. Clockwise from lower left here are the government's Dr. Emilio Cortes, Red "commanders" Katapatan, Romulo and Flores, and (back to camera) Judge Antonio Quirino.

the guerrilla's weapon — and pledged.

Among the president's reforms is the end of private armies long maintained by unscrupulous landlords to brass-knuckle their sharecroppers. A hangover from Imperial Spanish days, the mercenaries drove many landless tenants to Huk recruiting caves.

Now there's a trickle, not a flood — of guerrillas surrendering. Just like it's hard to quit a Chicago racketeer gang, it's hard to quit a Communist movement. A family that tried were roped to trees and left to the endless appetites of fresh-eating insects, reptiles and birds.

Huk leadership, ordered to hold a hard core for future fury, spurns Magsaysay. Recently the president drove his own jeep — with a tommygun alongside — to the sleepy town of San Luis, Pampanga, where traffic is slowed by waddling carabao, swarming naked brown children and pony-drawn buggies available for $1-a-day.

San Luis is on the hem of highlands terrorized by local boy Luis Taruc, for whose Red head the government will pay $50,000 — attached or detached. The townspeople have been helping Comrade Taruc.

Magsaysay stood on the jeep's hood and spoke to a sullen crowd, long suspicious of all Manila "politicians," while his bodyguards sweated. He said the army would clear 7000 rich acres nearby as gift parcels for the poor. Now, he pleaded, get the word to Luis Taruc that things have changed in Manila; he better turn in.

Luis got the word and met with a Magsaysay representative on a dry river bed between precipitous cliffs overhung with jungle vines. Taruc's boys covered the agent with assorted artillery, including long rifles taken from the Japanese.

Taruc's demands sounded like a Kremlin soap opera and he stalked back to his hideout. Now the army is cutting through the brush with machetes, trying to catch him; it's like looking for fleas in a fuzzy-wuzzy's hair.

However, Magsaysay's grassroots pitch might win support in the provinces for legal government, and no guerrilla movement prospers without some popular approval.

Magsaysay was raised in a "barrio" — a community-style farm — and wasn't mugging for the photographer the other day when he waded ashore on Leyte and walked through a town in his bare feet.

Like any tropical farm boy, the president hates shoes as well as neckties, which he seldom wears. The only necktie he's now interested in is one, made of rope, around the neck of Luis Taruc.

Navy May Retire 'Big Mo'

WASHINGTON, March 30—UP—The Navy announced "tentative" plans Monday to retire the mighty battleship Missouri next September.

The Navy noted that one of its four "active" Iowa class battleships is scheduled to be decommissioned and the Big Mo is "ideally" suited to be laid up because the time would coincide with its next overhaul.

A final decision is not due, however, until late spring, the Navy added. It explained there are "other considerations" but would not elaborate.

The majestic vessel — on which the Japanese surrender was signed and only active U. S. battleship never to have been decommissioned — is headed for a back channel to make way for newer weapons, including the aircraft carrier, its successor as the Navy's major striking force.

Big State School Coaches Announced

MERIDIAN, Tex., March 30—UP—Jelly SoRelle, Joe Lucco, Cotton Lindloff, Ed Knipper and Ernie Koy will form the coaching staff at the Big State summer baseball camp opening here June 13.

SoRelle is baseball coach at Baylor; Lucco, whose Edwardsville, Ill., teams have established great records, will again be head instructor; Koy, former big leaguer, will be part-time batting instructor. Lindloff and Knipper are former Southwest Conference players.

Citizens Group Proposes Program To Halt Wetbacks

WASHINGTON, March 30—UP—A delegation representing farm, church, labor, and social organizations Monday gave Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., a proposed four-point program for halting the illegal immigration of Mexican wetbacks.

After a half-hour conference with Brownell, spokesmen for the 10-member delegation declined to divulge any views expressed by the attorney general. But they said he has "a program under consideration" for dealing with the problem. They said Brownell's program would include additional legislation.

The United States and Mexico recently concluded a two-year agreement whereby this country can recruit Mexican farm laborers at the border legally for work on American farms.

Many Groups Represented

The delegation which discussed the illegal wetbacks with Brownell included representatives of the AFL, the CIO, railway labor, and church, farm, and welfare organizations.

Spokesmen said afterwards that the group proposed that the Eisenhower administration halt the wetbacks by adopting a four-point program which included:

1. Prohibiting farmers who employ illegal wetbacks from deducting wages paid to these wetbacks as business expenses on their income tax returns.
2. Confiscating the automobiles and trucks used by private labor contractors for transporting illegal wetbacks to the farms.
3. Instituting a system of fines

Walkout Looms On CB&Q Line

CHICAGO, March 30—UP—An official of the Railroad Firemen and Engineers Union said Monday an "emergency situation," presumably a walkout, could occur at any time on the 11,000-mile Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad in a dispute over accumulated grievances.

The threat of a walkout against the Burlington was one of two involving Midwestern railroads. At Kansas City, the Terminal Railway, in a grievance dispute with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, obtained a restraining order against a walkout slated for 6 p.m. est Monday.

At Cleveland, President Guy L. Brown of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said an "emergency situation can arise at any moment" in the BLE dispute with the Burlington, but he declined further comment on any walkout, which would be ordered from the labor group's headquarters at Cleveland.

Moby To Attend Tractor School

Assistant County Agent Jerry Mobly, Roland Dauer, Pampa, and Orphis Tate, McLean, both Gray county farmers, will leave Wednesday afternoon for Childress where they will attend a tractor school.

The school, which will be held Thursday and Friday, is to be conducted by the Stanolind Oil company in cooperation with the State Extension Service and Childress implement dealers.

Those attending the school will learn the fundamentals of caring for tractors and other farm equipment.

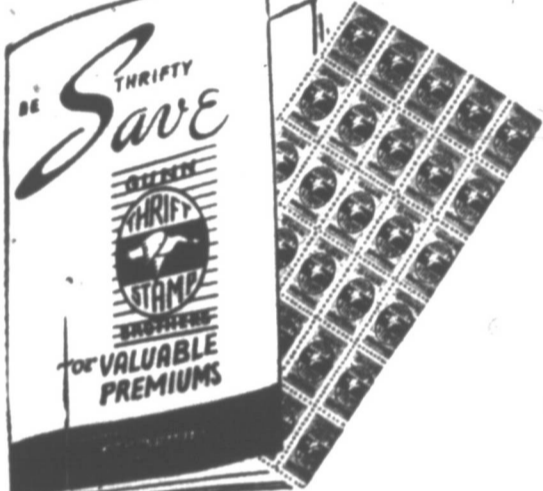

These three men will conduct a similar school here in the near future for 4-H club boys and farmers of the area. Mobly said the school would probably be held during the month of June.

South Carolina was the first state to accept the terms of the Federal Vocation (Smith-Hughes) Act of 1917, making possible use of federal funds for promotion of vocational education. The act was approved Feb. 23, 1917, and South Carolina accepted on Feb. 27.

SALUTES INDUSTRIES!

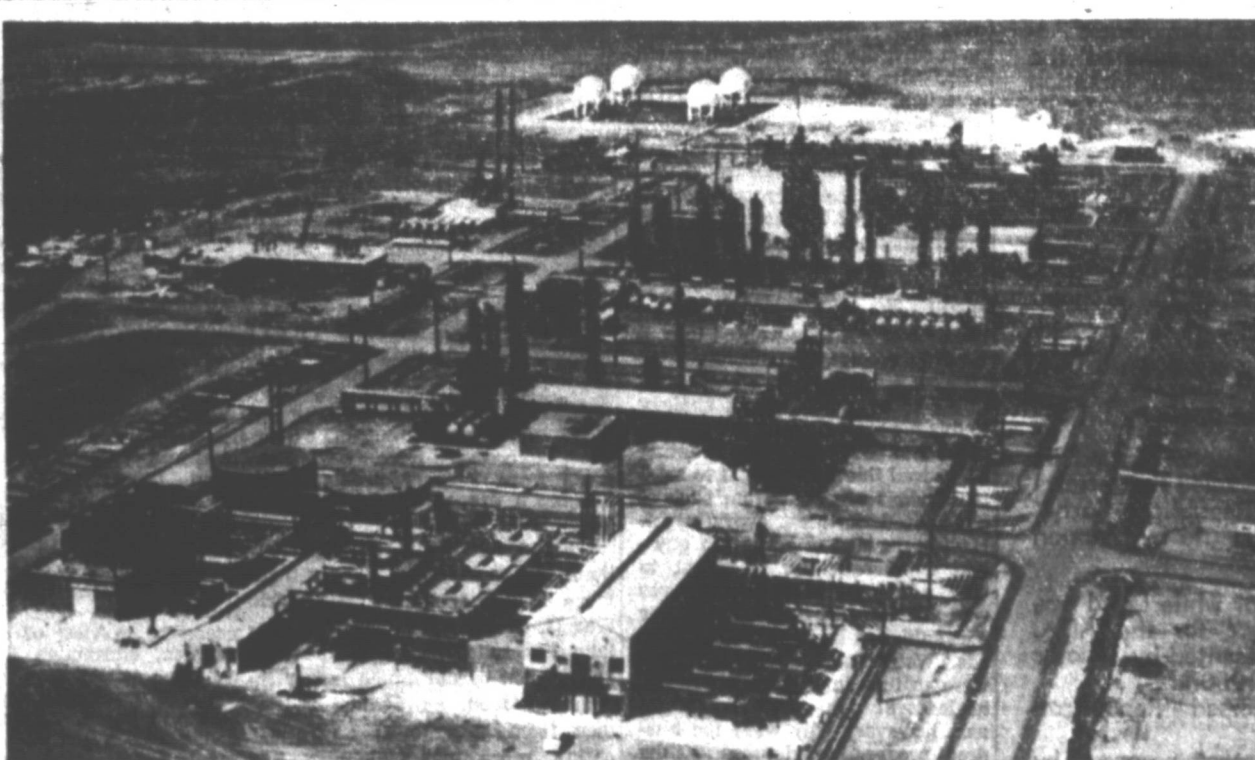

It wasn't too long ago when Industry and Texas - those two words - were poles apart in the minds of people. Industry was something vaguely connected with what people referred to as the "East." Texas was where the cowboys and the cattle roamed.

But, this has changed . . . Industry and Texas are joined together as being America's frontier of opportunity. Industry has come to Texas!

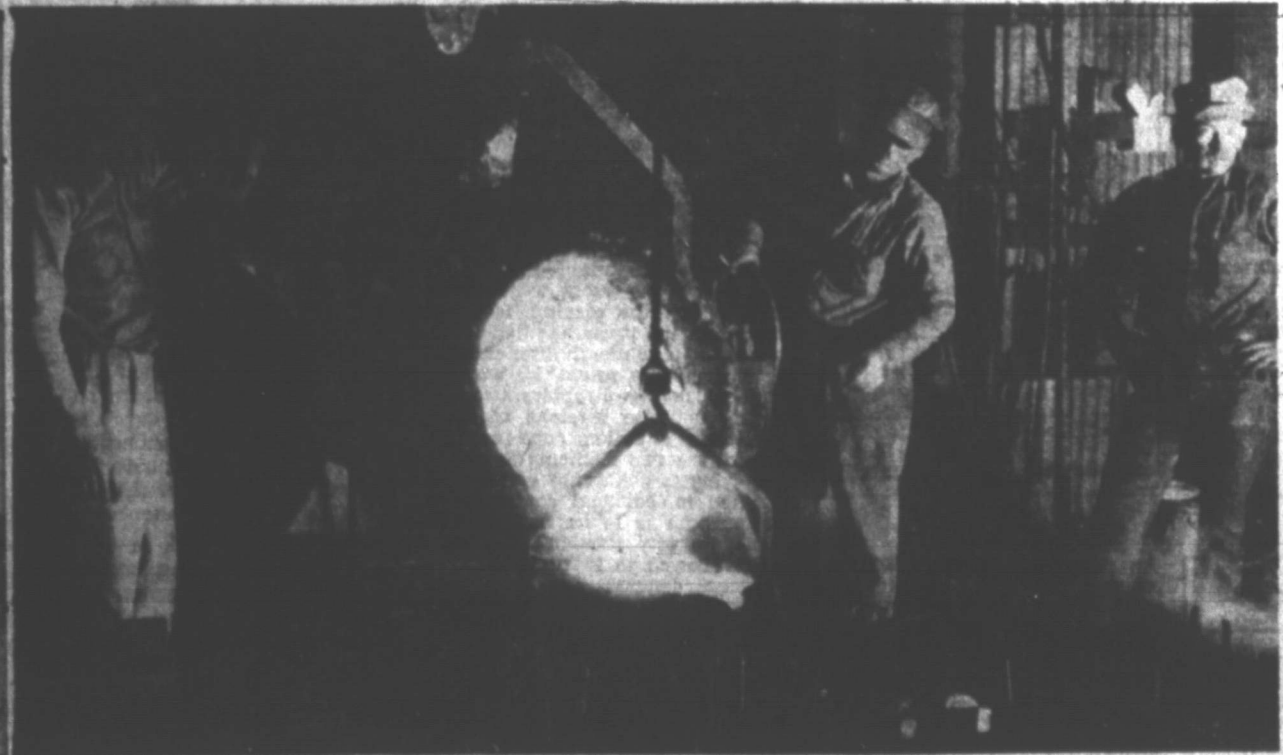

The civic minded business leaders of Pampa have joined to bring you this interesting message, together with pictures,, of the Top O' Texas Industries, each day during Texas Industry Week.

Plot Against GOP

Human Events is a classy little magazine. It cost $10 per year, but it's worth it. Often it contains inside information which can't be found elsewhere.

Editors Frank Hanighen and Frank Chodorov have uncovered a plot which should be brought to your attention.

They have found convincing proof of a "formidable conspiracy directed from the White House, to destroy the Republican Party in the fall elections by liquidating Middle West Republicans."

This is a sensational charge. Fortunately editors Hanighen and Chodorov present proof.

Why should Ike or his close advisors want to destroy the Republican Party?

The reasons may astound you. In the Middle West Ike has received the strongest resistance to the internationalism and socialism of the New Deal which Ike seems determined to perpetuate and expand.

If this hard core of GOP Americanism can be liquidated, Hanighen and Chodorov reason, the traditional two-party system will be ended and the nation will be committed securely to a uniform policy of pushing the New Deal whether under Republican or Democratic labels.

Here's proof offered by the Human Events editors: (1) In 1950 the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action), the socialist organization that dominated the Truman administration, formally signified its intention of invading the Republican Party.

Shortly thereafter newspaper columnists supporting the ADA began to report a new movement of "liberal Republicans" which eventually emerged as "Republican Advance."

This group was spearheaded by Russell Davenport, Time and Life editor, campaign manager for Wendell Willkie and ardent "one-worlder."

"Republican Advance" proposed playing down a GOP campaign against socialism and Communists in government and adopting instead the Truman line.

(2) A month after "Republican Advance" issued its program, congressional investigators revealed that efforts of the ADA "seeking to infiltrate the Republican Party" were being directed from the White House by Truman assistant, David D. Lloyd.

Truman paid Lloyd $10,000 per year while Lloyd was "director of research and legislation" for the ADA. Lloyd was also one of the 81 cases presented by Senator McCarthy to the Senate in February 1950.

Veep candidate Richard Nixon endorsed "Republican Advance's" soft-pedaling of Reds.

(3) Human Events, citing a document prepared by "able researchers" warned that "the numerous left-wing supporters" of Ike were counting on electing Ike so that they could use the White House to accomplish in the Republican Party what other leftists had accomplished in the Democratic Party.

(4) Last year the "Citizens for Ike Clubs" were re-activated — and from the White House — by Stanley Rumbough, on the White House staff, and son-in-law of Mrs. Joseph Davies.

The Joseph Davies are ardent New Dealers and Davies is the author of "Mission to Moscow," one of the worst white-washes of Russia ever written. The book praised Russia to the skies.

(5) Another officer in the "Citizens for Ike Clubs" includes Mrs. Chapman Rose. Her husband served under the Truman administration. The "Citizens for Ike Clubs" are running their own candidates in primary elections to try to defeat Middle West so-called "Traff" Republicans, and put in men who subscribe to the Ike program of New Deal socialism and internationalism.

Can the GOP prevent its own defeat? Not with such Republicans as Sen. Joseph McCarthy coming out in favor of 100 per cent of parity price handouts for political reasons.

McCarthy is reported to have attacked Benson because Benson favors lowering price handouts.

An idea of a third party is floating around in the minds of many old-fashioned Republicans. They feel that a third party which follows the principles of Americanism, which is to say, inflexible opposition to all shades of socialism, is needed to save the nation from the New Dealers.

Perhaps at the Congress of Freedom to be held in Omaha, April 22, 23, 24, such a party of freedom lovers can find a platform.

The Red 'Cure'

A Paris report from Leon Dennen, correspondent for NEA, indicates the fine hand of the Communists in Egypt and Syria.

According to this version, Red plotters played a key role in the temporary deposing and later the restoration of the presidency of Gen. Mohammed Naguib in Egypt.

At least one of the 11-man junta which holds the real power is strongly in favor of a pro-Russian orientation for the Egyptian government. This man is said to have worked closely with Moscow's middle eastern mastermind, a man named Chikov.

Indications are, however, that the reaction stirred by Naguib's dismissal convinced the Reds they were moving too soon. Naguib's return to "power" therefore was managed with the consent of the Soviet Union. Again, all this according to reports reaching French Reds in Paris.

If these things are so, any Egyptians who have a real understanding of the kind of fire they are playing with had better begin worrying. The Egyptians may hate the British, and feel none too kindly toward any others who seem to support the British.

But, to take Communism as an alternative would be for the Egyptians to cut themselves off at the shoe-tops to spite their ancient enemies.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

to "Farm Problem" Previous To Governmental Intervention

Here is more from Dr. F. A. Harper's article on "Agriculture's Sacred Seventh," as published by The Foundation for Economic Education. This article might be called "No 'Farm Problem' Previous to Governmental Intervention."

Under the heading of "Rights of Free Men" Harper observes: "If we acknowledge the rights of free men, to the defense of which I hope farmers in large numbers will one day return, it requires above all else in economic affairs that each person have what he produces. He then has the right to use it himself, or to give it away, or to trade it for something he prefers instead. And when free men trade, the same rights must prevail equally on both sides.

There is no justice in robbing either side of a trade in order to give the other side more purchasing power. Each starts with what is properly and wholly his personal property, and retains equally full rights over the terms of its trade. To justify theft by either side — in any form and by any name — under any mystical manipulation of some presumed message from On High is, I believe, a major violation of justice and a defilement of the ethics of a good society. As the moral code of private property breaks down in favor of legalized theft, farmers — a distinct numerical minority group — are sure to lose out to the power of greater forces elsewhere. Their interest lies in strict dominance of the moral code, as is true for every other minority group and for every person.

Democratic Socialism
"And finally, I would point out a fundamental error of procedure being practiced in our society. By this process, collective injustice is imposed upon persons whose personal ethical codes are doubtless not otherwise subject to serious question. Take, for instance, the recent vote for political control of wheat production. This process goes under the euphemism of 'letting the farmers work out their own salvation by democratic methods.' The right to vote on this question, however, is completely out of gear with the property rights of free men. Wheat farmers were first given a subsidy on their wheat, and then acreage control was demanded by the government under threat of discontinuing the subsidy. So when the farmers voted on production control, they were really voting, as they saw it, on whether or not they wanted to continue to receive the subsidy.

"Now let us set up what seems to me to be a fairly close analogy to this process. Suppose the government was contemplating granting a hundredth the right to steal ten bushels of wheat from each of a hundred farmers every night. Having decided to settle the question democratically, it is put to vote among the hundred thieves who are 'allowed to work out their own salvation by democratic methods.' Would it be surprising if they were to turn in a vote of 'yes' by at least 87 per cent? One might ask, however: Why were the hundred prospective victims — the owners of the wheat — not allowed to vote? Why were they disfranchised when it was their property that was to be taken? Why, in fact, were the prospective victims not given the full and exclusive right to vote? Or why put it to vote at all?

"Coming back to the wheat vote: Why were just the wheat farmers allowed to vote on this question? Why not also allow other farmers and consumers, who buy wheat, to vote on it? Why not include all taxpayers, all of whom are prospective victims? Why not, in fact, give the prospective victims the full and exclusive right of vote on this question? Or why put it to vote at all?

A Positive Suggestion
"Perhaps, if these private matters are to be put to vote at all, housewives should have the exclusive right to vote on whether wheat production will be controlled; farmers should have the exclusive right to vote on the closed shop and wage demands in factories producing farm machinery; foreign producers plus prospective domestic consumers should have the exclusive right to vote on our tariff question; and so on. I submit that such a procedure would make more sense than the present pattern where everyone votes on whether some gang of which he is a part shall not only fleece others but also force them to finance the task of shearing. Better still, I would condone neither plan, upholding instead the personal rights of property and its management.

"Why not go back to the basic tenet of free men — the rigorous protection of the rights of individual persons to what each has produced, either in the form of wages or as some other form of private property? Why not renounce this new divine right of majorities and deny that majority vote makes a thing either morally right or economically sound? Such, as I see it, is the only sound and permanent solution to the 'farm problem.' And the same solution applies to all the other class problems which have grown up to plague us as we have advanced further and further into socialism in America."

BID FOR A SMILE

A convicted murderer was scheduled to die in the electric chair. On the morning of the day of his execution he was asked:

Convicted Man — Yes, omelette. I've always been scared to eat them before for fear of being poisoned.

U.S. Is Eating 'Higher On Hog' Than Ever Before In History

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Although the American people are eating "higher on the hog" than ever before, they must continue to consume more food and improve their diets in order to keep up with the nation's expanding agricultural output. Otherwise, Sec. Ezra Taft Benson's farm surplus problem will become a perpetual plague to his successors.

Current nutritional studies show that we are eating 12 per cent more food now than before World War II, even though our calory intake has fallen. We are spending 27 per cent of our much larger income on food, as against 23 per cent from 1935 to 1939. We are eating more meats, poultry and eggs, dairy products, and fruits and vegetables, less potatoes, bread and butter, flour foods and root vegetables.

The culinary shift from prewar habits has brought these percentage increases in per capita consumption of certain basic foods: 28 per cent more eggs, 18 per cent more meats, 23 per cent more citrus fruits and tomatoes, 11 per cent more green and yellow vegetables.

REASONS FOR DIET IMPROVEMENT — Four principal factors account for this improvement in diet.

The most important is increased income, which will have to remain at a high level for continued absorption of farm products. The second is the amazing growth of interest and education on the subject of diet and health. Third is the advance in processing and marketing — frozen foods, fast refrigerated rail and air shipments to all sections of the country, attractive advertising and packaging.

Finally, believe it or not, the "keeping up with the Joneses" complex effects choice of foods almost as much as it does the purchase of such display articles as homes, clothes, automobiles and television sets. If the children babble that a neighbor keeps a good table and pantry, mother often takes the hint.

PAST AND PRESENT — But the farmers produced 44 per cent more food in 1953 than before the war, as against this 12 per cent increase in per capita consumption. They did so with fewer workers because of better fertilizers, electrification and mechanization. Only 15 per cent of the population now works on farms, whereas the figure was 35 per cent in 1900.

These dietary changes threaten the long-time future of several major crops, such as wheat and other grains, corn, potatoes, butter and certain dairy products and the heavier vegetables. Another adverse factor will be the decline in exports as foreign nations adopt the more modern methods and machinery we are teaching them under the Point Four program.

MORE EATING REQUIRED — It is estimated that our population increases by about 2,500,000 a year, which would mean a total of about 110,000,000 in 1975. But the experts say that food output will be 75 per cent greater than now, if production techniques continue to improve, and without any expansion of farm acreage.

The CRACKER BARREL

You'd think it'd be an INSULT to every man in the American Army to have a Communist officer placed over him. But the top brass don't figure it that way. They say the EXPOSURE of a Communist officer is an insult to the Army. Such an insult that the Secretary of Defense gets his feelings so hurt that they're afraid he'll resign. And that ain't all. Mr. Adlai Stevenson gets so worked up about it that he warns the Republicans that this exposure of a Communist officer may split the Republican Party. Now don't that sound phony? Mr. Stevenson is a Democrat. Why should he be givin' the Republicans warnings? If he felt something was going to split the Republican Party, wouldn't you think he'd let nature take its course? Wouldn't you think he'd shut up about it? Then there's Mr. Nixon. Wouldn't you think a Republican vice-president would be a little slow about taking the advice of a defeated Democratic candidate? But no! Mr. Nixon, as though waiting for an expected cue, rushes on the air and agrees that there must be an end to "recklessness."

Pegler And NY Times 'Agree' On Proposed Probe Of Press

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PALM BEACH — Sen. Joe McCarthy has proposed a congressional investigation of the press. For once I agree with the New York Times, which says it welcomes the information for the guidance of Congress in the performance of its legislative function. Inasmuch as probably no law could emerge from such an inquiry, the inquiry would have no legitimate constitutional reason to be held. Perhaps others will be able to offer a solution of this difficulty.

The Times says "the responsible press of this country" has nothing to fear. No? Well, I want a seat down front when the publisher and editors and the heads of propaganda "departments" of the New York Times takes the stand.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Count that March lost whose low descending frost and sullen wind fail to erupt upon shivering Manhattan a gray, learned and comely guest fresh from the sun-baked littorals of Florida, a philosopher and major drum beater named Roland Butler. Mr. Butler not only brings life and quickness to this ancient island of the Indians but he also heralds the circus.

It is Mr. Butler's less than easy talk, each year, to advise the 9,000,000 people of New York that the Ringling Brothers-and Barnum & Bailey Circus is positively bigger and better than it was last year or any other mentionable year. This is harder than it seems. There are about 9,000,000 men, women and children in the five leaping boroughs of the City of New York. It is safe grading to say that 8,900,000 of them approach life, experience and Roland Butler with a "So prove it" point of view. Confronted by this flinty philosophy, Butler has to come up with some extraordinary feats of truth. Indeed, it is his most lively boast that no one, literally no one, ever can say that he has exaggerated anything. Of course, there was that business about Mr. Mistie being the most extraordinary young musician on earth, last year, but when the records were all compiled and comparison made it turned out that Butler had indeed told the factual unshatterable truth.

Now, a feat of this kind takes something out of a man. It can make or break a man to handle nothing save the bald truth and make it sound exciting and, more important, compelling. Compelling enough to cause millions to scoop up their wives and young and trudge to the circus grounds, cash in hand. Sooner or later, Butler had to face the fact that in his pursuit of truth on a bigger and better basis he had to have bigger and not necessarily better help. He got it. Look at Ed Knoblauch who went on the circus payroll last January 1st and weighs in at 225 pounds, husked.

Mr. Knoblauch accompanies Mr. Butler on his visits to the citizens of New York, building large in Mr. Butler's chase of truth. This year they not only are describing the wonders of the circus, which will enter Madison Square Garden on March 31st and depart 40 days later on its annual trans-continental journey, but are pointing out with bland calm that this year the circus makes its first obligation to the United Nations. And, in this, they seem to know something no one else knows. They announce that the United Nations Grand Finale will not only pay homage to that organization but will represent "all 61 member nations together with their national flags."

As of this writing the membership was and is exactly 60 nations, together with their national flags, but the Messrs. Butler and Knoblauch insist that the Grand Finale will be a staggering event featuring 61 nations. Since the chances of Communist China gaining a seat by March 31st are any other predictable date are negligible, one can only guess that perhaps the circus, which is in a way a nation all by itself, may apply for and receive membership. This would create the 61st member and strip regard for truth at any cost.

The boys also announce that a Mine. Graganus, over-sized relict of the late and gloomy gorilla, will be back in business as a main attraction and they bear photographs of the lady to prove the point. Never one to throw aspersions or old onion sprouts at any lady, I hesitate to make it known but I also cherish truth; the lady is a monster. If you think her late husband was a horror fit to give the little ones cold chills and screaming nightmares, wait until your urchins take a good look at Madame. As the farmer said about the first Diesel engine he ever saw: "She's big but she ain't purty."

Follow: Welcome to New York. Now I know things are going to be all right.

BID FOR A SMILE

The truck driver was nice enough about it. He used only four "cur" words to the man who owned the sedan that the truck had just smashed into. When the truck driver had gotten the explosives out of his arena and halted for breath the newly-created pedestrian's wife nudged him and said:

Wife — Give him a piece of your mind now.

The little fellow got out of the wreck of his car and took the burly hunkster to one side. Soon he was back with his wife.

Wife — Well, did you tell him that I love — see, he agreed to settle for $100.

Pampa To Enter In Cap Rock Loop; Team To Consist Of High Schoolers

ANOTHER TEAM THAT WILL involve more Pampa youngsters came into existence today when it was learned that Pampa had been awarded a team in the Cap Rock League which takes in teams around the immediate Pampa area.

These boys were sorta left out in the "cold" after the Little League and Pony League were organized here.

Full details of the local team that will take part in the Cap Rock League haven't been worked out, but the chances of going anywhere next spring in the schoolboy race will be much better.

The Cap Rock League will begin April 25 and close August 25 with a shagnessy playoff slate following the schedule.

There will be eight teams in the Cap Rock League. They are White Deer, Groom, Clarendon, Hedley, Amarillo Laundry, Amarillo Fire Dept., Amarillo News-Globe or Amarillo Junior College, and Pampa.

Floyd Hunter, a local barber, attended a Cap Rock League meeting last night at Amarillo to put Pampa's bid in for a team in the league.

Mays Puts New Life Into Giants -- Leo

Editor's Note: This is the eighth in a series on the 1954 prospects of the major league teams.

By SCOTT BAILLIE PHOENIX, Ariz., March 30—UP—Willie Mays, a key performer in the "little miracle of 1951," provides the spark for the New York Giants "to bounce back" into the thick of the National League pennant race.

Add pitchers Johnny Antonelli, Don Liddle and Marv Grissom to Mays, and Durocher believes he's assembled a team that will make Folie Groucho fans forget the Giants' drab fifth-place finish of 1953.

"Willie has made a terrific difference in the team," the effervescent Durocher claimed. "Willie's enthusiasm is contagious—he's put 'bounce' into the whole team."

Mays, whose spectacular fielding feats and .274-bat helped the Giants to their spectacular pennant victory in 1951, will play center field between Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

Williams is the key man of the infield because his chronic back ailments upset the delicate balance of the double play. In view of Williams' unpredictable health, Durocher is taking a "long look" at Bob Hofman and rookies Foster Castelman and Ron Samford.

Katt, 26, hit .328 for Minneapolis last year and appears to be a faster runner and more dependable hitter than Westrum. The rookie's ability to keep enemy baserunners under control remains undecided, however, and probably will remain that way until the Dodgers have had a crack at him.

Durocher singled out Antonelli, Sal Maglie, Jim Hearn and Ruben Gomez as the team's four regular starting pitchers with Liddle, Grissom, Larry Jensen, Al Corwin and Hoyt Wilhelm also sure of jobs.

"Maglie is throwing better than at any time last year and I've got confidence in the other three, too," Durocher said. "It's a sound pitching staff with good depth."

15 Of 16 Opening Day Hurlers Named

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer Fifteen of the 16 pitchers who will be honored with opening day assignments two weeks hence were just about set Tuesday with only manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs in a bit of a quandary.

The world champion New York Yankees will have 34-year old south paw Ed Lopat on the mound when they open against the Washington Senators while Manager Walt Alston of the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers is expected to name Don Newcombe to start the campaign against the New York Giants.

Tebbetts said he would open "with a veteran pitcher other than Fred Baczowski," who has been selected to work the second game of the season against the Chicago Cubs, but Bud Podbielan is the favorite.

The probable opening day pitching lineup as learned by a survey of the 16 managers: (1953 records are in parentheses):

New York (Ed Lopat 14-4) at Washington (Bob Porterfield 22-10). Boston (Mel Parnell 21-8) at Philadelphia (Eddie Kuhn 12-21). Cleveland (Bob Lemon 21-15) at Chicago (Billy Pierce 18-12). Baltimore (Bob Turley 2-6) at Detroit (Steve Gromek 7-9).

Brooklyn (Don Newcombe 0-0) at New York (Sal Maglie 8-9). Philadelphia (Robin Roberts 23-16) at Pittsburgh (Bob Friend 8-11) or Max Surkont 11-5). Chicago (Bob Rush 9-14) at St. Louis (Harry Hadley 20-26).

Milwaukee (Warren Spahn 23-7) at Cincinnati (Bud Podbielan 6-16). Rush, rapidly rounding into peak form for his assignment, turned in six shutout innings against the Baltimore Orioles Monday but Lemon, the only opening-day pitcher to work, was a disappointment against the New York Giants.

Kid Baseball Sponsor List Is Filled

The sponsorship of the Little League and Pony League teams for Pampa was closed today with Top of Texas Druggists Association rounding out the field of 13 kid teams.

The other 11 sponsors are Utility Oil and Supply, E. Hoffman Store, Cabot, E. E. Hoffman Oil Co., Your Laundry, Tom Rose Ford, Daily Spokesman, Elmer's Super Market, First National Bank and C. M. Jetties Trucking.

With the sponsor list now closed, the Optimist Club, who is ram-rod-ding the kid leagues here, will announce the start of tryouts in the next day or two. The tryouts will likely begin next week.

Open House Slated By Boys Club

The Pampa Boys Club will hold an "Open House" Saturday night at its new home, 515 S. Cuyler, Johnny Campbell, vice president and secretary of the club, said today.

The Boys Club has undergone a complete remodeling since the club moved into the building last fall.

All boys wishing to become honorary members of the Boys Club are asked to register sometime during the day Saturday. Registration fee will be 25 cents for the boys but Campbell said that if the boy didn't have the fee, something would be worked out to cover it.

The fee is just to give the boys some sort of a pride of having some part in support of the club," Campbell said.

In addition to the boxing ring, the new Boys Club home is equipped with a television set and ping pong tables.

Three or four exhibition bouts will be held Saturday night starting at 8. These bouts will be held in connection with the normal opening of the club and there will be no admission charges.

Friendly Men's Hogs Bowling Show

Friendly Men's literally dominated play in the City Bowling League last night at Pampa Bowl by capturing high team scoring honors, furnishing the high individual bowler and making the only series sweep in match play.

The men's wear team blanked Brown and Hinkle, 4-0. In team scoring, Friendly Men's had 892 for high game and 2,591 for high series. And John Koonitz of Friendly Men's had the high individual game and series. Koonitz' high game was 216 and high series was 568.

In other match play, Celestine won over Noblitt-Coffey, 3-1; and Dargy, 3 1/2 to 1/2.

A fight on May 3 at the Parkway, possibly against Roland LaStarza; another in June against Cuban heavyweight contender Nino Valdes; and then an outdoor title clash in September against champion Rocky Marciano.

"He'll definitely fight here on May 3," said Brenner, "and his opponent could be LaStarza if Roland beats England's Don Cockerill Tuesday night in London. The match with Valdes for June is virtually closed. As for Marciano, well—if Rocky keeps the title in his fight with Ezzard Charles, we probably would offer him $250,000 to defend at Ebbets Field against Jackson in September."

Jackson, now ranked No. 7 in the heavyweight class, simply ignored Bucceroni's famed right-hand blast, swarmed all over him from start to finish, and never stopped belting Dangerous Dan with lurching lefts and occasional rights until Referee Al Berl called a halt at 1:58 of the sixth round. There were no knockdowns, but by that time Dan's right eye was completely closed and his face was etched with blood streaming from a cut in his right brow.

Jackson Eyes Title After TKO Victory

NEW YORK, March 30—UP—Handlers of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, boxing's sensational new slugger, said plans Tuesday for a drive they hope will carry him to the heavyweight championship by September.

That's mighty big dreaming for a lad who only three months ago was fighting in preliminary bouts, but Monday night's spectacular six-round technical knockout of Dan Bucceroni gave Jackson's pilots the right to dream just as big as they want.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, site of Monday night's widely-televised and broadcast slugger, disclosed these tentative plans for the 22-year-old whirlwind from the seaside resort of Rockaway Beach, N. Y.

A fight on May 3 at the Parkway, possibly against Roland LaStarza; another in June against Cuban heavyweight contender Nino Valdes; and then an outdoor title clash in September against champion Rocky Marciano.

The surprise defeat wiped out Bucceroni's hopes for a fall bout with Marciano—a mighty big plum to lose just for the sake of the $10,000 purse he received for this fight.

RHUMBA OR WALTZ?

THE MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE JOUST IN CHICAGO SHAPES UP AS A CLASH BETWEEN STEADY PUNCHER (OLSON) AND FANCY STEPPER (GAVILAN)...

Busy Olson Picked To Whip Gavilan

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor TAMPA, Fla. (NEA)—In Tampa, it is extremely difficult for a guy who likes cigars to be objective in picking the winner of the Bobo Olson-Kid Gavilan middleweight championship fight at the Chicago Stadium, Apr. 2.

There are more Cuban cigar makers in Tampa and Ybor City than there are ballplayers training in Florida. They had you a bonus-length chat Havana, and then quickly ask: "Who wins the fight? Gavilan? Keed, he beat up other fella bad, huh?"

You'd like to go along with them, but once you get out in the clear, the notion persists that Olson fights too many minutes for Gavilan, who has reached the stage where he prefers to stalk and stall. Yes, I am afraid that the balding, but rough and tough Olson is going to break a lot of cheroot manufacturers.

It's an exciting match between a buzz saw with a well-oiled motor and an intermittent alarm clock, only this trip Gavilan won't have time to watch the clock. And as Paddy Young and Randy Turpin will testify, 15 rounds is a mighty long distance with Olson pouring punches all the way along the route.

It is no state secret that Manager Sid Flaherty jumped at the chance to get Gavilan for Olson. Gavilan, an overstuffed welter, has been beaten and pressed by rather ordinary performers, doesn't like to be crowded. He is spouting Portuguese Swede, unbeaten in more than three years, has everything Jackson, now ranked No. 7 in the heavyweight class, simply ignored Bucceroni's famed right-hand blast, swarmed all over him from start to finish, and never stopped belting Dangerous Dan with lurching lefts and occasional rights until Referee Al Berl called a halt at 1:58 of the sixth round. Editor's Note: This is another of a series devoted to prospects of Texas League baseball teams.

SAN ANTONIO, March 30—UP—That cry of the huckster, "You can't tell the players without a program," will be the story at Mission Stadium this year where the Baltimore Orioles are giving San Antonio Texas League fans a brand new deal.

Of course, a team that didn't get out of the cellar until the final day of the season as the Missions did last year, needs plenty of overhauling.

Baltimore officials, conceding that San Antonio fans have been treated like unwanted step-children, has promised to do their very best for the Missions this year.

YOU KNOW THE FIRST THING WE OUGHT TO FIND OUT 'BOUT THE MISSIN' PUP DOG?
SURE, WHERE IS HE.
WHAT KIND OF LOOPY JOKE IS THAT? YOU'RE GOIN' AT IT ALL BACKWARDS!
BACKWARDS? AN'T WE SUPPOSED TO FIND OUT WHERE HE IS?
FINDIN' THAT OUT WHEN WE DO THAT THE CASE IS DONE. NOW, WHAT COMES AHEAD OF THAT?
ACTUAL WHO STOLE HIM?
NOT SO FAST! FIRST, (THIS IS) WE FIGGER OUT WHO WE SUSPECT. YOU GOTTA PROCEED SCIENTIFIC!
THIS HERE MYSTERY HAS A LOT SIMPLER WHEN ONLY HAD ME THINKIN' ABOUT IT.

The Jackson Twins

CAN'T HELP BEING CIRCUS, JIM. JUST WHAT DID MR. AKERS HAVE IN MIND FOR US TO BUY?
A SUPER DUPE! MODERN JOB WITH FIVE BATHS I HOPE.
HE MENTIONED A NEW FLOOR BED-KNOW HOW YOU'VE KEPT UP ON EVERGREEN TREES BUT SAID NOTHING DOING!
LATER... JUST THINK WHAT A BIGGER HOUSE WOULD MEAN. JILL A GAME ROOM, BIGGER AND BETTER PARTIES...
AND A GUEST ROOM SO KIDS COULD STAY FOR WEEK- ENDS!
YOU KNOW, TIM, I'LL BET DADDY'D TAKE THAT OFF IF WE REALLY ENDS TO WORK FOR IT.

Blondie

WILL YOU LIFT YOUR FEET, DEAR SO I CAN VACUUM UNDER THEM?
HERE... YOU SIT DOWN AND READ THE PAPER AND LET ME RUN THE VACUUM.
LIFT YOUR FOOT... NOW LIFT BOTH FEET.
I JUST WANTED YOU TO SEE WHAT WE POOR HUSBANDS HAVE TO GO THROUGH.

Alley Oop

WHILE YOU'RE NOT TH' STEED I WAS LOOKIN' FOR, YOU SHOULD DO ALL RIGHT. SEEM'S HOW YOU'VE SOMEHOW MANAGED TO STAY ALIVE THIS LONG IN THIS PLACE.
ALTHOUGH DANGED IF I KNOW HOW YOU'VE KEPT ON 'T' OUTSIDE OF ONE OF THESE STUMPKICKS!
OH, OH... MEBBE I SPOKE TOO SOON!
WELL... WHATCHA KNOW?

Bo

MY MIND'S MADE UP- I'M GIVIN' THAT MONKEY BACK TO BLAD. NO MATTER WHAT HE SAYS!
DON'T BE TOO ROUGH ON HIM.
WAIT- MAIL THIS PARCEL FOR ME, AND HAVE THIS UMBRELLA MENDED AT THE FIX-IT SHOP.
LET'S SEE NOW- WHERE IS THAT UMBRELLA PLACE?
AN OMBAN GENDER.
YOU POOR MAN- I'M SURE I HAVE A QUARTER IN HERE- DON'T SEE SO WELL.

Buzz Sawyer

THREE SENATORS FROM THE ARMED FORCES COMMITTEE ARE HERE, I TELL YOU! THEY'RE HERE TO SEE OUR NEW JET!
YES, ADMIRAL. RIGHT AWAY, ADMIRAL.
ADMIRAL'S ORDERS!
BUT WHAT'LL WE DO? THE DEMONS DISMANTLED THE FURY'S GETTING A NEW ENGINE, AND THE COUGAR HAS A BROKEN NOSE GEAR.
I COULD SEND DOOLEY UP IN THE PANTHER, BUT-- THEN DO AND SAWYER UP IN THE SKYRAY! WE'VE GOT TO PUT ON A SHOW!

Chris Welkin

VAINLY CHRIS BATTLES TO RECLAIM CONTROL OF HIS SHIP...
THAT FORCE IS PULLING HARDER THAN THE WHOLE PLANET OF JUPITER!
I'M HEADIN' FOR SOMETHING... A BLACK PLANET!
AS THE SHIP ENTERS THE BLACK SPOT...
... THE ROCKETS SUDDENLY TAKE HOLD WITH A BURST OF UNEXPECTED ACCELERATION...

Mutt & Jeff

BOY, I'LL BE GLAD TO SEE MARCH GO! IT'S TOO WINDY FOR ME!
NOT ME! I LIKE IT!
IT'S HIGH WINDS!
FOLLOWED BY HIGHER SKIRTS!
FOLLOWED BY ME!

Bugs Bunny

TH-THAT WAS A SWELL MEAL, PETUNIA!
YEAH, NOW FER A SHORT SNOOZE!
NO, YOU DON'T! YOU PROMISED TO CLEAR OFF THE TABLE... GET BUSY!
HEY, I GOT AN IDEA... BZZZ... BZZZ... AN' BZZZ!
O-O-O-KAY!

Smiley's Pop

SOME DAY, HOLLY HOCK, I'LL MARRY A COWBOY WITH A BIG WHITE HORSE!
I'LL DO MY BEST TO MAKE HIM HAPPY!
I'LL BRING HIM BREAK-FAST IN BED!
WILL YOU EVEN WASH HIS SOCKS?
SILLY!! HORSES DON'T WEAR SOCKS!!

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. Williams OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE

I'LL OPEN IT! IT'S SUCH A ODEAL FER YOU TO GET OFF AN ON A HOSS. AN' WUSS TO WATCH YOU!
WHY, YOU LUMBERIN' LOOT, I'M TH' POETRY OF MOTION COMPARED TO YOU!
IT'S ONLY US MIDLIN' FELLERS THAT HAVE TO USE TACT AN' SMOOTHMOUTH! IT'S ABOVE MR. LITTLE AN' BENEATH MR. BIG.

I GUESS THAT'S ONE WAY TO KEEP BREAD IN THE HOUSE, MAJOR, BUT I'M ALLERGIC TO ALL NOISES, ESPECIALLY FACTORY SOUNDS! EVEN RIDING IN THE CLINK-CARRIAGE WITH THE GREN SCREECHING GIVES ME NAUSEA.
TODAY'S 'TOPPORTUNITY' CALLS FOR A QUALIFIED TV SOUND-TECHNICIAN-EXPERIENCED ENGINEERS MAY APPLY TO STATION GOSH!
EGAD, SNUFF! AN' EPOCHAL IDEA JUST OCCURS TO ME! THAT CALORY-REMOVING MACHINE! ABANDONED- A PERFECT IMITATION OF DISCORDANT FACTORY NOISES! WHERE'S MY HAT? THE GOLDEN HOUR HAS STRUCK!

Steve Canyon

YOU HEAR AN AIRPLANE?
YEAR- I WOULDN'T MIND HAVIN' ME A BIRTH AS MAYBE A STEWARD ON ONE OF THOSE OVERSEAS LINES!
NOT ME! I HAD AN OVERWATER RIDGE IN A TRANSPORT DURING THE WAR... TOO MANY PEOPLE SHOWED UP WITH STAND-BY PASSENGERS?
AIRLINE BUSINESS MUST REALLY BE GOOD OUT HERE! LOOK- IS THAT WHAT THEY DO WITH STAND-BY PASSENGERS?
SPARKS! RAISE THE NAVY AIR PATROL STATION ON HIGD ISLAND! THERE'S A PLANE OVERHEAD-TOWING TWO PEOPLE!
I KNEW THOSE PAPER-BOUND BOOKS YOU READ WOULD FINALLY BREAK YOUR MIND!

Vic Flint

BLAZED BY THE CLOUD OF POWDER, VIC INSTINCTIVELY LASHES OUT...
YOU ASKED FOR IT!

Little Doc

Using Fuller

Wash Tubbs

COME IN!
FATHER, PLEASE TELL MOTHER DORIS NOT TO CALL OFF MY BROTHER PAUL! I'M SORRY I WENT DOWN TO THE BEACH WITHOUT ASKING!
BOBBY, YOU KNOW HOW THESE INTERRUPTIONS UPSET MY WORK! I'M SURE SHE WAS JUSTIFIED!
BUT- I WILL NOT INTERFERE! WHAT YOUR MOTHER SAYS GOES! NOW RUN ALONG, SON!

Boots

IT WAS NICE OF MR. FREELE TO SEND YOU FLOWERS, DEAR! NOW IF YOU'LL--
THE CARD SAYS- IT'S IN HIS HAND- WRITING, TOO! JUST LIKE HIS AUTO-GRAPH!
WELL, FOLKS - ANEM! IT LOOKS AS IF EVERY TIME WE GET TOGETHER, SOMETHING HAS TO HAPPEN--
WITH VERY BEST WISHES TO PUG-FROM CARL FREELE! P.S. HOW ABOUT A DATE?
WHAT? LOVE IT! I-O-U-E IT!

Mickey Finn

YOU MEAN THIS ARTICLE ABOUT ME TAKIN' THAT CROOK 'PUSSYFOOT' FERKINS HOME WITH ME?
YEAH! IT SAYS YOU AND ONE OF YOUR DEPUTIES!
THAT'S RIGHT! HE'S WANTED FOR A DOZEN BURGLARIES IN OUR STATE!
WELL-AN- WHO IS THE DEPUTY?
CERTAINLY I'M GON' TO SHEAR YOU IN BEFORE WE LEAVE!
LOVE! WHA?

reckies

HERE COME THE GIRLS AGAIN, PRETENDING THEY HAVE AN IMAGINARY ANIMAL PAL! I'LL HAVE A GO WITH THEM!
HERE, POOBA! SOME NICE PEANUT BRITTLE FOR YOU!
SEE? POOBA WAS HUNGRY! HE ATE EVERY BIT OF IT!
LIP FIP!
DONT BE AN ODDBALL, LIVVY! POOBA HAD A COLD THIS MORNING --- WE LEFT HIM AT THE VET'S FOR A BOOSTER SHOT!

Susie Q. Smith

NOW, WHAT WAS I SUPPOSED TO REMEMBER?
CONGRATULATIONS! AN... THATS
TURN OFF THE POTATOES.

Dallas Negro Convicted Of 'Nude Prowler' Murder

DALLAS, Tex., March 30—UP—Tommy Lee Walker was convicted Monday night of the robbery-murder of Mrs. H. C. Parker, a crime that climaxed a citywide nude prowler scare. A jury said he should die in the electric chair. Walker, a 19-year-old Negro, showed no emotion when the verdict was read.

The 12-man, all-white jury took less than two hours to reach its verdict after a trial of a week, most of which was spent in picking the jury.

Had Throat Cut
Mrs. Parker was robbed, raped and had her throat cut last Sept. 30 at a lonely intersection in north-west Dallas. She died in the arms of a policeman on the way to a hospital after saying she was attacked by a Negro.

Walker twice confessed robbing and murdering Mrs. Parker, but repudiated both confessions. He denied raping her, but a state witness testified there was definite evidence she was attacked sexually. Walker said he confessed because he was afraid of police.

There was no demonstration when the verdict was announced, although the courtroom was jammed, mostly by Negroes, and at least 1,000 others waited outside the Criminal Courts building. There were rope barriers to keep the outside crowd from pressing into the building.

Asks Death Penalty
District Attorney Henry Wade told the jury "anything less than the death penalty would be a slap on the wrist."

"This defendant has forfeited his life by taking the law into his own hands in a brutal manner, but the important thing is the effect of a death verdict on others, a deterrent to others who may want to do the same thing," Wade said.

W. J. Durham, Negro attorney who defended Walker, answered a prosecution claim that the state's witnesses had no interest in the outcome, while the defense witnesses wanted to see Walker get off.

"Capt. Will Fritts of police homicide and the police department did have an interest in this case," Durham said.

Bentley Released From Hospital

WASHINGTON, March 30—UP—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), most seriously wounded of five congressmen shot by Puerto Rican terrorists March 1, has been discharged from the hospital.

Attaches said Bentley, 35, was considered far enough along the road to recovery to return home. They said he probably will be able to return to at least part-time work in the House of Representatives in about a month.

Mrs. Bentley, who is expecting her first child soon, said her husband took the trip home from the hospital Sunday quite well.

Earthquake Hits Spain

CADIZ, Spain, March 30—UP—Violent earthquakes jolted Cadiz Monday and rocked buildings across the Mediterranean in Morocco. The series of sharp shocks, each lasting between five and eight seconds, sent inhabitants scurrying into the streets.

No casualties were reported and little damage. Other earth shocks were reported from Algieras and Melilla in Spanish Morocco and at the international city of Tangiers.

Delay On Hearing Of Natural Gas Price Issue May Kill Bill

AUSTIN, March 30—UP—A House opponent of legislation fixing minimum field prices on natural gas Monday night blocked immediate action on two such proposals and sent both to a subcommittee for one week.

The Legislature is now in the third week of a 30-day special session and such a delay could spell death for both bills. Action, on a 13 to 7 vote, by the House Oil, Gas and Mining committee followed more than three and a half hours of hearing that ended after 11:30 p.m.

Two bills were before the committee. One, by Rep. Jack Bryan, Buffalo, would have given the Texas Railroad Commission authority to put a "floor" under natural gas prices. However, the committee accepted a complete substitute for the bill, offered by Rep. Guy Hazlett, Borger, pegging the price at 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Seven-Cent Price
The other proposal, sponsored by Rep. Robert Patten, Jasper, would set the price at seven cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Rep. William A. Miller Jr., Houston, sought unsuccessfully to block consideration of both bills on grounds price fixing of gas was not included in Gov. Allan Shivers' call of the Legislature.

"He might have asked for a minimum teachers' pay, but not on natural gas," Miller protested.

Rep. Joe Pyle, Fort Worth, quoting from an opinion by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd overruled Miller and held the subject of natural gas prices could be considered. Six witnesses were heard, four against price fixing and two in favor of it.

Kayser Leads Proponents
Paul Kayser, Houston, president of the Western Natural Gas Co., keynoted the proponents.

Raybourne Thompson, Houston, attorney for the United Gas Co., faced the opposition arguments.

Kayser argued that, in 1953, 64.42 per cent of the natural gas produced in Texas went out of the state and predicted the percentage will "surely go to 75 per cent."

Texas, he said, would pay about one-third of any increase in the consumer cost. He estimated this would cost the average household a year about 16 cents a month or $2 a year.

He pointed out the House now has before it an administration tax proposal boosting the production levy on natural gas from 5.72 to 8.06 per cent of the wellhead value.

The proposal he protested was a "Rank, hard discrimination, and unreasonable production tax. The average field price being paid for gas in Texas now is about seven cents, a witness testified.

Kayser said boosting this to 10 cents by means of a minimum price law, will "soften the blow (of the production tax increase) and give the producer something to pay the tax with."

Earlier, Hazlett told the committee that by hiking the field price to 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, the production tax rate increase could be held to 7 per cent of the wellhead value and still yield a needed $14 million annually.
