TEXAS-SIZED BALLOT — Miss Jánice Stafford, 115 N. Wynne, deputy in the office of County Clerk Charlie Thut, holds up the ballot that will be used in Tuesday's general election. She points to Proposed Amendment No. 7 which, of course, the one on proposed jury service for women, Friday is the deadline for voting absentee in Thut's office. (News Photo)

Absentee Voting Ends Friday; 78 Ballots In

Seventy-eight persons late this morning had voted absentee for Tuesday's general election which features a congressional race between Rep. Walter Rogers, Democrat, Pampa, and LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster, Republican, Perryton. County Clerk Charlie Thut, emphasizing that Friday is the deadline for absentee voting, said that 58 persons had voted in person, the rest by mail. Seventeen mailed-out ballots are still to be returned. Except for the 11 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution, the item of most interest to Gray County voters is the Rogers - LaMaster race, Rogers has been in his home district for the last two months and has visited most of the communities in the district.

LaMaster will be in Pampa from 4:30 to 4:50 p.m. Saturday as part of a two-day jaunt that will take him into 20 Panhandle communities. (Rogers will be in Pampa Saturday, too.) LaMaster headquarters in Perryton today released the information about his "grass-roots" trip which will begin at 7:30 a.m. Friday in Amarillo and end at 5:35 p.m. Saturday in Panhandle. The farmer-stockman plans to meet as many citizens personally as possible on the tour and explain his program and the issues to the Panhandle voters, his headquarters stated today. Confident of a comfortable margin of victory over his opponent (Rep. Walter Rogers, Democrat, Pampa), LaMaster said he has been handshaking with thousands of voters who have urged him to bring out the truth of his opponent's voting record in Washington of 51 per cent against President Eisenhower's program. The mandate of the people who voted 60 per cent for President Eisenhower in 1952 and the mandate of his own Democratic party which supported Eisenhower against Adlai Stevenson has been ignored by the incumbent, LaMaster said. LaMaster added that his oppo-

Big Crash Came 25 Years Ago

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 — A quarter of a century ago Friday a Wall Street earthquake shattered an army of would-be millionaires. Housewives and elevator operators, cab drivers and bookkeepers, waitresses, brokers and bankers were marching in that 1929 army, each convinced he had the Midas touch. You could "buy" $10,000 worth of stock for $500 cash. The remainder was taken care of by a mysterious, intangible thing called "margin." Across the nation people gathered in small rooms before big blackboards littered with quotations and spoke knowingly of "the market." It has been going up steadily since 1929. Then came "Black Tuesday" — Oct. 29, 1929. It dawned a beautiful, crisp autumn day when it ended, the bull market had gone bust. 16,410,000 shares of stock had been dumped, thousands had lost their savings and, although it wasn't immediately evident the United States was headed toward the worst depression in its history. Angry Speculators Crowds swarmed into Wall Street that afternoon to see the storm at its worst. In brokers' offices angry speculators literally kicked the tickers pouring out quotations. The get-rich-quick crowd learned quickly about that intangible thing called margin. Brokers called them and said bluntly: "Get up more cash before the opening or we sell you out!" It was the bursting of the bubble in a strange and exciting era. Connie Mack's wonder team had just won the World Series with Earnshaw, Simmons, Lefty Grove, Haas and Jimmy Foxx starring for the A's. Jimmy Walker, New York's mayor, was not only winking at but patronizing the speakers. Eddie Cantor was making "Whoopie." The Graf Zeppelin crossed the Atlantic for the first time, Lindy had done it alone two years before. Byrd flew to the South Pole.

Jobs Play Big Role For Votes

Demos, GOP Hurl Charges In Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — UP — The Republican and Democratic national committees hurled new claims and counter-claims at each other Thursday in the boiling controversy over unemployment. The GOP committee declared that public works programs sponsored by the administration and the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress will provide more than 9 million man-years in new employment, if carried out. Stephen A. Mitchell, national Democratic chairman, charged that President Eisenhower failed to "tell the whole story" when he claimed Monday night that unemployment has dropped 400,000. "When the President of the United States is speaking we should be entitled to expect a complete and accurate picture," Mitchell said, "especially when he is being given free time by the radio and television networks for a supposedly non-political report."

Mitchell said the administration's own figures show the unemployment decline between early September and early October was 358,000, not 400,000 as the President claimed. He said a check at the Commerce Department also showed that the number of employed actually dropped 4,000 between October and September — something the President "failed to disclose." Consequently, Mitchell declared, the drop in unemployment is "not due to people getting jobs" but to the fact that "fewer people were seeking work" because of such things as youngsters returning to school. But Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall said Thursday that the new figures make Mitchell and Adlai Stevenson "look silly" when they complain about unemployment.

Government Projects The GOP committee, in a separate statement said the new employment that will be provided by 10 government public works programs and one "government stimulated" project is equivalent to "year-long jobs" for 9,174,000 American workers. Put another way, the committee said 1,605,398 new jobs per year will be generated for the life of the projects which will run from one to 10 years.

The projects, as listed by the committee: The proposed air academy near Colorado Springs, Colo.; lease purchase of government buildings; the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects; airport, shipbuilding, school, and medical programs; work on a new Senate office building and new Old Age & Survivors Insurance headquarters; federal public works, and road construction. In addition, the committee said the new housing program will result in more jobs in the construction and building supply industries.

Nobel Prize Goes To Hemingway

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 28 — UP — Ernest Hemingway, who brought clipped clarity to a generation of American letters with savage tales of bulls, bitterness and gravity, Thursday won the 1954 Nobel prize for literature with his gentle story of a noble old man and a fish. His short, quiet tale titled "The Old Man and the Sea," convinced the Swedish Academy of Literature Hemingway merited the coveted award because of the "idealistic tendencies" of his new work, where for years it had by-passed his powerful stories. The 18 judges of the Swedish Academy, meeting at 9 a. m. est, announced that the 56-year-old hem man novelist had become the fifth American winner in the half-century since the Nobel Prize for literature was created. Americans who won the prize before him were Sinclair Lewis, Eugene O'Neill, Pearl Buck and William Faulkner.

STILL FRIENDS WITH JOE

'Love Starved' Marilyn Gets Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 28 — UP — Film star Marilyn Monroe, who divorced former baseball star Joe DiMaggio in testimony that she was love-starved, said Thursday "Joe and I definitely are still friends." The sexy actress admitted, however, that she had not seen nor talked with DiMaggio since he packed up and left their honeymoon cottage earlier this month. Asked by reporters if she still loved the baseball idol, she smiled and tears came to her eyes. "Joe and I definitely are still friends," she said. "But I still don't know anything about baseball." The nation's No. 1 pinup queen was granted an interlocutory decree by Superior Judge Orlando Rhodes in nearby Santa Monica court Wednesday after testifying DiMaggio treated her with "coldness and indifference." She said she wanted "love and affection" but the baseball hero would push her away, saying, "leave me alone." Speaking dramatically, her voice breaking, the actress said when she asked her husband why he was indifferent to her desires for affection, he would say, "Stop nagging me!"

ONLY LADY DRIVERS 'ALLOWED' TO DRIVE ON BOTH SIDES, SIR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 28 — UP — The Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday that a driver can use only the right side of a road. The ruling upheld the conviction of Isaac West on drunk driving charges. West contended he had a constitutional right to use either the right or left side of a highway.

Lower Farm Food Price Share Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — UP — The Agriculture Department Thursday predicted that the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar next year will drop to 43 cents, down a penny from this year and the lowest since 1940. A marketing and transportation report said the price of food at the farmer's gate may average slightly below this year. But the cost of marketing those foods may be slightly higher. Despite the continued high farm costs, the report said retail food prices may decline "slightly" in 1955. The report showed the retail cost of items on the department's so-called "market basket" fell from last year's total of $1,002 to an expected 1955 this year — down two per cent. The farm share of the "market basket" has fallen from $452 last year to an estimated $430 this year, down five per cent; the middleman's share has risen from $550 to $555, a gain of one per cent. The "market basket" is figured from the average amount of farm-produced foods bought for consumption at home by urban wage-earners in 1952. The farmer's share of the consumer's retail food dollar averaged 43 cents in the 1920's but was below that until 1941 when it hit 44 cents. The farmer's share was 40 cents in 1940. It hit a peak of 52 cents in 1946 and has dropped almost steadily since then.

Dental Plate Checked In Hagler Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 28 — UP — Oklahoma Crime Bureau agents Thursday returned to scientific means to try to identify a cremation murder victim after the latest of nearly 100 "missing man" leads failed to yield a clue. The "missing" man was found alive Wednesday night at Orange, Tex. Officers awaited word from European authorities on efforts to trace down a European-made dental plate the victim, burned beyond recognition, was wearing. Edward Williams of Plainview, Okla., told officers late Wednesday his brother Manuel was missing and fitted "to a T" the description of the body found in a station wagon near Davis, Okla., Oct. 10. Edward said Manuel had once mentioned knowing a man named Hagler at Orange, Tex., in 1951. He said the "Hagler" was an asphalt salesman. David Fred Hagler Jr., Fort Worth asphalt firm executive, is charged with the murder at Davis.

Iran Ratifies Return Of Oil To Markets

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 28 — UP — Iran's senate ratified an overwhelming majority Thursday the agreement which will return the nation's nationalized oil to world markets. The senate action followed by one week approval by the Iranian Majlis (house). It now needs only the signature of the shah of Iran to become law. Eight foreign companies, including five American firms, will operate the fields which were seized from the British and nationalized in 1951 by Mohammed Mossadegh, then premier. Under the agreement, Iran will pay Britain $70 million over a 10-year period in compensation to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., previous operator of the fields. In turn, Iran will receive a minimum of $420 million in revenue during the next three years. Companies which will operate the long-idled field are Anglo-Iranian, the French Petroleum Co., Royal Dutch Shell, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company, the Gulf Oil Corporation and Sonocony-Vacuum.

Church Plans Grade School

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church will open a first grade school Monday for children whose sixth birthday falls between Sept. 1 and Feb. 1, according to Rev. Porter Brooks, vicar. Rev. Brooks said the school will be open to children from all denominations and will follow the same curriculum offered by the public schools. Mrs. John B. Hessey, 311 N. Ward, a former public school teacher since 1929, will teach the course. Plans call for holding classes into the early part of the summer to make up for the time already lost, Rev. Brooks said. The class will meet in the basement of the church from 9 to 12 noon. Details may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Hessey at 4-8955.

Stevenson Talks For Dem Hopefuls

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — UP — President Eisenhower got set to throw his Sunday punch in the roaring congressional battle Thursday while Adlai E. Stevenson stumped for Democratic candidates in the vote-rich East. Mr. Eisenhower will give the Republican campaign a final boost with a nationwide radio-TV speech at 8:30 p.m. (CST) Thursday night and a flying tour of four crucial areas Friday. His only other scheduled campaign effort before Tuesday's election will be the traditional "get out the vote" appeal Monday night. Financed by the Republican national committee, Mr. Eisenhower's windup tour will take him to Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville and Wilmington, Del. All four cities are located in states where Republicans and Democrats are locked in bitter-end senatorial contests. Stevenson Pushes Drive Stevenson, who carried the Democratic banner against Mr. Eisenhower two years ago, pushed his party's drive to capture control of Congress into the New York-New Jersey area Thursday after unloading a blistering attack on the GOP in Wilmington, Del., Wednesday. Seldom said Stevenson, has this nation "lost as much ground abroad and made as little progress at home" as it has under 20 months of GOP rule. "A Democratic vote will mean that we want an end of this sordid bickering and confusion — whether televised or not — that has lost this country respect abroad," he said. Hammer at Each Other Both national committees, meanwhile, hammered at each other (See IKE, Page 7)

Big Warmup Begins For State Today

Texas began warming up Thursday as rains came to an end, but forecasters said another cold front is moving in so fast that temperatures won't get a change to rise very far before they're pushed down again. The rains had ended in the western part of the state and as far east as the Dallas-Fort Worth area at mid-morning, and forecasters said they would probably be over in all the state by Thursday night. The state showed signs of warming up Thursday and forecasters said it would definitely begin to warm up Friday. But the new cold front, they said, will move into the Panhandle and South Plains Friday and over most of the state by Friday night. "It won't have a chance to get very warm over any part of the state," a forecaster said. Major rainfall totals for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. Thursday included Brownsville 1.02 inches, Waco 34, Dallas 51, Fort Worth 51, Austin 29, Corpus Christi 28, Beaumont 28, Abilene 22, San Antonio 15, Wichita Falls 14, Tyler 11, Mineral Wells 09, Houston 07 and Lufkin 04. Weather Bureau meteorologists said, however, that almost every point in Central and East Texas had at least a trace of rain. The temperature didn't get down to freezing anywhere in Texas early Thursday, but it got close at Lubbock and Dalhart, where lows of 33 degrees were reported. Other lows included Amarillo 34, Marfa 38, El Paso 43, Midland and Wichita Falls 43, Abilene 45, San Angelo 46, Fort Worth and Dallas 48, Austin 49, Del Rio, Waco and Tyler 50, San Antonio and Lufkin 52, Houston and Laredo 55, Corpus Christi 56, Beaumont 58 and Brownsville and Galveston 62.

Benson Gets Summons On Kansas Stop

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28 — UP — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson was greeted in Kansas City Thursday with a legal summons, stemming from an irate wheat farmer's protest of "penalties" he charged the secretary's farm program imposed upon him. The writ of certiorari, or call for Benson to produce the records and law concerning the 1954 wheat crop, was served by a sheriff's deputy at Benson's news conference in the Hotel Muehlbach. Benson accepted the summons calmly. He had no comment on it, though in the news conference he had said "several suits have been filed" in the East in connection with present restrictions on wheat. The suit was brought by Robert E. Gibson, a farmer living near Independence, Mo. Gibson challenged the "constitutionality" of the Benson program. Benson said in Harrisonville, Mo., before he came to Kansas City, that the administration is willing to "assume" its share of the farm price decline if the Democrats will "face up" to theirs. Benson said three-fourths of the drop in farm prices since the Korean war peak in 1951 came under the Democrats. He said between February, 1951 and January, 1953, when the GOP administration took office, farm prices dropped from an average of 113 per cent of parity to 84 — a "downward plunge of 19 points." Since January last year, he said, they have fallen to average 88 per cent of parity — a change of six points.

IT'S THE LAW ★ IN TEXAS ★

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

There are always a certain number of families in the United States with serious financial troubles. At this time, the number is relatively few. To those few and to their creditors, this column should be of particular interest.

The principal reported causes which throw families into financial difficulties are: inflation and high taxes, inability to resist "impulse" buying, combined with easy credit, illness or other emergencies, or just plain bad judgment and mismanagement.

Some people in financial difficulty, when threatened with legal proceedings to collect outstanding debts, seek the relief offered them by federal bankruptcy laws.

The purpose of bankruptcy laws is to permit an honest but unfortunate or weak debtor to surrender or account for all his property for the benefit of his creditors and in exchange discharged of his debts.

Any adult who is insolvent may become a voluntary bankrupt by having his attorney prepare for him a bankruptcy petition, together with schedules of his assets and liabilities, and then file the same in the proper United States district court.

After the debtor is adjudicated a bankrupt he is required to appear for examination as to his assets in the bankruptcy court, and if he fully accounts for his assets and has not violated any of the bankruptcy laws he will thereafter receive a discharge of his debts.

If he is granted a discharge of his debts, he has started a new financial life as of the date he files bankruptcy. The assets which he thereafter acquires cannot be reached to satisfy the old debts, nor will creditors be permitted to sue him on the old debts.

Dishonest debtors sometimes endeavor to gain advantages for themselves not allowed by the bankruptcy laws. In these instances, upon objections to discharge by creditors, they not only will be denied a discharge of their debts, but the courts will be prone to deal harshly with the offenders if they have violated the criminal laws.

The head of a family is entitled to claim as exempt any property which is exempt under Texas homestead laws, which in ordinary case will be his home, household furniture, wearing apparel, the family automobile and tools of his trade or profession. However, if by a mortgage or conditional sales contract he must pay any balance due thereon, or the owner of such mortgage or contract may repossess.

Bankruptcy has a lasting effect upon a person's future credit and in the usual case causes the creditors to lose their entire debt.

Many bankruptcies could be avoided if the "overloaded" debtor would make a timely effort to sit down with his creditors and work out plans for reduced payments over extended periods.

Oil, Gas Men Meet Wednesday
Oil and gas men in the Pampa area were reminded today of an upcoming Texas Railroad Commission hearing in Amarillo.

The session is slated for 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Hotel Herring, according to Jim McClintock, deputy supervisor of the Pampa TRRC office.

Purpose of the meeting will be to receive evidence and hear testimony as to the market price that is being paid at the wellhead for gas produced in the Panhandle field, subsequently used and sold for light and fuel purposes, McClintock said. Last such meet in Amarillo was held May 5.

WTSC Prof To Address Kiwanians

Dr. Lowell Harrison, associate professor of government at West Texas State College, will speak to the Pampa Kiwanis Club at its regular luncheon meeting Friday. He will speak on "National Power in International Relations" for the program arranged by Joe W. Black.

A member of the WT faculty since 1952, Dr. Harrison is a native of Kentucky. He earned his A. B. degree at Western Kentucky State College and his M. A. and Ph. D. at New York University, where he was an instructor in history for three years and assistant director of the Foreign Student Center for a year.

During 1951-52 Dr. Harrison was a Fulbright scholar, studying at the London School of Economics and Political Science, University of London. While in England, Dr. Harrison traveled widely in the British Isles and in Europe, speaking before a number of civic and university organizations.

A member of the Academy of Political Science and the Mississippi Valley Historical Society, Dr. Harrison is a member of the Board of Directors of the Canyon Rotary Club, in charge of the International Service Committee.

Author of a large number of articles appearing in historical and political science publications, Dr. Harrison recently completed a book, "Cassius M. Clay: Crusader for Freedom," which will be published in the American Heritage series.

Dr. Harrison's articles have appeared in such publications as the Filson Club Historical Quarterly, Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography, Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, Journal of Politics, The Essex Historical Collections, Journal of Southern History, and South Carolina Historical and Genealogical Magazine.

GLANCING BACKWARD

(From the Files of the Pampa Daily News)

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
Clinton Evans was installed as president of the Chamber of Commerce, along with Floyd Watson as vice-president and Ed Myatt as finance director at a dinner at the Country Club.

Members of the El Progresso Club met in the home of Mrs. Harold Wright, 930 Christine for a program on how federal aid affects local government.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
Mrs. G. L. Damer gave an organ recital preceding the meeting of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church held in the sanctuary. Mrs. J. E. Kirchman, spiritual life chairman had charge of the program.

Judge B. S. Via reminisced his early-day experiences at the Lions Club luncheon, after which Judge Sherman White inducted eight new members into the club.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
S-ic Billy Wayne Elkins was in Pampa visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Elkins, Seaman Elkins served in the South Pacific. The Women's Missionary Society of the Church of the Brethren met for a program on "India and Its Traditions." The program was led by Mrs. Clyde Carruth and Mrs. Ernest Rose.

Insurance Pays After 2 Premiums

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28 — UP— Mildred Stuart, 22, will collect $3,000 because her sister, Mrs. Frances Glick, 19, paid 78 cents in insurance premiums.

Mrs. Glick, who took out the policy on her own life two weeks ago, was injured fatally when she was struck by a car Monday night. The policy, with the Home State Life Insurance Co. of Fort Worth, was for $1,000 with triple indemnity for violent death.

The insurance company said the actual policy, in Mrs. Glick's purse when she was injured, was delivered to her Monday morning, when she paid her second 39 cent premium.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Another movie glamor doll is revising her career blueprints to include time out for stage acting from now on. A Hollywood-incubated chick, Terry Moore, tied the footlights for the first time this year in a summer stock and she's confessing: "I don't think anything's done me as much good. People don't realize it, but there's too much time between pictures. You lose something. You have to be a good actress these days. If you're phony for a second on the new, big screens, it can ruin you."

"Moby Dick," the Gregory Peck starrer, fulfills Director John Huston's longtime dream to make the movie. But part of the dream was that his father, the late Walter Huston, would be playing the Capt. Ahab role that Peck is essaying.

John Ford, Hollywood's famous director, photographed the Battle of Midway in the Pacific in 1942 as a commander in the Navy. Now he's in the same area, directing "Mister Roberts" aboard a Navy cargo ship.

Old Navy men are chuckling at the "YEs, sir" response to his orders from stars Henry Fonda and James Cagney, and his co-operative, eager-to-please camera crew. Their memories are going back to Ford's frustration during the Midway battle in '42.

There was no script then and Ford would shoot at the attack. Zeggs is swinging right or left for the benefit of his camera, and then would curse the Jap fliers for disobeying instructions.

ESTIMATED BOX OFFICE GROSS on "The Caine Mutiny" from an insider: $20,000,000. Don't ask me why, but during her current tour Ava Gardner has registered under a different name at every hotel. The Broadway-bound Olsen & Johnson review "Paradise My Antenna," is described by those who have seen the script as a sharp kidding job on Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Dorothy Malone's invested in a Montana mink ranch. Mari Blanchard's pretty school, d managed in a fight scene in U-I's "Destiny" was repaired at a Hollywood hospital.

Montique Van Voorren, the busy Belgian beauty who was in one of Lex Barker's last Tarzan films, is a London cabaret hit as a chanteuse. Larry Parks and Betty Garrett finally realize their long-time ambition to costar in a movie — "The Anonymous Lover." Camera, turn in London when Betty winds up in Columbia's "My Sister Eileen."

BOB HOPE AUTOBIOGRAPHY. "Have Tux, Will Travel," as told to Pete Martin, hits the book stores in November.

Movie cowboys can stop blushing about their dusty, TV Range Rider Jack Mahoney wears a fringed jacket made of gold-covered kid leather to Hollywood premieres.

CASTING OFFICE INTELLIGENCE on a "night of the Hunter" call sheet: "Two loafers. SOULD NOT look like bums. Just loafers."

Doris Day is slated to change record laels in January. "The Penny Singleton Show" is warming up on a network; slave and she's saying: "It's not like the other story shows. It's different. . . . ## Actor Rewed In Mexico has been disclosed.

The couple was married Monday, after Madison obtained a Mexican divorce from movie actress Gail Russell, Judge Fernando Romero Figuero granted the divorce in first civil court after Madison filed a petition charging incompatibility. Madison also divorced Miss Russell earlier this month in California, but couldn't remarry for a year under the terms of that decree. They have been separated for two years. Miss Connelly previously was married to producer Harry Danziger, whom she divorced two years ago.

Judge Raul Orozco of civil registry court performed the Madison-Connelly marriage. Madison used his real name of Robert O. Mosely, and gave his age as 32. Miss Connelly said she was 21.

R. T. Moore Rites Held

McLEAN — (Special) — Services were in the First Baptist Church here for Richard Thaddeus Moore, 72-year-old retired farmer. He died at his home in McLean early Wednesday.

Officiating at the services was Dr. Buell T. Wells, pastor. Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Claborn Funeral Home.

Born Jan. 11, 1882 in Erath County, Moore lived there until moving to Shamrock in 1920. In 1948 he came to McLean.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, Bill and Arthur of McLean; two sisters, Mrs. Kittle Stephenson, and Mrs. Pearl Johnson, both of Bangs; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. J. B. Christner, Shamrock and Frank Fala, Pampa.

Pottery Club Hears Robison

The Pampa Pottery Club had as its speaker yesterday Ed Robison, local insurance man, who spoke on the subject of man and his moral and spiritual development.

Robert Fleming, Pampa high school teacher, was introduced as the Junior Rotarian for the month of November.

Guests of the club were Farris Oden, Amarillo; J. B. Christner, Shamrock and Frank Fala, Pampa.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said President Eisenhower failed to "tell the whole story" when he claimed in a speech Monday that unemployment had dropped by 400,000. Mitchell said the administration's own figures put the jobs decline at 358,000.

But GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall said the new employment figures make Mitchell and Stevenson "look silly" when they talk about unemployment. The Republican national committee said in a separate statement that public works programs sponsored by the administration and the GOP-controlled 83rd Congress will provide more than 9 million man-years in new employment if they are carried out.

Broom Sale Ends Tonight

The Jaycees tonight will wrap up their current campaign to sell 1,000 brooms to Pampa housewives. "We'll stay on the streets till they're sold, too," J. C. Hopkins, president of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, said this morning.

An estimated 300 brooms remain to be sold, Hopkins said. Jaycees will meet at 6 p.m. today in the old Coke building, 205 E. Kingmill and will stay on the streets till the brooms are sold. The east and south parts of town will be covered tonight.

School Board To Meet Today

The Pampa school board meets at 5 p.m. today in the office of School Business Mgr. Roy McMullen in City Hall.

Herman Whalley, board president, late this morning announced the meeting time, which had been postponed three times before during the week.

Scheduled to be discussed are uniforms for the Pampa High School Band and new basketball goals for the Harvester Fieldhouse.

White Deer Personals

By ALICE NICHOLSON

Recent visitors in the Bud Evans home were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Black of Dumas. The Blacks are former White Deer residents.

Mr. N. A. Cobb of Pampa transacted business in White Deer one day this week.

Betty Jean Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, was an attendant to the homecoming queen at West Texas State recently.

Recent visitors in the Laddie Kotara home were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bevin and children of Crane. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bichsel received word recently that their son, Pvt. Richard Bichsel will leave soon from a California Air Base to go overseas.

Mrs. G. W. Culbertson plans to leave this week for Iowa Park. She will also visit in Childress and Manitou, Okla.

Recent visitors in the B. O. Bertrand home were Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Bertrand and children who were enroute to Reno, Nev. and Mrs. Eugenia Bertrand who just returned from a visit in Corpus Christi.

Trinity River Authority Asked

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28—UP— Directors of the Trinity Watershed Improvement Association voted Wednesday to ask the Legislature for permission to form a Trinity River Authority.

The authority's territory would stretch from the Trinity's headwaters near the Red River to Anahuac, the river's mouth on Galveston Bay. It would have power to sell revenue bonds; and tax property owners, subject to their permission; and to make contracts with the state and federal governments for soil and water conservation programs.

Spokesmen said the proposed authority would not, however, usurp any prior rights of cities to water from the river.

J. E. Ward Funeral Held

J. E. Ward, 79, of Pampa, died at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday in Highland General Hospital.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. today in the First Methodist Church with Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery by the side of his wife, Mary Della, who died Oct. 12, 1953.

A retired farmer, Mr. Ward was born July 28, 1875, in Carthage, Tenn., and was a member of the Methodist Church for 82 years.

He moved to Pampa from El Reno, Okla., in 1910 and helped build the original basement of the First Methodist Church, Pampa, where he was a member. He was also a member of the church Fellowship Class.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Bob Morris, and Mrs. Mary Fannie Eller, both of Pampa; a son, Ben Ward, Pampa; a sister, Mrs. W. B. Henry, Pampa; seven grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. today in the First Methodist Church with Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock officiating.

Kentucky Public Librarian Likes Title, 'Cultural Huckster'

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28—UP— Skip Graham, the Louisville public librarian, calls himself a "cultural huckster," and he is making culture so available in Louisville it is almost unavoidable.

Like any other library, Graham's institution has a lot of books. But there the similarity ends. His library is run more like a cultural supermarket.

At the door you pick up a wire pushcart and roll through the book stacks like you would down a grocery aisle. By the time you reach the checkout lane, your cart may be loaded not only with books but with phonograph records, oil paintings or movie film. And if you have a library card, it's all free.

And that's only the beginning. Louisville's white marble library building is no stuffy burial place of knowledge, but fairly jumps with activity. In one room you may find a group discussion of some literary classic going on. Next door, a professor may be conducting a course for college credit. Up under the eaves is a "junior" art gallery. It was set up originally to introduce Louisville's young generation to great art masterpieces, but many of the "youngsters" who visit it are grandfathers. The gallery also conducts art classes and exhibits the work of students from time to time.

Graham, who is 47, looks like a scholarly ex-football player and seldom uses his real name, Clarence R., wasn't satisfied with luring people into his library with all these attractions. He has taken the library into their homes.

For some time Louisville had the only library in the United States with its own FM radio station. Now it is the only library in the world with two FM stations.

12 Whooping Cranes Find Way To Texas

ROCKPORT, Tex., Oct. 28—UP—Five more whooping cranes were sighted Wednesday at the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, bringing the population of the near-extinct birds to 12. So far only adult birds have found their way from their Canadian summer grounds to this Texas coast refuge, Manager Julian Howard said. "They are right on schedule," Howard said. "It is normal for the young birds to be the last to arrive. They wait in Canada until their flying wings develop."

Last year 24 birds wintered on the refuge, three of them youngsters. So far as known, there are only 24 of the huge birds in the world. Howard said the big birds fly alone or in pairs. Only the males who herd offspring fly in groups.

Radio-TV Gives Dems Free Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—UP—Republicans shot more steam Wednesday into their drive to hold control of Congress next week. Democrats won free radio-TV time from one network to answer President Eisenhower. The GOP National Committee scheduled speeches by eight party bigwigs — including Vice President Richard M. Nixon and three cabinet members — in different parts of the country. And in Washington, the leading Republican of them all — President Eisenhower — held the spotlight with his first news conference since Aug. 17. The President, emerging at the tag-end of the hard-fought congressional battle as the top GOP campaigner, may announce whether he will bow to requests by party strategists that he make a final swing into the East and Mid-west this weekend. Democrats Fight Back Democrats, bolstered by new predictions that they will win in next Tuesday's balloting, fought back against the last-ditch GOP drive. The Democratic National Committee scheduled five major speakers, including 1952 presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, for stump appearances. Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell was partially successful in his demand that Stevenson be given free radio-television time to reply to "partisan political" speeches by Mr. Eisenhower to "non-political audiences." Mitchell all included Monday's historic televised cabinet audience which he called "another advertising man's gimmick." NBC offered the Democrats an hour on radio and television Saturday. ABC and CBS rejected Mitchell's demand. Mutual was expected to reply later. CIO Takes Issue The CIO, meanwhile, took issue with the October unemployment figures made public by the President in a "non-political" speech Monday and by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell in a campaign address Tuesday night. Mr. Eisenhower said the jobs dropped by 400,000 in October but Mitchell put the figure at 358,000.

"Just guesses," commented a spokesman for the CIO's Political Action Committee. Mitchell, in his speech, flayed Democratic "scare" tactics in their discussion of unemployment. GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall added the Democratic attack on the administration's employment policy is "the worst campaign misrepresentation and distortion" in history. Foreign Policy Is Topic Stevenson and Nixon bore down heavily on foreign policy in speeches on opposite sides of the continent Tuesday night. Under Republican rule, Stevenson said in New York, "our prestige and esteem and the international respect for the United States has fallen to an all-time low." "Why is that we have frightened our friends half to death, if not our enemies?" he asked. "How has the administration contrived to increase the fear of America while steadily reducing America's effective military strength. This is really mismanagement amounting to genius." But in Portland, Ore., Nixon said the foreign policy of former President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson failed "because it was weak, vacillating and inconsistent." Under it, he added, 600 million people were lost to the Communist world.

Two Charged With Theft From Corpse

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 28—UP—Claude H. Edwards Jr. and Wash Perez Guerra, were charged Wednesday with stealing $580 from the corpse of a woman brought to the funeral home where they worked. The woman, Mrs. Mary E. Rose, 64, McAllen, Tex., died Oct. 15, after suffering a heart attack. Edwards and Guerra allegedly stole the money from the woman's brassiere, where she habitually carried several hundred dollars. Police arrested a third man, but did not charge him immediately. He allegedly was bribed by Edwards and Guerra to keep quiet about the theft.

"For the next two years the welfare of our nation requires a Republican-led Congress."

"Pete" LaMaster

You elected "Ike" Eisenhower to office in 1952 . . . and in the two short years he has been president, he has done much to stabilize our economy, bring our soldiers home from Korea, establish a workable world peace plan for the world, and reinstate America to the position of leadership that is rightfully ours. You gave this great American a job to do. Now . . . give him the help he needs to complete his dynamic program. Your vote for Pete LaMaster on November 2 will be a vote of confidence for President Eisenhower and will give him a cooperative Congressman from the Texas Panhandle. Help Ike by Electing Pete!

MODESTY OF TRUCK DRIVER IS ONLY THING THAT'S NOT FALSE

LOS ANGELES — UP — A truck driver threw traffic in the downtown area into mild pandemonium Monday when part of his load of intimate objects fell from the truck into the street.

Horns tooted and motorists hooted as the red-faced driver scurried among stalled autos, frantically trying to retrieve a bouncing consignment of "falsies."

Russia May Get Big Four Meet, But On Allied Terms

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
It looks as if Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov may get the Big Four conference he has been clamoring for — but not under the conditions nor at the time he desires.

Both Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden intimated on Monday that the time for new West-East negotiations may not be far off.

But they made it plain, and Prime Minister Winston Churchill said flatly Wednesday, that the time for a conference will be after ratification of the Paris agreement for forming West Germany and not before.

Soviet policy for months has been pointed toward preventing West German armament.

Worked to Replace EDC
The Kremlin has proposed talks on German unification and an "all-European" security organization which would replace the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

First, the aim was to prevent ratification of the European Defense community treaty which provided for arming of the Bonn Republic. France did refuse to ratify — for its own reasons, not to oblige the Kremlin — and that pact was killed.

The western Allies started work on a new and even stronger agreement and their new Western European Union treaty was signed in Paris last Saturday.

On the same day, Molotov sent notes to the United States, Britain and France proposing a Big Four Conference in November on withdrawal of foreign troops from Germany, unification of East and West Germany and the Moscow-style "all-European" security organization.

Motive Transparent
The motive was transparent — Molotov is now trying to prevent ratification of the Western European Union Agreement.

The Allies had foreseen the move, and did not take the bait. Eden said in the British House of Commons Monday, in discussing the Paris agreement: "If we can bring about stability and a common purpose in the West, we shall have established the essential basis on which we can seek an understanding with the East."

A few hours later Dulles, speaking at the televised Cabinet meeting in the White House, said: "When we create... a position of solidarity and strength for Western Europe, then there may be a new basis for discussion which doesn't exist at the present time."

See Red Concessions
West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who would be consulted at every step in any plan for a Big Four conference, said Monday in a cabled interview with Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press: "After the agreements concluded at Paris go into effect, the prospects (that Russia will agree to give up East Germany) will improve because it has been proved that Russia will only make concessions if the West is united and strong."

Thus the Allies seem to look forward, before long, to agreeing to meet Molotov. But they will do it only after the Western Union treaty has been ratified. Molotov will not be pleased.

Long Way Around
NEWINGTON, N. H. — UP — The children of South Newington live just a mile from their school but they have to make a 12-mile roundtrip by bus each day. The school bus can't go directly to and from the schoolhouse because South Newington is cut off from Newington proper by construction of the giant Portsmouth-Newington jet bomber base.

Texas Orders U.S. Highways Renumbered

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 —UP— Texas ordered two state highways renumbered Wednesday to conform with Oklahoma numbering at the border of the two states. The State Highway Commission ordered Texas Highway 170, which joins Oklahoma State Highway 23, about 33 miles east of its junction with U.S. 60 and 83, renumbered to State Highway 33. The highway is located in Hemphill County, Tex. The commission also ordered Texas State Highway 117, which joins Oklahoma State Highway 15 about eight miles east of Pollett, Tex., renumbered to State Highway 15. The Texas Highway is located in Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Hutchinson, Carson and Armstrong counties. The actions, designed to aid motorists, will become effective on publication of the 1955 official highway map of Texas.

'Silk Stocking' Thief Caught

HOUSTON, Oct. 28 —UP— A 29-year-old ex-convict on parole made the mistake of returning to the scene of a burglary Wednesday to correct a mistake he thought he had made but hadn't. Billy Frank New, late of San Quentin, was captured when he returned to the Chuck Wagon Grill at 3 a.m. Wednesday to hunt a lost comb and identification card and police ended a month-long crime spree that netted Houston's "silk-stocking burglar" about $750. New confessed to five holdups and one burglary, police said, after they found a sawed-off shotgun and his nylon stocking mask, with holes for eyes, in his car. They also found his 23-year-old bride of two months, in the car. New's capture came shortly after he drove up to the grill but saw Patrolmen R. E. Krampola and C. E. McRae looking at a broken door of the cafe. He fled and they pursued, running his car into a ditch. They grabbed New as he tried to throw away the shotgun. Police said it was a good thing he didn't try to fire it because it was sawed off so short that it would have blown up in his face. New was on parole from a five-year sentence for burglary.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Study This Hand For Good Bidding.

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Probably the most interesting feature of today's hand is the bidding. South's overall of one no-trump shows just about the same one no-trump. Moreover, the bid guarantees at least one (usually two) sure stopper in the enemy's suit.

North knew that his partner had 16 to 18 points, balanced distribution, and at least three suits stopped. His own eight points in high cards might not be enough to make the combined total 26 points, but North was nevertheless right in jumping to game. His five-card suit might be useful, and his jack of spades was another important asset.

If North had raised to only two no-trump, South probably would have gone on to game anyway, but there was no reason for North to risk a pass. It doesn't pay to ask your partner to bid what you can bid all by yourself.

North naturally never considered a bid of two diamonds. Such a bid would indicate a long diamond suit in a hand that was far too weak to consider a game. In this case North had every reason to expect that South would have a fine play for game at no-trump.

West opened the eight of spades, dummy put up the jack, and East won with the ace. East returned the jack of hearts, knowing that the spade suit was pretty hopeless.

South won with the king of hearts led a low diamond to the ace, and returned a diamond towards his queen, hoping to set up the rest of the suit. East won with the king of diamonds, however, and West's failure to follow suit showed the diamonds were not going to break.

East now returned another heart, and South had to decide whether or not to hold up. If he took the ace of hearts he would have no further stopper in the suit and might be swamped by heart tricks later on. After some thought South decided to go up with the ace of hearts and hope that East had started with only two hearts.

Declarer next cashed the ace of clubs and let the eight of clubs ride to East's queen. East returned a diamond to South's queen, and declarer successfully finessed dummy's ten of clubs, and then finessed the ten of spades. Since East had discarded two spades on the clubs (in order to keep the jack of diamonds), South won three spade tricks and this made his contract with an overtrick.

Two U. S. Women Declared 'Undesirable' By Russians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 —UP— The United States has charged Russia with "mistreating" and "illegally detaining" the wives of two American diplomats during a picture-taking expedition Monday, the State Department announced early Wednesday. It said the Soviet foreign office retaliated by branding one of the women, Mrs. Karl E. Sommerlatte, persona non grata or "undesirable." The move is equivalent to demanding that she leave Russia and is believed unprecedented for a woman attached to a U. S. embassy.

The department did not describe the nature of the Russian complaint. But informed sources said the women were accused of "hoionism" and one report said slapped a policeman. For its part, the United States charged that "secret police agents" lured the women into a building and "forcibly" detained them for 90 minutes in violation of their diplomatic status. U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen filed a "strong diplomatic protest" with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. He also demanded that the "undesirable" label be removed from Mrs. Sommerlatte on the grounds the Russian version of the incident was in "flagrant contradiction of the facts."

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Published daily except Saturday by The Pampa News, Atchison at Somerset, Pampa, Texas. Phone 4-2424, all departments. Entered as second class matter under the act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By carrier in Pampa, 50c per week. Paid in advance (at office) $3.00 per 3 months, $7.00 per six months, $12.00 per year. By mail $7.50 per year in advance. Single copies 10c. Outside retail trading zone. Price for single copy, 5 cents. No mail orders accepted in localities served by carrier.

Will Ike AUFF Chance

Among the many unholy things that Ike inherited from the Roosevelt-Truman regime was a completely New Deal Supreme Court. But, when Vinson's death gave him his first opportunity to appoint a new judge, he named as Chief Justice, Earl Warren, a pseudo-Republican who, by his record, is even more of a socialist than any other man on the bench except, perhaps, Justice Douglas.

Now, with the passing of Jackson, Ike is given another chance to start changing the pinkish complexion of the Court. Will he appoint some well known and deserving Federal Judge who has a long record of fair and honest decisions? Or will he name another New Deal internationalist with no judicial experience whatsoever, and whose "liberal" interpretation of the Constitution will coincide with the views of his inherited New Dealers.

Since we are so often told that we are not "constructive" in our criticism, we would like to make a constructive suggestion to the President as to a successor to Jackson. We would give him two excellent men of proven ability and highest standing as prospects for the position. They are Dean Clarence Manion, former head of Notre Dame University Law School, or Frank Holtman, former president of the American Bar Association.

Living Dangerously

The problem of just keeping alive from day to day seems to be getting knottier. The other day an Eastern heart specialist, Dr. Percy Stocks, said the people who are most nearly immune to heart trouble are farm workers. He credits the open air exercise.

THE NATION'S PRESS

ARE YOU GOING TO CELEBRATE? IF SO, WHY? ... All over the nation internationalists are preparing to celebrate in honor of their golden calf, the "United Nations." In truth, it is not known why such a celebration must be carried on by God-fearing Americans, and why Americans should pay homage to a Goddess, prayerless organization which even now is preparing to lay siege to the United States.

Changes In Girl Scout Handbook

It will be remembered that there was considerable criticism of the last Girl Scout Handbook as to its loyalty to the ideologies set forth in the Declaration of Independence. The heads of the Girl Scouts denied there was anything objectionable in the Handbook. Robert LeFevre analyzed the material and presented a careful analysis which was published and which created considerable uneasiness on the part of the Girl Scout leaders.

Forty Revisions There must have been something wrong with the former Handbook because the new one to be printed has some 40 revisions. One of the revisions is that three stanzas of "The Star-Spangled Banner" will be included in the fifth impression of the Girl Scout Handbook.

On page four of the new Handbook it reverses the order of two requirements and will put "Learn how to display and use the flag of the United States of America" before "Know about the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts." Be able to explain meaning of the World Pin.

On page 130 the former Handbook said: "You are preparing yourself for world citizenship." The new Handbook will read: "You are preparing yourself to be an active citizen and a 'friend to all.'"

On page 204 the old Handbook requested Girl Scouts to seek the advice of the League of Women Voters. The League of Women Voters will not be mentioned in the new book.

On page 214 the former Handbook in discussing Juliette Low said: "The concept of 'One World' has taken shape in her lively mind many years before the phrase became common. She was one of the first true internationalists."

The old Handbook read: "Do I believe there is good in every person and nation?" The new book will read: "Do I believe there is some good in every person?" — leaving out the nation.

In the old Handbook under Public Health narrative text these headings were listed in this order: "World Health Service, Federal Health Service, State Health Departments, Local Health Departments."

The old Handbook stated: "Learn about some government project which helps people, such as reforestation, housing, agricultural experiments." The way the new book will read is not much improvement. It will say: "Learn about some large government project which helps people, such as reforestation, conservation, agricultural experiments."

The lack of frankness toward the press, which actually represents the public interest, accounts for many of the Administration's difficulties and embarrassments.

Truman's letters argue that purchase and perusal of this admittedly partisan publication are necessary in order to counteract and nullify the "poisonous" effect of what he calls the "one-party press." He uses that phrase twice in his salesmanship ballyhoo, although nowhere does he particularly highlight its indictment.

The former President's anti-press prejudice amuses Washington politicians and newspaper correspondents, for the simple reason that, with the exception of F.D.R., no Democratic figure ever enjoyed better treatment from these who write his papers than Truman.

It was the reporters' ultra-friendly accounts of Truman's defense inquiry which led F.D.R., in 1944, to notify the Democratic convention manipulators that his choice for Vice-President was Truman.

The old book stated: "Arrange a choral speaking piece from parts of the United Nations charter. Present it at school or in a troop meeting." The new book deletes this statement entirely.

The old Handbook required the Girl Scouts to memorize the United Nations Charter. The new book will read: "Read the preamble to the charter of the United Nations, and discuss with your troop its statement on neighborliness."

Both Harry And Ikemen Think Press Is Hostile

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Harry S. Truman has finally taken a job!

The former President is now serving as part-time and honorary circulation manager for the Democratic Digest, the monthly magazine issued by the Democratic National Committee from its headquarters at Washington.

It has not been a howling success since it went on sale more than a year ago at 25 cents a copy, for it consists largely of reprints of favorable newspaper articles.

In order to stir interest and subscriptions, Truman has sent out thousands of letters under his signature. He urges "friends and fellow Democrats," although he has included many Republicans in both categories, to buy the Democratic Digest. His reasons for this solicitation are similar to his "whistle stop" philippics in 1948 and 1952.

Truman's letters argue that purchase and perusal of this admittedly partisan publication are necessary in order to counteract and nullify the "poisonous" effect of what he calls the "one-party press." He uses that phrase twice in his salesmanship ballyhoo, although nowhere does he particularly highlight its indictment.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

A Notable medical triumph is that over the disease known as pernicious anemia. Until about 1926 people who were ill with this disease eventually died from it, and the average duration of life was only a little over three years after the onset.

Today, death from pernicious anemia, if the diagnosis is made reasonably prompt and the proper treatment employed, is exceedingly rare.

The remarkable improvement in outlook for pernicious anemia victims is due principally to the fundamental observations and dog experiments of Whipple, Minot, Murphy and Castle, although knowledge has continued to advance with the investigations of others.

THIS DISEASE IS NOT caused by overwork, as one correspondent appears to think. Put in as simple terms as possible, the cause of pernicious anemia is now considered to be the result of a deficiency of certain important elements in the diet. This, in turn, leads to a slowing down in the production of new red blood cells, and since these cells continue to die at the regular rate of speed an anemia or blood lack gradually develops.

THIS IS NOT the whole story, of course, since the disease is associated with changes in the stomach and often the liver. Nevertheless, the discovery that in essence pernicious anemia is a dietary deficiency led first to its treatment with liver or liver extracts.

The development of a substance known as crystalline vitamin B-12 is now of highest value in the treatment. When given in the right quantities and fairly early in the disease, vitamin B-12, sometimes combined with liver or other substances, is highly effective.

PERHAPS THIS DOES NOT seem so remarkable to the average reader, but to the medical man—especially one who can remember the fate of a person with pernicious anemia before the introduction of liver treatment—it constitutes a proud record, and particularly because the disease was described and set a part as long ago as 1855 by the famous English physician, Thomas Addison.

There is incidental but not necessarily trivial importance in the fact that Marshall, Ike, Smith, Omar Bradley and Rosey O'Donohue have been invited to the White House as guests of Louis Marx, a New Yorker who manufactures toys on a large scale. Marx was a guest at Ike's headquarters in France on the way to victory and at his headquarters in Germany after VE Day.

Anticipating criticism or insinuation during Ike's campaign in 1952, Marx prepared a document which undertook to prove that he transacted no business in toys or anything else from this extraordinary position. Germany's toy industry was the most ingenious in the world. No public explanation has ever been offered, however, and an inquiry addressed to Marx in London, during that campaign, elicited no acknowledgment.

There is some connection between the CIA, on the one hand, and the garment workers' union, David Dubinsky and Dubinsky's two international political agents, Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown, on the other. Dubinsky is a left-wing Democrat hardly to be distinguished from a Socialist. Lovestone and Brown were belligerent notorious and, in the forensic sense, blood-thirsty communists. They still are communists for all that they do the contrary.

Under repeated challenges Lovestone and Brown have refused to show in chapter and verse when they abandoned their total devotion to bloody revolution in the streets of the United States and seizure of power after the manner of Lenin and Trotsky, presumably by Lovestons and Brown, backed by civilians armed with guns.

The Reader's Digest tried to build up Brown as a great agent of "democracy" in a ridiculous "under cover" network in Europe. Only recently a small magazine called "Pageant" tried to put over Lovestone as a great American opponent of the Communist treason by linking him with Bishop Sheen, J. Edgar Hoover and others who do not qualify as leading Red-baiters although one of them, George Schuyler, a colored journalist, has fought the traitors in a limited field and refrained from baiting Red-baiters.

Eisenhower seems anxious about the CIA. He has good reason to be and Doolittle's whitewash will not relieve the situation.

Such news items as the following explain a lot: "President Eisenhower's work-and-play vacation at Denver has stretched into seven weeks, the longest period he has been away from Washington since taking office." "White House reporters... were calling the present vacation the longest Presidential absence from Washington in modern memory."

David Lawrence's comments: "Political battles aren't won when a President takes a vacation during the month of September and much of October in an election year!" Item: Republican leaders alarmed by party-split in several states.

Item: "President Eisenhower, several days after the Watkins Committee's censure report on Senator McCarthy had been filed, was heard to ask an aide: 'What's in it?'" Item: "President Eisenhower, despite more than two months of intensive effort, did not succeed in improving his golf game to the extent he had expected during his Denver vacation. Two more golfing vacations at Augusta, Ga., are planned before the year end..." Item: "The President, all through the 1954 political campaign, has been unwilling to warm up to the suggestions of the Republican Party's practical politicians that it would take active political work on the part of the White House to assure a victory."

Now that President Eisenhower has belatedly decided that perhaps, as the leader of his party, it would be all right for him to tell the voters in general that he "preferred" a Republican Congress... such "liberals" as NEWSWEEK's Ernest Lindley, comment that it was "incalculable" of the President to have "projected himself" into the campaign, because he is convinced that the Eisenhower program is, both domestic and international, will fare just as well and maybe even better... with a Democratic Congress!

This mounting impression, that President Eisenhower is happier with New Deal Democrats than with regular, stalwart Republicans... is only increased by situations now developing today, where the Eisenhower-picked Republican candidate for Senator, Clifford P. Case, has just been "endorsed" by the left-wing Americans for Democratic Action.

STATE-BY-STATE ROUNDUP

Nine Key Senatorial Battles Highlight National Election

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — From coast to coast, sharp combat enlivens the broad national struggle for control of the next Congress. Twelve of the 17 battleground Senate races are close enough to compel forecasting political sages to keep an escape hatch open against the prospect of an upset.

As result of its country-wide survey, NEA offers this summary of the outlook in nine key Senate battles, with attention to personalities, regional peculiarities, and occasionally flaming local issues:

Michigan: Ferguson vs. McNamara.
Professional politicians soberly weighing Secretary of Defense Wilson's "bird dog" honor doubt now the Democrats will get as much benefit from it as they thought at first.

White-haired Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican, still is given the edge over the relatively unknown Democrat, Patrick V. McNamara, though the race is a lot closer than figured when Blair Moody, leading Democratic contender, died last summer on the eve of the state primary.

Detroit unemployment is the big thing working for McNamara. Wilson's contribution gave a pallid campaign some color. Michigan's factories, offices and public places are alive with election talk for the first time this year.

California: Kuchel vs. Yorty.
Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Republican appointed to fill Vice-President Nixon's Senate seat, gets a faint nod over Rep. Samuel W.

Editor's Note: Political experts from all parts of the country contributed by telegraph and telephone to the following NEA Service national election roundup.

Yorty, Democrat, partly on the strength of his greater primary vote. But since then Democratic registration has gained more than Republican, and Yorty is hopeful a bigger Nov. 2 turnout will advantage him.

The two served together in the California legislature and, in the words of one observer, "know each other like a book." Consequently, the campaign has grown increasingly personal, with Yorty, the underdog, hitting hardest.

Angered by Kuchel's earlier attack on his loyalty, the Democrat says Kuchel used political influence as a Navy man in World War II to stay in America and "beat a Wave out of a job."

Massachusetts: Saltonstall vs. Furcolo.

Lanky, lantern-jawed Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, a blue-blood in politics, finds himself closely challenged by the first Italian-American ever to gain statewide office in Massachusetts, State Treasurer Foster Furcolo, 43.

In a state suffering from major unemployment and the flight of industry, Furcolo has strong talking points. Probably he did himself no harm, either, with Boston's conservative, anti-Communist population when he urged the often-assailed Americans for Democratic Action to disband.

But Saltonstall, once ridiculed as the "man with the South Boston face," never has lost in three tries for governor and two previous bids for the Senate. The expert hunch now is: Saltonstall, Iowa; Gillette vs. Martin.

An ancient vote-getting Democratic Gibraltar named Guy M. Gillette is proving a pretty tough rock for Iowa Republicans to crack. This incumbent senator, matched against Rep. Thomas E. Martin, has a personal following of a sort not enjoyed by any other Iowa Democrat.

Even Republican county leaders won't stand to hear him battered too hard. His big edge is his conservatism; Iowans see him almost as a Republican. His age, 75, figures in the race, but Gillette coolly points out he has camped 8,000 miles "without a wheel chair. His margin is believed fairly wide.

Minnesota: Bjornson vs. Humphrey.

Time was when a name like year, O'Mahoney is the front-runner.

Idaho: Taylor vs. Dworshak.
When Singing Glen Taylor won the Democratic Senate primary this year, conservative Idaho Democrats and the national party leaders were unhappy. For Taylor, a former senator, hid the skills after he ran as vice presidential nominee on Henry Wallace's Progressive Party ticket in 1948. He is vulnerable to Sen. Henry Dworshak's attacks on him as a "fellow traveler."

But Taylor has snapped back with a free-swinging campaign that is breaking records for energy, exaggerated statement and noise. He calls Ike's regime the "most corrupt and dishonest" in history. Despite his handicaps, he has pulled up close, but Dworshak still figures narrowly ahead.

New Mexico: Mechem vs. Anderson.

Two popular, able men are competing in arid New Mexico. The GOP has tossed Gov. Edwin Mechem, its top vote-getter, into the ring with Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, one-time Secretary of Agriculture. The forecasters hand the race to Anderson, for the visible signs point that way. But New Mexico has a high content of independent voters and they might send Mechem to the Senate as they twice sent him to Santa Fe. Anderson is one of the few Democrats actually bragging that he backed Mr. Eisenhower on flexible farm price supports. He favored a similar plan when he ran the Agriculture Department.

Oregon: Cordon vs. Neuberger.
It's different in Oregon, where the incumbent Republican, Sen. Guy Cordon, evidently has neglected his fences. Democratic challenger, Richard L. Neuberger, 41, author of unloof numbers of words on the Pacific Northwest, part of a husband and wife team in the Oregon legislature, asks audiences: "Will anyone who has actually seen the senior senator (Cordon), please rise and tell us where?" Few ever do stand up.

Quiet, conservative, uncolorful Cordon is hard pressed to beat off Neuberger's vigorous assaults, which range through the whole Eisenhower program, with special stress on power politics and alleged "resources give-aways."

Cordon's best hope: Not since 1914 has a Democrat here gone to the Senate. Cordon may sneak in.

Wyoming: O'Mahoney vs. Harrison.

As former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Democrat, and Rep. William Henry Harrison, Republican, descendant of two presidents, go down to the wire, the battle gets rougher. Harrison charges O'Mahoney forsook Wyoming to become a Washington lawyer; that he lobbied for Cuban sugar interests hostile to sugar-beet Wyoming; that he still is attorney of record for Owen Lattimore, professor accused of leftist influence in the State Department, now under fresh indictment for perjury.

Harrison is said to have alienated some voters by shunning the Senate contest until the late Sen. Lester Hunt, rated a sure winner, announced retirement earlier this

STUDIES RECIPE — Mrs. S. J. Meador Jr., 428 N. Wells, anticipates duck season by looking over her recipe for preparing it. Mrs. Meador, who cooks for her husband and two children, says she is "just crazy about cooking." (News photo)

This Is My Dish

Mrs. S. J. Meador Jr. Has Recipe For Duck

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor
This is the time of year every one is thinking of duck, and Mrs. S. J. Meador, 428 N. Wells, has a recipe for preparing it. A friend in Oregon, from where Mrs. Meador originally came, gave it to her.
A Pampian for 10 years, Mrs. Meador cooks for her husband and two children, Bobby, 8, and Patsy, 5. Mr. Meador, a native Pampian, is a safety engineer for the Cabot Companies.
Mrs. Meador began cooking for her father and three brothers when she was 17 years old. "I learned to cook on them," she laughed. She says she's "just crazy about cooking." "I cook every spare minute I have," she explained.

In addition to her cooking and housework, Mrs. Meador is taking guitar lessons, is secretary of St. Margaret's Guild of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, and belongs to Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. She also helps out occasionally for the merchants' hostess service, calling on newcomers.

With duck season just a few days away, Mrs. Meador's recipe is especially timely.

2 large or 2 small ducks
2 tsp. sherry or vinegar from sweet pickles
4 tsp. soy sauce
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Bit of ginger root (optional)
2 chopped onions
Same amount of water as sauce
Cut ducks into small pieces as the Chinese do — straight across without regard to joints. Fry in oil—either wesson or peanut oil. Then place in glass-covered casserole. Make sauce of sherry, soy sauce, sugar, salt, Worcestershire and ginger root. Sprinkle onions over ducks; add sauce and water. Bake about 1½ hours until ducks are tender. Serve with plain fluffy rice.

Freezer Is Useful For Small Families

Families of two and persons living alone — not just as large families — can benefit from using a home freezer, according to home economists of Deepfreeze Home Appliances.

Ordinarily, cooking for one or two is considered more difficult than cooking for many. But with a freezer, a variety of dishes can be cooked ahead in large quantities and frozen in meal-size portions for heating and eating at any time — an easier procedure than cooking in one-meal portions.

Also, large roasts become practical for the small family. The roasts may be divided into meal-size portions and cooked rare for finishing later or cooked medium and divided afterward. Any surplus may be sliced and frozen for cold cuts, and bits and pieces can be frozen for meat pies.

Small families also find frozen food reserves a great boon in entertaining visiting relatives or friends.

Under ideal water conditions, adult Pacific salmon has been known to leap 8 to 10 feet in the air during upstream spawning migrations.

Doughnuts, Hamburgers Are Named 'Naturals' For Halloween By Teens

Ask a teen-ager what to plan for a Halloween party and chances are she'll say, "Food!" And hamburgers and doughnuts are "naturals" for a party.

Watch your "blue jeans" set go for a big platter of hamburgers with all the trimmings, says Reba Staggs, home economist. Let each one take his choice by making some hamburgers stuffed with onion, some with grated American cheese and others with blue cheese. Cut small pumpkin shapes from orange paper, label them with the hamburger flavors, and pin them to the hamburgers with wooden picks.

Cinnamon - Orange Doughnuts
4 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
3-4 teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lard
3-4 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
3-4 cup orange juice
Lard for deep-fat frying
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup sugar

Sift flour with baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream thoroughly the lard and 3-4 cup sugar. Add the well-beaten eggs and orange rind; mix well. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with the orange juice. Chill. Place about 1½ of the dough at a time on a lightly-floured cloth. Sprinkle surface slightly with flour and roll to ½ inch in thickness. Cut with floured doughnut cutter. Fry until golden brown in hot deep lard (360 degrees F.) Drain on absorbent paper. Dip in a mixture of cinnamon and 1 cup sugar. Yield: Approximately 3 dozen doughnuts.

Pork Steak Rolls And Golden Filling

Golden filling of corn is rolled up inside pork steaks for a flavor-some combination. Suggests Reba Staggs, home economist, serve these individual pork rolls with acorn squash, a green salad, hot rolls and a dessert of peach cobbler.

Golden Filled Pork Rolls
2 pork arm steaks, cut ½ inch thick
Salt
Pepper
1 No. 303 can cream-style corn
1½ teaspoons salt
2 eggs beaten
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2-4 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
4 cups soft bread crumbs
½ teaspoon dry basil
½ teaspoon sage

Remove bones from pork steaks. Season with salt and pepper. Combine remaining ingredients, mix lightly and spread on steaks. Roll each steak like a jelly roll and tie or fasten with a skewer. Place rolls in a baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour. 8 servings.

No Strad
NEW HAVEN, Conn. — UP — Alfred McWeeney pictured himself a wealthy man when he discovered an old violin in his attic with the name "Antonius Stradivarius" inside. He took the battered instrument to Prof. Howard L. Boatwright of the Yale School of Music. Boatwright examined the piece and said it was worth $3.55.

A Neat Trick For Treats

It's time for pumpkin picking—sugared and plain cake doughnuts right off the Halloween pumpkin. Enjoy them with four cider sipping.

It's time for pumpkin picking—sugared and spiced doughnuts right off the traditional Halloween pumpkin. Reserve a nicely shaped one from the Jack-o'-lantern supply, plunk it down on a chop plate and decorate with autumn leaves. Your trick with this treat will be a few colorful knitting needles inserted securely into the pumpkin. On these, you hang the easiest of desserts—sugared, frosted or plain doughnuts purchased from your favorite bakery or food shop.
Appetites will begin to soar after an evening of spoofing the spooks and dunking for apples. Everyone will enjoy picking doughnuts and sipping cider. Here is a cider punch with a festive flavor from added grape juice and lemon juice.

Cider Punch
½ cup sugar
1 quart water
1 cup grape juice
¼ cup lemon juice
1 pint apple cider
Combine sugar and water in a saucepan and cook until mixture boils. Add cider, grape and lemon juices and chill before serving.
Yield: 7½ cups Cider Punch

Pampa News Women's Editor

THIS IS AN IMPORTANT TIME for home canning — the time of the last big harvest of the year. There are a great number of late fruits and vegetables just reaching the peak of goodness, plus the end-of-the-season yield from crops that have passed the most plentiful stage but still provide the ingredients for delicious home canning.

ACCORDING TO THE Home Canning Institute of America, these fruits and vegetables are good for canning now. To start at the beginning of the alphabet, there are apples of all kinds, cranberries, grapes, green tomatoes, pumpkins, squash, pears, peaches, quince, currants, and end-of-the-garden sweet peppers, cabbage, onions, carrots, and string beans. So, if you haven't already started, you'd better get busy, as this is about your last chance to do much canning this year.

FOR A COOL WEATHER — and I guess it's here — dessert, place 1 can (16 oz.) pear halves in sauce pan. Add 2 slices fresh lemon stuck with 4 whole cloves. Heat only to simmering point. Do not boil. Serve warm.

SWEET POTATOES have so many interesting possibilities. Here's a recipe for a sweet-potato casserole, using canned sweet potatoes. Drain 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) of sweet potatoes, saving syrup. Arrange potatoes in a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Drain one 8 oz. can grapefruit sections, and arrange sections on top of potatoes. Sprinkle 1/2 cup brown sugar over top and pour 1/2 cup of syrup from sweet potatoes over the brown sugar. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes six servings.

If you don't want to use canned potatoes, you could make your own syrup, just like for candied sweet potatoes.

THE U. S. DEPARTMENT of Agriculture's plentiful food list for November promises a treasure chest of good eating. A large variety of meats are on the list, including turkeys, beef, pork, broilers, fryers, frozen fish, canned tuna, fresh and frozen shrimp. Turkeys and beef supplies are exceptionally heavy and prices are lower than they have been. Might be a good idea for home freezer owners to purchase that Thanksgiving or Christmas turkey now, and freeze it until holiday time.

Also plentiful are foods that dress up meals, such as almonds, walnuts, filberts, prunes, dates, cheese and other dairy products. Also in good supply are dry beans, vegetable shortening and salad oils.

FOR MOTHERS always looking for different sandwich fillings for school or after-school luncheon, here's one using honey. Mix equal parts honey and butter, creaming them well. It's a sandwich spread by itself and doesn't need the help of other ingredients. It's also good with chopped nuts added. You can make dainty rolled sandwiches with this spread too for a club meeting snack.

Another honey of a sandwich is to soften creamed cheese with honey and add chopped nuts or raisins. This keeps well on a hike or camp out, too.

NOT TOO LONG ago someone asked me what kind of sandwiches freeze best. I looked around and came up with this article. "All breads freeze well in sandwiches, if generously spread with butter or margarine so that fillings will not soak through. Most fillings also freeze well, except for egg salad, jelly, lettuce and tomato. Most sandwiches can be stored in the freezer two or three weeks. They thaw in 3 to 4 hours and taste best immediately after thawing. You can also freeze cakes and cookies for lunch boxes."

A neighbor's baby fell from his carriage to the cement sidewalk. She, in a panic, rushed him to the doctor's office. The doctor's comment — "You're more scared than he is. There's not a thing wrong." Which proves again that Baby is pretty indestructible. He needn't take a header out of the buggy daily, but there needn't be a fuss when he takes a bump while walking. He scarcely notices it until you give him a lot of attention and petting. Then he's off. He can scream like a radio heroine once he's learned he gets kissed for it.

To most mothers, the question of rubber pants or not for Baby is past discussion. But some women still feel that there's something unhealthy about them. When Baby's very young and his skin is so tender that it breaks out in bumps for no reason, it may be easier to leave them off. But when he's a little older — a month or so, perhaps, they can become the usual thing. Be sure that the pants aren't airtight, but have some form of ventilation. Make sure they don't bind his legs or waist. Pick a kind he is comfortable in and get two pair. Wash them often.

DISTRIBUTES POSTERS — Posters for the Beta Sigma Phi table setting contest were distributed today. Above, Mrs. Homer Deck, publicity chairman, holds one of the posters. The event will be held Nov. 12, in the high school fieldhouse. Tables will be prepared by various women's clubs. (News photo)

Woodrow Wilson, Baker PTAs Plan Fun Nights Today

Woodrow Wilson and Baker Parent-Teacher Associations will sponsor "Food, Fun and Frolic" nights today in the respective schools.

Baker's program will be held from 5 to 9 p.m. The menu will consist of hamburgers, hot dogs, homemade chili, pie, cake, ice cream, coffee and milk.

A carnival will be presented by the students. Concessions will include a fish pond, fortune teller, rummage sale and movies. A special program will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium, with tickets available at the door. Included on the program will be Bill Ridge-way's band, a play by fourth grade students, a Jeanne Willingham dance team. Songs and skits will be presented by a group of high school students, including Joan Robertson, Peggy Olivola, Gary Griffin, E. J. McIlvain and Buddy Ray. Otto Mangold will serve as master of ceremonies.

Woodrow Wilson's program will be held from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. On the menu are hamburgers, chili, coffee, pie, cake, ice cream, candy and cold drinks.

The program will include picture shows, a play, a fish pond and games. The play, written by Miss Frances McCue, will be presented by her students.

Following the meeting, refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served.

White Deer HD Club Has Business Meet

The White Deer Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Alva Thornburg. Miss Charlotte Tompkins, county home demonstration agent, was in charge of the program, "Progressive Democratic Family Living."

Posters Distributed By Beta Sigma Phi

Epsilon chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, began distributing posters today for its second annual table setting contest, slated for Nov. 12 in the high school fieldhouse.

The contest is prize competition with local clubs decorating tables for formal or informal occasions. Large or small clubs have an equal chance for the prize money. Winning tables will be selected by popular vote.

In addition to the tables, there will be a special display, the nature of which will be announced later.

The proceeds from this year's showing will be used in a worthwhile service. Following last year's contest, Beta Sigma Phi presented $200 to the March of Dimes and sent its annual contribution to Girlstown, U.S.A.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Thelma Bray, and Mrs. Homer Deck is publicity chairman.

JayCee-Ettes Plan Christmas Project

The Jaycee-Ettes held a combined dinner meeting with the Jay-Cees Tuesday evening in the Palm Room, City Hall. Following the dinner, the men left to attend the broom sale they are sponsoring.

During the business session, the women made plans for a Halloween Party for Wednesday. Henry Gruben also presented a Christmas project to the group, plans for which will be announced later.

No Tricks—If You Make Your Own Treats!

Hallowe'en Night—but here's a way to keep the goblins from the door! Two sweet-treats, so good to eat, so easy to make, they will become a favorite stand-by for "busy work" on rainy days—and they'll make a delightful "quickie" gift for your children to make for the holidays.

Chocolate Coconut Glossies
1 package (8 squares) candy-making chocolate
2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk
Heat chocolate over boiling water until partly melted. Add milk, salt, vanilla, and coconut and blend. Drop from teaspoon on waxed paper. Cool until firm. Makes about 3 dozen.

Coconut Creams
1 tablespoon butter
2-1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1-1/2 cups shredded coconut
Cream butter until soft. Add 1 cup of the sugar gradually, creaming together. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in remaining 1-1/2 cups sugar, vanilla, and coconut, and continue beating until mixture is smooth and creamy. Shape into balls, 1 inch in diameter. Dust with confectioners' sugar or roll in additional coconut. Makes 2-1/2 dozen candies.

Prepare Two Week Sandwiches Supply

One or two weeks' supply of sandwiches for packed lunches can be prepared at one time and stored in the home freezer. This method sidesteps the more time-consuming procedure of making up sandwiches every day.

A sandwich taken from the freezer in the morning will slowly defrost and will be ready to eat by lunch time, home economists of Deepfreeze Home Appliances point out. They suggest that sandwiches be sealed individually in pint polyethylene bags and labeled. When like sandwiches are assembled in large bags, daily selection is quick and easy.

THE FIGHTING HARVESTERS, who could very easily adopt the name "luckless Harvesters," are in the process of facing their two toughest foes on their 1954 schedule in their worst physical condition of the year.

The Harvesters met Abilene, currently the No. 2 team in the state last week, and this week the Green and Golders go against the No. 3 team, Midland.

In last week's game against Abilene, the Harvesters were without two of their finest defensive players, guard Jerry Neef and half-back Bill Fulenwider. This was a situation to a couple or so who played but were far from top physical condition.

Fullback Harold Lewis was weakened for the Abilene game as a result of illness during the week and then he sprained his ankle in the first quarter.

Tackle Ben Stuyven, making his first start of the season, still favored his broken foot, he suffered in a pre-season workout. These mishaps took care of three of the five returning lettermen on the Harvesters roster.

This week two or three others have come up with injuries, one of which will be sidelined for the remainder of the season. Tackle Damon Runyon re-injured his back and has been advised to hang up his football suit.

Lewis re-sprained his ankle in a workout this week as did half-back Rex Thornton.

It would have been a supreme

Pee Wees Suffer First Loss, 14-12

The string ran out for Pampa's Pee Wees yesterday who fell to the Phillips Pee Wees at Harvester Stadium, 14-12.

It was the first defeat in five starts for the future Harvesters and it marked the first time the locals had been scored on this season.

Coach Frank Craig's Pee Wees held the Phillips team scoreless through the first three quarters but couldn't ward off the Little Blackhawks' efforts in the final period.

Pampa led 6-0 going into the final quarter and it appeared the locals were going to protect both their unbeaten and unscored on record.

But Eddie Gipson of the visitors had different ideas. Gipson repeatedly picked up valuable yardage on wide end sweeps throughout the afternoon as he accounted for nearly all of the Phillips' 139 yards gained on the ground.

Gipson didn't score either touchdown but he set them both up. Joe Malcott scored on a one-yard smash and Butch Gloss counted on a 9-yard run in the fourth quarter rally by the visitors.

The Pee Wees had taken the lead in second quarter when quarterback Bobby Smith passed to Kent Stephens for 30 yards and a touchdown. Stephens caught the ball about the 10 yard line and

Shockers Take On Stormies Here Tonight

The Pampa B team Shockers will be looking for their third win of the season tonight when they battle the Amarillo Stormies at Harvester Stadium.

Kickoff time has been set for 7:30.

The Shockers climbed up win No. 2 last week with a smashing 33-0 win over Dumas. It was sweet revenge for the Shockers against Dumas as the Pampans had suffered a 13-12 defeat at the hands of the little Demons earlier in the season.

The other Shocker win this season came over the Turkey Turks, 12-0.

Tonight's game will be the first tilt pitting the Shockers and Stormies.

The Shockers have met the other Amarillo B team, the Yinnigans, twice but lost them both.

Probable starting lineup for Coach Marvin Bowman's Shockers tonight will be:

Ends — David Smith and Don Allen.
Tackles — Don Jonas and Doug Simmons.

Guards — Jerry Bonnal and Billy Green.
Center — Charles Lerner.
QB — Gary Dearen.
HB — DeWayne Lovinggood and Rickey Gardner.
FB — Jesse Ring.

AVILA FINDS CLUB OWNERS HAVE THEIR HEADACHES, TOO

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series dealing with winter baseball in Latin-American countries.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28 — UP — Bobby Avila, the American League batting champion, admits it's much tougher to own a ball club than merely to play on it.

The 23-year-old Cleveland Indians' second baseman ought to know, because he's filling both jobs today with the Mexico club of the Mexican Winter League.

Avila hit .341 this year to win the American League batting crown by a comfortable 21 points over runner-up Minnie Minoso of the White Sox, but as owner-player of the Mexican team, he has to worry about 14 other players as well as himself.

"The Mexico team lost money and finished in the cellar last year," Avila said. "But this year it won't lose money and it won't finish last."

As owner of the club, Avila may be faced with the kind of problems that never cropped up while he was playing second for the Indians.

Avila is playing more or less full time for Mexico and has also announced that he plans to bring two of his Cleveland teammates, pitchers Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia, here for several games this winter.

The other clubs in the circuit, which operates from October through February with an 80-game schedule, are Jalapa, which won the pennant last year, Mexico City, Poza Rica, Puebla and Cordoba.

Most of the players in the Mexican League are natives who average between $100 and $500 a month. American players who came to play here in the past, however, receive more.

Owen Friend, recently purchased by the Boston Red Sox from Indianapolis of the American Association, also was exceptionally popular in a player-manager's role.

Spain to Have Operation — MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 28 — UP — Southpaw Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves will undergo an exploratory operation on his left knee next week, the club announced Thursday.

The knee both season and doctors fear he may have cartilage trouble.

Phillips To Host Shamrock In Annual Homecoming Tilt

The Blackhawks will carry a 6-0 won-lost record into the game while the Irish record is just the opposite, 0-6.

Shamrock has only five seniors on its roster of 35 boys. Many of the current squad are sophomores.

The Blackhawks and Irish have played four common foes, Wellington, Childress, Perryton and Dumas. Phillips defeated all four decisively while the Irish were bowing to the same four.

The season records:

| SHAMROCK (6-0) |     |
|----------------|-----|
| McLean         | 45  |
| Wellington     | 38  |
| Lefors         | 25  |
| Childress      | 25  |
| Hersford       | 23  |
| Perryton       | 20  |
| Dumas          | 15  |
| Totals         | 236 |
| PHILLIPS (0-6) |     |

Campanella's Hand 'Excellent' — BROOKLYN, Oct. 28 — UP — Catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday expressed delight over the success of a recent operation on his left hand. "The hand feels excellent now," said Campanella, adding that "I'll be able to grab a bat as hard as ever" next season.

Injuries Hit Midland Camp

'Dogs Embark For Friday Tilt Here

By TED BATTLES Sports Editor

MIDLAND, Oct. 28 — (Special) — Until this week Midland's Bulldogs were lucky to escape without any serious injuries as they rolled up six straight victories.

But as the squad left by bus for Pampa early Thursday morning the law of averages had finally caught the team.

Six of halfbacks from the start, Bulldogs spent most of the week attempting to find replacements for regular halfbacks Gerald Morris and Frank Midkiff. Morris, a flu victim, was expected to be weak but available for Pampa while an appendectomy sidelined Midkiff indefinitely.

A flu epidemic reached serious proportions by midweek as a blue norter moved in on Midland and quarterback Willie Brooks and fullback Wahoo McDaniel were added to the list that includes regulars Tom Ijman, Larry Cooper, Morris and Linel Crisp.

Coach Tugboat Jones was forced to weaken his other backfield positions to bolster the right half spot. Larry Cooper, a slow-footed sophomore who plays defensive safety, Wayne Hanson, a 150-pound reserve fullback, and Golden Gloves featherweight boxing champion Buddy Mote, a 130-pounder were rushed into the breach.

The Bulldogs planned a light workout in Plainview Thursday afternoon and motor into Pampa at a leisurely pace Friday.

Coach Jones particularly fears the Pampa encounter. "It's always been too much for us to handle in the past."

"We've never beaten them in 1-4A play and they'll be doubly tough at home. With everything to win and nothing to lose, they'll shoot the works while the pressure has been building up every week on our boys. They can shoot the works while we'll have to play it conservatively."

Illness permitting, the Bulldogs will go with the same lineup that started last week. Offensively Jim Owens, a sophomore, and Bill Hanson, a senior, will start at the wings.

Lionel Crisp and Lee Wood, a couple of 183 pound veterans, go at tackles while Ken Schrum, 176, and Jack Harris, 154, get the call at guards and Don Evans, 155, is at center. Crisp and Schrum were named by the coaches as two of the Bulldogs' top three players in last week's game against Lubbock.

The other was Wahoo McDaniel, who made it for the third straight week. The Choctaw will start at fullback, flanked by Tommy Johnson and Gerald Morris and Willie Brooks will call the signals.

In hanging up six straight victories, the Bulldogs have overwhelmed no one and have been extremely fortunate in pulling out victories over Lamesa 12-7, El Paso Austin, San Angelo and Amarillo. All four games took last quarter heroics to turn the tide.

The Purple has depended principally on a strong offense to outscore the opposition to date. The sophomore flavored defense is vulnerable to pass attack and has had trouble with good fullbacks — one reason why Harold Lewis has kept Tugboat Jones awake at nights this week.

PHILS SIGN FIRST NEGRO SCOUT — PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28 — UP — Bill Yancey, credited with discovering Bill Bruton and Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, Thursday was signed as the first Negro scout in the Philadelphia Phillies' history.

Charles Gr's Honorary Post — ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 28 — UP — Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati was appointed an honorary special deputy commissioner of the Indiana State Athletic Commission Wednesday.

Mustangs In Crucial SWC Tilt Saturday

DALLAS, Oct. 28 — UP — Coach Chalmers (Woody) Woodard and his Southern Methodist Mustangs hope to make the right turn Saturday when they come to the cross roads of their Southwest Conference football trail against the University of Texas.

Most of this team's predecessors have taken the wrong road at this stage in recent years and as a result wound up in the second division instead of atop the standings.

SMU has come up to the Texas game with impressive records before and this season is no exception.

Woodard's experience-laden backfield and untested line pushed Georgia Tech all over the field in the season-opener only to bow to Tech 10 to 7 as Coach Bobby Dodd's team maintained its "jinx."

Then, came impressive victories over Missouri, Rice and Kansas. Now, SMU is rated 12th in the nation and boomed as the team most likely to derail the Arkansas express which has unexpectedly bowled over everything in sight in racking up a perfect conference record to date.

A year ago, SMU was nipped by Georgia Tech 6 to 4 and then turned in victories over Missouri, Rice and Kansas before Texas deflected the Mustangs down the wrong road with a 16 to 7 defeat.

And, the bitter memory still lingers around SMU of that season four years ago when the past-happy Mustangs turned in frenzied victories over Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Missouri, Oklahoma A&M and Rice and was ranked No. 1 in the nation as it moved into Austin for the grudge battle against Texas.

Texas upset the touted Mustangs 23 to 20 and SMU again took the downhill road, winning only one of its next three games for a miserable 6.4 finish to what had promised to be a spectacular season.

This time, Woodard thinks he has the "horses" to turn the tide, although in the usual coaching profession pessimism he won't predict a victory.

Top Offensive Unit — With Duane Nitt clicking on 60 per cent of his passes and half-back Frank Endom and Don McInelly setting a merry pace on the ground, SMU is the top offensive outfit in the conference with 348 yards per game.

A comparatively light, but rock-heavy double unit line has made SMU the toughest defensive crew in the circuit with only 87.5 yards allowed per game on the ground.

Boxing Card Set Tonight At 8:15

An action-packed card of 14 bouts will be unreeled on the weekly card of the Pampa Optimist Club boxing matches tonight at the Top of Texas Sportsmen's Club arena.

Fight time has been set for 8:15. There will be only one re-match tonight from last week's card. Doy Hutchinson of the Pampa News and Kenny Powell of Citizens Bank will clash in the lone rematch.

Powell won a close decision over Hutchinson last week in the battle of 70-pounders.

Several boys will be making second appearances tonight but against different foes.

Tonight's starting time was moved up 15 minutes to avoid conflict with the "Fun Nights" set at various grammar schools.

Admission prices for the fights are 75 for adults, 50 for high school students and 25 for children under high school age. All proceeds will go into the Optimist Club Boys work fund.

Following is tonight's card:

85 pounds — Jimmy Thompson, First National, vs. Gary Johnson, Pampa News.

Buckeyes, Sooners, UCLA Favorites

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 — UP — UCLA, Ohio State and Oklahoma, the nation's top three college football teams, figured as two-touch down choices Thursday over their weekend opponents in the point spreads of a Minneapolis rating bureau.

The point spreads, released Tuesday, gave UCLA, rated the nation's top team this week by the United Press board of coaches, a 13-point edge over California.

Oklahoma, tied for second with Ohio State in the week's U.P. ratings, was a 13-point choice over Colorado. Ohio State was rated 14 points better than Northwestern.

Fourth-ranked Arkansas was a 13-point favorite over Texas A&M, and sixth-ranked Notre Dame was given the same edge over Navy.

Wisconsin got six points over Iowa, Purdue 13 over Illinois, and West Virginia seven over Pittsburgh in other games involving ranked teams.

Holy Cross and Syracuse were figured a toss-up in the only major game for which neither team was favored.

Point spreads on other major games included: Michigan State one over Minnesota, Michigan 13 over Indiana, Missouri six over Nebraska, Duke six over Georgia Tech, Maryland six over South Carolina, Southern Methodist six over Texas, Cornell seven over Columbia, Stanford seven over Washington State, Oregon seven over Washington, Yale 13 over Dartmouth, Oklahoma A&M 13 over Tulsa, Alabama 13 over Georgia, Tennessee 13 over North Carolina, Rice 14 over Kansas, Auburn 19 over Tulane, Miami 21 over Fordham, Kentucky 27 over Villanova, Penn State 20 over Pennsylvania, Marquette one over Detroit, Houston one over Wichita, Clemson one over Wake Forest, and Texas Christian one over Baylor.

Horse Sets New Record — SAN BRUNO, Calif., Oct. 28 — UP — Mr. and Mrs. John Eyrand's Karim, a four-year-old gelding, set a new track record of 1:09 3/5 in winning the six-furlong Movichik purse at Tanforan Monday. Karim, ridden by apprentice jockey George Taniguchi, clipped one-fifth of a second off the record set a month ago by Berseem.

Redskin Blocker Hurt — WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — UP — Slug Witucki, called by Coach Joe Kuharich "the best blocker we have," will be out of action for the Washington Redskins for at least two weeks with a cracked rib suffered in Sunday's game against the New York Giants. Kuharich also fears that halfback Henry Gilmer, limping with an ankle injury, may also be sidelined.

Plans Florida Training School — NEW YORK, Oct. 27 — UP — Gus Mauch, New York Yankee trainer, will leave Sunday for Kissimmee, Fla., where he will conduct his school for athletic trainers, Jan. 5-Feb. 8. A class for young baseball players also will be conducted at Kissimmee next winter, with major leaguers Mickey Vernon, Ted Lepcio and Sid Hudson serving as instructors.

Son Born to Boston Star — BOSTON, Oct. 27 — UP — Boston Red Sox outfielder Jim Piersall Wednesday was receiving congratulations on the birth of his first son, James Jr. The Piersalls have three other children, all girls.

Dropo Drops Dead — AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 27 — UP — First baseman Walt Dropo of the Detroit Tigers bagged a 234-pound buck while deer hunting in northern Maine last week. He layed Tuesday while enroute to his Connecticut home.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Horse Sets New Record — SAN BRUNO, Calif., Oct. 28 — UP — Mr. and Mrs. John Eyrand's Karim, a four-year-old gelding, set a new track record of 1:09 3/5 in winning the six-furlong Movichik purse at Tanforan Monday. Karim, ridden by apprentice jockey George Taniguchi, clipped one-fifth of a second off the record set a month ago by Berseem.

Redskin Blocker Hurt — WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — UP — Slug Witucki, called by Coach Joe Kuharich "the best blocker we have," will be out of action for the Washington Redskins for at least two weeks with a cracked rib suffered in Sunday's game against the New York Giants. Kuharich also fears that halfback Henry Gilmer, limping with an ankle injury, may also be sidelined.

Plans Florida Training School — NEW YORK, Oct. 27 — UP — Gus Mauch, New York Yankee trainer, will leave Sunday for Kissimmee, Fla., where he will conduct his school for athletic trainers, Jan. 5-Feb. 8. A class for young baseball players also will be conducted at Kissimmee next winter, with major leaguers Mickey Vernon, Ted Lepcio and Sid Hudson serving as instructors.

Son Born to Boston Star — BOSTON, Oct. 27 — UP — Boston Red Sox outfielder Jim Piersall Wednesday was receiving congratulations on the birth of his first son, James Jr. The Piersalls have three other children, all girls.

Dropo Drops Dead — AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 27 — UP — First baseman Walt Dropo of the Detroit Tigers bagged a 234-pound buck while deer hunting in northern Maine last week. He layed Tuesday while enroute to his Connecticut home.

RUNAWAY ARTISTS — Mississippi's Allen Muirhead, left, and Navy line-cracker Joe Gattuso are a pair of collegiate backs who can run away and hide from the opposition. Muirhead went 62 against Vanderbilt and Gattuso showed his stuff against Stanford when he smashed the line for three straight first downs, then stepped out for a 37-yard TD dash. (NEA)

'Masked Marvel' Stars Again

Ralph Gardner, the Pampa sports editor of the News, picked Warren Hasse, KPND sportscaster, hit 19 out of 30 that enabled the Masked Marvel to walk off with a steak.

Hasse, however, leads the pack in the season percentages with .657. He has picked 65 winners out of 103 with two ties. Francis has an even .600 percentage with 62-39-2.

Perryton Out To Snap Canyon Mark

CANYON, Oct. 28—The Canyon Eagles' perfect season record will be in danger here Friday night when the Warbirds host the invading Perryton Rangers in a District 1-A football tilt.

Canyon is unbeaten in six starts this season while Perryton has won six out of seven. The lone Perryton loss was administered by the Phillips Blackhawks, 30-0.

Although Canyon is unbeaten this season, Perryton rules a slight favorite in Friday's game here. The Eagles and Rangers have met only two common foes with Perryton holding a slight edge here.

Canyon defeated Panhandle, 33-12, while Perryton won over the same club, 45-18. Against Dalhart, Canyon won 19-0 while Perryton won by 40-6.

Perryton, paced by Slinging Don Dear, has averaged 35 points in its seven games to date. Canyon has averaged 30 points in six games.

Perryton romped over the Eagles last year, 33-13. The Rangers must win here Saturday to stand an outside chance of catching up with pace setting Phillips.

HIDDEN WEAPON—Any time 137-pound halfback Donn Smith feels California opponents are getting ready to smear him, he ducks behind 255-pound tackle John Carroll and he can't be seen, much less reached. Smith, in this case, is ready to pass the ball, in case you didn't notice him. (NEA)

Boudreau Predicts Ted Will Continue

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—UP—Former Boston Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau says Ted Williams is the "one and only outstanding player" in a "weak" American League.

Boudreau, fired recently in favor of Pinky Higgins, predicted at a weekly quarterback luncheon Monday that Williams would play next season despite reports to the contrary.

"Ted is the one and only outstanding player in the American League," Boudreau said, "and I believe he could help any club.

"And as for the stories that he and I didn't get along, they are completely false."

Boudreau said the American League would be "weak for two or three more years...until the young clubs at Boston and Detroit come up."

He said the Cleveland Indians' collapse in the World Series might have been due to the overall weakness in the American League.

Boudreau said he had no prospects for a 1955 job yet, that he would not go to the minors, and that he was interested in either managing or coaching.

Upset Minded Bucks Host McLean 11

WHITE DEER, Oct. 28—The upset-minded White Deer Bucks will host the high flying McLean Tigers here Friday night in a District 1-A grid contest.

McLean, with a "6-0 record, will be heavy favorites to whip the Bucks but Coach Otis Holliday's White Deer eleven are bent on turning the tables on the free scoring Tigers.

The Tigers of Coach Hap Rogers have averaged 48 points plus per game this season. They were held under 40 points in a single game for the first time this season last week when Canadian fell by the wayside, 20-0.

James Smith, with 120 points, and Ricky Mantooth with 108 points are the offensive sparkplugs of the Tigers.

McLean eked out a 20-16 win over the Bucks last season. The season records:

Heart to Heart Talks Planned
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28—UP—Mayo Smith, the new manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, said Thursday he plans to use "heart to heart" talks with players who break training rules next season. If this approach fails, Smith said he will levy fines and even get rid of players "who do not cooperate."

Lefors, Canadian Meet In District 1-A Feature Friday

LEFORS, Oct. 28—Lefors and Canadian clash in the feature game of the week's District 1-A card here Friday night.

While Lefors will be seeking to make it four in a row in 1-A play and seven in a row for the season, Canadian will be going all out to stay in the 1-A title chase.

Coach Johnny Cardinal's Canadian team must down Lefors Friday to stay in the 1-A title chase. The Wildcats bowed to McLean, 20-0, last week to drop from the unbeaten ranks in conference play.

Lefors owns possibly the finest defense mark in the state. Only 14 points have been scored on the Pirates in six games. Two of the six Pirate foes managed seven points while the other four were blanked.

The Pirates ran up their highest single game output of the season last week with a 39-0 win over Panhandle.

Canadian breezed to a 21-9 win over Lefors when the two teams met last year.

GI Unit Votes 100 Per Cent

FORT HOOD, Tex., Oct. 28—UP—Soldiers in Battery C of the 73rd Armored Field Artillery Battalion have set a mark for other military units, and civilians as well, by voting 100 per cent in the November elections.

All of the eligible voters in the First Armored Division unit voted by absentee ballot for candidates in their home states. The perfect mark was the result of a drive carried out by men of the battery, commanded by 1st Lt. Allen T. Brillheart of Little Rock, Ark., in co-operation with the division's troop information and education program.
 Maj. Stanley E. Porche, Thibodaux, La., the division's troop information and education officer, said "we are not interested in how the men vote. We just try to explain how important it is for all of us to play our part in these elections."
 To help "get out the vote," officers helped each of the men secure absentee ballots from their home states. Then all the eligible men filled out the ballots during a special meeting.
 For many of the soldiers, it was the first time they were eligible to vote.

GUARD UNIT HONORED

Lt. Col. Merl R. Warren (right) is shown presenting Silver Certificate to Battery C, 474th Field Artillery. Accepting the honor is First Lt. Bobby Purcell, commanding officer of the Shamrock National Guard unit. The Silver Certificate was presented Battery C for proficiency in summer field training at Ft. Sill, Okla., in August.

Drys To Hold Big Meeting

DALLAS, Oct. 28—UP—The United Texas Drys said Thursday the nation's largest temperance meeting this year would be held in Dallas next month.
 Rev. Albert F. Tucker, Dallas, arrangements chairman, said the meeting of the National Temperance League, Inc., would be held Nov. 14-16. It will close with a banquet, of which the state organization will be co-sponsor, and which will also open the Texas Drys' meeting.
 Speakers will include Glen Cunningham, famed miller in the 1930s, and Dr. Duke K. McCall, president of the National Temperance League and head of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky.

Turn About
 WATERBURY, Conn. — UP — State CIO leaders found themselves on the other side of the fence during wage negotiations. Demands for a pay raise were made by their own CIO-organized clerical workers.
