Question Of The Week

What Action Must US Take To Free Red-Held Yanks?

By T. D. ELLIS Quizzing Cameraman

"What do you think the United States should do to effect the release of American airmen and civilians jailed by the Chinese Communists on trumped-up spy charges?"

This situation has aroused the American public like no other incident since the Korean war. It has brought one of the strongest letters of protest yet from the State Department to the Peiping government.

The following are comments and opinions of 10 persons, picked at random on Pampa streets, concerning the above question:

C. C. Hill, 309 S. Cuyler, truck driver: "I think the government should get those people released. If we try hard, and long enough, we can get them released. What methods? Everything short of war."

Mrs. C. G. Woods, Hillson hotel, desk clerk: "It looks like we may have to drop an atom bomb or two to show those people we mean business. That seems to be the only language they understand. I don't like war any more than the next fellow, but we are going to have to do something."

Cletus Mitchell, 1529 Williston, cashier: "There are a lot of people who would like to know the answer to that question, especially the parents and loved ones of the persons being held. I have no solution to the problem. If the government can't figure it out, how can I come up with the right idea?"

Mrs. Mary Talley, Groom, nurse: "The President should demand that they be released, and if that doesn't work the matter should be left in the hands of the U.N. Let them take whatever means they need, but get them released."

C. A. Johnson, 451 Tignor, delivery man: "I think we should do everything possible to get them out of Red China, but I don't think we should go over there and jump into a war. A war would kill a lot more people than the Chinese Communists are holding."

Mrs. H. R. Barnes, Lefors, housewife: "I feel that we can keep sending protests over there and finally settle this trouble without getting into another war. People get angry and do things they shouldn't. The United Nations should be able to get those people released without another war."

Miss Gaylon Lard, 925 S. Hobart, student: "I think we should go over there and bring them back. If the Communists won't let us have them, there isn't anything we can do except throw a fit. It will cause another war if we insist that they be released. If we have proof that they weren't spies, the United Nations can do something about it."

Lewis Gallimore, 700 N. Wells, electrician: "I think they should be released, but I don't know what it will take to get them back home — short of war, that is! I listen to TV and radio and read the newspapers and find we are losing face over there. War is coming sooner or later, and I had just as soon get it over with."

Mrs. James Alexander, 2217 Hamilton, bookkeeper: "There should be some way we can get them released, but I don't know how. I think war should be avoided if at all possible because I am as much against war as anyone. Seems to me that the UN could do it."

Jesse Ring, 1004 S. Nelson, student: "I think we should threaten the Chinese Communists with war if they persist in holding the Americans. If the bluff doesn't work, the only other thing to do is fight them and show them that the United States means what it says."

Okla. Crime Bureau Agent Ray Page, in Lexington with three other Oklahoma and Kansas law officers, said the team's bizarre tour would take them Friday to Jacksonville, Ala. Mrs. Doss' second husband, Frank Harelson, died there in 1949.

Mrs. Doss is in jail here. She earlier was charged with murder of her fifth husband, Sam Doss of Tulsa, and of her fourth husband, Richard Morton Sr., of Emporia, Kan. Arsenic also was found in their bodies.

Edmondson said Thursday arsenic can be found in the grave of a poisoning victim, regardless of the date of death.

Page said Alabama authorities have been asked to exhume Harelson's body.

A report was expected later Friday on laboratory examinations of the body of Mrs. Doss' mother.

The mother, Mrs. Louisa Holden Hazle, was exhumed with Lanning's body at Lexington at the request of Mrs. Doss' daughter, Mrs. Melvina Hedrick of Lexington.

MRS. MARY TALLEY "Take action through U.N."

JESSE RING "Bluff, then fight."

THIS SHOULD BE INTERESTING TO THE BUSY BUSINESS MAN

MARGATE, England — UP — Tavernkeeper Alfred Sparrowhawk, 44, was about to throw a stack of mailed "advertisements" into the wastebasket when he decided to glance through them.

Among them was a check for $28,000 — his winnings in a football pool.

McCarthy Is Still Out After Reds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 — UP — Republican unity, the Democrats, and the prestige of the Senate.

Two Democratic leaders said privately the vote will give McCarthy a big shove toward political eclipse although it leaves his powers and rights as a senator entirely intact. But Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.), a censure committee member, said he isn't at all sure about this.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), the man who kicked off the censure controversy, said he expects McCarthy to show "an improvement."

Demos Ared Solid The Democrats voted solidly for McCarthy's rebuke in the final vote, but the Republicans split straight down the middle with 22 voting for and 22 against. It was a yawning chasm — with Pro-

Solon Takes Back Remark

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 — UP — Sen. Ralph Flanders of Vermont apologized to the Senate and to Sen. Joseph McCarthy Thursday for comparing the Wisconsin Republican to a "Hitler."

But an effort by Flanders to erase the remark from the Senate's official journal was blocked by Republican Sen. Herman Welker of Idaho.

Cop Killers Sought In New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Dec. 3 — UP — One of the biggest man-hunts in the history of this southwestern city shifted to Ileta Pueblo, 15 miles south of here, Thursday night, after authorities received a tip that the two men wanted for the slaying of a policeman early Tuesday were in the area.

One of the fugitives, Lawrence J. Snow, was reported to have tried to buy food at a trading post at the Pueblo, a community of some 300 Indians, late Thursday. James Isted, 24, California parole violator, also is believed in the area of the company of Snow.

Isted and James Spahr, 22, also a California parole violator, shot and killed patrolman Frank Sjolander, 27, and critically wounded patrolman Eugene Casey in an early morning gun battle Tuesday in front of a local apartment house. Spahr was killed in the exchange of gunfire.

Jailed Americans Are Called Spies

LONDON, Dec. 3 — UP — The official Communist New China News agency predicted Friday that Red China will "disregard" United States efforts to free the 13 Americans jailed in China on espionage charges.

The agency dispatch, monitored here, quoted Wang Tieh Yai, identified as a professor of international law at the University of Peiping.

It said Wang had written an opinion on the American demand for the prisoners' release, on the basis of his knowledge of international law and the Korean armistice agreement, for the newspaper Kwangming Daily.

"Spies are entirely different from prisoners of war," Wang was quoted as saying.

"Spies cannot be included as prisoners of war who should be released or repatriated under the provisions of the Korean armistice agreement."

The Communist news agency said Wang predicted that the Chinese people will stand firmly on what he called their rights under international law and "rightly disregard the futile denials of the U. S. authorities in their efforts to cover their guilt."

Mr. Eisenhower declared late Thursday that the UN cannot "retain its self-respect" if it fails to accept its responsibility for these men who fell into the hands of the Communists while serving under the organization's banner in Korea.

He called his National Security Council into session for the second time this week and scheduled a meeting of his cabinet immediately afterward. Dulles arranged to fly to New York as soon as the meetings were over to confer with America's chief delegate to the UN, Henry Cabot Lodge.

Before Dulles' departure, diplomatic sources in New Delhi disclosed India had asked the Red Chinese government to release the imprisoned Americans but that the Peiping regime refused.

Pampa, Borger May Combine Ball Clubs

Plans for keeping baseball in Pampa got underway this morning when a group of local businessmen met with Doug Mills, owner of the Oiler franchise, in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

The initial plan calling for Pampa and Borger to form a corporation to operate as one ball club was the main topic of discussion.

Dam Election Decision Due December 13

Mayor Tom Rose and the Pampa City Commission will decide between now and Dec. 13 what they will instruct Lynn Boyd and B. D. Robison, Pampa's two directors on the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, to do in the matter of the proposed water contract election.

Meet In Plainview The next meeting of the authority's board of directors is Plainview Dec. 13, and the idea is to have the wishes of the 11 Panhandle-Plains communities in the authority presented at that time.

Robison pointed out this morning. The water contract election would be the first of two elections pertaining to the proposed dam-and-reservoir project near Sanford, Robison said. The second would be the actual vote on the bonds for the $73,000,000 project.

Project Discussed A six-man team representing the authority was in Pampa Thursday for a three-hour discussion session with Pampa city officials and interested citizens. All phases of the proposed project were dealt with.

His widow is now Mrs. Mary M. Hubbard of Fort Worth, Tex.

Playing Child Killed In Street

TYLER, Tex., Dec. 3 — UP — Police hunted Friday for a hit-and-run driver who, they said, may not know he killed a three-year-old boy.

The boy was Lewis Ball, who was killed Thursday as he played in a street under a large piece of brown wrapping paper. Officers believed the child was playing under the paper and the motorist drove over it without realizing it was there.

The death was Tyler's ninth traffic fatality of the year, compared with two at this time in 1953.

Winnie Slip Is Labor Bait

LONDON, Dec. 3 — UP — Labor members of parliament persuaded a reluctant Clement Attlee Friday to press Prime Minister Winston Churchill for more details of his 1945 order to rearm the defeated Germans if necessary to stop Russia.

Attlee, who used Japanese troops and artillery to quell a rebel uprising in Indonesia when he was labor prime minister in late 1945, was satisfied with what he called Churchill's "sincere apology" in the House of Commons on Tuesday.

But the tumult and shouting refused to die and the Laborites felt the issue was one of the strongest talking points for a new general election in which they hope to unseat the conservative party government.

The Laborite Daily Herald and the Communist Daily Worker maintained their editorial offensive against the 80-year-old prime minister although the Daily Mirror dropped its attack. The Mirror Thursday had demanded Churchill resign.

The arch-conservative tabloid Daily Sketch struck back at the press criticism of Churchill and said, "It's hitting viciously below the belt to pretend grave concern about Russian reactions when the real concern is to use any means and methods to bring the prime minister down."

The trouble for Churchill began last week when he said in a speech he had ordered Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery to stack the rifles of surrendering German soldiers or they could be issued back to the Germans to halt a Soviet advance into West Europe if necessary.

Adult Group Schedules Member Drive

A series of six programs to explain the possible scope of the adult education program are planned for the new Lovett Memorial Library shortly after its expected opening in late January.
Nine directors met Thursday with John Gregory, executive associate in the West Texas adult education area, to consider some of the fields which would generate interest among the public.

Dr. Ray Hampton, Pampa adult education president, made recommendations that four programs be considered with two additional programs to be added at a meeting sometime this month.

The library sessions, Hampton said, would present a basic film on the conduct of the discussion groups with possible films or audiovisual aids suggesting some of the topics which might be discussed.

The tentative list of topics under consideration for the six-nightly sessions at the new library is expected to include world affairs, Spanish, great men and great issues, and you and your community. The board is open to suggestions as to what other topics should be added.

The progress of the adult education program in neighboring West Texas towns was discussed by Gregory, who described methods, aids and courses successfully used by Pampa's neighbors. Gregory said he felt sure that in conjunction with the contemplated great men program, films on Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, Hamilton and others would be available to Pampa from the extensive film library maintained by the West Texas area.

Others attending the meeting were Mrs. Carleton Nance, Bob Olson, John Bradley, Walter Stein, Mrs. J. L. Bain, Mrs. Lillian Snow, Mrs. Dorothy Statton, Jim Lacy, and G. F. Branson.

Hangar Work Is Hurried

The new hangar at Perry LeFors Field may be finished by Christmas time, more than a month before its scheduled completion date.
M. W. Alford, airport manager, today said about three-fourths of the concrete had been poured and that the steel would go up next. There has been talk, he said, of two erection crews being used to speed construction. If two are used, it should be done by Christmas, Alford pointed out. The two crews are expected to be "loose" for the job about Dec. 10. Completion date is Feb. 1.
The structure will be rectangular, measuring 120 feet by 112 feet with walls 22 feet high. It will be made of galvanized iron, will have a concrete floor and doors opening at each "short" end. There will also be an adjacent shop building, 30 feet by 60 feet.

Damages Sought In Explosion

The widow of a man who died of injuries suffered in the June 23 Cities Service Gas Co. explosion has filed a suit in 31st District Court for recovery of damages to her destroyed automobile.
Mrs. Essie Mae Walters, widow of Kenneth Walters, Pampa High School teacher, is asking $1,200 from Cities Service, according to the suit.
The suit is at least the third that has been filed in 31st District Court on an auto damaged or destroyed in the explosion. From 12 to 15 cars were reported damaged or destroyed at the time.
The Walters car, like most of the others, was parked in the plant parking lot when the explosion came. In the suit, Mrs. Walters charges the explosion "would not have occurred in the course of ordinary things if Cities Service Gas Co. . . had used proper care."

McCARTHY

senhower Republicans roughly on one side and the old Taft wing on the other—and it runs deeper than the McCarthy issue alone.
Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), Senate GOP whip, admitted "deep feelings" were stirred up on both sides but expressed hope they will heal quickly. Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson (Mich.), Karl E. Mundt (S.D.), and Wallace F. Bennett (Utah) took the same position. But privately some Republicans expressed doubt the breach can ever be mended.
Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) predicted that some Republicans will unleash violent attacks on the Democrats because they went down the line for McCarthy's reprimand. McCarthy expressed "disappointment" at this unanimity.
McCarthy's friends claimed a partial victory because the final resolution "condemned" rather than "censured" McCarthy as earlier drafts had proposed.
But McCarthy apparently felt it was a distinction without a difference. He referred to the action as a "censure" and quipped that in any case it could hardly be called a "vote of confidence."

More Uranium Dug In Texas

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Dec. 3—UP—Officials of Texas United Uranium Inc. reported Friday they had extracted more than 10 tons of uranium ore from eight shafts on the Dorbrant ranch in Burnet county.

There was a possibility they would ask Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to intervene personally with Peiping.

Cops Believe 3-State Vice Ring Found

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3—UP—At least nine persons appeared to be involved in a three-state vice ring that operated a school for young prostitutes in Arkansas, police said Friday.
One man, Ambrose Billy Peltier, was arrested Thursday on federal white slave charges. He pleaded innocent and was held for a preliminary hearing next Monday.
"We believe they are just getting started and well organized, and we can nip it in the bud," said detective Bill Mead.
Mead and another member of the Oklahoma City vice squad, Jim Reading, said at least two other men and six women were members of the ring, which operated between Oklahoma City, Fort Smith, Ark., and Wichita, Kan.
Mead and Reading said the ring took its "recruits" to Fort Smith, where they went to "school" under the tutelage of veteran prostitutes.

Doctor's Kin Testifies

CLEVELAND, Dec. 3—UP—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's brother Stephen goes back on the witness stand Friday to bolster point-by-point the defense contention that Dr. Sam was railroaded to jail and pressured to trial for a murder he did not commit.
The defense already has suggested to the seven-man, five woman jury that the case against Dr. Sam was formed from distorted and altered evidence, that investigators decided Dr. Sam was guilty of murdering his wife and then set out to prove it.
Dr. Stephen Sheppard spent a full day on the witness stand Thursday drawing a picture of authorities who became suspicious of Dr. Sam only a few hours after the murder.

The Christmas Story

Retold in the words of the Holy Bible
by Norman Vincent Peale
Illustrated by Valenti Angelo

Joseph and Mary go to Bethlehem

AND Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David); to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

New York To London Trip Would Take Hour By Rocket

CHICAGO, Dec. 3—UP—A rocket airplane can be built within 10 to 15 years that will take passengers from New York to London in one hour and 15 minutes, a former German rocket expert has predicted.

Dr. Walter R. Dornberger of the Bell Aircraft Corp. said Wednesday night such a rocket, carrying 20 passengers, would be capable of flying at 13,000 miles per hour and could land at airports in operation today.

"But it would only take a maximum speed of 8,300 MPH to fly from New York to London in 75 minutes," he said.

A rocket with a top speed of 11,750 MPH could fly from San Francisco to Sydney, Australia, a distance of 10,200 miles, in an hour and a half.

Dornberger, who helped develop German rockets during World War II, said the "basic know-how" already has been developed for a rocket airplane. One could be built within 10 to 15 years if sufficient money was available, he said.

Dornberger was wartime commander of the V-1 and V-2 rocket development centers in Germany and is now employed by the Bell Aircraft Co. in Buffalo, N. Y.

He told his audience at the Illinois Institute of Technology that the 20-passenger airplane would be carried piggy-back on a "booster" rocket.

The booster would take the airplane up to 80,000 feet, where the passenger-carrying coach would be cut loose and would proceed under its own power to 150,000 feet, he said.

Dornberger said the two-stage airplane would be 90 feet in overall length and weigh 600,000 pounds when fully fueled. The booster rocket would also be piloted and could return to the starting base.

Santa's Neighbors Due 'Goodie Drop'

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 3—UP—Operation Santa Claus gets under way this week to drop presents, Christmas trees and plum puddings to men who must spend the holiday where Santa comes from—a few hundred miles from the North Pole.

Two RCAF aircraft will make perilous flights over 10,000 miles of wasteland and icecap to bring Christmas to 19 lonely Arctic weather outposts where Canadian and American meteorologists are posted for a year's service.

The planes leave Dorval, Que., Friday and Saturday on the first leg. Then they will wing to the weather stations, several only about 400 miles from the pole around Dec. 9 to coincide with the full moon. The Arctic is now in its constant winter night and it would be difficult to spot the tiny stations.

The planes will descend to around 500 feet, often under the crest of surrounding mountains, to drop the parachute bundles. Lights are tied to the bundles so those on the ground can find them in the blackness.

More than 11,000 pounds of gifts, mail, fresh fruits and food delicacies will be dropped.

Each station will get a Christmas tree, tightly wrapped and decorated with unbreakable span-gles.

Americans are stationed at four of the weather posts. There is tight security about the operation of the outposts but it is known there are usually less than a dozen men at each station.

The Americans have a 15-month contract to assure they spend a year on the station. Generally, those there now have been posted in the Arctic since spring. They are supplied four times a year—before Christmas, in the spring, in mid-summer and fall. The planes land only in the spring and fall.

The Americans include James D. McDade, Union, S.C.; James L. Kitzinger, South Milwaukee, Wis.; James E. Bellemare, Bennington, Vt.; Gerald P. O'Donnell, Des Plaines, Ill., and Lester Snyder, Los Angeles.

DESPITE THE NUMBER of stories on how to be more beautiful, I wonder how much time we spend trying to achieve this effect — just how many hours we spend on grooming? For most of us, I imagine, it's a little here and a little there, instead of several hours at one stretch. The UP has come up with an interesting interview with a leading beauty authority on the subject.

Only two-thirds of the American women are willing to work hard to be beautiful, a renowned authority says.

The rest may make frequent investments in self improvement courses and beauty products, but they neglect the daily upkeep.

These are harsh words, but they come from one of the most successful businesswomen in the world, who has made beauty her career and frankness a famous characteristic.

"Women waste their money if they don't follow up special beauty treatments with daily care," Elizabeth Arden said. "It takes a stick-to-it quality to be beautiful. I would say that only two thirds of the American women are willing to work hard at it."

Miss Arden was interviewed in her New York office, a narrow, green-painted cubicle startlingly unlike the carpeted elegance visitors expect to find. One wall was covered with photographs of race horses. The opposite wall was lined with sedate flower prints, and the desk was littered with lipstick tubes, new cosmetic samples and stacks of business documents.

"I'm not here very much, so I've just never bothered to fix up my office," Miss Arden explained. "It is much better to look natural, whatever you do," Miss Arden said discussing the progress women have made in recent years in retaining youthful faces and figures.

"But you must spend some time on yourself each day. Some women think if they keep their bodies slender, that's enough. It isn't."

At an age generally estimated past 70 years, Miss Arden is an excellent example of her teaching. She looks at least 20 years younger.

Her formula, she says, is 10 minutes of exercise each morning, 15 minutes devoted to her face each morning, including applying makeup, and removing makeup and applying proper creams each night before retiring.

"And I've learned how to relax," she added. "I average only about six hours sleep each night. But I have learned to drop off to sleep when I can during the day, even if it's only for 10 minutes in the car."

WONDERING WHAT TO DO about your purse at social gatherings? Where do you place it when you've a plate in your lap? Many such questions arise in our minds nearly every time we go out. Here is an article that may help clear up some of them.

"One of the more vexing problems that faces a woman who wants to be correct and still be reasonable is the question of what to do with the handbag. It seems to be eternally in the way, bumping into things, being forgotten, stumbled on and kicked about."

The old taboo still holds — don't put your handbag on the dining table. To avoid a lot of problems when dining out, accessorize in advance with a small envelope bag that will rest quietly in the lap, with gloves inside or through the handle.

"If you go from work or shopping to dinner or luncheon and still have a handbag with you, put it on the floor, under your chair. Leave it there. Don't fuss or dig in it during the meal."

Central Baptist SS Class Holds Party

The Bethany Class, Central Baptist Church, met for installation of officers and a social period recently in the home of Mrs. Ralph Prock.

Following the ceremony, games were played and secret pals revealed. Refreshments were also served.

Attending were Meses. E. M. Clark, J. F. Conner, T. V. Parks, R. L. Higginbotham, Dolan Williams, E. L. Waters, J. C. Flowers, Clyde Morris, Roy Guthrie, Lloyd Summers, Robert E. Warren Jr., B. Conner, Wayne Cobb, Cecil Corrig, Gene Gates, Henry Holtman, T. F. Snow.

White Deer HD Club Plans For Christmas

WHITE DEER — (Special) — The Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jay Phillips, with Mrs. L. A. Puckett presiding. Miss Charlotte Tompkins, county HD agent, presented a demonstration on making custard pies.

During the business session, plans were made for the Christmas luncheon to be held Dec. 16, in the home of Mrs. Jay Phillips. Other plans for Christmas were made.

Those attending were Meses. L. A. Puckett, Tommy Townsend, B. O. Bertrand, Dale Burch, Joe Wheeler, Jay Phillips, and Miss Tompkins.

Star of Peace

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. EDWIN L. HALL, Pastor
St. Paul Methodist Church
Pampa, Texas

FINDING THE LOST STAR

"And when they saw the star they rejoiced with exceeding great joy." — Matthew 2:10.

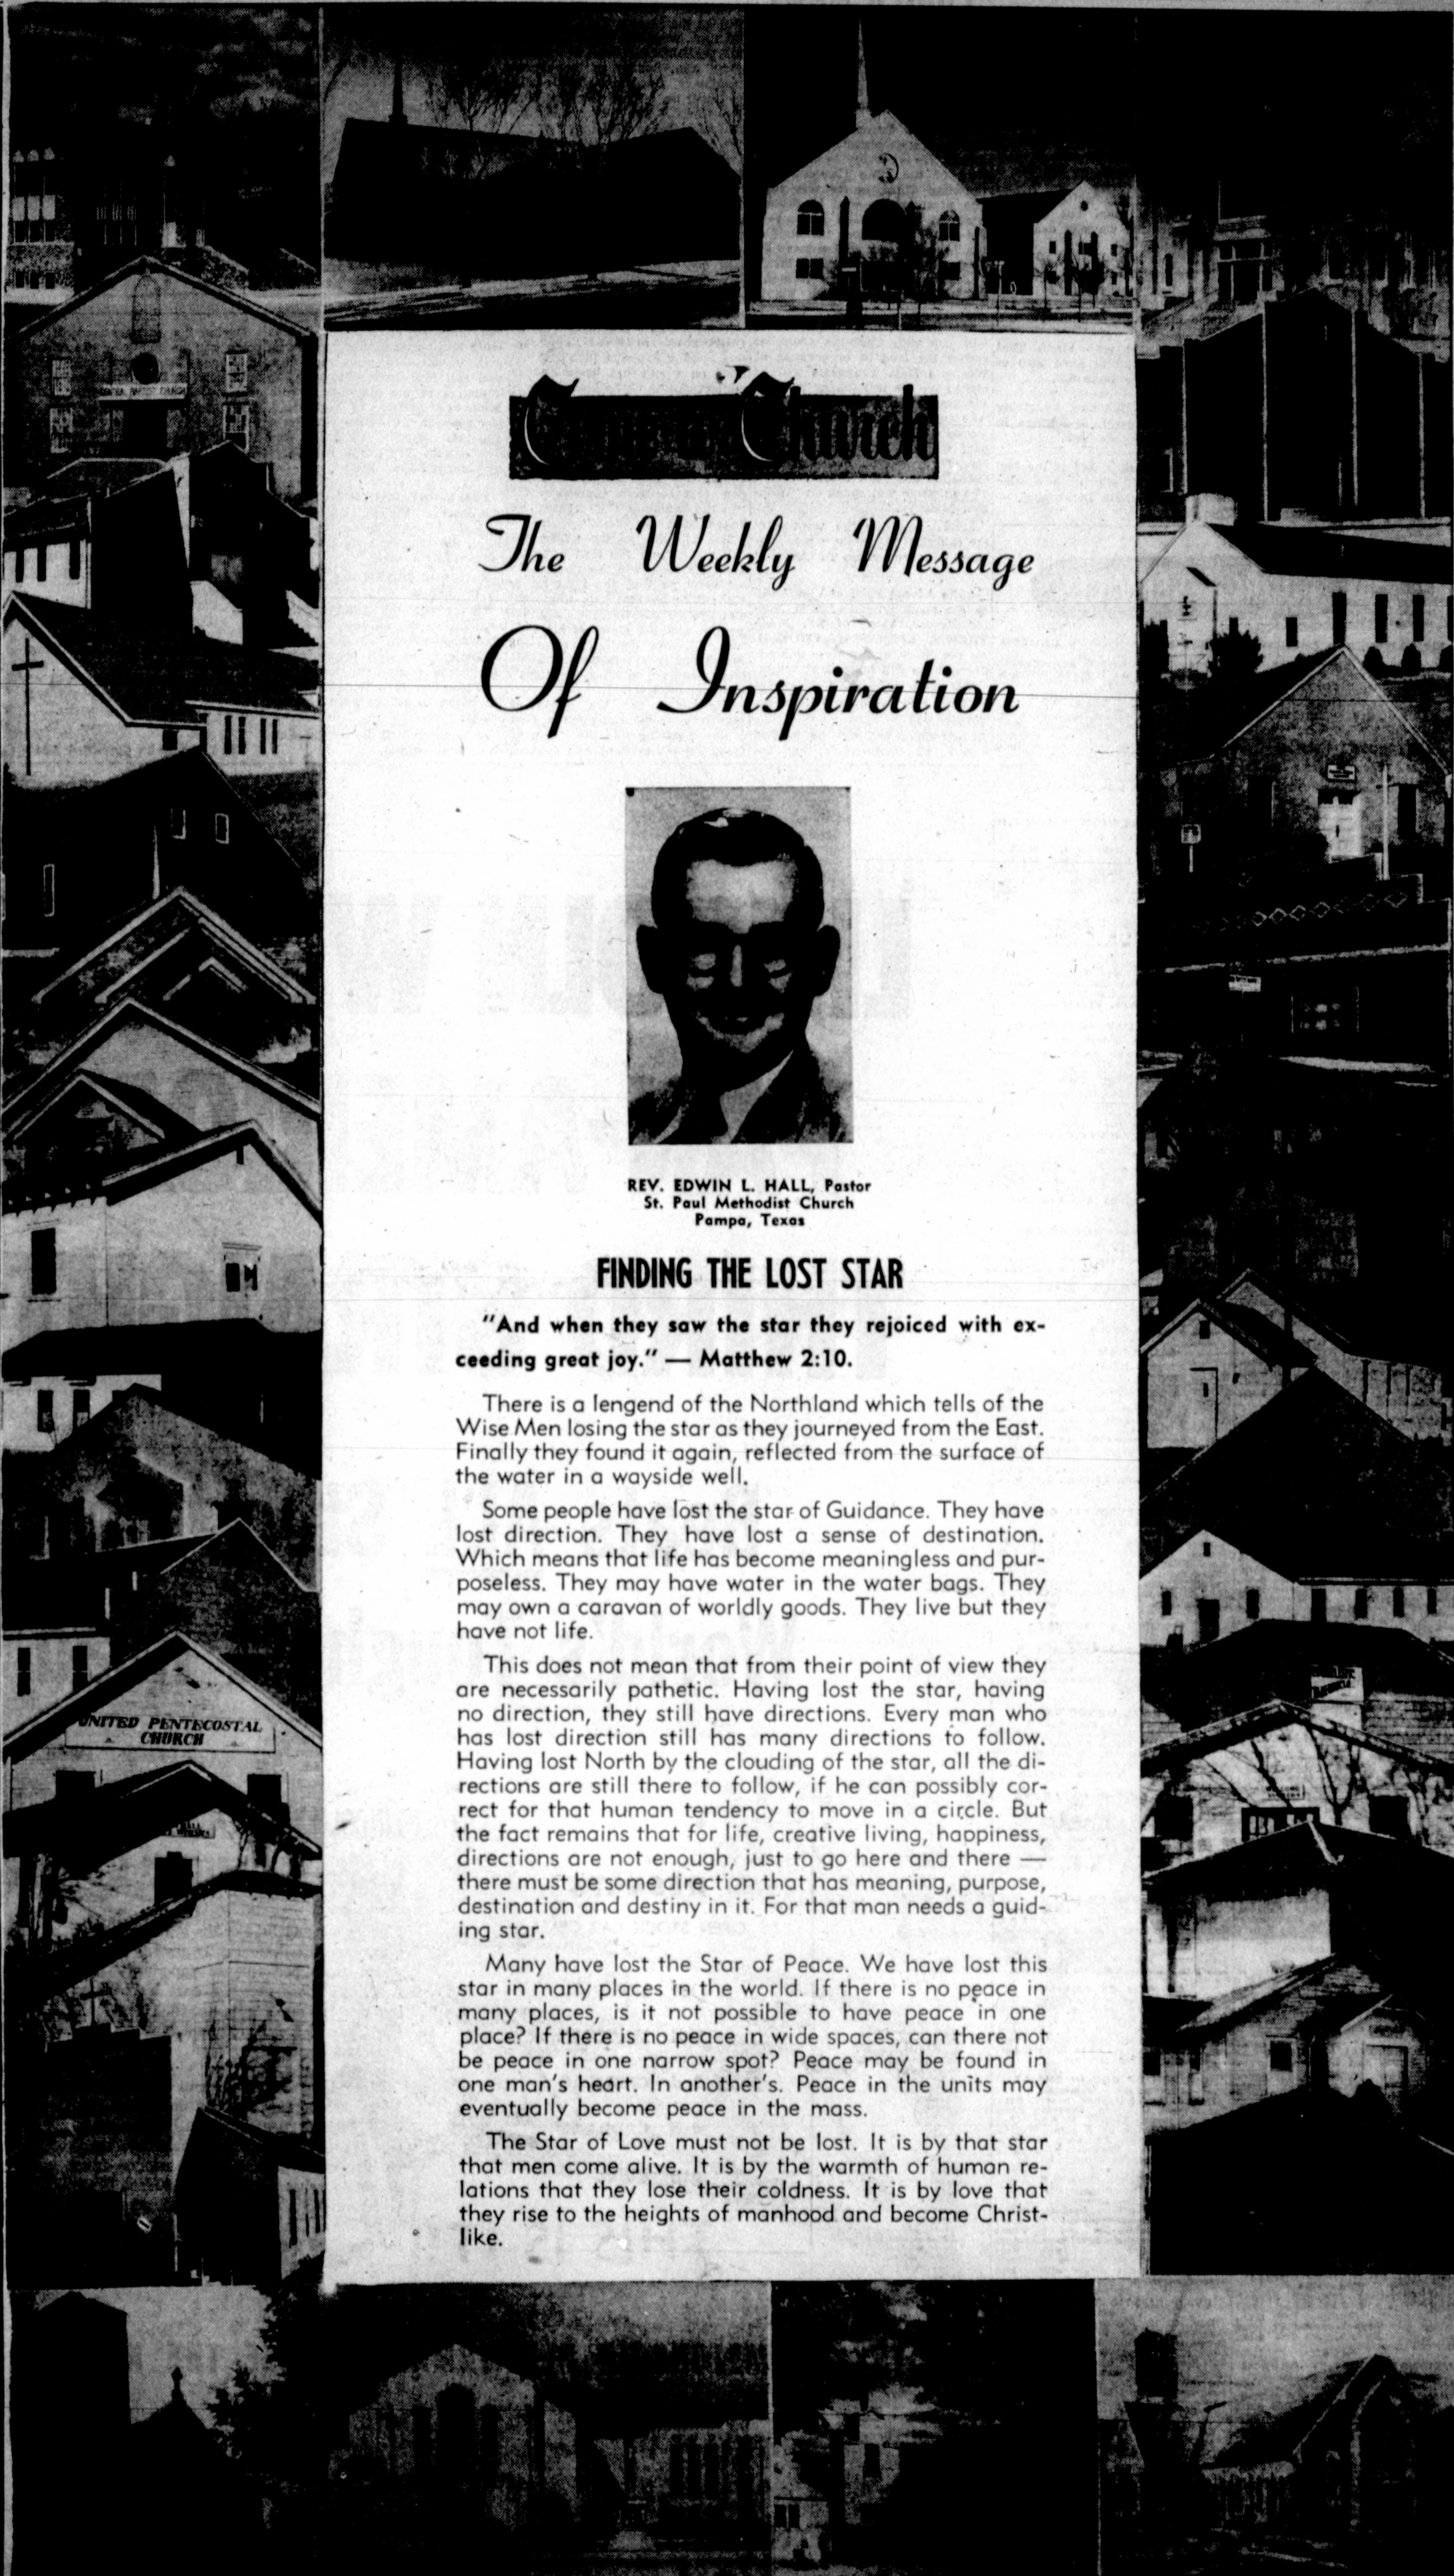

There is a legend of the Northland which tells of the Wise Men losing the star as they journeyed from the East. Finally they found it again, reflected from the surface of the water in a wayside well.

Some people have lost the star of Guidance. They have lost direction. They have lost a sense of destination. Which means that life has become meaningless and purposeless. They may have water in the water bags. They may own a caravan of worldly goods. They live but they have not life.

This does not mean that from their point of view they are necessarily pathetic. Having lost the star, having no direction, they still have directions. Every man who has lost direction still has many directions to follow. Having lost North by the clouding of the star, all the directions are still there to follow, if he can possibly correct for that human tendency to move in a circle. But the fact remains that for life, creative living, happiness, directions are not enough, just to go here and there — there must be some direction that has meaning, purpose, destination and destiny in it. For that man needs a guiding star.

Many have lost the Star of Peace. We have lost this star in many places in the world. If there is no peace in many places, is it not possible to have peace in one place? If there is no peace in wide spaces, can there not be peace in one narrow spot? Peace may be found in one man's heart. In another's. Peace in the units may eventually become peace in the mass.

The Star of Love must not be lost. It is by that star that men come alive. It is by the warmth of human relations that they lose their coldness. It is by love that they rise to the heights of manhood and become Christ-like.

Church News

The men's fellowship, FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Officers for the new year will be elected and a program is planned.

Rev. Dick Crews has been attending a state planning retreat at Athens. He is serving as vice-president of the state Convention of Christian Churches for this year. The meeting, attended by district workers trustees and officers of the State Convention, the staff of the Texas Christian Missionary Society, officers of Christian Men's Fellowship and Christian Women's Fellowship, was to close Thursday.

This Sunday, the Pampa church will join with Christian Churches across the land in observance of Woman's Day. Emphasis will be placed on the missionary work of the church, and the women will take an active part in the morning worship service. Women to take part will be Mrs. Jerry Senise, Mrs. H. J. Pickett, Mrs. Laura B. Cornelius and Mrs. Morris Eno. The minister will speak on "Woman's Ministry."

Sunday evening the women of the church will present a play, entitled "Six Women Go To Church."

"The Advent Point of View" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Porter Brooks, vicar of ST. MATTHEW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, at the 11 a.m. service Sunday.

The Bible study has been changed from 8:15 a. m. to 8:15 p. m. Wednesdays.

Communion will still be held at 8:30 a. m. Wednesdays, but the lesson-sermon to be read in CHRISTIAN SCIENCE churches this Sunday explains that creation rests on a spiritual basis and is subject only to God's law, which is always good and eternal; and that the belief that life is dependent upon matter is a false concept of creation and existence. The subject of the lesson-sermon is "God the Only Cause and Creator." The golden text is from Genesis (1:3): "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

The following passages from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook will be read: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. . . For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations" (Psalms 100:3, 5).

"Searching for the origin of man, who is the reflection of God is like inquiring into the origin of God, the self-existent and eternal."

7:30 a. m. service has been canceled.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY CHARLES DICKENS

Young Scrooge used to have the time of his life at Old Fezziwig's Christmas parties. No one was jollier than Scrooge, none danced more with Fezziwig's six pretty daughters.

And never was there such music as used to come from Fezziwig's well-fueled fiddler!

High point of the evening was when the fiddle struck up "Sir Roger de Coverley" and Mr. Fezziwig took the floor with Mrs. Fezziwig.

LINCOLN TAKES FIRST AND SECOND PLACES IN OPEN STOCK CAR CLASS—OUTPERFORMS ALL COMPETITION IN 1,908-MILE RUN!

Lincoln wins again! For the third consecutive year, Lincolns dramatically proved beyond doubt their performance superiority over America's most powerful cars by winning both first and second places in the Open Stock Car Class of the fifth annual Mexican Pan-American Race.

More than 30 cars began the tortuous 1,908-mile border-to-border endurance race over Mexico's rugged terrain. Driving conditions ranged from twisting mountain roads to high-speed plateau straightaways—from near sea-level to more than 10,000 feet. When the winning Lincolns streaked across the finish line at Ciudad Juarez, they had written, for the third time, a spectacular new record of superior stamina, power and durability—the impartial evidence by which Lincoln has been judged the most roadworthy American motor car of all time.

And this world-acclaimed performance can be yours, in even finer measure, in a 1955 Lincoln. You command America's finest power combination in Lincoln's new high-performance V-8 engine teamed with Turbo-Drive, the smoothest, most responsive transmission ever engineered into a modern motor car. Improved ball-joint front suspension provides even greater ease of handling and steering control. And Lincoln's incomparable new beauty creates a brilliant complement to this advanced edition of magnificent driving.

Women In The Church

"No Room at the Inn," the traditional story of events preceding the birth of Christ at Christmas, will be told over the entire American Broadcasting Company's network on Sunday, Dec. 19, from 5:30 to 6 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. This will be the feature of that Sunday's popular "The Greatest Story Ever Told." "The Greatest Story" is said to be the most popular religious program ever placed on the air. It has won many professional honors over a period of years.

A "Festival of Arts," focusing attention upon the wider use of the creative arts — drama, literature, architecture and liturgy — in the worship of the Christian church is being planned by a committee of the Metropolitan Church Federation of St. Louis, Mo., on April 17, 18 and 19. A committee headed by Mrs. Eugene Meyer is asking churches to produce a number of religious dramas for the Festival of Arts. They will be presented in St. Louis' Empress Theater, and a panel of judges will award "votives" for the best play, the best setting, the best role, etc. A display of religious art will also be a feature of the Festival.

The largest percentage of women in any institution of higher learning in Japan is in the International Christian University, where there are 104 women in the student body of 354. There are 80 faculty members, 20 of whom are non-Japanese. This interdenominational Christian school, located near Tokyo, was dedicated in 1952.

Dr. David M. Fulcomer, of Iowa State College, at Ames, has told the department of family life of the National Council of Churches, "Young people are not helped sufficiently to develop their emotional lives in line with growing intellects and technical knowledge. Training an individual's intellect will not determine his behavior." As a step towards meeting the need, he advised a four-point program, including more school and college courses to develop the ideas on family living; more student centered guidance programs; and the use of more consultants by schools, churches and social agencies. Many phases of college life, he said, should be geared to preparation for Christian marriage, including dating, going steady and the engagement period.

HONOLULU, Dec. 3 —UP— A 27-year-old merchant Marine radioman, stricken with appendicitis in mid-Pacific, was brought to Tripler Army hospital by a Coast Guard plane Wednesday, ending a long-range rescue operation that began last Sunday. The victim, radioman David G. Calkins of Youngstown, Ohio, was reported in "fair" condition and was expected to undergo surgery.

day he would give the Priest case to a grand jury either Tuesday or Thursday. He said witnesses would include Jeannette's mother, Mrs. Nadine Earnest, and Deputy Sheriff E. N. Buis and Ed Max. But Biddle said he thought there was only a slight chance Priest might be tried, even if indicted, because both the Missouri murder and federal kidnap charges carry possible death sentences, while the maximum penalty for kidnaping in Texas is 25 years in prison.

U. S. Attorney Heard Floore, who filed the federal charge, said he would bring the case before a federal grand jury only in the event that Priest does not get the death penalty in Missouri.

Priest has confessed the kidnap and murder. He said he killed the girl because he loved her so much he couldn't bear the thought of giving her up.

State Allocates $23 Million For Road Improvement Work

AUSTIN, Dec. 3 —UP— A $23 million allocation for rehabilitation and improvement work on the state highway system and farm-to-market roads was announced Thursday by the Texas Highway Department.

The allocation from state highway funds was made "for the sole purpose of the protection of the investment that the people of Texas have in the state road system at the present time," Highway Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton Jr. said.

State highway engineer Dewitt C. Greer said work under the improvement program will be carried out during the calendar year 1955, with most of it being done next spring.

Greer said the program will cover 4,036 miles of all types of work on the state's road system. Work will be done on some 2,585 miles of state highways and 1,451 miles of farm-to-market roads. The program includes 619 individual projects in 196 of Texas' 254 counties.

Thornton said that until additional funds are made available to the State Highway Department for modernization of the state's road system, it will be necessary to make such allocations "to hold the system of roads together for the benefit of the traveling public until complete modernization could be effected."

A major portion of the funds will go toward widening, reconstruction and resurfacing, and seal coat and shoulder work.

The first plot of ground for Arlington, Va., was appropriated by the Government June 15, 1864.

National RC Asks $4,900 Share

The national office of the American Red Cross has asked $4,900 as their slice of the annual budget of the Pampa chapter, according to Warren Hasse, fund chairman.

National goal is $85,000,000 of which $46,800,000 will remain with the local chapters. National funds are used, Hasse pointed out to carry on disaster relief service in the home, and aid members of the armed forces and international relief.

The national asking which is slightly less than that of 1954 combined with the local budget of $3,100 will exceed the $9,500 allocation of the United Fund by $590. Hasse said the deficit it is hoped will be made up by donations.

The chemical industry is this nation's biggest salt customer, using about 68 per cent of the 20,000,000 tons produced annually. Smallest consumer — people. We eat only 3 per cent of the output.

Rogers Sees Tariff Problem As Harbor For World Ills

Congressman Walter Rogers points out in his weekly newsletter that a proper solution of the tariff problem throughout the world could mean the prevention of further hostilities between nations.

President Eisenhower had set up a commission headed by Clarence Randall to investigate U. S. tariff structures, but any presidential request, according to Rogers, will be met with the stern opposition "of all advocates of high tariffs, as well as many of the labor organizations."

Rogers feels the White House will recommend to the forthcoming 84th Congress a renewal of the request to admit Hawaii as a state, a possible request for pushing the debt ceiling higher, additional appropriations for the Air Force, further expansion of social security, and expanded departmental re-organization powers.

"If the President can retain the support of his party on his proposals, he may see legislation passed that he has advocated and recommended, but which many top members of his own party never expected to be passed and didn't want to be passed, such as the so-called health re-insurance program, a stepped-up public housing program . . ."

More than 400,000 beds are available for tourists in Berlin hotels, inns and boarding houses, 11 per cent more than in 1953.

Phillips Decision

People in the gas-producing area of the Top o' Texas have shown keen interest in the Phillips case in which, as the result of the Supreme Court decision, the Federal Power Commission has acted to control the price of natural gas in the field. Very likely, many consumers of this widely used fuel think that development of a salutary one, which will work in their interest. But the view is vigorously disputed by many experts, who are convinced that in the interest of both consumer and producer Congress should eliminate FPC regulatory authority over the price the gas may be sold at the well-head.

This was strongly advocated by L. F. McCullum, President of the Continental Oil Company, in a recent speech. In his view, "The oil and gas industry literally has its back to the wall in a life-and-death struggle." Further, "the public is largely unaware of how their future supplies of natural gas are in jeopardy." To implement his argument, Mr. McCullum asked and answered three basic questions. The questions are: (1) Are the rates for gas in the field so high that the consumer needs protection by a Federal agency? (2) Will Federal controls achieve the desired end of assuring consumers of a continuing adequate supply of natural gas at reasonable prices? (3) Are regulations of this nature in the public interest and compatible with our American way of life?

Mr. McCullum answered the first question with an unqualified No, and then told some of the economic facts of life as they apply to natural gas at the well. He stated, "The field price for the gas bears about the same relationship to the consumers' price as does the cost of water to the price of a cake of ice." The Supreme Court itself has said that the well-head price "is but a small fraction of the price paid by domestic consumers..." The major items of cost are transmission and distribution, and these elements are already under the jurisdiction of the FPC and state regulatory bodies. If nothing at all was charged for the gas in the field, the average residential consumer would see his bill reduced by less than 10 per cent. Mr. McCullum also submitted figures to show that, by comparison with other fuels, natural gas in the field "is certainly not over-priced."

To the second question, his answer was also an unqualified No. His reasons are that gas in the field is now sold competitively, prices are established by the law of supply and demand, and government efforts to artificially force prices down would ultimately result in inadequate supplies, "because the incentive to find and develop new sources is dependent upon receiving a fair price for the product." Also, he added, "it would cause such new supplies as were found to be diverted to sale within the state outside of FPC jurisdiction. Thus, the economies of other areas could suffer dislocations of 'terrifying proportions.'"

Finally, Mr. McCullum answered the third question with another No. Production of natural gas, he stated, is a highly competitive business with "none of the characteristics of a public utility." The prices of the fuels with which it competes are not regulated. To quote him again, "The present attempt to regulate natural gas is a policy which is not applied to any other fuel energy source, and which represents a radical departure from the free enterprise system that has made this country what it is today — the stronghold of the free world."

THE NATION'S PRESS

A NEW TORPEDO INTO U. S. EDUCATION (Monroe (La.) World)

The American educational system has recently taken another beating in the appointment of one James Bradshaw Mintener as "Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare" which is Oveta Hobby's outfit, the first great Socialist department, (out-fight socialist at that), in the United States government.

It is this department which has bragged (through several of its leaders) that is the "Chief channel of 'UNESCO' into U. S. schools." If the brag can be made to stick, if it is true, then Mrs. Hobby's outfit should be immediately disbanded or overhauled as "UNESCO" is a dangerous threat to the American educational system and represents an alien philosophy which has not the slightest place in the schools across the land.

So, in Mintener, "UNESCO" has a new friend at court.

It is interesting to note that Mrs. Hobby is an advocate of "world government," who sits with founding father, Milton Eisenhower on the National Advisory Council of the "Atlantic Union Committee" an organization hoping to federate this nation with the British, Canadians and several other nations.

A "clean arm of health" from the United States Chamber of Commerce (which should know better). This was done even though the Senate Internal Security Committee had issued its report (the second one) declaring that Communists had been active in "UNESCO" and hinting strongly that "UNESCO" was little better than a front for Marxism.

Mintener is "honorary chairman" of the United States Committee for "United Nations Day," which is the new title given to the old retarded "National Citizens' Committee for United Nations Day." On this, he serves with many "U. N." notables such as the dowager empress of that organization, the great Mahatma, Eleanor Roosevelt. Also on this committee are Orest Bowles and Paul Hoffman, both of whom were former "UNESCO" commissioners.

Several more are Dorothy Canfield Fisher, UNESCO textbook writer, Palmer Hoyt of the Atlantic Union Committee and J. D. Zellerbach of the United World Federations. Mintener served as a member of the Minnesota sponsoring committee for the "Fourth National Conference of the United States National Commission for UNESCO" along with Maurice Visscher and Charles Turek.

Mrs. "Liz" Helffinger who was described by Ray Tucker as an "international fixer deluxe" was very active in support of Mintener. Liz helped one Irving Salomon conference in UNESCO's general conference in Paris as an official observer for the Ford Foundation and who wrote the official "UNESCO Report" (was also called "An Appraisal of UNESCO").

Mintener sits on the "National Advisory Board" of the "United World Federations" a curious one world organization which swirls through the colleges of the nation drumming up business for the destruction of the United States as an independent and a sovereign nation. The "World Federations" mean to do exactly what their name implies — federate the world in a tight government, removing all sovereignty from the nations within.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"Revolution—Here Or In Russia?"

I do not know anyway I can promote better jobs for everyone in a more practical way than to try to get more people to understand the functions of our government.

Dean Clarence Manion in a series of radio talks is explaining in a very clear manner why we ought to oppose the communist ideologies. I want to quote for a couple of days his Broadcast No. 3 under the heading of "Revolution—Here or in Russia?"

"Let us face the very real prospect of bloody revolution here and all over the world. From Karl Marx to Malenkov — through Lenin and Stalin — the Communists have consistently preached a d practiced internal violence. In their bloody book, violent revolution is the inevitable climax of the Communist drive to subjugate every non-Communist country one-by-one, and thus ultimately to subjugate the world. Official specifications for Communist world conquest do not call for international warfare against us or anybody else, except as a means to stimulate this intra-national violence — internal revolution, that is, in one country after another. World war two was thus a convenient means to Communist inspired revolutions in every country in Eastern Europe. These enabled the Kremlin to install Moscow trained Polish — Rumanian — Czechoslovakian — Bulgarian — Hungarian — Yugoslavian — and Chinese agents as Stalin's official jailers — each in charge of his own enslaved people."

"Guatemala was far removed from World War II battlefields, nevertheless Moscow set off violence in that country which resulted in the first all-out Communist government on the American continent. In Guatemala, and for the first time since the Communist world conquest began patriots were able to stage a successful counter-revolution, and rescue their country from the clutches of the Kremlin."

"At this moment, in every corner of the unconquered, non-Communist world, there is a Moscow-trained Communist stooge, ready to walk over the bleeding bodies of his own countrymen, grab the levers of governmental power, and add another red star to the widening Communist firmament. Whoever thinks that the United States is not included in this world-wide revolutionary pattern is disregarding the plain facts of modern history and the official published statements of the Communists themselves. When and if the Communists over-run this country, our new boss-man will not be a com-misar from the Kremlin. On the contrary, he will be an American-born, tailor-made champion of peace, democracy and liberalism."

"The most prominent figures in attendance and on the speakers' program are devoted admirers and supporters of Roosevelt-Truman political, social and economic program, which is extremely unpopular below the Mason and Dixon line. Their appearance is understandable because it was in the North — Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania — that the Democrats made their greatest gains in the November election."

"Comparatively few Southern State Executives accepted National Chairman Mitchell's original invitations. It may be an exaggeration to suggest that they are boycotting the convocation, but it is obvious that they are not too delighted with this apologetic invasion of their domain by men still regarded as 'political carpetbaggers.'"

Governor-elect Averell Harriman, for obvious reasons, has been booked as the star performer. But it does not require an elephantine memory, although they have it for certain Southern leaders — Byrd of Virginia, George and Russell of Georgia, Byrnes of South Carolina, Shivers of Texas — to recall that Harriman asked Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., to become a member of his New York cabinet. And it was young F.D.R. who headed the movement to oust Dixie's delegations from the 1952 convention."

Two other feature attractions are Governor-elect Orrville L. Freeman of Minnesota and Senator-elect Patrick V. McNamara of Michigan. As a Democrat-Farmer-Labor champion and an American Federation of Labor official, respectively, both represent elements distasteful to the South."

The South's new importance in the changing political system is reflected in the fact that the Republicans' selection of Houston as the site of a National Committee party constitutes a definite bid to that section. Once taken for granted, defying couriers of revolution and freedom."

"Expert witnesses with firsthand knowledge of this anti-Communist underground have appeared before the Internal Security Sub-Committee of the United States Senate, with authentic details of revolts, subversions and workers strikes from one end of Russia to another. The power of the Communist government to control these disturbances has progressively weakened since the death of Stalin and the liquidation of Beria as chief of the Secret Police. These Committee witnesses have testified that the successful revolution of the Russian people against their slave-master government is inevitable, but the timing of that revolution is largely up to the United States."

National Whirligig South's Importance In U. S. Political Picture Growing

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Many Democratic politicians here privately fear that today's New Orleans session for selection of a new Party Chairman and promotion of harmony may reopen wounds and revive differences between the Northern liberal and Southern conservative factions. Arranged by the Stevenson — Mitchell forces, the meeting has a New Dealish coloration.

In South Carolina, former Governor J. Strom Thurmond, a "write-in candidate," won the senatorial contest over the regular organization's nominee. Thurmond was entered in the race by Governor Eyrnes, who was an open supporter of Eisenhower in 1952. Running against Truman in 1948 as the "Dixiecrat" entry, Thurmond carried four states.

The South may be a long way off from becoming a two-party area, although it could become such in national elections, as 1948 and 1952 suggested. But it has attained the comfortable spot in which it may say with safety: "A plague on both your houses!"

Secretary Ezra Taft Benson may soon send a thank-you note to Pierre Mendes-France, but it will have nothing to do with politics or diplomacy. He hopes that newspaper pictures showing the French Premier as a hard drinker of milk will boost his campaign for increased consumption of that product.

Whether due to the foreign statesman's advertisement or to Benson's persistent efforts and example, sales of this important farm commodity are showing a definite increase, as against a normal seasonal drop in cold weather.

A London clock winder died recently in the gears of his favorite clock in the Gothic tower above Fleet Street in the British capital. "He was a quiet sort of chap," reported A. E. Oldfield, superintendent of the law courts, whose 800 clocks Tommy Manners had worked for 12 years, "and we never knew he was around. You know he was doing his job, though, because all the clocks kept time."

As I read this, it occurred to me that this quiet clock winder typified good government. I know that for a good many years now we have been told that government should be "felt" by everyone through heavy taxation—"so everyone will take more interest in good government."

But it seems to me that good government really is like Tommy Manners was — you know it is there only because the machinery of society continues to run smoothly and accurately — at least relatively so.

When government reaches so deep into the pockets of everybody that it becomes an oppressor instead of a protector, something is wrong. Government is meant to be "felt" by those who are a menace to society — not by those who are society's mainstay.

Fair Enough Hearst Biographical Movie Would Tell Of Great Courage

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The movie industry has made two biographical films of Al Jolson, who was highly regarded in the amusement trade but seems to me to have been otherwise unimportant, although he may have left an impression on our taste of culture which we are not aware of. I have heard that there is a movie in work to exalt Miss Sophie Tucker as a great American and, again, conceding that she may have art and skill discernible to her colleagues, I doubt that her contribution to the generation justifies a memorial that great.

The biographical movie may not be very good merchandise anyway. I can readily understand why it might not be. But if this type of story is a fair risk, the one I would most like to see would be a true, but not hostile, appraisal of William Randolph Hearst both as an editor and as a patriot. He was one of the good giants of his time and I write that knowing most of those facts which will bring a smirk to the features of the knowing reader.

Nevertheless, Hearst was a great man who fought with magnificent courage especially when he took swiftness of economic destruction in his futile effort to keep the United States out of the First World War, which was absolutely no business of ours. He took boycotts, his paper subsidies were threatened and the personal abuse which he endured was the worse because so much of it came from quarters where he should have been defended and heartened.

However, Hearst could dish it and when he had to take it he never whimpered but fought back the harder. His International News Service was thrown out of England because he had published a dramatic photograph of a great British battleship going down. We on the United Press, where I was serving as a cub, exulted as though this misfortune of an opponent had some personal flavor. This picture had been snapped from the deck of a passenger liner which came upon the sinking dreadnaught and Hearst used to flaunt it occasionally thereafter, taunting the British admiralty for its refusal to let the British people know the worst, although, of course, the Germans knew it.

The INS soon established a pipeline into an AP paper here in the states whence the AP report was fished and transmitted to New York. The scheme exploded when the AP planted a fake report of the sinking of the non-existent Russian battleship Phila, which was some kind of play on the name of the New York Globe. There was hell to pay for a while, but Hearst weathered the embarrassment and I can tell you that we, on the U.P., used to crib most of our Chicago and New York coverage out of the afternoon papers as fast as they came up from the street.

We all were barbarians in those days except the A.P., which was badly overladen with manpower and couldn't move fast enough to get out of its own way. The A.P. would throw in ten men where the opposition would rely on one cub and the cub often trimmed the ears of A.P.'s team.

But International News is only one phase of Hearst's journalism. He fought Communism way back in the early Twenties and many individuals who came to power under Roosevelt and Truman both in politics and in the unions were blood-red Communists in those days and were so denounced by Hearst. He realized his iniquity years before most of us who began to get uneasy early in the New Deal. It was just our fault that we didn't believe him.

He fought Tammany, in person, on the stump and in his papers, and as one who will always hold Al Smith in affection I nevertheless agree that Hearst was right in his appraisal of the dirty machine which Al represented.

Young Bill once told me that Pope told him in later years that he regretted that he had campaigned for the direct election of senators, a radical departure from the spirit of the Constitution which gave us, actually, just 96 more congressmen-at-large, serving six-year terms and in a separate house. The change brought no improvement in the quality of the Senate and Arthur J. Goldsmith, of the Waldorf Tower, by use of money in several states, has proved that the evil which the amendment was intended to cure goes on after all these years, probably worse than in the days when corporations kept lobbyists in the state capitals to buy votes for their candidates.

PHS Opens Home Slate; Vernon Tonight, Sudan Tomorrow

Cartwright Will Miss Both Games

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Hustlin' Harvesters, defending state champions and owners of a 57-game winning streak, will usher in their 1954-55 home schedule tonight with the Vernon Lions of District 1-AAA furnishing the opposition.

It will be the first of two games for the Harvesters this weekend. A potent Sudan Hornet team invades Harvester Fieldhouse tomorrow for an engagement with the Green and Gold.

The Harvesters have one game under their belts already this campaign, winning by 77-39 over Tulla Tuesday night at Tulla.

Vernon will be making its 1954-55 debut tonight when she takes on the Harvester five.

Sudan, tomorrow's Harvester foe, has played five games already and won them all, including two over members of District 1-AAA teams, Borger and Lubbock. Sudan played still a sixth game — against Texas Tech Freshmen — but it won't be counted against its season record.

The Harvesters will go into this week's games minus the services of one of its starters — Benny Cartwright, Cartwright sprained an ankle in the Tulla game Tuesday when he banged into the wall. Cartwright will definitely miss both of this week end's games.

Without Cartwright the Harvester winning streak will be in danger in the two games this week. The exact strength of Vernon isn't known but it is known that Sudan will give the Harvesters some rugged competition.

South Plains observers started a chorus last winter that Sudan would win the state Class A title this year after the Hornets bowed in last year's regional finals, 55-56, to Sundown.

Sundown went on to the state finals before losing.

Four of the night starters that played in the regional finals last year are back this season.

Pampa's Tommy Richardson Wins Heavyweight Bout

Heavyweight Tommy Richardson sent about 300 Pampa boxing fans home happy last night when he outboxed Earl Young in the most action-packed bout of the 13-fight card that pitted the Pampa Optimist Boys Club against the Borger JayCees at the Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club arena.

Richardson, fighting for the Pampa team was the aggressor most of the way but Young did a good job of counter-punching that kept Richardson from winning by a knockout.

Richardson's victory, however, came too late so far as helping his team win the duel match was concerned.

Borger walked off with an 8-5 victory.

But the fans forgot about the final score of the two teams after witnessing the Richardson-Young fight that was the final match of the night.

Richardson carried the fight in the first and third rounds at which time he staggered Young on several occasions. Young rallied in the second and gained at least an even break in this round as both slugged it out toe-to-toe throughout the round.

But in the third round, Richardson drove Young back into the ropes several times with a flurry of lefts and rights to win going away. His victory was wildly applauded by the fans.

In another feature bout, Scooter Darden of Borger won a second round TKO from Gary Wilhelm of the Pampa team. Wilhelm held his own in the first round with both getting in many good blows.

But in the second, Darden got Wilhelm in a corner, and the young Pampa fighter couldn't work himself out in time to avoid a blow from Darden that floored Wilhelm.

Wilhelm got up but Referee Johnny Campbell stopped the fight when it was apparent that Gary had had enough.

Several of the experienced fighters of the Pampa team couldn't be matched by Borger and thus were held out of last night's action.

There was one knockout recorded on last night's card, Gary Green of the Pampa team KO'd Joe Irvin of Borger in the first round of their 135-pound bout.

Pampa will return the matches at Borger Monday night.

The results:

74 pounds — Jerry Gibbs, Borger, dec. Joe Cash, Pampa.

75 pounds — Carson Watt, Borger, dec. Joe Dunn, Pampa.

78 pounds — Jerry Oliver, Pampa, dec. Durwood Williams, Borger.

85 pounds — Joseph Johnson, Borger, dec. Darrell Wagner, Pampa.

85 pounds — Larry Powell, Pampa, dec. Robert Francis, Borger.

105 pounds — Bernice Derryberry, Pampa, dec. Eddie Knapp, Borger.

113 pounds — Calvin Irwin, Borger, dec. Rabbit Ramirez, Pampa.

104 pounds — Gene Irwin, Borger, dec. Bobby Edwards, Pampa.

120 pounds — Gary Watt, Borger, dec. Charles Kimbrell, Pampa.

135 pounds — Gary Green, Pampa, knocked out Joe Irvin, Borger, 1:10 minutes of first round.

126 pounds — Carl Williams, Borger, dec. Terry Timmons, Pampa.

In Cotton Bowl Tomorrow SMU Gunning To Upset Notre Dame

DALLAS, Dec. 3 —UP— Southern Methodist University dining halls served a "potent" Irish stew Friday in the faint hope it somehow would help the Methodist cause in Saturday's nationally televised football game with Notre Dame in the sold-out Cotton Bowl.

Rain or some of Texas' celebrated heat might prove more potent weapons against the Irish — particularly rain, since two of the three SMU quarterbacks who'll be available Saturday have played a total of only 13 minutes this season and none is a celebrated passer.

But the weatherman predicted a fair sky and crisp 60-degree temperatures.

The fighting Irish team flew into a crowded and decorated Dallas 13 1-2 point favorite shortly after noon Friday aboard two chartered planes.

Coach Terry Brennan took his team immediately to the Cotton Bowl for an afternoon workout.

Dallas was jammed Friday with football fans and Christmas shoppers and some of the most colorful decorations in years — put up early to herald Saturday's game, Christmas and the forthcoming Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl spectacle — brightened downtown streets.

All but one previous game has been decided by one point or one touchdown. SMU has won one of them, 27 to 20, in 1951.

Notre Dame, fourth ranked in the nation, has been beaten only by Purdue.

SMU, runner-up in the Southwest Conference this year, has a 6-2-1 season record and has displayed some impressive football during 1954.

Nine entries in last week's final Pampa News football contest posted perfect marks.

But the winners were boiled down to three on the prediction of the SMU-TCU score which served as the tie-breaker.

Mrs. Edna Darnell, Route 3, Skellytown, topped the top prize. She predicted a 21-7 SMU win over TCU. SMU won 21-6.

M. F. Ludeman, 806 N. Frost, was second and Clayton C. Meadows, 2238 Hamilton, placed third. Ludeman predicted SMU to win 20-7 for second place honors.

Well, if you want to see some good basketball this week end, you can do so by being on hand at Harvester Fieldhouse tonight and tomorrow night.

Vernon is here tonight with Sudan following in tomorrow, Vernon could cause a little static since the Lions nearly always turn out a good basketball team.

But little is known of the Vernon team since tonight's game is her season opener.

A treat worth repeating!

McLean Battles Sundown Today

By UNITED PRESS

Scrambling for championships in Classes AAAA and AAA in Inter-scholastic League division playoffs begins Friday night, while AA and A bi-district champions play their second round.

Four games today and another four Saturday between district champions of Classes AAAA and AAA will determine semifinals among the larger schools. Eight games in Class AA and another eight in Class A between bi-district finalists who won in the first round last weekend will decide quarter-final playoff entries.

In Class AAAA, one of the better games was expected at Dallas, between Fort Worth Poly and Dallas South Oak Cliff, the latter a new high school that opened its doors just two years ago. The game is rated a toss-up.

In the other game in that class Friday night, Galveston was favored over Houston's S. F. Austin.

THE MORE WE HEAR ABOUT THE Sudan Hornets, the more nervous we get when we think about the Saturday date the Harvesters have with the South Plains team.

We picked up a couple quotes or so out of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal this week that boosts the Sudan stock and can work the ball around well." Cully said.

"They have only one big boy (Hill 6-5) but their well balance makes up for lack of height," Cully continued. "Hill is a dangerous man at the post."

You know it isn't often that a small school like Sudan (they're Class A) will ask a Class 4A school for a game but Sudan this year is an exception.

Coach Francis Smith of the Hornets asked for the game with the Harvesters which is a pretty good symbol that he believes his charges are, ready to take on the "big timers."

Well, if you want to see some good basketball this week end, you can do so by being on hand at Harvester Fieldhouse tonight and tomorrow night.

Vernon is here tonight with Sudan following in tomorrow, Vernon could cause a little static since the Lions nearly always turn out a good basketball team.

But little is known of the Vernon team since tonight's game is her season opener.

Sudan has a well-rounded team

Alabama Hires Aggie Coach

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 3 —UP— Alabama hoped for a rebirth as a grid power Friday under new head Coach J. B. (Earl) Whitworth, signed to replace the aging Harold (Red) Drew.

Whitworth, a star guard at Alabama in his collegiate days, was returned to his alma mater Thursday, apparently by lure of more money than the $11,000 he was receiving at Oklahoma A&M. He was given a three-year contract.

Drew, greying and one of the oldest football coaches in the business at 61, was fired although he will stay at Alabama as head track coach and associate professor of athletics.

His team won the Southeastern Conference crown a year ago and played in the Cotton Bowl. However, this year Alabama won four, lost five and tied two. Dissatisfaction with Drew had been building up for weeks.

Expert Says Natural Gas Hike Feasible

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 —UP—Ralph E. Davis, Houston, oil and gas consultant, has estimated that natural gas owned by Colorado Interstate Gas Co. in the Texas Panhandle Field could be sold at 12 to 15 cents per thousand cubic feet.
Colorado Interstate is seeking wholesale rate increases totalling $16,777,000. The company has based its claims for an increase on a field price of 9.19 cents per thousand cubic feet. This price was set in accordance with a Federal Power Commission decision last April which permitted another company to revalue its own produced gas to be comparable to the weighted average of prices paid by other purchasers in the same field.
Davis told an FPC hearing Wednesday that he believes the rate increases will be to the advantage of consumers as well as to the industry. He said the price should be high enough to encourage producers to find more gas.

Club Operator Given 8 Years

DALLAS, Dec. 3 —UP—Joe Bonds, who used to run three night clubs in Dallas, was sentenced to eight years in prison Tuesday night for committing sodomy with a 15-year-old former cashier at one of the night clubs.
The jury took an hour and 25 minutes to reach its verdict. Bonds claimed he was framed and his attorneys said he would appeal. He clutched the hands of his wife, singer Dale Belmont, as the jury read its verdict.
Bonds was convicted of forcing the girl into an unnatural sex act Sept. 27 at a new nightclub which he planned to open. The girl testified she had been staying voluntarily at the county juvenile home because she didn't want to turn up missing as have witnesses in two other cases against Bonds.
She also testified she had been offered $400 in a telephone call to leave town, and said police told her to give the impression she would not show up for the trial.

Real Russ Leader Hidden By Cloak

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
Western experts on Soviet Russia have lost a "peep hole" into the way things are going inside the Kremlin.
For years, they had watched closely the order of precedence in which top-ranking Russian leaders were listed when they attended official functions — celebrations, congresses, parades, funerals and even opera premieres.
The frequent shifting in the ranking of the top men gave the experts — or the experts thought it did — an indication of developments in the never-ceasing, dog-eat-dog struggle for power which is a normal part of life in a Communist hierarchy.
Listed Alphabetically
But for the last six months, the names of the big men in the Kremlin have been listed according to the Russian Cyrillic alphabet.
This had happened once before, shortly after the death of Josef Stalin. Then the alphabetical listing was soon dropped. This time, however, London says, the experts believe the alphabetical listing may continue for a long time.
There are two suggestions as to the reason for the change.
One is that the Kremlin is trying to build up the idea of "collective leadership" in contrast to the iron one-man rule of Stalin.
The other is that important changes in relative power may be in progress.
In the alphabetical listing, Premier Georgi M. Malenkov ranks fourth. Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, who is nominally the No. 2 man in the government, comes sixth. Nikita S. Khrushchev, first secretary of the Russian Communist party, ranks ninth.

Champ Steer Brings $15 Per Pound

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 —UP—Shorty, the Aberdeen Angus steer that won the grand championship at the International Livestock Exposition, sold Thursday for $15 a pound, the second highest price in history.
The steer's pretty brunette owner, 16-year-old Janice Hullinger of Manly, Iowa, promptly announced she would use the money — totaling $16,650 — to send her three brothers to college.
Shorty was weighed in at 1,100 pounds.
The price of $15 a pound was considerably below the all-time record set when last year's grand champion sold for $20 a pound, a total of $20,100.
However, it was above the last previous record of $12 set in 1951.
Shorty was purchased by Ellard Praetzer, Chicago commission man, for Allgauer's restaurants of Chicago. It was the eighth time in 24 years that he had won the bidding.
The reserve grand champion, exhibited by another Iowa girl, Barbara Clausen of Spencer, sold for $3 a pound to High-Lo Food Stores of Chicago which paid a total of $3,750 for his 1,150 pounds.

Road Striping Pattern Changed

AUSTIN, Dec. 3 —UP—The center-striping pattern on Texas highways will be changed drastically during the next six months, the State Highway Department announced Thursday.
The department said the new pattern will consist of a broken white reflectorized paint line for center lines of two-lane highways and lane lines for multiple-lane highways, and solid yellow reflectorized paint lines for barrier lines of no-passing zones.
Texas has been waiting to adopt this design until a majority of other states accepted the new methods, the department said.
Trunk highways carrying approximately 2,000 vehicles per day will be re-striped first. They will be re-striped by next June, and by January, 1956, the new markings will be completed on all U.S. and state numbered highways.

Four Killed In 'Copter Crash

GRAND ISLE, La., Dec. 3 —UP—A helicopter bringing members of an oil drilling crew to shore missed a landing strip and crashed into the Gulf of Mexico Thursday. Four men were killed.
The helicopter struck the water about 200 yards off the eastern tip of the island. Authorities said the plane missed the landing strip because of heavy fog that obscured a flare.
J. M. Gardner, vice president of the Delta Gulf Drilling Co. at Dallas, Tex., identified the victims as John D. Scurlock, Joseph C. Dupre, Paul Dupre and Clyde A. Murray.
Three survivors were hospitalized at Raceland, La. They are Richard Bickwell, the pilot; Douglas Allen, the co-pilot; and James A. LaCase, an oil driller.
The helicopter belonged to the Petroleum Bell Helicopter service of Lafayette which has a contract with Humble Oil and Refining Co. The oil workers were being returned from a Humble well eight miles off the coast at the time of the crash about 2 a.m.
The helicopter crashed in about four feet of water. It hit upside down and the victims were believed to have been trapped in the wreckage while the others managed to make their way to shore.
The Civil Aeronautics Administration ordered an immediate investigation of the crash.
