FIRST FATHER, THEN SON

For the first time in Pampa National Guard history, there is a father-son team. James H. Cowell, 17, son of Cpl. Kenneth T. York, 333 Canadian, was sworn into the medical detachment Wednesday night by Capt. Charles L. Robison, acting detachment commander. Here the father smiles as Capt. Robison administers the oath. The father was sworn in about a month ago. Ceremonies took place at 8 p.m. on the first floor of the Courthouse. (News Photo)

Ex-PWs Tired Of Red Life

Source Says They Are 'Disenchanted'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—UP—Some of the 21 American prisoners who chose to stay with the Communists in Korea a year ago now apparently regret their decision, Defense Department sources said Thursday.

Very little has been learned about them since they turned down a chance to come home after the Korean armistice. But some information has seeped through the Bamboo Curtain in intelligence reports and occasional letters to relatives.

From this defense source said some of the voluntary exiles "appear to be somewhat disenchanted with their lot" in Communist China. It is suspected the men feel disillusioned and homesick now that the ideological and emotional pressures that prompted their decision have worn off.

There also are indications, the source said, that the Chinese Communists are losing interest in the POWs now that their great propaganda value has slumped.

Despite all this, there is no solid evidence that the former American GIs have made a formal request to be returned home. Even if there have been such requests, it is doubtful the Communists have entertained them.

Peiping radio has reported that one of the 21 died after going to Red China. The exact whereabouts of the others is a mystery here but it appears that they have been scattered.

In the unlikely event that any of the prisoners desired to return home and were released by the Communists, they would face an uncertain reception from the United States. If it could be proven that they collaborated with the Communists to the detriment of their fellow prisoners, they probably would face trial in either military or civil court.

The 21 have already been given dishonorable discharges because of their refusal to be repatriated, with the discharges backdated to January 23, 1954, the last day on which they could still have returned home.

The German chancellor emerged beaming from a two-hour conference of the nine foreign ministers who are revamping the Brussels Treaty Organization to include Germany and provide for a 500,000-man German army.

Protocols for bringing West Germany and Italy into the revived and strengthened Brussels organization were being dealt with speedily, he said, by the seven member nations and their two big overseas allies—the United States and Canada.

Adenauer also disclosed that one minor problem which cropped up during Wednesday's four power session on German sovereignty has been ironed out by experts of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. The sovereignty agreement will be rubberstamped by the foreign ministers at a brief session Thursday afternoon, before the day's second nine power conference meeting.

It was announced officially that London has been designated the seat of the new "west European union"—the new title for the enlarged Brussels alliance.

It also was agreed without a hitch that the union's arms agency which will supervise arms production on the continent and guard against a revival of unbridled German militarism, will be located in Paris.

Death Reduces Cardinal Ranks VATICAN CITY, Oct. 21—UP—Domenico Cardinal Jorio, 87, died Thursday of a heart attack, creating a fourth vacancy in the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Jorio collapsed and died at 12:35 p.m. (5:15 a.m. est) while at work in his apartment in the holy office of the Vatican.

He was the second cardinal to die this month. Francesco Cardinal Borgongini Duca, 70, died of a heart attack in his home in Rome on Oct. 4.

Jorio's death reduced the College of Cardinals to 66 members, four short of the full strength of 70 to which Pope Pius XII raised it in January, 1953, for the first time in 250 years.

There now are 44 non-Italian cardinals and 22 Italians, a record low among the Italians who for centuries dominated the college.

President Speaks In Behalf Of Ives

ONCE THE HABIT TAKES HOLD IT'S AWFUL HARD TO BREAK

NEW YORK — UP — President Eisenhower hasn't forgotten the long years he spent in the Army. In the closing passages of his speech to the Jewish centenary dinner Wednesday a final and laudatory reference to the Biblical prophet, Isaiah, who said: "The work of righteousness shall be peace."

When the President said it, it came out: "Private Isaiah."

Makes Surprise Trip To Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—UP—President Eisenhower told Republican campaign workers Thursday that "heart" was "the indispensable ingredient" in winning elections.

Mr. Eisenhower said "heart" was "that thing within a man or an organization which will not accept defeat."

The President spoke at Republican headquarters in the Roosevelt hotel in support of Sen. Irving M. Ives, Republican candidate for governor, and other Republican candidates in the crucial New York state elections.

Surprise Trip Through Brooklyn The President, with Ives and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, left immediately after his short speech for a three-hour surprise trip through Brooklyn, the Bronx, and sections of downtown Manhattan.

Mr. Eisenhower told his Republican audience that he was trying to keep the same leaders in Washington and said in order to carry out his program that he must also have the same leaders in the states.

He told the Republican election officials that they must smile and that they "have got to go all the way."

"You've got to make people see you believe in something," Mr. Eisenhower said.

Calculated Maneuver Mr. Eisenhower's surprise tour of the city apparently was part of a calculated maneuver to inject new steam into the New York and New Jersey election campaigns.

He fought back at Democratic criticism of the administration's foreign policy Wednesday night when he made what the White House labeled a "non-political" address at a dinner marking the 300th anniversary of Jewish settlement in this country.

His words Wednesday night had the effect of a stout and proud defense of the Republican record in world affairs, which has been under attack from former President Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson.

Mr. Eisenhower said that however hard his administration worked for a just and enduring peace, he could see "no evidence of genuine change" in the "perpetually aggressive design of Moscow and Peiping. . . despite their professed desire to relax tensions and to preserve peace."

The chief executive said that while the United States had come far along the road to peace based on justice, that the nation's military force, "from atomic submarine to atomic cannon," must be kept strong and apace with current international needs.

"Above all," he said of the size and complexion of American armed might, "its purpose is to prevent aggression and war. Our forces will never be used to initiate war against any nation; they will be used only for the defense of the free world."

Elks Get Response To Clothing Appeal

Response to the Elks Wednesday night radio marathon to provide clothes for needy Pampans zoomed the stockpile to the point where they have 7,000 garments and 300 pairs of shoes, according to John Gikas, drive chairman.

"Our sincere thanks to the radio stations, civic groups and especially those Pampans mindful of the needs of our less fortunate citizens," Gikas said.

Outside aid was given the drive. Amarillo lent a helping hand over television station KGNC, making several announcements as to the drive.

The pressing need for girls' shoes has been met. More than 150 pairs were donated, and, Gikas pointed out, many people contributed new footwear.

"Most of the shoes and clothing will be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution, since they are in contact with numerous families in our community who are among the neediest," Gikas said.

The drive will continue throughout this week. Persons interested in giving clothing are asked to contact the radio stations, Richard Drug or the Coney Island Cafe.

Johnson Hits GOP Meddling LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 21—UP—Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson accused Republicans Wednesday night of trying to deprive Nevada voters of their rights in attempting to appoint a successor to Late Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran.

"They (the Republicans) did not want to give the people a chance to vote on Pat McCarran's successor," Johnson charged.

Nevada's Republican governor named Reno lawyer Ernest S. Brown to replace McCarran, who died last month after 22 years in the Senate. Brown was appointed to replace McCarran's remaining term of two years.

Democrats demanded an election and Republicans appealed to the courts to uphold Brown's appointment. The Nevada Supreme Court ruled McCarran's successor must be elected to the two-year short term Nov. 2.

Brown, who has been certified as a senator, will run against Alan Bible, a McCarran protege and former state attorney general.

"I took a court order to grant the people of Nevada the most elementary right of free men!" Johnson said, and he predicted the election of his "good friend" Bible to the Senate next month.

Adenauer In High Spirits Over Accord

PARIS, Oct. 21—UP—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Thursday that accords of rearming his country and restoring her sovereignty will be concluded Saturday afternoon.

Adenauer said a settlement of the long-standing dispute with France over the future of the coal-rich Saar border area will be included.

The German chancellor emerged beaming from a two-hour conference of the nine foreign ministers who are revamping the Brussels Treaty Organization to include Germany and provide for a 500,000-man German army.

Protocols for bringing West Germany and Italy into the revived and strengthened Brussels organization were being dealt with speedily, he said, by the seven member nations and their two big overseas allies—the United States and Canada.

Bibles Traded For Comics

DALLAS, Oct. 21—UP—The Cokesbury Book Store was trading Bible cartoon books for sex and crime comic books Thursday and the manager reported a brisk bust.

"We didn't start until late yesterday and we traded several hundred," the manager, J. F. Albright, said. "We expect to trade all 7,000 of the Bible cartoon books we have by tomorrow night."

"If we can get a good book into hands that ordinarily hold a bad book, we might create a good habit."

Some children traded as many as 12 comic books for Bible cartoon books. Albright said a Sunday school class wanted the sex and horror books he got in trade, presumably to sell as waste paper or burn.

St. Nick To Visit City By Helicopter

Santa Claus will be here for "Santa Day" Dec. 3, and plans are being made to bring Pere Noel to town by helicopter for his yearly stopover, according to Ed Myatt, chairman of the Merchant Activities Committee.

Twenty members of the Chamber of Commerce committee met Tuesday to make initial plans for "Santa Day" activities including a street parade, home decorating contest, candy for the kids and the annual Nativity scenes in Central Park.

The group is planning to add many new decorations contributing to the color of street adornment, Myatt said. Lyle Gage will contact the JayCees regarding erection of street displays.

A committee was appointed to handle the purchase of candy for the children. Members are W. L. Veal, chairman, Hoover Pitcock, Carl Caldwell, E. E. Davis, B. M. Behrman and Mrs. Ruth Hutchens.

Store hours will be extended from Dec. 16 through Dec. 24 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Myatt said.

3 Grocery Chains Cut Coffee Price NEW YORK, Oct. 21—UP—Three big grocery chains Thursday cut the retail price of coffee four to six cents a pound.

A & P, Grand Union Co., and Safeway Stores Inc., announced the cuts following a five-cent reduction in wholesale prices.

Hagler Honeymoon To Be Cut Short

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21—UP—Business executive David F. Hagler Jr. and his German-born bride honeymooned Thursday while authorities kept trying to find out just who it is Hagler is charged with killing.

The 36-year-old vice president of the U. S. Asphalt Corp. of Fort Worth and his big-eyed sweetheart, shapely Elisabeth Maria Bergmann, eloped to Weatherford, Tex., Wednesday when both were out of jail for the first time since she returned from a trip to Germany.

They were married in a brief ceremony and went on a honeymoon, although the bride had previously admitted she and Hagler had been living as man and wife for several months.

To Surrender Thursday Hagler's lawyers indicated he would surrender at Fort Worth Thursday and that a habeas corpus hearing would be requested to appeal his extradition to Oklahoma on torch-murder charges.

Hagler and his 111-pound friend were married by Parker County Judge Mullenix. Both smiled happily after the ceremony.

The marriage will prevent her being used as a witness against her husband when the case comes to trial.

Hagler is charged with the murder of "John Doe," whose charred body was found in his ex-wife's burning station wagon near Davis, Okla., Oct. 10.

Oklahoma and Texas governors Wednesday signed extradition papers to have Hagler returned to Oklahoma to face the charges.

But law officers of the two states thus far have failed to make much headway in their efforts to find out just who was killed.

Suspect Said To Be Playboy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 21—UP—The Oklahoma manager of U. S. Asphalt Corp., Thursday described David Fred Hagler, Fort Worth man charged with a torch murder, as a playboy who inherited an interest in the company.

Sam M. Wood, Oklahoma representative for the company, said Hagler resigned as a vice president of the U. S. Asphalt last June and was rehired as salesman for the Texas area. However, Oklahoma Tax Commission records still list Hagler as a vice president.

Wood said Hagler's step-father, R. W. Robinson Jr., was a vice-president of the firm before he died five years ago, and Hagler's mother used influence to put her son in the same post.

"He started out fine," Wood said. "The first year he sold 80,000 tons of asphalt in Texas, the next year around 40,000 tons."

"Last year his sales dropped off to 4,000 tons and he lost interest. . . his playboy tendencies cropped out. He made numerous trips to Oklahoma City on parties and registered at different hotels."

The 36-year-old Texan spent much of his time tinkering with inventions such as ice-making machines, miniature barbecue pits and fireproof shingles, Wood reported. These "wild ideas" irritated chemists of the firm.

Officers of the Oklahoma Crime Bureau say Hagler has told them repeatedly his barbecue pit idea has taken more of his time here than his duties with U. S. Asphalt.

As the trial entered its fourth day Thursday, seven jurors had been selected, four of them Wednesday in a stormy session during which Corrigan bitterly accused Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin of "not being fair."

Demos Ready Guns For Stretch Drive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—UP—The Democratic high command Thursday turned its biggest campaign guns on 29 crucial states in a stretch drive for victory in the Nov. 2 congressional election.

The Democratic national committee announced that Adlai E. Stevenson, National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, House and Senate leaders and other party big-wigs will spearhead a closing push to capture Congress. The Democratic speakers will make upwards of 60 speeches in the 29 states before election day.

Stevenson, 1952 Democratic standard bearer, scheduled speeches in Milwaukee, Wis., Friday; in Illinois Saturday; in Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 26; in Wilmington, Del., Oct. 27; in New Jersey Oct. 28; and in the New York City area Oct. 29 and 30.

To Discuss Dixon-Yates Mitchell's itinerary includes a speech Saturday in Binghamton, N. Y., where he said he would discuss the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract, Binghamton is the district of Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N. Y.), chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy committee, who has sparred with Mitchell over the Dixon-Yates proposal.

Mitchell earlier urged Democratic candidates not to let up on their campaigning lest "over-confidence and complacency" rob them of a victory "that is within our grasp." He said no election "is won until all the votes have been counted."

"Let's not underestimate the Republicans," Mitchell said. "Let's not underestimate the power of the gigantic Republican campaign funds. Let's not underestimate the power of the editorial support the Republicans are receiving in the press."

Simultaneously, Vice President Richard M. Nixon told reporters in Chicago that the Republicans have gained ground in the last 10 days and added: "If the momentum keeps up, we will win."

Opens New Attack The vice president also launched a fresh attack on former President Truman whose policies, Nixon said, would have led "directly to socialism." He said the Truman administration failed to provide "prosperity in peacetime."

Nixon was scheduled to speak Thursday in Campaign and Rock Island, Ill., on behalf of GOP senatorial candidate Joseph T. Meek and other Republican candidates.

Hoax Played On Mother Of Boy Who Defended His Dog

MONROE, La., Oct. 21 —UP— Someone played a cruel hoax Wednesday on the family of little Joe Cooper, the boy who went to the reformatory for trying to save his dog from two school officials. Mrs. Velma Cooper, Joe's mother, announced joyously that the morning mail had brought a letter and a $10 contribution from former President Harry Truman. The letter was one to touch the heart of a 10-year-old boy who still is in the reformatory waiting for a decision in his case. There was only one thing wrong—Mr. Truman didn't send it.

"First I've heard of it," the former chief executive said when questioned at Kansas City, Mo. "It's a cruel thing to do," Mrs. Cooper said when advised the letter she received was not from Mr. Truman. "People have been so nice" up to now.

Mrs. Cooper, who didn't know people sometimes play practical jokes at the expense of others, saw the name Harry S. Truman on the envelope of the letter she received and called reporters with the news. Actually, there was a card inside the envelope that was typed: "Nice going, boy, thought you might like to see your name in print." Along with the card was a letter, calling on the child to muster up his courage.

The return address was: "Ex-President Harry S. Truman, F. F. Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa." Enclosed were a $10 and a $5 bill and a copy of a Philadelphia paper containing a story of little Joe's problems with teachers and his dog.

Child Missing Three Nights In Hill Country

POWERS LAKE, N. D., Oct. 21 —UP— Hope of finding a four-year-old boy missing for three nights in near-freezing weather dimmed Wednesday as searchers fanned out in an ever-widening circle through slough and hill country. Judge Howell Heard, who imposed the quick sentence, said his decision is "waiting on the transcript of testimony" taken at a second hearing he called when an aroused public protested the boy's speedy commitment. The testimony is not expected to be ready before next week.

More than 3,000 volunteers broadened the search for Lavern Engel to include all farm and out-buildings in a 75-mile radius. Authorities were considering every possibility, including foul play, as the search failed to turn up any good leads on the boy.

The boy walked away from the family farmhouse 13 miles northeast of Powers Lake Sunday night to meet his father, Overt Engert, and touched off one of the largest searches in the history of northwestern North Dakota. Planes from the Air Rescue Service at Denver, the Civil Air Patrol and Flying Farmers, and more than 2,000 volunteers swarmed over the brush country surrounding the Engert farm Tuesday in a vain attempt to find the boy.

Lavern was clad only in a light T-shirt and overalls when he left the farm.

This sketch shows Edison (third from right) testing the first successful lamp at his Menlo Park, N. J., laboratory on Oct. 21, 1879.

This is the world's first practical incandescent electric lamp, invented by Thomas Edison 75 years ago. For its first lighting, he made a filament out of a piece of thread from his wife's sewing basket.

The modern miracle of electronics grew from Edison's incandescent lamp. In 1883 he discovered that by placing a small metal plate between the legs of a filament he could control the flow of current. This proved to be the basis of today's electron tube.

BIRTHDAY OF 'LIGHT'

If the lights in your home shine a little brighter today, it's because they realize that it's the 75th birthday of their great-great-granddaddy—Thomas Alva Edison's first practical incandescent electric lamp. There were arc lights as early as 1809. Edison started experimenting with them in 1875, but soon concluded that a successful home light would have to be incandescent—that is, glow brightly at white heat without consuming the material. After long experimentation, he finally succeeded on October 21, 1879, at his Menlo Park, N. J., laboratory.

Feed Grain Estimate Is Near Record

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—UP—The Agriculture Department has forecast a near-record supply of livestock feed grain for the 1954-55 season, but said there will be "critically short" supplies in some areas.

The department, in a report made public Wednesday night, predicted that 178 million tons of feed grains and other concentrates will be on hand, an increase of 4 percent over 1953-54.

Because of an anticipated increase of 3 or 4 percent in the number of grain-consuming livestock, chiefly hogs, the supply per animal will be about the same as last year.

The department said that as in the past two years, supplies "vary widely" by areas, ranging from "ample" in most of the north-central region to "critically short" in large areas of the South and in some mountain states. Drought emergency feed programs are now under way in the short areas.

The report said supplies of corn alone "will fall somewhat below total requirements." As a result, it said, "corn prices should rise later in the year when supplies become tight, and some of the government-owned surplus corn should move into use."

Supplies of oats, barley and sorghums are all above a year ago. Prices of these three feed grains are expected to continue low in relation to corn prices.

Canadian Will Head Fire Chiefs

HOUSTON, Oct. 21—UP—Gray Burnett, Ottawa, Ontario, a white-haired smoke eater who began fighting fires at the age of 10, was installed Thursday as president of the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

Burnett, 66-year-old former chief of the Ottawa Fire Department and now chief fire officer of the National Research Council of Canada, succeeded Fire Chief Henry G. Thomas, Hartford, Conn.

Other officers elected included Fire Chief William Fitzgerald, Seattle, Wash., first vice president; Chief Wayne E. Swanson, Rockford, Ill., second vice president, and retired Chief Dan Tierney, Arlington, Mass., secretary-treasurer.

The association was to conclude its four-day 81st annual conference here Thursday. Some 2,000 fire chiefs from the U.S., Puerto Rico, Alaska, and Canada, attended the conference.

The fire chiefs were to hold a final business session at 10 a.m. at which they were expected to unanimously approve a national fire fighters march on muscular dystrophy.

The muscular dystrophy campaign will be conducted during Thanksgiving week by 85,000 members of the International Association of Fire Fighters and thousands of volunteer firemen. It is the annual November fund appeal of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc.

Oil Firms File For Rehearing

AUSTIN, Oct. 21—UP—A motion for a rehearing has been filed with the Texas Supreme Court by 10 major oil companies fighting a five-year-old anti-trust suit.

The motion, filed Wednesday, came after the high court on Oct. 6 rejected a plea by the companies for a writ of error, a move which paved the way for lower court trial or settlement of the suit brought in 1949.

The companies named in the suit were the Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., Cities Service Oil Co., Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp., Humble Oil and Refining Co., Magnolia Petroleum Co., Standard Oil Company of Texas, the Texas Company, Sinclair Refining Co., and the Phillips Petroleum Co.

Mercury Reading To Hold Steady

A weak cool front in the Panhandle and South Plains areas of Texas wasn't expected to do much good Thursday as far as lowering temperatures. But the weather still is expected to remain fairly comfortable over the state.

Some winds out of the north were reported in the Lubbock area, extending on down to Midland. But forecasters said the air was too dry for any rain, although some light sprinkles were reported Thursday morning in Longview.

Church Service Set At Camporee

One of the largest church congregations in the Panhandle Sunday will meet at Camp Ki-o-wah, site of the first annual Adobe Walls County Boy Scout camporee.

Services will be held at 9 a.m. Sunday for the estimated 900 persons — Scouts and adult leaders — expected to be on hand for the weekend, according to Paul Belbenzer, council Scout executive.

A total of 783 boys has been registered.

George S. (Pinky) Vineyard is in charge of the church service. Belbenzer said late this morning. Belbenzer and Phil Pegues, Santa Fe District Scout executive, leave Friday for the camp, northeast of Canadian.

JayCees Plan To Discuss Confab

Final plans for the Junior Chamber of Commerce bi-regional convention this winter in Pampa will be made at 7 p.m. Nov. 4 in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce office.

Bob Parkinson, chairman of the convention committee, late this morning announced the meeting date.

Jack Allen, Perryton, Region One vice president, is expected to be on hand for the meeting, Parkinson said. Meeting with him will be the JayCee officers and convention committee members.

Bi-regional will be held the week end of Feb. 5-6. JayCees have chosen a "Miss Clean Sweep" to reign over a broom sale next Tuesday, money from which will be used to defray convention expenses.

Wheeler County Official Dies

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Funeral services for William Roper Ritter, 43, of Shamrock, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church, Shamrock.

Mr. Ritter died at 1 a.m. Wednesday in Shamrock General Hospital.

Officiating at the last rites will be Rev. Frank Beauchamp, First Methodist pastor, assisted by Rev. David Mills, pastor of the First Christian Church, Shamrock.

There will be a military funeral with the Shamrock National Guard in charge. Richardson Funeral Home, Shamrock, is in charge of arrangements.

Born Oct. 29, 1910, in Lathrop, Mo., Mr. Ritter came to Shamrock from Austin in 1946. He had been Wheeler County sanitarian since that time.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Ritter was commander of the DeShazo - George American Legion post, Shamrock. He was a member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist church and a member of the Shamrock Boosters Club.

Surviving are his wife, Doris; a son, Gary, 10; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ira Ritter, Lathrop.

Burial will be Jack Gibson, George Howard, Harris Zeigler, Frank Going, Gerald Mayfield, Norman Patrick, C. L. Readis and Woodrow Sims. Honorary pallbearers will be George Hefley, Dr. Glen R. Walker, L. B. Dratton, Doug Reeves, Duré Handley, Ode Cain, Albert Cooper, Eli Smith, R. S. Douglas and Jim Hathaway.

Russ Roulette Kills Marine

DALLAS, Oct. 21—UP—Police reported that a U. S. marine home on leave killed himself while demonstrating to his 16-year-old girl friend how to play Russian roulette.

The marine was Pvt. Elbert V. Horton, 20, of Dallas. He was shot through the brain Wednesday at the Dallas home of Mrs. Mary Alene McGee, 34, mother of 16-year-old Mary McGee.

HAGLER

Intered under an assumed name at a motel.

But from there, the trial is lost. Hagler was freed on bond on the murder charge, and Miss Bergman, booked in Dallas on investigation of murder, was freed on a writ of habeas corpus. Both out of jail, they eloped.

But with extradition papers signed and another writ of habeas corpus hearing reported in the mill, authorities said the couple would have "only a short honeymoon."

Churchill Has Eye On One More Feather In His Cap

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

It looks more and more as if Prime Minister Winston Churchill's chief reason for staying in office may be his desire to crown his career by bringing East and West together.

Churchill will be 80 on Nov. 30. He certainly has had sufficient honors to satisfy any man. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has long been ready, as his political heir, to take his place.

It has been suggested repeatedly, for months, that Churchill was about ready to retire.

Yet there he remains, and his cabinet shift Sunday was taken as proof that he intends to remain for months.

The award of a Knighthood of the Garter to Eden Wednesday may have been intended to compensate him for waiting a while longer before he gets the prime ministry.

That Churchill still has strongly in mind the hope that he might be the medium of an agreement between East and West was shown again when he said to a Labor party questioner in the House of Commons Tuesday: "I have in no way rescinded my expression of willingness to meet Mr. Malenkov at some agreed place of rendezvous if the right time and occasion is found."

Churchill caused a sensation when he said in Commons on May 11, 1953: "I believe a conference on the highest level should take place between the leading powers without delay."

Churchill meant then a conference in which he, President Eisenhower, Premier Georgi M. Malenkov of Russia and the Premier of France would be the participants.

What he wanted, he said, was an informal and completely secret meeting.

Churchill's suggestion got a very cold reception in Washington and nothing came of it. He has admitted often since then, as he did Tuesday, that the right time and occasion have not yet come.

But he has stuck to his idea. He has also, as he did again Tuesday, left open the possibility that he might confer alone with Malenkov as the first step toward a Big Four meeting.

It would be a bold stroke Churchill, however, has ever been

One Case Still On Jury Docket

Only one case — Lester Jones vs. St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. — remained to be handled this morning in 31st District Court during this petit jury week.

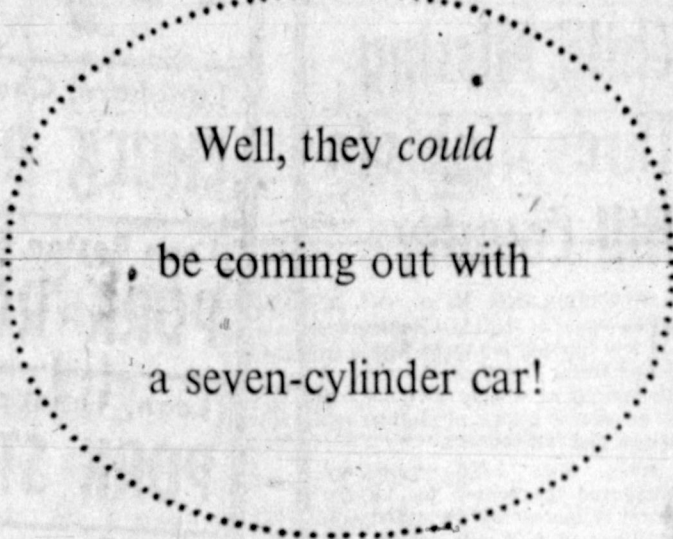

In the compensation case of Tom Southard vs. Maryland Casualty Co., Southard was awarded $4,300 by the petit jury late Wednesday afternoon, it was reported today.

Dist. Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, who has been in Pampa most of the week, is expected to be on hand Friday morning, too. That is his regular court day in Pampa.

Pampan Fined $100 In Court

Howard R. Houdashell, 46, of 2302 Atoock, Wednesday afternoon was fined $100 and costs in County Court on a charge of driving while intoxicated. City police picked him up at 10:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Pee Wees Win Another, 14-0

Pampa Junior High Pee Wees remained unbeaten, untied and unscathed on today after chalking up a 14-0 win yesterday over the Dumas Pee Wees at Dumas.

It was the fourth straight win for Coach Frank Craig as Pee Wee 11, all of the wins coming by the shutout route.

The Pee Wees did all their scoring in the first half in yesterday's game. Earl McKinley scored on a three-yard smash in the first quarter for the first TD with Duane Glover making the extra point on a run.

Quarterback Bobby Smith raced 50 yards for the second touchdown in the second quarter on a keeper. Jackie Collins added the point on a run to conclude the day's scoring.

The Pee Wees had a touchdown called back in the second half. Smith passed to McKinley for 70 yards and a TD only to have it nullified by a holding penalty.

John Estes and Smith stood out defensively for the Pampa Pee Wees.

The young Pampa eleven will tackle another unbeaten team, Phillips, here next week.

Legion, VFW Giving Vets Free Dinner

An estimated 300 veterans are expected to be on hand tonight for a free barbecue, co-sponsored by the Pampa posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Get-together is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today in Legion-VFW Hall, according to E. W. (Bud) Hogan, VFW commander, and W. C. (Bill) Thompson, Legion commander. All veterans, regardless of where or when they served, are invited.

A speaker had not been picked by late this morning. It was hoped that Rep. Walter Roberts, of Pampa, might speak. This will be the first local observance of American Legion Days, which began Wednesday and last till Nov. 11, Veterans Day.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Hollywood on TV: The birds of bright plumage, who left Hollywood when the box office began to slump, are winging back home.

After seven years away from the scene of her movie stardom, Joan Blondell is the latest to change her address, back to a palm-shaded Movietown street. Telemovie made Hollywood a Capistrano for Joan—a starring series for Revue Prod., "Star of the House"—plus revived interest by studios in established star names for big-screen movies.

"I've just kept moving since I left Hollywood," Joan told me between scenes of a Fireside Theater stanza, "Sgt. Sullivan Speaking." "I've done live TV and plays and night clubs. Train porters used to address me as Miss Blondell. But since TV, they say, 'Hi, Joanie.' But I'm glad to be back home."

John Lund no longer is a TV holdout. He's shopping for a dramatics series...Dinah Shore goes to the Waldorf-Astoria Starlight Room for three weeks in January...Eddie Albert and Margo, making the night-club circuit, are warming up for a filmed series.

Betty Hutton's saying television is not for her. "It's great for someone with more energy." —So who has more energy than Betty?

PEGGY McCAY, the darling of TV soap opera, has had movie offers but she says she just can't afford Hollywood. Her five-day-a-week emoting as Vanessa Dale in CBS' "Love of Life" pays her more than a lot of movie stars earn and besides:

"I don't want to come to Hollywood just to wait around." Peggy's a dead ringer for Janet Gaynor back in the days of "Seventh Heaven."

Life in television or why TV producers will never reach the age of 39:

Not long ago the program, "Place the Face," arranged its most elaborate meeting of two people a brother and sister who hadn't seen each other for 47 years. The brother was flown from South Africa to Hollywood, using up two months of the program's TWA travel budget.

The State Department went to a great deal of trouble clearing him for entry into the U. S. His plane was late and a car with a police escort rushed him from A's International Airport to the TV studio in 18 minutes. The curtain parted and the brother beamed, confident he would not be recognized. But without a moment of hesitation, his sister squealed:

"SORRY!" EVEN A $15,000 paycheck for a short dramatic sketch couldn't lure Gene Tierney into a TV pactacular... The role of Desi Arnaz's mother is being added to "I Love Lucy" for some mother-in-law situations.

Bob Crosby's once-a-week nighttime show for CBS to supplement his daytime stanzas starts in January. A bigger budget and guest stars.

Mark Stevens, I can now spill he offered $250,000 to the sponsor-owner of "Martin Kane, Private Eye" for full rights to the property. But when the series amoosed from the air, the asking price was a cool million.

Rex-Allen may do a TV western series to be produced by Republic Studio. Allen's the only movie cowpoke who hasn't leaped into home screens.

Overheard: "My agent said not to worry about my appendicitis. He can get me a job on TV in 'The Lassic'."

LASSIE, the famed movie colt, is 12 years old, but owner Ludd Weatherwax isn't worried about the "Lassic" telefilm series proving too strenuous. The lamor pooch, he says, is in "wonderful health and has years to go."

Preston Foster's wordage about swiping out as a rugged screen star and leaping into TV as Captain Jack on "Waterfront": "For every 100 people who know my face in my 22 years in show business, there are now 500 people who know it. In my fondest hopes, I didn't expect anything to happen so fast and so good."

Hollywood designers and wardrobe experts are thumping their foreheads over color video. Only white tones can be used in coloring. No blacks, whites, or strong hues... Tommy Noonan received a bid to play Marj-Willie's hubby in "My Wife Irma" as his Fox studio bosses wouldn't air it.

Today's hand, taken from a recent international match, will not fill you with admiration for either the bidding or the play. Both South and West made bad bids, but South and West made bad bids, but he also made a bad play.

East wasn't happy to bid one diamond on the first round, but he didn't relish the idea of passing one club with a singleton club. It was a choice of evils, and his choice cannot be severely criticized.

South's jump bid of two spades showed a strong hand, quite properly. (Some experts use a jump overcall to show strength, while others use it to show a weak hand but a good suit. Both methods are quite playable.)

West should have retired discreetly from the auction after this show of strength by South. Instead, West put his head on the block by bidding three clubs. North appointed himself a committee of one to welcome West's bid of three clubs. This he did by means of a prompt double.

South should have passed the double, of course, and West would have been set two or three tricks at his contract of three clubs. But South went on to three spades, foolishly enough, and the hand was played there.

West took the two top diamonds and shifted to the queen of clubs. South won the third trick with the ace of clubs, led a trump to dummy, and then completely disregarded the warning of the bidding by trying to cash the king of clubs.

South should have known that West had a six-card club suit, since he had rebid that suit at the nine-trick level.

Naturally enough, East ruffed the king of clubs, and South had to overruff. South could draw trumps, but eventually he had to lead away from his hearts, and thus lost two heart tricks in addition to three diamonds. The contract was therefore set one trick.

If South had realized the uselessness of trying to cash the king of clubs, he would have made his contract. On entering dummy with the king of spades, South should have led a heart from the dummy.

The normal finesse of the jack (West's bidding surely showed the ace of hearts, and the only chance is to play East for the queen) would give South a heart trick and his contract.

new NBC-TV series started. He seemed as nice as usual, as he ate a platter of scrambled eggs at the Friars Club, while Milton Berle shot pool and heckled in the background. He seemed pleasant, but remember this was before his series started.

"A comedian when he's on television," Red admits, "isn't a rational human being. He's an animal. He hasn't time to be nice or rational. Don't talk to a comedian during the season and expect a pleasant conversation."

But, since this was before the season, Buttons was being very rational. He was talking seriously and rationally and nicely about writers. Television gag writers, in particular.

"There's the greatest paucity of writers," he said, looking around to see if everyone got that "paucity" bit. "That TV has ever seen. We've gotta have more writers."

"Do you know that I had a man on my payroll all last year, who did nothing but go around to colleges looking for new writers? Well, I did. But I didn't find one script worth buying. Not one."

"When you think about it, it's no wonder TV writers run out. They write a musical comedy every week, practically. Go write a musical comedy every week and see how long you can do it. If you write for Broadway you work a year on one show. These poor guys do it every week."

And so on. The conclusion, reached with a sad shake of the non-red head, was that TV writers were as hard to find as a good sirloin steak in a vegetarian restaurant.

Buttons' new series will not be much different from his old one, at the beginning—anyhow.

"I'll go out and do the best I can every week," he said. "That's all. Why all the tumult? It's a job. I'll do my sketches and try to be funny."

Later in the season, though, Red will probably take a stab at a serious dramatic role on his show. He figures he's primarily an actor, so why shouldn't he act serious for a change? Strange things are happening.

The format of NBC-TV's new daytime quiz, "Feather Your Nest," is at hand, and it represents a triumph of used originality. Each contestant will compete for some house furnishing, and every succeeding successful answer will bring a more valuable house furnishing.

This format has been used with prizes like money ("Break the Bank") and women's clothes ("The Big Payoff") and—now house furnishings. Next year, beyond a doubt we will have "Fill Your Trummy"—a tastier morsel for each successful answer—and "The Animal Kingdom"—in which each correct reply earns a larger and larger animal. The jackpot is an elephant, complete with howdah and Indian groom.

Bud Collyer will be master of ceremonies on "Feather Your Nest." (Incidentally, the first person who says "Feather Your Nest" is for the birds gets a chlorophyll-impregnated cattle bone.) Nowadays, a quiz show without either Bud or Bert Parks, is, apparently, impossible. Some of them with them are impossible, too.

Agricultural fairs have been part of American life for nearly 100 years. Their beginnings trace back to Old Testament times when the Prophet Ezekiel wrote of fairs filled with livestock and metal-ware.

Like 'Bird Dogs' Too

What happens to people when they get high government office in Washington? The question is prompted by the political crawling done by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson over his now famous remarks concerning bird dogs.

So far as we can gather from the direct statement of Wilson and all of the subsequent hubbub that resulted from that statement, he was trying to tell people that he preferred the type of person who was willing to go out and get a job and not run to the government for a handout if he found himself unemployed.

Isn't that in the tradition of America? Are we now so far gone in our sense of responsibility and pride that we feel no repugnance nor shame at being on relief? Is there something wrong in preferring the type of man who gets out and hustles for a job to one who, as Wilson put it "sits on his fanny and yells."

Judging from the scream of anguish that went up from the union bleeding hearts and bosses, it would appear that Mr. Wilson had suggested liquidation of people who are unemployed . . . when all he did was to say that he preferred the type of person who had the gumption to do something on his own, rather than creeping to a government agency for subsistence.

What is truly upsetting is not the wailing of the left-wingers and union bosses over the Wilson statement but the fact that as a result of political pressure a man like Wilson can be forced into the position of making a public apology for saying something that needed saying and something he truly believes.

We cannot help but think that had Wilson made the same statement just a couple of years ago when he was not a "political figure" that there would not have been any back-tracking for the sake of trying to appease a bunch of union bosses who would have more respect for Wilson and his political party if he had stood by his guns and repeated his remarks. We feel certain that the general public, including the members of the unions whose bosses don't speak for them, would have had a far greater respect for Wilson, too, had he been willing to stand up and be counted as a man with convictions and willing to speak them.

But apparently there is some terrible virus that attacks persons after they have been in Washington a little while that makes them forget that they are Americans first and politicians afterward. Only the strongest with the strongest convictions, are able to withstand the onslaught of the disease and remain strong. And that, apparently, is the answer to the question at the top of this piece.

'Dream' Politician Admits Some Good In An Opponent

By HENRY McLEMORE

I don't know what kind of man a "dream" politician is, but I know what mine is.

He is one who, out of office because his party lost at the polls, does something good in the other party and admits it.

He is not particular about what "dream" man finds good in folks who beat him out of a job. Anything'll do.

He will just stand up, after being on the sidelines for a year or two, and proclaim that the people who beat him have a single virtue. I'll vote for him the next time around.

He can see so deep that he knows up on the admission that the rival party takes a firm stand against drunks driving cars and against drunks driving cars and against drunks driving cars.

I trust that I am not the only American voter who feels this way. I pray that there are others — millions of others — who are sick and tired, worn out, and weary of a race that has been going on since this country has had the two, three, four, or nineteen, party system.

In the first place, this yelp of the Out against the In is an insult to every voter's intelligence. We all know that the Out is motivated more for want of a job than he is because his heart is bleeding to death over the condition of his borough, city, district, state or nation.

Too many Americans forget that being a politician is the same as being a truck, writing a column, selling shoes, vice-presiding in a bank, or any other job. The politician is no heaven-sent fellow. He wears pants, shaves, frets over mortgages, has grocery bills, and yells hangnails. He has no more right to go about telling lies, and making up stories, and giving promises that he has no intention of keeping, than the next fellow.

The politician should have to toe the line like the rest of us. If he wants to be a liar, he should go, and say, "I will do this," and then do it. He should go, and say, "I will do this," and then do it.

The politician is a man making a living. Judge him exactly as you do the other men who make their living.

On the second place — but I

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"Not My Son! How About Yours?"

I want to quote for a couple of days from a new magazine, U.S.A., published by Alice Widener, who wrote the above named article. This magazine is an American bulletin of fact and opinion. The subscription rate is $10.00 a year, and the address is P. O. Box 134, Lenox Hill Station, New York 21, N. Y.

This is the way Alice Widener looks at the predicament we are in with the United Nations:

"My only son will be seventeen years old on Pearl Harbor Day. Now he is away at school. In a year and three months from now, he will be ready to go away to the Army, the Navy, the Air Force, or the Marines."

"Until a few days ago, I tried to develop a spirit of resignation about his life, trusting in God and believing that our government would do the best to protect my son's well being."

"But that was a few days ago. It was before I learned the awful truth that the State Department is planning to send my son into an International Army to fight with his hands tied behind his back in a new kind of war—a United Nations War Without Victory."

"The official model for this new kind of war is Korea. The name for such senseless slaughter is 'Collective Action Against Aggression.' The title of the battle hymn is 'Uniting for Peace.' The Strategy Board is a 'United Nations Collective Measures Committee' with a Communist member. The strident call-to-arms is 'No Punishment for the Aggressor!'"

"Does this sound insane?" "Do you think it is a nightmare dreamed by a hysterical writer?"

"Before you make up your mind, let me tell you my story."

"On the sunny Sunday morning of September 12, 1954, I was at breakfast, coffee cup in one hand and the New York Daily News in the other, when my eye caught the headline on page 40 'Showdown on China Due at U.N. Assembly.'"

"There followed several paragraphs about the opening of the ninth U. N. General Assembly, and the statement: 'The U. S. is convinced it can block Red China's admission, but if it fails it will probably not withdraw (from the U. N.).' Instead, it will push for approval of a joint U. S.-Philippine plan to weld the military forces of all 50 member nations into a workable international army."

"I started, I rubbed my eyes and read the article again."

"No, I thought, it's not possible! This must be all wrong. Never under any circumstances could the United States flag to weld its military forces into a U. N. international army including Soviet-bloc armed forces."

"Quickly, I telephoned the Daily News and asked a secretary to call a Sunday editor if by any chance the article on page 40 was a fly-by-night item."

"'Oh, no, not at all!' he courteously replied. 'If you want to find out about it, I suggest you get in touch with our U. N. bureau. Robert Parker is in charge.'"

"On Monday, September 13th, I had an appointment with Mr. Parker and his assistant, Mr. Jerry Clapso. In reply to my inquiry, they gave me several official U. S. and U. N. documents having nothing at all to do with Red China, but showing that on the midsummer day of August 4, 1954, U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth formally presented to the U. N. Collective Measures Committee (with Communist Yugoslav Dr. Zozja Brilej present) a United States working paper containing six principles deemed to raise a U. N. international army with forces from all sixty member States to take collective security measures whenever and wherever the U. N. deems such action necessary. Ambassador Wadsworth assured the Committee that such measures were not designed to plan against any specific aggressor or at any specific spot or area of the world, but rather to assist members in preparing themselves to deter or suppress aggression wherever and whenever it may occur."

"Their Cause Is Not Ours"

"Evidently, Ambassador Wadsworth means what he says. But what he says is somewhat difficult to understand. Does this diplomatic representative of our country mean that the Soviet bloc, who are members of the U. N., should be assisted to prepare themselves for deterring or suppressing aggression against their own tyranny?"

"A clear summary of the U. S. working paper principles was issued by the U. N. Department of Public Information in a press release stating:

"Principles 1 through 4, he (Ambassador Wadsworth) said, sought to emphasize the importance of maximum participation and fair distribution of burden among the largest possible number of states. They were derived from 'the valuable lesson learned in Korea, where it was not possible for the burdens of collective resistance against aggression to be shared equally. There were a number of reasons for this, he said. Some states had made important commitments to protect 'certain crucial areas of the free world,' or were hampered by 'economic incapacity,' or lack of logistic support."

"Continuing its summary, the U. N. press release states that Ambassador Wadsworth informed the Collective Measures Committee: 'In the future, when any nation was willing to contribute forces to a United Nations collective action but was not able to provide logistic support, the United States views that the United Nations members should do everything

Ike's Cabinet Members Not Adept Politicians

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — It did not require Charles E. Wilson's dogmatic flight of speech to prove that the nation's biggest and most successful businessmen do not make the smartest politicians.

In a misery-lover-company chorus since the Defense Secretary's seminar on human and canine laziness, the majority of his Cabinet associates agree that they, too, are innocents abroad in a Washington wilderness of words.

Long before the Wilson faux pas, if such it was, business and industrial executives had been questioned on their experiences as national figures, and on their reaction to the transformation from Mister to Mister Secretary. Most of them admit frankly that they do not enjoy public life, and that they accepted appointment only because they considered it a civic duty.

When they backed away from Cabinet assignments, Ike retorted: "You fellows have always complained that the government was being run and ruined by its politicians. Now, it is up to you to take over, and to demonstrate that you can do a better job!"

Almost every Cabinet member—in fact, all but one—took a steep cut in salary. They also abandoned czaristic control of small or large goldfish-bowl organizations. They gave up many personal comforts and solaces which they enjoyed as highly paid, private citizens. As one asked me in a bitter tone:

"How many men and women, with a sufficient income and assured security in private industry, would swap those blessings to be a Mayor or a City Commissioner, when low pay and brickbats are the order of the day?"

Anyhow, they came to Washington for one reason or another. But they find that their experience, background and training handicap them severely in the pro bono public business. Here are, in brief, their own explanations:

For one thing, they are not accustomed to tuning their thoughts and utterances to a passionate, partisan multitude. They are not politically articulate. They forget that their audience is a nation of 160,000,000 people instead of a sympathetic board of directors. Wilson's General Motors Associates would have been wowed by his up-to-date Aesop's Fable. Labor was not!

Ike's Cabinet members do not possess the rolling and ready tongue of their Roosevelt-Truman predecessors, who were drawn from lists of politicians, professors and lawyers. They were master performers in pitching their appeals to public moths, classrooms and juries. They doted on political sex instead of logics or economics. F.D.R. was their tutor.

There are only two lawyers, one they could see to it that needed military equipment, supplies and services were made available to such a nation. The United States will do its part," he said.

Panama's Ambassador Mad About Comments On Award

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Bobbo Heurtematte, the ambassador of Panama, in Washington has scored off into space uttering shrill squawks of diplomatic annoyance over my genial though not altogether fawning commentary on his bestowal of a badge on Eleanor Roosevelt. Panama was created by Theodore Roosevelt in 1903 by means of a revolution fomented for that purpose when the Senate of the Republic of Colombia which was sovereign, refused to ratify a treaty permitting the United States to finish the canal begun by some Frenchmen. Possibly there was not enough dough in the traditional black bag. The Colombian government tried to send troops to Panama City to slap down the insurgents, but American Men of War horned in and kept them from using the railroad. Our government recognized the government of Bobbo Heurtematte's republic in three days. That was that.

The population of Panama is about 800,000, mostly barefoot, about five-eighths of the country is uninhabited and, by rights, Bobbo should be a mere minister. However, diplomacy has gone grandiose in the Caribbean and we exchange ambassadors now. Bobbo, of course, wears shoes. Otherwise he could not be an ambassador.

I haven't the faintest notion who decided to hang this adornment on the girl of my somewhat troubled dreams nor why, Bobbo, himself, didn't clarify matters in the remarks attributed to him by the Washington Post which drooled like a St. Bernard in its story of the occasion. In fact, it was in my mind to ask Bobbo who picked Dreamy for the honor and just what specific acts or feats that individual had in mind which were referred to in general terms as her contributions to the intellectual, cultural and political world.

Now, Bobbo writes to the Washington Daily News, which has the honor and good fortune to publish these deathless phrases, that I have offered a gratuitous affront to his government, and then has further the flagrant indecency to describe my pear-shaped periods as drivel. Egad, you cad, we have landed Marines for less, and I warn you that my silence is not reliable shield for bounders tempting fate.

However, the fact remains that I did twice telephone Bobbo the day after the Do which was held at a restaurant called the F Street Club and that both times a telephone answering service came in and said it certainly was curious that nobody answered at the embassy because they "usually" got back to work about three in the afternoon.

I would not have blamed the guy for going AWOL because I figured the phone would be jammed all day with indignant Americans protesting against this interference with our internal politics by an accredited agent of a friendly country. Whatever his reason, Bobbo, or someone for him, did throw the switch and two calls, the latest about half past four, went into the answering service and whoever says the contrary is what Bobbo says I am, redoubled, in spades, whatever that means.

Meanwhile, however, some woman reached my humble hutch in the Mayflower by phone and left word that Senator Ambassador wouldn't want to see rude and that this was an acknowledgment of my call, possibly the first one, although I don't know.

This character identified herself as the counselor of the embassy and there was reason to believe that she was phoning from a booth, which would have been okay by me as I am a very Democratic fellow with no fastidious notions of protocol. She could have called from a gin-mill for all I cared, but I didn't get a chance to put the questions to her and, Bobbo still doesn't say who picked La Boca and what she did to deserve the bauble, however tawdry it might be as such things go, although he used up a whole tabloid column for his display of Latin temper.

Now Senator Heurtematte further says my insinuation that Panama had similarly adorned Paul Robeson, Vito Marcantonio and Harry Bridges was false, capricious and malicious and I am trying to figure out why. It seems to me that these gentlemen have made equal and in some respects similar contributions although Robeson operates in bull-dog register whereas Dreamy favors a sweetly irregular weaving squawk.

Now, to close on a practical note, I will admonish Senator Bobbo that Eleanor Roosevelt is a highly controversial character in the partisan politics of our country and that a compliment to her by a foreign government is an affront to many Americans, who cherish the Constitution above all other secular writ and the sovereignty of the United States above all other secular authority.

There isn't the slightest doubt that Heurtematte knew this because if he didn't he would be a dope and the government of Panama would waste a good job on him. Knowing this to be the fact, then, Sen Bobbo and his government elected to kick many millions of Americans smack in the teeth and if they think that is going to promote friendly relations between our two beautiful Republics the kindest verdict I can conjure is that they are a lot of crazy, mixed-up kids.

PS: The Medal was instituted some time since 1903 in memory of one Balboa who was executed as a traitor, an idea which has been in the minds of quite a few Americans in re quite a few members of the regime which Dreamy adorned.

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

INFORMATION PLEASE
Senator Arthur V. Watkins
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.
Dear Senator Watkins:

In your recent "Report of the Select Committee to Study Censure Charges" against Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, there is one statement which causes us great bewilderment, and concerning which we need further enlightenment.

After condemning Senator McCarthy for his "reprehensible" impatience with General Zwicker—"a witness who was not in any way responsible for the P. E. S. situation"—you then state: "The blame should have been placed on the shoulders of those culpable . . ."

Now — this is a most interesting suggestion! There's only one thing wrong with it, and that is — that nobody seems to be able to find out whose "shoulders" are "culpable" so that we can properly put the blame on them — like you suggest!

Indeed, wasn't it precisely this very information that Senator McCarthy was seeking in vain from General Zwicker, who seems to have been "forbidden" by both Presidential and military directives — from revealing it — and wasn't it the Senator's dogged persistence in trying to dig — or hammer — this information out of him — that led to all the trouble?

We are therefore curious. You say very clearly that "the blame should have been placed on the shoulders of those culpable" — yet an executive "iron curtain" appears to have prevented the investigation from so doing — so what should he do next? As Chairman of a Senatorial Investigating Committee — did he have the legal right to seek this information — and if it was not forthcoming, did he have the right to demand it? Conversely, is there any Presidential or military "legal" right to withhold this knowledge of "culpable" persons from Congressional investigating committees? — when such knowledge in no way involves "national security"? If not — then what steps should our Congressional representatives take to prevent this executive usurpation of the people's "right to know" what is going on?

In this connection, we read a news dispatch from Washington this morning, which said: "The solution to the mystery of who gave an honorable discharge to Maj. Irving Peress lies buried in Pentagon files." Can this be true? We recall, during the Stevens-McCarthy hearings, that the Mundt Committee ordered Army Secretary Stevens to deliver this "long-promised" information, and that he presumably did so, in an envelope marked "Confidential."

We assumed, that even though "confidential" — it, ourselves, and perhaps "intemperate" characters like the Wisconsin Senator, were to be denied this information of "culpable" army or defense officials — that at least the Mundt sub-committee "judges" in that controversy, had the right to obtain it.

But, according to today's news dispatch — the Stevens "list" of 30 odd army officers, — ranging in rank from lieutenant to general, furnishes no clue whatsoever as to how or why Peress, after defying an Army regulation, still managed to be commissioned captain, promoted to major, get his overseas orders cancelled, and finally secure an honorable discharge, even after defying a congressional inquiry into his loyalty!

There is no distinction in the Stevens list between those who acted under orders and those who may have "initiated" orders — and who (if any) of these officers is therefore "culpable" is still a mystery. Some investigators are quoted as having expressed their belief that "the person responsible for the honorable discharge of Peress — is not even listed in the Stevens report, but was presumably some high civilian official in the defense department."

We do not presume to know how much of this dispatch is rumor, or opinion, or fact. The one thing that we are absolutely sure about in this whole matter — is that neither we, nor any other Americans we know of, including Senator McCarthy, can possibly follow the recommendation made in your Committee's report — namely — to put the "blame" — "on the shoulders of those culpable" —

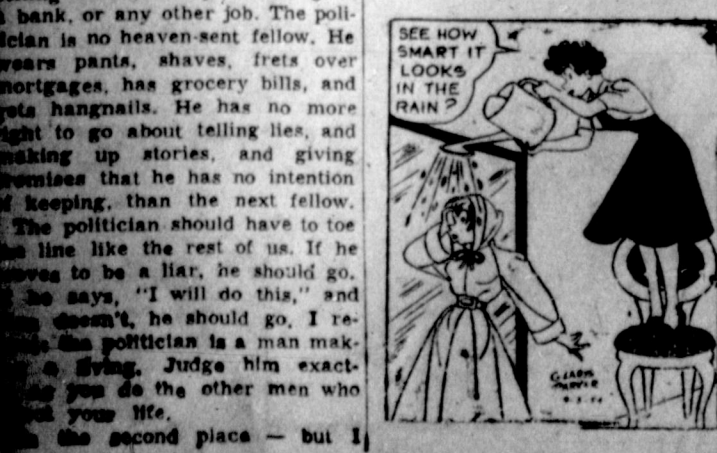

We should very much like — at this very belated date — to know once and for all, WHOSE are the "shoulders of those culpable" in the Peress case — so that — at long last, the person — or persons — responsible can be properly "blamed."

Family Can Enjoy Home Canning Fun

Home canning is one do-it-yourself project that the whole family can enjoy since every jar of food you put up now means delicious eating for the months ahead. It's easy when done properly, thrifty too, and gives you a wholesome feeling of satisfaction at being able to produce a part of your own food supply.

The first step towards making your home canning more fun is to plan before you start to can. Make a list of the kinds and amounts of food you want to put up. You'll find it more interesting to can smaller quantities of a variety of things rather than only one or two fruits or vegetables.

Plan your canning to take advantage of crops at their peak — when quality is best, quantity adequate and prices reasonable.

The second step is to make sure your equipment is in top condition. Examine your jars and caps and get additional supplies while stores still have an ample stock. Check the seal and control valve of your pressure canner and follow the manufacturer's instructions for cleaning and adjusting. The pressure gauge should be tested every year — your dealer, or a county agricultural agent, can do this for you.

Remember — the quality of your finished products is dependent upon proper processing, using the right type of home canning equipment in the best operating condition.

The third step, of course, is to use only fresh, ripe, tender fruits and vegetables — since home canning cannot improve food, but will keep it in the condition it is when the cap is put on the jar. So — the shorter the time from the garden to the jar, the better the result.

Freeze Cranberries For Year-Round Use

MADISON, Wis. — UP — Cranberries no longer are merely a holiday treat.

The University of Wisconsin homes economics department reports that many persons now freeze cranberries during the fall and winter months for use all year.

The best way to prepare them is to put the packaged berries into the freezer just as they come from the market. Sugar may be added when the berries thaw.

Raw cranberry relishes are a favorite with meat and poultry. It's a good idea to grind enough relish combinations. Keep them frozen until you want to serve them as a relish or use them as a basis for a gelatin salad.

For a quick dessert, blend gingersnaps crumbs with softened butter and a little sugar and press against the sides and bottom of duster cups or a piepan. Chill, then fill with a layer of sliced bananas, nuts and top with vanilla pudding.

In the words of a popular British journal, published a century ago, "Next to Habeas Corpus and freedom of the press, there are few things that the English people have a greater respect for and live their faith in than beef."

Twentieth-century Americans are by no means second to the nineteenth-century British in their appreciation of beef. Happily for everyone, beef is not only plentiful, but lower priced than it has been in years. It is lean beef, grass-fed on the spacious plains, then brought straight to market without a period of fattening on corn. This beef has the complete high quality protein, B vitamins and essential minerals found in all meat. Lean beef suggests stew — a delectable dish that offers the cook infinite variety.

Don't suppose for a moment that the cuts of beef you use for stew are the "most unkindest cuts of all." On the contrary; treat them with the respect they deserve and they will repay you handsomely with their rich flavor and inviting aroma. The secret of a triumphant stew is long, slow cooking, and let it be said at once that the slow is as important as the long. A barely perceptible simmer does right by stew; a furious boil will inevitably lead to disaster.

There are other signposts which point the way to resplendent stew. Two kinds of stew exist, brown and white, the difference lying in whether you brown the meat before simmering it. If you elect to make a brown stew, dry the meat well before browning, so that its first plunge will be into fat alone rather than fat mixed with water. Moreover, stew presents crowding in the pot. If you attempt to brown too many pieces simultaneously, the temperature of fat and pot will turn battleship gray instead of the toasty brown you had in mind.

Once you have browned your meat to a turn, go easy on the liquid. Whatever liquid you use will naturally tend to increase as cooking goes forward. This occurs because you are using a tightly closed pot which reduces evaporation to a minimum, while the meat juice swells the quantity of fluid. Use enough liquid just to cover meat and vegetables, but not a bit more.

Vegetables of course mean fresh vegetables, and they should be treated with the same consideration you accord the meat. Some schools of thought prefer to brown certain vegetables before adding them to the stew; they may sprinkle a bit of sugar on onions, for instance, to ensure the proper golden hue. Others like to cook fresh vegetables such as peas separately, adding them to the stew at serving time. But whether you prepare your vegetables on the side or as part of the main dish, cool them just to tenderness and not beyond it. The meat should be well along toward succulence before you put in the peas.

You can see in your mind's eye that yours will be a stew of gay color and rare flavor if you follow these few simple rules. The savory brown meat, the bright garden vegetables, the full-bodied gravy combine to a harmonious whole guaranteed to please the man of the house, the little woman (that's you) and the honored guest equally well. Here is an example of true economy: money saved and dinner better than ever.

Cat-Shaped Cookies Treat For Halloween

NEW YORK — UP — It's time to plan for Halloween treats for the children of the neighborhood. If it's a party you're giving, line up the treats on a buffet and circle them with mugs of sweet apple cider or hot cocoa. One treat to please the children is a peanut butter cookie, baked in the shape of a cat. Here's how:

1 cup sifted enriched flour; 1 teaspoon of baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup shortening; 1/2 cup peanut butter; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 egg; and 1 1/2 cups rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked).

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt in a bowl. Add the shortening, peanut butter, brown sugar and egg. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Blend in the rolled oats.

Now sprinkle a bread board generously with confectioners' sugar. Roll the dough to 1/4 inch thickness, and cut with a cat-shaped cutter. Baked on ungreased sheets in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool and decorate with confectioners' sugar frosting.

MAKING SALAD — Mrs. Rufe Jordan is pureeing cranberries for her cranberry-pineapple salad. Pureeing means putting through a colander or sieve until the cranberries make a smooth puree, without skins. Mrs. Jordan says the salad is nice for picnics. It is especially timely, as this is the time of year for cranberries. (News photo)

Pampa News Women's Editor

A busy Pampa housewife who loves to cook is Mrs. Rufe Jordan, wife of Gray County's Sheriff. Mrs. Jordan says she never knows when to get a meal as her husband's lunch period is very likely to be interrupted or delayed.

A Panpan for 22 years, Mrs. Jordan cooks for her husband and herself, as her daughter, Anne, is now Mrs. Wayne McMurtry.

Although her cooking and house-keeping keep her pretty busy, Mrs. Jordan finds time to be active in many civic organizations. She has held offices in numerous clubs in the past and was named Woman of the Year by the Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She is now a director of BNP, is serving her third year on the Red Cross board, and is in her second year as a member of the United Fund board of directors. She is also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and is a supply teacher in the young people's department of the First Baptist Church.

One of Mrs. Rufe Jordan's recipes that is good for this time of year with Thanksgiving and Christmas in the offing is for a cranberry-pineapple salad. She says it is nice for a luncheon and goes well with a chicken casserole. Mrs. Jordan, by the way, says she loves to have people in for meals.

CRANBERRY - PINEAPPLE SALAD

Drain 1 No. 2 (1 lb. 4 oz.) can crushed pineapple. Reserve the syrup. Soften 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin in 1/2 cup syrup drained from pineapple. Wash and stem 6 cups fresh cranberries. Add 3/4 cups boiling water and 2 cups sugar. Cook cranberries gently 10 minutes or until they burst. Puree while hot (put through a sieve or colander to get a smooth puree without skins.) Add 1-8 tsp. salt and the softened gelatin. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until mixture is thick but not set. Fold in drained, crushed pineapple and 2 cups token grapes, cut in half and seeded. Little seedless grapes are best. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. It is well to leave this salad in refrigerator overnight. Serve in lettuce cups with avocado dressing. Fill the small molds 2-3 full and you'll have 12 salads.

AVOCADO DRESSING

Beat 2 tbsp. light cream with 2-3-oz. packages cream cheese. Gradually add 2 tbsp. lemon juice, 2-tbsp. vinegar, 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1-8-tsp. dry mustard. Lastly fold in 3-4 cups mashed or pureed avocados.

Fruit And Vegetable Buying Guide Is Out

WASHINGTON — UP — What month is the best for buying artichokes? When are blackberries likely to be cheapest? Or broccoli or beets?

The answers to these food buying questions are answered in a new guide published by the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association. The guide, covering 102 fruits and vegetables, shows the percentage of the annual supply of any one crop available in each month.

It also shows average annual supplies — for provide easy figuring for housewives.

For example, of about 2,555,000,000 pounds of bananas available each year, you can buy about 20 per cent of them in May and June.

Some of the products still have startlingly small periods of availability despite modern refrigeration and rapid transportation. The housewife who knows such facts beforehand, is likely to find marketing easier and bills lower.

For example, all of the average two million pounds of fresh raspberries available annually come to market in June and July; 63 per cent of the fig supply is available in August and September; 82 per cent of all crenshaws in September and October.

To get back where we started, April is the best month for artichokes; August for blackberries; October for broccoli and July for beets.

When lemons become dry, you can soften them by soaking them in cold water.

Empty butter or margarine cartons are convenient for molding cookie dough which is to be stored in the refrigerator for chilling.

Cranberry Syrup Can Dress-Up Pancakes

NEW YORK — UP — Give pancakes a new taste appeal by serving them with a cranberry-flavored syrup. Add 1/4 of a medium-sized grated lemon and 2 cups of raw chopped cranberries to 1 cup maple-blended syrup. Mix well and chill for several hours to blend the flavors. Then heat, and serve warm on pancakes.

Extending Leftovers

NEW YORK — UP — Noodles, spaghetti and macaroni all make fine extenders for left over foods. This hearty recipe combines egg noodles with left over turkey. Combine 1 No. 2 can of sliced okra, drained; 1 canned pimiento, chopped; 2 cups diced cooked turkey. Add 1/2 teaspoon thyme and mix all ingredients well. Cook over low heat until it reaches serving temperature and turn onto heated platter with 8 ounces of cooked noodles.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

It's worse than bad manners, it's downright unfeeling to drop an old friend like a hot potato just because you've found a new friend. Yet some people go through life replacing one friend with another, instead of adding new friends to old.

Maybe that's why they only have one friend — the current favorite.

XXXII

JIM closed his hand into a fist. "I washed back through the hole and out the other end. I got in the jeep and drove around to this side. But what were you doing all that time?"

"Sitting," Nancy admitted. "Sitting and shaking. I really felt hemmed in, Jim. I thought I sat there for days and days."

"Good thing you waited so long," Jim muttered.

Nancy closed her eyes. "That time when I tried, I moved one of the rocks a little. It rolled, and I tried to squirm through. Then the rock rolled again, and I was caught. The lashes of her tightly closed eyes were wet suddenly. "Don't let them tell you drowning's an easy death, Jim. Not when you're caught like that. I couldn't move because the rock pressed tighter and tighter. Then something grabbed my arm. I tried to yell and the water—came everywhere."

Jim Dunn watched her struggle with past terror, could see the effort she was making to conquer it.

"Next thing I knew," Nancy said in a stronger voice, "was when you were pushing and pounding at me, and I just had on a few shreds. I must say—she hesitated and then changed her flippant tone to one of real sincerity. "Must say I felt awfully good. I was glad to see you, Jim. Famous understatement."

He leaned over and kissed her. It started as a gentle salute to an invalid. It changed.

PHILIP STONEMAN and Jim, wearing swimming trunks, walked toward the upper entrance of the cavern. "You're getting pretty tough, chum," Philip said. "I mean coming right out that way and saying you wanted two women to sit with your wife because you didn't trust any one of them alone."

Jim shook his head. He folded the plastic pillow-case he had borrowed from a deck chair into a smaller bundle. "Not tonight, yet. And I want to thank you—for your help with Nancy."

"Let's not get sloppy, chum."

Between them the three rocks were moved easily, carried to the ledge again.

Stoneman strapped on the wrist watch he had removed before entering the water.

"What time have you?" Jim asked. His own wrist watch had certainly proved the makers' claims of being waterproof.

"Three-thirty on the nose," Philip said.

Jim set his own watch back two minutes to correspond. "Take my jeep," he ordered, "and drive around to The Spire. That'll take you about 25 minutes. I'll wait here until exactly four o'clock, then come through the stream bed. I want to see how long it takes."

"Better you than me," Philip said. "In fact, am I necessary in this at all?"

"A witness," Jim said. "Or maybe I want you there for an object lesson."

Philip nodded, turned to go and then stopped to favor Jim with one of his nicest smiles. "I don't suppose it occurred to you that I might be waiting on the other side. With a club."

At exactly four o'clock he stepped again into the water, dove to pass easily through the enlarged opening. He surfaced in the cavern where Nancy had known fear. The large square candle still burned, and with it a flicker. Jim pulled himself up on the rocky bank, felt the glassy-eyed stare of the doll. He made certain the money, letter and bracelet were still intact.

McLean Needs Cotton Pullers

"The cotton harvest at McLean is coming along in good order, but there is still a sore need for pullers," County Agent R. A. P.

Thomas said Wednesday. Total gainings has reached over 600 bales, and according to Thomas, the quality is good, "most of it being middling."

Principal Lauded For Whipping Boy

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21.—UP—Roy C. Johnson, assistant principal of Striping Junior high school here, Wednesday had a pat on the back for paddle swats he administered last Friday to Jack Johnston, 11.

The Tarrant county grand jury commended him for his treatment of the youth, and no-billed the complaint made by the boy's mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston.

The punishment was dealt out to young Johnston and three other youths for an alleged showing of pocket knives during an argument. Jack was back in class Wednesday after several days' absence, Principal Weldon Lucas reported.

Ohio 'Ghost' Farm Takes On Prominence Near Halloween

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 21.—UP—The smaller fry are steering clear of the old Swartzel farm in Montgomery county on these dark October nights. When Halloween just around the corner, the ghosts out there seem too real for comfort.

Not that the farm is really haunted, it just gives you the creeps.

Fellow named Winter Zero Swartzel, whose imagination was as improbable as his name, spent a lifetime turning his farm into a devil's playground.

The farm, if you can call it that, is planted with wooden poles. Hundreds of bottles and tin cans and odd-sized bells dangle from the poles. When the wind rises the bottles tinkle, the cans rattle and the bells begin to chime.

It sound like discordant echoes of "McNamara's Band" played by some demented shades.

Swartzel, who was said to have

Debbie, Eddie Are Engaged

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21.—UP—Debbie Reynolds confirmed Thursday — four days ahead of schedule — that she and singer Eddie Fisher are engaged and plan to be married next June.

The actress and the crooner, regarded by the younger generation as the most romantic Hollywood couple in years, had planned to announce their engagement Saturday morning when Fisher arrives from New York with a diamond ring.

But the secret leaked out Tuesday night when Eddie Cantor, who sponsored Fisher's career, issued invitations for a Saturday night cocktail party honoring Debbie and Eddie.

Many Ills Laid To Noise

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—UP—Experts warned the National Safety Congress Wednesday that the effect of factory noise on workers' hearing is becoming a major industrial hazard.

Extensive research is needed to fight the problem and employees' claims for compensation meanwhile can have important effects on the American Way of Life, they said.

Dr. H. G. Kobrak of the University of Chicago told the NAC's annual convention that no sound in nature can hurt the human ear as much as those made by man.

"The continuous noise of a machine shop or a weaving mill poses problems for the two middle ear muscles," he said. "The human ear is simply not prepared to cope with stimuli of this magnitude and suddenness."

Dr. Aram Glorig, director of research at the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology at Los Angeles, agreed that there is overwhelming evidence that industrial din affects hearing and speech communication.

However, he said, much more research is needed to find out how much noise will result in how much hearing loss.

He added there is no scientific basis for claims that noise causes nervousness, fatigue, inefficiency, sterility and even death.

LAST WEEK I TOLD of my friend's troubles getting her sweet potatoes candied and asked if someone would please tell me how as I have never made them. While at the football game with Joyce Francis (Mrs. Buck) she mentioned she knew of a quick and easy way. Today I called her and this is what she told me.

INTO A FRYING PAN, place water and sugar. Joyce wasn't sure of the exact measurement and said it depended on the amount of sweet potatoes you use. However, she said about 3-4 of an inch or about 1 cup sugar and 1 1/2 cups water. Peel and quarter the sweet potatoes. When the sugar-water mixture is starting to boil, add the sweet potatoes. Cook for about 20 or 30 minutes. This way the potatoes cook and candy at the same time.

Joyce says the longer way is to make the syrup and cook the sweet potatoes separately. Then pour the syrup over the cooked sweet potatoes. Thank you, Joyce.

RUTH MILLET

"If my husband would just come home some evening and notice all the things I HAVE done during the day, instead of looking for something I haven't done to complain about, I would feel as though I'd won a medal."

The wife who wrote that in her letter goes on to ask, "What can you do about a husband who always overlooks the things he could praise and always looks for the things he can criticize? I've grown to dread my husband's coming home at night, for I know there is sure to be something he can find fault with."

Quit dreading his homecomings, and quit feeling sorry for yourself. Neither will get you anywhere. Next time your husband looks for something to complain about, take him by the hand and lead him from room to room.

Keep your temper and maintain a light touch as you say something like: "Just this once, I want to take you on a personally conducted tour of this house, to show you what I HAVE done today."

Skip nothing, from the beds that have been made, the washing and ironing done, the closets straightened, the results of the errands run right on down to the dinner cooking in the oven.

If you're an average housewife, by the time you have finished checking off everything you have done during your day, your husband will be worn out just hearing about the number and variety of jobs you have accomplished.

And there is a good chance that in the future he will hesitate before finding fault.

Any husband who has no idea of what his wife does during the day needs to have it pointed out to him.

And nobody can do that — but his wife.

Latest Cookbooks Are Time Savers

NEW YORK — UP— New cookbooks cater to the busy homemaker who wants to save time in cooking and planning her meals. Latest in the time-saving cookbooks is one which gets away completely from the time-honored method of listing recipes as meats, salads, desserts, breads and so on. This one, Betty Crocker's "Good and Easy Cook Book" (Simon and Schuster) groups them under the heading—breakfast, lunch, dinner and "the fourth meal."

"The fourth meal" covers miscellaneous cooking — from mid-morning coffee breaks with the neighbors to a formal open house.

Another new general cookbook, "The Betty Furness Westinghouse Cookbook" (Simon and Schuster), uses the traditional method of listing recipes, but has a helpful new gimmick, a household hint at the end of most of the recipes. For instance, the recipe for apple dumplings and with this trick—brush top of dumpling with white of egg slightly beaten and sprinkle with powder sugar before putting in the oven.

The market for the specialized cookbooks seems endless. New in this group are the "Family Circle Dessert and Fruit Cookbook" and "Home Freezing" (M. Barrows and Co., New York). The fruit cookbook (Family Circle magazine) is billed as the first comprehensive one devoted largely to the 32 fruits and berries available in fresh, frozen, dried or canned form. It also covers seasons, availability, buying and storing qualities and dessert uses for the fruits.

"After each part is washed, it should be rinsed with a cloth wrung from clear water and then wiped dry.

"To keep the outside of the refrigerator attractive, wash it with soap and warm water, rinse, dry and then apply kitchen wax polish."

PANAMINT CABBAGE SALAD of green and red cabbage is as tasty as it is colorful.

Red And Green Cabbage Blend Into Colorful Salad

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Here's a colorful crisp salad. We learned about it in Southern California where the Panamint Range with its startling colors suggested the idea of blending soft green cabbage, gaudy red cabbage, and deep green Western pascal celery and golden carrots.

PANAMINT CABBAGE SALAD (Makes 6 servings)
Two cups shredded green cabbage, 1 cup shredded red cabbage, 1 cup sliced celery, 1/2 cup shredded carrots, creamy French dressing.

Combine and toss in large salad bowl. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

CREAMY FRENCH DRESSING
One small clove garlic, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, fresh ground pepper, 2-3 cup salad oil, 1-3 cup wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, 1-3 cup heavy cream.
If you are the owner of a mortar and pestle this is the place to use it. Rub the garlic, salt and pepper in the mortar. Continue rubbing until garlic is completely blended with salt and pepper. Or — cut garlic into pieces on a chopping board and sprinkle with the salt and pepper. Mash garlic and seasonings together with the flat side of a knife blade and continue until garlic is completely blended. Combine the garlic-seasoned salt and pepper with the remaining ingredients. Allow to "ripen" for several hours before serving.

GREEN-GOLD CARROTS
Two bunches or 2 packages carrots, 2 tablespoons very finely cut green onions (tops and all) or 2 tablespoons grated dry onion, butter or margarine, salt and pepper. Scrape or pare carrots thinly. Dice or cut into slices or strips. Cook, covered, in 1 inch of boiling salted water until just tender — 10 to 20 minutes. Add onion while carrots are cooking. Serve at once seasoned with butter or margarine and salt and pepper.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend,
Just love reading the wonderful advice that you give others, that's why I'm writing to you now, hoping you could give me a little information.

First of all, I want you to explain to me what an annulment is. And second, I would like to know how we have to have a final judgment of divorce: Do we have to write asking for it, or do we have to go to court?

It's a little more than a year now that my husband divorced in a Long Beach, Calif. court, and I have heard that you have to have a final judgment of divorce before you marry someone else.

As you can see, I'm his common law wife, have been for four years now, and have three young children.

Last, I would like very much to know just what your opinion is on this matter, if you think they could reduce the support that my husband has to send to his 11-year-old son? He has to send 15 dollars every 15 days.

We heard she had remarried so I think they should and must have enough to help support the boy, too. And, too, they don't have any other children.

At that time when they both went to court we only had one child. And my husband makes only 50 dollars a week and gets paid every two weeks.

All his money seems to go to food and paying bills. And we hardly have anything left to buy clothes that we need.

So here I'm thanking you from the bottom of my heart for just anything you have to say. I know my husband will appreciate it very much too.

Thank you,
Penelope
Dear Penelope
An annulment of a marriage may be obtained when fraud can be shown. For example, if one of the couple is already married. Or when the health of one of the couple has been misrepresented.

You have to apply for a final decree and usually the lawyer takes care of the matter although you probably will have to remind him to file the final papers.

Your husband, as the father of the boy, is naturally responsible for his support regardless of whom the mother has married. Her new husband is no more responsible for the boy's care than you are. It might be that the court would lower his payments considering his obligations to his other children.

Miss Mattie Stanley And Bill R. Mitchell Wed In Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN — Miss Mattie Ruth Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Putman of Skellytown, and Bill Rayford Mitchell, son of Clell Mitchell and the late Mrs. Mitchell of Eldorado, Okla., were married at 6 p.m. Oct. 9, in the First Baptist Church of Skellytown. Rev. Eugene Brand officiated during the ceremony.

The bride wore a navy blue dress suit with white accessories and carried her mother's white wedding Bible. The couple's only attendants were the bride's parents.

The bride attended White Deer High School. The bridegroom was graduated from Eldorado High School and served three years with the Navy, part of that time in Korea. The couple will be at home in Dunsmuir where the bridegroom is employed at the Shamrock Gasoline plant.

Parent Education Club Has Program On History, Names

Mrs. Tom Rose, 1801 Chaplins, was hostess Tuesday to the meeting of the Parent Education Club. First portion of the program, "Study Club Parade," was presented by Mrs. Gene Fatheree. She told of the history of the organization from its inauguration in 1949 up to the present time.

"Your Name and You" was given by Mrs. Z. B. Deer, Jr. She explained how family names in America originated mostly from the British. She also told of the popular Polish, Italian and Irish family names. To stress the importance of using a middle initial, Mrs. Deer pointed out that after World War II, the army had 18,000 John Smiths on file, 8,000 of whom had no middle initial.

Following the program, refreshments were served. Attending were Meses. Jack Foster, R. C. Goodyrn, H. L. Gunter, R. M. Hampton, George Hofessa, Bud Johnson, Julian Key, Myron Marx, Jr., Rex Rose, Tom Rose, A. L. Smalley, Jr., Z. B. Deer, Jr., Gene Fatheree, George Snell, Bob Vail, J. B. Veale and C. C. Whitney, Jr.

Short Ribs Popular With Tangy Sauce

Rich, full flavor of beef short ribs makes them a popular choice for serving with a barbecue sauce. Here's another short rib recipe destined to be a favorite, says Reba Staggs, home economist. The economical beef cuts are slowly braised in a spicy raisin sauce.

Short Ribs with Raisin Sauce
3 pounds beef short ribs
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt
Pepper
1 onion, quartered
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1-4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 bay leaf
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup raisins

Cut ribs into serving pieces and brown in own fat or a small amount of lard or drippings. Pour salt and pepper. Add quartered onion. Combine remaining ingredients and bring to a boil. Pour over short ribs. Cover closely and cook slowly about 2 hours or until meat is tender. Thicken sauce if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Instead of cutting a paper for the bird cage each morning, cut six or eight papers; place them in a cage and then remove the top one as required.

BABY

Death occurs in the near family. There's no need to keep it from the young child. What he wants to know is that he and you and father won't die for a long, long time; that you will be able to be together until he is quite a grown-up person. And don't, please, tell him that Aunt Ann is taking a long sleep or that she's sleeping in the ground. This according to a leading authority, is the origin of the buried alive nightmares children have. She is gone (to heaven if you wish) but not sleeping. Don't take the child to the funeral.

As the cold weather comes on, you will wonder if Baby is warm enough. You know by now that his hands and feet are always cold. Judge by the warmth of his legs and arms. Don't overbundle him to get those feet warm. He doesn't need a hot house, either. Keep the temperature in the home even, at about 72 degrees. If it gets chillier at night, let him sleep in a sweater, not a bale of blankets.

It's the rainy day when everything will seem to go wrong with you and Baby. Get dressed as waterproofed as you can, cover the carriage blanket with a plastic tablecloth and go out. You both need to get out of the house. If he's stroller size, dress him in waterproof clothes and stroll. Rain is kind of fun for him, even if it seems bothersome to you. But the walk will do you good, too.

Smoked Pork Butt Given New Glaze

Especially for the men in the family, here's an idea for a good, old-time supper. Serve smoked pork butt — but give it extra-special treatment by studding it closely with even rows of whole cloves and baking it with a thick glaze which combines applesauce, brown sugar, spices and beer.

A beer glaze for baked ham is a familiar flavor builder, but the addition of applesauce and the application on a small pork butt are features which put today's recipe in the news.

GLAZED SMOKED PORK BUTT
2 boned smoked pork butts (1 1/2 pounds each)
Whole cloves
1 cup applesauce
2-3 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup beer

Simmer pork in water to cover 45 minutes. Cool in cooking water, drain. Stud top surfaces with even rows of whole cloves. Mix together applesauce, brown sugar, spices and beer. Spread thickly over tops and sides of meat. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 1 hour. Makes 12 hearty slices or enough for 8 hungry people. Serve hot or cold with caraway-seasoned sauerkraut and baked yams.

Members present were Meses. Delbert Hill, James Taylor, Don R. Swadley, Howard Johnson, Porter Brooks, Bob Plummer, A. L. Smalley, Jr., McCarter, Rose and Tomlin; and Miss Geneva Covall. Rev. Porter Brooks was a guest.

Pampa Women Win Penwomen Offices

Three Pampa women were elected to offices in the Panhandle Penwomen's organization during a meeting of the group Tuesday in the Amarillo Country Club. They were Mrs. Otis Nace, to serve on the board of directors; Mrs. John Campbell, first vice-president in charge of programming; and Mrs. Lorene Locke, secretary. Mrs. Nace is out-going president, having held that office for two years.

Featured speaker was Mrs. Tom Sappington of Borger, who spoke on "Contesting." Mrs. Sappington recently won a $25,000 award in a national contest.

Among the sales of short stories, articles and books reported were three short stories by Mrs. Nace and an article by Miss Helene Huff also of Pampa. Mrs. Lillian Zamora was elected to membership.

The meeting began Monday with an evening workshop, during which some members read manuscripts which were discussed and criticized by the group.

Attending from Pampa were Meses. John Campbell, Otis Nace, Lorene Locke, and Lillian Zamora.

SCHOOL NURSES CONFERENCE

School nurses in the Panhandle area are attending a two-day conference at White Deer Elementary School. At yesterday's opening session are shown, seated left to right: Mrs. Lois Stevens of Hamline; Mrs. Ruby Ripperton, consultant for the State Health Department; J. A. Jenkins, Lipscomb County Judge and Miss Ella Patton, RN, consultant for the State Health Department. Standing, left to right: Titus Peacock, principal of White Deer School; B. R. Nuckols, Gray County School Superintendent and Mrs. Dorothy McMurtry, White Deer School nurse.

Ranchers Are Granted Trial Change

GOLDTHWAITE, Tex., Oct. 21 — UP — Two Brady ranchers, charged with emasculating a Fort Hod Army sergeant at the home of a widow last July 4, were granted a change of venue Wednesday when a jury couldn't be completed to try them here.

Charges against the two, Roy Bayton, 58, and David Dutton, 46, will be heard the first Monday in November in the Williamson county District Court.

They were accused of emasculating Sgt. Clyde Bennett and trying to emasculate Sgt. Charles Mitchell. The ranchers and the two sergeants were in court here Wednesday, but ignored each other.

Lawyers went through one jury panel and a second special venire, but wound up with only seven jurors. Then defense attorneys asked for a change of venue, a request previously denied, and received it.

The defense attorneys had been questioning each prospective juror closely, because, they said, the case received wide publicity and they wanted only men with little knowledge of the case as possible.

Two Millionth Expected At Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 21 — UP — The two-millionth visitor is expected to crowd through the gates of the 1954 State Fair of Texas Thursday, but he won't be given any special welcome.

Fair officials said such a customer has gone through the gates every year since 1949 and they planned no special ceremony. However, if a 2,382,713th customer shows up before the fair closes Sunday, he will be honored for putting the attendance one above the 1953 figure.

Approximately 2,400,000 persons are expected to attend the fair, which would put it over the national record figure of 2,387,140 established by the 1952 State Fair of Texas.

A relatively light crowd of 75,000 persons was expected at the fair Thursday, when special "days" honored the Army Mothers Club, junior steer and pig exhibitors, and a Terrell State hospital group.

The 60-member Tessieband Band from Texas State College for Women at Denton was scheduled to play at 4 p.m. today.

Wednesday, 81,726 visitors went through the gates, pushing total attendance for the 69th state fair to 1,967,409.

Baptists Asked To Abide By Supreme Court School Rule

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21 — UP — A church leader told Texas Baptists Wednesday both the world and God are watching what Baptists of the South do about race relations and "we can not afford, under God, to sit around and whine about what the Supreme Court has done."

The Baptist General Convention of Texas, a jurisdiction of the Southern Baptist Convention, simultaneously urged in a resolution "initiative at once in working out a Christian solution of our race problem."

Texas Baptists also learned Wednesday night that the convention has gained more than $2 million in endowment this year and heard a talk by Alvin Dark, shortstop of the New York Giants world championship baseball team.

Talk by Alvin Dark, Dark, who lives at Lake Charles, La., flew to Fort Worth Wednesday.

The convention also adopted a record $17 million budget for 1955, an increase of $2 million over this year's budget, as recommended by Dr. Wallace Bassett of Dallas.

The race relations resolution took no specific stand on segregation or integration. It did caution Texas Baptists not to allow "demagogues or radicals to rob us as Christians of that moral leadership which God wants us to exert in the solution of this problem which is primarily moral and spiritual."

"World is Watching" Dr. Foy Valentine of Dallas, director of the Christian Life Commission, told the convention the world was watching Southern Baptists but "what is more important, God is watching."

Former U. S. Code Expert Is Indicted

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 21 — UP — A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted ousted code expert Joseph Sidney Petersen Jr., on espionage act charges of improperly taking defense secrets "with intent and reason to believe it would be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation."

The foreign nation, not mentioned by the grand jury, has been identified as The Netherlands.

The grand jury indicted the former $7,700-a-year research analyst for the hush-hush National Security Agency on three counts.

The second count said he "knowingly and willfully used in a manner prejudicial to the safety and interest of the United States" secret information regarding the communications and intelligence activities of this and other governments.

The third count charged that the 40-year-old Petersen "did willfully and unlawfully conceal and remove" documents and papers entrusted to his care by the National Security Agency.

Although the indictment did not say so, the government says Petersen improperly gave secret defense information to Col. J. A. Verkuyl, a representative of Holland. The indictment does not, however, charge that Petersen actually transmitted defense documents themselves to anyone.

The grand jury returned its indictment in Federal District Judge Albert V. Bryan at about 10:30 a. m. on Wednesday after deliberating since Monday. It had heard testimony of five witnesses, including a top-level code expert. Petersen was fired from his job Oct. 1 and was arrested by the FBI Oct. 9.

One of the reported principal functions of the super-secret National Security Agency, an instrument of the Defense Department, is the making and breaking of secret codes.

Wholesale Food Prices Decline

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 — UP — Wholesale food prices declined for the fourth consecutive week to touch a new 1954 low on the Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., index released Wednesday.

The new figure of $6.59 is the lowest since the $6.53 index for the week ended Nov. 24, 1953. It compared with $6.64 in the previous week, $6.54 last year and was 10.6 percent above the pre-Korea $5.96.

On the index, which represents the sum total of 31 foods in general use, 10 declined, eight advanced while 13 held unchanged from the previous week.

Soviet Gals Come Only In 3 Sizes

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 — UP — Best information I get from the Iron Curtain is that the Russians now are making women's clothes in only three sizes. Like we make men's pajamas.

Small, medium and large.

Behind the veil, there is no attention to a girl's figure. No respect for things that should be accentuated.

According to "Aj Marcus," a periodical of the Hungarian youth organization which was received here, "There are dresses only for the stout, the small or the tall, for aged women and no dresses at all for the working women."

If a gal happens to be stout, about all she can get is a gown that covers her and doesn't show off her charms. As the state dress factories of Hungary look at it: "We are... turning out dresses, but for whom?... we need to take new measurements and create new varieties in dress sizes."

In the day before Communism the ladies of Hungary would stand on the ramp in a fashion contest against any gal from Atlantic City, New York or Paris. Now what does she look like? A peasant, that's what she looks like in a straight-down night-gown for a dress!

But the ladies from Hungary reportedly are not taking their plight without a fight. They are resentful against the regime which compels them to look like ladies dressed in flour sacks that do not fit.

"Aj Marcus" writes, regarding the problem in Hungary: "Conditions are not as satisfactory as they should be. Customers often receive fabrics produced at a high cost and of poor quality."

The publication suggests that pictures of women's fashions should be printed in color "in a new fashion magazine which also... should contain reports about government activities."

Propaganda likely is coming up in fashion pictures and if it has anything to do with the gowns of our ladies, Christian Dior will groan.

Atomic 'Trash' May Prove Useful As Food Preservative

BOSTON, Oct. 20 — UP — The day is coming when atomic "trash" may be used to preserve meat for nearly a month and to keep potatoes from spoiling for as long as two years.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission reported this Wednesday in a speech prepared for the New England Council here.

He said the AEC is trying to find uses for waste from atomic factories instead of just keeping it from endangering people. One of the "most promising" prospects, he said, is the preservation of food.

The AEC has been working with the Army in studying this possibility and some startling results already have been achieved, the AEC chairman reported.

For example, he said when potatoes are exposed to a mild dose of gamma radiation — the radio-active element of atomic waste — and kept at 50 degrees Fahrenheit, they "exhibit such an increased shelf life that there is no evidence of spoilage or sprouting for periods up to two years."

Palace Hotel Face Lifting Includes TV

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21 — UP — They're going to put television in every room of San Francisco's famous old Palace hotel, and if William Sharon were alive today he probably would approve.

Sharon was the gold rush millionaire who built the Palace more than 75 years ago. The Sheraton hotel chain has just bought it for a reported $6.1 million and announced plans to modernize it with such features as television sets for all the guests.

Sharon spent $5 million to build the Palace in 1875 and give the lusty, booming city of San Francisco the most sumptuous hotel west of the Rockies. If television had been available then, the Palace most certainly would have had it.

The old Palace was a monument to Victorian extravagance down to the 9,000 cuspidors in its rooms and halls. Its restaurant was outfitted with 9,000 plates and 8,800 side dishes.

Perhaps no hotel was ever more aptly named. It catered to the lavish demands of miners and traders and financiers in the gill-edged era of San Francisco's rise to commercial prominence. It became a West Coast institution.

Prohibited Romance Said Suicide Cause

LAPORTE, Tex., Oct. 21 — UP — Linda Hershberger, 16, shot herself to death here Tuesday night after a family dispute involving her dating of a new boy friend.

Justice of the Peace Caldwell Ewing said the girl locked herself in her room and apparently shot herself in the head while her mother and brothers were watching television in another part of the house.

The body was discovered when the mother later tried to enter the room and found it locked. Linda was lying on the bed, her father's .38 caliber revolver still in her hand.

Ewing returned a verdict of suicide.

Harvesters Leave For Abilene Tilt

VETERAN LINEMAN—This leaping gentleman is John Thomas, letterman guard on the Abilene team. Thomas, 184-pound starter, was a defensive terror in the Eagle line last year. He has been one of the outstanding Abilene men up front this season, both on offense and defense. He is a senior. (Abilene Reporter News Photo)

Fulenwider, Neef Definitely Out

The Fighting Harvesters left at 8 a.m. today bound for Abilene where Friday night they'll meet the high-flying Abilene Eagles in a District 1-AAAA contest.

The Harvesters will drive to Sweetwater today where they'll stop overnight before completing their journey to Abilene. The Green and Golders will hold a light workout upon arrival in Sweetwater.

Thirty-seven Harvesters made the trip to Abilene. Only guard Jerry Neef was left behind. Neef has been ill all week and he wasn't feeling well enough today to make the trip.

Bill Fulenwider, halfback, will not suit for the game but he made the trip. Fulenwider is still suffering from a broken foot. Harold Lewis, star fullback for the Green and Golders, missed yesterday's workout because of illness but he made the trip to Abilene. Whether Lewis will be ready for full-time duty Friday remains to be seen. He is suffering from a virus infection.

Friday's game will mark the return of tackle Ben Sturgeon who has missed all of the Harvesters games to date with a broken foot. Sturgeon, a 203-pounder, is one of only five returning lettermen on the Harvesters roster this season. Sturgeon won't be ready for full-time duty Friday but he is expected to bolster the Harvesters line when he is in, especially on defense.

The Harvesters will be distinct underdogs in Friday's game as the Eagles currently are ranked third in the state and are setting the pace in the District 1-AAAA chase. Abilene has won her first two conference games.

Following are the boys who made the trip to Abilene: Backs include Robert Fleming, Jimmy Alvey, Don Hinton, Buddy Sharp, Bill Fulenwider, Bobby Marlar, Billy Thornton, Carl Blomquist, Joe Cook, Harlan Boyle, Gene Emerson, Ben Hollis, Dickie Mauldin and Harold Lewis.

Centers are Rex Fenton, John Watson, Cecil Reynolds and Tommy Rhoten while John Claunch, J. R. Cross, Ray Bonsal, Gene Devers and David Mullins are guards.

Tackles are Jerry McNaughton, Ed Strickland, Burl Kirbie, Damon Runyon, Ben Sturgeon and Tommy Richardson. Bill Culppepper, Jim Green, Marlton Stone, George Collett, Jesse Ring, Odie White, Jon Cantrell and Don Babcock fill the end positions.

Shockers Host Dumas B 11 Here Tonight

The Pampa B team Shockers will be gunning for revenge tonight from the Dumas B team when the two teams clash at Harvester Stadium.

Dumas earlier in the season registered a one-point 13-12 decision over the Shockers in a game played at Dumas.

Kickoff time tonight has been set for 7:30, thirty minutes earlier than the usual starting time.

It will be the fifth game for the Shockers who have won one and dropped three.

Following is the starting Shocker lineup for tonight's game:

Ends — David Smith and Don Allen.

Tackles — Don Jonas and Doug Simmons.

Guards — Jerry Bonsal and Billy Green.

Center — Charles Larner.

QB — Gary Dearen.

FB — DeWayne Lovinggood and Ricky Gardner.

RB — Jesse Ring.

RAY DUDLEY ... stumps "expert" NEW MASKED MARVEL ... seeks to do same

'Masked Marvel' Outduels One Of News' Football 'Experts'; Ties The Other

The Masked Marvel, for the second time this season, stumped one of the Pampa News' football "experts" in the prognosticating game last week.

Ray Dudley, last week's guest representing the Masked Marvel, hit 13 out of 22 games to outdistance News Sports Editor Buck Francis who slumped to an 11-11 record.

Dudley also tied the other "expert," Warren Hasse who also hit 13 out of 22.

Dudley will receive a steak dinner for stumping one of the News' "experts."

Vernon Stuckey earlier in the year was the other "Masked Marvel" who succeeded in winning a steak dinner.

With renewed hopes, the News "experts" are set to go again this week against a new "Masked Marvel."

WORD HAS LEAKED OUT THAT Lefors football fans are unhappy with Pampa High School after last Saturday's Homecoming game at LHS was cancelled.

Lefors was originally scheduled to play Gruver in a District 1-A game but Gruver called and said they couldn't play because of too many injuries.

Then Lefors scheduled a game with the Harvesters reserves on a tentative basis. Coach Aubra Nooncaaster of the Green and Golders agreed to send his reserves to Lefors Saturday only if he had enough left after Friday night's game with San Angelo.

But the Harvesters had a rough session with San Angelo which required the use of most of the PHS bench. The Green and Golders used all their guards, tackles and ends in the San Angelo game.

So you can see the Harvesters couldn't come close to fielding a team to fill the Saturday date at Lefors. No boy is permitted, under Texas Interscholastic League rules, to play two games in one week.

Lefors, thus, was left without a football game Saturday for her annual Homecoming.

There was a lot of disappointment, of course, on the part of the exes, students, fans and the Pirate football team for not having an opponent for Homecoming but I don't believe Pampa High School should be ridiculed for not being able to fill the bill.

PUTT POWELL SAYS THE Harvesters haven't come close to winning the district title since District 1-AAAA was organized three years ago.

We are still wondering how he could arrive at such a conclusion. First year 1-A was organized, 1951, Harvesters won nine out of 10 games with the only loss coming at the hands of the state champions to be, Lubbock. Since Lubbock is in 1-A and since she went unbeaten in '51, the Harvesters failed to win the district title, of course, but they came very, very close.

You might say the Harvesters came close to winning the state title, that year.

Then in 1952, the second year of 1-AAAA, the Harvesters again gave Lubbock fits before the West-erners walked off with her second straight crown. Lubbock, as in '51, went through the season unbeaten as she annexed her second straight state championship.

But the Harvesters threw a tremendous scare into the Western-ers when the two clubs met in a crucial game in mid-November.

The Harvesters, like Lubbock, were unbeaten going into the game on the November afternoon at Har-vester Stadium. The 1-A title was hanging on the outcome of that game, and, as it turned out, the state title was probably settled right there on the Harvester Stadium turf.

The Harvesters forced the Western-ers to come from behind in the final six minutes of play to pull the game out of fire. And Lub-bock used a break to score her winning touchdown.

Pampa led, 7-6, when the Western-ers pushed across their winning TD in the waning minutes of play. It was the only time that season that Lubbock was behind past the half-time mark.

It's true the Harvesters bowed to Odessa the following Saturday but the team was "flat" after being so high for the Westerner game and then losing a heart-breaker.

The Harvesters finished the '52 season with a very respectable 8-2 record.

And then, 1953, the third year 1-A was in operation, the Har-vesters, again were in the money right down the wire.

The Harvesters, as late as Nov. 13, less than two weeks until the end of the season, had a chance to pull abreast of the district cham-pion to be, Odessa.

The Green and Golders had pre-viously been upset by San Angelo but going into the Nov. 13 game with Odessa, the Harvesters had an excellent chance of pulling even with the Broncos.

Against Odessa, the Harvesters led 9-0, after the first quarter but Odessa rallied to go ahead at half-time, 14-9.

Both teams swapped TDs in the third as Odessa led 21-15, the way it stood until nearly midway of the final quarter. Then a couple fumbles were costly as the Bron-co turned them into touchdowns to win, 34-15.

Well, it's true, as Putt said, Amarillo has never come close to winning the 1-A title, but he slipped up badly when he included the Harvesters in this category.

McLean, Canadian Meet In Feature

McLEAN, Oct. 21 — (Special) — The McLean Tigers will be favored to down Canadian here Friday night when the two teams clash in the feature game of District 1-A this week end.

But the Wildcats will have re-venge in their hearts when they take the field against the high flying McLean crew. It was the Tigers who kept Canadian from winning outright the 1-A crown last season when they downed the Wild-cats, 12-0.

It was the only district loss for Canadian. The Wildcats did share the crown with Memphis but since they lost to Memphis during the regular season, Memphis was per-mitted to represent the district in the post season playoffs.

Both Canadian and McLean are unbeaten in conference play this season, both with 2-0 records. The Tigers have rolled over Gruver and Panhandle in their first two 1-A tilts. Canadian has disposed of White Deer and Memphis in her first two 1-A starts.

McLean is unbeaten for the season, having won all five games to date. The Tigers and Wildcats have met only one common foe with Canadian holding a slight edge in this game.

Both have met and defeated Wheeler this season, Canadian by 46-0 and McLean by 40-7.

The top three scorers in the district will be seen in action in the game here Friday. McLean owns the top two scorers, James Smith with 108 and Ricky Mantooth with 102. Pat Tipps, although he is far behind these two lads in scoring, holds down the No. 3 spot in 1-A scoring with 39 points.

McLean will crown her football sweetheart during the halftime of Friday's game. Carlene Moore has been chosen the Wildcat football sweetheart. She was chosen by the Tiger football squad.

Following are the season records of the two teams:

Wisconsin, Buckeye Game Rated Even

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 — UP — The Big Ten's important struggle between Wisconsin and Ohio State was listed as "even" Thursday but a national odds-making syndicate made solid choices of Mis-sissippi and Yale in Saturday's other games which involve college football teams with perfect re-cords.

Mississippi, the nation's fifth-ranked team in the ratings of the United Press board of coaches, was a seven-point choice to defeat an Arkansas squad which last Saturday beat Texas 20 to 7 to re-main the only unbeaten team in the Southwest Conference.

Yale, meanwhile, was installed as a six-point pick to defeat Col-gate and add to its stature as the Ivy group's strongest team.

Oklahoma, 27 Point Favorite Oklahoma, the country's No. 1 team and 65 to 0 victor over Kan-sas last Saturday, was rated 27 points stronger than Kansas State; third-ranked UCLA, which set a school scoring mark in a 72 to 0 rout of Stanford last weekend, was 28 points over Oregon State; Army, which rose to ninth place in the ratings after a 28 to 14 tri-umph over Duke, was 27 points over Columbia, and 10th ranked Colorado was 14 points over Ne-braska.

Minnesota, tied with idle Notre Dame for the sixth spot in the board of coaches' ratings, was picked by seven points over Mich-igan in the other game involving one of the top 10.

Boston University was a 13-point favorite over Holy Cross in the TV game for eastern viewers; North-western and Pittsburgh were "even" in their Midwest TV strug-gle, while no odds were listed for the West's TV contest between Montana and Brigham Young.

In intersectional games, TCU was seven over Penn State; Illi-nois 14 over Syracuse; Marquette 14 over Fordham, and SMU 27 over Kansas, Maryland was seven over Miami (Fla.); Detroit 19 over Tulsa, and Houston 20 over Villa-nova in games Friday night.

Other Games:
East: Dartmouth and Harvard even; Princeton seven over Cor-nell; Navy 20 over Pennsylvania.
Midwest: Michigan six over Pur-due; Iowa 13 over Indiana; Mis-souri 14 over Iowa State.

PANHANDLE, Oct. 21 — The un-beaten Lefors Pirates will be seek-ing their sixth straight win here Friday night when they meet the Panhandle Panthers in a District 1-A game.

The Pirate will carry a 2-0 district record into the game while Panhandle has broken even in her two 1-A starts to date.

Lefors, for the season, owns the best defensive record in 1-A, al-lowing her five opponents only 14 points this season.

Irish To Meet Dumas Friday

DUMAS, Oct. 21 — The Sham-rock Irish, winless in six starts this season, will be the underdogs here Friday night when they come to town to meet the Dumas Demons in a District 1-AA contest.

Dumas has broken even in two 1-AA games this season while Shamrock has lost both her confer-ence starts.

The Demons held a strong Phil-lips team to only a 20-0 decision last week. It was the lowest score that Phillips has been held to this season.

AROUND THE WORLD

GAL'S EYE VIEW—This tourist in Paris took advantage of a lamplight repairman's ladder to snap a good view of the famous Obelisk in the Place de la Concorde. Of course, while she was occupied with her camera, someone else obviously came along and got this photo of her. It's a very good view of some exceedingly straight stocking seams.

SIGN OF THE TIME—Small fry Mike Heckman, two years old and just getting acquainted with Halloween, was living it up when he first saw that big ball in Whittier, Calif., left. But when it suddenly lighted up, right, Mike's quick decision was that he didn't happen to like it at all. And he had every reason for his opinion.

WHAT IN THE WORLD?—More from a nightmare than from mythology is this three-wheeled contraption in Paris. The inventor of the tandem wheel makes the front rear up like a horse when he leans back. But what it's all about is anybody's guess.

MONKEY FACE—Temporarily indisposed is Pancho, mayor of Chimpville at the St. Louis, Mo., Zoo. He's having his temperature checked and looks a bit apprehensive of the results. Seemingly improved after an attack of pneumonia, Pancho was scheduled to rejoin the cast of an animal show.

MAKING A U.S. BID—A saucy swimming ensemble by Schiaparelli is modeled by Denise Mercier at a showing in Miami Beach, Fla. The three-piece outfit, including an over-size handbag, is of elasticized orlon covered in black sequins. Formerly unavailable in North America, the Schiaparelli suits are now being made in New York from original Paris designs. So, ladies, just step up and make your purchase.

COULD BE?—A male model displayed the "New Look For Men" at a fashion show in the Hotel Statler in New York. It featured a raised waistline, lightly padded, straight natural shoulders, semi-body tracing lines, double-breasted matching vest and tapered trousers.

BALCONY SCENE—Ballet dancers Benjamin Turpin, of New York, and Sylvia Wynter, of Jamaica, took advantage of the good weather to rehearse their act out on a balcony in Florence, Italy. They were appearing in that country on tour with a ballet troupe.

WHAT A LIFE!—Nearing completion in Caracas, Venezuela, are 40 ultra-modern, 15-story apartment houses, which will be occupied by persons who formerly lived in slums. Monthly rentals will range from $6 to $30, or the apartments can be bought outright for as low as $1800. Ten- to 20-year financing is available through the state bank.

BARB AND STRIPES—This newly born zebra in a zoo in Rome, Italy, is taking a bit of nourishment as his mother shakes her mane at the intruding photographer. No name had yet been chosen for the little "striper," which had been born in captivity.

WHAT GOES?—Actor Robert Preston, center, seems to be wondering just that as Kim Hunter and Ronny Graham pitch a bit of woo during a last minute rehearsal of "The Tender Trap" in New York. Director Michael Gordon, left, was doing the coaching as the stars of the new hit learned their lesson.

COWBOY IN MANHATTAN—Little Vincent E. Knapp wears real cowboy boots and hat as he watches some Westerners on horseback march into the ground around Bellevue Hospital for an annual show. Patients in the children's ward were treated to a rodeo, which is very pleasant and effective medicine for the shut-ins.

The accused man is Hurbie Franklin Fairris, 20, nephew of a late Southwest desperado, Raymond Hamilton.

The officer was detective Bennie F. Cravatt, who was shot to death during an attempted robbery of an Oklahoma City grocery last July 16.

Fairris' trial ended late Wednesday. His attorney, Dave Tant, implied in final arguments that a fellow officer, not Fairris, killed Cravatt.

County Attorney Granville Scanland boldly disputed this implication. Scanland, who demanded the death penalty for Fairris, completed his arguments at 6 p.m. and District Judge Albert C. Hunt sent the jury to dinner before deliberations began.

The panel reported late Wednesday night it had not reached a verdict and the jurors were put to bed about 11:30 p.m.

Only witness for Fairris at his trial was a fellow defendant, Raymond C. Price, 23, who testified that Fairris did not have a gun when they and a third gunman attempted to rob the supermarket July 16.

Officers had been tipped by a passerby that a robbery was in progress at the store.

Tant said he did not know who killed Cravatt, but told the jury "I have a suspicion it was the other officer in the store."

Scanland brushed aside Tant's suggestion. He said the third man in the scout car with Cravatt and officer Bill Rackley was Cravatt's father-in-law.

Fairris "not only killed Cravatt," Assistant County Attorney Tom Hamill said, "but ran out of the store and tried to kill Rackley."

The father-in-law, Scanland said, ducked when the shooting started.

Ex-Houston Police Chief Called Addict

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 21—UP—Resigned Police Chief L. D. Morrison of Houston, a key figure in the narcotics trial of Dr. Julius McBride, was pictured in testimony here Wednesday as a man caught in the grip of the drug habit.
 The picture of Morrison as an "addictive" was painted by the government and three Houston doctors, one of whom "assumed" that Morrison was addicted to codeine; another concluded that "probably" Morrison was an addict, and the third said flatly that the police chief "was becoming" addictive.
 Dr. McBride, Morrison's personal physician, is charged in a 26-count indictment with giving Morrison 400 grains of codeine—a derivative of opium and morphine—and falsifying his medical records to show that a cancer patient, Billy Jackson, got the drug.
 The three doctors, two of whom also testified Wednesday, delivered their opinions in quiet, precise tones to support the government's contention that Dr. McBride acted in "bad faith" when he supplied Morrison with "excessive" amounts of codeine.

Slain Official's Wife Saw Killer

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 21—UP—The widow of slain Scottsdale Town Councilman Vernon Donn Frederick has testified she saw William E. Demand flee from her home in a car the night Frederick was shot to death.
 The widow, Mrs. Dortha Frederick, testified as the second state witness Wednesday at Demand's trial on a first degree murder charge in the death of Frederick, his friend and next-door neighbor.
 The fatal shooting occurred the night of July 27, as Frederick watched a late movie on television. Shortly afterward, Mrs. Faye Demand, heiress wife of the defendant, was killed when her car plunged into an irrigation canal.
 Mrs. Frederick said she could recall several places where Demand appeared to show a "jealous manner" regarding his wife.
 But under cross-examination by defense attorney Marvin Johnson she could not recall whether the car that backed from the driveway of her home had the top up or down.

lowans Show Top Livestock

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21—UP—Karl and Jack Hoffman, brothers from Ada Grove, Iowa, showed champion carloads of both Herefords and Angus in the American Royal livestock and horse show Wednesday.
 Their Herefords then were judged the grand champion carlot entry.
 Domestic Larryman, shown by J. C. Bridwell of Wichita Falls, Tex., won the female Polled Hereford individual grand championship.
 W. W. Lady Choice, shown by Welborn Hereford farm of Sanatobia, Miss., won the reserve grand championship in this division.

Eden Is Made Knight Of Garter

LONDON, Oct. 21—UP—Queen Elizabeth Wednesday made foreign Secretary Anthony Eden a Knight of the Garter, Britain's highest order of chivalry.
 The queen knighted the Conservative party's apparent successor to Prime Minister Winston Churchill during an audience at Buckingham Palace.
 A palace announcement said the queen received Eden shortly before he left for Paris to attend the conference on German rearmament.

Bankers Elect Vice-President

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 21—UP—Fred F. Florence, president of Republic National Bank of Dallas, Wednesday was elected vice president of the American Bankers Association and will thereby automatically become president of the association next year.
 Florence, 58, began his banking career in Alto, Tex., where he also was mayor. He has been with Republic National Bank of Dallas since 1920 and its president since

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Most criminals have a good idea of their rights in court, but the average citizen, confronted with a traffic ticket or court summons, has little knowledge of the protections provided for him. Having had little experience with the courts, he is apt to view with a sinking feeling any document requiring his presence in court. However, if he is innocent of the charge and knows his rights as a citizen in court, he need have no fear of appearing before judge and jury.

Probably the most fundamental and important right is summarized in the well-known adage, "Every man is innocent until proved guilty." It is up to the prosecuting authorities to prove that the person on trial is guilty — and not the obligation of the person accused to prove that he is innocent. The prosecution must prove your guilt beyond a reasonable doubt, or you will be acquitted. The mere fact that you have been given a ticket or accused of a crime is not even evidence of guilt.

Another important protection is the right to have a witness whose testimony you may need subpoenaed to appear in court and testify. Many people are reluctant to go to court when their own rights are involved, and unless you had a means for compelling their attendance and testimony, you often would be unable to prove the facts necessary for success in your case. It is the duty of every citizen to testify if he has information important to a law suit and is called upon to do so. The courts can and do enforce attendance in court and the giving of testimony.

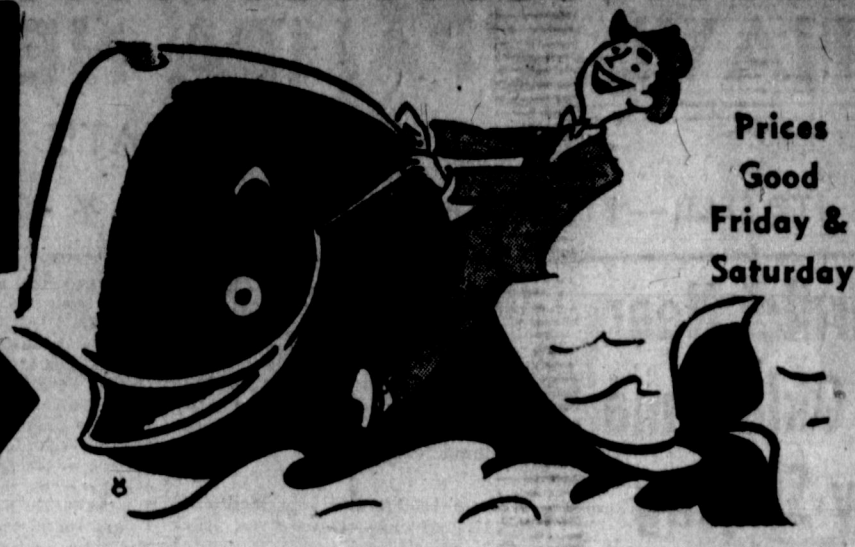

Certain other safeguards are valuable to you. A person may refuse to testify in any proceeding if he has a reasonable belief that his testimony could be used as a basis of a criminal proceeding against him. This does not mean, of course, that a confession given freely and voluntarily cannot be used in evidence. But it does mean that an accused cannot be compelled to take the witness stand. Nor can his failure to testify be commented upon by the prosecution.

Our courts provide many safeguards for the innocent against false accusations of crime. But many of these rights would be valueless without the assistance of a lawyer, who has been schooled in legal principles and rules of statute or decision involved, to invoke these rights. The "right to counsel" must be granted to every accused person brought before any court in the state. In capital cases, if an accused person cannot afford to pay for legal counsel and desires it, the court must appoint a lawyer to represent him.

Every person charged with an infraction of the law has the right to consult counsel before making any plea. This applies to cases in every court — including justice of the peace courts, municipal courts, traffic courts and district courts. It does little good to consult a lawyer after you have pleaded guilty and paid the fine, for then the damage has been done.

The courts are open to you any time one of your legal rights has been denied or any of your property has been unlawfully taken. This is one of your most precious rights. The courts are the only peaceful means of enforcing your rights.
