DICK LAND "mighty big project"

MRS. W. W. WINDSOR "raise our own money"

MRS. REGGIE MAYO "50-50 proposition"

Question Of The Week

Should Canadian Dam Be Backed By U.S.?

By T. D. ELLIS Quizzing Cameraman

"Do you feel the proposed Canadian River Dam and Reservoir project near Sanford should be constructed with private capital, without subsidization from the government, or do you think the government should put up a share of the money?"

In response to this week's poser, eight out of ten persons, quizzed at random on Pampa streets, felt the federal government should provide a large share of the construction capital. Only one citizen said he preferred the project be financed with private money.

The 10 comments were: Dick Land, 943 Love, janitor: "I think we should ask for federal help on the Canadian River dam. It's a mighty big project for us to undertake with private financing."

Lois Brown, 938 Brunow, oiler: "The United States government has spent money for things that weren't worth as much to the people as the Canadian River Dam, and I think they should be asked to foot part of the bill. I sure would like to see the dam built. We are in need of the water as well as the recreational facilities it would offer."

Mrs. C. L. McKinney, 616 N. Frost, housewife: "I am as interested in getting water for the Texas Panhandle as anyone, but as to how the project should be financed I just can't say. There are too many things to take into consideration here that question can be answered."

Mrs. W. W. Windsor, 510 N. Zimmerman, housewife: "People will be better off if they do things for themselves and raise their own money for the Canadian River dam if they possibly can. If this can't be done, then appeal to the government for a loan and not a contribution. There are several things that need to be taken into consideration such as interest before a loan is made."

Bobby Thacker, Jr., Dumas, oil company tester: "I feel the government should go in on the project and make it a three-way proposition, with the federal, state and local governments splitting the bill. Too many people will try to make too much profit if the project is left in the hands of private enterprise."

Claudette Matheny, 1120 S. Hobart, secretary: "If private financing of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority met in a formal way Wednesday afternoon in the First National Bank building to discuss what method of financing should be suggested. No report of the session, however, will be made till the city commission announces publicly its formal suggestion."

The authority's board of directors meets Nov. 8 in Plainview for their regular session and, by that time, want to have the wishes of the governing bodies of the 11 Panhandle-Plains communities in the authority recorded.

Only other item on the agenda of the next city commission meeting is the acceptance of a request by A. C. Howell, city bus line owner-operator, to discontinue the service.

Low Bidder On Highway Job Named

Ernest Loyd, Fort Worth, was the lowest apparent bidder for the job of improving 5.363 miles of U. S. Hwy. 66, from its junction with Texas Hwy. 70 to the point where the divided highway begins now. The bid was $575,000, a "rough estimate," according to the highway engineer's office in the Court-house.

Improvement will consist of a four-lane roadway and an asphalt concrete topping job. Engineers late this morning did not know when work would get underway. The Texas Highway Commission Tuesday opened the bids in Austin.

E. T. ADKISS "three-way proposition"

ing of the Canadian River Dam means higher taxes for the people of the Panhandle, I think the government should be asked to help us. It helps in other things, why shouldn't it help us with this?"

Mrs. Reggie Mayo, 1128 Duncan, housewife: "I believe the federal and state governments should be asked to help. The cities which will receive benefit from the dam should be asked to contribute about 50 per cent of the money."

E. T. Adkiss, 416 Elm, porter: "I think we should ask for federal aid. The state should help, too. I think federal aid should be in the form of a loan and the state and cities should raise the remainder."

Alberta Brown, 419 Elm, maid: "I feel the financing of the Canadian River Dam should be a three-way proposition, with the federal government paying 33-1-3 per cent, the state 33-1-3 per cent and the Panhandle counties paying 33-1-3 per cent of the total bill."

Joe Neil, 212 E. Kingsmill, cable driller: "If I had my way about it I'd turn the whole job over to the government. Private financing of the project would cause a hardship on all the Panhandle. The government should build the dam and then charge for the water."

Sheppard Jury Quest Still On

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22-UP-A jury to try Dr. Samuel Sheppard, charged with the murder of his pregnant wife, was expected to be completed Friday, but either side could upset the panel by use of its peremptory challenges.

As the trial moved into its fifth day, 10 jurors had been seated and two more and an alternate remained to be selected. When the selection is completed, both the prosecution and defense, if they should choose, could exercise their six peremptory challenges to get rid of any members of the panel they might feel would hinder their cases.

U.S. Gets Stern In Far East

'New Look' Policy Gets First Test

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In this dispatch, Earnest Hobericht, United Press vice president for Asia who has covered the Far East as a correspondent for 10 years, reports a "new look" in United States diplomacy toward its friends.)

By EARNEST HOBERICHT TOKYO, Oct. 21-UP-A "new look" in United States diplomacy has been launched in Asia and it is getting its first test in Korea where American officials are putting their foot down in a dispute with a friendly nation.

Reliable sources said the new attitude is that the United States does not mind being "Uncle Sam" or "Uncle Sugar" so long as it doesn't go on being called "Uncle Sucker."

As a first step, the United States has decided it will not be pushed around by the Koreans.

Hull Meets With Rhee Gen. John E. Hull, American Far East commander, met with stubborn Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee in Seoul Thursday. The top-level conference was designed to settle "once and for all" the trouble that has developed between the United States and the ROK government.

The immediate issue is whether the United States is going to get a "realistic" exchange rate for its dollars in Korea or will be forced to buy Korean currency at a discriminatory rate.

But the bigger issue is whether the Americans and Koreans can work together and whether the Koreans will meet certain American requirements for granting about $700 million in aid to the war-torn nation.

Many diplomats believe this is part of a "more realistic" approach that the United States has been adopting in its dealings with friendly nations.

Reaches Conclusions One western diplomat told the United Press he believed on the basis of what he had seen, that America has reached these conclusions:

1. The United States cannot be the world's leader and still win a popularity contest. Even America's best friends are likely to develop jealousies.

2. The United States has finally come to realize it cannot buy love and respect.

3. Americans have discovered they really need "co-operation" (See POLICY, Page 3)

Navy Promises Quick Decision On Condon Security Clearance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22-UP-Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas Friday promised a quick decision on whether the government should deny defense secrets to Dr. Edward U. Condon, famed atomic scientist.

Out of "fairness" to Condon and because of the "importance" of the issues involved, Thomas said he will "personally follow through on the case to see that a decision is expedited."

Hangar Plan Announced

That hangar to be built at Perry LeFors Field will be rectangular measuring 120 feet by 112 feet, and will have walls 22-feet high.

B. R. Cantrell, Pampa architect who designed the foundation and will handle the supervision of the job, late this morning said it would be made of galvanized iron, would have a concrete floor and would have doors opening at each "short" end.

The airport board Monday morning awarded a contract for $39,700 to Star Manufacturing Co., Oklahoma City, which will begin work Nov. 1 on the project. Completion date is Jan. 31.

The structure will have a bowstring roof, the traditional hangar roof, Cantrell continues. There will also be an adjacent shop building, 30 feet by 60 feet. No heating or wiring contract has yet been let - that is up to the airport board.

3 Killed In Wreck West Of McLean

WHERE THREE DIED THREE-CAR CRASH KILLS TWO WOMEN, ONE MAN (Photo by J. M. Payne, Pampa News Correspondent)

One Person Hospitalized In Groom

McLEAN - (Special) - A three-car collision this morning at the intersection of U. S. Hwy. 66 and Texas Hwy. 70, west of McLean, killed three persons and sent a fourth to the hospital.

Dead are: Mrs. Howard K. McCoy, about 40, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mrs. Flora Belle Johnson, 45, of Elk City, Okla.

J. P. Johnson, about 50, of Elk City.

Injured was Howard K. McCoy, about 35, of Kalamazoo, who was taken to Groom Osteopathic Hospital with a broken right collar bone and lacerations around the face and on the knee. His condition was reported as "not serious."

The accident occurred 18.7 miles west of McLean at the intersection of Hwy. 66 with Hwy. 70, running south toward Clarendon, according to the McLean highway patrol. It happened about 9 a.m. today.

The Johnsons are presumed to have been in the car which was headed west, and was hauling a station wagon behind it. Evidently, the car - it had Oklahoma license plates - was attempting to make a left turn off Hwy. 66 onto Hwy. 70 when the collision occurred, observers said.

At the same time, the third vehicle which had Michigan plates was going east on Hwy. 66 when it collided with the side of the Oklahoma car that was doing the towing. The highway patrol reported, The McCoy's, Michigan residents, are presumed to have been in the third car.

The other Oklahoma car, the one being hailed, broke loose at the instant of collision and whipped completely around the Michigan car, ending up facing east - the opposite direction it had been headed.

There is a no passing zone on Hwy. 66, starting about 50 yards to the west of the point of collision and extending a total of 1/4 through the collision point for about 400 yards. It is marked with a broken stripe in the roadway.

The last traffic fatality in the immediate area was about 11 months ago, two miles to the west of this accident, when two persons were killed. A freight-line truck was burned at the time.

The bodies of the dead were taken to the Murphy Funeral Home, Clarendon.

Campaign Trains Roll Into Midwest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22-UP-Republican and Democratic campaigners carried the last-stage fight for control of Congress into the Middle and Far West Friday where many races may turn on power and farm issues.

Leading lights of both parties took the stump for a busy day of campaigning in five widely scattered states stretching from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Coast.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign committee, moved into Montana to boost Rep. Wesley A. D'Erwart's bid to unseat veteran Democratic Sen. James E. Murray.

On the Democratic side, Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 presidential contender, invaded predominantly Republican Wisconsin for a speech at Milwaukee while Democratic Sen. leader Lyndon B. Johnson scheduled a speech in New Mexico and House leader Sam Rayburn was to appear in Missouri.

Other major political speeches were scheduled by GOP Senate leader William F. Knowland and Democratic Sen. Albert Gore (Tenn.) in California; Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) in Oklahoma and Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay in Missouri.

The Eisenhower administration's farm and power policies - both under heavy Democratic attack - are key campaign issues in many of the areas slated for heavy politicking Friday.

Former President Truman figured prominently - but in different ways - in separate speeches in his home town of Independence, Mo., Thursday night by Rayburn and John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late President.

Roosevelt, a leader in the citizens-for-Eisenhower movement, accused the "Truman-Acheson" regime of hampering the Korean war and blamed Mr. Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson for a shortage of ammunition in that fighting.

Raps Korean War "That war . . . which Mr. Truman likes to call a police action has been called to a halt by the Eisenhower administration," said the son of the man Mr. Truman succeeded in office.

But Rayburn, who was introduced by the former President, said Mr. Truman had promoted a bi-partisan foreign policy while the Republicans have "blundered" away America's friends.

Girl Cleared In Officer's Death

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 22-UP-A Bexar county grand jury Thursday cleared Mary Shariene Ladon, 20-year-old daughter of a prominent attorney, of negligence in the death of a police officer.

It no-billed her on the charges of driving while intoxicated, murder without malice and first and second degree negligence homicide.

The officer, W. A. Culpepper, 32, was killed when struck by Miss Ladon's car Oct. 31 while he was investigating another traffic fatality.

A family of cotton pickers near Alanreed was homeless today after a fire last night destroyed their rented house and all their belongings.

Mrs. Sam B. Cook, home demonstration chairman for the American Red Cross, today issued an appeal for aid for the stricken family. "We will be glad to accept any contributions for the family's welfare," Mrs. Cook said.

Mrs. Willis Montgomery of LeFors, notified the Red Cross this morning of the family's plight.

The distressed family is that of Clovis Bible. He lived in the rented house with his wife and three small sons. The fire completely destroyed the house, and all their belongings except a sewing machine and a mattress.

Governor To Ignore UN Day

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 22—UP—White House criticism of Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah for his refusal to proclaim next Sunday as United Nations Day in his state was released Thursday by the United States committee for observance of the day. The U. S. Committee for UN Day cited an exchange between Lee and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams in which the White House aide called the Utah governor's action "regrettable."

"This is shown," his letter said, "in the efforts that have been made outside the UN to organize the free nations into an alliance opposed to the spread of communism. These alliances would not be necessary if the UN were truly effective."

MISS WISTER and Mrs. Hilton helped old Mrs. Oswald into the drawing room, fussed around her for a moment until she was settled. Mrs. Kit and Mrs. Gestrap sat side by side, a combination of forces against hostile elements. Agnes Arzyle, more comfortable in her usual clothes, sat beside a rather subdued Philip Stoneman.

"It is all right for everyone to leave your wife?" Miss Wister asked. Jim nodded. "She'll be all right alone." He stressed the last word. Mrs. Oswald said, "Have you progress to report?" "Yes," Jim Dunn said. He added bluntly, "I have found that Angelica Jones was murdered. One of you in this room killed her."

Pair Killed in Helicopter

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22 —UP—A new helicopter crashed into a 70-foot crane Thursday and fell to the ground in flames, killing two men.

The victims were Philip V. Shrock, a pilot for the Safety Helicopter Service, of Dallas, Tex., and Roger A. Kaadtman of Fort Worth, an instructor for Bell Aircraft, which makes helicopters.

Shrock had just accepted delivery of the helicopter and taken off from the heliport of the swanky Western Hills hotel. Witnesses said it zoomed over the southwest corner of a building under construction nearby.

The pilot evidently did not see the crane, which was used to lift structural steel. A dozen workmen were in the area.

The bottom of the helicopter was spinning just like the top before it crashed," W. W. Walker, a worker, said.

FDR Son Campaigns For GOP

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Oct. 22—UP—One of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's sons, John, invaded the hometown of his father's successor Thursday to plead for the re-election of a Republican congressman.

John Roosevelt, labeling himself an ex-Democrat, accused the "reigning" of former President Harry S. Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson of hampering conduct of the Korean war.

He said Mr. Truman and Acheson were responsible for a shortage of ammunition and said "that war... which Mr. Truman likes to call a police action has been called to a halt by the Eisenhower administration."

The speech was in behalf of Rep. Jeffery Hilleison, the first-term Republican congressman from Mr. Truman's home district. Hilleison said the crowd, which jammed into a 400-seat theater, was the largest ever assembled in Independence for "other than a Democratic" political meeting. "Let's not trade a good horse for a balky mule," Roosevelt said in appealing for a Republican Congress. He said the Eisenhower administration did well in its first two years, but much remains to be done.

"Who were Democrats? appeal to the Democrats, the independents and everyone to give the tools he needs—a Republican Congress," Roosevelt said.

FHA Fires 11 Employees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—UP—The Federal Housing Administration has suspended 11 employees for "improper activities" and officials indicated the suspensions resulted from an administration demand for "adequate standards" of employee conduct.

The employees were not identified. But a spokesman for the FHA said the suspensions are not connected with the "windfall profit" cases turned up in the investigation of the housing scandals that have rocked the agency.

There was strong indication that the action grew out of a secret administration memorandum issued last spring and made public Thursday which called on all government agency heads:

"To see that adequate standards of conduct have been established, that these were being periodically reviewed, and that responsibility was centralized for receiving and following up complaints and information from all sources."

4. The United States is tired of seeing its allies threaten to "go Communist" when a never more American aid is not forthcoming.

5. In the future, the American system will probably be to announce a goal and "invite" others to go along. Aid and support probably will be given to those who desire to co-operate but there will be no begging or pleading. Those who don't go along will be left to do the best they can on their own.

'Bearish' Dean Disperses LSU Panty Raiders

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 22—UP—A stern dean called "the Bear" and an honor guard of ROTC cadets quelled a panty raid by some 1,000 male students on the women's dormitories at Louisiana State University Thursday night.

At one point the dean turned away the raiders with just two words, "Go home!" Later he used a stern look. By then the celebrating males had also been blocked by the honor guard in full dress uniforms.

The combination was too much and the throng of male students ended their demonstration and went home almost empty handed.

The raid was expected after rival Tulane University in New Orleans staged one that police called a "riot" by 700 students, and both the police and college officials here were ready.

Dean Arden O. French, nicknamed "the Bear," credited the ROTC cadets with averting the raid here but the male students gave most of the credit to the dean.

In the Tulane demonstration which netted the males armloads of lingerie Monday night there was scuffling and rock-throwing, and four students were arrested for "loud and boisterous conduct."

Police armed with tear gas rushed to the campus here in six squad cars and barricaded one road leading to the women's dormitories but had little else to do. There were no arrests and no one was reported badly hurt.

"We were just going after some panties," one student said, "when we ran up against 'the Bear.' He held up his hands and said, 'go home!' We left."

Rites Set For J. V. Hyatt

Services will be in the First Baptist Church, Bethany, Okla., for John V. Hyatt, 53-year-old weather stripper and former resident of the Laketon-Borger areas. He died Thursday in Bethany following a heart attack.

Born in Peggy, Okla., Hyatt had lived in the Laketon and Borger areas before moving to Bethany in 1943.

Survivors include his wife, Grace; four daughters; a son, Buddy, Bethany; six brothers, Horace, Walter, Herbert, and Lawrence, all of Pampa; Homer, Salina, Okla., and Ed of Claremore, Okla.; four sisters, Mrs. Lorena Caylor, Hobbs, N. M.; two sisters in California, and a sister in Borger, and five grandchildren.

Newspaper Meet Set Tomorrow

Publisher E. Roy Smith and Managing Editor Jim Dean of The Pampa Daily News will be among those on hand in Borger Saturday for the annual fall meeting of the Panhandle Press Association.

Ben Ezzell, publisher of the Canadian Record and president of the association, will call the meeting to order at 10 a.m. in the Hotel Borger. Registration will be in the hotel lobby at 8 a.m.

On the program are a tour of the Borger industries, a film, talks on newspaper publishing, lunch and musical entertainment.

Bootleg 'Comic Books' Springing Up In South

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22—UP—Comic book bootleggers have sprung up in the South to combat the campaign against "objectionable" literature, an American Legion group meeting here was told.

Mrs. John T. Batten, Birmingham, Ala., said late Thursday she has found dealers in her state who sold bad comics to teenagers but "kept them under the counter when adults tried to buy them."

Mrs. Jack Wardlaw, Montgomery, Ala., told the Legion child welfare conference the situation is "bad" in that state. She said investigation "revealed teenagers could get them but adults could not buy them."

Mrs. B. L. George, Beaumont, Tex., said "under-counter sales" have been reported there and the American Legion and Auxiliary are hoping the industry "will police itself."

From Kentucky, Mrs. George C. Winn of Marion reported a child in her home city had developed an urge "to kill somebody" as the result of a diet of objectionable comic books. She said psychiatric treatments were necessary to straighten the child's mind.

Mrs. Oscar B. Tobert, Thomas, Ga., said her group had found "some very bad comic publications on sale to teenagers in Georgia."

"We noticed a new and dangerous trend in this field," she said, "the camouflaging of such books with innocent-looking cover pages, but the filth is inside for youngsters to read!"

The situation in Florida was described as "especially critical" by Mrs. A. P. Drummond of Bonifay because of the vast influx of transient population in pursuit of pleasure.

Demand for Bad Books She said there was a "tremendous demand for bad comic books."

"The increase in juvenile delinquency undoubtedly has been stimulated by such printed filth," she said.

The most optimistic report came from Mrs. J. V. Holliday of Vicksburg, Miss. She said preliminary American Legion investigations in Vicksburg and Jackson have failed to disclose any objectionable comic books.

Mrs. C. A. Ballard of Oklahoma City said progress has been made there with objectionable books taken off newstands on Aug. 1, 1954. She said "some blackmarketing may be going on."

Oklahoma Situation Improves Roy F. Stewart, member of Oklahoma City's board of review of juvenile literature, said he believed the local situation had improved since the city passed an anti-comic book law.

He said 83 titles representing 86,000 monthly circulation have been taken from the stands.

He said he believed local groups should conduct the anti-comic crusade with "no drum-beating, no book burning."

Chicago Cop Shot To Death

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—UP—A policeman who had killed three bandits and wounded four others in gun battles was killed late Thursday night as he tried to arrest an escaped convict.

Officer Charles Annerino, 30, was shot near the heart as he started to question Agostino (Gus) Amedeo, 26, in a north side tavern.

The fallen policeman managed to fire once from the floor as Amedeo escaped. Two of Annerino's fellow policemen pursued the fleeing convict, emptying their pistols at him.

They believed one of their bullets hit Amedeo shortly before he jumped in a car and rove off with some other men.

Meanwhile, Annerino died early Friday at Ravenswood hospital, leaving a widow and two children. A city-wide police hunt was launched for Amedeo.

UT Prexy Would Limit Enrollment

AUSTIN, Oct. 22—UP—Student enrollment at the University of Texas should be limited, University President Logan Wilson said. He recommended a maximum of 20,000 students.

"It is my conviction that we can serve the people of Texas and the cause of higher learning better by providing a first class education for limited numbers," Wilson said Thursday in annual report to the general faculty.

The alternative, he said is "compromising on a second- or third-class education for unlimited numbers."

"With more than 100 other institutions of higher education already in existence in Texas to help meet this rising tide of enrollment, I believe that our main goal should continue to be educational excellence," he said.

"It is going to be difficult for public authorities to establish satisfactory methods of limiting enrollment (but) something will have to be done. The rising tide of students has not yet made its heaviest impact, and we are already being hard pressed for classroom and laboratory facilities," Wilson continued.

The university's present enrollment is now approximately 16,000—a figure previously projected for 1956.

"A rise again next year similar to the one we experienced this fall will produce a student body of more than 18,000, surpassing the post-war peak of 1947-48 and equaling the prediction for 1960," he said.

"Notwithstanding our desire to be of maximum service to the people of Texas, we are now close to our present capacity and are approaching a phase in our growth when serious thought must be given to a possible optimum size limit. My own opinion is that this point will be reached when we become bigger at the expense of becoming better," Wilson said.

Lamar School Sets Magic Show

Magic, Mystery, Monsters, and spooks are promised when Johnny Lee presents his "Mad House of Magic" show Oct. 28th at 8:00 p.m. in the Lamar School auditorium.

The program of magic is under the sponsorship of the Lamar PTA. Admission for adults is 50 cents, students 25 cents, pre-school children admitted free.

Food will be served in cafeteria from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. Chili, 30 cents, hamburgers, 30 cents, coffee, 10 cents, with refill free, milk, 10 cents and home-made pie 10 cents.

Bloc Votes

The top politicians are at last beginning to awaken to the fact that there is no longer a powerful "farm vote" . . . if there ever was one. They are even coming to realize that there is no big "union vote." The latter is often mislabeled the "labor vote." (Note to Charles E. Wilson: Quit crawling, Kennel-fed dogs rarely bite.) President Eisenhower was to make a political speech at Indianapolis directed to the Midwest farm belt. In it he is expected to point with pride to the administration's achievements for agriculture. We await with some measure of eagerness the disclosure of what he thinks those achievements are. But of somewhat more interest is the fact that the United Press, in an effort to indicate that the power of the "farm vote" had declined, should go into some detail to show that the number of persons residing on farms in the United States has fallen from 32.1 million in 1910 to about 22 million this year. If this should be taken as an indication of the decline of the so-called "farm vote" it could lead to a lot of mistaken judgments in politics. Just because a great many people have moved to the cities does not mean in itself that community of interests of a section has changed. The resident of the town is still concerned with the price of cotton and wheat and livestock in his immediate area as he was when he lived on the farm or ranch. Perhaps he is now in the grocery, the dry goods or the insurance business; he is still affected by the prosperity or distress of the farmers who trade in his town. When he lived on the farm, he did not vote solely as a farmer. He voted as a citizen with his own personal welfare in mind. And more citizens than the politicians appear to realize, vote on most matters with a pretty broad view of the welfare of the country as a whole. The late Senator Taft exploded the theory that there was a solid union labor vote when he ran for re-election the last time against the opposition of all the union leaders in Ohio. Sooner or later somebody will explode the "farm vote" error, but it won't be because the country people have moved to town. The American people can and will vote for principles rather than parties if given the chance and the leadership. Texas proved that in the 1952 election.

Society For Protection Of Phrase Makers Maybe?

By HENRY McLEMORE

My telephone rang the other day and from the other end it came the voice of Mr. Harry Brand. For the benefit of lonely sheep-herders, people who live on the perimeter of Arkansas, Mr. Brand is the handsome, suave, gamine-faced, Model T-topped, much beloved chief of publicity at 20th Century Fox Studios. He also holds one-man exhibits in clay, oil, steel wool, charcoal, and himself. "I am forming a sort of ASCAP," he said, "for men who created phrases that are now clichés. The guys who thought them up should get royalties every time a writer or speaker uses one of them. ASCAP takes care of song writers, so what's wrong with an organization that would benefit writers?" "Interesting, if true," I said, carefully avoiding a cliché. "But what's in it for me?" I said, sidestepping again. "Natch, I'm on your side. One hundred per cent. Count me in. Let the chips fall where they may. Give me a run-down." "You have already earned a lot of money for somebody," Mr. Brand said, "if my plan goes through." Then he outlined his plan in detail. As we both are former sports writers, he started talking about sports clichés. "I read a million a year," Mr. Brand said. "At one time they were as fresh as a daisy. Here I interrupted to tell him he had earned a little dough for an unknown himself with that "fresh as a daisy" phrase. Mr. Brand turned a cold shoulder on this and went on. "Who were the first sports writers who wrote lines like these?" he asked, and listed a few. Today all roads led to those in the stands (or crowds,

Drafting Our Soldiers For UN

In the September issue of the magazine U. S. A., the publisher, Alice Widener, relates how our representative to the United Nations, Ambassador Wadsworth, proposed to have an obligatory United Nations army. Then she explains that they are doing this in spite of the fact that the United States is invariably outvoted on economic, military and moral questions in the General Assembly of the UN.

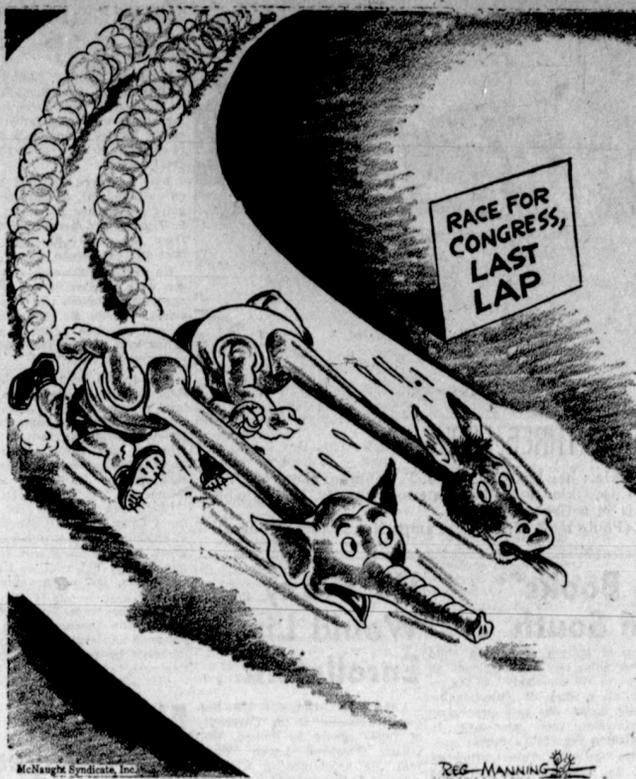

Vote Down Compensation For Privileged Property

Under the sub-heading of "Our Waning Influence" she tells how the UN doesn't side with the U.S. Here is what she says: "But what does the U. N. record show? "In the Economic and Social Council and also in the Specialized Agencies, the United States suffered several overwhelming defeats and, in the U. N. Economic and Financial Committee 1952 vote on Resolution VI (known as the Nationalization Without Compensation issue) the U. S. met with total defeat. Why should we assume as a foregone conclusion that we will always be able to triumph at the General Assembly? "As a matter of fact, it is common knowledge that our delegates have often indulged in humiliating hat-in-hand begging for Assembly votes that were won only through pie-in-the-sky pledges of U. S. aid to underdeveloped countries. It is also common knowledge, as reported in the New York Times on September 19, only two days before the opening of the General Assembly, that American influence there is at its lowest ebb since the formation of the United Nations."

War Without Victory

"Mr. Acheson is not alone in his horrid opinion. On page 61 of the official Americans for Democratic Action 'guide to Politics, 1954,' Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, U. S. Representative to the U. N. General Assembly, 1953-54, declares: 'One of the most painful lessons we have to learn is to adapt ourselves to the kind of war which ends without total victory for either side. . . . Then Mrs. Roosevelt pointed out that the U. N. Charter makes no provision for the ultimate punishment of the aggressor, and went on to say that 'Fortunately, the leaders of our major parties have accepted this conclusion to the Korean War.' "Evidently they have. "But have the American people? "If not, they then had better study the United States working paper presented to the U. N. Collective Measures Committee, a paper designed to provide the men, materials and money for fighting this new kind of United Nations War Without Victory and Without Punishment for the aggressor. "The contribution of States may be military, political, economic or financial," said Ambassador Wadsworth. "Such ancillary support should include, where possible, necessary rights of passage through or over territory of the country concerned and related rights and facilities. "What does this mean? "Under 'appropriate' conditions is the United States going to permit rights of passage through and over its territory by U. N. Armed Forces including units from Communist Member States? "Are U. N. Armed Forces with an appointed number of Communist officers going to be billeted on our soil, enjoying rights and facilities of communications, food, shelter and supplies of every sort? "Above all, are young Americans going to be assigned by some kind of genie-meenie - minie-moe system to military service under U. N. commanders who may be Communists? "And finally, if all 60 U. N. Member States are welded together in a 'universal' collective security system, against whom would the International Army fight? Is it the peaceful internationalists' intention to turn back the clock and start a repeat performance of World War II against Germany and Japan? Or will a new Spanish civil war be fomented in a U. N. effort to overthrow the Franco regime? "As any citizen can see, the United States proposals to the Collective Measures Committee are fantastic enough to stagger the most vivid imagination. Certainly they are beyond the comprehension of Americans wishing to heed General Avoed Washington's warning to avoid entangling alliances. . . . Mrs. Widener summarizes in this manner: "It is a national tragedy that this hope, which lies in every mother's heart, is about to be dashed. For the U. S. Collective Measures Committee proposals are on the agenda U. N. 'General Assembly' agenda. "Who in the State Department supports the wisdom of MacArthur and Van Fleet? "As totted up in the United States working paper presented to the U. N. Collective Measures Committee, the facts reveal the answer: nobody. "Why is this? Why? "One thing is clear: Dean Acheson's policy still guides the United States Government. "But who guides Dean Acheson? "Nobody seems to know. "But what everybody does know is that in the long course of human events, the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world. "I believe that in my own reaction of incredulity, almost paralyzing fear and blazing anger at the State Department military scheme presented to the United Nations,

Former Police Chaplain Praises New York Cops

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Monsignor Joseph A. McCaffrey, pastor of the Church of the Holy Cross in a tough, sordid neighborhood of the so-called Broadway area, has written, at my request, a discussion of the character and problems of New York policemen. This priest was chaplain of the New York Police Department for 30 years. I asked him to write his opinion of the morale of the department had been shaken very seriously by a number of adverse factors, including the unjust harassment of good policemen by the federal Department of Justice and the federal grand juries on charges of violation of the civil rights of vicious characters arrested under violent conditions. This discussion will be divided into two installments. I believe it will immediately establish in the reader's judgment the qualifications of the leader and the merit of the articles.

The New York policemen are upright, honest and honorable men. Few indeed outside of the department can know the temptations to which a policeman is subjected. Few indeed know of the innumerable times that policemen are offered bribes to neglect to perform their duty. Few know of the almost innumerable times that offers of such gratuities are rejected. It is true that there are those who, through weakness or greed, succumb to temptations, thus bringing disgrace upon themselves, their families and their fellow policemen, but such are exceptions. So exceptional that the bright light of publicity is focused upon them, for their actions are not commonplace but always headline news.

I KNOW POLICEMEN

BY RT. REV. JOSEPH McCAFFREY

I wish that all the people of the city of New York could know the New York policemen as I know them. For thirty years I was privileged to occupy the position of a chaplain in the New York Police Department, and during that time I came to know the men intimately more intimately than some things than even their fellow policemen and their superior officers, and it is from this knowledge of them that I write.

It is not my purpose to extol them for the outstanding work they do in solving crime, in apprehending criminals or in protecting the lives and property of our citizens, for which the department does not always receive sufficient credit. It is rather my purpose to write of them, not as police-officers but as men to whom are entrusted our lives and our property. Most policemen look upon their position not merely as a job but as a profession, a calling. It is their life work and they are proud of it. They are determined to uphold the honor of the department and they expect to make any sacrifice for it. Possibly that determination to uphold the honor of the department can be illustrated by an incident which happened some years ago.

Pt. O'Rourke, on vacation with his family, was driving outside of the city of Detroit when his car was stopped and surrounded by four gangsters. Guns were pointed at him through the windows on both sides of his car and at the policeman "stick 'em up" his reply was: "I can't. I'm a New York cop." The result: he was shot in the head and blinded for life. No blame oblige. Pt. O'Rourke's action was not exceptional, but typical of the devotion New York policemen have for the honor of their profession.

The police officer is conscientious in the performance of his duty. Too frequently, most of us fail to recognize that. We see a traffic officer standing on his post for hours in sub-zero weather or with the hot sun beating down upon him, with cars whizzing past him, not knowing the moment a careless or excited driver will strike him down. We see this, but we little appreciate the physical hardship he is enduring or the mental strain he is under. We know of the men patrolling their lonely posts at dead of night, never knowing what moment they will be called upon to engage in a life and death struggle with a criminal or a band of criminals. We see and know these things but we give them little thought because it is what we expect of policemen. And our expectations are realized because the police officer is conscientious in the performance of his duty.

The courage of our policemen will be shown in the way. There is the amazing story of Billy Graham, who, by his own statement, is a very ordinary speaker, with severe intellectual limitations, and no formal theological training and yet crowds of fantastic size come out to hear him wherever he speaks, and the influence of this one man's trying earnestly to do what God wills for his life is past calculation. "Billy Graham humbly admits that it is all something beyond him, and that there are many men that God is using greatly today in different fields, having the same objective."

Whether or not you are in 100 per cent agreement with everything Billy Graham does or says, it is hard to escape the conclusion that here is a young man making a tremendous impact on the world simply by sincerely and wholeheartedly seeking to find the will of God for his life and then doing it to the best of his ability. Suppose every one of us were to do that. Don't you think this old world would be a much better place of our now seemingly insoluble problems would practically solve themselves? "WHAT CAN YOU DO? Just ask God, and, if you really want to know, He'll find a way to show you."

National Whirligig Government Spending Spree Timed To Lure GOP Votes

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — In a burst of pre-election spending and promises to spend, every Administration agency has labored night and day to replenish the pocketbooks and relieve the unemployment fears of millions of voters in every section of the country. There is nothing sinister or unethical in timing the Federal outlay so that it may contribute to election of a Republican Congress, or at least keep Democratic gains to a minimum. The strategy was stolen wholesale from the politico-economic books of the Roosevelt-Hopkins-Ickes era, when expenditures always boomed in the weeks before the opening of the voting booths. But it is a fact that the Administration, not noted for prompt action or brilliant tactics in the past, has poured out the dollars at amazing speed and timeliness. The detailed estimates are not yet available, it is believed that the increased largesse for the September - October - November period will amount to several hundred million dollars, in addition to the ordinary Government payments. The number of beneficiaries will run from 6,000,000 to 10,000,000. Despite extra work in ferreling out and cleaning out the "scandal" in the Federal Housing Agency, Administrator Albert M. Cole has rushed preparation of new forms for real estate construction, purchases and mortgages, based on the milder terms provided by the recent Congress. The Government's financial policies have been geared to making money cheap and plentiful. Administrator Cole anticipates that about 1,200,000 new homes will be constructed in 1955, which will equal the 1954 figures. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson is preparing to award contracts totaling many hundreds of millions of dollars. In a generally unnoted paragraph of his "kennel and bird dog" interview, he said that he expected the contracts to relieve unemployment in many industrial centers by December. Finally, although its effect may not be felt by November 2, Eisen- hauer has a staff of advisers and experts framing a 10-year public works program — highways, hospitals, schools and colleges, military bases, waterways, maintenance, etc. — that will dwarf the Roosevelt - Hopkins - Ickes expenditures. The total cost is now placed at between $125,000,000 and $200,000,000. The expanded Social Security Bill, for instance, was not signed by President Eisenhower until September 1. The measure provided that boosts in benefits became effective for the month of September. Revising the records at Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby's office, making out the checks at Treasury and mailing them at the Post Office entailed a tremendous volume of tedious and complicated work. But the September payments, which totaled $19,000,000 for that month alone — a monthly jump of $6,000,000 — were on the way to the recipients by October 3. It is expected that the October checks will reach the 6,000,000 retired workers and dependents before November 2, Election Day. The 1954 Federal Highway Act did not become law until a few months ago. The largest measure of its kind in legislative history, it appropriates almost $1 billion for new roads. The amount will reach approximately $2 billion as a result of state and local contributions. The various Washington agencies involved on the basis of plans and blueprints on the shelves for several years, have given authority to

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

A notable medical triumph is that over the disease known as pernicious anemia. Until about 1920 people who were ill with this disease eventually died from it, and the average duration of life was only a little over three years after the onset. Today, death from pernicious anemia, if the diagnosis is made reasonably prompt and the proper treatment employed, is exceedingly rare.

The remarkable improvement in outlook for pernicious anemia victims is due principally to the fundamental observations and dog experiments of Whipple, Minot, Murphy and Castle, although knowledge has continued to advance with the investigations of others.

THIS DISEASE IS NOT caused by overwork, as one correspondent appears to think. Put in as simple terms as possible, the cause of pernicious anemia is now considered to be the result of a deficiency of certain important elements in the diet. This, in turn, leads to a slowing down in the production of new red blood cells, and since these cells continue to die at the regular rate of speed an anemia or blood lack "radically" develops.

THIS IS NOT the whole story, of course, since the disease is associated with changes in the stomach and often the liver. Nevertheless, the discovery that in essence pernicious anemia is a dietary deficiency led first to its treatment with liver or liver extracts. The development of a substance known as crystalline vitamin B-12 is now of highest value in treatment. When given in the right quantities and fairly early in the disease, vitamin B-12, sometimes combined with liver or other substances, is highly effective.

Fashion expert says "women will wear their dresses longer," but before husbands start to cheer, what she meant was that "women will wear longer dresses."

A very valuable fiancée, owned by a wealthy woman, was run over. The policeman detailed a man to tell the woman of her misfortune. Policeman — But break the news gently. She thinks a lot of this dog. The man rapped on the man's door and, when the woman appeared, he said: "Ma'am — Sorry, lady, but part of your dog has been run over. I am one with every mother in America. "And I believe that an informed, aroused American motherhood lies power to defeat the plan to subject our sons to international military working papers that will render them and our nation defenseless."

THE LATEST releases on hair styles seem to indicate that the short, short haircut is on its way out. One beauty expert says that "if a girl decides in favor of this little boy look (Dior) and little boy figure, her little boy haircut has to go."

THE EXPERT says that men like long hair — "soft shiny clean" — so it shows off to advantage. For those of you who do decide to follow the longer-hair trend, here's some tips on what to do when your hair is growing out to avoid the "droopy" look.

"The first consideration is to keep your hair scrupulously clean. No matter how long it is. Then, if your hair is very short, and cut in uneven lengths, try rolling it over mesh rollers on top and turning pin curls around the side and back. If it is too short for rollers, cover the ends with a small strip of cleaning tissue to hold them together, then use the rollers. When dry, brush your hair straight back from your face and hold it with one of the new flat metal curling clips. The ends will have just enough wave to give width to your hairdo. This makes it look longer, and gives it style. Modify the style to fit new lengths as your hair grows."

SO MANY of us are diet-conscious, always hoping to achieve that "slim-line" while we may never be meant for it. However, we are always on the lookout for a new or more effective way of reducing.

I received a pamphlet recently from the Salt Institute telling about the dangers of diets with low and no salt or sodium. The pamphlet explains that salt is essential for good health and to cut it out completely or even cutting down on it can be very dangerous. Each cell needs sodium and normal heart action requires a proper sodium potassium and calcium balance.

Twentieth Century Allegro's Program On Better America

Twentieth Century Allegro met recently in the home of Mrs. Joe Black, 408 Magnolia, with Mrs. Clifford Braly as co-hostess.

Mrs. Don Cain, program leader, introduced Mrs. John Frisby, a Pampa "Grandma Moses," who gave a sketch of her life.

Following the theme of the program, "Basic Objectives and Problems in Building a Better America," Mrs. Cain outlined the advances brought about by the advent of the automobile. She explained the many changes in our way of life caused by the new method of transportation. She included a brief sketch of Henry Ford's business promotion.

By a relative chart of statistics, Mrs. Cain illustrated the increase in population and industry in the United States in the past 50 years. Continuing her "glimpse into the past," Mrs. Cain discussed social life in the early years of the century. Many of our present-day problems did not exist in those days because of a simpler way of life, she pointed out.

By way of curing some of our internal ills, Mrs. Cain suggested bringing governing back to state and local levels, insisting government money be spent as carefully as our own and alerting the public to benefits of our American way of life.

"Americans should be thrilled at the prospect of what we have in the future," she stated. She closed the program with a prayer, followed by the playing of "My Own Bit of Land."

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
One sunny morning this summer, I sat on the edge of a swimming pool. Near me was a family: parents, pretty little girl, baby boy.

He was a baby of purpose. He wanted to go swimming. The delicious, unyielding, masculine concentration of his wish delighted his mother. Laughing, she was rolling him over in the grass when the daughter spoke to her.

Without turning her head, she said, "Don't talk to me. Get over your sulks first."
Instantly, jealousy turned the pretty little girl into an ugly one. Jealousy in children is a witch.

With one wave of her hand, she can make beauty repellent. Out of mouths that want to speak pearls, she can make frogs leap. What's worse, she can make us believe what we see. Like the witch of "The Sleeping Beauty," she can enchant everyone around the child into stupor and unawareness.

I think that we must all have noted jealousy's power to transform children's appearance. So I am warning you that the stubborn jaw and hating eyes are illusions. If we believe they are real, we are accepting an identity imposed on the child by witchcraft. We have become enchanted too.

Faith Class Has Breakfast-Party

Members of the Faith Class of the Central Baptist Church held a "Come-As-You-Are" breakfast recently in the home of Mrs. L. C. Ross, 1112 Varnon Drive.

Refreshments of coffee and rolls were served. The devotional was presented by Mrs. J. O. Durham.

Circles Of The Central Baptist Church Have Mission Studies During Meetings

Women's Mission Union circles of the Central Baptist Church met recently in homes of members for mission studies.

NINA HANKINS
The Nina Hankins circle met in the home of Mrs. Cecil Corgill for mission study. The meeting opened with prayer, led by Mrs. W. L. Hubbard. A review of the book, "Pilgrimage to Brazil," by Everett Gill Jr., was presented by Mrs. Ralph Prock. A letter was read from the Hankines who are now serving in Jardim, Brazil. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. A. E. Butler.

Those attending were Mmes. J. C. Flowers, John Hennig, B. R. Parrish, Corgill, Hubbard, Prock and Butler.

DORINE HAWKINS
Mrs. Kenneth Gray led the mission study for the Dorine Hawkins circle, and Mrs. Bob Anders gave the opening prayer. Members present were Mmes. A. P. Holligan, Kenneth Gray, Bob Anders and two visitors.

MARY MARTHA
Mrs. Bob Bailey was hostess to the Mary Martha circle with Mrs. Frank Silcott presenting the mission study. Mrs. J. F. Webb opened meeting with prayer. Attending were Mmes. Gene McClendon, Noah Jones, C. G. Miller, J. B. Hill, Silcott, Webb and Bailey.

KEZZIA MAE SERIGHT
The mission study, "Pilgrimage to Brazil," was taught by Mrs. Melton Burns at the meeting of the Kezzia Mae Seright circle in the home of Mrs. L. C. Bevel. Mrs. Sam Bateas gave opening prayer, which was followed by a short business session. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. J. O. Durham.

Present were Mmes. Carroll Walters, Forrest Washbourne, Harlan Beauchamp, Charley W. Thomas, Durham, Bateas, Burns and Wheeler.

Washables Aid Teen Wardrobe

Maybe you're a teenager who hasn't as yet learned to sew and thus make the most of your clothes. You can still cut down on expenses by choosing a fall wardrobe you can launder yourself.

Everyone knows the highly washable quality of orlon and wool flannel skirts, and orlon and wool jersey blouses. Most of these can be tossed right into the washing machine. But, be sure to check the tag of the garment first.

This fall, you'll find attractive washable dresses, too, among them acrilan and viscose dresses with permanently pleated skirts, bloused plaid over-jackets, and pretty empire styles, in orlon and a pun viscose plaid.

Auxiliary Of VFW Has Costume Party

Mrs. Bud Hogan was awarded first prize for her "typical hobo" costume at the recent Halloween party of the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Second place honors went to Mrs. Bob Burrows, dressed as the "Xamooa black witch."

Other costumes included a red devil, clown, Peter Pan, Chinese girls, flapper, and beauty queen. Decorations in Halloween colors included witches and skeletons. Games were played and fortunes read.

Fidelis Matrons Elect Officers

Election of officers highlighted the recent meeting of the Fidelis Matrons Class in the home of Mrs. T. D. Rowe, 1146 S. Wilcox. Selected were Mrs. J. M. Foster, president; Mrs. Anna Barr, vice-president; Mrs. T. D. Row, secretary; Mrs. Lon Trask, associate secretary; Mrs. Rueben May and Mrs. Joe Woods, group captain; Mrs. Daisy Bell Ritter, reporter; Mrs. John Largent, social chairman.

Games were played, gifts exchanged and refreshments served. Next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 1, in the home of Mrs. Anna Barr, 1815 Hamilton.

Attending, other than those already named, were Mmes. E. Stephenson and Chick Humphries, Mrs. Laura Brown was a visitor.

Hickory Salt Glamorizes Ordinary Broiled Chicken

Broiled chicken can have the smoky outdoor flavor people like even though cooked in the kitchen stove. We learned how to do this in Philadelphia the other day, talking with men learned in seasonings at the 100-year-old establishment of John Wagner & Sons.

RUTH MILLET

Among other advice he gave to housewives on how to avoid working themselves into an early grave a heart specialist told them: "Get teamwork out of the family. It's better to help Mama, than to have to remember her."

Maybe that last sentence is a slogan housewives and mothers the country over should adopt.

A sign in the kitchen should be a hint that the one who eats a snack and leaves a trail of crumbs and dirty dishes is leaving them for Mama to take care of.

Offense Minded Harvesters Tackle Defense Minded Abilene

Eagles Seeking 1st Win Over PHSians

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

ABILENE, Oct. 22—It will be District 1-AAAA's top offensive team against the best defensive club here Friday night when the Fighting Pampa Harvesters invade town for a duel with the pace-setting Abilene Eagles at Fair Park Stadium.

The Harvesters, although winless in two starts in 1-4A play, leads the district in offense. The Eagles, on the other hand, top the district in defense.

The Harvesters have totaled 756 yards offensively in their two district games, 617 on the ground and 139 through the air. Whether the Green and Golders can keep up this pace remains to be seen but if they do, they'll have to do it against a stone wall Abilene defense.

Abilene has allowed its two 1-AAAA opponents, Borger and Odessa, only 355 yards total offense. The Eagles defeated Borger, 34-7, and Odessa, 21-7, in their two district outings.

Lewis Ailing, the Harvester offensive machine, may be slowed somewhat tonight due to the physical condition of fullback Harold Lewis. Lewis, who now leads the entire state in rushing, is recovering from an illness that struck him Wednesday. Ailing's doubtful if he will be in tip-top shape for tonight's clash.

Lewis left Pampa with the team Thursday morning and was still feeling rather "puny" when the bus departed.

The Harvesters spent the night in Sweetwater last night after taking a brief workout. They're due to remain in Sweetwater until shortly before game time. Sweetwater is only 40 miles from here.

The Green and Golders will drive back to Sweetwater after the game to spend the night before returning home Saturday.

For the sixth time in as many starts, the Harvesters will give away poundage to the Eagles in tonight's game here. The Eagles outweigh the Harvesters 10 pounds per man in the line and eight pounds per man in the backfield. Abilene will field a starting line averaging 181 pounds to the Harvesters' 171. The Eagle secondary stacks up at 163 pounds per to 155 for the Harvesters.

The Eagles will be looking for their first win in history over the Harvesters tonight. The Harvesters have won the first three games between the two clubs. Pampa won the first game easily, 46-7, but was extended to win its last two, 13-7 in 1952 and 7-6 last season.

Two Harvesters Out

Two Harvesters will definitely miss tonight's contest, guard Jerry Neef and halfback Bill Fuller. Neef, although he is making the trip here, won't suit out as he is still recuperating from a broken foot.

Tonight's game will mark the return of tackle Ben Sturgeon. Sturgeon, one of the five returning Harvester lettermen, hasn't played a down this season due to a fractured foot he suffered in a pre-season workout.

Sturgeon isn't expected to start tonight's game but is due to see action. He will be used only on a limited basis since he is still favoring the injured foot some.

Abilene has two reserves on the sidelines due to broken arms, quarterback Glenn Belew and end David Howie. Another Eagle reserve has been abed with influenza this week and isn't expected to see action tonight.

Otherwise, the Harvesters and Eagles are ready physically for the contest tonight.

7,000 Fans Due

About 7,000 fans are due to witness the 1-AAAA meeting. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Both Pampa radio stations will be carrying the play-by-play account of the game, coming on the air at 7:45.

Elsewhere in District 1-AAAA tonight, Lubbock is at Midland, Amarillo at Odessa and Borger at San Angelo.

RETURNS TO ACTION — Tackle Ben Sturgeon, above, will make his first appearance for the Fighting Harvesters tonight when the Green and Golders take on the Abilene Eagles at Abilene. Sturgeon has been out all season with a fractured foot he suffered in a pre-season workout. The 203-pound senior, one of five returning Harvester lettermen, isn't expected to start tonight's game but he will likely see lotsa action. (News Photo)

Saturday Final Day To Qualify For PCC Meet

Saturday will be the final qualifying day for the first annual Pampa Country Club golf tournament.

All PCC members are urged to enter the tourney. Close to 50 golfers had qualified through yesterday with qualifying to continue until sundown tomorrow.

First round of match play will be unreeled Sunday. Second round will be played the following Sunday, Oct. 31; third round, Sunday, Nov. 7; and the finals Sunday afternoon, Nov. 7.

All entrants are asked to make up their own starting times. The schedule above is for the convenience of all entrants and should they not be able to play on dates mentioned, they should contact their opponents and set another date.

In event of bad weather, the dates will be moved up one week. A large trophy and an exact replica will be presented to the club champion. First player to win the title three successive years will gain permanent possession of the trophy.

Gift certificates will be presented to winners and runners-up and consolation winners of all other flights.

Entry fee for the tournament is $3.50.

Poodles Nip Reapers 21-13

BORGER, Oct. 22 — The Borger Poodles, scoring all their points in the first half, bested the Pampa Reapers in a Panhandle Junior High Conference game here Thursday, 21-13.

The Poodles jumped into a 21-7 halftime lead and managed to stave off the Reapers the second half. One of the Poodle touchdowns came on a 60-yard return of an intercepted pass.

Don Bigham and Robert Langford scored the Reaper touchdowns. Bigham charged over from the five in the second quarter with Langford running the same distance in the third.

Langford ran over the extra point following the first TD.

The Reapers, a bit shaggy on defense in the first half, came back strong defensively in the final two quarters to hold the Poodles scoreless.

Standing out defensively for the Reapers in the second half were tackle David Holt; ends Franklin Snow and Tommie Mullins and guard Delbert Simmons.

The entire forward wall, however, drew praise from Coach Deck Woldt for the fine defensive play in the final two quarters. Gary Wilhelm turned in a fine performance at quarterback for the Reapers in the second half.

Next on tap for the Reapers will be at Harvester Stadium Friday against Dumas.

Two Ram Players Recover

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 22 — Eddie Hughes and Tom McCormick of the Los Angeles Rams, both injured in last Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers, will be discharged from a local hospital Saturday.

Jessop Joekys Three Winners

CICERO, Ill., Oct. 22 — Job Dean Jessop, one of the Midwest's leading joekys, piloted three consecutive winners Thursday at Sportsman's Park. Jessop won with Deed I. Joe for $2, Lord Henry ($11.80) and Thistle War ($4.60).

Close Bouts Feature Local Boxing Opener

Seventeen bouts, most of them nip-and-tuck affairs, gave the Pampa boxing season a rousing send-off last night at the Top o' Texas Sportsman Club arena.

There was only one knockout and two TKOs registered, as 14 went the three round distance.

Gary Neal of Elmer's Super Market knocked out Allan Wise of Panhandle Insurance for the lone KO.

Winning by TKO were James Webb of Panhandle Insurance over Marvin Robinson of Elmer's and Leroy Winborne of the Spokesman over Joe Rutherford of Citizens.

In th most action-packed fight of the night, Phillip Hutchinson of the Pampa News outdueled Dickie Wills of the Spokesman in an 80-pound affair.

The Optimist Club, sponsor of the boxing program, plans to hold the boxing matches weekly, probably each Thursday night.

Following are last night's results:

53 pounds — Michael Wise, Panhandle Insurance, dec. Gary Johnson, Pampa News.

60 pounds — Rickey Higdon, Panhandle Insurance, dec. Paul Edwards, Pampa News.

70 pounds — Kenny Powell, Citizen's Bank, dec. Doy Hutchinson, Pampa News.

80 pounds — Ronnie Goodwin, Spokesman, dec. John Ironmonger, Elmer's.

105 pounds — Lynn Schoolfield, Citizen's Bank, dec. Carl Knoll, First National.

85 pounds — Gary Neal, Elmer's, won by knockout over Allan Wise, Panhandle Insurance (2).

75 pounds — James Webb, Panhandle Insurance, won by TKO over Marvin Robinson, Elmer's (2).

80 pounds — Gerald Bean, Spokesman, dec. Ronald Edwards, Elmer's.

80 pounds — Lucky Dunham, First National, dec. Glenn Murphy, Elmer's.

80 pounds — Leroy Winborne, Spokesman, won by TKO over Joe Rutherford, Citizen's (1).

75 pounds — Dickie James, First National, dec. Joe Dunn, Panhandle Insurance.

80 pounds — Phillips Hutchinson, Pampa News, dec. Dickie Wills, Spokesman.

80 pounds — Jerry Oliver, First National, dec. Bob O'Neal, Panhandle Insurance.

106 pounds — Terry Timmons, Citizen's, dec. Ken Burrell, Spokesman.

90 pounds — Jimmy Parker, Citizen's, dec. Stanley Williams, First National.

98 pounds — Junie Burrell, Spokesman, dec. Bobby Edwards, Elmer's.

130 pounds — Jim Murray, First National, dec. Bruce Hutchinson, Pampa News.

BOXING SEASON OPENS — Shown above is one of the 17 bouts unreeled last night in the opening program of the Pampa Optimist Club boxing season. Lynn Schoolfield, left, of Citizen's Bank team, has Carl Knoll of First National Bank backed against the ropes in the above action. Schoolfield went on to record a decision in the 105-pound scrap. Shockers Get Even; Crush Dumas, 33-0

By RAUL (Rabbit) RAMIREZ

The Pampa B team Shockers registered their second win of the season last night with a resounding 33-0 decision over the Dumas B team at Harvester Stadium.

The Shocker win last night reversed an earlier 13-12 loss to the little Demons in a game played at Dumas.

Both Shocker wins this season have been by the shutout route. Coach Marvin Bowman's lads had previously defeated Turkey by a 12-0 count.

The Shockers scored in every period last night, tallying once each in the first and second quarters to take a 13-0 halftime lead.

Then the Shockers added 13 points in the third quarter to go ahead, 26-0, and finished off with a lone extra point for a 13-0 halftime lead.

Dearen passed for the next Shocker TD in the third, a 69-yarder to Gardner and a 10-yarder to Bauman. Hopkins converted from placement following Gardner's TD, the Shockers boosting their lead to 26-0 in the third.

James Weathered set up the fourth with an intercepted pass. Weathered gathered in the Dumas aerial on the 50 and returned to the Demon 35. From there, Ring picked up 10, Buddy Lamberson five and then Ring again for 20 for the touchdown. Hopkins converted to conclude the night's scoring.

Doug Simmons, 210-pound tackle, stood out in the Shocker forward wall. Also turning in fine defensive performances were Ring, Don Allen, Jerry Bonsel and Billy Green.

Next on tap for the Mustangs will be against Lakeview at Wheeler, Oct. 29, in a District 2-B contest.

Feature game of 2-B this week will be Quitaque-Silverton game at Silverton. Both Quitaque and Silverton are unbeaten this season in conference play. Quitaque in two games and Silverton one.

Quitaque is the season leader with five wins against no defeats. Other games this week sends Estelline to Turkey and Matador to Lakeview.

Lewis Takes Over State Rushing Lead

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22 — Harold Lewis, Pampa Harvester fullback, making a bid for all-state honors, took over first place among the state 4A ball carriers last week with a sensational performance that found him gaining 267 yards in 23 carries which included touch-down runs of 55, 86 and 75 yards.

That gave Lewis 723 yards for the season on 82 trips for a fine

8.8 average. He replaced Arlington Heights' Nick Georges who dropped to seventh place as he carried the ball only three times last week for 21 yards.

Another Arlington Heights' back, Edward Searcy, who was second last week, held on to that position with 611 yards on 87 carries for a 7.0 average. Galveston's Earl Fairchild jumped from seventh to third with 554 yards and an 8.4 average.

There was no change in the leadership of the other three departments.

Although he didn't catch a pass last week, Joel Wyatt of Dallas Forest kept a slim hold on first place over San Angelo's Marvin Lassater, who moved from seventh to sixth. Wyatt has 281 yards on 12 receptions. Lassater has 251 on 9. Lassater caught three passes for 82 yards against Pampa last week.

Fort Worth Poly's Hunter Enis, who has led from the start, completed only 5 of 13 passes for 47 yards but that gives him 51 completions in 99 tries for 528 yards for the season. San Antonio Brackensridge's Jerry Tompkins closed the gap. He now has 34 connections on 50 tries for 517 yards. He leads in touchdown passes with 8.

Morris Rose of Dallas South Oak Cliff was idle last week but his punting average of 40.1 is still tops.

IF THE ODDS WERE EVER STACKED against the Fighting Harvesters, they are stacked against them tonight.

The Green and Golders will be going against a team that many have picked to win the state title in their worst physical condition of the season.

In pre-season billing, the Abilene Eagles, tonight's Harvester foe, were picked as the team most likely to win the state crown by sports writers and coaches around the state.

And the Harvesters, on the other hand, were rated last in District 1-AAAA in the pre-season forecasting.

If the Harvesters were in tip-top condition they would have their hands full against the Eagles, to say the least.

But three of their five returning lettermen were ailing at the moment although only one is definitely out of tonight's game. Bill Fullenwider, regular halfback, won't suit up for tonight's contest as result of a fractured foot.

Two other Harvester lettermen, tackle Ben Sturgeon and fullback Harold Lewis may see only part-time duty in the Abilene game tonight.

Sturgeon, of course, won't be up to himself since tonight will be his first game this season. He has been sidelined all year with a broken foot suffered in a pre-season workout which hasn't completely healed as yet.

Lewis, spent all day Wednesday in bed with a virus infection and although he may get into the Eagle game, he won't be at full strength.

So, you see, the odds are stacked against the Green and Golders tonight.

But you can wager your last dollar the Harvesters aren't conceding a thing to the Eagles.

THERE'S A SPECIAL TREAT coming up for Pampa wrestling fans Monday night.

An all-girl match will headline the card at the local arena next Monday including Bonnie Watson and Olga Zepeda.

You can rest assured the ladies will put on a good show for the local mat fans.

THERE'S A BUNCH OF KIDS who will bear watching as future Harvester stars. We're speaking, of course, of the Pampa Junior High Pee Wees who haven't been scored on in four games this season.

The Pee Wees are made up of seventh and eighth graders and their rugged defensive play has been little short of sensational.

In one game, the Pee Wees didn't allow their opponent a first down. And in another the opponent never got past the Pee Wee 40 yard line.

Jury Locked In Trial Of Policeman

MARSHALL, Tex., Oct. 22—UP—A jury told District Judge Sam Hall twice Thursday that it could not reach a verdict in the case of suspended policeman Jack Redfern, who killed Fenwick (Sonny) Ford for allegedly seducing his wife.

The jury sent Judge Hill a note saying it could not agree during the morning. He told it to make another attempt to reach a verdict.

About noon, the jury sent out another note, saying it could not agree. A deputy sheriff read it by telephone to Judge Hall, who was eating lunch at home.

He told the sheriff to have the district clerk file it and not to answer the note. Redfern's trial began 10 days ago and the courtroom has been crowded ever since.

The onetime officer surrendered at police station shortly after Ford, a postal clerk, was shot to death on a downtown street July 7.

Redfern said his wife had admitted indiscretions with Ford. Defense attorneys in final arguments of his trial contended that Redfern justifiably killed in defense of his home, and reviewed testimony that the murdered man forced his attentions on Mrs. Redfern over a period of several months.

The state argued, however, that the murder was carefully planned and called attention to reported threats by Redfern on Ford's life the afternoon before the postal clerk was killed.

Bus Strikers Reach Terms

DALLAS, Oct. 22—UP—A drivers' strike which has halted service over 3,000 miles of Continental Trailways Bus system's western division since last June 4 was ended Thursday and service will resume Friday over the lines in California, New Mexico, Utah and Arizona.

A spokesman for the huge Trailways system said the Federal Conciliation Service had brought both the company and strikers to terms around midnight at Los Angeles on terms of a contract identical to one which ended a similar strike in the lines' Central division last week.

It included the new "escalator clause" governing drivers' wages which would give the drivers automatic increases above the average $400 monthly figure on the basis of increased gross revenue. The clause is a new trend in transportation industry dealings with labor, the spokesman said.

The company said it would take about 10 day for operations to return to normal, but that skeleton service would start Friday. The system's "through routes" from Dallas and Memphis to the West Coast were started Thursday to tie in with the resumption of service in the Western division.

Some 154 operators and 500 turoughed personnel in other departments have been idled by the strike.

Nation's Polio Cases Decline

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—UP—The Public Health Service said Thursday that 1,651 new polio cases were reported last week, a drop from the 1,756 cases in the previous week.

The service said most states reported "substantial decreases" in polio cases, but Florida continued to show a large number of cases. Florida listed 202 new cases last week.

Total polio cases for this year stood at 31,710 cases, compared with 30,550 for the corresponding period of 1953 and 47,493 for a similar period of 1952.

Lefors Personals

By GWEN THURMOND
Pampa News Correspondent

The Rev. and Mrs. I. T. Huckabee of the Lefors Methodist Church, are visiting with Mr. Huckabee's brother and family in Waco this week.

Mrs. Ruth Bennett, and children, Alfred, Billy, and Maricelle of Albuquerque, N. M., visited with friends and attended the homecoming activities in Lefors over the week end.

Home from college over the week end in Lefors were Jackie Chisum and Rondall Cole from Texas Tech; Dickey Davis and Corlynn Maples from Wayland College; Sylvia Bradford and Ann Nell, West Texas State; Jan Mounger and Margaret Cobb, North Texas State Teachers College; and Shirley Smith, Oklahoma College for Women.

The Lefors High school Student Council met and organized recently with Phillip Earhart, a senior as president, Derrill McKnight, vice president; Eddy Clemmons, secretary; Carole Graves, treasurer, and Neva Rippey, reporter. The Student Council will sell candy during the noon hour, and will sponsor a box supper, on Oct. 19, at 7:00 o'clock in the High School Gym.

Gwen Thurmond, drum Majorette for the Pirate Band, won a first place trophy at the National Baton Twirling Association Contest held in Lubbock recently. She also received a Pin for traveling the farthest distance. She, along with Miss Gertrude Chisum, and Peggy and Melba McCarley will compete in the State contest in Dallas on Saturday.

Visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Delver of Lefors, was Bob Delver, wife and son, Bobby of Edmond, Okla. With them was a friend, Don Workman.

Mrs. G. B. Hogan and Mrs. J. E. Carter of Lefors spent several days in the hospital in Pampa. Sue Lawrence, a sixth grade student in Lefors won first place honors at a quiz program in Amarillo recently.

The Lefors High School music department has formed several trios, sextets, and quartets, according to Mr. Ray Luper, director of Music.

The advanced trio is composed of Bobbye Warner, Carole Graves, and Ja Juana Peden. The new trio has Pat Martin, Patsy Winegeart, and Aletha Smith as its members; the sextet consists of Neva Rippey, Sheila Cable, Grace Barber, June Henderson, Barbara Pfiel, Peggy Lamb. The boy's quartet are Lewis Daugherty, Derrill McKnight, Tony Maples, and Don Winegeart. The girls quartet is composed of Barbara Pfiel, Betty Atchley, Sherry Satterwhite and Peggy Lamb.

Misses Jo Ann Shores and Barbara Wilson returned home from Oklahoma City, where Miss Shores has been working and Miss Wilson attending a business school.

Mrs. Larry McCathern and Fern Bigham returned recently from Healtion, Okla., where they visited Mr. McCathern.

A box supper will be held in the Lefors High School gymnasium Tuesday night starting at 7:30 p.m. All high school students are invited as it is sponsored by the student council. Proceeds will go to the student council. A prize is to be given to the most outstanding box.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thurmond and sons, Roy and Jimmy, of Skellytown attended the Homecoming recently. Mr. Thurmond was the Pirates' first football captain.

Cancer Cause Found In Cigs

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—UP—A powerful cancer causing chemical compound has been identified in burning cigaret paper, it was disclosed Thursday.

The compound is 3,4 benzpyrene. In mice it is one of the most powerful — cancer — causer known to science. No one knows what it does to human beings.

D. V. Lefemine, research chemist of the Cancer Institute, Miami, obtained 1.7 pounds of tars by burning enough cigaret paper to roll 80,000 cigarets (80,000 cigarets would last a pack-a-day smoker 11 years).

He separated the 1.7 pounds of tars into chemical components, and one component he identified as 3,4 benzpyrene.

An outline of Lefemine's findings has been known in chemists' circles for some weeks and has the biggest-scale study of the smoking habits of lung cancer victims showed that comparatively few were heavy pipe or cigaret smokers — compared to the number of heavy cigaret smokers.

T. V. Hartnett, former president of the Brown and Williamson Tobacco Co. and now chairman of the Tobacco Industry Research committee, said that "the public can rest assured that the cigaret companies are alive to the question and doing something about it."

Mrs. Oren Gatewood entertained with a barbecue steak dinner recently in her backyard honoring her husband on his birthday. Those present were the honoree and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Flaming and Gregg, Mrs. J. M. Bull, Mrs. Marvyn Organ, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Price, Jerry and Kathy and the hostess.

Mrs. Omar Truax was hostess to Missouri Avenue Home Demonstration Club recently. Mrs. P. W. Wermske conducted the business meeting. Nine members were present.

The Nolla Home Demonstration Club met Oct. 7 with Mrs. Fred Hale as hostess. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Elta Waggoner, president; Mrs. Harry Brunnett, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Hale, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Arnold Good, council delegate; and Mrs. Billy Pood Herndon, reporter. Fifteen members and guests were present.

The Senior Sunday School department of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a hay ride Tuesday evening. The group met at the church by home in the country where they had a winner roast and played games. Approximately 30 members and guests attended the social. Their teachers are Mrs. W. L. Good and Mr. Homer Gurley.

Mrs. J. M. Bull entertained at dinner, recently honoring her husband on his birthday. After Mr. Bull had opened his gifts, dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bull, Mrs. Jack Atchison, Mrs. Loren Allen and Randy, Mrs. Oren Gatewood, Mrs. Virgil Flaming and Gregg, Mrs. Floyd Price and Kathy, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bull.

Mrs. Oby Rist was hostess for the Tax Home Demonstration Club recently in her home. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Carl Philipp, president; Mrs. Oby Rist, vice-president; Mrs. John Hardy, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. William Flowers, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Warren Gum, council delegate;

Mrs. Martin McCarty, vice-president council delegate; and Mrs. Robert Potts, reporter. Mrs. Carl Philipp gave the council report, and Mrs. Rist gave the demonstration for the afternoon on "Cherry Pie." One guest and seven members were present.

The regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church was held October 11 in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hocking with Mrs. Robert Holt as co-hostess. Mrs. Kenneth Precise, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Cecil Robison had charge of the worship service. She was assisted by Mrs. R. T. Bowen, Mrs. Jack Gramsford, and Mrs. D. D. Shanks. Rev. A. B. Cockrell also talked to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Walton of Borger, formerly of Perryton, announced the birth of a son on Oct. 5 and have named him Mark Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Walton are paternal grandparents.

The elaborate iron grillwork seen on many homes in Savannah, Ga., is about a century old. The decorations were introduced by French royalists who fled to this southern city when revolution flared on the island of Hispaniola in the West Indies.
