S-D Day Spoiled In Opening Hours

By UNITED PRESS
American motorists attempted Wednesday to set an all-time safety mark on this "S-D Day," but a mounting number of fatal and injurious smashups marred their record.

A United Press survey showed nine persons dead and 84 injured since midnight, when the nation's motorists were asked to begin an all-out effort to get through 24 hours without a traffic accident, death or injury.

Fatalities before 9 a. m. included two each in Mississippi and Ohio and one each in Indiana, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Wisconsin.

The first official report of an S-D Day accident came from Wisconsin, where the Milwaukee county sheriff's office said it received a report at 12:23 a. m. of an accident in which Adelbert Jacobs Jr., 37, of near Waterford, was killed when his car missed a curve on a highway near Milwaukee. The sheriff's office said they considered it an S-D Day death.

The first two fatalities reported to United Press were both in Ohio. At about 2:30 a. m., Emmet G. Temple, 29, was killed when his car crashed into a truck in Cleveland. At 3:25 a. m., east John Russell Bovard, 32, died in a head-on collision near Ravenna.

The early reports were too sparse to indicate whether the nation's motorists were responding to President Eisenhower's plea for as perfect a national safety record as possible.

To Be Decided Tonight
In Washington the President's Action Committee on Traffic Safety, which is sponsoring "S-D Day," said the success or failure of the campaign will probably be decided Wednesday night.

Three times as many traffic fatalities occur after dark, the committee said, and the danger hours (See S-D DAY, Page 3)

The Pampa School Board will follow up the accusations of H. B. Ladyman, 504 N. Naida, and other parents who presented, then withdrew, a petition to the board asking the dismissal of an elementary school teacher for "unfit" and "too cruel" treatment to children in her room.

Herman Whitley, board president, today said, "We're going to check into it, but how or when I don't know — it's our duty to check all complaints."

The school board, Schools Supt. Knox Kinard, the principal of the school where the teacher instructs and the teacher herself will all be in on the investigation, Whitley said. Kinard was out of town today and was not expected back in Pampa until tonight.

In the absence of Kinard, Pampa High School Principal Jack Edmondson is acting schools superintendent, the president said. "But, of course, he knows nothing of the matter."

School officials said it was their understanding the petition had not officially been submitted, as Ladyman would not permit board members to have a list of the petitioners. Ladyman's wife, however, has said she and her husband understand the petition is an active matter and has not been withdrawn.

Whitley said, "We're going to get both sides of the situation, to the best of our ability, and what we decide will be for the overall good of the schools, not just for one child, but for all the children."

Washington, Dec. 15 — President Eisenhower has put a $63 billion price tag on the 1955 legislative program he will send Congress next month, congressional leaders said Wednesday.

This is about the same as the estimated bill for this fiscal year which ends next July. And it means a deficit of $3 billion in 1955-56 even if Congress postpones the corporation and excise tax cuts scheduled for April.

The leaders disclosed the budget estimates after a two-day White House conference in which Mr. Eisenhower outlined the legislation he will recommend to the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress.

Favorable Reaction
The initial reaction of the Democrats was favorable with one flatly ruling out any "cold war" with the White House. Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson said, however, that the President's program may need "some improvement."

Republicans emphasized their harmony with the administration. Although the White House meetings were secret, the congressmen who attended have gradually revealed most of what went on. From their piecemeal statements, the basic planks in the President's program emerged Wednesday. The highlights:

1. A new Asian aid program — Sen. Styles Bridges disclosed that this will be "modest in amount"

2. Liberalized trade program — this urged presidential authority to cut tariffs sharply over a three-year period. A congressional leader said Mr. Eisenhower gave this extremely high priority. Johnson said to have told the President the Democrats were ready to back this last year but that Republicans sidetracked it. Considerable controversy is expected.

3. Pay raises — informed sources said the administration will propose 5 to 8 per cent increases for both the Civil Service and the military. But it wants mail rates hiked to pay the cost. Sharp debate is expected.

4. New Military Plan
New military reserve planning men would have option of six months basic training plus 9 1-2 years in reserves, or two years active duty and six years in the reserves. A key source said Wednesday that Mr. Eisenhower put great emphasis on this and Johnson conceded some such program would probably be adopted. Sharp debate is expected.

Ag Chief Is Controls Foe

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said Wednesday maximum agricultural progress can come only with a minimum of government regulation and control.

He stressed repeatedly the necessity for as much freedom as possible for agriculture and said the new flexible price support program was a step in the right direction.

Benson spoke at the 36th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation being held in Manhattan Center here.

He was optimistic about prospects for the farmer, both on a long and short range basis, and indicated price problems would be reduced as surpluses are gradually reduced.

Farmers to Take Over
"Government can and will play a part in helping agriculture adapt to new circumstances and conditions," he said. "By far the greater part of the job will be done by the farmers themselves."

Maximum progress will come only if agriculture is free and farmers can make their own management decisions on their own farms with a very minimum of government regulation and control.

"Our constant objective is to do what is best for farmers and what is fair to all of our people. In the long run, what is good for agriculture is also good for America."

He said the agricultural act of 1954, passed by the 83rd Congress, is a move toward price flexibility and greater freedom of operation.

"Greater Freedom"
Benson said the new farm program heads the nation toward greater freedom and added that "if I properly interpret the position of the American people, they concur in that decision."

"It is appropriate for us in the Department of Agriculture to use our authority in such a manner as to provide as large a degree of freedom as is consistent with the responsible administration of our farm programs."

He said he believed farmers must be prepared to accept the normal risks which go with farming, "just as the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker must reconcile themselves to the uncertainties which go with their chosen occupations."

Pampa Keeps S-D Day Record Clean

Pampa's experiment with Safe-Driving Day was a complete success up to noon today, and according to Police Chief Jim Conner, S-D Day director, "we're keeping our fingers crossed for an uneventful day."

Until Monday evening there had been 301 traffic accidents in Pampa since Jan. 1, but Conner said that if we have any today "it certainly can't be blamed on the weather."

Conner commended organizations whose help he has had on the program and the publicity.

The Junior Red Cross distributed accident questionnaires to children in elementary schools.

Business and professional women distributed handbills with the comment "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road."

Public agencies, such as the post office, have instructed their personnel in the necessity of respecting the privileges of pedestrians and drivers.

The work of the Pampa Citizens Safety Commission, Conner said, has carried on admirably the work of traffic safety during the past year.

War Threat Seen For Next 50 Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — President Eisenhower said Wednesday the United States must be strongly prepared for as long as 50 years to fight a big war.

But Mr. Eisenhower added quickly that he hopes and prays it will not be necessary to carry the defense program forward on current levels for so long a period.

He made the statement at his news conference in response to questions about defense planning.

The President also said the military manpower reserve program outlined to Republican and Democratic congressional leaders Tuesday is a far cry from universal military training.

He declined to go into detail, saying this will be done Friday at a Defense Department news conference.

Sources familiar with Tuesday's White House briefing said Mr. Eisenhower has put a top priority label on his reserve program which, according to military experts, is a step in the direction of universal military training.

Mr. Eisenhower, in a lengthy news conference exposition of current defense theories in a changing world, emphasized that it would be impossible to buy 100 per cent security in every little corner of the world.

But he said that for the foreseeable future — 50 years if necessary — the United States must prepare to remain strong and able to cope with what a reporter referred to as "a big war."

Man Convicted, Wife Given Job
SAN DIEGO, Tex., Dec. 15 — Mrs. E. L. Adams took over Wednesday as Duval county's superintendent of schools.

She was appointed Tuesday by the county commissioners after her husband, who held the post for 20 years, resigned. Adams was convicted last Saturday of paying a county bill of $31.33 with a check for $231.33 and pocketing the extra $200.

Adams was indicted on a total of 15 counts of felony theft, but has been tried only on one. Sentenced to two years in prison, Adams is free on bond pending an appeal.

Nehru Urges Reds To Meet With UN Chief

By BRUCE W. MUNN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 15 — India disclosed Wednesday that Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has asked Red China to accept the United Nations' request for a meeting in Peiping on the fate of 11 U.S. airmen jailed by the Communist as spies.

Advices from the Indian capital of New Delhi said Nehru sent a message to Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai urging him to discuss the case personally with UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Officials in New Delhi emphasized that Nehru's message in no way means that India is intervening in the American's case. They said Nehru only was passing along Hammarskjöld's request for a face-to-face meeting with Chou.

A spokesman for Hammarskjöld said no reply from Peiping, "provisional or otherwise," to his message sent last Friday had been received.

Nevertheless, UN delegates generally believed the Hammarskjöld request was under consideration in Peiping.

American officials in Washington also expressed new hope that the Mao Tse-Tung regime is planning to release the fliers but they cautioned it may be some time before the men are freed.

Cabot To Increase Production

Increased demand for gas furnace black will necessitate resumption of production on five gas furnace black units at the Pampa Plant of the Cabot Carbon Company. They will recall 14 former employees to handle this increase, according to E. J. O'Brien, plant superintendent.

Work on repairing the five furnace units at the old General Atlas Plant, on the Amarillo highway, will begin immediately and will be done by the construction crew of the Cabot Engineering Company.

The repairs, which are expected to be completed early in January, will double the present production in the Pampa plants. The units have been out of production since June.

Nannie Doss Bound Over For Trial

TULSA, Dec. 15 — Mrs. Nannie Doss, who confessed she poisoned four of her five husbands and is suspected of giving arsenic over for trial Wednesday for the murder of her last mate.

Tulsa Common Pleas Court Judge Lloyd McGuire ruled he did not have authority to commit the giggling grandmother to an asylum for mental observation, as her attorneys had demanded. But McGuire said this would be possible when her case comes before a district judge.

Mrs. Doss chewed gum vigorously during the brief court session. She was asked no questions and volunteered no statements.

Her court-appointed attorneys waived a preliminary hearing which had been scheduled before McGuire. They asked that her trial be scheduled quickly so she can be committed to Eastern Oklahoma Mental hospital, Vinita, for observation.

Attorney Gordon Patton said he had been unable to prepare her defense "because she cannot be relied upon to tell the truth."

Mrs. Doss is held in jail without bond for the poison death of Sam Doss. She told officers she sprinkled rat poison on his breakfast prunes, and when that failed to kill him, she laced his coffee with the poison.

County Attorney J. Howard Edmondson said he would not oppose a sanity test for Nannie, 49, who composed several sentimental epigrams for the loved ones she disposed off. He said a 90-day commitment probably will be arranged quickly.

Justice Douglas Weds Tuesday
TALLULAH, La., Dec. 15 — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and Mrs. Mercedes Hester Davidson were married at the home of her parents here late Tuesday and left for a "honeymoon in the west."

Douglas, 56, and his 34-year-old bride, an attractive blonde divorcee who did research for his books, eloped quietly into this northwest Louisiana plantation town for the ceremony and left immediately afterward.

Altar Parade In Hollywood Was Big News

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15—UP—Cupid finally scored a win in movietown this year with Hollywood historians, chalking up 1954 as the year of the parade to the altar.

Weddings and engagements outnumbered the divorces and separations for the first time in many years, and the Hollywood press handled a steady stream of champagne receptions and lists of things old, new, borrowed and blue.

The three biggest marriage stories—also three of the nation's top news stories—starred June Haver and Fred MacMurray, Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio and Susan Ball and Dick Long.

June, who once gave up Hollywood to be a nun, and widower MacMurray eloped to Ojai, Calif., June 29. Susan walked on her artificial leg for the first time since losing her leg to cancer when she wed actor Long in Santa Barbara April 11.

Marilyn, a bride on Jan. 14, was a divorcee in October. But even that unhitching wound up on Cupid's side of the ledger. The couple still date.

Pier Angeli and Vic Damone's formal church wedding Nov. 24 was the big social event of the year. It also was a surprise because Damone had dated Pier's twin sister, Marianna Pavan, while the bride had been a twosome with actor James Dean.

The rice-and-old-shoes circuit was busiest in November. Vera-Ellen and oilman Vic Rothchild, Jane Powell and auto dealer Pat Nerney, Eleanor Parker and artist Paul Clements and John Wayne and Pilar Pallette tied the knot.

Other 1954 weddings included Robert Taylor and Ursula Thiess, Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer and Groucho Marx and Eden Hartford.

Even two hold-outs, Marlon Brando and Liberace, were carried away by romance. Liberace announced he would like to marry dancer Joanne Rio in a year but he since returned to his mother. Brando gave up his T-shirt for a Homburg hat and a French fisherman's daughter, Josianne Berenger. Another popular romance was Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher, whose engagement party paired many weddings in the film colony. Gene Tierney and Aly Khan had a fling.

On the minus side of the romantic news, Susan Hayward was the star of the year's biggest divorce battle when she fought to keep husband Jess Barker from her fortune. Jane Wyman, Mrs. Jeff Chandler and Leslie Caron won divorces. Linda Christian and Tyrone Power called an end to their marriage and the gossip said it was no coincidence that actor Edmund Purdon and his wife, Tita, did, too.

Speculations broke up the marriage of those widowers, Gregory Peck, Roger Eberhart, Barbara Rush and George Eberhart.

In the rest of the vital statistics department, death claimed one of the nation's most respected actors, James Barrymore.

Deaths were welcomed by Audie Murphy, Stephen McNally, Ann and Richard Fardon.

'Test Tube Babies Illegal' Controversy Rages Over Birth Ruling

CHICAGO, Dec. 15—UP—A tangled legal controversy, perhaps involving thousands of children, arose Tuesday in the wake of a judge's ruling that many "test tube babies" are illegitimate.

An appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court was planned and a Chicago specialist called the ruling "very unfair." Other specialists asked for new laws to clarify the status of artificial insemination.

The ruling was made Monday by Superior Court Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the case of a Chicago mother who seeks divorce and admits her child is the product of artificial insemination.

Gorman said a "test tube baby" is illegitimate if the donor is any person other than the mother's husband. A wife who submits to insemination from such a third party is guilty of adultery, Gorman said.

Statehood Bill Readied

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—UP—Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.) plans to introduce a single bill in the new Democratic-controlled Congress calling for statehood for both Hawaii and Alaska.

Murray, slated to head the Interior and Insular Affairs committee, said he would offer a combined bill "so that both will get an equal chance" at statehood.

Murray said he knows of no legislation at present to give Puerto Rico statehood but that if any is submitted, "I shall certainly give it every sympathetic consideration."

"We are going to give statehood high priority," Murray said. "I am sure the committee will not need much time to deliberate over a matter that has been before us year after year. We hope to pass a combined bill quickly so as to give them an early start for full congressional approval."

McCarthy Has Eyes On Uranium

DENVER, Dec. 15—UP—Texan Glenn McCarthy, who has lost and made more fortunes than most people dream about, was in Colorado Tuesday, his eye for riches turned on the uranium rich Colorado plateau.

The one-time king of the nation's oil wildcaters said that if he can find what he is looking for, he will move his headquarters from Cillamontes, Bolivia, to Grand Junction, Colo.

He said he now has three producing wells on the 970,000 acres he owns in Bolivia and hopes to bring in a new well per month. He said he also is building a pipeline to carry his oil to Argentina.

Bull on the subject of oil, McCarthy said he plans to drill two wells in eastern Wyoming in the near future.

As for uranium, he told Rocky Mountain news reporter Reva Cullen, "I'm interested in it wherever it's found, but right now I hope that's Colorado."

Nostradamus Reads As You So Desire

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Desiring tidings good or evil of events to come we hied to the New York shops of the old necromancer and practitioner of the arts mystick, Roberts Yolept Henry C. and put unto him the question:

"What saith the oracle Nostradamus of the aborning year nineteen hundred fifty-five, pray tell what portends?"

"The books—the books telleth all," quoth Roberts, he who purveys old volumes, idols and things called bric-a-brac at the sign of the Threemonth he flattered the pages of the book of Nostradamus and plucked out a goodly verse.

"In fields and townes the chiefs shall be one against the other," he redde, and looking up saith gravely, "I fear the nations though they call themselves united shall yet more disunited be."

Alas, thought we, have the planets no better message? And being of planetary mind we queried, "In the twelvemonth hence shall the saucers fly or no?"

Once more the pages fluttered and an ancient rime responded. Quoth Nostradamus: "Plague, lightning and hail at the end of March."

"Hail!" the interpreter exclaimed. "Often the seer doth veil his prophecy. Could hail be saucers and March the month?"

Could be, quoth we. And "plague and lightning" bringing to mind those matters politic we dared seek from Nostradamus one augury more.

"Do the pages tell the fate of him of the clan McCarthy? Shall there three parties be?"

What furious fluttering of the yellowing leaves! The brow of Roberts furrowed as he pored. Until at last his finger struck upon the lines:

"The firstborn son of the Prince of Pescara shall become overblown with success, but he shall lose his fierce price in Venice and be put to evil by the young Turk, Prince of Pescara. . . Venice. . . Turke. "What language this!" We exclaimed.

"The prophecy is there for he who shall read it," the necromancer smiled.

"Verily," we concluded as we took our leave.

Clark Says Reds Hold More Yanks

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—UP—Gen. Mark W. Clark claims the Chinese Reds hold hundreds of American prisoners in addition to the 13 they have admitted sentencing to long prison terms.

The former Far East supreme commander was quoted as saying the Americans are being held as hostages for use in bargaining with the west.

Clark was quoted by commentator Henry J. Taylor on a nationwide National Broadcasting Company program.

Clark, according to Taylor, knows of 881 Americans held by the Red Chinese in addition to those UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold will seek to free in direct talks with Chinese leaders.

Copter Crash Injures Two

FREEPORT, Tex., Dec. 15—UP—A helicopter used to service an offshore oil well crashed within 100 feet of its landing place here Tuesday, injuring its occupants, one of them seriously.

The copter belonged to the C. J. Glascock Drilling Co. of Corpus Christi. Another helicopter belonging to the same company crashed in the Gulf of Mexico off San Luis Pass Sunday but the pilot and a passenger were rescued and the plane salvaged.

Tuesday's crash occurred as the machine, piloted by Allen F. Holgren, came in for a landing on the Glascock company's well about five miles offshore from San Luis Pass.

Witnesses said it crashed within 100 feet of a cleared space at the Ohio Oil Co. docks here.

Jack C. Turner of the Freeport funeral home said Joseph J. Carroll, a passenger in the copter, was seriously injured. Holgren suffered minor injuries.

Both men were taken to Freeport Medical and Surgical clinic here.

Hiring Slow At TEC Office

There was an estimated 19 jobs available today in the Pampa office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Among the categories on tap were insurance salesman, housekeeper, stenographer, sales clerk, maid and car hop, according to Bill Ragdale, local TEC manager. There are few laboring jobs.

New hiring is "off," Ragdale said. But employment is a "little better" than it was a year ago at the Christmas season, as determined by the number of claims filed and the persons looking for "new work," he pointed out.

There have been "several" good clerical jobs on hand, he went on. They include stenographer, typist and clerk-typist. They have been going fast, he said, but new ones crop up.

Parr Employee Shoots Self

ALICE, Tex., Dec. 15--UP--Hospital attendants said Wednesday that Evangelina Perez, 15, a part-time employee of political boss George Parr, who shot herself Monday night, was in critical condition.

The Duval county sheriff's office said the mother for Evangelina's apparent suicide attempt had been determined. Deputies said the girl's younger sister told them that Evangelina sent her and a brother out of their house to play.

While they were outside, the sister said, they heard the shotgun blast.

County Approves Cotton Quotas

Gray County cotton farmers in McLean voted Tuesday 47 to 5 to maintain marketing quotas on cotton production keeping price support at 90 per cent of parity, according to Miss Evelyn Mason, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager.

The cotton allotment set for Gray County for 1955 is based on 56 per cent of the acreage production during the previous three years. The individuals allotment is arrived at by a similar method. Penalties are leveled at those farmers who fail to comply.

Tight Curbs Voted On Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15--UP--A record small turnout of the nation's cotton farmers have overwhelmingly for the tightest acreage controls in history since 1949.

Unofficial returns compiled by the Agriculture Department from Tuesday's balloting show 92 per cent of the 340,498 farmers voting favored Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson's plan to reduce plantings by 15 per cent in 1955. This was well above the two-thirds margin needed to impose controls.

With returns from all but one state in, 313,561 voted for the controls, which will insure relatively high government price supports, and 27,135 voted against them. The missing state was Nevada where only 10 votes were cast last year.

In 1953, 94 per cent of the 487,253 farmers voting favored controls. Last year was the first time since 1949 that acreage controls were placed on cotton in an effort to cut down on surpluses.

S-D Day Spoiled Quickly

Eight persons were injured in five other Ohio accidents, including two whose car plunged over an embankment near Columbus as they tried to outdistance a police car.

There were seven crackups in the first two hours in Chicago and two persons were injured. A Detroit woman pedestrian was critically injured when a car struck her as she stepped from between two parked autos.

Asked for Spottless Record President Eisenhower, who issued the "S-D Day" challenge to the nation's motorists, had asked for an absolutely spottless traffic record.

Safety officials doubted from the start that this could be achieved. They said they would be well satisfied with a dramatic demonstration of how a nationwide attempt to drive safely can save lives.

On the comparative day last year Wednesday, Dec. 16, auto accidents killed 60 persons and injured 1,807.

A United Press "test" tabulation last Wednesday counted 67 persons dead in traffic accidents and an estimated 2,144 injured.

The average daily death toll on the highways so far this year is 34 persons. However, this figure includes weekends and holidays, when the accident rate soars.

Fifty-seven accidents, in which a total of 13 persons were injured, occurred in Texas during the first nine hours of "S-D Day," the day on which no accidents were supposed to happen.

Six persons were injured in a single accident just north of San

Fair Profit Is $300,631

DALLAS, Dec. 15 -- UP -- The State Fair of Texas earned a net profit of $300,631.20 for the year which ended Nov. 15, stockholders were told at their annual meeting Tuesday night.

S. Bowen Cox, secretary of the fair, said gross receipts during the 1954 fair were a little higher than in 1953, but expenses were also greater, so the fair did not make as much as last year, when the profit was $350,438.

Cox said $504,886.64 was spent on permanent improvements last year, including the new women's building. In addition, Cotton Bowl bonds were paid up through Jan. 1, 1963.

Preacher Kills Wife, Shoots Self

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 15--UP--Rev. Walter P. Richardson, 67, seriously wounded his wife, Gertrude, Tuesday but failed in an attempt to kill himself, he told police.

The Negro Baptist minister reiterated part of the marriage vow, "Let no man put asunder..." as he was questioned by police about the shooting of Mrs. Richardson, who had left her husband.

She was shot at a cleaning shop she managed and Richardson said he tried to kill himself in a back room of the shop, but received only powder burns.

Richardson surrendered to police after a wide-scale manhunt was begun.

Social Insecurity

A leading magazine says that nearly 20 billion dollars has accumulated in the Social Security Reserve Fund. Then it adds that this is "invested" in government bonds. In plain English that means it is gone! We owe it to ourselves.

Under the pretext of looking after us in our old age the government has robbed us of 20 billions (exclusive of what it has paid out in "benefits"). We not only have no surplus fund; we have a huge debt on which we are required to pay interest — government bonds call for interest. We pay the Social Security tax and we pay interest on the bonds the tax is "invested" in, and we will have to pay off the bonds. Thus we are forced to pay three times for "security" — a pittance we may collect if we live long enough, but which the government can repudiate at any time; and often does in individual cases.

Social Security has been with us about twenty years and the government owes it about twenty billion dollars — a leading magazine seems to regard this as a healthy situation. So far the politicians have "blown in" our money as fast as it was collected — and filled the drawer with IOUs. What is being paid back to the forcibly retired (you retire or else) comes from current collections.

No wonder they tell us the rates will have to be increased. Ike has recently added 10 million more persons to the rolls. This will give the bureaucrats additional millions to spend and increase the government's debt to the Security Fund at a more rapid rate. When one department of the government borrows money from another it certainly can't be called an investment. But so long as they can make the voters believe it is they will go by with it.

Before we can collect our Social Security benefits we will have to pay for the bonds the government wisely "invested" our money in — makes sense, doesn't it?

Presidential Timber

We may be a bit early with this, seen' as how it's two years till next election. But we want to beat the other "President Makers" to the punch this time and put in a word for a Western man of distinction.

Utah's governor, J. Brocken Lee, is a fearless and able man. He is a Republican of the old school who hasn't been carried away by Ike's New Deal internationalism. He even refused, under considerable pressure, to proclaim a "United Nations" day in Utah. Instead, he proclaimed a "United States" day — a patriotic gesture that bothered the internationalists considerably.

In these days, when we are looking for a suitable man to take Ike's place in 1956, we would do well not to overlook Mr. Lee. It is high time we had a choice between an American and an internationalist when we vote for president. The Democrats are bound to nominate a One Worlder, so it is up to the Republicans to pick a man who will think of our interests first and last. We believe Governor Lee is such a man.

We also believe that if a man of Lee's caliber is nominated he will be elected by a greater landslide than Ike ever dreamed of. The recent defeat of the Republican party need not be repeated next election. But it will be if they don't give the voters a better choice of candidates than they have been offering for far too long. A choice between internationalists is no choice at all.

THE NATION'S PRESS

U. M. T. AGAIN (Chicago Daily Tribune)
Mr. Eisenhower has endorsed a formula for universal military training which sedulously refrains from using that infamous term, "The procedure and intention, however, are the same. Legislation to enact the new system of compulsory military conscription will be offered to Congress in January. Each young man, upon reaching the age of 18 1/2, will be called for military service. Candidates who may be deferred can be called into service up to the age of 35. A certain proportion of the conscripts, necessary to keep the services at prescribed strengths, will go on active duty for two years. They would then go into the reserve for eight years. If they volunteer for an initial hitch of four years they will be given a reduction of reserve duty of one year for each two years served. The remainder of the conscripts will be given four months of training and then placed in the reserve, to undergo periodic training for the remainder of the 10 years. This is the essential idea of U. M. T.

Our objections to this scheme are the same as those we have advanced against U. M. T. The system deprives the individual of the free use of his life. It deprives the country of his productive energy. It renders our young manhood subservient to the military. It deprives the 10 year conscript of essential civil rights. If he is subject to call at any time, he will wear his reprisal from the powers that be by criticizing his elected public servants or the military officials who are executing their orders.

Universal conscription has been tried and found wanting in many nations of the old world, Germany especially. It did not help the Germans escape defeat in two great wars. It bred an unworthy mentality in the people, and an offensive arrogance in the military caste. It could do the same thing here. A dispirited civilian population would become subject to high handed treatment from a military officialdom ruling the roost.

The civilian government would become so enmeshed in the military spirit and system that it would partake of the characteristics of military government, and those are always inimical to liberty. Military regimentation leads to political authoritarianism. When so large a part of the civilian population would be subject to standing orders, the dynamics of civilian control of the processes of government would wane and the disposition to military usurpation would wax.

The Constitution gives Congress power to raise and support armies and to organize, arm, and discipline the militia, it being recognized that a well regulated militia is necessary to the security of a free state. It would be unwise for Congress to yield its control of the military establishment to the executive and its military agents. The need for a trained reserve can best be met by encouraging and keeping unimpaired a national guard which is closer to the people and the states than to executive authority in Washington.

Is This A Typical Foundation Grant?

I want to report my experience with a school teacher who had received a grant from the Ford Foundation. She is Mrs. Senecal of Rumford, Maine. She is an Art Supervisor. Her grant was for the purpose of interviewing persons throughout our nation on their ideas of tax - supported schools. She called at a sister paper in Colorado Springs.

When she called at my office I asked her certain questions. Her answers gave evidence of her inability to reason and her inability to interpret the Golden Rule and ethical principles. As an illustration, when I asked her if it would be a violation of the Golden Rule for one individual, say John Smith, to set up a school and compel another individual, say Bob Jones, either to pay a fee for Smith's school or leave town, she answered that it would not be a violation of the Golden Rule. According to her reasoning, if George Malenkov or Karl Marx, she did not tell, because the only difference was degree.

When I asked her whether she thought it was fair for the Ford Foundation to set up a school to hire people like her to make interviews and call it education, she of course seemed to think that it was.

Because I contended that government should be limited to only stopping aggression, she repeatedly contended that I was an anarchist. Of course, anarchy is a smear word, and I am as far from an anarchist as it is possible to be because I believe the sole purpose of our government is to attempt to eliminate anarchy — that is, the initiating of force. And if a government is to be unlimited, it becomes the big anarchist instead of the agent to prevent anarchy. The sole purpose of government is to stop one man from getting something on an involuntary basis. But because this school teacher believed that the state has the right to force a man to pay for schools that he thinks are harmful, she believed that anyone who does not so believe is an anarchist.

"We" Bare Majority
She repeated as if she had the right to say what other people should do. When she used the word "we," when pressed to explain, what she meant, she had to admit she really meant the bare majority.

Her whole nature showed that she believed that those with license to teach were so much more intelligent than those who did not have a certificate to teach that it was their responsibility to use coercion and aggression to make other people comply with their ideas of education.

It is little wonder we are in the predicament we are in today when our children are being trained, not educated, by teachers of the type of Mrs. Senecal, and we have foundations like the Ford Foundation having the right to be tax exempt.

Foundations Agents Party
In Power
Few people realize the menace of tax - free foundations. They have come to be simply an agent for the political party in power. The political party in power has the final say as to whether their acts are tax - exempt or whether they are administering charity or promoting education. And since both political parties are largely dedicated to a welfare state, the only kind of education foundations can promote and be tax exempt is some form of collectivism — some form of taking from one to give to another. They cannot really educate; they can only indoctrinate people to believe more and more in a bigger and more unlimited government. And those people who want to really educate and stand against an admitted government of tax and liberty are obliged to pay taxes on the money that they use to educate while the collectivistic foundations are exempt from taxation.

Undoubtedly those people who set up foundations didn't realize their estates would be used to promote Karl Marx. Old - World ideas that are entirely opposite from what the Founding Fathers had in mind in the Declaration of Independence. Look at such foundations as Carnegie and Rockefeller and Ford, and even the Irvine Foundation, if you think they are doing anything to promote citizens to believe that the state should be limited to only doing what the individual does who lives in harmony with the Golden Rule and the Commandments.

To "Wanna" To Learn
Mrs. Senecal and the directors of the Ford Foundation seem to be too "smart" to learn that they must be able to answer questions without evasion or contradiction about what they are advocating or admit they are one of harmony with moral law.

National Whirligig
Senators' Inconsistency
Seen In Dixon-Yates Attacks

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON - President Eisenhower's program for private "partnership" development of the nation's power resources has been approved many times by the very Senators who now denounce the Dixon-Yates TVA-AEC contract as a "giveaway" scheme. The inconsistency accounts for Republican retorts that the Democrats seek only partisan gain in the current controversy.

Ironically, two aggressive sponsors of the most recent example of the Eisenhower "partnership" idea are the two Alabama Senators — John J. Sparkman and Lester Hill. Both now maintain that the Dixon-Yates proposal constitutes an attempt to destroy TVA, apparently forgetting that they urged a similar arrangement on the Senate floor as recently as last summer.

In addition to the Democrats' 1952 Vice - Presidential nominee (Sparkman) and Hill, an enthusiastic public power advocate on certain occasions, the Eisenhower plan was also endorsed by the Congressional delegation from that State. It finally won the unanimous approval of the Senate Public Works Committee and of both Senate and House.

The project involved in the Sparkman-Hill flipflop concerned the construction of a power dam at Howell Mill Shoals on the Coosa River, which runs along the Alabama-Georgia border. Like the proposed Dixon-Yates dam at West Memphis, the Coosa River hydroelectric structure would be built on the fringe of TVA territory.

The Coosa River construction was authorized as a Federal public power proposition by Congress in 1945, but no money was provided for it. All subsequent attempts to obtain funds have failed on Capitol Hill, despite Truman-Chapman urging. For several years, this delay has deprived the area of needed energy for industrial and residential use.

In this respect, the Coosa River situation resembles the Dixon-Yates affair. Congress had authorized a TVA dam at Fulton, Tenn., but had refused to provide money for construction. It was then that the dam turned to private interests for a solution of the deadlock.

Local interests were so disturbed by the delay that they sought the aid of the Alabama Power Company, which serves this area. Oddly, Alabama Power is a subsidiary of Southern Company, which is headed by Eugene A. Yates, and is one of the two firms now under Sparkman-Hill attack for its participation in the TVA-AEC contract at West Memphis.

Alabama Power offered to build the $100,000,000 Coosa River dam, but suggested construction of five instead of only one to meet growing needs. It also agreed to provide for the flood control and navigation features which the Federal Government insists upon as adjunct features.

The CRACKER BARREL

I'm not worried about McCarthy. I'm worried about America. You can't censure the man who fights your enemies without automatically approving of your enemies. And you can't endorse a murderer-enemy without endorsing your own murderer. To even have considered it indicates a sort of national softening of the brain.

FOO REFLECTION

... BY JAMES C. HOEBRETSSEN
President, Spiritual Mobilization

"Christians particularly should be participants in everything that will strengthen the United Nations," declares an article by the Rev. Ralph W. Sockman and the Rev. Charles F. Boss, Jr., in the Oct. 21, 1954, issue of the Christian Advocate.

This is true, the article continues. Lessus the UN "may be considered as a counterpart, an earthly instrument of the Kingdom of God, international machinery through which men of good will, seeking to advance brotherhood, justice, and peace on earth, can work toward the accomplishment of these purposes."

It seems passing strange to see two clergymen calling "international machinery" "a counterpart . . . of the Kingdom of God," "the kingdom of God is not meat and drink (and, presumably, not any kind of machinery, either); but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost."

This seems to pretty well rule out the United Nations as "a counterpart . . . of the Kingdom of God," doesn't it?

McCarthy Erred In Treating Ike As Social, Moral Equal

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Walter Lippmann, who makes occasional umph in the anti-McCarthy jug-band, has laid it down that President Eisenhower needn't wage controversy with Joe McCarthy because one needn't acknowledge affronts from one's inferiors. On the basis of known facts about McCarthy, however, as distinguished from unverifiable scurrilous traceable to a filthy underworld gutter-snipe in Las Vegas, Nevada, McCarthy occupies the superior position and, by Lippmann's own position, made a tactical error in treating Ike as his social and moral equal.

During the 1952 campaign and ever since there has been a sordid silence throughout our means of public "communication" to help Ike to live down the unchallenged presentation of a classical scandal written by an English adventurer with a "West End" background, including a hitch as a clothes - horse near Grosvenor Square, entitled "Eisenhower was my Boss." This female's name was Kay Summerby and her book published in 1948, included an admission that some of the "most social Army wives" in Washington regarded her as "a bad woman," and a "camp follower" in her quasi military career in Ike's intimate household in England, Africa, France and Germany. With or without her knowledge, she was planted on Ike by the British government and he was sap enough to let a strange and, apparently, to a glibly applied, seductive, female "oase in" on his intimate circle.

I wrote to both Ike, then president of Columbia, and Miss Summerby about the time the book was having its season on the stalls, but got no acknowledgment from either. A thorough canvass of the facts and plain implications leaves Ike at a disadvantage in any comparison of his reputation with McCarthy's. He has never taken advantage of many opportunities and a continuing challenge to clarify matters.

These people of the New York cult who get high-sounding about McCarthy take two lines of attack. One, he is an alumnus of Marquette University, a Jesuit school in Milwaukee. Therefore, something which the New York Post sneeringly referred to as his "background" is, to say the least of it, unsatisfactory. And, second, there were those innuendoes, you know, though you could hardly go so far as to call them actual rumors about the quality of the friendship between Joe and Roy Cohn. Both had been bachelors and Cohn still is, at the age of 28, and so, of course, are all Catholic priests.

The fact that these two were professional friends, as a result of a personal association, in the later years of McCarthy's singleness, was seized upon as the basis for indecencies of a kind which have been characteristic of the New Deal morality dating back, it might be to F. D. Roosevelt's extraordinary sympathy with perverts in the navy when he was assistant secretary in the first war.

One of the Eisenhower senators took occasion to spread the same bestial insinuation on the record.

McLeMORE Would Tell China To Deliver Yanks Or Else

By HENRY MCLEMORE

The only head of a state whose name sounds like something copied from a chop suey joint has made a demand on the United States, and he is Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai. Throw a few water chestnuts and blanched almonds over him, and his surname will be Sub Gum.

Egg Foo Yung demanded that we gave up Formosa or take the consequences. I hope he means it. It will be the greatest swap in history. He'll get Formosa and we'll get China. We'll wind up with a great country, made up of great, knowing people, with a civilization that goes back further than any civilization.

Chop Suey will wind up with a small island. When I write this I know I will get hundreds of letters saying that I am trying to get the United States to fight China, with the chance that Russia will come in with a world war resulting.

Okay. If it comes, let it come. There can be no pride in belonging to a country that backs down. Let us not allow that Chinese fellow to talk roughly to our President. We chose Ike. Let us stay right back of him. Let us let him know that his citizens are ready to pitch, no matter how hard it hurt. The United States is the nicest country in the world. Gives more than any other country ever thought of giving. Produces more than any other country ever thought of producing. Tries to do more for other countries than any other country has tried to do for another country. The United States has more men buried on foreign soil than any other country. The United States has tried harder to help than any other country.

The U. S. A. is stronger, richer, tougher, than any country you can name.

But the U. S. A. might just well be Costa Rica. Our country gets shoved around as if it didn't have a single machine. We act as if we didn't have a single airplane, a single soldier, a single carrier, a single A or B bomb.

What is the use of having the best navy, the best air force, and the best army, if we kneel and bow to those who couldn't carry our shoes in a clutch?

China has Americans locked up. And what are we doing about it? Asking the head of the United Nations to come to our aid. Y. I. can't be sillier than that. We ask the United Nations to help us find out how the UN helped us to count the crosses. They will be American ten to one.

I wish I were in charge of telling of China. I'd like to answer that demand of China's Premier. This would be my note:

"You have Americans. If you don't you'll get everything we have to offer. We have never seen the day when we were scared of you — or Russia."

My bet is that they'd back down. The day that China can tell us, what to do will be the day. Just tell China straight out, and let it be no bluff on our part. Throw it at them. Better to get killed than sit around and take any guff.

When a country lets its face be slapped, it ain't much of a country.

June Talk

ARE YOU IN A STEW about the mechanics of serving Christmas dinner to a large crowd of relatives and friends? There's often the problem of shortages of dishes or chairs, and you hate to borrow from the neighbors who are, in all probability, faced with the same dilemma. An article I received recently suggests a solution.

"SMALL HOMES present problems when you invite some of the relatives for Christmas dinners. You haven't a large enough table, not enough chairs and there's never enough room in the kitchen to stack the dishes after the meal. Well, here are a few space and work saving tips that may come in handy during the holidays.

"Use the coffee table for the youngsters. Let them sit on cushions instead of chairs . . . then you won't have to borrow seating equipment from the neighbors. Use paper service . . . a paper tablecloth, paper plates, cups and napkins. You can buy matched sets that come in gay Christmas patterns or you can use the traditional Christmas colors . . . a red tablecloth, green paper plates, etc. When the meal is over, you simply collect the silver, bundle the cloth around the plates, cups and napkins and throw it all away.

"If you want to save yourself still more work and space apply the paper principle to the adult's table. You can achieve truly attractive effects with today's elegant china-like plates. Instead of stacking, scraping, rinsing, washing and drying thirty-six plates, if there are a dozen of you eating, you'll only be left with pots, pans and silver which won't take up much time and not much precious kitchen space.

"You wonder what the visiting relatives will think of this procedure? Well, if they keep tabs on the dictates of etiquette experts, they'll know you're 100 per cent correct in using paper for such a function. It's been proved that you can be a better hostess for you can devote more time to your guests and less to the kitchen."

A WONDERFUL HOLIDAY custom, somewhat disappearing, I'm afraid, is calling. It used to be a ritual . . . Christmas or New Year's Day the families made the rounds of their friends to give them, in person, the season's greet-

Ike Speaks At Dedication Of News Center

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — UP — President Eisenhower paid tribute Monday night to newspaper men and women of the free American press in connection with dedication ceremonies for the new Memorial Press Center here.

The President praised newspapermen and women as "the eyes and ears of our free nation," in a message from Washington. His tribute, along with other portions of the dedication ceremonies, was repeated on the NBC color television show "Dateline."

"Through many years, I have had good reason to count the press corps as a vital arm in the forces of freedom," Mr. Eisenhower said. "In war, I saw its members strive tirelessly, endure hardship, dare battle peril that our people might be fully and quickly informed."

"Now, as President, I find that each day emphasizes anew for me the fairness, the discernment, the dedication of the American reporter; in peace, he is still a valiant warrior for the truth that makes men free."

The memorial center built by the Overseas Press Club is dedicated to the 82 reporters who died overseas since the beginning of World War II. Their names, beginning with United Press reporter Webb Miller who was killed in a London blackout in 1940, are inscribed on plaques in the center.

Mr. Eisenhower commented that the press club had remembered the dead correspondents "as they would want to be remembered."

Step-Father Arrested In Beating

FORT WORTH, Dec. 14 — UP — Thomas John Koback, 32-year-old Kennedale railroad switchman, accused for the second time in six months of beating his three-year-old stepson, Tuesday sat in the Tarrant county jail and officers said they hoped to keep him there for two years.

A two-year jail term is the maximum penalty Koback could receive on a charge of aggravated assault upon a child.

Meanwhile, the child, little William Floyd Johnson, lay in Peter Smith hospital with a 104-degree fever.

Nurses said the child is suffering from a severe cold and bruises over his body. Also, they said, there are burns on his legs which appear to have been made by cigarettes. One arm is swollen so badly doctors fear it may be broken.

Two other stepchildren, Daniel Johnson, 6, and Junella Johnson, 5, were in a children's home.

McCarthy Foe Dies

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 15 — UP — Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, Wisconsin's most consistent vote getter and an outspoken foe of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, died early Tuesday. He was 73 years old.

Zimmerman, a former governor of the state and secretary of state for a total of 20 years, died in St. Luke's hospital here. He had been confined at the hospital since last August, but nevertheless won reelection last November despite opposition from his fellow Republicans.

The tall, angular Zimmerman consistently led the GOP ticket during his long political career, even though he often diverged from official Republican policies.

He created a stir in GOP circles early this year when he publicly stated his opposition to McCarthy. The GOP state makers made Joyce Larkin the party's official candidate for secretary of state, but Zimmerman won handily against her in the primary and later over Democrat Mrs. Charles Benson.

Navy Crash Injures Four

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15 — UP — Four men walked away from a two-rotor Navy helicopter that crashed and burned near here Tuesday morning but all required treatment later for minor injuries.

The large aircraft was wrecked in a field about half a mile from Bell Aircraft Corporation's Blue Mound Road plant, four miles north of the Fort Worth city limits.

Aboard the craft were E. J. Smith, Bell test pilot; commander H. S. Brown, U.S. Navy of Washington, D.C.; W. P. Rollins, Bell's chief production project engineer; and Navy Lt. W. A. Suker, of Washington.

Brown said the men had been on an "evaluation flight" and were hovering about 10 or 20 feet from the ground when the craft suddenly went down.

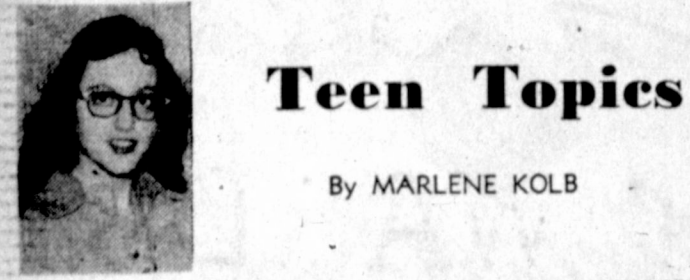

Fire Reported Aboard Tanker

SAN JUAN, P.R., Dec. 15 — UP — The 14,000-ton Norwegian tanker Fensal, carrying a load of petroleum, reported Tuesday a fire on board was put out and the vessel is under way "on her own power."

The United States Coast Guard said at least two crewmen were injured in an explosion and fire in the ship's engine room. Arrangements have been made to remove the men by another merchant vessel in the area, the Coast Guard said.

"Adeste Fideles," "Silens Nox," "Laetissimus Accipit" and many other traditional Christmas Carols sung in the Roman lingo echoed through some Pampa neighborhoods last night as the Latin Clubs held their caroling party. Did you hear them?

Aha! you say, you haven't mailed your Christmas cards yet? Tsk! Tsk! Let's kick each other and then get busy. It's people like us that the post office hates.

The A Cappella Choir has a busy pre-Christmas schedule. Yesterday they sang at Horace Mann, noon today for the Rotary Club, tonight at the Methodist Church, Monday for the annual Pampa High Christmas assembly and Monday evening the Christmas Concert to which the public is invited.

The PHS Troupe 1010 of PHS is going in with the choir for the assembly and, possibly, the concert Monday. Their presentation will be "Coins of His Kingdom," by John McGruvey, taken from scenes of Lloyd C. Douglas' "The Robe."

During the vocabulary study in Mrs. Ruby Capps' third period English Class the other day, the word "monomania" was defined as one who has a one track mind; when he focuses his interest on a subject, he talks, eats, sleeps and breathes it to the extent of driving everyone else to boredom. "Must be a football player," some bitter soul mumbled.

Want to see and hear some Pampa kids, now in college, before they even come home for Christmas? Set your channel for KGNC-TV at 4 p.m. tomorrow. Canyon's West Texas State College A Cappella Choir will appear.

JAN Baker, Sylvia Bradford, Patsy (Stovall) Crossman and David Whalley sing in the choir, which is directed by Houston Bright.

Orchids to Dolores Bonham, senior, who was crowned Queen of the French Club at a dinner-party Monday night. James Pickett figuratively crowned her and presented her a corsage. The Queen's identity was kept a secret until her presentation.

Don't forget! Your annual Ambition Party is this Friday night, Dec. 17, at 7:30 in the PHS cafeteria. See you there "en punto."

Don Fuller saved the day for the Student Council "tree decorators" last Saturday morning. Had he not been handy enough with tools to build a stand for the huge tree, besides putting the strings of lights on it, PHS might have had a reclining, decorated tree, but still reclining tree in the center hall. Would have been sad, no? Thanks, Don.

Isn't it just pure torture on "basketball" game days" to pass through the cafeteria line and see those sizzling steaks waiting for the players? But we'll eat our macaroni or meat loaf in peace and not begrudge, so proud of those Harvesters and Shockers we are. Man, just mention the words "basketball team" to any PHSer or adult Pampa fan too and watch the buttons pop off their chest.

wrapped contributions of food has been in operation in Pampa Schools for as long as this scribe can remember, at least 12 years. The deadline at high school for these goods is next Tuesday noon. Please don't forget yours. Help someone else to have a Merry Christmas.

Have you heard the crazy requests over "Your Make Believe Ballroom" lately? Dad, those names are the most: "To Tomcat from He Knows Who," "The Green Buick Kid," alias Dan Teed, "Chocolate Frosting," alias Mike Siebenlist, "The Teenetts," "The Better Half of the Two Batchelors," "Smiley," "Gusher," and on and on. Believe me, it's a world in itself, that program.

Oops! forgot to mention a name heard most often of all — "Mother Fitcher's Cookies Club." It isn't just a name, though. Eight PHS boys make and take cookies and/or coffee or cakes to the jockey of the show. He must appreciate it, for frequently when he says their name he also adds, "Bless them."

The brainchild of Raymond Brown, the club now includes in its membership Mike Siebenlist, Tim Hardicker, Don Darling, Jerry Dunn, Boyd Stevens, Virgil Flowers and Robert Cobb.

Marion Stone, Texas Association of Student Councils president, and Mrs. Ruby Capps, PHS Student Council sponsor, have their hands especially full right now making arrangements for the state convention to be held in March.

That pep band has got it! They really lived up to the game music-wise Saturday night. There is going to be an addition this year in the form of a guitar, played by Don Cox. It's to give "more rhythm" says Don.

Didn't Marilyn McDaniel and Ruth Abernathy look cute as the horse in the Children's Theater play, "The Clown Who Ran Away?" Even if their tail was crooked.

Best Wishes for a speedy recovery from PHS to Ben Sturgeon and J. R. Cross who are both in Dallas for surgery. Ray Bonsai accompanied them, perhaps for moral support.

Have you driven carefully today? If so, then please continue to do so the rest of this Safe-Driving Day and from now on. If not then

YULETIDE IS THEIR BUSY SEASON

In the weeks before Christmas, things hum at the Rome Studios of the Francesca Rosa Company, one of the world's largest and oldest makers of plaster, stone, marble and wooden religious figures. There are saints, martyrs and other holy leaders, but the big Yuletide rush is on those used in Christmas cribs. The crib statues are sent to cathedrals, churches, schools and homes throughout Italy and abroad. Some of the wide variety of products are shown in the photos below.

Junior High Choir Sings At Junior Chamber Meeting

Fifty-four members of the ninth grade Pampa Junior High School Choir, dressed in brand new blue and white stoles, sang seven varied numbers Tuesday noon for the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Directed by Jim Austin, the mixed group sang "Get On Board, Lij Children," a Negro spiritual; "One God," semi-religious; "Silent Night," Christmas carol; "My Friend," popular; "Sometimes I Feel Like A Motherless Child," Negro spiritual; "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; and "Tis Finished," religious.

Miss Thera Warner played accompaniment on the piano with Miss Linda Steele assisting. Lynn Curtis soloed on "My Friend" and David Sallee sang "Battle."

Austin said the choir had appeared before all Pampa civic clubs, except Rotary.
 Four men were admitted as members of the JayCees. They are Jerry Young, John Gentry, Chester Huff and Max Hukilla. Hukilla and Ed Callahan were named by JayCee President J. C. Hopkins to attend this morning's Pampa Citizens Safety Commission meeting as JayCee representatives.
 Dan Teed, winner of the local and regional "Voice of Democracy" speech contest, will be on hand for the next meeting, which will be ladies day, the second of the year. Teed now enters the state contest.
 Two new members of the JayCee board of directors, succeeding Bill Harris and Bill Carter, will be named Jan. 4, Hopkins said. Guests at Tuesday's luncheon were Paul Jones and John Marsh.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY CHARLES DICKENS

Finally they began to play riddles, and Fred put this one to his guests: What was a disagreeable, savage, growing and grunting animal that lived in London and was allowed to run loose?

Fred's riddle puzzled his guests for only a moment.

"I know," laughed a very pretty guest. "It's your Uncle Scrooge!"

Star Visits Company Party

DALLAS, Dec. 15 — UP — Santa deposited the best gift possible in the midst of Braniff Airline stewardesses' annual Christmas dance Monday night in the person of movie star Gary Cooper.

Monday and was due to leave Tuesday was met by a large delegation at Love Field. Among the group were representatives of the hostesses who bore an invitation for the actor to their annual Christmas ball at the Preston Hollow Country Club.

Shortly after the dance began Monday night, in popped Cooper and gave the girls "the thrill of their lives."
 The handsome actor danced with "almost everyone there," one hostess said "and he was so nice."

Bobo Olson ... puts title on line

Langlois Goes After Bobo's Title Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15—UP—Pierre Langlois, the pride of France, attempts to gain the world middleweight crown Wednesday night when he tangles with champion Carl (Bobo) Olson in a 15-round nationally-televized bout at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

The chances appear so slight for the challenger to take the title back to Europe that Olson has been installed as a 4-1 favorite to make the third successful defense of the crown in eight months.

A crowd of about 11,000 is expected in the huge Cow Palace and the gate is expected to run in excess of $100,000.

Olson will get 40 per cent of the net receipts, including television money. Langlois will receive 20 per cent.

Despite the odds, both fighters are confident of victory—as always.

It promises to be a good scrap, because both men like to move forward. Langlois claims he can win that kind of a scrap. Olson, however, has been usually successful in the past against any man who will come to him.

Streak Continues As PHS 5 Clips Plainview, 61 To 48

Griffin Leads Attack With 26 Points

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 15 — The Hustlin Pampa Harvesters found the Plainview Bulldogs a bit stubborn in the first quarter here Tuesday night but the Pampans picked up steam in the second quarter to take a commanding lead and then hold it for a 61-48 victory.

The win ran the Harvester winning streak to 63.

Plainview battled the Harvesters to a 13-13 standstill in the first quarter but after that the Harvesters pulled away to a 10-point lead at halftime, 28-18, and the Bulldogs never caught up again.

It was 42-34 at the three-quarter mark.

BEFORE THE STORM -- Gary Green, of the Pampa Optimist Boys Club boxing team, right, gets set for a straight left to the head of Frank Bitela of Amarillo during some heated action last night in their 126-pound duel at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club arena. Moments later, Green won the match by a TKO in the second round. Pampa won the inter-city matches, 5-2. (News Photo by T. D. Ellis)

Gary Griffin, the leading Harvester scorer for the season, set the scoring pace for the Green and Gold here Tuesday with 26 points, coming on 10 field goals and six from the gratis line.

Ken Hinkle followed Griffin with 14 points and E. Jay McIlvain, who was held below 10 points for the first time this season, was next with nine tallees.

Hugh Bob Tilson set the pace for Plainview with 13 points.

After the lead swapped hands several times in the first quarter, the Harvesters gained command of the situation in the second quarter and were never headed.

It was only the second loss in several starts for Plainview, their only previous loss being to Amarillo, 47-45. The Bulldogs were fresh from winning the Brownfield Invitational Tournament held last week end.

In a preliminary game, the Pampa B team Shockers continued unbeaten with a 60-47 win over Plainview B. Dickie Mauldin led the Shockers with 25 points.

The Shockers have now won nine games in a row, the future Harvesters having won their last two games last year.

The Harvesters will begin preparations for a week-end trip today. The Green and Gold, however, go to Vernon Friday night and to Quanah Saturday.

Pampa Glovers Punch Out Decision Over Amarillo Boys

The Pampa Optimist Club boxing team passed the 500 per cent mark last night with a 5-2 decision over the combined forces of the Amarillo Golden Gloves and Borden's boxing club.

Each team recorded a TKO during the seven-round match card. Gary Green of Pampa gained a TKO over Frank Bitela of Amarillo in a 126-pound duel.

For Amarillo, Terry Lopez won by TKO over Charles Kimbrell of Pampa. Both TKOs occurred in the second round.

In addition to the seven team matches, there were six exhibition affairs.

Featuring the exhibition card was the appearance of Dugie Jameson of Wellington. Jameson, who has fought in Pampa the past several years, is the defending state Golden Glove bantamweight champion.

Jameson showed up unexpectedly last night and he fought Marvin Pully of Amarillo in an exhibition, no-decision match.

Recording wins for the Pampa team last night in addition to Green were Richard Rexroat, Rabbit Ramirez, Terry Timmons and Tommy Richardson.

Rexroat opened the card by punching out an easy decision over David Hernandez of Amarillo. Rexroat was in command of the match from the start and won going away. He staggered Hernandez several times with solid blows to the head.

Ramirez won over Corlis Gutierrez of Amarillo in a close match, although Rabbit probably won all three rounds. The win was Ramirez' 35th during his boxing career.

Terry Timmons finished strong to win his match. Timmons defeated Santos Tenario in a 115-pound scrap. Both boys probably split the first two rounds but Timmons had Tenario on the ropes punching away with several damaging blows at the bell.

Green was well on his way to a victory in the opening round of his match with Bitela. Then the 126-pounder let loose a flurry of blows that had Bitela groggy when referee Johnny Campbell stopped the fight.

The final Pampa win saw Tommy Richardson punch out a well-deserved victory over Edward Richack in a light-heavyweight duel. Richardson held the upperhand all the way through the match but Richack kept holding on. Richack took a lot of punishment but he managed to get in a few good blows of his own.

However, Richardson had Richack nearly down several times in the final round and he won going away.

In one of the most action-packed matches of the night, Pampa's Jesse Ring dropped a close decision to Tommy Crump of Amarillo. Ring possibly won the second round but Crump rallied in the final to gain the decision. Ring was knocked down in the first round and he never fully recovered from that blow although he more than held his own in the second round.

The win over Amarillo was the fourth for the Pampa team against three losses.

Following are the results:
 Team matches:
 65 pounds — Richard Rexroat, Pampa, dec. David Hernandez, Amarillo.

European Fans Go 'Hog Wild' Over Harlem Globetrotters

THE GREAT ELIMAR
... Juggling artist to appear with Trotters here

"Europe will still be demanding the Harlem Globetrotters for at least ten years to come."

That's the opinion voiced recently by Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the great Negro basketball team which headlines a huge show at the Harvester Fieldhouse Thursday night.

It was in answer to a question inquiring as to how the Trotters were progressing on their annual jaunts to the European continent, of which last summer's tour was their fifth in as many years.

"While some American attractions visiting Europe fall to click from the start, and others start to slip after a good first tour, we have been fortunate enough to keep going strong," added Saperstein. "In fact, our last summer's jaunt over there was one of our best."

Someone asked the little dynamo head of the fabulous sport aggregation what one of these European tours was like. "Would you like to go on a capsule re-run of our 1933 trip?" he countered, smiling. "I have a day-by-day record here," he said, fishing around in his brief case, and finding it, "here goes."

"We arrived in London May 11, one day late due to plane mechanical difficulties before we left New York, and played the British capital five nights, including having thirty minutes of one of our games televised by the British Broadcasting system. Our huge party, which included the Globetrotters, officials, House of David basketball team that accompanied us as our opponents and the many variety acts we took along for between-the-halves entertainment, arrived in Brussels, Belgium, one hour late, where two big German buses awaited us.

"There followed in rapid order games in Valenciennes, France, Bologna, that was 85 per cent destroyed during World War II. . . Rouen . . . and four big nights in Paris, where again one of the games was televised. . . You may be interested in knowing that there are only 100,000 television sets in operation in all France.

"On to Lyon, France, and then to Geneva, Switzerland, where our personnel went heavily for Swiss watches. . . Lausanne and Basle in Switzerland. . . Stuttgart, Germany. . . Frankfurt, Germany, where General William N. Hoge, a four-star commander-in-chief general of United States forces in Europe tossed up the first ball.

"Next, Heidelberg, Germany. . . here we played in the same outdoor amphitheatre on a mountainside where Adolf Hitler had ranted and raved. . . Karlsruhe, Germany. . . Kaiserlautern, Germany. . . all GIs here and the place was packed to capacity with them.

"More games in Germany: Dusseldorf, Wuppertal, Bochum, Essen and Cologne. . . Luxembourg where Prince Charles tosses up the ball and a royal band of 30 pieces plays the Star Spangled Banner first.

"In whirlwind fashion games at Liege, Belgium; Brussels; Lille, France; Antwerp, Belgium; Amiens, France; Le Havre, France; Fougères, France, enthusiastic crowds everywhere. . . Fougères a small town but local hall packed. . . promoter so happy he wanted to give his share to the Trotters in appreciation of our appearance. . . Can you imagine that happening in the U.S.?"

"More games. . . Le Mans, Nantes, Cognac, Bordeaux, Biarritz, Mort de Marsan, Toulouse, Nîmes, Marseille and Nice, all in France. . . At Cognac, they wanted to shower our boys with the stuff, and all along the line champagne was offered them, but we had to mix it for the boys. . . at Toulouse we played in a small bull ring. . . bull fighting is still permitted in the south of France. . . At Biarritz, Luis Mariano, the Eddie Fisher of France, tossed up the first ball and asked our boys many questions about America.

UCLA gave up 73.2 yards a game through the line and Oklahoma yielded 87. Third-place Mississippi, which led in total defense with 172.3 yards allowed, was beaten only once while it swept to the Southeastern Conference title. Clemson was fourth, eastern champ Navy fifth, Notre Dame sixth, and Southern Conference champion West Virginia seventh.

The Uclans also took the scoreboard championship by giving up the fewest points, only 4.4 a game. Since they were the major college scoring leaders, too, with 40 points a game they became the first team in 10 years and only the fourth ever to lead in both of these essential departments. Tulsa did it in 1942; Duke in 1943 and Army in 1944.

3.16 Yards a Try
The UCLA line allowed only 2.10 yards a try, lowest figure in two seasons, and let the opposition run only 214 plays. Miami (Fla.) was the leader with 313 plays allowed, while the next best per-play yardage were 2.30 for Oklahoma and 2.40 for Mississippi.

This was the fourth year in a row that the ground defense leader went undefeated. Maryland had the title last year, Michigan State in 1952 and San Francisco in 1951, and UCLA's allowance was the lowest since San Francisco's 51.5.

The total defense column indicates a defensive battle in the Sugar Bowl between Mississippi and Navy. In the final standings the Middles placed ninth, but they were leading until their final game against Army, the country's offense champion.

Mississippi won on total defense by a narrow margin, yielding 172.3 yards a game to Richmond's 174.4 and Clemson's 178.1. Mississippi is the ninth total defense champ from the South in 17 years.

In pass defense the South had a monopoly and Alabama an important distinction. The Tide beat out last year's champion, Richmond, allowing 48.8 yards a game to 47.1. The South has had this title now for six straight years, and for Alabama this completed the cycle of defense championships. It took total defense honors in 1938 and 1948, ground defense in 1945, punting in 1951 and now against passing, for a total of five. No other team has more than three defense titles.

Orioles Get Roe, Cox In Big Trade

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 15—UP—General Manager Paul Richards said Wednesday he expected veterans Billy Cox and Prescher Roe to provide immediate improvement in the Baltimore Orioles "while we're waiting for our farm system to take care of the future."

Cox, 35, and Roe, 36 again this year, were acquired from the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday for an estimated $80,000 and minor leaguers John Jancec and Harry Schwegman. Jancec, a pitcher, and Schwegman, an infielder, were assigned to Brooklyn's Fort Worth affiliate in the Texas League.

Richards, who now has swung three big winter deals, said Cox will be Baltimore's regular third baseman and that Roe will be a "starter at intervals and a spot pitcher." Both saw limited service last season and have reputations of being relatively frail athletes.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, expressed regret over the departure of "these heroes of three World Series" but said the development of young players in the Brooklyn farm system forced his hand.

"We have received staggering offers for the young players in our system," O'Malley explained in Brooklyn. "It's hard to believe some clubs would pay out such money for players who have not yet become big leaguers."

Cox, who is generally recognized as the best defensive infielder in the majors, played in only 77 games for the Dodgers last season and hit .235 while Roe pitched in only 15 games and a 3-4 record.

Cox had his best season with the Dodgers in 1951 when he hit .279 in 142 games and was acclaimed the best defensive third baseman in the National League since the hey-day of Pie Traynor. With Cox at third base and Willie Miranda at shortstop, the Orioles expect to throw up a virtually impregnable

Ameche Is College 'Gridder Of Year'

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—UP—Alan Ameche, Wisconsin's crashing fullback, Wednesday was selected as college football's player of the year in 1954 in the annual United Press poll.

Ameche, who made almost every All-America team, received a total of 66 votes from the 336 sports writers and broadcasters who balloted in the poll to beat out Howard Cassidy, Ohio State's All-America halfback, by eight votes.

Ameche had beaten out Cassidy by three votes, 86 to 83, to win the United Press back of the year poll. The Wisconsin fullback also won the Heisman Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding college football player of the country.

Behind those two backs in the player of the year balloting came two linemen—tackle Jack Ellena of UCLA with 42 votes and center Kurt Burris of Oklahoma with 39 votes. Ellena beat out Burris by three votes, 69 to 66, to win United Press lineman of the year honors.

Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame quarterback, and Paul Larson of California tied for fifth place with 22 votes.

Others who received three or more votes in the balloting were: George Shaw, Oregon back, 14; Dick Moegle, Rice halfback, 13;

Bud Brooks, Arkansas guard, six; Bobby Watkins, Ohio State back, five; Max Boydston, Oklahoma end; Don Hollender, Army end; and Bob McNamara, Mimosota back, four each; and Tom Bettis, Purdue guard; Dean Dugger, Ohio State end; Frank Mineevich, South Carolina guard and Pete Vann, Army quarterback, three each.

Moegle, Brooks, Boydston, Hollender were on the 1954 United Press All-America team as well as Ameche, Cassidy, Ellena, Burris and Guglielmi. The other two players on the mythical team, were Sid Fournet, Louisiana State tackle, and Calvin Jones, Iowa, guard, both of whom received two votes each in the player of the year balloting.

Ameche, though hampered by injuries this year, scored nine touchdowns and topped his best previous effort of 1952 when he scored seven times. Playing when freshmen were eligible for varsity competition, Ameche during his four year career set two major National Collegiate Athletic Association records, 673 rushing attempts and 3,212 yards gained rushing. He also holds all Wisconsin marks for rushing in a single season and wins up with the school's best all-time mark for total points and touchdowns. He went over 25 times.

The United States has 128,225 elementary schools, 23,746 high schools, and 1,889 accredited colleges — and 1,242,249 teachers to staff them.

UCLA, Sooners 1-2 In Ground Defense

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—UP—Ground defense was a key to victory in major college football in 1954, final NCAA service bureau statistics showed Wednesday, as unbeaten UCLA and Oklahoma ran one-two in holding back the opposition.

UCLA gave up 73.2 yards a game through the line and Oklahoma yielded 87. Third-place Mississippi, which led in total defense with 172.3 yards allowed, was beaten only once while it swept to the Southeastern Conference title. Clemson was fourth, eastern champ Navy fifth, Notre Dame sixth, and Southern Conference champion West Virginia seventh.

The Uclans also took the scoreboard championship by giving up the fewest points, only 4.4 a game. Since they were the major college scoring leaders, too, with 40 points a game they became the first team in 10 years and only the fourth ever to lead in both of these essential departments. Tulsa did it in 1942; Duke in 1943 and Army in 1944.

3.16 Yards a Try
The UCLA line allowed only 2.10 yards a try, lowest figure in two seasons, and let the opposition run only 214 plays. Miami (Fla.) was the leader with 313 plays allowed, while the next best per-play yardage were 2.30 for Oklahoma and 2.40 for Mississippi.

This was the fourth year in a row that the ground defense leader went undefeated. Maryland had the title last year, Michigan State in 1952 and San Francisco in 1951, and UCLA's allowance was the lowest since San Francisco's 51.5.

The total defense column indicates a defensive battle in the Sugar Bowl between Mississippi and Navy. In the final standings the Middles placed ninth, but they were leading until their final game against Army, the country's offense champion.

Mississippi won on total defense by a narrow margin, yielding 172.3 yards a game to Richmond's 174.4 and Clemson's 178.1. Mississippi is the ninth total defense champ from the South in 17 years.

The Christmas Story

Retold in the words of the Holy Bible
by Norman Vincent Peale
Illustrated by Valenti Angelo

The Shepherds Spread the News

AND when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Decision May Doom Debate Tour

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 15—UP—Refusal of West Point authorities to permit cadets to debate the question of U.S. recognition of Communist China may lead to collapse of the national inter-collegiate debating tournament scheduled for April at the Military Academy, an educator said Tuesday.

Prof. J. Edward McEvoy of Syracuse University, chairman of the New York-New England division of the tournament, said many colleges may refuse to participate unless the subject of recognition, chosen as the 1955 national collegiate debate topic, can be discussed.
