Krug Testifies As to Contract Let to Kaiser

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Interior Krug told Senate War Investigating Committee members today that Henry Kaiser "put the heat of hell on everybody in Washington to obtain wartime contracts to build a huge plywood airplane. Krug told reporters he had informed Senators Brewster (R-ME) and Ferguson (R-Mich) at an informal conference that a contract made by the war production board with Kaiser and Howard Hughes, movie producer, for the plane's construction was let "before my time on the War Production Board." The War Investigating Committee, headed by Brewster, is inquiring into the letting of the contracts and any possible connection of Elliott Roosevelt, brother of the President, with the transaction. Ferguson, who heads a subcommittee opening hearings on the matter Monday, told a reporter that the Army and Navy had opposed letting the contracts but that orders had come from the White House to go through with them. Krug said he told two Senators that the contracts were let before he became chairman of the War Production Board in August, 1944. "All I could tell them was that I was busy with the Kaiser," Krug said. "What was it, then, that you told them?" a reporter asked. "I said that Kaiser put the heat of hell on everybody in Washington," the cabinet member replied. "Initially they told him that he couldn't have an airplane contract because he had no army or navy connections. He lined up Hughes and came back and said that now he had an aircraft man. Then he got the contract." Krug flatly denied previously published reports that he had testified before that committee. He said he had discussed with Ferguson the contract letting but maintained he knew nothing personally about it.

Important Java Port Falls to Dutch Attack

BATAVIA, Java—(AP)—Cheribon, important Northwest Java port, has fallen to a Dutch tank attack, but Indonesian Republicans declared today they had turned back a strong Dutch drive on their capital of Jogjakarta and now were closing in on the North Java port of Semarang. A Dutch Army communique announced the capture of Cheribon. The Indonesian radio said the Dutch used a striking force of 50 tanks in an assault yesterday against the port, birthplace of the Indonesian independence agreement. These forces, the broadcast said, bypassed Soemadeng and Kadipaten. An Indonesian Army communique said Republican forces in the East-Central sector had seized Modjokerto, on the outer rim of the Dutch perimeter around the once-powerful naval base of Soerabaja. This was one of the areas held by the Dutch before the outbreak of hostilities Sunday. Modjokerto is 28 miles southwest of Soerabaja.

Wardrobe for Queen Is Needed

Jimmy Massa, chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment of the "Queen for a Day" during "Top of Texas and Western Week" to be held in Pampa, August 1-9, has issued an invitation to Pampa merchants to take part in the welcoming of the Queen to Pampa by donating the necessary wardrobe for the Queen for the western celebration. The Queen will be selected from the Mutual Broadcasting System's "Queen for a Day" broadcast from San Antonio, August 1. She will be flown to Pampa, August 6, in time to lead the parade that will officially open the Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show, the second largest amateur rodeo in the U. S. She will be met at municipal airport where she will be presented a complete western outfit by Pampa merchants. Massa listed the following items that will be needed to fill the Queen's wardrobe: two cowgirl hats; three western shirts; two pair cowboy boots; two pair of riding trousers; one western belt; three western neckerchiefs; one western skirt; one western jacket; and a pair of spurs. Other gifts such as purses, hosiery, flowers, luggage, radios, candy, and lingerie will be accepted stated Massa. Firms contributing gifts to the Queen will receive recognition, continued Massa. Massa concluded by stating that any merchant desiring to make a donation may do so by calling him at 2075 of the Chamber of Commerce office, by July 31.

Octogenarian Marathon Is in Prospect Today

LONGVIEW—(AP)—A marathon of octogenarians was in prospect today. It all started when Emmett Lawrence of near Longview took a hike of 13 miles from his country home to show his prowess on his 80th birthday. A passing motorist offered Lawrence a ride, but he declined, saying, "I'm still young." Today, O. Besler of Nacogdoches, also 80, flung a challenge to the Gregg County man to meet him in a 15-mile race—"walk, fast or slow or dog-trot." "I'll wager a $10 bill I can beat him," said Besler.

Rural Mail Carriers Elect New Officers

MINERAL WELLS—(AP)—New officers of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers Association are Oran T. Gray, Florence, president; W. A. Reddell, Tahoka, vice-president; and Harvey E. Fisher, Dublin, secretary-treasurer. The association's annual three-day convention ended here yesterday.

House Approves Freezing Social Security Tax Rate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House quickly approved without opposition today a compromise bill freezing the Social Security payroll tax at one percent for another two years. Speedy Senate action is expected to send the measure to President Truman for signature. This forestalling a $2,000,000,000 increase in the tax Jan. 1. The House voted shortly after House and Senate conferees broke a deadlock on conflicting versions of the bill. Without the "freeze" action, the tax would automatically go up from one percent to 2.5 percent on employees' pay and employers' payrolls. The compromise provides that the levy—imposed to pay for age and survivors' insurance—will increase to 1.5 percent in 1949 and to two percent in 1952. The present one percent tax yields approximately $1,500,000,000 a year. The original Social Security law, enacted 10 years ago, provided for automatic increases in the tax over a span of years until it reached three percent each against employer and employee. However, Congress has repeatedly frozen the rate at one percent. The House and Senate each had approved a new two-year freeze, but conflict developed because the House bill provided for increase in the levy in 1950 to 1.5 percent and in 1951 to two percent. The Senate approved a simple two-year freeze. The compromise bill continues increased federal contributions, in participation with the state, for benefits to needy aged persons, the blind and dependent children.

Suspect Is Killed By 'Private Army'

RANGOON, Burma—(AP)—A man suspected of taking part in the assassination of U Aung San and six other members of the Burma executive council was disclosed today to have been shot to death by members of Aung San's "private army." He lay on a marble slab in the Pegu Hospital morgue. Official sources said the suspect was San Yan Naung, 30, a former member of the Fifth Battalion of the Burma defense army which Aung San commanded against the Japanese. He also had been an officer in the Galon army commanded by former Premier U. Saw, who was arrested soon after the assassinations, officials said. Arrests of leaders of the opposition Myochit party, which U Saw led, continued. Upward of 200 were reported in custody. Among the latest jailed was Ba Yinon described as U Saw's right hand man. He was with U Saw at the time the British arrested him in the war on charges of collaborating with the Japanese.

Transport Driver Killed Near Tulia

AMARILLO—(AP)—John Lemmond, 49, of Lubbock, was killed early today 3 1/2 miles north of Tulia when the gasoline transport truck he was driving overturned. The truck carrying 4,400 gallons of gasoline, hit a concrete bridge abutment. There was no fire. Lemmond was en route from Phillips to Lubbock. POSTMASTERS APPROVED

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate has approved the following nominations for postmasterhips in Texas: John D. Hendricks, Cooper; Hardy R. Hancock, Jasper; Jeff T. Graham, Knox City; Donald M. Hackney, Sunset Heights.

Gun Toler Is Caught After Truman Speech

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The arrest of another gun toter at the Capitol—just after President Truman's surprise Senate visit—prompted fresh talk today of tightening congressional security. But the second incident of its kind in 10 days found lawmakers still wondering what can be done. The latest episode occurred yesterday when Capitol Police seized an armed former serviceman in a men's wash room in the Senate wing of the Capitol. Scarcely five minutes before Mr. Truman had left the building after making an unannounced visit and a brief speech to the Senate, where he once was a member. The washroom is off a corridor through which the president walked on his way to the Senate chamber, one flight up. The other incident occurred July 12 when a former Capitol Policeman fired two shots harmlessly at Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) as the lawmaker was about to board a subway car which runs between the Senate Office Building and the Capitol. The ex-officer was sent to a hospital here for observation. Senate Sergeant-at-arms Edward F. McGinnis said it was "quite apparent" that the presence of Mr. Truman and yesterday's gun toter in the building at about the same time was purely coincidental. Nevertheless, Senators expressed concern and said something ought to be done about it. Bricker told a reporter he "would like to see a well-trained Capitol Police force under Civil Service regulations" proposed, conflicting with the patronage appointees who make up the unit. The former serviceman arrested yesterday was identified by McGinnis as GUN TOTER Page

Order Restored in San Jose After Series of Clashes

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica—(AP)—National police, reinforced by 2,000 special deputies, appeared today to have restored order in San Jose and other Costa Rican cities following a series of bitter political clashes and street fights in the past five persons were killed and 59 wounded. Business and transportation in this capital city, however, remained virtually paralyzed by a general strike called by opposition leaders which closed all banks and commercial establishments. (Reports from neighboring Guatemala asserted that a state of open revolt actually existed in Costa Rica, but in the meantime, the Costa Rican government had imposed martial law in the north. A major point of the proposal was that the nations work under a system of decisions by two-thirds vote—a procedure which would deny any one nation the right of veto. This marked a radical departure from the German and other European treaty making procedures in two respects. It included nations other than the great powers and it denied the veto privilege.

Soviet Seeks to Preserve Veto

WASHINGTON—(AP)—State Department officials debated today this government's next moves toward drafting a Japanese peace treaty in view of Russia's rejection of American proposals which would eliminate the Big Power veto in the Far Eastern peace settlement. Officials would say only that Russian attitude, has been received. Secretary of State Marshall told a news conference yesterday that when the note was received he would initiate studies to determine the proper course of action for the United States. Diplomatic authorities said the central issue is whether the American government should seek the collaboration of governments other than Russia in going ahead with Japanese treaty drafting. This would mean in effect a decision to "make a separate peace" with Japan. One Russian proposal which may get favorable action here is for an early meeting of the Soviet, British and French ambassadors with a representative of the State Department. The Russians want such a session to arrange for the initial Japanese treaty drafting to be taken up in the Council of Foreign Ministers—a system which would preserve their veto power. Diplomatic informants said that one change almost certainly will be made in the American plan. This would change the date for convening the initial treaty drafting group from August 19 to some time in September. All British commonwealth countries have objected to the proposed date, conflicting with the progress on the Far East peace settlement in whether they should go ahead with a "separate peace"—that is, a treaty without Russia. But there is a question whether this could be done legally. While an interpretation remains to be worked out, some authorities recalled that as early as the United Nations declaration of January, 1942, the United States, Britain, Russia and other major nations at war with the Axis pledged themselves "not to make a separate armistice or peace with the enemies." Russia was not then at war with Japan, so it is a question whether the pledge would be considered legally binding in the present situation. The Soviet reaction to American proposals for beginning work on a Japanese treaty August 19 was announced yesterday by the Moscow radio. The United States had proposed July that 11 nations, including the great powers, should meet at Washington or San Francisco to organize the treaty drafting. A major point of the proposal was that the nations work under a system of decisions by two-thirds vote—a procedure which would deny any one nation the right of veto. This marked a radical departure from the German and other European treaty making procedures in two respects. It included nations other than the great powers and it denied the veto privilege.

Election Slated For Reallocation Of Tax Revenues

Notice of election for the reallocation of county tax revenues was postponed yesterday afternoon by the County Commissioner's Court, following a series of conferences here with businessmen and representatives of some of the larger tax-paying concerns. The notice, which will be published in the Pampa Daily News and the McLean News, calls for an election to be held on August 22, and would place in effect an instrument for ensuring six years. County Commissioners' courts of Texas were granted the right to reallocate tax revenues—with the sanction of the voters—in the general election of 1944. The present maximum rate distribution of the taxpayer's dollars in this county is 25 cents for general fund, 15 cents for the jury fund, 15 cents for the road and bridge fund—with a 15-cent special levy—and 25 cents for a permanent improvement fund. The election must be held to change these statutory figures. The proposed change in the structure would permit the following allocation of the tax revenue—26 cents. General fund—26 cents. Jury fund—04 cents. Road and bridge fund—21 cents. Permanent improvement fund—29 cents. The rate which the county has had in operation, coming within the requirements as listed above, is: 25 cents for general fund, 03 cents for the jury fund, 15 cents for the road and bridge fund, and 25 cents for the permanent improvement fund. The maximum taxation is 80 cents per $100 valuation. The rate of taxation now in effect is 68 cents, plus 15 cents special tax for road and bridge fund. The special road and bridge levy of 15 cents is permissible, over and above the maximum 80 cents. Citizens, it was stated, may read the notice posted by the Sheriff's Department in the Courthouse; or they may read it this coming Sunday in the Pampa Daily News.

Rocket Business Is Picking Up

ALAMOGORDO, N. M.—(AP)—The rocket business is picking up in Southern New Mexico. Tabbed a key phase of the nation's military preparedness program, guided missiles research has been in progress nearly a year and a half at the nearby White Sands proving ground. Now the Army Air Forces are consolidating a separate set of rocket experiments at the Alamogordo Army Air Field. Announcement of the transfer of Boeing aircraft facilities and equipment for the work to Alamogordo coincided with the first launching of one of the company's supersonic Gapa missiles here yesterday. Scheduled right on its heels was the firing of another German V-2 rocket today at White Sands. Work there is the joint enterprise of the Army Ordnance Department and the Navy, with cooperation of scientists and commercial laboratories. Results of yesterday's Gapa shoot—the projectile is designed to track and destroy enemy aircraft aloft—were described officially as excellent. The seriousness of the situation, with its ultimate effect on the future of the world organization, was reflected in yesterday's Council session. At that time, the United States suddenly removed diplomatic wraps and bluntly told the Council that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria were a menace to international peace. In some of the bluntest language ever used in a Council session, Henschel V. Johnson, U. S. deputy delegate, demanded that the Council warn the three Soviet satellites "to keep order in their own houses and leave other peoples' affairs alone."

Hawkins Gets Scare When Well Blows Out

HAWKINS—(AP)—Hawkins was given a short scare yesterday when an oil well at the edge of town blew out. The well blew out in the Nachotch Sand at 2,000 feet, briefly threatening the town and adjoining wells. The well blew the top of the derrick, but apparently crated and killed itself before fire developed.

Cowgirl Contest Entries Come In

Entries for the cowgirl sponsored contest to be held in connection with the Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show, August 6-9, are being received daily, announced Mrs. Alice Cockrell, chairman of the show, this morning. Mrs. Cockrell stated that the number of entries for this year's show is expected to exceed the 34 entries of last year. To enter the contest each cowgirl must be sponsored by a town, community or ranch; however, not more than one girl may be sponsored by an organization. To date entries have been received from Mary Black, Lovington, N. M.; Mrs. Orrin McCauley, Spearman; Norma Darsey, Alameda; Funtin Moore, Wellington; Sally Smith, Shamrock; DeLois Holland, Childress; Duke Barton, Plover, Texas; Roxie Ketter, Groom; Jackie Garrison and Janet Ranso of Perryton; Opelia McLaughlin, Encino, N. M.; Thera Mae Parr, Seymour; and Tommie Nichols and Dora Mae Bailey of McLean.

Phillips Pet. Stocks Showing Heavy Profit

NEW YORK—(AP)—A report for the first six months of 1947 by the Phillips Petroleum Co. and subsidiaries show a net profit of $15,450,000, equal to $3.14 a share. The same period in 1946 showed a net profit of $8,002,179, or $1.83 a share.

Notice Issued World--U. S. to Continue Tests

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A world unable to agree on international control of atomic bombs was put on notice by the United States today that: 1. It intends to conduct more tests of atomic weapons in the Pacific. 2. Top military officers in the field of nuclear fission now head a joint Army-Navy agency devoted to "development of atomic weapons of all types." 3. "We mean to maintain and increase the pre-eminence of the United States in atomic weapons until... acceptable international agreements" are reached and control machinery established. A report of the Atomic Energy Commission to Congress contained the terse announcement of further experiments and the implied acceptance of any challenge to a world atomic armament race. (Russia and the United States made plans again yesterday at a New York session of the United Nations' Atomic Energy Commission their diametrically opposed views on the subject of big powers veto rights over international atomic control questions.) The armed forces disclosed, in answering a reporter's questions, something of the activities of their atomic weapons at work on the "Armed Forces Special Weapons Project." The Commission's announcement of more tests was made in this single sentence: "The Atomic Energy Commission is establishing proving grounds in the Pacific for routine experiments and tests of atomic weapons." Commission officials refused to See NOTICE Page 6

Future of U.N. May Depend on Battle Outcome

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Certain United Nations delegates expressed belief today that the future of the world organization might hinge on the outcome of the showdown fight between the United States and Russia over the Balkans. Authoritative sources said that if Russia vetoes a U. S. proposal to set up an international watch over the Balkan orders Britain, the United States and other countries might feel bound to take action outside the United Nations. Although British and American officials here were reluctant to discuss such drastic action, it was learned that the idea of establishing a border watch commission outside the United Nations was being considered as a last resort should Russia take Security Council action on the Balkans. There still was some hope among delegates that Russia would abstain when the Council votes on the U. S. proposal for a semi-permanent Balkan border watch. The Security Council scheduled two meetings today on the Balkan problem, but it appeared that a vote on the U. S. plan would not be reached before next week.

Buyer Resistance to Real Estate Purchasing Reported Increasing

AUSTIN—(AP)—This year is a banner year for the licensing of real estate dealers and salesmen, but the man who issues those licenses thinks the business of selling property is due to take a dive within the next year.

Leo Darley, State Securities Commissioner and head of the real estate division of the Secretary of State's office, bases his prediction on conversations which he has had with real estate men over the state.

"Real estate agents say that buyer resistance is increasing. Most of the big profit is gone now," Darley observed.

With 1947 little more than half gone, 26,000 to 27,000 dealers and salesmen's licenses already have been issued, and applications for licenses are still coming in at an average of 25 to 30 each day, he estimated.

By comparison, only 24,000 licenses were issued in 1946. Darley predicts that a number of dealers will not attempt to remain in business in 1947.

He admits there are probably a fair number of unlicensed dealers and salesmen operating in many Texas cities, despite the fact that the cost of a license is only $3 per year.

Darley was discussing his situation when the telephone rang. His end of the conversation indicated he was talking to a man who had not renewed his license at the end of 1946.

"Mr.—, if you've been engaged in the real estate business since the first of the year, you've been violating the law."

An obviously vigorous complaint was being offered at the other end of the line, but Darley was politely firm as he assured his caller that an investigation was going to be pushed.

"How about those branch offices you listed?" he asked. "My investigator hasn't been able to locate the one you say is in Dallas."

Darley terminated the phone conversation.

"There's a case right there. That fellow represents an investment corporation. They send in applications for renewal of seven licenses this month. That should have been done last November, so we know they have been violating the law."

"But we would have to check through every record in the County Clerk's office to find where one of their men made a sale. We haven't got the staff to do that."

The real estate division has three investigators to cover the state.

The chief complaint brought by individuals against dealers, said Darley, involves the refusal of dealers to return "earnest" money to prospective buyers when business deals fall through.

"The best thing that could be done for the real estate business in Texas would be for the seller, as well as the buyer to put up 'earnest' money. That would insure

Oilman Apprehensive About Jim Wells Field

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—Oilmen today surveyed with apprehension the field in Jim Wells County where two wells blew out, threatening others in a large area.

The wells blew out after one well encountered heavy gas pressure at approximately 6,210 feet and was bridged, apparently causing the two nearby wells to blow.

BELLVILLE—(AP)—George Hill, school superintendent of Austin County since 1934, yesterday announced his candidacy for Congress from the 9th District. The place was left vacant by the death of Rep. J. J. Mansfield.

elaborate, but there was immediate speculation:
That the test of a third atomic bomb against warships—this one exploded two or three thousand feet under water—might be forthcoming. Such a test, scheduled originally to be held early this year at Bikini, was postponed by order of President Truman. The postponement came as world powers were preparing last fall for a meeting of the United Nations Assembly and ensuing parleys.
That atom bombardiers want to know, by experiment, what the weapon would do to a simulated modern steel-and-concrete city and whether it would produce a localized but highly destructive artificial earthquake if exploded below ground.
That atomic scientists believe they have produced bombs vastly more powerful than those used up to now—but can't be sure unless some actual explosion tests are conducted.
Selected to direct the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project are the two military men with the longest and most intimate association with the atomic bomb—Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves and Rear Adm. William S. Parsons. They are commander and deputy commander, respectively of the project.

DEATH OF A DOLL
By Hilda Lawrence

THE STORY: The other rag doll corners Ruth in Miss Brady's room. "Nobody knows," Ruth pleads, "nobody ever will know." Then something strikes her on the head. For days after Ruth's death, there is an epidemic of hysteria in Hope House. Lillian Harris moves in with April. Miss Brady and Miss Small plan to resign and go abroad.
The condition of R. A. Mitchell, who is a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo is reported as unimproved.

ON the following morning young Mrs. Sutton, back from Pinehurst, welcomed two elderly guests from upstate.
"The Misses Pond and Petty, both in their late 60's, were not strangers to travel or anything. They loved life and had a passionate interest in death. Other peoples' Along with their contemporaries they read the obituary page daily, but where the contemporaries accepted the printed fact, Bessy and Beulah challenged it. They didn't believe that natural death was as common as doctors and coroners made it out to be.
In appearance, Bessy Petty resembled an aging Cupid and Beulah Pond a rejuvenated hawk. When Roberta Sutton met their train and walked between them to her car, she looked as if she were being preyed upon. But they were only loving her.
After breakfast Roberta offered a shopping trip, to be followed by lunch with Mark East. This was accepted with little cries of pleasure, and they started out.

"WELL go to Blackman's first. If you don't mind," Roberta said. "I need soap. Then lunch. Then anywhere you like. What do you want to see?"
Bessy said, "The Little Church Around the Corner, the Little Bar at the Ritz, and Grant's Tomb."
They drove to Blackman's and Roberta made straight for the toilet goods, beginning to smile before she reached the counter. But Miss Miller wasn't there. A strange clerk with bleached hair was rearranging Miss Miller's stock. Roberta compared her watch with Blackman's big clock; it was only 11:30, and Miss Miller never went to lunch before 1. She spoke briskly to the strange clerk.

"Will Miss Miller be back shortly?"
The clerk looked blank. "Who?" Then she appraised Roberta's coat, hat, gloves, handbag, and all that could be seen of her blouse. This wasn't a personal, this was a customer. "I'm new in the department," she said formally. "Would you like me to inquire, madam?"
"Yes, I would, please," Roberta wanted Miss Miller to meet Bessy and Beulah. Miss Miller would enjoy that. "Perhaps, if she's been transferred—"
"If madam will wait," the clerk said, "I'll ask our section manager."
SHE pressed a button under the counter and a tall young man glided to Roberta's side.
"Madam is inquiring for a Miss Miller," the clerk explained. "This is our Mr. Benz, madam."
Mr. Benz replied with an equal mixture of pleasure and regret. "Miss Miller is no longer with us, but I'm sure Miss Collins will do very well." Roberta agreed, "But I want to see Miss Miller just the same. Can you tell me where she is?"
Mr. Benz also appraised Roberta, and he hesitated before he spoke again.
Roberta saw the hesitation. She gave Miss Collins her shopping list. "Charge and send, please." And she added her name and address.
Mr. Benz was a young man with practical dreams of a little business of his own someday, and in preparation he had made a careful study of Blackman's carriage trade. He rifled through the list of Suttons he kept in his head and placed Roberta instantly. Born Becham, oil; married Sutton, copper. Tycoon blood. Don't stall. When he spoke it was in a discreet whisper.

"If I may speak to you privately, Mrs. Sutton. The situation is somewhat unusual."
Roberta gathered up her bag. If they had fired Miss Miller, she was going to do something about it.
BESSY and Beulah followed her down the aisle, Bessy plainly agog and Beulah in the same state but not showing it. Mr. Benz was waiting for them at the main door. He indicated that his information was private, and he and Roberta moved out of earshot.
"In deference to the elderly ladies," he explained. "A regrettable situation. Miss Miller is unfortunately dead."
A slow pain took possession of Roberta's heart. Dead, she thought, and I never did any of the things I meant to do. That poor girl, alone in that dreadful place she was moving to. "When?" she asked.
"I believe, let me see, several weeks ago, before Thanksgiving. We were not informed directly, I mean there was no family involved. But we have other employees residing at the same address, and they told us. They wanted permission to open her locker and remove such possessions as were left, the shoes for wearing behind the counter, the extra umbrella, and the like. We valued Miss Miller highly and were sorry to—lose her." Mr. Benz hoped Mrs. Sutton would let him stop with that.
"Before Thanksgiving? Then I must have talked to her just before she died. She wasn't sick then, she looked even better than usual. What happened?"
Mr. Benz knew there was no help for it.
"She killed herself, Mrs. Sutton."
Roberta said nothing when she herded Bessy and Beulah out to the car, and they asked nothing. They knew it wasn't necessary. Mark would take one look at Roberta's white face and she'd tell him everything.

New Uses for Automatic Washer Developed

By NEA Service
Combine Yankee ingenuity with an automatic washing machine in the same laundry and you'll reap discoveries of new uses for this appliance that may chart a shorter cut to home work for many an American housewife.

Spinach, grit-laden from the produce stalls, was tossed into the washer by a Minneapolis executive and came out ready for the boiling pot.

This and the tricks to follow were reported by ingenious users.

Having to prepare quantities of potatoes, carrots, or beets for cooking, a Kansas City, Mo., woman discovered that her washing machine would do the work. To clean these vegetables, she cuts off the leafy tops, ties the tubers in a bag and runs the machine through the soak cycle.

Another middle-western housewife lets her machine take over the drudgery of cleaning her family's muddy overshoes.

Children's badly soiled wooly toys were cleaned via the automatic washing machine by another housewife. She reported that a follow-up with a wire brush, after the toys were dried, restored the pristine freshness and fluffiness to cuddly playthings.

Anybody who wants to follow suit is given a word of warning, however, by the Institute before the extra-curricular duty is demanded of a machine. If it's to remain in good working order, experts say, the cylinder must be thoroughly washed after each process.

Movement of an armored division and its vehicles by railroad requires 75 trains of from 28 to 45 cars each.

Junior Odd Fellows Receive Invitation To Theta Rho Party

The Junior Odd Fellows held their regular weekly meeting Wednesday night with James Niver presiding. Reports were made on the party held by the organization last Saturday night, and plans were made for a future party.

The Junior Odd Fellows have received an invitation from the Theta Rho girls to attend a wienie roast and swim party to be held at the LeFors pool on Sunday, August 3.

Members will meet at the home of Vernon Hall, team captain, Sunday for an impromptu meeting and watermelon feast. Anyone needing transportation should contact Walter Clay or James Niver.

Swimming Party Plans Are Made by Kit Kats

Miss Judy Smith was hostess to members of the Kit Kat Klub when they met in her home, 1118 Christine, Tuesday evening.

During the business meeting which was presided over by Miss Pat O'Rourke, president, plans were made for a swimming party to be held at the City Pool. Refreshments will be served following the swim for members and rushes in the home of Miss Barbara Walters, 1019 N. Frost.

The next meeting will be in the home of Miss Barbara Stephens, 1115 N. Russell, Tuesday at 7 o'clock.

Miss Jane Ann Lane Is Coffee Honoree

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Miss Jane Ann Lane, whose marriage to Paul Dodson is scheduled for July 28, was named honoree at a coffee and wienie party given Monday morning by Miss Janet Caperton.

The bride's chosen colors of gold and white were emphasized in decorations which featured garden flowers.

Miss Lane was presented with a gift from the hostess.

Those present were Miss Iris Lee Lile, Mrs. Roy Holmes, Miss June Ann Nix, Mrs. Darce Pothee, Miss Barbara Scott, and Miss Bettie Jo Burks.

Dress Revue Planned At 4-H Girls Meet

SHAMROCK—(Special)—The North Ward 4-H Club Girls held a meeting Monday at the school building to mark plans for the dress revue which is to be held at Wheeler this week.

Miss Molita Kennedy Is Honored With Miscellaneous Bridal Shower

As a courtesy to Miss Molita Kennedy, bride-elect of Clifford Parker, Miami, a miscellaneous bridal shower was given Monday night from 8 until 9 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Anna Jo Sailor, 913 E. Browning. Sharing hostess duties were Mesdames W. O. Prewitt, Ray Pierce, Robbie Lee Messinger and James Washington, Jr.

Mrs. Washington received guests at the door and secured names for the bride's book.

A white and blue color scheme was used in the floral arrangements. The lace covered tea table had for a centerpiece a bowl of blue and white daisies and carnations flanked with blue and white tapers in crystal holders. Miss Leona Parker, sister of the bridegroom-elect, was seated at the crystal punch service.

The dainty refreshment plate contained open-face sandwiches, mixed nuts, and punch. Artificial daisies with gum drop bases and the words "Molita and Clifford" written on the paper leaves were favors.

Attending were Mesdames Russell Kennedy, C. M. Smith, Bernard Barry, F. S. Parker, Rosa Corse, N. M. Maddox, Ray A. Davis, Clarence Kennedy, E. B. Smith, Corinne Bell, L. A. Maddox, Sr., L. A. Maddox, Jr., H. H. Kelley, O. W. Allison, Ramond Wilson, Omar R. Miller, Lula Purdy, Tom Eckerd, Morris Enloe, L. L. Keyes, and V. N. Osborn.

Mesdames R. S. Sailor, W. R. Forman, R. C. Holm, A. L. Gillis, Buck Riddle, Charles F. Madeira, D. V. Burton, Beauford Norris, J. B. Townsend, Joanne E. Little, A. A. Russell, Ola Isbell, and Jesse Mayes; Misses Marie-Webb, Joyce Webb, Gloria Kennedy, Maxine Bell, Wanda Gordon, Patricia Kelley, Marjorie Gaylor, Jean Paxson, Velma Payne Osborn, Irene Sailor, Dorothy Barritt, Pauline Forman, Pearl Spough, and Genevieve Adams.

Gifts were sent by approximately 40 women unable to attend the shower.

WE, THE WOMEN

The American Man Is a Tinkerer, Putterer

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
A British war bride recently divorced her American husband because of his passion for comic books and his eternal tinkering with his old car.

When the foreign brides were being briefed on how Americans live perhaps there should have been a lecture calculated to prepare them for the tendency of the American husband to be a tinkerer, putterer and avid fan of something or other—none of which pursuits he has any intention of sharing companionably with his wife.

Call on Mr. and Mrs. America in after-work hours and you will not likely find them sitting cozily together sharing each other's conversation and company.

More likely, you'll find Mr. America washing or tinkering with the car, working in the basement, gardening, fooling around with his fishing tackle or guns.

THEN A BIT OF READING
Or if he is through with such jobs as those, he'll probably be absorbed in the comics or catching up on the latest news in the world of sports.

This tendency of the American man to escape from her as much as he can irks Mrs. America no end. But, aside from a little chiding now and then, she accepts it with pretty good grace.

She just realizes that men are like that. Perhaps the British war bride just didn't understand that tinkering and puttering are the way American men get away from it all.

Announcement

Panhandle Rebekah Lodge will meet with the local Rebekah's tonight at 8 o'clock. Amarillo Lodge number 222 will confer degree work.

Miss Lawler Weds H. O. Proffett

SHAMROCK. (Special)—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ethel Nora Lawler, daughter of Elder and Mrs. C. C. Lawler of this city, and H. O. Proffett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Proffett of Giles, Texas.

The wedding was solemnized July 4, at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Edward C. Derr, officiating.

The couple was attended by R. L. Wolf and Miss Virginia Parson. The bridegroom, who is associated with the Bell and Braden Construction Company, served 19 months with the U. S. Army, with overseas service in Japan and the Southwest Pacific area.

The couple will make their home in Shamrock for the present.

Mrs. Hartsfield Is Hostess to Auxiliary

SHAMROCK—(Special)—"Christ and the Fine Arts" was the subject of the program for the Presbyterian Auxiliary when they met at the home of Mrs. Lester Hartsfield Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Koger presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Bill Doly. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The devotional was given by Mrs. Wilbur Jordan.

Mrs. Sonnenburg gave the program telling the highlights of the life of Christ, and the fine arts. Refreshments were served at the close of the program to Mesdames Tom Brown, T. H. Sonnenburg, Wilbur Jordan, Earl Koger, and Dan Fry.

Settlement of New Zealand by the white man did not begin until 1840.

Ice Cottons Before Ironing, Say Experts

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

To put a finish as crisp as a lettuce leaf on freshly laundered cotton tops or neckwear pieces, sprinkle with warm water and store in the refrigerator for an hour before ironing.

This tip, which promises more uniform dampness and easier ironing, comes from home economists. They suggest more tricks to speed up work and reduce fatigue on summer washdays.

As important for fast, smooth ironing as the correct degree of iron heat is the proper dampness for clothes. Sprinkled clothes, not iced up before ironing, say experts, should stand for two or three hours so that moisture will penetrate fibers uniformly.

Conserve your energy by sitting down to iron and having clothes within easy reach of your hands. Put sprinkled clothes on one side; a rack or table for finished clothes on the other. If you iron on a padded table, or at a wall-attached ironing board, an ordinary straight-backed chair will give you comfortable support. A conventional folding ironing board may require a higher chair. With this a small footstool will keep the feet of the "little woman" from dangling in mid-air while she works.

If you stand up to your ironing, see that the board is adjusted so that you can stand straight while working. Bending over the task is what puts misery in your back.

There are 40,320 different possible arrangements for the order in which the major league baseball teams finish the season.

Injured Austin Youth Passes 10th Birthday

AUSTIN—(AP)—John Doyle Sturdivant passed his tenth birthday here this week in his 25th day of unconsciousness.

The curly-haired youngster is suffering from laceration of the brain, sustained when his bicycle collided with an automobile on the morning of Nov. 23, 1946.

John Doyle's birthday brought a deluge of well-wishing messages and greetings to the C. W. Sturdivant home here where the mother has carried on the job of nursing her boy single-handed for the past four and a half months.

"He was in the hospital 64 days and then we had nurses at home. But I take care of him myself now," Mrs. Sturdivant said.

Appendicitis Victim Is Rescued From Ship

BOSTON—(AP)—An intrepid Coast Guard pilot brought a Flying Bat down in heavy seas last night within 15 feet of the weather ship Bibb, 500 miles off Newfoundland, to remove an 18-year-old sailor stricken with appendicitis.

Joseph J. Johns, 18, Seaman First Class of Helena, Ga., was flown to an army hospital at St. John's, Newfoundland, and operated upon immediately.

Braving hazardous flying conditions, Lieut. William Morrill of Lakehurst, N. J., was forced to use instruments in making the landing because of fog and resorted to "jata"—a form of gas propulsion—in taking off from rough seas.

More than a pint of water is exhaled in the breath during one day of ordinary weather.

Tools Mansfield Leads Calf Roping Event in First Day at Cheyenne

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, Texas,

who is one of the handiest men in the country with a lariat, held first place in the calf roping at the end of the first go-round at Cheyenne's 51st Frontier Days celebration.

Mansfield, winner of the calf roping here in 1939, roped and tied his calf in 16.5 seconds Tuesday. The time stood up under the assault of more than half a hundred other ropers who completed the go-round yesterday.

Second in the go-round was Jim Shively, Pawhuska, Okla., with 17.4. Royce Sewalt, Brownwood, Texas, 1946 winner here, was third with 19.4. Hugh Bennett of Falcon, Colo., was fourth with 20.3.

Carl Arnold of Buckeye, Ariz., whose roping feuds with Bob Crosby of Roswell, N. M., have been famous in the Southwest, cinched first go-round money in the steer roping with 22.3, made Tuesday. Fred Lee, Clevis, N. M., and Earl Irvine, Midway, Wyo., split second and third with 23.6 ties yesterday.

First go-round bulldogging honors went to Dub Phillips of San Angelo, Texas, who twisted down his steer in the last time of 12.4 seconds despite a muddy arena. Trailing were Micky McCrory,

There are more Methodists in Congress than any other religious denomination—93. There are 90 Roman Catholics.

Dusting of grass, weeds and shrubs with DDT will kill dog ticks which spread Rocky Mountain spotted fever, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Table consumption of potatoes remains about steady from year to year, and more potatoes are being used in industrial processes.

Employe-Employer Relations Discussed At Rotary Meeting

Employe-employer relations were discussed yesterday during the weekly meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club in the Palm Room, City Hall.

pany, spoke briefly on "What the employe expects from his employer" while Joe Miller, manager of the Miller Pharmacy, took the picture from the other side in "What an employer expects from an employe." Entertainment was furnished by Miss Jane Crowley, of New York City, singing several solos. The program was in charge of Walter Rogers and Virgil Mott.

While the guests were being introduced it was learned that Lion Frank Culbertson meandered in the back way thinking he was at a Lions meeting. Out of the goodness of their hearts the good Rotarians permitted him to remain.

Club singing was in charge of Virgil Mott and Ray Evans, president of Rotary, presided over the meeting.

Services Tomorrow For Bigham Infant

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 o'clock in the Calvary Baptist Church for Gerrel Watson Bigham, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrel W. Bigham, Sr., who died Wednesday in a local hospital.

He is survived by his parents, who live in the Southern Petroleum Camp south of Pampa; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bigham, Letors.

Burial will be in the Baby Garden at Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Deadline on Cashing Of Checks Announced

Uncashed readjustments allowance checks, outstanding six months or more, will be cancelled August 1, instead of August 7 as previously reported. L. P. Fort, manager of the Texas Employment Commission, today warned veterans in the Pampa Area, Veterans' checks for both unemployment and self-employment after the first of August. He suggested that all veterans having such checks in their possession immediately cash them.

He said there were no existing records showing how many checks were outstanding in particular localities but that throughout the State more than 2,000 warrants, unless cashed this month, would be affected by the Veterans Administration order.

During World War II world exports of cotton goods declined to about two and a half billion yards a year compared with about seven billion yards a year before the war.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK (AP)—While the Yankees (baseball) are breezing along towards a pennant, Ray Fierthy is making plans for the Yankees (football) to do the same thing... at least, he says, they're going to make a strong effort to catch up with the Cleveland Browns, who ran away from the other All-American conference teams last season... Ray has two good reasons for entertaining such hopes—Frankie Sinkwich and Buddy Young... Sinkwich, overweight and troubled by a knee injury, has been working out in Georgia since last spring and is down to 190 pounds. Says Ray: "If he was a six footer he'd weigh about 210. And he's harder to tackle because he's so close to the ground."

FAMILY TREE

Claude "Big Monk" Simmons put Tulane University on the athletic map as trainer and coach of nearly every sport for a 24-year period... his son, "Little Monk," a four-letter winner and star half-back in 1934, went on to become Tulane's athletic director... and now it's eight-year-old "Chipmonk" Simmons who is winning athletic honors... the third of the "Monk" series won a trophy as "best all around athlete and sportsman" in a test at his New Orleans school... would you say Chipmonk is aping the older Monks?

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Hank Sauer, who has blossomed out as Syracuse's champion home-run slugger after three unsuccessful trials with the Reds, already is within striking distance of the International League's 154-game record of 53, held by George Pucichelli. And if the Reds want him again they'll have to buy him back... the Philly Eagles' Steve Van Buren, who still doesn't wear socks under his football shoes, needs only one more semester of study to earn his degree as a mechanical engineer... Larry Cisneros, the California lightweight, has a nice part in the forthcoming film, "Killer McCoy"... Ancient Erlie Hertzberg, whose coaching system is partly responsible for the success of Sweden's runners, is the new coach of the New York Police Department Athletic Club track team.

Kiner's Homers Give Bucs Win Over Phils

Prize Package

(By The Associated Press)
 Ralph Kiner, who represents one of the few bright spots in the Pittsburgh Pirates' dismal doings this season, today had realized one of his three main ambitions and stood a fair, good chance to achieve the other two.
 The hard hitting Bucco outfielder, who during spring training announced he was out to lead the National League in home runs and runs batted in as well as set a new rate homer mark, walloped his 24th and 25th four bagger of the campaign last night to break the Pittsburgh record held jointly by himself and Johnny Rizzo. Rizzo had smashed 23 round trippers in 1938 and Ralph duplicated the feat last year.
 Kiner now is only three homers behind Johnny Mize of the New York Giants who leads both Majors with 24. He also is in the running for R. B. I. honors, having set 67 runners over the plate to rank fourth behind New York's trio of Willard Marshall (75), Mize (73) and Walker Cooper (71).
 The 24-year-old sophomore slugger from Santa Rita, New Mexico, batted in four runs last night to lead the Pirates to a 6-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. The win moved the Pirates to within a half game of seventh place.
 Signs of an impending stretch fight for the National League flag between Brooklyn and St. Louis became more evident when both the Dodgers and Cardinals won their games, the Dodgers defeating the Reds at Cincinnati 5-2 and the Cards ripping the New York Giants in St. Louis 6-5.
 The "never say die" St. Louis Cardinals called for four runs in the bottom half of the ninth to come from behind and top the Giants. In whipping the New Yorkers for the eighth time in their last 10 meetings, the Cards showed the Giants into third place and advanced to within a half game of the berth.
 The runner-up Boston Braves remained five games behind the Dodgers by thrashing the Cubs in Chicago 12-4.
 Ellis Kinder allowed only six hits and Willard Brown cracked four singles in five times at bat to lead the last place St. Louis Browns to an 8-1 victory over the American League leading New York Yankees at the Yankee Stadium.
 The Detroit Tigers lost a fine opportunity to whittle a game off the Yankees' 10 1/2 game margin when they were shut out by the Washington Senators 6-0.
 The Boston Red Sox went 14 innings before finally besting the Chicago White Sox 8-7 in a night game at Fenway Park. A perfectly executed squeeze bunt by Don Gutierrez won the bases and advanced one out-run in the winning run.
 A three-run homer by Eddie Joost in the sixth inning provided the Philadelphia Athletics with a 6-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a battle between two no-hit pitchers, Dick Fowler bested Don Black to gain his seventh win.
 Our experience with the Foreman's Association of America has forced us to the conclusion that management unions in this company are unwise in principle and unworkable in practice.

Meet Bob Hansen, 17. He is sought by 11 major league scouts for his performance on the mound for Central Valley High School, Harrison, N. Y. A senior, Hansen has won 16 straight games in two years. This season he pitched four no-hitters. A righthander, he stands six-foot two, weighs 175 pounds.

Longview Increases Lone Star Loop Lead

(By The Associated Press)
 The Longview Texans widened their lead in the Lone Star League to three and one-half games today last night to dispose of the immediate threat while Marshall stumbled twice before last-place Bryan to tumble down to third place.
 Bryan beat Marshall 4-3 and 7-3 and Manager Paul Kardow of the losers was thumbed out of the park in the nightcap for protesting a decision too loudly. Paul Martin and John George, also of Marshall, were heated out at the same time.
 Lusty hitting by Merv Connors and Jess Landrum featured Longview's victory over Luffkin.
 Tyler downed Henderson 12-6 and Kilgore beat Jacksonville 14-2 in the other games.

Quijano Gets TKO Over Marvin Liddell

EL PASO (AP)—Dolph Quijano, Texas lightweight champion, hammered Marvin Liddell, Oklahoma City Indian, into submission last night, Liddell being unable to answer the bell for the fourth round.
 Quijano, ranked eighth nationally, weighed in at 174, Liddell at 172.

Orange Bowl Would Book Navy, Yale With LSU for New Year's Tilt, Now

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Writer
 ST. LOUIS (NEA)—Everett Clay of Miami is seeking an eastern college football team for the enlarged Orange Bowl, Jan. 1.
 The Orange Bowl committee hopes to land Navy and is also working on Yale.
 It would book either with Louisiana State right now, thus getting away from the practice of waiting until the last minute and then shopping for outfits with formidable records, preferably unbeaten.
 New Year's Day Bowl committees would have eased their problem years ago and taken nothing away from their productions, by picking them regularly-scheduled games.
 The Orange Bowl people have an idea they may land Navy in connection with the recruiting campaign. There also is some reason to suspect that Yale might be mildly interested, at least.
 Notre Dame also may be in the New Year's Day field now that the Western Conference, after which South Bend fashions its athletic policy, has gone in for the holiday skirmishes on a permanent basis. In the end the Hungry Nine was so eager to start its agreement with the Pacific Coast Conference that it froze undefeated and highly illuminated Army out of the Pasadena Rose Bowl last Jan. 1.
 Speaking of Notre Dame, the distribution of Frank E. Hering medals at the conclusion of spring practice there gives rivals a rough idea of what to expect from the Irish this fall.
 Bill Wightkin of Detroit was chosen as the best blocking end, John Fallon the best blocking tackle, Bill Fischer the best blocking center. The accolade of most aggressive runner went to John Pencil. Diminutive Pete Ashbaugh was voted the most versatile. Johnny Lujack the best all-around quarterback, and of all squad members, halfback Mike Swistowicz was called the most improved.
 All medal winners, with the exception of Wightkin, who must really be something, earned monograms with the unbroken varsity held even only by mighty Army in their memorable, scoreless struggle.
 Inasmuch as Notre Dame plainly is in high-pressure football to stay, and experiencing some difficulty arranging more attractive future schedules, the Celts might as well get back into the New Year's Day Bowl business, too.

Fort Worth's Cats Moving Up On First Place Houston Buffs

(By The Associated Press)
 The rift between the upper and lower divisions of the Texas League widened enough today that the leaders had breathing room.
 Also, Houston's front-running Buffs could again feel the hot panting of the Fort Worth Cats.
 The circuit campaign rolled past the two-thirds mark with a flock of close games last night. Dallas Rebels again edging Beaumont 4-3 in 14 innings. Oklahoma City's Indians nosing Houston 2-1. Fort Worth slipping by Shreveport 3-1 and San Antonio winning 8-2 over Tulsa.
 With every club having played 100 games or more, Houston held a two and one-half game lead over Fort Worth; The Cats were six and one-half ahead of Shreveport and Shreveport boasted an edge of only two over Dallas.
 Tulsa, in fifth place, was five games back of Dallas.
 Home runs decided two games. Gene Markland slugged one over the fence for Dallas' 14-inning victory. Circuit smashes accounted for all the runs in Oklahoma City's win over Houston. Ray Boone blasting one in the second for the Indians. Tom Glaviano of the Buffs mashing it in the fourth and Ray Murray breaking up the battle in the seventh with a mighty wallop that cleared the palings.
 There were a couple of homers in San Antonio's victory over Tulsa. Chet Welczek of the Missions using a four-ply wallop and a double to drive in four runs and teammate Tom Jordan also letting the horsehide over the fence.
 Ferrell Anderson put in the deciding licks for Fort Worth's win over Shreveport. His single in sev-

Longhorn Loop Will Stage All-Star Game

(By The Associated Press)
 The Longhorn League takes time out from the pennant battle for its All-Star game at Ballinger tonight.
 Ballinger became the site of the contest through leading the circuit in attendance.
 No games were played last night with Odessa at Big Spring being postponed because of wet grounds and Sweetwater at Midland and Ballinger at Vernon being rained out.
 Men who enter West Point Military Academy must be between the ages of 17 and 22.

Fishermen Should Give Their Lines Careful Treatment

By REX BEACH
Famous Author and Outdoor

For lack of line a fish is lost. And it's always "the biggest one." There are no more important items in an angler's tackle box than his fishing lines. Broken lines are, generally speaking, inexcusable.

Never be doubtful about that line. Try the end of it for condition before you begin fishing. Then, after casting for a time, test it again. If it seems weak, break off a foot or 18 inches now and then during the day. After completion of a day's fishing, reverse the line, letting it dry at the same time.

A new line of the best quality is the best investment you can make and the time to do it is before you start fishing, especially after your tackle has been idle all winter. When you lose the line you also lose an expensive lure, the fish and your temper.

It is not a bad idea to oil your reel before starting out. Oil it again a noon, and maybe once more before putting the reel back in the tackle box until the next time. Your effort is never wasted when you polish spoons and spinners. The result may be a good fish caught on a bad day in muddy water.

It is smart, too, to sharpen those hooks now and then. A sharp hook will frequently nail a fish that was smart enough to evade a dull one. For a pliance you can buy a can of waterproofing material that will add greatly your rods, flies and dry flies. Extra care on lures should also be kept in proper adjustment.

I know one important manufacturer of lures who insists "the only way you ever catch a game fish is to trick it. When you cast a small and compact lure, making little or no splash or noise when the lure strikes the water, you actually sneak up on the fish. That's the em."

And he is right. But, when water is muddy, or you are fishing on the surface on a dark night a lure that makes a splash and noise is what you need. And this is the only way you actually do the fishing for you. But all are more or less useful if they cannot be seen.

Propaganda from very high places against high prices has introduced a disturbing note into the nation's economy. Charles B. Wilson, president of General Motors.

Hartung, Hired as Fielder, Makes Good as Giant Pitcher

NEW YORK (NEA)—Few rookies have been ushered into the major leagues with the advance billing and high pressured publicity as was the Giants' Clint Hartung.

He was reputed to be a combination of a right-handed Ruth and Feller. This despite the fact his baseball experience was limited to 68 games in a Class C league.

Hartung was first noticed as a prospective professional ballplayer when he pitched a no-hitter striking out 20 batters, for the high school team in his native Hondo, Texas. Miller Miller, owner of the Class Double A Minneapolis club in the American Association, signed him and he joined the Millers after school closed in June, 1942.

But Hartung found the gap between fast minor league ball and high school too great. Playing first base, he batted four times and went down swinging in each attempt. He was shifted to a pitching role, but didn't do well there, either. Minneapolis farmed him to their Eau Claire club in the Northern League.

There under the supervision of Manager Roy Bill Ryan, Hartung found himself. In one month he was batting 400 and finished the season with a .358, socking 12 homers. He drove in 61 runs. Ryan kept him in modestly at first base. In the six games he did pitch, Hartung won three, lost 1, and was rescued in two others.

Entering the service in late 1942, the Texan, then 20 years old, fortunately was stationed at Hickam Field, Honolulu, where he was able to continue his baseball.

Fighting for Hickam Hartung pitched 25 games and won all of them. Averaging 15 strikeouts a game, he allowed only 20 runs for the season. Hartung also alternated in the outfield. His batting average was .367, which included 30 home runs.

While he was still in the service, Hartung's contract was purchased by the Giants for a reported $25,000 and four players.

At 24, Hartung was known to baseball fans through newspaper sports pages long before he reported for spring training this year in Phoenix, Ariz. This led sports-writers to tag him "The Phenom."

As was true with Ryan in the minors, Manager Mel Ott at first did not consider Hartung for the mound. It was felt his bat was needed more than his arm.

Hartung proved to be a disappointment in the outfield, however. While his arm was powerful and accurate, his judgment in fielding balls was poor. He could get to the left all right, but was bothered by balls hit between himself and the foul line. Starting the season in left field, Hartung was soon benched. This resulted in the nickname, Floppy.

In desperation, several weeks later, Ott sent Hartung to the mound as a relief pitcher. Since then he has been a Giant starter. His few losses have been only when Ott chose to leave him in the game too long.

Hartung has the side-arm sinker and is just swift and wild enough to prevent batters from taking toe-holds. When all of his six feet, four inches are stretched out, Hartung looks as though his arm will reach home plate.

Hartung... the Phenom

Thousands of Natural, Artificial Lures-- But, Still Lowly Worm Remains Champion

By REX BEACH

Dealers in goldfish and other fancy fish are numerous in many game fishing sectors, but the man who gets the money in the fishing boils purveys live bait.

Experts claim 90 percent of game fish are taken with live bait. If this is true it is additional proof that America is a nation of fishermen, for makers of artificial lures, and there are many of them, are still behind in filling orders.

There are all kinds of natural and artificial lures, but undoubtedly the most deadly and most natural of all natural bait is the lowly earthworm. Either in toto or in particles, the garden huckle does its job—it is death to the proudest of the trout or bass tribes. It will lure musky or golden walleye. Be they fish game or pan, the worm plays no favorites.

The lake minnow is probably the most widely used member of the live fish family, at least in the fishing belt from the upper St. Lawrence to Duluth. Close behind is the chub, hard-hunted and seined from thousands of streams across the country.

Live minnows, helgrammites, small frogs, mill roaches, crayfish, shrimp, mice, small snakes, grasshoppers, leeches, bugs of many kinds and an assorted lot of earthworms, maggots and grubs are only a partial list of critters that in fact do the fishing for the one who holds the rod.

Artificial lures are manufactured in astronomical numbers. There are plugs, spoons, spinners and flies. There are combination number of spinners and flies, spinners and plugs and spinners-plugs and flies. In certain waters and on the right way, all will catch fish.

I have just been presented with a modern super-duper. It is a plug with a hollow center, a soft rubber head and tail. Working on the A-bomb principle, it is a self-fisher. All one needs to do is load the hollow center with particles of dry ice, cast the lure out—and it does the fishing.

Texas Elf Wallops Atlas Tank 15 to 3

The Texas Elf Carbon Company celebrated the Atlas Tank Company 15-3 in an Industrial League Softball game last night.

Marvin Gray, Texas Elf pitcher, allowed the Atlas Tankers only 4 hits. Ray Redmond was the losing pitcher.

Texas Public Links Semi-Finals Today

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Frank Roberts of San Antonio meets Hugh Watson and E. A. Furch of San Antonio played Tyrrell Carth of Beaumont today in semi-finals of the Texas Public Links Senior Golf tournament.

Roberts, who staged the tournament's major upset in eliminating Dar. B. T. Childress of Giddings, the medalist, in the first round, downed Dr. V. P. Randolph of Schertz 4 and 3 in the quarter-finals yesterday.

Watson advanced by ousting Dr. Omar Roan of San Antonio 4-3. Furch beat John Zeller of San Antonio 5-4 and Garth defeated R. E. Butler of San Antonio 4-3.

Deadline for Bids on Air Field Postponed

The Gray County Commission Court, meeting in special session, postponed deadline for agricultural bids on the 400 acres of the Pampa Army Auxiliary Air Field No. 2 from July 26 to August 1. Judge Sherman White disclosed yesterday. The judge explained this would give wheat farmers more time to figure on the bids. The contract, when given will run from August 1, 1947, to July 31, 1948. The sealed bids on the tract will be opened by the Commission's Court at 10 a.m. AUGUST 1.

Relative to the armies of other world powers, I judge the United States Army to be second only to that of the Soviet Union. However, it is a poor second.

Olivia de Havilland Seeking Glamor Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—After a year's absence from the studios, Olivia de Havilland is again at work. And she may be gone another year or less she gets the kind of glamor role she's seeking.

The 1946 Academy Award winner last appeared as psychopathic twins in "The Dark Mirror" and is now portraying a mental patient in "The Snake Pit."—Wearing no makeup, straggly hair, a burlap like dress and torn stockings, she is hardly recognizable.

"I'm now looking for a story in which I can wear beautiful clothes and not be a meanie," she said.

Henry Fonda said he missed his pal, Jimmy Stewart, who is doing "Harvey" in New York. "So I called up the skinny so-and-so" (rough translation). He reported Jimmy got over his first night nervousness and is enjoying the change. Hank would

Gen. Eaker, Great Builder of Eighth Air Force, Retires to Apple Orchard

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, who helped the Army Air Forces develop into the mightiest weapon in history, is retiring from the AAF to write and grow apples.

Friends point out, however, that Eaker, native-born Texan, is not likely to be satisfied for long with this kind of activity as he has taken near Medford, Ore. His unexciting manner belies his spectacular flying career, and he is just 51.

What he might do to further the cause of air preparedness probably will be decided after he has taken a long look at things from a vantage point outside the AAF.

Eaker led the first all-American heavy bomber mission against the Germans while he was organizing the Eighth Air Force, which included all United States air power then based in the British Isles.

After that he went to the Mediterranean as commander in chief of the Allied Air Force. When the Nazis were ready to collapse in April, 1945, he became deputy commander of the AAF, a post from which he is now retiring.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Without agreeing with the French opposition to the American-British project of increasing German steel production in the interest of general European economic recovery, it's easy to understand the reason for the objection.

France subscribes to the Marshall program for economic rehabilitation of Europe. When it comes to Germany, however, Paris is fearful of raising the country's industrial strength to a point where it might once more be a war potential. Distrust of the "Boche" is what motivates the French in this matter—fear that if the Germans are permitted to become strong they will again undertake aggression.

The answer to the French objection is that the United States and Britain also have had a stomach full of Prussianism and have no thought of allowing Germany to become industrialized again to the point where she might wage war. To ensure this, there is the agreement to keep the country occupied by Allied troops until all danger is past.

Another monkey-wrench has been tossed into the rehabilitation machinery by Britain herself. The Socialist government has been insisting on nationalization of the all important Ruhr coal industry which by the way is lagging badly, whereas the United States has urged that this be deferred so that the German people themselves may have an opportunity to decide whether there shall be Socialization.

This argument is spot-lighted by a rather melodramatic turn. British Minister of Labor Isaacs announced yesterday that government compulsion would be applied in Britain, if necessary, to force the introduction of staggered working hours in industry in order to avert another fuel crisis next winter. He again appealed for the voluntary introduction of night work—an appeal thus far ignored by the great majority of industries and trade unions.

Oddly enough last Saturday in Moscow Soviet Minister of Agriculture Benedi demanded that farmers stop taking two hours for lunch and work harder in getting in the grain crop. He criticized some collective farms where he said the farmers had been loafing.

So the Socialist states do have their troubles after all.

For the government to determine what is a fair wage is not American—it is European.

—Rep. Max Schwabe (R) of Missouri.

"Not Responsible For Wife's Debts"

A young man came rushing into the Clarion office the other day and wanted me to print an ad—"right quick"—saying he won't be responsible for his wife's debts from now on, as he's leaving her for good immediately.

I allowed as how the forms were all closed up, and it was too late to take his ad. He says: "All right, Monday then"—and we agreed on Monday.

Of course, the forms weren't closed. But I had kind of an inkling of what might happen. Then Sunday he phones me, and says, kind of sheepishly: "You can forget that ad. Me and the missus have everything all patched up. And we're having a friendly glass of beer, right now."

From where I sit, if you give folks time enough to think things over, those hasty quarrels that come so often from misunderstanding will give way to tolerance and common sense.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLES

Principles Above Facts
 I want to quote further from an address made by Dr. Henry C. Link on the topic of "Reappraising Our American Opportunity."

Dr. Link points out that education constitutes more than giving people the facts. He says the simple truth is that facts without elementary morals or standards are likely to create confusion rather than understanding.

I quote further: "We must demonstrate again and again that the essence of American opportunity lies not in its material wealth or material success, but in its spiritual heritage; not in its automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, radios and houses, but in its principles and ideals."

"Every coin of the realm still bears the slogan, 'In God We Trust.' What does it mean, or rather what did it mean? It points to the very cornerstone of Americanism, which is to put principles above profit and God's moral order above economic order. Today when anyone talks about spiritual or moral values, people tend to shy off as from someone impractical or even slightly unbalanced. When one mentions the dignity of the individual, however, there is immediate assent that this is a fundamental characteristic of Americanism. And yet, the dignity of the individual is strictly a spiritual concept. Dignity is not something which the individual acquires with a pair of pants or an inside toilet. The dignity of the individual is made possible by a set of ideals and laws such as the Ten Commandments. What would a man's dignity mean without the Commandments: 'Thou Shalt Not Steal, Thou Shalt Not Kill, Thou Shalt Not Bear False Witness?' These moral laws are the very foundation of American Opportunity and the dignity of the individual. That is why Communism can beget rid of religion and its morals, because they are the bulwark of individual freedom and can be produced under private ownership and management, whereas the British want to nationalize this industry."

opportunity. Socialism, including so-called Christian Socialism, cannot even get started until it steals the property and the freedom of its citizens, of course by legal means—by the democratic vote if possible.

"There are many liberals today who believe that if the majority votes to rob the minority it is perfectly moral. Their slogan is that prize piece of double-talk, 'Human rights are more important than property rights.'"

Moral Obtuseness Our Danger

"No, it is not Russia that constitutes the great threat to America, as the President and many high Government officials have only recently begun to preach. It is the general obtuseness of Americans informally. The history of the United States, in a series of decisions, has declared that stealing is legal when committed by certain labor unions, that violence is legal when committed by labor unions; that bearing false witness is legal when committed by labor unions. In short, this court has declared that the moral law is illegal. No wonder that the respect for law generally has been so extensively undermined throughout this country. No wonder that the opportunities of American enterprise are being progressively restricted by organized coercion and by violence to persons and property."

Industry and Ethics

"Industry, above all, has paid too much attention to laws of physical science, the laws of matter, and so little to the laws of ethics, the laws of human relations, that we have fallen far behind in the race against Socialist and Communist materialism. My Chairman was kind enough to refer to my recent book, 'The Rediscovery of Morals.' In it I have tried to show how the German military resurgence in Europe was based on the 'INVITATION TO APPLY.'"

In many quarters, both at home and abroad, the words of the Secretary of State were interpreted as hardly less than an invitation to Europe to work for American largesse. It was not long before stories began to circulate—whether, in my way, inspired or not, that the authorities at Washington envisaged the future of the world amounting to some $20 billion during the next half-decade. Steps taken meanwhile by the President to ascertain the amount of such assistance we could with reasonable supply, and the effect such generosity might have upon our economic welfare, inevitably added strength to these rumors of planned or projected fabulous giving in the years immediately ahead.

Forecasts in several quarters, including semi-official outgivings in Washington, expressing the belief that the enormous export volume of the first half of this year would not continue much re-interpret the moral foundations of the American industrial conflicts. However, the daily statements and actions of business leaders are far more important than any one book or collection of books. According to the most recent surveys, the public today is unusually receptive to the statements of business executives. However, there is little sense in talking to the workers about free competition, free markets and private property, unless we are willing to defend the rights and opportunities of the workers themselves. Employees who enter into agreements which restrict the freedom of those who want to work are destroying American opportunity at its very source."

Mr. Truman has proposed a program of piecemeal construction of protective dams, and turned the task over to the Army Engineers. This move has antagonized all the conservationists, planners, Liberals and New Deal builders, who shared F. D. R.'s dream of strewing TVA's all across the country.

RECOVERY WITHOUT RUSSIA

Not since the war has the world seen anything in the field of international relations like the Paris conference in European economic recovery. The conference began in a spirit of gravity, as well it might. But there was also evident a spirit of friendliness and a unanimity of purpose that have been absent too long.

The reason for this was clearly evident. Russia was not represented—Russia, with her tactics of opposition, obstruction, delay and general trouble-making. Without a Soviet delegation, the 16 governments present were able to make a start at doing a job which they all agreed must be done.

The conference is not a truly European meeting without Russia and her satellites. Considerable industry and such agricultural picture do not figure in the Paris plans. But one could almost get a feeling of relief from reading reports of the conference. Russia had dropped the other shoe. Despite the serious aspects of her withdrawal, the it seemed clearer now that the threatened East-West split had become fact.

The rest of the world got along pretty well without the oviets in pre-1934 days, and perhaps it can again. There are differences, of course. Russia is politically stronger now. She has gathered a family of neighboring nations about her, by fair means or foul, and up to now as been able to dictate their international behavior.

Russia's ban on normal relations between these Baltic and Balkan nations and their non-Communist neighbors will not assist Europe's recovery. Neither will the paralysis of Germany, if it continues much longer. At the same time the Soviet Union has acquired some economic responsibilities along with its political successes.

Russia is economically weaker than in 1939. Yet if she enies her satellites assistance from the United States and the rest of Europe, she will have to make it up to them out of her own production. The new five-year trade treaty with Czechoslovakia is an indication of what Russia intends to do—but promising and delivering are two quite different things.

The so-called Molotov plan has some participants who are obviously reluctant. The Marshall plan has the hearty cooperation of 15 western European nations and Turkey. These nations, at Paris, have denied any threat to individual sovereignty. They have left the door open for Russia and other countries to come in. They have agreed on a program of self-help to supplement American assistance, they have not overlooked the United Nations in their planning.

All this gives the United States a political advantage to watch Russia's similar advantage in the east. But here again there are economic problems. In America's case, so, promising and delivering are not the same things. As at this country does not know how much help it can afford to give. Nor is there assurance that a bipartisan foreign economic policy will back up the bipartisan support of the Marshall plan and turn promises into actualities.

Until those two questions are settled there is no room for blithe assurance that non-Communist Europe can recover and grow strong without Russia.

WALLACE - British Laborites who fought our original loan, mean to block acceptance of future advances to fear Moscow may regard the transaction as an unfriendly act. Ten Downing Street has recently negotiated an important trade pact with Stalin, which will reduce the English of complete dependence on the U. S. for grain and other food products.

The new Marshall plan for lifting the level of German industrial output has been opposed by Messrs. Atlee and Bevin, not because they fear a German military resurgence, but they think that Russia will be offended.

In short, as between siding with the United States or Moscow, England seems to have assumed a position alongside Henry A. Wallace, whose recent visit to that country was sponsored by the redder and more radical members of the Labor Party. In fact, he may be partially responsible for the barely perceptible but significant shift in the attitude of the British Labor Government.

REPUTATION - It is not generally realized, but President Truman has diminished his reputation as a general key, Rooseveltian policies within the last ten days. Save for his pro-labor policy as embodied in his veto of the Hartley-Taft Act and his selection of labor sympathizers to administer the new law, he is not closer to his predecessor's philosophy than Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Secretary Marshall's recent speeches and pronouncements have ranged the U. S. against Russia as a political, diplomatic and economic enemy. There is no longer any pretense that the world's two greatest powers are friends. Co-operation with Moscow in postwar years has been the keystone of the Roosevelt foreign policy.

In his recent directive to General Lucius D. Clay, our commander in Germany, Secretary Marshall scrapped the last vestige of the punitive Morgenthau program for cutting up the Reich into farm lands, a program which received Roosevelt's Churchill sanction at the Quebec Conference.

DREAM - In opposing tax reduction, and an increase in subsistence allowances for G. I.'s in school or on-the-job training, President Truman has turned his back on F. D. R.'s spending complex. He has abandoned the theory which lay behind WPA, PWA and AAA—namely, that prosperity can be attained by an outpouring of government cash.

His new flood control program, however, is the worst blow. Instead of sponsoring a Missouri Valley Authority on the pattern of TVA, which was F. D. R.'s great pride,

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER

WEAKENING—England's recent re-Russian deals and her violent scientific experiments at home and her German zone have given deep concern to the Truman Administration. Congress and American bankers and industrialists. They are provoked skepticism as to whether the Atlee-Bevin Government is with us in our present clash with Russia.

These fears have not been allayed by a flood of letters which conservative, British business men have been writing to federal officials and the heads of some of our greatest corporations, including automobile, steel, shipping and railroad.

Writing as one business man to another, the authors warn that the labor Government is weakening England's domestic economy by radical innovations to such an extent that it cannot—or will not—join us in combating the expansion of Communism throughout the world.

ADVISE—The writers ask advice on American industrialists, politicians and publicists on methods that would help to drive the present Government from office. The letters call the vote at the last general election, pointing out that a shift of only 2,500,000 Liberals would be sufficient to overthrow Prime Minister Atlee.

The men mentioned as possible candidates of a new ministry are Winston Churchill and Sir Anthony Eden, and the communications ask whether the U. S. would prefer them to the present rulers of Britain.

The correspondence, some of which the writer has seen, make unique political literature. If England has a Logan Act, it is probable that the writers would be subject to prosecution by the Crown.

In fact, they may be liable under the Defense of the Realm Act. It is as if C. E. Wilson of General Motors, Benjamin F. Fairless of U. S. Steel or Cyrus Eaton asked Englishmen for aid in defeating President Truman in 1948.

COMFORT—The Labor Government according to these warnings, is not the mild, trades-union regime which Britishers and Americans expected it to be when it ousted Churchill on a wave of war weariness in the midst of the Potsdam Conference.

It has moved to nationalize banking, transport, coal, steel and agriculture far more radically than is generally known. Against the wishes and policy of the Truman Administration, it insists on pursuing the same socialistic program in its German zone, thereby, giving comfort to the Russians in their attempt to convince the Germans that the free-enterprise system advocated by U. S. representative is decadent.

London's reluctance to discuss methods for increasing production of heavy coal, Central Europe's key problem, derives from this complex. We think that more units of fuel

Almost All Texas Areas Need Rain

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—Almost all areas of Texas, except in scattered spots favored by recent showers and in the high plains, are in need of rain. The United States Department of Agriculture reported yesterday. Cotton was showing signs of deterioration. Late planted corn was suffering from continued drought. Except in Northwestern counties, growth of new range feed was at a standstill as continued hot, dry weather further depleted the already-short moisture supplies. The USDA's summary for the week ending July 21 showed. Conditions were favorable for active harvest of limited crops of commercial vegetables now in season. Harvesting of wheat in the Panhandle and threshing of oats in the North Central counties was nearing completion. Ploughing of stubble continued, but there was some delay because fields were extremely dry. Some late plantings of sorghum needed rain. The peanut crop was holding up well, but it could use rain. Sweet potatoes were in need of rain in nearly all sections. Rice remained in good condition.

Mexican Farmers Have Lunch With Governor

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A delegation of 27 Mexican farmers, members of Small Landowners Association in Toluca, Mexico, who spent the night here in Austin yesterday for a luncheon with Gov. Beauford Jester and visit to a nearby turkey farm. The group spent yesterday here witnessing farm implement demonstrations and visiting a nearby poultry farm. Thursday they will be guests of A. & M. at College Station and Friday will go to Dallas to visit the State Fair Grounds. They planned to inspect the huge wool and mohair warehouses at Uvalde Saturday en route home.

As I See It—

By SAM LEWIS VEITCH
Washington, D. C.

One of the major consumers abroad of United States farm products is now making arrangements to get some of its needs from other countries—perhaps the beginning of a pattern which will result in lessening of demand for our farmers' production. England was told last week that negotiations are going on to trade with Hungary, Yugoslavia and Russia—trade things Britain can make for food, which she needs.

The British Food Minister, John Strachey, who made the announcement, said that there was no danger of food shortages in England between now and the time harvest will bring new crops in. There is no danger that Britons will have to "take in their belts" any further before fall at the earliest, he said.

However, it was recalled that last fall a similar announcement was made about fuel, and the result was a terrific situation almost all winter long. Some observers were inclined to think there might be another such situation this time with food.

But the importance of this announcement to American farmers is not whether there is or is not a shortage of food in England, although that will concern all people directly or indirectly—but rather that the tide is beginning to turn in favor of finding competition for our agricultural products on the world market. For the past several years we have enjoyed about as much business as we could handle with the result that farmers here have not had to worry about where they could sell given quantities of food. But now, with economies of other nations beginning to recover, they will again be bidding for the available business, with lower prices all around the result.

Sooner or later, we are going to find ourselves faced with the old surplus bogey again, and we are going to need some definite plan to keep things going on an even keel. Not long ago, tobacco farmers felt the sting of the first outbreak in foreign markets of our American farm products, but, fortunately, it wasn't a severe blow. Now comes word that other things will likely be affected this year. We'd all better start thinking hard on the question of what to do when the trend becomes general.

Hawaii—The 49th State "Old Glory" may have to have a re-designing job done on it, if a bill that passed the House a few days ago ever gets all the necessary votes. It would make Hawaii the 49th state in the union, and the vote in the House was 196 to 153. The bill which was introduced to the House by "delegate" Farrington, who is a non-voting member of the House, would grant the islands the authority to hold an election and elect delegates to draft a state constitution, which would then be ratified at a second election, and then sent to the President for approval. After that, another election, the third, would be held to name a governor, other state officials, two representatives and two senators.

Since 1920, no fewer than 28 bills have been introduced to give Hawaii the right to enter the union as a full-fledged state. None of them has ever before received seri-

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK, 1947

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

WHEREAS more fatal accidents occur in agriculture than in any other occupation; and WHEREAS the increasing complexity of modern farm operations creates additional accident hazards; and

WHEREAS caution and intelligent effort on the part of every farm family in the land will lessen the suffering and economic loss caused by accidents, and the coordinated observance by all our people of a week dedicated to farm safety will effect an immense saving to our country:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the Nation to observe the week commencing July 20, 1947, as National Farm Safety Week, as a spearhead to a year-round farm safety program, and I request all persons and organizations concerned with agriculture and farm life to cooperate in the observance of this fourth annual National Farm Safety Week. I also urge farm people everywhere to set aside a specific time during National Farm Safety Week for family discussions of methods for the prevention of accidents, in order that these producers of the Nation's food may live and work with greater safety.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

By the President:

Acting Secretary of State

'Watch Your Step' Is 4-H Slogan for Farm Safety Week

"Watch Your Step!" That advice, effectively used by railroads, is being impressed upon rural families by 4-H Club members as a slogan for National Farm Safety Week, July 20-26.

The warning is given as a result of farm and home surveys which show that falls injure more farm people than any other type of accident. Falls on stairs and steps or from vehicles are the most common, many of which are due to carelessness and disorderly condition of stairways, workshops and barns.

It is estimated that more than half million 4-Hers are receiving training in safety work this year. In addition to checking farmsteads for accidents and fire hazards, club members practice and preach safety in driving, walking on highways, and handling farm machinery and livestock.

As incentives for superior records of achievement, merit awards are offered by General Motors in the 1947 National 4-H Farm Safety Program. Honor medals are provided for a maximum of five members in each participating county, and a trip to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress for the state winner. Eight selected state winners will each receive the national award, which is a $200.00 college scholarship. An engraved plaque will also be awarded the county reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program in the state this year.

Last year's state winner in Texas was Billy Preston Hancock of Lakeview.

County winners were named in 88 counties.

The National 4-H Farm Safety Program for 1947 is being conducted in 43 states under the direction of the Extension Service.

ous consideration, but this time it may be a different story. The voting in the House was not without opposition, the main objection to Hawaii's mixed population as to race—and with emphasis on her high Japanese and Chinese elements. Also on the objection list was the control exercised over Hawaiian economy by big companies which control her sugar and pineapple plantations, the two major industries of the islands. However, her small size and population is not unfavorable as compared with some of the more thinly settled sections of our own mainland, and so these objections shouldn't prove too much of a deterrent.

Meat Prices Drop Due to Hot Weather

NEW YORK—(AP)—Wholesale meat prices have dropped two and three cents a pound from a week ago in the New York area, due to hot weather and consumer resistance to high prices, packing house representatives said yesterday. They reported carcass beef selling at 46 to 47 cents a pound, compared with around 50 cents a week ago; choice lamb at 52 cents a pound, compared with 54 cents; and mutton at 43 cents, compared with 45 and 46 cents a pound last week. Wholesalers said retail stores reported business falling off, as some customers shied at high prices and others bought less meat because of the heat.

Effective Method Of Worming Hogs

LUBBOCK—Most effective and practical method of worming hogs is by feeding a mixture of one pound sodium fluoride per 99 pounds of dry feed, according to John H. Baumgardner, assistant professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological College.

Feeding hogs this mixture exclusively for one day proves about 95 percent effective, much higher than any other method, he said. If pigs are used to slop feeding, they should be given plain dry feed three or four days previous to treatment to get them used to it, he suggested. The treatment, developed recently by the USDA, is suitable for any class hogs of any age after weaning. Baumgardner recommends that market pigs be treated twice, first immediately after weaning and again when about four months old. He cautioned that sodium fluoride is very toxic and the feed mixture should not be left where it will be accessible to children or livestock.

Cotton Boll Worm Migration Observed

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—A migration of cotton boll worms from Southern sections of the state to cotton areas in the North has been observed this week. C. E. Smith, entomologist of the State University Experiment Station, said yesterday. No further reports of damage to Rice by grasshoppers have been received, he said, and no estimate of damage to that crop in the Southern section of the state is available.

The Chaldeans of the Old World and the Troquois Indians of the New World both called the Big Dipper "The Great Bear."

If we cannot apply proposals such as those submitted by the Balkan Investigation Committee and now in the United States resolution, we had better tear up the Charter—and pack up. —Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the UN.

Every national farm loan association is interested in building the best public relations possible. It is for that reason that we will follow the suggestion that has been made to circulate an exchange of ideas used by associations in Texas.

It is generally agreed that if all farmers and ranchers, as well as the general public, knew of the benefits of Federal Land Bank loan services national farm loan associations would have little difficulty in maintaining an adequate volume of good loans.
