Record-Breaking Filibuster Ends As Atomic Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, July 28 — UP — The longest filibuster in history is over. It ended dramatically Tuesday night when the Senate suddenly passed the administration's atomic bill after 13 days of stormy debate.

The stubborn struggle between administration forces led by Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and the bill's determined foes, mainly Democrats, suddenly collapsed in the early evening and a vote on final passage began at 7:35 p. m. est.

Although the long debate had been marked by occasional bitter tirades, the atmosphere was friendly and forgiving when the final showdown came. The packed galleries joined in the laughter and cheers in an overlooked violation of Senate rules.

Teen Topics

By MARLENE KOLB

Down at the tennis court in City Park one night early in the week, Ray Cooper, Ronnie "Moon" Mullins, and Steve Burdette were batting those balls around fast and furiously.

And speaking of tennis courts, many Pampa teen-agers have been overhead to express a wish for improved conditions at the City Park court. Lighting repairs need to be made, and the lower level practice court could be a good playing court with a little fixing up and a net. Playing accommodations for more people at the same time would be greatly appreciated by the younger "tennis set."

Saw a reminder the other night of the fighting Harvesters and the football games to come next year when Robert Fleming, Jon Cantrell, and Jerry McNaughton strode into the "Pioneer" wearing their green and gold Harvester tee shirt.

By the way, who is it that has the bright green car with "Yeah, Harvesters" in large letters on the trunk? That's the old spirit!

Claude Speake and his wife seemed to be enjoying the night swimming at the City Pool the other evening. And seeing them was another reminder of school. Just about one more month of freedom.

While looking through some old newspaper files the other day, found where Kay Stewart, Sheila Lemons, Claudette Matheny, Vivian Brake, Ouida Williams, Patry Darby, Billy Culpepper and Byron Byars were in a recital given by Mrs. Lily Harfield one Tuesday evening in 1949. Time flies, doesn't it.

After seeing the show, "River of No Return," there has been a steadily rising clamor for the record by Marilyn Monroe. KPAT has it now and can fill requests. KPAT has it by Tennessee Ernie as it was heard in the background all through the show. This is the disc which many prefer.

Only one objection to Caldwell's remodeling in a movie, some little kid (?) never fails to emit a loud "longing sigh" and an "Oh, Darling!" It does one no good to go to the show with a boyfriend if the romantic parts are spoiled!

Seems rather odd to see all the new, sleek cars running around with junior high drivers, doesn't it? Now don't panic or take offense, junior. That's the opinion, mean as a loving joke by your upperclassmen, which the older young folks have heard to moan. Makes one feel so young doing almost the same things we are! Like the kid brother having his first date and becoming a rival for the family car.

Heard Dwaine Kuntz out at Caldwell's the other night. Who was that running down the parking area yelling at Janice McWright?

Monrel Dog Shares Estate

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 28—UP—A mongrel dog Wednesday shared in the $15,000 estate left by his mistress, Mrs. Mae Murray Green, 61, of San Ysidro, Calif., whose death was indirectly caused by his bite.

In her will disclosed Tuesday, Mrs. Green not only left the mongrel dog $3,000, but stipulated that her pet for 18 years sleep in her bed for the rest of his life and have plenty to eat.

Deputy Coroner Jesse Canale said Mrs. Green's death a week ago resulted from a tetanus infection in a reopening of a wound inflicted four years ago when the dog bit its mistress during a dog fight.

Reds Launch Attack To Wreck EDC

BONN, Germany, July 28—UP—The Kremlin has launched its final all-out attempt to wreck the European Defense Community pact, German and Allied officials believed Wednesday.

The chief purpose of the Soviet government in its note proposing a new European security conference appears to be to confuse French public opinion just when Premier Pierre Mendes-France seems ready to ask his national assembly to ratify the pact.

Allied and German officials believe that the big threat of the Russian move is that it might lead to postponement of the ratification debate. Any such postponement would play in Russia's hands.

It was made known that the West German government will be consulted on the reply of the United States, Great Britain and France to the Soviet note.

It is believed here that the EDC pact still can be rescued in fact that there is an excellent chance of rescuing it — provided the French national assembly takes it up and shows strong signs of passing it before the summer recess.

But further deferment on a pretext whatever would be regarded here as giving the death blow to the treaty.

The West German government has expressed repeatedly its confidence that the EDC will go through ultimately.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer continues to base his policy on this belief despite his recent warning to France that the only alternative is a German national army, without the safeguards which EDC provides.

The Bonn government has not objected to the Belgian proposal for a conference of the six EDC countries in Brussels on Aug. 9 or 10.

Adenauer is willing to meet West Germany's five partners in the pact on one major condition that the meeting results in no changes that would need re-ratification.

JayCee Subs For C of C As Program Means Program

Bob Parkinson provided the program Tuesday noon at the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting — all 80 copies of it.

Earlier, Parkinson explained to his colleagues, he had talked with Pampa Chamber of Commerce officials about providing a program on the Top of Texas Rodeo for the meeting. But there was a mix-up along the line.

Chamber officials sent along a program all right, but it was just copies of the program for various events.

That left Parkinson a local barbershopper, with the program on his hands. After passing out copies of the rodeo program, he sang two numbers with Horton Russell accompanying him on the piano.

The JayCee board of directors will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the chamber of commerce office to discuss the winter bi-regional convention to be held in Pampa. JayCee President J. C. Hopkins announced.

CAA Is Concerned About Flier Losses

By HARMON W. NICHOLS WASHINGTON, July 28—UP—Max Conrad of Winona, Minn., is in business for three reasons: He has 10 kids and they all like to fly. They also like to eat. He sees a future in America if the young learn to fly.

All of these things came out as Max sat beside me during an interview at the suggestion of the Civilian Aeronautics Administration, which likes flying people. As a matter of fact, the CAA is interested in old Max for a selfish reason. In 1947 and '48, 360,000 student pilot permits were issued. Last year the number was barely 30,000. Something had to be done about getting the young fry interested in flying machines.

Romance in the Sky "What's wrong with the kids?" I asked. "Is the glamor gone?" "No, it isn't," Max said. "But for $10 an hour you can get a kid dancing lessons. We have to tell them that if they go to the right places they can learn to fly for less. The answer is the government. There is more romance in the sky than on a slippery floor. No disrespect to dancing, of course."

So what has Max of Winona been doing? He has been working on the kids. He has the know-how, too. Back in 1950 he took a single-engine (330-H) back and forth to England and says he could have done it non-stop if they had let him.

"Also," Max told me, "I wanted to tell the world that you don't have to be a millionaire to fly an airplane. I went from Minneapolis to Roma for $124 worth of gas. Later, I think I proved something to the kids when I set a record."

Art Director Replaced

MEXICO CITY, July 28—UP—Miguel Alvarez Acosta, a poet and lawyer, took over Wednesday as director of Mexico's fine arts institute.

Acosta succeeded Dr. Andres Buarque, former professor of Latin American literature at Columbia University. Buarque was fired after a furor over the funeral of artist Frieda Kahlo in the Palace of Fine Arts.

Buarque, meanwhile, said he "is not and has never been a Communist."

The funeral of Miss Kahlo, wife of muralist Diego Rivera, aroused public indignation because her coffin was draped with the hammer and sickle flag of Soviet Russia. "I did not authorize the use of the Communist flag," Buarque said, "and repeatedly asked Miss Kahlo's family to remove it from the coffin."

The work will begin Monday "we are liable to make the deadline" of Oct. 15. Unfavorable weather and the lack of steel held up the job for six weeks at one point.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

WHILE I was talking yesterday with Jo McMurry (Mrs. L. C. 1305 Garland) about the forthcoming Panhandle Women's Golf Association meet here next week, she got started on BGK and ended up telling me all about the "Christmas in May" party that group held this year. It sounded like a good idea for a patio party — and since this is patio party season, I'll pass it on to you.

As the event had a South Sea Island theme, one of the first requisites was a palm tree. Since none grow in Texas, Jo had her husband cut down a small, dead poplar. Around its trunk, she wrapped brown crepe paper to give the effect of the palm tree trunk. She then stapled coat hangers to the top. The leaves she cut from construction paper, gluing two of them together to make one leaf. These she attached to the hangers. It was really very effective, I hear.

FOR THE leis, very necessary for a party of this type, the women took two strips of crepe paper and "gathered" them on a sewing machine. At the entrance, Jo stated they placed planks against the doorstep to give a ramp effect. Beside the door, they hung an old inner tube they'd painted white with the letters "USBGK" on it.

On the patio they had brightly colored mats on which the guests sat. The refreshments — balcony and cheese — were served in large "hunks" on a bread board. For a sort of Hawaiian touch, they served pineapple punch with dry ice in it. "It just foamed up so pretty," Jo stated.

For further South Seas effect, the women had canna placed around the patio against a backdrop of canna leaves.

It all sounds like so much fun, and not too much trouble. It would add a nice variety to warm weather entertaining.

JO ALSO came up with a cute favor idea. All you have to do, according to Jo, is save egg shells until you have twice as many as you do guests. Then you stick two together at the pointed ends with paraffin. One of the jagged edges you scrape fairly smooth to serve as a base. In the other shell (you keep the jagged edge on this one) you can place a little sod and

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

One afternoon 13-year-old Kay was sent to the grocery by her mother. The shopping list included three packages of lemon gelatin, but they weren't in the paper bag she brought home.

"Where's the gelatin?" asked her mother.

"Isn't it in the bag?" countered Kay. "Then I guess Mr. Mark forgot to put it in, Mother."

"Did you forget to check what he put in the bag against your list?" her Mother asked.

Kay didn't answer this question. Instead, she said irritably, "O.K., O.K. What do you want me to do?"

"What I want you to do about a mistake is not important," said her mother. "What you want to do about it is."

After a minute, Kay went out again. When she returned with the gelatin, she wasn't nearly so grumpy as you would imagine. "Well, there's your aspic salad," she said, throwing the bag to her Mother.

Catching it, her Mother smiled. "Yes, here with a daughter I love very much," she said.

Kay flushed with pleasure. "I did forget to check the list," she said. "Shopping for eggs and stuff bored me."

Could we note that admission of her mistake came voluntarily? Like you and me, she found it easy to acknowledge it when she was given her own power to correct it. Once, an old lady who is dear to me, said this: "I very much doubt whether we should ever point out other people's mistakes to them unless we endow them with the power to correct them."

If we could keep this in mind, we would find correction of childhood easier. It's because we so often forget to draw on their capacity to correct themselves that children develop great resentment at criticism.

We want mistakes put right, quick — one, two, three. So we take over their correction. We say, "Go right back to the store and get me that gelatin." Or we say, "Honestly, I don't know where your head is. All right, just get out of my kitchen."

Whether our child gets gelatin or gets out of the kitchen, she leaves us with a feeling of loss, the self-respect that belongs to her as the solver of her own problem has been stolen from her.

She leaves us sullenly, struggling with our suggestion that she is a careless, disappointing person.

Lost 90 Pounds With Barcontrate

Mr. L. A. Vance, 305 N. Crockett, Sherman Texas, states as follows: "I lost 90 pounds taking Barcontrate. I could never stay away from sweets. The tablets that come with Barcontrate really curb my appetite for sweets and they are so pleasant tasting. Lately I go for weeks without taking any, but when I feel like over-eating, I get another bottle of Barcontrate."

You can get Barcontrate at any Texas drugist. Money back guarantee on the very first bottle.

Are we boring ourselves to death?

A magazine editor claims that we are. He thinks the big problem for many individuals and families today is what to do with their leisure time.

Our high divorce rate and the increase of juvenile delinquency would indicate that a lot of Americans are just plain "bored." For boredom can easily lead to major marriage problems. And bored young people can easily get into trouble.

If boredom is one of our big problems, that ought to be a real challenge to the American woman.

Instead of trying to relieve her own personal boredom by rushing around joining clubs and heading committees and playing cards, perhaps she should be working on the broader problem of taking care of a whole family's boredom.

How can she accomplish such a big job? Well, here are a few suggestions:

By getting the whole family interested in family projects and family outings. If everybody works together they can do all kinds of things to make a house more livable and pleasant. And that outdoor motor. Dad has his eye on it. It might be a lot better buy for the family than a new sofa.

By widening the family's circle of friends. By spending time with interesting and entertaining people who have something to offer, instead of being bored by the same small group of couples who may have little to offer each other.

By encouraging individual hobbies within the family — even when they are messy and time-consuming. Some women discourage their husbands and children from taking up any hobby they feel is going to clutter up even one room of the house.

By substituting good conversation for poor TV fare. Any family that thinks anything on TV is better than listening to each other is bound to become bored in short order.

By keeping informed about world affairs. The more anyone knows about the world he lives in, the less likely he is to be bored.

THE D.M.P. Auxiliary is another group that is always having interesting parties. Recently they had a rodeo affair in one of the member's back yard. I'm not too sure of all the details, but I understand they had a chuck wagon and served a most barbecued on the spot. Everyone had to come dressed appropriately. Sounds wonderful. If there were a guitar player—or even a banjo enthusiast—in the crowd it would lend atmosphere and aid group singing. Might prove to be another interesting party idea.

FOR A REFRESHING summer club meeting, you might take a tip from the girls in AAUW, who held a salad supper this spring. It's especially appropriate for this hot weather when no one feels like doing much cooking.

It's quite simple. Each member brings a salad — any kind — which are all arranged on a serving table. Of course you'd want a beverage of some kind and maybe rolls, but the salads are an ample, filling meal. The AAUW group had a lot of fun with it. Of course, each woman sampled most every salad and it provided a good laugh when someone would exclaim: "Now I wonder where that interesting taste came from!" With your plate covered with so many different kinds, it was hard to tell. Everyone agreed it was quite a success.

IT'S BEEN nice talking with you, and if you have any ideas or tips you'd like to share with the rest of us, please let me know.

Sunshine Club Has Sewing Program

Highlight of the recent meeting of the Sunshine Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Jim King, west of city, was a demonstration on making a dress by Mrs. King.

"When putting in a dress zipper, do it without basting or pinning," Mrs. King told the women. If your machine does not have a zipper foot, you may use the regular foot by putting the larger part on the zipper, she added.

When putting in a sleeve, you should shrink it to fit the armhole, Mrs. King advised. This is done by placing the edge of the armhole and the sleeve edge together, and ironing them over the end of the board. The sleeve should be dampened a little, and only the flat part of the iron should be used, she instructed. Always iron toward yourself.

Mrs. King told the group that it is best not to use the selvage. However, if it is necessary to do so, she advised them to pry the edges, or clip them. A skirt should always be stitched from the bottom up, she pointed out.

Mrs. King also demonstrated blind stitching a hem on the sewing machine, the machine should be set for 12 stitches per inch for blind stitching, she advised. She added that each piece of a pattern should be cut the same way on the material.

The business session was also led by Mrs. King, who is vice-president of the group. Roll call was answered with "my favorite cold drink." It was reported that club members took magazines to the hospital Saturday.

Following the meeting, refreshments of punch, mints, and cantaloupe halves filled with ice cream and food fruit were served.

Next meeting of the group will be August 15, in the home of Mrs. J. L. Reddell, 800 Magnolia. The demonstration, "Making a Child's Dress," will be by Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent.

Oilers Seek Series Sweep From Hubs Tonight

Win Opener, 7-6; Gaines Due Tonight

By BUCK FRANCIS

Southpaw Jonas Gaines will attempt to give the Oilers a series sweep over the Lubbock Rubbers tonight when he is scheduled to take the hill for the series finale at Oiler Park.

The Oilers won the series opener last night when Sad Sam Williams hurled and batted the Oilers to a 7-6 victory. It was Williams' ninth win of the year against the same number of defeats.

Gaines tonight will be seeking his 11th victory of the season against three losses.

Last night's game was highlighted by the appearance of the West Texas-New Mexico League queen contestants. The queens, representing six of the seven members of the WT-NM, paraded in view of the fans prior to the game and also presented a talent show with each girl performing a stunt.

Following the appearance of the queens, Williams kept the big crowd on hand happy with a well pitched game and also his "big" bat. Sad Sam held the Hubs to only one run through the first eight innings before the visitors broke loose with a five-run rally in the ninth. Three of the ninth inning Hub runs were unearned.

Williams was also the big noise at the plate for the Oilers. The popular Negro right hander batted out two doubles and a home run and drove in four runs to lead the 12-hit Oiler attack.

The homer was Williams' second of the year and his first at Oiler Park. On the mound, Williams gave up nine hits and should have gotten away with only three runs scored against him. But in the ninth, the Oilers committed their only error of the night with two away and the locals enjoying a 7-3 lead.

The miscue, however, a low throw to first by third baseman Curtis Hardaway, gave the Hubs new life and Manager Frank Benites promptly unloaded a three-run homer to cut the Oiler lead to only one run, 7-6. Williams braced himself and got Joe Valdivielso on a ground ball to end the game.

First baseman Doug Lewis collected four hits for the Oilers including a double.

After tonight's game, the Oilers will leave on a six-day road trip to Lubbock, Abilene and Plainview.

GENE COOPER. ON AUG. 10 will become the first Pampan to ever try the professional ranks in field of boxing, at least as far as we have been able to ascertain. Many critics frown on a fellow turning professional in the fist-cuffing game. Reason is, mainly, that a lot of amateur boxers attempt the pro game when they actually aren't capable of making the grade in the first place.

Professional boxing is a mighty dangerous sport unless a fellow knows how to take care of himself inside the ring.

However, in Cooper's case, we believe he has the stamina, courage, confidence, the boxing know-how and, above all, "the guts" it takes to make a go in the pro ranks.

Cooper has been around the fight game for a long time and should know all the angles there is to know about the boxing sport. Cooper's career has been filled with numerous honors. His trophy case will bear this out.

He has won the state Golden Gloves title three times and advanced as far as the semi-finals in the National GG tourney on one occasion.

Cooper's boxing trophies number 25 and in addition he has won more than two dozen sweaters and jackets; approximately 40 minutes boxing gloves; two belt buckles; two rings; a huge blanket; and several robes.

Very few amateur boxers can top these winnings.

Cooper only recently elected to try the pro game. He had had offers to turn pro several times, but had turned them down until about a couple of months ago when he accepted a juicy offer from a San Antonio promoter. Eugene will meet Gilbert de la Garza in a four-rounder in his pro debut, Aug. 10, in San Antonio.

We're pulling for Cooper to make a go of it in the "box for pay" game, and we're sure all local fight fans will be extending their best wishes to the hard-jabbing southpaw in his search for a successful pro career.

TONIGHT WILL BE THE last chance to see the Oilers in action for six days. It would be good to bid them farewell on the coming road jaunt by filling up Oiler Park tonight.

That was a nice turnout last night. If last night's crowd is an indication of what to expect the rest of the season, then the Oiler front office shouldn't be in too bad a shape when the season is completed.

Abilene's Oliver Now Headed For Baylor

BOBBY JACK OLIVER. ABILENE's all-state tackle last fall, has changed his college intentions for the third time.

Oliver is now headed for the Baylor University campus. Previously the big Abilene tackle was headed for Texas A&M and later to Oklahoma U.

Baylor, however, has got Oliver on the dotted line, that is he has signed the "letter of intent". The signing of the letter still doesn't bar him from attending a college outside of the Southwest Conference, though.

It only bars him from going to another SWC school to play football.

Oliver will be joined by another outstanding District 1-AAAA tackle last fall — Bob Frigmore of our own Pampa Harvesters.

Frigmore has received a four-year scholarship at the Waco Baptist institution.

The Baylor football school certainly has taken on a new look with the addition of these two fine gridsters.

DECK WOLDT AND JAKE HENSON have been handed their releases by the Oilers. Both have been sidelined with injuries and it was for that reason they were released.

Woldt suffered a severe charley horse during his brief stay with the Oilers this season. The loss of the Decker will be keenly felt as he ranks second to none as a centerfielder in the WT-NM League and he was hitting at a fair clip when he came up with his injury.

Henson, of course, has been on

Dukes Trip Clovis, 6-2

By UNITED PRESS

George Socha, Albuquerque's ace righthander, picked up his 16th win of the season Tuesday night as he pitched the Dukes to a 6 to 2 victory over Clovis, the West Texas-New Mexico League leader.

Socha was aided by standout defensive play and a bases-loaded triple by Pedro Santiago in a four-run second inning rally.

Pampa trimmed Clovis' lead to two games with a 7 to 6 win over Lubbock and Plainview pounded Abilene 17 to 1 in other games.

Abilene used every pitcher on its staff and then some trying to stem Plainview's 19-hit assault that included a bases-loaded home run by Don Tierney, a three-run homer by Bobby Brown and another circuit clout by manager Jackie Sullivan.

Harbert Is PGA Champ

ST. PAUL, July 28—UP— Chick Harbert, a long-driving 29-year-old veteran, won his first national golf crown Wednesday.

He won the big 36th annual PGA tournament Tuesday when he overcame a wild start and upset defending champion Walter Burkemo, 4 and 3, in the scheduled 36-hole final over rolling Keller public course.

"I only hope I can be as great a champion as Walt," he said. The battle between the two Detroit-area pros climaxed the hottest week-long PGA tourney in several years which drew all the big-name golfers except Ben Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum.

One of Most Unusual It was a great victory worth $5,000 for Harbert, who was beginning to think he was always a bridesmaid but never a bride.

Nine times the Northville club pro had tried for the PGA crown and in 1947 and 1952 he was runner-up. But this was the first time he ever came through.

Fenton not only held the Holy Souls to a no-hitter but also left 12 men on base of the 24 he faced.

Yankees Are Victims Trucks Gives Chisox 16th Shutout Victory Of Season

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

It's small consolation for Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees Wednesday that he can tell the world, "I told you so."

The experts thought "old Casey" was losing his grip a week ago when he insisted the Chicago White Sox were still in the American League race. The White Sox had just lost three of four games to the Yankees and the experts were writing them out of contention.

But Manager Paul Richards' spirited team proved the experts wrong and Stengel an unhappy prophet when they beat the Yankees, 4 to 0, Tuesday night enabling the Cleveland Indians to take a 2-1-2 game lead over the world champions via a 9 to 3 decision over the Boston Red Sox. The White Sox' victory—before a near record crowd of 88,067—also moved them within 3 1-2 games of the second-place Yankees.

Virgil Trucks became the league's leading winner when he spun a five-hitter to gain his 14th victory of the campaign. It was the third time this season the pudgy fireballer beat the Yankees and the second time he shut them out. White Sox pitchers now have lost 16 shutouts compared to the league record of 32 set by the 1906 "hitless wonders."

Al Rosen hit his 18th homer and Vic Wertz his fourth to lead the Indians to their 14th victory in 16 meetings with the Red Sox.

The New York Giants, meanwhile, were still streaking—in the wrong direction—bowing to the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 4, after the Brooklyn Dodgers out-scrambled the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 6, in an afternoon game. As a result, the once huge seven-game Giant lead had dwindled to a mere two games in the wake of six consecutive defeats.

Center fielder Willie Mays hit his 26th homer to go eight games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace but the blow came in the ninth inning when the Giants were hopelessly behind.

Duane Pillette, who has scored all four of Baltimore's victories since July 4, gained his ninth triumph of the season as the Orioles snapped the Washington Senators' six-game winning streak with a 7 to 6 decision.

Bill Tuttle singled home the winning run in the ninth inning to give the Detroit Tigers a 3 to 2 win over the Philadelphia Athletics but the A's rebounded to win the nightcap, 8 to 2, behind Marion Friano's five-hitter.

Robin Roberts became the majors' first 15-game winner when the Philadelphia Phillies supported his six-hit pitching with an 11-hit attack that produced a 2 to 2 conquest of the Cincinnati Reds.

Tuesday's star—Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox, who shut out the New York Yankees, 4 to 0, on five hits.

Giant Panic Is Uncalled For—Stanky

NEW YORK, July 28—UP— Eddie Stanky, aware that the floundering Giants are suddenly being looked upon as a sinking ship, emphatically declared Wednesday "the panic is uncalled for."

Making no secret of how he felt about those who have begun "burying" the Giants simply because their once-massive seven-game lead has all but vanished in a week the fiery Cardinal manager said the league leaders still look in A-1 shape to him.

"They were going at a tremendous pace and they were bound to slow down a bit," Stanky said. "What's the crime in that? Now, I notice a sudden panic in New York. Everyone seems to think they're through."

Stanky scoffed audibly and reached for his shoes in his dressing room locker.

"The Giants," he added, "are a club with fine balance, a great bullpen and a good bench. They have excellent spirit and plenty of power. They also have a lot of experience. What more do they need?"

Stanky scoffed audibly and reached for his shoes in his dressing room locker.

Telephone 9 Ousts Gassers

Bell Telephone eliminated Northern Natural Gas from the double-elimination District 1 softball tournament last night at Bowers' City with a 4-3 victory.

The Telephone nine, behind the hurrying of new pitcher, Ray Carter, played in the running for the district crown with last night's victory.

Mike McDaniels was credited with the victory. The game was called in the fifth due to darkness.

Four round trippers were hit in the PONY League tilt between Kist and First National. Buster Baird, Gary Heiskell and David Marler hit homers for the Bankers while Bill Walsh hit one for Kist.

Marler was also credited with the victory, coming in relief of Buster Baird.

No games were scheduled in the kid baseball league today with play resuming tomorrow with Cabot and Hoffman meeting in the feature tilt. Other games will send Utility Oil and Your Laundry together in the Western League and Elmer's and First National in the PONY.

Nationalist China's War May Return To Headlines

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
Nationalist China's war may be back in the headlines soon. This little shooting war is being fought on a "front" of about 500 miles between the Nationalists and the Chinese Communists.

It has been going on ever since the Communists drove the Nationalists from the mainland to the island of Formosa in 1949. So far, it has been unimportant. It is a matter of small, brief engagements between Nationalist and Communist warships and planes. But a big military build-up has been in progress for a long time on both sides.

Watching for Signs
The Nationalists have been watching for months for any sign that the Reds might be planning an attack on Formosa, 100 miles across the Formosa Strait from Fukien Province.

Emergency Meeting
As soon as the news of the downing of the Red planes was received in Taipei, high Nationalist military leaders were called into an emergency meeting to discuss possible developments.

These islands, include the Tachien group in Tachow Bay, 220 miles north of Formosa; Matsu, roughly opposite northwest Formosa, and the Quemoy Complex off the Red port of Amoy, opposite central Formosa.

Hasn't Lost Hope
Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek never has lost hope that some day he will be able to invade Red China. He has an army of from 350,000 to 400,000 men, a small air force and a small navy.

Elizabeth Pabodie, daughter of Priscilla and John ("Speak for Yourself") Alden, is buried at Little Compton, R. I. She was the first white child born in New England.

have hundreds of Russian-made MIG fighter planes at newly established air bases along the coast. Some day, the little Chinese hot war may become a big one.

Royalty Impressed With Stars

By ALINE MOBBY
HOLLYWOOD, July 28—UP—When Paul Wrangell walks through the sound-stages of MGM, it's one time the stars themselves turn to stare.

Wrangell's job is to herd about visiting royalty and other foreign dignitaries, and a peek at a movie studio is a must on the itinerary of traveling queens, princes and other big-wigs.

Recently he also guided the elms of the prince of Japan and the queen of the Netherlands, while other studios played host to the rulers of Greece and Ethiopia.

Tourists usually stare at the stars, but with foreign royalty it's reversed. Wrangell reported Wednesday: "It's odd to see the stars wait in line to be introduced to these visitors, and foreigners in native costume make a particularly big hit with the stars."

MGM handles an average of 60 visitors a day. Only theatre men, press, and dignitaries can squeeze inside a studio's gates — except on Thursdays, when the USO brings buses full of servicemen.

Francis's daughter, not being a princess, got the "B" treatment, meaning a small luncheon for only her party.

Visiting press are taken around the studio by publicists, while theatre men and "friends of friends" are given tours by messenger boys, no food included.

"Royalty are no different from others when it comes to being interested in the studio," said Wrangell. "The queen of the Netherlands was so fascinated she stayed four hours and was late to her next appointment."

Mexico's Population Doubles Since 1900
MEXICO CITY, July 28—UP—A government spokesman said Tuesday Mexico's population doubled from 1900 to 1950 and still is increasing 2 per cent a year. Dr. Fernando Esparragoza Medina said there were 13 million residents in 1900 and twice that number in 1950. Since then, he said, seven out of every 1,000 persons have gotten married; 48 children have been born and only 16 persons have died.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED
HOLLYWOOD, July 28—UP—Former actress Billie Dunn, 51, won an annulment Tuesday from Wendell G. Hutton, a Tucson, Ariz., nightclub owner. After testifying he was already married when he wed her, Miss Dunn, the widow of radio personality Tom Brenaman, said she married Hutton in Las Vegas, Dec. 8, 1951.

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER
TV STAGE RADIO RECORDS PEOPLE

Robert Merrill confesses that when he sings for his own pleasure—in showers and other non-public places—he sings tenor arias, rather than his own baritone specialties. The grass is always greener on the other side of the tonals.

She stood in the spotlight on the famous Palace stage. Her hair is still black and her face is still young-looking. Her figure has well, spread out a little. But her voice is the same, and she was singing the same song: "I wanna be loved by you, just you, hoop-boop-a-doop."

Helen Kane is making a comeback, and doing pretty well. The most intriguing part of the whole business, to her, is that the teenagers of today have suddenly discovered her. She thought perhaps she'd still appeal to people of her own generation—the 40- and 50-year-olds—and she does. But this teen-age excitement is a big surprise.

"I'm a new sound," she said. "Imagine that. Hoop-boop-a-doop is something they've never heard. They like it. At my age, I'm all of a sudden a new sound."

Helen Kane, who reached her peak in the late '20s and early '30s, was retired for something like seven years. She was "just a housewife." With her husband, Dan Healy, another show business veteran, she lived comfortably on Long Island, with a farm in upstate New York, near Saratoga.

"I'd quit the business," she said, "because I was tired. I remember I used to say, 'If I ever find a bed without wheels, I'm going to stay in it forever.' But, you know this business. It gets you. And then Hollywood asked me to dub in the singing for Debbie Reynolds in 'Three Little Words.'"

"That started it. I made some personal appearances with the picture, and that's when I discovered the kids liked my voice. It was different to them. So I figured I'd give it a try."

She's made a few TV appearances, a few radio shows and then came the Palace. Now she has

Police To Quiz Nurse In Murder

LOS ANGELES, July 28—UP—Attractive Susan Hays, 24-year-old nurse who has been named as the "other woman" at the Marilyn Sheppard murder inquest, left by plane for Cleveland Tuesday accompanied by two Ohio authorities.

Homicide Capt. David E. Kerr of the Cleveland detective bureau indicated the trial of the killer was growing cold as time passed in the investigation.

Kerr returned from a Miami vacation and said he planned no immediate arrests. "We're just investigating a murder case—a mighty cold one at that," he said of the July 4 slaying. "Our authority to arrest stops at the edge of Cleveland."

Miss Hayes, comely 24-year-old Los Angeles nurse, admitted seeing Dr. Sheppard and his wife when they visited California in March.

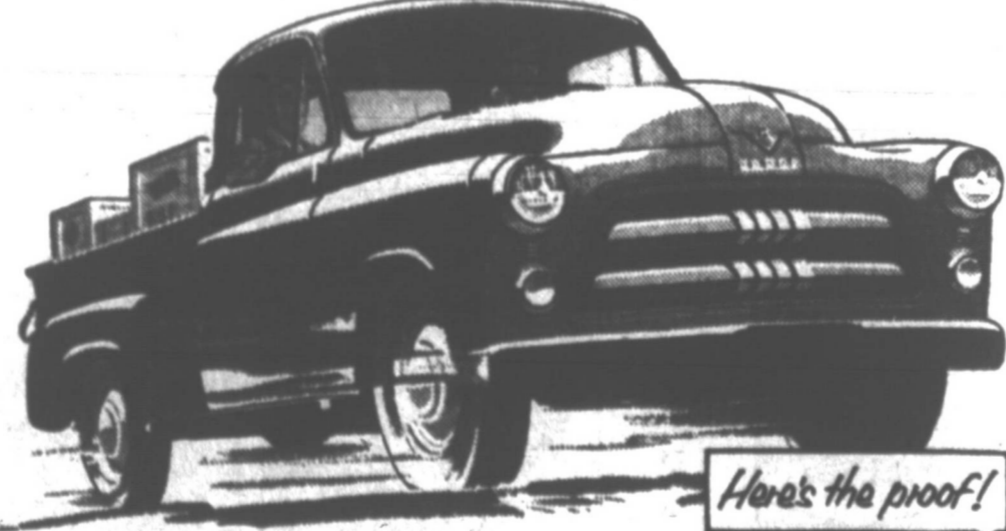

Elizabeth Pabodie, daughter of Priscilla and John ("Speak for Yourself") Alden, is buried at Little Compton, R. I. She was the first white child born in New England.

Harvey Orkin, one of the top Broadway press agents, is quitting to join Sid Caesar's writing staff for his new show over NBC-TV next season. Orkin, asked what sort of a show Caesar is planning, said, "Sid just says he'll try anything as long as it's funny."

Perhaps this season's most unusual party was tossed by DuMont's Marge and Jeff (Marge Greene and Jeff Cain). Marge's dog, Paisley, the show's almost co-star, was in a canine hospital for nine weeks. On his release, there was a big coming out party for the animal.

Everybody put on the dog. St. Paul Man Nominated WASHINGTON, July 27—UP—President Eisenhower Monday nominated Paul Emmert Miller of St. Paul, Minn., to be a member of the Federal Reserve system's board of governors. The post carries a 14-year term.

Typhoid Hits Los Angeles
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—UP—The city health department sought anxiously Wednesday to prevent further spread of an outbreak of typhoid fever which left an 11-year-old boy dead, seven persons ill and 200 persons possible victims.

Health officials feared the outbreak may be the largest in Los Angeles in recent history. They said they were trying to locate some 200 guests who were exposed to a wedding reception Sunday which resulted in the death of young Tim Nahm and hospitalization of seven persons.

It was believed that food served at the reception contained the typhoid organism which may have come from a typhoid carrier who handled or prepared the food. Officials said they were hampered in the search to roundup all who attended the reception because most of the guests were of Korean descent, many of whom speak no English.

No Decision On Phone Rate Case
PERRYTON.—(Special)—Nothing new has been reported in the negotiations between the city and the General Telephone Co. regarding a rate increase sought by the company.

They are seeking to boost the rates about 50 per cent on business and residential telephones. There have been several meetings between company officials and the city and at the 1881 meeting the statement, reflecting operations up to March 31. The company agreed to furnish such a statement and this will be taken up at the next meeting for which the date has not been set.

Americans Eat Too Much
MEXICO CITY, July 28.—UP—A New York nutrition expert, Dr. Norman Jolliffe, said Tuesday Americans eat too much food that doesn't do them any good.

Jolliffe told the First Continental Meeting for the Study of Nutrition and Growth Problems that consumption of "empty calories" has increased 48 per cent in the last 40 years. He defined an "empty calorie" as a source of body energy with little or no value in proteins, minerals or vitamins.

The director of the Bureau of Nutrition of the New York Department of Health blamed dipping into the sugar bowl and the frying pan for much of the trouble. The result, Jolliffe said, is a wastage of food at the same time the food supply can't keep pace with population increases.

Jolliffe said Americans should change their diet pattern, and eat more meals, starchy grains and tubers, and watery vegetables and fruits.
