Politicos Have 4 Days Left Shivers In W. Texas, Yarborough On Coast

By RICHARD C. TAYLOR United Press Staff Correspondent

With four days left in which to capture the voters' favor, Gov. Allan Shivers made a quick swing into West Texas Tuesday and his opponent, Ralph Yarborough, concentrated on the Gulf Coast. Shivers Monday night pulled out all the patriotic stops in a statewide radio-television speech from Texas' most sacred shrine, the Alamo, while Yarborough hammered again at the administration in a statewide telecast from Dallas and broadcast from Fort Worth.

The governor said his supporters should defeat at the polls Saturday an "army of outsiders" who want to "destroy the Texas way of life." "If Texans vote for Texas next Saturday," Shivers said, "these outsiders will end their slander and abuse and leave as quietly as they came."

"Do-Nothing" Administration But Yarborough lambasted Shivers' five-year tenure as governor as a "do-nothing" administration. "My opponent boasts he would not change Texas," he said, adding the state's care of the mentally ill, blind, and aged had slipped in the last five years, and "nothing has been done about water conservation."

Shivers was scheduled for a lunch at Brownwood Tuesday, followed by speeches at Comanche and Goldthwaite, with a return to Brownwood for a night rally. He will meet the voters in Georgetown, Killeen, Belton, Temple and Waco tomorrow.

Yarborough will open in Houston Tuesday, shake hands in Galveston during the afternoon, and attend rallies at Texas City and Houston Tuesday night with a statewide broadcast from the latter. He will go to Bryan, Wichita Falls and Tyler, in that order, Wednesday.

Yarborough last Friday signed three other measures designed to crack down on Communist subversion and espionage. One would compel witnesses before congressional committees and federal courts to testify against traitors, saboteurs and spies by granting them immunity from prosecution for any statement that might be incriminating.

The other two measures provided stiffer penalties for harboring fugitives and make it a crime to jump bail.

The new law, in a "finding of fact," states that the Communist party is not a political organization as claimed but "is in fact an instrumentality of a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States."

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 24 — UP — President Getulio Vargas, 71, committed suicide Tuesday with a bullet through the heart. His death ended a crisis-ridden rule which had extended over parts of nearly 25 years. It followed by only a few months an unsuccessful attempt at his impeachment, and was the direct result of the murder of an Air Force officer in which his aides appeared to have had a guiding hand.

Ike's Pay Hike Veto Attacked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 — UP — President Eisenhower's veto of pay hikes for 1,750,000 federal workers evoked a flood of wrathful criticism Tuesday from labor leaders, employe spokesmen and some congressmen. Many of those who blasted Mr. Eisenhower's action called for a new pay raise bill when the 84th Congress meets next January. Some of the critics urged that the veto be made an issue in the fall campaign for control of the next Congress.

Western States Hit By Quake

Machines Register Five-Minute Shock SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 — UP — A sharp, rolling earthquake rocked three western states Monday night, striking hardest at a Nevada town which was shaken up by a quake also last month. Ike Signs Red Control Bill

DENVER, Aug. 24 — UP — President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law the Communist control act of 1954 which was tailored to administration specifications during the closing hours of the 83rd Congress. The new law strips the Communist party and its "fronts" of all legal rights and privileges, requires Communists to register with the government and imposes tough new curbs on Red-infiltrated labor unions. Announcement that the President would sign the bill was made Monday night by Press Secretary James Hagerty. Mr. Eisenhower had expressed opposition to an earlier version of the bill which would have made membership in the Communist party a felony. It was not certain until Monday night that the President would sign the modified version finally passed by the House and Senate on Aug. 19, although changes had been made in the bill in response to determined administration pressure.

Mailed ballots can be received in Thut's office by Saturday as long as they are postmarked by midnight tonight. Thut has said this is the heaviest absentee voting in a runoff primary in the history of Gray County.

Bell Gavel Speeds Up Congress

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—UP—What's new in Washington? Speaker of the House, Joe Martin, the world's champion gavel pounder, came up with a new gimmick to hurry the Congress along toward adjournment. He used a gavel equipped with a built-in bell. It worked fine.

Thanks to the Army, the press will get the treatment at the national aircraft show in Dayton, Ohio, next month. The Army will cart the ink-stained minions of the press coop to and fro in helicopters and plop them down in front of the press tent.

The Army, by the way, has a man without a uniform in Orleans, France, according to the Pentagon. He is Pvt. I. C. Thomas E. Buckley of South Pasadena, Calif. It seems that Tom is allergic to the GI uniform, which, of course is nothing new to soldiers. He carries written orders from the medical officer of his unit allowing him to wear civvies at all times. The uniforms give the lad a rash.

Texas has done a lot for the Army's tallest soldier, Sgt. I. C. George Dismore of Ione, Calif. When George signed up he was only six-feet, nine-inches tall. Since then he has grown two inches. Most of his Army time has been at Fort Hood, Tex.

U.S. Army classification experts pride themselves in putting the right man in the right place. It was, therefore, only natural that when an Army chaplain asked for a replacement on his staff and found himself in charge of a man named Angel, Pvt. Kenneth H. Angel of Stockton, Calif.

During the dying days of the rush to get the Congress back to the bushes to campaign, a couple of the wives of senators left their kids in the hands of baby-sitters and drove to Capitol Hill, carrying lunch pails for their husbands.

Readers of newspaper ads got something of a shock when "Washington's largest drug store" announced its opening. For sale were a lot of things including a custom-built house, for $28,500, a $2,485 foreign car knocked down from $4,485, bicycles, umbrellas, and sundries but no horse-collars.

These are tough days on Washington cab drivers. The public utility commission has ruled that no hackle can sit behind a wheel in his underwear—meaning T-shirts.

McCarthy Probers Prepare Charges

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—UP—A Senate committee studying the censure move against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy prepared Tuesday to issue a list of specific charges to serve as the basis for public hearings starting Monday.

Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) said the "bill of particulars" against the Wisconsin Republican would be turned over to a committee to call McCarthy as a witness during the hearings. But Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy's attorney, sometime during the day. He said the charges then would be made public.

The specifications were based on the special six-man committee's study of 46 charges filed against McCarthy by Sens. Ralph E. Flinders (R-Vt.), Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.) and J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.). There were some duplications in the three sets of charges.

Watkins has indicated that none will be formally ruled out during the hearings. But the bill of particulars was expected to indicate the direction and subject matter of the committee's initial hearings.

Watkins told newsmen he doubts that it will be necessary for the committee to call McCarthy as a witness during the hearings. But he said he assumed McCarthy would ask to testify and would be allowed to do so.

Shivers Predicts Record Runoff Vote

AUSTIN, Aug. 24—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough moved into the final week of their run-off campaign Tuesday, each hopefully bidding for majority support in next Saturday's crucial election determining the next governor of Texas.

A bumper turnout, probably approaching the 1,850,787 votes cast in the first Democratic primary, seemed virtually assured.

Shivers foresaw "probably the latest turnout of voters for a second primary election in the state's history."

Bob Johnson, manager of the Texas Election Bureau, an unofficial tabulating agency, predicted the vote would be "about the same as in the first primary."

"The run-off usually runs about three to five per cent less than in the first primary, but if you go by the heavy absentee balloting, it looks like it will be about the same as in the first primary," Johnson said.

Meantime, both Yarborough and Shivers scheduled a week of travel, well laced with broadcasts, television appearances and stump speeches.

Shivers sought votes Saturday along the upper Texas coast, while Yarborough brought his campaign to East Texas' piney woods.

Work Done On Schools

There have been improvements made in Pampa and Gray County public school facilities during the summer.

In Pampa a new roof was put on B. M. Baker School, a fence was put around part of the lot adjoining Harvester Park and general fixing-up was done in all school buildings.

The two Lefors schools are presently undergoing a major remodeling job. J. W. Marsh, Amarillo, has the contract on both the elementary and high school buildings.

In McLean, the high school building got a paint job. County Schools Supt. B. R. Nuckols reported late this morning, adding that Hopkins had a new teacherage, too.

Lawn Mower Theft Reported
W. C. Wilkerson, 832 Murphy, reported this morning a lawn mower had been stolen. The 14" mower, valued at $21.75 was taken from his garage sometime during the last week, he said.

Wilkerson said he could not definitely say when it was taken but "when I went to get it to mow the lawn this morning it was gone."

I checked with some of the neighbors who had at one time borrowed it but they hadn't seen it.

Shepperd Defends Printing Contract

AUSTIN, Aug. 24—UP—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said an award of state printing contracts to the Times Publishing Co. of Mission, which Gov. Allan Shivers helped to form, had been approved by his predecessor, now U.S. Sen. Price Daniel.

Shivers' opponent in the gubernatorial race, Ralph Yarborough, charged that an award of some $27,000 worth of printing contracts to the Times Publishing Co. was illegal because Shivers was one of the owners.

Yarborough cited a sworn statement of ownership he said was published in the Mission Times on Oct. 5, 1951, in accordance with postal regulations. The statement listed the owners as Mrs. John H. Shary of Mission, Allan Shivers and Mrs. Allan Shivers of Austin, and Joe T. Cook of Mission.

Shepperd said, however, that Daniel's records while he was attorney general showed that on Feb. 1, 1951, all shares of stock held by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Shivers had been transferred to D. B. Holcomb and J. T. Cook.

He said that the first state contract was not let to the Times Publishing Co. until Sept. 1, 1951. He said the attorney general's office in determining the ownership of a firm investigates "corporate records, the franchise tax returns, the corporate charter and all amendments thereto. Statements to trade associations or to the federal government are not within the scope of inquiry."

Shepperd issued his statement on the contracts in answer to an inquiry from "the Young Democrats of Harris county."

Legionnaires' Convention A 'Family Picnic'

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 —UP—The upcoming American Legion convention in Washington will be something like a "family picnic," according to the AL.
Authority for this is Miss Edith Shuttles, the convention co-ordinator, and Ed McGinnis, the national director of publicity.
No longer does the American Legion run across hotel lobbies at convention time, tipping over potted palms and pitching arm chairs out of upstairs windows. No, sir, says the legion.
"Sure," Ed told me. (He has witnessed 32 out of the 36 conventions. "At our first convention in St. Louis in May, 1919, the boys thought they had come home to the peaceful way of life. They were fed up with killing and were wearing the milk of human kindness in their veins. They wanted to have a good time. They did, and they had it coming."
A few chair legs were busted and a few sacks of water fell on the heads of the unwary on the street below.
And today?
Miss Shuttles gave me the pitch "Look," she said, "the boys from World War I who will be coming back are too creepy to get ornery. We don't worry about them. The lads from World War II went back to school under the GI Bill of Rights. They grew up, married and had kids. They will be on a holiday and bring their children. The World War I fellows will bring their grown children and maybe a few grand-kids."

Fleming Trial Is Adjourned

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., Aug. 24 —UP—Court martial of Lt. Col. Harry Fleming was adjourned for a week Monday with the surprise appointment of Alfred La France, president of the Wisconsin Bar Association, as his defense counsel.
Fleming is accused of conspiring with his Communist captors in Korea. He is the first Army officer to be tried on such charges.
The court martial was adjourned for seven days to permit La France a personal friend of the accused officer, to familiarize himself with the case and prepare the defense.
Fleming entered a plea of innocent at first session of the court martial last week and indicated he would base his defense on grounds of extreme mental pressure and duress.
He is accused of making enemy propaganda broadcasts and leading Communist discussions while a POW in prison Camp No. 12 at Pyongyang.

Lyndon Johnson, Homer Ferguson Pair Of Senators Appraise Record Of 83rd Congress

The Republican-controlled 83rd Congress has completed its legislative record. Two leading senators—Homer Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy committee and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader and chairman of the Senate Democratic Policy committee—have written for the United Press their appraisal of the record of the 83rd Congress. Here are their views:

By Sen. HOMER FERGUSON
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 —UP—The Eisenhower administration and the 83rd Congress worked together for peace, preparedness, and prosperity.
Working together, Congress and the administration brought to an end the fighting and sacrifices of American lives in Korea. They kept the United States out of war in Indo-China; liquidated the Communist foothold in Guatemala; strengthened the free nations; and confronted Russian imperialism and Communist aggression with the firm determination to safeguard freedom and attain genuine peace.
To safeguard the nation from enemies within its border, we moved with vigor to rid government, labor, education, and all other phases of American life of Communist infiltration and subversion. We enacted new laws greatly strengthening and improving our legal weapons against Communists.
Price, wage, and rent controls were ended, freeing American enterprise from undue government interference. The national economy was stabilized, inflation halted, and the value of the dollar strengthened.
Taxes were cut by nearly $7.5 billion, reducing individual income tax payments and excise taxes on goods to consumers by, and providing substantial benefits in other reductions and allowances for individuals and enterprise.
We acted to provide farmers with a long-range program for an independent, self-reliant agriculture with government providing a shield against destructive forces beyond the farmer's control.
We increased compensation for disabled veterans, and for dependents. We passed new laws to assist in the rehabilitation of the disabled.
We expanded the social security system, including many more millions of Americans in this insurance program. We increased the benefits to those who have retired.
We approved construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway which will provide a deep water route between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean. The Republican 83rd Congress initiated the largest federal roadbuilding program in history this year, increasing the amount of highway funds by more than 30 per cent.
By Sen. LYNDON JOHNSON
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 —UP—The 83rd Congress brought to the forefront the basic issues which divide the Democratic and Republican parties.
In the fields of taxation, agriculture, public power and labor, members of the two parties voted according to their traditional philosophies. The result of the congress cannot be put into perspective without realization of that basic point.
One of the most dramatic examples was the Republican tax revision bill which granted tax relief to corporations and stockholders. Democrats made a determined effort to extend this relief to wage earners in the low income brackets but were overruled by Republican majorities.
Kappa Farm Bill
Another example very much to the point, was the Republican farm bill which sought to solve the problem of farm surpluses by driving farm income down.
Democrats clung to their traditional philosophy that prosperity breeds prosperity and that driving farm income down would have the effect of depressing the economy of the entire nation. They sought to keep farm income at adequate levels through the concept of 90 per cent of parity which merely means 90 per cent of a fair price.
However, they were again overruled by Republican majorities.
Democrats were more successful in writing some of their philosophies into the bill to revise the atomic energy act. But again, the divisions were very clearly along Democratic-Republican lines.
Show Against REA
The Republican bill would have turned atomic energy over to monopolies controlled by a few large corporations. It would also have struck a blow at the rural electrification system which plays such an important role in the life of our nation.
Senate Democrats lined up almost solidly for amendments to safeguard the public interest in this new and vital field of atomic power. They succeeded in persuading enough Republicans to join their ranks that important safeguards for the public interest were written into the measure.
One of the most interesting stories of the 83rd Congress was the Taft-Hartley revision bill produced by the Republicans. It was brought out of the Senate Labor committee under an extraordinary procedure which prevented committee Democrats from offering amendments.
An examination of the measure disclosed that it was one wanted neither by labor nor management. Consequently, the Democrats succeeded in returning the bill to committee for further study.

Pampa News Women's Editor

School days, school days. Yes, they're almost here again, which means now is the time to take out the children's school clothes to get them all in shape again. And it is also the time for looking around for a new first-day outfit.

For the adults, the news of the designers' latest creations for fall is prominent. But mothers also have their eye on what the youngsters will be wearing this year.

A PAMPA authority on this is Mrs. Mabel Ford, owner of a local store that specializes in children's clothing. We'll skip the teenagers' "pea jackets" with bright, red linings. For rainy days, there are attractive plastic raincoats, with full overskirts, and trimmed with rhinestones.

When cold weather hits, corduroy suits and skirts will be worn by fashion-wise youngsters. The skirts again will be full, styled to be worn with hoop underskirts. For the girls, it seems the flare is the thing.

For "knocking around" this winter, the little girls will be copying their mothers in turtleneck sweaters and corsetry in bright zebra and rattlesnake stripes.

For less dressy occasions, there are western style suits for the boys in "gamblers' stripes."

For the "best dressed" boy, flannel trousers with matching vests and pink shirts will be featured. Or he may be seen in a solid colored sports coat with contrasting or matching slacks and a bright, bright vest.

RUTH MILLET A mother of three school-age children complains that the neighborhood children "live" at her house.

She says she is fed up with having them walk into her house without knocking, using the living room for a gymnasium, taking over the telephone, etc.

Some mothers wanting their children to feel free to have their home the center of neighborhood activities don't realize the necessity for a few rules and the importance of seeing to it that they are observed.

Then in time they find the kids have taken over and begin to resent them. But every mother is responsible for how things are run in her own home and every mother has a right to expect that the neighbors' children will abide by her rules when they are at her house.

It's no favor to children to let them act with so little consideration and respect that they quickly make nuisances of themselves.

Out Goes Shaggy Bob And Butch Cut, In Comes Newly Styled Long Hair

By GAY PAULEY NEW YORK — UP — Women's hair, which has been fashionably cut just about baldness, is growing again.

The National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association has decreed the end of the shaggy bob with wisps trailing across the forehead or the even shorter but cut. It has endorsed a high line, with width at the temple, and curled or brushed up at the back.

The new length, says the association, is about the middle of the neck—or "high collar."

Packing Lunch And Sewing Dress Told To Sunshine Group Demonstrations on making a child's dress and packing a lunch highlighted the recent meeting of the Sunshine Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Jim King, west of city.

In showing the women how to make a child's dress, Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent, pointed out that the neckline, armholes and waist of the garment should be stay-stitched.

When you are in the middle of a conversation with one person, and another person joins the group, give him a brief fill-in such as: "We were talking about Jim Smith's campaign," or "I was telling Bob about my plans to go West on my vacation next month."

Summing up a conversation for the late arrival is a quick, easy, and gracious gesture.

NEA Food and Markets Editor While we drove through fragrant lemon groves in Southern California, we picked up some good hints for using fresh lemons in recipes.

Four egg yolks, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon plain gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 4 egg whites, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 cup whipping cream.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add salt, lemon peel, lemon juice and 1/2 cup sugar. Cook over hot water until thick (about 5 minutes).

Remove from heat. Add gelatin soaked in 1-4 cup cold water. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add 1/4 cup sugar gradually. Beat 1 minute longer. Fold into cooked mixture.

Whip the cup of whipping cream, and fold 1/2 into filling. Fill lightly into cooked, cooled 9-inch graham cracker pie shell. Swirl remaining whipped cream around edge of pie. Garnish with raspberries or other fruit.

Graham Cracker Crust One and one-quarter cups graham cracker crumbs, crushed fine, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine.

More Hats, More Hair

Hat designers, featuring deeper crowns for fall, say more hat calls for more hair.

"Otherwise," said a spokesman for the Millinery Fashion Bureau, "a woman will look as if she has no hair. A little will have to show at the sides and back."

"They've had hair as short as it can get," said Sally Victor. "Where else can they go — except to let it grow again. Women won't stand still."

Rogers Wants The 'Teeth' Put Back In Anti-Communist Bill

"The question: 'What is the most effective way of dealing with the Communist threat?'"

"Answer: 'By outlawing individual Communists.'"

Walter Rogers gives that as an answer in his weakly, as he begins to explain the Congressional manipulations involved in the passage of the anti-Communist bill.

"I can think of nothing that can be more of an outlaw under a democratic form of government than the Communist Party and those who make it up," Rogers states, pointing out that one of the first things the 84th Congress should do when it convenes is "re-insert into the anti-Communist bill the teeth that were extracted by a compromise between two or three individuals when the bill passed the Congress."

The uproar during the last days of the Congress, the Pampan says of the outlawing of the Communist Party, "actually boiled down to nothing more than a play on words." The entire controversy centered around an amendment offered by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (Dem.-Minn.) to the bill originally introduced by Sen. Butler (Rep.-Md.).

Butler's bill, Rogers explains, was primarily directed at depriving Communist-infiltrated unions of bargaining rights before the National Labor Relations Board. Humphrey's amendment would have outlawed the Communist Party and imposed heavy fines for individual membership in that party or any of its affiliates. The Senate passed it, 84-0.

"This meant that the fat was in the fire," Rogers allows. "This was something the administration had studiously avoided on the theory that to outlaw the Communist Party would mean that its members would go underground and would be much more difficult to catch or watch."

Not Strong Enough

Several manipulations later and the Senate passed the bill which outlawed individual CP members and provided penalties. "My only objection to the penalty in the senate bill was that it was not strong enough."

When the bill came back to the House, Rep. Martin Dies (Dem.-Tex.) moved the House pass the bill as the Senate had amended it.

Jealousy Said Cause Of Killings

WACO, Tex., Aug. 24 —UP—Police said an 81-year-old man Sunday shot and killed his 60-year-old wife and 73-year-old neighbor man, then shot himself.

Police authorities believed jealousy was the cause of the triple shooting.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Spivey and their neighbor, O. B. Darwin.

Mrs. Spivey and Darwin, were found dead in the kitchen of the Spivey home, and Spivey was found critically wounded in the front bedroom with a .38 caliber pistol beside him. He died five hours later in a Waco hospital.

Detectives Bill Westmoreland and Glenn Gibson, who investigated the shooting, and Detective Capt. Wiley Stern said Mrs. Spivey was shot first as she sat at the kitchen table repairing costume jewelry, her hobby. One of the bullets struck her on the right side near her shoulder, and another struck her in the head.

Police said Spivey then called his neighbor, Darwin, who lived next door, and shot him in the back as he gazed at the dead woman. He then shot him in the chest after he fell.

Spivey then went into his bedroom and fired a fifth shot into his own temple as he sat on the edge of his bed.

Spivey's 17-year-old son, Leonard, said his father had argued with Mrs. Spivey about an incident that occurred last week. Mrs. Spivey and Darwin were riding home from town on the same bus when Spivey boarded it. Leonard told the district attorney the meeting of Darwin and Mrs. Spivey was accidental and there was nothing between the two.

No Pauper's Oath Required For Drouth Aid Subsidy

AUSTIN, Aug. 23—UP—Federal officials advised Gov. Allan Shivers Sunday that any needy person could receive drouth aid.

The federal officials also said that Shivers' recommendation for doubling the subsidy on grain would be given "close consideration" by the board of directors of the Commodity Credit Corp.

The officials were R. B. McLeish of McAllen, national administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, and K. L. Scott, director of the Agricultural Credit Services of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They came to Texas at the request of Shivers to investigate the drouth aid project.

McLeish and Scott said that local FHA committees have the job of deciding who is eligible to receive the drouth aid and that no "pauper's oath" is required. "A man doesn't have to be destitute to be certified," McLeish said.

They said the fact an applicant has money in the bank or a good credit rating are not disqualifying points.

Shivers was advised his recommendation for an increase doubling credit of 60 cents to $1.20 would be considered by the Commodity Credit Corp. board of directors. Shivers also urged that drouth relief be approved for 27 additional Texas counties which have been recommended for such assistance. Forty two counties already have been approved.

But, said McLeish and Scott, any wealthy individual who has income from another source can't use the drouth aid program to provide feed for his cattle.

carried out efficiently and I will give my full co-operation toward that end."

White earlier had charged that Republican politics stymied the program in Texas.

Studies In London Show Delinquency On Decline

Editor's Note: The increasingly urgent need for positive action to deal with juvenile delinquency in the United States has been dramatized by the shocking case of New York's "thrill-killers." Psychiatrists find obscure, Freudian motives behind their tortures and murders. But across the Atlantic in the world's largest city, juvenile delinquency is on the decrease, not the upsurge.

By ARTHUR HIGBEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

Juvenile delinquency in Great Britain last year dropped by 14 per cent.

There were 45,078 arrests of children under 17 in 1953. In 1952 the figure dropped to 38,690. In London itself the arrested dropped from 10,287 to 9,002.

Only one crime in 20 involved violence.

Four probation homes and two juvenile courts have been closed for lack of offenders.

Here's how Britain went about it:

Home Secretary David Maxwell Fyfe, Britain's top law enforcer:

1. In the tough seaport of Liverpool, more than 600 youth clubs have been started in the past five years.
2. In Wigan, Lancashire, parents of young offenders must appear in court with their children. In many cases they are fined severely.
3. With that theory as a basis, police, magistrates, probation and welfare groups went to work.
4. In the tough seaport of Liverpool, more than 600 youth clubs have been started in the past five years.
5. Movies are graded and children are strictly barred from those made for adults. Television is rigidly supervised and the children's programs rarely carry anything more gory than a western movie. Horror comic books can be obtained only at American military posts.
6. British parents are very strict with their children.
7. Children are subject to the same criminal law as adults. They are tried in special juvenile courts but if the magistrate decides they are hopeless cases they can be sent to jail for long terms.

Thin Boost

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — UP — The State health department is trying to reduce waitlines by spiking the old saw about how many fat persons are. The Department is preparing a booklet that says, "Thin men can be kind, and slender grandmothers may comfort us longer because they may live longer."

Marshal, Farmer Duel In Street

TRINITY, Tex., Aug. 23—UP—A deputy marshal and a 35-year-old farmer shot each other three times in a gun duel staged for "no apparent reason" on Main street here Sunday.

Deputy Marshal Herbert Harrelson was wounded in the chest, shoulder and left hand. Jasper F. Thompson, the farmer, was shot in the face and body, one bullet piercing a lung.

City Marshal Perry Price said the battle started when Harrelson drove up to a hotel to investigate a quarrel and was told by Thompson to "move on." Price said Harrelson got out of his car and opened fire at almost pointblank range.

Harrelson pulled his own gun as he went down and fired five times, three of the shots hitting Thompson.

Price said "there was no apparent reason for it. Thompson had been on a round of taverns and was just drunk, I guess."

Man Charged In Counterfeiting

TULSA, Aug. 24—UP—A 26-year-old ex-convict from Texas, George Mann, was to be arraigned Tuesday on charges of conspiracy and passing counterfeit money.

Mann, of Fort Worth, was arrested Sunday near Atoka, Okla., on a speeding charge. With him were Eugene Lloyd Webb, 31, Amarillo, and Tommy Edward Brewer, 25, Fort Worth. Police said both were former convicts.

Highway troopers said they found 317 cartons of cigarets in the car, along with a rifle, shotgun, pistol, kit of burglar tools and nitroglycerine.

Baptists Fight For Segregation

HOBBS, N.M., Aug. 23—UP—Deacons of the Rock Chapel Baptist Church were reported ready Monday to lead a riot to block desegregation in local schools although their leader and pastor, a reformed gambler, shied from violence.

The deacons resolved Sunday to stand foursquare behind the Rev. Bill Carter, a 48-year-old preacher who has clashed with other New Mexico religious leaders over his agitation against an immediate end to segregation in Hobbs schools.

His critics, main among whom are Dr. Harry Stagg, executive secretary of the New Mexico Baptist Convention, and the Rev. Mitchell Epperson, pastor of the Northminster Presbyterian Church in Albuquerque, were advised in the deacons' resolution to lead the first verse of Chapter II, Book of Romans. It says:

"Therefore there art inexcusable old men whoeover there are that judges, for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself. For thou that judgest doest the same things."

Carter said he was going to resign as leader of the dissenters in the issue that has enflamed this southeastern New Mexico town, despite the deacons' support.

"I told the group that when this got beyond a peaceful settlement, a preacher had no right to lead a riot," the Baptist pastor said. "If some of these men do what they say they are going to do, there is going to be a riot."

About 8,000 persons have signed a petition asking the local board of education to rescind its desegregation order until the Supreme Court issues its final order. One Rock Chapel deacon said the movement had been misinterpreted as being flatly against desegregation, when in reality Carter's followers are only asking a postponement.

All New Mexico school boards have issued desegregation orders. Hobbs school superintendent Charles Mills said Saturday that the board had no choice but to proceed with its order, which was issued four days after the May 17 Supreme Court decision on segregation.

Epperson accused the local Baptist minister, who by his own admission was a gambler before entering the clergy, of "social heresy of the worst sort" for his part in the Hobbs opposition to desegregation.

Gov Faces Court For Pulling Hoax

QUONSET POINT, R.I., Aug. 23—UP—A sailor stood captain's mast Monday — accused of sending himself a telegram, saying he had inherited $18 million as a publicity stunt.

Gary Stone, 22, Pasadena, Calif., described by the Navy as an actor in private life, was scheduled for the shipboard disciplinary hearing aboard the carrier Antietam which sailed from here Sunday.

Stone denied sending a telegram to himself which said he had inherited the fortune from an aunt who was supposedly killed in an automobile accident. No such person was found to exist.

Stone said it was the work of his unofficial press agent, a New York magazine writer. But the magazine writer denied it.

Cute Margaret Peel, 5, takes her flower-girl duties seriously enough to check to see if the bride's wearing anything blue. She wasn't disappointed, as the garter was blue. The bride, seemingly unaware of the rear-guard action, is Mrs. Frederick Norris, who just goes on greeting her guests at the reception in Washington, D. C.

CBS-Radio's very fine police show, "21st Precinct," closes with these mysterious words: "Anyone can catch the brass ring, or the brass ring can catch anyone." A listener wrote and asked producer John Tves just what that bit of mumbo-jumbo meant. Tves turned the letter over to writer-director Stanley Niss, who put the words in the first place.

"How should I know what it means?" Niss said. "Am I a philosopher?"

Red Skelton, you must remember, is red-headed. So it is understandable for the CBS-TV star to get his dander up on occasion. At the moment, he's peeved at people who sit back and say, "With-out vaudeville and burlesque and radio, where are the new comedians coming from?"

It is Skelton's red-headed opinion that comics will keep coming from anywhere.

"Some will come from TV," he says, "some from night clubs, some from the stage — and some lucky few who will just discover suddenly that they can be funny."

The way Red paints the picture, we have no worries on that score at all. And he may be right.

"The same thing is always said in other fields," he says. "Where are the government leaders of tomorrow coming from? Who will be the great dancers, novelists, soldiers, artists of tomorrow?"

"I can see the Broadway agents and producers of the early 1930s shaking their heads and saying, 'Ah, me. When Fred Stone, W. C. Fields, Sam Bernard, Bert Williams, Will Rogers, Willie and Eugene Howard are gone, comedy will be dead.' But Jesse, Joe Cook, Ed Wynn, Leon Errol and the others came along."

And a guy named Skelton came along, too.

"Comedy is universal," Red says. "It'll be with us as long as people laugh at a man slipping on a banana or there's a mother-in-law around. And there'll always be some guy in baggy pants, a crushed fedora or carrying a squeaky violin to poke fun at things."

Red does admit one thing — there's less chance nowadays for a young comedian to practice his art. He had years in circuses, minstrel, carnivals, and night-clubs before he made the large time. And he has an idea for helping out the young comics.

"I think they should be helped," he says. "I would like to tour the country, perhaps with a tent show, and give those people a chance to prove themselves. Then, I'd like to sponsor the most promising ones and help them learn the fundamentals of comedy entertaining."

"Being funny is a business. And any business takes a bit of learning."

It must be dandy to have money. Take Phillip Beauviand, a Canadian sportsman, who has enough Canadian dollars to play with. Beauviand just commissioned pianist Jan August to cut four exclusive recordings of nice, gentle piano music. They'll be piped into Beauviand's stable, to relax his race horses.

You may see less of the scenery and more of the actors in the TV dramas of the future. In fact, if you don't, TV dramatic shows may flop. That's the considered opinion of NBC-TV's Albert McCleery, the producer-director who uses a "theater-in-the-round" technique on his Hallmark Hall-of-Fame series. He himself puts most of his emphasis on the actors and their lines. He uses virtually no sets and few props but lots of close-ups.

Churchmen 'See' Report On Plight Of World Refugees

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 24 —UP— A report on the plight of the world's refugees came alive Sunday night as 50 performers acted out a pageant before delegates attending the second World Council of Churches.

The "report" was based on the Biblical text "by the gates of Babylon, there we sat down and wept when we remembered Zion."

Celanese Profits Dip First Half

The Pampa plant of Celanese Corporation of America today issued this financial statement:

Net profit of Celanese Corporation of America for the three months ending June 30, 1954, amounted to $1,218,051 after charges and taxes.

This compared with $95,973 in the March quarter and $3,729,256 in the second quarter of 1953, according to the interim earnings report of the company released today.

For the six months ending June 30, 1954, net profit amounted to $1,314,024 after charges and taxes compared with $6,438,296 in the same period last year.

Net sales of the corporation for the June quarter amounted to $37,328,152 against $28,971,685 in the immediately preceding three months, and $53,157,889 in the June quarter of 1953. For the first six months of this year, sales volume was $68,297,838 compared with $97,674,719 in the same period a year ago.

While there was a considerable improvement in business in the second quarter of this year, sales for the first six months are substantially less than those for the same period of 1953.

Harold Bianche, president, said:

"However, each month this year has shown an improvement in sales over those of the preceding month," he added. "Should this trend continue as expected, our profit margin should materially improve."

50 Years Ago This Week First Speeder Arrested

By JAMES BAAR

United Press Staff Correspondent

The uniformed chauffeur of a Newport, R.I., nabob jammed his foot on the gas pedal of his employer's limousine 50 years ago this week and roared into history at 20 miles per hour.

On Aug. 26, 1904, chauffeur Michael Woods became the first motorist in the nation to be chucked in the hoosegow for speeding.

The leader of an endless parade of speeders who have since seen the inside of a cell found his niche in American history in the early hours of the morning.

Hams Hear Distress Call From Pacific

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 24—UP

Two California radio "ham" operators reported receiving messages Monday from Peggy Poor, New Orleans socialite-skipper of the schooner "Windjammer," who said the craft is sinking in a gale off the rocky coast of Easter Island, some 2,000 miles from the Chilean coast.

Miss Poor contacted Peter Follini, Oakland ham, and told him she sent a distress message to the commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet. She said she needed aid to salvage the schooner because no commercial help was available.

"My beautiful Windjammer is on the rocks," Miss Poor radioed. "I'm fearful bad weather won't permit salvage. The islanders are doing what they can to help... but since Friday I have been working desperately against time."

Los Angeles ham operator Frank Chuevas said the girl contacted him and reported the situation was "desperate." She said the Chilean authorities and island personnel are "doing their utmost" to save the ship but are working against time, Chuevas reported.

MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Notable Quotables:
CLIFTON WEBB, about entertainment: "Magic went out of show business and out of stars during the war. Now the magic of Ziegfeld and Dillingham and Frohman is coming back. Garbo had it, Jeanne Eagels had it. Now Audrey Hepburn has it. Pictures can have it, too."

DAN DURYEA, about his movie career: "Based on past performances, my role in 'Foxfire' is a sympathetic one. I growl at Jane Russell a few times, but I don't get to belt her even once."

JULIE HARRIS, off-beat-looking actress: "I'm not the type of actress who can fit into most pictures. It's hard to find the right kind of films for me. I'm not the standard movie type. I know that."

STUDIO EXECUTIVE, to his press agent: "Now let's be fair about this picture. Just say it's terrific."
SOPHIE TUCKER, about Betty Hutton playing the Last of the Red Hot Mamas on the screen: "I have to be played by an actress with vitality and Betty Hutton has it. Everybody on the screen today seems to be a seller of sex. Sophie Tucker was never sexy."

RONALD REAGAN, mixing important offices in flicker affairs: "I'm running for nothing but the actor of the year. Holding office (president of the Screen Actors Guild) just about wrecked my career. You're seen across the table by a committee meeting and suddenly there are only parts as committee members. Just trying to serve the motion picture industry is the quickest way in the world to get kicked in the pants. I'm not bitter. I'm just going to let the United Nations save the world."

PAUL KELLY, veteran emoteur on the Fresside Theater set: "Looking back, it seems to me the movie techniques have undergone drastic changes about once every 15 years. But never before has naturalness been so important."

PEGGY ANN GARNER, wearing a "Who, me?" expression in denying rumors of a Marion Brando romance:

"I've never been out with Mr. Brando. I know him from New York and that's all. I've sat at the table with him a couple of times in the studio cafe."

HENRY FONDA, about rumors that he'll become a Broadway song-and-dance man:

"The story started when Ernie Martin and Cy Feuer wanted me to do a Broadway show — a musical version of 'Cannery Row.' They told me it didn't matter whether I sang on key or not. Then they passed it over to Rodgers and Hammerstein. They asked me to sing and I did. They told me to forget the whole thing."

DIRECTOR OTTO PREMINGER to a smart Alec who complained that no sexy doll would toll as a parachute factory worker as Dorothy Dandridge does in "Carmen Jones":

"Marilyn Monroe once worked in a parachute factory."
JOSE FERRER, on why he's mixing live TV offers: "I can't do my best work under the limited rehearsal time of live TV. Film is different. I'll do that. I don't understand people who insist that you lose spontaneity when you do shows for television on film. The movies have been spontaneous for 40 years."

ANN BAKER, TV's "Corliss Archer", denying the show will be a carbon copy of "My Little Margie": "My father in the series isn't the hysterical type. And it's the boy friend who always starts the trouble."

EDDIE ALBERT, favoring movie roles like he essayed in "Roman Holiday" and "Carrie": "But if they don't come along there's TV and more night-club dates than Margo and I can possibly play. And there's the New York stage. We're fat and happy."

KEEFE BRASSELLE, acting for the first time in nine months in "Mad at the World" since playing Eddie Cantor on the screen: "Ida Lupino (the producer) knows me. I feel that it will set me back in the acting field again and that I'll come up with a finer performance."

Gracie In Short Hair Depresses George

By GEORGE BURNS
Written for United Press
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24 — UP—Last week my wife and partner, Gracie, announced she was going to cut her hair short for our TV show. The announcement depressed me more than the stock market crash of '29. Short hair has done more to demoralize women than their wrestling on TV or pipe smoking. I told Gracie if she cut her hair short I'd send her to Black-Foxe Military School. That made her think twice only because Black-Foxe's school colors are blue and orange, and Gracie looks best in green.

A funny thing has happened. It used to be that barbers would talk your head off. With all the women customers now a barber is lucky if he can get a word in edgewise.

Now I know why Lex Barker, Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson wear their hair long. They don't want to look like girls.

Just the other day at Hillcrest, we were talking about women's dress styles and how the sweater has zoomed into popularity in the last few years. Suddenly I discovered the reason. Between slacks and short hair, a sweater has become a mark of identification. It's the only way you can tell a boy from a girl.

After I began this column I received a call from my barber. I asked him about the situation and how it has affected his business. He said what bothers him more than anything else is the fact he's had to develop a new line for the few times he gets to open his mouth. Instead of being an expert on boxing and baseball he's had to bone up on formulas, home decorating and knitting. He suggested we work out a deal. He'd swap me a haircut for a new routine.

Another thought occurred to me on why women are having their hair cut short. It's a time saver. Men won't spend so much time running their hands through women's hair and thus will propose faster.

Perhaps that's what's behind the short-hair movement. Of course, I could be wrong.

11 Players Injured
OLEAN, N.Y., Aug. 24 — UP—The Pittsburgh Steelers had a total of 11 players on the sidelines Tuesday as a result of injuries sustained in Sunday's bruising 27 to 21 loss to the Baltimore Colts. Halfback Tom Calvin suffered a fractured wrist and will be out for about six weeks while the others are more minor.

FOR A TEAM THAT MISSED ITS LAST PAYROLL, the Clovis Pioneers are certainly fooling everyone with their style of play.

The Pioneers got into a financial strain when it was discovered recently that about $9,000 in income taxes from last year hadn't been paid. And low attendance at Clovis this season made the matter even worse.

The Pioneer budget was so low that the players departed on their last road trip without being paid.

The Pioneers, in fact, were in second place when they missed their pay-day and they are now in first place. Maybe that's a good way to get a club out of a slump.

However, it wouldn't work out that way with most clubs. It's surprising that the Pioneers haven't folded afield because of the financial status at Clovis.

It was revealed about 10 days ago that Clovis needed $9,000 to stay in business.

At last report they had only reached half that amount but the club said they had high hopes of raising the remaining amount and would at least finish out the current season.

In Kiwanis Playoffs First Baptist Gals Eke Out 13-12 Win

First Baptist Girls softball team, winner of both halves in the Junior Gal Loop this summer, was extended to the limit last night to eke out a 13-12 victory over First Christian in the feature game of last night's playoff games at Kiwanis Park.

In the other playoff tilts, First Baptist blanked First Christian, 2-0, and Holy Souls blasted Trinity Baptist, 20-3, both in the Senior Boys league.

The Junior Boys scheduled game between Progressive Baptist and Calvary Baptist was postponed because of wet grounds.

In the girls game last night, First Baptist had to come up with two runs in the final inning to nip First Christian by a single marker. Alicia Hall went the route for the winning Baptists.

Ken Hinkle pitched a three-hitter in pitching First Baptist to its shutout win over First Christian in the Senior Boys. The Christians did manage to load the bases on three occasions but couldn't muster a run.

David Hutcheson led First Baptist at the plate with two hits.

First Baptist and Holy Souls will clash for the Senior Boys title tonight. Hinkle again will hurl for the Baptists while Ray Valesquez will likely handle the Holy Souls pitching chores.

Tonight's complete schedule:

SENIOR LEAGUE
8:00—Holy Souls vs. First Baptist (finals).

JUNIOR BOYS
8:00—St. Paul Methodist vs. Central Baptist (semi-final).

JUNIOR GIRLS
8:00—Central Baptist vs. Harrah Methodist (semi-final).

Oilers Home To Open 2-Game Set With Hubbers

Washed out of their scheduled doubleheader with the Clovis Pioneers at Clovis last night, the Oilers returned home late Monday on the eve of opening a two-game homestand tonight at Oiler Park.

The Lubbock Hubbers will be the Oiler foe for the brief homestand. Single games will be played tonight and tomorrow night, each starting at 8:15.

Either Vibert Clarke (13-6) or Jonas Gaines (13-7) will hurl for the Oilers tonight. Both were scheduled to pitch in last night's twinnit at Clovis.

At any rate, the one that doesn't draw the starting assignment tonight will likely get the starting nod tomorrow.

The current series will be the last appearance of the season for the Hubbers at Oiler Park. Two other teams have already made their final visit to Pampa. They are Amarillo and Clovis.

The Oilers, on the other hand, have made final visits at Albuquerque and Clovis, where they have just returned.

Manager Herahel Martin's Oilers won two out of three on the just completed trip, sweeping two from Albuquerque and dropping a singleton to Clovis.

After the current homestand, the Oilers will leave on their final tour of the southern end of the league. They meet Lubbock Thursday and Friday; at Abilene Saturday and Sunday; and at Plainview Monday and Tuesday.

Patton Ousts Rex Baxler

GROSSE POINTE, Mich., Aug. 24—UP—They were still chasing respected Billy Joe Patton and handsome Harvie Ward Jr. in the second round of the U. S. Amateur golf tournament Tuesday.

But the little-known members of the links served notice that the road to the title in the nation's top "rocky for glory" tournament is a rocky one, by knocking four former champions and another headliner out of the running in Monday's opening round.

Even Patton, the 32-year-old lumberman from Morgantown, N.C. had to survive a war of nerves before emerging a 1-up victor over Rex Baxler of Amarillo in a first round match that went an extra hole.

G-Sox, Dukes Register Wins

Rain and wet grounds cut into the West Texas-New Mexico League schedule Monday night.

In two games played, Albuquerque's Dukes broke an 11-game losing streak by beating Lubbock 4-1, and Amarillo edged Plainview 1-0 in the eight-inning first game of an intended doubleheader. The second game was postponed because of wet grounds and Pampa at Clovis contest was called off because of rain.

A three-run homer by Albuquerque Manager Tom Jordan in the first inning pushed the Dukes past Lubbock. George Socha chalked up his 19th victory before the smallest crowd of the year at Albuquerque—446 fans.

Manager Frank Kempa of Amarillo singled in the bottom of the eighth to drive home Frosty Kennedy with the winning run against Plainview. Len Ruyle went the distance for Amarillo and gave up five hits.

Scores by innings:

Record Turnout At McLean Grid Camp

McLEAN, Aug. 24—(Special)—About 46 boys, largest turnout in McLean High School history, reported for the opening football workout Monday.

Coach Chag Rogers will drill his charges twice daily this week, winding up the initial week with a scrimmage against Wellington here Saturday afternoon.

About 19 or 20 boys from Alameda were among the grid hopefuls reporting for the opening drill.

Nashville Player Sets HR Record

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 24—UP—Nashville's Bob Lennon, a slugging outfielder, Tuesday held a new Southern Association home run record, after he smashed his 53rd four-base clout of the season Monday night.

The 25-year-old lefthander from Brooklyn connected with a pitch from Little Rock's Mill Jordan in the fifth inning, breaking the league's six-year-old record.

Lennon had tied the old mark of 52 set in 1948 by Chuck Workman, also of the Vols, with two home runs against the Atlanta Crackers Thursday night.

The husky long-ball hitter, who says his main ambition is to make the major leagues, also leads the league in a number of other departments. With the Vols, who have been in and out of the cellar all season long, he has grabbed the league batting lead with a current mark of .340, leads the Southern in runs batted in and total bases.

Yanks, Bums Hopes Dim

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Face-to-face warfare with the Indians and the Giants, in which it is possible to gain huge chunks of ground in a hurry, is just about the chief hope left Tuesday to those rapidly fading "old champion" Yankees and Dodgers.

And in this respect at least, the Dodgers have a better chance to make up the four games they trail the Giants than the Yankees have to make up the 5 1-2 games separating them from the Indians.

That's because the Dodgers still have six games left to play against the Giants, while the Yankees will meet the Indians only five more times. Theoretically, the Dodgers can remedy their present sad situation by themselves, but the Yankees can win all five remaining games with the Indians and still will need "outside help" to win the flag.

On the other hand, the Yankees hold an edge in the season series against Cleveland so far 9 to 8, while the Giants have a 9 to 7 margin over the Dodgers. But the Dodgers have won their last four meetings with the Giants and have a notion they can keep the streak rolling.

In the National League, the third-place Milwaukee Braves trail by 7 1-2 games and have only five games left to play with the Giants and six left with the Dodgers.

In the American League, the third-place Chicago White Sox trail by 9 1-2 games and have six left to play with the Indians and three with the Yankees.

Tuesday, the Giants and the Dodgers open their last western trips of the season—the Giants in Chicago for a day game with the Cubs and the Dodgers in Cincinnati for a night game with the Redlegs. Each will play to games on "foreign" soil before returning home.

The Giants won only five of 12 games on their last tour of the western badlands and a similar slump could be disastrous.

The Indians open a 12-game road trip Tuesday night at Philadelphia in a trip on which they will see the Athletics, Senators and Red Sox, against whom they have a 10-1 record of 45 victories and a total of eight defeats, before moving on to meet the Yankees, White Sox, and Orioles.

Meanwhile, the Yankees face Baltimore in a night game that

Pennant Fever High In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24—UP—Three successive years of a second place ball club has dampened the enthusiasm somewhat, but it wasn't pennant fever that developed in Cleveland Tuesday. It's patient certainly ran a slight temperature.

"We're turning down World Series ticket requests already," according to Indians' press chief Nate Wallack. "We already had couple hundred requests by 10 o'clock, and after what happened to the Yankees in Boston, I should get a lot more by the middle of this week."

The somewhat inverted theme of the failure of the Yankee rather than the success of the Indians, was rather typical of average Cleveland baseball fan. He recalled, all too vividly, the Tribe was nipped at the wire twice the past three years.

Only last season, when New York jumped off to its mid-season lead, and after what happened to the Yankees in Boston, I should get a lot more by the middle of this week."

John Landy To Hang Up Spikes

MACOLIN, Switzerland, Aug. 24—UP—Australia's John Landy, who has run the mile faster than any man in history, never will race at that distance again.

Landy, weighing 11 pounds more than he did on Aug. 17 when he was beaten by England's Roger Bannister in the "mile of the century" at Vancouver, Canada, made that announcement here where he is watching the British team train for the European championships which start Wednesday. "I've been running solidly since November and now I'm finished," said Landy. "I'm 24 years old and the little bit of fitness I have left I want to keep."

The Australian star ran the fastest mile in history on June 21 in Turkey, Finland, when he was timed in 3:58.0. The performance, as had been suggested,

GUESS WHAT

If you think this looks like a pretty flower opening its petals in the early morning sun you are wrong. It is a rattlesnake with its jaw open, and deadly venom dripping from the fangs. Dr. M. S. Mosquira, of Argentina, made this remarkable picture, looking down the throat of the rattler.

Transients Killed Sleeping In Road

RICHMOND, Tex., Aug. 23—UP—Two transient cotton pickers who apparently went to sleep in the middle of Farm Road 726 near here were killed early Monday when a car ran over them.

Justice of the Peace M. J. Waller identified the dead men as Alejandro Davila, 25, and Antonio Ramirez, 38. He said they were lying in the middle of the road when the car, driven by Joe Orsak of Booth, hit them.

Waller said the men apparently had been hitchhiking, had gotten tired and finding the sides of the road soaked from a heavy rain, had lain down on the roadbed. Orsak said he saw "something" on the road in the darkness but thought it was a dead animal.

Bell Studies SWEETIE PIE

New Contract

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24—UP—Officials of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Tuesday studied union demands for a new contract to replace the present one which expires Aug. 30.

Negotiations on the new contract began July 26 and were recessed last Friday to give company officials time to study the contract changes.

Frank P. Lonergan, assistant director of District six of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said no specific wage hike has been set but that the union has asked for a "reasonable increase."

The contract covers 53,000 workers in the Bell system in six states. By agreement, the present contract remains in force until either side gives a 30-day termination notice. Neither side has made such a move.

Doctors Remove Nail Imbedded In Girl's Heart

HOUSTON, Aug. 23—UP—Doctors successfully removed a nail from the heart of six-year-old Diane Campbell Saturday and said she soon should be able to play again like other little girls.

The delicate operation, which took two hours and 15 minutes, was performed at St. Joseph's Hospital. Doctors kept it secret until it was over shortly before noon. The vivacious, blue-eyed blonde child, although alert and apparently unconcerned, has lain in precarious condition since the nail was driven into her chest from the whirling blades of a power mower last week. The nail imbedded itself in her heart muscle and doctors feared it might work its way inside the heart.

Postal Workers Ponder Step

STILLWATER, Okla., Aug. 23—UP—Postal clerks from throughout the nation met here Monday to debate whether postoffice employees should be free to take part in political campaigns.

Some 600 delegates were expected to attend the 42nd annual convention of the United National Association of Postal Clerks and Ladies auxiliaries.

The New York delegation said it will introduce a resolution to free postal workers from provision of the Hatch Act, which bans political activities by non-political federal job holders.

Andrew T. Walker, chairman of the New York group, said postal and other federal employees "want the right to take an active part in political campaigns." Walker said the right is necessary "to fight an effort to bottle up deserving postal pay legislation."
