Hurricane Kills 48 Along East Coast

MIAMI, Sept. 1.—A new tropical storm far out in the Atlantic 725 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla., increased to hurricane force Wednesday.

By ROBERT T. SHEERAN BOSTON, Sept. 1.—At least 48 persons were known dead and property damage mounted to nearly $200 million Wednesday in the wake of Hurricane Carol's 12-hour rampage along the heavily-populated northeastern seaboard.

As the week-old storm blew itself out in eastern Canada, hurricane hunters investigated a new tropical disturbance east of Florida which may develop into the season's fourth hurricane.

The new storm was moving northwest at 25 miles per hour, with winds up to 80 miles per hour, at a point about 750 miles east of Miami, Fla.

Emergency power crews from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York were rushed into New England to help restore electric service to an estimated 3 million persons.

Governors in all New England states mobilized National Guard, state and local police and civil defense workers to aid in the gigantic job of clearing highways and protecting damaged property from looters.

Disaster headquarters were set up in scores of communities to feed and shelter the homeless and to track down missing persons.

Gov. Dennis J. Roberts declared a state of emergency in Rhode Island, smallest and hardest-hit of the nine states whipped by the hurricane.

Major communication disruptions were reported with nearly 200,000 telephones knocked out of service from New York to Maine.

The death toll included: Rhode Island 17, Massachusetts 16, Maine and New Hampshire 3 each, Vermont and Connecticut one each, New Jersey two and New York state five.

Kids Back To Classes Classes got underway today in the Pampa public schools after 4,230 pupils registered Tuesday.

Registration was completed this morning with the enrollment of youngsters in grades one through six on the city bus lines who never attended school in Pampa before.

Elementary school enrollment topped the list with 2,298 pupils, followed by 1,050 in the Junior High School.

Post Office Official Defends Wage Veto

By JIM DEAN Pampa News Managing Editor Former GOP-Congressman Ben Gull of Pampa, now executive assistant to the postmaster general in Washington, spoke out today in defense of the administration's veto of salary increases for postal employees.

"We want the people to understand our position," Gull said. "We are as much interested in the morale of our employees as any organization is, and we know that a salary increase would have improved the morale of our people."

But he stated that the Post Office Department feels it is more important to reclassify post-office jobs to provide for a more equitable arrangement of pay for the workers.

Working On New Plan "We are working on such a reclassification plan," Gull said, "and when Congress convenes in January, we will no doubt submit our request for pay increases in connection with the plan. But we will have to ask for increased rates at the same time," he pointed out.

"We do not believe in across-the-board pay raises," he said. "He said that in the past, there has not been enough difference in the pay received by men in positions of authority and that received by men who performed only functional tasks."

"Our plan is to re-design the pay schedule to insure that the salary will fit the job done," he added. He pointed out that the department is opposed in its plan by the union of postal employees. This organization holds tremendous pressure over Congress, he stated.

Economy Expected But Gull said it was the opinion of the Post Office Department that the American people expect the government to be operated on a more economical basis. He cited (See OFFICIAL, Page 3)

International cables crackled with news of the French flop on the European Defense Community. Republican party leaders were on the telephone, explaining how the President should greet candidates on his flying tour of upstate Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Nebraska on Saturday.

But the big issue at the traveling White House Wednesday morning was how Eisenhower should handle the matter of flapjacks which the President was cooking shortly after dawn broke over the arid peaks of the Rocky Mountains.

But before he joined Mr. Hoover for the day's fishing, Mr. Eisenhower was expected to sign the social security expansion bill, one of the cardinal points of his legislative program.

He signed more than 60 bills Tuesday, and another big batch was on the way from the summer White House at Lowry Air Force base in Denver Wednesday morning.

City Hit By Swarm Of Pests

Cinch Bugs Being Fought By Pampa Spraying Operation

Some hope for remedying the recent bug plague by natural means was held out Wednesday by Ralph Thomas, county agent. They should leave under their own locomotion, he said.

"I don't believe they'll last too long. They're more or less like the cut worm millers of last year. After a spell we saw no more of them."

Grain Field Bugs Thomas said the pests are a type of cinch bug, common to grain sorghum fields. "We see plenty of them in the maize fields this time of the year, but this is the first time I've seen them come into town."

The street department is not depending on the natural inclination of the pests to move out of town. They are jet fogging the Pampa area for the second day with a 5 per cent Chloroform mixture combined with Lethane and Diesel fuel which comes highly recommended by the health department.

Making Progress Russell Cartwright, street superintendent, said, "we seem to be making progress in our attack, but oftentimes it looks as though they are hatching as fast as we kill them."

The fogging machine will be used Wednesday evening to spray the downtown area. This morning jet fogging was carried out in residential areas and outlying districts.

Cartwright warned motorists not to drive through the fog, "since they may run over children who seem fascinated with following the truck."

"We are taking all precautions by leading the jet fogging machine with a pickup truck, but are constantly watching for children who seem to lose themselves in the fog."

The mixture is not harmful, Cartwright said, but staying in the fog area for too long a time, might find some of the children allergic.

Churchill Meets With Cabinet LONDON, Sept. 1.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his cabinet met in an emergency session Wednesday to pace the western powers' search for a new and speedy alternative to the European army plan killed by the French assembly.

Lawyer To Try Again Seventh Batchelor Plea Is Rejected SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 1.—UP—The Army court martial trying Cpl. Claude Batchelor on charges he conspired with his Red captors in a North Korean prison camp rejected Tuesday the turn-about POW's seventh motion to dismiss the charges.

Batchelor's civilian lawyer, Joel Westbrook of San Antonio, was expected to file new motions for dismissal Wednesday.

Westbrook Tuesday asked that Batchelor's wife stick by Cpl. Batchelor TOKYO, Sept. 1.—UP—The Japanese wife of Cpl. Claude Batchelor said Wednesday that she would wait for him regardless of the outcome of his court-martial trial in Texas.

The former Kiyoku Araki said she loved her husband and thought he was innocent of charges that he collaborated with the Reds while a prisoner of war in North Korea.

They were married in Tokyo shortly after Batchelor changed his mind and decided to return to U.S. Army control rather than remain as a renegade with the Communists.

Kiyoku said she gets a letter almost every day from her husband, and that she answers all of the letters. She said she no longer hears from her mother, as she once did.

Communists Return American War Dead

PANMUNJOM, Sept. 1.—UP—Eight Russian-built trucks brought back the bodies of 183 American heroes Wednesday to the free soil which they died to defend.

With them were the bodies of seven unknown soldiers — possibly Americans, or Britons, or Turks, or Greeks, or Koreans, or Frenchmen or men of any of the United Nations who fought in Korea.

The trucks delivered the first group of 200 bodies to the United Nations command on the opening day of "Operation Glory," the exchange of 4,011 fallen Allied soldiers for the bodies of 14,069 North Korean and Chinese troops.

Sen. Maybank Dies Today In North Carolina FLAT ROCK, N. C., Sept. 1.—UP—Sen. Burnet R. Maybank (D-S.C.) died early Wednesday of a heart attack after he had retired for the night at his summer home here with no apparent illness. He was 55.

His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Burnet R. Maybank Jr., said his death was unexpected and that even members of his family did not know he had a heart ailment. She said it was the first heart attack he had ever suffered.

Maybank's administrative assistant, D. A. Smith, said in Washington that the senator died between 12 and 1 a. m. ed.

Maybank was the fourth senator to die in office, this year and the seventh during the 83rd Congress. But his death is not expected to change the makeup of the present Senate since another Democrat is almost certain to be named to fill his seat.

Before Maybank's death, the Senate had 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one independent.

Senate in Recess Although Congress completed its session Tuesday, the Senate is in recess until September 13.

Ike Pushed To Fire Stevens WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—UP—The final Army-McCarthy report supplied fresh fuel Wednesday for the censure case against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and put President Eisenhower under pressure to retire Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

The Republican and Democratic members of the Senate investigating subcommittee Wednesday night returned their separate verdicts in the sensational dispute which stirred the nation and frustrated the Senate and administration for eight weeks this summer.

Both reports, accompanied by separate statements by Sens. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) and Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), fired criticism at McCarthy, Stevens and McCarthy's former counsel, Roy M. Cohn, and both said there was contradictory testimony demanding Justice Department examination for possible perjury.

The four Republicans dealt more harshly with Stevens than with McCarthy. In their separate statements Dirksen gave McCarthy a clean bill of health and Potter was sharply critical. The three Democrats distributed their barbed comments rather evenly.

Dog To Get Rabies Test

The Pampa Health Department sent a doghead to the State Health Department Monday for rabies examination. The dog bit Mrs. Charles A. Martox, 839 W. Kingsmill, Friday and was found dead Sunday morning according to Carl Blue Pampa Dog Warden.

The dog had apparently died of natural causes since no signs of violence could be found. The reports should be back some time tomorrow. If the report is true, said Blue.

Occupation License Crackdown Slated

A large number of business establishments are operating in Pampa without occupation licenses or permits. City Tax Assessor-collector Aubrey Jones said today, but added that a 10 day "grace" period would be extended before police begin a "crackdown."

Jones pointed out that various business establishments must be licensed to operate in the city. Most of these licenses and permits expire August 31, each year.

"A good number of them have no licenses," he added. Notices are being mailed out today to all known operators of such businesses as dance halls, junk brokers, coin-operated devices, vending machines and places of business selling intoxicating beverages.

Fees due the city for licenses and permits range from $1.00 to $100 depending on the type and class of business.

Junk dealers' licenses are $1.00 per year, while permits to sell intoxicating beverages range from $5.00 per year to $100.

Coin-operated devices require permits costing from $2.50 per year to $20. Taxicab companies must pay $26 a year.

Skating rinks require a fee of $12.50 annually while dance halls must pay $25 to $100 per year.

Right To Challenge Denied Joe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—UP—Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) told Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (D-Colo.) Wednesday that he has no right to challenge the qualifications of any member of the Senate censure committee.

McCarthy had told members of the group which is studying charges against him that it was "absolutely necessary" for him to know whether one of them, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) holds anti-McCarthy views.

But Watkins told the Wisconsin Republican that it is the committee's unanimous judgment that McCarthy may not challenge its members. He added that "the committee is satisfied Sen. Johnson can do just what he said he can do to try this matter and do it fairly."

Circulates Memorandum Before the start of the second public session of the hearing on censure charges against McCarthy, the accused senator circulated a memorandum among committee members demanding that they "direct" Johnson to state whether he was correctly quoted last March 12 by the Denver Post.

The Post quoted Johnson as saying Senate Democratic leaders "loathe" McCarthy. Johnson issued a statement Tuesday asserting that he never said at any time that he personally loathes McCarthy. He added that he could serve on the committee "without prejudice."

But McCarthy was not satisfied. In demanding that the committee find out if Johnson was correctly quoted by the Denver paper, McCarthy said that if he was, he should be asked "whether he still holds these views."

McCarthy's attorney, Edward B. Williams, indicated that McCarthy may want to challenge the Coloradoan's qualifications to sit as one of the "jury."

But Watkins said McCarthy has no right to do that. "Kules Issue Not Relevant" Watkins then repeated his earlier statements that the whole issue is "not pertinent or relevant" to the inquiry.

McCarthy sat quietly beside his lawyer at the end of the table during the arguments. Williams did all the talking.

Watkins said he hoped before (See MCCARTHY, Page 3)

Gas Blast Injures Man

JACINTO CITY, Tex., Sept. 1.—UP—Hamilton C. Moon, 37, was in critical condition Wednesday after being blown out of his house in an explosion of accumulated gas.

Moon was burned on 80 per cent of his body Tuesday when the blast went off as he lighted a cigarette. The explosion carried him and four windows, frames and all, out the side of the house.

Salt Water Plagues Phillips Wildcatter

The source of the salt water which has plagued the progress of the Phillips Petroleum Company's wildcat oil well, the Delph No. 1 east of Pampa, is being hunted down today by company officials.

What the workers find in tests being conducted today will determine the future action and possibly the future of the well itself.

Phillips Company officials were admittedly downhearted at the turn of events in their newest wildcat which had been considered a bright prospect.

The tests today are to determine if the salt water is leaking in through the casing or if it is coming from the bottom of the hole.

Phillips people said that if the water is coming from a leak in the casing, the workers "squeeze" it off with cement. But if it is coming from the bottom of the hole, then a different approach will be made to attempt to separate the salt water from the oil.

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER. TV STAGE RADIO RECORDS PEOPLE.

The Record hop: Russell Arms, of NBC-TV's "Your Hit Parade," has been signed by Epic Records, and his first sides, should be out in a few weeks. The guy can really sing, so it should be no time before Arms is up to his elbows in success.

Lots of stars work like beavers to get their initials on license plates, figuring that's classy. Merv Griffin, the Columbia star, didn't have to go to any trouble at all. He just bought a new MG sports car, and presto, his initials are all over the joint.

The only trouble with country music is that a lot of us city folks like it, too. Heaps of us, as a matter of fact, by golly, yer dern right.

The word on this happy occurrence comes from the top country singer of them all, RCA-Victor's Eddy Arnold. This is the gentleman who goes by the name of Tennessee Playboy, but he looks, acts and dresses more like a New York Cadillaboy.

Anyhow, Eddy says that he gets heaps of mail from places like New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles and even Hawaii, by gum. And sure as shooting, where there's mail there's people, so you can bet your last ten-gallon hearse that the city slickers like the way Arnold sings a song.

Like him so much, in fact, that over the nine years since he cut his first RCA record, there've been 20,000,000 Eddy Arnold records sold. And that, as the farmer said when he saw his field full of pester-bugging bees, is a dog-gone lot.

In case you are unfamiliar with the Tennessee Playboy's work, don't get the idea that it is strictly from the hills. His songs are often done later by pop artists - Eddie Fisher's "Anytime" was originally made in 1947, but he didn't like it, so it was unreleased. He's tried again several times.

The handsome singer is known in the record industry, as one of the perfectionists in the trade. He's recorded some songs on dog, Bixby's Variations and Pugs on a Theme by Handel and Variations on a Theme by Paganini. Not to be outdone, Dame Myra. He's tackled Beethoven's most difficult piano piece, the Sonata Op. 109 or Hammerklavier, for HMV.

Oklahoma City Applies Final Touches To Highest Structure

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 1—UP—Television station KWTW Tuesday was applying the final touches to the tallest man-made structure in the world, its 1,572-foot transmitting tower.

The steel-girded structure, weighing 1,050,000 pounds, has been under construction for three months at a cost of $460,000.

The antenna, sitting atop the base structure, is 100 feet taller than the tip of a television station's antenna on the Empire State building in New York.

By comparison the Empire State building is 1,250 feet tall, the Chrysler building 1,046 and the Eiffel tower in Paris, 984.25 feet.

The KWTW tower will support two antennas, the top one for KWTW on Channel 9 and the second for Oklahoma's first educational television station, KETA-TV, on Channel 13.

KWTW has been transmitting on a temporary tower 340 feet tall with 55,000 watts power.

Telescoping from the new tower will not begin until transmission lines and new studios and transmitter now under construction are completed, expected about Oct. 1.

Governor Extends Thanks To Many Campaign Workers

AUSTIN, Sept. 1—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers has thanked his campaign workers and expressed special appreciation to the "many good Texans" who still are contributing to his successful re-nomination campaign.

"I wish that I could shake the hands of all the good Texans whose hard work made possible our great victory for Texas," said Shivers Tuesday, "and that I could express to each of them personally the gratitude that is in my heart, to take an active interest in governmental affairs."

Shivers' statement, released through his office, was telephoned from Woodville, where he is vacationing this week at his farm home.

He said he was particularly grateful to the women, to those who helped get out the voters, to those who had written to him "and to all of the people who did so many fine things for us during this campaign."

"This was, of course, an expensive campaign," Shivers said, "and I am especially grateful for the fact that many good Texans are still sending us contributions to help defray the expenses we have incurred."

Shivers was expected back in his office Friday.

'Hog-Wash,' Says Hoyt Of M'Carthy

DENVER, Sept. 1—UP—Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post, said Tuesday Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's injection of a Post story into the current Senate, obscure hearing was "the usual hog-wash."

"The junior (Wisconsin) senator's charges are the usual hog-wash," Hoyt said.

"We hold our nose and print McCarthy's name all over Page 1," he said the Post had criticized McCarthy consistently "on its editorial page, and until he changes his ways, will continue to point up and criticize his violations and abuse of the rights of citizens and due process of law."

Ed Dooley, managing editor of the Post, said Hoyt's only orders to his staff were "to print the news, get both sides."

"Our editorial opinion goes on the editorial page," he added.

"The files of the Post are open to all and we'll stand on our reporting record," Dooley said. "The record proves McCarthy wrong again."

Harlingen Hospital Records Twelfth Polio Death Of 1954

HARLINGEN, Tex., Sept. 1—UP—The polio treatment center at Valley Baptist hospital recorded its fourth polio death of August and its 12th of the year Tuesday.

At the same time the Hidalgo county health officer announced that a six-man team of specialists would be pressed into service in an effort to identify a mysterious and unknown disease that has been mistaken for polio in the Valley.

The latest victim of either polio or the new disease was Dean Brandt, 22-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brandt of Mercedes, Tex. The Lower Rio Grande Valley recorded only three polio deaths in all of last year.

Dr. Charles Miller, Hidalgo county health officer, said state health officer Henry Holte was sending Dr. Gerald LaVeck of Denver and Dr. Richard Eads of Austin to the Valley.

He said Eads was an entomologist and LaVeck a physician who had considerable experience with encephalitis - sleeping sickness.

Miller said the unknown disease may be a form of the dreaded sleeping sickness.

"The reason for sending additional men is not because of any increased seriousness of the disease, but in an effort to get as many blood samples back to the laboratory for identification as possible," Miller said.

LaVeck and Eads will work with two investigators for the Hidalgo county health unit and two specialists sent from Austin last week.

A political commissar at Vietri told them De Castries' release would be accompanied by "important manifestations of friendship between the French and the Viet Minh (Communist Indo-Chinese)."

Mexican Oilmen Hit Richest Oil Field

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1.—UP—The Mexican oil monopoly, after an eight-year drilling program, has found the nation's richest oil field in 18 years, President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines said Wednesday in a speech prepared for the opening joint session of Congress.

Ruiz Cortines said the first well to come in was producing 3,000 barrels or more a day of crude as rich, or richer, than the finest oil produced in Pennsylvania. He said unrestricted production by the well would mean up to 40,000 barrels a day.

The strike was in a field believed to be an extension of the rich oil belt along the Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast.

Some Other Records The president also announced in his annual report to Congress that Petroleum Mexicanos is setting some other records.

Production this year should be near 90 million barrels, the highest figure in 28 years. Exports average 70,000 barrels a day.

The government oil company's expansion policy calls for investment of more money than ever before in permanent installations like refineries, a lubricants plant and others.

Pemex is embarked on an unprecedented "wildcatting" program, with the completion of about a well a day. The ratio of producing wells to dry holes is about two-to-three.

But the most important step taken this year was a planned accident, the president revealed.

Pemex Director General Antonio J. Bermudez started a well-drilling exploration program eight years ago on the assumption that the rich U. S. Gulf Coast oil fields should not end at the border.

Richest in Mexico The payoff came in one of the final "possible" areas drilled north of Vera Cruz. A field known as Miguel Hidalgo, 380 miles south of Brownsville, Tex., turned out

Jane Talk

Pampa News Women's Editor

MRS. JOHN MOBLEY, 2314 Alcock, is one of the many Gray County women who belong to home demonstration clubs. During the meetings, the women learn all sorts of useful things. One of these is basket weaving, which Mrs. Mobley, along with Mrs. Ray Frazier, demonstrated at the recent Agriculture Achievement Day.

The baskets have many uses — as cracker containers, sewing baskets, flower baskets (you set pots in them), or as containers in which to serve hot rolls (covered with napkin).

ALTHOUGH IT sounds complicated, Mrs. Mobley says the baskets are not hard to make. For making the baskets, reeds grown in China are used. The size varies according to the type of basket desired or according to the desired serviceability. For the demonstration, Mrs. Mobley used No. 1 and No. 3 reeds.

To begin with, you make two separate bunches of four of the heavier reeds each. These are the "spokes," each 4 inches long. You lay one bunch over the other, making a sort of cross. The lighter reed you use as a "weaver," Mrs. Mobley explained.

The next step is to place a weaver at the side of each bunch. The weavers are then drawn under the bunches and crossed in the center. The spokes are then divided, and you begin to weave over and under each spoke. Each time you weave under a spoke, you cross the weavers. This forms the bottom of the basket.

For the sides, you take 16 reeds, each 4 inches long and soak them to make them flexible. You stick one between each spoke and bend it "real sharp," Mrs. Mobley pointed out, to make sides. For a deeper basket, longer side reeds can be used. Then you continue the weaving (over and under) procedure until nearly at the end of the side reeds.

RUTH MILLET

The wife who dismisses her husband's grumbling whenever the two are invited out for an evening with, "Jim just doesn't like parties," is making a big mistake.

She ought to be trying to find out why he doesn't like sharing a social life with her.

Maybe he feels ill at ease when they are out in company. If that is his reason for preferring to stay at home, there is a lot a wife can do to draw her husband into conversations, to put him in a good light, to quietly help him overcome his shyness.

Perhaps he is downright bored with seeing the same people over and over. If so, the wife can get busy adding new friends to old.

Perhaps, without realizing that she is doing it, she does all the talking for both of them. Silent husbands of overly-talkative wives rarely seem to be having fun at parties.

AVOID REHASHING PARTY
Perhaps, it is not the party her husband dreads — but the way his wife will hash it over on the way home. Most men don't go for a rehash of a party and a critical analysis of all the guests.

The wife who feels she must rehash a party would be wise to wait until the morning after and tear the evening apart with a woman friend — rather than with her husband.

Perhaps, the husband has learned to his sorrow that his wife always comes home from a party a little bit envious of the other women or their possessions.

Helen Frances Haynes Of Abilene Becomes Bride Of James Claunch

Miss Helen Frances Haynes of Abilene became the bride of James Arnold Claunch at 7:30 p.m., Saturday during a wedding in the bride's home. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Haynes of Abilene, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Claunch, 2104 Alcock, Pampa.

Dr. Elvin L. Skiles of Abilene officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tulle with lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a low-v neckline. The raglan sleeves came to points over her hands and were decorated with tiny covered buttons at the wrists. The bodice closed down the back with tiny covered buttons. The bouffant skirt of lace over satin was ballerina length, and she wore white satin shoes.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a tiana of teardrop pearls, and she carried a modified star cascade of pale pink buds.

Mrs. Ed Nelson of Abilene was matron of honor. She wore a gown of iridescent rose shantung tulle. The fitted bodice was styled with a low-v neckline and three-quarter length raglan sleeves. The bouffant-plated skirt was ballerina length and she wore matching shoes. She carried a star cascade of garnet chrysanthemums and feathered carnations.

Ed Dudley of Pampa served as best man.

The couple was married before a fireplace banked with emerald palms and flanked with cathedral candelabra with white tapers. The mantel was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, and a garland of plumosa encircled the mirror above the mantel.

Pianist was Miss Emma Joyner. Her numbers included "Thine Alone," "The World is Waiting For The Sunrise," "One Alone," "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly." "Sweet Rogers" of Abilene was soloist. His numbers were "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy blue silk dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The serving table was covered with a white tulle cloth, centered with an arrangement of pink and white asters. Pink candles in crystal holders flanked the centerpiece.

The wedding cake was three-tiered, decorated with white and pink icing. It was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. A. C. Greene of Abilene served the cake and Miss Mamie Ellis of Abilene presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Virginia Trussell of Pampa registered the guests from a table centered with an arrangement of white asters.

For the honeymoon trip to Rudosa, N. M., the bride wore a princess style dress of navy blue tulle. It was fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves, a straight skirt and a sky-blue satin collar and bow. She wore a sky-blue satin hat and sky-blue gloves. Her corsage was of pink gardenias from her bridal bouquet.

After the wedding, the couple will be at home in Abilene.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School and of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. While in college, she was a member of

Canadian Sub Debs Hold Annual Dance

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Canadian Sub Deb Club held its annual Farewell and Presentation Dance at the Legion Hall recently. The dance was held to present the club's new members and as a farewell to out-going members.

Decorations were "Candy Land." The hall was decorated with multi-color crepe paper, huge candy canes, lollypops, and balloons. The "Sandy Swingers" furnished the music.

New pledges were presented by President Dona Ramsey. Miss Adelle Williams was named best pledge and presented a gold Sub Deb bracelet. Each pledge was given a carnation. New pledges were Misses Claudine Price, Shirley Oliver, Mary Ellen Price, Kathryn Cloyd, Ruth Bentley, Kay Petree, Adelle Williams, and Dixie Hines.

Miss Sandy Wilkinson, the only graduating member this year, was presented a bouquet of red roses.

The original academic gown was a "decent habit," a full length of dark cloth which, with the tansure, was required dress for students in most medieval universities. The hood was a common part of civilian dress and had no special significance.

The circles attending were the Jim and Jan Musgrave Circle, Blonnie Foreman Circle, Dwight Baker Circle, Rex Ray Circle, and D. A. Grundy Circle.

Hopkins PTA Has Executive Meeting

The executive committee of Hopkins Parent-Teachers Association met recently in the school's art room. Mrs. Buster Sublett, president, led the meeting.

State material was given to each chairman, and the program and goal for the coming year were discussed.

First meeting of the entire group will be held at 8 a.m. Sept. 8, with an executive meeting scheduled for 2:30 the same day.

MATURE PARENT

Like any growing person, Mrs. T. has a problem or so. One is 2-year-old Baby's jealousy of her baby brother. Another is Mr. T.'s susceptibility to his family's opinions.

They think that he and Mrs. T. could not afford the expense of another child so soon after Baby. So, not knowing why, Mr. T. is often irritable—and unreasonable about bills.

Until Mrs. T. made friends with a certain neighbor, these problems did not scare her. Now she often wonders if she has the strength to deal with them. For Mrs. T.'s neighbor is constantly bringing her stories about people whose problems have defeated them.

She always knows who's planning a trip to Reno, who's been given six months to live, whose alcoholism is losing him a job. Just the other afternoon, she spent two hours telling Mrs. T. why the school principal's married daughter has had to swallow her pride and return home to her parents with the children.

As she listened to the gruelies imposed on this young woman by a heartless husband, Mrs. T. noticed that Baby was reaching through the bars of the baby's playpen.

In the next shocked moment, she realized that her daughter was not stroking her brother's hand, but squeezing it with the deliberate intent to hurt.

And quite suddenly Mrs. T. was overpowered by horror of the cruelty of life. She rushed to the playpen — and used her 2-year-old daughter to express an emotion that had very little to do with her. She spanked Baby for the infidelities, hurts and suffering inflicted on people she knew nothing about.

It is always wise to know just how much we can take of other people's troubles.

Very special moral training is necessary for those who have to listen perpetually to tales of human woe. If we do not know how to protect ourselves, we can be swamped much as a swimmer is swamped when he is foolish enough to allow himself to be lured out beyond his depth.

If we make constant associates of seducers like Mrs. T.'s neighbor, our grasp on good grows as weak as the swimmer's strokes. We drown, not in water, but in terror of life.

If we listen to these tales of woe, there is in us a seed of morbid response that demands our attention.

Young mothers of babies have life to nourish and feed. It is important that they learn to say to those who insist on human helplessness — "you must excuse me now. I have to prepare the children's supper."

'Weaker Sex' Is Strong On Work

NEW YORK — UP — Whoever labeled 'em "the weaker sex" used the wrong term. A survey on who's doing most of the work in these days of do-it-yourself mania shows it's the women.

The research department of the Georgia-Pacific Plywood Co. did a six-month study of 9,000 Americans whose homes are valued from $10,000 to $25,000 to find how the labor load is distributed.

"Women do 41 per cent of the work, men are responsible for 27 per cent and the rest is a cooperative family endeavor," said the president, Owen R. Chestnut.

Women get the ideas too. The company found that "79 per cent of present-day home improvements are initiated by women. And the gals aren't grabbing off the simple jobs like painting the porch swing or slip-covering a chair."

Cops Thwart Death Leap

FORT WORTH, Sept. 1 — UP — Pretty blonde Jane Bex, 16, who told police she had hitchhiked here from Idaho, was grabbed from a ledge around the third floor of a North Side hotel early Tuesday after she had stood there silently for half an hour.

Police Capt. W. T. McWhorter grabbed the girl and pulled her back when she turned to look at city firemen who were spreading two jump nets below at the corner of North Main and East Exchange streets.

On the way to police headquarters the girl told Captain McWhorter that she had not planned to jump. Several slashes on her wrists, neither deep nor long, were believed to have been self-inflicted a short time before she crawled out onto the ledge.

A woman clerk at the hotel said the girl had been staying there several days. She told of waiting at the hotel for her fiancé, a truck driver. They planned to get married upon his arrival, the girl said.

The clerk said the girl seemed disturbed after getting a phone call Monday. Evidence was found later that she had burned some papers in the wash basin in her room.

The girl was wearing a dark sun dress with bright yellow and red dots, and red moccasins.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!
MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

Hollywood news, gossip and humor are the daily ingredients of Erskine Johnson's column. But from time to time he writes on other subjects. During his vacation, some of these columns are being reprinted as "The Best of Johnson."

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Ham at Eight: Every now and then a film producer with a strange sense of humor decides he'll cast a newspaper columnist in a movie. The columnist, with an equally strange sense of humor (about money), agrees to become an actor for a day.

The results are frightening.

The other morning at 8 a.m., which is the middle of the night for any columnist except a farm reporter, I was lured out of bed by one Lester Cutler, a film producer with a strange sense of humor.

Cutler produces B pictures and also manufactures bombights for the government. He is filming a picture titled "A Night for Crime" (Editor's Note: Now seen on TV). Glenda Farrell and Lyle Talbot are the stars.

I'm supposed to play myself in the movie, along with three other Hollywood columnists.

We are hoping, of course, it is a scene in which we judge a beauty contest, or attend a cocktail party, or fall in love with a doll or something equally as pleasant.

But no such luck.

The set to which we are called is a morgue.

It seems there is a doll named Joan Harrison who has been murdered. We are to identify her body on account of she's a two-bit movie actress.

It is so early in the morning even the corpse is not up yet, so there is only a dummy under the sheet on the coroner's slab.

PRODUCER Lester Cutler explains the story while a make-up man slaps Max Factor's No. 3 on our collective faces. With make-up we are likely not to be confused with the pale-faced dummies on some other slabs in the morgue.

Lina Basquette is the actress who plays the murdered girl.

This is a coincidence, for in the scene the coroner asks me if I'm positive of the identification and I say:

"Positive. Miss Harrison appeared on my radio program last week."

Lina DID appear on my radio program last week.

From now on I shall always believe those press agent stories about the star who ate fried chicken on the set all day and then went home where his wife surprised him with a fried chicken dinner. (Like H—I will.)

There's a quick rehearsal and then they start shooting the scene.

A COLUMNIST for a Los Angeles newspaper, who is always late for previews and trains and planes, is not late when a movie camera starts to turn on him and he starts upstaging me. I knock down the left wall of the morgue trying to keep at least my shoulder in the picture.

This is very embarrassing because Producer Cutler, a small-budget kid, is worried about that left wall of the morgue. The wall has a bigger role in the picture than the stars. It is moved from set to set and works, with different wallpaper and different photographs, in every scene.

With such a big speech as: "Positive. Miss Harrison appeared on my radio program last week," I find it difficult to remember all the lines.

As Producer Cutler turns purple and blue, I waste several thousand feet of film while reading the line as:

"Positive. I appeared on Miss Harrison's radio program last week."

Then it comes out "Garrison." Then I stutter. Then my mind goes blank and I can't remember anything, including my name.

"YOU ARE USING up enough film to make another picture," the producer groans. "They used less filming 'Gone With the Wind.'"

It's the producer's own darn fault for casting a newspaper columnist as an actor. Besides the make-up itches, my knees knocking together sound like something from a Cugat number, and that other columnist is trying to shove me out of camera range.

Finally the line comes out right and everyone is happy.

There's only one worry now. It will be a night for crime all right when they preview "A Night for Crime."

I'm a cinch for the Harvard Lampoon for the worst acting performance of the year.

Humble Bank Is Robbed

HUMBLE, Tex., Sept. 1 — UP — A bald-headed gunman with a painted mustache and armed with a sawed-off shotgun held up the Humble State Bank Tuesday and escaped with between $10,000 and $20,000.

The holdup occurred at 12:46 p.m. and the gunman, driving a black sedan, fled east from Humble toward Crosby.

Roadblocks were immediately set up on all roads leading out of this industrial community 20 miles northeast of Houston.

The Harris county sheriff's office radioed all squad cars in the area, and Houston police, and the state highway patrol joined in setting up the roadblocks.

First description of the bandit telephoned to the sheriff's office at Houston were that the gunman was dressed in a brown suit and wore a light straw hat which he removed once to show a bald head. He appeared to be about 45 or 50 years old.

Texas Ranger Capt. Hardy Purvis said witnesses told him the man had a small mustache which appeared to have been painted on his face as a disguise.

Oklahoma Orders Oil Output Cut

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31 — UP — The Oklahoma Corporation Commission ordered a big cut in daily oil production Tuesday after producers overran the August estimate by 45,000 barrels per day.

The commission set the daily allowable for September at 457,257 barrels, which was 7,257 barrels above the August estimate but nearly 35,000 under the actual runs.

Massena Murray, conservation officer, recommended the cuts, which will affect most of the state's 450 pools. Only 14 increases were approved, while the rest were decreased or left the same.

The overrun in August production, officials said, was due to new pools and wells, unreported condensate production and error in calculation of general production.

Faux Pas

We have had our attention called to an editorial which appeared in The News on June 6 relative to the Ford Foundation which lent an erroneous impression.

In that editorial, we stated that the Ford Foundation had supported the Institute of Pacific Relations, a notorious red front organization which was largely responsible for directing thought in favor of the "agrarian reformers" of China.

A check, however, has disclosed that we had our foundations confused: Both the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations were heavy IPR contributors while the Ford Foundation was in no way involved.

Outlawing Reds

About this issue of outlawing Reds we're afraid we may get ourselves in bad with some of our good friends who fight Communism and who agree that the Communists should be outlawed.

We don't believe that the Communist party should have been outlawed. Our first reason is that we do not believe in preventive laws.

We don't believe that they prevent anything. One reason that we believe this is because we are Constitutional fundamentalists and believe that most of the harm to America has been done by those who wished to subvert the Constitution.

What does the Constitution have to say about outlawing the Communist Party?

Our favorite Constitutional authority is Isabel Paterson, author of The God of the Machine. She says in Chapter XII, commenting on the Treason Clause in our Constitution:

"The treason clause remains unique in all the long record of political institutions.

"In the first place, it declares that there is no such crime as treason in peacetime."

"The only method of outlawing Reds consistent with the Constitution would be to have Congress officially declare war on Russia, for the Constitution says:

"Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid or comfort."

"Nothing but armed rebellion or joining with an enemy nation — and nations are by definition enemies only when at war — can be treason."

"No peaceful or personal opposition to government or to members of government comes under the head of treason."

"Even the forcible attack of resistance of a single person as such (having no connection or agreement with other persons or a foreign government to the same end), could hardly be construed as 'treason,' as it would not constitute 'levying war.'"

"Treason must also be an 'overt act,' not merely an expression of an opinion; and a conviction cannot be had on circumstantial evidence; two witnesses to the act are required."

"In the European theory it was treason to attack the person of the king even for a non-political motive. The man or the office are held to be inseparable."

"A like attempt against a member of a true republican government is a strictly personal criminal offense."

"By this unprecedented limitation of treason, the government or administration was debared from encroachments. Its members were allowed no means of reprisals against criticism or exposure."

"The excuse of catching Communists cannot justify this constant chipping away at the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The Americans who favored outlawing Communists will live to regret it — for they have granted the government a power which can be used against patriots as well as Communists."

"The South's one-party system is neither an intractable order of nature nor a fad. It did not arrive at a bound, it will not recede at a bound."

"That some despair of the South breaking its one-party thralldom is singular in light of the fact that the South realigned itself politically to the extent of forming itself into a new nation."

"But we already have the permanent members of the United Nations Security Council slacked against the ideologies of the Declaration of Independence. Russia, England and France are all more or less socialistic and all believe that men get their rights from the government rather than from God. Why does the United States want to be a member of an organization where we are in the minority to start with on the beliefs as to how government should be limited."

"Here is another Article, No. 59, that shows how we are obligated if we stay in the United Nations to carry out the means that the United Nations' Charter proposes to promote peace. It reads:

"The Organization shall, where appropriate, initiate negotiations among the states concerned for the creation of any new specialized agencies required for the accomplishment of the purposes set forth in Article 55."

"Better re-read Article 55 to see how the UN proposes to promote full employment. How can the United Nations promote full employment unless it takes from private citizens their property to furnish the workers with tools?"

"The United States was founded on the belief that individuals have a duty to support themselves or to live that someone else voluntarily help support them. But the UN is promising security. And the only way a government can help anyone is to rob someone else. When private citizens help other people, then the recipient will undoubtedly make some effort to help himself, but he will not do this when he is taught to believe that the government is going to give him security and furnish him a job."

"(It be concluded) that modern museum of horrors for three years. The title of it is 'White on White.' Just a slash of white paint on a piece of cardboard that is covered with whiter paint."

"Such nonsense would be all right if a man had never seen a real painting. If I had never been to Florence, Madrid, Paris, New York or Amsterdam, and looked at pictures painted by such men as Goya, Rubens, Velasquez, Leonardo, and van Gogh, then I would accept the draftsmanship and novelty of a Dall.

"The truth is, men like Dall are making a living. They are lions of society. They get their pictures in all the magazines that cost more than half a dollar an issue. They are hustlers with a brush. They are promoters first and artists second."

"All of which is to say that a magnolia wing of the GOP isn't coming precipitately or any time soon because, generally, there aren't any attractive politicians to run as Republicans."

"But I think the South has something of a two-party system on the Presidential level, already. I

"I feel sorry for Senator Knowland. He seems torn between the urge to be a loyal administrator man and the still more pressing urge to be a loyal American. I'm not only sorry for him, I'm proud of him. For when his conscience battles with the appeals of political opportunism, his conscience wins. In this, he's different from many of his contemporaries. Knowland isn't dumb. He can't make himself impervious to the plain facts of history. He knows, from the record, that when the Reds take over in this country, the politicians won't last long. He not only has a conscience, he has an intelligent interest in survival. A commonsense desire for self-preservation — personal and national. Many of the wishful thinkers and happy time-servers in Washington don't want to see that far ahead. On the issue of seating Red China in the UN, Knowland has taken an admirable stand. He needs to take another one. Before Congress even considers the administration's manpower proposals, he should demand the repeal of the Status of Forces agreements and the restoration to American soldiers overseas of THEIR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS AS AMERICAN CITIZENS."

"Today's young man usually doesn't follow in his father's footsteps. He drives the family car — Grit."

"Arthur P. Hall's form-letter was surprisingly truculent, considering that Alcoa is an old Mellon property, but so many queer things happen these days that I rarely try to guess how a great corporation is going to react; still less why. As Knute Rockne always said in his opening sermon to his thundering herd each fall, you can never tell which way a football is going to bounce."

"Hall said, 'We,' meaning the great soulless corporation, 'do not know or care to know in advance what Mr. Murrow intends to use on his telecast. . . . so we sponsor this program as a public service.'"

"And, for a clincher, Hall said, 'there is no commentator who has received so much recognition for his fair treatment of the news as Mr. Murrow. For the past three (3) years, he has received the coveted Peabody award as the outstanding news commentator and early this month,' last March 'The Freedoms Foundation (a most American organization) gave us' (meaning Alcoa) 'the award for 'the most outstanding achievement in helping to bring about a better understanding of the American way of life.'"

"Since then, inquiry which might better have been made by Mr. Hall and Alcoa, has exposed the flimsiness at best, of the George Foster Peabody award and the colossal insignificance of the dean of the school of journalism of the University of Georgia, whose total

"experience in journalism barely qualified him as an unlicked cub although his 'honors' in emptiness, absurdity, variety and number outdressed even the paltry synthetic in Paul Hoffman's fine-print."

"The Freedoms Foundation botch-up has been put to the acid test of truth and certified as insignificant. I have one which I use for a paperweight and will sell for $2.50. I am one who would like to know just why the Aluminum Company of America, so so highly esteemed the George Foster Peabody or the George Foster Nobody award either in single or triplicate."

"Just recently, the news came over that the woman martyr to McCarthyism whom Egbert so righteously defended had been suspended again. I am waiting for the report of a big bunch of Turks and Austrians, who were enemy aliens, and some ambiguous Mexicans who were held in fear in that border camp. That fear was mutual because the Pancho Villa trouble was still more or less life and both greaser and gringo were leery, neither knowing friend from foe, especially in the dark."

"Woodrow Wilson and Newton Baker, his secretary of war were hollering for more and more copper so finally Jack Greenway, an old Yaleer who had ridden with Roosevelt's Rough Riders in Cuba, organized some dependable hundred-percenters who rounded up a herd of suspects. The deportation trucked off an awful row and Felix Frankfurter, poking his snoot into our affairs even as early as that, went out to Bisbee and Tombstone and made an investigation followed by a report which prompted Ted Roosevelt to call him, in round numbers, a liar."

"These incidents have a way of drawing along into episodes, not to say paragraphs and footnotes of history."

"Egbert Murrow got a queer invitation to spurl his line at West Point ostensibly from some anonymous cadet but actually by authority of Major General Irving, who is now retiring lousy with honors while Major General Kirke B. Lawton, who smoked out a lot of Communists from Fort Monmouth, was suspended on a pretext of physical disability and passed over in his last chance for promotion after 37 years in the Army."

"Naturally, Egbert's attack on McCarthy and the lachrymose defense of the female martyr to McCarthyism aroused the patriots. Then a little digging produced proof that Egbert had taken an active part in the arrangement of a series of pilgrimages to Moscow by American study-bunns of both genders and a wide range of ages from freshman up to time-honored, misanthropic double-dome. To this proof, Egbert replied that in one specific year, the pilgrimage threw a shoe and didn't come off as planned, but the other years were ignored with a snooty but unsuccessful disdain."

"Aluminum company of America was Murrow's sponsor and, judging by the blizzard of form-letters which patriots all over received from the company's public relations guy and forwarded to me, along with carbons of their original outcries against Egbert and Alcoa, the reaction against the company might have been more vociferous than the public relations Guy wanted either us or his name as Arthur P. Hall and I was a little surprised to find him in this jam on Egbert's side because I had met him at dinner one night at Vivien Kellen's house along with a very understanding admiral who certainly is not on the other side but robustly on our side. You naturally don't expect to encounter people on Egbert's team at Vivien's. Well, that shows you can't be too careful."

"Arthur P. Hall's form-letter was surprisingly truculent, considering that Alcoa is an old Mellon property, but so many queer things happen these days that I rarely try to guess how a great corporation is going to react; still less why. As Knute Rockne always said in his opening sermon to his thundering herd each fall, you can never tell which way a football is going to bounce."

"Hall said, 'We,' meaning the great soulless corporation, 'do not know or care to know in advance what Mr. Murrow intends to use on his telecast. . . . so we sponsor this program as a public service.'"

'Let's Get Out Of UN' Buttons

In order to stimulate interest in what the United Nations is doing to the United States and the American people, Freedom Newspapers have purchased a quantity of buttons with the inscription "Let's Get Out Of UN."

The editor of the Tulsa Tribune says that a million people have signed petitions to get out of the United Nations. If people who believe in the American way of life as set forth in the Declaration of Independence will give a little study to the Charter of the United Nations and the Statute of the International Court of Justice, I am sure they will want to get out of the United Nations. The trouble is that most people have not read the UN Charter and simply believe that it is a method of promoting peace. But the means that the UN proposes to use will not promote peace, but will result in a world government that will be the master rather than the servant of the individual.

Single Buttons Free

Anyone can have a "Let's Get Out Of UN" button who wants to wear it by calling at any of the offices of any of the newspapers published by Freedom Newspapers. If anyone wants to help distribute these buttons they can get five or more mailed to them for 5 cents a button.

One of the purposes of distributing these buttons is to get people well enough informed on what the United Nations stands for that they will want to get out of the UN. Just as soon as enough people realize how much the United Nations contradicts the spirit of 1776 they will want to see that the United States gets out of the United Nations. And Congress will get us out of the United Nations when enough people believe that we should be out.

A short time ago this column carried some of the reasons why Dr. V. Orval Watts is opposed to the United Nations. He cited several Articles from the Charter that show the means the United Nations proposes to use to promote peace. Here is what Article 55 from the Charter says:

"With a view to the creation of conditions of stability and well-being which are necessary for peaceful and friendly relations among nations based on respect for the principle of equal rights and self-determination of peoples, the United Nations shall promote:

"a. higher standards of living, full employment, and conditions of economic and social progress and development;

"b. solutions of international economic, social, health, and related problems; and international cultural and educational co-operation; and

"c. universal respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language, or religion."

Article 25 of this Charter says:

"The Members of the United Nations agree to accept and carry out the decisions of the Security Council in accordance with the present Charter."

But we already have the permanent members of the United Nations Security Council slacked against the ideologies of the Declaration of Independence. Russia, England and France are all more or less socialistic and all believe that men get their rights from the government rather than from God. Why does the United States want to be a member of an organization where we are in the minority to start with on the beliefs as to how government should be limited."

"Here is another Article, No. 59, that shows how we are obligated if we stay in the United Nations to carry out the means that the United Nations' Charter proposes to promote peace. It reads:

"The Organization shall, where appropriate, initiate negotiations among the states concerned for the creation of any new specialized agencies required for the accomplishment of the purposes set forth in Article 55."

"Better re-read Article 55 to see how the UN proposes to promote full employment. How can the United Nations promote full employment unless it takes from private citizens their property to furnish the workers with tools?"

And the only way a government can help anyone is to rob someone else. I'm not only sorry for him, I'm proud of him. For when his conscience battles with the appeals of political opportunism, his conscience wins. In this, he's different from many of his contemporaries. Knowland isn't dumb. He can't make himself impervious to the plain facts of history. He knows, from the record, that when the Reds take over in this country, the politicians won't last long. He not only has a conscience, he has an intelligent interest in survival. A commonsense desire for self-preservation — personal and national. Many of the wishful thinkers and happy time-servers in Washington don't want to see that far ahead. On the issue of seating Red China in the UN, Knowland has taken an admirable stand. He needs to take another one. Before Congress even considers the administration's manpower proposals, he should demand the repeal of the Status of Forces agreements and the restoration to American soldiers overseas of THEIR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS AS AMERICAN CITIZENS."

National Whirligig Southern Wing Of GOP Not Likely To Rush In

By GROVER C. HALL, JR.

(While Ray Tucker is on vacation there will be guest columns by several prominent newspaper editors. Today's column is by Grover C. Hall, Jr., Editor of The Montgomery Advertiser, Montgomery, Ala.)

The South's one-party system is neither an intractable order of nature nor a fad. It did not arrive at a bound, it will not recede at a bound.

Every time a new class of 21-year-olds registers to vote, the prejudice of the Southern electorate against the GOP is diminished. Southern youngsters are either bored or ignorant vis-a-vis the Civil War, which is at least one happy result of the failure of schools to teach American history any more.

Even though Vice - Presidential Candidate John Sparkman was an Alabamian, he and Senator Lister Hill had to spend dough and make speeches to preserve Alabama's Democratic chastity from the seductive enterprise of Ike.

A majority of Alabama's daily newspapers supported Ike. A leading weekly editor is running for lieutenant governor on the GOP ticket. A prominent and forceful daily editor, the grandson of Confederate soldiers, is running for governor as a GOP setback against the Democratic nominee, "Big Jim" Folsom. It's true that Folsom is writing his inaugural speech and announcing Cabinet appointments while Editor Tom Abernethy makes speeches about him, but the novel fact is that of a vigorous GOP campaign.

It will come, soon, but maybe not tomorrow.

It always strikes me that the glaring, key fact generally overlooked in discussing sudden, as opposed to gradual, creation of a GOP under the magnolia is the absence of that indispensable — an "Iste" that is both violent and continuous.

The Whigs moved it on over into the Republican Party overnight because of the issue of slavery, violent and continuous.

Lincoln and his pals were most reluctant to violate party loyalty and to sacrifice the party eminence and standing won through years of service. But the violent, continuing issue of slavery provided both carrot and stick.

That condition is here absent. We do not generally have Republicans running for Congress, surrogate and mayor because the effective political politicians are almost all Democrats. There is no violent, continuous issue to tempt or prod them to make the plunge.

It is true that 48 per cent of the Southern people voted for Ike and that a great many Democratic officeholders silently applauded. But as soon as Mr. Truman was reelected to Independence, the reeking carcass of his Administration hauled away and like inaugurated, the millions of Southern Democrats who had voted Republican considered the issues resolved. Their muscular aches and pains were gone and the subsequent discussions of creating a two-party system from cover-up was a tedious, if not exotic abstraction.

And certainly they got no prodding from Democratic officeholders, to whom two-party electioneering would only mean longer hours and less take-home pay.

All of which is to say that a magnolia wing of the GOP isn't coming precipitately or any time soon because, generally, there aren't any attractive politicians to run as Republicans.

But I think the South has something of a two-party system on the Presidential level, already. I

IF THE OILERS DIDN'T HAVE THAT "never say die" spirit, they would be rocking along somewhere in the second division.

Last night's ninth inning rally that snatched a 5-4 victory for the locals from the grasp of the Plainview Ponies was the 22nd time this season that the Oilers rallied in the ninth to erase an enemy lead.

It's easy for a team to give up the ghost when the odds are stacked against them like they have been stacked against the Oilers this season when the games enter the ninth and the Oilers either behind or the score tied.

But the Oilers have put out everything right down the wire in every game this season and it has paid off. Had they lost those 22 games instead of winning they would be buried in the cellar.

It's for that reason, especially, that the fans here owe their respect to the Oilers this season. And, of course, you can show your appreciation to them by attending all of the games on the final homestand that opens tonight and especially Thursday night which has been declared "Oiler Appreciation Night."

QUESTION HAS BEEN ASKED "where will the Oiler management put the fans if all the tickets being purchased by the merchants for Thursday night's Oiler Appreciation Night are used?"

Well, it does present pretty much of a problem since Oiler Park only seats 3,000 to 3,500 fans. An estimated 6,000 tickets have been sold for the game, more than doubling the seating capacity of our local ball yard.

But, in answering the question above, Oiler business manager Jimmy Hamilton had the following to say about the situation:

"We'll use every seat that is available, of course, and then rope off the two foul lines down left and right field if the stands are over-flowing."

Hamilton pointed out that both foul line areas are grassed and will be comfortable sitting.

The Oilers, of course, will get the money for all of the tickets sold to the game whether they are used or not, but the management is hoping that all the tickets will be used nevertheless.

Getting fans into the ball park is one of the primary purposes of having an appreciation night. And with the tickets free to all fans who want them, there's no reason why the park shouldn't be over-flowing.

Blue Sox Near Playoff Berth

By UNITED PRESS
Jim Newberry bettered Ahlens' chances for keeping a playoff berth Tuesday night as he hurled the Blue Sox to a five-hit 9 to 4 win over Lubbock.

The Sox now hold a 3 1/2 game lead over the fifth place Plainview Ponies. Plainview was edged 5 to 4 by Pampa when Rudy Tanner slammed a three-run homer with two out in the first of the ninth.

League - leading Clovis beat Amarillo 16 to 9 with Pete Trabuc leading a 19-hit Clovis batting attack with a homer, double and two singles. Frank Kempa homered for Amarillo, one of 12 bloopers the Gold Sox got off Jack Venable and Reuben Phillips.

Bob Pascal, Ahlens' first baseman, batted in four runs with a two-run homer in the fourth inning and a two-run single in the fifth. Wednesday night's schedule - Amarillo at Pampa, Clovis at Abilene and Amarillo at Lubbock.

Scores by innings:
Clovis 104 402 006-16 19
Amarillo 000 153 000-9 12
Venable, Phillips and Warren; Tomcek, Smith, Clarich, Mathes and Goff.

Lubbock 200 000 002-4 5 1
Abilene 220 230 009-9 9 2
Simmons, McDuff, Wise and Benites; Newberry and Bowland.

Palmer tossed his bat at sixth and they charged the mound. The Oiler catcher was met by Manager Jackie Sullivan, however, before reaching the mound and after a scuffle between Palmer and Sullivan, Palmer broke loose and tied into Davis. Palmer and Davis exchanged blows for a minute or so before the fight was broken up.

Both Palmer and Davis were bannep from the game by umpires Gene Bothell and Charlie Butler.

Lemons Wins 6th
Jim Lemons went the route for the Oilers last night and chalked up his sixth win of the season. It was actually Lemons' seventh win but the young right-hander was deprived of his previous win which was wiped off the books by league president Hal Sayles.

Lemons kept 10 Plainview hits pretty well scattered last night to win. Lemons' control was superb as he passed only one man while striking out five.

Plainview broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth with a two-run rally but the lead was short-lived as Tanner came through in the clutch in the ninth with his three-run homer.

Don Lewis opened the Oilers ninth with a walk. Lewis moved to second on pinch hitter Vibert Clarke's groundout and after Ben Felder was a groundout victim for the second out, Dick Hairston was purposely passed to get to Tanner. Little Rudy, however, broke up the strategy with his homerun.

A doubleplay, started by shortstop Gene Hauradou, cut down a potential Pony rally in the bottom of the ninth.

Oilers Return For Final Homestand

Locals Win Road Final On Tanner's Blow

The Pampa Oiler "comeback kids" return to the friendly confines of Oiler Park tonight to open up their final scheduled homestand of the 1954 season with a doubleheader against the Albuquerque Dukes.

Game time for the first tilt will be 7:15.

For the third straight night, the Oilers rallied in the late innings to snatch a victory when they came scoring on Rudy Tanner's fourth homerun in the ninth, to nip the Plainview Ponies, 5-4.

Tanner's timely blow came with two away and erased a 4-2 Plainview lead.

The Oilers thus swept four out of six games on their final road jaunt into the southern end of the league.

The locals failed to gain ground on the league leading Clovis Pioneers, though, as the New Mexico nine walloped Amarillo, 15-9, at Amarillo last night. The Oilers trail the Pioneers by one game for the league leadership.

Williams, Valesquez Due
Sad Sam Williams (12-9) and Jose Valesquez (13-7) are expected to hurl for the Oilers tonight as they open their homestand with a twinnbill against Albuquerque.

The Oilers will close their final Albuquerque series of the season tomorrow night when the largest crowd of the season is expected on hand for "Oiler Appreciation Night."

An estimated 6,000 tickets have been sold to Thursday's game. Local merchants are sponsoring the game. The merchants have purchased all the tickets for tomorrow's game and are distributing them to the fans free of charge.

Last night's game at Plainview was enlivened by a fist-fight between the Oilers' J. B. Palmer and pitcher Cecil Davis of Plainview. The fight was touched off when Davis came too close to Palmer's head with a pitch in the sixth inning.

Palmer tossed his bat at sixth and they charged the mound. The Oiler catcher was met by Manager Jackie Sullivan, however, before reaching the mound and after a scuffle between Palmer and Sullivan, Palmer broke loose and tied into Davis. Palmer and Davis exchanged blows for a minute or so before the fight was broken up.

400 SWC Gridders Open Drills

By UNITED PRESS
Some 400 aspiring football candidates were on hand to give the 40th Southwest Conference football season a rousing send-off Wednesday as they buckled down to the fall training grind with two-day workouts.

It was an "up-at-dawn" routine in every one of the seven camps as the coaches sought to heat the heat and get in as much practice as possible prior to the opening games of the season three weeks away.

Only Southern Methodist and Arkansas weren't too pushed in that respect since the SMU Mustangs do not open until Oct. 2 against Georgia Tech at Dallas and Arkansas until Sept. 25 against Tulsa at Fayetteville.

The other five open on Sept. 18 - Texas Christian against Kansas at Lawrence, Texas A&M against Texas Tech at College Station, Baylor at home against Houston, Rice at home against Florida and Texas at Austin against Louisiana State.

Texas, boasting 22 lettermen to rate by far the most experienced squad, was picked everywhere as the team to beat. Rice was the second choice despite heavy graduation inroads along the line, while Baylor rated a strong third.

SMU was a solid choice for fourth with its potent running attack, while TCU appeared to have the edge over Texas A&M and Arkansas in that order for the last three places.

The Texas Aggies, boasting the only new coach in the conference in Paul Bryant, were drilling at Junction - the only off-campus practice in the circuit.

Kluszewski Sets Redleg HR Mark

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1-UP-Ted Kluszewski, in taking over the major league leadership in home runs, has set a new Cincinnati Redlegs club record for homers.

The big first baseman walloped his 40th and 41st homers of the season in Tuesday's 9 to 3 loss to the Philadelphia Phillies. That put him two ahead of Willie Mays of the New York Giants in the major league race and enabled him to wipe out the Redlegs' club mark of 40 he established himself last season.

That means now if Cleveland wins only 11 of its remaining 23 games, the Yankees will have to win 15 out of their remaining 24 to finish on top. So Cleveland followers think they might be wise to have the corner stand by.

To borrow Charley Dressen's famous phrase about last year's Giants and alter it a little to fit the occasion - "The Yankees is almost dead."

Burly Early Wynn hammered another spike into the coffin Tuesday night when he pitched a superlative two-hit 6 to 1 triumph for the Indians that boosted their lead to 5 1/2 games before 58,859 fans at Yankee Stadium.

To borrow Charley Dressen's famous phrase about last year's Giants and alter it a little to fit the occasion - "The Yankees is almost dead."

Burly Early Wynn hammered another spike into the coffin Tuesday night when he pitched a superlative two-hit 6 to 1 triumph for the Indians that boosted their lead to 5 1/2 games before 58,859 fans at Yankee Stadium.

That means now if Cleveland wins only 11 of its remaining 23 games, the Yankees will have to win 15 out of their remaining 24 to finish on top. So Cleveland followers think they might be wise to have the corner stand by.

15 Returning Lettermen Give Pirates Pennant Aspirations

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor
LEFORS, Sept. 1 - Fifteen returning lettermen boost the Lefors Pirates' 1954 football stock who will start their third season under the tutelage of H. W. Callan this fall.

Callan has produced one District 1-A champion during his first two years at LHS and two of the leads who were on the team when the Pirates won the crown under Callan two years ago are among the 29 hopefuls reporting this season.

They are quarterback Eddie Clemmons and center R. J. Wooten, each of whom will be seeking their fourth letter award this fall. Six other boys on the '54 Pirate roster were also on the squad that year. They are halfbacks Johnny Rowe and Phillip Earhart; fullback Johnny Quarles; and Kenneth Cox; tackle Franklin Hankins; a n.d guard Robert Smith, each of whom will be going after their third letter this year.

"We're depending largely on last year's "B" team members to fill up some of the vacancies on the lineup this year," Callan said.

However, the Pirates will be strong contenders for the District

1-A flag this season, what with some seasoned veterans returning for another campaign.

The big hole that must be filled to make the Pirates a pennant contender is Joe David Martin's spot in the backfield. Martin, who graduated last spring, divided time at quarterback and halfback last season and was the Pirates' leading scorer.

Either Clemmons or Rice will likely fill the quarterback position. Both of these boys saw considerable service last fall at the signal calling position and it is expected they'll be dividing time there this fall.

Wooten, an all-district center last fall, will give plenty of strength to the Pirates in the forward wall. Other toughies in the forward wall are end Kenneth Cox, guard Robert Smith and tackle Franklin Hankins.

But the Pirates will still be faced to fill the vacancies left by the graduation of halfback Dickie Redus; tackles Randall Cole and Freddy Brister; and end Hugh Braly.

Callan, with C. H. Keeton on chief assistant for the third straight year, will bring his lads around to a pennant contending club as he always has.

The Pirates will open the season against Dalhart at Dalhart, Sept. 11.

Following is the Lefors schedule and team roster:

It's 'Do-Or-Die' For Yankees Now

Sauer Hits 13th Against Pirates

CHICAGO, Sept. 1-UP-Hank Sauer has established a new National League homer record at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Sauer's two-run homer in the 9th of Tuesday's 5 to 3 victory over Pittsburgh in the second game of Tuesday's double-header was his 13th of the season against the Pirates. That eclipsed the old league record of 12 homers in one season against a single team, set by Ralph Kiner of the Pirates against Brooklyn in 1950, and equaled the major league mark of 13 set by Jimmy Foy of the Philadelphia Athletics against Detroit in 1932.

For 3 in 3-3, HBP-Davis (Johnson), PB-Vergetis, W-Lemon, L-Simmons, U-Bothell and Butler, T-206.

SLOW-SPEED RECORD

Idling along at 11 miles per hour, the 2 1-2-ton Custer Channel Wing 5 moyses above the Oxnard, Calif., Airport during tests. Inboard section of the plane's wing is bent like a half-barrel, with engines mounted in the curved space. It's inventor, William R. Custer, says the engines pull air through throats of the half-barrels, creating a vacuum which sucks the plane aloft. The ship is said to have a high rate of climb, and require as little

Former Air Force Cadet Electrocuted

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 1.—UP—The state of Texas claimed the life of a 21-year-old former Air Force cadet Wednesday because he strangled his sweetheart in a moment of intimacy. Walter E. Whitaker Jr. of Wetherfield, Conn., was pronounced dead at 12:06 a.m. est, balancing the murder of 18-year-old Joyce Fern White of Lubbock, Tex., on Jan. 8, 1953.

"I want to thank everybody who has helped me in any way," Whitaker said just before he was led into the room housing the electric chair. He hesitated and added: "Well, I guess that's about it."

Whitaker's mother, wife of a well-to-do trucking operator, and his younger brother, Bruce, 19, saw him for the last time Tuesday morning when they attended Episcopal communion in his death cell with him.

They learned then there was almost no hope the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles would grant a stay of execution or commute Whitaker's death sentence.

"I was afraid of that," Whitaker said when he was told there was no hope. He ordered a last meal of fried chicken, French fried potatoes, hot rolls, lemon pie, ice cream and lemonade.

Whitaker appeared very calm as he was led into the execution room with his head shaved for the chair's electrodes. But he was very pale and seemed a little dejected.

The state charged Whitaker with murdering Miss White because she insisted on going with him when he was to be transferred from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock to another base. He had completed basic pilot's training at Reese.

Whitaker said Joyce told him she was pregnant and he planned to take her to New Mexico so they could marry. Instead, he said, she confessed she wasn't pregnant and they stopped on the lonely prairie to make love.

Whitaker, who was discharged by the Air Force after his conviction last summer, maintained he "blacked out" during the killing and knew nothing of it. During the 20 days Joyce was missing, Whitaker sympathized with her mother, a widow. He finally confessed he killed her and led officers to her grave.

Bus Drivers End Threat Of Strike

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 1.—UP—City Bus Co. drivers have postponed a threatened strike on a "day to day" basis.

The strike had been set for Tuesday midnight, by Tom Pritchard, business agent of Local 993, Amalgamated Union of Street Railway and Motorcoach Employees (AFL) said Tuesday night the union had agreed to a federal mediator's request for a postponement.

The 200 drivers and mechanics sought a 15-cent hourly pay boost. President Robert Bowers of the bus company said they got a five cent an hour increase last March, and another increase was not possible now.

A negotiation session with Federal Mediator Ethan Walker was scheduled Wednesday.

WACO, Sept. 1.—UP—A scheduled strike by Waco bus drivers was called off Tuesday night when the Transportation Workers of America (CIO) signed a new contract with the Waco Transit Co. calling for a five-cent hourly pay increase.

The drivers had asked for a 40-hour, five-day week with no loss of pay from the six-day week they now work. That demand was refused.

CHARGE DROPPED

Former Army Sgt. John David Provoov, who has been serving a life term for treason, has had the treason conviction reversed by the United States Court of Appeals, which has ordered the case returned to lower courts for a new trial. The unanimous ruling declared that Provoov's trial was "prejudiced" by introduction of irrelevant testimony about his personal life.

Farm Income Up Slightly

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—UP—Prices farmers received for crops and livestock rose about 2 per cent during the month ended Aug. 15, the Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

The gain, following two months of decline, was led by higher prices the farmers received for cotton, milk, eggs, oranges, hogs, and cottonseed.

The department said prices paid out by farmers in living and production items rose about 1 per cent during the month, chiefly due to higher prices for feeder livestock and livestock seed.

As a result of the increase in both farm prices and costs, prices received by farmers were said to average 89 per cent of parity—the so-called "fair earning" level—in mid-August, up 1 per cent from last month but about 2 per cent below a year ago.

The index of prices received by farmers stood at 251 per cent of the base period in mid-August, compared with 247 in mid-July, 255 in mid-August last year, and the all-time high of 313 hit in February, 1951.

The index of prices paid out by farmers stood at 282 per cent of the base period, compared with 280 a month earlier, 279 a year earlier, and the all-time high of 290 reached in May, 1952.

Recent Rains Dent Drouth In Southwest

AMARILLO, Sept. 1.—UP—The southwestern drouth has been dented by recent rains, the Santa Fe Railroad said Wednesday in its monthly crop report.

Sufficient surface moisture exists for the planting of the 1955 winter wheat crop, although subsoil moisture is still inadequate, the report said.

The area specified included southwestern Kansas, southeastern Colorado, the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, and eastern New Mexico.

The rains have given pastures a new lease on life, the report said, but will not provide a great deal of grazing between now and frost.

"Dry land sorghums and other crops can be expected to supply a considerable amount of grain," the report said. "They have given a boost to the dry land cotton acreage, providing frost holds off until a little later than average."

Highlights of the report by states included:
Texas: Hot, dry weather has been the rule in the North and East Texas, while the Panhandle-Plains area and portions of West Texas have received generally adequate rain in the last two weeks.

Oklahoma: The condition of the Oklahoma corn, cotton and sorghum crops follows the moisture pattern which has fallen over the state in the last few months. A considerable amount of replanting was necessary because of the heavy spring rains which resulted in part of the crop being late.
