GOVERNOR ALLAN SHIVERS ... sets election precedent

Shivers Wins Third Term; Parker Unseats Maguire

Precinct 2 Race Won By Lunsford

Gray County voters, with two hot county battles as well as a keen governor's race to spur them on, turned out in near-record numbers Saturday to sweep two new men into county jobs and to favor the return of Allan Shivers to Austin.

Adlai Bitterly Attacks GOP

STOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 28 - UP - Adlai Stevenson, in a direct attack on President Eisenhower, Saturday night accused the Republicans of failing to live up to their "fraudulent, cynical promises" to the nation's farmers.

Stevenson, in his sharpest criticism of the GOP since the 1952 election, accused the Eisenhower administration of a "breach of promise" in its farm program and said he believes the Republicans are guilty of "simple bad faith."

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate addressed party leaders from 15 farm belt states. He told them that the GOP farm program will accomplish little but lower farm prices.

Earlier, Stevenson at a news conference supported Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell in his "scandal" charges against the administration's award of a lucrative power contract to the Dixon-Yates combine.

Stevenson directly attacked President Eisenhower for language he said the President used in the 1952 political campaign.

He quoted Mr. Eisenhower as saying in a speech at Kasaan, Minn., that he endorsed not only farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity but at 100 per cent.

Former County Judge Bruce Parker was put back in office with a 658-vote margin over incumbent J. B. Maguire, Jr. Parker received a total of 2,892 votes to 2,234 for Maguire, and carried 16 of the county's 18 voting boxes in gaining the victory.

Maguire's only boxes were numbers 11, Kingsmill, and 18, Webb. He took box 11 with 52 to 37 and box 18 by 12 to 8. Absentee votes favored Parker 175 to 166.

Political Newcomer G. L. Lunsford, who led the ticket in the first primary, defeated incumbent W. E. (Bill) Jarvis in the other county race, that for county commissioner of Precinct 2.

Governor Shivers enjoyed a wider margin this time over Austin Attorney Ralph Yarborough. Shivers received 3,161 votes to 2,024 for Yarborough, a margin of 1,137 votes. In the first primary, Shivers had 2,751 votes to 2,011 for Yarborough.

Shivers collected 61 per cent of the votes cast in Saturday's second primary in Gray County. His total was 410 more than he received in the first primary, while Yarborough's increase over the first primary was only 13.

Yarborough carried only three boxes. He won in box 1, Lefora, 195 to 84. Number 12, Pampa Odd Fellows Hall, 235 to 237 and 13, Phillips Camp, 74 to 54.

The campaigning in the county judge's race was keyed to capture the 1,353 votes received by J. P. Fort, third man in the first primary. Parker won out, his second primary vote was 1,010 more than he received July 24. (See LUNSFORD, Page 2)

Victory Conceded By Yarborough

Gov. Allan Shivers won an unprecedented consecutive third term in Saturday's Democratic runoff election and early Sunday asked in "deepest humility" for the cooperation of every Texan.

Brink Suspect Killer Escapes

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (UP)—Elmer (Trigger) Burke, a "kill crazy psychopath" hired to machine-gun a suspect in the $1 million Brink's robbery, broke out of jail Saturday with the help of three men wearing black silk stockings over their heads.

The fantastic daylight break was staged with the precision of a wartime commando raid. There was no trace of Burke Saturday night although the police arrested a man suspected of helping in the escape.

FBI joined the search for the desperado because he is wanted in New York on murder charges. Burke, a skinny 140-pounder, was reported here from New York by informant Joseph (Spoo) O'Keefe, a longtime key suspect in the $1,218,000 Brink's robbery Jan. 17, 1950.

James J. Torpey, who was released July 2 from the same jail that Burke fled Saturday afternoon, was held on suspicion of aiding an escape and tests were being made for his hands for fingerprints. One hooded man was seen leaving the jail area with Burke.

His opponent, Ralph Yarborough, conceded at 12:05 a.m. Sunday at his home in Austin. He told his supporters: "You made your voices heard today, and you are a force to be reckoned with in the future of our great state."

The heat generated by the runoff campaign brought out the largest total of votes ever cast in a Texas primary of runoff. The total, it was estimated, will run about 1,450,000.

In the other statewide race, State Supreme Court Justice Few Brewster of Bell county won another term. Former Dallas Mayor and former State Democratic Chairman Wallace Savage won nomination to Congress from the Fifth District.

Bell Appears Victor And in the 14th district, John Bell of Cuero apparently won nomination to Congress. Since Texas has had only one Republican congressman since Reconstruction, nomination for Bell and Savage is about as good as election.

Shivers' victory showed that the majority of Democrats in Texas still prefer conservative policies and candidates, even when the longtime key suspect in a Republican on a national level.

Shivers supported Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in 1952 and ran on a conservative platform. On the other hand, Yarborough was regarded as a more liberal Democrat, who would have made peace with the national leadership of the Democratic party.

Latest TER Returns Returns at 1 a.m. to the Texas Election Bureau from 252 of 254 counties in the state, including 216 complete.

For governor, Shivers 768,031 (53.1748 per cent) and Yarborough 676,320 (46.8252 per cent). For the State Supreme Court, Brewster 771,486 votes and Alfred M. Scott of Austin 426,967.

For Congress, District 14 (nearly complete returns from 14 of 19 counties): Bell (43,161) and William Shireman of Corpus Christi, 36,120. For Congress, District 5 (complete): Savage 52,343 votes and Leslie Harker, 41,071.

Yarborough received the news of his defeat in Austin, where he and his wife were entertaining friends and supporters with barbecued turkey and ham and punch. He revised his statement of concession several times and newsmen waiting for the statement heard laughter floating from his home.

Shivers got the news of his victory in Woodville, in his family home, nearly a century old. Yarborough got the returns in Austin, where he is an attorney and former judge.

Shivers asked for the cooperation of all Texans.

Ex-Pachuco Spills Beans

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (UP)—A former member of terrorist Pachuco Society told police of the group's secret rites Saturday and said one Pachuco gang even had an auxiliary for girls.

Rex Orton, 24, made the disclosures as reports of Pachuco activity spread, involving Air Force bases and cities across the country.

Orton said he joined the Pachuco while living in Los Angeles, the center of the society's activity. He said he was forced to risk his life.

AMARILLO, Aug. 28 (UP)—Two hitchhikers were in jail Saturday on charges of stealing the car of Airman Stuart W. Mekeal, stationed at Amarillo Air Force Base.

The district attorney's office said one of those charged, James L. Malone, 21, Fort Worth, had identified himself as a member of the "Pachuco" terrorist gang. He was wearing symbols of the organization, a tattooed cross on his right hand and a gold earring in one ear.

Public hearings will begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday in the same high-ceilinged, marble-walled Senate caucus room which was the scene of the eight-week McCarthy feud hearings last spring. Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) said the staff had subpoenaed a "small number of witnesses and already had questioned some in secret to lay groundwork for the investigation."

Watkins told newsmen the six-man committee probably will take up first the charges that McCarthy refused to testify before a Senate elections subcommittee which investigated his finances in 1952.

Football is in the air again, and fans in the Top of Texas area will want to get some pre-season facts on the prospects of the various high school eleven.

It all starts tomorrow in the Pampa Daily News, when sports Editor Buck Francis starts his tour of the training camps.

The News will publish a preview story from each of the schools in this area together with pictures of the squads and outstanding player prospects. The series starts with Monday's story from White Deer.

death to gain membership. The test required that he drive without lights over a mountain road at 80 miles an hour while another car without lights sped toward him.

Orton broke the secret oath of the society and made the disclosures as police here and in other cities, and authorities at military bases picked up a swelling number of youths branded with Pachuco tattoo—a cross haloed with dots.

TOT Ag Days Called Success

The first annual Top of Texas Agriculture and Livestock Achievement Days came to an end Friday afternoon with all officials labeling it a tremendous success.

The two-day affair was mainly for youths Thursday, but turned Friday to the adults for a tour of area farms, a barbecue, talks by agricultural and ranching officials and a Hereford judging contest.

Both Quentin Williams, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee, and Jim Strawn, chairman of the program planning committee, Saturday praised Pampa's new promotion.

Friday morning's tour included visits to the farms of Roland Dauterive. (See AG DAYS, Page 3)

France Set To Strangle EDC Army

PARIS, Aug. 29 - UP Premier Pierre Mendes-France appeared Saturday night to have delivered the final blow to the European army plan as the national assembly began its long-awaited "final" debate on the controversial plan.

Parliamentary sources said the premier had demanded "complete surrender" from EDC proponents as his price for interrupting the debate before the final "yes" or "no" vote and calling another six-nation conference to hammer out a compromise.

In a series of frantic behind-the-scenes negotiations Mendes-France met with the backers of the project and said he would agree to another Brussels conference only if they accepted in full his plans for watering down the plan.

The other members of the EDC—West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg—rejected his proposals at a conference in Brussels last week because it would rob the projected European army of its supra-national character.

Twenty-Four Dead In Crash Of B-36

RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 28 (UP)—A giant B-36 bomber crashed into a small hill and burst into flames in a landing attempt at Ellsworth Air Force base and the Air Force reported Saturday that 24 men were killed and three injured.

The 10-engine intercontinental bomber, commanded by Lt. Col. Wray P. Cotterill of Maplewood, Mo., on a routine training flight, crashed Friday night in a rough pasture adjacent to the base. Flaming wreckage was strewn more than a quarter of a mile.

The base public information office announced the names of the victims shortly after noon Saturday. Eight officers, including Col. ... and 16 enlisted men died in the crash.

Air Force officers said the bomber, locally based, struck a small hill as it came in for a landing.

Tourist 'Arrest' Is Postponed The Tourist of the Week award was postponed this week. Bill Fannon, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Development Committee, announced Saturday.

Fannon said the committee was unable to complete all the necessary arrangements in time for this week's "arrest."

It is based on the famous book by Carnegie "How To Win Friends and Influence People." The book sold over 4,000,000 copies.

Enrollment can be made through Hopkins or Carter or by attending the opening sessions. The first three nights of the course are open to the public. ### Close As A Vote Can Be

Mrs. Dot Davis defeated L. D. Rider by a slender two votes in the contest for Pct. 1 (Lefors) Democratic chairman.

It was the first time in the history of Gray County that such a situation had ever occurred. By law, there had to be a runoff.

This time, if one person who voted for Mrs. Davis had voted for Rider, it would have been tied again, 144-144.

Government May Ask Rebale From 'Windfall Profiteers'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 —UP—The government disclosed Saturday it is taking drastic legal steps to force apartment house builders to rebate millions of dollars in "windfall profits" on FHA insured loans.

First target of the crackdown is Sidney Sarnet, builder of the huge Linwood Park project at Fort Lee, N.J.

Sarnet claimed protection of the fifth amendment recently when Senate house scandal investigators sought to question him about a $2.4 million windfall profit on the project.

Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said the FHA, as owner of all preferred stock in 13 corporations which Sarnet set up at Linwood Park, has decided to "assume control of the corporations" and "compel recipients of windfalls to pay back the money."

He said Sarnet has been ordered to call meetings of the preferred stockholders (the FHA) within the next 10 days "for the purpose of removing the present directors of the corporations and of electing new ones." The new directors will be named by the FHA.

He said it is based on Section 608 of the 1950 housing act, under which "windfall" loans were made. This section gives the govern-

Foresight Of Citizenry Aided March Of Medicine In County

The march of medicine in Gray County's 52-year-old history can be seen in the causes of death listed in county files.

In the early days, the doctor had no such diagnoses as "coronary thrombosis, cardiac decompensation, fractured cervical vertebrae, carcinomatosis, exsanguination" and other things still pronounceable only by doctors.

Instead, a man died then of plain old "heart trouble," "old age," "accident," or even "lack of vitality." Diphtheria, whooping cough, pneumonia, la grippe and catarrhal fever took a heavy toll in those pre-vaccination and-hospital days.

Few Doctors

Few doctors were in the area then and distance and poor transportation handicapped those who were. Home remedies were improvised to care for the sick and the recovery of patients was left largely up to "chance and prayer."

Pointing out the difference in practicing medicine in 1902 and in 1954, Pampa's senior physician, Dr. W. Purviance, says, "No matter what the diagnosis, the cure was always the same."

Home remedies were usually ether and "coal oil," turpentine and sugar, mustard plasters, or salts and senna. Doctors' prescriptions were also on the limited side. Dr. Purviance points out that they not only had to fight the disease itself, but also some of the remedies applied.

Aspirin was the early-day physician's chief "cure-all" and Dover's powders was the favorite prescription for coughs. Turpentine hydrate and heroin were used in some degree as medicines. Dr. Purviance recalls, and morphine and codeine were administered for pain.

Then came the wonder drugs, modern facilities and the conquest of many common diseases, such as pneumonia, diphtheria and whooping cough. Gray County's medical history parallels the universal advancement in this field and boasts professional service and hospital facilities to match those of any other area its size or many much larger.

Dr. Purviance was not the first doctor in the area, but he served as a colleague of the first, Dr. V. W. vonBrunow, who practiced for many years in a frame building on Cuyler that also housed the post office. He was joined by Dr. Barrett for a while.

First Drug Store

In 1912 when Dr. Purviance came to Pampa from Illinois, where he had practiced medicine, he stocked the first drug store, formerly operated by Harvey Haynes. He began practicing medicine first as an Assistant to Dr. Brunow. He recalls the times he was called by the older doctor to help him start his car, the first in the area — and then call on a case with him.

In lieu of hospitals, family homes were converted into hospitals for emergency operations. It took a half day to get ready for the operation and the whole neighborhood, Dr. Purviance remembers, to complete the surgical staff.

While part of the neighborhood recalls the preparing the dining room table for surgery, others were on hand to hold kerosene lamps or keep equipment handy. It took another half-day to clean up after the operation, the doctor recalls, but somehow, people lived through it.

Getting to homes, even after the advent of the automobile, often proved difficult. For example, in 1920, doctors had to rely on ponies to take them through snow piles.

A few epidemics also upset the area: Measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria were always a problem and a flu epidemic struck shortly after World War I. Before that time, in 1909, typhoid fever had scourged the area.

Doctors not only served through epidemics, snows and general obstacles, but they also took on other duties. Dr. Brunow served as postmaster at one time; he owned the first car and graded the first road. General practitioners also served as dentists.

First Hospital

Dr. Purviance was joined by Dr. Archie Cole in 1914 and together they operated a clinic above the First National Bank building. This clinic served the area till 1927 when whispers of oil got louder and the need for a hospital was established.

The two physicians, with the help of the local citizenry, built an 18-room, two-story hospital at Houston and Kingsmill in 1927. Called the Pampa Hospital, it served the city till 1948 when Highland General Hospital was begun.

In 1931, Drs. Purviance and Cole sold the hospital to Drs. F. I. Reid, J. H. Kelley, A. B. Goldson, Jerry Johnson and a Dr. Buchanan. It was operated by them till 1948.

The oil boom and the influx of population made a new hospital necessary, so in 1931, Dr. J. C. McKean, who had been practicing in a clinic, began it. Mrs. Phoebe Worley helped finance the building and it began operation in 1931 as the McKean-Worley Hospital. First to practice in it were Drs. R. M. Bellamy, H. L. Wilder, C.D. Hunter and a Van Sickle. In the next 17 years, there were two sales of the premises and gradually other doctors were taken in as partners.

When World War II was over, members of the Gray County Medical Association asked the county commissioners' court to consider asking taxpayers to vote bonds for another hospital. It passed and ground-breaking began in the late spring of 1948. Construction was completed Feb. 15, 1950. The staff of Highland General is composed of all members of the medical association.

With all the present facilities, it is no wonder Dr. Purviance maintains, "Practicing medicine is surely a lot easier than it was 40 years ago."

Teen-Aged Girls Guilty Of Murder

CHRISTCHURCH, N. Z., Aug. 28 — UP — An all-male jury found two sullen teen-age girls guilty of a "thrill" killing Saturday but their age saved them from the hangman's noose.

Pauline Parker, 16, and Juliet Hulme, 15, sat staring woefully at the floor as the jury brought in its verdict after only two hours and 14 minutes' deliberation.

They showed no emotion as they heard their sentence to an indefinite period of imprisonment for clubbing Pauline's mother, Mrs. Honora Mary Parker with a brick wrapped in a stocking.

Both girls admitted killing Mrs. Parker in a plot to make her death look like an accident. Pauline noted in her diary that she was "very excited" on the eve of the killing.

Defense Attorney Terence Gresson pleaded that the girls were lately homosexual and irresponsible.

September To Mark Historic Social Step

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 — UP — A historic social step will be taken next month when public schools in five "border" states and the District of Columbia begin mixing Negro and white children in compliance with a Supreme Court decision.

The high court declared May 17 that race segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. Although the court has postponed formal decrees to enforce its decision, schools in Arkansas, West Virginia, Missouri, Maryland, Delaware and the U.S. capital are going ahead with first steps toward integration.

Schools in 12 other states, chiefly in the South, are waiting further Supreme Court action before doing anything about their segregated schools. Some are talking about abolishing public schools entirely rather than mixing Negro and white children.

But local resistance by parents and others has caused one or two setbacks in integration plans.

Police Called

In West Virginia, where at least six of 55 counties plan full public school integration this fall, the first public demonstration occurred Aug. 18 at Philippi. Police were called to an unruly board of education meeting at which residents protested plans to mix white and Negro pupils in some eight Negro grade schools, and to assign 20 high school students formerly sent to a neighboring Negro high school to Philippi high. Among those present were parents of 12 white children assigned to a predominantly Negro grade school at Hanging Rock.

There was no violence. But the next night the board met secretly and decided to assign the 12 children to white schools up to 1½ miles from their homes to meet parents' objections. However the board said integration in other grade schools and in the high school, where there has been no protest, were affirmed.

The United Press survey covered principally the 17 states and the District of Columbia, which have had compulsory school segregation laws or regulations. In certain other states with laws permitting but not requiring segregation, steps were under way even before the Supreme Court ruling.

Abandoned in Topeka

Kansas, one of the states involved in the Supreme Court ruling, has a state law permitting segregation in 12 cities, only nine of which actually have had it. Even before the high court ruling, Topeka, the capital, abandoned segregation and began working toward a unified school system.

New Mexico and Arizona, which also have laws permitting segregation, have taken steps to integrate existing white and Negro schools. But in Hobbs, N.M., Baptist Pastor Bill Carter is leading a move to prevent the immediate end to segregation ordered by the local board of education.

Benson Says Farm Vote Not For Sale

WAYNESBORO, Va., Aug. 28 — UP — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson expressed confidence Saturday that his farm program will be "good politics" in the coming congressional campaigns.

Speaking to a farm group here, Benson vigorously challenged assertions that Republicans might lose the farm vote because he and President Eisenhower insisted on installing flexible price supports.

"He told a 'conservation action day' audience that the administration is 'the real friend of the farmer' despite what 'you will hear from the political fox holes in the next two months.'"

"I don't believe that the farm vote of this nation is for sale to the highest bidder," he said.

Political Wrath

Benson reviewed the fight in the closing days of Congress in which the administration program won out over advocates of high rigid price supports.

There were warnings, he said, that the administration would fall under the political wrath of the nation if it dared to do what was right."

"Along with the President, I firmly believe that what is right is good politics," Benson said. "The problems of agriculture cannot be solved through political hocus pocus — through a government hand-out here and there — through this or that pressure group."

"It will be a sad day for the American farmer if the time ever comes when he must depend on the action of government in order to make a good livelihood," Benson said. "From that day onward the farmer will be putting his political freedom in hock for a mess of pottage."

'Will Not Be Pressured'

Declaring "we will not be pressured into doing things that are fundamentally wrong," Benson said such groups as last year's "Cattle caravan" might as well stay home "as far as I am concerned."

"I am more impressed by the reasoned arguments of two or three man delegation than by all the fan fare of a small army arriving in trucks and buses and going home in airplanes," he said.

Sixty Per Cent Of PHS Grads To Attend College

COLLEGE BECKONS — Getting a few pieces of luggage and such ready to hold her over until the main shipment of clothes arrives or she can buy something in Los Angeles, is Patsy Darby who will undertake her freshman year on the University of Southern California campus in another 10 days. (News Photo)

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

The hallowed halls of ivy — the nation's colleges — will be graced by a substantial delegation of Pampa High School graduates. Some 60 per cent of Pampa's June grads will be college mavericks, sauntering off adventurously to points as distant as Montana and California. Knowing the size of Texas, though, no one is claiming it'll be a bicycle ride for those going to the University of Texas at Austin.

Scanning the horizons of the blue Pacific from an elevated vantage point, possible on the third floor of a girl's dorm in Los Angeles, will be Patsy Darby, who will be on the University of Southern California campus come another 10 days.

Decision Difficult
Patsy couldn't quite make up her mind for a while whether she'd go to the east or west coast. For a short time her sights were set on Smith College in Northampton, Mass., but possibly the more restful shade of blue of the Pacific decided her in favor of the sun-drenched California weather. (There are indications another restful shade of blue — eyes that is — may have swayed her from an original intention to see the area renowned for baked beans and brown bread.)

Some of Patsy's time will be taken up with her intended major in English, with a minor in foreign languages, but the discussion quickly lapsed onto the theme of the beauty and friendliness apparent on the USC campus. She visited the school with her mother in July.

Patsy suspects, though for a time "I may be a bit lonesome." There isn't a soul going with me from Pampa, but it's going to be fun meeting new people."

But Patsy will manage to give the books a perusal. "Daddy (H. O. Darby) won't mind footing the bills as long as I learn something," Patsy said in tones reminiscent of a dutiful daughter.

Another Head West
Steve Burdette will also be heading west with a possible steamer trunk. He will assume the arduous duties of freshman life during orientation week at Stanford University, in Palo Alto. Carter Burdette, senior at New England's Amherst, almost swayed his brother to his alma mater, but Steve, heeding the advice of a seasoned easterner, Horace Greeley, is moving due west. Steve has his mind set on pre-law.

Carter's consolation may be taken in the fact that, as he puts it, "both of us have the adventurous spirit, and we'll be manning both coasts." Sort of like a defense effort.

Not to be outdone, Bill Rice and Danny Schroedel, will turn out a Buaneyance effort, and travel north to heavily wooded Montana, where they both will attend the state university at Missoula, they plan majors in forestry and game and wildlife management.

The boys will room together, and as Bill says, "it's going to be great combining love of the outdoors with a chosen career." Genevieve de Galard Traube, French heroine of Dien Bien Phu, and 20th century Florence Nightingale, may not have been the immediate cause for desiring a nursing career, but several co-eds will start their "probie" period in various schools of nursing within the next few weeks. Jackie Marie Goodan will be off to join the corps of women in white at St. Anthony's in Amarillo.

Jackie has been working as a student nurse at Worley Hospital this summer in preparation for her studies, and she says, characteristic of the other girls going to nursing, "I love to work with people, and take care of the sick."

Mary Ann McPeak begins her nursing studies Sept. 7, at Lubbock Memorial Hospital, and Ruby Roberts will head into Sooner country to undertake training at the Oklahoma School of Nursing in Oklahoma City.

Harvester guard, John McBride, will not let Texas' petroleum engineering fraternity down. He's making his way to Newman Hall on the University of Texas campus and buckling down to a rugged year of freshman sciences. He's part of a sizable contingent from Pampa making its way to Austin. Sorely missed in the Harvester cheer leading section this fall will be Jean Martindale, who will join John on the TU campus. Business administration will be his major effort, but his voracious activities are bound to complicate many a Saturday Longhorn football session.

Not all of Pampa's stalwart sons and daughters are taking off for parts "unknown." Among those remaining in the home balliwick, knowing it is always considered sound to be anchored near where you are natured, are Don Duengel, and Frankie Turpen. Don, leaves on Sept. 12, for his "basic" at Texas Technological College in Lubbock and a career in chemical engineering. He will join his brother, Larry, who is an accounting major there.

Four-year letter woman in volleyball, Frankie Turpen, heads up an advance crew, settling down for four years on West Texas State College in Canyon, where she expects to major in physical education.

Pampans will be making their way to the campuses of well over a dozen fine schools within Texas or foreign parts.

Eighteen is a wonderful age. What fun to be among the lucky cohorts of the collegiate fraternity embarking on a four year journey. It would be so pleasant to begin again.

Utility Rates May Be Cut In Canadian

CANADIAN — A 20 per cent cut in city light and power rates may be put into effect during the next billing period.

No official action has yet been taken by the Canadian City Commission, Mayor Malouf Abraham announced. But the commissioners have agreed in general on the plan and expect to work out details in the next week.

A slight compensating increase in city water rates is also proposed as a part of the general plan.

Net saving to city residents in total city billings — for light, power and water — would amount to about $12,000 per year if the proposed rate schedules are adopted.

The plan under consideration calls for major reductions in rates for commercial power and residential lights, together with a small increase in water rates. Net saving on total city billings for the average Canadian resident would amount to about 20 per cent if the proposed rate schedules are adopted.

HOUSTON, Aug. 28 — UP — An ambulance driver rushing a heart stimulant to a dying woman got a speeding ticket and the resulting furor left police quaking with the jitters Saturday.

R. S. Bill Jr., president of the Volunteer Mercy Corps, was ticketed for allegedly doing 55 miles an hour in a rush-hour traffic en route to Park View Hospital where Mrs. Hobson Reynolds' heart had stopped during an operation.

Police said "we clocked him at 55 miles an hour and he outran us." Bill said he might have been doing 65 but his ambulance wouldn't go 55.

A television station broadcast the incident and the police switchboard was flooded with calls of protest and threats to vote down a police pay raise, being voted upon Saturday.

Mrs. Reynolds died.

CIO Claims 83rd Congress Aided By Bi-Partisanship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — UP — The CIO said Sunday the recently adjourned 83rd Congress "defaulted" in its responsibilities to the people and produced a record that is "shameful" and "contrary to the public interest."

The few positive achievements, according to a report by the CIO's legislative committee, "resulted from bi-partisan support, and represented continuation of policies initiated during prior administrations."

It said the 83rd Congress, which convenes next January, "will have a big job" because "there is much that must be done to repair the damage of the 83rd Congress."

Some of Worst Decisions
President Eisenhower, in his radio television speech from Denver last Monday night, saluted member of Congress for their hard work, for their effective accomplishments. He said they approved a substantial part of his program.

The CIO repeated the charge that the record should be judged by the extent to which Congress has complied with the recommendations of the President.

"As a matter of fact," it said, "some of the worst decisions, taxes, offshore oil, farm policy — were the result of White House recommendations."

The report, prepared by legislative director Robert Oliver, criticized 10 major points in the CIO's record:

"1. It has embarked on a give-away program" in oil, in power, in atomic energy.

"Trickle-Down Economics"

"2. It has embraced the dangerous school of trickle-down economics which believes the welfare

COMMIES HIT KINMEN

Chinese Communists, who repeatedly have threatened to capture Nationalist bastion of Formosa, claimed last week a Red naval party attacked Nationalist-held island of Kinmen in the Formosa Strait Monday, Aug. 23. Kinmen lies only 15 miles from Communist mainland port of Amoy. Landings on the advanced outpost was made in Kuningtao district of Kinmen, also known as Quemoy.

Green Verdon, of "Can-Can," explains why dancers never become too popular on television. "A dancer can't get anywhere on TV," Gwen says, "because even good dancers look bad. You have no room to work, and the distortion is frightful. And any more than six appearances a year would completely exhaust your repertoire. "Distortion is terrible, but I'm lucky. Busy faces don't distort as badly as full faces. There's a lean flesh to distort. I have a strong nose and not much flesh on my cheeks — yet."

"Strike It Rich" has had its 17th, generous hands full during its career. It has had much criticism, plenty of ill-deserved criticism. But it still is a popular show, and one of the reasons is that many of the answers Warren Hull gets to his quiz questions are pretty funny.

Marcelline — French salad dressing. Prestige — a green vegetable of the spinach family. Electrolysis — how some states put murderers to death. Telepathy — a code invented by Morse.

Bequest Tortois — the man who discovered radium. Asperity — the drug from which aspirin is made. Calzone — an Italian baby. Peter Mimusl — a man who invented a popular dance.

Open shop — a factory with a window. (Closed shop like air conditioning.) Bismarck — the father of the Kaiser, very fond of herring.

Matia Hari — means suicide in Japanese. Stowaway — on shipboard, man with biggest appetite. Observation — table talk. Antimony — money inherited from your mother's sister. Boxing the compass — two prize fighters going in opposite directions.

Jules Herbevaux, NBC's Chicago boss, says he thinks education can be — and is — entertaining. Herbevaux was responsible for "Zoo Parade," which certainly fills the bill.

"Zoo Parade is both," Herbevaux says. "You just have to be careful what you call it. If it had been called 'Zoology,' nobody would watch it."

If you want to be a popular singer, you have to have five things. At least that's what Mindy Carson says. In order, Mindy's big five are: talent, love of show business, good health, a brain that functions and a nice personality.

The first three are self-explanatory, but why do you need a brain to sing today's popular songs? "Well," said Mindy, "you've got to be smart enough not to get big-headed. And a nice personality is necessary, too, because if you're a stinker, it shows."

She left out one factor — a good appearance. Nowadays, you can't get anywhere singing unless you're good looking, except maybe into showers.

For what it's worth, this is Milton Berle's favorite gag. "I was in Landy's the other day, and a guy at the next table ordered a cup of coffee. Then he put about ten spoons of sugar in it. I said to him, 'Why don't you stir it?'"

New Texas Insurance Firm Caters To The Oil Industry

A new Texas life insurance company, Oil Industries Life, started operations in the state one month ago, and announced Saturday that the Pampa-Borger area led all other sections of Texas with the sale of more than $500,000 in charter policies. Several millions were sold throughout the state.

The company has more than 35,000 stockholders in Texas, with sales concentration on the oil industry.

Initial capitalization is $1,000,000, brought about at no organizational cost. No Texas insurance company has started out with $1 million paid-in cash capital and surplus, according to Alfred M. Best Co., national insurance research organization.

"Oil Industries Life," said John Bennick, president of the company, "interviewed presidents of more than 30 leading life insurance companies and adopted their best practices."

bank presidents, a savings and loan president, a judge, two officials of the largest oil workers' unions, and prominent Texas men of varied business experience.

The directors include Lee Johnson, superintendent of schools at Phillips. Other directors include outstanding oilmen, businessmen and clergymen.

General agents for the 18 counties of the eastern Panhandle are Carroll E. Oden and Edward D. Robison of Pampa. Robison has been working with the Pampa district agent, Joe Cee.

Santa Fe's Canadian Move OK'd

Headed by experienced insurance and business executives, Oil Industries Life has a highly trained agency force already operating throughout the state.

Included among administrative and advisory directors are five independent oil operators, three oil company presidents, four Texas

CANADIAN — Santa Fe has received permission from the Texas Railroad Commission to move its Canadian freight terminal to Amarillo.

C. F. Pettit, TRRC's special examiner who conducted the June 23 hearings in Canadian, made the announcement.

The decision climaxed a two-year battle between Santa Fe, members of railroad employee unions and the City of Canadian over the closing of the terminal.

Only question left now is when the move becomes effective. R. C. Martini, assistant to Santa Fe General Manager G. R. Buchanan, said there are several details to be worked out on the timing of the move.

Agreements signed by Santa Fe officials and officers of the "Big Four" railroad brotherhoods earlier this year, however, provided that the property settlement agreements would go into effect 30 days after the effective date of the TRRC decision and further allowed employees 180 days after the effective date to declare their option of property settlements.

Santa Fe agreed to pay local employees for Canadian real estate in a settlement deal which estimates indicated would cost the railroad in the neighborhood of $700,000. Some 130 families will be affected by the terminal move.

Baptist Youths Attend Conclave

Twenty young Pampa Baptists have joined an estimated 1,000 others from the Southern Baptist Convention at Gloria, N. M., where a week-long student Baptist assembly is being held.

They left Pampa Wednesday and are expected to return home sometime this Wednesday, according to J. R. Strohle, First Baptist Church minister of education. They are staying at the cabin of the First Baptist Church, Amarillo.

Two Pampa Marines, Pfc. Jerry E. Lundford, son of Mrs. Helen Lundford, and Pfc. Joe C. McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McWilliams of 1318 Mary Ellen, participated in a joint Marine-Army amphibious and airborne exercise on Okinawa, Aug. 6.

The major assault force, the 4th Marine Regimental Combat Team, hit Kinmu Saki beach on the southeast side of Okinawa while a company of the Army's 157th Airborne team parachuted onto Kin airfield.

Carried ashore by Army's 56th tank and Amphibious Tractor Battalion and supported by aircraft from Marine Fighter Squadron 24, the assault force drove inland to join forces with the paratroopers. The Marine Combat Team was backed by 3rd Marine Division tanks, artillery, engineers and service units.

The 4th Marine Regiment, a unit of the 3rd Marine Division, is based at Camp Nara, in southern Honshu, Japan. The supporting units came from various camps throughout Japan for the assault on Okinawa.

Spike Jones Gives Word On Recording

EDITOR'S NOTE: Aline Mosby is on vacation. In this guest column, many musician Spike Jones tells how he records his musical mayhem.

By SPIKE JONES
Written for United Press
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28—(UP)—So many people have asked me how our latest album, "Music for Leasebreakers," was recorded, I've decided to take you to a typical City Slicker recording session. In the building where we record, every artist is given a studio in keeping with his importance. Eddie Fisher has a gold studio. Perry Como's is silver. Ours is gray. Makes the mops more inconspicuous.

The musicians report for work at 9 o'clock in the morning. First I check to see if they're all present. I count heads and then divide by two.

Next I inspect the instruments. When I started, I had 65 (two .32 caliber pistols and a washboard). Today there are more than 300 instruments, ranging from a cowbell to a kitchen sink with an E-flat garbage disposal and a year's supply of garbage.

I tap the conductor's stand for attention. Farthest away from the conductor's stand, and facing it, is the brass section. This is composed of two trumpets, a trombone and an ashtray. The latter is played by our first ash trayist, Sir Frederic Gas. Sir Frederic was first ash trayist with the London Philharmonic. I obtained him in a shrewd trade for two boosters and a bottle of monocyte polish.

Now that the orchestra is seated, I give out the music. No one in the band can read it — we just do this to impress the recording engineer. We are ready to begin. I say to the musicians, "today we are going to record Ponchielli's 'Dance of the Hours.'" "How do you spell it?" someone asks me.

"Pon...pur..." It's time for lunch. We take a short lunch hour — everybody is back by 4 o'clock. Then it's time for naps. I wake the band at 7 and we go out for dinner. We're back by 10 and the work begins.

I raise the baton and give the down beat. The hand springs into action. George Rock pulls a mustard plaster off Peter James' chest. James screams, waking up the drummer who rolls into Kenny Burt who knocks over Roger Donley's tuba, spilling the tea Roger has been boiling in the horn. Helen Graco thinks the tide is coming in and dons a bathing suit. Paul Leu sees her and whistles. This causes a robin to lay an egg on the G string of the piano. This gives us our first note and we continue from there.

'Executive Furniture' Closely Guarded By U. S. Bigwigs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—UP—City the poor "Grade 14" bureaucrat whose office rug is wearing out.

He can't get a new one unless he's promoted to Grade 15, and the rug problem has become a "most difficult thing to manage," an Agriculture Department property supply official said Saturday.

A lot of low and medium-grade government officials had rugs in their offices before a new regulation was issued about a year ago. Now some of them (rugs, not officials) are getting pretty shoddy.

But under the new rule issued by the General Services Administration, which operates and maintains government buildings, rugs are classified as "executive furniture." They can be spread only in offices occupied by bureau or division chiefs who rank in Grade 15 and above.

This is pretty high up the bureaucratic scale, just below the policymaking level. A government official who works his way up to Grade 15 earns between $10,800 and $11,900 a year and may be a key man in the operation of multi-million dollar federal programs.

A Grade 14 official, earning from $9,600 to $10,600, may hold equally important posts. But he can't get a new rug. When the old one wears out, he'll have to walk on the bare floor. Neither can he order other "executive type" furniture. That would violate Title 1, Chapter 3, Section 204 of General Services Administration's regulations.

An ordinary government employee works at a steel or wooden desk costing $70 to $85. A bigger, shiny "executive type" desk costs $194 to $295. Interviewing officials up to Grade 14, a reporter sits on metal or wooden chairs. Interviewing an "executive type" official he sinks comfortably into one of the "fully upholstered leather chairs and davenporters" approved by Title 1, Chapter 3, Section 204.

Herbert Hoover Jr. New Top Diplomat

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If there is anything that will put Herbert Hoover, Jr., in stitches now on, it will be to remind him that he's a top ranking diplomat.

HERBERT HOOVER, JR.: "I am nothing but an engineer."

The 51-year-old son of former resident Hoover is the new Undersecretary of State and that's a ripped pants job. It makes Hoover principal deputy to Secretary John Foster Dulles.

On Oct. 1, Hoover officially will take over from Walter Bedell Smith, who is retiring after a lifetime of military and diplomatic service to go into private business.

Between now and then, Hoover will be learning from Smith, who never has much of a black Homburg on himself.

"I am nothing but an engineer," Hoover tells you. When he came to Washington as a special consultant to Dulles last October, Hoover left the presidency of the United Geophysical Co. of Pasadena, Calif.

What convinced President Eisenhower that the engineer was a top diplomatic prospect was the marvelous way he brought the Iranian crisis to a successful conclusion after several others had failed.

He had to untangle a thorny, three-year-old dispute between the Iranian government and the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. Now the U.S. can be assured that the oil will flow towards the East rather than the East.

While working out the settlement over the Atlantic on 14 occasions and went to Teheran six times.

"I'm resigned to being on airplanes between Washington, London and Teheran for the next six months," he confided to an associate last November. He had to slip up an apartment in all three cities.

Hoover is built like a football player, so it is hard to believe that he was laid up for a year with beriberi in 1930. But he is now in perfect health, a handsome man with graying hair and blue eyes. Few people here know him well, for he has been traveling a large part of the time. Employees at the State Department are most likely to see him in the cafeteria carrying on some business over lunch.

Hoover avoids the social whirl. His manner is quiet and he speaks with a gentle voice, but beneath, his colleagues say he is an uncommunicative air of firmness. They say the Russians will put nothing over on him.

Above all Hoover does not take himself seriously. He has no desire to go any further in public life. He wears a hearing aid and often asks about it. And if he can't catch what you're saying he'll pull it out of his pocket and set it near you.

McLean Stages Water Pageant

McLEAN — (Special) — As a climax to the summer activities for the "small fry" Miss Sue Glass, life guard and swimming instructor at the Windom Pool, presented a water pageant recently, showing the teaching of water safety and the progress of these youngsters in swimming. At the same time, the show was a benefit for the emergency polo funds.

The show featured the crowning of a king and queen of the pageant. Linda Hindman crowned Bobby Glass as King Neptune I and Sharon Sitter crowned Janie Crisp as Queen of the carnival.

A large and enthusiastic audience witnesses the proceedings. As a final feature, Miss Glass demonstrated swimming procedures for the more advanced swimmers. Miss Glass attended Red Cross Water Safety school at Lake Murray, Okla., earlier in the summer.

Tokyo Hit By Sharp 'Quake'

TOKYO, Aug. 28—UP—A sharp earthquake struck Tokyo Saturday at 7:05 p.m. (4:05 a.m. est). Downtown buildings rocked and window glass rattled but no serious damage was reported.

The central observatory placed the quake's epicenter some 150 miles northeast of Tokyo in the Pacific Ocean at a depth of 32 miles.

It said the quake was classified as "strong" and was felt within a radius of about 250 miles of the epicenter.

Audience Affects Ike Angling

DENVER, Aug. 28—UP—President Eisenhower complained Saturday that he has too much of an audience while fishing in Colorado.

Mr. Eisenhower told Gordon Callbeck, a local florist who visited him at the summer White House "I'd like to find a creek someplace where I could go out and fish alone."

Callbeck is the florist for Mrs. John S. Doud, President Eisenhower's mother-in-law. He, his wife and two children called on the President at 8:30 a. m. The children, Norma, 12, and Bruce, 13, presented Mr. Eisenhower with a politer golf bag filled with Colorado gold carnations.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST WEEKS OF 1954, sports-wise, is coming up this week in our fine little city. Headlining the sports card is the 17th annual Top O' Texas golf tournament that starts Thursday and extends through Labor Day at the Pampa Country Club.

Then the Oilers return home Wednesday to open their final homestand of the season and it too will extend through Labor Day.

With these two fine attractions coming off at separate times of the day, local sports fans will be able to take in both of 'em.

Then while the golfers and baseballers are reaching the peak of their season, the Harvester footballers will be getting down to serious business this week as they prep for their season opener with Austin of El Paso less than three weeks away — Sept. 17.

The Top O' Texas golf tournament should be one of the best of all time. The course is in just about as good a shape as it has been for the tournament in several years.

Some of the best golfers from all over the Panhandle will be playing in the tournament which should make the 32-player Championship Flight the fastest of all time.

Defending champion Rex Baxter, Jr., the current National Junior champion, will add spice to the tournament. Baxter will possibly be the most publicized figure, nationally speaking, to ever compete in the Top O' Texas tourney.

And then, too, you may be seeing a future National Open champion plus many other major tournament champs in Baxter.

AND SPEAKING OF THE OILER homestead that starts Wednesday, it will be the most crucial stand of the year at Oiler Park. Two of the three teams that come in on the homestead are in a heated battle for the fourth spot in the Shughnessy Playoffs. That would be Abilene and Plainview.

Then the Oilers will be making a last ditch effort to overtake the Clovis Pioneers for the No. 1 spot in the standings.

The homestead will, of course, go a long way in determining the final rankings of the teams in the WT-NM League race.

There'll be eight games played during the six-day stand and the Oilers probably will have to win six of 'em to overtake Clovis for the top rung.

The Oilers will meet Albuquerque in a doubleheader Wednesday and in a single game Thursday. Then comes Abilene for single games Friday and Saturday and Plainview for a single game Sunday and a doubleheader Labor Day Monday.

Hope everyone turns out Thursday night for the big 'Merchants Night' at Oiler Park.

Appreciation Nite Set At Oiler Park

Thursday night will be 'Oiler Appreciation Night' at Oiler Park. The big night will be sponsored by the Pampa merchants who will be showing their appreciation for the fine way the Oilers have represented the city of Pampa in the West Texas-New Mexico race this season.

The Oilers have been in second place most of the season and have led the league on several occasions.

In further recognition of the Oilers, the merchants realize that Pampa has been lucky in that the club has continued to operate without a drain on local business and professional people such as has been the case in towns like Borger, Lamesa, Plainview, Abilene and others.

The merchants will purchase a block of tickets at a rate of 25 cents per ticket and distribute them to their customers.

A 'whirlwind campaign' will be conducted Monday in selling tickets to the local merchants for Thursday night's game with Albuquerque.

The Sports Committee and Goodwill and Reception of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce are combining their efforts in putting the ticket sales over.

All members of these two committees are urgently requested to attend a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday at 9:30 a. m.

Since it will be an impossibility to contact all local merchants Monday, those who aren't contacted but who would like to participate in the campaign, are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce or the Oiler Business Office.

Oiler Business manager Jimmy Hamilton will distribute the tickets to the merchants as soon as the orders are received.

It is estimated that about 5,000 tickets will be bought for the game.

It was also brought out that any individual who would like to purchase a block of tickets at 25 cents per ticket to pass out to friends may do so by calling the Chamber of Commerce office at 4-2424.

White Sox Nip Athletics, 5-2

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28—UP—Southpaw Jack Harshman gained his 13th victory of the season Saturday but needed help from relievers as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-2, at Connie Mack Stadium.

Harshman, who has six strikeouts against his record, left the premises after walking Bill Wilson Jr. open his seventh. At the time, the White Sox were leading 3-1, and the lean left-hander had allowed the A's only three hits. Manager Paul Richards lifted Harshman because he felt the twirler was losing his effectiveness in a closely contested game.

Fred Marsha, subbing for Cass Michaels who suffered a skull fracture when hit by a Marion Fricano pitch Friday night, hit three singles and triple in four official times at bat. He also scored two of Chicago's runs.

The loser was Alex Kellner who, plagued by windness, went down to his 17th defeat against six wins.

Two Oiler Homers Are Not Enough

ABILENE, Aug. 28—The Abilene Blue Sox pushed over two runs in the eighth inning to break a 5-5 tie and defeat the Pampa Oilers in the first of a two game series here Saturday night, 7-5.

The Oilers, playing catch-up most of the way, had tied the score at 4-4 in the seventh and 5-5 in the top of the eighth before the Sox rallied in bottom of the eighth for their winning runs.

A two-run single by Bob Pascal produced the winning runs in the eighth.

The win enabled Abilene to hold its 3 1/2 game lead over Plainview for fourth place in the West Texas-New Mexico League race.

The Oilers opened the scoring here tonight when Ben Felder homered with the bases empty to give the visitors a 1-0 lead.

Abilene, however, came right back to score three runs as they batted around.

The Oilers tied it up at 4-4 in the sixth when Rudy Tanner scored on a fielder's choice of Doug Lewis' fender.

The Blue Sox took the lead again in the bottom of the seventh on Bob Pascal's home run only to have rookie Slick Johnson of the Oilers slam a solo homer in top of the eighth to tie the score again at 5-5.

Then came the last of the eighth that saw the Sox score the winning markers.

The Oilers threatened to get a rally started in the ninth when J. B. Palmer led off with a walk.

Yanks Dump Tigers, 4-2

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—UP—Yogi Berra's sixth inning single broke a 2-all tie and relief pitcher Allie Reynolds throttled the Detroit Tigers thereafter to give the New York Yankees a 4-2 victory Saturday for their fifth conquest in a row.

By beating the Tigers, the Yankees remained 3 1/2 games behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians, who also won their game from Washington, 5-2.

Reynolds, making his 12th relief appearance of season, took over for winning pitcher Harry Byrd at the start of the seventh inning and faced only nine batters. Harvey Kuenn singled to open the eighth but was erased when Fred Hatfield hit into a double play.

With the score tied at 2-all, Hank Bauer singled to open the sixth and advanced on Ivy Noree's sacrifice. Berra's two out single then skipped past first baseman Wayne Belardi to register Bauer with the deciding run. The Yankees added an insurance run in the seventh inning off Al Aber, who went into the distance for Detroit, when Andy Carey tripled to deep left and rode home on Willie Miranda's second sacrifice triple of the game.

Byrd yielded six of the Tigers' seven hits and both of their runs in the six frames he worked. Even so, he was credited with his ninth victory against seven defeats.

19th Annual Top O' Texas Tourney On Tap This Week

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The stage is all set for the 19th annual Top O' Texas Invitational Golf Tournament that will get underway Thursday on the Pampa Country Club course.

'The course will be in tip top shape if we can get a light rain between now and Thursday,' Johnny Austin, host pro, said Saturday.

Otherwise, everything else is in readiness for the huge tournament. Tourney director Ham Lina has got his committee men lined up for the big affair and the Pampa Women's Golf Association is all set to provide the entertainment to the visiting golfers and their families.

The trophies and prizes for the tourney winners are in and are on display at the Country Club.

The field, which will include six former champions, will uphold the tradition of the Top O' Texas tourneys of having the fastest field of any Panhandle tournament.

Rex Baxter, Jr. of Amarillo will be back to defend the title he won here last year when he disposed of Grover Austin, Jr. of Pampa in the final.

Baxter competed in the National Amateur last week. He lost his first match to highly regarded Billy Joe Patton, 1-up, on 19 holes.

The week before the National Amateur Baxter captured the Littlefield Invitational tournament.

Grover Austin, last year's runner-up, also will be around for this year's tourney. Grover has recovered completely from injuries he received in the Cities Service explosion several weeks ago. Grover suffered a fractured arm plus some minor burns in the blast.

Other former champs expected back for another try are Jack Garrett and Jack Williams of Plainview and Jack Williams of Grover Austin, Jr. of Pampa, and Billy Holmes of Shamrock.

Several local linksmen stand a good chance of emerging with the tourney crown. Among them are Max Hickey, Tommy Cox, John Forman, Henry Rose, Ronnie Samples, R. M. Samples, Harry Wilbur, Charles Austin, Mark Heath and others.

A pro-amateur will precede the start of this year's tourney on Thursday. The official qualifying date is Friday. Match play will get underway Saturday and continue through Labor Day Monday.

First round matches will be unseeded in the Championship Flight Sunday with only second round matches to be played in the other flights.

The semi-final and finals in all flights will be held Labor Day.

All golfers who do not plan to play in the Championship Flight may qualify anytime between now and Friday.

The course, however, will be closed on Monday as usual. Pro Johnny Austin said his crew would spend the entire day Monday getting the course ready for the tournament.

'New Model' in Race BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 28—UP—A secret new model of Lancia has been selected by Juan Manuel Fangio, Argentine's auto racing driver, for the Uster Grand Prix on Sept. 11.

Cleveland's Rally Stops Sens, 5-2

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—UP—The Cleveland Indians rallied with three runs in the eighth inning and added another in the ninth to defeat the Washington Senators, 5 to 2, Saturday and stay 2 1/2 games ahead of the New York Yanks who also won.

Mike Garcia pitched his 16th victory of the year—although he was behind, 2 to 1, when Al Rosen went in to bat for him in the eighth and walked. Rosen touched off a rally which netted three runs and put Cleveland ahead 4 to 2. Don Mossi finished up for the Tribe.

Chuck Stobbs was doing nicely until the eighth when he beat himself with three walks. There also was an error in the inning which didn't figure in the eventual scoring.

Cleveland made 14 hits to eight for the Senators. The Indians, who made their last appearance of the year here, have beaten Washington in 17 out of 21 games. The Senators lost four out of 11 at home and have dropped 6 in a row in Cleveland where they still have one more game to play.

A double by Bob Avila and Larry Doby's single gave the Indians their first run in the opening inning. Washington tied it in the sixth when Mickey Vernon tripled and Jim Busby singled.

Rosen opened the eighth with the walk. Al Smith sacrificed and was safe at first when Vernon dropped Stobbs' throw. Rosen took third on the error. Avila's fly scored Rosen. Smith tried to take second but was trapped. Doby and Wally Westlake followed with walks. Vic Wertz singled home Doby and Hank Ma. Westlake singled in Westlake.

The Indians added their final run

New Plan Presented To Minor Leagues

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 28—UP—The Sporting News, baseball weekly, said Saturday there is a move afoot in organized baseball to incorporate industrial leagues into the system to replace foundering Class C and D minor leagues.

The plan is to abandon the C and D classifications in the minors, or at least not to show deep concern over the increasing mortality and problems of these divisions," said the copyrighted story by J. G. Taylor Spink.

The story quoted one major league official as saying the lower minor leagues, paying salaries of $250 a month or less, are becoming hard pressed to compete with industrial leagues whose players get $500 or more for factory work and three or four baseball games a week.

Spink said the reorganization by organized ball also will include a strong alliance with the National Collegiate Athletic Association to protect college players from professional recruiters until they graduate.

Honolulu, Hawaii's mid-ocean capital, is a boom town, says the National Geographic Society. Beachfront land costs more than $2 a square foot. Since World War II, 23,000 new houses have been built.

Says League Proxy Addition Of EP To WT-NM Is Closed Matter

ABILENE, Tex., Aug. 28—UP—West Texas-New Mexico League President Hal Sayles said Saturday that he considered the addition of El Paso to the WT-NM League a closed issue.

Sayles made a statement in answer to Longhorn League President Harry James, who said Friday that Longhorn members would contest the voting of El Paso to WT-NM membership. James said Friday he would contact El Paso people to "prevail upon them that the Longhorn League has more to offer than any league in this territory."

Sayles said, "El Paso is now a full-fledged member of the West Texas-New Mexico League effective in the 1955 season, and I don't see there's anything Harry James can do about changing the situation."

Baxter Named On Texas Cup Team

DALLAS, Aug. 28—UP—A Fort Worth plumber and an Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio with common prowess on the golf course head the Texas Amateur golf team that meets a squad of professionals in the Texas Cup Matches Sept. 18-19 at Dallas.

The team of 12 amateurs was selected by Texas sports writers and announced Saturday night.

Ernie Vossler, the plumber, was picked No. 1 and Lt. Joe Conrad of the Air Force was just three points behind in second place.

Also named to the amateur team were:

The matches originated in the early 1930s. The professionals generally have won through the years, but the amateurs last year gave the pros a licking.

Vossler got the most first place votes in the sports writers' balloting with seven. Conrad got six first place votes. Neither golfer placed lower than fourth on any ballot.

Twenty points were given for a first place vote, 19 for second etc., giving Vossler 233 points, Conrad 250, Baxter 212, Cherry 187, Floyd Addington 184, Erfurth 178, Hisey 153, Johnson 120, January 108, Don Addington 87, Williams 75 and McCommas 71.

Americans Are Nel Winners

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 28—UP—Davis Cuppers Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson, two of America's brightest hopes to stem another ominous Australian invasion, scored decisive first-round victories in the wide-open 7th U.S. amateur tennis championships Saturday.

For the first time since before the reign of Helen Wills and Big Bill Tilden in the golden 20's the nationals got under way without a prime favorite in either the men's or women's singles.

A hot handful composed of defending champion Tony Trabert, 34-year-old Australian sluggers, Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, was regarded as the class of the men's brigade. And in the women's division, where two-time queen Maureen Connolly sat helplessly on the sidelines with a leg fracture, it was considered a toss up among former champions Louise Brough, Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont, Doris Hart and pretty Mrs. Beverly Fleitz.

The second seeded Seixas and the third-ranked 21-year-old Richardson, however, boosted American triumphs. Richardson had the hardest struggle before subduing another of the young Aussie invaders, Doug Reid, 6-1, 9-7, 6-3.

Seeded players who advanced to the second round along with them were sixth-seeded Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., a 7-9, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4 winner over England's John Barrett; ninth-seeded Bernard Barten, national clay court champ from Dallas, who beat John Lesch of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2; and 10th foreign-seed Roger Becker of England, who downed Ed Dailey of Harrisburg, Pa., 6-2, 6-2, 4-4, 7-6.

Seixas, the 31-year-old former Wimbledon champion from Philadelphia, scored the first victory of the 10-day tournament as he required only 38 minutes to polish off Lt. Spencer Brent of Dallas, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1. Runner up to Trabert last year, Seixas was not particularly sharp but didn't have to be against his nervous opponent.

That put him into the second round, which had already been reached on byes by the top-seeded Trabert, the top foreign-ranked Hoad and veteran Billy Talbert of New York.

He was joined there shortly afterwards by Owen Williams, South African Davis Cupper and seventh foreign seed, who scored a comeback 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1, triumph over chunky Sam Giammalva of Houston.

Seixas, who played his first game of golf five years before Palmer, was born, witted on the final nine. Palmer took the lead on the 32nd hole for the first time in the match when Sweeney took a bogey five. Palmer then made it two up, with three to go on the 33rd when he holed a ten foot putt for a birdie three.

When they both halved the 34th hole, Sweeney was two down with two to go. Palmer put his second shot on the 35th hole on the green while Sweeney hit into a trap. But Sweeney rallied. He knocked his approach eight feet from the pin and sank it for a four.

Palmer, 60 feet away, took three putts to lose the hole. The second putt he missed was only from three feet away.

But the respite was short-lived for Sweeney.

Palmer's most notable win before Saturday had been in the All-American last month, when he ended Frank Stranahan's domination of that tournament by winning a one stroke victory.

The new champion, who succeeds Gene Littler, who turned professional after the 1953 tournament, sells paint sprays and said he has "no intention" at this time of turning professional.

Palmer is an ex-Coast Guardsman who attended Wake Forest College, where he won the Southern Intercollegiate at one time.

Braves Nip Giants, 5-2

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 28—UP—Del Crandall, after missing a home run earlier on an inches-foul fly ball, broke up a 1-1 score in the eighth inning with a run-scoring single Saturday to lead the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-2 victory over the New York Giants.

Crandall's hit opened the gates for Milwaukee which scored three more runs in the inning to cut New York's league lead to two and one half games over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bobby Thomson started the four-run rally with a single and one out, Joe Adcock grounded out and Andy Pafo was walked intentionally to set up Crandall's single.

Johnny Logan singled Pafko home and New York starter Ruben Gomez who had given up only five hits before the inning, was removed.

Reliever Marv Grissom gave Jack Dittmer an intentional walk, and Braves starting pitcher Warren Spahn lined a two-run single into right field.

Spahn also had a five-hitter going until the top of the ninth, when he gave up a double to Bobby Hotman and a single to Monte Irvin. Hank Thompson hit sacrifice fly to left field to score Thomson.

Hughes, making his forty-ninth appearance of the year, preserved the triumph to give Podres a season record of 8-6.

Dodgers Trip Cards, 7-3

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 28—UP—Carl Furillo batted in three runs with a home run and a single Saturday to lead the pennant-hungry Brooklyn Dodgers to their fourth straight victory, a 7-3 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Furillo thus carried on the clutch-hitting habit that has characterized his recent play. He now has driven in 32 runs in the Dodgers' last 21 games.

Johnny Podres, who pitched his first victory since June 15, had to have help from Jim Hughes when he hit a wild streak in the eighth inning.

Hughes, making his forty-ninth appearance of the year, preserved the triumph to give Podres a season record of 8-6.

Chicubs Edge Past Phillies, 5 To 2

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—UP—The Chicago Cubs turned three walks, two singles and an error into four runs in the fourth inning Saturday and went on to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 before a Ladies' Day crowd of 14,572.

Dave Cole backed up a seven-inning, four-hit pitching performance by knocking in two runs, including the winning marker, himself in the Cubs' big inning.

Dee Fondy knocked in the first Cubs' run with a single after Hank Sauer and Ralph Kiner had walked. Joe Garagiola was then walked to fill the bases and set the stage for Cole's single which scored Kiner and Fondy.

The Phillies scored both their runs in the eighth when Richie Ashburn walked to lead off and Earl Torgesen followed with a single.

Kinder relieved starter Mel Parnell in the ninth inning and allowed only one hit over the next 2 2/3 innings.

Lepcio started the winning rally in the 11th with a single to center. Billy Consoled bunted and all hands were safe when shortstop Jim Brideweser dropped the throw from Chakales.

Kinder then sacrificed both runners along and Mele followed with a clean hit to right.

Mele, a onetime Oriole, was a problem to his former mates since he also hit a first-inning home run to get the Red Sox off to a 1 to 0 lead. His 11th inning hit came off reliever Bob Chakales and solidified the Sox' hold on fourth place. It also gave relief ace Ellis Kinder his seventh victory of the year against six losses.

Kinder relieved starter Mel Parnell in the ninth inning and allowed only one hit over the next 2 2/3 innings.

Bosox Win In 11th On Mele's Single

BOSTON, Aug. 29—UP—Sam Mele's single in the 11th inning scored Ted Lepcio with the winning run Saturday as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3 to 2 at Fenway Park.

Mele, a onetime Oriole, was a problem to his former mates since he also hit a first-inning home run to get the Red Sox off to a 1 to 0 lead. ## Cleveland Wins National Amateur

By REY W. BRUNE GROSSE POINTE, Mich., Aug. 28—UP—Arnold Palmer, 24-year-old suburban Cleveland golfer who won the All-American last month, staged a brilliant comeback on the final 18 holes Saturday to beat New York playboy Bob Sweeney and win the 54th National Amateur golf tournament.

Palmer, who trailed by two holes at the midway mark of the 36-hole finals, fired even par golf on the last 18 holes to beat the 43-year-old Sweeney, the 1937 British Amateur king.

Sweeney, who played his first game of golf five years before Palmer was born, witted on the final nine. Palmer took the lead on the 32nd hole for the first time in the match when Sweeney took a bogey five. Palmer then made it two up, with three to go on the 33rd when he holed a ten foot putt for a birdie three.

When they both halved the 34th hole, Sweeney was two down with two to go. Palmer put his second shot on the 35th hole on the green while Sweeney hit into a trap. But Sweeney rallied. He knocked his approach eight feet from the pin and sank it for a four.

Dressen May Be In Oakland To Stay

NEA Sports Editor
OAKLAND, Calif. — (NEA) — Because he is a big-time operator in Triple A, Charley Dressen's name has popped up with each suggestion of a managerial change in the majors.

"But I have had no offer," says the manager of the Oakland club, in his cubicle under the old Emeryville stands. "And I am telling you the truth when I say that I don't care whether I get one or not. The club and the contract would have to be right."

A lot of people, especially in Brooklyn, still can't comprehend why Walter O'Malley let Dressen go rather than give him a contract for more than one year. Dressen had been beaten in a playoff and won successive pennants and twice taken the Yankees to the seventh game in the World Series. Dressen can't understand what happened to his old club, especially the pitchers.

"I didn't have Don Newcombe last season and Joe Black couldn't get anybody out," he recalls. "Carl Erskine had a big year, it's true, but I also had to fall back on young Johnny Podres and Bob Milliken."

"If I was criticized by the front office in Brooklyn, it could only have been because I had four infielders as coaches. I say this because, when I left, they hired Ted Lyons as a pitching coach."

When Lyons was brought on, Dressen recalls having asked himself just what the old right-hander had accomplished with White Sox and Tiger pitchers. "What has anybody done for the Brooklyn pitchers?" asks the little man from Decatur. "Having been a great pitcher doesn't make you a pitching coach. I prefer to work with my pitchers. I feel I have had some success with them. I have three young pitchers here now that you'll hear from. Remember the names. They are Ernie Broglio, a big right-hander; Fred Besana, a left-hander built along the same line; and Don Ferrarese, a southpaw on the small side. Another prospect is Jim Marvshall, an excellent gloveman at first base and left-hand hitter who pulls the ball with power.

"Unless I'm badly mistaken, I'll get enough talent for these players to build the Oaks for next year and the immediate future."

After his disappointing season of '53, Black, the masterful fire fighter of '52, complained that Dressen had fouled him up.

"A stiff finger made Black ineffective," explains the bouncy Dressen, "but he also had a stiff wrist. Joe did it for one season with remarkable control of a fair fast ball and a little slider, or nickle curve. He could hit a fly between the eyes."

"I warned Black that he would have to develop another pitch to stick in the majors, worked on the development of a curve and a change-up in spring training of '53, but the stiff wrist made it impossible for him to break off the curve."

Garver Insists He's Better Now Than In 20-Game Year

By JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK, Aug. 28 — UP — Ned Garver, Detroit's babyfaced fast baller, showed how you can't place any faith in figures when he insisted he's "a much better pitcher today" — even with only 11 victories — than he was when he won 20 games three years ago.

"I know it sounds illogical," said the 28-year-old right-hander, "but I'm actually pitching much better this year than I did when I won 20 with the St. Louis Browns in 1951."

"My breaking stuff is better and my change-up is better," he added, making himself comfortable on the top step of the Tigers' dugout. "And if you need any further proof, take a look at my earned run average. I think the other clubs have averaged only a little better than two earned runs per game off me this year."

Browns Furnished Runs
When the good-looking Garver compiled a 20-12 record for the hapless Browns in 1951, he wound up the season with an earned run average of 3.73.

"You can say what you want about that Browns team," Garver grinned. "But I'll tell you one thing, they sure went out and got some runs most of the times I pitched. Had the current Tigers provided Garver with as many runs as the 1951 Browns did, there is a distinct possibility he might have had a far better record than the 11-8 slate he owns now."

"I still hope to win at least 15 games this year, though," put in the Ney, Ohio, native who is concluding his seventh season in the majors. "And next year, I hope and I think I can do even better than that."

Successful Operation
The principal reason for Garver's optimism is a successful operation he underwent on his left knee last winter. The knee had plagued him during 1952 when he won eight games and also last year when he won 11 and lost the same number but he said there is no longer any trace of pain.

"That operation really did the trick," Ned said. "As a matter of fact it fixed me up so well that I haven't felt so good physically since my days in the Texas League."

Garver, who came to the Tigers from the Browns in an eight-player deal in August, 1953, was considered in some circles little short of a miracle man when he won 20 games for a last-place club three years ago.

Shreveport Outfielder Leads TL In Hits, Doubles, Runs

By UNITED PRESS
Ev Joyner, hit-happy Shreveport outfielder, paces the Texas League in three individual departments, but seems assured of holding only one of the leads by season's end.

Joyner's 196 hits gave him a margin of 13 safeties over his nearest rival in that department, H. Phillips of Houston, but he had to share the run-scoring lead at 114 with Jim Neufeldt of Oklahoma City and led Teammate Ed Mickelson only 44 to 41 in the doubles race.

Neufeldt also was leading in stolen bases with 37, while Mickelson ranked second to San Antonio's Frank Kellert in runs batted in, 128 to 132 for the Mission star voted the league's most valuable player.

Les Fleming, Dallas Manager, still had no challengers for the batting leadership as he pounded along at a .363 clip, 26 points ahead of Eddie Kazak of Beaumont at .327. Mickelson ranked third at .333. Joyner fourth at .327 and Joe Durham of San Antonio and Russ

Burns of Oklahoma City sharing fifth at .322.

John Andrew of Shreveport and Karl Spooner of Fort Worth, who ranked one-two in that order in the voting for the circuit's most valuable pitcher, each had 19 victories through Wednesday night's official averages, while Spooner had 243 strikeouts to lead in that department by 50 over Ryno Duren of San Antonio. Andre also had worked the most innings (292).

The top won-loss record still was owned by John Janose of San Antonio at 13-2. Pat Scantlebury of Dallas and Hugh Sooter of Shreveport had worked the most complete games (17 each).

Beaumont replaced Houston as the top hitting club, .371 to .269.

Tennessee Writes Kid Brother From Communist China 'Home'

ALDEN, Min., Aug. 28 — UP — He told Nathan to finish high school and go on to college. Tennessee, one of the American POWs who chose to stay with their Communist captors, wrote his younger brother "every night I look at your picture and I feel remorseful."

"What more can I say?" the letter to Nathan Tennessee, 17, added.

Tennessee's letter from Tianan in Communist China arrived Wednesday, just as his mother was preparing to leave for the court martial of another soldier who chose communism and then changed his mind.

The mother, Mrs. Porlia Howe, was en route to San Antonio, Tex., Wednesday to attend the court martial of Claude Batchelor. Batchelor joined Tennessee and other Americans in refusing repatriation, but later decided to take "his chances in the United States."

Tennessee's letter advised Nathan "don't leave home yet... you don't know the security home offers until you are away from it. How important education is you realize after the lack of it has led you into a blind alley. Don't join the armed forces yet."

He told Nathan to finish high school and go on to college. Tennessee himself quit school at 17 to join the Army.

Tennessee has been a fairly frequent correspondent and his mother, who once tried to see him in the Communist prison camp, has said she's sure he's homesick.

Mrs. Howe said she was making her auto trip to Texas to meet with Batchelor's mother and share a room with her during the court martial.

"I want to see what happens," Mrs. Howe said. "And I think I may be of some comfort to Mrs. Batchelor. I think I know now she feels."

Jap Troops in Hokkaido
YOKOSUKA, Japan, Aug. 28 — UP — U.S. naval transports will carry troops of Japan's reborn army north over the weekend to replace American units on the Japanese island closest to Soviet-held territory. The U.S. First Cavalry Division is turning over the defense of Hokkaido island to Japan's "ground self-defense forces." The First Cavalry will be moved to camps on northern Honshu island.

THE MARQUEE

BY DICK KLEINER

Elaine Malbin will do telecasts of "The Girl of the Golden West," a full-fledged opera, over England's BBC TV network in the fall. But there may be an international incident before the telecast begins. In one scene, she rides a horse, and the English want her to use an English saddle. Elaine says it was to be a Western saddle. And there the matter stands now.

She's lucky they're giving her a horse. The English usually prefer an 'orse.

You might think that, after eight years of playing "Twenty Questions" once a week, the Van Deventer family would be slightly bored with the game. Ah, but you would be wrong. They still like it, still play it in the car riding home to Princeton, N. J., after the show, still play it two or three times a week while eating dinner.

"I stuck them good last night," said Fred Van Deventer, the lord and master of the clan. "I gave them the leafy arms from the poem, 'Trees,' and they couldn't get it."

"About once every six months," said Mrs. Van Deventer, who, as Florence Rinard, also appears on the ABC-TV show, "one of us will bring out the hardest one of all — the weakest link in a chain. That one is virtually ungettable."

"It started," said Van Deventer, "on the program. Somebody sent it in and we missed it. Well, we were playing in the car on the way home and Johnny McPhee, who was on then, picked that subject again. We went 100 questions and still couldn't get it. It's very tough, for some reason."

To show you how unboored they are with the game, Van Deventer says he has missed no shows at all since they first went on, back in '46, and his wife has missed only one. "And still," he says, "we look forward to the program each week."

In case you've toyed with the idea of submitting a subject, go right ahead. Only don't send in either Fala or Churchill's cigar — they've both been entered a few hundred thousand times. The apple that Eve ate and the cherry tree George Washington chopped down are other pretty active topics.

All in all, though, "Twenty Questions" keeps rolling along in good shape. At the ripe young age of eight, it's the oldest established game-quiz around, and it was the first to make the big jump to television.

Shows what you can do with a little animal, vegetable and imagination.

Come Aug. 31, there'll be a big anniversary in a small way. That date will mark the 200th broad-

Buyer Market Reestablished In Auto Field

DETROIT, Aug. 28 — UP — If there were any lingering doubts that the buyer's market has been reestablished in the automobile field, the reestablishment of "FOB" stores in Detroit has dispelled it.

The automobile companies again are doing a thriving business selling cars to purchasers right in Detroit. This saves the buyer the freight cost he'd pay if he bought the car at home.

"FOB" stores went out of style during the war and came back into style just recently after the post-war boom for cars ended. Now the automobile companies are making it an important part of their business again.

Bought by Local Dealer
A car buyer who wants to buy his car right in Detroit makes his purchase through the home town dealer. The dealer lets Detroit know when the buyer will be in to get his car.

Chrysler Corporation is arranging all details. It even makes plane and hotel reservations for people who fly in to pick up their new cars.

Ford Motor Co. has a spanking new building near downtown Detroit where it delivers cars to "FOB" buyers. More than 50 new cars a day are being turned over at the building by a staff of 61 men and women who handle the operation.

A big share of the buyers who

Order Out Of Chaos Is Cry Of U.S. Municipal Planners

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 — UP — Government researchers have just completed an extended study of building regulations, designed to help cities bring order out of chaos in municipal planning.

The study, published by the Housing & Home Finance Agency, was made on the basis of building codes, zoning ordinances and administrative practices in 96 cities in 33 states. It cites both the best and the worst as examples of effective or ineffective operations.

Joseph H. Orendorff, director of the agency's housing research, said the special report was prepared to aid local building officials in "effective administration." He said it was a "study of the activities of building officials and inspectors rather than a study of the requirements of codes."

The report stated that one of the most difficult problems facing any city housing official is that of maintaining housing "experts" on his staff.

Two Causes of Problem
Two principal causes create this problem for cities:
"1. They cannot afford enough inspectors."
"2. By the time a good inspector is trained to high competence, private industry buys him away from his comparatively low-paid civic position."

But, the researchers said, the whole question of "safety and durability" of building projects depends heavily on "the expertness of the plan checker."

"If cities are to maintain high standards of construction within their communities, a meticulous check of plans for all prospective construction will aid materially." The construction permit, based on agreement to maintain the standards set by city ordinances, is the first step in maintaining the high standards desired.

The report noted that building codes usually give housing officials only "rather slight" permission to allow relaxation of the code's requirements. This, it said, generally hampers the officials because it is "relatively impossible" for them to operate effectively "without exercising considerable discretion."

Inspection Basic
But, the report said, the heart of effectively maintaining high standards is the efficiency and thoroughness of a city's inspection processes, plus the effectiveness of enforcing standards.

"The better the inspection the better conformity with good standards, it said. And the better the standards so maintained, the less likelihood of slums and blight areas."

Furthermore:
"If a building does become substandard because of neglect of owners and occupants, the potentiality for rehabilitation is greater if the structure was originally well-built."

Sleeping Bear Dune, between Lake Michigan and Glen Lake in Leelanau County, Mich., is the largest shifting sand dune in the world.

Peg O' Pampa

It doesn't seem possible that summer is almost over and the kiddies will be going back to school this coming week. Peg's been in a flurry getting her young'un ready for the big event. It won't be long now before all the clubs will be starting their fall activities and we'll be in the swing of it again.

TIDBITS GLEANED HERE AND THERE — Dorothy Barritt is back again, understand she left Pampa years ago to live in Hobart, Okla., but has now returned. Fern Dawson is talking of making an advance application for her new granddaughter, Terri Elaine Myers, for entrance into the Brownie Scouts in approximately 1962. Mrs. J. S. Skelly is speaking hopefully of visiting her home in Pennsylvania sometime this fall. Sounds like her girls have been busy this summer taking all sorts of camping trips. Understand Adrienne and Jack Foster got snowed and hailed on in Colorado while vacationing there. Not dressed for that type of weather. Guess they're glad to be back in our warmer climate. Marjorie Magee is getting ready for a week's vacation to begin Wednesday. She's going to South Dakota, I hear. She's also all excited over the organ she is going to get soon. She certainly is a talented person!

A LITTLE BIT OF NONSENSE — My face is not beautiful by far, but I don't mind it, because I'm behind it. It's you folks in front that get the jar. Picked that up many, many years ago when I was young. Ah, me. So long ago.

PETTE JEANNE WILLINGHAM has been having quite a summer, according to letters her Pampa friends have been receiving. After teaching dance all year, she's spending her vacation in Los Angeles, Calif., taking some ballet courses — seems she has three hours of ballet per day, plus tap, Spanish, Hawaiian, aerobic and modern ball. In her spare time, she attends performances of the New York City Ballet in the Greek theater—three ballets per performance. And Jeanne stays through them all. To end the summer, she plans to attend a convention and take a teacher's normal course. We sure are lucky to have such an energetic and enthusiastic dance instructor here.

READ SOMEWHERE that this Sunday is Bob Stroble's second anniversary as director of education at the First Baptist Church here. Congratulations to him and the wonderful work he's been doing for his church and his community.

HATS OFF TO THE MANY FINE PAMPANS who are working for a community or youth center. Glad some concrete action is getting underway. It's been a dream of so many for so long. And the JayCees have done a fine job of pushing it, as well as Aaron Sturgeon and Frank Fata. Maybe Peg is prejudiced, but she thinks Pampa has an unusually large number of enthusiastic workers for the betterment of the community. Not only those that head the projects and committees, but the lesser knowns who do a lot of the leg work and little jobs that add up to a successful total.

SPENT SOME TIME Thursday watching the home demonstration club women perform during Agriculture Achievement Day. They certainly do learn such useful things. The exhibits were wonderful too. All sorts of beautiful needlework, homemade lampshades, baskets and other things. Helen Dunlap was busy announcing the demonstrations, and attractive Cary Paxson provided background organ music. Pretty Carolyn Anderwald gave an excellent demonstration on making biscuits.

SEEN AROUND TOWN. Frances Hofess, back from aquatic school in Austin. Understand Collette Dow was there too. Frances' homecoming was not too pleasant, a one with daughter Julie in the hospital. Frances and George plan to travel Mexico-way in a week or so. Jim Dean sporting a new crew cut. Charles Tingle being very much a harried "father-of-the-bride-to-be". Daughter Shirley is going to take the big step next month. Ab Conway and wife going into a movie theater. Mrs. J. B. White talking about the coming of school, anxious for it to begin. Barbara Edwards Howard and Sue Enloe Davies, both radiant brides. Ina Bidwell busy and excited over her coming wedding, which took place Saturday. Pat Reynolds with her two houseguests. Driver License Examiner Walter Roberts back on the job following his vacation.

PEG DID PRETTY WELL LAST WEEK after saying I hoped both the Clifton McNeelys and the Bill Craigs would have girls, they did! Congratulations to the proud parents—also to the Dr. George Snells, who also have a new daughter.

PAMPANS OUT-OF-TOWN or just returned. Mrs. Ray Martin is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. H. Smith, in Duncan, Okla. She's supposed to return today. Mr. and Mrs. George Neff just returned from a vacation. Tom Calloway is visiting his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Story in Wichita Falls. Dr. Charles Brauchle and family have returned from a vacation at Red River, N. M. Mrs. Sam B. Cook and daughter, Sami Sue, have returned from Houston where they visited Mrs. Cook's sister, Mrs. D. M. Willhite. Mrs. Cook and Sami met there after Sami finished camping near Fort Worth and Mrs. Cook finished school in Lubbock. Ed Nash took off for New Orleans Saturday—is going to hear some good Dixie at its birthplace.

PASSED HOBART STREET PARK Saturday and saw oodles of people milling around—understand it was the 33rd reunion of the Beltz family—about 200 people were from a radius of 500 miles around Pampa.

Here's a golden-colored, ambrosial-tasting sauce to serve over fruit that's a gem to add to everyone's treasury of favorite recipes. You can use a variety of fruit combinations.

GOLDEN FRUIT CUP

- (Serves 6)
- 1 cup sauterne or other white table wine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup canned apricot nectar
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- Dash of salt
- 1 quart prepared fruit

Combine wine, sugar and orange peel in a saucepan; bring to a boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add apricot nectar, lemon juice and salt. When completely cool, pour over fruit. Cover and chill several hours before serving. Any desired combination of fruits fresh, canned or frozen—may be used. Peel, dice or slice as desired. Frozen fruits should be thawed; both frozen and canned fruits should be well drained.

Suggested combinations:
Canned peach slices, pitted canned dark red, sweet cherries, canned or frozen pineapple chunks, sliced bananas.
Orange sections, grapefruit sections, sliced canned pears, fresh or canned red raspberries (added just before serving).
For an extra-quick fruit-compote, pour the above syrup over 1 quart drained canned fruits-for-salad chutney thoroughly.
Be seeing you,
Peg O' Pampa

RELUCTANT ANGLER

Miss Wanita Anderson, 1217 E. Kingsmill, doesn't seem too hopeful of getting a bite as she "fished" on a Pampa street corner this week. Miss Anderson is a pledge of the Las Cresas Club and the above street is part of her pledge duties. Las Cresas members have also been busy this week assisting the JayCees with the Emergency March of Dimes collection. (News photo)

Miss Ruth Ackley And Lonzel Williams Of Shamrock Exchange Nuptial Vows

SHAMROCK (Special) — Miss Ruth Ackley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ackley of Shamrock, became the bride of Lonzel Williams, son of Allen Williams, also of Shamrock, Aug. 8. The glow of candles lit the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church as Rev. O. E. Wright of Roswell, N.M., brother-in-law of the bride, heard the couple's vows.

Miss Barbara Gosson, organist, played a prelude of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Charlene Cadenhead as she sang "Always" by Berlin, and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. She also played the traditional wedding march.

An arch entwined with fern fringed with baskets of white asters and candelabra with white tapers formed the setting for the ceremony.

Miss Leona Northcutt was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length dress of white net over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice and short sleeves. She wore a net stole and a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Evelyn Wright of Roswell, N.M., niece of the bride, was flower girl. Jimmy Morris of Sudan served as best man. Charles Ackley, brother of the bride, and Buddy Harvey, the bride's cousin, were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length dress of white satin. It was styled with a molded bodice featuring a low scalloped neckline and yoke of nylon net. The long sleeves came to petal points over her hands. Her headband was of white daisies studded with rhinestones.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations over a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom. The bride's mother wore a navy and white printed sheer dress with a corsage of carnations.

Mrs. J. W. Williams, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a nylon dress of white and blue print, and a corsage of pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was covered with a cloth of white linen. Baskets of flowers and candles were used as decoration and the three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Shamrock High School and is employed in the office of Davis Motor Freight. The bridegroom, also a graduate of Shamrock High School, is a sophomore student at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview and plans to resume his college work in September.

Business Women Of Baptist Church To Hold Meeting

The business women's circle of the First Baptist Church will meet at 5:45 p.m. Thursday in the church.

An organizational meeting, election of officers will be held. All business women are urged to attend.

RUTH MILLET

Sure mothers are busy people. But there are some things a mother should never be too busy to do. To take time to listen to BOTH sides of a childish squabble instead of handing out blame or inflicting punishments after getting just one side of the story.

To try to find out why something which may seem unimportant to her is so terribly important to her child. To give her child a chance to explain what he was trying to do before jumping on him for something he did.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Miss Friend: After being engaged a year to this boy he decided he had changed his mind and has asked to call it off.

I felt pretty bad at the time but I think maybe he was right and we both changed and probably wouldn't hit it off anyhow. The thing which made me mad was he said he wanted his ring back. I figure if he gave me the ring it is mine to keep and why should I return it. After all I did give up a year to him and I was as devoted as could be. I would have gone through with the marriage if it had been left to me.

Since he broke our engagement, do you think it is necessary for me to return the ring? Laura

Dear Laura: Good taste demands that you return the ring although it is legally yours. Why do you want it now that the engagement is off? You certainly wouldn't want to wear it on your left hand any longer and wearing it at all would recall the situation to your mind and make you unhappy.

Don't keep it because you want to get even with him. Because in the end you will be made more unhappy by your stand than he will. If you want to read a humorous account of the trouble that can come from keeping an engagement ring, look up Clarence Day's "Life With Father." The particular incident is the basis for the plot of the clever play by the same name.

LIFE INSURANCE

Dear Miss Friend: Will you help us with an argument? I contend that while women are the biggest purchasers in almost every field they certainly don't begin to purchase life insurance as men do. Am I right? John

Dear John: You're right. At the end of 1953 men owned three-fourths of all life insurance in force in the United States. In spite of substantial purchases of life insurance on women and children in recent years, men still continue to own the greater part of the total — in fact they have increased their ownership 35 percent while women have increased theirs 26 percent and children 42 percent.

Beads, Rhinestones Give Wardrobe Lift

CHICAGO — UP — You can give a this year's newness to items from last year's wardrobe by sewing on beadings, pearls or rhinestones.

One Chicago company sells the decorative materials plus patterns for adding them to blouse, sweater or dress. Doll up last year's dress with a beaded collar. Or, bead a pair of gloves, belt, hat or handbag to match the pattern sewn on the dress.

The company also markets a "do-it-yourself" jewelry kit and parts, providing the materials to make earrings, pins, bracelets and necklaces out of cork, beads, pearls, sequins, rick rack, jewels and spangles.

Say you want a set of summer earrings. Use one special composition 1/4-inch round cork ball. Antique gold sequins, natural colored cut pearls, seed beads, sequin pins, two earrings backs and jewelry cement.

Cut the cork in half with a saw edged knife. Then place the cork flat side on a table to trim them. Pin on a double row of cut pearls around the outer edges. Next fill the center with sequins pinned on with a sequin pin — these are 1/2 inch straight pins slipped through a seed bead. Glue the decorated corks to the earring backs, and the earrings are finished.

Norma M. Lutz And Rev. Porter Brooks Are Wed In Simple Service In Amarillo

In a simple ceremony, Norma M. Lutz of Buffalo, N. Y., and Rev. Porter H. Brooks, pastor of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, R. Lindsay of Amarillo, were wed Aug. 28 in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Amarillo. Rev. Smythe R. Lindsay, D. D., officiated at the double-ring service.

The couple was married before an altar decorated with a frontal of white and gold silk, and flanked by bouquets of white gladioli. Following the betrothal rite, the couple lit the altar candles which they kept to use each year during their anniversary communions. For the closing blessing, they knelt on a pillow covered with white satin.

Given in marriage by A. A. Shanefelt of Pampa, the bride wore a street-length dress of grey-blue taffeta. The latter bodice, lapped with a bolero jacket, was decorated with a row of rhinestone buttons. Her accessories were black, and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride attended school in Augsburg, Germany, where she lived for 15 years. The bridegroom received his B. A. degree from McMurry College, Abilene, and his B. D. degree from Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Va. He served as an infantry officer during World War II. Later, he was called back into service as a chaplain and served in Germany where he met his wife.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE: Joel says his mother, demands constant entertainment. If other children aren't around, he grows bored, complaining, and wants to be told "what to do."

His mother, worried by his lack of "resourcefulness" writes: "We can't understand it. Though Joel is an only child, he has more toys than any other four-year-old in our neighborhood."

What kind of toys? The tricycle, train, dump truck kind? These machine toys have their uses. However, like other machines they cannot vary their uses. When Joel presses on his tricycle's pedals he knows exactly what will happen just as he knows what will happen when he presses on his dump truck's lever. There is nothing new, adventurous and unpredictable for Joel.

Yet without experience that is new, adventurous and unpredictable, we cannot develop resourcefulness. Says Director Diane Johnson of New York City's Boardman School, "A child's resourcefulness is unfolded by the chances we give him to experiment and experiment in play."

To give him these chances we have to provide him with the materials for such play. So I suggest that some of these be provided for Joel: A pair of blunt scissors and cardboard cartons from which anything from skyscrapers to aircraft carriers can be constructed. Plasticine and colored straws from which to landscape a garden. An old orange crate to imagine into a raft at sea or a high-powered racing car.

Crayons, paints, and old popcicle sticks to serve as a stockade for a beleaguered fort. Old book bindings from which the pages have been torn, to be turned into Indian teepees, tunnels, railway stations, the fort for his stockade, a good fleet of ships or a freight train.

With these suggestions, perhaps Joel's mother can now turn to her own resourcefulness. She can be sure that the moment she gives him some leadership in it, he'll follow her. Many of us neglect this kind of leadership these days. We've become so used to machine amusement ourselves that we expect little boys and girls to be satisfied with ready-made fun, too. Well, let's thank our stars they're not. If we plan to "teach" Joel on an adventure with scissors, cartons, old cans and popcicle sticks, who knows? It may end surprisingly for us as well as for him. It may give us wholly unexpected release from our own boredom.

Home Craftsmen Find Ideal Project In Lining Closets

Here's an ideal project for home craftsmen who enjoy working with wood—line one of your closets with aromatic red cedar; or build a cedar closet in the attic, basement, or perhaps an upstairs hallway or bedroom.

The "little woman" will appreciate your thoughtfulness in providing a moth-safe storage for seasonal clothing and household woolsens.

Moreover, you'll particularly enjoy doing things with red cedar because of its pleasant aroma and easy working qualities.

Aromatic red cedar closet lining is available at moderate cost from almost any lumber dealer. It comes in handy bundles containing pieces 3/4-inch thick and up to 8 feet long. There is a choice of several widths from 2 to 4 inches. All pieces are tongued and grooved for snug, easy joining. Five or six bundles are sufficient to line the average size closet.

To convert an existing closet, apply the lining to the walls, ceiling, floor and door. The strips can be nailed to framing right through plaster or wallboard. In doing the walls, it is advisable to "work" upward from the bottom. Greater airtightness of closet, assuring better protection against moths, can be obtained by weatherstripping the door.

For a new storage simply build framework on 2-foot centers and cover the inside with cedar lining.

Miss Anna Sue Enloe Becomes Bride Of William E. Davies Of Harlan, Ky.

Anna Sue Enloe, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Enloe, 314 Yeager, and William E. Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Davies of Harlan, Ky., were married Aug. 15 in the Central Baptist Church. Rev. J. E. Manning Jr. officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, J. D. Enloe, the bride wore a white gown of chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with a V-neckline, edged with scallops of lace. The long, fitted sleeves, with a row of covered buttons at the wrist, came to petal points over her hands. The ballerina-length skirt with a scalloped lace edge was worn over crinolines.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a band of net, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid. Miss Rena Webb was maid of honor, and Miss Jo Ann Cox and Mrs. Don Fry were bridesmaids. Miss Webb wore a street-length dress of pale orchid nylon over purple taffeta, fashioned identical to the bride's gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of orchid carnations.

Miss Cox and Mrs. Fry wore street-length dresses of white organdy over purple taffeta, styled identical to the bride's gown. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed white and orchid carnations. Sheryl Baxter, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Guy Harvey served as best man. Ushers were Forrest Claunch and Morris Enloe Jr., nephews of the bride. Aubrey Aikin and Jerry Long served as groomsmen.

The couple was married before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Miss Freda Worley was organist, and Winfred Walker sang "Because," "Indian Love Call" and "Wedding Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Enloe wore a navy blue dress of nylon over taffeta with pink accessories. Mrs. Davies was attired in a rose crepe dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church's recreation hall. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of orchid and white flowers. The wedding cake was decorated in orchid and white.

Music for the reception was furnished by Jerry Dean Baxter, nephew of the bride. His numbers were "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "Secret Love."

Mrs. Ralph Baxter, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Morris Enloe, sister-in-law of the bride, served the cake.

For the wedding trip to Red River, N.M., and Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride wore an orchid linen sheath, topped by a 3/4-length purple sleeveless duster. Her accessories were pink, and her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple is now at home at 401 N. Yeager.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and was employed for two years by the William T. Fraser Insurance Company. The bridegroom was graduated from Cumberland Junior College, Williamsburg, Ky., and attended East Kentucky College, Richmond, Ky. ### Dairyman's Daughter And PBK Hubby Seeking Coveted Fashion-World Oscar

By ANNE LEE

DALLAS, Aug. 24—UP—A dairyman's daughter and her Phi Beta Kappa husband will reach out for much-coveted Neiman-Marcus fashion "Oscars" when the Texas specialty store fills its lush pink and gray halls at its 17th annual fashion exposition.

The accolades will go to Beth and Herbert Levine for their part in glamorizing the world's most famous feet.

Also slated to receive the 1954 award for "distinguished service in the field of fashion" at the "black tie" showings Sept. 6 and 7 are Emilio Pucci of Italy and James Galanos, young California couturier.

ter—and the owner of a Phi Beta Kappa key.

After the union, the Geller Company annexed Beth to help with designing, marking her return to the shoe world.

And between her designing talents and Herb's modern merchandising ideas, a winning combination resulted and they realized the operation of a shoe manufacturing business of their own, financed by a friend.

The use of gold cloth and brocades from India, silks from Siam, velvets from Lyons, the silks from Como, cottons from England and dress silks from Paris has earned the Levines a reputation for fresh and trend-making fashions in exquisite footwear. But they feel their most vital work has been in radical new shoe silhouettes which the industry had heretofore felt could not be made to fit.

Wooden Heel from Paris

Beth and Herb made shoe history with their importation of a complete wooden heel from Paris—the famous Jordan heel.

And the assembly of a complete resort collection of shoes set another "first" for the famous couple.

Additionally, their "stocking shoes" are worn by a host of television and cabaret performers, including the woman with world's most famous legs, Marlene Dietrich. La Dietrich special ordered several pairs of the innovation for interest in journalism and the thea-

The young Levines are the operators of Herbert Levine, Inc., the sixth largest operation of the shoe industry and now 10-times its original size. And this year the firm will attain a capacity of 5,000 pairs of women's fine quality shoes a week.

Young Beth and her size 4-B feet took leave of the family's dairy farm in Holtville, Long Island, to become a stenographer and a shoe model for Palter Dallas. Subsequently she was employed at other leading quality shoe factories and given a chance to combine her styling and designing talents.

Then came marriage to New York born Levine, a graduate of Dartmouth College with a burning interest in journalism and the thea-

Trim Teens Keep Closet Clean, Neat

The teen-ager who's fortunate to have her own large closet should see to it that it's kept neat and well-organized. Besides storing your clothes, your closet should be fully equipped to act a "first aid station" to repair clothes in need.

The shelf within easy reach should hold these necessities: A sewing kit, a cleaning kit, a good clothesbrush, a pin cushion and a pad and pencil. Besides containing needles, threads, hooks and eyes, your sewing kit should have ribbons to repair the broken shoulder straps of an otherwise good slip. And a card of all colors of yarn will be handy for mending snagged sweaters.

By wallpapering a few hat-boxes, then labeling them "school" and "dress," you'll never be at a loss when dressing in a hurry. Shoeboxes, covered with wallpaper, make excellent hosiery, glove and scarf boxes.

Another must for the well-dressed closet and teen-ager is a shoe kit with shoe creams, cloths, brushes and a rubber sponge for cleaning your dressy suede shoes. A shoe-tree is a wise investment, too, for keeping your shoes in the best of condition.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

It's every bit as important to thank a child for a courtesy as to thank another adult. And yet it is surprising how many adults who think the young people today have no manners treat youngsters, with less courtesy than they expect from them.

Kids are imitative — so don't set a bad example.

Desk Drawer Reserve For Cosmetics Helps Career Girl Look Well-Groomed

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The easiest way a career girl can go from office to date and look well-groomed is to keep a desk drawer reserved for essential cosmetics.

Then, with a few minor make-up repairs after office hours, you can feel refreshed and confident of your appearance.

Your office grooming supplies should include liquid cleanser to remove old make-up, facial tissues, foundation powder, rouge, lipstick and eye make-up. You'll need a small clothes brush, too, to brush your shoulders after combing your hair. A small bottle of your favorite perfume or cologne also belongs in the drawer.

The career girl who spends her day typing and taking dictation will find that hand cream is soothing to tired hands. How many times have you left the office with a broken nail or freshly chipped nail polish? That's why it's wise to have a small manicure kit on hand for such emergencies.

Just before you leave the office, remove old nail polish from both hands with lubricant polish remover. Then, file nails to an oval shape with an emery board, working from side to center.

Then, apply nail base in a thin coat with light, quick strokes.

Follow this with two coats of nail polish avoiding pressure when stroking it on, as this causes streaking.

Ina Bidwell And Fred Young Exchange Vows Saturday During Double-Ring Rite

Miss Ina Bidwell of Pampa and Fred Young of Albuquerque, N.M., were married at 4 p.m. Saturday in the bride's home. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Fred Bidwell, 1515 N. Russell, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Anna J. Young of Hammond, Ind. J. P. Crenshaw, former minister of the Harvester and Mary Ellen Church of Christ, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Given in marriage by her uncle, T. A. Buchanan, the bride wore a white gown of tulle over chantilly lace and satin. The fitted bodice of lace was fashioned with a boat neckline and long sleeves that tapered to petal points over her hands. The bouffant, waist-length skirt was worn over hoops. Her waist-length veil fell from a chantilly lace headpiece, decorated with seed pearls and edged with a ruffle of pleated tulle. She carried a white Bible, topped by a bouquet of pink roses.

Handbags, Shoes Require Cleaning Prior To Storing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

If you want to get an early start on packing your summer wardrobe away, you can start with your summer shoes and handbags.

Before packing anything away, of course, you must make sure it is immaculately clean and free from soil.

If you have a bag of white calf, straw cloth, bamboo or plastic, it can be wiped clean with a sudsy cloth and dried with a lintless cloth.

Before washing the outside of any bag, however, wipe the lining first. Then, stuff the inside of the bag with tissue paper. This will hold its shape while you wipe the outside.

As for your straw bags, make sure any dust that may have accumulated in the crevices is removed. Remember, it's to be stored away for a whole year.

If your summer sandals are made of the same materials as your bag, you may wash them the same way. Straw pumps, sandals, and linen-like waves are best cleaned with a sudsy, soft brush. Before cleaning them, stuff them with tissue paper, too. Then, wipe them as dry as possible with a turkish towel before packing them away.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John W. Plummer. She was attired in a princess-style gown of smoke blue lace. The fitted bodice was styled with a V-neckline and decorated with blue sequins. The sleeves were elbow-length, and the bouffant skirt was ballerina length. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Flower girls were Misses Joy Buchanan, Martha Traylor, Marilyn Glyckherr and Dolly Traylor. Miss Buchanan and Martha Traylor were attired in gowns of pale yellow organdy. The fitted bodices had scoop necklines and puffed sleeves. The bouffant skirts were ballerina length. Miss Glyckherr and Dolly Traylor wore similar gowns of pale green organdy. All carried baskets of rose petals.

Candlelighters were Misses Leona Gossett and Kay Buchanan, cousins of the bride. They wore pale blue organdy dresses similar to those of the flower girls.

John W. Plummer served as best man.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Sue Williams, organist. Soloist was Miss Ramona Meadows, whose numbers were "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bidwell wore a two-piece dress of rose lace, decorated with sequins. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The serving table was covered with a pink organdy cloth, centered with an arrangement of pink roses. Flanking the centerpiece were pink tapers in crystal holders.

Guests were registered by Miss Birdie Derrick. Mrs. Olan Glyckherr of Wichita, Kans. presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Lea Bidwell of McLean, served the cake. Mrs. Blackherr and Miss Bidwell are aunts of the bride.

For the wedding trip to Red River, N.M., the bride wore a two-piece rose dress of light wool, with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses from her bridal bouquet. Following their honeymoon, the couple will reside in Albuquerque, N.M.

The bride was graduated from Pampa High School in 1943 and attended Oklahoma University, Norman, from 1945 to 1947. The bridegroom studied for three years at the American Academy of Art, Chicago, Ill., and is now employed by the Ward-Hicks Advertising Agency, Albuquerque, N.M.

Roberts County Installs 2-Way Sheriff Radio

MIAMI — A two-way 60-watt radio base station was installed last week in the Roberts County sheriff's office and is now in operation.
It was purchased at a cost 50 per cent below that normally paid, with the Federal Civil Defense Administration matching county fund on a 50-50 basis.
Recognizing the need for a well integrated statewide communications network for use in time of emergency, the FCDA arranged to offer matching funds for the purchase of communications facilities for the sheriff's office and police department if the local community concerned was agreeable to using such systems in civil defense communications networks.
The new base station is equipped with two transmitters and receivers, one using the frequency of the state police network and the other, the frequency of sheriff and city police offices.

"An Old-Line Legal Reserve Life Insurance Company"
FANNIN STATE BANK BUILDING • HOUSTON, TEXAS

THERE'S only one way to appraise $1,000,000 in cash. A million dollars is a million dollars. And as Oil Industries Life starts writing life insurance today, it will have more than $1,000,000 in capital and surplus paid in cash.

The advent of Oil Industries Life Insurance Co. marks a historic milestone not just in Texas but in the entire United States.

Never before have Texas' greatest industries—Oil and Insurance—been so linked. O.I.L. Insurance Co. will concentrate in the oil industry.

In the entire history of life insurance in this country (and there are at present approximately 750 old line legal reserve life insurance firms in the U. S.) only four companies could be found by the Alfred M. Best Co., whose publication is the insurance industry's Bible, with over $1,000,000 paid in cash prior to the writing of business.

Why did O.I.L. insist on over $1,000,000 in capital and surplus paid in cash? Because we of O.I.L. wanted our company not only to be safe and sound for the more than 35,000 persons who individually and collectively own stock in O.I.L., and for our future policyholders, but we wanted the company to be super-safe and super-sound.

In our six months' organization period, we interviewed the chief executives of more than 30 leading life insurance companies. With the best obtainable insurance brains in O.I.L., we proceeded slowly and carefully. We adopted the best practices of the nation's leading life insurance firms. We made sure, before writing a single policy, that O.I.L. would be adequately capitalized to acquire superior management and strong agency forces and for a more rapid expansion program.

Oil Industries Life Insurance Co. is a company of which Texas can well be proud.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Being the Screens: Cary Grant may be Hollywood's idea of a gay sophisticate, but he's making no secret of his desire to emote as here or there in a big screen costume epic.

But count me out in the swash-busting department," he grinned on the "To Catch a Thief" set.

"I'm a hands-off in-pocket actor. The costume will have to have a pocket."

Grant's postwar problems and TV's broad slapstick put Cary's subtle brand of drawing — room humor in the freezer but a single domestic comedy, "Room for One More," opened his eyes to a new family — type audience — "I have never had so much fan mail from any movie."

The "Copper" films now on TV launched Cary as Hollywood's No. 1 amusing gay blade but he blushes when he looks at them now.

"I wasn't myself then," he tells it. "I was pretending to be a wonderful fellow — another Noel Coward. Acting standards change — and you change with them."

HE WAS SOAKED John Barrymore's been blamed for his introduction of dialogue chalked on off-stage blackboards during filming of his last movies.

But there's a new version to-day from a gent who was at the Great Revival's side during plans for a profile of "Hamlet" — a revival that was canceled when his wife, Elaine Barrie, talked him into touring with her instead in a comedy, "My Dear." He died shortly thereafter.

Robert Breen, director and co-producer of the touring "Porgy and Bess" company, was Barrymore's choice to direct his "Hamlet" revival and he lived with the star in Hollywood for four months.

Remembers Breen: "He knew every line of 'Hamlet' and when I interested him in Cyrano he studied the play for a couple of days and then went around reciting long passages from it. I asked one day why he couldn't remember my dialogue and he replied: "I refuse to memorize that stuff. Why should I clutter up my mind with all those silly lines Hollywood gives me?"

Robert Clarke, on location in San Salvador for "The Black Pirates," writes: "The native quarters here are so authentic they look almost as good as the back lot at MGM."

Van Heflin's on a soapbox about "The Raid," a modest-budget Civil War story in which he stars. He is predicting it will be the sleeper of the year. The yarn's true — about southerners capturing a town in Vermont.

"It's one movie," he grins, "in which the South wins."

When Lou Costello meets his 16-year-old daughter Carol, playing a theater ticket seller in "Abbot and Costello Meet the Keystone Kops," you'll hear this dialogue:

Carol: "Gee, you're cute."
Lou: "Oh, you're silly."
Carol: "So's your old man."
Alan Young getting into the argument: "Should comedy telefilms have live audiences?"

"A comedy sketch can only come alive if the performer feels the studio audience is right there with him, laughing him on. It may be true that the important viewers are a movie scribe mulling an offer to write the life story of pint-sized Mickey Rooney can't shake this title out of his mind. "Ladder to Three Wives."

Overheard: "She's a goldigger — you know, a doll who MINES her own business."

Reason Donald O'Connor is beaming over his new filmed TV series, Texaco's paying him $52,000 per half-hour film. After one run, Donald owns the celluloid.

Overheard: "She's a goldigger — you know, a doll who MINES her own business."

1 Card of Thanks 1
There comes a time for all of us when we must say good-bye. But faith and hope and love and trust can never, never die. Although the curtain falls at last in that a cause to grieve? The future's fairer than the past. If only we believe.
And trust in God's eternal care — So when the time comes, let us say that life is still more fair. Although the curtain falls.
