NEW YORK, June 22 —UP—Don Hollenbeck, Columbia Broadcasting System news analyst, committed suicide Tuesday by gas in his midtown apartment, police reported.

New Farm Curbs Called 'Blackmail'

WASHINGTON, June 22 —UP—A Democratic farm leader Tuesday ripped into an administration plan to impose perhaps the stiffest agriculture production curbs in history as an attempt to "blackmail" the American farmer.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.), ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture committee, accused Benson of "attempting to make himself a dictator and czar over the American farmers" through the plan.

Benson revealed the sweeping farm control program at a news conference Monday at which he also called for a 12.7 per cent acreage cut in the 1955 wheat crop. Benson set next year's national wheat allotment at 55 million acres — lowest level permitted under present farm law.

It was in connection with the prospect of continued production curbs on wheat that Benson announced the new across-the-board crop control plan. He said that wheat farmers and others will have to comply with acreage allotments set on any basic crop next year to be eligible for government price supports on any one crop.

In addition, the larger farmers — those who have at least 10 acres of wheat — will be required to produce "basic" crops by government acreage controls — will be assigned allotments for every crop they produce except hay and pasture. Government acreage controls are now in effect on wheat, cotton, tobacco and peanuts.

Benson said he was forced to

Geneva Delegate Summoned Home

GENEVA, June 22 —UP—The United States recalled its chief delegate from the Geneva conference rather than accept a lower, last-minute price for peace from Red China, western sources said Tuesday.

These sources said Red China's Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En - Lai offered a withdrawal of Communist Viet Minh troops from the smaller Indo - Chinese states of Laos and Cambodia if a cease - fire was arranged.

It was said the United States pulled Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith out of Geneva because Washington did not want to associate itself with a booby-trapped settlement which inevitably would lead to the carving up of Viet Nam, Indo - China's largest state and major battleground, in Korea - style by the Communists.

Smith was said to have been told of the offer before he left Geneva for Paris on his way back to Washington to report to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on activities of the do-nothing conference.

The British and French were reported optimistic, especially after acting Viet Minh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong's statement Friday that any remaining Viet Minh "volunteers" in Laos and Cambodia would be evacuated.

Chou's reported offer contained the candid admission that Viet Minh invaders were fighting in Laos and Cambodia, whereas he previously had claimed that genuine rebel regimes existed in the two countries.

The U.S. delegation in opposing partition of Laos and Cambodia in previous negotiations, charged repeatedly there was no opposition to their governments by Laotians and Cambodians and that Red invaders from bordering Viet Nam were responsible for the warfare.

Clean Getaway

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 —UP— Stenographer Elbert M. Maxwell, 33, is a meticulous person.

Maxwell waited two hours Sunday before calling police to report that a holdup man had entered his apartment, struck him on the head and shot him in the neck and chest.

He said he wanted to clean up his apartment before he called them.

Rebel Forces Threaten 45 Mile Section

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 22 —UP— Communist Guatemalan rebel forces Tuesday opened a major drive for control of the Puerto Barrios — Guatemala City railway, linking the capital with its principal Caribbean port.

Rebel headquarters claims — and admissions in a government communique indicated — the rebel forces now threaten a 45-mile section of the railway, about 25 miles inside the country from the Honduras frontier, and extending from Morales to Gualan.

A major battle appeared to be shaping up for control of the important rail center of Zacapa, 75 miles from the Guatemalan capital, and 20 miles west of Gualan where one battle already has been fought.

Hold 18 Towns

The rebels claimed they have captured and hold 18 towns in their drive to overthrow the leftist regime of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

But the main effort obviously centered along the railway — the nation's sole railway line extending from the Caribbean to the Pacific Coast through Guatemala City.

The rebel forces were pressing the fight after expiration of an ultimatum to President Arbenz demanding unconditional surrender before 2 p.m. Monday.

In their first contact with the enemy, Arbenz' high command said, loyal troops won victories in battles with the rebels at three key locations and repulsed an attack near the Bananera airport.

Capture Puerto Barrios

Arbenz' troops also claimed capture of Puerto Barrios, port of entrance.

Highway 60 Directors To Meet In Pampa

Directors of the U. S. Highway 60 Association from six states, and possibly another, will meet here Sunday to discuss promotion and travel on the highway. The meeting will be at the Schneider hotel Blue Room.

In making the announcement at the Chamber of Commerce board of directors luncheon Monday Frank Lard, Texas director, said representatives from Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Illinois will be here for the meeting, which will begin at 9 a.m. The California director may be here, he added.

The meeting was called by National President Harry Harwell, Tuscarora, Okla., who also will attend, along with the president of the Texas branch, Warren Harrington, Canadian.

In addition to these officials, several other prominent Texas Panhandle men are expected to be on hand, he said.

Chamber President Clinton Evans told directors that the Santa Fe's streamliner, the San Francisco Chief, will stop in Pampa on both east and west runs to take on or discharge passengers.

He also announced that he had received a letter from Robert L. Hoyt, general passenger agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad in Fort Worth regarding a

Cabot Gives City Library $60,000

Thomas D. Cabot, president of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., today announced a gift of $60,000 to the new Pampa public library for the purchase of books and periodicals.

At a banquet given him by Hugh Burdette at the country club, Cabot told 44 Pampa civic and business leaders that the gift, which will be known as the "Godfrey L. Cabot Library Endowment," was given by his father, Godfrey Cabot, as an expression of appreciation to Pampa and its citizens for the personal and business associations he has made here.

The gift will be made through the Cabot Foundation, Inc., a charitable organization.

Cabot Carbon Company, Cabot Shops, Inc., and Cabot Engineering Company, all subsidiaries of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., have operated locally over a period of years commencing in 1937. These companies have constituted an important part of Pampa's industry and have contributed immeasurably to local employment and business and to civic improvement projects.

Godfrey L. Cabot, now 83 years of age, visited in Pampa in May of last year and has expressed his regret that he was unable to be present to make this gift in person.

Houston Cop Fears Dope Probe Frame

HOUSTON, June 22 —UP—A Houston detective, scheduled to be the first witness Tuesday before a narcotics-investigating federal grand jury, hinted strongly he feared being "framed" by others on the vice squad which is under fire in the current dope case.

The detective, W. C. Pool, also accused vice squad chief, Capt. Foy Melton, of giving federal agents incorrect information about a quantity of heroin seized last September which cropped up as a new chapter in the investigation Monday.

Melton, who has been temporarily relieved of duty, without prejudice would make no comment on Pool's charges.

This second case of "now you see it, now you don't" handling of narcotics seized by police officers revolved around 105 capsules of heroin taken from a Negro woman last year.

At the time, Pool said, Melton ordered no report made because they wanted no information to leak out until the source was arrested. But Pool said on May 29, when federal agents began inquiring into narcotics handling here, he made out a report anyway "for my own protection."

Pampa To Pay $2720 More To Authority

Pampa will turn another $2,720 over to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority as its part of the expenses for the preparation of a survey on the Canadian River project.

The Pampa City Commission this morning voted to hand over to authority directors an amount equivalent to 80 cents per city water meter, based on the number of meters as of March 1.

It was the third payment of its kind. Ten cents per meter was voted Oct. 12 and 25 cents per meter was voted March 16. In the beginning, the city voted to okay payments up to $1 per meter — that leaves just 15 cents to go.

C. A. (Lefty) Huff, authority president, asked for the additional funds in a letter to City Mgr. Fred Brook, pointing out Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and McDonald — a New York City engineering firm — expected to present its preliminary feasibility report July 12 to the authority board of directors.

French Hit In Surprise Attack

HANOI, June 22 —UP— The Communists threw 3,000 troops into a surprise attack against a French base in central Indo - China but were beaten off with 300 killed, the French high command announced Tuesday.

The attack was made against Tuy Hoa, on the Annam coast north of Nhatrang and 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

The French said four Communist battalions swarmed against two all-Viet Nam battalions guarding Tuy Hoa during the night of Sunday and Monday.

A high command spokesman said the Viet Nam units fought "significantly despite the fiercest assaults." He said 300 enemy dead were counted after the attackers withdrew.

Tuy Hoa was seized by Franco-Viet Nam soldiers in an amphibious landing operation this spring as part of "Operation Attente," designed to free some 3,000,000 persons from Communist rule in a 300-square-mile area.

Bridge To Be Opened Today

The Lefors - McLean bridge, three miles southeast of Lefors, was expected to be officially opened to the public sometime late this morning, G. K. Reading, president highway engineer, reported.

Texas Politics Crop Nearing Full Bloom

By RICHARD L. TAYLOR
United Press Staff Correspondent

Texas politics, due to harvest July 24, was coming into full flower Tuesday.

Gov. Allan Shivers' formal cultivation Monday night, in his home town of Lufkin, of the votes he hopes to reap for an unprecedented third term.

Most other candidates also were in the fields, plowing deep to insure the best possible returns in the Democratic primary four weeks from next Saturday. And poles and billboards were beginning to bud with their usual array of candidates' pictures.

Other developments

In addition to the formal opening of Shivers' campaign, these were the major developments:

1. State Rep. Dudley T. Dotterer promised to "pull no punches" Monday night in a statewide radio speech to further his candidacy for the U.S. Senate. He will speak with former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, the man Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson beat by 87 votes for the office six years ago.
2. Another legislator, Doug Crouch, said Monday night he was in the race for attorney general to give Texans "a choice between giving to a Democrat — and John Ben Shappard."
3. The "cheese and crackers" candidate for governor, J. J. Holmes of Austin, said the state "is being run by power and money groups."
4. C. T. Johnson, running for lieutenant governor on a platform of state regulation of public utilities, said that had been blocked for 50 years by "backroom deals in the (state) Senate."

Shivers took up the question of

U. S. Awaits Red Action On Prisoners

GENEVA, June 22 —UP—United States officials said Tuesday Communist China must make the next move in negotiations for the release of Americans it is holding.

The U.S. took the first step by freeing 15 Chinese, who previously had asked permission to leave the United States for home.

It is now up to the Communists to make the next move, American officials agreed.

It was considered doubtful that the U.S. government would release any more Chinese until the Peiping regime frees some Americans.

The U.S. issued a statement several weeks ago saying there were 85 Americans being held in Red China against their will.

Wang Ping-Nan, secretary-general of the Chinese delegation to the Far Eastern conference, Monday gave American Delegates, said Alexis Johnson a report on the 85 Americans.

Included among them are Richard Applegate, former United Press war correspondent working for National Broadcasting Company, Donald Dixon of the International News Service and merchant marine Capt. Ben Krasser. They were captured last year while sailing between Hong Kong and Macau on Applegate's small yacht.

Harvesting Underway In Gray County

Wheat harvest in Gray county today was reported to be fairly well underway, but there still are many fields where wheat is too green for harvesting at this time.

Several loads have been brought into elevators at Kingsmill, Groom and Laketon, it was reported. Pampa elevators were expecting more loads momentarily.

A. C. Wilkerson was reported to have begun harvesting on his farm between Hong Kong and Macau, but this apparently was the only harvesting in the immediate area.

Harvesting is expected to be completed in this county by July 10, Thomas said.

Today has been declared official harvest day for Gray county, according to L. J. Kurtz, federal crop insurance adjuster. This is the time that farmers may crop plant grain sorghums on land previously planted to wheat.

Living Cost Index Rises

WASHINGTON, June 22 —UP—The cost of living rose 3 per cent last month, reversing a three-month decline, the government reported Tuesday.

Rises in food prices were mainly responsible for the increase which brought the cost of living back to the February level.

The increase was enough to prevent a cent-an-hour loss in pay for a million rent-and-mortgage whose contracts contain an escalator clause tying their pay to the cost of living.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics' mid-May consumer-price index stood at 115 per cent of average 1947-49 prices, compared to 114.6 per cent in mid-April.

The increase brought the index again close to the 115.4 per cent record of last October. The index has declined each month since then except in January and May.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague described the price situation as "still stable." He said this condition probably will continue through the summer, barring a new international crisis.

The May increase was due mainly to an .8 per cent hike in food prices, the largest monthly increase since June, 1953. Fresh fruits and vegetables, meats and coffee were the items mainly involved in the sharp rise.

The railroad workers would have lost a penny an hour if the index had not risen last month.

Trespassing Building Now On Legal Soil

The old Pampa Daily News building, Somerville and Foster, can go an extra six-tenths of an inch toward Somerville.

City commissioners passed an emergency ordinance this morning, permitting the building to jut three inches into the city's Somerville property. All that had been asked was 2.4 inches.

An imperfect survey was reported as the cause for the building extending onto city property.

The new ordinance, passed this morning on all three readings, will permit owner Louis Wexler to keep his building where it is, provided proper insurance is maintained. Tenants in the structure are Pampa Wholesale Mercantile company and Mack's Shoe shop.

Staté May Be Able To Disqualify Norris

SAN DIEGO, Tex., June 22 —UP—A decision may be reached Tuesday in the state's effort to disqualify District Attorney Raeburn Norris from trying a case involving political boss George Parr.

The state, through Assistant Attorney General Eugene Brady, filed a motion last Friday before the Parr case was heard, asking that Norris be disqualified because of his association with Parr.

A long argument followed and Judge Maxwell Welch gave Norris time to prepare his defense. During daylong arguments Monday, Brady brought out that Parr had backed Norris in past elections.

Parr was indicted recently by a new grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to murder. His attorneys filed a motion to quash on grounds he pleaded guilty to a similar charge last March and paid a $150 fine in county court.

But before the court could rule on the motion to quash, the state introduced its motion to disqualify Norris.

Norris recently lost a legal move to have the present grand jury declared void. He testified Monday he still felt the same way about the jury as when he filed the suit.

General Ordered To Return Funds

WASHINGTON, June 22 —UP—Lt. Gen. Pang-Tsu Mow has been ordered to return $5,365,503 he allegedly embezzled from the Chinese Nationalist government as its Air Force procurement officer here.

Federal Judge Edward A. Tamm ended a two-year court battle Monday by ruling that Mow was guilty of embezzlement and ordering him to return the money within 30 days.

Mow is now imprisoned in Mexico pending possible extradition to Formosa. His attorneys have 30 days to appeal the decision.

An auditor's report said some of the missing money is tied up in art objects in Los Angeles, Chicago and New York and that Mow improperly turned $510,000 over to Chi-Ku Chang, a Chinese Nationalist, recently located in Los Angeles.

Tornado Dips Into Kansas

GLASCO, Kan., June 22 —UP—A small tornado damaged buildings on two farms near the north-central Kansas community late Monday, but no one was injured.

The twister, which struck about 4:15 p.m., destroyed a garage and damaged other outbuildings at the Carroll Kimerling farm, about 3 1/2 miles east of here on U.S. Highway 24. Witnesses said it then moved northeastward across the highway and destroyed a hay shed and other small buildings at the Frank Colwell farm, where windows of the house were blown out.

Mrs. Lester Brock, Glasco, said she was driving along the highway when she saw the storm coming. She drove into the Kimerling yard in an attempt to escape it. Although trees nearby were blown down, she escaped injury.

JP Candidate Out Of Running

Bill Kennedy, one of three persons running for justice of the peace in Lefors, has withdrawn from the race.

Bob Baker, county Democratic secretary, late this morning reported receipt of a letter from Kennedy, who advised him that ill health was forcing him from the campaign.

W. V. Hix and W. R. Combs, both aspirants, remain in the race. Incumbent E. A. Vance has not announced his intentions to run again.

Four Taken To Prison

Four prisoners today were being transported from Gray county to Huntsville in a state prison vehicle to begin serving terms in the state penitentiary.

They were W. M. Dittich, charged with passing a worthless check over $50; Jess Winks, forgery; and Leon Darby and Gene Fawcett, both charged with robbery by assault. Dittich was sentenced to two years in prison, while the other three received five-year sentences.

More Time Given For Gas Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 22 —UP—The State of Texas has until July 2 to file a petition for a new Supreme Court hearing on a ruling which held the Federal Power Commission should regulate natural gas producers.

Former Texas Gov. Dan Moody asked for the extension Monday on behalf of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. It was granted by Justice Hugo L. Black.

Moody said he would file a petition for the rehearing, but needed additional time to prepare a "proper" legal brief.

Pampan Held In Tire Theft

One man was being held in Gray county jail here today in connection with the theft of four tires and wheels valued at $100, while another had been released under $1,000 bond in the same case. Being held in lieu of $1,000 bond was William D. Wrajslaw. Irvin Sober was released after posting thousands of Pampa men.

They are alleged to have stolen the wheels and tires from a trailer on the W. B. Jackson farm east of Pampa. A preliminary hearing was held Monday in Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry's court, at which time bond was set.

Also released after posting $1,500 bond following a hearing before Judge Henry was Hulien Herman Cooper, who was charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense.

An earlier government communication unwittingly indicated that Guatemalan army troops were using their newly purchased Iron Curtain arms in their battle against the rebels.

The army, with regular troops, well trained and equipped with modern armament, attacked the rebels' position and forced them to fall back after overcoming stubborn resistance. This communication said in reference to the fight at Gualan, about 16 miles from the Honduran border.

In an attempt to justify purchase of Guatemalan arms, the government was compelled to deal with the Reds in order to set up a defense of the country. Claim Number of Casualties. The Guatemalan government claimed it had inflicted a great number of casualties upon the enemy but admitted "a loss of valuable lives, especially in the action off Puerto Barrios when a schooner carrying armaments was captured along with its crew."

A Guatemalan ministry of government communication said loyal forces had captured two parachutists near the small seaport of Champerico. The men were reported carrying explosives, a compass and maps, indicating they planned to dynamite fuel dumps.

Castillo Armas had denied government charges that soldiers' fortunes made up the bulk of his rebel army. "This is an invasion, properly speaking," Castillo Armas said in notifying exiles in Mexico of his ultimatum to Arbenz and his government to surrender. "We are just thousands of Guatemalans who are forcing the doors of the country to return to their own homes."

Castillo Armas' ultimatum to Arbenz expired at 2 p.m. Monday and the rebels renewed their plea to the population of Guatemala City to stay away from military objectives.

8th Deep Sea Fishing Trip Set For Vets

HOUSTON, June 22—UP—A sixth month old prediction on "fishing" weather on Texas' Gulf Coast, appeared to have been as accurate as a stop watch Tuesday as boat owners in the Freeport-Galveston-Houston area prepared for the eighth annual deep sea fishing trip for disabled veterans.

Outdoor columnist Andy Anderson (of the Houston Press) who each year organizes the trip discussed his own getting reports of the fish "running wild" along the Gulf Coast, the first time this year and after 21 straight days of wind and murky water.

Unless there is a major change Saturday, the day of the excursion, should be a top fishing day, the sandy-haired "Mr. Fisherman" said Tuesday.

"They've even caught a sailfish almost off the end of the Freeport jetty," he said, adding reports from other Gulf Coast locations were almost as satisfying.

Early last January when this year's trip was first being planned, Anderson conferred with a number of shrimp captains, fishermen and others whose lives have been led mostly along the gulf. After studying volumes of charts, tide figures, almanacs and past records, they decided upon the June 26 date.

Some 245 disabled veterans, many of them amputees using equipment especially designed for them by Anderson, will take part in this year's fishing trip out of Freeport.

On file today in Dist. Clerk Helen Sprinkle's office was a suit titled Jameson vs. Southwestern Public Service Co., which concerns an accident that occurred more than 17 months ago.

Jameson in the suit alleges an electric line, 12 to 14 miles north-east of Pampa, was permitted to sag over the highway, thereby causing the power poles to lean toward the road, when Jameson, who had been moving a tank, used a piece of lumber to raise the electric line, the suit continues, a "severe shock" of electricity knocked him from the truck, causing serious and bodily injury.

The mishap occurred Feb. 3, 1953, the suit charging Southwestern Public Service with three counts of negligence, Jameson received, it is alleged, injury to the brain and the entire nervous system, including serious arm burns. Jameson is asking $50,000 plus $5,000 hospital expenses.

40 TV Shows To Be In Color

BOSTON, June 22—UP—The Columbia Broadcasting System announced Tuesday that more than 40 major television programs will be broadcast in color this fall on a rotating schedule with three or more programs aired each week in color.

The announcement was made by Hubbell Robinson Jr., vice president of CBS-TV in charge of network programs, in a talk before the Advertising Federation of America.

Robinson said between 60 and 70 CBS affiliates will be equipped for color broadcasts by early fall. The color programs will originate in both New York and Hollywood.

The color schedule will begin on Sunday, Aug. 22, with broadcast of the "Town of the Town" show. Programs scheduled for color telecast from that date through March 2, 1955, include Arthur Godfrey, "What's My Line," the Jack Benny show, Jackie Gleason, the Christmas Sunday edition of "Omibus," and a number of others.

Citizens To Aid Accident Victim

Donations for O. L. Casey, the Pampa man who broke his neck diving into Lake McClellan June 6, are being collected at several Pampa businesses and homes.

The donations had totalled $88 last Saturday and are still coming, according to Mrs. Jack W. Miller, who initiated the drive with Mrs. Jack Glover and Mrs. Ray Sanders.

Casey, 123 S. Sumner, is in the Northwest Texas hospital in Amarillo paralyzed from the neck down. He is the father of four.

Donations are being accepted at the Peñon club, Long's hotel, Dad's place, the Friendly cafe, Sullins Plumbing and the Moose lodge.

City To Rule On Unbroken Trash Boxes

It will soon be unlawful for operators of Pampa commercial establishments to insert cartons, boxes and crates into Dempster Dumpster containers without first breaking them up.

City commissioners this morning indicated that was their desire when they turned over to City Atty. Bob Gordon the job of preparing such an amendment to the garbage ordinance.

City Mgr. Fred Brook made the recommendation, quoting a Clovis, N. M., ordinance which states all such cartons must be collapsed before inserting. If and when such an amendment is passed by commissioners, Brook indicated, the amendment will be printed on all 31 Dempster containers.

Final total cost of the entire refuse and disposal system is $22,231.60. Brook quoted from a letter from the main office in Knoxville, Tenn., that, including the hoisting unit and containers, his recommendation was to pay the bill all at once, instead of borrowing the money. Commissioners agreed.

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Hollywood and gravine: J's a n Fetzer's surprise marriage to wealthy Stuart Cramer of North Carolina, and her retirement from the screen (predicted here 10 days ago), was no eyebrow-raiser to her long-time Hollywood admirer, Howard Hughes. She told him first, and Hughes. She told him first, Gently.

TV's "Time for Beany" and its soon-to-be sacrificial goat of a Washington politician provides no time for mystery. The character's name is Burpo, the Headline Hunting Headhunter.

When Benny Goodman gave U-I the nod to film his life story, he reserved the right to play with him, Now he's asking the studio to make it Mel Ferrer.

Posing in the nude for commercial photographers could happen to the heroine of the Broadway hit, "The Seven Year Itch."

But it can't happen to Marilyn Monroe—Marilyn Monroe?—in the movie version. All of the spicy dialogue about the September Morn posing, I hear, will be cut from the film script, now that Marilyn's out to forget her past.

Vanessa Brown spoke the lines on Broadway every night for over 600 performances, but then Vanessa never posed for a nude calendar.

Television is moving west in its endless search for big names, but not to the West named Mae. No sponsor has yet indicated he'll give her a chance on the home screens. She was discouraged once before—just before "She Done Him Wrong" at Paramount soared her to greater stardom than ever.

"She married a foreign movie actor," says Bob Hope, "and now she dubs in all of his talking." Sounds like Shelley Winters.

"The Drunkard" is celebrating its 21st consecutive year as a Los Angeles stage hit, but Producer Mildred Igle still blushes about a fellow she turned down for the hero role. It happened 15 years ago. His name was Tyrone Power.

William Powell is a hot candidate for the m.c. chores on the Chrysler Hour, a live dramatic show with star names, set for a fall debut on CBS-TV. Lucille Ball and her Deal will be seeing stars in the fall more and more guest stars in a new look for "I Love Lucy" Jimmy Demaret and Tennessee Ernie started the parade.

Young hooper Bobby Van's resemblance to Donald O'Connor will have summer Comedy Hour TV audiences gulping. Just as talented, too. Change of scenery: Debra Paget's now a redhead. When Yvonne de Carlo's romance with young British actor Robert Urquhart ended like all others, on the church steps, Hollywood tossed in the sponge. Yvonne, it's now agreed, will never wed.

Sterling Hayden vetoed Richard English's request to play himself on a radio dramatization of the political linkage that darkened his movie career for a while. The broadcast has been called off.

Giggly starlet Jeff Morrow after hearing he played Paulter the Centurion in "The Robe": "Oh, dear, I hope you don't get typed as a half horse, half man."

New goal for Al Jolson impersonators: For a sequence in "Deep in My Heart," Jose Ferrer impersonates Jolson and FIVE other characters—Jolson's butler, an English girl, a French cafe singer, an oriental palace guard and the Persian Caliph.

Pin big-heart medals on Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, who open June 16 at the 500 Club in Atlantic City for 10 days at NO salary. It's a favor to the club's owner, who helped put 'em on the star trail eight years ago.

Walter Abel's sons, Jonathan and Michael, have been tapped by Uncle Sam for military service. David Brian's being paged for "The Henry Spraggins Story," projected film by Delta Productions about a Texas gambler who becomes a minister.

Alan Young was interviewing fledgling actors for his new filmed TV show. One fellow told him acting was only a part-time job with him. "What's your fulltime occupation?" asked Young. "Taxpayer," was the reply.

Alan Ladd's three filmed-in-Europe movies, "Paratrooper," "Hell Below Zero" and "The Black Knight," will net him between half a million and $750,000. Maybe more.

Dr. Babcock Honored
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—UP—Dr. William W. Babcock, 83-year-old Philadelphia pathologist and surgeon, Monday was awarded the distinguished service award of the American Medical Association at the AMA's 108th annual meeting here. Dr. Babcock was cited for the award, one of the highest honors in medicine, for "outstanding contributions to medicine and humanity."

Tribesmen Hanged
NAIROBI, Kenya, June 22—UP—Twenty-two Mau Mau tribesmen were hanged at Nairobi prison last week, authorities announced Monday. Among them were the leader of one Mau Mau band, six convicted of murder, six in illegal possession of arms and ammunition, three convicted of administering the Mau Mau oath, and six who had consorted with armed persons.

He's Ready For Home...
Life Under Palm Trees Gels To Be Monotonous For Henry

By HENRY McLEMORE
KORO LEVU, FIJI—First thing tomorrow I am going to ask the real estate man to give me back the down-payment I made on Laguna lot.

After a week of South Sea Island lasing and jolling I know for sure that I'm not the type for getting away from it all, even in as lovely a spot as this.

I have to admit it, and please don't hold it against me when I get back, but I'd actually enjoy hearing a TV commercial, right now. One of those soap, coffee, or shampoo jingles would sound real good.

The rustle of trade winds, the beat of drums, the crash of surf on a reef, and the creaking, croaking, and howling of wild things, animal and fowl, is all right for a spell, but a man soon begins to miss the old familiar noises and to long for them.

The screech of brakes, the clatter of riveting machines, the busy bark of auto horns, the blare of bands, and the jangle of telephones, are just too much a part of my life.

Living on a South Sea Island is too much like living in a vacuum with palms. A man just might as well lock himself up in a closet with a FitzPatrick Traveltalk. I miss good old American smells, too. A good whiff of the exhaust fumes of a bus would be a tonic, just as would the fragrance of a roadside diner with French fries sizzling in the deep fat, sunny side up eggs and hot cakes on the griddle, the coffee bubbling in the giant urns.

I'm not lacking in patriotism, but as much as I would like to see Old Glory floating in the breeze at the moment, I believe I'd rather see a flag with 48 well-done hamburger, mustard, onion, and all the other trimmings for stripes. I wouldn't salute this flag, though. I'd yank it off its staff and devour it.

Another drawback to leaving the rest of the world behind and living on a dot in the ocean is the absence of newspapers. Unless you have ever been without them you can't know how much the Beatles, the Bugles, and the Clarions mean to you.

There is a paper published in Suva, but it carries so little news of the rest of the world that it can be read in nothing flat. In fact, it is known to Fijians as the "Minute of Silence." And anyone who requires a whole minute to read it has to read between the lines.

You may think you'd like never to read about Senate hearings, Army investigations, murders, H-bombs, and what the Hollywood stars are thinking, drinking, and saying, but get where you can't and you'll change your mind. As most Americans are, you'll wish you could find out what the Giana, Yanks, Indians, and all the Clubs were doing. At the time of writing I am an authority on how the English, Australian, and Fiji cricket, soccer, and football clubs are doing, but I'd swap all this knowledge for a word or two about the Giana, Stan Musial, and Willie Mays.

I can tell you the price of copra, and how the sugar market is holding up, but I'd prefer to know what gives with McCarthy, how Al's bon mots are holding out, and how things are going with Rita and Aly.

I'm no nature boy, that's for sure!

Tree Travels
WEST NEWBURY, Mass.—UP—Motorists thought they were suffering from hallucinations when they spotted a 20-foot tree growing in the middle of Route 113 one morning. Upon closer examination they found the tree landed there when a section of the embankment slid onto the highway after heavy rains. Oddly enough, the tree remained standing.

Shivers Plans No Change In Public Schools Status

LUFKIN, Tex., June 22—UP—Allan Shivers said Monday he would keep "running the public schools of Texas as they are today," despite a U. S. Supreme Court decision banning racial segregation. Shivers, formally opening his re-election campaign in the town where he was born, said he didn't

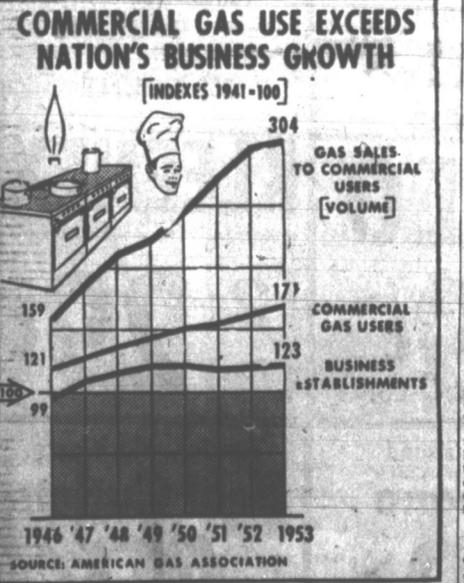

Study May Affect Habits Of Smokers

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—UP—Dr. Charles Cameron, medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society, predicts the nation's smoking habits will change as a result of a study showing a link between cigarette and lung cancer and heart disease. Cameron and two other prominent researchers reported to the American Medical Association convention Monday that cigarette smoking "certainly shortens the life expectancy of Americans." In particular, they reported that more men who are regular smokers die of cancer and heart disease than non-smoking men. They stressed that they based their report on a "chain of circumstantial evidence."

Change Within a Year
"I do believe we'll see a change in smoking habits among doctors and some change in the smoking habits of the American people within a year," Cameron said. Cameron said a 50-year-old man who smokes a pack or more cigarettes a day has twice as much chance of dying within 18 months as the 50-year-old man who has never smoked. He said the man of 50 who smokes a pack or more a day has about one chance in 50 of dying within a year and a half. But the non-smoker has about one chance in 100 of dying in the same period. Cameron and his associates, Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, director of the cancer society's statistical research division, and Dr. Daniel Horn, assistant statistics research director, said they themselves have given up smoking cigarettes. After 20 or 30 years

Cameron advised teen-agers not to smoke and said the society would advise parents to try to keep their children from smoking. The report indicated that smoking does not necessary show its effects until after "20 or 30 years" of smoking a pack a day. In the case of a heart ailment, smoking "may be the thing that would push a person over the ledge." The three researchers said they felt their study is "so conclusive" that the big problem now is to find

IN the postwar period the number of commercial gas customers in the United States rose at a faster rate than retail business establishments. Volume of commercial gas sales has tripled since 1941. Much of this utility gas growth was in the food service field, which has become the nation's fourth largest industry. Americans spend more than $15 billion per year on meals consumed outside the home. Nine out of ten of these meals are cooked with gas.

For cold meats, for potato and other vegetable salads, this Milwaukee sauce is a summertime blessing:

Sour Cream Cucumber Sauce One cup finely chopped cucumber, 1 cup thick sou. cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 table-spoon sugar, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon horseradish. Beat together all ingredients with a fork.

With milk and eggs both on the list of foods abundant during June, it's time to remind ourselves that good, old French toast can be mighty good.

French Toast (8 servings - 2 slices each) Five eggs, 1 1/4 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar, 12 slices enriched yeast-raised bread.

Combine eggs, milk, salt and sugar; beat slightly with a fork. Place buttered skillet over medium heat or heat griddle. One at a time, dip bread slices into egg and milk mixture on both sides.

Casserole of Fresh Vegetables Use fresh corn, snap and lima beans, young carrots and small white onions, plus sweet-smelling parsley.

Cut corn from cob; cut beans in strips, shell limas, scrape and cut carrots into strips and peel onions. Cook each vegetable in separate water until just under done.

Place layer of carrots on bottom, then pour in a layer of medium, delicately flavored white sauce. Next a layer of snap beans, more sauce, then corn, sauce, lima beans, sauce, onions, sauce. Sprinkle top with grated mild cheese.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes.

RUTH MILLET

How long can a girl get by on youthful beauty and charm? The American Airlines' apparently think age 33 is the absolute deadline, and has announced that from now on when a stewardess reaches that age she will be retired to a job on the ground.

The ruling has created quite a furor and some indignation, and airline hostesses apparently don't like to have an arbitrary time limit placed on their attractiveness.

Let's face it, girls. The time does come when a chief too old for a job whose chief requirements are a figure that looks good in a suit, nice legs, bright eyes and a flashing smile - and the ability to make a middle-aged, tired businessman feel that a business trip is an adventure.

The bosses at American Airlines say that time is age 33, and that sounds like a reasonable limit.

So why get upset? By age 33 a woman ought to come to the realization that year by year she has less and less to offer a glamorous job, and that if she has to go on earning her living, she ought to switch to the kind of job that requires more than youthful good looks and charm.

She ought not only to be willing to be grounded, she ought to welcome the chance to quit huckling glamor competition and get into white onions, plus sweet-smelling parsley.

Oleta Green And Ray Bailey Marry

Miss Oleta Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Green, 518 Perry, became the bride of A-35 Ray L. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bailey, 508 S. Somerville, recently in the home of Rev. John Blue, pastor of the Bible Baptist church here.

The bride wore a baby-blue dress with a fitted bodice edged in lace. It was topped by a bolero jacket with cap sleeves and mandarin collar of lace. The bouffant skirt was street-length. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Pearl Crawford, wore a blue street-length dress similar to that of the bride and her accessories were white. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the bride wore a navy-blue and rose linen suit. The couple will make plans to reside in Roswell, N. M., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Air Force.

A job where she has something to offer besides youthful good looks. All women who count on youth and beauty to get them by have to come down to earth some day. That is just one of the sad facts of life.

And it is certainly simpler for a deadline to be set by somebody else than for a woman to find the courage to say to herself: "Look, sis, you aren't getting any younger. From here on in you'd better not count on your looks to get you by."

The most satisfactory type of at-home dress for the busy woman is one she can slip into without mussing her hair. And to keep it ever fresh with the least amount of trouble, she should select a dress or gown that washes and dries quickly and needs no ironing.

If you are short, avoid the flamboyant prints that make their appearance in summer cottons. The delicate, floral patterns are better scaled to your height. If you choose checks, be sure they are rather small. And you would do well to avoid plaids.

A liquid rouge might be the answer to the problems of women who have difficulty applying the cosmetic.

Shower Honors Miss Reba Killian

Miss Reba Killian, bride-elect of W. Mitchell Jones Jr. of Canyon, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. J. W. Crisler, 422 N. Cuyler.

Cohostesses were Misses Mmes. Joe Brown, C. E. E. an, V. J. Caika, Robert Hollis, T. A. Mastin, Emory F. Hill, I. P. Patterson, Sammie Sullivan, Ed. Wylie, and Crisler.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. John Killian, and the mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. W. Mitchell Jones Sr., were presented corsages of white carnations by the hostesses.

Refreshments of punch, cookies, and mints were served. The table was covered with a white Mexican artwork cloth over green. A floral arrangement of green and white Easter daisies, flanked by white tapers, carrying out the bride-elect's colors of green and white, centered the table.

Assisting with the registering of the guests and the gifts were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Paul L. Willis of El Paso, and Mrs. James Silcott and Mrs. O. D. Burba, both of Pampa.

Miss Killian and Mr. Jones will be married June 29.

Dry Hair Outdoors During Sunny Days

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

From now till fall, you should be taking advantage of the benefits gained by drying and brushing your hair outdoors in the sun.

For fresh air really helps to keep your hair and scalp in top-notch condition. And an outdoor hair beauty treatment will restore most of your natural highlights.

First, of course, you'll have to shampoo your hair. Give it two sudsy latherings. Then, using a good, stiff massage brush, massage your scalp until it tingles. This will increase circulation and cleanse away any loose particles of skin on your scalp.

Removing is most important. To remove every bit of shampoo you must rinse your hair several times with lukewarm water. For a really thorough job, use a spray attachment. But if you haven't one, a small pitcher or cup will do.

Then, gather together your towel and hair accessories and go outside. Sitting in your lawn chair with a small table nearby (to hold your brushes, combs and hairpins) towel your hair vigorously.

After drying your hair, give it 200 strokes with your brush. And don't forget to massage your scalp outdoors. The combination of wind, sun and air, plus the scalp massage, will do wonders for your hair.

While you're outdoors, you can set your hair, too. Then, when you go into the house, you'll be ready to take out the pins and look your prettiest.

Las Cresas Club Honors Fathers

Las Cresas club members and pledges entertained their fathers Sunday with a tea in the city club room.

Refreshments of cookies, iced tea, mints and nuts were served. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and jonquills.

Miss Peggy Owen welcomed the guests, and Miss Bobbie Bullard spoke on big sisters. The advantages and disadvantages of pledging were explained by Miss Lynn Followell.

A short speech on the history of the club since its establishment here in 1944 was presented by Mrs. Charles Duenkel Jr., club sponsor and one of the Pampa club's first members.

Entertainment was provided by the Cub Scouts of Pack 22, Den 4. The boys, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Prince, presented several "comb band" numbers. They also presented some pantomimes entitled "Old Man River," "Dixie," "Alabama Jubilee," and "No Help Wanted." Boys performing were Johnny Prince, Jay Russell, Gerald Allen, Donald Robinson and Larry Cox.

Guests present at the tea were Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gerik, Frances and Patsy; G. O. Anderson and Wanita; Sam Gilleland and Kay; M. E. West and Margaret; Myron R. Spencer and Beth; Carl and Mrs. Dallas Hodges and Jerry Lee; Mrs. Archie Bullard and Jeannie; Mr. and Mrs. Minor Langford, Mrs. T. J. Owen; Mr. and Mrs. Carl English; Mrs. W. L. Bullard; Mrs. Charles Duenkel Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robinson.

Members present were Misses Jovanna English, Martha Wicker, Dixie Robinson, Peggy Owen, Bobbie and Betty Bullard, Wanda Langford, Marietta Mitchell, Nancy Prsenell and Lynn Followell.

Miss Helen Dunlap Speaks To HD Club

Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, was featured speaker at the recent meeting of the Bell Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Nolan Cole, south of the city.

"The government washed out certain plans for children's clothing through the Bureau of Home Economics," Miss Dunlap told the women. "The Bureau made garments for children experimentally and tried them out in cooperation with mothers and nursery teachers."

"The most important thing in clothes for growing children is to have them comfortable," she pointed out. "For good posture, have the garment hanging from the shoulders."

Other points stressed by Miss Dunlap were that garments should fit and fullness can be created through the use of elastic. Clothing that falls off the shoulders makes a child irritable, she stated. Cross shoulder straps in the back and stitch them on a machine to hold them in place, she advised.

"In making clothes for growing children, put a hem in five or six inches deep, so you can let it out as they grow," Miss Dunlap stated. "For a boy, you can make the suspenders longer and set the buttons down as the child grows."

Only large buttons should be used on children's garments to make it easier for them to dress themselves, the home demonstration agent pointed out. Dresses that button all the way down the front aid children in learning to dress themselves. Sashes on everyday dresses are apt to catch on things as the child plays, she stated. And pockets should be slanted the same reason.

"Dress toddlers in brightly colored clothes, Miss Dunlap advised. "This helps you to spot them and also helps prevent accidents."

Members present were Misses Hershel Kelly, Walter Noel, D. W. Swaine, Roland Dauter, Cole and Miss Dunlap.

Mrs. C. L. Nicholson Honored At Shower

WHITE DEER - (Special) - Mrs. C. L. Nicholson was honored recently with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Bob Allen, with Misses Brian Evans, Clifton Kelly, and Franklin Hussey as co-hostesses.

Decorations were pink and blue umbrellas. Refreshments of rum balls and fruit punch were served. Women attending were Misses Sterling Bearden, John B. O'Keefe, Dale Burch, Gene McCormick, J. R. Nicholson, Jay Phillips, Lester Robertson, Clyde Herdige, Roy B. Hodges, Alvin Lewis, James Stalls, Bob McBrayer, Joe Seitz, L. V. Ratliff, and Wayne Brown.

Skelly Rebekahs Meet

SKELLYTOWN - (Special) - Rebekah lodge recently held a meeting in the IOOF hall with notable grand, Mrs. Huber Cannon, in charge of the meeting. Members reported making 17 sick visits.

After the business meeting, members played charades, under the direction of the entertainment committee.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served. Those present were Misses Fred Genett, Al Shubring, R. E. McAllister, Kenneth Tetz, John Nichols, Ross Neugin, Clifford Sims, Lawrence Young, Everett Crawford, Ira Noble, Huber Cannon, Clyde Weaver, Miles Pearson, C. M. Estes, J. W. Weaver; Miss Addie Fern Lick; and Messrs. Everett Crawford and Fred Genett.

Baptist Circle Meets

The Alma Jackson circle of the Hobart Street Baptist church met recently in the home of Mrs. Bill Stanley, 945 S. Dwight.

The meeting was opened with a hymn and a prayer, led by Mrs. Stanley. The Bible lesson was taught by Mrs. Lawrence Barrett, and a special prayer for the sick was led by Mrs. Bill Manry. The business session, directed by Mrs. Jack Gist, was followed by an exchange of prayer pal gifts.

The circle had an attendance record of 100 per cent for the meeting, it was announced. Members present were Misses Lawrence Barrett, Ben Barrett, Jasper Tackett, Carl Ammons, Lum Pitcock, Lelan Coberly, Harold Beckham, Jack Alexander, Paul Tollison, Roger Headreck, Glad Stanley, and Manry.

U.S. Unveils Sunday Punch

Heavily armored hull and turret are each cast in one piece, with contours sloped to deflect shells and give crew maximum safety.

Additional firepower from .30-caliber and .50-caliber machine guns which can be loaded, aimed and fired from inside tank without exposing any crew member.

Manned by crew of five — a tank commander, gunner, loader, assistant loader and driver.

Powered by powerful 810-horsepower, 12-cylinder, air-cooled engine.

Sunday punch is long-barrel, high-velocity, 120-mm. gun, heaviest fire-power ever included in a production tank in this country.

Extreme mobility and ease of operation despite its great size and weight of 60 tons.

WRAPS ARE OFF—Photodiagram above shows the long-secret T-43 tank, just unveiled at Chrysler's Newark, Del., tank plant. It's the nation's newest and biggest military tank, with fire-power to outgun any tank in the world today. Designed by Army Ordnance and Chrysler engineers at the Detroit Arsenal, the T-43 has been in production at the Newark plant for more than two years. The giant completes an entirely new series of U. S. tanks, designed since World War II, which includes the T-41 light tank and the Patton T-48 medium.

Woman Solon Wins Campaign Over McCarthy-Backed Jones

PORTLAND, Me., June 22—UP—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, fresh from her smashing victory over a McCarthy primary in the Maine Republican primary, said Tuesday "I didn't raise the McCarthyism issue in the campaign... and I want some time to evaluate the returns."

The 66-year-old silver-haired senator won renomination by defeating pro-McCarthy Robert L. Jones of Biddeford by about 5 to 1 in Monday's primary which had been heralded in some quarters as a test of the political power of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

With 613 of 626 precincts reporting, Sen. Smith had 99,067 votes to 19,673 for Jones.

Her victory means virtual election in strongly Republican Maine. Her opponent in the September election will be Democratic Colby College history professor Paul A. Fulam, who was unopposed in the primaries.

Jones, 34 and handsome, did not concede defeat even after it became evident from the returns that he had been snowed under by Sen. Smith. Jones said he would have a statement sometime Tuesday.

Political leaders in Maine generally did not interpret the primary as a legitimate test of the popularity or political power of the junior senator from Wisconsin.

Gov. Burton M. Cross called the result "a clear-cut vote of confidence in Sen. Smith." However, he said, "although there may have been some elements of McCarthyism here, I don't think it was a clear-cut issue."

Sen. Smith's supporters charged during the campaign that McCarthy "sent Jones" to Maine to oppose Sen. Smith and also charged that the campaign was financed by "Texas oil money."

Truman Not Past Danger From Surgery

KANSAS CITY, June 22—UP—Former President Truman "is still not out of danger" following emergency removal of his gall bladder and appendix, but his personal physician said he was in "very satisfactory condition."

Dr. Wallace Graham, who was White House physician while Mr. Truman was President, said Monday night his famous patient was "in very satisfactory condition, but he is still not out of danger because of the infection with which he was stricken."

Attaches at Research Hospital, where the 70-year-old Mr. Truman was operated on early Sunday morning, said his condition was "very satisfactory and he is resting nicely."

Graham, who performed the operation, said Mr. Truman's condition was "very serious" before the surgery. He explained the gall bladder was gangrenous and there was a secondary infection of the appendix.

The ex-President was first stricken Friday night, while attending a performance of "Call Me Madam," in which he was to have appeared. Instead, Mr. Truman went home in the middle of the performance with what was believed an upset stomach.

He entered Research Hospital late Saturday night and was on the operating table within three hours.

Jets Soar 6,700 Miles To Record

YOKOTA AIR BASE, Japan, June 22—UP—Three U.S. Air Force B-47 Stratojet bombers, capable of delivering the atomic bomb, arrived in Japan Tuesday after a history-making 6,700-mile non-stop flight across the Pacific ocean from the United States.

It was the longest non-stop flight yet made by jet-powered aircraft. The distance was roughly equal to that between Los Angeles, Calif., and Moscow.

The six-jet bombers took off on their historic trans-Pacific hop from the March Air Force Base near Bernardino, about 50 miles east of Los Angeles.

Refueled three times by tanker planes, they made the flight in approximately 15 hours for an average speed of 446 miles per hour.

Maj. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney, commander of the 15th Air Force, led the three-plane flight which landed at this bomber base near Tokyo at 11 p.m. Monday night.

Sweeney lauded the B-47 as a "real airplane." He said the medium bomber "handles like a fighter."

New Drug Kills Pain The Best

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—UP—One of the leading anesthetologists in America reported Tuesday to the American Medical Association on a "new, safer, more pleasant" drug to reduce pain in nearly everything from child birth to severe burn cases.

Dr. John S. Lundy, chairman of the anesthesia section of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., identified the drug as dolitron and described it as "something really different."

He revealed how it acts in a report to the nation's leading medical men gathered here for the AMA's 108th annual convention. Significantly, his report was entitled, "After a Century of Anesthesia, Will Analgesia Take Over?"

In a nutshell, dolitron exerts an almost hypnotic influence on a patient—even slowing the doctor to order the patient to do something during an operation while the patient is completely unaware of what is going on.

Dr. Lundy said he believed the drug may help the medical profession reach "the ultimate" in solving the twin problems of killing pain and at the same time putting the patient in an ideal operative condition.

An anesthetic—a gas to make the patient completely unconscious, such as pentothal—generally has one or more drawbacks. Among other things, it is difficult to administer with complete safety.

An analgesic—a local pain killer, such as morphine—doesn't obliterate the operation from the patient's memory. In addition, the burden of pain when only an analgesic is used sometimes becomes too much to bear.

Dolitron, however, apparently ticks the problems of both analgesics and anesthetics, Dr. Lundy said.

One of its major advantages is that it can be used easily, and the amount regulated if the pain becomes too great.

So far, it has not been tested in major operations, but that is only a matter of time, according to Lundy.

Perryton Girl Starred In Play

PERRYTON — (Special) — Mrs. J. T. Campbell, the former Miss Bettie Lawrence and the daughter of Mrs. Mable Lawrence of Perryton, has one of the leading roles in Hardin-Simmons university presentation of Shakespeare's play "The Taming of the Shrew" which will be presented June 23.

She will be graduated at the end of the summer session. Her major is in speech, and she plans to teach in a public school next year.

While at Hardin-Simmons she has been a member of the Cow Girls, and she was senior candidate for homecoming queen.

Rita Can't Go To Kin's Funeral

LOS ANGELES, June 22 —UP—Film star Rita Hayworth will not attend funeral services here Tuesday for her grandfather, Antonio Canino, 85-year-old founder of a family of famed dancers.

Canino, who gained fame in his native Spain as a dancing master at the Madrid Opera House, died of a lung condition.

Miss Hayworth, in seclusion at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., sent word she would not attend her grandfather's funeral because she does not want to leave her children, Rebecca, 9, and Yasmin, 4.

MYF Installs Youth Officers

ABILENE — Installation of 1954-55 officers in the Methodist Youth Fellowship was the last item of the 38th annual assembly.

Installed were John Davis, Crosby, president; Keith Wiseman, Dallas, vice president; Linda Adcock, Crowell, secretary; and Zinta Morrow, Shallowater, treasurer. Named as committee chairmen Saturday night for the new year were Don Boyd, Midland; Barbara Amos, Sweetwater; Barbara Cook, Lubbock; Wayne Crawford, Lamesa; Charles Boling, Canyon; and Fae Marie Beck, Perryton.

Conducting the installation service were Rev. Charles Lutrick, Lubbock, executive secretary of the board of education for the Northwest Texas Methodist conference, and James Kirby Jr., Pampa, outgoing president.

Climax of the six-day assembly came Friday night with the hundreds of delegates holding their annual consecration service. Dr. Marvin Boyd, Midland, opened the service with a brief communion meditation. Friday's program concluded with a communion service in which each youth left a commitment card at the altar rail.

A total of $11,081 has been paid into the Methodist youth fund on last year's conference pledges, it was reported Thursday afternoon by Billy Phillips, Lubbock, fellowship treasurer. The assembly pledged itself to raise $10,169 for the fund during the coming year.

ROK Officers To Be Honored

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 —UP—Fifteen high-ranking Korean army officers were to be honored at a review at Sixth Army headquarters here late Tuesday.

The officers are en route to Korea after completing a course at the U.S. Army's Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

Many of the officers served under Lt. Gen. Willard G. Wyman, Sixth Army commander, in Korea. They include:

Lt. Gen. Yu Joo Hung; Maj. Gen. Ham Byong Sun, Song Yo Chae, Yank Kuk Chin, Lee Sung Gu, Park Nam Kwon, Oh Duk Jun, Park In Yup, Bak Lim Hang, Kim Chong Kop, and Kim Hyung Il; Brig. Gen. Paik Sun Chin and Choi Kyung Nok and Col. Kim H. Duk and Pak Chin Suk.

A Train For Pampa

Pampa can be truly proud today that the officials of the Santa Fe Railroad have agreed to make our city a conditional stop for the San Francisco Chief.

This is one of the fine trains of the nation, and it maintains its pace across the western half of the country because it holds the number of stops to a minimum. So, it is a mark of distinction for the City of Pampa to have been agreed upon as a conditional stopping point.

This development is a result of a lot of hard work by representatives of Pampa's Chamber of Commerce in dealings with the Santa Fe Railroad, and it will mean much in the way of convenience and dollars and cents to traveling Pampans.

Our congratulations to all those who worked so hard to accomplish this, and our thanks to the railroad men who are making it possible.

Conservatives

W. C. Mullendore, president of Southern California Edison Company, recently spoke on the importance of the true conservative. His remarks are refreshing in an era when office holders of all parties at every political level are scrambling to be identified as liberals, which generally means being liberal with the taxpayer's money.

In describing the "perspective of a conservative" Mr. Mullendore praised the "type of conservative mind and thought which has both breadth and depth, which is neither nearsighted nor narrow-minded, but is aware of the past and has dispassionately studied the lessons of experience, which sees the present as the fruit of the past and the seed of the future, and respects the relationship of cause and effect."

He then touched upon some of the things that are causing conservatives such grave concern in our country today: the expansion of credit; subsidizing production and consumption at home and abroad; stimulation of capital investment — all under government mandate, with purchasing power secured through inflation and vast expansion of debt for non-productive purposes. For example, the increase in private debt alone since 1950 has been about $100,000,000. The non-farm home mortgage debt in this country in 1952 totaled $12,000,000,000 — today it is approximately $60,000,000,000. Since the end of World War II other consumer debt has increased from less than $5,000,000,000 to more than $28,000,000,000, or between 500 and 600 per cent, and so far as the federal government is concerned, spending beyond income has become habitual. During the last four fiscal years, (1950 to 1953) authorized expenditures exceeded actual revenues by over $19,000,000,000.

Nowadays it is up to conservatives with a perspective to keep hammering at the false brand of liberalism that leads nations to ruin and bankruptcy. Again quoting Mr. Mullendore: "A review of the history of the past two decades should suggest . . . that we should make an honest inquiry into present practices and their meaning. If we will fearlessly and honestly make such an examination, we cannot but see that the sources of much of our present prosperity are destructive spendthrift policies . . . not only the freedom of the American people but the fate of a civilization is involved."

Warped Intent

Public power zealots in key positions misinterpreted the intent of Congress, as expressed in the Flood Control Act of 1944, in order to foster government development at the expense of private enterprise.

That, in effect, is the opinion of a recognized authority — A. J. G. Priest, professor of law at the University of Virginia.

The act in question contains the much debated clause providing that preference in the sale of federal power is to be given to public bodies and cooperatives. But it also says that the power shall be disposed of "in such a manner as to encourage the most widespread use thereof at the lowest possible rates to consumers consistent with sound business principles." It further states that power is to be made available on fair terms not only to public bodies, but to privately-owned companies.

Apparently the influential public-power group seized happily on the preference clause to the exclusion of other stipulations. Mr. Priest cites a 1945 order by the then Secretary of the Interior which can be construed as saying: "Do everything you can to convert investor-owned, tax-paying utility property into government-owned tax-eating utility property." That was plainly the policy for many years.

The proper step now is to get rid of the preference clause and all other unfair "class" clauses and statutes. As the Neligh, Nebraska, Leader, said succinctly: "No U. S. citizen should be discriminated against in the sale of federal hydro power."

The Only Cure

"We could both cure the budget deficit and many of the pains of taxes without lessening our effectiveness in defense or in the needed functions of government if we could now have a period of self-denial and patience."

That observation has come from a real authority, Herbert Hoover, in a talk made before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The American people never were given sounder advice or more timely advice. If we are to lay the ghost of inflation and honestly eliminate the danger of eventual bankruptcy, we must welcome and encourage every effort to cut government costs, including those which hit us directly in our own pocketbooks.

The Income Tax. Root Of All Evil

CHAPTER VIII

A Possible Way Out

The American brand of socialism known as the New Deal was made possible by the income tax. But with the advent of income taxation, socialism was unavoidable. There have always been, and perhaps always will be, people who are averse to letting other people alone. Recognizing the human inclination to err, they are impelled by their kindness of heart to overcome this imperfection; invariably they come up with a sure-proof plan that needs only political power to become effective. Political power is the essential ingredient of every one of these plans to improve the human.

Since all the ills of mankind, they argue, follow from the exercise of free will, it follows that the only cure for these ills is to suppress free will and to compel the individual to behave in all things as per the perfect pattern devised by these improvers. Compulsion means force; there must be a policeman to see that the individual does not follow his own inclinations.

But policemen must live. Since they do not produce a thing by which they can live, others must support them. Hence, the planners must have the means of getting at the production of the very people who are to be improved by the policeman. That means taxes, and the more taxes the greater the number of enforcement agents, and therefore the most comprehensive the plan. No plan can be bigger than its bureaucracy.

The income tax is the ideal instrument for the planner. It not only enables him to exercise his imagination to the last dollar that can be taken from the producers — for their own improvement, of course — but it also weakens their will to resist the plan. The less property the individual has at his disposal, the less room there is for the exercise of his will. He must conform as a matter of necessity. That is to say, social power decreases as political power increases.

The income tax was put upon us in 1913. But the improvers of mankind could do little with it for a long time, for the tradition of freedom still held the American in its grip; and the improvers were confined to expounding theories in their papers, or haranguing crowds from a soapbox.

World War I, with its tremendous costs, opened up the door a little; the politician acquired the habit of increasing the levies, and a few regulators of society were pulled in by the draught. It was not until the depression of 1929 that the opportunity to remake America presented itself. This was the opportunity long hoped for. The distress caused by the depression made a shambles of the tradition of freedom; hunger, and the fear of it, have a way of wiping out the value of everything but food. Americans were willing to forget everything they had prized for centuries in exchange for even the promise of an improved economy. The planners were ready with promises. They never made good, of course, and finally had to resort to war to stir up some economic activity; but they had acquired power, and that was all that counted.

If it had not been Mr. Roosevelt and his horde of self-seeking visionaries, it would have been somebody else. The New Deal, or something like it, was planted when the Sixteenth Amendment was put into the Constitution. It needed only the fertilization of the depression to bring it to flower. Whatever politician happened to be at the helm at the propitious moment would have done more or less what Mr. Roosevelt did. That is because the business he is in, politics, drives the politician toward the acquisition of more and more power, and a good politician is one who takes advantage of every contingency to increase his power. Mr. Roosevelt was an excellent politician.

Once socialism gets hold of a country, there seems to be nothing for it to lose except a complete collapse of the political set-up, either as the result of a disastrous war or by way of revolution. The revolutionary way is the least promising, simply because under socialism the will to resist weakens in proportion to the people's adjustment to regulation, control, and domination. Because that is the only way to rub along, they make peace with the conditions imposed on them; they lose the habit of self-respect.

Thus, in this country it has become quite proper for bankers and industrialists to stand in the Washington line with "tin cups" in their hands, for veterans and the unemployed to press for handouts, for farmers to expect subsidies, for the educational fraternity and the ministry to maintain bounty-begging lobbies. All this is the regular order of things; freedom, which demands self-reliance, is out of style. If the miraculous politician should come along, and urge that all this paternalism should be abandoned, as well as the income tax, he would probably receive short shrift from the public.

Even if the politicians should "evict" a war — one that would decimate the population and destroy the economy — what is the next step toward which socialism leads? Communism. The purpose of socialism is to get control of

Top-Level Military Overhaul May Result From Errors

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — A top-level overhaul of the national defense system and personnel may result from the major and minor blunders revealed in the McCarthy controversy, the Indo-China fiasco and the military experts' row over the armed forces cutback known as the "new look." Rarely has the Pentagon been the target of so much censure at the White House and on Capitol Hill.

The reorganization may not affect the tenure of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson or the Joint Chiefs of Staff, for that would be too bald an admission of miscalculations and mistakes. But it is understood that there will be important changes in the military and civilian posts just beneath this official crust.

CONDEMN TRIMMING MILITARY — The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the military experts' row over the armed forces cutback known as the "new look." Rarely has the Pentagon been the target of so much censure at the White House and on Capitol Hill.

Besides criticizing these military economies before Congress and the Committees, if only by their silence, all three have delivered speeches and given interviews in society in the hands of government through control of its economy. But if individuals persist in trying to circumvent the political establishment, say by establishing "black" markets, or if they preach doctrines inimical to the interest of the ruling group, then it follows that freedom of all kinds, most particularly freedom of thought, must be suppressed. That is communism.

The transition from partial to complete socialism, from the New Deal to communism, will not be easy in this country, because the phrases of freedom still sound sweet to us. Given a state of war, or a constant threat of war, or even another depression, and the memories would be obliterated; we will ask for a savior and we will get communism. It will not be exactly what the Russians have; it will be an American version.

Is there no hope? Cannot America, the greatest experiment in free government in the history of the world, be saved from the fate that socialism is preparing for her?

It so happens that when this country was organized, the Founding Fathers, either by design or as a matter of necessity, effected an arrangement that is a road block to complete socialism. That is the division of authority between the several states and the federal government. This separation gave rise to the doctrine of States' Rights. The following chapters of this book will attempt to show how this doctrine can be employed to prevent the coming of complete socialism, or absolutism, to this country. Of course, the doctrine will have to be implemented with a will to repeal the Sixteenth Amendment; but that will can be generated, simple because it is to the interests of the forty-eight political establishments that this Amendment be repealed.

Charges Against Warren's Accuser Were Unevaluated

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK — Last March when Earl Warren, the political whizkid from California, was up for confirmation as Chief Justice, there was an awful uproar against people who made "unsworn and unevaluated charges" against the baby-kissing bi-partisan aspirant for the presidential nomination in 1948.

One of those who made "unsworn and unevaluated charges" was Roderick J. Wilson, of San Francisco. He went across the country to say what he had to say right into Warren's gravestone. There were others, equally forthright and equally well heeled with valid information which proved that Warren was still an active politician, still controlled a colossal patronage, both state and federal, and was still the spiritual head of a ruthless machine.

The burden of the beef was not criminal crookedness nor ignorance, although Warren has no professional distinction as would seem to be appropriate for the job. The charge was that he had been a bad governor for reasons within his control. These arguments went straight to the gut of his fitness. But Warren was a promising checkmate Republican, more appealing to Democrats, Socialists and Communists than to pro-Republican Republicans.

Stevens' effort to ingratiate himself with the McCarthy investigators by giving special favors to Buck Private Schine has damaged Army and civilian morale far more deeply than McCarthy's tactics. Wherever officers or enlisted men gripe or gripe over Stevens' softpadding. "So do the mothers of 2,000,000 men in the three services."

He looked at me and shook his head: "You're middle-aged; you've got the 'spread.' If you'd be like an alley-cat, you've got to stop this getting fat. FIFTY-FIFTY BREAK FOR SMALL BUSINESS By DEWITT EMERY (Editor's Note: DeWitt Emery is president of the National Small Business Men's Association.)

An amendment to the Taft-Hartley Act, which should be of particular interest to all small business men all over the country, has recently been presented to the Labor Committee of the House.

This amendment, which undoubtedly will be known as the "Small Business Amendment," provides: When a strike is called and a picket line is set up, all of the pickets must be employees of the company against which the strike is called, and each picket must have his company identification on his person while he is on the picket line — such identification to be shown on request to a police officer, a representative of the Labor Board, or a representative of the company — non employee pickets and employee pickets who do not have a company identification on their person while picketing to be subject to a mandatory fine of $500 and to imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

This amendment, of course, would apply to all companies and while it wouldn't mean much if anything to big companies employing thousands of workers, it would be of the greatest importance to all small companies.

It would prevent the use of professional pickets — goons — and would prevent the union from having twice as many people on the picket line as the company has employees. This happened in many small employers last year. In one case, by actual count, there were 117 pickets, only four of whom were employees of the company. At the time of the strike the company had 57 employees.

This amendment provides a much needed equalizer between big national unions and small employers. The small employer can take care of himself, can fight his own labor battles so long as he has only his own people and their representative to deal with. But in far too many cases he doesn't have any chance at all when one of the big unions cracks down on him and he is forced to pit his limited resources against the unlimited resources of the union.

This amendment, or something very similar to it, is absolutely essential in order to give small employers the fifty-fifty break they are entitled to in their dealings with labor unions.

I think this amendment is pretty important. I have seen what imported pickets can do to a small company particularly in a small town. I have seen picket lines maintained by outsiders — goons — when more than 90 per cent of the employees of the struck plant wanted to go back to work. I have known such picketing to be kept up month after month until the company was forced into bankruptcy.

This doesn't make sense, except that some labor bosses do not want to mess around with small companies. They would rather break the little fellows and help the big companies to get bigger.

It seems to me that every small business man, whether he is a manufacturer, retailer, wholesaler or what have you, should be interested in doing all he can to get Congress to pass this amendment. If a considerable number of these small business men will write to their congressmen and senators, demanding passage of the Small Business Amendment to the Taft-Hartley Act, you may be sure that the amendment will be adopted.

No one has ever been able to find a congressman or senator who wasn't 100 per cent for small business.

Confession is good for the soul, they say, but if you want to confess something that was cooked up in the White House, then you can be gagged. It was Henry S. Truman, the Pendergast Thunderbolt, who established the executive gag rule on Federal employees and (oh my!) how Eisenhower and the Republicans denounced it all through the presidential campaign of 1952. You've got to hand it to them, they made us all think they were as sincere and earnest about it. But once he got in, Ike was quick to adopt the old gag tactics. Well, the public is now goggin' on it. And nothing much has been covered up. Witnesses already have admitted that Sherman, Adams (chief hatchetman in Federal administration's efforts to get McCarthy) prepared the Cohn-Schine side-show which diverted attention from the exposure of Communists in the Army. To get to the root of this is not to endanger national security. It only endangers NATIONAL INSECURITY and those who would cover it up. Jonathan Yank

Hoffman Oil Takes Lead In Eastern LL; Utility Oil Records First Shutout

Hoffman Oil took over the lead in Eastern Little League yesterday by taking a surprising 11-1 decision over Cabot. The two teams, prior to the game, were denuded for the Eastern LL lead with 4-2 records.

Lynn Boyd pitched Hoffman to its win over Cabot. The big right hander dished out only four hits to the heavy hitting Cabot nine. Gary Hill and Larry Cruise dished mounds of hits for the Cabot team.

In the Western Little League, Utility Oil stayed in the running for the first half title with the first shutout of the season in Little League.

Loose defensive play by the usually smooth fielding Cabot team accounted for most of the damage. Utility Oil scored in every inning as they defeated Your Laundry.

All Little League and PONY League managers are requested to be present at the weekly Optimist Club meeting tomorrow at the Schneider Hotel.

Klat rallied for two runs in the fifth inning to take a 7-6 lead in its game with First National in the PONY League and then held on for the victory.

Final plans on the ticket drive will be ironed out at tomorrow's meeting.

Following are yesterday's line scores:

Hardaway's Double Wins Tilt In 11th

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

The "red hot" Pampa Oilers got maximum mileage out of four hits last night to record a spine-tingling 5-4 decision in 11 innings over the Clovis Pioneers before more than 1,000 fans at Oiler Park.

The win, ninth in succession for the Oilers, increased the Oiler hold on first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League standings. The Oilers have now won 22 and lost 22 for a .500 percentage while Clovis, in second place, is one game behind with a 22-22 record and .500 percentage.

The Oilers in sweeping the three-game series from the Pioneers, managed only four hits off two Clovis hurlers, Ruben Phillips and Red Dial, but three of the aces figured in the Oiler run-ning.

The payoff blow by the Oilers was Curt Hardaway's line drive double to centerfield that scored Dub Woolbright from second with the winning run in the 11th inning. Woolbright was on base via an error and had moved to second when Gene Hauradon walked.

Dial charged with loss. Dial, who relieved Phillips in the ninth, was charged with the loss. It was the second defeat for the Clovis ace in the series. He lost in a starting role in the first game.

The Oilers will open a two-game series with the Amarillo Gold Sox tonight at Oiler Park. Game time has been set for 8:15.

Jim Lemons (3-5) will get the starting nod for the Oilers. Tomorrow's series final which will also end the Oiler home stand, has been proclaimed "Meat-N-Kick-Night." Fifty neck ties will be given away to lucky ticket holders by Friendly Men's Wear.

same of Sunday's double header. Vibert Clark, the Oiler's relief specialist, gained credit for the win, his sixth of the season against five losses. Clark came on in the ninth to relieve Jose Valesquez.

Valesquez turned in an outstanding performance for eight innings when he blanked the hitting Pioneers on seven hits. But the big Cuban submariner ran into trouble in the ninth and had to have help from Clark.

Clovis, trailing 2-0 going into the ninth, came up with four big runs to take the lead, 4-2. Valesquez got the first man to face him in the ninth but he gave up a single to Jim Fairchild, a walk to rival pitcher Phillips and a run-scoring single by Don Ford to cut the Oiler lead to 2-1. On the throw-in from the outfield on Ford's hit, Phillips moved to third and Ford to second.

Clark entered the scene at this point. He walked Dial, pinch-hitting for Jim Lewis, to load the bases. Then Hank Paszkiewicz hit a hard ground ball that went through second baseman Dub Woolbright for an error and a run-scoring single, giving Clovis a 2-2 lead.

Dial then scored the fourth and final Clovis run by stealing home. Oilers Rally. The Oilers, however, came right back in their fourth inning to tie the score and send the game into extra innings. The ninth inning rally started after the first two had been retired. Dick Hutzler, who had the Oiler's only hit up to this point, hit a booming home run in the seventh — kept the winner's hopes alive with an infield hit off Phillips' shin.

First Division Crowded In West Texas-New Mexico Loop

By UNITED PRESS The Pampa Oilers clamped onto undisputed first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League Monday night as the first division underwent a reshuffling that sent Albuquerque from third to sixth place.

Pampa edged Clovis, 5 to 4, in 11 innings to drop the Pioneers to second place; Plainview beat Amarillo, 5 to 3; Abilene won its first doubleheader in two years, beating Albuquerque, 2 to 1 and 16 to 4; and Lubbock and Borger split a pair, the Hubbers winning the first game, 6 to 5, and Borger taking the second, 7 to 6.

The results left Amarillo and Plainview tied for third place and Abilene only one percentage point behind them in fifth. Albuquerque was a half game behind Abilene.

Abilene pitcher Andy Alonso got credit for both Blue Sox wins over Albuquerque for his 11th and 12th victories of the year. He pitched the entire opener, that went eight innings, allowing six hits, then relieved 11th inning reliever the nightcap to allow four hits the rest of the way.

Plainview got only four hits to Amarillo's 11, but three of the Ponies' blows were homers — two by Warren Green and one by Don Slokes.

Curtis Hardaway's 11th inning double scored Doug Woolbright, who had reached first on an error, for the winning run for Pampa against Clovis.

George Tomcek, Borger pitcher, allowed Lubbock only one hit in the seven-inning second game of their twin-bill. By MATS LUNDQUIST TURKU, Finland, June 22—UP

Lean John Landy of Australia, Tuesday, set a new world record in the mile run by eclipsing the 3:58 mile record he established Monday.

"Santee has the best possibility," said the 21-year-old Aussie agricultural student who slashed 1.4 seconds off the world record held for less than two months by England's Roger Bannister, the original four-minute miler.

Landy chuckled at the suggestion that his new record might prove unbeatable for a long time, and said, "It's not impossible to run even faster than I did Monday."

Be Ready for Games "I don't think I'll be able to do it myself within the next few weeks," he explained. "I've had five hard races in the last three weeks, and I need a rest. I'm scheduled to run in two more races over here before July 1, at Gavel and Gothenburg, and then I'll rest up for my meeting with Bannister in the British Empire Games."

The Empire Games will be held at Vancouver, Canada, July 30-August 7 and the long-awaited finals of the mile run in that big meet, with Bannister and Landy meeting at last, is scheduled for the final day.

In London, trail-blazer Bannister said he also is pointing his training for the Empire Games race and said "I can hardly wait to run against Landy."

Landy said that his record clocking was something of a "surprise," even though he had announced before the race that he felt fine and intended shooting at the record.

"I never thought breaking Bannister's record would go so smoothly," said Landy, who had been smiling and apparently relaxed as he crossed the finish line, Blasing Pass Rd.

For the first 700 meters Landy followed a blazing pace set by Erkki Kallia of Finland, and then he took over to lead the rest of the way "because I knew this was the time to go all out, and I knew it was up to me alone." Chris Chataway, the same British runner who paced and drove Bannister to his record performance, clung to Landy's heels until the final burst and finished 40 yards behind in 4:04.4.

En route to the mile record, Landy also eclipsed the 1,500 meter record of 3:43, held by Gundar Haegg and Lennart Strand of Sweden and Werner Lunge of Germany, by clocking 3:41.8.

In the United States, Santee, the University of Kansas star who has clocked as low as 4:00.6, heard of Landy's feat at Quantico, Va., where he is undergoing platoon leader training in the U.S. Marine Corps. He said he was "not surprised," and added, "people who have concentrated on the distance in the manner that Landy and Bannister have may eventually run a mile in 3:55."

At San Francisco, famed track Coach Dink Templeton predicted that the "limit of human endurance" for the mile probably will be "around 3:50." He said under the proper conditions he believed Santee capable of a 3:56 clocking.

FASTEST MILER — John Landy, of Australia, Monday set a new world record in the mile run at Turku, Finland. Landy became second man in history to run the mile in less than four minutes. His time for the distance was 3 minutes, 58 seconds flat. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Increase NL Lead Giants Down Cards In Lone Major Tilt

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer Manager Leo Durocher of the streaking New York Giants predicted Tuesday that "it will take 100 victories to win the National League pennant this year."

"Just mark it down," Durocher barked following the Giants' 8 to 5 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals Monday. "It's gonna take 100 victories to win this thing — there's a long road ahead."

Durocher indicated he visualized a two-team struggle between the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers with the heroes of Monday's triumph in Philadelphia, Phillies and Milwaukee Braves warring under the pressure. All three have sagged during the last month while the Giants and Dodgers have traveled better-than-700 clips.

34 Wins in 30 Games Starting on May 21, the Giants have reeled off 24 victories in 30 games for an amazing .800 percentage while the Dodgers have hung on doggedly with 22 wins in 31 games for 710. During the same period, the Braves have 15-14 record for .517, the Phillies sloughed off to 13-15 for .463 and the Cardinals virtually collapsed with 11-18 for .379.

The Dodgers won the pennant last year with 105 victories but they were the only 99 of 'em and no National League team had previously won 100 games since 1944. In fact, only 16 pennant winners have won 100 games.

Willie Mays and Jim Hearn were the heroes of Monday's triumph in which the Giants finally squared matters with Stan Musial for his record home run binge against them on May 2. The great Cardinal slugger set a major league record that day when he blasted five home runs in a doubleheader.

Hearn Handles Musial But Monday Hearn handled Musial like a 215-hitter, retiring him three consecutive times to break up Cardinal rallies and leave five runners stranded. Hearn forced Musial to hit into a double play with two runners on to close the first inning and retired him on outfield flies with two Cardinals on base in both the third and fifth innings. Batchelor Will Face Army Court

SAN ANTONIO, June 22—UP—Cpl. Clau's Batchelor, "turnabout" Korean POW, will be court-martialed in August, but the Army will not ask for the death penalty. One of three charges against the 22-year-old Kermit, Tex., soldier was dropped Monday by the Fourth Army, which announced Batchelor would be tried on charges:

That he "communicated and conspired with the enemy concerning a subversive organization to be established in the United States after the Korean armistice," and

That he "made speeches and wrote articles in attempts to persuade his fellow POWs to believe Communist doctrines," and wrote "letters designed to promote disloyalty and disaffection among the civilian populace of the United States."
