270 Kids Bell Plant Visitors

4,500 Expected To See Operations

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. opened its doors this morning to school children of Pampa in a special morning of its "open house" celebration.

Some 270 school children went through the plant by noon today, and manager George Newberry said he expected a total of 1,200 persons would visit the company's quarters before the day is out.

Prior to this morning more than 1,000 visitors had seen the equipment and operations of the telephone company in the first day of "open house" yesterday.

Newberry said he expected 4,500 would visit the plant during the open house observance which will be concluded tomorrow.

The telephone company is giving a free long distance telephone call to each 100th person to visit the plant.

In addition to seeing the highly technical equipment used in the dial system such as Pampa has, the visitors see special equipment and displays sent to Pampa by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. This electronic equipment is being sent to various offices around the country for open house observances and for fair displays, Newberry said.

Dulles Plans Major UN Talk Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 23 — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles goes before the United Nations' General Assembly Thursday to deliver a major policy speech for the United States.

Dulles was expected to emphasize American plans for peaceful use of atomic energy and review the entire field of foreign relations. The assembly moved up the time of its session from 1 p.m. to 12:45 p.m. est in order to make sure that Dulles will not be on the rostrum at 2 p.m., when the proceedings will be televised.

Dulles polished his speech in his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Wednesday and conferred with other diplomats.

Chief among those who went to Dulles' suite were Australian Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey, with whom he discussed Far Eastern matters, including the Red Chinese attacks on Quemoy and Tachen Islands off the China mainland.

U. S. delegation sources said Dulles would "touch all bases" in his policy speech.

No further information on his speech was available, but Dulles was expected to outline U. S. views on all major questions, including the Far East, and to expand upon President Eisenhower's announcement that the United States was preparing to go ahead with its plans for an international agency for the post-war use of atomic energy despite Russian refusal to join in an international pool.

U.S. Power Curb Blasted By Ike

Dishonorable Discharge For Fleming

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., Sept. 23 — An 11-man court martial which found Lt. Col. Harry Fleming guilty of collaborating with the Communists in Korea, sentenced him Thursday to a dishonorable discharge.

The discharge, including forfeiture of pay, is effective upon approval of the sentence by the secretary of the Army, Fleming, of Racine, Wis., could have been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Fleming, decorated for his service in Korea by both the U.S. and South Korean governments, heard the sentence without flinching. He had nothing to say.

The defense had prepared a petition for clemency if the sentence had included confinement. Defense counsel went into a huddle on what their next step would be.

The court martial reached its verdict after all-night deliberations.

The court martial consisting of 11 colonels found him guilty Wednesday on four specifications charging that he collaborated with the enemy while held in a North Korean prisoner of war camp.

Santa Fe Jumps Tracks, 20 Hurt

KNIGHTS, Calif., Sept. 23 — Twenty persons were injured Wednesday when the Santa Fe railroad's transcontinental streamliner San Francisco Chief jumped the track at 70 miles per hour near this small town 40 miles east of San Francisco.

There were no fatalities and none of the injuries was serious. The sleek red-and-silver luxury train — in service for only two months — was heading east to Chicago with 121 passengers aboard when the accident occurred.

Nine of the train's 13 cars were zig-zagged along the right-of-way, but none overturned.

Police spaced at five yard intervals in the quadrangle outside the hall searched each man as he came out. The convicts then squatted in front of the officers, their backs against a three-foot stone wall beside the burned-out skeleton of a prison school building.

They faced machine gun emplacements, manned by National Guardsmen, on balconies of the administration building across the quadrangle.

Twenty minutes after the assault began, 21 prisoners had emerged. Prison officials earlier had estimated that some 200 men were in the building.

Shortly before the mass attack began, Prison Guard Clarence Beitzel, who had been held as a hostage, was carried out of the building.

Only one shot was heard. A riot gun barked one minute after the assault began.

Inmates began leaving the building, hands clasped behind their heads, almost immediately.

'LIFE' GOES TO A PARTY, THIS TIME AT PAMPA OIL WELL

A few Pampans will find their pictures in Life Magazine this week as the weekly news-picture magazine has devoted three pages to the testing of the Phillips Petroleum Company's No. 1 Delp well here recently.

Life dubbed the story "Waiting to Get Rich Quick." Its picture story deals with the land owners and oilmen waiting at the well site for the first test of the Delp well which is now producing about 200 barrels of oil a day.

Pampans identified in the Life photos are Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Cook and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Pruesang and the Irving Prouse family. The Delp well is located on the Albert Cook property.

Several other people are standing in a group in one of the magazine pictures.

4 Killed In Prison Riot

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 23 — A night-long riot that brought death to four prisoners and caused possibly $5 million damage ended Thursday in a mass assault by state troopers supported by hundreds of other officers.

Prison Warden Ralph Eldson announced at 7:35 a.m. that "all convicts are locked up."

Submission came half an hour after the patrolmen swarmed into beleaguered B and C halls as a din of yells, catcalls and cursing came from within.

Only one shot was heard. A riot gun barked one minute after the assault began.

Inmates began leaving the building, hands clasped behind their heads, almost immediately.

President On 4-State Talk Trip

UMATILLA, Ore., Sept. 23 — President Eisenhower attacked Thursday the "deadly cycle" of federal monopoly of power and other natural resources, promising his administration will "avoid extremes" in developing the nation's power.

Speaking at ceremonies dedicating McNary dam high on the Columbia River, the President said the government will neither withdraw from the power field nor "federalize all power generators in the United States."

"Instead, we shall continue to advance in a spirit of helpfulness to localities and in a spirit of cooperation with local citizens," he said.

This was a restatement of the Republican administration's basic philosophy that the federal government should participate in power development only to the extent of necessity.

The President's speech at McNary was the second of four he has scheduled in a three-day whirlwind tour of the West to lead the Republican fight for a GOP-controlled Congress.

"It is not properly a federal responsibility to try to supply all the power needs of our people," the President said. "The federal government should no more attempt to do so than it should assume responsibility for supplying all their drinking water, their food, their housing and their transportation."

He warned that those "zealots" — presumably Democrats — who urge a total federal power policy failed to point out that such stern federal control of natural resources is "always potentially dangerous to freedom — even when monopoly is exercised by government."

"Curiously enough," he said, "the proponents of full federal control proclaim their fear of a private power monopoly in a county, city or state, but urge upon us all a gigantic, overwhelming, nationwide power monopoly. But of course, they also see themselves as the all-wise directors of that monopoly — so all would be well."

Early this morning, the low mercury reading was 55 degrees which by 9 a.m. — after one full hour of fall — had gone up to 70. Wednesday's high was 83. Station KPDM, Pampa's weather station, reported.

Farmers and ranchers over the country, however, were, as always, still looking for rain. Last time it rained was the night of Sept. 6-7 when .15 of an inch was recorded.

Harvesting of grain sorghums, feed crops and cotton was well underway today. County Farm Agent Ralph Thomas reported. He expects the average yield on sorghums will be 20-25 bushels per acre, with some maybe running as high as 30-35, or even 40. There should be one-quarter to one-half a bale of cotton per acre.

Though fall officially did not arrive till this morning, many a Pampans figured the season jumped the gun. For the mercury went below 60 degrees for the first time two days ago.

A great crowd of volunteer civilians was out looking over the Forest and Trinity Parks again Thursday for Pete. But none of them saw him.

Dam-Reservoir Cost Set At $69 Million

The Canadian River Municipal Water Authority has approved payment of $26,250 to a New York City engineering firm for its preliminary feasibility report on the proposed Canadian River dam-and-reservoir project — a report which estimates the initial cost will be $69,200,000.

Directors of the authority met in Plainview Wednesday and accepted the report from Parsons Brinckerhoff, Hall and Macdonald, of New York City. They appointed a committee from their own number which will review the firm's findings and make a report to the full board at the next meeting, slated for 10 a.m. Oct. 11.

The project, which is to be located near Sanford is "entirely feasible from the engineering standpoint" and, what's more, it is "mandatory if the constituent citizens are not literally to wither on the vine for lack of water," the report states.

Fire Safety Week Planned

The Chamber of Commerce laid plans for city-wide observance of Fire Prevention Week October 3-9 this morning under direction of Joe Cree, chairman of the committee.

Fire prevention posters, to be made by school children, will be distributed, fire trucks, decorated with fire prevention signs, will tour the city streets; an open house at the fire station will be staged, and daily blasts from the fire alarm will be included in the observance program.

Joe Fischer was named chairman of the group to solicit funds to finance the project, with donations to come from insurance firms.

B. R. Nuckols will be in charge of securing posters and essays from school children.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne will direct publicity for the project assisted by representatives from the press and radio.

Films to be shown at the La Nora Theatre will be secured by Ken Huey, and Ray Duncan will serve as speakers for the various civic clubs during the week of observance.

Jim Perkins will be in charge of distributing the posters.

An open house will be held at the fire station on Wednesday, October 6, when coffee will be served. The fire alarm will be sounded at 9:30 a.m. that day to signify the opening of "open house."

On other days during the fire prevention week, the alarm will be sounded at noon.

Pampa is one of the 11 Panhandle — High Plains Communities in the authority. Others are Amarillo, Borger, Plainview, Lubbock, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Brownfield, Lamasa, Levelland and Slaton.

The engineers, in general, were in conformity with the recommendations of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation which had made a survey sometime before. They point out the High Plains is in a semi-arid region where the only water available is that which falls on the surface of the high ground.

"It is clear," the report continues, "that a drastic change in agriculture is necessary." (See RESERVOIR, Page 2)

Japanese Fisherman Dies From Effects Of H-Bomb

TOKYO, Sept. 23 — A Japanese seaman Thursday became the first man in history to die as the result of a hydrogen bomb blast.

Aikichi Kuboyama, radio operator of the atom-dusted tuna boat "Fortunate Dragon," died at 6:06 p.m. (3:06 a.m. est).

Although Kuboyama's death came as an outgrowth of a hydrogen bomb blast, it was pointed out that American doctors never were allowed to examine him. And there were some reports that impure blood used for transfusions contributed to the seaman's death.

Kuboyama's wife, Suku, his mother and his eldest daughter, Miyako, were at his bedside when he died.

The 40-year-old Kuboyama was the oldest of 23 crewmen of the fishing boat who were dated by radioactive fallout from the March 1 Bikini H-bomb test.

He died at the First National Hospital here, where he had been confined with 15 of the crewmen since March 28.

Kuboyama almost died earlier this month when he sank into a week-long coma. He rallied but again became seriously ill last Monday.

Dallas Jail Break Thwarted

DALLAS, Sept. 23 — A jail break in the Dallas county jail, jammed with 448 prisoners, was thwarted Wednesday night when guards discovered two bars sawed about half through, Sheriff Bill Decker said.

The bars were on a window in the dormitory-like quarters of trusty prisoners. Decker said two small pieces of hacksaw blades were later found in the area.

The ninth-floor window opens on a new criminal court building annex under construction. Decker said the prisoners could have stepped out the window onto the new building if they had succeeded in sawing the bars through.

Up to Thursday, Kuboyama had remained conscious.

"I am tired," he said repeatedly. "It's agonizing."

No further information on his speech was available, but Dulles was expected to outline U. S. views on all major questions, including the Far East, and to expand upon President Eisenhower's announcement that the United States was preparing to go ahead with its plans for an international agency for the post-war use of atomic energy despite Russian refusal to join in an international pool.

Brothers Get Long Terms

DALLAS, Sept. 23 — Two brothers were sentenced to long prison terms Thursday for a $200,000 extortion attempt against Dallas Jews.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson sentenced James Hollis Jones, 49, of Dallas to 20 years in prison. His brother, Ralph Frank Jones, 42, of Houston, was given five years.

They were found guilty Wednesday on five counts of attempted extortion by a federal court jury which deliberated only seven minutes.

SURE AIN'T BONDED, EITHER

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — UP — State alcohol control agents reported they found $6,000 worth of bonded whisky in a Fayette county hay truck. "That ain't hay," they said.

Kefauver launched his sweeping attack on administration foreign policy in his first speech of the fall congressional campaign prepared for delivery here. It bristled with hostile references to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

He recalled Vice President Richard M. Nixon's claim last spring that world communism had scored no gains since President Eisenhower took office. Since then, Kefauver said, a "great part" of Indo-China has been "surrendered" to the Reds, the European Defense and relations with many of America's allies have deteriorated.

Kefauver said the administration cannot "escape at least partial blame" for the impact on foreign relations of "McCarthyism" — a reference to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

"Rightly or wrongly he people abroad see in this a surrender of many of the principles for which the American democracy has been so greatly admired," he declared. "Rightly or wrongly they see in McCarthyism the rising of the same sort of fanaticism which in the last two decades caused so much tragedy in Europe."

Kefauver called last summer's Geneva conference "one of the low points of American diplomacy." He said Dulles had to leave the conference in order to "save face."

Germany Gets Nod From France

LONDON, Sept. 23 — UP — Authoritative British sources said Thursday that French Premier Pierre Mendes-France has agreed in principle to the simultaneous admission of West Germany to the Brussels Alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Germany has indicated strongly that it would not agree to join the Brussels Alliance unless it was given membership in NATO at the same time. France previously had proposed a delay before admitting a reunited West Germany to the North Atlantic treaty group.

Scouts May Get Ski Trip

Explorer Scouts from the Santa Fe District may yet get a chance to go on a ski trip over the Christmas holidays.

A meeting will be held the night of Oct. 19 for the specific purpose of hearing reports from two committees — information and transportation — which were appointed this week, according to Phil Pegues, district Scout executive.

Denver Allen is coordinator of the district's winter sports expedition. Paul Buchanan, Post 81 (White Deer) advisor, heads the information committee with T. C. Jackson assisting. John Young, crew advisor for Troop 22 (First Baptist Church, Pampa), is in charge of the transportation committee with Perry Gaut as assistant.

The Oct. 19 session will be a part of the regular district roundtable, Pegues said.

Art Teaching Course Formed

Twenty-five teachers signed up Wednesday night for a course on the teaching of public-school art.

Another meeting — and the last in which course members can sign up — is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Pampa Junior High School library, according to Miss Mellie Bird Richey, who has been promoting such a course.

Dr. A. J. Kieselbach, of West Texas State College, Canyon, will instruct the course which is open to teachers from Pampa and surrounding communities. "Several others" have already stated their intention to take the course, Miss Richey said this morning.

Mainly About People

Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, is in Dumas today. Friday he will be in Amarillo and Saturday, in Canadian.

Highland General Hospital Board members will meet at 8 p.m. today in the hospital. Nothing specific is on the agenda, Chet Lander, hospital administrator, reports.

Mrs. Ada L. NeCase, 521 Warren, has received word of the birth of a 7 lb. 10 1/2 oz. great-granddaughter, Sharon Diane, Sept. 18, in Honolulu, Hawaii. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dewayne Melton. Melton is Mrs. NeCase's grandson and is stationed with the Navy in Honolulu.

Mrs. Lillian Snow, Pampa public librarian, met with representatives of the Remington Rand Co. from Kansas City Wednesday regarding furnishings for the Fannie Lovett Memorial Library.

Oxygen equipped ambulances Ph. 4-3111, Duesel-Carmichael, Leonard Bonner, who fled the Shamrock jail Aug. 28 after chiseling his way through a stone wall, was reported to have been holed up in the bottoms early this week. Bonner, who was facing an armed robbery charge at the time of his escape, now faces an additional count for forgery, according to Wheeler County Attorney Guy Hardin.

Taking part in the hunt, which is still on, were Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Deputy Buck Haggard, Wheeler County Sheriff Gus Dorman and Deputy Gene Martin, Collingsworth County Sheriff Claude McKinney, and Lt. Bob Purcell and members of the Shamrock National Guard.

Odessa Man Arrested Here

Orvil Reed Day, 23, of Odessa, was picked up about 10 p.m. Wednesday near the LaVista Theater, Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported this morning.

Odessa authorities, who have put out a warrant for his arrest on a charge of burglary, were to come after him sometime today, Jordan said.

Charges of Obstruction

6. "Obstructing" the investigation of the "mistake murder" of Jacob S. Floyd Jr., in Alice by requiring that the Duval county sheriff be present when subpoenas were served on witnesses.

7. Allowing Assistant District Attorney O. P. Carrillo to represent the state in a criminal case where Laughlin was said to have known that Carrillo's law partner had represented the defense in two earlier trials.

8. Selling his law library to the county in late 1952. Laughlin was indicted on this charge, but the indictment was dismissed by the judge with whom Laughlin traded benches.

9. Failing to appear when a Starr county election suit was slated for trial.

10. Failing to give notice to state attorneys of a hearing concerning Alice attorney Nago Alaniz, indicted in the Floyd murder. Laughlin was said to have told defense attorney Percy Foreman of the hearing, but not to have informed the prosecution.

11. Quashing two indictments naming Ernesto Trevino of Rio Grande City in connection with alleged mishandling of public funds.

Scouters Commended

Santa Fe District Scouters today were working the 500 cards signed by prospective Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers last week.

Assignments were made this week at the monthly district roundtable at which H. D. McWaters, district commissioner, presided.

Bill Craig, district "Maverick Night" chairman, assisted by Jack Dunham, district survey chairman, explained how they worked. "Maverick Nights," when prospective Scouts are given an opportunity to get acquainted, will be held Oct. 22 and Nov. 6, dates of the "climax events," when boys are taken into the Scouting organization.

Commendation certificates were given to Buchanan, R. L. Kennedy, Post 80 (First Methodist Church) advisor, and Herman Wallace, Post 18 (Hopkins) advisor. Basic training certificates were handed out to Bill Oler, Post 80 chairman, and Cecil Williams, Post 80 committee member.

Clinton Evans, president of Chamber of Commerce, outlined the workings of a chamber of commerce as he addressed the Pampa Optimist Club last night at the club's weekly dinner.

Duties of the CC are varied, Evans said. He gave a complete rundown of the duties the Pampa CC performed during the past year.

Miss Jerry Sloan presented three musical numbers at last night's club meeting. She was accompanied by Miss Carol Paxson.

The club announced plans for the award night for the "Little League and PONY League program which has been tentatively set for Thursday night, Sept. 30.

Further plans for the boxing program the club is sponsoring this winter was also discussed at last night's meeting.

Track Walker Killed By Train

ANGLETON, Tex., Sept. 23—UP—Ellis McGinnis, 50, San Antonio, was killed here Wednesday when he sat down on the Missouri-Pacific railroad tracks and was hit and dragged 70 feet by a train.

McGinnis, a World War II veteran and itinerant knife-acesor sharpener, apparently had been walking along the track, carrying his tools, when he sat down to rest, failing to hear the approaching train.

Piling Nearly In On River Bridge

Piling work on the Canadian River bridge, between Pampa and Perryton, should be completed sometime today.

The operation was expected to be finished Wednesday, resident highway engineers said late this morning. But Monday's high winds postponed the completion.

Frost Construction Co., Hydro, Okla., has the contract for the entire bridge. G. K. Reading, senior resident highway engineer, has estimated the bridge will be completely finished about next April.

Donations Received By United Fund

An estimated 100-125 contributions had been received by late this morning in the Pampa community United Fund advance drive, scheduled Tuesday.

Mrs. Emmett Gee, the fund's office associate, said they were coming in every day. Though Johnny Campbell, fund drive chairman, labels the response "very good," it is still a long way from the 630 letters that were sent out to 1953 advance drive contributors.

Some of the 400 were sent to those in the rural areas and area oil companies. Campbell said some of the oil companies had notified him they would include a donation in their budgets, but that a check could not be sent till after Jan. 1.

Though Tuesday is the actual advance drive date, the only activity will be the sending out of volunteer workers to contact those who have not contributed.

The formal, general drive, scheduled Oct. 5, will be kicked off with a breakfast at 7 a.m. in the Pampa High School cafeteria. That is the day workers come around to the various business and industrial houses in Pampa and the area. There will be no house-to-house canvass.

Local Woman Asks $25,000 In Lawsuit

Mrs. Eula Brothers, whose husband died from injuries in an April 29, 1953, automobile wreck, is asking $25,000 damages from Ilee Derbyberry Smith who, she charges in a suit, was driving the car.

The suit was on file this morning in 31st District Court.

Mrs. Brothers charges that Miss Smith was driving the vehicle, while intoxicated, at an excessive rate of speed on a wet highway when the mishap occurred, 1.2 miles west of Pampa on the Borge highway.

Brothers was 47 when he died. Mrs. Brothers has a son who is 18.

Officers Hunt Shamrock Jail Escapee

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Gray, Wheeler and Collingsworth County peace officers, aided by the Shamrock National Guard, Tuesday conducted a manhunt in the river bottoms between Shamrock and Wellington in search of a Shamrock jail escapee.

Leonard Bonner, who fled the Shamrock jail Aug. 28 after chiseling his way through a stone wall, was reported to have been holed up in the bottoms early this week. Bonner, who was facing an armed robbery charge at the time of his escape, now faces an additional count for forgery, according to Wheeler County Attorney Guy Hardin.

Taking part in the hunt, which is still on, were Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Deputy Buck Haggard, Wheeler County Sheriff Gus Dorman and Deputy Gene Martin, Collingsworth County Sheriff Claude McKinney, and Lt. Bob Purcell and members of the Shamrock National Guard.

Odessa Man Arrested Here

Orvil Reed Day, 23, of Odessa, was picked up about 10 p.m. Wednesday near the LaVista Theater, Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported this morning.

Odessa authorities, who have put out a warrant for his arrest on a charge of burglary, were to come after him sometime today, Jordan said.

ricultural practices must be put into effect if the whole area is not to be allowed to degenerate into desert in the next half century; and likewise that the cities must abandon their dependence upon ground water if they are to survive.

Changes Made

Engineers, however, made several changes in the reclamation bureau's plan for development of the Canadian River:

(1) The dam has been reduced in height from 197.5 feet to 170 feet, eliminating the large volume of storage which had been planned for flood control for the benefit of downstream property.

(2) A central water purification plant is provided near the dam to serve the whole system, before the water is delivered to the participating cities.

(3) The diameter of pipe lines has been reduced in some instances and it is planned to defer construction of 10 of the 21 pumping stations which ultimately will be needed "all in the interest of overall economy."

The engineering firm further goes along with the Reclamation Bureau's conclusion that the authorized quantity of conservation storage will develop a dependable yield of 144,000 acre-feet per year — equal to 395 acre-feet or 128.6 million gallons per day. The 144,000 acre-feet for domestic uses will come from the 500,000 acre-feet of water from conservation storage. In addition, there will be 450,000 acre-feet of sediment storage.

A "Little" Expensive

Stating the initial cost of an estimated $69,200,000, the engineers say this investment is at the rate of $338,000 per million gallons daily of supply secured, and "of course is more expensive in comparison with some more favorably situated parts of the country."

The report states there are three methods of payment for the project:

(1) Bond issues, for equal annual total capital charges over a 25-year period;

(2) General obligation bonds, carrying 3 1/4-per-cent interest;

(3) Revenue bonds, carrying 3 1/2-per-cent interest, with 125 per-cent coverage required for the first year of operation.

Candidates' Refund Checks Available

County Democratic Secy. Bob Baker late this morning reported the refund checks for all candidates in the July 24 and Aug. 28 primaries could be picked up today in his office on the third floor of the Courthouse.

Any checks not picked up today will be mailed, Baker said.

leagued cell block, alive but moaning. He had spent the night as a prisoner of the convicts.

As Deitzel was carried through the prison building on a stretcher, he moaned "oh God, my back, don't shake me." No signs of wounds were visible. He was fully clothed.

Prisoner Dies

A prisoner carried from the hold-out cell block died shortly afterward in the prison hospital. He was identified as William Garrett, 29, serving four years for grand larceny.

The prison-wide riot was touched off Wednesday night when a group of prisoners broke from a disciplinary cell block and roamed through the prison freeing fellow inmates. At the height of the riot, some 800 convicts roamed the yard, shouting defiance at guards on the 20-foot walls and hurling bricks through windows of the prison administration building.

Six prison buildings were put to the torch and virtually destroyed before the men were driven by gun fire and tear gas to their cells.

Three convicts were killed early in the riot. Joe Lamar, prison identification officer, said they were J. C. Swink, 22, serving five years for car theft; Don Manny, 19, serving five years for robbery; and Walter Lee Donnell, 30, a parole violator doing five years.

Lamar said that Donnell who suffered a fatal stab wound in the neck, apparently was killed by his fellow inmates.

Oscar Carrington, who was in "B" cell block, was shot by inside-the-wall guards. He been shot in the foot and lying on a stretcher. Guard J. C. Swink was beaten by the convicts and was rescued. He and arm wounds, suffered a heart attack from the riot.

INVOLVED

Actress Rita Moreno, left, became involved with the law this week when she was found in the same apartment where meat-packing heir George Hormel was arrested on narcotics charge. Miss Moreno explained to newsmen she was under impression the whole affair was a gag staged by Hormel. Hormel, right, is shown smoking a cigarette in the Hollywood jail after his arrest.

This Old Colonel Will Miss Valhalla

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—UP—One of the most colorful characters I ever knew was buried Wednesday at Arlington Cemetery. He was an old colonel, an old soldier and an old friend. He fought for two South American countries, where he earned the rank of colonel. And he served with the U. S. Navy in the Spanish-American War. The colonel—Warren Hardenbergh—died at the age of 91 in his apartment last Saturday. He had his carpet slippers on, but if he had had his way about it, they would have been boots. Hardenbergh was that kind of a fighter. Fought Rascals and Rats. The colonel and I used to have a spot of coffee almost every morning at a hotel across the street. He used to thrill me with his accounts of fights with the rascals of the South American jungles, human and otherwise. The old colonel was not riled easily. But he could claw if the occasion demanded. He hated rats, dog-kickers and folks that said anything about his faithful watch and his cigars lighter. Many's the time he went after a rat and once startled the neighborhood around Columbus Street by firing a rifle out his bedroom at a rodent sneaking into an alley. Mayhem in Mind at 89 Anybody that said his watch was off a second or that his lighter wouldn't fire had the colonel to fight. When the colonel was 89, I went with him to a Christmas party. Some one called him an "old goat." His lively wife, Frances, brought very old Ned when the colonel got her home. She had kept the old gentleman from committing what he had in mind—mayhem. Before he decided to see the world, via the military, the colonel had a hankering to become a big league ball player. He went to Rutgers, where he played shortstop. He might have made it except that Rutgers had a rule against ball players smoking cigars on the ball field. 'Yonder Comes a Fighter' The colonel, a great hand to violate the rules, was puffing away when a hot grounder came his way. In his excitement, he took the cigar out, rolled it around a bit and put the lighted end back in his mouth. He marched to the bench, turned in his cap to the coach and never went back for his diploma. The colonel lived a full life. He was tough. He was lovable. He also liked tough and lovable men, too. I'll never forget the morning of Harry S. Truman's inaugural when I stood beside the old man. Along came Harry. The colonel murmured: "I love a fighter, yonder comes one."

U. S. Cotton Crop Export May Be Heavy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—UP—The International Cotton Advisory committee says there may be a 700,000 bale increase in American cotton exports this season despite increased production in other countries. It says "there appears to be sound justification" for its estimate in view of reductions in foreign export stocks, smaller stocks in many importing countries and expanded textile output in other areas. The committee, an intergovernmental organization of 20 cotton-producing and consuming countries, predicted in a statement Tuesday that free world cotton production may drop more than 3 million bales below last season's 29.9 million. The crop would be made up of 11.8 million bales of American cotton, down 4.6 million from 14.9 million bales. This would be 1 million to 1.5 million bales larger than in 1953-54. The committee said that exportable supplies from foreign sources this year are estimated at about 8 million bales, the same as last season, despite bigger production abroad. It is "hardly possible" for every bale of this surplus to be exported, the committee said. It said it would be "more realistic" to expect a maximum export of 7.5 million bales from outside the United States. If importing countries require the same amount of cotton as in 1953-54, it said free world exports would total close to 12 million bales. It estimated the U. S. share at about 4.5 million bales compared with 3.5 million last season.

Katy Freight Hops Tracks

SMITHVILLE, Tex., Sept. 23.—UP—Sixteen cars of a Missouri-Kansas-Texas freight train laden with wheat, cotton and meat jumped the tracks 12 miles north of here Wednesday. None of the crew was injured. Rail traffic was temporarily routed by way of West Point and Elgin, and MKT officials said the line would be restored to normal operation late Wednesday. The engine and several gasoline tank cars immediately behind it remained on the track. The cause of the derailment was not immediately known.

June Talk

By JANE KADANGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

IT'S INTERESTING TO NOTE that as living habits change, so do home fashions change. One of the most revolutionary changes being made now concerns the kitchen. As entertaining is becoming more and more informal, and more people are seeing our kitchens, the trend is to spruce up this much-used room of the house — to make it as attractive and give it as much attention as we would a living room.

THIS IS POINTED OUT by Kay Sherwood, NEA staff writer, along with ideas on kitchen decorating in a recent article.

"Coordinated color schemes make it possible to develop a theme without actually duplicating the exact design in curtains, towels, cloths or mats. Or, if you like, everything matching, cleverly patterned towels and cloths team up with matching yard-goods to make ensembles of furnishings from curtains to cushions.

"Linen tea towels, for example, are printed with such fanciful patterns as vegetables in wire baskets, flowers and so on. Colors range from a jaunty new look: Avocado, chocolate, charcoal, beige, coral, orange are just a few. Neat ideas on many of the towels is the printing of the pattern on each half so that it shows clearly on the rack. So good-looking are these new towels that they could easily be turned into tea towels by the addition of loops or clips for hanging.

"Coordinated tablecloths in linen or crystal cloth (cotton-rayon blend) include some designs that suggest easy centerpieces. One, called "Bumper Crop," features a gay border of seed-catalog-sized vegetables in wire lettuce baskets. A natural I said to myself as a background for my own wire basket filled with the fresh fruit I keep available for eating out of hand. And let the squash, turnips or beets wait their turn on the menu stored in the basket.

"Among the other designs are flowers, seashells and a provincial pattern of white trivets, canisters and teapots on a brick-red ground.

"This latter design looked like an invitation to a setting for provincial pottery, or a trivet stand and a pot of herbs.

"I thought it was a rare, fortunate coincidence that this design also made a perfect setting for a buffet supper; paper plates and cups smartly patterned in a similar provincial design and color. Then I found out that the same designing team of Scott Wilson and Fritz Ford are responsible for both.

"They are also responsible for another happy idea in yard-goods which match ready-made towels, cloths and napkins. Printed with a mouth-watering display of ripe, red strawberries on a white ground, fabric by the yard is available in 17-inch and 52-inch widths, and is printed in design units of 17 inches.

Two Pear, Prune Specialty Recipes
Pears and prunes can be made into enticing desserts or "company dishes." Here are two, easy to make, for those who like to experiment with something new.

PEAR SUNDAY SAUCE
2 cups sliced Washington Bartlett pears
1/2 cup crushed pineapple
1/2 cup honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice

"Living-room" kitchens are becoming increasingly popular with all the family, and linen towel-tablecloth combinations in correlated designs add to the cheer of the room. You can carry through with the motif, using towels for tier curtains.

Girl Scout Troop Plans Year's Work

Girl Scouts of Troop 9 and their mothers held an organizational meeting at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the Girl Scout Little House. Mrs. Bob Andis, leader, presided, assisted by Program Aid Donna Hegwer, a senior Scout.

Following the showing of a film on troop government, the girls discussed organizational plans, transportation facilities, arrangement of refreshments, choice of arts and crafts, ceremonies and emergency signals to be used during the year.

While the mothers met, the girls were instructed in a folk dance in the back yard. Folk dancing is one of their projects for the year.

Mrs. Andis also led the mothers' meeting, assisted by Mrs. Gene Fatheree and Mrs. James Hopkins. Mrs. E. E. Leland was chosen chairman of the committee of mothers.

Mrs. Chet Lander, Mrs. R. N. Rhoten and Mrs. Ben Brookner were chosen transportation chairmen and will be responsible for seeing the girls are taken from the Junior High School to the Little House for meetings. Refreshments for the girls' meetings during the year will be provided by the mothers, in alphabetical rotation, it was decided.

Following the registration of the mothers, a film on committee mothers at work was shown. Fifteen Scouts and 14 mothers were present.

Chili Is Easy On Budget Says Woman Who Feeds Family On $25 Per Week

By JOSEPH HUTNYAN
BALTIMORE — UP — Mrs. Charles LeBoutillier of nearby Brooklandville recommends her special version of chili con carne for pleasing the family palate without punishing the household budget.

"We love good food," she says, "but when you have a family our size, you can't stray too far from economy."

Mrs. LeBoutillier's table includes places for her husband, who is an advertising executive, and their three children, whose ages range from eleven to 11.

Admitting the family taste leans toward foods with a bit of a sting, Mrs. LeBoutillier says chili is tops on their gastronomic hit parade.

How to Make It
And this is her formula: Slice two large onions and two green peppers. Brown both in bacon grease and butter. Then add two pounds of ground beef. Cook until no longer red. Season with salt, pepper, a "generous pinch" of oregano, and chili powder. And two cans of kidney beans, one large can of tomato puree, and one can of tomato paste. Simmer for at least one-half hour, then serve with green salad and french bread.

A word of warning: Don't go overboard with the oregano, a strong herb. You might suddenly have the unpleasant feeling your tongue is on fire.

Mrs. LeBoutillier, a former Bryn Mawr physical education instructor, says she keeps food costs down by making inexpensive dishes in large quantities "so they will do me for two dinners."

"And I find that buying large pieces of meat saves money," she adds.

Budget Is $25 Weekly
Mrs. LeBoutillier said she allows about $25 a week for food, with the exception of milk and occasional extra meat.

She admits the budget receives a valuable assist from their small vegetable garden and flock of chickens.

20th Century Clubs To Fete Presidents

The annual "presidents' coffee" presented by the Twentieth Century Clubs will be held at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Pampa Country Club. The event honors the presidents of the five Twentieth Century Clubs. The special activity will be presented by the Council of Clubs.

Featured speaker will be Mrs. Allen Hodges, a former Pampan and a prominent newspaper woman. Mrs. Hodges was a member of the Twentieth Century Club here and is a past president of the local chapter of the American Association of University Women. She is serving her second year as president and publicity chairman of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and is in her fourth year as program chairman for the 7th district of TFWC. Her speech will be entitled, "Crossroads," and will deal with her recent trip to three of the principal Hawaiian Islands, Oahu, Hawaii and Maui.

The five honorees will be Mrs. George Vineyard, president of Twentieth Century Club; Mrs. Ebon Warner, president of Twentieth Century Forum; Mrs. Joe Donaldson, president of Twentieth Century Culture; Mrs. J. W. Graham Jr., president of Twentieth Century Allegro; and Mrs. Ralph McKinney, president of Twentieth Century Cottillon.

In charge of the event are Mrs. Victor Jamieson, general chairman; Mrs. Raymond Harrah Sr., program chairman; Mrs. Lloyd Hicks, decoration chairman; Mrs. Jack Foster, menu chairman; Mrs. Fred Neslage will be leader, and Mrs. Martin Stubbe will give the opening prayer.

The event will open the club seasons for the Twentieth Century groups.

GRACE FRIEND
Dear Grace Friend,
I have a three year old son by a former marriage and my present husband would like to adopt him. My son's father has consented to sign the necessary papers for the adoption. I am wondering if it is possible to adopt a child without the services of a lawyer.

If there some one we can speak to that could give us the information about what we have to do in order to have my husband adopt him.

I appreciate your considering my letter and I would be so thankful if you knew the solution to my problem.

Mrs. H.
Dear Mrs. H.
In step-parent adoptions the petition is filed by the step-parent of the child, the other natural or adoptive parent retaining custody and control of the child, and is investigated by the county probation officer, who must file a report and recommendation to the court on the proposed adoption.

Both the natural parent retaining custody of the child and the parent relinquishing custody must consent to the adoption. The contents signed by them must be on forms prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare and may be witnessed by either the probation officer or the county clerk. Certified copies of the consent must be filed by the State Department of Social Welfare.

You can get the necessary forms at the County Social Welfare office.

WOMEN'S MILITARY SERVICE
Dear Grace Friend
Could you please help me in finding information on the Women's Military Service. I would like to know the requirements and also the closest recruiting office and any other valuable information you could tell me.

I am very interested in the Women's Army Service but don't know how to go about getting the information. If you could help me I would appreciate it greatly.

"Thank you very much."
G. L.
Dear G. L.
A girl must be 18 to enlist and must have her parents' written consent until she is 21. It is not necessary to have a high school diploma.

For the address of the recruiting office nearest you look in the telephone directory under United States Government.

RUTH MILLET

He came back from his vacation as excited as a kid, and ready to spin a few adventures into entertaining yarns.

But his wife was so intent on taking him down a notch or two, by correcting a fact here and a name there, and making dead sure he never left out a detail that would make him look a little foolish or one that would show up her foresight that the eagerness went out of his face. In a little while he changed the subject.

If he had said what he must have felt like saying, "Shut up," he would have been regarded as a brute.

Because husbands and wives can't say those forbidden words, they often go through life being interrupted, corrected, and conversationally blue-penciled.

When a wife butts into her husband's conversation to help him tell a story he is supposed to grin good-naturedly and take it all as a matter of course.

And when a husband feels compelled to set his wife straight on the facts when she starts talking, she is supposed to welcome being corrected by a superior mind.

So no protest is made and the husbands and wives who can never let each other tell a story unaided go right on butting in.

A good rule for husbands and wives to observe carefully when they are in the company of others is to keep still when the other is talking, and to refuse to add a single fact to the other's story. "But you didn't tell the really funny part" or "You left out such and such" should be considered just as bad manners as those forbidden words, "Shut up."

Worthwhile Group Plans Tea Friday

Mrs. R. E. Engle gave a talk on the care of bulbs at the recent meeting of the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Chester Williams, west of Pampa.

Before storing bulbs for the winter, they should be left in the open for a month and then sprinkled with water. Mrs. Engle advised the women. She also explained how the bulbs should be planted.

During the business session, a tea was planned for the new Willing Workers club, to be held at 2 p. m. Friday, in the home of Mrs. R. L. Welton, east of town.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served. Next meeting of the group will be at 2 p. m., Oct. 1, in the home of Mrs. A. J. Hoover, 1101 N. Frost.

Members present were Mmes. N. B. Cude, P. G. Turner, Marion Roberts, J. L. Carlton, Dewey Johnson, R. E. Engle, M. L. Robinson, D. L. Lunsford, N. L. Welton, O. G. Smith, J. C. Payne, G. L. Bunch. Guests were Mrs. Doye Williams and Mrs. M. C. Grady.

HD Council Slates Day Of Instruction

Plans for a day of instruction in making and remodeling hats were made at a meeting recently of the Gray County Home Demonstration Council. The event is slated for early in October.

Election of officers was postponed until the October council meeting. Individual home demonstration clubs are planning an achievement day also in October. Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent, announced that demonstrations on nutrition are on the program for 1955.

Horace Mann PTA Has Informal Meet

The Horace Mann Parent-Teachers Association held a "get-acquainted meeting" recently in the school auditorium with Mrs. John Brantam leading the group singing and games.

Sam Bergert, principal, introduced the teachers to the parents. The year's budget was read and accepted by the group. It was announced the fund raising "Fun Night" will be held Oct. 22.

Recipes For Prune Jam, Pear Crumble

Here are two timely, tasty prune and pear recipes. They are delightfully different and refreshing.

SPICY PRUNE JAM
 6 pounds Washington Italian prunes
 9 cups sugar
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 1/4 teaspoon allspice
 1/4 teaspoon ginger
 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/4 cup vinegar
 Wash prunes. Halve and pit. Combine with remaining ingredients. Let stand 1-3 minutes. Pour into large preserving kettle. Bring slowly to boil. Stir constantly. Simmer until thick — about 45 minutes. Stir frequently. Pour into sterilized jars or glasses and seal immediately. Yields 8 half-pint jars.

PEAR CRUMBLE
 3 cups sliced Washington Bartlett pears
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 Grated rind 1/2 lemon
 1/2 cup sugar
 Crumble
 1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1/4 cup butter, melted
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 cup chopped walnuts or filberts

A Sturdy Main Dish for Buffet Suppers

Chicken Livers Mingle With Golden Pineapple Chunks and Crunchy Almonds in a Sweet-sour Sauce.
 Chicken Livers with Pineapple is a perfect dish for buffet entertaining. Besides being simple, it is colorful and good tasting, too. Golden pineapple chunks and almonds are combined with chicken livers in a tangy sweet-sour sauce that has a wonderful flavor. Menu companions might include: Fluffy rice, French bread and a crisp green salad.
 Here's what you'll need to serve 8:
 2 pounds of chicken livers
 Soy sauce
 1/2 cup salad oil
 1 No. 2 can of pineapple chunks
 1 cup split blanched almonds
 SAUCE
 2 1/2 cups pineapple juice
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup sugar
 4 tablespoons cornstarch

Cut chicken livers in halves, dip them in soy sauce and brown lightly in oil. Add pineapple and blanched almonds. Heat for a minute; then pour on pineapple sauce which has been thickened with the cornstarch (see recipe above). Cook approximately five minutes until heated through. Serve with rice. (Serves 8.)

Ham Isn't Only Kentucky Specialty Maintains Pretty Young Housewife

By JAMES RENNEISEN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 LOUISVILLE, Ky. —UP— Kentucky is famous for its ham but one expert cook wishes food fanciers would give the state credit for its knack with other foods.
 Mrs. R. S. Watson, a pretty young Louisville housewife, feels the reputation of the state's cooks for being able to prepare ham has overshadowed their ability to serve fancier and more difficult dishes. She points out that Kentucky Derby week in Louisville is a delight for visiting gourmets, and that they aren't served ham at every home they visit.
 One of Mrs. Watson's favorite dishes is Chicken Creme de Volaille, a delicacy much easier to prepare than to pronounce.

Here is her recipe for a family favorite, the Chicken Creme de Volaille.
 3 cups ground chicken; 1 can mushrooms ground; 1 cup cream sauce; 1 teaspoon melted butter; 1 teaspoon grated onion; 1 teaspoon minced parsley; 3 eggs beaten; and 1 package unsweetened gelatin.
 Mix chicken, mushrooms, and cream sauce. Add butter and beaten eggs. Mix well. Add parsley, onion and gelatin which has been dissolved in a little warm water. Season to taste with salt, cayenne pepper, black pepper and Worcestershire sauce.
 Put in a greased mold and steam for 1 1/2 hours. Unmold and serve with a rich cream mushroom sauce.

Plain Cookies Provide Easy Company Dessert

By JANE KADINGO
 Pampa News Women's Editor

When Bill Harris married, he didn't have to suffer through many a bride's first attempts at cooking, for Betty had been gaining experience in the culinary arts since she was 11 years old. That is the age she started helping her mother, who taught her to cook.

The Harrises came to Pampa 2 1/2 years ago from Amarillo and now reside at 1125 Huff Road. Betty cooks for her husband, who works for the J. C. Daniels Motor Company, and her two boys, Randy 5, and Rickey, 21 months.

When asked for a recipe, Betty said she didn't really have a specialty. "I just cook the meals and the family eats them," she stated modestly. Betty says she's mostly a "winter cook" as she avoids using the oven in hot summer months.

Although Betty is modest about her cooking, she says she has one recipe for cookies which her guests usually take home with them when she serves the cookies at a party. She also added that the boys are pretty fond of them.

PLAIN COOKIES
 3/4 cup shortening
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 2 eggs
 2 tsp. milk
 3 tsp. baking powder
 1/4 tsp. salt
 3 cups flour
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 Cream shortening and add sugar slowly. Add eggs and flavoring. Beat well for 2 minutes. Add dry ingredients and liquid, alternately, stirring after each addition. Roll to 1/4 inch thick. Cut out with cookie cutters. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes.

PEAR CRUMBLE
 3 cups sliced Washington Bartlett pears
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 Grated rind 1/2 lemon
 1/2 cup sugar
 Crumble
 1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1/4 cup butter, melted
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 cup chopped walnuts or filberts

Chili-Toasted Crackers
 NEW YORK — UP— Try chili-toasted crackers when you serve soup. Spread the crackers with softened butter or margarine and sprinkle with chili powder. Place under the broiler until brown. Good also served as cocktail snacks or with vegetable juices.

Keep scissors handy in the kitchen for cutting up marshmallows, snipping chives or parsley and other "fixing" vegetables. Just be sure to keep the scissors clean for handling food with hot soapsuds and rinses.

 TIMELY REASONS WHY

You'll always be glad you bought a Chevrolet now!

- 1 You'll stay proud of Chevrolet's lasting good looks. Other low-priced cars don't have the quality look you see in Chevrolet. And if you like Chevrolet's looks now, you'll like its looks always.
- 2 You'll enjoy exclusive features for finer motoring. Body by Fisher—the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car—the biggest brakes, the only full-length box-girder frame and the only Unitized Knee-Action ride in the low-price field. They're all yours in Chevrolet!
- 3 You save when you buy and when you trade. Even so, Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. And at trade-in time, you'll be ahead again from Chevrolet's higher resale value!

Sally Mannix Carr, an ex-model who claims her six-weeks-old daughter was fathered by Texas millionaire Ben Jack Cage, asked a San Francisco court to ward her $750 a month for support of daughter pending settlement of paternity suit.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are thereby set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involve the deposit of money by the buyer. Some require the seller to put up a good faith deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations lends additional weight to the often stated admonition that no contract should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration in cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished.

The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to easily misconstructed or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pitfall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have just signed a receipt for a house on Blank Street. Will you take over now and see that everything is O.K.?"

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

At birth a black bear cub weighs from nine to 12 ounces, which is about 1200 to 1250 of its mother's weight. It is about eight inches long, blind, and covered with a dark hair so thin that it is practically naked.

United Fund Agency

USO Serves 536 Gray Countians

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles on the agencies included in the Pampa community United Fund which will hold its annual drive Oct. 1. The United Service Organization (USO), subject of this article, has been allotted $500 of the $45,150 drive goal.

There are 536 Gray Countians in the U. S. armed forces. There is no local United Service Organization (USO) chapter in Gray County. But the national organization does help most of the Gray countians, wherever they are scattered over the globe.

Quota for the state this year is $775,000 and the slogan is "Wherever Texas boys go, USO goes, too."

A total of 217 USO units is in the United States with 17 more overseas to give the armed forces — both men and women — a "home away from home." Even though the Korean War has been stopped by a truce, there is many an American still in the service, USO officials point out.

President Eisenhower, a firm supporter of USO, says, "As I see it, the big thing (USO) does, and through a number of channels, is to keep the serviceman understanding that he is part of America. No matter where he comes from, what may be his city, he still thinks, through this kind of effort, primarily of America, and of himself as an American."

A civilian-volunteer basis is the crux of the USO program, it has been pointed out. Many American servicemen are under 21 and, so, a large part of USO's work is directed toward the under-21 age group.

General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, national campaign chairman, has stated, "To me, the (USO) is one way in which we can show our sensitivity to the undercurrents of the continuing battle for freedom, and our awareness of responsibilities to our armed services in the defense effort."

Eden's Popularity Receives A Boost

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The prestige of Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden certainly is soaring.

Hardly more than one year ago it looked as if illness might have ended Eden's career as a top-flight statesman.

Today Eden has reached a new height in his career. He has been the hero of two big international conferences in the last nine months.

He is bidding for the leadership in the attempt to bring Germany into the Western defense set-up after France's rejection of the European Defense Community pact.

He is all set to step into the shoes of Prime Minister Winston Churchill at any time, and the time may come soon.

Assumes Leadership
In British eyes, at least, Eden is assuming the diplomatic leadership of the Western world.

Eden's good looks and dapper attire, including the Homburg hat which he popularized, probably have not helped even if they have not hindered his career.

The late Benito Mussolini — remember him — once called Eden "the best dressed foot in Europe."

Behind the good looks and the best-dressed man appearance, there is a man of strong character, thoroughly grounded in political diplomacy.

One of Eden's biggest assets is his ability to draw a clear line between appeasement and compromise.

He jeopardized his entire political career when, in 1938, he resigned as foreign secretary in protest against the appeasement policy of the Neville Chamberlain government. Eden held that it was impossible to do business, as Chamberlain attempted, with Mussolini and Adolf Hitler.

Eden's ability to compromise made him, in European eyes, the outstanding figure at the big four foreign ministers conference in Berlin last January and at the Far Eastern conference in Geneva last spring. It has been asserted frequently that Eden's gift for compromise saved the Geneva conference from a breakdown.

He grabbed the diplomatic ball — temporarily at least — from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in the German rearmament negotiations.

At 57, Eden still looks young. But he has been in the House of Commons for 31 years and has specialized in diplomacy for 28 years.

5 Persons Hurt In London Blast

LONDON, Sept. 23 — UP — An explosion Wednesday injured five persons in the same cellars of Parliament where Guy Fawkes tried to blow up King James I more than 300 years ago.

A small fire touched off the explosion which ripped through the cellars. Two men and three women were rushed to Westminster Hospital for treatment of burns and shock.

Four fire trucks and a fire boat on the historic Thames River rushed to the scene and brought the blaze under control with little damage.

KEEP YOUR RAINCOAT HANDY

Weather maps above give you the U. S. Weather Bureau's outlook for mid-September to mid-October. Note that this is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but is an ESTIMATE of average rainfall and temperatures for the period.

The Spanish Club of Perryton High School attended a Mexican buffet supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manse Wood Tuesday evening, Sept. 14. Meses, Manse Wood, Harold Malone, Ike Vernon and Oscar Flowers prepared and served the food. After supper the group attended a movie. Members present were Phyllis Vernon, Pat Wood, Charlotte Flowers, Jimmy Sims, Rodney Symons, Harriet Hale, Charlotte Pyles, Jane Malone, Kathleen Jones, Iva Rock, Rex Fike, Kent Apple, Larry Platcher, Lynn Tucker, Ola Sue Johnson, Mareta Pittman, Ray Castle, Brenda Foote, Barbara Powell, Charles Erickson, Dick Boxwell, Marilyn Reitz, Wanna Graves, Barbara Hark, Joan Epp and Miss Mary Walden, club sponsor.

Dry Weather Aids Harvest

AUSTIN, Sept. 23—UP—Farmers over most of Texas waited Wednesday for rain.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in its weekly crop and weather bulletin, said farmers utilized the fourth consecutive week of open weather to get cotton, matured rice and ripe sorghums out of the field.

However, many farmers "would welcome a forced delay of harvest because of wet fields in order to get small grains started and receive grazed out pastures," the USDA said.

Wheat planting in the northwest and oat planting in the northern and central counties moved at a "snail's pace."

Some additional acreage was dusted in, but most farmers were waiting for rain. Early planted wheat, as well as volunteer on the high plains, needed moisture to keep it coming along.

Considerable dry-planted acreage has not germinated and acreage up to a stand was willing, the USDA reported.

Cattle, calves, sheep and goats were marketed in "very heavy volume" as fall range and feed pasture prospects ebbed. Many stalk and sorghum fields from the low rolling plains eastward were "about grazed out. No other winter feed was in sight on some farms in that critical drought area, the USDA said.

Supplemental feeding increased as stock continued to lose flesh on the short-dry roushage.

Planting of commercial vegetables for early winter harvest continued in all irrigated areas of South Texas. Progress of early-planted tender vegetables for fall harvest was "generally satisfactory."

However, growth of some of the hardy-type vegetables was slow because of the hot weather.

Wife Shoots Hubby At Dinner Date

HOUSTON, Sept. 23—UP—Merrell I. Richardson, 44, an oil operator, was shot in the leg Tuesday night when gunfire climaxed a steak dinner with a woman companion in a room at the Shamrock hotel.

Police said Richardson's wife, Helen, 40, admitted firing the shots. She fainted twice during police questioning and was taken to Memorial hospital at 1 a. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Richardson said she found a key to a hotel room in her husband's car and, going to the room found him dining with another woman, who fled when the shooting started.

Richardson's wound was not serious. The shooting was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Erickson, friends of the Richardsons. They were with Mrs. Richardson when she entered the hotel room.

Puerto Rico's impressive Capitol at San Juan is made of white marble from Georgia. The interior is decorated with Tennessee and Italian marbles.

Dulles Takes Off Soon For Europe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—UP—The United States will send Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to a nine-power conference in London next week to try to hammer out a plan for rearming West Germany. The State Department announced Monday that this country has formally accepted Britain's invitation to the meeting which is scheduled to get underway next Tuesday.

Lincoln White, department spokesman, said Dulles hopes to wind up his affairs at the United Nations General Assembly in time to leave for London Saturday. The hard-traveling secretary returned only last weekend from a hurry-up trip to Bonn and London. And it was only a week ago that he came back from an extensive Far Eastern trip.

U. S. officials view next Tuesday's conference as the first showdown with France over alternatives to the European Army plan which the French Assembly killed. They are frankly not overly optimistic about the chances for success.

Revives Brussels Treaty

These diplomats privately expressed concern Tuesday about the possibility that a new plan advanced by French Premier Pierre Mendes-France might, in effect, slap a straightjacket on Germany's rearmament.

The State Department still hopes the Mendes-France suggestions contain some basis for negotiation on West German rearmament. But officials said the French premier's proposals require study to determine whether they place too-much emphasis on control machinery and not enough on military, economic and social cooperation.

Maybe You Have Something The Armed Forces Can Use

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—If you can stir up a batch of plastic tooth filling or dream up a death ray weapon with a range of 500 yards, send your scheme to the Government.

The National Inventor's Council under the department of Commerce has drawn up a list of 200 such technical puzzles which the armed forces are anxious to have solved.

The list is especially tailored to the inventive ingenuity of American public. Amateurs, scientists, technicians and research groups are being urged to take a look at it and come up with some bright ideas.

Many of the problems should appeal to do-it-yourself minded people all over the country. For example, there is need of a landing gear for light aircraft which can be easily adapted to water, land or snow.

Some of the items are more complicated. It will take a real genius to masterplan a vehicle versatile enough to perform the feats demanded of what the list terms, "Arctic Transport."

tute materials should be on hand. A personal heating system is needed for men exposed to sub-zero temperatures. This device must distribute heat over the human body and yet be independent of any restrictive or heavy electrical power source. It cannot be a fire hazard with "hot spots" and must operate for a minimum of eight hours without refueling.

A chemical such as calcium chloride melts ice on runways at temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero, but it has a corrosive effect on metal. Therefore the Air Force wants a chemical or substance that can do the job without causing damage to aircraft.

Storage of meats is also a big headache. Dehydrated corn beef hash, meat and rice taste more like fish and metal after sitting three to four months at temperatures around 100 degrees.

Here, briefly, are a few more of the desired gimmicks on the list: A lightweight piece of equipment capable of translating ordinary speech into written word.

Protection for the individual soldier against flame attack which will be comfortable and practical to wear.

Some method to permit combat vehicles to operate under cover of darkness without disclosing their location through the usual means of radiation, light and noise.

A simple directional instrument to be carried by the foot soldier which can determine true north independent of the earth's magnetic field.

Equipment capable of producing death rays effective at 500 yards without excessive power input. Means other than sonic for determining direction and range of underwater targets.

A plastic filling material which will not shrink or expand, for insertion in a tooth cavity.

From toothpicks to tanks, the National Inventor's Council is glad to receive suggestions even if they are not on the list. Since 1940 when the Council was founded, more than 300,000 proposals have poured in and thousands have been referred to military agencies. Many of these have resulted in innumerable savings of men, material, time and money, according to Secretary of the Council, Lawrence Langner.

One suggestion in particular made it possible for the Navy to employ a draft gauge which could be read from the inside of a ship. Previously this had to be done from outside to determine how much water was being drawn. Due to publication of the list, notable advances have been made in the field of soil stabilization. Numerous ideas came in for the development of materials which make it easier to build roads and bring in supplies over unstable land such as beaches.

Oilers Take Playoff Lead; Series Resumes Here Tonight

Locals Could Wind Up Series Tonight

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Oilers, only one game away from winning the 1954 West Texas-New Mexico League playoff title, will send Jonas Gaines to the mound tonight at Oiler Park as the locals attempt to nail down the pennant.

The Oilers took a 3-2 lead in the series last night when Vibert Clarke pitched beautifully in the clutches to down the Pioneers at Clovis, 4-2.

Clarke gave up nine hits but kept them well spaced. He left 13 Pioneers stranded.

Tonight's game will start at 8. Reuben Phillips hurled for Clovis. If the Oilers win tonight, the 1954 West Texas-New Mexico League season will be history. If Clovis wins, the seventh and last game of the series will be played at Oiler Park tomorrow night.

Gaines is expected to be opposed by Ernie Sadler in tonight's game. These two lads hooked up in a tight mound duel last Sunday with Sadler and the Pioneers winning a 3-1 decision.

It's possible that Manager Grover Seitz will send his ace, Red Dial, to the mound tonight although the Red Head has had only one day's rest. Dial blanked the Oilers Tuesday night, 8-0.

The largest crowd of the season is anticipated at Oiler Park tonight. Each team got nine hits Wednesday night, but fielding lapses figured in most of the runs. Pampa scored the two winning runs in the seventh inning on a combination of two hits and two errors.

Vibert Clarke, who went the route as Pampa's pitcher, doubled over Red Dial's head in left field to drive in the tying run in that inning and then Clarke scored the winning run when Clovis third baseman Chuck Steele threw wild on a grounder.

Clarke, if he had better fielding behind him, probably would have pitched a shutout. Rudy Tanner misjudged a long fly by Virgil Richardson, allowing a run to score, and Pampa shortstop Gene Haradou missed a double-play grounder to let in another tally. Jack Venable, Jim Waugh and

Williamson Picks PHS 38 Harvesters To Make Trip To Vernon

The Fighting Harvesters will board a chartered bus at 8:30 tomorrow morning for Vernon where tomorrow night they will take on the Vernon Lions in a non-district football contest.

Coach Aubra Nooncaster is taking all 38 of his squadmen to Vernon which includes the four injured players who won't get in the night's action.

Nooncaster revealed that his starting offensive lineup for the Vernon game will be the same as the one that started against Austin of El Paso last week with exception of one position.

Burt Kirbie will start in the place of Jerry McNaughton at one of the tackle spots. McNaughton was injured in the Austin game and will not suit out tomorrow night. He received a knee injury in the Austin tilt.

Otherwise the starting Harvesters offensive team will be composed of Marion Stone and Jim Green; Kirbie and Ed Strickland; tackles; Ray Bonal and J. R. Cross; guards; Rex Fenton, center; Buddy Sharp, quarterback; Bill Fulwider and Gene Emerson, halfbacks; and Harold Lewis, fullback.

The Harvesters have taken it easy in workouts this week as they have been guarding against any more injuries. A light drill was scheduled this afternoon as the Green and Golders tapered off for the Vernon clash.

The Harvesters have been picked by the Williamson system to down Vernon.

But the Pampans aren't listening to these odds because it is known that the Lions are pointing for the Harvesters and with the home field advantage, the going could get rough at Vernon.

Williamson also picks all other 14A teams to win this week. Amarillo over Fort Worth Paschal; Abilene over Sweetwater; San Angelo over Fort Worth Poly; Lubbock over Woodrow Wilson Dallas; Midland over Austin of El Paso; and Borger over Amon Carter Riverside of Fort Worth.

The system also picks Perryton over Canadian and Lefors over Shamrock in Friday's area featured tilt.

Following are Williamson's predictions for this week's games:

FRIDAY, SEPT. 24

CLASS AAAA
Abilene over Sweetwater; Midland over Austin EP; Baytown over Jefferson SA; Borger over Riverside FW; Brackentridge SA over Austin; San Jacinto HU over Galena Park; Gavleston over Texas City; Harlingen over Brownsville; Jeff Davis HU over Marshall; Kilgore over Hillcrest DL; Lubbock over Wilson DL; Lufkin over Brazosport.

Northside FW over Miller CC; Ray CC over Okla. City Cap. Hill; Port Neches over Orange; Pasaquina over Milby HU; Amarillo over Paschal FW; Blawie over El Paso High; San Angelo over Poly FW; Snyder over Bowie EP; South Park BM over Beaumont; S. Oak Cliff DL over Texarkana; Tyler over Paris; Pampa over Vernon; Waco over Temple.

CLASS AA
Abernathy over Sundown; Alpine over Marfa; Andrews over Denver City; Anson over Ballinger; Lampasas over Belton; Del Rio over Brady; Huntsville over Brenham; Brownfield over Muleshoe; Canyon over Memphis; Hollis Okla. over Childress; Colo. City over Winters; Comanche over Quanah; DeLeon over Ranger; Giddings over Fredericksburg; Coleman over Hamilton; Hereford over Tulia; Burk Burnett over Iowa Park; Athens over Jacksonville; Terrell over Kaufman; Lefors over Shamrock; San Saba over Llano.

McCamey over Crane; McLean over Lockney; Graham over Olney; Paducah over Electric; Pecos over Wink; Perryton over Canadian; Hamlin over Post; Rotan over Cisco; Olton over Slaton.

CLASS A
Pee Wees over Opener, 6-0

BORGER, Sept. 23 — The Pampa Junior High Pee Wees won a defensive battle from the Borger Junior High mites here Wednesday afternoon, 6-0.

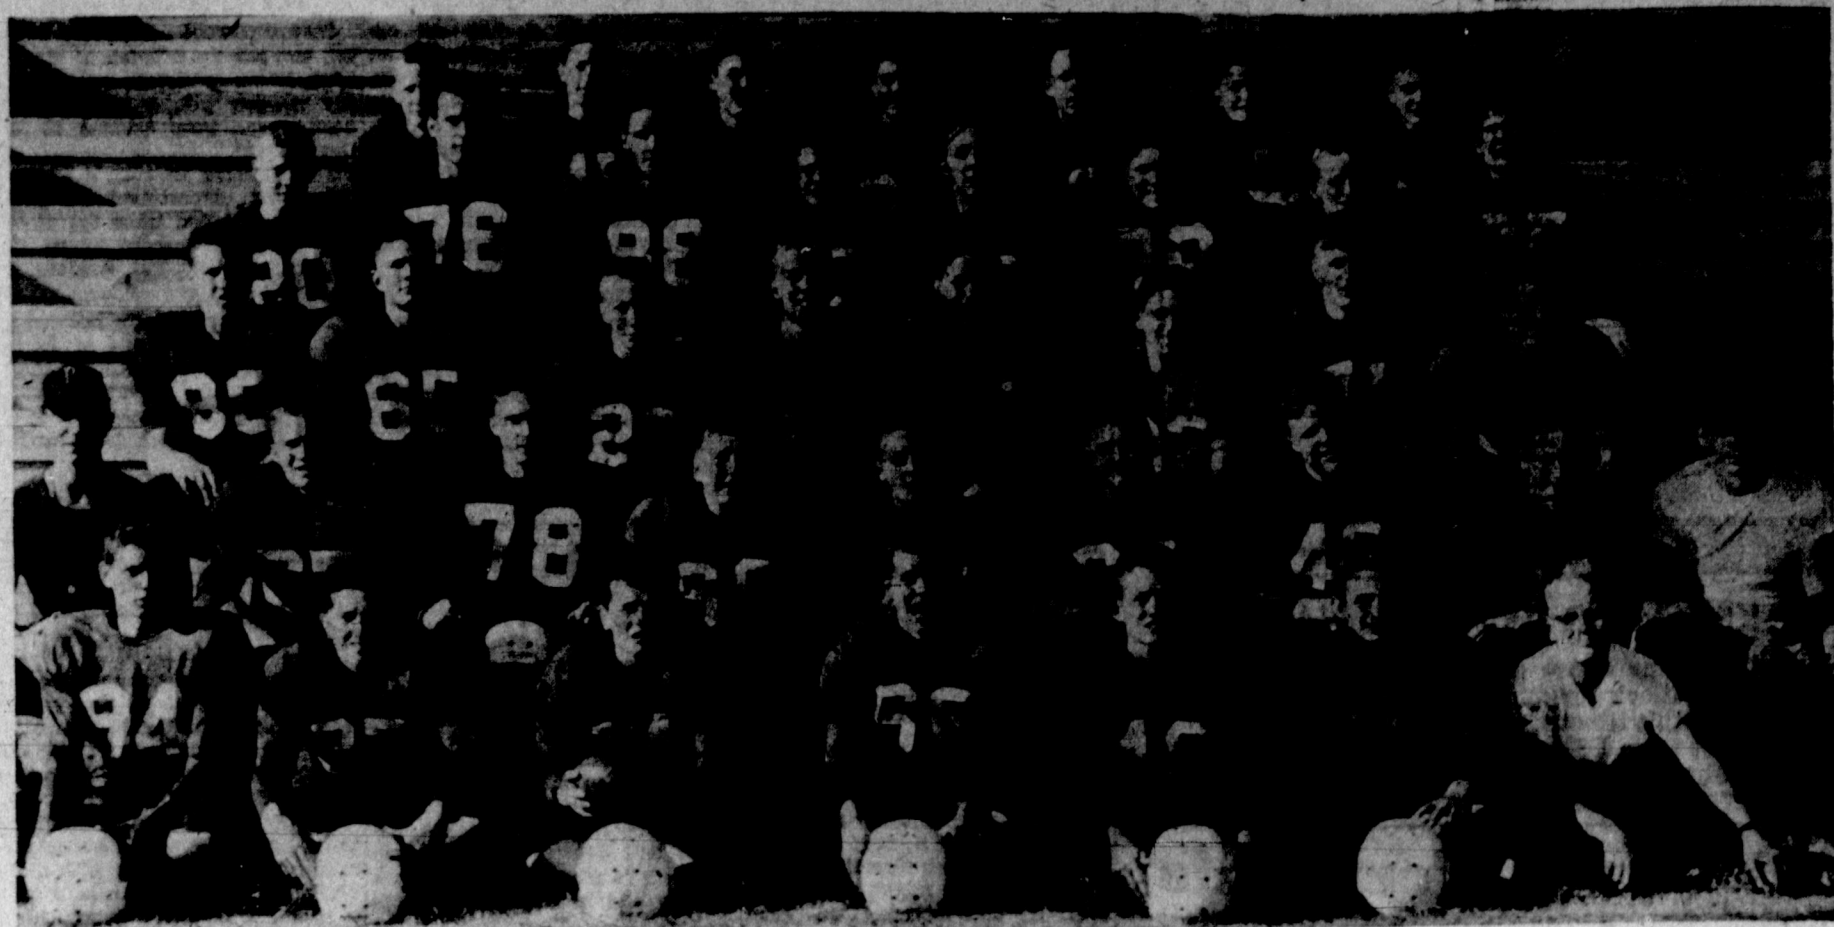

It was the season opener for the Pee Wees.

Dwaine Glover scored the game's only touchdown in the second quarter when he plowed over from the two-yard line.

Borger never seriously threatened to score against the stonewall defense of the Pee Wees.

Standing out defensively for the Pee Wees were Jon Estes and Kent Stevens.

"Not enough to keep a bird alive" is a misleading statement concerning die. Many birds consume half their weight in food each day, while young birds frequently eat more than their weight a day.

OPEN SEASON TODAY

TONIGHT, WE HOPE, WILL WIND UP the 1954 Pampa baseball season. If it does end tonight, the Oilers will emerge as the double winners in the West Texas-New Mexico League race — straightaway pennant winners and the playoff champions.

Jonas Gaines, the hard luck southpaw of the Oilers, will be going all-out to bring the Oilers their first playoff title since 1946. Gaines has pitched a couple of good games in the playoffs, but he hasn't been credited with a win yet.

Gaines will get the starting nod in tonight's sixth game of the series against Clovis. The crafty left-hander lost two tough decisions in the playoffs thus far (4-3 to Clovis).

If Gaines is able to pull the trick tonight, it will be the first time in history that the Oilers have won both the regular season pennant and the playoff title the same year.

Guess Oiler Park will be jammed for tonight's game that could very well be the last tilt of the season here. If something happens tonight, the Oilers, of course, will get another chance tomorrow night to nail down the playoff title since they own a 3-2 edge in the series at present.

OILER MANAGER HERSHEL Martin won't make it in time for the windup of the playoff series with the Clovis Pioneers, after all.

Martin told Oilers business manager, Jimmy Hamilton, by phone yesterday that he will be detained in Abilene until Saturday. So, unless bad weather intervenes, Martin will miss the series windup which will be Friday (if it goes seven games).

It's certainly a tough break for Hersh to miss the championship playoff series with the Pioneers, especially if the Oilers are fortunate enough to win it.

But, considering the circumstances, guess Hersh is lucky to be with us all today.

PUTT POWELL OVER AMARILLO will sorta misinterpreted a statement Coach Cooper Robbins made to yours truly at the coach-

Irish 7-Point Choice Over UT Longhorns

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 —UP—Michigan State and Notre Dame were favored Thursday to provide new Coaches Duffy Daugherty and Terry Brennan with successful debuts in their college football opener next Saturday.

Michigan State, ranked third nationally by the United Press board of coaches last year, was rated a one-point choice over Iowa in the televised "game of the day" while Notre Dame ruled a seven-point pick over Texas, Texas defeated LSU, 20 to 6, in its opener.

The odds were listed by a national odds-making syndicate which publishes its list each week.

In top intercollegiate clashes, Illinois and Michigan were rated 14 points over Penn State and Michigan, respectively; Army was a 15-point choice over South Carolina, Duke was seven over Pennsylvania, Boston College six over Detroit, Kansas State six over Wyoming and UCLA six over Kansas.

Clemson and Georgia at Athens, Ga., and Alabama vs. LSU at Baton Rouge, La., were listed as "pick 'em" games while Brown was favored by one point over Columbia and Tennessee by one over Mississippi State.

Other point spreads listed, according to sections, were: EAST — Navy 13 over William and Mary; Cornell 13 over Colgate.

SOUTH — Mississippi 13 over Kentucky; Georgia Tech 14 over Florida; Baylor 20 over Vanderbilt.

MIDWEST — Purdue 8 over Missouri; Minnesota 13 over Nebraska; Ohio State 13 over Indiana; Wisconsin 13 over Marquette; Northwestern 21 over Iowa State.

SOUTHWEST — Arkansas 14 over Tulsa; Oklahoma 20 over TCU.

PACIFIC COAST — Oregon 13 over Stanford.

And then don't forget the Betsy Rawls exhibition match to be held on the Pampa Country Club course, Sept. 29. Miss Rawls is just about as well known in the women golf ranks as Hogan is in the male circles.

Both Hogan and Miss Rawls are ex-National champions.

Shockers In Home Debut Tonight

The Pampa B team Shockers will open their 1954 home schedule tonight at Harvester Park, meeting the Clarendon Broncos of District 1-A.

Kickoff time has been set for 8. It will be the third game of the season for the Shockers (formerly known as the Guerillas). In their two starts to date, the Shockers lost to the Amarillo Yarnigans, 40-6, and Dumas, 13-12. In the Yarnigan game the Shockers only trailed 6-0 at halftime but the roof caved in on them in the final two quarters.

Coach Marvin Bowman of the Shockers revealed the following boys as his offensive starters tonight: Ends — Paul Baumann and Don Allen.

Tackles — Doug Simmons and Don Jonas.

Guards — Jerry Bonal and Bill Green.

Center — Charles Turner. QB — Jerry Don Hopkins. HB — Bobby Dehis and DeWayne Lovinggood.

FB — Buddy Lamberson. Clarendon, tonight's Spocker foe, is undefeated in two games to date. The Broncos have beaten Groom, 32-19, and Claude 18-0. Bibby Philey is the fellow the Shockers will be keeping an eye on. Philey leads the Broncos in scoring with 18 points.

Admission price for tonight's game is 50 and 25 cents.

Fanelli Wins by Neck LINCOLN R.I., Sept. 23 —UP—Chet Fanelli scored his third straight victory at the Lincoln Downs meeting Monday when he defeated Receipt by a neck in the featured Washington Purse.

Reapers Open Here Today

The Pampa Junior High Reapers will open the season today against the Stephen F. Austin team of Amarillo in a Panhandle Junior High Conference game at Harvester Park.

Game time was ticketed for 3:30 p.m.

Coach Deck Woldt had named the following boys as his starters today's game.

Ends — Franklin Snow and Jim Hopkins. Tackles — Marvin Pickett and Bill Walsh. Guards — Bill Gaut and Gary Peterson. Center — Bill Wells. QB — Gary Heiskell. HB — Buster Baird and Robert Langford. FB — Owen Gilbert.

'Masked Marvel' Ralph McKinney Fails To 'Out-Expert The Experts'

The "Masked Marvel" failed in his attempt to outduel the Pampa News' two football "experts" in the first week of the weekly contest last week.

Ralph McKinney, 14's, week's "Masked Marvel" came closest to the outcome of the Baylor game but outside of that the ex-Bear had rough sledding against the "experts".

McKinney picked Baylor to win by 38-6 but even then he underestimated the Bears. Baylor downed Houston, 53-13.

McKinney picked nine out of the 12 games on last week's ballot. He missed TCU's win over Kansas.

Frogs Drill Hard On Defense For Sooner Clash Saturday

Coach Abe Martin's Texas Christian Horned Frogs, who face a monumental assignment this coming Saturday afternoon, practiced defense Wednesday against the split-T attack of the mighty Sooners over Oklahoma.

TCU's "sophomoric" team — on paper at least — doesn't rate in the same class with the 1954 Orange Bowl champions. But the Frogs have won before games they weren't supposed to win, and Martin is quietly drilling the team this week for what might turn out to be a battle right up to the gun.

The Texas Longhorns face Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Saturday and are at full strength for the tussle. They held a light workout Wednesday, working on several aspects of play, and displayed good spirit.

The Longhorns fly to South Bend Friday. They will eat dinner and stay overnight at Elkhart, Ind., Friday night.

Sauer Alternates Q-Backs
Coach George Sauer of Baylor alternated Billy Hooper and Bobby Jones at quarterback as the Bears polished plays for Saturday night's game against Vanderbilt at Nashville, Tenn.

Fullback Weldon Holley remains out of the rough work with a shoulder bruise. Reuben Saage took Holley's spot Wednesday with Frank Peschel working at fullback on the No. 2 unit.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, who meet Tulsa at Fayetteville Saturday in their opener, charged through a short scrimmage Wednesday against a T-formation team representing the Hurricane.

Tradition Favors Hogs
Coach Bowden Wyatt emphasized pass defense and kicking and tried several different combinations in the backfield for quick kicks.

The Hogs have won 48 of their opening games since 1894 against only nine losses. Four games finished in ties.

Coach Paul Bryant was so dissatisfied with the play of his Texas

Aggies Wednesday he gave up in disgust and sent the first two teams to the showers early.

"We tried to work on offense and defense but we were unable to get the players interested," Bryant said. The Cadets play Oklahoma A&M in the Dallas Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

No Letup for Owls
Rice and Southern Methodist are idle this weekend, but the Owls, as usual, were working harder than anybody.

Coach Jess Neely announced he was taking advantage of the off week by having a scrimmage every day this week. The Owls held a "heavy" scrimmage Wednesday, giving much attention to the passing attack.

SMU emphasized offensive maneuvers in its workout Wednesday as the Mustangs prepared for the opening game against Georgia Tech at Dallas Oct. 2.

John Marshall and Frank Eldom proved to be effective ball carriers and Hal O'Brien and Mertyn Murphy stood out in blocking assignments.

Longhorns Hope To Control Ball Against Irish Saturday

He's an offensive terror with his quick, powerful surges at the snap of the ball and it is this aptitude which enabled the fast-striking Texas backs to rip off 273 yards on the ground against a good LSU line.

Texas' middle five — Lansford and Herb Gray at tackles, Kirby Miller and sophomore Ben Woodson at guards and Johnny Tatum at center — were superb at opening the holes in Coach Gagnell Tinsley's LSU Tiger defenses.

LSU Testimonial
They were the boys who caused Fournet to comment: "We never could stop Texas on third down... when they had to have a first, they made it either on third down or came so close it was a cinch to gamble on fourth down and make it."

Coach Ed Price's veteran-studded Texas team stuck to the split-T pound 'em style of attack and as a result held the ball on 66 running plays to 31 for LSU, while trying only 11 passes to 13 for the Tigers.

Texas has some fine running backs in quarterback Charley Brewer, halfbacks Delano Womack, George Robinson and Billy Quinn and fullback Bill Long, but their yardage-gaining attributes tend to a preponderant degree on that middle five.

When you see those left halfbacks slipping through there every time, Price said, "you know someone up front is doing some blocking."

He singled out Lansford particularly for praise out of that rugged tackle-to-tackle combo.

Warren Hasse

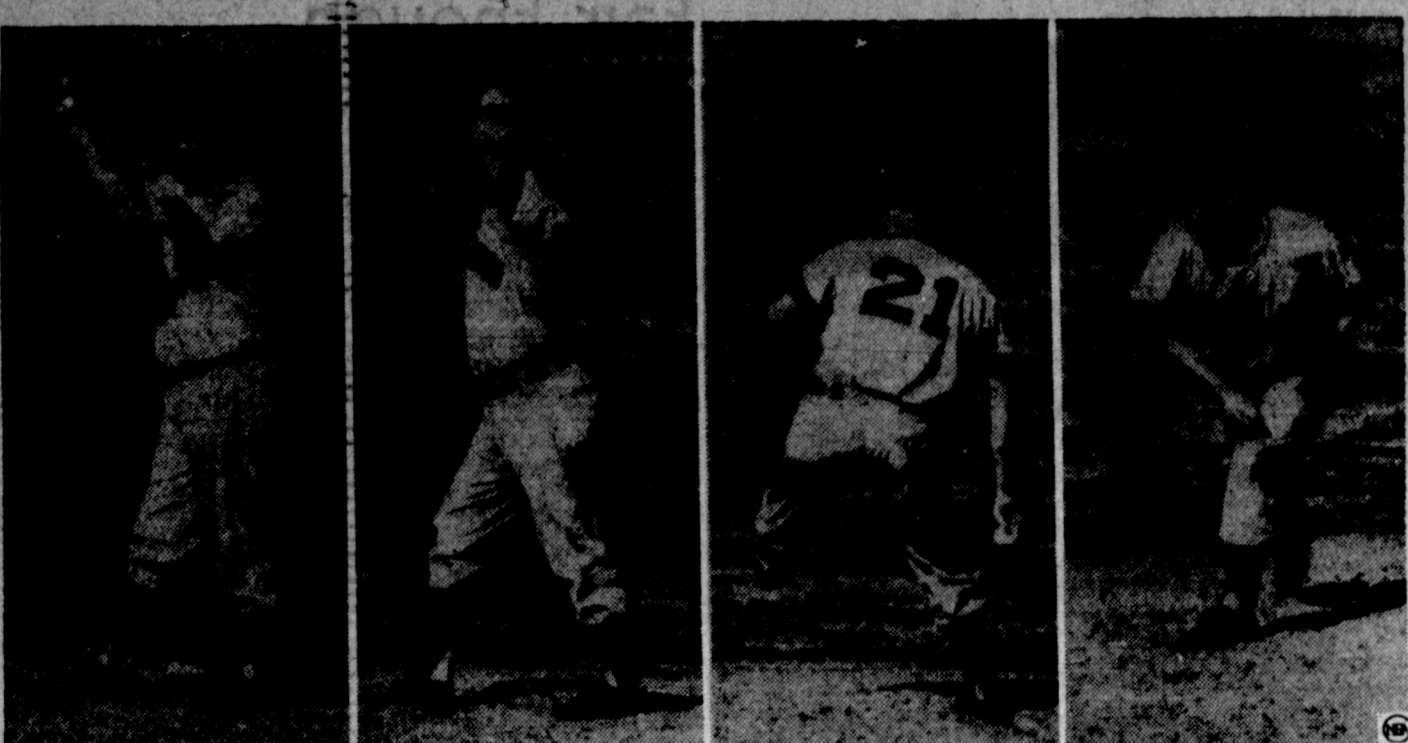

Warren Hasse and Buck Francis went to Francis by a nose. Francis' coin flips called 11 of the 12 winners while Hasse got 10 out of 12, one of his misses being a tie game. Hasse predicted the Oklahoma A&M-Wyoming game a tie but the Aggies won, 14-6. Hasse's other miss was the Hardin-Simmons win over Tulsa which also robbed Francis of a perfect slate.

MEMBER OF "21" CLUB AND THEN SOME—Bob Lemon won 20 or more games in Cleveland livery for the sixth time. Lemon seemed a cinch to better his best previous year, 1950, when he bagged 23. The right-hander is shown going into his delivery, pumping, firing and following through. (NEA)

Tribe Has Distinct Edge On Giants In Hurling Department

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of three stories comparing the 1954 World Series rivals.

By LEO H. PETERSEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—UP—Pitching usually is the determining factor in a World Series, and if it should prove to be that way again this year the Cleveland Indians should beat the New York Giants.

For in Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia the Indians have the finest one-two-three hurling punch in baseball. Through Tuesday's games they had a total of 64 victories—12 more than the top three of the Giants' staff—Sal Maglie, Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez.

Back of his top three, Manager Al Lopez also has stronger second-line hurling in Bob Feller and Art Houtteman as possible starters with Hal Newhouse, Don Mossi and Ray Narveski in relief. Possible Giant starters back of their big three are Marv Grissom, a relief ace, and Don Liddle, a little southpaw. If Grissom is used as a starter, it will mean that Hoyt Wilhelm will be the No. 1 relief man. Jim Hearn is another starting possibility for the Giants with John McCall, Al Worthington and Al Crowl in the bullpen with Wilhelm.

The advance hope is that Lopez will start either Lemon (23-6) or Wynn (22-11) with Garcia (19-8) going in the third game and Feller (13-3) in the fourth.

Maglie Requires Rest
However, it is believed that Durocher would like to start Maglie (14-6) on the theory that if he works the first game he would be available to work another contest in the Series. Maglie, who lists his age at 37, needs a lot of rest between games.

Gomez (17-9) is almost sure to start in the third game. During their long spring exhibition series, when the Giants won 13 out of the 21 games played, the Indians had more trouble with Gomez and his screw ball than any other Giant hurler.

Lopez has said that he would like to give Houtteman (15-7) a starting shot. The Indians manager is likely to use Lemon, Wynn and Garcia in relief as well as starters, although in the aging Newhouse (7-2) and rookies Mossi (5-1) and Narveski (3-2) he has a good relief corps.

Some Will Ride Bench
Lopez (10-7) is used as a starter, Wilhelm (12-4) will be the Giants' relief ace, with McCall, a southpaw, probably back of the knuckleball throwing righthander. McCall's record is only 2-3 but he has been effective lately. Liddle (8-4) may be used both as a starter and relief and the same is true of Hearn (8-8).

Each club has two pitchers who aren't likely to see action except in lost cause games. They are Bob Hooper and Dave Hoskins of the Indians and Paul Giel and Alex Konikowski of the Giants. All have 0-0 records except Hoskins, who won none while being charged with one defeat.

In the home run department, the Cleveland pitching staff has allowed only a total of 122 against 169 for the Giants. However, the Giants have clubbed opposition pitching for 188 homers, while the Indians have hit only 195.

(Tomorrow—The infield.)

Wynn (22-11) with Garcia (19-8) going in the third game and Feller (13-3) in the fourth.

Houston Takes 2-0 Lead In Dixie Series

HOUSTON, Sept. 23—UP—The Dixie Series moves into Buff Stadium Tuesday night with Houston's powerful Texas League entry holding a two games to none lead over Atlanta of the Southern Association.

Atlanta finished first in the Southern while Houston wound up second in the Texas League over the regular season and then won the first division playoffs. However, in this best-of-seven series for the championship of Dixie, the Crackers have yet to show anything and Wednesday night's 7-2 defeat at the hands of the Buffs was the second convincing licking administered by the Texans.

Houston won the opener in Atlanta Tuesday night, 10 to 4, behind lefty Luis Arroyo's seven-hit pitching.

Wednesday night, the Buffs got an even more spectacular job from righthander Willard Schmidt, who stopped the Crackers on two hits and blanked them from the second inning on. Second baseman Frank DiPrima homered for Atlanta's last run in the second inning.

The Buffs, meanwhile, were still getting batting practice from Cracker pitchers and this included ace Leo Cristante. Cristante, who had a 24-7 season record and had pitched 20 complete games, started Wednesday night, but Manager Whit Wyatt pulled him in the third inning after the Buffs had built up a 6-2 lead.

Three pitchers followed Cristante to the mound, making a total of 10 hurlers Atlanta has used in two nights.

Three games will be played in Houston with the series shifting back to Atlanta if more games are necessary.

Score by innings:
Houston 102-010-000-7 10 2
Atlanta 110-000-000-2 2 0

Firestone Horse Sets Mark
NEW YORK, Sept. 23—UP—Mrs. Russell A. Firestone's Summer Tan ran the six and one-half furlongs in record 1:16 flat Tuesday while scoring a convincing victory over highly-rated Nashua in the $30,025 Cowdin Stakes at Aqueduct. The old record of 1:18 and 3-8 was set by Hill Prince on Sept. 14, 1949. Summer Tan paid $8.50 for $2.

Campanella Praises Ex-Cat Southpaw

BROOKLYN, Sept. 23—UP—Rookie Karl Spooner has flat feet, a bum knee and only six teeth but he's "the greatest lefthander I ever saw," according to Brooklyn Dodger catcher Roy Campanella.

Spooner, highly-touted strikeout king of the Texas League, struck Campanella, the Dodgers and the pennant-winning Giants with awe Wednesday when he made his Brooklyn debut by fanning a record 15 batters in blanking the Giants, 3 to 0.

It was the greatest strikeout show ever staged by a rookie hurler in his first major league game, eclipsing the record of 13 set by another lefty, Cliff Melton of the Giants, in 1937. And it was the greatest strikeout performance by any National League pitcher this season, topping the 13 whiffs turned in by Harvey Haddix of the Cards.

"This Spooner is simply the greatest lefthander I ever saw—and the fastest pitcher I ever saw right handed or left handed," said the exuberant Campanella in the dressing room.

"Yes, the fastest by far," pudgy Roy insisted under questioning. "Faster than Rex Barney? Why, there's just no comparison. He's the fastest, that's all."

Sunshine in Flatbush
Spooner, the first ray of happy sunshine to fall on Flatbush since the Dodgers "died" in the pennant race, allowed the Giants only three scratch singles and walked only three as he cracked the Dodgers' five-game losing streak. In three different innings, he struck out the side. At one time, he struck out six straight batters—just two short of the all-time record.

His only jam was in the first inning when the Giants had the bases loaded with two out. He fanned Bobby Hofman to get out of that.

The Giants played their "second string" most of the game, but

Spooner collected six of his strikeouts against players who could be considered "regulars." And the Giant stars were mighty impressed by what they saw.

"Who-eee," said Willie Mays. "I knew he was fast but I didn't know he was that fast."

Campanella said he asked Monte Irvin of the Giants. "Ain't he fast, Monte?" Irvin grinned and said, "I don't know. I haven't seen his pitches yet."

He Got Around
Spooner, 23-year-old resident of Hornell, N.Y., has compiled a fantastic record in his parade up the Dodger farm chain. At Hornell in 1951, he fanned 200 batters in 170 innings. At Greenwood, Miss., in 1952, he set a Cotton States League record by fanning 15 in one game.

At Pueblo, Colo., in 1953, he set a Western League record of 18 strikeouts in one game and fanned 138 in 153 innings. At Fort Worth of the Texas League this year, he won 23 games and lost 10—and struck out 262 batters in 238 innings, most in that loopy since Dixie Dean.

All of this he's done despite flat feet that force him to wear football shoes in spring training, a strained knee that makes him wear a brace and a dental problem that has left him with just six of his own teeth.

In fact, Dodger scout Greg Mulvey signed him for a $500 bonus plus $98 to pay a dentist bill.

Eagle Squad Under Limit
HELSINKI, Fin., Sept. 23—UP—The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League have asked for waivers on end Jack Moses, guard Chet Lagod and tackles Tom Higgins and Hal Lambert. After placing defensive halfback Don Menasco on the injured list, the Eagles were down to 32 players, one under the legal limit.

Few Games On Tap Tonight In State Schoolboy Play

By UNITED PRESS
The second big weekend in Texas schoolboy football unfolds Thursday night with a smattering of games around the state. But nearly all of the top attractions of a gigantic card come Friday and Saturday nights.

The top game in the state Thursday night finds Coach Byron Rhome's Dallas Sunset Bisons at Fort Worth Arlington Heights. This is a non-district attraction, but it will afford a comparison of strength between District 3-AAAA (Fort Worth) and District 4-AAAA (Dallas) this year. Arlington Heights and Sunset usually rank near the top of the heap in their respective cities.

Sunset beat Houston San Jacinto in its opener, 26 to 13, and was idle last week while Arlington Heights whipped Gainesville, 34 to 12, in its opener last week.

In other games Thursday night involving Class AAAA teams, Sulphur Springs (AA) plays at Dallas Forest and Houston J. Thomas mixes with Houston S. F. Austin.

Other games include: West Lake, La., at Beaumont French; Texas-Kanna B at Hooks, Cooper at Franslip, Leaders at Abilene Wylie, Pilot Point at Era, Nacogdoches B at Cushing and Brownsville Frosh at LaJoya.

District action gets underway Friday night in 7-AAA with Harlandale at Kerrville and San Antonio Edison at Seguin. There will also be conference action in Districts 15 and 16-A.

Big State Title To Waco Nine

WACO, Tex., Sept. 23—UP—The Waco Pirates are proud double champions of the Class B Big State League—winners of the straight season race by 13 games and champions of the playoffs.

The Buc, who in 1953 finished with what was probably the most miserable record in baseball in winding up in last place, culminated their complete about-face in 1954 with a season-ending 3 to 1 victory over Corpus Christi Wednesday night before 3,316 fans, a record Waco crowd.

That gave Waco the seventh and deciding playoff game, after the Buc had trailed the Clippers three games to two when the two teams returned to Waco from Corpus Christi Tuesday.

It was Waco's second Big State League playoff victory—the Pirates won in 1948—but this season was the first time it has finished first. The Buc succeeded Wichita Falls, who won the straight-season and playoff title last year, but since has dropped out of the league.

For Waco pitcher Don Kildoo, who hurled a three-hitter Wednesday night, it was the same story, second verse, from a year ago. Kildoo, then pitching for Brunswick, Ga., in the seventh game of the Class B Georgia-Florida League championship playoff against Thomasville, allowed the same number of hits and won by the same margin, 3 to 1.

Manager Jack Paepke's two-run double in the eighth inning provided Kildoo with his victory margin. Paepke's two-bagger, off the right center field fence, scored Ronnie Boone and Jack Falls who had walked.

In the first of the ninth, big Dean Stafford slammed one of Kildoo's pitches over the fence for Corpus Christi's only run.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 23—UP—Andy Patko, Milwaukee Braves' outfielder who left Monday's game with stomach pains, is through for the remainder of the 1954 season. Patko, who has what is called an "epigastric rupture," will undergo an operation next week.

League Bat Champs To Meet In Series

By EARL WRIGHT

United Press Sports Writer

The league batting champions will clash in the World Series for the first time since 1931 and the third time in history if Willie Mays and Bobby Avila maintain their present paces.

Mays, the Giants' rollicking center fielder, collected one hit in two times at bat Wednesday to keep his pace-setting National League average at .346. Brooklyn's Duke Snider is second with a .340 mark. Brooklyn has three more games and New York four.

Avila, the Indians' second baseman, virtually clinched the American League crown by getting two for four to raise his average to .337. Minnie Minoso of the White Sox, the runner-up, went one for two against Cleveland's Don Mossi and his average remained at .326 with two more games. Cleveland has three more games.

The last time the league batting champions clashed in the Series was 1931 when Chick Hafee (.345) of Cincinnati and Al Simmons (.390) of Philadelphia won the titles. The only other World Series meeting between the batting kings occurred in 1909 when Hans Wagner (.338) of Pittsburgh and Ty Cobb (.371) of Detroit led the rival pennant winners.

Spooner Debuts in Style
Actually, Wednesday was a banner day for pitchers in both leagues with rookies Karl Spooner of Brooklyn and Mossi posting the most significant triumphs.

Spooner, the Texas League's top strikeout king since Dixie Dean, made a brilliant major league debut when he set an all-time record of 15 strikeouts during a three-hit, 3 to 0 victory over the Giants. It was the most strikeouts ever recorded by a rookie in his first major league game, breaking the mark of 13 set by Cliff Melton of the Giants in 1937.

Spooner was one short of the club record but posted the highest single game performance in the National League this year, bettering the total of 13 fanned by Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals.

Mossi Shines, Too
Mossi boosted his record to 6-1 and Cleveland's victory total to 110 with a five-hit, 3 to 1 triumph over the White Sox. Jack Harshman, Chicago rookie, gave up only seven hits as Cleveland tied the American League record for victories in a single season set by the fabulous 1927 Yankees.

In the only other American League games, Steve Gromek pitched a four-hitter for his 18th 1954 victory as the Tigers beat the Orioles, 4 to 1, and southpaw Tommy Byrne of the Yankees, backed by a triple play, scattered five hits in a 3 to 0 victory over the Senators.

The pitchers also choked off the hitters in the other National League games. Rookie Brooks Lawrence of the Cardinals raised his record to 14-6 with a five-hit, 6 to 3 victory over the Cubs, and Milwaukee's Ernie Johnson, with ninth inning help from Warren Spahn, pitched a five-hit, 3 to 1 victory over the Redlegs.

Redlegs Protest
Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs protested the game after the umpires ended the game and a ninth-inning Cincinnati rally by declaring one of his base runners out on an interference play.

The Phillies swept both games of a two-night doubleheader from the Pirates on the pitching of Curt Simmons and Robin Roberts to move within a game of the fourth-place Redlegs. Simmons posted a six-hit, 12 to 1 triumph and Roberts followed with a four-hit, 5 to 1 victory.

Harvey Kuenn of Detroit collected a single in four chances to become the first American League pitcher ever to get 200 hits in each of his first two campaigns.

Wednesday's star—Karl Spooner, rookie Brooklyn lefthander who set a new record for strikeouts by a pitcher in a first major league game by fanning 15 Giants in achieving a three-hit, 3 to 0 victory.

One Of The 400

There is an old saying that a person who is "one of the 400" is among the elite of his community. The saying got started somehow in connection with the high society of the country. There were supposedly 400 "first" families in the society world. Well, today in Pampa, a man can become a member of the 400 all right, and as such he will definitely be closed with the elite of the community. He will be one of those who renders a distinct service to his fellowman. He will be one of the workers for the United Fund. The Pampa United Fund campaign can be successful only if it receives the whole-hearted support of enough workers to solicit donations from the public. Voluntary workers make up the backbone of such efforts as the United Fund. The fact that people are willing to give of their time as well as their money, makes it possible for charity funds to work with a minimum of operating expense, thereby assuring the donor that his gift actually goes to the cause he wishes to support. How can the individual in Pampa better aid the United Fund than by giving a few hours of his labor to the task of soliciting money? Here's the set-up on the United Fund's organization for the coming drive: Sixteen persons have been designated as "Majors" in this solicitation army. These 16 men will pick five persons each and will dub them "Captains." Each of the 80 "Captains" will pick five workers to canvass Pampa people for donations. This means that Pampa needs 400 workers to help the United Fund help others. Want to be one of the 400?

An Oil Well

Many a property owner has dreamed of striking oil on his land. But what a shock he would get today if he had to drill the well himself. First, the cost of drilling a 10,000 foot well would range from $250,000 to $1,000,000, depending on widely varying conditions. Equipment needed would be a complete rig, weighing about 200 tons; 10,000 to 12,000 feet of drill pipe; 12,000 feet of casing; 25 to 100 drilling bits; 500 to 1,000 tons of drilling-mud additive; 2,000 to 5,000 sacks of cement; 48,000 barrels of water and 3,000 barrels of fuel oil, plus the services of 125 skilled workers, working full or part-time. Then he might wind up with a nonproducer. According to the record, of 49,325 wells drilled in the U. S. in 1953, 25,748 were oil wells; 3,801 were gas wells; 18,509 were dry holes; and 1,267 were service wells. Total footage drilled amounted to almost 200 million feet, four times the earth's diameter. Fortunately for land owners they don't have to risk drilling a well — they can lease to oil companies if they so desire and if prospects seem favorable. Scientific knowledge and courage are prerequisites for any drilling venture. Risk taking based on the hope of profit is the incentive that spurs American oil companies to keep pace with oil demand and add to the nation's reserves for the future.

COPYCAT BRAZIL (The Freeman) A while ago, when the price of coffee became a national issue, the economists of the Potomac analyzed the situation and came up with a basic cause of the rise: the profit motive. The cure that seemed imminent was a televised investigation of the wicked coffee speculators. But Brazilian producers came forward with evidence of a cause that made more sense, namely, that the price of coffee was high because nature had caused a short supply, as compared with demand, and the ardor for publicity in Washington subsided. Last month, a news dispatch threw new light on the matter. The government of Brazil announced that it would not permit the exportation of coffee, of the kind we Americans like, at less than 87 cents a pound. If the world price should fall below that figure, the government would pay it. Congress took no note of this market manipulation by Brazilian economists. It was too busy with a crop price support bill of its own. After all, it could hardly object to the flattery of imitation.

GIVEN A CRUTCH, WE LIMP (Chicago Daily Tribune) The federal housing administration, in a summary of its annual report, says that during 1953 it financed the construction of 30,000 new rental and cooperative units. A typical rental project in which FHA had a hand last year contained 107 units with a mortgage of $335,000. These 30,000 apartments were among the 94,000 privately owned rental units put up in the United States last year. In the six active building years of the 1940s, apartment construction ranged from 200,000 to 250,000. Even in 1950 there were nearly a decade of high building activity and following a sharp market panic the preceding year.

Reflection ...with JAMES C. INOUBRETTEN, President, Spiritual Mobilization. Abe Martin once said something like this: "When I hear of a home being wrecked, if it's caused by dynamite, I don't feel so bad." In other words, destruction of a physical symbol — in this case, a house — is nowhere near as serious as destruction of the actuality for which the symbol stands — in this case, a home. I thought of this when I read about the toppling by a recent East Coast hurricane of the steeple of Boston's historic Old North Church. This, you remember, was the steeple in which was hung the lantern signal which set Paul Revere off on his famous ride. A much loved symbol of freedom has vanished. A physical hurricane demolished it. I wouldn't feel very bad about this except that it causes me to wonder whether the hurricane of regimentation sweeping the world may not, sooner or later, topple our actual freedom. How strong are its moorings in your heart — and mine.

Senator Jenner Tells How UN Hampered Us

I want to quote further from a speech made by Senator Jenner before the Senate on what the United Nations is doing to the United States.

In the September Economic Council Letter, president Hart of the Economic Council says:

"The Senator says he has been searching unceasingly to find the invisible bars which blocked what should have been 'obvious policy.'"

Then Hart quotes Jenner as saying:

"In the bill recently reported to the Senate authorizing funds for the Foreign Operations Administration, I think I have found the light, delicate, but oh so powerful silken threads which prevented our military leaders and defense officials from carrying out the obvious strategy to keep Red China from new conquests after the Korean agreement was signed."

"It is the internationalist-collectivist lawyers who have neutralized American military power and made our promises ridiculous before the world. It is difficult for you or me to believe that vast aggregation of tangible power, called the American military establishment, may be led by the ablest men, may have huge numbers of trained fighters, may be fully committed to holding back the Communist threat, and yet be reduced to impotence by the thin silken meshes of the law."

UN Ties Our Hands The silken thread which has made that fund unavailable for the needs of the free nations of Asia is the little clause which appears in the Act stating that the Congress "reaffirms the policy of the United States to achieve international peace and security through the United Nations so that armed force shall not be used except in the common defense."

Then the Senator explains: "The money is appropriated by the American Congress. It comes from the American taxpayers. It is to a large extent spent by American Defense officials, but it has been so completely body-trapped by the legal experts of the Acheson regime that the money is of no value whatsoever to protect anyone against the Red death..."

"What is the United Nations policy for what they call peace in Asia? We know the answer, Mr. President. The United Nations policy during the Korean war was to prevent American military victory over the Communist forces. You remember the details. Our commanders were not permitted the right of hot pursuit against attacking the Red planes. They were not permitted to bomb Rashin until it was too late."

"Most fantastic of all, the American forces were not permitted to carry the war to the soil of their enemy but were compelled to limit all fighting to devastation of the territory of their ally."

"I need not remind you that, when everything else fails, the commander of the American forces, who was also our highest official in all Asia, was summarily removed from command and called home."

"One more point is necessary, Mr. President, to make this whole story clear. Who devised the policies and regulations which hobble our Defense officials in their efforts to oppose Communism? These silken meshes are the work of a little inner circle of able, unscrupulous men in the State Department, in a few other posts in our government, and in the agencies of public opinion. These men, under the tutelage of Dean Acheson, Alger Hiss, Harry White, Philip Jessup and the rest, developed within our vast bureaucracy an inner steering group which, behind a curtain of secrecy makes its own laws free of any control of Congress, the President, and the courts. It has dominated American foreign and military policy through its skill in manipulating laws, directives, committees, conferences, reports, and briefing sessions."

"The UN represents a working alliance among the left-wing collectivist elites who wield the actual political power in those nations today."

"For the last fifteen years, we have had no military program for defense of the United States. We do not have one now, and we will not have one until we here in Congress cut the cords which bind our military to the Acheson foreign policy, the Acheson clique in the press, and the Acheson clique in the government, which keeps UN in a state of permanent confusion and appeasement."

"The people of the United States want their Defense Department and their military establishment to give them the best professional advice on how to make our country secure. We do not want carefully doctored advice. We do not want advice strained through the channels of any other government departments, to serve the hidden purposes of their ruling cliques."

"Our country needs the best professional military advice, as we have never needed it in our history. We are not getting it."

"The architect of this new kind of government was Harry Hopkins. It was the left-wing collectivist elite in our government which learned how to manipulate the levers of government in the thirties, which grew to global dimensions in the war, and which consolidated its power in a legal spider web of treaties, executive agreements, conferences, and directives, in preparation for permanent control of our post-war policies."

"Dean Acheson completed the legal maze. With the help of Alger Hiss, Philip Jessup and others, he coordinated all the powers his predecessors had discovered. In addition he devised a perfect maze of boards and commissions high up in the governmental stratosphere, above the Cabinet, where decisions on military and political policy could be made by his men without 'interference' by Congress."

New Firm British Stand Strengthens U. S. On EDC

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Britain's belated decision to share greater responsibility with the United States for defense of Western Europe during the Korean war, together with the British refusal to commit troops to the now defunct European Defense Community contributed to the French rejection of that system. Parliamentary opponents at Paris, to endorse the Churchill-Eden proposals. After six months of personal and diplomatic maneuvering, ever since the pre-Geneva dispute over formation of a Southeast Asia Alliance in April, happy days are here again for the Anglo-American family. Knowing of Dulles' ill-concealed irritation toward Eden, photographs of them smiling and shaking hands amuse Washington observers.

The outcome also marks a major defeat of the Kremlin's deliberate and near-successful maneuver to break the solidity of the Western Coalition, which has been Geogi Malenkov's primary diplomatic objective ever since he succeeded Stalin.

The Eisenhower-Dulles ultimatum of an "agonizing reappraisal" of our responsibilities and obligations to Europe may have been a "bluff," as so many Europeans told me on my recent tour of Western Europe. But it was a Yankee bluff that seems to have worked.

The French indictment and defeat of the EDC proposal had immediate repercussions at 10 Downing street. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden hoped a plan for conferences with the heads of all the Governments that were to have been included in EDC.

He got them to agree to a grant of German sovereignty and rearmament under NATO or the Brussels 1948 Pact. But his winning argument was his pledge that England would become an integral member of any new alliance, not merely a friendly onlooker and well-wisher. He promised that British soldiers would serve side by side with European contingents, including the Germans in the proposed dense organization.

After giving these assurances, he was able to descend on Paris and Premier Mendes-France with almost unassailable arguments for French participation in some alternative to EDC.

This shift in British behavior will relieve the United States of many severe handicaps and embarrassments in the cold war with Russia. With Britain assuming a new leadership role on the Continent, the Communists can no longer scream that "American imperialists and warmongers" are scheming to set the stage for a World War III in Europe.

England's more aggressive attitude will tend to improve recently strained relations with the White House and the State Department. Both President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have been annoyed to use a mild word, at what they had begun to regard as Churchill-Eden "appeasement" of Moscow.

Firmer British commitments to legal maze. With the help of Alger Hiss, Philip Jessup and others, he coordinated all the powers his predecessors had discovered. In addition he devised a perfect maze of boards and commissions high up in the governmental stratosphere, above the Cabinet, where decisions on military and political policy could be made by his men without "interference" by Congress.

During the height of the Harry Dexter White revelations, Douglas M. Black, president of Doubleday and also president of the American Book Publishers' Council, appealed to all Americans to protect their freedom. Not their freedom from the Soviet purges — but freedom from "censorship" and "witch-hunters."

There is no official censorship of books in America. There is a great deal of unofficial censorship and it is practised by men like Mr. Black. Against anti-Communists. Doubleday publishes "101 of the World's Greatest Books," with illustrations by Rockwell Kent. Louis Budenz has stated, under oath, that Kent is a Communist and Kent has refused to state, under oath, that he isn't. It has published "World Full of Strangers" by David Altman (a former leader OF THE YOUNG COMMUNIST LEAGUE) and "The Chinese Conquer China" by Anna Louisa Stong (who has openly stated her devotion to Moscow). It has published "My Wild Irish Rogues" by Vivian Hallinan (a bulldog for the Communists, "Progressive" candidate for President). It has published many other books favoring the Commie line.

The only censorship being practised in this country is the freedom of the reader to read (and be warned by) books AGAINST Communism. The only censorship the public is threatened with is the repudiation of their right NOT TO BUY books by authors who would destroy all their freedom.

Morgenthau Solicits Funds For Eleanor's Birthday

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Henry Morgenthau has had the gall to put his name to a form letter soliciting money from union bosses for the Eleanor Roosevelt Fund. The letter says that the contributions will be "deductible for U. S. income tax purposes."

As Secretary of the Treasury, Morgenthau learned, if, indeed, he did not invent or help to invent, such tricks, which his fustler described as "clever little schemes having the color of legality."

It appears that the Eleanor Roosevelt 70th birthday committee is planning one of those political blue-plates at the Roosevelt Hotel and that this Fund is somehow implicated in this project. The relationship is left fuzzy in the solicitation.

A contribution slip is enclosed with Morgenthau's letter reading, "enclosed please find my contribution of $ — to further Mrs. Roosevelt's important work in behalf of the United Nations." The internal revenue still is very lax in its application of the law to contributions which are sluiced into political activities.

There is a flagrant ruling in force just now in favor of Isidore Lipschutz's Anti-Nazi League, whose activities have consisted largely of trying to discredit and defeat law-abiding, patriotic Americans. All this is officially deemed to be "educational."

I anticipate resistance should I apply for the same exemption of contributions to the Westbrook Pegler Memorial Library but in that case would cite the Eleanor Roosevelt and Lipschutz precedents.

Morgenthau's own immunity from congressional inquiry under a Republican administration would be a baffling mystery but for the fact that the Republican administration is only a reversionary for the actual Republican Party.

Henry is in practical effect an Eisenhower Republican. The "members" of the Eleanor Roosevelt 70th birthday committee include Gardner Cowles, the mock-Republican publisher of Look and other more or less reasonable facsimiles of the Henry Luce version of ethical journalism, and Paul G. Hoffman, the stuffed shirt who created Truman's ECA squandered-of-some-30,000-New-Deal-unemployables-in-Europe. Posting as a Republican, Hoffman published a scathing attack on Senator Bob Taft after Eisenhower's

And the Roosevelt woman has been a political accomplice of both Morgenthau and Frankfurter all these years. In fact, Weenie is named on the "committee" which is raising this fund, by rattling the cup at the union racket, along with Herbert Lehman, Anna Rosenberg, Sam Rosenman, Adlai Stevenson, Stu Symington, George Meany and the inevitable Oscar Hammerstein, II, whose approach to our political thoughts has been a masterpiece of aesthetic doubletalk.

The Harry Dexter White case stopped dead at Henry Morgenthau's door. As an average American citizen, wouldn't you have hammered at the doors of all the committees and the newspapers all these years demanding a chance to tell the awful truth?

PICTURE SPORTS NEWS

THE PUNCH LINE—Petite, blonde Diana Doss is proving to the camera in Shepperton, England, that she's a knockout in her own right. The actress delivered a right hook to the jaw of Primo Carnera, ex-heavyweight Italian boxing champion, who turned into a wrestler and actor. The tiny blonde is featured with Carnera in a movie being filmed in England.

SITTING PRETTY—Adding lustre to the glitter of the French Riviera at Cannes is starlet Jacqueline Cadet, who is sunning herself on a yacht dock. As she is so pretty perched on a railing, Jacqueline makes the perfect picture of holiday joy.

CARMEN VS. CARMINE—Welterweight Carmen Basilio, left, is landing a mighty blow to the side of Carmine Fiore's face during their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden. Basilio protected his number one ranking in the 147-pound division by winning a unanimous decision over Fiore.

FIRST ONE—Linda Danson is holding the first gold "Tee to the City of Palm Springs," Calif., which was made for distinguished visitors. The gold tee, which screws onto a key chain, can actually be used on the golf links, so it's practical, too.

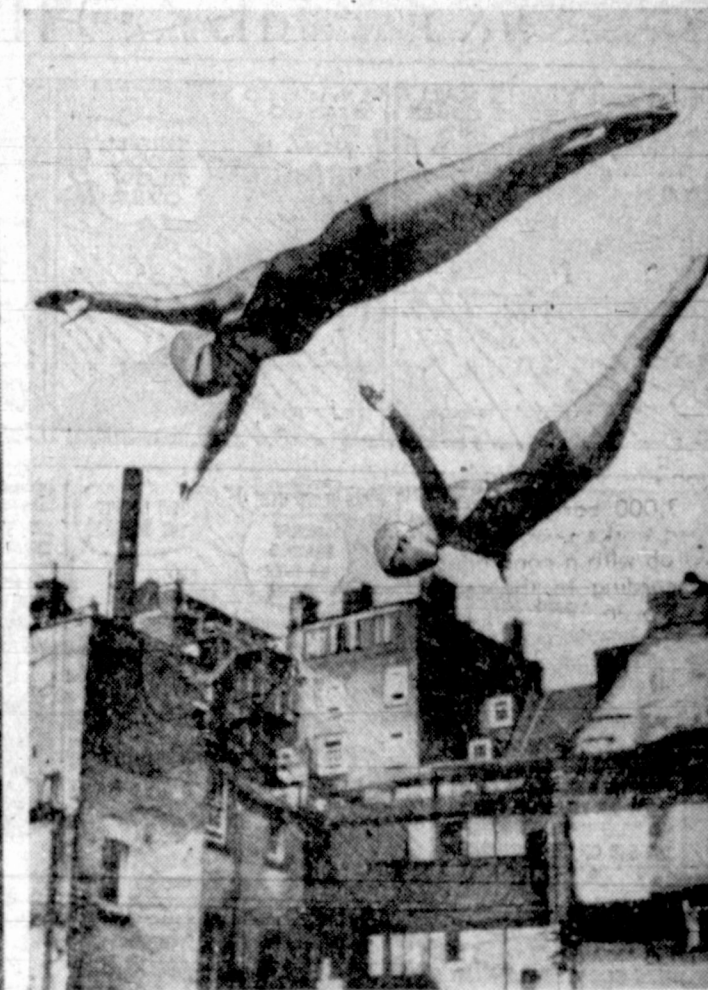

HE'S GOT SOMETHING THERE—M. C. "Joe" Gale, of New York City, is shown with the 783-pound tuna he boated as a member of the U. S. team on the opening day of the 11th International Tuna Cup Match at Wedgeport, Nova Scotia. It was the biggest bluefin taken off Wedgeport this summer and gave the U. S. anglers an early lead in the blue water classic. Ten teams, composed of 39 anglers from 10 countries on four continents, competed in this exciting annual sports event.

ONE DAY IN THE YEAR—With school starting up again, Sisters Liloise and Pelagia, instructors at Immaculate Heart Elementary School in Cleveland, enjoyed a picnic at a local amusement park. They tried out the swings, left, as others drew a bead on the target with a couple of rifles. The outing was a complete success for all 200 Sisters who attended it.

CLASS OF '74—Delighted with that football helmet, three-year-old Ronny Olin, of Lawrence, Kans., is playing with a pigskin as two Kansas University gridsters turn their backs. Halfback Ralph Moody, left, of Minneola, and halfback Bud Laughlin of Kansas City, Mo., were out for some fall practice, preparing for the Big Seven Conference season.

MERMAIDS IN THE AIR—Appearing to soar over the rooftops in London while looking for a landing place are two young girls who were merely indulging in their favorite sport. They were practicing their almost perfect swan dives at an open air swimming pool in the heart of the British capital.

HE LIKES IT—Practice sessions for the Pacific Coast Conference football are under way in Los Angeles, and their start coincided with a heat wave that had playing field temperatures in the high 90s. Here, first string guard Jim Salsbury of UCLA's champion Bruins gets a refreshing dousing from sophomore manager Dorbin Sandy as the team braves the heat. This sort of gesture may not be too effective, but it helps.

TENNIS, ANYONE?—Wearing the latest mode in tennis court attire, an athletic Korean gent is trying out his forehand form on a new court at the Army's Headquarters I Corps in Uijongbu. A hat made of horsehair protects the man's head from the sun as he goes about the business of playing the game.

BRIDGE PARTY—The first official salute to the new Sunshine Skyway Bridge is given by these aquamaids from Cypress Gardens, Fla., as they ski past the structure at St. Petersburg. The system of causeways and bridges stretches 15 miles from that city to Palmetto, adding considerable enjoyment to motorists who tour this part of the country.

THE STORY: Private Detective Jim Dunn and his wife Nancy have been retained in the double role of detective and bodyguard of Mrs. Kit Carlson at the estate of Mrs. Duval Carlson in Colorado. Jim is not sure what he is expected to do beyond determining that the kit is innocent of a sudden death that might be murder on the West Coast. Mrs. Kit has been the author-fellow. Mrs. Kit Carlson is attempting to bring supplies on her.

X

JIM DUNN kicked down what stumps he could find, loaded the jeep with dead and half-rotted logs whose chief virtue was that they gave the appearance of wood.

One branch rod led down to the Carlson Castle, but Jim did not travel far along it. But he did get an excellent bird's-eye view of the huge place, with its swimming pool nestling back of a slight curve of the base separating cliff, Lion's Head.

Jim estimated it was a good three miles by twisting road between the two places even though it was only a few hundred yards by water. Certainly the sheer drop of the base of Lion's Head seemed to preclude any path along the shore.

On his return to The Spires, he found that Toby Argyle had delivered a load of pitch. Heavy, sticky chunks which were fragrant even in the pile by the basement door.

He found, too, that Nancy was having an audience with Kit Carlson. She was on the porch, no longer wearing her veil, while Nancy, in her "dark and dainty" outfit, stood on the base of the basement door.

"Yes, mom," Nancy said, as Jim began to toss pieces of wood from the jeep. "Thank you for telling me about the rouge. Thank you, I'm sure." She would not meet Jim's eyes as she hurried away.

Perryton Picks FFA Sweatheart

PERRYTON—(Special)—Harriet Hale, a junior in Perryton High School, was elected sweatheart of the Perryton F.F.A. Chapter in an election held this week.

She will receive a jacket from the chapter and will be their representative in the district sweatheart contest.

Harriet is one of the five cheerleaders this year and she was also a cheerleader last year. She is a member of F.H.A., Future Teachers of America, and Theopians. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hale, and she plays on the Perryton High School Rangerettes, girls' basketball team.

Perryton Teens Elect

PERRYTON—(Special)—In elections held recently at Perryton High School, Student Council and Teen Town Council representatives were elected by all of the classes. These representatives will serve for the 1954-55 school year.

Jerry Conner, a senior was elected last spring to head the Student Council.

Representatives to the Student Council are: senior—Bob Roberts and Marena Pittman, junior—Glen Simpson and Clova Castlebury; sophomore—Danny Meyers and Coleen O'Quinn; and freshman—Sammy McLain and Mary Lou Jacquot.

Elected to the Teen Town Council were: senior—Don Hulsey and Pat Wood; junior—Henry Hale and Carla Blackmore; sophomore—Neal Flathers and Nelda Leatherman; and freshman—Zack Miller and Gaynelle leatherman.

6 Pampans To Attend Kiwanis Meet

The Kiwanis Club of Pampa will be represented at the 1954 Convention of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis District at Dallas, October 3-5, Club President J. B. Maguire, Jr., announced today.

Local delegates to the convention will be J. B. Maguire, Jr., Frank Fata, Aubrey L. Jones. Other members who plan to attend are Leslie Hart, Fred Thompson, and L. N. Atchison.

Mr. J. A. Roney, vice president of Kiwanis International, and prominent Indianapolis, Ind., school official, will be a featured speaker during the three-day meeting at the Adolphus Hotel.

Delegates from 231 clubs, representing a membership of over 14,000 business and professional leaders will participate in the variances, a discussion of plans for the coming year, and election of officers will highlight the convention program, Maguire said.

The presiding officer at the three-day session will be Edward C. Keefe, Governor of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis District, and Chickasha, Okla., public relations man. Mr. Keefe is a widely-known business and civic leader in the State of Oklahoma.

Another speaker will be Col. Robert G. Storey, who has just returned from Korea and a trip around the world, where he went by invitation of the United States Department as a legal advisor. Col. Storey is one of the twelve men asked by President Eisenhower to help formulate recommendations for reorganizing the government, called the New Hoover Commission.

Also, Robert Vogeler, the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation official who was imprisoned for 17 months and sentenced to 15 years of prison in Hungary on the trumped up charge of espionage, will be a speaker on the program.

Gray County Winners At Tri-State Fair

Ralph Thomas, county agent, who is superintendent of the Agriculture and Horticulture Department at the Tri-State Fair, proudly let it be known that one of his Gray County "boys," City Commissioner Frank Dial, competing outside his present bailiwick, won the junior and grand champion Duroc Jersey boar contest; recently in Amarillo.

Dial's son, Don, a Gray County 4-H'er, was awarded second place in the junior Duroc fat pig division, and third in the open contest.

David Miller, another Gray County 4-H youngster won the junior championship for an outstanding Poland China boar, and came in fifth with his Poland China sow.

Tri-state winners in the agricultural department from Gray County taking top honors were Roland Dauer, gallon of rye; Mrs. Harry Guill, Hubbard; Mrs. L. L. Falmers, bundle of Alfalfa.

Other Gray County winners placing second were T. T. Griffin, pie punkin; Norman Warminski, onions; T. H. Andrews, redline; Mike Wilkerson, cotton.

Irvin Cole, of Pampa, placed second with a gallon of combine kafir, and third with a gallon of kafir.

Loyal Bird, Pampa, was awarded third place for a gallon of martini, and fourth on a bundle of wheat.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE
Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday conditions, such as stress and strain, cause this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent urination. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Did Port Arthur Strike Cause Shivers To Seek Third Term?

EDITOR'S NOTE: A strike has been going on for 44 weeks in Port Arthur and there is no sign it is nearer an end than the week it started. That strike was mainly responsible for Texas' anti-Communist law—though the men running it bitterly deny there is any communism involved—and it was a major issue in the recent gubernatorial campaign. What's the situation in Port Arthur now? John Colton, manager of the United Press bureau at Houston, tells about it in a series of two articles, the last of which appears below.

By JOHN COLTON

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Sept. 23—UP—The Port Arthur strike was bound to become a major political issue.

Gov. Allan Shivers, bidding for a third term, called it a "reign of terror." He said only his quick action in ordering the investigation routed the Communists and prevented them from getting a stranglehold on every small business in Texas.

"What if you had had a man like my opponent in the governor's office?" he asked.

Shivers, who eventually won re-nomination, charged that his opponent, Ralph Yarborough, was being supported by the unions. Booklets appeared showing white and Negro pickets marching side by side with placards decorated with Yarborough "stickers."

Yarborough, an Austin attorney, cried "hoax." He said the pictures were faked. He accused Shivers of doing nothing to settle the strike and, denying CIO-PAC support, he promised to end the strike within 30 days after he was elected.

Motor caravans of Port Arthurians spread out over the state to tell the "Port Arthur story."

After the election the clamor died down but the strike went on. The cost cannot be estimated, except in terms of bitterness.

Costly Fight

Neither side will talk about money but John V. Riffe, executive vice president of the CIO, said last May at a merger meeting between the old DPOWA and the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union (CIO) that Port Arthur had cost the union more money than was spent to organize the United Auto Workers in Detroit.

Conservative estimates place the union bill at a minimum $200,000.

The businessmen claim minimum losses of at least $50,000 a month, plus the added cost of fighting the unions through newspapers, radio and other media.

Lyle Vickers, general manager of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce, estimates that the city's retail sales volume—$87 million last year—will be about $15 million less this year.

But far worse than the economic loss to the city is the apparent bitterness. The pickets parade their posts silently. They ask only that the picket line be honored and show a silent, sullen disdain for anyone who crosses it.

Deep Bitterness

They won't answer questions. Bill Hastings, whose Goodhue Hotel has been picketed since last Nov. 14, put it in these words: "It is the bitterness that is being instilled into the workers. They are being taught that we (the employers) are their enemies. The bitterness will remain long after the strike is settled, if it is ever settled."

George Cowart, a refinery worker and staff representative of the OCU who is now directing the strike, said only, "We cannot abandon our people, we must fight."

There are no indications of an early end to the crippling strike. Clifford Potter, head of the Houston sub-regional office of the NLRB, said he has no idea as to when the NLRB will hand down a ruling on the petitions for collective bargaining elections to be held.

And there's a possibility that the NLRB could drop out of the picture.

NLRB May Withdraw

Last July the NLRB reached a policy decision which may remove thousands of small business disputes from its crowded calendar. This policy, not yet clearly defined, was an effort to confine NLRB jurisdiction to large industry disputes, and this conceivably could result in a change in status for thousands of small firms previously covered by the Taft-Hartley law. It would pass such cases back to the states.

But the hue and cry raised during the gubernatorial campaign may yet bring another ray of hope to beleaguered Port Arthur.

The strike echoed in the Democratic state convention in Mineral Wells Sept. 14 and the delegation called for the 1955 legislature to outlaw strikes not voted upon directly by workers of affected firms, and to bar pickets who are not employees of a struck business.

Labor spokesmen quickly called it a "union-busting" plan and the reaction of individual legislators indicates the proposed legislation will become a heated issue in the 1955 session.

White Deer Boy Wins Fair Prizes

WHITE DEER—(Special)—Gary Gosnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gosnell, carried away two grand championships from the swine division of the Tri-State Fair as judging began on Monday. Gary, a 16-year-old White Deer High School sophomore, entered his light weight Hampshire barrow and not only won first in his class, but won the championship of breed over a heavier barrow and was then named Grand Champion of the Junior Fat Barrow Division.

Later in the day, Gary entered the animal in the Open Fat Barrow division and for the second time that day, walked off with another grand championship.

Teen Town Benefit Set At Perryton

PERRYTON—(Special)—Mrs. Rose Powell has announced plans for the tenth annual Teen Town Benefit Show to be staged in the Perryton School Auditorium on October 4. The theme of the program will be "The Passing of the Frontier," and the cast includes more than one hundred students and adults.

The program is divided into five main scenes. They are: the bar room scene; the school scene; the church scene; the medicine show scene; and the cowboy scene.

Featured in the program will be the Tune Twister and Harmonica quartets and the Dixie Cat Band. There will also be readings, dances, and many other varieties of entertainment for all ages.

AFL Kicks Aside GOP 'Convincer'

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23—UP—American Federation of Labor leaders sought Wednesday to knock down Eisenhower administration efforts to convince delegates to the union's 74th convention that the administration has done a good job for labor.

In face of laudatory speeches by James P. Mitchell, secretary of labor, and Nelson A. Rockefeller, assistant secretary of health, welfare and education, James L. McDewitt, national director of labor's league for political education, said: "We'll go all-out to set the record straight."

"We don't propose to sit idly by and see the record distorted," he said. "Of these accomplishments spoken of by administration representatives—Mitchell I'm referring to—the record indicates that there is only one law passed by this congress that could be considered beneficial to labor—the social security program of the President."

"We find it necessary to answer the administration in detail—and that we propose to do so our people would be confused," he said.

AFL President George Meany bluntly declared the administration wanted labor to knuckle down in order to gain greater benefits from the government. He said Mitchell's speech Monday could be construed as meaning, "we'll give you a little more if you'll behave yourselves."

Backstage activity centered on passage by the AFL's resolution's committee of a move to mobilize the AFL's 10 million members to help elect a Congress favorable to the aims of organized labor.
