Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON—(AP)—So you, too, want to own a little home of your own? You, too, have dreamed of a vine covered cottage—roses—green shutters—a fireplace—a well kept dog on a well kept lawn.
A home of your own.
That, probably more than anything else, is the American dream.
Well, I, too, have dreamed. Drag up a spare cloud, and I'll tell you about it.

Was it only two and a half years ago that we moved into our own mortgage-plattered dreamhouse, in what some humorist laughingly called a "development"?

Somehow, it seems longer.
For now we know that:
1. New houses, like new babies, get the darndest things wrong with them.
2. Once upon a time, when something needed building, or fixing, a man was called in who knew something about building or fixing. Now, with help hard to find and harder to pay, the alleged man of the house goes grudgingly into action.
The pipes I've peered in!
The paint I've scattered!
I've painted until everyone must be convinced that I use turpentine for shaving lotion.

I've worked. I've slaved. I've reached the point where I yearn for Mondays, so I can crawl to the office and rest up for the next week-end.

And what has this mad activity got me?

Well, two bedrooms still need redecorating. The fence needs painting. The windows need caulking. The lawn needs reseeding. And the bathroom—

We have the only shower in existence built for an adagio dancer. The trick is to get hit by the water, but not by the plaster which falls with it.

Last night I sat down and balanced the books.
Counting up the projects my wife has in mind and is likely to have in mind, and providing I never miss a day and keep my health, I may catch up by the time I'm 80.
And as for our dreamhouse, bah! That was no dream you saw me with last night. That was a nightmare.

Foot, Mouth Disease Has Cost Mexico One Of Finest Dairy Herds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The foot and mouth disease epidemic in Mexico cost the country one of its finest dairy herds.

The Agriculture Department said the herd included a bull that had been Mexico's national champion four consecutive years. The herd was on a ranch near Queretaro. It comprised 70 animals, all of which were slaughtered in the campaign to halt the spread of the disease.

(On one previous occasion, several months ago, agriculture officials reported the infection had reached the dairy herd of President Aleman of Mexico.

(The President's herd, located on a farm near Mexico City in the heart of the infected area, presumably was destroyed, agriculture officials said.)

Blinding Rainstorm Blamed for Deaths

EMORY (AP)—A blinding rainstorm was blamed today for the death of two Atlanta, Ga., men who were killed yesterday when their plane crashed in a heavily wooded area nine miles west of here.

The men were identified by Joe Hood, Emory undertaker, as J. R. Banks, Jr., 23, and Wesley Studard, 24, both employees of the Southern Airways.

Hood said the plane apparently was caught in a wind and rain storm and was hurled into the ground. It was demolished.

The men, returning to Atlanta after a flight to Dallas, were married and each was the father of one child. Their bodies were to be returned to Atlanta.

The circular saw first was used in Maine, shortly after 1830.

Effort Being Made to Reduce Cotton Costs

MEMPHIS, TENN.—Among the many services rendered cotton in its journey from the farm to the consumer, one of the most important and the one that is the least costly to either the producer or the ultimate consumer is that provided by the warehouse and compress operator.

This fact was pointed out here last week by officers of the National Cotton Compress and Cotton Warehouse Association, who are directing the campaign to fulfill the pledge of the association at its last meeting in New Orleans to bend every effort to reduce the already low costs of handling cotton.

This action was taken in response to the urging of Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson and other cotton leaders who have pointed out that if cotton is to maintain its competitive position in the world of textiles, costs from the farm to the consumer must be reduced.

Through mechanization the farmer hopes to grow cotton more cheaply. It is through the same mechanization, as applied to the handling of cotton in warehouses and compresses, that the warehousemen hopes to provide his share of the lower costs which are necessary if cotton hopes to retain its markets. If all costs are reduced enough, farm leaders believe, cotton has a chance of regaining some of the markets it has lost and, through research and competitive prices, win even new markets.

The warehouse provides more than a shed to protect the farmer's cotton from the weather. It provides insurance against loss. It provides samples for the trade or the Government loan. It provides the best and most efficient means of assembling cotton for shipment, since the mills buy cotton by 100-bale lots, all of which must be of the same grade and staple.

The compresses make it possible to save on the freight costs between the warehouse and the mill by compressing the cotton so that more bales can be loaded in a car. For export sale, high density compression cuts the cost of freight to the ports and of shipping to the export market overseas.

Since every saving that can be effected between the producer and the mill strengthens cotton's competitive position, the modern warehouseman is striving, as rapidly as the machinery becomes available, to mechanize his operation. What increases in warehouse charges have been made in the past are traceable almost entirely to higher labor costs. If the efficiency of labor can be increased through the use of machinery, appreciable savings can be made and thus reduce—even farther the small cost of warehousing of cotton adds to the price of the finished product.

"John never listens to a thing I say." That's one of the American woman's chief complaints against her husband.

Well, why should he? John is talked at practically every waking moment by his wife's company. He's talked at above the clatter of the cooking, through his newspaper.

His wife, who talked so cleverly about his interests before marriage, after marriage talks almost exclusively about hers.

She pays no attention to the fact that men hate to relish last evening's party or pick personalities to pieces.

She never notices the faults of every woman he meets pointed out to him.

She brings him every scrap of gossip she hears without stopping to think whether or not he's interested.

NEVER GIVES UP
She doesn't take his lack of interest in a topic as a subtle suggestion that she drop it. Instead she pricks him into attention with "I don't believe you've heard a word I've been saying."

She is rarely silent long enough to give him a chance to tell her

George Raft to Shoot Film in North Africa

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Despite the current crisis in international film relations, George Raft is going ahead with a deal which will set a precedent in movie making.

This fall Raft and his independent company plan to journey to North Africa where they will film location shots for "Outpost in Morocco," a French Foreign Legion story. Simultaneously, they will make a French version, with Fernand Gravet stepping in for Raft. Co-starring, George hopes, will be Danielle Darrieux or Viviane Romance. The Hollywood troupe would return to shoot interiors here.

George is now making "Race Street" for RKO and he says it will be his last at a major studio. From now on George works only for George.

John Wayne Returns to Republic After 'War Party'

John Wayne returns to Republic after "War Party" and he'll do the sea story, "Wake of the Red Witch." After that he gets back into production for himself with an original story about an early French colony in the South.

Dick Powell is smiling these days because June Allyson has been won over to flying. When she flew with Drug Magnate Justice Dark of Dick's "Stations West" location in Arizona, June took turn at the controls and liked it. Her husband is an air enthusiast. Now the Powells are planning to fly to Hawaii this November.

Charles Laughton and Victor McLaglen are being called for the massive "John of Lorraine." For that matter, so are most of the better character actors in Hollywood.

District Nine Picnic Will Be in Amarillo

A large Pampa delegation is expected to attend the picnic for the district nine business and Profession Womens Clubs to be held in Elwood Park, Amarillo, Sunday beginning at 4:30.

Miss Maurine Jones has asked that everyone planning to attend call her at 35 or 300 for reservations and added information as to food preparation and transportation before 9 o'clock Friday.

Partial Permanent Freshens Long Bob

Model Elaine Bassett, above, has her long bob freshened up with a few curls.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Saving pennies for a vacation? Yet need a permanent to see you through your travels?

Get a partial-permanent. There are hairdressers who give partial-permanents, and charge so much per curl. A few curls put in where they are most needed will see a girl through her vacation without making too heavy inroads into funds set aside for it.

Eve Wygod, hairdresser to both Hollywood film stars and New York glamor girls, claims she may put as few as two curls in the hair of customers who come in for partial-permanents.

These girls call their new curls "fresheners." They have them put in at those spots where an old permanent has given up its spring. It may be in hair above the temples, if that's where a girl likes deeply-furrowed waves. Or it may be in the hair at the nape of the neck or at the droopy end of a long bob, says Miss Wygod.

Middle Aged People Healthier Today Says State Health Officer

AUSTIN—From a health standpoint, life after forty generally begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

"Medical care in middle life has two important phases," Dr. Cox asserts. "The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to Almost everyone gets a bad touch of the blues when they hit the age of 40. It's a silly reaction. To coin a phrase, Life Begins at 40.

For example, here are some ladies and gentlemen who are having a good time, and who think 40 is adolescent. They've enjoyed themselves since 40, and still do.

Mrs. Francisca Escalante de Ontiveros of Yucatan, 40, almost ran her son ragged when she visited him in Corpus Christi. She insisted on plenty of movies and sightseeing trips, and at home entertained them by playing the flute, the piano and the guitar.

George Edward Smith, 67, of Jacksonville, still wields razors and scissors with a steady hand after cutting hair and shaving three generations of his town's families. He's been at it 45 years, he says, whacking away and insisting he's far too busy to think of retiring.

Pop Poplewell of Sherman says he's been helping the public go places for 40 years, says he's piloted enough public conveyances to travel around the world twice with enough left over for a start on a trip to the moon. He's still driving a bus and enjoying life.

Tom Bean, 65, a farmer near Gainesville, was young enough to take his first ride in a jeep. Not only that, but he made his first visit to the county seat in the 55 years he's lived in Cooke County.

G. M. Kennerly of Hillsboro hadn't been to a movie in 30 years until recently.

B. F. Abbott of Bovina and Roy Tisdale of Coleman, former cowhands at the famed XIT Ranch, have attended every single one of the annual XIT reunions. Age doesn't make them stay home content with memories.

People do nice things for you, too. Sixty union painters who used to know Ed Howard of Waco pitched in and painted Mrs. Howard's house for her—in fourteen minutes and 15 seconds. A crowd of neighbors, friends and on-lookers joined to watch as Mrs. Howard just looked on, sort of dazed. After it was over, a man offered to pay her hotel bill until the odor of fresh paint left the place. She said she didn't think the odor would bother her.

Scientists say their are more atoms in a drop of water than the entire population of the earth could count in 10,000 years.

Middleweight Fight

NEW YORK—(AP)—A 10-round match between Evertine Roach of Plainview, and Bill Arnold of Philadelphia, middleweights, on Sept. 26 will open the fall season at St. Nicholas Arena, the 20th Century Sporting Club announced.

SOUTHWEST'S SHOPPING CENTER

DOCTOR WOODWARD'S AMBITION

By Elizabeth Seifert

THE red-haired man who came up the steps of the Lair, opened the heavy door and came into the handsome lobby, observed that the girl at the switchboard was busy, the reception desk vacant. He stroled down the first hall, stepped into the elevator, rode to the second floor. He wore no hat or overcoat. His suit was a casual one of light brown tweed, a bow tie was under his chin. He spoke to people he met as if they should know who he was. He had an engaging grin which made others smile at him. He went all over the hospital, even peered into the empty, shadowy operating room, into the diet kitchen, walked up one corridor, down another. He found the children's ward, the fracture ward. There were many visitors, all welcome today because it was Sunday. The staff was a skeleton one.

It was a fine hospital—big, handsome, very well equipped. Andrew Woodward covered all of it; he saw everything. "The guy acts like a tax assessor," one intern commented, saying him in one ward, and then, in another. Downstairs again, he bumpy under Susan, coming around the corner from Pop's rooms. The nurse's arms were full—a basket of fruit, three books, a red dressing gown slipping from her arm. Dr. Woodward staid her from falling; she looked up, laughing.

"Thank you, I was taking care of some of Pop's excess—well, I'm afraid he called it junk." The tall man stood smiling. "Can't I carry it for you?" She frowned up at him. "Are you?" "A visitor. But I would like to help."

"Thank you, I was taking the fruit to the kitchen." She surrendered the basket, led the way down to the basement. Woodward was helpful, he was gallant. He made it quite obvious that he appreciated this pretty nurse.

SUSAN found herself laughing and talking with the stranger. Certainly a charmer, as men went. And witty. His comments on the books which had been sent Pop were pungent. "Why do they try to improve an old chap's mind? Why not give him magazines and the Woodmuffs? I understand he's helpless."

"He's had a stroke, he can't walk—but he's far from helpless. Not the way he can swear—his mind is as keen as ever. And that's sharp!" "Are you his nurse?" "Oh, no, I'm Dr. Malcolm Glenn's nurse. Dr. Glenn isn't here today. He's at home with his family—he has a grand family."

"He's the gynecologist, isn't he?" Enthusiastically, Susan agreed. He asked her about the hospital group—how did such a large plant get patients in this smallish college town? Susan explained, clearly and intelligently. This was the State Hospital. By a complex, but smoothly functioning, system of daily ambulance routes throughout the state, all needy cases were brought in for examination and treatment. In addition, the hospital cared for a limited number of particular cases.

short history. It is evident that the delegates are getting tired of looking at the same old faces every day and that they need a change of scenery.

Some of the iron men on the Council but even these would like a rest. The prospect now is a brief Council vacation beginning tomorrow.

The United States has turned to the Assembly as a sort of last resort to deal with the Balkans case. Every move by the United States to set up a semi-permanent U. N. committee in the Balkans to help settle the troubles there has been resisted by the Soviet Union, with a Russian veto capping the final moves in that respect.

The veto, too, is another matter on which the U. N. needs a new approach. That device, brought up originally by the United States and eagerly grasped by Soviet Russia, has come into some dispute by frequent usage—18 times by Russia and two by France.

The lack of the police force is another detriment to the council

The Security Council needs a vacation—and a new start. How can the 11 members of the key United Nations organization, charged with the responsibility of keeping the world at peace, take a rest now? There is trouble in Greece, fighting in Indonesia and strife aplenty elsewhere.

The reason is this: The delegates have done everything they can do at this stage in the game. They must find a new approach to the situation. Several are hoping the General Assembly will provide that approach. The Assembly convenes Sept. 16.

This has been the most active summer in the United Nations'

AUSTIN—(P)—The tropical storm which swept inland through Galveston this past weekend hurt crops but helped pastures, the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicated yesterday in its weekly crop report. Heavy rains accompanying the storm damaged rice, cotton and other field crops but supplied much-needed moisture for pasture grasses in the path of the rains. USDA said it was too early to appraise the extent of damage or benefits created by the tropical disturbance. Crops and pastures continued to deteriorate over much of the northern half of the state during the week ending Aug. 25. Rains interfered with cotton harvest in upper coastal counties and parts of South Texas. However, cotton in most of the state was in urgent need of good general rains. Continued excess shedding and premature opening of bolls was reported. Some harvest started in extreme North Central counties and Wichita County reported its first bale. Harvesting of sorghums made good progress, and corn harvest was under way in all areas except Northwest Texas. Goose feathers were favored by early writers for making quill pens, and quills from the left wing were preferable.

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Stocks managed to negotiate selective recoveries today although many market leaders did nothing or stumbled and the session was one of the slowest for the past year.

The ticker tape went to sleep after a moderately active opening. There was an early upward shift, led by rails, which failed to follow through. Gains in fractions to a point or so persisted for pivots at the close but declines of as much as 1/8 were numerous. Volume for the five hours fell to within the neighborhood of 500,000 shares.

Attracting bids are Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, United Merchants, Pullman, American Locomotive, Gar Wood, Allied Stores, General Electric, J. C. Penney, International Harvester and Caterpillar Tractor. Steels and motors were narrow.

American Telephone softened, along with International Paper. Heintant was Texas Co., Weascon Oil, Phelps Dodge, American Smelting and American Can.

Bonds were uneven.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPND Monday thru Friday, 2 p.m.)

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Linda Darnell, back from that European vacation, now will have to make up her mind about hubby Pev Marley. She told me three months ago that the vacation was a trial separation. They'll now decide whether to remain together, or call it a day.

Separation of Cornel Wilde and Pat Knight left the manager of the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, Mass., in a very embarrassing situation. Cornel and Pat were slated to co-star at Dennis next month in a play. Immediately after the separation, they called it off.

They came and they go fast in Hollywood I once figured it all out. An option drops every three-and-one-quarter minutes, starom lasts only seven years, every third person in movietown has an ulcer from worrying.

Ronald Colman told me he doesn't worry.

Maybe that's the answer to his long record as a romantic star—24 years. "The White Sister" first made the ladies' hearts skip a beat over him in 1923.

KISS OF DEATH
His film this year is "A Double Life." He's playing a Shakespearean star who goes a little crazy and tries the Othello kiss of death routine on a waitress who is in love with him. It works. The girl dies and the police track him down.

I hope it doesn't start an epidemic of women wanting to be kissed to death by Ronald Colman. The girl is a film newcomer.

Shelley Winters. In her first kissing scene with Colman, she couldn't seem to get it right. They ran through it for six takes. Finally Director George Cukor stormed: "Shelley, what's the matter with you today?"

Shelley blinked a very pretty pair of eyes and said:

Mr. Cukor, I've been waiting ever since I was in high school to be kissed by Ronald Colman and if you think I'm in a hurry to finish this scene, you're crazy."

GAG MAN
An oyster in a bowl of soup once displayed its contempt for a screen comic by stealing a cracker off his spoon and then squirting him in the eye. The comedian was one of the Three Stooges and the "oyster" was Ray Hunt.

Ray, a prop man of the Mack Sennett school, is the pearl in the oyster for Hollywood's slapstick comedians. Ray's specialty is physical gags, and he's got a million of 'em. Like his latest for a Harry Von Zell comedy, "Radio Romeo." It's a fountain pen that squirts whipped cream all over the set.

"I've got a million gadgets," says Ray. "I've got everything in my prop box from a necktie to a battleship."

Ray mixes his own pies for pie-throwing scenes. He prefers a light crust filled with flour, whipped cream and a can of blackberries.

"It makes just the right kind of a mess. Those pies you buy don't splatter right."

New Oil Field Is Assured of Palestine

PALESTINE.—(AP)—A new oil field for Anderson County, which now has six proven gas or oil fields, was assured today as the Sanders and Murchison No. 1 Broadway deep wildcat 16 miles northwest of here flowed 12 barrels an hour in a production test of petit pay zone.

Oil from the Blackfoot Community area wildcat was flowing through a 3/16 inch top choke and a 1/4 inch bottom choke with an estimated 1,900 pounds of pressure.

Phillips Beats Lewis Hard in Semi-Finals

Phillips Petroleum Company beat Lewis Hardware 7-3, last night in the last game of the Industrial Softball League semi-final play. The win earns Phillips the right to meet the Sportsman Shop in the three-game league final play. The first game is set for Tuesday night.

The Sportsman Shop got into the finals earlier by beating Skelly Oil two straight games after losing the first game of their semi-final play. Scores were 10-11, 10-8-9.

Hawaiian Swimmers Break Own Record

HONOLULU—(P)—McLellan's torrid trio—Harry Holiday, Bob Sol and Dick Weinberg—cracked their own unofficial American record last night, swimming the 300-meter medley relay in 3:41 at Walkiki War Memorial Pool.

The three set their previous mark of 3:15.3 earlier this month at Tyler, Texas. The standing American record is 3:20.7.

Yanks Rally to Whip Browns 7-6, in 10th

By The Associated Press

What with a healthy 12 1/2 game lead and an unhealthy pitching staff, Manager Stanley "Bucky" Harris of the New York Yankees would like to turn another page these days—if it's a page like Joe Page.

The stellar stalwart of the Yankee bullpen wound up a busy road trip with the Yanks at St. Louis yesterday, working in his seventh game of the 11-game Western swing.

He took over in the sixth inning with the score tied at 6-all and held the Browns to three singles and no runs the rest of the way as the Yanks salvaged their fifth win in 11 invasion tries, 7-6 in ten innings.

At Detroit, the Red Sox and Tigers were dividing their second straight twin bill and taking turns keeping the second place seat warm. The Yanks ascended after beating Lefty Earl Johnson, 7-2, in the first game, after he'd held them to one hit for six innings.

The Red Sox came back in the afternoon at Cleveland as the Indians and Bob Feller triumphed over the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1.

Milo Candini's relief pitching gave Washington a 6-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the remaining American League contest.

These developments highlighted National League play:

- Brooklyn, St. Louis and Boston, the three top clubs, all were beaten.
- Johnny Mize cracked his 43rd home run of the year as the Giants beat the Cards 6-4 to go five games and four days ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 circuit smashing schedule.
- Ewell "The Bell" Blackwell of Cincinnati became the first major leaguer this year to win 20 games as the Reds stopped the Braves, 4-

Entranis Sharpen Up For Salt Lake Meet

SALT LAKE CITY—(P)—Eagles and birds were scattered all over the scenic Salt Lake City Country Club course as the nation's top pro and amateur golfers practiced yesterday for the Western Open Golf Tournament.

Jimmy Thomson of New York posted the day's best score—a seven under par 65—and Zell Eaton of Montebello, Calif., and Sam Sneed Hot Springs, Va., went around the sprawling canyon layout in 68.

Few of the others turned in complete cards, concentrating instead on driving or putting practice.

Bobby Locke, the sensational South African star, was out for his first warmup round and he spent most of the cloudy afternoon working with the putter given to him by his father when he took up the game at nine years of age.

Pairways have been narrowed for the meeting and the fringe has been allowed to grow up around the greens, making them smaller, so the layout at the foot of the Wasatch Mountain Range will be a severe test for the sharpshooters on hand for the $12,500 event.

Heat waves bring on an increase in the death rate of a community from sunstroke, heat prostration and other causes.

Cats Closing in For Final Series With Tough Buffs

By The Associated Press

Shreveport's battle for a spot in the Texas League play-off faded to a dull whisper today while Fort Worth's Cats closed in on Houston in the scrap for first place.

The Cats used Shreveport as a stepping stone, clipping the injury-ridden Sports in a double-header 4-3 and 3-0 while Houston was being tumbled by Oklahoma City 9-3. Today Fort Worth is only a game and a half back of the stumbling leader.

Meanwhile, Shreveport fell three games away from fourth-place Tulsa which lost to cellmate San Antonio 11-1.

Dallas and Beaumont fought to a stand-off in a doubleheader, the Rebels taking the first game 6-0 and Beaumont capturing the nightcap 8-7.

Just eleven days remain in the regular season drive.

Try Noren honored in the last inning to break up the first game for Fort Worth and Clarence Podbielan pitched a steady eight-hitter to skunk Shreveport in the second.

Houston outfit, Oklahoma City but Milt Nielsen of the Indians got his fourteenth home run of the season and added a double and triple to drive in three runs along with three by league-leading batter Al Rosen.

San Antonio slugged 14 hits in trimming Tulsa with Ned Carver holding the Oilers to six blows, only one of them for extra bases.

Floyd Giebell pitched a five-hitter as Dallas triumphed over Beaumont in the first game but Beaumont, nicknamed three Rebel hurlers for a dozen hits in the afterpiece to win its first game of the year in Dallas.

Tonight San Antonio plays at Oklahoma City, Beaumont at Fort Worth, Shreveport at Dallas and Houston at Tulsa in a doubleheader.

First Methodists Take Easy Victory Over Presbyterians

The semi-finals in the Klwanis Sunday School Softball League were played off last night in the Senior Boys and the Junior Girls division, with the First Methodists and Central Baptist Seniors coming out on top and the McCullough Methodist and the First Christian Juniors winding up in front.

The First Methodists surprised everybody when they upset the first place Presbyterians by the top heavy score of 24-9. The Methodists were trailing 7-6 going into the fifth inning, but at that point they went berserk to cross home plate 11 times to take a very determining lead which they never lost. Bill Speer received credit for the Methodists win as he pitched excellent ball all the way and had almost perfect backing by his teammates, James Wetherall, Donald Thut and Jimmy Howard tried to put down the Methodists uprising, but to no avail.

The Central Baptists ran head on into trouble last night in the form of the First Baptist, but they managed to eke out a hard earned victory 9-8. The Central boys were never behind, with the margin being one point throughout most of the game. Paul Hulse and Bobby Nash both collected successive home runs in the third inning to help the Centrals score 5 runs and give them their margin. Ronnie Maxwell yielded only 9 scattered hits to the First Baptists and gave up only 4 charity bases to get credit for the win. Emmet Riggs was tagged with the loss although the story might have been different had it not been for the winners big third inning.

In the Junior Girls league, the first slat McCullough Methodists had little trouble as they scored in every inning to trounce the Central Baptists 20-15. It looked as if the winning margin was going to be greater than it was, with the Methodists leading 17-3, but the Baptists tallied 12 runs in the fourth frame to put them back in the ball game. The Methodist girls were at home in the field as well as at the plate, playing almost flawless ball behind the excellent tossing of Margaret Ritz.

The First Christian Juniors cross-

Notice—Look Out For Game Wardens

AUSTIN—(P)—No extra game wardens will be added during the morning dove season, which begins next Monday in the Northern zone, Executive Secretary Howard Dodgen of the Game Commission said today.

However, wardens will be concentrated in the white dove zone during the three-day season—Sept. 15, 16, and 17—in the valley country near the border, Dodgen added.

Approximately ten men will probably be shifted in that area to help enforce the 4 p.m. to sunset hunting regulations. This will nearly double the usual number of game wardens in the valley area, Dodgen said.

He believed there was little need for more wardens in the morning dove zones because "the hunting seasons there are plenty long to give everybody a chance to get some birds."

Bobby Layne May Easily Establish One of Southwest's Best Records

BOBBY LAYNE—Great University of Texas quarterback and key man in Longhorns' new "T" formation. One of the nation's leading backs in '46 and one of the finest forward passers in Southwest football history.

AUSTIN—Robert Lawrence Layne, a husky, blond athletic hero at the University of Texas for three years, is entering his Senior season amid a roar of discussion. The question is this: Can Bobby, after three successful years as a tailback and fullback in the Bible style of play, make the swift and complicated switch to the all-important role of quarterback in Blair Cherry's 1947 "T" formation. Southwest coaches and sports writers are well divided on the point. One argument is that the tricky ball-handling chores and "T" passing position (immediately back of the line of scrimmage) will retard Layne's effectiveness. The other faction believes Layne will make an ideal quarterback because he (1) has natural ball-handling ability; (2) is a good signal caller; and (3) is the best collegiate forward passer in the game. One way or another, the test will soon be here, for Layne and his Texas Longhorn teammates begin practice drills next Monday morning. The Steers' Coach Cherry, who is sold on Bobby's ability to make the change, admits the most important phase of work will come in those first 20 days before the Longhorns go against Texas Tech in Austin on Sept. 20. If Layne retains his effectiveness, even at passing, he will be almost certain to repeat the sectional and national honors he won last season. He led the nation's backs through most of the season in both forward passing and total offense. In the Southwest, he led total offense with 1420 yards on 222 passing and running plays. He led the pass-conscious Southwest with 1115 yards on 77 completions in 140 attempts. He topped the punters with a 42.1 average and led the scoring with 94 points.

But statistics don't measure Layne's ability. His phenomenal capacity for bringing Texas from behind with his magic passing demonstrated time after time—has come to mean a real psychological "lift" to teammates and Texas supporters when he's in the line-up.

Passing has overshadowed his other football talents. He is a tremendous quick-kicker, an adept signal-caller, a better-than-average runner, a good ball-handler, and an able defensive man. Most of these talents combine to give Cherry more reason than one to believe that Layne can make the Texas "T" move.

He is quiet, mild-mannered, stands 6 ft., 1 in., and weighs a solid 196 pounds. He is married to a former campus sweetheart, is studying physical education and has his eye on a professional football career after he graduates next June. Besides his football, Layne has compiled the most amazing record in Southwest Conference baseball history. Through three years, Layne has never been defeated in a Conference game, pitching 24 consecutive victories.

Bobby's two top football shows both came in 1946. Against Missouri in the Cotton Bowl, January 1, 1946, he threw 12 passes, completed 11 of them (the other went straight through the receiver's hands) and figured in the scoring of all Texas' six touchdowns as the Longhorns won a wild 40-27 victory. Last fall, against the then unbeaten Oklahoma Aggies, Layne completed four of eight passes and gained 128 yards in eight running tries as he scored four touchdowns in Texas' 54-6 rout of the Aggies. All in all, Layne accounted for 40 percent of the Texas yardage throughout the 1946 season, while the Longhorns were rolling to eight victories and but two losses.

That's the background of all the discussion. But those that have watched Bobby come through for three years are pretty well convinced that he will do it again. If the record is any indication, he will.

Better Days Seen in Building Industry

AUSTIN (AP)—Better days for the building industry in the last half of 1947 than in the first half are predicted by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. A 12 percent advance in July building permits over June ushered in the second half of the year "on a wave of promise and optimism for the building industry," the Bureau reported, noting that an anticipated mid-summer slump failed to develop in Texas and permits totaling $33,000,655 were 100 percent above those of July, 1946.

The Bureau report recognized that "abruptly mounting costs of building materials, coupled with steady gains in wage rates and high prices of real estate, contribute to the unprecedented high cost of construction." Greatest monthly percentage gains in July building permits were reported in Austin, Brownwood, Coleman, Gladewater, Graham, Lamesa, McAllen, Sweetwater and Tyler.

The British dominions are represented in London by high commissioners.

Boys Selected to Represent Carson County at Roundup

PANHANDLE. (Special) — Paul Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Carroll of Panhandle, and Edward Kalka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kalka of White Deer, have been selected to represent the Carson County 4-H Clubs at the Texas 4-H Club Roundup, September 3 to 6 at College Station. Over 1,000 boys and girls are expected to take part in this year's roundup, which will stress leadership training and recreation.

County Agent J. P. Smith lists the following achievements by the boys selected to represent Carson County: Paul Carroll has completed four years of club work, producing nine pigs for pork, one Chester White brood sow and has fed and exhibited three beef calves. Paul's calf, Tol, was the highest ranking Carson County calf at last spring's Amarillo Fat Stock Show. Paul is secretary of the Panhandle 4-H Club.

Edward has been the most outstanding boy in feeding and exhibiting Chester White breeding hogs in the Sears Foundation Demonstration. His gilt was judged Carson County champion in 1943 and the Sears bear that he fed last year was judged second in the Amarillo Store Area. Edward is president of the White Deer 4-H Club.

Dust Bowl May Be Reaped on Plains

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton D. Anderson warns the nation that a banking wheat surplus and another horrifying Dust Bowl may be reaped from the disastrous plow-up now stripping the sod from the Great Plains.

"Unless a miracle of weather and economic cycles intervenes," he declares, "what we are doing in the Western Great Plains today is nothing short of soil murder and financial suicide."

In an article in the September issue of Country Gentleman, the Agriculture head says that the frantic rush to capture some of the profits of high-priced wheat "closely follows the pattern of the disastrous plow-up after World War I—a wheat boom that gave us first a bankrupting surplus and then a horrifying Dust Bowl."

The Secretary emphasizes that many farmers have remembered the depression, surplus and drought, and have not joined in the reckless plow-up of the thin land. He places the blame mostly on the "sultane farmer"—the speculator who farms on the fly, who lives in a "nice big house" in the city and comes to his Plains land only for brief planting and harvesting periods.

Mr. Anderson continues:

"Please don't misunderstand me. The United States and a world that is short of bread have needed and vitally—all of the great wheat crops our farmers have produced. Wheat growers have done a remarkable war and post-war job. But the hard facts of today are warning not to overexpand, and certainly not at the expense of our soils. We are at or very near the peak demand for wheat; we have reached our capacity for transporting grain to seaports; our foreign customers are reaching the limit of their dollars for purchase of our wheat."

"What is happening on the Plains today is of direct concern to everyone in the nation. It is easy to make a Dust Bowl, if the weather turns dry; it is easy to build up staggering wheat surpluses, if the weather continues unusually wet. But restoring a Dust Bowl or handling an unwieldy wheat surplus is neither easy nor cheap. We all may not share in the get-rich-quick profits, but we certainly will get the bill."

Approximately 500 hunters are killed and 3,000 injured annually in the United States.

We cannot impose our freedom upon other nations. But we can make freedom obtainable for all men by our ability to control our own destiny and remain free.—Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander, Army Air Forces.

Canadian Rotary Has Rural-Urban Meeting

CANADIAN. (Special) — "Texas Tech and Texas Agriculture" was the subject of W. L. Stangel, guest speaker at the annual Rural-Urban meeting of the Canadian Rotary Club Tuesday night when approximately 150 farmers and ranchers met with the Rotarians for a steak fry "with all the trimmings." The meeting and program were staged at the high school football field.

Preceding the principal address was the presentation of a plaque to Harvey Donnell as the outstanding conservation farmer in the Hemphill Soil Conservation District. Donnell was chosen for this honor because of his sincere interest and initiative in carrying out a soil conservation program on his land. He has done all of the construction work himself which includes 21 acres of windbreak, 3 ponds, and 14 miles of terraces.

The "Save the Soil and Save Texas" program was sponsored by the Fort Worth Press. The plaque, which is awarded to the outstanding conservation farmer in each Soil Conservation District was furnished by the Fort Worth Lions Club.

Stangel, dean of the department of agriculture at Texas Tech at Lubbock, and a member of the faculty of that college since its beginning in 1925, gave an outline of subjects pertaining to agriculture that are taught at Tech, and stated that a great many Tech students return to farms and ranches in preference to the trades and professions. Other interesting thoughts expressed by Stangel were that Tech does not teach at teaching, but conducts much research and many experiments for the benefit of Texas agriculture, and that Texas is the top ranking producer of cattle, sheep, and Angora wool (mohair), is second in several other items, but is still sadly lacking in heavy producing dairy cows.

In an interesting comparison of the agriculture of the past with the present, and making a prediction for the near future Stangel pointed out that Texas agriculture is highly mechanized and has taken on more of the aspects of industry than ever before. He predicted that mechanization will be further advanced, and that farming and animal husbandry require a combination of many skills and much knowledge without which the farmer can no longer hope to succeed. His only warning to the farmer was that as he pointed out the "mining" of farms and ranches both of their natural resources and of some of their smartest young men who have gone into other industries in the past.

Deane Fletcher, president of the Rotary Club, dismissed the meeting with a promise of another feast next year. Leon Peoples is secretary of the local Rotary.

Chicken-of-Tomorrow May Hail From Texas

COLLEGE STATION.—The Chicken-of-Tomorrow, a meatier bird with juicier drumsticks and whiter meat to delight the national palate, definitely can be developed—and it may be Texas-bred, a Texas A & M poultry specialist predicted today.

His prediction was based on results of the 1947 Texas and Southwestern Chicken-of-Tomorrow contests held this summer at Fort Worth with Texas-bred birds winning four out of the five first places in the regional competition.

"The chickens entered in the state and regional contests had more white meat and were superior in every way to the average cockney of their age," declared P. Z. Beamblossom, A & M Extension Poultryman who is chairman of both the state and regional Chicken-of-Tomorrow committees.

"The next step in the three-year nation-wide contest will be selection by the National Committee of the poultrymen whose chickens will come into the final contest at prizes offered by A & P Food Stores, sponsors of the contest," Beamblossom explained. "The committee is expected to make its selections in the next few months."

Since Texas entries took most of the top places in the regional contest, they will receive first priority from the National Committee for selection for the final contest. Extension Poultryman explained. In order to compete in the finals, an entry must meet the rigid standards set by the committee, which is composed of poultry industry leaders, U. S. Department of Agriculture experts, and representatives of state Agricultural Colleges and Extension Services.

Poultrymen selected for the finals will ship two cases of eggs—720—to a central hatchery somewhere in the U. S. There the eggs will be hatched and the chicks raised, killed and judged under identical conditions by nationally-known experts.

Future Farmers Hold Public Speaking Meet

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP) — Representatives of Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma met here last night in a public speaking contest to determine the regional entrant for the National Future Farmers of America Convention to be held at Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18-22.

The Future Farmers competition was part of a four-day joint session of Louisiana, FFA chapter officers, vocational agriculture teachers and veterans' on-the-farm training instructors, being held at Louisiana State University under the sponsorship of the State Department of Education.

Jerry Lee Gullory, Hesser, represented Louisiana in the contest, while Texas and Oklahoma were represented by Woody Jackson of Lubbock and Donald Holly of Mangum, respectively.

Daily Bread Ration Reduced in France

PARIS.—(AP) — Because of "the deplorable state" of France's grain harvest this year, the government announced today further cuts in the nation's daily bread ration.

A communique issued after the cabinet meeting this morning said the ration will be reduced from 250 grams daily to 200 (approximately six ounces).

Texas Counties Selected for Test As I See It--

By SAM LEWIS VEITCH

It was bound to happen, and now it has. The Third United States Coast Guard District has announced that no ships carrying ammunition will be allowed to come into harbors under its authority without a special permit and only after observing rigid safeguards. This order includes the world's largest port, New York City.

In fact, the whole business started in New York. Two ships loaded with part-cargoes of the touchy fertilizer, which they had picked up in Norfolk, put in at New York for additional cargo before making the ocean crossing. Longshoremen refused to work on the ships without being paid their rates because they said the ships were loaded with a class as "explosive carriers." The fire commissioner for the city went aboard each of the vessels and ordered them out of their berths. One proceeded to Europe without additional cargo, but the other anchored outside the Port proper, and loaded from smaller boats.

The recent blasts in Texas City, Texas, and Brest, France, which were due to nitrate explosions, frightened most seaport authorities in the United States. Loss of life and property was heavy in each incident and they don't want it to happen again. In both cases, the evidence that might have led to fault-finding was so completely blown away that little could be done about investigating the cause. And, whether it was carelessness or not, no city means to leave itself open to such tragedies again, if it can prevent it. So, the new order requiring all precautions used in wartime loading of ammunition and explosives will be used henceforth.

In the Third Coast Guard District, no ship with such a cargo will be allowed to dock in any but an ammunition berth. It may mean more trouble for carriers and farmers who will use the nitrate, but if it saves lives, it's worth it.

NEW PEST CONTROL LAW

The Department of Agriculture will conduct hearings the end of this month in Washington regarding the new Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, which Congress passed in June. The new law replaces one enacted in 1910. Because so many new products have come out in recent years, the old law had become outdated.

The new law provides a much greater measure of control over the composition of such things as spray materials, bug killers, weed killers and rat poisons. It will concern itself with the labels on such products, and how they will be marketed. The public will thus be protected against unscrupulous concerns which make claims they can't back up.

The hearings will be open to anyone who wishes to be heard, and the new law will be explained to everyone attending. Pest control products, such as insecticides and other contraptions, are already under the new law, but rat poisons and such products will not be affected until the end of December. Insecticide and fungicide spraying materials will not be under the new law until June of next year. This allows manufacturers plenty of time to get their products up to legal specifications.

The new law should mean that you can buy these products without worrying about quality. Modern chemistry has made it much easier to fight farm enemies, but not all manufacturers have been honest in what they present the public. The new law will take care of that.

FARM OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Let's take a moment out of our serious day-to-day struggle to keep abreast of things, and look at what has already happened to us.

The Department of Agriculture recently released the second edition of a little sheet called "The Agricultural Outlook Digest" which says that the first time in history, more than 60 million Americans are gainfully employed. This means 60 million regular pay checks are going into American homes. With more people having money to spend than ever before—good business should continue for the farm.

That makes the farm prices outlook very promising. Strong demand, plus slightly smaller crops this year—that is, the overall prospect for the farm is bright.

So, while it's good to be careful, a thought or two about how good things really are now will perhaps take your mind off your worries long enough to let you catch your breath.

Advance Students To Study in U. S. Beginning September

A Rockefeller Foundation grant has been awarded the Escuela Agrícola Panamericana in Honduras in recognition of its continued achievement in agricultural education, according to the Middle America Information Bureau.

Tendered by the Foundation to provide advanced training to the school's graduates at colleges and universities in the United States, the grant will be available for a three-year period, totals $7,500, and is limited to a maximum of $3,000 per year. It will enable advanced students from the school to learn American agricultural methods which they may bring back as an aid toward developing their own country's rural areas.

According to Dr. Wilson Popenco, the School's Director, two students have already been selected to be sent to the United States for the term beginning in September.

Founded and endowed by United Fruit Company in 1941 for the purpose of teaching Middle American farm youth modern agricultural methods, the Escuela Agrícola Panamericana (Pan American School of Agriculture) is now in its fifth scholastic year with an enrollment of 157 students representing twelve different Latin American countries. The current class, with an enrollment of 70 students, is the largest since the School was founded.

In addition to a three year period of combined practical and classroom training in advanced agriculture, with stress on tropical crops and special courses in rural engineering and administration, students learn to speak, read and write English.

Louisiana's Grain Production Rains Second to Texas

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP) — Louisiana's gain of 109,247 in population since the 1940 census was second only to Texas among South Central States.

D. Y. Smith, director of the Department of Commerce and Industry, said he was advised by the U. S. Department of the census that Louisiana's population now is 2,519,529 persons.

Texas showed a gain of 544,657, an increase of 8.5 percent as compared to Louisiana's 5.6 percent increase, Smith said.

Population of New Orleans is 602,000, he said, up 11 percent from April 1940.

Fish can be kept fresh for three months by means of a process of brain freezing perfected in England.

State Farm Youths In Produce Contest

AMHERST, Mass.—Young vegetable growers from four counties in Texas have enrolled in the seventh annual National Junior Vegetable Growers association production-marketing contest. Professor Grant B. Snyder, of Massachusetts State College, Association adult advisor announced today.

These young growers are competing with other young growers from 43 states for a share of the $6,000 scholarship fund provided annually for the Association by A & P Food Stores. The awards include a $500 national championship, four $200 regional awards, thirty-three sectional awards of $100 each and four awards of $10 each in each state.

The contest seeks to demonstrate to young people efficient production and marketing methods. Winners are decided on the basis of the contestant's efforts on studies of production and marketing, vegetable projects and community activities. Awards are made annually at the Association's convention which this year will be held at Jackson, Miss., December 11, 12 and 13.

Among those enrolled from Texas in the 1947 contest are: Frank E. Serviere of McAllen; Clarence W. Germents of Edinburg; Doris M. Frater of Lubbock; Don Teer and Jesse J. Ryno, both of Wortham; and Dickie M. Roberts of South Broadway.

TEXAS COUNTIES SELECTED FOR TEST

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is going to conduct a federal wheat insurance experiment during the coming crop year, and thirteen counties in Texas have been selected to be "check plots" in the test.

Over 1200 counties in the United States that had wheat insurance this year were dropped when Congress set a 200-county limit for the whole country. The way the insurance deal pans out in those 200 counties in the coming year will largely decide the future of federal wheat insurance.

Texas counties on the list of 200 include Collin, Castro, Deaf Smith, Denton, Floyd, Grayson, Hale, Jones, Knox, Runnels, Swisher, Taylor and Young.

Gus Geisler, who sits up in Washington at the head of USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, says the selection of those counties was a very tough job. Each one had to be representative of a wheat producing area, where the grain was an important source of income to the county. Agriculture committees of Congress hinted that they would like to see Federal Crop Insurance expand when the program looks entirely successful.

Geisler says it is now up to these select counties, and the Insurance Corporation, to prove the worth of wheat insurance.
