Lets Pampanos Ask Their Pet Questions

By T. D. ELLIS Quizzing Cameraman

"Do you have a pet question you would like to ask our elected officials, but never quite got around to it?" This week we did a turn-around. We supposed that people sometimes get tired of others asking all the questions and would like to ask a few themselves. So we decided to ask them to sound off. We found they were inclined more to answer questions than ask them.

However, 10 persons posed the following questions: George Nash, 706 N. Gray, shoe salesman: "When is the Administration going to lower income taxes; how will the cut come about; and which political party will push the cut?"

Mrs. W. A. Breining, 436 N. Ballard, housewife: "I would like to know what local officials think of the elections returns over the nation. Will a democratic-controlled House and Senate make for better government? How is it that this time all 11 amendments passed and heretofore there was always one or ore that failed?"

Edward Furan, 601 E. Harvester, cemetery superintendent: "When are county and state officials going to wake up and pass laws banning trade stamps in Texas as they have in other states? I think they are a public nuisance. Do merchants realize the customer never gets the benefit of them?"

Miss Luetta Julian, 471 1/2 W. Francis, fountain clerk: "Why does the military keep some servicemen overseas longer than they do others? I know a fellow who has been over since 1952, and since who have gone and returned since he left. It just doesn't seem fair."

Bill Carter, 405 Purviance, insurance salesman: "Why do the police give people from out of town parking tickets the same as local people? I feel they should be given courtesy tickets which extends to them an invitation to come back to Pampa again."

Miss Myrna Higginbotham, 615 Sloan, student: "When is the voting age for women going to be lowered to 18? Is there any one at present pushing legislation to that end? I think men and women are mature enough at 18 to vote."

Aaron Russell White Deer farmer: "When are we going to let the 18 year olds vote? If they are old enough to fight for their country they are old enough to have a little say-so in their government."

Monta Patton, 921 S. Banks, student: "Is the city, state, and county still making plans to construct an underpass on the railroad tracks on S. Hobart? When will it be completed and where will the money come from?"

Ronnie James, 510 Schneider, student: "Why can't the 18 year olds vote? We have been talking about it in school a lot and I can't see why they can't vote if the government can draft and send them overseas to fight our wars."

Joyce Burke, 429 N. Starkweather, WAF: "After a person has been served a warrant and paid the fine can that same warrant be served again, and does it have to be paid the second time?"

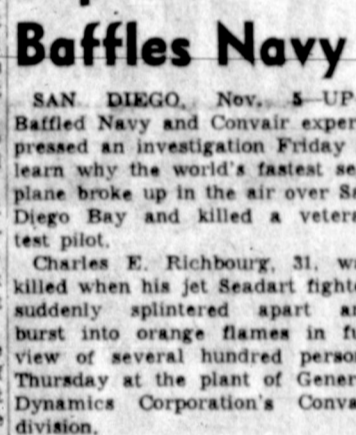

I'll be back next Friday with my regular question of the week. If it comes from a Hardware Store we have it. Lewis Wade. Adv

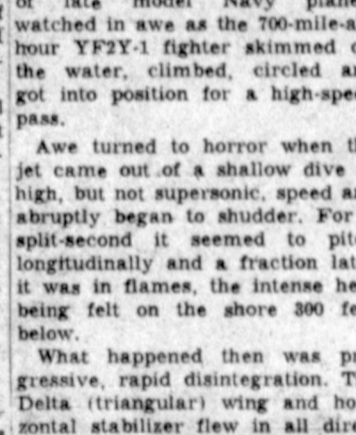

GEORGE NASH "Who lowers taxes?"

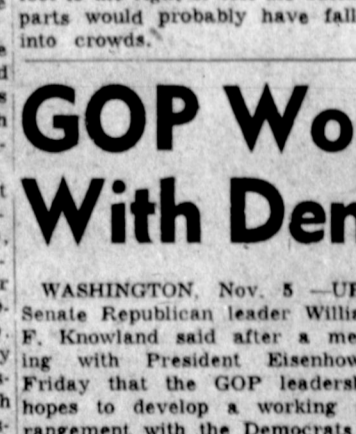

MISS LUETTA JULIAN "How long overseas?"

MISS MYRNA HIGGINBOTHAM "When is the voting age for women going to be lowered to 18?"

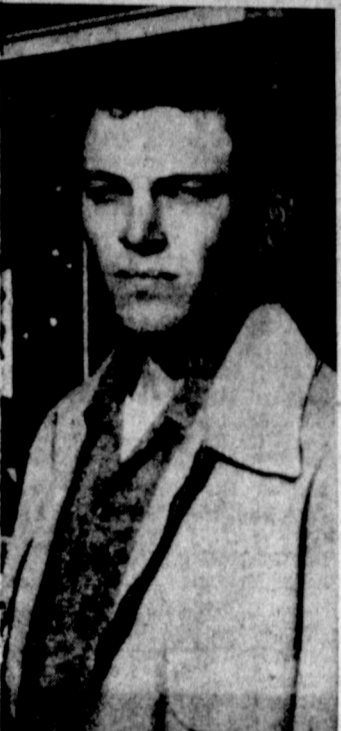

AARON RUSSELL "No vote, no fight."

BILL CARTER "Why do the police give people from out of town parking tickets the same as local people?"

AF SECRETARY TALBOT: Planes are only as good as the men.

AF Chief's Temper Warms Up Morale

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The other day Secretary of the Air Force Harold G. Talbot strode into his office waving a letter, obviously in an advanced state of irritation. Despite a neat, conservative business suit, a carefully-clipped mustache and other marks of restrained dignity, Talbot still looks like a tough guy with a temper, and his temper was showing at the moment.

"This tops everything," he shouted, "imagining this guy writing a letter saying that airmen had no need to buy refrigerators and toasters."

Aides buzzed around him trying to soothe the ruffie.

"I tell you what I'm going to do," he stormed, "I'm going to denounce this guy by name in my next speech, and don't think I'm afraid to do it."

Talbot had just come out of a meeting on post exchange problems in which this letter from a private merchandising outfit had been read, complaining about unfair competition. Talbot hit the ceiling because it struck a raw nerve. Trying to improve morale and living conditions in his service has become a fetish with him.

He literally pounds the table when he says, "We can build the best airplanes in the world but they're only as good as the men who maintain and fly them."

"And I propose to do everything possible to make the Air Force a popular service and one that is sought after by the best young men in the country," he adds.

This could be public relations talk. But it happens that Talbot is dead serious about morale and is personally attacking the problem at all levels, as the government expression goes.

One of Talbot's aides opened the right bottom drawer of the Secretary's desk. "Read a few of these and get an idea of some of the problems he handles personally," he said.

The one on top was from a colored lad who had been in a college AF ROTC program, but who had dropped out of school because of finances. He had tried to enlist in the Air Force but was having difficulty doing it because of a technicality in the regulations. Talbot personally eliminated the technicality.

Another letter was from the wife of a sergeant in Germany. Her husband had gotten his transfer orders and they had shipped all their possessions back to States and given up their house. But his orders were suddenly cancelled and the whole family had to move into a hotel, at great expense.

Talbot sent a personal order cancelling the cancellation, allowing the sergeant to move on as planned.

The Secretary has soaked up an awful lot of first-hand knowledge about the gripes of airmen, officers and wives from visits to close to 200 bases. He has learned that about 50 per cent of all the irritations are of the type which the service itself can cure, and has done something about them.

At an Air Force base in Ohio he first heard an airman gripe about always being busted at the end of the month and running into debt. After collecting more evidence on that complaint Talbot

Davenport Acquitted In Kidnaping

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 5—UP—Norman Davenport was acquitted Thursday of kidnap charges during his escape from the Granite State Reformatory after he testified he bribed a prison employee.

Davenport, 26, of Wichita Falls, Tex., testified he gave Luther Brooks, whom he was accused of kidnaping, $1,000 to permit his escape. He said Brooks supplied a gun with which he apparently held Brooks at bay during the escape. Brooks no longer is employed at the reformatory.

Prosecutor Jack Saseen said Davenport would be tried next April on charges of escape and armed robbery. But there was some doubt if he would be tried

Neighbors Find Business Good

DALLAS, Nov. 5—UP—Business was good in Texas and Louisiana last month, just as it was in September, the Southwestern Purchaser Magazine said Friday.

The magazine, in a bi-state survey, said prices were firm and steady, as inventories continued to decrease. Employment was reported strong, especially in the Texas Panhandle where migratory farm labor increased the number of jobholders.

Political Battle Lines Forming Along Potomac

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—UP—Political battle lines were forming Friday on the domestic policy front as key Democrats began to whop it up for a new look at government spending, taxing, farm and power programs.

More of that is to come. Anyone in or out of the White House who expects during the next two years other than a no-holds-barred wrestle for partisan votes in 1956 is likely to be wounded with disappointment.

The honeymoon, if any, between the Eisenhower administration and the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress will be one of strange bed fellows and it will be brief.

Strategy Takes Shape

White House strategy to meet a situation which has plagued three of the last previous six Presidents began taking shape in a conference Friday between Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and President Eisenhower.

Knowland was booked along with Maj. Gen. Willton B. Persons, Mr. Eisenhower's legislative liaison chief. Persons will have his hands full during the next two years trying to keep administration policy moving in the Democratic House and Senate.

Knowland said the division of political leadership for the next two years presents a "very difficult problem" that calls for a "high degree of statesmanship."

Plane Hunt Abandoned

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—UP—The Navy has abandoned the search for survivors from a transport plane that crashed in the Atlantic Ocean with 42 persons aboard.

Vice Adm. Laurance T. DuBose, commander of the Eastern Sea Frontier, said the search for the missing Super Constellation was being called off "due to extreme weather conditions."

The plane took off from Patuxent, Md., for the Azores and Africa last Sunday. It was last heard from 90 minutes later when it was approximately 480 miles at sea.

More than 300 planes and 30 ships joined in the search for the missing plane.

In calling off the hunt DuBose said "every part of the area was covered in the course of the all-out search."

Chamber Group Going To Dumas

Chamber of Commerce manager E. O. Wedgeworth and his office staff will attend the fall work conference of the Chamber of Commerce Managers Association of West Texas Monday in Dumas.

The chamber office will remain open. Wedgeworth said.

Office staff members who will attend are Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Iris Ragdale and Mrs. Mary Ann McCloskey.

Delbert Downing, Midland, president of the West Texas Association, will preside at the one-day session.

Three Escape Death In C-119

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5—UP—Only the pilot, who received minor bruises, was injured Thursday when a C-119 "Flying Boxcar" crashed after taking off from Randolph Air Force Base.

Capt. E. T. Morrow, the pilot from Frankfort, Ky., said one engine raced out of control immediately after the takeoff, and he had to come down in a field five miles from the base because he couldn't get altitude enough to swing back to the field.

Two other men were aboard. One Lt. A. C. Foster, a student pilot from University City, Mo., and S. Sgt. J. A. Ryan, crew chief, of Altoona, Penn.

ordered that all men in the service be paid twice a month.

"I'm sure this'll end the silly business of having to stretch a single pay check over a 30-day period," he says.

At a reception at an AF base in the west he overheard a mother complain because her husband was being transferred in the middle of her children's school semester. After a deeper look into that one he has now ordered a policy on all AF Force transfers to avoid this conflict as much as possible.

He has worked just as vigorously getting Congress to do its part to improve life in the Air Force. He has helped to still Congressional complaint about extra flight-pay. And he talked the legislators into raising the re-enlistment bonus from $1440 to $2000.

He's going to work on new legislation of the same nature when Congress comes back to town.

His big concern in this regard is housing.

"Men's families have got to have decent places to live and the men in barracks have got to have good, comfortable quarters if they are going to want to stay in the service," he says.

As a parting shot he adds: "And I bet when we get the improvements we have made in living conditions have made the divorce rate in the Air Force lower than in any service, too."

Crop Acreage Allotments Announced

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—UP—The Agriculture Department has announced state acreage allotments for the 1955 upland cotton crop.

The allotments, broken down from a total national planting limit of 18,113,208 acres, will be further broken down into allotments for individual farms under the federal crop control program.

The national allotment for 1954 was 21,379,358 acres, but only 19,927,800 acres were reported actually in cultivation last July 1.

Allotments for 1954 and 1955 (First figure for 1954):

Arkansas 1,847,036; 1,529,704.
Louisiana 780,436; 688,442.
New Mexico 218,942; 182,194.
Oklahoma 1,098,283; 872,532.
Texas 8,719,178; 7,612,779.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson recently proclaimed marketing quotas for the 1955 cotton crop. Cotton growers will vote on a referendum on Dec. 14 to decide whether to accept these rigid controls for the second straight year.

If two-thirds or more of the farmers voting approve quotas, they will take effect and the government will provide price supports for the crop at close of the current rate—90 per cent of the "fair income" parity level. If quotas are disapproved, support would drop to 50 per cent of parity.

JayCees Plan For Convention

Tentative plans Thursday night were made for the Junior Chamber of Commerce bi-regional convention, scheduled Feb. 5-6 in Pampa.

Bob Parkinson, chairman of the Pampa JayCees' bi-regional convention committee, today announced what the plans were.

Registration will begin at 10 a. m. Feb. 5 in the Pampa Hotel, Parkinson said. There will be entertainment at 1 p. m. and from 5 to 7:30 p. m. candidates for regional vice president (present one: Jack Allen, Perryton) will hold "hospitality hours."

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p. m. Feb. 5 and there will be dance at the Sportsman's Club from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., complete with floor show.

A devotional will be held at 9 a. m. Feb. 6 in the Pampa High School. Business sessions and clinics will be held from 9:30 a. m. till noon when luncheon will be served.

Rocky Ford, Texas JayCee president, will speak at 12:30 p. m., following the meal. The afternoon will feature the election of a regional vice president and committee reports.

State Warms Up Slightly

BY UNITED PRESS

Texas weather warmed up a bit Friday after temperatures dropped as low as 23 degrees during the night at Junction.

Heavy frost was reported in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and extended south to nearly as far as Waco.

Some rain fell along the coastal area Thursday, but skies cleared late in the day and were mostly clear over the state Friday. Some high clouds still remained in the coastal area, but weren't expected to produce any moisture.

Brownville and Corpus Christi both received .03 of an inch of rain, while traces were recorded along the upper coast.

Several other sub-freezing overnight temperature readings were recorded, including 28 at San Angelo, Lubbock and Dalhart, and 29 at Salt Flat. Other temperatures included Wink and Mineral Wells 32, Fort Worth and Dallas 35, Amarillo and Abilene 34, Childress and College Station 35, Tyler and Del Rio 36, San Antonio 37, Austin 39, Houston 41, Laredo 43, Galveston 45, Corpus Christi 48 and Brownsville 51.

A Chesterfield collar on a tweed coat is a womanly contrast of rough and smooth textures. It's a good winter coat that will go almost anywhere.

Cabinet Talk Due At Class For Aliens

Mrs. Beverly Brandt Ross tonight speaks on "The President's Cabinet" at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Lions Club Americanization class.

Meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. in the Sam Houston School and will feature a new class member, Mrs. Ruth E. Mayberry, of Germany, according to Homer Craig, course director.

Four class members have submitted their papers to the U. S. Office of Immigration and Naturalization, Lubbock, Craig said. They are Mrs. Pat Bissell, a Canadian; Mrs. Helen Bristler, a Belgian; and Mrs. Martin Lantau and Mrs. Eva Marie Cash, both Germans. The papers have been returned for additional information and these four future citizens plan to complete and return them as soon as possible.

The present class will end Dec. 17, Craig pointed out. Those who are eligible figure on being examined for citizenship in Federal Court, Amarillo, in February.

Mainly About People

Thomas J. Wylie Succumbs Today

Thomas J. Wylie, 83-year-old retired farmer, died early today at Highland General Hospital after an illness of three months. He made his home at 1712 N. Hobart.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Duenkel-Carmichael Chapel, with Rev. Ennis Hill, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery beside his wife, Mary, who died in 1942.

Born in Eusk County, Aug. 9, 1871, he was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Joe M. Baker, Hedley, and Mrs. A. B. Ivey, Clarendon; seven sons, M. M., O. E., C. A., and T. J. Jr., all of Pampa; W. S. of Brownsville; R. A., Richmond, Calif.; and O. O., Stockton, Kan.; 29 grandchildren, and 90 great-grandchildren.

Britain's Queen Mother To Dine With President Friday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—UP—The nation's capital Friday planned entertainment fit for a queen—visiting Queen Mother Elizabeth of England.

A plush press reception at Washington's Statler hotel and a private White House dinner were on Friday's schedule for the mother of Great Britain's reigning Queen Elizabeth II.

The widow of King George VI spent her first night in Washington at the White House after attending a formal dinner there in her honor Thursday night. At the affair, the queen mother sat between President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower as old friends.

The President beamed and said, "your majesty, it's wonderful to see you again." Mr. Eisenhower also gave a warm welcome to two of her ladies in waiting whom he had met previously.

The queen mother was escorted to the White House by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who met her at the airport along with the ambassadors of the British commonwealth nations. A swarm of children also were on hand to greet her with bows, curtsies and handshakes.

Sooner Press Box 'Open' To UP Woman Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 5—UP—Although the University of Oklahoma has a "no women allowed" rule for its football press box, the rule would be overlooked if Faye Loyd of United Press applied for admission.

This was the word Friday from Harold Keith, Oklahoma sports publicity man who operates a press box described by many football writers as the finest in the nation.

Keith said Oklahoma's ban on women in the press box has never been rigidly enforced. His Secretary, Mrs. Addie Lee Barker, has a desk in the three-story glass-front "press palace" here.

Mrs. Barker works there during each Sooner home game.

"Our rule has had the effect of barring visitors who had nothing to do in the press box," Keith said. "If Miss Loyd would like to cover a game here, she would be more than welcome."

Other women admitted to Oklahoma's press box include women who operate the food bar, where all working newsmen in the box can find plenty of free eating before, during and after each game, and women telegraph operators.

Nevertheless, Oklahoma's press box tickets will continue to be stamped, "no women or children allowed."

"It's been a good rule because the writers don't like guests," Keith said. "And although they don't like guests, everyone wants to bring his wife at some time or other. The rule prevents that."

The wonderful variety of campus wear makes the blue jeans of yesterday seem ever more dreary. This time it's knickers in wool tweed, worn with a middy-blouse. Nice with the high socks, but possible without, too.

News 'Gives' JP Claborn Extra Term

When you mix your county commissioner precincts and your justice of the peace precincts, you're in trouble.

That's the trouble The Pampa Daily News found itself in today, after running a story Thursday stating that Justice of the Peace J. C. Claborn would serve four years, beginning Jan. 1.

A new amendment to the Texas Constitution, approved Tuesday by the voters, states that justices of the peace in even-numbered precincts Jan. 1 would begin four-year terms, and that JP's in odd-numbered precincts would only be two-year ones and would have to run again in 1956 to get four-year terms.

Claborn is in Prec. 4, all right; but it's County Commissioner Prec. 4. He is in Justice of the Peace Prec. 5, an odd-numbered precinct. Therefore, he will only serve for two years, beginning Jan. 1.

All Cleveland Is Discussing Dr. Sam

CLEVELAND, Nov. 5—UP—This, as the cop named Friday says on TV, is the city. This is the place where a million and a half people all know and talk about one man whose name is just plain Sam.

That's what they call him. The people in the hotel lobbies, on the buses, in the restaurants and bars need no other identifying name.

Nor do the newspapers. "Will Tell Sam's Divorce Talk," says the headlines. "Sam" in "Tears...Bars Sam's Family...Calls Dr. Sam Love Slayer...State Asks Death for Sam."

He is accused of "unlawfully, purposely, and of deliberate and premeditated malice" slaying his wife. And the indictment that so charges, as read in court by the state's prosecutor, identifies him as plain "Sam H. Sheppard."

Since Mrs. Sheppard was murdered last July 4 and particularly since Sam was arrested on a murder warrant on July 30, they tell you here, his case has been topic No. 1 for conversation.

This is the village...suburban Bay Village where Sam and his wife Marilyn lived and where she died. The families are of upper middle class income. The homes are nice but far from approaching the estate class.

Having just squeaked over the 5,000 population mark in the last census, it now qualifies under Ohio law as a city. Its official name now is "The City of the Village of Bay."

Three miles east of Sam's home—and 11 miles west of the Cleveland courthouse where Sam is being tried—is "Bay View hospital" operated by Sam, his father, and his two brothers. All are osteopaths who, under Ohio law, may practice medicine. Sam is a qualified surgeon, who has specialized in neurosurgery and brain operations.

This is the courtroom...six hang-

STRAW IS LIFTED BEFORE IT BROKE A CULPRIT'S BACK

OAKLAND, Calif. — UP — William J. Swift, 38, admitted in court Monday he failed to heed 12 traffic tickets.

He paid $480. bail. As he walked from the courtroom he was handed 16 more warrants from near-by San Francisco. Swift paid another $190.

As he started to leave the second time police officer William Mestrovich handed him a $5 warrant from Alameda, then suddenly took it back.

"Be my guest," Mestrovich said.

Builder Gives House Guarantee

DALLAS Nov. 5 — UP — A house building company has promised the Veterans Administration that it will repair 21 GI homes which Senate investigators came a year.

from Washington to Dallas to inspect. J. D. Brown, vice president of the house building company, The Brown Organisation, said the company has promised writing not only to repair the 21 homes but to guarantee them for six of the 21 need complete new foundations.

The company built 82 homes in the addition the investigators inspected. They found that 21 of the 82 homes need repairs and that six of the 21 need complete new foundations.

The investigators are on the committee of Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.). As a result of their investigation, he may start a full-dress committee investigation of housing under the GI bill in Dallas.

June Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

THE ELECTION IS OVER, but I still hear talk of politics. All in all, I think it's very interesting. Sometimes I think we take it for granted — being able to argue our political beliefs. It certainly gives you a jolt when you think of how many places in the world people can't do it. Elections are merely a form — if they have any — and the outcome is predetermined before the polling. I think we should all give a special prayer of Thanksgiving that we have a real voice in our government . . . and I am deadly serious.

ONE OF THE MOST interesting issues of the election was the amendment for jury service for women. Now that it has passed, another interesting sidelight has appeared in Potter County, according to a news release I received.

AMARILLO, Nov. 5—UP—The Potter county court house is perhaps the only one in Texas with facilities for women jurors. When the court house was built in 1931, county officials thought even then that some day women would be permitted on juries, so it included a women's jury dormitory, complete with shower facilities.

The space has been used by various county and state offices and is now occupied by the State Welfare Agency. County Auditor Boone Mowland said the welfare agency will move and with only a little remodeling the dormitory will be ready for women jurors.

I'm not taking sides, but I heard an interesting conversation the other day, after the election, between two women. One said she still didn't want the privilege of sitting on a jury. The other woman replied: "I don't think it's a privilege. It's a duty."

One of the cutest comments came before the election. In answer to a statement that women wouldn't know what to do on a jury, a woman said: "Neither does a woman know what to do with her first baby. But she learns."

TODAY I'M SUPPOSED to talk about beauty. It brings to mind a conversation Nick and I had about a friend the other day. We decided that although he was far from good looking, after you knew him, you thought he was very good looking . . . it was what he was that made the difference.

That is also true about women, I believe. What if you don't have the physical characteristics of a beauty queen? People will remember the beauty of your personality far longer than beauty of feature. My aunt, whom I think is a wonderful lady with a wonderful philosophy of life, always says that no matter what someone else has or can do, you have and can do at least one thing better. We all

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend,
Perhaps other parents have been troubled with a problem similar to mine, but I cannot decide what to do for the best. I would greatly appreciate your views and advice.

Until recently there was a four-year-old girl on our block who constantly went around lifting her dress and showing herself to all the other children.

My two are both under four, and naturally they thought it was cute and began to imitate her. Her mother never corrected her, and I kept after mine all the time.

However, they saw that she went unpunished and so my scolding went unheeded.

Now that the girl has moved my girl and boy, two and four, play "doctor" as they saw her do.

Grace, if I make too much fuss over this, will it instill a natural resistance and determination to continue or will it make them curious.

They have just begun to notice the difference in their bodies and I don't want them to begin exploring as many youngsters do. How can I stop this without making things worse?

A WORRIED MOTHER

Dear Worried Mother
Have several interesting and entertaining schemes ready to present to your children the next time they start playing games you consider harmful.

It is better to distract their thoughts at the age than to make the incident important by too much fussing and scolding.

As young as they are, they should soon forget about it if you lead them into other paths.

Buy a game or two that is simple enough for them to understand and bring them out when you want to turn their minds to other things. Or bring an exciting (for them) new book and suggest that you read to them for a while. Produce a new ball (a large bouncy rubber one, for example) and you will find that they would much rather chase it than continue their other game.

I am sure that you can change the course of their "games" within a week or two by this method whereas if you punish them you will only emphasize the things you want them to forget.

You will have to put up with a certain amount of "exploration" as they grow older as it is a person's natural stage for them to go through. Curiosity is a healthy characteristic and naturally it tends in every direction. If you don't treat it casually no harm will result.

have our "specialties" which are as good as anyone else's. Can't help it, I'm feeling philosophical today.

HERE'S AN ARTICLE on new hair styles by Constance Charm. A dramatic note of glamour is featured in the new hair fashion trend, the Americano, created by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. This exciting new hair fashion introduces the "kissable neck line" and the "plateau top."

Definitely out of the coiffure picture are the Italian Boy cut and other shaggy and careless hair styles, according to the Official Hair Fashion Committee, which is the foremost hair fashion authority in the United States. The accent now is on careful grooming and femininity, keyed to high fashion, high drama and high color.

Three new influences dominate the new Americano. First, the temple line is the high line. There is a lift at the temples, with the hair swept up and back from the face in a slightly bouffant effect, and then brought forward again to cover the ear from the back.

Second, there is a highly feminine treatment given to the back of the head, with hair moving in wavy lines of definite flair. Featured is a flatter top, resembling a plateau, which can have many variations.

The coiffure tapers from the "plateau" towards the nape where it is never more than two inches in length, frequently less. This is the "kissable neck line," a high collar length designed to complement the full silhouette of the figure, and accommodate the face-framing collar of the new coats and low-haired furs.

The over-all length of the hair ranges from two to five inches. This is a short hair length, especially at the nape line, where no hair is allowed to touch or drape over clothes.

Third, the colors of the new coiffures for the Fall and Winter seasons are highly exotic. This is a high fashion note designed to either harmonize or contrast with the brilliant stained glass window tones of the new clothes. For the charcoal and smoke shades of clothing, vivid coiffure colors achieve a crowning note of brilliance for the complete silhouette.

Among the new colors, platinum turns to tints of topaz, blond coiffures edge towards tints of pink champagne, yesterday's redheads verge toward a smouldering oriental ruby. Silver favors moonlight or orchid mist, brunettes have a choice of black diamond, star sapphire, or amethyst tones. The entire color range varies from a pink strawberry tone, to ripe mango, through teal lime, to varied shades of purple as deep in shade as the eggplant.

Voters Reject Partisan Type Election Bids

AUSTIN, Nov. 5—Sen. Lyndon Johnson, one of two Texans who will lead the Democratic majorities in the 84th Congress, says the only clear thing about Tuesday's election was the voters' rejection of "extreme partisan appeals."

"The American people rejected extreme partisan appeals," Johnson said Wednesday, "and voted on a highly selective basis."

"That places a burden upon members of both parties in the Congress to put their country above partisan considerations and to act upon the highest principles of statesmanship."

Johnson said he and Rep. Sam Rayburn, Fourth District congressman who will be Speaker of the House, "assured the President early in October, in a telegram to which we have had no acknowledgment or reply, that we would continue to co-operate with him in the interest of preserving our nation, regardless of the outcome of the election. Those assurances still stand."

"The security of the United States and the future of our people should not be imperiled by partisanship. The Democrats will not do so," Johnson said.

Lost 67 Pounds With Barcontrate

Mrs. Jim Andrews, Box 441, Childress, Texas, wrote us as follows: "Since taking Barcontrate, I feel better than I have in 10 years. I reduced from 263 pounds to 196 and I shall continue to take Barcontrate until my weight corresponds with my height and health chart." Peggy Garner, 337 Milton Drive, El Paso, Texas, states that she lost 12 pounds taking Barcontrate and that her weight is now just the way she wants it to be. If the very first bottle of Barcontrate, doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back. At all Texas drugstores.

Harlingen Orders Dogs Kept Leashed

HARLINGEN, Tex., Nov. 5—UP—The city of Harlingen, put into effect Thursday an ordinance requiring dog owners to keep their pets penned up or on a leash for the next two weeks. The ordinance resulted from a rabies outbreak. The city veterinarian, Dr. W. J. Tomlinson, reported to the city commission that a dog which bit a patrolman last week had turned out to be rabid. He estimated the dog had also bitten 20 to 30 other dogs.

"These are the only dogs which we definitely know were bitten by the rabid dog. There may be others we do not know of," Mayor C. A. Washmon said.

The ordinance provides fines of up to $200 for letting dogs run loose.

"Right now is the time to go to work to prevent a shocking epidemic," Washmon said, "and I bespeak from every pet owner thorough co-operation in keeping pets under control for 14 days."

"SANCTUARY" FOR RED BUILD-UP? Map shows relationship of Amoy area on Red-held mainland to Nationalist-held outposts on Quemoy and to Chiang Kai-shek's island stronghold, Formosa.

Are Reds Poised For Big Assault?

By EDWARD R. KENNEDY
NEA Special Correspondent

TAIPEH — (NEA) — Are the Chinese Reds building up for their assault upon Nationalist-held islands in another "Yalu sanctuary?"

Some Americans and some Chinese on Formosa will tell you that's the result of an alleged U.S. State Department "take it easy" policy in the Amoy area.

That's the port area opposite Formosa where the Reds are reported preparing a big amphibious assault upon Quemoy Island. Restrictions imposed upon the Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist air force are said to be stringent.

The situation is compared to the State Department wraps which kept the U.S. Air Force from bombing Red military bases just across the Yalu River from Korea.

Asserting that this was sure to be denied by both the U.S. and Formosa governments, one informant said:

"They are only going to let us put out the fire after it has started."

Limited scouting flights are now permitted but these are said to be insufficient in number to give the Nationalists the complete picture of the Red Chinese invasion build-up.

Intelligence reports during this critical period are running two weeks behind.

Chinese Air Force morale had been running high until recent action against invasion junks and shore stations petered out.

Observers here wonder how the offshore islands, close under the artillery of Mao Tse Tung, can be defended if the Red buildup isn't dealt a shattering blow soon.

This pessimism does not extend to Formosa itself. Invasion assault here seems unlikely, although the probability of air raids is anticipated with calm fortitude.

Defense arrangements are in good order. When unidentified planes are picked up on the radar screen the blackout is total. There is no massing of military targets.

Some circles believe the recent

Collins Visit For 'Prestige'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 —UP— Gen. J. Lawton Collins, one of the nation's top soldier-diplomats, flew to Indo-China Thursday in an attempt to give a "psychological boost" to the tottering government of free Viet Nam.

President Eisenhower dispatched the former Army chief of staff on the surprise diplomatic mission Wednesday night to see what help the United States can give to the Viet Nameese to help resolve their "present critical problems."

The urgency of Collins' mission was indicated by the White House statement that Viet Nam, divided into free and Communist halves by the Geneva truce agreement, is "confronted by dangerous forces threatening its independence and security."

Collins, now U.S. representative on the military committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, will "co-ordinate" the operations of all U.S. agencies in that country concerned with military, economic and diplomatic affairs.

Tucson Crash Kills Four, Injures 11

TUSCON, Ariz., Nov. 5—UP— The Air Force Friday identified four airmen killed and 11 injured when a twin-engine military plane crashed and burned while trying an emergency landing at Tucson Municipal Airport.

The dead were identified as 2nd Lt. William G. Ferguson and Robert H. Huckle, 1st Lt. Hugh Simpson Jr. and Capt. Maurice G. Dumont. Their ages and hometowns were not available immediately.

Three seriously injured officers were identified as Charles Murray, 25, Eubank, Ky., Donald Marshall, 21, Fort Salong, Long Island, N. Y., and John A. Hoch, 21, Wilson, Kan. All are second lieutenants.

Less seriously injured were 2nd Lt. Donald G. Worden, Rafael Villalobos, James T. Lattimer, John M. Smart and George S. Stein, 1st Lt. Paul Chester, and E. Sgt. James H. Collins and Dale W. Koester. Ages and hometowns were not yet available.

The plane, a T-28 navigational trainer from Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, reported engine trouble Thursday night almost immediately after taking off from Tucson municipal airport. The pilot radioed that he would attempt to land.

With one engine out, the plane banked and tried to swing onto the busy airport runway but it struck power lines at the edge of the field and burst into flame.

The airport and parts of the city were immediately plunged into darkness. Flames were visible a mile or more from the base.

Attorney Pleads For Lady Jurors

EDINBURG, Tex., Nov. 5—UP— A judge was expected to rule Friday on a lawyer's plea that a jury panel be quashed because it contains no women.

E. L. Lattimore, Pharr, Tex., filed the motion Thursday in behalf of the Rev. Ronnie Pope, Goliad, Tex., preacher charged with criminal libel.

Pope's trial was scheduled to begin today, and a 75-man panel was called. But Lattimore said a constitutional amendment voted on last Tuesday would become effective Nov. 19, and require women to serve on juries.

"The trial will very probably be in progress at that time," Lattimore said, "and the defendant would be deprived of his rights."

At Austin, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said the principal question under study was whether the amendment is self-enacting or will require implementing legislation.

How Europe Reacted To US Election

LONDON, Nov. 5 —UP— European reaction to the American elections drew headlines almost as big as in the United States Wednesday.

Interpretation of the results ranged all the way from a defeat for President Eisenhower to a rebuff for Wisconsin Sen. Joseph McCarthy to forecasts of a change in American foreign policy.

London's afternoon newspaper, the Star, bared "Democrats on way to beating Ike."

"Setback for Eisenhower," Vienna's Neuer Kurier headlined.

Berlin's Machtdenache boldly proclaimed "election sensation in U.S.A. — defeat for Eisenhower."

The Berlin Der Abend said editorially "the loser is named McCarthy."

Paris' France Soir said "the Americans voted against the Republicans in order to defend their standard of living."

'Private School' Amendment Passage In Doubt In Georgia

ATLANTA, Nov. 5 —UP— A "private school" plan backed by Gov. Herman Talmadge and Gov.-elect Marvin Griffin met vigorous resistance among Georgia voters in Tuesday's general election, and its fate remained in doubt pending final returns.

The amendment would permit the Georgia Legislature to make grants of state school money to individuals. It was designed to put public school facilities in areas where segregation is challenged under private operation to avoid compliance with the high court decree.

A 4 a.m. exit tabulation of returns from 875 of the state's 1,903 precincts showed 13,092 votes for the amendment and 13,705 against it.

The "noes" took the lead only in the early hours Wednesday morning after "yes" votes had led night-long. A late swing of big city votes accomplished the switch, but the issue was expected to remain in doubt for many hours.

Talmadge and his gubernatorial successor strongly backed the amendment as the only possible way Georgia can retain segregation in public schools in the face of the Supreme Court decision.

A Louisiana amendment to accomplish the same purpose by making continued segregation a police responsibility was endorsed by a five to one margin. It would make integration efforts a menace to public safety without regard to the racial issue.

Johnny Sain Becomes Alderman

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., Nov. 4 —UP— It's now alderman Johnny Sain, Sain, New York Yankee's veteran pitcher who resides here and operates an automobile agency, was elected an alderman in Tuesday's election with the largest vote of any candidate in the city races.

Shakeup Due In Red Hunting Committees

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 —UP— A possible overhaul of congressional Red-hunting machinery loomed Thursday in the wake of the Democratic election victory that ousted Republicans Joseph R. McCarthy, William E. Jenner and Harold H. Velde from key investigating committee chairmanships.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) will be replaced as chairman of the Senate investigating subcommittee in the 84th Congress by Sen. John L. McClellan, stern-visaged Arkansas Democrat who sat as one of McCarthy's judges in the 36-day televised Army-McCarthy hearings last summer.

Sources close to McClellan said he favors a joint Senate-House committee to investigate Communist activities. He feels his own subcommittee should concentrate on its original mission of checking up on government waste and corruption.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), in line to succeed Velde (R-Ill.) as chairman of the House un-American Activities committee, announced that he favors abolishing that group entirely and transferring its Communist-investigating functions to the House Judiciary committee.

There was no firm word on who would succeed Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) as chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

New Floods Threaten Italy

SALERNO, Italy, Nov. 5 —UP— Night-long rains Thursday threatened to cause new flash floods and landslides like those that killed more than 400 persons in a single night 10 days ago.

Hundreds of residents of the flood-ravaged villages of Salerno provinces again fled their homes as the storm caused minor flooding. But the downpour stopped early Thursday morning and authorities said there was no immediate cause for alarm.

The steady rain cut telephone links between Maiori and Amalfi along the famous Salerno-Sorrento coast.

Just Proves That Women Take Promises Seriously

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 —UP— A young housewife has charged that her husband coaxed his way back into her heart with a story that he had inherited $1 million.

Mrs. Jeanette Illingworth, 21, said she had three happy weeks thinking she was the wife of a millionaire. Then she discovered her husband was still making only $80 a week.

Mrs. Illingworth's attorneys, Joseph H. and Norman Becker, told her story Wednesday in superior court as they demanded support from Walter Illingworth III.

Last Sept. 15, they said, Mrs. Illingworth ordered her 21-year-old husband out of her home because he wasn't supporting her and their one-year-old son.

A week later Illingworth telephoned his wife with the news that his grandfather had died and left him $1 million, the lawyers said.

The husband asked if Mrs. Illingworth would take him back now that he was rich. The happy wife replied "I surely will."

Illingworth drove up a few minutes later, the lawyers said, and took his wife and her mother on a tour of his "inheritance."

He pointed out homes and tracts of land near Elgin, Ill., which he said were now his and drove by what he described as the family estate, the lawyers said.

Mrs. Illingworth then took her husband back to their apartment and cooked his favorite dishes for him.

Three weeks later, however, Mrs. Illingworth noticed her standard of living hadn't improved and asked how come.

Illingworth, the lawyers said, confessed "the estate existed only in his mind."

Alger Claims 'Handy' Win

DALLAS, Nov. 5 —UP— Republican Bruce Alger said Thursday handball helped make him the first Republican congressman from Dallas county in recent years.

Alger said he shook literally thousands of hands during his campaign and his own hands didn't give out, principally because they were toughened from an early victory in the Dallas handball doubles championship last spring.

Dock Strike Hurts Britain

LONDON, Nov. 5 —UP— Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler told Great Britain Thursday it will be months before the nation recovers from the effects of the Communist agitated dock strikes.

Butler gave his estimate of the impact of the paralyzing labor tie-up to the National Union of Manufacturers as dockers began their first full day of operations in nearly a month.

Even now, he said, a truck driver's dispute threatens a new dockland tie-up.

Butler emphasized the urgent need to get British exports moving again.

"We have been distressed by the effects of the dock strike which will reveal themselves as the months go by," Butler said. "For an island nation, living by trade, this is a grave matter."

The docks were operating Thursday at full capacity as longshoremen streamed back to their jobs.

However, unrest still boiled on the docks, threatening further labor troubles.

PICTURE NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

A CLOSE ONE!—Detroit Lion Lew Carpenter (34) hurdles over 49er Jim Gason (43) for a seven-yard gain in their game at San Francisco. Making a grab for the ball is San Francisco's Joe Arenas, while 49er Leo Nomellini (73) comes up on the play. Battling for the Western Division lead in the National Football League, the 49ers won by a bare 37-36.

FOR A HERO—Three-year-old Roddy Hoppe is starting a long friendship as he offers a cookie to uniformed Commandante Jaime Garcia Cruz, commander of the Spanish Equestrian Team appearing in the Pennsylvania National Horse Show in Harrisburg. A spotted pup is doing its best to get a little nip of that goodie being offered so generously by the lad.

SPRUNG—BUT FAST!—While frisking a prisoner at the Cleveland City Jail, detective Frank Opalecki got a big surprise. When he put his hand into a prisoner's pocket, Leo, a foot-long alligator, popped out. The prisoner owner said he had bought Leo at a pet shop and instructed detectives to feed his pet some fish or ground meat at 3 p.m. each day. Leo was sent to the Animal Protection League.

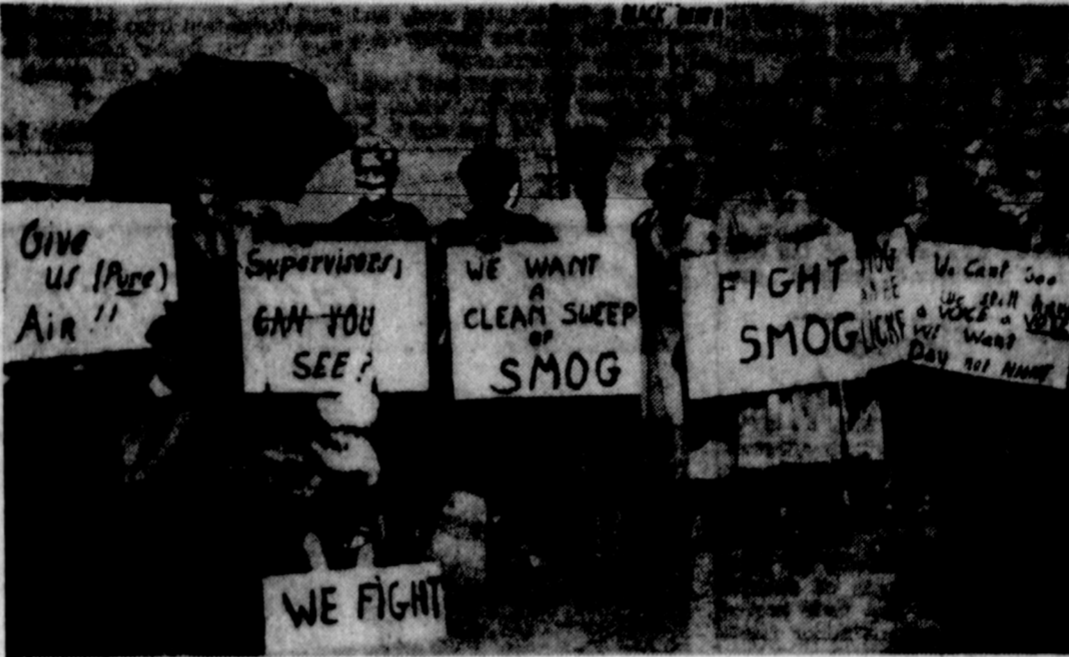

WELCOME BACK—On the eve of her return to Broadway in Noel Coward's new comedy, "Quadrille," lovely Lynn Fontanne posed for this new fashion shot. With her husband, Alfred Lunt, Miss Fontanne is making her first New York appearance in three years, co-starring with Edna Best and Brian Aherne.

HOUSEWIFE'S FRIEND—He's a bachelor, and he's Robert Q. Lewis, CBS radio and TV star in New York. Lewis heads "Homemaker's Forum," a program of information for scientific methods of housekeeping. He's shown testing a new way to clean a dishwashing machine.

MISHAP IN TEXAS—After a wood and steel bridge collapsed under the weight of a semi-trailer truck near Dallas, this was the result. A bulldozer which had been loaded on the truck, lower right, also landed in the creek bed, and it took some hours to get them out.

DESPERATE MEASURES—That's what some housewives felt was needed to combat smog in Pasadena, Calif. Some wore gas masks as others carried signs when they paraded past the City Hall, demanding relief from the increasing smog conditions in southern California.

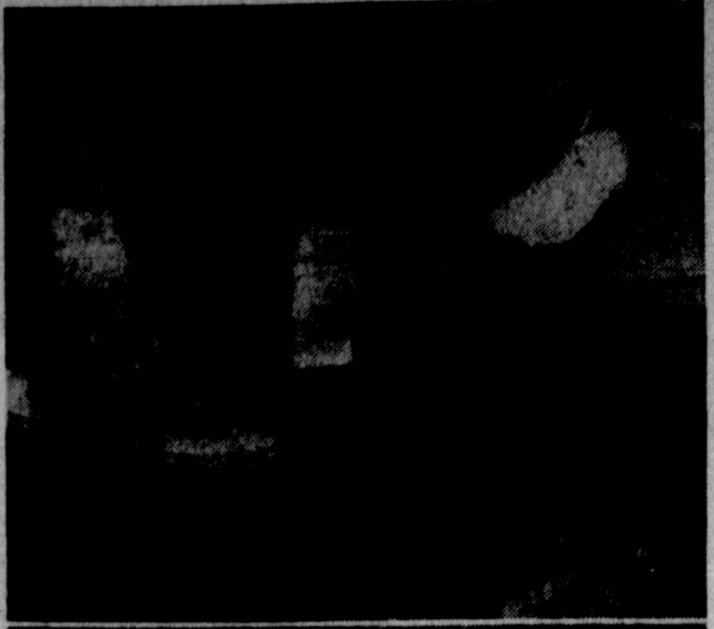

HE'S THE REAL THING—Although a lot of children are accused of "acting like a clown," Little Pippo II, the five-year-old son of famed French clown, Pipo, is one. He's shown applying his make-up before taking to the sawdust of a circus in Paris with his father.

WHEN IN ROME—Following some oft-quoted advice, three U.S. sailors chug about the Eternal City on motor scooters, a popular means of transportation in Italy. Getting their bearings from a local cop are, left to right: Raymond Celano, of Brooklyn; Frank Paulic and Anthony White, both of Foxburg, Pa. They're shown near President Einaudi's home, the Quirinale Palace.

THE LATEST—For golf or leisure wear, Waldes Kohlnoor, Inc. suggests this shawl-collar shirt with short wedge slacks which may be worn straight, or pushed up as illustrated. The shirt is executed in orange wool jersey with full-length zipper.

NEWEST MODELS—Elaborate entries in a Paris radio-controlled model contest included a tugboat, subchaser and floating drydock, top photo. All are controlled by the transmitter held by the electrical engineer shown with them. The dock rises and sinks on signal from the transmitter. Below, three French lads are enthralled at sight of a scale model of the battle cruiser Richelieu. The miniature entrants vied for prizes in this contest.

RUSHING THE SEASON—Although Washington, D. C., was in the midst of a warm spell, Santa Claus made an early appearance on a downtown street. Here, Helen Downham waits with Santa to follow a green pedestrian signal. Santa in this case was James Helmbold, dressed to advertise a new movie.

VICTORY SMILE

Bruce Alger displays victory smile while standing by side of full-life photo of Pres. Eisenhower. Alger, in his first bid for a political office, became second Republican in a regular election to win a congressional race in Texas since Reconstruction days by defeating former Dallas mayor, Wallace Savage, by a slim margin. IT'S LUCK FOR HIM THAT KINDNESS IS AUTOMATIC

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa — UP — Fire Chief Kick Kennison and fire Capt. Dale Holmes helped a motorist fix a flat tire and learned the driver was Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette. He offered to pay for the job but the firemen refused.

"Who can I say helped me?" Gillette asked. "Just two good Republicans," the firemen replied.

Baylor U. Worried Seating Won't Handle Graham Crowd

WACO, Tex., Nov. 5 — UP — Baylor University officials worried Thursday about how to handle the crowd expected Saturday when the noted evangelist, Billy Graham, speaks here.

Waco Hall, Baylor's biggest auditorium, seats only 2,500 whereas Graham's crowds have numbered in the tens of thousands.

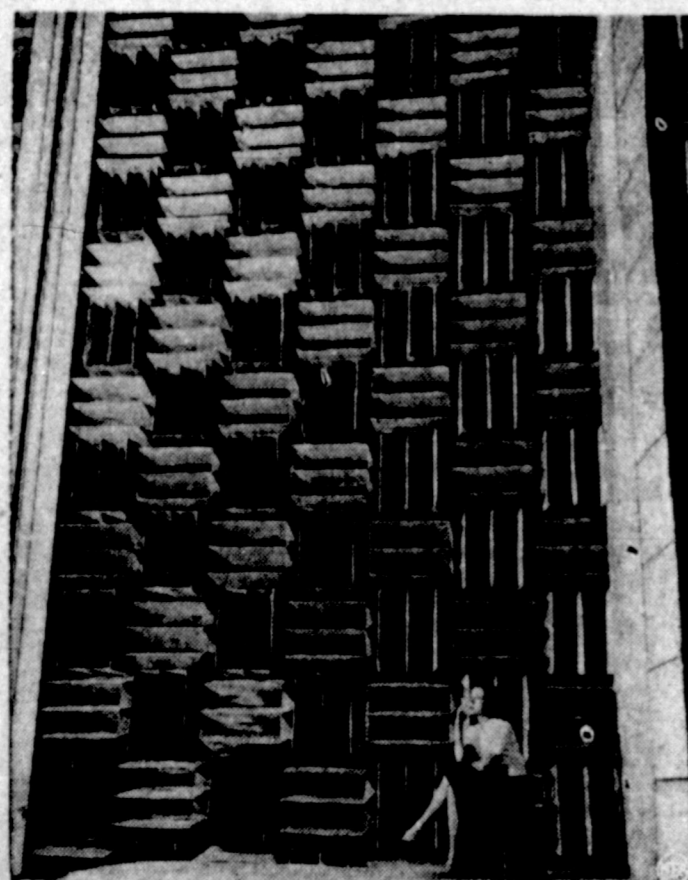

About 1,000 seats will be roped off for special out-of-town guests and Baylor faculty members and trustees. The remainder will be available on a first come, first served basis.

Graham will be one of two speakers at the two-day conference on American ideals. The other speaker will be Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee. Clement will speak Friday evening on "The American Way of Life."

Graham's talk will be on "Christianity's Contribution to American Civilization." It is set for 10 a.m. Saturday.

The honorary doctor of law degree will be conferred on Clement and the honorary doctor of divinity on Graham at the service's close.

KEEP IT QUIET—This pretty young lady finds the world's largest "quiet" room a perfect place to take a break from her work. Supposedly one of the quietest places ever constructed, the room is part of a General Electric sound laboratory in Pittsfield, Mass. The relaxing girl is seated in front of a 41-foot-high door covered with fiber-glass wedges that absorb sound. There are more than 12,000 of these wedges in the room.

Stockholders Approve Merger Of Colorado Oil And Derby

DENVER, Nov. 5 — UP — The merger of the Colorado Oil and Gas Corp. and the Derby Oil Co. of Wichita, Kan., was approved by stockholders Wednesday, with the surviving firm, Colorado Oil and Gas, receiving $2.6 million in additional annual cash earnings.

Colorado Oil and Gas has formed a wholly-owned subsidiary, Derby Refining Co., to continue operations of the absorbed company. W. G. Tierney will continue as Derby president, and is new vice president and director of Colorado Oil and Gas.

W. C. Norman, Colorado Oil and Gas president, said Derby stockholders may convert their common stock into an equal number of shares of $1.25 preferred stock with a $25 par value in the surviving company. The preferred stock can be sold within the next 30 days or underwritten at par value price or exchanged within the next five years for Colorado Oil and Gas common stock at $16.67 per share.

The merger increased the Colorado oil reserves to 9.8 million barrels and natural gas reserves to 604.8 billion cubic feet.

Derby's refinery at Wichita produces 15,000 barrels of oil products daily which are marketed in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri.

Colorado Oil and Gas holdings include lease and royalty interests in some 900,000 acres in 12 states.

'Little Joe' Passes Up Assistance

MONROE, La., Nov. 5 — UP — Little Joe Cooper has passed up a private school and college education which well-wishers across the nation were financing to help win his release from a reformatory.

The 10-year-old fatherless boy was to have left Wednesday to enter a school at Bell Buckle, Tenn., but suddenly changed his mind in order to remain with his family with the approval of the juvenile court.

Contributions for Joe's education began pouring in during a public furor after the boy was sent to the reformatory for using a loaded shotgun to defend his mongrel dog, Tuppie, "the only thing that's mine."

Former Gov. James A. Noe, who proposed the school plan, said the fund campaign is being called off. He said money already received will be returned or given to Joe's married sister, Mrs. Linda Foy, who now has custody.

Since he turned down the private school he is to enter a public school near his home here instead of the school at West Monroe, where Joe's troubles started. Joe threatened two officials of that school with the shotgun because he thought they were going to kill his dog. At the time he was living with his impoverished mother.

PERSUADER—V. K. Krishna Menon, India's delegate to the UN, seeks to persuade the world's major powers to a new "armament truce." His plan calls for: (1) an immediate truce in the arms race, and (2) a recall of the General Assembly at any time after its scheduled Dec. 10 meeting when disarmament developments warrant such action.

Guest Written Today
By JIM DEAN

One of the most memorable sports columns I ever read was written by Red Smith of the New York Herald-Tribune.

He was giving the critics of The New York Yankees a bad time by taking the positive approach — giving a eulogy on championship qualities.

I can't recall his "purple prose," but he said that the longer he stayed in the business of sports writing, the more respect he develops for the professional athlete.

As Red Smith saw it, the professional athlete was in the business of sport because with his athletic ability he could make money. His motive was profit, the same motive that has brought about every advancement this country has experienced.

His point was that the professional, the real professional, sets the pace. He's in a tough business, and the way to get top money in a tough business is to be one step ahead of the competition.

That, of course, works in all business where free enterprise is given a chance to breathe, but it is perhaps more dramatic in the business of sports.

GRANTED THAT the professional, then, sets the pace, it would be well to assume that the non-professional would have much to learn from the pro.

I had intended to talk about the forward pass in football today. I began thinking how the pros set the pattern, and how well they use the forward pass in their football contests.

As I observe the game of football, the object is to move the ball from one end of a 100-yard long field to another, with the profit coming only after crossing the goal-line, and with nothing in the cash register until you cross that golden stripe.

Which means that all the statistical advantage in the world is to avoid unless you are ahead in the final score also.

Well, the pros have shown us that the way to score in football is to pass, pass and pass some more.

IN COLLEGE ball and more especially in high school ball, the forward pass generally is a last resort weapon.

There have been a few exceptions, of course. I recall the football game in 1949 between Notre Dame and SMU. I was privileged to be in the Cotton Bowl press box that one, and those of you who read it will recall that SMU started the game with a passing attack.

Kyle Rote, whose running was the item the Irish were supposed to fear, pitched five or six straight passes before the Pontes ran a single play.

Except for the fact that Notre

SMU, Baylor And Rice Face Tests

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
Saturday will be the day of decision for Southern Methodist, Baylor and Rice—the three clubs still entertaining some hopes of catching or passing Arkansas in the Southwest Conference grid derby.

A defeat would mean definite elimination for either Rice or Baylor and a setback would spoil SMU's hopes unless Rice and Arkansas happened to battle to a standoff in the spotlight game at Little Rock.

In addition to the Rice-Arkansas clash, SMU will tangle with the Texas Aggies at Dallas and Baylor engages Texas at Waco in the NCAA's nationally televised game of the day.

The odds-makers have made Rice, SMU and Baylor as favorites of a varying degree—Rice by three, SMU by 13 and Baylor by one point.

The establishment of Rice as the favorite ignores the national ratings which place Arkansas fourth in the nation and Rice 13th, but it is in keeping with Coach Jess Neely's habit of turning out great November stretch-running ball clubs.

The dovetailing of an Arkansas victory with SMU and Baylor losses would skyrocket the Razorbacks into the championship and the Cotton Bowl without further ado since neither of the teams could overhaul the Razorbacks even if SMU should defeat Arkansas next week end in the Hogs' final loop game.

An Arkansas triumph and an SMU defeat would automatically shunt Arkansas into the Cotton Bowl regardless of what Baylor does since the beat the Bears could accomplish would be a co-championship. An early-season victory over Baylor would put Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl under new conference rules.

The only other time Arkansas ever appeared in the bowl game—1947—the Hogs got there by virtue of a victory over Rice—the club which it shared the co-championship in 1946.

GAL BARRED FROM PRESS BOX; HARVARD CALLS YALE 'STUFFY'

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—UP—The head of the Harvard Crimson took a dim view Friday of Yale's action in barring Faye Loyd, United Press woman sports writer, from the Yale Bowl press box for Yale-Army game Saturday.

"I think it's pretty much typical of Yale's attitude to everything — stuffy. It's a shocking situation," said Arthur Langguth, president of Harvard.

"However, there appears to be some sort of a rule against it here, too — writing on the tickets and programs that says, 'No women, dogs or children' in the press section."

AT HOUSTON MEET

Minors Will Seek 23 Rule Changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—UP—Minor leagues President George M. Trautman Friday said several proposed major-minor league amendments to be voted on Dec. 4 were of "great public importance."

Trautman announced that 23 proposed amendments to agreements and rules, plus eight amendments to the national association agreement will be discussed during national association winter meetings in Houston Nov. 28-Dec. 3.

High on the list of amendments was a proposal for higher prices for selections by major league clubs; one dealing with authorization of broadcasting and telecasting games; a restriction on signing college players; and one reducing the proposed limit on active players.

"A major league club selecting the contract of a player from a minor league club under a proposed amendment," said Trautman, "would pay the club $20,000 if the contract is from a club of open classification." He said the sum would be $15,000 if from a club of any other classification.

Another proposed amendment would give major and minor league clubs exclusive rights to authorize broadcasts or telecasts within their club territory of their home park games.

The proposed rule dealing with college players would restrict signing of students between their sophomore years and graduation, or graduation of their college class, or those not yet 21. It would not apply to students signed before entering college or those who left because of hardship or inability to meet college requirements.

Trautman said the amendment reducing the proposed limit on active players would increase the present limit on optional assignments. Other amendments included limiting players' second year salaries and increasing the price of working agreements.

A major proposal to the national association agreement was one taking steps to insure the playing of a postponed game. Under the proposal: "No league shall adopt a rule which will have the effect of preventing the playing of a postponed or suspended game when such a game can be played, before completion of the championship season on grounds of either the at home or the away-club."

Small School Back Sets Scoring Mark
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—UP—Leo Lewis, 145-pound halfback from Lincoln University of Missouri, has set a modern scoring record for college football and is closing in on the all-time rushing record.

Latest small-college football statistics released by the NCAA disclosed Friday that Lewis, by scoring 12 points last Saturday against Alcorn A&M, boosted his career scoring total to 360 points.

That eclipsed the modern scoring record for both major and small colleges of 355 points set by Carl Taseff of John Carroll from 1947 through 1950. The generally-accepted pre-modern record is 465 points, set by Willie Heston of Michigan from 1901 through 1904.

Lewis has one more game to play. He scored 90 points as a freshman, 96 as a sophomore, 132 as a junior, and only 42 so far this year.

Near New Record
In his final game against Jackson (Miss.) this weekend, Lewis needs to gain 91 yards to smash the all-time rushing record of 4,847 yards established by Brad Rowland of McMurry from 1947-50. Lewis, who has gained 739 yards rushing this season to stand sixth in the nation in the small college rankings, has a current career total of 4,287 yards.

Shockers Win Third In A Row, Down Borger

Baylor May Bring Long Runs To TV

WACO, Nov. 5.—UP—The Baylor team which the nation's television football fans will see in action against Texas Saturday has speed to burn in the backfield and may treat the viewers to a tasty dish of long-distance scoring plays.

Coach George Sauer could suit out a better-than-average sprint relay team from his abundant crop of backs—and the speed goes at least two deep at fullback and at the halves.

Baylor hopes to exploit this speed and augment it with the usually-pivotal passing of Billy Hooper in an effort to defeat Texas for only the second time in the past 15 years and move on towards its first Southwest Conference championship in 30 years.

High Scores Expected.
The game seems sure to be a high-scoring affair, which should provide an exciting afternoon for the stay-at-homeers.

Sauer has blended a mixture of 11 seasoned veterans with a husky young crop of sophomores to operate his flanker-dominated formation offense.

Sauer's system uses the flanker either as a man in motion for handoffs, or blocking assignments and also as a pass receiver.

Thus, the fastest men — Allen Jones and L. G. Dupre, senior veterans, and Sophomores Del Shofner and the halfbacks posts with the slower, but not plodding Weldon Holley and Reuben Saage operating at fullback.

Jones and Shofner can run the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds, a flat and pack a lot of drive to boot. So, they're capable of ripping a narrow sliver in the line into a full-blown hole through which they can blast into the open. Once there, they're hard to flag down.

Shofner's specialty, when he is not using his six-foot, three-inch height to advantage as a pass receiver, is a wide end sweep on which he is exceptionally adept at making the cut upfield at the proper moment.

Dupre, in addition to his speed, is more of the elusive type than either Shofner or Jones. Any one of this trio or all three may play safety on punts and they're all-weather threats at any time on kick runbacks or interceptions.

Jones has been a yardage gainer with a cross buck to the weak side, which invariably clicks for good yardage just outside the opposing right end, who has been turned or faked inside.

Hooper, who had one string of 11 complete passes, has tossed for six touchdowns and until last week had seen only one pass stray into enemy hands. Texas Christian pilfered three of them, but Hooper isn't expected to run into that tight a secondary defense against Texas.

TIL Meeting Set Sunday
AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 5.—UP—The Texas Intercollegiate League's legislative advisory council will take up proposals ranging from a limit on basketball practice to changing spring meet classifications at its annual two-day meeting opening Sunday.

TIL Director R. J. Kidd said the council would consider recommendations from the state delegates' meeting at Austin last spring as well as committee reports.

The Texas High School Coaches, Texas Speech, Texas Music Educators, Texas High School Girls' Basketball Coaches and Six-Man Football Coaches associations all were expected to send representatives to the meeting.

The council will recommend topics to the TIL's state executive committee for proposed adoption by the membership, after consideration of the proposed legislation, and may order fact-finding studies, or have committees report.

Question: In the Harvard-Cornell game, a dispute arose as to whether a pass was caught in or out of the end zone. Who should call this type of play? — Carl Bryant.

Answer: Under the present way of aligning officials, you'd think the umpire — the only man standing behind the defensive team — would handle the play. His job calls for him to remain facing the play to catch any line fouls past the line of scrimmage, however, so he doesn't turn his back. The field judge and head linesman, who station themselves at opposite ends of the line of scrimmage as the play starts, break downfield to cover long passes. It is their job to call a play such as this.

5-AAA District Gets New Teams
WACO, Tex., Nov. 5.—UP—Representatives of District 5-AAA have given permission for Brownwood and Waco Tech high schools to compete in that district next year.

Bryan, Temple, Palestine, Corsicana, Austin Travis and Austin McCallum make up 5-AAA now. Waco Tech will move up from 20-AA and Brownwood will switch from 2-AAA.

By RAUL "RABBIT" RAMERIZ

The Harvester "B" Shocker came through with a 24 to 20 triumph over the Borger Bulldog yesterday at Harvester Park, notching the fourth win of the year for Coach Marvin Bowman's crew.

It was the third victory in a row for the Shockers who have lost four games this year.

On the first play of the game, Quarterback Gary Dearen faked to halfback DeWayne Lovingsgood and gave it to Richard Gardner who raced 79 yards for a touchdown.

After a Borger punt, the Shockers began to roll again on good gains by Lovingsgood.

Early in the second period, a Shocker fumble on their own 17 yard line was recovered by the Borger team.

But Lovingsgood broke the tie in a hurry. After a couple of handoffs on the kickoff, Lovingsgood went 80 yards to score.

The Shockers moved 62 yards for their next score. A 20 yard pass from Dearen to Don Allen carried the Borger 22 to feature the drive. Dearen passed 11 yards to Allen for the touchdown.

A 62 yard drive in the third quarter gave the Shockers their next score. Lovingsgood turned in a 17 yard run, and Jimmy Ruiz a seven yard gain before Gardner broke loose for 26 and the touchdown.

In the fourth period, a 63 yard pass and run play, Dearen to Gardner gave Pampa a 34 to 7 margin. The Shockers had the ball on their 37 yard line. Borger punter Dearen uncorked his pitch on the first play.

Hopkins kicked four of five extra points.

Borger scored twice in the late moments of the game. Clifford Blands contributed a 12 yard run, Carl Williams added a 14 yard gain and then Jim Young went over from four yards out.

Borger intercepted a Shocker pass late in the period to get the ball on the Shocker 45 and return it to the 30.

A 15-yard penalty against Pampa set it up. Carl Williams went over from 15 yards out to end the scoring.

LEWIS STILL 2ND
Houston Passer Leading 4-Aers

Vance Matthews, Houston Austin's senior quarterback, hopped into the 4A state passing leadership last week by hitting five of five for 120 yards to run his season total aerial yardage to 735 on 82 connections in 107 attempts.

Matthews replaces Poly's Hunter Enis who had kept the lead for six weeks. Enis was idle last week. He dropped to third behind San Angelo's Bobby Walker. Walker has accounted for 664 yards, Enis 686 yards.

There was also a change in the pass receiving department. Joel Wyatt, Dallas Forest end, who led two weeks ago, regained his leadership from Marvin Lasater, San Angelo back. Wyatt has 336 yards on 15 receptions and four touchdowns. Lasater has caught 14 passes for 297 yards and three touchdowns.

Midland's hard-running Indian halfback, Edwin (Wahoo) McDaniel, held the rushing leadership for second straight week over Pampa's Harold Lewis. McDaniel has romped for 882 yards on 139 carries for a 6.3 average. Lewis has a 7.7 average from 819 yards rushing on 106 trips. Beaumont's Earl Wright is third with 808 yards and an 8.1 mark.

Offensively, Midland moved away from port Arthur which had 118 troubles with Galveston last week. The 4A-1 club has averaged 369.3 yards per game to Port Arthur's 347.0.

Defensively, Houston Lamar is in a class by itself. The defending 4A state champions have yielded only 139.4 yards per game. Corpus Ray, in second place, is well back with a 168.7 average.

Can a revenge-minded team overlook the prevailing odds and reach new heights against a superior opponent? That question will be uppermost in the minds of college football experts this weekend—from the gut-wagering 80 cents in his office pool to the big city plungers—as several major teams seek to wipe out past indignities.

Boston College, bounced out of the perfect-record ranks last Saturday by unheralded Xavier (Ohio), certainly will be hunting revenge when it meets Marquette at Milwaukee, Wis., in the only major game on Friday night's program. But the odds-makers favor Marquette by one touchdown.

Arkansas Remembers Licking On Saturday's schedule such teams as unbeaten and untied Arkansas, Illinois, Fordham and Navy will be bucking the odds in an attempt to erase bitter memories of the past.

Arkansas has been the scourge of the Southwest Conference this season, humbling its first six opponents, but still hasn't forgotten its 47 to 0 whipping by Rice last year. They meet again Saturday at Little Rock, with the Razorbacks a three-point underdog despite their glittering record.

Illinois, one of the pre-season favorites for national glory, has won only one of six games thus far in the campaign, yet was looking forward to bouncing back against Michigan. Then J. C. Carlisle of the Illini became a doubtful starter and now Michigan ranks as a seven-point pick.

Navy, with one of its strongest teams in years, would like to make up for last year's scoreless deadlock against Duke, but finds itself on the short end of a three-point spread. And Fordham, beaten 75 to 7 last week by Miami (Fla.), is hoping for an upset verdict over West Virginia. However, the bookies are giving away 19 points and betting the Rams don't succeed.

In major conference action, Southern California rules a 14-point favorite to defeat Stanford and clinch the Pacific Coast Conference's Rose Bowl bid, while Oklahoma is a 28-point "lock" to down Iowa State and extend its Big Seven unbeaten streak to 49 games.

Baylor is a one-point choice over Texas, and Southern Methodist is 13 over Texas A&M in other important Southwest Conference play. Florida is a seven-point favorite to defeat Georgia and thus replace the Bulldogs atop the Southeastern Conference, while Arizona is picked to down Texas Tech and gain a tie for the Border Conference leadership.

Top-ranked Ohio State may not get too much service out of hobbled Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, but still is rated a 14-point edge over late-developing Pittsburgh in one of the major intersectional games.

Notre Dame is an overwhelming 33-point pick over Pennsylvania.

Sugar Bowl Milers Set

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5—UP—The Sugar Bowl said Friday four of the world's fastest quarter milers have accepted invitations to participate in the 440 yard dash in the Sugar Bowl track meet here Dec. 31.

B. J. Grenford, president of the Mid-Winter Sports Association, said the four were Kevin Gosper, James Lea, Jim Mashburn and Harold Griffin.

Gosper is the British Empire 440 champion, and winner at the Vancouver Games last August in 47 seconds. He will fly from his home in New South Wales, Australia, to compete here.

Lea won the 1954 national collegiate, national AAU and Big Ten-Pacific Coast 440's, setting a record of 46.8 seconds at the AAU games in St. Louis last June.

Mashburn, a student at Oklahoma A&M, but competing unattached, was clocked in 46.8 for the 440 last summer. He was a member of the U. S. Olympic team in 1952.

Griffin will represent Rice Institute. He has a 47.1 clocking for the quarter. He will also run on the Owar's mile relay team in the New Year's Eve games.

"It looks as if we'll have one of the greatest 440 fields ever to start anywhere short of the Olympics," Grenford said.

Other key games by sections: East — Cornell one point over Syracuse, Princeton six over Harvard, Dartmouth 13 over Columbia, Penn State 13 over Holy Cross, Boston University 21 over Villanova, Army 20 over Yale.

South — South Carolina six over North Carolina, Georgia Tech seven over Tennessee, Kentucky 13 over Vanderbilt, Miami six over Auburn, and Alabama 19 over Tulane.

Midwest — Purdue vs Iowa, even; Colorado vs Missouri, even; Wisconsin 14 over Northwestern, Indiana 14 over Miami (Ohio), Nebraska 19 over Kansas, Cincinnati one over Arizona State (Tempe).

West — UCLA 19 over Oregon, California 13 over Washington.

Athletics, Sold To Johnson, Now Looking For KC Move

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5—UP—The rudderless Philadelphia Athletics, sold to Chicago industrialist Arnold Johnson, veered toward an American League meeting in New York next Monday for an expected shift to Kansas City.

There was nothing in the wind to indicate the club owners would not approve transfer of the A's and leave behind a heartick Connie Mack and his two equally-shaken sons, Roy and Earle.

A 54-year-old institution died Thursday when the Athletics, founded by the 92-year-old "grand old man" of baseball, were sold to Johnson and three associates for $3.35 million. The sale ended a stormy, confused final three months for the club, which saw a Philadelphia syndicate thwarted twice in its efforts to save the A's for this city.

Johnson plans to move the team to Kansas City but apparently must get an okay from club owners at the New York session, called by league President Will Harridge.

Approval seemed in order because Johnson and the transfer had been given a green light at a previous meeting in Chicago Oct. 12. Nothing has appeared on the surface since to point otherwise.

An early bird role by the 44-year-old Johnson and the fact that a rival local syndicate showed up with four checks instead of one big one enabled him to buy Connie's 302 shares for $604,000 and close the deal. At the time, he already had signed contracts in his pocket to buy out Roy and Earle, paying each $450,000 for his block of 163 shares.

Mrs. Katherine Mack, 84-year-old wife of Connie, had told Johnson and a four-man local business group that she would sell her husband's stock to the "first one who gets to our apartment Thursday morning with the money."

"The Philadelphia group did not show up until 10 o'clock," she said. "Mr. Johnson had been here for more than an hour by then."

Johnson was unable to say who his field manager will be but announced he was ready to spend $1 million for new players to make the A's a first division club.

Republicans Sweep Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5 —UP— Republicans swept Kansas, a state they normally control, in Tuesday's election, regaining the one seat in the House they lost two years ago.

Lt. Gov. Fred Hall, who bucked the Republican organization to gain his nomination, was elected governor over Democrat George Docking, and U.S. Sen. Andrew F.

Schoepel won a second term over George McGill, a former Democratic senator and recently a federal tariff commissioner.

In the first Kansas district, which Democrat Rep. Howard S. Miller won in 1952, he was beaten by State Rep. William H. Avery, a Republican. Republican incumbents also retained the other five seats they held in 83rd Congress.

Rayburn To Be No. 3 Official

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 —UP— Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, a Democrat, will become the No. 3 man in line for the presidency when the new Congress convenes Jan. 5.

The speaker of the House ranks behind the Vice President in the line of succession for the presidency. Rayburn will be named speaker when the new Congress convenes. He will replace Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, a Republican.

The president pro tempore of the Senate ranks behind the speaker in the line of presidential succession. Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) is slated to be elected to this post.

THEY'RE WILD ABOUT INCOME TAX: Henry Sellin, director, of NYU's Institute on Federal Taxation, bails himself out of epic high tide of applications for course on new tax law.

Tax Schools More Popular Now Than Give-Away Shows

By Betsy Wade
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Tax men are whirling through a frenzy of night classes, institutes and seminars. They are busy re-educating themselves.
The cause? The new income tax law — a Congressional bill that weighed in at three pounds. It has made their previous tax knowledge as obsolete as the high desk and quill pen.
"I thought the later April 15 deadline would be a boon," one tax man remarked, "but it's nowhere near late enough, when we have to digest the new code."
Another authority indicated the extent of the overhaul in the income tax law by pointing out that the section numbers of the tax law — long a shorthand among tax men — have all been changed save one.

"And that lone familiar section and number out of the 8023," he said wryly, "that's only a coincidence."
There are 3000 technical changes. A spokesman for the American Institute of Accountants sighed: "We have a room full of midnight oil."
Men who make out returns for others — accountants, lawyers, bankers — have all noted a steady increase, since the war, in the number of persons seeking tax return help. They foresee record business this season.
And they must comprehend the provisions of the code before the bogged, the confident, the rich and the just-average start to flood their offices, clutching blank returns and wads of check stubs.

One bright spot seen by tax authorities is that the new law may shake out phony experts who have been operating in barber shops, drug stores and penny arcades. They assume many of these unscrupulous characters will be around selling worthless advice, as they have in the past, but they hope the public won't trust them with the same degree of gullibility as in the past.
Organizations of tax experts are rounding up classes to hasten learning. One such is the Thirteenth Annual Institute on Federal Taxation, to be held at New York University this November.
Henry Sellin, director, can barely hold himself and two assistants out of the tide of applications. He has just emerged from a short evening course in the same thing 435 persons struggled over after work to participate.
The full quota of 450 students from all over the country was filled on Aug. 15. And still applications flow into Sellin's office.

"One dean wrote urgently requesting that his man be admitted — so that he could teach his course in tax law," Sellin remarked.
Tax men will also buy the proceedings of the Institute. This book is about the bulk of Who's Who and costs $23.50. In a normal year, 6000 are sold out but Sellin shrugs when he thinks about this year's anticipated sale.
At the American Institute of Accountants, the officers are pushing information out to their 24,000 CPA members.
Albert H. Cohen, the assistant to the Committee on Federal Taxation of this organization, said, "We're participating in about a hundred institutes sponsored by all kinds of organizations. They're more popular than give-away programs."
The Institute of Accountants is considering holding a tax institute for a couple of days in a central location. According to Cohen, it will be carried on for as many years as it fills a need, but it was the new law that launched the idea.
The Practising Law Institute, which holds evening classes on this and that, has found its course on Federal Taxation bloated. At every turn in the road when the bill was being enacted, according to Marvin Madeson of the Law Institute, they held two-day programs which were filled with members and interested persons.
One lawyer described these sessions this way, "We're the blind leading the blind."
According to all the authorities in the field, anyone, be he civilian or accountant, can make out a return under the new law, if he reads the code and uses his wits. But it's the reading of the code that makes the going tough. It still weighs three pounds and the explanations, clarifications and discussions don't make it any slimmer.
"Everyone," commented one expert, "wants the code pre-digested for him."

Narcotics Trial 'Bombshelled' By Brunette

HOUSTON, Nov. 5 — UP — A shapely brunette convict dropped a bombshell into the narcotics trial of former City Detective Sidney Smith Thursday with testimony that Smith kept her supplied with drugs in return for favors "delivered" in a tourist cabin.

Miss Marguerite Frederick was brought here from the women's prison at Memphis, Tenn., where she is serving time on a narcotics violation, as a government witness at Smith's trial. She testified that she met Smith, the Houston police department's ace narcotics undercover man, last year while she was free on bond after a drug raid. She said she often met Smith at a South Main Street tourist court and once spent an entire day with him there.
Smith, she said, gave her diazepam, an opium derivative, in return for her favors.
During the questioning of Miss Frederick, Federal Judge Allan B. Hannay, before whom the trial is being held without a jury, moved from the bench to the jury box so he could hear better.

Smith was suspended, and later indicted on charges of falsifying drug prescriptions, at the height of the police department drug scandals last year.
Wednesday, another convict testified that Smith had forced him to ride around town, often in a police car, to bring diazepam tablets which he would then "split" with him.

Houston Seminary Dedicated

HOUSTON, Nov. 5 — UP — Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, led the greatest entourage of Catholic church dignitaries ever to visit this area at one time in dedicating a new $3 million seminary Thursday.
The dedication ceremonies, originally scheduled for out-of-doors to accommodate a crowd of 3,000 were forced inside the new St. Mary's Seminary by a chilling, drizzling rain.
Cardinal Stritch pronounced the liturgical blessing with four other archbishops and 17 bishops from Texas and surrounding states, and about 1,000 persons looking on, while throughout the Diocese of Galveston, which includes Houston, prayers of thanksgiving were offered.
Host bishop for the occasion was the Most Rev. Wendelin J. Noid, bishop of Galveston, for whom the dedication was a personal triumph. He led the drive to build the new seminary with small donations from thousands of the faithful.
Cardinal Stritch arrived here late Wednesday by plane from Chicago and was guest of honor at a reception in City Auditorium Wednesday night. Mayor Roy Hofheinz welcomed him.
Cardinal Stritch told the assembly that the great battle being waged in the world today was not between atomic bombs, missiles and armies, but between two ideas: Christ or no Christ.

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: Most movie soundtracks, when put on record, sound like a TV program with the picture gone — a lot of noise that doesn't make much sense. But "A Star Is Born," with Judy Garland, is a thing of beauty. The music is delightful — particularly "The Men That Got Away" and a medley of old songs — and the excitement is there, as only Judy Garland can generate excitement.

Maybe Richard Strauss was the first real hi-fi fan. That's the impression you get after listening to RCA-Victor's new release of "Also Sprach Zarathustra." Although this was written in 1895, it's an exercise in instrumental pyrotechnics which can delight the hi-fi-natics of 1954 as much as any collection of "noises" hot off the presser. RCA-Victor's production of this once-controversial classic is magnificent, and Fritz Reiner puts the Chicago Symphony through its paces with magnificent precision. The engineers put their machines through their paces exceptionally well, too.

Maybe you've noticed all of a sudden there are oodles of Ink Spots around. More Ink Spots than usual. There is a reason for this strange Ink Spot rash. The original, "I-Didn't-Care" Ink Spots have broken up, and everybody seems to have formed a new group by that name.
Everybody but Bill Kenny. Bill Kenny is the tall, smiling tenor whose soaring notes and distinct

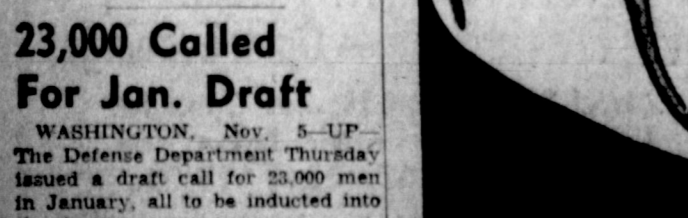

Charles Skouras Successor Named

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5 — UP — Elmer C. Rhoden, 51, of Kansas City, Mo., has been unanimously elected president of National Theater Inc., to succeed the late Charles P. Skouras as head of the huge 325-theater chain.
Rhoden, named Thursday at a board of directors meeting, was a vice president and director of national theaters as well as president of Fox Midwest Theaters, a subsidiary of National, with headquarters in Kansas City.
The newly elected president said he soon would move here from Kansas City to take charge of the giant chain, one of the largest in the country with theaters in 21 states.
Rhoden has been connected with the entertainment business for 41 years. He started his career as a shipper delivering film to railway stations in a one-horse wagon.
He is married and has two sons, Elmer Jr. and Clark. He has two homes, one in Kansas City, and the other in nearby Santa Barbara.
Skouras died Oct. 22 of a heart attack. He was 65.

23,000 Called For Jan. Draft

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 — UP — The Defense Department Thursday issued a draft call for 23,000 men in January, all to be inducted into the Army.
The 23,000 figure is the same monthly number which has been called since July. It will bring to 1,850,490 the number of men drafted since the start of the Korean war.
The Defense Department said the January draft call is based on maintaining the Army's "approved strength" after allowances had been made for enlistments and re-enlistments.
The Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force will not place calls with selective service during January, relying on recruitments to meet their manpower needs.
