Fahrenkamp Urges That Field Must Be In Good Condition

Two things must be determined before the Big Spring airport dedication program can be planned properly, declared E. E. Fahrenkamp, chairman of the general committee in charge of that program, at Wednesday's luncheon of the Business Men's Club.

Mr. Fahrenkamp said the dedication can be successful only if the whole field is put into proper condition and the border, landing and beacon lights provided in the airport plans installed and ready for operation on September 11 and 12, the dates fixed for the celebration.

Tex Thornton Is Rushed By Plane To Shoot Gasser

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 15. (AP)—Tex Thornton, prominent Texas oil well "shooter" was rushed by airplane from Amarillo to the Taylor Link oil pool in Pecos county to aid in bringing under control the Landreth Production Company's No. 1 University that caught fire Wednesday when an estimated 50,000,000 cubic feet daily flow of gas burst from the hole at a depth of 900 feet.

Charter Night To Be Lions' Subject

Final plans and arrangements for Lions charter night, August 21, are to be outlined and discussed at the regular meeting Friday noon in the First Christian Church, according to Cecil C. Collings, president.

Boy Scout Meeting Called For Tonight

Boy Scout committee representing the four local service clubs will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in the Chamber of Commerce offices. It is announced.

Benny Fox's Pole Marathon To Start At 1 P. M. August 27

Benny Fox, champion flag pole sifter of the world, sets the hour and day of the beginning of his famous flag pole exhibition here in Big Spring on the flag staff of the Crawford Hotel building for one p. m. Tuesday, August 27.

Now that the time is set, regardless of heat, storm, lightning or cyclone or any possible weather condition that might come up, the champion states that nothing will bring him down before the time of four days, four nights and four hours has elapsed, unless it be death.

The little ninety-eight pound daredevil will be on the job to amuse and thrill the people of this community at one o'clock Tuesday the 27th. Little Benny is more than

READ TEST IS IN LIME

Reported Oil Showing Groundless, Say Drillers

Rumors of an oil showing in Fuhrman Petroleum Company's No. 1 Read, northeast of Big Spring, which were circulated early Thursday morning, proved groundless as oil men investigated. The report is said to have been started by two visitors at the well shortly after two o'clock Thursday morning and drillers said, "they didn't know oil from sulphur water."

60 Aboard

Aboard the Graf Zeppelin were 60 persons, 20 passengers—19 men and one woman—40 officers and crew, and about 50,000 pieces of mail as freight. Much of the mail, all of the crew and nine of the passengers, had come all the way from Lakehurst, where the world journey was begun.

The start from Friedrichshafen was made in full moonlight, an hour before the dawn with a few hundred persons gathered near the Zeppelin's hangar who cheered loudly as its ground crew tossed their hold and it rose gracefully, circling the port before heading northward.

It was 4:05 a. m. when the Graf's motors were first started. Within a few minutes the passengers were aboard, with Lady Grace Drummond Hay, only woman passenger, first at 4:18 a. m. Dr. Hugo Eckener, master, who had been standing by the side of the gondola with Frau Eckener, entered the ship, and at 4:19 a. m. the order was given which started it from the hangar.

Last minute efforts by an American, Nelson Morris of Chicago, to get aboard the Zeppelin failed. Morris previously had bought a ticket for the trip from the Hamburg-American tourist agent but had been told later there was not room for him and he could not make the trip.

This morning when other passengers started aboard the craft, Morris was with them. Captain Hans Vogt Schiller stopped him on the gangway, "why can't I go?" the American asked, as he flashed his tickets at the officer.

Disappointed Captain Von Schiller answered that when he bought his tickets at Lakehurst he had been told they were valid only if there was space available beyond Friedrichshafen. Mr. Morris, who seemed disconcerted.

Arthur Hercules Sought Following Death Of Father

Arthur Hercules, believed residing in or near Big Spring, is wanted in Topeka, Kan., where his father died Thursday, according to a long distance telephone message from Topeka to the sheriff's department.

Mr. Hercules' brother called Howard county authorities Thursday just before noon asking help in locating the missing man. Members of the sheriff's department were unable, at noon, to find Mr. Hercules and asked The Daily Herald to assist.

RECOVER TOOLS

Kirby-Atlantic and Black Arrow's No. 1 Phillips, east of the World and Midwest areas, was reported to have recovered the string of tools lost in the hole when a bull-dog spear could not be jarred loose from two joints of eight inch casing left in the hole when a string of eight inch casing was damaged more than two weeks ago by a 260 quart shot in pay from 2,212-45 feet. It was not learned if further attempts to remove the two joints of damaged pipe will be made.

Announcements early this week indicated operators will either run eight inch casing with a packer and produce the oil or a smaller string of casing attempting to run it through the two bottom joints.

No. 1 Phillips is 330 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the west line of section 23, block 33, township 2 south T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

Directly west of Kirby & Refining's No. 1 Phillips, Lion Oil & Refining Company's No. 1 Coffee, 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of section 22, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey is still shut down to standardizing at 2,965 feet. Incomplete samples in Big Spring has prevented an exact announcement on the time top, but reports from San Angelo give the time top at 2,050 feet. The well will likely be ready to continue drilling in search of the Kirby-Atlantic, and Black

NAILS TAKEN OFF ROADS IN COUNTY

Highway Department Truck Grabs Metal From Earth

Many dollars and more energy and comfort are being saved for the motoring public in division 3, Texas highway department, and right now within Howard county by operation of the department's specially constructed apparatus for taking from the highways all metal objects, including nails, bolts, screws, and countless other pieces of metal that cause punctures and other usual damage to tires.

The truck, in charge of W. D. Wheeler, was being operated on highway 9 between Big Spring and Glasscock county, Thursday. One "round", a trip from here to the county line and back, over 15 miles of road resulted in "capture" of more than 150 pounds of metal debris.

The highway maintenance superintendent for Howard and Martin counties is Edward Lowe of Stanton.

The truck carries a gasoline engine, which operates a small dynamo generating electric current that is carried to two large rotating steel plates, thus creating electro-magnetic energy that jerks such large objects as portions of automobile springs from the roadway when they are covered with dirt.

The truck will cover all state highways in division eight before moving into the Wichita Falls division. It left Austin June 17, and has been used in many counties of this division. The machine will cover 20 miles of highway a day.

TWO MOTORCADES TO MEET AT IATAN PAVING PROGRAM

COLORADO, Aug. 15. Mayor R. E. Thomson of El Paso and H. L. Birney, president of the Broadway of America Association, will be the chief speakers at the celebration at Iatan August 26 for the opening of the new paved road through Iatan Flat.

This wonderful concrete road through Iatan Flat in Mitchell county is to be thrown open to traffic following the celebration, at 7 o'clock Monday evening, August 26.

Many other prominent men are to speak. Hon. W. R. Ely, R. S. Sterling and Cone Johnson, members of the highway commission and Gib Gilchrist, highway engineer, have been invited, and Tommie Carswell and Judge J. P. Stinson of Abilene; Paul Vickers of Midland; Monte

ATTRACTIVE PRIZES ARE TO BE GIVEN

Communities Urged to Begin Planning For Entry

The Howard County Fair will be held October 4 and 5. It is announced from the Chamber of Commerce.

Letters have been sent all school trustees in the county urging that they call community meetings very soon for the purpose of planning their community exhibits for the fair.

Especially attractive prizes are offered this year for the first and second best community agricultural exhibits.

Prizes
First prize will be a fine bull calf. Second prize will be a complete steam cooker and canner.

Farmers, gardeners, poultry raisers, stock raisers, and everyone in the county engaged in agriculture and allied pursuits is urged to begin selecting specimens of field crops of all kinds, and every fine product of the garden, and orchard for the community exhibits.

The county farm agent and home demonstration agent will work with the various community groups, as well as the Chamber of Commerce agricultural advisory council in planning and producing this year's county fair.

War On Traffic Violators Puts Many Into Court

Approximately 15 men and women were hauled into corporation court Friday morning to answer charges of traffic ordinances which number combined with pleas of guilty Thursday morning brings the total above 30 in two days.

As traffic law violations continued, E. A. Long, chief of police cautioned motorists about parking parallel with painted white lines in the business district and about observing the traffic light signals.

He said that all cars traveling with green lights are to stop the minute amber lights show and bells ring. Motorists waiting behind red lights are not to start cars before bells stop ringing and the green light appears.

"People of Big Spring must observe traffic ordinances and the police department is concentrating on violators. If people persist in parking at all angles, disregarding the signal lights and ignoring rubber stop signs at congested corners, they just must suffer the consequences. Big Spring people driving to Abilene, Fort Worth or Dallas do not expect to park at all angles, run through red lights and violate all traffic laws, so why should they expect to do those things in their own city," concluded Chief Long.

Five Teachers Are Appointed

Resignation of three teachers were accepted and five were appointed at a regular meeting of the city board of school trustees Tuesday night. Messrs. Weaver and Winslow were delegated to arrange locker and dressing rooms at high school for football players. Mr. Weaver and Superintendent Blankenship were appointed to arrange for addition of a room to the Mexican school building.

Misses Bertie Collins, Nell Hunton and Grace Ewing resigned.

Mrs. Leslie Dahme and Misses Janie Harvey, Agnes Currie and Dorothy Jordan were elected teachers. Wayne Matthews was elected to teach mathematics in high school. Miss Jordan will teach sixth grade reading. The other newly appointed teachers have not been assigned their specific duties.

Elmer Hardy Class To Have Luncheon

All business girls of the city who belong to the class will be special guests of members of the Elmer Hardy Sunday school class of the Methodist church at the luncheon to be given Friday noon as a part of the all-day meeting of the class at the church.

GOV. MILLER OUTLINES OBJECTS

Convention To Continue Through Thursday Afternoon

Harry Miller of Dallas, lieutenant governor of the state and grand master of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah of Texas, was the principal speaker at the opening session of the two-day convention of the West Texas I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Association which was held in the Methodist church Wednesday morning.

Three Objects

Lieut. Gov. Miller took up three objects which he hopes to bring about before the end of his office as grand master of Texas Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. The first of these is the elimination of small non-self-supporting lodges which cannot be consolidated and which are not a credit to the organization. This object can be accomplished by consolidation in a large number of instances, the speaker pointed out, due to the present facility in travel between communities.

The second aim expressed by Mr. Miller is the reinstatement of old members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges who have dropped out of active lodge work. These older members are often experienced and enthusiastic workers when reasonable interest is shown in their membership, the speaker believed, and urged all secretaries to make a thorough check-up on such members and urge them to be reinstated.

Asked Visit Home

As a third and final exhortation to the delegates, the speaker expressed a wish that all members visit the home for boys and girls which is maintained in Corsicana by the two lodges. While the institution is not in need of material aid from individual lodges the children in the school are sadly in need of personal interest and the small attentions of which their orphaned state has robbed them, Mr. Miller pointed out.

Mrs. Nova Ballard of Big Spring, vice president of the association, presided at the morning session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ed Shaw of Abilene who was unable to attend the convention because of illness.

E. A. Kelley, president of the local chamber of commerce, welcomed the delegates in behalf of the city while C. E. Thomas welcomed them in behalf of the Odd Fellows lodge of Big Spring. Mrs. J. E. Hammond welcomed the body in behalf of local Rebekahs. Responses were made by Grand Master Miller and Mrs. Katie Doss of Colorado who as association chaplain, also gave the opening prayer.

Musical Numbers

Musical numbers were given by a male quartet singing the selection "Each Day I Do a Golden Deed" and Charles Roper who gave a group of selections. The association sang "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds" and "Till We Meet Again." Mrs. Ida Prescott of Big Spring gave a reading as an entertainment number.

Previous to adjournment for luncheon the presiding officer announced the following committees: Credentials: Mrs. Hazelwood of Blackwell; Mrs. Ida Prescott of Big Spring; and J. H. Hampton of Big Spring; committee on officers' report, Mrs. May Lindley of Big Spring, A. H. Balch of Abilene and Mrs. Dots Garroide of Merkel; resolution committee: Mrs. Katie Doss of Colorado, Mrs. Jewel Fields of Colorado, and E. Q. Vestal of Dallas; committee on prizes and awards: Mrs. May Robinson of Big Spring, Mrs. Grace Stevenson of Sweetwater and Mrs. Bessie Moore of Big Spring.

To Speak Again

Lieutenant Gov. Miller will speak again at 5 o'clock this evening at Cottonwood Park when delegates and their families will be guests of the local Rebekahs and Odd Fellows at dinner. The local chamber of commerce will assist the sponsoring group in entertaining delegates.

Routine business was accomplished in the Wednesday afternoon meeting. Minutes of the last meeting were read and reports were given by officers and committees.

The session adjourned at 3:30 and the Odd Fellow members went to the W. O. W. hall for contest work in Past Grand Charge and unwritten work. Rebekahs went into contest work, Past Grand Charge, Chaplain Charge and unwritten work in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Rebekahs will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall at 7:30 o'clock this evening for contest work in Rebekah degrees. Odd Fellows will probably contest in degree work following the Rebekah demonstration, it was announced Wednesday afternoon.

RAIN FALLS IN HOWARD CO.

ONE INCH RECEIVED HERE; KNOTT COUNTRY IS WELL SOAKED

Rainfall ranging from light sprinkles to nearly two inches fell in scattered parts of Howard and adjoining counties Monday afternoon and night, according to reports received here Tuesday.

Precipitation here totaled an inch, the fall beginning about 11 p. m. and continuing in a heavy downpour for more than an hour. The Knott country was reported to have been pretty well covered by a good rain. The territory from there to Vincent was soaked, while at Vincent only a light shower fell.

The Cook farm and adjoining places about six miles north of here reported a good rain.

Although only a sprinkle was received in Stanton, there was a good rain beginning two miles north of town.

Lamesa had a light shower, it was reported.

There was no rain in the vicinity of the I. B. Cauble ranch southwest of town.

Mr. Cantlerberry, residing northwest of Knott about six miles, reported more than an inch of rain. He declared it assured a feed crop but increased the leaf-worm menace. "It's just a question of fighting the worms now," he said.

Fox Soon To Announce Time For Ascension

Numerous inquiries are coming to the Crawford hotel by telephone and otherwise as to the date for beginning Benny Fox's flag pole exhibition. Fox said Monday the day and hour of his ascension for a stay of four days, four nights and four hours atop the flag staff of the hotel will be announced within a few days. He is busily engaged with preparations and is "raining carefully."

Material for the special, higher flag pole to be erected on the Crawford roof has been delivered by A. P. Kaach, plumbing contractor.

Plans are being made for a parade immediately before Fox mounts the pole. Among the concerns to be represented will be Barrow Furniture Company, the Big Spring Steam Laundry, Currie's Home Bakery, The Denton Dairy, The C & C Hardware Company, The Crown Jewelry Company and the Ligon-Jennings Music company.

This afternoon Fox was to go through routine training at Dr. Anne's Battle Creek Sanitarium and Baths.

County Tax Rate Slashed By Court

When the Howard county commissioners' court continued its session Monday morning, the tax rate for Howard county covering 1929 renditions was formally entered at $1.20 per $100 valuation.

The announcement that commissioners had decided on that rate was made Saturday afternoon, but the order was not entered until Monday. The 1929 rate of $1.20 is 24 cents below the $1.44 per $100 rate set last year.

Tax rolls will not be completed before October, it was said at the commissioners' meeting, and no collections will be made before rolls are completed.

NOTICE

All stock found running loose on the townsite of Coahoma will be placed in the City Pound according to city ordinance regulating same, and those who willfully turn their stock loose will be fined $10.

BOND ISSUE SOLD; ADDITIONAL SALES WILL BE RECEIVED

OVERPASS IN EAST YARDS PLANNED

Thirteen Buildings Included In New Division Terminal

An official announcement that goes tremendously into detail than any made previously concerning the Texas & Pacific Railway Company's plan for a division terminal construction program in Big Spring; a statement disclosing plans that far outstrip expectations of the most optimistic and clinch for Big Spring the position of West Texas' rail center, was made here last night by J. A. Somerville, vice president of the railway company.

Forever killing the 40-year-old ghost—removal of all or part of the T. & P. division terminal from Big Spring—Mr. Somerville enumerated the improvements to be made at once on the T. & P. reservation on the tract lying between the compass and the present stock pens on the north side of tracks.

Bids will be received and a contract let within ten days for grading preparatory to beginning construction of the many buildings. Specifications call for 150,000 cubic yards of grading alone, marking it as one of the largest dirt jobs ever projected in West Texas.

Completing his enumeration of improvements for which plans have been or soon are to be finished, Mr. Somerville declared, "this is work to be done this fall. When the grading is finished we will have plans ready to go ahead with the buildings and other improvements. The money is available and when we start there'll be nothing to prevent rapid construction of the entire terminal."

New Overpass.
While here last night, Mr. Somerville conferred with city and county officials and reached an agreement for construction of an overpass on Benton street in the east end of the yards. Some details for this structure are yet to be worked out. It will be a joint project, as is the $150,000 viaduct being built on Gregg street, which is expected to be finished in October.

Big Spring, Mr. Somerville said, will very likely be the only city in Texas with no grade crossings within the city limits when the Benton street overpass, which will be of concrete and steel, has been completed.

Asked how the Big Spring terminal will rank with others in Texas, the T. & P. vice president said that it will be the most modern division terminal in the state. Practically the only difference between the local terminal and the new Lancaster Yards plant in Fort Worth will be that the latter is equipped to do more back shop work.

No less than thirteen buildings, not including several small structures are included in the terminal plan, for construction this fall.

In addition there will be necessary re-arrangement of tracks to serve the new facilities.

The round house will contain 23 stalls, each 120 feet deep, so that the largest engines, the "900s" will be readily served. There will be the usual drop pits and machinery.

Other buildings include a round house foreman's office building, a power house, a machine shop, a blacksmith and boiler shop, a storehouse and office building, five car repair buildings, an oil house, a washer and locker building, and several smaller ones.

The round-house foreman's office building will also contain wash and locker rooms. It will be of brick, 28 by 80 feet.

The power house, of brick, will measure 46 by 98 feet. There will be boilers, pumps, compressors, boiler washout plants and direct steaming equipment in this building.

The direct steaming equipment is the most modern process known to railroading for steaming locomotives. They will be steamed directly from this plant, no fire in the engine being used for that purpose.

Machine Shop.
The machine shop building will be of brick and will cover ground measuring 60 by 80 feet.

Blacksmith and boiler shops will be housed by a metal building, 45 by 150 feet.

The storehouse and office building will be 40 by 200 feet, a brick structure.

There will be four car repair buildings of brick and frame construction. A fifth car repair building will be of metal and will be 40 by 400 feet in dimensions. The oil house will be of brick, 40 by 60 feet.

A wash and locker building will cover 30 by 70 feet, built of brick.

All of these improvements are supplementary to the new freight house, a 40 by 225-foot building, now under construction, which was the first unit of the new terminal that got under way.

It was disclosed by Mr. Somerville that for the second half of July, 1929, the Texas and Pacific had on its Big Spring payroll 843 persons, and that the total pay roll for the twelve months ending August 1 was very near $2,000,000, an average of approximately $160,000 monthly.

The larger terminal will call for employment of a large number of additional men.

Signifying in no uncertain terms their confidence in the future of their city, expressing their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles for such a magnanimous offer, and assuring for Big Spring now and for years to come facilities that will stamp it as one of the leading hotel centers of Texas, citizens this morning, in approximately six hours, oversubscribed a $100,000 bond issue to assure a 14-story hotel building at Third and Runnels streets.

But, declared Chairman E. T. Piner, the campaign committee, the fact that the $100,000 is assured by subscriptions already received does not mean that those who wish to buy $100 to $500 worth of bonds cannot do so.

An effort will be made to care for all $100 subscriptions and as many larger ones as possible by topping a little off the $5,000 and $10,000 subscriptions.

Miscellaneous Recipes

Jellied Carrots And Peas
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
3/4 cup vegetable stock or cold water
3 tablespoons vinegar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
1 cup cooked carrots, diced
1 cup peas

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add vegetable stock or cold water, vinegar, salt, and paprika. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in carrots and peas. Turn into molds. Chill until firm. Unmold in crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 8.

WANT MORE
Mr. Piner said that Mr. and Mrs. Settles as well as the campaign committee wished that as many individuals and firms as possible be included in the list of bond buyers—investors, not subscribers. Therefore, he invited all who wish to take $100 to $500 or even a little more than that, to communicate with one of the banks, or the Chamber of Commerce office, or to clip the coupon appearing on this page and mail it to either of the three local banks. Every effort will be made to "cut in" all who wish to have a part in this great project for civic development.

PAYMENT LATER
The bonds are not to be issued until the hotel building is completed, which, it is estimated, will require eight months or more. They are first mortgage bonds, and issue of $100,000 will represent the only indebtedness against a piece of property worth, at actual cost, not less than $300,000, but very likely $400,000 to $500,000. The bonds will mature in ten years, drawing six per cent interest. Mr. and Mrs. Settles will hold an option to buy all the bonds in five years at $1.05 on the dollar.

HARDY CLASS TO MEET
The Elmer Hardy Sunday School class of the Methodist church will hold an all-day meeting at the church Friday.

Anything you expect to find in a Drug store and then some... Cunningham & Phillips.—Adv.

Approval of the two-year appropriation for the survey in bills filed by him last Saturday.

The bureau of economic geology in the University of Texas, the Texas A. & M. College, the board of water engineers and the geological survey will share the work.

This work will rank in potential returns to the state with the topographic survey which mapped feasible surface reservoir sites, in the opinion of water board engineers. It is believed capable of more than doubling the undeveloped land values in some counties, and will furnish data that will enable land owners elsewhere to save many thousands of dollars by avoiding overdevelopment based on expectation of greater artesian water supply than the underground reservoirs are capable of.

Underground water surveys have been started by the federal government in southern counties. These will be continued. Other work will be done in the area just south of Fort Worth, more work in the Gein Rose area, and extensive mapping and surveying in many other sections, it has been indicated.

"Miner knows more about the underground water resources of Texas and other states than any other man," Chairman John A. Norris of the water board said. "We will invite him to exercise general direction over the cooperative work, so that it all may be coordinated, and to the end of getting as much work done as possible with the limited funds available."

Areas of land feeding each of the subterranean streams or reservoirs will be determined, and this, with the known rainfall of the area, will give indices of the volume of water to be expected, it was said. Drilling of wells will determine the areas and depths of the various water-bearing strata.

Underground Water Survey Is Provided
BY RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, Aug. 15.—Dr. E. O. Miner, director of underground water surveys of the United States geological survey, has been invited to Texas to assist in starting and to assist in starting and to direct the first comprehensive study of the state's underground water resources ever undertaken, the board of water engineers has announced.

Three state agencies and the federal government will cooperate in the mapping and investigation of underground waters, board members said. The survey was made possible by Gov. Dan Moody's ap-

MATTHEWS STAYS ON BOARD

Illness Causes Mayor Since 1926 To Retire

C. W. Cunningham, who has served on the city commission since 1924, was appointed mayor of Big Spring Tuesday night when city officials held their regular meeting.

Action of naming the new mayor or followed resignation of R. D. Matthews as mayor, a post he has held since the city manager form of government was inaugurated in Big Spring in 1926. Although Mr. Matthews' resignation as mayor of the city was accepted, he will continue to serve as a commissioner.

Resigns.
Mr. Cunningham has served as mayor pro-tem for several months during a long siege of illness which confined Mr. Matthews to his home. The new mayor has been associated with Shine Phillips in the drug business in Big Spring for several years.

When asked for a statement this morning, Mr. Cunningham said he believed nothing could be said excepting that the city government was running along in smooth style and that no drastic changes will be made in its operation. He said he was naturally proud to be mayor of a city like Big Spring and that he will do everything possible to fill the post of his capable predecessor.

Mr. Matthews had been inactive for several months until a few weeks ago. His weakened condition brought about by long illness requires more rest than is possible while attempting to head an active city, it was said Wednesday morning.

V. A. Smith, city manager, said he was sure work with Mr. Cunningham will be a pleasure as has been the case under Mr. Matthews.

Two Charged In Store Burglary

Burglary charges were filed in Howard county against D. D. Leach and Jimmie Murphy for alleged entry into Cunningham & Phillips No. 1 drug store last week.

The two men were arrested near Big Spring Sunday morning about 10 o'clock and at that time members of the sheriff's department making the arrest, confiscated a large roadster stolen from San Angelo. Car theft charges were said to have been filed in San Angelo, but the men will be held to answer charges here, it was said.

Conference Of County School Heads Favors Superintendent Appointment At Option Of Board

Following adjournment of the annual rural school superintendent's conference held at College Station recently, a copy of resolutions adopted by a committee and later approved by the meeting, at large was received by Miss Pauline Cantrell, superintendent of Howard county schools.

In the report forwarded to all superintendents, a list of 71 county school superintendents registering at the 1929 conference held July 29 to August 2 was included.

The resolutions adopted are: "We wish to express our thanks to Professor W. L. Hughes for his untiring efforts in promoting the county superintendent's conference. We attribute the success of the conference largely to his leadership. We extend our thanks to Chairman L. A. Woods, and Secretary Mrs. E. B. Sapp, and to the following speakers for their contribution to our program: T. O. Walton, D. A. W. Birdwell, T. H. Shelby, J. T. Conn, S. M. N. Marrs, G. B. Wilcox, R. M. Caldwell, Miss Mary Shipp Sanders, and R. M. Woods. We are grateful to Mr. Walton and the members of A. & M.'s faculty of the department of rural education for courtesies extended during our stay.

"We commend the Forty-first legislature and the governor for their liberal appropriation and consideration of the needs of the rural schools of this state.

"In view of the great saving that would be effected by centralized buying of school books and supplies, be it resolved that the Texas county superintendents conference hereby endorse the enactment of a state law providing for the centralized buying of all school supplies in our respective counties.

"Resolved that we go on record as favoring a bill making it optional with the counties of Texas as to the appointment of county superintendents by county boards and we further favor a stimulating feature to such a bill, such as providing for at least one-half the superintendent's salary to be paid from rural aid funds where the change is made from the elective to the appointive system."

FIVE SUITS FILED
Five suits, three asking foreclosure and two seeking divorces were filed in Judge Fritz R. Smith's district court, according to records on file at the district clerk's office in Big Spring.

Cochran Independent School District is the plaintiff in three foreclosure suits naming Winburn Pierce, G. W. McCain and A. M. Bell as defendants.

J. L. Bryan is seeking divorce from Ortha Bryan and J. J. Crawford is seeking divorce from Maudie Crawford.

COUNTRY SHERIFF SOLVES $238,000 ROBBERY OF BANK WITH METHODS CITY BOYS OVERLOOKED

By NEA Service
LAMAR, Colo., Aug. 14.—The greatest manhunt in the southwest since the days of Jesse James is nearing its end and a rural sheriff who had been a farmer all his life until his election two years ago and who had never seen a rogues' gallery, a Bertillon photo or a fingerprint card—has covered himself with glory as a detective whose deeds would rival those of Sherlock Holmes.

For Sheriff L. E. Alderman of Prowers County, Colorado—a two-gun peace officer of the old school who has steel blue eyes, wears a ten-gallon hat and can shoot from the hip with either hand—believes he has at last solved the $238,000 holdup of the First National Bank of Lamar, featured by the brutal murder of four men, on May 23, 1928.

He has used the most modern methods of the skilled detective: fingerprints, decoy letters, blood tests and even airplanes. In the 14 months that he has been on the trail he has traveled more than 100,000 miles by auto, train and airplane in a dozen states, aided in the arrests of 150 suspected bank robbers from New York to California and jailed 40 of them as escaped convicts or fugitives from justice.

Seven Jailed by Relentless Sheriff

And now the manhunt is nearing its end. Sheriff Alderman has seven men under arrest, two of whom he feels certain participated in the Lamar bank robbery and quadruple murder and others whom he believes were "in" on the crime in some fashion. And, by clever detective work, he has identified and obtained the fingerprints of the alleged ring-leader.

Police officers everywhere are now on the lookout for Jake Fleagle, wealthy ex-convict of Garden City, Kan., who Sheriff Alderman missed by only 10 minutes in Peoria, Ill., the other day.

Ralph Fleagle, his brother, is under arrest. Sheriff Alderman having captured him at Kankakee, Ill., and brought him back by airplane. The six others are in jail at Lamar, Colorado Springs and Canon City.

These sketches depict the high spots in Sheriff Alderman's solution of the $238,000 bank robbery and murder of four men at Lamar, Colo. Ralph Fleagle is under arrest, having been brought back from Kankakee, Ill., by airplane, while his brother, Jake Fleagle, whose blood-stained fingerprints are said to have been sought by police throughout the United States.

he sighted the speeding bandit car and opened fire with a six-gun.

But one man with a pistol was no match for five men with rifles who stopped and blazed away at the sheriff's auto. Alderman dropped behind his machine as it was riddled with rifle bullets.

200 Scour Country In Big Manhunt

The greatest manhunt since the days of Jesse James was that of the Kansas-Colorado border region swept as though with a fine-toothed comb. But no trace of the bandits was found—except one.

Dr. William Wineinger of Dighton, Kan., which is nearby, was decoyed from his home that night by a man who told him a friend had been injured in a tractor accident and asked him to come. Dr. Wineinger went. Later, his murdered body was found in his blood-stained car on a lonely road.

Obviously, Dr. Wineinger had been kidnaped by the bandits to dress the wound of their leader and murdered to prevent their identity. So, Sheriff Alderman reasoned, there might be a valuable clue in the form of a fingerprint on the doctor's car. He had read of such things in the newspaper.

The farmer-sheriff knew nothing of fingerprint science himself, but he ordered the car carefully guarded and called in Police Chief Lee Richardson and Fingerprint Expert R. S. Terwilliger of Garden City, Kan. Hurriedly, he brought them to the scene in an airplane.

The bandits had taken pains to wipe out all prints inside the car, but one had escaped their notice—a fine impression of a blood-stained thumb on a rear window. And on that the whole case hinges.

Sheriff Alderman had this fingerprint photographed and a copy sent to the government's bureau of identification at Washington, that vast clearing house for criminal records. Months passed, nothing happened.

Just a few weeks ago, however, two men were arrested in Stockton, Calif., on some trivial charge, fingerprinted and turned loose. These prints, too, went to Washington.

An eagle-eyed government expert discovered that the thumb print of one of the men arrested in California, who gave his name as William Harrison Holden, was identical with the thumbprint found on the car of Dr. Wineinger's auto in Kansas!

It was "William Harrison Holden" and his pal now vanished. One might as well search for the proverbial needle in the haystack.

A few days later, however, the Washington expert discovered that this thumbprint was identical with that of a certain Jake Fleagle, who had served a term in the Oklahoma penitentiary some years ago. The links began to connect.

Fleagle Family Nabbed on Ranch

Sheriff Alderman rushed to the Oklahoma penitentiary to learn everything he could about Jake Fleagle—his address, his habits, his record, the persons with whom he corresponded while in prison. Strangely enough he found that Jake Fleagle was the man's real name and that his father owned a ranch near Garden City, Kan.

Alderman went there and found that the Fleagle ranch had long been a strange place. No crops or stock were raised on it, strangers were unwelcome, but the Fleagle always had plenty of money. The neighbors suspected that they were moonshiners.

Sheriff Alderman and Chief Richardson arrested Jacob Fleagle, Sr., and two of his sons, Walter and Fred. Two other sons, Ralph and Jake, Jr., were supposed to be vacationing in California.

Developments multiplied fast. The officers found that the Fleagles had been depositing enormous sums in various banks under different names, the amount once reaching as high as $150,000.

They found, too, that Fred Fleagle had a box under an assumed name in the Garden City postoffice and watched that box. In a day or so there came a letter and Alderman opened it and read it.

Decoy Letter Nabs Man in Illinois

The letter had been mailed at Kankakee, Ill., asked for an immediate reply and although unsigned it was obviously from Ralph Fleagle. Quickly Sheriff Alderman hopped a plane, flew to Chicago and drove to Kankakee, Illinois, right for his reply at the general delivery window. Alderman arranged matters with the Kankakee postmaster and waited. Ralph came and the sheriff nabbed him.

The officers jailed Ralph and kept quiet and, guessing that Jake was not far off, watched Ralph's hotel for telephone calls. They were rewarded by a man who called and, being told Ralph was out, left word for him to call a certain address in Peoria, Ill.

Sheriff Alderman telephoned Peoria police to make the arrest at once and hurried there. Arriving, he found they had arrested a Dr. George DeMoss, whom he did not know—but in front of the police station was Dr. DeMoss's auto, the selfsame blue Buick sedan in which the bandits had escaped from Lamar after the bank robbery! Alderman's heart leaped.

Jake Fleagle Escapes By Ten Minutes

The sheriff found the Peoria police had just released a woman companion of Dr. DeMoss—a great beauty, he says—but they had the address of her apartment, so he rushed there.

He learned that Jake Fleagle had been living there with DeMoss and the woman—and that Jake had fled only 10 minutes before he arrived! Fleagle had departed so hurriedly that he had even left his hat.

In the apartment, Alderman says, the officers found a small arsenal consisting of five rifles, an automatic shotgun and 2000 rounds of ammunition. In the room, too, was a blood-stained canvas sack like that used by the leader in the Lamar bank robbery, to scoop up the money. Blood tests will be made of the stains on this sack to compare them with the stains on the dress of a woman bank employee on whom the wounded bandit dripped blood.

DeMoss refused to go to Colorado without requisition papers and was left in jail at Peoria, but Ralph Fleagle waived extradition and the sheriff brought him back from Kankakee in an airplane. He is believed to be the first prisoner ever so transported.

Trailed Bandits in Many States

During the 14 months before the Washington expert stumbled upon his fingerprint clues, Sheriff Alderman had been busy. He traveled thousands of miles all over the United States, personally investigating bank robberies and aided in the arrest of 150 men, 40 of whom were found to be "wanted" in various cities. He was just on the verge of clamping down on one

WEBB REPEATS INTENTION OF SEEKING COURT ORDER TO THROW OFF WORM RULES

Staff Special
AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—Efforts to get an injunction to restrain enforcement of the pink bollworm quarantine in West Texas counties were promised here by Rep. Henry Webb of Odessa, following Gov. Dan Moody's veto of the $100,000 appropriation his and other West Texans' efforts to repay farmers for enforced cost of processing cotton to be shipped out of the quarantine zone.

"We shall seek an injunction in state courts to prohibit the taking of our property without compensation," he declared.

He expressed regret that Governor Moody had seen fit to veto the appropriation.

He admitted the attempt to "throw off the restrictions may result in the federal government quarantining the whole state. That would cause farmers to lose millions of dollars."

Rep. Webb insisted the action of refusing to pay the costs enforced on farms was confiscatory and he declared his belief the courts would grant relief from continuance of such requirements. Machinery for paying claims of this year's processing costs have been set up but the appropriation has not yet been made. Mr. Webb did not visit the governor's office while here on business with other departments.

CINDERELLA SHOP WILL ENLARGE

Minor Announces Closing of Deal for New Building

It is announced by R. S. Minor, manager of Minor's Cinderella Shop, that in approximately six weeks that popular store will be moved from 117 East Second street to a new building to be erected on East Third street next to the Bell Grocery and Home Service Station by Martin A. Coyne of Childress at a cost of approximately $12,000.

After one year's operation here, Mr. Minor declared, "we have outgrown our present space, business demanding not only more floor space but proving to our satisfaction that there is a need for a plant wherein many extra service facilities may be offered."

Minor's Cinderella Shop is operated by Minor Brothers, a partnership composed of R. S. Minor, W. H. Minor of Abilene and P. E. Minor of Brownwood, who have been in this line of business for many years. The parent store, at Abilene, has been in operation two years. The local store was opened August 1, 1928.

"Minor Brothers feel that in designing this store, with all its improved facilities, there is nothing too good for Big Spring, in which our faith is strengthened constantly," said the local manager.

Plans for the new store, which will cover ground space measuring 26 by 90 feet on a 26 by 100-foot lot, affording a private alleyway at the rear, were drawn by Peters, Strange and Brashaw, local architects. Albert L. Randall, well-known for the success of his construction operations here, is to be the contractor for the Minor-Coyne building.

The new building will be done in exterior style somewhat similar to that employed for the Wilcox-Ellis building at East Third and Gregg streets, with light amber brick and extensive use of ornamental stone trim. Minor Brothers have taken a five-year lease.

The building has been designed to house one of the most modern ladies' specialty shops in West Texas. Among the auxiliary facilities will be a ladies' smoking room, a ladies' rest room and a very modern beauty parlor.

Floors of the store will be rat-proof and covered with block-off hardwood. Interior walls will be in texture effect, to harmonize with fixtures, which have also been ordered especially to meet the needs of the Cinderella Shop.

Special attention has been paid to lighting to obtain the best daylight effect. Show windows, of which there will be four, have been designed for unit displays. Plate glass display frontage will total 90 feet. Electrical equipment in the windows will provide desired daylight and spotlight effects.

The Brownwood store of Minor Brothers, which was opened only six months ago, also is to go into larger quarters, designed very similarly to the new home announced for the Big Spring store.

4,423,813 Barrels Produced In Winkler County Field For July SALEM

More than a score of oil companies the 4,423,813 barrels of crude oil produced in the Hendrick field of Winkler county during July, though Southern Crude Oil Purchasing Company grabbed the lion's share in producing 1,407,285 barrels during the 31-day period.

July production of the field compares favorably from a production standpoint with other months of the year. January's total of 5,324,020 barrels has not been equaled, the 5,166,700 barrels produced during March having been the only other month in which more than 5,000,000 barrels was produced. Total for February is 4,782,182 barrels; April, 4,335,201; May, 4,337,905; and June, 4,279,547.

Crops in this community are looking well in view of the amount of moisture they have received. Some cotton is opening rapidly. Picking will soon begin. Some are fighting leaf worms to save the crop.

Rev. McGinnis of Abilene held a meeting at Salem church house, which resulted in three conversions. They were baptized by the pastor, Rev. Smith, in Robinson's tank Sunday afternoon, when the meeting closed.

Pecos County Gasser Ablaze

Landreth Production Company's No. 4 University, one-half mile southwest of Taylor-Link's No. 1 University, which opened Pecos county's fourth pool several weeks ago, was a burping burning crater of natural gas Wednesday when 15,000,000 to 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas encountered between 630-50 feet ignited when rods were belched from the hole striking a spark on metal machinery.

The National machine and equipment all owned by Harry Adams of San Angelo, having an estimated value of $10,000 to $15,000 was completely ruined and the well was still burning, according to last reports received.

Landreth's No. 1 University is 660 feet from the east h., and 1,980 feet from the south line of section 13, block 18, university land.

In the same region Taylor-Link's No. 2 University, south offset to the discovery well is drilling around 1,536 feet, but will shut down and set pipe before drilling into pay expected around 1,613 from which No. 1 University is producing oil.

OUT OUR WAY

HEROES ARE MADE - NOT BORN. BY WILLIAMS

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service-Writer

WASHINGTON—After September 15 it will be all right with the government if we eat blue lamb chops, blue oysters, blue grapefruit, blue candy or blue anything.

Blue will then be officially added to the list of food dye colors certified by the department of agriculture through its food, drug and insecticide administration.

The color will be known as brilliant blue FCF and was thoroughly tested before being pronounced harmless to health and otherwise suitable.

It will be used mostly in candy unless someone seeks to produce a few bizarre effects in other foods. The product is derived from coal tar. Heretofore candy manufacturers have sometimes used indigo, which has been approved, but indigo has had a tendency to fade.

Keith's theatre here, where Woodrow Wilson used to go regularly for his vaudeville, apparently is going to turn into an old landmark, of which Washington has so many. It has been dark for more than a year now and although the management has hoped either to open it again or rent it, neither hope has been realized.

Until it closed Keith's was the capital's most fashionable show house. Cabinet members and other officials patronized it much more frequently than any of the other better theatres here. It gained national celebrity through President Wilson's familiar presence in the presidential box.

Keith's succumbed to the disease which has ravaged vaudeville generally. It suspended soon after an enormous movie house opened nearby to offer presentations, almost the equivalent of vaudeville, along with motion pictures. The talks appear to have given another blow to any hopes of reopening.

No other Washington theatre has taken its place as the principal local amusement center and President Hoover has his own inkies at the White House twice a week.

Perhaps the boys and girls elsewhere will be interested to learn that the boys and girls in Washington have seen Mrs. Lindbergh and agree that she is not only dainty and petite, but also a very pretty girl.

It seems that the former Anne Morrow takes a very poor picture—so poor as to make her look almost ordinary, whereas she really doesn't look like that at all. Observation reveals that she has lovely blue eyes, dark, well-shaped eyebrows, handsome teeth and an irresistible smile. And she made a hit with the boys and girls who counted themselves lucky to get a good look.

As a conscientious reporter, one probably also ought to report that Mrs. Lindbergh, when she stepped out of her husband's plane, wore an Alice blue ensemble, with coat and hat of some woolen material, printed silk frock to match, beige hose and black shoes with one strap.

Father Of Eight Children Killed

AMARILLO, Aug. 13 (AP)—John Thomas Towles, 45, of Amarillo was killed and his small son and Mrs. E. M. Starker and her two children of Stratford, Texas, were injured when two motor trucks collided on a highway 30 miles north of here last night. Towles and his son were riding in one truck and the Starkers in the other. Towles is survived by his widow and eight children.

PROMOTING PEACE

Germany, the maker of war, has become a different Germany.

Fifteen years ago, scientific minded Germans were toiling in their laboratories, devising machines of horror to spread destruction throughout the world.

Hated, and feared, they perfected a giant run to shoot projectiles 75 miles into Paris. Their use of deadly gases appalled the world.

But today, the same scientific and technical skill is perfecting mechanical emissaries of peace to spread good will.

The mighty Graf Zeppelin is an outstanding example. Coming to the United States to start its around-the-world flight, it probably has done more to promote friendship than all Germany's statesmen put together. People don't fear things or persons they can see and understand. It's the hidden and unfamiliar things that arouse fear.

The German-built Bremen, fastest steamship afloat, is making a bid to regain the nation's passenger business on the seas, and it is also creating good will.

And another German giant—the 100-passenger Dornier seaplane—is planning a trans-Atlantic crossing and, perhaps, a regular trans-oceanic passenger line.

Swifter transportation always has been a silent ambassador of peace. It brought the east and the west in the United States closer together. And it will break down international barriers as well.

When man can walk and talk with his neighbors more often, and do business with them, he will hesitate much longer about going to war with them.

Hollywood's Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Since it became known that a movie company planned a film about three sisters, and if the talkies have done nothing else for the movie industry, many say that the director was selecting his cast, at least three sister trios among Hollywood's unknowns have been going about together, all dressed alike. The cast now is chosen—all recognized stars—but hope springs eternal in the eye.

Raymond Hatton tra's breast. No doubt, would give them a clean bill alone on the score that they have lifted the short comedy from the realm of low slapstick. While the pie-throwers perhaps will continue to throw for the benefit of the movie fan who likes that sort of thing, a new type of comedy, spiced with sophistication rather than so-called comic falls, rapidly is becoming established.

And the caliber of the actors in the new comedies, or "talking plays" has been improved immeasurably. Players such as Lois Wilson, Sam Hardy, Raymond Hatton, Raymond Griffith, Louise Fazenda, Edward Everett Horton, Nina Romano, Charley Murray and Harry Langdon, most of whom are featured players in feature pictures for the big companies, are in demand between times for leads in the comedies. They have demonstrated that the ability to speak a sparkling line sparklingly now outweighs by far the willingness to take a custard splash in the face.

Comedies in "Big Time"

The new comedies, too, are finding their way into the "big time" theatre which for years have cold-shouldered slapstick, and the increased demand is enabling producers to buy better material from recognized playwrights and authors.

The hope of the chapter drama to crash once more the larger circuits also has been revived by the infusion of talk, and several with dialog are now in the making.

Universal, which never quite abandoned the silent serial thriller, appears eager to be first with a talker. Grace Cunard, by the way, that dashing heroine of "Lucile Love," "The Broken Coin" and other exciting chapter takes a dozen or so years ago, is in the first talk-serial from the "U"—as a matron, however, not as heroine.

For Star-Gazers

"Where the stars dine" is an advertisement capitalized by a number of Hollywood restaurants, beckoning the home and tourist trade inward. Usually the stars do dine in them, heading the Hollywood axiom that a star must be seen.

But there are other places, too, where the stars dine—and principally for the reason that the fact is not advertised. One such is a little delicatessen lunch counter on the boulevard, where a celebrity wishing a quiet bite alone or with a friend may retreat without the need of being "on parade" for sightseers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—This is not intended as a knock; but with 9,700 varieties of cosmetics and various aids to beauty on sale in the New York shops, it would seem to a Gentleman of the Old School that some of 'em might put up a better front.

This does NOT mean you! Now Don't Rush To Be Reporters. Newspapers, as a tribe, are supposed to be underpaid and improvident. As a matter of fact, there are underpaid and improvident toilers in all fields of endeavor. A majority of the lads in the average city room in the metropolis are well paid, hard-working, self-respecting, family men, many of them with a respectably developed "money sense."

Half a dozen reporters of my acquaintance are financially above want for the remainder of their lives. And there was no "rich uncle" stuff about it. They earned and judiciously invested every penny they won. One of them has over $100,000 salted away—Wall Street spoils. And then there's Herb Swope to point to.

Fifteen years ago Herb's desk and mine were contiguous in a Park Row newspaper office. We were both reporters. Herb resigned some months ago, as "Executive Editor" of the paper, a title of his own creation; and rumor, well-founded, says he quit because he found it too difficult to devote proper attention to both the newspaper and his $5,000,000 fortune.

Incidentally, he's getting a racing stable together. And before he had a horse to his name—and he only has one so far—he got the best jockey he could lay his hands on and signed him up at $15,000 a year.

The old newspaper training. The best story in the world isn't worth a tinker's dam if it doesn't make the edition; and the finest horse that ever faced a barrier, has to be adequately ridden. The brains of a race horse are located in the saddle.

It's That Way

Speaking of racing: Ten years ago Bill Farnum, the actor, brother of Dustin, who died a few weeks ago, paid a visit to Saratoga with Charley Stoneham, sports promoter. Bill cleaned up $40,000 on Stoneham's tips and fell so heavily for the racing racket that nothing would do him but a stable of his own. He got hold of an old trainer, Willie Fiesel, handed over his $40,000 and told him to lay in a supply of horseflesh that would do the Farnum class proud.

Instead of picking up three or four nags, Willie bought 18 of 'em, and only one of the bunch ever won a race—a one-eyed charger named Ranger. And Ranger only won when Fiesel sent him to the post as full of hop as a Chink lunker. Farnum finally got so disgusted he made Willie a present of the entire string—keeping one for himself.

It used to be a great sight—Bill cantering down the bridge path in the dewy morn, astride his $15,000 saddle horse.

How It's Done In N'Yawk

There's a Tammany Man in town whom we'll call McSwat, because that isn't his name—a protege of the Big Boss, whose accounts recently came up $75,000 short. The word was passed out

THUNDERSTORMS
 By Alice Johnson Poole

"Oh, mother, there's going to be a thunderstorm—listen!"

Allen took his mother by the hand and drew her towards the window. Together they looked out upon the black sky, the dark line of hills and the tossing trees of the garden.

The storm broke. The thunder roared and rolled; the lightning ran down the sky in swift successive flashes. The rain fell furiously. Through it all Allen and his mother stood by the window.

"Sounds like giants, doesn't it, mother?" said Allen with shining eyes. "I wish I was up there with the giants and the giant's horses."

And again: "What makes the lightning, mother? See, it's a snake running down to the hill. Where does it go, mother?"

Years later, when Allen was almost grown up, he would put on his slicker and walk out into the storm. He said a thunderstorm always wanted to make him sing and shout for joy. The strength and beauty of the storm, gave him a feeling of power and exaltation. He filled his lungs with the keen fresh air and strode through the thick of it.

How many people there are who suffer agonies of silly fear in the face of a thunderstorm. Their lives contain one fear the more, one joy the less.

Are you training your child to love the thunderstorm or to fear it? Your own attitude largely will determine his. If you are afraid, try to disembody your fear so that it will not be transmitted to him thru your example. If you are not afraid, teach him to love the storm and to feel the beauty of it.

VILLAGE IN N. M. SWEEP BY FLOODS

Rio Grande Crumbles Adobe Houses; Stock Lost

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 17 (AP)—The village of San Acacia, a few miles from the Rio Grande, was inundated and in danger of being wiped out by flood waters from the Rio Puerco river today. Hundreds of head of livestock were drowned and property damage was estimated at $100,000. No loss of human life was reported.

Swollen by heavy rains the Rio Puerco went out of its banks late yesterday. The waters descended upon the two villages, crumbling adobe houses and business buildings in San Acacia which were of adobe construction. The population of each town, estimated at 200 persons, fled to higher ground above, or left the district on special trains. Volunteer workers piled sandbags on the Rio Grande levee at San Marcial, which is ten feet below the level of the river bed, to prevent more water entering the town.

Adobe houses there began to crumble today. The Rio Grande was level with the levee and was reported to be rising. Should the water go over the levee in any large amount or the levee break, the town would be destroyed.

The drowned livestock presented a serious problem, and state officials were making plans for the disposal of the carcasses to prevent an epidemic of disease.

The state health department which lacked funds for relief work was under orders of Governor Robert Dillon to send all available men and supplies into the flood district to aid the victims.

An appeal for aid was made to the American Red Cross.

NATURE WINS

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 12 (AP)—The assault of flood waters on San Marcial, New Mexico, apparently gave nature the victory in a fight waged with man there for more than a hundred years.

Three hundred years ago the Spanish Padres, marching north to Santa Fe, established the little settlement in the Rio Grande valley and built it into a prosperous farming community, using the waters of the river to irrigate their crops.

Then came floods. Dikes were built to hold the water in place, but during the period of more than a century the river flowed between these dikes, gradually filled its bed with silt, thus rising to a higher level than the town. Fertile fields became pools of stagnant seepage water.

When the railroad came through the district many years ago, the town was moved nearly a mile from the original Spanish settlement. But here again the river changes its course so often it was necessary to build dikes. Again silt slowly filled the bed until the surface of the stream was ten feet above the main street of the town. The result was it became almost impossible to keep the streets drained.

Gradually the new San Marcial became a deserted village of sinking adobe houses. The Santa Fe railroad was said to have been contemplating moving its division headquarters because of the water.

Plans Changed
Luna Oil Company has altered plans of erecting another derrick over its No. 1 Turner in northern Glasscock county to pull pipe and instead will use a pulling machine. No. 1 Turner is to be abandoned and plugged when pipe is recovered. A saturated lime was cored in the well from 2,470 feet to a total depth of 2,508 feet, but water encountered from 2,400 to 2,460 feet could not be controlled. No. 1 Turner is 2,310 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of section 19, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

Rig builders are to start work Friday morning on Witherpoon and Glasscock Brothers' No. 3 Kloh, Rumsey and Abrams, which will be a shallow test offsetting Cranfill & Reynolds' No. 2 Abrams et al, which encountered a shallow pay at 1,427 feet to 1,438 feet and extended the shallow pay more than three and one-half miles. Witherpoon and Glasscock Brothers have already spudded the well, with a machine and will place rotary equipment over the hole.

ed, turned back and walked off the gangway, almost on the verge of tears.

It was intended during most of the trip and particularly when aided by favorable winds to use only four of the craft's five motors, decreasing its cruising speed to about 58 miles an hour; but increasing its light radius to about 150 hours, or 30 hours more than it was estimated would be needed to reach Tokyo.

In detail, the course planned by Dr. Eckener, upon leaving subject to change as weather conditions develop, was from Friedrichshafen to Berlin, Berlin to Danzig, to Konigsberg. It was expected to cross the Soviet border near Dunaberg, Latvia, striking almost due east to Moscow.

1,400 Miles Away
Moscow, by the course followed, was approximately 1,400 miles from Friedrichshafen, and should be reached about dawn, Friday. From Moscow the craft, it was expected, would be headed almost due east along the 60th parallel to the Ural mountains, from where it was intended to strike due eastward to Yakutsk.

At Yakutsk the ship expected to turn south and slightly east across the Japan sea to Tokyo, goal of the flight, and starting place for the third lap of the journey to Los Angeles after arrival.

From the Ural mountains to Yakutsk the Zeppelin must cover one of the wildest areas known to man. It is peopled largely by Nomadic semi-barbarous tribes, few of whom have ever seen an aircraft and many of whom might be inimical to passengers and crew if the Graf should be forced down.

War On Auto Rule Breakers Claims Many

The war against Big Spring traffic violators, threatened early this week by E. A. Long, chief of police, broke in all sections of the city yesterday and today.

Fifteen men and women entered pleas of guilty and paid fines in corporation court Wednesday morning before Tracy Smith, corporation judge. Two men entered pleas of guilty to charges of disturbing the peace.

Judge Smith, V. A. Smitham, city manager, and Chief of Police Long said that traffic ordinances of Big Spring are to be strictly enforced from now on and that people disregarding stop signs located on dangerous corners, ignoring traffic lights, speeding and making unlawful left hand turns are to be prosecuted. The way motorists ignore traffic signs in Big Spring is dangerous not only to fellow motorists, but to pedestrians. The police department and other Big Spring officers are called on several times a week to settle disputes arising from crossing accidents. Officers state that most accidents are caused by one or two cars disregarding traffic ordinances.

TITLE SUITS FILED
Two suits pertaining to land titles were filed in District Judge Fritz R. Smith's court Thursday. John Mosley et al, executor, is bringing action against R. F. Hall to remove cloud from title and R. L. Alexander filed suit against O. V. Hoover et al, a title action.
