

Investigation Shows Food Prices Now Double Pre-War and May Go Higher

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A warning that food prices—now about double pre-war levels—may go even higher came yesterday from the staff of the special Congressional investigation into soaring living costs.

The detailed study was prepared for use of three subcommittees of Senate-House members who will conduct a series of nation-wide hearings into causes of the high cost of living and possible actions to reduce prices.

It showed that the average family was spending $193 in July of this year for the same food it could have bought in the pre-war period of 1935-39 for $103. On top of this increase most families were shown to be buying more and better foods.

Price boosts since July not included in the tabulation, have pushed food costs to double or higher, one of the Congressional experts said.

Looking ahead for the balance of this year, the survey showed that total food production is about the same as last year but that two factors might send prices higher.

The short corn crop at a time when corn is urgently needed for meat production with meat as one of the highest priced items in the average family's marketing.

Exports of food resulting from the "character and size of commitments to be made for foreign economic aid under the so-called Marshall plan or any other adopted by the Congress."

In general, the report said that peak prices for foods and other cost of living items are due to the unprecedented high levels of employment and incomes of most persons.

Hoof, Mouth Disease Checked in 3 States

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(P)—Gen. Charles H. Corlett, special representative of the Secretary of Agriculture, said yesterday hoof and mouth disease has been wiped out in four Mexican states, but that it will take up to three years to eradicate the malady entirely.

A report by Corlett and Don Stoops, member of the U. S.-Mexico commission for eradication of the disease, to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson was released Saturday.

They said more than 400,000 animals have been slaughtered in Mexico. Corlett reported difficulty is being encountered in communities where farmers are not familiar with the program. To such a misunderstanding he attributed the murder of five Mexican soldiers and one civilian at Binzio recently.

Corlett praised the Mexican government and Army for its cooperation in the program.

A covered bridge 1282 feet long, believed to be the longest such bridge in the world, spans the St. John River in New Brunswick, Can.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from its nervous distress. It works this way: Everyday food enters the stomach, a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morose, lousy, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalisizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and "real" health. Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Baylor Bears Expected to Accomplish Much During Coming Football Season

WACO—(AP)—Baylor football fans face the coming season with hope and a "we will be thankful for what we may receive" attitude.

A much better team than represented the Green and Gold last season appears in the offing, which doesn't necessarily mean a high finish in the Southwest Conference race, but if the Golden Bears win one game it will be an improvement.

The new coach, Bob Woodruff, late of West Point and Georgia Tech, isn't on any kind of spot. No one expects a championship, few expect the Bears to do better than fifth or sixth; quite a group predict the cellar.

In the squad of 52 are 25 lettermen, 13 of whom will be playing their third varsity season. That might sound like excellent prospects were it not for the fact that quite a few boys lettered although playing a small part of the time. Substitutions were quite liberal in 1946 as

Kramer & Parker Win Way to Finals In Tennis Match

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jack Kramer and Frankie Parker, two Los Angeles boys, practically ruined a couple of foreigners yesterday in winning their way through to the finals of the National Amateur Tennis Championships at Forest Hills.

Parker did it by attrition, wearing John Bromwich of Australia down to a footsore, exhausted object of 13,000 fans' sympathy before he finally closed him out by the marathon scores of 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6, in a three-hour and 25-minute struggle.

Kramer did his—bang! He lost an opening set to Jaroslav Drobny, the left-handed Czech, and then he got mad and ranted Jaroslav limb from limb. The score was 3-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-1. If it had been a tight crowd, the cry "stop it" would have been heard long before the end. That one lasted only 1 hour and five minutes.

Drobny, by leading 3-2 in the second set when the roof caved in. Probably he never knew what hit him. Seventeen more games were played, and Jaroslav won exactly one of them. He tried to serve nine times, and eight times Kramer smashed him down. In the same terrific stretch, the big American served eight times and lost only seven points.

The contrast between the two matches was complete. Parker and Bromwich, both baseline specialists, played almost interminably under a blazing sun which sapped their strength until, toward the end, they looked like a pair of tottering old timers. Frankie and Johnnie went no longer than the song of the same name.

Kramer and Drobny, coming on later, looked like a brace of quarter-horses, by comparison. They went for winners on every point. It was a thriller through the first set and until the great Kramer began hitting bullets. After that Drobny was strictly a displaced person.

Kramer's incomparable form through the final 17 games made it certain he will be a top-heavy favorite to defeat Parker for his second straight title tomorrow.

Frankie, who was the champion in 1944 and '45, demonstrated little more than rugged endurance and a capacity for returning the ball against Bromwich, although the big crowd loved their many long and often spectacular rallies.

Bromwich was so leg-weary in the final set that the tournament referee, Dr. H. Ellsworth Davenport, sent a courier out to ask if he would like the services of the club masseur, but the Aussie declined.

Special Race to Be Run at Belmont Park

NEW YORK—(AP)—In compliance with a request from Ben Jones, general manager of Warren Wright's Calumet Farm horses, Belmont Park announced yesterday a special six furlong event for Sept. 22 which will serve as a public prep for Armet's match race against Robert J. Kleberg's Assault at the same track Sept. 27.

The newly-arranged dash will carry a $6,500 purse and will be a weight-for-age affair for three year olds and upward, with allowances.

Under the conditions, Armet would carry 130 pounds and probably would have to tackle a number of fast, if not as famous, campaigners.

Among those which might face the Calumet gelding at 126 pounds is Cesar E. Breaux's With Pleasure, a four-year-old which won four Chicago stakes, including three decisions over Armet. Another probable is Nelson Seabra's South American star Esnueno, which showed speed although well beaten in the International Gold Cup event at Belmont Park last July 19.

The new race has been carded because no regularly scheduled condition event is included in the Belmont book for the meeting which would be suitable for Armet, which is now training at Garden State Park in Camden, N. J.

Meantime, Assault will have a short speed "blowout" tomorrow in preparation for a more strenuous workout on Monday. The probability is he will not start in a race before the $100,000 meeting with Armet, but will have another stiff distance workout a week from Monday.

New Associate Justice to State Court Is Named

AUSTIN—(AP)—A new associate justice was named to the Supreme Court of Texas yesterday as C. S. Slatton resigned from that post to become general attorney of Texas for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Appointed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester to succeed Slatton was 42-year-old James P. Hart, Austin attorney, who served as an assistant district attorney from 1939 to 1941 and who successfully represented the Railroad Commission in its legal disputes with two oil companies over its East Texas field prororation order.

Slatton will succeed the late John D. Bickett, Jr., of Dallas, and will make his headquarters in Dallas.

Slatton was appointed by the Supreme Court as judge on the Court's Commission of Appeals Jan. 1, 1940, and became an associate justice in 1945 after passage of a constitutional amendment which dissolved the commission and created a nine-man Supreme Court.

He was a native of Eastland County. He practiced law in San Antonio from 1930 to 1937 and was then appointed associate justice of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals. He was re-elected without opposition.

Hart, 42, is one of the youngest men ever to attain a seat on the high tribunal. The youngest man to sit on the bench was Judge Nelson Phillips, who became a member of the Supreme Court at 40.

Slatton's term of office expires Jan. 1, 1949, which will necessitate Hart's standing for election next year if he desires to continue in office.

Hart was born in Austin and attended its public schools and the University of Texas. After receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree he attended Harvard Law School to secure his law degree and became a member of the Texas Bar in 1928.

He was district attorney of the 53rd District Court from 1933-37 and served as special judge for that district in 1938 before joining the attorney general's department.

He has engaged in private practice since July, 1941.

After his two week course, he became qualified to wear the traditional "Boots and Wings" of the Eleventh Airborne Division "Angels," and also now he draws fifty dollars a month extra as jump pay.

Enlisting in the Army at Roswell, New Mexico, on Sept. 25, 1946, he proceeded to take his basic training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, and after a short leave home, embarked for overseas and upon arrival at Yokohama, Japan, volunteered for parachute duty with the Eleventh Airborne Division and was assigned to Company "I" 188th Parachute Infantry Regiment, stationed near Senjai, Japan.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By ARTHUR EDSON (For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Shhhhhh! Quiet, everybody!

We are about to peek in on the nation's best kept secret.

We are about to observe a secret so secret it makes the atom bomb hush sound like Thursday night at the sewing circle.

Men inside a locked room. No one permitted to go out. No one permitted to come in. Blinds tied down. Armed guards on the prow.

That carefully guarded top secret is the monthly crop report.

Possibly honest, innocent little you never thought about the fortune to be made in the grain market by sly characters who could find out in advance what the Department of Agriculture has up its statistical sleeve.

But others have—especially a man who worked for the department back in 1905.

This gent seemed to be extremely sensitive to light. He was forever adjusting the window shade. By coincidence, a pal of his who understood this window shade language perfectly was parked outside.

One blind adjustment alone, testimony at his trial eventually disclosed, enabled our sensitive gent to clean up $70,000.

Now on the day the figures are to be assembled the figure-assemblers come to work at 6 a.m. They're locked in a room, with all the blinds securely down. And there they stay until just before 3 p.m., the time of the great disclosure.

It has been a scandal proof system.

The crop report came out this week, and naturally I was there.

Four telegraph sets and five telephone booths line one wall of room 2901. A white line runs the length of the room.

At 2:55 p.m., all telegraphers and reporters were ordered back of the white line.

At 2:56, a bald little man came in, carefully carrying the precious grain permits. Gravelly he laid one, face down, at each telegraph key and telephone.

At 2:59, Mrs. Sarah Elliott, assistant chief of the Agriculture Telegraph and Telephone Section, said, "No hurry. There's a whole minute yet."

Fifty-five seconds later, Mrs. Elliott said, "Get ready."

At exactly 3 p.m., she said, "Go!" Everyone leaped the two steps that separated each man from his phone or telegraph key.

At 3:01, the secret was out.

The corn crop is going to be the smallest in years.

on Texas farms until they could obtain clearance, which requires about two weeks.

He estimated that only two percent of those attempting to leave the state were Mexican citizens. Approximately 17 percent of the family heads were in the United States military service in the last war.

Pressure for the crackdown, Yeager said, came from the Texas State Labor Commission and the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College.

Yeager said that Austin and College Station officials were deluged with protests from Texas farmers who said that they needed the migratory workers to harvest their crops. Protests also came from crew organizers who said they had paid the required state labor agent taxes and who claimed that their crews were being raided by other operators who had not paid the tax.

Yeager said that he and seven state officials would direct the crackdown at Marshall, junction of major highways to Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, and indicated that other officials would stop migratory workers at other strategic points on the East and Northeast Texas border.

TIPS FOR TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS
Theme song of many letters from high schoolers is the big question—“When is a girl old enough for dates?”

Girls who are 14, 15 and 16 write that their parents do not allow them to have dates, although most of the other girls in their classes go to dances, school doings and movies with boys in their neighborhood or school.

Our reply is this: When a girl is old enough to go to high school she's old enough to attend high school affairs—football and basketball games, club shindigs and dances. If she comes home at a reasonable hour afterward, movie dates usually begin at the age of 15 or 16.

School activities are almost as important as studies, for they help to teach sportsmanship, leadership, co-operation and social poise. They teach boys and girls how to get along with other people and take part in community life. All this helps to give them a well-rounded personality and make them good citizens.

That's what school affairs are for. They're not planned just by students, but are also carefully planned, supervised and approved by faculty, school board and Parent-Teachers' Association. They're the normal beginning of "teeners' social and community life."

But remember, there's more to dating than hitting the bright lights. You must prove that you're grown up enough for dates by going home on time, by refusing to "park" in cars, by seeing that Mother and Dad meet each date when he calls for you. Double dates with other girls and boys are best at first. "Going steady" or romance is for later in life. Right now boy-and-girl friendships and fun are the thing.

The bride wore a white wool crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Jester Announces Appointees to Texas Good Neighbor Commission

AUSTIN—(AP)—Appointees of Gov. Beauford H. Jester have made up the entire membership of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, recently torn by a controversy over activities of its former executive secretary.

Jester re-appointed R. E. Smith of Houston, a key figure in the row climaxed by the resignation of Mrs. Pauline Kibbe, executive secretary. He also named Smith as chairman.

Mrs. Kibbe quit the Commission, saying she had been informed that her discharge was the condition upon which several Senators had withdrawn opposition to a bill re-creating the Commission.

Smith denied there had been such an agreement. Jack Blackwell of Rockport—one of the old members who was not re-named by Jester—

Barbarity in Indian War Is Shock to Most

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The barbarity displayed in the communal warfare between Hindus and Moslems in India has come as a shock to the average foreigner who has been accustomed to gauging life in that great and mysterious sub-continent on the basis of acquaintance with its famous names and achievements.

We are given to thinking of India in terms of the Taj Mahal, adjudged by experts to be the world's most exquisite building. However, we don't realize that the "home" of the average inhabitant of this land of mystery is a mud hut whose outside is plastered with cow-dung which is drying in the sun for fuel to cook the thin gruel which is the main food of an ever hungry people.

Indians in general are treading the paths their ancestors trod centuries ago. Only 14 percent of them above the age of five are literate, and anything beyond the ability to read and write simple letters is confined to a comparative few. The rank and file are deep in ignorance.

When Senate opposition to the bill putting the Commission on a permanent basis developed, it was widely reported that opposition to Mrs. Kibbe centered on her confidential report to the Commission which was highly critical of migratory labor conditions in the lower Rio Grande Valley. She later made this report public.

In naming the Commission's membership, Jester suggested that it be recommended to the next Legislature that the teaching of Spanish in the public schools be made compulsory since "language is a potent factor in binding peoples together."

He also had this comment on the membership:

"The members of this Commission have qualities of mind and heart and the experience and capacity to put into effect methods by which inter-American understanding and good will may be promoted and inter-American relations advanced without resort to punitive measures or the application of civil or criminal sanctions, which is their duty under the act creating the Commission."

Bentzen, Coffield and Smith were named for two year terms; Byrne, Roderic and Warren for four years; Hallif, Hoblitzelle, Wainwright, for six years.

his own existence—against—fate. Their code is an eye for an eye. So the present bloody crisis, which Pandit Nehru characterizes as "analogous to war," can be attributed to a release of primitive passions in communities which long have been torn by religious and political differences.

The fury of the initial communal fighting has subsided greatly. Still one doesn't venture to predict what may be in store for the big peninsula before it has negotiated the passage from turmoil to peaceful independence. One can foresee the possibility of much more mourning in Moslem villages, and Hindu funeral pyres will tell their story of strife.

Despite all this we shall make a great mistake, it seems to me, if we jump to the conclusion that the peninsula isn't capable of self-rule.

The mentality of the Indian is high and he is capable of great things. The only way he can learn to govern is by governing. This transitional period may produce even greater storms than we have seen—possibly even all-out civil war—but your correspondent, having spent nearly a year in that country at various times, still believes there are the makings of a great power on the peninsula.

Luck Rode With This Auto Driver

By JACK RUTLEDGE
AP Staff Writer

The god of luck was riding with a Texarkana man, says Fred Newberry of Texarkana.

The friend was driving so fast that when he reached the curve he failed to get on the right side of the road. With a prayer, he went through the underpass on the left side of the highway.

Just as he flashed through, a car coming from the opposite direction zoomed through the other side. The second driver was in the same fix.

Burglars broke into a display window of a Harlingen jewelry store, took several watches.

The next day the jeweler—R. B. Roberts—advised: "They must be good! Some people can't wait until the store opens to get them! This 'visitor' showed remarkable good taste in watches. We invite you to look at them—but please come around during store hours, won't you?"

No one knew how it made the trip, but the Dallas City Hall received a letter from Waldenburg, Germany, addressed:

Municipal Council, Registry Office, Dallas, Texas, Republic Oklahoma, U. S. A.

Ernest Merryman of Texarkana is wearing a crew haircut these days. An unidentified lady accidentally rubbed two bundles of chewing gum into his hair which, of course, had to be cut off.

Miss Mollie Ball of Dallas was far unlucky. Her right arm was in a cast because of an accident at home. Driving down she was in a car-taxi accident. She broke her other arm.

But luck was riding a plow with O. C. Talbert of Stephenville. Last February he lost a billfold containing $68. Frenzied search failed to locate it. While plowing recently he turned up the money, badly torn and moulded, but still worth $68.

LOST 42 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcenstrate DOES take off fat. It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcenstrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof
"When I started taking Barcenstrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcenstrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcenstrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old."

"Before taking Barcenstrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all these things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded."

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever—and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcenstrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcenstrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcenstrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me." — Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 609 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists
The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenstrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER

MARTIN-speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., will soon set forth on one of the most extraordinary tours that the presiding officer of the lower chamber has ever made. His cross-country findings may influence the shape of legislation at the next session, help to frame the 1948 platform and also affect the selection of the G. O. P. candidates.

The broad Yankee will do a minimum of talking despite several scheduled speeches, and a maximum of listening. He will first ascertain the nationwide reaction to the trade legislation record at the recent session of Congress. He will also try to discover public sentiment on tax reduction, foreign loans, the Hartley-Taft Act, a farm program, social welfare measures and veterans' demands.

As it is his habit when campaigning in his own Massachusetts district Mr. Martin will consult with the rank-and-file as well as with the party bigwigs. He will talk with small farmers, tradesmen, business men, labor representatives. He has already asked leaders in various sections to arrange what might be termed "town meetings" for him.

The Brave Revolt

May Get Compromise

The Battle of the Helpline has produced some reasonably good gags and those who have rebelled against it have shown considerable bravery. But we doubt if any of the gags will be any better than this one, and certainly no more serious.

Now along come the dictators of fashion. It's a basic style which was becoming, with minor alterations throughout the war years, is now strictly old hat.

This means that millions of women who can't or their husbands can't afford, must lay out money for a new wardrobe, or wear one of style. The dresses in last year's wardrobe probably aren't worn out, but somebody has come along and declared them passé.

This has been going on periodically for centuries. Women generally have seemed to object that the changes of fashion were as inexorable as the movement of astronomical bodies. Theirs not to reason why, theirs but to change or practically die of mortification.

Fashions this season have changed partly because the designers have decided that they and the public are tired of wartime styles, but mostly because designers and dress-makers have been irked by wartime material controls. The current calls for about a yard more material in each dress, which means more money for everybody concerned in dress production.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood's open-armed welcome to Margaret Truman's singing debut at the Hollywood Bowl didn't surprise Abe Burrows, who said:

"It was a pleasure to have some one here from Washington who wasn't on an investigation."

Chubby, semi-aged, bespectacled Abe Burrows, Hollywood's radio writer, he helped Ed Gardner write Duffy's Tavern for three years, will write the Joan Davis show again this year.

But for some time now he has held the undisputed title of Hollywood's No. 1 party entertainer with a mad venture of skidding popular songwriting, satirizing Norman Corwin's radio dramatics and just saying funny things.

Like the time it rained out when "Going My Way" was a big hit, the studio asked him what he'd like to do and Abe said:

"I'd like to film a re-make."

"Great," said the studio. "What picture would you like to re-make?" And Abe replied:

"Going My Way."

LAUGHS, BUT NO CASH

For almost five years, at private parties, Abe entertained the sophisticated upper strata of New York and Hollywood's big business. But he couldn't get paid for anything except his radio writing.

"We get your humor," big shots in the film and radio business told him, but the public won't.

But now Abe is proving the big shots were wrong. He has his own radio show now and he's proving

WHAT CAN WE EXPECT?

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Ask the man in the street what he thinks of the United Nations organization today and he will probably sum it up with "That bunch of guys out beyond Brooklyn ain't doin' anything. Every time they come up with an idea, Russia vetoes it."

Amid mounting public opinion that the UN "can't do the job" it was supposed to do, some 500 diplomats from 55 nations, with several thousand aides and assistants, will formally open a new session of the United Nations General Assembly at Flushing Meadows, N. Y., Sept. 16.

To say that this session is crucial puts it mildly. With the world cupping, any straw that can be grasped is a life raft.

That effort are being made to avoid disaster by the Truman doctrine for Greece and Turkey or the Marshall plan for western Europe—both outside the UN—is taken by some people as an indication that UN isn't doing its job.

A group of 12 senators and congressmen has proposed that the United Nations Charter be revised. Such a responsible citizen as ex-Supreme Court Justice Owen Roberts goes even farther, and says the UN cannot maintain peace. He wants a new federation of states willing to surrender their sovereignty

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

No Wonder We are Confused

When one reads statements made by many college professors, it is easy to understand why we do so badly confused, why we do not know what simple words mean, such words as "stealing," "thieves," and "just."

It is easy to see what is happening to the country when one reads the testimony of Assistant Professor of Economics at Loyola University, Rev. George H. Dunne. Rev. Dunne is testifying at Los Angeles before the Congressional committee investigating the cause of so much labor trouble in the industry. The Los Angeles Times quotes him as saying at this inquiry that he gave a lengthy narration of his work and of others who like him were moved by the workers suffering resulting from the strikes. All of his efforts and those of others which he described to be peace to the warring parties came to naught, he testified. Of course it would come to naught.

When labor unions are organized, all labor trouble is nothing but a jurisdictional dispute. That's all there is to unions. They claim that certain men have rights to do jobs that other men do not have the equal right to do and their claim is based on seniority and they use seniority as a sole basis of the right of a job.

Everything else being equal, everyone will grant that seniority is proper, but the fact is that the matter are that in no case is everything else equal. No two men are alike. There is always a difference. It is true that sometimes it is impossible to tell the difference, but there is a difference. Seniority, the disregard of values and production as is the case with every union is not being the caste system. It is incompatible with the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights, who has argued yet we have Rev. Dunne a preacher so confused in his thinking that he thinks it is possible to settle a labor dispute when one man claims rights that other men do not have.

Listen to what he is reported as having said:

"The 32-year-old economics professor expounded the theory that 'massed picketing is justified in a just strike.' He later declared that this is a just strike. Asked whether he ever had denounced the strikers or their leaders, he said, 'It is probable that I did not.' He defended mass picketing when it is a protest against men being deprived unjustly of jobs which they have a right to," he declared the current strike case. He denounced as "thieves" men who go through picket lines to take jobs from which men walked out when they walked out for a just cause."

Young Men Urged To Learn 'What's Going On in World'

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—John Ben Sheppard of Longview, Texas, president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, reported in national headquarters here that in a speech at Sheffield, England, he urged young men all over the world to concern themselves more with what is going on in politics, diplomacy and economics. He spoke before the National Council of British Junior Chambers of Commerce. Representatives of

DOCTOR WOODWARD'S AMBITION By Elizabeth Seifert

THE STORY: Nancy confesses to Andrew that she is in love with him. Andrew is dismayed that she should take their casual flirtation seriously. He fears a woman who will ruin his chances of advancement at the hospital. He warns Nancy to be "discreet."

XX
NANCY took a taxi from the hospital into town, and did her marketing, thinking how odd it was to go from a tender love scene to such a domestic task. But Andrew was right—life must go on, and as decently as two mature, conscientious people could make it seem.

That afternoon she got out the trunk which contained her mother's wedding gown that Nikki was hoping to wear at her own wedding. She and Nikki and a couple of Nikki's friends spent a delightful afternoon examining the relics.

The gown was yellowed to a soft golden tint which Nancy at first decided they could not use. But when Nikki tried the dress on, and the color was so right with her brown eyes, and amber hair, they decided that the whole wedding could be worked out in tones of ivory and gold.

It was interesting to do this sort of planning, to make their lists, and to laugh hilariously at the little hat Nikki found in the bottom of the trunk, mashed so flat she said it was in the latest style.

The young people finally seated to dress for the Cadet Formal at the nearby Naval Air school that night, and Nancy, putting the clutter away, agreed that Andrew had been right to counsel her to caution. There were things to be got out of the way—Nikki's wedding for one, Nancy could not pool things for Nikki; a month or two was not long to hold her own romance in abeyance.

Jaycee groups from France, Holland, Scotland, Austria and Erie were present. "Since the war" Sheppard said, "our members are asserting themselves more forcibly in the field of public affairs. We believe that if democracy and freedom were worth fighting to preserve, they are certainly worth working and fighting to maintain."

"But young men all over the world had better find out what's going on in the world, I here and now call upon young men everywhere to don the uniform of freedom and join their hands and hearts in working together for a just and lasting peace in a world free of hate, suspense and prejudice."

A half-century ago, Lorenzo Dow (or "L. D.") Miller was known to practically every person in the Panhandle country, while his wife was popular and loved wherever she and her husband lived. Mrs. Miller's ability and effectiveness as a school teacher are recalled to this day.

L. D. Miller was an early-day lawyer who made his mark with the rest of the early group of the legal profession in this country. Possessed of a rare wit, he was widely known as an eccentric person. He served as county attorney of Wheeler County, and in 1886 was elected district attorney of the 31st Judicial District. Later, he missed being judge of the same district by only a narrow margin of votes. He was elected county judge of Wheeler County for four terms—from 1916 to a short time prior to his death.

He was at one time a partner-at-law with the late John B. Harrison who, later, became one of the justices of the Supreme Court of Oklahoma.

Contemporaries and close friends of his were Judges W. B. Plemons, John W. Veal, H. H. Wallace, and L. C. Brown, all of Amarillo; the late well-known H. E. Hoover, of Canadian, and Temple Houston, of Old Mobeetie, who was the son of the noted Sam Houston.

Mr. Miller leaves one daughter, Mrs. Winnie Davis Miller Wiley, (Mrs. R. E. Wiley) of San Antonio. Two sons and the first wife are buried at Miami.

We Won't!
LA CROSSE, WIS.—(AP)—Joseph Craig, proprietor of a meat market, posted a new price card in his market window Saturday. It read: "Butter 92 cents; please don't buy it."

you, why shouldn't she go with him?"
"But he—Does she like him?"
"She must, though she says she doesn't, especially. He asked her, and she could find no reason to refuse to go."

NANCY caught enough of her control to choose her words. "Martin," she said firmly. "I don't think you should let Susan go places with Dr. Woodward."

He laughed. "I tried to persuade her not to do this—but he's a much more persuasive man than I am, Nancy."

"I didn't know she went with him."
"I don't think she does, much."
"Martin, why don't you marry Susan?"

He got up from the deep chair, strolled across the room, a tall, slim-waisted man in brown trousers and white shirt. His black hair was rouged upon his head as if his fingers had ploughed through it many times. "Susan thinks she could not leave Malcolm just now."

"That isn't any reason for refusing to marry you, if she loves you."
"Then maybe she doesn't."
"Oh, but she does!"

He shook his head. "I hope she does. But she brings up the argument of Malcolm needing her, which doesn't seem to me to be an adequate reason. And she does accept dates with Andrew Woodward—who, I'll admit, is much too attractive for my peace of mind. Though I do fool myself into thinking he may be using Susan to get to Dec. He's a very ambitious career doctor, Woodward is."

Fearing that Martin's keen eyes would read her thoughts, Nancy leaned forward to pick up one of the magazines on the low maple table before the couch. Could it be that Andrew had cultivated Nancy to get to Malcolm? Looking back to that morning, she realized that he had not received her offer in a truly lover-like fashion—and tonight he was dancing with Susan Perry. Nancy had never been jealous of Susan as Malcolm's nurse, but as a girl Andrew dated—
