

'Hosses Are Just Like People,' Says Trainer of Bill Duggan

JIM BRYANT has just been "playing catch" with Bill Duggan, and the horse has just caught a wadded cloth with his teeth, even though it was thrown under his side instead of straight toward him.

BILL DUGGAN has just been told, "find it, boy." He explores a suspicious-looking small mound of sand to find a cloth buried there, and shortly after brings it to Jim Bryant.

TWO INSEPARABLE PAIRS, 76-year-old Jim Bryant of Almarred tells how he feels about his horse as he says, "I wouldn't put a collar on him for a hundred dollars."

Versatile Quarter Horse Knows Between 20 and 25 Standard Acts

By W. U. McCoy
Jim Bryant, down at Almarred has a way with horses. For a man whose dad whipped him every morning until he was 21 for fooling with horses, Bryant has come a long way in horsemanship, and although the 76-year-old former blacksmith has worked with and trained scores of horses in his time, he has just completed four years of daily work with a horse, "Bill Duggan," who shows an uncanny degree of human-like intelligence. Bryant got Bill Duggan when he was a skinny two-month-old, on a trade for 15 knives. Bryant is an accomplished craftsman and his hobby is making knives from car axles. From that time on he has worked with the animal, and visitors beat a path to his door daily to watch the handsome animal go through his paces. When visitors come, Bryant is likely to say to the horse, in a conversational tone, "Some fellers out here want to see you. Come on out, boy." And Bill Duggan will unlash the door of his stall and come up to nuzzle Bryant affectionately. He will act as errand boy at a word as Bryant tells him to go to the barn and bring a curry comb, a polishing cloth or whatever Bryant asks for. Among the tricks in Bill Dug-

U.S. Supports Partition of Palestine Arab Reports Are Termed War of Nerves

Airplane Tour Reveals No Border Troops

By Joseph C. Goodwin
JERUSALEM—AP—An airplane tour low over the Northern and Eastern border areas of Palestine yesterday failed to disclose any troop concentrations within 20 miles of either side of the frontier, and Jewish spokesmen declared Arab reports of such mobilizations were a "war of nerves."
(At Beirut, Lebanon, where the Arab League has been meeting to decide upon measures against Palestine partition, Abdel Rahman Azim Pasha, league secretary, reiterated to reporters that troops of Syria, Lebanon and Transjordan already had moved up to the frontier to cordon off the Holy Land and said "others will shortly move.")
A spokesman for Hagana, secret Jewish defense organization, denied his group was taking anything more than "normal security precautions" against a thrust of force by the Arab League of seven nations. These precautions, he said, consisted of sending no more than a dozen or so specialists into the eastern Galilee area in the north where there are large Jewish settlements. These steps were taken, he said, early this month before the reports of Arab troop movements were received from Beirut.
"Hagana is convinced," he added, "that the news about alleged Arab troops now carries within itself the element of sensations and of a war of nerves. The same goes for any other about alleged movements of Egyptian troops."
David Ben-Gurion, chairman of the Jewish Agency Executive, declared the United States declaration before the United Nations Assembly accepting in principle the partition of Palestine was an "important step towards establishment of a Jewish state."
In a flight of 300 miles, zigzagging at low altitude often not exceeding 200 feet, on both sides of the Syrian, Lebanon and Transjordan frontiers with Palestine yesterday, I saw only four soldiers. Unless they were hiding in caves or camouflaged as camels, there were not 1,000 troops within 20 miles of either side of the border, from the Mediterranean to the Dead Sea.
I saw two Arab Legionnaires guarding the winter home of King Abdullah of Transjordan, and two at the Allenby Bridge across the River Jordan.
Visibility was such that a single civilian automobile kicked up a cloud of dust that could be seen for 20 miles.
The pastoral tranquility of border towns and villages appeared unbroken. Grazing, camels and sheep looked up, and the inhabitants, in bedouin tents and camps, and villages continued about their slow-motion chores.

Two Killed, Four Injured in Borger Refinery Blaze
BORGER—AP—Two men died yesterday of injuries received in an explosion and fire which caused damage estimated at $100,000 to the Borger Refinery and the Phillips Petroleum Company.
Four other men suffered light injuries in the mishap, which a company spokesman said started from a broken shaft in a gasoline pump, and occurred about 3:45 p. m. Friday.
Ray Smith of Phillips, Texas, died early Saturday. E. L. York of Borger died about noon. Slightly injured were J. F. May of Borger; Hugh Hanson of Phillips; J. W. Bennett of Phillips; and H. P. Everhart of Borger. All were operating employees.
The company spokesman, J. E. Eogk, of Bartlesville, Okla., manager of the refining department, made the damage estimate.
He said the break allowed the shaft to come out of the pump and permitted gasoline to escape into the area, which he described as Units 16 and 17, of the plant's naphtha reforming unit.
About 100 barrels of gasoline were consumed in the blaze, and damage was confined largely to the pump area with some damage to the main piping, the company said.
The report said the flames were controlled by 11 p. m., and extinguished by 3 a. m. Saturday.
Eogk said the explosion would hamper production of gasoline for a short time.
Weather Prophet Is Seeking Hiding Place
They call him Prophet Pritchett now instead of Patrimoine Pritchett. It happened early Friday night when Patrimoine Geoffrey Williams remarked to a group of people: "It looks like we may have rain tonight."
"Crack!" went the whip in Bryant's hands. But it was little more than a show, inasmuch as it barely touched the prized animal. "Mr. Gonna 'whup' you," said the master striding up to the horse's side and talking in his ear.
The horse dropped his ears, and nodded that he understood, and then the show went on.
He learns tricks rapidly, and now has 20 or 25 standard "acts" that he is pleased to exhibit. As an example, one day Bryant was carrying a

Britain Digs In for Winter's Crisis Tito Breaks Relations With Chile

Break Follows Expulsion of Slav Diplomats

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—(AP)—Declaring that Chile no longer regulates "its relations with other states independently," Yugoslavia announced yesterday she had decided to break diplomatic relations with the South American republic because of the deportation of two of her diplomats.
The break, announced by Marshal Tito's foreign ministry, was an aftermath of the expulsion Wednesday night of Chile of the two Yugoslav diplomats who were charged with operating under direction of the new Communist International Bureau in Belgrade and fomenting labor strikes in Chile.
Yugoslavia charged that the reason given for the expulsion were "without any foundation" and were accompanied by a "whole number of most fantastic libels," against the Yugoslav government.
Hours before the Yugoslav step was disclosed in Belgrade, the Soviet press and radio in Moscow quoted a Tass dispatch from New York asserting that the United States was behind the expulsion move.
The dispatch termed "silly" the Chilean allegations that the Yugoslav diplomats were acting as representatives of "international communism."
Pravda, Communist Party organ in the Russian capital, called Chile's act "a lackey-like service to American imperialism."
The two diplomats involved were Andrej Cunja, charge d'affaires of the Yugoslav legation in Santiago, Chile, and Danilo Jakovic, under-secretary of the legation in Buenos Aires. The Yugoslav legation in the Argentine capital has announced their arrival in Buenos Aires.
The announcement by the Yugoslav foreign ministry said, "this is a part of the intended campaign which is not in the interests of Chile and the Chilean people but in the interests of expansionist tendencies of the powers who are working to direct the home and foreign policy of Chile."
Chile is not now represented by a mission in Belgrade, and no immediate Chilean reaction to the Yugoslav step was obtainable. Brazilian foreign officials here declined to comment.

City Purchases Pipeline Through Recreation Park

Purchase yesterday of approximately 1,325 feet of four-inch gas pipe for $450 by the City Commission disclosed a violation of contract between the Danziger Oil and Refining Company and the city when the company sold its pipeline, running through Recreation Park, to the Phillips Petroleum Company and the Fort Worth Pipe and Supply Company, several months ago.
A special call meeting of the City Commission Saturday morning, and held with representatives of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association, The Hereford Breeders Association and H. G. Burch, representing the Fort Worth Pipe and Supply Company, was held in the City Commission Room, City Hall, to arrive at a purchase price for the pipe.
Burch, whose company is now taking up about 17 miles of pipeline it purchased from the Danziger Company, was seeking to remove the pipe from Recreation Park, or sell it to the city.
The four-inch main had been used to supply heat for the sale barns and caretaker's home on Recreation Park and the gas was supplied by Danziger.
In the contract, drawn up in 1936, the company stated that in case of removal or sale of the pipe the city would be given 15 days' notice to decide whether or not they wanted to purchase the pipe running through the park. At that time liability for removal of the pipe and the easement of right-of-way called for damages to be paid for growing crops, pasture land and fences. Later the steel grandstands and riding arena were erected over the pipeline, also the race track.
Dan Williams, associated with the Danziger Company, told the City Commission, in the public meeting, he had not forgotten about the 15-day notice clause in the contract when the pipe was sold to the Fort Worth and Phillips companies. However, Burch at first declared his bottom figure was 45 cents per foot for the pipe.
The city commission declared they would not permit the removal of the pipe from under the grandstands unless the Fort Worth Pipe and Supply Company would assume liability for any damage done to people or stock as a result of the ground disturbance in removing the pipe. The City Commission and the Rodeo Association also wanted to retain the pipe and erect over it a gas line of the Texas Gas and Power Company running nearby for future gas supplies.
Burch admitted he could be held up for 15 days unless the city and he could come to an agreement on sale.
The long and sizzling session over rights and rights-of-way brought out that the pipelines had been laid in 1926 over the land owned by the city and that the easement then provided for damage

Gold Star Mothers Are Being Honored

All Gold Star Mothers of World Wars I and II are invited to a tea being held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the City Club Rooms.
Mothers whose sons were killed in service of their country are being honored by the American Legion and VFW Auxiliaries.
"If you are a Gold Star Mother you do not have to have a special invitation to attend," an Auxiliary spokesman stated yesterday. "Invitations were sent out to known addresses, others could not be obtained."

Nation Hopes for Fulfillment of Marshall Plan

Editor's Note: Britain's Labor government, faced with economic difficulties and an active Conservative opposition, has been reorganized for the hard winter ahead. Here Jack Smith of the Associated Press London Bureau, outlines in the AP's regular weekend story the background of the significant news that comes from London day by day.
By JACK SMITH
LONDON—(AP)—Britain's Labor government is digging in for a winter of anticipated hardship, determined to keep the nation's economy alive with stopgap measures until the hoped-for fulfillment of the Marshall Plan.
"If I could see a definite possibility of a start of the Marshall Plan by next June, then the (stopgap) aids probably would see us through," said Sir Stafford Cripps, new economics minister, in a statement to a news conference last week.
Until June, Cripps said, Britain's economy will be based on emergency expedients, such as sales from the gold reserves that back her currency, dollar acquisitions from the international monetary fund in exchange for sterling, possibly a loan from the International Bank for "productive" enterprises, and the hoped-for release of the frozen $400,000,000 balance of the $3,750,000,000 American loan.
Without a Marshall Plan, government and industrial leaders say they see nothing ahead but what Cripps called a "gradual economic strangulation" which would spread to Europe, bringing industry to a standstill, wide unemployment and greater privation than ever.
Leaders in every sphere of British life say the winter pull will be hard. A "must" is increased production for export to pull together the dollars necessary to keep an in-flow of food and materials for industry. The obstacles acknowledged by all are worn machinery, lessened incentives for workers, tightening markets and occasional but grievous industrial bottlenecks.
Prime Minister Attlee's extensive new government shakeup, in the view of Conservatives as well as Laborites, was designed entirely to strengthen his team for the difficult days ahead.
The mild Prime Minister fired or shifted 30 senior and junior ministers, demoting Emanuel Shinwell, the chairman of the party's executive, from his post as fuel minister. In the process he brought in

Farm Parity Price 'Modernization' Bumps Opposition
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The administration's proposal for "modernizing" farm parity prices, on which government price supports are based, bumped into quick-forming opposition on Capitol Hill yesterday.
Rep. Pace (D-Ga.), a member of the Agriculture Committee, called it "modernizing in reverse."
"It is an abandonment of basic principles of parity," he said. "It is hard to believe that Congress ever will adopt such a program."
Rep. Arthur S. Hill (R-Colo.), another committee member, told a reporter "there's going to be a real battle before the parity formula is changed, and I predict there won't be much change in it at all."
Present parity is a formula designed to give farmers the same purchasing power they had in some past favorable period, usually 1909-1914. It is used as a guide by the government in determining the level at which it will support prices.
The new formula proposed by the Agriculture Department would boost parity for livestock and dairy products and lower it on grains and acrobats.
Male Voices Needed In 'Messiah' Group
The best first-rehearsal crowd of any year turned out last week to try out for the "Messiah" which is planned for presentation at the St. Matthew's Episcopal Mission this Christmas season.
Mrs. Edgar W. Henshaw, wife of the pastor, said yesterday there is, however, a lack of male voices.
Rehearsals, she stated, will continue at the Mission, Browning at Ward, until such time as the group grows too large. They are held on Monday, 7:30 p. m.
HAYSTACK CUSHIONS FLYER'S JUMP
JILHLAVA, Czechoslovakia—(AP)—Frantisek Kominek was performing an acrobatic stunt, hanging from a plane above spectators at an air meet in this Moravian town.
Suddenly he found he could not get back into the plane.
A car was sent out and Kominek was given the signal to jump when the plane flew at low altitude. But this proved impossible.
The pilot then decided to fly over a lake and let the acrobat dive into the water. On the way he saw a big haystack. Kominek jumped and landed unharmed.

Club Is Told of Leadership Need For Scouts Here
Nine of Pampa's 18 Girl Scout troops do not have leaders at this time. Mrs. C. L. Nance, president of the local girl scouting program, told members of the Kiwanis Club Friday.
More adult interest in the movement is necessary, she told the audience, urging them to take part in efforts being expended for the local organization.
At least 100 girls would become Girl Scouts if there were sufficient leadership, the men were told. Her statements were part of a general program on scouting. The program was brought to the club by Harvey Waters, a member of Kiwanis.
Several Girl Scouts participated in an enactment of duties they perform when, on a camping trip, the Scouts were from Troop 7, which is one of the troops without a leader.
Also on the program was Mrs. R. F. Bowlerman, an active scout leader, who discussed the needs of scouting, and its importance to the community.
Girls from 7 to 18 are eligible for the activity of the local program. In remarking on the scouting subject, Mrs. Nance said:
"It is large enough that any girl could find her special interest."
Another man was fined $15 for intoxication.
Not raffish cases were heard.

Shop Lifting Case Brings $10 Fine
Shop lifting, and drinking burlap, cost one man $10 yesterday morning when he pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Clifford Braly in Corporation Court.
The man had stolen several articles of groceries from Mitchell's Grocery Store on S. Cuyler St. He was later apprehended with the articles, on him near Six's Pig Stand by City Police.
Another man was fined $15 for intoxication.

News Is Printing 15 1/2-Page Paper
Today's 16-page edition of The News is actually 14 1/2 columns. In other words, we are doing the "impossible"—putting out a 15 1/2-page paper.
This is due to newsprint shortage. Specifically, The News' order of newsprint has not arrived. The paper was not able to "borrow" enough print of the right width to fill the full 8-column sheet, but could get enough for the 6-column.
Also, some subscribers in the city may have got their papers late Friday, and some may have missed because of the rain. Shortage of the right size paper, again, caused the delay, and then the early evening rain didn't help the carrier boys.

Chief Gives Great Deal of Credit To Schools for Fire Prevention
Yesterday marked the close of special Fire Prevention Week observances here as students from Pampa schools exhibited posters made to illustrate causes of fires and to stress elimination of fire hazards.
Posters were exhibited over town in windows of business firms and scouts conducted voting booths so the public could vote on their choice of the best posters. Local insurance firms had announced they would offer prizes to winners.
Ballots will be turned over to judges selected by the Fire Prevention Committee, and results will be announced Tuesday.
Although the general public observes Fire Prevention Week Oct. 5-11, representatives of the local fire department attend a special firemen's short course at Texas A & M one week each summer, during which the latest methods of fire fighting are stressed.
Fire Chief Ben White and one other selected fireman have attended this special course each year since 1936. This past summer O. A. Claunch attended the school, taking the iremen's general course. Chief White taking the fire marshals' course. Fred W. Brooks also attended. Eight persons were injured by fires, and three died as a result of their injuries.
To date this year 154 calls have been answered in the city, with 21 alarms given outside the city limits. During that year 2,873 inspections were made, with 268 hazards found and 238 corrected.
In 1946, 179 alarms were answered in the city; 22 calls were made outside the city. Inspections totaled 4,614, with 328 hazards found and 285 corrected. Eight persons were injured by fires, and three died as a result of their injuries.
Chief White gives a large part of the credit for Pampa's present 20 percent good fire record insurance credit to work in the schools as they stress fire prevention in lectures by teachers and preparation of posters and essays by students; to Boy Scouts, civic organizations and the general public of the city as they cooperate in work to eliminate hazards and develop fire-consciousness.
To give an idea of the year's work for the local department: in 1945, 159 fire calls were made in the city,

Plans Approved For Gray County General Hospital
Plans for the Gray County General Hospital have been approved by the State Department of Health and Pampa has been named as the site. A member of Kaufman & Sen. Amarillo, project architects, has been in Austin the past week conferring with state officials on details. County Commissioner spokesman said he yesterday, following an Associated Press story announcing that final approval of the Texas $72,000,000 community hospital program had been given by the United States Public Health Service.
Judge Sherman White had recently conferred with State Health Department officials about local plans, and a Hospital Board was named here at a recent meeting of County Commissioners. It is expected that construction bids will be let in the first part of December.
Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, after being notified by Surgeon General Thomas Parran in Washington that final approval had been given to the Texas plans, said, "This action apparently clears the way for local project plans to be presented to the State Department of Health for approval and this will facilitate the early beginning of hospital construction."
Top priorities have been given where no hospital services are available. They will be given the opportunity to benefit first in the program under which the federal government will share the expenses of building and equipping hospitals, the AP story continued.
The priorities were worked out by the State Health Department after a statewide survey. They were recently announced at a meeting in Austin at which the program was explained.

Grandview Carnival Slated for Thursday
The Grandview annual carnival will be held at the Grandview School on Thursday night, it was announced yesterday by a spokesman for the Parent-Teacher Association, sponsor of the event.
Each year the P-T-A conducts the event in honor of the school. It is patronized not only by the people of that community, but also by a number of persons from Pampa, Groom, and White Deer.
KNOW YOUR NEW UNIFORM HIGHWAY TRAFFIC CODE
"Sec. 100. The driver of any vehicle other than one on official business shall not follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm or crash such 500 feet or drive into or park such vehicle within the block where fire apparatus has stopped to answer a fire alarm. Sec. 101. Station Attendant Is Forced to Cash Check
A new slant on hijacking was pulled last night in Mobeetie when a service station attendant was forced to cash a check on a Miami bank.
The slim bit of information given police stated that the men, riding in a 1940 Chevrolet car with a New Mexico license, had entered the station and practically forced the attendant to honor the check. It was made on the Miami National Bank. The attendant told authorities he was sure it was a worthless check.
No arrests were reported Saturday night.

a lot better off if the prices stayed low. Now we're out on a limb," Richardson got his check of $60,000 for 138 high grade steers. "I figure that if I buy a hundred steers at the present price to fatten," he said, "they could lose me the price of the feed plus $15,000, plus the cost of my labor."

But the feeder after a quarter of a century, would be lonesome without beef cattle around and he can largely feed them with his own corn, the corn he could sell now for a nice profit if he chose to.

"I never sold a bushel of corn in my life though," he said. "I always have to buy from neighbors to feed my cattle."

And because farmers are traditional people he will go on as before on a reduced scale. He feels his own case is typical.

"So there won't be as much beef to eat in this country next year as before—that's for sure," said Richardson.

BY HAL BOYLE

CLEAR LAKE, Iowa—(AP)—A farmer here recently received $60,000—the largest single check ever issued to a cattle feeder in this area. Yet today he does not know whether it is worthwhile to stay in business.

That is the dilemma of J. D. Richardson and many another mid-west farmer who makes a career of taking range-fed western cattle and fattening them into top grade heavy beef.

"I've been feeding cattle for 25 years and darned if I know what to do," said Richardson, a tall blue-eyed farmer son of a farmer.

He and others like him are being scared into reduced activity by the high prices of grain, the food-fuel that ripens lean, grass-fed steers into juicy, fat-grained steaks that command a premium in metropolitan markets.

"A fellow doesn't know whether it's worth bothering about," said Richardson. "They've got us over a barrel."

He figures that he can buy an 800-pound steer for $216 but that it will cost him a dollar-a day for 900 or more days to feed it the corn and protein needed to plump it into a 1400-pound target for the butcher.

"That makes it cost me $516, not counting the hay & oats or my own overhead and labor costs," he said. "Nor does it include any interest for my money."

But such a steer, if sold on the present high Chicago market of about $36 a hundredweight, would fetch him only $564.

"City folks sometimes blame the farmer for these high prices but the farmer didn't ask for them. We'd be

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old-time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regain the glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh all out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

The council has tentatively fixed June, 1948, as the termination of this activity. An autumn campaign for the collection of farm commodities for the benefit of war-devastated peoples was abandoned when a summer-long drought reduced agricultural production.

Pipeline

(Continued From Page 1) payments to growing crops, pasture land and fences. Then the city took over the area where Recreation Park now stands. Apparently no one in those days counted on the construction of a rodeo park or the closing down of the Dainger plant.

As a result no agreements were made on the pipe lying across that part of the line that runs through the grandstand or roping arena.

As a result, Burch agreed to sell the pipe in question, approximately 1,195 feet running from the north fence to the fence along Highway 60, not to bother about 100 feet of pipe that runs along the highway and to leave an additional 30 feet of pipe now lying under the old road to the rear of the grandstand. This totaled up to the 1,325 feet figure.

The sale price per foot averaged a little over 34 cents per foot.

How the purchase was to be financed stirred up another short session between the commission and representatives of the Rodeo Association when Mayor Huff told them that the pipe, while on city property, was being used by the association and that they should bear at least a third participation in it.

The associations argued that the city is made up of its members and interested citizens and the two functions benefit the city as whole. Questions and cross-questions were thrown across the table until the Rodeo Association agreed it would pay one third of the cost, but not more than $150 if the city would foot the remainder of the bill, or $500.

This was brought to a motion that also included the Fort Worth pipe company's right to remove the remainder of pipe on the city's property that was not purchased, providing they make the necessary re-fills and repair damages to fences.

Britain

Top-flight Laborites say a government collapse or an extraordinary general election in the near future for which Conservative Winston Churchill already has called is possible only if the winter brings wholesale unemployment and suffering.

Some Conservative leaders, without permitting their names to be used, say a collapse of the government or a new election is "probable." Others have advised the Conservative Party to be ready for a new election campaign at any time, possibly within six months.

The Conservative reasoning—which the Laborites scorn—is that the government must sacrifice many of its socialist goals to meet the crisis and thus antagonize the left-wing of the Labor Party and create a split.

The government has in mind the postponement of nationalization of the steel industry and a retrenchment of its housing program, but questions whether the Left would risk the wiping out of a Labor government to protest such retrenchments.

Normally, the government would serve out its full term ending in 1950, but the Prime Minister may call a general election to seek a new mandate before then, or the government must resign if defeated in the House of Commons on a major bill.

Trained Horse

(Continued From Page 1) the horse and he wouldn't move his foot. Bryant rapped his shank with the curry comb and he crossed his legs. The next day, and thereafter, he would do it on command.

Jim Bryant has three boys, J. R. Bryant of Pampa, and L. W. and James Franklin of Alanreed, but they don't seem to have the talent of their father with horses. As Irish Jim Bryant told one of his boys who was having a little trouble with his 18-month-old filly, "You've just got to be a hoss man, son."

Jim Bryant was born in Tennessee in 1871, and came to Collin County in his youth, and his early attachment to horses has grown with the years. Duggan, he will repeat, is the "smartest hoss I've ever seen."

"Hosses are just like people," he says, "some of them don't know anything and never will."

Bryant gets numerous offers from rodeos to show his horse. He has been asked to take Bill Duggan to Waco and to Ada, Okla., and to other shows. He would also be in demand as a trainer, but he prefers to spend most of his time with his own horse, which absorbs most of his time since he has just about retired from 56 years of blacksmithing.

The handsome quarterhorse is 14 hands and two and a half inches high, weighs 1,100 pounds. He is white with dapple gray, and has the McCue jawline. He was foaled at Fort Sumner and his ancestry includes an Arabian mare and a spotted pony.

Bill Duggan and Jim Bryant were strongly attached from the first. When the horse was a two-year-old, he became frightened late one stormy night. Bryant's children heard him as he broke out of the lot and galloped down the road, squealing.

"Bill Duggan is lober!" one of the children cried, and this immediately woke Bryant. He pulled on his shoes and trousers and ran out into the rain.

Bill Duggan had turned at the next block and Bryant ran to head him off. All Jim Bryant had to do was call the horse's name and say, "Come here, boy!" The frightened horse came to him, trembling, and his voice quickly calmed him.

Bryant's feeling for his horse can best be summed up by his own words, "I wouldn't put a collar on him for a hundred dollars."

LOST 42 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcetrate DOES take off fat. It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcetrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof "When I started taking Barcetrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcetrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcetrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old."

Before taking Barcetrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all these things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcetrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcetrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcetrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me." — Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 609 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcetrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

$6,000 Cleared in '47 Rodeo, Show

A net profit of approximately $6,000 was made from the Third Annual Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show this year, an auditor's report showed Thursday night during a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Top o' Texas Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair Association, Inc., held in the Chamber of Commerce offices, City Hall.

The directors were told that with the payment of past indebtedness the association will have a cash balance of about $4,000.

Working under a new set of by-laws, adopted at the meeting, Wade Thomasson, president of the association, called for an election of directors to be held at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 21 in the Palm Room. Thirty-three directors will be named by secret ballots cast by all association members in good standing. The directors will serve for one, two and three years. After expiration of the one- and two-year terms all directors will be elected for three-year terms, 11 of them being elected each year. All ballots must be cast in person with no proxies being accepted.

Dates for next year's Top o' Texas Rodeo were set for August 4, 5, 6 and 7 with the Harlin-Simmons Cowboy Band of Abilene again to be invited to take part. The Texas Company was also asked to supply the sound system again next year.

R. H. Nensiel, auditor for the association, reported that all books were found to be in "good shape."

A report to the directors also showed that since the association took over Recreation Park, three years ago, the total amount of $15,000 in permanent improvements have been installed there by the association.

Thomasson appointed as a nominating committee to present 41 names for the October 21 election of directors: O. W. Hampton, Dr. M. C. Overton, Rev. Douglas Carver, Frank Lard, Pat Murfee and Silver Hopkins. Following the election the 33 successful candidates will meet and choose their own officers for the ensuing year.

Harvest of Combine Milo Is Delayed

Harvest of combine milo was delayed this week in the McLean area due to showers which, along with heavy dew, slowed cotton pulling. Very little cotton, has been brought to gins wet, County Agent Ralph Thomas said.

Rains in the county Tuesday night and Wednesday varied from light showers to two-inch rains.

Farmers in the cotton area indicated about 100 cotton pullers were still needed to finish harvesting of crops which are averaging yields of one-fourth to one-half bale per acre.

Some farmers have dusted in wheat, but not enough rain has fallen to germinate and start growth in most of the county, Thomas said. Enough moisture is present to bring up wheat on about one-sixth of the wheat land.

No One Injured in Car-Trailer Wreck

Carl B. Gilliland of Borger crashed into the trailer of a 1945 Ford truck owned by C. H. Praley of Borger and driven by R. H. Gray at 2 m. Friday on Highway 152, 4 miles this side of Borger, as he lost control of his car on a downgrade.

Gilliland, driving a 1941 Ford coach, was going toward Borger while Gray, driving the truck and semi-trailer, was coming toward Pampa. Gilliland said his steering gear would not respond, and although he managed to miss the truck, he crashed into the trailer.

Highway patrolmen estimated $125 damage to the trailer, and around $400 damage to the Ford coach. No injuries resulted.

Intention To Drill Notices Filed On Eleven Locations In Past Week

There were eleven notices of intent to drill filed with the local office of the Oil and Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission during the past week according to authorities from that office.

Notices of Intention to Drill Carson County—Hagy, Harrington & Marsh, M. A. Powers No. 1, H&GN Survey, 2310' from S and W lines of Sec. 232, Blk. B-2, 8 miles SE of White Deer.

Notices of Intention to Drill Hutchinson County—Creslenn Oil Company, G. A. Whittenburg No. 1, L. Padillo Survey, 330' from E and 990' from N lines of E/2 Sec. 8, Blk. X02, 2 miles SW of Stinnett.

Other Dallas week-end visitors were Mrs. Ralph Dunbar and Jeanne Chisholm of Cabot. Mrs. Dunbar is the Cabot Cat editor.

Frank Walker, Cabot employee, has a broken neck. The story as I hear it is that Frank was climbing on some equipment and bumped his head.

Skelly District Superintendent, Dallas Bowsher, is scouting again... this time it's for deer in Colorado.

Shell Company reports that Plant 15 held its monthly employees' meeting on safety last Thursday with J. C. Nichols in charge.

A new well has been put in the test stages about ten miles south of Pampa where Murphy and McKernan are drilling a new well for Gibson Oil.

Mrs. Knox, of Cities Service, who so kindly submits that company's activities each week to us, reports that Mr. and Mrs. John Crumline and son, Ronald, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Lovorn of Eldorado, Kans., were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Coble of the Cross camp.

At the American Gas Association's annual convention at Cleveland, Ohio, Joseph Pursglove, Jr., vice-president in charge of research for the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, stated coal, gas and oil industries should work together in viewing the nation's needs for energy in all its forms.

Commission Reports Nine Wells Completed In Area During Week

Nine new oil wells were completed in this area during the past week according to a report from the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission.

Hutchinson County reported eight of these completions. Hale County reported one. One well was retested and acidized in Gray County.

Hutchinson County—Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Schroeter No. 1, Sec. 12, Blk. M-2, T&NO Survey, Potential 16,400 MCP, Rock Pressure 428.

Hutchinson County—J. M. Huber Corporation—Burnett No. S-1, Sec. 124, Blk. 5, I&GN Survey, Potential 10,100 MCP, Rock Pressure 204.

Hutchinson County—Whittenburg No. 1, Sec. 11, Blk. X02, L. Padillo Survey, 3 miles SW of Stinnett. Well was plugged 9-26-47. Total depth 3000'.

Hutchinson County—Herrmann Bros. Herrman No. 1, TC Ry Survey, 1171' from N and 330' from W lines of Sec. 16, Blk. M-23, 1 mile S of Stinnett.

Hutchinson County—Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Everett No. 1, T&NO Survey, 2630' from S and 1320' from E lines of Sec. 15, Blk. 2-T, 4 miles NW of Etter.

Hutchinson County—J. E. Crosbie, Inc., Pitts No. 11, TC RR Survey, Falls, spent several days the past week inspecting equipment in the Pampa area.

Gov. Jester, in speaking before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' annual conference in Houston Tuesday said he "would not be surprised" if the federal government filed suit claiming Texas' tidelands.

The American Petroleum Institute reported sharp increases in both oil production and oil runs to refineries during the week ending October 4, the nation's daily average gross output of crude amounting to 5,207,550 barrels, an increase of 11,500 barrels daily over the previous week.

Reports from refineries owning 90 percent of the estimated daily refining capacity indicated the industry ran to refinery stills 5,309,000 barrels daily, approximately 100,000 above the previous week and 500,000 above the same week last year.

Gasoline stocks declined to 81,607,000 barrels as against 82,472,000 a week earlier, and 86,962,000 a year ago.

At the American Gas Association's annual convention at Cleveland, Ohio, Joseph Pursglove, Jr., vice-president in charge of research for the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, stated coal, gas and oil industries should work together in viewing the nation's needs for energy in all its forms.

Furniture will be simple, but "only Egypt said in a joint statement that it is very difficult to understand how a great power like the United States can entertain and promote a solution of the problem of Palestine which is unworkable and which inevitably embodies the seeds of conflict. As long as the Zionists continue to believe that they can realize their ambitions, an element of instability and conflict will persist in the Near East. The proponents of a peaceful and just solution must redouble their efforts now."

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
 Associated Press Staff
 Note to people over 50: Don't worry about the younger generation. The kids are doing all right.

They're intelligent. One young boy improved on the new traffic laws which provide that the main stream of traffic has priority over a car backing out of a curb. An Austin motorist who violated the new law was advised by a boy: "Just keep backing out, Bub—until you smell blood."

They're ingenious. A San Antonio motorist said he saw four young men in uniform marching sharply down the road in perfect step. He slowed down to see what was going on. Suddenly the marchers made a neat left flank movement and came to a halt. All four hands went up with thumbs extended in the well-known hitchhike sign. They got the ride.

They're unpredictable, yes. A college boy reporting on a school dance said it was a pretty good dance, "until someone threw a snake in the fan."

They're eager for learning. Latin may be a dead language, but at San Angelo 120 lively students took the course, outnumbering Spanish students by 13. The large number of students studying foreign languages there was commented on by officials. It was unusual, they pointed out, because no language credits are required for graduation, or for entrance into many accredited colleges.

They're prolific. The Briggs family of Gladewater holds some sort of a record, with eight of their children in the Gladewater Public Schools. The Dudley Williams family near Carthage is running a close second—it has seven children, all attending the same school. All the Williams, incidentally, are girls.

North Africa consumes more of China's tea export than any other section of the world.

(Editor's Note: The following story and pictures are reprinted here through the courtesy of "The Daily Oklahoman." This feature discussing the construction of the 105-bed Negro hospital in Oklahoma City appeared in the Sunday, Oct. 5, issue of the Oklahoman. It was written by Imogene Patrick, staff writer.)

The small basement ward of a city hospital was crowded with five Negro patients of varying ages and illnesses. But it was the only place in Oklahoma City where Mrs. W. J. Edwards, 1621 NE Grand, could go.

Critically ill, she knew "there was no room to get well." The next day she was flown to the Mayo Clinic for an operation.

That was in 1945 and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, realtors and junk dealers, vowed if she regained her health "we Negroes must do something about hospitalization for ourselves."

This week they were making good on their promise.

The 105-bed Edwards Memorial Hospital, at 16 and NE Grand, should be ready for occupancy Dec. 1.

The Edwards have dug deep into their own life earnings to pay for the plant which can never be more than a self-sustaining project.

Medical authorities in Oklahoma City say it probably will be the only Negro hospital in the South owned and operated by Negroes.

When construction started in May, 1946, the Edwards estimated the two-story structure with full basement would cost them about $150,000.

"We might have gotten cold feet if we had known what we do now," Mrs. Edwards said.

With costs still moving upward, they already have spent nearly $250,000 on building and equipment. Now they expect the total to pass $300,000.

The Jeffersonian and Ruth Bryan Owen clubs donated the site. Only other outside help has been approximately $3,500 in cash contributions.

They have asked a grant from the federal government, under the recent hospitalization appropriation, to finish purchasing equipment, including such items as $10,000 X-ray machines.

But the Edwards do not regret modated in the event of emergency. Furniture will be simple, but "only the best" in medical supplies has been ordered, Mrs. Edwards said.

The basement will contain clinics, emergency room, dining room, laboratory, X-ray room, kitchen and other units.

The Edwards are not worried about staffing the hospital. On the other hand, if they should accept offers from all the doctors, internes and nurses who have written to them, it would be over-staffed.

They were worried about having the plant ready for occupancy Dec. 1, as original plans called for.

Contractors themselves, they had been able to give money by not having to call in another firm. They hired a foreman to supervise the work. But the foreman kept insisting the job could not be finished before spring.

Last week, Edwards left his office at the junk yard. Mrs. Edwards, who had been supervising construction of 16 new residences, folded up her blueprints. They pushed up their sleeves and moved into the hospital.

Now, Edwards grin, "We are going to open Dec. 1."

Next to the hospital, the Edwards are most proud of their 360-home addition, between NE 10 and 20, Page and Bryant. It was the first Negro owned and operated residential addition in the United States approved for FHA loans.

BARTENDER SOARS AMONG 'GUEST STARS'

NEW YORK—(AP)—"Guest stars" are an old custom in the night club field, but the practice was carried to an extreme here when Stanley Scott, head bartender at one of the swanky Manhattan hotels, was invited to be "guest barman" at the opening of a new cocktail lounge in Bermuda.

Scott, who is vice president of the International Bartenders League, hopped an airliner, made a one-night stand, and returned to his New York post with the loss of only one working day.

The name "witch-hazel" is derived from the use of the shrubs' twigs as divining rods.

Leaves on the north side of a tree are longer and darker, and have lighter veins.

One for the Bright Blue Weather

The day is clear and fresh and spiced with autumn's tang.

Somewhere there's a friendly little road where Nature has done her gorgeous best with scarlets and golds of her own special blending.

It's a moment to be prized — to be seized — to be implanted forever in memory's book; so slip into this one and make the most of it.

Reach forward and touch the control that swings back the top — on a day like this, you'll want to be one with the air and the sky and the sparkling sunshine.

For a windscreen, lift the handy button that rolls up the door window — to adjust the front seat to your liking, touch a third automatic control, and you're all set.

Gun the motor. Eight Fireball cylinders answer that they're ready for anything you are.

Swing the wheel. Light and sure as your finger, it lets you know that a hand's weight is enough on this firm but feathery helm.

Steal a glance at your reflection in a passing store window. You'll find you look as you feel, bright and gay as this wonderful day.

Seek out a rough spot, just for test purposes. Your soft coil springs are alert on the job, soaking up the rough spots; ample inches and abundant roadweight are here to keep your going level and true.

You've got everything you need for a wonderful time, so go ahead. Let your cares slip away in the breeze you stir up. Drink in refreshment for soul and spirit, for mind and nerves.

For that's why we build this Convertible.

For the fun it can bring you through the seasons. For sunny days and bright blue weather — for gorgeous days to come, when all outdoors beckons you to enjoy the pleasures of the open road.

Why don't you plan now to have one for your own?

It may take a little waiting, but just as surely as autumn follows summer, and winter blossoms into spring, this car of cars can be yours, if you place an order now — with or without a car to trade.

What's all this about "the New Look" in women's fashions? A reprint from Vogue of December, 1929, says, "Long skirts? What do you mean by long skirts? No one is asking women to wear trailing dresses on the street, and 14 inches off the ground, the smartest length for street wear, is far from hampering, and in the evening an ankle length skirt is more graceful."—So, 18 years ago they were having the same controversy. Perhaps next year (or perhaps 18 years from now) we will, all of us, look back at the anti-long skirt newspaper headlines of 1947 and wonder: "What was all the fuss about?"

The fashion controversy of 1929 was about the change from the knee-high skirts of 1927 to the moderate lengths of 14 inches from the floor for the day, ankle-length for evening. This was the accepted length until 1933, day skirts reached almost to the ankle. Then they gradually rose until they were frozen by L-85 wartime restrictions—almost to the knee again. Now in 1947, the 14-inch length is once more in fashion. "Once more" seems news. "Once more" causes, if not real controversy, a great deal of "fashion talk."

Fourteen-inches were seen in abundance at the regular luncheon of the London Bridge Club last Tuesday at the Schneider Hotel. Maxine Loving looked especially pretty in a soft, rose wool. Sammy Burns looked "really news" in a beautifully tailored black wool with tucks for back interest.

Burnice Miller has just returned from an interesting trip. Accompanying her daughter Pat to school at Ferry Hall in Lake Forest, Ill., she met Buck and her father in St. Louis and went on to Atlantic City, where they attended a bankers' convention, and New York City. Ummmm! Let me see now—do I know any bankers?

Which Doc Hicks at the next football game. He still thinks he is out there refereeing. Interesting to sit next to... he calls all the plays before they happen and for a dumb one like me it's fun to be able to at least know where to look for the ball. Doc says Oct. 9 was the anniversary of a typhoon he was in while in Okinawa, and he planned to celebrate his "coming back alive" by going deer hunting.

Frank and Pebble Carter are going to Dallas for three reasons, as Frank said: 1st, to go to see Mary Martin in "Annie Get Your Gun." 2nd, to attend the Texas-Oil football game, and 3rd, to see the bull show, but personally I think Frank has the order of his reasons mixed up—I think he meant to give the 3rd one first from all the blue ribbons and prizes his cattle have been taking lately. Their daughter, Phebe, namesake of her great-grandmother, the late Phebe Worley, was given Mrs. Worley's diamond engagement ring as a birthday gift last Sunday.

Marguerite and Irv Akst think they can get around now to see their friends more, but bet that new girl holds them home now more than ever.

M. K. Brown told me he was waiting on a new car, and do you know why? He refuses to give his old battered Continental. Wonder if Mr. Brown and V. E. Fatheree would give away their secret of youth? Alec Schneider says that after 35 years it is about time he quit the hotel business. We will all certainly miss the personal interest he has shown in the years we have known him.

Better go down and watch the girls bowl on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Most of the night crowd are beginners. Daisy Bellamy and Fern Parker are beginners starting a Wednesday night league. Oh well, Daisy has a doctor at home to take care of her stiffness. What are you going to do, Fern?

Henry and Mable Reynolds say they are lost in that big house with Henry Herman at school. I know someone who would like to trade houses with them.

Meda and Bill Fraser's house is going up and it looks like it might be just about right for their wonderful family.

The complexion of Virginia Green reminds me of peaches and cream... Unsung in our midst is an exceptionally fine artist, Claudine Vall is now working on an oil portrait of Sherry Cook, lovely daughter of Jean and Charlie Cook. You should see the ones Claudine painted of the Malcolm Brown's good-looking red-headed boys.

Florence Low, ex-Pampian now living in Houston, has been to town, wearing some beautiful silver jewelry she has made. She learned to do silvermithing in New York City last year. A dangle bracelet sported a very unusual original monogram she plans to use as a trademark. Lorene McClintock's book, "Teach Yourself to Play the Piano," is to be published Oct. 28, by Crowell & Company of New York. Lorene thought up this very easy new method while teaching in Pampa's USO during the war, and it has been successfully used in veterans' hospitals. Isn't it nice to hear of a friend's success?

Dot and Doc Overton are flying to Dallas for the same three reasons Frank Carter gave. (Oop—slips—maybe not to see the bull show.)

An old-timer of Pampa, Mrs. C. E. Pollard, now living in Bloomington, Ill., is visiting with Mrs. George Walstad, and Mrs. A. Cole and other friends in Pampa.

Handsome couple—Ursula Jones and Dick Kennedy. Voted for trim figure and graceful erect standing: Teed Hicks, Marjorie Gull and Marie Stejle.

Overheard girl leaving dentist's office: "I'm not old enough to be coming to pieces."

A reporter who has just made a cross-country bus trip says of a public opinion poll: "I was repeatedly surprised by the lack of consistency in the opinions of individuals. Those who thought that war was coming soon were often least worried. And many of the most ardent anti-isolationists were often the most vehement against loans to Europe... Over and above all, I found people confused and dissatisfied—amazingly alert and aware, eager for a better and more stable world, yet anxious about their personal places in it; wanting to settle down after the upheaval of war but seemingly unsure about how to go about it."

Rather a serious thought to end this—and

Adalen Brazil

Adalen Brazil Is Wed To Berton Doucette

Miss Adalen Brazil, daughter of Mrs. Betty Brazil of Sentinel, Okla., was married on Saturday morning, Oct. 4, to Berton Doucette, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Doucette of Pampa. The marriage took place at 10 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church with Dr. Douglas Nelson reading the single-ring service.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder furnished organ music, playing "Ah-Sweet Mystery of Life," "Clare de Lune," "The Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding March."

The church was decorated with two large white baskets of mums flanked with kentaia palms and cathedral tapers. The altar table was centered with white asters and mums.

Mrs. Al Tanner, Santa Cruz, Calif., sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore an ensemble of teal blue gabardine with brown hat and matching accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli.

The groom was attended by his brother, Lefors, Doucette, Amarillo, best man, and Larry McMurry, E. L. Henderson, and Albert Doucette.

The bride was attired in a Palomino suit with aqua hat and matching accessories. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid, tied with knotted white satin streamers.

The bride's mother wore a black suit with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a maroon-colored suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

After the wedding, a dinner was given for the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Doucette are spending their honeymoon in Mexico City. After November 1, they will be at home at 812 North Frost.

Mrs. Guy LeMond

Barrett-LeMond Vows Said Saturday

Mrs. Freda Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glass, Lefors, became the bride of Guy LeMond, Saturday, Oct. 11, at 8 a.m., in the study of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double-ring wedding vows in the presence of the members of the immediate families.

For her wedding the bride chose a light brown gabardine suit with brown alligator accessories and her corsage was a purple orchid. For something borrowed she wore a dinner ring of Miss ValRue Dyson's.

The bride is a charter member of the Beta Gamma Kappa and Epsilon Sigma Alpha sororities and is a graduate of Pampa High School. She has been employed as exchange teller at the Citizens Bank and Trust Company.

The groom is a graduate of Amarillo High School and attended West Texas State College. He is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

After a wedding trip to Mexico City the couple will be at home in Pampa.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glass, Lefors, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph LeMond, Amarillo, and Mr. Cecil Burks, Nona Visa, New Mexico.

Kathleen Wilder

Kathleen Wilder, of Florida, Is Engaged to Youthful Minister

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wilder of Jacksonville, Fla., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathleen, to Wayne Wesley Coffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Coffin of 630 North Summer St., Pampa. The wedding will take place on November 20 in the Riverside Park Methodist Church of Jacksonville.

Miss Wilder attended Jacksonville Junior College and Florida State University and entered Duke University School of Nursing in 1946. She is a member of the Beta Sigma Phi, social sorority.

Mr. Coffin was graduated from Southwestern University in 1944, and from Duke University Divinity School in 1947. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma, social fraternity. He is now serving as associate pastor of the Park Street Methodist Church, Amarillo.

The bride was attired in a two-piece brown fall dress with gold and brown accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of yellow sweethearts roses.

Mrs. Raymond P. Smith of Berger, formerly of Pampa, attended the bride as matron of honor, wearing a black crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. Raymond P. Smith served as best man.

Following a short wedding trip to Amarillo and Canyon, the couple will be at home in Berger until October 15 when they will make their home in Guymon.

Mrs. Gamble, who was graduated from West Texas State College at Canyon, is home demonstration agent for Hutchinson county. She is a member of Beta Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mr. Gamble is employed by the K. L. B. Construction Company.

District Officer to Speak at Shamrock

SHAMROCK, (Special)—Mrs. J. C. Alexander, of Amarillo, district president of the Parent-Teacher Association, will be featured as the principal speaker at the P-TA meeting to be held at North Ward School Tuesday, October 14 at 3 p.m.

Other presidents over the district who are to be here for the meeting include: Mrs. Lester Bengel, president of the Ward School in Wellington; and Mrs. L. V. Moore, Wellington High School; Mrs. Maule Abraham, Canadian; Mrs. C. E. Wilhelm, Briscoe; Mrs. J. B. Heisteron, Twity; and Mrs. Hood Williams of Kellerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill

length dress, trimmed with black lace, and carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli tied with a pink ribbon. Joyce Gordon, sister of the bride, and Dorothy Benham were candlelighters.

Junior Gage served as best man and D. D. Dunwoody, Berger, served as groomsmen. The ushers were Raymond Perkins and Jim Rollins, of Houston.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a pale pink crepe, street-length peplum-styled dress with pink lace insets and rhinestones. She wore a shoulder-length veil and carried a white orchid showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers on a white Bible.

The bride's mother wore a beige dress and she carried black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The groom's mother wore a black dress and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Larry Parsley presided over the guest book.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and attended Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha last year.

The groom is a graduate of Anson High School and is now associated with the Beacon Supply Co., at Berger.

Mrs. M. C. Erickson

Miss Jean Baines Marries Austin Man

In a formal double-ring ceremony read August 24 in the M-line Lutheran Church at Elroy, Texas, Miss Jean Baines became the bride of Milton C. Erickson of Austin. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Glenn Stenholm before an altar banked with ferns, gladioli and candelabra.

Mrs. Erickson, the daughter of Mrs. Willie Baines, 709 Naida, is a graduate of Pampa High School and has been employed by the Texas Employment Commission for the past two years.

Mr. Erickson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Erickson of Austin. He is a graduate of Austin High School and served three years in the Army Air Corps. He is now employed by the Southwestern-Bell Telephone Company.

Nick Manos played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Bob Rigby who sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Glenn Stenholm played the recessional.

The bride was given in marriage by Lambert Wissen, cousin of the groom. For her marriage she chose a gown of white satin styled with full elbow-length sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The skirt gathered at the waist swept into a long train. Her finer-tip veil of illusion was caught to a tangle of pearlized orange blossoms. The veil was edged in wide imported lace. She carried a white Bible, topped with white gladioli and split carnations. For something old she wore a simple strand of pearls belonging to her sister.

Mrs. Paul E. Stewart, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. Mrs. Bobby Jo Smith, was the bridesmaid. Gordon Erickson, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents. The bride's table was laid with a lace

SHAMROCK (Special)—A reception honoring the Past Noble Grands of the Shamrock and Wellington Rebekah Lodges, was held at the I. O. O. F. Hall Tuesday night.

The hall was beautifully decorated with gladioli and fern emphasizing a green and white color scheme. Mrs. Cavell Jones and Mrs. Elmo Harlow were in the receiving line.

Mrs. Opal Beatty presided at the guest register. At the tea table, Mrs. Fern Turnbow poured. She was assisted by Mrs. Georgia Jeffers.

Holice Turnbow played musical selections as the guests assembled. The program opened with the "Star Spangled Banner," which was followed by a prayer led by Mrs. Alma Galbreath.

Mrs. Mary Greenhill and Mrs. Fern Turnbow sang "Moonlight and Roses," accompanied by Holice Turnbow.

Mrs. Opal Beatty gave the scripture reading and Mrs. L. E. Clay the address of welcome.

Mrs. Lucille Hamill sang "My Task" with Holice Turnbow playing the accompaniment.

The response was given by Mrs. Ethel Brickey of the Wellington Lodge.

The program closed with the song, "The Prayer Perfect," sung by Mrs. Fern Turnbow.

About thirty-five guests registered.

Just How Much Can We Do for Them?

Everyone with whom we have discussed voluntary rationing has been willing to do his part. But no one has expressed much faith in the plan's success. Any one person's inquiries can't compete with the professional politician for accuracy. Still, we should be surprised if the sentiments that we have heard expressed do not prevail throughout the country.

If everyone is willing to pitch in on the voluntary rationing, it should be a complete success. But, with the best will in the world, it is easy to forget. And it takes real will power to see a neighbor backside and keep from saying, "Oh, well, if she isn't cutting down, what's the point in denying myself?"

It is also easy, again with the best will in the world, to forget the enemy, hunger, when it is distant, silent and invisible. It is easy for us to eat less so that Europe may eat more has been explained carefully and repeatedly. All who are and heed must be convinced of the necessity. Yet, statistics and calories are not always stirring enough to keep us at the top pitch of battle with the distant unseen enemy.

Even though the Citizens' Food Committee explains to us just how much less meat, poultry, eggs and dairy products we must eat so that each person in this country can save a bushel of wheat in the next nine months, there is still danger of failure.

Some people just won't deny themselves for all their good intentions. Others, whose low incomes are pinched by high food costs, can hardly be expected to cut down voluntarily much more than prices have forced them to already.

And, of course, there is another thing the average American would like to know. He would like to know just how much higher prices are going to be forced, as more and more food is shipped to other lands. It is indeed a frightful thing to consider that people in other lands are relatively comfortable. But there seems to be a good deal of propriety in quoting the old saying, "We should not 'kill the goose that lays the golden egg.' For no one will deny that if we are going to destroy our own economy by throwing it out of joint with shipments of food abroad, then the whole world is much worse off.

There is, to be sure, a good deal that we can do for hungry people. We can help them alive, but it is a limit to what we can send to these foreign lands in the form of our hard-gotten treasures. As goods go abroad, the dollars at home must compete more keenly for what is left.

Gracie Reports

BY GRACIE ALLEN
Well, it may or may not be an omen but it's kind of cheering to hear advance news from the American Toy Institute that kiddies' playthings this Christmas will stress the idea of peace rather than war.

Last Christmas, I recall, the trend of toys ran to atomic guns that would disintegrate fathers at the breakfast table and to jet-propelled rocket planes that would test a hole through the kitchen roof and lose a cook at the same time.

I'm certainly glad that the new toys will emphasize baby steam shovels, little toy apartment houses that come apart, and even tiny concrete mixers.

It's kind of easy to get children to play with tools of peace because they usually have common sense. Now if we can only get the male grownups to put their nasty guns and tanks away in the storeroom and devote themselves to creative gadgets, I'd say we were getting somewhere.

So They Say

If Japan in the post-treaty era is given a just opportunity to live in freedom and peace with her neighbors in the community of nations, there will be no threat to the survival and strengthening of the democratic process here inaugurated under occupation.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It is putting the cart before the horse to talk of calling the committees. The 564 question is when will the information be available. Congress will not act in the dark. It is not going to write blank checks.—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) of Michigan.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
SAN FRANCISCO—The 1948 presidential stock of the most frequently mentioned Republican candidates—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan—is slipping so fast that it is not funny. Not funny, that is, for them and their backers.

The plain fact is, and observant politicians discover fresh evidence of it every day in their scouting expeditions, that the people are not interested in them or excited by their records or personality. Mention of their names on planes, in trains, in hotel lobbies and "best test of all" in political gatherings, kindles no light in anybody's eyes. The reaction is usually an indifferent shrug. They are slightly "shopworn."

Although the folks certainly do not regard Harry S. Truman as a great President, and the dillydallying at Washington over the European aid program and high prices has aroused suspicion as to whether his big energy for the job. It is probable that he could defeat any one of those four men. The margin might be narrow but as of the moment, it is not. The Democrats to power for another four years.

EISENHOWER—The man in whom the people are most interested is "Ike" Eisenhower. He has caught their imagination as no other man has done since Franklin D. Roosevelt stepped into the American political stage in their off-the-record talks. G. O. P. politicians agree that he needs to do only three things to sweep the Philadelphia convention as triumphantly as Wendell Willkie did in 1940. They are:

(1) Take off his uniform and hand his commission back to Commander-in-Chief Truman when he will do when he becomes president of Columbia University on January 1, 1948.

(2) State flatly that he is and always has been a Republican. The manner in which he announces his political faith is considered all-important by his active and volunteer managers around the nation.

He must not proclaim and publish his allegiance in such a way that it will appear as an advertisement of his candidacy. He must do it in a way that is not a publicity stunt. He must not adopt the attitude that there never should have been any mystery or misunderstanding about it.

(3) When he becomes an educator instead of a practicing soldier, he must find opportunities to deliver at least three speeches on public questions before the Republican assembly for their June, 1948, convention.

As he already has scores of invitations, it will not be difficult for him to find a forum. Foreign affairs and joint military operations with other nations are his forte. He should, together with their domestic implications and repercussions, would be the most likely and dramatic subject.

PERSUADE—The Republicans' topflight leaders would dream that they had already reached the promised land and were in the White House, if they could emerge from their backroom battles at Philadelphia with a ticket of General Eisenhower and Governor Earl Warren of California.

From the standpoint of oratorical ability and political sex appeal, the two handsome and attractive six-footers would make a compelling combination. The voters, as well as their Democratic rival, would have to look up to them, figuratively and literally.

But California's chief executive has said that he "would not run second in anybody's parade." It means it. In these re-evaluations, however, G. O. P. strategists sometimes wonder if they could not persuade the man at Sacramento to make an exception of such an outstanding world figure as General Eisenhower. Running second to him, they opine, might be quite different from scrapping controversy with Messrs. Dewey, Taft, Stassen etc., and they might have something there.

MARTIN—As a running-mate to General Eisenhower or to any other dark or light horse in 1948, many politicians have turned toward Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. of the West. Likeable and sensible man from Massachusetts is now touring the nation and he has received a friendly reception everywhere than such fellow-travelers as Messrs. Dewey, Taft and Stassen, especially in the West.

It is true that he has not received the headlines—or the picketings—that Senate Leader Taft got. But he has been "on the go" from breakfast at 8:30 each morning until he retires shortly before midnight. He makes no spectacular speeches, simply explaining last session's legislation and asking a lot of questions.

As evidence of his growing stature throughout the nation, and itinerary that originally consisted of only five speeches has been extended to more than 100. He has made more than thirty luncheon, dinner or after-dinner talks before he returns to Washington late in October.

The political boys and girls are "running him ragged." But he is so interested in building up the party, and especially in assuring a Republican majority in the next House, that he can say "no" to his friends. Moreover, liking people as he does, he enjoys it immensely.

He has not said so publicly, but it is generally believed that the Attleboro publisher would appreciate the honor of a vice-presidential nomination. He is sixty-four and he has served in the Massachusetts Legislature and the House of Representatives. He is a member of the Massachusetts Bar and has served in the Massachusetts Legislature and the House of Representatives.

Exit One World

By MELCHOIR PALYI
Unbelievable as it may sound: Vishinsky's recent blast, in the U. N. Assembly, against the United States took our diplomats and their following by surprise. Naively, they have expected some measure of conciliatory attitude on the part of the Russians.

Mr. Austin's "answer" to Vishinsky, and the editorials of the pro-American press, show that they still cannot understand the atom secret as a senseless aggressiveness. Why should the Soviets want to quarrel with us when we mean it so well with them? Why should they charge us with preparing and inciting war when in reality we are looking for devices to protect their security, acting as if we were the ones embarrassed by the possession of the atom secret?

Indeed, Messrs. Truman, Marshall, Vandenberg, et al., are in the position of men who have offered a handful of friendship and reconciliation in exchange for a resounding slap after another.

Of course, people who claim to be statesmen do not like to admit that they have been fooled—and that they, in turn, fooled the entire nation. The One-Worlders and Do-Gooders, who claim a monopoly on underwriting international problems, can not admit the unprecedented crisis into which they have led the world, and this country in particular. To save their faces, to avoid being called fools, they have to take the slaps from the U. N. and slap them back at home. They must keep pretending that the U. N. is a going concern (while, in reality, it is dead); that the Soviets are a kind of peace-loving democracy, to use Roosevelt's phony terminology (whereas they are a ruthless, imperialistic racket); that our system can live "in competition" with the Russian (whereas, as a matter of fact, for an armed clash); that the world could be reconstructed in spite of Soviet obstruction, which in reality frustrates every attempt at reconstruction.

Instead of facing the realities—at long last the State Department's policy consists in concealing them by futile tricks if not actual falsehoods. The veto power kills the U. N., as everybody knows by now. It was conceded to the Russians on the assumption that they would not use it, just as Adolf Hitler received permission to rearm on the assumption that he would never use the weapons. Roosevelt's belief in the good nature of the Bolshevik gangsters went so far that it created an international agreement, the League of Nations which is actually weaker than the defunct League of Nations has been. The League at least had a moral power of excommunicating aggressors. It expelled the Russian in 1939 and practically compelled Japan, Germany and Italy to quit, too. Little as that meant it was at least a moral victory of the good over the evil. In the U. N. even this moral power is lacking. The Russians can veto their own excommunication.

What Mr. Marshall suggests now to revive the U. N. is typically inept and wishful. He wants the U. N. to be limited to questions in which actual military action is at stake. But those are the cases of real importance. If Russia cannot veto Afghanistan membership in the U. N.—what difference does that make? But if Russia can veto collective action to stop the Yugoslav and Bulgarian aggression against Greece, then the "improvement" merely emphasizes the U. N.'s impotence. Moreover, it is very doubtful that even such a limited limitation of the veto power could pass over the Russian veto.

Mr. Marshall further proposes that the big members of the U. N. should stay in permanent session, so to speak, in the form of a full-fledged membership committee. So what? What can the substitute for the Assembly accomplish that the Assembly itself cannot do? Committees, sessions, meetings, oratory of all kinds, are no substitute for power. Power is the thing at stake. The Russian is the power. He sees the time ripe for his self-assertion and expansion, and does not wish to miss an opportunity while the world is in a turmoil. That is why Russia will block every peace effort, every attempt at reconstruction and pacification. To ask Stalin and his henchmen to stand by and wait until the world returns to normal is to ask them to commit political suicide. They live on chaos and they will do everything to maintain and improve it, while we are dilly-dallying in the childish hope that we can get them to cooperate in their own burial.

I think a city the size of Pampa should have a law prohibiting dogs running loose on the streets. I have lived in cities where they won't allow it, and there are more dogs than children in this town. It has come to the time when the city should take matters in hand, if people have dogs they should keep them up. They shouldn't be allowed on the streets. I've getting to be so many dogs it not safe for little children to play on their own sidewalk. I think dogs should be kept up, if people are going to have them. And I and lots of others think the same thing, and it is up to the city to do something about it. There's no one on Foster St. had any sleep for a week on the account of dogs. And children can't even play in their own yards, so am looking for the city to get city-minded. MRS. W. H. McBRIDE

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(John on KPFD Monday thru Friday, 2 p. m.)
HOLLYWOOD—Jack Benny was taking a beating.

You expect it on his radio show and in his movies but it was rather surprising to find Jack squirming in the No. 1 booth at Mike Romanoff's (where three tiny pieces of Irish stewmeat, an onion the size of a grape and a potato the size of a marble cost $2—coffee 20 cents.)

Jack was trying to tell me about his summer vacation motor trips, but Mary Livingston kept butting in.

Mary wasn't there. She was home and Jack was trying to get her on the telephone. Three times he got up and called and always the line was busy.

Jack was telling me I can never get my house, he whimpered. "Mary is always talking on the phone. She talks for hours. Sometimes it's Gary Cooper's wife. Or Mrs. William Goetz. Or Claude Colbert. Mary talked to Mrs. Goetz in New York once for two hours and 20 minutes."

BUT NO AUTOGRAPH
Then there was Simpson. I didn't catch his first name, but Simpson was wearing short trousers and a bored expression and looked to be about 10 years old. Mike himself brought him to the table, so Simpson must have been important. Mike hardly ever speaks to people unless they make $5000 a week or more.

Mike introduced Simpson to Jack and said: "He's from England. He's heard you on the air."
"Oh," said Jack. "So you're a fan of mine? Well, Well, WELL." Simpson continued to look bored and said: "I find you rather amusing."

Jack squirmed behind a 34 plate of something or other. "RAWTHER, amusing?" his voice cracked.

Yes, said Simpson, who just stood there, not asking for an autograph, or anything. "Well, Well, WELL," said Jack. "I guess I better telephone Mary again." Jack went past Simpson like a red hot iron.

Simpson stood there for a moment and then Mike led him away. "I guess I saw Marie's traveling company with a double chocolate ice cream sundae with the same wild abandon with which he greeted Jack."

LANE IS BU-U-SY
Jack came back and said, dejectedly: "She's still talking." Jack looked relieved, though, at the absence of Maxine Simpson. He told me about driving to Chicago and up to Canada this summer with Frank Remley, the guitar player with Phil Harris' band. Remley is Jack's favorite traveling companion—"Mary wouldn't drive from this booth to the next one."

Jack and Frank stayed overnight in a little town and talked to little people and ate breakfast at 6:30 one morning at the home of a small town newspaper reporter in Utah and had a whale of a good time. "Maybe he'll make another movie," Jack said.

"When I find the right story, Studios keep sending me scripts about beaten down characters that they never seem to be my type. They're for Dennis Day—not me."

Jack got up to telephone Mary again. She was still talking.

Short takes: Paramount is re-shooting all of Jane Russell's first week's scenes with Bob Hope in the Paleface. She was pale, too—from stage fright. Johnny Agar, says the studio won't have to worry about being tagged "Mr. Shirley Temple." He's great, they say, in "War Party." Patron of the N. Y. art salon will be interested to learn that the new Russian painter, Knaz Zolev, is really Frank Veloz. Of the dance team—dancing backyards.

Hoover Girl Has Act on Program

Vera Daugherty, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Daugherty of Hoover, had a feature role at an hour-long Freshman mixer program held last Wednesday at West Texas State College, where she is now a Freshman.

Miss Daugherty's act, a can-can dance number, highlighted entertainment at the Dixie student, and a former student of the McMurtry Studio in Pampa.

Lillian D. Wald, American social worker, was the mother of a plan for public health nursing.

This Is Happy By PEGGY DERN © by Peggy Dern, Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Happy Brandon has just gotten a job as secretary to Steve Landers, hard-bitten war correspondent and prophet of doom. Steve prefers working in his own office. At a cocktail party one evening, Happy met George Harrell, southern aristocrat and gentleman farmer. Steve seems jealous when Harrell takes Happy to dinner. But Harrell's interest in Happy is not only in her, it is in the day he brings his mother and sister to call on her. They invite her to spend the month she has left on their estate in Guale. Happy accepts. Steve says he'll see on a January four the month she is away.

A WEEK later, she was summoned to the telephone. To hear Mrs. Harrell's voice inviting her to tea; and she flew upstairs to dress very carefully, grateful all over again for the mink coat.

Mrs. Harrell was waiting for her when she arrived at the hotel, and apologized for Joyce's absence. When they were settled and had ordered, Mrs. Harrell said, smiling, "I'm so glad you are coming down to Guale, Happy. We're looking forward to it."

Happy beamed. "So am I, Mrs. Harrell. It's lovely of you to have me."

Mrs. Harrell smiled. "I thought you might be worrying about clothes, Happy. You'll need little except cotton dresses."

"Cottons in February! It sounds tropical!"

Mrs. Harrell laughed. "Well not quite that, though we are in a sheltered position where we miss the cold. Anyway, if you bring cottons and perhaps a light wrap for chilly nights, you'll be quite comfortable."

They chatted for a while on impersonal subjects, and then Mrs. Harrell said unexpectedly, "George is very fond of you, Happy."

Warm color stained Happy's cheeks, but before she could say anything Mrs. Harrell went on hurriedly, "I try to make it a practice never to meddle in other

There were warm greetings, and then Mrs. Harrell led them to a maroon-and-maple-finished station wagon. She slipped beneath the wheel, and Joyce got in beside her. George helped Happy into the back, placing Timmy's traveling case between them, and the car started off.

THE airport left behind, they entered a wide, paved road bordered on each side by jungle; ancient live-oak trees that lifted enormous branches the thickness of a man's body, most of the branches draped with long, silvery festoons of Spanish moss that stirred in the faint salt-tangy wind.

At a wide fork with a triangular park in the center, the station wagon turned left, and a moment later Happy saw a low white-washed brick wall and squat, substantial brick pillars on either side of a wide white drive. Atop each of the pillars there was an antique brass ship's lantern, and fastened to one pillar was a polished brass sign that said simply, "Sandover."

They drove through the open gate and along the white drive between a double row of the live oaks that were like guards holding back the thickly pressing jungle growth; and then the drive split into a circle surrounding a beautiful velvety lawn, in the center of which stood an ancient stone sundial. And beyond was the house.

Happy caught her breath, and Madeline Harrell slowed the car so that the visitor might look her full. For it was an unforgettable sight. The house was wide, two-storied in the center, with the wings curving slightly and only one story high. Painted white, glistening a little in the dying sunlight, it seemed almost to float in the golden air, so exquisite were its proportions, so superbly balanced in line and contour. Steps went up in a graceful circle from either side, meeting before the tall white door with its beautiful fanlight. Happy was enchanted.

"Oh," she said, "Oh, it's like something in a dream!"

I'M A REALTOR NOW . . .

I ate dinner with the Kiwanis Club last Friday, (guest of LaNora Wallace) and they had some of the Girl Scouts here in Pampa putting on some of the program . . . It was mighty good, and the talks by some of the sponsors had got me to thinking . . . You know there is more to this Girl Scout business than I thought . . . It takes in a lot of territory . . . and I have come to the conclusion that most of us people don't give a good organization of this kind enough of our time, and especially help them out with some of the money that they need to carry on their work . . . I know there is a few people that do give more time and money than they can afford . . . and there's a lot of us who don't give enough of anything . . . The Girl Scouts here in Pampa are fixing to put on a drive for some money to help keep the thing going, and the only way for them to get it is for us to jump in and help . . . It might be that you can't afford to give but a little . . . say a dollar, but there's a lot of us who can give more . . . I know one thing though and I've always noticed it, and that is, for every dollar that I have given to some worthy cause, I've always gotten it back two-fold . . . I don't know why . . . I guess the good Lord takes care of those who donate some of their time and money to those things that are really good . . . Anyway when they call on you give all you can . . .

And now I've got to make some money, and this time I've got what it takes . . . I've got a genuine ladies' fur coat, and it's size 14 . . . It has several feminine frills that you don't see on every fur coat . . . It's second-hand alright, but it hasn't been worn over a one-fourth dozen times . . . I think the old gal that had it bit off too much . . . but I'll tell you what I'll do with it if you want this good piece of merchandise . . . If you're a working girl and making pretty good money, you can have it on credit . . . so much down and the balance in weekly installments . . . This coat probably cost the owner several hundred dollars, but I'm letting it go at a bargain . . . Take 100 for it and that's a sacrifice if I ever heard of one . . .

Here's something for a bargain . . . I have a good three-room modern house, good garage, and it sets on three lots . . . It's located at 941 South Barnes St. on the pavement . . . It's vacant now and all you would have to do would be to move in . . . Take $250.00 and give some good terms . . .

I have another good four-room modern on a good oiled street . . . has hardwood floors . . . fair garage . . . chicken house, and garden space . . . Take 250 for this one . . .

And here's an announcement that might interest some of you people . . . We've been working on this a long time, but we've got it ready to go now . . . and that's a Loan set-up that we've took over . . . If you buy a house, or if you are figuring on buying one, regardless of whether I handle the deal or not, if there is any financing to be done on it we would like to figure with you . . . We are set-up to where we can handle any kind of a loan that is made on city property . . . Our rate of interest is low . . . We also want your insurance business on the property that we are making the loans on . . . Now when I say WE, I mean myself and the Duncan Insurance Agency . . . We are in on this loan business together . . . Anyway when you want to borrow some money on any kind of city property, whether it's a G. I., P.H.A. or conventional loan, it might pay you to talk it over with us first . . . Personally I'm not making money out of it myself . . . I just need another iron in the fire . . .

I've got a good deal on some income property . . . One 5-room furnished, one 2-room unfurnished and one 2-room furnished . . . These 3 houses bring in a total of 110.00 per month under OPA and that's cheap rent . . . They are in good shape as the owner has kept them up, and the location is exceptionally good . . . We will sell you these houses for as little as 2000 down, and make the terms to suit the buyer.

I have a good business lot on South Cuyler that I will sell cheap, or 15 percent on your investment . . . This deal consists of three units that are renting for 125.00 per month, and the location is good . . . It's on a corner lot on the pavement, close in . . . Take 12,500.00 . . .

I have a good business lot on South Cuyler that I will sell cheap, or 15 percent on your investment . . . It's worth the money, and it's a 75 ft. frontage . . .

Just got thru listening to the Pampa-Wichita Falls game, and it seems to me that the Harvesters might be in the same predicament as the Pampa Oilers were . . . We've got good teams, but are in the wrong league . . . I suggest next year for the Oilers to join the Red River Valley League and they'll probably get in the play-offs . . .

And here's something that I've been wanting to bring up for a long time, and that's this street oiling business . . . You know Pampa is an oil town, and has been for a long time . . . Why can't the city oil all the dirt streets and alleys here in Pampa . . . and keep them oiled without any cost to any one group or individual . . . The way it is now the people have to furnish the oil, and the city will do the work . . . That makes the cost too much for any one or two people . . . Just for an example take my experience . . . I wanted a street oiled by my house . . . The city said they would furnish the grader if I would furnish the oil . . . I could get all the free oil, by going and getting it, but I didn't have the truck . . . Me and a neighbor hired a truck to haul us three loads, and it cost us 20.00 a load . . . I very seldom use the road myself, but the dust off of it was awful . . . The road really needs some more oil on it to put it in good shape, as there is lots of traffic over it at all hours, but one or two men can't afford to spend too much money on one piece of road . . . the oil doesn't cost anything . . . It's the hauling that counts, and that is what is happening all over town . . . There are lots of people that live on dirt streets that can't afford to oil even in front of their houses . . . Why can't the city equip them a truck, and hire a man by the month, to do nothing but haul in this waste oil and put it on our streets and alleys . . . It'll cost some money alright but it will be worth more to the town than the costs . . . The dust alone in this town is a big headache . . . We would have a cleaner town by far . . . If we didn't have all of this oil right at our door, it would be a different proposition, but Pampa is right in the middle of an oil field, and all we need is the equipment to haul it in . . . It's going to be several years before we get all the paving we want, and I think a good oiled street is second to paving when it comes to making a good road . . . I think the saving in maintaining a dirt road would go a long way in keeping it oiled . . . Why not say something to your City Commissioner about this . . . They're the ones that can get the job done if enough of you people want it . . . I believe I am safe in saying that there are more people living on dirt roads here in Pampa than there are living on pavement . . . Let's make Pampa a cleaner town to live in . . .

Here's a new listing that just came in . . . A good five-room modern house . . . good garage . . . on good lot . . . 75 foot frontage . . . take 4000 . . . This house will carry a 2000 loan, and the owner will carry another 500 . . . so you wouldn't have to have but 1500 to handle this deal . . .

When you read this go to Church . . . You'll feel better the rest of the day . . .

PRESIDENT'S SON—

John Coolidge Is Just Where He Wants to Be, Strictly on His Own

HARTFORD, Conn.—(P)—John Coolidge at 41 is just where he's wanted to be almost from the day he left the glamor of the White House—strictly on his own.

It could have been otherwise for the son of the late President Calvin Coolidge. But he wanted to avoid being the "boss' son," he said as he told with characteristic Coolidge shyness why he was living the quiet life of a small business executive.

There was an echo of his father's famous "I-do-not-choose-to-run" statement in his own explanation of what he is rather than what he might have been.

John's father-in-law, former Gov. John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, was head of the big Trumbull Electric Manufacturing Company in Plainville, back in 1928 when young Coolidge, then fresh out of Amherst College, was casting about for a career.

"I knew I could get a job in Trumbull Electric," he recalled, "but I chose railroading because I wanted to see if I could go on my own."

That's the way he felt then, just before the Coolidges moved out of the White House. That's the way John Coolidge feels today.

"I want to prove to myself that I can get along without being pushed—without being the boss' son," he said.

Coolidge, "just plain folks" to his neighbors in suburban Farmington, worked for the New Haven Railroad for 12 years before he quit his job as traveling agent to become his own boss. Now he heads a Hartford Business Forms Manufacturing Company (the Connecticut Manifold Forms Company) which employs 22 persons.

Both at his office and at his home, where his companions are his wife, the former Florence Trumbull, and their two children, Cynthia, 13, and Lydia, 8, he lives the quiet life of the typical business man.

He mows his own lawn and does other odd jobs about the red brick colonial house he moved into last April after living in converted stable because of the housing shortage.

The family's favorite vacation spot is the Coolidge farm in Plymouth, Vt., now owned by his mother. There, he says, the youngsters like to ride the hay wagon and help drive the cows from pasture.

He often stays at his desk until 6 p.m.—the last to leave the plant. When interviewed at his office, he was in his shirt sleeves finishing a nine-hour day.

Coolidge conceded it was not always easy for the son of a former president to live as he has chosen.

"It makes one self-conscious because you feel people are watching you," he said. "There is a feeling you can't live normally. Father and mother were concerned about the children for that reason."

With a twinkle in his eyes, Coolidge admitted that he himself was not guileless when it came to curiosity about celebrities.

When President Roosevelt visited Hartford some years ago, he joined the crowd at the railroad station to have a look.

"I didn't vote for him, but I wanted to see what he looked like," he said.

Coolidge has many hobbies—fishing, hunting, reading (mostly newspapers) and woodworking—but politics is not one of them. He said he felt he had neither the temperament nor a "thick enough skin" for politics.

He does, however, have one political gripe. His business, he asserted, is "hamstrung" by government regulations, and he feels that federal taxes are unfair to him.

His business philosophy? "I was brought up on the old-fashioned theory that if you want to achieve something you have to work for it, and keep working for it," he said. "To produce until we have a surplus is the only way to bring prices down."

A conscript Army would give us no more security than the sand does to an ostrich.—Lief Erickson, former judge, Montana Supreme Court.
