GOP Embarks On New Political Era

Quirk Of Fate Ends In Cold-Blooded Murder

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Mrs. Joseph Huebner always cashed her paycheck near a downtown department store where she worked. But not this week.

Henrietta Stitzel and her sister-in-law Luella Stitzel usually did their banking before they went shopping on Fridays. But not this week.

Chance decisions to depart from routine cost them their lives Wednesday. The three women and Mrs. Walter DeWald, a teller at the Cabinet Supreme Savings and Loan Association in suburban Delhi Hills, were herded into a vault and shot to death in "cold blood" by three men who robbed the savings office of $75.

A county sheriff called it "the most vicious crime I've ever seen."

Malone's Motion Set For Monday

The hearing on a motion filed by a defense attorney for Dr. James F. Malone to re-open a morals case has tentatively been set for Monday afternoon in Lubbock County Court-At-Law No. 2.

Dr. Malone's newly-appointed attorney, the former 74th District Attorney Travis Shelton of Lubbock, is seeking to have a hearing on a motion to re-open the case so that a nolo contendere plea to a charge of vagrancy with lewdness can be altered to a plea of innocence.

Forgotten American Now Dead

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Dykes A. Simmons Jr., the "forgotten American" who escaped in April from a Mexican prison by disguising himself as a woman, was found beaten to death in Port Worth late Wednesday night, his body slumped in a car.

Delay In Finishing Tax Roll Announced By Aubrey Jones

Because of a lack of equipment there will be a delay of more than two months in completing the 1969 tax roll and mailing out tax statements to Pampa property owners. City Tax Collector Aubrey Jones said today.

Woman Under Psychiatric Observation After Admitting To Husband's Murder

LUBBOCK (UPI) — Police, responding to a phone call from the 16-year-old daughter of a prominent Lubbock psychiatrist, found the man's wife sitting calmly on the side of a bed Wednesday in her blood-stained yellow nightgown.

TEXAS STATE Highway employees in the Pampa office today ordered doughnuts, brewed extra cups of coffee and issued invitations to the public to come out and tour their new $84,000 maintenance facility. Among the city and county officials attending were representatives from the Amarillo office of TSHD. One UF Space Ship "Docks" Successfully

The first "Rendezvous" in Space took place this morning with the reports of the various ship on schedule was the ships' docking in the Coronado Inn's Emerald Room. The only United Good Neighbor "Space Special Gifts Division" under the command of Gordon Lyons, who had already reached 30 percent of his goal with a report of $10,464.44.

Chief "Astronaut" Frank Culberson congratulated Lyons and went on to report that communications with other ships has been "spotty" - they all report good travel but not enough information to establish a trend," he said.

Prolific Peach Tree Doesn't Give Up Trying

A prolific peach tree located at the home of J.P. Stephens, 324 Roberta, just won't give up. It's bearing its second crop of peaches this year.

"Never heard of that before," ventured Stephens. "I was just wondering if anyone else had."

Stephens said he picked his first crop of peaches the second week in August. He was inspecting the tree this week and found 40 or 50 ne. peaches on the tree. "Some of them still had the bloom on them."

"And," he said, "they taste just as good as the first crop."

Murder . . .

There was no answer. I went to the back of the office to the vault and four women were lying inside the vault. One woman was moaning. Three of them were covered with blood. I called to my wife. She moved. Then I telephoned the police."

Luella Stitzel's husband, Nicholas, 70, said his 61-year-old wife and her widowed sister-in-law, Henrietta, 64, usually went to the bank together on Fridays.

"They had a habit of going to the bank and shopping together," Stitzel said, "but Wednesday was an off-day for them. It must have been their first stop because they left home shortly before this happened."

Col. Paul Fricker, head of the Hamilton County sheriff's patrol, called it "the most vicious crime I've ever seen." Police said one of the victims was lying near the door of the vault and the other three were "stacked on top of each other."

Jerome Grueter, manager of the savings and loan firm, said he was out of the office visiting a customer at the time of the holdup. He collapsed when he heard of the incident and was taken to St. Francis Hospital where he was treated for shock.

"I was gone from the office only 40 minutes," Grueter said.

He said Mrs. DeWald, wife of a city policeman, had been "worried" about a possible holdup.

"On Aug. 28 we had two men come in and Mrs. DeWald was very observant. She said they looked suspicious. In fact when I went on vacation right after that she had her husband stake out the bank."

Fricker said the women apparently were killed because they knew their assailants.

FISHERMEN CITED IN ROE

BELGRADE (UPI)—Caviar fishermen from Donji Milanovac said Wednesday they ended their partnership with crews from Kladovo. From now on it was each town for itself in producing "original" caviar from Danube trout and sturgeon.

Army Sergeant Comandeers Plan

MIAMI (UPI)—An Army recruiting sergeant, who said he had a wife and four children, boarded a National Airlines jet with a blonde and a baby Wednesday night and commandeered the plane to Cuba.

The hijacker, identified by the passenger list as Alford Hernandez, gave a stewardess a telephone number in Miami and said, "Call my wife and tell her I'm leaving."

The Boeing 727-Flight 411 from Newark, N.J. to Miami with 72 passengers and a crew of seven-landed in Havana at 8:03 p.m. CDT and after a three-hour delay, was allowed to return to the United States, landing at Miami at 1 a.m. today.

Survivors are his widow, Peggy; two daughters, Kimbra Renea and Stephanie Ann; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Anderson, Shamrock; three brothers, Loyd, Pampa, Steve, Shamrock and Burney, Amarillo; four sisters, Mrs. Clela Riley, Mrs. Wanda Vinyard, and Trema Anderson, all of Shamrock, and Mrs. Audrine Olsen, Stratford.

JEFF EARP

Funeral services for Jeff Earp, 80, were held today in Duenkel Funeral Chapel with burial in Hillcrest Cemetery of McLean.

Mr. Earp, resident of 1716 Evergreen, died Wednesday in Highland General Hospital.

He was a member of the Board of Directors of Pampa Genealogical Society and was a member of the Panhandle Plains Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution. A Texas Panhandle resident since 1906, he moved to Miami in 1943 and to Pampa in 1959.

A. N. SHOOPMAN

Funeral services for Aubrey N. Shoopman, 61, are pending with Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors of Pampa.

A resident of 841 S. Faulkner, he was dead on arrival at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday at North Plains Hospital in Borger after suffering a heart attack.

He was born Sept. 28, 1907, at Butterfield, Mo., and moved to Pampa 19 years ago from Oilton, Okla. A member of First Baptist Church in Oilton, he was a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of Pampa Lodge No. 966 and of the El Paso Consistory.

He was employed as a driller for a Borger drilling company. Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Ruth Shoopman, Pampa; three sons, Al, Palm Springs, Calif.; Howard and Bobby both of Pampa; his mother, Mrs. Fannie Shoopman, Bristow, Okla.; three brothers, Sherman Roy and Bill, all of Stockton, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Bernice Magee, and Mrs. Gladys Peacock, both of Bristow, and four grandchildren.

Funeral—services for Larry Anderson, 30, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at First Baptist Church with Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Kelton Cemetery directed by Duenkel Funeral Home of Pampa.

Mr. Anderson died Wednesday morning after suffering an electrical shock while working on an electrical line south of Pampa Country Club.

He was a native of Wheeler and moved to Pampa in 1958. He was a member of the Pampa Jaycees, president of Pampa Roping Club and a member of First Baptist Church.

Survivors are his widow, Peggy; two daughters, Kimbra Renea and Stephanie Ann; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Anderson, Shamrock; three brothers, Loyd, Pampa, Steve, Shamrock and Burney, Amarillo; four sisters, Mrs. Clela Riley, Mrs. Wanda Vinyard, and Trema Anderson, all of Shamrock, and Mrs. Audrine Olsen, Stratford.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI)

The family of Mary Jo Koepchne asked the Luzerne County Court today to dismiss the latest request for an autopsy on the body of the girl, killed in a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

A motion, filed by Koepchne family attorney Joseph Flanagan said even if all the reasons—including the alleged presence of blood—set forth in the requests by Massachusetts Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis were facts, they still would be insufficient under Pennsylvania law to exhumate the body and perform an autopsy.

Flanagan said the Massachusetts petition should be dismissed unless Dinis gave some indication that a crime was committed, or that there was criminal negligence or that the coroner's verdict of accidental death by drowning was in dispute with other medical authority.

The Koepchne motion said the Massachusetts petition made no such averments. The motion was filed five days before a scheduled hearing here on Dinis' amended petition for exhumation and autopsy.

Dinis' first autopsy request was made to Luzerne County

Approval of allocating and encumbering funds for payment of contract obligations, including $16,000 to Marvin Springer and Associates of Dallas for consultant-engineering service. The city manager stated that the city is holding $120,000 in meter deposits from utility users, all subject to refund.

Awarded a contract to Econolite Co. of Fort Worth for purchase of 12 three-color vertical traffic signals at a cost of $2,930.

Took no action on a recommendation of consultant engineers concerning improvements at Recreation Park, pending further study.

The council also delayed action on a proposal from Highland General Hospital to extend Pennsylvania Ave. from the existing pavement to hospital property, pending a formal request and additional details from the hospital board.

Approved a salary schedule for city employees as contained in the new city budget for fiscal 1969-70. City Manager Hill disclosed that the city's annual salary total for city workers is $1,184,415.

And approved payment of $109 to clerks and judges employed in yesterday's election.

Koepchne Family Asks For Another Dismissal

Judge Bernard Brominski five weeks ago. Brominski directed Dinis to file an amended petition because the first petition set forth insufficient facts under state law.

Dinis' amended version revealed "there was present a certain amount of blood in both Mary Jo Koepchne's mouth and nose, which may or may not have been consistent with death by drowning."

Miss Koepchne, 28, was killed July 18 when Kennedy's car ran off a bridge on Chappaquiddick Island and landed upside-down in the water.

OCAW Seeks To Organize At Cabot

Oil Chemical and Atomic Worker's Union is again attempting to organize Cabot Corp. employees according to a reliable source. Representation cards are believed to have been mailed to Cabot employees.

The OCAW has tried to organize Cabot workers several times in the past but has failed each time.

Cabot officials would not comment on the subject and there was no answer at the local office of the OCAW.

Unusual Accident Results In Citation

When Joe Luis Rodriguez was backing down a truck shortly after noon Wednesday. After crossing the intersection of Buckler and Frost, he lost control of his car and backed over the curb. The gas tank fell off the car but Rodriguez, 612 S. Reid, managed to drive his car (forward) three blocks before it stalled.

The Pampa Fire Department was called to wash down the street where gas was spread on the street.

When police located the young man he was issued a citation for leaving the scene of an accident.

statements for 1969 may not be mailed before Dec. 15. We realize this will be an inconvenience to many taxpayers, but we will appreciate their cooperation and patience."

The tax collector said taxes will be due and payable on or before Jan. 31, 1970. He added that penalty and interest will be added to all payments received by the tax department on and after Feb. 1 next year.

Taxes will be figured on the city rate of $172 per $100 assessed value and there will be no discount or split payment.

Night School To Have Enrollment Monday Night

Registration will start Monday for Pampa Vocational and Technical Night School with classes scheduled to start Oct. 6 at Pampa High School.

Registration hours are from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the main hall of PHS. Cameron Marsh, high school principal, said, "If a person wants to enroll before 6:30 p.m. the main office at the high school will be open for registration from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday."

Classes start Oct. 6 and will be in session from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Monday through Jan. 26. Tuition is payable in advance. If a class does not materialize money will be refunded to those registered for the particular class, Marsh said.

"A high school diploma is not required for enrollment in the vocational school. Credit may be applied toward a high school diploma, but students presently enrolled in regular high school classes may not attend," he said.

Fees range from $24 to $30. Courses offered for $24 each are basic English; American history, American government, basic economics, business mathematics, medical stenography, current trends in science, salesmanship, business law, personal typing, beginning shorthand, clerical practice, general accounting, conversational Spanish and speech fundamentals.

Courses offered for $30 each are general biology, general chemistry, beginning art, handicrafts, machine shop and welding, auto mechanics, wood shop, drafting and blue print reading, electrical trades and business machines.

Enrollment in the night school is intended for job placement, aid in securing employment or for pleasure only, Marsh said.

Area Men Charged In Assault Case

WHEELER (Staff)—Charges of assault and robbery in connection with the beating and robbing of an 80-year-old Wheeler man were lodged against two men in 31st District Court here Tuesday.

Clinton Jones of Wheeler is free on $5,000 bond and Charles Walker of Dumas is free on a $1,000 bond set at the arraignment before District Judge Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler.

The charge followed an incident June 3 when Jeff Swetnam was assaulted in his home and robbed of $7. Swetnam spent nearly two months in Parkview Hospital here for treatment of injuries.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TEXAS PANHANDLE

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me!

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men; to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

In our editorial, "For Those Who Would Learn," we suggested that correspondence courses might be at least part of the answer for parents who, while being concerned about the failure of the tax-supported school system to teach their children economics, are also honest enough to admit that they are ill-equipped to perform the task themselves.

9. "The Kohler Strike" by Sylvester Petro, Henry Regnery Co. A classic treatment of union violence aided and abetted by administrative law.

10. "The Communist Manifesto" by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels, Henry Regnery Co. Included in this listing only for its antitoxin effect. How can one intelligently oppose communism until one knows what communism is?

11. "Why Wages Rise?" by Dr. F.A. Harper, Foundation for Economic Education. The author shows why real wages (purchasing power), as differentiated from dollar wages, rise as the result of increased production, and not as the result of union violence or minimum wage laws.

12. "Paying Men Not to Work" by Professor Oscar W. Cooley, Caxton Printers Ltd. How, and why, governmentally administered welfare schemes must result in a steadily increasing number of drones clinging to the backs of a steadily decreasing number of productive workers.

3. "America's Great Depression" by Murray N. Rothbard, D. Van Nostrand Company, Inc. Documented proof that the terrible depression of the late twenties and thirties was caused, not by the "failure of freedom and private enterprise," as taught in the public school system, but the government meddling with the money supply and other bureaucratic interventions in the market place.

14. "The Failure of the 'New Economics'" by Henry Hazlitt, D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc. A lively penetrating criticism of Lord Keynes's celebrated work, "The General Theory," in which Hazlitt leaves Keynes every major tenet, and Keynesianism in general, hanging in tattered shreds.

15. "The God of the Machine" by Isabel Paterson, Caxton Printers. Freedom and government maintained by an analytical mind.

16. "The People's Pottage" by Gareth Garrett, Caxton Printers. A relentless critique of the "New Deal" and how the American people were included to exchange their freedom for the thin gruel of political "benefits."

17. "Constitutional Government Today in Soviet Russia" by Robert Lefevre, Exposition Press. Showing how a written constitution has not prevented tyranny and oppression in Russia any more than ours has prevented them here.

18. "A Socialist Empire: The Incas of Peru" by Louis Baudin, D. Van Nostrand, Refuting in a devastating manner, the claim that socialism is the "new wave of the future." Baudin shows that it is, instead, one of the oldest and most unworkable fallacies ever entertained by the mind of man. A vivid and unforgettable picture of what life was like under the enslaved, lockstep rule of the collectivist empire of ancient Inca Peru.

19. "Human Action" by Ludwig von Mises, Yale University Press. A monumental treatise, written by the foremost exponent of the "Austrian School" of economics, in which every aspect - save perhaps one - of both the free market and socialism are examined with methodical, unmatched precision. The "socialist conglomerate," rather than attempting to refute Mises's thesis, chooses, instead, to deny his existence, hoping he will go away.

20. "The Nature of Man and His Government" by Robert LeFevre, Caxton Printers. If the individual, free, as the author, then how can any system which, by its very nature, imposes the wills of some people upon those of other people result in anything other than special privilege, enslavement, conflict and, finally, war?

Almost needless to add, the above listing is not intended to suggest that these are the only, or even necessarily, the best texts from which one may gain a grasp of economics in its totality.

S. Korea In Boom Despite Its Flaws

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The current stir in South Korea over President Park Chung-Hee's steamroller move for a constitutional amendment to allow him to serve beyond the present eight-year limit reminds the western world that Korean democracy is still highly imperfect.

But these imperfections should not cast too large a shadow over the recent gains in political stability and, particularly, economic development. The economy's growth is startling.

In 1961, eight years after the armistice in the costly Korean war, the country - nearly barren of natural resources - exported just $41 million worth of goods and materials. Last year the total was $500 million; this year it should reach $700 million and in 1970 the estimate for exports is a flat $1 billion.

Moreover, its imports already are approaching $1 billion annually and South Korea is perhaps the 20th largest market in the world.

Its 1968 growth was 13.1 per cent. By 1971 it is expected to have doubled the 1966 industrial level, which itself was twice that of 1961. Per capita income, still a painfully low $140 a year, could bound up by a third in the next two years.

Fed by stability and growth, a mood of rising selfconfidence runs through the tough South Korean people today. Despite the problems of the electoral succession and the continued North Korean threat to the border, this mood has proved infectious.

Foreign capital is being attracted on an increasing scale. In 1968 the inflow was almost $1.4 billion. The 1967 total of $878 million included $451 million in private loans, mostly from Japan and West Germany. America accounted for most of the $426.7 million in public loans.

Equity investments by foreigners are just now reaching sizable proportions ($82 million in 1968). A nation that once had to import all refined oil products today has two refineries in operation and two more building. Petrochemical derivatives (including synthetic alcohol, cars, trucks, agricultural machinery and pianos) are being produced or soon will be. A big power plant will rise near Seoul.

It pains some simplistic observers of the world scene to see such progress in a nation whose democratic processes still leave something to be desired.

To the extent that they must accept it as a fact, these observers seek solace in ascribing the economic gains almost wholly to American largesse doled out to a "client state" (which presumably does U.S. bidding at the flick of a finger).

In Korea's case, U.S. aid has been real enough. Since the 1953 armistice, the U.S. government has pumped in $3.6 billion in aid. International funding agencies and private charitable organizations have added more. But by 1971 South Korea is expected to end its dependence on U.S. government aid.

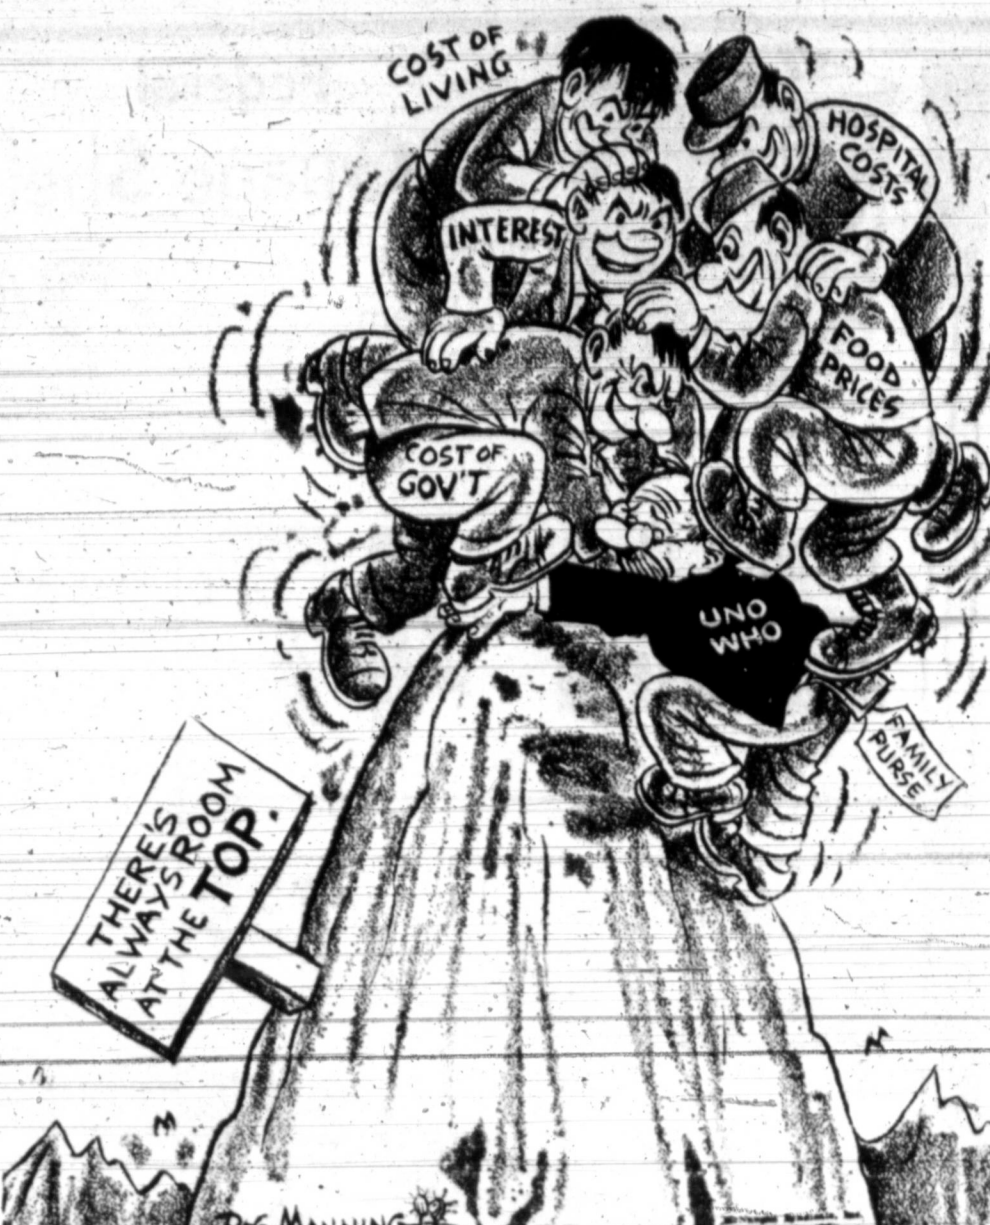

Economic growth rates in the 1970s are counted on to average 10 per cent a year, and foreign trade may triple the 1965 levels. More and more investment from abroad is expected. Self-reliance is the new watchword.

The war ended 16 years ago, but only in the last five has the economy really boomed. The most striking gains coincide with the political stability achieved under President Park. He is not your standard democrat, but South Korea allows much more vigorous political opposition than the outsider might imagine. And practiced appraisers give heavy credit to the strong-willed Park for pushing economic development plans to the utmost.

U.S. aid largely repaired war damage that came to $3 billion and left a fourth of South Korea's population (now 30 million) homeless. It sustained a recovering people. It helped build a base.

But the country did not get into its astonishing upward economic course until it found its own stability and a determined bent toward self-support which no true "client state" would bother to develop.

Phony Cult Of Togetherness

By PATRICIA YOUNG

VANCOUVER, B.C. - Don't let me fool you, there's a phony Togetherness Cult on our tail.

Complete with jargon of its own and such commendable words as "social action," "involvement," and "commitment," it would remove the "I" from sin and replace it with a group conscience and group guilt rather than individual responsibility.

More and more are we urged to identify with the group, confess our shortcomings to the collective and accept the group cure for our "sickness" of thinking for ourselves.

It is no longer enough to have a reasoned opinion about birth control, fluoridation or Siamese cats, one's argument must be backed up by the "authority" of pressure group or ad hoc committee. Even parenthood has become a community project with do-gooders standing by with a stopwatch and but-

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY

As far as I can figure there are only two institutions who give a hang what happens to the taxpayer's money - The General Accounting Office and Rep. Gross of Iowa.

They got together and the GAO unearthed a report that 14 foreign nations, endowed by foreign give-away programmes, owe the U.S. Post Office the grand total of $12.7 million for mail services.

Some of these debts go back to the early 1950s. But the timid to the early 1950s. But the timid State Department is not the least eager to collect them.

Why, they have not even charged these dead-beat countries interest on this debt, which would exceed a half-million dollars.

The Foreign Assistance Act provides by law that nations indebted in this manner shall be cut off from foreign aid. Rep. Gross is holding that no such action has been taken and none is in the offing.

How about adding insult to injury. Our P.O. Department stupidly pays off their debts to foreign countries in dollars instead of using the local currency owed us that is piling up in those lands. This has an adverse effect on our balance of payments and is against government policy.

Gross says, "It is undoubtedly fortunate that the Washington bureaucrats do not have more of a stranglehold than they do on private enterprise in this country. If you or I tried to run a business in this fashion we would soon be busted!"

It's Safe for Child

To Set Own Sleep Pattern

Q - My 4-month-old daughter has enjoyed being awake six to 10 hours a day from the time she was born. Does this mean that she will be overactive as she grows older? Is any treatment necessary?

A - Most babies sleep 16 to 20 hours a day in the first week, then taper off to 15 hours a day by the time they are 16 weeks old. But there is room for wider variation from these averages than was formerly recognized.

No treatment is required. And above all, don't give her sedatives to make her sleep longer.

Q - Our son, 15, falls asleep a lot in school or anywhere. He weighs 220 pounds but the doctor says he doesn't have any glandular disease. What could cause him to sleep that way and is there any treatment for it?

A - If your son also sleeps well at night he may have a condition called narcolepsy. If so, amphetamine may help him.

Q - My niece's son, 8½, has frequent nightmares. What could cause them and is there any cure?

A - Nightmares are common in children between the ages 3 and 8, and in children who are emotional or in poor health. The best treatment is for the parents to make his waking environment as calm as possible.

Q - Is there any organization that provides information on cerebral palsy?

A - Yes. The United Cerebral Palsy Association, 321 West 44th St., New York, N.Y. 10036.

WASHINGTON

See Kosygin's Peking Visit Setting Up Strike At China

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Some of President Nixon's analysts read a bleak significance into Soviet Premier Kosygin's "summit" visit to Peking.

They see the possibility Moscow was setting up justification for quickie air and missile strikes on Communist China's major nuclear and missile installations.

They think, moreover, that if Moscow is to act this year, it must act fast. The weather starts getting worse in October in the areas of China concerned - and becomes steadily rougher for air operations - as fall ends and winter comes on.

All this analysis is pure conjecture, of course. These U.S. analysts have no inside track on Moscow's thinking.

At the recent Russian-sponsored world conference of Communist parties, Moscow made a major issue of the insults they had suffered from the Red Chinese.

After Ho Chi Minh's death, the death of Ho Chi Minh will have its strongest reverberations outside the borders of North Vietnam.

Eventually, however, the collective leadership which has assumed power in Hanoi, is expected to dissolve into a power struggle - a contest for personal control of the North Vietnamese politburo.

Those are the convictions which are beginning to emerge here in the wake of the death and funeral of "Uncle" Ho. They represent the views of the experts who advise the government's policy-makers.

One clear result of Ho's death is to remove a charismatic leader - the man who beat the French - a patriot who was something of a father figure in South as well as North Vietnam.

Some experts here hope it will now be easier for leaders in Saigon to win a broad commitment to the government throughout South Vietnam.

Another result of Ho's death is to remove from the international scene the experienced "old communist," veteran of many policy turnings, who had successfully played off Moscow against Peking while Sino-Soviet relations were sinking to their present nadir. With Ho gone, the two Communist giants can be expected to renew their bids for dominance in Hanoi.

After Ho What? - As the Experts See It

WASHINGTON - For the present, the death of Ho Chi Minh will have its strongest reverberations outside the borders of North Vietnam.

Eventually, however, the collective leadership which has assumed power in Hanoi, is expected to dissolve into a power struggle - a contest for personal control of the North Vietnamese politburo.

Those are the convictions which are beginning to emerge here in the wake of the death and funeral of "Uncle" Ho. They represent the views of the experts who advise the government's policy-makers.

After the announcement when Nixon called congressional leaders to the White House Monday evening to give them an advance briefing on the plan, House Democratic whip Hale Boggs, Jr., turned up at the session with a local newspaper headline Ky's disclosure, and showed it to Nixon.

Participants report that the President was already well aware of the statements made by Marshal Ky. One of the congressional group came away with the impression that Ky's advance disclosure had been planned so that the word could come first from the South Vietnamese government.

At the unannounced White House meeting, the President explained very carefully that he was reducing the ceiling for U.S. troops in Vietnam to 484,000 effective Dec. 15. That would seem to imply an overall reduction of 65,500 troops by the Nixon Administration.

The President noted, however, that military units are almost never at full strength so that the actual number of troops withdrawn would be less than the number of troops announced.

Periodically, since the first withdrawal of 35,000 troops was announced, congressional critics have complained that troop strength in Vietnam didn't yet reflect the announced withdrawal. Now the White House wants to end that numbers game.

The Senate Investigation Subcommittee will hold hearings soon on some of the get-rich-quick schemes. As previously reported here, the subcommittee has evidence that some of them involve black-market dealings in South Vietnamese plasters.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D. Conn., will preside at the hearings which grow out of the subcommittee's interest in the foreign aid program in South Vietnam. Carmine S. Bellino, the accountant-investigator who did much of the leg work for the subcommittee's inquiry into labor rackets, has been working on the case in Saigon.

NIXON UNRUFFLED - Some congressional criticism resulted last week when Vice President Ky stole a march on the White House and announced the new U.S. troop withdrawals in Saigon. President Nixon was apparently unruffled by the incident, however.

Ky had already made his announcement - when Nixon called congressional leaders to the White House Monday evening to give them an advance briefing on the plan.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter married a 30-year-old mama's boy who is in love with tropical fish. He has 13 tanks of them. He's got a fortune sunk in them. Just to give you an idea, he paid $14 for one little fish. Well, after four months of marriage my daughter got pregnant against his wishes so he got mad and went home to his mama. He says they can't afford a baby yet. (Fish he can afford.)

Naturally my daughter is deeply hurt, and now she doesn't even want to go to the wedding with us. Should we insist that she go and pretend she doesn't care? Or we let her stay away? Now I don't know if my husband and I should go to the wedding either. It is certain to be a very unhappy day for my immediate family. Please advise.

He left the fish tanks in her apartment, and even though she hates the fish she had to feed them and clean the tanks. The fishlover came by once in a while to see the fish. My daughter cried her eyes out and lost the baby, so now her husband decided they should kiss and make up and start all over again.

DEAR BEWILDERED: Don't insist that your daughter attend the wedding if she prefers to stay away. (Perhaps the weekend of the wedding she could take a little trip out of town to cheer her up.) If you and your husband want to go, by all means, go. But don't stay away in order to "protest" the slightest of your daughter. And by the way, I think you used excellent judgment in refraining from putting your sister on the spot.

She took him back, and so far all is calm, but I know this isn't going to last. The priest says she can get an annulment on the grounds that this man is a boy. How can I convince her she ought to forget him once and for all?

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have a question I hope you won't think is too dumb to answer.

DEAR MOTHER: You can't even seek its own level — water in a fish tank, so keep your ears out of their water and let your daughter sink or swim.

When a girl (me) goes riding with a boy (he is not a "steady" — he is just someone I like a real lot) how close should I sit to him?
I feel so foolish pressing against the door like I am afraid of him. All we do really while he is driving is talk.

DEAR ABBY: My sister's daughter, Arlene, is being married soon, and the whole family is all excited about the coming wedding, which will be a large, formal church affair.

JUDY: Sit close enough to talk — but not close enough to be talked about.

Arlene has asked all the girl cousins near her age to be bridesmaids — except my daughter, Nancy. Arlene and Nancy have never been close friends due to jealousy on both sides. And although my sister and her husband have always been very close to me and my husband, I just don't feel that I should put my sister on the spot by "begging" her to ask Arlene to include Nancy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LUCY (AND TO ALL THE OTHERS WHO WROTE TO TELL ME THAT CATS DO CARRY RINGWORM): Yes, I know, but the writer condemning cats stated that all cats carry ringworm and transmit it promptly to babies. Any animal (or person) afflicted with a contagious disease "carries" and transmits it, of course.

Miss Wainscott Warns Parents To Remove Doors

Old discarded refrigerators tempt too many children to use them as a hiding place. Just because an old refrigerator has a magnetic latch it isn't accident proof, reminds Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County home demonstration agent. A small child might not be able to push the door open.

"Even if the box is on its side or back, older children could open the door but not, perhaps, if he were inside. Frigh and weight of the door could prove to be too much," she said.

Miss Wainscott suggests removing the door entirely, facing the refrigerator toward a wall, locking the door with a lock and chain and fastening blocks to the door to keep it from closing.

A few minutes of time may save a child's life. In some areas, repairmen will remove a refrigerator door free as a public service, she concluded.

TOPS Club Meets At Pampa Church

Lota Pounds Off TOPS Club met recently with 17 members present at Central Baptist Church, with Mrs. Lois Belote as stand-in leader.

Members reported losing 27 1/2 lbs. and gaining 7 1/4 lbs. The weekly fruit basket was given to Mrs. Alice Ferguson who lost 6 1/4 lbs. this week. The weekly door prize was won by Mrs. Augusta Brown.

Members planned a white elephant party for Sept. 29 and announced members would report their secret pals during the party.

Mrs. Myrt Leigh presented a program on graphomania.

Jaycee-Ette Club Reports Projects, Discusses Fair

Pampa Jaycee-Ettes met recently in the home of Mrs. Morris Wilson with Mrs. Dwayne Nokes assisting Mrs. Wilson with hostess duties for the dinner.

Guests were Mrs. Gene Schneider, Mrs. Jerry Cansler, Mrs. Larry Allen and Mrs. Harold Stanley, area I vice president.

Mrs. Gene Hinds, president, conducted the business session as reports were given on a recent project, the watermelon social, a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner. Other projects were orientation with the Jaycees, and an ice cream social in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hayes.

Members reported on the Donkey Ball game ticket sales and a car wash which helped raise money to finance club programs. Members' annual Gifts O' Plenty Fair will be held Dec. 6 with a chili-soup dinner planned during the fair.

Others attending were Mmes. Nathan Lancaster, John Warner, Dwight Turner, Chris Pickett, Buz Shelton, Don Williamson, Joe Biggers, Bob Green and Dick Klein.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 26
Your birthday Friday: A year for picking up the pieces. You gravitate toward a final judgment on a range of controversial items. Many unexpected quirks of circumstance build up your standing. Purely sentimental considerations will go by the board in the thrust of the coming year. Friday's natives are bold.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You are still too impatient for your own interests. Hold on a day longer, be tactful, and save your freedom of movement.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Avoid business with people you think are friends today. Side-step squabbles. Influential people tend to be unfavorably disposed at the moment.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Work and home matters continue to run into conflict so that it is hard to decide which pressure to answer. Take a long break and choose according to your aroused intuition.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Think out what you are reacting to. Decide the final outcome by considering the results of your alternatives. No matter what the rumor, you do not have the entire story as yet!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): If you really are master of your destiny, you will turn today's stress between yourself and all who work with you into a shared experience instead of a breach in relations.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Continue all due and some undue caution. Check your home for hazards. Renew lapsed coverage. Let courtesy lead you past conflicts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your attentions are wanted in so many directions that there is no way of knowing where to turn. Long-range goals are easier to follow, but now a short-range action can turn out to be permanent.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Relatives, in-laws; superiors on the job are all to be given the widest possible distance Friday. Do what you have to do and show as bright and cheerful a countenance as you can.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): The stress continues unabated. Take a conservative course and keep right on going. The temptation is to become involved in matters which are really a bit beyond your firm grasp.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Pull in your horns as far as they will go. Make allowances and excuses for people even when you are certain none are valid.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Travel is to be done only with great care. People of different habits provide inconveniences when you must deal with them over any significant period of time. Relax early.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Tension still rides high. Get your side of it down by seeking deeper understanding of yourself.

ROBERT ALLEN
After another morning involving investigation will hold some of the time. As here, the evidence that lives black in South

He left the fish tanks in her apartment, and even though she hates the fish she had to feed them and clean the tanks. The fishlover came by once in a while to see the fish. My daughter cried her eyes out and lost the baby, so now her husband decided they should kiss and make up and start all over again.

She took him back, and so far all is calm, but I know this isn't going to last. The priest says she can get an annulment on the grounds that this man is a boy. How can I convince her she ought to forget him once and for all?

DEAR MOTHER: You can't even seek its own level — water in a fish tank, so keep your ears out of their water and let your daughter sink or swim.

DEAR ABBY: My sister's daughter, Arlene, is being married soon, and the whole family is all excited about the coming wedding, which will be a large, formal church affair.

Arlene has asked all the girl cousins near her age to be bridesmaids — except my daughter, Nancy. Arlene and Nancy have never been close friends due to jealousy on both sides. And although my sister and her husband have always been very close to me and my husband, I just don't feel that I should put my sister on the spot by "begging" her to ask Arlene to include Nancy.

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

AUSTIN — Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law a $5.8 billion 1970-71 state budget. This was after vetoing $4.4 million in miscellaneous spending items. Yet the expenditure set an all-time record.

Earlier, Smith approved a new record $248.6 million tax bill which takes effect Oct. 1. (In addition to state revenue, cities will get an estimated $6 million a year due to extension of the sales tax to beer and liquor. Sales tax rate goes up from 3 to 3.25 per cent.)

Smith also signed other acts of the special session, including legislation creating 29 new Texas district courts. He will name all judges to serve until the next general election. This may be the largest single amount of judicial patronage assigned a Texas governor at one time in state history.

Tax bill as passed by the Legislature provided plenty of revenue to fill the state's needs, but Smith said his vetoes are "justified for the sake of economy perhaps more than for anything else." Many of the items vetoed, he noted, were not part of the original House or Senate appropriations acts, and some were not even requested by agencies.

Gov. Smith vetoed the following items as now "unjustified or non-essential": Construction funds totaling $2.9 million for the Dallas Neuropsychiatric Institute; $262,717 for the Department of Public Safety sub-district headquarters in McAllen; $250,000 for the Junction adjunct of Texas A&M; $160,000 for Texas Maritime Academy Pelican Island Development.

Also an appropriation of $225,000 for contracts of private lawyers to assist the Attorney General in tort claims cases in 1971; $172,000 for park land acquisition in Hardeman and Motley counties; $207,500 for acquiring land and development of Port Lavaca Causeway State Park; $50,000 for drilling a water well at Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Gillespie County; $25,000 for Longhorn Cavern State Park; $29,000 for completion of a master plan for the Red River Authority; $60,000 for a fish raising facility at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches, and $65,000 for environmental pollution control studies at Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College.

EARNES FOR SENATE? — Is Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, 31, about to become a candidate for the U.S. Senate against Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, 66?

Nobody can truthfully claim to know the answer to that, including Barnes himself, who says he has not yet made up his mind.

Yet, Gov. Smith opened up new speculation on the subject during the recent Southern Governors' Conference at Williamsburg, Va.

Asked by reporters if he thinks Barnes could beat Yarborough, Smith said he believes that is possible — depending on the kind of races run by each, their financial resources and a lot of imponderables.

Smith didn't claim to know, but the fact he was willing to discuss the prospective race at all was an indicator of the widespread circulation of the Barnes-Yarborough contest rumor.

Smith also told newsmen he feels Yarborough is in the best political position he has enjoyed since he went to Washington more than a decade ago.

Smith will, he emphasized, take no hand in the Senate race no matter who the candidates are.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Major and minor appointments came thick and fast during the last week.

Veteran State Securities Commissioner William M. King resigned his post to enter private banking here, and his longtime deputy, Truman G. Holladay, was named to succeed him.

Smith named a nine member board of regents for East Texas State University. They include Houston H. Harte of San Antonio, Raymond Middleton Holiday of Houston, Joseph Zeppa of Tyler, William Garland Button of Dallas, Cam F. Dowell Jr. of Dallas, Joel Thomas Williams Jr. of Dallas, Leon Jackson Coker Jr. of Tearkana, Thomas Brazelton Steely of Paris and Luther Preston Johnston of Lubbock.

Dr. Stewart Wolf will head at Galveston. Mrs. Marie Schulz has been named program director of the library systems act for the state library. Eleven new Texas Rangers were designated by the Department of Public Safety.

LEASE SALES SET — A total of 333 tracts of University of Texas lands (111,812 acres) in West Texas will be placed on lease auction, Dec. 16. Nov. 4, some 768 tracts totaling 496,871 acres will be offered in a school land sale.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said 125 tracts of university land in Hudspeth County will be offered at bonuses of not less than $1,000 per half section and at annual lease rentals of $1.50 an acre. This was reduced from former requirements of $5,000 per quarter section and $2 per acre. Former requirements will govern other tract leases.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS — University of Texas

the marine biomedical institute can't strip Dr. James McCrocklin, former Southwest Texas State University president, of his PhD. degree, and court action would be necessary to annul it. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: —Commercial feeding lots "finishing out" cattle for market must provide county tax collector a list showing the numbers of cattle they need for each owner, on Jan. 1. —New type liquor wholesalers permit does not discriminate against other permit holders, and is constitutional. —Harris County commissioners may grant the county sheriff and his deputies the same authority. DPS officers have, to remove vehicles from county roads.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS WARNED — More than a dozen Texas school districts have drawn warning of deficiencies from the State Board of Education.

Crosby Independent School District lost its accreditation but can regain it when it meets state requirements.

Alpine received final warnings it may lose accreditation if conditions are not approved.

Also warned were Antelope, Bertram, Bridgeport, Calvert, Hemphill, Masonic Home, Hewitt, Rains, Elizario, Spur, Timpson and Little Elm.

State Board decided to permit 16-year-olds to enroll in adult basic education programs. New department of special education and special schools organization was approved.

SHORT SNORTS — Governor Smith and Senator Yarborough are united in defense of tax exempt status for state and local bonds.

Liquor Control Board will make new rules covering collection of taxes on mixed drink (in private club) before the levy goes into effect Oct. 1.

Many Texas nursing homes are withdrawing from medicare program because of government red tape, according to an association spokesman.

Law enforcement leaders have scheduled meeting here for Sept. 27-28 for the 15th annual attorney general's law enforcement conference.

DPS is actively recruiting men (ages 20-35) for Texas Highway Patrol training.

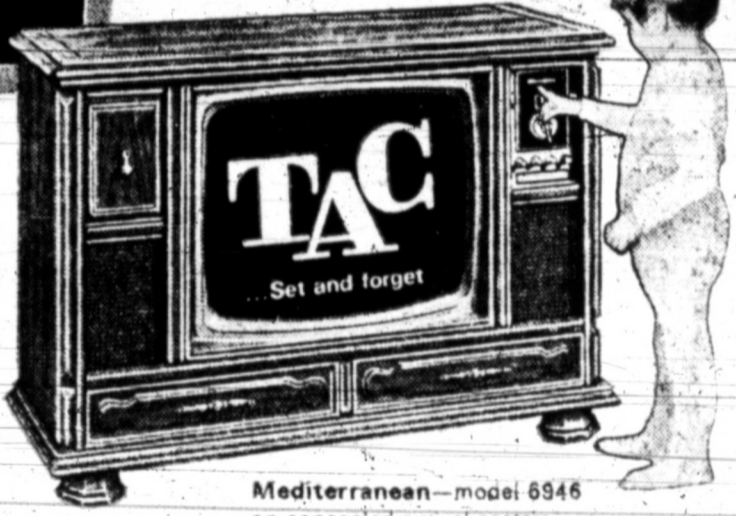

A last-minute item in the appropriations bill was a allotment to the Texas Water Quality Board to contract with the Sabine River Authority for a study of pollution in the Sabine.

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you can believe that man has landed on the moon, then swallow again and accept the fact that the New York Mets are champions.

Those laughable, lamentable buffoons of baseball, adored by the adolescent set and trodden on by the traditionalists, forever at home at the bottom of the barrel and seemingly forlorn of a brighter future, today stand at the top of this mortal world.

In this year of the impossible, the same year that man brought home the first souvenirs from the moon, the New York Mets catapulted to the top and on Wednesday night they clinched the Eastern Division title of the National League by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-0.

The swarms of believers, who had lived through seven years of ninth and 10th place finishes, appropriated their own souvenirs from Shea Stadium, nipping up the turf and leaving big craters and taking with them all pieces of equipment left on the field.

Missed First Base

This caused Mets' vice president Jim Thompson to remark: "The fans ripped out everything, but in the true Met tradition they missed first base."

It was okay to mention the past and laugh at the old Mets, because the old Mets go back only as far as last spring, when you could have gotten 100-1 odds on their chances. No one, not even Met manager Gil Hodges, would admit even in this moment of jubilation that they foresaw what was to happen.

"Hell, no they would have locked me up," said outfielder Ron Swoboda in reply to a question whether he thought at the beginning of the season the Mets could win the title. "You can be a helluva optimist and not have this in mind."

Hodges, who celebrated the division championship one year to the day after suffering a heart attack in Atlanta, also admitted to some surprise.

"We certainly weren't picked to do anything else except finish the 1989 season," he said, wiping off the champagne liberally doused on his head by pitcher Jerry Koosman. "Even in June, July and August we weren't talking this way. You never realize such a thing until it happens."

Hodges, a member of seven pennant winning teams while a first baseman for the Dodgers, said he had never seen a happier group of boys than his team Wednesday night, and he added, "If I had it, I'd give anything to have played on this team."

The Mets, wanting to clinch the division title before a home crowd in their final New York game of the season, jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the first inning on a three-run homer by Donn Clendenon and a two-run blast by Ed Charles. Clendenon added the final run with another homer in the fifth.

"I am more ecstatic and happy than the other kids," said Clendenon, who was a retired player when the first game of the 1989 season was played. "I thought I had divorced all of baseball from my life and now I am with a winner. Those home runs were the most important hits of my life."

Gary Gentry, given the early lead, shut the Cardinals out on four hits, two of them in the ninth inning, but said he never was able to calm down.

"Riding High"

"I was riding high, especially for the last few innings," said the rookie righthander. "I've heard that ballplayers like to play behind a guy who works fast, a guy like Bob Gibson, so that's what I did tonight. I just wanted to get out of there with the victory. It didn't matter if they hit one out or not as long as they didn't put together a big inning."

A final tribute came from

Red Schoendienst, manager of the 1967 and 1968 National League champion Cardinals.

"We are dethroned after tonight," he said with a wry smile. "We've been going along in great style the last two years, but they nailed us tonight. The Mets earned this championship and so they deserve it. They make the right plays, they get the hits and they certainly have the pitching. Once they got into first place, they just kept on winning."

The Mets still have to do some more winning if they are to capture the pennant against the Western Division leader. But in a year when the first man lands on the moon and the amazing Mets finish first, anything is possible.

Victory Over Perryton Could Accomplish A Lot

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

Pampa could accomplish a multitude of things by defeating Perryton Friday night when the two schools meet in a non-conference football game in Perryton for the seventh time.

First, and most important, Pampa would break a two game losing streak and hand themselves their first victory of the season. Second, a win could go a long way in giving Pampa players the confidence they need to become a good football team.

Third, this will be the seventh game in the series and the two rivals stand at 3-3 in the games played thus far. Pampa hasn't won since 1966 when they edged Perryton, 20-14. Other Pampa victories came in 1964 (19-8) and 1990 (52-0) when the first game was held.

Perryton won last year, 33-14, but only after a tough battle through one period.

While Pampa will be seeking its first victory after two hard losses to Hereford and Dumás, Perryton squared its season mark at 1-1 last week with a 28-0 victory over Woodward, Okla. Berger dumped the Rangers, 34-3 in the season opener.

Coach Don Smith has but two starters and one part-time starter off his 1988 team but there are 11 lettermen, five of whom will start against the Harvesters on offense.

Seven seniors and five juniors dot the offensive line, with five experienced hands in the line, including lettermen guards, David Trew, a 150 pound senior and 180 pound senior Gene Dougherty, who started last season.

Other lettermen on the offensive unit are Steve Ellezey, 6'1, 170 pound senior at end; quarterback Danny McWhorter, 146 pound junior, who gave Pampa fits last year and Dean Throckmorton, 140 pound senior.

Jerry Suttles, 6'1, 160 pound junior, will start at split end. Steve Hendrickson, 200 pound senior and Craig Zoller, 185 pound junior will be at tackles. Rockie Rylee, 195 pound senior will be the starting center.

Joining McWhorter and Throckmorton in the backfield is 170 pound junior Phil Black at fullback and Tom Lofland, 168 pound senior at tailback.

McWhorter will hope to attain the success he had against Pampa last year in the air. He connected on seven of 18 aerials for 102 yards and a touchdown.

But Pampa will have eyes for Lofland, who has scored four times in Perryton's two games. He has carried the ball 58 times and has nearly 200 yards rushing.

McWhorter's favorite targets have been Ellezey, who caught a touchdown pass last week against Woodward and Throckmorton from his wing-back spot.

Pampa's two scores against the Rangers last year came on quarterback keepers by senior Ross Holman, who is expected to miss Friday night's encounter with bruised ribs, injured in practice this week.

Two other starters are on the doubtful list for Pampa, including senior tackle Mark Watkins, who has an infected hand and Paul Johnson.

Raiders Work Toward Third Straight Upset

By United Press International

Texas Tech, a surprise victor over Kansas in its season opener last week, worked Wednesday toward a third consecutive upset over a power house Texas team.

The Red Raiders worked against the special Texas eight-man defensive blitz in their final hard drill before the South-west Conference opener in Austin Saturday.

"Texas is using that special defense more now than it has in the past two years," said Raider Coach J. T. King. "We put our offense up against it today (Wednesday) to see what we could do with it."

King said the team "looked fair as a whole" and had special praise for Lubbock end Charles Evans.

"He is the best player we have on the field at present," King said.

The Raiders will work in shorts for a conditioning drill today, then fly to Austin Friday to work out under the lights on Texas' Astroturf.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said tight end Deryl Comer might be ready for spot duty in Saturday's game with Tech.

Royal said Comer, injured in the Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1, was running No. 2 behind sophomore Tommy Woodard of Abilene. Randy Peschel, also a tight end, was still on crutches from an injury he received in Saturday's 17-0 win over California.

Baylor Coach Bill Beall said punter Ed Marsh would miss Saturday's game with Georgia Tech in Atlanta because of an ankle injury. Terry Jackson will take over kicking chores.

Linebacker Brian Blessing injured a finger, but Beall said the senior letterman would make the trip and see plenty of action.

At Rice, Coach Bo Hagan said Bucky Allshouse, a junior defensive back, and punter, kicked better in practice Wednesday than he ever had before.

Landry Sees Wild, Weird Game With Saints On Sunday

DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry describes Sunday's forthcoming first National Football League meeting with the New Orleans Saints as "a very unusual game—a real dogfight."

"It is a 'big play' game," he told his press luncheon Wednesday.

"They have a wild, weird multiple defense and you have to take what you can get from them and be happy with it," Landry said of the Saints, who have usually given the Cowboys trouble in all of their meetings.

"It seems their defense picks up and uses anything they see. They use all kinds of defense, every kind of pass defense possible. In looking at their films of last Sunday's loss to Washington I noted linebackers playing at tackle and tackles backing up the line," he said.

"You have just got to find a hole and you'd better be ready to take advantage of it (Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton could look awfully bad against them for a while and then look great if he can pull off the big play.)"

Landry said he thought the New Orleans offense, which completed a lot of passes last year but whose "gain per pass" average was low indicating a lack of the big play, was better this season.

"They have two running backs as good as we will see all year in Andy Livingston—who has great potential—and a big tough fullback (Tony Baker),"

Landry said. "We'll be in for a tough running game."

"Their blocking, in contrast to last year, seems to be very good. Every time I looked up they were gaining five to six yards and that means blocking," Landry said.

"Bill Kitner isn't the best passer in the league, by any means, but he is a great competitor. And, they have some fine receivers in (Dan) Abramowicz and (Dave) Parks. That Parks is a great one. He would make an excellent tight end—a great blocker."

Reminded that the Cowboys were 17-point favorites, Landry shrugged and with a poker face, replied:

"I don't see how we could be favorites. We're struggling."

Pampa Favored Again In Grid Upset Roll

Area Teams Face Tough Foes Again

Sportswriters are known for being slow starters, among other things, and last week's prep picks were better than the first week's so this week's should continue to show improvement. The season record is 29-17-25.

You Don't Say...

By RON CROSS

PAMPA 28, PERRYTON 13—The Rangers aren't as solid as they have been the past two seasons. Pampa probably won't want a hard Monday practice to go to waste.

SHOCKERS 28, CORO. N.A.D.O. 12—The Shockers are always surprising and needless to say Pampa's are. The Shockers showed they can come back in a crucial situation and did just that last week.

DALLAS 41, NEW ORLEANS 16—The Cowboys are gonna start Craig Morton Sunday and this could be good or bad. I say bring back Roger Staubach, who probably will be before the game is over.

OKLAHOMA 42, PITTSBURGH 7—The Sooners new offense is next to great and next to Texas is probably the best new offense in the nation and besides the Panthers haven't much to offer in the way of competition.

WHITE DEER 24, PANHANDLE 14—The Bucks need to bounce back badly after the loss tagged on them by Clarendon. So what better team to do so against than one of the best.

CANADIAN 16, FOLLETT

6—The Wildcats win their first of the season against a class B team that isn't too strong. But then, who is.

WHEELER 31, STINNETT 14—Everybody else has been beating the Rattlers so why not a good football team. Last week's loss was hard to take but the Mustangs can come back.

MCLEAN 22, BOYS RANCH 0—The Tigers should begin to show a better defense, since that's where their strength lies in 1963. The offense might show some improvement against a team that has lost twice.

GROOM 16, SILVERTON 7—This could go the other way. Groom will be facing its toughest opponent to date. But should they win then somebody might think about moving them to class A next year. Good luck Tigers.

LEFORS 35, TURKEY 0—The time is now for Lefors after two straight losses to class A teams, good class A teams. The Pirates should take any mad they have and clean and dress a gobbler.

MIAMI 28, YARBROUGH 0—We know this is right. Last week the schedule had the Warriors playing Gate but that wasn't right. They took the week off.

AMARILLO 7, LUBBOCK 6—It should be this kind of game, close and tight and low scoring. Lubbock must be one of the most improved teams in the district. The Sandies are hurt but a hurt Sandie is a dangerous one.

CORONADO 21, BORGER 7—The Bulldogs are due for a comeuppance and Coronado is just the team to deliver it. The power of the south shall prevail and its bye-bye Bulldog winning streak.

PALO DURO 60, CAPROCK 0—The Dons can probably score as many as they want too against a weak but game Caprock.

MONTEREY 16, MIDLAND 12—after two weeks of picking against Monterey its about time I woke up to the fact that the Plainsmen are still winners.

PLAINVIEW 21, VERNON 0—The Bulldogs roll to their third straight victory even though Vernon is capable of giving them a rough time for a while.

TASCOSA 16, DUMAS 8—Dumas is tough but the Rebels should be fighting mad after the close loss to Borger.

With exception of Wheeler, McLean and Canadian, area teams favored to win gridiron battles Friday night will be seeking a measure of revenge from opponents who bested them in 1963.

Wheeler (1-1) hosts Stinnett, a team they clobbered, 21-0 last season. McLean (1-1) plays at Boys Ranch and won last year, 30-14 and Canadian (0-2) hosts Follett and won last year, 36-20.

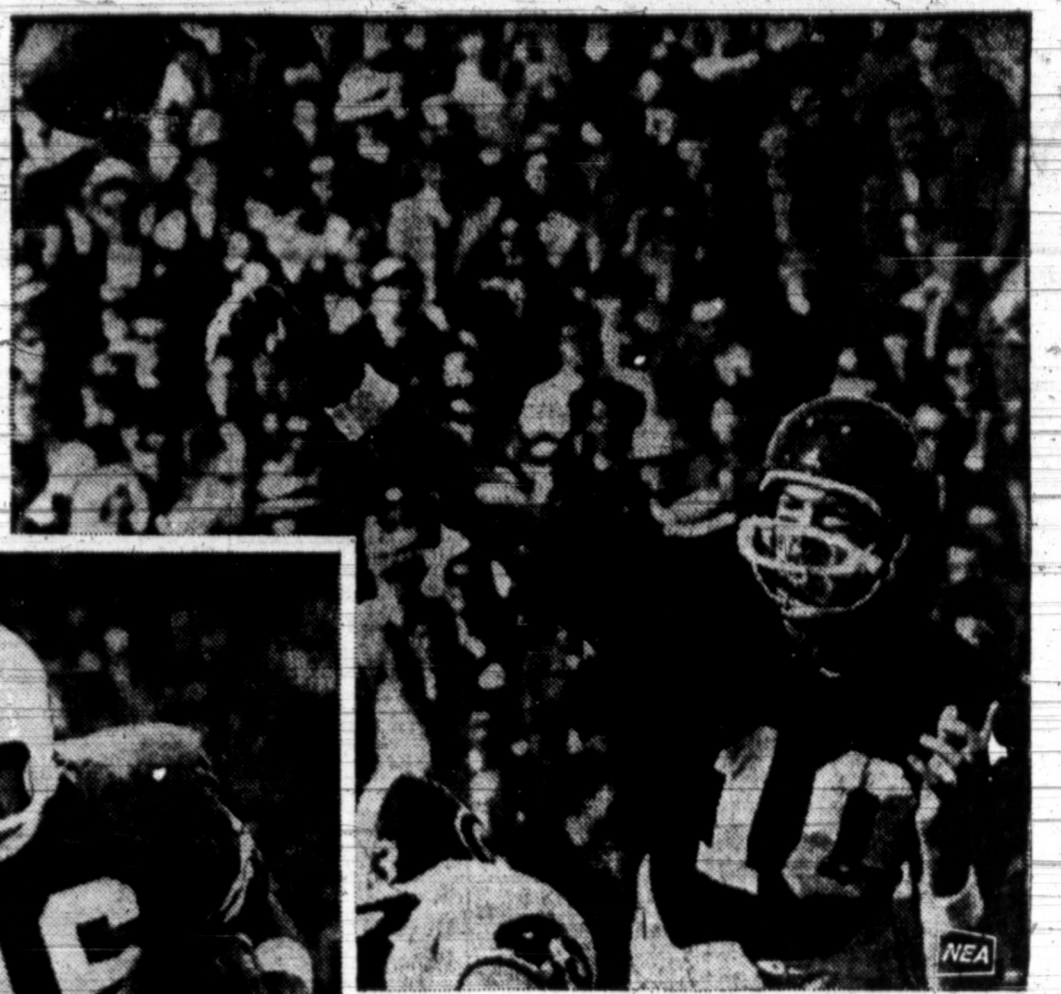

But for White Deer, Groom and Lefors it's a different story. The Bucks (1-1) host Panhandle, a team that shut them out in 1963, 28-0; Groom (2-0) plays at Silvertown and lost, 28-8 a year ago and Lefors (0-2) hosts Turkey, a team that sent the Pirates reeling, 20-0 in 1963.

In an eight-man contest Miami (0-0-1) and idle last week, despite what their schedule showed, hosts Yarbrough, Okla.

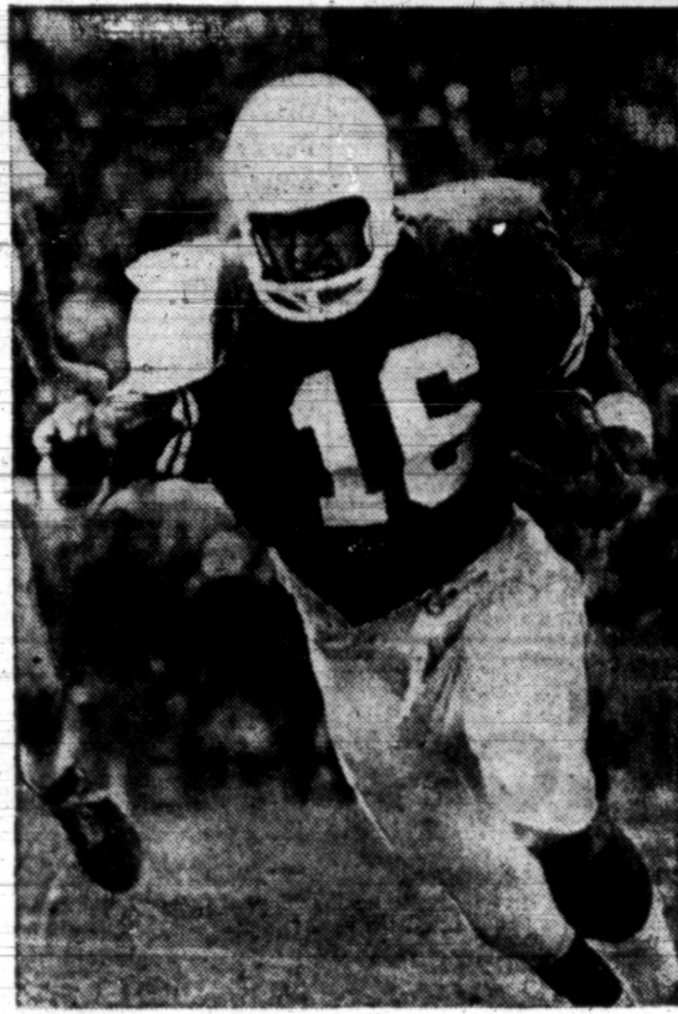

White Deer and Groom appear to have the toughest row to hoe against Friday opponents since Clarendon is 1-1 and Silvertown is also 1-1.

Groom will be stepping out of class again. Silvertown will mark the third straight class A opponent the Tigers have faced. But Groom has stopped Vega, 27-12 and Claude, 7-0.

White Deer slugged Silvertown, 35-0 in its opener but Silvertown was able to comeback for a 32-6 win over Turkey last week. Panhandle tumbled Claude, 38-8 in its opener but was overpowered by Shamrock, 20-0 last week.

Simpson Likes Colorful Clothes, Hot Weather

BUFFALO, N.Y. (NEA)—Money, O.J. Simpson was saying as he fished through his closet, gives a man more confidence.

First he tried on a somber navy blue tie.

"Man," he shook his head. "I need more color'n that." He reached over to the closet of his roommate, Ben Gregory, and fingered a beige and green tie. "That don't go neither," he said, looking down at his herringbone tweed gray sports coat, blue shirt, charcoal pants.

He settled for a red tie and then took the elevator down from the eighth floor of the players' dormitory at Niagara University. O.J. was on his way to play football for the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

He met Gregory downstairs. Ben, a fullback recovering from a knee operation, was wearing a mustard-colored sweater. No tie.

"I told you," he told O.J., "the other guys would wear sweaters."

They drove toward the stadium in Buffalo in Ben's car, a Buick Riviera. O.J. drives a Chevrolet, which is a quarter of a million dollars by the Chevy people.

These are days of adjustment for the most famous rookie running back in professional football. He's getting acquainted with a new team, learning a new system, discovering a new part of the country other than California, living a different kind of life.

"You sure we get to the stadium by 6:30?" he asked Gregory.

"Cat's worried," said Ben. "he going to get $100 fine if he comes in a minute late."

O.J. also couldn't remember where he'd put the game plan handed out by the coaches. He thought he might have left it in the cafeteria. He shrugged. The car radio was blaring the rock music of Junior Walker and "What Does It Take?"

"That's my soul song," said O.J., singing along in snatches. He was not nervous, but not blasé, either. He was 22 years old and still thrilled by what has happened to him the last couple of years, during which O.J. has become as familiar as . . . uh . . . orange juice. "I feel good," he said soberly, "because I haven't changed. But I also see more things. I see what I can get out of life, that I'm more than just a football player."

A home in Los Angeles' Coldwater Canyon is almost complete. He bought another house for his mother in the San Francisco area. He and Marjorie buy more clothes. ("I got my freak-out clothes, too," he said in his dormitory—as he pulled on his sedate blue shirt.)

"But it's hard for me to spend money," he continued. "People always doing things for me. What's first thing a guy does? Buy a big car. I don't need a car."

He has rented an apartment for his wife and infant daughter in Amherst, a Buffalo suburb, and he has to rent furniture. And this will cost him altogether $300 a month, which O.J. thinks is a lot. At USC, he lived on $150 a month.

"But if I never played football," he mused, "I'd probably be in the Army. I'm lucky when I think of what happened to other kids: I grew up with in San Francisco. I mean, my real friends."

There's Joe Bell. I probably shouldn't say his name. He did two or three years for dope pushing. Then he saw what I did. Now he's at Washington, playing football. He's a good back. And he's doing real good."

By this time, the car had reached the stadium. Gregory paid the parking lot attendant (Buffalo is a lot different than southern California!) A couple of girls recognized O.J. and giggled. Kids chased him for autographs. He signed without missing stride. He was still thinking about that $100 fine for being late.

Frazier Sings A Pretty Tune And Boxes Good

NEW YORK (NEA)—First off, it must be emphasized that the heavyweight boxing champion of the world does not sing soprano. Also, when Joe Frazier warbles an "uhhhh," it does not sound precisely like a hoot owl's death rattle.

But with the kind of tune Frazier was crooning now, with that driving rock beat and, in the background, a raucous caw of horns and belch of drums, one could only suppose that Frazier was somewhere in the general vicinity of tenor.

Frazier was recording a single, "Knockout Drop," appropriately enough, for Capitol Records in a soundproof room of the Juggy Sound Studio here. A microphone drooped over his head; he wore ear phones ("muffs" he calls them), a heavy stubble, glazed eyes (when they weren't squinted in passion); his mouth opened earnestly; his fists flailed the air; he bounced, he bobbed, he weaved and he wailed.

"A-a-a-ahhhhh. My lovin' is like TNT."

"If you don't believe me, try me and see—e-e-e. Whatever ails you—my love will stop."

"Cause my love, my love, my love is like a knockout drop. Inside the sound room, producer Beau Ray Fleming switched off the background track."

"Hey, Joe," said Fleming, through the intercom and motioning in the window, "try to stay on mike as much as possible. I mean,

I know you got the feeling— Frazier, pulled the microphone down closer.

"Right, right," said Fleming. "And one, don't cut off 'drop' like that. Make it 'droh-h-aaahhh—opp-p-p.' Put a little melody on it. And remember, you have to stop bowing so much."

"But I gotta keep moving to get the song out," said Frazier. "O.K., let's go before I lose the groove."

But there was a delay, some problem with the sound track. Frazier wiped his sweaty forehead with a white handkerchief. He then took out a nose inhalator and sniffed, clearing his sinuses. He yawned. He had been at this nearly two hours, with yet another couple hours to go. He grew impatient waiting and strode into the sound room.

"Turn down the air conditioning in there," he said, slipping out of his blue pullover, and then his T-shirt. "I'm fighting. Yep, sure is here!" he tossed his wet T-shirt to a friend— "think I'm kidding? I bring three T-shirts with me." He reached into his attache case and pulled out a fresh T-shirt.

Frazier plopped down on the red leather couch in the small room and spoke quietly to an observer. "This is why I ain't fighting no more this year," he said. "I love this it's fun. But it's a job now, ain't no more a hobby. It's a money-making thing. I spend as much time singing as I do fighting. And I get angrier here—when I'm not doing just right—than I do in the ring.

"This is my second single for Capitol. The first was 'Truly, Truly Lovin' Me' on one side and 'If You Go, Stay Gone' on the other.

"But I've been singing for seven, eight years. I liked Otis—Otis Redding—and oe Simon and Wilson Pickett, too. But I never tried to copy them. I just try to get my own thing going."

"I like to perform live, there's nothing like that. Nope. I've had, let's see, I think seven live dates. And I like to say to people in the crowd, 'You think I can't sing. And what's a fighter doing on stage? Well, let me show you . . .'

"oe, we're ready," said Fleming. Frazier rose sniffed his nose inhalator and returned to the soundproof room, humming "Knockout Drop." And where was Tommy Blits in his thoughts?

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (UPI)—Dennis Grey, who has a million dollar law suit filed against Lew Alcindor, and Elvin Ivory were purchased by the New York Nets from the Los Angeles Stars.

Grey suffered a broken jaw when he and Alcindor engaged in a scuffle during a summer pickup game.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV, whose entertainment trademark is conservative situation comedy with homey stars, is hard at work trying to build up its already imposing stable of name performers.

The network, the most successful broadcasting organization in the ratings in recent years, still has such hot shows as the Lucille Ball series and "The Beverly Hillbillies." But, rather suddenly over several seasons, it lost Danny Thomas, Andy Griffith, Dick Van Dyke and Jim (Gomer Pyle) Nabors, all of whom left their top-rated series for other pastures.

Nabors returns tonight in a new one-hour CBS-TV music-and-variety series, and, regardless of whether he gets good ratings, he desperately needs help in this venture. The premiere is altogether embarrassing, excruciatingly bad. It aims for the corpse belt, but it is difficult to believe that even the most unsophisticated audience could find anything amusing in it.

The skits are wholly lacking in even rudimentary humor. The star himself can do little to save matters. His old sidekick on "Gomer Pyle," Frank Sutton, is sadly out of his element in this kind of show. A girl named Julie Budd sings with such a debt to Barbara Streisand that it is uncomfortable. And even guest star Andy Griffith delivers a remarkably vulgar monologue about a milking contest.

Still, Nabors is a hot property, and that is what CBS-TV relies on. For example, Griffith, only a season after leaving his situation comedy series, has signed to return in a new show next year. This means the network will have not only the heir to his old series, renamed "Mayberry R.F.D.," and doing very well, but Griffith also.

Furthermore, Mary Tyler Moore, who portrayed Van Dyke's wife in their enormously successful series, has also agreed to star in a new situation comedy planned for next year. And the latest word is that Van Dyke himself is set to come back in a situation comedy the season after next, with negotiations near an end.

Recently, CBS-TV offered an hour comedy with Danny Thomas reviving his old series characters. And there are reports that the network would also like him to return.

Doris Day, meanwhile, has had her year-old comedy series revamped this season so that she now moves from the country to a city job. Viewers who saw her season premiere this week will agree the urban move is an improvement, and more fitting for her, but why Miss Day continues to get lines that make her character seem a nincompoop is inexplicable. A bright, intelligent comedienne, it seems absurd to rob her of her basic appeal.

Groom High Elects New Class Officers

GROOM (Spl) — Dan Blackwell was recently elected president of the senior class at the high school here. Other senior officers are Twila Wade, vice president; Jana Hudson, secretary; Lynette Bivens, treasurer; Karen Ollinger, reporter; Tony Britten and Celia Ledwig, favorites; and Dan Blackwell and Randy Ritter, student council representatives.

Junior officers are Jerry Ashford, president; Larry Clark, vice president; Janie Britten, secretary; Nita Wieber, treasurer; Marcia Blackwell, reporter and Pam Treadwell and Mark Britten, student council representatives.

Sophomore officers elected are John Crowell, president; Lynette Bichsel, vice president; Bunny Babcock, secretary and treasurer; Bernie Britten and Micky Homer, reporters and Danny Britten and Kayla Wade, student council representatives.

Officers elected to serve in the freshmen class are Terry Nepper, president; Joe David Brown, vice president; Jerry Homer, secretary; Lynita Brown, treasurer; Sandie Bolden, reporter; Sharon Jones and Terry Nepper, favorites, and Denise Quirk and Randy Garmon, student council representatives.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Last month, as I reported earlier, the curiosity of a newspaper editor in Ohio was agitated by an item about artificial insemination of mosquitoes.

To him, artificial mosquito breeding sounded somewhat diabolical. He surmised some government agency either was trying to improve the blood lines or was stockpiling mosquitoes for a possible outbreak of insect warfare.

But no explanation was given on the item he saw, so he asked me to investigate.

It took me quite a while to make contact with any artificial mosquito breeders, who apparently move around a lot. But I finally got in touch with one in Illinois.

Without being unduly modest, I can say I now probably know more about artificial mosquito breeding than any other layman in the country. And it was all a big waste of time.

For now that I have acquired knowledge, there is nothing I can do with it in the medium in which I work.

Registration Nears End At FPC

September 26 is the last day to register for fall classes at Frank Phillips College. The registration process must be completed by 4 p.m. including the payment of fees and tuition, and having identification cards made.

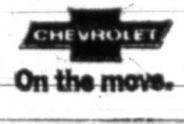

No person will be admitted to a Monday, Wednesday, Friday class after Sept. 29, or a Tuesday, Thursday class after Sept. 30, unless they have written permission from the Academic Dean.

Registration will continue on Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the registrar's office in the Administration bldg. at 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Let's skip the adjectives and get right to the news, which in the case of Impala includes a whole new grille, new hood, new front fenders, new taillights, new interior trim and 12 new colors. There is a new 250-hp standard V8, new fiberglass-belted tires on 15-inch wheels. And power disc brakes are now standard on the Custom Coupe. Many new "available" too. Headlights that stay on until you're in the house for example. All that and more. All at a Chevrolet price. Hey, expensive cars. Getting edgy?
