Trumbo Balks at Questions Asked

WASHINGTON—AP—A second screen writer, Dalton Trumbo, refused to tell a House Un-American Activities Subcommittee whether he is a Communist, and the group voted to cite him for contempt.

Trumbo, as did John Howard Lawson on yesterday, took the stand that the committee had no right to question him about his political beliefs.

The 42-year-old writer was excused from the witness stand amid loud applause from spectators in the hearing room.

Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) pounded with his gavel and warned the audience to refrain from demonstrations. After Lawson refused to answer a question yesterday as to whether he had been a Communist, the committee voted to cite him for contempt. This is an action which has to go to House officials, but could eventually lead to prosecution in the courts.

Federal statutes provide a fine of $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment from 30 days to one year for contempt of Congress.

After the brush with Trumbo, the committee called to the witness chair Roy M. Brewer of Los Angeles who identified himself as the international representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Machine Operators.

Brewer testified there has been a real Communist plot to capture our union in Hollywood as a part of the Communist plan to control the motion picture industry as a whole. He said the plan came dangerously close to success but failed.

He said in a statement read into the record: "The plan, as we see it, was for Communist forces, led by Mr. Jeff Kibre, Communist agent sent to Hollywood in 1935, and his successor, Herbert K. Sorrell, to infiltrate and control Hollywood technical labor, while other Communist forces, led by Mr. John Howard Lawson, whose activities have been effectively described here, (were) to infiltrate and control the talent guilds and so-called cultural groups in the industry."

Trumbo spent a lively ten minutes on the witness stand before Thomas finally abandoned his persistent attempt to have the writer answer questions directly.

This is the beginning of American concentration camps," Trumbo shouted as he walked from the witness stand, with several Capitol policemen standing around him.

Trumbo's activities in Hollywood were criticized last week by several witnesses in the committee's investigation of communism in Hollywood.

Jack L. Warner, movie producer, listed Trumbo among writers he said he believes attempt to inject "un-American doctrines" in movie scenarios.

Producer Sam Wood mentioned Trumbo along with two other writers and said, "I think they are agents of a foreign country."

When the committee declined to let Trumbo read his statement, the writer protested:

"You permitted a statement by Gerald L. K. Smith to be read. Banging his gavel, Trumbo cut him off with the shout 'that is out of order.'"

"I would like to know what is in my statement," Trumbo stuttered.

Thomas banged his gavel again. "I have evidence," Trumbo shouted.

Cautioned to proceed in order, Trumbo stated his name and address and place of birth; Montrose, Colo. He said he was born Dec. 9, 1905, and has been a writer since 1934 or 1935.

"Are you a member of the Screen Writers' Guild?" asked Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee.

"At this point," Trumbo replied, "I would like to introduce certain statements about my work."

Food Committee Passes One-Third Mark in Drive to Save on Wheat

WASHINGTON—AP—The Citizens Food Committee today estimated that it is 25 percent along the way toward President Truman's goal of saving 100,000,000 bushels of grain for the relief of winter distress in Europe.

Industry pledges will account for some 35,000,000 bushels in the next 90 days, a committee official said, but most of the rest must come from public self-denial and in farm industry source, Committee Chairman Charles Luckman will meet shortly with meat packing representatives, the official disclosed.

Meanwhile the White House and legislators of both parties made plans for the Nov. 17 special session of Congress which Mr. Truman hopes will furnish about $1,000,000,000 to get the grain and other products overseas while setting up controls against inflation at home.

Senator Taft of Ohio, candidate of the GOP presidential nomination, summoned the Senate's Republican Steering Committee into a meeting three days ahead of the special session. Republicans have undertaken to write a price program of their own, to match anything that Mr. Truman sends to Capitol Hill.

One high White House adviser said last night that a proposal for price control at the level of the producer—but not the consumer—is getting "serious consideration" within the government and among Congress members.

Miss Katherine Fisher, head of the consumer service section of the Citizens Food Committee, which Luckman heads, said in part: "You influence the day-by-day food buying of millions of families who want help and guidance in following this program. We are counting on you to give them this help."

Miss Fisher, principal speaker at a banquet at a leading French restaurant here, said the objective of the committee is "to find 100,000,000 bushels of wheat" to make up the difference between Europe's minimum needs of 570,000,000 bushels and the 470,000,000 available in this country for export.

"The obvious way for consumers to help is by the moderate use of wheat products," she said. "But an even more effective way is reducing the consumption of poultry and livestock, because three-fourths of all the grain raised in the United States goes into livestock feeding."

Lawmaker Says Army Hiding U.S. Casualties

WASHINGTON—AP—Rep. Marion T. Bennett (R-Mo) declared today that "many" American soldiers have been killed or wounded by Communists in the Trieste area behind a "brass curtain of American military censorship."

The Missouri lawmaker, recently returned from a six week tour of Europe and the Near East, said there have been "63 incidents of armed aggression by the Communists" against United States forces since they moved into the former Italian territory, bordering on Yugoslavia.

Trieste now is a free state. "These acts have resulted in the death or wounding of many American soldiers," Bennett added in a statement issued before he left for his home in Springfield, Mo. "I have the names and identifications of the incidents as furnished me by our military intelligence."

"In Europe they call it a 'cold war.' It is war and how soon, or if, it will engulf the whole world, no men outside of the Kremlin can say.

"The brass curtain of American military censorship has done a remarkable job in keeping from the American public the seriousness of the situation at Trieste."

The Army declined comment on Bennett's statement. There has been no previous reports of any American casualties resulting from the long-standing tension between the predominantly Italian population of Trieste and the Yugoslavs.

Bennett's trip abroad was made as head of a House Commerce Subcommittee studying civil aviation. He said his observations convinced him that the United States should maintain the strongest Air Force and Navy in the world "and with the most atom bombs."

He said Russia is producing "45-000 tanks a month and has jet planes in the skies over Europe." The Missouri lawmaker said the Japanese and want in Europe and this country must provide help. But in doing so, he added, it must not over-extend itself.

"There are four things this nation can do," Bennett said. "Surrender as we did with appeasement of Stalin at Potsdam, Yalta and all the rest; right, which is not likely unless we are attacked; withdraw altogether and chalk up 300,000 soldiers' lives and other sacrifices of two great wars as a mistake, or we can extend all aid short of war as we are doing."

One of the questions which will probably be up for discussion at the convention, local Legionaries stated, is the current move by the Legion to ask increases in subsistence allowance for veterans who are going to school or who are taking on-the-job training.

The American Legion will carry on a program here next week designed to acquaint the public with the many activities carried on by the Legion.

Zogi delighted a near-capacity house at Junior High School Auditorium last night with a fast-moving display of magical wizardry against a backdrop of colorful scenery and costumes.

Indications were that a larger crowd would be in evidence this evening at 8 o'clock for the second performance of the Lion-sponsored show, which is being held as a benefit of Lions Club Park.

Featured attraction is the Houdini Trunk Mystery. Far which Zogi's group has won an academy award presented by a magicians' society, the sponsors say, although sleight-of-hand, mysticism and spirit manifestations offer a balanced and entertaining evening, those who have seen the show emphasized.

Churchill Calls For Removal of Price Controls

LONDON—(AP)—Winston Churchill called upon the British Labor Government today to follow the lead of the United States in removing price controls and to lose a side Socialist planning which he said was holding up national economic recovery.

Making his fourth attempt to unseat the Labor Government by parliamentary motion, the opposition leader declared that nationalization of basic industries had failed and weakened the nation in time of economic crisis.

"I feel fortified by what has happened in the United States," he declared, adding: "The sovereign remedy to our present ills and darkening misfortunes is to set the people free."

"Nationalization has proved a failure," the opposition leader told the House of Commons. "Dear food, dear coal—and soon dearer transport—previously weaker our competitive power in foreign markets."

With Churchill leading the attack, the Conservative Party mustered its forces for an assault on the Labor Government's legislative program for the coming year, which calls for further nationalization of vital industries and curtailment of the powers of the House of Lords. This program was outlined last week by King George VI in a speech—prepared by the Labor Government—opening the new session of Parliament.

Churchill spoke in connection with a conservative amendment to the King's speech.

Convention of 18th District Legion Saturday, Sunday

Legionnaires from all over the Panhandle will converge on Amarillo Saturday and Sunday for the 18th District Convention, which will have headquarters at the Herring Hotel. Commander Lee Roy Franks and a local delegation were making plans today to attend.

The second day of the convention will also mark the opening of American Legion Week activities here, when a special emphasis will be placed on membership drives.

The District Convention of Forty and Eight will be held from 3 to 8 p. m. Saturday at the Herring, while registration of all Legionnaires will begin at 3 p. m. A dance will be held at the hotel at 8 p. m. Saturday and the District Convention of American Legion will officially be in session from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 2, at the Herring.

The 18th District, which is composed of 26 counties, has led the state for many years in the number of Legion members.

One of the questions which will probably be up for discussion at the convention, local Legionaries stated, is the current move by the Legion to ask increases in subsistence allowance for veterans who are going to school or who are taking on-the-job training.

The American Legion will carry on a program here next week designed to acquaint the public with the many activities carried on by the Legion.

Directors Approve Referendum Plan Of West Texas CC

All plans of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce referendum were given approval at the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors held yesterday at noon in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

However, the Pampa representatives to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce referendum meeting which is to be held in Abilene, Nov. 11 were instructed by the board to act on their own judgment for the benefit of the city, after hearing discussions pro and con at the meeting. The members, Roy Bourland and Reno Stinson, were re-elected at a meeting yesterday, as WTCC representatives.

A nominating committee consisting of Reno Stinson, Fred Thompson, W. B. Weathered, John V. Osborn and Ralph Julliard was selected to choose a ballot for new directors whose names will be submitted to the City Commission for the final appointment of five members to the Board of City Development.

A committee consisting of A. A. Schuneman, Lieb Langston and Jack Nimmo was appointed to work with the president of the C. of C. Frank Smith, in selecting a speaker for the annual membership banquet to be held in January.

R. M. Samples, chairman of the Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that plans were complete for the annual Santa Day parade, Friday, Dec. 5. He reported that local Boy Scouts would assist the Jean Gros Co. in handling the giant balloon figures in the downtown parade.

In this connection, the Chamber of Commerce voted to compliment the Boy Scouts with a hot dog and soda pop feast following the parade in appreciation for the help of the Boy Scouts on this and many other civic projects throughout the year.

It was voted at yesterday's meeting that regular monthly meetings of the directors will be held with a noon luncheon on the second Monday of each month. These meetings will replace the afternoon meetings held in the past.

City Commission Studying Audit

The City Commission, getting a late start, this morning opened its survey in the audit of the city's accounts over the past 18 months with J. G. Doggett of Doggett, Nestel & Accountants explaining the figures.

This is the first time the new commission has been given an opportunity to study the city's audit of accounts. The review, accompanied by Doggett, is continuing this afternoon.

The representatives from a west side neighborhood presented another paving problem before the commission by reporting that all but one in the block will participate in the paving project. The representative added that all of the property owners there had their money with the City Commission, or had it ready for payment, except one homeowner.

The commission is faced, by this, with letting out one section of paving, or paving it regardless and making a future attempt to receive payment, unless some other method can be found. The representative was told by Mayor C. A. Huff that the commission would take up his and his neighbors' case and attempt to reach an answer by Friday when the City Commission will meet again.

The two block plat of the Matthews-Thornton Addition, a subdivision of Plot 47 of the suburbs of Pampa was given the approval of the commission following an affirmative nod of the city engineer.

Newspaper Food Page Editors Are Asked to Aid Plan

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Newspaper food page editors in conference here yesterday heard appeals from President Truman and Charles Luckman for aid in the nation's food conservation program.

The President's message was read to the group of 80 women editors by J. H. Sawyer of Chicago, Ill., chairman of the conference.

"This is a voluntary campaign in the best American tradition and it depends for its success on the cooperation of farmers, industry and consumers," the President's message said.

"Food editors can be helpful by keeping consumers fully informed about lower-priced foods and by helping disseminate information regarding food-saving recipes and diets."

Luckman's message, read by Miss Katherine Fisher, head of the consumer service section of the Citizens Food Committee, which Luckman heads, said in part: "You influence the day-by-day food buying of millions of families who want help and guidance in following this program. We are counting on you to give them this help."

Miss Fisher, principal speaker at a banquet at a leading French restaurant here, said the objective of the committee is "to find 100,000,000 bushels of wheat" to make up the difference between Europe's minimum needs of 570,000,000 bushels and the 470,000,000 available in this country for export.

Polish Peasant Party Leader Is Reported Fleeing

LONDON—(AP)—Francis J. Wilk, a Polish Peasant Party leader, said today he had heard reports that Stanislaw Mikolajczyk had reached Stockholm, Sweden, but added that he had not been able to confirm these accounts.

Wilk, editor of a Polish newspaper in London, said the information he had was based on reports in the British press and Warsaw broadcast.

Officials in Stockholm and Copenhagen said they had no knowledge of Mikolajczyk's whereabouts. Mikolajczyk, leader of the opposition to the Communist-led Polish government, was in Sweden or Denmark. There have been published reports that he had reached those countries.

Mikolajczyk, who dropped out of sight last week, was believed to have fled Poland, apparently in fear of his life.

At Cambridge University his 21-year-old son, Marjan, said he had heard no news of his father's whereabouts.

Wilk said in an interview: "We assume it is true that he (Mikolajczyk) has left Poland, but we have not had any strictly official news to this effect, nor do we know where he is now."

"I think that it is probable, if the reports of his leaving Poland are true, that he will come to England, although it is possible that he might go direct to the United States."

Wreck Caused by Low Visibility

Fog and low visibility were blamed for an accident on U. S. Highway 60 yesterday morning at 8 o'clock about three miles east of Panhandle.

A 1947 Hudson sedan, driven by Francis B. Umparger, 52, of Encino, N. M., was in the process of passing a 1944 International truck and semi-trailer driven by John Louis Parker, 41, of Amarillo. Both were traveling east.

The fog was said to be heavy, and upon pulling around the truck and seeing an approaching car Umparger was forced into the side of the truck.

Neither driver was injured, although damage to the Hudson was estimated at $300. The truck, owned by H. C. Groendyke Co. was very lightly damaged.

Highway patrolmen here said the two men came in and reported the accident and filed a report, in accordance with the new traffic code, which requires that accidents be reported either to the County Sheriff's office or to the nearest highway patrol.

Big Opium Smuggling Trial Is Scheduled

DALLAS—(AP)—Deputy U. S. Marshal Rufus Fehveshouse said he would take Paul Rowland Jones to Laredo today to face federal narcotic charges involving opium smuggling from Mexico.

Jones was convicted by a jury here some months ago on a charge of attempting to bribe Steve Guthrie, then sheriff-elect of Dallas County. The case is now on appeal.

U. S. Atty. Brian Odem of Houston said the smuggling case involved several persons and an estimated $1,000,000 in narcotics.

Double Main Bill To Be Feature of Wrestling, Opener

Thursday night at 8 o'clock marks the return of wrestling to the Pampa area after many years of absence. Promoter Vic Burnett has announced that in order to give the fans the most of his first night's card at the Sportatorium will consist of two main events. These two events will match "Sailor" Parker of Jackson, Mississippi, against Jack Pappenheim of Abilene, Texas; and Gene Blackley of Anson, Texas, against "Ace" Abbot, of Troutdale, Oregon.

Both events will be the best two-out-of-three falls with a one hour time limit. The referee will be Ken Mayne, of Salt Lake City.

The Sportatorium, formerly Burnett's Cabinet Shop, located at 320 E. Tynge, has been given a thorough revamping job, which should be suitable for all types of indoor sports, stated Burnett, and by Thursday night for our opening matches, we should be able to seat approximately 1,200 wrestling fans. Approximately 1,000 of these seats will be general admission and 200 will be ring-side.

Richards Named General Manager Of Buffalo Bisons

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(AP)—Big-jawed Roger Peckinpaugh was out today and lantern-jawed Paul Richards, the pepper-pot from Waxahachie, Texas, was in as the Buffalo Bisons of the International Baseball League go to themselves their fourth general manager in six years.

The Bisons announced the shift last night through their attorney, Benjamin D. Reisman, after Peckinpaugh had said in Cleveland that Buffalo had refused to rehire him.

In taking over the helm at Buffalo, Richards assumes the dual role of field and office manager, a combo post which the economy-minded Bisons have in the past bestowed on such diamond worthies as Steve O'Neil and Bucky Harris.

The hot-tempered Richards boomed his personal stock this season when he piloted a fourth-place Bison team into the finals of the International playoffs and won the support of Buffalo fans with his aggressiveness—a quality which many of the loop's umpires preferred to call offensive. Buffalo lost to Syracuse in the finals.

Harvesters Prepare For 2nd Conf. Duel With Brownfield Cubs

Smiling heavily from the last minute onslaught handed them by the Plainview Bulldogs last Friday night, which resulted in the Bulldogs overcoming a 19 point lead in the last seven minutes of play, and winning 20 to 19, the Pampa Harvesters took workouts yesterday in preparation for their meeting with Brownfield Cubs at Harvester Park Friday night.

Both teams, which lost their conference openers last week will be out to get back in the win column of the ledger. The Harvesters after winning their first three starts, lost their next three to Vernon, Wichita Falls, and Plainview.

Brownfield held a 7 to 6 lead over the Amarillo Golden Sandies last week up until the end of the third quarter, but were overcome by the strong Sandie team and lost 20 to 7.

The Cubs and the Harvesters have identical season's records. Both have won three games and lost three. Both have lost one conference clash. The Cubs were victors over Phillips, Lamesa, and Big Spring and have lost to Midland, Levelland, and Amarillo.

Among the lettersmen from last year's Cub team, eight of which were regulars, will be Jerrell Price, a 195-pound tackle with three years of experience behind him was selected on the all-district 1AA team last year. He will be back again this year to add havoc to the Harvester offense. He is described as a fine blocker and a great defensive tackle.

Statistics Show Hollmig Is Heart Of Aggie Offense

DALLAS—(AP)—The value of Stanley Hollmig to Texas A and M's football team is best illustrated by the figures.

Statistics of Southwest Conference football for the season to date, released by James H. Stewart, executive secretary, show Hollmig not only is a great punter but that he's the heart and soul of the Aggie offense.

The big boy from Hondo has booted 45 times and averaged 40.0—and he's done this despite the fact that he always aims at the coffin corner and most times places the ball inside the 20-yard line.

But Hollmig also is a top passer. He ranks second to Texas' Bobby Layne with 262 yards on 31 completions in 75 attempts. He has racked up five touchdowns with his tossing.

Layne has completed 34 out of 58 for 587 yards as one of the nation's top passers. Ranking third behind Hollmig in the conference is Jack Price of Baylor with 28 out of 61 for 321 yards.

Doak Walker of Southern Methodist continues to lead the ball-carriers although Clyde Scott of Arkansas is sorely pressing him. Walker has gained 390 yards net on 79 runs. Scott has made 387 on 81. George Walmesley of Rice is third with 291 on 48 carries.

Byron Gillory leads the pass-receivers with 190 yards on 10 catches. J. D. Ison of Baylor is second with 130 on eight and Ross Pritchard of Arkansas is third with 122 on eight. Gillory has taken three passes for touchdowns and Ison and Pritchard two each.

Howard Hughes of Arkansas is the punting leader in actual average.

Texas and SMU to Be in Top Shape for Crucial Game Sat.

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texas and Southern Methodist University apparently will be in top shape for their crucial Southwest Conference game Saturday, and most other conference schools can count on full strength.

Rice, which has been beaten on two successive weeks, is going to start all five today, according to Coach Jess Neely.

Neely gave the Owls the day off yesterday.

"I told the boys to take a day off and then we can start all over again," he said, adding "I think it will do us a lot of good."

Neely also announced that the Owls will get very little rough work the remainder of the season.

Coach Blair Cherry sent his University of Texas Longhorns through a long, but light, workout.

Ends Max Bumgardner and Dale Schwartzkopf did not suit out in full uniform; but Cherry said they would be ready for the SMU game.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs were warned against overconfidence yesterday by Coach L. D. "Dutch" Meyer. The team is in good condition, Oklahoma's upset with over Oklahoma.

Baylor went through a long offensive drill yesterday as the Bears opened practice for a last ditch stand to stay in the conference grid race.

Texas A and M was plagued with numerous minor injuries, but most of the team was expected to be in shape Saturday.

Southern Methodist was in top shape for the Texas game.

Coach Matty Bell ordered only a light workout yesterday.

Arkansas worked on defense yesterday after Coach John Barnhill announced no new injuries were evident.

Don Ormon of Hess-Chambers rolled high single game with a 236. Joe Wells of the Coffey-Pontiac team, bowled high three game series with a 597.

Texas and SMU to Be in Top Shape for Crucial Game Sat.

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texas and Southern Methodist University apparently will be in top shape for their crucial Southwest Conference game Saturday, and most other conference schools can count on full strength.

Rice, which has been beaten on two successive weeks, is going to start all five today, according to Coach Jess Neely.

Neely gave the Owls the day off yesterday.

"I told the boys to take a day off and then we can start all over again," he said, adding "I think it will do us a lot of good."

Neely also announced that the Owls will get very little rough work the remainder of the season.

Coach Blair Cherry sent his University of Texas Longhorns through a long, but light, workout.

Ends Max Bumgardner and Dale Schwartzkopf did not suit out in full uniform; but Cherry said they would be ready for the SMU game.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs were warned against overconfidence yesterday by Coach L. D. "Dutch" Meyer. The team is in good condition, Oklahoma's upset with over Oklahoma.

Baylor went through a long offensive drill yesterday as the Bears opened practice for a last ditch stand to stay in the conference grid race.

Texas A and M was plagued with numerous minor injuries, but most of the team was expected to be in shape Saturday.

Southern Methodist was in top shape for the Texas game.

Coach Matty Bell ordered only a light workout yesterday.

Arkansas worked on defense yesterday after Coach John Barnhill announced no new injuries were evident.

WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

Criticisms galore have been thrown, both at our local school coaching staff and the football team itself, since the Harvesters were nosed out 20 to 19 in the last seven minutes of play in their opening conference game with the Plainview Bulldogs, Friday night.

Many say Coach Tippis used his second string through the final period and failed to put his first team in the final minutes of play to check the Bulldog purge. If you check with any account of the game or with any person that saw the game, you will find that this criticism was unfounded. It is believed that there were less Harvester substitutions in this game, than any played thus far this season.

Waco that year had a young team named Buddy Johnson. We had read about him in Tucker's column in the Waco News-Tribune. Buddy was supposed to be the greatest football player to come along. Well, we decided, just let that Johnson come charging at us—if we got into the game—and we'd give Jinx something to write about.

We got into the game all right, sooner than we had expected as Waco started piling up the score. And sure enough Buddy Johnson came right at us, the ball tucked nonchalantly under his arm. We threw ourselves at the oncoming ball-carrier. We reached out our arms and closed them in a bear hug. Then we hit the ground. Turning over we watched Johnson skip blithely across the Hillboro goal line. We got mentioned all right—among the substitutes in Tucker's story. All the rest was about Buddy Johnson leading Waco to a 41-0 victory.

To a lot of fans, Jinx Tucker is the bible of sports. For more than a quarter of a century he wrote one or two personalized sport columns a day.

What Tucker's physician said the other day when he was stricken must have caused a catch in the throat of many sport fans. I think Jinx will make it right if nothing unforeseen happens," said the physician. "He will have to stay in bed for several weeks and he will have to give up his Linotype work (Tucker 'set' his sports copy on the Linotype). He will also have to restrict his other activities."

I hope "restrict his other activities" doesn't mean Tucker won't ever again write that sports column.

All that flurry about Trinity University's recruiting practices before the football season opened appears to have come to nothing.

President L. C. Smith of the Lone Star Conference, of which Trinity is a member, asked conference schools to send him complaints against Trinity. None came.

Our comments regarding the Texas-Oklahoma football game which Oklahoma wants to move out of Dallas brought a couple of critical letters. Our view was that the Texas-Oklahoma game probably would be discontinued.

DALLAS—(AP)—The school-boy football rankings took a beating last weekend. Austin, the No. 4 team, was licked by Brackenridge (San Antonio); Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) No. 10, was whipped by John Reagan (Houston); and so on.

Beating them now is a problem—that is, rating them in any order that won't leave you vulnerable. But here goes:

1, Wichita Falls; 2, Odessa; 3, Corpus Christi; 4, Longview; 5, Marshall; 6, Waco; 7, Corsicana; 8, Waxahachie; 9, Goose Creek; 10, Amarillo; 11, Brackenridge (San Antonio); 12, Austin; 13, Kerrville; 14, John Reagan (Houston); 15, Texarkana; 16, Forest (Dallas); 17, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth); 18, Austin (El Paso); 19, Brownwood; 20, Poly (Fort Worth).

Jinx Tucker's possible removal from the sports writing field as the result of illness brings a feeling of nostalgia. Back when we were trying to make the high school we read Tucker religiously. The main idea was to find our name listed somewhere. We thought we had it clinched one day when he went to Waco with the Hillsboro High School football squad to play Waco.

Waco that year had a young team named Buddy Johnson. We had read about him in Tucker's column in the Waco News-Tribune. Buddy was supposed to be the greatest football player to come along. Local GI Playing Baseball in Japan

EIGHTH ARMY, KOKURA, KYUSHU—Pfc. Billy H. Worlington, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Worlington of 334 N. Bank in Pampa, is playing second base for the 19th Infantry Regimental Baseball Team which is competing for the 24th Infantry Division, known as the "Victory" Division, is now occupying the entire island of Kyushu, the third largest and southernmost island of the Japanese home islands.

Pfc. Worlington entered the Army on September 6, 1946 at Pampa. He received basic training at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina prior to his overseas assignment in Japan. He arrived in Japan on December 15, 1946 and five days later on December 20, was received into the 24th Infantry Division and assigned to the 19th Infantry Regiment at Camp Chickamauga, Kyushu.

Prior to his entry into the Army, Pfc. Worlington completed three and a half years at Pampa High School.

has been wanting to play Texas on a home and home basis for some 10 years. Biff Jones and also Tom Stidum, both wanted it that way. But Texas said no. It really wasn't Texas University talking but the Dallas politicians."

We never disputed the point that Oklahoma wanted to play on a home-and-home basis; we admitted that. So what's the argument about?

The Great Lakes, by filtering out silt, make the St. Lawrence such a clear stream that it has not built a delta.

The other letter is from Clyde C. Howell of Amarillo, who says he is a former Oklahoma University student. He concerns himself somewhat with our grammar, objecting to our saying "since Oklahoma can't win one and has lost eight straight, there is no need of carrying the thing any farther." We can't see how grammar has anything to do with the argument but for Howell's information we know the difference in farther and further and the difference is so slight it could have no bearing on the Texas-Oklahoma game.

This Is Happy By PEGGY DERN

By PEGGY DERN. Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

HAPPY was like an excited child, proudly showing off the beauties of Sundown. And for a few days, Steve was treated to the island's pleasant, gracious hospitality.

Steve stood at a little distance from her and the moonlight was deceptive. So she must have just imagined that he gave a tiny start, and that his jaw set a little more firmly.

"If you just think, Happy, then you're not," he told her firmly. "There's no thinking about being in love—not the way I see it. You're either in up to your neck, or it's nothing serious. And you couldn't possibly be in love with me, Happy. You mustn't be."

"You do like him, Steve?" she asked eagerly. "Sure, I like him a lot. You couldn't do better, Happy."

Stunned, she said swiftly, "But I didn't mean—". "I did," Steve was almost grim. "Look, Happy, you fit in here. You would make a lovely mistress for Sundown; you've got all the things such a job demands, and you'd be a silly little fool not to take what's offered you."

She was still, and there was a queer little chill about her heart. "Does that mean you don't want me, Steve?" she asked at last, and her voice was a thin thread of sound.

"Oh, you're the world's most perfect secretary, Happy," Steve told her almost harshly. "But you're bad for me. I might get too dependent on you."

"I didn't mean as a secretary, Steve," she told him quietly. "I think I'm in love with you."

He shook his head. "I'm bad medicine for you, Happy. I'm not the marrying sort. And I'm a gloomy sort of guy, because I can't see anything ahead but chaos and heartbreak—and you'd lose that bright and shining disposition, Happy; you'd get frightened and worried and gloomy like me, and that wouldn't be so good."

He waited a moment and Happy dared not trust her voice, because she knew that if she spoke at all, she would fling herself into his arms.

"You see, Happy, I have no roots anywhere. And you're the sort who's got to put down roots to be happy. To be down roots," he repeated, smiling a little, though it was a tightly drawn smile that had nothing in it of mirth. "Here at Sundown, you can flower into the very fine and wonderful person you should be. Harrell's the man for you, Happy. You're a very lucky girl." With that she turned and went swiftly back up the garden path and into the house. She reached the drawing-room ahead of him and as she came in, George looked at her swiftly, and then almost accusingly at Steve, who came in a few paces behind her.

"Of course," said Steve casually as he came into the room. "I don't believe any of it. The whole place is something out of a fairy story. You do it with mirrors or something. There isn't any such place as Sundown—it's a state of mind. But what a state of mind!" "Glad you like it," said George pleasantly. "I'm sorry you have to check out tomorrow. I'd like to show you some of the things we are trying to do on East Island."

"I wish I could stay—thanks for asking me," said Steve as pleasantly as he could. "I'm sorry, Madeline called bedtime a little later, since George was to drive Steve to Jacksonville, and they were leaving very early."

"Since I shan't be seeing you in the morning," Steve addressed the three women, "I'd better say goodbye by now. It's been wonderful being here and I can't begin to tell you how much I've enjoyed it." "Prove it, then," said Madeline, smiling as she held out her hand, "by coming again, any time you can."

"Prove it, then," said Madeline, smiling as she held out her hand, "by coming again, any time you can."

"Thanks, I'd like that a whole lot," Steve assured her warmly. "Joyce said goodbye and Steve turned to Happy. There was a look in his eyes that she would not have understood, even if there had not been tears in her own to blind her."

"It's been swell seeing you like this, Happy," said Steve quietly. "Wonderful to remember you here—being Happy!" His voice gave the word her name, rather than an adjective.

"Thanks," said Happy almost brusquely, because she dared not trust her unruly voice too far. "It's been nice seeing you. Have fun!"

Then she turned swiftly from him and ran up the stairs. (To Be Continued)

The high price of eggs has created an unusual problem for a kindhearted valley woman, writes Mrs. Minnie Gilbert of San Benito. The woman's pet cat loves eggs, and used to get at least one a day. She would come running when she heard her mistress cracking eggs in the kitchen. But with the price of eggs nudging the $1 figure, the diet has become pretty expensive.

Someone suggested pricking the ends with a needle and blowing the contents out—a la Easter egg style—but the cat's mistress balks. She's looking for an easier way. Silent, but easy.

Sen. Pepper Might Be Among Them

Sen. Claude Pepper, who long ago showed a tendency to take unto the federal government all powers it could wheedle, usurp and force from the hands of the citizenry and the states, has proclaimed loud and long, now, that those persons who have been subpoenaed to testify in the hunt for Communists should not say a word.

That, he said a few days ago, is your Constitutional right — to refuse to testify against yourself, as it were.

Of course, a lot of innocent people may be hurt by this fruit investigation of Communist activity in the movie capital, but that is perhaps one of the prices for the kind of freedom we enjoy in America. But, on the other hand, it has been pretty conclusively demonstrated that there is subversive activity in Hollywood. Such haven of the "arts" draws intellectual riff-raff like honey draws flies.

As for Sen. Pepper and his idea, we just can't go along. If his concept of our Constitutional structure is correct, then disaffected persons may conspire to overthrow our government and its institutions with virtual impunity. They can lay their diabolical plans, which are for revolution in perfecting the most efficient fifth column of all times. If any government agency dares to challenge them on their tearing down our political and social system, why they have but to quote their guardian, a U. S.
senator, and say: "That is none of the committee's business!"

These Hollywood "pinks" and outright "reds" were already subtle before Pepper spoke. Not only do they have their own subtlety, they also have a moral victory in having a high officer of our people espouse their cause.

It seems that Pepper might be included among those questionable characters out in Hollywood.

So They Say
Try as you may, you cannot understand why they (the Russians) act as they do, even when you project yourself into the position their nation occupies. — Mrs. Elleanor Roosevelt.

We recognize Russia's place in Europe as well as that of Britain.
—Paul Kamadier, French premier.

Until the American people make it their predominant and national purpose to be morally stable, spiritually sound and physically and mentally clean, they are going to hope in vain for any reduction in the currently increasing cost and volume of crime. — J. Edgar Hoover, director, FBI.

World War III lies dead ahead unless the American people drop their business-as-usual attitude. — Robert F. Patterson, former secretary of war.

MARSHALL PLAN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Carrying out the Marshall Plan to aid Europe is going to be no breeze. The outlook for getting the Europeans enough to eat is bad, but the outlook for getting them enough steel and manufactured goods is worse.

This is shown by comparing import requirements of the 16 western European nations with American surpluses available for export. The things Europe needs worst are things the U. S. is also short of. The Paris Report of the 16-nation Co-operation of European Economic Co-operation and the U. S. there will be a four-year shortage of 12 million short tons of ingots and semi-finished steel.

This assumed that Europe will be able to import all the coke it needs, plus 15 million tons of rich iron ore, eight million tons of scrap and three million tons of manganese. There is no assurance this can be done. The U. S. is now exporting steel to Europe at the rate of 1.5 million tons a year. This is about half of the three million tons required.

The U. S. may be able to supply all of the coking coal that's needed. There is, however, a U. S. shortage of cokes and scrap.
Before the war, this country had great surpluses of cokes which were shipped all over the world — Japan as well as Europe. It's no longer here. Scrap collection drives may have to be reinstated, as in wartime. As shown by Secretary of the Interior J. A.
King's new report on national resources and aid to Europe, U. S. domestic steel consumption is now at a peacetime peak. Steel

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
RAPID CITY, S. D., — Speaker
Joseph W. Martin, Jr., has a nationally famous experience, both the honor and the responsibility which have descended upon him since he became virtual vice-president of the United States through enactment of the new Succession Law.

On his part of the West, where the plain people and the professional politicians have given him an extremely cordial welcome, this quiet, unassuming Yankee from North Attleboro, Mass., has been aware of his importance in America's political hierarchy.

Rarely, however, has a man of Speaker Martin's status accepted these honors so modestly and reluctantly. Perhaps the only other man who shied away from the limelight so violently was Henry Truman, when he was a more helpful to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It is this trait which has made Speaker Martin so popular in the Far West, the "ow country" and in the mountain states.

What he would probably be content with the vice-presidential nomination next year, his new-made western friends are boosting him for the presidential prize.

Mr. Martin first bowed to the burden of the vice-presidency after attending a eleven-state conference of Republican leaders at Salt Lake City.
He had made reservations to fly from there to Cheyenne, where he was scheduled to address important GOPers from Wy-
and North Dakota.

The weather, however, became sunny and dangerous. The airplane people informed him that they "could" take him to Cheyenne, but they warned against a flight unless it was absolutely necessary.

This was probably the first time that Speaker Martin realized his new importance. He traveled to Cheyenne by train, in deference to the responsibility which his present post bestows upon him.

SHOTS While flying from Cheyenne to Rapid City, the little hostess approached the speaker and his small party and explained that they must wait until all the other passengers had alighted. When the Speaker asked why, she said that there would be a large welcoming crowd at the Rapid City airport, which also happens to be an army base, and that there would be a twenty-one gun salute for him.

The Speaker laughed and said that there "must be some mistake because only the President of the United States" rates a twenty-one gun salute. For the rest of the flight, he and the other two members of his party debated whether the Speaker of the House rated any salute at all, and, if he did how many shots should be fired in his honor.

Handsome Colonel Ray Curtice, who commands the field, was equally dubious. As he told the Speaker later, he did not know whether Mr. Martin should be greeted with guns, and he was totally ignorant of the number of shots which should be given.
He had to get in touch with Washington before he learned that twenty-one guns are fired for a Vice-President and seventeen

Common Ground
By R. C. HOLES
An Example of Our Foreign Imperialism
We have certainly departed in our foreign relations a long way from the policies of our founding fathers. We not only seem to want to meddle and dominate the policies of Europe, but seem to want to run the government by our closest and best neighbor, Canada.

The United States Department of Justice has instituted an "investigation" of the Canadian newspaper industry under the American anti-trust laws and this investigation might lead to an attempt at prosecution.

Canadian newspaper companies have been subpoenaed to appear in a United States District Court and to bring from Canada, for examination in New York, most or all of their correspondence between these Canadian companies and their own government. Canadians are resenting this foreign interference and will they might.

On September 12 the Montreal Gazette said: "The whole newspaper situation, including the problems and the role of both producers and publishers, was given a thorough airing during the past winter and spring before separate committees of both the Senate and House of Representatives. Full information on their operations has been made a matter of public record through company reports and joint bulletins and has been scanned by Canada's own Combines Investigation Commission."

"If they refuse to heed the U. S. subpoenas, it possibly will be used to appear that they are trying to conceal something reprehensible. "And if they accede to the court orders, they will appear to be acknowledging authority of foreign courts and government agencies, to which they are in no sense subject."

It is remarkable enough that the department should consider such a probe either necessary or within its jurisdiction. . . . The authority of the Justice Department hardly extends to enterprises operating within the borders of another friendly and sovereign state.

Even more remarkable, the department has sought in pursuit of its inquiry to compel officers of Canadian newspaper companies, incorporated and functioning in this country (Canada), to appear in U. S. courts to submit to inquisition. . . . The validity of this astonishing procedure is strongly open to challenge, quite apart from the justification from an inquiry with such earmarks of a political witch-hunt.

The effort to force business centers in another country to open their affairs to snoopers of a U. S. Government agency was undertaken without consultation with the Canadian government and without the aid of effort to obtain pertinent information from or through Canadian authorities.

"It has reportedly persisted despite protest from Ottawa to the U. S. State Department." When more potent power in government they soon, it seems, come to believe that they need not have respect for the opinions of private citizens in their own country and certainly not even need to have respect for the opinions of other governments or the private citizens of other governments.

This kind of an act is certainly no way to promote peace and develop principles on which this government was founded, namely that all people are equal before the law.

POLISH

The Cominform—the recently organized nine-nation Communist information bureau.

The Moscow radio last night described Mikolajczyk as a "cowardly fugitive" and a "traitor" and a "sworn enemy of the new democratic Poland... who was careful to take himself off in time."

"By his flight," the broadcast said, "Mikolajczyk, like other survivors of foreign imperialists, has exposed not only himself, but also his foreign masters. He has returned to where he will get a pension for his services rendered against his people and eulogies from mercenary reactionary newspapers."

In Warsaw, a Polish government spokesman said there was "circumstantial evidence" that foreign aid helped Mikolajczyk to flee Poland. He said the government had begun an investigation to determine the circumstances.

The British government has asserted Mikolajczyk sanctuary should be granted to England.

Reports from Tirana, Albania, meanwhile, indicated that Albanian Communists were preparing to apply for membership in the Cominform, which Jacques Duclos, French Communist leader, said yesterday was open to any Communist party in the world, including those of Britain and the United States.

Texas Production Of Oil Unchanged

TULSA—(P)—The nation's crude oil production continued its record-setting trend by averaging 5,318,415 barrels daily during the week ended Oct. 25, a jump of 35,365 barrels beyond previous week's figure.

Most important gains were in the following areas: Eastern area, up 2,000 barrels to 65,200; Illinois, 7,400 barrels to 177,200; Indiana, 1,500 to 17,700; Michigan, 2,635 to 49,500; Kansas, 6,600 to 311,050; Mississippi, 6,800 to 108,730; Louisiana, 1,400 to 453,950; Colorado, 2,010 to 48,670; Wyoming, 4,580 to 124,900.

Only three states had decreased production, they were California, down 650 barrels to 928,000; Montana, off 610 to 24,130 and Florida, down 50 to 625.

Production in Texas, New Mexico and Nebraska remained unchanged.

Milton Sutherland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Sutherland of Ardmore, who lived in Pampa several years ago.

Funeral arrangements at Ardmore were tentatively set for tomorrow.

Other than the parents and grandparents, he is survived by two brothers, Henry Lee and Bob. A brother was killed in service with the armed forces on Bataan.

Men on Trial for Theft of Steer

SIERRA BLANCA—(P)—Pieces of hide and waste portion of a steer were found on the H. H. Seal ranch near here, two state witnesses testified.

Testimony began here yesterday in 34th District Court in the trial of Seal, a San Angelo tire dealer, charged with theft of a steer from Moody Bennett, Hudspeth County rancher, last July 15.

Jeff Duncan of Marfa, an inspector for the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, said that the steer had been killed by a rifle bullet. A bullet, purportedly taken from the head of a steer found buried near the Seal ranch house, was placed on exhibit.

Bob Beatty of El Paso, another association inspector, said that he had examined pieces of the hide which had been found but could not locate an intact brand. He said the hide had been cut into small pieces.

Dunham further testified that the head and other waste portions of a steer had been located on information furnished by John Chapman, a Negro employe on the Seal ranch.

Bennett testified that a steer was missing from his herd.

HOLLYWOOD

from General Arnold, head of the Army Air Forces—

"Just a minute," Thomas shouted above the banging of his own gavel.

Thomas reminded Trumbo of what happened when Lawson refused to answer questions and was cited for contempt.

Stripling told Trumbo that he would ask a series of questions that could be answered "yes" or "no." He added that if Trumbo wanted to make an explanation after he gave the answer, the committee probably would be willing to listen.

The mustached little writer insisted that he could not answer all questions "yes or no," asserting that such answers could be given only "by a moron or a slave."

Then he asked for permission to put into the record the texts of twenty scripts he has written, some of them running over 150 pages. The request was denied. Trumbo said the scripts gave an idea of the kind of work he has been doing.

Stripling repeatedly asked the witness "are you a member of the Screen Writers Guild?" and his voice had a tired ring after a while.

Trumbo evaded a "yes or no" answer and finally Thomas asked:

"Are you answering the question or making another speech? If you're making a speech we can find you a corner up here to make one."

Are you a member of the Screen Writers Guild?" Thomas asked again.

Trumbo said he would get around to answering that but declined an immediate "yes or no."

"I repeat—" he started.

"Excuse the witness," Thomas cut in.

But Stripling then asked if Trumbo is or has been a member of the Communist Party.

"You must have some reason for asking that," Trumbo replied.

"I do," said Stripling.

"I should like to see what you have," Trumbo said.

"Oh, you would," Stripling commented and the crowd guffawed.

Then the witness was excused and the committee began the reading of a committee memorandum on "Communist affiliations of Dalton Trumbo." It was similar to a report read yesterday on Lawson after Lawson refused to answer a question.

Before the hearing began, another writer, Emmett Lavery, had told reporters he was prepared to tell the committee that he is not and never has been a Communist. Lavery is head of the Screen Writers Guild and has been criticized by several witnesses before the committee.
