Disgraceful Behavior Of a Lovely Lady

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Mrs. John J. Connell, Seattle, Washington Dear Mrs. Connell:

I have been reading about you in the papers. As I understand it, you have a 27-room house which is far too big for your needs.

And so, during the war years, when home-sharing was the patriotic thing to do, you started sharing yours with servicemen's families—never anyone else, just servicemen and their wives and children.

You got a kick out of being able to do something for those young couples who had so much trouble trying to find a place to live. But you made a mistake. A big mistake. You didn't stop your home-sharing when the war was over.

You saw homeless veterans around, and you took four of them and their families in. And now the neighbors are trying to make you evict them. Your home-sharing is lowering the tone of a high-toned neighborhood. Several families under one roof—imagine! Even if the roof does stretch to cover 27 rooms.

Where have you been, Mrs. Connell, that you don't know the war is over? Don't you realize that "nothing is too good for the servicemen" and "we're all in this together" are yesterday's slogans? This isn't war, Mrs. Connell. This is postwar. And it is no longer fashionable to treat the men who fought for us like heroes.

Now, if you had wanted to sell a house to a serviceman at three times its value, that would have been okay. You could take advantage of his desperation and have bragged about how smart you were. Or if you had wanted to rent a little place to a serviceman, and charged him a nice sum in addition to the rent for the privilege of moving in, you might not have felt free to brag about it, but you could have gotten by with it. Lots of people have.

But to "spoil" the tone of a "good neighborhood" by sharing your home is really unpardonable. Where have you been that you don't realize these things, Mrs. Connell. Too busy, probably, taking an interest in the problems of your young tenants.

Sincerely,
RUTH MILLETT

Typhoon Hinders Rescue Attempts

MANILA, (AP)— Amid towering seas whipped by the winds of a typhoon, frustrated attempts were made today to rescue 26 crewmen and one or more passengers from the stricken motorship FS277, in distress in Butuan Bay in the Mindanao sea.

The FS262 reported this afternoon that the 270-ton inter-island freighter was "in a sinking condition very close off shore." Ahead of the distressed vessel lay the rocky cliffs of Mount Tubay, northern Mindanao.

The FS262 said it had been forced to give up rescue attempts and seek shelter because of the violent seas.

Commissioner's Office to Issue 'Facts' on White Sox Suspension

Durocher in Dark About Brooklyn Managerial Job

NEW YORK. (AP)—Leo Durocher doesn't have the foggiest idea whether he will manage the Brooklyn Dodgers next year, and he doubts whether Branch Rickey the player who must make the decision is any better informed.

"Let me put it this way," Leo said with every trace of candor. "I think I know what Mr. Rickey, down in his heart, would like to do. But I also realize that he has a problem on his hands. We all have problems, including myself."

From this it may be judged that the little holler-up guy has mellowed considerably in exile.

He isn't demanding his job back. He merely hopes with a terrible earnestness that he can sit in the Brooklyn dugout again.

Of only one thing Leo is certain: He expects to have another talk with Rickey before he returns to the coast to open up his sporting goods store. He said that the Dodgers president, before leaving on a flying trip through the Mid-West yesterday, made the point that he has some news for him, but he said hopefully.

"This year, I can see that Mr. Rickey has a letter from Commissioner Chandler which says that he will not let me go back to the team until I have again to be employed by any club in organized baseball."

CINCINNATI. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's office promised a "statement of facts" today following suspension of the Chicago White Sox and General Manager Louis O'Connor yesterday in a case pivoting on an alleged violation of the national pastime's high school rule.

O'Connor and three American League club were suspended, Chandler's secretary, Walter Mulhally said, after the General Manager refused to permit a $200 fine levied on the signing of 17-year-old George Scottman, a Chicago Christian High School pitcher who won't finish his studies at the institution until January.

Himself a strict enforcer of baseball law during 24 years as president of the late Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Chandler's predecessor, O'Connor so far has said only that he was suspended from baseball, and doesn't want to talk until he issues a statement later.

Mulhally said last night that both O'Connor and the club would be reinstated immediately if the fine was paid, but the White Sox boss indicated he would fight the Chandler edict. The ball club's executive office released a statement, however, terming the suspension an illegal act and an attempt "to coerce the club and Mr. O'Connor in the submission to his (Chandler's) illegal acts."

Signing of Zoelerman, a promising southpaw who hurried in being practice for the White Sox and made the club's last eastern swing of the 1947 season, was the second time, said the commissioner's office, that the Chicago organization had been fined by Chandler. Last March, his office reported, the White Sox were fined $500 for a similar complaint involving one George Murphy, a high school student.

As originally drafted by a Major League committee of which O'Connor was a member, the high school rule applied only to schools holding membership in the National Federation of High School Associations.

Baseball sources claimed; the rule never was amended but Mulhally said that after its adoption two bulletins were sent to club owners advising them Chandler would interpret the rule as applying "to all high school students."

The suspension, he explained, bars both the club and O'Connor from participating in any of baseball's "transactions and activities" including the major league player draft Nov. 10.

Mulhally said he "assumed" the team couldn't play ball if the fine were not paid by the start of next season and added, without elaboration, "but the commissioner would take more definite action."

In its statement last night, the White Sox executive office said "Chicago Christian High School is not a member of the association. (Officials of the school verified this and reported it is accredited by the state as a private school.)"

"The commissioner in voiding our contract with this player and in fining the club violated his own rules of procedure, the baseball rule under which he purports to act and various other provisions of the major and minor league agreements and rules and also the law of the land."

"The United States rubber industry has almost doubled in size during the past five years and was converted largely to the production of synthetic rubber."

Penn State Eleven Leads Nation in Defense Against Rushing and Passing

NEW YORK. (AP)—Penn State's granite-ribbed rushing defense was cracked wide open as West Virginia gained almost three times as much ground as its predecessors last Saturday, but it's still tighter than a "new look" corset.

Last week's National Collegiate Athletic Bureau figures showed the Nittany Lion line yielding but an average of five inches per try on the ground.

This week, as a result of the West Virginia game which Penn state won, 21-14, it's now 14.4 inches per crack.

For the second straight week the Penn Staters led the nation in both total defense against rushing and passing, and in rushing defense. The enemy has averaged only 69 yards per game in combined rushing and passing, and has dented the line for only 10.8 yards per game in five games. The Lions yielded only 24 yards in 135 rushing thrusts.

West Virginia's lead in rushing defense the week before, was tumbled clear out of the first 15 by Penn State, which held a statistical edge miles wider than the 21-14 score would indicate.

North Carolina State (105.8 yards average per game), and Georgia Tech (125.4) rank second and third and Texas Christian (136.3) advanced from seventh to fourth at Oklahoma's expense in total defense. Baylor (128 yards) is fifth.

Notre Dame dropped from first to third in forward pass defense when Iowa completed nine out of 22 for 84 yards, or more than the Irish had yielded to enemy passes in their three previous games—75.

North Carolina again led the nation's punting teams with an average of 41.5 per punt in 36 attempts. The south continued to keep its clutch on the top punting spots as Virginia ranked second and Miami, Fla., third.

Figures included:
Rushing defense—1. Penn State, 16.8 yards average yielded per game for five games; Wake Forest, 39; 2. Baylor, 59.2.
Forward Pass defense—1. Colorado College, 29 yards average yielded per game; 2. Notre Dame, 39.8; 3. Texas Christian, 42.7.
Punting—1. North Carolina, 44.5 yards average per game; 2. Virginia, 43.7; 3. Miami (Fla.), 43; 4. Holy Cross, 42.8; 5. St. Mary's, 42.3; 6. Duke, 41.9; 7. Texas Mines, 41.9; 8. North Carolina State, 41.7; 9. Kentucky, 41.5; 10. Texas, 41.2.

The ... WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

With all the upsets handed out throughout the nation last weekend, our boy Willie didn't do too bad in his first week of football prognostication by picking the winners in six out of eight games. However, his point system was a little shaky and we asked him to be a little more conservative with this week's selections.

So here goes Willie for the second week:

Pampa and Brownfield—Both teams lost their conference opponents. The Harvesters were edged by the Plainview Bulldogs 20 to 19 in the last seven minutes of play last week. The Cubs were leading district 1Aa favorite the Amarillo Golden Sandies 7 to 6 during the third quarter only to be overcome and lose 20 to 7. On the basis of previous games the Harvesters should be heavy favorites. But Willie says the Harvesters by seven points.

Lubbock and Amarillo—This one should be easy for the Sandies. The Westerners plagued by injuries throughout the season have not won a ball game this season. They have lost four and tied two. The once beaten Sandies should have no trouble downing the boys from Lubbock by at least two touchdowns.

Plainview and Borger—Both teams will be after their second conference win. Borger and Lubbock battled to a 0 and 0 deadlock, but Borger was awarded the game on the basis of the most 20-yard line penetrations. The passing combination of Bogie to Howton, and Myers running should humble the Borger team to their first conference defeat by at least six points.

Texas and SMU—By all rights the Longhorns should be better than the Ponies. On paper they are. But Willie says don't be surprised if this isn't the biggest upset of the week if Donk Walker and company trim the boys from Austin, who are rated as the third strongest team in the nation.

TCU and Baylor—TCU to continue on their way for their second conference win. The Horned Frogs have lost one conference start to Arkansas.

Arkansas and Texas A and M—Arkansas and Texas Tech—The Owls should prove to be too much for the Red Raiders from Lubbock. Rice by 10 points.

Ardent wrestling fans should be glad to hear of the return of wrestling matches to Pampa tonight after a long absence. The fights which will be held at the Sportatorium, each Thursday night, will be promoted by Vic Burnett.

Burnett has promised the fans the best matches obtainable in the Southwest. He has future cards lined-up that will include such big names in wrestling as Ted Horn, the national champion automobile driver sees a big-time racing circuit next year comparing favorably with professional golf—both in number of events and money that can be won.

Here to defend his title in the last race of the year in the American Automobile Association sponsored series, Horn, the Paterson, N. J., flyer, commented on the boom that has come to the driving game and said he expected to be featured on the Sportatorium's weekly cards, stated Burnett.

Another driver has a chance and all Horn has to do is finish as high as fifth here to win the title even though Holland grabbed first money.

The Arlington Downs race over 100 miles, is a $10,000 event. It was to have been held last Sunday but was postponed because of rain.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK. (AP)—Adm. Jonas (the Needle) Ingram has challenged the National Football League on behalf of the first and second-place teams in the All-America Conference without results. Now why not have the Rockets challenge the Colts to a game which is the worst team. At least it would give one of them a chance to win.

The conference, incidentally is plugging three kicking specialists, Lou (the Toe) Groza, Joe (Little Toe) Vetrano and Ben (Toeless) Agajanian.

Would you say they're trying to get a toe-hold on pro football? ... The city of Miami is taking over the old Miami Biltmore Golf Course, which has stood idle since Pratt General Hospital was closed in July. The announcement said playing fees will be about $2.50 daily for winter visitors and "within reason" for year-round residents.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D) of Virginia.

White Deer to Meet Undefeated Perryton
WHITE DEER (Special)—The White Deer Bucks will journey to Perryton to meet the only undefeated team in the region, tomorrow night at 7:30.

After losing last week's game to the Phillips Blackhawks the Bucks are out of the running for the district title unless they can beat Perryton and Perryton in turn can down the Blackhawks.

The Rangers have scored 168 points to their opponents' 45 for the season, while the Bucks have scored 149 to their opponents' 51. The Rangers having one of the toughest lines in this region, also have a strong backfield, with R. Powell and K. Flowers handling the ball most of the time. They depend largely on a running attack off the single wing and punt formation. The Bucks use the T-formation and have had considerable success with a passing attack. They have good defense, but the 16 pounds difference in average weights will give the Rangers a great advantage.

Animal crackers:
Occasionally a little story like this comes along to prove that the dog-is-man's-best-friend belief isn't just a bit of wishful thinking.
A small black dog of rather dubious ancestry named Pal is credited with saving the life of Mrs. C. E. Anderson of Waco. She was walking along one morning when she saw a rattlesnake about to strike.
She says she was "glued to the ground" and couldn't move.
"Then without hesitation Pal dashed between that rattler and me," she said. "It raced right in there and took the poison intended for me. That saved my life."
She said the pup was bitten twice. The snake grabbed Pal by the jaw and held on. It was shaken off, and struck again. The tenacious dog shook free, and Mrs. Anderson grabbed a hoe and killed the snake. The dog was taken to a veterwhat he calls a vest pocket bird dog. The animal's name is China, and weighs only 27 pounds.

He says sometimes China is smarter than he is. He tells of one trip when he whipped the dog twice for ranging over a barren-looking peanut patch.
He missed her later, found her right in the middle of the same field, patiently pointing to a fine covey of quail.
At home she catches a ball, barks when told to talk, retrieves anything she can carry, and brings Fuqua his bedroom slippers at night, his street shoes and paper in the morning.

SOVIET WHALING PROGRAM EXPANDS
MOSCOW —(AP)— The present whaling season in the Far Eastern waters has been the best yet recorded by Soviet whalers.
Reporting this by radio to Moscow, Captain A. Polyakov, head of the flotilla, gave these figures:
Since the beginning of the year—505 whales have been caught, 150 more than last year. The record catch for one day was 26 whales.
The biggest whale brought aboard the whaling ships weighed 90 tons.
The Far Eastern Whaling Fleet which is under the management of a trust at the Ministry of Fishing Industry of the Eastern Areas of the USSR is being steadily expanded and its operations extended far afield.

Circulate Petitions Asking for Wheeler Soil Board Hearing

SHAMROCK — (Special) — All persons who have the soil conservation district petitions are asked to return them, with as many signatures as possible, to the Chamber of Commerce office by Friday afternoon.

The petitions, which have been circulated for the past month, ask for a series of hearings to be held here by the Texas State Soil Conservation Board relative to establishing a soil saving district in Wheeler County.

Although it cannot be determined how many signatures the petitions bear until they have all been turned in, the interest has been gratifying, members of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce declare. Similar petitions have been circulated in the north part of the county. The ones here will be sent to County Agent W. K. Frey, who in turn will mail them to the State Soil Conservation Board.

After receiving the signed petitions, if the Soil Conservation Board believes there is enough interest in the district, its members will conduct a series of hearings. If the hearings further their belief that local producers want the project, an election will be called in which the final decision will be made.

Leading farmers and ranchers of Wheeler County believe the soil saving and rebuilding district would be a priceless boon to this area's number one industry, agriculture.

Pilot Confused by Oil Derrick Light Crashes, Is Killed

SWEETWATER — (P) — Sweetwater airmen said today that the fatal crash of C. L. Stewart's plane only two miles from the municipal airport apparently was caused when the pilot was confused by a light on the top of an oil derrick.

The plane wreckage and Stewart's battered body were discovered yesterday afternoon, ending a three-day search. Stewart had been missing since he took off Saturday at 5 p. m. from Love Field, Dallas.

Fliers said the pilot apparently turned back to investigate the derrick light as he approached the Sweetwater field. Wreckage was scattered over an 80-yard area.

Stewart was secretary and sales manager of the Brooks Packing Company of Sweetwater. The plane was owned by the company. Stewart, former Army transport pilot, was a veteran flier with more than 3,000 hours in the air.

Survivors include his widow, a daughter, Rita, and a son, Martin; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stewart, Tulsa, and a sister, Mrs. Robert Pitts, Ashland, Ore.

The body will be sent to Tulsa for funeral services.

This Is Happy

By PEGGY DERN

XXVII
HAPPY was almost ready to leave her room to go down to breakfast the next morning when Joyce came in, bright-eyed and radiant. She was in riding clothes and her eyes were like stars, her cheeks pink.

"Happy, how'd you like to go to a wedding?" she demanded eagerly.

"A wedding? Whose wedding?" "Mine," said Joyce radiantly. "Mine and David's. This afternoon."

Happy caught her breath. "You mean George has finally given in?" "I mean I've finally managed to persuade David that it doesn't matter whether George gives in or not. And David has finally managed to persuade me that money isn't important when two people love each other as we do. Oh, Happy, I'm on air! I'm walking on clouds and banging my head on the stars! David's landed a marvelous job on a big stock farm in Kentucky. They breed and train race horses, but they also have a lot of finely bred farm stock, and David's going to be superintendent at a whole of a salary."

Happy, seeing her shining eyes, remembered George's calm conviction that Joyce's love for David was not important.

"But he has to leave for the job tonight," Joyce explained in a rush. "And so we are going to be married at 3 o'clock in his mother's house, and go straight from there to the train."

Fuzzled, Happy said, "But George is away..." "Some of the happiness vanished from Joyce's face and, for a moment, her young eyes were bitter. "Of course; that's one reason why we are being married today! Oh, I know George couldn't really stop me, but he'd try like the dickens. And—well, I'm so used to doing that nothing mattered to Joyce except that she was being married to David."

Happy would never forget that scene: the small, spotless living room, with pastel-colored flowers banking the wall against which Joyce and David stood facing the old minister; the minister, thin, white-haired, frail, looking at them with warm affection as he Jester refused to concur in the favorable recommendation of the State Board of Pardons and Pardoners.

The three-man board had unanimously approved a request that Dr. Newton be allowed the emergency parole in order to perform an operation on a Cameron woman who was one of his patients prior to his imprisonment, Secretary of State Paul H. Brown reported later.

The Governor's only comment in reply to the board's recommendation was: "I can not concur in this, and I am returning the papers herewith."

A wife short of ready cash has a legal as well as a moral right to rifle the pockets of her sleeping husband. Why even my wife does that and I can't do a thing about it.

—Eugene J. Sartorius, St. Louis Circuit Judge.

Newfoundland has about as many people as Toledo, Ohio.

read the service above their clasped hands.

Afterwards, there was a beautiful wedding cake, which David's mother had baked with her own hands; and then there was the scramble to get Joyce and David to the train. Once they were safely aboard, and Mrs. Boyle had been returned to her cottage, and the station wagon headed back toward Sweetwater, Madeline drew a deep breath and said, "And now for the deluge! George will be back tomorrow, and ashamed as I am to admit it, I dread it. George can be—extremely unpleasant."

"I suppose so," Happy admitted, startled to realize that she, too, was beginning to fear the inevitable scene with George. "What are you going to do now, Madeline?"

Madeline smiled at her wryly. "Thanks for taking it for granted that I shan't stay on here at Sweetwater," she said frankly. "I am going out to California. I have an aunt and some cousins there. They aren't Harrells, of course, but they are quite nice people."

There was more than a trace of bitterness in her voice, and Happy, remembering George's high opinion of the Harrell name, could appreciate and sympathize with that.

"I don't understand George," she said impulsively. "Madeline smiled wryly at her. "Don't you? Oddly enough, I don't either—and that's queer, isn't it, when you remember that I am his mother?"

The station wagon turned into the beautiful sweeping driveway. The house ahead was like something seen in a dream, and as always, Happy's heart was touched by its almost unearthly beauty in the dying sunset light.

But she said nothing as the car halted and she and Madeline got out. A white-coated houseman swung open the door for them and a chauffeur took the station wagon back to the big garage behind the house. And as Madeline and Happy entered the lovely old reception hall, George stood in the doorway of the drawing-room.

There was a moment of shock as Madeline and Happy faced him.

To arms, girls—we've been maligned again! Mr. James A. Farley is quoted as saying that no woman is physically or emotionally strong enough to serve a term as President of the United States. He says he's sure he won't live long enough to see a woman President. Well, he won't if he keeps on making statements like that.

Personally, I think that any woman who has the strength and endurance to live with a man who wants to be President is strong enough to be President herself.

Besides, a woman could run this country so much easier than a man. She wouldn't have to waste time going fishing or joining Indian tribes or any of those things male presidents have to do to keep the common touch. And she wouldn't have to hold cabinet meetings to find out what's going on. When Madame President got through at the beauty shop she'd know everything there was to know.

The world today needs twice as much food as it produces; 50 percent more cereals; 90 percent more meat; 125 percent more milk and dairy products; 125 percent more vegetable oils; 300 percent more vegetables.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam's a Matrimony Expert

Sam Abernathy never intended to be a matrimony expert, but he hit the nail on the head the other day when he said:

"What marriage really needs is more open minds and a lot fewer open mouths."

Sam may not think much of his missus' choice of hats or her habit of serving watercrust and cream cheese salad. But he keeps his mouth shut (I mean, he just uses it to eat the salad). And the missus never criticizes Sam's affection for that worn-out chair before the fire, and his mellow glass of beer and pipe at the end of a long day. "From where I sit, that prescription would apply to most human relationships. Criticism rarely rouses anything but resentment. But an open mind—whether it's applied to a woman's choice of hats, or a husband's preference for a pipe and a moderate glass of beer or two—leads to the conclusion that there's right on both sides."

FAIR ENOUGH...

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)
WASHINGTON — No other business in the United States, except the business of government under Roosevelt, has ever been so heavily and defiantly infested with traitors as the moving picture business of Hollywood. By traitors, I mean Communists, including the kind who deny that they are Communists but constantly prove that they are. By Communists, I mean persons devoted to the corruption, the frustration, and, finally, the violent overthrow of the government of the U. S. A.

I still hear some in Washington saying that the Communists were really into the government back in the thirties. They are either liars or fools. Of course he knew about this and it wasn't filtration, either. It was an invasion.
And so fast as the old Dies Committee exposed individuals and rousted them they scurried back into the woodwork and lodged in new places. Day by day, as memoirs accumulate, Roosevelt appears more fatuous—a grinning, tragic, two-bit wise-guy, played for a fool in the hands of men who kept him thinking he was the smart one, the daring reformer destined for a place in history not too far down the list from the God of Christendom. I am not blaspheming. All his crowd, except the likes of Jim Farley whom he patronized both socially and intellectually, thought of him as a mere mortal political reformer. Close your ears but so they did. And if you think Roosevelt could not have been tempted by such a prospect as another American who was so well convinced of his political immortality that he built a memorial to himself.

He had some men around him who were as thick as thieves with Prof. Harold Laski, the English revolutionist and secretary of the Labor Party which has just about scorched the earth of the political England that meant so much in confidence and dignity to western Christendom. Roosevelt listened to them and they listened to Laski and nudged him in a way that was ominously confidential. And, finally, it was established by Laski's own testimony in a recent trial, that Laski did contemplate violence in the revolution. What do we mean by violence? A kick in the pants?
A punch in the snoot? A brick through a store window? For a tart, maybe, yes. But, in Russia, violence meant the bloody obliteration of millions of the best people and the exile and slavery for life of millions more.

All the Communists regard that as a very fine revolution. That is the kind of revolution they would perform here. People shooting from windows at people in the parks in Washington. Policemen strung up in New York.
George Washington Bridge blown with a beautiful crash and splash.
The cardinal and the household clergy against the wall at St.
Patrick's. A hundred puzzled, proud civilians, women and men, huddled against a wall in the Sunken Garden at Rockefeller Center by a squad of dirty killers from downtown. Maybe a few Communist writers from Hollywood, a few Communist dancers and actors from Broadway comedies and musical shows, and a couple of beautiful girls in the firing squad. John D., Jr., and Nelson Rockefeller among the victims. Rat-a-tat-tat. No? Well, how much violence will there be,
then, when all these Hollywood traitors and these refuge conspirators make their Communist revolution? Who will regulate the violence? Charlie Chaplin?
Who will guarantee that the atom bombs in stock will not be used on Pittsburgh to guarantee that our "war potential" will be destroyed; will not be used on Chicago and New York?
All we know is that they are counting on a violent revolution and we therefore may count on the maximum violence.

The Hollywood movie magnates make excuses. They can't tell who is Communist and who isn't.
They wouldn't like to do an injustice and fire a mere liberal on false suspicion.

Well, now isn't that too bad?
Isn't that just too fastidious? It seems strange then that they are always so willing and quick to fire and blacklist some poor

Chitter Chat Club Is Guest of Mrs. Coffin

The Chitter Chat Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. C. W. Coffin, 512 North Nelson.

The rooms were charmingly decorated with Jack-o-Lanterns, and low bowls of cut flowers in golden yellow, bronze and red hues.

The brief business session opened with the club song and closed with club prayer.

An amusing reading, "I'll Never Get Married," was given by Miss Inez Clubb, and Miss Coffin's little daughter, Cassandra, sang two songs.

After this entertainment, secret gifts were exchanged, and attractive plate refreshments of sandwiches in the shape of Jack-o-Lanterns, baked beans in orange cups, devils food cake with orange icing, mixed nuts in miniature pumpkins and spiced tea were served to the above mentioned and Mesdames J. L. Harrison, Howard Archer, L. E. West, J. C. Payne, W. L. Harrison, O. C. Smith, Chester Williams, L. E. Willis, James Cuipepper, J. A. Grundy, Miss Dorothy Barrett, and one guest, Mrs. G. W. Washington.

The next meeting will be November 3, in the home of Mrs. Howard Archer, Colton Camp, Lefors.

Mrs. Howerton Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Jim Howerton, the former Geraldine Sims, was honored with a pink and blue shower Tuesday, Oct. 21, in the home of Mrs. R. E. Zell with Mrs. R. N. Johnson as co-hostess.

Those participating in the shower were Mesdames R. L. Hooks, G. W. Johnson, J. R. Patterson, J. A. Thompson, Joe Gales, F. L. Worthington, A. B. Lancaster, C. Lancaster, J. Newman, D. G. Sims, E. B. Patton, Sr., S. Gulliver, Matt Sims, C. A. Dyasart, Ralph Sims, R. St. John, G. C. Avent, O. E. Sims and Miss Louise St. John.

New Members of BGK Honored at Style Show

As a climax to the series of parties given by the BGK honoring their new members, a lovely party was given Friday evening at the Country Club. Dresses from 1900 to 1947 were modeled by Misses Frances Tindall, Joan Coonrod, and Mesdames Betty Boswell, Jean Haw, Parks Brumley, and J. W. Garman. Appropriate music was played throughout the show by Mrs. Ora Payne.

Mrs. Charles Thomas acted as master of ceremonies, introducing each model and giving the details of the dress.

Baskets of dahlias connected with ribbon outlined the newly visited platform where the clothes were modeled.

The refreshment table, laid with a white cloth, was beautifully decorated with white tapers and surrounded with low bowls of dahlias.

Wheeler County HD Clubs Hold Exhibit

SHAMROCK (Special)—Wheeler County Home Demonstration Clubs held an interesting exhibit on display at the Home-Making Cottage at Wheeler, Saturday, when the county-wide meeting was held.

General and educational displays were arranged by nine of the 12 clubs in the county with the following winners announced by Mrs. E. M. Hastings, county home demonstration agent:

Educational Display, Good Neighbors Club, first place; Pagan Club, second; and Wheeler Club, third.

General display: Wheeler Club, first; Good Neighbors second; and Pagan, third.

The Young Matrons of Shamrock received honorable mention.

The Shamrock Grade School 4-H Club girls had an interesting display and other clubs represented were: Myrtle, Mobettie, Briscoe, The Leaf and China Plant.

The educational display included a reading center, display on buying canned goods and unusual ways of preparing chicken.

The general display included many beautiful pieces of hand-work, pillow cases, towels, hand-made quilts, baby clothing, tailored dresses, aprons, blouses, remodeled clothing, and many articles made from feed sacks.

The Wheeler Home Demonstration Club displayed an upholstered chair, tufted rugs, unusual pot-lifters, waste baskets, and both fresh and canned foods.

The entire display was artistically decorated with a variety of home-grown flowers and refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table to the large crowd of guests who attended the meeting.

Mrs. Fox Is Hostess To Club in Shamrock

SHAMROCK (Special)—Mrs. Wayne Fox was hostess to members of the Saturday Bridge Club at her home Saturday afternoon. Colorful zinnias were used in decorations.

At bridge, Mrs. Harrison Hall of Wheeler, was high-score prize winner.

Refreshments were served at the close of the games.

Special guests included: Mrs. Bedford Harrison, Miss Gloria Holmes of White Deer, Miss Inez Franz and Miss Jan Rogers, both of Skellytown.

Members attending were Mesdames Joel Cooch, Harry Clay, Scott McCall, Baxter Purcell, Hall, Bob Purcell and Miss Helen Falmer.

Council of HD Clubs Elects New Officers

The Council of Home Demonstration Clubs met in the City Club Rooms Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. Ernest McKnight presiding.

Annual reports were given by representatives of the different clubs and Mrs. H. B. Taylor gave a report of the State Convention at Galveston.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. McKnight, chairman; Mrs. Taylor, vice chairman; Mrs. N. B. Cude, secretary; Mrs. V. Smith, parliamentary; Mrs. A. O. Wagner, representative to Pampa Council of Clubs.

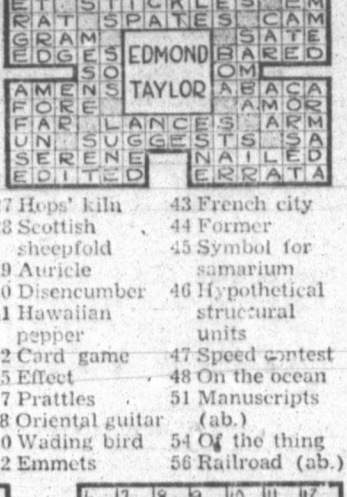

Seven visitors were present. Refreshments were served by Miss Ann Hastings and Mrs. McKnight.

Home Progress Club Has Program on Detective Literature

MIAMI (Special)—Mrs. W. F. Locke was presented by Mrs. W. C. Scott as a special guest feature for the Home Progress Club last week at the home of Mrs. Ewell Webster, with Mrs. Howard Mulkey as co-hostess.

Mrs. Locke chose for her subject "Detective Literature" and climaxed her talk by giving "The Lady and Tiger" by Frank Stockton.

The home was attractively decorated with vases of dahlias. Mrs. C. Coffey of Berger was a special guest. Mrs. C. A. Holcomb gave a special feature, and Mrs. C. T. Locke gave an interesting parliamentary drill. Mrs. Ross Cowan gave the critic's report.

The Halloween motif was carried out. Refreshments of sandwiches, pumpkin pie, candies and coffee were served.

In addition to those mentioned the ladies present were Mesdames C. H. Bowers, C. C. Carr, Ross Cowan, W. E. Foglesong, C. A. Holcomb, C. T. Locke, L. A. Maddox, R. E. Mathers, E. G. Meador, J. K. McKenzie, Howard Mulkey, W. L. Russell, W. C. Scott and Van Webb.

Many Fruit Trees in County Show Infestation by Peach Tree Borer

Southwest Deserts To Be Irrigated For Homesteading

Veterans with pioneer spirit and vision will soon be homesteading the great desert areas of the Southwest.

The United States Bureau of Reclamation is at work on a grand-scale project to bring water to the desert and turn it into fertile farm land.

The bureau plans to open 21,000 acres of government-reclaimed land in the Yuma Mesa district for settlement by homesteaders, with veterans being given first choice; and 12,000 acres more in the Wilton-Mohawk district. In California, a branch of the All-American Canal 145 miles long is under construction to irrigate 75,000 acres of desert in the Coachella Valley.

The requirements of a man wishing to homestead on land to be irrigated by reclamation works are listed in an article by Harold C. Wire, called "The Desert Gamble Is On Again," in the November issue of Country Gentleman. They are: Experience in farming, good character, physical ability, and $2,000 in capital or its equivalent in livestock, equipment or other useful assets. In order to patent the land and secure title to it he must build a house, cultivate at least half of the acreage, and live on the place at least seven months of the year for three years. Veterans may credit up to two years of service in the armed forces against this three-year residence.

Wire warns that land in the reclaimed Southwest is not going to be easy to homestead, although state and federal agencies are trying to make the settlement of raw land less of a hit-or-miss proposition than it was after World War I.

On Yuma Mesa, the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture and the University of Arizona have cooperated with the Bureau of Reclamation in a large-scale cropping experiment. Five thousand acres of public land have been cleared and leveled to find the best methods for doing this work. Plots totaling 3,000 acres have been planted to alfalfa, grains and potatoes, as well as other vegetables. From results on these experimental farms a settler can be guided to crops suitable for his own land.

The throwing open of large areas of reclaimed land to homesteaders will, wisely enough, until water is actually flowing through the long canals from the Colorado River.

Men who prefer not to wait have already bought parcels of the reclaimed land from private owners through Veterans Administration loans. To qualify for a loan, the land cannot be in a purely raw state; it must be cleared, and with the irrigation system in place ready for crop production.

Within these three southwestern projects are some of the most specialized farming areas in the United States. For a man who wants a home—and knows that farming today is a strict and skillful business—the opportunities on the desert are greater than ever before.

It is now time to treat your fruit trees for the peach tree borer," says County Agent Ralph Thomas. "That is, if you want your trees to live and continue to bear fruit."

A demonstration relative to treating trees for borers will be conducted by Thomas at the H. M. Rath farm on Highway 66 three miles east of McLean next Monday afternoon at two o'clock. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Thomas says that most peach trees that he has examined show evidence of borer infestation, and some cherry, plum, and apricot trees appear to be infested. If tiny sawdust particles mixed with wax can be seen around the base of the tree, you had better start treating. All of this season's borers have been hatched out and will cause more damage to the trees, says Thomas.

Either of two chemicals may be used for treating, according to Thomas. Paradichlorobenzene may be purchased at most any drug store. Ethylene dichloride may be obtained from the drug store in McLean.

To apply the paradichlorobenzene take a hoe and pull the soil back from the tree down to the crown of the root system. Scrape off all gum and loose bark. Pull the soil back up around the tree to a height of about six inches and smooth off the top of the mound. Apply material in a circle around the tree at the rate of one ounce for trees over four years or one-half ounce for younger trees. Pour the circle two to three inches from tree. Contact with tree may cause burning. Cover the material with a half inch of soil. This treatment is not effective after cold weather begins.

According to Thomas, ethylene dichloride may be poured around the base of the tree and covered with several shovels of dust. No preparation of the soil is necessary except to rake away the trash. A half pint of emulsion should be used for all size and age trees. One gallon of miscible ethylene dichloride should be mixed with the number of gallons of water indicated for various age and size trees:

Six years and older, average and larger, 2 3/4; six years and older, small trees, 3 3/4; four and five years old, 3 3/4; three years old, 5 1/4; two years old, 11 1/2; one year old, 50.

The above dilutions should be strictly adhered to, as too strong an emulsion may injure the tree, while too light of the material may not be effective. On trees four years or older the emulsion may be poured on the base of the tree. On younger trees contact with tree may cause burning. Trees may be treated anytime during the winter or spring, but prompt treatment will lessen damage.

County Agents to Be Recruited for Arabian Program

WASHINGTON — (AP)—A former Texas farm official, returning from a year's work in Arabia, says that country is on the threshold of great agricultural expansion.

Kenneth Edwards of Gainesville, who was an Extension Service agent at College Station before heading an agricultural mission to Arabia under the sponsorship of the Arabian-American Oil Company told a reporter: "I am back in the United States to line up about 20 county agricultural agents to enlarge the farm program now under way in Arabia."

"I probably will recruit most of them in Texas, but some may come from Arizona or California because of their experience in such specialized crops as the production of dates. Among other crops which he and five other Texans have been conducting on a 3,000 acre tract of irrigated land, and has encouraged expansion of the program.

Thousands of additional acres will be put into intensive cultivation in numerous demonstration plots will be operated under the county agents he recruits, Edwards said.

Much of the water for irrigation, Edwards related, comes from underground water reservoirs called "ains," which crop out at the surface at places, forming a sort of pool approximately 100 feet in diameter and 300 to 400 feet deep.

The temperatures range up to 130 degrees in midsummer, and for about six weeks it is too hot for crop production. A low of about 40 degrees above zero is reached in winter, giving the country a long growing season.

Edwards told of cutting alfalfa 10 times from a field during the past year.

While here he is conferring with H. H. Williams, an official requires special beds because of his height. He now has six extra-size beds located in places where he is likely to want to sleep.

Most synthetic gems contain gaseous bubbles.

who also hails from Texas, and others at the Agriculture Department.

He said he would go to College Station this weekend to begin checking prospects for the Arabian job.

The other Texans who are still in Arabia, he said, are Bennie Gray of Canton, former Van Zandt County agricultural agent; Sam Logan, Sonora, former Bailey County agent; R. E. Noland, former Polk County agent; John Cardilly of the Rio Grande Valley, near San Benito, and Joe Smith of Floydada.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Oct. 29—(AP)—A lusty performance by pivotal steels failed to hike the stock market from its lethargy today.
Spurred by optimistic predictions of high operations and good earnings and dividend reports, the steel climbing fractions to around 2 points, but the list generally held in narrow range. Many issues dipped to the losing side at the close. The ticker tape leaped at times, after a lively opening, and total transactions ran to around 1,200,000 shares. Advances and declines were widely distributed. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem, the latter reaching a new 1947 top, were prominent on the rise. New highs for the year touched 4 times by Skelly Oil, Anaconda Wire & Cable and National Supply. Dividend news propelled Westinghouse Electric and Electric Steel, Jones & Laughlin, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Low Chemical and Phelps Dodge. On the offside were White Motors (which proposed an offering of added shares), Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Lines, Cerro De Pasco, Goodrich, Oliver Corp., and Boeing.

Bonds were narrow. Wheat futures at Chicago plummeted 9 3/4 to the daily limit of 10 cents, bushel lower, corn was off 1/4 to 3/8, and cotton down 1/4 to 5/8. Cotton near the finish was depressed 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents.

Arguments Heard In Power Fight

NEW BRAUNFELS — (AP)—Oral arguments were to be heard today in the electric utility litigation filed by the City of New Braunfels for recovery of the Comal Power Plant.

After arguments, attorneys will file briefs to support their contentions.
Introduction of evidence in the case was completed yesterday. The financial statement of New Braunfels utilities was placed in the record to show that the city has prospered under the power contract it made with the City of San Antonio after the San Antonio Public Service Company passed into San Antonio municipal ownership. The records also show that this contract has re-established a slaughter 'cave'; rather light receipts stockers and feeders; most sales good steers 26.00-27.00; odd bunches medium kind moved 22.00-23.50; few good heifers sold 25.00-27.00; real good cows scarce; lots 16.00-17.00; medium and good 15.50-17.50; common and medium and good mixed breed stockers and light feeder steers 13.00-15.00.

Hogs 2,600; fairly active, steady to 25c higher, top 26.00; good and choice 200-300 lb 25.00-50; sows 24.00-25.00.

mained unchanged since the lower Colorado River Authority took over the operation of the Comal Electric Plant of the San Antonio electric system.

Object of the case is to recover for the City of New Braunfels the Comal Power Plant under whatever terms the courts might decree.

Yesterday, a contract between the City of New Braunfels and R. K. Dunbar was stipulated into the record under the contract Dunbar agreed to finance litigation to recover the property. His compensation would come from resale of revenue bonds necessary in refinancing of utilities properties. In event of a compromise Dunbar's compensation would be 25 percent of any agreement.

There's Agreement On One Question

After more than two years of the United Nations' existence, its two most powerful members have found a point on which they can agree. This is a point on the state of international relations, to be sure.

The UN Palestine commission's recommendation of partition seems to be the most just solution of the tragic problem of Jewish and Arab refugees.

There are, of course, many difficulties to be worked out before the creation of a Jewish national state even approaches reality. Perhaps the familiar clash of democratic and communistic interests will reappear in future discussions.

The Russian decision seems a reversal of that opinion. But only those inclined to hate the Soviet Union can find reason to complain in this instance.

There was danger of serious trouble if the Russians had espoused the Arab cause. Backed by the might of the Soviet Union, the Arab states might have opposed any UN attempt to enforce partition with military action.

As things stand now, any such danger is lessened. While the great powers ranged against the Arab states can scarcely make a military issue of the eventual decision.

While the Arab-Moslem population throughout the world is a powerful majority, in the particular portion of the world that is being fought over, the Zionist forces hold the majority and the Zionists throughout the Christian-Jew world have far more influence than do the Arab-Moslem forces.

There are many anti-Zionist Jews who are bitterly opposed to the UN decision who hold that the Moslem Arab and Jewish nations as a Christian crusade against the Moslems. While they have been reluctant to embrace Communist Russia the anti-Christian ferment now developing works to make these people, 400,000,000 strong, natural Russian allies.

DEMOCRATS FOR EISENHOWER

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Republican "Eisenhower-for-President" booms now have Democratic politicians genuinely worried.

As a result, a few young Democrats in the New Deal persuasion here in Washington have been toying with the idea of trying to persuade General Ike to declare himself a Democrat.

The way these Democrats figure it, Eisenhower could be elected President hands down, no matter what ticket he ran on.

If he runs as a Republican, a lot of Republican candidates for Congress would ride along to victory on his coat tails. That would mean that the present slim Republican majorities in Congress would be made bigger.

On the other hand, say the Democratic schemers in launching their trial balloon, if Eisenhower ran as a Democrat, he could unite the Northern and Southern factions of the party. He could also carry along enough of the Democratic candidates for Congress to upset the present Republican majorities.

The last great "what-is-it?" in Presidential politics was Herbert Hoover. He emerged from World War I as a great independent, non-partisan administrator of food and relief programs under Democratic President Woodrow Wilson.

Hoover himself decided he was a Republican, and so announced. As a great general and a non-partisan administrator under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, Eisenhower's in a position similar to Hoover's.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By RAY TUCKER
RAPID CITY, S. D., Oct. 30.—Speaker Joseph W. Martin's skepticism toward a four-year, $20,000,000 Marshall Plan for aiding Europe has been strengthened by first-hand reports which he has received from Republican members of the 19-man Herter committee which he sent abroad to check up on the Truman-Marshall findings.

Even while vacationing in the Black Hills of South Dakota, bringing along two buffaloes, shooting pheasants, and serving as a jurymen in a reenactment of the famous Black Hills melodrama "The Trial of Jack McCall," Speaker Martin has kept in touch with Washington, especially with respect to European and foreign problems.

WASTED From the reports he has received from Herter Committee members, Speaker Martin is convinced that American money is being wasted overseas. He will shoot across the basis of these advices, to a four-year appropriation along the lines of the Truman-Marshall program.

"We do not appropriate for our own government for more than a one-year period," Speaker Martin told the writer at Rapid City. "We restrict our appropriations to that short period so that we can make an annual survey and learn how they have spent the money we gave them."

It seems to me that we should be even more careful and scrupulous in advancing money to foreign governments. Let's give them two or three billion dollars for the first year and see how they handle that amount in promoting European recovery. Then, we will have a guide for the future."

SYMPATHETIC Speaker Martin, who will control House action on proposed loans or gifts to Europe, was never too sympathetic to the so-called Marshall Plan. It was he who insisted that an independent fact-finding body, consisting of House members, go abroad to have a first-hand look-see at Europe.

The preliminary reports he has received are not too hopeful. In fact, he is one of the most able and useful members of the Herter Committee was Rep. Francis Case of South Dakota, who has been Speaker Martin's political host in the Black Hills. It is presumed of the Soviet.

Yet in the face of this belief, there is the Soviet agreement with the UN decision. The UN agreement is particularly welcome since there is good reason to believe that the violent opposition to partition is pretty well confined to the top levels of the Arab League. Those who have been in Palestine report that there is no serious bad feeling between the Arab and Jewish peoples, though both have taken turns at fighting the British.

Because we are far from the scene, it is difficult for Americans to appraise the decision. Actually, whether it was a wise and proper decision or not will depend on whether it was made on the basis of justice or on the basis of expediency.

If the decision was made on the basis of justice and right and in the best interests of all, then we can hope that the future will bring a semblance of peace and rest to this strife-ridden area.

There may be a political angle to Congressional Republicanism to give a hard look at the so-called Marshall Plan. In the meantime, Speaker Martin understands, came in first.

Because of this and similar reasons, Speaker Martin and Congressmen Case have asked Secretary Marshall to give them a list of all American Military Government officials who are paid more than $2,700 a year.

POLITICAL Speaker Martin is willing to help Europe, as he has told his audiences in the West. But he will not stand for a waste of the American people's money, even in a humanitarian cause.

There may be a political angle to Congressional Republicanism to give a hard look at the so-called Marshall Plan. In the meantime, Speaker Martin understands, came in first.

There is of course one great hitch in this political pipe-dream. Harry Truman would have to be persuaded to step aside. As a result, a few young Democrats in the New Deal persuasion here in Washington have been toying with the idea of trying to persuade General Ike to declare himself a Democrat.

All this politicking is, of course, done without the knowledge or consent of General Eisenhower. An attempt on the part of a few young Democrats to see Eisenhower boom offers the best opportunity to ditch the man now in the White House.

The idea that Eisenhower could refuse a further call to public service is bunk. When a man has served his country as long and as faithfully as either Marshall or Eisenhower, he is entitled to retire to his farm or the comparative obscurity of being a college president.

But somehow the General has not thus far been able to say "No!" Until he does, friends and admirers, and would-be President-makers will have to be patient if they go on assuming that General Ike, like Barkis, is willing.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

"A Decent Respect for the Opinions of Mankind"

There are few phrases in the Declaration of Independence that have more real meaning than the phrase "a decent respect for the opinions of mankind." America was founded on frankness and declaring publicly what our principles were. But in America now seem to be losing that respect for the opinions of mankind.

It will be remembered that this great document, the Declaration of Independence, said "when it becomes necessary to separate from the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation."

No sound government or sound life or collective activity can be of much value, can merit much respect unless the backers of the government, the individuals are willing to set down the reasons for their actions. Unless they are willing to explain how their acts are in harmony with the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God, they are not setting an example that can lead to peace and prosperity.

Hitler had an iron curtain, also. Every dictator, every socialist, every executive of education has an iron curtain—they do not have a "decent respect for the opinions of mankind."

And in this country, those people who are either approving of or a part of any governmental action and will not answer questions and explain their reasons for their actions do not have a "decent respect for the opinions of mankind."

This is probably the reason the superintendent of schools in any town in which sister newspapers of this publication are published will not for $500 attempt to explain how compulsory education can be in accordance with the Ten Commandments. These superintendents do not have a decent respect for other people's opinions.

They have the power of the majority and they are using the fruits of this compulsion and they thus do not propose to lose this power by having their violations of God's or Nature's laws exposed.

And of course the only reason that they may not have a decent respect for the opinions of others is that his own opinions are in disagreement with the great moral laws that he professes publicly to endorse.

What this country needs and what every country needs is for the people to have a decent respect for the opinions of others and no man who will not answer questions about what he is advocating or doing has a decent respect for the opinions of mankind. He seems to think he is over and above other people; that he can have power and authority and need not explain how might and right are one and the same. He should explain this because he is using might to be the same as right.

And the growth of this belief will put America into the same position in which London is today. And if the policy of not having a decent respect for the opinions of others is instilled into the minds of the youth in public educational institutions, as it is bound to be, we will eventually have the kind of government Russia has.

publicans' present-day political books, it is quite possible that the Secretary of State may be President Truman's running-mate next year. It would, as every formidable state.

So, if the Republicans can discredit or diminish the Marshall Plan, they think that they may weaken the appeal of a Truman-Marshall ticket in 1948.

WORRIED The Republicans, incidentally, are definitely worried over the prospect of a Truman-Marshall team-up. From their tours of the West, G.O.P. bosses like Speaker Martin and Senate Leader Taft have discovered that Mr. Truman is extremely popular with all classes of people. He is what the West calls "folksy."

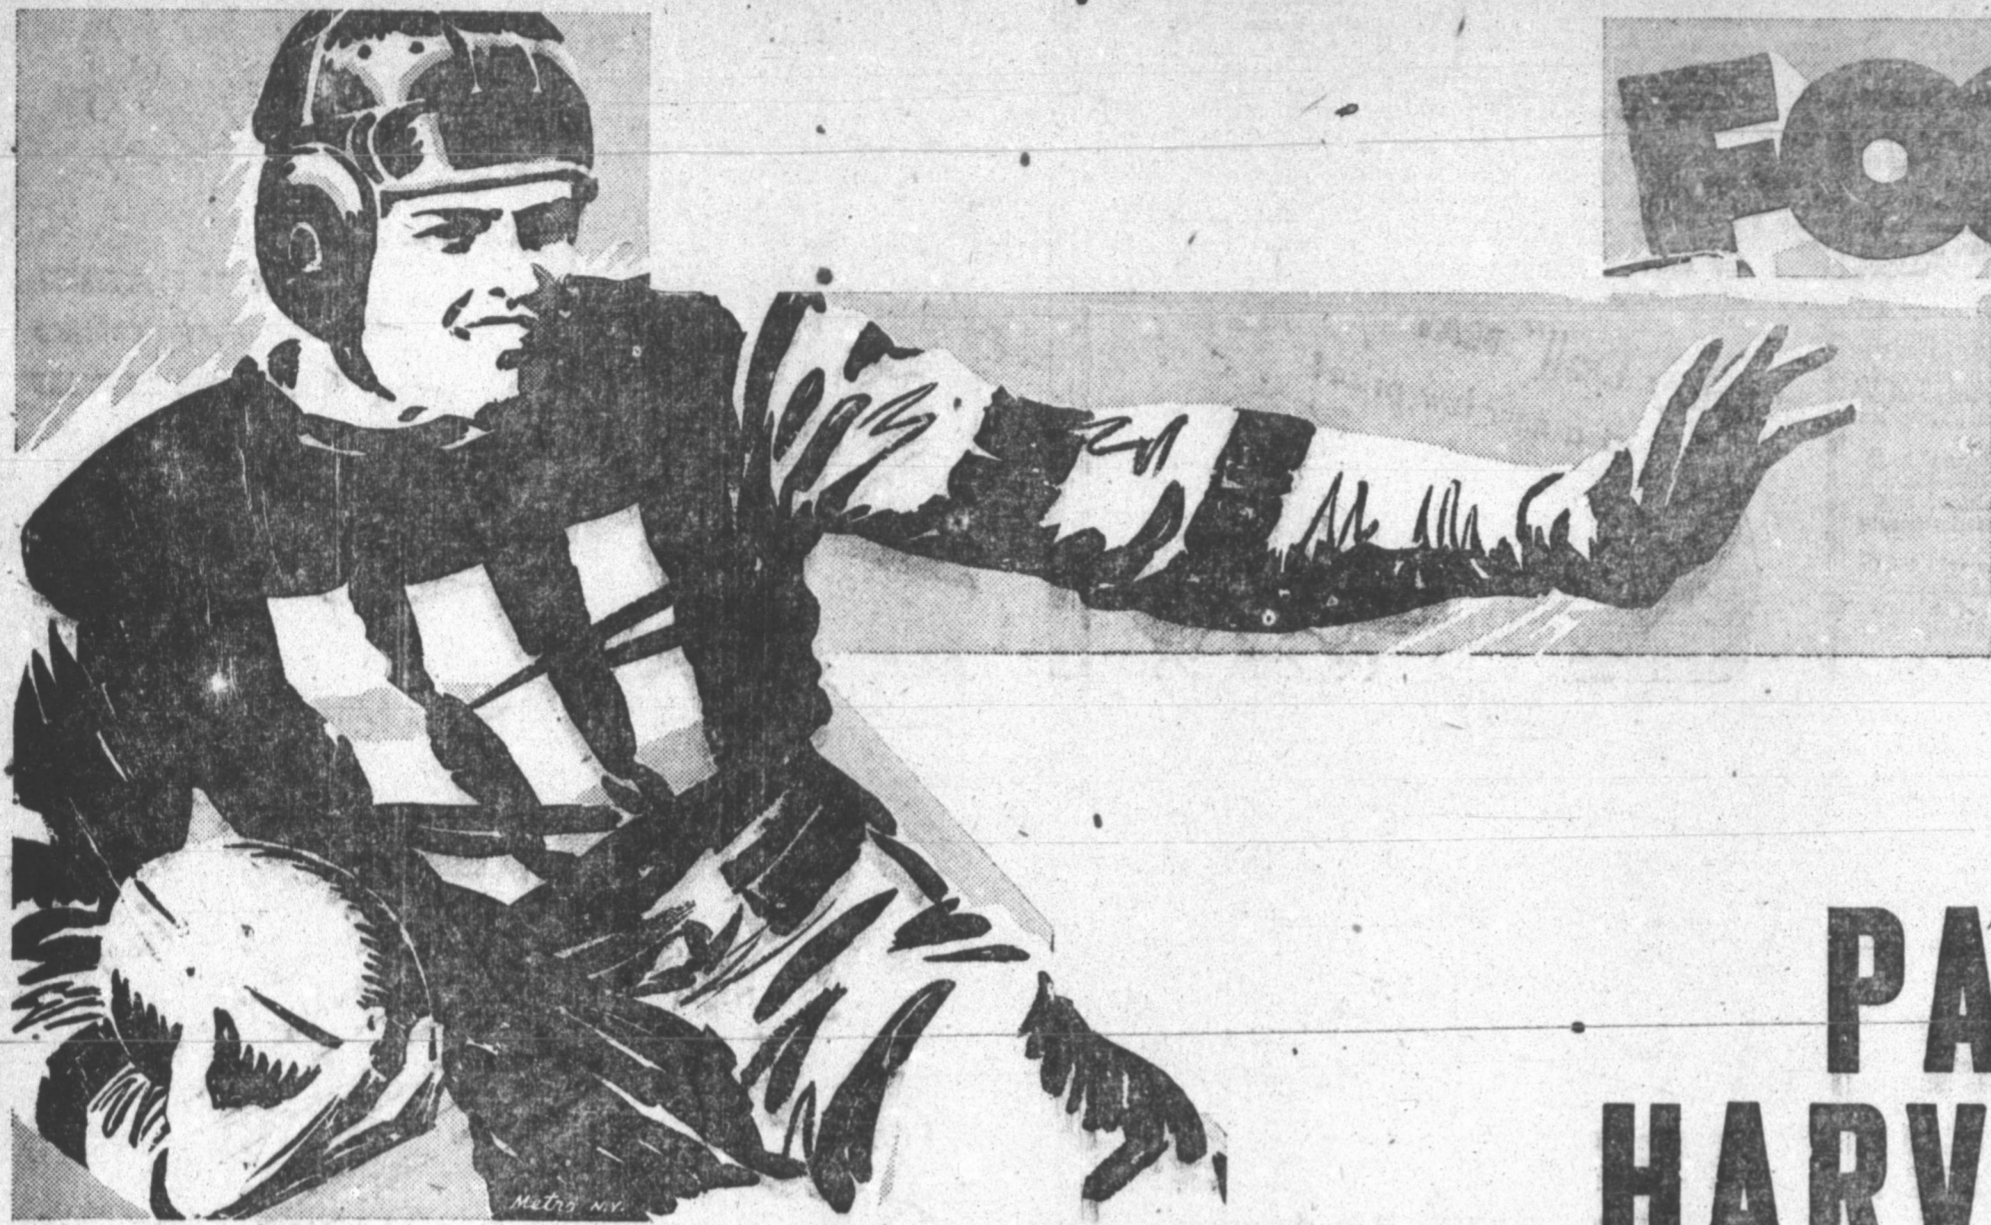

Should he insist that Pennsylvania-born and Virginia-educated George Catlett Marshall trot along as his sidekick, the Grand Old Party would be up against a tough task. It may have to nominate "Ike" Eisenhower—or "Doug" MacArthur.

Within the next few years—a decade perhaps—we should be in a position to unlock new knowledge about life and matter so great that wholly new concepts of human life will follow in the wake of this new knowledge.

—David E. Lilienthal, chairman, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

If the inflationary processes are stopped, can see no important recession for many years. Eugene Grace, chairman, Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Short Program Given At Weekly Rotary Meet

Relaxing after last week's hectic meeting with the "furriners," members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday held an almost programless meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.

The short program was under direction of Virgil Mott and consisted mostly of group singing. A short appreciation talk was given by retiring Junior Rotarian Richard Scholz who also introduced the club's guests.

The Rev. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, spoke briefly on the Girl Scout drive for operating funds.

It was announced by Ray Evans, president, that the annual Rotary Ann's banquet will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Palm Room, City Hall.

Four names of prospective members were read for membership in the Rotary Club. The president also announced the Pampa Rotary stood second in the district for September attendance. The club was beaten out by another that had four perfect attendance weeks.

Britain Signs New Tariff Compacts

LONDON—(AP)—Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, announced today that Britain has negotiated tariff agreements with 15 nations, including the United States.

Details of the new trade pacts, he told the Commons, will be published simultaneously in the various countries in about three weeks.

"We have been particularly concerned to secure reductions in the tariffs of other countries, including the United States, which would provide an immediate opportunity of increasing our dollar exports," Wilson said.

He declared the United States had made concessions in return for reductions in British tariffs and for reduction or elimination of imperial preferences.

He said Britain had agreed to the reductions "only in return for concessions which we consider equivalent in terms of the trade thereby opened up to us."

The new trade pacts will be included in a final act of agreement at the Geneva Trade Conference tomorrow, Wilson disclosed, adding:

"We have given special attention to the need for the easier access of colonial products to the United States market."

Wilson said:

"I hope our exporters will do all they can to supply the markets in the Western states of the United States." He said there was a "large satisfied demand" in the West and Middle West for "high quality consumer goods, clothing, textiles and so on."

Mrs. Nella Franklin of Decatur is up to her neck in stitches, says Bill Rives of The Dallas News. She's busy supervising the manufacture of 600 garments a day, and says to heck with the little below the knee squabble.

"Thank the Lord we don't have to worry about the length of dresses," she said. "We make garments for girls from three to twelve years old, and their clothes are always above the knee."

The Decatur plant is busy, with 58 women bending over sewing machines, using 23,200 yards of thread per day.

They don't worry about style changes, either. There are few basic alterations of style for the young ladies. There's no premium on exclusiveness since June, the staff has turned out 6,498 dresses from a single pattern.

The employees of Mrs. Franklin's plant live in small towns around Decatur and come to work by bus. One lone man is employed—Frank Nemec, maintenance man. He succeeds an elderly man who got caught on a whirling shaft under a battery of machines.

"He leaped over the shaft to slip a fan belt in place and the shaft caught his clothing. I had to scissor him loose," Mrs. Franklin said. "Poor guy. It popped all the buttons off his long underwear."

Mrs. Franklin has been sewing for over 20 years. Even her hobby is sewing. She makes clothes for relatives and friends. She makes her husband's shirts.

As to her women employees, she says those who can't sew a lick make the best operators. They may be awkward at first, but they catch on.

"A woman doesn't make a good operator until she's sewn her finger."

Some, however, are victims of sewing machine fright. They freeze to the treadle and, "first thing I know, they're sewing all over the place. They're so petrified they can't even turn the machine off."

Mrs. Franklin hopes that Paris leaves girls' styles alone. She's doing all right, the way things are now.
