

MARSHALL ASKS $597,000,000 IN STOPGAP FUNDS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall asked Congress today to provide $597,000,000 for emergency aid in Europe until March 31. He estimated an additional $750,000,000 would be needed in the 15 months starting then.

Eventually, Marshall told a joint meeting of the Senate and House Foreign Committees long range European recovery costs will range between $13,000,000,000 and $20,000,000,000.

group had placed the cost of the five-year, self-help program at $12,000,000,000 to $17,000,000,000. However, Marshall said it is impossible to compute the amount with accuracy at the present time.

Marshall said a definite proposal for China is being prepared for early submission. And, he said, the United States and all other world powers recognize the National Government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as the 'sole legal government of China.'

Marshall has refused to make public a report by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who went to China last summer to make a spot survey of conditions for Mr. Truman.

Marshall's original statement made no reference to additional funds to pay occupation costs in Germany, Japan and Korea. He expanded his prepared text later however, to say he understood the Army will ask Congress to supply about $500,000,000 for that purpose through next June 30.

The 16 Western European countries participating in the long range recovery program asked $3,000,000,000 for currency stabilization purposes but did not include it in the $2,440,000,000 of outside aid they proposed in the report prepared at their Paris conference.

With Europe dependent on American help to get back on her feet, Marshall told the legislators in a statement that decisions in the forthcoming special session "will be no less important for the future of our country and the world than those of the war years."

LaFollette Is Being Suggested As Program Head

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The name of Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., figured prominently in speculation today as the possible director of this country's projected multi-billion dollar European Aid Program.

Long before there can be any choice of personalities, however, it must be decided whether the so-called Marshall Plan is to be carried out by a new independent agency as pictured by President Truman's Citizens Committee on United Front Control of the State Department.

In favoring the new agency approach, the 19-man committee headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman proposed that the director and board chairman be given vast powers and responsibilities.

He would have the decisive voice on vital day-to-day decisions on the use of dollars, food and goods as weapons against Communist expansion—the "cold war" which the committee denounced as a ruthless "drive to achieve world domination."

For a first-year starter the Harriman group said this country should plan to spend $500,000,000 in 1948, increasing to $1,000,000,000 in 1949 and $1,500,000,000 in 1950.

Anything less than this "definite sacrifice," the committee said in a 132,000-word report made public over the weekend, might starve the program into a wasteful operation and cause it to degenerate into "costly relief."

The committee also, however, scale down the probable cost of the four-year self-help program envisaged by Secretary of State Marshall to between $12,000,000,000 and $17,000,000,000. Previous estimates had ranged up to $20,000,000,000.

LaFollette, former Wisconsin senator, served as chairman of two Harriman sub-committees, one on the administration of foreign aid and the other on drafting its final report to President Truman.

Pampa Complies With Requirement

State School Superintendent L. A. Woods will report to the State Board of Education today that Pampa has been added to the list of schools complying with the minimum salary law, according to an Associated Press story.

Supt. Knox Kinard said late this morning he had been notified of the approval by the state board. He said the salaries of seven teachers had been $30 to $35 below the minimum requirement in some special cases, while the majority of salary ranges in the Pampa system were considerably above the state system.

The Associated Press story continued that Big Spring, Canyon, Yukon, Eagle Pass, Bryan and Miami have also been added to the list of schools complying with the minimum salary law, while 30 Texas schools still have salary schedules he considers "unsatisfactory."

10 Texans Meet Violent Deaths During Weekend

By The Associated Press

Texas' weekend violent death toll was at least ten. Two persons died in shootings, a child smothered, a man drowned, three died from fire, one died of knife wounds and two in traffic accidents.

Mrs. Irene Gum, 49, a passenger in an automobile, was killed in a train-auto collision in Dallas Sunday night.

Lawrence H. Teeple, 22, of Jacksonville, Fla., a student at Texas A and M College, died of injuries received when his automobile overturned Sunday in Dallas.

Dorothy Mae Guidry, three, was fatally burned and three others injured severely by fire following an oil stove explosion in a tenant house on a dairy farm near Orange Sunday afternoon.

Pvt. Justo Garza, 25 of Laredo, Fort Worth Army Air Field soldier, died Sunday of knife wounds on the head, throat and stomach in Fort Worth.

John H. Calvery, 75, of Dallas died Saturday in a fire which swept the apartment house in which he lived at Dallas.

Susan Lee Branch, six-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Branch of Dallas, suffocated early Saturday when her head became entangled with her bed clothes.

George Montgomery, 64, died Saturday night in an explosion and fire at his living quarters in Granger, Tex.

Jim Casias, 29, was killed instantly near San Antonio late Saturday night when he was struck by a bullet fired from outside a kitchen window. Deputy sheriffs held a 23-year-old woman in the county jail.

Former Pampa Injured in Fall

Mrs. Hazel Biggs, of Texhoma, sister of Paul Crossman, remained in a critical condition in a private clinic in Amarillo following a 10-foot fall from a step ladder yesterday.

Mrs. Biggs, her brother reported, was cleaning a window of her apartment in Texhoma, when the ladder gave way throwing her to a concrete pavement 10 feet below. The woman landed on her back and head causing a severe concussion of the brain.

She was taken to a nearby physician and later taken to Amarillo where more facilities were available for attending to her. Mrs. Biggs formerly lived in Pampa.

City Commission Meeting Postponed

The regular meeting of the City Commission scheduled for 10 a. m. tomorrow has been postponed in observance of Armistice Day, City Manager Steve Matthews said this morning.

Tentative date for the weekly meeting of the commission is Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Board of Review Will Meet Tonight

The Gray District Boy Scout Board of Review will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Boy Scout office in the City Hall.

H. A. Yoder and B. R. Nichols will be in charge of the review.

Services Tomorrow For Lefors Doctor

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the First Baptist Church in Lefors for Dr. G. W. Harkins, 86, long time doctor, who died early Sunday morning. He had been a resident of Lefors for the past 19 years.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, George of Lefors, C. C. of Albuquerque, and E. W. of Norman, Okla.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. Ben Belts and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Economy of Greece Shows No Upswing

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman told Congress today that "Greece is still free" because of American aid but her economic plight "has not basically improved" and the military picture is worse.

That is the way Mr. Truman sized things up as of Sept. 30, four months after Congress set up a $400,000,000 fund to help Greece and Turkey combat Communist pressure from inside and outside their borders.

The President expressed "grave concern" that "underlying causes of economic and political unrest still exist in Greece."

But in his first report to Congress on how the aid money is being used, the nearest thing to a hint that more might be asked was a statement that "the difficulties which hamper the success of this program must be overcome. Continuation of Greece without real progress toward recovery, will provide fertile ground for totalitarian ideologies."

The Presidential report showed that up to Sept. 30 only $17,460,171 of Greece's $300,000,000 and $1,549,000 of Turkey's $100,000,000 actually had been spent with $150,182 used for administrative expenses. However, $154,665,000 had been made available to the various agencies carrying out the Greek program and $20,012,000 to be spent for Turkey.

The report listed numerous "unfavorable developments" which have beset the aid programs but said that in Greece "there is every reason to be optimistic about recovery; if order can be restored."

"If order is not restored," Mr. Truman said, "there can be no recovery."

As for the military situation, the President said the Greek government had hoped a summer campaign would wipe out Guerrilla bands.

"However," he added, "the continued support of the Guerrillas by Greece's northern neighbors (Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Albania) and the diversion of Greek troops from large-scale offensive warfare to the static defense of villages resulted in an over-all worsening of the military situation."

So, he said, at the urgent request of the Greek government, the American aid mission shifted to military program some money originally allotted to reconstruction and recovery. Originally, $300,000 was split about equally between the two programs. Now, the report shows, the military end will get around $185,000,000.

"If Greece is to survive as a free and independent nation," Mr. Truman said, "it must preserve its unity and integrity."

Loan Sought by Air Procurement Chief Comes to Light in Probe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Howard Hughes testified today that Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers tried to borrow $200,000 from him during the war when Meyers was negotiating a multi-million-dollar plane contract with Hughes.

Hughes told the Senate War Investigating Committee that he turned Meyers down.

"This resulted in a complete breach of friendship between me and Benny Meyers, and so far I know he didn't speak to me again for two years," the lanky plane builder added.

Meyers, testifying to the committee last week denied an earlier assertion by a Hughes attorney that he (Meyers) once tried to borrow $50,000 from Hughes.

The committee is inquiring into circumstances of $40,000,000 in plane contracts awarded to Hughes.

"When I finally arrived in Peiping, I was turned down the loan proposition," Hughes said. "I thought General Meyers was going to find some way to throw a monkey wrench into that F-11 (photo reconnaissance) plane contract if it was the last thing he ever did."

But Hughes added that Meyers apparently went ahead and approved the contract anyway.

Meyers, now retired, was deputy chief of air force procurement during the war.

Hughes' relations with Meyers came up after the plane manufacturer had testified earlier that he decided to give publicity man John W. Meyer a free hand to spend on wartime entertaining of Army officers because he could not get plane contracts by "doing business in a straight-laced manner."

No planes were delivered under Hughes' contracts before the war's end. Hughes contends that was because he was not given priority to obtain materials and manpower.

Hughes said that when he decided to spend on entertainment or Army officers he was only doing a practice other plane manufacturers were following.

Communists Lose 10,000 Troops in Rail City Attack

PEIPING—(AP)—Fighting on a scale unparalleled since the bitter siege of Szejingkai early this year raged today at Shihkiachwang, 170 miles southwest of Peiping, and 100,000 Chinese Communists arrayed against the rail city.

Frontline dispatches reported 10,000 of the attackers were casualties in the initial fighting in which government planes were used in unprecedented strength on orders of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

In Manchuria, meanwhile, government dispatches told of 7,000 Communists killed and 1,000 captured in a "great victory" near Changju, 63 miles north of Mukden. More conservative accounts placed the Communist dead at 4,000 and the captured at 500.

The government air force, ordered by the Generalissimo to give full support to Shihkiachwang's defenders, flew 450 sorties yesterday and today, leaving Communist troops concentrated and strong-points disrupted and Red-occupied villages ablaze.

Air power was reported to have caused two-thirds of the 10,000 casualties about the rail junction city. The air force was using B-24s, B-29s and P-40s in possibly the most concentrated mustering of air power yet seen in this torn country's civil war.

With the Reds striking in almost unprecedented strength, however, the government's position at Shihkiachwang still was precarious. Every man within the city was put to work building defense works.

Panhandle Pioneer Succumbs at Lubbock

LUBBOCK—Joseph W. Fortenberry, 86, pioneer Texan and livestock farmer who retired and moved here six years ago from near Pampa, died in a hospital here early today. He had been in ill health since the death of his wife in 1944 but in the hospital only since last Wednesday.

Funeral to be held here Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, where a son, Albert Fortenberry, has been chairman of the Board of Deacons for thirteen years. Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be here beside the grave of his wife. Mr. Fortenberry came to West Texas from Hunt County 28 years ago.

Four sons and two daughters, including Mrs. E. G. Nelson of Pampa, survive, along with one sister, four brothers, eleven grand children and eleven great-grand children.

Wartime Dictator of Siam Directs Bloodless Coup; New Council Named

BANGKOK—(AP)—Luang Aphaiwong was appointed Premier of Siam today, a five member Privy Council was named to head the government following a bloodless coup yesterday directed by wartime Dictator Phibul Songgram.

The new Privy Council replaces the Regency for King Phumiphon, who attains his majority next month. The monarch, who is now in Switzerland, is expected to return to Siam next month.

The Privy Council immediately promulgated a new constitution reviving some of the monarchial powers relinquished in 1932. Under the new constitution Siam's Legislature will continue as a two-chamber body, but the members of the Senate will henceforth be appointed by the King instead of being elected.

Aphaiwong served as Premier on two previous occasions. He headed the government briefly in 1944 when Songgram was ousted because of public opposition to an ultra-nationalist program.

He was again made Premier early in 1946, but his regime was defeated after a brief stay in office.

The Privy Council includes Royal Prince Chaimat, former regency president; Phya Manavert Sevi, former regent and speaker of the old national assembly; Police Gen. Adul Detcheras Lt. Gen. Momchao Alongsok and Phra Pasart Bhiayudh.

Songgram, who said he had directed the coup "to save his country from ruin," apparently does not contemplate serving in the new government. The United States and British governments—major factors in Siam's foreign relations and international trade—are known to regard unfavorably Songgram's collaboration with the Japanese and his former regime's declaration of war against the Allies.

The new constitution, which was formally promulgated today, was seen WARTIME, Page 6

First Aid Course Begins Tonight

Robert Lucey, first aid and water safety instructor from the St. Louis office of the American Red Cross, will begin a 16-hour free course in first aid in the Municipal Courtroom, City Hall at 7 tonight.

This is a finish course for advance students in first aid, and follows the completion of the preceding course a few weeks ago. Hours and dates of the classes may be worked out to the convenience of those taking the course, it was announced at the local Red Cross office.

Driver Leaves Scene Of Two-Car Collision

City police over the weekend and today, were searching for the unidentified driver of a 1932 Pontiac sedan who ran away after he collided with the 1939 Buick of Walter Spoonmore, 821 S. Gray late Saturday night.

Police reported that Spoonmore was traveling south on Barnes when the California licensed Pontiac came alone in the opposite direction. Approximately $600 damage was inflicted on the Buick and about $250 to the Pontiac.

Spoonmore told police the driver of the California car jumped out, after the crash, and ran away on foot. No trace of him had been found yet. Today police were still making an inter-state check to learn if the Pontiac was listed as stolen.

Health Department Means Business on Nuisance Complaints

The City Health Department today was readying itself for making good its October 17 threat of filing nuisance complaints against persons keeping hogs and pigs inside the city limits.

On October 17 the department publicly announced it was giving those persons keeping swine in the city one month to move them somewhere outside the city.

"We mean business," Health Inspector Ray Salmon said this morning as he meaningfully deposited blank complaint forms in a desk drawer.

The inspector added that only a few people had moved their swine outside the city since October 17.

Salmon added, "The deadline is only one week from today and nuisance complaints will be filed against those persons who have not moved their hogs outside the city."

3 Excused, 3 Fined In Corporation Court

Judge Clifford Braly in Corporation Court Sunday morning excused one speeding charge, excused another for running through a stop sign and excused still another for parking in an alley. One speeder was fined $5. No other cases were heard.

Amarillo Man Elected Head Of Plains AAU

Bo Graham, prominent Amarillo athletic figure, was elected president of the Plains Commission of the Amateur Athletic Union for the next year at the commission's annual business meeting held at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo, yesterday.

O. R. Kiphart, of Borger, was elected vice president and Earl Sweeney of Amarillo, was elected secretary-treasurer. Retiring officers are Bill Fierk of Amarillo, president; Bob Clark, Odessa, vice president; and R. P. Carter, secretary-treasurer.

Jim Arndt of Pampa, Morris Quigley of Childress, E. H. Quattlieb of Amarillo, and Elmer J. Moore of Shamrock were appointed to the executive board of the commission.

Schools, civic organizations, and firms engaged in the sponsorship of amateur athletics on a non-commercial basis are eligible for membership in the association. The Plains Commission includes 38 counties of the Texas Plains area.

At the meeting representing Pampa were Jim Arndt, manager of the Plains Finance Co., and Bill Behrman of the Pampa News. Immediately following the meeting of the regional Golden Glove Association was held and Pampa was awarded the right to hold district Golden Glove fights with the winners to fight in the regional championship bouts in Amarillo, January 27-31. The Pampa tournament will be held at least one week before the regional bouts in Amarillo.

Two of Four Texas Conference Leaders To Collide This Week

The Texas Conference's congested first place is due for some relief this week.

Two of the four leaders collide in the card's top game and the other two have conference tilts.

Abilene Christian and Austin play the feature tilt this week, with the other two leaders, McMurry and Hardin, playing Howard Payne and Southwestern respectively.

With the season practically over, the team that bows this week can be counted out of the title running.

V. F. Smith of Abilene Christian boosted his individual scoring lead to 36 points last week, ten better than Joe Titwell of Hardin.

Harvester-Golden Sandie Duel Feature of Week's I-AA Battles

Saturday First Time Doak Not Rated Top Man

DALLAS — (AP) — Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's 166 pounds of football gold, was feeling a little puny Saturday as he played only 64 minutes against Texas A. & M.

It was the first game this season in which Walker wasn't the top performer although he obviously was doing a job to suit SMU coaches or they wouldn't have left him in there all except six minutes out of the contest mean while.

Then it was learned that the durable Knot of the Hilltop had finally been slowed down with an injury; also, that a severe cold had handicapped him. Both had been kept a dark secret until after the game.

But there was a consolation in Walker breaking his record of having never before been even slightly incapacitated for a game; it showed that all this stuff about Southern Methodist being a one-close script of a stadium crowd.

Walker wouldn't stand up under close scrutiny of a stadium crowd. Gilbert Johnson, that passin' man who had been teaming with Walker to wrap up SMU victories, stepped in and was as big a sensation as Walker ever has been.

He completed an unbelievable 14 passes out of 16 for 152 yards and two touchdowns.

And then there was Paul Page, one of the hardest runners in the Southwest Conference.

Doak is "Okay-Doke" now and will be at full strength when Southern Methodist meets Arkansas here Saturday.

North Texas State Leads Lone Star Conf.

By The Associated Press
If you could see anything—and they probably do in this case—North Texas State has the Lone Star Conference football championship in the bag for another year.

East Texas State was knocked from the unbeaten ranks last week by Southwest Texas State 20-7 and Southwest Texas State was the team North Texas licked 27-7.

The championship race has three weeks to go but the show-down will be next week when North Texas plays East Texas at Commerce.

This week North Texas plays University of Houston while East Texas meets Trinity at Commerce.

Trinity was knocked out of the title contention when North Texas State strapped the Tigers 33-7. Southwest Texas plays Sam Houston State at Sam Marcos Saturday night. Stephen F. Austin the other conference member, clashes with unbeaten Texas A. & I. and independent, at Kingsville.

Jim Batchelor of East Texas State is the top scorer of the conference to date, having rolled up 42 points.

Wendell Second to Win Irish Letters At Three Positions

WENDALL DAME, (NEA)—Marty Wendell is to become the second football man in Notre Dame history to win three monograms in as many positions. The Chicago lad earned a letter at fullback in 1944, at center in '46 and is playing right guard this fall. The only other player to perform this task is backfield coach Bernie Crummins. He won monograms at right halfback, fullback and right guard in '39-40-41.

Wendell is to wash a teacup sufficiently free from grease to satisfy a scientist's call for a teacup—and may require as long as an hour.

Blair Cherry's top linemen are a composite example of the shrewd teacher's ability to spot latent talents. End Dale Schwartzkopf was a back when he matriculated. Tackles Ed Kelley and Harris were centers. Guard Magliolo was a blocking back. Tackles George Petrovich and big and fleet Charlie Talom were ends.

Knowing his men in many respects more important to a coach than his formations.

Texas Baptists Meet In Amarillo Tonight

SHAMROCK (Special)—Several members of the Baptist Church will be among the 6,000 Texas Baptists who will attend the Texas General Convention at Amarillo, Nov. 11-13, to hear reports on denominational work of the past year and messages from outstanding ministers and laymen.

Members of the WMU and Brotherhood Association will attend meetings Monday night and Tuesday. Mrs. Murray Davis is president of the local WMU and Ben A. Skidmore is head of the Brotherhood.

Longhorn-TCU Clash SWC Game of Week

By The Associated Press
Southern Methodist University headed down the home stretch of the Southwest Conference today a double-threat combination.

Gilbert Johnson's remarkable exhibition against Texas A. & M. last week took the Mustangs out of the one-man team classification and added a passing attack as dangerous as the one they have on the ground.

The Mustangs don't figure in the feature game on this week's card, but they play host to down and out Arkansas at Dallas.

Texas and Texas Christian tie in the biggest game on the schedule, with Rice playing A. & M. at Houston and Baylor meeting Tulsa at Tulsa.

Johnson completed 14 of 16 passes to revive the Mustangs' famed "aerial circus" and Doak Walker, the sensational Southern Methodist star, played in the same backfield with his former understudy—at the blocking back slot.

Walker—who completed his only two attempted passes, and Johnson playing together, Coach Matty Bell fields his most potent scoring combination.

Survival in the conference race hinges on the Texas-TCU game. A victory for Texas would wipe out the Longhorns' lead in the conference, with the grudge it holds against the Frogs, dating back to 1941 when Dutch Meyer's crew scored one of many upsets.

Last year the Frogs were one of two teams to stop Texas, Rice being the other one.

Texas Christian will be underdog again this week.

Rice finally clicked dour Arkansas, 26-0. The Owls will be favored over Texas A. & M., which lost to SMU, 15-0.

Texas knocked off Baylor, 28-7, after a close first half and Texas Christian was idle last week to prepare for their meeting with the Longhorns.

Walker boosted one extra point to increase his total scoring for the season to 62 points, far ahead of Byron Gillory of Texas, who has 42.

In winning their seven straight games this year, the Mustangs have scored 126 points to the opposition's 52. Texas, in winning seven and losing one, has scored 213 against 54.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON
NEW YORK — (AP) — There's a story making the rounds about the football player who raced 60 or 70 yards through a broken field for the winning touchdown. A few days later his coach was reviewing films of the game and three times he stopped the projector to point out flaws in the lad's technique. "You should have cut to your right there," he'd say, or "You broke away from your blockers there." "Yes sir, coach," the kid responded as he watched his image cross the goal line. "But how was it for distance?" "We heard it told about Maryland's Lucien Gambino, but you can bet before long they'll be hanging it up on Terry Brennan and his 97 yard run against Army."

MONDAY MATINEE Tickets for the Louis-Walcott fight go on sale today and we'll see if there really are fans who have 30 bucks left. Note from Pete Cawthon, who isn't hampered by college affiliations now, says: "I was impressed by Texas and SMU and with Georgia Tech down the drain. However, the teams down this way are not, as a whole, up to pre-war standards." Jerry Thompson, little Texas runner, turned in a 4.20 mile and 9:35 two-miles recently in the course of winning a 2.7 mile cross country race.

OBSERVATION POST Off course betting will be discussed in a speech to the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, Inc., by Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission. It's about time they were realizing it's a crime when you "insure" your bet and the bookie still won't give you track odds.

Major Loop's Annual Draft Meeting Today

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Major League baseball unties the grab bag today and reaches into the sack for the top talent of the minors at the annual draft meeting supervised by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Comparatively few of the 3,000 "bushers" on the eligible list are expected to get a beckoning finger from the big loopers.

Last year only 20 were added to the major league rosters through the draft, 11 clubs paying $100,000 for the "inventory." Players claimed from triple-A clubs carry a $100,000 price tag, Double-A $75,000, Class A $50,000, Class B $25,000, Class C $12,500 and Class D $2,500.

Last-placers in the 1947 pennant chase get first pick, with the St. Louis Browns leading off and the Philadelphia Phillies second, and then the choices alternate upward through the standings. As soon as a club reaches the player limit of 40 it loses its right to make further selections "round and round" in the draft may not be assigned to a minor league club until after next April 1.

After all clubs have had a chance at selecting, the procedure starts over again at the bottom and continues "round and round" until everyone is satisfied.

Among the available talent are scores of former major league players who have faded back to the minors, but some had interesting attracting records last season. Brooklyn may lose one of its better mound prospects thrown on the open draft market due to a wealth of material. He's Dwain Sloat, southpaw who won 17 and lost nine for Fort Worth.

Gambino and Horn Lead Nation's Scorers

NEW YORK — (AP) — Lucien (Lu) Gambino of Maryland and Darwin Horn of Pepperdine scored three touchdowns apiece last Saturday to continue knotted today for the nation's collegiate football scoring lead with 84 points each.

Gambino gamboled against Duke for his scores in Maryland's 32-0 win, while Horn got his triple in a 47-0 rout of California Poly. Both have scored 14 touchdowns.

To Relieve Your Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils, and tastes fine. This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Miss Belva Fritts Weds Thos. Smith In Church Rites

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Miss Belva Lavelle Fritts of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fritts of Sannorwood, became the bride of Thomas E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith of Lubbock, Saturday, Nov. 1, at 6 p. m. in St. John's Methodist Church. Rev. Alvin H. Carlton performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon, gathered at the waist and embroidered at the neckline. Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged with lace. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and wore three white roses in her hair. For something old, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother; pearls were borrowed from Mrs. Neal Essary, friend of the bride; and something blue was a garment.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. James Meister of Dalhart, the matron of honor was gowned in pink organza with embroidered flowers and the wedding corsage sponsored by Classroom Teachers Association and Independent District.

Daria Gwen Meister and Judy Essary served as flower girls. L. J. Rice of Hart served the bridegroom as best man, and candies were lighted by Terry Essary and Cheryl Lemon.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlor. The mothers of the bride and groom assisted in receiving guests.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the Sannorwood High School and is a former bookkeeper for Pioneer Cookie Company of Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas the couple will be at home at 1206 Avenue W, Lubbock.

Council of Church Women of Pampa Back Up Program to Aid World Needy

In his talk before members of the Pampa Council of Church Women at the First Methodist Church last Friday, Dr. Douglas Nelson stated, "The world is our community and the world is our job." The organization met in observance of World Community Day.

Contributions of 126 shoe and school boxes and 51 clothing articles had been brought to the church to send to suffering children abroad. And a money offering of $102 increased the gift. The cash will be sent to buy milk and school lunches for children abroad.

This project of benevolence was carried on under the direction of the Social Relations Committee with Mrs. Oscar Huff, chairman, and Mrs. DeLea Vicars, Mrs. R. J. Epps, Mrs. A. D. Hill, Mrs. Clyde Carruth, Mrs. O. G. Smith, Mrs. Earl Scheig, and Mrs. N. English, members.

Mrs. H. H. Preston was in charge of the program. The Rev. Clyde Smith opened the meeting with a devotional using as his theme, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Mrs. Lloyd Smith sang "The Stranger of Galilee."

Women of the First Christian Church, in a panel discussion, explained the meaning and purpose of the UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization), the purpose of which is to contribute to peace and security among nations.

The panel was led by Mrs. Beauford Norris assisted by Mesdames S. T. Hightower, Morris Enlow, Ralph Puckett, O. W. Prewitz, Lester Mason, and Oscar Shearer.

A. L. Patrick told of the great need abroad as he witnessed it in his recent trip as a sea-going cowboy on a ship transporting cattle to Greece and Ethiopia.

Dr. Nelson described the stricken condition in effect in England and Scotland, as he experienced it during his visit there the past summer.

Mrs. Walter Purviance, president, was in charge of the business meeting at the close of the program, during which Mrs. Hightower was elected president, Mesdames Ward, secretary, and Mrs. Earl Scheig, treasurer, for the ensuing year.

All Circles of WMU Meet for Luncheon
 The Executive Board of the First Baptist Church WMU met at the church last Wednesday preceding a luncheon and program.

Mrs. E. L. Anderson was in charge of the business. Mrs. Cecil Collum was elected YWA counselor with Mrs. Johnny Volmert and Miss Grace Davis as assistants.

Circle 1 was in charge of the regular monthly mission program, with the devotionals and program being contributed by Mesdames O. A. Davis, Stanley Brant and T. V. Lane. The program emphasized Africa and Africans.

The meeting was attended by 96 ladies.

Groups See to Entertainment of Faculty Members, Parents, and Football Players

WHITE DEER—(Special)—ANNE'S BIRTH—Dorothy Dumas gave, Friday night, the Doe Club, the high school girls' letter club, sponsored by Mrs. Lloyd Wells, honored the members of the faculty and the parents of the football boys with a coffee in the home economics department.

J. P. Weatherall acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the guests. Present were Messrs and Mesdames E. W. Meadows, B. T. Ross, J. H. McMenimen, Ray West, Tom Hall, J. J. Broom, Tom Oates, Carl Smith, H. W. Buchanan, Doc Hartman, H. T. Dickens, A. E. Inel, T. A. Ingram, J. T. Crawford, B. E. Weeks, Fred Mullings, Emmitt Smith, and J. P. Weatherall; Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Olive Jordan; Misses Marguerite Clayton, Anita Couch, Claudia Everly, and Mary Green, and Mr. Wendell Cain.

While their parents were being entertained by the Doe Club, the Bucks and the visiting team from Dumas were being entertained in the cafeteria by the women of the Methodist Church.

At the game, beginning the observance of "Moms" and "Dads' nights" members of the band and pep squad escorted the parents of the football boys to special seats and presented them with corsages and boutonnieres of white chrysanthemums tied with blue ribbons.

Potatoes were used as money to pay night watchmen who guarded relief gardens at Cleveland, Ohio, in the summer of 1934.

COMPARE THE CARS OF THE "BIG 4"

OF THESE, ONLY KAISER-FRAZER BUILDS POSTWAR CARS!

Prove It Yourself—Inspect Them All!

Of the world's four largest automobile makers, only Kaiser-Frazer builds genuine postwar cars! The public wants the comfort, safety, styling, roominess and ride that only postwar engineering can achieve. It is this definite demand for something better that has made Kaiser-Frazer one of the "Big 4" in less than two short years. The Kaiser and the Frazer are so new, so different, so directly in line with popular preferences, that they are already the most widely-copied automobiles in the industry. So compare them all! You'll understand why Kaiser-Frazer has made such a spectacular success in so short a time!

Built in a 100%-Postwar Plant
 Willow Run is the only 100%-postwar automobile plant! It produces four 100%-postwar cars—the Kaiser, the Frazer, the Kaiser Custom and the Frazer Manhattan. Take your choice—in the price range that best fits your pocketbook. Whichever you select, you may be sure, it is a thoroughly modern automobile—embodying all of the vast technical improvements of the war years. These cars need no changes to bring them up-to-date! Think this over before you invest in personal-transportation you will want to use for years!

Economical Mass Production
 Kaiser-Frazer cars really have no competition. Many other cars sell in the same price range. But they are not postwar cars. Every product of Willow Run is the result of engineering and design progress made since 1941! And these cars are produced economically. Kaiser-Frazer has, in two years, installed at Willow Run the finest, most efficient, precision mass production equipment available in the world. Much of it was never available before! Many processes have been newly developed by men whose production genius is famous the world around. It was this equipment and this genius that enabled Kaiser-Frazer to break all industry records for its first full year of production—by building more than 125,000 fine automobiles—and selling every one of them!

Investigate Before You Buy!
 If you do not know the many important advantages of fully postwar automobiles, built in a fully postwar plant, read the important items in the box at the left! Here are definite, tangible advantages that mean something to every motor car owner. Then make up your mind to go to your nearest Kaiser-Frazer dealer and inspect and drive these cars before you buy any automobile. It's the only sensible thing to do!

'Will Dollars Save The World?'
(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of editorials based on Henry Hazlitt's remarkable and timely book 'Will Dollars Save the World,' published by the Foundation for Economic Education, Inc. It is suggested that readers who find themselves in agreement with Hazlitt's thesis communicate their views to their representatives at the special session of Congress.)

Because the nation's lawmakers soon will be assembling in special session in Congress to consider making additional monetary grants to Europe, Henry Hazlitt's book, 'Will Dollars Save the World?' is both timely and presented in such a manner as to eliminate confusion.

As a result of space limitations and lack of time to present his book in full before the special session on Nov. 17, we are going to bring to the readers of this paper the principal thoughts and reasons for those thoughts in this series.

The editorial that are to follow will present Hazlitt's logical and graphic single point—that the sending of United States dollars to Europe can only lead to more and more difficulties and can do nothing, in the long run, to assist either the United States or Europe.

The series will attempt to show, first of all, the negative side of the question: that is, the logical reasons why sending more dollars to Europe is not the answer to the problem. At the conclusion of the series Hazlitt's 12 positive points to the solution of Europe's problems will be reproduced in full.

Let us consider first of all this point:
'As the United States produces only 12 percent of the world's food supply, it is clear that America cannot feed the world whole.'

Hazlitt points out that the increase in our production of foods, while great, is 'happily inadequate to fill the gap left by the decline of European production.' It is obvious, then, that what is needed in solving the food problem is not a more widespread distribution of the shortages but to re-structure production.

- 1.—By Russian looting of foods.
2.—By the policies of the Allied occupation authorities in Germany.
3.—By Socialism and Communism.
4.—By 'agrarian reforms,' which seize land and break up farms.
5.—By export and import barriers.
6.—By exchange controls and by price-fixing which makes it unprofitable or impossible to grow, transport and sell food.

It is apparent that the small American food supply in relation to world demand must cause soaring food prices here in the effort to even moderately make up the food shortage in Europe.

As part of his illustration, Hazlitt points out that a majority of 'Dutch vegetable growers find their principal market (Germany) pointed out persistently, has driven a good many Germans into the Red camp, making others distrustful and hate us.'

Dr. Rhee's followers say: Give us a chance to elect representatives and set up a constitutional government; and a little time to establish a defense force — then go home and give us only good will, plus perhaps some purchasing credit. We don't need any occupation army. We can govern and defend ourselves.

MAY SET PACE
But Marshall holds out against an independent election in the U. S. zone. Recent State department announcements indicate that the United Nations supervising an election over all of Korea, to set up a unified government of both zones.

This is precisely what the South Koreans don't want for in such a deal Soviet Russia would control the representation, 'election' in the North, and would be impossible to deal with in the government.

'The State department is so out of touch with the true South Korean situation,' Richards quotes Rhee as charging, 'that something is necessary to remind Washington that the overwhelming majority of Koreans know any cooperation with the Soviets means complete loss of independence in the future.'

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

WASHINGTON — Secretary George C. Marshall's brusque, secretive and uncommunicative handling of high affairs of state has sparked a chorus of criticism against the soldier who achieved tremendous praise and popularity as wartime Chief of Staff.

Mr. Marshall has become the target of certain presidential aide members of Congress and the trained newspapermen assigned to the State Department. They point out that he did not hold a press conference from September tenth to November fifth and at neither session did he divulge any pertinent information. His meetings with the men on Capitol Hill have been equally sporadic.

During that period of self-imposed seclusion, he was engaged in formulation of the so-called Marshall Plan, now known as the European Recovery Plan, in framing a more definite policy toward Russia, in trying to arrange Korean settlement, and in seeking to straighten out the Chinese middle.

FAILURE — His failure to consult with members of Congress, as Cordell Hull and James E. Byrnes did, accounts for the growing opposition to several of his policies on Capitol Hill. Whatever modifications the House imposed (by the industrial paralysis imposed on Germany). On the side of supply, half the machines in Holland are of German make. But spare parts for them cannot under present conditions be obtained from Germany. The result is that when a single part is broken or worn out a whole machine becomes idle. The absence of a machine may in turn slow down a whole factory.

In both the American and British zones the Socialist and restrictionist policies imposed have reduced and disorganized production levels to an appalling extent. Even as recently revised, the 'level of industry' plan, which prevents various trades from turning out more than a small percentage of their regular output, not only destroys incentives, but imposes an arbitrary and impossible relationship of one industry to another, so that not even the low permitted levels of industry can be attained.

As the London Economist has put it: 'What is planned is actually a series of bottlenecks.'
'No less generalizing is the combination of a chaotic currency with legal prices and wages ridiculously below what a free market could bring. Add to this an artificial number of economic prohibitions and it is hardly surprising that incentives should be non-existent, that labor and materials should be misdirected, that nothing should be synchronized with anything else, and that production should be utterly demoralized.'

John Davenport summed it up by saying:
'The results (of attempted controls) are precisely what would be expected—a black market which is now the real market. The farmer certainly has no incentive to produce more food for sale. Better live as well as he can, better hoard as much as he can, and better avoid money like the plague.'

Hazlitt's second point, to be discussed in another editorial is: 'The need for outside help to restore Europe's capital structure has been greatly exaggerated. Its unneeded resources for creating its own capital are very great.'

Which is another way of saying what a lot of Americans have been trying to get the administration to see: That you can't do business with Stalin.
An independent election in South Korea would establish a solidly anti-Communist government, in striking contrast to the compromise and confused governments of European states where we early favored their having Communist representation. The Koreans know that Communists are not a home-grown political party, but rather the agents of an enemy state.

They think that by setting up their own South Korean anti-Communist government they can maintain freedom of action and when Russian troops withdraw from North Korea, the South can win over the North.

In the meantime, a South Korean government could so propagandize in the North against Russian aggressions, reviving the spirit of nationalism always considerable among people who maintained their independence for most of 4,000 years—that the Red army would be very unhappy about its occupation job.

Recent elections in France and Italy indicate that those countries are coming to the parting of the ways when they must set up strictly anti-Communist governments.

Maybe little Korea will set the pace.

On liberty

If there is anything the Axis can people need to know we about it is about what liberty means. We are coming to know less and less about liberty as we have more and more compulsory education. Of course it is impossible for the youth getting what little education they get from public educators to believe in liberty because public educators are denying liberty by their acts.

The magazine Plain Talk every month is going to summarize a great masterpiece. In the last issue of this magazine John Stuart Mill's essay 'On Liberty' was summarized. I want to quote a few statements made from this great masterpiece. I quote:
'The object of this Essay is to assert one very simple principle... That principle is that the sole end for which mankind are warranted, individually or collectively, in interfering with the liberty of action of any of their number, is self-protection. That the only purpose for which power can be rightfully exercised over any member of a civilized community, against his will, is to prevent him from injuring others. His own good either physical or moral, is not a sufficient warrant. He cannot rightfully be compelled to do or forbear because it will be better for him to do so, because it will make him happier, because, in the opinions of others, to do so would be wise, or even right.'

'These are good reasons for remonstrating with him, or reasoning with him, or persuading him, or entreating him, but not for compelling him, or visiting him with any evil, in case he do otherwise. To justify that, the conduct from which it is desired to deter him must be calculated to produce mischief to others. The only part of the conduct of anyone for which he is amenable to society, is that which concerns others. In that which merely concerns himself, his independence is of right, absolute. Over himself, over his own body and mind, the individual is sovereign.'

Now the believers in compulsory education have to deny and repudiate the above statements. They are initiating compulsion and force both to make people help support the majority's idea of good and to compel the helpless youth to be indoctrinated by these super-appointed majority rule dictators. It is little wonder that we know so little about the meaning of liberty when the youth is grabbed and taught by people who deny the very principle of good government and of liberty.

Mill continues by saying:
'There is a sphere of action in which the individual has no other than an indirect interest, comprising all that portion of a person's life and conduct which affects only himself, or, if it also affects others, only with their free, voluntary and unforced consent and participation. When I say indirect, I mean directly, and in the first instance, for whatever affects himself, may affect others through himself.'

'This, then is the appropriate region of human liberty. It comprises, first, the inward domain of consciousness; demanding liberty of conscience, in the most comprehensive sense; liberty of thought and feeling; absolute freedom of opinion and sentiment on all subjects, practical or speculative, scientific, moral, or theological.'

Note what John Stuart Mill says about freedom to write:
'We have much confusion in our midst by people claiming that every person has a right to join or not to join the city club. They do not want the club—the union is joining to help. He certainly has a right to join any organization that does not interfere with other people's equal rights. Listen to Mill:
'From this liberty of each individual, follows the liberty, within the same limits, of combination among individuals; freedom to unite, for any purpose not involving harm to the persons of others, the objects combining being supposed to be of full age and not forced or deceived.'

But every labor union tries to prevent some other workman below him from having an equal right to sell his services. Unions do this by the practice of seniority or of limiting apprentices or fines or exclusion from having an equal right to help establish values, by having an equal right to help sell the services to the world's highest bidder.

tion that 'an essential part of any successful action on the part of the United States is an understanding of the character of the problem and the remedies to be applied.'

Secretary Marshall's sideline critics advance these observations with the utmost reluctance, for they admire his intelligence and integrity. But they do wish that he would pattern himself after two of our great Secretaries of State, Charles Evans Hughes and Henry L. Stimson, who realized that they could not expect public understanding and support unless the public was kept fully informed.

Challenge To Love

By ETHEL HAMILL

THE STORY: On the opening day of college Camilla Austin, daughter of the Dean, is elated by the prospect of meeting Powell for not having written to him during the summer. He warns her that she will be grieving forever over Gary Marlowe, who was killed in the war, and she takes a shock. Here a fresh evidence that people still believe she was in love with Gary Marlowe.

IT had seemed so exciting when—three years ago—her father's institution of learning had swung over to its wartime role of basic training for navigators. Suddenly the campus had been heavily dotted with young men in uniform, replacing the young men in rumpled slacks and sweaters labeled with big block "C's" who just as suddenly had disappeared. Everyone had plunged with a patriotic frenzy into the job of seeing that these lads who presently would be flying over enemy territory took along with them the gayest possible memories.

Cam herself had been only a freshman then, swept away by the glamor of her first months in the Eta Mu sorority as though she had not been looking on at campus life from the very close sidelines ever since she could remember. The dinners, the picnics, the dances which everyone in Cartersville suddenly felt impelled to give as entertainment for the young warriors-to-be, had made a giddy background to days packed with unfamiliar activities—bandage-rolling, blood donations, bond-selling rallies. She had felt like a girl on a merry-go-round. The colors were blurred around her. But stability bright.

That was the way she had thought about Gary Marlowe three years ago. The very way of life had been so new, new, then. He had been, among the first class of navigators to appear.

They had gone canoeing on the river. They had barbecued steaks over the open-air grill in the Dean's garden. They had danced parties on the green grass of the Common. They had kissed in the moonlight on the shadowy steps of Carter's ivy-covered chapel, impulsive, almost frightened kisses, as if this were the end of Creation and they had to snatch at whatever youth they could as it rocketed past them into some lost and lonely chase.

She remembered, still all that. But—what had Gary Marlowe looked like?

DARK, she thought. Yes, dark. Gray eyes? Or hazel? Or green like her own? A deep cleft in his chin—or had that been Bill Mitchell, the next summer? Had that husky laugh which had climbed a scale as if it were tap-dancing up a flight of stairs belonged to Gary Marlowe? That Fred Wayne she was thinking of?

drafted by Sen. Pramot, former premier and ex-ambassador to the U. S.

Aphaiwongse is expected to announce his cabinet shortly. It is reliably reported that he already has agreed to appoint as minister of defense, Lt. Gen. Luang C'itra Nankrob, who aided in engineering the coup.

Public dissatisfaction over alleged corruption and rice hoarding under the regime of ousted Premier Phnomvong Nawaswat was said by coup leaders to be the reason for their action.

Decheras, who has been named to the Privy Council, commanded both the State Police and Siamese Army under Nawaswat. The latter was reported to have barely escaped when soldiers arrived to seize him while he was attending a dance.

First reports said Decheras also had refused to join in the coup and had fled Bangkok.

There was no news as to the whereabouts of former Premier Phnomvong, who led Siamese underground forces in support of the Allies during the war. Phnomvong's home was surrounded by soldiers when the coup took place, but his wife said he had left Bangkok.

While Premier in 1939 Songgram instituted stringent anti-foreign policies, including a state oil monopoly which forced American oil companies to abandon their distribution in Siam. The companies completed arrangements to resume operations only a few months ago.

GREECE

The President outlined "initial steps" that have been taken to bolster Turkey. The ultimate aim, as in the case of Greece, he said, is to help free peoples maintain a government in accordance with the wish of the majority.

In addition to Guerrilla warfare, Mr. Truman listed as adverse factors in Greece:

- A drought that has cut the cereal harvest a third.
- Rising prices in the United States and other countries which have lowered the buying power of Greek funds.
- Failure of exports to reach expected levels.
- Resistance of businessmen to invest funds in Greek enterprises under present unstable conditions.

"It can nevertheless be said," Mr. Truman declared, "that all of the necessary elements for Greek recovery are now present and can begin to be operative once internal order is established."

Former Chairman Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey and Vice Chairman Christian Herter of Massachusetts, who had been a Hoover relief aide after World War I. A group led by Representative Eugene J. Keogh of Brooklyn insisted that not a penny or assistance be given to a Russian satellite and that precautions be taken so that aid advanced to nations bordering on the "iron curtain" should not flow into the Soviet zone. There was no objection to this argument.

MARSHALL

all of the European nations have been left free to take their place in the community of which they form a natural part.

To the east of the line where Allied armies ended the war in Germany, the secretary said, is "the unmistakable imprint of an alien hand."

Consequently, Marshall said, the geographic scope of the recovery program contemplated by this country "is limited to those nations which are free to act in accordance with their national traditions and their own estimates of their national interests."

Of the $507,000,000 for emergency assistance, Marshall said France needs $328,000,000, Italy $227,000,000 and Austria $42,000,000 to carry them through March 1948.

By then, the secretary said, it is hoped Congress will have decided on the broad long range recovery plan bearing Marshall's name. This will be outlined in detail later, probably after Congress reconvenes Nov. 17.

Interim aid, Marshall said, would be concentrated largely on food, fuel, fiber, fibers, seeds and medical supplies.

The program can be handled by existing government agencies but should be carried out under definite agreements with each of the nations involved, Marshall said.

On the long range program, he said, it is contemplated that a definite amount will be negotiated with each participating country.

The secretary made it evident the administration regards the economic situation in non-Communist Italy as the most serious in Western Europe.

"Italy's financial situation," he said, "is even more serious than that of Austria or France."

For the period immediately following emergency help, Marshall said, it is estimated $87,500,000 will be required for the last three months of the fiscal year ending next June 30, and $5,000,000,000 for the full year beginning July 1.

The secretary's discussion of the nature and scope of the longer program, represented the first official administration comments on the views of 16 Western European countries.
