Downtown Stroller

As the Welcome Stranger Tea Met up with Mrs. ARCH CARSON a newcomer to town. She sure looked swell in a black suit with a white collar and a blue hat trimmed with a blue feather and veil. She should add to the beauty of the town.

New to me was Mrs. J. A. ENGLISH who until the luncheon was only a telephone acquaintance. She was doing honors with the coffee urn, so we kept seeing a lot of each other. She has brown hair and eyes and had on a beige suit.

She needs no introduction, however, to Wesley Memorial Methodist members since she's the pastor's wife.

Here from Abilene just a few short weeks is Mrs. T. M. CLARK who is about as big as a minute. She wore a beige jersey dress-maker dress and had on a large black straw hat. We could use some more as pretty as she is in our town.

MRS. ROSA FRANK is not only new to Big Spring but to America. She was formerly a resident of Vienna and is happy to be here now. Vienna's loss is our gain these days.

The May Day luncheon was certainly a success from all standpoints. And a couple of orchids to Mrs. JIM KELLY herself a newcomer and MRS. JOHN COLLINS also a new recruit from Fort Worth who decorated the tables as tables are seldom decorated. The flowers and arrangements were simple and effective.

Lookin 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

It's not a good idea to cross up the Big Spring Bombers' luck this early in the season, but it might be safe to say that all present indications point toward the fact that Manager Jodie Tate and Prexy Tink Riviere have a potent ball club on their hands.

Taking a general view of the setup, there seems to be sufficient strength available or potentially available to make some of the pre-league favorites look to their laurels.

Once over lightly and rubbing most of the corners—the pitching department appears to be above average, the infield and outfield have developed a heads-up brand of ball, leaving the hitting angle the only item to be considered below par. Some of the Bombers who were scheduled to deliver the needed amount of stick-wielding have yet to receive their hitting eye but a few more games under their belts may give the correct results—and again, the club may be one of those unfortunates among organized baseball known as "hitless wonders."

The ball club is coming to the fore in all departments but this one that is, after all is said and done, just about the most important little item on the entire list. Eddie Stevens, who came to this circuit touted to be a handy man with the bat, had a maximum degree of trouble in fathoming the tosses he received from West Texas hurling aces in the beginning but in Thursday night's tussle he appeared to be coming out of the woods. For the first time to get a hit, Stevens took a mighty swat at Pitcher Crider's offering and made the base circuit.

Charlie Welch is probably the lad to hold the greatest amount of Big Spring attention. As a general thing, a moundman is not expected to be too much of a hitter but Charlie is. Thursday night, he was sent in to pinch hit in an attempt to save the game—he, like the renowned Casey, went out the unpleasant way, but getting the nomination for the job of saving the show was something to his credit.

Kimbrough Pauses Here To Review Gloomy Outlook In Baylor's 1941 Grid Horizon

Frank Kimbrough, new Baylor coach, paused here briefly Thursday afternoon to review the gloomy outlook so far as his Bears are concerned in the autumnal Southwest conference grid race.

Admitting that coaches always moan low, Frank said he means it this time.

"We were short of material when we started spring practice," he said. "When we got through we were shorter."

His boys at Baylor, says Frank, are big but slow and unable to properly handle themselves. He has what he considers three top men—Jack Wilson, Jack Russell and Milton Crain. Weiden Bigony, Big Spring, "will play lots of ball next season," according to the coach. "He's not so big and may be doesn't have the power of some of the others, but he's smart and a good boy."

What kind of boys does Frank want? Well, when he stops in the country to look over a boy, he always asks directions to the nearest town.

"If the boy points, we don't want him," explains Frank, "but if he picks up the plow and points it, then we try to snap him up."

Arlington Golfer Paces Schoolboys

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—Billy Hightower of Arlington was a favorite today to win the Texas high school golf tourney. Yesterday he trimmed two opponents.

Billy put his shots where he wanted them in disposing of Gene Lacy of Sweetwater and James Beardsley of Cuero. He carded an even par 36 on the afternoon round.

An alternate favorite was James McNair of Brownville, who eliminated Hugh Dahlberg of San Antonio, 2 up, and James Moore of Amarillo, 3 and 2.

In the putting meet David Nelson, Wichita Falls, was runner-up.

Tulsa Grabs 4-2 Triumph Over Shippers

Dallas Drubs Santone, Sports Nab Indians, Buffs Wallop Cats

By The Associated Press
One of the most drab, colorless pitchers in big league baseball is William Henry Walters, Jr., of the Cincinnati Reds. He is a tallish, slender, sandy-haired right-hander who says very little of the diamond and "washes" as all call it.

But Bucky Walters, once a mediocre infielder, deserves to be rated right now as the best hurler in the National league and quite possibly the best man in the "clutch" in any league.

Bucky stopped the nine-game winning streak of the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, just as he had calmed the Flashback fury at the same stage a year ago, with the most courageous and effective effort of the season. The Reds won, 2-1, in eleven innings.

The deflection of the Dodgers gave the St. Louis Cardinals an opportunity to increase their first place margin with a 5-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

In the only other National league game the Pittsburgh Pirates rose up in the wrath that comes from long frustration and overwhelmed the Phillies 15-2.

The Cleveland Indians kept their winning string intact at seven games by outslugging the Philadelphia Athletics by a 13-8 score.

It was a big-hitting day in the American league with the exception of Washington's 7-0 shutout of the Chicago White Sox. Each team got eight safeties in this one, but the Senators' share included a homer and two doubles by Cecil Travis.

The Boston Red Sox battered the Detroit Tigers 15-9 in a spectacular session that included 20 hits by Boston and 13 by Detroit, none of them homers.

The New York Yankees, who bombarded the St. Louis Browns with 14 hits on Wednesday, increased the shelling to 17 safeties yesterday and won 14-5.

By The Associated Press
If making a good first impression is everything it's cracked up to be, Glen (Bip) Russell, the Chicago Cubs' first-sacker last year, is sitting pretty.

Making his initial Texas league appearance with the Tulsa Oilers yesterday, he begged the first ball tossed him for a homer, scoring two runners on base and giving the Oilers a 4-2 win over the Exporters.

In other league contests—all played at night—the Dallas Rebels drubbed the San Antonio Missions 8-2 on the latter's home grounds, the Shreveport Sports notched a 4-1 victory over Oklahoma City at Shreveport, and the Houston Buffs, playing host to Fort Worth, increased their percentage with a 5-1 triumph.

Although Russell was the hero of the Tulsa-Beaumont fray, Claire Bertram came in for his meed of praise for holding the Exporters to five hits. The Oilers collected seven hits, four of them by Les Mueller and Denny Horton.

Stevens and Haney's runs put the game in a deadlock that was not broken until Frierson again failed in the sixth, after getting on first as Cato was thrown out on second, by means of a pop by DeCarlo. Pete Zmitrovich stymied another run threat by Frierson when he captured a high fly to center field.

Big Spring lost its best chance to win the ball game in the fourth when Crider, getting somewhat under pressure, followed up Haney's three-baser by giving walks to Hayden Greer, Zmitrovich and Stevens. Needing a hit to deliver the goods, Big Spring was unable to overcome the difficulty that has been holding it back and the game was clinched for the visitors.

Amarillo's Hucklebee started the game on the hill but relinquished his spot when his club came to bat. Crider batted for the starting moundman and finished up the night's show in his place.

Schulze and Crider were even-tempered on the matter of his allowed, both pitchers being nipped for six. Schulze equaled Crider's record in the sixth, but the latter was held in check by the Amarillo ledger, Hucklebee accounted for two against the club and Crider was rapped for eight.

In the final inning, with Big Spring at bat, Manager Jodie Tate made an attempt to have the game by putting Charlie Welchel into pinchhit for Hudson, with two down and Art Shilling on first. Welchel went down in one-two-three style and the side was retired to the losers' bunk.

Lamesa Loboes Blank Clovis Pioneers, 2-0
LAMESA, May 2.—Lamesa Loboes tallied once in the first inning and racked up another count in the sixth stanza to pull a surprise shutout victory over Clovis Pioneers, 2 and 0, here Thursday afternoon.

Lamesa's Hart stayed on the hill throughout the engagement while Nagle dittoed for the Pioneers. Both hurlers broke even on the number of hits allowed, seven during the session.

The count now stands one-and-for the two clubs. Clovis having copped the winners' laurels in Wednesday's tussle.

Although Eddie Stevens, first base, socked up a home run in the second inning and J. L. Haney, grabbing himself a three-base hit in the fourth, romped across the plate for a tally, Big Spring's Bombers fell victim to Amarillo's Gold Sox, 3 and 2, in Thursday night's ball game at Roberts Field.

Big Spring was slated to vie with Clovis Friday but the rain took a hand, postponing another tilt in the rain-drenched West Texas-New Mexico league.

In reality, Big Spring met its last night's Waterloo in the first half of the initial stanza of the engagement. Tenerio came to bat for the Sox and was struck out in handy style by Buck Schulze. D'Antonio took a base on balls but was put out when Cato lined the ball between first and second, leaving the latter on first by fielders' choice. Frierson came up for his turn with the stick and gave the ball a homerun drive over right field, bringing in Cato while so doing. Dorman struck out, retiring the side with two runs and a hit to its credit.

Stevens and Haney's runs put the game in a deadlock that was not broken until Frierson again failed in the sixth, after getting on first as Cato was thrown out on second, by means of a pop by DeCarlo. Pete Zmitrovich stymied another run threat by Frierson when he captured a high fly to center field.

Rain Or Shine—Our Boots Heads List On Pre-Race Books

LOUISVILLE, May 3 (AP)—Eleven aristocrats of the turf idled away the time in their closely guarded stalls today as politicians, society folk, business men, movie actors and actresses and just plain Mr. and Mrs. turned this usually tranquil city into a bedlam for tomorrow's renewal of the $75,000 Kentucky Derby.

Following brief speed tests soon after dawn this morning the stars of the American turf's most colorful spectacle returned to their quarters, ready for the work that will send them away in quest of the pot of gold and garland of roses awaiting the winner at the end of Churchill Downs' classic mile and quarter. Post time is scheduled for 5:45 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Matt Winn, promoter of the extravaganza, predicted the first 100,000 derby crowd and a mutual handle of $5,000,000 for the day, a mark exceeded only in 1936 when Bubbling Over won. There were few who cared to differ with the genial head of the downs, who has seen every derby since the little red horse, Arist Des, scampered home in 1875.

Even the weather man's prediction of local showers tomorrow failed to put a damper on the pre-derby arrangements. For the most part, the trainers sat back with an "I don't give a damn" attitude as to the weather.

Our Boots, offspring of Bull Dog from Boyce G. Martin's Toledo-owned Woodvale Farm, remained the favorite at 8 to 5 to become the first Belmont Futurity winner ever to go on to derby honors but there was indication he might have to share the spot with Charles S. Howard's Porter's Cap before post time.

The Cap was quoted at 2 to 1 but his support mounted as new arrivals recalled his victories in the Santa Anita Derby and Chesapeake Stakes and hisizzling workout over the derby route last Sunday. Whirlaway from Warrenton Wright's Calumet Farm was the first horse named today. He was top money winning juvenile of 1940 and after showing poor form in Florida came back under the astute handling of Ben Parnell Jones, who won in 1938 with Lavrin, to forge into third position at 8 to 1. It's hard to forget how the son of Blenheim turned on the steam to come from far back in Tuesday's derby trial only to lose ground when he was unable to take the stretch turn under full speed. Eddie Arcano, a great money rider, may be able to check the colt's tendency to bear out.

Right behind the three favorites came Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., Dispose, Flamingo Stakes winner, at 8 to 1.

Cat Goes Wild Over Flowers
FORT WAYNE, Ind.—Ferdinand, the bull, loved to smell flowers, but a cat the Landolfi Greenhouse here went wild about them. The humane society received a call from the greenhouse to come out and shoot a cat that had gone "berserk" causing more than $20 damage to the flowers. When found, the cat was curled up asleep on a bed of rich carnations.

Citizens Can Demonstrate Unity By Buying Defense Bonds, Stamps

Whose job is this business of defense? J. P. Morgan? The big financial institutions of the country? Wealthy individuals? Part their but not all.

It's our country and our job. Each of us has a proportionate responsibility in contributing to the protection of our nation and way of life. It's a financial responsibility as well as a moral one.

But if interest must be paid on other loans, it is fitting that it be promised on these obligations. For the people who will be sacrificing and footing the bill in the final analysis will be getting some of it back.

Man About Manhattan—Here's Story Of Raymond The Great

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — A character almost as interesting as Broadway Rose, Shoestring Mary, or Danny the Fall is a guy known as Raymond the Great to every burlesque performer in the U. S.

Margie's eyes opened wide, but before she could say anything, Raymond added, "It's no good—I can get you a better deal at Twentieth Century-Fox."

Two little black-eyed tamaras from south of the border were introduced to Greenwich Village audiences in a Latin nightclub last season as mere babes who had been brought to the U. S. merely for the educational advantages they would derive.

CHAPTER 25 MRS. JACKSON TALKS

"Well, I'm certainly glad we're leaving this place tomorrow," Mrs. Marbury put in irrelevantly. The lawyer brushed her words aside with a suggestion that if the men were going to make an explanation of the others would have to keep quiet.

It was almost an hour before they were all gathered in the living room once more. The sailors had disappeared, presumably in the direction of their boat; no one bothered to inquire, and they seemed glad to be allowed to get away.

"But they must have sent checks to your sister—they must have continued to send them—" interrupted Brett.

Strange Story

It was almost an hour before they were all gathered in the living room once more. The sailors had disappeared, presumably in the direction of their boat; no one bothered to inquire, and they seemed glad to be allowed to get away.

"Remember we didn't finish our talk out there on the beach. I— I sort of lost my head."

"She came here to buy the place, didn't she?" Mrs. Jackson glanced at Mrs. Marbury. "Probably she didn't want to live here anyway, but she'd stir things up and then the estate would get to inquiring about Agnes, and we'd get fired."

Blondie

"STOP ACTING LIKE A BABY!" "I WANT AN AIRPLANE!" "DAGWOOD, IT'S NOT TIME FOR THE BABY'S BOTTLE!" "WE'VE GOT TWO BABIES!"

"What's your name?" "I'm Blondie." "Where do you live?" "I live in a little house in the city."

"I don't mean to deprecate America," he says in the manner of one who certainly does not mean to deprecate America. "I believe it springs mainly from a difference in size of our two countries. America is a vast continent, England a small island. Americans have become so accustomed to sudden deaths—the highways, the gangster."

Barney

"WHY'D YOU GONNA GET UP FOR LUNCH, PWW?" "DURN YORE HIDE! DIDN'T I TELL YOU TO BLOW MY HORN FOR ME, BARRY FASHION AT SEBEN SHIRP?? I GOT A GOOD NOTION TO WHIP A LITTLE GIMMPTION IN THAT PINKIN' HAIR OF YORN!"

"I can tell you," Mrs. Jackson's face was bitter as she turned to Brett. "Two people, all on twenty dollars a month. We didn't never inquire why the boat put in here sometimes. The men didn't bother us and they never stayed but an hour or so."

"I don't know who they were nor what they did," Mrs. Jackson reiterated. "As long as we minded our own business there was a little extra money handed to Mr. Jackson twice a year. It was never the same—two hundred's as high as we ever got. Once in a while it would only be fifty, but it kept us alive, if you could call being here livin'."

Little A. R. O. I. E.

"IT'S EASY TO SEE YOU ARE A REAL SAILOR—SOME PEOPLE RUSH BELOW AT THE VERY THOUGHT OF ROUGH WEATHER—BUT YOU ENJOY IT!" "GEE, I DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS ROUGH WEATHER—I THOUGHT THE WAVES WERE JUST MAIN FUN PLAYIN' A GAME OF TAG OR SOMETHIN'!"

"We didn't know who they were nor what they did," Mrs. Jackson reiterated. "As long as we minded our own business there was a little extra money handed to Mr. Jackson twice a year. It was never the same—two hundred's as high as we ever got. Once in a while it would only be fifty, but it kept us alive, if you could call being here livin'."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—'He-Dun-It', Not 'Who-Dun-It' Now Vogue In Storytelling

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Mourn the who-dun-it. It's dying, or dead. Salute the he-done-it—the who-dun-it's successor.

And who "done" the murder of the who-dun-it? Follows like Evelyn Williams and Alfred Hitchcock and Edward Percy and Reginald Denham and Russel Crouse and Howard Lindsay.

Reginald Denham, co-author with Edward Percy of "Ladies in Retirement," and here on the screenplay for Lester Cowan's movie, suggests that a really good who-dun-it—with a good new twist—still goes, but the run-of-the-mill product has had its day.

Denham believes the English have an edge on the Americans in these murder melodramas—a belief borne out by the record.

Alsoop And Kintner Say -- President Can Take One Of Only Two Courses Now: War Or Peace

By ALSOOP AND KINTNER WASHINGTON, May 2 — The president has reached the moment when he must make the most serious decision of his long career.

House consulted the senate leaders on the subject, they told him he had a narrow majority for conveying, predicted the majority would grow as the situation became more serious, but urged him not to request congressional authorization on the ground that debate would be interminable.

He has never ceased to hope, until very recently, that something would turn up to save him from carrying his foreign policy through to the end.

Bridge

Then too, besides the constitutional responsibility which is his prerogative and the political responsibility which has been laid upon him, he is the only motive power in the government.

Both within and without the government, collections of precedents have been made showing that an aggressive or defensive act was ordered by the president some days, weeks or months before most of our wars began.

It is almost verbatim the answer given to inquirers by Harry L. Hopkins, whose opportunities to know the situation are better than any other individual's.

Comic strip panels with dialogue: "STOP ACTING LIKE A BABY!", "DAGWOOD, IT'S NOT TIME FOR THE BABY'S BOTTLE!", "WHY'D YOU GONNA GET UP FOR LUNCH, PWW?", "GEE, I DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS ROUGH WEATHER—I THOUGHT THE WAVES WERE JUST MAIN FUN PLAYIN' A GAME OF TAG OR SOMETHIN'!", "GIVE UP, DOAKS! WE'VE GOT YOU SURROUNDED!", "YETH, HONEY-LAMB—THURRENDER!"

Welfare Dep't Merit System Bill Passes

AUSTIN, May 2 (CP)—Speeding ahead in a clean-up drive on major legislation, the house has finally passed, sending to the senate, a measure creating a merit system council for employees of two important social welfare departments.

The bill, recommended by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as necessary to forestall possible discontinuance of federal aid for old age assistance, was approved with only one dissenting vote.

After moving this measure toward final enactment the lower chamber quickly approved a resolution appropriating $25,000 to the comptroller's department for preparation in collecting new levies in the $25,000,000 omnibus tax bill which was expected to reach the governor's desk later in the day.

The merit council system approved by the house would apply to employment of the public welfare department and Texas unemployment compensation commission.

her approval for his part in uncovering the scheme. Eve saw his other hand clasp firmly over the girl's.

"I'll accept your explanation," the lawyer said with an air of finality, "until we can take further action." But Mrs. Jackson had not yet finished.

"You'll be wantin' us to move, I suppose?"

"Mercy, no!" Mrs. Marbury frankly yawning, pulled herself together long enough to make this statement. "I've already told Mr. Howe that I have no intention whatever of buying the place now."

Mrs. Jackson's face was a mask of fury as she looked at the society woman. For a moment she could not trust herself to speak and the others, watching her, waited in silence to hear what she had to say.

Grocers Urged To Return Forms For Food Stamp Plan

Howard county retail food merchants were urged today to sign and return the retailers' statement form mailed them by the stamp plan office if they intend to participate in the retail food stamp plan operation here.

Issuing this request was Lawrence Rollins, plan organizer for Howard county.

"This statement must be in before the merchant can be approved to receive food stamps," said Rollins. "The sooner we get the statement, the sooner approval can be given and the merchant can start accepting stamps."

Rollins urged all food merchants who desired information on the subject to confer with him at his office in the county courtroom of the courthouse.

Governor Signs Tax Bill In Midnight Dramatics

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Signed amid dramatic circumstances only moments short of midnight, a $22,000,000 multi-levied tax bill, the legislature's answer to Texas' social security problem, was law today.

Newspaper men waiting in the downstairs hall of the darkened governor's mansion were told by a secretary, who had rushed the bill from the senate chamber of the capitol to the Texas whitehouse, that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel affixed his signature at 11:50 p. m. with the statement:

Secretary Tom Wheat received the voluminous bill from a legislative clerk, ran to an automobile, whisked the document and three newspaper men to the mansion and bounded up stairs to the governor's bedroom. A moment later he reappeared assuring he had seen the governor sign it.

Only a handful of lawmakers, legislative clerks and a few friends remained in the spacious house of representatives chamber when the enrolling staff completed its labors and presented the speaker with the 150-odd page document.

Leonard mounted the speaker's rostrum, rapped his gavel transmitting an "at ease" period, and said: "The house will be in order."

A moment later at 11:56 p. m. he scribbled his name on the measure, handed it to a clerk, and announced: "The speaker signs, in the presence of the house, the following."

The clerk read a portion of the bill's caption, following regular parliamentary procedure.

The group then moved across the capitol rotunda to the senate chamber.

There the same ceremony was repeated, the group applauding after Stevenson completed the final technicality required by the constitution.

Members of the group expressed a desire to see O'Daniel add his name to the measure but the secretary declared: "I'm afraid we can't do that tonight."

He left the capitol quickly and on arrival at the mansion, a state police guard told the newspaper men in the hall: "You fellows stay here."

The bill, inaugurating for the first time aid to the needy blind, aid to dependent children and matching of teachers retirement contributions and more than doubling old age pension funds thus was incorporated into the state's law books.

Some portions of it becoming effective immediately, the measure increased old taxes or levied new ones on oil, gas, sulphur, telephone companies, public utilities, motor vehicle sales, liquor, franchisees, liquor prescriptions, cosmetics, radios, playing cards, carbon black, common carrier and contract and commodity carrier motor vehicles, stock transfers, oil and gas well servicing, motor fuel, insurance companies and cement distribution.

1600 Men Return To Work At Phelps-Dodge Copper Plant Board Works To Forestall GM Strike

By The Associated Press
Settlement of a strike involving 1,600 workers at the Elizabeth, N. J., plant of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corporation opened the way today for resumption of work on $30,000,000 in defense contracts.

The big copper firm's CIO workers voted last night to end a 20-day strike and go back to work while negotiations continue for a new wage contract. The union seeks a closed shop, seven paid holidays annually, a 10-cent hourly wage rise and seniority rights. William H. Davis, vice chairman of the mediation board, has requested work resumption, which may start Monday.

The defense mediation board at Washington today continued its efforts to avert a threatened strike in 61 General Motors Corporation plants employing 160,000, many of whom are working no $700,000,000 in defense orders.

The CIO United Automobile Workers seek a 10-cent hourly wage increase, but the management, offering two cents additional for hourly workers and more for some skilled craftsmen, contended no increase was justifiable. The CIO said it would exempt defense work from any walkout, but the management maintained there could be no practicable distinction between defense and non-defense production.

At Ritz—Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullavan are co-stars in the principal roles of Universal's "Back Street," which plays today and Saturday at the Ritz theatre. The drama is a picturization of Fannie Hurst's great novel published in 1932, which aroused a storm of comment in literary circles because of the boldness of its theme. Frank McHugh, Tim Holt, Samuel S. Hinds and Frank Jenks have the main supporting roles.

Lyndon Johnson Will Open Campaign Saturday Night

Congressman Lyndon Johnson will open his campaign for the United States Senate Saturday night, May 3, at San Marcos, where he worked his way through the State Teachers college and which is in the heart of the congressional district he now represents.

His opening campaign speech will be carried over the major radio networks of the state at 8 p. m. and a huge statewide rally will be held.

Following the opening of his campaign in San Marcos Saturday night, Johnson will conduct an active speaking campaign, his itinerary calling for more than 200 speeches in every part of the state.

Johnson's record as a member of congress and his close affiliation with the president and the administration in Washington make him a leading contender for the Senate seat left vacant by the death of the late Morris Sheppard.

Since his election to Congress from the Austin district in 1937, Lyndon B. Johnson's record has been an unbroken one of keen insight into the domestic problems of the American people, and as the international crisis verged nearer and nearer to this nation's shores, he was constantly a stalwart

Official Taking Applications For State Aid To Crippled Children

Lillian Glenn of the crippled children's division of the state department of education is in Big Spring this weekend to take application for state-financed treatment for cripples.

Throughout today she interviewed parents of crippled children appearing on the scholastic census rolls. Tomorrow afternoon she will be in the county superintendent's office to talk with all parents seeking help for their children.

Parents of children below school age are urged to talk with Miss Glenn, as it is likely operations can be performed and recovery made by time school starts this fall.

The state finances surgery and treatment for crippled children in cases in which parents are unable to bear the cost. Only cost to the parent is to transport the child to the hospital where such work is done—in this case the nearest being Abilene.

Parents wishing information about this service may confer with Miss Glenn Saturday afternoon in the county superintendent's office, or write to her at box 1319, Lubbock.
