Street Drive Nets $1564 For M-O-D

The Lions Club won top honors in Saturday's street solicitation in behalf of the March of Dimes, collecting just under $400. Total "haul" for the day tallied $1,564.20, according to Mack Hiatt, drive treasurer.

"As always, we appreciate the efforts of the civic clubs, who never fail to put their shoulders to the wheel when they are needed," Hiatt emphasized.

Behind 1954 Total The total collected Saturday fell behind collections in the 1954 street solicitation, but Hiatt said that he expected most Pampans to intend making their contributions later this month directly to drive headquarters.

Club efforts in order of their performance were: Lions, corner of Cuyler and Kingsmill, $398.83; Optimists, corner of Cuyler and Foster, $290.81; Rotary, at Cuyler and Francis, $291.79; C. I. O., Francis and Hobart, $247.52; Jaycees, Kingsmill and Russell, $189.67, and the Kiwanis Club, at Cuyler and Tyng, $158.73.

Hiatt said that collections often depend on the volume of traffic at street intersections, but that it was wonderful to see Pampa's youngest civic club, The Optimists, rise to second place in the competition, after being "anchor man" in the (See DRIVE, Page 3)

Job Scarcity Seen Next Two Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 - Unemployment will jump considerably this month and next, mainly because of seasonal factors, and possibly top the 1954 peak of 3,725,000 jobsless, government economists predicted Saturday. The number of unemployed probably will climb by 750,000 persons between December and February, they said. That would bring the total to around 3.5 million. They added that the ranks of jobsless might be swelled by 1 million persons, and raise the total to about 3.8 million.

However, these economists expressed no alarm. In citing seasonal factors for the indicated increase, they said unemployment usually reaches its peak in the first two months of the year. Winter lulls in construction, mining, farming, and the post-Christmas doldrums in many factories, transportation, and trade cause the jobless increase.

President Eisenhower told Congress last week that the 1955 economic outlook is "good." There have been general predictions that business will pick up in 1955 over 1954 levels. Automobile production is getting a watchful eye. One government economist said he does not think the industry can keep up the current high production rate through the year. This could mean some unemployment problems later, he said. The Census Bureau's jobless total in December declined by 55,000 from November to a total of 2,838,000. But still this was some 500,000 higher than in December, 1953. On this basis, unemployment this month is bound to be higher than the 3,087,000 of a year ago, these economists said.

Dr. Sheppard Will Attend Mother's Rites

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8 - For the third time in six months, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on Monday afternoon will visit the funeral bier of a member of his family.

Permission to attend the final rites for his mother, Mrs. Ethel Niles Sheppard, 64, who committed suicide Friday, was granted Saturday by Common Pleas Judge Harry A. Hanna who told the sheriff to take "such precautionary measures as were necessary to transport Dr. Sam, the convicted wife-murderer, to and from his jail cell.

The last time the 31-year-old osteopathic brain-surgeon visited the outside world was also to view one of his family in death. That was on the night of Oct. 27, when he was whisked by deputies to an east side funeral home where the body of his wife's grandfather, Harry Parsons Blake, lay at rest.

And on July 7, Dr. Sam left his hospital bed to attend the funeral of his wife, Marilyn, who had been murdered in her bed three days earlier. He ultimately was indicted for the crime, and on Dec. 21 was found guilty of second-degree murder.

The request to attend his mother's funeral was made by William J. Corrigan, Dr. Sheppard's chief attorney. "It was all right with me," Judge Hanna said, "providing the sheriff did not think there was any danger in the move." Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney gave his approval, and said Dr. Sheppard would be handcuffed to a deputy the full time he is away from his cell.

U.S. Soldier, Civilian Released By Russians

Prisoner Of Reds 6 And 9 1/2 Years

BERLIN, Jan. 8 - UP - The Russians Saturday released two Americans who had spent from six to nine and a half years in Communist slave labor camps. They were rushed to the American hospital in Berlin and placed under guard.

A guard was placed at the hospital door of Pvt. William T. Marchuk, 33 of Norristown, Pa., because he is listed by the U. S. Army as absent without leave.

They disappeared in Berlin Feb. 11, 1949. The other American, John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, requested the guard so he could rest. Both agreed that it was good to be free, although it took Marchuk a little time to warm to the idea. He seemed indifferent on the drive to the American sector. But in the hospital he grinned and said to Noble: "It's good to be out."

Happy From Start Noble, who was arrested with his German-born father in Dresden in 1945 when they refused to take down an American flag flying from their home, was happy from the start over being free.

He said he was "happy but tired." Both men appeared in good health, but the Army wanted them to have a thorough check in the hospital. They had been held in the Vorkuta slave labor camp area in Arctic Russia.

Noble said the food was "horrible" but about six months ago the Soviets began to fatten them up for release.

He had news of a third American still held in the Soviet Union. He told American authorities he saw Pvt. William A. Verdine, of Starks, La., who was arrested by the Soviets in Germany in 1949, early last year in Vorkuta.

Verdine "appeared to be ill," Noble told the American authorities. However, he did not know how ill the soldier was. Other former prisoners of the Soviets have said Verdine was suffering from tuberculosis.

The Army said Marchuk's "status will be investigated." An Army spokesman who accompanied the soldier from the Russian zone to the U. S. zone said "he showed no reaction at all. He did not ask any questions and he did not

UN, Chou Meeting Near End

Final Session On 11 Airmen Monday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Jan. 8 - UP - United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold met for more than five hours with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai Saturday and was believed to have received the Communists' reply to UN demands for release of 11 imprisoned American airmen.

UN officials here believe the talks had entered the critical phase.

Messages reaching United Nations headquarters from the Hammarskjold party in Peiping indicated the diplomat was expected to wind up his historic mission with a final conference Monday and leave for New York the following day.

Reply Believed Made D. R. Manekkar, Times of India editor on special assignment for the United Press in Peiping, said it was believed Chou had replied to Hammarskjold's plea for release of the 11 Americans and the 2,850 other UN command prisoners still held by the Communists in violation of the Korean truce.

There was no indication of whether Chou has stuck to his previous claims that the UN has no jurisdiction in the case, that it is entirely within Chinese jurisdiction. The third and longest talk between Hammarskjold and Chou lasted from 3 p. m. until 8:10 p. m. in the ornate Shihwa (West Flower) Hall in Peiping's ancient forbidden city. The two officials and Chinese aides have conferred a total of 12 hours and 25 minutes in secret sessions.

Rich Setting "At Shihwa Hall Hammarskjold and Chou sat in the center of a richly upholstered sofa," Manekkar cabled. "Hammarskjold's staff sits on his right flank, while beside Chou sit his Chinese advisers."

"As they talk, they sip fragrant jasmine-flavored green tea out of exquisite egg shell porcelain cups, which are continually replenished in the true Chinese custom."

Chinese objects of art, framed paintings and scrolls, as well as sculpture, are around them.

In this unusual setting for a crucial diplomatic conference, the officials were believed also to have discussed such problems as the case of 35 Chinese nationals refused exit permits by the United States, the transfer of Formosa to captured Chinese war prisoners who refuse to return to Red China under the Panmunjom truce agreement, and China's complaint of espionage activities against its government.

LAY DOWN THAT GUN, MAN, ANTELOPE AWAY FROM THERE

So there's no wildlife in the North Plains, eh? Bob Childers, 1115 N. Frost, doesn't agree.

He was driving along Texas Hwy. 70 Saturday night 10 miles north of town and said he counted 47 antelope within 100 yards of the road.

"I've driven along that road three times the past month and never failed to see wild game," Childers said.

But as far as antelope go, leave 'em alone, there hasn't been an open season in many a moon, and the prospects of one are very dim.

Britain Orders Troops Moved Into Malaya

LONDON, Jan. 8 - UP - Britain announced Saturday it was stepping up its fight against the Communists in the jungles of Malaya and the Mau Mau terrorists in the forest of Kenya colony.

Officials disclosed that paratroop units and jet bombers will be used in the five-year-old war against the Reds in Malaya. This is the only "shooting" war the west now is fighting against the Communists.

In Kenya, on the east coast of Africa, nine battalions totalling 10,000 men or the equivalent of a division, ringed the vast forests at the foot of Mount Kenya. Maj. Gen. G. D. Heyman, chief of staff of the British army's East Africa command, said they were ready to push off in a drive to end the two year battle against the Mau Mau.

Heyman refused to tip his hand by revealing what the big offensive would start and left the terrorists, who have sworn blood oaths to drive the white man from Kenya, to "sweat it out" waiting for the drive to open.

A spokesman revealed that Britain was putting its Canberra jet bombers into action against an enemy for the first time in the attempt to smash the Red guerrillas in Malaya.

Mercury Reading To Vary Little

Light rain and drizzle passed up the Panhandle area Saturday in favor of east and southeast Texas, but a mild cold front was reported to be headed into the Panhandle late Saturday night.

The high reading Saturday, according to Pampa's weatherman, Radio Station KPDM, was 49 degrees which had dropped to 35 degrees by late Saturday night. The low Friday was 32.

Temperatures today were not expected to vary more than five degrees from Saturday's readings.

Demos To Demand Peress Case Facts Be Cleared Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 - UP - Democrats are expected to demand that Army officials tell the Peress story under oath on the grounds they have been reluctant "to come clean" about the case, informed sources said Saturday.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) probably will beat the Democrats to the punch, however. He has been belaboring the Army for almost a year about the promotion and honorable discharge of former Maj. Irving Peress, a dentist whom he calls a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Unappreciated by the Army's 10,000 word explanation Friday night of its handling of the case, McCarthy called a closed meeting for 10 a. m. Monday of the Senate investigating subcommittee.

McCarthy still chairman of the group until the Democrats organize the committee, probably later in the week, McCarthy will propose that top military and civilian Army officials be called for testimony.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) who will succeed McCarthy, had no comment on the Army report, men were in Panaman.

but sources close to the subcommittee said he had intended to pursue the Peress case even before the Army issued its explanatory document.

Peress was honorably discharged last Feb. 2, three days after he refused to tell McCarthy whether he was a Communist.

The Army said in its 38-page report that it had enough evidence against Peress to discharge him, but not to court martial him as McCarthy demanded.

The report said the Army's top lawyer, Army Counsel John G. Adams, and a three-star General, Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, deputy chief of staff, decided to let Peress discharge go through despite McCarthy's court martial demand.

Future in Doubt The report cast the future of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Adams in doubt. Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) already has suggested to President Eisenhower that they resign for the good of the Army's morale. Both have said they have no intention of quitting.

But other top officials in the Defense Department and the White House have not commented. Meanwhile, Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) said the Army report will not affect his plan to introduce a resolution in the Senate Monday, co-sponsored by 43 other senators, to state that the Senate wants continued investigation of Communist sympathies, among them the Peress case.

GOP Chiefs Break Age-Old Custom

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 - UP - A matter "will not have any effect on what we do."

The last three conventions of both parties were held in the same city in mid-summer so each could use the same hall and facilities at a saving of thousands of dollars.

Hall said a definite convention date will be fixed later. He said he believed a better and more vigorous campaign can be waged now for a shorter time because of radio and television and speedy travel by airplane.

Informed sources said President Eisenhower favors a September date.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler earlier announced the Democratic convention would be held Aug. 27, 1956, the latest start in 92 years for the Democrats. No convention site was announced.

To Choose Site Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said the full committee would meet within the next 30 or 40 days to choose the convention city. He added that anything the Democrats decide on will be held there.

Field Daughter Said Held In Siberian Jail

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 - UP - Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach, foster daughter of Noel and Herta Field, has communicated with relatives from a Soviet prison camp at Vorkuta in Russian Siberia, it was disclosed Saturday.

The camp near the Arctic Circle, is believed to be the same where two Americans were held prior to their release only Saturday following years of imprisonment.

The State Department said it was "pleased" to hear these two Americans had been released.

Officials said this government would continue to press for the release of a third American, Pvt. William A. Verdine, 28, who is believed in Russian hands. The State Department is also under pressure by Mrs. Wallach's husband, Robert, to ask the Russians for word on his wife.

Wallach and his two children are living in the Washington area waiting and hoping for her release. She disappeared mysteriously in Berlin on Aug. 28, 1950, while searching for news about her foster parents, the Fields, who had disappeared behind the Iron Curtain a year before.

Informed sources told the United Press that Wallach recently received a postcard written by his wife.

Dedication Talks Planned In Miami For Canadian Bridge

The general steering committee planning the dedication of the Canadian River Bridge between Pampa and Perryton, will meet the end of January in Miami.

Fred Thompson, one of the two Gray Countians on the six-man committee, Saturday said that the meeting had originally been scheduled for the middle of the month, but had been delayed so that "we could get a better idea" of the bridge progress.

Jelke Friend Sought By Trial Judge

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8 (UP)—Three detectives combed exclusive night clubs here Saturday for Erica Steel, the so-called madam of New York's cafe society, who is sought to testify in the retrial of Minot R. (Mickey) Jelke, 24-year-old play boy and oleomargarine heir.

The detectives traced the red haired woman to a secluded residence in the Hollywood Hills only to find it empty. Dishes were in the kitchen sink and soiled linen was found scattered on the floor.

They said she left most of her clothes behind. The frustrated detectives blamed the press for "tipping off" the elusive Miss Steel, alias Gale Roberts, alias Gayle Draper.

Miss Steel testified in the Jelke trial that she had seen Pat Ward, an alleged call girl who assertedly worked for the heir, give him $350 from her earnings on a trip from New York to Florida.

After the trial, Miss Steel said she would not "go through that ordeal again." The Jelke retrial has been pending since a New York court of appeals agreed with the heir's assertion that the press should not have been barred from the original trial.

Moving Platforms May Soon Replace Vehicular Traffic

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—The day is coming when big city dwellers will be moved about like bottles of pop or bales of hay on conveyor belts running under streets clogged with autos, a transportation expert predicted Saturday.

Col. Sidney H. Bingham, who runs New York City's vast 831-mile transportation network, said moving platforms eventually will replace some subway train lines and many surface transportation facilities.

He also expects speedways to carry passengers and baggage from terminals to trains and airplanes, and moving ramps to transport sports fans to the heights of stadiums and arenas. Race track patrons might even be able to take bets from a conveyor belt without taking a single step toward the parimutuel window.

And housewives in Bingham's world of tomorrow will buy groceries and other supplies merely by standing on conveyor belts carrying them on their rounds in shopping centers.

Belts Not Far Away
All of this is in the indefinite future, but it is coming, he said, and largely as a result of pioneering work now underway here.

An executive director and general manager of the New York City Transit Authority, serving 4.5 million passengers a day, Bingham hopes to have the world's first conveyor-belt transportation system rolling under 42nd Street by the end of 1956.

The final decision is due soon on a $5 million replacement for the shuttle trains between Times Square and Grand Central Terminal, linking the East and West side subways. The conveyor car system itself would cost $18 million and the rest of the money would go for tunnel stations.

Two Tankers Collide At Canal Mouth

SUEZ, Egypt, Jan. 8 (UP)—A brand new 21,200-ton super tanker laden with oil collided early Saturday with an empty 17,722-ton tanker outside Suez. The smaller vessel burst into flames.

A spokesman for the Suez Canal Co. said there were no casualties in the collision which occurred before dawn in the Red Sea off Suez near the entrance to the Suez Canal.

The spokesman identified the ships as the 17,722-ton tanker Olympic Thunder and the 21,200-ton Olympic Honour, both owned by Greek-Argentine shipping magnate, Aristotle Onassis.

The ships' crew was able to bring the fire under control in about two hours. The Thunder was damaged by fire and collision, but the Honour suffered only slight damage.

Dem Whip Predicts Revised Farm Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—UP—The Democratic whip Carl Albert, (Okla.) said Saturday he is "quite sure" the House will reject President Eisenhower's recommendation and pass a bill to restore rigid high price supports for basic crops. Congressional farm leaders doubt however, that they can muster enough votes in the Senate to send such a bill on to the White House before Congress adjourns this summer. They figure that time will sharpen the price issues in the Midwest farm belt and strengthen Senate farm bloc forces. Moreover, a direct clash between the Democratic congress and President Eisenhower over the level of government price guarantees for farmers would have maximum effect on the presidential election, if action came in 1956. ### PRISONER

(Continued from Page One) not even say he was glad to be back. "He made only two statements while traveling from Soviet headquarters at Karlobor to the American provost marshal's headquarters. Asked for Cigaret "He asked 'can I have a cigarette?' When he got it he said, 'It's my first American cigarette in six years.'"

Noble, in contrast to the soldier, repeatedly said how happy he was to be free as he rode from the Red headquarters to the provost marshal's office in a U.S. State Department automobile.

He ran up the steps of the provost marshal's office two-at-a-time, grinning at the military policemen on duty. The State Department won the men's freedom after five attempts in the last year. Finally on Dec. 30 the Soviets promised that Noble and Marchuk would be released.

Verdine Not Freed The Americans also demanded the release of U.S. Army Private William A. Verdine, of Starks, La. who was arrested in Germany in 1949, but he was not freed.

The two men were taken to the American hospital in Berlin for a physical examination. Both looked healthy, spokesmen said. Marchuk looked "a bit stout," an Army spokesman revealed.

An official U.S. high commission statement said: "Both men will be given a complete physical examination after which Mr. Noble will be turned over to American consular officials and Pvt. Marchuk will remain under military control."

Sailors Embark On Fortune Quest LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—UP—Fourteen men set forth on a converted subchaser Saturday for Cocon Island off the Costa Rican coast where they hope a $35,000 gamble will return them $60 million in gold and jewels, the legendary lost loot of Lima.

The treasure seekers—engineers, sailors, businessmen—have pooled $35,000 in money and equipment. They hope to locate the treasure with a 130-year-old map which expedition leader Charles Williams of Manhattan Beach, Calif., says was willed to him by a sea captain.

Their ship is the 111-foot sub-chaser Isle of Capri, owned and skippered by Thomas Clairmont, 30, of Ravenna, Ohio.

The launching will be with out benefit of champagne, since Oklahoma is a dry state. The builders, who have no experience whatsoever with either regular submarines or salt water navigation, will make their first trial runs from Willow Springs resort, west of Durant, Okla.

Society Editor Feels 'Rotten' After Scoop

PETOSKEY, Mich., Jan. 8.—UP—Florence Goldrick, society editor for the Petoskey News - Review, wrote the front page banner story Saturday, but she said it made her feel like "a first-class heel."

Mrs. Goldrick talked authorities into putting her in jail overnight so she could interview the girl friend of a burglar wanted in five states.

The prisoner, Mrs. Ellen Donner, 23, was unaware that her overnight cell mate was a newspaperwoman.

Mrs. Donner is held on a deadly weapons charge, scheduled to appear in justice court with her boy friend, Richard LaDuke, 38, Minneapolis, with whom she was captured earlier this week.

"Ellen is just mixed up," the society editor said Saturday. "After the night was over I felt like a crumb trying to get a story out of her. But I got it."

"Why, she even got up and covered me with a blanket during the night because she thought I might get cold."

Mrs. Goldrick said she got "plenty scared" when no one showed up at 7 a. m. to let her out of jail. "I finally got out at 7:45 when my editor called for me to come to work," she said.

"But I made the front page banner the first time a society writer has ever done that here."

Mrs. FDR Backs Adlai HOUSTON, Jan. 8.—UP—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said Saturday she will support Adlai Stevenson for president again in 1956.

"He is the party's best qualified candidate," she said. "I'm not the kind of Democrat who changes her spots. I supported him the last time and I'll support him again."

Mrs. Roosevelt, board chairman of the American Association for the United Nations, held a day-long series of meetings today with Houston civic and religious groups promoting better understanding of the United Nations.

She said at a press conference that "the world will grow very much closer together in the next 15 or 20 years."

Headless Hen Put To Death SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8.—UP—W. T. Gilcrease's headless red hen was dead Saturday. But it took a veterinarian to kill the fowl, which had run around with her head off since last Saturday.

Gilcrease cut off the hen's head for New Year's dinner, along with two other hens. The other two died promptly, but the red hen kept running around without a head.

A veterinarian said it would probably starve to death, so on Wednesday the Gilcreases began giving it water and soup through its neck opening.

But the animal defense league thought it was cruelly to the animal to keep it alive, so the Gilcreases consented to having it put to death. The veterinarian executed it.

Prominent Citizens Pickpocket Victims

Fred Rorer, who worked his way through the internationally famous "school" for pickpockets in Warsaw, Poland, by supporting himself at various "jobs," Friday night showed Knife and Forker the value of having a university degree in the field, rather than picking up the trade along New York's Bowery. He made sure to emphasize the school was not an affiliate of any other in Poland's capital city.

"Lamb" Fleece The proof of the pudding was amply demonstrated on the "lamb," who voluntarily became subjects on which the master technician was able to apply an unusual dexterity in which he did not play for keeps.

Losing everything from watches to billfolds, and finding them transported to others' pockets were Rufe Jordan, Dr. Joe Donaldson, Ivy Duncan, Frank Fata, Paul Payne, E. E. Shelhamer and Walter Eller.

Rorer said that in the old days before the arrival of the Nazis in Vienna, Austria, he was a shirt manufacturer and that it had taken him "25 years to go from haberdashery to lecturer, but I was no president in between."

Prefers Lecturing His is the skill of a professional, but other than for purposes of demonstration, pickpocketing is quite out of his line. Rorer said that since he was a better lecturer and amateur musician than a shirt maker, he decided to go into the lecture touring field after the Nazi police took over in Vienna, and he had to leave everything. Rorer mentioned being on the last free train to leave Poland, and his joy on entering the United States 16 years ago.

Rorer said no pocket is safe from the pickpocket once he knows where the valuables are located. "Many of them specialize in various types of lifting and it is wise to keep your money in the bank and carry a limited amount of cash."

He pointed out that pickpockets operate mainly in metropolitan areas, but "it's a dying trade, most people have confidence in banks."

Ordinance Readings On City Agenda The final reading of the zoning ordinance regarding the Red Deer Addition to the City of Pampa will take place at the meeting of the City Commission at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the City Hall, according to City Manager Fred Brook.

The Red Deer Addition, located at the sight of the old municipal airport, north of the city, will be mainly residential with provision for semi-commercial lots.

Brook said the last reading will be made prior to paving in the 100 block on W. 29th, and approval is expected to be given by the commission for the sewer contract with the Cresslenn Oil Co.

Former Nazi Officer Now PFC In USA

FORT HOOD, Tex., Jan. 8.—UP—A former Nazi ski trooper, who was commissioned a lieutenant in the German army at the age of 13, is serving as a private first class in the First Armored Division at Fort Hood.

The soldier is Pfc. Franc Toth of Milwaukee, Wis., who recently became a naturalized American. He is a radio operator in the 16th Armored Engineer Battalion.

Toth came to the United States in 1952 with his family and joined the Army in September, 1953. Born in Yugoslavia, he was born in Sushara, Yugoslavia, in 1931. When the Nazis moved into Yugoslavia in 1941 — when Toth was 10 years old — he was drafted as one of several students to attend "Kadet school," a combination high school and military school, at Kiel, Germany.

"In the mornings we studied regular academic courses and in the afternoons were busy with military subjects," Toth, who speaks perfect English, said. "The rest of the day was devoted to physical training and sports."

When he was graduated in 1944 he was drafted into the German army and was commissioned a lieutenant. He was sent to a ski and mountain climbing unit in Finland and spent most of the war fighting the Russians.

Vacationed in Alps He went on vacations in the French and Austrian Alps and climbed Mont Blanc and the Grossglockner, highest mountain in the Austrian Alps. In 1945 he returned to Yugoslavia and found his parents had left the country several years before.

He finally found them with the help of the Red Cross—they were looking for him, too—and they lived just outside Linz, Austria, until they moved to Milwaukee in 1952. He worked at an American Army post as an automobile mechanic while he was living in Austria.

'America's Most Fabulous Car'

Takes A Heap Of Doin' To Buy A Duesenberg

By JIM DEAN Pampa News Managing Editor McLEAN — A few weeks ago, a young paratrooper veteran bought himself a 25-year-old automobile...

supercharged version will develop 380 horsepower! These figures are quoted in present tense because there are still approximately 200 of these automobiles running today.

Lubricated Automatically The Duesenberg is equipped with automatic lubricating unit for the chassis. Small copper tubing connects a lube oil tank to each lubricating spot on the chassis...

PRIZE FOR OLD CAR ENTHUSIAST — David McGahey of McLean drove the 1932 Duesenberg to McLean from Corpus Christi as it looked in the upper photo. Below, left, McGahey shows off the powerful 285 horsepower engine and in the other photo gives you an idea of the size of the wheels of the tremendous auto. The complete new vehicle weighed 5,200 pounds. McGahey is rebuilding the car.

McGahey finally drove off with his prize, after plunking down $1200. Cheap At That Price If that seems a high price to you, lean over and listen to a tale of the Duesenberg, perhaps the most fabulous motor car ever produced in America!

Fifth Owner McGahey is the fifth person to own the Duesenberg he is now reworking with painstaking care. According to the records, the engine was completed in 1930 and it was sold as a complete auto for the first time Sept. 27, 1932, to a M. W. Loewi of New York.

The bodies were as fabulous as the engine which alone sold for $6,220 when new! The interior of one of the vehicles, for example, was built of silver inlaid walnut with bone-fitted hardware, contained a cellophone vanity and had two opera seats.

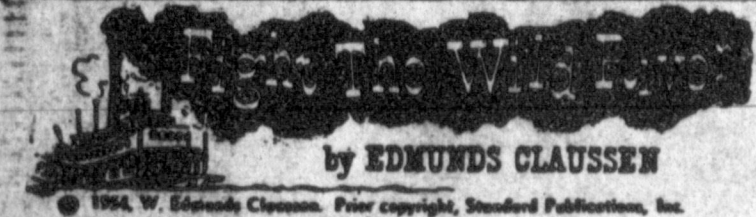

Clarence Manion LPGA Speaker

Dean Clarence Manion, noted authority on constitutional law, has accepted an invitation to address the opening luncheon session of the annual convention of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago, May 2.

Legends surround the Duesenberg automobile, McGahey said. There is a story of a home broken because the husband thought more of his Duesenberg than he did of his wife. In this story, McGahey said, the wife hired men to cut the automobile to pieces when her husband died.

New 'Cats' In Panhandle

There were two new wildcats and 82 new field locations staked out in the Panhandle in December. That makes totals of 1,053 wildcats and 3,280 field stake-outs over the United States and Canada for the month, according to the monthly summary of drilling activity by the Rinehart Oil News Co.

by EDMUNDS CLAUSSEN THE STORY: Because ever-widening Captain Crotch has helped get United Army Lieutenant Lane in preference to a side assignment, Crotch's competitor Captain Jamison is attempting to steal the boat.

river towing a string of barges in tandem. There was only one place Jamison might have come by those barges, one company that could have supplied him the cargo. Those barges had been built with $500 advanced by Crotch for labor, his General Heath had brought the timber upriver from Port Isabel, he had the contract in his safe, naming his ship as the sole carrier for La Paz Ore! And if his reasoning proved not to be unjust, Sugar Logan had sold him out to a river pirate who was dead-set on ruining him completely.

It was a black morning indeed as Crotch shifted his pace into his hurried dogtrot toward the milling company's offices. THE milling company office was newly built of yellow timber, a low shedlike structure attached to the straggling mill building proper. The door was unlocked and he entered without knocking. John Slade was behind his roundtop desk, obviously awaiting him.

"Well—" Might as well get this into the open. Let Crotch bellow and rage; Sugar Logan had had no stomach for it after the barges had been literally handed to Jamison, had ridden off leaving the entire filthy business in Slade's lap. "—well, Logan and I have about decided our agreement with you was premature. The truth of the matter is that Navigation has been granted the ore shipments. So far as the barges go, we will have to reimburse you for them."

"I've got a contract; I'll take the barges. "I wouldn't try that, Crotch. Jamison's a pretty rascal customer. I wouldn't want to feel responsible for whatever happens to you. After all, you've made a blunder. Own up to it. "Now you're talking about Springfield rifles?" Slade nodded mutely but his Adam's apple was dancing vigorously beneath the hairy hide of his throat, belying all calmness.

"My partner is a man with definite political opinions which have been foisted upon others, but which, at the same time, must be respected. "Your rock-hard partner is so scared to face me he had to rabbit out," Crotch said. "Nevertheless," Slade gave a slight shrug to his shoulder, "he's been solidly injured by your actions. The simplest thing you can do, Crotch, is tear up your agreement."

"Or," Crotch said, "retake my barges from Jamison. When I come back to La Paz, I'll let you have my bill for hauling ore to the Gulf at $10 a ton. You set a policy this morning. So far as La Paz Milling goes, might is right."

Goss was still smarting from the smashed face Burke's log had given him. He said shortly, "You feelin' better?" "You heard, of course, what Lane told me before we left La Paz?" Goss grinned tightly. "He has got every right to lay it on thick. The Rebels had his goose cooked until Melott jumped in last night."

"A report to his ranking officer," Crotch scoffed sardonically. "He's mentioning Jim for bravery in the defense of La Paz. I told him to report on China Boy if he had to do it but leave Jim out of it. Melott can't be listed for bravery with the Federal war office!" (To Be Continued)

Texas Longhorn Is Making Comeback

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—UP—The Texas Longhorn is making a comeback.

The big, leggy animal with the long horns is building up in Oklahoma and Nebraska, not Texas where he got his name and where thousands of head used to roam the vast ranges of that huge state. There aren't any left in Texas.

were not too good and cattle trucks in those days were not numerous.

In 1927, the late Sen. John B. Kendrick (D-Wyo.) arranged for an appropriation to finance a search for longhorns. Hatton and Will C. Barnes, also of the Forest Service, traveled more than 5,000 miles seeking a nucleus for a herd. They found 30 head — 20 cows, 3 bulls, 3 steers, and 4 calves. They shipped them to the Oklahoma refuge in August, 1927, and from that group has grown the known population. Animals showing undesirable characteristics are weeded out each year.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said a few may be held in private ownership, and perhaps in some zoos, but their location is not known here. The hardy, active cowboys, the cattle are an indelible part of the old, rough and ready, wild and woolly West. Their long, sharp horns, often measuring up to six, seven, and sometimes eight feet from tip to tip, coupled with the animal's ornery disposition, made the Texas Longhorn a fearsome critter. The legends of the west are full of reference to them.

The longhorns thrived in the arid conditions of the Southwest. They ranged rough hills where domestic cattle would not go. They could stand a long time without water to water than will modern beef breeds. But the longhorns were susceptible to the dread Texas-fever tick.

The strain began to disappear when ranchers in the Gulf Coast and Lower Rio Grande regions began crossing their longhorns with Brahma cattle. The Brahmas had tougher resistance to the Texas-fever tick.

Traffic "Frank" Kills Youth INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 8.—UP—Armine Reese, 14, died in St. Francis Hospital Friday of injuries sustained in a traffic "prank." Police said Armine jumped in front of an auto driven by his brother James, 16, to "see how fast James could stop." James couldn't stop in time.

1955 may well be the "year of decision" in the long, hard fight against polio. Science, after years of unflagging research, appears about to score a stunning triumph over this dread disease. Funds are urgently needed NOW for the final push to victory. Every dollar contributed speeds the day when the world can at long last be free from this grim destroyer of life and limb.

The opportunity is here . . . the time is now to deliver the "knock-out" blow to polio. Give from your heart to the March of Dimes.

Groom To Dedicate New Gym Tuesday

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor
GROOM, Jan. 8 - The Groom Tigers will dedicate their new $100,000 gymnasium here Tuesday night with the Claude Mustangs furnishing the opposition.
Finishing touches on the spacious new fieldhouse won't be completed until Monday but school superintendent, Weldon Reno, said Saturday that unless something unforeseen happens, Tuesday's game will go on as scheduled.
A fresh coat of varnish will be put on the floor Monday. When the varnish dries, the roll-away bleachers will be installed and everything will be in readiness for the dedication Tuesday.
Both the boys and girls teams of Groom and Claude will see action in the dedication ceremonies. The inexperienced Tigers will go into Tuesday's game as the underdogs. They have met Claude twice this season and lost both times, 59-33 and 44-40. The latter occurred in the Claude Invitational Tournament Friday night which indicates the Tigers have come a long way since the start of the season.
Coach W. H. Kitchens only has one senior on the starting lineup. His leading scorer, Leon Anglin, is only a freshman. Anglin has 184 points in 12 games for 15.3 average per game.
The second leading Tiger point maker, Kenneth Friemel, is just a sophomore. Friemel has 122 points in 12 games for a 10.1 average.
The remaining three spots on the starting Tiger five consists of a sophomore, junior and senior. Gerald Jones is the other sophomore.
Denny Kotara is the junior starter and Jimmy Eschle, the fifth regular, is a senior.
The Tigers have played 12 games and won only two.
Ten more games are on the Tiger schedule before the district tournament. The district tourney will be held in the new gymnasium here, Feb. 10, 11 and 12.

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Jan. 8-UP - Scotty Chisholm and the sun arrived simultaneously at the Los Angeles Open and to fans here that means the golf tournament officially had begun.

Patterson To Be Ready For Title Shot Within One Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 8-UP - Young Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, who stopped Willie Troy in the fifth round, will be ready for a light heavyweight title shot "within the year," Manager Custer D'Amato admitted reluctantly Saturday.
D'Amato, the fight game's most cautious pilot, was practically forced into that admission of his fighter's prowess by Patterson's smashing victory over knockout specialist Troy of Washington, D.C., at Madison Square Garden Friday night.
"Yes, he'll be ready for a shot at Archie Moore before the end of the year," D'Amato said. "He proved for sure Friday night he's got plenty of steel in his chin."
Troy had knocked out 23 of his previous 32 opponents.
But, meanwhile, Floyd will engage in his first scheduled 10-round bout on Jan. 17, against Don Grant of Los Angeles at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena. "Just how many 10-rounders he'll need after that, before tackling Moore, I don't know," said the wary mentor.
Patterson, 1952 Olympic Middleweight champion was rated fourth among professional light heavyweight contenders when he went into the ring Friday night for his last scheduled eight-round bout. The bout was slated for only eight sessions because the match was made before Floyd's 20th birthday last Tuesday. It was nationally televised and broadcast.
Scaling 166 pounds to Troy's 162, young Patterson gave 22-year-old Troy such a merciless battering that Dr. Vincent Nardiello, referee Al Beril and Troy's manager, Al Weil agreed Willie

Table with 4 columns: Player, FG, FT, F, P. Lists statistics for Reapers and Nixon players.

Scotty didn't make the first day of the tournament "because I'm going on 78, and I only come out now in good weather."
Thursday's weather was miserable, made up of rain, a biting wind in gusts to 40 miles an hour and 48-degree temperature. "It didn't seem right without him," said a woman member of the gallery as she looked fondly on Scotty Friday. "I'll have to come back to the ninth green just to hear him," said another woman.
Scotty beamed as Babe Didrikson Zaharias approached the front line of the Inglewood Country Club course over which the diversified Los Angeles Open is being played.
"Now here comes the greatest woman athlete of all time," he announced to the gallery. "When this girl comes up, give her a big cheer, this girl who defeated cancer and everything."
"I'll give her my kilt if she wants it," he said.
The crowd complied with a cheer and Mrs. Zaharias kissed the cheek.
Scotty said he came by his colorful role in the Los Angeles Open after, in 1925, taking some 20 professionals to Honolulu to play golf. "We got to the tournament and nobody knew the players," he said Saturday. "So I put on kilts and began announcing them."
Scotty was a good left-handed golfer. He thinks Bud Holcher of Santa Monica is the most promising youngster among the professionals who begin the long winter tour with the Los Angeles Open.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 - UP - Harold Worst, 25-year-old world three-cushion billiard champion, will open a 600-point exhibition match against Joe Chamaco, Mexico City, Sunday.

South Rallies To Nip North, 12-6

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 8-UP - Husky Frank Eldom, hard-running Southern Methodist halfback, powered the South to two second half touchdowns Saturday and a comeback behind 12-6 victory over North in the sixth Senior Bowl game before 34,000 fans.
Eldom paced Dixie drives of 76 and 63 yards to overcome a six-point north lead registered in the second quarter largely on the work of Dick Young, a Chattanooga choo-choo running on the wrong track for the Yankees.
Bobby Freeman, quarterback of Auburn's Gator Bowl champions, fed the ball drive to Eldom in the South's scoring efforts and picked up valuable yardage himself on keep plays to maintain the Dixie momentum.
Evens Series
The Southerners' victory in the annual professional preview for graduating collegians evened the record at three and three for the series. The winners picked up checks of $500 each and the losers $400 apiece as the all-stars got their first taste of pro-gold.
The South, outcharged in the first half, came back in the third period full of fire and started a scoring drive from its own 24. Maryland's Dick Bielski, hero of the South's victory in the recent Miami North-South game, was a leading light in planting the ball on the Yankee 38. Eldom carried the ball to the 10. In a series of rapid plunges, he drove to the four on the next play. Bielski failed to convert but in the remaining few minutes of the game the North couldn't move.
The North moved quickly to its second period touchdown after the South dominated play in the first quarter and after two field goal attempts by Bielski fell wide and short. Minnesota's Bob McNamara found a wide hole off right tackle and raced 31 yards to the South 44. With the help of an outside penalty, the Yankees moved down to

Sugar Ray Pitted Against 'Tiger'

CHICAGO, Jan. 7-UP - Ray Robinson's second "comeback" bout in a bid to regain the world middleweight title will be against "Tiger" James in the Chicago Stadium Jan. 19, the International Boxing Club announced Friday.
Robinson, who formerly also held the world welterweight title before he gained the 160 pound crown, opened his "comeback" Wednesday with a sixth round knockout of Joe Rindone in Detroit.
The Jones bout was made by the IBC, a spokesman said, over the objections of Robinson's new manager, Joe Glaser, who contended "Jones is a little too tough at this point."
However, the IBC said that secretary Truman Gibson insisted it was "Jones or nobody."
Golfers to Compete
CHICAGO, Jan. 7-UP - Ed Furgol, National Open champion, and Babe Zaharias, National Women's champion, have consented to compete in the 1953 National Golf Day tourney, June 4. The pair will play in a foursome in San Francisco, and their scores will be judged against all other entrants who will play on their home courses throughout the nation.

Contracts Mailed To All Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7-UP - Contracts for 1953 have been mailed to all St. Louis Cardinal players living outside the St. Louis area.
Redbird Vice President Bill Walsingham announced Thursday that the contracts called for pay cuts in some cases, increases in others. But he refused to say which players would be asked to take cuts and which would get raises.
Cardinal players who live in the area are expected to come to the Cardinal office later to discuss salary.
These include Stan Musial, six-time National League batting champion, who is top man on the payroll at a reported $80,000.
Rookie pitcher Brooks Lawrence, who was given a raise for his 15-6 record last year, is the only Cardinal under contract so far.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 7-UP - Bob Grim, the American League's most valuable rookie in 1954, has signed his 1955 contract with the New York Yankees. Grim, who won 20 games and lost six in his first year in the majors, was understood to have received substantial raise in pay after turning down the Yankees' first offer.
Investigation Hinted
WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 7-UP - Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), incoming chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Friday his group may investigate possible racketeering in boxing. Magnuson said the committee was qualified to investigate the sport because of the large number of bouts being televised.

The Shamrock girls won their second straight conference game against no losses with a 47-38 win over the Dalhart lassies.
Dalhart, however, evened the score for the night by winning the boys game, 63-42.
Connie Lewis led the Shamrock girls with 30 points. Nancy Stofy was high for Dalhart with 17. Shamrock led at the first quarter mark, 9-7, but dropped two points behind at halftime, 19-17. The locals then regained the lead, 30-28, after three quarters and led rest of the way.
It was the first conference loss for Dalhart in three games.

Farm Housing Not Enjoying Big Boom

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—UP—One phase of construction activity which is not enjoying the current boom is farm housing.

The farm home construction situation has been showing minus in recent years, though farm home improvement activity has been plus.

The decline in new farm house building has stopped or is stopping, according to some experts. Others say it simply is slowing down.

Farm housing is not reported with the frequency and accuracy of non-farm construction, mostly because the building permit requirements in farm areas are fewer than in city areas. So building reports are fewer.

Statistics Show Fall

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that spending for farm house construction in 1953 fell about eight per cent, to a level of $690 million. It is estimated unofficially that the 1954 decline was roughly the same.

The 1953 total for privately-financed new construction of non-farm residences was almost $12 billion and the final 1954 figure should be at least a billion higher.

At the time of the 1950 census there were 27.1 million non-farm houses in the United States and 5.7 million farm houses.

The major factor behind the shrinkage of farm house construction has been the decline of farm income in the past three years. Similarly, the 1955 construction outlook is based on anticipation that farm income this year will be relatively stable, or only slightly lower than last year.

Population Shifts

A small counter-force to the downward trend in farm housing construction is the general population shift from urban to suburban and rural living. This is not enough to lick the over-all decline, however.

A statistic which indicates an improvement in farm housing is an Agriculture Department report that 92 per cent of the nation's farms had electric service as of last June 30. This compared with 91 per cent in 1953 and 77 per cent in 1950.

The 1950 census also reported 17 per cent of farm houses as "dilapidated."

To improve the condition of farm housing, the Agriculture Department conducts experiments at its research center in Beltsville, Md., just outside Washington. The center currently is working on temperature conditions in an aluminum house built in cooperation with the Reynolds Metals Co.

There are four other experimental houses at the center, occupied by families involved in farm research projects.

Bulletins Circulate

On the basis of earlier experiments, the department circulates a "Your Farm Home" series of plans and information bulletins on remodeling, heating, insulating and such things as planning a kitchen or bathroom.

The farmers get their construction and improvement loans from land banks, insurance companies, commercial banks, individuals and mortgage companies.

The Farm Credit Administration estimates $1,398,000,000 of mortgages were recorded in the first nine months of 1954. This was slightly higher than the corresponding months of 1953.

These mortgage totals cover a lot more than new housing, so they do not reflect the housing trend.

The total of farm mortgage debt, about $8 billion on January 1, did, however, lead to a recent observation by C. R. Arnold, a former governor of the Credit Administration. He said farm finances are generally in a "healthy position."

Stokowski, Wife To Talk Divorce

NEW YORK, Jan. 8—UP—An attorney for Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski said the 30-year-old heiress and her estranged husband, symphony conductor Leopold Stokowski, 73, would meet Monday to discuss a divorce and custody of their two children.

Arnold Krakover, an attorney engaged by Gloria, said he believed the couple would quickly reach "an amicable solution of all the issues." The heiress and the famed conductor were married nine years ago and separated last Dec. 27.

Friends said that Gloria, who is seeking a career in the theater, probably would go to Florida or Nevada and get a "quickie" divorce on "innocuous" grounds, such as incompatibility.

Aid Recommended to Spain

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—UP—A House subcommittee Saturday recommended that the United States continue defense aid to Spain and at the same time try to encourage more private enterprise. Its report said that if the Spanish economy can be weaned away from a host of restrictions, a climate can be created in which private investment can replace or supplement governmental aid to a great extent.

CRMWA Expected To Set Vote Date

The Canadian River Municipal Water Authority board of directors Monday holds its first meeting of the new year and is expected to set an election date for the proposed CRMWA water contract and $73 million bond issue.

Meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday in the Hotel Hilton, Plainview, and Lynn Boyd and B. D. Robison, the two Pampans on the board, are expected to be on hand.

Boyd and Robison told the board of directors Dec. 13 that the City of Pampa would be willing to wait for a month the setting of the vote day. They also pointed out that the city favored a vote on both the water contract and the bond issue at the same time to save expense.

The contract vote would be local, which means each city must approve or disapprove it. The bond issue election, however, would be district-wide and only a simple majority of the total vote cast could be necessary to have it carry. One city could vote down the bond issue, but if the issue carried as a whole over the district, all 11 cities in the authority would be "in."

Mayor Is Ignored

LEBANON, Ind., Jan. 8—UP—Mayor Herbert L. Ransdell would like to visit the Republic of Lebanon with mayors of 20 other U.S. towns named Lebanon. But, unlike the other 20, he wasn't invited.

Ransdell was told that Mayor Chester Keith of Lebanon, Neb., and the other mayors were asked to visit Lebanon the first two weeks of March.

U. S. Asphalt Offices Moved Nearer Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—UP—The Asphalt Institute has moved from New York to within the shadows of the capital to keep closer tabs on legislation affecting its section of the petroleum industry.

It has set up shop at nearby Maryland University and, in addition to keeping its eye on the legislative mill, will expand its research and development.

Probably the most important bill in the offing, from the institute's standpoint, is President Eisenhower's multi-billion dollar federal-state highway building program. It could be the outlet for millions of tons of petroleum asphalt.

Mr. Eisenhower will hand the plan to Congress in a special message late this month. It is being whipped into a final shape by an advisory commission headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay and calls for $50 billion of roads over a 10-year span.

Institute Seeks Share

The institute will be out to get a big share of its members. So will the rival Portland Cement Association and the big rubber companies which claim a paving product superior to either asphalt or concrete.

It will be up to the new Democratic-controlled Congress whether the program gets off home plate. The President discussed it with the nation's governors last summer. Some favored it. Others asked: "Where is the money coming from?" This could be the stumbling bloc in Congress.

The Washington Post and Times Herald said after a preview of Clay's report that it will offer no advice to financially strapped states on how they can match federal contributions for highway building, as required by law. The states, themselves, have proposed that the government hand them exclusive rights to the gasoline tax field. The President is against this unless compensatory revenues are found.

Headquarters Are in New York

The Asphalt Institute, an international association of asphalt producers and refiners, had maintained headquarters in New York for 35 years.

"Its entire function," President J. E. Buchanan said, "is to represent a unified industry in its assumption of leadership in the highway construction and other related fields, for the benefit of the industry itself and the public good."

Last year the institute, with congressional help, won a reluctant concession from the U. S. Air Force that it would use asphalt in all but runways.

Aside from its closer liaison with Washington, the Institute in its new quarters will step up its research. Buchanan said it will work with university laboratories, libraries and the engineering faculty.

Cook's Nook

Good, fresh vegetable dishes that are different but not too fancy are always welcome. This potato and onion pie is a great dish for a hungry family.

Potato and Onion Pie
(Yield: 6 servings)

One and one-quarter pounds small white onions, 1/2 pound (4 medium) carrots, 1/2 inch boiling water in saucepan, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1.2 teaspoon salt, 1-1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1/4 cup carrot and onion stock, 1/2 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese, 3 cups fluffy mashed potatoes.

Peel onions, leave whole. Peel carrots, quarter and cut into 2-inch pieces. Put both, onions and carrots, in a saucepan with the 1/2-inch boiling water and salt. Cover. Boil 10 minutes, or until almost tender. Drain vegetables (save water to use in the cream sauce), and put into a 9x9x2-inch baking pan.

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Stir in milk and the carrot and onion stock. Cook until slightly thickened. Add cheese. Pour sauce over mashed potatoes. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes or until potatoes are brown.

Here is another recipe from Avanelle S. Day, an outstanding expert in fresh vegetable cookery: Kale in Sour Cream
(Yield: 4 servings)

One pound fresh kale, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1-1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 1/2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice, 1 cup sour cream.

Wash kale and trim off any defective parts. Cut into 2-inch pieces. Cook in a lightly-covered saucepan, with only the water that clings to the leaves, 7 to 9 minutes or until tender. Add salt, black pepper and sour cream. Heat only until hot — DO NOT BOIL.

Be sure to wash a brand new comb in hot soapsuds before running it through your locks. The comb may look clean, but generally it has an accumulation of store dust and fingermarks from customers. Washing it eliminates the danger of germs and unnecessary dirt.

Playsuits Brighten Midwinter Scene

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Loose tops, either wide or long (or both) worn over very tight pants, short or long, typify this year's resort playsuits.

Planter's pants are the newest length. These just cover the knee-cap, are sometimes called gorse-lies pants. There are lots of skin-tight long pants, too, in solid colors of bright prints. Plenty of very short, shorts, too. These are meant to be worn with a long, loose top that very nearly covers them.

Beach coats are cut straight and turn up in unexpected fabrics, like the hound's-tooth check. Playsuits continue in various versions of the Bermuda skirt. Some are permanently pleated cottons that flare and there are kilts in white linen.

There are lots of cottons with a hand-woven look. This means a coarse weave most often and interesting striped and checked patterns. Most designers are making use of mat jersey because they like the way it drapes and wraps and feel that it's practical because it packs beautifully.

Designers generally are making use of soft, easy fabrics with great drapability for playclothes this year.

Patience is tried to the extreme. Everything has gone wrong. You are tired, furious and irritable. Then Baby deliberately makes trouble. You lose your temper. All is stunned silence and sudden obedience. When things resume their normal course and you have had a cup of tea, you begin to feel guilty and feel like treating Baby to something special. Don't. He needs to know that you're a human being and have a breaking point, too. Tell him you lost your temper and you have never stopped loving him and it's all right now. Someday, he will lose his temper, too, and he will be reassured by the fact that others do it rather than feeling guilty and miserable because he can't be calm forever.

As he watched his wife pawing over the infant-wear counter, one husband remarked: "Look for the plastic lining." It is a sound idea, however poor the play on words. The little one-piece suits are perfect for Baby, but they can be awfully bulky when worn over diaper and waterproof pants. When they have the built-in waterproofing, they make much less of a bunch about the middle. Also a good feature is the crotch that snaps open for easy diapering. Wash them in warm water.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Gober

BABY

If someone in the neighborhood has a large celler, it is possible to store the used newspapers there until there are enough to sell. The small profit can go toward neighborhood play equipment or a community charity. Check with the rag and paper dealers to find out how much must be collected before they'll send a truck.

Fashion Features

A pleasant fashion surprise is the permanently pleated jersey dress that washes and drip dries. Pleats keep their knife sharpness, texture stays soft, lines won't sag.

An inexpensive and practical way to own and wear leopard is to have it in a small clutch bag, one with a snap top.

Newest bathing suits are one-piece, cut with square or camisole tops, often knitted. Orlon-and-las-tex is a popular combination; fast drying, lightweight.

The news in resort pants lies chiefly in the tops worn with them; big, bulky and loose and almost always in vivid colors.

Variation from an armload of golden bracelets is an armful of narrow bracelets set with fake rubies or emeralds, sapphires or amethysts.

Neatest look for a long sleeve-length, whether suit or coat, is the wristbone length white cotton glovelet. Washable, too, so it should always be snowy white.

The white satin trench coat for evening is a new idea in evening coats, is worn with glittering fake jewels and a tiny hat.

During your daily housekeeping rounds, take a soapy cloth along to wipe the children's fingermarks from the doorknobs.

Miss Jerry Hodges Named Best Pledge At Las Cresas Ball

QUEEN AND HER COURT — Miss Jerry Hodges, seated, was chosen best pledge and queen of Las Cresas Club's recent coronation ball. Other pledges were princesses. They are, left to right, Miss Rose Smith, Miss Jeanne Bullard, Miss Phyllis Phillips, Miss Wanita Anderson and Miss Margaret West. Not shown are Miss Carol Champion and Miss Sharon Hill.

Miss Jerry Hodges was named best pledge and crowned queen of the recent presentation dance and coronation ball of Las Cresas Club in the Elk Lodge. Miss Hodges was presented by her escort, "King" Kent Neighbors and given a bouquet of yellow roses by Miss Marietta Mitchell, club president.

The queen wore a white satin robe and presided from a throne covered with blue satin. Dona Lowell carried her train, and Gary Johnson carried the crown on a white satin pillow.

Each pledge, or princess, was also presented by her escort, or prince. Ronnie and Rodney Osborne pulled the curtains as each girl was introduced and given a crown of carnations. Miss Phyllis Phillips was presented by Jerry Boston; Miss Jeanne Bullard by Melvin Davis; Miss Rose Smith by James McGrath; Miss Juanita Anderson by Jimmy Goff; Miss Margaret West by Skipper Cuberson; and Miss Carol Champion by Gene Brown.

Music was provided by the Mel-Aires. Decorations followed a blue and white theme, and silhouettes of the princesses and princes decorated the walls.

You can remove the burnt taste from scorched milk by putting the pan in cold water and adding a pinch of salt to the milk.

If you're washing Fiberglas curtains, avoid wringing and squeezing which tend to "craze" the surface of any crisp fabric. Just swish them through soap suds and rinses, and hang to drip dry.

Merten HDC Has Nutrition Program

Mrs. Archie Maness was hostess to the Merten Home Demonstration Club meeting recently, with Mrs. Jack Prather conducting the business session. Mrs. V. Smith and Mrs. L. F. Watt were appointed food demonstrators, and Mmes. Archie Maness, Jack Howard and T. G. Groves were chosen clothing demonstrators.

The program on breakfasts was presented by Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent. Nutritionists advocate eating three meals a day in order to be physically well over a span of time, she told the women. Skipping breakfasts results in decreased work output, she advised.

A balanced daily diet, recommended by the Texas Food Standard, includes one pint of milk for adults per day and one quart for children; one egg; one serving of meat, fish or poultry; one serving of green or yellow vegetables; one other vegetable; one serving of citrus fruits or tomatoes, raw cabbage, strawberries, or melons; one other serving of fruit; one whole grain product; other enriched cereal and bread, butter or margarine, fortified with vitamins; some sweets; and six to eight glasses of water.

Next meeting will be an all-day session Jan. 15, with Mrs. Dave Rife, 1300 Christie.

Attending the event were Mmes. Jack Howard, John Brandon, Bob Brandon, Archie Maness, Dave Rife, Jack Prather, T. G. Groves, L. F. Watt, V. S. Day, and Miss Helen Dunlap.

More than 40,000 boys, between the ages of 11 and 15, compete in the annual Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio.

MILLER PHARMACY Monthly News

A Message from Joe Miller, "Your Pharmacist"

OVER 140,000 DIFFERENT DRUG STORE PRODUCTS are listed in the 1955 Drug Topics Price Book, and 14,126 of them are new items. No one drug store could possibly carry all of them in stock. But we do surprise, even ourselves, by usually having everything you may ask for, and we can and will get for you anything available as quickly as possible, because we know where they are obtainable.

SO MANY NEW PRESCRIPTION DRUGS are being perfected each month that we must constantly keep informed by reading our Pharmaceutical and Medical Journals. Also Drug firms send us information about new product releases even before they notify the Physicians, so that when Your Physician prescribes a new discovery, we usually have it in stock.

OPERATING A PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY is much more complicated than it used to be, when a few hundred chemicals and drugs were all that was necessary to stock a prescription department. Now we carry thousands of bottles containing medicines that were unknown less than 10 years ago.

THAT IS WHY we will appreciate it, if you will inform any Physician you may consult, even in the most distant of cities, that we can compound his prescriptions.

BOOK PATTERN

By BILL KERR Pampa News Staff Writer

The past few weeks have seen a rash of books published on the glittering street known as "Broadway" and the fabulous people who have made its name synonymous with the legitimate theater and the world of entertainment.

By Gardner, night-life columnist for the New York Herald Tribune and well-known devotee of that side of New York which seldom functions on all six cylinders before midnight, has added to the growing literature on the "Great White Way," and smaller ones throughout the country, a breezy volume on the critical and vaudeville lore. For some reason a good many of these books emanate from one of the side booths in New York's Lindy's Restaurant which has grown to immortality through the original efforts of Damon Runyon.

Gardner in his "Champagne Before Breakfast" tells one story which adequately portrays the thinking of many an old vaudeville, who through some process develops a way of thinking unintelligible to those of us whose occupations might be termed commonplace. Here it is somewhat paraphrased, with the aid of Bennett Cerf.

An old "has been" trouper is trying to put the bite on one of the big-name stars with whom he was buddies in the earlier days and says, "I guess you don't remember me, Sunny."

"Remember you!" boomed Sunny, spinning him half-way across the dressing room with a whack on the back. "You used to do about the most sensational act in vaudeville. . . . Say, you married the dame in your act didn't you?"

"That's right," agreed the down-and-outer hurriedly. "It's Florrie I've come to see you about. She's awful sick and we need $4,000 for an operation. I thought you might help."

Sunny didn't change expression, but continued talking. "Good Old Pete and Florrie, I never forget the thrills and laughs you gave people all over the country. . . . But Sunny mentioned he had his problems and wouldn't be able to 'fork over' any cash and added: 'Give Florrie a kiss for me.'"

Trying to put the bite on another successful old-time associate, Pete shot crosswise to the Winter Garden and hit up the late Al Jolson.

"Sure I remember you," acknowledged Jolson. "How could I forget a corny act like yours. . . . What's on your mind?" Pete told him the same story that Florrie needed an operation and four G's would cover the expense.

Jolson immediately made out a check and said wryly "I hope Florrie comes through. And if she does, Pety, you two do me a favor. Open a candy store or something. The stage was never meant for plumbers like you."

Pete hurried home close to

Commission To Discuss Road, Parking

The new Gray County Commissioners Court Monday will discuss the maintenance of the county road adjacent to the Celanese plant and the possibility of Courthouse employees having designated parking places.

The session is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in the County Courtroom, according to County Judge Bruce Parker.

Letter Concerns Highways Judge Parker Saturday said he would present a letter from James Lott, Amarillo, district highway engineer, to the court. The letter concerns right-of-way problems and potential state maintenance.

The matter of Courthouse employees having a place to park — like the sheriff's office does — was brought up at the New Year's Day meeting, but was tabled. Too often, Judge Parker pointed out, Pampans working elsewhere than the Courthouse arrive early and park their cars by the Courthouse all day, keeping Courthouse em-

Tractor School Scheduled Here

Plans are being made for a tractor maintenance school for Gray County 4-H Club members and farmers in March, according to Asst. County Agent Jerry Mobley.

Mobley, along with Tom Anderson and Paul Eakin, 4-H adult leaders, returned recently from Lubbock where they attended a two-day tractor and farm machinery maintenance school, sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the Stanolind Oil Co. The three men will offer the school at the Hereford Breeders Barn in Recreation Park. Mobley said there are 675 tractors in Gray County.

Med Student Apparently A Suicide

SHAWNEE, Kan., Jan. 8—UP—The body of Norman Seibel, medical student missing since Dec. 19, was found by a hunter in a 50-foot well and sheriff Norman Williams said Saturday an apparent suicide note was discovered with it.

Seibel, 24-year-old senior at the University of Kansas Medical Center, had a bullet hole above his right ear. A gun was found near the well.

The Hillsboro, Kan., man, who was to have been graduated at the end of this month, had been the subject of a widespread FBI search. Sheriff Williams said the note found with the body was tucked inside a toilet article he that was beneath the body. Asked if he was satisfied it was a suicide, he said, "No, I wouldn't say that. I want the note checked by a handwriting expert first."

Johnson County Coroner Dr. David S. Long said an autopsy was not completed, but he had found a bullet hole an inch above the right ear. Long said it was possible for Seibel to have shot himself and fallen into the well, while the gun fell where it was found.

A young hunter, James D. Earnshaw, 19, discovered the 22-caliber revolver while he was kicking brush in the area to scare out game rabbits.

Four Given Prison Terms By Goodrich

Five defendants pleaded guilty to felonies in 31st District Court Friday. Four of the men received prison terms and one was put on five-years probation.

Judge Lewis M. Goodrich sentenced Elmer J. Kilpatrick and Charles A. Cato to 12-year prison terms for the burglary and theft Nov. 26 of $150 in goods from the George Dillman residence south of Pampa. Harlan H. Belt drew a two-year sentence for a second offense of driving while intoxicated.

Harold Lloyd Davis was remanded to the state prison to serve a four-year term for forgery. Marlon Vandever, Jr., was given a five-year probationary sentence in connection with burglary Nov. 19 of the home of Walter Towle.

The two-year probationary sentence of Kenneth Ray Beesley was revoked after he broke probation in connection with a local burglary.

Vatican Bans Book VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8—UP—The Vatican announced Friday that a book written by a French priest containing "dangerous" psychological theories on chastity has been banned publicly. The book "Christian Life and Sex Problems," was written by Abbe Marco Orsillon.

'Dinky' Schools Hit By Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 8—UP—Outgoing Governor Johnston Murray said Saturday "There are just too many little dinky one-horse schools in the state," and they are not giving children a square deal.

Murray spoke on schools, roads, and mental health in his last bi-weekly radio "Report to the People" before leaving the governor's mansion.

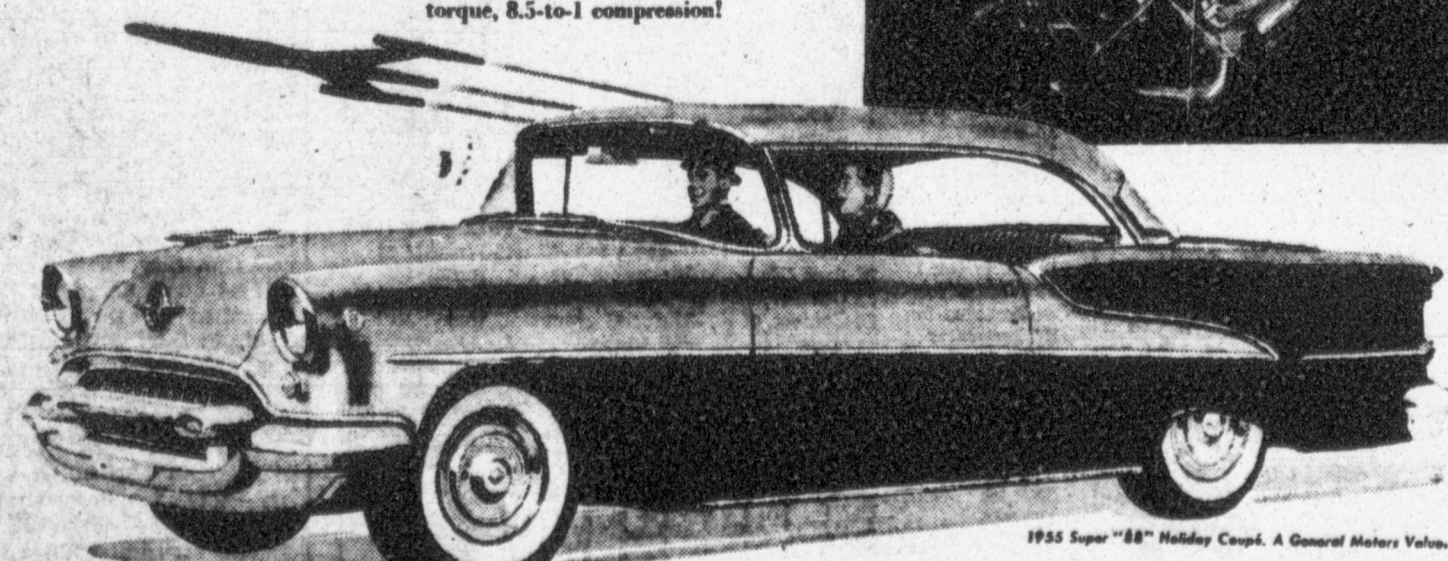

"Administrative costs in all branches of education still are excessive," Murray said. "There is a great need for consolidation of school districts.

"In plain words, there are just too many little dinky one-horse schools in the state that are not giving the children a square deal in education."

Pope Recovers From Cold VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8—UP—Vatican sources said Saturday that Pope Pius XII, still weak from his recent illness, developed a cold this week but overcame it quickly. The sources said the cold was light and never gave cause for alarm. It did not interfere with the 78-year-old pontiff's work or his afternoon drives in the Vatican Gardens.

NEA Grows Bolder

It becomes more evident that the National Education Association is getting bolder and bolder in the demand of the leaders for greater federal control over the public school system and those who have been looking to the NEA for "leadership" in the field of education had better be looking AT NEA.

Latest bit of evidence is contained in a news report which says that the NEA "will make an all-out effort next year for a multi-million dollar federal aid program to construct badly-needed schools."

The story then goes on to report that "Congressional supporters are expected to ask the House and Senate to authorize from 500 million to one billion dollars annually for such a program over a period of years."

Those who can see no wrong in the public school system but insist that "control be at the local level" ought to be getting concerned about such reports. They ought to realize that control of public schools today is not operated at the local level but at the state level and that it becomes more and more apparent that those who would federalize and centralize our government are not going to rest until there is a total federal control over the public school system.

Once again, as it has happened so often in the past, we are supposed to be foolish enough to be willing to send our own dollars to Washington, take the bureaucratic loss there, and get some of the dollars back in the form of federal grants and federal control.

Certainly it is time for the American people to realize that the people interested in big government and control are vitally concerned with gaining control of the public school system. It has been demonstrated that there is no better place to start indoctrination of the statist idea than in the public, government-controlled schools, and such an opportunity is not to be passed over lightly by those who would destroy the free America that we once knew.

If we seem to have difficulty in maintaining the kind of schools the people want with control at the state level, how much more difficult will it be to avoid totalitarianism when full control is taken over by the bureaucrats in Washington. It's time to wake up, America!

Point Of No Return

Though one may continue living, there are some diseases from which the body does not fully recover. Likewise the body politic may not recover from certain maladies which seize it. Socialism is one such malady.

A recent news dispatch from New Zealand tells how little five years of Conservative government in that country have been able to accomplish in undoing the socialistic measures instituted by a left-wing government during the fourteen year period prior to 1949. To quote from the dispatch:

"There has been no reduction in the cradle-to-grave social security structure built up by the socialists. In fact, the system has been extended in some respects. Any government that attempted to reduce it would be committing political suicide, in spite of the fact that it now absorbs at least half of all tax revenues."

It is difficult to unscramble an egg. Once the fabric of freedom has been destroyed there seems no way to rehabilitate it short of complete destruction and reorganization.

Those who want more socialization in our country and for increasing restrictions and controls over the freedom of American citizens should take this lesson to heart. Do we want the so-called welfare state program to absorb half of our tax revenue as it does in New Zealand?

Actually this high cost is the result of only 14 years of left-wing government after five years of recuperation. We in America have had 20 years of government spending and development of governmental regulations and controls. Many of these controls are less serious than those in a totally socialistic state, but many of them are the recommendations of Karl Marx just as he planned the future subjugation of man to the communistic state.

Unless the people become alert to this situation and demand a halt in further socialization and a demobilization of much that already has been done, we shall soon arrive at the point of no return. From there on it will continue to be a descent into the bottomless pit of less freedom and more government with decreasing production and increasing suffering and poverty.

If Aggressive Force Were Removed In Education

I want to continue to quote from Leonard E. Read's new book "Government—An Ideal Concept." Mr. Read is the president of the Foundation for Economic Education, Inc.

In the last issue Read was explaining that aggressive force is always evil no matter how good the objective may be. Under the heading of "If Aggressive Force Were Removed" Read writes:

"Now, let us imagine that all the aggressive aspects of education were removed—the forced attendance, the dictated curricula, the compulsory collection to meet the expenses thereof. Let us imagine that the entire educational endeavor were left exclusively to self-determination — as self-determination is religion in America now is."

"What would happen? 'No one can know! Some will say that this is a retreat from this argument. On the contrary, it is in support of the argument.'

"No one can completely predict what will happen to you if you are compelled to do as someone else says. One can predict, however, that you will not function fully in a creative sense if others can succeed in acting authoritatively over you, in placing obstacles in your way. But no one can know at all what you will do creatively if released from obstacles. Indeed, you cannot make such predictions yourself. What new idea will you have tomorrow? What invention? What will you do if a new necessity, an unexpected responsibility, presents itself? No one can know."

"Confining the discussion to education, assume that you are no longer compelled to send Johnnie to school. No government committee prescribes what Johnnie must study. No government tax collector takes a penny of your income for schooling."

"Is Johnnie in any less need of learning than before? Are other persons—teachers, for instance—any less wise or less available for counsel and employment? Is there less money for educational purposes? Would you spend the amount you are no longer compelled to pay in taxes on cigarettes or whiskey or vacations rather than on Johnnie's education? If so, you value Johnnie's education less than you value your own consumption of cigarettes and whiskey."

"You make a choice—a choice that you obviously think to be the better alternative. Like you would not if it became only a man would claim that he had decided to choose what he values least when he could choose what he values most. Shall we say someone else thinks your judgment is bad if you decide to favor whiskey over education? Do you wish someone else to force you to behave his way? You can't possibly say that you think your choice is the best and accept, at the same time, someone else's verdict that it is the worst. That is utter nonsense. Aggressive force, if applied to you, can only contradict your judgments. If applied to others, it can only contradict their judgments. Who possibly can be the appropriate aggressor, they or you? Or a political committee which cannot be better than the lowest common denominator of them and you?"

"Religion and education are just as self-determining as religion? Is education more important than religion? Americans condemn Russians, for instance, more for being ungodly than for knowing how to make little else than vodka and caviar that can compete in international trade. If we were to do this to communists for their ungodliness, how can we support ungodliness by favoring aggressive force in our own country? Authoritarianism is but man trying to 'play God' by trying to cast others in his own infinitesimal image."

"Are high moral standards and improving attitudes toward one's life and toward the lives of others—prime objects of religion—of less value than knowing how to read or write or to add two and two? Indeed, are not education and religion intimately personal matters, one as much as the other? Is the education of another any more of one's business than the religion of another? And if one is concerned, should he seek to attend to his own interest by placing obstacles in the way of others—that is, by employing aggressive force to others?"

"In most countries, and certainly in America, the idea of being compelled by government to attend churches, or having government dictation of the subjects clergymen must speak about, or having the expenses of religious institutions forcibly collected by the tax man, would be repulsive in the extreme. Why do people believe in aggressive force for education and self-determination for religion? Logically, there appears to be no basis for the distinction. Tradition, custom living with a mistake so long that reason is rarely brought to bear—may be the explanation."

"Another explanation may be the belief that parents simply would not adequately finance the education of their children. In one city (Pittsburgh, Pa.) where some research has been done, it is estimated that voluntary contributions to all churches exceed $15,000,000 annually. This is three-fourths of the annual compulsory collection for all their government schools! Right or wrong, most people think that education in temporal matters is more important than instruction in spiritual matters. There is little question about adequate voluntary support of education were there no compulsion."

Rehabilitation Of Asia Will Tax Genius Of U. S.

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The rehabilitation of Southeast Asia and building of a strong resistance system to Chinese Communist conquest of that strategic area will tax the genius and resources of the United States far more than postwar reconstruction of the organized and industrial nations of Europe.

It is an entirely different kind of rescue operation from any we have attempted in the past, and it is a question whether we are equipped with the facilities, the personnel and the understanding for this responsibility. We are running short of trained and available scientists and technicians.

Fortunately, our diplomatic and military experts on the ground do not expect Ho Chi Minh to invade Southern Indo-China, Laos, Cambodia or Thailand now or in the near future. Since they have virtually no defense, he could overrun them easily by force of arms. But certain more important considerations deter him from outright or immediate violence.

Any aggression would alienate India and the whole Asian bloc on the eve of the April conference of 30 Asian nations, to which Ho Chi Minh has been invited. He wants to appear there as an advocate of "peaceful coexistence," and to win the participating powers to his side in the struggle with the West. He also needs time, perhaps five or ten years, to modernize his area into the "show window of Communism" in the Far East.

Ho Chi Minh, according to this analysis, will continue his steady infiltration strategy, especially in Southern Indo-China, where the French and Americans still operate. He looks forward to the 1956 elections provided in the Geneva Treaty, when the non-communist portion will vote for independence or union with the communist regime in the northern section.

He expects to win in that contest and there are indications that he will succeed. French colonial rule, together with a weak and corrupt native government, has given the West a bad name in this region.

The people of Cambodia, Laos and Thailand, however, are violently anti-Communist, although not particularly pro-West. They simply want to be left unmolested in their beautiful, liberty-loving, easy-going and self-sufficient world. Composed mostly of Buddhists and converted Catholics, the inhabitants dislike the Chinese.

McCarthy has not split the Republican Party. Persons split the Republican Party. The Republicans are divided between those who want to know, "who promoted Perce?" and those who hope that we will never know. It is divided between those who fight for this country and those who congratulate the people who fight against it.

My strength is as the strength of ten because my heart is pure. Remember this line from Tennyson's "Sir Galahad": "It's aye you thought this was merely a fanciful exaggeration or a pretty figure of speech?"

Well, Ray Vicker, writing in a recent issue of "The Wall Street Journal" about vacuum-metal materials, says: "Metallurgists are discovering that impurities in metals are frequently responsible for failure of key parts under great stress.... In some metals such as germanium, impurities of only one part per million are enough to make the metal useless for certain electronic applications."

Vicker quotes David E. Stokes, of the F. J. Stokes Machine Co. of Philadelphia, maker of vacuum furnaces, as saying: "Metals have been made by the vacuum process (which prevents the molten metal from picking up impurities) with strengths of up to one million pounds per square inch as compared with 100,000 for ordinary high-tensile steel." (That's ten to one.)

Long ago the Psalmist said: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart...."

invade for the reasons already noted. But it is doubtful if the United States has enough experts to train thousands of artisans, nurses, doctors, teachers, highway builders, administrators, sanitary experts, etc. Our ablest man in the field of Asians and reform — Wolf Ladejnsky — was Russian-born, and he has just been fired as an alleged "security risk." Final disposition of his case now depends upon Presidential action.

Plans For Expanding TVA Has Politicians Squirming

By THURMAN SENSING

It is quite interesting and rather enlightening to see how the advocates of public power, and the political supporters thereof, are squirming as plans are being presented for the Tennessee Valley Authority to finance its own expansion.

One would think that this is the very solution the TVA advocates would have been looking for. They have been complaining about a threatened shortage of power due to failure of Congress to provide funds necessary for expansion, particularly for building new steam plants, and self-financing should provide all the funds needed for this purpose.

But do they welcome this new plan with open arms, as one would expect? Not by any means. In fact, they don't welcome it at all. And why? Because it takes control of the TVA out of the hands of the politicians. It deprives them of the main plank in the platform on which they have been running for office in the Valley area for more than twenty years.

All these years, the politicians have been loudly proclaiming the wonderful benefits they have been providing the people by obtaining Congressional appropriations for expansion of the TVA. They have been telling the people that their whole prosperity has been due to the fact that they helped get the TVA for them in the first place and continued to get appropriations for it in the second place. They have been saying this so long that most of the people believe them and it has reached the point where it would apparently be political suicide for a candidate to campaign on other than a "Support the TVA" platform.

But what will be the case now, if the new plans for self-financing of the TVA go through? The politicians will be left with a big hole in their platform. Their battery will be gone. They can no longer "point with pride" and tell the people, "See what we got for you to support and expand the TVA." The TVA would not need the politicians, or their backers, a policy longer.

The solution for a socialistic agency, such as the TVA, is not to give that agency a blank check and free it of all Congressional restraints. In effect, make it a law unto itself. The solution is to return it to the private enterprise system on which the whole economic structure of our country is based.

It would be a relief to those who operate the TVA, certainly, to no longer have to annually present their claims for support to Congress. It would be a relief to government officials responsible for "raving up the budget not to be pulled and tugged at from various directions in connection with TVA appropriations. But those who work for the TVA could just as easily work for a private operating company. And it is certainly true that government officials have no budget trouble with private power companies. On the other hand these companies pay taxes into the federal treasury — something that the TVA does not do.

After all is said and done, there is no need on the part of anyone having it in all other areas. And if it is right to socialize the electric power industry, it must be right to socialize the coal mining and the railroads, and all other industries. Whichever way the question is decided, we should never overlook WHAT is being decided.

And if it is right to have socialized electricity in the Tennessee Valley, it must be right to have it in all other areas. And if it is right to socialize the electric power industry, it must be right to socialize the coal mining and the railroads, and all other industries. Whichever way the question is decided, we should never overlook WHAT is being decided.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Not long ago I received a letter from a correspondent who stated that she and her husband while taking a motor trip and staying in many different places picked up some lice. She writes that they have been unable to get rid of them.

These letters indicate that these dangerous and unpleasant insects are a menace even now, though there is always more trouble from them in times of war, famine, and overcrowded conditions.

SOME PEOPLE SEEM to have a special attraction for lice. Indeed lice will desert the bodies of those who are less attractive for them for more desired locations. There are several kinds of lice which may infest human beings. Most of them like the human scalp except for the so-called "crab louse" which prefers the groin.

Lice lay eggs, or nits, on the body. These hatch in about seven days. The nits are not destroyed by most treatments, so that they must usually be taken care of in some other way.

THE PRINCIPAL methods of control are prevention of infestation and treatment of the unfortunate person who has acquired this vermin. Personal cleanliness is the most important part of prevention. There is no doubt that bathing in warm water and the use of soap at least once a week, together with frequent changes into clean clothing, reduces the chances of acquiring lice. In rapidly growing communities these vermin are frequently found even among clean families.

In the past treatment was often difficult because the substances which poisoned lice did not always work and their applications took a great deal of time and work on the part of the patient. Now, partly as a result of experience learned during the war, there are several quite satisfactory methods of eliminating lice from the human body.

THESE NEWER methods include the use of DDT powder, a substance known as benzyl benzoate, and for body lice a kind of bomb made up of what is called ground pyrethrum, which can be sprayed over the entire body in a few seconds providing a suitable place for use is available. In order to make any of these treatments successful, however, it is important to follow directions closely and, in the case of head lice, to wash the female louse lays from 50 to 150 eggs a day and the average louse will live for from thirty to forty days. We could part with this insect companion of man without regrets.

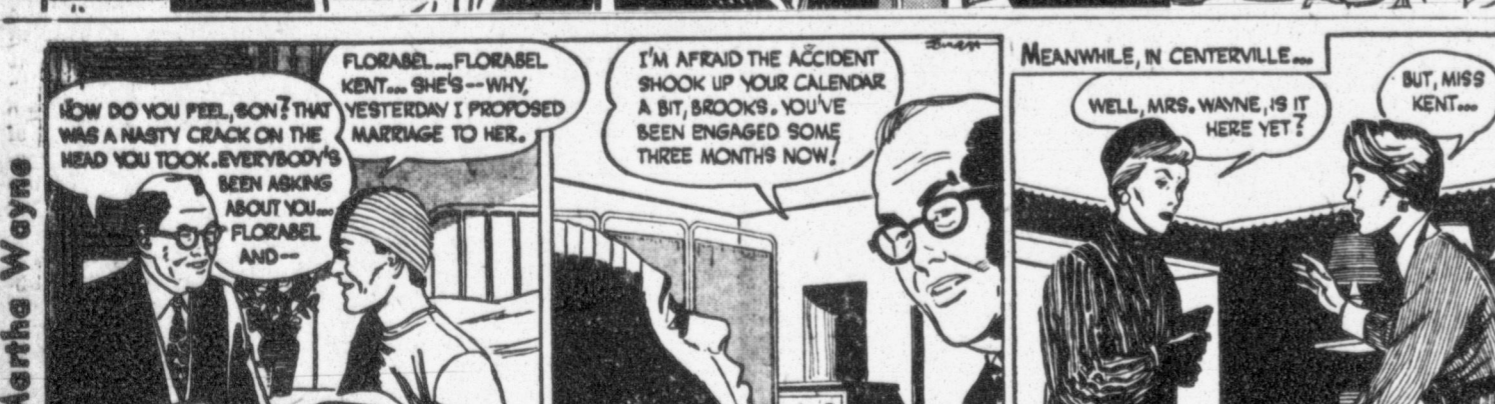

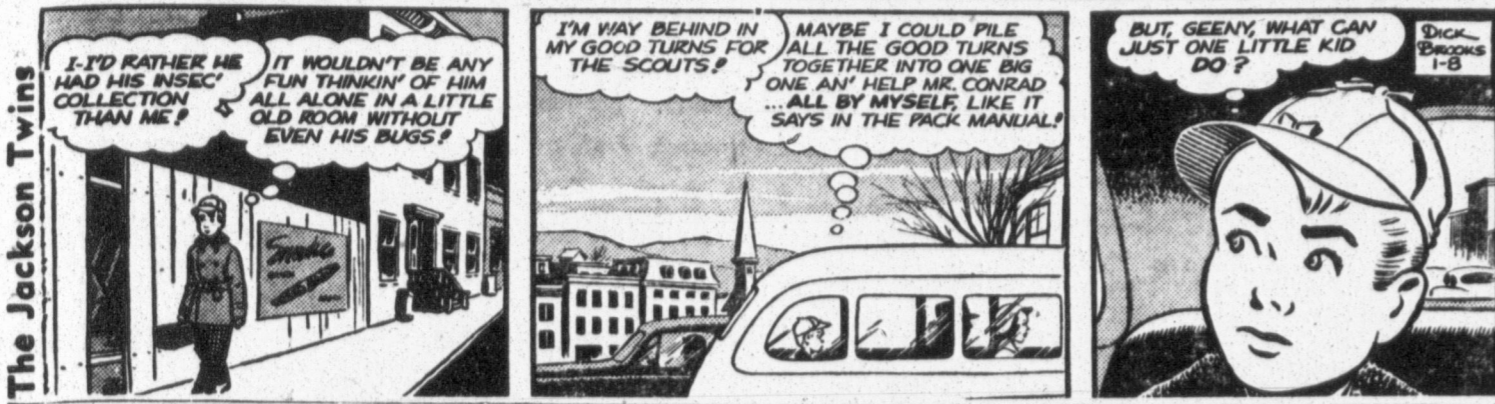

Besides the discomfort and embarrassment of having lice, there is real danger involved. Several diseases such as typhus and plague are carried by lice and the more people have them the more risk there is of spreading those diseases.

ANNOUNCING

The New 1955 FORD Tractors!

Ford Motor Company's new "500" series, full three-plow tractors are designed for heavy work in all types of soil. Shown above is the 860 model, equipped with live power take-off. It and the 850 model both are powered by Ford's field-proven "Red Tiger" engine with power increased by 30 per cent, and both have five-speed transmissions. Another power series, the "600" with three models, also is offered by Ford for 1955, marking the first time in the almost half-century history of Ford tractor production that the Company has offered more than a single size tractor. Both the 600 and 800 series are equipped with headlights and taillight as standard equipment.

THE 4-PLOW DIESEL

In addition to the 850 and 860 Ford Tractors, we have a full 4-plow Ford Diesel Tractor called the Fordson Major Diesel which is famous for economy of operation and complete with Ford's famous hydraulic 3-point hook-up for implements. This Ford Tractor is also excellent for all makes of draw-bar one-way and chisel plows.

Godfrey's Right-Hand Man Is Planning TV Film Venture

MARS, HERE WE COME

These six small-fry crewmen are all set to take off in their "space ship" for a quick hop to Mars. The ship was built by Benjamin McMicken, of San Diego, Calif., for his nine-year-old, Robert, right, and his playmates. The ship took eight months to build. Each of the crewmen has a specific "control panel" to operate the ship's "radio," "radio," navigation, piloting, etc. (NEA Telephoto)

NEW YORK, Jan. 8—UP—Frank Parker, veteran tenor of the Arthur Godfrey programs, is branching out. But have no fear — he says he has the maestro's blessing. Parker, who produced a Broadway play years ago, and has delved into every phase of show business over the years, has formed an independent TV and film producing company with Roy P. Steckler, who has done some stage producing in the past.

The first effort of the new firm will be turning out 26 half hour filmed dramas in color for television. The scripts will be based on stories by prominent modern authors such as Mory Callaghan, Christopher Morley, Ray Bradbury and the late Fulton Oursler.

Greendale is Adapter Alexander Greendale, who has written for the theater, is their chief adapter.

The firm has already started operations after acquiring the rights to enough properties to fill out the first series of 26 shows. Ever since the hero (Wally Cox) of "Mr. Peepers" married his TV sweetheart, Nancy Remington (Patricia Bennett), in the script late last spring just as the program took its summer holiday from "live" showings, there has been talk about a Peepers baby showing up in the proceedings this season.

The revelation a couple of months ago that Patricia was to become a real life mother touched off new speculation that this even might be tied in naturally with the script as in the famous "I Love Lucy" blessed event.

Pat Will Carry On
This will not be done. Pat, who expects her baby early in the summer, is expected to carry on normally as Nancy for the rest of the season. If it is necessary later to show her only in special shots, that will be done.

As a matter of fact she may figure little in the scripts for a few weeks beginning shortly because the plan is for Peepers to have some solo adventures in England where the story line calls for him to go to pick up an inheritance. There will be a Peepers baby eventually, but all signs now point to this script situation popping up after the new series begins next fall.

The original early morning TV show, NBC's "Today," will be three years old Jan. 14. Dave Garraway and the rest of the crew will be bringing the program to you from Miami, Fla., on this occasion.

Here's a passage-of-time item to cheer you up:

Dick Cotler, one of the original members of Jack Barry's "Juvenile Jury" program on radio nine years ago, is now writing special material and songs for Jack's use when the latter gives a new twist to his career soon by making TV guest appearances as a variety performer.

NBC's "Comedy Hour" Sunday night, starring Bob Hope, comes to you by courtesy of the U. S. Air Bases in Greenland and Labrador.

The comedian took some 20 entertainers up north to entertain the isolated airmen during the New Year's week end, and the performances were put on film. The film was edited in Hollywood to cull out the best and trim it to the TV time slot of one hour.

"It was so cold up there that I admired the ear rings of Hedda Hooper (who was along) for two days before I realized they were icicles," said Hope.

Crosby Signs With CBS
Bing Crosby has signed with CBS to do two one-hour filmed TV

A "new method of staging biography" will be featured on the CBS "Omnibus," with the first venture involving four generations of the Adams family.
