Nationalists Step Up Attacks On Red China

British Ship Sunk During Air Strikes

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 20 - UP - Chinese Nationalist fighter-bombers carried out their second consecutive massive attack against Communist shipping Thursday, and a British freighter was reported sunk in Swatow harbor.

The Nationalist planes hit a 300-mile stretch of the South China coast from the Amoy-Swatow section north to the threatened Tachen Islands in an all-out effort to ease the Communist threat of new invasions.

Official naval sources in Hong Kong said the 1,700-ton British freighter Edendale was caught in an attack Wednesday night in the Communist port and sunk. The captain and crew were reported safe.

Another British ship, the Inchkilda, was heavily damaged last fall when it was caught in the Communist port of Swatow by a Nationalist bombing attack.

The Nationalists flew more than 200 sorties for the second consecutive day in an effort to halt the flow of Communist reinforcements to invade Yikiangshan Island and other jumping off places in the Tachen group 200 miles north of Formosa.

The Nationalist planes ranged from Amoy 300 miles north to Tachen while Defense Minister Yu Ta-wei discussed "matters of great importance" with U.S. Ambassador Karl L. Rankin. Yu called the attacks purely a defense action, a spokesman said.

The island battline was aflame at both ends with die-hard Nationalists on Yikiangshan battling Red invaders in a desperate fight for survival while Nationalist artillery hurled more than 500 shells against Red-held Cheuchy Island near Quemoy, just off of Amoy.

Hit Motorized Junks - The Nationalists using American-made F-84 Thunderjets, claimed the sinking of a large transport northwest of Haichen and the damaging of four large 2,000-ton ships in Swatow harbor. In addition they hit "numerous" motorized junks. A defense ministry communique confirmed that Nationalist resistance had not yet ended on the rocky island of Yikiangshan.

Check Artist Gets 60 Days - E. D. Andrews, 24, of Canadian, was sentenced to 60 days in jail Wednesday for swindling with a worthless check. He pleaded guilty in County Court before Judge Bruce Parker. Andrews passed the worthless check Monday at Addington's Western Store, 119 S. Cuyler.

Chuckle Corner - By HAL COCHRAN. Two girls from a laundry pulled to safety a fireman who was overcome by smoke. And not a button on his uniform was missing.

Shamrock Club To Sponsor Craft Show - SHAMROCK (Special). Arts and Crafts Show, believed to be the first of its kind in this section of Texas, will be held here Jan. 27 in the National guard armory. Some 25 craftsmen will show their work from 5 to 9:30 p.m., according to Mrs. John Cullers, general chairman for the Thursday Heritage Club, sponsor.

Tip-Top Texan Of Year Picked

To Be Named Sunday

The selection of Pampa's Tip-Top Texan of the Year was made yesterday at a meeting of a secret committee. The selection will be announced Sunday. The choice was made from a group of 24 persons who were spotlighted in a special Monday feature of the Pampa Daily News during 1954.

The feature began in The News July 12. It includes a portrait-type picture and a biographical sketch of some outstanding citizen in the Top of Texas area. The selection of a Tip-Top Texan of the Year is a project of The Pampa Daily News to give a special award to some member of the community or area who has made a lasting impression on his fellow citizens.

Will Get Award - A. was pointed out in the committee meeting yesterday, the person selected should be one whose influence on the community has been widely felt.

Reporter Is Dinner Club Speaker

Don Bolt, a veteran newspaperman who scooped the world on the Guatemalan armistice in July, will be the next top of Texas Knife and Fork Club speaker.

He will speak in the Pampa High School Auditorium the night of Feb. 7, according to Mrs. Clotilde Thompson, club secretary-treasurer.

Southland Gets Snow To 15 Inches

A snow blanket up to 15 inches deep stretched across the southland Thursday from Tennessee and Kentucky almost to the Atlantic Ocean.

The South got its heaviest snows in years in many areas when a surprise blizzard came sweeping out of the Midwest Wednesday.

On the West Coast, meanwhile, California recovered from three days of furious storms that struck first in the north with winds up to 104 miles per hour and then lashed the Los Angeles area with small tornadoes and mountain blizzards.

Boy Falls Into Convention Mass

HOUSTON, Jan. 20—UP—An adventurous eight-year-old boy almost broke up a convention meeting here Wednesday night when he dropped 20 feet through a hole in the ceiling of Sam Houston Coliseum into the audience.

The boy, Charles B. Nichols, was attending the meeting of the Assemblies of God Church members from five states with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Nichols of Paris.

Train Derails At Brownsville

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Jan. 20—UP—Ten cars of a 95-car Santa Fe freight train were derailed in Brownwood Wednesday and blocked the main line from California to the Gulf Coast for four hours.

Cause of the derailment was not determined by Thursday. Besides blocking the tracks, Brownwood's main automobile traffic arteries also were closed, causing traffic jams.

Weather Hits Street Work

The cold weather caused the Pampa street department to begin working on West Francis Wednesday and slowed down work today.

R. B. Cooke, assistant city engineer, today said the department had been cleaning out the cracks caused by cold weather and had filled them with asphalt.

Curb-and-gutter work on the 100-block of West 20th is now underway, Cooke said.

A sewer extension in the 500-block of South West is being put in and the Santa Fe Railroad has okayed the connection of a six-inch water line "loop" on West, he concluded.

Livestock Market

The following is a report from the Fort Worth Livestock market, giving prices paid in the early business conducted today.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20—UP—USDA—Livestock: Cattle 1,200. Active, strong. Good and choice beef steers 20-24.50; one lot 1068 lb. 25.50; commercial 15-19; cutter and utility 10-14; good-choice heifers 19-22; individuals to 23; utility to commercial 11-18; beef cows 10-12; few head over 12; canners and cutters 7-10; shelly cows down to 6 and less; bulls 10-14; stockers scarce.

"It looks like the bomb was intended for her, not her husband," he said.

The automobile, a Chevrolet, was booby-trapped in front of the home of Mrs. Ralph Harris, Mrs. Weaver's mother.

Department of Public Safety explosives experts examined the three other vehicles and announced they were safe.

TAXES

(Continued from Page One) spending by consumers and state and local governments will continue to rise, likelihood of "some rebuilding" of inventories, a good outlook for construction and export trade, prospects for an upward turn in plant and equipment expenditures, and a slowdown in the decline in federal spending.

Scout Trip Postponed

The senior Scout ski trip to Tres Ritos, N. M., originally planned for this week end, has been postponed for a week due to lack of accommodations.

Forty-eight boys and nine men have registered to go and will leave Pampa and White Deer at noon Jan. 28, according to Scouter Denver Allen.

No more boys can be taken this trip, Allen said, adding that the trip is expected to be an annual affair.

Most of those who have signed up for the trip are from Pampa. But there are also boys from White Deer, Berger, Spearman and Clarendon. They will return the night of Jan. 30.

She is survived by the daughter, one son, J. W. Drace of Lubbock, one sister, Mrs. Annie Creswell of Los Angeles; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in Matador at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Matador cemetery.

Presidential News Conference Is Filmed For The First Time

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—UP—The President — who seemed to be in a serious frame of mind and evidencing some concern over the troubled Far East situation — was reminded that Thursday will mark the second anniversary of his inauguration. He was asked to evaluate what has happened since Jan. 20, 1933, and to look into the future "for the next two years and possibly the next six" — a reference to a possible second term.

A quick smile brushed his face. He said he thought this was a loaded question but that he would discuss what had happened since he took office.

The President said the foreign situation looked better to him today than two years ago because it showed signs of more stability. Then, gravely, he added that this does not mean that the situation overseas is rosy.

Pampans Attend Community Meet

Four delegates from Pampa are attending the second annual Mid-Winter Forum on Community Development today and Friday in Lubbock, according to Dr. Ray Hampton, president of the local adult education group.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harny, Mrs. Fred Sloan and Walter Stein are Pampa's representatives at the two-day meeting, which is expected to form a West Texas council on adult education.

Mrs. Dorothy Statton, who last summer was one of 20 West Texas delegates to the adult education conference at Biggin, Ont., Canada, will serve as recreation discussion leader at the request of Dr. Per G. Stensland, West Texas director.

This forum is made possible through a special grant from the National Fund for Adult Education. The 1934 meeting was attended by 172 delegates from 31 communities.

'Shower Of Stars' Is TV Colossal

By ALINE MOBBY

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 20 —UP— Television is becoming more super-colossal. Thursday night's "Shower of Stars" will present not one Broadway show but scenes from six, plus Ethel Merman with her famous topknot and Gene Nelson as her dance director. Instead of seeing one condensed stage musical, you can get compressed versions of six on CBS' hour-long color extravaganza. Show-stopping musical numbers from "Eddie was a Lady" to "There's No Business Like Show Business" will be served up by Miss Merman, who has clipped her top-heavy bangs for the stunt.

"Next season I hope to use this show-stopper idea as a regular show," said composer-co-producer Mike Styne. "I have 150 times from my own Broadway shows I could use."

Another supercolossal is dancer Nelson, usually in front of the cameras, but now working alone behind scenes as a choreographer for the first time.

"I watched a rehearsal of this $140,000 show, and it's a minor miracle how it gets on the air. The TV wizards accomplish in nine days' rehearsal time what moviemakers take six months to do.

The CBS stage looked like a scene from a backstage movie. Nelson, wearing his usual brown porkpie hat, rehearsed his 16 dances while director Seymour Burns and producers Styne and Nat Perrin paced back and forth. Grips were practicing shifting the 10 colorful sets.

Wednesday night 65 persons will work on camera and 31 technicians Perrin said production of color behind the camera. But producer shows isn't as frantic as when they were inaugurated last fall.

"We may be a few minutes over and have to cut the program right before show time," he said. "But we had to cut three minutes from 'Lend an Ear' while it was on the air—one of the most phenomenal things on TV. "We use pre-recorded numbers now so the sets can be moved and the noise not heard. We've also learned to test the costumes in motion. Once we had to dye Betty Grable's white gown hours before the show because it photographed like a blur. "Above all," Perrin added, "we have learned to be calm. That is the most important thing."

Butter Sales Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 —UP— The Agriculture Department said Wednesday butter sales last November were 21 per cent higher than those in November, 1953.

The department said household use bought close to 66 million pounds of butter last November. This was an increase of 2.5 million pounds from October and 11 million from November, 1953.

The department has been publishing the monthly figures on butter purchases, based on studies by the Market Research Corporation of America, since Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson cut dairy price supports in April last year. The cut lowered retail butter prices too.

The report also showed household purchases of margarine went up in November to 102 million pounds. That's up about 3 million pounds from October and up about 37 million pounds, or 15 per cent from November, 1953.

This Is My Dish

Perryton Woman Makes Tasty Green Apple Cake

By SUE WILLIAMS
Pampa News Correspondent

PERRYTON — (Special) — Mrs. W. L. Good of Perryton says that her green apple cake is the thing that she cooks that the neighbors all seem to like best.

Mrs. Good came to the Perryton area about 28 years ago from West Virginia, and has lived here since, except for eight years her family spent in Arkansas.

She now cooks for her husband and three children, who are still at home. These are Gene, Gail, and Diana, her three youngest. She also has four other children. Mrs. Genell Galaway of Dumas, Mrs. Shirley Phelps of Perryton, Allen of Perryton, and Lawrence Jr., who is in service, stationed in California.

Mrs. Good runs the Good Drapery and Upholstery Shop. She is a member of the First Baptist Church, where she teaches a girls' Sunday School class in the senior department. She helps with all of her children's school activities, and her neighbors know they can always depend on her to be on hand if they need help.

Sausage Pilaff Plays Dual Role

Sausage-Peanut Pilaff is one of those recipes you'll like to prepare and serve often. For an everyday meal for the family, it's a hearty dish, especially good for these mid-winter days. For company, it has the unusual, delectable blend of the flavors of sausage, peanuts and olives.

Another advantage of this dish, according to meat expert Reba Staggs, is that it's made with easy-on-the-budget bulk pork sausage.

Sausage-Peanut Pilaff
1 pound bulk pork sausage
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup cooked rice
1 can condensed mushroom soup
1 cup cooked rice
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped salted peanuts
12 stuffed olives, if desired
Brown sausage until crumbly. Add celery and onion and cook 3 minutes. Pour off drippings. Add cooked rice, soup and green pepper. Pour into a 1-quart casserole and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Top with slices stuffed olives, if desired. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. 4 servings.

Fit Beef Steaks Into Any Budget

Here's how to have beef steaks for dinner often and never once strain the food budget; serve the steaks which come from the less tender sections. These include round, top round, bottom round, flank, arm blade and tip steaks. Furthermore, they all have excellent flavor and food value.

The way to cook these steaks to a tender turn is by braising them, says Reba Staggs, home economist. To braise these steaks, first add a small amount of lard or drippings to a heavy frying-pan. Dredge the steak well with seasoned flour and brown slowly on both sides. Add a little liquid and cook, covered, at a reduced temperature until the steak is tender. Turn the steak frequently so that it will cook evenly. Add more liquid, a little at a time, as it is needed.

Steaks, spread with dressing and rolled and tied into shape, or small pieces made into beef birds are simply variations of steaks cooked by braising.

The liquids you use in cooking the steaks can vary the flavor accompaniments endlessly. Ideas: barbecue sauce, canned soups such as meat or stock, milk, sour cream, or stock, milk, sour cream, canned tomatoes — or tomato soup, juice or sauce.

Last year, the cardigan had a binding of the dress material. This year, a near dye-match coordinates a sweater and an all-over skirt. The sweater hangs neatly at the waistline.

The sweater gets an added extra. Those lovelies of the wardrobe, cashmere sweater, now come lined in shirtwaist silk for a light, but opaque, jacket look. Warmer and smoother-hanging are these splurge sweaters.

The neatly belted straight skirt sprouts a patch pocket of modest dimensions, in front, for spring.

Coming this summer — Irish linen in the palest beige. As a costume, it has a high, but belted midriff, an open jacket with a round collar, three-quarter sleeves with medium cuffs.

Chiffon molds like a rich jersey in a short dinner dress. The top has a shirred look, the skirt flows softly from the natural waist. For those who love pink, it's a Dresden-perfect choice.

COCONUT TREAT — The whole family likes second helpings when Coconut Upside Down cake is served for dessert. The crunchy brown sugar topping blends well with the coconut and the pineapple for a special taste treat.

Favorite Dessert For Entire Family Is Tasty Coconut Upside Down Cake

The wonderful crunchy topping of brown sugar and coconut plus the piquancy of pineapple, make this pretty special! Try it once — and it will become a top favorite.

Coconut Upside Down Cake
1-3 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup brown sugar
3-4 cup shredded coconut, toasted
4 slices pineapple, cut in wedges
1-1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter or other shortening
1 egg, unbeaten
1-2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter in an 8x8x2-inch square pan or 8-inch skillet. Add brown sugar and toasted coconut and mix well. Arrange pineapple wedges on sugar mixture and set aside.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and granulated sugar, and sift together three times. Cream butter. Add sifted dry ingredients, egg, milk, and vanilla. Stir just until all flour is dampened, then beat vigorously 1 minute.

Pour batter over fruit mixture in pan. Bake in moderate oven

Meat Is Important To Person's Health

Meat has so much to do with your health and well being that it is vitally important in the daily diet. Reba Staggs, meat expert, says it is not only easier but it is wise to follow the usual practice of planning your meals around meat because:

Meat has appetite appeal. Meat, more than any other food, possesses the quality of making the meal interesting and satisfying. The aromas and appearance of well-cooked, attractively-served meat dishes stimulate the appetite and make meals more enjoyable.

Meat is palatable. Meat is one of the most palatable foods. The flavor of meat enhances the flavor of foods served with it.

Meat is satisfying. Meat gives a feeling of satisfaction for a long period of time. For this reason, meat plays an important part in reducing diets.

Meat permits wide selection. Meat, because of the many kinds of cuts available, can readily be made the center of a wide variety of menus.

Meat is nutritious. Meat supplies a large percentage of many essentials. In 1963, each American ate 6 ounces of meat a day. This amount of meat provides over 45 per cent of your daily protein requirements, 25 per cent of the calories, nearly 25 per cent of phosphorus, nearly 41 per cent of iron and over one-fifth of the B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin and niacin).

To hurry Baby, but you should make an effort to be sure Baby eats some kind of food with lumps before he's a year old. If he munches up big bites of crackers, this will do. Smooth food too long will make him gag when he does come to lumps.

Rayon-and-acetate blooms in a cruise or spring suit. It might be linen, with a smoothly cut straight skirt and a tiny white Peter Pan collar.

Who doesn't love the shirt-waist dress? It's the ultimate in understatement in silk sarah with coin dots. Long cuffed sleeves and a white calfskin belt complete the look that is a classic for any age.

The day made funny in the movies arrives; Baby grabs a big handful of mucky cereal and smears it on the table, himself or you. Try to relax. Soon he'll discover that he can lick his fingers and that means that beginning of the end of your shoveling-it-in days.

He's secretive about many things, for Baby is smart enough to realize that you treasure his babyishness. But one day, when he thinks you're not looking, he'll scoot across the floor to get his plate when you didn't even know he could crawl a step.

Italian-Style Steaks, Done By Braising, Rated Best Preparation By Meat Expert

Select such cuts of beef as arm or round steaks, use the correct method of cooking them and you have good eating in a budget-wise way. Reba Staggs, meat expert, explains that braising (browning slowly in lard or drippings, then cooking slowly, with a small amount of liquid, in a covered utensil until tender) is the best cooking method to use for these two cuts of meat. It brings them to their tender and flavorful best.

The various combinations of flavorings, liquid and vegetables you use can go on and on for a new dish each time you braise meat. In this recipe, some typically Italian-style flavorings and vegetables have been used. The method is still braising, as you can see, but the accent is Italian.

Italian Steak
1 1/2 pounds armor round steak, cut 3/4 inch thick

2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 4-oz. can mushrooms or 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup sliced onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1-3 cup chili sauce
1-4 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup sliced stuffed olives
Add mushrooms, onion and chopped green pepper to melted lard or drippings. Cook 5 minutes. Blend in chili sauce, water, salt, pepper, garlic salt, Worcestershire sauce and sliced olives. Place steak in frying-pan and pour sauce over it. Cover and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until tender. 6 servings.

Get Right Attitude; Avoid Bad Plays

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

When I heard about the hand shown today, played in an important team match, I wondered what modern bridge players use instead of red blood corpuscles. The sort of result shown today simply couldn't happen if the players had the right attitude towards the game.

At one table, as the bidding diagram shows, South played the hand at four spades. West opened the ace of hearts, and there was then no way to defeat the contract. South could ruff two hearts in the dummy and would still have a trump left for a finesse through East. The defenders could get only one heart, one diamond, and one club.

West could have defeated the contract by leading a trump. Later on, East would win the first round of hearts and lead another trump. This would limit declarer to one heart ruff in the dummy, and the defenders would thus take two hearts, a diamond and a club, defeating the contract.

At the other table, East was allowed to play the hand at four hearts. Since the breaks in diamonds and clubs were fortunate, East made an overtrick. He'd have needed very bad luck, however, to lose the contract.

As you can see, the play of the cards was reasonable enough, but the bidding was hair-raisingly timid. How can West sell out to four spades when there is an excellent chance that both four spades and five hearts are makeable contracts?

When both sides bid up to a fairly high level, and when both sides have sound trump suits, it doesn't pay to sell out too cheap. Instead of letting the opponents play the hand, bid one more of your own side's suit. Perhaps you'll make this contract, and at worst you can't be badly hurt. It's better to go down one trick (perhaps even two tricks) than to let the opponents score a vulnerable game.

West should have bid five hearts on this reasoning. If West had done so, the chances are that North would have adopted the same policy by bidding five spades. By this time it would be clear that neither side was on safe ground, and either East or West could double five spades with confidence in the result.

This rule of bidding one more in a good trump suit doesn't apply, of course, when you are already out of your depth. But if both sides have bid with apparent confidence and safety up to a high level, bid one more rather than sell out.

Florida Police Hunt Slayer Of Young Bride

PANAMA CITY, Fla., Jan. 20.—Police began "rounding up strangers" Wednesday for questioning about the rape and strangulation of an Air Force sergeant's attractive young wife in a "terrific fight" at her home.

Authorities said Mrs. Lou Ellen Jones, 21, had been dead from six to 10 hours when S. Sgt. Joe Jones, 22, found their three-year-old son, Curtis Raymond, trying in vain to "awaken" his mother.

The couple formerly lived in El Reno, Okla.

Sheriff M. J. Daffin said neighbors saw a man park his car at about 9:30 Tuesday morning, enter the Jones home, and later drive away at a "pretty high speed."

"He hit mama with a knife," the boy told Daffin. "I cried and mama cried too."

An autopsy showed the woman had been raped and stabbed but apparently died of strangulation, Daffin said. He said his men were rounding up "strangers" for questioning.

Police speculated that Mrs. Jones was surprised by an intruder while washing dishes. Her wedding, engagement and class rings, which she habitually removed for the chore, lay in the sink drain.

Sgt. Jones found the nude body in the bedroom when he returned at about 5 p.m. est from duty at nearby Tyndall Air Force Base, where he has been stationed for about a year.

Nehru Doesn't Like Reds In Backyard

By CHARLES MCCANN United Press Foreign Analyst Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India may have a chance to co-exist with communism in his own country pretty soon. Nehru talks a lot about the benefits of co-existence as recommended by the Kremlin. But that means co-existence on a global scale, and Nehru is a global thinker. He does not relish the idea that a Communist government may be put in power next month in the new Indian state of Andhra.

Nehru Goes to Andhra Nehru went down there, on the Bay of Bengal, in person last week and to appeal to the voters to keep his Congress party in office in the election for a state legislature which is to be held Feb. 11. As of now, the issue is in doubt. Andhra was set up in 1953 as India's 29th state. It has an area of 87,000 square miles and a population of about 22 million. Its people speak a distinct language, the musical Telugu tongue. Their history goes back more than 2,200 years to the time when the kingdoms of Andhra were powerful. In modern times Andhra had been part of Madras state. Birth Is Dramatic Andhra's birth was dramatic. In 1950, when India became independent, a years-long dream of a revived Andhra state gripped the people. In 1952 their leader, Potti Sramulu, 51, went on a hunger strike to focus attention on their demand for statehood. Sramulu died of starvation after 56 days. Wild rioting broke out among the grief-stricken Andhra people. Sixteen lives were lost.

Nehru decided to set up a state of Andhra. The area was a fertile field for communism. It had just emerged from a terrible six-year drought. Members of the Madras Legislature from the area established the Andhra State Legislature. The Congress party had a slight plurality over the Communists in the 140-seat Legislature, but depended on the support of other parties to keep in office.

Andhrans Like Liquor Nehru himself is an anti-Prohibitionist. But his Congress party men in Andhra decided to impose prohibition on the state. Andhrans like their liquor. The Communists maneuvered the government into a vote on the issue, and it was overturned Nov. 6. Eighty-four year old Tengturi Prakasam is the Congress party leader in Andhra. Nehru realized he faced a fight to keep the Communists from getting into power in the election which resulted from his party's defeat. He sent S. K. Patel, the Congress party's ace political strategist, from Bombay to direct the campaign. Then Nehru went there himself. The Communists are fighting a vigorous campaign. They have a lot of money—the source of which Nehru can not find—and they have a lot of poor people to work upon.

Drouth Break Appears To Be In Making

AUSTIN, Jan. 20—UP—Snow, rain and drizzle have slowed farm work over parts of Texas but raised hopes the state's prolonged drouth might be starting to break. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday. In a weekly crop and weather bulletin, the USDA said small grains and clovers were making a "remarkable response" in East Texas and along the upper coast. Good rains over the last two weeks increased moisture reserves in the northern blacklands and eastern upper coastal counties. However, rains were light over the southern, central and northern high plains. Much more rains, the USDA said, was needed. In South Texas, scattered peach trees were blooming as the result of unusually mild winter temperatures.

Wheat prospects continued to improve in the low rolling plains, cross timbers and northern blacklands as snow and rain combined to add additional moisture. However, subsoil moisture was still critically short. The situation was worse on the northern high plains where the USDA warned dryland wheat acreage must receive moisture soon to survive.

Alcatraz Has New Warden

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20—UP—Alcatraz prison had a new warden Wednesday. He is Paul J. Madigan, 57-year-old veteran of 22 years in the federal prison system. He took over Tuesday from Warden Edwin E. Swope, who will become warden of the New Mexico state prison at Santa Fe. Madigan once served three years as associate warden at the "rock" under Swope. On taking office, Madigan declared that "for some time to come there will be a need for a maximum security prison such as Alcatraz, especially in the next few years, because of the increase of crime throughout the country."

Star Gives Ad Buyer Ultimatum

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20—UP—A restaurant proprietor testified Wednesday that he was told the "front office" of the Kansas City Star did not "like to have you advertise" in another newspaper, the Kansas City Kansan. Harry Weiss, owner of Weiss' Restaurant here, was a government witness in the anti-trust case against the Star and its advertising director, Emil Ross. Weiss said that an advertising salesman for the Star, identified as "Mr. Temple," told him he would have to "quit" the Kansan or the Star.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret the law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The new internal revenue code provides several income tax breaks for farmers ranging from filing dates later than those allowed other persons to extra deductions.

As mentioned in a previous column, persons other than farmers, required by law to file declarations of estimated tax, had only until Jan. 15 to file their tax return and pay their taxes in full to avoid penalties for failure to file quarterly estimates.

The new code has not changed the Jan. 15 due date for declaration of estimated tax by farmers. However, a farmer may file his income tax return and pay the full tax required by it on or before Jan. 31 and thus eliminate the need for a declaration of estimated tax. This provision gives the farmer fifteen days more than other persons in which to assemble his records, compute his income, and file his return. Beginning in 1956, he will be allowed an additional fifteen days, until Feb. 15.

The biggest break for farmers under the new act is the right to deduct as an expense at least a portion of soil and water conservation expenses. The costs which may be deducted include earthen dams, leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, diversion channels, drainage ditches, water-courses, outlet ponds, removing brush, and planting windbreaks. Assessments paid to a soil or water conservation district are also deductible if the district performs work of the nature just listed.

The deduction is limited to 25 per cent of the farmer's gross income from farming in any particular year. If the entire deduction is not entirely allowable in one year, the excess may be carried over to the following year, and so on indefinitely until the farmer has been able to deduct the entire amount.

The deduction is allowable only for expenditures in 1954 or later years, and the farmer must elect in the first year in which he has such expenditures whether he will capitalize them as in the past or deduct them under the provisions of the new law. Once this election has been made, it cannot be changed without permission from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Under the former law, if payments were made to a farmer because of the destruction or sale of livestock due to disease, such payment was taxable income to the extent it exceeded the cost of the livestock. Under the 1954 act, this is called an involuntary conversion. The proceeds will be taxable income only to the extent that it exceeds the cost of the replacements.

New Yorker Collects, Savors Television, Radio 'Bloopers'

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—UP—"Our film this evening," said the television announcer, "will be a revival featuring the late Leslie Howard as the Scarlet Pimpernel."

"Er, the Scarlet Pimpernel... I mean the Scarlet Pimpernel."

The announcer who pulled that one wished no one was listening. But among the thousands who chuckled at his blooper was Kenneth Schaefer, who not only gets a fabled glee out of hearing an announcer fluff his lines but collects such boners for posterity.

The well-intentioned announcer who held up a cake of soap and urged listeners to "use it—in your shub or tower" is in Schaefer's Rogue's Gallery along with the lady who told housewives the correct way to place "sporks and foons" on the table.

Schaefer has three radios playing all the time into tape recorders at his home at Central Valley, N.Y. His collecting started as a hobby 20 years ago and now he's making money at it. The best of his collection just came out on two long-playing records called "Pardon My Blooper."

"Audience participation programs are best," Schaefer said. "So are kiddie programs and the informal shows like Arthur Godfrey and Steve Allen."

According to Schaefer the granddaddy of them all was committed by announcer Harry Von Zell almost 25 years ago. He solemnly introduced a speaker:

"Ladies and gentlemen, the President of the United States—Hoobert Hever."

Other gems from the Schaefer collection:

An announcer who said: "We now bring you Mister Keene, loser of traced persons."

The director of a war bond drive who was introducing actor Walter Pidgeon said: "Mr. Privilege—this is indeed a pigeon."

The actor who gasped: "The fog was as thick as sea poop."

The disc jockey who said: "and now for a tune by George Gershwin and his lovely wife, Ira..."

And the announcer who said: "And now to conclude our program of Christmas carols, our guest star will sing 'O Come All Ye Faithful' by Adeste Fidelis."

Liquor Board Favors Some, Says Solon

AUSTIN, Jan. 20—UP—A San Antonio legislator charged Wednesday that the Texas Liquor Control Board has practiced "discrimination" and shown a "cowardly attitude" toward enforcement of the liquor laws.

The charges were leveled by Rep. Charles Lick Jr., who directed his fire particularly at L. L. Newman, whom he identified as a district supervisor of the board at San Antonio.

A resolution sponsored by Lick calling for an investigation by a five-member committee of the House was introduced and read in full on the floor of the House. It was referred to the State Affairs committee.

Lick accused the liquor control board of "practicing discrimination in the enforcement of the liquor laws of this state."

"In particular, the local division of the Texas Liquor Control Board in San Antonio, Tex., under the supervision of one L. L. Newman, have for some reason shown partiality and favor to some violators and extreme harshness to others," the resolution said.

The Panama Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Published daily except Saturday by The Panama News, Atchison at Somerville, Panama, Texas. Phone 4-2322. Entered as second class matter under the act of March 2, 1878.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By CARRIER in Panama, 20c per week. Paid in advance (at office) $2.00 per 3 months, $7.00 per six months, $15.00 per year. By mail $7.50 per year in retail trading zone, $12.00 per year outside retail trading zone. Price for single copy, 5 cents. No mail orders accepted in localities served by carrier.

Pohaam Checkish

Word comes that the Western Indian tribes are getting together again. Time was when such a report would have sent settlers scurrying to the safety of stockades and forts and the moves of the Indians then would have been scouted by stalwart Indian fighters.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Post Article On Juvenile Delinquency

The Saturday Evening Post of course is after circulation. It likes to write about anything that will interest people. Whether they throw light on a subject is of little interest to most magazines with large circulations.

The Post spent 36 cents to send the writer a copy of its January 8th issue, which contains an article on juvenile delinquency. I presume it sent it to every editor in the country. It has headed the article "The Shame of America" and it shows a picture of policemen with pointed guns at juveniles lying face down on the street.

They have employed a couple of employees of the United States Senate Judiciary Subcommittee to write the article on juvenile delinquency. Any investigation that the Senate makes on juvenile delinquency will be of little value. That is true because it is not the function of the Federal government to stop juvenile delinquency. That job belongs to the police power of the States.

They report that the teen-age crime jumped 45 per cent in the last five years and that there have been a million kids who came into conflict with authority last year and they predict that two million will come into conflict with authority by 1960 unless drastic action is taken.

What drastic action can be taken? There is no possible chance of this Senate Subcommittee making any recommendations that will decrease juvenile delinquency. In fact, they will not even see the primary cause of juvenile delinquency.

The Primary Cause Those people who will answer questions on moral and political questions without evasion will know that when we have compulsory education, where the youth of the land is obliged to be taught by teachers who believe that they do not have to teach well enough that the majority of people went to employ them due to tenure laws, that there is little chance that these teachers can teach the youth of the land to believe in men's rights in property and men's rights to the fruits of their labor.

When pupils are obliged to go to teachers under superintendents who are so confused on moral questions that they will not answer questions as to how to become a teacher for $300, it is little wonder that the youth grows up to believe that there are no moral principles and that might makes right and the end justifies the means.

Ike Spending Ideas Blasted By Southern Demo Leader

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The various Eisenhower-Humphrey schemes for spending billions without directly increasing taxes is the public debt.

Another involves financing of new Federal buildings throughout the land. Private firms will build them for 30-year lease to the Government, which will own them at the end of that period.

These devices do spare Washington immediate financial outlays and political embarrassments. But as Senator Byrd notes, they cost many more millions in the long run, and they do not relieve the Government of ultimate responsibility.

When a private corporation finds itself in this fix, and cannot raise prices, lower costs or cut wages, it issues bonds or new stock. It is what Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey's steel company would do, although the Government is virtually "broke," while the Humphrey-Hanna interests are financially sound.

The plan for underwriting the proposed $10 billion highway program irritates Byrd particularly, although that is only the most spectacular example of the debt-duking procedure.

Under the White House proposal, construction would be financed by a Federal Highway Corporation. Although having no assets or income, it would be authorized to borrow $20 billion by selling bonds to the public.

Under a contract with the corporation, the Treasury would guarantee these securities. The amount would not become a charge on the public debt, and it would not require higher taxes. However, Congress would have to make annual appropriations for payment

Publisher Talks About Recognizing Red China

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have received from the Sidney Hillman Foundation, Inc., of Union Square, N. Y., a "condensed" address to the Associated Harvard Clubs of Rochester, N. Y., by John Cowles, president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, described as a "distinguished publisher."

Cowles speaks only for himself and everything he says in this emanation is compromised or gossiped by something soon ensuing. It is all about Russia, recognition of Red China with "a substantial and proved quid pro quo," the blame "for the loss of nationalist China to the Communists" and the possible loss of India to Soviet Russia, as though that fact were still in the future. The speech is not worth the good white paper to print it.

I see by Who's Who that Cowles is a trustee of a family "foundation" named for his father, old Gardner Cowles, of Des Moines, a merchant-journalist of the old tall-corn, lawn-tie tradition. He is also a trustee of the Ford Foundation. He is the type, without research, I will venture to suspect, that the Reece Committee got no breaks in the Minneapolis Tribune and Star.

The Hillman Foundation was created in 1947 in honor of a professional union leader from Russia who had collaborated closely with the Soviet government. He was named under oath as a member of the Communist Party by Maurice Malin, an old colleague in politics who admits that he was a party member for some years. Malin repudiated the party and all his affirmations and activities on its behalf. His testimony said: "Hillman, to my knowledge, although I was never at a party meeting with him, has been a member of the Communist Party since 1921." This was on Sept. 7, 1949.

Within the last year and after he had been relieved of certain duties in connection with the Catholic Youth Organization, Bishop Bernard Sheil, of Chicago, was awarded $1,000, and such honor as the recognition implied, by the Hillman Foundation for services which the foundation admired. He accepted the money for charity.

The "advisory trustees" of the foundation, listed in 1952, included Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Channing Tobias of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Harlow Shapley of Harvard and Lehman foresaid.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

For 14 months, a reader says, he has suffered from ulcerative colitis which at times is almost unbearable. Although I cannot give him "a sure-fire cure," as he requests, the subject can be discussed in general.

This disease, which involves the lower part of the digestive tract known as the large intestine, is fortunately fairly rare. Quite likely it should not be spoken of as a single disease because several varieties are recognized which do not all behave alike and which frequently do not require the same kind of treatment. In all kinds of ulcerative colitis, however, quick healing and complete recovery can not be expected, so that long-time treatment under the careful observation of a physician is necessary.

THE CAUSE OR causes of ulcerative colitis are still puzzling. Infection may play a part, but there is no agreement on any one germ, and some difference of opinion on the importance of infection in the general picture.

Medical Treatment is tried first as a rule. It has been stated that in one form of the disease, not more than five or ten out of one hundred will need surgery, though in other forms surgery should not be too long delayed if medical treatment does not bring good results with fair speed.

The medical treatment includes rest, diet, nursing care, blood transfusions, and, in some cases, it may require the administration of drugs or hormones.

THE NATION'S PRESS

A BAD AND SHAMEFUL STORY

(Christian Economics)

At the time when our government was trying to force China to adopt a coalition government in which the Nationalists would divide control with the communists, the State Department decided to permit the people of South Korea to set up an "interim" legislature which would exercise limited authority until, as it was then hoped, the country could be unified.

Our State Department stipulated that the new legislature would be composed of 90 members, half elected by the people of South Korea, and half appointed by the State Department of the United States. The Korean people elected 45 anti-communists.

One might have thought that our government would have been guided by this definite anti-communist expression — but not so. It is said to our everlasting shame that our State Department appointed 43 individuals known to be pro-communist and only 2 anti-communists. And yet there are people who believe that our State Department and our government were not infiltrated by communist ideology to the point where our interests and the interests of friendly anti-communist peoples around the world were betrayed.

FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. WOBERTS, President, Spiritual Mobilization

A recent Gallup poll asked: "What man do you have heard or read about, living today in any part of the world, do you admire the most?"

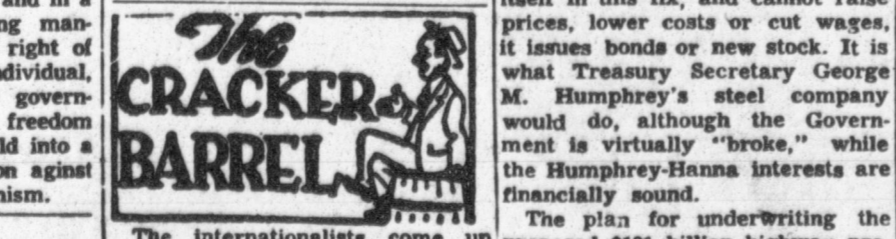

The top five choices were all politicians — political statesmen, if you will.

From there on down, the list ranged far and wide — from Billy Graham to the Duke of Windsor. It included John E. Lewis and Walter F. Reuther — but not a single "business statesman" not occupying a political office.

The CRACKER BARREL

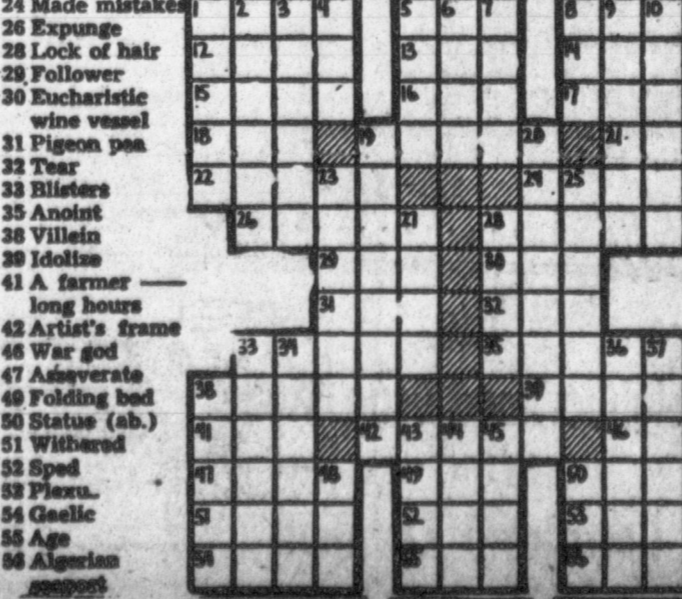

The internationalists come up with a new gimmick for dragging the United States into world government every time you turn around. The New York Times (Dec. 12) says the representatives of eight nations will petition the Council of Ministers of NATO for "closer political and economic unity" at meeting soon to take place in Canada.

Under a contract with the corporation, the Treasury would guarantee these securities. The amount would not become a charge on the public debt, and it would not require higher taxes. However, Congress would have to make annual appropriations for payment

Having just finished another press junket, I am surprised all over again that no newspaperman has ever achieved fame in any of the sports which call for extraordinary stamina.

After a hundred or more of these jaunts by train, plane, boat, or bus, I am convinced that one man, and one man only, draws up the schedules for the newspapermen. I picture him as a sort of Paul Bunyan, only bigger and tougher, who suffers from galloping insomnia.

ONE-TWO PUNCH — Kenny Powell, right, scores with a one - two punch to the head and body of James Mathis on his way to a decision in last night's 70-pound semi-finals bout in the Golden Gloves tournament. Both boys are from Pampa. (News Photo)

Ring-Darden To Feature GG Finals

Nineteen bouts will be unrecalled on tomorrow night's 1955 Pampa District Golden Gloves finals card at the Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club Arena.

The featured bout will send Jesse Ring of Pampa and Scooter Darden of Borger together in the 135-pound finals.

Darden is one of the classic boxers ever to come out of Borger. He has been winning consistently this year by the knockout and TKO route.

Only last week Darden knocked out one of Pampa's finest middlemen, Gary Green, in the 126-pound finals at the Borger Golden Gloves tournament.

Darden, however, didn't make the 126-pound weight in the tourney here and moved up to the 135-pound bracket. Ring is an experienced veteran of the Pampa Optimist Club team and will be given an even chance of stopping Darden tomorrow night.

In other top bouts, Gary Wilhelm of Pampa will go against Wayne Tedder of Borger in the 118-pound finals; and Tommy Richardson, Pampa, will meet Earl Young of Borger in the 175-pound division.

Tedder was winner of the "Sportsmanship" award at the Borger tournament last week after dropping a close decision to Wilhelm in the finals.

Richardson holds four wins over Young but Young turned the tables on the Pampa battler in the finals at Borger last week.

Virtually every fight on tomorrow night's card of 21 bouts will be tossups.

Baxter Defends Laredo Crown

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 20—UP—The Laredo Invitation golf tournament opened Thursday with Rex Baxter Jr., former national junior champion from Amarillo, and Joanne Bruni of Laredo favored in their divisions of the 72-hole four-day contest.

Miss Bruni, 14, and Baxter, 18-year-old University of Houston student, faced a field of fast amateurs from South Texas and Mexico.

Kansas State Jars Missouri, 78-67

By UNITED PRESS

Basketball's new wave of upsets claimed still another big-name victim Thursday, knocking mighty Missouri out of first place in the Big Seven conference.

Kansas State, beaten twice by Missouri in previous meetings this season, suddenly turned on the Tigers Wednesday night and beat them, 78-67, on their own home court at Columbia, Mo. The defeat smashed a six-game Missouri winning streak and left Colorado alone in first place in the League.

Before the game Missouri and Colorado had been tied for first place, each with a perfect 3-0 league mark.

Missouri "Stone Cold"

Missouri beat K-State on a neutral court, 89-71, in last month's Big Seven tournament and also on State's home court, 94-85, only last Saturday. But this time Missouri was "stone cold," sinking only 33.8 per cent of its shots, while Kansas State was "red hot" with a 51 per cent shooting percentage.

Furillo Signs $22,000 Contract

By UNITED PRESS

Brooklyn outfielder Carl Furillo, owner of one of the finest arms in baseball, unlimbered it long enough Thursday to sign for an estimated $22,000.

Furillo won the batting championship with a .344 average in 1953 and although he slipped to .294 last season, his salary was not cut. Starting his 10th season with Brooklyn, Furillo, a Reading, Pa., native, has a lifetime batting average of exactly .300.

Tom Brewer, 23-year-old right-hander who won 10 and lost nine for the Red Sox, signed his 1955 contract while the Chicago Cubs announced the signing of shortstop Ed Winceniak, up from Des Moines of the Western League.

Three holdovers, Bob Buhl, Roy Smalley and Phil Paine, and a pair of rookies, Bob Trowbridge and Al Facchini agreed to terms with Milwaukee, making a total of 24 Braves who have signed contracts for 1955.

Willie Better Than 'Em All, From Babe To Stan, Says Leo

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press Sports Writer

Leo Durocher declared flatly Wednesday that Willie Mays is "the greatest ball player I've ever seen," and that includes 'em all, from Babe Ruth to Stan Musial.

"If I had to choose between Willie and Musial," Durocher said at a press conference in New York, "I'd take Mays. And nobody admires Musial any more than I do."

"Willie would be great at any position you put him. Third base, first base or shortstop. Why, a lot of times before games, he gets out there at shortstop and I hit grounders at him until I get his legs on my hands. He handles the hottest ones I hit at him as if they were nothing."

Durocher said that if Mays hits .325 for the next four or five years he could be the "greatest ball player we've ever had."

Ballplayers Need Five Things

"To be a great ballplayer, you need five things," he said. "You need to be able to hit, you need to have power, you need to be able to run, field and throw. Willie can do 'em all."

"He's as good a hitter as Musial and he has much power. And he can out-field, out-run and out-throw Musial."

"Maybe Willie doesn't have the greatest I.Q. in the world, but all I know is that he's never made a mistake for me."

Apart from the subject of Mays, Durocher predicted that Milwaukee might cause "the biggest trouble" in 1955 and that the Cardinals and Redlegs "should be tremendously improved."

"The Cardinals have some fine young ball players coming up, like Bill Virdon, Ken Boyer and Wilmer Mizell, who is getting out of the Army. They could make St. Louis awfully rough. Brooklyn: They always give us a helluva battle."

Styling that's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

It costs no more to form a sheet of steel into a graceful shape than it does an awkward one—so price has nothing to do with styling. Only the talent of its designers determines whether a car is a delight to the eye or it isn't.

You couldn't find more pointed proof of this than the 1955 Chevrolet—for here is a low-priced car that has snatched the styling spotlight, overshadowing even the highest-priced creations with its subtle sweep of line, the bold rake of its deep-curved windshield.

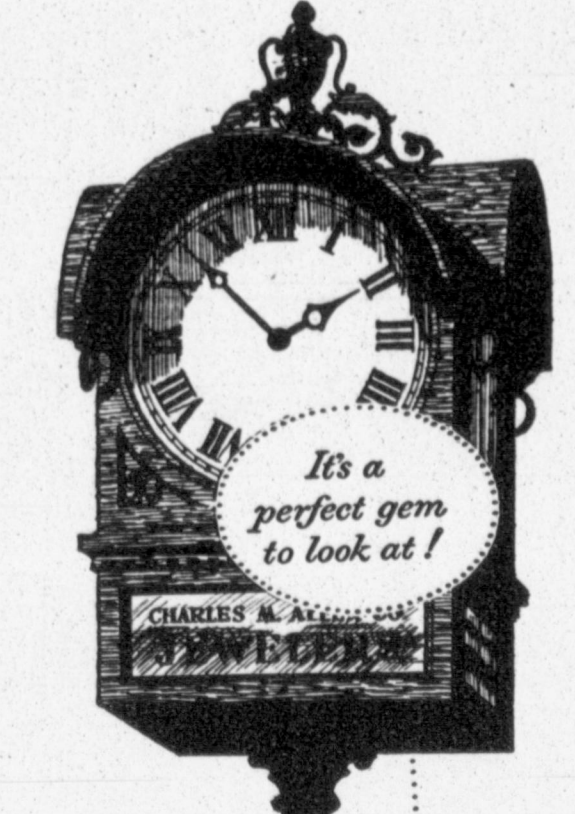

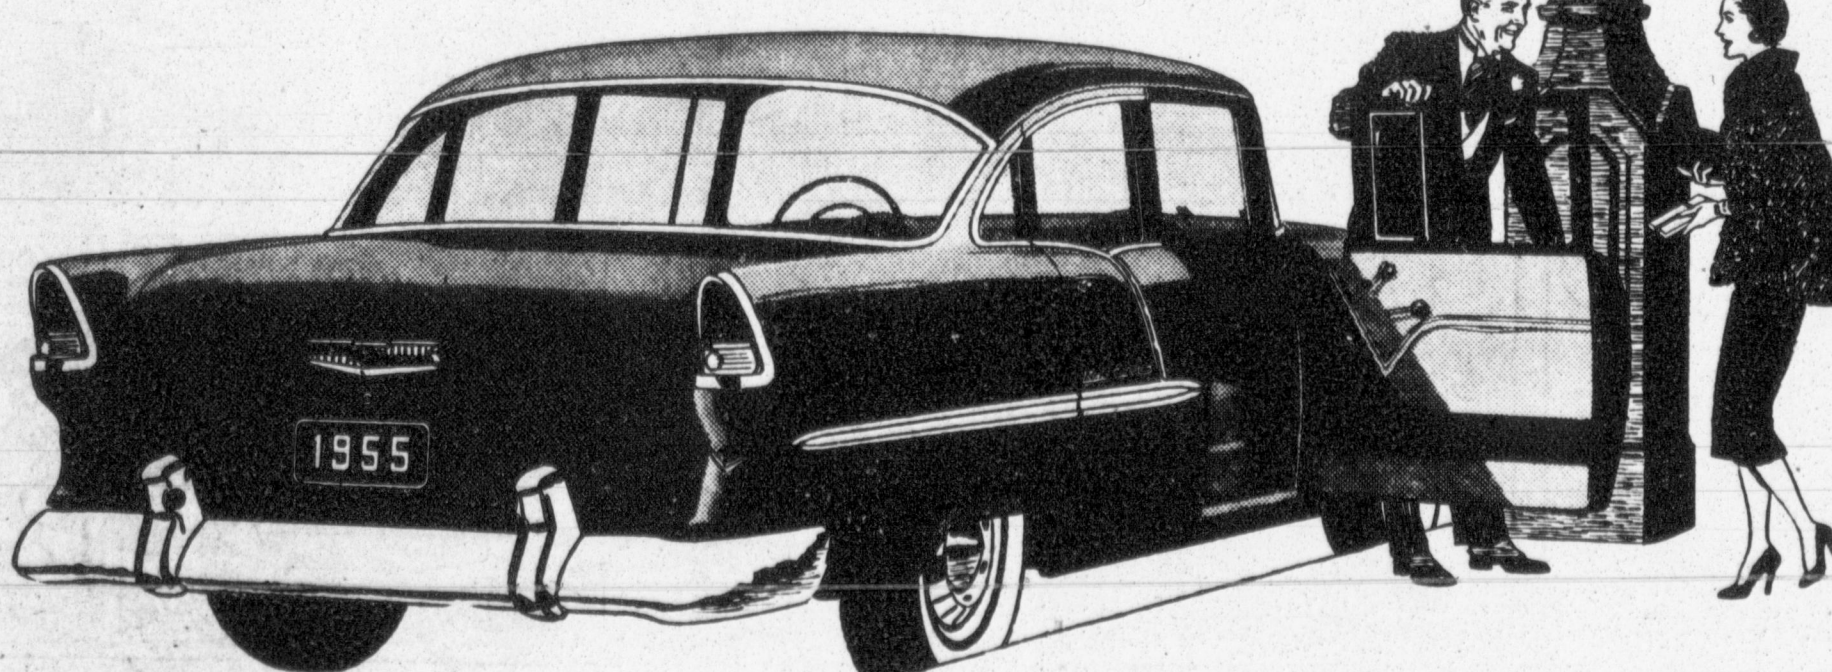

New V8 and two new 6's

But the Motoramic Chevrolet has advances in engineering that even surpass its styling. There are three ultra-efficient new engines—the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" and two "Blue-Flame" 6's. There is a whole new chassis design, with spherical-joint front suspension that spurns bumps like a swallow skimming a lake, and Anti-Dive braking control to check that sharp "nosing down" of the front end.

There are three new drives—sturdier Synchro-Mesh and, optional at extra cost, a silkier Power-glide automatic transmission or the flexibility of Touch-Down Overdrive . . . plus all the power helpers you could wish. Try a 1955 Chevrolet—now—and find out why it is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars.

MORE THAN A NEW CAR . . .
A NEW CONCEPT OF LOW-COST MOTORING

Texas Ports Ship Wheat To Slavs

DALLAS, Jan. 20 — UP—C. H. Moseley, director of the Dallas Commodity Stabilization Service, said Wednesday that 4,293,000 bushels of wheat will be exported from Port Arthur, Houston and Galveston within the next 30 days.
The wheat, which totals about 12 shiploads, has been sold to Yugoslavia, which had a poor wheat crop last season, under the agricultural trade development and assistance act. This act was passed in 1954 to promote sale of agricultural products abroad for foreign currencies.
Some of the red winter wheat that will be shipped will come from Commodity Credit Corp. stocks held by the Dallas CSS office and some by the Kansas City CSS office, Moseley said. It grades U.S. 2 or better and must all be shipped before June 30.
Private United States traders will make the sales. They are buying the wheat from CCC stocks. The Dallas CSS office is administering the financing operation for the CCC in the Yugoslav sale.

Benson Sees 'Great Decade' Ahead For America's Farmers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 — UP—Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson told the Senate Agriculture committee Wednesday things are looking up for farmers. He foresaw a "great decade ahead" for American agriculture.
Benson had no good news for consumers, however. He held out little hope of lower prices at the grocery counters until the cost of marketing services can be trimmed. These costs have been getting steadily more expensive, he said.
It was Benson's first appearance before the committee since Democrats took charge with the start of the new congress. Many committee members opposed the administration's program of flexible farm price supports.
Benson defended the new price law. He said it "will encourage individual farmers who are efficient and ambitious to participate profitably in the thrilling opportunities immediately ahead of us in the growing science of agriculture."
He said farm income has about halved its postwar decline, and that net farm income in 1955 should approach that of 1954. Neither farm prices nor costs should change much during the year, he said.

Turkey Crop To Be Down

AUSTIN, Jan. 20 — UP—Texas will harvest a turkey crop in 1955 running about 7 per cent under last year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday.
The estimate was based on expectations growers will raise 2,061,000 heavy breed turkeys and 541,000 light breed birds, compared with 2,822,000 and 889,000, respectively, last year.
The USDA revealed at the same time turkeys tested in Texas during December totaled 70,871, an increase of 21 per cent over the same month the previous year.
However, production of chicks in commercial hatcheries during December was down 32 per cent from the same month a year ago, totaling 5,050,000 as compared with 7,377,000.

Any time you see him you're lookin' at trouble. He never was any good except with cards, even when he worked as officer aboard the Amador. So he tries his hand at minin'!
"Besides them there's Queenie without her husband. What would Dreyfus say, seein' her standin' beside Calhoun? We had her on this boat a couple days and even China Boy was fetchin' tea and biscuits."
"You notice China Boy's galley these days?" Crotch asked, shoving to one side the rough thoughts Goss uttered. "Blame me if he's not cleanin' up. Linda Wong is sendin' him letters."
"Is he talkin' her into sailin' back from China," Goss said bluntly, "we've got to find us a new cook."

automatically brought forward the gripcase, and now Crotch realized it was filled with gold. And heavy.
"Where going to Fort Yuma," Queenie quickly told him. "I've had enough of the hills."
Calhoun was grinning. "I expect to talk her into marryin' me."
So far as Crotch knew, Dreyfus had been alive on his last downriver run a month ago. It was fast work for Queenie. Entirely too fast for a woman whose husband had not yet cooled in the frozen earth. Subconsciously he heard himself saying, "We've got only one stateroom."
"Queenie will do." Queenie gave him a narrow-eyed look. "Mr. Calhoun will make out somehow. Really, Shelby, you shouldn't have said what you did about gettin' married. There's nothing definite about it!"
That was the moment a rifle thrust its fat bark into the wind. Shelby Calhoun's tie whipped more furiously than usual. It must have made a tug at his throat for he glanced down immediately, lifting the tie's ragged end in his fingers. A bullet had torn away a corner of the fabric.

EVER SINCE the damage to Amador Jamison had been using the company's second largest packet, the Claromare. Two other shallow-draft San Francisco paddlewheelers had been brought under his pennant, but Claromare remained flagship of the fleet.
Crotch was aware of Goss entering the pilothouse, but his attention was centered on the wharf where he recognized three people. One took preeminence over the others, led the rough strangely strutting, Queenie Dreyfus! How long it had been since that day she stood in this pilothouse, the day Jamison had set them high and dry on a sandbar. For him she had said many strange things that day. He had often pondered on it since, and wondered if she hadn't made him a quiet offer. A suggestion behind her actual words, had he risen to her subtly hidden meanings, which might have written the end to Dreyfus' dreams?
Goss' voice broke in brusquely: "You see who's waitin'?" Sugar Logan! You always took him as a friend. But me, I figure that's something to be stretched two ways. Hark the time he ran out after turnin' the barges over to Jamison? A cute, smooth fellow. "Then there's Shelby Calhoun."

ALL of Crotch's foreboding crystallized with the shot. He said sharply, "You'd better get into a stateroom. Use No. 3—and stay inside till we cast loose!"
"On my way, Captain." Calhoun smiled back recklessly. He made a lunge for the deck ladder. Queenie made an empty gesture with her hands. "It must be the gold, Captain Crotch. I made a tidy haul." She was unemotional, her face as bland as Calhoun's. And yet he read struggle at work beneath the surface, and her voice dropped. "I'll want to see you later. It's not the way it looks."
Sugar Logan dropped a hand against his arm. "Don't bother trying to track down that gunman, if that's what you're thinkin'. A man for breakfast nearly every morning, and no one ever catches the killer. That's what La Paz has come to right now." (To Be Continued)

Shamrock CC Discusses Work Plans

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Shamrock Chamber of Commerce work program is in the planning stage. Forty-four Shamrock civic leaders took part in the session presided over by Harry Frye, Chamber of Commerce president. The discussions were broken down into seven round-table groups of six members each.

State Lawyers Cool To Court Revamp Idea

AUSTIN, Jan. 20 — UP—Texas lawyers overwhelmingly dislike a proposed plan for revamping the state's court system.
The State Bar of Texas conducted a poll on the plan among its members.
A final tabulation at State Bar headquarters in Austin showed 3,900 of the attorneys voting against the proposed court system changes and only 1,960 favoring it, it was announced Tuesday.
A special State Bar committee has been studying the plan for several months. It proposed combining the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals and removing Supreme Court and appellate court justices from election by the people.
There would be a vote every six years on whether a judge should remain in office. If the people thought he should not, the governor would appoint a successor based on recommendation of a special commission of attorneys and laymen.
Members of the state bar, in the poll, rejected the proposal by almost a two to one majority, however.

Well Depth Record Set

ODESSA, Tex., Jan. 20 — UP—A new depth record for Texas was set Wednesday on a wildcat oilwell being drilled by Hunt Oil Co. and Gulf Oil Corp. 18 miles southwest of Fort Stockton in Pecos county.
Company spokesmen here said the No. 47 Elsinore Royalty Co. well is at a total depth of 18,625 feet, or 16 feet deeper than the previous deepest well.
The new record holder is 30 miles southwest of Gulf's No. 1 F. G. 300 pumpjack, a Reeves county wildcat which set a depth record last September at 18,609 feet before being abandoned.

Carnegie Class Slates Meeting

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Dale Carnegie Course will hold its first lesson tonight in the First Christian Church. Approximately 30 men and women have signed up for the course, sponsored in Shamrock by the St. Patrick's Association.
The introductory session held last Thursday night was under the direction of George Caddel of Amarillo. Caddel, who holds the franchise, has four instructors available to teach the courses. Neil Mager was the principal instructor during the course held in McLean last year and will probably teach the Shamrock class.
The class will be limited to 40 members. The graduate of the Dale Carnegie Class who is accepting enrollees expects the class to be full by Thursday night.
The lessons will be held each Thursday evening for 16 lessons. Each session will begin with dinner at 6:30.
Persons interested in taking the course may contact Perry Bear, Harry Frye, Albert Cooper or any other graduate of the course for further information. They may also attend the session at Christian Church Thursday evening.
