Department Of Defense Reduces Call

WASHINGTON, March 1—UP—The Defense Department Monday slashed April draft calls to 8,000 men, all for the Army. The April figure compares with 11,000 for March and February, and 23,000 for January. The Defense Department said this call represents a moderate decrease from the previous estimate because of a greater number of voluntary enlistments into the Army than had been forecast. The spurt in new enlistments was attributed largely to a desire of young men to beat the Jan. 31 deadline for GI wartime benefits. As a result of the heavy increase, the Army wound up January with 1,334,220 men, a net gain for the month of 8,170. The Army showed this gain at a time when it is under orders to cut to 1.1 million by next June 30. The department disclosed last Friday that the armed forces recruited 68,103 new men last January of whom 25,660 went into the Army.

Three Oil Field Hands Killed In Shivers Ready Nitroglycerin 'Torpedo' Blast To Talk With Dem Chairman

SAN ANGELO, Tex., March 1—UP—A nitroglycerin "torpedo" being readied at an oil well exploded Monday, blowing three men to bits and seriously injuring two others. The blast was believed touched by one of the men working with nitroglycerin shot in an attempt to attach a line to it for lowering into the oil well. The "shot" was reported equivalent to about 15 sticks of dynamite. Parts of the bodies of the victims were blown 300 yards. The men killed were identified as C. R. Boyd and Raymond Earl Ridley, both of Snyder, Tex., and V. B. Floyd of Wichita Falls and Electrica, Tex. The injured C. W. Boyles, 37, of Oklahoma City, and his 16-year-old son, Hollis Boyles, were brought to Shannon hospital in San Angelo following the explosion Monday afternoon just across the county line in Schleicher county. The rig was located on a high hill on the Harkey Ranch lease about 12 miles southeast of Christoval. Eyewitnesses reported that the elder Boyles, who suffered leg injuries, said Ridley was getting ready to lower the "torpedo" to the bottom of the hole to loosen the pipe when an eyelet dropped from off. He said Ridley sent him to the nearby truck to get a nail to attach to the explosive, but just as he reached the truck, there was a terrific explosion. He said he turned around, "not expecting to see anyone." The first thing I thought of was my son," he said. "I knew they were all killed. But his son Hollis, although his trousers were blown completely off and he had fractures of an arm and leg, came through the experience alive. He was believed to have internal injuries in addition to the limb fractures and his condition was termed critical. The crew was working with the C. E. Knight Co. of Snyder, Knight and J. J. Brady, chief engineer of Mayfair Minerals, which owns the No. 1 Harkey, were sitting in a truck far away and saw the accident. Bodies in Bad Shape Sheriff Cecil Turner of San Angelo said the bodies were in awful shape, just blown to pieces. About all we could do was pick up belongings and things we could find around there. "Particles of the bodies were scattered at least 300 yards away in all directions," he added. The explosion literally blew the men to pieces. A piece of backbone was found 125 yards away. The feet of one of the victims was found in his boots, 75 yards from the rig. The bodies were brought to Cox Funeral Home in San Angelo.

Yoo-Yoo's Disease Has Doctors Baffled

NEW YORK, March 1—UP—Doctors were put on their guard Tuesday against yoo-yoo's disease. Dr. Howard E. Bierman, a well-known California specialist, warned that medical men were likely to be suckers for it. He himself was just recovering from a painfully deflating bout with the yoo-yoo's, he confessed. It began this way. Having been called in to examine a patient whose condition and symptoms had baffled many other physicians, he found himself baffled, too. Cluster of Baffled Doctors There was a whole cluster of baffled doctors. One of them asked Dr. Bierman if he had ever heard of yoo-yoo's disease. After he had made the man spell it to be sure he had heard correctly, he said he hadn't. Whereupon all the doctors "uttered a sigh of relief." Yoo-yoo—complete ignorance of the nature of a disease both as to location and cause. The editors of the staid New England Journal of Medicine printed his confession under this title: "Yoo-Yoo's Disease An Often Encountered but Ill Defined Condition."

Boy Survives Pierced Heart

SAN ANTONIO, March 1—UP—An 11-year-old boy who walked away after being shot in the heart with an air rifle is "doing nicely." Bexar County Medical Society reported Monday. The younger, William A. Scott, was shot accidentally Saturday as he played with his nine-year-old brother, Sidney. William walked into the line of fire just as Sidney squeezed the trigger of their air rifle. William fell when the pellet struck him, but got up and walked to his home nearby. He said nothing to his mother, Mrs. William J. Scott, about the incident. But Mrs. Scott later found the child lying on his bed in a mild state of shock. She summoned her husband and they rushed the boy to a doctor. Young William was taken to Nix hospital, where X-ray located the pellet. It had traveled through the left chamber of the heart, through the circulatory system and into the artery of his right arm.

GALVESTON, March 1—UP—Lou Long, a 13-year-old Houston girl who was riding on the "buddy" seat of a motorcycle, was killed Sunday when an automobile rammied into the back of the two-wheeled vehicle on Highway 148 on the Galveston county mainland. Deputy Sheriff Pete Ury said the motorcycle was struck by an automobile driven by George T. Tims, 22, of Houston. By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

IT ISN'T OFTEN I have a column of interest to men, as well as women. But, for variety, I try to have something for both occasionally. Today's column might be entitled "For Men Only," but since women have such a great influence on the buying of men's clothes...

A FEW SIMPLE RULES to guide men when choosing patterned accessories for wear with their suits are suggested by the Made-to-Measure Guild.

Any sort of shirting pattern, from striped or checked to solid colors, may be worn with a solid color suit, these experts say. If a solid color shirt is chosen, almost any pattern in a tie will look well.

For wear with a striped shirt a quiet patterned necktie rather than a striped one, should be selected, especially if the shirt stripes are bold.

With a plaid suit, a solid color shirt and quiet tie should be worn. Similar textures and bolder colors in shirt and tie may be com-combined with casual tweeds or Shetland suitings. A good rule to remember is that one bold accent or distinctive pattern is enough in an ensemble, with the rest of the outfit quiet and subdued in blending colors.

THERE ARE THREE final details which are of great importance in a man's new suit.

First, make sure the coat sleeves show about half an inch of shirt cuff. A shirt sleeve cuff should come to the beginning of a wearer's wrist.

Second, insist that the collar of the coat sets low enough in back to show about half an inch of shirt collar, to avoid a rumpled, "short-neck" appearance.

Third, see that the trousers hang from the hips and rest lightly on the tops of shoes. If they are too long or too short, they ruin the symmetry of the entire suit.

Wes Izzard Of Amarillo Is Speaker For Banquet Of Pampa Concert Group

"Music today is basic to every community in the country," stated Wes Izzard, Amarillo radio and television executive, during a speech at the Community Concert Association banquet Monday evening.

Izzard pointed out what a service it is to the community to bring in great artists, and made a plea for a coliseum-auditorium, that could be adapted for a variety of sports, shows and programs.

Also on the program was Dord Fitz, Panhandle area art instructor, who gave an unusual presentation of music in tone, mood and color. Fitz used a "machine" he made in 1941 of bottles, filled with salt water, wood and wires, which resulted in changing colors and shapes on a screen, to the accompaniment of "Clare de Lune."

Chairman for the banquet was Mrs. Bob Curry, who was assisted by Mrs. J. B. Veale, Mrs. Frank Fata and Mrs. Raymond Harrah Jr.

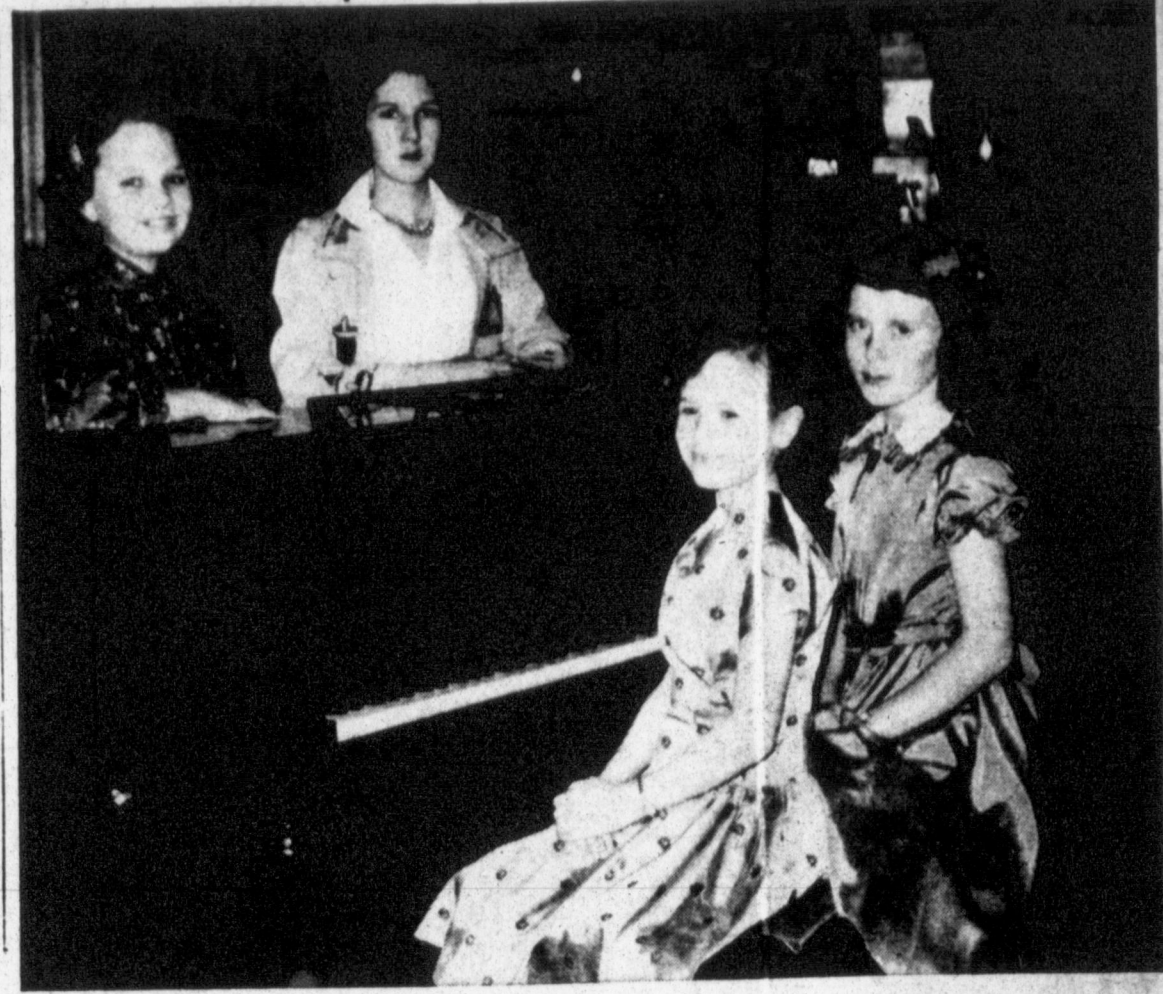

Members of the association board include Mrs. Harrah, president; Dr. J. B. Veale, vice president; Mrs. Mel Davis, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Curry, third vice president; Mrs. A. A. Schuneman, secretary; Mrs. R. H. Nienstiel, treasurer; Mrs. Leora Rose, corresponding secretary; Miss Joyce Wanner, publicity; and Kirk Beck, Mrs. Harold Wright, Frank Fata, Mrs. Calvin Jones and Jack Skelly.

Robert Stafford, the association's New York representative, spoke briefly on the "world's great artists" that have been brought to Pampa during the 12 years the concert association has been organized.

World Wheat Stores High

WASHINGTON, March 1 - UP - Principal wheat producing countries had the largest surplus wheat stock on hand in history at the start of the present marketing season, according to an Agriculture Department estimate. The department estimated the surplus was 2,055,000,000 bushels. It arrived at the figure by subtracting estimated domestic demand for wheat in the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina from the estimated total supply available in these countries.

The highest aggregate surplus in these countries prior to this season was 2,045,000,000 bushels in the 1933-1934 market season. Total wheat exports from the four countries probably will be about 709 million bushels this year, about 5 per cent more than last year, the department said. The United States will be the leading wheat exporter this year followed by Canada, Argentina and Australia in that order, the department forecast. But despite increased U. S. exports of wheat, the department repeated its prediction of last month that by July 1 the United States will have nearly 1 billion bushels of wheat under support loans - a new record.

Marathon Drum Beat Underway

NEW YORK, March 1 - UP - A 35-year-old drummer started beating it out in a music store window Monday in an effort to set the nation's first record for continuous drumming. Sam Ulano, a Bronx drum teacher and recording artist, plans to get going with a continuous roll and keep it up for 24 hours or as long as he holds out. Under rules set up by the American Drummers Association, he can't slow down to less than a stroke a second.

He has a change of drums to lend some variety. If he has to leave the store for any reason, he'll keep up the beat on a marching-style drum. Ulano's drumathon manager, Alan Abel, said Ulano had been training for a year for his try at the record. Abel said the only previous drumming record was set by a fellow in Oklahoma about 15 years ago, who rat-tatted for about eight hours before he got hungry. This was before the drummers' association figured out the rules, however, so it isn't official, Abel said. Ulano will not get hungry. He can eat one handed.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Written for NEA Service
Lent is a Christian custom, yet Jesus gave no rule for its observance. In connection with what he had to say about fasting, older versions of the Bible read: "thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly" (Matthew 6: 18). The Revised Standard Version at this point has rather: "Your Father who sees in secret will reward you."

Why did earlier translations add "openly"? Remember that until the invention of printing all Bibles were copied out by hand. Scribes sometimes wrote words in the margin. Later scribes included these notes in the text, with result that old documents kept getting longer. Some copyist, reading God "will reward you," wrote a marginal note to the effect that this reward would be outward and visible. His successor, careful to leave nothing out, included this as a part of the saying of Jesus. Discovery of older manuscripts proves that the original saying of Jesus read simply: "Your father who sees in secret will reward you." The Sermon on the Mount begins with a warning against religion which is external: "Beware of practicing your piety before men" (Matthew 6: 1, RSV). If Jesus had gone on to guarantee that God would give open rewards, that would have been a denial of the very point he set out to make! Actually, it accords with our human experience that God's rewards are inward and secret rather than outward and obvious. God's rewards come to us in the satisfaction and delight we have in doing His will. Perhaps only we ever know about them.

House Okays Provision On Cross-Filing

By O. B. LLOYD Jr.
AUSTIN, March 1 - UP - The House Monday voted final approval to a bill repealing Texas' controversial cross-filing provision in the election code.

The action came with surprising swiftness and no debate, as the House passed the measure by a vote of 115-17, sending the proposal to the Senate. The measure is sponsored by Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., of San Antonio, a member of the liberal group in the lower chamber. Maverick's bill repeals a one-sentence provision in the election code passed by the legislature in 1951, under which Gov. Allan Shivers and all other elective officials except one were cross-filed on both Democratic and Republican tickets in 1952.

State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White was the only state official nominated for office on the Democratic slate who refused to allow his name on the Republican ticket in 1952, presidential election year when President Eisenhower was elected.

Two bills proposing state regulation of public utilities were among those scheduled for committee consideration by the legislature Monday.

Another bill, scheduled for committee consideration would strengthen penalties on conviction of selling narcotics to minors, up to and including the death sentence on second offense.

Legislation proposing state regulation of public utilities was introduced in the upper house by Sen. William T. Moore of Bryan and in the lower house by Rep. Robert Patten of Jasper.

Moore's bill, to create a board of public utility commissioners to take over from the cities jurisdiction over gas, water and light utilities, will be heard by the Senate State Affairs committee at 2 p. m. Monday.

Patten's measure, which would set up a state public utilities commission with similar power of regulation over telephone, gas and electric rates, will be considered by the House State Affairs committee Monday night, at 7:30 p. m.

The House Monday refused to send back to committee a bill which would expand Arlington State College into a four-year senior college. The effort to return the bill to committee was made by Rep. LeRoy Saul of Kress.

Saul's attempt to send the bill to appropriations committee was killed by a vote of 77-47. Rep. Jim Moore of Arlington, sponsor of the bill, pointed out the proposal had been voted out of State Affairs committee by a top-heavy vote.

The House gave final approval to a bill by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio which would allow agents of mutual legal reserve companies to be paid the same commissions as capital stock insurance companies if the mutual legal reserve companies maintained a surplus of $100,000.

The lower chamber also passed and sent to the Senate a bill by Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso allowing operations to be performed on state hospital mental patients on the advice of three physicians, where there is no guardian of the patient to authorize such operations.

A second bill affecting state hospital patients, by Rep. Moyne Kelly of Afton, allowing release of mental patients on furlough under contracts between the state and private individuals for care at $30 a month, also received final approval of the House.

The House approved a bill by Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston to raise the minimum pension of policemen from $75 to $105 a month.

Marshall's Ghost

The ghost of General George C. Marshall is very evident on the battlefields of these United States of America. President Eisenhower, as the benefactor of General Marshall, has consistently refused to turn his back on his one-time Chief of Staff.

It was Marshall, you remember, who in an ill-starred adventure, visited China and advised American authorities in what was tantamount to betrayal, that the "agrarian reformers of Mao-Tse-tung were harmless peasants seeking a more equitable distribution of the land."

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Dr. Benson, President Of Harding College, Defends Tax Supporting Schools

Here is Dr. Benson's letter of February 7 answering, or failing to answer, the questions I asked in my last letter. Most anyone can answer a few questions if he does not have to follow through to get himself out of a dilemma.

In the following letter Dr. Benson contends that the Golden Rule gave way when certain emergencies arose. We would ask Dr. Benson what moral standard he would use to determine right from wrong, for both individuals and individuals when they are acting collectively, if the Golden Rule and the Commandments must give way under certain circumstances?

"Dear Mr. Hoiles: I have been out of town and have only today been able to see your letter of January 10. I have no objection to your changing the words in your three questions if you think it is fair to do so. I answered the questions as they were and it seems to me they should remain that way, so far as the publishing of my answers is concerned.

"In affirming that one group has a right to coerce another, of course, I am expecting that it is the majority that would be coercing a minority because when questions are voted on the winner isn't the one with the smallest number of votes.

"Mr. Hoiles, you seem to think it is so absurd for a majority group to coerce a minority group to help pay for public schools, yet you aren't opposing a majority group coercing a minority group to help pay for the paving of streets, to help pay for a sewer system, to help pay for a water system.

"In our country all people who want to support and patronize private schools are at liberty to do so. Public schools are provided for those who do not choose to send to private schools. They are required to attend private schools, so the only schools they can be required to attend are public schools.

"We are perhaps on the eve of a discovery that Washington is filled with whirling dervishes who will be swinging about in an effort to re-polarize their lode stars, now strangely lacking in magnetism.

Meanwhile, along the far eastern battlefields of America, strides the ghost of Marshall, clad in the pale armor of those who feared to face the enemy. Like Hamlet's father, he seeks comfort so his soul may rest in peace. Vile poison in his ear, snuffed out that kindly presence. Could it be that, as the young Hamlet so aptly came to realize, "Something is rotten in the State of Denmark?"

Government Admits Tough Problem In Perjury Cases

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Government officials admit ruefully that a lack of trustworthy corroborative witnesses and evidence may enable the self-confessed liars and professional perjurers in the nation's extensive Communist hunt to evade prosecution and conviction.

The Matsuo-Natvig-Watson sensation has ballooned into an international crisis rather than a mere Congressional or judicial review. For years, Russian spokesmen have charged that all our heralded revelations of Red spying were baseless and nonsensical. Their various United Nations emissaries have maintained that "The Americans see bogies under every bed."

Indeed, a former Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, Earl Jowitt, wrote a thick volume to question whether Alger Hiss had really been proved guilty. It is standard British opinion that not only at home but abroad, the United States has grown too "hysterical" on the whole question of Communist subversion and expansion.

Thus, if key witnesses on Capitol Hill, as well as in Federal and State courts, turn out to have been untruthful, our foreign critics will enjoy a macabre laugh at our expense.

On the other hand, if Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., can demonstrate that their current retractions are fabrications which would make them liable to contemporary charges of contempt or perjury, he would cast grave doubt on their earlier evidence against the alleged operators of the Moscow apparatus in the United States.

FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. INOUBRETSSEN, President, Spiritual Mobilization

Don Belding, chairman of the board of Foote, Cone and Belding, advertising agents and consultants, declared recently: "In most industries the big are getting bigger and the smaller companies are being swallowed up or are going broke. This is not good for America."

In an address before the West Coast Travelers Associates in Los Angeles, Belding blamed this trend on the present tax structure, which hobbles business—particularly the smaller companies—to provide government with its tens of billions of dollars of spending money.

The irony of this situation is that, when companies are thus forced to start merging, the government then starts spending still more money investigating the mergers, which means, of course, that more money must be collected in taxes—which tends to bring on more mergers, and so on and so on.

Clearly, when this kind of vicious circle is in operation, government has ceased to be a protective agency and has become a predatory agency. Only by reversing this situation can we remedy the OTHER situation which Belding asserts "is not good for America."

In any action against the trio, Brownell's witnesses would probably have to be Communists with no standing in court. This embarrassing predicament explains Brownell's delay in referring the whole mess to a Grand Jury. And if the law delays much longer, the statute of limitations will operate with regard to Matsuo's 1952 testimony, which helped to send 18 Communists to prison.

Insurance Companies Mixed In Union 'Welfare' Funds

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In the disclosures of grand corruption in the extortion and distribution of union "welfare" funds, the names of the actual insurance companies have appeared only rarely. If there is a presumption that insurance companies are above suspicion, that is so stupid as to reflect on either the intelligence and competence or the honesty of the printed page and the radio.

About 1942, Thomas E. Dewey, then recently elected for his first term as governor of New York told me that he was dropping the union rackets and was about to investigate the insurance business. I remarked that Governor Hughes had cleaned up the life insurance mess years before. Dewey said yes, but that there was more to be done.

However, war was upon us with unusual demands on Dewey's time and energy and the investigation of insurance business never came off. It will offend some insurance men to call some fields of their business a racket but the best that can be said is that it is clean in some types and areas and a racket in many others and known to be such to the very men who take pompous offense at the slightest criticism of "insurance" as a whole.

"FEATHERBEDDING" AND RAILWAY LOSS

(Christian Economics)

During the two years ending May, 1953, the railroads obtained permission to stop operating 314 passenger trains ending annual operating losses of approximately $17,500,000. During the 15-month period ending August, 1954 an additional 183 losing trains were discontinued at an annual saving of $5,200,000.

It is often difficult for a railroad to obtain permission to discontinue a train. Labor and the local communities served usually oppose it, branch lines are often compelled to continue operation year after year at heavy loss to the railway company.

According to a report of a special committee on cooperation, formed in 1949 and representing the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners of the 48 States, some seven or eight hundred additional railway trains are operating at heavy loss and should be discontinued.

Little can be done about solving the railway problem unless and until government intervention is eliminated and the cooperation of labor is secured. Among other things the "Special Committee on Cooperation with the I.C.C. in the Study of the Railroad Passenger Deficit Problem" above referred to, has the following to say about labor's attitude in connection with lower cost operation of this essential service:

"Although the current average speed of passenger trains including all stops at intermediate points — is almost 40 miles per hour, the daily rates of pay continue to be based on an assumed average speed of only 20 miles an hour — thus materially increasing the cost of the railroad of the actual work performed. This type of wage agreement has loaded wage costs so heavily on the passenger trains that these costs alone have often been the decisive factor necessitating the discontinuance of operation of trains which could have continued to run with a crew cost more reasonably related to the service rendered. Many passenger trains on which the railroads were required to maintain crews under the provisions of these agreements for pay as though three crews were used could have easily been operated with only two crews without any of such crews being on duty longer than six hours. Yet, because of the fat refusal of the railway operating brotherhoods to consider any modification of these obsolete contract terms, the trains were forced into discontinuance with the resultant loss of the jobs of all three crews where two of such crews could have remained in service...."

By ED NASH Pampa News Staff Writer

"THE IDES OF MARCH are coming," Cassar said to the soothsayer. "Yes, they are come," the soothsayer replied, but they are not passed.

That's the way Plutarch reports the month which begins today. But Shakespeare is more worried about March 15—the Ides of March in the Roman calendar—when he quotes the soothsayer as saying:

"Beware the Ides of March." Regardless, this is the first day of the month that traditionally runs in like a lion and out like a lamb. Or vice versa.

And what, forgetting the weather for a moment, does it all mean? Well, it's the first day of One-Dish Meals with Cheese Month, Red Cross Month, Spring Clean-up Week and Nationally Advertised-Chain Variety Stores Brands Week.

Tomorrow, though, is the really important day in these parts. It's Texas Independence Day, a legal holiday throughout the state.

MOVIES - TV - RADIO

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA)—Hollywood on TV: Hollywood color television, with a three-toned actress, is one up today on 1955's new two-toned automobiles. But before I tell you about it, here's a flash:

Another one of New York's big prestige live dramatic shows — "You Are There" — is moving to Hollywood and film. First show to carry the filmed-in-Hollywood credit line will have a network premiere April 17 with Jeff Morrow, borrowed from Universal-International film studio, playing Abraham Lincoln.

Now about the three-toned actress. Electronic gremlins turned Alix Talton into a three-toned doll when she wore a gold evening dress in an experimental color telecast of "My Favorite Husband."

Engineers thought the dress would photograph fine. But on the TV color tube Alix looked like a human aurora borealis.

The gold photographed green with a flickering two-back border of purple and yellow.

But at least Alix doesn't have to blush in any tones about beating the "movie cheesecake girl" rap. As a bedroom-eyed magazine cover girl, she was imported to Hollywood during the war and glorified as a member of the Navy Blues Sextette at Warner Bros.

"But I learned quick," she tells it, "that I had a lot to learn about acting. So I left Hollywood to learn how to act in stock. Then I acted my way back to Hollywood."

She's been playing Joan Caulfield's rich neighbor on "My Favorite Husband" for a year and a half and laughs:

"I'm even richer than Jackie Gleason."

Bill Bendix makes up his mind whether to undergo surgery for his ulcer after he winds up the final two "Life of Riley" shows. Schedule gives him until June to convalesce.

THE WEINET: Housewife to door-to-door TV salesman: "You might try the people next door. We watch theirs and it's terrible."

Gene Sheldon penned it: "Hush, little joke. Don't you cry. You'll be on TV. Bye and bye."

Frankie Laine will convert his 11-hour telefilms into three 15-minute shows a week next season. "It's been discovered," he says, "that singers do better on TV in more frequent appearances. . . . My Douglas and his wife, Hel-Gahagen, will film a hubby-and-wife situation comedy series. . . . Emmy Rettig, kid star of the "Sensie" series is getting a hair-cut, by popular request of Joan and her Q. Viewers."

Ridgway Hits Proposed Cut In Manpower

WASHINGTON, March 1—UP—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway reportedly warned senators Monday that the Army will not be able "to perform its assigned missions" if the administration's proposed 273,000-man cut is approved.

The Army chief of staff appeared before a closed session of the Senate Armed Services committee. He said the 18-month reduction will be "dangerous to the security of the nation," Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) reported afterward.

Russell said Ridgway testified that he felt the Army needs about 1.4 million men—the strength at the beginning of the current fiscal year last July 1.

Ridgway explained, Russell said, that the Army, "suitably deployed" for "commitment" at any threatened point, "was the primary deterrent to aggression."

The committee also was told that the Army does not have "adequate" air transportation from the Air Force to give it needed mobility. That testimony reflected an inter-services squabble, centered on the Air Force's alleged reluctance to divert air transport the other services feel they need.

Russell indicated the committee may dig further into the advisability of the manpower cuts, and said defense officials may be recalled later.

STOP MOTOR OIL KNOCK WITH HUMBLE UNIFLO

Humble Esso Extra gasoline for '55 will give you the best anti-knock performance you've ever had.

But motor oil can also cause knock. Some oils form combustion chamber deposits that raise compression ratios even higher, increase a high compression engine's tendency to knock. These deposits also cause pre-ignition ping.

Humble Uniflo motor oil does not form knock-causing deposits. Thus, in effect it raises the anti-knock performance of your gasoline.

Uniflo also saves gasoline, lengthens battery life, gives you superior lubrication and cooling. You use the same grade the whole year around.

When you use both Esso Extra gasoline and Uniflo motor oil, you're using the best performance combination ever.

The entirely new gasoline with the highest performance rating ever offered Texas motorists.

When your car knocks, you're losing power, burning too much gasoline, dirtying your engine. Knock—even ping—is more than a noisy inconvenience—it's expensive, too.

But you can stop knock with Humble's Esso Extra for '55. This entirely new gasoline has the highest octane rating (anti-knock quality) offered Texas motorists.

It's an absolute must for the new high compression 1955 engines.

And it assures the improved performance of any car, any make, any model.

Get the Esso Extra habit! . . . Your car will give you performance you never dreamed it had!

No. 1 in Texas

Now, more Texans than ever before prefer Esso Extra to any other premium gasoline.

WASHINGTON, March 1—UP—What's new in Washington:

Members of the congress have been asked to submit their favorite inspirational poems to the legislative reference service in the library of congress. Idea is to publish a little booklet. A lot already have come in. John Howard Payne's "Home Sweet Home," Edgar Allen Poe's "The Raven" and a lot of things from Longfellow and Keats. But what I want to see are some of the originals by the lawgivers themselves. You just can't tell.

Vice President Nixon and his lovely wife, Pat, got themselves stuck in an elevator in Mexico City. That prompted a manufacturer of elevators in Virginia to drop the VP a line. He said he had an elevator which was guaranteed not to stick.

Nixon hasn't answered the letter yet. He is un-stuck but un-back from his trip.

It's getting close to tax-paying time, and the Internal Revenue commissioner has a timely warning for doggers. He reports that his department has tagged 1,417 evaders the past two years.

There are two Kilgore in the congress, one new and one old. Sen. Harley Martin Kilgore of West Virginia has been around for some time. Rep. Joe M. Kilgore of Texas is pretty new. But what happens?

There is a mix-up in laundry, phone calls and mail. Joe had to wait a couple of weeks before he got his household furniture. It was sent to Harley's place. Same thing with laundry and dry-cleaning. "Harley's wife and my wife are not the same size," Joe said.

Piano-playing Liberace, he with the candelabra and the hair-do, thought he was getting the tops when he signed a contract for $150,000 for three weeks tinkling at the Riviera hotel in Las Vegas, Nev. But "Libby" thinks he now has topped that. He has been invited on March 19 to play here for the President of the United States. For zero dollars. And if brother George and his violin and mama and her charm come along, they'll have to pay their own way, too. It's part of a command performance.

The gentleman from Oklahoma, incidentally, frets over the fact that former Gov. Alfalfa Bill Murray's bedroom is being remodeled for the grandchildren of Oklahoma's present Governor Gary.

THE PAMPA OILER COMMUNITY Baseball Association is keeping the ball rolling toward the coming West Texas - New Mexico League season.

Twelve of the 15 directors of the local baseball organization attended yesterday's weekly confab, a very good turnout, to say the least.

The directors got down to serious business at these weekly meetings. A lot is accomplished at each confab although much of the business isn't of special interest to pass along to the fans.

The ticket sales, of course, are always discussed at these meetings and the directors still aren't discouraged over the progress of the sales although the goal is far from reached.

Pampa is keeping up pretty well with Amarillo in the ticket sales despite the fact that our city is five times smaller than our neighbors 50 miles to the west of us.

And Amarillo Gold Sox officials, too have been blessed with some 100 or so plugs on the two TV stations in Amarillo.

With March on us now, the local diamond directors believe the Oiler season ticket drive will pick up. The POBA still believes its 3,000 season ticket goal will be reached.

There's a lot of optimism in the POBA. We sincerely hope the optimism is just as high with John Q. Fan.

Williams has driven the chartered bus the past two years the Harvesters have gone to Austin and like four other members of the team plus Coach Clifton McNeely and Terry Culley, he is making his third trip with the Green and Gold to the state tournament.

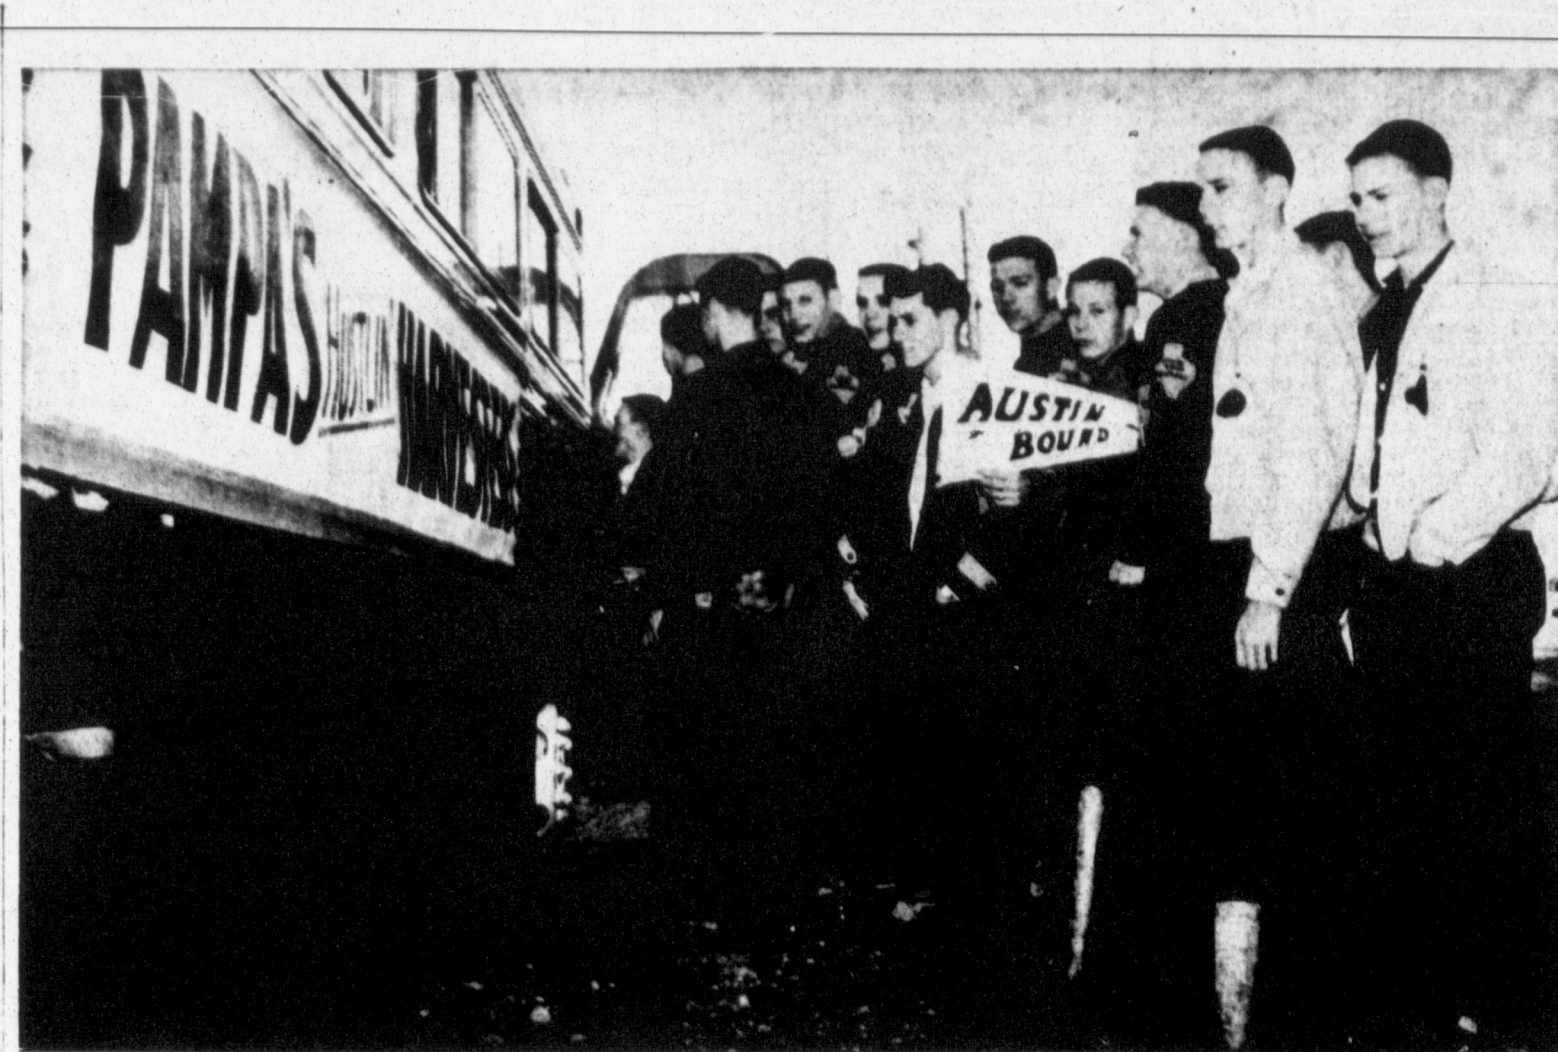

The players are quite fond of Williams. In fact, after the first trip to the state tournament, the players requested the bus company that they send Williams along as the bus driver.

We sincerely hope Williams will bring home the bacon this year as he has done so well the past two years.

FOR YOU FANS GOING TO Austin, the sports committee of the Chamber of Commerce urges you to go by the CC office and pick up arm bands, car stickers and what have you that will advertise the City of Pampa in the state's capital.

People from every corner of the state will be there and our city will certainly benefit by any recognition the fans can give the community.

The bands and stickers are free so why not drop by and pick up some for the Austin trip.

AUSTIN, HERE WE COME - Shown above are the Hustlin' Harvesters boarding their chartered bus early today bound for Austin where the Green and Golders will defend their state Class 4-A title this week end. The Harvesters will meet Waco in the tourney opener Friday at 8:50 p. m. Fifteen players made the trip.

Austin Bound Harvesters Leave For Title Defense

Pampa's defending state champion Harvesters departed at 8:45 p. m. today for Austin where they'll attempt to nab their third straight state cage title this week end.

Fifteen players were on the chartered bus that will carry the team to and from Austin. The Harvesters will drive to Denton today where they'll work out at North Texas State Fieldhouse late this afternoon.

The team will spend the night in Denton and then proceed on to Austin Wednesday, arriving there around noon.

A workout on the Gregory Gym floor, scene of the state tournament, will be held Wednesday afternoon.

The Harvesters will hold a workout at another gym in Austin Thursday since the tournament starts at Gregory Gym Thursday morning.

SWC Payoff Tonight As Schedule Ends

Games in Dallas and Fort Worth will determine Tuesday night whether the Southwest Conference basketball title goes to Texas Christian, to Southern Methodist, to both as co-champions or is shared by them in a three-way tie with Arkansas.

TCU faces the stiffest foe in Arkansas, but the Horned Frogs must win if they are to clinch their title hopes. The Frogs did it once before this season, and that time on Arkansas' home court.

SMU plays a weak sixth-place Texas in Dallas.

TCU and SMU enter Tuesday night's final regular season play with identical 8-3 records, while the Razorbacks are one game behind at 7-4.

SMU's chances of a victory Tuesday night are a bit better than those of their Fort Worth neighbors, but if the Mustangs and TCU both win Tuesday night, they will finish co-champions and go into a one-game playoff to settle the conference's NCAA representative.

Crozier Tech Carrying Best Record To State Tournament

AUSTIN, March 1—UP—Pairings for the 35th annual State High School Basketball tournament starting Thursday at Austin raised the possibility that last year's Class AAAAA finalists may meet again in a 1955 championship battle.

Pampa and Dallas Crozier Tech are the only defending champions who won their way to the 1955 tournament. Last year, Pampa won the state AAAAA title by edging the Dallas team in the final.

The three-day tournament will be opened by Bovina with a 30-2 season record against Rankin (12-12) in a Class B game at 8:45 a. m. Thursday.

Crozier Tech, with a 26-1 won-loss record, was paired against Beaumont High (24-10) at 7:30 p. m. Friday, followed by a game between Pampa (25-4) and Waco (23-6) at 8:30 p. m.

Record Crowd Sees Iowa Beat Gophers

By UNITED PRESS
Colorado seized a spot in the NCAA tournament Tuesday as newly-crowned champion of the Big Seven, and Iowa and Kentucky were almost "in" as a result of dramatic victories Monday night.

San Francisco, the nation's No. 1 team, racked up its 20th straight victory, 67 to 57, over College of Pacific as all-America Bill Russell scored 22 points and grabbed 23 rebounds.

In other leading games Monday night: Michigan State took a 93 to 77 victory over Indiana; Wisconsin took a 75 to 73 win over Purdue; Tennessee downed Auburn, 86 to 77; Louisiana State edged Mississippi, 68 to 65; Georgia Tech trounced Florida, 88 to 68; Tulane routed Mississippi State, 78 to 59; Bradley nipped Wichita, 69 to 67; and the Phillips Oilers won the National Industrial League championship by beating the Milwaukee Allen-Bradleys.

The NCAA announced its western division playoffs will open with shot with eight minutes left put Colorado ahead to stay. The Buffaloes' well-balanced attack also included 16 points from big Burdette Halderson while Lionel Smith, had 15 for Missouri, but Missouri's high-scoring pair of Bob Reiter and Norm Stewart were held to just 13 and eight respectively.

Like Iowa and Minnesota, Kentucky and Alabama were tied for their league lead before Monday night's game.

St. Louis pulled up to tie the Tulsa for the Missouri Valley Conference lead by beating Houston, 90 to 87, as Joe Todd hit for 31 points and Dick Boushka for 20. St. Louis and Tulsa each have one league game remaining on Saturday.

Texas Tech remained atop the center of the stage Tuesday night as co-leaders Texas Christian and Southern Methodist play their final games, against Arkansas and Texas, respectively. If both win, they'll meet in a one-game playoff for the NCAA tournament berth. If both lose, they finish in a three-way tie with Arkansas for the league title. Other leading games Tuesday include Kansas State-Kansas, and Texas A&M-Rice.

NEW YORK, March 1—UP—San Francisco's NCAA-bound Dons were the No. 1 college basketball choice of the United Press Board of Coaches for the fourth straight week Tuesday with only one week left to determine the season's national champion.

Baker Whips Layne, Eyes Shot At Heavyweight Crown

NEW YORK, March 1—UP—Big Bob Baker, who licked Rex Layne Monday night, said Tuesday, "I hope to beat Ezzard Charles in June and get a shot at the heavyweight title in September."

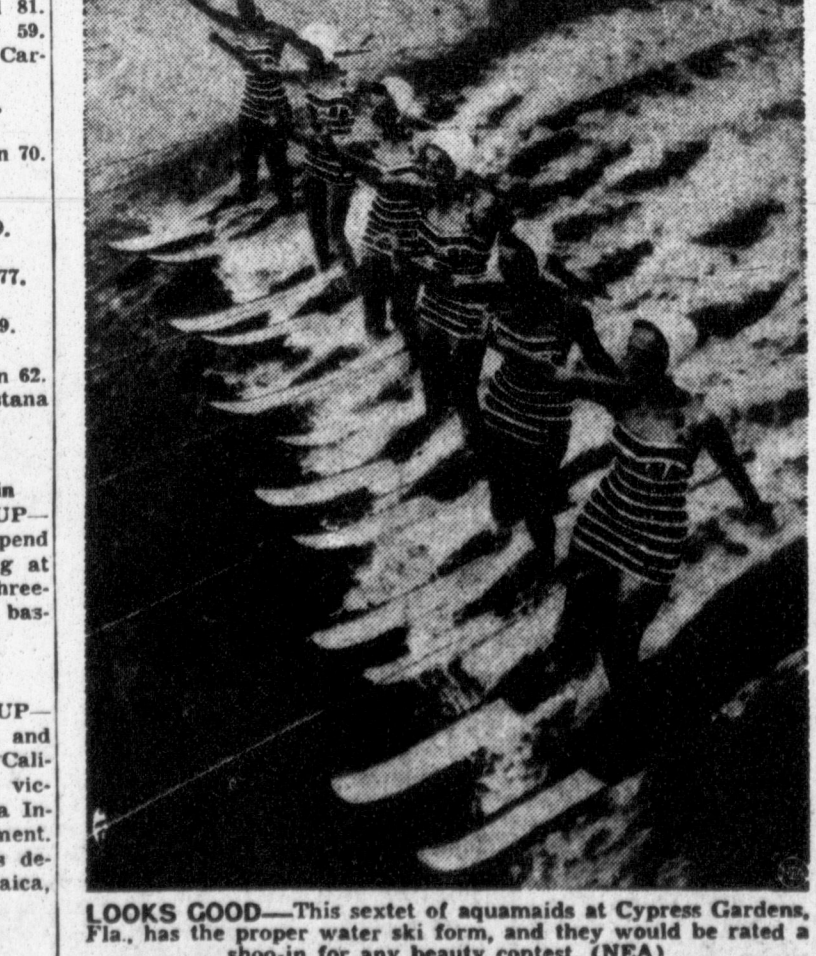

Meanwhile, Pittsburgh Bob will grant a return bout to Layne in hometown Salt Lake City as soon as the three-fight gash in Rex's upper lip is healed.

Layne suffered the reopening of an old cut on the left side of his upper lip in the eighth round while losing a unanimous 10-round decision to Baker in their widely televised bout before 1,228 at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena.

Dusty Bettor, Baker's manager, said Tuesday, "We have agreed to a return bout with Layne at Salt Lake City whenever Layne is ready. And we are negotiating for a fight with Ezzard Charles for the Dapper Dan Club at Pittsburgh in June."

Olson-Patterson Bout Doubtful
SAN FRANCISCO, March 1—UP—Sid Flaherty, manager of Carl (Bobo) Olson, Tuesday said he was "not interested" in matching his middleweight champion against light heavyweight contender Floyd Patterson at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field in June. "We want Archie Moore for a summer bout," Flaherty said in turning down the Brooklyn offer.

Whisperers from the grapevine say the Baker-Charles bout is "practically closed."

Baker, the fourth-ranked heavyweight contender who scaled 214 1/2 pounds to 206 1/2, was disappointed that he had not knocked out Rex Monday night.

Baker, favored at 5-1 and an "even-money" bet to score a kayo, gave Rex a thorough trouncing in the second half of the bout and staggered him several times. Dr. Harry Kleinman examined Rex in his corner at the end of the ninth round.

Juarez Seeking WT-NM Franchise

ABILENE, Tex., March 1—UP—President Hal Sayles of the West Texas-New Mexico League said Tuesday Juarez, Mex., probably will get a bid to join the circuit Saturday unless Clovis, N. M., can succeed in its bid to retain its Class B baseball team.

The Clovis club's fate will be decided at a meeting of league directors Saturday in Lubbock.

Sayles attended a meeting Sunday of the board of directors and stockholders of the Clovis club and told them the city must meet certain league requirements or relinquish its franchise.

B-47 Sets Speed Mark

OMAHA, March 1—UP—A Strategic Air Command B-47 set a new transcontinental bomber speed record of 641 miles an hour on a routine training flight Feb. 25, SAC headquarters here said Monday.

The plane started from March Air Force Base in California and covered 2,090 statute miles in three hours, 19 minutes and 35 seconds. The best previous time was set by another SAC crew which averaged 622.8 miles per hour over a similar course in January.

The Stratofort was part of the 301st SAC Bomb Wing stationed at Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana.

Second Air Force officials at Barksdale AFB identified the crew members as: Maj. John C. Lewis, Frostburg, Md., aircraft commander; Maj. John C. Moak, Columbia S. C., pilot; Lt. Col Oscar L. Black, Kilgore, Tex., observer; and S.Sgt. Richard J. C. Stelk, Port Huron, Mich., crew chief.

Lewis said the flight was aided by a tail wind but not the much-heralded "high jet stream." The Stratofort normally carries a crew of three.

Ridgway Hits Proposed Cut In Manpower

WASHINGTON, March 1—UP—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway reportedly warned senators Monday that the Army will not be able "to perform its assigned missions" if the administration's proposed 278,000-man cut is approved.

The Army chief of staff appeared before a closed session of the Senate Armed Services committee. He said the 18-month reduction will be "dangerous to the security of the nation," Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) reported afterward.

Russell said Ridgway testified that he felt the Army needs about 1.4 million men—its strength at the beginning of the current fiscal year last July 1.

Ridgway explained, Russell said, that the Army, "suitably deployed" for "commitment at any threatened point," was the primary deterrent to aggression.

The committee also was told that the Army does not have "adequate" air transportation from the Air Force to give it needed mobility. That testimony reflected an inter-services squabble, centered on the Air Force's alleged reluctance to divert air transport the other services feel they need.

Russell indicated the committee may dig further into the advisability of the manpower cuts, and said defense officials may be recalled later.

STOP MOTOR OIL KNOCK WITH HUMBLE UNIFLO

Humble Esso Extra gasoline for '55 will give you the best anti-knock performance you've ever had.

But motor oil can also cause knock. Some oils form combustion chamber deposits that raise compression ratios even higher, increase a high compression engine's tendency to knock. These deposits also cause pre-ignition ping.

Humble Uniflo motor oil does not form knock-causing deposits. Thus, in effect it raises the anti-knock performance of your gasoline.

Uniflo also saves gasoline, lengthens battery life, gives you superior lubrication and cooling. You use the same grade the whole year around.

When you use both Esso Extra gasoline and Uniflo motor oil, you're using the best performance combination ever.

Solons Get Odd Requests

WASHINGTON, March 1—UP—

There are, of course, 96 members of the Senate and that caused Sen. Bob Kerr, the Oklahoma Democrat no little pain. Said he, in his letter back to his voters: "Just as I thought I was doing all right with my added seniority and new committee positions, I discover that the 95 best-dressed senators have been named and identified—and I didn't make it." The senator, by the way, always looks well-pressed and well-dressed.

The gentleman from Oklahoma, incidentally, frets over the fact that former Gov. Alfalfa Bill Murray's bedroom is being remodeled for the grandchildren of Oklahoma's present Governor Gary.

Paul Douglas Not Afraid Of Reporters

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, March 1—UP—Paul Douglas set a record Tuesday for actors. Though in hot water over a newspaper interview, he didn't try to back out of it or claim he never saw the reporter. Douglas sat down to bravely face a scribe for the first time since his legendary remarks in a Greensboro, N. C., newspaper that the South is a land of "sow-belly and segregation."

His touring play, "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," was cancelled by producer Paul Gregory on grounds the South was upset. Last week the spirited actor retaliated with a $1 million suit against Gregory on a charge of "defaming" his reputation.

Douglas fearlessly underwent another questioning at the Brown Derby between rehearsals for his Lux Video theater program. Other luminaries may have claimed they never were even in North Carolina, but Douglas honestly said, "I don't deny I did the interview."

"And, yes, we did talk generally about the South," he went on. "But I thought it was off the record. This guy was from my town, Philadelphia, and we were talking—but I absolutely claim I was misquoted on one sentence, which," he shuddered, "had better not be mentioned again."

"And I am not afraid of the press now," he added. "Why should I be? I'm not easily frightened by things. I've always been around newspaper people. A lot of my closest friends are New York columnists.

Douglas thinks "it's too soon to tell" whether his boxoffice will slip south of the Mason-Dixon line but "I haven't received one letter yet."

"And I've been back in Hollywood only a few days and I'm doing one of the biggest programs (the CBS-TV version of "Casablanca" on Lux video Thursday night), I taped a Bob Hope radio show and I'm doing a Damon Runyon TV film for Screen Gems."

Douglas paused to wave hello to a dozen friendly tablehoppers.

"I'll tell you one thing," rasped the actor. "Sue somebody for a million dollars and everybody says hello. Hell-o-o-o with a lot of zeros after it."

He chewed furiously on his lunch for a minute and added, "except one actor on the Lux show. He said he felt sorry for me because I was being sued. I said, well, read the story again. He said, oh, moh, and hasn't spoken to me to me since."

Douglas was gone from Hollywood nearly eight months in "the pretty exhausting but fabulous" Captain Queeg role.

"I'll tell you how long I've been away from big cities," he said. "I've never seen George Gobel on television."

As we walked out of the restaurant the intrepid actor watched me put my notepad away. He said, with a gentle sigh, "well, I hope I'll still be speaking to you two days from now."

Fellow Officer Takes Blame For 2 Counts Against Nugent

FORT SILL, Okla., March 1 — incoherent, extremely terrified, un-UP—A lieutenant colonel who was able to carry on a conversation, I graduated from West Point took believe he was on the verge of a the blame for two charges of col- nervous breakdown."

laboration against Maj. Ambrose Nugent Tuesday and said a British soldier was responsible for a third.

Nugent, 39, is being tried by a general court martial board on nine charges of collaborating with the Chinese and North Korean Communists while a prisoner of war for more than three years. The lieutenant colonel is Paul V. Liles, 39, of Birmingham, Ala.

Liles testified Monday that in Prison Camp 12, a political camp, he authorized Nugent to take part in the "central peace committee" and wrote a speech that Nugent read at the first meeting of the committee and authorized Nugent to read it.

"By example, I authorized the recording," he said. A recording of the speech, made by Nugent after he delivered it at the first meeting of the committee, and broadcast by the Red radio, is the basis of one charge against Nugent.

Another charge is that Nugent wrote an appeal to United Nations delegates at Kaesong for a cease fire. Liles said he suggested that such an appeal be made. He said the idea was to allow a prisoner to get to the United Nations with an escape plan.

Liles looked at a prosecution exhibit of a handwritten appeal to United Nations troops to surrender, which is the basis of another charge. Liles said the handwriting was that of British Trooper Ronald Cocks, identified by previous witnesses as a card-carrying Communist.

When the prisoners at Camp 12 moved out, Liles said, he told Nugent to make a farewell speech along the general line that "we must go home and fight for peace."

The Koreans had indicated that the 13 members of the CPC and other prisoners would not be released because they would be "persecuted" in the United States for their propaganda activities.

Liles said he felt this was a Communist trick that had to be forestalled. So he told Nugent to impress on the North Koreans that all the Americans must return home to "fight for peace."

Nugent's lawyer told the court that he is trying to prove Nugent was insane when he allegedly collaborated.

Defense witnesses in Nugent's trial on nine counts of collaboration had been touching on this theme, but the outright issue of insanity had not been raised. It was brought up Monday during the testimony of Lt. Col. Paul V. Liles, a West Pointer and native of Birmingham, Ala.

"When Nugent arrived at Camp 12 (in North Korea) he was in a pitiful condition... absolutely pitiful," Liles testified. "Nugent was

Li. Col. Donald E. Manes Jr., law officer of the trial, broke in to ask whether the defense was raising the issue of Nugent's sanity.

"At the particular time we are... with the mental responsibility of the accused at the time," Maj. Robert Hough, Nugent's chief counsel, said.

Maj. Thomas Reese, chief prosecutor, suggested that a "qualified psychiatrist" be retained to examine Nugent while the trial proceeds. The court agreed to this.

Liles said peace committees were organized among the prisoners to further a plan for escape. He said what he wanted to do was through a peace committee to get a man repatriated. This man was supposed to take out a message and map so United Nations forces could come in and rescue the others.

"The real reason we organized the peace committee was because we had a lot to tell you (Army)," Liles said. "North Korea was a beaten nation. There was only one rifle to about every 200 men. That's why they were talking about peace."

"If we could have gotten out this information to the Eighth Army, Air Force drops could have been made and we could have won the war."

He was asked whether he had ever advised Nugent about writing propaganda articles and petitions for his captors.

"I told Nugent to confine his petitions to one address to the UNO (UN), the people at large and things in general, but not to make any (appeals) to U.S. troops or call on them to surrender...to drag his feet and stall as much as possible," Liles said.

"I told Nugent, 'Have no fear.' I would take full responsibility for his actions as long as he obeyed my orders."

Oil Official To Retire In March

HOUSTON, March 1 —UP—John R. Suman, a vice president and director of Standard Oil of New Jersey since 1945, will retire March 31, he announced Monday.

Suman said he and Mrs. Suman will return here to the home which they have maintained since he was moved to New York City 10 years ago.

Suman began his career as an engineer with the Rio Bravo Oil Co. in 1912. He has been called the "father of petroleum engineering," having contributed many firsts to scientific oil production.

Suman's son, John Robert Suman, is an engineer here with Humble Oil and refining Co., a Standard affiliate.
