Question Of The Week

Should Ike Be Given Formosa Aid Powers?

By T. D. ELLIS Quizzing Cameraman

"Do you think President Eisenhower should be given 'blank-check' power to defend the island of Formosa?" In the President's address to Congress this week he asked that he be given the power to order troops to the defense of the Nationalist-held island of Formosa.

The combined Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees approved the resolution by a 26 to 6 vote.

Pampans Lose House To Fire

The fire "blew a big hole in the top and just scattered everywhere." Five Chief Ernest Winborne was talking today about the fire that destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Wilson, 1221 Wilcox, sometime between 10 and 11 p.m. Thursday.

Winborne estimated the damage to the house at $4,000-$5,000 and the damage to the furnishings at $1,500-$2,000. Wilson only had $2,000 worth of insurance on the house - nothing on the furnishings, the chief said.

Optimism Keynotes Canadian CC Fete

CANADIAN-Optimism was the keynote of the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce here Thursday night, and new president, Tom Abraham, outlined his program in keeping with that theme.

goal of man is achievement, and "through achievement we arrive at happiness." Primary Aime told Abraham, who succeeded Bob Derby as president, told that development of Lake Marwin as a tourist and recreation attraction would be one of two primary aims of the chamber of commerce in 1955.

Big Fire Is Raging In Philly

Independence Hall May Be Endangered

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28-UP-A six-alarm fire raged through two buildings in the congested wholesale clothing area less than four blocks from historic Independence Hall Friday as the thermometer reached its lowest point of the season.

A 13-degree temperature, which turned water poured into the building to ice almost immediately, hampered firemen in their effort to control the blaze.

Officials described the fire as in "very bad condition." Firemen concentrated their efforts in preventing the flames from spreading throughout the heavily congested area as flying embers from the blaze showered rooftops of nearby buildings.

All available fire and police equipment in the central city area was called to the blaze. Additional help also had to be summoned from other sections of the city. Traffic in the busy section was diverted two blocks away.

The flames appeared to have started in the two-story building occupied by the Sterling Infant-wear Co. on North Third Street just above market, the main east-west thoroughfare.

The fire swept rapidly through the structure and ignited a four-story building occupied by S. Segal and Sons, dealers in sportswear and sweaters.

The flames roared through all four floors of the Segal building from the back to the front, practically gutting the structure within minutes.

Firemen fought the flames from rooftops the streets in front and in back of the buildings and an alleyway alongside the Sterling firm. Most of their efforts were concentrated on keeping the flames from spreading.

Authorities 'Know' Rubinstein Killer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28-UP-A close and trusted friend murdered millionaire draft dodger Serge Rubinstein, or at least engineered his death, police said Friday.

Police believed the murderer was a man but they did not rule out the possibility that one of Rubinstein's many beautiful women friends might have directed the murder plot.

They sent a corps of 50 crack detectives searching through New York's night club circuit just before dawn Friday in an effort to contact a taxi driver, a bartender, a waiter, or a hat check girl who might add weight to their theories.

Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams pointed out that the slayer gained entrance to the murdered man's Fifth Avenue town house without forcing a door or window and then apparently went without hesitation to the bedroom where Rubinstein slept in blue silk pajamas.

Cloudy Skies Erase Sun

Partly cloudy skies erased sunshine in most areas of Texas Friday. The forecasters said the northern, southeastern, and panhandle sections would have partly cloudy skies while it would be generally clear over the rest of the state.

A heavy fog invaded the Lufkin and Houston areas early Friday. Low temperatures Thursday night ranged from 25 degrees at Junction and Presidio to 33 at Brownsville.

Other overnight lows included Dalhart and Mineral Wells 28, Amarillo 25, Lubbock 26, Midland 27, Dallas, Ft. Worth, El Paso 30, Del Rio 24, San Antonio 28, Laredo 28, Corpus Christi 30, Houston 40, Port Arthur 37, Waco 29, Austin 23, Texarkana 31, Abilene 31, and Wichita Falls 37.

Reds Bolster Air Strength In 'Hot' Area

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 28-UP-Communist China has begun strengthening its jet fighter bases along the Fukien "invasion coast" to cope with America's new display of aerial might, Nationalist Chinese sources said Friday.

U.S. Air Force F-86 Sabrejets joined the Seventh Fleet in patrolling the Formosa Straits as the Communists rushed men and materials into position opposite Nationalist-held off-shore bases for one or more invasions that could come at any time.

A Nationalist air force communiqué said fighter-bombers sank three Communist landing craft Thursday night near Tachen, 200 miles north of Formosa, while Nationalist artillery on the island base bombarded Communist gun positions on captured Yikiangshan, eight miles to the north.

U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin told a press conference Friday "I don't feel there is any danger of a major and important conflict will break out here."

"If we take a strong line—within reason and without provocation—the chances of avoiding war are better," he said.

White House Denies Enemy A-Bombs Found In Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28-UP-The White House Thursday night emphatically denied reports that "enemy" atomic bombs had been found in Washington and New York.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty issued the denial after being informed that reports were to be printed in the Midwest that A-bombs were found here and in New York and that Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson had ordered a nation-wide alert.

The reports are not true, Hagerty said. He said no such A-bombs or devices have been found and no such nation-wide alert has been ordered.

Mothers To Solicit Dimes Drive Funds

An estimated 300 Pampa women will blanket the city for an hour tonight between 7 and 8 o'clock in their annual "Mothers March on Polo."

Pampa mothers will join those over the nation in a last-minute appeal for funds for the March of Dimes, according to Mrs. R. E. McKernan, Pampa chairman for the Mothers March. The fund drive ends Monday.

Mrs. McKernan said the year's drive is lagging about 50 per cent behind the 1954 drive.

Pampans will have little chance to forget that "This is the Hour." At 7 p.m., police cars will cruise around the city with sirens blaring, the fire department will sound sirens and both radio stations and Amarillo TV channels will interrupt their programs every five minutes with a reminder that the mothers are marching.

Mrs. McKernan continued, "During the day, Boy Scouts will distribute placards in all places of business and Buddy's, Furr Food and Ideal will put small printed forms in all sacks of groceries they sell."

The entire Mothers March has been mapped out, the chairman said. There are 23 captains and each of them has three or four co-captains. Counting all the other workers, that will make almost 400 women working the city. Every block should be covered, she emphasized.

County To Be Covered Residents are asked to put on their lights so that workers will know to call. But, even if the lights are not on, the houses will be visited—in a switch from last year—and if there is no one at home an envelope will be left in the door asking for a contribution which can be mailed.

Other parts of the county will also be worked, Mrs. McKernan said. That will include the surrounding oil camps, Lefors and Hopkins. Mrs. Jake Osborn is the county march chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foster are co-chairmen of the county drive. Mrs. McKernan said.

Mrs. Fischer said the government's decision was a "big disappointment." But she said she and her husband are "determined" to go to their son "just as soon as it's possible."

The Fischers had planned to visit their son, Capt. Harold E. Fischer Jr., a double jet ace, since receiving the invitation from the Chinese Communists.

Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, 52-year-old social leader, tried to start it. Her killer has never been apprehended.

Weaver, who had received a similar offer from Ardmore, Okla., a week ago, just following his wife's funeral, told officers of the new offer. A trap set up at Ardmore had failed to catch anybody. But authorities told him to mail $500 in 20 bills to the Oklahoma City caller, in care of general delivery.

A 14-year-old boy, John Delano Steffans of Oklahoma City, called for the letter. He told officers he would lead them to the man who sent him for his mail.

The boy, who said he had escaped from the Oklahoma State Training School for Boys at Stringtown, pointed out Cordell. He said (See SUSPECT, Page 2)

Opposition Dwindling At Deadline

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28-UP--Senate leaders of both parties drove Friday for a quick final vote of approval for President Eisenhower's "fight-if-we-must" resolution for defending Formosa.

Opposition was dwindling as the Senate at 10 a. m. (CST) began its third day of debate on the proposal and overwhelming approval appeared certain. But there was no guarantee of final action Friday.

Acting Democratic leader Earl C. Clements (Ky.) said the Senate would hold a night session and perhaps even an unusual Saturday session if necessary to complete action. The resolution cleared the House, 409 to 3 Tuesday.

Urges Senate to Act Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and GOP whip Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.) urged that the Senate act before the weekend because of the touch-and-go military situation in the Formosa Straits.

Mr. Eisenhower himself helped break the back of any serious Senate opposition when he announced Thursday that U.S. forces in the Formosa area are there only for defensive purposes and that he alone will decide whether they will be used in any other manner.

Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee followed with a strong plea for quick approval. Aimed at Morse Arguments

The President's statement was aimed squarely at arguments by Sen. Wayne L. Morse (Ind-Ore) and others that the "blank check" authority asked by the President would authorize a "preventive war" against the China mainland.

It also quieted fears of many senators that the Formosa resolution might enable Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-Shek to start hostilities on his own which might drag the United States into all-out war with Red China.

Five New City Vehicles On Hand

Five of the six new sedans for the City of Pampa had been delivered today and the sixth was expected any time.

Cars for the city executive department, department of public works and water department and two police cars are on hand, city officials said.

The first three are already in use, but the police cars must be equipped with radios and twin spot lights first.

Arctic Air Intensifies Midwest Cold

By UNITED PRESS

Blasts of Arctic air strengthened winter's bitterest cold wave in the Midwest Friday and lashed the East and Southland with icy gales, snow storms and below zero temperatures.

A new cold front struck eastern Nebraska at midnight with frigid winds which reached gusts of 50 miles per hour.

Meanwhile snow covered Dixie from Mississippi to North Carolina, the temperature dropped as far as 10 degrees below zero in New England and Pennsylvania, and polar gusts of from 35 to 45 miles per hour whipped New York city.

A six-alarm fire broke out early Friday in a building located in the heart of Philadelphia's wholesale clothing district as the city shivered in the bitterest weather of the year.

The Midwest was still the nation's ice box, even though temperatures rose to the accompaniment of a four-state snow storm.

The most dramatic temperature was at International Falls, Minn., where the mercury shot up almost 20 degrees. But International Falls was still the country's coldest city because the rise was from 36 below zero Thursday to 17 below Friday.

It was 55 degrees warmer near the South Pole than at International Falls. A naval expedition 40 miles northeast of Little America reported a pleasant 35 degrees above zero.

The numbing cold wave continued to bring the winter's lowest temperatures to vast sections of the country as it dropped the mercury 10 to 34 degrees from East Texas northeastward across the Gulf States and along the Atlantic Coast into New England.

It was 10 below zero at Cheshire, Mass., and Somerset, Pa., eight below at Elkins, W.Va., a scant 19 above at Chattanooga, Tenn., and 23 above at Birmingham, Ala.

Cop Nabs Attacker After Act

DALLAS, Jan. 28—UP—Billy Joe Houston, 28, robbed and raped an oil executive's wife Thursday, then walked out of the house to find a policeman waiting.

Houston started shooting. None of his shots hit Policeman W. H. Hillard, but in the ensuing eight-shot gun battle Houston was seriously hurt with wounds in the head, arm, shoulder and hip.

"I wish that cop had killed me," Houston said, but physicians said he will live.

Hillard didn't know at the time what Houston had done. He came out to investigate a report by Mrs. W. C. Patterson, a neighbor, that a strange car had been driving around and had passed her home "at least a dozen times."

"She got the tag number and Hillard went out to investigate. The car was parked a few blocks away and then Hillard saw a man walking toward it from the house where the robbery-rape occurred.

"When he saw me," Hillard said, "he turned around and started hurrying back away from me. I called him over and questioned him. I asked for his driver's license. Then he got all shaky and nervous."

Then the man, who it later developed was Houston, pulled out a pistol.

"He fired and we both started shooting," Hillard said. "We were about 15 feet apart. I was hitting him. But he wouldn't stop or give up."

But finally he began to stagger and fell against Hillard's squad car. Then Hillard radioed for an ambulance. He had fired six times; Houston had fired twice.

"A woman came running up then from out of the same yard where I first saw Houston," Hillard said. "She was screaming to me that he had raped her."

Houston threw $5 at her, which he said he had taken from her, but denied he had raped her. But after an ambulance took him to Parkland hospital, he admitted he had raped her, too.

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich today was scheduled to hear a non-jury case titled St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. vs. Clarence Arnold and Lloyd Simpson (Utility Oil and Supply).

The suit arose out of a previous suit in which Lester A. Jones of Pampa was given an award Oct. 22 from St. Paul Fire and Marine for a fire in the engine of his car which, the previous suit said, occurred when a "cleaning solvent" was used by Utility. Jones was given a subpoena to appear this morning in 31st District Court.

The winners reported are Mary Alice Coombes (sixth grade) and Sharon Carmon (fifth grade) in San Houston and Linda Woodall (sixth grade) in Lamar.

The deadline for all schools, public and private, to turn in names of winners is Feb. 5. Nuckols reminded school authorities today.

There will be two champions in the county spelling bee. The county champ will receive a pin and a plaque and will compete March 12 in the High Plains Spelling Bee in Amarillo. The junior champ, from the sixth grade or below, will be the pin and plaque and will be invited to the High Plains meet. The county champ can be from any grade. The junior winner will not compete in Amarillo.

SUSPECT

Cordell offered him $100 to pick up the letter.

Cordell Makes Denial

Cordell, taken without resistance, denied it.

He told officers he ran a bowling alley at Brownwood, Tex., from 1932 through 1934, but that it made no money. He said he had been out of a job for about seven weeks, and that his wife was working in Austin, Tex., and keeping their two children.

He was held on a felony theft charge for Brownwood authorities. They said he was wanted for passage of a $50 no-fund check.

Sheriff Cecil Turner said at San Angelo he would probably place a hold order on Cordell and question him about the car-bomb slaying of the wealthy Mrs. Weaver.

Some authorities believed, however, that Cordell was not involved in the Weaver slaying and didn't possess the information offered in exchange for $3,000.

Cordell denied knowing the Weaver and said he knew only two people in San Angelo.

He admitted being in Ardmore at about the time the telephone call was made to Weaver, but said he was there attending funeral services for an uncle.

Cordell told officers he met the youth who accused him of sending him for the extortion money at the bus station, but that "no deal was made with the kid."

He said he was in Oklahoma City seeking work and that his former home town was Wilson, Okla., 17 miles from Ardmore.

Deal Is Mixup

"It's all a mixup," Cordell said. "I signed a waiver of extradition. I can go back and get this cleared up."

Mother Is Reunited With Stolen Child

DENVER, Jan. 28—UP—The estranged parents of a 10-month-old boy may agree to a reconciliation because their young son was kidnapped from his Amarillo, Tex., home last Monday and brought to Denver.

The mother, Mrs. Winona Caskey of Amarillo; her husband, Sgt. Carroll Caskey of Amarillo Air Force Base, and their son, little Randy Gene, were traveling late Friday to Vernon, Tex., where they will spend a week with Caskey's parents.

The couple came here to get their son who was taken from his Amarillo home by a 24-year-old baby sitter, Mrs. Diana Pappas. Mrs. Pappas said she hitch-hiked to Denver with the child.

The FBI arrested the sitter at a Denver tavern Thursday and she pleaded guilty to kidnaping charges at her arraignment before the U.S. commissioner here. She is being held on a $10,000 bond and will be returned to Texas "within two weeks," authorities said.

The mother was distinctly cool toward her husband Thursday morning when they saw their unharmed, happy baby boy. Shortly after the meeting, the husband said definitely there would be no reconciliation. But later Thursday, before the couple left for Texas, the husband was quoted as saying a reconciliation was possible.

The House, voting 125 to 13, approved and sent to the Senate a bill providing substantial pay hikes for the governor and five other constitutional officials. The Senate earlier approved a similar measure, but the House had blocked it as premature under the rules.

The new measure, sponsored by Rep. J. O. Gillham of Brownfield, would raise the governor's salary from the present $12,000 a year to $25,000. It would pay the attorney general $20,000 annually, the land commissioner, state treasurer and comptroller $17,500 and the secretary of state, $15,000. They are receiving $6,000 each a year now.

Signs Appropriation Bill

Meanwhile, Gov. Allan Shivers signed the appropriation bill, thus releasing to the lawmakers their first paychecks. Legislators now get $25 a day for the session's 120-day constitutional limit, instead of a previous $10 per diem.

The pay raise for state officials was passed over objection of those opposed to Shivers politically or otherwise. The opposition had some 35 on its side at first, but only 13 stuck by the "no" team when the final passage was tabulated.

Hobart was introduced by E. L. Henderson as a member of the board of directors for the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers' Association and vice-president of the American National Cattlemen's Association.

Kidnap Figure Denied Parole

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—UP—Elmer Dolan, a St. Louis policeman convicted of perjury in the Bobby Greenlease ransom case, has been denied parole, a Justice Department spokesman said Friday.

He said Dolan, in prison at Texarkana, Tex., became eligible to apply for parole Jan. 20. But he said a parole board in Texarkana turned him down.

Dolan was questioned in connection with the Greenlease ransom money. He was sentenced last May 21 in Kansas City to two years in prison for making false statements to a grand jury.

The Justice Department spokesman said that with required time off for good behavior, Dolan would be released Dec. 28.

Sergeant Says Nugent Helped PW Buddies

FORT SILL, Okla., Jan. 28—UP—One Army sergeant told a court martial that Maj. Ambrose Nugent possibly saved 63 American lives by writing a propaganda article, while another said the major told him to go ahead and speak for the enemy and say later he was forced to do it.

Nugent, a 44-year-old career officer from Merrill, Wis., and a Communist prisoner of war three years, is being tried on 13 specifications of collaboration with the enemy.

M-Sgt. Harvey N. Bailey of Amarillo, Tex., now stationed at Fort Hood, Tex., told the court that he was convinced the 63 Americans, including himself and Nugent, would have been shot by a North Korean officer if the major had not offered to write a propaganda article.

Nugent Seeks Speech

Sgt. I-C Minford L. Stearns, 25, of Monticello, Ky., now at Fort Knox, said he was asked by Nugent to make a propaganda speech.

He testified he asked Nugent, "wouldn't I get into trouble for this when I get home?" But the major answered by referring to the surrender leaflet he said he had written, and remarked:

"All I'll have to do when I get home is to say that I was forced to do this and nothing will be done about it."

Defense lawyers objected that quotations alleged to have come from the major amounted to a confession by Nugent.

Law officer Lt. Col. Donald L. Manes Jr. said Nugent could testify on the incident, but the former Merrill National Guardsman declined taking the stand.

No one was injured in the two accidents.

LOOMING BIG IN 1955'S SUPERMARKET picture is the American housewife's growing desire for ready-to-serve foods—plus the fact that our population grows nearly three million a year.

More Of Everything Predicted On Pantry Shelf Of Nation

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Confidence, competition and children are the main ingredients of the food industry's optimism for 1955. Porter M. Jarvis, executive vice-president of Swift & Co., world's largest packers, expects 1955 meat production to hit an all-time record.

"This is part of the progress toward higher living standards. Foods rich in protein are basic for better nutrition," he said, "and there are 7200 more mouths to feed every day in the United States."

He predicted that this would mean that more and more meats, poultry and dairy products will be needed every year if we are to maintain dietary standards.

"There is every indication that production in these food items will continue the upward trend," he added.

A spokesman for Armour & Co., world's No. 2 packers, chorused Jarvis' confidence, though on a slightly more muted note.

"Our greatest problems will be high costs of production and operation and also the much keener competition we face," he said.

E. E. Stewart, president of National Dairy Products Corp., (sales about $1.25 billion a year) feels confident but sees problems ahead.

"Our greatest problems will be high costs of production and operation and also the much keener competition we face," he said.

Other reasons for his optimism: 63 million people are at work at record wages and salaries; the food industry is developing better advertising, better promotion and merchandising.

"Today, an up-to-date grocery store offers about 5000 or more items as against around 1000 items in pre-war days," Willis explained.

"The American housewife is in revolt against long hours in the kitchen," he said.

Although meals comprised of ready-to-eat foods cost about one-third more, consumers have proved they are willing to pay the cost.

believe. I didn't help Calhoun; salt that mine—I hadn't thought much about that until you said it. And before I left Yuma I returned that man's gold. It's waiting in the satchel at his hotel where he'll find it as soon as he comes back from looking for me. I also wrote a short note explaining Calhoun was dead."

So this was not on Queenie's conscience! It changed his whole outlook and made it brighter. As she read this in him, a faint smile touched up each corner of Queenie's lips.

Her fingers crept against his hand, touching him lightly. "I'm wondering if you know tomorrow is Christmas?"

IN that instant understanding reached him; she had come aboard at the landing, chosen his steamboat during this period which, on the frontier, was the most difficult time of any to bear alone.

Then: "Until now, maybe Christmas hasn't meant as much as it should. Captain, it's been a long time since I've prayed. If all happened that way when I was a small girl in Kentucky, we had a little dog that I considered my own. She meant more to me than anything else. A colly, with a white face and such sad eyes. One day she ran from behind the mill and slipped under the wheels of a farmer's grain wagon."

"I carried her inside our barn and laid her on the straw. She kept licking my hand—I have never seen an expression as helpless, or as hopeful, as that poor animal's. All the while I kept praying. I prayed like I never prayed before, and nothing happened. That night Radcliffe Burke buried her for me behind the peach orchard. I went to see the schoolteacher—a lank, bony man with a thinker's skull and grave ways. He told me that these things sometimes were God's will."

He too held a brief silence before he said, "The teacher was right. There are times when there's no other answer." (To Be Continued)

Russkys Still Wait For Those Luxuries

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The Russian people are going to have to keep on waiting for those automatic refrigerators and other things the Soviet government promised them after the death of Josef Stalin.

That seems to be the big reason behind the "relief" of Anastas I. Mikoyan as Soviet Minister for Domestic Trade.

There has been speculation that Mikoyan's removal was booked up with rivalry for leadership in the Kremlin.

For one thing, "Old Bolshevik" Mikoyan played a big part in the rise of his fellow-transcaucasian and protégé Lavrenti P. Beria, who became a rival of Premier Georgi M. Malenkov for power and was executed as the result.

But it seems certain that Mikoyan lost his job because Malenkov's big consumer goods campaign collapsed.

Mikoyan was not purged. He remains a deputy premier and a member of the ruling Presidium of the Communist Party Central committee.

His trouble was that he was too intimately involved in Malenkov's consumer goods drive, and a change of names in the Trade Ministry was necessary.

It was Malenkov himself who announced on Aug. 8, 1953, five months after Stalin's death, that the Kremlin was "now fully in a position to increase the production of consumer goods sharply."

The stepping up of consumer goods was Mikoyan's job, and he did his best.

In a speech he made last March, Mikoyan promised consumer goods production on such a scale as to mean "a new and decisive expansion of the people's welfare."

"We will stride along the path to abundance with seven-league boots," Mikoyan said.

Russian trade figures for 1954 show big increases in the production of consumer goods—refrigerators, television sets, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, footwear and textiles.

The increases were announced, as usual, on the basis of percentages as compared with 1953. The actual figures would have disclosed how pitifully small the output was as compared to that in Western countries.

Ex-Oilman Under Arrest In Mail Fraud

HOUSTON, Jan. 28 —UP—A balding, pudgy former oil company president, charged with mail fraud in Washington, D. C., was arrested Thursday.

Postal Inspector William Main announced the arrest of Andrew W. G. Frederick, former president of the Franklin Oil & Gas Co., Washington. Main said Frederick was selling securities for a Houston firm.

Main said Frederick's efforts to go back into business for himself led to his arrest.

Main said Frederick advertised for investors in local newspapers Thursday. A 60-year-old woman who said she had $5,000 worth of uranium stock.

Main said he checked on the advertisement and discovered that Frederick was wanted for mail fraud in Washington in 1953. He said he also found out the widow's stock was worth only $128.

"I just wanted to open up my own business," Main said Frederick told him.

Railroad Exec Says Industry Must Pay Share Of Taxes

CORPUS CRISTI, Jan. 28 —UP—The president of the Texas & Pacific Railway Thursday called on all forms of transportation to adhere to the principles of free enterprise by assuming "the responsibility of providing, maintaining and paying taxes" on the facilities they use in performing carrier services.

W. G. Vollmer of Dallas told the Southwest Shippers Advisory Meeting here, that he was "not composed" to development of commercial airline, trucking and waterway transportation.

But he said he deplored "the use of taxpayers' money without the assessment of adequate user charges—or no charges at all—for the use of the facilities provided by the taxpayers."

Vollmer cited a host of governmental aids to these three carrier groups and warned that "subsidization, which is partial socialization, cracks open the door to complete socialization and the eventual destruction of our liberties."

The railroad officer said that in order to achieve the sound national transportation policy that was spelled out by Congress in 1940 in a preamble to the Interstate Commerce Act, it would require the application of the principle of the free enterprise system to all modes of commercial transport, bringing about elimination of all forms of subsidy, direct or indirect, and establishment by carriers of transportation charges based on the actual cost of producing their services.

Vollmer said this system would save taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

HOW DO YOUR LEGS LOOK these days? Have you been giving them much thought and care? According to the latest reports on hose, fine well-cared-for legs will soon be a must. Below is an article by Alicia Hart, NEA beauty editor, on the matter. She also goes on to "wake you up" about how to look at the breakfast table.

HOES, THE STOCKING people have gone and devised an even more sheer stocking. And we thought that they'd gone the limit with that empty box the saleslady held and insisted was three pairs of the very best.

This time the incredible statistics show a stocking of 75 gauge, 10 denier. That denier means that the thread is one third the weight of the postwar sheers, 30 denier. It's a tiny fraction of the weight of prewar 30 to 70 deniers that wore and wore. The higher gauge only keeps this tiny thread from looking like a fairy's pin net.

So, if you're plotting on one pair of these super-very-best, for one-occasion flattery, better make sure your legs are as slick as the hose, for it can flatter only the most perfect skins.

Keep up the half-hour a night of legs high on the wall. This will reduce puffiness if you're honest about doing it daily. Shave close and carefully with a steady hand.

And, while you're in the shower or bath, massage your legs to keep them silky smooth. With the pads on, stroke your legs upward with a quick, firm over-and-over motion. Knead deeply into the calves with the edges of your hands. Get the britchy nail brush after feet and heels.

Wind up with a coat of greaseless lotion, perhaps a hand lotion, and a thorough pedicure. And, even then, these shadowy stockings are not for daily wear.

CORNERS ARE CUT in the young family's life until mother tatters to the table in a spotted wrapper, on inside out, a pair of mis-matched skirts and an artillery of hair-curling equipment. By nightfall, when she's sparkling and lovely, she wonders why her husband doesn't come home. He probably looked over the paper and saw the spectacle slurping coffee across from him.

Few women can take the time to get completely tricked out before they go to the kitchen to start breakfast and pacify the baby. But a few rudiments of beauty can be practiced even in the most break-neck of households.

Make sure your robe or brunch coat is a good color for your morning complexion. Keep it clean and pressed.

Get a pair of slippers that stay on the feet without having to be dragged back each step.

Wash your face and get a little lipstick on. It can come off later for a complete make-up job. Keep it light, so it won't come off on the cup.

Get the curlers under cover. An elasticized nightcap that's trimmed with lace and a bow could come right to the table. It's said to stay on all night so there's no need to overhaul in the morning. Just straighten and perk up the lace.

Program On Religion Is Presented At Meeting Of Varietas Study Club

Varietas Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. W. A. Wagoner, 1308 N. Russell, with Mrs. R. W. Lane as co-hostess.

During the business session, led by Mrs. H. H. Butler, it was reported that $16.16 had been contributed by members for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Dow King gave highlights from the Clubwoman magazine.

The program on religion was opened with selections of well-known hymns, played by Mrs. Wagoner, and roll call was answered with quotations from the Bible. "Religion For Industry" was presented by Mrs. R. W. Lane. She told the women that industrial freedom involves cooperation on the part of both labor and management alike.

"Man does not live by bread alone," she quoted, and went on to say, "As a church spirit rests back upon the concrete footing of its foundation, so spiritual values have their roots in economics and social justice and the cooperative building of the Kingdom of God among men."

"Faith For Today's Problems" was the topic of Mrs. C. L. McKinney. She told the women they were living in a troubled and confused time, pointing out that greater faith is needed. People need to turn to the Bible to have the "greater faith," she explained.

"If we live a day at a time with faith in Him, God will give us the strength to bear anything," she advised.

Mrs. McKinney also pointed out that there are a number of books on peace of mind, but the only one people really need is the Bible. "We would all be happier to turn our problems over to the Lord, she advised. "With the right faith, all will be solved."

A dancer must devote a good portion of her time for beauty to her legs, and look pretty while doing it. Here, Hollywood star and newwywed Vera-Allen shows the three basics in her leg-beauty plan. A soothing lotion keeps her skin in constant-perfection condition (left). She puts it on at night, but there should be a protective coat against the weather, too. White Vera-Allen (center) catches up on her reading, her lovely legs get their deserved rest. She gives them a chance for good blood circulation by lotioning them real high. In her leotard (right), the glamorous star does a few limbering up exercises in her bedroom. Grass and cane make these fun to watch, rather than an unsightly and grating boot for her and family.

20th Century Club Presented Program On Maladjustments

"The Unachieved Man" was the title of the program presented at the recent meeting of the Twentieth Century Club in the home of Mrs. C. E. High, 921 N. Somerville, by Mrs. S. A. Blundell. She was introduced by Mrs. Ray Hagan.

People become maladjusted because they are unable to meet the demands of life and are constantly having personality conflicts, Mrs. Blundell stated. The human personality is not the same from experience to the next because experience is constantly influencing personality, she pointed out.

"Our responsibility toward the mentally ill should begin by our becoming informed," she explained. "The place to start is at home rather than in state institutions. Religion and psychology deal with the outer realms of ethical truths and each field has gained much by studying the other."

Mrs. Blundell concluded by saying that if people quit trying so hard to seek security and happiness for themselves and tried to see what they can do for others, they may accomplish two things at once.

The business session was led by Mrs. George Vineyard, president. Mrs. R. H. Sanford reported that $65 had been made on the bake sale for the March of Dimes.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. E. L. Campbell, W. R. Campbell, Kirk Duncan, Jack Foster, Joe Gordon, Ray Hagan, Raymond Harrah, C. E. High, V. J. Jamieson, J. B. Mass, Roy McKernan, Fred Neslage, R. H. Sanford, R. W. Stowers, H. R. Thompson and George Vineyard.

Playing Dress-Up Is Good For Soul

Who doesn't like to play dress-up? Only a woman who's lost the fun of being one.

Everyone, once in a while, likes to shed the sober attire of a practical, careful woman or of a neat attractive teen-ager and blossom into the wildest sort of femme fatale. "My goodness!" is written all over a husband's face when he beholds the hothouse orchid he seems to have married. The date thinks he's called at the wrong door.

Some women even have a dress for the occasion that rests placidly in a plastic bag until the call of the dangerous woman is heard throughout the closet.

It's fun for an evening. Cosmetics manufacturers understand this whim of platinum in the average woman. They're providing hair tints that wash out the next day, eyeglasses that glue on a shoulder, eyelashes that bat up a breeze.

For an utterly distracting streak of silver or gold in the workaday tresses, one manufacturer has made a product in an aerosol container. With a special slotted shield, the spray will color just the lock you select with a streak of glitter. And that she sinks, the femme fatale.

Next day, of course, it washes right out.

Attractive Legs Are A Beauty Asset But Require Constant Attention, Care

Vary Heel Heights For Shoe Comfort

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
When a leading woman in the world of Paris fashion made a trip to the United States, she told the somewhat startled reporters that she had about 60 pairs of shoes — all cut from the same last.

The exercises that I do are the classic ones for dancers, but that doesn't mean that I don't find some new muscles that scream each time I must get in shape for a movie role. It's not necessary for nondancers to go through this kind of rigorous tuning-up, but the exercises prescribed for shaping, unflabby legs could make a good basis for a daily period of leg-limbering.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Four-year-old Larry isn't interested in the effect of sugar on the chemistry of appetite. So he finds his mother's refusal of between-meals candy unreasonable. One afternoon while she's upstairs hanging curtains, he decides to ignore her unreasonable. He hauls a chair up to the kitchen shelf where she keeps his bottle of after-supper lollipop. Climbing up on it, he reaches for the bottle, overbalances himself, falls and cuts his forehead.

As millions of us do, his mother promptly exploits this injury to demonstrate the evil of disobedience. Applying a bandage to his cut, she says, "If you'd obeyed like a good boy, you wouldn't have hurt yourself. After this..." She is, of course, not accurate. Disobedience has not inflicted injury on Larry. What's hurt him is his inexperience in reaching to high kitchen shelves. His cut is not the consequence of sin, but of mis-capacities.

When he grows up, obedience to some human authority may be far more hurtful to Larry than disobedience. So to children, we must take care how we condemn all disobedience as evil.

For example, obedience recently threatened a young husband I know with loss of self-respect. He was ordered off on a long business trip by a boss who knew that his not-too-strong wife was expecting her first baby. Without any hesitation, my friend refused this man's obedience. He resigned his job — and with good judgment of his own capacities, walked out and got himself a better one.

If Jesus had been obedient to His human authorities, we'd never have heard of Him. If the American colonists had obeyed their, this United States would be part of the British Empire. If the Russian people would obey Mr. Malenkov the world might get on with its work.

There is no morality in obedience. Its morality entirely depends on what we obey. So we are inaccurate to suggest to trustful children that obedience always equals virtue.

They have to obey us because it is protective to their inexperience and undeveloped judgment to do so. So to Larry we say, "You got hurt because you tried to do what you aren't old enough to do. When you are older, you can have candy between meals and reach up to high shelves. Now you have to wait."

Wear something comfortable for your session of exercises. Nothing is more awkward or peculiar looking than a woman doing exercises in a house dress. A leotard or shorts make nice admiring for your family.

Keeping circulation going in the legs is vital. Walking is the basic commodity for this, but don't forget to let your legs rest. They're downhill all day and need to get their chance at being on top. I rest my legs on the back of a chair when we're home alone. A woman who's home during the day might find it restful to lie on her bed with her feet high on the wall sometime during her sessions of housework.

And, of course, the skin of the legs should get its share of tenderness. However shapely legs are, if the skin is rough and chapped, it'll detract from their looks. For me, this skin care is essential because movie cameras detect every flaw with a magnifying eye. But even for a woman who never goes before anything more critical than a box camera, soothing lotion or cream should be in the daily dozen for legs.

RUTH MILLET

"I'd like more than anything in the world to make my husband happy," a young wife writes. And then she asks naively how to go about it.

She can't make another person happy. No one can. Though lots of women make themselves miserable trying. But a wife can do many things that will make it easier for her husband to find his own happiness.

She can make a good home for him, where there is laughter and sympathy and sharing and love.

She can give him a chance to do things for her happiness. The wife whose only concern is pleasing her husband overlooks the fact that it is necessary to let him please her part of the time.

And she can try to understand what he needs to be happy, even those needs which do not touch her life in any way.

She can encourage him in the goals he sets for himself so that he doesn't give up when things go wrong or they prove more difficult than he thought.

Things Move Too Quickly For 'Protocol'

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — UP—What's new in Washington: The Department of State issued a release the other day calling Ricardo Arias Espinosa the foreign minister of Panama. A little later, there was a fast correction. The clock had run so fast that by the time the boys in the press coop had the information, the release was fixed up to read: "President" Ricardo Arias Espinosa. Things move pretty quick in Panama.

Rep. Jim Wright, the Texas Democrat, wrote in his newsletter to the folks back home that the "pink mink" is now advertised by Washington department stores. Wright continued: "Politicians beware! If anything could be more suspect than a mink, surely it would be a pink mink. And speaking of small animals, the chinchilla people are holding a convention here. Seems that the furs from the race little animals go into very few coats or neck wraps. Perle Meala, billed generally as Washington's best known hostess, owns a full-length coat. Nobody seems to know what she paid for it, but if she paid less than $12,000 or $15,000 it is a cheap one. And Perle doesn't buy cheap coats.

A senator, who would just as soon not be identified, received a letter from an inmate of a federal prison. "Please send me," the convict ordered. "The house report on bank robberies, including burglary."

The U.S. Information Agency has some pretty funny jokes at hand, sent in by its international press service abroad about the goings on behind the Iron Curtain.

There is a story making the rounds in East Germany, for example. It concerns a local Communist party secretary. This fellow, obeying orders, calls on the manager of an East German machine tractor station.

"You will see to it, comrade, that all of your Soviet tractors are placed at the service of the refugee farmers returning from West Germany," the secretary directed.

"But Comrade Secretary," the manager howled, "we have only three Soviet tractors, and they are out of order."

The comrade secretary twisted the end of his mustache and shouted that that didn't make any difference. "The farmers aren't returning."

A joke current in Budapest has to do with the Hungarian secret police who arrested two characters, but released one of them. Before the lucky one left the jail house he asked his unhappy friend: "What did you confess to?"

The man who had been detained said he had confessed to buying sugar on the black market. And why did the man confess?

"Had to," the prisoner said. "The man who locked me up sold the sugar to me."

Hollywood Name-Linking Embarrasses Young Actor

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28 — UP—A tall, dark and handsome man reversed the usual Hollywood story today: He actually is "embarrassed" because the folks back home think he's romancing Yvonne De Carlo. Most busy bachelors eagerly boast they date the globe-trotting glamour girl. But Salah Sayed Ahmed, a 29-year-old Egyptian police officer, sighed nervously his casual dates with Yvonne got him in Dutch in Cairo.

"There are all these stories about a romance. They are not true!" he cried fervently. "Yvonne is a wonderful girl, a very nice girl, and I see her, but just as friends."

"I came here to study motion picture production at the University of California, and to work with Director Cecil B. DeMille. Every year my government must renew my study permit and if these stories continue, they may make me come home."

Salah met the sultry movie queen in Cairo last summer when he was one of the technical advisors to DeMille during filming of "The Ten Commandments." Yvonne is not in the film, but happened to drop in on one of her many round-the-world jaunts. She had nothing to do with his move to Hollywood, he insisted.

"I had been corresponding with the university for 13 months, long before I met Yvonne," he said. "I don't know how many years I will study here. Depends on the trouble with my government in Egypt."

Salah's interest in motion pictures got him in hot water before. His superiors in the police department found out he was studying drama on the side and made him quit. He continued his acting lessons in secret, and convinced his bosses a police officer should know about movies. He has no interest in remaining in Hollywood, however.

"I tell am in active police service, and do not plan to resign," he said. "I work in the tourist police branch. I hope to make documentary films and also educational films on police work for the people in Egypt."

His plan, he said unhappily, got shaky when he arrived here a month ago and the gossip columnist buzzed about his dates with Yvonne.

"She is not my only friend," he said. "I've met hundreds of Americans. I know everybody at Warners, Paramount and MGM."

"Why, there are 100 girls more beautiful than Yvonne in Hollywood," exclaimed the Egyptian. Miss De Carlo, on movie location in the Bahamas, was not available to comment on that.

Advertisers Claim Coercion
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28 — UP—A former fabric shop operator, Ralph L. Burns, testified Thursday in the anti-trust trial of the Kansas City Star he discontinued advertising in other publications when told by Star solicitors they "were unhappy about it."

Burns' testimony covered a period from 1946 to 1948 when he operated the Walnut Street Fabric Shop here.

Harry B. Greenberg, formerly a partner in Loyds Silk and Fabric Shop, testified that in 1944 to 1945 his business place advertised in the Star and other publications.

He continued to advertise in the Weekly Highlight because the owner was a personal friend, he said, despite remarks from Star representatives that he should advertise exclusively in the Star.

At least 5,000 visitors inspected the ship, captained by Knud Hansen and carrying 17 officers and 111 crew members of the Danish Merchant Marine since it arrived last Saturday. The ship left port Thursday homeward.

Nudist Foe Hits Probers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28 — UP—Anti-nudist leader Braxton Sawyer charged Thursday Oklahoma legislators studying a bill to outlaw nakedness are covering up too much.

They are excluding him from hearings on the bill which he originated, the Fort Smith, Ark., radio preacher said.

"A suspected nudist testified in a secret hearing Wednesday, and insinuated there was something wrong with my finances," Sawyer said.

"When I testified (Tuesday) the hearing was open and nudists had a chance to answer. They ought to let me see these nudists."

After two days of hearings, lawmakers still have not answered the central question: Are nudists holding meetings in Oklahoma?

Sawyer wants them outlawed in Oklahoma, Missouri, Michigan, Kansas and Arkansas.

Sawyer named four witnesses he said could refute testimony given Wednesday by L. Kerbo of Binger, Okla., who denied he ever formed a nudist group.

The comrade secretary twisted the end of his mustache and shouted that that didn't make any difference. "The farmers aren't returning."

BOYS WHO FOUGHT IN THE Pampa District Golden Gloves Tournament were liberally sprinkled on the 19-bout card of the Regional GG tourney at Amarillo Wednesday night.

Twelve of the matches consisted of at least one boy who fought in the tournament here. And three of the other seven matches consisted of a boy representing the Pampa District but who didn't appear in the tournament here.

Pampa, thus, figured in 15 of the 19 matches of Wednesday's card. In two of the matches, both lads appearing in the bout fought in our tournament.

The two all-Pampa District matches Wednesday were repeat bouts from the tournament here. Jim Vineyard of McLean and Raul (Rabbit) Ramirez of Pampa met in one of the rematches Wednesday while Glenn Crawford of Dumas and Carl Williams of Borger met in the other.

Ramirez won both times from Vineyard but Crawford and Williams broke even, Crawford winning in the Pampa tournament and Williams winning Wednesday at Amarillo.

Pampa District tournament entries will also be well represented on tonight's semi-final card in Amarillo.

Eleven of the 14 high school bouts tonight will include at least one boy who fought in the tournament here. One other boy fighting under Pampa District colors but who didn't enter the tournament here will appear on the regional card tonight. They are Johnny Brock of Wellington; Freddie Meyer of Quitaque; and Paul Wilson of Memphis.

Brock and Meyer will be pitted against fellows who entered our tournament, Brock against Charlie Vineyard of McLean and Meyer against Earl Young of Borger.

In other words, only two of the 14 high school bouts tonight will not be connected with Pampa in any way.

The way things are stacking up, it looks like most of the high school champions will hail from Pampa or Borger. Pampa, you know, is seeking her fourth straight regional high school team trophy but she is in danger of having that streak broken by Borger in the current tournament.

There will definitely be a new

Open Division team champ this year. Pampa won this title last year, too, but she has only one Open boy this year, Leo Kelly, in the 175-pound bracket.

An unfortunate incident on Tuesday's opening card could very well cost Pampa the schoolboy team crown.

We're going only by what ring-side observers told us at Wednesday's bouts concerning Gary Green of Pampa and Wilford Taylor of Canyon's 126-pound match Tuesday night. (We weren't on hand Tuesday, of course, since we were here enjoying the Harvesters win over Amarillo.)

But here is the way the story was told to us by unbiased ring side observers:

It seemed that Green was whipping Taylor all over the ring throughout the first round with some thinking the bout should have been stopped and Green awarded a TKO victory.

The fight, however, was allowed to go on and Taylor was able to last out the first round.

Then Green continued his attack in the second round when he grew careless as Taylor landed a solid blow that knocked Green against the ropes. Green somersaulted into the ring-side seats but returned to the ring as quickly as he could.

Referee Dean Webb, however, counted Green out before he could make his return to the ring and awarded the match to Taylor.

Green was a co-favorite with Scooter Darden of Borger to cop the 126-pound title but this freak accident sent the Pampa battler to the sidelines.

Since we didn't see the fight, we aren't going to criticize Webb for stopping the fight.

But, the Amarillo crowd boomed the decision and heaven knows the Amarillo fans wouldn't boo a decision against Pampa unless they really thought something was "rotten in Denmark."

Harvesters Face Tough Test In Borger

Gary Griffin Ready For Full Time Duty

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor
The Borger Bulldogs, the only team that holds a win over the Hustlin' Harvesters since District 1-AAAA was organized four years ago, will be out to upset the Green and Golders tonight when the two rivals meet on the Borger court.

Borger edged out the Harvesters twice in the 1951-52 season, the first year District 1-AAAA was in operation, but since then the Pampa quint hasn't lost to a 1-4A foe.

The Harvesters' record in 1-4A play for the four years is 32 wins, two losses.

Borger has the "hosses" to surprise the Harvesters. But the Bulldogs will be distinct underdogs.

The Bulldogs, however, hold a win over the only team that has beaten the Harvesters this season, the Portales Rams. And Borger bowled over Lubbock last week, 65-56, the same team the Harvesters defeated by one point a few days earlier.

Griffin Ready
Good news came out of the Harvesters' cage camp yesterday afternoon when it was revealed that Center Gary Griffin has just about recovered from his back injury he suffered last week in the Lubbock game.

Griffin pulled a back muscle which has limited his playing since the injury occurred. Griffin was still bothered by the injury in Tuesday night's game with Amarillo.

Repeated whirlpool bath treatments have slowly responded and Griffin said yesterday his back felt fine. Big Zeke spent some time in the whirlpool bath following yesterday's workout.

Griffin is the leading Harvesters scorer with 297 points. He will start at center tonight at Borger. E. Jay McElvaine and Benny Cartwright will start at the forwards and Ken Hinkle and Buddy Sharp at the guard posts.

Borger victory hopes lie on the shoulders of its two guards, Mike Kelly and Gerald Meyers. Meyers poured in 33 points against Lubbock Tuesday night while Kelly dumped in 16 points against Amarillo last Friday in the 1-4A opener.

"We don't for a minute challenge the Canadian League's right to dicker with U.S. players," Bell said. "But it's my opinion that our National League teams will out-bid the Canadian League in those instances when we really want a player."

Bell's prediction followed comments by some of the leading players drafted that they were "flattered" but are entertaining offers from the Canadian League which must "at least be matched."

George Shaw and Alan Ameche, both drafted by the Baltimore Colts, and Dicky Moege, drafted by the San Francisco Forty-Niners, were among those who hinted at "fabulous Canadian offers."

Hot Rounds Fired At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 27. — UP — Either the courses are getting easier or the players better, because the way the touring professionals are battering par these days there must be something wrong.

The $18,000 Thunderbird Invitational pro-amateur tournament went into the second round Friday with just about everyone among the pro element a par-buster.

Heading the parade was Johnny Palmer, the Charlotte, N.C. veteran who very easily trimmed 10 strikes off par on a course that measures 6700 yards. His 62, however, instead of giving him a fast lead over the field, gave him exactly a one-stroke advantage over Shelley Hayfield of Chicopee, Mass., who had a 63.

Same Since First
In any event they are all doing it. Tommy Bolt, who had a 65 Thursday and finished far back, had a great 64 in his first round of the San Diego Open. There was a 65 in the Los Angeles Open by Julius Boros. These all were scored on par-72 courses.

There were four shot-makers with 66; veteran Jim Turnesa, Briarcliffe, N.Y.; Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn.; Peter Thomson, the British Open champion from Australia, and Mike Souchak, Duram, N.C.

Sixty Sevens Many
The 67s were a dime a dozen: Doug Ford, Klamesha Lake, N.Y.; Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill.; Bobby Roeburg, San Francisco; Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex.; Bud Holtscher, Santa Monica, Calif.; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Louis; Gene Lattier, Palm Springs, and Bo Wingler of Oklahoma City.

In fact, of the 42 professionals to tee off, 39 shot par or better and 38 broke par.

In the pro-amateur division there was a seven-way tie for first place at 68 (under par, mind you) with teams headed by Tommy Bolt, 1-4 record in 1953 on an arm ailment and says he got rid of the trouble in posting a 23-13 record last year at Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League, and rookie pitcher Charles Garmon, who had a 16-7 record at Denver of the Western League.

The Phillies signed Lou Ortiz, second baseman who hit .325 for Rochester last season and was obtained from the parent St. Louis Cardinals last September, and pitcher Paul Fenson, who had a 1-1 record after joining the Phillies late last season.

The Cubs signed three rookie pitchers—Vicente Amor, drafted from Oklahoma City where he had an 18-11 record; Al Lary, who pitched six innings last fall after leaving military service; and Joe Stankis, who had a 16-5 record at last December's big trade. Manager Mackon.

Cubs Reveal Spring Plans

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 — UP — The Chicago Cubs announced Thursday they will hold a spring training camp for seven minor league affiliates at Lenoir, La., opening March 23.

A total of 200 players were expected to attend. Clubs to be represented were Des Moines of the Western League, Macon of the Three-I League, Blackwell of the Western Association, Twin Falls of the Pioneer League, Glensville of the Sumner State League, and Paris of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League.

The only other cub farm team, Los Angeles, will retain its training base at Fullerton, Calif.

Rhodes Signs Giant Pact; Gets $4,000 Boost In Pay

By UNITED PRESS
Dusty Rhodes, that amazing man who made Leo Durocher eat his words and the Cleveland Indians bite the dust, is all set for some more shenanigans.

The New York Giants' pinch-hitter de luxe and sometime outfielder, the surprising star of last year's World Series when his pinch-hits led to three of the Giants' four straight wins, signed his 1955 contract Thursday for a $4,000 raise that boosts him to about $12,000.

This time there's no doubt that Rhodes will be a prominent member of the team, but only a year ago Manager Durocher was trying to figure out ways to trade him.

Four other teams announced signings Friday—the Chicago Cubs, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia Phillies, and Pittsburgh Pirates.

The White Sox signed their 20th player, pitcher Bob Chalkales, who had a 2-7 record last year for Baltimore and was obtained in last December's big trade. Manager Mackon.

Marty Marlon plans to use him as a reliever, but Chalkales said he wants to start.

The Pirates signed veteran pitcher Roger Bowman, who pitched his 1-4 record in 1953 on an arm ailment and says he got rid of the trouble in posting a 23-13 record last year at Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League, and rookie pitcher Charles Garmon, who had a 16-7 record at Denver of the Western League.

The Phillies signed Lou Ortiz, second baseman who hit .325 for Rochester last season and was obtained from the parent St. Louis Cardinals last September, and pitcher Paul Fenson, who had a 1-1 record after joining the Phillies late last season.

The Cubs signed three rookie pitchers—Vicente Amor, drafted from Oklahoma City where he had an 18-11 record; Al Lary, who pitched six innings last fall after leaving military service; and Joe Stankis, who had a 16-5 record at last December's big trade. Manager Mackon.

Marquette Ups Streak To 14

By UNITED PRESS
Free throws, source of hot dispute this college basketball season, are the only reason that Marquette's longest-in-the-nation winning streak now stands at 14 games.

The Warriors of Coach Jack Nagle invaded New Orleans Thursday night and were outshot in baskets by Loyola of the South but gained victory No. 14 by a 72-70 score, thanks to dead-eye accuracy from the free throw stripe.

These figures tell the story: Marquette sank 21 of 28 free throws; Loyola sank 12 of 27.

Loyola, rallying from a 34-32 halftime deficit by applying a full-court press, could easily have saved the game in the closing stages—but missed eight straight free throws during the last six minutes of play. Sixteen Rube Schults of Marquette, now ranked 18th nationally by the United Press board of coaches, took scoring honors for the game with 25 points to 23 for Loyola's Bobby O'Donnell.

The same two teams clash again Friday night.

Friday night's program also will see two conference leaders risk their perfect records and two other teams, Southern Methodist and Baylor, battle for a share of a Conference lead.

Utah, ranked fourth nationally, puts its 6-0 Big Sky Conference record on the line against Utah State but will retain an eyelash margin over second-place Brigham Young (6-1) even in the event of a loss. Oregon State, with a perfect 6-0 mark in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, also is secure in a meeting with Washington.

SMU and Baylor each has a 3-1 record in the Southwest Conference, and the winner will move up to tie the Texas Christian (4-1) for first place.

Colts Get Shaw, Ameche In Draft

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 — UP — Commissioner Bert Bell said Friday that the National Football League clubs "will more than match Canadian offers so that the cream of the colleges' 1954 talent will be playing in the United States next season."

"We don't for a minute challenge the Canadian League's right to dicker with U.S. players," Bell said. "But it's my opinion that our National League teams will out-bid the Canadian League in those instances when we really want a player."

Baylor, SMU Clash Tonight In Dallas

By UNITED PRESS

Baylor and Southern Methodist return to the Southwest Conference basketball court Friday night after long layoffs for mid-term examinations. And they start out again by battling for supremacy in the loop standings.

It's the first play for SMU in two weeks, but Baylor played Rice and Texas A&M last week—winning both contests.

The game Friday night in Dallas will decide which team climbs into the loop's No. 1 spot beside Texas Christian. TCU has a 4-1 won-loss conference record, while SMU and Baylor go into Friday night's clash in Dallas with 3-1 records.

It is the only conference contest scheduled this week. Arkansas beat Oklahoma City University at Fayetteville Wednesday night, and the other inter-sectional games are Saturday night, when TCU plays Abilene Christian at Abilene and Texas meets Houston in Houston.

The Baptists and Methodists have beaten the same teams in conference play thus far this season. Baylor beat Texas 85-67, A&M 89-77 and Rice 67-75. SMU beat Texas 74-51, A&M 93-69 and Rice 78-67.

SMU's big gun is Jim Krebs, who has averaged 21.0 points in conference play. But the Baylor Bears hope their Murray Bailey, with a 20.2 average, can pull ahead Friday night. Bailey holds a slight

The 29-year-old Fuentes will appear in a few pounds for his ring appearance in a five-year career and-hoff career. Regardless, he will slip through the ring ropes for the favorite.

Johnson, a New Jersey jobber, also has stepping-stone ideas. He figures a triumph over the welterweight in regarded Fuentes would weigh in his claim for a meeting with Joey Giardello, top 100-pound contender.

RUNNING AGAINST TIME

From the time of Adam, man has been running against time, time appointed by God. God has a day set that He will judge the world and the works of man. Are we willing to run a good race for life eternal?

Heb. 12:1,2 — "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us run with patience the race that is set before us. Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; Who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God."

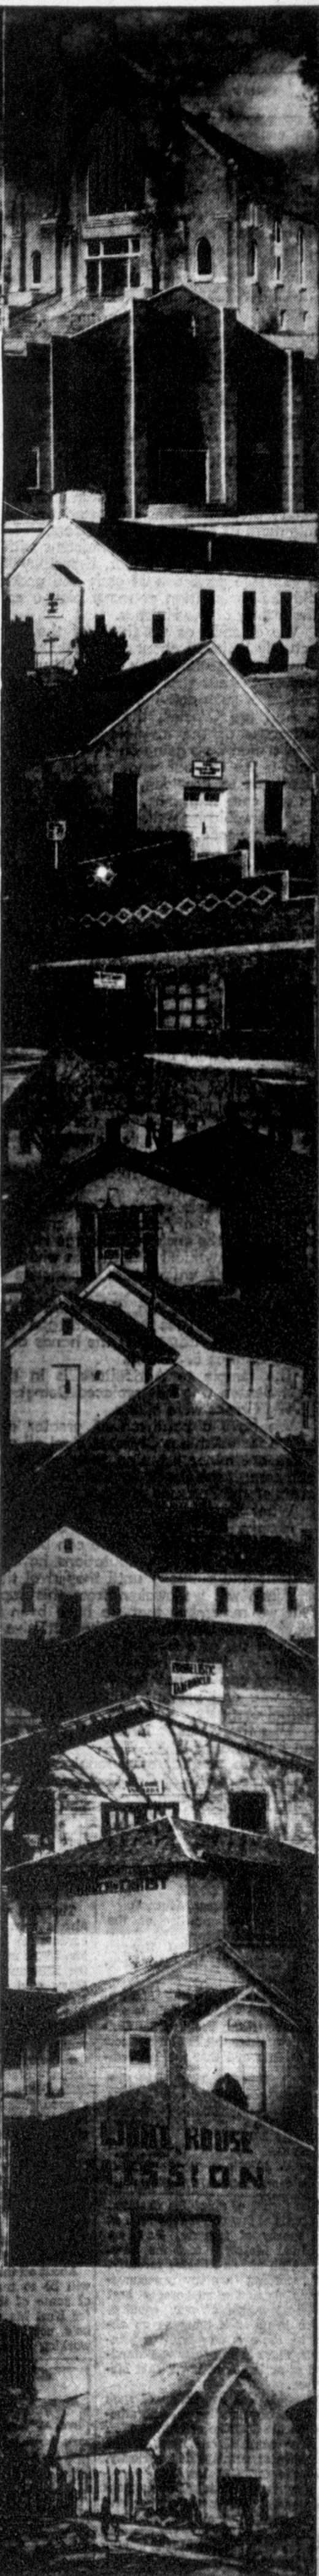

A foot race is run with one thing in mind, and that is, to win a prize. That prize is given to the fleetest. The race for life eternal is run with Love, Patience and Endurance.

Jesus said in Matt. 10:22 — "And ye shall be hated of all men for My name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved."

Paul said to Timothy, "Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

1 Cor. 9:24,25 — "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we are incorruptible."

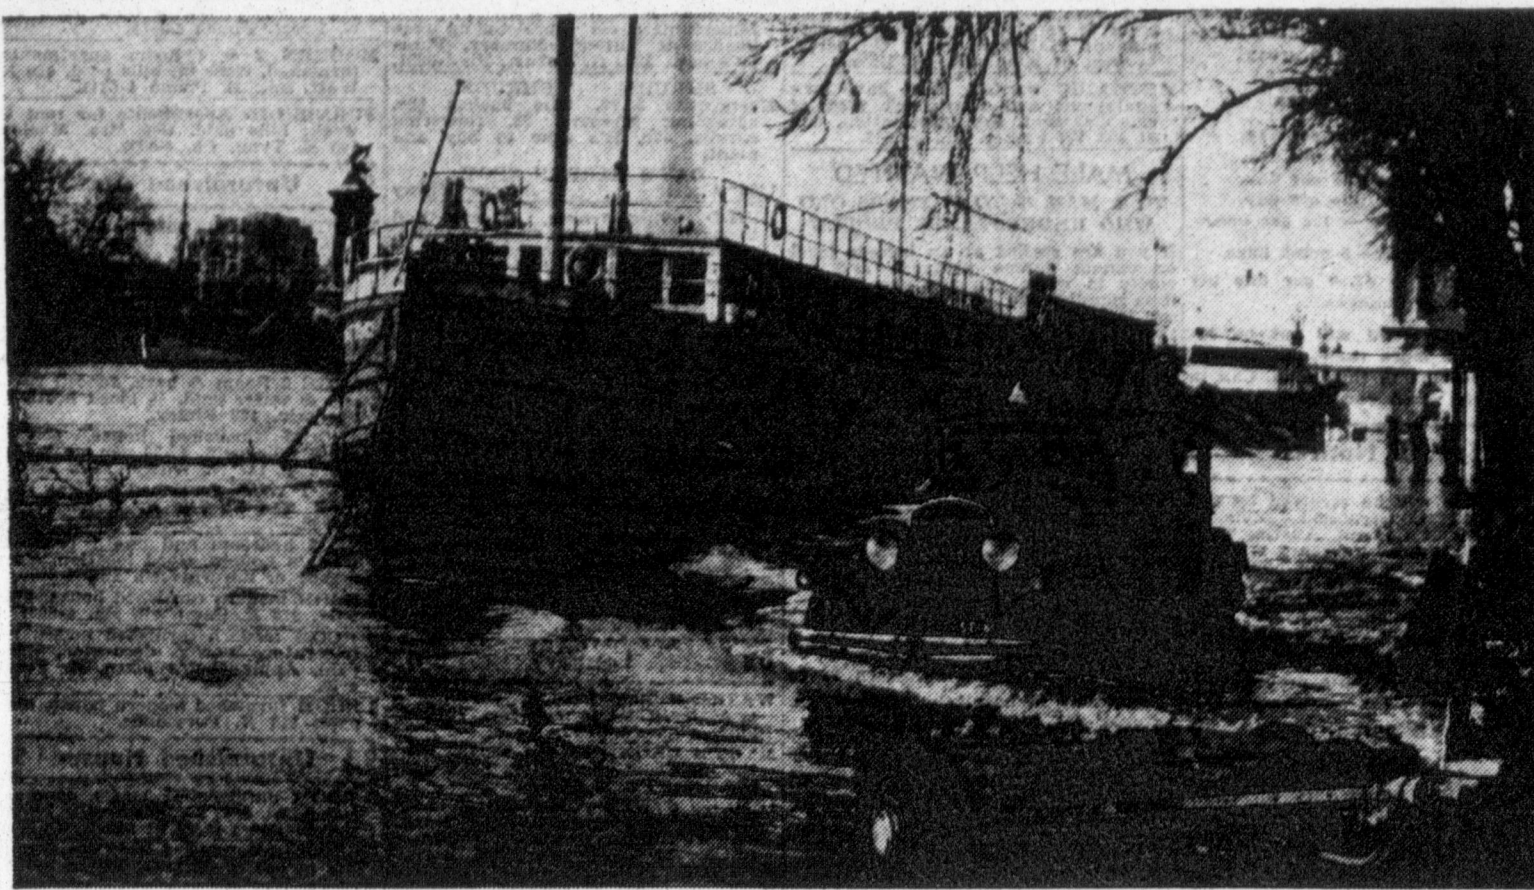

Time is very vital to us. Can we beat the deadline? Will we make it in before the door is shut?

A WINNER—Handler John Paluga, left, is holding "Best of Show," Champ Taylor's Dark Knight, as American Spaniel Club judge Clyde S. Heck holds the dog's trophies in New York. The black cocker spaniel won by a great margin over four other finalists in the 38th National Special Show.

OVER THE TOP—A boat is shown moored to a bank of the Seine River in Paris, where rising waters creep around the wheels of a car at a spot that is ordinarily dry land. Thaw-fed floods have caused workmen to sandbag the Seine parapets in the French capital where the river has risen so high that only rowboats can float under the arched spans of the many bridges.

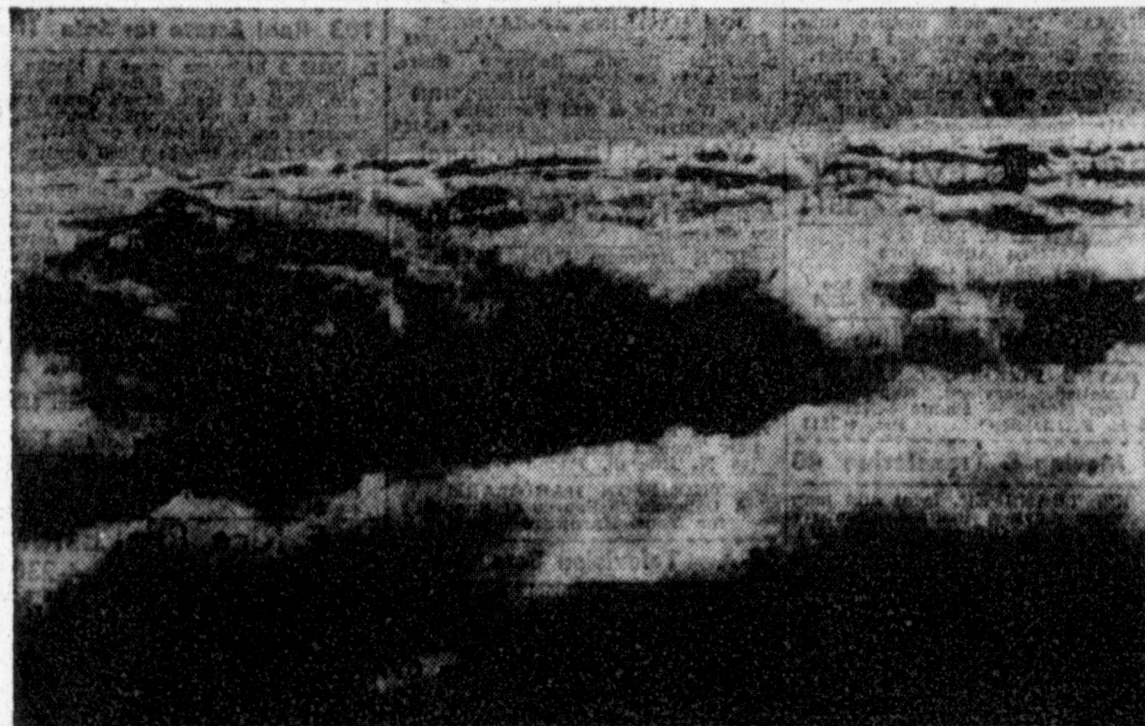

GOING STRONG—A. L. Needham, a handyman in Ft. Scott, Kans., is going up a ladder to repair the roof of a house. Needham, a retired farmer, is a hard worker despite his 80 years. He gets about on a lofty job like this one as well as most men half his age. Old age assistance payments are not necessary for a man who keeps as "young" and busy as Needham.

ALL IN THE FAMILY—Singer Betty Clooney, sister of Rosemary, has an accomplished accompanist in her mother, Frances, who helps Betty rehearse her daily TV program, "The Morning Show," in New York. One can guess where the girls' talent is from.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

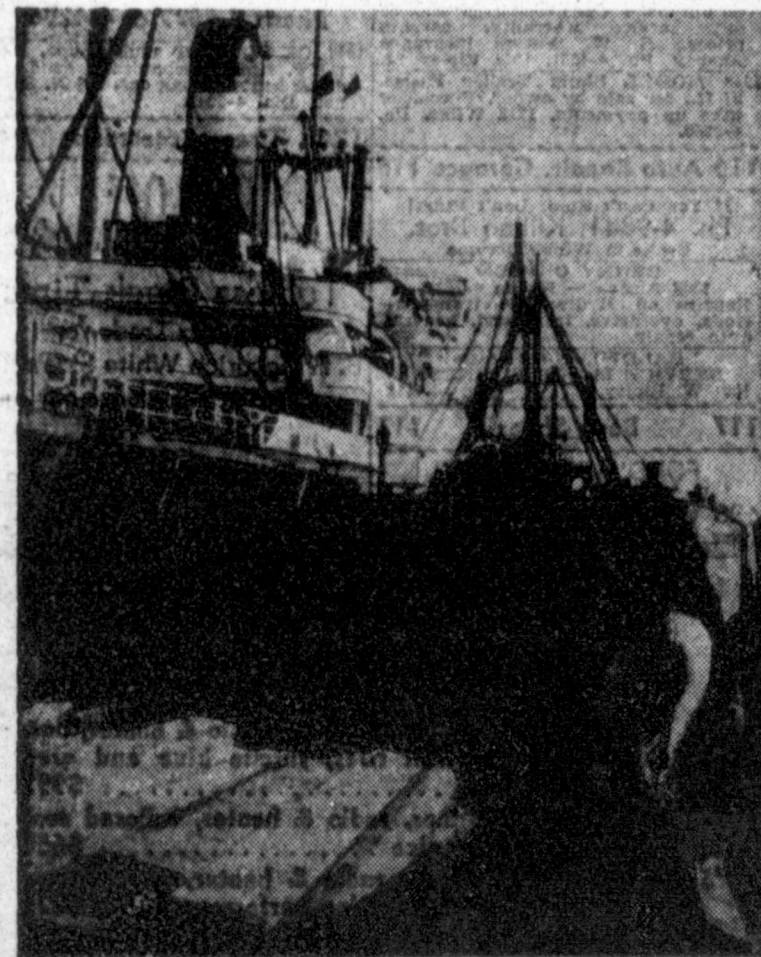

TRY AND FIND IT—A lot of the U.S. is covered with snow these cold days, but San Francisco has its unique covering. None of the city can be seen here as clouds of heavy fog obscure everything in sight but the tops of the Golden Gate Bridge towers.

BEACH GAL—Pretty Carol Jane Abney seems to be inviting onlookers into the ocean for a dip with her at Miami Beach. Carol is wearing a black sequined bathing suit edged at the top with pearls which she's going to put right back in the sea.

WOW!—Thelma Chaney, a student at the University of Washington in Seattle, is certainly getting a charge out of that electrostatic generator. The current was discharged into the air through Thelma's hair, making it stand on end. That might be a good method for quick drying.

SHE KNOWS WHAT'S GOOD—As cold January breezes blow down the Hudson River in New York, a shivering cat looks wistfully at the SS Excalibur which is about to sail into the sunny, warm Mediterranean. Her instinct may be warning the cat that there's a happier time ahead for the ship's passengers.

WORKING TOGETHER—All the Arthur Watson family turn out on their farms at Weston, Mo., to sort tobacco. Watson takes the best leaves and passes the tobacco stalk to his wife and daughters, who strip off leaves according to grade. They've perfected their own technique.

THEY KNEW WHAT THEY NEEDED—Railway workers in Milan, Italy, used this old locomotive to heat the huge railroad station when the regular underground system broke down. They fixed a pipe to the engine's boiler and generated its heat into the station through pipe lines.

HOME AGAIN—But actress Jeanne Crain and husband, Paul Brinkman, got a cold greeting as they arrived in New York from Europe. Jeanne has been so busy making a movie in Europe that she hardly had time to notice the weather. However, it was mighty cold in Manhattan, and they had their hands—and coats—full sheltering their four youngsters.

THE HORSE'S NECK—It certainly came in handy in this instance, although not used for its ordinary purpose. Jockey A. Grantham had to grab the neck of his mount, Blue Chip, and hang on for dear life after the horse stumbled badly at an open ditch. This unscheduled display of acrobatics occurred during the Montem Steeple Chase at Windsor, England.
