Olive Branch Extended Demos In Ike Speech

State Of The Union Is Termed Healthy

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — UP — President Eisenhower appealed to the new Democratic Congress Thursday to cooperate with him lest the "paralyzing indecision" of divided government interrupt America's "heartening progress" toward peace and prosperity.

His plea for "good will and harmony" on domestic legislation as well as in the traditionally bipartisan fields of defense and foreign policy, was the keynote of a generally optimistic State of the Union message outlining his 1955 program.

Mr. Eisenhower told a joint session of the House and Senate that the present situation of the House and Senate that secure peace as a "stalemate" in the condition of the U.S. economy the shadow of uneasiness caused is good and getting better. He was hopeful of continuing progress.

Other legislative proposals most of which were disclosed previously included extension of the draft law, higher postal rates, postponement of new tax cuts until next year at least, a big highway building program, pay raises for federal workers and servicemen, improved drought aid for farmers and an increase in the minimum wage from 75 to 80 cents an hour.

Details of the reserve plan will be spelled out to Congress in a special presidential message on Jan. 13. It is expected to provide for maintenance of a combat-ready reserve force of about 3 million men.

Rep. Rogers Introduces 6 Bills In House

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa has introduced six bills in the House of Representatives, according to reports from Washington. His were part of the 1000 bills which went into the works as the 84th Congress convened yesterday.

(1) A constitutional amendment to require a two-thirds vote of the entire Senate for the ratification of treaties. This would amend the present requirement of two-thirds of the senators present.

D-Y Attack In The Offing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — UP — Democrats quietly prepared Thursday a legislative one-two punch which they hope will knock out the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

The renewed Democratic attack on the contract may produce the first major battle of the new session. Their first move will be to introduce a resolution expressing the sense of Congress that the contract should be voided.

Dynamiting Attempt Fails

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 6 — UP — Someone tried to dynamite the Alamo Motor Lines office Thursday a few hours after the Lee Way Motor Lines office 15 blocks away was set on fire.

Ten charred eight-inch sticks of dynamite were found on the porch at the main office of Alamo Motor Lines. Detective Capt. Joe Hester said they failed to explode only because the fuse had been coiled so tight that it smothered itself.

Slayer Of Trotsky Negotiating Parole

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 6 — UP — Plans were underway here Thursday to parole Jacques Mornard, the mysterious slayer of Bolshevik chief Leon Trotsky, from a Mexican prison, his lawyer reported.

Stock Mart Issues Rally From Decline

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 — UP — Stocks met support Tuesday after an irregularly lower opening.

Western Union gained $1.38 to $81.75 a share on 2,000 shares. Republic Steel rose 50 cents to $78 on 4,000 shares. A long list registered small gains, including such favorites as General Electric, Good Year, United Aircraft, and Kennecott.

Leading automobile issues held at the previous closing level. Brokers were watching the market for a possible surge of reinvestment demand.

Market experts said Thursday that the previous session's decline, like most Wall Street reactions to "bad news" was scarred to extremes.

The mere 20 per cent rise in margins was smaller than the financial district had anticipated. For some time, traders had been looking for a 50 per cent rise — from 80 per cent margins to 75 per cent — because the jumps in margins usually are 25 points.

Stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose by $50 billion in valuation during 1954. This boost includes valuation of additional listings.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 6 — UP — Plans were underway here Thursday to parole Jacques Mornard, the mysterious slayer of Bolshevik chief Leon Trotsky, from a Mexican prison, his lawyer reported.

The attorney, Eduardo Cenicerio, said penal authorities were ready to rule on a bid for liberty for the cold-eyed killer who committed one of the most baffling political murders of modern times in 1940.

Cenicerio said the ruling was expected in about three weeks. He added that he expected a favorable decision.

Discussions Open On Jailed Yanks

By BRUCE W. MUNN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Jan. 6 — UP — UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai Thursday formally opened talks on the fate of 11 Americans jailed as "spies" by Peiping.

The initial conference started in Peiping with both Chou and Hammarskjold flanked by advisers and interpreters.

Radio Peiping and the New China News agency, in broadcasts monitored in Tokyo, gave only brief accounts of the meeting, naming only those officials taking part in the conference.

Hammarskjold was under orders from the UN General Assembly, however, to start the talks with pointed questions to Chou on what Red China intends to do about the crisis caused by the imprisonment of the fliers on what the United States has called "trumped-up charges."

Chou previously had laid the foundation of his argument by claiming in cables to Hammarskjold several weeks ago that the imprisonment of the fliers as spies was an internal affair and home of the United Nations' business.

But Chou, in inviting Hammarskjold to Peiping, had agreed to discuss "pertinent matters," thus giving the secretary general an opportunity to at least present the facts as known to the United Nations — that the Americans were shot down in North Korea in uniform during the Korean war and could not possibly be spies.

Bus Zones Taking Up Auto Space

There is space for an estimated 28 more automobiles to park in the Pampa downtown area.

But they can't because 14 city bus loading zones are still "off limits" to private vehicles.

City Manager Fred Brook today said the Pampa City Commission had never done anything further about the 14 loading zones when A. C. Howell ceased to run his city bus line several months ago.

The city ordinance governing the zones is the same today as it was then — no parking. Each zone is 20-22 feet wide, enough probably for two cars. Of course, Brook pointed out, there is always the chance someone will want to operate a city bus line again.

State Lakes Improvement Bonds OK'd

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 6 (UP) — A $3 million bond issue to build lodges and cabins at Texoma, Atlanta and Inks Lake state parks has received the approval of the State Parks Board.

Gordon Shearer, executive secretary of the board, said the bond issue would cover full development at each lake, including the structures, parking areas and swimming facilities. Plans call for 100-room, resort-type lodges at Inks Lake and Texoma, and a 65-room lodge in Atlanta Park.

Shearer said all lodges will have individual cabins built around them, but the number of cabins has not been determined.

The bond issue was approved at a meeting of the board Tuesday night, but Shearer said a friendly court suit may be filed now to test the validity of such a bond issue before contracts are let.

Plans for the Inks Lake lodge are about completed, Shearer said, and that development near Austin may be the first one started.

Rome's Protestant Cemetery Needs Funds For Its Upkeep

ROME, Jan. 6 (UP) — The Protestant Cemetery of Rome, famous for its resting place of poets Shelley and Keats, has hardly enough money to care for its graves or prevent their names from all being "writ in water."

"We need help from somewhere," said Cemetery Superintendent Marcello Piermattei.

The grave of Keats, with its immortal words of "here lies one whose name was writ in water," is not threatened. Nor is that of Shelley.

"The Keats-Shelley Memorial association takes care of them," said Piermattei. "But there are many others for whom we have no funds and no contact with their relatives."

Among the forgotten dead are more than 100 Americans.

The Protestant cemetery was opened in 1722 by special permission of Pope Innocent XIII to receive the body of an English papal delegate of the exiled King James Stuart. The papal government had previously ruled that no "heretic" could be interred within the city walls.

The cemetery today is managed by an international committee of ambassadors and ministers from 18 nations with large non-Catholic populations.

Britain, U.S. May Not See Eye To Eye At SEATO Meeting

United Press Foreign Analyst back up the Southeast Asia Treaty. Great Britain may find itself on the spot at a conference of the Southeast Asia Treaty organization countries to be held in Bangkok, Thailand, next month.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has made it plain he wants to put some teeth in the eight-nation "SEATO" organization formed to prevent further Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia.

There is talk in Washington of a small "mobile striking force" to back up the Southeast Asia Treaty. Britain wants no part of any such force. If United States' and British views are to be brought into line before Feb. 23, when the Bangkok conference starts, Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will have to do considerable advance negotiation.

Britain is in an embarrassing position in East Asia, and there are suggestions it may have to revise its policy before long.

Britain recognizes the Chinese Communist government and has repudiated the Nationalist government.

Carswell AFB Wins Honors

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6 (UP) — Carswell Air Force Base took top honors in the Strategic Air Command's annual flying safety program, it was announced Wednesday.

SAC headquarters at Omaha, Neb., made the announcement, which entitles Carswell to permanent possession of the safe aircraft campaign trophy for 1954.

To accomplish this, all units based at Carswell including tenant organizations and the 19th Air Division, flew about 50,000 hours with out an aircraft accident. In addition, no visiting aircraft was involved in an accident while at Carswell.

In competition with SAC bases around the world, Carswell maintained a spotless record, although operating in and out of remote areas in North Africa, Guam, Labrador and the United States.

Extended missions took the giant B-36 inter-continental bombers that make up its main force over deserts, mountains and large bodies of water and through all climates.

Mexican Cattle Pass Into U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 6 (UP) — Cattlemen estimated Wednesday that some 9,000 head of Mexican beef were exported into the United States the first day after hoof and mouth disease quarantines were lifted.

Representatives of cattlemen in Mexico City said a compilation of figures showed some 8,000 animals shipped through Nuevo Laredo, Mex., from Durango anduevo Leon states. 119 went through Ciudad Juarez and 723 through Nogales, Sonora state.

Monday saw the first cattle shipments to the United States since May, 1953, when hoof and mouth disease was discovered in Mexico for a second time. An earlier outbreak in December, 1946, closed the border for almost six years.

Fire Destroys Wool Stores

SAN MARCOS, Tex., Jan. 6 (UP) — Tuesday night destroyed a warehouse laden with valuable wool, mohair, flour, seed, sacks and farm implements as members of a regular and volunteer fire departments gathered for their annual dinner.

Firemen left their dinner at a barbecue cafe, ran a block to the warehouse for equipment and then spent three hours unsuccessfully fighting the blaze. Fire-fighting units from nearby Gary Air Force Base assisted in keeping the flames from spreading to adjoining structures.

Unofficial reports placed the loss of wool and mohair as high as $500,000. But Herman C. Kreuz, warehouse owner, said he could make no estimate until he checked his records.

Don't Cry Over Onions; Just Write Uncle Sam

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Stop worrying about how to make a better mousetrap. Uncle Sam is serving up a whole raft of swell inventions on a silver platter which could pay off your future and make you rich for life.

For instance, you've heard a thousand housewives say, "the man who invents a way to take the tears out of onion-peeling will make a fortune."

Uncle Sam has already done it. And this is yours for the asking: "An apparatus for peeling onions which involves subjecting onions to a conical, diverging, hollow jet of gas whereby the gas impinging on the surface of the onion first loosens the skin and then tears it away from the onion."

To capitalize on such a gadget write to the Solicitor, Department of Agriculture. By return mail he'll send you free all the additional details and a license to manufacture it.

Maybe you're not the onion-peeling machine manufacturing type. Then how about this device which tells you which way to run when the Russians attack: "An atomic explosion direction indicator comprising a vertical standard which adjustably supports a sleeve which in turn, supports a truncated conical indicating surface . . ."

Write to the Atomic Energy Commission, Chief, Patents Branch, for the license and details on this one.

These are just two of 5914 patented inventions which are the by-products of various government research programs and which are being offered free to anyone who is interested. They're being published in abstract form in a series of seven publications.

"Patents Abstracts No. 1" deals with a vast range of new measuring and testing instruments and costs $2. No. 2 is not out of the press yet. No. 3 lists inventions having to do with food products and processes and costs $1. The remaining five, which describe patents on a wide variety of subjects like electrical equipment, metal products and ceramics, will be available during the next few months.

Dr. Archie M. Palmer, chairman of the Government Patents Board, is in charge of the preparation of these booklets. He insists that they contain really hot stuff in the way of inventions which are highly-exploitable.

He reveals that a group of fruit processors in Florida, for instance, latched onto one of these federal patents for a process to make fruit juice concentrates some time ago and are now getting rich.

"This method is so extensively used now," he tells, "that it consumes nearly 55 per cent of the Florida orange crop."

Many of Dr. Palmer's inventions don't have quite such an obvious commercial application as the juice process, he admits. "But where an invention does not immediately and specifically meet a given need, it may serve as a stimulating source of new ideas," he says.

In this category, perhaps, is the "drill sampling device for fish livers." It's described as a tube with a sharp angur bit running down through it, which takes a neat sample of the fish liver and eventually tells you how much vitamin A the liver contains.

Also in the "idea stimulating" category is a device which measures the scuff-resistance of shoes. It's a blade attached to a pendulum rig and shows on a special instrument exactly how much each swing cuts into a shoe.

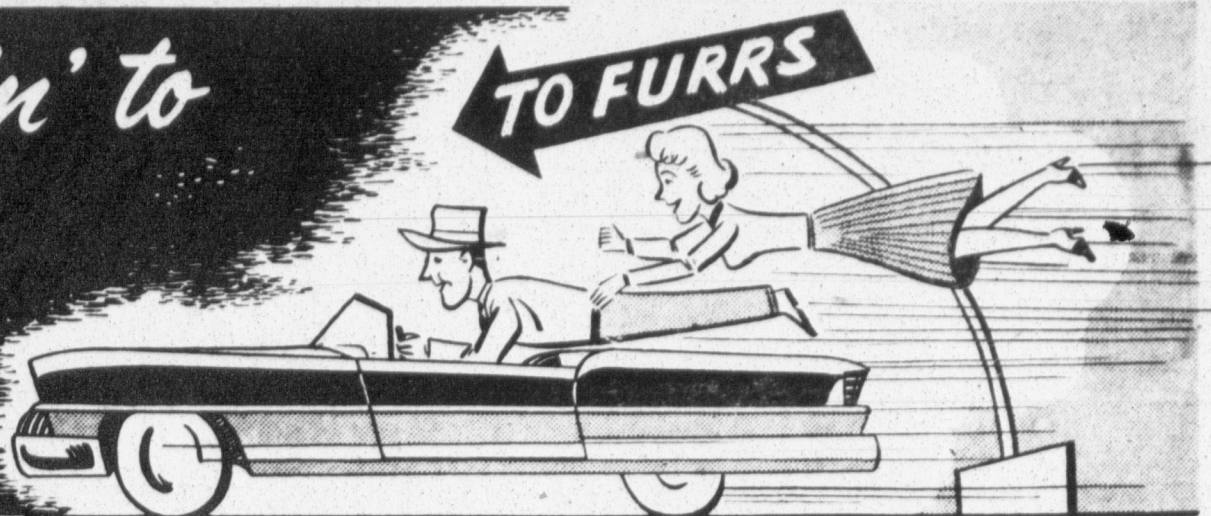

Dr. Palmer offers a unique patent which might give American fashion designers just the stimulation they need to steal the show from Dior's "flat look." It's a method of producing a fabric which is highly elastic in one direction only. "The details are kind of complicated."

But it's the perfect answer to a one-way-stretch girdle, for instance.

If nothing Dr. Palmer offers here stimulates any ideas at all, he suggests that you write to the Office of Technical Services U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., for the pamphlets themselves.

New Armed Forces Enlistees May Not Get Discharge 'Gravy'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 —UP— A congressman warned Wednesday that many volunteers signing up in the current military enlistment boom may be doing so in the false belief they still can get a free education on discharge.

The number of enlistments has increased sharply since President Eisenhower announced Saturday that wartime veterans' benefits would be terminated on Jan. 31.

Rep. Otis E. Teague (D-Tex.), new chairman of the House Veterans committee, called on recruiting officers to tell volunteers bluntly that as the situation now stands one of the benefits—education at government expense—is already as good as dead.

Teague said, however, he will introduce legislation in the new congress immediately to protect the new recruits on the education provisions.

Teague said the new volunteers are right in believing that by joining the services before Jan. 31 they still can be entitled to GI loans, mustering-out pay and special unemployment insurance. But he said that unless his bill is enacted, they can accumulate entitlement for a free education only from now until Jan. 31.

This means all they get for signing up immediately is about a month or so free schooling since they would be entitled to only one and one-half months of school for each month of service.

Teague's bill would let men in the service as of Jan. 31 continue collecting time for free schooling up to the maximum.

Cities throughout the country reported a rise in enlistments since the cutoff of wartime veterans' benefits was announced.

Ex-Chiang Aide Sentenced To Die

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 6—UP— Gen. Pao Chi-Hung, former judge advocate general of the Chinese Nationalist army, has been sentenced to death for corruption and abuse of power, it was reported Wednesday.

Chinese newspapers said Pao will be executed by a firing squad unless President Chiang Kai-Shek commutes the sentence handed down by the court martial that convicted the general.

Argentina Defies Church, Sanctions Bawdy Houses

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 6 (UP)—The government ended the long ban on prostitution after reports that the friction between city, provincial and federal health organizations that the venereal disease index was too high, despite the advances of medical science. The problem of homosexuality was another factor. It is forecast that there will be no return of the once-famous or name houses of prostitution like Madame Sapho's. Authorities are expected to permit houses operated usually by one or two women, conducted by a woman not less than 45 years old. Police say this will prevent a return of the professional procurer. All bawdy houses will be kept under close government supervision. It is indicated that prostitutes will be registered, will have to undergo periodic medical inspection and will be subject to fine if they transmit venereal disease. Some reports say that 20 percent of the revenue of the prostitutes will be put in a special savings or pension fund for their benefit.

Mrs. Vail Discusses Europe Trip

Mrs. Robert Vail addressed the Lions Club at their noon meeting on her recent three-month stay in Europe. Mrs. Vail was in Europe with her husband, who was on an engineering commission in Germany and England for the Cabot Companies. Stressing the fact that a short stay in Europe constitutes no one as an authority on so complex an area, Mrs. Vail pointed out the necessity for attempting to understand the minds of Europe's people if peace is to be maintained in the world. Following her talk the meeting was thrown open to a question and answer period. Mrs. Vail used maps to illustrate her tours around the continent and the British Isles.

Judge Charges Appeals Court In 'Rank' Rule

AUSTIN, Jan. 6—UP—A new member of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Judge Lloyd Davidson, has criticized the court for invading the legislative domain when the judicial body struck out part of the drunk driving law and let the remainder stand. Davidson, referring to a case in which John Gilderbloom of El Paso attacked the entire drunk driving law, called the ruling "the rankest sort of judicial legislation on the part of the court."

The appeals court last October held unconstitutional a provision allowing a trial judge to commute sentences in such cases. But it upheld other portions of the law. Davidson, in a dissenting opinion on a Dallas case touching the same point, said Wednesday the entire new DWI law, passed in 1953, should be discarded and the old law reinstated.

Davidson said the court, by trying to interpret the legislative intent and keeping only part of the law, was in effect enacting a new law by itself—an invasion of the lawmaking branch of government. "The court goes further than the Legislature, itself, did, for, by giving effect to what it construes to be the legislative intent, it assumes the position of enacting a law by intent," Davidson said. "There is no such thing as enacting a law by intent."

There will be no admission charge, but voluntary donations to the March of Dimes will be accepted. Pampano, to get to Grandview, should drive 16 miles south on Texas Hwy. 70, then two miles west off the highway.

No JayCee Week Celebration Set

National JayCee Week will be observed Jan. 14-21, but the Pampano organization does not plan anything on the local level. "We've got too much to do for February," President J. C. Hopkins said today. He was referring to the bi-regional convention scheduled Feb. 5-6 in Pampano. Among the features of the convention will be "hospitality hours" held by candidates for regional vice president, a dance at the Sportsman's Club, business sessions, a talk by Texas JayCee President Rocky Ford of Midland and the election of the regional vice president.

Rayburn Tells Demo Plans In Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—UP—Democrats, still seething over GOP campaign charges of softness toward communism, flashed the signal Thursday that they are gearing for a big counter offensive.

The Democrats hope to prove to American voters in the next two years that they hate communism just as much as the Republicans, and they can deliver on a legislative program that will be "in the best interests of the people of the United States."

The tip-off on the Democratic plan came Wednesday when Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas once again took over the gavel as speaker of the House, expressing the views of many of his colleagues, as well as of himself, Rayburn said:

"I want to say, as I said on the stump last fall, that we as Democrats do not indulge in personalities; we are not an accusing kind of people; we do not have to be that way. ... It matters not what the heat may be, here or out there, we are not going to indict people en masse. We are not going to say that just because we do not like somebody politically he is soft on communism or that he believes in subversion, and no Democrat in this House in a position of responsibility nor a Democrat out there in a position of responsibility is going to act or talk like that without being frowned upon and repudiated by me."

Rayburn went on to say that the Democrats are prepared to cooperate with President Eisenhower when they think he is right. But the ultimate action will depend, he said, on what "we think are in the best interests of the people of the United States."

These remarks were in effect a rerun of comments made Tuesday by Rayburn at a secret Democratic caucus. On that first occasion Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, House Democratic leader, joined his chief in assailing campaign attacks made by some Republicans.

You Don't Need A Head To Run

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 6—UP—W. T. Gilcrease hopes the red hen he decapitated last Saturday will quit running around soon. He said Wednesday two other hens who had their heads chopped off at the same time cooperated fine and were real tasty for New Year's. A veterinarian told him the red hen will starve to death soon and solve his problem, but Gilcrease said "it makes me feel kind of funny to be around a bird that's supposed to be dead but isn't."

BENSON

Benson told reporters that Smith "used poor judgment."

"He is sorry," the secretary added, "and so am I." Meantime, the White House, in effect, repudiated Benson's security finding by approving Ladejinsky's appointment to a foreign operations administration post dealing with land reform in Viet Nam. His salary will be $11,800, about what he was getting in his old job as U.S. agriculture attaché in Japan.

This represented a calculated White House retreat before the developing Democratic attack on the Eisenhower security system as a whole and the Ladejinsky case in particular. Benson doesn't budge. Benson did not budge on his security judgment of Ladejinsky, instead he proposed that the administration take another look at the security system which permitted to arrive at wholly different judgments, as did he and Dulles in this instance. He told his news conference he had expressed his views privately and that they were under consideration in high places. The United Press understands that Benson said the situation was more serious than a mere political dispute between Democrats and Republicans, although he recognized the fact that the administration's opponents were beginning to make a hot and forceful issue of security, with the President and his cabinet on the defensive.

Adult Ed. Delegates To Be Picked

The board of directors of Pampa's adult education program will meet Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at the home of Dr. Ray Hampton, 1824 Mary Ellen, president, to select two delegates to represent Pampa at the second annual Mid-Winter Forum on Community Development Jan. 20-21 at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

The main project of the delegates will be the formation of a West Texas Council on adult education, according to Mrs. Dorothy Statton, local secretary.

Dr. Per G. Stensland, head of the adult education program at Texas Tech, announced that 34 communities in West Texas are expected to send representatives to the two-day meeting. Last year's meeting was attended by 172 persons from 31 communities.

At Sunday's meeting, plans will be made for the four night adult education "get acquainted" sessions at the Lovett Memorial Library, to show the public the types of adult education programs possible in the community. The program is scheduled for Jan. 24-27, and will include demonstrations of the four groups presently holding weekly discussions; Spanish, Americana Heritage, Great Books, and World Affairs.

Rotarians Hear Soft Water Talk

The Pampa Rotary Club was given the history and background of the soft water industry at Wednesday's meeting in the form of a club classification talk, John Rankin was the speaker.

Rankin discussed the growth of his firm, the Culligan Soft Water Service Co., explaining how it had pioneered the wide distribution of soft water service for both home and industry. Marion Stone, high school senior, was introduced as the Junior Rotarian for the month of January. Guests were Bob Shelton, Norman Motley and Jerry Keith.

Lefors Man Fined, Sentenced For DWI

Albert Ernest Miller, 57, of Lefors, was fined today $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated. The case was heard by County Judge Bruce Parker. Miller was picked up at 12:15 a.m. today by Pampa police in the 800 block of W. Brown.

Pampa Scouts May Attend Canada Meet

Two Explorer Scouts from the Adote Walls Council will have the chance to attend the International Boy Scout Jamboree, scheduled Aug. 18-28 at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, Canada.

Paul Beisenherz, council Scout executive who was back at his desk in City Hall today after attending the annual regional meeting in Dallas reported that the two Explorers would be among the 1,500 being invited from the United States. The council is allotted just two.

It will be up to George Newberry and his council camping and activities committee to choose the two to attend Beisenherz said, adding that the chances are they will be Eagle Scouts. They will have to be selected by March 1.

The two Explorers will travel first by train and will go from Dallas to St. Louis, Washington, D.C., New York City and Canada. On the return trip, they will hit Detroit and Chicago. Various side-trips on the way are being planned, he said.

Other plans made in Dallas include preparation for the annual meeting of all professional Scouting men, slated Sept. 2-9 in Ann Arbor, Mich., Beisenherz continued. At that annual meeting, a new three-year program for Scouting will be launched with the slogan, "Forward For God and Country."

Attending will be Beisenherz; Phil Pegues, Pampa; Dave Agnew, Guyton, Okla.; and J. D. Ross, Borger.

Adult Parole, Probation Law In Narcotics Cases Cleared Up

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (UP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday threw out a section of the adult probation and parole law relating to convictions for use of narcotics. The case was presented to the appeals court as a plea for a writ of habeas corpus by Malcolm M. Levinson, who pleaded guilty at Fort Worth to charges of habitual

Methodist Rally To Be Held Friday

Twenty-nine churches from the northeast corner of the Panhandle will send caravans of young people with their sponsors to the "Youth for Christ and His Church" Methodist Youth Fellowship Mid-Winter Rally in the First Methodist Church in Pampa, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Main speaker will be Rev. Carol McLaughlin, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Church, Topeka, Kans. Rev. McLaughlin was graduated from Baker University, Baldwin, Kans., of which he is a trustee, and the Perkins School of Theology, Dallas.

Keith Bonny, district president, will be in charge of the service. Plans were worked out with the assistance of Rev. Edwin L. Hall, district director.

Special solos will be presented by Donna Franklin and James Austin, both of Pampa. The song service will be led by Roy Johnson with Mrs. Johnson at the organ and Nancy Cole at the piano. All young people are invited to attend.

Many Pooches Still Unlicensed

Pampans have registered 734 dogs — perhaps one-third of the canine population — in the office of City Tax Collector Aubrey Jones.

The dog licenses purchased now are good until May 1. City officials have estimated there are 2,000 dogs inside the Pampa city limits.

use of narcotic drugs and of being addicted to use of narcotic drugs. Levinson was sentenced to serve one year in the Tarrant county jail but the jail term was probated to one year in a U.S. Public Health Service hospital for treatment.

The offenses were misdemeanors. The court said the probation and parole law does not apply to misdemeanor convictions.

The court said the entire act relating to probation of sentences for use of narcotic drugs should be thrown out.

The opinion, written by Judge Lloyd W. Davidson, pointed out the act has three integral parts—the unlawful act, punishment for violation, and probation of that punishment.

"When the probation feature went out of the act, not only an integral part of the act went out but also a part of the punishment affixed to a violation of the act went out with it," the opinion said.

"Moreover, to uphold this statute without the probation feature would defeat the prime purpose of the legislature in passing the statute, namely, to provide for compulsory treatment of narcotics addicts," the court added.

The court ruled the narcotics act void and ordered Levinson discharged.

Top Capital Secretary Uses The 'Bible System' Of Typing

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—UP—Alene (Peg) Phillips uses the "Bible system" of typing and her own brand of shorthand even though she holds an important secretarial position in the government. She is the executive secretary to the boss of the Department of the Interior, Douglas McKay.

we say in the trade, "hunt and peck." "Peg" also developed her own kind of shorthand, which is really just an informal system of abbreviation similar to one used by many newspaper reporters. For instance, "pox" in my notes means "police." Things like that. Miss Phillips doesn't have to do much typing or taking of notes any more, but she claims she can hold her own with a Gregg graduate, hunting on the typewriter and cutting the corner on the notes. "If I transpose my notes quickly enough."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Texans Show They Can Play Bridge
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Bridge score table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH and various card symbols.

About 10 or 15 years ago practically all of the best bridge players of the country were New Yorkers or Philadelphians. Or maybe that's just what the New Yorkers and Philadelphians used to think. Today it is well known that great bridge players are to be found all over the country. In my home state of Texas it is practically an article of faith that the grass is greener, the sky bluer, the meat juicier, the girls prettier . . . and the bridge players shrewder. If you want proof of all these facts, just remember that an all-Texas team won the Men's Team Championship in the national tournament last December and that they will be defending their title in a couple of weeks when this year's tournament is played in Atlanta. Today's hand, played in the national tournament last year, shows the difference between thinking and unthinking bridge. Both tables of the team match got to a contract of four hearts, and the king of spades was the opening lead at both tables. West won the first trick with the king of spades, combined with the queen of spades, and then led the ace of spades at the third trick. East discarded a diamond on the third spade, and South ruffed. South led a diamond to the dummy in order to try a trump finesse. This lost to West's king, but then South could easily regain the lead and draw trumps. Four hearts bid and made were worth 620 points to the Texan team. At the other table, the Texans held the West-West cards. Johnny Gerber opened the king of spades and won the second trick with the queen of spades. At the third trick, however, Gerber didn't lead the ace of spades. Instead he led the queen of spades. Harold Rockaway, a native of Houston like his partner, had no trouble in reading the meaning of this unusual play at the third trick. He was being asked to ruff, so Rockaway ruffed with the ten of hearts. This cooperative defensive play defeated the contract. South had to overruff, and then he had to lose two trumps to West.

'Lasting' TV Comedy Series Forthcoming

By ALINE MOSSY
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6—UP—Television comedy serials are biting the dust this season. But Mitzie Green has been brought out of semi-retirement for another new series that she thinks will last because it has the biggest set on TV. The ex-child star was busy with her fourth baby at home and preparing another nightclub tour when NBC paged her for "So This is Hollywood." The series concerns a movie stunt girl, Mitzie, and a pretty extra, played by Virginia Gibson, and their adventures on the sidewalks and backlots of the plaster city. This gives the series an excuse to use the most supercolossal setting on TV—the real-life Hollywood community. "We just won't be sitting around a living room for 23 episodes," said the actress, now 34. "We can go all over town or around our own studio for exteriors. It gives the show a big scope." Producer Ed Beloin agrees many another TV comedy, including "Willy" and "That's My Boy," died partly because the plots couldn't afford to get away from the same chintz living room couch. "I Love Lucy" to avoid this way to viewer boredom, finally is getting the Ricardos and Mertzes out of their apartment house to travel cross-country to Hollywood via "process" screens. But Mitzie and the rest of the cast, at no big cost, can simply move into real-life Hollywood drugstores, drive-ins, nightclubs, theaters and other local landmarks. The program marks the third career for blonde Mitzie. She was a screen great until 12, on the stage and in vaudeville for another 10 years and a nightclub star until she temporarily quit two years ago to have another baby. "I love the TV series because I can stay home with my family instead of going on tour," she said. "The show is fun—except that I do my own stunts! So far I've fallen off a rock, jumped over a wagon, leaped into cold water and been hit over the head." "So This is Hollywood" got off to a good start with the critics and ratings last Saturday, but in two weeks the fledgling program will go through fire. It will be pitted opposite the second half of the popular Jackie Gleason show.

Optometrist Advertising To Be Studied

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 —UP— Arguments pro and con over whether Texas optometrists should be allowed to advertise were under study Tuesday by the State Board of Optometry Examiners.

No final decision was expected before Jan. 22, date of the board's next meeting, scheduled for Houston.

In daylong debate Monday, the board heard arguments aired on both sides of the controversial advertising question.

Proponents urged re-adoption of the ban on advertising on grounds it would restrict "assembly-line" practitioners and raise the ethical standards of the business.

"Limit Expression Freedom" However, the opposition said such a rule would "limit freedom of expression," and compared the board hearing to trials in "the days of witchcraft."

The board, which originally banned advertising by optometrists, rescinded the rule last October, and a suit challenging the order was later dismissed.

Monday's hearing stemmed from a petition signed by 550 optometrists and sent the board by Dr. Nelson Greeman, San Antonio optometrist, calling for re-adoption of a "code of ethics"—including the ban on advertising.

More than 100 spectators at the hearing heard W. R. Beutner, publisher of the Lufkin Daily News and president of the Texas Press Association, lambast the proposal.

Little Advertising He estimated that out of more than 500 members of the TPA, only one out of 10 received optometrist advertising.

"I don't believe any panacea of the ills of the people of Texas is involved in banning advertising," he added.

Austin attorney Herman Jones sounded similar opposition.

"If radio and television never made a cent out of optometrists' business in the next 50 years, or the past 50 years, we would be here against a proposal to limit the freedom of expression, unless an evil was shown," he said.

Texas Holiday Toll Is 182

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 —UP— A final tabulation by the Department of Public Safety Tuesday showed 182 persons died violently in Texas during the 11-day holiday period, well under the department's predicted death total of 203.

However, Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the DPS, emphasized the totals are incomplete, particularly in traffic accidents, because persons injured during the period may die later.

The tabulation covered the Christmas - New Year's holiday period from 12:01 a.m. Dec. 23 to 11:59 p.m. Jan. 2.

The DPS said 99 persons died in traffic accidents—listed as "motoricides," 32 lives were taken in homicides and suicides, and 51 died in miscellaneous, non - traffic accidents.

N. K. Woerner, chief of the DPS statistical division, had predicted 108 persons would die in traffic accidents, 42 in homicides and suicides, and 52 in miscellaneous accidents.

Garrison pointed out that a year ago the final recap of the holiday death roundup showed a total of 94 traffic deaths, but subsequently 10 persons were added to the list who died later.

Both Garrison and Woerner expressed hope this year's casualty list would not grow larger.

"We derive no satisfaction out of saying 'I told you so,'" Garrison said.

Pampa News Women's Editor

USUALLY WHEN ANYONE says "diet," we all think of something that means losing weight — or should I say, some of us. Diet also means well-balanced meals that give the right amount of vitamins, minerals, proteins and so forth. Here is an article that tells why diet is important, especially for women and young girls.

EVERY WOMAN hopes that her baby will be a "better baby." How to make this dream come true is the theme of a recent research report by Dr. Icie G. Macy and her associates in the Research Laboratory of the Children's Fund of Michigan. These investigators have found the most important single thing a woman can do to give her child the best possible start in life is to follow a balanced diet both before and during pregnancy.

"A good diet is absolutely essential then," states Dr. Macy, whose research has led to recognition of a "timing factor" that makes the time just before and during the first two or three months of pregnancy a critical period. If the mother is poorly nourished or ill during this time, there is danger to the child's normal development.

"Dr. Macy and her associates in Detroit have made an intensive study of 1064 women. Their research, sponsored in part by The Nutrition Foundation, stresses the need for medical advice both before and during the early months of pregnancy. And, since about one out of four mothers bearing a first child is under twenty, this study also stresses the necessity of a good diet for girls in their teens.

"A sound diet for the woman who is married and for the girl or woman who is contemplating marriage should include each day 1 pint to 1 quart of vitamin D milk; 1 egg; 2 servings of meat, fish, fowl, or cheese, (with liver once a week); 3 servings of fruit. One of these should be oranges, grapefruit, tomatoes, strawberries, or melon; 3 servings of vegetables, at least one of these a green leafy vegetable; one potato; and enriched or whole grain cereal or bread with butter or fortified margarine.

HERE ARE SOME more of those "shorts" that contain so many good hints for homemakers. "If you're crocheting with a crochet needle, you can make cotton yarn, the heavy kind, into a nice throw rug for a baby or child's room. Cotton is good here because it washes easily and babies and children are hard on rugs.

"Pillows that can be washed, cover, insides, and all, right in the machine, are good bets for college rooms and college girls with little time.

"Light on closed eyelids makes sleeping less restful. If your bedroom is constructed so that the sun comes in on you before you're ready to get up, get a good dark

Borger Woman Presents Mental Health Program At Parent Education Club Meet

Mrs. Louis Seligar of Borger was guest speaker at the meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Parent Education Club in the home of Mrs. Julian Key, 1239 Hamilton.

Mrs. Seligar, introduced by Mrs. George Hotsess, spoke on "The Substance of Mental Health." Mrs. Seligar has a master's degree in psychology.

During her talk, she pointed out that personality is one of the most common words used. Personality is the individual, she stated. It is an organized thing, and personality disorganization is what one finds in neuroses and psychoses, she advised.

Steps toward understanding a child, his personality organization, from the viewpoint of a teacher, family doctor or psychologist include intellectual endowment, emotional reactivity and attitudes, she stated. Intellectual endowment can be determined by a number of tests which also show physical defects such as color blindness and reading disability never guessed by the child's appearance or behavior.

Emotional reactivity includes the child's reaction in situations and people, his appreciation, affection and timidity, she explained. The key to personal relationships, she pointed out.

Attitudes include a genuine affection between parents, which is the best key to security and stability, she informed the women. The main pillars of mental hygiene are affection, approval and acceptance.

Following the program, refreshments of cinnamon rolls and coffee were served by the hostesses.

HOLIDAY HISTORY

Epiphany, or Twelfth Night (January 6) has been observed as a Christian feast as long as has Christmas itself. It originally marked the Baptism of Jesus in the Jordan.

At one juncture in Jerusalem the physical and spiritual "births" were both observed on Epiphany, and the Bishop of Jerusalem noted that neither commemoration was kept fully and reverently.

In the Teutonic West, the date became the festival of the Magi, the Three Wise Men whose coming is described in the New Testament by Matthew. Following the miraculous star the Magi, who were supposedly skilled in interpreting dreams, came to Jerusalem seeking Him born King of the Jews. Great artists of the Renaissance, attracted by

Fresh Coconut Cake
Makes Good Dessert

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor
"We're fond of coconut," laughed Mrs. Ross Byars, in telling about making fresh coconut cake. She also makes a coconut pie. Mrs. Byars has been cooking since she was a girl and learned how from her mother. She enjoys it and says she often just gets "homesick" to cook. So, she makes up cookies and pies and puts them in the deep freeze. She is also an assistant cook in the Horace Mann School cafeteria, cooks for her First Methodist Sunday School class banquets and other organizations' banquets. In addition, she belongs to a sewing club.

Shamrock from 1930 until 1939 when they moved to Pampa. Mr. Byars is a salesman for the Pampa Fruit Company. Mrs. Byars now cooks for her husband and her son, James, who is in junior high school. She has another son, Byron, a student at the University of Texas, who likes to get boxes of food from his mother.

FRESH COCONUT CAKE
Cream 1 1/2 cups sugar and 1/2 cup Crisco. Add 2 cups Swansdown cake flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar and a dash of salt, sifted together. Then add 1/2 cup sweet milk, 1 tsp. vanilla and 4 beaten egg whites. Bake in two layers at 300 degrees for 20 minutes. Mrs. Byars recommends pre-heating the oven.

FROSTING
Mix in top of double boiler 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1-3 cup water, 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar, 2 egg whites and 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Cook for 3 minutes. While frosting the cake, sprinkle on grated fresh coconut.

Tip-Top Vegetable
Soup Makes Meal

Tip-Top Vegetable Soup, made hearty with beef, is a meal in itself. It's a good idea to make plenty because you'll surely hear requests for seconds.

Beef shanks are economical cuts of beef to use in this soup. Simmered in the liquid, they are tender and give a wonderful flavor to the soup.

Tip-Top Vegetable Soup
3 to 4 pounds beef shank
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
2 quarts cold water
1 teaspoon salt
1 small onion, chopped
1 No. 303 can or 2 cups cooked tomatoes

6 sprigs parsley
1/4 head young cabbage, shredded
5 to 6 carrots, sliced
2 cups fresh green beans cut into thirds
1 cup diced potato
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup rice or barley
Brown meat and bones in lard or drippings. Cover with cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Add salt and onion. Reduce temperature and simmer 2 hours. Add vegetables and rice or barley. Simmer 1 hour. 8 to 10 servings.

Buttermilk Fudge Is "Different" Candy

For something different along fudge lines, try this delicious recipe:

Buttermilk Fudge
2 cups granulated sugar
3-4 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3-2 cup nuts

Combine sugar, buttermilk and corn syrup; cook to soft ball stage (236 degrees F. or 24 degrees F. above boiling point of water. Remove from fire and allow mixture to cool undisturbed until pan can be held on hand with comfort.

Mince Fudge Pie
Has New Texture

Old-favorite mince pie has a delicious new taste and a different texture in this Mince Fudge Pie recipe.

To that very popular penuche fudge pie recipe introduced some time ago, they've added a helping of tasty mince-meat. The combination is, to say the least, terrific. The brown sugar flavor of penuche quick fudge mix and the spicy, fruit flavor of the mince-meat blend to make a rich flavored pastry you'll serve often.

Easy to put together, Mince Fudge Pie will serve 8 or 10 amply. Here's the simple recipe, you'll want to try it soon.

Mince-meat Fudge Pie
1 unbaked 9" pastry crust
1 package penuche quick fudge mix
3 large eggs
1/2 cup moist mince-meat
1/4 cup melted butter
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Prepare pie crust from your own recipe or from packaged pie crust mix. Put penuche quick fudge mix into bowl. Add eggs, water, mince-meat and melted butter. Beat with rotary-beater until thoroughly blended. Stir in chopped walnuts. Pour into unbaked crust. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 40 minutes until filling is set. Cool. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream. Serves 8 to 10.

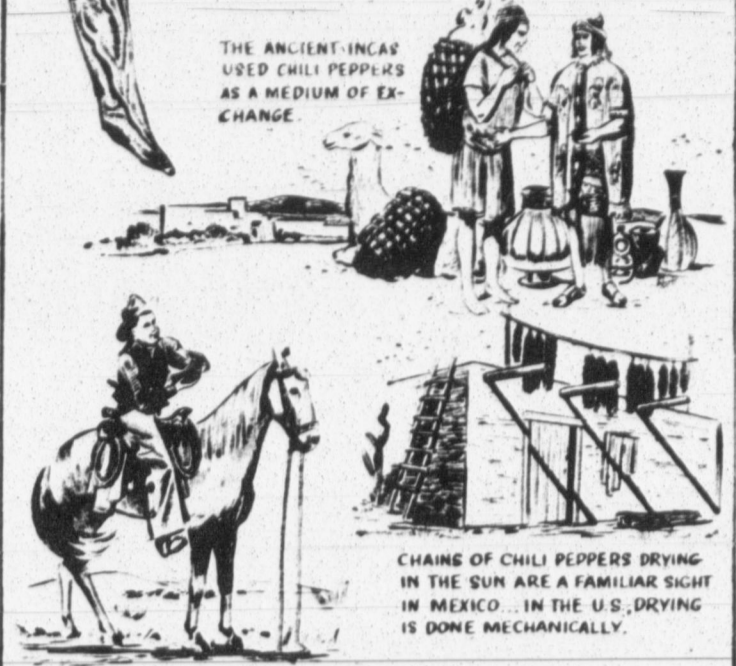

Eggs should be kept under refrigeration, both at the grocery store and at home. Eggs stored at room temperature will lose as much quality in three days as those kept two weeks under refrigeration.

Lamb Shoulder
Chops Are Easy

"Luxury" at a budget cost is yours when you choose 1 lamb shoulder chops. According to Reba Staggs, well-known home economist, these lamb chops can be broiled, pan-broiled, pan-fried or braised.

Almost everyone likes broiled meats and broiling is an easy method of preparing lamb shoulder chops. All you do is set the regulator to broil. Then place the chops on the broiler rack. Insert the broiler pan and rack on the top of one-inch chops is two inches from the heat and two-inch chops is three inches from the heat. When one side is browned, season, and turn the chops. Finish cooking on the second side and season. Chops cut one inch thick require 10 to 12 minutes. Chops cut two inches require 20 to 22 minutes.

As long as you're using your broiler for the lamb chops, why not use your broiler for a grilled dinner? Peas and peach halves, whole bananas and pineapple slices make good fruit accompaniments. Tomato slices, cooked corn squash halves, cooked potato slices and cooked cauliflower separated into florets are vegetable course suggestions.

Cost Of Isolation

There are a pair of intriguing misconceptions in the minds of the gullible regarding the United Nations. They were expressed the other evening by no less a figure than Palmer Hoyt of the Denver Post. Mr. Hoyt stated categorically that "all of us would like to be isolationists." Then he followed by attempting to prove that we couldn't afford such solitary grandeur.

Misconception number one is, that all of us would like to be isolationists. We can't speak for Mr. Hoyt, but certainly we can't imagine anything less appealing than a chance to play Robinson Crusoe.

And when we declare that we feel the United States should get out of the U. N., it is precisely because we cannot approve of isolationism. Prior to the birth of this unfortunate and appalling mechanism, America was not an isolationist country. We had excellent relations with nearly every country in the world.

When a problem arose in which American and British interests were in conflict, American and British diplomats ironed out the difficulty. It is amazing how frequently in those days we scored diplomatic victories. Nowadays if there is a collision of interests between Britain and this country we cannot iron it out. It becomes a matter of world concern.

Representatives of Iran, Nationalist China, France and the Dutch East Indies confer with us on how to solve our problems in dealing with Britain. But this does not solve anything. It merely heightens the fact that problems exist.

Similarly, in the past, if Algeria and America faced in opposite directions, we dealt with the problem at first hand. By this means we were instrumental in sweeping piracy from the high seas, and raising the prestige of America to the point where it couldn't possibly be isolationist. We had such high ideals that everyone wanted to copy us.

Now, nobody wants to copy us, mostly because whatever we want or don't want is lost in the blur of many voices and conflicting interests. Nearly everyone loves his own country. But the United Nations is trying to internationalize us by getting us to love everybody else to our own permanent disadvantage.

Misconception number two is even more intriguing. It is the dragging of the cost of a war into the picture, and proclaiming, without the slightest logic, that we are better off paying for the U. N. than we would be paying for a war. Now if the U. N. would or could prevent war, there might be some merit to the argument. But even the most enthusiastic U. N. boosters admit the U. N. has failed miserably in this department...

This is the argument of the ostrich which buries its head in the sand because it is better not to face the facts of life.

Certainly a war would be costly. But so is the U. N. And since the organization hasn't the remotest chance of doing what it claims to be in business to do, why delude ourselves with it any longer?

There's another side to this business of cost, also. It is the idea that America can't afford to go it alone, therefore, the U. N. But the hard and unpleasant truth is that in the U. N., America is going it alone.

Our allies have paper armies, spongy purses, and jellied spines. By means of the United Nations we prop up these puppets and play at the business of being popular. And with this array of phantoms at our side we prate of the cost of independence and integrity. If the money we dished out to these half-hearted relief cases were kept in the hands of the man who earned it originally, we'd be far stronger in the face of danger and far braver in the event of a showdown.

Why don't the U. N. ers tell the truth about their phantasmagoria? Maybe it's because they're too ashamed to admit how wrong they've been.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

There has always been an enormous interest in twins and indeed even more in triplets, quadruplets and quintuplets. Twins have figured in literature and history: Jacob and Esau, Romulus and Remus, and Castor and Pollux to mention only a few.

There are many curious things about twins. For one thing they seem to run in families and a family which has had twins once is much more likely to have them again.

For another, the having of twins is more common among some people than others — among Americans for example, it is much more frequent than among Japanese. Another strange thing about double births is that it is less common among Americans now than it was twenty years ago; the chances that twins will be born is about once in every 98 births as compared with once in 85 twenty years ago.

THERE ARE THREE varieties of twins. In one a single egg is fertilized by a single spermatozoon and this leads to twins which must be of the same sex and which are known as "identical." These have strikingly identical features, frequently have similar experiences during life, even including susceptibility to disease.

The second main type occurs when two eggs are fertilized by two spermatozoa. Twins of this type are just as likely to be of opposite sex as any other brothers or sisters and are spoken of as fraternal twins. Except for the fact that they may differ from each other as much as any other brothers and sisters in both physical and mental qualities.

The final type of twin is that in which a single egg divides before it has been fertilized by the spermatozoon so that the identical eggs are fertilized by non-identical spermatozoa. These twins which are not identical are more alike than fraternal twins since half of their heredity is identical.

Severing Relations With Soviet As Means Of Promoting Peace David Lawrence in the December 17th issue of U. S. News & World Report has a very rational 13-page article under the heading of "The Case for Severing Relations with Soviet Rulers." He gives a summary of the objections that were discussed to recognizing Russia and the conditions on which the recognition was granted. Then he summarizes the article under the heading of "An Act of Self-Defense." This is the way he puts it:

"So, to summarize, the severance of diplomatic relations is an act of self-defense. It is a step taken to prevent the encroachment by the agents of foreign governments upon our territory in their attempt to infiltrate our institutions. Every democratic government has a right to resist such measures, by banning the use of its own territory for the conduct of operations hostile to itself.

"What we say, in effect, is this: We are not interfering with your internal affairs, but we are resisting the use of your power externally to the injury of the United States.

"Sooner or later the Western world must recognize that the policies of Soviet Russia are actually hostile to them, as is proved by the many processes of subversion and the internal infiltration that have characterized the so-called 'cold war.'

"By severing diplomatic relations we also take the necessary steps toward the shutting off of all trade relationships with the United States. We can stop the flow of money to the many Soviet consulates and agencies in various countries, which are the centers of espionage. Unquestionably the Latin-American governments would eventually follow our lead, and a very important opportunity that the Soviets now have to upset Latin-American government would be eliminated. That would be consistent with our Monroe Doctrine and the recent pronouncements of the Organization of American States.

"It is obvious that the subversive movements throughout the world, conducted by the Soviet Union, could not be financed except with Russian rubles cabled to its agents in every city, everywhere, who bribe officials, newspapermen, and other media of communication, especially in Latin-American countries, to help them do their work of subversion.

"We know that on the continent of Africa, and in various parts of Asia, the Communist agents are busily engaged in moves to upset existing regimes, and to capitalize on existing controversies. But the money for such exploits would not be forthcoming if diplomatic relations and trade relations were cut off.

"What we are advocating here is a policy of non-intercourse with the Soviet regime, which when fully explained to the people of the Soviet empire must inevitably result in some internal change. This is the hope of the world, and we must contribute toward that end by shaping our policies in self-defense, against those who have made war upon us.

"For the severance of diplomatic relations is merely a logical sequel to the acts of offense which have been committed by the Soviet regime upon the territories of free peoples. To condone these evils is to compound them and to deprive free peoples of their only means of protection against an enemy in the modern world which disregards all rules of sovereignty, against those who have made war upon us.

"By interrupting diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union we would be telling the entire world that the United States of America, which has always stood in the past on moral principle, is continuing vigorously to pursue the course of morality, and that it will not resume diplomatic relations with any government which has violated its pledges to the United States Government, and which gives no practical evidence of any change in its attitude."

No Evidence Of Good Faith Then Mr. Lawrence tells that Russia has given no evidence of good faith.

Lawrence continues: "There are, of course, only two ways by which the present government in the Kremlin can be altered — that is either by external military action or internal force."

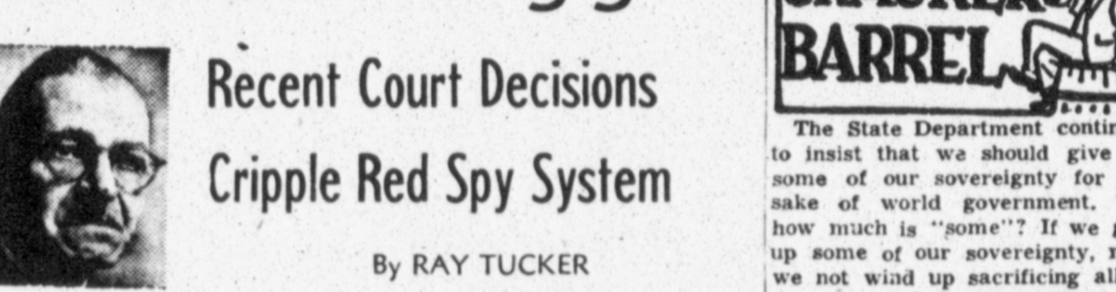

"External force is out of the question because we don't wish to give the Communists an opportunity to consolidate their position inside the country and light the fires of patriotism and nationalism.

"Internal force is the logical instrument. Revolution or peaceful change is the only mean by which a despotic government can be removed without bringing on an external war.

The Ransom?

National Whirligig Recent Court Decisions Cripple Red Spy System

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Recent court decisions have combined to cripple the espionage system maintained and operated by the necessarily large colony of Russian and satellite diplomats at Washington. In fact, there are reports along diplomatic row here that numerous attaches which were recalled to Moscow, Warsaw and other Red capitals because their usefulness has ended.

The District of Columbia Appeals Court, which ranks second to the highest judicial tribunal, has upheld the McCarran Act. This statute, which was passed over former President Truman's veto, empowers the Department of Justice to cite certain organizations with high-sounding titles as Communist outposts seeking the overthrow of our government.

In a sense, diplomatic reliance upon and reinforcement of these banned organizations would be tantamount to associating with a band of criminals. Although the White House and State Department from Senator William F. Knowland's proposal to break diplomatic relations with all Communist countries, it could properly demand the recall of foreign emissaries found to be conspiring with the legally declared enemies of the United States.

The other extremely helpful decision was the finding that American industries may discharge so-called "Fifth Amendment Communists." That verdict will enable employers and labor unions to rout out workers in factories which have military or defense contracts.

Even before these decisions, Communist diplomats were not allowed to run loose at Washington or throughout the country.

Red Agents here and at the United Nations headquarters in New York are kept under constant surveillance by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Allen W. Dulles' Central Intelligence Agency. Detailed records of these people they see and of those who have any traffic with them are kept for reference and research.

The Communist diplomats, of course, know that they are under a day-and-night watch by our protective agencies, as a recent incident during the holiday entertaining revealed.

The Yugoslavian Ambassador gave a reception for foreign and American friends, including Allen W. Dulles. When there were demands for a song by the Polish Ambassador, who has an excellent voice, Dulles added to the clamor. The Warsaw diplomat said to him in an ironic tone:

"Why should you ask me to sing? You have heard my voice often enough on your private recordings of my conversations, haven't you?"

Dulles still continued asking him to "sing."

Faubus And McMath Given Support Of Arkansas Paper By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — I told you that Charles T. Emery, senior special agent in charge of the Little Rock Bureau of Internal Revenue, was given two hours to decide whether he would accept a transfer to Chicago or apply for retirement when he was engaged in an investigation of the income and the tax returns of the Democratic governor.

The governor was Sid McMath, a member of the Truman party machine in the southern tier. McMath is now a strong factor in the incoming administration of Orval Faubus, an alumnus of the Arkansas Commonwealth, which was closed by court order in 1941. Faubus was also president of the Commonwealth student council and in 1925 was honored with selection to the position of official student orator on May Day, a Communist political gala.

In June of the same year, the student paper, the Fortnightly, stated that Orval Faubus was one of three persons, two of them students, the third a teacher, who went to the all-southern conference of Civil and Trade Union Rights at Chattanooga as "delegates from the united front on the campus of Commonwealth." The Chattanooga conference was held on May 26.

Faubus has intimated that he spent only a "few days" at Commonwealth and that he was not an influential or prominent member of the student body. He also has challenged anyone to say publicly that he is "subversive." Faubus campaigned for McMath, who served two terms as governor in the Truman reign, which remains almost a political closed-shop in the Ozarks. In turn, McMath campaigned for Faubus and they are now close and efficient allies. The Arkansas Gazette, the most powerful individual paper in the area, supports them.

The ultimatum to Emery during the McMath investigation removed from the situation a treasury man who had pursued the facts with determination and skill. That skill had been demonstrated in a number of conspicuous fraud cases and, in general, over a period of 26 years in the internal revenue. Had he accepted transfer to Chicago, Emery would have been removed from the McMath case, anyway. The dilemma was personal and almost tragic in respect to his family, for he had become a genuine member of the community in Little Rock and Arkansas.

So Emery put in for retirement and went into private practice as a tax consultant.

Some time before the crisis in the McMath case, Emery came upon information indicating that five business men in Fort Smith had put up $50,000 in currency in small denominations which had been delivered to a person in the Muehlebach Hotel in Kansas City during Harry Truman's campaign against Tom Dewey in 1948. The Fort Smith Chamber of Commerce was interested in a move to "reactivate" Camp Chaffee, an improvised army post of World War II, which had been abandoned upon demobilization. The country was going back into the war business as a means of absorbing unemployed men into the armed forces and war industries.

Camp Chaffee had provided a big steady payroll which was profitable to much of Fort Smith's industry and commerce. An emissary was sent to Washington to plead for "reactivation." A prominent Fort Smith banker delivered, if he did not personally provide, a fund to pay the expenses of the Washington journey of the agent, who was unappointed official of a department of the national government serving in Arkansas. Mr. Emery claims to have positive knowledge that the banker deducted from his taxable income as an advanced this democratic federal appointee for the trip to Washington.

When the mission failed, an unofficial committee of Fort Smith business men started to raise money to bring about the reopening of Chaffee. One of these individuals got a phone call from a prominent Democratic politician in Kansas City to the effect that $50,000 would swing the job, but that the money must be provided by not more than five individuals and not by public subscription.

The money was delivered to the recipient in the Muehlebach while Truman and his campaign party were in the hotel. There is no suggestion that Truman had anything to do with the transaction nor even that he had knowledge of it. Indeed, it is possible that the money did not actually go into the Democratic national campaign fund, nor any other Democratic campaign fund. It might have been knocked down by the recipient or divided among a number of individuals.

Mr. Emery first heard of the transaction from a Republican National Committeeman who told him that he had reported the information to a Democratic senator whom he named. At the time he received the information Emery was having troubles of his own in regard to McMath's taxes and returns so he put it on his list of unfinished business. Emery also noted that there was no crystallized issue of tax fraud or delinquency in the case of the $50,000. Therefore it was not within his narrow official purview, although fraud might have been alleged under some other law.

Mr. Emery would be willing to testify to the facts and the hearsay as he knows them before a federal grand jury or a committee of either house of Congress.

Should come to attention when I passed a set of and/or candleabra made of the stars... When I saw my coffee hit the General's trousers I went right back to being a yardbird. I could hear my dog tags rattle. I could hear the mess sergeant yelling at me to hurry up and finish washing those pots and pans.

Maybe all ex-prives don't feel this way, but brass scared me to death, and always will. If General Wyman had told me to go out in the rain and practice digging foxholes until dark, I'd have marched out, dug up an entrenching tool from some place, and started to work. Or if he had ripped the buttons off my sports jacket and told me I was cashiered, I would have said, "Yes, sir," and then passed up the Rose Bowl game from shame. I remember thinking when I was in the army how good it would be when I got out to pass some brass on the street and say, "Hi, bud," I tried to get out of the corner of my mouth. I tried once but the "but" never had a chance to get out, the "hi" having stuck in my throat. If any of you ex-infantry privates think I'm crazy to feel this way, I just want you to spill some hot coffee over a three-star General when he is all dressed up for a big occasion.

Johnson In News Forefront

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6-UP-Who's in the news? Sen. Lyndon Baines Johnson, the Texas Democrat and new Senate majority leader, is a zealot for party unity...and generally good at it.

Senate Democrats historically are a rambunctious crew...but the soft-spoken Johnson is one of the best behind-the-scenes hands at patching up and smoothing over differences...

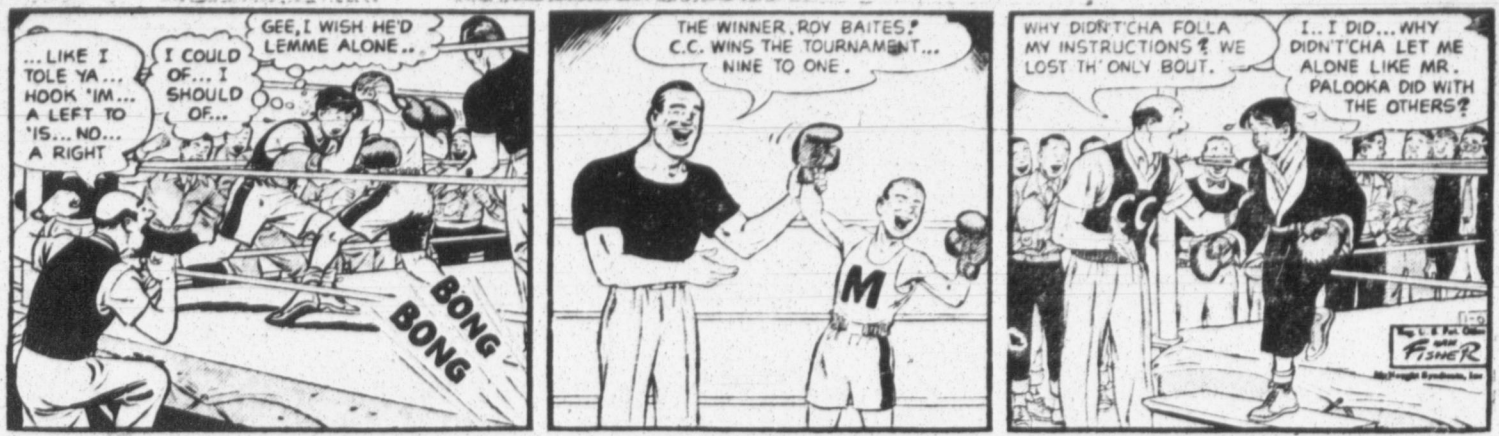

The tall Texan did a notable job of holding his party together as minority leader in the 83rd Congress...says Democrats will not oppose the administration just to be fighting...

Farm-born 46 years ago, Johnson was elected to the House of Representatives in 1937...was a young protege of President Franklin D. Roosevelt...

Licked when he tried for a Senate short term in 1941...made it in 1948, winning a key primary...and the nickname "Landslide Lyndon"...

Re-elected last year without difficulty...spends all time possible on his ranch near Johnson City, Tex...with wife and two daughters.

Missing Ship Quiz Continues

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6-UP-The U.S. Coast Guard questioned a shipyard employe and three port inspectors Wednesday at its inquiry into the disappearance of a ship and 23 crew members on a voyage.

The Coast Guard began a third day of its hearing into the fate of the freighter Southern Districts, a converted LST which vanished without a trace on a voyage from the Gulf of Mexico last month.

The hearing is expected to last through Thursday. The testimony of the employe of the Todd-Johnson shipyard and the Coast Guard inspectors followed conflicting statements of opinion of other witnesses about the fitness of the ship before the ill-fated voyage.

Henry R. Voge and Paul A. Cucullu, both New Orleans river pilots, testified Tuesday that they had found the ship handled about normal for craft of its type, with slight exceptions. "She was a little heavier and moving slower," Voge said, "and there was a slight list to the starboard."

Three former crew members had testified earlier that they had left the Southern Districts because they thought it rusty and unseaworthy. The Southern Districts left Port Sulphur, La., last Dec. 3, with a cargo of sulphur and was due at Rockport, Maine, on Dec. 11. It was last heard from on Dec. 5 when in the Gulf of Mexico.

Rubirosa Delves Into Babs' Past

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, Jan. 6-UP-Playboy Porfirio Rubirosa has sent two lawyers here to probe the tangled marital past of his estranged wife, Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton.

His attorneys would not say if their investigation was a prelude to divorce action by the Dominican sportsman, whose stormy marriage to Miss Hutton broke up after 73 days that reportedly cost her $1 million.

They told court officials Rubirosa sent them to find out if Miss Hutton's divorce here in 1951 from a previous husband, Prince Igor Troubetsky, authorized her to call herself Princess Troubetsky.

The 42-year-old "poor little rich girl" resumed use of the title of her blue-blooded ex-husband during a recent visit to this quickie divorce capital, where she maintains a luxurious, high-walled estate.

Miss Hutton said she came to Mexico to rest and not to divorce Rubirosa, her fifth husband. They have been separated nearly a year. ever, announced in Santo Domingo last month that his lawyers are seeking a settlement with Miss Hutton so that he can wed actress Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Rubirosa, 48, is expected to co-star with Miss Gabor in a movie to be filmed in Mexico soon.

There were a lot of big sport stories in Pampa during the past year and believe me it was difficult to pick one over the other.

Cy Recalls Old Days

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the series on what has become of the champs of yesteryear.)

By HASKELL SHORT

NEWCOMERTOWN, Ohio, Jan. 6—UP—Cy Young, the great iron man of baseball, shifted his weight in his big easy rocking chair and talked about the sport he helped make the great American game.

"I'd like modern baseball a great deal more if there were no relief pitchers," he said with a grin.

Young puffed his new briar pipe gently as he recalled the years when he set records that still stand.

The venerable Ohioan won 511 games, a record that probably will stand forever. He was the first man in modern baseball to pitch a perfect game. His no-hitter in 1904 was the first since 1880 and he celebrated July 4, 1905, by pitching 20 consecutive innings without a walk, an American League record that still stands. His record of three no-hit games stood until rapid Robert Feller came along.

Still in Good Shape

Friends of Denton True Young everywhere will be glad to know that the 87-year-old former pitcher shows no signs of going into the ninth inning of life. He has some of the infirmities of age and his eyesight is failing so much he can't enjoy television. But his complexion is good, his voice steady, and he gets about without difficulty.

Young was one of the hearty souls who helped make baseball popular late in the last century and early in this one as teams kept going under conditions that would cause class D leaguers to moan these days.

It was easy to understand why Young was reluctant to say anything that might reflect on today's players.

PHS 5 Preps For Oklahoma Journey

The Hustlin' Harvesters basketballers, owners of a 70-game winning streak, will leave tomorrow morning for Oklahoma where the Green and Golders will attempt to add two more games to the string.

The Harvesters will play at Altus tomorrow night and at Chickasha Saturday night.

It will be the first meeting this year with Altus and the second meeting with Chickasha. The Harvesters downed the Chicks in the second annual Top o' Texas Tournament here last week end, 79-54. But the Chicks showed a lot of potential and could give the Harvesters a rough go Saturday night.

Chickasha, after losing to the Harvesters in the first round of last week's tournament, bounced back the following night to defeat Ada, 68-54, for the consolation prize.

The chief scoring threat of the Chicks are Wayland O'Neal and Levern Wright. O'Neal led the Chicks to their win over Ada with a 22-point performance.

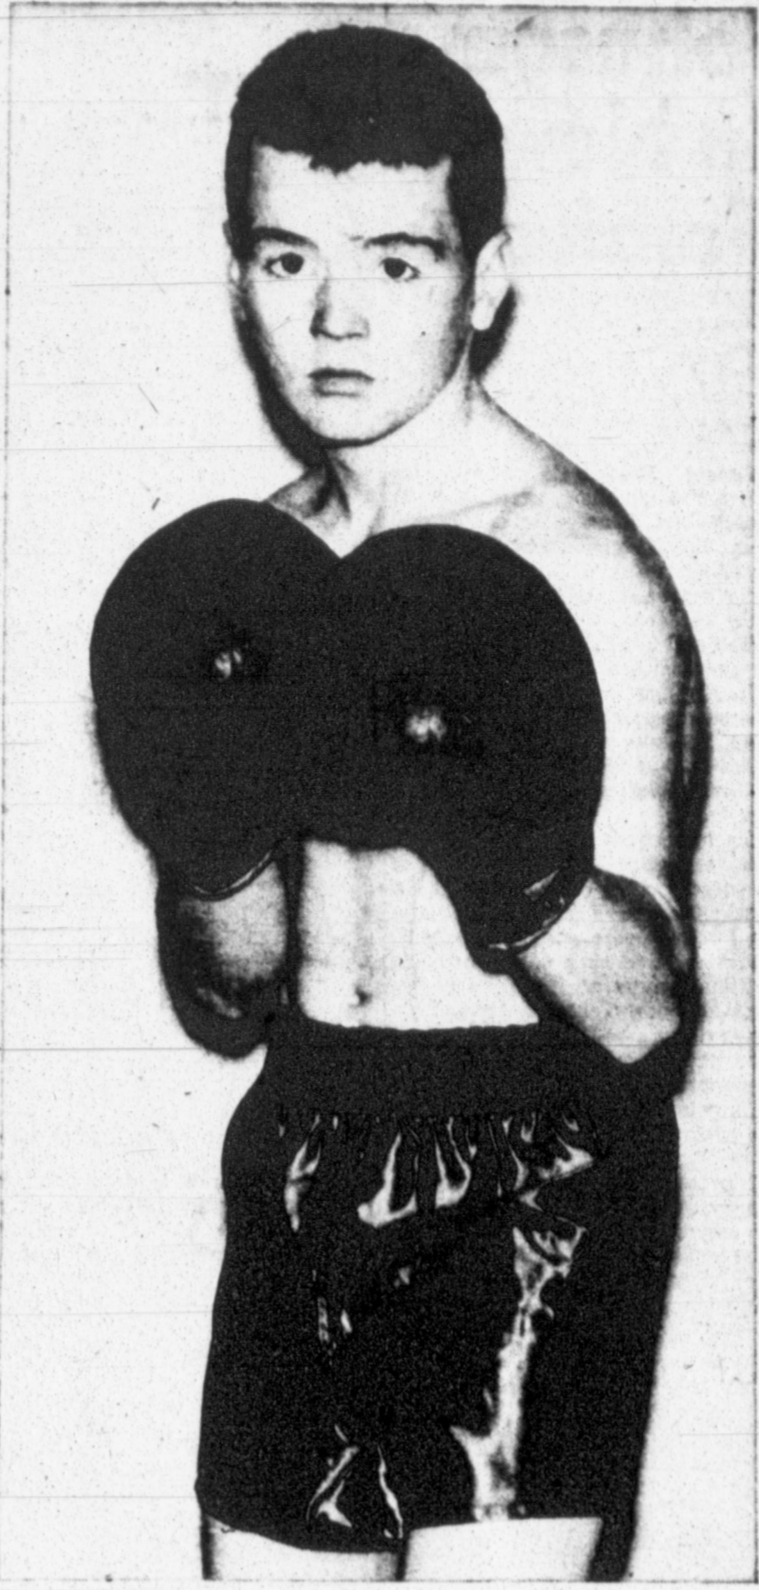

Wright was the Chick leader against the Harvesters with 18 points. Wright also picked up 14 points against Ada for a 32-point tournament performance.

The Harvesters will likely go along with their usual starting five: E. Jay McMinn and Benny Cartwright, forwards; Gary Griffin, center; and Ken Hinkle and Buddy Sharp, guards.

Griffin led the Harvester scorers for the season with 320 points.

Following is the Harvester scoring chart:

Player	FG	FT	TP
Griffin	135	50	320
McMinn	92	62	216
Hinkle	82	28	132
Sharp	34	30	98
Cartwright	18	22	58

Reese Signs '55 Dodger Contract

BROOKLYN, Jan. 6—UP—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced Thursday that shortstop Pee Wee Reese has signed his 1955 contract, becoming the 12th player to agree to terms.

While terms of the contract were not revealed, a Dodger spokesman said Reese "did not get a cut" from his estimated $55,000 salary last season.

Reese had his best season in 1954, winding up hitting .309, 23 points higher than his previous best year—1951 when he hit .286. That .309 average led all major league shortstops last season, being three points higher than Harvey Kuenn of Detroit. This will be Reese's 13th season as a Dodger, making him the oldest active player in length of service in the league.

Scout Is Named

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 6—UP—Don McShane, 48-year-old native of San Francisco and former head scout and farm director in the west for the Philadelphia Athletics, has been named west coast scout for the Baltimore Orioles, general manager Paul Richards announced Thursday.

Rich LA Open Had Ruff Time In Early Days

(Editors: Faye Loyd, woman sports writer from the United Press Bureau in Dallas, has been assigned to cover the amateur half of the Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament. In the following dispatch, she tells some of the background that made the tourney one of goldfom's most controversial before it was even underway.)

By FAYE LOYD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6—UP—The $32,500 Los Angeles Open is a rich and spectacular affair for the top professionals with divisions for amateurs, pro-celebrities and women and it benefits two causes other than a golfer's bank roll.

But it almost was a tour-tournament bust.

Sponsorship of the Open, and what amounted to its survival, was settled only a week ago Thursday in eleven-hour negotiations.

Until that time, two simultaneous tournaments were planned for separate courses: one under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the Los Angeles Open for the past 28 years but lately involved in controversy with the Professional Golfers Association; a second "Pan American tournament" under sponsorship of wealthy trailer manufacturer Bill McDonald and PGA-sanctioned.

Reluctance Is Shown

Those involved in the squabble are reluctant to discuss its background. And the reasons for the basal are obscured, anyway, by a solution that leaves almost everyone happy and gives Los Angeles the third-richest golf tournament in the nation.

One point of contention was whether the Los Angeles Open should be "an open tournament" or, like most others, an open invitational. The Jaycees wanted an open tournament that meant any person who was a golfer and who qualified, could play.

This week's solution, Jaycees agreed, was in the best interests of golf, although it was not altogether clear who won what point in the controversy.

"Our differences with the PGA have been worked out on a three-year contract basis," said Steve Gavin, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This year's tournament is sponsored by the Jaycees, McDonald, the PGA and ladies PGA.

Jaycees to Have Future Tourney

"The tournaments of the future will be conducted by the Jaycees with Bill McDonald as co-sponsor," Gavin said. "There is every indication that this is going to be the prologue to the greatest open tournament in the nation."

The Los Angeles tourney has changed its location three times in as many years since 1933. This year, it is being played over two courses, Inglewood and Rancho.

It is the first big league stop on the 1955 winter tournament tour and, with the exception of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, has drawn the top professional golfers. The $2,000 ladies tournament drew big stars, too, including Babe Zaharias, Beverly Hansen, Jackie Pung and Barbara Romack.

Professionals, ladies and men, began the first 36 holes of competition over Inglewood Thursday, the amateurs over nearby Rancho. Low competitors among the men will play the final rounds over Inglewood Saturday and Sunday.

In Senior Bowl Brown Says North Will Lose Saturday

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 6—UP—North Coach Paul Brown, who holds one of the top winning records as a coach in football, gloomily predicted defeat Thursday for his team in Saturday's sixth annual Senior Bowl game.

Brown, who led the Cleveland Browns to the pro championship two weeks ago, said the North was sure to lose because the South was heavily laden with All-America players.

Brown split his squad into eleven with one backfield featuring All-America fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, Ohio State's Dave Leggett at quarterback and Bob McNamara of Minnesota and Corky Taylor of Kansas State at the halves. The other backfield was composed of Indiana's Florian Hlinski at quarter, Dick Young of Chattanooga at full and Dick Golst of Cincinnati and Ron Drzewicki of Marquette at the halves.

Meanwhile, South Coach Steve Owen, formerly of the New York Giants, said his 25-man squad had "more desire than Navy and it will mean a lot out there Saturday."

Owen singled out Duke quarters' back Jerry Barber for his booming punts and Vanderbilt guard Bobby Goodall for his fine field goal kicking from 30 yards out.

The South team includes:

ENDS: Max Boydston, Oklahoma; Eddie Bravo, Tulane; Frank McDonald, Miami of Florida; Bill Sennett, Georgia Tech.

TACKLES: Rex Logan, Mississippi; Sid Fournet, LSU; Darris McCord, Tennessee; J. R. Smith, Baylor.

GUARDS: George Atkins, Auburn; Bud Brooks, Arkansas; Harry Cook, Mississippi Southern; Frank Minceville, South Carolina.

CENTERS: Kurt Burris, Oklahoma; Hal Easterwood, Mississippi State; Jack Locklear, Auburn.

QUARTERBACKS: Jerry Barber, Duke; Bobby Freeman, Auburn.

HALFBACKS: L. G. Dupre, Baylor; Frank Eidom, Southern Methodist; Charley Madison, Georgia; Allen Muirhead, Mississippi; Corky Tharp, Alabama.

FULLBACKS: Dick Bielecki, Maryland; Charley Evans, Mississippi State.

City Women's Keg Tourney This Weekend

The annual City Women's Bowling Tournament will be held this week end, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Sixteen teams are entered including the defending champions, Malone Pharmacy.

Elaine Riddle, the all-events champion last year, will also compete in this week's tournament.

Play will get underway Friday at 6 p.m. The second session will start at 4 p.m. Saturday with the third session slated for 6 p.m. Saturday.

The first three sessions will be team play. The team champion will be crowned Saturday night. Doubles and singles will be held Sunday.

Fight Is Foreseen

MONTREAL, Jan. 6—UP—President Leo Dandurand of the Montreal Alouettes, nettled by the hiring of halfback Alex Webster by the New York Giants, said Thursday his team "will fight back" if the National Football League opens a war over players.

Sugar Ray On Comeback Trail With KO

DETROIT, Jan. 6—UP—Sugar Ray Robinson, the former welterweight and middleweight champion who opened his comeback campaign with a sixth round knockout of Joe Rindone Wednesday night, said Thursday he thinks he'll be ready for a summer crack at Carl (Bobo) Olson's 160-pound title.

Robinson, in his first official bout in 30 months, fanned the 37-second of the sixth round and was in command all the way. Sugar Ray scaled 159 and Rindone 163 1/2 for the non-televized bout which drew 11,973.

"It'll take me five or six more fights to get my timing back to where it was when I quit in 1952," the 34-year-old Robinson said. "But I should be ready for Olson by summer."

Robinson was as quick as ever against the not too impressive Rindone, 28-year-old from Roxbury, Mass. His reflexes were good but at times his punches a fraction off the mark.

Sugar Ray vacated the middleweight title 30 months ago after he tried unsuccessfully to dethrone then light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim. He was a song and dance man during his now ended retirement.

"I was very satisfied with my showing against Rindone," Robinson said. "It was really more than I had expected. My timing, although not as good as it had been in the past, wasn't too bad and my legs were strong."

Robinson's comeback started in the same Detroit ring in which he made his pro debut in February, 1941 when he picked up $200 for a preliminary victory.

That started Robinson on his way to one of the most impressive records in boxing history. Robinson has won 132 fights while losing only three. He once had a string of 91 consecutive victories.

TL Adopts 161 Game Schedule

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 6—UP—Adoption of a 161-game playing schedule was expected to be the principal order of business at the Texas League's annual "schedule" meeting to be held Sunday in Houston. League President Dick Butler said Thursday.

Butler said it was hoped that the meeting would be a short one only three-or-four-hours long. It will be held at 10 a.m. in the Texas State Hotel.

Butler, who was named head of the League succeeding John Reeves at the close of the 1954 season, said there was no major business on the agenda except for the schedule and a few routine inquiries he planned to make of the directors.

The 1955 schedule would call for the League to open play April 6, two days earlier than last year and close on Labor Day, Sept. 5.

Mangrum Favored In LA Tournament

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Jan. 6—UP—If the country's top men and women professional golfers can stay away from the oil derricks Thursday, they hope to strike it rich.

That's the incongruous setting for the $32,500 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament that gets underway on the Inglewood Country Club Golf course—a flat, par-71 layout.

This course is dotted with six oil derricks and two moe wells are being sunk. The wells sit right in the middle of the fairways in some instances. When the players hit a long ball it might strike a derrick of land in the machinery. However, they are allowed to lift out with no penalty.

Off his sharp-shooting Wednesday around the towers, veteran Lloyd Mangrum had to enter Thursday's play as the favorite. He had a six-under-par 65. That got him a six-way tie for fourth place in the pro-celebrities tournament—after getting three strokes up from his amateur partner.

The big money in this tournament, richest to be held in California, is the first place prize of $5,000. The remainder of the loot in the men's division is split among 34 places with the last spot worth $100.

In the men's division, there will be 133 of the top professionals teeing off. The women's professional division numbers 115 with a $5,000 pot and $1,000 for the winner. The amateur division is being run at another course in the Los Angeles area, the Rancho.

The pro-celebrities honors Wednesday went to young amateur Robert Wagner, the bobby-sox idol of the movies. He paired with Al Beaslink and Jay Hebert of the pro ranks to give each of them a best ball of 61. That tied them with a team composed of Max Evans and amateur Dick Myers of Los Angeles for the pro-celebrities title. The win was worth $416.66 to each of the professionals.

Among the better individual scores shot by the professionals Wednesday were a 66 by Evans; 67 by national open champion Ed Furgol; 68 by long-hitting George Bayer, who had five birdies in a row, at one stretch; 69 by Gene Littler and Doug Ford; and 70 by Ed (Porky) Oliver.

Headlining the cast of women, who see action for the first time Thursday, are such stars as Babe Zaharias, Jackie Pung, Louise Smith.

AUSTIN, Jan. 6—UP—Only teams that put Texas in the loss column at football this season won places on the Longhorns' all-opponent squad.

Notre Dame placed four men Wednesday, while Oklahoma, Rice and Arkansas won two spots each and Southern Methodist got one.

Texas players did not place a single man on their all-opponent eleven who belonged to a team the Longhorns beat last fall. SMU tied Texas.

The team: Ends Max Boydston, Oklahoma, and Dan Shannon, Notre Dame; tackles Frank Varrichione and Sam Palumbo, Notre Dame; guards Bud Brooks, Arkansas, and Kenneth Paul Rice; center, Kurt Burris, Oklahoma, and backs Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame, Dicky Moggie, Rice, Frank Eklom, SMU and Henry Moore, Arkansas.

Rocky In 2 Title Defenses In 1955

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—UP—It became increasingly probable Thursday that Rocky Marciano's two title defenses for 1955 will be made in June and September, just as they were last year.

Manager Al Weill announced Wednesday night, after his arrival from Miami, that the heavyweight champion's next defense had been delayed until May, "at the earliest." And he stressed that Rocky would not fight in May, "if his nose isn't right."

Consequently, Weill's scheduled conference Thursday with promoter Jim Norris apparently had no significance. Weill admitted he had flown in from Miami, "not to confer with Norris but to watch my boy Willie Troy lick Floyd Patterson at Madison Square Garden Friday night."

Rocky is slated to start preliminary training at Grossinger, N.Y., on Sunday. However, he will do no sparring for about a month. "And we won't know if his nose is alright until about Feb. 15," Weill explained. "And we'll want two exhibition bouts before a defense."

Marciano suffered a split nose in his last fight on Sept. 17, when he stopped Ezzard Charles in the eighth round. The nose apparently has healed well, but only blows from training gloves can prove whether the two-inch split will reopen under punishment, according to Weill.

Weill said he will give no consideration to any contender until Rocky is ready to fight. He said Nino Valdes, Don Cockell and light heavyweight champion Archie Moore were in the running. Moore Wednesday offered Marciano a $400,000 guarantee for a title shot.

Norris is free. Meanwhile, promoter Norris was free to close for a Johnny Saxton-Carmen Basilio welterweight title fight at Syracuse, N.Y., on April 1. Ex-champ Kid Gavilan of Cuba, who claimed a return-bout contract with champion Saxton, withdrew his objections to the Syracuse match. Norris promised Gavilan a title shot with the Syracuse winner within 45 days after the Syracuse bout.

Gavilan was also assured of a television fight with Sugar Ray Robinson or middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson at Miami, Feb. 23. If Olson is the opponent, his title will not be at stake.

Gavilan announced that Yamil Chade of Havana will replace Angel Lopes of New York as his manager later this week. Lopez and the 'Keed' have been feuding since his loss of the 147-pound title to Saxton at Philadelphia in October.

Missouri Has 'That Big Man' This Season

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 6—UP—What Missouri's Wilbur (Sparky) Stalcup has been looking for is one good, big man.

"Give me a big man and I'll get into the NCAA tournament picture, one of these seasons," Stalcup said about a year ago. "Just give me a big one."

Missouri (8-2) has a big one this year. As a matter of record, the Tigers had Bob Reiter last season and the season before that. But the Tigers never quite came up with the proper scoring punch.

This year they've got it. But the wallop is not all Reiter, a "big man" who stands 6-9. Stalcup has a combination of shotmakers who appear to be blessed with the ability to play as good as they have to in any given situation.

Missouri's situation Kansas (6-3) on the Jayhawk court Tuesday and the way Stalcup's men did it was very convincing. It was the first Jay home loss in 35 starts and the first time a Missouri team had won at Lawrence since 1948.

Stalcup, who stands about 6-11, buckle high to his taller cagers, wouldn't talk about the NCAA regionals, nor the finals. But other coaches were beginning to take notice of Missouri as the only team with real class in the Big Seven, and that's a start toward the regionals, one of which will be played at Manhattan, home of Kansas State College.

Missouri's Reiter, Norm Stewart, Med Park, Redford Reichert, Lio-nel Smith, and others go against Nebraska at Columbia Saturday. It should be a Tiger romp. Nebraska (3-5) finished eighth in the eight-team Big Seven pre-season tournament which Missouri won easily.

In other Big Seven games Saturday, Iowa State (6-3) stays at home to meet Kansas State (6-3), and Colorado (5-4) goes to Norman to engage Oklahoma, a team with but one win in eight starts.

Colorado should give Missouri the best run for the money in the Big Seven.

In Class 2A Phillips' Meek, Smith All-State

DALLAS, Jan. 6—UP—End Don Smith and back Don Meek, the brightest stars on Phillips' Class AA state championship team, pulled the most support for berths on the AA all-state schoolboy football team announced Thursday.

Smith, a 185-pounder who wrecked opposition offenses through 15 straight victories, pooled 108 of a possible 110 points, while Meek, the big cog in the Black-hawks' devastating attack, earned 101 points.

The state championship outfit was the only club to get more than one man on the mythical team picked by the Texas Sports Writers Association. The others were divided among runner-up Killen, Carthage, Nederland, Ballinger, Terrell, Stamford, Colorado City, Freer and Mount Vernon.

Killen's Bobby Turner and Terrell's Rudy Holick at the guard spots on the team pooled 92 points each to share third most popular choice.

Three other widely-publicized backs joined Meek on the team. They were Hollis Gamey of Colorado City (78 points), Joe Holcomb of Freer (70 points) and Don Meredith of Mount Vernon (52 points).

Bob Harrison of Stamford earned the center spot with 67 points; A. A. Crews of Nederland (66) and Gary Ferguson of Ballinger (59) were named to the tackle spots, and the other end was Ray Beson of Carthage (49 points).

Aside from Meredith, who also might wind up this school year with an all-state basketball berth as well, the team is an all-senior outfit. The 6-2 Meredith is a junior.

The second team: ENDS—Larry Ward, Nederland (45 points); J. E. Padgett, Colorado City (39). TACKLES—Stan Vickers, Floydada (47); Jimmy Payne, Waco Tech (41).

Guards—Frank Tyler, LaVega (56); Ernest Davis, Stamford (28). CENTER—Pat Kern, Killen (32). BACKS—Calvin Lee, Comanche (47); Billy Baker, Beeville (41); Bobby (Blackie) Russell, Crane (32); Tiry Wilfong, Waxahachie (31).

Two Perryton players were named on the Honorable-Mention list. They were end Bill Thrasher and back Don Deer.

What's in it for you?

Every Texan profits in a large way from every barrel of crude oil and every cubic foot of natural gas produced in the State.

Directly. Taxes paid by the petroleum industry to support all agencies of the State Government, including schools, old age assistance, and welfare institutions, totaled $170 million in 1954, more than a third of all the taxes collected by the State. And, in addition, the industry pays millions in other taxes to counties, school districts, and municipalities.

Indirect profits are even greater. Industry employees receive and spend about $850 million a year; royalty and lease payments to landowners add up to $500 million. Most of this money passes promptly into trade channels.

As a result, you'll find oil dollars on every balance sheet in Texas and in every bank account, including your own.

... But you can't figure profits in money alone.

The chief profit from the production of oil and natural gas rests in what these fuels do: In the miles you cover with your car... in heat for your home... in the usefulness of articles made from petroleum hydrocarbons... in the power that moves long trains across the continent and turns the wheels of the large industrial plants.

This profit Texans share with all Americans. It is reflected in the American standard of living, which is the world's highest; and it provides a dividend of national security, because a well developed, efficiently operated petroleum industry is one of the major resources in the U. S. arsenal for national defense.

Everyone Wants To Change Calendar

HONOLULU, Jan. 6 - UP-A man who is stumping for a calendar plan of his own said Wednesday the world is in danger of getting a new type of calendar which would eliminate New Year's day and have four Fridays the thirteenth.

Willard E. Edwards, a Hawaii engineer who has been working for adoption of his perpetual calendar for the past 14 years, said United Nations action on a reformed and improved calendar might be launched early in 1955.

"And," Edwards said, "there's a million dollar outfit known as the World Calendar Association which is doing its best to keep its so-called World Calendar constantly in the public and official eye to the exclusion of all other plans. All I want is equal consideration and comparison for my perpetual calendar, and I have written to Dr. Dag Hammarskjold, secretary-general of the UN, asking for assurance that I will get fair treatment."

Both Edwards' calendar and that of his rival want to replace the present Gregorian system of keeping track of the days, months and years, a system which some say has become unwieldy and impractical for modern living.

Edwards said his calendar would do everything that the world calendar would do and still keep New Year's day as well as eliminate all "Black Fridays."

If only a little lemon juice is needed, make a cut in the end of the fruit and squeeze out the amount desired. This way, the rest will keep much better.

In 1790, the present state of Illinois was divided into only two counties - St. Clair, which included the western side of the state, and Knox, the eastern half.

JOHNSON
★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Uncovers Hollywood: Tough guy Humphrey Bogart is laughing — not smiling — over printed reports that wife Lauren Bacall's night clubbing without him indicates a marriage bust-up on the horizon. Sez he:

"The gal who wrote that has been feuding with Betty for years. When I work I stay home at night. Sure, Betty steps out — with friends. So what?"

Press agents at Fox watched Marilyn Monroe wiggle across a studio street and thought up a new title for her: they were told quickly to forget: "America's SEAT-heart!"

There's no chance of Pilar Paletta resuming her movie career now that she's Mrs. John Wayne. She's mixed film offers with: "I'm sorry — I'm a housewife."

Ava Gardner gives the eyebrow-lifting lowdown on her recent South American headlines in the January issue of Motion Picture Magazine. She blames a combination of "feeling against Americans, plus the fact that I'm a famous American name and a perfect target."

Winds up Ava about flying down to Rio: "It was just like the days of Hitler."

A MOVIE ABOUT making a movie is the hush-hush plot of Lucille Ball and Dezi Arnaz's next film for MGM. They'll produce it themselves at their telefilm studio. . .Ego deflation note: The new 1955 automobiles around the movie lots are attracting more attention than the stars in them.

Bette Davis, rarin' to go now that she's recovered from the osteomyelitis that halted her career, did her first acting in over a year in a musical charity show being staged for one night in Portland, Me.

George Stevens was anxious to sign Bette for the role of Luz in "Giant," but she turned it down. Shelley Winters, I hear, has more or less agreed to play Vashti in the film.

Prediction: Paramount's "The Country Girl" should win Oscar bids for its three stars—Grace Kelly, Bing Crosby and Bill Holden. Grace and Judy Garland will race to the wire in the annual best debut.

Sign outside the Holiday House at Malibu:

"Grog without smog."

DEBBIE REYNOLDS continues to tell pals she may quit acting after she becomes Mrs. Eddie Fisher. . .The way things stand now it will be a move for separate maintenance—not divorce—when Ray Anthony's wife, Dee, goes into a nuptial Ray's scenes in "Daddy Long Legs," by the way, have Fox big gears excited about his potential as a romantic leading man.

Sir Laurence Olivier's first wife, Jill Esmond, is resuming her acting career in Fox's "A Man Called Peter." Their son, Tarquin, just joined the British navy.

Is Betty Hutton serious about that retirement? Pal Benay Ventura is said to have asked her, "Suppose Rodgers & Hammerstein offered you a big musical, what then?" Betty's said to have replied:

"Then I'd grab it, of course." She wasn't talking that way when I quizzed her in Vegas a month ago.

Gregory Peck is said to have made up his mind about Veronique Passanie. She'll be the second Mrs. Peck.

Marissa Pavan is doing most of the translating for Anna Magnani during the filming of "The Rose Tattoo." Says Marissa, who plays Anna's daughter:

"She can't hold an English conversation with much confidence, but you should hear her read those lines. It's an education. I learn something every minute."

LINDA DARNELL, all primed to make a flicker in Rome, is now eager for another good role in a Hollywood movie.

Close-Ups and Longshots: The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will fight a plan to remake "The Birth of a Nation."

Hollywood's filming "Top of the World," a saga about an Army Air Force mission to the Arctic Circle.

While Dale Robertson, Frank Lovejoy and other actors rehearse their lines, I talk to an officer who is serving as technical adviser.

"This Dale Robertson," says the Pentagon representative, "he's a big star, isn't he?" When I ask why he asks, the officer shrugs: "Well, you see, I just never go to the movies."

To keep the whites of poached eggs fluffy instead of flat, add a tablespoon of vinegar to the water in which they are to be cooked.
