Murder Charge Is Filed In Pampa Stab Slaying

Dagger Victim Is Oran J. Payne, 39

By BILL KERR Pampa News Staff Writer

Oran J. Payne, 39-year-old laundry manager, was stabbed to death early this morning in the apartment of Mrs. Juanita Ellen Williams, 622 N. Banks. Fred C. Williams, estranged husband of Mrs. Williams, has been charged with murder.

Police and sheriff's department officials this morning pieced together these details: Mrs. Mable Winter, night clerk at the Pampa Hotel, where Williams lived, said she heard Williams call for a taxicab at about 2:35 a. m.

She said he later left the hotel in his own automobile. The vehicle was found at the scene of the stabbing.

Forced Entry

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Williams apparently arrived at the apartment about 2:40 a. m. He broke a pane of glass in the front door and took off the night latch. Mrs. Williams didn't hear him enter, she told the sheriff.

Then about 3:10 a. m. Williams telephoned the police department. "Send out a police car," he said. "I've killed a man."

Chief Jim Comer arrived at the scene at 3:20 and Sheriff Jordan soon after.

Two other people were in the apartment at the time of the stabbing, according to officers. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pulose, who occupied the back bedroom of the apartment.

Lived Here Five Years Williams, who was charged in Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry's court this morning, had lived in Pampa about five years. He formerly ran a bar on Alcock, but, according to police, was apparently unemployed at the time of the killing.

Williams signed a statement this morning in the office of District Attorney Bill Waters admitting the stabbing of Payne. Waters said there would be a special meeting of the grand jury within the next few days to consider the case.

Mrs. Williams, who had previously filed for divorce from her husband, operated the bar at the Pampa Hotel.

Payne was divorced from his wife. He had been a Pampa resident for about 15 years. He was manager of Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners.

Williams told a Pampa News reporter this morning that Payne had been a good friend of his for a long time. "I'm sorry about the whole thing," he said.

Stabbed Three Times "If you walk in and find a man in bed with your wife, what would you do?" he asked.

Payne was stabbed three times in the lower neck and another small wound was inflicted in the abdomen.

He was stabbed with a 10-inch dagger. It was a German parade piece which Williams had brought back from Germany.

The deep wounds inflicted in the lower part of the neck penetrated the lungs and were judged the cause of death.

Inquest was held by Justice of the Peace Henry and this morning bond of $5,000 was set for Williams.

He said he was arranging with friends in Hereford, his previous home, to make bond for him.

Services Pending Funeral services for Payne are pending at Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

He is survived by a son, Douglas Kent, a daughter, Penny, both of Pampa; two brothers, E. D. of Canadian and W. R. of Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Ione Green of San Fernando, Calif. and Mrs. Gladys Robinson of Pampa.

ORAN J. PAYNE ... murder victim

'53 Last Murder Case Here

It was more than two years ago the last murder was committed in Pampa.

The date was Jan. 14, 1953, and the guilty party was Bennett Brown, 34, of 537 W. Elm, who admitted killing his wife, Mrs. Leona Brown, 29, of Midland, who had been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ananias Washington, 429 W. Harlem, where the crime occurred.

At the same time, he injured Wanda Pearl Brown, their five-year-old daughter, and Georgia Mae White, Mrs. Brown's cousin. He fired four shots in all. Also in the Washington home at the time was James "Sonny" Boy Wilson, who lived next door.

Brown told investigating officers he wanted to kill the Washingtons and Wilson "so bad I could taste it." He had got the murder gun—a .32-caliber Mauser automatic—from Eddie Williams, Houston, with whom he had had a hassle 15 minutes before the crime was committed. Williams had taken the gun from a Mead bread truck.

Actually, there was very little strife when Brown took the gun from Williams. Brown told investigating officers that Williams had tried to sell him the gun for $4. But Brown just grabbed the gun, slapped it into Williams' chest and said, "Give me a cigarette."

Brown is now in the state penitentiary, sentenced to from five to 12 years. Williams got a three-year sentence on a charge of "theft over $50."

Eisenhower Denounces Proposed Tax Slash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (UP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday denounced proposed Democratic $20-a-person income tax cut as the height of fiscal irresponsibility.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (UP)—House Republicans looked hopefully to President Eisenhower Wednesday to take them off the hook on a Democratic proposal to cut everybody's taxes.

They expected the President to sound off about the proposal at his news conference. The word was he would take a "mighty strong stand" against it, probably labeling the plan as Republican congressmen have done already an irresponsible political trick.

The Republican party line was that it's too early for a tax cut with the budget still out of balance and world conditions unsettled.

Democratic leaders meantime pushed confidently ahead with their plan to tie the $20-per-person tax cut, effective next Jan. 1, to an administration bill to continue corporation and excise (sales) taxes now due to be reduced on April 1.

They pointed out this would mean a saving of $100 per family of five, and said the money would be made available where it would do the economy the most good in the everyday channels of trade.

After ramming the proposal through the Ways and Means committee Tuesday, 16 to 9, with the help of one Republican vote, they mustered their strength Wednesday for an assault on the rules committee, which has the final say-so on what legislation comes up on the House floor.

The Democratic leadership forecast in advance that the rules group would give the bill a green light, despite indications the measure faced at least a rough going over by, among others, Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), who said flatly he did not like the tax cut.

Republican nose-counters conceded privately that as of Wednesday they were licked in their drive to knock the tax cut out of the bill once it gets to the floor. They claimed a hope but it was a weak one that with full support from the President they still might win.

CIVIL DEFENSE Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said the government should launch a program of constructing superhighways immediately so evacuation of cities can be speeded up in event of atomic attack.

Another civil defense proposal—creation of a high-level government commission to plan ways of dispersing industrial targets was endorsed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Probers Believe Bentley

Matusow Charges Don't Sway Solons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (UP)—Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said Wednesday Senate investigators still believe ex-Communist Elizabeth Bentley, even though confessed liar Harvey Matusow says she's a liar, too.

Eastland told newsmen his Senate Internal Security subcommittee probably would subpoena Miss Bentley, a key witness in Communist hunt since 1949, because Matusow charged that she gave false testimony.

The subcommittee put the Matusow hearing into temporary eclipse Wednesday. It scheduled only a closed session to question one of Matusow's publishers, Albert E. Kahn, and Herb Tank, the man Eastland calls Matusow's body guard.

Matusow had a date in federal court in New York Wednesday. The subcommittee wants him back later, though it set no day.

Eastland said his own faith in Miss Bentley's testimony about a Red spy ring in government in the 1930s was unshaken by Matusow's story that she weepingly told him she was broke and "had to keep finding things to testify about."

Eastland said her testimony had been tested and never found false. "We believe what she says, but I believe she should be called (to testify)," he told newsmen. "I think she told the truth. She has nothing to explain, but I want her to testify."

On the other hand, Eastland said he had no plans to invite Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to answer Matusow's charges against him.

Matusow said McCarthy sided him on two Democratic Senate candidates in the 1952 campaign and sent him out to tell lies about them based on information furnished by Don Surine, a McCarthy aide.

He was out there doing the same thing," said Matusow. "He knew what I was doing and he knew I was misrepresenting the facts."

McCarthy denied to newsmen that he asked Matusow to campaign in Washington state and Montana.

"I wouldn't answer a man who confesses he is a liar," McCarthy said. "I've got to admit, though, that he appeared to have broken with the Communist party at the time I knew him."

Both Matusow's Democratic targets in 1952 were elected. They are Sens. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.).

Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), summing up two days of Matusow's testimony, told the witness, "Matters that could be checked by the FBI or subcommittee investigators, you say are still true... all you finally denied was conversations, which the FBI is unable to check on without going to the people who were implicated with you."

Nationalists Claim Heavy Red Strikes

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 23 (UP)—The Nationalist air force announced it had carried out heavy bombing attacks against Communist troops and invasion junk fleets in the Taishan Islands for the sixth straight day Wednesday.

The air force didn't make immediate claims of damage to Communist vessels in its latest raids but reported hitting two "sizable" ships in pre-dawn raids and possibly sinking one of them.

The reported new Nationalist assaults followed closely what news papers here were calling "sweeping victories" over a 200-ship Red Chinese convoy in the Taishan area Tuesday.

The Taishans are 120 miles north of Formosa and recently have been the scene of a Communist buildup, apparently for action against either Nationalist-held Nanchi or Matsui islands.

(Washington sources said the Nationalists may have to evacuate Nanchi Islands because of the Communist pressure but believed Matsui and Quemoy, the two main offshore island bases, were not immediately menaced.)

The air force said Wednesday's 264,829 votes to Kennedy's 264,775. Two other Democratic independents, Benjamin Adamowski and Clarence Bales, got 112,072 and 4,329 votes respectively.

Delley and his well-oiled Democratic organization will face a fiery young ex-Democrat, Robert E. Merriam, in the April 5 showdown battle for the mayor's chair of the nation's second largest city.

Merriam, a 36-year-old alderman who bolted the Democratic party, won the Republican nomination in Reds. She "attempted to encourage a mass desertion in the ROK army" while working as an agent in a kisaeng house (the equivalent of a Japanese geisha house), police said Tuesday.

They said the 31-year-old woman was trained in North Korea and sent here late last year by the ROK. She "attempted to encourage a mass desertion in the ROK army" while working as an agent in a kisaeng house (the equivalent of a Japanese geisha house), police said.

Strategists Predict Pay Raise Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (UP)—Democratic strategists predicted Wednesday that the Senate would vote members of congress a 50 per cent pay raise by nightfall.

The Senate bill would hike congressional salaries from $15,000 a year to $22,500, a $7,500 increase. This is $2,500 less than the $10,000 raise the House voted for last week.

Democratic leaders predicted passage of the bill by a wide margin with about 60 of the 96 senators voting for it.

A number of attempts to amend the measure were planned, however, and opponents gained some strength as the showdown approached. Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), a leading Senate economy advocate, announced opposition to the bill.

But another opponent, Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.), relented somewhat. Bush, who earlier offered an amendment to kill the congressional pay raise altogether, said he was ready to compromise.

He said he would go along with a $1,500 increase or even a $2,500 hike.

Other developments: MATUSOW Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee said he believes testimony given to congressional groups by ex-Communist Elizabeth Bentley. But he said he wants Miss Bentley to appear before his group to answer charges by confessed, ex-Communist liar Harvey Matusow that Miss Bentley has also lied as a key witness in Communist hunt since 1949.

HIGHWAYS President Eisenhower left it up to congress to find way to finance his multi-billion dollar highway program. He indicated in his message to congress Tuesday that he favored financing a huge system of interstate roads with 30-year federal bonds, and a Senate bill to provide bond financing was introduced immediately. But the President apparently backed down from his original stronger endorsement of this financing plan after determined Democratic opposition developed.

CIVIL DEFENSE Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said the government should launch a program of constructing superhighways immediately so evacuation of cities can be speeded up in event of atomic attack.

Another civil defense proposal—creation of a high-level government commission to plan ways of dispersing industrial targets was endorsed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Bad Weather Stalls A-Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 23 (UP)—Bad weather returned to the atomic proving area Wednesday and postponed once again the firing of a big atomic blast.

The Atomic Energy Commission scheduled a weather evaluation test to determine if the "grand daddy" explosion of the 1955 testing series can be fired Thursday.

But advance forecasts indicated it was unlikely the shot, estimated as the equivalent of 50,000 tons of TNT, would go before Friday or Saturday.

Scientists touched off a medium-sized pre-dawn detonation Tuesday, the second of the 10-day-old series.

British Taking U.S. Side In China Issue

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 23 (UP)—Repeated belligerent statements by Communist China and its aggressive pushing "appear" to be swinging Britain toward the American viewpoint on Formosa, informed sources said Wednesday.

The sources made the statement following private conferences on Formosa between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden on opening day of the historic Southeast Asia treaty nations conference.

Dulles was reported to have told a closed session of the conference Wednesday that "American military forces in this part of the world are adequate to cope with any foreseeable situation."

Dulles, Eden Confer Dulles and Eden took time out from the conference to study the increasingly critical situation created by continued Communist threats toward Nationalist-held Formosa, threats that could plunge Red China and the United States into war.

Reliable sources said Dulles asked for clarification of Britain's position regarding Formosa, especially the off-shore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM Written for NEA Service Lent is a season that is distinctive of the Christian year. The followers of Jesus took over some of the sacred seasons of the parent religion, Judaism. They set aside one day in seven for worship, but it was a different day, the first, not the seventh, and it commemorated a different thing, the Resurrection of Christ rather than God's work in creation.

Passover celebrated the deliverance of Israel from Egypt. Because Jesus' crucifixion and resurrection took place at Passover, that season acquired a new significance for Christians.

Paul writes: "Christ our paschal lamb, has been sacrificed" (I Corinthians 5: 7, RSV).

Pentecost, long a harvest festival, acquired fresh meaning for the Christian church as the day on which the Spirit was given. The liturgical year of Judaism, however, had nothing corresponding to Lent.

Yet penitence, the mood of Lent, is the theme of many Old Testament passages. At a time when many thought that God could be pleased only with animals slain upon the altar, the author of Psalm 51: 17 (RSV) knew that "The sacrifice acceptable to God is a broken spirit."

Ashes were a symbol of grief and penitence. Job repents "in dust and ashes" (Job 42: 6, RSV). Tamar, in distress "put ashes on her head" (II Samuel 13: 19, RSV). Ashes suggest worthlessness and insignificance, and fitly represent man's mood as he contemplates the holiness of God. The Psalmist's prayer is the spirit of Lent: "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and put a new and right spirit within me." (Psalm 51: 10, RSV).

Farmers Oppose Recent Cut In Grain Sorghum Prices

AMARILLO, Tex., Feb. 23—UP—More than 1,500 Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas farmers went on record Wednesday as opposing a recent cut in grain sorghum price supports.

The farmers said in their resolution they considered the cut "gross discrimination against grain sorghum and other non-basic grains to support same at 70 per cent of parity while other competitive basic crops will be supported at a much higher price representing a fair return."

Berger defended the USDA's action and said the cut had been made for three reasons: (1) to prevent producers from producing for a government stockpile alone; (2) to help move grain sorghum into world markets; and, (3) to get grain sorghum into a relationship such as that of corn.

The farmers charged the cut would reduce the producer to a "dead duck." They adopted a resolution and appointed a tentative executive committee of seven men to take whatever action is necessary to raise supports and "any action necessary to assure grain sorghum growers in the future a fair return comparable to competitors."

The event is the 12th annual in-state banquet of the association. Captains are in charge of invitations for their workers and reservations are to be made with Mrs. Curry by Friday.

There will be special guests, the names of whom will be announced later. The dinner will officially start off the drive for new members. Membership renewals are to be made this week, according to Mrs. Raymond Harrah Sr., association president.

Zhukov Calls Armed Forces To Readiness

MOSCOW, Feb. 23—UP—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, new Soviet defense minister, called on his armed forces Wednesday to stand in "constant readiness for a devastating rebuff to any aggressor."

Zhukov issued an order of the day to the Soviet armed services on the 37th anniversary of the formation of the army and navy.

Tuesday night Zhukov told a Russian television audience that the USSR is following a peaceful policy but it "has not raised any favorable echoes on the part of the capitalist countries."

On his right on the platform were Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and then Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party secretary, and other officials. Bulganin wore his marshal's uniform.

Zhukov, other military leaders and top newspaper editors stressed the theme of Soviet preparedness to meet any aggression.

References to Communist China in army day editorials and speeches were in general terms similar to those in use before the current Formosa crisis.

In his order of the day Zhukov said: "This glorious anniversary is being celebrated under conditions of a successful struggle for the fulfillment and overfulfillment of the fifth five-year plan, for the further mighty development of heavy industry the basis for raising the level of the national economy, the strengthening of the might of the Soviet state and the growth of the well-being of our people."

Veteran Land Indictments To Be Made

CURRO, Tex., Feb. 23—UP—A "large number" of indictments were expected to be returned Wednesday as Attorney General John Ben Shepperd and the DeWitt county grand jury met in the investigation of the multi-million dollar veterans land program.

County Attorney Wiley Cheatham who started the investigation here that has erupted in a state-wide veterans land scandal, said "this is only the beginning. There probably will be a great many more indictments after today."

The grand jury and Cheatham, together with District Attorney Wayne Hartman, have been investigating the land scandals in this area almost continuously since Jan. 3.

A grand jury spokesman said the jury had been trying to develop cases here, as well as those tied in with other counties. The spokesman said it had developed information that probably would help grand juries of other counties return similar indictments as those expected Wednesday.

Saltonstall said he has "great confidence in the President's opinion" on military matters but wants to hear from military leaders before committing himself on the Army manpower cut.

WIRE-TAP Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) of the Senate Commerce committee said he is ready to consider any new legislation the Federal Communications Commission might have for curtailing wire-tapping. He said he considers the type of wire-tapping violations uncovered in New York last week as "dirty business."

AGRICULTURE Secret testimony made public Tuesday night showed that farm bloc congressmen sharply criticized Agriculture Department plans to cut funds for school lunches, soil conservation and food inspections. The criticisms were made at hearings on the department's budget by a House Appropriations subcommittee Jan. 31.

whose conflicting testimony has brought Red demands for a reversal of several key government Communist convictions? Unwittingly perhaps, he sums it up best in his forthcoming book "False Witness," when he writes "The Reds didn't cheer on the week I was born."

That was Oct. 2, 1926. There has been little cheering since for this enigmatic character. Now he claims he wants to undo the wrong he has done and then sever all political connections. He wants to be a writer, an artist, an actor far removed from politics.

Claims To Be Writer As a writer, he contends he is a good one and denies charges that his forthcoming book was "ghosted."

His art work to date consists mostly of a painting in oils of a pet dog done when he was 12 years old, and a scrapbook of pictures of Harvey Matusow, detailing quite egotistically, his prowess as an actor.

It is in this field that he boasts he excels, which suggests that the reformation of Harvey Matusow might be only an act. But he denies it.

There seems to be nothing in Matusow's boyhood that might have contributed to his career as liar and informer.

He was born of hard working immigrant parents who came here from Russia early in life. When he was born they were comfortably established in an apartment in what then was considered one of the better sections of the Bronx. They continue to live there today.

Matusow went to public schools and in the first nine grades established himself as a better-than-average student.

Family Very Close Matusow described his family as one that was "closely knit" his father, mother, brother Daniel, four years his senior, and himself.

Matusow was a Boy Scout, and a member of the Police Athletic League (PAL). His scholastic achievements hit a stumbling block after he entered William Howard Taft high school in the Bronx in 1941. He failed a few courses.

He received his high school diploma by finishing his senior year while in the Army. His final average was 85 which his high school principal said would have put him about 385th in a graduating class of 400.

Matusow enlisted in the army in 1943 and was called to active duty in 1944. His most vivid recollection of Army life was finding the body of his brother, Danny, who had been shot down while on a bomber mission over Germany. He accompanied the body to this country for burial.

After his release from the Army in August, 1946, he said he considered taking up press photography. But he dropped the idea. "I didn't have the stick-to-itiveness," he said. "All through life I seemed to lose interest after I got started in something," he said. "It was a

Amarillo Post Sought By Negro

AMARILLO, Feb. 23—UP—Dr. J. O. Wyatt, a physician, has become the first Negro to run for an elective office in Amarillo by announcing he is a candidate for the school board.

Wyatt said Tuesday in announcing his candidacy he was entering the race at the request of several civic organizations who believe with him that decisions to be faced by the school board in regard to implementing the Supreme Court ruling on segregation required representation on the board of both races.

The candidate has lived in Amarillo for 16 years, where he operates Wyatt Memorial hospital clinic. Wyatt is a past director of the Amarillo Community Chest, a director of the Negro chamber of commerce and member of several civic organizations.

Particularly, the police have been on duty at elementary schools when school is receiving or letting out youngsters across the streets, Nuckols said. "It's 100 per cent better now at the junior high school and high school," he commented.

Other hazards include jay-walking and pedestrians stepping off the curb before the light has changed. In Houston, it was pointed out, police man a car with a loud-speaker to guard against just that.

Nuckols said his committee plans to work with the Parent-Teacher groups, the scouts, women's clubs and schools, in addition to the press and radio to combat hazards to home, schools and pedestrians. Even television is being considered.

Boys Club To Get $100,000

DEL MAR, Calif., Feb. 23—UP—The Boys' Club of San Diego, a charitable organization set up by Texas millionaire Sid Richardson and Clint Murchison as legal owner of the Del Mar Turf Club, will receive $100,000 for its operations this year, it was announced Wednesday.

The track said the money was advanced personally by Richardson and Murchison, who bought Del Mar last year. A $25,000 payment will be made immediately, a second of the same amount about Aug. 15 and the remaining $50,000 Jan. 1, 1956, the track said.

Critics charged last year that under the deal the first year profits from the track would go towards repaying the Texans' investment instead of going directly to the charity, as promised.

Peeping Tom Shooter Held

ALICE, Tex., Feb. 23—UP—A 51-year-old Alice woman was being held in $2,500 bond Wednesday charged with the fatal shooting of a man she said was peeping in the window of her daughter's home.

Mrs. Carrie Turner Lee was charged with shooting Simon Suarez of Alice, who died almost instantly outside the home of Mrs. Lee's daughter, Mrs. Blanche Smith.

Justice of the Peace Brown Fuller ordered a $2,500 bond for jury action under $2,500 bond following a preliminary hearing Tuesday.

Mrs. Smith was away for the evening when the shooting occurred and had left her child in the care of a baby-sitter, Mrs. Martha Blair. Mrs. Blair said that Suarez was her "boyfriend" and that he had dropped by the Smith house to bring her a package of cigarettes.

Mrs. Lee said that she, her husband and Mrs. Smith drove up to the Smith house and saw Suarez peeping into the window. She said that they approached him and told him to put up his hands and when he failed to do so, Mrs. Lee said she fired a rifle that her husband handed her.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

FOR WHAT SEEMS LIKE CENTURIES, women have been teased endlessly by men about shopping — especially for hats. Many of us have seen men equally worthy of ribbing, but have just kept quiet. Finally a woman has been brave — or daring — enough to make a survey into men's shopping extravagances, despite the censure that is sure to be heaped upon her head. Of course, I'm really kidding, but whether you men like it or not, here are the facts, compiled by Elizabeth Toomey of the United Press.

Men can go on shopping sprees. "We do not buy these by the loo, and some of the items they do, but by the piece," he said, can purchase for their personal displaying one of the $36 handkerchiefs would put any mink-chiefs. "They are made in France mended women shopper to shame, from hand spun cotton."

There is a $36 men's handkerchief, for instance. The $8.50 little socks are hand-knitted, for instance. It is neither made abroad too. Then there are gold plated nor inscribed with a other wardrobe items which customers to map — just a plain white cotton handkerchief to be folded Iran and Marlon Brando order neatly in the breast pocket, made up by Knize's own crafts-

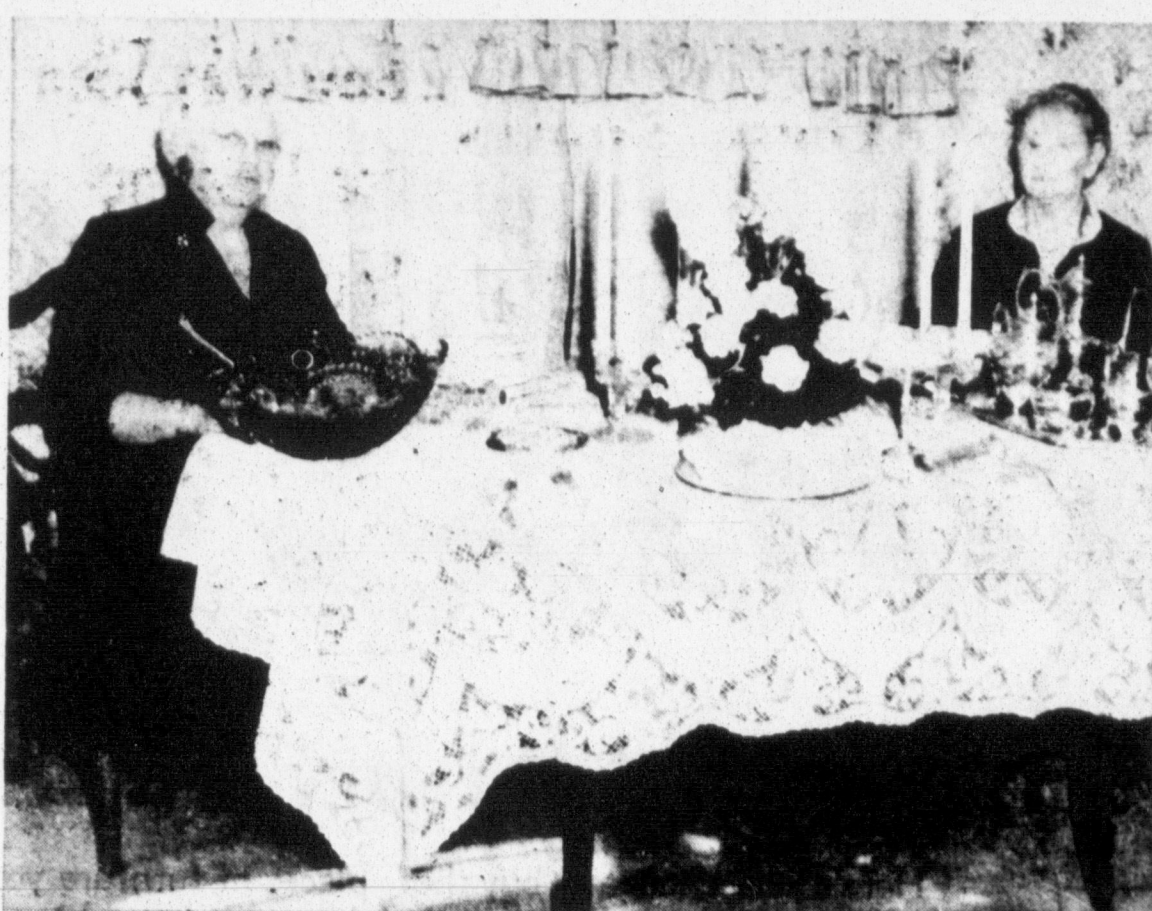

And how about a pair of men's men. ribbed little socks for $8.50? Not Brando and the Iranian ruler many women, even the most and any other customers who can bud-free bride, would spend afford it choose suits that cost more than $2 for a pair of stock- from $290 up. That's just for the trousers and jacket. If a fellow wants a vest that's $20 extra.

Just to check on how the other half spends, we stopped by a shop in New York that prides itself on being the most expensive men's tailoring establishment here, or anywhere.

"Quality is a word that has little meaning today," Peter Knize, 29, the owner of the exclusive tailoring company, said as he escorted this visitor around his two-story shop.

"But when we say quality, we mean quality." That's when he got to the handkerchief counter.

A Demonstration On Quick Breads Given Bell Group

Bell Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Conner O'Neal in White Deer, with Mrs. D. W. Swain, vice-president, in charge.

Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent, gave a demonstration on quick breads. For greater success, she recommended not handling the dough very much, not to overheat the dough, to use accurate measurements and tested recipes. The quick breads are best served hot, and can be served with butter or jellies. A crack on the top means a good loaf, she advised.

Pampa Council Of Church Women Plans Observance Of World Day Of Prayer

The Pampa Council of Church Women will hold World Day of Prayer services Friday at 9:30 a.m. in the Church of the Brethren and at 7 a.m. in the First Methodist Church for working women.

The regular annual observance began in 1887 when Presbyterian women in the United States designated a day for prayer for home missions. The response was so great that a day was set apart annually. In the early nineties, Baptist women appointed a day for united prayer for foreign missions.

For many years home and foreign mission groups observed days of prayer separately, but in 1919 they came together. In 1920 the women of Canada joined them. The first Friday in Lent was chosen as the day of prayer, for missions, home and foreign. Missionaries spread the idea of a day of prayer and at the request of many persons in other lands, it became a world day of prayer in 1927.

The World Day of Prayer was observed in 1954 in more than 19,000 communities in the United States and in 119 countries around the world.

Services begin on the Tonga Islands, where Queen Salote leads devout subjects in prayer, and continue throughout the day, closing with the observance on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

The offering is divided between the Division of Foreign Missions and the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches.

An allocations committee, composed of representatives of these two divisions and of the United Church Women, appropriation the offering to the traditional World Day of Prayer projects and, if possible, to some emergency needs.

The division of foreign missions includes:

1. Education of Christian Women leaders in interdenominational Christian colleges in the Orient and in Africa.
2. Christian literature for women and children around the world.
3. Service by the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students to approximately 25,000 students in the United States.
4. Christian Home and Family Life Program carried on around the world by the International Missionary Council.
5. The following projects if the offering is sufficient:
  - (a) American McAll Association, Nurse Evangelists, France.
  - (b) Education of Christian Women, Near East.
  - (c) Leadership Training Program, among women in Indonesia.
  - (d) Ludhiana Christian Medical College, Ludhiana, India.
  - (e) Rehabilitation of Women, German.

If it were not for World Day of Prayer offerings, the three projects listed below could not be continued. From 60 to 60 per cent of their respective budgets come from church women.

(1) Religious activities for 5,000 Protestant Indian students in ten government boarding schools.

(2) Training of native Indian Christian leaders (Cook Christian Training School, Phoenix, Ariz.)

(3) Assisting council churches and church women to serve Indian newcomers in industrial centers. During 1954, direct aid was given for Indian neighborhood centers in Rapid City, S. D., Phoenix, Ariz. (in transition), and Minneapolis, Minn. Other communities receive guidance.

Low-income farming communities:

- (1) In-service training for pastors.
- (2) Training conferences for lay men and women.
- (3) Vacation church schools in isolated areas.
- (4) Experimental farm in Puerto Rico.

Agricultural migrants:

- (1) Day-care centers for children whose mothers work in the fields.
- (2) Make-up schools for migrant children who have no chance for regular education.
- (3) Classes for young adults in homemaking and vocational training.
- (4) For all ages, literacy, education, constructive recreation, religious training.
- (5) Constructive legislation.

Other projects hoped to be started include a guidance program for Indian young people moving into white communities, a program of literacy and adult education for parents of migrant children, and a chaplaincy service in the government Indian hospital in Alaska.

CAA Probes NM Disaster

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Feb. 22—UP—The Civil Aeronautics Board started its investigation Wednesday into the crash of a Trans-World airliner that slammed into the Sandia Mountains near here Saturday, killing 13 passengers and its three-member crew.

Phil Goldstein, CAB investigator from California, and TWA General Operations Manager, Frank Busch of Kansas City were due here Wednesday to reconstruct the crash.

They planned to check the instruments in the belief the plane's pilot, Capt. I. R. Spong, flying blind through heavy snow clouds could have read his instruments backwards.

Rescuers who braved the treacherous 600-foot Needle Peak to retrieve the remains of the victims said there was nothing left of the instruments except a mass of tangled wires.

Tiny fragments of the wreckage were strewn about a five-mile area. The only portion still intact was the badly-scorched tail assembly.

Jesse Eddy, in charge of the Civil Aeronautics Authority here, doubted if the exact cause of the crash will be determined. The CAB will hold hearings next month.

Burch said his group may send a plane to fly the route the liner would have taken had Spong misread his instruments.

Meanwhile, state police completed the grim task of removing the victims from the desolate, snow-shrouded peak. There were few "actual" bodies and collecting the remains was like a jigsaw puzzle of fitting the remains together.

Japan Prime Red Target In Far East

By CHARLES M. MOCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The Red threat in Formosa and Southeast Asia is grabbing the headlines. But Japan remains the No. 1 Communist target in the Far East.

The Formosa situation certainly is serious enough, involving as it does the danger that the United States might be dragged into a war with Communist China.

The serious Communist threat to Indo-China, Thailand and Burma will be the chief topic for discussion at the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Conference which opened Wednesday in Bangkok.

But from the long range viewpoint, Japan is the great prize in the struggle between West and East in the Far East.

Danger is Remote

The danger that the Communists might take over in Japan has become too remote to warrant any anxiety.

There was a time when that threat was not remote, and there is no doubt that Russia's action in fomenting the Korean War was due to its desire to make Korea a stepping stone to Japan.

It is Japanese friendship and cooperation which is the prize now, however—the friendship and cooperation of nearly 90 million industrious and ambitious people.

Japan took a frightful beating in World War II. But it has made a remarkable comeback.

At present Japan is aligned closely with the United States and the western allies. It is an Asian country, however. Its future lies in Asia. Soviet Russia and Red China, the two great Communist powers, are its immediate neighbors.

Japanese Premier Ichiro Hatoyama made it plain as soon as he took office Dec. 9 that he desired closer trade and diplomatic relations with both Russia and Red China.

Hatoyama promised to maintain close ties with the United States. But any cooperation with the two Communist countries could be conducted only at the expense of relations with the United States.

Russia Attempts Weaning

Russia has taken advantage of Hatoyama's attitude to start an attempt to wean Japan away from United States influence.

Russia refused to join in the peace treaty which the United States and 47 other countries signed with Japan in 1951. Now, however, Russia has offered to end the state of war between it and Japan. Negotiations are to start within a few weeks. If they succeed, Russia may agree to let Japan join the United Nations, and it may offer as bait the little Shikotan and Habomai Islands, off the northeast coast of Japan, which it has held since the end of the war.

Japan is to hold a general parliamentary election on Sunday. It is forecast that Hatoyama's Japan Democratic party will win a plurality and that he will remain in office. If he does, Japanese-Russian negotiations may be speeded up.

Nugent May Wind Up His Defense Soon

PORT BILL, Okla., Feb. 23—UP Defense attorneys for Maj. Ambrose Nugent, charged with nine counts of collaborating with the enemy while a prisoner, hoped Wednesday to complete their court martial testimony this week.

Nugent, 45, a Merrill Wisc., career officer, was expected to testify later this week as the final defense witness. The court martial, now in its fifth week, was in recess Tuesday for George Washington's birthday.

A handwriting expert, Charles E. Ellis of San Antonio, told the court martial board shortly before it recessed Monday that Nugent's signature was photographically reproduced on two incriminating documents and a third, handwritten document was an outright forgery.

Ellis, a retired colonel with 20 years in the secret service, suggested the handwritten document may have been prepared by British trooper Ronald Cocks, a card-carrying Communist imprisoned with Nugent.

A Negro combat infantry officer, Maj. Clifford Allen of Fort MacArthur, Calif., said Monday that a North Korean propaganda officer threatened to emasculate him if he didn't broadcast a surrender appeal to American Negro troops.

He said he was continually harangued by the North Korean Communists about racial problems.

"On to State!" of course has been the cry all through this just about the most exciting basketball for any team ever, but now it has almost become a definite reality.

If all goes well, Friday night game should cinch it — and aren't we all proud of that hustlin' team? F. S. and thanks to Coach McNeely for winning that toss.

And speaking of basketball, the best of congratulations are in order for senior Marcheta Hall, who has been chosen Basketball Queen of 1955, and for her attendants, Pat Reynolds senior, and Anita Wedgeworth, junior.

Toay was the day at PHS that is thought by many to be the most exciting, nerve sending and worrisome of the whole year. Juniors and sophomores elected their next year's Student Body President.

Candidates who were nominated Friday were Sheila Chisolm, Michael Price, Lee Ledrick, Ted Swindle, Melvin Romine, and Don Babcock.

Little senior Kenneth Van Sickle is becoming mighty popular. Yesterday in Student Council he was nominated for Junior Rotarian, an honor which goes to a senior boy each month, Junior Kiwanian, an honor which goes to a junior boy each month, and even Lions' Club Sweetheart, honor for a senior girl each month. (!!!)

And while on the subject of these honors, the ones for March will be: Junior Rotarian — D. I. Wilkinson, Junior Kiwanian — Mike Price, Lions' Club Sweetheart — this columnist.

New Way Seen For Treating Leukemia

TORONTO, Feb. 23—UP—A new treatment for leukemia has been uncovered by a research team at St. Michael's hospital and a spokesman said it might be the first break in the medical world's effort to cure the fatal blood disease.

But, he warned, it might lead nowhere.

Dr. Charles Bardawill, director of the project, said the research was being handicapped by a lack of growth-hormone, a rare substance extracted from the pituitary glands of hogs, sheep and horses.

The new avenue of attack uses the growth-hormone to build up the phosphate content of leukemia cells, which has been found to be much lower than that of normal blood cells.

Until now, most research in leukemia has been aimed at destroying the wild leukemia cells which prey on normal cells. Under the new St. Michael's approach, the cancer cells are built up with phosphate so they will degenerate normally.

A Cappella Choir members are getting all excited about the prospects of either a spring tour or concerts in neighboring towns. Civic clubs are in line and also a date has been set for a performance at Phillips High in April.

Houston Death Ruled Suicide

LEAGUE CITY, Tex., Feb. 23—UP—A verdict of suicide was returned Tuesday in the death of a Houston man whose body was found in his automobile in Galveston County Park at League City.

A cryptic note scrawled on the back of a dirty envelope was found near the body of George Edward Henderson, 48, Houston. Police said he asphyxiated himself by running a hose from the exhaust through one window of his parked car. The hose was found by three League City boys at play.

The note, found by investigating officers, read:

"I have $250 in my pocket and the title to my other car. You can sell the car to pay for the burial expenses but you don't even have to bury me, just plant me. Sorry, son, I'm just tired."

McMurry Choir To Sing Here

The McMurry College Chanters, mixed choral group, will present a concert in the Sanctuary of the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Chanters, under the direction of Dr. Richard C. von Ende, will sing for nine high school assemblies and an equal number of churches on their six-day tour.

The Chanters include 48 young people from the McMurry College, Methodist-owned school, in Abilene. One of these is a Pampa girl, Billie Mae Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Osborne. Organized in 1923, the Chanters make two singing tours each year in Texas and New Mexico.

The concert will be open to the public.

MATADOR LUIS IN ACTION: Tossed by this bull in Colombia, he came back to successfully dispatch him. But now beautiful women may do what the bull couldn't—toss him out of the ring.

Beautiful Women May Toss Matador Out Of Bull Ring

By ROSETTE HARGROVE NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS (NEA) — For the past year what is known as the International Set has wondered about Luis Miguel Dominguez — the "Matador of Beautiful Women" — and whom he would eventually marry. They are also wondering if beautiful women will toss him out of the bullring.

Bullfighters have always had a magnetic attraction for women, but this one is something special. He is probably the handsomest Spaniard ever to have been poured into the matador's glamorous costume. He is also tall, slender, elegant and incredibly proud — to the point of arrogance — both in and out of the bullring.

Appointed official matador in 1946, the 28-year-old bullfighter astonished even his fans by his daring and immediately became famous at home and abroad. But now his career is in jeopardy — all on account of women.

Public rumor has linked his name with a succession of movie stars and a couple of social registerites. He is enjoying a life of ease and luxury far removed from the austere life of his early training.

Until he was 25, Luis was so engrossed in becoming the king of bullfighters that he never had time to play.

"How could he?" explained a friend recently. "When a man fights an average of 84 corridas a year and spends most of his nights on the road to appear at a bullfight the following afternoon, there is not much opportunity for philandering. Toreros who do never last long, anyway."

Three years ago Luis Miguel had reached the point where he had earned millions of pesetas. He supported his entire family — father, mother, sisters and the innumerable hangers-on which invariably compose the retinue of a matador.

It was then he first made the gossip columns when he met Anabella, attractive French movie star, ex-wife of Tyrone Power. She taught him to relax and enjoy life. But she was never responsible for his abandoning the bullring, a passionate spectator, she never missed a bullfight. They are still very good friends.

Then it was rumored that the greatest of all matadors was to marry Angellita, convent-bred daughter of the Duke of Pinhermoso. The news shook Spanish nobility. A duke's daughter, they said, could never marry a bullfighter. Few toreros have ever married above their station for the simple reason that they usually come from humble families.

So Angellita was removed to a convent far from any bullring. But somebody pointed out that many proud aristocratic Spanish women were eager to attend the lavish parties which "handsome Luis" threw in his "finca" — country estate.

Anyway, by this time Luis had found out that there were attractive girls besides his compatriots and that life outside Spain was more interesting.

He began to be seen on the French Riviera, where he met Rita Hayworth, at Biarritz and at Deauville. He spent money like a Spanish grandee. Unlike his predecessors who never abandoned the bullfighter's costume, he took to casual sports clothes and formal evening wear. He was asked to all the big parties, hob-nobbed with the social registerites.

His latest romance has been with Hollywood's Ava Gardner. Within no time at all, this superman found himself in her toils. Like Omphale, she had Hercules spinning at her feet.

But Hercules — Dominguez has reached the crossroads. Eminent patrons of bullfighting cannot believe that Luis Miguel has given up the bulls for good. On the other hand, is the handsome matador willing to continue to take wild chances on life?

Two years ago, he was badly gored in Venezuela. His recovery was slow because of inadequate medical treatment. Since then serious competitors have appeared in the ring such as Anionete, Bernado, Chicuelo and even Ordonez, his brother-in-law.

Now his friend are wondering whether he will start on a new career in the movies. Another alternative is to marry a rich woman.

To the man who witnessed the terrible death of the famous Mandote and carried him away from the arena, the choice between once again facing the cries and jeers of a bloodthirsty crowd or living a happy, but uneventful married life must be a difficult one.

Man Indicted In Shooting

FORT WORTH, Feb. 23 — UP — Tarrant county grand jurors changed their minds Tuesday and indicted Willie D. Smiley on charges of attempting to kill a 42-year-old woman who went to his home with him late at night.

Smiley admitted shot Mrs. Roberts in the abdomen after an argument on the night of January 21, but said it was accidental. Mrs. Bean, who had been drinking when Smiley said she objected when he ordered her to remove her clothing.

Grand jurors announced Feb. 10 they had refused to indict Smiley, saying they lacked sufficient evidence. Assistant District Attorney Gene Biddle said he decided to indict the tall, black-haired carpenter after hearing new evidence.

Zhukov Says West Ignores Red Peace Bid

By KENNETH BRODNEY

MOSCOW, Feb. 23 — UP — Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov told a Russian television audience Tuesday night that Russia's "peaceful policy" has found no "favorable echoes" in the west.

The erstwhile friend of President Eisenhower warned the west that Russia is ready and able to retaliate against any attack. Marshal Zhukov, making his first TV appearance on the eve of Red Army Day, was flanked on his right by Russia's new Premier Marshal Nikolai Bulganin and by Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev.

Bulganin was dressed in uniform. Zhukov stressed Russia's peaceful intentions. "The pacific policy of the USSR has not raised any favorable echoes on the part of the capitalist countries," he said, "notably in the United States which is carrying on a policy of preparation for war and propaganda."

In his warning to the west, the defense minister said: "We are ready to reply to all attacks. Those who do not take the lessons of history into account, like Hitler, and who attempt to adopt a position of force against the USSR should remember his fate."

More than 2,600 general officers, soldiers and their wives heard Zhukov speak in the central house of the army.

The average size of farms in Kentucky increased from 74.4 acres in 1935 to 89 acres in 1950. The total number of farms decreased from 278,298 to 218,476.

Liberal Woman Again Wins International Pancake Race

LIBERAL, Kan., Feb. 23 — UP — straight victory over England in the International Pancake Race Wednesday after a 94-pound housewife-bookkeeper broke her own record in the contest Tuesday.

The winner is Mrs. Hinnie Dick, of Liberal, Kan., who repeated her 1954 victory.

The rules of the contest require that a pancake, carried in a small skillet, be slipped three times over a 415-yard course.

Mrs. Dick's time this year was one minute, 5.1 seconds. Her old record, which she set last year, was 1:07.7.

Mrs. Doris Millward was the Olney, England, winner. She ran in 1:18.5 on a blanket of ice and snow.

Liberal's nine contestants were bothered by a 20-mile-an-hour wind, and a frigid temperature in the 30s. Olney's 20 contestants reported they were hindered by a light snow falling on a blanket of ice.

Mrs. Dick won $350 in gift certificates and the right for Liberal to keep the international silver skillet trophy.

Meanwhile, a 19-year-old Kismet, Kan., girl, Peggy Tacha, won the All-America Pancake Race some four hours after Mrs. Dick won the international event Tuesday.

Miss Tacha's time was clocked at 1:07.7 and she slipped her pancakes twice.

Mrs. Virginia Depriest, 23 of Montevista, Colo., finished second in the All-America Race, although she fainted "from sheer exhaustion and was unable to make her second flip of the pancake." Third-place finisher was Mrs. Thelma Faye Earle, 19, of Hayden, N.M., and Mrs. Emily Raney, 32, of Amarillo, Tex., and Mrs. Aileen Hensley of Guyton, Okla., finished fourth and fifth, respectively.

Cash prizes of $150, $75, and $25 went to the first, second and third place finishers.

The All-America Race awards were presented by Terry Milich of Golden, Colo., winner last year. Miss Milich was ineligible this year since she had won the race twice.

Another event of the races was the naming of "Miss Flipper of 1955." A Kansas beauty 18-year-old Sandra Stevenson of Garden City, was named the prettiest. Geri Ann Griffiths, 17, of Liberal, was runner-up.

At least 12,000 spectators viewed the races at Liberal.

The race times of Mrs. Dick and Mrs. Millward were compared by Ike Hardin, pancake chairman for the Liberal Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Vicar of Olney, Ronald Collins, in a trans-Atlantic telephone call that cost $35.25.

H. J. Legg, British consul at Kansas City, Mo., kissed Mrs. Dick at the finish line here. He also talked with the vicar.

Bankers Given Personnel Talk

FORT WORTH, Feb. 23 — UP — Bankers were told Tuesday that they must make banking careers and retirement benefits attractive to ambitious young people if personnel standards of high character are to be maintained.

John M. Griffith, president of the City National Bank at Taylor and president of the Texas Bankers Association, made the comment before delegates to the seventh district meeting of the organization in the Hotel Texas exhibit hall.

Industry everywhere is looking after its personnel with retirement programs and other inducements, he pointed out.

Attendance exceeding 1,400 was reported to be the largest for any district session in TBA history.

FROM ALL INDICATIONS, the Pampa school board made a very fine choice in selecting the new head coach for the Fighting Harvesters.

We haven't met the new coach, Jack Lockett, yet, but talked with him on the phone Monday shortly after it was announced that he was the new Harvester grid men-

...the conversation. Lockett talked with a lot of enthusiasm and sounded as if he couldn't wait to get over to Pampa to start his new job. He said he was working to get a masters degree and he'll be able to take over his duties here until the latter part of the year when spring training will begin.

The new coach, however, will be in town Saturday and fans here will get a chance to meet him. The Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee is rising to the occasion already by planning a luncheon Saturday in Lockett's honor.

Since the space will be limited for accommodating fans desiring to attend the dinner, the sports committee urges the fans to make reservations as quickly as possible. Tickets are $1.35 and reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce Office. Let's fill the Palm Room banquet hall Saturday and give Lockett a royal Top of Texas welcome.

Many fans here have already expressed their opinions on Lockett as "reckon he'll be another Terry Brennan."

Brennan, of course, is the young fellow who took over the head reins at Notre Dame last season. Brennan was 25 when he took over at Notre Dame, the same age Lockett will be when he takes over as the Harvester head man.

According to Bud Wilkinson, head coach at Oklahoma, Lockett will be another Terry Brennan although the Sooner coach didn't say it in that many words. Wilkinson's recommendation was about all the school board could go on in determining the coaching ability of Lockett and Bud is generally known as a fellow you can rely on in matters such as this.

Well, we're looking forward to meeting Jack when he comes to town this week end. BILL WEBB, A MEMBER of the state champion Harvester basketball team in 1952-53, continues to score the nets for Schreiner Institute.

In a recent game with San Angelo Junior College, Webb led Schreiner to an 88-75 win by pouring in 25 points. Webb is averaging close to 20 points per game this season.

The hustlin' guard is making "monkeys" out of several college coaches who turned him down after graduating at PHS. This is Webb's last year of Junior College ball and we believe he now can just about name his school for his final two years of college eligibility.

Wichita Falls' Bid For TL Franchise Is Turned Down

DALLAS, Feb. 23—UP—Texas League President Dick Butler said "hoped" a decision could be made Wednesday on whether the current franchise stays put or is transferred to another city.

League directors were scheduled to meet at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday night, directors rejected proposition by Wichita Falls to pick the North Texas city wanting to sell $100,000 worth of bonds by noon Saturday in order to acquire the club. Directors also voted an alternate Wichita Falls proposal which entailed forming a corporation with capital stock of $50,000.

Butler said Tuesday night he appreciated the efforts of Beaumont's baseball-minded citizens in their 11th hour efforts to save the franchise. But he also indicated that the league's club owners were strongly considering the offers of the two underdog cities.

Griffin Nears Harvester Scoring Mark

Gary Griffin, Harvester center, is only five points away from setting an all-time Harvester scoring record following last night's game at El Paso.

Griffin poured in 20 points last night to boost his season total to 575 points in 28 games. The current record is 579 points set by Jimmy Bond in 1952-53 season in 28 games.

Griffin tied the second best mark last night of 575 points for a single season. Bond is also the holder of the second best mark, recording his 575 points last year in 28 games.

In other words, Griffin and Bond scored exactly the same number of points in the same number of games in sharing the second best record.

Following is the run-down of the Harvester scoring this season:

Table with 7 columns: Player, G, Pts, Fg, Ft, Pp, Tp, Pp. Griffin is listed with 28 games, 575 points, 112 field goals, 112 free throws, 228 points per game.

Highly-touted rookie pitcher Herb Score and rookie outfielder Joe Cattie signed their contracts Tuesday but Greenberg's "uncontented list" included such key men as American League batting champion Bobby Avila, slugger Larry Doby, 23-game winner Early Wynn and outfielders Wally Westlake, Dave Philley and Dale Mitchell.

Greenberg pointed out that winning a pennant often entails paying the price of prolonged negotiations with stars the following spring.

"We had one of the highest payrolls in baseball last year," he said. "For this year, we've got still a bigger one. We've made fair offers to all the players, but some of them—some of the ones who haven't signed yet—think they should be getting more than we think they deserve."

The Baltimore Orioles, meanwhile, announced that Chuck Diering, a fine defensive centerfielder, but a light hitter, had come to terms and Clark Griffith, 85-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, reported that he and Roy Sievers are "only a few dollars apart." Sievers hit 24 home runs last season to set a new record for a Washington player.

Harvesters Rip Jeff; Take Series Lead

Griffin, McIlvain Spark 58-43 Win

EL PASO, Feb. 23 -- (Special) -- Pampa's Hustlin' Harvesters moved within one victory of their third straight trip to the state basketball tournament here Tuesday night as they took an almost effortless 58-43 victory over Jefferson High of El Paso.

The two clubs meet again at Pampa Friday night in the second game of the best two out of three game set, and a Pampa win would make the Harvesters one of the four Class AAAA finalists for the third straight year.

It was pretty well agreed that if a club could fight its way out of District 1-AAAA it could get down state and the Harvesters found things just that way. They used their commanding height advantage to overcome the excessive speed of the Silver Foxes of Coach Tom Chavez and even at times resorted to the Foxes' own game of fast breaking.

Pampa's tall boys, center Gary Griffin and E. Jay McIlvain paced the scoring for the victors, Griffin leading with 17 points.

Last night's Harvester-Jefferson game will be carried on KFDD-TV Channel 10 of Amarillo tonight, according to Jimmy McCune of Cabot Co., co-sponsors of the game. The game is being made possible by Cabot and J. C. Daniels. The play-by-play TV showing tonight will start at 10:30.

The Harvesters hit 42 per cent of their shots from the floor while using a "hustling" defense that kept the Foxes hitting to only 19 per cent.

The Harvesters led after the first 1:07 of play and never trailed or were even close to trailing. It took them 2:13 to find their first field goal, and then they ran on to a 6-0 lead before El Paso scored with a free throw at 3:06 and was nearly a minute and a half later before they could hit from the floor. The Harvesters led at every turn 17-12, 31-19 and 42-28.

Coach Clifton McNeely cleared his bench in the fourth quarter giving all the boys an opportunity to see action. The Harvesters were scheduled to make their flying return to Pampa Wednesday afternoon and had a light workout scheduled upon their return.

The Foxes will leave El Paso Thursday, the 16-man squad traveling by car for the second game Friday night. The Box: HARVESTERS (44) Griffin 17, McIlvain 12, Sharp 10, Oliver 8, Rodriguez 7, Esquivel 6, Jeff 5, Pampa 4.

Table with 7 columns: Player, FG, FT, PPF, PPT. Griffin: 11-22, 12-22, 23-29, 20-25.

CLASS AAA, Plainview, Kilgore and Victoria joined Beaumont French in the winners' circle with first-game triumphs. Plainview downed Brownwood 72 to 49, Kilgore nipped Sherman 64 to 60 and Victoria squeezed by Harlingen 62 to 61. French had beaten Austin McCallum 75 to 66 on Monday night.

Mallett Outshines O'Neal As Baylor Whips TCU 79-68

By UNITED PRESS — Stunned Texas Christian nursed a shaky half game lead in the torrid Southwest Conference basketball game Wednesday after sophomore Jerry Mallett sparked the Baylor team to an inspired 79 to 68 upset over the pace-setting Aggies.

The setback in the next to last game of the season for the Aggies was pulled into a tie for the lead Saturday night if it can dispose of the troublesome Rice Owls at Houston while TCU remains idle until the season finale next Tuesday against Methodist, which built its record Arkansas to 7-3 Tuesday night by crushing Arkansas' hopes 83 to 69 at Dallas.

Senior Bob Jeagerard and Burdette Halderson racked up 30 and 27 points respectively Tuesday night to give Colorado its eighth league win in nine starts, 80-69, over Kansas at Boulder, Colo. But at Waco, Tex., Mallett tallied 22 points, mostly on driving layups, to lead Baylor in a 79-68 upset of Texas Christian. The surprise cut Texas Christian's league lead to a half-game over Southern Methodist, which trounced Arkansas, 83-69, and threatened to make the Southwest Conference race end in a tie.

Colorado Leads Early Jeagerard, six-three, and Halderson, six-seven, sent Colorado zooming into an early lead that reached 14 points midway in the first half. Kansas fought back to trail by only one, 47-46, with six minutes to go, but the same play again sparked Colorado in pulling away again. Meanwhile, Kansas scoring ace Dallas Dobbs was being held to 10 points by Tom Harrold.

Colorado thus stands one full game ahead of Missouri, each having three games to play, and the two teams are headed toward a dramatic clash on Missouri's court next Monday. Mallett, who stands six-five and is expected to star on the Baylor baseball team, too, whirled in for 12 baskets as the Bears took the lead in the first minute and kept it the rest of the way. However, Baylor was unable to stop Texas Christian's six-seven soph star, Dick O'Neal, who topped all scorers with 35 points.

Six-eight Jim Krebs tallied 30 points to lead SMU to victory and his 14 baskets on 25 shots set a new school record. Baylor has one league game left: SMU has two. If the two contenders win all three games, then the race will end in a tie and force a two-of-three playoff for the NCAA tournament berth.

Seattle Gets Bid The NCAA added Seattle University, with an 18-4 record, to its field Tuesday as a "member at large." The Chieftains, who have won nine straight games and will be going to a post-season tournament for the fifth straight year, will meet Idaho State, the Rocky Mountain Conference champion, in a preliminary round game March 7 or 8 at a mutually agreeable site and the winner will meet the Pacific Coast Conference champion—either UCLA or Oregon State—March 11, at Corvallis, Ore.

In other leading games Tuesday night: North Carolina State, regular season champion of the Atlantic Coast Conference, finished its league season with a "revenge" 79-75 victory over North Carolina; Dartmouth all but ended Columbia's Ivy League title hopes, 84-65, while Princeton took over second place in that circuit by beating Yale, 92-54; Duke downed Virginia, 106-92; Richmond whipped Furman, 79-72; Clemson broke a 15-game losing streak by beating Georgia, 105-94; Army ripped Swarthmore, 75-55; and Texas defeated Texas A&M, 74-64.

LaSalle, undoubtedly bound for the NCAA tournament, and Fordham, which can have a spot in the National Invitation Tournament if it wants it, clash in New York in a feature game Wednesday night that matches two stars, Tom Gola of LaSalle and Ed Conlin of Fordham.

Main purpose of a strivel is to prevent fishing line from twisting and most swivels will do this if not under excessive tension. — Sports Affair.

DOUGHNUT LEAGUE—Dolf Camilli, home run threat of Brooklyn's 1941 National League champions, knocks out doughnuts now. The guy who once hit 34 homers in the pennant-winning season now bats out 150 doughnuts a day at the San Francisco sinker emporium he owns. (NEA)

Missouri, Colorado In Heated Battle

By UNITED PRESS — Missouri whipped Texas A&M 74 to 61 in another conference contest Tuesday night to push the Aggies deeper into the cellar and Rice lost a 74 to 67 verdict to the Armed Forces All-Stars at Houston. Baylor Feas' to an inspired 79 to 68 upset over the pace-setting Aggies.

SMU was now in the position of pulling into a tie for the lead Saturday night if it can dispose of the troublesome Rice Owls at Houston while TCU remains idle until the season finale next Tuesday against Methodist, which built its record Arkansas to 7-3 Tuesday night by crushing Arkansas' hopes 83 to 69 at Dallas.

Mallett Outshines O'Neal Mallett outshone TCU's great sophomore, Dick O'Neal, although the latter outscored him 35 points to 22 for individual honors. The Beaumont cager made all kinds of shots and gathered in 22 rebounds to give Baylor control of the ball off the boards.

O'Neal was guarded so closely he hit only eight of 28 field goal efforts, but he was also fouled so many times that he plopped in 19 of 23 free throw attempts to boost his season scoring total to 659 points and his conference total to 345.

Mallett, a 6-5 bundle of energy, hit 12 of 21 field goal efforts and eight of 11 foul shots, but it was his superiority on the rebounds that gave Baylor the edge. His 28 compared with 15 for TCU's Ray Warren and 12 for the towering 6-7 O'Neal.

Jim Krebs paced SMU to its revenge victory over Arkansas as those two clubs battled to break a three-day deadlock. The St. Louis sophomore was "closely guarded, but hit 14 of 25 field goal efforts for a new school record and wound up with 30 points before fouling out with five minutes left to play. He played with a four-foul handicap late in the game.

Billie Talles 19 Guard Bobby Mills kicked in with a 19-point performance to help Krebs subdue the Forkers, who had beaten SMU earlier this season.

Raymond Downs continued his sensational shooting for Texas as the Longhorns rang up their third loop victory. Downs even scored two points for the Aggies in one mixup under the A&M basket, but wound up with 31 legal points of his own despite being held out of the game for seven minutes. He matched O'Neal's 19 charity shot performance and might have broken his own record of 23 if he had played more.

Rice wasn't able to hold onto a lead that mounted to 11 points at one time in the first half as the Owls lost the services of star guard Bobby Brashear with a sprained ankle. Terry Telligman of Rice led the scoring with 23 points.

George Washington Would Find Landscape Changed by Engineering

George Washington, himself a mechanical engineer who laid out the wilderness road that became U. S. Route 40, would today stand in amazement at the engineering accomplishments that have shaped modern-day America.

If the father of his country could come back to life for the observance this year of his 223rd birthday he would find a landscape filled with things that engineers have made possible.

From the largest industrial plants down to the simplest item of household kitchenware, Washington would be confronted with the engineer's handiwork. In fact, he would find it all but impossible to locate any inhabited part of the country where the effects of engineering developments on the everyday lives of the people were not obvious.

As the nation's engineers observe National Engineers' Week this year, Feb. 20-26, they make up a group of about 400,000 individuals—America's largest profession. Many thousands more young men are currently in engineering schools absorbing a rigorous training in mathematics and science, along with other standard college studies.

A section of the great coast to coast highway, U. S. Route 40, typical of the engineering achievements that are being cited during National Engineers' Week, February 20-26. The wilderness road that later became Route 40 was first laid out by George Washington, a noted engineer long before the Revolutionary War.

Today these young engineers will graduate into a world that has just as many challenges as the untamed frontier had for the youthful Washington. The "frontier" today is a technological one. And engineers hold in their hands the formulae and keys to the keys to continuing progress.

Industry, as we know it today, would be impossible without the engineer's calculations. Take the problem of power, for example. A hundred years ago over three-fourths of all the energy used for work was furnished by animals, only about 15 percent by machines.

Today nearly 96 percent of all work energy comes from machines. Human muscle contributes about three percent, and animals supply a mere one percent.

Engineering knowledge and skills made this revolution in power sources possible. Engineers designed the electric motors, the dams, the internal combustion engines, steam generators, and all the other complex devices that make our factories hum.

On the doorstep of the atomic age, the engineer is face to face with the technical challenges of an even greater revolution in power sources. The atomic energy installations we have now are little more than experimental pilot plants. But atomic experts look to the day when electric power from nuclear energy reactors will make up the chief source of work energy.

Before this stage can be reached engineers will have to work out practical methods of reducing reactor costs, improving safety techniques and equipment, and disposing of radio-active wastes.

Atomic power installations "breed" a considerable amount of highly radio-active by-products. Engineers are finding increasing uses for these in industry, medicine, and basic research. Practical uses are likewise being found for many of the rare elements that have been discovered in recent years.

Pat Science to Work

In fact, this whole business of "uses" is one of the most striking things about science today. Engineers, working in industry, in research, and as professional consultants, have literally put science to work. Engineers have reached into the laboratories and brought the most advanced scientific theory into the market place of practical accomplishment.

This harnessing of the latest scientific discoveries has given great impetus to industrial modernization in this country. A constant stream of new production methods and processes is directed at the twin problems of reducing cost and improving the product.

The industrial firm that cannot or does not keep up with these new developments soon finds that its market has moved elsewhere. Engineering skill often makes the difference between red and black ink on a firm's books.

But industry is by no means the only employer of engineers. Federal, state, and municipal governments rely on engineers for the design and planning of large scale conservation projects, sewage and drainage systems, streets and highways, bridges, canals, building construction, traffic control, sanitation, and many other things where qualitative and quantitative knowledge is needed.

Flood control and the development and maintenance of the nation's navigable waterways and harbors are activities in which government engineers have played a major role. City planners are turning increasingly to engineers for professional consultation on housing projects, zoning restrictions, shopping districts, playgrounds and other recreational units, and transportation problems.

Looking Ahead

As America's engineers prepare to observe their "Week" this year they can look about them and see a way of life which they have helped bring about. National Engineers' Week, sponsored by the National Society of Professional Engineers, is a time when engineers devote more effort to looking at the road ahead than they do to congratulating themselves for what has already been accomplished.

For the engineer in 1955 the "road" ahead looks more like an eight lane superhighway. Important as he is in our way of life today, the engineer knows he will become much, much more so in the technologically advanced near future.

Engineering is a career of opportunity. Interested young people or their parents may obtain a free booklet which gives the basic facts about engineering. The booklet, "Engineering—A Career of Opportunity," is available from the National Society of Professional Engineers, 1121 15th St. N.W., Washington, D. C.

Sally Rand Writing Her Life Story

By HAROLD FOREMAN
DENVER, Feb. 23 —UP—The little blonde from the Ozarks revealed Tuesday that she is writing the story of her life. And quite a story it should be of the girl who knocked Chicago for a loop with her fan dance at the 1933 World's Fair.

The story of Sally Rand's life will span a period of over 30 years as a nightclub entertainer, movie actress and more recently a television performer.

But the highlight in the fabulous saga of Sally is expected to be when she made history with a pair of fans that alternately hid and revealed a shapely, well-developed five-foot body at the big Fair of '33.

The chapter dwelling with how she finally landed a job at the Fair promises to be a lulu and Sally vows to bare all in telling her story.

"I'm not going to pull any punches in telling my story," Sally said.

She will tell how on a chilly May night in 1933 when the Fair was just getting underway she accepted a dare that led to her getting a chance to perform her fan dance on the "Streets of Paris."

With all animals barred from entering the Fair grounds, Sally hired a boat to bring her to the Fair grounds astride a big horse. With only her long blonde tresses hiding her nude charms, Sally came riding down the "Streets of Paris" portraying Lady Godiva, winding in and out around the tables where a group of Chicago's leading socialites were seated at a milk fund dinner.

Fair officials expressed both amazement and shock and Sally was advised there would be no job for her. But Fair officials hadn't anticipated press and public reaction. A few days later Sally was waving her fans in her own show. She was an immediate sensation—the biggest attraction at the fair—and for the paltry sum of $100 a week.

She was back again as the star attraction at the 1934 continuation of the Fair, and again she was a success—this time with a bubble dance.

But her story doesn't start with the fair nor does it end there. She was a Wampus baby star in 1927 and had a minor, but leading role in one of the all-time great movies—Cecil B. DeMille's "King of Kings."

Sally is currently appearing at the Tropics Nightclub here, following a 23-week engagement at Las Vegas, Nev.

In between times she adopted a baby boy, now six years old, with the adoption coming at a time when she was not married.

Proclaiming her current marriage to a Las Vegas contractor a "very happy one," she said the biggest role of her life now is that of a mother and housewife.

And what does her son think of her long and fabulous career?

"The biggest impression I've made on my boy to date was that I once played in the same movies with William (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd."

White House, Washington Zoo Are Related, In A Way

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 —UP—It's hard to cotton to the idea of tying the White House and the Washington Zoo together. But in a remote way they are related.

Eleanor Early, who has written a volume called Washington Holiday, has made second cousins of the two.

First she told what most everyone knows. How the White House came into being and how, for many years it stood the test of time until finally the commission of public works remarked that "this place is standing up by habit only."

That was after Margaret Truman's plane broke through the floor in her suite. There are other things, any kid can tell you. Like the time Mrs. Lincoln decided to do a little decorating and ran out of expense money. When the decorators demanded payment, somebody suggested an appropriation. Honest Abe raved back and said: "I'll pay for it out of my own pocket first. It would stink in the nostrils of the American people to have it said that I approved flubdubs for this house, when the soldiers can't have blankets."

The big white place on Pennsylvania, of course, has been redone.

The lovely Miss Early told how she got from the White House to the zoo in one chapter.

"It had to do with gifts that come to occupants of the White House," she said.

History of the zoo goes back to 1890 when William Hornaday, chief taxidermist at the Smithsonian Institution, felt pain when healthy wild animals were slain for stuffing. So 200 acres were bought. Hornaday, who was made curator, had little or no money, so he solicited help. A circus donated two elephants and a tiger for a start.

"The tiger," Miss Early reports, "was so many they had to douse him with sulphur for three months before he was fit to look at."

Somebody offered the new curator a kangaroo for $75. Hornaday didn't have 75 bucks, but he had two guinea pigs and a trade was made.

Then the White House began getting a lot of gift animals. Actualy back before the zoo was started, President Jefferson received a big black bear which he chained in the back yard at the White House until neighbors complained. The present zoo curator, Dr. Bill Mann, would have loved the bear.

Cal Coolidge received a pygmy hippopotamus named Billy, which would have seemed out of place in the east room, so he turned it over to the zoo where there were two little lady hippos. That started something. The succeeding baby hippos have all been named "Gumdrop."

Traderhorn Mann gets $4,000 on the open market for a "Gumdrop" he doesn't need, or maybe he'll trade it off for a pitfull of rare snakes.

President Eisenhower received a kangaroo named "Miss," and called Doc Mann right away. Strange thing about "Miss" is that she is an albino—something rare among the animal hoppers from down under.

Land Fraud Indictments Indicated

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 23 —UP—Texas Attorney General John Ben Shepperd expects "several hundred" more indictments to be returned similar to those handed down Monday by a Bexar county grand jury probing reports of alleged fraud in the $100 million veterans land program.

The Bexar county grand jury returned 29 indictments, naming two men.

Those named were C. V. Wynn and Harry Shepperd Jr. Wynn was identified as a partner in the W&M Cattle Co., with Arthur McKenzie, Harry Shepperd, no relation to the attorney general, was identified as a former secretary of the firm and is a notary public.

Allege Forged Statements

The indictments charged Wynn on nine counts alleging forgery and passing and 10 counts of making a forged statement. Shepperd was indicted for alleged false acknowledgment of papers sent to the Veterans Land Board.

The San Antonio indictments were the first to be handed down by grand juries which looked into reports of fraud.

The attorney general, who was in San Antonio to help the jury with its investigation, said the indictments were "the first of several hundred we hope to secure in the veterans land swindle."

Other investigations have been underway by grand juries of Travis and DeWitt counties. Inquiries are scheduled soon by the Zavala and Uvalde grand juries.

Consider Other Actions

The attorney general also said prosecutors were considering grand jury action in Karnes, Guadalupe, Brown, McCullough, Kinney, Maverick, Kleberg and Dimmitt counties.

At College Station last Saturday, the attorney general said there "will be no whitewash—nothing will be covered up—nothing will be suppressed" in the investigation. Those responsible for this situation will be brought to justice—no matter how big they are or how big they have been.

He has assigned assistants to aid grand juries in their probes and has been meeting with prosecutors in several counties.

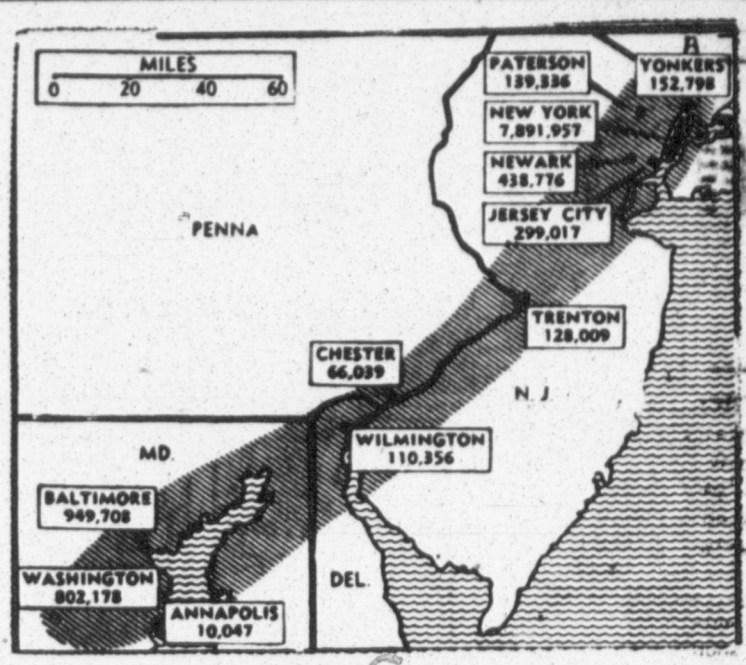

The jury at San Antonio returned the indictments soon after Wynn and Mrs. Arthur McKenzie, wife of the partner in the W&M firm, had refused to testify on grounds their answers might incriminate them.

Actress Freed on Charge

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23 —UP—Dark-haired actress Gail Russell had a drunk driving charge dismissed in municipal court at nearby Santa Monica Monday after it had hung over her head for 15 months. Judge Mervyn Aggeler said he was dropping the charge "in the interest of justice" because Miss Russell had paid a $150 fine more than a year ago on a simple drunk charge growing out of the same arrest.

Against UMT

MERIDEN, Conn. — UP — The Connecticut Temperance Society voted to oppose universal military training on the grounds that it would "stimulate the liquor habit in American youth."

The Atomic Energy Commission reports that the H-bomb tested at Bikini last March 1st contaminated a cigar-shaped area extending 220 miles downwind from the blast. Shaded area in newsmag translates what that would mean to this nation if a similar bomb was dropped on Washington. If wind direction were generally northeastward, and if other conditions were similar to those at Bikini, radio-active fallout would poison a belt extending as far north as Yonkers, N. Y. Cities that would be affected are listed with their populations. (NEA Telephoto)

Pentagon Opposes State Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 —UP—A Senate Interior subcommittee is set to press a Pentagon spokesman Tuesday for thorough explanation of the Defense Department's stand against statehood for Alaska.

Chairman Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) Monday night threatened to summon Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson himself if his subcommittee fails to get "satisfactory answers" from spokesman James H. Douglas, an Air Force undersecretary.

Jackson said he is puzzled by a letter in which Wilson contended "it would be in the interest of the national security that Alaska remain a federal territory for the present."

"Mighty Mysterious"

"This is mighty mysterious to me," Jackson said. "With this kind of reasoning, perhaps the Pentagon thinks that my state ought to be reverted to territorial status because it is in reach of Russian airfields."

"Or perhaps," he added, with sarcasm, "perhaps the Pentagon thinks that the Russian claim to Alaska is more valid than ours and I does not want to incorporate it into the Union for that reason."

At the opening of hearings on joint Hawaii-Alaska statehood legislation Monday, Delegate E. L. (Bob) Bartlett characterized the Defense Department position as "like a mystery book from which someone has torn the last chapter."

McKay Testifies

Those hearings featured oral testimony by Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay and Delegates Bartlett and Mrs. Joseph R. Farrington of Hawaii.

McKay testified that both Hawaii and Alaska are qualified in all respects for statehood. But he said he would prefer to see Congress consider enabling legislation separately, not in a single package as is presently proposed.

McKay said also that he thought the Alaska bill should give the President power to turn western as well as northern Alaska into military reservations.

On the strength of indirect assurances that it would overcome White House and Pentagon objections, the House adopted a Bartlett amendment for handing up to 40 per cent of northern Alaska to the military.

New British Carrier Is Commissioned

BIRKENHEAD, Eng., Feb. 23 —UP—Britain commissioned its newest and biggest aircraft carrier Tuesday, the 36,800-ton Ark Royal, a vessel which can be run by remote control and carry atomic bombs.

The $70 million Ark Royal is comparable to the larger U.S.S. Forrestal. It is part of a new hydrogen-age navy which includes guided missile ships that may revolutionize naval warfare.

As the Ark Royal was commissioned, the government issued a navy white paper which disclosed for the first time that conventional battleships and cruisers are finished in the royal navy.

The carrier is the core of the modern fleet," the white paper said.

Body Taken From Sub

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23 —UP—Navy rescue workers wearing gas masks Tuesday recovered one of the two bodies remaining aboard the submarine Pomodon. There was no immediate identification of the body.

Five rescuers entered the gas filled craft shortly after 9 a.m. at the Hunts Point naval shipyard.

Before they entered the explosion twisted sub, the Navy pumped carbon dioxide into the hull to clear the vessel of explosive hydrogen gas that made her a potential time bomb.

The heavier carbon dioxide forced the hydrogen upward from the battery room, scens Sunday night of a series of explosions and a fire that claimed five lives, and into ventilators which carried it off.

Solons Miss Injury In Bus Mishap

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 23 — Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) and 16 congressmen narrowly escaped injury or death when the bus returning them from observing Tuesday's atomic explosion blew a tire and catapulted off the highway into the desert.

It was the second mishap in 24 hours to mar the atomic experiments at the Nevada proving ground. Neither, however, was connected with the actual test itself.

A quick-thinking truck driver approaching from the opposite direction, averted a tragedy as the big bus swerved over the center line into his path. He swung his truck to the opposite and wrong side of the highway, missing the careening bus by 18 inches, the Atomic Energy Commission announced.

The AEC said the accident happened inside the proving ground as the congressional delegation was being returned from the concrete blockhouse control point, where it witnessed the test, to Camp Mercury, the entrance to the proving grounds, 75 miles northeast of Las Vegas.

Former Used Car Dealer Sentenced

HOUSTON, Feb. 23 — Federal Judge Ben C. Connally Monday sentenced Ford Hermansen, formerly one of the biggest independent auto dealers in Texas, to three years in prison for mail fraud.

The Rosenberg car dealer was found guilty last week on four fraud counts. He drew two concurrent three-year terms, a $500 dollar fine and a five-year suspended sentence.

Half-dozen car buyers who learned too late they had bought mortgaged cars from Hermansen appeared in court to tell Judge Connally they didn't think that Hermansen was really at fault. They blamed the Radcliff Finance Co., Houston, which loaned Hermansen money on the cars which he later sold for repossessing the cars.

Hermansen's attorneys, Seymour Lieberman and Former District Attorney William H. Scott, said they would appeal.

Oklahoma Oil Ups US Total

TULSA, Feb. 23 — A prodigious rise in Oklahoma's crude oil production pushed the nation's total output to the year's highest total for one week, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

Oklahoma production was up 30,700 barrels to pace the nation's daily average output to 6,771,100 barrels, the Journal said.

This total brought the cumulative production total for 1955 to 334,197,800 barrels, compared to 314,602,775 barrels at this date last year.

Other states showing increases were Kansas 1,300, Louisiana 1,000, Michigan 700, Nebraska 700, New Mexico 400, North Dakota 400 and Utah 100.

Alabama was down 100 barrels, Arkansas 1,300, California 500, Colorado 1,400, eastern fields 3,400, Illinois 1,400, Indiana 1,700, Kentucky 100, Montana 600, Wyoming 1,500.

Florida, Texas and Mississippi showed no change.
