Parlays Visit Into Successful Career

By BILL KEHR
Pampa News Staff Writer

Guillermo Frederico Jorge Stein, a Mexican by birth, a German by descent and a Texan at heart, parlayed a six-week job in Pampa into a successful career as a petroleum engineer in a town he considers "home."

Walter Stein has shown an unlimited interest for the civic life of Pampa, joining Rotary at the ripe old age of 25 and heading up the Spanish language classes of the adult education program.

The chief petroleum engineer here for the Cabot Companies was born in Gomez Palacio, Mexico, of American parents. His parents lived in Eagle Pass for a number of years, assuring young Stein American citizenship, which he later honored with a successful stint in the U. S. Army during the second world war and after the armistice.

Lived in Germany
In 1912, at the age of four, Stein went with his mother to her native Germany where he remained until 1918, stranded by the outbreak of World War I. He received his elementary education there.

In 1919 he returned to Mexico and attended the Colegio Commercial, a high school, at Gomez Palacio. In 1922 he returned again to Germany to attend Oldenburg College and was graduated from the University of Berlin in 1929 with a degree in chemistry and physics.

Stein worked his way through college as, of all things, manager of a German jazz band and salesman for a medical supply firm. Big and brawny, Stein never liked the competitive aspect of sports, but, nevertheless, played soccer and was an oarsman for the Oldenburg intramural crew which once defeated the touted varsity.

In 1929 he worked his way back to the States, ostensibly as an able bodied seaman, through Holland, Spain and Cuba. He landed at Texas City in 1929. He arrived at Pampa — supposedly for six weeks only — after working for the United Gas Company and the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Came Here In 1932
He came to Pampa for Magnolia as a trouble shooter in 1932 and didn't leave until 1937. During that time he grew to love the city, becoming active in the civic life of the community.

He was the first scoutmaster of Troop 14, and still thinks "it's the best troop in the country."

Though a Lutheran, he became a Sunday School teacher in the First Methodist Church. After 1937 he became state petroleum engineer for the Texas Railroad Commission, followed by a brief business venture.

In 1942 the Army cut short his budding career, and he became Pvt. Stein at $50 a day, once a month. The war became very personal for Pvt. Stein, who rose to captain before his discharge in 1948.

His brother, a master of 14 languages, was serving with German military intelligence. His mother lived in Kreuth, Germany, throughout the conflict. His brother was killed in the Russian campaign.

Boxer Charged With Assault

Eugene Cooper, 610 N. Gray, professional middleweight boxer was arraigned on an aggravated assault charge in County Court this morning. Judge Bruce Parker set bond at $1,000. Cooper pleaded not guilty.

County Attorney Don Cain said witnesses told him Cooper was involved in an argument with Mrs. Nelda Rogers, 1128 Duncan, in local cafe Saturday at 3 a.m. Cooper was reported by witnesses to have struck Mrs. Rogers in the face as the argument progressed to the sidewalk outside the cafe, Cain related.

Mrs. Rogers was taken to Highland General Hospital where Hospital Administrator Chet Lander reported her to be suffering from a broken jaw and a bruise on her head.

Mrs. Rogers' husband is serving with the army in Korea. Cooper, who was released on bail this morning, was formerly a state golden gloves champion in the late 1940s. No date has been set for the trial.

A-Tests To Begin Tuesday

Purpose To Keep Strength At Peak

By MURRAY MOLER

LAS VEGAS, Feb. 14—Officials Monday made final secret preparations for the first atomic explosion Tuesday of "Operation Teapot," a 1955 series of nuclear blasts designed to "keep our strength at peak level."

Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, here to witness the test, told newsmen Sunday that recent Soviet boasts of vast atomic stockpiles leave the U. S. with "no alternative but to keep our strength at peak level. The consequences of any other course would imperil our liberty, even our existence."

Strauss said the current series of tests also will "provide highly important data which can be obtained in no other manner on which to build a sound and effective system of civil defense."

AEC and Defense Department officials planned to announce at a news conference late Monday whether the nuclear device will be detonated from a tower and whether any troops will participate.

Scientists, meanwhile, kept a close watch on weather instruments for signs of weather disturbances which could postpone the initial "shot." Strong public protests regarding "fallout" from previous tests here and in the Pacific are being kept in mind and any unfavorable weather conditions would cause a postponement, even at the last minute.

But weather conditions appeared ideal and spokesmen said the experiment apparently would come off on time unless some link in the intricate firing chain should balk.

Strauss and test manager James E. Reeves said that the 1955 series of nuclear explosions would be about the same as the 1953 series here in number of devices tested and their power. Two years ago, 10 devices—few of the explosions are of completed weapons—were tested with their power ranging up to an estimated equivalent of 85,000 tons of TNT.

The series will be climaxed in mid-April with a major civil defense test involving a replica city now being built on the Nevada desert. Some 9,000 troops will participate.

Mild Weather Is In Forecast

Summery days and wintry nights have been the order of the day on the Pampa weather scene the last 24 hours and the same is forecast for the rest of the day.

The thermometer reached a high of 60 degrees Sunday afternoon and descended to one degree below freezing early this morning. By noon today, however, the mercury had run back up to 55.

Generally fair weather was forecast for today, according to the United Press. This morning skies were clear northwest of a line through Texarkana, Waco and Junction and partly cloudy to cloudy southeast of the line.

Saves Six Lives

Houston Youth Plays Hero Role

HOUSTON, Feb. 14—UP—An 11-year old boy played the hero's role in a near-tragedy Monday, saving six lives—including his own—when a gas heater burned up all the oxygen in a home overnight.

The boy, Kenneth Ariola, awoke dazed and "almost knocked out" from lack of oxygen. He saw his father, W. C. Ariola, 48, stagger from bed and fall unconscious.

School District Collections Up

The Pampa Independent School District today reported that a total of $720,925.21 has been collected of the $743,711 on the school tax rolls.

The City of Pampa a week ago reported its collections were 92.31 per cent of the $265,908.00 on the books.

Shivers' Tax Plan Comes Under Fire

AUSTIN, Feb. 14—UP—Administration proposals, backed by Gov. Allan Shivers, boosting the state tax on gasoline and cigars came under fire Monday from organized labor.

The 16-member executive board of the Texas State Federation of Labor (AFL) went on record endorsing the governor's proposals for soil and water conservation, highway construction, state hospital and special expansion and improvement, and old age pensions.

However, the group at their regular winter meeting Sunday, accused the administration of sponsoring a "creeping sales tax" in the form of the proposed gasoline and cigar levies.

Reminds of Campaign Promises
"We call upon the administration leaders" to adhere to their campaign promises against "sales taxes" and to find another route of taxation which will not bear heaviest on those least able to pay the executive board said in a formal resolution.

Federation officials agreed additional taxes were needed, but suggested needed revenue be raised through increased levies on natural resources — specifically mentioning oil, gas and sulphur.

A proposal by Rep. Curtis Ford, Corpus Christi, taxing natural gas exports was endorsed. About "two-thirds" of the natural gas, the resolution said, is being used outside the state and "effectively determining industries from establishing in Texas because they can get cheap Texas gas in other states."

Move into Second Month
As lawmakers moved into the second month of the 54th session, continuing investigation of the Veterans Land Board held top billing.

The Senate's general investigating committee, which is inquiring into the land program, met again at 8 a. m. Monday.

A special House committee conducting a separate inquiry into the $100 million program is in recess following two public meetings after the legislature adjourned last Thursday for the weekend. But it scheduled another meeting Thursday.

Dedication Plans Talked

The steering committee planning the dedication of the Canadian River Bridge, between Pampa and Perryton, met at noon today in Miami to set a dedication date.

On hand were to have been Fred Thompson, C. K. Reading and E. O. Wedgeworth, from Gray County; Woods Kings and C. E. Hanes, Roberts County; W. B. LaMaster and Johnny Mayfield, Ochiltree County; and members of the Roberts County Commissioners Court.

Reading, senior resident highway engineer in charge of bridge construction, has stated the bridge should be completed and ready for dedication sometime between April 20 and May 1. The steering committee was to pick the exact date today.

A guest list was also being prepared today. It will include Congressman Walter Rogers, Pampa, and members of the Texas Highway Commission.

Burns Fatal to Brown Resident

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Feb. 14—UP—Robert L. Story, 69, Conroe native and a resident of Brownwood since 1924, was burned fatally Sunday when fire destroyed his one room home.

Kenneth staggered to his mother's room and tugged at her till she was almost conscious. She tried to get up but collapsed and lay still.

Kenneth managed to awaken Barbara 18; Janice 8; and Marilyn 4, but they too were groggy and unable to help themselves. Kenneth staggered to the telephone.

Mrs. Lynette Meyer, 45, a telephone operator, took the call. She said all she could understand was a voice saying "they're all passing out."

Mrs. Meyer called police and the Harris county emergency corps. When officers arrived Kenneth, too, had succumbed. The entire Ariola family was unconscious. But they soon revived.

Demos Announce Convention Date

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—UP—Paul M. Butler said Monday the party's 1956 convention will begin July 23 in Chicago if no changes are made in certain state election laws.

Butler said that if certain states do change their election laws quickly to permit later conventions the Democratic convocation will open on Aug. 13, 1956.

Butler made the announcement as President Eisenhower met here with Republican party strategists to discuss the time and place of the 1956 GOP convention at which it is likely he will be nominated for a second term.

Suggests Law Changes
Butler suggested to Democratic leaders in several states possible changes in their state election laws to permit later presidential nominating conventions.

An examination of state statutes, he said, shows that several states require certification of the presidential candidates anywhere from 70 to 98 days before election day.

For instance, Connecticut requires that candidates be certified to election officers as early as Aug. 15. That would make it impossible to hold conventions after or near that date.

He announced that members of the Democratic National committee in a mail poll had voted to hold the 1956 convention in Chicago as unanimously recommended by the site committee.

Butler said that opening the Democratic convention on July 23 is the "latest possible date" in view of the existing laws.

Prefers Later Date
The Democratic national committee prefers a later convention date and a shorter campaign. Butler noted that the Republicans also would prefer a later convention and briefer campaign.

Mr. Eisenhower huddled with the Republican leaders after returning from a week end at the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey. He bagged two quail and a common cold.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall requested Monday's conference on 1956 procedure. The Citizens To Talk Water Bond Vote

The public meeting on the city's proposed $200,000 water improvement bond issue will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Palm Room of City Hall.

The city bond issue election will be held Feb. 26. Only property-owning taxpayers who have paid poll taxes or received exemptions will be eligible to vote.

Mayor Tom Rose, the four commissioners, City Mgr. Fred Brook, City Director of Public Works James Cowan and City Atty. Bob Gordon are expected to be on hand for the public information session. Various city officials are also expected to make the "service club circuit" before the election date.

Expect Early Red Attack On Nanchi

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 14—UP—The Nationalists prepared Monday to evacuate civilians from the tiny northern outpost island of Nanchi in expectation of an early Communist attack.

Nanchi lies 120 miles north of Formosa and became Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's northern block to Red Chinese island-hopping forces with the loss of the Tachens. Some of the Tachen garrison was reported transferred there.

Military sources said 2,000 civilians on the island would be brought out starting Tuesday in order to avoid casualties, but Gen. Peng Meng-Chi, the Nationalist commander, said the island was not being evacuated but would be defended at all costs.

The island front was reported quiet Monday although heavy concentrations of American warships were still reported north of Formosa. There was no new report of Communist shelling of Quemoy island just off the Red Chinese port of Amoy.

Chinese Communist artillery and Nationalist artillery on Quemoy fought a three-hour battle Sunday afternoon until the Nationalists silenced the Red guns, the military information service reported.

The announcement said Red units firing from tiny Tatang island, one of the islands forming a half moon around Quemoy, lobbed about 250 shells onto Quemoy's main defense installations.

Military observers in Taipei were convinced the Communists would strike soon against either Quemoy, which is just opposite Formosa, or against Matsu which is halfway between Quemoy and the abandoned Tachens.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek said the two islands were essential to the defense of Formosa and that it had been made clear the United States would help defend them from Communist attack.

Citizens Is County Bank

Citizens Bank and Trust Co. today was awarded the contract as county depository for the next two years.

The Gray County Commissioners Court made the award, as it must do every February after a general election year. The county had a total of $550,000 on hand Jan. 31.

Only other action the court had taken by noon today was the payment of bills.

On the agenda for the remainder of the day was a discussion of procuring right-of-way on U. S. Hwy. 60 from the Pampa city limits to the rodeo grounds entrance and the insuring of various county buildings. In the latter, the insurance will be spread around among qualified Pampa insurance firms.

Merged Unions Eye Political Comeback

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—UP—The AFL-CIO merger agreement is largely the product of frustrations in politics and in union organization. It is in these fields that the big new house of labor will push for power.

The political frustrations of the two federations have centered in the 1947 Taft-Hartley act and, more recently, in the labor and economic policies of the Republican administration.

Also, since World War II, their membership has not grown beyond the 15 million mark, while the civilian labor force has risen by 3.5 million to about 63.5 million.

But, as in any far-reaching agreement, the force of personalities was required to make the merger possible. With the death in 1952 of both long-time union leaders — AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray — their successors brought new attitudes toward labor unity.

Advantage In Partnership
AFL President George Meany was willing to negotiate with the CIO on the terms under which the CIO would return to the original house of labor after an absence of 20 years. And CIO President Walter Reuther believed that his organization and all of labor would be better off in partnership rather than in rivalry with the AFL.

Henry G. Riter, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, greeted the merger agreement last week as a danger of "union monopoly" of labor. Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (R-N. Y.), of the

Soviets Add Support To Chinese Claim

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 14—UP—The Soviet Union reaffirmed its support of Communist China's claims on Formosa Monday and diplomats braced for new Russian demands that the United Nations debate its resolution branding the United States an aggressor there.

The Security Council met to resume its discussions on a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, but diplomats believed no decisive action would be taken in hopes "secret diplomacy" could work out a solution to the crisis.

The council has been in recess since Jan. 31 when Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai was invited to send representatives here to discuss a New Zealand plan for an end of hostilities in the Strait. Chou bluntly rejected the invitation and asked that the Russian resolution be debated instead.

Attention on Soviets
Attention centered on Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev. He was expected to repeat his demand for early consideration of the Russian resolution and perhaps to revive Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's suggestion—rejected by the western powers—for an international conference on Formosa that would exclude Nationalist China.

Observers believed the western delegates would suggest that the Security Council hold up action on the New Zealand motion "pending developments." The New Zealand move has precedence over the Soviet resolution and the Russian resolution would have to be delayed.

Peiping radio and Moscow radio gave plenty of clues to what to expect. The two governments exchanged a series of congratulatory messages on the fifth anniversary of the signing of the Soviet-Chinese treaty of alliance and both claimed Formosa for Peiping.

Calls for Sanctions
Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in a press conference in Taipei, meanwhile called on the United Nations to impose sanctions against Communist China and rejected the thought of Peiping's sending representatives to the Security Council.

Advice For Those Who Own Business

By RICHARD A. MULLENS, Written for NEA Service

The businessman will not find much change in the 1954 schedule for reporting the profit or loss from his business or profession. It is still called Schedule C and is a separate form which must be attached to Form 1040.

Although the form looks much the same, there have been important changes in some of the computation rules for business such as reserves for estimated expenses and prepaid income, research and experimental expenditures, and depreciation.

These changes are extremely technical. If your business income is large enough to warrant professional advice, it is well worth your personal attention to your tax situation under the new code.

Some of you, however, may have only a small sideline business with relatively little property and income. If you have kept proper records during the year, you should be able to fill out Schedule C yourself with the help of the official instructions and this article of the Tax Primer.

Only persons in business by themselves should use Schedule C. This means the man who owns his own shop or practices a profession by himself. Do not use Schedule C to report income from a partnership or any payments received as an employee.

Even though you are an employee, you may also operate a separate business on the side. In that case, report your employment income on page 1 of Form 1040 and your business income and expenses on Schedule C.

Before filling out Schedule C, read over the information on Page 7 of the official instructions under "Business or Profession." Then refer to a copy of Schedule C as you read the following tips:

Line 1 calls for your total receipts. This is largely a matter of keeping adequate records throughout the year. If you made any allowances from your total receipts, or discounts, subtract such amounts from your total receipts as indicated on the form.

If you produce, buy or sell merchandise, use lines 2 to 10 to compute and deduct the cost of the goods sold. The important thing in this computation is to show the correct amount of inventory on hand at Jan. 1, 1954, on line 2, and the inventory on hand at Dec. 31, 1954, on line 9. The official instructions tell how to figure inventory.

You may have difficulty in determining which expenses you may deduct on the various lines provided. Deductions must meet the following three requirements: 1. Expenses must be incurred in your trade or business.

2. Expense must not be for a capital item. This means that if you buy something which would ordinarily last more than one year or if you improve your property, such expenditure is not deductible except through depreciation spread over the life of the property.

3. The expense must be ordinary and necessary in the carrying on of your business. Do not deduct expenditures from your business for your own personal or family comfort.

Deductions are allowed to professional and business men for expenses incurred in attending business conventions in other cities. However, if you take your wife or family along as part of a vacation, their expenses cannot be deducted.

Crazed Bronc Injures 15 Rodeo Fans

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 14—UP

At least 15 rodeo fans were injured, two seriously, when a crazed wild bronc broke out of a corral and thundered down a corridor of the El Paso Coliseum Sunday, scattering the panicked crowd, and toppling concession stands.

The wild-eyed and snorting bronc, named "Cropy," broke through an unattached gate and tore down the corridor earlier, throwing its rider, Ike Lambertson, and being placed in the exit chute. The incident occurred during Sunday's final performance of the Southwestern Championship rodeo.

Fans were gathered in the corridor near concession stands inside the building. "Cropy" bucked through the terrified, screaming crowd and ran the entire length of the corridor under grandstand seats, knocking over fans carrying popcorn, drinks and hot dogs and knocking concession stands aside.

Two persons, Mrs. Ester Danford, 31, of El Paso and Leticia Ortiz, 31, suffered serious head injuries and possible skull fractures. Other fans received lacerations and some were treated for shock.

Officials of the rodeo-sponsoring Chamber of Commerce gave an emphatic "no comment" to all questions about the runaway bronc by newsmen. Employees said they had been ordered by officials not to talk to reporters.

The horse was captured and brought back to the corral after it ran outside the coliseum building. In Sunday's finals of the rodeo: Jim Shouder, 1954 champion bull rider from Henryetta, Okla., took top money in bareback riding at this year's El Paso show and won a cash prize of $713.98.

Casey Tibbs, 1954 saddle bronc riding champ from Pierre, S.D., won $500.85 in bareback riding. Saddle bronc riding was won by Lee Roberts of Batesland, S.D., who got $291.60. Deb Capenhaver, Post Falls, Idaho, won $218.70.

Benny Combs, Checotah, Okla., had an average time of 25.7 seconds to win in steer wrestling and a $390.26 prize. Harry Tompkins of Dublin, Tex., won $244.93 in bull riding contests.

Cpl. Bobby Seals of William Beaumont Army hospital, El Paso, won the calf-roping purse of $531.60 with an average time of 19.5 seconds. Snooky, owned and ridden by Milt Bennett of Enns, Tex., won $192 and high honors in the cutting horse contest.

Neutral Hierarchy For Civil Service Asked By Commission

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—UP

The Hoover Commission called Monday for a "senior civil service" of 1,500 politically neutral executives to keep the government running at top efficiency regardless of switches in party power.

The commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, made the recommendation in the first of a series of reports to Congress on its year-and-a-half government reform study.

In addition to the "senior civil service," the commission also proposed an unspecified additional number of administration-picked executives to carry out and defend official policies.

At the same time, a "task force" created by the commission denounced the practice by present and past administrations and members of Congress of both parties requiring political clearance for federal jobs. It accused the Eisenhower administration of weakening civil service program, and urged abolition of the patronage or "spoils" system of giving federal jobs as political rewards.

The same task force called for creation of a "distinguished panel" to investigate the administration's personnel security program. It said the program has "raised many questions" and "depressed morale."

The commission itself did not allude to the task force charges in its report but sent them along to Congress without comment. The commission and its task force split on the issue of veterans' federal job rights. The task force, headed by President Harold W. Doodis of Princeton University, called for heavy reduction or outright abolition of most veterans' privileges. The commission recommended much less severe trimming.

Congress Wouldn't Go Along Informed sources said the 12-member commission, which includes four members of Congress, refrained from stronger recommendations on this score because it knew Congress would not adopt them.

The commission was created in mid-1953 to study and make recommendations for reorganization of the executive branch of the government. It is a second edition of a commission, also headed by Mr. Hoover, that made a series of government reform proposals during the Truman administration. Many now are in effect.

In Monday's recommendations, the commission called for higher pay for top-level government managers; placement of more jobs under civil service; elimination of political clearances for some 32,000 political appointees; and an end to political appointment of U.S. marshals and field officials of the customs bureau and U.S. mint.

Nugent Trial In 20th Day

FORT SILL, Okla., Feb. 14—UP

The collaboration trial of Army Maj. Ambrose Nugent enters its 20th day Tuesday with defense attorneys expected to start calling witnesses.

Nugent, 45-year-old career soldier from Merrill, Wis., now faces nine counts of collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner in Korea. The court martial board agreed Friday that the Army could not prove four of the specifications and they were thrown out. His defense attorneys said they were very pleased with the recent developments.

The prosecution rested its case last Thursday after presenting 18 days of testimony from 22 witnesses, mostly men who were prisoners in North Korea with Nugent. The defendant spent more than three years as a POW.

BLUE YONDER TALK

Milton Caniff (left), creator of the adventure strip "Steve Canyon," gives advance information on his hero's career to Air Force Vice Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas D. White. Gen. White eulogized Caniff at a recent dinner in Dayton, Ohio, as the man who had "made the greatest single contribution to public understanding" of air defense. "Steve Canyon" appears in The Pampa Daily News.

East German Police Involved In Orgies

BERLIN, Feb. 14—UP—East German Communists have arrested six Soviet sector policemen and suspended 22 police officials for indulging in six orgies while on duty, a West Berlin private intelligence organization reported Monday.

Florida GOP Goes To Bat For Negroes

MIAMI, Feb. 14—UP—The Dade County Republican Executive Committee Monday threatened legal action against a hotel which ordered 24 Negro guests to leave a Lincoln Day dinner Saturday night.

Chairman Wesley Garrison called a meeting of the committee to discuss the incident which led to a noisy walkout of some 150 other guests of the downtown Urmy hotel.

Committee attorney Mark Casper said he will recommend that a civil suit for "$250,000 to $500,000" be filed against the hotel.

Hotel President E. N. Cloughton ordered the Negroes to leave because "this place is for whites only," Garrison himself led the walkout.

Pampans Fined, Jailed For DWI

Two Pampans pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated this morning in County Court. They were fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Bruce Parker. Their driver's licenses were suspended for six months.

Briggs Widow Rites Pending

MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 14—UP—Funeral services will be arranged in Detroit for Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, Sr., widow of a famed automobile pioneer and widely known sportsman. Mrs. Briggs, 72, died here Sunday.

Mrs. Briggs' body was sent to Detroit Sunday night. Her late husband was owner of the Detroit Tigers baseball team and chairman of the Briggs Manufacturing Co., an auto body firm.

Ike Proposals Due Passage, Says Martin

HOUSTON, Feb. 14—UP—House minority leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) predicted Sunday night that congress will pass three vital proposals of President Eisenhower.

The congressman, visiting philanthropist Hugh Roy Cullen here en route to Dallas for a speech Monday, foresaw:

1. Passage of the administration health re-insurance bill, defeated last year.
2. Reduction by 5 per cent a year for the next three years, of tariffs under extension of reciprocal trade agreements.
3. Approval of a bill allowing the government to loan states money for school house building in school districts that cannot finance such projects.

"Objectionable Features" Martin said "some objectionable features" have been removed from the medical re-insurance bill and he has heard no "real opposition" to it.

"The tariff bill will go through with possibly some amendments," he said, "but you must remember that a 3 per cent reduction does not mean that a tariff will be lowered from, say, 20 to 15 per cent. It would be reduced 5 per cent of 20 per cent and the tariff would then be about 19 per cent."

Martin said the loaning of federal money to states for school construction would not interfere with state control of the public schools.

"I would be one of the first to oppose federal control of schools," he said.

Rep. Martin praised the President's action on Formosa and said "the Formosa resolution is a step toward peace — the mere laying down of a policy will prevent the Red Chinese from attacking."

"The Communists do not want to fight a war they cannot win," he said, "and I don't believe Russia will permit Red China to attack Formosa."

Former Cop Faces Charge Of Bribery

HOUSTON, Feb. 14—UP—A former Baytown, Tex. police chief and Tommy Bush, a tavern owner with a penchant for beating up girl friends, faced bribery charges here Monday.

T. L. Parker, an investigator for the Harris county district attorney's office, filed charges with Justice of the Peace Tom Maes.

He said Bush and H. E. McKee, the former Baytown police chief, tried to bribe a witness in an assault case against Bush.

The witness was James C. West, Baytown. He said he was promised $50 but didn't get it.

Bush, whom police have nicknamed the "clobbering Casanova," was charged with assaulting West last Dec. 4. Parker said the bribe offer was made several weeks ago during a meeting between McKee, Bush and West.

After the meeting, Parker said, West called Assistant District Attorney George Miller and said he was leaving town and didn't want to testify against Bush.

Parker said West admitted the bribe attempt.

Both McKee and Bush were arrested Saturday night and posed $500 bonds each after charges were filed Sunday.

MERGER

The federations also hope, by combining their forces, to carry more weight in matters of state and federal legislation, administration policy and in political campaigns. So far, they have failed, separately, to get even the amendments they want for the Taft-Hartley act. They have chafed under new interpretations of the act by the first Republican majority on the National Labor Relations Board.

And they have failed to budge the "hands-off" policy of the Republican administration in labor-management disputes.

One important political factor in the merger is the elimination of the opportunity for politicians to play the two federations against each other, and, on the other hand, for one federation to vie with the other for political favor.

United Press Staff Correspondent State lawmakers are underpaid compared with congressmen and must make a living on the side while shaping the states' laws, a United Press survey of nine Southwestern states discloses.

The pay scale ranged from $5 a day plus $7 expenses in Kansas to $30 a day in Louisiana.

As a result of this need to earn a living while making laws, most legislatures meet but four and five days a week. Unlike congressmen, state legislators must get voters approval for pay hikes.

Congressmen draw $15,000 a year plus $2,500 expense money. Bills are before the Congress to raise members' pay to $22,500 and $25,000 a year.

Generally, pay of legislators was fixed years ago when state constitutions were written, and, except in a few instances, few changes have been made in the wage scale.

Governors and attorneys general fare little better, the scale ranging from $25,000 for Texas' governor to $6,000 in Arkansas. Texas pays its attorney general $20,000; Arkansas only $6,000.

All states in the survey except Colorado furnish the governor a mansion and funds to operate it, this amount varying from $9,000 annually in Oklahoma to more than $17,000 in Missouri.

Here's what the survey showed pay of legislators:

Colorado: $3,600 a year for two years; two sessions limited to total of 120 days.

Wyoming: $12 per day for limit of 40 calendar days—total $480.

Texas: $25 a day limited to 120 days, then nothing.

Louisiana $30 Daily Louisiana: $30 a day for 60 days during even-numbered years, 30 days during odd-numbered years.

Missouri: $125 a month per year regardless of length of session, plus $10 a day for expenses every day they answer the first roll call of the day.

Oklahoma: $15 a day for 75 legislative days but members are paid for seven days a week, regardless of how many days they work; only actual legislative work days are counted against the 75 days.

Kite Sends Death Volts Into Child WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Feb. 14. Donney Dee Taylor, 12, was electrocuted Sunday when his wire kite string came in contact with a high voltage line.

His father, J. Merrill Taylor, found the boy and unsuccessfully administered artificial respiration. Donney Dee was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

The four men escaped Sunday by luring a jailer into their cell block confronting him with a homemade knife, then arming themselves with butcher knives from the jail kitchen and locking up jailer Fred Ford and radio dispatcher John Cranston in a first-floor cell.

The jailbreakers then took Ford's keys and drove away in his automobile after rifling the jail office of some $80 being held for about 20 prisoners.

Metaxas said he had the money, in bills of $100, $20, $10, and $5 denomination, wrapped in a towel under the truck seat. He said he handed the towel to one of the Negroes and the other grabbed his ignition key.

Metaxas flagged down another truck driver and told him to report to the sheriff's office that he had been robbed of his money and key.

The other trucker, not identified, apparently thought he said "kid" and officers put out an alert for two kidnapers of a small child.

The error was discovered an hour later.

Metaxas said he made regular trips once or twice a week to Lawtell, La., to buy sweet potatoes and always paid for them with cash. Officers theorized the two Negroes might have known that and followed Metaxas.

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY! This is the day we are supposed to let our loved ones know how much we think of them. Maybe we should have more Valentine Days throughout the year! Our column today deals with tips on sewing, written by Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, and hints on how to fix up a studio room by yourself.

"With the new man-made fabrics on the market today, the home seamstress often wonders how to handle them. In order to produce a professional-looking garment, special attention should be given to stitching.

"It is necessary that you know what your fabric is. That is, from what fibers it is made. You should choose the stitch length; kind of thread; the size of the needle; based on these differences. The machine should be run at a moderate speed.

"When using nylon thread, the bobbin should be loosely wound. The top and the bottom tensions should both be as loose as possible to still be satisfactory stitching. Size "A" nylon or silk thread is best. The tension should be a little tighter, when sewing with silk thread and number 100 cotton thread should have a slightly tighter tension than silk.

"Generally, a small needle, 9 to 11, is best. Eighteen to 20 stitches per inch is best for sheer, closely woven fabrics. Fourteen to 16 stitches per inch are used on less sheer fabrics.

"Wide hems are appropriate because these materials ravel easily. Good edge finishes are obtained by edge-stitching, stitching with a zig-zagger or by turning under the edges and stitching. Use sharp shears and fine pointed pins. Light weight seam-thin zippers are best to use on the sheer fabrics.

"Use a wet press cloth and set the iron for nylon or rayon. A steam iron can also be used, but a thin press cloth should be placed over seams to be pressed."

The February issue of "Seventeen" features a "Do-it-Yourself Workshop" to help girls paint, paper and assemble the furniture for a custom-made studio room. The Next meeting will be Mar. 7, with Mrs. A. C. Brown.

FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY, sour cherry pie with pastry hatches is the perfect dessert.

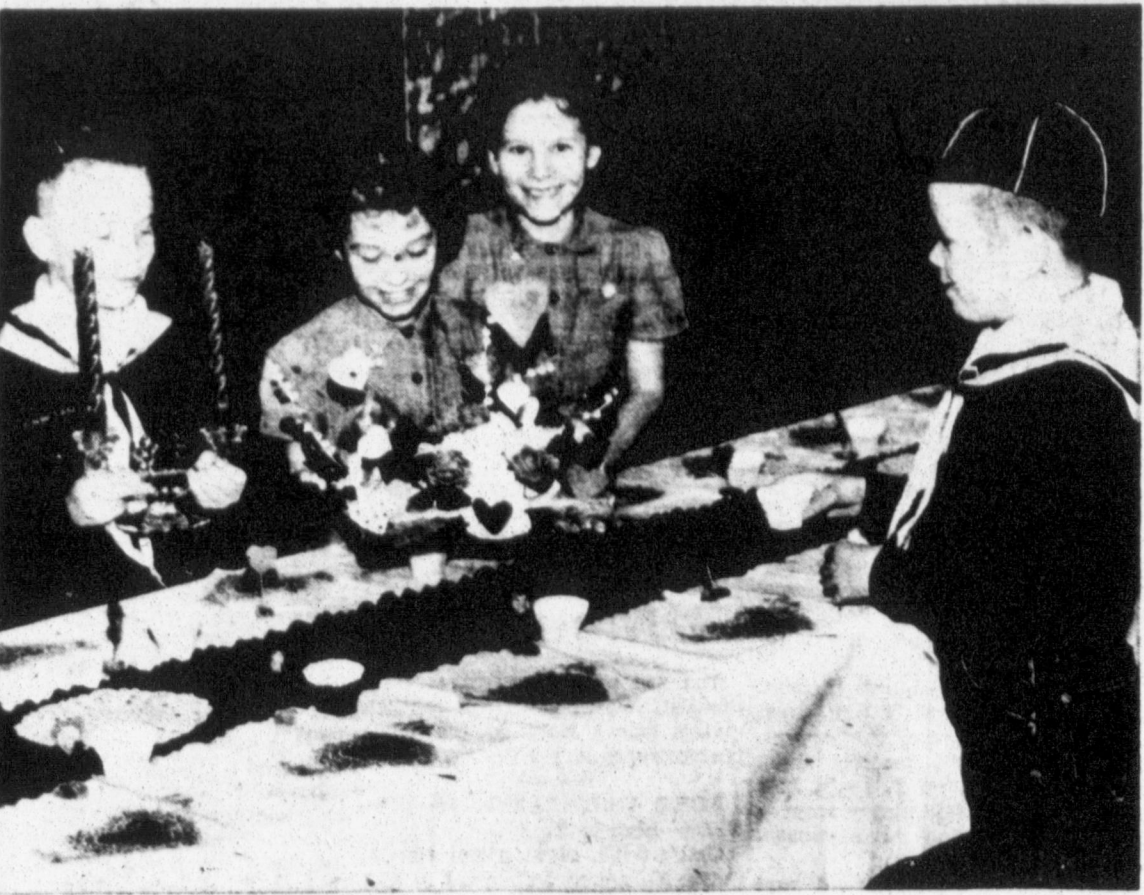

COOK'S NOOK

Washington's Birthday Pie Made From Sour Cherries

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
We just tried a cherry pie recipe and everyone in our house thinks it would be perfect for Washington's birthday. It uses canned sour cherries and quick-cooking rice cereal as a thickening agent.

Two tablespoons quick-cooking rice cereal, 1 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 2 No. 2 cans water-packed sour pitted cherries, well-drained, 1 cup liquid drained from cherries, 2 tablespoons sherry or cognac, if desired, 9-inch baked pastry shell, 6 hatchet-shaped pastry cutouts.

Combine rice cereal, brown sugar, salt, allspice, well-drained cherries, and 1 cup liquid from cherries in 2-quart saucepan. Cook, stirring frequently, until mixture comes to boil. Lower heat and let simmer for 5 minutes. Add sherry or cognac, if desired, and remove from heat. Cool, stirring once after 15 or 20 minutes. Pour into pastry shell just before serving and garnish top with hatchet cutouts. Here's another recipe that could be used for Washington's birthday.

Bethany SS Class Has Social Meeting

Mrs. James Bailey was hostess to the social meeting of Bethany Sunday School Class, Central Baptist Church.

After playing games, members revealed secret pals. Refreshments of angel food cake and coffee were served.

BABY

If school age youngsters come home for lunch, it's important to them that you be there and eat with them. They pine to tell you all about it and to ask you questions — right away. If you have your hair done or shop, arrange it so you can be there most of the time. If you must be out now and then, they will understand more readily if you've tried to share lunch hours the rest of the time.

If you go downstairs or away to a park to have baby play, follow the lead of the step-saving urbane mothers. Carry a bag — one of those plaid things with a zipper — or a big plastic bag — full of the moppet's favorite tops. Give him one when you put him in the sandpile. When he wearies of it, put it away and get out another. Don't carry only one, or give him a lot at once. Many mothers have painted the family name on the popular dump truck or pail in nail polish for ease in collecting to go home.

If you read out loud to baby, you need to make the Dragon so-o rowly and the Princess tiny-tinkly. He gets the drama out of the story and will resent your interruptions. Story-tellers in big libraries, where the kids, active or not, flock to listen, tell a story simply and easily. They allow brief interruptions, but not long speeches. They may show pictures as they go. But they do not feel they're acting the story out.

RUTH MILLET

Most women spend a lot of time and energy getting ready for a party in order to look their very best.

But many of them overlook one important preparation. They don't take that extra 15 minutes to run up the stairs to their bedrooms to give a little of themselves to other guests.

For thought gives one a chance to remember the compliment that can be passed along, the inquiry that shows one is interested in another's concerns, the bit of news that will be appreciated.

Most people lead such busy lives today that even those who greet to enjoy each other's company sometimes meet but rarely. For that reason it is important to make the most of occasions when one sees a number of persons he knows and likes.

But unless a little something is given to each person one is likely to see at a party, the opportunity to share something of mutual interest is often passed by.

How often have you thought after leaving a person, "I should have told him about such-and-such?"

So next time you are getting ready for a party, take a few minutes to think about the other persons there.

What are you going to have to offer them? You'll need something besides a pretty dress, a becoming hairstyle, and a skillful job of make-up.

Holy Souls Women Scheduled To Hear Rev. Hartigan Talk

Rev. Edmund Hartigan of St. Joseph's parish, Amarillo, will be guest speaker at the covered dish luncheon of Holy Souls Parish Council of Catholic Women at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Parish Hall. The event is in observance of Catholic Press Month.

Father Hartigan is well-known through his appearances on the television program, "Religious Questions," each Sunday at 1 p.m. The program features a panel of ministers of the Protestant, Jewish and Catholic faiths.

Born in Tipperary County, Ireland, Father Hartigan attended high school and college at Mount St. Mary's College, across the Shannon from the International Airport in Ireland. He attended St. Patrick's Seminary, County Tipperary, and was ordained June 13, 1942. He arrived in Amarillo the fall of that year and was appointed assistant at Sacred Heart Cathedral. In 1947 he was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Rotan with the mission of St. Mary's Church in Spur. He returned to Amarillo in 1951 as pastor of St. Mary's, where he served until May, 1953, when the new parish of St. Joseph's was organized.

Hostesses for the luncheon will be Meses, Roger Farrow, E. V. Svoboda, S. E. Burnham and Ralph Palmer. Each member is to bring a guest.

Weatherred Saves For You -- He Sand Blasts, Spray Paints

"Red" Weatherred, your painting contractor, has the answer to your big question: how to do it, and keep costs down.

The answer is: get A. L. "Red" Weatherred to spray paint your plant, or to clean it by sand blasting. Telephone him at 4-4001. If he is not there you probably can find him at 4-6881, the Panhandle Lumber Co. Call on him at 1322 Charles.

You save more than half your painting cost because Red spray paints your plant, your smoke stack, radio tower, roof — any large structure — so much faster than any painter could do by brush painting.

You also save time on work interruptions because Red works so efficiently he helps you maintain your production.

Red's sand blasting also is fast and efficient to help you hold interruptions down. His speed and efficiency helps you keep your plant in top condition.

Gas Plant Jobs
Weatherred has just finished sandblasting and painting the interior of a vessel at the Magnolia Gasoline Plant at Ulysses, Kan. He also spray painted a radio tower there.

Soon he will spray paint the Cities Service Gasoline Plant west of Pampa, and he will sand blast and paint the butane tanks for J. S. Skelly L. P. Gas Co. here. Now Red is brush painting three houses and the office of the Humble Oil Co. at Spearman.

Has Know-How
Each of Red's jobs gets his special attention, a fact that means the "right" protection for the metal or wood building materials, and the most eye-pleasing feature paint can produce.

Red has the know-how, the knowledge of paints, how to protect materials before painting, the way to apply paint both for protection and beauty. He can give you the greatest number of years of protection for your gas or gasoline plant, store, office building, home.

Weatherred has been a painting contractor in Pampa for the past 30 years and intends to go right on contracting to paint structures in Pampa. He is building his reputation on careful, conscientious, efficient and speedy work. No short cuts. No wasted time.

Guarantees Work
Red guarantees satisfaction on his work.

That guarantee and Red's policy of working only with top painters from plant operators, business men, home owners and landlords get a really good job — one that will add to the beauty of the building, and add to the life of the building. Weatherred adopted that policy to make sure that every job is done his style — as well as human beings can do it. The pay off is this: the paint job lasts longer and looks good longer and gives protection longer.

That policy also means that Red does a neat job for you, that he leaves you with a neat plant, office, home, one with which you will be pleased.

Does Sand Blasting
Call Red Weatherred to sand blast any stone or brick structure, any metal building or tank, even a truck!

He can make even a painted brick building look like new.

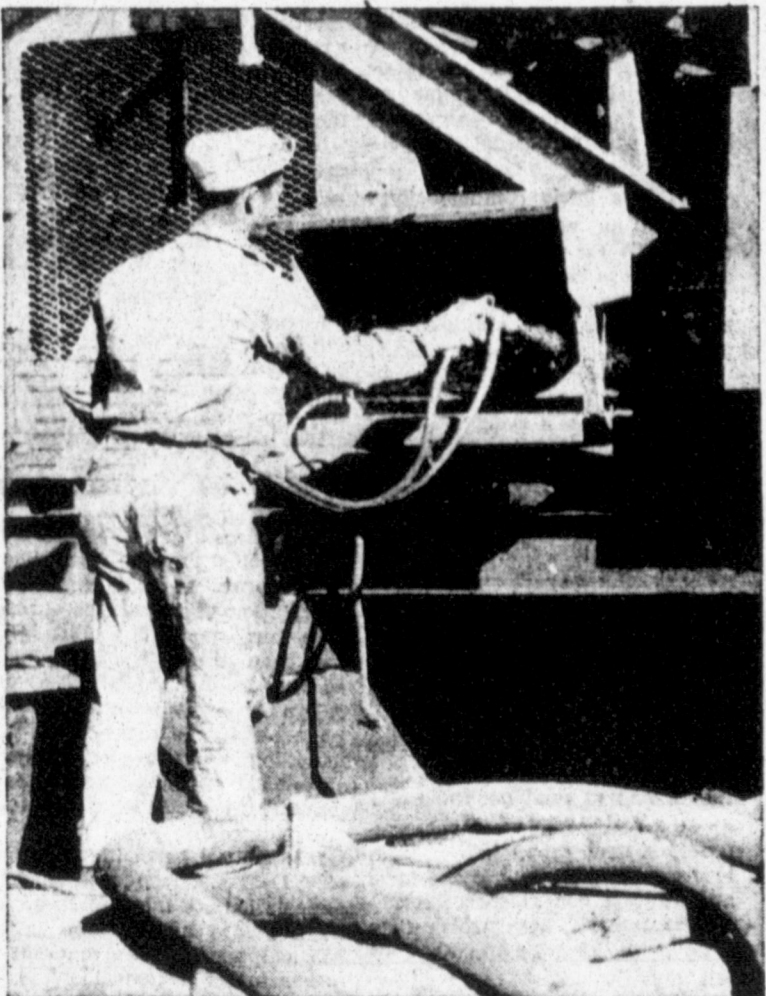

He can clean that industrial dirt off your gasoline plant or gas tank, or truck. He has sand blasted, cleaned gasoline plants, interior and exterior of tanks, ready-mix cement trucks, oil field equipment, smoke stacks.

Weatherred cleans tanks, treats them to resist corrosion, rust.

Efficient Work
Like his spray painting, Red's sand blasting is thorough, efficient, fast and neat. Weatherred insists on a conscientious job. He works steadily, efficiently so that your normal use of buildings and equipment is kept at the maximum.

CLEANING A TRUCK — One of A. L. "Red" Weatherred's co-workers is shown cleaning — sand blasting — one of the Transmix Concrete and Material Co. concrete mixing trucks. This job is an illustration of the variety of work Weatherred does by sand blasting; gasoline refineries, gas plants, tanks, (interior and exterior), brick, stone and metal structures and buildings. Red's work is efficient, fast, neat. Call him at 4-4001 or 4-6881.

PAINTING A RIG — By spray painting this cable tool drilling rig for Hamp Waddell, drilling contractor and oil producer, "Red" Weatherred is saving money for Mr. Waddell. Spray painting is so much faster than brush painting you often save half and more of your painting costs. When Weatherred does the job you get the benefit of his thorough workmanship and knowledge of painting — you know your building materials will get maximum protection from the job, and that your building (home or plant) will have all the beauty paint can give it. Get your free estimate from Red — 4-4001 or 4-6881.

When he has finished one part of the job Red picks up all his tools and cleans up after his work. You return to a neat, area, sand-blasted clean.

Rents Compressors
Of course Weatherred has all his own equipment, including a small air compressor for spray painting and a large air compressor to use with power tools. He will rent both of them.

Peru Won't Talk About Coast Limit
LIMA, Feb. 14 — UP — Peru has refused to discuss with the United States its fight to enforce a "200-mile limit" against foreign fishermen off its shores unless Chile and Ecuador are invited to sit in, it was announced Saturday.

A note sent Friday to the U. S. embassy pointed out the three South American countries are partners in an effort to monopolize the rich fishing grounds of the Humboldt current, and they will negotiate together or not at all. The question arose when the

Peruvian note said the captains of the two captured fishing boats had effectively acknowledged Peru's right to enforce the limit when they paid their fines "without reserving the right to later claim."

The robin is "the most abundant bird in the United States."

Let Benny Ormson Repair Your Car And Do It Right

"He's very good."
That is what motorists say after Benny Ormson works on their automobiles, and trucks.
Benny owns and operates Ormson's Garage, 1308 Alcock, telephone 4-7592.

Motorists like Benny's work because he knows automobiles, has the equipment to turn out accurate repairs quickly, and works only with "the best mechanics."

Use Instruments
There was a time when mechanics used the old "feel" system to make adjustments on automobile motors, transmissions, brakes. Not any more. Bring your car to Orm-son's Garage where Benny and his co-worker, Claud Edwards — a top mechanic, have used the most modern instruments.

These instruments cut time required to set and adjust working parts of the car, like the timer, carburetor, fuel pump. Ormson and Edwards use these and many other instruments as they check over an automobile.

These instruments help Ormson to improve your automobile, and help you with the bill because they have many minutes of a mechanic's time.

Speed Work
Ormson and Edwards use these instruments and many others to speed the repair of your automobile, and to insure the accuracy of their work.

Benny Ormson insists that every car leaves his garage in the best possible condition. To be sure that he would have enough time to work conscientiously on each automobile and still take care of his clients, Ormson brought Claud Edwards into the garage to work with him.

Ormson's habitual double check on each automobile is your "extra" — your special safeguard that your automobile is "right" when it leaves Ormson's Garage. Of course he guarantees satisfaction on his work.

Specialties
Benny specializes in hydromatic, front end, engine, brake and electrical work.

He has attended auto maintenance schools in each of these specialties in addition to his general automotive studies. Ormson, who has been working actively on automobiles since the days of the Model T, has studied and worked on each improvement as the automobile developed from the "simple" cars of years ago to the modern, complicated precision automobiles.

Hum Like New
Bring your automobile to Ormson. Let him tune it, over haul it. You will be sure your car will hum like new when he has finished his work. You will have a car that will give you thousands of additional miles of care-free motoring.

His work will pump new life into your automobile, will save you many worries and dollars.

Drive in, talk with Benny Ormson. You will like Ormson's Garage and the work they do there: 1308 Alcock (Borger Highway), telephone 4-7592.

Meat Prices At New Low

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 — UP — Retail prices of the 14 most popular meat cuts and items this week averaged lower than at any time during the last year, the American Meat Institute reported Saturday.

Pork contributed most to the decline, the institute said, averaging between 10 and 25 per cent below prices of a year ago.
Sliced bacon, for example was selling 22 cents a pound less than a year ago in Chicago and was typical of prices elsewhere, the report said.

11 States Seek Cut In Oil Imports

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14 — UP — Governors of 11 major oil producing states will seek an audience with President Eisenhower soon to ask that he help reduce imports of foreign oil, Oklahoma Gov. Raymond Gary said Saturday.

Gary said plans for the White House visit were made at a meeting Friday in St. Louis of the executive committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. Gary returned here Saturday from St. Louis.

Gov. William Stratton of Illinois will arrange details of the meeting, Gary said.

Gary said Oklahoma's oil production slump is having a depressing effect on the state's economy. Mr. Eisenhower previously has imposed tighter restrictions on oil imports, but Gary said he believes the President would benefit from information the governors have on the present situation.

Gary said Rocky Mountain States should adopt conservation and proration laws similar to Oklahoma's. Part of Oklahoma's production decline is blamed on increased purchases of crude oil in Wyoming, Colorado, Montana and adjacent states.

The Oklahoma legislature has before it a bill which, in effect, would liberalize Oklahoma proration laws by requiring the Corporation Commission to set a minimum allowable of 25 barrels daily per well on a lease basis. The proposal has been sought by independent oilmen with shallow wells. Major producers have opposed the measure.

Brazil Editor Demands A Coffee Probe

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 14 — UP — Carlos Lacerda, crusading editor who was a central figure in the upheaval that drove President Getulio Vargas to suicide, Saturday demanded a congressional investigation of Brazil's coffee crisis.

Lacerda, who is a congressman as well as editor of the newspaper Tribuna da Imprensa, introduced a bill with the co-sponsorship of 32 other legislators calling for creation of a special committee to "study the coffee crisis, and steps necessary to cope with the situation."

Competent observers said a really thorough investigation of the government's coffee operations "could have far-reaching political as well as economic effects."

The crisis was set off by Vargas' efforts last July to peg the minimum export price of coffee at 87 cents a pound. Coffee sales plummeted, and have not yet returned to normal although the export price has been reduced to 55 cents a pound.

John L. Lewis Is 75 Years Old

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 — UP — John L. Lewis observed his 75th birthday Saturday with no fanfare. The United Mine Workers' chief planned to spend a quiet day with his children and grandchildren and then head south for his annual vacation, probably to fish a little and read a few mystery stories.

His associates reported Lewis' health is good and that he hasn't even had his usual winter cold this year.

Needle Shower
WICHITA, Kan. — UP — Surgery was required to relieve Marvin Heffner's unusual stomach ache. A needle was removed from the 34-year-old Wichita's abdomen. Seems he slipped in his bathtub, grabbed a shelf, knocked the needle from it into the tub and then fell on the sliver of steel.

Hollywood Picks Ten For 'Oscars'

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14 — UP — Judy Garland, Grace Kelly, Jane Wyman, Audrey Hepburn, Dorothy Dandridge were nominated Saturday night for the annual "Oscar" award as "best actress of 1954."

The workers of movieland also named their five choices for best actor, best motion picture and "best" of everything else that goes into making screen plays.

Nominated for the "best actor" award, to be handed out with the other "Oscars" by the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences March 30, were:

Marlon Brando, the tough dockworker of "On the Waterfront"; Bing Crosby, the has-been singer who loses himself in alcohol in "The Country Girl"; Humphrey Bogart, the tyrannical "Captain Queeg" of "The Caine Mutiny"; Dan O'Herlihy, who played the title role in "Robinson Crusoe"; and James Mason, the alcoholic actor who commits suicide in "A Star is Born."

Played Doctor's Wife
Miss Wyman played the doctor's wife in "Magnificent Obsession," the 1954 version of the best-seller of the 1930s. Miss Kelly attempted to save Crosby in "The Country Girl." Miss Garland was the "unknown girl who rose to stardom in "Star is Born," and Miss Hepburn was the chauffeur's daughter in love with her father's employer in "Sabrina."

Miss Dandridge, the first Negro nominated for a "best actress" award, played the cigarette girl in "Carmen Jones."

The five best movies were: "Caine Mutiny," from the best-seller and stage play about a mutiny aboard a U.S. destroyer escort vessel.

"On the Waterfront," the tough story of labor racketeering on the docks.

"Country Girl," from Clifford Odel's story of the alcoholic singer who is a has-been.

"Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," a backwoods musical.

"Three Coins in the Fountain," the story of three girls in Italy seeking romance.

Five film beauties were nominated for best supporting actress of last year. They were Jan Sterling, Eva Marie Saint, Claire Trevor, Nina Foch and Katy Jurado.

"One the Waterfront" walked off with three of the five nominations for "best supporting actor" roles by placing Lee Cobb, Karl Malden and Rod Steiger on the ballot for the finals. The other two nominees were Tom Tully, for his work in "The Caine Mutiny" and Edmond O'Brien, who played in "The Barfoot Contessa."

The nominees were unveiled with all of the spender of a big Hollywood premiere on a lavish television show and "nominee" parties in plush Hollywood niteries.

It was the first time in the academy's 27-year-old history that filmville made a big event out of the nominations. In the past the production has come only on the final announcement of the winners, to be made this year on March 30.

Master Or Mastered

We are sometimes assured that President Eisenhower is a fine and somewhat tragic figure of a man. He is pointed as a man of high ideals and patriotism, surrounded unfortunately by a group of unscrupulous advisors who advocate a number of unhealthy and questionable courses.

The President himself, we are told, is above reproach. He is merely misled by his own enthusiasm and his faith in people.

As to these things we can give little in the way of comment. The merit or demerit of a man is seen better from the perspective of distance and time.

History will judge the five-star President, and the determination will be made after all the facts are in. Today we are too close to the trees to completely encompass the forest.

But this much we do know. That the President has taken a sacred oath to uphold the Constitution which includes the Bill of Rights and the immortal Declaration of Independence, which holds that "we are of right ought to be free and independent people."

This is and should be the President's first and foremost consideration as he weighs our involvement with the United Nations and with the NATO nations, the SEATO nations, and indeed all the other nations of the earth.

His job is to see to it that our precious independence and our sovereignty are maintained at whatever cost.

We have noted the President's obvious preoccupation with global affairs with some alarm.

An American Zeus, toying with Europa, has yet to feel the wrath of Hera.

We note the President's own analysis of the matter of national sovereignty as revealed in his own book, "Crusade in Europe."

He says in Chapter 24 entitled "Russia": "Nowhere perfect, in many regions democracy is pitifully weak because the separatism of national sovereignty uselessly prevents the logical pooling of resources, which would produce greater material prosperity within and multiplied strength for defense. . . . The democracies must learn that the world is now too small for the rigid concepts of national sovereignty. . . . none of them today can stand alone."

These are the very policies he is accused of adopting at the behest of others.

This is the kind of thinking that has led him to offer to share our atomic know-how with foreign and potentially enemy governments.

Perhaps those who point our President as a man subject to the whims of others ought to familiarize themselves with his own conclusions.

Lights Shining In Old Dixie Ruin Favorite Lovers' Lane

By HENRY McLEMORE

Is it true what they say about Dixie? My answer has to be a rebel yell of "No!"

It breaks my ol' cornbread heart to say this; turns my blood to pot likker; and makes me waver like a magnolia tree in a summer twister, but it's true. Dixie is as dead as the men who crossed the field behind Pickett, as much of the past as the lean and proud men who turned the flanks with Stonewall.

How do I know? This is how I know.

Atlanta, Georgia, my old home town, has illuminated all its lovers' lanes, flooded them with spotlights, and peopled them with patrolmen. There was a time when Dixie was the land of romance. The soft words of sweetheart to sweetheart were as much a part of it as hominy grits and quail on toast. The great Seals of half the States bore a curly head resting on a broad shoulder, all surrounded by honeyed talk.

The dogwood trees could tell you how they bent their petals to hear such words as, "honey chile, smuggle just a smidgen closer," and "Dahlin', you look even sweeter than you did at the watermelon cuttin'," and "Let your brother Frank think what he wants to about me. I love you, sugar, with all my heart. I'll fight your brother tomorrow."

That sort of words don't go with spotlights — and I don't believe a man can really hug his best when he is wondering when a cop will shine a flashlight in his face and say, "Break it up, break it up."

Nor do I feel that a boy and a girl can kiss with a goldfish when others are looking on, even if the others are sweethearts like themselves, close by in another parked car.

A boy in love is a pretty shy thing. I'm telling you. Even in the dark it takes him quite a while to work up enough courage to kiss a girl he really cares about. Turn the lights on him, and he is likely to take up stamp collecting for a hobby, and if enough boys do that this country is going to have the best stamp collection in the world, but not much else.

I'm going to help those spotlighted youngsters in Atlanta by giving them directions to a few romantic spots that I used when I was in high school there, and which a spotlight crew couldn't reach with the help of a bulldozer.

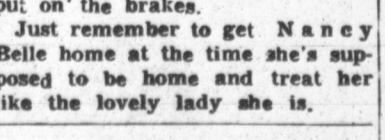

Of course, I covered these roads in a Model-T and a Hupmobile and a Dodge, so you Atlanta boys be careful with the underling cars of today that can't clear a dirt road.

1: Take Piedmont Avenue north. Keep going about three miles past Piedmont Park until you see a dairy on your right. Take a right turn and go about a mile. There, just a few yards off the highway, is a magnificent group of pines, and how beautifully the moon shines through them.

2: Go out Peachtree Road to Buckhead, turn on Pace's Ferry Road and keep going until the scent of jasmine is real heavy. Stop alongside the road, ask Nancy Belle if you may kiss her, and remember that if she says no, she's only pretending.

3: Drive out by the Chattahoochee River and find a little road that leads to the bank of that muddy, slow-moving old river, and put on the brakes.

Just remember to get Nancy Belle home at the time she's supposed to be home and treat her like the lovely lady she is.

They are bootlegging Senator Knowland's speeches in Washington, because the pro-like press is trying to give the Senator a news blackout. But what he said in Houston recently made him sound like a modern Paul Revere. He blasted the "coexistence" trap and the whole suspicious record of United Nations failure in Korea. There's an American who isn't afraid to sound like an American.

Russia And U. S. Only Nations Where Owning Gold Is A Crime

I did not know until I read the book "What Are We Using for Money?" by Paul Bakewell, Jr. that the United States and Russia were the only two nations where it is a crime for the citizen to own gold. On this subject Mr. Bakewell observes:

"How, and by what authority, does it deprive those free citizens of their right to own gold?" Under the chapter entitled "Abolition of Our Money" Mr. Bakewell says:

"The Inherent Right of Government"

"Mr. Roosevelt asserted the inherent right of government to issue currency and to be the sole owner and custodian of the base of precious metals underlying that currency."

That statement didn't really awaken me until I read this statement by Bakewell:

"That statement should have made the people gasp in amazement. It is in direct conflict with the right of a free people and assumes inherent power in our government, when there is no such inherent power in our government."

"When the President spoke of the inherent power of our government, his statement went contrary to every principle upon which our government rests. There is no inherent power in our government."

Our government, according to the Declaration of Independence, derives its just powers from the consent of the governed, but here President Roosevelt completely denied that principle and contended that our government had an inherent right that was not granted by the people.

Bakewell points out:

"If we adopt the means which the Communists urge as the surest way to achieve Communism, how may we avoid the result? Communism is not merely a word. It is a system which would abolish God, religion and morality, and make all men creatures and slaves of the state. The state, in their eyes, seems to consist of tyrants who seize power by blood and retain it by murder."

"It is a usual means for a Communist or Socialist government to bring about conditions which make it impossible for the people to do for themselves, and then assert the necessity for action by the government and thus rob the people of their freedom and their supremacy."

Bakewell summarizes his book in this manner:

"But our law has caused a situation where the following contradictions and absurdities exist:

"In 1934 the majority of our Supreme Court assumed that the abasement of the standard of value was a regulation of the value of coined money."

"But the court had previously explicitly stated that the protection and preservation of our metallic standard of value was an important trust and duty imposed upon Congress by the Constitution, for the purpose of enabling Congress to regulate the value of coined money."

Then the author observes:

"Our law declares a gold dollar containing 15-5/16 grains of gold 90 fine to be the standard unit of value. The purpose of a standard unit of value is to measure the value of money in a monetary system. The government, by its certain laws, measures the value of money by that gold standard."

"But the same government, by another law, says that a contract for an amount of money measured by gold is contrary to public policy."

"Our government has repudiated its own bonds. Each of the nine Justices of our Supreme Court so held. Eight Justices held that the legislation which authorized this repudiation, was unconstitutional and that the obligation remained binding in conscience."

"But, notwithstanding that decision, our government continued to act under that unconstitutional legislation."

"Our government says that inconvertible paper currency is legal tender for the payment of debts."

"Such inconvertible paper currency, called Federal Reserve Notes, may be issued against Government Bonds."

"But the government uses that inconvertible paper currency to redeem its own bonds."

"Our law says that such Federal Reserve notes are obligations of the government. On its face, such a note says that it is redeemable in lawful money."

"But when the holder of a Federal Reserve note presented it and demanded lawful money for it, our Treasury Department sent other notes and stated in writing that the term 'lawful money' has not been defined in Federal legislation."

Here are a couple of the conclusions of the author:

"These absurdities exist in our law today in spite of our constitution."

"These absurdities result from our statutes and court decisions."

"If they can continue, despite our Constitution, then the American people, in their desire for self preservation and freedom, must use their common sense and find other means of protecting their lives and their liberties and the property upon which their freedom their lives depend."

"It is my deep conviction that those Acts and the process of 'monetizing the debt' are fundamentally unsound and can destroy our economy, and that if these errors be not corrected they must inevitably lead to Socialism, Communism or a dictatorship."

Harlan Will Not Improve Court If He Becomes Justice

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I hereby predict that if John Marshall Harlan becomes a justice of the Supreme Court, his decision on racial segregation will conform to the decision already handed down and to the social program of the president who nominated him who, in turn, got it from subdivisions of the Democratic Party in New York.

It is no hazard at all to predict further that Harlan, if confirmed, will favor the United Nations and reject the principles of the Bricker proposals just as Jackson, sharing a bench with the Russian war criminals, ignored Robert Taft's protests against improvised and retroactive law conjured out of malice and vainglory. Such irreverence for the present court is not original with me.

Judge John C. Knox, of the southern district of New York, said in 1943: "It is true that some of the contemporary utterances of Justices Douglas, Black, Murphy and Frankfurter give me feelings of both apprehension and concern. I have been sitting with them in the consideration of many of their cases, my decisions would not have coincided with theirs. Nevertheless, who can forecast the verdict that posterity will bring?"

This latter dilution of a statement which seemed to startle Knox himself by its sound of moral courage, fortifies the criticism of the whole federal bench down to the furtive little kangaroo courts which Frankfurter did no little to inflict on a nation so bewildered that not even the editors knew that we were being cheated of our days in court.

Who cares what verdict posterity will bring? What has posterity got to do with a dirty deal inflicted on a living American today by a bunch of political bigots whose party holds that no man has a right to detest and explain his detestation of whosever earns his righteous, moral opposition? Knox has been dragging out his career so long in an atmosphere of veneration by a clique of artful sycophants that, as in this case, he is unwilling to stand by an honest statement but must prostrate an unpredictable and legally nonexistent "future."

"Possibly," he continued, "these New Deal justices, contrary to the expectations of many persons, will be regarded as much more than political appointees who came to power in order to rationalize the political predilections of the president who appointed them." He said that was "possible" 12 years ago, but time has brought no confirmation and the quality of the appointments has grown steadily worse. We had for chief justice an old Kentucky wool-farmer, who played the horses all his life, probably with the same bookies whom Frankfurter held up to hypocritical public scorn, and so dead broke, amid amusements that a consecrated man had toiled his years away for his board and keep. Murphy's default of duty as governor in the Michigan insurrections of the CIO was confirmed later by a hysterical attack on the American Legion for the patriotic nature of its motives in trying to drive the Communist, Bridges, out of the country. Douglas became the honored guest of the product of the bloody insurrections of the 1930's and though he affronts us with this flagrant association, he refuses to tell us whether the CIO paid him a fee.

Since then, for chief justice, we got Warren, the master of a ruthless machine with a pension available to him of $16,000 a year from the people of California in addition to his salary of $25,000. The pension is not for the people who will not let those people know whether he is drawing that fee or not. Warren's sense of honor and justice is such that he kept a still tongue while his highness grabbed a political accession and locked him up twice in Washington because he was trying to add to the charges against this patriot were phony, the arrests were illegal and the appellate court of California soon threw out the indictment which was invoked as a pretext to discredit his accuser. Warren's concept of the dignity of high office awakens memories of Jimmy Walker. He is a baby-kisser and banquette of prodigious, indiscriminate practice although with a true politician's leaning toward the adherents of Eleanor Roosevelt. And his wife and daughter all get into the act whenever there is a ribbon to be cut across a new bridge or a pie to be auctioned at an apple, berry or rhubarb festival.

Frankfurter, as we came to know soon after Knox wrote his qualified disapproval, actually seceded. Alger Hiss and Lee Pressman, among many Reds, into the federal government and planted Henry L. Stimson as Secretary of War. These are abnormal activities for a cloistered monk in that temple of justice up the hill. Knox could have gone further, and that time he scrambled back from even this timid venture and once scans the book releases in vain for a final chapter with guts in it.

The contrast between grusome reality and the beautiful ideal is revealed in any lawyer's knowledge of the political and social hatred which animates most of the federal bench today as compared with this by Knox in 1943:

"The very essence of the American system is liberally guarded by the law. A people have vested their sovereignty in the law with the idea of creating a ruler above the human weaknesses of partiality or passion."

The ballot will grab the bums who just pursued their tips and blew those raspberries at U.S. Judge John C. Knox.

The Nation's Press

THE PROPHETIC VOICE (Christian Economics)

To a distinguished Christian layman, Mr. B. E. Hutchison, Vice-President of the Chrysler Corporation, we are indebted for the following significant expression:

"Holy Writ is a record of what the prophets and not what the Sanhedrin had to say."

"That pungent remark carries a message for our times. This is an age dominated by committees and organizations in which the free expression of private opinion is regarded as the height of sin."

Ministers may, and of course do, preach their convictions, but the widely publicized documents of the church come from boards, committees, groups and councils.

If Moses had taken a committee with him to the heights of Sinai, could God have conveyed to all his members the insights of the Ten Commandments, or would not some of them have failed to agree, and have insisted on watering down that great document or adding a minority report?

What would have been the result if Christ had appointed a committee to draw up the Sermon on the Mount or if Paul had appointed a drafting committee to prepare the Pauline Epistles? What group ever could have given us the spiritual illumination of St. John's Gospel?

The great pronouncements of Elijah, Isaiah and other prophets did not come from conferences. Could a committee have agreed upon the 95 theses of Martin Luther?

The lawgivers, prophets, sages and philosophers of history have been individuals and not committees. What is the lesson for us as we consider this fact of history?

To us, it is that we dare not silence the voices of individuals who seek to speak their insights, by always subjecting what they say to the adulterating process of sifting it through a committee. Boards and Councils we must have to carry on organized work, but we must be careful not to use them as instruments for blunting the message and distorting the vision of our prophets and sages.

Prophets communicate to us great religious truths. Councils reduce them to creeds. Individuals inspire us; councils and committees prescribe limitations and controls. We must have both but we must be careful not to limit the clear vision of the individual prophet by the myopia of the committee. Too much organization can deaden inspiration and institutionalize it to the point of destroying its dynamic power. Busy church bureaucrats thray and add a web which deadens or silences the most prophetic voices among us.

Cheaper Coffee Prices Give State Department Worries

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Although the prospect of premium vacuum-packed coffee at 80 cents a pound may delight American housewives and their families, the accompanying loss of revenue to 10 shaky South Central American countries creates grave concern at the State Department. A cheaper breakfast drink here may mean Communist gains there.

The price break, which will not be reflected at retail stores for a month or more, results from a combination of economic factors. The major contribution was the unsuccessful attempt of coffee-growing countries and politicians, especially in Brazil, to violate the supply-and-demand laws through government manipulation, reminiscent of certain New Deal theories.

Another factor was American resentment and boycott of excessive prices, which led to greater consumption of tea, milk and less stimulating beverages.

Still a third cause was the condemnation of the so-called "coffee squeeze" by Congressional committees and the Federal Trade Commission. The headline-seeking Gillette Committee blamed South American exporters and American importers. The FTC cited the New York Coffee Exchange for alleged anti-trust violations, although its delay in holding hearings indicates that the case will be disposed of through compromise.

State's current concern derives from reflected Communist charges that "American imperialists" forced down the price for selfish reasons. Coffee revenues contribute from 30 to 70 per cent of those countries' total national revenue. Guatemala, where we had to intervene militarily against a Red coup, provides 3 per cent of the world's coffee supply.

Brazil, our friendliest neighbor in this distraught area, may go bankrupt as a result of the fall in prices. In short, cheaper coffee in the United States may be political poison for us below the Rio Grande.

Ironically, our savings from cheaper coffee may be taken away from us in the form of higher taxes. If resulting economic distress produces Communist advances near the Panama Canal and domestic revolts, the United States will have to increase its currently small contributions to these countries.

The cost will not figure in the coffee bill at the grocers', but it will show up in the income tax report. It will be, in effect, a coffee subsidy.

The interplay of economic and political forces these days extends from American kitchens to South America with the loss of liberty consequent upon each."

The book is so informative that I have ordered a copy for each one of my children.

If anyone wants to better understand what we are facing with irredeemable paper currency, it would be well for him to read this great book.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

"My husband," writes Mrs. F., "had a coronary thrombosis which the doctor said was a mild attack. I know before this happened he was working at too many other jobs besides his regular one and always felt tired. Is there any possible way to prevent a repetition?"

This is a fairly common story. Although an attack of coronary thrombosis for coronary occlusion, as it is sometimes called, frequently comes on suddenly without any warning or immediately pre-existing exertion or strain many of those who suffer an attack give a history of having overworked for a long period of time; also they may have been through a period of exceptional worry and frustration.

THERE IS NO SINGLE guaranteed way to prevent a future attack. In Mrs. F.'s husband, there is, however, a good chance that if he takes this as a warning to avoid overdoing either physically or mentally in the future he may avoid other attacks. A lot depends on his behavior, how well he follows the directions of his physician and on his age.

It is well to point out some other things about this common disorder. A few people die suddenly from it but many more have had at least one attack of coronary thrombosis from which they have made good recoveries, even full activity.

IT WAS QUITE FREQUENT years ago to mistake an attack of coronary thrombosis for acute indigestion. Even today there is an occasional person who develops severe sudden pain in the chest which may or may not extend down the left arm, into the neck, or elsewhere and yet to ignore this warning sign.

There are other conditions, of with it, but pain, together with shortness of breath and a feeling of faintness, is enough to arouse suspicion. Anyone who suffers in this manner should immediately stop what he is doing.

with JAMES C. INOEBRETSSEN

Imagine our national economy as being like a huge rain barrel. As you may or may not remember, a rain barrel used to sit under the spout of the eave trough of many of our homes to catch the rain water that fell from time to time.

As long as the barrel was sound, none of the rain water leaked out; it was all available for use (except, of course, the small amount that evaporated).

But suppose the staves warped, the hoops got loose, and worms ate holes into the barrel: it then took a lot more rain to keep the barrel full, didn't it?

Now, when our moral values get warped, when the hoops of integrity that bind us together become loose, and when virulent worms of one kind or another eat into the structure of our economy, do you see what happens? Scandalous results and we all have to work much harder than we otherwise would to keep the barrel filled.

Does that give you any hint as to what is today basically wrong with our economy?

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL was at its best in the just completed Harvester-Amarillo series at Amarillo.

We've never seen two teams battle tooth-and-nail for a two-game series as was exhibited by the Harvesters and Sandies Friday and Saturday nights.

The ultimate winner in both games was in doubt right down to the final gun.

The importance of both games made them that much more interesting for the fans. It was a sad occasion, of course, for the Harvesters Friday and the Sandies Saturday but both teams are to be congratulated for their fine play in the series.

The only unfortunate incidences of the two-game series was the bean shooting and rotten-tomato throwing by some Sandie fans in the two games.

In Friday's opener, the Harvester players were repeatedly hit with bean-shots from the stands. Then Saturday night, some fan threw a rotten tomato toward the

ACC Joins Gulf Coast

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 14—UP—Abilene Christian College Monday shook off its one-year-old independent status to join the three-team Gulf Coast Conference.

The ACC Wildcats will join three other noted Texas small college powers, North Texas State of Denton, Trinity of San Antonio, and Midwestern of Wichita Falls. Abilene will not be eligible for the 1955 conference football championship unless the schedules can be swapped at this late date, but will compete for the basketball crown in the 1955-56 season.

D. L. Ligon of Midwestern, president of the league, said, "the conference plans to work toward continued expansion and intends to further develop the league."

He indicated that the circuit would adopt a more suitable name in the near future.

The Gulf Coast Conference, organized in 1949, has been a three-team league since the University of Houston dropped out to join the Missouri Valley Conference.

The conference has adopted a new "four-year" junior college rule which provides that each year of junior college competition shall count as one year of senior college competition. Previously, any number of junior college years had counted as only one year of senior college competition for transfers.

NIT Tops NCAA In Tourney Bids

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
The National Invitation Tournament, seeking to jump far ahead of the NCAA tournament in the battle for big-name basketball teams, was expected to add three teams to its field Monday.

Monday's nominees were expected to come from the following group of possibilities: Defending champion Holy Cross (15-4), North Carolina State (21-4), Manhattan (14-3), Connecticut (17-3), St. Francis (Pa.) (15-5), Canisius (11-4), Villanova (12-6), and Niagara (14-5).

That would half-complete the NIT's 12-team field, since Duquesne, Dayton, and Cincinnati already are in the fold. The NCAA, on the other hand, has signed up only Marquette and still has eight "member at large" berths to fill.

The NCAA tourney relies heavily, of course, on conference champions for its field and the regular season league are rushing rapidly toward the close.

Could Clinch Tie
Oregon State can clinch a tie for the northern division title in the Pacific Coast Conference Monday night by beating Idaho. Or State can clinch it outright by winning two of four games this week, or even less if second-place Oregon loses to Washington Friday or Saturday.

The northern division title, of course, meets the south-division champion in a two-of-three series for the league crown and NCAA berth.

West Virginia can clinch the Southern Conference regular season title by beating William and Mary Monday night and second-place George Washington on Saturday. But the NCAA title berth hinges on the league's post-season tourney.

Idaho State can clinch the Rocky Mountain Conference title by finishing first in the first nine holes but Lopez began a rally when he won the long 18th by sinking a 30-foot putt for an eagle three. He lost the 14th but forced the match into extra holes by winning the 16th and 17th when Dark's putting failed him.

Minnesota clung to a half-game lead in the Big Ten with its double-overtime, 78-71 victory over Illinois as the Gophers' Dick Gardner and Illinois' Paul Judson

Harvester 1-2 Scoring Punch Fattens Marks

Gary Griffin and E. Jay McIlvain, the Harvesters' No. 1 and 2 scorers for the season, entered new "century" marks in point-making in the two-game series with Amarillo the past week end.

Griffin upped his total past the 500 mark while McIlvain passed the 400 mark. Griffin hit 42 points in the Sandie series to push his season total to 507 points in 24 games, an average of 21.2 per game.

McIlvain picked up 26 points in the Amarillo set that gave him a season total of 402.

The remainder of the top five among the Harvesters remained unchanged with Ken Hinkle third with 229; Benny Cartwright fourth with 158; and Buddy Sharp fifth with 146.

Following is the rundown of the Harvester scoring this season:

Player	G	Fg	Pt	Pt. Av.
Griffin	24	116	507	21.2
McIlvain	24	87	402	16.8
Hinkle	24	87	229	9.5

Pampa's Carver High School won both the boys and girls district titles in a tournament held in the Carver Gym the past week end.

The Carver boys defeated Shamrock, 77-59, in the finals Saturday night while the girls won over Borger in the finals, 54-45.

Don Proctor with 31 and Orzo Frazier with 22 led the Carver boys to victory. Joe Ellison with 25 and Thomas Quill with 21 were the Shamrock scoring leaders.

Willie Roland led the Carver girls with 25 points, followed by Margaret Cash with 21.

The boys team will go to the state tournament to be held at Prairie View College this weekend. Ten boys will leave Thursday for the state tournament scene.

McLEAN, Feb. 14 (Special)—The McLean Tigers and Sudan Hornets will meet in Canyon Monday night, Feb. 21, in a one-game "sudden death" bi-district playoff.

McLean is the District 1-A champion while Sudan was the District 3-A title.

This is the third straight year that McLean has won the District 1-A crown.

Harvesters Leave For Playoff Opener

15 Making Trip To San Angelo

A squad of 15 Pampa Harvester basketball players left at 8:30 a.m. today for San Angelo where tomorrow night they'll open a three-game series with the San Angelo Bobcats for the District 1-AAAA title.

The Harvesters will drive to Sweetwater today where they'll stop and workout in the Sweetwater High School Gymnasium. After the workout, the Green and Golders will bed down in Sweetwater before completing their trip to San Angelo tomorrow morning.

The Harvesters will stay at the Longhorn Motel in Sweetwater. At San Angelo the Harvesters will be quartered at Cactus Hotel.

The fifteen boys making the trip to San Angelo are Gary Griffin, E. Jay McIlvain, Benny Cartwright, Ken Hinkle, Buddy Sharp, Dickie Mauldin, Jimmy Enloe, Gene Brown, Gerald Clark, Melvin Romina, Tommy Murray, Tommy Gindorf, Sam Conroy, Jerry Pope and Carroll Cole.

Accompanying the squad are coaches Clifton McNeel and Terry Culley and student manager Gene Vineyard.

The Harvesters nailed down the District 1-AAAA Northern Zone championship Saturday night with a 56-54 playoff victory over the Amarillo Sandies at Fair Park Coliseum in Amarillo.

Amarillo, the preceding night, had thrown the race into a two-way tie by downing the Harvesters, 66-63, in the regular season finale.

Friday's Amarillo win left the Sandies and Harvesters with 4-2 1-AAAA marks.

San Angelo clinched the Southern 1-AAAA crown some two weeks ago. The Bobcats won their first five district contests but dropped the final to Midland, 53-33, last week.

Coach Norman Mullins of San Angelo was in Amarillo for the Sandie-Harvester series last week end.

Coach Mullins and Harvester coach McNeely flipped for the game sites following Saturday's game. McNeely won the toss and chose to open the series in San Angelo.

Second game of the series will be played at Harvester Fieldhouse Friday night. If a third game is necessary, it will be played Saturday night, also at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Following the Harvesters' and Sandies in the 1-AAAA northern race were Borger in third place and Lubbock in fourth. Borger missed a chance of ending in a three-way tie for the title by losing to hitherto winless Lubbock Friday night at Lubbock, 82-70.

Borger thus wound up with a 3-3 conference record to 1-5 for Lubbock.

Over the season, the Harvesters also held the best mark among the northern teams, 21-3. Amarillo was next with 19-4.

Winner of the Harvester-San Angelo series will meet the champion of District 2-AAAA.

There's a possibility that the 2-AAAA race will end in a 3-way tie for a crown. Jefferson of El Paso currently leads with 5-2 but is followed closely by El Paso High and Yaleta with 4-2 records.

Following are the final standings of the two District 1-AAAA divisions:

Bobcats Compiled Best Mark In Past 10 Years

By BOB MILBURN
Sports Editor
San Angelo Standard Times
SAN ANGELO, Feb. 14—The San Angelo Bobcats, well-rested and ready, face the Pampa Harvesters here at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the first of a two-of-three playoff series for the District 1-AAAA basketball championship.

San Angelo captured the southern half of the district with a 6-1 record, losing its final game to Midland's Bulldogs, 63-53. Coach Norman Mullins, however, knew there were Pampa and Amarillo scouts in the stands and played his regulars less than half the game.

The Bobcats bring a 17-4 season record into the Pampa series, by far the best mark chalked up by a San Angelo club in the past 10 years. The other three losses were to Waco, 63-46, in the finals of the Temple High School tournament, a 38-36 triple overtime loss to Avoca, strong Class B state contender, and a 45-44 loss to Lubbock in the Odessa tournament.

The Bobcats captured the San Antonio Invitational Tournament, defeating such strong teams as Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio, 63-46, Breckenridge of San Antonio, 53-50, and McCallum of Austin, 71-57.

The Bobcat offense is anchored around 6-7 Curtis Crook, tallest player in 1-AAAA. Crook, who missed all of the district games last season as a junior because of illness, has dropped in 385 points in 21 games, an average of 17.4.

Despite leading the team in scoring, Crook's greatest value is his defensive play.

Bobby Joe Walker, 6-1 football star, is second in scoring, dropping off sharply from Crook's pace to 180 points in 21 games, slightly better than 8 1/2 points per contest.

Walker is the best floor man on the club, calmly and deliberately working the ball into the tall center or to Frank Trevino or Albert Miranda, the Cat forwards.

Trevino is the only other San Angelo player who has scored over 100 points, his total being 166. Trevino, 6-3, likes to hit from the corner.

Miranda, 5-11, has 75 points and Billy Pope, who starts at guard opposite Walker, has 61. Pope missed four games because of injury but is back in top shape. He stands 5-11.

Don Abbott, 6-0 junior, will see plenty of action as Pope's relief. Marvin Lassater of football fame will also get into the Pampa series. Only other players likely to see action are Elias Menchaca, John Robbins and James Glass.

San Angelo has not been a high-scoring team, averaging only 53.5 per contest. The Bobcats, using their good height, have concentrated on defensive play and have eked out several close games by this method.

The team showed a tendency toward staleness in the latter part of the season but is now reeled after an early clinching of the southern half.

A capacity house is expected for the one game here though Bobcat Gym will only seat 900. There will be no advance sale of tickets, everything going on a first-come, first served basis.

Yankees Reserve Uniform
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 12—UP—The New York Yankees are reserving uniform No. 7 for a promising rookie who will report to the Yankees' training school next Tuesday. On the Yankee roster, No. 7 means "Mantle."

So Roy Mantle will have the number on his training uniform which his older brother, Mickey, wears. Roy's twin brother, Ray, will wear No. 8, the number donned by regular third baseman Andy Carey.

Tech Faces Arizona Tour This Weekend

By UNITED PRESS
Texas Tech visits the western "wrecking grounds" of the Border Conference basketball chase this week after having deposed West Texas State from the leadership.

The Raiders play Arizona at Tucson Friday night and Temple State at Tempe on Saturday night and although Coach Polk Robinson's crew rate stout favorites on paper, top-ranked clubs have founded before when playing the Wildcats and Sun Devils at home.

West Texas found that out earlier this season, losing a one-point game to Arizona at Tucson, then whipping the same club 82 to 66 later at Canyon.

Tech whipped Arizona 82 to 70 last week as a prelude to its momentous 98 to 91 victory over West Texas. Earlier, the Raiders disposed of Temple 107 to 81 at Lubbock.

Tech now has a 6-1 loop record to West Texas' 7-2.

West Texas plays twice this week to come within one game of completing its schedule, meeting New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces Friday night and Texas Western at El Paso Saturday night.

In other games, Hardin-Simmons will be at Texas Western Tuesday night and at New Mexico A&M Saturday night; New Mexico A&M at Tempe and Texas Western at Arizona tonight, and North Texas at Hardin-Simmons Tuesday night.

Tempe State took over third place last week by beating Hardin-Simmons 79 to 71 and Texas Western 90 to 77; Hardin-Simmons beat Arizona 71 to 58 but lost to Tulsa 66 to 51, and Arizona beat New Mexico A&M 60 to 49.

Oldest Eagle Scout, 79, Dies

FAIR HAVEN, N. J., Feb. 14.—Dr. Edwin F. Stewart, 79, the oldest living Eagle Scout in America, collapsed and died of a heart attack Saturday as he walked into police headquarters for his daily routine business visit. He had been associated with the American Boy Scout movement for 45 years and had served scouting in many capacities, particularly in Monmouth county. In 1911, the county scout council presented him the Silver Beaver award, one of the highest of scouting awards.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 14.—UP—Much-married millionaire tin-plate heir Henry J. (Bob) Topping Saturday was ordered to pay one of his ex-wives $46,654 in maintenance money for the support of their two minor children, Sandra, 15, and Henry J. Topping II, 11.

The order came in the form of a default judgment entered in federal court against Topping, now of Ketchum, Idaho, in a case brought by Gloria Baker Alexander, the former Gloria Baker Topping, who divorced Topping May 25, 1943, after five years of marriage.

The judgment was entered after it was held that Topping both failed to appear and to defend his side of the action.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Uncovering Hollywood: Grace Kelly's chopsticks were crossed — she was handling them expertly dining at the Beverly Hills Luau — but she laughed, "I'm not even keeping my fingers crossed" when I asked her what she thought of her Oscar-winning chances. Hollywood expects a photo finish between Grace and Judy Garland come March, but Grace does not — "I don't expect it and I'm not counting on it," she added. She was dining with her Hollywood agent before returning to New York after a 24-hour movie-town visit. Her next film for MGM is still undecided, but the choice is hers — "I'm reading several scripts." She returns in March. "I have no plans for marriage," was her icy comment about that blazing romance with Oleg Cassini, said to be frowned upon by her wealthy Philadelphia pop.

JUDY HOLLIDAY will return to movietown for her "Solid Gold Cadillac" film assignment still being Mrs. David Oppenheimer. The marriage, despite all the talk about a divorce, is still as solid as Judy's talent.

THE CROSBY CLAN issued a polite denial of Frank Sinatra's statement to reporters in Australia that his daughter, 14-year-old Nancy, and Bing's youngest son, 17-year-old Lindsay, are in love. But there was nothing polite. I can assure you, about what Bing said about Frankie from his St. John's hospital bed.

Nothing polite, either, about Columbia cutie Kathryn Grant's comment about a printed report that she had announced her engagement to Bing during an overseas G. I. entertainment tour.

"It's not true and I'm mad as hell about it," blazed Kathryn, who recently changed her name from Kathryn Grandstaff.

She's a former Paramount starlet. Bing dated her a couple of times about a year ago.

The Ingrid Bergman - Kurt Kreuger co-starrer, "Fear," filmed in Munich, is another financial eye-popper from Roberto Rossellini. The picture was made for $300,000. Not a single set was built for the camera.

THE MELODY LINGERS on dept: Jeff Morrow says he dreamed about a big movie premiere in which a doorman called for the limousines of stars as the crowds came out of the theater. The doorman announced:

"Miss Grable's car, Miss deHavilland's car, Miss Hayworth's car and Miss Monroe's Kar-amazov."

Ava Gardner's bullfighter, Luis Dominguez, may win the role of the matador in the King Bros. "The Boy and the Bull." Could mean a rendezvous in Mexico City for Ava and Luis. The film will be made there.

Mrs. Edward G. Robinson, Jr., and the elder Robinsons are in a hassle over the weekly allowance given her and her child by the family. She and young Robinson are living apart.

There's a Suppressed Desire Shop in Beverly Hills. It figures: Joanne Rice and Liberace have been having telephone conversations, but their wordage is nothing to get excited about.

A midget who once laughed it up in vaudeville with Sophie Tucker is working in Danny Kaye's "The Court Jester." Danny refers to him as "The Last of the Red Hot Midgets." Third project for Errol Flynn in his six-picture partnership with Herbert Wilcox is the completion of his ill-fated "William Tell." He has dropped $100,000 of his own money on the project, I hear.

Mona Freeman about her on-the-beach love scene with Tab Hunter in "Battle Cry": "I'm still wondering how it passed the censors after we cleaned up the dialogue."

Short Takes: Clark Gable's now dating Susan Hayward. There's plenty of life in the old boy yet dept: Fred Astaire leaps over eight kettledrums in "Daddy Long Legs." Alan Young, just back from Europe: "Things aren't so bad over there. Everyone can afford foreign cars."

Hat Company Moves To Texas

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—UP—Transfer of the Adam Hat wholesale division of Miller Bros. Hat Co., Inc., to Corsicana, Tex., has been announced by officials of Adam Hat Stores, Inc. Under agreement terms, in addition to financial considerations, Miller Bros. has formed a new company, the Adam Hat Manufacturers, Inc. It will supply hats to all Adam Hat Stores, as well as other retail outlets that carry the Adam line.

The Corsicana plant is the largest one-story manufacturing unit in the United States covering 100,000 square feet of operating space with an additional 100,000 square feet of warehouse space, a company statement said.
