BRILLIANT

An atomic device detonated from a 300-foot tower at Yucca Flat appears as brilliant flash to watchers on Angel's Peak, 55 miles away. Blast was 33rd detonation in the Nevada test series.

A few fast facts: Dr. Allen B. DuMont, star of stage, screen and laboratory, is putting the finishing touches on an invention that will be the big news. It's a combination TV-movie camera, so a live show can be telecast and filmed at the same time. . . . Harry Belafonte and Gina Lollobrigida will co-star in a movie, planned for Portugal filming. Belafonte will play a Moorish priest. Gina will be a Moor — and the Moor the Christ-mer . . . Magician Milburn Christopher says a famous document, detailing the early history of magic, has vanished from the Berlin Museum. Christopher says any day it'll turn up in Moscow with the Commies claiming they invented magic. So far the only trick they've discovered is how to make a political prisoner disappear.

Lily Pons, back in New York, bubbles like a bottle of nervous champagne: "Eet's deevine! For me it is like Alice looking for ze looking glass. I adore it to be so cold in ze air. I love to have ze people say 'Hallo Lily.' I adore ze first thrill of driving sroo ze streets."

Before she sets her tiny feet on the Met stage, she will go through her ritual of being back in New York — a week of shopping and sightseeing.

The star still lives home with his parents. Reason: cabbage balls. This would be Steve Lawrence, the good-looking young baritone on Steve Allen's "Tonight" show, and he is one bobby-sox idol who knows a well-turned cabbage ball when he tastes it.

He is 19. And, as he sensibly puts it, "I don't think I'm old enough to go away and get a place of my own." So, after each show, he gets on the subway and goes back to the old family home-stand in the East New York section of Brooklyn.

It's the same street and same

neighborhood where he grew up, and he is naturally the hero of every kid from blocks around. "I woke up one morning a few weeks ago," Steve says, "and there were four kids standing alongside my bed. Not saying a word. Weirdest thing I ever saw. Turned out they'd come to the door and asked my mother if they could play with me. So she let 'em come in."

His mother, incidentally, is now very interested in show business. "She's so hep," Steve says, "that she's a square. I mean she thinks she knows everything and all the slang, but she uses it wrong. The other day she said 'Crazy' with the wrong inflection and I laughed so hard I thought I'd die. But she's wonderful — so proud of me."

"Sometimes we'll go to the store together. And there'll be some lady she knows and she'll sort of look over at her and then at me. If the lady doesn't recognize me, my mother will nudge her and say, 'You know who this is? You watch television!'"

"It's funny. She'll do that, but she keeps warning me about not getting high-hat. She's read about stars who've forgotten their families, and she tells me, 'If you ever do that, I'll break your head.'"

Steve started singing professionally when he was 15, and he's come a long way. He makes records for Carol, and is looked on as one of the coming greats. He enjoys his fame, mostly because he can do things for his family, like he did this winter, when he sent his parents to Florida.

While they were away, he missed those cabbage balls. They are his mother's specialty. "They're stuffed with meat and rice and one's a meal in itself," he says. Sounds like an even swap — Florida for cabbage balls.

Being a night-club star isn't all beer and skittles. (What's a skittle?) It takes a heap of loot to make a night-club act. Marion Marlowe, debuting at the Pierre's Cotillion Room on Fifth Avenue, laid out $12,000 for her act — three gowns and a couple of special-material songs. But it was worth it. Those 12 Gs produced an act that's produced thousands of gees!

Dick's Quickie: A refugee from Las Vegas says he finally discovered a way to beat the crap tables. "When you get off the plane in Las Vegas," he says, "walk into the propeller."

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The tests of truth and relevancy which courts apply are stricter than those which we use in daily life. As a rule we don't put a man under oath. We don't cross-examine him if his story fails to hang together. We don't jail or fine him if he lies to us. But we do these things in court.

Why is that? Because we think each thing that takes place in a courtroom is important. Your property, your personal or civil rights — even your family's welfare or your life or liberty — may rest upon the truth of testimony in court.

Eager as courts are for facts, their tests fall short of those of science. When a scientist doubts the outcome of an experiment, he need not rely upon somebody else's word. He just repeats the experiment in question.

But not so in court. The acts told of in courts cannot be lived over again, for the court to see first hand. For example, you cannot bring back and ask a dead man whether he signed a will or whether the accused killed a man. We cannot re-do a murder; we can only get the witnesses to tell what they know first hand.

To protect each party, there are at least two safeguards: (1) we put the witness under oath on pain of penalties for lying; and (2) we cross-examine the witness.

Lawyers may seem always to be objecting to testimony. They have a duty to their clients and the court, to see that the judge and jury hear only what is true and relevant under the law.

If a lawyer protests, the judge may rule out some kinds of facts and tell the jury to ignore them. Sometimes too, some facts seriously break the rules of evidence. Then the judge declares a "mistrial" and orders a new trial.

All told there are more than 225 warships in the destroyer category now on active service in the U.S. Navy.

KC Star Convicted Of Monopoly

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24 —UP—The Kansas City Star, convicted of monopolizing the dissemination of advertising and news, planned Wednesday to file "immediately" a motion for a new trial.

A federal district court jury deliberated four hours, 22 minutes late Tuesday before finding the newspaper and its advertising director Emil A. Sees guilty of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The verdict climaxed five weeks of testimony.

The jury convicted the newspaper on two counts of monopolization and attempt to monopolize the dissemination of advertising and news, and Sees with attempting to monopolize. It found him innocent of the second count.

Star President Roy A. Roberts, in announcing plans to appeal, said "The Star will never be a willing party to selling its readers down the river to the tune of millions a year" because of the "ultimate goal of the anti-trust division to break down the Star's circulation plan of 13 papers a week—morning, evening and Sunday—for one subscription price."

Testimony from 91 government witnesses, mostly advertisers, said they were requested by Star and solicitors to spend all their advertising budgets with the Star.

But the newspaper defended with 16 witnesses its combination advertising and circulation rates as being the cheapest in the country and providing 24-hour daily service to advertisers and subscribers.

The convictions, each a misdemeanor, could carry a $5,000 fine on each count and for Sees, a possible one-year jail term.

"We will appeal the case to the higher court in complete confidence of the outcome," Roberts said. "We feel the court made grievous error in the admission and non-admission of testimony and in its instructions to the jury in this complicated and technical case."

McCarthy Blasts Two Dem Solons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 —UP—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy charged Wednesday that the questions put by two Democratic senators to turnabout witness Harvey Matusow placed them "in a category far below Matusow."

The Wisconsin Republican told newsmen he referred to Sens. John L. McClellan (D-Ak.), who replaced McCarthy as head of the Senate investigations subcommittee, and to Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.).

Hennings and McClellan questioned Matusow Tuesday about his testimony that he had been sent by McCarthy to campaign against Democrats in Montana and Washington during the 1952 campaign.

"I wasn't surprised at what a confessed perjurer and a confessed liar had to say," McCarthy said. "I was surprised and shocked to tune in on television and see two Democratic senators leading him on—coaxing him on to smear Republican senators." McCarthy said. "This places them in a category far below Matusow."

Skellytown Cubs Have Banquet

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — The Cub Scout annual Blue and Gold Banquet, to commemorate the anniversary of Scouting, was held recently in the Skellytown grade school cafeteria.

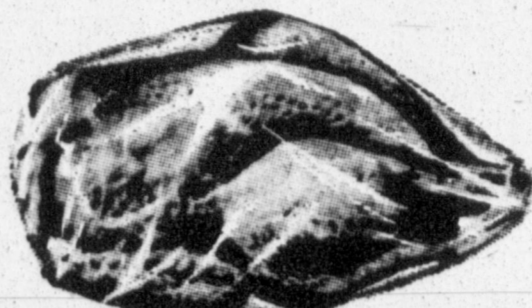

J. Festina, Church of Christ pastor, Skellytown, was the principal speaker. He Ross, Scoutmaster, spoke on "The Cub Scout and how they make their citizens." Others seated at the honor table were Aubrey Lane, chairman, and committeemen Fred Wolf, Edg. Kiebrink, Calvin Brown and John Cheney.

Approximately 100 Cub Scouts and their parents were present.

POINT OF SAFETY.

Roy Cain, a chauffeur for the Kansas City, Mo., board of education shows a thought-provoking sign he painted on his car. He has spent an average of six hours per week painting such signs on his car, and in five years has painted 150 of them. Cain says he believes these signs help other motorists, who see them, drive more cautiously.

France Appoints Security Risk To Nuclear Study Post

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
 United Press Foreign Analyst

France has just appointed Frederic Joliot-Curie, its No. 1 security risk, to a new post in the field of nuclear research.

Joliot-Curie is a dedicated and even a fanatical Communist.

The government was compelled, as the result of popular protest, to fire him in 1950 from the position of French High Commissioner for Atomic Energy.

Nevertheless, he has been permitted since then to occupy positions which have kept him active in nuclear science.

Is Made Adviser
 And now, it is disclosed, Joliot-Curie has been appointed a French adviser to the European Organization for Nuclear Research, a new international center which has been set up in Geneva, Switzerland.

The 12-nation organization was sponsored by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. It is to specialize in research on the behavior of high-energy nuclear particles. This, it is hoped, will throw new light on the fundamental nature of matter.

Joliot-Curie's appointment was made last month by Prem. Pierre Mendes-France, who has since been overthrown.

The appointment slipped by almost unnoticed. A decree creating a Scientific Consultative committee accredited to the Geneva center was published in the governmental office journal.

Committee Members Named
 Members of the committee were identified in the decree, for some reason, not by name but by their official titles.

One of the members, it was announced, would be "the president of the corporcular (atom) physics section of the National Scientific Research Center." That's Joliot-Curie.

A French government spokesman, asked about the appointment, said that the committee's role would be a consultative one.

Joliot-Curie's appointment "in no way means we shall make any secret information available to him," the spokesman said.

But nobody seems able to answer the big question. That is why the French government insists on giving its official blessing to a man like Joliot-Curie.

Is Outstanding
 It is true that he is France's outstanding nuclear energy expert. But he has been a card-carrying Communist since 1941.

He was one of the first to demand that the United States stop making atom bombs, back in 1946 before Russia was able to make them.

During the Korean War, he was one of the Red propagandists who made the ludicrous charge that the United States had engaged in germ warfare.

Joliot-Curie is a thin-lipped, hollow-cheeked, bony-faced man with the burning eyes of a fanatic. He will be 55 years old on March 19.

He took the degree of Doctor of Science, specializing in chemistry, and entered the laboratory of the Curies in Paris. He married Irene Curie, daughter of Pierre and Marie Curie, discoverers of radium.

Joliot-Curie added his wife's name to his own. They worked as a team and in 1935 were awarded the Nobel Chemistry prize for their discovery of artificial radioactivity. He became a Socialist in 1934, and then dedicated himself to communism.

Civilian AF Instructor Charged In Officer's Death

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Feb. 24 —UP—A civilian instructor in intelligence training Thursday faced charges of murdering a lieutenant colonel and wounding a captain after a long-standing disagreement ended in a flurry of gunfire.

William A. Murphy, agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office, with jurisdiction over Wichita Falls, said he filed a murder charge Wednesday night against William Francis Sink, 38, a civilian instructor at Sheppard Air Force Base. He was charged with shooting the other man.

A volley of shots killed Lt. Col. Carl G. Carlson, 43, of Spokane, Wash., and critically wounded Capt. Marvin L. Marchesi, 34, of Los Angeles Wednesday in the colonel's office.

Sheppard authorities believed the six shots fired at the officers climaxed a long-standing disagreement among the three men when they were stationed at Lowry Air Force Base at Denver.

Carlson was director of intelligence training at Sheppard, while Marchesi was attached to the same outfit.

Sheppard information officers said Sink was known to have had trouble in the past with several military men at Lowry and was moved to different jobs from time to time.

Carlson was shot in the head several times. Marchesi also was hit in the head at close range and was reported Thursday as still alive but in serious condition. A brain surgeon was flown from Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, to operate on Marchesi.

Lt. Billy Rector of the Sheppard information service office, said he knew nothing about earlier reports that the colonel was handing Sink his discharge papers when the shooting took place.

The Air Force said the shots were fired from two pistols, a 7.65 mm Biretta and a Spanish pistol, as the three men conferred in Carlson's office.

Sink, who has two sons and lives in Wichita Falls, was held Thursday without bond in a Wichita county jail.

TU Regents List Okayed

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 —UP— Nine appointments to the board of regents of the University of Texas and directorships of Texas A&M and Texas Tech were confirmed Wednesday by the Senate.

The appointments, by Gov. Allan Shivers, included:

University of Texas board of regents: Dr. Merton Miner, San Antonio, and J. Lee Johnson III, Fort Worth.

Texas A&M board of directors: A. E. Cudlipp, Lufkin; Price Campbell, Abilene; H. B. (Pat) Zachary, San Antonio, and L. H. Ridout Jr., Dallas.

Texas Tech: Douglas Orme, Big Spring; J. Evelts Haley, Canyon, and Tom Lineberry, Kermit.

The Senate also confirmed appointment of Jim Weymouth, Amarillo, to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism.

Regency and directorship appointments are for six year terms, except in the case of Ridout, who was named to an unexpired term ending Jan. 10, 1957.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. CARTER SWAIM
Written for NEA Service

Lent links the life of man with the cycle of the natural world. The English term "Lent" is derived from the Anglo-Saxon "lengten," a more familiar form of which is "lengthen."

Lent is the time of year when the days are noticeably longer. The term once meant nothing more than spring time. Springtime is the season when life is renewed, and in many parts of the world this is cause for celebration. In pagan lands springtime marks the fertility cult.

There have been times and places in the world when the calendar began with the spring. The natural world knows nothing of the beginning of days which we note on our calendar. It is in December that the shortest day is passed.

and not until March that the equinox occurs.

There is something therefore to be said for beginning the year with the spring. As a season of spiritual renewal, Christians link it with their Lord's sufferings and death.

Christianity has sometimes taken pagan rites and baptized them into the name of the Lord Jesus, and it is a sure instinct which leads the church to regard Lent, not as a season of riotous merriment, but rather of sober contemplation of the passion of her Lord.

Springtime is not the season of harvest but of seed-sowing. Jesus himself drew the spiritual analogy here:

"Unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit" (John 12: 24, RSV).

Rancher Testifies He Netted $79,000 On Vet Land Deal

AUSTIN, Feb. 24—UP—A Uvalde county rancher testified Wednesday he netted an apparent profit of more than $79,000 by selling 662 acres to the veterans land program in a block deal last year.

Under questioning by Sen. Jimmy Phillips, Earl Hutcherson, the seller, told a Senate investigating committee he paid approximately $9,000 for the ranch in 1948, spent about $30,700 for improvements and received $149,800 from the state under the veterans land program.

Hutcherson, operating the property under a three-year lease agreement with the 22 veterans who bought the land, said he owed $17,000 on the ranch to an insurance company, and was in debt to a bank for an additional $29,000 at the time of the sale.

His lease agreement provided he made the down payment for the veterans, and continues all payments and taxes on the property for three years. The latter cost, he said, totals about $8,000 a year. The veterans put up no money.

Hutcherson testified previously that for two years he received approximately $12,500 from leases on the same property.

"Then you got a pretty good deal, didn't you?" Phillips asked.

"I thought so," Hutcherson replied.

The witness said he listed his property for sale with a Uvalde real estate firm, and that he knew the details of the actual transaction. The agents, Hutcherson said, were paid a 5 per cent commission.

Block transactions were not prohibited under the veterans land program. Phillips' questioning was directed toward establishing the value of the property.

Hutcherson said he thought it was worth what the state paid, and pointed out he originally asked more.

Earlier, Phillips requested B. R. Sheffield of Brady and T. J. McLarty, Cuero, be summoned to testify before the committee at the next scheduled meeting, March 8.

The names of both men have figured in testimony before the committee relative to block land transactions.

Previously, Phillips complained of "haphazard, catch-as-catch-can methods" of calling committee meetings.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, chairman, protested.

"No meetings have been called except ones set by agreement of the committee...the chair has never set a meeting. I've leaned over backwards to try to be here, and have wasted a lot of time waiting for a quorum (three members) to get here," he replied.

Phillips suggested the committee set a definite meeting for "every other Tuesday," except when a member might ask for a special meeting. The three other members present, Hardeman and Sens. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro and A. M. Aikin Jr., Paris, agreed.

U.S. Accepts Peace Meet Offer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—UP—The United States announced Wednesday it has accepted an invitation to participate in an atom-for-peace conference at Geneva next summer along with 10 Soviet bloc nations and 73 other countries.

The international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy—first of its kind and scope in history—will be held in the Swiss city Aug. 8-20 under auspices of the United Nations. It is an outgrowth of the world atom-for-peace plan launched by President Eisenhower Dec. 8, 1953.

Movies, TV Dewy-Eyed Over Long-Awaited Nuptials

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24 — UP. Movies and television finally are dewy-eyed over their long-awaited wedding, and TV viewers may see such motion picture favorites as Mr. Belvedere and Flicka the horse on the home screens.
Twentieth Century-Fox Studio, one of the biggest movie-makers in the business, has revealed plans to produce films for TV as well as making giant-cinemascope movies for theaters.
Only last year many film executives were drawing swords to do battle with TV, but now the movie industry appears to be happily joining the enemy.
Columbia studio was the first major film factory to produce TV films, but discreetly called its TV subsidiary, Screen Gems, Inc. but Fox Studio is openly naming its TV unit "Twentieth Century-Fox Television Productions." Warner studio also reportedly is preparing to produce TV films.
To the TV viewer, the tie-up of movie studios and TV will mean "top quality TV films" and the appearance of such movie veterans as Mr. Belvedere, according to the New Fox TV experts.
"We're using the name of the parent company because we expect to be proud of our TV films," explained Michel Kraike, one of the executives in charge of the new TCF-TV unit.
"There isn't the slightest doubt

Water District Organizers Meet Friday In Panhandle

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer
(Third of a series)
Initially in the organization of an underground water district the State Board of Water Engineers must determine the existence of an underground water reservoir. This phase of the district organization was determined following the petition by some 150 farmers in Carson County early in 1954.
The findings of the board settled the underground reservoir in nine counties including Gray, Roberts, Carson, Armstrong, Hemphill, Randall, Hutchinson, Potter and Donley. The exact limits of the district will be set up following a meeting Friday in Panhandle of the board of water engineers. According to W. L. Broadhurst, water engineer with the High Plains Water District, Lubbock, it may be a month before final word is received from Austin in the setting up of the geographical limitations of the underground water district. Deliberations as to the testimony presented Friday may cause the delay, according to Broadhurst.
An underground water reservoir "is any sub-surface reservoir whose boundaries can be determined and which is capable of producing from a well at the rate of at least 150,000 gallons a day."
Under provisions of the statute regulating the setting up of a district, the board may designate the district any time it sees fit to do so. This does not mean a district is formed. The issue must first be submitted for the approval of the people in the area.
But where the board doesn't set up the district as soon as the people using the water desire it, then they, as in the case of Carson County, may petition the board to set up the limitations of the district following a geologic survey of the underground reservoir.
A petition needs to be signed by 50 per cent of the resident taxpayers.

ing property-owning voters, or where there are more than 50 voters in the county, 50 signatures are all that are needed.
The law makes it necessary that the district be divided into five precincts, with the appointment of one man from each of the precincts composing a temporary five-man board of directors.
The state board of water engineers will then call an election, and residents of cities also having their vote counted separately from those of the surrounding rural area. Majority vote in each of the units determines whether or not that particular unit will be included in the underground water district.
Three propositions will be submitted to all those in the area of the reservoir who have paid their poll tax, reside in the district and have rendered property in the district for taxation.

They are:
1. For or against the creation of the District.
2. For or against the levy of maintenance taxes not to exceed five cents on each hundred dollars valuation of taxable property. (Maximum set by law at 50 cents.)
3. To elect a director in each precinct.
A person is entitled to cast his ballot in the precinct in which he lives, though it differs from the precinct location of his property.
The voters in the district, if their approval is given, will then place the powers given under the law in the hands of a five-man board of directors. The directors may appoint advisory committees in each of the five precincts to aid them in the effective administration of the law.

The law is specific about the powers exercised by the directors. The statute significantly recognizes the rights of the owner of the land to the underground percolating water beneath his land, and nothing in the law will affect that ownership. Though the district will have the prerogative of setting up regulations to obtain the greatest possible good from the water, it will not be able to take one man's water and give it to another.
No limitation will be set on the amount of water a man can draw from his well, except where such drawing would bring salt water into the reservoir. This is considered a very unlikely possibility in the Panhandle.
Spacing regulations may be the only way a farmer may insure his supply of water. Conservation measures may be necessary where the water level is receding. Wells placed too close together fight one another, according to engineering authorities. Proper spacing can prevent the well that begins pumping first from getting all the water.

Spacing varies with the area concerned. Proration is not a power given to the district. Restriction on pumping may be used only when harmful matter can be shown coming into the reservoir. Otherwise, the district can only recommend limited withdrawal of water.
Furthermore, it is provided under the law no landowner can be denied a permit to drill a well. This provision protects the small landowner whose well might be closer to that of a neighbor's well than good usage would recommend.
Wells built and equipped to produce under 100,000 gallons of water a day need no permit. Wells for stock watering and domestic use would not be regulated.
If a water user believes the district is exceeding its power or isn't operating equitably, he can bring suit against the district in the proper court. If it is the action of the state board of water engineers against which he has a complaint concerning the district or the manner in which the reservoir was set up, the water user may file suit against the board in Travis County.

Injunction is the practice by which the district can enforce its laws and regulations principally against the waste of water. Through surveys made by an engineer hired by the district, the directors can decide on what needs to be done to improve the water supply or keep it constant. Bond issues may be submitted to vote of people in carrying out additional projects of the district.
The five principal benefits to incur to the water user from the setting up of an underground water district in this and any area are the retaining of the underground percolating water in the hands of the landowners. It also assures to the user the privilege of developing his water, and having his other sources supplied by recharge. The formation of the local district cuts down the possibility of state or federal control. In the final analysis, according to water authorities, it will pay financial dividends to agriculture, municipalities and industry.
The Marine Corps includes three Marine Divisions and three Marine Aircraft Wings.

Methods For Fixing Flavorful Spareribs

Braising and roasting (baking) are the methods of preparing spareribs advocated by meat expert Reba Staggs. These methods develop the delicious pork flavors.

To braise spareribs, cut into individual servings, then brown them slowly on both sides in a frying pan. Add a small amount of liquid and seasonings. Cover the pan tightly and simmer (don't let the liquid boil) about 1 1/2 hours, or until the meat is tender. If the liquid cooks away, add a little more. You can braise spareribs either on top of the range or in a 350 degree F. oven.

To roast spareribs, place the seasoned spareribs on a rack in an open roasting pan or in a baking dish. You may wish to fill them with such complimentary stuffings as apples and raisins or sauerkraut. When you're using your oven to cook spareribs, it's a terrific idea to plan your menus so that you can bake other foods at the same time. Vegetables, some cakes and quick breads and baked puddings are some suggestions to take advantage of oven heat.

SPARERIBS WITH SAUER-KRAUT STUFFING

2 pounds spareribs, cut in individual servings
8 slices bacon
1 medium onion, grated
1 tablespoon sugar
1 No. 303 can or 2 cups sauerkraut
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

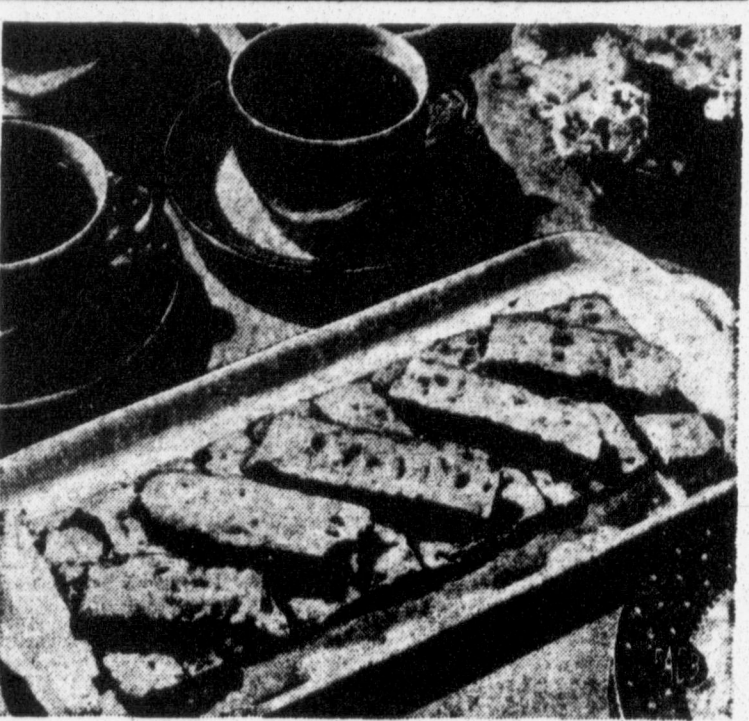

Dice bacon and cook slowly until brown. Add grated onion and continue cooking 5 minutes. Add sugar and sauerkraut. Heat thoroughly. Place in a greased 8x12-inch baking dish. Place spareribs on top. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 2 hours. 4 to 6 servings.

If you get a foreign body in your eye, wash it immediately with cool water, then head for the nearest doctor if that doesn't work. Don't rub it.

Whether you're blond and fragile or brunette and sparky, olive is a color to consider, both spring and summer.

Handiest thing in your wardrobe could be the sweater that's cut like a man's shirt. Good over blouses and skirts; equally good with a sheath dress in wool.

An English Snack With Your Morning Coffee

The English have a way of saying things a bit differently than we say them. "Eleveners", for example, in their term for the coffee-break. Delicious little fruit bars, often eaten with coffee, are called "Snap 'n' Rattle". These, a cross between cookie and pastry, are a great favorite in the English Midlands, so we're told.

It's not hard to explain the popularity of Snap 'n' Rattles. They're easy to make, fine eating any hour of the day when a snack is called for and they keep well. Nice and chewy too,—and at the same time, crisp!

You'll find it worth your while to bake these unusual sweets in fairly large batches. They make a tasty addition to lunch-boxes packed for school or office. And of course, you'll want to have some on hand for your own "eleveners." Incidentally, be sure you make your coffee at its delicious best—hot, strong, full of flavor. And by all means, make plenty. Experience shows that if anything improves the cook's popularity even faster than having home-made cookies on hand, it's always having enough coffee for everyone all around.

Snap 'n' Rattle

1 package pie crust mix
1/2 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup mixed dried candied fruits and peels
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon puting

Roll out pastry in long rectangle, 1/4-inch thick. Combine raisins, fruits and peels. Spread over one-half the surface. Combine brown sugar and spices; sprinkle over fruits. Fold remaining half of the rectangle over fruits. Roll gently with floured rolling pin until fruit shows through pastry. Press edges together. Score deeply into finger size pieces. Bake in hot oven, 425° F., 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown and crisp. While hot, snap apart along scoring lines. Makes about 2 dozen.

Ground Beef Gives Economical Dinner

Thrifty homemakers are buying a lot of beef. It's plentiful and available in a wide variety of cuts, attractively priced.

HAMBURGER TARTS

Pastry:
2 cups flour
2 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cup lard...
5 tablespoons cold water

Filling:
1 pound ground beef
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1/4 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/2 cup catsup
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/4 cup milk

Make pastry and roll to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into eight 5-inch rounds and fit into eight muffin tins. For the filling, in 2 tablespoons hot fat, cook celery, onion and green pepper for 5 minutes. Push to one side and sear beef. Spoon off excess fat and add seasoning and catsup. Fill pastry cups with meat mixture and fold pastry edges over filling. Bake in a 400 degree F. oven for 25 to 40 minutes, or until pastry is lightly browned. Garnish with criss-cross strips of pimiento and serve with sauce made by heating the mushroom soup with the milk.

HAMBURGER TARTS — Ground beef, one of the more economical meat buys, is prepared here as hamburger tarts, an exciting new dish to serve hot for dinner or cold in the lunch box. It is equally popular at lunch time for the family or as an after-party snack for guests.

Cheaply made sunglasses can harm the working part of your eyes, however they may flatter eyes. Most of the new line is the pretty part. Pick ones approved by the U. S. Bureau of Standards. They are made by crystal peeling, sheet floures or lace.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If you are a house guest in a home where husband and children get off to an early start in the morning and your hostess tells you to sleep as late as you like take her at her word.

What she probably hopes is that she can cope with getting a family off before she has to cope with a guest.

Hawaiian Chicken Is "Party Perfect"

Chicken is a Hawaiian "party perfect" but treat the family to it, too. It's easy!

Cook 1 cup crushed drained pineapple (use cubes if you like) in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour. Slowly stir in 1-1 1/2 cups water. Add 1/4 cup each of diced celery and diced green pepper, 1 cup (more if you like) diced cooked chicken and 2 teaspoons soy sauce. Cook 10 minutes. Add water if you want a thinner mixture. Serve over hot fluffy cooked white rice.

COOKING CHICKEN — Mrs. Marjorie Magee, 509 Texas, adjusts her roaster for the cooking of "Wallace" chicken, prepared with wine, oregano, paprika and other ingredients. The recipe has an interesting history. Mrs. Magee received it from her grandmother, who got it from her aunt, who was married to Gen. Lew Wallace, author of the book, "Ben Hur." (News photo)

Mrs. Magee's Chicken Recipe Has A History

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

Mrs. Marjorie Magee, 509 Texas, has a recipe for chicken with an interesting history. The recipe came to Mrs. Magee from her grandmother whose parents died while she was a young child. She was raised by an aunt, who married Gen. Lew Wallace, the author of the book, "Ben Hur." Since the chicken recipe was from the Wallace family, it is called "Wallace Chicken."

A Panpan for 1 1/2 years, Mrs. Magee came to Pampa from Dallas, although she spent most of her married life in Crowell. She was born and reared in Denver, Colo.

During World War II, she was the first Texas flight nurse, for the Air Force, flying patients from different points in the United States. A registered nurse, Mrs. Magee took her post graduate work in psychology. She is the night supervisor of the medical floor at Highland General Hospital.

Mrs. Magee says she used to cook a lot for her family, but now cooks for herself. Her husband died of cancer shortly after they moved to Pampa. She has a son living in Panhandle, stationed with the Air Force at Amarillo.

"Cooking is my first love—after music," she advised. Mrs. Magee plays the organ, (she has one in her home) and used to play the piano. Her other hobbies include golf and reading. Her club activities include being a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Knife and Fork Club, Parish Council of Catholic Women and the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Magee is also active in the Gray County chapter of the American Cancer Society, serving this year as chairman of the nurses' committee.

IF YOU'RE LOOKING for a new twist to the old favorite; soup, here's how by using baby foods. It saves a lot of time and is good, too. It might be interesting to try, just for curiosity's sake. I'm not especially fond of baby foods, but cooked in something they might be delicious.

"ALONG ABOUT FEBRUARY, when your spirits and menus are dragging, a bowl of piping-hot soup will add a new lift to your luncheon or dinner affair. "Not just ANY soup, however, but something special. And it doesn't take much time if you use some of the new, strained and junior vegetables now available in most food shops. "Many homemakers, for example, use a wide variety of baby foods both because they save time and open up a whole new world of exciting cookery. Adding milk or bouillon, favorite herbs, strained or junior vegetables, become a new, different, taste-stimulating soup. And there's no need to spend hours in the kitchen or adhere to the gourmet's custom of keeping the "pot au feu" handy to create delicious soups. "Used in this way, baby and junior foods taste far different than the standard canned varieties, can be seasoned to suit your own family's individual tastes and fancies. "A good full-bodied soup to serve on cold winter days is Puree Mongole. Instead of soaking split peas for 12 hours to make a soup that must simmer 3 or 4 hours, here is a new version from the Beech-Nut Nutrition Service ready in 15 minutes cooking time." PUREE MONGOLE

2 jars strained peas
1 tablespoon tomato paste
3 baby jars of water
2 chicken bouillon cubes
3/4 cup cream
1 teaspoon curry powder
salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons sherry (optional)
Buttered croutons
Combine all ingredients, except croutons and sherry, in a saucepan. Mix well, simmer for 15 minutes. Add sherry. Pour into 4 soup bowls; float croutons on top of each serving.

Mayor Designates World Prayer Day In Pampa Friday

Mayor Tom Rose has designated Friday as World Day of Prayer in Pampa in an official proclamation, released today. Services, sponsored by the Pampa Council of Church Women, will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Church of the Brethren, with a special service for working women at 7 a.m. in the First Methodist Church. The proclamation states: "Whereas World Day of Prayer will be observed this year in many places throughout the world where humble peoples, living against a background of universal tension and uncertainty, will bow their heads and lift up their hearts to Almighty God in prayer; and whereas the United Church Women of Pampa will join on this occasion with church women in communities throughout the nation and the world to form and articulate an inspiring chain of human prayer; "And whereas the troubled people in less fortunate nations than ours; and indeed, even in our own beloved country, need Divine Guidance as never before, especially as this is stimulated through prayerful communion . . . I, Tom Rose, Mayor of the city of Pampa, do hereby proclaim Friday . . . as World Day of Prayer." The proclamation also urges "our citizens to observe this day by attending . . . wherever possible, World Day of Prayer services, or pausing for a minute of prayer at the sound of the siren at 10 a.m. to ask God to give us, in all humility, the wisdom and courage to meet and successfully solve the profound problems of our times." Purpose of the day, according to the Council of Church Women, is "to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and, in the United States, to make an offering for interdenominational missions projects."

Twentieth Century Forum Club Program On Writers And Indians Of Southwest

"The Great Southwest" was the program presented at the recent meeting of Twentieth Century Forum in the home of Mrs. J. B. McCrery. Mrs. Homer Johnson discussed Southwestern writers. "More fiction is now being written which shows a maturity in literature," she advised. "For in earlier years there was no time for a person to view himself or his companions as figures of a story." Three predominate factors playing a part in Southwestern literature, named by Mrs. Johnson, were the Indian and Spanish civilization on which Anglo-American progress was superimposed; the unique geography and climate of the country; and the rapid advancement of the forces of enlightenment after 1848. "And three characteristics of the Southwesterner himself — Optimism, resourcefulness and lack of class consciousness — permeate the writings," she pointed out. Mrs. Russell Holloway's subject was "The Texas Indian — Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

ments are primarily interested in educating and inspiring the Indian to take his place in the white man's world and not to remain a government dependent, she advised.

Keed Loses; Claims Fight Was 'Fixed'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24—UP—Former welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, again yelling "fixed fight," was scheduled to file an official protest Thursday against Wednesday night's decision-defeat by West Indian Hector Constance. Young Constance, a professional chemist of Trinidad, British West Indies, threw acid on Gavilan's comeback campaign by winning a unanimous, upset, 10-round decision over the Cuban "Keed" before a sellout crowd of 3,905 in the Miami Beach auditorium. Constance was a 4-1 underdog. The three ring officials agreed that 24-year-old Hector's fast footwork and speedy counter-punching had beaten 29-year-old Gavilan in his second comeback fight. But there was no agreement among 13 sport writers at the ringside. Six favored Constance; six had Gavilan ahead, and one scored a draw. Gavilan, declared, "this decision was worse than the one in the Johnny Saxton fight at Philadelphia."

Loud screams of "fix" came from Gavilan and his entourage after the Philadelphia fight on Oct. 29 in which he lost the welterweight crown to Saxton of Brooklyn. Wednesday night's bout was Gavilan's second since the Saxton loss. He outpointed Ernie Durando on a split decision, Feb. 4. Manager Yamil Chade said Thursday, "We don't like to make trouble, but this decision was very dishonest. Gavilan definitely won. And I know all the television fans in the United States will agree. We will file protests immediately with the National Boxing Association and the Miami Beach Boxing Commission."

The bout was televised nationally. Constance, weighing 149 pounds to Gavilan's 154-1-4, registered his 25th victory in 39 fights. It was his fifth U.S. appearance. Academy to Field Squad SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24—UP—The U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, hopes to field a top caliber football team by the 1958 season, Athletic Director Lt. Col. Robert Whitlow told a news conference here Wednesday. Whitlow said that an eight-game schedule has been arranged for the freshman squad this year and said that plans are underway to attract top athletes to the Academy.

Tulsa, Bills Meet Saturday In MVC 'Game Of The Year'

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 24—UP—The Missouri Valley basketball title and possibly two national tourney berths will be at stake Saturday when hard-pushing Tulsa takes on leading St. Louis University. The Billikens (6-1) can virtually clinch the title by winning and taking the measure of Houston and Oklahoma A&M next week. But Tulsa (6-2) could set up a tie by defeating the Bills and topping Wichita in its only remaining contest.

But brother Clarence still has the top point-maker in the MVC, blond Bob Patterson who has 231 in Valley games and 644 in 24 contests. Jerry Hacker and Dick Courter pitch in to give Tulsa a pick attack. Patterson is tops. West Squad Names Two NEW YORK, Feb. 24—UP—Don Schundt, six-foot, 10-inch center from the University of Indiana, and Bob Patterson, University of Tulsa forward with a 28.7 point-per-game average, have been named to the West squad for the annual East-West All-Star Basketball classic at Madison Square Garden, March 26.

Beaumont To Keep Franchise In TL

DALLAS, Feb. 24—UP—Beaumont citizens have their Texas League baseball club back in the city Thursday. The debt-laden club almost was moved to Wichita Falls. However, Beaumont citizens rallied to its aid, raised $50,000 in cash and guaranteed another $50,000 in advance ticket sales by March 5 to retain the franchise in the coastal city. The plan was approved by Texas League directors, in meeting here. But, they set up a special committee to draw up a set of standards to guide future applicants in recognition of the interest shown in other cities toward a possible league franchise. The special action came Wednesday, less than 24 hours after the directors had turned thumbs down on two financial plans to move the club to Wichita Falls and discussing "feeler" bids for the franchise from parties in at least two other cities—believed to be Amarillo or Austin. The Beaumont group has already presented the league office a check for $25,000, and this amount will be used to write-off a $50,000 indebtedness the league held against the club at 50 cents on the dollar.

ACC To Play Teams From Four States

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 24—UP—Teams from four states are listed on the 1955 Abilene Christian College football schedule, announced Wednesday. However, the Wildcats won't be able to compete for the Gulf Coast Conference football title next fall because ACC and North Texas State were unable to arrange a game, according to Coach Garvin Beachamp. The other two members of the circuit, Trinity and Midwestern, are listed on the ACC schedule. The Wildcats also will tangle with Louisiana Tech for the first time and will renew a series with the University of Chattanooga. Other out-of-state colleges listed on the schedule are Mississippi Southern and Youngtown College. The complete schedule: Sept. 17, Trinity at Abilene. Sept. 24, East Texas State at Commerce. Oct. 1, Louisiana Tech at Ruston. Oct. 15, McMurry at Abilene. Oct. 21, Chattanooga at Chattanooga, Tenn. Oct. 29, Southwest Texas State at San Marcos. Nov. 5, Mississippi Southern at Abilene. Nov. 12, Midwestern at Wichita Falls. Nov. 19, Youngtown at Abilene. Nov. 24, Howard Payne at Brownwood.

Sandusky Signs With Colts BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 24—UP—Alex Sandusky, a rookie surprise at guard during the 1954 season, has signed his 1955 National Football League contract with the Baltimore Colts. Sandusky, who starred as an end in college, made the switch to guard and won a starting berth in 1954.

Braves May Trade Wilson MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 24—UP—Hard-luck pitcher Jim Wilson, the only pitcher to tally a no-hitter in his eighth year in the majors last season, will probably be traded by the Milwaukee Braves. The announcement came from Braves General Manager John Quinn, who said Wilson had been waived by all the National League clubs after he had put the 33-year-old right-hander on the waiver list.

"Old at 40, 50, 60?" —Man, You're Crazy

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher priced cars. If you demanded something extra in driving fun... something really special in the way a car handled and felt and responded to your wishes... you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet for 1955 has changed all that. In fact, it's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars on their own home-grounds-out on the highway. Talk about excitement! You have 162 high-compression horsepower under the hood with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (180 h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models if you want it.) Or you can take your pick of two new "Blue-Flame" 6's—the hottest, highest powered sixes in the low-price field! Any one of these three engines brings you all the good things that come from Chevrolet's long leadership in valve-in-head design. As for drives, just name it, Chevrolet offers new Overdrive, Super-Smooth Powerglide (extra-cost options), or a new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission.

You're headed for fun in the Motoramic Chevrolet! You're headed for a ride such as you'd expect only in highest priced cars. You're headed for "heads up" stopping, too, and easier steering. All this, with Chevrolet's traditional economy. Come in and put this "show car" on the road!
