Housing Scandal Is Raked

Said Worse Than Teapot Dome Mess

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 — UP — Sen. Harry F. Byrd said Tuesday the government housing scandal is "even greater than the Teapot Dome scandal" of the Harding administration.

The Virginia Democrat urged Democrats on the Senate Banking committee to continue the housing investigation started by the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress. He said the Republican investigation "barely scratched" the surface.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), chairman of the banking group's subcommittee on housing, announced last week his group would investigate "all phases, good and bad" of the vast federal housing program. He said he is awaiting a Senate grant of $100,000 to finance the work.

Sparkman and Byrd disagreed Monday when the Federal Housing Administration asked for a $1.5 billion increase in its general mortgage insurance authorization to tide it over until new funds are granted in July. The FHA said that because of the current high rate of building its authority to insure mortgages is about exhausted.

Byrd said the government already is "over-committed" in insured mortgages by about $35 billion and said the government will be "left holding the bag" in the event of an economic downturn.

But Sparkman said refusal to extend the authority would "amount to saying let's slow down the housing program."

Other developments: RUSSIA

Guard Hikes Complement

An extra 40 to 50 men will be authorized in the Pampa National Guard unit in early April when the present observation battalion becomes a firing battalion.

WO William Leonard Monday announced that definite word had been received of the change-over. "It will mean an extra battery for the Pampa Guard," Leonard said. In addition to the present headquarters battery, there also will be a service battery—both supply and ammunition. A truck-towed 155mm Howitzer will be used.

The Monday night drill, first to be held in the new armory building in Recreation Park, was spent on reorganization for the change-over, Leonard said today.

Gen. John I. Thompson, commander of the XLI Corps, notified Lt. Col. Dock A. Stuart, battalion commander, Monday that he would be on hand for the March 7 dedication of the armory, arriving in Pampa the day before.

Nine-County Water Meet Here Thursday

Within the last five years two underground water districts have been established in West Texas, one in the Lubbock-Hereford area, known as the High Plains Water District, and the recently organized district north of the Canadian River.

Gray Counties meet with their neighbors from eight counties Thursday at 2 p. m. in the courthouse to discuss a proposed underground water district for this area with Tom McFarland, manager, and W. L. Broadhurst, water engineer, both of the High Plains Water District.

Decision Feb. 25 A meeting Feb. 25 in Panhandle before the state board of water engineers will decide whether it is feasible to form an area underground water district. Other counties included in the proposed district are Potter, Armstrong, Carson, Donley, Roberts, Hemphill, Randall and Hutchinson.

According to County Agent Ralph Thomas, the law allowing formation of the districts was passed in 1949 by the Texas Legislature, giving area districts specific control of all wells producing over 100,000 gallons of water per day.

Unlike New Mexico and Oklahoma, where the state controls underground water, Thomas said, Texas, which establish ownership over the surface rights control the water underneath the surface.

Governing Board An important aspect of local control, Thomas said, with the aid of more irrigation wells being drilled in the county, is the control over spacing, which would be exercised by a local five-man governing board.

"It would prevent wells from being drilled too close to one another. Farmers or other persons drilling wells almost on top of one another would find themselves pumping from the same reservoir, cutting down the capacity of both wells. Regulation as to spacing would be similar to that used in the oil fields," Thomas said.

Thomas emphasized that we aren't looking for too much regulation, but that wise well-spacing will prove beneficial to all concerned. No state law regulates this aspect of the problem, Thomas said, and an underground water district would help serve as a clearing house for such problems.

Threat Lessened One area agriculturalist pointed out that organizing locally would ward off the possibility of state control and centralization, and he felt the local units are the ones which will support plans for recharging underground water reservoirs by drilling in lakes.

The Pampa meeting will be under the chairmanship of John Harnly of Miami, with County Attorney Don Cain explaining some

Russians Appear Wary In Formosa

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 15 — UP — Diplomatic observers in Moscow reported Tuesday the Soviet government apparently was dead serious in its attempts to find some way of reducing the boiling point of the Formosa crisis.

They noted the expressions of support given to Communist China by the Soviet leaders were couched in the most general tones and that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin promised aid only "when the necessity arises."

They were much milder than statements by Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tze-Tung and Premier Chou En-Lai warning the United States it would be "wiped clean from the surface of the globe" in any World War III.

United Press correspondent Kenneth Brodney, reporting from Moscow, said diplomatic observers there commented on the Soviet "mildness." It was considered possible "this may be a starting position for some hard pre-conference bargaining."

Signs that diplomatic circles in Moscow still were active in search for a Formosan cease-fire were seen in conferences Monday between Indian Charge d'Affaires Prakash N. Kaul and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Pineau Trying To Form Cabinet

PARIS, Feb. 15 — UP — Socialist Christian Pineau started urgent talks with political leaders Tuesday in an effort to become premier on his party's platform.

Few observers gave him more than the barest chance of rallying enough support from the rightist and center elements of the national assembly to form the 21st post-war government. The 11-day-old crisis which began with the ouster of Premier Mendes-France has delayed ratification of the Paris pacts and put the whole issue of German rearmament in doubt.

Romanian Legation In Bern Hostage

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 15 — UP — A band of anti-Communists armed with hand grenades and tommy-guns seized the Romanian legation in a burst of gunfire Tuesday and vowed to hold it until Romania releases five resistance fighters from Iron Curtain jails.

The legation chauffeur, Aurel Fetu, was shot fatally during the brief attack in which the legation was seized.

The Swiss government said the anti-Communist refugees shot their way into the legation chancellery and the home of the Romanian charge d'affaires, driving Communist officials out of the buildings in one of the most unusual incidents of the cold war.

International Crisis The action placed neutral Switzerland in the midst of an international crisis similar to one in Copenhagen, Denmark, where police and detectives were besieging the Romanian legation in belief the Communists were holding hostage the child bride of a Romanian who chose freedom.

Police said a band of five to seven Romanian anti-Reds stormed into the legation buildings and ousted the consular staff in a night attack that jumped off just before midnight and achieved complete control of the legation early Tuesday.

A burst of gunfire chopped down the Communist legation's chauffeur who touched off the shooting when he tried to block the invasion, officials said.

A legation spokesman said others were injured.

Police Ring Building Swiss police, wearing steel helmets against the threat of further shooting, ringed the consulate buildings in a usually quiet Bern Park Tuesday morning and arrested one of the anti-Communists who tried to slip out of the legation.

Two others were reported to have fled, but a holdout group remained inside.

The Swiss cabinet held a special morning session and the foreign department, Switzerland's state department, held urgent consultations with advisers on international law. They were seeking some means by which Swiss police could clean up the attackers under diplomatic protocol that decrees the legation Romanian territory.

In the Copenhagen incident detectives could only ring the legation as they have for three days and nights since Ion Cimbru, 25, a legation chauffeur "borrowed" $880 in legation funds and asked authorities for permission to stay in Denmark. He said his 15-year-old wife, Maria, was being held as a decoy to lure him back to communism.

Dedication Of Bridge Set May 5

Dedication of the Canadian River Bridge between Pampa and Perryton will be May 5.

Plans for the ceremony were made Monday in Miami at a meeting of the bridge dedication steering committee, according to Fred Thompson, one of the Gray County Commissioners on the committee.

Following lunch and a band concert, the formal program will begin at 1:30 with an address by H. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission. Other members of the commission, Marshall Formabee and R. J. Potts, may also speak. There will be brief appearances from the judges of Gray, Ochiltree and Roberts Counties.

Five separate ribbons will then be cut, formally opening the bridge to traffic, Thompson said.

Speaker Named Mrs. Sherman White, widow of the late Pampa man who was once county judge, will cut the first ribbon. W. B. LaMaster and Woods King, representing Ochiltree and Roberts Counties, will cut the second and third. Robert Lee Bobbitt, San Antonio, a member of the highway commission when Texas Hwy. 70 was made a state highway, will cut the fourth. Someone on the present highway commission will cut the last ribbon.

Last Meeting Set Each of the three counties involved in the ceremony will make up its own invitation list. All invitations will be sent from Pampa. The steering committee will have one more meeting, probably in mid-April, before the date of the dedication ceremony, Thompson said.

Commission To Be On TV

The whirl of a television movie camera broke into the deliberations of the Pampa City Commission today on the upcoming $200,000 water improvement bond issue election and on relative water problems.

Dave Robin of KFDD-TV in Amarillo wheeled his camera into the city commission room at 9:30 a. m. today and took pictures of some rather self-conscious city officials.

Weather Delays Atomic Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 15 — UP — The Atomic Energy Commission Tuesday postponed "for at least 24 hours" a scheduled A-bomb test because of shifting winds and heavy cloud formations.

The weather hazards developed a scant four hours before the first explosion of the 1955 test series was due to be set off from a 500-foot steel tower at 7:45 a. m. est.

A spokesman said the postponement was advisable because the winds that developed might carry a radio-active atomic cloud over the small mining, ranching and railroad communities of Pioche and Caliente, Nev., some 120 miles northeast of the test site.

Action Made Clear During planning for the first blast of the 1955 test series the joint office of test information directing the experiment had made it clear the test would not be made on schedule if the weather was not favorable.

They will be shown over Channel 10 at 6:45 p. m. and 10 p. m. Wednesday.

Dressed For TV There is little doubt that the officials were tipped off about their TV debut. Eight of the nine sported ties. Commissioner W. D. Varnon and City Secy. Ed Vicars wore blue shirts, which show up best on TV. Mayor Tom Rose and Commissioners W. B. Neel and Frank Dial were attired in "television blue" suits.

Commissioners this morning made plans for the public water bond issue information session slated for 3 p. m. today in the Palm Room of City Hall. And they okayed a schedule of appearances during the next week: Station KPDD Staff Breakfast, 9:30 a. m. Wednesday; Lions Club, noon Thursday; Kiwanis, noon Friday; Optimists, 6:30 p. m. Monday; and another public meeting, 7:30 p. m. Feb. 22, Palm Room, City Hall. A tentative session is scheduled for Rotary Feb. 23.

Mayor Rose, City Mgr. Fred Brook and City Director of Public Works James Cowan will try to attend all the meetings. The four commissioners will show up at some of them, it was decided.

Letter to Rogers Brook read the text of a letter which he sent Thursday to Congressman Walter Rogers in Washington, asking Rogers the status of the old airfield south of Pampa along the Clarendon Highway. It is the understanding of the City of Pampa the day before.

Income Tax Primer No. 8 Reporting Rents And Annuities

By RICHARD A. MULLINS, Written for NEA Service

The article takes up the last three schedules for reporting income on Form 1040. It will help you if you have income from pensions or annuities, rents and royalties, and miscellaneous items of income such as prizes and awards.

There have been a number of changes in Schedule E, Page 2 of Form 1040, used for reporting income from pensions and annuities. Under the old law, annuity payments were taxed annually on three per cent of the cost of the annuity until the amount received tax-free equaled the cost of the annuity. Thereafter, the recipient paid tax on the entire annuity payment received. There was much criticism of this old rule because most non-employee annuities could not recover the cost of their annuities tax-free unless they lived beyond their life expectancy.

Under the new annuity rule, the recipient is not taxed on that part of his annual annuity payments which is equal to the cost of his annuity divided by his life expectancy return over the life of the contract. He is taxed on any excess. Once the taxable and nontaxable portion of his annual annuity are established, they remain constant throughout the term of his annuity and are reported in Part I of Schedule E on page 2 of Form 1040.

In order to fill out Part I of Schedule E so as to arrive at the taxable portion of an annuity, it is necessary to determine several amounts. One of these, the investment which goes on line 1, is the total cost to you of the contract or annuity less any payment received tax-free in previous years under the old three per cent rule. Line 2 of Schedule E calls for an amount equal to the expected payments to be received. If the annuity contract is for a fixed number of years, that determines the number of annual payments which, when multiplied by the amount of the annual payment will give the expected return.

Most annuities, however, are for the life of one or more persons. The expected return from such contracts can only be determined by using complicated life expectancy tables.

If you are receiving an annuity or pension, it is suggested that you contact the insurance company or other agency from which you receive payments. Most of these organizations are set up to furnish you the information needed to fill out Schedule E.

The fact that an annuity contract or pension was partially paid for by your employer does not affect the method by which it is taxed. However, you must separate your share of the cost from the amount contributed by your employer and show on your cost in line 1 of Schedule E. Your employer or the agency which pays you the annuity or pension should furnish this information.

If your contribution is not more than the amount of the pension or annuity payments which you will receive in the first three years after payments start, then you do not report the amounts received under the general rule discussed above.

Instead you report the amounts in Part II of Schedule E. This part is quite simple to fill out. It permits your pension or annuity payments to be recovered tax-free to the amount of your cost or contribution. Thereafter, the payments are fully taxed.

Star's Friend Found Dead

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 15—UP—Abigail Adams, the part-time actress who waited in vain for years for actor George Jessel to marry her, apparently took an overdose of sleeping pills to end her own life, police reported Monday.

The 31-year-old beauty, clad in a blue nightgown, was discovered by Calabasas, Calif., drug dealer Max Marks who said he had escorted her to several nightclubs Saturday. Marks told police he became curious when Miss Adams did not answer her telephone. He arrived at her apartment to find a "do not disturb" sign on the door. The coroner scheduled an autopsy for later Monday.

Marks entered with Dr. Paul Moss, a physician, who was unable to revive her.

Commiss Seek Out US 'Breaking Point'

By EARNST HORRECHT, TAIPEI, Feb. 15 (UP)—Chinese quarters here predicted Monday the Communists soon will try to break out the line on which the United States intends to stand in protecting Nationalist offshore islands.

The Nationalists pointed out that the Reds will make every effort to break out the line. The intent of American promises regarding protection of such places as Quemoy, Matsu and Nantao now that the Communists have abandoned them. Since the Americans have not drawn a firm public line, the Communists most likely will be probing to find out where it is located.

Some Nationalists were of the opinion this would come soon. It would follow the pattern preceding evacuation of the Tachen.

First Attack Launched
The Communists first moved toward the Tachens by attacking nearby Yikangshan. When the American Seventh Fleet did not seem to protest that tiny islet, which obviously had to be held if the Tachens were to be defended, the Reds knew the United States would not fight there.

The Reds got the information they wanted. They knew they had not yet come up against the U.S. and they were confident.

Now the Nationalists fully expect the Reds to make some stab at other Nationalist offshore islands to see what the United States is going to do about them. There is no use of our starting public debate with the people in Washington over what has been decided, one Nationalist official said.

The Communists soon will smoke us out again just as they did at Yikangshan. They will make another aggressive move, and find out then whether they can take more territory for the asking or whether they have a real fight on their hands.

Continue Making Trouble
High American military quarters in Washington were reported thinking along similar lines. These circles doubt that the Reds will make any big effort in the immediate future to take the Coastal Islands. But they feel the Communists will continue trying to make trouble in the Formosa Strait.

Vice Adm. Robert P. Briscoe has pointed out that around April 1 the weather in this part of the world turns good enough for possible sea activity by Red China's small ships. He said the Seventh Fleet would be "on the alert" for

Fred Hobart Speaks On World Trade At Luncheon Meet Of Women Voters

Mutually satisfactory trade is the best way to keep peace in the world, stated Fred Hobart during a speech at the League of Women Voters luncheon Monday in the First Methodist Church.

Hobart explained that he was one of ten men, composing a "mission" sent to Asia by the Department of Agriculture to "find out the main obstacles to trade and what to do about them." The mission was formed by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, at the request of President Eisenhower. Two other missions were sent to Latin America and one to Europe. Hobart represented the beef industry.

The two main problems the Asian mission discovered were prices and currency. Hobart advised that the high subsidies in the United States keep the price of our products high, and the currency of the Asian countries is only good in their respective countries. Hobart pointed out that the Asians base on to what dollars they do have to use for other things than foodstuffs.

One factor that may help the currency situation, he explained, is the Harrison Bill, an amendment to the Mutual Security Act. This bill "enables us to accept currency of other countries in exchange for purchases here over and above the normal requirements," Hobart advised.

As background information on the foreign trade problem, Hobart pointed out that during and shortly after World War II, the war-torn countries carried on a brisk agricultural trade. Since then, they have "swung into production" and are now exporters instead of importers, in the same commodities as the U. S.

First stop of the Asian mission was Pakistan, where most of the people are Moslems, but are "friendly" and "like Americans." Moslems do eat beef, Hobart explained, but can't pay for it. Their main export is juice.

"If we expect to sell, we must import from them," he stated.

Hobart explained that the mission also investigated "barter deals" or trading our products for other countries' products, "without using currency."

The missions with our ambassadors included: 1) meetings with our ambassador or counsel; 2) meetings with native government officials; and 3) meetings with private businessmen. An agriculture attaché in most of the countries visited arranged all the meetings.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

THE DIOR V-LOOK

for evening has aroused much comment from many persons. One male fashion expert not too long ago said women should take the advice of men on fashions... whether they should wear this or that. With this in mind, I asked Ed Nash, our male fashion editor (he wrote a column of men's fashions for Jane Talk while I was on vacation in August), to give his opinions on the V-look. Since Ed can be considered a fairly typical male, we might consider this as typical of the average man's reaction to this latest style innovation.

THE MORE THESE FRENCH

fashion experts mess around with milady's garments, the less garment there is to mess with.

That's certainly the — you might say — naked truth this year.

There's A-lines, H-lines, V-lines, the works. But they all seem to end up meaning one thing: The prettier it is, the less you need of it.

And they even pull a reverse between morning and midnight. The A-line is for exclusive daytime use — the clothes start at the neck and work down to the toes, ever sweeping outward. Everything covered, all nice and proper.

But the things that happen at night! Ooo-la-la! "Bien entendu," the enthusiastic Frenchman might put it. "Le V-line, she is just the reverse of the A-line. She starts wide at... well, ah... let us say somewhere below the neck... and sweeps inward to the ankles... quelle masterpiece!"

We can dispense with the A- or daytime look. It's all clothes. But the nighttime variety, the heralded V-line, that deserves more comment. As one fashion writer put it, "It left the models' bosoms exposed to within an inch of their modesty." (That's her words, not ours — we wouldn't dare say it.)

Generally, they say, the new long-legged silhouette is both supple and slender. That's just another way of saying, "Honey, hold your tummy in, or the supply of it will keep you from being slender."

There's more to Christian Dior's newest line, of course. He also found time to fool with the shirtwaist dress, the ensemble, the ultra feminine suit (it couldn't beat that V-look dress, that's for sure) and the tailored dinner dress. And, amazing as it seems, he even thought of the male who has to pay for the other stuff. Just a toposat, though. Nothing else.

Of course, there are others over there in Paris who whipped together a garment or two. Pierre Balmain goofed this year and kept the normal bust and waistline. His evening gowns, however, are described as "slinky sheaths," whatever they are. Jacques Heim, though, was "more with it" — he has wind-blown silhouettes, unfitted from the shoulder to below the hips. Sounds cool. In more ways than one.

Of Jean Patou stresses the long torso look with concave stomach, high bosom, normal shoulders and waistline. Certainly glad he let the shoulders stay normal. But that stomach, that's got us worried.

Naturally, all the French designers have their own special colors for their outfits. But that's really of no interest here.

And, ladies, don't you worry about those boys running out of ideas. They've only used three letters of the alphabet. There's 23 more letters to go. And, besides, when they get to "Z", they can always start using double letters, or even numbers.

Now, hubbies, YOU'VE really got the troubles. No doubt about it. How to pay for all this stuff is ever the No. 1 question. And as long as these fashion boys keep up the elevator system — skirts up one year, skirts down the next — brother, you've had it! In spades. Or, rather, in the wallet.

Sam Houston Pupils Give Valentine Play

"Valentine Day At The Court of Hearts" was the play presented by fourth grade students at Sam Houston School during an assembly program Monday. Mrs. C. W. Stowell, fourth grade teacher, directed the production.

The play included a "Prince Charming," called the Prince of Diamonds, a beautiful princess, a king and queen, several princes, a fairy godmother, ladies-in-waiting, which ends in a large court scene.

Joyce Prock played the Princess Rosanne, and John Holloway portrayed the Prince of Diamonds. The Queen was Linda Andis and John Brown was seen as the King. Others in the cast included Ronald Brown, DDWight Chase, Michael Hill, Don Hines, Frank Howard, Gary Johnson, Raymond Nance, John Osborne, Michael Warner, Bobby Whalley, Karen Adams, Nancy Andrews, Joy Buchanan, Gwen Carver, Anne Evans, Lucile Gordon, Linda Kay Key, Carol Koenig, Grazia Lewis, Janis Lively, Cecily Morgan, Jane Thompson, Sue Ann Thompson, Vontell Wade, Julia Wilson, Gay Arndt and Rosemary Hutto.

Prior to the play the school choir gave a short concert. This group is under the direction of Mrs. Roy Sullivan. Following the assembly, Valentine parties were held in the various classrooms.

Pampa News Staff Writer

THIRTEEN YEARS ago today there occurred "the worst disaster and largest depopulation (70,000 men) in British history." . . . And 44 years before that, 266 lives were lost when a battleship was blown up . . . In the more recent, Winston Churchill is describing the capture of Singapore by the Japanese. In the other, it was the Battleship Maine that was blown up in Havana harbor, thereby setting off the United States' 118-day war with Spain.

THEY'RE HOLDING a public water meeting upstairs in the Palm Room of City Hall today . . . And all those on hand are supposed to be concerned with water, what water problems the city has in the future, how to get more of it, how to pay for it, stuff like that . . . But there's one more immediate problem that those people upstairs really ought to be more concerned about this afternoon . . . And that goes for anyone else who ever has occasion to meet in the Palm Room . . . Just take a look up at that chunk of ceiling that's bending downward -- just about to fall and crack somebody on the dome . . . That's the trouble with us these days. We're so busy looking ahead, making plans for the future, that we don't even recognize the immediate problems, those right at hand. Those right overhead you might say.

SPEAKING OF meetings, Pampa is just about the "meetingest" town ever . . . Every time you look around, somebody or other is starting a new club, or group, or organization, or get-together, or something . . . Now the city boys, the school officials and those of the county, too, they're supposed to hold meetings. After all, they're meeting around with the public's dough . . . But some of the others? That's a different story . . . Pretty soon, we'll be having the Amalgamated Order of Associated Part-Time Kitchener Helpers for Cafes off Cuyler St. Or the Pampa Organization for the Organizing of the Triple-Stamp Day, a day when shoppers could really help stores unload their drawers of the things . . . Or maybe the Gray County Commission for the Commission of All Weather Reports, Weather Musings and Weather Predictions to the Nearest Trash Basket, Pampa chapter . . . There's no end to the outfits that could be thought up. But, if there is an end, could be that Pampa will be the one to find it.

SAY, HOW 'BOUT that Triple Stamp Day? . . . That'd be a good deal for those shoppers who can remember what day it is they can get the extra stamps . . . But what's the scene it could well be! Look at it on Wednesdays now. The stores are swamped. And why? Just because they're giving away twice as many stamps from their

Democrats On Ag Payroll Make GOP Leaders Unhappy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15-UP- Some Republican congressional leaders were reported unhappy Monday because Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has too many Democrats in the department's policy making jobs.

One GOP leader said, "when a party is in office, it ought to be able to control its own administration by filling the policy-making jobs."

A survey showed 43 of 78 top Agriculture Department "policy" jobs still are filled by holdovers from the Truman administration.

"Sure, we believe in the merit system, and we want to keep it strong. But I also believe in the two-party system," the GOP leader said.

Another congressional leader complained sharply that Benson's aides have failed to "co-operate" in making appointments.

All asked that they not be identified at this time.

The Agriculture Department payroll listed 70,267 employees all over the country at the last count, with 19,253 outside the Civil Service system.

A great many jobs outside Civil Service protection are temporary, or are not too important, and there is little patronage demand for them, officials said.

But Benson has made many appointments in important field jobs. These include state stabilization and conservation committeemen, field men aiding in the price support program, and Farmers Home Administration officials.

It's the failure to place Republicans in these jobs that irritates GOP leaders. They charge that many officials still on the payroll "sabotaged" Republicans when the Democrats were in power.

Utah Chief President Candidate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15-UP- Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) said Monday that Republican Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah is seeking the presidency as head of a third "splinter" party in 1956.

Bennett denounced the Republican governor's attack on President Eisenhower in a speech Saturday night at Chicago. Lee spoke at what Bennett called a "GOP right-wing rally."

Also speaking at the rally were Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis.), Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), and George W. Malone (Nev.).

Lee questioned Mr. Eisenhower's loyalty to the Republican party and raised the possibility that right-wing Republicans might get together with some Democrats in a new party.

Lee's speech, Bennett said in a statement, was "an announcement that he is an active candidate for the presidency in 1956."

Bennett said it is difficult to understand Lee's "third party thrust" in view of Mr. Eisenhower's popularity.

Jack Benny Promises He Will Turn 40 Years Old In 1956

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15-UP- Jack Benny celebrated another 35th birthday Monday but next year, he promised, he'll be 40.

For 11 years, Benny has been 39 on his radio and TV shows, a running gag that has turned the veteran comedian's age into a national institution.

Actually, Benny was 61 on this Valentine's Day. In 1956 he will reluctantly add another year to the only age he'll admit on his programs.

"I considered becoming 40 this year but my birthday was too far away from my show. Next year it will be closer so we can make a national event out of it," said Benny, a smart showman even it comes to birthdays.

"By the time I'm 45 on my show I won't be able to work," he smiled.

Benny was sitting in Romanoff's, an unpolished eatery where you often can see celebrities plowing into $6 lunches. But even in Hollywood the fancy restaurants have home town touches. Between courses Benny exchanges notes, dispatched by a patient headwaiter, with a diner on the other side of the room, Humphrey Bogart.

I thought Bogie's notes were funnier. But, then Benny is the first to admit he surrounds himself with the best of TV-radio writers.

"People say I could just stand on the stage and be funny," said Benny. "I've been in the business a long time. I know better. You have to have material. And it must have a fairly believable premise."

The age gag, believable because Benny doesn't look his years, was introduced into his show in 1943. Benny then was supposed to be 35. The following year he became 37 but five years ago stopped at 39, and has vigorously resisted turning 40 ever since.

The joke is so well known now that when Arthur Godfrey recently asked a TV contestant his age the audience howled when the man answered, "39." Even Benny's veteran business colleagues are mesmerized by the gag.

"You should see some of the movie scripts I get," said Benny. "I'd have to be 39 to play them. Recently I was offered the role of a baseball pitcher and they wanted me to do 'Seven Year Itch' on the stage. They don't think I get any older."

"This may be because radio and TV are like a comic strip. You hear the same voice, see the same face. Entertainers don't grow or sound older to people."

Benny has a simple formula for keeping his youthful looks: Diet and stay in show business.

Ike Foreign Trade Policy Assured Votes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15-UP- Speaker Sam Rayburn said Monday that a "big majority" of House Democrats will vote for President Eisenhower's foreign trade program as is. Its fate will depend on "how many Republican votes the President can control."

Rayburn made the statements to reporters in discussing the chances of the trade program clearing the House without crippling amendments.

The first House test on the bill will come Thursday on a vote to consider the bill under a rule barring amendments. Rayburn said he is confident this will carry.

The big fight is expected to come on a motion by protectionist-minded House members to send the bill back to committee with instructions to include new restrictions on tariff cuts. Rayburn said "a big majority" of Democrats will vote with the President and against this motion, "but I've heard there is quite a lot of opposition to the bill on the Republican side."

Chairman Jere Cooper of the Ways and Means committee predicted earlier that the bill will be approved by a "fair margin." The committee approved the bill last week, 20 to 5.

Broun Award Given Capital Newsman

NEW YORK, Feb. 15-UP- The 1954 Heywood Broun Award has been given to Anthony Lewis of the Scripps Howard newspaper Washington Daily News for a series of dispatches that helped clear a Navy Department employee who had been named a security risk.

The $500 award and a citation was presented Sunday at a dinner. The award is given annually by the CIO American Newspaper Guild in memory of Broun, its first president, who died in 1938.

Lewis did a series of stories which won the clearance of Abraham Chazanow, who had been dismissed by the Navy as a security risk even though he was cleared by a hearing board. The Navy later termed the case a "grave injustice."

Special citations were awarded James Reston of the New York Times for stories on Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer; Herbert Block of the Washington Post, for cartoons on current events, and Fred Thompson of the Toronto Globe and Mail, for discovering evidence that saved an innocent man from prison.

Honorable mention went to Jack Donahue of the Houston Press, Chester S. Davis and Wallace Carroll of the Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinel, Pasquale Marziano of Denver's Rocky Mountain News; Irving Lieberman and Robert Williams of the New York Post, and M. F. Everett of Catholic Action of the South.

Shepherd Aide Treated Lightly Vet Land Scandal Warning

AUSTIN, Feb. 15-UP- Attorney General John Ben Shepperd's top aide testified Monday he gave routine handling to a warning more than eight months ago that investigation of veterans land program transactions "will make Duvall county look like a mere bubble."

Spangler also expressed belief the wife of a Veterans Land Board appraiser "gets a part of the commission from the local real estate agents on every sale made."

"I am of the opinion that the only way to get the facts in this matter is for someone with authority to come here and make an investigation, put these people under oath and the scandal will make Duvall county look like a mere bubble," Spangler wrote.

The Spangler letters were introduced into the record by Sen. Jimmy Phillips, a member of the five-man group, who sparingly questioned Trotti as to his knowledge of group deals.

Confirms Exchanges
Trotti, under questioning by the committee, readily confirmed his exchange of both letters and telephone calls with Spangler.

The matter was given routine handling, he said, and turned over to the Veterans Land Board.

The committee, opening its hearing at 8 a. m., also heard a Robertson county rancher testify he lost more than $20,000 on a block sale.

THE HARVESTERS' COMEBACK following the 19-point loss to Borger some two or three weeks ago could very well be nailed down to one factor — free throws.

The Harvester free throw record since that surprise defeat to Borger has been just short of sensational. You'll recall the Harvesters made only five of a possible 28 free throws in the Borger defeat.

Had the Harvesters been as hot at the free throw line in the Borger loss as they have been in the four games since that time, the Harvesters may have swept the Bulldog series instead of splitting it.

Anyway, since that game, the Harvesters have been awarded 120 free throws with 97 falling through the hoops for a very fine 77.6 percentage.

A team average of 70 per cent from the free throw line is considered an excellent mark so you can see the Harvesters have done right well for themselves at the gratis line in the last four games.

Ken Hinkle and Benny Cartwright have been the pace-setters at the free throw line for the Harvesters in the past four games. Hinkle has been virtually invincible at the foul line, making 19 of 20 during the four game spread for a 95 percentage mark.

Ken Hinkle and Benny Cartwright have been the pace-setters at the free throw line for the Harvesters in the past four games. Hinkle has been virtually invincible at the foul line, making 19 of 20 during the four game spread for a 95 percentage mark.

Cartwright, over the same four-game period, hit 21 of 24 for 87.5. Cartwright's free throw performance in the playoff game with Amarillo went a long way in the Harvester triumph. Benny hit seven of eight in the playoff game and it was his two free throws with 20 seconds left that led the decision for the Green and Golders.

Another Cartwright free throw will be long remembered. He made one with 13 seconds left to tie the score with Borger which the Harvesters eventually won in overtime.

Buddy Sharp hit 11 of 14 during the aforementioned four games for a 78.5 mark. Gary Griffin hit 23 of 27 for 85.2.

E. Jay McVain, who was the season long leader for the Harvesters in free throws, until the on games played through Saturday night, Feb. 12.

Following Illinois in the second 10 group came Missouri, Iowa, Oregon State, Dayton, Cincinnati and Maryland in that order. St. Louis and Holy Cross were tied for 18th and Colorado was 20th.

There were only 10 other teams that received points this week: Tulsa, Michigan State, Alabama, Duke, Niagara, Wyoming, Indiana, Louisville, Brigham Young and Wayne.

East Texas Back On Top

Defending champion East Texas State finally made it back to the top of the heap in the Lone Star Conference basketball race. The Lions jumped out in front Monday night as they trimmed fifth-place Sam Houston 85 to 60 at Commerce, while third-place Southwest Texas dumped long-leading S. F. Austin State 78 to 67 at San Marcos.

East Texas now boasts a 6-2 league record, a half game ahead of S. F. Austin and Southwest Texas, who share second place with 6-3 marks. East Texas now boasts a 19-4 season mark, Southwest Texas 17-4 and S. F. Austin 16-9.

East Texas and S. F. Austin got together Thursday night at Nacogdoches and if the home club victory pattern is maintained, the lead may again change hands. Southwest Texas plays Texas A&I at Kingsville the same night.

There are a couple of non-conference games on tap Tuesday night—Lamar Tech vs. East Texas Baptist at Marshall and Texas A&I vs. Trinity at San Antonio.

Rock To Test Nose Today

Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano predicted "everything will go all right" Tuesday when he shows his nose in a public ring for the first time since last September.

Marciano, whose nose was severely cut by ex-champion Ezzard Charles in his last title defense six months ago, will spar three or four rounds with Keene Simmons of Bayonne, N. J., with Manager Al Weil and a group of boxing writers looking on.

"My nose feels okay," said the champ. "I'm sure everything will go all right."

Well said that Tuesday's showing will determine whether Marciano's nose is sufficiently healed to permit a title defense in May.

Nats Have Few Players Signed Up

Outfielder Roy Sievers joined the growing list of dissatisfied Washington Players Tuesday and, at the same time, the Senators are signing up, there will be mighty few players to greet Manager Chuck Dressen at Orlando, Fla., March 1.

Sievers, who drove in 102 runs and hit 24 homers last season while batting .232, already has sent back two contracts unsigned.

In refusing Senator terms, Sievers adopted the same course of action as teammates Mickey Vernon, Bob Porterfield, Mickey McDermott, Jim Busby and Eddie Voss, who comprise practically the backbone of the Washington Ball club.

Other clubs in both leagues were signing their players fairly rapidly, however.

Renno Okays Terms Outfielder Bill Renno okayed Kansas City terms, leaving only seven members of the Athletics to be satisfied, while catcher Jack Shepard, who batted .304 in 22 games last season, became the 28th Pittsburgh player to sign.

Outfielders Mel Clark and Stan Palys signed with the Phillies, who also announced that Eddie Miller, former Phillie and Redleg shortstop, will tour the farm club training camp in the Carolinas as a coach for young infielders.

Pitchers Russ Kemmerer and Leo Kiely agreed to terms with the Red Sox and rookie shortstop Witty Quintana, from San Antonio of the Texas League, did likewise with Baltimore.

Detroit received signed contracts from rookie pitchers Bill Frosts and Duane Maas and outfielder George Bullard, making a total of 31 Bengals signed, sealed and satisfied for 1955.

Oregon State First Big League Winner

The Oregon State Beavers Tuesday celebrated the basketball season's first "clinching" in a major conference, while Minnesota and West Virginia were simply happy they're still on top in tight League races.

By wallowing Idaho, 80-65, Monday night, the Beavers clinched at least a tie for the northern division title in the Pacific Coast Conference and thus took the first step toward a berth in the NCAA tournament.

If state — unbroken in league action with an 11-0 mark — can beat the same foe again Tuesday night, it will clinch the northern crown outright. And that will qualify the Beavers to meet the eventual southern division champion in a two-of-three playoff for the conference title and a tourney berth.

Gophers Whip Hoosiers Minnesota's beefy Gophers stayed a half-game ahead in the hot Big Ten race by trouncing Indiana, 80-70. It was a vital victory, because second-place Iowa kept the pressure on by rallying to beat Ohio State, 79-68.

West Virginia, clung to the Southwest leadership against Texas. As the Horned Frogs lose, Southern Methodist (5-3) can tie for the lead by beating Texas A&M in the ACC co-leaders North Carolina and Maryland (each 9-2) clash respectively with Duke and Clemson.

First place in the Southwest and Atlantic Coast conferences will also be at stake in feature games Tuesday night.

Texas Christian (6-3) risks its Southwest leadership against Texas. As the Horned Frogs lose, Southern Methodist (5-3) can tie for the lead by beating Texas A&M in the ACC co-leaders North Carolina and Maryland (each 9-2) clash respectively with Duke and Clemson.

Meade Fails In Battle To Clear Name Jockey Don Meade apparently has reached the end of the road in his 10-year battle to clear his name and return to the race track where he once earned fame and glory.

3-Game Series Opens Tonight

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 15 — Optimism was high in both the Pampa Harvester and San Angelo Bobcat cage rinks here Tuesday as the two teams prepared for tonight's series opener for the District I-AAAA basketball title.

The Harvesters have been tabbed as the series favorites but the Bobcats have their hopes built high to perform an upset.

After tonight's game, the series will switch to Pampa's Harvester Fieldhouse Friday night where the second game will be played.

If a third game is necessary, it will be played Saturday night, also at Harvester Fieldhouse.

The Bobcats' hopes for an upset in the series hinges on tonight's game. A loss tonight would put the Bobcats in a hole since the remainder of the series will be played at Harvester Fieldhouse.

The Bobcats relied on a potent defense this season in winning the Southern 1-4A crown. The six San Angelo opponents averaged a mere 42.8 points per game. The San Angelo offense clicked for a 49.5 average.

The Harvester average in seven Northern 1-4A games (including the playoffs) 60.4 as compared to the opponents' 60.9.

Just how the San Angelo defense will be able to hold down the Harvesters will be known at 9:30 tonight.

Spearhead of the Bobcat defense is Curtis Crook, a gangling 6-7 lad. Crook is deadly in the rebound department.

Crook is also the leading scorer of the Bobcats. He has poured in 365 points in 21 games for a 17.4 average.

Once again it looks like a "hot" scoring duel is in the offing between two centers, Crook and the Harvesters' Gary Griffin.

Griffin has scored 509 points in 24 games for a 21.2 average.

The Harvesters arrived here 8 1/2 mid-morning today from Sweetwater where they had stopped enroute from their home base in Pampa.

TCU Hopes To Widen SWC Lead Texas Christian hopes to widen its Southwest Conference title lead Tuesday night against a weak Texas squad at Austin, but second-place Southern Methodist, playing impotent A&M at College Station, expects to make sure the Frogs' one-game lead gets no bigger.

284 Tee Off In Texas Open Qualify Play

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15-UP—Some 248 players, part of a record field of 369, teed off Tuesday in qualifying rounds of the $12,800 Texas Open Golf tournament.

The 248 will be pared to 60 for the tournament proper. The qualifiers will join 121 "name" players in the 72-hole event. Finals are scheduled Sunday.

The name players, exempt from qualifying rounds, took part in a pro-amateur event at Oak Hills Country Club Tuesday while the tournament play was held at the tournament site, Brackenridge Park.

In a pro-amateur tournament held Monday at Brackenridge, a team headed by pro Ray Garrett of Lampasas took the top prize with a best ball score of 61. 10 under par. Amateurs on the winning team were Ken Lawson, C. K. Wingo and Gene Carlton, all of San Antonio.

Tied for second at 62 were teams headed by professionals Felicia Torres of San Antonio, and Ed Carpenter of San Antonio. The amateurs, all from San Antonio, were John Zarfango, Bob Singleton, Joe May, Able Burlanga, Irving Fortune and M. M. Gonzales.

Carpenter took top prize of $100 for low individual professional with a five-under-par 64. Clyde Ellis of Houston and Henry Ramsey of St. Andrews, Ill., tied for second with 68.

Speed Skaters Reach Results MOSCOW, Feb. 15-UP — Ken Henry of Chicago, Ill., Don McDermott of Englewood Cliff, N. M., and John Werket of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived here Monday to compete in the world speedskating championships.

San Francisco Tops Cage Teams

NEW YORK, Feb. 15-UP—San Francisco, which smothered its opponents with defense and wraps its offense around all-America candidate Bill Russell, led the United Press college basketball ratings Tuesday by a wide margin for the second week in a row.

The 35-man board of coaches which rates the teams weekly for the United Press moved up LaSalle (18-4) to within a single point of runnerup Kentucky (18-3) and returned Marquette (18-1) to a spot among the top 10 teams after an absence of one week.

Thirty coaches cast a No. 1 ballot for San Francisco, which ran its undefeated string to 18 games and its overall record to 18-1 with two victories last week. These first-place votes, combined with two for second and one each for third, eighth and ninth places, gave the West Coast Dome 331 of a possible 350 points.

The total represented a margin of 110 points over Kentucky, which topped the United Press ratings for six straight weeks before San Francisco took over one week ago. Kentucky, with two first-place ballots, barely edged LaSalle for second place, 321 points to 320.

Utah, ranked fifth this week; North Carolina State (ranked seventh), and Marquette (10th), were the only other teams that attracted first-place votes, with one each.

Marquette, the first "at-large" selection for this year's NCAA championship, regained its spot as the top 10 at the expense of Illinois, which dropped to 11th place. The Warriors from Milwaukee won 13 straight games after dropping their season's opener.

Duquesne, with a 15-3 record and a berth in the National Invitation tournament, moved up one notch to fourth place, swapping last week's ranking with Utah (18-3). Two other pairs among this week's top 10 also followed that process.

UCLA (17-3) advanced to the No. 6 rating as North Carolina State (21-4) dropped to the next notch; and Minnesota (12-5) took over eighth place with George Washington (17-3) dropping to ninth. The coaches based their ratings:

Unbeaten Fullmer Seeks Middleweight Title Fight

NEW YORK, Feb. 15-UP—Unbeaten Gene Fullmer, fresh from the most important victory of his career, said Tuesday he would continue confidently his drive for a shot at the middleweight crown "in June next year."

Branny Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, registered his 28th consecutive victory as a professional Monday night on a unanimous 10-round decision over Paul Pender, 124, of Brookline, Mass., at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. The bout was widely televised.

Fullmer, 23, will rest and let the small cuts in both brows and on his nose heal until March 28, when he probably will fight either Chico Vejar or Billy Graham in Salt Lake City, Utah. Officials of the Eastern Parkway Arena, who staged Monday night's scrap, would like to promote the Salt Lake City fight for TV.

Fullmer, scaling 156 pounds to Pender's 159 1/2, piled up such an advantage in the first half of the bout that it overcame Pender's remarkable surge in the second half.

Patty Berg Wins Despite 3 Putt

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 15-UP—Three — putting isn't usually recommended for winning golf tournaments but veteran Patty Berg used that formula to insure herself the $1,000 first prize in the St. Petersburg Women's Open tournament.

The pudgy St. Andrews, Ill., pro carded a 74 Monday for a 72-hole total of 282, which was one stroke better than runnerup Jackie Pung of Honolulu.

Referring to Meade's suspension in 1945, Silberman told the Commission, "I do not believe in life sentences" for racing infractions.

"If a man who has violated the rules pays his debt to society, he should be given another chance," he said.

However, Commission Chairman J. Saxton Lloyd cited a lengthy record of turf violations charged against Meade and stated, "A person's reputation may be affected one way or the other, but his character seldom changes."

When Meade was set down "for life" a decade ago for directing abusive language at the stewards of a Mexico track, it was his third suspension since he came to the race track in 1929.

Hearne Man Top Cowpoke At Houston

HOUSTON, Feb. 15—UP—Chunky Vernon Kerns, Hearne, named as champion calf roper, was this year's top money winner at the 23rd Houston Fat Stock Show's world championship rodeo. Kerns pocketed a total of $3,282 in day money and final prize money of the total $55,230 in prize money split up by cowboy entrants from all over the U. S. and Canada. Eisenhower's Book Due Sale Splurge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—UP—If the book stores have any copies left, President Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe" should zoom back onto the best-seller list. It was required re-reading for most Washington correspondents last week, particularly the concluding chapters in which the then Gen. Eisenhower described his World War II relations with the Russians. Mr. Eisenhower devoted a good part of one chapter to his personal knowledge of Marshal Zhukov, the new Soviet defense minister. Mr. Eisenhower admires Zhukov not for his Communist beliefs, but his professional military ability. The President, just after the end of World War II, told associates in Germany that he was amazed by the manner in which Zhukov had been able to move tremendous masses of Russian troops with nothing like the transport available to American and British forces. It could well be a highly important factor in future American-Soviet relations that Mr. Eisenhower knows Zhukov for what he is—a talented, hard-driving military leader who is unshakably Communist. After the President's last news conference when he spoke highly of Zhukov as "a well-trained, splendid military leader," one of the more cynical of Mr. Eisenhower's listeners remarked, outside the conference room, "what's the President up to—is he running Zhukov for office?" A friend of the President shook his head sadly. "No, quite the contrary—when they read this in the Kremlin, Zhukov probably will be sent to Siberia."

Ex-Convict Faces Trial For Murder

SAN MARCOS, Tex., Feb. 15—UP—A 37-year-old ex-convict, Marion R. Palomera, was scheduled to go on trial Monday for the murder of his employer. Palomera was a salesman for Raymond L. Rotter, San Antonio air filter business operator. Rotter's charred and dismembered body was found in a burned barn on the Hidden Valley Ranch near Wimberly, Tex., on April 4, 1954. Palomera later disappeared and was the subject of a search both in Mexico and the U.S. He was picked up by Chicago police and indicted here by a recalled grand jury. He has been in Hays county jail, unable to make bond, since last June. Palomera was convicted by an Army court martial in 1944 in the slaying of Mrs. Charlotte Frieda Huber near West Palm Beach, Fla. He was sentenced to life imprisonment but the term was later reduced to 30 years. He was later paroled from a federal penitentiary in Indiana. Interior decoration notes from the White House: New and massive breakfast secretary in the old cabinet room just across the hall from the President's office. Among the books, a two-volume edition of "A Complete Greek Drama." Doesn't look like it has been read too much. On the mantel of Press Secretary Jim Hagerty's office, small white figures of all the presidents, a current big-seller by toy tycoon Louis Marx. School Board OKs Insurance Schedule

The Pampa School Board Monday approved a new schedule by which public school insurance is awarded to local firms and okayed the purchase of new backdrops for the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium. The new insurance schedule concerns eight firms which have been doing business in Pampa for at least five years—the board's rule for awarding insurance. The total coverage is $579,000. Panhandle Insurance Agency took the biggest drop in policy amounts, but still came away with the lion's share of total school insurance. The firm had $16,896 deducted from its coverage, but ended up with a total of $204,000. Next largest total went to Duncan Insurance Agency with $119,000, a drop of $9,875. Other local insurance firms and the amount of insurance each has been allotted are H. W. Waters, $31,000; Martin-Turner, $31,000; Harold Wright, $27,000; W. T. Fraser, $24,000; Hughes Insurance Service, $23,000; Ott Shewmaker, $20,000 and Garvin Elkins, $30,000. The recommendations were made by the board's insurance committee. Necessity for the changes came from the fact that Shev-

Seniors Postpone Tuesday Show

Tonight's performance of "The Curious Savage," high school senior play, has been postponed until Thursday at 8 p.m. Jo Tooley, advertising manager, said the play was put off two days in view of the Pampa-San Angelo District I-AAAA tilt which will be broadcast the same evening. Tickets for Tuesday's performance will be honored Thursday. Choice seats are still available for the performance. Admission price for adults is 75 cents and 30 cents for students.

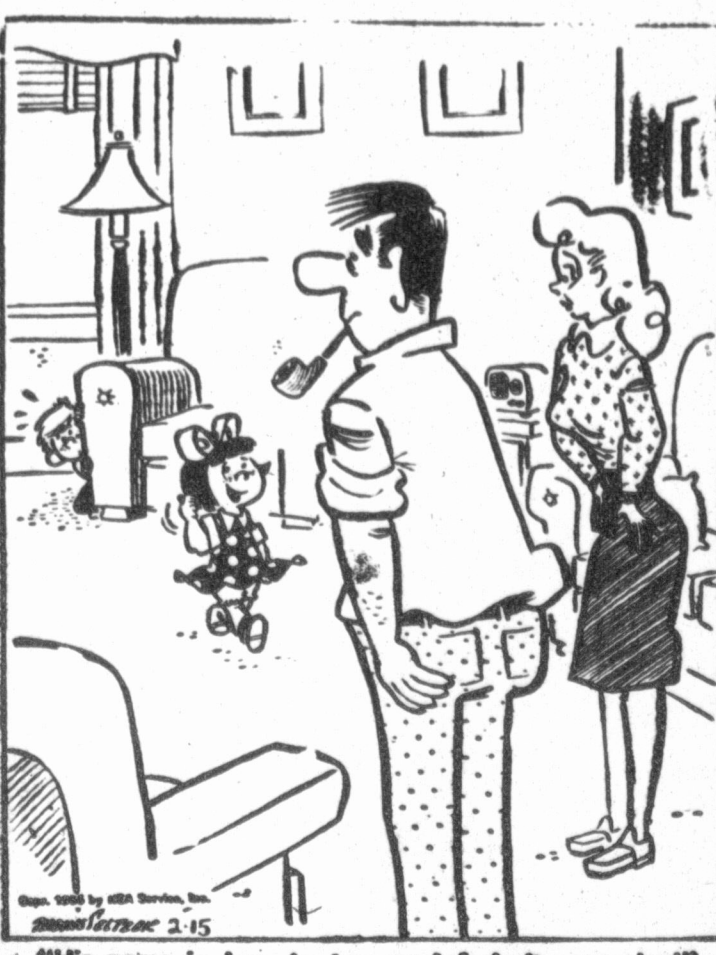

Dairy Industry To Advertise

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15—UP—The president of the Dairy Products Institute of Texas Monday urged adoption of an industry-type advertising program in Texas daily and weekly newspapers. Grant H. Johnson of Fort Worth told the annual convention of the institute in their opening business session that "we are already heavy advertisers of our brand products, but there is authoritative evidence that industry ads speak with even greater conviction. "I strongly urge a joint advertising undertaking by the institute with the American Dairy Association. Our newspapers, daily and weekly, must be given preference as an advertising medium for effective, result-producing sales." The institute Monday elected 11 new members to two year terms on the board of directors. The directors will elect officers for the organization Tuesday. The new directors are W. H. Boudette of Houston, Early Cabell of Dallas, Ralph Eyer of Wichita Falls, A. P. Garrett of Plainview, O. L. Gibson of San Antonio, Grant Johnson and Payton Maddox of Fort Worth, Harvey Richards of Harlingen, J. D. Rollins of Terrell, Roy Stamps of Gainesville, and W. E. Waters of San Antonio.
