Catholics In Belgium

Riots Protest School Aid Cut

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 26 — UP — Tens of thousands of Catholics protesting a cut in parochial school aid defied a government anti-demonstration decree Saturday and locked in violent street battles with police.

They marched on Brussels in bold defiance of the ban on assemblies and 10,000 city and federal police used every weapon but guns to defend the capital.

Four Die In Plane Disaster

Hawaii-Bound Ship Ditched In Pacific

PORTLAND, Ore. — UP — A Pan - American luxury Stratocruiser with 23 persons aboard ditched in the Pacific Ocean off the southern Oregon coast Saturday and a Navy transport plucked 19 survivors from the sea.

Four persons were killed and two were reported in critical condition.

There was no immediate identification of the dead and injured. The double-decker plane went down shortly after the pilot radioed one of the four engines had torn loose from its mounting.

The passengers and crew scrambled into life rafts. One of the dead died from injuries, the Coast Guard said. It was not known whether the others died on impact or from injuries.

Eleven women were aboard, including a nurse and stewardess. The Coast Guard said that fortunately, the sea was calm and the weather warm and partly overcast. This made the landing and the transfer of passengers and crew to the life rafts more successful than if the water had been rough, the Coast Guard said.

The survivors and the dead floated around the scene of the crash in three life rafts for nearly four hours before the final person was lifted aboard the Navy transport Bayfield. The transport was headed toward Seattle and was due to arrive there Monday.

The ship carried a doctor and was equipped with a sick bay. The Coast Guard said that some of the injured required immediate medical attention.

The plane had a crew of eight and 15 passengers. Thirteen of the passengers boarded at Seattle and two at Portland.

The Stratocruiser, which can carry up to 81 passengers, carried five 20-man life rafts, food, Mae West life jackets and Gibson Girl radio equipment.

It left Portland at 12:15 p.m. The Coast Guard also radioed a merchant vessel, the SS Idaho Falls, that it was within 15 miles of the plane and asked that it proceed to the scene.

NO CHINA SHOP, BUT LOTTA BULL

SHREVEPORT, La. — UP — By the time the owner of a Brahma bull telephoned headquarters to report the animal was missing, police knew all about it.

The bull had been herded down a main street by squad cars through a hopeless traffic snarl and was stamping the police station lawn when the owner called.

French Troops Into Saigon

SAIGON, March 26 — UP — Two full divisions of seasoned French infantry, supported by tanks, marched into Saigon Saturday night to protect the lives of 20,000 white residents if free Viet Nam's political crisis explodes into civil war.

The ultimatum presented to U.S. supported Premier Ngo Dinh Diem by his armed "religious" opponents expired at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, and an opposition communiqué said Diem must assume responsibility for "whatever happens."

Minor outbreaks of violence were reported Saturday night from the teeming Chinese suburb of Cholon, but no large-scale fighting is known to have taken place. Unconfirmed reports said the opposition made an armed "protest march" on Diem's official residence here Saturday.

Way Cleared For Force To Aid Europe Defense

PARIS, Sunday, March 27 — UP — The French Senate gave final approval to the rearmament of West Germany, Sunday by a show of hands.

The action cleared the last major stumbling block from placing 500,000 German troops in a European defense force to deal with any possible Communist aggression.

By approving the agreement setting up a Western European Union, France also paved the way for an early meeting between the Western powers and Russia.

Both President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill have proposed the holding of a big four meeting as soon as the German rearmament treaties are ratified by all the countries concerned.

Some Approved Earlier The four-part "package" already has been approved by Britain, West Germany and Italy. The approval of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg was expected to come quickly now as a result of the French action.

Voting in the early hours of the morning, the French Senate swept aside a series of amendments which would have thrown the ratification debate back into the chamber of deputies, which approved the rearmament agreement Dec. 30.

Premier Edgar Faure told the assembly Saturday night that one of the rewards for prompt ratification of the Paris agreements on Germany would be a big four conference with Russia in the shortest possible time.

He warned that the alternative to an affirmative vote on the plan would be a split with the United States and Britain.

The final Senate vote believed almost certain to be strongly in favor of the rearmament plan is expected in the early morning hours of Sunday (10 p. m. to 11 p. m. Saturday est).

Make Preparations Faure told the Senate that France already has contacted the United States and Britain in preparation for a Big Four meeting with Russia.

His disclosure came close on the heels of a Moscow press conference announcement that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's government favors a big power meeting, proposed earlier this week by President Eisenhower — probably at the foreign ministers' level.

The French premier told the Senate the government must take a firm position against any attempt to amend the complex treaty "package" rearming Germany and bringing it within the framework of the Western European Alliance (WEU) and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Winnie Says He Hopes To Keep Serving WOODFORD, Eng., March 26 — UP — Prime Minister Winston Churchill Saturday told the voters he has represented in Parliament for more than 30 years that he hopes to continue to be their spokesman for some time to come.

Churchill's speech in his "home" district neither confirmed nor denied reports he plans to retire as prime minister within the next two weeks. He can continue in Parliament as long as Woodford elects him, whether as prime minister or merely as a rank-and-file member.

Apart from the passing reference to his hopes of continued service, the prime minister's speech was devoted to general comments on political responsibility, with an occasional dig at the Laborite opposition thrown in.

Under British electoral law, a candidate for Parliament may run in any district, whether he lives there or not. Churchill chose Woodford in 1924, at the suggestion of Conservative Leader Sir James Hawkey, and he has been a candidate here in every parliamentary election since.

The prime minister is sure enough of the loyalty of Woodford's voters not to feel it necessary to campaign seriously in this town northeast of London, but he often makes speeches here on special occasions.

Irving Abolishes District

Close Vote Climax To School Dispute

IRVING, Tex. — UP — Irving citizens, split by the firing of a school superintendent which resulted in a mass walkout by teachers, Saturday voted to abolish the city's independent school district.

The vote was 1,962 to 1,646. The vote abolishes the school board which started the controversy last Feb. 18 by firing Dr. John L. Beard.

The eight-school independent district now becomes part of the Dallas county system and will be administered by the county superintendent of schools, leaving the Irving school board with no jurisdiction.

Beard's firing set off a walkout of 226 school employes, including most of the teachers, March 1. Most of the striking employes did not obey an order to return to work and were fired or replaced. The schools remained open during the controversy.

Russell Horn, spokesman for the Irving Citizens Committee which sought the election, called the result "fine." He said "we got nearly 90 per cent of the voters out."

Asked if they would hold another election later to restore the independent district so that a new board could be chosen, Horn said "we'll have to discuss that with the citizens committee."

All the voting Saturday was on machines in the gymnasium of Central elementary school near the school board's office. Two police patrol cars stood by in case of trouble, but there was none.

Beard charged that he was fired because he refused to keep his teachers from attending Democratic precinct last July. They supported gubernatorial candidate Ralph Yarborough.

Yarborough, a liberal candidate, forced incumbent Gov. Allan Shivers to a runoff in the gubernatorial election, but the teachers at Irving were able to organize the precinct meetings there for Yarborough.

The political leaders of Irving support Shivers. They include banker Louis Blaylock, whom Beard accused of being behind the whole thing. Blaylock denied that he had that much influence.

Russians Nix Arms Cut Plan

US Would Trim Force 2 Million

LONDON — UP — British Minister of State Anthony Nutting disclosed Saturday that the United States offered to cut its armed forces by two million men in a disarmament plan Russia has rejected.

Under the same plan France would have trimmed 300,000 men from its armed forces and Britain would have reduced its armed forces by 250,000 men.

Russia balked, Nutting said, because the West's disarmament proposal—submitted to the disarmament conference now in session and Red China to cut their armed forces to between 1 million and 1.5 million men each. That is the same figure proposed for the United States.

Russia countered with what the United States has described as "a reply in a poke" plan for a one-third cut of all forces across the board. But Russia has refused to say what her present armed strength is.

Thus it would be impossible for the West to make better than an educated guess how many men under arms would be left the Soviets under the Moscow plan.

France made such an educated guess Friday and said the Russian plan probably would leave the Soviets upward of 2.5 million men after "disarmament." That would be twice as many as any single Western power would have and slightly more than the combined forces of the Western Big Three.

Nutting gave a press conference the first full details of the Western disarmament plan.

Nutting said the West, laying down specific figures for the first time in disarmament talks, proposed the following armed forces ceilings for the major powers: United States, 1 million to 1.5 million men; Russia, 1 million to 1.5 million; Great Britain, 600,000 and France 550,000.

Crippled Plane Lands Safely

TRAVIS AFB, Calif., March 26 — UP — A crippled C-47 Military Air Transport Service plane with 43 persons aboard landed safely Saturday after flying 1,000 miles over the Pacific with one engine out.

MATS reported the plane landed with no trouble, although basic fire, medical and emergency crews were standing by when the big ship touched down.

Easter Coloring Contest Slated

It's time for the youngsters to sharpen up their pencils and crayons again.

For The Pampa Daily News is about to sponsor another coloring contest, the third one in a year.

This one, though, will be more than just a coloring contest — there will be a drawing contest in each one of the three drawings to be colored. Don't forget the Thursday and Friday papers, either.

Sandra Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Rogers, won the 1954 Easter coloring contest. And her sister, Wanda, won the Christmas contest. Second and third on the Christmas contest were Sharon Gay Ogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ogle, Skellytown, and Suzanne Paden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Paden, 509 N. Starkweather.

So dig up those boxes of colored crayons and those pencils, youngsters! And be all set to pounce on the Wednesday afternoon issue of The News for the first picture to be colored. Don't forget the Thursday and Friday papers, either.

The contest will be for any kid who is 12 years old, or younger. And it will have an Easter flavor. For the pictures to be colored will have to do with the famed "Bugs Bunny," an animal that most adults, and all youngsters, think of when they think of Easter.

The pictures will be in the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday papers this week and all of them must be colored and turned into The News by midnight April 5. Don't forget those mistakes that must be spotted, either.

The names of the winners — 150 of them — will be announced Easter Sunday, April 10. Judges will be members of The News organization and all youngsters who are not yet 18 can enter, provided they are not children of News personnel.

Grand prize will be a crisp $10 bill. The runner-up will get $5 and the third-place winner will receive $2.50. Hand puppets will go to the next 12 top winners. And then there will be coloring books for the other 135 winners.

The youngsters who enter the Easter coloring contest will be out to beat the Rogers family, which lives south of Pampa and has won the two previous News contests.

Cold Delays Oil Well Work

The cold weather affects the search for oil as well as everything else.

V. F. McArthur, Sun Oil Co. superintendent, Saturday night reported it took five hours to get the machinery working Saturday morning on the Sun No. 1 Dale Nix, located 5 1/2 miles northwest of Canadian.

Men at the site of the well, which Pampans and those in the area hope will be a big producer, gave it 5,000 gallons — 215 barrels — of acid and Saturday night they were swabbing it out, McArthur said.

But work on the well was expected to cease later in the night, just as it had Friday night. The cause is the cold weather.

Texas Fruit Crop Feared Total Loss

A costly spring freeze may strike all the way to the extreme southern tip of Texas Saturday night, the weather bureau said.

Some parts of the state may report a heavy mercury reading Saturday night when they did Friday when the worst siege of winter this late in Texas history moved into the state.

There appeared little chance that Texas' peach and plum crop could withstand the latest blanket of Arctic air.

Tarrant County Agent Jack McCullough estimated fruit, vegetable, and other crop damage in Tarrant, Denton and Park counties would range from $1.5 million to $2 million.

Crop Believed Lost Tyler horticulturist E. W. Lyle said he already believed that East Texas' fruit crop could be counted as a complete loss.

The Brownsville Weather Bureau said that some spring Rio Grande Valley crops could be damaged with a big tomato crop likely to get the brunt of a frost expected early Sunday.

East and South Central Texas and the Valley were yet to face the worst of the frigid temperatures.

Pampa Movie Fans Already Settled On Academy Awards

No matter how Hollywood votes Wednesday, Pampans have already decided who should win the Academy Awards.

Pampa Theaters have taken a representative survey of the some 8,000 ballots cast in their local contest and carrying off first place honors for the best actor and film were Humphrey Bogart's performance of Captain Queeg in the film "The Caine Mutiny." The movie accolade went to the same film.

Copping second place honors in the male division was Marlon Brando in "On the Waterfront" which was also voted the second place film. "On the Waterfront" has not appeared in Pampa yet but is expected here in April.

Jane Wyman for her performance in "Magnificent Obsession" was voted by Pampans the best actress of 1954. She was paced by Grace Kelly who has appeared here in "Texas Window" directed by Alfred Hitchcock who Pampans voted the year's best director. She was also in "The Bridges of Toko-Ri."

In supporting roles Edmond O'Brien was selected as the best actor for his performance in "The Barefoot Contessa." Second place went to Lee J. Cobb for "On the Waterfront."

Supporting actress awards went to Jan Sterling and Nina Foch for their performances respectively in "The High and the Mighty" and "Executive Suite." Billy Wilder took second place in the Pampa contest for his directing of "Sabrina" which starred Audrey Hepburn.

Valley Lights Smudge Pots

LAREDO, Tex. — UP — Vegetable growers in the Laredo area lighted smudge pots and were burning old tires and oil in their fields Saturday night, hoping to save a $30,000 cantaloupe crop from freezing.

The Laredo Air Force Base cooperated with the growers by putting several thousand salvage aircraft tires on sale this afternoon. Growers were burning them tonight.

The Laredo district has 2,000 acres of cantaloupes and the crop has been blooming during the past week.

Other mid-afternoon temperatures included: Dalhart and Abilene 36; Lubbock 37; Fort Worth, Midland and San Angelo 39; Dallas 38; Waco and El Paso 40; Austin, College Station and Lufkin 41; San Antonio and Houston 42; Galveston and Corpus Christi 43; and Brownsville and Del Rio 47.

The freeze was a hard and dry one. A light snow fell in Amarillo Friday, but none overnight.

Afternoon temperatures ranged from a low maximum of 35 degrees at Amarillo to a high maximum of 53 at Presidio.

Under British electoral law, a candidate for Parliament may run in any district, whether he lives there or not. Churchill chose Woodford in 1924, at the suggestion of Conservative Leader Sir James Hawkey, and he has been a candidate here in every parliamentary election since.

The prime minister is sure enough of the loyalty of Woodford's voters not to feel it necessary to campaign seriously in this town northeast of London, but he often makes speeches here on special occasions.

Churchill came to Woodford Saturday to speak at ceremonies dedicating a new civic hall named for Hawkey, his original sponsor in the district.

Cathedral Choir To Sing Here

The fifty voice Cathedral Choir of John Brown University from Siloam Springs Ark., will appear Thursday in the First Assembly of God Church, 7:30 p.m.
Under the direction of Dr. Mabel Olesen, head of the division of music at John Brown University, the choir presents an hour worship service in song centered around the Easter Theme. Lauded for excellence in diction and musical expression, the choral unit selects a "custom made" service for each appearance from their widely varied repertoire.
The Cathedral Choir has made twelve coast-to-coast broadcasts over the nation's largest network and will be making its eighth annual tour of major cities in the United States and Canada in the Spring. This tour is concentrated in the Texas and Oklahoma areas. They are heard weekly over seven radio stations presenting a thirty-minute program, "The Cathedral Choir of the Ozarks."
Dr. Stuart R. Schimpf, the university pastor, tours with the choir. He is the narrator of the worship service.
The university from which they come is interdenominational and evangelistic in character. The school draws its students from thirty-six states and six foreign countries. Although the school is comparatively small, the quality of music produced by the choir has earned for it a place among "the outstanding collegiate choral groups of America."

Benson Gives Soviet Food Shortage Plan Poor Rating

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
WASHINGTON — UP — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has a low opinion of the Soviet Union's recently announced plan to solve food shortages through a corn-hog program much like the one which flourished in America's Midwest.
Russia, he said, does not have the "ideal combination of soil, climate, and know-how" to produce the billions of bushels of corn and the millions of hogs that come from our corn-belt.
There is nothing in Russia to compare with the rich, high-grade soil of Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Indiana, Minnesota, Missouri, South Dakota, Ohio, and other Midwest states which make up the world's best and largest chunk of crop-producing dirt.
Benson teed off on Russian agriculture in a speech at Philadelphia. He stressed the human element in the production of edible pork in the USSR.
"I cannot envision a thriving or even moderately successful livestock industry operated by the state," Benson said. "I just can't see a Russian farm worker rolling out his pallet at 3 a. m., tumbling for his boots on an earthen floor, and then rushing to the barn to supervise the farrowings of the state's sows. What is more important, I don't believe the Soviet peasant can see himself doing it, either."
"You can't feed dialectical materialism to a hog."
Other points in Benson's drab picture of Russian agriculture: Russia's cattle numbers have declined about eight per cent since 1928, the average Russian is lucky to get a pound of meat a

Texans Drill 230 New Wells

AUSTIN, March 26 — UP — Texas oilmen brought in 230 wells this week, maintaining a stepped-up pace over completions of a year ago, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.
Thus far this year, 3,369 oil wells have been completed, well ahead of last year's 2,772 over a comparable period.
But gas well drilling continued to lag behind, with 22 for the week and 249 for the year, compared to 332 over a similar period in 1954.
Dry holes numbered 134 for the week and 1,502 for the year.
Wildcaters this week drilled 13 oil wells, five gas wells and 78 dusters.
The total average calendar day allowable as of Saturday was 3,327,952 barrels, up 13,726 barrels daily from last week.
on the Department's plentiful foods list for April. That means there will be plenty of traditional Easter hams and good supplies of fresh and cured pork products. Last fall's pig crop, already started to market, was 16 per cent larger than that of a year ago.
WOMEN'S CLOTHES — The Agriculture Department recently polled 2,281 women, scattered country-wide, on what sort of clothes they wanted to wear, with the accent on cotton. Here are some of the findings: Most women preferred cotton for aprons, housedresses, summer skirts, sleeveless blouses, shorts, summer slacks, and anklets. About half said they preferred cotton for summer street dresses and for short-sleeved blouses. A smaller group mentioned acetate and rayon for these two garments.
TREES — There were 811,066 acres of trees planted in the United States between July 1, 1953, and June 30, 1954. This is 13 per cent greater than in fiscal 1953.

Red Says War Will Destroy Capitalism

MOSCOW, March 26 — UP — Soviet Marshal Kliment Voroshilov said Saturday that it will be the capitalist system and not the Soviet civilization that will be destroyed in the event of another world war.
Voroshilov, who is president of the supreme Soviet of the USSR, spoke at the final session of the Russian federation socialist republic supreme Soviet.
"We cannot be intimidated by (claims) that in the event of a new world war civilization will perish," Voroshilov spoke in the presence of all top members of the Communist presidium with the exception of former Premier Georgi Malenkov and First Deputy Premier M. Z. Saburov.
Malenkov — it was recalled — made a speech before he resigned in which he predicted that civilization would perish if a third world war broke out.

Explosive Won't Budge River Ice

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 26 — UP — A destructive glacier clinging the gorge below Niagara Falls refused to yield Saturday to dynamite charges planted in the ice by an explosives expert dangling dangerously from a wind-whipped helicopter.
The Army engineers called off the operation for the day after two dynamite charges had sprayed bits of ice into the air but failed to crack the solid mass which was 12 miles long and 45 feet high at some points.
The ice mass bore slowly but relentlessly down on a huge Canadian hydro-electric power plant and on homes, docks, businesses and pleasure boats. It already had caused $1 million damage.
Wind squalls disrupted the ice-breaking operation. Col. Loren Olmstead, U. S. engineer for the Buffalo district, said blasting would be resumed at 8 a. m. Sunday, weather permitting. But the forecast was for lower temperatures and more snow, which would keep helicopters grounded.
It was feared that the ice mass would grow in lower temperatures because the glacier-like mound was being fed constantly by the roaring torrents flowing over Niagara Falls into the narrow, winding gorge to Lake Ontario.

WHEELER — Wheeler County has raised a total of $2,742.83 for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Lefors Plans New Water Well

LEFORS — Plans for a third city water well in Lefors are in the final stage, according to Mayor Fred Blackwell.

The well will be drilled on a lot recently purchased by the City of Lefors from Mrs. L. W. Upham. The planned site is about 1000 ft. from a city water main and necessitates the laying of a six-inch water line into the city limits.

Contracts have not been let so far but an announcement is expected shortly on what construction firm will do the work.

The two wells presently furnishing the city with water do not adequately supply the water needs in the summer and the new well is expected to more than cover the amount of water needed.

Bull Sale Scheduled At PanTech

A sale of some 70 experimental beef cattle will be conducted April 14 at the PanTech Farms Test Bull Sale, according to County Agent Ralph Thomas. The cattle are part of a group of 104 bulls with which the farm has been doing experimental breeding over the past 120 days.

Area representatives with cattle in the show are George Coffee, White Deer; A. B. Caruth, Combs and Worley, M. C. Overton, Jr., and Emmett LeFors, all of Pampa, and Raymond Nelson and L. A. Maddox, Sr., of Miami.

The show is part of a five year cattle-improvement program conducted by The Beef Cattle Breeders of Northwest Texas under the supervision of PanTech Farms.

Tests have been conducted through breeding to compare gains in weight of stock.

A five year summary of the work has been prepared for distribution, Thomas said. The program gets underway at 9 a. m. with an inspection of the bulls. Dr. Frank Sims will talk on the five-year summary.

L. A. Maddox, Jr., of Miami, will give some of the results he has been gathering weighing herds all over the Panhandle. Dr. M. R. Callahan will outline methods proposed to be used in a planned Performance Record Association. The association is expected to be a nation-wide organization.

Also outlined during the morning meeting, a five-year plan which will shortly be initiated this breeding season for testing and comparing high and low gaining bulls on the grade herd. The sale will begin in the afternoon.

The Beef Cattle Improvement Program was begun at Jan Tech Farms in the fall of 1950 and has involved the use of over 600 head of beef cattle. In the first four years Pan Tech Farms fed 430 young bulls from 38 different ranches, representing the offspring of 66-herd bulls.

According to a report on the program cattleman and research workers are realizing that beef cattle improvement cannot be made on type and conformation alone. Other factors must be taken into account as regularity of calving, heavier weaning weights, ability to gain and ability to make cheap gain are among the features which must take a more important role in any proposed beef cattle improvement program.

The report goes on to say that the heritability of these factors are high improvement of beef cattle in these respects would be rapid if such factors were used in the selection of breeding cattle.

Self-feeding the same growing ration to young bulls at the same time and place will give large differences in individual gain and the progeny of the same sires. When bulls selected on the same ability to gain were mated to random selected cows, the calves sired by high gaining bulls were heavier at weaning time, gained more while on feed and gained more when handled as stocker cattle.

Test Well Mineral Count High

High mineral content in the new test well in the 800 block on Crawford Street was reported yesterday by City Engineer James Cowan. A chemical analysis run by an Amarillo firm showed the mineral content to be similar to the water in the wells in the Hobart Street Park.

Total solids in the water Cowan said measured 1,000 parts per million of water. Five hundred of the parts are sodium chloride, ordinary table salt.

Though it is not the most desirable water, according to Cowan, it is expected that "we will go ahead and drill it." The city commission will decide whether to go ahead with the well, following the submission of the report at their Tuesday meeting.

The well is expected to flow about 500 to 600 gallons per minute, or about 750,000 gallons per day. Two wells are expected to be needed to produce the required increased capacity of 1,500,000 gallons for present city requirements. The other proposed well site is a quarter of a mile south of the McCullough and Hobart St. intersection. The test holes are being drilled out of current city funds.

Bond issue providing for sinking of new wells was approved by voters Feb. 26. Competitive bidding on the $200,000 worth of bonds will be held April 5, according to City Manager Fred Brook.

City To Let Bids On Ditch Machine

City commissioners at their Tuesday meeting will let bids on ladder-type ditching machine, according to City Manager Fred Brook.

Two dealers, Conly-Lott-Nichols of Lubbock and Plains Machinery Co., of Amarillo have submitted bids. Brook estimated the price of the machine in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The commissioners meet at 9 a. m. Tuesday, bids will be let at 10 a. m. Routine matters will also be on the agenda Brook said.

ACADEMY AWARD NOMINEE

Judy Garland, one of actresses nominated for the academy award as best actress of 1954, will appear in "A Star is Born" beginning Thursday at the LaNora Theatre for a four-day run. Shown above is Miss Garland with James Mason and Charles Bickford in a scene from the multi-million dollar production in CinemaScope and Technicolor.

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)—Now that the big networks are beginning to film their own shows, it looks like stars will have to choose between motion pictures and television. The webs want the exclusive services of stars and are unwilling to share them. Most recent case of choose up sides came when CBS asked Jeff Morrow to leave U-I to star in the television "Gunsmoke." When Jeff refused, the red-hot deal bogged down.

Other studios trying to borrow Green Kelly are being told by MGM that she's booked up for the next two years on her home lot.

Buddy Cole, pianist for Bing Crosby, Rosemary Clooney and Gene Autrey on CBS radio, found an answer to the "Won't you play for us?" question at parties.

Now he relaxes and has fun, too, wearing a pair of tailor-made finger bandages which he slips on before ringing the host's doorbell. MERRIAM HOPKINS will be another glamorous grandma in April. Now it can be told—Alan Ladd's middle name is It's Walbridge. The reason he's kept it a secret.

During a showing of "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" at a Los Angeles theater, Jess Rand shouted: "Run for your lives, there's a leak in the screen."

A movie star was asked to appear on the TV show, "Where Were You?" to recall events of 1937. "Look," growled the actor, "I don't even remember where I was last night!"

It looked like the first hour-long filmed features for TV will be made by Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy under the production banner of Hal Roach, Jr.

As tipped here, talks have been going on between Roach and the comedians for weeks. The blueprint calls for six features to be made over a one-year period. Then the footage will be re-edited into two feature-length pictures for European theater showings.

THERE'S A now-it-can-be-told backstage story about "On the Waterfront," which should win the Oscar as the year's best motion picture. The film cost only $800,000 to produce and was twice turned down—by Fox and United Artists. Frank Sinatra was originally set to play the Marlon Brando role and he's now suing for an accounting of profits, expected to exceed $6,000,000.

New Sponsor Buys Father Knows Best

By JACK GAVER NEW YORK.—UP—The fans of "Father Knows Best" can rest easily now. This filmed half-hour of family life in which Robert Young and Jane Wyatt head up the entertainment has been under notice it is leaving CBS' Sunday night air. The customers have been writing protests, but the sponsor of the show drops it as of March 27, and that is that.

The good news this week was the announcement that the show has been bought by a new sponsor and will be back on the air beginning Aug. 31. Of course the fans will have to survive without it for about five months.

Deal Represents $4.5 Million The deal for this Screen Gems creation, engineered by General Artists, represent $4.5 million, the interested parties reported. It provides for a one-year "firm" commitment; in other words, none of those 13-week options that might not be picked. A two-year option after that also is provided.

The new deal calls for the show to be seen in the 8:30-9 p.m. slot on NBC each Wednesday.

Boxing Fans Get Lift TV boxing fans also received some good news with the announcement that the "Wednesday Night Fights" program will not fall by the wayside simply because it is ending its CBA career May 25. The ABC network will carry it as the usual 10 p.m. Wednesday time beginning June 1.

Filmed TV The argument about live versus filmed television shows doesn't impress Boris D. Kaplan very much. Kaplan is film supervisor for the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation and so is in charge of all the filmed portions of the "Omibus" program on CBS Sunday afternoons. He undoubtedly sees more varied film footage — from all parts of the world — than anybody in television; maybe more than just anybody.

"The point is," he said, "that there are good TV films and bad ones — I'm speaking from a technical standpoint now — and that there are good live shows and bad ones."

Discovery Made "We have discovered on 'Omibus' through experience that sometimes has been saddening, that certain segments of entertainment that we decide can best be done live would have been better on film, and vice versa.

"And I have a firm feeling that a very great majority of the country's television viewers not only can't tell a live show from one on film but that they don't care. They just want to be entertained."

Gary Crosby to Debut Sunday is TV day for Gary Crosby. The eldest of Bing's brood will make his television debut Sunday night as a guest star on Jack Benny's CBS program. Another guest will be his uncle, Bob Crosby. This will be their first work together in any entertainment medium.

Gary, of course, has had his baptism in show business on radio under his father's personal supervision, so he's fairly assured young performer who has made some recordings on his own as well as with Bing.

Miss Valente to Appear Caterina Valente, a European singer who has been cutting quite a swath with her unusual recording of "Malaguena," will make her first — and, for the time being, only — American appearance Sunday night as one of the stars on the NBC "Colgate Comedy Hour."

One guess as to what she's going to sing, Bert Lahr, Cornel Wilde and his actress-wife, Jean Wallace, and Kaye Ballard are others on this show.

Also on Sunday, Madeleine Carroll will make one of her rare professional appearances of recent years in the leading role of "The Bitter Choice," a play on "General Electric Theater" for CBS.

"You Are There" will feature the famous Hatfield - McCoy feud for CBS.

Costello Was Ball Player And Singer

Danny Costello, the newest entrant in the crooners sweepstakes is a handsome young man from Jersey City. A lad with a dual love, baseball and singing, Danny sang in the Dickinson High School glee club and played with the school ball team. While in his senior year he was signed to play ball with the farm team of the Pittsburgh Pirates at Salisbury, N.C., York, Pa., and then Class A ball in Augusta, Ga., and he played in Tallahassee, Fla. During the winter Danny would sing with bands and in small clubs. Then, one day he suffered a bone chip that nearly paralyzed his arm and he had to give up professional ball playing. He decided to concentrate on singing, and after a stint in the U. S. Army, aimed for the big time in show business. But it wasn't that easy. As a matter of fact, it wasn't until September 1953 when Ray Bloch heard him and then subsequently signed him to a personal management contract did things begin to happen.

BOOK PATER

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

It was June 7, 1776 and Virginia's Richard Henry Lee presented a resolution to the assembled delegates to the Continental Congress which was to be "heard around the world," as were the shots at Lexington and Concord. At the same time a committee, composed of 22-year-old Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Robert Livingston and Roger Sherman, was delegated to draft a "declaration" in support of Lee's resolution which proclaimed "That these United colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved."

Adopted, the day John Adams said would be the "most memorable epoch in the history of America," Jefferson Biographer. It has been excellently chronicled by Dumas Malone, the leading biographer of Jefferson, and a professor of history at Columbia University, with the assistance of Hirst, Milhollen and Milton Kaplan, both of the staff of the Library of Congress. They, in "The Story of The Declaration of Independence" have depicted not only the meetings in June and July of 1776, but have shown us the political climate and events leading up to the signing, how it was received throughout the country. Included are incisive sketches of all 56 signers, from the oldest delegate present, Philadelphia's Benjamin Franklin, 70, to 26-year-old Edward Rutledge of South Carolina. They were men who transcended all groups and defied any classification. Men like clergyman John Witherspoon, president of the College of New Jersey, now Princeton, and the wealthy Charles Carroll of Carrollton.

Drafted by Jefferson. The adoption of the Lee resolution caused John Adams to write his wife, Abigail, that "The Second of July, 1776, will be the most memorable epoch in the history of America." But it was not until July 4 that the document almost wholly drafted by Jefferson, and known to us as the Declaration of Independence was adopted. It was entitled "The Unanimous Declaration of the Thirteen United States of America."

Following the adoption of the resolution on July 2, the declaration was taken up and discussed and even argued over "while Jefferson squirmed with the pain that all authors experience when outsiders tamper with their brain-children," according to historian Paul Angle. It was on the afternoon of July 4 that the delegates signaled their satisfaction. That document was not signed that day. Two weeks elapsed before Congress ordered the declaration engraved. The delegates present signed their names on August 2, contrary to the widespread belief that it was July 4. From time to time over the next several months additional signatures were penned.

Philadelphia Celebration. Printed copies of the declaration were circulated throughout the colonies. The first public celebration was held in Philadelphia on July 8. The document was proclaimed in the yard of the State House of Pennsylvania. According to one hostile observer "very few respectable people were present." For there was considerable Loyalist sentiment not only in the "City of Brotherly Love," but throughout the states. John Adams who recorded the event of the celebration commented though in his well-known diary that "The battalions paraded on the Common and gave us the feu de joie, notwithstanding the scarcity of powder. The bells rang all day and almost all night. Even the chimers chimed away." It's a great story, the laying of the cornerstone of our liberty. Most people take for granted the monumental decision made by the assembled delegates that day of July 2 when Lee's resolution was

Two Artists Issue Verdi's 'Masked Ball'

NEW YORK — (UP) — It is Cetra's great misfortune to issue a complete recording of Verdi's "The Masked Ball" at the same time that RCA-Victor was issuing its recording of Arturo Toscanini's last broadcast opera, "The Masked Ball."

To listen to the two performances together is to appreciate all over again that in the realm of Italian opera, Toscanini is a stupendous interpretative genius. The two casts more or less approximate one another. The difference is in what the respective conductors do with their singers, choruses, and orchestras. Ordinarily, Angelo Questa would never have been in a position to be compared with Toscanini — he happened to be the conductor of the Radiotelevisione Italiana (of Turin) performance which Cetra recorded. There's no reason to push the comparison.

The most pleasant thing the reviewer has heard this week was Hilde Gueden singing through her "Memories of the Vienna Theatre" in two "volumes" or 10-inch records (London). She is a fabulous singer in the "big" pieces of the opera house, and here she is hardly less fabulous with the light-inconsequential pieces, mainly by Stravinsky and Lehár.

Valletti and Siepi. Several other singer-records commend themselves — Cesare Valletti, an impeccable tenor, if ever there was one, in arias of Donizetti, Mozart, and Massenet (Cetra); Cesare Siepi, bags of vast characterizing subtleties, in Verdi arias (London); Maria Callas, who boldly and successfully sings Wagner and Bellini on one record, plus Verdi and Puccini (Cetra).

Bill in the realm of song, Gerard Souzay, a remarkable master of the leader, has recorded a second collection of Schubert songs. This collection is noteworthy not only for his art but for the range of his selections, from the songs of the teen-age Schubert to the songs he composed a few months before his death (London).

The second volume of the Hungarian Quartet's magnificent playing of all of Beethoven's string quartets is out — an event that will have meaningful repercussions in the lives of quartet devotees for years. These renditions are bound to be studied, as they deserve to be. No one can say that any one way is the only correct way to play a Beethoven quartet. The Hungarian Quartet's way is orderly, a trace subdued and humble, but free. Volume II contains the three of Opus 59 and 95, that is, quartets number seven through 11 (Angel).

TV Show Clown Timed For Circus

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK — (UP) — Nice timing on the part of "General Electric Theater" on CBS-TV Sunday night. The 30-minute filmed play will be "Clown," starring Henry Fonda, and it is a treatment of the life story of Emmett Kelly, the great tramp pantomimist of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Two nights later (Tuesday), at 8 p.m. on NBC-TV, an hour of selected acts from the big show itself will be presented live from Madison Square Garden as a sort of preview of the official seasonal premiere Wednesday night.

The play in which Fonda appears was made in Hollywood a few weeks ago, with Kelly on hand to see that everything was in perfect order, including Fonda's execution of some of the famed Kelly comedy bits. The script is based on Kelly's autobiography, "Clown," published last year.

"Oklahoma" Was Anniversary The 12th anniversary of the Broadway premiere of the famed "Oklahoma!" comes up March 31, and "Toast of the Town" Sunday night will be devoted to a tribute to Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein and their fabulous musical.

The story of the show will be told largely in song, with some of the former cast members participating. Among these will be Celeste Holm, the original Addie, Rodgers and Hammerstein, of course, will be present. Also U.S. Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and the University of Oklahoma glee club.

One of the performers will be Richard Collett, Swedish baritone who appeared in the musical when it was done in Sweden.

Another Spectacular Scheduled NBC trots out another color spectacular Sunday night at 7:30, but this is a rather special one since it celebrates the opening of the network's "Color City" in Burbank, Calif. Naturally, most of the show, entitled "Entertainment 1955," will emanate live from the new studio.

Among the performers who will be involved are Bob Hope, Dinah Shore, Helen Hayes, Judy Holiday, Fred Allen, Ralph Edwards, Leontyne Price, Pat Carroll and Buddy Hackett. Bullets Get Good Check For Films

HOLLYWOOD — (UP) — When actors start shooting away at each other, and the audience is supposed to believe that hot lead is finding its mark, it means that plenty of precautions have been taken.

In Universal-International's "The Rawhide Years," for example, Tony Curtis and Arthur Kennedy blaze away at each other. However, both are still hale and spry which may be due to what went on before the shooting scene.

Blank cartridges were made in the studio property shop where they were inspected before being sent to the set. When they reached the set, they were re-inspected by the prop man, "Blackie" Rosenkrantz, with a first assistant director peering over his shoulder just to make sure.

As if this weren't enough, the blanks were given a final inspection by Rudy Mate, the director, and by Curtis and Kennedy. The actors, of course, were particularly interested in the inspection.

The finale of what might seem to be an over-cautious routine came just before time to film the scene. In a very calm and serious ceremony, Rosenkrantz put the blanks into the pistols Curtis and Kennedy used.

All this is standard in such a movie gun fight, according to prof. men. They realize accidents can happen and, if it's possible, they're not going to have any "I didn't know it was loaded" routines on their sets.

AROUND THE WORLD

FAST COMPANY—The vacationing Shah of Iran, right, holds his own on water skis with experts. The expert in this case is Richard D. Pope, Jr., former World Water Ski Champion. Young Pope was recently discharged from the Marine Corps.

BRAVE OPPONENTS—Some YMCA boys in Grossinger, N. Y., are shown trying their knightly prowess against Rocky Marciano, world's heavyweight champion. The lads are all from New York City and made a special trip to Rocky's training camp to honor him for his long-time support of the "Y."

EARLY START—There's plenty of room for this well-equipped little girl to practice her skiing, and she's doing fine. She's mighty determined for a youngster, but she has the advantage of living at Megeve, France, where there's opportunity.

AERIAL ACTION—Spritely Pixie Blake is putting an awful lot of animation into a ball game at Miami Beach, Fla. Pixie jumped up onto a piling to make this leap for the camera, and to demonstrate her skill with the beach ball. She's shown in action, and she's doing all right at it.

THE WINNER—Sails billow in the strong wind as the yawl Hoot Mon, owned by Woody Pierce, Charley Ulmer and Wirth Brown of Miami, plows through rough seas on its 28-mile triangular course to win the Lipton Cup Race for the second year. The 39-foot yawl was the 1954 Southern Ocean Conference champion.

DRAFTED!—Bill Toole, veteran senior guard on the Oregon State College basketball team, has been drafted as a football player by the N. Y. Giants, although he's never played college football. Ward Cuff, Oregon State backfield coach, recommended Toole.

A "MARCH" IN WATER—Swim star Eleanor Holm is lending her talents to the March of Dimes by giving lessons to polio victims in New York. She's shown here with Dennis Mackin, 10, who is one of the lucky youngsters benefiting by Eleanor's valuable experience.

SOCCER BALLET—Three British soccer stars are scrambling high off the ground in London to snag a successful punch of the ball by a goalkeeper. The action was part of the Port Vale-Tottenham Hotspur match, and Tottenham scored a 4-2, four-round victory.

COLLEGIATE LEAPER—Joseph Gold, of the College of the City of New York, catapults forward for a distance of 21 feet 3 inches in the running broad jump. The event was part of the Collegiate Track Conference's third annual winter track and field championships. Gold's mark won this event for him.

BORED HER—Diana Johnson, 16, of Kendallville, Ind., braved two-degree-below-zero weather to tee off in the annual Snowball-Screwball Golf Tourney. Miss Johnson, who managed to play three holes, was among 84 entries who came attired in anything but golfing apparel. Part of the event's proceeds went to the March of Dimes, so Diana was risking pneumonia for a very worthy cause.

A PRINCESS REMOUNTS—Princess Alexandra displays excellent riding form as she takes Smokey, a 10-year-old gelding, out with the hunt in Fytchley, England. # 1955 Pampa Oilers Open Spring Training Camp Here Today

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

Pampa's 16th year in professional baseball will get underway today at Oiler Park where the 1955 edition of the Oilers will open their spring training camp.

Grover Seitz, who was the first Oiler manager 16 years ago, will be at the helm for the Oilers this coming season. Seitz, however, has been at Clovis in the past three and one-half years where he brought the Clovis Pioneers out of the baseball doldrums.

Seitz, who signed a two-year contract as the new Oiler pilot at $7,500 per season, has assembled 14 players for the coming West Texas-New Mexico League race. Unless something unforeseen comes up, every position except pitching is pretty well settled at the moment. It's the depth in pitching that remains unsettled.

Veterans Red Dial and Jack Venable are leading candidates among the pitchers expected to be on hand today. Others due are Virgil Frazier, Dean Higgins and Bob Votaw.

An additional three pitchers have been promised the Oilers by the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League.

The remainder of the squad that is due in camp today are catcher Jack Hall and Jerry Bupp, first baseman Joe Fortin, second baseman Pete Carmosa, third baseman Johnny Bruza, shortstop Rach Slider, and outfielders Dick Hairston, Sonny Timms and Paul Halter.

The Oilers will have seven veterans in camp for the opening of spring training, one over the minimum each club is allowed.

The seven vets are Dial, Venable, Frazier, Fortin, Hall, Timms and Bruza.

Several of the Oilers were arriving Saturday with the others due in camp today. Among the early arrivals were Hall and Bupp and then two others, Dial and Fortin, reside here.

Bruza and Venable will come over today from Amarillo where they have been wintering. Votaw will come down from Perryton where he has been residing since getting his Army discharge a few days ago.

All others are coming from far off distances. Frazier has been wintering in Cincinnati, O.; Carmosa in Mexico; Hairston in Nashville, Tenn.; Timms in Tulsa, Okla.; Slider in Shreveport; Bupp in Wichita, Kan.; and Hoggins in Taylor Center, Mich.

Two or three local and area semi-pro players are due to be in camp today aspiring for a position. Included among this group is outfielder Glen Adams, former Harvester; and pitcher Chubby Haynes.

Manager Seitz will call in his forces at 12 noon today with the first workout slated to get underway at about 12:30.

The Oiler management has issued an invitation to all fans to attend today's workout and any other during the coming week.

Seitz will have one week to get his charges ready for the first spring exhibition tilt set for next Sunday against the Amarillo Gold Sox at Oiler Park.

The Oilers will play an 11-game exhibition schedule before opening the WT-NM League season April 20 at Plainview.

Five of the exhibition games will be at home and six on the road. Feature game of the exhibition schedule is against the Billy Martin All-Stars.

Martin, the ex-New York Yankee star, is currently in the service and has assembled a team of all-stars who is making a cross-country tour.

The Oilers are expected to have plenty of power this season with such sluggers as Hairston, Hall, Timms, Halter, Fortin and Bruza around.

Halter hit 30 homers for Alexandria of the Evangeline League last season while Hairston hit 23 for the Oilers and Bruza 17 for Amarillo and Abilene. Fortin, Timms and Slider are returning to full-time duty this year but all have experienced some good years in the power department.

The Oiler defense is the only questionable mark at the present. The acquisition of Rach Slider may be the spark the Oiler infield needed to rank among the best.

Slider, a member of Alexandria of the Evangeline League last season, led that league in participating in double plays for third basemen — 49.

Slider, however, will be used at shortstop for the Oilers and should go good with another fine defensive stalwart, Carmosa at second base. This pair could form the best double-play combination in the league.

After opening the exhibition slate a week from today, the Oilers will return the game at Amarillo April 6. The complete Oiler exhibition is as follows:

April 3 — Amarillo, here.
April 6 — Amarillo, there.
April 7 — Southwestern Okla. College, there.
April 9-10 — Plainview, there.
April 12 — Southwestern, there.
April 14 — Billy Martin All-Stars, here.
April 15 — Amarillo, here.
April 16-17 — Clovis, there.
April 18 — Colorado Springs (Western League), here.

Season tickets for the regular season home games are still on sale. They may be bought at the Oiler Park office or from any member of the local civic clubs. The tickets set for $20 per, good for 70 games, and may be bought for $5 down.

WE CERTAINLY WANT EVERYONE to know they're invited to attend any and all of the Oiler workouts during spring training, John Carleton, the club's public relations man, said Saturday on the eve of the spring camp.

The Oilers will work out daily starting at about noon this coming week.

All of the 14 players on the roster are due to be on hand this afternoon when the spring camp opens.

The Oilers look pretty good on paper and the local baseball officials believe the club will live up to advanced notices.

Some of the players may take a few days to get in good physical condition but then that is one of the primary reasons for spring training.

Others are bound to be a few days coming to camp somewhat "overweight." However, the excess pounds will be coming off pretty rapidly during the spring training session.

At least two of the Oilers are coming to camp as newly weds, Jack Hall and Paul Halter.

Halter had arrived in town at this writing and had already found an apartment.

And speaking of Hall, we have his last year's record now as our 1955 edition of the Baseball Guide has finally arrived. Hall's 1954-55 season records run just about the same.

He hit 30 home runs both years for Alexandria in the Evangeline League and also drove in an identical 111 runs each season. His season average dropped from .280 to .253 last season but Hall is still a dangerous man at the plate as his RBI record will attest.

PLAINVIEW IS ALREADY BEING established the favorite in the West Texas-New Mexico League race this season. We don't know how they're staying within the salary limit but we do know that players like Doug Lewis, I. B. Palmer and Don Stokes don't play for "nothing."

The Ponies could be doubly tough if they come up with some pitching.

The Oilers, incidentally, open against Plainview. The first four Oiler games in league play, in fact, are against Plainview. We play there April 20-21 and the Ponies come here April 22-23.

This should be enough to remind you to pick up your season book on the Oiler games while the sale price of $20 per book is still on.

OVER AT BORGER THURSDAY, a couple fellows with "fighting hearts" were in the game at the same time when the Harvester baseballers meet Frank Phillips Junior College.

We're referring to the "Fighting Heart" winners for the Harvester football squads the past two years. Travis Taylor, the 1953 award winner, played first base for the collegians while Johnny Claunch, last fall's winner, performed at shortstop for the Harvesters.

A FUND HAS BEEN started for Chito (Chico) Ramirez, a Pampa Little League last year, who is still in critical condition from injuries suffered in a highway accident two weeks ago.

Ramirez has been in a coma at St. Anthony Hospital in Amarillo since the accident occurred March 11. He is suffering from a concussion.

Ramirez was the regular center-fielder for Ullity Oil in the Western Little League here last summer. He was chosen on Western Little League All-Star team that met a similar all-star team from the Eastern Little League in a mid-season classic.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may do so by leaving it here at the Pampa News.

BRUNLEY, Randall Meets Again ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. — UP — Defending champion Ruddy Brunley, Greenville, Tenn., hotel owner, was to meet Edward Randall Roth, N.Y., lumber dealer, for the second straight year Saturday in the final of the American Seniors Golf Association championship.

HAIRSTON RETURNING — Dick Hairston, who is shown completing a trip around the bases after clouting a home run in a game late last season, is the only member of the 1954 Pampa team who'll be in an Oiler uniform this season. Hairston pounded 23 homers last season. (News Photo)

Harvesters 4th In Golf; 5th In Track

He equalled the 19.7 low hurdles mark set by Billy Pete Huddleston of Iran in 1952 and ran on the mile relay team with Bobby Mosshart, Bob Gay and Jim Miller for a 3:25 time, erasing the record of 3:27.6 set by Amarillo in 1954. The relay team had the same time Saturday it had in Friday's preliminaries.

Millerman, Ronnie Mulhern, John Barfoot and Mosshart set a new relay mark of 3:32 and the third high school record was a 4:39.1 mile by David Sager of Amherst, who erased a 4:40.2 clocking by Jesus Rivas of El Paso Bowie in 1953.

North Texas State's team of Mike Hagler, Boyd Dollar, Dean Renfro and Paul Patterson ran the 440-yard relay in 42.1, a new mark.

East Downs West In Cage All-Star

NEW YORK, March 26 — UP — Dick Ricketts, Maurice Stokes and Tom Gola — three Pennsylvanians — led the East to an easy, 83-68, victory over an outclassed West team Saturday night in the annual all-star college basketball game before 18,185 fans at Madison Square Garden.

It was the New York Herald-Tribune's charity game to send under-privileged kids to the country for summer vacations. But the taller, more skillful Easterners showed the Western no mercy in the game which was played under the new rules.

The West, paced by Chuck Menzel of Minnesota and Jack Trevman of Cincinnati, led for the first six minutes. Then the East's five magicians — Ricketts of Duquesne, Stokes of St. Francis, Gola of LaSalle, Corky Delvin of George Washington, and Ed Conlin of Fordham — took charge.

Stokes, representing the smallest school in the game, won the most valuable player award just as he did last week when he starred in the National Invitational Tournament here. Stokes and Ricketts each scored 12 points while Delvin led the East with 18.

Big Ten star Dick Garmaker of Minnesota, Don Schlundt of Indiana and Frank Ehnman of Northwestern managed to keep the West in the game until Ricketts, Stokes and Gola returned with seven minutes left in the half.

Local Glovers To Be Feted By Optimists

All boys who participated in the Pampa Optimist Boys Club boxing program the past year will be special guests of the Optimists at their weekly dinner Monday night.

An estimated 50 boys are expected to be on hand for the fete to be held in the Poole's Drive-In Dining Hall.

The boys will be treated to a T-Bone steak with all the trimmings.

Dr. Joe Donaldson, who has been instrumental in the boxing program in Pampa for several years, and Mayor Tom Rose, will address the Optimists and their young guests tomorrow night.

The local boxing program was sponsored by the Optimist Club the past year for the first time. Previously the boxing program had been sponsored by the Pampa Boys Club and the JayCees.

The boxers the past year were divided up into teams — six in all. Each team had about 10 or 12 boys on its roster. Sponsoring the teams were Elmer's Super Market, First National Bank, Citizen's Bank, Pampa News, Spokesman and Panhandle Insurance Agency.

The local glovers finished in a two-way tie for team honors with Gloves Tournament at Amarillo. It was the fourth straight year that Pampa had won or shared the team championship in the Regional GG tourney.

Oren James was the boxing program chairman for the Optimists the past year. James' chief assistant was Johnny Campbell.

The Monday dinner honoring the kid glovers will start at 8:30 p.m.

Baxter Leads UH To Victory

ODESSA, Tex., March 26 — UP — Walker Cup player Rex Baxter of Amarillo led the University of Houston team to victory Saturday in the West Texas Relays golf tournament, defeating Texas by 10 strokes.

Houston had 821, paced by Baxter's 73-77-150, six over par for 36 holes. The tournament was played in chilling winds and dust was thick in the air.

Texas was in second place with 831 points, while Southern Methodist's defending NCAA champions had a score of 839, good for third. Texas Tech's all-freshman team had 841, Hardin-Simmons 844 and Texas Western 700.

Amarillo won the high school division with 632 after 11 of 24 teams withdrew due to the cold after the first day's play. Abilene was second with 656 and Odessa third with 663; and Pampa fourth with 670.

Oklahoma Aags Win NCAA Mat Crown

ITHACA, N. Y., March 26 — UP — Oklahoma A&M won its second successive national collegiate wrestling championship and produced two champions in the finals of the two-day tournament Saturday night at Cornell University.

Myron Roderick, Oklahoma A&M's 150-pound entry, and Pete Blair of the Navy, 184, were the only two of last year's titleholders to repeat. Blair pinned Ken Lesar of Iowa in 5:01.

Penn State's entrants also captured two titles, one in the 130, and the other in the heavyweight when Bill Oberly defeated Werner Seal of Lehigh 5-2.

Oklahoma A&M, tallied a 60-point total, with Penn State second at 51, Pittsburgh 28, Lehigh 25, Oklahoma University 24, Michigan 22, Navy 21, Illinois 19, Colorado 18, Iowa State Teachers 14, West Virginia 13, Cornell College 11, Colorado A&M 10, Michigan State, Rutgers 8, Wisconsin 7, Syracuse and Indiana 6, Temple and Springfield 5.

Terrance McCann, of Iowa, Big Ten champion at 123, captured the 115-pound crown by pinning David Bowlin of Oklahoma A&M in 7:08 1/2.

Ed Peery, 123, son of Coach Max Peery of Pittsburgh, became the third member of the Peery family to annex a national title when he threw Lewis Guidi of West Virginia in 8:30. His father and older brother, Hugh, were national champs.

Myron Roderick of Oklahoma A&M national 157-pound title-winner last year, took the 130-pound championship with a 12-2 decision, over Lyons of Oklahoma, Big Seven champ.

Larry Tompa, 167, of Illinois, who had upset Joe Solomon of Pittsburgh, last year's national champion in the semi-finals, was dethroned by Fred Davis of Oklahoma A&M, 9-2.

Dan Hodge, 177, Oklahoma University's national AAU champ, needed 4-22 to pin Joe Krufka of Penn State.

Phillips Wins AAU Cage Title

DENVER, March 26 — UP — Jim Walsh hit a 45-foot field goal in the final second Saturday night to defeat the fiercely determined Colorado University Cripples, 66-64, and win for the powerful Phillips Oilers their ninth national AAU basketball championship.

For the second night in a row, Walsh waited until the clock had all but run out to sink a long shot that stunned the 8,000 anti-Phillips spectators in Denver's municipal auditorium and broke collegiate hearts. Friday night the Oilers vanquished the West Coast college stars playing for the San Francisco Olympic Club, 53-51.

Shire-Wallace Team To Face Bill Parks, Lewin Tomorrow

Tempers Due To Flare In Tag Affair

There was quite a wrestling disturbance a couple of weeks ago, March 14, to be exact, when Professor Roy Shire and his manager-companion, Bobby Wallace, took on the Parks Brothers from Canada, Bill and Herb. It got so rough and tough, and ended in such a turmoil, that a re-match was evident.

There will be no re-match, because Herb Parks has departed. He had obligations in Houston, Nashville, and other points. Herb and his younger brother, Bill, or "Dinty," as he is known in many parts, had to give up their quest for the Southwest States heavyweight tag team title. They would have been the fourth brother-team to win the trophy if their plans had not gone awry. But Pampa wrestling fans have a real treat Monday night.

As it stands, Bill Parks, the younger, more agile of the Parks Bros. from North Bay, Ontario, Canada, is still in the race for tag team honors. He couldn't have picked a more propitious partner than Mark Lewin, a broad-shouldered, strong, fighting man from Buffalo, New York. Lewin, brother-in-law and student of Danny McShain, can get rough, too. Bill and Mark have a tough test when they meet the Illinois boys, Shire and Wallace.

The former professor of physical education at Northwestern University, Roy Shire, has developed a new wrestling hold for which fans and opponents may watch. It's a "claw" or a clutch beneath the ribs of an opponent, with knuckles working inward toward the abdomen. It's painful and it's a "give-up" hold, preceded by more or less illegal blows to the stomach. Shire has used it three times for victories. He'll probably try to use it again Monday.

Pampa's supporting cast is full of potential interest and action. In the semi-final, two best falls of three or 45 minutes, veteran Tony Morelli of Naples, Italy, and New York, tangles with George Lopez, likeable Mexican-Jap.

To set the fire for the main event, the tag team match which runs for best two falls of three or one hour, handsome Mark Lewin clashes with long-haired Bobby Wallace. It's for one fall or 15 minutes.

NEW ROLE—Brooklyn's Walter Alston, who remained silent as the Dodgers lost the flag last season, shows a new style—which he should endeavor him to Flatbush—as he argues with Ump Ed Hurley on exhibition circuit.

Competition In Texas Relays To Be Heated

AUSTIN, March 26 —UP—Defending champions may have a harder time retaining their crowns in the Texas Relays than they did in winning their 1954 titles when the two-day track carnival is unreeled next Friday and Saturday. Kansas and Texas accounted for eight of 16 championships in the university division last year. Abilene Christian College swept all four relays in the college class, while Rice and Texas dominated the junior college-freshman section.

However, title defense will be made harder this year by such combinations as Oklahoma A&M, Houston, Oklahoma, North Texas State and Baylor's freshmen.

Texas has won 14 of the 40-year relay titles over a 20-year span, and has piled up 13 titles and one co-championship in the 880-yard relay over that period. The Longhorns set new records of 40.8 seconds in the quarter-mile and 1:24.5 in the half-mile last year, and three of the four runners are back this year.

Won Nine Times

The Longhorns also have won the 100-yard dash nine times. Dean Smith will return, going after his third Relays title, after winning the century last year in 9.6 seconds.

Houston likely will be a favorite in the spring relays in the 38th annual running of the Texas Relays. The Cougars have defeated Texas three times this year in the 440, and have been credited with a 40.5-second performance.

Top sprinters include Houston's Larry McBride, Abilene Christian's freshman Bobby Morris and Texas' Robert Whilden and J. Frank Daugherty.

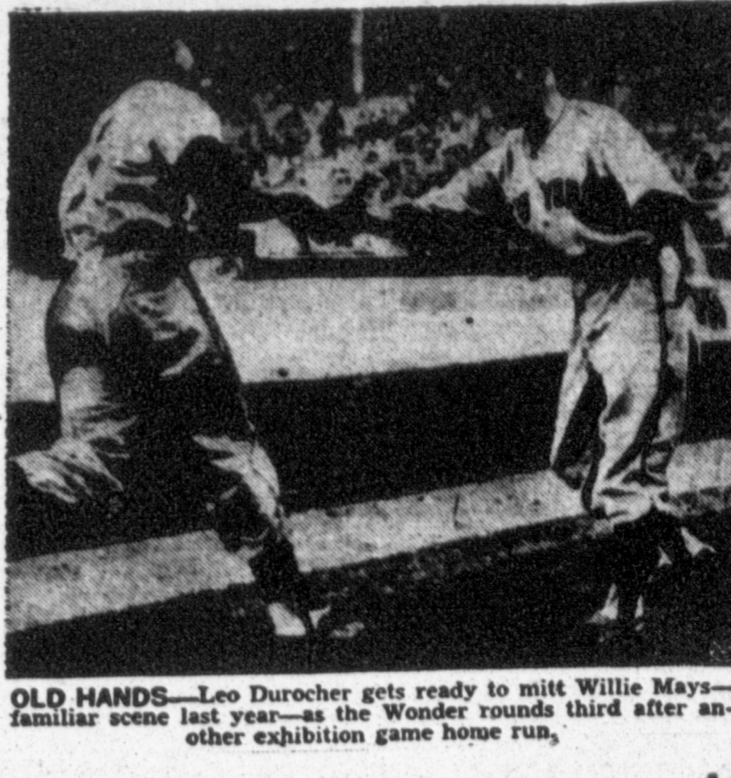

Texas' defending mile relay quartet will face strong opposition from Oklahoma A&M, Southern Methodist, Rice, Oklahoma and possibly Missouri.

Kansas Won Medley

Kansas, with Wes Santos, won the sprint medley in world record time last year, as well as the four-mile and two-mile relays, and also took the high hurdles and javelin crowns.

The Jayhawks have won nine relay titles in the past three years. Oklahoma A&M is a threat to that domination, with J. W. Mashburn, Bill Heard and Sture Landqvist providing the nucleus for a strong showing in the distance relays.

North Texas, holding three of four records in its division, poses a threat to break the Abilene Christian monopoly. Baylor's freshman team is favored to lead that division.

Mayes HRs Twice As Giants Nip Cubs

MESA, Ariz., March 26—UP—Willie Mays slammed out two homers and a double in three turns at bat Saturday as the New York Giants outgassed the Chicago Cubs 7-5 before 3,245 fans.

Rookie catcher Harry Chitt also clouted two homers and Hank Sauer one for the Cubs who suffered their fourth loss in five starts with the world champions. Chitt chipped in two singles to complete his perfect day at the plate.

Pan-Am Tests End; 100,000 Watch Final

MEXICO CITY, March 26—UP—The second Pan-American Games, biggest sports spectacle in the western hemisphere, drew to an impressive close Saturday in university stadium before an estimated 100,000 persons.

Horses and riders held the center of the stage for much of the afternoon during the final ceremonies, as the equestrian competition was completed.

These games first inaugurated in 1951, have become the biggest single sports item to practically every one of the Latin-American countries — probably more important than the Olympic games, because there is a better chance for victory here.

Outstanding Performances

Nearly all of the 21 nations had one or more athletes turn in an outstanding performance. Although United States blanketed the scoring — according to the U.S. way of thinking — the games were very close in some other systems.

One Mexico City newspaper, El Universal, worked out a point scoring system of 25 points for first place, 23 for second, etc. It came up with a score of 903 points for United States, 480 for Mexico and 392 for third-place Argentina. That proved that the competition was very close.

On the other hand, using the conventional scoring of 10 points for first, five for second, and so on down to one for sixth, the United Press compilation showed 1,161.2 for U.S., 514.2 for Argentina and 396 for Mexico.

No Official Standings

Actually, there is not supposed to be an official point standing. The games are based on individual performances — and these were the highlights:

Swimming — Beth Whittall, the Canadian girl student from Purdue University, who within the space of 90 minutes won two races and helped a relay team finish second in another.

Track and field — Rod Richard, former UCLA student now in the service, who won the 100 and 200 meter races and anchored a winning relay quartet for U.S.; Oswaldo Suarez of Argentina, who won both the 800 and 10,000 meter races; and the two world's records, set by Lou Jones of New Rochelle, N.Y., in the 400-meters and by Adhemar Ferreira da Silva of Brazil in the hop-step-and-jump.

Basketball — Lurline Melahouse who led the U.S. girls' team to an undefeated record.

Biggest surprise — the victory of Juan Miranda of Argentina over Wes Santos, the top U.S. miler, in the 1,500-meter race.

Spoooner Ailing

TAMPA, Fla., March 26—UP—Pitcher Karl Spooner and outfielder Bert Hammic both will have their ailing left shoulders X-rayed Sunday, the Brooklyn Dodgers announced Saturday.

Spooner, rookie southpaw who broke into the majors last September with 27 strikeouts and consecutive shutouts in his only two starts, has been sidelined most of the spring with a sore shoulder. His pitching has been limited to two innings in an exhibition game two weeks ago.

A's Bow To Bucs

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 26—UP—The Kansas City Athletics were their own worst enemies Saturday as they were charged with six errors before the Pittsburgh Pirates won, 4-3, in the 11th inning.

The Bucs' tying run in the seventh was due to a pair of errors by Jack Littrell and the winning run in the 11th came on Spook Jacobs' third bobble and an error by Hal Bevan.

Reds, Bums Tie 6-6

TAMPA, Fla., March 26—UP—Rain ended a seven-inning game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cincinnati Redlegs Saturday with the score tied at 6-6.

Brooklyn's runs were scored via two-run homers of Rudy Minarcin by Roy Campanella in the second inning, Duke Snider in the third and Carl Furillo in the fourth. Tom Mackler blanked the Dodgers with one single the next three frames.

Reds Break Camp

TAMPA, Fla., March 26—UP—Four of the Cincinnati Redlegs' front-line pitchers will remain here for five games with minor league clubs when the main squad breaks camp and starts north next Tuesday.

In naming a "Florida" squad of 17 players to remain here for the five minor league games, manager Birdie Tebbetts directed pitchers Corky Valentine, Joe Nuxhall, Jerry Staley and Jerry Lane to stay behind and re-join the main squad at Richmond, Va. April 9.

4th Phil Starter

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 26—UP—Manager Mayo Smith of the Philadelphia Phillies indicated Saturday that Jim Owens, a rookie right hander up from Syracuse of the International League, probably will become the fourth regular starter on his pitching staff.

Rain cancelled Saturday's Philadelphia-Baltimore Orioles exhibition, and sent Smith into a huddle with his coaches to figure methods of getting his top pitchers in shape. Robin Roberts, Herman Wehner, Murry Dickson and Owens probably will make up the starting quartet.

Boxer 2, Chisox 1

SARASOTA, Fla., March 26—UP—The Boston Red Sox edged out a 2 to 1 quickie victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday in one of the swiftest exhibition games ever played—one hour and 24 minutes.

Mel Parnell turned in an encouraging performance, facing 15 batters in five innings. He was reached for a single by Al Brideweser in the fourth with one out but when Minnie Minoza fanned, Brideweser was doubled up at second.

Tribe Downs Seals

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26—UP—The Cleveland Indians bunched three of their four hits in the second inning to score two runs and defeat the Pacific Coast League Seals of the San Francisco Giants 2-1 Saturday.

A double by Al Rosen and singles by Vic Wertz and Jim Hegan accounted for the two tallies.

Stengel Charged With 'Assault'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26—UP—Casey Stengel, crusty 63-year-old New York Yankee manager, was hauled into court for swearing at St. Petersburg press photographer.

Branan Sanders, a photographer for the St. Petersburg Independent, swore out a warrant charging Stengel with assault and use of obscene language during an exhibition game between the Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers at Al Lang Field here Friday afternoon.

Stengel was required to post $50 bonds on each charge and was ordered to appear before Magistrate Edward Silk next Wednesday morning to answer the charges.

The gray-haired, grizzled Yankee pilot, normally diplomatic in his relations with the press, angrily refused to discuss the incident.

"I ordered the boy off the field, and that's all," he snapped in reply to questions.

Stengel's boss, general manager George Weiss, promptly rushed to his side verbally with the statement: "We have the utmost confidence in Casey and feel he is guiltless of any wrong doing."

"The Yankees feel that Casey Stengel's record of 45 years in baseball, with a close and friendly association with the press and photographers, speaks for itself," Weiss said. "We find it difficult to believe anything happened yesterday to warrant this action. Inasmuch as court action now is threatened, we do not feel we should comment further."

Sanders, a 40-year-old former combat press photographer, gave his version of an altercation with Stengel.

Sanders said he was taking pictures near home plate during Friday's game when Stengel ordered him away. The photographer took a seat in the Yankee dugout. He then decided to shoot some pictures near first base.

Sanders said he informed Stengel of intentions and that he planned to work there only for a few minutes. An argument followed, according to Sanders, and Stengel allegedly kicked him in the leg and swore at him.

Mickey Mantle Says He Is Changing His Baseball Attitude

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26—UP—A completely new Mickey Mantle, finally "facing up to facts," said Saturday he's changing his entire baseball attitude because "everybody can't be wrong—so I guess it must be me."

Usually, no one can get two words out of the reticent Yankee center-fielder but now he actually seemed anxious to talk as he took off his shirt and sat down in front of his locker.

"I've got as much enthusiasm for this game as the next fellow," he said, but I just don't seem to have a good way of showing it."

Mantle mentioned some of the criticism that has been made of his supposed indifferent attitude and shook his head.

"Everybody's hot a Nelson Fox," he said thoughtfully, "but I'll guarantee you he doesn't want to win any more than I do."

"Still, there's no getting away from the facts. Everyone's tried to help me and I haven't been getting any better. Now you take last year. I struck out 107 times. Can you imagine anyone striking out that much?"

Mickey stared at the black clubhouse floor, then picked his head up again.

"You know something? When I first came up here I was scared. Real scared! I couldn't help hearing all those things people said about me. . . you know, that I was gonna be a great ballplayer and all that. . ."

Mantle was becoming embarrassed. The color crept up to his face and betrayed him despite his sun-tan.

"I don't talk much," he half-apologized. "But I did a little thinking over the winter. I looked at those strikeouts and said to myself there must be something wrong with me. . . I don't mean anything physical because my leg feels a lot better. . . I mean about my attitude in general."

Accordingly, the 23-year-old Yankee outfielder, who batted an even .300 and hammered out 28 homers last year, said things should be a lot different this year.

Longhorn Nine Clips TCU 5-1

FORT WORTH, March 26—UP—Texas defeated TCU, 5 to 1, Saturday in a Southwest Conference baseball opener for the teams.

The second game of a scheduled doubleheader was called because of darkness with the score tied 1 to 1 in the ninth inning.

The little-favored Texas Christian team collected nine hits off winning pitcher Clint Ivey in the first game, but couldn't make them count for enough runs. Bob McDaniel was the loser.

The second game was originally scheduled for seven innings. It will not be replayed unless it has a bearing on the conference race.

Nelson Rates Friendship First During Noted Golfing Career

By FAYE LOYD
ROANOKE, Tex., March 26—UP—Farmer Byron Nelson stretched his legs before an open fire, banked low because there was promise of spring outside, and recalled not the golf he has played but the friends he has made.

He worked his cattle last week. His Herefords number 117, "too many for this acreage, I've got to sell some off." The cattle, his 4,000 laying hens, his 1,200 turkeys and his 778-acre ranch make Nelson's living now.

He planned to slip away from the ranch about noon to play golf. He'll make one of his rare tournament appearances May 8-9 at Fort Worth in the invitation-only Colonial National.

The big, amiable man who in 1945 won 12 consecutive PGA events, for a record that still stands said he was a fortunate guy.

"I've Been Fortunate"

"I think I've been fortunate in being able to develop so many real fine friends all over the country. I think that's what I'm more proud of now. Your record is history, all right, but it's kind of forgotten."

"But the friendships, they go on, if you cultivate them. I have many friends."

One of his friends has a famous grin and is pictured in the Nelson den, sitting between Nelson and Ben Hogan at last year's Masters tournament—President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the noted golfer.

Nelson quit in August, 1949, when he was on top and didn't touch a golf club for eight months.

Fifty million acres of potentially top-notch game habitat lies right under our noses! You can't have overlooked the right-of-ways of power lines, telephone lines, highways and railroads, but you may have overlooked the fact that these lands harbor much wildlife.

The people who own or control this land want to get rid of all brush; so do hunters because uncontrolled brush makes mighty poor game habitat. Nine years ago these companies found they could make chemical warfare on brush. But such an approach means that the brushlands instead of being turned into first-class game habitat, are being converted into grasslands—a desert for deer, grouse, pheasants and quail. The chemical sprays destroy brush, but not grass.

In most places, mixed with the original brush, there are a vast number of good wildlife plants: cover of conifers and evergreen shrubs, shrubs and vines that furnish browse in winter and berries in the fall. But after blanket spraying this plant life that is so beneficial to game usually doesn't get a chance to reseed. And the land is pretty much useless.

Here, according to Dr. Frank E. Egler of the American Museum of Natural History, is an example of what could be done: Transmission lines of electric power companies run all across this country. The right-of-ways vary from 10 to 250 feet wide, and the brush must be controlled to let crews in for maintenance and emergency repairs. Plants must not get in the way of the wires. This calls for a foot trail, or better still a track trail. A strip 30 to 50 feet wide right under wires should have no plants that grow more than two to three feet high. Low-brush blueberries and huckleberries, which grow from coast to coast, could be left in this strip while other plants are eliminated.

DUGOUT THINKING—Here's Paul Richards thinking out the hardest problem a manager faces—whether to lift a pitcher or gamble and leave him in. (NEA)

SMART MANAGERS SPOT THEM

Tiring Moundsmen Give Tip-Offs

"Paul Richards is a throwback" such as John McGraw and Connie Mack," wrote columnist Red Smith recently. This great Baltimore Oriole strategist dissect modern day baseball in the third of a series of six articles.

NEA Sports Editor DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—(NEA)—Paul Richards is renowned as perhaps the most skillful handler and developer of pitchers.

One of the top secrets of successful managing is knowing when to get a pitcher out of there before someone gets killed. And managers use many systems to make the right pitching change at the right time.

Richards, the new Baltimore manager, says managers have a fool's proof system sometimes. "There are tell-tale signs to watch for," he says.

"I have known several pitchers who let you know yanking time was at hand merely by starting to shake the catcher off. It seemed no matter what the sign, they didn't want it. Tommy Bridges, a fine competitor at Detroit, was always ready for the shower when he started shaking his head in the eighth or ninth inning.

"Tip-offs range from a pitcher consistently asking the umpire for another ball, finding something wrong with the mound, making unnecessary throws to first base with the runner already holding close and going nowhere, to moving the outfielders one way or the other when they already are playing the hitter correctly.

"A colorful pitcher who telegraphed his tiring was Rube Benton, who was with the Giants and Redlegs. I caught Rube in his last days in Minneapolis during the 1932 pennant-winning season.

Tempers Flare As Ags Shade Rice In Lifter

By UNITED PRESS Two postponements marred opening of the Southwest Conference baseball campaign and Texas A&M got a jump on other teams when the Aggies outlasted Rice 7 to 5, in a game started before the newest spring norther slammed into Houston Friday.

Doubleheaders, weather permitting, were scheduled Saturday at both Fort Worth and Dallas, to make up for the games that couldn't be played Friday because of cold weather.

Texas Christian and Texas will try again at Fort Worth; a 1 p.m. scheduled doubleheader at Dallas matches Southern Methodist and Baylor. Texas A&M and Rice meet again at Houston.

The wild game that was played at Houston resulted in a near free-for-all in the eighth inning and Aggie Coach Beau Bell was ejected from the park one inning earlier for arguing.

Bell was banished in the seventh inning when, in umpires' judgment, he protested too vigorously a decision on a second base play.

Then in the eighth, Bill Trotter of Rice collided at second base with Dick Bleckner of the Cadet team, setting off a chain reaction that almost resulted in a mass fight before order was restored.

The Aggies, as far as the baseball game was concerned, led throughout but as it developed three apparently meaningless runs in the ninth meant the difference after Rice rallied for two runs of its own in the bottom of the final stanza.

Joe Boring and Joe Schero hit home runs for the Aggies, Boring getting three hits in three times at bat. For Rice, Ladd Cox got two doubles, two of the five hits that Aggie pitcher Joe Hardgrove gave up to Owl batters over the nine innings.

Score by innings: Texas A&M 000 010 213—7 12 5 Rice .....000 000 122—5 5 3 Hardgrove and Williams; Wolda and Navarro.

Gophers Eke Past Cougars In Opener

HOUSTON —UP—A 323-foot home run over the left field fence on the first pitch proved the difference as the touring Minnesota Gophers defeated the University of Houston 2 to 1 in an intercollegiate college baseball game Friday.

The two teams meet again Saturday. Minnesota now has a 2-3 win-loss record in Texas.

Shorty Cochran, Minnesota left fielder, hit the long homer over the fence of Busch Stadium, home of Houston's Texas League team, off Ronnie Zeller of the Houston Cougars.

Zeller and Rod Oistad, the Minnesota pitcher, each pitched the entire game and each gave up six hits.

The Aggies scored one run in the second inning, one in the seventh, three in the eighth and one in the ninth. The lone Sam Houston score came in the third.

Oklahoma A&M downed Sam Houston Thursday and defeated Rice twice earlier in the week.

Bob Powers started for the Bearkats Friday but was relieved in the eighth inning by Hubert Soales. Powers gave up seven of the Aggies' 12 hits. His mates committed seven errors, compared to three by the Aggies.

COULD WIN FLAG, IF Rookies Key To Tiger Flag Hopes

EDITORS NOTE: This is the 12th in a series on the 1955 prospects of the major league clubs.

By LEO H. PETERSEN LAKELAND, Fla.—UP—Five rookie pitchers and two rookie outfielders hold the key to the pennant hopes of the Detroit Tigers this year.

If they come through, Manager Bucky Harris believes his club will be a contender. If they don't, he expects a tough battle with the Red Sox for fourth place, figuring the Yankees, Indians and White Sox to wind up in the first three spots, although not necessarily in that order.

Harris has high hopes for three youngsters just out of service—pitcher Bill Black, who won 30 while losing only one in service games; and outfielders J. W. Porter and John (Bubba) Phillips. Porter, the bonus boy signed by the White Sox and then shipped to Detroit, has been hitting hard and appears a good bet to win the left field job.

Other Rookies Listed The other rookies are pitchers Frank Lary, a 15-game winner with Buffalo last year; Bill Frousts, a seven game winner with the same club; Paul Foytack, who divided his time last year between Buffalo and Louisville, winning only five games while losing 10; and Duane Maas, another Buffalo graduate who won seven last season.

Harris hopes that from those five pitching rookies and Bob Miller, a bonus player, he can come up with at least two starters to go along with Ned Garver, Steve Gromek and Bill Hoefl. Garver won 14 games, Gromek 18 and Hoefl, who never has lived up to expectations, seven.

For relief there will be Bob Shultz, an 18-game winner with New Orleans; Leo Cristante, who won 24 at Atlanta; and Ben Flowers, who won another trial after winning 11 at Louisville. Other pitching possibilities are holdovers Al Aber (5-11); Ray Herbert (3-4); George Zvernick (9-13) and Dick Marlowe (5-4).

Pitching Main Problem Except for pitching the club is pretty well set, provided Ferris Fain recovers from a torn ligament in his right leg. Harris is counting on Fain to win the first base spot, but if he can't make it, Wayne Belardi, an expensive purchase from the Dodgers in mid-season of 1954, or Jack Phillips, drafted from Hollywood where he batted .300, will battle for the job.

Fred Hatfield will be at second with the brilliant Harvey Kuenn at short and hard-hitting Ray Boone at third. Boone has a sore arm but is sure he will be ready for the season's opener.

Reno Bertola, the young bonus player who batted only .162 with the Tigers last season, and John Baumgartner, who was with Little Rock and Buffalo in 1954, are infield reserve candidates.

Good Outfield Seen If Porter wins the left field job, Harris believes he will have the best throwing outfield in the league with Al Kaline in right and Bill Tuttle in center. John Phillips also can hit and is fast, as are the other three. The veteran Jim Delsing will be around as well Steve Souchock, who can play first base as well as the outfield.

Even though they let him go, the White Sox rate Porter so highly they offered to buy him back with a reported $100,000 bid, but the Tigers turned it down.

Red Wilson, who hit .282 last season after the Tigers obtained him from the White Sox, and Frank Houston will do the catching. Harris refuses to rate them No. 1 or 2, merely saying that he will catch whichever one "happens to be hot up there at the plate."

It is a young club overall and Harris realizes that it may be a year or two away. But if he comes up with some pitching help, he figures the Tigers will surprise a lot of people.

Babe Herman Now Devoting Time To Clinic For Boys

EDITORS NOTE: This is another in the series on what has happened to the champs of yesteryear.

By SCOTT BAILLIE GLENDALE, Calif.—UP—Far "Turkey Neck" sat in the living room of his stucco house at the foot of a mountain and said "from now on my baseball career will be operating full-time clinics for youngsters."

And there wasn't even any wistfulness in the voice of Floyd Caves Herman, Brooklyn's own beloved Babe, who used to make nervous wrecks out of pitchers with his hitting and out of fans with his fielding. Herman recently gave up his last official connection in major league baseball when he quit his job as a Yankee scout.

Besides, he has two sons he hopes will carry on the family tradition and develop into big leaguers. Both are right-handed pitchers. Don, 24, is property of the Yankees with Portland of the Pacific Coast League. Jack, 20, is on the varsity squad at Southern California. He is a relief specialist.

THE WRITER, Bill Kerr, recent "convert" to water divining, is shown demonstrating the handling of the forked branch. He is considering a trip to Utah for uranium dowsing. (News Photo)

Water Witching Not A Bad Idea

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer
So it's water you're looking for! Have you ever tried using the divining rod or what is more commonly known as the practice of water witching?

You may have thought your grandfather was bordering on lunacy or witchcraft when you saw him out on quarter section holding a forked stick in his search for underground water. But don't continue to think he was crazy. Recently, novelist Kenneth Roberts wrote a substantially documented book which gives credence to much of what many consider a fetish on the part of the old gent.

Scientific Probing
In the light of the inexactitude of much of the "scientific" probing for underground water for irrigation here and everywhere, it might be wise to investigate this "madness" known as dowsing, divining or water witching.

Many a mastermind-like pundit says "you don't mean to say you believe in that holoney." Well, a few of the top kicks do feel there is a certain amount of validity to the use of the dowsing rod. Such outstanding minds in the field of science as Vannevar Bush, Bradley Dewey and Dan Comstock, according to Kenneth Roberts, "are not inclined to scoff at water dowsing."

Because it was often labeled "witchcraft" in this country, it always seemed to smack of soothsaying. But why can't it work just because it's beyond the realm of comprehension — so the arguments in its favor go. It has been widely used as well as accepted in Australia, Canada, Great Britain and on the European continent.

Nobel Prize Winner
France's Nobel Prize winner in physiology, Charles Richet, no slouch in the gray matter department, after long scientific tests concluded that "dowsing is proved; further proof is unnecessary; let us find out how to use it." But it is not suggested that you seek your information on the subject from Monsieur Richet. His studies on dowsing in his writings on metaphysics are world renowned, but intelligible to a limited few. In Richet's case it is excusable since he was a professor at Paris's Sorbonne and a member of the French Institute.

Now for those of you who are among the ranks of the uninitiated as to the subtle art of dowsing, it might be wise to let you in on this field of clairvoyance, and what at one time was considered sorcery. It has not been an aptitude or cunning known exclusively to a small circle of intellectuals and the specially initiated.

Humble Vocation
In fact those who have looked down their noses at dowsing have accused it of being practiced amongst men who are illiterate or engaged in some "humble vocation." But the records bear out the fact that men of brains and genius, men who are and were not bordering on commitment to Bedlam, have found "scientific proof" for the workings of the lowly forked branch.

The phenomenon no matter what you call it is this:

When certain sensitive persons hold a "Y" shaped or forked branch, without the slightest intent of turning it downwards, the twig will turn downward if certain conditions are prevalent, indicating the presence of subterranean water. (Some use the stick to determine the existence of oil and minerals).

William Barrett, English physician in his book "The Divining Rod" published in London in 1926, also credits that the twig twisted without any voluntary motion on the part of the dowsers. He also credits the movement to a pulse action excited by some stimulus on the dowsers' mind "which may be either a subconscious suggestion or an actual impression from an external object or mind." Among egg heads it's known as motor "automatism." Some have compared the it to the homing instinct of some birds and animals.

No Longer Clandestine
(Now that you know that some of the "big boys" are in favor of what has often been classified with witchcraft, it is to be expected that the practice will no longer be carried on clandestinely. Pampanas are soon expected to be seen dowsing during broad daylight within clear view of passing motorists.)

Many of those contacted on the subject who seemed timid when asked to make public statements regarding their activities on nights known not to be moonlit, may now offer corroborating testimony without any solicitation on their affirmative findings.)

In fact the efforts of many a professional dowsers have been employed by government agencies. In 1888, the Hastings (England) Board of Guardians employed the aid of a dowsers or water diviner to tell them where to sink a well. And we needn't turn back the clock 75 years to give evidence of official use of divining talents.

Woman Diviner
British Columbia in 1931 employed a woman water diviner, Evelyn M. Penrose, who plied her trade in a water-hungry province with outstanding success. Roberts says that ministers of various faiths on this occasion harangued on the visitation of one of the black arts and the editor of a Vancouver newspaper had the premises invaded by an irate citizen who threatened the newspaperman for daring to print an article "on such a wicked and dangerous subject."

But Miss Penrose's efforts were fraught with success to the on-looker admiration of thousands of delighted Canadian farmers. The "little woman" learned the trade from her father in Cornwall, England, one of the first homes of the art.

Used in Antiquity
Dowsing, mentioned by Cicero and Tacitus in the days of antiquity, was imported into England from Germany by Queen Elizabeth to teach the Cornish to work their tin mines. In these early days the favorite twig used was generally from a hazel tree, but other woods are also known to have been popular. As mining diminished in importance in Cornwall, its use was transferred to water finding.

The pros and cons of the art are still heatedly discussed. There was a time in France when divining was used to track down criminals. Mexico reportedly still uses the process. Maybe if we decide not to use divining for checking underground resources, it might be recommended to law enforcement officials where the culprit is known to be particularly elusive in avoiding detection.

Woman Diviner
British Columbia in 1931 employed a woman water diviner, Evelyn M. Penrose, who plied her trade in a water-hungry province with outstanding success. Roberts says that ministers of various faiths on this occasion harangued on the visitation of one of the black arts and the editor of a Vancouver newspaper had the premises invaded by an irate citizen who threatened the newspaperman for daring to print an article "on such a wicked and dangerous subject."

Peg O' Pampa

THE WEATHER IS REALLY something to talk about this week . . . makes me think of "what a difference a day makes" . . . one day it's cold and the next it's warm . . . you just get to think spring is here . . . and when . . . the snow arrives . . . for a short while anyway . . . love to ride around in the warm weather, though . . . all the kids out playing . . . saw Deck Woldt working out his team one of our warm days this week . . . and the Harvester band out in front of the school . . . a-playin' and a-marchin' . . . some of the girls were even in shorts . . . heard someone shot and injured Ralph and Theresa McKinney's dog . . . how can anyone be so mean!

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS . . . had such a nice and interesting luncheon Monday . . . a lot of women there despite not too good weather . . . that wind was cold, but cold, man! . . . Peg sure admires this group of women who are trying to inform themselves on the structure of government and important public issues . . . to be better-informed and thus better citizens and better voters . . . the men, although I doubt if any will admit they might need a little study on public issues and government structure, might take a cue from this group . . . some of the women there were Azelle Loftus . . . Mrs. Ervin Pursley . . . Mrs. D. A. Finkelstein . . . Mrs. Henry Gruben who wore an attractive polka-dot hat . . . Mrs. W. S. Dixon . . . Mrs. Jess Clay . . . Mrs. O. E. Chenoweth . . . Euna Lee Moores . . . Jess O'Brien . . . Mrs. George Friauf . . . Mrs. George Hrdlicka . . . Mrs. Willis White . . . Mrs. Dan Glaxner . . . and Mrs. A. D. Hills . . . who is the incoming president . . . and of course, Mrs. H. H. Hahn who has done such a wonderful job as president . . . the high school debate team gave a debate on free trade . . . really came up with some good arguments on both sides . . . these kids certainly can put some of us adults to shame.

CONGRATULATIONS to E. Jay McIlvain for his "Hustlin' Harvester" award . . . Peg, a great basketball fan, thinks he certainly deserved it . . . although she must agree, too, with Coach McNeely that it's too bad there weren't more awards . . . one for each boy on the team . . . you need each boy "hustlin'" to win games . . . it's the teamwork that pays off . . . Peg enjoyed their banquet no end . . . the boys with their lovely dates . . . their parents . . . and other interested people . . . the senior high cafeteria was filled to the brim . . . nice of the Chamber of Commerce to sponsor such a dinner . . . but of course, the boys help build up good will for Pampa with their wonderful sportsmanship . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ham Luna were there . . . Mrs. Luna certainly is stunning . . . just love the way she wears her hair . . . Fred and Clotilde Thompson were there . . . vivacious little Jo Tooley . . . Coy and Fay Palmer with sons Bruce and Mike . . . Coy played the organ all during the dinner . . . wonder if he got to eat . . . Dr. and Mrs. Joe Donaldson were there and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Brauchle . . . Deck Woldt and his attractive wife . . . Terry Culley with his pretty wife who wore a chic black wool jersey blouse . . . Warren Hasse with his wife . . . Warren was master of ceremonies . . . he's so sunny all the time . . . Peg wishes she could be half as good-natured all the time . . . of course, Coach Clifton McNeely and his wife . . . Mr. and Mrs. Pernal Scroggin . . . also saw Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fatheree . . . lovely Marcheta Hall was crowned basketball queen . . . everyone got a kick out of Griffin and McIlvain-kissing her during the coronation . . . Griffin sort of missed the mark, but McIlvain made up for it . . . teamwork I guess . . . the speaker kept everyone in stitches . . . one joke after another . . . but ended on a more serious note.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK . . . A leader is best when people barely know that he exists (Walter Dill Scott) . . . The reformer must be a hero at all points, and he must have conquered himself before he can conquer others (Mary Baker Eddy) . . . No man is free who cannot command himself (Pythagoras) . . . The genius of a good leader is to have behind him a situation which common sense, without the grace of genius, can deal with successfully (Walter Lippmann) . . . You can never overcome the universal material revolution by conceding to it materially; you can only overcome it by stressing the moral, intellectual, and spiritual side of your existence (Dr. Charles Malik) . . . Great men are they who see that spiritual is stronger than any material force; that thoughts rule the world (Ralph Waldo Emerson).

ONE OF THE MOST ENJOYABLE evenings Peg has had in a long time was spent Thursday night listening to Evelyn Oppenheimer review the book, "Love Is Eternal," by Irving Stone . . . it's about Mary Todd Lincoln, wife of Abraham Lincoln . . . the review was simply marvelous . . . the crowd was the most attentive Peg has ever seen . . . Miss Oppenheimer held everyone spellbound . . . from beginning to end you could have heard a pin drop in the auditorium . . . Mary and Abe Lincoln certainly had a sad life . . . maybe it goes with greatness . . . certainly made you feel guilty for thinking of her as an old battleship all these years . . . Miss Oppenheimer said Mary Lincoln was one of the most persecuted women in history . . . and after the review, you really believed it . . . all Peg can say is those who didn't hear the review missed a treat . . . probably the best book review they will ever have the chance of hearing . . . the auditorium was nearly filled . . . Peg did say Sibly Turner . . . Nova Mayo . . . Inez Club . . . Jess O'Brien . . . Ola Gregory . . . Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Jones . . . Mildred Sullivan who welcomed the guests . . . and Mrs. Kenneth Walters who introduced the speaker . . . Mrs. W. R. Ewing was there . . . good to see her out again . . . also noticed Jeney Stroup and Mrs. Ray Martin . . . Clara Mealer was with Mrs. Ewing who has been laid up for quite some time . . . good to see her out again . . . Mrs. Sam Irvin was there wearing the prettiest hat . . . Lillian Mullinax was there with her mother who looked like Spring in her red straw hat . . . spied Florence Jones and Madge Rusk, too . . . there were a lot more there, but Peg couldn't begin to name them all.

HERE AND THERE . . . Best wishes to Margaret Nelson Noland and her hubby Ray Dean Noland . . . on their marriage . . . saw Ruth Nestel rushing off somewhere the other day . . . she certainly does keep busy . . . understand Nina Sponeamore has a case of tonsillitis . . . hope she's feeling better . . . Heard the adult Sunday School-class of the Presbyterian church had a unique party Friday night . . . a dinner . . . then a treasure hunt for the house where they had dessert . . . at least that is what was supposed to happen . . . the weather may have changed it all . . . this had to be written beforehand . . . Peg just loves treasure hunts . . . more fun . . . won't be long before baseball season is underway . . . haven't been to see the horse race in front of the City Hall but understand the Lions Club is ahead . . . guess the youngsters keep changing the horses around . . . tak . . . tak . . . Come on, you people . . . if we want to have baseball here we got to buy tickets . . . understand the sales are under 1,000 . . . we still got quite a bit to go to reach our goal . . . have you been to see the art exhibit . . . in the Lovett library . . . nice to see we have so many wonderful artists in Texas . . . it is such a fine thing for the Pampa Art Club to do . . . to sponsor such things . . . they're having open house this afternoon which Peg heard is the last chance you'll have to see the exhibit . . . really worthwhile.

THIS HAS BEEN A BUSY WEEK for Peg . . . getting around here and there . . . next week doesn't look so busy, though . . . sorry I missed getting out to the Country Club Friday . . . bet the putting contest was a lot of fun . . . Peg really enjoys the Ladies Days there . . . wishes she could make them all . . . Bet the style show was good . . . kids are so cute in something like that.

Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer Of Dallas Gives Review Of 'Love Is Eternal'

A review of the book, "Love Is Eternal," by Irving Stone was given by Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer, noted Texas reviewer, writer and radio personality, in the Sam Houston auditorium, Miss Oppenheimer was sponsored by Delta Kappa Gamma, with proceeds to go for a scholarship in education for a senior girl.

"Sometimes we feel closer to people from the past than to people today," Miss Oppenheimer stated in her introduction. She lauded Irving Stone as an author with one of the "keenest approaches to historical-biographical novel writing than anyone I know." She went on to say she felt "Love Is Eternal" was his best biography. His other works include "President's Lady" and "Immortal Wife."

"All history is contemporary," she quoted Stone as saying. "Folks today and folks in the past are the same. Those of the past are more vivid than those around me today."

Miss Oppenheimer stated that Irving's latest book, the story of Mary Lincoln, is the "best human interest story to be found in today's literature." Her one criticism of the book was that it was "too bad he stops where he does," adding that Mary Lincoln's life "did end with the bullet Booth shot into her husband's head."

During her review, Miss Oppenheimer reported that as a girl, Mary Todd was "lovely," but not the most beautiful girl in the South. She was "neat but not gaudy." She was given all the education her father could supply for her, which was unusual for women in the South. She completed every course her brothers had to complete for a degree at the university. Her interest in politics came from her father, who liked to talk to her about law and politics.

Mary Todd lived in Lexington, Ky., Miss Oppenheimer pointed out, but she had a married sister living in Springfield, Ill. It was while visiting there that Mary Todd met Abraham Lincoln. One of her suitors in Springfield was Stephen Douglas, who everyone thought was "going place."

At Mary Todd's first glimpse of Lincoln, she thought he had the "homeliest and most striking face" she had seen. Miss Oppenheimer stated, she told of Lincoln's "extremes of deepest melancholy and broadest humor" and described

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend,
How sorry I feel for the women who have husbands who don't want them to open their mail. In my opinion the men must be expecting letters from girl friends. What a shame they all can't have husbands like mine. He doesn't care if I open his mail because he loves me and has no secrets from me. For 10 years we have been married and not one night has he been away from home. He will not go anywhere unless the children and I are with him. He helps me with the work and the kids and if I ask him to get me something from the store, he says "Can't you ride along with me?"

Yes, Grace Friend, that is my husband.

How God ever gave me a mate like that I will never know. Everyone who knows us says I have the best husband God ever gave a woman. My friends envy me.

He never buys anything or does anything that he doesn't talk over with me first. Except of course, my gifts on Christmas, birthdays and anniversaries which he never forgets.

He took care of me through five operations, three babies and three miscarriages without one word of complaint.

Yes, he is a prince among men.

Pampa Piano Student, Johnlyn Mitchell, To Play With Amarillo Symphony Today

Johnlyn Mitchell, 10, of Pampa will appear today with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, performing the Beethoven Sonata in F Major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, 328 N. Faulkner, and the piano student of Mrs. H. A. Yoder.

The concert, to be held at 4 p.m. in the Stephen Austin Junior High School, is one in which winners of the Feb. 27 contest will be presented as soloists with the orchestra.

Johnlyn, who won first place in the under-11-years age group, was among 26 contestants from the Panhandle area. Winners of other divisions of the contest will also play. Three other Pampa piano students receiving alternate or second place positions in other divisions were Susie Fillman and Lavonna Andrus, students of Mrs. Yoder; and Gale Howard, a student of Bill Haley.

A fourth grade student in Horace Mann School, Johnlyn has been studying piano for four years. For the past two years she has played 20-piece programs in the National Piano Auditions, receiving the highest rating and superior comments from the judges. She has also won cash prizes in the International Recording Festival for several years.

Johnlyn has also been accompanist for two school operettas and has played for a wedding. She is preparing another 20-piece program for the National Auditions here in April and plans to present a recital in May.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some months ago, I attended an entertainment given by foreign students of a large university.

One performer was a lovely young creature in a golden sari who sang us a song of ancient India. In the intermission, it was translated for me by the handsome young countryman of hers who sat beside me.

When he finished, I said, "How nice for you to have such a pretty compatriot for your fellow student. It must be pleasant for you both to be able to talk your own language together occasionally."

He stared at me. Then, with a visible effort to keep shock out of his voice, he said, "Oh, M. I'm glad to hear you speak to me to each other. Though I understand that my father's uncle knows her mother's third cousin, our parents have never met. It would not therefore be proper for us to speak together."

He showed not the slightest resentment at the families who imposed this restriction from halfway across the world. If he felt any impatience at it, it was directed, not at the parents involved, but at his country's code of social propriety. On the contrary, he spoke to me lovingly and respectfully of his parents.

In our country, lack of a general code of adolescent behavior works great hardship on us all.

For it compels us to impose our individual codes upon our young people. The A's, for example, require their 17-year-old daughter to be home from dates by 1 a.m. However, down the block, the B's permit their 15-year-old daughter to come home an hour later.

Because the A's requirement is different from the B's, they are continually embattled with their child. Unlike the Indian parents, they have no accepted code to interpose between them and her resentment.

No, I'm not urging the adoption of the Indian parents' code for your young people. I'm just suggesting that the absence of any at all demands miracles of child-parent relationship from us. By denying us any tradition to reinforce our regulation of teen-age conduct, it forces us to depend entirely upon our personal influence over children.

It's a noble ideal that is realistically impractical.

So, I'm pleased that the National Congress of Parents and Teachers is taking this problem seriously by asking communities to get together with young people to establish codes that will declare what is expected of them.

RUTH MILLET

In one day during a cleanup campaign in New York, 627 persons in the Bronx were fined for littering the streets, overloading garbage cans, failing to cover cans, etc.

A newspaper account of the cleanup referred to the persons fined as Litterbugs. It's a good name for persons who through laziness and not caring clutter up city streets, parks, public buildings, and even their own yards with trash because it is a little bit of trouble to dispose of it properly.

The worst thing about Litterbugs is that so often they are anonymous. You see the mess they leave behind them, but rarely know who is responsible for the filth and clutter.

No matter how hard a city works on a cleanup campaign, it can't get very far without cooperation. The best kind of cooperation is for parents to set a good example for their children and to teach their children the importance of public neatness.

Any child who is allowed to throw paper or other trash from an automobile, or to leave a picnic grounds without first properly disposing of all refuse, or to misuse a public rest room, or to clutter up a beach or playground, is being allowed to be a young Litterbug who will someday be a full-grown one — knowing no better than to raise another crop of Litterbugs.

Litterbugs are made at home by parents who think what one person does to clutter up public property doesn't matter at all.

How many times have you stopped at a public picnic grounds only to drive on because Litterbugs had left their trash behind them and turned a pleasant spot into an unsightly place?

Europe leads in coal production, accounting for approximately 45 per cent of the world output; the United States mines approximately 34 per cent, and the remainder is evenly divided between the USSR and the rest of the world.

COOK'S NOOK

Norway Baked Kipper Loaf Is A Different Lenten Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
WEA Food and Markets Editor
Mrs. Jytte Myhrberg of Kew Gardens, Long Island, was born in Denmark and is now a ground stewardess at Idlewild Airport for Icelandic Airlines. Her husband is station master for the same line. They and their 8-year-old daughter have a nostalgic fondness for Norway sardines and kippers and gave us three of their favorite ways of using them. Their Scandinavian recipes fit perfectly into our American menus, now, during Lent, and at any other time of year.

Norway Sardines and Cottage Cheese Mound
One (3 1/2 oz.) can Norway sardines, 2 (8 oz.) container cottage cheese, 6 ripe olives, chopped, 6 sweet gherkins, chopped, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, potato chips, french mustard.

Combine the cottage cheese, chopped olives, chopped gherkins and mayonnaise, making a paste. Shape paste in form of a mound in the center of serving tray. Arrange sardines on side of mound and surround with crisp potato chips. Garnish with french mustard and a whole ripe olive.

appetizer or first dinner course.
Baked Kipper Loaf
Four (3 1/2 oz.) cans Norway kippers, 2 cups thin white sauce, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

In the above order thoroughly blend all the ingredients. Arrange in well greased 2 quart loaf pan. Place in hot oven (350 degrees F.) and bake 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot with mushroom sauce or tomato sauce, if desired. Yields 6 generous portions.

Kipper Fish Balls
Four (3 1/2 oz.) cans Norway kippers, 4 cups diced potatoes, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, flour, salt and pepper.

Cook diced potatoes in salt water. When potatoes are tender, drain and mash. Drain juice from cans of kippers and add to mashed potatoes. Cut kippers into pieces about one inch in length and add with beaten eggs, butter or margarine, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Form into cakes or balls. Dip into flour and fry in deep fat (3 to 4 minutes) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve hot. Yields 12 generous portions.

Dallas Fashions For Spring Feature Checks, Stripes, Dots For Cool Look

By GAY PAULEY
DALLAS—UP—Dallas fashion designers this spring feature more checks, stripes and dots than Texas has of wells.
Warm weather dresses, suits and play clothes from the 25 manufacturers showing their collections to visiting fashion reporters display checks of all sizes, bold or subtle stripes, both narrow and wide, and coin dots from the size of a dime to a silver dollar.
Checks, however, lead the list. The manufacturers say this is for one reason—they pay a woman the dividend of the well-groomed, cool look on a sweltering summer day, as no other fabric will.
Checks are used for the whole garment or as trim. One manufacturer, the Clark, Inc., shows a pastel cotton dress trimmed at the collar with a pink and white bow and at the waistline with the same checked cummerbund.
He combines checks with solid shades in jumper and blouse, shorts and blouse, or in suits of checked gingham with white pique blouse.
One of the handsomest outfits in the checked group consists of sleeveless dress with wide, white linen collar. The dress, cut on slim lines, is topped with a short-sleeved jacket or the same check.
Pastels play second fiddle to checks in black, navy and brown on white.
Clark is one of the manufacturers featuring the stripes and coin dots. One dress in the coin dot group is a two-piece, with brief bolero topping a bare-top, or as

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Friend
Henpecked's letter amused me. I was reminded of the old adage, "It takes all kinds of people to make up the world," and they're all here.
I wondered as I read what Mrs. Henpecked would do or how she would fare if she had a husband like mine.
My husband goes out for five or six hours at night fairly often and if I dare to ask where he is going he tells me very matter-of-factly that it is none of my business. He seems to resent any show of possessiveness. In fact, early in our marriage he told me that just because a woman marries a man is not any reason he has to be under her thumb or account to her for everything he does.
I think of this too when on more than one occasion I've seen wives opening their husband's personal letters. Also early in my marriage I inadvertently opened a business letter of my husband's and such a vicious tongue lashing as I received! I really learned a lesson there too.
Now this may put my husband in rather a bad light but he is really, take it all in all, not too bad. He works hard to make a good living for me and the children. We are not wealthy but we do not live in want. The children adore him although when he is tired and irritable he can be brutal with them.
It is VERY true that marriage is a 60-40 relationship and to strive for a happy life in marriage one must often take the smaller end.
Mrs. C. C.

PARENTS DIVORCED

Dear Grace
My parents are divorced and my father has remarried. My mother is very bitter about the affair and feels that my father's present wife went out of her way to win him away from her. I can't blame my mother, on this because it is pretty generally believed that my stepmother went out to get dad and did.
This is the background for my problem. My problem is that I am going to be married next month and I just don't know how to work out the details so that everyone will be comfortable and happy. I wouldn't hurt mother for the world but I would like dad to give me away.

Will you tell me what part the second wife should play in the proceedings? I know that my father will expect her to receive special courtesies but how can you do this without making my mother suffer?
Worried
Dear Worried
Your stepmother should not even attend the wedding. She should realize that her presence would upset you and your mother and she should have the good taste to remain away.
If she insists on coming regardless of good manners, let her take her place among the guests. She should have no special attention nor consideration.

WCS of Mobeetie Has Business Meet

MOBETTIE—(Special)—The Women's Society of Christian Service met recently in the church with five members present. Mrs. C. C. Dyson, president, was in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Cooper gave a report on the program of the three-day session of WCS, which she and Rev. Cooper attended in Childress last week.
Mrs. O. G. Beck closed the meeting with prayer. Others present were Mrs. Ernest Lee and Mrs. A. A. Burch.

Facts On Modern Fabrics Are Given At Meeting Of Twentieth Century Club

"Modern Day Fabrics" was the subject of the program given by Mrs. Frank Culberson and Mrs. H. R. Thompson at the Twentieth Century Club meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. J. B. Massa.
Mrs. Culberson opened the program by saying: "Fabric beauty is everywhere! We can take our pick of the largest variety of fabrics ever offered, the color range is greater than ever before and we can take our pick of price. It is true our fabric dollar buys more today than ever before, but with all the advancement in the textile industry, there has not yet been devised one fabric that is perfect for all uses. As Americans, we like change too well, so manufacturers have been striving to give us a large variety of fabrics with more desirable features rather than one perfect fabric."
Mrs. Thompson brought out the fact that there are several features in today's materials that make them much more satisfactory than they were several years ago.
"Since color has much to do with our choice of a fabric, successful dyeing is the first consideration of the manufacturer," she explained. "Methods of dyeing differ sometimes only little between the natural and man-made fibers and sometimes greatly. The most successful method is the solution-dyeing of man-made fibers, that is, has the color added in the liquid stage. The well-known names for these fibers are Chromspun and Celaperm."
Mrs. Culberson pointed out the labels of the materials should be checked before buying, especially with regard to the care of the fabric. It is important what such terms as Sanforized, Teblized, spot resistant and water repellent mean. The first of the miracle fibers, rayon, was discovered in 1895. Mrs. Culberson stated. Since that time it has been constantly improved and today is used more and more in combination with other fibers. Acetate and Fortisan are also produced in a method similar to that of rayon. Other miracle fibers, nylon, dacron, orlon, acrylic, vinyl, dynyl, vicara, saran and fiber glass were discussed.
"What we have said about these fabrics probably won't be true by this time tomorrow because so much progress is being made in our amazing textile industry every day," Mrs. Culberson concluded.

Mrs. George Vineyard, president, conducted the business session. During the social hour members examined the display of new decorator and fashion fabrics which had been obtained from Murfee's and Foster's.
Members present were Mmes. C. E. High, E. L. Campbell, W. R. Campbell, Jack Foster, Ralph Sidwell, Joe Gordon, R. H. Sandford, V. J. Jamieson, R. W. Stowers, Lloyd Hicks, Vineyard, Culberson, Thompson, Massa.

White Deer Women Have Bridge Meet

WHITE DEER—(Special)—Mrs. Dare Locke received high score at a recent meeting of the No Trump Bridge Club in the home of Mrs. Bill Abbott. BABY

If there's any question of allergy in the family, put off feeding of egg whites until Baby is a year old. There are canned egg yolks on the market, or you can prepare your own. Mash with some milk. Use chopped whites for your own casseroles.
Vaccinations are easily done if it's before Baby can scratch. Check with your doctor for the earliest advisable date. The reaction of fever, if there is going to be one, will be about a week after the vaccination.
Don't prop the bottle, however weary you are of holding Baby's wet weight on your lap. Aside from its emotional implications the practice of propping or putting Baby to bed with the bottle will cause him to stay with the bottle rather than convert to the cup easily.

Men Welcome Leather Gifts

Most men like the luxurious feel of rich, glowing leather — be it a pair of casual shoes for week ends, a fine leather belt or any of dozens of other personal items. Indeed, leather gives you a practically limitless range of gifts to choose from.

You can give him a beautiful new wallet; a slim one, a large-size secretary wallet for his coat pocket, or a money-fold to use for formal occasions. These come in addition to the regulation black and brown leathers, in the new men's shades of honey, wine, hunter green and off-whites, in calf, cowhide, pinseed, morocco and other textured leathers.

Whether he travels or not, he can always use an attaché case, if only to bring his important papers home from the office. But if he is a traveling man, he will appreciate the new lightweight leathers now being used in "soft construction" aeroplans luggage, duffel bags, shaving kits, etc.

If he is a smoker, how about a slim leather cigar case or if he smokes a pipe, a pigskin pouch with a pigskin bowled pipe to match.

If he loves his car, why not give him a leather visor which includes a pad, a pencil, a piece for cigarettes, kleenex tissues which can be attached to the inside visor or panel of a car. And don't forget you can cut down the hazard of driving accidents if you keep him supplied with a pair of leather driving gloves at all times.

There are some interesting matched leather wallet and jewelry sets; cuff links, tie-clasps and wallet to match in a variety of leathers and colors, or in the new-out leather for men's jewelry — also leopard. And, of course, less flashy — but always welcome — are a pair of good-looking leather slippers. If you man has cold feet, get him a pair lined with soft, down lamb's wool coverings.

Men's Clothes Go To Heads Of The Ladies

Women look men's slacks and shirts and made high fashion out of them and now Paris designers are going to Papa's wardrobe for millinery inspiration. These latest designs from some of the new hat collections show the masculine influence. A man's evening shirt makes one hat while a cuff, with cuff-button, makes another. Even the swallow-tail lines of evening clothes provide ideas. By Rosette Hargrove, NEA Paris Fashion Expert.

Except for the albatross, the giant fulmar is the largest of the petrel family, about 37 inches long and weighing around eight pounds. Its wings extend more than six feet.

From Achille, Paris designer, comes this brown baku beret (left) in the form of a man's cuff with gold and diamond cuff links. Matching diamond earrings are from Van Cleef and Arpels. Black, blue and white chifon toque draped on swallow-tail lines (right) is from the new Jacques Fath collection. A black loop in front threads through diamond leaves from Van Cleef and Arpels.

Conversation piece in this hat fashioned by Claude St. Cyr from a man's evening shirt front. Collar encircles the head along with dark red silk tie and three-carat diamond stickpins from Mellerie.

Picture hat with precious jewels is this handmade lace and white tulle confection from Albany of Paris. Poised on rose is diamond butterfly with jeweled wings from Van Cleef and Arpels.

Plastic Accessories Aid Fading Rooms

There's an easy way to enliven a somewhat-faded bathroom — and it doesn't entail a complete re-decorating job, either.

It's simply the replacement of time-dulled, often old-fashioned accessories — towel bars, soap dishes, tumbler and toothbrush holders, toilet tissue holders, even back-of-the-door hooks — with colorful new plastic household aids for kitchen and bathroom.

These new plastic accessories are easy to put up because they can be stuck to any smooth wood, plaster, tile, or glass surface. And from the decorating standpoint they're ideal, for their sparkling white, red, yellow, green, and black plastic colors make them adaptable to virtually any kitchen or bathroom.

Secret of application of these handy new household aids is a patented, adhesive-coated wood insert, which is molded into the back of each plastic accessory. Just moisten this adhesive with a few drops of water, work it into a gluey consistency, and apply the accessory to wall or door. No nails, screws, or tools are needed, no surface-marring holes are made, and a complete set of the colorful plastic accessories adds new life to both bathroom and kitchen.

Here's another budget note: Canned sweet corn and canned snap beans are abundant now. The supply of canned sweet corn is the largest in several years, and the 1954 pack of green and wax beans is the largest on record. The heavy supplies have resulted in generally lower consumer prices.

To encourage greater movement of these foods a special industry-government merchandising program will be carried out during the period March 17 to March 28. The United States Department of Agriculture is lending its full support to the program and urges cooperation of all segments of the food industry. So take advantage of this program and stock up at budget prices.

Savory Green Beans
(Serves 4)
Three slices bacon, 2 tablespoons bacon drippings, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 to 3/4 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1 No. 2 can cut green beans, drained.

Sauté bacon in a skillet, then remove and break into small pieces. Sauté onion in drippings until tender. Add vinegar and seasonings and blend. Add bacon and green beans; mix together lightly and heat.

COOK'S MOOK

Moving time is not a good time to clean house as far as Baby is concerned. If you must go to a new place, be sure to take along those favorite toys that are so worn and battered. Try to arrange his same old furniture as much as you can like his beloved former home.

If you move, have Baby's friends come to call if you're still in the same city. If you move to another city, don't hurry Baby, but let him see and know that along with the same old Mommy and Daddy, there are lots of new friends to be had.

A small outlay of money for a plastic dish, spoon and cup and saucer pays off in happiness for Baby as he plays in his chair while you finish dinner; eliminates daily attrition of your own tableware.

Four wives of presidential appointees get together in Washington to plan the 1955 social calendar for the Association of Independent Agencies' Wives. Purpose of the association is to provide a social outlet for the wives of presidential appointees. Above, from left, are Mrs. Albert M. Cole, Mrs. Ralph H. Demmler, Mrs. Wendell B. Barnes and Mrs. Whitney Gilliland.

New Appointees' Wives Organize Club To Help Washington's Social Problems

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The government is growing too big for its social boots. But a band of vivacious ladies is trying to remedy this unhappy situation, to the delight of their high-ranking husbands.

So many presidential appointees have now flocked to Washington that their spouses find it impossible to get to know each other on a first-name basis. The exception is the ten cabinet wives who meet on numerous occasions.

But the rest of the women, who number approximately 150, seldom have a chance to become close friends, despite the town's furious social whirl. And no hostess can possibly include all of them in her invitation list and expect to ask anyone else.

So a group of brave women has formed the Association of Independent Agencies' Wives. Plans are already being made for a gay get-acquainted luncheon.

"Our husbands think it's a wonderful idea," says attractive Mrs. Whitney Gilliland, chairman of the new organization. Her husband heads the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission.

"From what I understand, some of the husbands are even thinking of forming their own group," says Mrs. Gilliland. "But in February we're going to have a dinner for them, which we expect to be our big event of the year."

"Please don't think we're trying to be social climbers," emphasizes Mrs. Gilliland. "All of us have more than enough parties to attend. But we do feel it's important to have a permanent organization that will welcome and give advice to wives who are strangers here."

She and three other women whose husbands direct independent agencies, met informally the other day to make arrangements for the coming year.

They are: Mrs. Albert M. Cole of Kansas, whose husband is administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency; Mrs. Wendell B. Barnes of Oklahoma, wife of the administrator of the Small Business Administration; and Mrs. Ralph H. Demmler from Pittsburgh, whose husband is chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"What we have in mind is something like the Congressional Club," explains Mrs. Cole, who had asked the other ladies over to her apartment for the meeting. "My husband used to be a Republican member of the House from Kansas, and it was a wonderful place to get together with people. Up to now, however, no one has given much thought to the wives of presidential appointees."

"The association is particularly appropriate, since many of us have not been in Washington very long," points out Mrs. Demmler. "Most of us came here in January, 1953, with the new Administration. But, of course, we're strictly bipartisan, for several of the women's husbands have five or seven-year terms, and that makes them Democrats."

There are presently 37 independent Agencies in the government, such as the Atomic Energy Commission, the Federal Reserve System, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the U. S. Information Agency.

As secretary of the association, Mrs. Barnes will collect $1 a year from all who wish to join.

RUTH MILLET

Memo to husbands:
She'll cook those three meals a day gladly and won't get those "What in the world can I have for dinner tonight" blues if her husband lets himself expand a little when he brags about her cooking.

She won't really mind stretching his pay check in all the ways a woman can contrive to beat the high cost of living, if he occasionally tells her what a good manager she is.

She will wear inexpensive dresses under a coat she bought on sale three years ago and not really mind, if once in a while her husband tells her she was the best-looking woman at last night's party.

She will paint the kitchen or make living-room draperies or slip cover the old sofa and take real pride in the job if her husband will only notice what she has done.

She will break ties and move wherever her husband's job takes him, without feeling at all put upon, if he will just take the trouble to tell her that she is a good sport.

She will entertain his friends in a manner to do him proud and feel it was really worth all the effort if he will just say when the last guest leaves, "That was a wonderful dinner."

She will even take his grouches in stride if he occasionally says after a low spell, "I don't see how you put up with me when I act like that" instead of trying to put the blame for his bad temper on her.

She won't really mind if she always has to work hard, so long as she knows that her work is appreciated and that her husband is happy.

Who is this woman who will happily settle for a little so long as she knows she is appreciated and her husband would like to give her more if he only could?
Why, she is your wife.

Fine Arts Program On Antiques And Cutglass Presented To Varietas Club

Varietas Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. S. C. Evans, 1800 Charles.

The short business session was led by Mrs. H. H. Butler, president. Mrs. Dow King gave the highlights of the "Federated Clubwoman" magazine, and Mrs. Evans gave a project report.

The fine arts program was presented by Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson and Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Hutchinson spoke first on the art of collecting antiques.

"The art of collecting antiques is the difference between a collection and an accumulation of things," she explained. "The art of a true collector is confined to one phase of a field, but he truly studies that field and knows all about it."

Mrs. Hutchinson had some antiques on display and told the history of various pieces and the periods they represented. She pointed out that collecting is fun when a complete study is made of the subject. She added that furniture has its history as china does. She gave three reasons for collecting — form, decoration or material. She advised the women that age gives an antique beauty. "There is no end to things one can collect or accumulate," she stated.

Mrs. Evans showed her display and gave a discussion on cutglass pieces. She told the story back of her collection and advised the women of things to beware of and how to detect handcut glass and machine-cut glass.

She explained that sudden changes in temperature affects cutglass more than any other glass. She also told the group about "sick glass" and how to take care of it. Members present were Meses Cecil Dalton, H. H. Butler, J. G.

Doggett, H. P. Dosier, S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, W. C. Hutchinson, J. A. Hopkins, Dow King, J. E. Kirchman, R. W. Lane, Otis Nace, Luther Pierson, J. R. Spearman, J. C. Vollmert, W. A. Wagoner and Sherman White. Mrs. Clifford Solomon was a guest.

Fragile Femininity For Spring Nights

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Fragile is the word for the short evening gown this spring. Delicate silks and organdies, delectable pastels, lace tiers, ruffles and embroidery all make for dresses with an air of soft femininity.

Bodices are shirred or draped to set off widely scooped necklines. Necklines generally are higher and there is more shoulder coverage than formerly.

Lace, chiffon and organza, in pretty cloud colors, are cut into shirtwaist dresses with a fragile look. Some of these have the wrapped bodice, the high neckline, the floating skirt worn without petticoats.

Attached scarves in the same fabric and color as the dress are meant to be worn according to fancy. They may be draped many ways, or used in much the same manner as a stole.

The bustline is higher, just as it is in all spring fashions. But where the bodice is fitted, the line is not severe and it is always set off by a drifting skirt.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If you ask a guest to play the piano for you — be courteous enough to listen quietly. It's rude to say, "I'd love to hear you play" and then chatter to someone else all through the selection. If you want to talk — talk. If you want to listen to music — listen.

You can't do both at the same time.

These dresses you paid so much for and keep hidden in the back of the closet are probably the consequence of unwise purchasing. When you think you like a dress, give it a real trying on. Be sure there's plenty of room to move in, as actress Pat Blake is doing (left) by crossing her arms to check the "give" in back. Be sure the waist falls at your natural waistline (center) and that the belt fits properly. For many-season wear, check to see that seams and hem (right) are amply deep and well finished.

Girl Scout Activities

Election of officers was held by Intermediate Troop 55. Those chosen were Judy Miller, president; Jane Ayres, vice president; and Jackie Miller, secretary. The girls are working toward their second class badges. Peity Foster was welcomed as a new member. Leader of the troop is Mrs. George Newberry.

Intermediate Troop 39, with Mrs. Evan A. Jones as leader, is making plans for a "court of awards," to be held April 15, in the Girl Scout Little House. Twelve members of the troop will receive curved bars, the highest rank in Scouting. The event will be a banquet, with a puppet show planned for entertainment. At a recent meeting, it was announced that Joan Spinks has sold 135 boxes of GS cookies by herself.

Brownie Troop 81 elected officers recently. They were Pamela King, president; Rena Armstrong, vice president; Jan Fincher, song leader. Girl Scout Sunday, the troop attended the First Christian Church. At a recent meeting, Mrs. Joe Wells, Juliette Lowe chairman, collected the troop's Juliette Low bank. ## Starlet Pat Blake Lists Check Points For Use When Selecting New Dress

EDITOR'S NOTE: Grooming a starlet is a costly and complicated process, not the least part of which is teaching her wardrobe tricks. These important pointers on picking a dress are outlined as lovely starlet Pat Blake learned them. She will next be seen in Warner Brothers' "Jump Into Hell."

When the dress is on, be sure it's on right. Examine the shoulder line and see if it is too bulky or not bulky enough for your figure.

Be sure there's plenty of room to move in. Cross your arms in front and feel if the seams strain. It will be a poor investment if the seams are too tight or give on the first wearing.

Is the waist at your natural waistline? It takes quite a bit of altering to change this basic part to fit. Is the belt the right one? Often, belts get accidentally switched in stores. Check the size and color closely.

Does the dress accentuate good points and conceal bad ones? Tall girls should avoid striking vertical lines, short ones should avoid horizontal ones. Neckline, sleeves and skirt should do their pointing-up and playing-down duty.

Be sure you look all the way around the dress. The front may be lovely, the rear view not so. Use a three-way mirror.

Check the interior finishing. The hem should be deep for adapting to current lengths. The seams should be adequate and well-finished, either pinked, whipped or taped.

Finally, review in your mind what accessories you'll need for the function this dress is to fill. If you have to buy new shoes, handbag, hat and gloves to go with it, it may turn out to be far costlier than you expected.

Kay Gill And S. E. Mayo Jr. Exchange Vows In Single-Ring Service In Miami

MIAMI — (Special) — Nuptial vows were exchanged at 7 p.m. Mar. 20, in the First Baptist Church, Miami, by Miss Kay Gill and S. E. Mayo Jr. Rev. Ray Manning officiated for the single-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Gill of Miami, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mayo Sr. of Miami.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline, edged with a ruffle of scalloped lace, and a tulle yolk. The long, fitted sleeves came to petal points over her hands. The bouffant skirt was designed with a cathedral train. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a band decorated with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Lynn Gill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of pink net and carried a basket of roses. She also wore a flowered headpiece.

Bridesmaids were Miss Gayle Russell and Miss Ann O'Loughlin. Both wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and carried baskets of pink roses.

Kathy Gill, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a pink taffeta dress with a flowered headpiece. Ken Gill, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. Candelighters were Jimmy Gill, brother of the bride, and Larry Mayo, brother of the bridegroom.

Jerry Mayo, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and Jimmy Bean and Robert Clark were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pink and tan dress with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The couple was married before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, baskets of greenery and candelabra with white tapers. Miss Junita Haynes, organist, played traditional wedding music. Ed Haynes, soloist, sang "Oh Promise Me," "Why Do I Love You," and "Oh Perfect Love."

For the wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a brown suit with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside in Miami.

The bride was graduated from Miami High School in 1954. In school she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America, serving as vice president of the chapter in her junior year. She was basketball captain in 1953-54, and was voted the most beautiful girl that same year. She represented Miami as "sweetheart of the soil" at Pantex in the summer of 1954. She has been employed by the post office.

The bridegroom is a senior in Miami High School. He played football for four years, serving as captain this year. He was class president his sophomore and junior years and is a member of Future Farmers of America, serving as vice-president this year. He played basketball for two years and was named cutest boy in 1954-55. He is employed by the H & H Grocery store.

Around The House

A hurry-up supper for a cold night can be made out of pantry materials. A can of vegetable soup and tomato soup is heated with a box of frozen peas or beans in it. Add a can of little sausages, wieners or some cooked hamburger. If you have it, a meal-in-one soup.

Two poor keepers are nuts and raisins. Buy in small quantity, store in air-tight jars. Discard them if they're not used soon. Nuts in vacuum tins, however, will keep a long time.

If you don't shower while your husband shaves, it's become an endless small irritation to him that the mirror's all steamed up. Try changing the schedule. Let him shower and shave while you start breakfast or feed the children. It's about the only solution.

If you stand to answer the phone, you find your notes on a call or for a grocery order illegibly written. Put up a nail and hang a good sized pad on the wall with a pencil on a string. You can then write without needing your other hand.

Soap helps sticky drawers, but did you know that plain "lead" pencil, which is graphite, is good first aid for the draw curtain track?

Shrimp Ravigote Is Good For Company

For your next company dinner — Easter, for instance — we offer a divine appetizer. It is called Sherrid Shrimp Ravigote and is as fancy as its name implies. To ease preparation, we suggest that you use the fully peeled, de-veined shrimp, generally available canned or frozen.

2 cups cooked or canned shrimp, (whole if small, cut up if large)

1 cup California Sherry Wine

2 hard-cooked eggs, yolks and whites separated

1 tablespoon catsup

1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish

1 tablespoon chopped parsley

1 teaspoon lemon juice

1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1/2 cup mayonnaise (approximate)

Salt and pepper to taste

Lettuce leaves

Combine shrimp and wine in a bowl; cover and let stand in refrigerator 1 to 2 hours, stirring occasionally. Meantime, grate egg yolks and whites or force through sieve or ricer. Drain shrimp thoroughly. Combine shrimp, grated egg whites, catsup, pickle relish, parsley, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce; mix lightly but well. Add just enough mayonnaise to moisten mixture nicely; season with salt and pepper. Cover and chill thoroughly. Just before serving, line each of 6 little baking shells with a leaf of lettuce; spoon shrimp mixture into shells. Sprinkle with grated egg yolks and dust with paprika. Serve as an appetizer. Serves 6.

Note: Lacking little baking shells, you may use lettuce-lined butter plates or sherbet or champagne glasses.

Felony Trial Before Jury Is A Rare Thing In Pampa

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

If you want to be a juror in a criminal case in 31st District Court in Pampa, you may have to wait a good long while.

For there have been only two Gray County felony cases which have gone to a jury trial since Jan. 1, 1951. And one of them originated outside of Gray County.

In fact, one-third of the 189 cases have never gone to court at all. They were either dismissed at the time or are still pending, according to a check of the books in the district clerk's office by The Pampa Daily News.

Exactly one-half of the 58 indictments which have never been presented for trial concern charges of burglary-and-theft and theft and forgery. These are the three categories on which the most indictments were returned each of the four years. The three ranked either first or second each year in total number of indictments returned.

1953 Biggest Year
The biggest year for indictments was 1953 when there was a total of 82. Forty of these came to trial, but none before a jury. There were 15 dismissed and seven others are still pending.

For the four years, there were 113 cases in which sentences were given, 31 in which dismissal orders were given and 25 which are still pending today. By percentage, that is 66.9 per cent sentenced, 18.5 per cent dismissed and 14.8 per cent pending now.

The only case that went to a jury in 31st District Court during the four years was that of John Victor Bordeaux, Jr., a criminal assault case that came from Hemphill County on a change of venue. He got 12 years.

Since Jan. 1, 1953, there have been 22 indictments returned. Ten of them have gone to court, but only one before a jury. The other 12 are still pending.

Breakdowns
A breakdown of cases, from 1951 through 1954, which have not yet come to trial shows 12 thefts (seven dismissed and five pending), 10 forgeries (six dismissed and four pending) and six burglary-and-thefts (four pending and two dismissed).

There are also three murders, three robberies by assault, two assaults with intent to murder and a criminal assault which have either been dismissed or are still on the books.

Two of the murder charges were dismissed. They were for Lemuel Sharp, indicted Oct. 11, 1951, and for Bennett Brown, indicted March 6, 1952. (Brown, however, was tried and convicted on two charges of assault with intent to murder, instead.) The other murder charge, still pending, is that for Clyde Alfred Gumm, indicted Sept. 28, 1953.

The three charged with robbery by assault, whose cases have not come to trial, were all indicted in 1953.

They are Charles Bales, Glen Green and Darwin Malone. The Malone case was dismissed, the others still remain on the books.

Bell Brothers
The assault with intent to murder cases involve Homer Edward Bell and Jesse Calvin Bell. These cases are pending. The criminal assault concerns Linford Strickland. The last case was dismissed.

Among the cases for which indictments have been returned this year and are still pending are a murder, theft, murder while committing an unlawful act, embezzlement, second offense of driving while intoxicated, swindling with a worthless check, murder, even one for passing counterfeit coins.

One thing that came to light during the survey is the occurrence of burglary - and - thefts, forgeries and plain thefts in the total number of indictments returned. They led the indictment parade each year - and they do this year, too.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Written for NEA Service

A retired minister tells how a young man came to him for help with a sermon whose preparation was giving him trouble. "I want to preach," he said, "on the theme, 'How to get the most out of life,' and the sermon doesn't seem to be unfolding as it should. I was wondering if you could give me some suggestions."

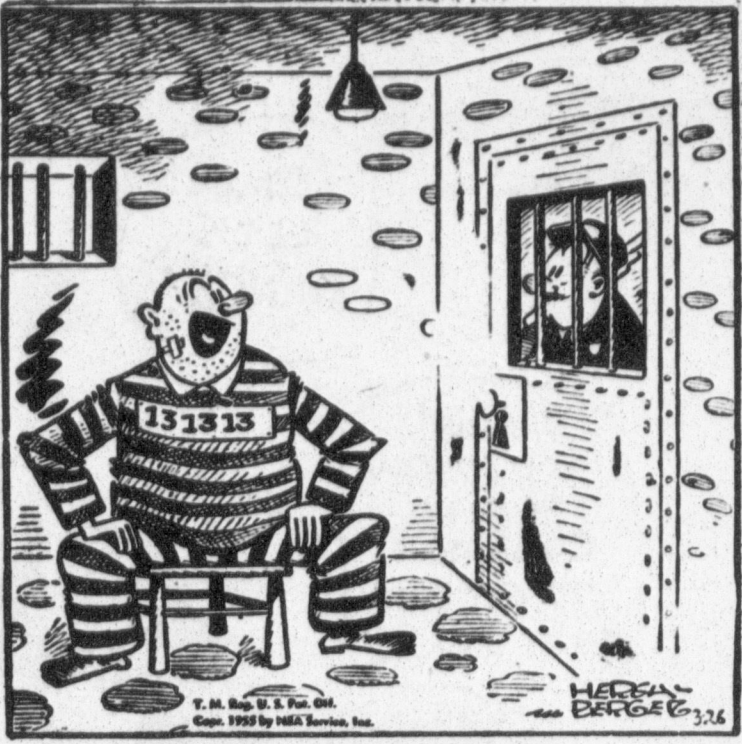

"No wonder you are having trouble," said the older man. "You are starting at the wrong place. You are not asking the right question. The Christian does not begin with, 'How can I get the most out of life?' but rather, 'How can I put the most into life?'"

Jesus warned that there would be trouble ahead for anyone who started by asking what he could get out of life. "For whoever would save his life," he said (Mark 8:35, RSV), "will lose it; and whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospels will save it."

Hardly any other saying of Jesus occurs so often. Allowing for parallel accounts of the same incident, it seems to have been uttered under at least three different sets of circumstances: when people were asking what were the signs of the coming kingdom (Luke 17:20f, 33); when the twelve were setting out on a preaching tour (Matthew 10:37, 39); when Jesus, trying to prepare the disciples for journey's end, warned of his own impending death (Matthew 16:22-25). What was so often on our Lord's lips ought to be much in our hearts and minds!

More Evidence

A year ago the United States Senate was embroiled in stormy debate over the proposed Bricker Amendment to define the limits of treaty power. The amendment lost by one vote.

Crux of the argument was whether or not the U. S. Constitution can be overridden and domestic law, in effect, be enacted by the mere adoption of a treaty, which by-passes the House of Representatives, or by an executive agreement, which by-passes both House and Senate.

When the controversy resumes — as it shortly will in the current session of Congress — proponents of treaty limitation will have another string to add to their bow: a recent Supreme Court decision concerning, of all things, the lowly potato.

The potato case has become known as U. S. vs. Capps. Guy W. Capps, Inc., a Virginia importing company, bought 48,000 sacks of potatoes from Canada in 1949 and sold them to a commission house. The importer was sued by the U. S. government for $150,000 on the ground that its resale of the potatoes violated an executive agreement between the American State department and the Canadian ambassador.

The events leading up to the executive agreement were these:

Congress was supporting the price of potatoes in 1948 at 90 cent of parity; because of the artificial price prop, Canadian potatoes were underselling American potatoes in the U. S. market despite tariff and freight charges. The result was that American consumers bought Canadian potatoes while American taxpayers through the Commodity Credit Corporation bought U. S. potatoes. To remedy the situation, Congress directed the Tariff Commission to recommend some form of import restrictions on spuds.

Ignoring the congressional directive however, the Executive department handled the matter through diplomatic channels and negotiated an executive agreement restricting export of Canadian potatoes to the U. S. except for seed.

A federal court of appeals ruled against the government in its suit against Capps' firm, holding that the executive agreement was void, because it was not authorized by Congress. When the case reached the Supreme Court, it, too, found in favor of the defendant, but on the entirely different ground that there was not sufficient evidence that the potatoes were sold for table use. In doing so, however, legal experts point out, it tacitly reversed the appeal court's decision on the validity of the agreement, for if the agreement were not valid it would make no difference whether the potatoes were sold for seed or for table use.

When the Bricker Amendment argument resumes, the potato case will be a vital part of it. For if the functions of Congress can be usurped by the executive branch in such a mundane matter, they can just as readily be usurped in matters of vital importance.

As an addenda we point out that the confirmation of John Marshall Harlan as a Supreme Court justice, named by President Eisenhower to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert H. Jackson was also an issue of vital importance to the United States.

Human Events, a Washington newsletter, has just offered proof of a report that Judge Harlan favors U. S. membership in a world government. It says the Washington office of the Atlantic Union Committee "informs us that Judge John Marshall Harlan has been on the committee's National Advisory Council since 1952. The committee advocates that the U. S. join in a common government with Canada, Britain, France and other nations, thereby surrendering our sovereignty."

Confirmation of Harlan should have rested upon his position on this factor of world government. In the steel case, it was by a mere single vote that the seizure action of President Truman was upset, and the minority of the Supreme Court contended that Truman was justified in his action — not under the American Constitution but under treaty agreement with the United Nations!

Any judge who feels that the sovereign United States of America is subordinate to the United Nations should never have been placed in the high court since it is historical fact that the "Constitution is what the Supreme Court says it is." This means literally — and the Court has been flagrant about it for 20 years — that the justices can twist constitutional wording as they please . . . even to the point of destroying the republic!

Advocacy of abdication of U. S. sovereignty by a member of the Supreme Court which is the last bastion of our sovereignty would be unthinkable. It would also drive the last nail in the coffin of Liberty under the Republic.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

'What Price Automation?'

Walter Reuther has a lot to say about business putting in automatic machines. He wants to use that as one of the arguments for a guaranteed annual wage. But automation is just a name for better machinery.

In the Human Events magazine on March 5th, Benjamin F. Fairless, Chairman of the Board of U. S. Steel Corporation, explains very clearly what automatic machines do for everyone. He points out that there is nothing new about people being afraid of machines. He observes:

"Nearly three centuries ago, an inventor in Danzig built a loom that could weave six webs at once. The workers seized the hapless inventor and drowned him in a nearby creek.

"At the outset of the so-called Industrial Revolution in England, mobs of angry workers broke into the mills and tried to destroy the new automatic machinery which they feared would leave them jobless."

Then he writes: "Today we know (some of us do) that it was the machine alone which enabled England to support her rapidly growing population and provide it with a rising standard of living. In countries like India and China, where mechanization did not occur, the standards of living fell far below subsistence levels and the population was decimated by starvation and disease."

Still Afraid of Machines Then Mr. Fairless reports an interesting survey. He points out that The Public Opinion Index took a poll among more than a thousand factory workers and asked them two questions: First, did they favor the use of more new and "improved" machines. They did, by about three to one. Then they were asked how they felt about more "automation." But they opposed that, three to two!

Then Mr. Fairless observes: "Yet the two things, of course, are really identical. There is nothing new about automation. The mechanics of it are older than our own American Republic."

That simply shows how people can be confused, and they are confused largely because of labor "leaders" who seem to think that there is a limited amount of work to be done and if machines do it, workers will be deprived of jobs.

Mr. Fairless continues his articles with the following:

"More than 150 years ago, a Frenchman named Jacquard built an automatic loom which wove all kinds of complicated patterns in accordance with instructions that were also punched in paper. "So let's face it. This thing called automation is simply evolution — not revolution. It is only another little step in the slow and plodding progress of man towards a richer fuller life and a better freer world."

Then he refers to three examples of automation. He mentions the dial telephone, and points out that between 1940 and 1950 the number of telephone operators in this country increased by 129,000 — or 73 per cent. He mentions business machines, and points out that instead of the number of accountants and auditors decreasing, they have increased 71 per cent in this same ten-year period. He continues by saying:

"And how about these so-called automatic factories in Detroit, where the word 'automation' was thought up? Are the automobile workers losing out? Not by a long shot. Their number doubled in fourteen years. Automobile mechanics and repairmen have increased 75 per cent. And for every new job in the auto industry, five new jobs are created in allied fields which supply the raw materials and components that go into the manufacture and equipment of new cars.

"But this, of course, is not always the case in every industry and every occupation. Dislocations do occur in some instances, and men do have to change from one job to another. That has been true in farming for nearly forty years. Moreover with the falling demand for coal, employment in the mines has also dropped off substantially, and there is recent evidence of a mild decline in oil refining.

"Where are these men to go? Has 'Automation' made it tougher for them? Look at the picture as a whole. Just what really has happened in the last fifteen years or so — say from 1939 through 1953?"

"During this period the population of the United States has increased 22 per cent. But the total number of jobs has grown by 35 per cent — or more than half again as much. In the field of manufacturing itself — where automation has advocated most rapidly — employment has gone up 73 per cent, or more than three times as fast as the population.

"This rapid increase in employment has occurred because of mechanization — not in spite of it! The building of machines themselves — plus their installation, maintenance and construction of new factories to house them — has opened up thousands of job opportunities that never existed before."

"But that is only the beginning. As mechanization has enlarged the output and the purchasing power of our people, it has also multiplied enormously their demand for services. So they, in their turn, employ more doctors and dentists, more engineers and scientists and more teachers and clergymen. They want out more of their leisure, and they eat more often in restaurants. Even the fact that they have more leisure time has

It's Your Country

By John Beck

Suppose you were sitting at a pleasant and bountiful banquet table in a country club with about 400 of your fellow townsmen, and you heard the speaker for the occasion begin with these startling words:

"You are all doomed to death. You are doomed to destruction, torture, starvation and death, exactly as are those behind the Iron Curtain. Whether this death sentence on you and your children will be carried out will depend on you and what you will do about it. The sentence has already been passed and you are doomed, at least in the minds of the men in the Kremlin."

What would you think, you well-washed, well-dressed, well-fed American — that the speaker was a crackpot, fanatic, alarmist? That is exactly what the men in the Kremlin want you to think. But if you were like those of us who recently heard the noted Hungarian diplomat, statesman, and economist, Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, you would suddenly lose interest in the rest of your apple pie and coffee. Your complacency would be gone on the instant; you would sit very still, so still you could hear a pin drop, and you would listen.

You would listen because you knew this man was speaking from personal and intimate knowledge of Communist plans and methods. As former Minister of Finance for Hungary, Dr. Nyaradi suffered through the "liberation" of his country. At the end of World War II, following the stupid and disastrous (for the West) Yalta and Potsdam agreements, he was sent by his government to Moscow where he spent seven months negotiating extortionate war claims with the Kremlin bandits. Fighting a desperate battle against communism in his own country, he felt the full force of the Soviet iron fist and finally fled its terror to seek refuge in America.

Dr. Nyaradi is now chairman of the Department of Economics at Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois. Since 1949 he has labored unceasingly to alert Americans — from his classrooms, from lecture platforms, over radio and television, in magazines and newspapers, and in his vitally important book, "My Ringside Seat in Moscow" (Thomas Y. Crowell Co., New York). But still his urgent warnings have not been heard or read by nearly every American.

America's greatest weakness and the Kremlin's greatest weapon, created more jobs for others. Employment in tourist courts and camps has more than tripled. There are more amusement parks and similar establishments providing 75 per cent more jobs than formerly. The purchase of books for home music has tripled. And so it goes. Employment in the service industries alone has arisen by more than 2 million during these 14 years. That is a jump of 65 per cent.

"The same thing has happened, too, in the general field of trade. As the volume of production has increased, it has taken more workers to sell and to handle these goods. Thus, 6 million new jobs have been opened up by the growing employment demands of department stores, shops, offices, builders, bankers, utilities, bus lines, trucking companies and others in this category.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Severe recurring headaches, sometimes quite disabling while they last are among the most common of human ailments. What is not always fully appreciated is that there are several varieties and that all of them require a great deal of study if one would get to the root of the trouble.

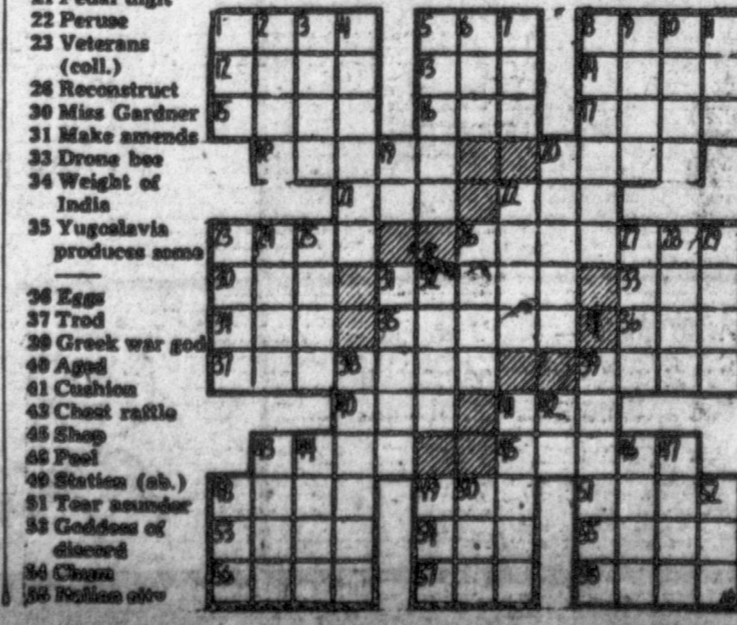

Stories such as the following are typical. A successful businessman, who is working almost constantly with important matters, under great strain, gets severe headaches on one side of the head every two or three months without any apparent reason. A high school girl always gets a terrible headache just before examinations. A busy lawyer is likely to get a headache whenever he has some particularly delicate and difficult task ahead, particularly a trial. A 40-year-old housewife gets headaches after she eats shrimps.

IN SEVERAL OF these instances the headaches seem to be quite definitely the result of mental strain or emotional disturbance. Not infrequently the headache serves as an unconscious excuse to avoid an examination or a dreaded job of some kind. Sometimes it is a reaction to certain foods, as in the case of the housewife mentioned.

Occasionally headaches are related to sinus difficulty or some other physical disorder. For all these reasons the successful treatment of those who suffer from recurring headaches is not easy. ONE COMMON TYPE of headache appears to arise from a relaxation of the blood vessels in or near the brain. In this type of headache the treatment consists in giving some fluid which causes the blood vessels to contract. Some have reported rapid relief from this kind of headache by injecting adrenalin into one of the veins.

Dulles Made Trip To Canada To Defend Foreign Policy

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Our close and most responsible neighbor, Canada, has now joined our European Allies in mild but firm protest against certain phases of American foreign and domestic policy. Although not so publicized, Secretary Dulles' hurried and mysterious trip to Ottawa last week was an attempt to reassure officials there that the United States seeks peace and international order, not a shooting war.

In a closed session with the Cabinet and Parliament, Dulles explained — a more precise word might be "defended" — our position on Formosa and the Pescadores, development and possible employment of atom bombs in a Far Eastern outbreak, and publication of the Yalta Papers. He sought to dissipate the feeling prevalent in Europe and Canada — namely, that the U. S. is "irritably happy," and too much inclined to blustering anti-belligerency.

The Canadians have a special cause for uneasiness. They would inevitably be involved in any conflict with Russia, even though it did not expand into general warfare. The most direct route to our major industrial centers in the Middle West — Detroit, for instance — lies through the Polar regions, where the Americans and Canadians now operate joint defense missions.

The Canadians, both the British element and the French faction in Quebec, resented the belittlement of their country by Roosevelt and Stalin at Yalta. Moreover, the Far Eastern concessions granted to Russia there, as well as Mao Tse-tung's entrenchment in North China, have brought the Reds within striking distance of Canada's West Coast cities, oilfields and uranium mines.

Dulles' detailed defense of the Yalta disclosures is not known, for his conferences with Cabinet and Parliament were behind-the-scenes sessions. But he did promise that, save in an emergency like Pearl Harbor, Washington will give full consideration to our Allies' viewpoint.

Ottawa has many other grievances. It resents the Congressional farm bloc's recurrent demand for higher tariffs on its major exports. The Canadians also expressed fear that our attempt to sell agricultural surpluses abroad, especially wheat, would cut into their foreign markets. Washington has guaranteed, however, that it will not resort to cutthroat "dumping."

Another cause for friction — certain Canadian journals speak of "bad blood" — are the current and proposed power developments along the border. The Canadians were piqued to the point of going it alone over our 30-year delay in approving the plan for building the St. Lawrence Waterway. Now, they are indignant over Capitol Hill charges that, although Uncle Sam will foot most of the bill, Canada will enjoy the principal benefits.

A new controversy has just arisen in the Northwest. The Provincial Government of British Columbia has negotiated a tentative deal with Henry J. Kaiser's aluminum interests for the American firm's use of water from the Canadian river of the Columbia River. This river's source is north of the border, but it empties into the Pacific through Washington and Oregon. Kaiser would pay $2,000,000 a year to British Columbia for power rental.

Ottawa flatly opposes the project. The Dominion Government maintains that its bustling and industrializing West will need this energy within a few years. It sees no reason why it should be drained off for another country's use and profit. Besides the economic and hydro questions there is the international problem of who owns his valuable store of water, and what the rights of the two countries are.

A similar controversy over the St. John River, which passes through New Brunswick Province and Maine, was settled in our favor 45 years ago. Now, however, it operates against us in the Northwest dispute, and we demand a complete reversal of the earlier decision. Our attitude provokes serious questioning of our standards of ethics and law and diplomacy.

The compelling Canadian complaint, and it is becoming universal of late, is that Uncle Sam throws his weight around too carelessly and vigorously, and not always in the best interests of his Allies. Having recently cast off the British version of "colonialism," the Canadians do not submit to any American brand, new-style or old-style.

The Nation's Press

(The Wall Street Journal)

Normally, the American economy consumes about 700 million bushels of wheat a year. The American farmer grows in excess of a billion bushels. The problem: What to do with the other 300 million or so bushels.

The answer might seem quite simple since there is a vast market for wheat in other countries of the world. But it is not so easy at that because the world price of wheat is considerably below the domestic price of wheat. And the domestic price of wheat is above the world price of wheat because the U. S. Government makes it so.

Why should anyone sell wheat abroad for a low price when the Government will take it for a higher price?

Ever since the Government started helping American farmers with price supports, world prices and U. S. prices for the major crops have been getting further, out of line. Foreign production, quite naturally, has been encouraged to increase to take advantage of this. The war brought a brief respite, but now the plight of U. S. growers of wheat, cotton, and other commodities is so bad that the farmers' friends in Congress have decided to do something about it.

The proposal — in the case of wheat — is an export subsidy to help the wheat farmer recapture the foreign markets lost by the domestic subsidy. The House Agriculture Committee wants the Government to keep wheat prices high for the U. S. consumer; wheat would then be sold abroad at the lower world price with the Government making up the difference to the farmer.

Since this would take care of the export problem, the committee concludes it can also hike the domestic support price even higher without losing the farmer any world markets; it wants a return to rigid, ninety-percent-of-parity price supports for wheat and other basic crops.

And of course with all the market problems this neatly disposed of, there would be no need for production limitations. Under this plan there would be no acreage restrictions; a farmer could grow as much as he liked so long as his excess was sold abroad.

Well, we doubt if the House committee members will be much bothered by what this dumping operation will do to the economies of our foreign friends. But they might reflect on what it will do to U. S. consumers and taxpayers — and to U. S. agriculture.

As it is, the U. S. consumer is penalized twice for his wheat: once in taxes to support the support program and again in the higher price which is the result of the support program. How much extra it will cost to have this new program for subsidizing exports is hard to estimate, but it will be considerable.

More importantly, this is a program for making the U. S. farm problem worse, not better. The root of the present trouble is that the support program encourages production without any regard for the demand in the market place. A program which puts support prices higher, which then dumps the surplus abroad to make way for more surpluses and which, at the same time encourages still more production — all this intensifies the very ills that are the present sickness.

Iranian Oil May Foul Up Oil Import Talk

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
WASHINGTON — UP — Iranian oil may soon complicate the angry dispute over foreign oil imports.

Under the Anglo-Iranian Oil Pact negotiated last October, the five big American companies which participated in the settlement, pledged themselves to divide part of the Iranian output with six or more independent U. S. firms.

This was at the insistence of the State Department. The department took the position the Iranian business should not be monopolized by the Big Five even though they were partially instrumental in amicably ending the three-year nationalization quarrel between Iran and Britain.

The Big Five agreed that six months after the compact was signed the American independents would be allotted five per cent of the 20 million tons of petroleum they contracted to buy from Iran.

The Anglo-Iranian Pact dates back to last Oct. 29. This means the allotment to the independents should begin next month. It also means the independents will have to find markets for their portions.

Congress is currently embroiled over whether to put curbs on foreign oil imports which have risen to more than 15 per cent of the nation's consumption. Fighting for quotas are independent oil and coal producers. Opposing them are the big five importers—Standard Oil of (New Jersey), Gulf, Texas, Socony-Vacuum, and California Standard.

In the Big Five corner are President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The Senate Finance Committee, which is considering Mr. Eisenhower's reciprocal trade extension bill, got a stern warning from Dulles this week.

Dulles said quota amendments could destroy U. S. foreign policy in all Latin America. He mentioned specifically Venezuela, chief source of oil imports. He said the problem is broader than any specific economic condition in the domestic oil and coal industries.

Venezuelan Policies Good

"They have adopted in Venezuela the kind of policies we think other Latin American countries should adopt," Dulles said. "They have created a climate attractive to the investment of foreign capital, and the result has been an immense development of their economy, with an accompanying increase in the living standards of their people."

He said that when other south-

One-seventh of the 28 intentions to drill filed last week with the Pampa office of the Texas Railroad Commission had proposed depths of 5,000 feet or more.

They were Gray County's Phillips No. 1 Troy "B" (PD 11,500 feet); and Hansford County's Sharpley No. 1 J. F. Betty Gas Unit No. 1 (PD 7,800 feet), Stanolind No. 1 Evelyn Guthrie (PD 7,500 feet) and Humble No. 5 H. J. Collier "B" (PD 5,000 feet).

The Phillips well in Gray County is 16 miles northeast of Pampa. In addition, there were 23 others and two gasers reported completed and there was one amended location.

These are the statistics:

ern republics talk of needing U. S. grants, Venezuela is cited as an example of what can be done by attracting foreign investments.

"Now if we should suddenly turn around and clamp serious restrictions on oil imports," Dulles continued, "the reaction in Venezuela would be serious but it also would destroy the great example we have been holding up to other Latin American countries."

Dulles conceded there could be a degree of imports that would seriously damage domestic oil and coal and said he was not blind to domestic needs. But the answer, he said, is to bring producers of foreign oil to the realization that they will face drastic action if they flood the U. S. market.

"That process of education is going on now," the secretary said. "And I think it is quite possible there may be voluntary action to mitigate the situation without serious external consequences."

Dulles suggested that, in lieu of quotas and voluntary curbs by the Big Five, Congress vests the President with discretionary authority to establish quotas where needed on any product involving national defense.

Quota Action Explained
Quota action by Congress would mean that the Iranian oil — after the U. S. independents get their share — would have to be sold in overseas markets unless the Big Five scaled down their U. S. imports. But if Congress rejects quotas, the petroleum could come into the domestic market to aggravate the already grave over-supply problem.

The American recipients are still to be named publicly. The State Department will not discuss the matter officially. Meanwhile, it repudiated charges the Big Five and three foreign companies — Royal Dutch Shell, Compagnie Francaise des Petroles and Anglo-Iranian — are forcing world markets to accept the American price for petroleum.

The charge was made by the secretary of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe. The department denied any part in the commission's report and said the commission's suggestion that there be inter-governmental control over oil prices "would be contrary to U. S. policy."

This Year Should Be One Of Most Important In Refining

The year 1955 will be one of the most important in history for the refining industry, The Oil and Gas Journal says in its annual refining issue.

The oil industry, the Journal says, can expect these things:

1. A letup in the program to add basic crude capacity.

2. Additional tremendous expenditures to add catalytic cracking and catalytic reforming units to improve product quality.

3. Introduction of new processes for big-volume production of 100-octane gasoline.

4. Stiff competition throughout the refining industry as more and more emphasis is placed on higher product quality all along the line.

5. Bigger gains in capacity among independent refiners than among the majors.

6. Further steps in the trend toward getting more light products and less residual out of a barrel of crude, made possible by even greater emphasis on catalytic processes: cracking, reforming, polymerization, alkylation and hydrogen treating.

The race for higher and higher octane ratings will continue. In addition, the Journal says, premium gasoline will get a bigger percentage of the market, at the expense of regular.

The higher premium octane ratings, together with the greater use of premium fuel, will mean a much better average grade of gasoline. This is almost certain to result in even higher compression ratios in 1956 model cars, the Journal predicts.

Two new processes, each designed to produce 100-octane gasoline, are scheduled to be announced late this month, the Journal points out.

Catalytic reforming is the big story today, according to the Journal story. Writing in the current issue, the Journal's refining editor, George Weber, says:

"Last year the industry embraced this new processing tool as a 'must' to meet new octane levels. Capacity more than doubled and a further increase of more than 60 per cent in new facilities is slated for first operation this year.

The end of 1955, Weber says, will see cat-reforming established in nearly all refineries of importance as the industry finishes its first round of construction. A second round of cat-reforming construction is about to begin, Weber declares.

The district office will be located at Snettett, with Robert Vance Kennedy, the district production foreman.

Ada has taken over 25 oil wells and 20 gas wells formerly operated by Kerr-McGee and some immediate expansion is planned.

Steve L. Kennedy, the division manager for Ada in Wichita Falls, will supervise operations for the North Texas Division including the Panhandle District.

TO STAFF HOSPITAL—Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Gutekunst, from Phoenix, Ariz., will staff the new Higgins City Hospital which is expected to open April 11.

Higgins Hospital To Open April 11

HIGGINS (Special)—The Higgins City Hospital is scheduled to open about April 11th, according to present indications. The interior is now being painted and everything is being made ready for the opening of the hospital to the use of the public.

The services of Dr. & Mrs. R. A. Gutekunst will be available after the hospital has had its formal opening.

Moving to Higgins for the practice of General Medicine, Dr. Gutekunst, for the past several years, has been associated with a group of doctors in Phoenix, Ariz. He is a native son of Drayton, N. D., and graduated from the University of Minnesota Medical school in 1945. He served his internship at the U. S. Naval Hospital at Great Lakes, Ill., and was assigned the position of Medical Officer aboard the U. S. S. Duxbury Bay in the Pacific. Toward the later years of World War II, he served at the U. S. Naval Hospitals at San Diego and Corona, Calif.

Upon receiving his discharge in 1948 he entered private practice in Phoenix. In 1950 he volunteered for active duty with the First Marine Division. He was Battalion Surgeon for the Third Infantry Battalion of the Seventh Marine Regiment.

Since his discharge in 1951, he served one year on the staff of Good Samaritan Hospital in Phoenix and one year on the staff at Arizona State Sanitarium in Tempe.

Mrs. Gutekunst is a native of Greenville, Ia. She is a graduate of East Waterloo, Iowa High School. She attended the Nurse's Training School of Good Samaritan hospital in Phoenix, Ariz., and is a graduate Registered Nurse of that School. She plans to work with her husband in his practice here at Higgins City Hospital.

So that the people of Higgins, Arnett, Okla., and the surrounding territory may meet Dr. & Mrs. Gutekunst, a reception will be given in their honor, sponsored by the Higgins Chamber of Commerce and various ladies clubs of Higgins. The date of this reception will be announced at a later date after Dr. and Mrs. Gutekunst arrive.

"I hope and believe that policy is now at an end because I believe that if we bluff and retreat once more our world will no longer be taken seriously and our free world friends will lose heart entirely," he said.

Bridges, ranking GOP member of the Senate Appropriations and Armed Services Committee, spoke out after high military sources reported the Red Chinese may spark a major Asian conflict by attacking the Matsu Islands about mid-April.

Official Warns
A high diplomatic official warned however, that an attack against the Chinese Nationalist-held islands off the Red mainland could come "almost any time."

"We've got to be prepared right along," this official said, "I don't think anyone can pick a month when an attack will come."

Bridges, who has access to information on which U. S. foreign and military policies are based, said "all reports that we have received indicate the situation is very serious."

"The puffed-up, swaggering Red Chinese are certainly doing a lot of sword-rattling, and reports indicate that their buildup will be sufficient within a couple of months for an assault on Quemoy and Matsu if they intend to go through with it."

Maybe Attack
Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he had not "heard anything directly" to indicate the imminence of a Red attack on the Matus.

But George said it "has been suggested, and given some credence," that after the Aro-Aro conference in Indonesia there "might be some step up in the actual attack by the Peiping government." The conference opens at Bandung April 18.

George pointed out that an attack on the Matus and Quemoy will confront President Eisenhower with the crucial decision whether it is related to an attack on Formosa, which the United States is committed by treaty to help defend.

"He and she alone has that responsibility," George said.

Oil Leader Asks Import Restrictions

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., March 26—UP—An oil industry spokesman Saturday urged the U. S. to restrict total petroleum imports to 10 per cent of this nation's oil consumption.

The plea was made by W. M. Vaughney of Jackson, Miss., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. He addressed the North Texas Oil and Gas Association annual meeting.

Vaughney said legislation to curb the inflow of foreign oil in U.S. markets was a "last resort action" by the domestic industry, but "absolutely necessary now in view of the failure of all other cures."

Vaughney said development of Middle East oil reserves which "stagger the imagination" pose the most serious aspect of the foreign oil problem.

"For that reason," he said "we feel the 10 per cent quota on imports would be realistic, in that it could be administered on a basis which would recognize solidarity in the western hemisphere."

The industry leader was a witness before the senate trade agreement committee last week. He urged adoption of an amendment to the bill to extend the foreign oil imports to 10 per cent of U.S. consumption.

He said that recent developments had convinced him that the United States congress is becoming increasingly alarmed by the dangers of "free trade" in strategic and critical defense materials, such as oil.

"It is the threat of tremendous world surpluses of oil now seeking market outlets, and looking hungrily at the United States," because of this threat, it is imperative that Congress enact a firm policy to meet this problem.

Squirrel Fuss Brings Poetry

WASHINGTON, March 26—UP—Rep. Harris Ellsworth (R-Ore.) moved to poetry Saturday by the controversy over White House squirrels.

He posted this verse on the House gallery bulletin board:

If I were a squirrel on the White House lawn
I'd pick up my tail and get gone
To some other place wherever it be
That a squirrel might have some privacy.

CAUTION!

YOU MAY BE THE VICTIM OF A FAST-TALKING ARTIST AND, SO, WE OFFER YOU THESE SUGGESTIONS

Be on your guard when approached by certain out-of-town roofing and siding salesmen. It's always wise to consult your local lumber dealer and compare notes and figures. You'll save if you take local, friendly advice. You'll have few, if any, regrets later. You'll avoid buying inferior materials and poor workmanship. Home owners throughout the country have learned the hard way and now they take caution . . . they consult the man in their home town with whom they live and see every day. Don't be pressured or kidded into buying a roof or a siding job at prices which in the end cost you more than your local dealer asks. Your local, reliable lumber dealer will give you estimates without cost. Be sure to consult him!

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD PAY

ROOFING
Roofing is sold by the bundle or by the square. It takes three bundles or one square to cover an area 10x10 ft. An average size roof, completely applied, should cost about

$6.39 Per Month

SIDING
Asbestos cement siding is the most popular type. This is also sold by the square. An average home can be sided, including all labor charges for as little as

$11.19 Per Month
This includes Tufflex Insulation

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD GET

No. 1 quality Rubberoid tile-on 230 pound shingles. The latest colors and patterns (no discontinued lines or factory seconds.) Applied by local workmen and sold by a local merchant who will be right here to back up a guarantee of complete satisfaction.

Johns-Manville First Grade Asbestos Siding. All siding looks good when it's first applied. But it takes a first quality material, skillfully applied, to hold up year after year. Because we're here in town to stay, we take pains to see that everything's okay. We want you to be a satisfied customer for years to come.

Please Note: Our own workmen apply INSULATED SIDING on an average house, including labor and materials, and insurance on labor, for as little as $14.38 per month.
