Vaccine Approval Blasted

Mrs. Hobby Under Fire From Solons

WASHINGTON -- UP -- Two Democratic members of the House demanded Thursday that the President order Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby to answer congressional charges that she approved the polio vaccination program "without adequate testing" of the vaccine.

They urged the House Banking committee to request President Eisenhower to direct the secretary of health, education and welfare to appear and "answer all pertinent questions" about the temporarily-stalled vaccination program.

The request was contained in a resolution drafted by Rep. Abraham J. Multer (D-N.Y.). He said he would call for a vote on it at a secret committee meeting Thursday because Mrs. Hobby has turned down three invitations to testify.

To Support Resolution Rep. Charles A. Vank (D-Ohio), whose daughter already has received her first Salk vaccine shot, said he would support Multer's resolution.

"Mrs. Hobby licensed the vaccine without adequate testing and should be brought before the committee to explain her action," Vank told a reporter.

Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, U.S. surgeon general, has agreed to appear before the committee for questioning at a public hearing Friday. He is head of the Public Health Service, an agency of Mrs. Hobby's department.

Democrats critical of the handling of the program centered their fire on Mrs. Hobby. They questioned her contention that compulsory controls are not needed to assure fair distribution of the vaccine as well as whether adequate safety controls were established in advance of the mass inoculation.

Morris Is Critical Sen. Wayne Morris (D-Ore.) said President Eisenhower should "get on the job" of protecting public health. "The people can expect nothing from Mrs. Hobby in view of her powder puff program to date," he said. He believed Mrs. Hobby would accept an invitation to testify on the vaccine distribution problem before the Senate Labor committee Monday.

President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that government scientists possibly released the Salk polio vaccine for distribution too soon because of heavy public pressure. He said they may have "shortcut a little bit" but added that he was only "speculating."

Final A-Test Delayed Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. -- UP -- For the second day in a row, the Atomic Energy Commission waited until a half hour before blast time before postponing the 14th and final shot of the spring test series because of unacceptable weather. The AEC announced at 3:30 a.m. (est) that unfavorable wind patterns over the test area forced the postponement. The shot was scheduled to go off at 4 a.m. (est).

Red Treaty Balk Halts Dulles' Trip

Anti-Trust Suit Hits Press Group

NEW YORK -- UP -- The Department of Justice Thursday filed a civil action in federal district court charging the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and five related groups with violation of the anti-trust laws. In addition to the ANPA, defendants named in the suit were the American Association of Advertising Agencies, Inc.; the Publishers' Association of New York City; the Associated Business Publications, Inc.; the Periodical Publishers' Association of America; and the Agricultural Publishers Association.

Specifically, the suit attacked the commission system used by the advertising agency group.

The complaint charged that the offenses began in or about the year 1917 and said they had continued up to the present. During that period, the complaint said, each of the defendants with its members combined and conspired in unreasonable restraint of interstate trade and commerce involving national advertising.

The suit said: "The combination and conspiracy among all the defendants has consisted of a continuing agreement and concert of action among them, the substantial terms of which have been and are:

1. "That the defendant media associations adopt substantially uniform standards for recognition of advertising agencies and members of said associations adhere to such standards;

2. "That only advertising agencies granted recognition by defendant media associations be extended credit and allowed agency commissions by members of said associations;

3. "That members of the defendant media associations allow agency commissions only to those advertising agencies which agree to retain and not rebate to or split with national advertisers any part of agency commissions;

4. "That advertising agencies which rebate any part of agency commissions to, or split them with, national advertisers be denied recognition, or if such recognition has been granted, that it be withdrawn, cancelled, or suspended;

5. "That recognition be denied to house agencies and advertising agencies controlled by, or affiliated with, media or printing or engraving establishments;

6. "That members of the defendant media associations charge gross rates to direct advertisers;

7. "That members of the defendant media associations adhere to their published advertising rates;

8. "That agency commissions be fixed and maintained at 15 per cent of the medium's gross rate for advertising.

Expanding on its charges, the government said the "unlawful combination and conspiracy has been effectuated and carried out by diverse means and methods."

British Foreign Secretary Also Won't Go To Austria

VIENNA -- UP -- Secretary of State John Foster Dulles postponed his plans to fly here Thursday from Paris because of a last-minute Soviet balk that threatened the signing of an Austrian state treaty.

The government-controlled Austrian network also said British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan also refused to come to Vienna unless the treaty draft was agreed upon.

British officials said Sir William Hayter, their ambassador in Moscow, was expected to fly to Vienna later Thursday in connection with the projected Big Four foreign ministers meeting here this weekend.

The officials said if the Big Four ministers meet on schedule they are expected to discuss arrangements for a four-power meeting between the heads of government.

Austria's freedom was hanging in the balance in the war of nerves fought across the conference table and a conference source said, "It's just a question of who has the best nerves" -- the West or the Russians.

Foreign Minister Leopold Figl told the Austrian parliament Thursday he was disappointed over the last-minute stalemate but hoped "a communique will be issued tonight announcing the successful conclusion of the conference."

"We are on the verge of successful conclusion of the treaty," he said. "I hope that today we will learn the definite time for the arrival of the Big Four foreign ministers in Vienna."

Dulles announced early Thursday in Paris he will not come here until the Big Four ambassadors reach agreement on the treaty -- that he will not sit down in an unofficial Big Four foreign ministers conference to thresh out the treaty details.

He had already accepted an invitation from Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov to a dinner Saturday night, but now does not plan to come to Vienna until Friday -- if he comes then. If the deadlock continues he might fly direct to the United States.

Pampa Gets 1.59 Inches

Pampa's good fortune as far as rainfall is concerned during the period from late Saturday through Thursday measured 1.59 inches, according to the weatherman at Radio Station KPDM.

The only other moisture to fall on Pampa during May was on May 2 when 8 1/2 inch fell. According to County Agent Ralph Thomas, the total of 2.40 inches probably moistened in depth about 1 1/2 feet of soil.

The forecast for this afternoon, this evening and Friday is for warming temperatures with increased winds. The high today is expected to reach 75 with a low tonight of about 56.

Tornado Damage Is Light

Violent Weather Moves To South

By UNITED PRESS

Showers and storms that reignited in the Texas skies for three days moved into southeast Texas Thursday after spawning tornadoes in at least four scattered areas of Texas Wednesday.

A tornado at Eastland unroofed a house belonging to H. L. Gibson, unroofed a garage on a hill nearby and blew down television antennas and trees in the northwest part of Eastland Lake.

Gibson said he and his wife were working in the garden when they saw the twister coming across Eastland Lake. They ran into the house and Gibson was hit by a flying timber when the storm blew off the roof. His injuries were not serious.

Robstown Hit Another tornado hit the eastern section of Robstown, taking the roof off a garage behind the King Copeland Lumber Co. Another hit near Childress, but apparently caused no damage.

The fourth struck near Burnet. Sheriff's department dispatcher Robert Daniel said roofs were blown off four houses in the Tow community and some trees were blown down.

Two Fort Worth city policemen reported seeing a funnel west of Fort Worth Wednesday night. It apparently didn't hit ground. At least four and possibly as many as six other funnels were sighted in the vicinity of Corpus Christi and Robstown, which are 23 miles apart.

New Hope for Farmers The million-dollar rains that peppered the state brought new hope to farmers. Many of the places getting the most rain were in West Texas, suffering worst from year-long drought.

Wind, rain and hail accompanied the tornado at Eastland, and (See TORNADO, Page 2)

Reds Hurl 'Criminal' Charge At US

LONDON -- UP -- Communist China accused the United States Thursday of sending Sabrejets over Communist territory as part of a "criminal plan" to intimidate the Chinese people and prevent the "liberation" of Formosa.

The charges by Peiping radio marked the second time the Communists accused the U.S. Air Force of "infringing" over the Chinese mainland in the battle in which U.S. Sabrejets shot down two MIGs and probably shot down two more.

The Communist version of the air battle differed sharply from the U.S. version. The Reds said they shot down one Sabre, damaged two and lost no planes. The Reds also said the battle took place over Communist territory.

The United States made a strong protest to Communist China Wednesday for the "unwarranted and illegal attack" of the Chinese planes against the Americans and said the attack occurred "over international waters."

Peiping radio repeated its charges the American planes "infringed" over Communist territory.

Isle Mayor Wants Clean, Liberal City

GALVESTON -- UP -- The new mayor of Galveston, elected on a promise of a "clean but liberal town," said Thursday he'll call a meeting soon of all gambling operators to find out how "the boys" think the city should be run.

In the meantime, George Roy Clough, a tall, dignified man of 64 who owns a radio station and was elected mayor Saturday over an incumbent who campaigned for a "100 per cent open town," had a few ideas of his own.

On gambling (illegal in Texas): "I don't know how the boys feel about that, but I'm not against it. If the ministers don't like it, they can file a complaint with the county attorney, if they have the courage."

On prostitution: "I am in favor of these boys continuing to operate in an orderly manner with a clean establishment. What do I mean by clean? Keep the chippies (juveniles) out of the place. Don't handle dope in any way, shape or form. No showing of lewd sex movies, such as are being shown in a number of establishments here. This contributes not only to juvenile but to adult delinquency. Prostitutes, he said, "should be put into a district where they can be recognized for what they are. The situation now is that they are in all the cheap hotels and they have call girls in the residential areas."

On the possibility of raids by Texas Rangers, who take a dim view of gambling, prostitution and liquor by the drink: "That's not my affair. If there are complaints, they should be taken to the county attorney."

But Clough said he'd not tolerate slot machines (mere possession of which is a felony offense in Texas).

"I don't approve of slot machines. Most of them are fixed so they don't pay off anything." Generally, however, he said, you "can have gambling and prostitution and still have a clean town." "What I want to emphasize is I am a tolerant man and I believe (See MAYOR, Page 2)

Rain Halts Cleanup Here

You can't please everyone. The three days of rain this week were welcome to everyone but the men who have been conducting Pampa's annual clean-up campaign. Ward 2 was supposed to have been covered Monday, Tuesday and yesterday, but work ceased after 24 loads of trash were taken out of the ward Monday. L. B. Haggard, city sanitation superintendent, reported today. Sanitation employees went to work today in Ward 1, as the schedule called for, Haggard said. The first two days of next week will be used in making up the two days lost this week. Ward 1 will be wound up this week. In seven days — three each in Wards 3 and 4 and one in Ward 5 — a total of 137 loads of trash has been collected in the clean-up drive.

Two persons were fined by County Judge Bruce Parker, after they pleaded guilty to swindling with worthless checks.

Claude O. Manry, 608 E. Kingsmill was fined $5 and costs after making restitution. County Attorney Don Cain said he passed a worthless check to Mayo Service Station, 900 W. Wilks, on April 2.

MAYOR

"By that I mean, why not get them together, all of them, and have a talk with them, tell them what is policy, tell them they have to live up to it, but if one gets out of line, it's going to be just too bad."

"I feel that such self government would make them control themselves. The only people taking me to task on prostitution are the ministry."

Clough said "I will call a meeting very shortly of all the people who run gambling establishments in town and we will decide just how things will be run."

He will take office in about 10 days. Votes in Saturday's election, when he defeated incumbent Mayor Herbert V. Cartwright, will be canvassed Thursday.

Lamesa Men Buy KPAT

Three Lamesa men have bought Radio Station KPAT and "many new program changes are to take place within the next few days."

The new owners are R. O. Parker, Bob Braubury and W. J. Beckham. Bob Harris, a former Lamesa resident, is the new station manager.

The Federal Communications Commission okayed the change of ownership yesterday afternoon to the three Lamesans, who will do business as the Pampa Broadcasting Co., Harris said today.

The trio purchased the station from J. C. Daniels, who has owned and operated the station since 1931. Parker and Beckham have been in the radio business — they share in the ownership of Radio Station KPET, Lamesa, Harris said.

It is expected that one or two new KPAT employees will be hired in the near future, the new station manager indicated.

Harris himself has worked for KPAT for the last eight years. He began on KPAT as an announcer, and for the last two years was advertising manager and assistant to the general manager. Harris and his wife have bought a home at 2109 Coffey. They have a son, Steven Jay, 8 months. Mrs. Harris is employed by Cabot Carbon Co. KPAT used to occupy the quarters now held by the Medical and Surgical Clinic, 1701 N. Hobart.

About a year ago, though, a new, smaller KPAT building was built to the southwest of the clinic building.

J. Frank Conner, 737 S. Barnes, pleaded guilty this morning to swindling with a worthless check, according to County Attorney Don Cain.

Bill Regulating Insurance Stock Sales Passes Senate

AUSTIN — UP — A bill which Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey described as a plug in the gap through which an estimated $100 million in worthless insurance stocks was sold by promoters in Texas during the last four years cleared the Senate Wednesday.

The measure, was in the form of a conference committee report adjusting differences in House and Senate versions of the legislation.

It would place insurance security under regulation of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners and was authored by Rep. Joe Pyle of Fort Worth.

Needs House Adoption The conference committee report still needs House adoption, however, before it can be sent to Gov. Allan Shivers for signature.

Ramsey, praising senators for their action in clearing the bill, said it "has plugged a gap through which promoters in the last four years alone have sold an estimated $100 million in worthless insurance stocks to an unsuspecting public."

Legislators worked free Wednesday for the first time in the history of Texas. Tuesday marked the end of the 120-day constitutional session of the 54th Legislature. The constitutional amendment which raised the salaries of members of the legislature to $25 daily, highest in history, also provided that they receive no pay after 120 days.

In the meantime, an administration backer in the Senate predicted that the upper house would enact the two-cent increase in the gasoline tax requested by Shivers. Revenue is Big Job

The big job still facing the legislature is to find some $60 million additional revenue. That much is needed to close the gap between anticipated revenue over the next two years and the $1.5 billion spending program proposed by this legislature and now in conference committee.

But the Senate spokesman, Sen. Jap Fuller of Fort Arthur, declined to predict what the House would do should the Senate propose to increase the gasoline tax by two cents.

House members only reluctantly agreed to a one-cent increase after bitter wrangling.

In other legislative action during morning session of both House and Senate Wednesday the upper chamber approved three bills tightening narcotics control laws.

One changes narcotics addition from a misdemeanor to a felony offense and sets a maximum penalty of three years in prison, but allows probation for hospitalization of the defendant. A second increased penalties for sale of narcotics to juveniles and a third puts hypodermic needles and other instruments used in drug addiction under tighter police control.

Ex-Con Enters Arsenal Easily

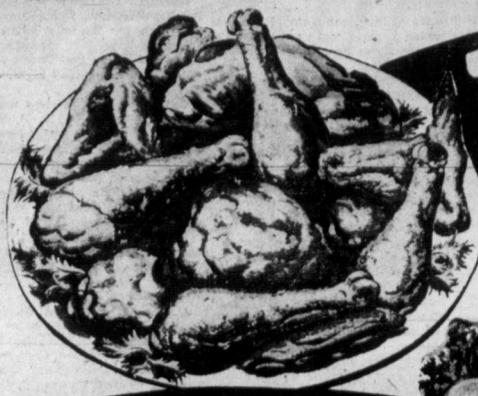

DENVER - UP - An ex-convict simply walked onto the grounds of the Rocky Mountain arsenal, where super-secret nerve gas is manufactured, and picked up six ingots of magnesium from a stockpile, U.S. Commissioner Joseph Neff learned Tuesday. Clarence Taylor, 35, told the commissioner that he and a companion "just drove along a dusty road and saw those big mounds" of magnesium. Taylor said he and his companion were not challenged when they parked, picked up six loose ingots of the strong, light metal and drove away. They sold the ingots for $20 - they are valued at $25.50 by the government - and Taylor went on a tour. Col. A. W. Meetez said the magnesium, bought for government stockpiles several years ago, was behind barbed wire but not guarded. He said the magnesium and a stock of old bombs close by "would cost more to guard than their present value." There are plenty of guards around the area where G-gas, of which one whiff can be fatal, is made at the arsenal, though Commissioner Neff said that even with his official papers he found it hard to gain entry at the arsenal.

Flash Bulbs For Cameras 25 Years Old In August

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON — UP — Flash bulbs for cameras will be 25 years old in August. Before that day fingers were scarred, havoc was rampant, rooms were clouded with smoke, and case-hardened colleagues in the lens set wished they could work out in the open.
My first contact with the forerunner of the flashbulb was in Iowa City, Iowa. I had no actual part in the taking of the picture, but I was close enough to the flash to miss a good part of the basketball game in the Iowa field house between Iowa and Wisconsin, the count of the smoke.
A bunch of powder at the time was dumped into a metal tray in front of the camera. There was a cap which set off a detonation. Smoke swelled up and filled the nostrils and half the crowd left the premises.
Burned Fingers
A friend of mine, Bob Boyd, now a respectable photographer for the Milwaukee Journal, likes to tell about the first time he had his fingers burned.
It was on Feb. 14, 1929, St. Valentine's Day. The day of the big shoot down of the George Moran-Dean O'Banion gang in Chicago.

My old friend, Bob, was going to school at Northwestern and was hanging around the city room in the Chicago Tribune building.
There came a flash over the lucker. There was a bunch of people killed at 2122 N. Clark Street. Bob Boyd was asked to go along for the ride. He went.
The killing of seven was the famous St. Valentine Day's massacre of one gang by another.
Bob was commissioned, for the price of a steak ($1 in those days) to handle the powder gun for a photographer.
The first shot filled the small garage on Chicago's near-north side. Bob reloaded. Forgetting his own safety, he cut loose again when the smoke cleared.
Bob Boyd and the professional photographers of the time have come a long way since then.
Invented by a German
Today, there is no muss or fuss or going off of powder in one's eyes.

Liberace's Mom To Keep Name

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Liberace's mother, Mrs. Frances Casadonte, Tuesday dismissed her petition to change her surname back to that of her piano-playing son's.
Mrs. Casadonte divorced the television star's father, Samuel Liberace, a retired French horn player from Madison, Wis., in 1941, and two years later married Alexander Casadonte who died 16 years ago.
The elder Liberace sent his attorney, Glen Henry, of Madison, here two months ago to protest the petition. At that time, Superior Judge Arnold Praeger indefinitely postponed a hearing on the petition when Mrs. Casadonte's attorneys reported she was ill.
lump was one Johannes Ostermiller of Germany. General Electric bought the American patent rights for this new gimmick. As of now, a cameraman doesn't have to bend his shoulder under a lot of heavy equipment, although that once was the badge and pride of the profession.
Modern equipment is a mite lighter, and, according to our United Press photographers, much easier on the feet.

Proposed Big Four Meeting To Make Anthony Eden Happy

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
Prime Minister Anthony Eden must be happy over the proposal for a top-level Big Four meeting. Right in the middle of a hot general election campaign, the British voter will credit the new premier with persuading President Eisenhower to agree to the conference.
Eden thus will get the same sort of boost Mr. Eisenhower got when, on Oct. 24, 1952, he announced that if elected President he would go to Korea to seek an early and honorable end to the war.
The Democrats quite naturally felt pretty bitter over that. There was nothing they could do to offset it. Mr. Eisenhower was not only the Republican presidential candidate but the country's No. 1 military man.
Laborites Bitter
The British laborites are feeling pretty bitter now over the Big Four situation. They say that as late as March 28 Eden still opposed the idea of a Big Four meeting of chiefs of state.
Now, they complain, Eden has stolen a plank right out of the Labor platform by urging the conference.
The Laborites say their candidate, former Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee, is the man who has called all along for such a meeting.
Well, the Laborites are right to some extent. Winston Churchill called for the meeting "at the summit" just two years ago. But Eden, his own foreign secretary, disagreed with him.
Eden fell, as did President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, that there was no use holding a conference unless Russia showed some sign of wanting to reach agreement on the issues which are causing world tension.
Both the President and Eden have now changed their minds about the desirability of a Big Four meeting.
Helps Eden
The fact that there is an election campaign in Britain could have helped to change Eden's mind. Presumably, of course, it is a pure coincidence that the United States has agreed at this particular time to a Big Four meeting. But it does help Eden in his campaign. And a conservative American government finds it easier to do business with a conservative British government than with a Labor-Socialist one. Especially a Labor-Socialist one which is always in danger of being waggled by its Aneurin Bevan left wing tail.
Politics aside, however, there was solid reason for the Eisenhower-Eden change of mind. The Kremlin is in a jam. The ratification of the treaties to rearm Western Germany marked a turning point in post-war European history. It is just possible that the Soviet government may be in the mood to talk sense for once.

New Products And Ideas Coming Fast

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK — UP — New products and novel ideas to make life happier are bustin' out all over this spring.
They've opened a hair reviving center for men here and somebody announced a new window flower that won't warp, crack or peel. A household spray just out (by the way, there is no connection between any of these developments, so far as this writer knows) is said to retard soil on the furnishings, and a foundation garment company is making girdles and brassieres that somehow have "a secret sanitizing process" built in.
Brides can trade in the old family silver to apply on the payments for a new set, and little boys just got a go-ahead to play with dolls from a psychologist hired by a toy company.
All in all, there are signs that this past winter was a busy one. Women soon will be able to buy a new eye makeup reported to impart "the gentle-eyed kitten-of-the-Nile look." And the convention of cosmetic chemists holds a panel discussion Friday on wrinkles—so anything could happen before another winter.
While wives adopt the kitten-of-the-Nile look, husbands may just possibly come home with a cat-who-swallowed-canary expression—if this hair revival spreads. They turn a man's hair back to its boyish shade, or as they tell the timid ones at the new Gourelli men's hair center, they "work the natural color back into graying hair with such skill and discretion that years disappear without telling how."
Women don't like to tell how, either.

Proposed Amendment Is Cleared

AUSTIN — UP — A proposed constitutional amendment granting bail in felony cases cleared the legislature today for submission to the voters.
Final action came in the House, which voted 127-9 to accept the amendment. The House also passed a resolution by Rep. Douglas Spradlin of Dallas.
The measure provided that a district judge may deny bail to a defendant in a felony case who has been previously convicted of two or more felonies.
Amendments placed in the measure by the Senate provided that the previous convictions must be prior in time, and commission of the prior felonies also must have occurred at a time prior to the third felony charge.
Another Senate amendment provided there must be "substantial evidence" of guilt of the offense before bail may be denied. If trial is not held within 60 days, the order denying bail will automatically be set aside.
Bergman said the Senate changes provide "safeguards" for carrying out the purpose of the proposal.

Solon Charges GOP Tossed SW Rural Co-Ops To Wolves

WASHINGTON—UP—Rep. Clarence Cannon charged that the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress threw rural electric power co-operatives in the Southwest to the wolves.

Cannon's blast was made May 5 at a hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee on the Southwest Power Administration. The record of the hearings was made public Wednesday.

Cannon referred to the fact that the co-operatives borrowed $70 million from the Rural Electrification Administration to construct and operate power plants and lines as an integrated part of the Southwest power system. The system covers a 375,000 square mile area from St. Louis to Kansas City to San Antonio and to New Orleans.

The southwestern Power Administration then signed contracts with the co-ops for generating and transmitting the power. But the 83rd Congress refused to appropriate money to carry out the contracts after the utility companies gave assurances that this was not necessary and that they would perform the integration necessary for the co-operatives to operate.

Cannon said that by this action "we threw these co-ops to the wolves... we threw them on the mercy of the private utilities."

Douglas G. Wright, administrator of the southwestern Power Administration, said that in two years the utilities had not carried out their promise.

Cannon said the reason they have not is that they demanded such a high rate that the co-ops simply could not pay for it.

Wright said the interior department has "done everything" to find some other alternative to integration but without success.

He said if congress reinstates the integration contracts, it will require four or five years to get the co-op systems loaded.

Rep. John Phillips (R-Calif.) defended congress' refusal to appropriate funds for the generating and transmission contracts. He

'Wide Open' City Advocate Named Mayor

GALVESTON—UP—George Roy Clough, owner of radio station KLUF and militant advocate of a "wide open" city, apparently was elected mayor of Galveston Tuesday.

Unofficial results of Tuesday's city elections, with 35 boxes incomplete, gave the 64-year-old Clough 6,406 votes against 5,649 for incumbent Mayor Herbert Y. Cartwright.

Clough, who campaigned vigorously for a "clean but liberal town," including a controlled reopening of Galveston's Post Office Street bawdy house district, said Tuesday night he would "back down on none of my promises."

Cartwright favored a 100 per cent "open town."

Two other candidates in the mayor's race were hardly in the running. Henry W. Flagg polled 1,348 votes and Al Tramp received 366 votes.

Fire and Police Commissioner Walter L. Johnson, who fought bitterly with Clough during the campaign even though they weren't in the same race, was re-elected over five opponents.

Johnson received 5,791 votes, 1,620 more than his nearest opponent, former Fire and Police Commissioner Ambrose A. Lukovich.

In two propositions included on the ballot, firemen and police won a pay raise of $40 a month by a three-to-one margin, a tax raise lost by a similar margin.

This Is My Dish Family Recipe Given For Chocolate Cake

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor
Mrs. Mack Hiatt Jr., 912 N. Gray, has a recipe for a sour cream chocolate cake that came from her husband's great aunt and is "quite a favorite recipe in his family." They call it Aunt Belle's sour cream chocolate cake.

Pampans for five years, the Hiatts came here from Lubbock, although both are native Oklahomans. Mr. Hiatt is assistant cashier for the Citizens Bank and Trust Company. The couple has three children — Jane, 6, Jo, 3 and Mack III, 6 weeks old.

Mrs. Hiatt says she likes to cook when she has the time. She added that her husband taught her to cook, "more or less."

"He likes to experiment," she said. "I go by recipe; he goes by inclination."

Mrs. Hiatt, who has a degree in music (voice), says that music is her hobby. Her activities outside the home include Treble Clef Club, for which she is serving as president; PEO; the First Baptist church and Parent - Teacher Association, for which she is a room mother.

CHOCOLATE CAKE
3 eggs
1 cup sour cream
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups flour
2 cups sugar

HORSERADISH ADDS TO PINEAPPLE SALAD
For buffets or for a salad to take to the pot-luck dinner, this Tasty Pineapple Salad is sure to become a favorite. The subtle flavor of horseradish and vinegar with the pineapple makes this a salad that accompanies meat and fish especially well.

TASTY PINEAPPLE SALAD
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup pineapple syrup
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1/2 tablespoon horseradish
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cups drained Dole "Crisp Cut" Crushed Pineapple (No. 2 can)

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add pineapple syrup, vinegar, salt, onion and horseradish. Chill until thick and syrupy. Fold in drained crushed pineapple and celery. Turn into a 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Makes 8 servings.

When stewing or preserving peaches, it's a simple matter to remove the core. Use the scoop you use for cutting melon balls. The neat little cavities are good for filling with honey and spice if you're planning to broil or bake the pear.

Variety Of Meat Available In May

Almost any meat you want will be plentiful during May. That's what the U. S. Department of Agriculture has found out in checking food stocks in this region to make up its monthly plentiful foods list to guide consumers.

Broilers and fryers have captured the featured spot because supplies have been increasing and prices declining. Since the peak prices of March and April, broilers have dropped 5 to 7 cents a pound at the farm.

A near record supply of cattle have been on feed, so a lot of fat beef will come to market in May, assuring consumers of abundant supplies of top quality steaks and roasts.

Pork supplies are declining seasonally, but they are still large enough to rate a spot on USDA's plentiful list.

Canned tuna and frozen halibut stocks have climbed 30 to 40 per cent above last year at this time, promising favorable prices to homemakers this spring.

Raising are so plentiful in every part of the country that USDA is featuring them along with broilers and fryers.

Onions and grapefruit are the only other fruits and potatoes the only vegetable on the plentiful list. Cold weather has delayed harvesting of potatoes, but plantings are up sharply from last year and average.

Other May plentiful listed by USDA included milk and other dairy products, lard, vegetable fats and oils.

New Method Given For Making Fudge

"Trooly divoon" was a teenager's comment after generously sampling Marshmallow Cream Fudge. "Truly divine" is only one of many superlatives that might be applied to making fudge this brand new way. You know that creamy, velvety texture that characterizes really wonderful, professional fudge? Well, this fudge has it. And it gets it by using a jar of marshmallow cream as a basic ingredient.

Another grand thing about this recipe is that it makes a lot of fudge, not just a small pan of it. Who wants a little bit of fudge? Fudge is fun to share, and this recipe with its generous proportions and yield makes it possible for everybody to have good-sized pieces. Don't forget when making fudge to scrape the sides of the pan as you're cooking the mixture, so you'll avoid those sugar-crystals that make a grainy texture.

COMBINE in a saucepan
1 jar (7 1/2 ozs. net wt.) marshmallow cream
1 small can (5-13 ozs.) evaporated milk

1/2 cup cocoa
1 tsp. soda
3/4 cup boiling water
Beat together slightly the eggs and sour cream. Add vanilla. Sift in dry ingredients. Add boiling water last. Bake in 375 degree oven for 45 minutes.

Mrs. Hiatt also has a nice recipe for chocolate cookies, called "Pecan Clusters."

PECAN CLUSTERS
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups unbroken pecans or walnuts

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla. Mix well. Stir in melted chocolate and then sifted dry ingredients. Drop by teaspoon on cookie sheet. Bake just 10 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Ham-Pineapple Skillet Saves Time, Flavor

The exotic flavor of this dinner-in-a-dish belies its simple preparation.

Ham and Pineapple Skillet is sure to rate a special niche in your file of favorite recipes. Ground ham and beef patties—half and half—combined with sweet potatoes, glamorized with golden pineapple is one of those easy-on-the-cook family dinners that's complete when you add a tossed green salad, rolls, a beverage and a simple dessert.

You'll notice, too, by combining the patties, sweet potatoes and pineapple, you're saving all the delicious flavor of the fruit. The pineapple slices also lend an excellent texture contrast.

Here's the tested recipe:

HAM-PINEAPPLE SKILLET
1/2 pound ground ham
1/2 pound ground beef
1/2 pound ground salt
1 egg
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs

Combine ham, beef, salt, egg and crumbs. Mix and form into patties. Brown in a little hot fat in heavy pan or skillet. Place pineapple slice on each ham patty. Pare and halve sweet potatoes, arrange between patties. Sprinkle with cinnamon and the brown sugar. Four pineapple syrup over all. Cover with a tight lid. Simmer over very low heat until potatoes are tender, about 25 to 30 minutes. Uncover and spoon pan liquid over fruit and potatoes last few minutes to give a beautiful glaze. Serves 4 handsomely.

Frozen Soups Inspire Cooks

A real "whee of a time" is in store for you when you begin cooking with the new frozen soups.

Brimming over with fresh flavor, these deluxe soups (at moderate prices) seem to capture everyone's enthusiasm — when served as soups. Whoever of the frozen delicacies you serve, the family is pretty sure to sit up and take notice. It may be the cream of shrimp, oyster stew, green pea with ham soup, or potato soup.

These frozen items are doubly useful too. They're heavenly as sauces and as ingredients in cooking. Try the luscious pink cream of shrimp soup as a sauce. Ladle it over a golden omelet, light as a feather; and, oh, what a marvelous feast. The same shrimp sauce goes grandly over buttered rice, crisp toast, or waffles. Try it too with vegetables — such as asparagus. Oyster stew also deserves a prize for its usefulness in cooking. Try it in a casserole of scalloped oysters. Or see how happily it teams with eggs — simply make scrambled eggs the usual way but use oyster stew for the liquid. Like this:

Egg and Oyster Scramble
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed oyster stew
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds
Heat soup and milk slowly; stir frequently. Pour sauce over omelet; sprinkle almonds on top. Makes about 2 cups sauce (enough for an 8-egg omelet).

For omelet:
Beat 3 eggs slightly; beat in 1/4 cup cream, 1 teaspoon salt and dash black pepper. Heat 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in skillet; add eggs. Cook slowly, lifting edges with spatula to allow uncooked portion to flow underneath. When omelet is done, fold one half over. Serve on warm platter with sauce.

Dress Up Ground Beef For Main Dish By Accenting With Interesting Sauces

No matter what the occasion, you always can count on ground beef. It's a favorite with all the family, it can be dressed up for company meals and it's perfect for potluck supper casseroles.

From hamburger - in - a - bun to meat loaf and spaghetti sauce, ground beef always helps solve the every-day problem of planning good meals.

You can serve hamburgers for dinner just as often as you wish if you dress them up with interesting seasoning touches such as are used in these tropical hamburgers. The hamburgers are partially cooked then topped with a soy sauce-catsup mixture and finished cooking. Serving the catsup - soy topped burgers on butter-browned pineapple slices gives the dish a tropical twist.

Tropical Hamburgers
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated onion
4 tablespoons water
1/2 cup catsup
1 teaspoon soy sauce
4 slices canned pineapple

Mix ground beef with salt and pepper, onion and water; form into four patties. Pan-broil patties until well browned on both sides and partially cooked. Mix catsup and soy sauce and spoon on top of burgers. Cover skillet for a few minutes and continue cooking until the topping is hot and the patties sufficiently cooked. Heat a few tablespoons of butter or margarine and in it lightly brown the well drained pineapple slices. Serve catsup-topped hamburgers on hot pineapple slices, 4 servings.

Ground beef is just about as good tasting in one form as another. In this recipe for ground beef pie, chili powder, onion and tomato sauce are cooked with ground beef, then the mixture is baked in a pie pan with a mashed potato topping. The complete dish takes just a short time to prepare and it's a real family filler-upper.

Ground Beef Quicky Pie
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup tomato sauce
2 tablespoons chili sauce
3-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes

Brown meat and onion in a little hot fat. Add rest of ingredients with exception of potatoes. Heat well. Pour meat into a 9-inch pie pan and top with mashed potatoes, spreading them carefully over meat. Broil for 5 minutes or until potatoes are tipped with brown, 4 servings.

There are so many uses for ground beef that it could be served to your family almost every day and they'd love it! It's fun to surprise them with a new variation each time. Hamburgers can be dressed up not only with interesting seasonings but also with fillings, toppings, sauces and surprise fillings.

Meat loaves lend themselves to surprise fillings, too. Bread crumb and rice stuffings are two suggestions.

A slightly out of the ordinary twist for preparing meat loaf is to bake peach halves on top of it during the last part of the cooking time. Bake the meat loaf mixture in an 8-inch square pan, making indentations for four peaches. Twenty minutes before the end of the baking time, place peaches on top of the loaf, spreading them generously with catsup.

"Plain And Fancy" Confection Square
This recipe has everything! It's a two-in-one confection that can be plain and fancy. Make one-half with almonds, coconut, marshmallows and crisp Corn Flakes for the Plain Jane version. Add ever-popular chocolate for the fancy part. Either way, this confection is chewy and flavorful, bound to please the most discriminating.

MARSHMALLOW SQUARES
Plain and Fancy
1/2 cup silvered almonds
1 cup shredded coconut
1-3 cup butter or margarine, melted
1-2 pound (about 32) marshmallows
4 cups Corn Flakes
1/2 cup (3 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Combine silvered almonds and shredded coconut in shallow pan and place in slow oven (325 degrees F.) for about 10 minutes — until coconut is lightly browned. Melt butter in 3-quart saucepan. Add marshmallows and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted and mixture is well blended. Add toasted almond-coconut mixture and Corn Flakes, stirring until Corn Flakes are well coated.

Press mixture lightly into buttered 13 x 9-inch pan. Melt chocolate pieces over hot but not boiling water and spread over half of Marshmallow Flake mixture. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate is hardened. Cut both plain and chocolate covered mixtures into 2-inch squares. Yield: 12 each plain and chocolate frosted squares.

Noodle rings and rice rings are fun, and can be colorful too. Try using those nice green spinach noodles, rice tinged with saffron, or quick-cooking rice cooked in tomato juice instead of water. All the tomato flavor stays put when Accent is added to the juice.

Picnic Time Brings Sandwich Recipes

Picnic season is now officially under way in some parts of the country. It's time to start thinking of ways to prepare some special sandwiches for meals on week-end jaunts to the lake, the shore, the mountains — or right in your own back yard.

Food experts at the Beech-Nut Nutrition Service, conducted by Beech-Nut Packing Company, the country's oldest producer of peanut butter in glass jars, have tested and prepared many recipes using its peanut butter for some wonderful sandwich ideas. Here are a few of their suggestions:

1. For variety of flavor, any of the following fruits, combined with peanut butter, will make delicious sandwiches:
a. Tart apple, chopped fine and moistened with a little mayonnaise.
b. Chopped figs, dates, prunes, candied or dried fruits mixed to a paste with a little orange, lemon or other fruit juice.

2. Combine 1-3 cup of piccalilli with 1-3 cup of peanut butter for another delicious spread.

3. Spread one slice of bread with peanut butter and lightly spread the second slice with butter and then with jellied whole cranberry sauce or cranberry jelly.

4. Spread one slice with peanut butter; the second with mayonnaise, topped with fresh tomato slices and lettuce leaf.

5. Use all kinds of bread for making peanut butter sandwiches — white, whole wheat, rye, raisin or Boston Brown bread. Occasionally, to add variety, use two or more kinds together. If you buy unsliced bread, keep it a day before using and you will find its firm, even texture will be easier to cut into thin, neat slices.

Quick Pecan Rolls Add To Breakfast

To tempt the sleepy appetite and to wake up those lazy taste buds in the morning, there's nothing better than piping hot sweet breakfast rolls.

They're no trouble, either, if you prepare them the night before and refrigerate them in pans, because all you have to do in the morning is to pop them into the oven and they'll bake while you're preparing the rest of the breakfast.

Pecan rolls are a national favorite, both for breakfast and as an afternoon snack.

QUICK PECAN ROLLS
(Makes about 9 rolls)
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
1/2 cup liquid Carnation Instant
3 tablespoons melted butter
2-3 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

Combine flour, baking powder, cinnamon and salt in mixing bowl. Cut shortening into flour mixture with 2 knives, pastry blender or coarse cornmeal. Add liquid Carnation Instant and stir until well-blended. Place on floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 10-15 times. Roll dough to 1-2" thickness and cut with 2" biscuit cutter into 9 biscuits. Melt butter in 9" square pan. Add brown sugar, water and pecans; mix thoroughly. Place biscuits in pan and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20-25 minutes. Remove from oven; invert pan immediately and serve Quick Pecan Rolls while still warm.

Shelling shrimp isn't as bad as it used to be, now that we have those handy new gadgets. The shell lifts off quite easily and the vein is removed all at once. A flavor premium goes to the person who adds Accent (pure monosodium glutamate) to the water in which shelled shrimp are cooked.

Stuffed eggs are wonderful for perking up all sorts of food; add food value to salads; flavor and color to casseroles; and assistance to hors d'oeuvres, trays. Whether the stuffing is prepared from fish, ground meat, or vegetables, Accent is necessary for flavor blending.

Cook & Freeze—Then Travel!

SPRING IS IN THE AIR—and many of us here have been bitten by the wanderlust bug! When the budding beauty of all outdoors lures us away from home it's fun just to study road maps! BUT—after the first exciting thought of far away places—we are abruptly reminded of those in our family who will be staying home—and they must eat!

One answer for them has been expertly answered for many households by the freezer. So here is a cake to make, to freeze and later to be enjoyed to the last delicious crumb. It to be frozen for longer storage than the recipe indicates, then wrap cake carefully in aluminum foil after the initial freezing period. It takes but a moment to decorate with whipped cream and coconut at the time of serving.

COCONUT RIBBON CAKE
3 slices loaf cake, 7x3-1/2x3/4 inches
1 cup (1/2 pint) coffee ice cream, softened
1 cup (1/2 pint) chocolate ice cream, softened
3/4 cup shredded coconut, cut

Spread one slice of cake with chocolate ice cream. Top with second slice of cake. Spread this with coffee ice cream. Top with remaining slice of cake. Spread top and sides of loaf with thin layer of whipped cream, using only part of the cream. Place loaf in freezing compartment of refrigerator about 3 or 4 hours, or until ready to serve.

Just before serving, spread loaf with remaining whipped cream. Sprinkle with coconut. Slice and serve immediately. Makes 5 servings.

Sour Cream Cake With Fluffy Frosting Is Pleasure To Serve For Any Event

If cake is as light as down and is rich and delicately flavored, too, then it's a pleasure to serve for almost any occasion. Sour Cream Cake is just such a cake, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

Swirl it with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting for a weekday dinner or for a school lunch. Top it with soft mounds of pink-tinted seven-minute frosting for a birthday party. For a shower, spread the cake with a lemon butter frosting and sprinkle green-tinted coconut over it.

Sour Cream Cake
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup lard
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites

Line two 8-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together. Cream the lard and 1 cup sugar until light and fluffy. Add well beaten egg yolks. Add soft cream and flour mixture alternately. Add the vanilla. Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry and then beat in the remaining 1-2 cup sugar until it barely disappears. Fold egg whites into cake batter. Pour batter into pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Top with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting.

Fluffy Chocolate Frosting
1-4 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 squares melted chocolate
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon milk
2 egg whites

Cream butter and half the confectioners' sugar; add vanilla, melted chocolate, salt and milk. Mix well. In another bowl beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; then beat in remaining cup confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, and continue beating until the mixture stands in peaks. Carefully fold the chocolate mixture into the egg whites. Spread on cake.

Fewer Polio Cases Found This Year

AUSTIN —UP—A fewer number of persons have come down with polio so far this year than during a similar period last year, a Texas State Health Department spokesman said Wednesday.

Dr. L. P. Walter, acting state commissioner of health, said the total number of cases this year is below a five-year median. Thus far, 196 cases have been reported, he said, including five paralytic and seven non-paralytic cases last week.

Dr. Walter pointed out that only one case of paralytic polio has been reported in Texas from among some 479,000 children who received the free Salk anti-polio vaccine. One other paralytic case was reported in a child vaccinated with commercial vaccine.

The health department is complying with a recommendation that all vaccinations be postponed until a detailed reappraisal be made of each lot of vaccine prepared or being produced.

An inventory of all free vaccine on hand on state and county levels was conducted as part of a nationwide count by the United States Public Health Service. No report on the figures compiled was immediately available.

Navy Fighters Collide In Air

CORPUS CHRISTI — Two Navy F-9F jet fighter planes, part of a training flight, collided in the air and plunged into the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday afternoon.

Both pilots were presumed lost. A Naval Air spokesman said the collision occurred at 2 p. m., some 60 miles off Griffith Point. Another pilot in the same flight said both ships hit the water and apparently neither pilot was able to bail out. Sea dye markers were dropped and rescue ships and planes combed the area for several hours. The crash helmet of one of the pilots was found but there was no trace of the men.

The search was resumed Wednesday by Coast Guard vessels and the air rescue squadron from the Naval Air Station.

Lucy's 'Homey' Neighbor Becomes Glamor Gal On TV

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — Up — Vivian Vance, the homey neighbor on "I Love Lucy," don't glamour clothes Thursday night to sing on a color TV musical that's her proof of final recover from a nervous breakdown.

Most of Vivian's fans idolize her as Lucille Ball's sidekick on the popular CBS-TV series — wisecracking, plain-faced Ethel Mertz.

But years ago Vivian played sexy, alluring females in Broadway musicals. Ten years ago she sang with Danny Kaye in "let's Face It."

Then eight years ago she suffered a nervous breakdown.

"I went to a psychiatrist," she said. "Then I started back to work. I was doing summer stock at La Jolla (Calif.) when the producer of 'I Love Lucy' asked me to take the part of Ethel."

"I Love Lucy" has been my therapy."

For four years Vivian has played no other role but Ethel while she gradually regained her happiness. Then CBS asked her and her TV husband, Bill Frawley, to switch to new roles of a baseball manager and his wife on a "Shower of Stars" spectacular.

Vivian has sung on "I Love Lucy" but in "My Ethel Mertz voice." Thursday night on "Shower of Stars" she'll sing "in my blues voice" for the first time since her Broadway days.

"Of course I'm still with my pal, Bill Frawley, but I'll look different," she said. "On 'Lucy' I wear Ethel Mertz-type hair, like an old type marcel. On this show my hair will be swept up into a bun."

"I also get to wear real purty clothes," she grinned.

"I'm not kitching about still doing the 'Lucy' show," she added. "But for four years I haven't done anything else. I've had other offers — because of doing Ethel — but working on 'Lucy' was enough for me."

When Miss Vance started the "Lucy" show she was unable to open doors because of her breakdown. Being forced to open doors during the program pulled her over that hurdle. She also had been afraid to sing or play the piano — until the script called for it.

"But much as you love your own show you get tired of playing the same part. Now I'm enjoying this 'Shower of Stars' so much I plan other things. I'd like to do a play and some movies," she said.

There are as many patients in American hospitals as the combined populations of Boston and Cincinnati.

Texas High Court Upholds Texas Turnpike Bond Issue

AUSTIN — The state Supreme Court Wednesday upheld the constitutionality of the Texas Turnpike Authority and issuance of $58.5 million in bonds for a Dallas-Fort Worth toll road.

The ruling came in a test case brought by the authority challenging refusal of Attorney General John Ben Shepperd to approve the bonds.

"We find nothing in our state constitution that expressly or by necessary implication prohibits the legislature from enacting the statute here under consideration," the court said in an opinion written by Associate Justice Frank P. Culver Jr.

Shepperd refused approval on three grounds — that the 1953 act creating the authority granted such broad powers it resulted in an unconstitutional delegation of authority to the legislature; that the issuance of bonds is an unlawful pledge of the state's credit, and the act does not give the authority unlimited right to condemn property in cities or already devoted to public use.

On the first point, the high court said the act defined the authority as an agency of the state and its powers "shall be deemed and held to be an essential governmental function of the state," within constitutional authority.

The court rejected the second point on grounds that the act specifically provides the bonds shall not constitute a debt of the state or pledge the state's credit, but shall be payable solely from revenues of the turnpike.

"Language could not make clearer the intention of the legislature that the obligations should never in any manner become a debt due and owing by the state of Texas," the court said.

Man Admits Attack On Housewife

DALLAS — UP — Melvin Maddox, 32, a husky cripple, confessed under a lie detector test Wednesday that he beat a Hughes Springs, Tex., mother critically Monday with a skillet.

Maddox denied knowing anything about the Lover's Lane murder, near Marshall, Tex., of Mrs. Irene Pate Walker, 32, a Houston housewife. Her body was found May 2.

But Deputy sheriff John D. Porter of Dallas county and Dallas Detective Paul Bentley continued to question him about the Walker murder, while the lie detector recorded his reactions.

Besides confessing the beating of the Hughes Springs mother, Mrs. Fred Edwards, 34, he also admitted throwing six-year-old Geraldine Edwards in a creek. He denied raping Mrs. Edwards.

Maddox, according to officers, said he left Dallas late Sunday night. He slept in his automobile near Greenville and drove to East Texas on Monday. He bought a bottle of liquor on Highway 80.

The officers said Maddox told them he went into Mrs. Edwards' home for a drink of water and followed her into the kitchen to get it.

"We had some trouble and I hit her over the head with a skillet," he said. Actually, Mrs. Edwards was hit many blows with both a skillet and a flat iron.

At last report, Mrs. Edwards was semi-conscious in a Texarkana hospital. Physicians determined, however, that her skull was not fractured, as they first had feared.

Maddox said he took Geraldine with him and decided to get rid of her because he was scared.

"I threw her in a river," he said.

What he threw her into was a creek rather than a river, Geraldine was able to crawl out, though in a state of shock.

New L.C.F.E. (Low Cab Forward) Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Meet the successor to the C.O.E.

Powered by the most modern V8 in any truck... Chevrolet's new Taskmaster V8 engine!

Chevrolet's great new L.C.F. models bring you all the advantages of a C.O.E. — plus a long list of important new advantages you won't find anywhere else.

For example, the cab is a full seven inches lower than former C.O.E. models. And it has only two steps instead of the usual three for C.O.E.'s. Just think of the time and effort this will save the driver! Also, the low L.C.F. is handsomer by far than any C.O.E. ever built!

Inside, the L.C.F.'s new Flight-Ride cab has a level floor with plenty of "stretch-out" leg room and offers new driver comfort. The driver has a commanding view of the road — both far ahead and close up front — through the big, broad panoramic windshield.

Quicker, simpler maintenance is another big advantage offered by the new L.C.F. Everything's easier to reach in the roomy engine compartment.

In an L.C.F. you still get the easy maneuverability of a C.O.E. plus — new frames, new suspension, a whole truck-load of modern features!

Shortest Stroke V8 of All! The new Taskmaster V8 — the most modern V8 you money can buy — powers the new L.C.F.1 With a 12-volt electrical system for faster starting!

Guided Missiles To Be Next Test

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (NEA) — The U. S. has entered a new phase of nuclear weapon development, heralding the day when conventional explosives will be used only in small arms.

This results from startling strides made during "Operation Teapot," the series of atomic tests begun last February and climaxed by the dramatic public "open" shot.

New, smaller and more efficient "packages" have been perfected. They now know that they can control the "yield" of atomic explosives with great accuracy. And the means of making far more efficient use of the radioactive raw materials has been proved.

These successes have been so significant that plans for the next series of tests to be held in the Pacific are being speeded up. Army and Air Force guided missile experts have been observers here in preparation for the upcoming Pacific series. They will be part of the joint task force which is already being assembled for that operation.

For the first time out there guided missiles with atomic warheads will be fired. It's likely that either the Army's Corporal missile or Honest John rocket will be launched with nuclear charges in their noses.

This can be done only in the vast Atomic Energy Commission's Eniwetok Proving Ground. It's reported that the Nevada site henceforth will be used only for testing very small A-weapons.

The most dramatic proof that the AEC, Army and Air Force are ready to make live tests with this revolutionary weapons system is the extreme efficiency with which they carried out the series.

To veteran observers the assured, practiced handling of atomic weapons during the series was one of its most significant aspects. The numerous postponements were caused by more rigid requirements on minimum wind speeds to prevent fallout on nearby communities.

The Army's participation in the atomic exercise was more successful than ever before, bringing the total number of troops in service who have been exposed to live shots up to 35,000. In case of war this body of men who have actual experience with live A-weapons would prove invaluable.

Army commanders were pleased with the way this group of men went through the tests. "I don't think a single soldier was apprehensive about being exposed to a blast this time," says Lt. Gen. Willard G. Wynnan, director of exercise for the Army.

"This, I'm sure, reflects the fact that all GIs in the Army have a fairly good knowledge of the effects of atomic weapons and are not frightened by it," he insists.

Each time there was a call for volunteers to be in trenches between 2,000 and 2,600 yards from ground zero, there were always more than enough men who stepped forward.

Tests of clothing, equipment, supplies, vehicles and weapons also contributed significantly toward making the Army ready for a possible atomic war. Many of the problems of the use of radio and electronics equipment in an area where an atomic bomb has been detonated have now been solved.

Probably the most dramatic phase of the series was the Air Force participation. The weather postponements were especially hard on the Air Force's effort. Some of the planes which had to be in the blast area flew from all parts of the U.S. in extended missions. A postponement meant that a long flight, for instance, had to be quickly rescheduled with a brand new crew.

In one shot, for example, 140 planes would be positioned in the air around the shot. And each plane or drone had to be at an exact spot in space not more than 10 seconds early or late, 200 feet up or down, or 2,500 feet laterally. Not once, with a total of more than 800 planes flying in the area during the series, did one of them fail to meet this specification.

It's even more impressive when you realize that some of the planes had to be in the process of performing maneuvers such as diving, climbing or rolling at the instant of blast.

High Profits In Defense Jobs Probed

WASHINGTON — UP — The House Appropriations committee disclosed Wednesday it is investigating what a key member charged are "excessively high profits" on multi-billion-dollar defense contracts.

Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) chairman of an Appropriations subcommittee handling defense funds, told the House the inquiry was ordered because the taxpayer has been "losing his shirt" on non-competitive military buying in which the seller is guaranteed a "very profitable" return.

He charged that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, although a "genius" at business and management, has done nothing to bring defense procurement costs down to reasonable levels.

"He of all people is best equipped to do this job, but he has not done it," Mahon told the House. Mahon made his charges in opening debate on a $31,488,206,000 bill carrying funds to run the Army, Navy and Air Force in the 12 months starting July 1. He said there is no prospect that defense costs will come down soon, but that indications are they will rise even further.

Assets to Be Returned

TOKYO — UP — The United States will take steps to return to Japan up to $10 million worth of assets taken from Japanese nationals during the war, a joint communiqué said Tuesday.

Rain Here Too Late

AUSTIN — UP — Rain has come too late to save a large part of the northern high plains dryland wheat acreage, but has revived hopes for summer feed and pastures, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said Wednesday.

The weekly crop and weather bulletin, covering conditions through last Monday, did not include rains, varying in amount from teasing traces to downpours, which peppered the Texas countryside Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Open weather last week permitted farmers to keep up with field work, but allowed drought conditions to spread over the eastern third of Texas, the USDA warned.

Recent plantings were reported in urgent need of moisture. However, rains over the southern high plains and most of the low rolling plains counties assured getting cotton and sorghum crops in those areas off to a good start.

South Texas feed crops, with much acreage at critical stages of development, needed rain.

Irrigated cotton in the Lower Valley was making good growth and setting a heavy crop. However, dryland cotton in South Texas was suffering from drought.

Higher Divorce Rate

TOKYO — UP — Japanese courts have already handled 20 divorce cases involving American servicemen in Japan and their Japanese wives this year compared with 40 in all of 1954 and only 10 in 1952, Asahi Evening News reported Wednesday.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it — but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for home- stead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on wills and related matters has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, merely print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Salk Sees Even Better Protection

PITTSBURGH — UP — Dr. Jonas E. Salk said Wednesday the present three-shot series of his anti-polio vaccine will provide even better protection during the 1956 polio season than during this summer's polio period.

But because of the present time limitations, Salk said it is obvious "ideal conditions for operation of the vaccine" cannot possibly be obtained any sooner than the epidemic season of 1956.

Salk emphasized his recommendation that the first two inoculations be spaced not less than two-to-four weeks apart followed by a third shot in not less than seven months still "could be expected to produce the desired effect if properly constituted vaccine is used."

The vaccine discoverer, in a statement issued from his University of Pittsburgh virus laboratory, said he desired "to make clear that the work on vaccination against polio was not designed primarily for the control of this disease in 1955 but rather to determine the proper condition for the use of the polio vaccine."

Shivers Lauds Law Officers

In a communication received Tuesday by County Judge Bruce Parker, Gov. Allan Shivers states that law enforcement is one of the most important operational functions in our Civil Defense and Disaster Relief effort.

Shivers has appointed Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., of the Department of Public Safety, as the State Coordinator of Police Service in the Civil Defense and Disaster Relief organization.

Garrison will organize the state police into district organizations with Texas Highway Patrol Captains serving as district coordinators.

Meetings will be called shortly for organizational purposes, at which local law enforcement officials will represent the county, according to the Judge Parker.

Shivers feels the timely necessity for using our police resources when emergency conditions prevail.

More Trucks

DETROIT - UP - If you think there are a lot of trucks on the road now, just wait until 1975. P. J. Monaghan, general manager of the GMC truck and coach division, told newsmen that the number of trucks 20 years from now will total 30,000,000 with annual sales running three times as high as at present.

"I don't care so much about your baby-sitting experience—how are you at wrestling and the 100-yard dash?"

Press Group Talks About Government

COPENHAGEN, Denmark - UP - The International Press Institute Thursday discusses the relations between governments and the press.

In the morning session a forum was scheduled on "Pressures Exerted by Government on the Press and the Measures That the Press Can Take to Defend Itself."

The subject for the afternoon was "The Press and Governments: Information" with the subtitle: "How Far Is the Work of the Public Relations Officer Harmful or Beneficial to the Interests of the Press and the Public?"

Marquis Childs, United Features Syndicate columnist, and Blair Bolles, European correspondent of the Toledo (Ohio) Blade, were among the speakers scheduled for the afternoon session.

The fourth general session of the PIP opened Wednesday with a record 173 members from 21 countries attending.

Walter Cronkite of the Columbia Broadcasting System told Wednesday afternoon's session "Television is a supplement, not a substitute, for the press. TV does not mean competition to the press, but co-operation."

The telecaster reported on the technique and financial background of TV news coverage.

"Although TV news only covers the moment and is only meant for the eye and the ear, the same judgment is applied regarding selection of news stories as applied by a leading newspaper," Cronkite said.

Oil Strike

CONCORD, N. H. - UP - The Merrimack Farmers' Exchange struck oil. Nearly 1,300 gallons had leaked into an old press pit in the building from an auxiliary tank at a nearby hotel. None of the fuel oil could be salvaged; too much water in it.

The Department of Agriculture says about 700 different insect pests attack crops in the United States.

MEMO TO GRADUATES: That long-awaited day is not too far away, and this might be the time to consider how to look your best on graduation day. Here are some tips on length, silhouettes, hair-style and make-up by Alicia Hart, NEA beauty editor.

OF ALL THE FESTIVITIES surrounding high school and college graduation, the actual commencement, believe it or not, is the most important part.

This is the moment at which one is graduated and the other part of the day is spent in partying, shows and class nights only serve to celebrate this happy day.

Those who graduate in dresses or uniforms are probably already fussing with their problems of clothing for the occasion. Those who wear caps and gowns have their problems, too.

The cap and gown is the ancient academic garb. It probably dates back to the twelfth century, when scholars wore the wool gown and hood to keep warm. Many gowns are still wool but the hood has become a long drooping affair that symbolizes a particular academic degree and a particular school, rather than warming the neck.

The academic gown and mortarboard can be very becoming to women. They should, however, be worn correctly if a graduate is to look her best on this important day.

Many schools specify what is to be worn under the gown. If it's going to be a hot day and a long ceremony, and you will have some places to change, an opaque cotton slip may be more comfortable than a dress. But be sure you won't be out of line with the orders from the school.

The length of your gown depends upon the length decided upon at your school. But make certain you're hemmed up to the correct distance from the ground. Plain pumps are the best shoes to wear. A medium heel will be most comfortable. If your gowns are white or some color other than black, wear shoes accordingly.

Hair that does not trail down the back of the collar, looks the best. If yours is very long, you may want to put it in a bun or chignon for the occasion. If yours is getting shaggy, get a trim so you won't have trails on your white collar.

Make-up may be more than the usual, if your graduation is at night under stage lights. Give yourself self enough make-up to show up well in photographs, but don't put on the evening look. Be sure to tuck tissues around your collar before you powder. Flickies of powder on the collar and shoulders look sloppy.

The mortarboard is worn absolutely straight and looks best this way. If you note that a friend looks dashing with it as a sailor hat angle, you'll find she looks out of place in the procession.

Flowers are never worn on an academic gown. This is a uniform symbolizing the long tradition of scholars and the tradition of your school. A corsage is not fitting.

Do not carry handbag in the procession. Leave it with your folks and collect it afterwards if you need it. Keep your hands free to receive that long-awaited diploma and to shake the hands of your proud teachers and family.

Symbolic 'Wheel' Used For Installation Ceremony For Varietas Club Officers

Varietas Study Club installed new officers during its luncheon meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Bill Heske, 1120 N. Somerville. Installing officer was Mrs. H. H. Butler, outgoing president. For the ceremony, Mrs. Butler used a replica of a wheel, with the red rim representing the president; the various colored spokes, the officers; and the hub, the club members.

"Times marches on and our club wheel for the past club year rolls across the line which separates one club year from the other," Mrs. Butler stated. "Life proceeds by patterns. Some must lead while others follow. We now have new officers with new ideas and ready to accept new responsibilities. A wheel cannot turn without each part in its proper place. Neither can a club function without its officers and members."

To Mrs. Sherman White, reporter, Mrs. Butler gave an orange spoke for memory. "It is your duty to be at all meetings and report all club activities," she charged. To Mrs. J. G. Doggett, parliamentarian, she gave a gold spoke "for efficiency and confidence," charging her to "see that all meetings are conducted in order and to conduct all parliamentary drills, having a book of rules at each meeting."

Mrs. J. E. Kirchman library chairman, was given a grey spoke "for thoughtfulness," with Mrs. Butler pointing out her duties as president to "keep all literature and to be responsible for same." Mrs. C. L. McKinney, treasurer, who received a white spoke for "purity and faith," was charged to "receive, collect and pay out all club monies, subject to orders of the president and secretary."

"You shall keep a correct record of all meetings, call the roll and read aloud all letters received if important enough," Mrs. Butler instructed Mrs. S. C. Evans, secretary, giving her a yellow spoke for "cheerfulness."

To Mrs. J. R. Spearman, vice president, who received a blue spoke "for loyalty," Mrs. Butler stated: "You shall assume the duties of the president when she is absent, be loyal to her and receive valuable training for leadership."

Highlight of the ceremony was the installation of Mrs. Otis Nace as president. She was given the red rim of the wheel.

"The color is red for warmth, dignity and understanding and a courage of leadership," Mrs. Butler advised. "You have accepted the responsibility of serving your club as their leader. You shall preside at all meetings, start all meetings promptly, appoint committees and know parliamentary rules."

To the club members, Mrs. Butler gave the hub of wheel, stating that club members have responsibilities as well as the officers.

"Renew your faith in your club and pledge your loyalty to these women who are willing to serve as your leaders," she advised. "We each now have a part of the wheel. When put together in their proper places this fall, the Varietas Study Club will roll through another club year 'with success'."

For the luncheon, the individual tables were covered with white cloths and centered with spring floral arrangements. During the business session, Mrs. J. R. Spearman reported on a convention in Snyder.

Hostesses for the event were Mmes. C. L. McKinney, Otis Nace and Ralph Thomas and H. T. Hampton. sandwiches than a few big ones.

Committee chairmen elected include Miss Betty Jean Edgington, education and vocation; Mrs. Helen Knox, international relations; Mrs. Buena Cox, health and safety; Mrs. W. A. York, program; Mrs. Gladys Jaynes, publications; Mrs. Bob Clements, radio and television; Miss Jo Ann Neel, national security; Mrs. Charles P. Ford, finance; Mrs. Ola Gregory, legislation; Mrs. J. L. Mulanax, membership; Mrs. Lucille Turner, public affairs; Mrs. Rufe B. Thompson, news service, and Mrs. Grant Anderson, social.

The devotional, "Rules of the Game" was given by Miss Clubb. "The laws were made for everyone, and everyone must abide by them," Miss Clubb advised. "We must exercise self-discipline and obey the laws absolutely. As we follow and keep the laws, we grow in Christian grace."

Canadian Bridge Club Holds Social Meeting

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Delta-Deck Bridge Club was entertained recently in the home of Mrs. George Earl Tubbs.

Red hot salad, date cookies, coffee and tea were served. Guests were Mmes. Bob Ward, Orla Curmunt, and Frank McMordie Jr. Members present were Mmes. Dorsey Tubbs, Raymond Newell, Glen Fite, Quentin Isaacs and Elton Miller.

High score was won by Mrs. Curmunt and second high by Mrs. Ward.

The simplest and quickest way we know to prepare tea sandwiches goes like this: Prepare ordinary sandwiches. Stack no more than 3 high. With a very sharp knife remove crusts, then cut the sandwiches in 4 irregular shapes. Each stroke of the knife makes 3 or more small sandwiches. Takes precious little more time to prepare a platter full of cute tiny sandwiches than a few big ones.

"Texas has had 36 governors in its time," she explained. "One was a woman — Ma Ferguson as she was affectionately called. Our present Governor Shivers is the only governor who has served three terms."

Mrs. Shotwell told the women that the land is varied in Texas. To the west, there is rocky soil; in central Texas there are black lands; and there is clay and sandy soil to the south. She added that

Joan Says New Hubby Is 'Boss'

HOLLYWOOD — UP— Actress Joan Crawford says as far as she's concerned her new husband, Al Steele, 54, is "the boss."

Miss Crawford, 47, and the president of Pepsi Cola were interviewed by reporters for the first time Wednesday since they eloped to Las Vegas Tuesday.

The veteran actress trembled like a school girl and Steele appeared equally nervous at a press conference on the set of Miss Crawford's latest picture, "Queen Bee."

"He's certainly the boss," she said. "Nothing's going to happen to this marriage."

"She's happy with her career," said Steele. "And I don't want her to give it up."

HOLLYWOOD TODAY! MOVIES - TV - RADIO by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)— Hollywood on TV: The marriage of television and the film industry isn't going to happen. It's happened!

It was a hush-hush elopement, folks, and the honeymoon's already started.

Home screen movies on the planning boards at Warner Bros., latest major studio to leap into TV, are new signs indicating Hollywood will go all out in dishing up free celluloid entertainment.

Gone is the Movietown fear of offending theater owners, no longer is television a whispered word. The way things are going, the major studios, I believe, eventually will turn out more film for television than for theaters.

The initial Warner TV plans include three film series based on three film hits, "Casablanca," "King's Row" and "Cheyenne"; a weekly hour-long show for ABC and another weekly series about aviation, "Men of the Sky."

With six other major studios planning an equal amount of weekly celluloid for TV, the handwriting no longer is on the wall. Movies for television — from Hollywood's major studios — and here to stay.

Jimmy Durante, the "voice" that replaced Mario Lanza at his Vegas "opening," says Eddie Fisher may be the darling of the teen-agers, "but I'm the devil of the grade group."

KAY MILLAND'S "Meet Mr. McNulty" is fading from TV but he'll be back next year as host of a dramatic series.

David O. Selznick has a TV price tag on 17 of his best films — $3,000,000 for restricted runs over a three-year period.

Latest count of TV stations — 431 reaching an estimated 92 per cent of the country. The other 8 per cent can't be reached by TV beams... Barbara Bates has been written out of future "It's a Great Life" telefilms.

HEAR IT NOW: Anthony Quinn is developing a TV series titled "The Gallery," — famous paintings coming to life... Preston Foster of "Waterfront" will attend the annual tugboat race on the Detroit River June 4.

He's also recording an album of sea ballads... The William Blacks have dated the stork: She's TV singer Jean Martin.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT is so enthused about her next "Climax" show (May 19), "The Deliverance of Sister Cecilia," she may buy the screen rights and produce the star in it as a full-length movie.

Day after Dick Jones' "Buffalo Bill, Jr." series debuted on home screens, he received this letter from a confused young fan:

"Dear Dick: I see your name is now Dick Jones instead of Dick West, as it was in 'The Range Rider.' I thought it might make you feel better to know that I had the same thing happen to me — only worse. My mother has changed daddy's three times."

The new Orson Bean show being kept under wraps by CBS will find the crew — cut comedy star taking a road that hasn't been traveled by funny men since the advent of TV.

Explains Orson: "I hope to be a comedian with a point of view. There's been no one with that approach since Fred Allen and Will Rogers. Nobody with a slant on issues of the day. There are a lot of things in the world today that need to be made fun of and as a patriotic American I want to be first to start it. I'll have to fight agency and network men all the way down the line, but I'm going to try it."

New Firm Takes Over Newspapers

AUGUSTA, Ga. — UP— A new corporation, Augusta Newspapers, Inc., headed by William S. Morris, Thursday formally took over stock of Southeastern Newspapers, Inc., and Herald Publishing Co., publishers of the Augusta Chronicle and the Augusta Herald.

Morris, owner of the Chronicle, announced last Feb. 18 that he and his wife had entered into a contract to buy the Herald. The transaction also involved purchase of Chronicle stock owned by the Citadel Life Insurance Co., a subsidiary of Auto Finance Co., of Charlotte, N.C.

Morris announced that a portion of the stock in the new corporation will be held by the public.

Morris announced creation of an editorial board for the two papers whose function will be "the thorough analysis of news events and the preparation of editorials of wider interest to readers."

Under the new ownership, the Herald will re-enter the Sunday field which it abandoned 5 1/2 years ago. On May 22 and on subsequent Sundays the two papers will appear under a combined "Augusta Chronicle and Augusta Herald" masthead. The combined edition will carry the editorial pages of both papers and the combined efforts of the two staffs, Morris said.

The new owner announced "a complete change" in the format of the afternoon Daily Herald which he said will make it "easier to read, more thorough in its approach to news coverage and more attractive in appearance."

SMU Wins Pair To Tie Ags For Lead

By UNITED PRESS
SMU and Texas A&M Thursday moved closer to a showdown in their two-way race for the South-west Conference championship. The titlist earns a berth in the NCAA tourney in June.

The Mustangs won both ends of a doubleheader from TCU Wednesday, 4 to 1 and 7 to 3, to pull even with the Aggies with an 11-2 record for the conference season. A&M and SMU meet in a decisive contest in Dallas Monday in one of the two games each team has left to play.

SMU first must play Rice in Houston Saturday in a schedule favoring the Mustangs. After the long trip to Dallas Monday Texas A&M treks to Austin for its final game with Texas Tuesday.

If SMU wins its next two games, the Mustangs will take the title outright. If A&M wins its pair, the same thing will hold true. But if the two teams split, A&M will probably be the co-champion to represent the SWC in the NCAA tourney in Omaha, Nebraska, June 10-14 since the Aggies beat the Mustangs in the two previously played games.

TCU fell victim to the Ponies twice Wednesday as the two top Methodist twirlers combined their efforts to stop the Frogs.

Tommy Bowers tossed a two-hitter for the victory in the first game, a playover of the game originally scheduled for Tuesday which rain halted at the end of eight innings with the score tied at 4 - all. Ernie Proud, another righthander, won the second, seven-inning contest, with a six-hitter. Dan Brown hit a home run for SMU in the first game to lead off the seventh inning and Charley White cleared the center field fence with a two-run homer for TCU in the second game.

'Stan The Man' Breaking Slump

ST. LOUIS —UP—There's bad news for National League pitchers Thursday — Stan Musial has shaken his "annual spring slump."

Stan the man, who was mired around the 240 level a week ago, collected three hits in five trips to the plate Wednesday night to increase his batting average to .292. Musial drove in two runs, hit a double and a homer and scored the winning run as the Cardinals downed the Phillies, 6-5.

Hartwig, Hoad Team

MELBOURNE, Australia —UP— Rex Hartwig and Lew Hoad are "almost certain" to be paired as Australia's doubles team in Davis Cup play according to an announcement by Sir Norman Brookes, president of the Tennis Association of Australia. Brookes said Hoad and Hartwig have looked impressive in recent practice sessions and appear to have the inside track.

5 Co-Favorites At Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—UP—Five of the top 10 money winners of the year headed the 115-player field that teed off in the opening round of the $15,000 Hot Springs Open Thursday at this resort city because host to its first major golf tournament since 1928.

There wasn't an outstanding favorite in the field, but because of their consistency in picking up prize money this year the $2,400 champion's check was expected to go to one of these five.

They included Cary Middlecoff of Klamath-Lake, N.Y., who has hauled in $11,753.93 to rank third in earnings; Ted Kroll of Utica, N.Y., whose $9,608.34 placed him fourth; Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, who ranked fifth at $8,871.25; Billy Maxwell, the Odessa, Tex., fledgling pro who has pocketed $8,549.33 for sixth and Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., whose $7,665 put him in eighth.

The tournament lost the competitive shots of the two top-ranking money winners — Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., and Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif. — and the No. 9 man, Bob Rosburg of San Francisco.

Souchak by-passed Hot Springs to compete in the Greenbrier Open at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., while Littler and Rosburg stopped off in Oklahoma City for doctors' attention to a feasted callous on Littler's hand and Rosburg's ailing back.

But National Open champion Ed Furgol of St. Louis, Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., and Tommy Bolt of Houston who ranked 11th, 12th and 13th with more than $6,000

Archie McBride Wins Split Decision From Satterfield

CHICAGO —UP— Heavyweight Archie McBride figured Thursday he proved a point in his majority decision over Bob Satterfield in the Chicago Stadium's Wednesday boxing show.

"He's supposed to be a hard puncher," McBride said, "and I took his best punch and it never bothered me. So now I'm ready for two or three more fights with better ranking heavyweights."

It was questionable, though, whether McBride actually took Satterfield's best punch. The Chicago heavyweight, who has knocked out 30 foes in 57 pro fights, injured his left hand in the second round and thereafter, he said, "I used it for show."

The hand was badly swollen over the knuckles on the forefinger and middle finger and swollen to twice its size after the fight. X-rays revealed it was a bad sprain, and not broken as had been feared by Satterfield's manager, Ike Bernstein. Bernstein said the hand will put Satterfield on the shelf for about three or four weeks.

"He told me before the third round his hand hurt," Bernstein said, "and I told him to punch for the body."

Thereafter, Satterfield used his left with abandon, but he said "The power wasn't there."

McBride said Satterfield never in winnings, also were in the field here.

hurt him, although he was hit hard in the fifth round, when he appeared rubber-legged momentarily before he spun into Satterfield and worked into a clinch.

"Now I want to fight (Nino) Valdez," McBride said, "and prove that he didn't beat me in our last fight."

WT-NM Hires Ex-NL Umpire

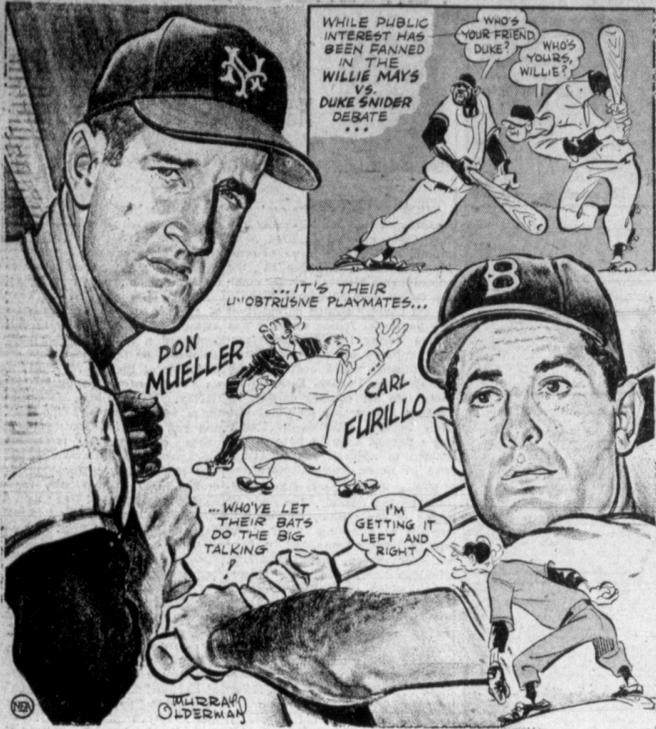

ABILENE, Tex.—UP—Len Roberts, former National League umpire, has been signed as an umpire in the West Texas-New Mexico League. It was announced here Wednesday.

Roberts will replace Bill Mallesky, who was sold to the Texas League last week. Roberts moved to the Texas League from the West Texas-New Mexico League in 1952. He umpired in the National League in 1953 and worked in the American Association last season.

He worked for an oil company at Odessa this past winter.

Gannett Honored

ROCHESTER, N.Y.—UP— Distinguished leaders from the United States and Great Britain joined with the city of Rochester Wednesday night in paying tribute to publisher Frank E. Gannett, a farm boy who rose to great power in the newspaper world, and to his wife, the former Carolina Werner.

Houston's Greason Blanks Dallas, 6-0

By UNITED PRESS
Houston took advantage of a nifty six-hit shutout by Bill Greason to beat the Dallas Eagles 6 to 0 Wednesday night and move to within one and a half games of Texas League-leading San Antonio. The Missions had their scheduled doubleheader with Fort Worth rained out when the scoreless first game was five innings deep.

Tulsa edged Shreveport 3 to 1 in 11 innings and Beaumont beat Oklahoma City 7 to 4 in the other two games played.

Thursday night San Antonio will try to regain its lead as the Missions play two home games with Fort Worth. Dallas is at Houston, Oklahoma City at Beaumont and Tulsa at Shreveport in single games.

Greason got his fourth win of the season in leading Houston to the victory over third-place Dallas. The 'Stuffs blasted a trio of Eagle hurlers for a dozen hits, putting four of them together for four runs in the fourth inning.

San Antonio's Mel Held had a no-hitter working and Fort Worth's Mike Lemish was pitching one-hit half when the Mission-Cat first game of a twin bill was called at the end of five innings because of rain.

Tulsa scored two runs in the top of the 11th frame on hits by Mike Lutz, Pablo Bernard and Al Widmar and a sacrifice by Bob Prentice to squeeze by Shreveport. Fred Martin, who came on in relief for the Sports in the ninth inning, was the loser.

Mike Clark was the big gun for Beaumont as he pitched the Exports to their second straight win over cellar-dwelling Oklahoma City. Clark struck out nine Indian batters and gave up nine hits over the route. Beaumont hacked him up with 14 hits off three Oklahoma City pitchers, one a solo homer by catcher Bop O'Neal.

Scores by innings:
Dallas 000 000 000-0 6 0
Houston 001 010 000-6 12 0
Widmar, Kotrany 4, Milankovich 8 and Murray, Jackson 7, Greason and Smith, LF — Wilbur.

11 Innings:

Fort Worth at San Antonio, game called at end of the fifth, rain.

Police Enter 'Dope' Fight Investigation

PHILADELPHIA —UP— Police dug deeper Thursday for facts surrounding Harold Johnson's "black-out" bout with Cuban Julio Mederos which so alarmed Gov. George M. Leader he suspended state boxing for 90 days.

Authorities, headed by Police Inspector John F. Driscoll, planned to quiz members of Johnson's entourage on all circumstances leading to the bout last Friday night. Johnson was questioned by the officials Wednesday in the opening phase of their inquiry into why the odds dropped from 9 to 2 on Johnson to even money shortly before his match with a boxer he had defeated easily in a previous meeting.

Driscoll summoned Johnson to city hall shortly after the 26-year-old, light-heavyweight contender was discharged from his police-guarded hospital bed. Present at the interrogation besides Driscoll were Inspector of Detectives John J. Kelly, Assistant District Attorney Alfred P. Filippone and State Athletic Commission officials.

Driscoll opened the quiz after announcing that no trace of drugs was found in a piece of rind from a "bitter tasting" orange which Johnson said he ate after it was given him by an autograph-seeking stranger, leading to his collapse at the end of the second round.

It is utterly impossible to make a better Bourbon whiskey than Old Charter...

Suppose we don't try to put in words what happens with your first taste of this great whiskey. Instead, do this...Imagine you have started with the basically finest whiskey ever made in old Kentucky... Then you have waited for 7 full, round years to ripen it slowly, perfectly... Then take from your memory the finest-tasting whiskey you have ever known and imagine one still silkier, still mellow, still smoother. Do all these things... and then taste Old Charter!

Tick, tock...tick, tock...the whiskey that didn't watch the clock...seven long years!

PICTURE NEWS
AROUND THE WORLD

TWO-WAY VISION—Crowds were a constant blur to the speeding motorcyclist, Emilio Mendogni, as he gunned his machine over the first lap of the Third Motorcycle Tour of Italy, top photo. The crowd itself made an interesting study in motionless forms as spectators bent over the walls to glimpse the racers, below. The grueling speed test lasted nine days and the participants found spectators lined up in the towns through which they passed to cheer them on to their goal.

IT'S A PROBLEM—Mrs. Emilie Schuyler is worried about what she's going to do with some of the 250 domestic rabbits given to the Dallas, Tex., Humane Society by a local breeder. The society is now trying to find homes for the long-eared pets. The longer the animals stay at the society, the greater the number of them to find homes for.

HELPING HANDS—Getting in on the ground work for a new church at St. Leonards, England, is four-year-old Nicholas Tanton, who lays a corner brick under the watchful eyes of the rector, Canon C. C. Griffiths. The original church was destroyed by rocket bombs in World War II, and it has taken more than 10 years to collect funds to build a new one. The small cornerstone layer is the grandson of the church warden.

WHERE MISERY ABIDES—Numerous empty water cans are lined up near a hydrant in Saigon, Indochina, where residents are suffering from a water shortage. It has become necessary to ration the needed water during limited hours.

HAUNTED MOUNTAIN

THINGS HAVE CHANGED—Near the site of Adolf Hitler's former mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden, Germany, is a privately owned hotel, left. It was once the headquarters in that area for the Gestapo, and an extensive underground fortification system connected Hitler's house with the building. The home was destroyed in order to prevent hard-core Nazis from making a shrine of the place. Some visitors are shown inspecting machine gun openings in the underground air raid shelter, center. Picture postcards and souvenirs are on sale at a cottage nearby, right. The cards show the interior and exterior of Hitler's Alpine retreat and still sell well. The scenery and panoramic view from this spot are memorable things to behold.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE—Pretty Jean Hope, of New York City, wasn't expecting that wave to come up and douse her so thoroughly at Hamilton, Bermuda. But now that she's all wet, she won't have to worry too much about really getting into it; all she has to do is jump in—and the worst is over.

EYE-CATCHER—That huge fish-shaped balloon is flying high over the aquarium in West Berlin. It is expected that the odd advertisement will draw more customers to see the fish at the zoological garden which is located in the British Sector. It will certainly draw attention, if not customers.

'WHAT IN THE WORLD?'—It looks as if some workmen are preparing a huge ball of wool with tremendous knitting needles sticking into it. Actually, the structure depicts "atoms at work" and is part of an annual fair in Milan, Italy. Participants from more than 30 countries have erected displays of the most recent production ideas and developments.

RUSHING THE SEASON—Before summer is here, it seems autumn fashions are popping up. In Rome, this three-piece wool ensemble has a green jacket with three rivet buttons that form a triangle. The simple slacks and shirt are of a contrasting, white wool.

A LARGE ORDER—James Crone of Glasgow looks capable of supplying the air pressure needed to play a shiny tuba as bandsman H. Locup looks on in London. Crone was there to see the soccer competition between England and Scotland.

PAMPAN IN WAYLAND DRAMA
 Robert L. Allford Jr. of Pampa is shown above in a scene from the one-act play, "Death Cell," in which he has the dramatic role of "Jim," with Helen T. Holton of Wellington, who plays his mother in the murder mystery. Both are seniors in Wayland College where the play will be given tonight and tomorrow night as part of the drama festival.

Next Month Is Critical For Planting

DALLAS — UP — The next 30 days are the critical planting dates for a number of row crops, the Texas & Pacific Railway said Wednesday in its monthly crop report.

Current rains are of beneficial help, said the report, but a good ground soaker "would truly help West Texas."

C. B. Senter, T&P railroad agricultural agent who prepares the report, said "the weather and agriculture seems to be completely out of step along our Texas lines. Very seldom have we entered a May with a more dismal crop prospect than we have at present."

The late freeze in March did much damage to truck crops, fruits, berries, nuts and small grains as well as pastures and ranges, the report said.

The largest grain sorghum crop on record was foreseen if sufficient rain falls. The report said a sizable increase in grain sorghum acreage is expected all over the Southwest because of the wheat and cotton allotment, and because of the abandonment of a considerable wheat acreage.

Rotary Club Sees Magic Suitcase

From a suitcase, Miss Stewart brought forth a few of the many items used in everyday life which have petroleum products as their base.

The group inducted two new members into the club. They were Dick Batson, who works at the Cabot Company, and Vern Fletcher, with Skelly Oil Company.

Two of Them

FRANKFORT, Ky. — UP — Adlai E. Stevenson is the author of the name "Lure Lodge" selected in a contest for a new hotel at one of Kentucky's state parks. Stevenson, a businessman at Madisonville, Ky., is a distant cousin of the former governor of Illinois of the same name who was the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952.

Poor Farm Closed

JAMESTOWN, N. D. — UP — The Stutsman County poor farm has gone out of business. Officials said there were not enough residents to make it profitable.

Top Sorghum Crop Is Seen

ENID, Okla. — UP — The manager of the world's largest wheat terminal predicted Wednesday that Oklahoma and Texas will produce one of its biggest sorghum crops in history this year as a result of the poor wheat crop and recent rains.

Ed Puckett, manager of the Union Equity Exchange, said rains of up to eight inches will help wheat already made to fill out but came too late to help most of the crop.

"Some of the folks are estimating that with the right kind of weather we may produce as much as 200 million bushels of grain sorghums in the Texas-Oklahoma wheat belt in 1955," Puckett said.

He said farmers would raise the late spring and summer sorghums both for grain and forage for cattle.

Childish Growups

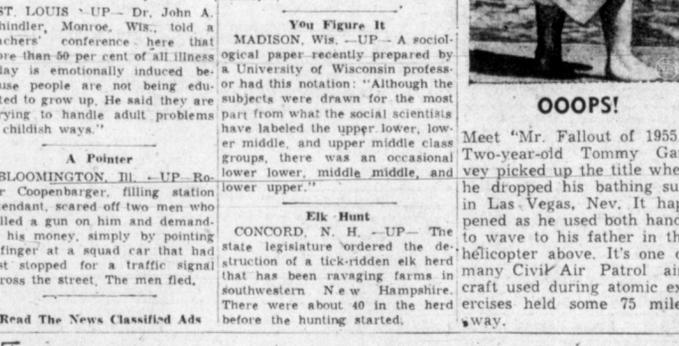

ST. LOUIS — UP — Dr. John A. Schindler, Monroe, Wis., told a teachers' conference here that more than 50 per cent of all illness today is emotionally induced because people are not being educated to grow up. He said they are "trying to handle adult problems in childish ways."

You Figure It

MADISON, Wis. — UP — A sociological paper recently prepared by a University of Wisconsin professor had this notation: "Although the subjects were drawn for the most part from what the social scientists have labeled the upper lower, lower middle, and upper middle class groups, there was an occasional lower lower, middle middle, and lower upper."

Elk Hunt

CONCORD, N. H. — UP — The state legislature ordered the destruction of a tick-ridden elk herd that has been ravaging farms in southwestern New Hampshire. There were about 40 in the herd before the hunting started.

OOOPS!
 Meet "Mr. Fallout of 1955." Two-year-old Tommy Garvey picked up the title when he dropped his bathing suit in Las Vegas, Nev. It happened as he used both hands to wave to his father in the helicopter above. It's one of many Civil Air Patrol aircraft used during atomic exercises held some 75 miles away.

Formal notice to bidders will be run in The Pampa Daily News Friday and May 20.

Judge Parker said bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and inform themselves regarding all local conditions. Instructions to bidders, proposal form, specifications and plans are on file at the office of the County Judge.

"Blue Law" Out

PIERRE, S. D. — UP — The 1855 South Dakota legislature finally got around to repealing a 1907 "blue law" which prohibited Sunday movies, baseball games, rope dancing, acrobatics and other types of entertainment. The law hadn't been enforced for 30 years.
