Knights Stays Executions

BULLETIN
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — UP — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, Friday ordered a delay in the executions of Barbara Graham, John Santo and Emmett Perkins to permit presentation of 11th hour petitions to the California Supreme Court.

By GLENN STACKHOUSE
SAN QUENTIN, Calif. — UP — Blonde Barbara Graham and her two partners in murder, Jack Santo and Emmett Perkins, paced their death cells Friday awaiting word from a federal judge on whether or not they will live to see another sundown.

The three are scheduled to enter the state's lethal gas chamber for the 1953 torture-murder of an elderly crippled widow.

In San Francisco, Chief Judge William Denman of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals is slated to rule at 9:15 a.m. (10:15 a.m. est.) whether he will issue a stay of execution for one, all three, or none.

Mrs. Graham is scheduled to be executed in the gas chamber, a few feet from her death cell, at 10 o'clock (11 a.m. est.) — just 45 minutes later.

The two men will go to their death together at 1 p.m. (2 p.m. est.). The delay is to permit cyanide fumes to be blown out of the death chamber.

Last of 'Mountain Mob'
The three were the last of California's vicious "mountain murder mob" accused of at least seven killings in a three-year spree that ranged from one end of the state to the other.

Santo and Perkins were sentenced to die for the murder of 62-year-old Mrs. Mable Monahan. But they also were convicted of one of the most shocking crimes in the nation's police annals — the 1952 massacre murder of a Chester, Calif., grocer Guard Young and three tiny children.

The two received life sentences for a sixth killing, the robbery-slaying in 1951 of Edmund Hansen, a successful gold miner in California's historic mother lode country.

The two were never brought to trial for what authorities are convinced was their seventh murder — the apparent slaying of small-time mobster Baxter Short who informed police after acting as the gang's lookout on the Monahan job.

32-Year-Old Gun Moll
Mrs. Graham, Santo's 32-year-old gun moll on his Southern California operations, was brought here from Corona Women's prison Thursday and lodged in a death row cell a few feet from the door to the gas chamber.

Final Winners Get Prizes

Winners in the Pampa News Fifth Annual Cooking School Thursday were awarded prizes donated by Pampa merchants.

Grand prize winner of the General Electric Range was Mrs. L. O. Thornton, 420 Graham.

Other winners were Mrs. George Richter, 723 E. Campbell, who was awarded an Arvin Table model radio donated by White's Auto Store; Mrs. E. F. Hess, 706 E. Frederic, who won shoes and bag from Smith's Quality shoes; Mrs. Harold Baer, 312 N. Somerville, who received a Philco Electric clock donated by Pampa Food Plan; Mrs. Dick Kennedy, 1325 Terrace, who won an electric skillet given by the B. F. Goodrich Store; Mrs. Juanita Dodds, 628 E. ## Sabrejet Crash Kills One VICTORIA, Tex. — UP — An F-8 Sabrejet suddenly spun into a nose-dive and crashed as it approached Foster Air Force Base for a landing Thursday, killing the 25-year-old pilot.

Air Force officials identified the pilot as 2nd Lt. Julius L. Collins of the 721st Fighter-bomber Squadron at Foster AFB. His hometown was listed as West Helena, Ark.

Collins was returning from a gunnery mission off Matagorda Island and was making a 180-degree turn as he approached for a landing.

The Foster public information office said the cause of the crash had not been determined.

Vaccine Stall Is Possible

Until Polio Season Ends

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
WASHINGTON — UP — A growing number of states appeared Friday to be on the edge of postponing polio vaccination programs until after the current polio season ends next fall.

So far, nine states and the District of Columbia either have made firm decisions to halt their inoculation programs or have decided tentatively to do so if enough vaccine is not released to complete shots in the very near future.

A spokesman for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis conceded that "it is beginning to look as though more states will be postponing their programs."

The District of Columbia said Thursday it would cancel all first and second shots if enough vaccine is not available before school is out June 16.

Other states which have indicated reluctance to continue their programs during the peak polio season of the summer or after school is out and children scatter are New Jersey, New York, Idaho, California, New Mexico, Maryland, Oregon, Washington and Texas.

In other developments on the vaccine situation:

1. New Jersey's entire supply of vaccine was recalled for further testing under the government's new safety standards.

2. Chairman Lister Hill (D-Ala.) announced that Democrats on the Senate Labor committee will support a new bill to provide free polio shots to all America's children.

Hill rapped as "gravely defective" President Eisenhower's $28 million program under which the government would pay for vaccine only for those children who cannot afford it.

Another tunnel was seen five miles southwest of Great Bend, Kan.

The area had been alerted for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms, but none resulted in damage as they did Wednesday night when several towns and farm fields were flooded.

Forecasters said there may be more widely scattered thunderstorms in North and West Texas Friday, set off by a low pressure trough over New Mexico with fingers extending into Texas.

Utah Man Has Found Uranium

By H. D. QUIGG
NEW YORK — UP — Jack Turner, a mud-fence-plain, leather-tough citizen from Utah who grew up among cattle, sheep, cactus and acres of throwaway dirt containing a worthless mineral called uranium, is in town with a look of misery on his face.

He is struggling under a monstrous burden: $21 million. And it's growing bigger all the time. Being a multi-millionaire can weigh down a fellow like... well, like a yoke of solid gold.

Turner came out of the Army broke at the end of World War II. Before the war he had made a so-so living mining vanadium around his native Moab, Utah. When he was drafted, he sold his four mines. (One of them, in Wild Steer Canyon, which he sold for $500, has since made $5 million.)

He was working at a $4,000-a-year job in California when, in 1948, he read that big money was beginning to be paid for the uranium laden ore that he used to throw away in big scrap piles. He hurried back to Moab, traded his antiquated Chevy for a truck, and

More US Airmen To Be Released

Big One Gets Away

WACO — UP — Leslie England, 12, let the big one get away Thursday when he was practicing rod and reel casting in his front yard. Hook, line and sinker were found four blocks away but the car he had snagged escaped.

Twister By Shamrock

By UNITED PRESS
Two tornado funnels touched the ground and a third was sighted in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas Thursday night, but no damage was reported.

One funnel hit ground 10 miles southeast of Shamrock in the Panhandle and another, possibly the same, touched earth six miles north of Sayre just across the line in Oklahoma.

Another funnel was seen five miles southwest of Great Bend, Kan.

The areas had been alerted for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms, but none resulted in damage as they did Wednesday night when several towns and farm fields were flooded.

Forecasters said there may be more widely scattered thunderstorms in North and West Texas Friday, set off by a low pressure trough over New Mexico with fingers extending into Texas.

Freed Fliers Live It Up In Honolulu

By GEORGE REMINGTON
HONOLULU, T.H. — UP — America's 13 happiest people — four freed American fliers and their families — assured themselves Friday their storybook reunion is no dream.

They shopped, they went nightclubbing, they made plans to go swimming and sightseeing, but best of all they enjoyed the freedom — talking and laughing with one another.

Only occasionally were the fliers reminded of their imprisonment in Red China and Communist "brainwashing" attempts.

Interrupted now and then by Air Force officials who interrupted the reunion now and then so that the fliers could "fulfill their requirements," the requirements apparently meant answering questions by intelligence officers about their months of captivity behind the Bamboo Curtain.

The fliers disclosed after their return Wednesday that they had pleaded guilty to violating Red Chinese air space, and hinted they may also have signed some papers for the Chinese prior to their trial.

But for now, Judith Heller, wife of Lt. Col. Edwin L. Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., said it for all of them with:

"It is really a dream come true. I am queen for all eternity."

Begins at Hickam Field
The reunion began Thursday when a gleaming plane landed at Hickam Field and the nine relatives, laughing and crying, came tumbling down the gangplank to embrace the four fliers.

The four fliers, expelled from Communist China only last Tuesday, besides Heller, are Capt. Harold Fisher, Suez City, Iowa; 1st Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and 1st Lt. Roland Parks, of Omaha.

Their relatives were Mrs. Heller; Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Fischer, Fischer's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cameron, Cameron's parents, and his brother, Robert; and Parks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Parks, and their other son, Richard.

The Air Force flew them here from the mainland at no expense for the laughing, weeping reunion.

"I just can't believe it," said Mrs. Heller.

Dedication Date Changed
The date for the dedication of the new hangar for Perry LeFors Field has been changed to Sunday, July 3, according to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The date was changed when it was discovered that Amarillo was planning a "Fly-In Breakfast" June 19, conflicting with the event here. The ceremony will be informal, with no definite program planned to date.

According To The India Times

MANILA — UP — Release of the 11 American airmen still imprisoned in Red China is expected within the next 24 hours, the managing director of the influential Times of India said Friday night.

In Washington, officials expressed surprise at Jain's forecast. They hoped the report was true but there was nothing to indicate that the United States had been alerted to receive the prisoners at Hong Kong.

The Indian editor, J. C. Jain, who arrived here by air from Hong Kong, said his information on the probable early release of the American fliers came "from a source that is usually reliable."

Four American jet pilots released earlier this week by Red China reached freedom at Hong Kong on last Tuesday.

Jain said "that 11 more fliers would be released, possibly within the next 24 hours."

Appears Surprised
The Indian editor appeared surprised that local newsmen had not received similar reports.

He declined to give any additional information but did say he "believed" the other 11 airmen were the ones tried and convicted by Red China of "espionage" and now serving long prison terms.

Jain said the release of the four fliers on Tuesday, after more than two years in Red Chinese jails was "a good gesture."

The 11 men whose release he said is likely in the very near future were sentenced last November to terms of from four to 10 years in Communist prisons.

Names Listed
The 11 airmen still held in China are: Maj. William J. Baumert, Lewisburg, Pa.; Airman 1C Steve R. Kiba, Akron, Ohio; Airman 2C John W. Thompson, III, Orange, Va.; Capt. Eugene J. Vadi, Clayton, N. Y.; Col. John K. Arnold Jr., Montgomery, Ala.; Lt. Wallace L. Brown, Montgomery, Ala.; Lt. John W. Buck, Armathwaite, Tenn.; Airman 2C Harry M. Benjamin Jr., Worthington, Minn.; Sgt. Howard W. Brown, St. Paul, Minn.; Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., and Airman 2C Daniel C. Schmidt, Boise, Idaho.

In Missoula, Mont., Llewellyn's young wife said Friday that her husband's last letter seemed "very optimistic of getting out soon" and promised "we'll have our Christmas in June."

Jain expressed his personal belief that such moves on the part of Red China will go a long way toward easing world tension.

Jain said he is making a world tour and that so far his first impressions are that "we are turning toward peace rather than war."

Ford Offers Layoff Fund

By REY W. BRUNE
DETROIT — UP — Ford Motor Company's offer to set up a multi-million dollar fund to tide workers over seasonal layoffs has drawn prospects Friday that the key automobile industry would avoid crippling strikes this year.

Ford's offer broke solid industry front against the principle of paying idle workers. It appeared to clear the way for negotiators to hammer out a settlement in the near future that would satisfactorily meet the CIO United Auto Workers' demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

The autoworkers have been seeking a plan under which they would receive "more adequate protection" against the layoffs which have long plagued the industry.

With only three days left in which to reach a settlement before Monday's strike deadline, however, it appeared likely the settlement might not be reached before that time.

But if a strike develops hopes were growing it would be a short one instead of a long crippling strike which many had feared would develop over the annual wage demand.

Question Of The Week

Will The South Make An Honest Effort To End Segregation In The Schools?

By T. D. ELLIS
Quizzing Cameraman

"Do you think the South will make an honest effort to end segregation in schools or resort to 'legal' delaying tactics in view of the recent Supreme Court ruling?"

The Supreme Court voted unanimously Tuesday to end segregation in Southern schools as rapidly as possible on a local basis. The Court declared invalid all federal, state and local laws that require or permit racial discrimination in schools.

It said all such laws "must yield" to the principle established in the historic decision May 17, 1954 ending segregation. The Court's decision will eventually affect 10 million White and 2.5 million Negro school children.

Pampans said: Travis Lively Jr., 1212 Hamilton, co-owner, Pampa Hardware: "I feel that in general the South will honestly try to end racial problems but there will be exceptions. I think the majority of the people in high positions will put forth honest effort to integrate in good faith."

Mrs. A. M. Barnes, 505 N. Russell, cashier, Cretney Drug: "I think the South will take legal action to put off the Supreme Court ruling as long as it can. It is only a matter of time, though, until the South will have to comply."

Bobby Conway, 616 Dean Drive, apprentice tooldresser: "There is still too much hard feeling toward the Negro population. I think the South will delay action as long as it can, even then there will be additional problems, activated by a minority, that will have to be worked out."

Mrs. Ester Arnold, manager T.V. Corner: "I think the South will fight the Supreme Court ruling as long as she can and it will be years before she complies. I don't think the South will ever fully accept the ruling."

Chester E. Martin, 521 Montagu, asst. Mgr. White's Auto Store.

MRS. FRANK HOWARD
"Will take a long time."

"Yes I think the South will, in due time, put forth an honest effort to comply with the Supreme Court's ruling but for the present I think she will delay the problem as long as she can."

Mrs. Frank Howard, 1527 Coffee, housewife: "I think it will take quite a while for any solution in the South. I think it will have to grow and integrate into the Southern habits. It will just take a long time here in the South."

Obed L. Slatery, 609 W. Foster, nursery operator: "I think the South will make an effort to provide adequate schools for the Colored population but I don't think the Colored or White people want to go to school together. I don't think the Supreme Court can uphold a hard fast rule to make them attend school together if they don't want to."

Miss Carol Foster, 711 N. Somersville, sales clerk, McCauley's Jewelers: "I think the South will make an honest effort to end the segregation problem. I think the younger generation is less prejudiced than they were in days past. I don't think there will be much trouble over the situation."

Neaul Haynes, 404 Oklahoma, minister: "I think the majority of the people in the South will make a sincere effort to end the problem the best way that is possible. A few states may resort to legal delaying action."

Mrs. Thola Thompson, 513 Doucette, housewife: "I feel sure the majority of the Southern states will delay action as long as possible. I think it will be a long time before the South as a whole will fully accept the Supreme Court ruling on the segregation problem."

The Emancipation Proclamation was signed by President Lincoln Jan. 1, 1863, almost a century ago. Will the racial problem be settled by 1963? That problem is in the hands of the citizens of Pampa as much as any other city in the nation.

NEAUL HAYNES
"Few states delay action."

BIBLE SCHOOL PARADE

The annual Baptist Vacation Bible School began today with a parade of fire trucks loaded with children, horse-back riders, police cars and more than 100 private autos. The parade started at the Calvary Baptist Church on South Barnes and terminated at Central Park, where a picnic began at noon. The churches involved were the First Baptist, Calvary Baptist, Central Baptist, Trinity Baptist and Barrett Chapel. (News Photo)

TEC Has Students On Job Roster

There is an outstanding group of high school students and some graduates applying for summer employment at present, according to Bill Ragsdale, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office in Pampa.

Placements by the office in May were 138-21 in agriculture, 117 in various positions.

New applications made last month numbered 195, as compared to 184 in April. The increase was due to students anticipating summer work.

Jobs filled in May by the employment commission placed 5 in clerical and sales jobs, 38 in service jobs (cafes, hotels, etc.), 6 in skilled jobs (trades), 14 in semi-skilled labor (truck drivers, helpers), and 54 in unskilled labor.

Applicants taking typing, shorthand, general clerical and general aptitude tests last month numbered 77, as compared with 23 in April.

Reds Hit Billy Graham

PARIS — UP — The Communists turned their "Yank go home" propaganda on Billy Graham Friday even before the American evangelist had a chance to preach in this predominately Roman Catholic country.

The fellow-traveling newspaper "Liberation" ridiculed Graham's methods and approach in a report of his press conference Thursday.

"The French people should repent! Read the Bible and follow one of the Protestant cults or even, as a last resort, the Catholic church—that is the sense of the appeal Billy Graham will make to Parisians," the newspaper chided.

The crusader's "organization of vast publicity campaigns ... could hardly fail since it concerns the revelation of a superman like Christ," Liberation said.

"That Billy," the newspaper commented, "he's got an answer for everything."

Most other Paris newspapers simply reported what "the most famous preacher of the United States" is like.

Graham held the conference as a prelude to his five-day crusade which begins Sunday in the vast Palais des Sports.

He emphasized that his primary purpose was to re-awaken faith among the indifferent and that he would not engage in sectarian disputes.

Schools File Tax Suit

The Pampa Independent School District filed suit in District Court Thursday against the Western Supply Co. for $788.88 in delinquent taxes for 1953.

The suit was filed against personal property valued at $69,160, and real property assessed at $7,280. The school district claims that Western Supply is indebted in the sum of $697.88 for 1953 taxes against personal property and $91 for taxes against real property, making a total of $922.99 which includes penalties and interest of $134.11.

The plaintiff has asserted a lien on each tract of the real property held by Western Supply to secure payment. The company owns Lots 16, 17, 18 and 19 in Blk. 1 of the Dooley Addition to the City of Pampa.

Wiring Unit Meet Set

The presentation of certificates to four new Pampa houses recently completed and wired according to specifications set up by the Pampa Adequate Wiring Bureau will be the main item on the agenda at the meeting of the wiring group tonight in Johnson's Cafe.

The newly formed bureau will hold its "charter" meeting at 7 p.m. and, following the meal, will be presented its national charter. Harry McWaters, chairman, will preside over the meeting.

Sipes Is Fined In DWI Case

James Beaford Sipes, 36, of 1306 S. Barnes, pleaded guilty this morning to charges of driving while intoxicated, and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by County Judge Bruce Parker.

County Attorney Don Cain said the Highway Patrol picked up Sipes Thursday afternoon on U.S. Hwy. 60 west of Pampa.

Group Vetoes Higher Gas Rate Idea

WASHINGTON - UP - The House Interstate Commerce committee reversed itself Thursday and rejected a proposal which Chairman J. Percy Priest (D - Tenn.) said would have meant higher natural gas prices.

By a 16 to 10 vote the committee upset an action Wednesday when it had voted, 12 to 11, to require that the Federal Power Commission, in administering federal controls over gas, make sure that production of other fuels is maintained at adequate levels.

Meanwhile, Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N. M.), who used to be strong for federal control of the price of gas at the well head, announced Thursday that he has switched, in a letter to Chairman Warren G. Magnuson of the commerce committee, Chavez urged approval of the bill to lift federal regulation of the price of gas in the field.

Chavez said that since he took his original position, New Mexico has become the nation's fourth largest producer of natural gas for sale.

Benny Morgan Was Scholar Of Baseball Which He Loved

WASHINGTON - UP - If you are a baseball fan, odds are you never heard of Benedict M. Morgan. So far as I know, Ben, who died the other day, never put on a glove or put a stick of lumber to horsehide.

Being on the puny side, Ben was a scholar when it came to baseball, which he loved. And he probably had more statistics stacked up stairs than most baseball writers.

Today, the baseball writers, put in a finger on the runs-batted-in department, won and lost record homers, stolen bases and the like.

Most dangerous pitcher in the Morgan book of memories was Oscar Graham of Oakland, in the Pacific Coast League. In 1905, he was the man on the hill hit 49 bats.

FBI Arrests Suspect In Robbery

LAS VEGAS, Nev. - UP - A 41-year-old Clearwater, Fla. insurance salesman was arrested in a Las Vegas motel as the second suspect in the $86,707.12 robbery of the First National Bank in Jacksonville, Fla., the FBI announced Thursday.

The suspect, Aldon D. Ellis, had $9,500 in his possession when he was arrested Wednesday night in the parking lot of a swank resort hotel-casino, the FBI said.

Ellis was taken into custody with two other county sheriff's Sergeants Noble Wicher and Robert Griffin. The Sheriff's office said Ellis had been the subject of a search for several hours before he was finally located in the parking lot. His arrest followed a "tip" that he had been seen in the vicinity.

Ellis was the second suspect to be arrested in connection with the dating, well-planned robbery. A Clearwater dishwasher was arrested earlier. Two other men are still sought by the FBI.

Four bandits staged the brazen holdup after kidnaping a bank official and forcing him to open the bank. The robbery was staged while two of the four gunmen held the bank official's wife and two small daughters hostage in their home.

Red Cross Group Meets In Amarillo

The Panhandle Red Cross district held a Home Service meeting at Amarillo Air Force Base yesterday from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m. and Mrs. Sam B. Cook and Mrs. Libby Shotwell, Pampa chapter executive secretary, attended the meeting.

The local Red Cross office was managed by Mrs. W. B. Neelis and Mrs. C. E. Jeffries in the absence of Mrs. Shotwell.

The group heard Martha Henderson, St. Louis area representative for Red Cross, discuss the new Home Service handbook, financial assistance and counseling for veterans and studied reporting and communications for service men.

H. M. Nichols, Panhandle County Agent, told the group about the work that had been done by Red Cross in the Blackwell, Okla., and Ordall, Kan., areas following the recent tornadoes there. He reported that all emergency work had been pretty well taken care of but that rehabilitation work was still to be done.

African Native The watermelon is a native of tropical Africa, where it still grows wild. It was carried to north Africa, southern Europe, and southwestern Asia at an early date.

Toll Road Bid Prospects Entertained

FORT WORTH - UP - Eleven representatives of eastern and middle western financial firms met plan to bid on Fort Worth-Dallas toll road bonds were guests Thursday at a chamber of commerce breakfast.

After that they were taken on a tour of the city's freeway system and an inspection of industrial facilities. Members of the group will look into economic factors and traffic potentials of the area to be served by the toll road.

A bit more than 1 per cent of the toll road project is complete. That is exactly on schedule, a progress report from the Texas Turnpike Authority showed Thursday.

Freedom For Other Airmen Seen Soon

WASHINGTON - UP - Eleven U.S. airmen still held by Red China may be released soon if cool heads and calm tempers prevail on both sides of the Bamboo Curtain, diplomats said Thursday.

They added that a temperate diplomatic climate also might lead to freeing other Americans held captive by the Chinese Communists.

Both sides, the diplomats said, appear to be making an effort to maintain calm.

According to information available here, Red China's leaders, Mao Tse-Tung and Chou En-Lai, were "unquestionably more reasonable" in manner when they conferred recently with India's roving ambassador, V. K. Krishna Menon.

One diplomat said there was no "table thumping" and the Reds made no harsh demands on Formosa as they had in the past.

The Eisenhower administration itself is refusing to use any tough talk about Red China even though the Chinese Communists still hold at least 52 American citizens.

Diplomats familiar with behind the scenes jockeying also believe the release of the 11 airmen could be regarded - along with the freeing of four others Monday - as the first step toward U.S.-Red China negotiations on easing Far Eastern tensions.

Both nations have expressed interest in such talks, but nothing has been done to arrange them as yet.

Murchisons Buy Block In Denver

DENVER - UP - John and Clint Murchison of Dallas have completed the purchase of a city block in downtown Denver for the construction of an office building costing between $15 and $30 million, it was learned Thursday.

The Texan financiers leased for 99 years the northeast corner of 17th and Welton Streets where the Sea hotel and the Bennett restaurant now stand. The property was leased for more than $1 million from the estate of Winfield Scott Stratton, the fabulous Central City, Colo., prospector and gold miner who left his millions to a home for the young and aged at Colorado Springs.

Gerald T. Hart, Denver representative for the Murchisons, said the "new property is scarcely 200 yards from the Denver Club site" now owned by the Murchisons. The new purchase gives them almost a city block in downtown Denver.

Raincoat Necessary For Outdoor Wear; Must Be Serviceable, Given Good Care

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

One of the most necessary pieces of outdoor wear is a raincoat. Other coats may be deep in the mothballs, but the raincoat needs to be ever ready and ever serviceable. These practical hints for buying and caring for a raincoat come from a well-known clothing specialist.

Fiber, care, finish and style are important in picking a raincoat, says this expert. The label tells about the first three; eyes about the last one.

There are waterproof and water-repellent coats. The former are for all-weather wear, the latter for rain only.

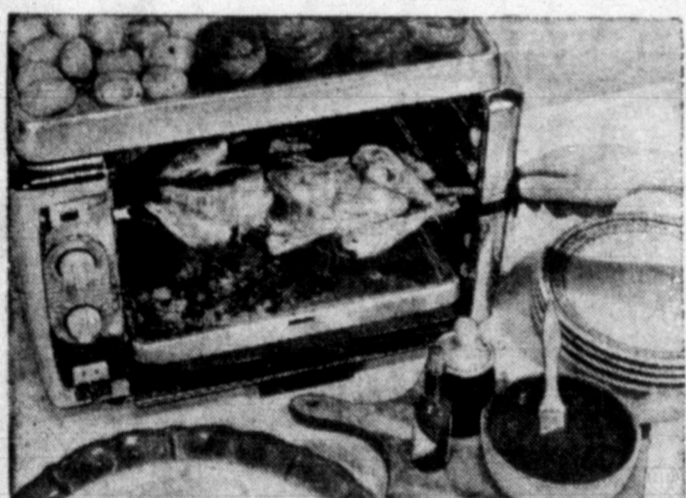

Water-repellent coats are treated fabric of almost any sort. They won't withstand long exposure to rain. The treatment can be either permanent or nonpermanent. The permanent can withstand repeated dry cleaning; nonpermanent finishes must be added every time the coat is washed or cleaned. Be sure to determine which treatment your coat needs.

Waterproof coats are of sheet rubber. They resist moisture regardless of how hard it's raining. In picking a coat of this sort, be sure the seams are sealed and that rubber or plastic covers the threads used in sewing the seams. Also be sure there's ventilation. Waterproof coats without air holes or vents are too warm for comfort.

Waterproof coats should be dried at room temperature while hung by the neck strap.

From looking and trying on, pick a coat that's large enough to wear over a suit or coat.

ROASTED CHICKEN with piquant barbecue sauce, served with new potatoes and broiled tomato halves, is delicious.

COOK'S NOOK

The Success Of Chicken Due To Barbecue Sauce

By GAYNOR MADDIX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

If you are to be a bride, you'll probably receive one of the new, convenient rotisseries, broilers or fryers as a wedding gift. Other wise, you'll have to get one to enjoy chicken the easy way.

Barbecued chicken (use the smaller ones now on the market) belongs in plans for enjoying the long Memorial Day weekend just ahead of us. So let's examine a few barbecue sauce recipes — no chicken is better than its barbecue sauce.

These two are made pungent with a subtle liquid pepper from Louisiana.

Barbecue Sauce Piquant (Yield: Approximately 1 cup, or enough for two 2½-pound broiler-fryers)

One-half cup butter or margarine, 1 minced garlic clove, optional; 2 teaspoons flour, ½ teaspoon Tabasco, 1-3 cup water, 3 tablespoons lime or lemon juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon each thyme, rosemary and marjoram, 1-2 teaspoon paprika.

Melt butter or margarine; add garlic and cook over low heat 3 minutes. Stir in flour. Combine Tabasco, water and lime juice; add to butter or margarine mixture. Add remaining ingredients. Prepare chicken according to rotisserie directions; brush chicken with sauce. Continue brushing every 15 minutes during broiling.

Barbecue Butter (Yield: Enough for 8 tomato halves or 12 potatoes)

Four tablespoons (½ stick) butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon Tabasco, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon onion juice.

Melt butter or margarine. While it is melting, combine remaining ingredients; stir into melted butter or margarine. Use for broiled tomatoes and whole new potatoes.

WE HAVEN'T HAD ANY REALLY HOT WEATHER YET, but we can assume it is on its way. When it hits and you feel sticky and un-glamorous, here are some hints on how to restore your feminine loveliness. Following this article is one on a really revolutionary handbag. It is really quite the thing, girls, and certainly is the answer to what to do with your purse when at a party or balancing a refreshment plate on your knee. You just wear it!

WHY BEAT THE HEAT?

Rather, bless it for the opportunity to be the coolest, daintiest of women!

Hot weather Cologne, dusting powder, fragrantly-scented soap — with such summer delights you create the spell of cool feminine loveliness.

Dorothy Gray has packaged in boxes a group of these summer fragrance accessories, matching their Hot Weather Cologne, in shade and scent. All not only leave you refreshed and fragrant, but the 'gingham' boxes in pink, lilac, green or yellow with white look charming in bedroom, bath and bathroom, where perhaps a similar gingham pattern is used in decorating.

French milled soap carved like flowers comes in two sizes, a set of three and one of six soap bonbons. Pink soaps and dusting powder in pink and white 'gingham' match June Bouquet cologne. Lilac-scented and tinted soaps go with White Lilac cologne, green with Jasmin Bouquet and yellow with Sweet Spice.

These are charming gifts for all occasions.

Spray deodorants, lightly scented in the same fragrances, come in blue plastic bottles. Special for summer too is a Hot Weather Shampoo, equally affable in hard or soft, warm or cool water.

Also among the Hot Weather Colognes is a scent called Natural, which men too enjoy after shaving and showering.

the turn of the century there has been a revolutionary change in handbags. Women can now wear them!

Guild Creations, Inc. of New York City announces it has just been granted a patent on a dramatic new handbag called the "Dance-With-Me," and has begun production on a large scale so that it will soon be available in department and specialty shops throughout the country and abroad.

The sensational handbag was designed by Ruth Merzon, outstanding stylist of women's underthings, whose mother was dressmaker for Queen Victoria. After years of study of women's handbag habits Miss Merzon, whose inventive genius has produced a large variety of wearables, came to the conclusion that a handbag that could be worn would prove a big boon for the dancing and cocktail crowd, at evening affairs and at proms and graduations. Her present design, diverse for special moods, will later be expanded to grace particular occasions.

The "Dance-With-Me handbag," can be slipped muffled over the arm, or can be worn on the leg like an old-fashioned garter — with appropriate ornaments. There are two inside zippers for compartments that hold the essentials for the occasion. Presently they are being made up in Satin, Moire, Velvets and assorted Brocades.

Pat Young Honored With Bridal Shower

Miss Pat Young, a bride-elect, was honored with a shower recently in the home of Mrs. Earl Edwards, 2125 Coffee. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Edwards were Meses. Frank Silcott, P. T. Narron, G. C. Stark, Robert Huffines, Helen Lunsford, and Misses Beverly Williams and Aquilla Collins.

The honoree was presented a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums and her mother, Mrs. J. R. Young, and Mrs. Hugh Peoples, mother of the prospective bridegroom were presented corsages of marguerite daisies.

The serving table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of marguerite daisies and yellow mums. Favors were miniature mop buckets with brooms. The cake was decorated in the bride-elect's colors of yellow and green. Mrs. Huffines presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Edwards served the cake.

Guests were registered by Miss Williams. Approximately 25 persons attended the event.

RUTH MILLET

One of the greatest times and energy wasters is not being able to make up one's mind.

Sue is like that. If she finds a dress she likes in the first shop she visits, she still must shop all over town to be sure there isn't something she would like better at some other store.

Even when there isn't and she finds herself again back at the first store, she isn't sure if the dress is just exactly right. If she buys it, chances are only fifty-fifty that it won't be returned to the store.

Sue can't even decide what she will wear to a party without telephoning everyone she knows is going to find out what they are wearing. On the way to the party she is still wondering if she shouldn't have worn the blue dress instead of the white.

It is as difficult for Sue to reach a decision about her children as it is for her to decide something for herself. She is forever falling back on the phrases, "Let's wait a nd see," "I'm not sure whether you ought to" and "Maybe." It seems as though she can't ever quite bring herself to a final "Yes" or "No" without a lot of preliminary agonizing.

You'll even find Sue having a difficult time at the supermarket trying to decide whether to get roast beef or lamb chops for dinner.

If you catch a faint glimpse of yourself in this picture of Sue, just remember that if you learn to arrive at small decisions quickly and without worrying over whether or not you made the right choice the time you save will be your own.

The lighter the hat fabric the better. Lace, silk and organdy are all pretty and airy.

Starch the corners of men's handkerchiefs so they will look neater when tucked in a jacket pocket.

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: Sarah Vaughan's hot record, "Whatever Lola Wants," will be redone by Sarah — in Japanese for the Nippon market. That should come out whatever Rora Wants.

This is the era of the disc jockey. A record hit without good solid disc jockey support is virtually impossible. So let's take a look at two of the top practitioners of the art, and see what makes them spin.

Martin Block of ABC was the first man to be called a disc jockey. He was also, he says, the first man to "program" records — talk about them, tell who was singing, plan a record show. Before he did that, he says radio stations simply stuck some records on the machine and let it go at that.

Now his professional name is so important to ABC that he works like a prince. He has his own studio at ABC. Nobody else can use his record tables. He has special equipment — like imported English microphones — and his are the only record players at the network with diamond needles.

He has a special staff — librarian, two secretaries, producer, director, engineer — that works for him alone.

He sits in a comfortable leather chair and broadcasts his records and commercials 25 hours a week. He likes music and he likes his own choices. His offices has a hi-fi system, usually going full blast, which plays the music that's going out over the air. Block sits back in his chair, listening.

"I play what I like he says. "That's the secret of my success. I'm an average guy with average taste. I like music. I haven't been bored in 21 years. I may decide that I'd like to hear a certain record, and I'll play it as soon as I can. That's the secret of my success. Just an average guy."

One of the better young disc jockeys is Fred Robbins, whose CBS show, "Disk Derby," is currently the hottest record show on the air. Technically, he doesn't consider himself a disc jockey since his program is more than just records — he has the audience vote on the best new record of the day and the week.

But he has been one, and he's still intimately connected with records. Fred is an ex-lawyer, a young, handsome guy who feels strongly that "there's plenty of good music today." He says the trouble — if there is trouble — lies with the average disc jockey — "if they'd play the good stuff, they'd get public taste up."

Fred, like most disc jockeys, has given considerable thought to the problem of TV. So far, nobody has been able to convert this most popular radio feature to visual presentation. And nobody ever will, Fred says gloomily.

"It's been tried," he says, but the big problem is what do you show while the record is spinning? Whatever they do, it's a contrivance, because the record is designed for the ears alone, not the eyes. I once went so far as to have a camera focus on a bowl of goldfish while the record was on. It was very restful."

Filibuster Halts Move On Interest

AUSTIN — UP — A minority team of senators filibustered until 1:35 a.m. Thursday against a proposed constitutional amendment to remove the 10 per cent interest ceiling on small loans.

At that time, finding themselves in control because most of their opposition had left the Senate chamber, they voted to adjourn. The Senate reconvened at 11 a.m. Thursday.

The House already has approved the proposal. If approved by the Senate, it will be submitted to a vote of the people in the next general election.

As approved by the House, the proposal would set the ceiling on small loans at $1,500. The Senate amended the House proposal to cut the limit back to $300. That would leave the legislature free to set interest rates below that amount.

Minority attempts to prohibit interest in excess of either 20 per cent or 36 per cent on loan of less than $300 were voted down. Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo is the bill's Senate sponsor.

Hazlewood contends that the present restriction of 10 per cent on interest drives small money borrowers into the hands of loan sharks. He believes the proposed amendment to remove the interest

Youth Sought In Pushing Death 4 Houston Employees Suspended

SAN ANTONIO — UP — Police searched Thursday for a youth who reportedly pushed a 16-year-old non-swimmer to his death in a city-owned swimming pool Wednesday.

The victim, Pedro Mendoza, was recovered about 15 minutes after his companions missed him. Police said they were informed that an unidentified youth was seen pushing Mendoza into the water from the edge of the pool.

ceiling would put the issue squarely into the hands of the voters. Sen. Warren McDonald of Tyler started the talkathon at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday. He was succeeded at 6:25 p.m. by Sen. William Moore of Bryan, who held the floor, with the help of long questions from his colleagues, until 12:55 a.m. Thursday.

Then it was discovered that the minority group of senators had turned into the majority, and they overrode a gavel-pounding effort by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and voted 12 to 9 to adjourn.

HOUSTON — UP — Four employees of the Houston city land acquisition division were suspended temporarily Wednesday night by Mayor Roy Hofheinz pending a full investigation of recent right-of-way purchases.

The four suspended are Joseph L. Angle Jr., acting superintendent of the division; Luther M. Nisbet, assistant superintendent and appraiser-agent; Gerald L. Isken and Leo Beerwirth, right-of-way agents.

Hofheinz ordered his executive assistant, Gould Beech, and city treasury director Ray Floyd to take over the division beginning Thursday and ordered all purchase records impounded and the recheck of completed sales.

The suspensions and impending probe came about after what Hofheinz termed "some unusual facts" were revealed about the purchase of three lots for right-of-way.

Boy Singer Entertains Lions Club

A 12-year-old Pampa boy, dressed in a yellow shirt, blue sports coat and bow tie, sang two numbers yesterday noon at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Lions Club and the applause was so great he was called back for an encore.

He was Pete Lewis, the blond-headed son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, and he literally "took over the stage" as he performed. He was accompanied by Miss Carol Paxson, club pianist.

But there was another performance, too.

Dr. Joe Donaldson, the official welcome of Lions Club "sweethearts," was one of the performers. The other was the "sweetheart" for June, chosen at the meeting, "Sweethearts," who are Pampa High School seniors, are usually on hand only during school months.

Spokesman Reporter Lucy Hudson was picked as the June "sweetheart" and Dr. Donaldson gave her the traditional welcome — and the Lions applauded.

Sixty-six Lions Club members were presented perfect attendance pins by Dr. Donaldson.

Club Secy. O. K. Gaylor reminded Lions that the annual installation banquet will be held the night of June 16. And that is when Paul West, present club first vice president, will become club president for 1955-56. West presided over yesterday's meeting.

Guests on hand included James Bell, Bob Acoff, S. Burnham, Larry Schulz and Ed Nash.

Nixon Calls Big 4 Meet 'Last Chance'

CHICAGO — UP — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Thursday the coming Big Four conference may be the world's "last chance" to avert a "catastrophic war."

Nixon said the meeting may provide an answer to whether the Communists still want to "conquer the world" or whether they have "changed their ways."

"This conference could be the world's last chance to settle differences peacefully and avoid a catastrophic war," he said.

"The question it may answer is whether negotiated peace is possible, or whether the danger of nuclear war is to hang over us for generations to come."

Nixon said in remarks prepared for delivery at the convention of Rotary International that there is "no question" about the "desire and intent" of free world leaders for peace.

"Let us hope that world public opinion will be sufficiently strong to force the men in the Kremlin to do likewise," he said.

Vacation Bible Schools Begin Monday In Churches

Vacation Bible schools will begin Monday in many Pampa churches. Preceding the opening of five of the Baptist churches' schools was a parade this morning, followed by a picnic in Central Park.

FIRST BAPTIST
The First Baptist school, beginning Monday, will continue until June 15. Sessions will be held from 8:30 to 11:15 a. m. each day. Bible study, mission study, stories, music and crafts will be included in the curriculum. Nurseries will be open for children, under 3 years old, of women working in the school. Commencement Day will be observed June 15, with an open house at 6:45 p. m. and a program at 7:15 p. m. Refreshments of juice and cookies will be served each day. Superintendents for the school will be Mrs. Clarence Anderson, nursery 5; Mrs. Glen Wilkie, nursery 6; Mrs. Jarvis Johnson, beginner 1; Mrs. Bill Morris, beginner 2; Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, beginner 3; Mrs. J. R. Miller, beginner 4; Mrs. George Henderson, primary 1; Mrs. Wilson Hatcher, primary 2; Mrs. C. L. McKinney, primary 3; Mrs. Robert Hogan, junior 1; Mrs. A. Z. Griffin, intermediate. Refreshment chairman will be Mrs. D. W. Swain, and T. B. Sullivan will be boys' handwork chairman. Other officers are Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor; J. R. Stroble, principal; Joe Whitten, music director; Miss Eloise Lane, pianist; Mrs. Charles Tooker and Mrs. G. L. Craddock, general secretaries.

FIRST METHODIST
The First Methodist school will begin at 9 a. m. Monday in the church and will end June 17. Classes will be held Monday through Friday from 9 to 11 a. m. Dean of the school is Mrs. W. R. Campbell, and Mrs. R. D. Morris is in charge of the daily refreshments to be served to all departments. Superintendents will be Mrs. G. M. Walls Sr., kindergarten; Miss Minnie Allen, primary; and Mrs. H. R. Thompson Sr., junior. The kindergarten department will study "Stories of Jesus," and the primary department will study "Learning From Jesus." The junior department study will be "We Would Follow Jesus."

CHURCH OF CHRIST
The Church of Christ at Harvesters and Mary Ellen will begin classes at 9 a. m. Monday, with the final day slated for Friday. Sessions will be held each day from 9 to 11 a. m. The event is "for all ages and groups regardless of religious affiliation in the interest of undenominational Christianity." There will be no denominational teaching, with every teacher a qualified Christian. A class will be held for every age - pre-school to adult. Visual aids, handwork and projects will be adapted to each group. No tuition will be charged.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN
Church school of the First Presbyterian Church will begin at 8:30 a. m. Monday. Classes will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. each day. The school is for children from 4 to 14 years of age. The school is for children from 4 to 14 years of age through the sixth grade in school. Children who do not attend any church school will be welcome. The final session, June 17, will be a parent's night, when the children's accomplishments during the school will be displayed and explained.

Thoughts

Therefore shall ye abide at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night seven days, and keep the charge of the Lord, that ye die not: for so I am commanded. — Leviticus 8:35.

The spirit of man, which God inspired, cannot together perish with this corporeal clod. — Milton.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read John 8:29-36

"Whosoever" is a great word. It is one of the greatest words in the New Testament. The Christian who is earnest in his desires to become effective in the use of spiritual powers can well afford to make a study of the scriptures to note how many times God declares his impartiality by saying, "Whosoever..." This means that spiritual favors are distributed equitably, at a price that anyone can pay. They are within the reach of all.

"I would give a good deal if I could pray like Professor Hutchinson can," said a businessman, speaking of the sainted professor of Greek at the University of Minnesota. He was willing to spend the long hours in an apprenticeship of prayer, as the old scholar had. Prayer is not a gift that is conferred, but a skill that is acquired. Similarly, faith is not a favor reserved for the few, but a method by which God's resources are made available, and which is open to all. Effectiveness in prayer, as well as in faith, is not dependent upon God's favoritism, but upon our own diligence and understanding. We learn to pray by praying, and we learn to exercise our faith by "faithing." Spiritual skills can be achieved exactly as physical or mental skills are acquired. It all depends upon whether or not we want to be spiritually effective. That so few have become so is, in part at least, the responsibility of the church. It has not, in most cases, taught its people the "how" of faith and prayer. Rather it has been content to exhort people to "have faith" and to pray.

No one in all the world, O God, has a better right to claim thy promises than I have, because I am included in thy "whosoever." But I know I cannot claim those and so I am determined to make my wrongs right that I may seek thy face. Amen.

You say that you believe in God. Very well, then consider what it means to so believe. Does it mean that you merely believe God is a fact, or do you believe in him so much that you are willing to trust to his judgements and do his will?

MEXICO CITY—UP—Otilio Sanchez, discharged from a hospital as "cured," walked 50 yards to the door of a funeral parlor where he sat down and died, police reported Thursday.

Women In The Church

Methodist women from all parts of the nation will gather at National College for Christian Workers, Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2-11, 1955, for the quadrennial "National Seminar" sponsored by the Woman's Division of Christian Service. "A Christian Woman Understanding Her World" is the theme for the ten-day session which is directed by the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, Miss Thelma Stevens, New York City, executive secretary. Bishop Gerald Enslay of the Des Moines Area of the Methodist Church, will give the keynote address on "Understanding as a Basis for World Order" on the evening of August 2.

A plan whereby a village of newly-literate persons can receive a library of simple reading matter on wholesome subjects is an expanding project of the Committee on Literacy and Literature, a branch of the National Council of Churches. For $25, a library of forty to sixty books, packed in a tin trunk, can be placed in a village, where the residents have learned to read through the picture-syllable charts and primers, devised by Dr. Frank Laubach. The books, written on a primary level for new readers, are about agriculture, religion, health, child care, handicrafts, recreation and other subjects of an inspirational or practical nature. The cost includes also a small oil-burning lamp to give light for reading. "Tin trunk libraries" have been distributed to villages in India, and many are needed in Egypt, Pakistan, Burma, Korea, Iran and the Philippines.

Mahogany 'Moon'

Mahogany trees are cut by the light of the moon because at this time they are freest from a sap, sounder, and of a richer color than during the day.

Rabbit No Rodent

The rabbit is not a true rodent, but a lagomorph, because it has two sets of upper front teeth, one behind the other, while a rodent has a single set.

Church News

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH will observe Children's Day at the 10:50 a. m. service Sunday. A dedication for parents and babies will be held. All church members who are parents of children in the nursery through the pre-kindergarten departments are urged to participate in the dedication service.

Those planning to attend the Chi Rho Camp are asked to be at the church at 1 p. m. Sunday.

The elders will meet at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, followed by the official board meeting at 8:15.

The way to healthier, happier living through spiritual understanding of God as the only real creative power will be brought out at CHRISTIAN SCIENCE services this Sunday.

The lesson-sermon, entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator," includes the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the centurion's servant who was "sick of the palsy, grievously tormented" (Matt. 8).

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (231:30): "Man, governed by his Maker, having no other Mind, — planted on the Evangelist's statement that 'all things were made by Him (the Word of God); and without Him was not anything made that was made, — can triumph over sin, sickness, and death.'"

The golden text is from Acts (4:24): "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is."

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST, MARY ELLEN AND HARVESTERS, will hold a gospel meeting Sunday through June 12. Services will be held at 10:45 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday and at 8 p. m. daily during the week.

Featured speaker will be Robert C. Jones.

The Southwestern Spiritual Singers, nationally known Negro singers from Southwestern Christian College of Terrell, will present a program of hymns and spirituals at the church at 7:30 p. m. June 12.

Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of the FIRST METHODIST CHURCH, will discuss, "The Marks of a Great Church" for the 8:30 and 10:55 a. m. services Sunday. The Carol and Wesley Junior Choirs will sing the special music, "God be our Guide" by Abt, at the 8:30 services. The Sanctuary Singers will bring the anthem, "Salvation is Created" by Tachonokoff-Materly, at the 10:55 services.

James E. Bell, assistant to the pastor, will discuss, "A Marked Man" at the 7:30 p. m. service. Rev. Bell has served as pastor of the Methodist Church in Blackwell the past year, while attending McMurry College, Abilene. He will receive his B. A. Degree in August. He is entering Perkins School of Theology at Dallas in the fall. The MYP Choir will bring the special music for the evening service, "Good News," arranged by Anderson.

Sermon topic of Dr. E. Douglas Carver of the FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH for 11 a. m. service Sunday will be "Getting What We Need, Not What We Deserve." The choir, under the direction of Joe Whitten, director of music, will present an anthem.

Sunday will also be "cookie Sunday" at the church, with members requested to bring cookies, to be used during vacation Bible school. Last Sunday was "juice Sunday" with members bringing fruit juice for the school.

Sunday School will be held at 9:45 a. m. and Training Union at 7 p. m. Sermon topic for the evening service will be "Living Positively."

The teachers and officers will meet at 7 p. m. Wednesday, with the evening service slated for 7:45. Choir rehearsal will be held at 8:30 p. m.

Sermon topic of Rev. Bob McFadden, summer pastor of the CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN for the 11 a. m. service Sunday will be "Where Is The Church?"

A series on the Gospel of Matthew will be started at the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday. The scripture will be Matthew 1-7, and Rev. McFadden's topic will be "This Is It!"

The combined men and women's meetings will be at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the church.

MY HOPE IS IN THEE

"And now, Lord, what wait I for? My hope is in thee".
Psalms 39:7

In the earlier verses of the Psalms David thinks upon two things: the brevity of human life and the insufficiency of material things to satisfy the human spirit. In the light of these things he then asks: "What wait I for?" And he answers his own question in the words, "My hope is in thee". And it is true of us all that we can have no hope except in God.

Our only hope of untangling life's riddles is in God. Life has many mysteries. We daily confront riddles which we can not solve. Even with all the help we can get, there is much yet that we can not understand about life. Apart from God there is only despair. But "He knoweth what is in darkness"; He makes clear the meaning of life for us.

Our only hope of Peace is in God. It is not without meaning that He is called the "God of peace". And quite fittingly did the angels on the night of Christ's birth sing, "Peace on earth to men of good will". Peace with God, peace with self, peace with one's fellow man: these are needs of every human life. And our only hope for peace is in God.

Our only hope for Salvation is in God. Human institutions and organizations, be there ever so good, are powerless to save. Not by rite nor ordinance nor ceremony can one be saved. "There is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved". In self there is no hope. In our fellow-man there is no hope for salvation. Even in the church there is no salvation. Our only hope for salvation is in the Eternal God.

Our only hope for the hereafter is in God. Beyond the grave all is dark and terrifying — except as one is led by the hand of Him Who is Lord of death as He is Lord of life. He holds in His hand the keys of life and of death and of the grave. And in Him one finds hope for the hereafter. For did not God's Son say, "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth on Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live again; and who-soever liveth and believeth on Me shall never die."

"And now, Lord, what wait I for? My hope is in Thee."

A BRAND NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE for boys of our city will kickoff their season tomorrow night. The Teen Age League, which takes in boys too old for Little League and Pony League, will stage a doubleheader at Oiler Park tomorrow.

WONDER IF PUTT POWELL look along a batch of towels with him to the state baseball tournament?

To hear Putt tell it, Paris didn't belong on the same field with the Sandies.

We were for the Sandies winning, of course, but it seems to us Putt should have given a little credit to Paris.

The East Texans must have had a pretty fair "country" team or they would have never reached the state tournament and they couldn't have held a team loaded with power as the Sandies are to only five hits.

But Putt spent almost his entire story on the game telling how well the Sandies played and how poorly Paris played.

Guess the "pill" was just too bitter for Putt to swallow.

Putt says the Sandies were the best coached team. We'll agree that Sam Peechia, the Sandie mentor, is a good coach, but it seems that Peechia used poor strategy in the third inning when the Sandies had the makings of a big inning.

Don LeNeve, the ninth man in the Sandie batting order, doubled to lead off the Sandie third. With the top of the batting order coming up, the prospects of a big inning for the Sandies was great.

But Peechia refused to go for the big inning. He had the next two batsmen to lay down bunts, one sending LeNeve to third and the other squeezing him home.

In other words, he gave up two outs for the sake of a measly run and the game was only in the third inning. And all the run did was to tie the score at 2-2.

The fellow he had bunting LeNeve to third was Ray Ruffin, a good hitter, and who had already gotten a hit in the game.

A single by any of the next three batsmen following LeNeve's leadoff double would have done the same thing as the two sacrifices accomplished and you wouldn't be "wasting" your chances away for a big inning.

Oilers Down Clovis In Opener, 12-3

NO-HIT FORM—Sam Jones starts to pump, rears back and throws an aspirin tablet. The Cubs' towering right-hander struck out the Pittsburgh Pirates' side after walking the bases full in the ninth inning. That closed out the season's initial major league no-hit, no-run game and Chicago's first in the National League in 38 years.

Locals Wind Up Homestand Tonite

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

Oiler pitcher Red Dial has regained the form that led him to 20-game-plus win seasons the past three years.

Off to a slow start, Dial has come back to hurl two outstanding games in his last two outings and Oiler fans are beginning to breathe more easily.

Dial's latest outing was last night when he enabled the Oilers to hold on to first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League by beating his former teammates, the Clovis Pioneers, 12-3, at Oiler Park.

Only one of the three Clovis runs last night were earned. Dial now has allowed only three earned runs in the last two games, both of which he went the route. He had beaten Plainview, 10-2, in his previous start to last night's game.

Dial got a big assist from his battery mate, Jim Martin, who blasted a grand slam homer in the first inning that sent the Oilers off to a quick 6-0 lead. It was the 52nd homer of the year for the Oilers but it was the first that came with the bases loaded.

Clovis never really threatened that lead seriously rest of the way. All three of the Pioneer runs came on homers. Hank Paskiewicz hit a solo homer for the first Pioneer run in the fourth and manager Frank Benites parked one in the seventh with one aboard to conclude the Clovis scoring.

The Oilers then added three in the fifth, one in the sixth and two in the eighth to run the game into a rout.

Dial, in going the route for seventh time this season, struck out seven Pioneers and walked only two. Only in the second and seventh innings were the Pioneers able to get more than one hit off the veteran right hander.

Paskiewicz was the only Pioneer getting more than one base hit. Paskiewicz got a single to go with his homer.

Slider got four singles in four official trips; Curtis Hardaway broke out of a batting slump with two doubles to help the Oiler cause.

Martin, though, was the Oiler bat star with his grand slam homer and a double. The Oiler catcher drove in five runs.

The Italian boxer was first declared the winner of the quarterfinal match on points, but a few seconds later the decision was reversed and was met with a wild demonstration by the 8,000 spectators.

PCC Sets National Golf Day; Proceeds To Tornado Areas

The Panhandle Women's Golf Olympic Course in San Francisco Saturday.

All amateurs, of course, will receive handicaps in competition against the National Open champs. Ed Furgol is the men's National Open champ while Babe Zaharias is the women champ. But Mrs. Zaharias will not be playing tomorrow because of illness.

Patty Berg, a former women's national champ, will represent Mrs. Zaharias. Miss Berg and Furgol will play together on the San Francisco course.

Proceeds taken in on the National Golf Day will go toward the tornado stricken sufferers in Kansas and Oklahoma. Entry fee for National Golf Day is $1. Those who beat Furgol and Berg will receive medals.

Following is a telegram received by the Pampa Red Cross regarding National Golf Day:

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Nation's golfers will be working for Kansas - Oklahoma tornado sufferers when they tee up in 4th annual National Golf Day Tournament Saturday.

"In announcement here today ARC President Edsworth Bunker said National Headquarters share of Golf Day proceeds will be allocated immediately to Red Cross disaster relief funds.

"Local Red Cross chapters participating in this event will retain the portion they normally would keep.

The Red Cross has estimated it will spend far more than $1,000,000 to help tornado victims in Udall, Kans., and Blackwell, Okla., rebuild and repair their homes. The CMA will replace damaged furniture, clothing and food supplies and meet extended medical costs resulting from tornado injuries.

NEW YORK — UP — Light heavyweight Paddy Young of New York, who had but three bouts in 18 months, is favored nevertheless in 11-5 to tame "wildcat" Billy McNeece Friday night in their TV-radio fight at Madison Square Garden.

Many fans regard the 11-5 price as an "over-lay" because 23-year-old McNeece of Central Islip, N.Y., is such a savage slasher some odd-timers call him a "modern Ace Hudkins."

Murphy-Pruden Bout Signed BOSTON — UP — Bobby Murphy, youthful Boston fighter, has been signed to meet the veteran Fitzie Pruden of Canada in the feature bout at the Boston Arena, June 14.

Case history of a businessman who made ALL his advertising pay dividends

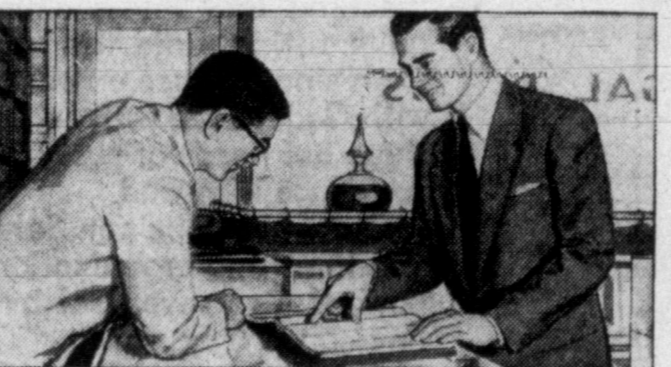

Like all good businessmen, Mr. T., owner of a drugstore, advertised in his local newspapers... and used radio... to tell prospective customers about his merchandise and services.

... when into his store came a man who opened his eyes to increased business potential. It was the Yellow Page Man, who showed Mr. T. how display advertising in the Yellow Pages would really complete his advertising job. Here's how...

Mr. T. sells many products which manufacturers advertise widely in magazines and on TV and radio. Local people want to buy those products. The Yellow Pages would direct them to Mr. T.'s store — when they're in a buying frame of mind!

Mr. T. learned that the Yellow Page Man would help prepare his advertisement — at no extra cost. Based on scores of surveys, the Yellow Page Man knows what prospects look for and the most important sales points to feature.

Another factor which persuaded Mr. T. was this: His advertisement in the Yellow Pages would be on the job 365 days a year. It would be constantly at work, always ready to help whenever a prospect felt a need or urge for merchandise he sells.

The result? With sales volume and profits building steadily, Mr. T. is now convinced that a strong Yellow Page advertising program is not only a good investment in itself, but makes his other advertising efforts more productive as well.

Take advantage of the knowledge of these trained Yellow Page advertising men. Call the telephone business office, today. There's no obligation, of course.

Little LEAGUERS

Teen Age League To Open Season; Farm Clubs In Full Slate Of Games

The Teen Age League, newest kid baseball league in Pampa, will open the 1955 season tomorrow night.

The Teen Age loop was only organized recently. Four teams will compete in the league and all will see action on tomorrow night's doubleheader card at Otter Park.

Meeting in the opener will be the Optimists and Celanese at 8 p.m. Immediately following this game, the Pampa News and Atlas Tank will take the field.

The Teen Age League takes in boys 15-18.

League president Dr. Nick Kaifing announced today that any boy who hasn't signed up to play in the Teen Age Loop may do so in the next few days.

In other activity tomorrow, the Minor Leagues in the Pony and Little Leagues will see action.

In the Pony League, the Fulams and Beardens will meet at 2:30, to be followed by the Carters and Campbells at 4 p.m.

The Western Little League will pit the Grisoms and Mechowicz at 2:30 and Ross and Middletons at 4 p.m. in the Eastern Little League. Zimmermans met Sanders at 2:30 p.m. to be followed by the Hamiltons and Eilers at 4 p.m.

In yesterday's kid baseball action, Pampa Druggists defeated Elmer's in the Pony League, 12-4; Hoffman Oil romped past Sportsman Store, 16-3, in the Eastern Little League; and Utility Oil overpowered Your Laundry, 19-4, in the Western Little League.

Lynn Boyd was the winning pitcher for Pampa Druggists; Harris was the Utility Oil winner; and Frank Pryor was the winner for Hoffman.

Homers for the day were hit by Cox and Wells of Your Laundry; Scott of Utility Oil; and Vaughn and Owens of Hoffman.

Eagle, Paris Nines Gain State Finals

AUSTIN —UP— The Abilene Eagles and the Paris Wildcats will meet Friday night for the state Class C. Schoolboy baseball championship.

The Eagles beat Waco 2 to 1 in Thursday night's semifinals and the Wildcats edged Baytown by the identical score.

The championship game will be at 9 p.m. Friday night, with Baytown and Waco going for third place at 7 p.m.

In the Paris-Baytown game, Larry Ayres let Baytown down with two hits in the seven-inning contest. Baytown's run came on a hit batsman, a stolen base, an infield out and one of its two hits.

Paris put across its winning run with two of its seven hits off Donald Walker in the final inning.

Abilene got to Waco pitcher Ken Brunson for three hits in the second inning—a single by Glen Gregory, a double by David Bourland and a two-run single by Carlton Winkles. That was the ball game.

Almus Scott checked Waco with five hits. Each pitcher struck out five men.

Scores by innings:

Paris ..... 001 000 1-2 7 2
Baytown ..... 010 000 0-1 2 1
Ayres and Hensley; Walker and Herrington.

Waco ..... 001 000 0-1 5 0
Abilene ..... 020 000 x-2 6 4

Duke Continues Rampage As Bums Hike Lead To 7 1/2 Tilts

By UNITED PRESS

Duke Snider figures he "loused up" his baseball swing by playing "teeling off an enemy pitcher, he'll go two weeks ago, but if he keeps hot the Dodgers within a nine iron shot of the pennant in no time.

For the second straight day, Snider battered par on the Ebbets Field course Thursday with his 18th homer and a pair of singles in a 13-2 riot of the Braves that moved Brooklyn 7-1-2 games ahead of the straggling National League field.

Thursday's performance by the Duke, coupled with the three homers he clouted against Milwaukee Wednesday, is pretty fair hitting, especially for a guy who insists, "I haven't really felt right at the plate since I went out and played 18 holes of golf while we were out west last month."

An 85 at Golf

Snider had an 85 on the day he refers to, but he's been going like 60 for the Dodgers, boosting his batting average from .296 to .329 within the space of a week. His two-run homer off Bob Buhl helped the Dodgers to a 3-0 lead in the third inning and then he singled twice in the eighth as the Dodgers poured across 10 runs.

The Phillies defeated the second-place Cubs 8-4, with the help of Andy Seminick's grand-slam homer in a five-run first inning. Southpaw Curt Simmons, who yielded Eddie Banks' 13th homer, was the winning pitcher although he had to be rescued by Bob Miller in the seventh. Warren Hacker was the loser.

Johnny Antonelli of the Giants got back in the winning column with a 6-3 decision over the Redlegs. The Giants pooled five of their nine hits for three runs in the third inning, a frame in which Willie Mays doubled home one run and Sid Gordon doubled in two more. Mays also connected for his 14th homer.

Big Dale Long drove in five runs with a homer and two singles to lead the Pirates to a 13-2 victory over the Cardinals. In all, Pittsburgh blasted five St. Louis pitchers for 17 hits.

Rookie Herb Score of Cleveland fanned 10 batters in beating Baltimore 9-3, but the Indians remained three games behind the American League leading Yankees, who rolled to their 19th victory in 22 games with a 12-6 decision over Kansas City.

Score's 10 strikeouts, all of which were registered in the first four innings, gave him a total of 92.

Braves Sign Bonus Player MILWAUKEE —UP— John Edelman, a 19-year-old right-handed pitcher from Westchester (Pa.) Teachers College, signed a bonus contract with the Milwaukee Braves Monday and will join the team Thursday at Brooklyn.

Takes Those Close Ones DALLAS —UP— You've gotta win the close ones to get ahead in the Texas League. Of the 53 one-run games through last Sunday, second place Dallas had won 14 while last place Oklahoma City lost 13 by a lone tally.

Senators Sign Missouri Fielder COLUMBIA, Mo. —UP— The Washington Senators Monday signed Jerry Schoonmaker, an outfielder on the University of Missouri baseball team, to a $30,000 bonus contract. Schoonmaker, who also played football at Missouri, will report to the Senators June 9.

NAIA Track-Field Meet Starts Tonight

ABILENE, Tex. —UP— The fourth annual NAIA track and field championships for the nation's small colleges gets under way Friday night with record-breaking performances expected to come in wholesale lots.

All 15 marks on the record books are endangered, but at least 10 of them were in serious jeopardy as a small (290 contestants), but potent field moves into the preliminary Friday night and the finals Saturday night before a crowd expected to reach 6,000.

A belated withdrawal of Occidental of Los Angeles, one of three top-rated teams, left the team championship battle between defending champion Abilene Christian and North Texas State — unless some unheralded outfit sneaks in like South Dakota State in 1953.

Occidental's crack team withdrew Thursday because of a conflict with examinations.

Yanks Lead Way Into S-Finals

ST. ANNE'S, England —UP— Baby-faced Dan Bispilnghoff, distance-hitting Billy Joe Patton, and Air Force officer Joe Conrad carried the avored United States colors into the quarterfinal round of the British Amateur golf championship Friday.

Although Irishman Joe Carr, the 1953 champion, and four English players still are in contention, most local experts think a Yank will win and now many of them are picking Bispilnghoff.

While the more widely-known Patton has been forced to come from behind in four of his five matches so far, Bispilnghoff, 20-year-old rapidly rising star from Orlando, Fla., has played steady and frequently brilliant golf. Conrad, 25-year-old Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio, was rated

Freedom From Govt.

Among the nation's biggest bargains have been and are the products of the petroleum industry. That is, they are still big bargains if you figure their costs before taxes.

With the tremendous override of federal and state levies there isn't much in the way of bargains left anywhere.

One very helpful sign which has shown itself recently is the move on the part of producers of natural gas to kick the federal government out of its position of controlling and regulating their industry. Laws now in force should be stricken from the books to eliminate the federal government's stranglehold in this instance. According to several well-informed persons there is a good chance that the federal government will cease and desist in this unwanted and harmful control.

One of the reasons many persons seem to favor federal control of this or other segments of the petroleum industry, is that they have been led to believe that the industry is a monopoly. This simply isn't so. In the natural gas production field there are no fewer than 8,000 producers. And in the general business of oil and gas production there are some 42,000 separate companies. In addition to this vast number there are some 190,000 different firms which operate the nation's more than 200,000 gas stations. This is a far cry from monopoly.

If it weren't for government interference, government controls and government taxation we could be living in a land of plenty such as has only been dreamed of. Without the federal and state governments in the way, today gasoline would cost only about 15 cents a gallon, high test; bread would be around seven cents for a large loaf; ladies shoes, good ones, would be about $5.00 a pair, and the finest motor car on the market would cost about $1,500. Compare these prices with the alleged advantages you secure through all the taxes you pay.

We are happy to note that the petroleum industry is working hard to get the government out of its business. But other industries should follow suit. We not only need to cut out the federal control of natural gas, but we need to cut out federal control and federal competition in virtually every walk of life.

It is freedom FROM government which has made America great in the past. This same formula will make for a new greatness in America's future.

THE NATION'S PRESS

UNION OWNERSHIP OF POLITICIANS

(Chicago Tribune)

A politically unique career of G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, now serving his fourth two year term as governor of Michigan, is being described in our news columns by Reporter Percy Wood.

Gov. Williams belongs to the CIO, more specifically to the giant CIO United Auto Workers union, which has its strength concentrated in and about Detroit. He not only admits the fact, but boasts about it. The union's influence in the state's executive office is reflected not only in appointments and policies, but in pardons for convicted CIO goons.

Soapy is fundamentally a silly fellow, unlikely to leave much mark on history despite the efforts of his proprietors to present him as Democratic Presidential material. But as a type, he deserves study.

It is not unprecedented for certain interests to "own" public office holders. Half a century ago the political influence of big business was recognized and rightly considered an evil. The evil was met by legislation forbidding corporations to contribute to political causes, and limiting the contributions of individuals. The principle then established, that it is an unhealthy thing for the nation when great economic power is combined with great political power, is still valid.

ed with great political power, is still valid.

Big labor has one political advantage over big business. The vote of its members are a legitimate asset. Two generations ago Samuel Gompers set the American Federation of Labor on the simple path of rewarding its friends and punishing its enemies at the polls, a policy which so long as it was followed faithfully, contributed enormously to the growth of the AFL.

Isolator as CIO members vote for Soapy Williams because he is their friend, they are doing only what virtually every voter does, regardless of his economic status, and what is their right.

But campaigns for state office require huge funds in this era. It is the other variety of help that the CIO has given Williams that offends public opinion. Union funds have been contributed, or spent, to advance his candidacy. Not all of the CIO members are Williams partisans, but those who are not are required to contribute just as much as those who are, thru their union dues.

Such statutes as we have forbidding political contributions by labor organizations have been a failure. Where they have not gone unenforced, they have been evaded, and limiting the contributions of individuals. The principle then established, that it is an unhealthy thing for the nation when great economic power is combined with great political power, is still valid.

The use of union funds for political purposes is an outrage against the union members who do not favor the candidates the union backs. But even if a union were unanimous in its support of a candidate, its contributions should be barred, on the ground that the powers granted unions for economic purposes become dangerous when they are exerted in the political field.

The twentieth annual International Distribution Congress is scheduled to be held in New York City early next month. In announcing the program for the meeting, its sponsor, National Sales Executives, Inc., said:

"America's prosperity in the years immediately ahead will not depend primarily upon how much the nation can produce; it will depend upon how scientifically, effectively, and successfully the products of industry will be consumed."

I beg leave to differ with this statement.

Actually, our prosperity — as distinguished from our momentary pleasure — depends on what we have left over from our consumption — not on what we consume. For only from that which we have left over can we either maintain or enlarge our productive capacity. That is the fundamental fact of economics that underlies our whole capitalistic system. And I think it is important that we keep it in mind.

Reactionary United Nations

In the last issue I was quoting how the United Nations is reactionary. The article ended by telling how the agencies of the UN were working everywhere in the world to carry out the proposals of the Marxian millennium; that is, the Communist World Commonwealth. Then Dr. Watts goes on to say:

"Let us not accuse these thousands of workers of hypocrisy. In the main, they are sincere collectivists. They intend to do good to 'the masses.'"

"They take the world back to barbarism because they know no better. They do not understand the new concepts of Moral Law and human nature, of liberty and the right functions of government upon which this Republic is founded. The founders of the United Nations, with its hundreds of agencies and its thousands of workers, are Old World thinkers: collectivists. They do not even know the American meaning of the word, individualism."

"Therefore, their words do not mean to them what the same words mean to Americans. 'Freedom,' to collectivists, means submission and obedience to government. A 'liberal' is a person who seeks to force others to act as he thinks they should act. The collectivist 'revolution' is subversion in these United States — it is historically the collectivist reaction against this Republic's world-revolutionary principles of human rights."

"To collectivists, human rights are not inalienable rights implanted in the nature of man by his Creator; the collectivist's 'human rights' are gifts that men in government offices may grant to their subjects, or to some favored subjects, or not grant, if it seems that too much 'liberty' is not good for 'the masses.'"

"This ancient view of human nature and society is so alien to Americans that the words confuse us. The UN proposals are not for establishing real human rights and raising the real standards of life; they are proposals for expanding the power of government."

"The UN agencies are working, not to liberate men from age-old subjection and its results, which are hunger and misery; but to 'liberate' them — that is, to make them even more abjectly dependent upon such 'benefits' as governments may take from them or others and grant to them."

"The UN documents give to such 'benefits' the name 'human rights' and this name deceives Americans and leads us toward abandoning our own real principle of human rights, so that we are in the danger of surrendering to government the very substance of our freedom."

"Officials and supporters of the United Nations do not hesitate to say that they seek to bring about this reactionary 'revolution' in the United States. According to John P. Humphrey, UN Director of the Division of Human Rights:

"What the United Nations is trying to do is revolutionary in character. Human rights are largely a matter of relationship between the state and individuals, and therefore a matter which has been traditionally regarded as being within the domestic jurisdiction of states. What is now being proposed is, in effect, the creation of some kind of supranational supervision of this relationship between the state and its citizens."

"What of the relationship between man and his Creator? What of the right with which 'all men are endowed by their Creator,' those inalienable rights that American government was made to respect and protect?"

"The founders of the United Nations, assembled in San Francisco, dared not speak the name of God, for fear of offending each other."

"Should it surprise us, then, that they did not think to safeguard the God-given rights of any man?"

How to Subvert the United States Constitution

"Everyone knows that the Third Communist International is a worldwide conspiracy working to subjugate the whole world."

"Every American, including American members of the conspiracy, knows that it aims to destroy the American system of government, to abolish our civil rights, and to reduce all Americans — by massacre, hunger and terror — to the abject condition of human beings now behind the advancing Iron Curtain."

"What only a few Americans see is how the United Nations and its agents in this country are quietly working toward the same end, by nibbling away the very foundations of the limited government that once stood firmly protecting our freedom and our lives."

"So far has this stealthy subversion gone that it has nearly, if not quite, accomplished the destruction. One more appointment to the United States Supreme Court may sweep away every constitutional defense of individual freedom, and establish in this country, not only unlimited government, but unlimited government by executive decree, which is dictatorship."

"I know this is hard to believe. And many Americans are so sincerely devoted to the aim and ideals of the United Nations that they do not much care what happens to their freedom under the United States Constitutions. Or they say it can't happen here because our President and his advisers are too loyal and patriotic, too mindful of their oath of office, to let our Constitutions be subverted."

"But let me recount a little-known incident which should be a portent for anyone who will weigh the facts."

"It happened 50 years ago, in the time of President Theodore Roosevelt. His State Department negotiated a trade treaty with little San Domingo, and the President sent it to the United States for ratification. For reasons that a sufficient number of Senators thought good, the Senate failed to ratify it."

"But that did not end the matter for the strong-willed President. Angrily he called for the document, and when it was brought to him, he scratched out the word 'Treaty' in the title and substituted the phrase 'Executive Agreement.' Then he signed it, and declared it to be the law of the land. And it was accepted as the law."

Federal Judges To Earn Pay On Segregation Rule

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Federal judges will earn their new salary increases as a result of the latest and most plausible proposal for solving the segregation problem in the nation's public-school system. The harassed Supreme Court may leave it to them to make the final decision on when and where to desegregate.

Under current procedure, although it has never been blueprinted definitely or satisfactorily by the high tribunal, the various states are supposed to submit their plans for implementing the anti-segregation ruling at the local level.

In hearings already held, some commonwealths from the North have reported progress, and they for-see no insuperable difficulties. In fact, they have had mixed class-room for years. But many southern and border areas have argued that it will take decades before they can upset ancient traditions, customs and local mores.

In at least five southern states, where the colored population almost equals the white, there have been reported rebodings. They insist that it will be impossible to mix the two races, and they threaten to abolish the public school structure as it operates today. They point out that it took the Supreme Court almost 80 years to change its mind about the earlier judgment in favor of "separate but equal facilities."

With logical irony, they maintain that they should be given reasonable time to revolutionize their educational and social system. They do not believe that nine men, sitting far off at Washington, are capable of passing upon what is, after all, a distinctly local question. And, such is the resentment against nation's most eminent jurists, that they do not hesitate to say so inside and outside the courtroom.

In view of these divergent circumstances, it appears impossible for the Supreme Court alone to fix time or geographical limits for carrying out such a far-reaching reform. Their honorables are not deemed infallible on this social question. Nor do they have sufficient advisory staffs to inform them on local conditions.

As now composed, there are three members from southern or border states, two from the Far West, two from the Middle West, one from New York, and one from New England. Save for two or three of the nine, none have kept in touch with the areas from which they were appointed. They have stayed close to this, denationalized Capital.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, for instance, is a virtual "foreigner" insofar as his knowledge of the racial institution in New York is concerned. Justice Felix Frankfurter is as ignorant of Texas scenes as Justice Tom Clark of the Lone Star State is unacquainted with the complexities of Yankee land. It is not a homogeneous body in any sense.

Thus the suggestion that Federal judges in the various sections be authorized to report on, recommend or oppose actual inauguration of desegregation. They would be expected to consult with local authorities, businessmen, social workers and the public generally.

Their decisions would not be final, and the Supreme Court would retain the right to overrule them, if there appeared to be any deliberate and unnecessary delay. Ultimate responsibility would rest with the top-level judiciary and the Department of Justice, which would police the field surveys.

This proposed solution has political as well as practical assets, in the opinion of its sponsors on Capitol Hill, in the Department of Justice and in the affected states.

Mist Of Question Marks Clouding Austrian Treaty

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Signing of an Austrian peace treaty after nine years of nerve-racking negotiation with the Communists marks the first time that Russian troops have withdrawn towards Moscow since they agreed to get out of northern Iran in 1946.

According to the text of the Romanian and Hungarian peace treaties of 1947, the Russians agreed to withdraw their troops from those two countries after the Austrian treaty is signed.

This would mark a further Soviet withdrawal if lived up to. But the Hungarian and Romanian treaties have been violated in many other ways. The provision is regarded as a dead letter.

Russian troops are expected to stay opposite the Austrian border—even in Hungarian and Romanian uniforms for a disguise, if necessary.

Simple facts of life like these have made many Americans skeptical of any good in the Austrian peace treaty. If the Russians do move out of their zone of occupation in Austria, pessimists expect them to move back in whenever it suits them — after the Americans, British and French move out.

Dr. Karl Gruber, Austria's Ambassador to Washington and her former Foreign Minister, has been having his difficulties in beating down speculative conclusions of this sort.

To him and to all Austrians, apparently, the new treaty is wonderful. It awards Austria her freedom for the first time since the Nazis took over in World War II. Austria offers no easy road for a possible Russian attack on either Germany or Italy, says Gruber. The Russians don't like to fight in the mountains. The Austrians make good soldiers and they have fought the Russians for centuries. They would do it again if necessary.

Limitations on the size of the Austrian army and its air force have been dropped out of the treaty draft.

Two limitations on Austria are not in the treaty but in a separate agreement between Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab and Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov. They would ban any foreign military bases on Austrian soil and prevent Austria from joining any military alliances. The Austrian Parliament is expected to make policy declarations to this effect. They present a major hazard.

These commitments would keep Austria out of NATO — the North American Treaty Organization. If the Austrians think, however, that they can be assured of any western guarantees of independence, for free, they may be mistaken.

Austria's northeastern frontier is a deep thumb stuck into Czechoslovakia and Hungary. It would take a long supply line to support Austria if attacked. It would add greatly to NATO's problems if Austria had to be included in defense plans. The easy solution would be to let Austria go and try to save Germany.

The Austrians insist that they will not become passive neutrals. They are definitely anti-Communist in their record, their government and their natural interests.

Austria's main trade ties are with the west. Over 40 per cent of Austria's trade was with eastern Europe before the war. It is now only 10 per cent. Eastern Europe no longer has surplus grain to trade.

As to why the Russians have chosen this particular time to make peace, the Austrians profess to be baffled as everyone else.

If it is bait for a reunited and disarmed Germany, the Austrians, who know the Germans, think Germany won't be fooled.

One speculative answer is that the Russians realize they are over-extended. Wanting quiet on their western front while the situation in the Orient is so tense, the Soviet may be anxious to make deals wherever it can in Europe.

Certainly, if the Austrian treaty is signed before a possible Big Four Conference of heads of government is held this summer, the Russian bargaining position will be greatly reduced.

Ambassador Replies To Red At Belgrade Is Top Reading

By HENRY McLEMORE

The most delightful reading of the year was provided by the report from Belgrade of Ambassador James Riddleberger's replies to the heavy-handed sarcasm of Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev at Marshal Tito's soiree in the White Palace.

Its one fault was its brevity. I wish that the two men could have stayed in the library half the night, and that our Ambassador could have had the time (and the inclination) to make a few more pointed remarks to his Iron Curtain companion.

He could have asked, for example, just what had happened to Stalin's son — the one named something like Vaselina. One day he was commander of the Soviet Air Force and strutting about in uniforms reminiscent of Hermann Goering's wardrobe.

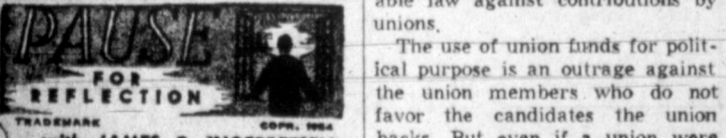

The next, Papa Stalin had gone to his reward and Vassy disappeared as though he were a magician's rabbit, and a cooperative one at that. He did make a hanger-on sort of appearance at Stalin's funeral — he stayed back in the wings as if he were a stand-in for a pallbearer — but the world hasn't seen hide or hair of Vassy since.

Of course, there is always the chance that he accidentally fell into an open manhole or went on an extended motor tour of the Steppes and misplaced his road maps or took a wrong fork, but wherever he is the world certainly is curious to know.

Ambassador Riddleberger could have cleared up another situation which has amused and annoyed a lot of other Americans besides myself. I refer to the custom of high Soviet officials when leaving America for home to take boxcars full of made-in-the-USA merchandise with them. When they get the word to return to Moscow they go on gigantic shopping sprees and sail away with boxcars of loot. The Russian mamas go up one side of the street loading up on Western luxuries and the Russian papas work the other side, gorging themselves on everything from refrigerators to clock radios.

I wish Mr. Riddleberger had acted as if he hadn't already known the answer and asked Comrade Khrushchev why they wanted all these material goods from a despised capitalist country. Surely that heavy-on-earth nation of his must have such things in super abundance, and the sellers must throw in a jar of milk and honey for free with each purchase.

This would have been a trifle rude on the part of our Ambassador, I know, but it would have tickled the soul of most Americans. Let no one tell you that the American pride in standing up and giv-

An explorer had been captured by a cannibal tribe and was already in the cooking pot when the chief offered him a last chance.

Chief — Show me something I have never seen before and I will spare you.

Chief (amazed) — You can so freely. That's the first one I've seen that works the first time!

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Although deaths from appendicitis have been greatly reduced in number they still occur; most of them could have been avoided.

If acute appendicitis is diagnosed early and the appendix is removed by surgery, there is little danger. However, much of the trouble comes because the pain may not be as severe as people expect it to be.

Consequently, they are too likely to ignore the symptoms for several days; and by that time the appendix may have ruptured and resulted in peritonitis.

Once in a while, the appendix, instead of lying near the front of the abdomen on the right side, may be twisted towards the back so that the only symptom is back pain.

The appendix can lie in some other part of the abdomen also and it is not safe, therefore, to think the pain which is in the lower right side is the only kind which can mean appendicitis.

The use of cathartics or laxatives in the presence of abdominal pain is dangerous. A laxative causes the wave-like motions of the intestines to increase.

Large waves hasten the rupture of an acutely inflamed appendix. When this happens peritonitis develops, a serious complication indeed.

Laxatives should be avoided like poison if there is the slightest suspicion of appendicitis.

To some extent food and drink also increase the wave-like motions of the intestines.

Sometimes when people have been caught in the wilderness or in some place where they cannot be operated on, the inflammation in the appendix has subsided by forbidding all food and drink and applying cold to the abdomen. This is a useful emergency measure but does not, of course, get at the root of the trouble.

The symptoms of appendicitis may be typical and easy to diagnose.

Back in the Eighteenth Century, when politics was in its infancy, the guys that ran things figured out a neat way of having their own way. First they picked out some willing stooge who would do their bidding. Then they hired a few hundred energetic liars and bade them go into the taverns and marketplaces proclaiming how popular the stooge was. The wire pullers knew that the world contains a lot of fools who will join in the praise of any dope who is said to be popular. Often they will do this to keep from becoming unpopular themselves. And because of this, the secret bosses get a lot of incompetent elected to parliaments all over the world simply by insisting that they were popular. They did pretty well. But how much better they would have done had they had something like a Gallup Poll to do the insisting for them.

Surely that heavy-on-earth nation of his must have such things in super abundance, and the sellers must throw in a jar of milk and honey for free with each purchase.

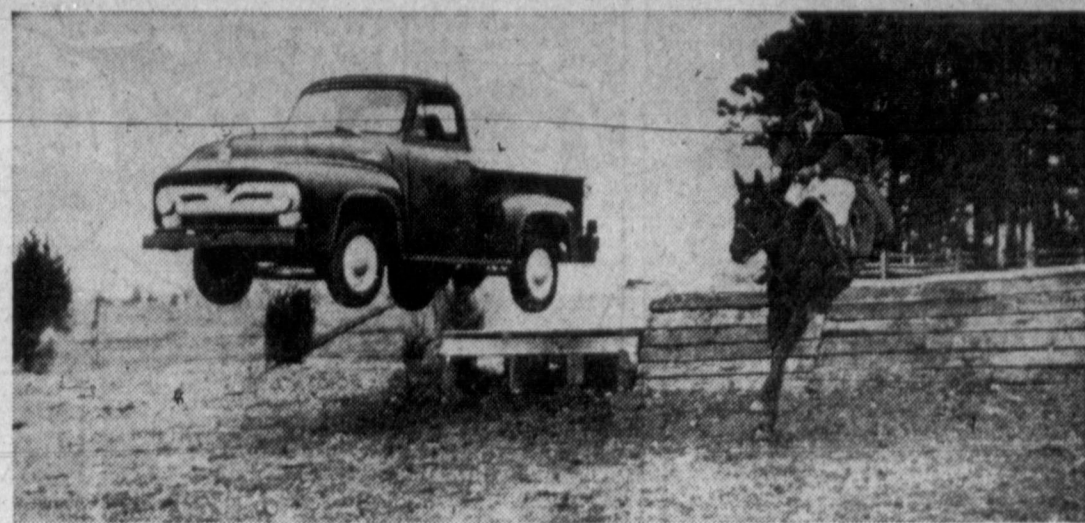

This would have been a trifle rude on the part of our Ambassador, I know, but it would have tickled the soul of most Americans. Let no one tell you that the American pride in standing up and giv-

PRELUDE TO SIDELINES—Umpire Frank Umont, right, calls time out as Minnie Minoso, star outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, lies hurt on the ground. He had injured himself sliding into third base during a game with the Washington Nationals in Washington. Eddie Yost, left, of Washington, and Sox coach George Myatt are standing anxiously by.

MONEY THROWER—Svangsta Svensson, Swedish former high jump star, is showing his dollar tossing technique at a stadium in Stockholm. Svensson claims the world's record for coin throwing, a new fad in Sweden; he says he has thrown a dollar farther than the length of a football field.

HUNTING COMPANIONS—That pickup truck sailed through the air 33 feet when it followed the hounds in a fox hunt at Charlottesville, Va. The driver said he and the horse to his right hit the jump shown here at 45 mph, as they tore over rough terrain and across streams.

PICTURE SPORTS NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

GETTING READY—Work on the three-tiered grandstand in Melbourne, Australia, is progressing as the $8,400,000 construction program for the 1956 Olympic Games moves ahead. Tourists and athletes from all over the world will be on hand for the news-making event next year.

SOCCER CRASH—The ball spins away from Ken Chisholm, left, Sunderland inside left, and right half J. Battye (4) of Huddersfield Town as the two teams clashed at Triboro Stadium on Randall's Island in New York for the benefit of American soccer fans. Sunderland won, 3-2, as 9,324 watched. Sunderland is in the U.S. as guest of the American Soccer League, and Huddersfield Town is making a tour under Canadian auspices. They are two of England's outstanding teams.

AT HOME—New York Yankees' slugging first baseman Bill Skowron, who had been sidelined with a muscle injury to his leg, is shown with his wife and six-month-old son, Gregory, in their home in the Bronx, N. Y. Looks like Bill's getting a good workout at home to keep him in top condition.

PIPE DREAM—One playground in West Berlin has a brand new attraction that's very popular. A labyrinth of colored pipes was set up in hopes youngsters would stay away from dangerous bombed-out buildings where they've played games for 10 years.

IT'S A JOKE—Although Betty London wore cowboy boots and a beard for the annual western Helldorado festivities in Las Vegas, she didn't really fool anybody. Residents and guests at the Nevada resort dress up in western clothing for the event, and pretty Betty was much in evidence.

BIG WHEEL—Youngsters give a critical eye to one of some 260 "pedal-motors" who competed in an efficiency test in Frankfurt to find Germany's smartest pedal-er. The scooter brigade watches as the rider negotiates a see-saw. Motorbikes are filling the roads in Germany these days as the latest sports craze spreads throughout the country.

IN THE DUST—Jim Delsing of the Detroit Tigers is out at second base as second baseman Gil McDougald throws ball, bottom, to first base for a double play in the game at Yankee Stadium. Bill Tuttle hit into a double play. Yankees won this, 7-6.

Dixie Duccan

PA SAID YOU SHOULD PUT THE FISH IN THE COOLER— AND WHAT ARE YOU DOING? LOOKING FOR THAT WILD MAN? I'VE BEEN ASSORTING OUR THINGS WHILE PA HANDLES THE TENT. WHEN ARE YOU GOING TO PUT IT UP? NO CRACKS, WOMAN!

The Jackson Twins

DIT! DIT! DIT! DIT! CLANG! WHAT ON EARTH IS THAT? SOUNDS LIKE A FAN GOING AWAY— MONKEY BOY'S AIR-CONDITIONER! REMEMBER HE BANGED IT PUTTING IT UP IN THE WINDOW— BUT THAT WASN'T ANY MORE OF A BUMP THAN IF IT HAD HIT A CHAIR OR SOMETHING? YOU SURE OF THAT, TWINS? GET ME A SCREWDRIVER— LANKY? LOOK AT THAT FAN! IT ISN'T EVEN METAL! NO WONDER IT CRACKED! IT'S PRACTICALLY JUST A TOY! I'M CALLING B.T. BRITTE!

Blondie

WILL YOU HOLD THE CHAIR AND LIFT YOUR FOOT SO I CAN SWEEP UNDER IT, DEAR? NOW LIFT THE OTHER FOOT TOO. IT'S IMPOSSIBLE TO LIFT BOTH FEET AND REMAIN SUSPENDED IN THE AIR. WHY DO YOU HAVE TO GIVE ME AN ARGUMENT EVERY TIME I ASK YOU TO DO SOME LITTLE THING?

Alley Oop

AW, GEE, IT'S NOT THAT BAD REALLY— O' QUILL PROBABLY TURN UP AFTER A WHILE. HOW CAN HE? YOU JUST AS MESS AS SAID A MESS OF ANIMALS GOT 'IM! OH, NO, MY GOODNESS, NO! I WARN'T ANIMALS GOT 'IM! T'WAS HUMANS? 'ATS RIGHT, UMMA, THEY KIDNAPED 'IM! WHY'D ANY-ONE WANTA KIDNAP HIM? WELL, I DUNNO, BUT PROBABLY BECAUSE HE WAS SUCH A FINE, UPSTANDIN' PHYSICAL SPECIMEN! YEH, HE WAS A HANDSOME DEVIL, WASN'T HE?

Bo

JUNIOR'S LOOKING I WANT TO IMPRESS ON SHARP WHAT A GO-GETTER— (BUSINESS MAN FOR BO?) IF YOU HAVE THE PAPERS WITH YOU I'LL START FORECLOSING ON THAT HOUSE. BUSINESS COMES FIRST WITH ME, MR. SHARP— I'M ANXIOUS TO GET ON WITH THE JOB— BESIDES, JUNIOR'S LOOKING FOR BO! YOU'RE BACK JUNIOR— AND WITHOUT BO? I DON'T FIND HIM, BUT I DID SEE TRIX AND HE WAS ALONE!

Joe Palooka

KNOBBY... LOOK, HONEST! DROPPED THE BOX WITH THE DIAMOND. NO KIDDIN'! I'LL KEEP IT. HE OWES ME DOUGH FER YEARS... YOU'LL BE ME FER PIONEER. NOPE! TH' DETECTIVES'LL WANT IT FOR EVIDENCE. LET'S GET IT APPRAISED, THO, JUST OUTA CURIOSITY, IT'S A BEAUTY. WHAT'S IT WORTH... THOUSANDS, EH... ARE YOU KIDDIN'? IT'S GLASS AND YOU CAN BUY ONE IN THE DIME STORE FOR TEN CENTS. YOU AN' YOUR HONEST FRIENDS, HONEST FRIENDS, RAISED DIAMONDS.

Marttha Wayne

EXCUSE ME— WEL, MRS. WAYNE, I SUPPOSE YOU KNOW THAT HER EXERTIONS IN YOUR SWEAT SHOP HAVE DENIED MY DAUGHTER TO A PHYSICAL COLLAPSE! I WON'T STRIVE FOR A RETORT, MR. PRIDDY, I KNOW FROM EXPERIENCE THAT YOU'RE A HIT-AND-RUN CONVERSATIONALIST. IS THAT SO? I'LL HAVE YOU KNOW I SPENT A GOOD HOUR WITH DR. ROGERS. I TOLD HIM A THING OR TWO! AND WHAT DR. ROGERS TELL YOU? SOME NONSENSE ABOUT E. CAROL BEING EMOTIONALLY UNHAPPY, IF SHE ISN'T SICK, THEN ALL SHE NEEDS IS SULPHUR AND MOLASSES!

Mutt & Jeff

JEFFS A VICTIM OF "DOLCE FAR NIENIE," WHAT EVER THAT MEANS! HE SAID THE DOC SAID HE SHOULD STAY IN BED! ALLO, MUTT! I GOTTA GET A JOB! JEFF IS SICK IN BED— "DOLCE FAR NIENIE," HE CAN'T WORK! "DOLCE FAR NIENIE" IN ITALIAN HE MEANS, "SWEET IDLENESS"— HE'S A LAZY, EH? NO FEEL LIKE WORK. Z-Z-Z-Z

Bugs Bunny

BUGS' MEN'S SHOP EVERYTHING FOR THE MAN BIG SALE! EVERYTHING MUST GO! I WANT YOU TO MEET GINNY— SHE'S TAKING HER TO THE MOVIES THIS AFTERNOON! HELLO, GINNY! NOW DON'T STAY FOR MORE THAN THREE FEATURES— HA— HA! AND DON'T FILL UP ON POPCORN! WHAT A STRANGE LITTLE GIRL! YES, SHE DIDN'T SEEM TO HAVE ANY SENSE OF HUMOR! SSST! GINNY WANTED TO LAUGH BUT SHE HAS BRACES ON HER TEETH!

Priscilla's Pop

I KNOW YOU DON'T BELIEVE IT, PRISCILLA. BUT WITH ME AND STUART IT'S THE REAL THING! I CAN PROVE IT! I CAN WALK ON AIR! STUART'S GOT HIS NERVE LEADING ME ON ALL THIS TIME!

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. Williams

NO, I'VE SEEN 'EM AROUND— I DON'T WANT TO GO UP! OH, COME ON, DAN— I WANT TO WRITE FOR THE PAPER. WHAT AN OLD TIMER THINKS OF THEM! ALL HE HAD WAS A SHovel AND HE PUT TEN YEARS ON ONE HIMSELF— I THINK HE'S A BIT JEALOUS! OKAY, MAJOR! THE FINAL REHEARSAL WAS DANDY! CONGRATS ON GETTING EVERY GAG RIGHT— YOU NOT ONLY HAVE A BETTER MEMORY THAN AN ELEPHANT BUT YOU'RE BIGGER— KYUK-KYUK! HERE'S A HALF PRICE DEAL THE KLASSE KLEANERS ARE ADVERTISING— A CHANCE FOR YOU CLONING TO GET THE EGG AND VEGETABLE SPOTS OFF YOUR SUITS CHEAP!

THE FRONT OFFICE

Steve Canyon

OH, LAWSY! HOLLY HALL DESPERATELY GATHERS THE CONTENTS OF HER SPILLED PURSE... THEN AGAIN STARTS FOR THE SIDE EXIT OF THE CAFE— AS THE SHOE PATROL SWINGS AROUND THE CORNER... HEY! DID YOU SEE A BLONDE GIRL COME OUT OF HERE? DID SO! DID SO! SHE RAN DOWN STREET TOWARD HARBOR. NAME! OH— I'M SO GLAD TO SEE YOU! THEY GO, MISSY! YOU COME NOW HOMESIDE BEFORE YOU MAMA GET BRACKE HEART LIKE SHE NOW GOT BRACKE EYES!

Vic Flint

NOW I SUPPOSE YOU'RE GONNA PLAY IT BIG, INSPECTOR, AND SHOVE ME IN A CELL! TAKE IT EASY, FLINT! C'MON, YOU CAN USE THE PHONE IN MY OFFICE TO CALL A BONDSMAN, AND WHILE BAL IS BEING ARRANGED, I'LL EVEN LET YOU BEAT ME AT GUN RUMMY! SKIP THE APPEALS, INSPECTOR. I WANT THE CHARGE AGAINST ME DROPPED. I'M NOT PLAYING GAMES WITH YOU OR ANYBODY ELSE UNTIL IT IS! OKAY, KID! STUBBORN! LOCK HIM UP BOYS!

Little Doc

HOW DO YOU SPELL SHAKESPEER, LIL' DOC? AS-H-A-K-E-S-P-E-A-R-E THAT'S THE WAY I HAD IT, THANK! SHAKSPEER SHAKSPEERE SHAKSPEERE SHAKSPEERE SHAKSPEERE SHAKSPEERE

Wash Tubbs

THE MORE I THINK OF IT, CAPTAIN, THE MORE SKEPTICAL I AM THAT SABOTEURS FILLED MUSKIE A OFF COURSE! WELL, I AGREE IT SOUNDS TOO IMPROBABLE TO JUSTIFY HALTING THE FIRING OF MISSILE NO. 5 ON SCHEDULE! THEY'D HAVE TO FIND THE EXACT SPOT WHERE IT LANDS... REACH IT THEMSELVES, THEN GET AWAY WITH IT QUICKLY BEFORE OUR RECOVERY MEN GET THERE! TO GUARD AGAINST THAT SLIM CHANCE WE'LL REACH IT AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE AFTER THE LAUNCHING, CAPTAIN! EXACTLY, FRANK! AND I THINK I KNOW HOW TO MAKE THE RECOVERY FASTER THAN USUAL!

Boots

AH-H! EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS FOR THE PALACE COTILLION, MITZIA! OH, WHEN I THINK OF WHEN IT WAS AN OCCASION FOR GREAT GINNETY! NONSENSE! HIS MAJESTY THE KING WOULD BE VERY HAPPY IF HE COULD BE PRESENT TO SEE PRINCESS WANDA ON THE ARM OF PRINCE WILLIAM! YES! I CAN'T HELP BUT WONDER IF THERE WILL BE AN ANNOUNCEMENT MADE!

Mickey Finn

OFFERING THE REWARD HAS CERTAINLY GOTTEN US NOWHERE, PHIL! NOT ONE OF THOSE PEOPLE WHO CAME IN HAD REALLY SEEN HEADACHE! I KNOW IT, ALDA! BUT SOMEBODY MUST'VE SEEN HIM AROUND— SOME PLACE! HE MUSTN'T BE AROUND HERE, PHIL! IF HE KEPT RUNNING HE COULD BE MILES AWAY BY NOW! T-THAT'S RIGHT! AND THE TROOPERS SAY IF HE EVER GETS UP INTO THE WEGGE MOUNTAINS, WE MAY NOT FIND HIM FOR MONTHS! SAY! THERE'S ONE THING WE HAVEN'T TRIED— AND I DON'T KNOW WHY WE DIDN'T THINK OF IT BEFORE!

Freckles

I WANT YOU TO MEET GINNY— SHE'S TAKING HER TO THE MOVIES THIS AFTERNOON! HELLO, GINNY! NOW DON'T STAY FOR MORE THAN THREE FEATURES— HA— HA! AND DON'T FILL UP ON POPCORN! WHAT A STRANGE LITTLE GIRL! YES, SHE DIDN'T SEEM TO HAVE ANY SENSE OF HUMOR! SSST! GINNY WANTED TO LAUGH BUT SHE HAS BRACES ON HER TEETH!

Susie Q. Smith

June Havoc Says Men Over 65 Are Really Interesting

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Aline Mosby is on vacation. Guest columnist June Havoc, star of the CBS series "Willy", praises middle-aged and over men.)

By JUNE HAVOC
HOLLYWOOD — UP — I believe a woman has to reach a certain age before she appreciates—and I mean the word appreciate in every sense—the opposite sex.

There are very few interesting men under 35. The biggest change in the most enchanting evenings I have ever spent in my life have been with gentlemen who are usually considered middle-aged or more so.

I was fortunate enough to snag a gentleman very near my own age who, through some miscalculation of Father Time, breathes all the poetry, charm and grace of another time—TV producer William Spier.

"I'm not saying there aren't others available. There are—for the discerning woman, for the woman who's willing to take the time to search for such a man, and who recognizes such a man when she sees him. I'm afraid there aren't many of us left.

My best bean a few years ago was a dreamboat pixie named Sir Charles Mendil. We went steady, with Esie's approval, for six months or so.

He took me to the beach where he planted his feet firmly in the surf, disregarding the waves that came and went, thereby causing him to sway a little more than a man of lesser confidence would have contemplated.

Charles sang to the open sea, to the sand, to the glorious day—and to me. His wit was gentle but nonetheless devastating. His charm radiated, he was and is a gallant. My idea of a perfect date.

Then Louis Verneuil, who told such delightful stories and acted them out with such finesse, gaiety and sparkle, that I shall as long as I live remember Louis as one of the gentlemen I would rather be with than any of my contemporaries.

Men are lovely creatures, but something happened to them. How I wish nature would produce more of the undeniably attractive gentlemen of Sir Charles' and Louis' vintage.

Reginald Owen is another lamb-chop, apple-tart and dream companion. When at dinner—instead of quickly appraising the younger man present—I always search for the shiny head, the silver hairs and the twinkling eyes. It makes for a much more interesting evening. I learn things I couldn't possibly learn from younger men—all my best quotes, all my best thinking, all my best humor and also whatever philosophy I may have acquired through my good luck at being chosen companion and friend of Sir Charles, Louis

Verneuil, Reginald Owen and other cavaliers in that age group. Bless 'em, I say! May all the younger men of the world grow into such dream boats, such apple-tarts such lamb-chops as they.

Overnight Stay Costs Coeds 'Privileges'

BOULDER, Colo.—UP—University of Colorado officials have deprived 28 of 30 coeds who spent the night in a mountain cabin with a group of Sigma Nu fraternity men of "special privileges" for next fall semester.

An announcement by Wally Lovelace, head of the university news bureau, said the judicial court of CU's Associated Women Students imposed penalties and found "the violation by the women in this case is that they gave falsified addresses."

Two of the coeds were not punished pending an appeal of one. The Sigma Nu fraternity was ordered last Thursday by a student-faculty committee to cut its pledging next year in half as punishment.

All 30 women, from various sorority houses and dormitories on the campus, were accused of spending the night of May 14 with their dates in an Estes Park motel after the Sigma Nu fraternity formal dance instead of returning to the addresses approved by the dean's office.

The fraternity men said their dates occupied separate quarters at the motel and there was no "partying."

Rotary Elects New President

CHICAGO—UP—A. Z. Baker, Cleveland, was elected president of Rotary International Thursday, succeeding Herbert J. Taylor, Chicago.

Baker was unopposed in the election held during the closing business session of the Rotary International convention. Also elected were the following members of the board of directors.

C. P. H. Teenstra, Hilversum, Netherlands; Spencer J. Hollands, Wallington, Surrey, England; W. B. Todd, Fort Worth; Allan W. Dakin, Iowa City, Iowa, and C. Dan Procter, Chickasha, Okla.

BRADFORD REEVES
... honor grad

Ex-Pampa Boy Is Honor Grad At Lubbock

Bradford Frank Reeves, who entered the first grade in Mrs. John I. Bradley's room at San Houston school here, was the high honor graduate of Lubbock-High School's largest class, 521 students, this spring, taking top honors in science, mathematics, and a special United Nations contest.

Bradford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Reeves, who lived in Pampa from 1936 to 1944 where Reeves was manager of the Pampa Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce and Bradford's mother was active in women's club work, P.T.A., and church activities.

Garnet Reeves Jr., now a lieutenant in the Air Force at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, an older brother of Bradford and also a former Pampa school student, was also high honor boy of his class at Lubbock in 1950. Garnet Reeves, Sr., left Pampa in 1944 to enter the insurance business at Amarillo, moving later to Lubbock where he operates his own insurance agency. He was on the program here recently at the banquet honoring Texas Highway Commissioners, past and present, following the dedication of the Canadian River Bridge.

One of the most interesting hands of the Eastern Championships came from the first event on the program, the Men's Pairs. Alfred Sheinwald, well-known New York expert and bridge author, got himself into an unsound contract, but managed to scramble to safety when the defense slipped.

Sheinwald's decision to reopen the bidding was based on the principles he stated in his excellent new book, "How to Bid and Play in Duplicate Tournaments." He wrote: "If the opponents stop at the seven or eight-trick level, you or your partner must pause before the final pass and decide whether or not to intervene."

"In many cases the last man to speak will reopen the bidding; and in some of these cases, he will find that he has stepped into a buzz saw. Nevertheless, this course will salvage many hands and will sometimes push the opponents just one trick too high instead of allowing them to make a plus score."

In this case, prompt trump leads by the defense would have reminded Sheinwald of the buzz saw, but West actually opened the king of hearts and then shifted to the ten of diamonds.

Sheinwald won the second trick with the queen of diamonds, ruffed a heart in dummy, and led another diamond towards his hand. East discarded a club, and declarer won with the ace. (East would have done better to ruff, of course, but he didn't know.)

South now cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a heart in dummy and a club in his hand, and led the queen of hearts. West couldn't gain by ruffing with the ace, and he therefore ruffed low. Dummy overruffed and led the queen of clubs, whereupon the defenders were powerless to defeat the contract.

One of the advantages of making "padding" bids is that the opponents sometimes fail to realize how far you have crawled out on the limb, and as in this case, they wind up rewarding instead of punishing you.
