LITTLE BIRD LOST

Coy Don Clay, 11, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy A. Clay, 405 Magnolia, tries to get his newly found friend, a green and yellow parakeet, to tell him where it lives. The bird was found in the garage yesterday and has been right at home since. Anyone missing a bird? (News Photo)

Blames Broken Romance

Ex-Student Says He Killed Socialite

LOS ANGELES — UP — Former UCLA law student John R. Crocker Jr., 34, confessed Wednesday a broken romance with a wealthy 25-year-old Bel Aire socialite caused him to stab her five times and then strangle her with a pearl-ornamented stole.

Detectives said Crocker, a former house-boy of the victim, Mrs. Norma Thompson McCauley, broke down under marathon questioning and confessed to the crime. He was booked on suspicion of murder.

Mrs. McCauley, prominent in Los Angeles social circles, was found beaten, stabbed and strangled Tuesday by a maid in the bedroom of her $50,000 Bel Aire home after one of the divorcee's three small children told her "mother is still sleeping."

Full Confession Taken
Crocker, a Maine-born ex-sailor, was arrested in his Los Angeles apartment several hours after the crime.

"I did it," detectives quoted him as saying.
Mrs. McCauley, clad in a red and white party dress, was found sprawled across a chaise longue. Her white lace, pearl-ornamented stole was twisted around her neck tightly and at least five stab wounds were in her body.

Detectives said Crocker, in a "full confession," said he murdered Mrs. McCauley in trying to effect a reconciliation of their alleged romance.

He Once Threatened Her
"She didn't want to and I got irritated," detectives quoted him as saying. "I still love her." He also admitted to police he once threatened to kill her "if she broke up with me."

Crocker said he "fell in love" with the society matron when he worked as her houseboy last year while studying law at UCLA. He said he was not the cause of Mrs. McCauley divorcing Frank McCauley last March 3. Crocker left the McCauley household last year when the victim separated from McCauley, 38, a World War II Air Force ace.

Prior to his confession, Crocker denied murdering the divorcee. But he refused to take a lie detector test, telling detectives, "I know enough law to know I don't have to take it."

Charcoal Burns In Freight Car

Pampa firemen stood by from 12:30 a.m. to 8 a.m. today to control a freight car fire. The new truck, used for the first time on a big fire, was used to keep a charcoal fire from spreading to other cars and to hold the damage to a minimum.

Fire chief Ernest Winborne reported the damage of 50 per cent of the load and unestimated damage to the California-bound freight car.

The fire was discovered at the Starkweather-crossing and the car was later put off on a side track so that it might be unloaded as quickly as possible.

Chief Winborne said the floor of the car would have to be replaced but thought half the load could be salvaged.

Segni Completes Cabinet Choices

ROME, Italy — UP — Premier-designate Antonio Segni Wednesday handed to President Giovanni Gronchi a cabinet list for a new pro-Western government which he hopes will end Italy's two-week-old political crisis.

Bicycle Tour Plans Near Completion

The Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, 1955 bicycle tour is near the final stage of preparation as 46 scouts have sent in their reservations for the week-long trip and today is the last day reservations will be accepted.

Approximately 160 scouts are eligible to take the tour but present plans call for taking no more than 70.

The group will assemble at Pampa's Central Park beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday to have their bicycles inspected, organize patrols, and elect leaders.

After coming in the park Saturday night the group will leave after breakfast and religious services Sunday for Wheeler, a 46 mile trip with lunch on the way.

In Wheeler they will camp on the court house lawn overnight, leaving for Shamrock at 9 a.m. Monday. In Shamrock they will set up camp at the swimming pool and be guests at a barbecue sponsored by the Shamrock Lions Club.

The next day, Tuesday, they will leave Shamrock after breakfast and begin the trip to Wellington, some 27 miles distance. In Wellington they will again set up camp at the swimming pool and watch a free movie and have a wiener roast sponsored by a group of Wellington citizens. The scouts will present a campfire program if time permits.

House Passes Pay Bill For Military

WASHINGTON — UP — The House passed and sent to the White House Tuesday a bill to pay members of the Army and Air Force twice a month.

Under present law, they are paid monthly. The Navy and Marine Corps, however, collect paychecks twice a month.

Johnson's Condition Is Better

Must Slow Down, Senator Warned

WASHINGTON — UP — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's doctor said the Texas Democrat is "better Wednesday than he has been at any time" since he suffered a "moderately severe" heart attack late Saturday.

But the doctor, James Cain of Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., emphasized it will be "five or six months" before the extent of permanent damage can be determined.

Cain added that as of now "I see no reason why the Senate Democratic leader should not be back at his desk in the 1956 session."

He Must Go Slow
If in the intervening months "he has gotten along beautifully," it is "entirely possible" that Johnson can resume his leadership duties in addition to regular senatorial work, the doctor said.

But Cain warned that Johnson will have to "slow down" if he returns to the leadership job.

"I don't think it's wise for anyone to go the way he's gone," Cain said. "I hope we can make him go at it in a little more normal way."

Hopes are High
Meanwhile, "we are all extremely hopeful that he will get over this acute attack quite well," Cain said.

Cain, a gastro-neurological specialist and an old family friend of Johnson, flew here Sunday with Dr. Howard Burchell, a May heart specialist.

Cain said at an informal news conference in Johnson's office that the Democratic leader should remain in the Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., for a month and then rest at his home here for another month.

He Can Go Home
After that, Cain said, Johnson should be able to return to Texas for recuperation.

Cain said "there can be reason to hope that he can get over it" entirely. He added that "because he has had one" heart attack it doesn't follow "that he is destined to have a second."

Asked if Johnson would ever be able to undertake a "hard campaign" again, Cain said that would depend on how the senator recovers.

"But I don't see why not if he gets all right after getting over this attack," the doctor said.

OWNER GETS LOST MONEY RETURNED IN STORE HERE

If you ask Mrs. Lou Ava Scarberry of 308 North Christy what she thinks of honest people, she can give you a big recommendation.

Mrs. John W. Adams, shopping at Karl's Shoe Store yesterday, found a roll of bills on the floor. The roll totaled $65.

Mrs. Adams handed it to Mrs. Leota Pollard, a clerk in the store. Someone would be looking for the money, she said.

This morning, a tearful Mrs. Scarberry made a check. Did anyone find a roll of bills? Mrs. Scarberry has her money back. It was her vacation-pay from F. W. Woolworth.

Dixon-Yates Foes Renew Attacks

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would be willing to cancel the controversial Dixon-Yates project if the City of Memphis, Tenn., can go ahead with construction of its own power plant.

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON — UP — Senate opponents, confidently awaiting cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract, renewed their attack on the controversial power agreement Wednesday.

Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), scheduled an afternoon hearing of his Anti-Monopoly subcommittee for more testimony on the beginnings of the contract. He called two officials of the First Boston Corp., one a former Budget Bureau consultant.

The contract also was expected to be a subject of discussion at President Eisenhower's news conference Wednesday. The President ordered a restudy of the contract last week in the wake of an announcement by the city of Memphis, Tenn., that it would build its own power plant rather than accept power from the proposed Dixon-Yates plant.

Senate-Dixon-Yates opponents Tuesday abandoned one line of attack against the project. They dropped a fight to eliminate from a pending public works money bill a $8.5 million fund to finance a transmission line linking Dixon-Yates with the government's Tennessee Valley Authority.

They contended themselves instead with a committee-approved proviso that the money would be eliminated if Memphis does carry out its announced plans to build its own municipal plant.

Giles Jury Selection Bogs Down

AUSTIN — UP — Jury selection ran into another snag Wednesday in the trial of former land commissioner, Bascom Giles, and was delayed nearly two hours on a defense challenge.

Polk Shelton, one of Giles' four defense attorneys, was upheld by Judge Charles O. Betts in his challenge of a technically on picking names of prospective jurors.

Shelton contended that names of the 300 veniremen picked from a jury wheel had not been shuffled before both sides began questioning them on qualifications Tuesday.

Half Of Washington Prison Under Control Of 800 Men

By RUSS NEILSEN
WALLA WALLA, Wash. — UP — A band of rioting convicts held sway over half the Washington State Penitentiary Wednesday while prison officials weighed their terms for the release of seven hostages as a "zero hour" neared.

Spokesmen for the 800 convicts said they would release the seven men unharmed at 3 p.m. (6 p.m. est) Wednesday if prison officials showed "sincerity" in dealing with the demands.

The spokesmen for the prisoners met with three reporters Tuesday night only hours after the riot, triggered by 35 maximum security convicts, swept through the prison.

Riots Erupted in Center
Prison Business Manager William Connell said the riot began while officials were interviewing new inmates in the prison guidance center.

Rioters broke into the room and overpowered officials and guards. B. W. Fain, recreation officer, was knocked unconscious when he resisted the rioters and was revived and treated at the prison hospital where several stitches were taken in his forehead.

Four Wings Seized
Armed with knives and razor blades, the rioters took control of Wing No. 1, a maximum security block and the kitchen and dining room. They moved into Wings 4, 5 and 2 and tried to get control of Wing 6 but were halted.

"This place above all things is a hate factory," said one of the rioters Tuesday night after convicts had issued a statement listing grievances.

The two-page statement was given to Dr. Thomas Harris, state institutions director. The main grievance centered on isolation in "the hole."

Ouster Demanded
The rioters also scored the classification and parole planning department at the prison and demanded the ouster of its head.

Before issuing the statement, the convicts aired their grievances at meetings with prison authorities late Tuesday afternoon.

Harris said three men who spoke for the convicts did not disclose what they intended to do if their demands were not met. They already had threatened to kill the hostages if violence was used against the rioting inmates.

There May Be Violence
The convicts were believed to be in control of enough food to last them a week. They had access to shops, control room, kitchen and dining room and could roam freely through half the prison.

Harris said he hoped the riot might be settled without bloodshed but added "there might be violence."

Hostages held included a parole officer, five prison officials and a guard. They released Al Rembolt, captain of the guards, with the message that if violence were done to the convicts, the hostages would be harmed.

Russia Bars British Fishermen
LONDON — UP — Russia Wednesday barred British fishermen from Soviet coastal waters. Shipowners radioed messages to their vessels warning of the danger of capture.

The Soviet government refused at the last moment to renew a 25-year-old treaty which allowed British trawlers to operate up to three miles from the Russian coast. The treaty ended at midnight.

Reporter Hears Gripes Of Inmates

WALLA WALLA, Wash. — UP — Now I know the difference between "the hole" and "the hole with bedsheets."

I was one of three reporters who met on the second floor of Wing 1 Tuesday night with about a dozen spokesmen for the 800 convicts now controlling half the Washington state prison and the fate of seven hostages.

One of the convicts took me on a guided tour past cells used for isolation purposes. Convicts call it "the hole" as compared with segregation which is termed "the hole with bedsheets."

Isolation Major Point
The question of isolation punishment was one of the major points in a two-page statement issued by the spokesmen Tuesday night. The men said then they felt every man should have a trial or a hearing prior to being placed in isolation and, while waiting trial, should be restricted to his cell.

I saw little signs of damage. The convicts call this a "collective rebellion," not a riot.

One convict claimed he had not had a shower for the past two or three weeks.

No Hope Here
"There's nothing but men with no hope here," said one of the spokesmen.

"We listened to the officials last year (when the convicts went on a four-day hunger strike) and tried everything out and we were let down," one of the men told me.

The men were very orderly and very lenient. They unfolded their grievances and told us to come back Wednesday at three with an offer from the administration. If that satisfies them, they said, the hostages will be released.

Air General Found Dead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — UP — Brig. Gen. Clinton D. Vincent 40, recently appointed deputy chief of staff for operations at the Continental Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, was found dead in his bed Tuesday.

Vincent had reported last Friday for his new assignment from Hamilton Air Force Base near San Francisco. His family still is in California.

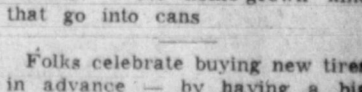

The World War II ace was a native of Gale, Tex., and was graduated from West Point. He served with the Flying Tigers and was credited with shooting down six Japanese planes.

Non-Farm Employment At New High

WASHINGTON —UP— 1954 non-agricultural employment in four Southwestern states advanced 13,400 over April to reach an all-time high for May, the U. S. Department of Labor, reported Wednesday.

The current level of 1,773,300 represents a gain of 70,700 over the same month last year as all states, except Louisiana, shared in the increase.

The other states are Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

The department said the upswing for May over April was reflected by increased manufacturing activity, the settlement of scattered labor disputes and seasonal upswings in contract construction and service industries. These gains more than offset modest seasonal downturns in trade and government establishments.

The manufacturing employment moved upward 10,700 during May to a level of 730,000, approximately 16,500 over last year.

Texas accounted for $,600 of the current advance while the other states shared the remainder. Gains during the past year ranged from an increase of $,500 in Texas to a decline of 2,500 in Louisiana.

Principal upswings during the past year occurred in the lumber, metals, machinery, apparel and chemicals industries. Declines of 1,400 and 1,200, respectively, occurred in the defense related industries of ordnance and instruments. Employment in the petroleum refining group remained virtually unchanged during the month and over the year.

Letter Praises Gray Ladies

The volunteer efforts of Pampa's Red Cross-sponsored Gray Ladies were shown sincere appreciation by at least one Pampa citizen today in a letter to the editor of the News.

Mrs. Nora Jackson, 108 McCullough, said in her letter, among other things, "May I, a widow, alone in the world, express my opinion and deepest gratitude to the Gray Ladies of the Pampa area. Words fail, I can only say it would have been next to impossible to have carried on these last five years since my husband's death. They not only furnished transportation when needed, they gave spiritual strength when they so freely gave their time, energy, etc."

Radio Club Picks Officers

The Pampa Amateur Radio Club held their annual election of officers at the club station, east of town, yesterday at 8 p.m. The group set the regular meeting dates for the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Gordon Hallenbeck, of C & M Television, was elected president. Other officers for the coming year are: Wayne Howell, vice-president; Henry Gruben, secretary-treasurer; and Herman Whalley, trustee.

Outgoing officers were James Bailey, President, and Bill Faulconer, secretary-treasurer. About 25 members belong to the local organization.

Thinks Red Atomic Work Excellent WASHINGTON —UP— A top U.S. atomic official said Tuesday the Russians appear to be doing "excellent work" on atomic energy. Dr. William F. Libby, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, made the statement on the basis of abstracts of Soviet papers to be presented to the forthcoming international atomic conference at Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 6-20.

Turncoats Going Home

HONG KONG —UP— Authoritative information received here Wednesday said the three American turncoats who want to return home from Red China are en route south from Peiping by train for Hong Kong.

These sources said the three should reach Canton on Friday and will be handed over to American authorities in Hong Kong at 1 p.m. (12 midnight est) Saturday.

All preparations have been made here by U.S. authorities to give the three men a cool welcome.

The U.S. consulate here was informed through Peiping diplomatic channels of the intended delivery of the Americans who those commission after the Korean war and then changed their minds.

Jet Crashes After Take-Off

RAPID CITY, S. D.—UP— An F-86-D jet fighter crashed shortly after taking off from the Ellsworth Air Base near Rapid City early Wednesday. The pilot was believed killed.

The jet, which belonged to the 54th Fighter Squadron, crashed one and a half miles north of Ellsworth on the Fred Tambo Ranch in Meade county.

It was believed mechanical difficulties caused the crash, which occurred a short distance from the spot where a B-36 crashed last August, killing 26 of 27 persons aboard.

TEC Lists Jobs Open

Recent listings with the local office of the Texas Employment Commission include varied positions.

Female openings include: cocktail waitress, cook, maid, room-clerk, waitress, bookkeeper, and combination stenographer and bookkeeper.

Recent openings for men are: a dairy man with milking machine experience, married, and between 30-35; an auto mechanic with experience in dealership garage, restaurant cook, and stenographer.

Pastor's Son Chats With Russian Bigwig

HOUSTON —UP— The son of a Houston minister had a chat with Soviet strong man Nikita Khrushchev Monday, the minister said here Tuesday.

When Khrushchev was leaving a huddle at the U.S. embassy in Moscow, he encountered U.S. Air Force Maj. William T. Fife, son of Rev. Earl Fife, pastor of Memorial Christian Church here.

"My son told me by radio that the Russian said to him: 'I don't want war and you don't want war, but if there is another war I hope we will be on the same side,'" the Rev. Fife said.

Mr. Fife said his son told him he shook hands with Khrushchev and they parted.

Maj. Fife is assistant U.S. air attaché in Moscow. He served as a paratrooper in World War II and saw action in the South Pacific.

Of the 451 different kinds of manufacturing in the United States 365 kinds are found in Michigan.

Level Border Irrigating Proves Boon In Hansford Co.

SPEARMAN —(Special)— The most noted change in the irrigation of Hansford County is the rapid increase of the level border system; one designed and built so it will take a certain amount of water, in a given period of time and distribute it evenly, the entire length and width of each border.

Joe and Roy Chase, near Gravel, have the largest project, 200 acres, using level borders at the present time. They say they believe this system will do away with uneven growth of field crops; an aggravating condition always found in graded and grade-row irrigation system is expensive but the farmers who are using it say they are sure the elimination of wasting water, will make it pay in the long run. Level borders give the operator complete control of the irrigation water at all times.

Harry Crooks, who farms 11 miles east of town, has 49 acres under level border irrigation and he says he believes they control the rainfall distribution, too.

Bill Hutton and the Hale Brothers, at old Hansford, have adopted the system in about 35 acres each and they say their level borders are tops in both soil and water conservation.

Farmer Dumps Cantaloupes

TYLER —UP— A Tyler farmer, who angrily declared he couldn't get two cents for his cantaloupes because stores were selling Arizona melons, faced peace disturbance charges Wednesday for trying to dump a truckload of them on the downtown square.

The farmer, W. Carl Wester of the Whitehouse community, was arrested by Tyler police after he threw half a dozen of the melons from the truck.

Western then offered to give Tyler police his melons. Instead, police offered to buy some. Wester sold officers two bushels for $1 each.

Real Estate Board Hears Williams

Quantin Williams, newly elected director of the Texas Real Estate Association from Pampa, gave the principal address at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Pampa Real Estate Board in Johnson's Cafe yesterday.

Williams spoke to approximately 17 members and guests, giving an abbreviated report on the annual meeting of the State Association held recently in San Antonio. The group also briefly discussed the new state real estate law under the administration of the Texas Real Estate Commission, which sets forth the requirements for operating as real estate brokers or salesmen.

WATER WRANGLE IN THE WEST

Water is a hot issue in the semi-arid West and in the halls of Congress. The antagonists: Those who believe in federal development of water resources and power vs. those, including President Eisenhower, who would like Uncle Sam to get out of the picture entirely—to be replaced by private utility interests. The battle boils around two projects—Hells Canyon, only big undeveloped water and power site in the U.S., and the upper Colorado project. Latter fight centers on the proposed Echo Park dams. At Hells Canyon, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation blueprinted a 722-foot-high, $600,000,000 dam across the 7000-foot-deep gorge of the Snake River. Idaho Power Company wants the job and proposes to build three small dams costing only $154,000,000. Map shows principal water developments in the West and the states affected.

Cancelled Check Hassle Holds Up Giles Trial

By LLOYD LARRABEE
AUSTIN—UP—The trial of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles on a charge he stole $6,800 of state money bogged down Tuesday in a legal argument before a single juror was chosen.

The argument was between District Attorney Les Proctor and J. Paul Little, a Crystal City attorney who has also been indicted in the veterans land scandals but not in the same transaction that Giles is being tried for his dealings.

The trial is the first to come up in court since the scandals were first uncovered in the multi-million dollar veterans land program.

Asked for Cancelled Checks Proctor warned Little to show up with certain cancelled checks he had been ordered to appear with. Little said his attorney, Everett Looney, had the checks.

Looney was in the court room and said he had the checks but refused to turn them over to the judge, Charles O. Betts.

poena calling for them. The description of the checks called for was not audible to newsmen, but most of them apparently did not meet the description.

Referred to $40,000 Check
Once Proctor was heard to refer to a check for $40,000. Looney replied: "There is no such check."

Finally two were found that Looney said appeared to be ones Proctor wanted although he said they did not match the description perfectly.

Betts then ordered Looney to keep the checks and to have them available.

One of Giles' attorneys, Polk Shelton, objected earlier when Proctor tried to get some documents he had ordered Giles to appear with.

"I'm sure it couldn't be beneficial to the defendant or the state wouldn't want it," Shelton said. Betts noted for the record that defense counsel "failed or refused to furnish the documents."

Venue of 300 Called
A venire of 300 was called to select a jury from. Giles sat at the counsel table with his son Rogan and appeared affable and smiling.

Five Children Killed In RR Mishap In Wis.

DARIEN, Wis.—UP—A Milwaukee road train struck an automobile containing 11 persons Tuesday, killing five children and their mother.

The father watched horrified from the porch of his parents' home some 200 feet away as the speeding passenger train ripped into the car.

Walworth County Sheriff John W. Cusack said the driver of the car, son, a Negro, who was dismissed without explanation.

The state also dismissed one of the three counts of the indictments against Giles. That he conspired to steal the $6,800 of state money. The two counts which remain accuse him of being an accomplice to the theft and with actually stealing it.

During the morning, attorneys also found time to question two veniremen, one of whom was dismissed when he said he had already formed an opinion about the case and the other, General Jack-

Beatrice Smith, 21, who was critically injured, could have driven 300 yards farther and taken an overpass across the tracks.

He said the accident occurred at an unauthorized, unmarked crossing where the visibility down the track was only 30 feet.

Harriet Smith, 35, a sister of the driver and her children, Larry Albert, 13, Keith, 6, Jacquelyn, 4, Debbie, 1 and Skipple, 3-month-old died in the wreck at 8:28 a. m. Four were killed outright and Larry Albert and Jacquelyn died in an Elkhorn, Wis., hospital.

Other Smith children in critical condition at Lakeland hospital in Elkhorn were Betty Lou, 9, Leland, 12, Susie, 7 and Cheryl, 2.

Guilty Plea Made In Check Case

Leroy Johnson, 200 Tignor, pleaded guilty to a charge of swindling with worthless check in County Court this morning and was fined $1 and costs and made restitution for the check.

The complaint was filed by Mayo's Magnolia Service on a $20 check date June 26, 1955.

Army May Decide Election In Brazil, Not The Voters

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The presidential election to be held in Brazil Oct. 3 may be decided by the army, not the voters.

It was the army which forced President Getulio Vargas to resign last August because it did not like the way things were going. Vargas shot himself a few hours later.

Two Vargas men seem to be ahead, as of now, in the race for the October election.

They are Juscelino Kubitschek who is running for president, and Joao Goulart, his running mate as vice presidential candidate.

Army Threatens Interference
Army leaders object violently to Goulart. They object so violently in fact, that they have warned they may intervene unless he withdraws.

Vargas was of the "iron man" type of Latin American president. But he was supported by leftists. Goulart was his minister of labor. One of Goulart's accomplishments, incidentally, was to put through a 100 per cent increase in the Brazilian minimum wage. Army opposition compelled him to resign shortly before Vargas was forced out.

There is open talk in Rio de Janeiro that unless Goulart agrees to withdraw his candidacy, the be the real power at the moment — are chiefly interested simply in keeping things quiet.

Brazil, like some other Latin American countries, is suffering from inflation and a general economic crisis.

Brazil is important to the United States and its allies. It is larger than the continental United States, with 3,287,842 square miles of territory. Its population of about 57 million is by far the largest in the Western Hemisphere outside the United States.

Dogs Rate High For Calendar Art But Can't Replace Marilyn Monroe

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Women's Editor NEW YORK — (NEA) — If you don't like dogs, then this story isn't for you.

That's because it concerns two people who love dogs, find them richly rewarding companions, good friends and wonderful instructors, Stern disciplinarians, too. The people are the well-known George and Helen Papashvily who, by way of paying tribute to some of their many canine companions, have written a book called "Dogs and People."

Dogs, you may be startled to learn, are the second most popular subject for calendar art. They may not replace Marilyn Monroe but they're steady favorites. Not only that, they have peculiar food habits, just like people.

"We had a dog," Helen Papashvily explains, "who loved green grapes. If I put a bag in the refrigerator, Murks stood and stared at the door. And we heard of two Dalmatians who were so fond of raw tomatoes that they ate a pound apiece every day."

Actually, the Papashvily says, dogs can eat anything that people can without harmful effects. But they should never have starches or fats if they replace other food. And it isn't kindness to feed a dog chocolate cherries even if he indicates he wouldn't mind in the least. Actually, most dogs dislike sugar.

After food, housing is most important to a dog. The canine members of the Papashvily household never sleep outdoors since they feel that a dry, warm place at night is essential.

"Ours have worn out four hooked rugs in 15 years," Helen Papashvily says. "I've found that with patience I can make new ones at home at about the same rate."

The Papashvily dogs are never bathed even though their sleeping quarters are always kept immaculately clean. If this seems a paradox, the reason for it is that dog odor is not really normal. It's a danger signal to be treated by a veterinarian rather than by frequent baths. But regular combing and brushing during the shedding season is important and helps to make the dog more comfortable.

ing a dog, a dependent that must be fed, walked, brushed and cared for in sickness?

Well, this is the way the Papashvily put it: "What purpose did they serve, all the good dogs that once ran through the world and wait now in the shadowy quiet of the past?"

"They lightened our burdens and drove away our enemies and stayed when others left us. They gave aid and comfort, protection and security. They held a mirror wherein we might see ourselves as we long to be. They gave us a glimpse of the world beyond the arrow confines of our own species."

"And although we make dull students, slowly they help us learn how to command and to protect with wisdom and justice and imagination."

Hose Knowledge Aids The Budget

When she shops for hosiery, the well-informed woman should make it a point to find out the facts about the stockings she wears. She should know what is meant by "denier" and "gauge." And the exact difference between "full-fashioned" and seamless stockings. Such knowledge can mean a lot to the budget.

The loop formation you see in your sweaters is the same knitting principle used in making stockings. The big difference is that much finer needles and yarn are used for hose. So "gauge" tells you how many of the finer needles are used in each inch and one-half of the stocking fabric. The higher the gauge number, the more tiny stitches packed into a limited area. So, a 66-gauge stocking, having more needles, is much heavier than a 51-gauge stocking.

"Denier" describes the weight or thickness of nylon yarn. A 15-denier stocking is half as fine as a 30-denier stocking.

A 15-denier yarn knit on a 51-gauge machine will be a very sheer stocking because it has less stitches packed into the basic measure. When a 15-denier yarn is knit on a 60-gauge machine, extra needles bring the yarn loops closer and produce a heavier stocking. Bringing the stitches closer together closes up the loop spaces, giving the stocking greater resistance against snags and tears.

While 31-31 stocking is very sheer a 15-60 stocking is sheer, too, and gives longer wear.

Wedding gown for the junior bride (left) is ankle-length, combines Val lace with nylon tulle. Bands of nylon lace form snug bodice and double layers of nylon tulle make the bouffant skirt. Simple but elegant costume for the informal wedding (right) is in tulle, a mixture of wool and nylon. This is a fragile-looking fabric that has great strength, will retain its shape. Sheath dress is sleeveless, scoop-necked. We show it in mauve.

THE ANTICIPATED DELIGHT of a family vacation in the country can be marred by numerous mishaps. What can you do about seeing that it turns out to be the wonderful time you and your family are hoping for? How can you avoid the pitfalls that the vacationer occasionally encounters on the road of while swimming, fishing, canoeing and hiking in the woods? And what can you do toward fulfilling a holiday's ultimate aim of coming back a really refreshed new person?

PREPARE FOR IT safety-wise and health-wise as well as pleasure-wise. This is the advice of accident prevention specialists in workmen's compensation insurance. They offer this list of vacation suggestions because their business is safety, on and off the job.

Careful planning before leaving will help eliminate many common vacation dangers that can occur.

- 1. Have tires and car checked. A day or two of being without the car is better than getting a flat tire or mechanical trouble on the trip. 2. Pack proper fishing clothes for protection against wind, sunburn and insects. Also put a pair of heavy duty cutting pliers in your husband's tackle box to remove fishing hooks which somehow seem to always catch on other things than the fish. 3. Plan for gloves, long sleeves and leggings for hikes in the woods to ward off poison ivy, oak or sumac poisoning. (Incidentally, you can recognize poison ivy by its oval-shaped leaves. They grow in groups of three and the mature plants have white, waxy berries.) 4. Get sunglasses, sun hats and protective sun burn ointments. 5. Take along a complete first aid kit. 6. Put aside some books and games to keep the children from getting restless on the trip.

ONCE YOU'VE SETTLED in your vacation cottage, it's a good idea to establish a restful schedule for your family to avoid "dog days" fatigue. Get adequate sleep, follow a diet rich in fruits and vegetables, drink plenty of cool water. Also follow these rules:

- 1. SUNBATHING — Don't bask in the sun more than 5 minutes on the first day. Avoid sunbathing between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. when the sun is the hottest. 2. SWIMMING — Wait two hours after eating. Never swim alone. Don't jump into cool water when overheated. Dive only when you're sure the water is deep enough and free of obstructions. 3. FISHING — Keep the children from fiddling in the boat. (Water deep enough for fishing is deep enough for drowning.) Bring along a flask of drinking water; don't permit the children to drink lake or stream water. Always sterilize wounds, scratches and punctures suffered from hooks and fish teeth. 4. BOATING, CANOEING — Watch out for overloading; have the weight evenly distributed. Non-swimmers should don life preservers. 5. DURING A STORM — Stay indoors whenever possible; keeping away from the chimney, fireplace and all metal objects. If you are out in a boat, head for shore and run for a valley or thick grove of trees when lightning starts. Assuming you and your loved ones a safe vacation does entail some planning and preparation but, remember, it's worth the effort.

OLD-FASHIONED FRESH BLUEBERRY PIE is a taste thrill which everyone should experience.

COOK'S NOOK

New Jersey Woman Provides New Sauce For Peas, Carrots

By GAYNOR MADON NEA Food and Markets Editor How does this sound — broiled chicken, fresh peas and carrots in a delicately flavored sauce, buttered new potatoes, tart grapefruit salad, and then old-fashioned fresh blueberry pie? That's what you would get at the home of Mrs. Robert T. Cochran of Summit, N.J.

Mrs. Cochran, wife of a prominent fresh fruit and vegetable dealer, gave us two really fine recipes to try. Everyone in our family raved.

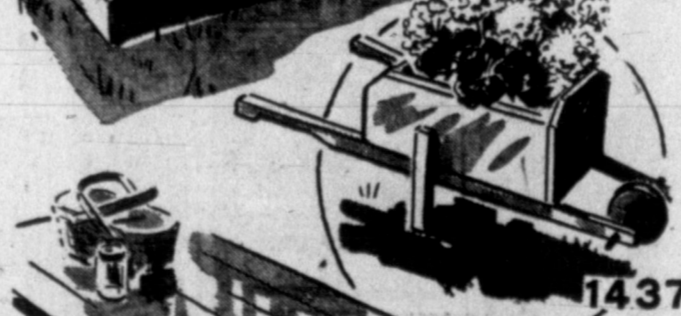

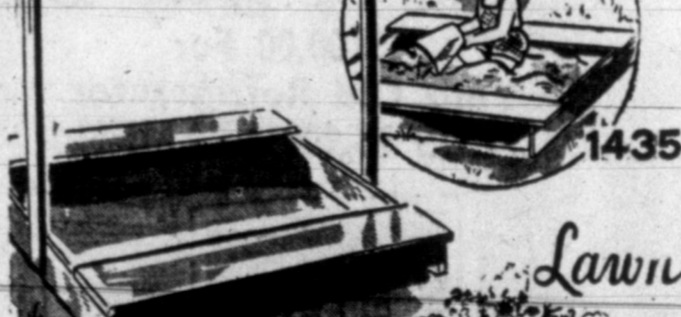

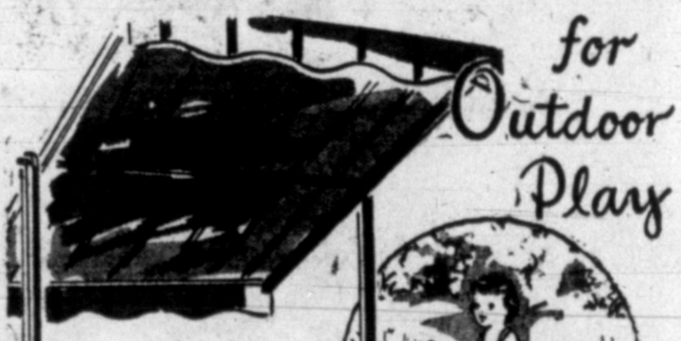

Herbed Creamed Fresh Peas and Carrots (Yield: 6 servings) Two cups sliced fresh carrots, 1-inch boiling water in pan, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 pound fresh peas, shelled; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; 2 tablespoons flour; 1 cup vegetable water and milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper, 3-4 teaspoon ground sweet basil.

Place carrots in saucepan with boiling water and the 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cover. Cook until crisp-tender (about 8 minutes), adding peas F., 15 minutes before cooking time is up. Drain liquid from vegetables. Measure and add milk to make 1 cup. (Set aside for later use). Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Stir in the cup vegetable water and milk. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add seasoning, peas and carrots. Fresh Blueberry Pie (Yield: 6 servings) Five cups fresh whole blueberries, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie.

Combine first 5 ingredients. Turn into a 9-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry. Dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with lemon juice. Top with 8 strips of pastry rolled 1/8-inch thick, cut 1-3/4-inch wide and one-inch longer than the width of the pie. Trim, turn under, and flute edges. Bake 40 minutes or until crust is brown in a preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.).

"Spreading a cracker" isn't what it sounds like. It's one mother's gambit for the age when Baby is given a cracker and throws it on the floor. She breaks it up in little pieces and puts it around on the high chair tray. He picks up the little pieces one by one and eats them — or throws them on the floor.

Wheat Price Up Two Cents

WASHINGTON — UP — The Agriculture Department Tuesday increased the national average support price for 1955-crop wheat to 2.08, up two cents from the minimum price announced last fall. The rise was forecast in the monthly price report issued last week. The average support price of $2.08 a bushel compared with the support price of $2.24 a bushel for the 1954 crop. The increase in the support results from a higher June, 1955, wheat parity price than the August 1954 price used to determine the minimum support announced last Sept. 16. At that time, the department said if the wheat parity as of June 1, 1955, was higher than the $2.50 parity price of August, 1954, the 82 1-2 per cent of parity minimum support would be increased. The June, 1955, parity price was $2.52, resulting in an increase of two cents a bushel above the minimum support announced last fall. The support rate for the 1956 crop already has been set at $1.81, or 76 per cent of parity.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Mark 12:28-34

The sense of guilt disrupts life. Motives become mixed, the mind becomes confused, emotions develop instability, restlessness overtakes us, fears fill every waking hour, and peace completely disappears. Every soul has had these experiences.

Certain definite physical results can be noted. All of us are familiar with the physical effects of fear—the sudden flash of heat in the face, the racing pulse, the accelerated breathing, the tense muscles, the trembling limbs.

But not all of us are aware that the sense of guilt produces equally significant physical changes. The lie detector is common use by modern police departments is a scientific instrument which measures physical reactions of a person suspected of a crime, and furnishes evidence of guilt or innocence.

The psychologists and physiologists have discovered that guilt produces definite physical reactions which can be measured, reactions that are not present in the innocent. The individual who goes on day after day defying his conscience is producing definite physical changes in his body as well as disastrous alterations in his mental processes.

The human system, being adjusted to minute experiences and sensitive to delicate stimuli, must be cared for with infinite pains. "Living is hard work." Millions of

Roofing Pot Causes Fire

ARLINGTON, Tex. — UP — One house under construction was burned Tuesday and three others damaged when a roofing pot overturned. Only the framework was up on the house that was destroyed. The others were at various stages of completion. The fire started shortly before noon in the Harold Smith addition in the southeast part of town. An estimate of damage was not immediately available.

Editors Criticize Vaccine Censorship

WASHINGTON — UP — A spokesman for the American Society of Newspaper Editors has criticized the Eisenhower administration for holding back information on the Salk polio vaccine and the danger of "fallout" from H-bomb explosions. The criticism was made by J. Russell Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, and chairman of the ASNE's Freedom of Information committee, in a nationwide radio interview ("Reporters' Roundup, NBC). Wiggins said any administration should give "all relevant material bearing upon great national issues" to the public. He said public confidence in the Salk polio vaccine program was shaken because the government failed to tell the public some of the disadvantages and defects early enough. Wiggins referred specifically to the fact that some earlier meetings of scientists with officials of the U. S. Public Health Service on the Salk program were held in secret. "...It was only after a very energetic protest, led by Lyle Wilson of the United Press, that some of the subsequent meetings were opened up," he said. This referred to dispatches on the closed-door meetings written by Lyle C. Wil-

Mother Accuses Mexican Police

FORT WORTH — UP — A Fort Worth woman said Tuesday she believes her son is in a Mexican jail but that Mexican police deny holding him. Mrs. Ruby Brown revealed her fears in seeking help from Fort Worth police. She said her son, Leonard Brown, 20, of Decatur, Tex., went to Ciudad Acuna, Mex., across the border from Del Rio, Tex., Sunday with three friends. Bobby McQuinn of Fort Worth, one of the friends, told her on returning that Leonard was in a fight with Ciudad Acuna police, was pistol whipped and taken away, Mrs. Brown said. Mrs. Brown phoned border patrol officers at Del Rio early Tuesday and was told Ciudad Acuna police deny holding anyone of her son's description. The worried mother said she also was told that a U.S. soldier was shot during the Ciudad Acuna disturbance and reportedly was taken to a Brownville hospital.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

You certainly ought to come see why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list. It's a Buick Riviera, of course. Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible—a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view. But that's only the beginning. Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear. Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.) Here, too, you get wholly new structural principles in body design and strength that give this beauty the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom. And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment. For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom—yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length. So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick—power, ride, handling—and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all-time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

NOW—Biggest Trade-in Deals ever on the Biggest-Selling Buicks in History!

Teen Topics

By MARLENE KOLB

Boom, crack, and pop! That's what it did all week end, no? Did everyone have a good time over the Fourth? Know of some who did — Buster Brown, his mother and brother Joe made a jaunt to Alamogordo, N.M., and took in Jusez and El Paso, too.

The Central Baptist Church youth "tore up" Palo Duro Canyon, where they held an all-day picnic. Thomas Holligan, Marvin Webber and Wayne Smith are just three of the "all the way to the top" hill climbers. Nearly everybody else took a crack at it too.

And Allen Hoffman and Jackie Becker plus other cronies tried their best to "drown" Erma Dean Marchman, Mary Ann Becker, and most of the other girls. Mmmmm fun? Mmmmm fun!

HAVE A SNEAKING suspicion that you haven't been living right or that something is lacking in your life? Go to the Youth Revival at the Calvary Baptist Church this week — Buddy Johnson is a convincing preacher. Sam Randolph is youth pastor for the week, and Jaquin Robertson is working with Nat Lunford on the music. Time is 8 p.m. each evening.

Never saw the like of new faces in Pampa's teen crowd! Hearty welcome goes out this week to Joe and June Anne Thompson who have moved here from Wellington. Joe is a '35 grad, and June Ann will be a senior next school year. Their address is 741 N. Wells.

And to guests visiting the Ray Bourlands and the Jim Leverichs from Houston and Wichita, Kans. Ann Corrigan and her brother Joe, Houston, and Dianne Burson, Wichita, were being shown the town the other night by Thera Warner. The girls are staying with the Bourlands and Joe at the Leverichs. They will probably be here till Sunday.

Are you starting now to get ready for the Top o' Texas Rodeo? It's not too long off, you know.

Time out from all the hurry and confusion of rush season to introduce the new Kit Kat and Sub Deb officers:

Kit Kat Klub president is Rhona Finkelstein; vice president, Cynthia Cantrell; secretary, Cynthia Duncan; treasurer, Jerry Hill; parliamentarian, Wadene Thomason; reporter, Sandra Walsh; Historian, Carol Henry.

To take the reins of Sub Deb at the end of Rush are Carol Caines, president; Barbara Arney, vice president; June Smith, secretary; Mary Phippen, reporter; Sarah Hamley, treasurer; Shirley Epps, historian; and Jerrie Shelton, parliamentarian.

DOES ANYONE know how plans for the Youth and Community Center are coming? Just because it's summer and the kids can spend more time out-of-doors doesn't mean that we don't still need some place to go for recreation and dancing these evenings.

Many teen faces are seen around Pampa's businesses this summer: Bob Schoofield, Bill Russell, Hubert Duncan — Pampa Foundry . . . Bob Prigmore — General Atlas . . . Danny Johnson — Levines . . . Marlene Bowers — Highland General Hospital . . . Johnny Welton — KPAT . . . Jenny Collins — Ward's Super Market . . . Gayle Trollinger — Cree Drilling Co. . . Margie Roundtree — Bentley's . . . Roger McWaters and Don Prigmore — Cabot Carbon Co.

Every once in awhile during these long summer days, do you find that you have some time in between running here and dashing back from there? Ah! That is a good time to read your Bible. To "Search the Scriptures."

"Dig deep in this precious gold- en mine, Toil, and its richest ore is thine. Search, and the Saviour will lead you his way"

To draw its wealth from its mystic shade, Strive, and his Spirit will give thee light To work in this heavenly mine aright; Fray without ceasing, in him confide, Into all truth his light will guide."

Don't the new streets with no houses-in-between north of the cemetery and on the west side of N. Hobart look odd and wonderful? We're growing!

Be good till next week? Remember that we're only young once — let's make the most of it. o.k.? Crazy, man, crazy!

Talbott Sold On Colorado As Site For Air Academy

Editor's Note: This is the second of three dispatches on the U. S. Air Force Academy that opens next week in its temporary Denver quarters.

By JACK WILKINSON

DENVER — UP — "When I first saw the Colorado Springs site, I knew here was the place for the Air Academy," said Secretary of Air Harold Talbott.

But picking the site was not as easy as that, Talbott and his five-man board spent several months searching for the right location, weighing carefully 64 proposed sites.

"We traveled thousands of miles," Talbott said. "We looked over every proposed site very carefully. When we made our decision, we were sure we had what we wanted. I don't think we could have picked a better spot than the one we did."

By the process of elimination, Talbott and his aides narrowed the field down to three sites: Colorado Springs, Alton, Ill., and Lake Geneva, N. Y. But, not everyone wanted the academy. For instance, John McColow, a Lake Geneva attorney, filed suit in U.S. District Court there to restrain Talbott from picking Lake Geneva, then joined two other residents to go to Washington and protest in person.

Air Force Offered Cash Colorado Springs on the other hand, made a sustained and determined bid for the school. With former Gov. Dan Thornton leading the way, the state legislature appropriated $1 million to buy land to offer the Air Force if Colorado Springs were chosen.

The first controversy to pop up after Colorado Springs was selected was the problem of mountain flying. More than one voice was raised in protest to potential airmen having to learn flying near the Rockies. But academy officials assured all in a public statement that courses at the academy would be "preparatory to flying only" and that actual flying would be elsewhere.

Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) who had waged a strong, but unsuccessful campaign to gain the academy for Camp Beale, near Marysville, Calif., brought up the matter of water. He said he had heard a "serious water supply problem" existed in Colorado Springs.

He told the house he had heard reports from "a number of sources" that the site lacked enough water to take care of the students, and he demanded an investigation, to consider an "alternate site" if the water problem could not be solved.

Naturally, he suggested Camp Beale as the "logical" alternative. The controversy over water was battled back and forth for several weeks before all were convinced there would be no water crisis at Colorado Springs.

As late as last week, a dispute over climatic conditions in the region flared, but a member of the Colorado Springs city government published statistics and furnished proof which apparently stopped the rumors that Colorado Springs was too high and too cold for the airman.

When the architectural firm of Sidmore, Owings and Merrill unveiled its scale models for the academy buildings, new controversies cropped up. Both Talbott and Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, academy superintendent, openly approved the ultra-modernistic concepts.

Views Differ "We have here," Harmon said, "an academy that is as modern and timeless as the latest missile or jet aircraft."

But, there were those who thought differently of the proposed construction. One observer said the concepts looked like a "mammoth drugstore on stilts." Another observer said the plans reminded him of a "glorified supermarket." Frank Lloyd Wright, famed architect who lost out in the bidding to Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, said "Secretary Talbott has himself a factory of bird-men."

The accordion-shaped chapel drew blasts from clergymen from all over the country. Colorado Gov. Edwin C. Johnson termed it "an insult to religion."

Talbott wearily said: "There'll be some changes made. Nothing's been built yet. Those (concepts) are just ideas." Meanwhile, Skidmore, Owings and Merrill went back to the drawing board with their sights set on partially opening the permanent Air Academy by 1957.

Next: The man President Eisenhower chose to run the academy.

Jericho, Biblical town 15 miles northeast of Jerusalem, is 3500 feet lower than the Holy City and 840 feet below sea level.

How To Beat The Heat In 10 Easy Steps

Editor's Note: We present at this time, by popular demand, our annual seasonal advice from our man who gets fed up with the usual rules on how to behave in hot weather and proposes new ones.

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK — UP — How to beat the heat — 10 convenient steps you are invited to ponder.

1. Dress correctly. Shave your head. Wear shorts. Hair holds heat. So do long pants. Remember what Poor Richard said: Shorn pate and nude knees catch coolth from the breeze.

2. Work correctly. Think! But don't make a move. Moving muscles produce heat. Thinking produces nothing.

3. Be calm. Swallow your anger. Temper breeds heat. You'll eventually develop ulcers from boiling up your temper during the summer, but they'll be a warming influence next winter.

4. Be clever. Insult your wife. For the next two days every word she utters will have icicles hanging from it. If you can keep her talking for a solid hour, you can surround yourself with enough cool words to withstand a week of torrid temperature.

5. Don't fight it. Join it. Spread some heat yourself. Remember when Dizzy Dean and Pepper Martin built a fire at the Cardinal dupout on St. Louis's hottest day and warmed their hands? So, friends, turn on the heat in your house. The neighbors will notice. And the police will find a cooler for you.

6. Be scientific. Profanity turns the air blue. Blue is a cool color. So start swearing, in public. You'll feel the chill around you.

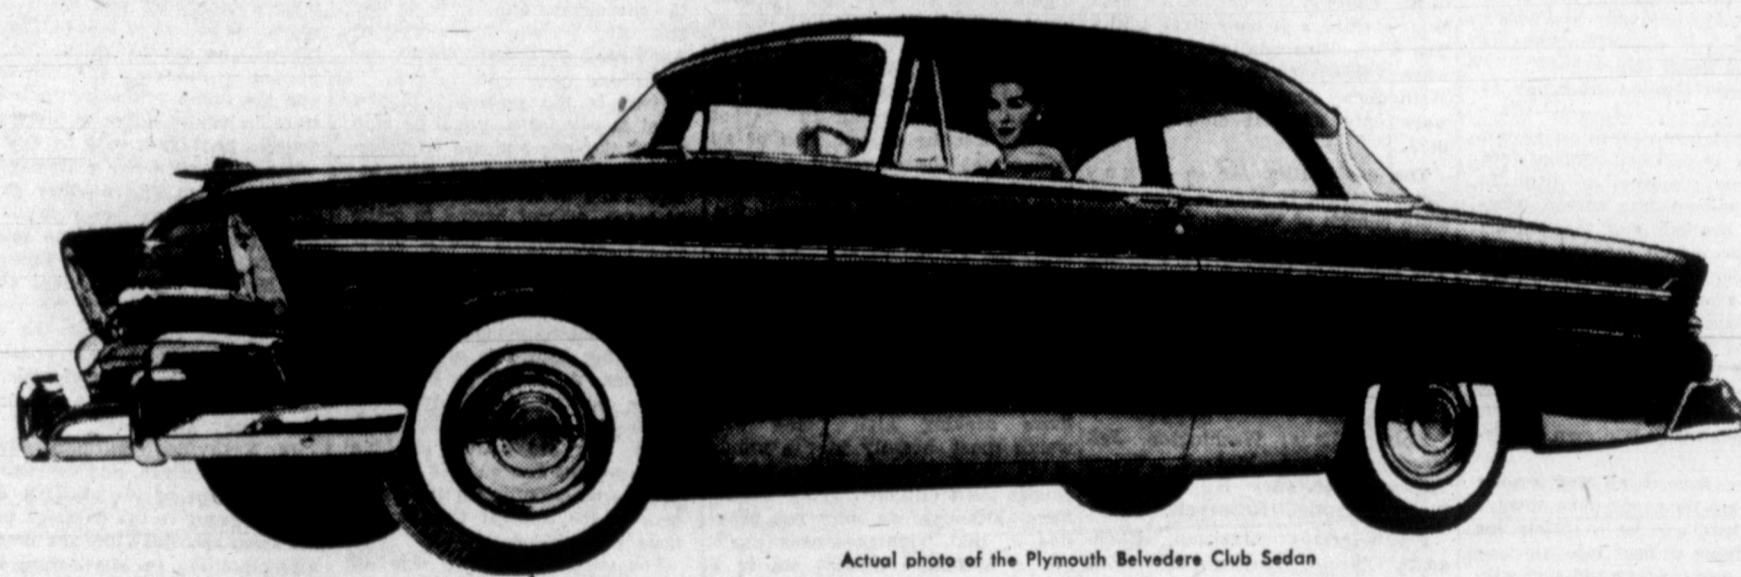

7. Drink properly. Alcohol and sunshine don't mix. Try alcohol and soda or ginger ale.

8. Eat properly. Some foods produce heat. Avoid meat, eggs, cheese, vegetables, fruits, milk, salads, sweets, nuts, fowl and fish. Hire a Chinese cook and have some bird's nest soup.

9. Be resourceful. Hold up an armored car. Nothing beats the heat — and sooths the fevered spirit — like a cool million bucks.

10. Be strong. Don't notice the heat. Pretend it's not there. If you pretend long enough, it'll go away — come October.

FOUR BIG "EXTRAS"

AT NO EXTRA COST

ONLY FROM PLYMOUTH IN THE LOW-PRICE 3

1 EXTRA BEAUTY Plymouth's exciting Forward Look is the only honestly new styling in the lowest-price field this year. (That means a bigger demand for these models when trade-in time comes.) And that glamorous new Full-View windshield gives you the greatest visibility of any low-price car!

2 EXTRA SIZE Plymouth's extra length (it's a full 17 feet long) means you enjoy a far smoother ride than possible in the shorter low-price cars. There's extra hip room, leg room and trunk room (much more than in the other two) and larger door openings for easier entry and exit.

3 EXTRA ECONOMY Plymouth's two big powerplants—the fast-stepping 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 and the high-flying 167-hp Hy-Fire V-8—each offers you rock-bottom economy and split-second performance. (Plymouth's PowerFlow 117 is the only "6" in its field with money-saving Chrome-Sealed Action!)

4 EXTRA VALUE Plymouth alone of the low-price 3 gives you the extra protection of Safety-Rim wheels, constant-action electric windshield wipers, an independent parking brake, plus many other costly-car features. All at no extra cost! Come in and see how much Plymouth's "extras" can mean to you.

Wire Your Home To Enjoy Modern Electrical Living

Your home is your castle — make sure it's safe with adequate wiring.

Adequate wiring means you have made electricity your servant. Outmoded wiring means your electric appliances give below par performance, that your lights dim when appliances start, that electric outlets are too few and too far between.

Outmoded wiring also carries the danger of fire — caused by overloaded wiring.

Be Safe

Play it safe — have The Electric Supply, 836 W. Foster, 4-6893, check the wiring in your home to be sure it is adequate for all demands.

You know The Electric Supply has all the skill, experience, materials to wire your new home or rewire your present home to the highest standards. That means your wiring will meet all your increased demands in years ahead, not just today.

F.H.A. Loans

The Electric Supply makes it easy for you to make sure of your wiring. This means you can take up to 36 months to pay on the convenient time payment plan. You can use the F.H.A. title loan plan.

Age doesn't make your wiring outmoded. Modern living does. In the memory of many people electric living has progressed from use of a single bulb hanging in the center of a room and no electric appliances of the present era of several lights in each room, electric cleaning, freezing, cooking, refrigerating, washing, drying, heating, and recreation.

What a difference!

More Electricity

What an increased demand on electric wiring!

As Mr. and Mrs. America added electric toasters, radios, television sets and other appliances to their homes, they increased the load on their wiring system. They are indeed wise to have The Electric Supply check their wiring to get the best performance from their appliances and for the safety of their home.

Survays show that nine out of ten homes, including many new ones, do not have wiring considered adequate for today, not even considering new appliances that will be added tomorrow.

Some appliances in use today like the electric dryer, range and air conditioning equipment, require individual wiring circuits.

BUSINESS REVIEW PAGE English Nobleman For TV Commercials Is Latest Idea

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — UP — A pretty blonde singer came up with an inspiration to improve American TV commercials — she wants to hire an English nobleman to deliver the pitch.

Vicki Benet seriously announced she will audition English lords and sirs for her new filmed musical TV show when she visits London on a singing tour next week.

"I can't stand some of the pressure methods used by American announcers on commercials," she said. "The so-called 'hard sell' actually is an anti-sell that defeats its purpose."

"I want a true lord, a personable man who speaks well. He must come from a good family, be listed in 'Burke's Peerage' and appear cultured. He'll act as master of ceremonies and do the commercials" for my new show.

Vicki revealed this plan to give tone to American TV as she packed her bags in her luxurious apartment. The producer of her program, Jack Elliot of Benell Productions, paced after her to confirm he wants the English nobleman to "give prestige to her show." He admits he was impressed by the bearded Englishman who poses for gin-and-tonic ads in the American press.

It's a different type of program, created for the discriminating, and we think he will add dignity," he said.

"The average American is impressed with a British accent and title and the savoir faire that goes with it.

"We're not going to make a fool out of this chap," he added. "We also produce filmed commercials for various companies and if he will do those he can earn $1,000 a week."

Paris-born Vicki, who began her career only two years ago here in nightclub, will conduct the auditions for her titled announcer during her engagement at the Savoy Hotel in London.

"I'm told some nobility have opened their homes to tourists and one duchess is running a tea shop on her terrace, so I don't think it will be hard to find someone interested in TV," the shapely singer said.

How an English nobleman might do as an American TV pitchman was demonstrated last week on Steve Allen's "Tonight" show on NBC-TV. Peter Lawford played the role in striped trousers and tails for a skit. He softly called the audience "dear friends" and apologized for the intrusion. He also apologized for the sponsor. He wound up, in fact, suggesting that perhaps the product wasn't so good after all.

Roberta's Flowers Offers Floral 'Extras' For Weddings

FOR A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING — Preparations like these at Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, 4-3309, help to make weddings more beautiful and more memorable. Mrs. Roberta Valliant is arranging flowers while J. C. Hopkins fixes the jade palm Dicky Mauldin holds. Roberta's Flowers consults with the bride and her parents to help plan wedding decorations to please the bride and to keep wedding expenses within the budget. Roberta's wedding decorations, floral arrangements, table designs make her wedding day even more memorable for the bride.

The Bride — So Happy On Her Wedding Day — Finds Added Joy In Her Bouquet And Floral Decorations That Say: "We're From Roberta's, Fresh Today!"

It's her day, and every detail is to the bride's taste — especially when Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, 4-3309, helps in the wedding by arranging the floral decorations in the church, home, at the reception, and by helping to make the table decorations.

Please Bride

Roberta's cooperates with the bride, and her family so that all the decorations and floral arrangements artfully complement the bride's wedding gown and her ensemble. All arrangements and decorations are designed to please the bride.

On her happy wedding day the bride is delighted with all decorations designed exactly to please her. And her day is more memorable because her favorite flowers are used in her bridal bouquet and her bride's maids carry bouquets of flowers she loves because all the floral arrangements consist of her favorites!

It's so easy to give so much pleasure to the bride on her wedding day because of the special wedding features at Roberta's:

Attend Rehearsals

Mrs. Roberta Valliant and J. C. Hopkins of Roberta's Flowers attend the wedding rehearsal, diagram the church, reception hall, or home, or garden for wedding decorations.

Hopkins, of Roberta's Flowers, enjoys decorating the church, home or reception hall.

Roberta also arranges the bride's bouquet, the bouquets for the bride's maids, and helps the bride and bride's maids in those last minute "touches" for that "perfect look!"

She also helps to plan and arrange the reception table, an attention that can mean a memory of pure pleasure for the bride.

Consult Bride, Parents

In consultation with the bride and her parents Roberta's plans the decorations to fit the budget. Roberta's has the jade palm; seven-branch candelabra, aisle cloth, kneeling bench to arrange with floral baskets for the church or home decorations.

Hopkins sets the decorations to center all attention on the bridal couple.

To help plan weddings Roberta's also has authoritative books on wedding design and etiquette.

Fit Budget

All these Roberta's uses artfully to make a wedding beautiful and more memorable for the bride.

Of course all arrangements are made to make the wedding beautiful within the budget set by the bride and her parents. Roberta's has no set price for wedding decorations, but cooperates to arrange beautiful decorations within the budget.

All through her life the bride will remember the beauty of the church or the home in which she was married, the arrangements in the wedding reception hall, the beauty of the reception table, the flowers she and her bridesmaids carried, the bouquets, corsages and floral decorations of her snow-ers.

Whether she chose to carry the traditional cascade bouquet or a corsage with her Bible, the bride will be glad that Roberta's Flowers did the arrangements. She will like the floral designs, and she will realize how well the arrangements complement her gown and her beauty.

Favorite Flowers

The bride may select her favorite of any flowers for her bouquet and other decorations. Popular favorites include roses, lilies of the valley, stephanotis, gardenias, white and colored orchids, carnations, gladiolus, mums, and stocks.

Roberta's, of course, has flowers beautifully arranged for all occasions. Surprise your wife or mother with a corsage or a bouquet of her favorite flowers. You will know that when she says "I shouldn't have" she really means "I'm glad you did."

Send a bouquet or a plant to a friend who is ill. Either will give him more pleasure than any other get-well expression.

Come in, look for the center piece for your table to add the "extra" look at your special dinner, luncheon or party.

And look, too, at the decorative novelties and yokes at Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, 4-3309. You will find the distinctive pieces you admire.

For everything floral — come to Roberta's.

They'll Do It Every Time By Jimmy Hatlo

Billy Graham May Preach In Moscow

GOTHENBURG, Sweden—UP — Billy Graham may make arrangements Tuesday night to preach in Moscow.

The American evangelist, who has had audiences with two queens on his current European tour, expects to make another command performance before a group of Russian churchmen.

This audition may convince the Russians to invite the 37-year-old revivalist to preach behind the Iron Curtain.

Graham has often expressed the desire to conduct a crusade behind the Iron Curtain, "if I am invited."

Jerry Beavan, Graham's right-hand man, said Swedish church leaders in charge of Tuesday night's service told Graham the Russian Baptists were interested in getting the American into their country.

The Swedes said a Soviet delegation was due in this port city Tuesday and likely would attend Tuesday night's meeting. Graham's only appearance in Sweden. They said the Russians probably would forward the invitation after the service.

Graham's only comment was "we'll see what comes out of the scheduled meeting with the representatives of the Soviet church."
