Cool Front Heads For West Texas

A cool front headed for West Texas Friday but forecasters said it will not bring any repetition of the howling blizzard that raged Tuesday over the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles and into New Mexico and Colorado.

The cooler weather may reach West Texas by Saturday, forecasters said, but it shows signs of slowing down and may not arrive until Sunday or might even play out before it gets there.

Temperatures were warm over Texas Friday and workers repairing communications and power lines in the storm-ravaged area were in summer-like temperatures.

Seventy-mile-an-hour winds accompanying Tuesday's storm blew down lines that were sagging under heavy layers of ice and snow.

Nineteen emergency crews of the Southwestern Public Service Co. with 10 to 20 men each worked Tuesday in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado trying to repair damages.

O. Hallmark, district manager for the company who lives in Dalhart, said Friday a 23,000-volt leader line had been restored in the city and most of its scattered distribution system was repaired. Dalhart was virtually isolated from the outside world Tuesday night, when a foot of snow buried the city and snipped its communications.

About half of the distribution system of Hartley, Tex., which didn't lose its high-line, is repaired. Hallmark reported 20 miles of the 23,000-volt high-line from Dalhart east to Condon was virtually restored. He said a complete rebuilding job would be necessary.

Hallmark said 200 pole tops were damaged in that line and he estimated on the ground-rod line that Dalhart to Illinois county.

This year Mr. Public was given a little more time and was promised that the returns would be simplified and still some of us have waited until the last day.

This is what a few persons in Pampa think of the new forms. The comments:

Gola Lyon, Pampa Fire Department, appliance salesman: "Yes, I think the income-tax forms were simplified somewhat this year. I filed mine about a month ago and I found it easier than I thought I would. I had a good bit of trouble with mine last year, but it was easy this year."

Miss Pat Parr, 803 S. Barnes, bookkeeper: "Yes, I think I found the forms easier to fill out this year, but being a bookkeeper I have never had much trouble with mine. They have always seemed simple enough to me."

Lewis Shelton, 530 N. Christy, fireman: "I didn't see any change in the tax returns. I found a little more deductions which saved me a little more money but they seemed just as confusing as they were last year. The government still has a long way to go to make them simple."

Mrs. Sam Thomas Jr., Mobeetie, housewife: "I noticed very little change in the tax forms. If there was any change, it might have made them a little more simple this year. I didn't see that the forms saved any money over last year, though."

Richard Mamerick, 618 N. Frost, oiler for Northern Natural Gas Co.: "Yes, I think the forms were a little better this year. I feel the forms were easier to understand but the figuring was still the same. I think all the way around I saved a little more money this year than I did last year."

Mrs. H. J. Eldredge, 613 S. Henry, housewife: "Yes I found the income-tax forms a little easier to fill out this year. I can't see that we are getting out of any kind. They did seem a little easier, though."

J. G. Ehrlich, Stuttgart, Oklahoma buyer: "I never make out my income tax forms. I find I can save, or even make money, by having someone to make it out for me. It seems to me that the government tries to make the forms more confusing each year by adding something that is supposed to make it more simple. I am always glad to get the thing filed and over with."

Leland Coberly, 1033 S. Wells, barber at Imperial Barber Shop: "I didn't file mine this year -- I had it done. I usually fill mine out on a short form but I found that I could save a little money by using the long form and I had to have a little help this year. I think I can take care of it next year if the government doesn't make it more confusing."

HAVE YOU FILED YOUR INCOME TAX YET? Today is the last day. It has to be postmarked by midnight. Better get a "rush-on" if you don't have yours in the mail.

Press Group Meeting Today

The 46th annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association today meets for a two-day session in Amarillo, and will lend an attentive ear to a panel of Panhandle people who will inform the press on "What We Expect From Our Newspapers."

The Pampa Daily News publisher, E. Roy Smith, and Managing Editor Jim Dean are attending the conference of Panhandle newsmen.

The conference, opening with a 30-minute concert this morning by the cappella choir of West Texas State College, Canyon, will be highlighted by the annual Press Association banquet at 7:30 p.m. Albert Cooper of the Shamrock Texan, as master of ceremonies, will introduce the principal speaker, Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Officers of the association are: Ben Kramel, Canadian, president; Essie Campbell, McLean, vice president; and Harold Hudson, Ochiltree County Herald, Perryton, secretary-treasurer.

Officers daily authorized (Adv.) by the Board, Joe Hamilton (Adv.) stopped by Rep. Barratt O'Hara.

52 Convicts Sulk In Cells In Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. — Fifty-two of the toughest convicts in the Texas State Prison sulked in their cells Friday with most of their privileges gone, after losing a 28-hour sitdown strike for a third meal each day.

The convicts gave up their fight at 5:45 p. m. Thursday when it became apparent their cause was hopeless because prison authorities could be just as tough and as patient as they were.

The prisoners bowed to orders of General Prison Manager O. B. Ellis to strip of their clothes and be checked back into their cells with special privileges withdrawn for 30 days. They were stripped so a search could be made for weapons.

They obeyed meekly, after boasting that they would sit in an exercise yard until the prison management gave in to their demands for three full meals each day.

The 52 said they would cut their heel tendons if an attempt was made to starve them into submission, or if tear gas was used.

But when told late Thursday that the Texas Prison Board had voted to back Ellis' "no concessions" ruling, the men quickly came to terms. They ousted Charles Pierce, their narcotics peddler spokesman, and rallied behind a Houston murderer, Walter Fanta. It was Fanta who led final discussions with prison authorities.

The hungry prisoners were fed after submitting. They had been in an exercise yard outside their cellblock in "Little Shamrock," a (See CONVICTS, Page 2)

Sure'n Begorra, If It's Talk They Want, Just Ask The Irish

WASHINGTON — UP — They needed someone in the House to talk promptly and without prearrangement, so they called upon the Irish. And the Irish responded by pounding the barney stone to pebbles in about 10 minutes.

It all happened on the floor Thursday just before the House adjourned. With the State-Justice appropriation bill out of the way, Speaker Sam Rayburn announced that it was time for Rep. Victor Wickersham (D-Okla.) to make his scheduled speech.

No Wickersham on the floor at the moment. There was an embarrassing silence as the score of members present twiddled their thumbs. If no one was going to talk, they were ready to leave.

So William (Fishbait) Miller, the House doorkeeper, shot for the door, apparently to find the missing Wickersham.

Simple Request
On his way up the aisle, he was stopped by Rep. Barratt O'Hara.

US Stands Firm On Red Offer

WASHINGTON — UP — The United States stood firm Friday against Red China's renewed offer to let relatives of 15 jailed airmen visit them in their Chinese prisons.

Officials said the Far Eastern situation, if anything, has grown worse since the end of January when the United States first refused to let the relatives go to China. Thus, they said, the U.S. government could not change its stand now and let the kin visit the fliers.

The renewed offer came in a letter from the Chinese Red Cross to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer of Swea City Iowa, whose son Harold is in a Chinese jail. The Reds hold 14 other American airmen.

The Chinese, in answer to a letter from the Fischers, said "we would like to give you every possible assistance" in coming to China. The letter asked the Fischers to let Red China know "when you plan on coming to China so that we may be able to make the necessary arrangements for you."

Mrs. Fischer said she would send copies of the letter to the State Department and Air Force in a renewed effort to get permission to visit their son.

Barber Shop Concert At 8

Plenty of tickets are still available for the Mid-States Four Barber Shop Quartet Concert to be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium.

Sponsored by the Top O' Texas Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, the champion foursome will sing and the program will be followed by a barber shop clinic in which Marty Mendro, one of the group, will explain the fine points of barber-shopping and will give a special demonstration by the quartet. The clinic will be free.

The group, which has recorded for London Records, won the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout Show in January of 1950.

Tickets for the concert can be obtained in Richard's Drug, the Courthouse Cafe and Johnson's Cafe.

BEAUTY IS NOT ENOUGH; NOW THEY WANT TALKERS

DEARBORN, Mich. — UP — City officials sought "talkative girls" Friday as candidates for the title of "Miss City Beautiful." Officials said the candidates will be given as much credit for their ability to publicize the city as they will for their physical appeal.

Taxpayers Never Learn

By UNITED PRESS
Income tax day across the nation fell a month later than for again made plans to stay open until midnight.

In some places, it was even worse than usual. Wisconsin had moved its state tax deadline up to April 15 in hopes of getting earlier returns. Instead, there were more unpaid taxes at the last minute than ever before and state tax offices added extra help all week for late filers.

Milwaukee state and federal tax officials expected the biggest rush in years.

It was much the same at Springfield, Ill., where District Internal Revenue Director H. K. White said "those who waited until the last two weeks in March also waited until the last two weeks in April."

Smooth Things Out
In other cities, however, the extra month appeared to have helped smooth things out.

The change meant that the federal and state income tax days coincided in New York. But officials in New York city reported the later federal tax date "helped out quite a bit."

Allison Resigns As Coach

Carl Allison, who about a month ago accepted a position as assistant football coach at Pampa High School, has tendered his resignation.

The Oklahoma grid star of the past two years resigned to accept the head coaching post at Clinton, Okla., High School.

Here in Pampa, however, Herman Whitley, president of the Pampa school board, said he knew nothing of Allison's move.

And Knox Kinard, superintendent of schools, said he knew Allison was contemplating a move but that he hadn't been notified officially of Allison's decision.

But the United Press reported that Allison had signed as the Clinton head coach after being released as assistant coach at Pampa, Tex., High School.

Following is the UP story which was dated Clinton, Okla.:

Carl Allison, a left end and tri-captain on the University of Oklahoma 1954 football team, has accepted a position as head football coach at Clinton, Okla., high school after being released as assistant coach at Pampa, Tex., high school. "Allison's appointment was announced Thursday."

Allison, in a long distance telephone call with Pampa News Sports Editor Buck Francis this morning from Oklahoma University where he is a student, said he had asked for and received permission to break his contract with Pampa High School in order to accept the Clinton post.

Allison told Francis that Jack Lockett, the newly appointed Harvester head football coach and who is attending Oklahoma University at the present, had called Supt. Kinard informing him of Allison's proposal.

It was after this telephone conversation that Lockett told Allison that every thing was OK to go ahead and accept the Clinton post. Allison said he had written a letter to Pampa school officials regarding the matter but apparently the letter hasn't arrived.

Allison made the following statement about the matter: "I certainly hate to leave the Pampa job as I liked the setup here. But I've always wanted to be a head coach and when I got this chance at Clinton I didn't see how I could turn it down."

If Formal Treaty Can Be Realized

MOSCOW — UP — Austria and Russia signed Friday a new state treaty agreement in which the Soviet promises to withdraw its occupation troops by the end of this year if a formal treaty can be put into effect by then.

In doing so Russia dropped its insistence on keeping occupation troops in Austria indefinitely and thus removed one of the major points blocking a treaty agreement with the United States, Britain and France.

The agreements signed Friday in the form of an aide memoire stipulated in four days of Austria-Soviet talks a 10-year-old impasse in the cold war. Both Austria and Russia appeared optimistic the agreements would be approved by the West.

Agree to Release Prisoners
The Soviets also agreed to release all Austrian prisoners presently held in the Soviet as soon as Soviet troops are withdrawn from Austria. This was another of the major points blocking a state treaty.

These and other treaty terms agreed upon in the talks were announced in an official communique issued shortly before Chancellor Julius Raab and his Austrian negotiators took off for Vienna with the statement "we return to Vienna a happy people."

The fixing of a deadline for withdrawal of occupation troops was regarded as one of the most significant Soviet moves in more than nine years of treaty negotiations with the western Big Three, from President Eisenhower's April 22 conference of medical health, and drug officials. The experts will try to work out plans for fair, speedy distribution of the polio-killing vaccine.

Some communities had planned to start the mass inoculation of children Friday for immediate relief of the crisis under certain conditions. The federal government, acting from President Eisenhower's April 22 conference of medical health, and drug officials. The experts will try to work out plans for fair, speedy distribution of the polio-killing vaccine.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced the switch from a three-shot to a two-shot program late Thursday. All most immediately state health officials fell into line and began preparing for a two-shot program.

The change was recommended by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the man who developed the history-making vaccine. He said it would be better to give two shots, followed by a "booster" about seven months later, rather than three evenly spaced inoculations.

Four schools in Gray County have reported 100 per cent requests for polio vaccine inoculations.

In a report from County School Superintendent B. E. Nuckolls of this morning, Lefors, Grandview, Alameda and the Episcopal schools were listed as having all their polio vaccination requests turned in to school officials.

Aaron Sturgeon, president of the Pampa Youth and Community Center, Inc., said this morning that the group adopted their constitution and by-laws in a recent meeting.

Mrs. Leora Rose was appointed secretary to replace Mrs. Dorothy Station Ponce, who was recently married. The group also authorized Floyd Watson, treasurer, to convert a certain amount of the contributions money into bonds. Three locations are currently being considered for the site of the new building to be constructed. It was also decided that hereafter the group will have one meeting monthly.

UP Head Praises U.S. News Media

KANSAS CITY, Kan. — UP-Frank H. Bartholomew, president of the United Press, praised American news agencies Friday as "the greatest international distributors of news that the world ever has known."

In a speech before the Kansas City, Kan., Chamber of Commerce, he lauded American newspaper publishers who, he said, made possible the establishment and growth of the news agencies and "can take a great deal of altruistic satisfaction from the vital role they are playing today in supplying the world with its daily news."

"The American press," Bartholomew said, "through its press associations, has extended its high standards of truthful, factual coverage overseas and found a hearty response from editors and publishers in other lands. They, despite many international barriers, speak the same newspaperman's language and want the same high quality of news coverage."

"The excellence of this coverage is sustained by the energetic competition among our news agencies. This competitive spirit is supported in turn by the informed and inquisitive editors of the world's best newspapers in their tireless quest for better and better coverage. Healthy competition is a daily stimulant and tonic to every editor. It is the dynamic heart of news reporting. We live on it, we thrive on it and we give our newspapers and radio stations the best that is in us because of it."

He described the worldwide operation of the United Press, gathering and distributing each day's news dispatches and photos to the 4,392 newspaper, radio and television clients which the U.P. serves direct in 73 countries and to the hundreds of additional clients receiving U.P. service through other news agencies.

"This is an impressive operation," Bartholomew said. "For these are not just words we are moving. This is the daily chronicle of our own times...faithful reporting of today's news today is something that men and women around the globe—this side of the Iron Curtain—can depend on every day. And in these times such reporting hardly could be more important to good understanding among all of us."

Keeton, Derwood Lewis, James Gotcher and Ted Gustin.

This Is Week's Good And Bad On News Balance Sheet

By CHALES M. McCANN United Press Foreign Analyst The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

1. President Eisenhower instructed the State Department to send to all 75 nations with which the United States has diplomatic relations information that will enable them to produce the life-giving Salk anti-polio vaccine. The President also instructed governmental agencies to find out how far the United States can go to make the vaccine itself available. Russia and its Eastern European satellites will share the benefits of the President's gesture of good will to the world. In Norway, school children were asked to contribute to a fund with which to buy a Norwegian artist for Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the vaccine.

2. President Eisenhower approved an agreement by which the United States will share with its 13 partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization information on the use of atomic weapons. The President called the agreement "a great step forward in the strengthening of our common defense."

Under a separate agreement now being negotiated the United States, Canada and Great Britain will increase their co-operation in the atomic field. 3. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, returning from a tour of the Far East, said he did not believe the Chinese Communists planned any immediate attack in the Formosa area. Some high military authorities had predicted an attack by mid-April — Friday. In Europe, Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, commander of United States forces, said his Seventh Army was now so strong that it would defend all its territory in Western Germany against any Russian attack instead of starting with a strategic retreat to the Rhine River.

Bad News 1. Troops of rebellious sects in Southern Viet Nam in Indo-China bombarded a city held by forces of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and started a blockade of his capital, Saigon. The danger of civil war was so serious that Gen. J. Lawton Collins, special American envoy, postponed his planned departure for the United States. 2. The West German government, fearing an imminent Communist blockade of West Berlin, called on the United States, Great Britain and France to demand that Russia guarantee free access to the city. In their latest move the Reds alleged that West Berlin was a spy center and intimidated that they might isolate it. 3. Afghanistan, the rugged mountain kingdom which has been between Pakistan and the Soviet Union, threatened to become a trouble spot. Afghanistan eagerly protested a Pakistan plan to incorporate the northwest frontier province area into a new administrative district. It was reported that Russia, capitalizing on the dispute, offered Afghanistan armed aid against Pakistan, America's ally.

Texas Solons Washington Bound For Rayburn Fete

AUSTIN, UP — Many Texas legislators were en route to Washington Friday to attend a banquet Saturday night honoring Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) of Bonham. Both the House and the Senate adjourned Thursday after passing a bill which extends the "cooling-off" period for divorces in Texas from 30 to 60 days. The divorce bill was sponsored by Rep. Maad Isaacks of El Paso. It is now on Gov. Allan Shivers' desk.

The bill had originally called for lengthening the time between filing and granting of a divorce from the present 30 to 90 days. However, the Senate cut it to 60. A bill banning "lewd, depraved or corruptive" comic books also received final approval of lawmakers Thursday. The Senate made a few changes in the measure between approving it.

Meanwhile, it appeared that bill setting up a Lower Rio Grande water commission was doomed for the current legislative session. Can Not Accept Many backers have said they could not accept proposed changes made by U.P. interests. Rep. J. T. Ellis Jr. of Weslaco said Thursday "it is highly improbable we'll be able to work out any compromise agreement in the time we have left."

A. L. Cramer, chairman of a Rio Grande legislative steering committee backing the legislation, sent a telegram to Rio Grande valley lawmakers Thursday following a meeting of the committee at Weslaco. He said the proposed amendments which would restrict the commission's authority to the area below Falcon Lake "would not be to the best interest of the Rio Grande Valley."

The group suggested that another bill be formulated at a later time. Ellis said up-river interests had proposed 21 amendments to the Lower Rio Grande Commission bill, including severance of the up-off period for divorces in Texas per areas from the measure. This would leave it as an authority regulating the area from Falcon Lake to the Gulf of Mexico.

Other Action Two bills by Sen. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth were passed by the Senate and sent to the House. One prohibits installation of television receivers in front seats of automobiles where they can be seen by the driver and the other provides jail sentences of up to 60 days for persons who toss beer cans on highways.

The House approved a resolution by Rep. Carroll Cobb of Seminole that would suspend joint House-Senate rules and allow the house to take up any time a controversial bill allowing the Texas Railroad Commission to fix prices of natural gas producers if it is determined that "economic waste" exists. The lower chamber also approved a bill which would make permanent a $8,000-pound limit for ready-mix concrete vehicles.

Thursday morning, the Senate gave its final approval to 43 local and uncontested bills.

In speaking of Thursday's Pan-Tech Farms Test Bull Sale, Assistant County Agent Jerry Mobly said the tests conducted at the experiment station have proven that high gaining bulls do produce high gaining offspring. Mobly said that some 450 people attended the sale and show, and that farmers and ranchers showed marked enthusiasm for the conclusions reached at the station that rate of gain is determined by heredity.

High Gain Bulls Produce High Gaining Offspring

The weight advantage of the calves sired by high gaining bulls was 38 pounds. The calves were fed the identical feed ration during the experimental period. Heifers sired by high and low gaining bulls showed a weight differential at the end of 18 months of 84 pounds. Heifers sired by high gaining bulls weighed 822 pounds, while those of the low gaining bulls weighed in at 748. Eleven heifers were weighed in each of these classifications.

The Beef Cattle Improvement Program started at PanTech Farms in the fall of 1950 has involved the use of over 750 head of beef cattle. In these four years PanTech Farms has fed 543 young bulls from 43 different ranches representing the offspring of 84 herd bulls.

"Meeting up with difficulties and overcoming them is what makes us strong." Taking a few well chosen words from Abraham Lincoln, Dr. O'Brien said: "Let's just praying for easier burdens, but stronger backs."

By giving children everything, O'Brien emphasized how it tends to burn out the exuberance in youth during their formative years in things that don't count. "They may not have the spirit left when they meet life head-on."

Revivalist Is Speaker For Lions

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Big Spring, speaking before the Thursday luncheon of the Lions Club, said that he was "giving our children too much too soon."

At the meeting it was announced that 10 delegates from the Pampa Lions Club will attend the three-day district convention, at Lubbock, April 24-26. Attending will be Burt R. Nichols, Ralph Thomas, D. L. Parker, Paul West, Hans Lima, Aaron Sturgeon, John Schwind, Frank Stallings, Bill Craig and Weldon Moore.

Carol Parsons, club pianist, was chosen to represent the club in the district queen's contest.

The Pampa Fire Department answered a call to help contain the fire at the city dump grounds this morning. It was reported that the fire had become temporarily out of control.

Walk Back In Bed LONDON, April 14 — UP — The Soviet embassy said Friday Ambassador Jacob Malik will be confined to bed under a doctor's care, but was showing improvement. Malik's illness forced a cancellation of Wednesday's scheduled meeting of the five-nations disarmament conference. He is known to suffer from a chronic heart ailment.

Lost 30 Pounds With Barcontrate "I am happy to tell you or anyone, how much I appreciate Barcontrate," writes Ethel May, 700 S. Lorraine, Midland, Texas. "I have lost 30 pounds and Barcontrate is wonderful to take as a tonic, as it makes me feel like a million dollars." Get Barcontrate from any Texas drugist. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label. Then take as directed. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off extra fat, return the empty bottle for your second.

Comic Book Censor Bill Goes To Gov.

By O. B. LLOYD JR.

AUSTIN — UP — A bill banning "lewd, depraved or corrupt" comic books in Texas cleared the legislature Thursday and was sent to Gov. Allan Shivers.

Final action came on concurrence in Senate amendments by the House, which also approved Senate changes in a bill lengthening the waiting period for granting of divorces to 60 days.

The comic book bill, sponsored by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, provides penalties upon conviction of a jail term as long as six months, and fines up to $1,000.

60-Day Divorce Period
The divorce bill, authored by Rep. Maud Isaacs of El Paso, originally provided for extending the waiting period between filing and granting of divorces from 30 to 90 days. The Senate fixed the period at 60 days.

The House previously had refused to go along with the Senate change, but approved it Thursday.

The lower chamber also approved a resolution by Rep. Carroll Cobb of Seminole to suspend joint House-Senate rules and allow the House to take up any time a bill allowing the Railroad Commission to fix prices paid natural gas producers if it is determined that "economic waste" exists.

Opposed by Bergman
The resolution, opposed by Rep. Douglas Bergman of Dallas, received 71-64 House approval. It must also be adopted by the Senate.

The House Wednesday passed a bill recodifying state laws on teacher certification, but killed an amendment proposed by Rep. Joe Burdett Jr. of Kerrville to take away certificates from striking teachers.

CAIRO — UP — The desert King Oyemen, infuriated by a dispute over his harem, personally led a bloody assault that foiled his brother's attempt to seize the throne, it was reported Monday.

The decisive harem incident was disclosed by Lt. Col. Hussein el Shafie, who led an Egyptian mission to the remote desert kingdom after King Imam Ahmed crushed the palace revolt led by his brother, Prince Abdullah. Shafie told a news conference the king escaped injury in the uprising, but that 23 of the rebellious followers of the prince died in the fighting.

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Cowboy star Roy Rogers and his family were to fly to Nashville, Tenn., Tuesday where they will make the annual presentation of the sixth annual Roy Rogers school safety awards program trophies on Thursday.

First place winner in the 1954-55 program, in which 9,000 elementary schools participated, was won by the DuPont school in Old Hickory, Tenn., just outside Nashville.

Tighter Oil Import Curb Demanded

WASHINGTON — UP — A Senate subcommittee investigating unemployment heard more demands Thursday for tighter curbs on imported oil.

The requests were made by Sen. Harley M. Kilgore, (D-W.Va.), Rep. John F. Saylor (R-Pa.) and G. D. Spradlin, Oklahoma City, Okla., independent oil operator.

Kilgore blamed a general economic decline in his state on shrinking coal markets, which he blamed in turn on imports of residual fuel oil.

Saylor said oil imports have created "economic misery" in the coal fields in Pennsylvania and that the administration's foreign trade bill will aggravate the situation unless the Senate amends it to put import quotas on oil.

Spradlin testified that big oil importing companies are bringing in so much that the domestic operators "are squeezed farther and farther out of the market."

"We are not allowed (by state conservation laws) to produce our wells at an unrestricted rate like the big companies can do overseas," he said.

Ex-Actress Charged In Vice Case

HOLLYWOOD — UP — A former actress, who once was accused of slandering singer Billy Daniels with a butcher knife, and another woman were arrested Thursday by vice squad officers who said the pair operated a high-priced Hollywood call girl service.

Vice squad officers said they confiscated a gold-trimmed address book containing 100 names, including "numerous Hollywood personalities." They said the girls charged up to $100.

Booked on suspicion of procuring was Ronnie Quilian, 35, who police said was released in 1950 when Daniels refused to prosecute her on a charge she slashed him on the cheek during an altercation in her apartment. She was arrested in a luxurious Melrose Ave. apartment.

Pat Duane, 25, who wore an expensive mink stole, was arrested at a Sunset Boulevard motel on suspicion of "offering" after a "date" was arranged through a telephone number found in the apartment, police said. The "date," an officer, said the woman undressed and then demanded a $50 fee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooper had as their guest from Thursday until Monday their son, Don Cooper and his friend James McDonough of Dallas. Both boys are students at TCU college in Ft. Worth.

Red Crash Survivors Under Cover

SINGAPORE — UP — The three Indian survivors of an air India Constellation crash off Borneo arrived in Singapore Thursday but were barred from seeing the press.

The Constellation, under charter to the Peiping government, crashed into the South China sea Monday while flying from Hong Kong to Jakarta with 18 persons aboard, seven of them crewmen.

Eight Chinese passengers were delegates to the Afro-Asian conference which opens next week in Bandung, Indonesia.

Peiping charged the plane was sabotaged while at the Hong Kong airport but Hong Kong authorities said the chances of sabotage were "extremely remote" since it was under heavy guard during the 10-hour layover.

The three survivors are co-pilot Capt. M. C. Dixit, flight navigator J. C. Patak and engineer A. S. Karnick. They arrived aboard the British frigate H.M.S. Dampier, which also brought back three bodies.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. JONNIE YARDLEY
 Pastor of The Church of God of Prophecy
 1601 Montagu

The desire for peace of mind represents, undoubtedly, one of the most profound longings of a human being. Especially is this true in this age of tension, stress, strain and nervousness, and the age in which people are going to pieces because they do not have a sense of inner peace. They say they are living on their nerves, which means they are using their maximum powers all the time, doing away with their emotional, physical and spiritual reserve. Almighty God never meant human beings to live in this way.

The life of Christ gives us a marvelous example and pattern of calmness and peacefulness. There is a passage in Mark the fourth chapter that tells of the distress of the disciples for this was really a "blow." They went to Jesus, lying in the stern asleep, His head pillowed on His arm. And they called to Him, "Lord, save us: we perish." He opened His eyes, stood up, looked around at the lowering sky, at the monstrous waves, and at the frightened faces of His disciples. I can imagine the glow of His smile as He crossed the deck, drenched to the skin, and clasped the mast. Then He raised His right arm and in a voice like music said, "Peace, be still." Then the writer of this Gospel states simply: "And there was a great calm."

Bad thoughts in a person's mind are the greatest enemy to his peacefulness. The minds of many people, God help us, are filled with hates, grudges, regrets and hidden sins thus making the fingers tremble, the heart beat more rapidly, and causing blood pressure to rise. There can be no peace in anyone's mind until he empties his mind and heart by confession and by conversion, by the cleansing that comes from God.

I think that every now and then we ought to realize that Jesus rides in the small boats of our lives which are often tossed on a stormy sea. And then we ought to let Him hold up His Hand and say to us, "Peace, be still." And you and I, like the disciple-writer can then say, "And there was a great calm."

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

EVERYONE HAS HIS OWN PET PEEVE. I've hesitated to mention mine as I didn't feel as if I were an authority on the subject. But I've found an article on it, which I will pass on to you. It's written by Alicia Hart, NEA beauty editor, who can be considered an authority. It has always bothered me to see a woman repair her make up in public, and I am glad to see someone else agrees with me.

A PERFECTLY STUNNING mature woman had been the object of many admiring glances in the restaurant where she was dining. The conversation at surrounding tables had touched on her excellent choice of colors, her tasteful hat, her simple suit, her gracious and dignified manner.

At the end of her meal, she proceeded to wreck her whole effort by dabbing her napkin in the glass and wiping her mouth, then taking out a compact and powdering her already perfectly powdered nose.

This is pretty old stuff in the line of bad manners. It goes back as long as cosmetics have been accepted by respectable women. Yet sometimes the most perfectly groomed women seem to fall the easiest prey to this unpleasant series of habits.

It is probably because they have gone to such effort to turn themselves out beautifully that they succumb to these untidy motions of making up at the table. They know what eating a meal can do to their faces and they hasten to repair before anyone notices.

Which, of course, makes it twice as noticeable. When you are eating out, use the napkin during the meal to wipe your mouth. That's what it's for. If you worry about lip stick, give a quick run inward at each corner of your mouth each time you use your napkin. It may take the lipstick off a little, but none at all is better than clown-like creases clinging outward.

Panel Discussion On Education Given At Meeting Of Twentieth Century Club

Twentieth Century Club met recently in the home of Mrs. W. R. Campbell, with Mrs. James Mason as co-hostess.

A panel discussion, "Strength Through Education," was presented by Mrs. Jack Foster representing the parent, Aubrey Steele, the school board, and Cameron Marsh, the teachers.

The panel brought out that the education of a child is no longer a simple enterprise, but the result of the efforts of the parents, teachers and school board. Each has specific duties, rights and privileges, they explained. Parents should see their child is mentally and physically ready for school and should be willing to accept office in school associations.

Teachers should consider their vocation a privilege in which standards are high, thus incurring the highest respect and gratitude of the community, the panel advised.

The school board is the sounding board for the tax payer, it was explained. The panel urged people to vote in school board elections and on bond issues.

A plan of education must be the best because it is developing and molding the citizens of tomorrow, panel members stated. It cannot however, retire to the powder room to do more extensive work. Do not put on lipstick, powder or under any circumstances comb your hair at the table. You're old enough to know better.

ADVICE FOR WOMEN: Well, at long last, a very fashionable young lady who was about to have a baby blossomed in a full-length tunic. No jumper, no middy, just a tunic. The effect was considerably smaller than that created by the horizontal line of a jacket.

Tip for keeping leather gloves from curling up in the fingers: when you first take them off and they are warm from your hands, pull the fingers smooth, fold the thumb flat. Put them away that way, too.

Again: Toenails should be cut straight across. Don't try to do it with the fingernail nippers — they're curved. There are special extra-stout toenail nippers that do the job.

Coming soon is a long-lived rose. Coming along with it will be a new lipstick that's rosy, nothing else. Nice for those who mope through the purples and yellows, seeking a good clear red.

Does your favorite hat suddenly not fit? Your head has probably not swollen — you might try a haircut. If you're a southpaw, you often feel how ungraceful you are when thrust into situations designed for the righthanded. Now, at least one king bank has decided to allow you to be graceful — left-handed check-books.

Beautiful Maureen O'Hara feels that her beauty assets, her height and her red hair, can be played up in ways that do not force her into fashion cliches. Whatever the current hair length (left), Miss O'Hara wears her skirts at the level she has selected as most flattering. The sleek suit (center) gives Miss O'Hara a dramatic line that doesn't make her taller. She shows (inset) a becoming modish head pump. Braided up (right), she wears a red velvet gown with black scroll work.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend:
I noticed in your column an inquiry concerning C.P.S. exams for qualified secretaries. My daughter has successfully passed the examination this year. She took the examination at the University of Southern California. I do know it is given in the fall. It was last September or October. It takes two days for the examination and if one does not pass each subject on the first take, they are given credit on what they did pass, and are allowed to take the part missed the following year.

My daughter is presently working in Miami, Fla., and is the only one in the city of Miami who has passed this examination and the third one in the state. She went from Miami to Los Angeles to take the examination and for the visit with relatives. I am sure if your reader would care to write her she would be happy to give her side, as there are certain qualifications one must meet before being allowed to take the exam, such as a certain number of years as office manager with a certain number of girls under you.

My daughter says it is a stiff exam but worth trying for and it is a satisfaction if one passes. I enjoy your column very much. Do you happen to know of a place that buys old newspapers? Mrs. H. L.

Thank you for your information on the examination. If my secretary is interested in writing to your daughter, I'll be delighted to forward the letters to her. Since the schools are always conducting paper drives, I imagine that the principal of the grammar school in your area could tell you of the closest place to sell your papers.

SHOE SEARCH
Dear Grace Friend:
I read your column every day and would like to know if you can tell me where I can buy Munson shoes. I am a shut-in and can't go and find the store that sells them. There used to be one near me but it sold out and moved and as my feet are in bad condition I find they fit better and are more comfortable.

I hope you have many years of helping people.
Mrs. S. M.
Dear Mrs. S. M.:
If anyone has the information you require, I'll be glad to send it on to you.
Do you have a telephone? If so why not call the various shoe stores listed in the yellow pages of the phone book.

Mobeetie Study Club Has Special Program
MOBETIE (Special) — The Blue Bonnet Study Club met recently at the home of Mrs. H. L. Flanagan for an Easter program. Mrs. Sam A. Thomas Jr., president for business and led the club collect.

Roll call was answered by giving a favorite passage of scripture. The program for the day was "Lines For Living," narrated by Mrs. Thomas with Mrs. Sam A. Thomas Jr., providing background music. Mrs. Muriel J. Trout recited a poem, "The Weaver." Mrs. Willard Godwin was in charge of the Easter music.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Kenneth Pierce of Denton, Mrs. Flanagan's daughter, was a guest. Members present were Mrs. M. Charles Mixon, Charlie France, Muriel J. Trout, Sam A. Thomas Jr., Sam A. Thomas Jr., E. E. Johnston, J. T. Johnston, A. W. Cooper, C. J. Van Zandt, Willard Godwin, J. M. Hathaway, A. W. Carmichael, Tracy Willis and G. W. Harris.

Let us then on these occasions silently reject the accusation. And with quiet awareness of what has actually been going on, remove critical atmosphere. In another room let's sit down with her and invite her to join us in enjoying pictured in the coloring book she's brought. She will mean at once whether or not we are afraid of what she's

Maureen O'Hara Takes The Tall View, Maintains Beauty Is Individualized Taste

EDITOR'S NOTE: In this article, written exclusively for NEA, movie star Maureen O'Hara talks about a lovely subject — herself. The very natural, yet glamorous kind of good looks needs special treatment and Miss O'Hara here tells her choice. She may next be seen in Columbia's "The Long Gray Line."

By MAUREEN O'HARA
Written especially for NEA Service

I think that the greatest mistake a woman can make is to try to be something she's not. I'm tall, 5 feet 7 inches. Some people think this is lucky, some would never try to act or dress like a petite woman. On the other hand, I wouldn't try to get myself into clothes meant for tall girls who are skinny. I simply stay away from those styles.

I have found the right hem length for my height and my legs. And I stick to it, whatever the ins and outs of style.

We tall women can wear dramatic horizontal lines that make shorter women look sawed off. We are lucky this way. Shoulder stoles and fur are eye-catching lines we can wear. They serve, at the same time, to keep us from looking like telephone poles.

Flat heels are something many tall women wear, feeling they may shrink into the ground a few inches. I think women who learn to live with their height ought to take advantage of the flattery of pumps. But no need to go overboard. A medium heel will flatter without pushing you head and shoulders above an escort.

Fashion cliches are a plague to most women, I can tell, even before I look, that a salesperson will bring out a green dress for me to look at, since I have red hair. Now, I like red with red hair. For an effect that really makes heads turn, I wear a red velvet dress with black scrollwork on it. And no one would look twice if the dress were green, I'm sure.

If girls look, they can find something that will set them off as striking women.

As she jerks angrily away from your soothing arm, it is clear that what Kathy wants is to make you uncomfortable by exposing herself as a problem child to your relatives.

One of them offers you a diagnosis of her behavior. She says: "Kathy's jealous of all the attention little Jimmy's been getting. You are being a bad girl to make everyone notice you, too, aren't you, Kathy?"

Do you accept this stupid charge? There is no truth in it. No child takes delight in angry attention attracted by this bad behavior. It is resentment of the child which suggests that he does.

Your daughter's bad manners represent emotional honesty. At the age of seven, she has not discovered the adult trick of disguising ill-will. Her intuition has told her that the exaggerated admiration lavished on her cousin contains reproach toward her.

She knows, if you don't, that flattery of him as a supremely interesting child has been used to criticize her as an uninteresting one. And she has responded to this disguised ill-will with honest rebellion. May I suggest that it is only natural for the adults who have indulged themselves in this cowardly criticism to accuse Kathy of enjoying it? Let us then on these occasions silently reject the accusation. And with quiet awareness of what has actually been going on, remove critical atmosphere. In another room let's sit down with her and invite her to join us in enjoying pictured in the coloring book she's brought. She will mean at once whether or not we are afraid of what she's

Brother H. Mark Of Amarillo Talks On Religious Education At PTA Meet

Education is not an end in itself, stated Brother H. Mark of Amarillo during his speech, "Character Development Through Religious and Moral Education," at the recent meeting of Holy Souls Parent-Teacher Association. Brother Mark is principal of Price College.

Education is discipline in a sense of self-control, ability to accept authority and lack of sense of sin, he explained. Religion is essential to the Way of Life, he added. Catholic education includes everything in a human being — mental, social and living religion.

"Perhaps the most discouraging result of the study of character development work in the public schools is to find that, although teachers and administrators of schools readily admit an interest in character training and evidence it in sincere concern over the moral welfare of our youth, they nevertheless are hesitant to inaugurate or to carry out any definite teaching on the subject," he advised.

The reasons he gave for this were fear of being involved in the controversy over teaching religion in the schools and of being called "Unscientific."

"We may truly say that the Christian education of a young man does not take place during the catechism lesson, or during the study of Christian practices, but principally by the daily exercise of Christian criteria in our estimate of men and things in the teaching of

Sam Houston PTA Chooses Officers

New officers were elected at the meeting Thursday afternoon of the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Association in the school auditorium.

Those chosen were Mrs. J. R. Holloway, president; Mrs. George Quibbe, vice president; Mrs. Don Cahn, secretary; Mrs. Bill Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Brown, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Warren Woodard and Mrs. J. E. Venable, city council representatives.

Program leader was Mrs. Jeff Bearden. On the program was Mrs. Ed Williams who reviewed the book, "Your Child and God." The door prize, a cash, was awarded to Mrs. John White.

Miami Wesleyan Club Ends Religious Study

MIAMI — (Special) — Mrs. J. V. Patterson was hostess to the Wesleyan Service Guild recently. Mrs. Joe Cunningham, president, conducted the business session and gave the devotional. Mrs. Orval Christopher taught the last part of the study, "Under Three Flags," on India, Pakistan and Ceylon and the religious problems there. Refreshments were served. Mrs. S. S. Jackson was a guest.

During the business meeting, led by Mrs. Edwin Hall, president, plans were made for several members to attend the district conference in Berger Tuesday. It was also announced that first and second grade students will receive the Salk polio vaccination beginning Thursday.

Next meeting will be a tea May 10, honoring mothers of children who will start school in September. In charge of the event will be first, second and third grade room mothers and teachers. Officers for the 1954-55 term will also be installed.

Three Injured In Crash On Hy. 81

LORENA, Tex. —UP— Two Oklahoma and a Texan were injured Thursday in a head-on collision on U.S. 81 one mile north of Lorena. They were David Daniel Zink, 64, and his wife, 60, both of Tulsa, Okla., and James Ray Gamble, 50, of Chico, Tex. They were hospitalized in Waco. Three feet high at birth, Indian elephants stand eight to 10 feet at maturity. Despite legends to the contrary, they seldom live more than 60 years.

Take Your Car Along When Vacating Outside U. S. A.

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON —UP— If you are planning a vacation out of the country, you might as well drive. That is, take your car along. Say you are taking a ship from Key West, Fla., to Cardenas, a Cuban port city 100 miles east of Havana. A car and driver can make the trip afloat for a total of $62.28, plus $16.50 for each passenger. And you'll have your car handy for sightseeing. I speak from a little experience. Last fall, I flew to Paris with some other newsmen. We wanted to see southern France. We did it by motor. We wouldn't have seen the countryside, had we not been mobile on rubber tires with our own driver. We could stop and take pictures of sheep grazing and peasants picking grapes in the vineyards whenever we wanted. The American Automobile Association has some ideas about people who like to travel abroad. Take Europe, for example. If you are going for a whirlwind trip and are satisfied with looking at the Eiffel tower from the air, that's fine enough. But if you and your family expect to remain for a couple or three weeks, you can rent a small French Renault for $80 a week. You'll get 35 to 40 miles on the gallon of gas (and gas is pretty high in France), but if there are only two of you, that adds up to only $40 each a week for transportation. American cars run a little higher. If you plan to stay a matter of months, you can take your American car on the steamship for $450, roundtrip. Most of the hotels in London and Paris have parking facilities for visitors. But say you plan to be overseas for something like a year or more. You can buy a new or second-hand car of your own from special agen-

Ex-Tax Man Sentenced To 5 Years

NEW YORK —UP— A former assistant Internal Revenue commissioner, Daniel A. Bolich, was sentenced to five years in jail and fined $15,000 Thursday for conspiracy in a $160,000 tax-fixing case. Bolich, along with Washington influence peddler Henry W. (The Dutchman) Gruenwald, and attorney Max Halperin, was convicted March 25 on the tax-fixing charges. Gruenwald was sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined $10,000. Halperin got five years and was fined $5,000. They were sentenced previously. All three are free under bail pending appeals of their cases. They have maintained their innocence of the charges that they conspired to obstruct justice by bribing tax officials or fixed tax cases for delinquent taxpayers.

Billy Martin Leads Army To 10-5 Win Over Oilers

Press Box Views

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

THIS FELLOW CARL ALLISON is a fast worker. The star end for the Oklahoma Sooners of last fall, who for less than a month was an assistant football coach for the Harvesters, has made his third deal for a coaching job and he isn't even out of school yet.

Allison, as you'll note elsewhere in this edition, has already tendered his resignation as the Harvester assistant.

But this isn't Allison's first resignation since the fellow began seeking a coaching job.

Allison first accepted an assistant coach job for Midwest City, Okla., in February.

Then, a month later, Jack Lockett, the newly appointed Harvester head coach, persuaded Allison to come with him to Pampa and Allison resigned, March 26, to accept the job here.

And now Allison has accepted a job as head coach at Clinton, Okla.

The last two jobs Allison landed came during the time he was busy playing for the Oklahoma University baseball team.

Well, football season is still several months away so Allison still may not be through making deals.

Sooner coach Bud Wilkinson better keep an eye on this youngster. If Allison continues to better himself with each deal, he may be moving in the Sooner camp before it's over with.

Fortin Clubs 5th Homer For Oilers

By BUCK FRANCIS

Pampa News Sports Editor

Ex-World Series hero Billy Martin was the big gun in yesterday's Fort Carson-Oiler game at Oiler Park won by the soldiers, 10-5.

Martin, regular second baseman for the New York Yankees before going into the service, belted a home run and two singles and drove in four runs to spark the Fort Carson victory yesterday.

Martin, who had gone hitless his first two trips, picked one of Red Dial's pitches for a 3-run homer in the top of the sixth to knot the score at 4-4.

The game then remained tied until the eighth when the soldiers rallied for three runs and after the Oilers pushed across a run in the bottom of the eighth to reduce the Carson lead to 7-5, the visitors led the game in the ninth with their third three-run inning of the game.

Prior to Martin's four-master, Bert Helgeson homered for the soldiers with none on in the second to break the scoring ice for both teams.

The Oilers came right back to take the lead in the bottom of the second inning when Dial tripled to deep right field to drive in Jack Hall who had singled and Pete Carmona who had doubled, giving the locals the lead, 2-1.

The Oilers went to work again in the third to hike their lead to 4-1 with Joe Fortin driving in both runs with his fifth home run of the exhibition season, Paul Halter, who had just stroked his first of two doubles of the afternoon, was on the base paths when Fortin connected.

Halter scored the fifth Oiler run when he doubled in the eighth and scored on Johnny Brugg's single.

Although the Oilers were charged with five errors, the locals pulled some great defensive plays, executing three doubleplays. And Halter made a running and diving catch of a sinking line drive off the bat of Charlie Menna in the first inning.

Fort Carson also executed three double plays.

The win ended the Fort Carson swing through the West Texas-New Mexico League and gave the soldiers an even break with W-T-N-M clubs, winning three and losing three. In addition to their win over the Oilers, the soldiers defeated El Paso, 7-3, and Lubbock, 13-9. Fort Carson lost to Albuquerque, 4-3; Clovis, 14-8; and Amarillo, 9-7. Games with Plainview and Abilene were cancelled by cold weather.

The Oilers were to have met Amarillo today at Amarillo.

Sugar Ray Robinson, 163, New York, stopped Ted Olla, 164, Milwaukee in third round at Milwaukee.

STOPS OLLA IN 3RD

Sugar Ray Making Good In Comeback

MILWAUKEE —UP—Sugar Ray Robinson said he was ahead of schedule on his comeback trial now. His manager said he would file for re-instatement of Robinson's world middleweight title.

Robinson rocked Wisconsin middleweight champion Ted Olla into technical submission in 2:15 of the third round Thursday night in a flash of the form which made him the world's greatest fighter, pound for pound.

But little could be indicated as to future greatness by the class of competition Thursday night.

Robinson said the victory was the biggest thrill since his first fight after coming out of retirement.

"I'm most satisfied with the timing on my combination," he said. "I'm as satisfied as I could be with my timing after 31 months out of the ring."

Ground to Cover

The former middleweight champion said he still had some ground to cover before he was ready to fight for the championship.

"I still don't feel I've reached the peak," he said. "I believe if I can fight once or twice a month I'll be ready by September to get a chance at the championship."

"I gave (Bobo) Olson two chances so I hope he'll give me one."

Although Robinson talked of getting back his title in the ring, Manager George Gainford talked about getting it back in the mail. Gainford said he would petition the National Boxing Association to recognize Sugar Ray as the middleweight champ again.

Gainford argued that Robinson "never gave up the championship," although he retired from boxing. He also argued that Olson has stepped up into the light-heavyweight class with his victory Wednesday over Joey Maxim.

Most boxing men believe, however, that the NBA will turn down any such petition by Gainford.

Robinson said he wasn't tired despite a flurry of blows necessary to stop Olla.

"I wasn't tired to the extent I couldn't go 10 rounds," he said. "I was prepared to go 10 rounds."

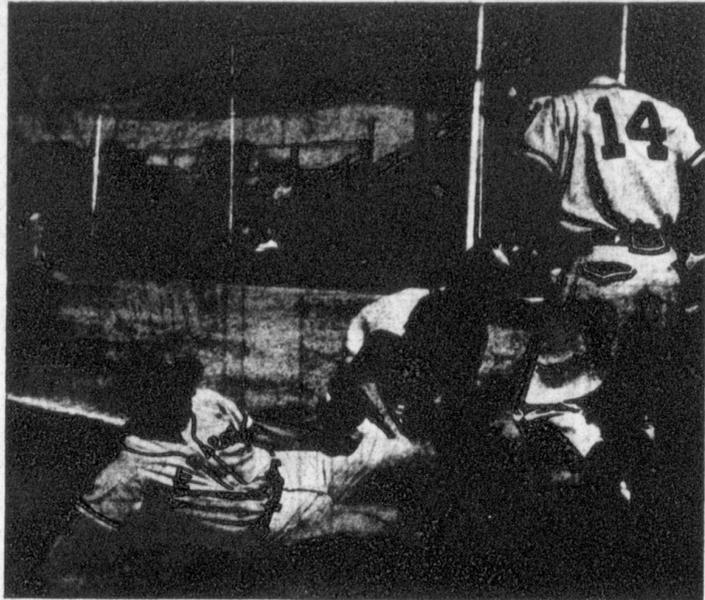

Like a Thunderstorm

The experienced, 34-year-old Robinson caught the 34-year-old Olla with the suddenness of a thunderstorm at the opening of the third after a relatively inactive first two rounds.

He came out with an explosion of rights and lefts, staggering Olla hardest with a key right. Then he put Olla down for the mandatory eight count with a hard left. Olla was up at four but he might as well have stayed down.

Robinson poured into him with blows from all directions. He was unable to put him down again, but there was little doubt the fight should be stopped. Referee Dauber Jaeger stopped it.

A crowd of 4,323 paid a gross gate of $12,513 for a net of $11,348.

OUT AND SAFE — Billy Martin, ex-New York Yankee star, slides home safely in his attempt to steal home in yesterday's Fort Carson-Oiler game at Oiler Park. Martin, however, wasn't credited with a stolen base since he was called out, but then was ruled safe when catcher Jack Hall dropped the ball. The umpire is Warren Helke and Bill Robinson is the batter. (News Photo by T. D. Ellis)

Harvester Athletes To Amarillo, Borger 6th Straight

San Antonio's sixing Miamos won their sixth straight Texas League game Thursday night to grab first place by a full game's margin over second-place Houston and Dallas.

Fort Worth fell victim to the rampaging Miamos for the third night in a row as San Antonio breezed to a 2-to-0 decision. Dallas staged a last chance rally in the bottom of the ninth to score all of its runs and squeak by Houston 4 to 3.

Tulsa won its first game of the season, a 1 to 0 shut out of Shreveport, and Beaumont's Exporters sailed by Oklahoma City 9 to 3 in other games.

A new series begins Friday night with San Antonio moving to Dallas, Houston going to Fort Worth, Shreveport playing at Oklahoma City and Beaumont journeying to Tulsa.

The leading Miamos thumped a trio of Cat hurlers for a dozen hits to back up winning pitcher Bill Diemer. James Pisoni of San Antonio and Robert Dolan of Fort Worth swiped solo homers in the third inning.

Hugh Sooter handcuffed the Dallas Eagles with a lone hit through eight innings and took a 2 to 0 lead into the final frame, but the Eagles put together three hits for four runs and the ball game. The big blow of the rally was Ray Murray's 345-foot left-field homer with two mates aboard that ended the contest.

Tulsa won its first game in six starts as Pete Janowski poked a third inning pitch over the fence to give Ed Gasque the mound victory over Shreveport's Ray Knoblauch. Both hurlers gave up only four hits in going the route.

Beaumont pushed across four runs in the top of the first frame and that was all it took as German Malloy coasted to victory over Oklahoma City. His mates backed him up with 12 hits, including a two-run homer by Ben Taylor that increased the margin of safety over the Indians.

Smith Paying Off For Cardinals

By UNITED PRESS

Eddie Stanky's big winter deal paid its first dividend Friday when Frank Smith displayed the powerful relief pitching which the St. Louis Cardinals believe will make them a National League pennant contender.

Smith, acquired from Cincinnati last December for third-baseman Ray Jablonski and pitcher Gerry Staley, made a winning debut for the Cardinals Thursday when he hurled the last three innings of an 11-inning, 8-7 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Smith took over with the Braves leading 7-4 and shut them out with only one hit the remainder of the way.

Given the sturdy, late-inning relief pitching which they lacked so often in 1954, the Cardinals hold the score on Stan Musial's sixth inning home run and won the game when rookie centerfielder Bill Virdon hit his first big league round-tripper in the 11th. Red Schoendienst, Rip Repulski and Wally Moon also hit homers for the Cardinals while Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell homered for the Braves.

Almost Costly Error

At that, the 37-year-old Smith almost deprived himself of the victory with a homer which recalled the famous blunder in 1908 which made Fred Merkle of the New York Giants immortal.

Moon had singled with Smith on first and Bob Stephenson on third in the 10th inning. Stephenson trotting home with what appeared to be the winning run. But the alert Braves noticed that Smith neglected to touch second base and threw the ball there forcing out the pitcher and nullifying the run.

The old spring axiom that the pitchers are ahead of the hitters took a beating Thursday as Milwaukee pounded out a total of 28 homers in four games. The major league record of 25 home runs in one day was set in seven games on July 16, 1950.

A total of six home runs were hit as the Brooklyn Dodgers ruined the world champion New York Giants' home opener with a 10-8 triumph. Don Newcombe, who was a disappointment in his first mound test of the season, drove in three runs with two homers and Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo also homered for the Dodgers. Hank Thompson and Bobby Hotman homered for the Giants, who dropped their second straight game of the new season.

Tenth-inning homers by Ransom Jackson and Ernie Banks enabled the Chicago Cubs to defeat the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 and run their winning streak to three games. The Cubs had gone ahead in the top of the ninth when pitcher Hal Jeffcoat homered, but the Redlegs tied the score in the bottom half of the frame on Gus Bell's two-out round tripper. It was the third straight loss for the Redlegs.

Philles Down Pirates

Herman Wehmer's six-hit pitching paced the Philadelphia Philles to a 4-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates in a game that produced "only" three homers. Willie Jones hit one for Philadelphia while Preston Bannan Meljane and Preston Ward homered for the Pirates.

Mike Garcia, a 19-game winner last season, pitched a six-hitter and Al Smith and Jim Hogan homered to lead the Cleveland Indians to their second straight win—a 5-4 decision over the Detroit Tigers.

Billy Hoelt's three walks contributed to a two-run Cleveland first inning. Smith's second homer in as many games gave the Tribe two more in the fifth and Hagan's blow closed out the scoring in the ninth.

Willard Nixon, with relief aid from Ellis Kinder, was the winning pitcher as the Boston Red Sox beat the New York Yankees, 8-4, while Sandy Consuegra pitched a three-hitter to give the Chicago White Sox a 7-1 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics.

"I don't know what I was thinking of," he said. "When I saw that hit, I thought the game's over and was ready to walk off. When I realized my mistake, it was too late."

"You can tell by the way I acted," he added, "just how often I got on base."

Missions Win 6th Straight

By UNITED PRESS

San Antonio's sixing Miamos won their sixth straight Texas League game Thursday night to grab first place by a full game's margin over second-place Houston and Dallas.

Fort Worth fell victim to the rampaging Miamos for the third night in a row as San Antonio breezed to a 2-to-0 decision. Dallas staged a last chance rally in the bottom of the ninth to score all of its runs and squeak by Houston 4 to 3.

Tulsa won its first game of the season, a 1 to 0 shut out of Shreveport, and Beaumont's Exporters sailed by Oklahoma City 9 to 3 in other games.

A new series begins Friday night with San Antonio moving to Dallas, Houston going to Fort Worth, Shreveport playing at Oklahoma City and Beaumont journeying to Tulsa.

The leading Miamos thumped a trio of Cat hurlers for a dozen hits to back up winning pitcher Bill Diemer. James Pisoni of San Antonio and Robert Dolan of Fort Worth swiped solo homers in the third inning.

Hugh Sooter handcuffed the Dallas Eagles with a lone hit through eight innings and took a 2 to 0 lead into the final frame, but the Eagles put together three hits for four runs and the ball game. The big blow of the rally was Ray Murray's 345-foot left-field homer with two mates aboard that ended the contest.

Tulsa won its first game in six starts as Pete Janowski poked a third inning pitch over the fence to give Ed Gasque the mound victory over Shreveport's Ray Knoblauch. Both hurlers gave up only four hits in going the route.

Beaumont pushed across four runs in the top of the first frame and that was all it took as German Malloy coasted to victory over Oklahoma City. His mates backed him up with 12 hits, including a two-run homer by Ben Taylor that increased the margin of safety over the Indians.

SNOW-BOUND AUTOS

Autos are buried under snowdrifts in Cheyenne, Wyo., as sudden blizzard dumped 17 inches of snow on the city early Wednesday. Blizzard drove heavy, wet snow across northern plains of Wyoming, northeast Colorado and western Nebraska, marring scores of motorists and isolating many communities. (NEA Telephoto)

Crosby Says He's Closed Door On Musicals After Latest Film

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD (UP) Bing Crosby, crooner turned dramatic actor, said Thursday he's hoofing his last and has closed the door on movie musicals.

Crosby is back in his familiar surroundings, dancing in a straw hat with Donald O'Connor, Mitze Gaynor and the sexiest pair of legs in town, cancaners, in "Anything Goes."

After sauntering through a number with traditional ease, Bing sat down in his dressingroom with chorines behind him.

but as far as I know this is the last," he said.

"I'd like to do a good romantic comedy, like 'It Happened One Night.' Or stories with kids, something like little league baseball. I feel I've done all I can with musicals. I'll never be a dancer, not at my age."

"This picture, for example, has 11 or 12 numbers, at 4 1/2 minutes apiece. That's 45 minutes of music and doesn't leave time for much of a story, not much chance to develop any comedy."

"Well, if someone came up with a great musical maybe I'd do it."

Minimum Pay Hike Asked

WASHINGTON (UP) Labor Secretary William P. Mitchell asked congress Thursday to hike the wage minimum from 75 to 90 cents an hour.

He also proposed that the federal fair labor standards act be extended to cover more than 2 million additional workers. It now affects 24 million.

Bing doesn't mean he'll never sing again on the screen. He still likes "stories with two or three songs." He sang even in the heavy drama that won him an Oscar nomination, "The Country Girl."

Snarling that honor plus public acclaim for his tragic part admittedly influenced Bing's decision to get away from big musicals. In fact, he still talks happily about "The Country Girl."

"Someone just sent me a review of 'The Country Girl' from Canada," he said. "The critic said he thought the picture should have won the academy award. He said he thought they should re-count the votes."

"Oh, I still get a lot of letters about the academy awards," the loser said with a grin.

The man who is the only full-fledged institution in Hollywood appears thinner since his recent operation. The lines around his blue eyes are beginning to show, but with age the millionaire singer has mellowed. He talks affably to the press these days and seems happy and friendly.

"Musicals are tiring and straight pictures are easier," he said. "I never did any acting in 'The Country Girl.' I just did what the director told me."

"Another thing, in other pictures you don't have to wear any make-up. I never did like make-up. It itches and gets hot."

Mitchell told a Senate Labor committee the proposed 15-cent increase, requested by President Eisenhower, would improve the lot of some 1.3 million workers without hurting affected industries.

But he said any greater increase would necessitate "very serious adjustments in some industries." He said a $1.25-an-hour rate proposed by the CIO and AFL would force wage boosts for about half the manufacturing workers in the South.

Opposition to the administration wage recommendations is centered mainly in the South.

Ex-Mayor Cleared In Assault Trial

FORT WORTH (UP) Elbert Burr Hill, former White Settlement mayor found innocent of raping a 13-year-old girl, may never stand trial on a second and similar incident.

CAMDEN, N. J. (UP) Federal subpoenas were issued Monday for all records of stock purchases by New York Shipbuilding Corp. stockholders opposing financier Louis Wolfson in his struggle for control of Montgomery Ward.

Tarrant County District Attorney Howard Fender said Thursday he is uncertain whether he will bring Hill to trial on the second charge. It accuses Hill in connection with the 19-year-old mentally retarded sister of the girl involved in the first case.

The subpoenas were for all communications by 93 plaintiffs and intervenors comprising the "minority stockholders" who have filed suit against the company. The subpoenas were served on Thomas Saul, executive secretary of the International Shipbuilders Union (AFL); the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., of Camden; Patricia Morhauser, the group's secretary; the Western Union Telegraph Co., of Camden, and the Wurtes, Dulles and Co. stock brokers of Philadelphia.

A criminal district court jury announced late Wednesday that it had found the former mayor innocent.

Hill's attorney had argued that the 32-year-old defendant was "framed" by a son, Titus Hill, as a result of a dispute over property.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA)—Hollywood and GrapeVine: Mystery behind the tragic suicide of Miroslava, the Czech beauty who became a big star in Mexico, simmers down to an ailment for which she was being treated. She had been advised to see specialists in the U. S. . . . The stork cancelled its second date with Edward G. Robinson, Jr. and his estranged mate, Frances. Their divorce will go through despite reconciliation talks.

Charles Lindbergh took a chance but Warner Bros. didn't. After all the ballyhoo about finding an unknown to star as Lindy in "The Spirit of St. Louis," box-office bell ringer Jimmy Stewart was hired for the role. Some people may complain that Jimmy is too old to play The Lone Eagle who flew the Atlantic when he was 25.

Ann Miller leaves Hollywood in April for Australia, Siam, Egypt, Rome and then France to beat the publicity drums for new MGM movies.

THE WITNET: French cutie Gaby Bonyere about a movie-town cocktail party:

"It was such a success the guests haven't yet stopped talking about each other."

Not in the Script: Jack Oakie told about the late W. C. Fields: "When one of his friends, Sam Hardy, died, I asked Fields what happened. His answer was: 'Poor Sam—he quit drinking.'"

Overheard in a Las Vegas gambling casino:

"The sun never sets in Las Vegas—it fades."

NORA HAYMES and actor Bill Barker quarreled and called off marriage plans . . . The Five DeMarco sisters are talking about breaking up the act. Three are married and one would like solo stardom . . . Liberace's one-time gal friend, Joanne Reo, is dating Gene Wesson . . . Rudi Maugeri, the oldest (24) of the Crewcuts, ties the knot with Placita Conter June 11. She was a '54 runnerup for the Miss Pennsylvania title.

The "G" in TWA's new Super G Constellation means glamor in the sky.

Previewing new airliners isn't on my beat, but it was a spring joy and the TWA invitation read, "A Day to Remember," and well . . . I ditched school for a day to take a press flight to Phoenix, Ariz., in the new Super-G.

What a plane! Radar in the nose, full-length berths, indirect lighting, wall-to-wall carpeting, four passenger compartments and champagne on ice. That Howard Hughes thinks of everything.

A movie Grace Kelly is anxious to do — "The Swan," which Grant Tinker will film in Europe this summer.

Las Vegas hotel owners may get together to hire a czar to settle all their disputes. Talent raiding is one of the big beefs.

FIFTY D'ORSAY'S role in the Broadway musical version of "Seventh Heaven" has been enlarged and three new songs have been penned for her. It is the big break she's been waiting for.

Steve Cochran has a writer working on a prize-fight yarn, "Red Leather," as a floopout to his next, "Come Next Spring."

Progress report on MGM's attempt to stir up teen-age interest in Greta Garbo for its reissue of "Camille." Detroit teen-agers, says Daily Variety, responded to an MGM questionnaire with: "Who's Garbo?"

"Tip to MGM: Release one of her old films on TV, boys, and you'll have the biggest comeback of the year."

SHORT TAKES: Greer Garson and Deborah Kerr are in the race for the Gertrude Lawrence film biography . . . Broadway is paging Sammy Davis, Jr., for a revival of "Cabin in the Sky" . . . Vic Mature leaves for Italy in June to star in "The Fair Bride."

Oscar Levant wants back in TV after a four-year layoff. Just completed a pilot reel, "Story Behind Your Song."

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse symbolize War, Famine, Pestilence, and Death.
