Muleshoe 4-H will hold first meeting Monday

The Muleshoe 4-H Club will hold its first meeting of the new year Monday, Sept. 11 at the Bailey County Civic Center at 7 p.m. for a covered dish dinner and business meeting.

The 4-H leaders would like to invite to the meeting all young people in the community in the third through the 12th grade and their families who are interested in being a part of the 4-H program—as well as returning 4-H members and their families.

Each family is asked to bring a large covered dish for the dinner.

According to 4-H Leader Linda Lee, the regular business meeting will include an installment of officers and some information about the 4-H program and what it has to offer young people and families.

'Muleshoe Down' attracts 83 entries

Mule enthusiasts from as far away as Bryan competed in the Muleshoe Down mule show, Saturday, Sept. 2 at Dusty Rhodes Arena.

The show featured 83 entries, well up from a year ago, as the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture pulled out the stops to revive the event after several years of decline.

James and Lisa Ferguson of Sanger, TX, provided direction and expertise in organizing and putting on the show. The couple train and show mules in several states.

Warren Aldhen of Dumas served as the judge.

Deana Smith of Ackerly was the high-point adult in the show, while her son Clayton was the high-point youth rider.

"Corrina," ridden and owned by the Smith family, was picked for the "Mayor's Choice Award." The contestant traveling the longest distance was Walter Nunn of Bryan, while the entrant with the longest ears was "Quincy," shown by Donald Durr of Fritch.

Other champions crowned during the event included:

Purdy claims first football contest title of the season

John Purdy of 1805 S. Ave. D., Muleshoe, was the winner of the Muleshoe Journal/Bailey County Merchants' football contest for games played the week of Sept. 2-4.

Purdy scored 104 points out of a possible 136 in the Journal's new "Power Points" contest to stand alone in first place. Purdy wins $10 cash as well as a $10 gift certificate from Joe's Boot Shop.

While Purdy headed the local pack, it was Gayle Sechrist of 4402 56th in Lubbock who captured the statewide prize of $1,000 in the Power Points contest. Sechrist, a second-grade teacher, racked up 132 points to become the contest's first $1,000 winner. She entered through the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

The Power Points contest allows Muleshoe Journal readers to compete for local prizes, which total $32.50 weekly, as well as competing on a statewide level for the $1,000 weekly grand prize.

The contest features a descending scale of 16 games, with points awarded for each level from 16 down to 1. Contestants make their picks according to the games they believe they can predict with the most confidence, in descending order down to games in which they are least sure of the outcome. For every correct choice, they are awarded the corresponding point total. Those points are compiled to provide a total score.

Those total scores are compared to all entries in Texas each week, with the top point-

McClanahan affiliates with St. Mary's

By Martha Toles Frost

Family Practitioner Mark McClanahan, D.O.—who grew up in Plainview and practices medicine in Muleshoe—is a physician who likes to treat the whole family. He says he has fun watching kids grow up.

His wife Robin—the world-travelling daughter of an Air Force family—now calls Muleshoe home. She works with him at St. Mary Family Healthcare Center, 610 S. First St.

The McClanahans have three sons—Jason, 20, is in trade school at Amarillo College, and Matthew, 14, and John, 13, attend school in Muleshoe.

The McClanahans work with two nurses and eight staff members at the facility he designed himself near the Muleshoe Area Medical Center.

Although McClanahan has been practicing medicine in the present facility for two or three years, he became affiliated on July 1 with St. Mary Hospital in Lubbock.

McClanahan's practice is backed by the resources and technological support of St. Mary Hospital. His healthcare center features four exam rooms and laboratory and X-ray capabilities.

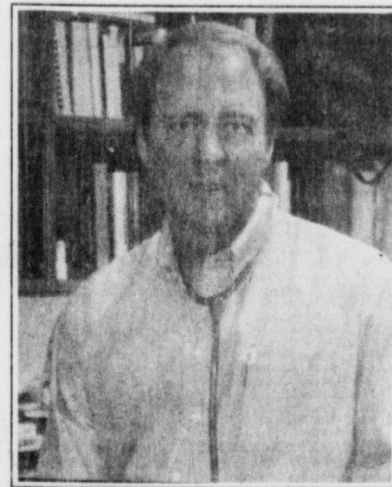

It also will provide EKG and cardiovascular stress testing, as well as a physical therapy treatment room.

Most of McClanahan's patients who must be hospitalized are admitted to the Muleshoe Area Medical Center.

"I will continue to support Muleshoe Area Medical Center and admit patients here, unless they need care that can't be provided locally," McClanahan said.

"It is my feeling that this association with St. Mary Hospital will provide support to our community as well as to our local hospital."

McClanahan has been practicing medicine in Muleshoe eight years, and most of his patients have remained with him through the changes brought about by his decision to become affiliated with St.

Dr. Mark McClanahan

Mary Hospital.

St. Mary Hospital handles payroll, billing and other business matters, allowing the Muleshoe doctor to do what he was trained for at Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine in Fort Worth—to practice medicine.

Small pet show one of many Bailey County fair events

By Martha Toles Frost

A small pet show scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16 is one of the many events children and adults will enjoy at the Bailey County West Plains Fair in Muleshoe this weekend.

Fair dates are Friday, Sept. 15 from 1 to 7 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 16 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Bailey County Coliseum.

Small pets can be entered in the show at 1 p.m. Saturday at the County Extension Booth.

All pets must be kept on a leash or in a cage. No sheep, swine, cattle, horses, goats or mules will be allowed, since it is a small pet show.

But there will be categories for dogs, cats and "other" pets. In each category, the small animals will be judged on best costume, best trained, smallest pet and ugliest pet.

Animals that cannot be controlled by the owner will not be allowed in the show. Each participant may exhibit only one pet, but the pet may be shown in one or more classes.

There will be two divisions: Adults (over 18) and Youths (under 18). A rosette will be awarded to the best pet in both the adult and youth division.

HECE program boasts 25 students

A total of 25 students at Muleshoe High School have been accepted this year into the Home Economics Cooperative Education (HECE) program.

As the name of the program suggests, the course is carried on through a cooperative arrangement between the businesses and the local high school. Workplace training is provided for the student through part-time employment in a place of business during each morning or afternoon.

In addition, information related to the student's occupation is taught in a cooperative education class daily. Students must be of junior or senior standing, and must be at least 16 years of age to participate in the course.

Mrs. Carolyn Johnson, teacher-coordinator of the program says it enables students to develop general workplace competencies so they may enter full-time employment upon graduation or attend college.

In addition to class instruction and on-the-job training, a

Lil' Mules to compete

Muleshoe youth will participate in the Clovis Youth Inc. football league this fall with other area teams. Pictured above are the Lil' Mules and their coaches.

Youth football returns to Muleshoe

By Linda McGonagill

The Little Muleshoe Mules, comprised of 19 youngsters age 12 and under, have been working out hard for the past few weeks, instructed by their coaches in the rules, regulations and techniques of football.

They are an "intermediate tackle" team and play their first game on Saturday, Sept. 9 at Play, Inc., probably against the Colts, a Clovis team. Play, Inc. is located north of the zoo and park on Sycamore Street in Clovis, NM. Other schools participating include Clovis, Texico and Farwell.

Although the Little Muleshoe Mules are not a MISD organization, the parents and the players have all been advised that the team will be on no pass, no play basis, so the players will have to keep their grades up to play.

The Little Muleshoe Mules work out after school for about two hours on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday each week.

The players are as follows: Cooper Ellerbrock, 44; Blake Gable, 25; Phillip Field, 70; Michael Durben, 50; D.J. Dominguez, 87; Andy Domin-

By sharing feelings of tragedy, pain, endurance and love, the organizers believe people can help one another find their way on the path to healing.

"Whether the loss of a child is recent or years past, we welcome you to join us," said Glenda Jennings and Jan Thompson, facilitator.

"One of the best ways to recover from such terrible grief is to reach out to others in shared pain and sorrow—and hope. Those who are farther down the road to recovery can help those whose grief is fresh and overwhelming."

More information about Compassionate Friends or the local meeting can be obtained by calling Jennings at 965-2483 or Thompson at (806) 894-0133.

McClanahan said the affiliation allows him to "focus more on patient care and not so much on running a business."

Cecelia Garrison of Regional Services with St. Mary Hospital said, "Our goal is to bring health care into the region through a network which is both consumer and cost friendly."

St. Mary Hospital's current regional network of family healthcare centers includes Plainview, Northwest and Southwest Lubbock, Amherst, Seminole, Levelland, Hobbs, NM, Littlefield, Snyder, Andrews, Abernathy, Lamesa, Brownfield and Clovis, NM.

Planned sites include Spur, TX, Carlsbad, NM and three additional facilities in Lubbock.

Guidelines set for religious freedom in schools

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Richard W. Riley, U.S. Secretary of Education, recently sent the following guidelines to the nation's superintendents regarding freedom of religion and separation of Church and State in public schools:

Student prayer and religious discussion:

The Establishment Clause of the First Amendment does not prohibit purely private religious speech by students.

Students therefore have the same right to engage in individual or group prayer and religious discussion during the school day as they do to engage in other comparable activity.

For example, students may read their Bibles or other scriptures, say grace before meals, and pray before tests to the same extent they may engage in comparable non-disruptive activities.

Local school authorities possess substantial discretion to impose rules of order and other pedagogical restrictions on student activities, but they may not structure or administer such rules to discriminate against religious activity or speech.

Generally, students may pray in a nondisruptive manner when not engaged in school activities or instruction, and subject to the rules that normally pertain in the applicable setting.

Specifically, students in informal settings, such as cafeterias and hallways, may pray and discuss their religious views with each other, subject to the same rules of order as apply to other student activities and speech.

Students may also speak to, and attempt to persuade, their peers about religious topics just as they do with regard to political topics. School officials, however, should intercede to stop student speech that constitutes harassment aimed at a student or a group of students.

Students may also participate in before or after school events with religious content, such as "see you at the flagpole" gatherings, on the same terms as they participate in other noncurriculum activities on school premises. School officials may neither discourage nor encourage participation in such an event.

The right to engage in voluntary prayer or religious discussion free from discrimination does not include the right to have a captive audience listen, or to compel other students to participate.

Teachers and school administrators should ensure that no student is in any way coerced to participate in religious activity.

Graduation prayer and baccalaureates:

Under current Supreme Court decisions, school officials may not mandate or organize prayer at graduation, nor organize religious baccalaureate ceremonies.

If a school generally opens its facilities to private groups, it must make its facilities available on the same terms to organizers of privately sponsored religious baccalaureate services.

A school may not extend preferential treatment to baccalaureate ceremonies and may in some instances be obliged to disclaim official endorsement of such ceremonies.

Official neutrality regarding religious activity:

Teachers and school administrators, when acting in those capacities, are representatives of the state and are prohibited by the establishment clause from soliciting or encouraging religious activity, and from participating in such activity with the students.

Teachers and administrators also are prohibited from discouraging activity because of its religious content, and from soliciting or encouraging anti-religious activity.

Teaching about religion:

Public schools may not provide religious instruction, but they may teach about religion, including the Bible or other scripture: the history of religion, comparative religion, the Bible (or other scripture)-as-literature, and the role of religion in the history of the United States and other countries all are permissible public school subjects.

Similarly, it is permissible to consider religious influences on art, music, literature, and social studies.

Although public schools may teach about religious holidays, including their religious aspects, and may celebrate the secular aspects of holidays, schools may not observe holidays as religious events or promote such observance by students.

Student assignments:

Students may express their beliefs about religion in the form of homework, artwork and other written and oral assignments free of discrimination based on the religious content of their submissions.

Such home and classroom work should be judged by ordinary academic standards of substance and relevance, and against other legitimate pedagogical concerns identified by the school.

Religious literature:

Students have a right to distribute religious literature to their schoolmates on the same terms as they are permitted to distribute other literature that is unrelated to school curriculum or activities.

School may impose the same reasonable time, place, and manner or other constitutional restrictions on distribution of religious literature as they do on nonschool literature generally, but they may not single out religious literature for special regulation.

Religious excusals:

Subject to applicable State laws, schools enjoy substantial discretion to excuse individual students from lessons that are objectionable to the student or the students' parents on religious or other conscientious grounds.

School officials may neither encourage nor discourage students from availing themselves of an excusal option.

Under the Religious Freedom Restoration Act, if it is proved that particular lessons substantially burden a student's free exercise of religion and if the school cannot prove a compelling interest in requiring attendance, the school would be legally required to excuse the student.

Released time:

Subject to applicable State laws, schools have the discretion to dismiss student to off-premises religious instruction, provided that schools do not encourage or discourage participation or penalize those who do not attend.

School may not allow religious instruction by outsiders on school premises during the school day.

Teaching values:

Though schools must be neutral with respect to religion, they may play an active role with respect to teaching civic values and virtue, and the moral code that holds us together as a community.

The fact that some of these values are held also by religions does not make it unlawful to teach them in school.

Student garb:

Students may display religious messages on items of clothing to the same extent that they are permitted to display other comparable messages.

When wearing particular attire, such as yarmulkes and head scarves, during the school day is part of students' religious practice, under the Religious Freedom Restoration Act schools generally may not prohibit the wearing of such items.

The Equal Access Act:

The Equal Access Act is designed to ensure that, consistent with the First Amendment, student religious activities are accorded the same access to public school facilities as are student secular activities.

Based on decisions of the Federal courts, as well as its interpretations of the Act, the Department of Justice has advised that the Act should be interpreted as providing, among other things, that:

General provisions:

Student religious groups at public secondary schools have the same right of access to school facilities as is enjoyed by other comparable student groups.

Baptist Convention calls for "See You at the Flag Pole"

DALLAS — The Baptist Convention of Texas announces that "See You at the Pole," the world's largest simultaneous youth prayer event, is expected to draw more than 100,000 high school and junior high students throughout Texas to pray around school flagpoles Sept. 20 at 7 a.m.

Launched by Texas Baptists in 1990, "See You at the Pole" has spread around the world and is expected to involve millions of students from all Christian denominations in 1995, according to Chuck Flowers, youth associate in the Texas Baptist Evangelism Division.

"We sought a pioneer way for students to present a visible, bold witness of their faith on their school campuses within the boundaries of the nation's legal system," Flowers said.

"We did not know if there would be a lasting impact, but out of that first event came prayer groups continuing throughout the school year.

"Many students reported a renewed encouragement when they discovered there were other believers on the campuses they had not known about.

Last year, more than two million students participated in the event in the United States and in Russia, Canada, Singapore, the Philippines, Guatemala, Taiwan, Saipan, Austria, Albania, Romania, Belgium and other countries on six continents.

Adults also participated, praying around the flagpoles at city halls and other public locations.

"More than 75 denominations and ministries help

POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are surest of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line. If that team wins its game that week, you win 16 points. Write the name of your second-surest winner on the 15-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a toss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's Cowboys or Oilers game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final. The weekly winner of the contest will receive $1,000.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc., will be disqualified.
- Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and, when necessary, between the Houston Oilers and the Houston Cougars.
- No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.
- Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.
- Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.
- No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted and are available at all outlets of participating co-sponsors. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.
- Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Fridays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.
- Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.
- Limit: one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant, "group" entries, "systems" or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filling out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.
- Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

Minding Your Own Business

By Don Taylor

'P' ranks high in business performance

Pity the poor little letter p. This paltry little peon occupies the 16th position in the alphabet and hardly gets any respect because of its puny little hump-backed shape.

However, the p ranks at the head of the class when it comes to power, prestige, performance and personality. Where would 'eter 'iper be without it? He'd be in an 'ickle, he would.

In fact, we'd all be worse off without the letter p. For example, no one could strive for perfection. Some would still be beautiful, but no one would be pretty. Mary would have been a soloist without Peter & Paul, and pencils, pens and paper wouldn't exist.

Then there is the plight of the population paradises like Phoenix, Pittsburgh and Portland. Not to mention Pampa, Perryton, Peculiar, Pratt and Platteville. Yes sir, those people places would be in a pretty poor position without their P's.

Rather than prolong this p-word piece, I probably should proceed to the point: P words. P words are pretty potent and particularly propitious in helping us live a better life.

Pick of the P's

Here are a few of my favorite p words.

• Profit. Try to imagine a world without profit. There would be no businesses, no jobs, no educational system and no government. We would be slaves of the soil. We would have to grub out a meager existence and eat all of the profit. Profit is good. The free-enterprise system is great.

• Power. We all have power. Power to choose between good and evil. Power to improve our position in life. We have power to learn, grow and help others.

We can use our God given power to lead and motivate others toward personal success. While power can corrupt, it doesn't have to. We can use our power in a positive, constructive way.

• Perseverance. I love this word. To persevere means to continue steadfastly toward our goals despite obstacles and interference. It means getting up again when life knocks us down. When we practice perseverance, we go on when we feel like quitting, we work when we feel like resting and we continue when we feel like stopping. In the final analysis, victory always belongs to the man to woman who perseveres.

• Productive. I like this word, because to me it describes people who can make things happen. In my opinion, the world has too many talkers and not enough doers. Perhaps this is because it is so much easier to talk than do.

However, doing alone doesn't make up productive. We can be active without being productive. We get caught in the activity trap: Doing urgent but unimportant things. Productive people carefully ponder priorities and phocus (sometimes spelled focus) on the important projects.

• Passion. The word passion means to have an intense, driving love for something. Unfortunately in the last few years, this word has taken on a somewhat negative connotation as it is often linked to sex and

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 7, 1995

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 50 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that the legislature by general law may authorize the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board to issue general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not exceeding $300 million to finance educational loans to students. The maximum interest rate to be borne by the bonds must be set by law. The legislature may provide for the investment of bond proceeds and may establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of $300 million in general obligation bonds to finance education loans to students."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 36 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation the property of an organization chartered by the Congress of the Republic of Texas if the property is used primarily for the charitable, benevolent, or public service activities of the organization as defined by general law. The Comptroller's Property Tax Division has identified the Grand Lodges of Texas, also known as the Masonic Lodges, as the primary organization which would qualify for this tax exemption.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation property of an organization chartered by the Congress of the Republic of Texas that is used primarily for the charitable, benevolent, or public service activities of the organization."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 51 proposes a constitutional amendment that provides that the farm and ranch finance program fund shall be administered by the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority and not by the Veterans' Land Board, as provided by current law. In addition, the proposed amendment provides that the proceeds of $200 million of the $500 million in bonds authorized by the Texas Constitution for the farm and ranch finance program fund may be diverted to the agricultural fund and the rural micro-enterprise development fund, also authorized by the Texas Constitution, to be used for agricultural and rural economic development programs.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing the use of existing bond authority of the farm and ranch finance program to include financial assistance for the expansion, development, and diversification of production, processing, marketing, and export of Texas agricultural products."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 46 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow an encumbrance to be fixed on homestead property for an owelty of partition. In divorce and probate situations, a piece of property may be owned jointly by two or more people, and each person owns an undivided interest in the property, as opposed to a specific portion of the property. If one owner wishes to purchase the other person's interest in the property and wishes to obtain a loan to finance the purchase, the lending institution requires all interests in the property to be used as security for the loan; this is called an owelty of partition. Senate Joint Resolution 46 would allow the lending institution to foreclose on the homestead property for an owelty of partition if the purchaser defaulted on the loan. In addition, the proposed amendment would allow the refinancing of a lien against a homestead. Finally, the proposed amendment would allow a purchaser or lender to rely on an affidavit that states that the property to be conveyed or encumbered is not the homestead of the affiant.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting an encumbrance to be fixed on homestead property for an owelty of partition, including a debt of a spouse resulting from a division or award of a homestead in a divorce proceeding, and for the refinancing of a lien against a homestead, including a federal tax lien resulting from the tax debt of the owner."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment which would increase by $500 million the constitutional authorization of the Veterans' Land Board to issue and sell general obligation bonds of the state to provide housing financing to Texas veterans. The proceeds from the bonds authorized by this amendment shall be used to augment the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II to be administered and invested as provided by law. The bonds authorized by this amendment shall be incontestable after execution by the Veterans' Land Board, approval by the attorney general, and delivery to the purchaser.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to increase by $500 million the amount of general obligation bonds that may be issued to augment the veterans' housing assistance fund II."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 64 proposes a constitutional amendment which would extend the tax exemption under article VIII, section 1-b(b) of the Texas Constitution for the residence homestead of a person age 65 or older to the surviving spouse of a person who received the exemption. The surviving spouse must be age 55 or older when the deceased spouse died, and the property must be the residence homestead of the surviving spouse when the deceased spouse died and remain the surviving spouse's residence homestead. A surviving spouse who already receives an exemption under this section of the Texas Constitution is not entitled to an additional exemption under the amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment exempting from ad valorem taxation the residence homestead of the surviving spouse of an elderly person."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would reduce the amount of general obligation bonds authorized for the superconducting super collider fund from $500 million to $250 million.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment reducing the amount of general obligation bonds authorized for undertakings related to the superconducting super collider research facility from $500 million to $250 million."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 80 proposes a constitutional amendment abolishing the office of constable in Mills, Reagan, and Roberts counties. In Mills County, the office of constable is abolished, and the powers, duties, and records of the office are transferred to the sheriff. In Reagan and Roberts counties, the office of constable is abolished and the powers, duties, and records of the office are transferred to the sheriff only if a majority of voters in each of the respective counties favors the proposed amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the abolition of the office of constable in Mills, Reagan, and Roberts counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 7 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow investment of money from the Texas growth fund in a business without the business's disclosure of its investments in or with South Africa or Namibia. Currently, such investments are prohibited by article XVI, section 70(r) of the Texas Constitution, which would be repealed.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing investment of money from the Texas growth fund in a business without the business's disclosure of its investments in or with South Africa or Namibia."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the constitutional office of state treasurer effective September 1, 1996. The transfer of specific constitutional powers and duties to the comptroller of public accounts takes effect on that date. The statutory powers and duties and the property and other obligations of the state treasurer are transferred to officers and agencies of state government as the legislature provides by general law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment abolishing the office of state treasurer."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 72 proposes a constitutional amendment requiring that land devoted to wildlife management be taxed on the basis of its productive capacity. The proposed amendment also adds a temporary provision to the Texas Constitution validating the changes to the law made by Chapter 560, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991, which amended the Tax Code to allow land used for wildlife management to be appraised as agricultural land. The temporary provision also provides that a property owner is not authorized to claim a refund of taxes paid without the tax payment was challenged before the effective date of the proposed amendment. The temporary provision expires on January 1, 1998.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow open-space land used for wildlife management to qualify for tax appraisal in the same manner as open-space agricultural land, subject to eligibility limitations provided by the legislature."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that the legislature may exempt from ad valorem taxation income-producing personal property and mineral interests that have a taxable value which is insufficient to recover the costs of administering the tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation personal property and mineral interests having a value insufficient to recover the administrative costs of collecting the taxes."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution No. 35 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the governing body of a political subdivision to exempt from ad valorem taxation boats and other equipment used primarily in the commercial taking or production of fish, shrimp, shellfish, and other marine life.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the governing body of a political subdivision to exempt from ad valorem taxation boats and other equipment used primarily in the commercial taking or production of fish, shrimp, shellfish, and other marine life."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 68 proposes a constitutional amendment that allows the legislature to raise the current ad valorem tax exemption for disabled veterans and their surviving spouses and minor children. The tax exemptions would be raised based on a veteran's disability rating as follows:

10%-30%	$ 5,000
30%-50%	$ 7,500
50%-70%	$10,000
More than 70%	$12,000
Age 65 and 10% or higher	$12,000
Loss or loss of use of limb	$12,000
Blindness or paraplegia	$12,000

It's Time to Get Back to "First Principles"!

What we need is more good old-fashioned first principle preaching!

Have you ever heard that statement coming from the lips of a concerned church member? It is presented both as a criticism and a solution, a diagnosis and a treatment, an tence, the Incarnation, the divinity of Christ, the Atonement, the Resurrection, etc.

A plea for a return to "first principles" may thus involve any number of concerns, all of them understandable and a few of them important. But one first principle not yet mentioned is the most basic of all. At least, Jesus thought so.

What is the first principle? A Jewish lawyer (not a Simpson-defense type from the firm of "Dirt, Grub, Grime, & Greed: You Bleed, We Feed" but an expert in the Law of Moses) once asked the Lord a very basic question: "Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the law?" (Mt. 22:36).

Do you remember Jesus' answer? Without hesitation, our Lord replied, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment."

Loving God. Now that's basic! And one would think it would be quite natural. It was, before mankind fell to sin. But since then most of us have had a full-time job trying to live up to this very first principle. If we're not serious about this one, we're wasting our breath worrying about the others.

indictment and a plan for rehabilitation. But what does the person making this statement really mean by pleading for a return to "first principles"?

The speaker may be saying simply that he or she is just not comfortable with the preaching style of these "modern" preachers. He or she misses the old, the familiar. Perhaps he wants more pulpit pounding or more emphasis on what separates us from them, our folks from other Christian groups. Maybe she is wanting more sermons with a heavy emphasis on reaching the lost. Just possibly the speaker sees a need for some basic teaching concerning the bedrock truths of Christianity—God's exist-

BAXTER BLACK

ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

The Lost Chicken

Lynne parked her car in the little lot behind Cookies Du Moi. It was an odd little corner of Salt Lake City mixing pawn shops, liquor stores with barred windows and an invasion of upscale pastel colored urban grazing and nik-nak shops. Small stores with cute names offering yogurt, dried flowers in a basket, ducks wearing bonnets and specialty bagels that cost more than a five pound pot roast. New Age music drifted into the street.

Lynne noticed a shabbily dressed man working his way around the parked cars, peering in windows and under bumpers. She locked her car and entered Cookies Du Moi.

"There's a man out in the parking lot acting suspicious. He might be trying to break into a car," reported Lynne.

The lady behind the counter was casually dressed but brand names emblazoned her persona. "Yes," she said, "he's one of the locals. He's doing a favor for the owner of Raphael's Wreaths and Incense Botique next door. See, Ralph, I mean Raphael brought his pickup to work this morning but he forgot that a hen had been nesting in the back. The hen jumped out after he parked. I think that man is looking for it."

"He'll have a little stew tonight, I'll bet," chuckled Lynne. "Oh, no... he'll give it back."

"I doubt it. He looked like he could use a good meal."

"Well," replied the proprietress of Cookies Du Moi, "I'd give it back if I caught it. Wouldn't you?"

"Personally, I don't think I'd spend much time tryin' to track an escaped chicken through this neighborhood," said Lynne, still joking.

"Yes, but if she isn't caught she'll be lost in the city," said the lady with mild indignation.

"It's just a chicken," observed Lynne.

"But she was kind of a pretty chicken. I'm worried for her."

Lynne, who had been around the barnyard said, "Well, maybe she'll wander into Colonel Sanders Shelter for Homeless Chickens."

"I sense you are not taking the chicken's problem seriously."

"I came in her to get cookies."

After sacking her order, the cookie lady said, "I'm really concerned about your lack of compassion. Chickens have feelings. What if you were nesting in the back of a pickup, got hauled to a strange city and got lost?"

"You've got a point," resigned Lynne. "Let's see if we can get the chicken a lawyer and sue Raphael."

occasional kind word for a job well done. Praise is a powerful motivator if it is earned, given sincerely and offered publicly. Remember to praise in public, punish in private.

Of course, this isn't an all inclusive list. We've left out many important p words such as: pastries, peace, planning, prayer, politeness and performance.

Rotary Club News

by Dan Lusk

The Muleshoe Rotary Club held its regular weekly meeting at the Bailey County Coliseum on Tuesday, Sept. 5.

President Mike McDearmon called the meeting to order by asking Robert Leopard to offer the invocation. Adrian Meador led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Songs were led by Terry Hutto. The group was especially off key this week. Many suspected the hours at the roping arena were responsible.

David Tipps introduced the Club Sweetheart for this school year, Reagan McElroy, daughter of Don McElroy. Tipps then introduced his guest for the week, Don Carter.

In club business, Thurman Myers gave a summary of the weekend team roping contest held at the Dusty Rhodes Arena and put on by the club.

A total of 1,270 teams participated. These teams made 2,365 runs. Myers expressed thanks to all who helped, especially the first day that ran so long.

This level of participation represents an increase of about 25 percent above last year. Labor Day has been designated for the event again next year.

A special thanks was also extended to the members' spouses who helped in the concession stand. A large number of drinks and hamburgers passed through the window over the two day event.

Jerry Hicks was responsible for the week's program and brought Alan Finney in to discuss results of the production "Keepers of the Legend."

Finney said that overall he was pleased with the production. The crowds were about what was expected, with 25 percent from out of town.

He indicated that overall the production did not make money, although this is not unusual for the first year or so of these type of plays.

Finney said he plans to produce the musical, historical drama—again next year, providing funding is available.

The polio plus winner for the week was George Nieman.

Members present included Lonnie Adrian, Nick Bamert, Harvey Bass, James Bell, J.D. Cage, Tim Campbell, Kid Castleberry, Ed Cox, Todd Ellis, Jay Feagley, Clifton Finley, Bob Finney, Lary Hooten, Terry Hutto and Robert Johnson.

Also attending were Larry Kirk, Robert Leopard, Bill Liles, Dan Lusk, Adrian Meador, Mike McDearmon, Don McElroy, Jay Messenger, Bill Moore, Charles Moraw, Mark Morton, Richard Murphy, Thurman Myers, George Nieman, David Tipps and James Turnbow.

Rebekah News

Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge No. 114 met in the IOOF Lodge Hall Tuesday, Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. The lodge was opened by Alene Bryant, Noble Grand, and the minutes were approved as read by the secretary, June Green.

Some members are still absent due to illness. Bernie Marts is undergoing tests, Claude Wilemon is still at Methodist Hospital and Les Lambert is not feeling well.

Green reported her sister-in-law is still not well. Members signed cards for these and several members of the community who are ill.

Green brought the members up to date on plans for the anniversary party to be held in October. Doris Lambert informed members of an invitation from the Friona Lodge to attend Open House Sept. 14.

Garage sale dates were postponed, but the next skating date will be Sept. 29.

Members noticed that Mary Ann had remodeled the clock. Lodge closed with the Rebekah Creed.

The End of a Long Day

Here is a young fellow just about ready for bed and a much deserved rest. Although he is still too young to do much more than sit in his chair, he is busy from early morning until night finding out about this new world in which he is a very important member.

He must rely upon his parents for food, warmth and protection and from those parents he also experiences the wonderful sharing of family love. As we owe this child love and devotion, so do we owe him the right to grow up in a home where God is an important part of family life. Do not deny your children the benefits of God's love which He gives you through the church. Become an active part of your church. Enjoy the peace of mind that regular church attendance can bring to you and to your family.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

youth leadership organization accompanies the curriculum. Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO) is the name of the organization.

Excellent leadership opportunities are provided to students as they carry out chapter meetings, plan civic and community projects, and compete in leadership competitions. Johnson reports 100 percent membership of her students this year in HERO and says they are already hard at work preparing for a scholarship competition to be judged in early November.

Students participating in HECE and their employers include Charles Acosta and Leticia Villalobos at Lowe's Marketplace, Yvonne Barra at Alco, Yvette Barraz and Candy Garcia at Pizza Hut, Linda Barron at Pay N Save, Crystal Casto at Subway and Crustal Castorena at First Bank of Muleshoe.

Guidelines

Under the Equal Access Act, a school receiving Federal funds that allows one or more student noncurriculum-related clubs to meet on its premises during noninstructional time may not refuse access to student religious groups.

Prayer services and worship exercises covered:

A meeting, as defined and protected by the Equal Access Act, may include a prayer service, Bible reading, or other worship exercise.

Equal access to means of publicizing meetings:

A school receiving Federal funds must allow student groups meeting under the Act to use the school media—including the public address system, the school newspaper, and the school bulletin board—to announce their meetings on the same terms as other noncurriculum-related student groups are allowed to use the school media.

Any policy concerning the use of school media must be applied to all noncurriculum-related student groups in a non-discriminatory manner.

Schools, however, may inform students that certain groups are not school sponsored.

Lunch-time and recess covered:

A school creates a limited open forum under the Equal Access Act, triggering equal access rights for religious groups, when it allows students to meet during their lunch periods or other noninstructional time during the school day, as well as when it allows students to meet before and after the school day.

promote "See You at the Pole," but it is students who initiate, organize and lead in prayer at the flagpole, Flowers said.

He said churches should encourage students to participate as a public witness of their belief in God's power and the importance of prayer.

Flowers also noted that under the Constitution, students are guaranteed the right to pray on campus, alone or with others, so long as it does not disrupt school activities and is not forced on others.

"See You at the Pole" must be student-led, before school hours and outside of any school building, he added.

Flowers said, "The prayers of our young people—missionaries to the neglected mission fields of our nation—are making a difference."
