Dust Still Blowing Hard Through Colorado Area

By UNITED PRESS

An April blizzard whipped the northern Great Plains Monday and the worst spring snow storm in 20 years created havoc in New England.

Meanwhile, new dust clouds swirled over eroded. Southwest farmlands and a Colorado county agent said "this all but finished us."

The western blizzard dumped more than two feet of snow on Sheridan, Wyo., beginning at 3 a.m. (mst) Sunday and winds up to 60 miles an hour made travel in the Sheridan area virtually impossible. Highway crews fought a losing battle against the mounting drifts. The Red Cross set up an emergency station in downtown Sheridan because drifts and winds isolated the town's hospital, on Sheridan's western edge, from the rest of the area.

The Meteramic Chevrolot offers you so must be something extra much more than the other low-priced cers that it's herdly fair to compare thom. And oven the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that teday's Chevrelet offors you.

The beauty's built in-not belted on! And that makes a big difference-not only in how your car looks today, but in how it will look tomorrow, too. Chevrolet's good looks spring from fise, clean, uncluttered design. The beauty is inferent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to style overnight.

No other low-priced car has a Body by Fisher-but many of the high-priced cars do. That fact alone tells you there must be something extra special about the style, quality and construction of Body by Fisher. And there is! You can see it, feel it and even hear it when you dam the door.

Today's most modern engines!

That goes for Chevrolet's new VS and two new sizes as well. For example, all Chevrolet engines bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system - double the voltage of other low-priced cars. This means quicker cold weather starting and a greater electrical reserve. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire VS" has the abortest piston stroke in the industry.

and develops the highest power per pound of any V8 in the low-price field. It takes valve-in-head leadership like Chevrolet's to bring you truly modern engines like these!

A drive to suit your driving!

You can take your choice of three different drives-and every one's as modera as this minute. There's silky. peppery Powerglide, new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Swathen Mesh transmission that's an Synchro-Mesh trans ion that's se smooth as they come.

All the power helport you want!

Windows, seat, steering, brakes-all are available with built-in "nouscles" so make driving as effortless as you wish.

And you-can even have air conditionis if you like. These things are entra-cost options, of course, but they more than sepay you with extra pleasure.

Fun is "standard oquipmont"?

You find that out the first time you take the wheel of a new Chevro Here, you discover, is a car that takes the curves like it's on rails, that stores like it's reading your mind. It seems simply to ignore bumps-and when you stop suddenly, there's no excessive hurching or diving, either. There has mover been such a difference in lowpriced cars as there is today-or so many good reasons why you alwould drive a new Chevrolet. Come in and take the key.

Freedom Matters

Today we are filled with optimism. Perhaps it's spring's soft and gentle touch

Whatever the reason, we are today impelled to take the long view. Certainly it is true that all is not well with the world. But if we riffle backwards through the pages of time we will see that despite our immediate forebodings, mankind has come a great way in learning to understand itself. And by that we mean simply that humanity has learned and is continuing to learn more about the nature of freedom in this 20th century than at any time before in its frustrated and blood-stained history.

For mankind's progress can be directly connected to mankind's understanding of the meaning of human lib-erty. And whenever in the past some great and inspired individual grasped the fundamental concepts, the impact of these truths upon his contemporaries has always been profound and for the good of all.

We could, in fact, tick off a few of mankind's milestones, just to show how far we've come.

In the fertile crescent which hangs like a rainy moon over the northern rim of the Arabian peninsule the barbaric use of force enslaved all persons in the early days (circe 3000 BC). Sumer and Akkad were mighty, and the hordes of savages led by Sargon I. Belshazzer and Ur-Engur decimated the populations. Then came Abra-ham, who, in defiance of ancient custom, a belief in pagan power, and the rule of tyrants, expounded the doctrine that there is but one God and that men are naturally free.

The reign of terror and totalitarianism established by the Pharaoh Menes in the upper and lower Nile valleys was transmuted into love and compassion by Hatshepsut, that remarkable woman pharaoh who for twenty-two years brought peace and trade to Egypt because she believed that man could prosper more through productive enterprise than through the use of force.

Meanwhile, in China, the profound Lao-tse established the philosophy of "respect-for-wisdom and venerationfor-age" which sapped the feracity of the dragon hunters of the legendary past of the Middle Kingdom and brought nearly 700 years of peace and freedom.

These were the giants. Each one rose up over his puny fellows like a lighthouse shining on the restless waves. But they were lonely, solitary figures. Their followers for the most part failed to understand and make these philosophies of freedom their own. They merely followed,

BETTER JORS By R. C. HOILES

Lock Of Faith In Teachings Of Church Francis X. Curran in his book

"The Churches and the Schools" summarizes his conclusions as to the cause of the Protestants in the United States abandoning their belief in parechial schools with the fact that many of the modernist churches lacked strong faith in the teachings of their churches. He puts it in this way:

"The Protestant systems of par-ochial schools were designed to keep control of popular elementary education in the hands of the church and out of the hands of the state. But as the state advanc-ed in the field of education, that control fell almost automatically into its hands. Thus the failure of the Protestant scheels indicates some more fundamental deficiencies, which cauged the lack of teachers and of money and of pu-pils. These more radical causes applat to have been a lack of strong interest in parochial schools, a lack of strong leadership to cre-ate and sustain that interest, and, more fundamental still, a lack of strong faith in the teachers of their churches which would have impelled Protestants to see that that faith was inculcated in their children in schools under the con-trol of their churches.

Goestion Their Greeds "Increasingly in the nineteenth century, the creeds of Protestantism were called into question. Gradually the new liberal theology drew adherents away from the old orthodoxies. This liberalizing movement was most effective at the head of the churches, among the ministers and influential laymen. It was just these men who would have to create and sustain interest in parochial schools if Protestantism was to control popular elementary education. But these men, who were questioning the Thirty-nine Articles, the Westminster Con-fession, and the Augsburg Confes-sion, saw no need to establish schools to inculoate these doubtful croads."

I do not have room to quote the Thirty-nine Articles or the Augo-burg Confession, but I want to quote the Westminster Confession, which was established in the year

1647. It declared: "The Lord Jesus Christ, by His perfect obedience and sacrifice of Himself, which He through the Eternal Spiritonce offered up to God, hath fully satisfied the justice of His Father, and purchased not only reconciliation but an everlasting inheritance in the kingdom of heaven, for all those whom the Father hath given unto Him." Then the author continues, and closes his besk with these paragraphe: "Although strong loadership had Interpreted into a thousand forms and shadings.

And as the years went by, humanity sank so far beneath its earlier level that the period is known as the dark ages."

Then came another event of startling significance in the history of freedom. A small group of wise and prudent men propounded on these very shores the concept of POLITICAL freedom. They made the INDIVIDUAL, not the government, the sovereign, and rolled back the barriers of force by freeing human energy more than had ever been done before.

When the political philosophers passed on, again the use of force gained in acceptability, until only a thin throad of thinkers connected the progress of mankind with the liberty of individuals.

But today we can all be grateful. Surging up from rank and file of American patriets there is a new and vigerous movement throughout the land. Men and women from coast to coast are beginning to THINK again. They are individually delving into the meaning of freedom, and making that meaning their own. So far as we can learn, never in the history of the world — even though their number is small in comparison with the world's population - have so many persons at a single time understood so much about the nature of human liberty. And this bodes well indeed for the human race. For in the end, this is what really matters.

The progress of us all depends upon the extent and frequency of freedom. Wherefore, we are filled with eptimism. Mankind is learning. It is a long and difficult lesson. But with it comes the achievements for which we, all of us, long. It is FREEDOM that counts, although this you never know unless you think it through for yourself. Once a man understands the true meaning and noture of human liberty, then he assumes full stature. Once he knows, he will find a way to be free.

as in the Episcopalian and Presby-terian and Lutheran churches, that leadership eventually faltered. One of the first consequences was the collepse of the parochial school system.

"The failure of united leadership moant the lack of strong interest in church schools among the average members of the congregations. It will be remembered that most efforts to create Protestant parochial schools occcurred only after the average American Protestant had had time to become accustemlorm. ed to the common schools. The state had asserted centrel over popular education. The average American Fretestant was quite
