Strike Idles Phone Firm

SAN ANGELO, Tex. — Supervisory personnel helped man telephone switchboards at San Angelo Thursday following a walkout of more than 300 employees of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The employees, members of Local 6180 of the CIO Communications Workers of America, walked off their jobs shortly after noon Wednesday over a contract dispute.

The city's dial system was unaffected and supervisors stepped in to handle long distance calls. Many employees remained on the job.

About 20 employees of the same company also walked out at Big Lake, about 80 miles west of San Angelo, and it was reported that employees walked off at the small towns of Eden and Miles, both near San Angelo.

Pickets were posted Wednesday. San Angelo is Southwest headquarters for five states of the General Telephone Company — Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

The company serves about 90 towns, most of them small. The two largest towns served are San Angelo and Texarkana. There had been no walkout at Texarkana and there were no reports of work stoppages in any of the other 40 towns.

Tex Harp, president of San Angelo union, has charged that the company had refused to arbitrate with the union on such points as a starting salary of $1.25 per hour for all employees, a 35-hour work week for operators, full pay for on-the-job injuries and the establishment of a company paid health program.

A company spokesman termed the walkout "a surprise move." The spokesman said union officials had assured them there would be no work stoppage and that an agreement was being worked out.

But E. W. Staley of Dallas, international representative for the communications workers, denied that the union had promised not to walk out.

New Petition Circulating

Petitions calling for a bond election to finance the proposed $300,000 extension to Highland General Hospital and construction of a $30,000 branch hospital in McLean are being circulated among qualified tax payers in Gray County by a committee named by the Highland General Hospital Board.

The new petitions, which will be presented to the commissioners court July 11 if they are complete, take the place of an earlier petition calling for only the Highland General Hospital extension and make one issue of the two proposed construction projects.

Paul Crossman, head of the petition circulating committee set up by the hospital board, had agreed in an earlier session with the commissioners court to hold out the first petition pending the completion of the one including the McLean hospital issue until the July 11 date.

The wording of the new petition was recently approved by Parkhurst, McCall and Crowe, bonding attorneys in Dallas, and the Attorney General of Texas.

J. P. Callihan of McLean is heading a committee circulating the new petitions in that part of the county.

Knives Hunted At Prison

'Prison Bristles With Weapons'

WALLA WALLA, Wash. — UP— Eight unarmed guards entered Cell Block 6 at 5:36 a. m. pst Thursday to begin a block-by-block shake-down at riot-torn Washington state prison.

The eight were among 12 guards who volunteered for the job, at the request of Warden Lawrence Delmore Jr. They were to "secure" each of the six cellblocks in the prison one at a time, reporting back to Delmore after each one was searched.

The plan called for herding the prisoners into the yard one block at a time. After all were in the yard, they were to be searched.

The inmate population was 1,784 before the riot began Tuesday morning. Veteran guards, however, expressed doubt there would be that many alive when the final roll was taken Thursday.

'Many Stoolpigeons'

"There are too many stoolpigeons in this place," said one guard who declined to give his name. "I wouldn't be a bit surprised if we find more than one corpse."

Before the eight volunteers entered the prison Thursday morning there were no penitentiary employees inside the walls. However, the prisoners behaved themselves. On the walls were 38 state patrolmen and prison guards armed with rifles.

"My orders are for the state patrol to protect the security of the walls," explained State Patrol Lt. Charles Hall. "It is up to the prison authorities to take care of the situation inside."

Only six of the 30 day shift guards volunteered to go into the prison. The other six were from other shifts. Delmore selected eight of the 12 and explained terms of the nine-point agreement which ended the 26-hour riot and resulted in the release of nine hostages.

'Time Running Out'

"The main reason we made them (the terms) so quickly was because time was running out and we were not going to stand too much on formality," Delmore said. "Nevertheless, we didn't sell out."

Earlier, a spokesman for the guards said only a few of the knives and razors carried by riot-prisoners were turned in when they filed back to their cells.

"Not one-third of the weapons taken in the kitchen are being surrendered," he said. "We are not going back in there (the cell blocks) when we know dozens of knives may be cached in the cells."

He said the convict-writer "treaty" signed by prison officials "made more concessions to the prisoners than it did for us."

Guards were willing to help the National Guard or state patrol make a systematic search for hidden weapons, the spokesman said "but we want all prisoners out in the yard when the inspection is made."

There was speculation that if the (See PRISON, Page 8)

Contract Let For Finance Co. Building

General Manager Aubrey Steele announced this morning that the contract for the building of the new home of Security Federal Savings and Loan Association was let to L. K. Stout of Pampa. The firm's bid of $85,936 was the low in a field of eight.

Construction of the new building, to be located at 221 N. Gray, will begin within the next three or four weeks Steele said. Completion is expected to be on Dec. 31, 1955.

The new structure will be built on a lot 100 x 140 feet and will be complete with air conditioning. It will occupy some 4,000 square feet in area. The 54 x 72 building will be constructed of Cordova Limestone with a 10 x 30 Thermopane window on the Francis side of the structure. Parking space will be available for 16 vehicles, Steele said.

The company, in business in Pampa since 1928, is presently located at 208 N. Russell.

The firm just paid its 54th consecutive semi-annual dividend at a rate of 3 per cent per annum. The dividend amounted to $108,000.

During the past year the association's assets have grown $1 million. Steele said, with total assets as of June 30 at $8,512,562.25.

Grand Jury Due Robbery Case

The grand jury Friday morning will consider charges against three Oklahoma City Negroes in the stealing of some $100 in cash from Braxton's Food Store, 1103 Alcock, on June 29.

District Attorney Bill Waters will present evidence that the trio stole the cash from an open cash register draw while they distracted the attention of a clerk.

One of the defendants is in custody in Oklahoma City. The two other suspects have not yet been apprehended.

The other indictments which will be considered are a theft by conversion and driving while intoxicated charge.

WASHINGTON — UP— The United States Thursday accepted Russia's offer to pay half the damages for the Navy patrol plane shot down by Soviet fighters off Alaska June 23.

BURGLAR'S TASTE HAD INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

LOS ANGELES — UP— Police waited with a stomach pump for a burglar with international tastes to give himself up.

They said he broke into a home and gorged himself with a can of Mexican enchiladas, a jar of chile peppers, a half dozen Spanish tamales, a can of Irish stew and a carton of chop suey. He washed the food down with a fifth of Holland gin and some California wine.

Forced Military Plan Criticised

WASHINGTON — UP— Sen. Richard B. Russell sharply questioned Thursday the "propriety or the equity" of the administration's plan to impose a compulsory reserve training obligation following active duty. Under the House approved version, it would be a total of five years of active and reserve duty.

To build up a corps of reservists without previous active duty, the administration also proposed — and the House approved in modified form — that up to 250,000 youths annually be given six months military training followed by 7½ years reserve duty.

The committee scheduled only three days of hearings, with the goal of reporting out a reserve bill for Senate action in 10 days. Lead-off witnesses on the first day of hearings were representatives of educational, scientific, technical and labor groups. The administration is scheduled to present its case for the reserve plan Monday.

Russell's opening statement was an indication that the administration's plan, already approved in modified form by the House, may be in for substantial overhauling in the Senate committee.

Talks On U.S. Schools Widespread

By BETTY PRYOR

WASHINGTON — UP— Many thousands of Americans are talking about their school these days at meetings being held throughout the country.

By the time the meetings are over, perhaps as many as one million will have joined in the local, county, and state discussions. These meetings are forerunners to the White House conference on education to be held here Nov. 28 to Dec. 1. Their purpose is to arouse citizens' interest in the problems facing their schools and to search for solutions to them.

Clint Pace, director of the White House conference, said "there never has been such a widespread interest in the schools."

This, he said, is reflected by the number of people attending the pre-conference meetings now going on. These meetings, he said, are giving persons concerned about the state of the nation's schools a voice in proposals for doing something about it.

Pace, a former Dallas News reporter, was regional director at Dallas of the National Citizens Commission for the public schools when he was picked last October to head the White House conference.

The schools have long been struggling with a steadily worsening problem — too few classrooms, too few teachers. An administration program of federal aid for school construction is before Congress.

The purpose of the current meetings is to study these ills in exhaustive detail and consider how they may best be attacked.

The meetings result from a 1954 appeal by President Eisenhower for the most thorough study of educational problems ever made by the American people. Congress appropriated $200,000 for the national meeting and $700,000 for state conferences preceding it.

Attorney General Brownell Asked For Full Explanation

WASHINGTON — UP— Democrats in Congress Thursday denounced as "a police state Gestapo act... an outrage... utterly ridiculous... terrible" the use of the FBI to investigate the intentions of Memphis officials in the Dixon-Yates controversy.

Senate Democrats demanded a full explanation from Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. as to why he directed the top federal criminal-law-enforcement agency to find out whether Memphis officials really intend to build a municipal steam power plant.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he will ask Brownell to appear soon before a Senate Special Monopoly subcommittee for questioning about "the authority, justification and wisdom of using the FBI to investigate the intentions" of Memphis officials.

The Memphis plant, in effect, would be a substitute for the private Dixon-Yates installation now being built at West Memphis, Ark., to furnish power to the Tennessee Valley Authority. This electricity would replace power supplied the Atomic Energy Commission elsewhere.

President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday he would be willing to cancel the controversial Dixon-Yates contract if it is certain that Memphis will build its own plant. TVA would not need replacement power if Memphis stopped being a customer. He said it would take about two weeks for Brownell and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes to complete their study of the Memphis plans. Brownell should make his study through the United States attorney in Memphis instead of the FBI.

Even one influential Republican senator said privately that Brownell's use of the FBI at Memphis was "politically unwise."

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), who termed such use of the FBI as "utterly ridiculous," charged that it was nothing new for Brownell to employ the crack law officers "for purely political purposes."

"What business is it of theirs as to what the city of Memphis intends to do?" Sparkman asked. "Why can't Mr. Brownell call up the mayor and ask him?"

"I only hope the attorney general will check the Dixon-Yates contract just as carefully."

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) charged that it was "an outrage that the officials of a city in free America—cannot undertake to protect the interests of their city without being subjected to FBI investigation."

The FBI was created to "guard the nation's security and apprehend criminals," he said.

"It was never intended by Congress that the FBI be used as a Gestapo or political shock troops."

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said Brownell's act was "terrible... a violation of intergovernmental relationships of the worst sort."

Stevenson Attacks Ike's School Policy

CHICAGO — UP— Adlai E. Stevenson attacked the Eisenhower administration on a new front Wednesday night, charging that it had done "absolutely nothing" to solve the nation's public school problem.

Stevenson, the Democrats' 1952 presidential candidate, urged a "drastic" billion-dollar federal assistance program to meet "America's No. 1 domestic need — schools and teachers."

Stevenson has not yet said whether he intends to make a second bid for the presidency next year, but he has directed severe criticism at various phases of the Eisenhower program in recent speeches.

Last Major Address

Wednesday night's address before the 33rd annual meeting of the National Education Association was billed as his next major speech before next fall. It was carried by a national radio and television network (CBS).

The former Illinois governor, suffering from a bad summer cold, accused President Eisenhower of dodging an earlier promise to give "prompt effective help" to the nation's schools.

Harmon Returns To Head Academy

Editor's Note: This is the last of three dispatches on the U.S. Air Force Academy, which opens operations at its temporary base in Denver next Monday.

By JACK WILKINSON

DENVER — Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, 66, came from retirement to become the first superintendent of the U.S. Air Force Academy.

He was the personal and immediate choice of both President Eisenhower and Air Secretary Harold Talbott. The President had known Harmon since the days at West Point 40 years ago, when they were classmates.

"There is no finer man for the job," Mr. Eisenhower told Talbott.

"The academy is a dream come true for Harmon, who saw the need for such an institution as far back as the early 1920's. When the campaign to create an academy began in earnest in 1949, he became one of the biggest and most persistent workers on its behalf.

Jumps at Chance

Talbott chose him to be a member of the special commission to recommend academy sites. Harmon retired in 1953, but was asked to return to duty two months later to take over the reins at the academy. The greying, slight-built general, who had spent most of his life working toward the betterment of U.S. air power, jumped at the chance.

Harmon has been an aviator since 1917, seeing flying service in both wars. Skilled in politics and diplomacy as well as combat, Harmon compiled a long record as a student and instructor at some of the armed services' outstanding training schools. Twice during his career, Harmon was a White House aide, in 1920 and again in 1926. In 1947, he was appointed senior Air Force member of the military and naval staff committees of the United Nations.

Now, Harmon undertakes the tremendous task of organizing and getting underway a third military academy, designed to be on a par with Annapolis and West Point. Only time will tell if this venture will be as successful as the general's past undertakings.

Public Has Wrong Belief

One of Harmon's prime jobs is to supervise the "building of a city" at Colorado Springs as the permanent home of the academy with the $126 million appropriated. One academy official said the public's "general belief" as to where the appropriated money was going was "all wrong."

"The general public has the wrong impression about where that $126 million is going," the spokesman said. "Most everyone thinks it's all going to be used to erect classrooms, lecture halls, laboratories, athletic fields and the like. Actually, only $58 million of the total will be spent on the academy proper. The other $68 million will be spent for flying facilities and support elements for the entire operation."

The spokesmen said it is estimated "about $1 million" will have been spent to rehabilitate Lowry facilities and the maintenance of the temporary home.

Sports Keep Pace

The academy's sports program, labeled by a number of academy officials as "grossly overdue," will nonetheless keep pace with the school's ambitious scale of operations. As many as 15 athletic endeavors are being planned for the airman. The football team, with former San Francisco Forty-Niner Coach Lawrence (Buck) Shaw as

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Lead I Kings 21:14-20

Defiance of conscience defeats us. Persistence in the defiance will eventually defeat the strongest of us. This does not mean that a person who defies conscience may not have the appearance of success. He may become eminent, but inside his own soul he will confess that he has not made a go of life. The psychopathic wards are all too familiar with the individual who has come to the end of the road. Shakespeare, in one of his better-known lines, says: "Conscience does make cowards of us all." But that is only part of the truth. An outraged conscience leaves no room for peace, and so long as the sense of guilt remains any man is vulnerable to the attacks of fear, remorse, self-contempt and shame.

disarm him. And the terrible revenge worked because inside the soul of the orator there was an accuser who could not be silenced. Lord God, thou knowest all things. There is nothing I can hide from thee, and in this moment there is nothing I would hide from thee if I could. Purge my mind and my memory, and cleanse me from all the secret desires that are hideous in thy sight for thine own sake, Amen.
Go back in your memory and pick out those instances in which you were compelled to face extremely difficult situations at a time when your conscience was clear. Try to recall the sense of strength and sureness with which you met your problems.

Minister Hits Galveston Vice

HOUSTON —UP— The Rev. George Scotchmer, president of the Galveston Ministerial Alliance, said here Tuesday that civic leaders that argue that a city can prosper on vice have a "special preoccupation with mirages."
The minister, leader of the opposition to Galveston Mayor George R. Clough's proposed "wide open" policy in the resort city, addressed the Houston junior chamber of commerce.
Without referring by name to Clough or Galveston, he said: "A city that is derelict in its moral obligations is a victim of its own delusion, a city that fails while others grow."

Two Killed In Air Crash

EL PASO —UP— A B-26 tow target plane crashed and burned in the desert Tuesday, 15 miles southeast of the El Paso International airport, killing two men aboard.
The plane was based at Biggs Air Force Base near El Paso. A Biggs spokesman said the plane was on a training mission and was attached to the First Tow Target Squadron.
Two or three men are all the planes normally carry on such missions, he said.
Names of the two dead were being held up until notification of relatives.

Jefferson County Water District Upheld in Austin

AUSTIN — UP— Validity of a Jefferson county water district and issuance of certain bonds was upheld Wednesday by the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

The decision upheld a trial court ruling in a suit brought by S. R. King and other property owners against the Jefferson county water control and improvement district No. 7.

The property owners objected primarily to purchase by the district of filtered water from the city of Beaumont.

The district agreed to pay the city the regular metered rate applied inside the city limits plus 25 per cent per month. The court pointed out the arrangement allowed the district to forego installation of a filtration plant and laying of a pipeline.

The property owners contended that the district was engaged in the business of selling and distributing purified water at retail, and the sale had no connection with conservation or development of water resources.

However, the appeals court said the district was properly organized and the bonds were constitutional and valid. The bonds were approved by the attorney general's office.

The Schoolfield Family Likes Coco Fudge Cake

TOUCHES UP FROSTING — Mrs. John Schoolfield touches up the frosting on the coco fudge cake she has just made — a favorite of her family. The recipe for the chocolate frosting with nuts in it, she got from her mother-in-law. (News photo)

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor
Mrs. John Schoolfield, east of city, has a recipe for a coco fudge cake with chocolate frosting, which she says is a favorite of her family. The frosting recipe she received from her mother-in-law, Native Texans, the Schoolfields came to Pampa from Grandberry 17 years ago. Mr. Schoolfield is with Lynn Boyd Lumber Company. Mrs. Schoolfield cooks for her husband and her three sons, John Jr., 19, Bob, 18 and Lynn, 12, all of whom are home for the summer. John Jr. attends Wayland College in Plainview, and Bob will enroll in Shriner Institute at Kerrville in the fall.

Mrs. Schoolfield says she learned to cook "the hard way — through experience." She added that she has had a lot of experience, too, feeding her family. Although her household duties keep her pretty busy, Mrs. Schoolfield is a circle chairman in the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church, is a supply Sunday School teacher and is secretary of her Sunday School class.

New Picnic Cake Is Easy To Pack

Here's an answer to picnic packing troubles, an "Easy Pack Picnic Cake." The cake is moist and chocolaty, and guaranteed tender and light. The cream cheese frosting is smooth and creamy and will not melt or get messy under the hot sun.
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup vinegar
3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 3/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup shortening
3 squares chocolate, melted
Set oven at 350 degrees F. Line bottoms of 8"x8"x2" pan with waxed paper. Grease waxed paper lightly. Sift cake flour onto a piece of waxed paper. Measure 2 cups. Place in sifter. Add baking soda and salt. Set aside. Mix together vinegar, milk and vanilla. Set aside. Put eggs and sugar in large mixing bowl. Beat for one minute about 15 strokes. Sift in 1/2 cup mixture. Add shortening and one-half of milk mixture. Stir until flour is moistened. Beat vigorously one minute. Add remaining liquid and chocolate. Beat one minute. Turn into prepared 8"x8"x2" pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) 30 minutes. Cool in pan on wire rack about 10 minutes. Frost in pan with cream cheese frosting. Cut into squares.
CREAM CHEESE FROSTING
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
Light Cream
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Soften cream cheese to room temperature. Add sugar gradually, beating until creamy. Add salt and vanilla, and enough cream to bring to spreading consistency.

Two Easy Meals Given For Brides
Whether or not cooking is a bewildering new experience, ideas for easy-to-prepare neat dishes are always welcome. This one makes the most of an economical cut of meat, beef arm or blade steak. One of these steaks, cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick, may be selected, says meat expert Reba Staggs. Then the steak can be divided in half for two meals, with each portion large enough for two servings.
Braising is the cooking method which brings out maximum flavor and tenderness in these steaks. Delicious, plain braised steak may be served for one of the meals. The first half of the steak is browned slowly on both sides in 2 to 3 tablespoons of lard or drippings and seasoned with salt and pepper. Then 1/2 cup of water is added, the utensil is covered tightly and the meat is cooked slowly until it is tender, about 45 minutes to 1 hour.
The method for cooking the remaining portion of the steak is the same, but with a few additions, it's an entirely different dish — Swiss steak! The seasonings, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper are added to 1/4 cup of flour and the meat is dredged in it. Then the steak is browned in 2 to 3 tablespoons of lard or drippings. Instead of water, 1 cup of cooked or canned tomatoes and 1 sliced medium-size onion are added. The utensil is covered tightly and the meat is cooked slowly until it is tender, about 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Broil Steaks, Chops Without Defrosting
It takes less time to cook frozen steaks and chops if they are at least partially defrosted before they are cooked. But if there isn't time, they may be broiled without being defrosted, says meat expert Reba Staggs.
Usually, fresh or defrosted steaks or chops are placed on the broiler-rack and the broiler pan and rack are inserted so that the top of a 1-inch thick steak or chop is 2 inches from the heat and a 2-inch one is 3 inches from the heat. Frozen steaks and chops are broiled in the same way with one exception. They are broiled more slowly in order to cook them to the desired degree of doneness in the center and prevent them from becoming too brown on the outside. The way to broil meats more slowly is to cook them at a greater distance from the heat.

Sausage Casserole Made In Six Layers
At this time of year, no matter how much you enjoy cooking, the outdoors is particularly tempting. A meal-in-one casserole takes care of both of these desires. You can prepare the casserole, put it in the oven, then go outside for garden chores while it cooks.
Six-Layer Sausage Casserole is highlighted by juicy bulk pork sausage. Reba Staggs, well known home economist, says that it will appeal to the whole family. The ingredients are layered so that only the flavors mingle.
2 pounds bulk pork sausage
2 medium potatoes, sliced
2 medium onions, sliced
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup rice
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Yale Professor Contends Beer Won't Make Man Drunk

By DELOS SMITH
NEW YORK —UP— Let's all start being truthful with our words, says a Yale University professor — no one gets drunk on beer, and go beer is not an intoxicating beverage.

Prof. Leon A. Greenberg's bold demand that we all change our way of speaking of beer, has stirred a controversy among scientists devoted to the effects of alcohol on human beings.

Greenberg worked it out this way:
1. The man whose bodily and mental functions have not been made unmistakably abnormal, is not drunk.

2. For an intoxicating beverage to make the man drunk by causing unmistakable abnormalities, it must get into the blood in a concentration of at least 0.15 per cent. Claims it's impossible.

3. The capacity of the human stomach is one and one-half to two quarts. The average alcohol content of beer is 3.7 per cent by weight. For the man to be intoxicated, he would have to have two and one-half quarts of beer in his stomach at one time, and that's impossible.

4. The body eliminates and destroys beer at a rate of about one third of a quart an hour. Therefore, for the man to get drunk on beer by degrees he would have to drink three quarts or more within two to three hours. That, Prof. Greenberg argues, is — to say the least — "physiologically unnatural."

His views were set forth in the official journal of the famous Yale studies on alcohol and alcoholism. Greenberg, an authority on physiology, explained that he was concerned only with definition and with straight-thinking. Certainly he said, alcoholics should never touch beer — they should drink nothing containing alcohol.

It was true, he said, that college students show "considerable noisy activity, to the point of constituting a nuisance, rudeness, and misbehavior while drinking beer. But they do it not because they're intoxicated, since they behave as annoyingly without drinking "in such other situations as athletic events, public celebrations, rallies, riots, and so forth."

Not Without Comment
The journal published his views with seeming unease, since they were preceded by an introduction by one of the editors, Dr. Seldon D. Bacon, and followed by four dissenting scientific opinions. Bacon praised "this more careful definition of intoxication." He saw scientific value because exactness of word meaning separates facts from the emotional coloration given to facts. But changing the definition of what is and what isn't intoxicating could raise such problems as:

"If people are told that some beverages containing alcohol are not 'intoxicating beverages,' will they not feel that such beverages are not really 'alcoholic beverages' and, therefore, are as free of danger as sarsaparilla or milk?"

Running In '56 Will Be Personal Decision Ike Says

WASHINGTON —UP— President Eisenhower Wednesday rejected the idea that he would be forced into running for a second term in 1956. He said this is a decision he will have to make himself. The President smiled when he was told at his news conference that Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.) said in a July 4 speech that Mr. Eisenhower "cannot refuse to run" for a second term.

Asked whether he could refuse, the President said that for himself, he did not believe he had ever said what anyone else had to do.

Then, a bit more seriously, the President said that whether he runs again is a decision he will have to reach for himself. And as an afterthought, he added—some time.

Flanders made his statement Monday night in Bement, Ill. He said Mr. Eisenhower would have to run again because "he has established leadership in the nation and leadership in the world."

Good Prophet
BOSTON —UP— In 1927, the Suffolk University class prophet, Richard L. Gottlieb, looked into his crystal ball and wrote: "John Bernard Hynes will become mayor of Boston." Hynes already has had two terms and has announced he'll seek a third.

SWEET

SHARP-EYED AT 110

Mrs. Juana Ramirez, of Los Angeles, demonstrates that she has excellent vision by threading a needle on her 110th birthday. She has had 15 children, three of them still living, 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. She wanted a wheel chair for her birthday, "so I can get outside with the kids."

THE MARQUEE
BY DICK KLEINER

The Record Shop: Singers strive and strive for the big money, for fame and glory — and they never realize the problems that come along. It's happened to Bill Hayes since "Davy Crockett." In the last three months, he hasn't been able to spend more than three consecutive days at home.

He's the King of the Wild Personal Appearance Tour.

Surprise result of a sales survey conducted by Trav-Ler Radic Corp. — teen-agers buy more hi-fi sets than adults. The hi-fi may be hi, but the age is lo.

The most inexact science, south of psychiatry, is picking songs. Take any top vocalist and scratch the surface and you'll find a nervous wreck. He is shown dozens of songs each day; for every one he records, he listens to 50. Deciding which one to put on wax is the problem.

Vaughn Monroe has his own secret method of picking songs. Or, more precisely, two secret methods — Candy and Christy. These are the Monroe daughters, 13 and 10 respectively, and they're two pretty expert song-picker-outers.

"I don't know a good song anymore myself," Vaughn says. As an example of his wrong-guesswork, on one record session he was doing two numbers. He spent two hours with the one he thought was hot and kissed the other one off in 10 minutes. You guessed it, the 10-minute kiss-off was "They Were Doing the Mambo," his biggest hit in years. The other never caused a stir.

"But my kids can sure pick 'em," he says. "I think all kids have a knack for picking hits. What I do is this. I take home all the demonstration records and the songs I've gotten. I pile them on the record player and call the girls. I don't say a word.

"But I watch. If there's no reaction, the song is out. They just know what they like. They're not worried about who the publisher is and how much money he can spend on promotion, or who else is recording the song, or whether it's from a big movie or not. All they know is what they like.

Nowadays, Vaughn has taken his baritone into another field —

TV commercials. He does a lot of them for RCA, his record company. In fact, he's just signed a new contract to keep singing the RCA praises until next March. This is a branch of show business that is new, but pleasant, to him.

"I like doing commercials," he says, "and I like the money they pay, too."

Recording stars are always thinking up new ways to get disc jockeys to play their records. At the worst, there is the infamous "payola" — actual bribes — and at the best there are some cute stunts.

One of the cutest is now being used by a youthful new gal singer for MGM, Connie Francis. Her new record of "Freddie" is what she wants the jockeys to spin, so she has six-year-old Barry Gordon (one of the "Star Time Kids") taking the record around. And most of the spinners succumb to his appeal.

But one said he was sorry, he couldn't find the time to play "Freddie." Barry burst into tears.

Dick's Picks: A Latin-flavored song, "Sweet and Gentle," is out in two good records — by Lew Douglas (Wing) and Xavier Cugat and Mary Griffin (Columbia). Other good ones: "It's Love" (Lena Horne, RCA); "Pete Kelly's Blues" (Ray Anthony, Capitol); "Every Day" (Count Basie, Clef); "Too Late" (Guy Mitchell, Columbia); "A Face in the Crown" (Tony Travis, RCA); "Sweet, Baby" (Ronnie Grey, Capitol); "I've Got So Many Million Years" (Johnnie Ray, Columbia).

Rotary Told Of Convention

The Pampa Rotary club yesterday heard reports by Dr. J. L. Chase and Quentin Williams on the recent Rotary International convention in Chicago.

This year, Dr. Chase pointed out is the 50th anniversary of the founding of Rotary International and the convention was more an occasion for celebration and commemoration than a business function.

At the present time, Chase said, there are 8,619 Rotary clubs situated in 92 countries with a membership in excess of 470,000.

Williams outlined some of the entertainment offered delegates, stressing that the themes were tied in with the year Rotary was founded, 1905.

John Elmer Shelton, 24, of Dallas, the man who gave his brother's name when earlier convicted of driving while intoxicated, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty in Gray County Court yesterday and was re-tried on the charge.

He was fined $150 and costs and taken to Amarillo Air Force Base for transportation to Ft. Campbell, Ky., to face AWOL charges.

meeting did not produce results satisfactory to the guards, the National Guard and state patrol would be called in. Gov. Arthur B. Langlie would have to issue such an order, however.

To Take Precautions

"We'll take precautions (to protect the guards) naturally," he said.

The riot, touched off by a hard core of 35 maximum security prisoners, flared up at 9:45 a. m. Tuesday and spread until inmates controlled all the prison except the well-guarded walls.

The nine-point agreement ending the riot carried two key provisions which convicts said were most important. One called for investigation of the board of prison terms and paroles and the other for reorganization of the classification and parole department.

HA-HA FOR ZSA ZSA

When screen actress Zsa Zsa Gabor recently threw a dinner in Hollywood for the men she considers the film capital's 10 most available bachelors, millionaire Hal Sayles, right, sat next to her for the evening, "cutting in" on architect John Lindsay who was dating her for the evening. Lindsay, however, came prepared for the emergency, wielding a nasty-looking toy six-shooter which he used to warn others that for that night, at least, Miss Double-Z was HIS date.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

John hadn't made any payment on an open account of his grocery bill for two and one-half years. He was not a dishonest man, but was just a poor manager. After several years, the groceryman sued for the bill.

John's attorney interposed the defense of the statute of limitations, and the groceryman was denied judgement. Yet there was no question but that John owed the money. One may ask why the law permit such a defense as the statute of limitations, or outlaw an otherwise valid claim.

The groceryman slept on his rights. He should have acted sooner. The courts cannot be used for processing stale claims. Proof of such claims is more difficult. One litigant might wait for the only adverse witness to die, and then sue. Memories grow dim and sometimes are modified to fit one's desired views. So the law says it is no injustice to force a litigant to act within a reasonable time, whereas if he doesn't, injustice is more likely to happen.

Practically all actions have time limitations. With some it is very short, as some claims against a municipality require that notice to

Lamar College Plant Enlarged

BEAUMONT—UP—Completion of a $500,000 women's dormitory and a $350,000 air-conditioned dining hall in September at Lamar State College of Technology will mark the third phase of the school's multi-million dollar construction program.

Slated for construction beginning this fall are new buildings totaling some $2.5 million. School officials said they look for a 5,000 enrollment for the 1955-56 school year.

the municipality must be given within ten days after the accident. On the other hand there is a 25 year limitation applying to some types of claims involving rights to real property.

Even criminal actions must be brought within a certain period, usually two to three years. An exception is a murder charge, which may be brought at any time.

Lawyers use the word "laches" in certain cases to indicate that the litigant slept on his rights and should be denied relief since "equity aids the vigilant."

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform - not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Jane Talk

By JANE KADANGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

WHILE TALKING with Dorothy Barrett (Mrs. Ray) last week, I picked up an unusual cookie recipe. Actually, they are called macaroons. Dorothy says they are nice for parties as they are not only good to eat, but pretty to look at. She got the recipe from her mother, Mrs. W. S. Dixon, who, in turn, got it from a neighbor about 18 years ago.

IT SOUNDS DELICIOUS. So, if meg, Pepper and Salt, and one spoonful of sweet seeds, and lemon peel minced, one penny loaf grated, a quarter of a pint of cream, two or three spoonfuls of Rose-water, three spoonfuls of sugar, one or two Verjuice, then take this into boles and put it into their bellies, and put the Larks into your Pie; then put marrow rouled in Yolkes of Eggs upon the Larks, and lare mace and sliced emmon, and fresh butter. Let it stand in the oven an hour; when you take it out, make a candle of butter, sugar and white wine vinegar, and put it into the Pie."

OATMEAL MACAROONS
1/2 cup melted butter
1 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
2 Tbsp. flour
2 cup quick rolled oats
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. salt

Melt butter. Pour into pan with other ingredients and stir. Drop on well-greased cookie sheet. Bake at 275 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes.

Dorothy says that the macaroons are a little hard to get off the cookie sheet without breaking. Her mother has found that they come off quite well, however, if the cookie sheet is held over a low flame while taking off the macaroons.

It certainly sounds easy. Not much fuss to it, which really appeals to an amateur cook like me.

TO APPRECIATE FULLY the ease and comfort of modern home-making probably nowhere is it better illustrated than in the pages of early American cookbooks. "Cookery and Housewifery" in colonial America were staggering jobs indeed.

Mrs. Margaret Rudkin, whose modern bakeries have replaced the drugery in baking good, old-fashioned hand-kneaded bread these days, owns an unusual collection of these rare cookbooks.

Baking "A Lark Pie" in the year 1658 was certainly never done in the twinkling of an eye. It involved:

"Take three dozen Larks, season them with four nutmegs, and halve an ounce of Pepper, and a quarter of an ounce of beaten mace; then take Lumbard-pie-meat and fill their bellies if you will, if not, take half a pound of suet, and one pound of mutton minced, Raisins of the Sun half a pound, and fix apples, minced all together very small; then season it with Nut-

HERE'S A MAIN DISH that generously serves six to eight with 2 cups of chicken. Heat together 2 cans condensed cream of mushroom soup 3/4 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon black pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika and 2 cups cooked diced chicken. Stir in 1 cup drained crushed pineapple and 1/2 cup roasted pecans. Serve immediately over hot cooked white rice. Garnish with cubes of pineapple and pecans. Sprinkle paprika over the creamed chicken.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

The men were teasing him about getting bald but he kept a good-natured smile on his face. But who knows but that he went home that evening and looked in the mirror and thought, "I really am getting old." Teasing friends about putting on weight, getting bald, or getting gray is a mean way of having fun.

For the teasing nearly always hurts.

Castoff Jim Wilson Blanks Yanks For Lowly Baltimore

By UNITED PRESS
Paul Richards admits his last-place Baltimore Orioles aren't much of a ball club, but he insists he has one of the best pitchers in the league in Jim Wilson, a shopworn veteran who got the "bum's rush" in Milwaukee.

35-year-old Wilson doesn't pick on the soft touches either. He has compiled his sparkling 2.50 earned run average chiefly against the hardest hitting clubs in the circuit.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter for the Braves last year but was unceremoniously turned loose by them the past spring, limited the league-leading New York Yankees to four scattered singles in shutting them out 4-0 and handing them their fourth straight setback Wednesday night.

Undismayed by the fact that he is toiling for a tail-ender, Wilson is getting ready to appear in his second All-Star game in as many years, despite his unspectacular-looking record of six victories and eight defeats. He made the National League All-Star team last year and has been chosen to the American League All-Star team by Manager Al Lopez.

The defeat was a bitter pill for the Yankees who saw their lead shaved to 4½ games when the second-place Cleveland Indians beat the Kansas City Athletics 8-4. Boston's red-hot Red Sox "licked" the Washington Senators 7-5 for their 11th victory in 12 games while Detroit defeated Chicago 5-3.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers won the first game of a two-night doubleheader 10-5, but the Pittsburgh Pirates captured the second game 4-1. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 6-4, Milwaukee topped Chicago 5-1, and New York Giants edged the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, in a game terminated in the bottom of the sixth inning by rain.

Inlans Come From Behind
A six-run rally in the eighth inning, during which Ralph Kiner homered, brought the Indians from behind in their game against the Athletics. Herb Score gained his eighth victory although hit for homers by Bill Wilson and Hector Lopez. Score, who was relieved in the eighth inning, struck out five batters, raising his season strikeout total to 131.

Ted Williams played a key role in the Red Sox triumph with a homer, double and a single as Tom Brewer picked up his sixth victory. The game was scheduled to be the opener of a two-night twin-bill but rain forced postponement of the second game which was re-scheduled for Thursday.

Rip Repulski's three-run homer was the deciding margin in the Cardinals win over the Redlegs although St. Louis had to employ four pitchers to halt a ninth-inning rally.

Don Mueller's two-run homer just before rain halted the game was the winning blow for the Giants.

Souchak Top Money Winner

CHICAGO —UP— Jack Fleck's National Open victory put him into the 25 top money winners in professional golf for the first time in his career, but his total earnings of $5,752 this year left him only 12th in the lineup announced Thursday.

Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y., continued to lead the field with $17,948 while Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, who has won four tournaments this season, more than any other competitor, held second with $16,643.

Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., took over first place in the chase for the Vardon Trophy, awarded to the player with the lowest average score per round, with a mark of 70.00.

There was no change in the top five in Ryder Cup points as Middlecoff increased his total to 714 31-60 for a stronger hold on the lead over Tommy Bolt, Houston, at 561 3-10.

Money winning leaders:
Mike Souchak $17,948
Cary Middlecoff 16,643
Gene Littler 14,792
Bobby Rosburg 13,002
Billy Maxwell 12,708
Ted Kroil 12,205
Don Finsterwald 9,964
Chandler Harper 9,180
Johnny Palmer 9,126

A's Owner Gets Big Laugh At So-Called Baseball Experts

By CHARLES NETHAWAY
KANSAS CITY —UP— Kansas City A's owner Arnold Johnson says the baseball experts around the country make him laugh.

"I just can't help it," he said. "They are a pretty funny bunch of fellows."

Johnson said he thinks the funniest group is the one which predicted the A's would be seven games below seventh place June 15.

"Here it is July and we are in sixth," he said, "and there is a lot of space between us and seventh."

Johnson said he had decided the experts — he lumps them from all media — thought he was a fool to buy the Philadelphia Athletics.

"I don't think I am a fool," Johnson said, "and I don't think the 'peanuts' some of the experts say I have invested in the club are peanuts — unless $2 million is peanuts."

Johnson, a Chicagoan, came in for the Detroit Tiger series, which the A's swept. He saw the club knock the Tigers out of the first division and belt the Chicago White Sox out of second place.

"I admit I have a lot to learn about baseball," Johnson said. "I make investments. I do not throw my money away as a usual thing."

He pointed out that of the 25 regulars on the Athletic roster at Philadelphia last season, only 10 are playing in Kansas City.

"The experts are really a funny bunch of fellows," Johnson said, "to have assumed we would try to play ball in Kansas City with the same identical team as last season."

He admitted also that the A's have a "very long, hard way to go," but he said many things are in the works to help the club.

Johnson said he recalled especially the studied comment of one "expert" who said that alongside the A's, the Baltimore Orioles "look like world champions."

Standings through the Fourth of July showed Baltimore in eighth place, trailing the A's by 11 1-2 games.

Architect Found Dead

KANSAS CITY — UP — A Shreveport, La., architect here to work on the Truman library was found dead in his room at the Kansas City Club Wednesday.

Coroner Joe Connors said Edward S. Nield, about 65, of the architectural firm of Nield and Sondhal, Shreveport, was discovered dead in the bath of his room shortly after he checked in about 8:45 a. m.

Connors said Nield sent a bell boy after ice when he arrived at his room, and the boy found him dead when he returned with the ice about five minutes later.

Nield was here to work with a local architect, Lon Gentry, on the Truman Memorial Library at nearby Independence. The coroner said a request for a post mortem examination would be made to Nield's family.
