Military Praises Air Force 'Enoch'

By ROBERT C. MILLER
HONOLULU — UP — Young Airman Daniel C. Schmidt soon the praise of the Air Force Thursday for courageously facing the problem created by the remarriage of his wife while he was in a Red Chinese jail.

But an Air Force spokesman asked reporters not to question Schmidt further about his marital troubles.

Schmidt and 10 other U.S. airmen who recently were freed from Red Chinese prisons where they were serving terms on "spy" charges arrived in Hawaii Wednesday on their way home.

All appeared joyful as they stepped off their planes to receive a typical Hawaiian reception but soon their mood changed.

Becomes Gloom

Schmidt became gloom when a reporter handed him a dispatch telling him that bigamy charges may be pressed against his 20-year-old wife, Una, for remarrying because she said she believed her husband was dead.

When asked for comment, Schmidt shook his head, but he took the Nevada City, Calif., dispatch with him as he walked off with the other fliers.

(In Nevada City, it was learned that Mrs. Schmidt will not bring along her second husband when she meets Daniel on his arrival in California.)

Another incident marred the occasion of the airmen's return to U.S. soil.

Starts Crying

Capt. Elmer Llewellyn of Missoula, Mont., was smiling as he stepped off his plane but began crying when newsmen questioned him about torture inflicted on him by his Chinese communist captors.

"I certainly was tortured," Llewellyn said. "They gave me the works."

One reporter said he understood that Col. John K. Arnold Jr. had taken the brunt of the punishment, and that the Red Chinese had been easier on the remaining 10 captives.

"Like Hell they were," Llewellyn said.

Then Llewellyn broke down and sobbed and an Air Force officer tried to calm him.

Man Fined For Assault On Editor

CANADIAN — (Special) — Roy Deaton, one-time candidate for mayor of Canadian, pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault on a Canadian newspaperman and was fined $25 and costs, totaling $51.65 in county court here yesterday. The plea was entered by Deaton's attorney, E. J. Cussen, after the charge was reduced from aggravated assault.

Deaton was charged with assault on Ben Ezzell, editor of the Canadian Record, at the American Legion hall on March 3. Both were attending a drawing for a bird dog field trial and the fistcuffs occurred when Deaton, then a candidate for mayor, expressed disagreement with an editorial Ezzell had published in his paper.

Ezell was hospitalized for a short time with a cerebral concussion, lacerations of the lip and forehead and abrasions about the face.

Deaton later withdrew from the mayoralty race.

'Connie' Lashes Carolinas

Fourth Big Storm Already Forming

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. — UP — Hurricane Connie swept the North Carolina Coast like a giant windshield wiper Thursday with howling winds.

The center of the hurricane, whose name means faithful, still was more than 100 miles at sea and moving slowly toward the north-northwest. Battering 115-120-mile-an-hour winds whistled around the calm eye. But they were up to at least 75 miles per hour 130 miles to the north and east.

Connie, who has been at almost a standstill for two days, gave plenty of warning. The beaches were bare. The people had fled. Everything was ready. The warnings this time had been heeded.

The busy seaport city of Wilmington, crowded with shipping, got winds of near hurricane force at mid-morning and rain was slanting down almost horizontally.

Tornadoes and freak storms spilled from Connie's giant weather front.

Won't Hit Boston
As the mid-Atlantic seaboard braced for the oncoming storm, New Englanders were allowed to breathe easier. At Boston, where officials were battling a polio epidemic, it was announced that Connie apparently would not add to that region's burden.

Lt. Cmdr. T. R. Leverett, on duty as an amateur radio operator at Columbia, S.C., said power went off at Wilmington during the morning. He did not know if that meant the entire city or just a portion.

Wilmington Police Chief J. J. Paddock advised downtown business to close and urged all persons to go home.

Police and fire departments at Wrightsville Beach were reported leaving and coming into the mainland. Power and water went off at 6:30 a.m. at Harbor Island.

Burns to Ground
A dwelling at Wrightsville Beach was reported to have burned to the ground because of lack of water supply.

While Connie's destiny still was undetermined, a sister storm popped up in the Atlantic 400 miles east of San Juan, Puerto Rico, with winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour.

US Tells Plan For H-Bomb Harness

By WILLIAM SEXTON
GENEVA — UP — The United States announced Thursday that it has been "working for a considerable time" to harness for peace the tremendous power of the hydrogen bomb.

Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, made the disclosure in answer to questions at the United Nations Atoms-for-peace conference.

"But there has been nothing in the nature of a breakthrough," Strauss said.

The formal American announcement made official a race to harness the H-bomb between the United States, Russia, Britain and France.

Control of the power of the hydrogen bomb, scientists said, would give man a source of power the equivalent of the force of the sun itself.

Strauss was asked if progress has been made in that direction.

"Progress certainly has been made from the scientific viewpoint," he said. It was then he added there had been no "breakthrough."

Some 300 newsmen attending the conference peppered Strauss with questions. Most of them he said he was unwilling to answer.

At the opening of his press conference Strauss said he had not answered a question on America's role in "thermonuclear" development because it would lead to other questions and he did not have time to answer them.

"I repeat the question," a reporter said.

"The reply is brief and affirmative," Strauss said. "The AEC is and has been working on the subject for a considerable time."

He said control of nuclear fusion is "one of the great projects" now being studied.

Strauss said the project is receiving from the United States government the amount of financial support requested by the AEC.

Strauss was asked if the United States has any information indicating whether any other nation is as far or further advanced than the United States in the drive to harness the power of the hydrogen bomb.

"We haven't," he said. "It is not a subject of this conference."

But the race to achieve that historic goal became the biggest unofficial subject of the conference at its opening on Monday when Dr. Homi J. Bhabha of India predicted the power of the H-bomb would be controlled and put to use within 20 years.

New Bridge For Red River Planned

OKLAHOMA CITY — UP — A new bridge will be built over the Red River as part of Oklahoma's program to make U.S. 77 a four-lane highway. Highway Director C. A. Stoldt has announced.

Stoldt said the $500,000 span will be built south of Marietta, Okla., for northbound traffic. The present bridge will carry south bound traffic.

Stoldt said the Texas Highway Department will supervise building of the span in accordance with the policy whereby the two states alternate on bridges erected over the Red River. Oklahoma supervised the last bridge built.

The $500,000 cost will be shared equally by the two states, and the federal government will participate 50-50 on the cost to each of the states. Another $50,000 will be needed to pay for approaches to the bridge on the Oklahoma side.

The span will be 28 feet wide, four feet wider than the present bridge, and will be 1,274 feet long. Stoldt said Texas officials hope to let the construction contract in November.

Stoldt also announced he will go to Washington next week to discuss construction of another Red River bridge — at Willis Crossing — with federal officials.

The Willis bridge, to be located south of Madill, Okla., was authorized by an act of the recent Congress, but an appropriation must yet be made.

Stoldt said Oklahoma and Texas are asking a $6 million appropriation for the span to replace a bridge destroyed when lake Texoma was built. The two states would refund $1,212,000 given them ($600,000 to each state) by the government prior to World War II to replace the bridge. The war prevented its construction.

67 Airmen Killed As Planes Collide

Explosion Kills Twenty In Ohio

By RICHARD E. FALES
ANDOVER, Ohio — UP — The bodies of two more persons were recovered Thursday from the wreckage of a block-long building demolished Wednesday night by an explosion and fire, bringing to 20 the number of dead.

Neither of the two new bodies was identified. They, like most of the others, were burned beyond recognition.

They were taken to a hastily-assembled morgue in the garage of this small town's only funeral home.

The painstaking culling of the building debris was halted shortly before 3 a.m. when officials elected to wait until daybreak. They had virtually convinced themselves, however, that no more victims were in the wreckage.

A tow truck was brought to the scene when the search resumed. Within a half hour the two additional bodies were found under piles of shattered lumber and brick.

The number of victims originally was set at 25 but was reduced, as officials attempted to identify the charred victims after matching torsos with extremities which had been counted as separate bodies.

Rescue teams searched the smoking ruins for more dead, and one volunteer said "we'll be prodding this debris for a couple of days."

"We haven't even gotten into the rubble," the volunteer said. "Most of the bodies were taken from the top fringe of the debris."

The deafening explosion ripped through the two-story brick building at the height of a lashing rain and electrical storm during the dinner hour Wednesday night. Most of the victims, including 18 injured, had taken shelter in a dairy store and an adjoining restaurant shortly before the blast.

Several victims trapped in the dairy store, burned beyond recognition, were found seated at tables with food before them.

Nancy Mock and Mike French, operators of the dairy, said at least 10 employees were in the store at the time. Only two were accounted for by early Thursday. Miss Mock and French, who were standing outside when the explosion rocked the building, said they had smelled "something like sewer gas." They said they had no idea how many customers were in the store at the time.

Two other buildings, one housing the Ohio Edison Telephone Co. exchange, were gutted with fire as flames spread rapidly. The town of about 1,000 persons was isolated for several hours without telephone service or electric power.

TRUETT ROSS ... sting is fatal

Wasp Sting Fatal To Truett Ross

Funeral services for Truett Scott Ross, 46, a resident of Pampa for four years, will be held Friday at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Ross was stung by a wasp about 7:10 p.m. yesterday and was pronounced dead shortly after his arrival at Highland General Hospital.

Mr. Ross had been working in the yard of his home at 512 Lefors and became immediately ill following the wasp's sting. His wife, Frieda, summoned a physician while neighbors called an ambulance. Efforts to save his life were futile, however.

The attending physician said about one person in a million is allergic to wasp venom and that little could be done following the stinging.

Mr. Ross was born Feb. 7, 1909, in Geonimo, Okla., and moved here about four years ago to assume a teaching position in Pampa High School. He moved here from Norman, Okla., and was a member of the First Baptist Church, a veteran of World War II and Battery Commander of the 807th Armored Field Artillery Battalion. The Battery will serve as honorary pallbearers at the funeral.

Mr. Ross, who held a Master's degree from Central Teachers College in Edmond, Okla., was a math teacher in Pampa High School. (See STING, Page 2)

Two 'Flying Boxcars' Hit In Mid-Air Over Germany

STUTTGART, Germany — UP — Two U. S. Air Force C-119 Flying Boxcars loaded with American paratroopers collided near Stuttgart Thursday and crashed in flames killing 67 men, an Air Force spokesman announced.

The announcement by the 12th Air Force said:

"Two Air Force C-119 troop carriers crashed Thursday afternoon about 30 miles west of Stuttgart and initial reports indicated that 67 persons on board were killed.

Part of Nine-Plane Flight

"The C-119's were part of a nine-plane flight which had just taken off from Echterdingen Airfield, near Stuttgart, on a training mission with troops from Seventh Army aboard.

"Initial reports said that one plane developed engine trouble just a few minutes after takeoff, after reaching a cruising level of 10,000 feet.

"The crippled plane lost altitude momentarily, then pulled up abruptly across the front of another aircraft in the formation.

"The crippled plane went down immediately.

47 Persons Aboard

"The first plane to crash had 42 passengers and a crew of five plus one Loadmaster on board.

"The second plane carried 14 passengers, a crew of four and a Loadmaster.

"The crashes occurred at 2:18 German time (6:18 a.m. est). The second plane flew level for almost one minute, then went out of control and nosed into the ground. "The accident occurred less than 15 minutes after takeoff," the announcement concluded.

'Could Beat Ike'

Stevenson To Decide In 4 Months

CHICAGO — UP — Adlai E. Stevenson will announce within the next four months whether he will run again for President. He makes the race he thinks he can beat President Eisenhower.

Stevenson made the promise and prediction Wednesday night after a dinner held in conjunction with the 47th annual governors' conference.

It was the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate's most straightforward statement to date on his political plans and on the chances of defeating Mr. Eisenhower.

Talk of Stevenson's future has dominated the governors' conference, even though his only connection with it is that he happens to live in a Chicago suburb.

Stevenson brought the conjectures to a flat statement to about 100 newsmen that "I shall tell you what I am going to do, and why, sometime before the end of November, possibly before."

Stevenson, titular leader of the Democratic party, defended himself against charges that he is being "coy and indecisive" about his political future.

He also scoffed at any suggestions that "I am afraid to run against Ike."

But Stevenson still refused to say whether he has made up his mind about making a second bid for the White House.

The former Illinois governor set the deadline for announcing his political status after two days of huddling with Democratic governors attending the conference.

Red China Asks Meet On Korea

LONDON — UP — Red China's foreign ministry called Thursday for a Far Eastern conference to seek peaceful settlement of the Korean question.

A New China News Agency broadcast said Communist China was seriously concerned by demands of the Republic of Korea that the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission leave the country.

"The countries concerned should not stand idly by," the Red broadcast said.

For eight days, groups numbering from several hundred to as many as 2,000 or 3,000 South Koreans have attacked American guards at compounds in Korea housing members of the Neutral Nations Supervisors Commission. The mobs sought to seize and eject the commission's Communist members before Saturday.

"This is a serious action, aimed at outright destruction of the Korean armistice agreement," said the Communist statement, broadcast by Radio Peking.

"The commission must be respected by both sides of the armistice.

"The countries concerned should convene a Far Eastern conference with broad participation of Asian countries to seek a peaceful settlement of the Korean question."

The United States has asked Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee to call off the riotous demonstrators in which 26 American soldiers have been injured by howling mobs, hurling stones and bottles.

U.S. officials have stated that it is their duty to protect the Neutral Nations Commission members and that they will do so.

Flood Hits Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — UP — A raging flash flood — the sixth in 15 days — ripped into northeast Albuquerque again Thursday as water-weary residents awaited disaster emergency aid from the White House.

An inch and a half rain tore out of the 11,000 foot Sandia Mountains, pushed currents of water "two and three feet deep" into homes and turned "already damaged streets into a pulp of mud and silt.

Military personnel sped sand bags into the stricken area — about two miles long and a half mile wide. But residents stubbornly refused to leave their homes again and battled it out as best they could while water seeped in their front doors.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) asked for funds from the President's emergency fund Monday after a pair of floods swept through the city last weekend, and New Mexico Gov. John F. Simms declared the city a disaster area.

Suspect Held In KC Murder

KANSAS CITY — UP — A suspect in the slaying of pretty Mrs. Wilma Allen, who failed to satisfy police with his first lie detector test, will undergo another test Thursday.

Mrs. Allen, 34, wife of prominent Kansas City automobile dealer William R. Allen Jr., and mother of two children, disappeared one week ago Thursday from a shopping village near her home.

Her nude body, hand-tied behind her back with her scarf, was found last Sunday in a pasture about 15 miles southwest of Kansas City. She had been shot twice in the head.

Sgt. Wayne Gibson, homicide detective, said the suspect who took Wednesday's lie detector test was unsatisfactory in the vicinity where Mrs. Allen's blood-stained convertible was found early last Friday morning.

The man is employed in the area, Gibson said, and has not been at work since last Wednesday.

Johnson County Coroner Dr. Davis S. Long said preliminary laboratory reports indicated there "is a good possibility that Mrs. Allen was criminally assaulted."

E. L. Thomas Killed In Hay Baler

Elmer Leo Thomas, 38, Pampa, father of six children, was killed yesterday when he became entangled in a haybaler on the Bob Campbell ranch, one mile east of Hoover.

The accident occurred at 3:30 p.m.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church in Canadian Saturday at 2 p.m.

Harvey Chidress, pastor, will officiate, and will be assisted by Rev. Sanford Cole of Geromino.

Thomas, who lived six miles northeast of Pampa, was working with Jim Campbell, son of the ranch owner, when the tragedy occurred.

The baler ran out of twine and young Campbell had gone back to the ranch house to get more twine. When he returned, Thomas' body was found in the baler.

Campbell and an unidentified man dismantled the baler to remove Thomas' body. Thomas was dead when pulled from the baler.

Ranch owner Bob Campbell said he believed that Thomas either fell into the baler or was pulled in the baler's mechanism.

Thomas was born June 23, 1918, at Butler, Mo. He moved to Pampa a year ago.

Survivors include his wife, Iva; four sons, Richard, Earl, Jerry and Bennie; two daughters, Linda and Joyce; his father, J. G. Thomas of Gem City; three brothers, Homer of Canadian; Garland of Wichita, Kan.; and Robert of Gem City; one sister, Mrs. Genevieve Johnson of Denver, Colo.

Palbearers will be Delbert Harper, Bools Mathis, Paul Ramsey, Ora Ramsey, Claud Cook and Walt Moore.

Bindwood Chemicals Received Here

Ralph Thomas, Gray County agent said this morning that 35,000 lbs. of sodium chlorate have been received this week making a total of 125,000 lbs. purchased by Gray County Soil Conservation District. Ordered on the fourth car is an additional 10,000 lbs. to be resold to farmers at .02 per lb.

Approval for eradication of bindweed must be made by area farmers through the ASC office, Evelyn Mason manager. Purchase orders for sodium chlorate may be left at the County Agent's office.

The chlorate is used as a soil sterilizer for seeding and grass, winter legumes, and various other practices. Area farmers will be assisted to a limit of $1,000.

The Gray County ASC Committee and other County Committees in this area have asked that a "bindweed eradication" program practice be approved, for 1956, but no assurance of approval has been made. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has ruled that there will be no payments on weed control practices next year.

Elk City Sets Rodeo Dates

ELK CITY, Okla., Aug. 11 (Special) — Elk City's seventeenth annual rodeo will show the first three nights of the week in place of the last three as has been the practice in the past.

The dates this year are Monday Tuesday and Wednesday nights, September 5-6-7 starting promptly at 8:00 p.m.

The shift from the last of the week to the first was decided on this year by the directors of the rodeo association to get away from conflicting dates with other rodeos over the Southwest.

This change should assure this year's rodeo with more and better cowboys competing for the prize money in the five major events.

Beutler Brothers have selected their top rodeo stock and turned these out on their ranch north of Elk City, that they may be fresh and ready to unmount these champion cowboys when the chutes are opened on rodeo nights.

The Elk City rodeo is home coming for the Beutler Brothers and they are overly anxious to have the top cowhands of the nation here and stock that will perform to the pleasure of the patrons.

The parade committee is searching for all new ideas and entries to make this year's parade which will be on Labor Day, Monday, September 5, starting at 4:00 p.m. the best parade yet.

Quarles New Air Secretary

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower Thursday appointed Donald A. Quarles, now assistant secretary of defense for research and development, to be secretary of the Air Force.

Quarles will succeed Harold E. Talbot, who resigned during a controversy over his private personal business while serving as Air Force secretary.

Quarles has been assistant defense secretary in charge of all of the department's research and development, including guided missiles. Previously he had been an official of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. He was vice president when he quit to join the Defense department.

After serving as a field artillery captain in World War I, Quarles went with the Bell Laboratories in 1919. He is 61, and a fellow and former president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. His home town is Englewood, N.J., where he once was mayor.

He is married and has four children. His appointment was announced as the Air Force prepared an elaborate farewell ceremony for Talbot.

Quarles had not figured by name in the speculation over choice of a successor to Talbot. However, the United Press reported Tuesday on the basis of information from a reliable source that a person well-versed in guided missiles undoubtedly would be chosen to succeed Talbot.

Two Bus Routes Are Consolidated

Bert R. Nichols, county school superintendent, met with L. D. Tindall, Alanreed superintendent, and W. H. Blakeney, business manager of Alanreed, yesterday to consolidate bus routes in the Alanreed area next fall.

County board of education members will approve the routes, after possible changes, in October.

'CONNIE'

name was drawn by weather bureau hurricane namers from Greek mythology. She was the huntress.

A 7 a.m. cat bulletin from the Miami Weather Bureau said winds had risen to near hurricane force around Cape Fear, N. C., a point south of Wilmington where the shoreline juts into the ocean.

Hurricane Flags Run Up

Storm signals were changed to red and black hurricane flags from a spot south of Myrtle Beach to Cape Romain near Georgetown, S. C.

Connie was lumbering along at a snail's pace of five to seven miles an hour, bearing north-northwest or northwest.

Winds will continue to increase along the coast of the Carolinas, first to gale and then to full hurricane force by mid-day, the weather bureau said.

Tides 10 Feet Above Normal

Tides were running four to five feet above normal and were expected to get 10 feet above normal at some unprotected points along the Carolina Coast.

Weather officials warned the area from Myrtle Beach to the Virginia capes immediately endangered by Connie to "rush preparations for the possibility of gale to hurricane force winds."

The new storm was named Diane. Early Thursday she had winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour, still 15 miles an hour short of hurricane force.

Conservation Funds Still Available Here

In a farm newsletter from Evelyn Mason, manager of the Gray County Agricultural Stabilization, and Conservation office, it was pointed out that allocation for 1955 Agriculture Conservation Program practices is still available to Gray County producers for carrying out needed conservation practices by the end of the year.

The letter pointed out that any of the allocation not used at the end of the year will revert back to the state office and will be lost to the county and that those desiring to make use of the allocation should do so as soon as possible.

The individual limit of $600 per person has been increased to $1000 in program and those having already used their entire allocation may now apply for other program assistance up to $1000 per person.

Two new practices have been added to the 1955 ACP program for the remainder of this year. They are practice number C-12, reorganized farm irrigation systems to conserve water and prevent erosion, and practice number C-13, leveling land for more efficient use of irrigation water and to prevent erosion.

The letter also revealed that ballots have been mailed to all producers so each man and his wife can vote for 1956 ASC committee members. The ballots, which list 10 names, must be returned to the ASC office by Aug. 18. Five names will be voted on. Producers may write in any eligible producer they desire to be on the committee.

The five persons receiving the highest number of votes will serve as 1956 community committeemen and alternate with the highest man serving also as delegate to the convention to elect the 1956 county committee. All new committeemen will take office Sept. 1. The elected committeemen will administer all the programs for 1956 including allotments, ACP, and other programs.

The letter discussed referendum for sheep and wool producers which is being held to determine producer approval or disapproval of a promotional agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and American Sheep Producers Council, Inc. ### Lightning Kills Two On Gulf Coast

By UNITED PRESS

Lightning streaked out of stormy skies over Central Texas and along the coast Wednesday, killing two persons at Bay City and slightly injuring 13 Oklahoma National Guardsmen on maneuvers at Fort Hood.

The state's erratic weather proved fatal for the second consecutive day.

Two persons died Tuesday in Gatesville when roaring wind that may have been a twister crumpled two old stone buildings on the south side of the town's square.

The victims were trapped in debris after the roof of a cafe collapsed.

Wednesday heavy thunderstorms and rain were reported from every section of the state, but the summer storms were very localized. They erupted in stifling heat in many places. Temperatures earlier in the week soared to record highs for the year in many areas of Texas.

Safe Robbed At Wholesale Liquor Firm

Sometime last night the safe at Texas Wine and Liquor Sales on Atchison was opened and $110.05 in checks and $18 in cash taken with 14 cases of beer, according to Chief of Police Jim Conner.

Evidence indicates that the party broke in the glass of the front door, reached through and unlocked the door, and somehow managed to open the safe, which the manager reported was locked.

Patrolmen Dan Lewis and J. B. Goab in a routine patrol last night about 10:22 p.m. noticed a side door open at Home Builders Supply, 312 W. Foster, but the manager reported that nothing was missing this morning.

An investigation is being conducted by Police officers.

Five Inches in Hour

Almost five inches of rain in little more than an hour at Mount Pleasant Wednesday afternoon sent water coursing temporarily through the streets of the northeast Texas town.

The Mount Pleasant police department said Thursday there was no flooding other than water in the streets.

Ennis, south of Dallas, got an official 2.38 inches of rain for the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. Thursday, and Ferris, also near Dallas, got 1.59 inches.

Two to three inches of rain fell in the Fort Hood area.

Downtown Fort Worth got .44 inch up to 8 a.m. and rain began falling again Thursday morning. Dallas, however, got only a few localized downpours. Abilene and El Paso both reported .32 inch of moisture to 6:30 a.m. and Austin got .79 inch.

Near Bay City Daniel Byrd, 41, and his son, Jerry, 4, were fatally injured when a lightning bolt struck an outbuilding in which they sought protection from a heavy rain and thunderstorm Wednesday. Byrd was the father of 10 other children.

Soil Men Return From Area Tour

Members of the Gray County Soil Conservation district returned from their second annual tour of a neighboring district yesterday.

Thirteen Gray County members met with five Collinsworth County members in McLean at 9 a.m. and went to the Salt Fork Conservation District, with headquarters in Wellington.

Observed on farms in Collinsworth County were blue panic grass on deep sandy soil planted last spring, and four-year old grass harvested for a crop of hay. The use of anhydrous ammonia was observed on cotton under irrigation, reported very high. Cotton following the planting of Guar (a summer legume), on a separate farm, was observed to be about twice the growth of ordinary cotton.

A water spreading system of the sump-pant type, with drainage from Wellington running through terraces into wheat fields, was studied along with the interplanting of maize and mang beans, alfalfa with varying amounts of fertilizer, the planting of guar and grain sorghum, and shinnery oak control by spraying with 245-T which doubled the amount of grass.

District soil conservation supervisors in charge of the tour and accompanying the group were: Homer Abbott, Felton Webb, and Curtis Schaffer.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Matthew 7:24-29

Jesus knew the mind of God. Under all circumstances Jesus spoke as one who believed he knew the mind of God. In any instance in which he seemed uncertain he refused to speak until he had engaged in a prolonged vigil in which he sought definite guidance.

In the brief course of his ministry Jesus taught many things about God, just as others before and since have done, but he was peculiar in that he demonstrated his teachings by his life and his certainty. Confucius, for instance, said: "I am... only a seeker after truth." Whereas Jesus said: "I am the truth." (John 14:6.)

Those who heard him preach said: "He taught them as one having authority." He was one of those rare souls have lived as though he knew.

It was Jesus' most profound conviction that he was doing the will of God. This produced a certainty in his life which was nothing less than magnificent. In trying to convey the matter to his disciples he said: "I have meat to eat that ye know not of" (John 4:32), and then, seeing their confusion, he went on to explain that doing God's will was to him like eating food; it was the thing he lived on (John 4:34).

It is impossible to probe the mind of Jesus and know exactly how he came into possession of his knowledge. And another thing is also perfectly clear. He had that knowledge. And another thing is also perfectly plain—each of us knows at least something about the will and preferences of GOD. We know enough at least to do that part of God's will which is perfectly plain to us.

O God, I am ready to begin with what I know and go forward, in the confidence that when I come to the edge of the known thou wilt open up the truth and lead me on into the unknown, which shall become known. When I am walking in the truth, I am walking with thee, O men.

Remember that last serious sin which you committed, the time you flew directly into the face of your conscience and defied your sense of right. What happened to your sense of God? Is it not true that he seemed to disappear?

PREPARE EARLY — Mrs. T. J. Worrell, 1707 Christine, goes to her refrigerator to get out the barbecued beef she prepared earlier in the day for supper. She re-heats it slowly and serves it on buns. She says it always makes a hit at a church social or young people's gathering. (News photo)

Barbecued Beef Buns 'Always Make A Hit'

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

A good dish for church socials or young people's gatherings is Mrs. T. J. Worrell's barbecued beef buns. She says it is always a success.

A Pampan since 1931, Mrs. Worrell is originally from Waco. Her husband, Dr. Worrell, is a veterinarian. The Worrells have three daughters, Patsy and Virginia at home and Mrs. Leroy Thornburg of Pampa.

Helping her husband in his small animal hospital and with a section of land where they ranch, and her household duties occupy most of Mrs. Worrell's time. However, she does find time to be active in the First Baptist Church where she has worked in the intermediate and junior departments since 1931.

The Worrells also spend some time in their "place in the mountains" near Lake City, Colo. Mrs. Worrell's other activities include accompanying her husband to Kiwanis events and Hereford Breeder association barbecues. They also belong to the Knife and Fork Club. Mrs. Worrell likes "all sports," especially riding horsesback.

Mrs. Worrell says she has been cooking "a long time." When asked if she likes to cook, she replied: "Yes, I do! Doctor likes to eat!" She is now teaching her daughter, Virginia, 13, how to cook. Mrs. Worrell especially likes to make chocolate pie, icecream and angel food cakes.

BARBECUED BEEF BUNS
4 cups of 2-inch strips cooked beef or chicken
1/2 cup vinegar
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 Tbsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cayenne pepper
2 thick slices of lemon
2 sliced medium onions
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup catchup or chili sauce
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce.
Early in the day combine vinegar and the next nine ingredients listed above. Simmer mixture, uncovered, for 20 minutes. Then add catchup, Worcestershire sauce and meat. Refrigerate mixture. Then 45 minutes before supper, return the beef to heat slowly. Serve on buns. Serve with fresh tomatoes, celery, potato chips and olives. This will serve 8 persons.

Fresh Vegetables Give Skillet Dish

You cook all of this supper in one skillet so there are no other pans to wash. Green, orange and white vegetables look mighty pretty arranged with the beef balls.

3 slices fresh bread
1/2 cup milk
1/2 pound ground beef
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon steak sauce
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
3 to 4 carrots cut into strips 2 1/2" to 3 1/2" long
2 3/4 cups water
1 cup uncooked white rice
1 package frozen peas or 2 cups fresh, uncooked green peas
6 green onions, washed and trimmed
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper.

METHOD: Tear the bread into small pieces and place in a mixing bowl. Pour milk over the bread. Add the ground beef, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper and steak sauce. Mix well. Form into six meat balls. Melt the butter or margarine in a skillet at least 10" across (diameter). Add the meat balls and brown slowly. Turn often and shake the skillet to keep the meat balls from sticking.

Remove skillet from the heat. Add the carrots. Slowly add 2 cups of the water. Cover the skillet with a lid and return to heat to cook for 10 minutes. Water should not boil vigorously. Remove lid. Pour the rice into one section of the skillet. Place the peas in another section or around the meat balls. Arrange the green onions over top. Sprinkle with the salt and pepper. Pour the remaining cup of water over the rice. Push all of the rice under the water. Cover with a lid and cook over a low heat for 25 minutes. Midway during the cooking, remove the lid and stir some of the liquid in the skillet into the rice. At the end of the cooking time remove skillet from the heat but leave lid on until time to serve. This makes the rice even more tender.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

A small lump of sugar, a half teaspoonful of baking soda, a little salt or a few pieces of white soap added to the water helps to keep cut flowers fresh.

To protect your thumb when grating vegetables, wear a band-aid or piece of adhesive tape on the thumb.

Four Variations Of A Malt Cake

Warm summer evenings will take on added interest when you perk up the dinner table with a new dessert. Start with 8 x 13 oblong cake, then with creams and icings, transform it into a dessert of elegance and perfection.

Delicious as a base for these variations is the new Chocolate Malt Cake Mix, now being introduced by Betty Crocker of General Mills. This new cake mix brings the favorite chocolate malt flavor to the dinner table in a dressed up form.

MOCHA-MALT CAKE
Cut oblong cake baked from Chocolate Malt Cake Mix into squares. Top each square with a spoonful of mocha whipped cream made by folding 1 tsp. powdered coffee into 1 cup cream, whipped and sweetened. Sprinkle with chocolate shot.

MALTED MILK CREAM CAKE
Bake Chocolate Malt Cake Mix in oblong pan and cut into squares. Split each square in half and fill with Malted Milk filling. Top with more filling or whipped cream and dot with cherry.

FILLING:
1 cup heavy cream
4 tsp. plain or chocolate malted milk powder
2 tsp. powdered sugar
Beat with rotary beater in chilled bowl until it holds a soft peak.

ICE CREAM SANDWICH
Bake Chocolate Malt Cake in oblong pan. Cut into squares, split and fill with vanilla ice cream. Top with marshmallow sauce.

CHOCO-MALT CAKE
Spread with Brown Beauty icing:
1 cup sifted powdered sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tsp. milk shortening
2 sq. unsweetened chocolate melted
1/4 tsp. vanilla
2 or 3 egg yolks (or 1 small egg)

Set bowl in water. Mix thoroughly powdered sugar, salt, milk, shortening, chocolate, vanilla. Add eggs. Beat "until thick enough to spread (3 to 5 minutes).

"Sandwiches Unlimited" For Summer

Make it — Sandwiches Unlimited — for picnic meals and easy summer living. Look how versatile sandwiches can be — they may be stay-at-homes, they have a place in the sun with the travel minded, they may be just simple foods or they grace the elegant tea table.

Good performers on all occasions, breads and rolls of all types, enriched white, whole or cracked wheat, the French and Vienna types, too — have won a special spot in the picnic basket of those who know picnicking at its best.

Those who bring foods out of a picnic hamper as fresh and attractive as when packed hours before, pack breads and perishable fillings separately. Such fillings with tomatoes and lettuce, can travel in cool comfort in a refrigerated container. It is a happy thought that breads can take the heat and if kept in original wrappers or in vapor-moisture proof wrappings, they need no pampering. At the picnic, the sandwiches can be made and served fresh and appealing.

LIVERWURST-CELERY SANDWICH FILLING
1/2 cup or (3/4 pound) mashed liverwurst
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1-3 cup chopped dill pickle
1-3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Combine liverwurst, celery, dill pickle and mayonnaise
Yield 1 1-3 cups or filling for 7 sandwiches.

Yield 1 cup, or filling for 5 sandwiches.

CHICKEN-HAM

Canned Meats Are Easy To Prepare

In your role as menu planner for the family, you may look upon an ideal breakfast as being quick and easy to prepare as well as appetizing and wholesome. Canned meats fit into such plans. There are several from which to choose to lend a great deal of variety to the first meal of the day.

There is also variety in the ways canned meats may be used, says well-known meat expert Reba Stagg. One of the easier plans for canned luncheon meat is to slice it and panbroil it until it's browned and heated through. Chopped ham or chopped beef can also be spread between the folds of an omelet or cooked with scrambled eggs.

Corned beef hash can be baked in a ring mold, then turned out on a warm platter with the center of the ring filled with scrambled eggs or 7-minute cabbage. Or it can be packed in muffin tins, an egg placed on top and the meat dish baked until the eggs are done.

Chipped beef is another handy "pantry shelf" meat. It can be creamed and served over toast or mixed into scrambled eggs.

Breakfast Is The Key To Successful Weight Reduction

A doctor recently accused a bride of six months "of killing her husband with kindness." Her husband had gained an excessive amount of weight. The wife, in her desire to feed her husband adequately and to demonstrate her cooking ability, simply had fed her husband too well.

The doctor explained that overweight could become a serious concern. It could affect appearance, vitality, emotions, personal and public relations and life expectancy. Overweight is due to overeating—the result of eating more calories than can be used.

The couple asked the doctor's help in working out a reducing plan. The doctor outlined the total caloric intake that could be eaten each day. He stressed the importance of three meals nutritionally adequate except for calories. Breakfast, he pointed out, is the key to any successful reducing diet. Research has shown that skipping breakfast is a strain on the body, promotes unnecessary fatigue, slows down reactions and reduces work output.

A reducing diet breakfast follows a basic breakfast pattern recommended by doctors and dietitians. It should provide one-fourth of the total daily requirements. A basic breakfast pattern includes fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. The 400 calorie breakfast pictured above shows that our bride not only could prepare attractive breakfasts but ones that fit a basic pattern—even on restricted calories.

5 IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Habeas Corpus — Corpus Delicti

Two legal phrases which are probably more misunderstood and misused by laymen than any other are "habeas corpus" and "corpus delicti."

The words habeas corpus are Latin for "you have the body". They are commonly used in the legal profession to describe a writ or order signed by the judge directed to the sheriff or jailer holding a prisoner or any person who is physically detaining another, and commanding him to produce the body (alive) of the prisoner (or person detained) before the judge. The purpose of such an order is to allow the judge to determine whether the prisoner is being held lawfully or whether he should be set free.

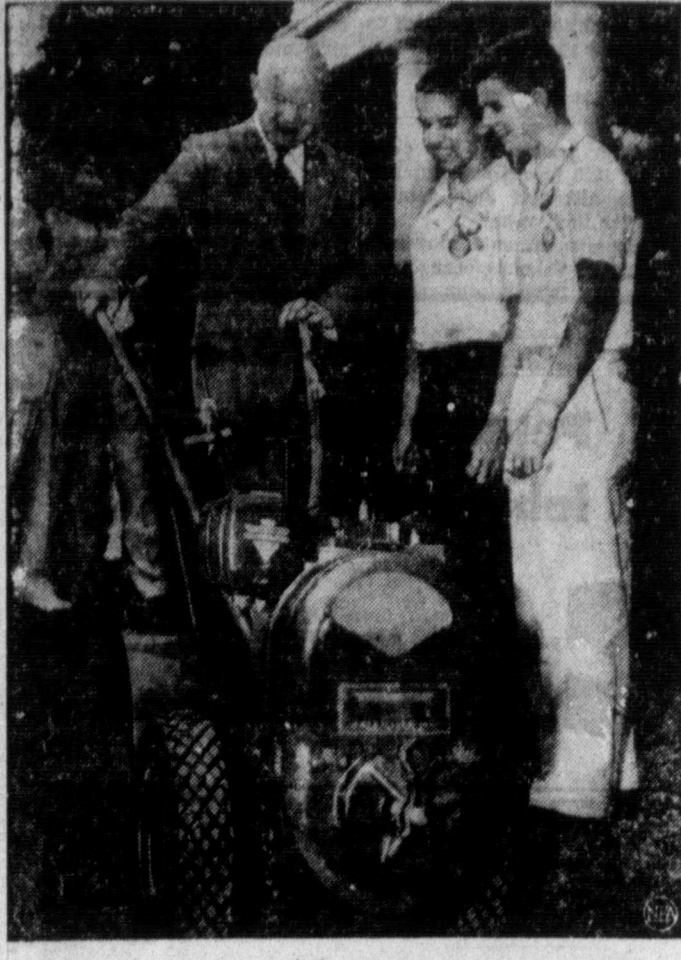

The writ of habeas corpus prevents law enforcement officers from abusing the constitutional right of personal liberty and has been a jealously guarded privilege.

The words "corpus delicti" are Latin, and, liberally translated, mean the elements of the crime or wrongdoing. Laymen incorrectly interpret corpus delicti as meaning literally "the body," as in a murder case.

Speaking technically in a legal sense, corpus delicti is that which must be proved in every criminal case. Such proof must show that an unlawful act has been committed and that it has been committed by a human agency. The mere finding of a dead body or a burning building does not mean that there is murder on the one hand or arson on the other. To prove murder, it must be shown that the death was unlawfully caused by a human agency. Contrary to popular belief murder can be proved even though the body cannot be found. In the case of the burning building, it must be shown that the building was unlawfully set on fire by a human agency.

To sum up then, habeas corpus is a writ designed to prevent the unlawful detention or imprisonment of any person. Corpus delicti, on the other hand, literally means the body of the crime, or, in general, the substance of crime.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Oil Well Ignites

BLACKWELL, Okla. — An oil well began spewing gas Tuesday and burst into 50-foot high flames visible nine miles away. One man was injured and damage was estimated at $150,000 to $250,000.

Neal Jeffries, a driller, was brought to a hospital in Blackwell with second-degree burns.

Four bulldozers worked in the muddy field surrounding the well in an attempt to pull the wreckage of the rig superstructure out of the way.

The well had been drilled to a depth of only 750 feet when it hit the gas pocket and blew wild.

The rig, owned by Haskell Waggoner Drilling Co. of Oklahoma City, was destroyed.

The flames were visible nine miles away at the office of V. C. Sole of Superior Oil Well Servicing Co., which was serving the well.

"We have extinguished the fire two or three times," Sole said, "but each time the gas catches fire again from the hot metal."

He said if the debris could be removed the fire could be put out.

Roy McKinney, the driller, said T. H. Wade, a roughneck on the crew, probably saved Jeffries' life. Wade and Jeffries were both under the rig when it caught fire, and Jeffries' shirt began blazing.

"Jeffries got up and started to run," McKinney said. "Wade tackled him and rolled him in the dirt to put out the flames."

EATIN'S BIGGER, BETTER

Graphically shown is the big difference in what the average American eats now, compared to what was in his father's larder a generation ago. Then, few foods were processed and packaged for convenient use. Now many foods are canned, frozen, ready-mixed, precooked and packaged in modern, sanitary containers. Data from U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Heavy Rains Spur Growth Of Crops

AUSTIN —UP— Heavy showers in parts of the central blacklands, northern low rolling plains and most of East Texas spurred growth of cotton and late sorghums and assured another high-yielding cutting of hay, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday.

Cotton, sorghum, corn, peanut and hay harvest moved along between scattered rains last week. However, the USDA warned in its weekly crop and weather bulletin that insect population in cotton fields was increasing as showers interfered with control programs.

Meanwhile, a hot sun and drying winds took a toll of growing crops in areas missed by rain.

Cotton Popping Open
In dry parts of south central counties, cotton was reported popping open prematurely. In the cross timbers, late feed was curdling and pastures curing. Most dryland sorghums were in a "critical stage" of growth and needed moisture for continued favorable development in the northern and northwestern counties.

Conditions were favorable for active field work in most irrigated vegetable areas of South Texas. Planting of fall and early winter vegetables continued in southern irrigated districts, but moisture "is still deficient in most non-irrigated areas," the USDA said.

Transplanting of the Laredo tomato crop made "good progress" and seeding of Panhandle lettuce continued. Rail movement of potatoes from the Panhandle was light.

Britain May Become One Big City
LONDON —UP— Britain, with one-third the population of the United States jammed into a space the size of Arizona, is trying to keep from becoming one big city.

The government has instructed 140 urban areas to lay out "green belts" in which further city expansion would be prohibited. The action followed growing concern that the house-building rate—now some 300,000 a year—would soon make an asphalt jungle of this crowded island nation.

Duncan Sandys, minister of housing and local government, wrote local city councils asking them to set aside bands of countryside surrounding their borders "as soon as possible."

He gave London as the pattern. The six counties that form the world's biggest city already have laid out "green belts" 7 to 10 miles deep. London can grow no larger.

Sandys (pronounced Sands) cited "the importance of checking the unrestricted sprawl of the built-up areas and of safeguarding the countryside against further encroachment."

He said the green belt plan would:
1. "Check the further growth of a large built-up area."
2. "Prevent neighboring towns from merging into one another."
3. "Preserve the special character of a town."

Sandys timed his order to follow public horror over the just-released report on highway deaths in the first half of 1955. It showed an average of 10 deaths a day on Britain's overcrowded highways, many of which are little more than an unending chain of neighboring cities' main streets.

January through June were the blackest months since the war. Road accidents killed 451 persons and injured 24,241. Although Britain has less cars per capita than the United States, it has the world's largest number per mile of road—an estimated 19 compared to barely over 15 in the United States.

Delinquency Hearing Set
WASHINGTON —UP— Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said Monday he will hold hearings in Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday on the role of the school in combating juvenile delinquency.

Flood Crest Advances In Colorado

BRUSH, Colo. —UP— A sizeable flood crest on Beaver Creek moved slowly northward toward the Eastern Plains market center Thursday, inundating hundreds of farms. More than 10,000 acres of farmland were under water at midnight, and 150 farm families were evacuated from low land immediately south of Brush. At least one person was presumed dead, and damage to crops and hay stacks was heavy.

The flood was caused by cloudbursts Wednesday south of Brush, around the farm communities of Woodworth and the town of Last Chance, on U. S. 31. A flood crest of 20 feet built up on Beaver Creek before it overflowed and flooded 60 farms around Gary.

Two other creeks which run northward and join Beaver Creek increasing the threat to Brush. The Rev. Nathan E. Escott of Marion, Ind., and his wife were trapped in their car on a bridge on S.H. 71, nine miles south of Brush, when Beaver Creek washed out both approaches. The car was swept from the bridge.

The Rev. Escott climbed to the top of the car and clung to an overhanging branch until firemen in a boat rescued him. But his wife had been carried away, and was almost surely drowned. Firemen set a watch on the creek at Brush for the body.

Beaver Creek also washed over U. S. 31 west of Last Chance, closing the road. A rancher reported that the rain began before noon Wednesday at Woodworth, and that he measured three and one-half inches of precipitation in two hours' time.

About the same time, a cloudburst struck Cheyenne Canyon near Colorado Springs, on the edge of the Rocky Mountains. In four, four inches of rain and heavy hail descended on the canyon.

About 250 tourists were stranded at Seven Falls, a scenic spot in south Cheyenne Canyon, and another 50 were caught in the North Canyon. Bulldozers made emergency repairs to roads so the tourists could drive safely back to Colorado Springs towards nightfall.

At twilight, the higher peaks of the front range of mountains were glistening with a heavy mantle of hall. Some of the stones were big as golf balls.

Other heavy rain storms whipped up flash floods in Bear Creek and Turkey Creek Canyons near Denver. The town of Morrison caught a heavy overflow from Mt. Vernon Creek briefly, and was left with eight inches of silt and mud to shovel away.

A road west of Morrison was closed, and a bridge at the south entrance to the Red Rocks amphitheatre near Denver was washed out, creating a traffic jam.

Citrus Crops Called Favorable

WASHINGTON —UP— The agriculture Department Wednesday reported the Aug. 1 condition of citrus fruits as 72 per cent of normal for oranges and tangerines, 60 per cent for grapefruit, and 80 per cent for lemons.

Prospects for the 1955-56 citrus crops are "fairly favorable." Growing conditions during July were favorable in all areas.

Florida areas received ample rainfall during July and groves are in good condition. Texas citrus received some rain during July and there is still plenty of water for irrigation. Arizona prospects are only fair.

California prospects for citrus from the 1955 bloom are generally favorable although July weather was cooler than usual.

The department said movement of the 1954-55 Valencia orange crop continues in volume. This crop was about one-half harvested by Aug. 1. The lemon harvest also continues with about four-fifths of the crop moved by about Aug. 1.

Plan Cable To Hawaii

NEW YORK —UP— Plans to construct a submarine cable communication system connecting the U. S. mainland and the Hawaiian Islands were announced Wednesday by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The company said it submitted applications to the government approval and hoped to have the service operating by early 1958. The communications system will be similar to the twin-cable system to be laid in 1956 between Ketchikan, Alaska, and Port Angeles, Wash., and to the Transatlantic twin-cable system now being laid.

Present telephone service between Hawaii and the mainland is by means of radio circuits. The AT&T said the radio spectrum was becoming crowded and increased use of that medium was necessarily limited.

"The Fearful Monster" pulls into Memphis, Tenn., carrying "Rubba dub dub, three men in a tub." That's the name given themselves by Sam Gray, 23; Fred Hallberg, 19; and David Rutford, 24. The threesome left their homes in St. Paul, Minn., for a journey to New Orleans on the crude raft, which carries an old car for land travel.

Pilot Bails Out

LINDSAY, Okla. — UP — First Lt. Ralph C. Rich of Parrin Air Force Base, Tex., bailed out of his one-seat F-56D jet interceptor Monday shortly before the airplane crashed five miles southwest of Lindsay, Rich, whose home is in California, was not believed injured although he was taken to a hospital for observation.

Safe is Stolen

HOUSTON — UP — Burglars broke into the palatial home of Ethmore A. Ross, president of the Jax Beer Co., Houston, and carried off a safe holding $1,500 in cash. The Rosses discovered the burglary Tuesday when he returned from the family's summer home near Baytown.

Ike Picks FTC Man

WASHINGTON — UP — The White House said Wednesday President Eisenhower will appoint former Gov. Sigurd Anderson of South Dakota as a member of the Federal Trade Commission.

Anderson will succeed Edward F. Howrey, who has resigned to return to private law practice.

Howrey served as commission chairman, but Anderson will not succeed to that post.

The White House said John W. Gwynne, a present member of the commission, will be designated chairman.

Anderson, 51, was South Dakota governor from 1951 to 1954. Previously, he was state's attorney of Day county, S.D., and state assistant attorney general and later attorney general.

He was born in Norway and became a U.S. citizen in 1912 at the age of eight when his father was naturalized.

Howrey will remain on the commission as chairman until Anderson is appointed and sworn in, probably within a few days.

Midland Minnie To Go On Show

The "Midland Man Skull" that turned out to be a woman, and is now called "Midland Minnie", discovered by Keith Glasscock, amateur archeologist, is slated to go on display this week at the Palace of the Governors in Santa Fe.

The oldest discovered human skull, dating back about 18,000 years, will go on semi-permanent display in the museum, on a ten-year loan.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Glasscock and sons, Pat and Alan, 411 Yeager, returned last week from vacation in Santa Fe and northern New Mexico. While surface hunting for Indian artifacts, they uncovered some ancient animal bones from which radio-carbon tests are being run to determine their age.

Van Jumps Road As Brakes Fail

SALT LAKE CITY — UP — A huge cross-country moving van, its brakes on fire, raced down a highway east of here Wednesday at speeds estimated up to 100 miles an hour and catapulted into Mountain Dell Reservoir, apparently killing the driver.

The Lyons Van Line truck-trailer full of furniture was reported driven by Dominic Cirruso of Chicago.

It was en route from Chicago to San Francisco. Sheriff's deputies said another man may also have been trapped in the cab of the truck.

The highway patrol said the truck was unable to make a curve above the reservoir, turned over on its side and skidded 107 feet before smashing a guard rail and catapulting into the 100-foot deep water. Officers said it did not even touch brush on the bank in its fall. Investigators estimated it must have been traveling at least 100 miles per hour.

ENCOURAGING

An accident like this one in Los Angeles, California, could raise anyone's blood pressure, which is why the sign on a nearby beach is so appropriate. "For Peace of Mind, Have Cheerfulness," it reads. And cheerfulness is just what 63-year-old Mrs. Angela Tanny needed after driving her car up this telephone guy wire. She accidentally touched the gas pedal instead of the break while making a turn.

Police Hold Newsmen

HONG KONG — UP — Hong Kong police detained a United Press reporter and a Movietone News cameraman for an hour Wednesday and required them to give statements and the cameraman to expose and destroy his film before their release.

Newsmen William M. Maio and cameraman Marvin Farkas were taken into custody by police while interviewing and making a film of American businessman Arnold Kiehn, who was being detained in a Hong Kong hospital pending his deportation from this British crown colony.

The two were taken to a police station where a police officer took their statements and Farkas was required to expose the film he had made of Kiehn.

Miao and Farkas were told by police that they should not have taken a film of any person under police custody. The newsmen emphasized they were merely carrying out their duties as members of a free press.

U.S. To Protect Red Inspectors

WASHINGTON — UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Wednesday that the United States has told the Republic of Korea it will protect Communist members of the neutral nations inspection team in South Korea.

He said South Korea should not use force to oust the Communist Polish and Czech members of the inspection team from Korea. However, he said the United States sympathizes with South Korea's dislike of the Communist members.

As for the troublesome problem of reunification of Korea and other divided nations, Dulles said that to do so by war could only lead to the horrors of atomic and hydrogen devastation.

THIS IS A WHIZ

Looking somewhat like the Kon-Tiki on rails, this rocket sled is believed to be the fastest land vehicle on earth. The unmanned supersonic sled, built by Radioplane Co. of Van Nuys, Calif., has streaked 1100 m.p.h. at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. That's 60 m.p.h. faster than the previous land speed record.

The Record Shop: Putting titles on jazz instrumentals is always a big challenge. Some composers pick the first thing that comes into their head, some try to tag the number with a name based on the "feeling" it inspires, some look out the window and read a name or a passing pushcart.

Now comes George Shearing, the brilliant pianist-composer, who's just finished a series of new jazz originals. He's solved the problem simply: he'll call his works after exotic-sounding foreign places. And so there's a number called "Lolobrigida," there's a "Yamaguchi" and a "Pampamini." Can't you hear those jazz cats now? "Man, that Lolobrigida—moves!"

Frankie Laine gets hunches. He got a hunch that something bad was going to happen, and four days later his long-time friend and accompanist, Carl Fisher, died. He also gets happy hunches, and he started off 1955 with the definite feeling that it was going to be a good year. It has been.

"Everything's broken wonderfully for me so far this year," Frankie says. Latest to happen to the dynamic Columbia records star is his new TV show. He's pinch-hitting for CBS-TV's Arthur Godfrey on Wednesday nights for eight weeks, on a program he'll call "Frankie Laine Time."

"It came out of the clear and blue," Frankie says. "Just one more good thing for '55."

Other good things — successful motion pictures, his first fling at a major golfing Calcutta pool netted him $80,000 and he discovered a song which he thinks will be sensational.

"You know what I've always thought of 'Jezebel'?" Frankie said. In case you don't know, Frankie Laine thinks his big hit song, "Jezebel," which he discovered, is a terrific number. "Well, it's called 'Hell Hat No Fury Like a Woman Scorned,' and it's in a picture I made. I don't know when the record will be released, but I know this — I sang better on that record than anything I've done."

Which is saying something. Laine always gives a good effort on records, and you might be interested in his secret weapon. It's a simple

Wheat Estimate Is Increasing

WASHINGTON — UP — The Agriculture Department Wednesday estimated the 1955 wheat crop at 910,958,000 bushels compared with last month's forecast of 860,331,000 bushels.

The Crop Reporting Board said Aug. 1 conditions indicate a 27-928,000 bushel crop for Oklahoma; 14,212,000 bushels for Texas, and 132,864,000 bushels for Kansas.

The corn crop was estimated at 3,477,711,000 bushels, the second largest in history. That compares with the July forecast of 3,449,667,000 bushels, production last

Dulles Says Reds Should Free Civilians

WASHINGTON — UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Wednesday diplomatically nudged Red China to free U.S. civilians still held behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Dulles also told a news conference it has not yet been decided what action to take on torture charges made against Red China by 11 recently-freed U.S. airmen.

The secretary said it is unfortunate that Red China, during negotiation at Geneva, had not made it possible for the American civilians to come home quickly. He pointed out that Red Chinese Premier-Chou En-Lai had said the number of Americans in Red China is quite small and their future should be settled quickly.

Unhappily, Dulles said, that statement has not been realized.

As for the torture charges made by the 11 Air Force men who are on their way home after 2 1/2 years in Red jails, Dulles recalled that the British, after the Korean War, had published a white paper dealing with prisoner treatment.

The secretary said that this was a very sober and disturbing document and the United States may do something comparable to that. But he said it would be better to decide what to do after the airmen return.

Paula Kelly Tells About Life With The 'Modernaires'

(Editor's Note — Aline Mosby is on vacation. Paula Kelly of the "Modernaires" singing group on TV writes about what it's like to work with four men.

By PAULA KELLY

HOLLYWOOD — UP — I have never been accused of bigamy, but I can almost truthfully say I have four husbands. Before the mighty minions of the law fasten on their revolvers and pick me up at the Bob Crosby television show, give me a chance to explain!

I married to the Modernaires. I am married to one of them. But the five of us have been associated for so long, Allen Copeland, Francis Scott, John Drake and my own Hal Dickinson, that each of the boys sort of considers me his wife. They're all legally married, too, let me add.

The five of us have been together since the days of the Glenn Miller band. At that time, none of us was married. We worked together several hours a day, travelled together, lunched and dined together. It was only natural that the boys would come to me with their problems, and I to them.

Allen would consult with me about a song he was writing. Frank would discuss a new arrangement he was working up for us. John would ask my opinion about a new suit or tie he had on. And Hal, of course, had first call on my time all the time.

I'll never forget the night in Cincinnati, one of the boys asked if I'd have a sandwich with him after the show. He wanted to talk to me privately, he said.

"Paula," he began nervously,

Mom Forgives, Wills Money To Children

TULSA — UP — A wealthy mother's last will Wednesday indicated she forgave her son and daughter for having her declared mentally incompetent. She ordered them reimbursed for all legal expenses.

The will of the late Mrs. Minnie E. Splane, widow of a Pennsylvania oilman, was admitted to probate in Tulsa county court.

Howard Scott Splane of Tulsa and Mrs. Myra Splane Galbraith of Oil City, Pa., 15 years ago obtained a court order in California placing their mother under a guardian, charging "designing persons" influenced her to spend $500,000.

The will specifically asked that the son and daughter be compensated for all expenses. She tried to divide her estate equally among all children and grandchildren.

"If I were leaving my love to them I would divide it equally," she said in the will dated March 3, 1944. "I specifically revoke a will made in San Francisco in 1940," it said, prepared by lawyers "procured by Flora Carter Schultz, a woman I then considered my best friend but who was misrepresenting to me the attitudes, motives and intentions of my children."

Gold Story Nets Job In Movies

HOLLYWOOD — UP — A motion picture studio making a movie based on the escapades of Pancho Villa said Wednesday it will try to hire for promotion purposes a Mexican spinster who claimed she knows the hiding place of $1.5 million in gold hidden by the revolutionary general.

A spokesman for RKO Pictures, however, denied that it had anything to do with the claims last Friday by Dolores Vasquez, 76, of Brawley, Calif., that Villa had buried the gold in five locations in Texas.

"If we'd had anything to do with it, the timing would have been much better," the spokesman said. "Our picture, 'Treasure of Pancho Villa,' isn't even completed and won't be released until September. If we had set such a ting up, it would not have broken until September."

The studio announced it planned to send a representative Thursday to Brawley to see Miss Vasquez in an effort to arrange for her to come to Hollywood. She would be hired to help exploit the picture, the studio said.

Trailer Jerks Loose, Kills Mexican

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. —UP— One bracero was killed and 24 others were injured Wednesday when the trailer in which the Mexican farm workers were riding jerked loose from the truck pulling it and smashed into a ditch. State Highway Patrolman D. K. Stevens said the truck was going south on U.S. 77 when the accident occurred at 6:30 a.m. eight miles south of Raymondville. Stevens identified the dead Mexican contract worker as Isidro Landeros Diaz. His home town could not be learned immediately. The highway patrolman said the truck was driven by Arnulfo Sanchez Garcia, 29, another bracero employed by the Red Fish cotton gin at Raymondville. The braceros in the trailer were cotton pickers working under contract from the gin and were on

Texas U. Seeks Old Newspapers

AUSTIN —UP— The University of Texas is seeking old newspapers — ancient ones, not last week's — as an aid to scholars' studying local history. Dr. H. Bailey Carroll of the university's history faculty and a director of the Texas State Historical Association said the school's newspaper collection is the largest in the state. "But it could be tremendously increased in value," he said. Carroll urged that Texans harboring yellowed newspapers in their attics send them on to be properly preserved by the Texas State Historical Association, University of Texas, Austin 12. The newspaper collection is a unit of the university library.

Dead Woman May Be Wife Of Ex-Governor

PONCA CITY, Okla. —UP— A State Crime Bureau Agent Thursday continued a check to determine whether an unidentified woman's body found in Oregon was Mrs. Lydie Marland, widow of wealthy former Gov. E. W. Marland. However, Agent Sid Wilson Sr. said a Ponca City dentist, Dr. Claude Northcutt, told him Mrs. Marland did not have a dental plate similar to one found on the Oregon body. "We are going to continue checking the lead," Wilson said. "but I told Portland police I did not think the body was that of Mrs. Marland." Mrs. Marland, 56, disappeared in March, 1953. A body matching her description was found in the Willamette River near Portland in July, 1953. In Oklahoma City, Crime Bureau Chief O. K. Bivins said he was trying to locate Mrs. Marland's dentist in Philadelphia "just to be sure." He said he had no other leads now except the partial plate and a wrist watch.

How A 'Runaway' Atomic Runs Away Is Very Simple

Editor's Note: A dread new word has entered the language of the atomic age — "Runaway." Here a British physicist whose job is applying atomic power for peace explains the threat.

By DR. J. M. A. LENIHAN
Written for United Press

GENEVA —UP— What is a "runaway" and what makes it run?

The answer is terrifyingly simple. A runaway is an atomic furnace of peacetime trying to act like its parent of wartime, the A bomb.

The perils of the runaway are, in some ways, at least, the perils of the bomb.

Teams of scientists from the United States, Britain and Russia reported on the possibility of runaways at the atoms-for-peace conference Wednesday. Here are the conclusions of the theoretical and experimental data they presented:

To understand how a pile can blow up you must remember that a reactor is just an atomic bomb in slow motion.

Nervous by Nature

This is not a natural state because the fusion reaction that keeps a furnace going is nervous by nature. The activity of a pile must always be rising or falling.

If it falls too low the pile shuts down. If it rises too high the pile blows up.

"The explosive reaction is restrained in the normal way by control rods and other safety devices but these, like any other machine, can go wrong and it is therefore possible for a pile to go out of control. Dr. Edward Teller, who contributed much to America's H-bomb development, put the need for guarding against this "going wrong in these words:

"With all the inherent safeguards that can be put into a reactor, there is still no fool-proof system. Any system can be defeated by a great enough fool. The real danger occurs when a false sense of security causes a relaxation of caution."

One Way to Learn

What happens when a pile runs away?

It can be predicted theoretically up to a point but practically

Historian Doubts Villa Buried Gold

MEXICO CITY —UP— Mexico's leading authority on Pancho Villa said Thursday Villa's gold may be hidden in Texas but he "wouldn't spend a cent looking for it."

Rafael Munoz, author and former foreign ministry press secretary, termed "fantastic" the story of Dolores Vasquez of Brawley, Calif., that Villa buried $1.5 million worth of gold coins in Texas graveyards.

Munoz, who has written two books on the famous revolutionary, said Villa was a "free spender, not type to bury money."

He said the only time Villa ever got his hands on any large amount of gold was when he "hit the jackpot" in a Chihuahua bank.

The bandit drilled a hole in an iron column inside the bank and nearly a quarter of a million dollars in gold coins spilled out of the hiding place like a slot machine payoff. The coins were spent to buy supplies in United States. "The only things Villa ever buried were caches of arms and ammunition throughout Chihuahua state," Munoz said. "That was how he was able to outsmart Mexican authorities who, for six years, always thought they had him at the point of exhausting his supplies."

Funeral Set For Youth Killed In Crash

PANHANDLE — (Special) — Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. today in the Poston Funeral Chapel for William Carroll (Bill) Jay, 18-year-old Panhandle High School student. Dr. Charles Wesley Garrett, pastor of Panhandle Methodist Church, officiated.

The youth was fatally injured in a two-truck collision near here late Tuesday.

Jay died in a local hospital in Pampa, about two hours after the accident occurred on a county dirt road five and one-half miles southeast of here.

In serious condition at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo is Jackie DeSpain, 18, of Panhandle. He suffered a fractured neck vertebra and a fracture of the shoulder blade in addition to second and third degree burns and numerous lacerations. His condition is reported as good, however, by attending physicians.

Carson County Deputy Sheriff Grady Stapp, who investigated the accident, said a truck driven by Jay and a pickup truck driven by DeSpain collided in a cloud of dust on the countyroad.

The pickup caught fire and burned, but neither vehicle overturned.

Jay had been a resident of Carson County since 1947, and had lived in Panhandle for the past year and a half. The body is at Poston Funeral home here.

WHILE ON VACATION, I picked up some very good recipes. One is for German potato salad and the other is for green beans au gratin. These two I'll pass on to you today. I have another one for candied sweet potatoes and one from my aunt for a delicious shortcake which I'll spring on you later.

THE GERMAN POTATO salad, generally served hot, is really delicious. You chop onion and bacon very fine and brown in a skillet until the onions are transparent. Meanwhile, boil your potatoes and cut up as for conventional potato salad. After the onions and bacon are done, add water, about 1 Tsp. flour, clear vinegar and sugar, to taste. Some people like more vinegar and some less. And some like it sweeter than others. So, you just have to add a little of each until it tastes right to you.

After pouring cheese sauce over each layer of beans, spread bits of white bread soaked in 1-3 to 1/4 cup melted butter over the top. Bake at 300 degrees for 40 minutes, or until bread topping is a golden brown.

HOW VEGETABLES can be used to create atmosphere for the meal is described in a recent issue of Institutions magazine of Massachusetts and Mass-housing. Tips offered for better vegetable preparation include:

Cut vegetables to uniform sizes for uniform cooking. Replace the natural sugar cooked out of vegetables to restore natural flavor. Season with one ounce of butter for each pound of vegetables. Scoring stalks of broccoli and asparagus insures even cooking.

Have salted water boiling before adding vegetables so that they will be exposed to heat, acid and alkali for the shortest time. Free-running types of frozen vegetables such as peas and beans do not need to be thawed for cooking. However, such as broccoli should be separated into stalks and spinach should be cut into cubes.

Standards for properly cooked vegetables:

Appearance: Color as close to natural as possible, retaining of shape, uniform pieces if cut.

Texture: Tender, yet having some of the crispness of the raw vegetable.

Flavor: Natural flavor developed, well seasoned, avoid development of off flavors.

Nutrition: Lose as little nutrient value as possible.

Service: If to be served hot, do not allow to cool.

Impish Tiny Tim Hovey Is The Latest Hollywood 'Find'

By HARMAN W. NICHLS

WASHINGTON —UP— Tiny Tim Hovey, the latest Hollywood "find" in the young actor field, has what my kid would like on one hand but wouldn't stand for on the other. The nine-year-old blond with the coy blue eyes makes himself $600 a week. But from his mom and pop, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hovey, he gets 50 cents a week spending money. And there is a string attached to the latter.

"Every time Tim is bad there is a demerit," his mom, Anita Hovey, said, "and that is most of the time. Right now he owes me $5 for the last 10 days. He runs around broke most of the time."

Tim is very small for his years. He stretches only three feet, 10 inches, and weighs only 60 pounds. While his mother was talking about his expense account, he was busy lousing up a press luncheon and going deeper in debt.

Somebody had given him a dart game. Darts with rubber discs. He couldn't resist taking pot shots at reporters and his mom couldn't resist taking things down.

Perhaps it is understandable that a child in his position should become a little spoiled. Tim is all boy, and a likeable one, too. Universal-International Pictures has billed him as another Jackie Coogan. That may be. At any rate, little Tim is under contract and already has appeared in a picture called "The Private War of Major Benson." Tim was supposed to be the imp in the film, and I guess he was.

But during the hour and a half I spent with him he was both imp and actor. First he wanted to take the bucket of fruit from the waiter and place it on the table. The waiter wasn't willing, but what can a white-coat do in front of young rank?

Tim did a pretty fine job of spilling pears, bananas and oranges and other things the reporters didn't cotton to anyhow. He even offered to peel a grape or two. He wanted to show me his new tank. It was, he said, a replica of a real big one. He would one day, he added, grow up to drive one. His mother said he would not. And Tim said he would, too. And there went another nickel off the allowance.

"I would like to tell you something about myself," he said to me. "I have in me half German, half English, half Irish, some Scotch and the most part American. Add that up. And what is your nickname?"

"Owhead."

"Okay, Uncle Owhead," said the sprout.

About that time along came Melner Streets, a pro in the picture-taking business, who works for the Washington Daily News.

Tim, who doesn't even own a Brownie, took over. Wrong lights. Wrong angle. He finally stopped Streets with: "How much do you make a week?"

Streets already had heard what kid actors make, so he held his tongue.

The photoman left. "Know what, Uncle Owhead?" the upstart said. "That picture

Daring Airman Gets Medal

DAYTON, Ohio —UP— An Air Force sergeant, held dangling by his feet to repair a plane flying over Alaska, Wednesday received the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Brig. Gen. V. R. Haughen, director of the Wright Air Force Development Center here, said that M.Sgt. Floyd O. James' daring prevented the crash of the plane.

Shortly after the plane left the Ladd Air Force Base at Fairbanks, man's nickname is 'Puddin.' I worked it out of him." I checked and so it is.

Alaska, Feb. 8, 1955, the landing gear of the C-124 cargo plane stuck, creating the possibility of a crash landing.

James volunteered to insert a pin in the landing gear. He was held by his feet, head down, below the plane for 15 minutes while he repaired the damage. The plane's altitude was about 4,000 feet and the temperature was below freezing. The plane traveled at about 135 miles per hour. James was held by an airman, whose position in the plane was such that he had to be held by another crew member.

Fortin's Two-Run Single In 10th Wins For Oilers

LUBBOCK, Aug. 11—Joe Fortin's fourth hit of the night drove in two runs in top of the 10th inning here Wednesday night to give the Pampa Oilers a 10-8 victory over the Lubbock Hubbers in the first of a three-game series.

The game had been tied up at 8-8 since the sixth inning when the Oilers rallied for three runs to draw abreast of the homestanding Hubbers. In the 10th, winning pitcher Buddy Woods led off with a single through the middle. Woods was erased a moment later at second when Rach Sluder attempted to sacrifice but bunted the ball a little too hard that allowed first baseman Bobby Fernandez to make the play on Woods at second.

But Dob Graves and Curtis Hardaway followed with singles to load the bases and Fortin came through with a line single to right field that scored Sluder and Graves for the winning margin.

The Hubbs could only muster a mild threat in their portion of the 10th. With one away, Red McQuillen singled to left but Woods, who came on the relief of starter Tommy Harrison in the fourth, got Pat Lorenzo on a strikeout and Tom Kordas on a fly ball to end the threat and the ball game.

It was Woods' ninth win against the like number of losses.

The Oilers opened up with four runs in the first inning and were leading 5-2 in the third when the Hubbs drove Harrison to cover. The Hubbs went ahead 6-4 with four in the third and then made it 8-5 with two more in the fourth.

Woods took over in the fourth and blanked the Hubbs on five hits rest of the way.

Paul Halter slammed his 27th homer for the Oilers in the third.

AUSTIN HIGH OF EL PASO, the opening foe for the Fighting Harvesters this fall, is being given a good chance to repeat as the District 2-AAAA champion for the 1955 campaign.

Larry Johnson, sports scribe for the El Paso Times, picks Austin to win the 2-AAAA crown.

Johnson, Press Box presumes, is up to "snuff" on the El Paso teams since he covers schoolboy sports in the border city for the EP Times.

Johnson says the 2-AAAA race will be a two-team battle between Austin and El Paso High but says Austin will win out.

In his column, "Sports Log," Monday, Johnson writes: "Both Austin and El Paso figure to be pretty good defensive teams and their lines are about equal in size, experience and speed."

"However, Austin has two backs — Ray Quillin and Willie Vasquez — who can outrun all other grid-ders in the district and will have a third speedster operating if Terry Thomas makes the grade at quarterback."

"In addition to being swift on offense, the Panther trio is adept at giving chase to the opposition. Their speed is the big difference."

Pug Gabriel, former Odessa and Texas Western grid star, is the new Austin High head coach, succeeding Charles (Red) Harris who brought the Panthers here last season.

In his brief run-down of the football prospects at Austin High, Johnson adds:

"Chief difficulty staring Pug Gabriel, former Odessa and Texas Western grid star, is the new Austin High head coach, succeeding Charles (Red) Harris who brought the Panthers here last season.

G-Sox Pull Into Tie For 1st In WT-NM

By UNITED PRESS

Amarillo crushed El Paso 11 to 7 Wednesday night to move into a tie for the West Texas-New Mexico League lead with Albuquerque.

The Dukes dropped a 6 to 3 contest to Clovis to allow the Gold Sox to pull into the tie.

In the other games Abilene defeated Plainview 7 to 5 and Pampa downed Lubbock 10 to 8.

A crowd of 2,600 was on hand to watch Amarillo break up a mound duel between the Gold Sox' Marshall Bridges and the Texans' Jack Sanoff with a four-run rally in the fifth. The game was played under protest after El Paso charged that an illegal ball was used.

Albuquerque was knocked down by a four-hitter by Ruben Phillips. Jim Lewis homered for Clovis.

Abilene beat Plainview with a four-run rally in the seventh and moved within one-half game of fourth place and a playoff berth.

Mike Rainey tossed excellent relief for the Blue Sox to get the victory with the help of a homer and two singles by Bob Maddern.

Joe Fortin's two run single in the top of the 10th inning gave the Pampa Oilers and Buddy Woods the victory over Lubbock.

The clubs continue the series Thursday night with Plainview at Abilene, Albuquerque at Clovis, Pampa at Lubbock and El Paso at Amarillo.

White Escapes Serious Injury

NEW YORK (UP)—The Boston Red Sox received a mighty bad scare when Sammy White was walloped on the left arm by a pitch Wednesday, so they're just limping over with glee now that their "iron man" catcher escaped serious injury.

"We'd be in bad shape if we had to get along without Sammy behind the plate," admits one veteran member of the pennant-hungry Sox.

Getting along without Sammy is something the Red Sox can hardly imagine, because the slender young catcher works just about every game that comes along and never, well practically never, gets hurt. He's missed only five games this season; only 17 all last year; and 18 two years ago.

It looked like Sammy's luck ran out in the second inning of Wednesday's 2-2, 13-inning loss to the New York Yankees when he was struck just above the left elbow by a Don Larsen fast ball.

He was taken to Lenox Hill Hospital for X-rays, but they disclosed that he had suffered only a painful bruise and no fracture.

Count Yogi, A 'Perfect' Golfer, Coming

Count Yogi, "the man who has revolutionized the greatest science of all sports, golf, into the easiest sport" will appear in Pampa next Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Count Yogi has showmanship unexcelled — no matter to what venture he turns. Yogi has the faculty of weaving a spell over an audience that keeps them totally spellbound for one hour and three hours including the additional attraction of playing.

Yogi is being sponsored here by the Pampa Women's Golf Association.

The Great Yogi is an eccentric and controversial figure in our God given sport. He proves that anyone can enjoy the sport immediately and there's no reason to be a crab about it or break clubs all over the course. Yogi is a very colorful figure who debunks the theories of Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Bobby Jones, and on down the line but the man can prove with ease what he preaches. This is the mystifying part about the Yogi. Yogi's irrepressible skill and knowledge force is a challenge to the modern mind as it's never been challenged before. You could disagree with Count Yogi but just let me know how it's possible to disregard him. The guy's out of this world.

The world's greatest athlete is none other than the more than fabulous Count Yogi who has performed his miraculous golf show "Simple Game — Nothing To It" Coast to Coast three times without firing a single bad shot. "Perfect," says Yogi, is impossible — "only God is perfect." You have your opportunity to witness the amazing shots fired so fast that one can hardly believe it even after seeing them at the Country Club on Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Cabot Evens LL Playoff Series

Cabot evens the series in the City Little League championship series yesterday with a come-from-behind 11-7 victory over the Spokesman at Eastern Little League Park.

The third and deciding game of the series will be unrelenting today at the Western League Park, starting at 5:45.

Larry Wilson of the Spokesman and Larry Stroud of Cabot, who opposed each other in the series opener Tuesday, will likely be starting hurlers for the championship game.

Wilson won the first argument between the two, 2-1.

In yesterday's game, Spokesman opened the scoring with two runs in the first with Cabot coming right back to score four and take a 4-2 lead.

But Larry Wilson, playing third base for the Spokesman in yesterday's game, walloped a grand slam homer to climax a 5-run rally by the Spokesman in the second to regain the lead at 7-4.

The score remained that way until Larry Stroud smacked a two run homer in the fourth to make it 7-6. Later in the Cabot fourth the winners tallied another run to tie the count at 7-7.

Cabot then won the game in the bottom of the fifth with a four-run uprising.

NBA Sanctions Title Bout

MANILA (UP)—Anthony Petronella, president of the National Association, said Thursday that the NBA will "sanction" a featherweight title match between world champion Sandy Saddler of New York and Flash Eldore of the Philippines. Eldore scored a unanimous decision over Saddler in a 10-round non-title bout in Manila, July 20.

Tribe Takes Lead On Kiner's Blast

By UNITED PRESS
Al Lopez promised his Cleveland Indians would be back in first place and that's exactly where they were Thursday, all because of Ralph Kiner, who made a few special promises himself.

The 32-year-old Kiner, plagued by a bad back and reduced to part-time status, propelled the Indians into the American League lead by blasting a ninth-inning grand-slam homer that beat the Tigers 6-4 Wednesday night. Kiner's homer was the 365th of his career and it moved the Indians two percentage points ahead of the White Sox, who slipped to second place by bowing to the Athletics 5-4.

"It's high time I did something to help this club," Kiner said just before the game. "My back feels a lot better tonight than it has in some time. If I get a chance to hit some pitcher might feel sorry."

Kiner received his chance in the seventh inning when he came in as a pinch hitter for Gene Woodling with the bases full but Al Aber struck him out. Kiner remained in the game and got another chance with the bases full in the ninth. Aber was still pitching and Kiner kept his promise by slamming the ball over the left field fence for his 14th and most important homer of the year.

The blow gave the ex-National League home run king two distinctions. It gave him a total of 1,001 runs batted in for his career and made him the leader among active players with 13 grand-slam homers.

Hector Lopez' sixth inning homer proved to be the deciding blow in Kansas City's victory over Chicago although the White Sox came within one run of tying the game in the eighth.

Andy Carey's single in the 13th inning gave the Yankees a 3-2 decision over the Red Sox and Don Larsen his third straight triumph since returning from the minors 10 days ago. By winning, the Yanks climbed to within a half game of first place, four percentage points behind the White Sox and six behind the Indians.

The Washington-Baltimore game was postponed because of rain. In the National League, the pace-setting Dodgers hopped on Ramon Montant for five runs on five hits in the first three innings to beat the Giants 5-4 in a game called during the seventh inning because of rain. Cincinnati climbed closer to first place by beating Chicago 7-2 and 6-3, while the Cardinals downed the Braves 7-2 and the Pirates won 3-2 over the Phillies.

Kluszewski, Banks Homer Cincinnati got to within 1-2 games of fifth place by beating Chicago twice, with rookie Don Gross getting credit for the opening game victory and Art Fowler slammed his 37th homer off loser Warren Hacker in the second game while Ernie Banks hit his 38th.

Ralph Kiner of the Indians, whose grand-slam homer in the ninth beat the Tigers 6-4 and boosted Cleveland into first place.

There's Joy In 'Sudsville' After Milwaukee Victory

By FRED PARKER
MILWAUKEE — UP—The tampering of the Shrewd.

Scene: Milwaukee Braves clubhouse.

Time: Ten minutes after Milwaukee victory over St. Louis.

Cast: (In order of appearance): Hero, played by Warren Spahn, Milwaukee lefthanded pitcher. Inquisitor, Dave Jolly, Milwaukee righthanded relief pitcher.

The scene opens in a steaming baseball locker room. Winning pitcher Warren Spahn has just stripped down for a shower. Dave Jolly, similarly attired, approaches carrying clip board and pencil.

Jolly: Want to ask you a few questions for the press.

Spahn: Shoot.

J: What were you throwing?

S: Balls and strikes.

J: Did you have anything on the ball?

S: Tobacco-juice-Spit-Emercy-fist, Nicks and scratches.

J: What did you throw for Mueller's homer?

S: Gopher ball.

J: What were you pitching?

S: You asked that before.

J: I asked what you were throwing.

S: Oh.

J: Answer the question.

S: Don't wanna tell.

J: Tell.

S: The usual junk.

J: What did you have?

S: Blazing speed, untouchable curve, pinpoint control, baffling changeup.

J: How do you spell baffling?

S: B-a-p-h-l-l-i-n-g.

J: No slider?

S: It slid.

J: What happened on Musial?

S: Grooved one.

J: Why?

S: Thought I could fool him. Had a two oh count.

J: Why did he hit it?

S: Smart ball player.

J: How did he hit it?

S: Over the fence.

J: You missed a shutout, number 35.

S: Won the game.

The curtain closes on this happy note, proving perhaps there's more joy in Sudsville with mighty Brooklyn out of town.

Banks 2 Behind Babe's HR Pace

CHICAGO — UP— Shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs might even break Babe Ruth's home run record if he gets a little more prodding from Duke Snider and Ted Kluszewski.

After Kluszewski smashed his 37th homer Wednesday in the fourth inning, Banks followed suit with his 38th in the bottom of the fourth. Last Friday, Snider hit his 37th in the first inning and Banks did the same in the bottom of the first.

Ruth hit his 38th homer in game 115, putting Banks only two games behind Ruth's pace. Banks needs only one more to tie the major league record for home runs hit by a shortstop set by Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox in 1919.

Docs Give Davy A Ray Of Hope

NEW YORK — UP— Doctors gave Davy Williams of the Giants a "ray of hope" Thursday that he may be able to play ball again next season because they said "he definitely does not have a slipped disc condition in his back."

Dr. Harrison McLaughlin, who supervised the examinations at New York Medical Center, recommended a complete rest and further X-ray treatments for the little second baseman.

"Our examination during the past several days confirms the possibility an arthritic condition exists," Dr. McLaughlin said. "However, it can be said definitely there is no slipped disc condition. At the same time he is too uncomfortable to play any more baseball this year."

Williams will undergo more treatments for the next week or 10 days, then return to his home in Dallas to rest.

Step in... and command the most modern truck power on any job!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Seven new "high-voltage" high-compression valve-in-head engines!

Here's hour-saving, dollar-saving power for your job... the biggest choice of engines in Chevrolet truck history! And they're the most modern engines in the industry!

You've got it good under the hood with a new Chevrolet-Task-Force truck! With two new V8's and five new sixes to choose from, you can pick the power that's tailor-made to do your kind of hauling.

Shortest stroke V8's in any leading truck! Both of Chevrolet's new truck V8's have an ultra-short stroke—shortest of any V8 in any leading truck. They're of modern oversquare design, which means that the piston stroke is smaller than the bore. The result is less piston travel per mile... longer engine life. Also, Chevrolet's compact truck V8's deliver exceptionally high horsepower per pound of engine weight. More power is actually available for hauling your loads!

Modern 12-volt electrical system! You get this great development in all new Chevrolet truck engines—both V8's and sixes. The 12-volt electrical system delivers twice the punch for quicker cold-weather starting (up to 30% faster cranking speed). It also provides a hotter, fatter spark for better ignition.

Come in and command the most modern truck power for your job!

Year after year... America's best-selling truck! CHEVROLET

Pattern For Defeat

If a horde of armed men, wearing the uniform of a foreign power descended on these shores the American people would quickly unite in defense of their country. If something in the neighborhood of sixteen million troops were to move into this nation, there would be little difficulty in convincing Americans that the situation was serious. Certainly, a crisis would be at hand.

These foreign soldiers would, of course, move in on America's industrial might as target number one. There would be little point in directing their military coups against the harmless citizens. Instead, every conceivable tactic would be employed to take over our mills, our factories, our mines and our transportation and communication systems. One can imagine the bitterness with which we would oppose step by step, inch by inch, such violent, murderous aggression.

There is fair reason to suppose that should such an event occur, and the attacking forces carry the day, Americans would never stop fighting to regain that which was rightfully theirs. There would be clandestine meetings, underground movements. And every effort would be made to overthrow the foreign tyrant.

The reason there would be staunch opposition to such brigandage is that there would be no question in the mind of any American as to the nature of the enemy he faced.

Unfortunately, while what we have sketched above is highly imaginative and improbable as we have outlined it, the fact is that a military army sixteen million strong has invaded these shores, and is in the process of taking over our industry, our entire free enterprise system, but we Americans don't seem to know it is going on.

This army is composed of union members. The leaders of this military machine of the cold war are dedicated to seizing and exploiting all capital and equipment. Indeed, they propose to destroy the American way of life, which is based on individual rights and duties, and to supplant it by a foreign way of life in which all individuals are dependent upon the state. For some years this war has been going on. And gradually, the targets of the un-American ideologists have been attained. At first there was wide opposition to the IWW, the Bolsheviks and their fellow travelers. But as time passed, we learned to live with unionism because its aggressive designs were masked in a program of GRADUAL infiltration.

Now the pattern of union dominance is clearly seen. And only in a few isolated places, such as the Kohler works in Wisconsin, do men of staunch Americanism fight to the last ditch to oppose the creeping ruin imposed by the union oligarchy.

The reason there would be staunch opposition to the tyranny of union bossism with scarcely a whimper over what was happening. Ford, General Motors and Big Steel have bowed to union coercion. And still the American people sleep.

Walter Reuther, cleansed by public confession of his intellectual affiliation with Moscow, has still never seen fit to reject socialism as the new Sovietized way of life in America. He is now gearing himself to enter the American political scene, either as a contender in person for the throne, or with his hand-picked stooge to become the puppet ruler.

The seriousness of our situation is seen, not so much in the apathy of the great masses of Americans who do not belong to unions but who do little if anything to oppose them. Our danger comes instead from the businessmen and industrialists who are certainly smart enough to know what is happening, but have decided to let the unions get away with anything they want, so long as the same gradual approach is used.

Certainly, any entrepreneur capable of running General Motors or Bethlehem Steel is able to read, the handwriting on the wall. Every year the labor bosses make a new demand. Every year, the management of these big industries gives a little more to these racketeers, whose contribution to the traditionally American way of life is less than nil. Since this has happened annually since the days of FDR, it is only logical to assume that it will continue to happen every year into the dim and distant future.

With each gain in the power of the union the cost of living for all of us goes up. What actually happens is that our dollar is watered down so that it will not purchase what it should. Good will become more and more scarce. Ultimately fewer and fewer people will work. But the end is seen in the objectives revealed at the beginning. This is a foreign invasion. The aim of the unionists is to change the American way of life by converting it into a socialist economy, totally dependent upon the force of government. It is that industry itself shall be progressively weakened until ultimately the government shall take it over. Then, with unions dominating our political scene we shall be vassals just as surely as the German people became serfs under Hitler through precisely the same process.

We don't have to succumb to this fabled attack. But unless something is done drastically by the businessmen themselves to off-set the union blitzkrieg, then we will succumb.

This is the age of trial for freedom of enterprise. Businessmen must take a long-range view and do their best to preserve the American way of freedom for the individual, even though it means struggle against union violence and pressure.

If this is not done, then it is merely a question of time before ultimate and final surrender.

BETTER JOBS

How Can We Survive?

When I received a new book entitled "How Can Europe Survive?" by Hans F. Sennholz, I laid it aside and did not read it. I was not so much interested in how Europe could survive as I was in how the United States could survive. Then I received a letter from Rose Wilder Lane telling me what a wonderful book it was and suggesting that we buy the right to run it serially. She explained that it was really a philosophy of free enterprise and that, of course, made me interested in the book.

The book is published by D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc. in New York. The price is $4.00. The publisher gave me permission to quote certain parts of the book. The book gives a summary of the different schemes proposed in recent years to promote a New World and a planned economy. It outlines Clarence K. Streit's Federal Union of Democracies. It goes into the European Parliamentary Union, the Socialist Movement for the United States of Europe, the European Federalist Union, the United Europe Movement and the coordination of the Movements for a United Europe. It also goes into the French ideas of a European Union and the various other schemes of having a one world planned economy. It shows the errors of all these plans.

Here is a paragraph that shows the philosophy of the book: "There is no other logical explanation conceivable for poverty and chaos, but that man's ideas governing his actions have brought them about. Indeed, if we look at countries with the poorest living conditions, we will perceive that their ideologies and principles of life are most hostile to individual freedom and to capital accumulation and production."

The above is certainly verified by a careful reading of history. Under the chapter "On Peace and Present-day Ideologies" Mr. Sennholz observes:

"There is only one reason for an unsatisfactory operation of the market economy: it is government intervention. A market economy that is crippled and mutilated, modified and hampered by a host of government regulators and planners can no longer operate as smoothly as a free market economy. Government interference is intended to have certain effects and, indeed, always has. But as far as its actual effects are concerned, whether intended or unforeseen and undesirable, the market economy must be acquitted from all responsibility. It is man's principles of justice and fairness forbid us to condemn someone for a crime which he has not committed. And justice and fairness also forbid us to condemn the market economy for undesirable conditions which someone else brought about. How, for example, can the market economy be declared responsible for inflation and its concomitant effects? It is the government that regulates the money supply. How can we blame a butcher or baker for a crime, in this case inflation and its effects upon prices, which the Secretary of the Treasury and the governors of the Reserve Banks committed? How can we possibly blame the market economy for periods of depression and unemployment if our economic planners and regulators conduct policies resulting in depression and unemployment? But this is precisely what our progressive economists are trying to do. They blame the market economy for the interwar period with all its deficiencies, its wounds and mutilations, which, in fact, the planners themselves inflicted upon it."

The Nature Of Business Cycles

Under the above heading the author explains why we have business cycles, in this manner: "Socialist or welfare planning means chaos internally as well as internationally. An economic crisis is inevitable as soon as a government or pressure group empowered by government interferes with the smooth operation of the market economy in order to realize ambitious schemes of progressive planning. On the other hand, there are full employment and prosperity when business is allowed to operate profitably. When profits are improving, business expands. When profits decline or when a decline is anticipated because of unfavorable political, monetary, labor, marketing and other conditions, business contracts. Profits, according to business terminology, are the excess of gross income over costs of which labor costs are overwhelmingly important. It is obvious that business must decline when labor costs are forcibly increased either by government or labor unions in utter disregard of profits. Also, the government policy of inflation and credit expansion always results in a cycle of boom and depression. In the beginning everything looks fine. Prices rise and profits increase because of the rise in prices and the low business costs. Business begins to expand. The demand for the several factors of production — land, capital, and labor — increases. We have full employment, even labor shortages. The increased demand for the production factors naturally raises their prices, which are business costs. Costs are climbing. They climb until they reach the point where business is no longer profitable. At this point the downfall begins. We enter a period of recession and readjustment. It lasts until the costs have come down and business becomes profitable again."

"The only inference to be drawn from this knowledge is that government should refrain from inter-

Billions In Water Power Lost By Political Delay

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — More than $5 billion worth of water power urgently needed for national defense and industrial expansion has gone to waste because of Congressional dillydallying over this problem, although President Eisenhower and his two predecessors must share part of the responsibility. It is estimated that the over-all loss from these politically stalemated projects amounts to $1 billion annually, and it can never be reclaimed.

The major responsibility falls upon extremists on both sides of the 20-year-old controversy over public or private development of these vast untapped resources. Willfully and deliberately, according to the record, "they have preferred to preserve a political issue for future campaigns rather than solve a great national problem. The quarrel over the Dixon-Yates TVA-AEC contract has given the most dramatic illustration of this economic absurdity. But the loss involved in this two-year-old controversy is only peanuts by comparison with the wastefulness on several other more important but delayed developments."

The treaty with Canada for joint development of hydroelectricity at Niagara Falls, for instance, was signed in 1950. Canada immediately began construction of facilities that will soon generate $60,000,000 worth of power annually, plus the share allocated to the United States when we are ready to use it. Engineers estimate that our loss on this single undertaking is $80,000,000 a year, which means a waste of many millions already. Even if we could begin to build now, there would be five more years before completion, or a total loss of $300,000,000.

Now does this figure include revenue that would have accrued from establishment of new industries, workers' pay envelopes, taxes and all the other economic benefits based on a new and vast utility system.

The pattern of politico-economic tilting at partisan windmills with respect to Niagara Falls conforms to that in all the other water-power disputes. They involve needless delay in construction of dams and generating facilities at TVA in Tennessee, Hell's Canyon in Idaho, the John Day Dam in Washington, and the Fryyngan and Upper Colorado Basin developments in Colorado. There are also many other smaller works.

The Congressional heirs of the Roosevelt-Truman-Ickes faction demand that Uncle Sam build, own and operate these proposed projects along the lines of TVA. Advocates of private enterprise insist that they be financed and developed by the utility companies. Their forces are so equally matched on Capitol Hill that all rivalfering with the operation of the market economy and refrain from policies of inflation and credit expansion. Booms and busts do not lie in the nature of human economy. They are imposed upon us by "omniscient" government economists and public officials who like to do the planning for the citizens.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

There will be some victims of poliomyelitis this year. This even if the polio vaccine were completely effective in preventing polio, which no one claims to be the case.

There will be many susceptible individuals who will not be vaccinated simply because "there will not be enough vaccine to go around."

WHAT THEN should our attitude be toward polio? There is, perhaps, no disease, with the possible exception of cancer, which produces as much fear as polio. While I can understand the mental anguish and panicky feeling of parents who have a child stricken with this disease (I have been one myself), this emotional approach can do no good and is hardly justified by the facts.

For one thing, polio is not truly a common disease, and the chances of avoiding it are much better than those of getting it. Furthermore, of those who do get polio, even in paralytic form, the chances of surviving without crippling are generally good.

Also, many others apparently harbor the virus responsible for polio without developing any paralytic symptoms. In this way they develop an immunity or resistance.

OF THOSE WHO can be diagnosed as having paralytic polio, only about half suffer any paralytic lasting much beyond the acute stage of the illness. And in many of these, modern methods of after care lead to such effective restoration of function that the effects are not too serious.

These remarks are not made with the purpose of minimizing the importance of the disease but only to suggest how unwise it is to become hysterical about polio. What parents should do is to be alert and calm at the same time. If there are a number of cases of polio in the community, care is particularly indicated.

International Labor Office Paper Praises Its Leader

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

GENEVA—The beautiful palace of the polygot bureaucracy called the International Labor Office on the shore of Lake Geneva is the political pentagon of a New Deal hicolorum named David A. Morse. His subordinates turn out a monthly paper called the ILO news published in many languages for the enlightenment of 60 "member" nations, including some which are primitive tribes. This enlightenment consists largely of favorable personal publicity about Mr. Morse, a Roosevelt-Truman holdover, whose past jobs included that of general counsel to the labor relations board under the old Wagner Act which he approved.

In a statement of his qualifications, when he strongly endorsed as a fine loyal American fellow who soon went behind the iron curtain into Czechoslovakia with his wife and four children, Morse informed the U. S. Civil Service Commission that he had been director of labor for the Italian military government operations, acting director of the U. S. control group council in England and France, and later "with the council" in Frankfurt and Berlin as a member of Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay's staff.

His tenure in Italy concurred with the period in which the American political administration of that wretched country handed over everything including money printing facilities, public buildings and authority to the Communists. The Italian prime minister during his recent Washington visit reminded us that we thus were responsible for the great difficulty which the Italians had encountered in beating back the Reds. I venture to hope that Mr. Morse recorded objection to that policy of our administrators at that time.

Mr. Morse's services in Germany concurred with the campaign of legalized looting and much plain thievery which duplicated the cart-piling era in the southern states. As a fine exemplar of the moral and political virtues of the Roosevelt-Truman regime he doubtless did all he could to reprove the scoundrels.

He also has been back down the years a member of the solicitor's staff of the U. S. Department of labor, chief counsel of the petroleum labor policy board, special assistant U. S. Attorney General and attorney for the New York region of the labor relations board when Mrs. Eleanor Herrick was regional authority. During that time that regional bureaucracy threatened to prosecute on criminal charges a man who made copies of an essay, mine exposing certain information, not at all laudatory about a union which was trying to muscle into his business. The "region" took the view that this exercise of his right to communicate knowledge through the mails consisted "in intimidation" under the Wagner Act. I do not know what Mr. Morse's attitude was in that case but if I can learn I will let you know. I have inquired but he was out of town.

Altogether Mr. Morse stacks up as a veteran bureaucrat. His publicity conveys an impression that he must be a very fine man. This publicity is written or edited and published by Ed Allen, a Boston and New York newspaper man who is director of the press department. Mr. Allen has the rank of colonel in the army reserve. He states without particular pride that part of his military service as a captain at 90 Church Street, New York, consisted of ghosting speeches for delivery at exercise attending the presentation of Pentagon "G" awards to war plants. Mr. Allen is checking out of his nice job and pleasant surroundings here to return to Boston. He says he would even rather take a job on the rim or copy desk than continue this work. He did not elaborate and I did not press him. Last Friday he made merry because his daughter in Boston had made him a grandfather for the first time.

I remarked to Mr. Allen that the lavish and consistently complimentary publicity about Morse in his ILO news reminded me of similar personal stuff about Dave Dubinsky, Dan Tobin, Dave Beck and Joe Curran in their controlled union publications. This lavish rubbish is paid for by the subject members of their unions and Morse's praises are financed largely by American taxpayers. We can go to prison for failure to pay our share of the cost of praising him.

Bulganan's Smile Replaces Mona Lisa's In Popularity

By HENRY McLEMORE

Up until a few weeks ago the most celebrated smile in the world was the one Leonardo da Vinci painted on Mona Lisa several centuries ago. Now that honor has shifted to the smile that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin has been wearing for the past couple of weeks.

A minimum of 18,000,000 words have been written about it. One would think that correspondents had heard the Sphinx talk, saw Niagara run backwards, or something equally remarkable. From one end of the Free World to the other statesmen have exulted over Bulganin's smile as if it heralded the dawn of a new day, and that soon the air would be so filled with doves of peace that an open season would have to be declared on them to prevent their becoming a nuisance.

From all the commotion raised, one would think that until Bulganin grinned mankind's face had been locked in a grim vise, and that Bulganin had at last taught the world how to look pleasant. I can't help but wonder what would happen if the man decided to have himself a really good belly-laugh. Judging from the result he got from a smile, it could be that the Western diplomats would vote to disband all armies, scrap the air forces, and convert all warships into summer cruise boats.

Equally as amazing as the clamor raised over Bulganin's smile was the reaction to his invitation to U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen and other diplomats to end a Sunday at his country home in a day of "rest and relaxation."

Word of this went around the world with the speed of light, and in some quarters was joyfully interpreted to mean that Russia planned to release one—even two, maybe—of the thousands and thousands of prisoners of war it has held since 1946; that meat would be served twice a month instead of once in the slave camps; that a political prisoner would be allowed to choose the calibre bullet he liked best before being shot in the head; and that children would be taught that God was more than just a part of a curse word.

Come to think of it, what a lovely place to spend a Sunday — Bulganin's country home. From the moment you entered the grounds and laid your picnic basket inspected by the secret police, until your lovely host bade you join him in his private chapel for Vespers, it would be serene and soothing.

The means of the tormented souls rustling the leaves of the giant trees; a stroll through the art gallery, with its unsurpassed etchings of American patrol planes being shot down; and at sundown a gigantic fireworks display, with American warmongers like Eisenhower burned in effigy. Then, contentedly filled with caviar, smoked sturgeon, and vodka, a ride home past queues of shabby people waiting for bread. If I had to guess at the reason for Bulganin's smile, I'd have to guess that he is smiling at the world's pathetic eagerness for decency and peace. Even the Devil would have to smile if all Heaven accepted his invitation to enjoy his hospitality.

Henry Cabot Lodge favors universal membership in the United Nations, but thinks all of the nations should be "peace loving." But if all nations were "peace loving" why would we need a world organization for peace? And, if you chase all who aren't "peace loving," who's going to do the chasing? Uncle Sam? Mr. Lodge could hardly advise that. It might make Uncle Sam an isolationist. So it looks like Uncle Sam is doomed to stay up to his neck, with the peace wrecking nations.

TAKING IN EUROPEAN SIGHTS — Touring Europe on a motorcycle are ex-GIs Richard McCloy (left) of Chicago and Donald Hildebrands of Holland, Mich. After their discharge from the Army at Wuerzburg, Germany, they began a 6,000-mile tour of the Continent.

SMILES IN DEFEAT — Australia's Rex Hartwig (left) shows Canada's Lorne Main his "championship racquet" at Montreal. Hartwig used the racquet to defeat Main in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, in the opening of the best-of-five series for the North American Zone Davis Cup championships.

RUNS IN THE FAMILY — Even the horse sits up and takes notice when Kitty Smith, "Queen of the Wild West Show" at Oakland, Calif., is around. Kitty was the third sister to be named a beauty queen in a few weeks. Fran Smith was voted "Miss Oakland" and Nancy Smith was chosen "Maid of Alameda County."

BREAKING HIM IN EARLY — Willie Pastrana, 19-year-old fast-rising light heavyweight, holds up a pair of boxing gloves to show to his one-day-old son at the Mt. Sinai Hospital in Miami Beach. A few hours before, Pastrana had defeated Chuck Speiser at Chicago Arena. Willie, Jr., is held by nurse Camille Walterson, a member of the hospital staff.

OLD AND THE NEW — Two Hall of Fame baseball catchers, Mickey Cochrane (left), and Gabby Hartnett (right), smilingly pinch the cheeks of Yankee catcher Yogi Berra in the Yankee Stadium dressing room in New York. The occasion was the eighth annual Old Timers' Day, which took place before the regular scheduled game between the Yanks and Kansas City.

Bulgaria Apologizes

WASHINGTON —UP— Bulgaria has apologized to the United States and offered to pay compensation for the death of 12 Americans killed last month aboard an Israeli airliner shot down by Bulgarian fighter planes.

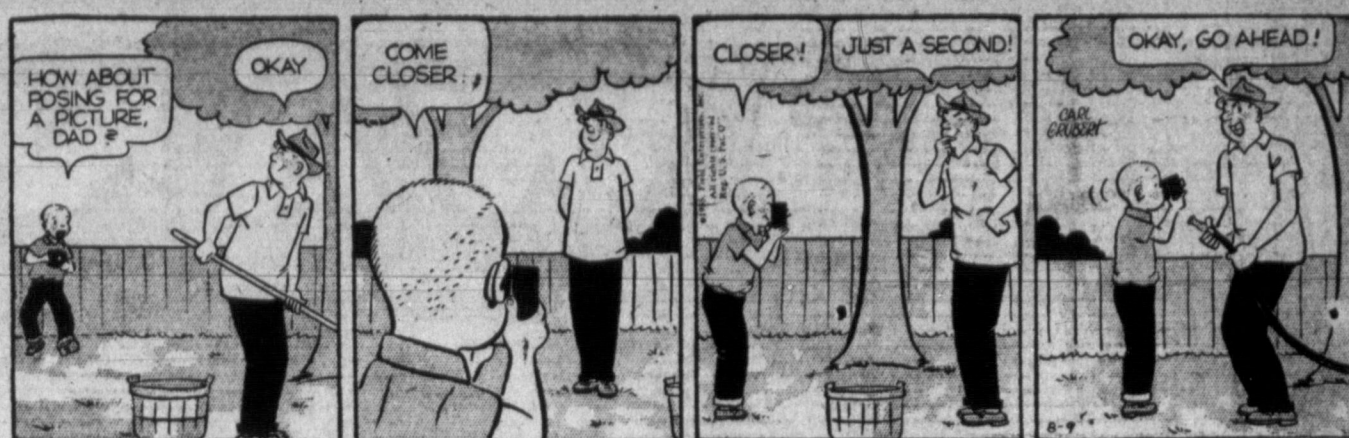

A State Department spokesman said today the offer was carried in a reply to a stiff U.S. protest dispatched shortly after the incident. The protest and reply were channeled through Switzerland because the United States and Bulgaria do not have diplomatic relations.

The airliner, bound from London to Tel Aviv, was shot down July 27, killing all 38 aboard. Bulgaria claimed the plane had strayed off its normal course across Yugoslavia.

The State Department said in the formal reply the Bulgarians apologized for the incident, promised to punish the offenders and offered compensation to the families of Americans killed aboard the airliner. The United States had demanded all of these.

Eliza McCadle was only 17 when she married Andrew Johnson, who later became president of the United States.
