House Group Swings Sharp Economy Axe

Funds Denied AF Academy, Atom Ship, Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON — UP — The House Appropriations committee wielding its economy axe for the last time this session, Tuesday denied funds for the proposed Air Force academy, President Eisenhower's atomic peace ship, and free distribution of Salk vaccine.

It whacked heavily into the President's budget requests for expansion and improvement of atomic plants, for making civil defense evacuation plans for 29 big target cities, and for U. S. participation in international trade fairs as a counter to Communist propaganda. The committee, meeting for what probably was its last session this year, took the actions in reporting to the House a supplemental appropriation bill totaling $1,648,876,128 for a scattering of agencies and functions for which the President had sought extra funds totalling $1,927,785,868. This cut of $278,909,740 — about 14.5 per cent — was to be piled atop claimed committee reductions totalling about $2,185,000,000 in earlier appropriations this year, although some of the previous cuts had been restored by House or Senate.

Main items in the bill as approved included $1,402,329,000 for military construction projects (not including the air academy) for which the administration had asked $1,480,000,000; $138,577,000 — a cut of $156,123,000 — for plant expansion and stepped-up research by the Atomic Energy Commission; $8,550,000 for civil defense. The selection of funds to start building the $126 million new air academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., came amid mounting criticism of the ultra modern design recently published by the Air Force as its plan for the new service school. Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott told the appropriations group this design was not final. So the committee denied his request for $79 million in construction funds, and told him not to spend $15 million appropriated earlier, until plans are finally agreed on.

It suggested that he consult the government's Fine Arts Commission before making up his mind. The committee also expressed concern over the "seeming curtailment of military activities" in the Colorado Springs area, which already has the Army's Camp Carson and the Air Force's Command. It suggested that a further study be made of this area with special reference to the availability of adequate water supplies. The committee turned down a request for $12,650,000 to build the (See GROUP, Page 3)

Kidnaped Girl Found Murdered

By THOMAS MCNALLY
SIOUX CITY Iowa — UP — One of the biggest manhunts in the history of the Midwest formed Tuesday to find the brutal sex-slayer of two-year-old Donna Sue Davis.

A general police alert was sounded throughout the mid-continent, the FBI actively entered the case and thousands of volunteers, armed with a description of the killer, joined in the search. Meanwhile, police here planned a roundup of all known sex deviates after being informed by Police Chief James O'Keefe that the child "definitely had been raped."

The blonde curly-haired tot, who was kidnaped from her crib Sunday night while her parents watched television, was found beaten to death late Monday at the edge of a muddy corral.

Strips of her pink pajama tops were wound around her neck. Otherwise, she was nude. The pajama tops were the same Donna was

NAME DROPPERS, BOTH OF THEM
LOS ANGELES — UP — "I'm Sergeant Friday," said the police officer to the motorist he pulled over to the curb. "And I'm Davy Crockett," said the driver.

After "getting the facts," police Sgt. Lester Friday handed a ticket for running a red light to Davy W. Crockett, 20, of Los Angeles.

City Approves New Zone Law

At a 40-minute session this morning, city commissioners disposed of a light agenda which included passing on a new zoning ordinance and payment of city bills.

Approval was given to zoning residential Fraser Annex Addition No. 2. The addition is north of 23rd St. in the neighborhood of the Top of Texas Drive-In Theatre.

June bills amounting to $32,784,28 were approved. Some $19,000 came out of the general fund. Library bills for June in the amount of $291.67 were also okayed.

Commissioners authorized the transfer of $75,000 from the Water and Sewer Fund to the General Fund, while City Secretary Ed Vicars was authorized to place $25,000 on a time deposit for six months from the water and sewer improvement 1948 interest and sinking fund.

The third and final closed hearing ordinance for the paving of Craven, Louisiana and Georgia was read and approved by the commissioners, and Mayor Lynn Boyd.

A $1,437.81 bill submitted by the engineering firm of Roberts, Merriman and Bowden for services regarding drainage in southwest Pampa, was also approved.

Jury Selected For Trial Of Mrs. Miller

By F. H. COOEY
Freedom Newspapers Writer
BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — A jury of seven women and five men will hear testimony today in federal court here as the trial of Lucille Miller on charges of violation of the Selective Service Act opened the second day.

Speedy selection of the jurors marked the opening day of the trial only four of the original veniremen being excused by the defense counsel, Morris Broderick. Prior to the selection of the jury Federal Judge Ernest Gibson read the names of nine men with whom Mrs. Miller is alleged to have corresponded and the 18 indictments against her are for two counts for each of the nine men who had appeared their draft status. Their names were published as appearing and it was through this listing that Mrs. Miller learned of the men involved. At least three of the men were expected to be called as witnesses in the trial which resumed at 9:30 a. m. today.

Mrs. Miller is charged with counseling with each of the nine in advising them to refuse service under the requirements of the Selective Service Act and universal military training statutes and of asking each of the nine to turn over to her their registration cards.

Mrs. Miller has maintained throughout the developments of the case that the existing draft law is in violation of the Constitution of the United States in that it places American citizens in "involuntary servitude," which is prohibited by the fourteenth amendment. It was on the basis of this amendment and the fourth amendment which guarantees a "speedy and public trial" that Mrs. Miller and her husband, Manuel, resisted efforts of federal marshals to place Mrs. Miller in a Washington, D. C., insane asylum, Mrs. Miller maintaining that she should be brought to trial and not committed to a mental institution. She was placed in the custody of federal marshals after being rendered unconscious by a tear gas attack by federal agents. Her husband submitted to arrest and surrendered his rifle after Mrs. Miller had become unconscious. He now faces charges of resisting a federal officer in the performance of his duty.

The nine young men involved in the case are: Eddy H. Woods, Lindenville; John W. Barnham, Pittsford; Donald Cote, Reedsboro; Alcee Plouffe, Bridgeport; Clayton Mitchell, Middlebury; Ferris W.

Hale, West Windsor; Warren F. J. Hale, a brother, also of West Windsor; Glenn Skillen, Montpelier; and Harold E. Wilcox, St. Albans.

The seven women on the jury and one of the alternates are: Ruth Samson, Stratton; Lillian Swan, Londonderry; Bertha Tier, Brattleboro; Rena Wheeler, Wilmington; Alene Grout, Londonderry and Rachel Pinel, Ludlow, the alternate. The men are Kenneth Conley, Jamaica, truck driver; Charles Holton, Westminster, farmer; John Fisher, Guilford, chain saw operator; Daniel Higgins, Westminster, farmer and Roy H. Thurber, Brattleboro, steam shovel operator, alternate.

crashing down on two parked cars. No one was in the cars, which were severely damaged. The same type of local storm struck in southeast Dallas county around Rylie, Tex. The Dallas Sheriff's office said high winds caused considerable damage in the small community of Beacon Hill, two miles north of Rylie. Wind whipped a tin roof off the back porch of a real estate building in the Rylie area, as heavy showers fell during a 10-minute period.

Heavy scattered showers of the past week have damaged the cotton crop in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, but agricultural officials said the damage couldn't be estimated yet.

Cooling Units Approved For Hospital

The Board of Directors of Highland General Hospital voted to add two air-conditioners to the plant at their monthly meeting yesterday at 6 p. m. One ton unit is to be installed in the X-ray room, and one 3-4 ton unit is to be placed in the lying-in room.

Chet Lander, administrator, recommended air conditioning throughout hospital, proposing use of window units. The problems of air-conditioning for both the proposed north wing and the present plant were discussed. Lander stated, "I know it'll be an essential thing with us before very long." If the units are installed, it will be done from reserve funds and not in connection with the present bond issue.

Business office lighting and asphalt tile flooring for a private room were discussed, but no definite action was taken. Six additional window awnings on the west side was proposed, but the idea was shelved. An approval of bills was made.

Statistics for the past month and the totals for the past six months were presented to the board. A comparison for June, 1954, with June of '55 is given below:

As temperatures warmed up over the state, at least one major city adopted water rationing. Dallas officials ordered alternate days of lawn and shrub watering for odd and even numbered houses — not because of a water shortage but because increased use of water has put more pressure on the mains.

Showers at El Paso, Alpine, Houston and Brownsville, in addition to scattered other sections of the state between official measuring stations. El Paso reported .34 of an inch, Brownsville .40, and Alpine .04.

Temperatures Monday ranged from 102 degrees at McKinney down to 78 at El Paso, Presidio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, College Station and Tyler all reported highs of 100 degrees. Houston reported a humid 97.

Overnight lows ranged from 64 at Alpine to 78 at Galveston and Corpus Christi.

Ike Promises Big 4 Reports

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower promised Republican and Democratic leaders of congress Tuesday that he will make "frequent progress reports" on the Big Four summit conference at Geneva next week.

The White House announced that the President also told a group of 25 legislative leaders at a White House conference that he will give them "an appraisal" of the accomplishments of the Big Four meeting when it is over.

The lawmakers conferred with Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for nearly two hours on plans for the momentous conference opening in Geneva Monday.

Korean Girls Barred From Army Clubs

By ROBERT BROWN
SEOUL — UP — Hundreds of U. S. Army officers were unhappy Tuesday over a three-star general's order to keep their Korean girl friends out of Army clubs.

Thousands of enlisted men feared they were next in line for a similar ban. The verbal order was handed down in a staff meeting several days ago by Lt. Gen. John H. Collier, the Army's top commander in Korea.

Collier told his officers they had until the end of the month to stop bringing their Korean girls into Army clubs. In fact, he discouraged officers from being seen at all with Korean girls. Order Not Popular

The order by Collier — who slapped a similar ban on fraternization when he was U. S. Commander in Stuttgart, Germany — was not very popular. However, when an Army spokesman was asked about the ban, he replied that "it is simply the general's wish to eliminate an undesirable situation."

Clark Gable Weds For Fifth Time

MINDEN, Nev. — UP — A new "queen" reigned over Hollywood Tuesday — blonde actress Kay Williams.

Miss Williams became the fifth wife of Clark Gable, the graying, 41-year-old actor known as "the king," in a spur of the moment ceremony performed by a justice of the peace here Monday.

After the brief ceremony, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination, possibly Gable's secluded cabin on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe.

The marriage climaxed 13 years of friendship between the 54-year-old Gable and Miss Williams, 37, whose battles in court and other wise with her former husband, millionaire playboy Adolph Spreckels II, made Hollywood history.

JIM CRACKS

By JIM DEANE

What is news? Newspapermen have to answer that question every day, and no two people agree completely on the definition of things which make news. Trained newspapermen usually always recognize the "big" stories all right, but it is in the lesser stories; the human interest yarns, the humor or pathos, and the incredible that the individual ideas of newsmen usually differ.

This got started because I have just finished reading a story in the current issue of Editor and Publisher, the professional magazine of newsmen, concerning the now defunct Brooklyn Eagle, a colorful newspaper which died because unionism priced itself out of a job. The Eagle was known to newsmen over the country for its different headlines, especially when its news concerned their beloved Brooklyn Dodgers.

In headlines eight columns wide and two inches tall, The Eagle gored in Dodger victories and wept at defeats.

The headlines were so good that they usually were the subject of news stories sent all over the world.

The last time the Dodgers played the Yankees in the World Series (1933) the Yanks won the first two games.

The Eagle the next day ran this "streamer":

EGAD MEN! WAKE UP!
The Dodgers won the third game, and the Eagle said:

"DON'T STOP! WE LOVE IT!"
The Yanks won again and the Eagle said:

"LET'S BE UNMERCIFUL!"
But the Yanks won that day and the Eagle pleaded:

"DO NOT FORSAKE US!"
Back in 1941 when the Yanks and Dodgers tangled in the Series the Eagle started its big headline campaign. It was the first Brooklyn pennant in 21 years, and I suppose they had a right to gloat.

The headlines day by day will tell the story of the Series.

"YANKS GET REPRIEVE — RAIN!"

"NOW TO MAKE IT TWO IN A ROW."
"NEVER SAY DIE, DODGERS VOW."

"WAIT! HILL NEXT YEAR."
In 1942:

"NEXT YEAR IS HERE."
"WE USE BATS TODAY."
"NO PLACE LIKE HOME."
"IT'S OUR TURN AGAIN."
"IMPOSSIBILITIES TAKE MORE TIME"

But, as usual, the Yanks won again, and the streamer became a two-column head well down on the page "Dodger Fans Stunned By Blow; Some Blame Shotten For Loss."

When the Yanks met the Dodgers in 1952, there was hardly room for the hot political race, so the Eagle's banner said:

"KID? AD? WE LIKE JOE."
(Joe Black they meant, and Black beat the Yanks 4-2)

Then the Yanks won and Brooklyn took the third game and the Eagle said:

"EX-PERTS: DEAD YET?"
The Yankees won.

"AND NOW—GET DOWN TO BUSINESS"
Brooklyn won.

"GODBYE FRUSTRATION!"
But the Yankees took the sixth and seventh games and the Series, and the Eagle bannered:

"REGISTER TO VOTE."

It was in a box at the top of the page enclosed in black with these words in small type: P.S. There was a game today.

THE POET'S NOOK
Clement Wood is the editor of a text book I have which is an excellent aid for folks who try to write poetry. It is called "The Complete Rhyming Dictionary," and it is recommended here for any who feel the urge to express themselves in poetry.

And as Wood says: "The desire to write poetry, or at least acceptable verse, is almost universal."

Wood defines poetry as "the expression of thoughts which awake the higher and nobler emotions or their opposites, in words arranged according to some accepted convention."

He points out later that poetry usually springs from an unsatisfied desire on the part of the writer.

"Otherwise the poet would proceed to achieve his wish, and have no need for a poem to express it. As one poet has it:

'Singing is sweet; but be sure of this.
Lips only sing when they cannot kiss.—Art James Thomson.'"

Maybe that explains those Brooklyn Eagle headlines.

Well suppose we test your memory of poetry again this week.

Who wrote this?
Music, when soft voices die,
Vibrates in the memory—
Odours, when sweet violets sicken,
Live within the sense they quicken.

PERRYTON — Funds are continuing to come in to aid the three families of a one-car accident near Perryton Saturday. The funds are being collected by the Ministerial Alliance of Ochiltree County, and give promise of a total of more than $2,000.

The drive to raise funds for the families had brought a total of $1,750 yesterday, as the donations were still pouring in.

Five persons, members of three North Carolina families, were killed and four others were seriously injured in the accident when the car in which they were riding struck a concrete abutment, south of Perryton. Three of the four injured children were reported to be in satisfactory condition yesterday, but 6-year old Jimmy Holt remains in a critical condition.

Killed in the accident were: James Nichols, 20; his sister, Mrs. Mildred Glover, 22; Lela Elizabeth Brittain, 18, driver of the car; Mrs. S. S. Holt; and Joe Allen Glover, 2, son of Mrs. Glover, who died Sunday night of injuries suffered in the crash.

Correction Made In Court Minutes

A correction to the minutes of the preceding meeting highlighted the Gray County Commissioners Court meeting yesterday and re-opened an old sore spot in the matter of hiring a tax evaluation firm for the ensuing year.

Arlie Carpenter, commissioner from precinct one, moved that a correction be made on the minutes of the last meeting in order to "show what really happened" in the matter pertaining to the hiring of King, Latham, and Stults, tax evaluation engineers from Dallas.

King and company releases Thos. Y. Pickett, also of Dallas, who held the contract the previous year.

Carpenter said that he had made a motion to rehire the Pickett firm, which was seconded, and that the "presiding officer, Judge Bruce Parker, before calling upon the court for a vote on my motion asked Jim McCracken, a member of the court, if he didn't want to make a motion."

Carpenter said that the motion made by McCracken called for the hiring of King and Company and was seconded by Commissioner "Nat" Lunsford after some hesitation and that Judge Parker said that he would break the tie by casting his vote for the King, Latham and Stults firm and that that set-led the matter. The correction to the minutes of the last meeting now show this action as the original minutes did not.

In other action yesterday, the commissioners accepted a bid by the Columbian Securities Corporation of Texas to handle the election details on a coming election for the proposed addition to Highland General Hospital and the proposed construction of a branch hospital in McLean. Another issue to be settled in the coming elections will be the proposed $14 tax hike to finance county road work.

The group also voted to accept the recommendation of a special commission which set the damages in the Gray County vs. Mrs. Eula Reed condemnation suit at $4,500. The suit was in connection with buying the right-of-way for construction work on Highway 66, in the south part of the county.

They also heard a representative of Western Indemnity Life Insurance Company of Houston discuss a sick leave program for county employees.

JURY

(Continued from Page 1) and Massachusetts press are covering the trial in addition to Bill Fulton of the Chicago Tribune New York office, Freedom Newspapers, The Associated Press, The United Press and International News Service.

Mrs. Miller said that "we have faith in Vermont people" when asked why probing of the jurors' background had not been more searching. She said that she had been met with "extreme cordiality" upon her return to her home in Bethel, Vt., after release from St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D. C.

In an interview with the Freedom Newspapers representative, Ralph Chapman of Brattleboro, who is one of three defense counsel, lashed out at the reporting of Westbrook Pegler on the Miller case. Pegler has been outspoken in his column in defense of Mrs. Miller.

"I'm for Mrs. Miller," Chapman said, "but I hope you won't cover the trial the way Pegler would. His misrepresentations and downright lies are really disgusting." Chapman also spoke highly of Judge Gibson, declaring that he is "a fine man" and "a really distinguished citizen."

Both Mrs. Miller prior to her indictment and Pegler have been outspoken in their criticism of the manner in which Judge Gibson has handled the case, particularly in ordering Mrs. Miller committed to St. Elizabeth's rather than letting her stand trial as she had requested when the indictment was returned by the federal grand jury.

Mrs. Miller told Freedom Newspapers that Chapman "is just an advisor handling local arrangements in Brattleboro."

GROUP (Continued from Page 1) hull of Mr. Eisenhower's proposed peace ship and for $21 million to build the atomic reactor to drive it. It pointed out that legislation to authorize this ship has not been approved by congress.

In the Poto field the committee approved in full Mr. Eisenhower's request for $200,000 in extra enforcement only to ward off a possible black market in vaccine. It okayed without reduction $4.3 million for grants to states to plan vaccination programs. It allowed in full $400,000 to build a new monkey house at the National Institutes of Health, to facilitate vaccine safety tests.

But the $30 million sought by the President to furnish free vaccine to those who can't afford it was denied, on the ground no authorizing legislation has been passed.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

WITH SO MUCH EMPHASIS being placed on jewelry, a word or two about its care seems in order, and from the Jewelry Industry Council, whose business it is to know about these things, come these helpful suggestions.

PEARLS ESPECIALLY, because of their brilliant color, should be kept clean and fresh looking. If they are oriental or cultured pearls they may be washed in mild soapy water if they are rinsed carefully and wiped dry with a soft towel. A word of warning, however, since frequent washings such as this may cause the string to weaken.

It is a good idea to take your pearls to the jeweler periodically for cleaning and restringing.

Diamonds and colored gems may be washed in warm soapy water and, after being rinsed in hot water, they look prettiest when dried and polished with a piece of lint-free cloth or tissue paper. In handling colored stones it is important to remember not to change the temperature of the water rapidly, for the sudden change may cause the stones to crack. A soft brush, perhaps an old tooth brush, is handy for cleaning intricate pieces.

If you have let your diamond rings or other diamond jewelry get especially dirty, it is safe to boil them, although this is not the case with colored gems. To clean a diamond by boiling, take a small pan and place a piece of cloth on the bottom of the pan after it has been filled with soapy water. Put the diamond jewelry on the cloth, let the water slowly come to a boil and allow to boil until the jewelry is freed of the collected dirt. Then rinse thoroughly in warm water and dry with a lint-free cloth. In the case of all jewelry, it is a good idea to take it to your jeweler for occasional professional cleaning and buffing such as only he can do. It is also a good idea from the standpoint of having mountings checked, for it will prevent loss of the stones in your jewelry.

Fashion jewelry can be kept clean and bright by various methods, depending on the kind of settings involved. Where stones are held in by glue, your best bet is to wipe the top of the jewelry carefully with a slightly damp cloth or tissue paper, doing this frequently enough so that the jewelry never is allowed to collect dirt.

Imitation pearls are best cared for in this way also, since many of them have a lustrous outer coating which may be spoiled by dipping into actual soap and water. Watches you must leave to your jeweler to clean. Nothing is more fatal to the good health of your watch than for you to remove the back and touch its miniature works.

MORE THAN EVER before there is an exciting variety of styles in watch bracelets — from steel, tailored expansion bands to jeweled bracelets. And as the prices, the range is so wide, your new watch attachment will suit your purse as perfectly as it suits you.

Shoppers will be especially interested in the structural improvements made recently in expansion bracelet design — improvements that permit a flatter, neater bracelet and, for women, a narrower one. In some models, the expansion points are concentrated at the two endpieces, either side of the watch, leaving a smooth band around most of the wrist. In other, the endpieces are rigid and wrist-conforming, the expansion section between.

The designs themselves are strikingly handsome and are available in precious karat gold, gold filled and sturdy stainless steel. A man, for instance, can choose a watch bracelet and not only compliments his watch, but compliments his taste in jeweled accessories as well. Women's watch attachments are as varied in design, ranging from slim, simple bands to stone-set bracelets, some with sparkling diamonds or cultured pearls.

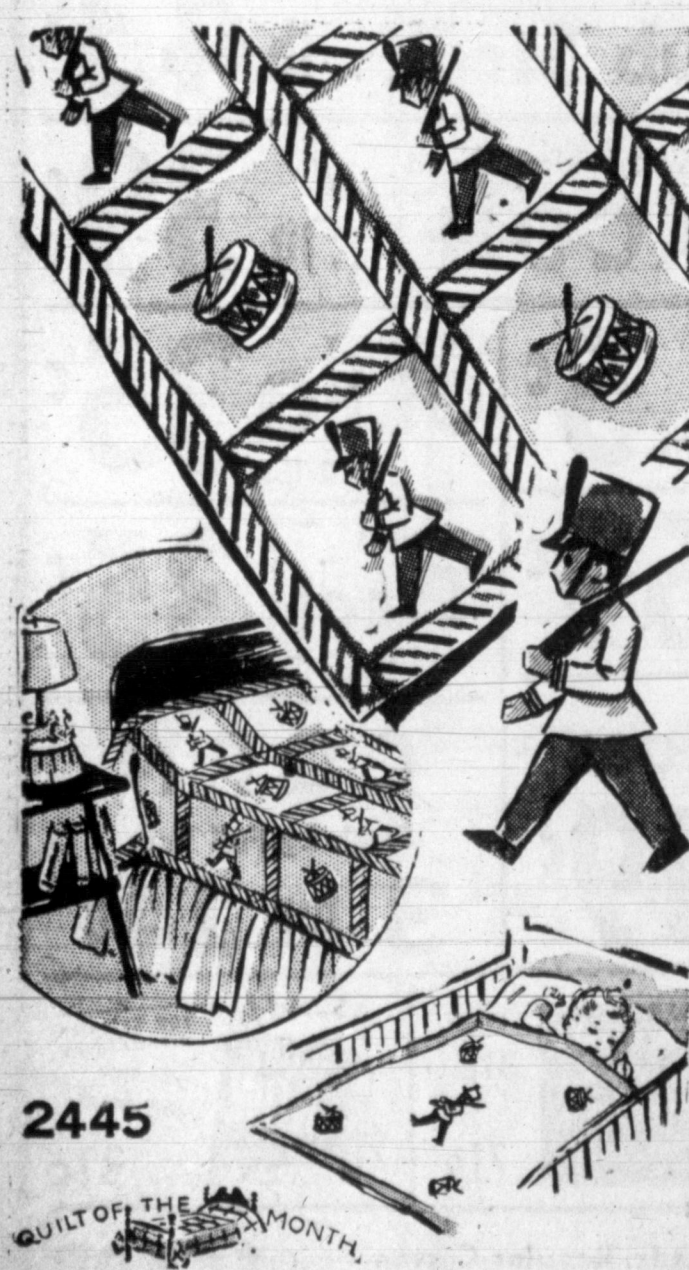

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

Some people have the idea that the way to prove a good meal is to groan out loud over having eaten too much or being "too full to eat another bite." That is no compliment to the food.

It is just a confession that one has made a pig of himself. A mixture of half a pound of baking soda and a gallon of water makes an ideal solution for removing bugs from the windshield and finish of a car.

Fire Scorches Arizona Park

PRESCOTT, Ariz. — UP — Thousands of acres of smouldering stumps and blackened earth Monday lay in the wake of the worst forest fire in the history of Prescott National Forest.

The fire was still reported to be out of control. However, the advance of the fiery wall has been slowed by approximately 700 firefighters. An air crew surveyed the scorched area Monday morning, and reported more than 17,000 acres of timber and brush destroyed.

During the night, the east side of the fireline was forced to retreat toward a temporary holding line. But the line on the south, which is protecting the Crown King area, is reported to be holding its own.

A forest service lookout and radio station atop Tower Mountain was back in operation. The site was evacuated temporarily Sunday night when the fire reached timber near there.

Challenge To Ike

For the second time in his political career, the President of the United States has stood before the tribunal of the United Nations with worshipping mien and humble words. Without consulting the people of the United States, who, indeed, have never been asked whether they approve or disapprove, Mr. Eisenhower has pledged this country, this country's money, this country's future, to an international cabal, filled with the greatest political tricksters and murderers ever assembled under a single roof.

The first time, a little over a year ago, he offered to give away American know-how, American wealth, American prestige to this group of international gangsters. This last time, in San Francisco, he has pledged his support of the United Nations Charter and the notorious Declaration of Human Rights patterned after the constitution of the Russian Soviet.

To the average American this action on the part of their president places them on the horns of a fearful dilemma.

When Mr. Eisenhower stood before the American people in January of 1953, he took a solemn oath that he would defend the Constitution of the United States. It is not possible for him to support and defend this document, which contains the immortal Bill of Rights fought for by our founding fathers, and at the same time give his pledged backing to the United Nations.

The reason he cannot do so is because the two documents are opposite in purpose and intent. The great principle of the United States is found in the daring concept that man is free. That he is by nature and by virtue of his relationship to Almighty God, an individual capable and competent of looking after himself. The characteristic of the Constitution is that it contains a series of prohibitions against government itself. The individual, in America is sovereign. His government is his servant.

But the characteristic of the U.N. Charter and the Declaration of Human Rights is that government contains the sovereign power. That man must be protected and provided for by government. That virtually every aim and purpose of humanity must be supplied by a political oligarchy, selected, not even by popular vote, but by arbitrary appointment.

There is no organization or group in the world so completely un-American as the United Nations. Yet the American president gives his LOYALTY to this old-world idea, calcified into a collective, thereby betraying the purpose and the meaning of human liberty.

This is 1955. Next year will come another public carnival which goes by the name of "a presidential election." And already the GOP drums are booming for the re-election of the military man whose knowledge of real estate and strategy was so sketchy that he helped arrange for the division of Germany and the partition of Berlin without even allowing a land corridor so that Allied troops would have access to that highly important city.

Here, then, is the dilemma we all face. How do we conduct ourselves next year when and if the GOP nominates this great international mendicant, and the Democrats put up Stevenson or some other equally vigorous exponent of the welfare state? How can we, in honor and integrity, choose between such men?

Already the American voters have indicated their disgust at such a choice. In 1952 many millions of qualified voters were notably absent from the polls. It is safe to say that if the Republicans and Democrats do no better than before with their standardbearers, there will be an even greater display of public apathy in selecting between them.

Three years ago we voted for a change. Where is it? What happened to the "crusade" which was supposedly destined to "clean up the mess in Washington?" Is the mess cleaned up? Or are we still following the leadstar of the socialized state launched by FDR and sustained by Harry Truman?

There is nothing in our Constitution which compels Americans to give of their money or their loyalty to foreign dictators and potentates. And we should remember that Mr. Eisenhower, though he may be president, is still no better as a man, than any one of us. The highest honor he can have, is not as president, but as a citizen of these United States.

In that capacity, he is our equal, and must answer to us for his betrayal of the principles which made this nation great and strong. We are shocked and grieved that our chief executive should so far forget his oath of office as to pay homage to this foreign court.

We have had ten years' bitter experience with betrayal within the confines of this glass menagerie of globalism. We are angered that the plans and programs of this same betrayal are now supposed to be continued.

Mr. Eisenhower has stressed the idea that within the Charter of the U.N. all member nations are supposed to have the right of determining for themselves the kind of government they want. We dare Mr. Eisenhower to put the matter of this process of self-government up to the American people.

We should like to see the question of American surrender to the United Nations brought before a vote of the people of this nation. We should like to see the question fairly asked: "Do you wish to be governed in America by a group of politicians selected in more than five dozen foreign countries?" "Or do you prefer the American Constitution as the guiding document of our lives?"

If the current administration fails to bring this matter before the people, then our participation in the U.N. the money we have given to it, and the rest of the international give-away is highly illegal and improper. We challenge you, Mr. President, to face the American voter on this issue.

U.S. Part In International Labor Organization

I want to pass on to the readers a report made by W. L. McGrath, U. S. Employer Delegate on the International Labor Organization Conference at Geneva, Switzerland on June 5, 1955. This report was sent to me by a correspondent who has furnished me with considerable information on important political subjects.

The following is the report made by W. L. McGrath, U. S. Employer Delegate:

"The United States government voted yesterday in favor of placing communist agents among the Employer groups of the International Labor Organization, assembled here for its 38th Annual Conference. This incredible proposal was approved by the Conference, over the bitter objections of the employers.

"The seven working committees of the Conference are composed of government, worker and employer groups. The employers announced that they would not accept the so-called employer representatives from eight iron curtain countries as being anything but additions to the government delegations of those countries. As I said, in addressing the Conference:

"These men are not representatives of employers. In their countries government is the employer. Therefore of necessity they can only represent government.

"Furthermore, these men are acting under the orders of the communist party — an international political party dedicated to the overthrow of the system under which free employers operate. Would you expect us to welcome into our fold men who, as a matter of principle, are pledged to our destruction?"

"The employers therefore naturally elected no communists to their committee groups. The communist so-called employers participated in the voting, and the only votes they got were the ones they cast in favor of themselves. The entire Conference then approved, by a large majority, the employer committee members elected by the employers.

"Eight communist so-called employer delegates, however, then lodged protests, demanding to be placed as employer representatives on these committees. In this they were supported by the entire ILO Government group, which proposed as a 'compromise' that the communists be seated as 'deputy' rather than 'titular' members — a distinction with little difference, since deputy members can take part in all discussions and can vote when the full quota of titular members are not present, which is usually the case.

"When it came to the vote in the Plenary Session, the employers, opposed the proposal, a majority of the workers abstained, and Governments, with two votes for each country whereas employers have only one vote, carried the issue. The eight communists were thereby seated in the employer groups of four of the seven conference committees.

"The position taken by the United States Government on this issue is to be incommunicable. At the June 1954 Conference both the United States Government and labor delegates opposed and argued eloquently against the seating of so-called communist employer representatives as members of the Conference. This year, with our Government reversing its position, our labor delegate, apparently not wanting to vote contrary to Government but neither wishing to support the proposal, abstained. Thus the rug was pulled from beneath the U. S. employers, who had assumed that our Government would have the courage to stand for principles instead of resorting to the expediency of appeasement.

"After listening to countless speeches made at last year's Conference by these communist so-called employer delegates, I can assure you that their function here is that of propagandists for the Communist Party. Placing them in employer groups who are discussing employer policy is as preposterous as would be the seating of communist agents on the Board of Directors of the National Association of Manufacturers and the United States Chamber of Commerce. And yet our government voted for it!

"The consequences of the action taken by the Conference will be serious indeed, as I said to the Conference:

"This organization was founded upon the principle of tripartism. The communists now demand that we abandon that principle. Shall we yield to their dictates? If we do, we will stand before the world as a body that is willing to sacrifice its integrity rather than incur the displeasure of the communists.

"You know the end of that road. Our functioning will become a mockery, our world standing will be lost, and we will be known as that communist-dominated organization that in years past was deserving of respect."

"I announced furthermore that no member of the U. S. Employer Delegation would sit on any committee with a so-called employer delegate or adviser from an iron curtain country. We have accordingly withdrawn from the four committees upon which communist agents have been seated as 'employers.' We shall continue to sit on the other three committees.

"No one here has any illusions as to the nature and purpose of the communist infiltration of the ILO. Most governments say they supported the communists on this

Capital Transit Strike May Bring New Federal Controls

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Louis E. Wolfson, the ubiquitous Florida promoter who almost captured control of Montgomery Ward in his proxy battle with Sewell Avery, may yet provoke punitive and corrective legislation governing the acquisition of property for speculative purposes. It could be the most important action in this field since John D. Rockefeller's excesses led to enactment of the original anti-monopoly statute.

Wolfson's alleged mismanagement of the Capital Transit Company, which provides trolley and bus service in the Nation's Capital, may be his and other corporate promoters' undoing. He made the mistake of inflicting a strike and virtual paralysis of transportation upon Washington during the hottest Fourth of July week end here in 50 years.

He was in California when his presence was needed in an effort to prevent the walkout. He refused to heed calls for his appearance at hearings scheduled by District of Columbia officials and a Congressional Committee. As a result, there have been demands on Capitol Hill for revocation of his public utility franchise.

But Senator Wayne L. Morse's proposal for termination of Wolfson's license may be just what the latter wants. It is suspected that the Florida promoter, whose campaign contributions to an easy-going Florida Governor were questioned by the Kefauver Crime Committee, would like to unload his property on Uncle Sam — at a profit, of course.

It is Wolfson's alleged looting of Washington's major transportation industry, however, which may necessitate new legislation on corporate purchase and mergers. Capital Transit is a relatively small company, worth about $20,000,000. But anti-Wolfson members of Congress recall that he tried to capture Montgomery Ward, with its $30,000,000 of liquid assets.

Although defeated in the first round, Wolfson has said that he will renew his attempt to gain control of Montgomery Ward.

Wolfson bought Capital Transit, a losing concern, at a bargain price. He immediately used its reserves and cash balance to pay huge dividends — dividends not justified by earnings.

He obtained several fare increases so that a short ride now costs 20 cents, a hardship on several hundred thousand Federal employees. The diversion of reserves to dividends resulted in deterioration of service. Traffic dwindled.

He sold collateral properties, in issue because they too have nationalized industries; but they do not like the communists any more than we do, and their real reason, I am convinced, is fear of Russia. The free employers had expected support on principle, at least from the one government in the world which they thought was not afraid of Russia. The reversal of U. S. policy has given the entire Conference the impression that the U. S. is just as afraid of Russia as everybody else."

The Germans (since they live closer to it) are apt to know more about Communism and its methods than the average American business man or industrial worker. An enlightening warning has been published by the semi-official "deutsche korrespondenz" of Bonn. It says: "In the German Federal Republic the number of Communist factory groups amounts to 3,700 with a total of about 118,000 members. The extraordinary importance the Communists attach to these factory groups, is in the first place due to the consideration that in the factories the workers have a very close contact with each other and are thus more open to political influence than elsewhere.

When setting up new factory groups it is the policy of the Communist Party to infiltrate into the plants as far as this is possible, efficient workers of 'bourgeois' (middle class) appearance. In this connection care is taken that the Communist affiliation of these new workers of the plant do not become known. What they do there they do elsewhere.

Movie Industry Has Avoided Telling Of Link With Mobs

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — For years a mysterious verboten has prevented presentation of any moving-picture showing the alliance of the movie industry with the Capone mob, or syndicate. To be sure, Capone has died, victim of a miscarriage of justice in the federal jurisdiction which gave him eleven years in prison, most of it in the torture chambers of Alcatraz, for failure to pay a debt. Capone was already gone during the worst phase of the collaboration of the mighty magnates of the movies with Willie Bioff, George Browne and other remnants and heirs of the syndicate. The proof was recorded in federal courts, which were literally goaded into action not by the Roosevelt regime, however, but by Hollywood's eager accomplice, but by the lot in cooperation with Bill Keating, then of the district attorney's office, who recently got five days in jail for refusing to double-cross an informant and so violate his honor in the wiretapping case. Johnson worked hard and turned in a proven case in a daily series which won him passing recognition but not much else. I, too, had worked fitfully on this waterfront for some years and that "Waterfront" to me was reminiscent of my own research.

For climax, Brando got an object called an "Oscar," a little statuette signifying nothing but the approval of a group of employees of publications having neither official status nor special qualifications. I have now noted that there is discontent with these awards by resort to some form of popular vote.

Recently, Senator Kefauver, of Tennessee, has been making cheezy moralistic publicity in Hollywood and I dare say he will come with the industry's help to resolve to protect the public from reminders of Hollywood's own complicity in a sordid phase of our history and culture. Kefauver is a Democrat; Hollywood is democratic and communistic and the Roosevelt regime, which fertilized this degrading influence, was the patron, protector, accomplice and partner of the whole business.

Eight years ago, I joyously panicked the industry with a script called "The Capone Story." It was serious enough, but other matters diverted me, so I did not persevere. But, recently, Ben Hecht bathed himself in this theme and, after study, concluded that the scenario was sure-fire. So Hecht, Gene Fowler and I are going through with it in the autumn and, friends, you are about to see high-octane comedy motion with sound effects as the Hollywood lobby rallies its ballyhoo to deplore this sordid exploit of the most resounding name in our criminal history since Jesse James.

It is my hope to hire the culprit magnates to impersonate the mages, but Hecht and Fowler think they may go bushful and refuse. Well, maybe so, but I am sure I can get Willie and George.

Only Thing New In Runaway Hose Is Direction Taken

By HENRY McLEMORE

The disappearing garden hose of Downey, California, is nothing new — only its method of escape is.

The fact that it is digging straight into the earth to get away from it all is the only reason it has attracted nationwide attention.

Most hoses just up and run away like small boys. Half the "snakes" people see in the woods are nothing but disgruntled hoses seeking greener pastures, and the last Loch Ness Monster turned out to be nothing more horrifying than fifty feet of fireman's hose trying to evade Scotland's winter climate.

"The Garden Hose, Its Aims, Ambitions, and Frustrations," was the subject of a brilliant paper read last year in Vienna, and its author, one of the world's recognized authorities on the problem, listed quite a few things which he felt accounted for the growing unrest among hoses.

Chief among the unhappiness factors named by Dr. Snitz was the underground sprinkling system now used to water so many lawns. He pointed out that for years and years the garden hose was the only means by which a family could keep its grass in condition. It was a daily ritual for some member of the family to fondle the hose, so to speak, as he watered the grounds.

This a feeling of belonging was instilled in the hose. It felt it counted for something. Even more intimate (and gay) were the times it was turned on the children and the pups in the stammer.

Now much of that is over for the hose. Cold, aloof, superior, functional iron pipes circulate under the lawns and flower beds, and they need only a twist of a tap to do the job much more efficiently, and in a tenth of the time, required by a hose.

There is no telling how many cold, faithful hoses lie discarded in garages and sheds forgotten by the masters they served so long and well. The sprinkler system has given the garden hose a deep-seated inferiority complex. It simply can't face up to reality. So they try to get away, just as that burrowing California one is trying to do. Dr. Snitz also laid stress on the fairly recent invention of hideous types of sprinklers which are easily attacked to a garden hose, and which make its head swirl, swirl, turn, spin, jerk, and bounce. This distributes the water more quickly and more evenly, yes, but can you author, one of the world's recognized authorities on the problem, listed quite a few things which he felt accounted for the growing unrest among hoses.

Oilers Open Crucial Series With Duke

Drop Series Finale To Hubs In 10th

LUBBOCK, July 12—The league leading Pampa Oilers move on to Albuquerque Tuesday night to open a crucial four-game series with the second place Albuquerque Duke at Tingley Field in the Duke city.

The Oilers closed out their series here Monday night by dropping an 8-7 decision to the Lubbock Hubbers that enabled the hosts to gain an even break in the two-game series.

The Duke gained a half-game on the Oilers as their game at Clovis last night was rained out. Albuquerque trails the Oilers now by 2 1/2 games. The Duke will have to sweep the up-coming series to overtake the Oilers for the league leadership.

Fred Jackson, the newly acquired lefthander, will likely draw the starting assignment in the series opener for the Oilers. Jackson will be making his first start since joining the Oilers last Saturday night.

An error on the second end of a double play let in the winning run here Monday. The Hubs, who once trailed 7-1, pulled the game out in the 10th without the aid of a base hit.

Tom Kordas walked to start the Hub 10th. He was sacrificed to second by Bob Galey and Everett Moore was purposely passed to get to pitcher Bob McGhee. The strategy worked fine except for the aforementioned error.

McGee responded by bouncing to third baseman Curtis Hardaway who forced Moore at second but the relay to first was wild and Kordas raced across with the winning run.

The Oilers went wild in the first three innings when they scored all of their runs. Starter John Dickson absorbed all of the early onslaught and it wasn't until McGhee entered the scene that the Oiler bats were silenced.

McGhee came on in the third and allowed only two hits and no runs the rest of the way.

Dick Hairston's bases loaded single drove in two Oiler runs in the first to open the night's scoring.

Then Paul Halter slammed a three-run homer in the second inning, his 17th of the season, to give the Oilers a 5-1 lead.

In the third, Stan Machinsky's double and singles by Pete Carmona, Jack Venable and Rorch Slider accounted for two more runs to boost the Oiler lead to 7-1.

McGhee came on after Slider's hit and put out the fire without further damage and then blanked the Oilers on two hits the remaining distance.

The Oilers made only two errors but both were costly. The first error accounted for the tieing Hub run in the sixth and the second letting in the winning marker in the 10th.

The Oilers kept two streaks going. Rorch Slider ran his consecutive game hitting streak to 16 games and Halter's homer made it 14 straight games in which the Oilers have hit at least one homer.

IF THE TIL (Texas Interscholastic League) votes to ban segregation in Texas High School athletic circles this fall, Pampa High School will be playing against Negro students for the first time in the 1955 football season.

El Paso school officials have already banned segregation in the school system there and since Austin High of that city is on the 1955 PHS grid slate, the Harvesters would be playing against Negro students when the two school meet Sept. 18 providing the TIL passes on the athletic angle.

Pampa, I'm sure, is well ahead of several other cities in Texas on de-segregation and it won't be the first time for some of the local schoolboys to be playing with or against Negroes on the athletic fields.

Several members of next year's Harvesters football team are currently participating in the Pampa Teen Age League which consists of a number of our Negro schoolboys.

So, it won't be anything new to some of the PHSians who'll be members of the 1955 Fighting Harvesters to face Negro athletes if the TIL votes to de-segregate in athletic circles this fall.

Pampa's de-segregation actually started last year when the Little League and Pony League took in Negro youngsters into its programs.

As far as we know there has never been any trouble whatsoever in mixing the Whites and Colored in the kid baseball program here.

Pampa, too, was one of the first teams in the West Texas-New Mexico League, to include Negroes on its professional baseball roster. The Oilers signed their first Negro in the 1953 season and have had Negroes on its roster since that time.

Holy Souls Wins 11th Straight Tilt

Unbeaten Holy Souls made it 11 in a row last night with a twin-victory over First Baptist of Pampa and a team from Borger at Kiwanis Park.

The Souls walloped the Baptists, 16-1, in the Senior League game and then blanked Borger in an exhibition game, 12-0.

In other games last night, Progressive Baptist blanked First Methodist, 7-0, for its ninth straight win in the Junior Boys League; First Baptist won over Calvary Baptist, 12-10, in the Junior Boys; First Christian defeated Harrah Methodist, 11-10, in the Senior Girls; and St. Paul Methodist defeated First Methodist, 16-6, in a Senior Boys tilt.

Ray Valesquez hurled the Souls to both wins last night. He allowed only two hits to First Baptist and then came back in the second game to toss a no-hitter at the visiting team from Borger.

Valesquez shared hitting laurels with Rabbit Ramirez in the league game with First Baptist, each getting three safeties.

Gary Griffin, E. Jay McIlvain and Benny Cartwright divided mound chores for the Baptists.

The line score:
First Baptist 100 000 0-1 1 2
Holy Souls 304 180 8-16 10 6

Abilene Wins 4th Straight; Ties For 4th

Abilene won its fourth straight game Monday night and regained a shaky spot in the first division of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Blue Sox dropped Plainview to 3 and moved into a tie with the Ponies for the fourth spot in the standings.

Amarillo slugged its way to an 18 to 8 win over El Paso and Lubbock edged Pampa 8 to 7. Rain at Clovis postponed a game between the Pioneers and the Albuquerque Duke.

The idle Duke moved only 2 1/2 games behind the leading Pampa Oilers.

Lubbock is at El Paso, Plainview at Clovis, Abilene at Amarillo and Pampa at Albuquerque in the start of a new series Tuesday night.

Chet Morgan hit a two-run homer in the first inning and a double and a single in four trips to lead the Abilene Blue Sox over Plainview. Ed Kapp won his 11th game by holding the Ponies to nine hits.

Frank Pickens came in with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth to strike out Doug Lewis and end the game and a serious Pony rally.

Bob McGhee hurried fine relief ball to stop Pampa in the ninth as Lubbock rallied for a victory. The Hubbers showed across the winning run on an error on a double play ball in the 10th.

Amarillo added points to its batting average and gained its fourth straight win by beating El Paso.

Lippy Plans A 'Push Button' Game In All-Star Tilt Today

MILWAUKEE —UP—Leo Durocher planned a "push button" game and Al Lopez said he would "stick with his starters if they're going good" in the major league 2nd All-Star game Tuesday.

"We want to win this game," Lopez said. "No, it's not for revenge but just that we think it's an important game. We definitely don't consider it just an exhibition game."

Manager Lopez of the Cleveland Indians, said he had been asked frequently if he was out for revenge for last year's four-straight but would move Duke Snyder to right field when he puts Mays in Billy Pierce of Chicago was named to start for the American League, and Robin Roberts of Philadelphia got the National League nod.

got all I have to do is push a button just like Joe McCarthy used to do," Durocher said. "We've got a team on the bench just as strong as the one on the field."

Lopez did not think lightly of his American League team, either. "We have a fine ball club," he said. "I'd like to have it."

Durocher said he would set Stan Musial in the National League lineup as soon as possible after the starters have played their required three innings. He said he had no particular plans for Willie Mays but would move Duke Snyder to right field when he puts Mays in Billy Pierce of Chicago was named to start for the American League, and Robin Roberts of Philadelphia got the National League nod.

The game was rated almost even although the National League once was a 7-5 favorite.

The National has won four of the last five compared to the American 13-8 record in the series and an 11-9 victory at Cleveland last year.

No starting pitcher has won this midsummer classic founded by the late Arch Ward of the Chicago Tribune since 1946 when Bob Feller turned the trick over National League starter Claude Passeau.

The contest will be played July 20 in a night game at Plainview.

In the balloting Abilene won five places on the squad. Plainview took four spots, Lubbock and El Paso three each.

Five of the new team's players made the team for the second straight. They are Stokes, Palmer, and Doug Lewis of Plainview, Bob Fernandez of Lubbock and Osmond Walker of Abilene.

RABBIT INVADERS NEWS

"Davey Crockett", one of the nine rabbits owned by Gabriel Gonzales, 308 W. Atchison, has been missing since Sunday. It was found Monday afternoon in the pit under the press at the News. The rabbit was huddled in the corner under some newsprint, apparently frightened by the roar of the press. It was rescued by Glen Gage, serotype man, who is shown holding the thirsty bunny. Rogers Calls Johnson Hard Worker

Congressman Walter R. Rogers, in his weekly newsletter, calls Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson a victim of capital tension. Rogers states that, "All of us who know Lyndon are well aware of the force with which he continually drives himself in carrying on his work."

The demands and responsibilities of his duties have become too great for any one person to support, he added. Rogers said he believes that Johnson's condition is temporary, but that it will take much rest for him to be restored to his former health.

According to Rogers, Federal Government agencies entered the third quarter of the fiscal year with unexpended balances and authorizations totaling 101.1 billion dollars. This means that agencies on March 31, 1955, were still authorized to call upon the Treasury for sums in that amount. For the first three quarters of the 1955 fiscal year, the agencies had spent 47.2 billion dollars. For strictly military services 25.3 billion was spent, leaving a balance of 57.3 billion.

The Foreign Operations Administration spent 2.8 billion during the first nine months of the fiscal year. Other agencies spent 18 billion, leaving a balance of 33.7 billion in their accounts.

Most of these balances represent appropriations and authorizations for expenditures to be made upon the fulfillment of contracts for military and other equipment and supplies that must be ordered in advance.

Fire Wipes Out Frisco Area

SAN FRANCISCO—UP—A spectacular four-alarm fire in the heart of San Francisco's North Beach district gutted the Italian Village night club and the three-story Entella hotel early Monday. Seventeen persons were injured, 13 of them firemen. Most of them were overcome by smoke and exhaustion. A preliminary search of the building, which contained the night club and hotel, failed to turn up any fatalities.

Red Clergy Wants Graham

LONDON—UP—Soviet churchmen announced Monday that they want American evangelist Billy Graham to visit Russia.

They said they also hope for a visit by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The unofficial invitation to Graham to carry his "Crusade for Christ" behind the Iron Curtain came from a delegation of Soviet churchmen now touring Britain. Graham has said repeatedly that he would carry his evangelistic campaign into the Communist world, if invited to do so. The head of Russia's Baptists said: "It is quite possible" that a Baptist delegation en route here for this week's World Baptist Congress will bring a formal invitation to Dr. Billy Graham to visit our country (Russia)."

Perryton First Class Post Office

PERRYTON—(Special)—The Perryton post office became a first class office on July 1, after spending a year back on second class status. A post office must have $40,000 in receipts during a calendar year to qualify as first class, and Perryton dropped below this mark in 1953.

The 1954 receipts at the Perryton office totaled $40,815.45 as compared with $39,846.63 in 1953. Receipts first climbed past the $40,000 mark in 1952 when Perryton went first class for the first time. Receipts that year were $41,984.92.

There are several changes that go with a first class post office, the principal change being a different regulation governing the size of parcel post packages to be mailed to another first class office. The postmaster and assistant postmaster get an increase in salary, but the average customer will see no difference in operation between first class and second class.

The post office took in more money in June than in any June on record. Receipts this June were $4,300 compared with $3,640 a year ago. Receipts for the second quarter of the year were $10,358.00 compared with $9,570 a year ago. With the absence of any harvest rush, the only explanation for the boom in stamp sales and other receipts is the influx of oil people into Perryton.

Anderson Resigns

WASHINGTON—UP—The White House announced Monday that President Eisenhower has accepted the resignation of Deputy Defense Secretary Robert Anderson "with the greatest reluctance."

Defense Chief Charles Wilson recently revealed that Anderson, former Navy secretary, had decided to quit.

The White House declined to say whether President Eisenhower has picked his replacement. The Texas will leave office about Aug. 15, the White House said, but it did not indicate who his successor would be although indications were he would be chosen before that time.

Drowning Victim Body Recovered

MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—UP—The body of Mineral Wells' first drowning victim of the year was sent to Lubbock Monday for funeral services and burial.

Jimmy Strange, 15, drowned in the Brazos River's Oak Crossing, four miles south of Mineral Wells Sunday morning while attending a family reunion.

Volunteer firemen recovered the body three hours later, 100 feet from where the youth went under.

Young Strange is survived by his father, Curtis Strange, a Lubbock detective; his mother, Mrs. Doyle Johnson, Hobbs, N.M.; two brothers, two sisters and a grandmother.

Plains Fair Rules Change

PERRYTON—(Special)—Rules for the parade of the North Plains Fair have been drawn up by the parade committee, and several changes have been made.

There will be four classifications in the parade this year, including commercial, club, civic, and junior.

The commercial classification will include each business sponsored entry; the club classification includes the Home Demonstration clubs and other women's organizations which depict various aspects of community life; civic includes entries from the C. of C., Jaycees, and other service organizations; junior will include all organizations whose membership is primarily made up of boys and girls.

In addition to these four divisions there will be a children's classification, in which small prizes will be awarded the best costume, the best decorated bicycle, and the youngest child entering the parade. Prizes will also be awarded the most outstanding horseman and horsewoman, taking into consideration riding ability and dress.
