WHEE — THAT'S FUN

A total of 175 students from the first three grades got a ride down Cuyler Street on one of Pampa's fire trucks this morning and early afternoon. The ride was in connection with Fire Prevention Week. All elementary schools were visited. The students shown here are 24 of the students from Sam Houston. Capt. W. D. Powers drove the truck and the children were entertained during the ride by Fire Chief Ernest Winborne.

Ike Cheerful As He Marks 65th Birthday

President Has Good Night Of Rest; Awakens Refreshed

By MERRIMAN SMITH
DENVER — UP — President Eisenhower Friday was described as "refreshed and cheerful" as he observed his 65th birthday in a hospital bed recovering from a heart attack.

The 7 a. m. (8 a. m. est) bulletin on the President's condition said:
"The President had a good night's sleep of more than eight hours. He awoke feeling refreshed and cheerful. His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

Careful Limits
Thus Mr. Eisenhower began his birthday, an occasion to be observed within the careful limits prescribed for a man recovering from a coronary thrombosis.
Instead of a lavish party and opulent gifts normally associated with such an occasion, Mr. Eisenhower's observance of his birthday was confined to bedside visits from his wife, low-calorie meals, another electro cardiogram and blood pressure examination, and possibly a thin slice of cake before the day is over.
The President wanted to share his birthday with the more than 2,128 other patients and members of the staff at Fitzsimons Army hospital, where he has been bedridden since Sept. 2. Consequently (See IKK, Page 2)

Solon Probes Dope

SAN ANTONIO — UP — Sen. Price Daniel, who expressed amazement Thursday at the ease with which known drug addicts can cross the Rio Grande to obtain "shots" of heroin in Mexico, was to continue his Senate subcommittee narcotics investigation Friday.
Customs agent A. D. Richards told the committee Thursday that at least 10 known narcotics addicts cross the Rio Grande into Mexico at Laredo daily to receive the heroin injections.
Richards appeared before the Senate judiciary subcommittee headed by Senator Daniel (D-Tex.) which is investigating narcotics traffic in various Texas cities. He also said that another 15 crossed the bridge daily to receive "shots" or make arrangements for the narcotics to be sent to them on the Texas side of the border.
Earlier two witnesses, one a convicted drug peddler, and the other reported to be one, testified before the subcommittee which include Sen. John Marshall Butler of Maryland.
The first witness, Roberto Hernandez, told of obtaining money on several occasions from Simon Rodriguez. Both men are from San Antonio. The money was used to buy heroin either at Nuevo Laredo or Monterrey in Mexico, Hernandez said. Rodriguez later took the stand and denied the accusations.
Customs agent Richards said records are kept on the known addicts who cross the border but they can do nothing about preventing their crossing.
He explained to Daniel that no visas or passports are needed for anyone visiting just across the border and that an addict can cross over to Nuevo Laredo for a nickel, the cost of the bridge toll.
Richards recommended to Daniel that more agents be assigned to the border patrol. He said that a smuggler could easily cross into the United States from almost any point between ports of entry for lack of patrolmen.
Sheriff Owen W. Kilday and Police Chief George Bischel testified on narcotic conditions in San Antonio.
Two San Antonio jail riots—a week apart—in which one prisoner was killed, apparently were touched off by narcotics smuggled into the jail on visitors day, Kilday said.
Kilday suggested one solution to the narcotics traffic problem would be an increase in federal and local agents. He said about 25 agents were needed for the San Antonio area alone, and added it now had only "five or six."
Sheriff said agents also should be given more latitude on "their belief and knowledge" that a man is a "pusher." Instead of being required to make a purchase, he said he also favors wire tapping in the investigation of some of the better known "pushers."

Margaret May Tell Of Marriage Plans

By GENE PATTERSON
LONDON — UP — Princess Margaret was expected Friday to disclose shortly that she will marry Group Capt. Peter Townsend.
The royal family stood deliberately aside and permitted the belief to mushroom without check.
A statement was reported imminent.
A reliable source said that a decision by Margaret to marry the divorced father of two children would be framed first in the form of a statement announcing merely that she is renouncing her royal rights.
In the studied absence of royal guidance, the British people drew the general conclusion from Townsend's call at Clarence House Thursday night that the marriage is on—not off.
Veteran observers agreed the royal family, expert at gauging the British temper, knew Townsend's call would have this effect and thus deliberately invited the expectation of marriage.
An excited crowd—drawn by blazing headlines in the London newspapers—clustered outside Clarence House where Margaret lives with Queen Mother Elizabeth.
Another crowd gathered under gray skies at midday outside the house at fashionable 19 Lowndes Square where Townsend stayed.
Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden let it be known he will call on Queen Elizabeth Tuesday. It is his regular day for paying his weekly call on the sovereign. But, under the present tense conditions, it will inevitably be associated with Margaret's future.
Eden and the queen return to London Monday. He was at his country residence Friday. The (See MARGARET, Page 2)

Mat Matches A Cryin' Shame!

TEXARKANA — UP — Tears flowed like wine among 100 or more wrestling spectators leaving the American Legion hall here Thursday night after a woman, presumably upset over the way the matches went, dropped a tear gas bomb.
No charges were filed by Legion officials, who sponsor the matches, but the woman was warned, Legion Commander Earl Jacobs said.
Some 800 or 900 fans had attended the matches, but most of them had cleared the hall when the bomb was dropped.
The final touches are being put to the annual Business-Industry-Education Day observance to be held in Pampa Monday, October 17th, at which time thirty local school teachers for the day.

Plans For BIE Day In Final Stages

Ed Gossett, General Attorney for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, will be the featured speaker for the noon luncheon at the High School Cafeteria.
The day's activities will open with a general assembly at 9:00 a. m. Monday in the Palm Room of the City Hall where George Newberry, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Committee, will be in charge of the program. Rev. Ed Hall, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, will give the invocation. Bob Irby, high school choir director, will lead group singing. Joe Whitten, music director for the First Baptist Church, will sing. Floyd Watson will extend official greetings to the teachers and speak briefly on the aims and purposes of B-I-E Day, after which general announcements will be made concerning the day's activities. Teachers will then get with their host firms for the day's program.
Participating firms are as follows: Behrman's, Smith's Quality Shoes, Cabot Carbon Company, Celanese, Cities Service Oil Co., Citizens Bank & Trust Co., City of Pampa, Paul Crossman Regrig. Co., Empire Southern Gas Co., Texas Agency, First National Bank, Ideal Food Store No. 1, Friendly Men's Wear, Gray County, Highland General Hospital, Radio Station KPDM, Pampa Daily News, Pampa Foundry, Dunlap's, Security Federal Savings & Loan Association, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, United States Post Office, Caldwell's, Video Theaters, West Pampa Reprinting Association, Ott Shemwaker Insurance Agency, Pampa Print Shop, and Santa Fe Railway Company.

Prof Fights Court On Principles

HOUSTON — UP — A 25-year-old law professor has turned a $10 traffic ticket fine into a $300 court battle and says he'll spend another $500 to prove he's not guilty.
The stubborn lawyer, James R. Gough, scored an early second-round victory in Judge Byron Johnson's county court-at-law Thursday in his battle to prove he didn't run a stop sign last July 21.
Gough, who teaches law at South Texas School of Law, asked Whitt Johnson, West University city secretary if the stop sign ordinance had ever been published as required by Texas law in home-rule cities.
Johnson, scratching his head, told Judge Johnson "I've never looked it up—I don't know whether it was published or not."
Judge Johnson continued the case and sent Johnson to searching through his files to find out. Gough could win his case if Johnson comes up empty-handed.
Gough was fined $10 by a corporation court jury originally but claimed he was not guilty and appealed. The appeal, before a jury, has taken three days so far.
Gough said he already has spent $300 "on principle" and will pay out another $500 to take the case to the Court of Criminal Appeals if he loses again.
"I'm just not guilty," he said.

Police Seek Suspected Slayer, 27

LOS ANGELES — UP — Police said Friday they are convinced that a 27-year-old ex-convict who stabbed his father also has killed his youthful stepmother. The father urged police to "shot him down like a dog" if they find his son.
An all-points bulletin was out for Ralph Reno, wanted for stabbing his father, Andrew Reno, 57, who is in critical condition in general hospital.
"We're convinced he killed his stepmother, Mrs. Stella Reno," said Detective L. C. Forbes.
No motive was given for the brutal attack on the elder Reno. The son probably "just went berserk," Forbes said.
The attractive 24-year-old Mrs. Reno disappeared shortly before the stabbing Wednesday night. She has not been seen since. When the son attacked his father with a butcher knife, he told him:
"I love you, dad, but I've got to kill you. I've done something terrible. She has no clothes on. I'll get the gas chamber anyway."
The elder Reno was stabbed in the chest and back and suffered a skull fracture in a frantic fight to save himself from death at his son's hands.
"My son had death in his eyes," the father said. "If you find him, shoot him down like a dog. He's been in trouble all his life. I've been supporting him all his life. He's a bum."
The younger Reno served two years in the federal reformatory at El Reno, Okla., for car theft and also served a term in San Quentin prison for burglary, police said.

Mamie Breaks 19-Day Vigil At Hospital

DENVER — UP — Mamie Eisenhower has broken her 19-day vigil in President Eisenhower's hospital suite, which is further evidence that he is well along the road to recovery from a heart attack.
The first lady felt relieved enough about his condition Thursday to slip away from Fitzsimons Army hospital an hour-and-a-half for an afternoon "drive around town" and a visit with "mama," Mrs. John S. Doud.
It was the first time Mrs. Eisenhower had left her small private bedroom on the eighth floor of the hospital — just across from the President's — since the chief executive was taken there Sept. 24 with a coronary thrombosis.
Mrs. Eisenhower had no plans to leave the President's bedside Friday, however, because it's his birthday. But White House aides said "in view of the chief executive's progressive recovery," she plans to "make further trips around town and down to her mother's house."
Also reassuring was the fact the first lady was spending more and more time with the President in his room as doctors permit. Whereas her visits were usually limited to 10 or 15 minute periods about twice a day during the first two weeks, Mrs. Eisenhower now is allowed to eat meals with him and follow a less rigid schedule as to her own "visiting hours."
During Thursday's respite from the hospital Mrs. Eisenhower was "taken for a ride around town" by a secret service man. She spent the rest of the time visiting with her mother at the gray-stone house where the President was stricken 20 days ago.

Hungry Children Die After Foraging For Food In Alleys

NEW ORLEANS — UP — Two small brothers, who spent their childhood begging and scavenging for food in garbage cans, apparently died of eating contaminated food obtained in one of their alley forays, authorities said Friday.
The boys, Lawrence Baughman, 7, and his brother, William Jr., 6, died Thursday in Charity hospital. They were found critically ill in a shabby one-room apartment where they have lived in squalor with their five sisters and their parents.
Parents Are Charged
The father, tall, thin William Baughman, a 29-year-old unemployed longshoreman from Bogalusa, La., said illness had kept him from work. He and his wife were charged with criminal neglect of their family and contributing to the delinquency of juveniles. William was the first to die in the hospital. His last request before dropping into a coma was for a "ham sandwich, I'm so hungry." His brother died a few hours later.

Oil Progress Climax To Be Banquet Here

Oil Progress Week activities will be climaxed tonight with the crowning of the queen, a speech by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd at the annual banquet and a barbecue tomorrow afternoon.
Shepperd was to arrive in Pampa shortly after noon today. He will spend the night at the home of Pampa attorney Curtis Douglas, and return to Austin tomorrow in a Cabot Co. airplane.
The banquet will be held at the high school cafeteria beginning at 7:30 p. m. The speech by Shepperd will be tape recorded for broadcast over station KPDM following the broadcast of tonight's football game between Pampa and San Angelo.
The six Pampa High School girls who are candidates for Oil Progress Queen will be presented at the banquet, and the queen will be announced at that time.
The candidates are Johnnie Smith, Mary Immon, Carol Roundtree, Mary Kennedy, Raina Storms and Rhona Finkelstein.
A few tickets will be available at the door tonight.
Tomorrow, a barbecue will be held at Recreation Park beginning at 4:30 p. m.

Reds Compare Midwest, Siberia

SEATTLE — UP — Eleven tired Russian housing officials arrived here by air Thursday night convinced that the Midwest "looks like Siberia."
"We realized that when we crossed what you call 'Plains' and found 15,000 feet it reminded us of spots in Siberia and Kiev," said V. S. Tomofeyev.
"From that high altitude your Mississippi and Missouri Rivers look like the Volga," said V. N. Galitzky.
Seattle is the sixth city visited by the delegation studying United States methods of housing construction.
The group will spend two days studying logging and building methods in the Pacific Northwest.

Tot Vanishes In Indiana

CRANE, Ind. — UP — The best hope for three-year-old Ronnie Weikamp Friday was that he had been kidnapped by someone who wanted a little boy.
Otherwise, military and civil authorities feared, the lad might well have been the victim of a sex criminal.
Ronnie vanished from this southern Indiana village shortly before noon Tuesday. A shoulder-to-shoulder search by at least 1,000 people over a 10-square mile area failed to turn up a clue to his fate.

Alexander Graham Bell Should Use Phone Now

By H. D. QUIGG
NEW YORK — UP — If Alexander Graham Bell were alive now and trying to get a call through the modern business jungle:
(Phone rings - 1 office of Watson, Inc., and Watson switchboard operator answers.)
Operator — "Watson, Ink. G. Manning."
Mr. Bell's asst. secy. — "calling Mr. Watson, Pleuz."
Operator — "Which Mr. Watson, pleuz? Mr. Watson Junior, or old Mr. Watson, Senior?"
Bell's secy. — "Just a minute pleuz." (There's a wait of five minutes during which Watson operator misses several calls, causing Watson executive to light up like bulbs. Finally, "I want Mr. Watson, Senior pleuz." (Operator rings.)
Watson's secy. — "Mr. Watson's office. May I help you?"
Bell's secy. — "May I speak to Mr. Watson?"
Watson's secy. — "Who's calling, please?"
Bell's secy. — "Just a minute, pleuz." (There's a wait, during which Watson secy. removes fingernail polish and re-dabs nails.)
Mr. Watson — "Just a moment, please." (Considerable pause; Bell secy. draws doodles.)
"I'm sorry, Mr. Watson is in conference. May I help you?"
Bell's secy. — "Just a minute, pleuz." (She puts Bell's private secy. on the wire.)
Bell's pvt. secy. — "Hello, Mr. Bell is calling Mr. Watson, it's important."
Watson's secy. — "Just a minute, I'll let you speak to Mrs. Brillig."
Mrs. Brillig — "I'm Mr. Watson's executive secretary, Mr. Watson is very busy. Is there anything I could..."
Bell's pvt. secy. — "Mr. Bell is calling, it's very urgent."
Watson's exec. secy. — "All right, Mr. Watson can talk now. Put Mr. Bell on."
Bell's pvt. secy. — "Mr. Bell is tied up just now. Will you wait a minute, Mr. Watson, while I locate him?"
Watson's exec. secy. (politely) — "You do not have Mr. Watson yet. This is the secretary. We're going to wait for us."
Bell's pvt. secy. (ultra politely) — "Mr. Bell is ready now. Go ahead, please."
Watson's exec. secy. — "Go ahead, please."
Bell's pvt. secy. (sternly) — "No, you go ahead!"
Watson's exec. secy. (steely voice) — "We're not going to go ahead first, Mr. Watson is just as big a man as Mr. Bell. You called us and that makes you 'sposed to go ahead first. So go ahead."
Bell's pvt. secy. — "Not till you tell me Mr. Watson's there, ready."
Watson's exec. secy. (screeches) — "He's ready, he's READY! Go ahead."
Bell's pvt. secy. — "Here's Mr. Bell."
Bell — "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you."
Watson — "okay, Aleck. Be right over."
(Both hang up fast.)

NEW EXPLORATION METHOD

Replacing the conventional shooting method previously used by seismograph crews is this truck known as a thumper. The method was invented by Bernard McCollum of McCollum Exploration which is now working out of Pampa, with the main office in Houston. Dropping on chains every 20 feet, the three-ton chunk of iron detects vibrations that bounce off earth formations which aid in detecting oil.

Composer Is Under Arrest

BIG SPRING, TEX. — UP-Frank Marion Grandstaff, a one-time Tennessee convict who gained national attention by writing the Big Spring Cantata, was being held Friday in the Santa Monica, Calif., jail.

He was arrested in the California city after leaving Big Spring while free on bond, an investigator for the Big Spring district attorney's office said.

Wisconsin previously has sought the return of Grandstaff from Texas on the contention that he violated a parole from the Wisconsin penitentiary. Grandstaff denied the accusation and declared he had completed his sentence in Wisconsin.

TEC Explains New Benefits

A new unemployment law of the Texas Employment Commission ofers increased individual benefits and eliminates the waiting period, according to Bill Ragsdale of the local commission office.

Formerly unemployed individuals received compensation depending on the amount of wages he had received up to $20, with a maximum of $40. Under the new law, a claimant may receive up to $25 a week, with a set maximum of $600.

Employees that are employed sporadically, such as drillers, are no longer required to file once a month to keep their claim active. Claimants in all cases were formerly required to file claim, wait one week, and continue to file claims each week to receive compensation. The Texas legislature recently eliminated the waiting period, and the claimant is paid for his first week of unemployment for which he signs.

Under the new law, employers will receive notice only in the event the claimant qualifies for unemployment, which will cut out about 44 per cent of notifications and resulting correspondence. In all cases, the employer will have seven days to protest any claim filed.

Methods of handling claims in Austin has been changed to speed up processing.

Formerly the employer was notified of all claims filed that might affect his tax rate (based on the number of claims filed in the past by his former employees). Under the old procedure, he received notice regardless of whether or not the claimant qualified for compensation.

Art Films Scheduled

Pampa will have its first series of art films, sponsored by the Adult Education Program, with a group of six outstanding movies which will show at the LaNora Theatre on the third Thursday of every month.

Ticket sales have gone briskly this past week, and members of the various groups are now delivering the tickets.

The Adult Education group has come close to realizing its goal of 350 tickets. At last report, a total of 355 had been sold or promised. Ticket sales will continue until October 20 and are available from members, Lovett Memorial Library, and the LaNora box office.

A schedule of films is as follows: Oct. 20—"Romeo and Juliet"; Nov. 17—"Desperate Moment"; Dec. 15—"The River"; Jan. 19—"Melba"; Feb. 16—"Mr. Hulot's Holiday"; and March 15 "Gate of Hell."

Marsh Speaks To Lions Club

Speaking before the Lions Club yesterday noon, Cameron Marsh, history teacher at Pampa High School, emphasized the need for unification in Germany.

Marsh prefaced his talk with "Briefly, it's a story of efforts to unite the nation of Germany." Outlining the disunity in the nation from the Middle Ages to the present time, he presented the highlights of their past history. Referring to Potsdam as "the most ridiculous decision the world has ever seen" when they carved up Germany," Marsh continued to praise the work Chancellor Conrad Adenauer is doing to bring democracy to a divided people.

Chet Lander reminded members of the observance of Fire Prevention Week by stating, "Do not smoke in bed, the ashes that fall on the floor may be your own."

A group of four pupils of Mrs. W. D. Waters presented two musical numbers on the piano, all playing at one time. They received a warm applause.

Rev. Richard Crews presented Don Forsha with his membership pin, constitution and by-laws in an induction ceremony.

Four guests were present.

MARGARET

queen was in Scotland, thus keeping the crown clear of the arena of the royal crisis.

Margaret and Townsend spent a quiet morning apart with their thoughts following Thursday night's historic meeting. Their first on record in two years and four months.

A swift gossip-killing statement following the meeting and announcing there would be no marriage would have prevented the rash off anticipation that swept through the empire Friday.

Moreover, Buckingham Palace has an easy route by which it can deny — without even taking official cognizance of them — any erroneous reports or rumors that embarras the royal family. That is barras by giving off the record "gossip" to the two reporters who are regularly stationed at the palace for Britain's two domestic news agencies.

These two men, the only journalists attached to the palace, then write on their own authority that there is no truth or foundation to the report in question.

At no time since the Townsend-Margaret reports began two years ago, have the two palace correspondents ever been counseled to take it easy on a romance. Most significantly, they had no negative guidance Friday.

Texas VFW Chiefs Resent Protests

DALLAS —UP— Veterans of Foreign Wars officials in Texas said Thursday they were "distressed and deeply resent" the Pennsylvania Department of the VFW protesting Dallas as the 1956 encampment site "because of racial prejudices practiced in Texas."

The Pennsylvania Department of the VFW, largest in the country, notified Timothy J. Murphy, the national VFW commander at Kansas City, of its formal protest.

Ted C. Connell, Texas VFW commander from Killen, telegraphed Murphy that the Pennsylvania action "greatly distressed the Texas organization."

Connell said in his telegram that "this opposition apparently arises because of Texas laws concerning segregation." He said the Dallas encampment would offer "adequate facilities for the care and comfort of all delegates attending without regard for race, creed or color."

Quotes In The News

By UNITED PRESS

Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, former publisher of La Prensa, the Buenos Aires newspaper confiscated by the Peron government, on the political situation in Argentina:

"The restoration of La Prensa will be the sign that the flag of freedom is flying again in Argentina. When that day dawns, a newspaper will again be published, dedicated to serve a people that will never forget the moral support given by the free world to the cause of liberty."

The Rev. Roger W. Coon of Santa Barbara, Calif., a Seventh Day Adventist missionary to Africa, on the trend toward Christianity in the dark continent:

"I believe the average West African schoolboy knows more about the Bible than does his counterpart in America."

Fred Hutchinson, newly appointed manager of the St. Louis Cardinals when asked what type manager he is:

"I don't think you can stereotype me as a manager. I don't play bunt every time I'm supposed to."

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery urging a united free world air force and a single war cabinet to be located somewhere in North America:

"We should establish a single political authority for the direction of war. I would put this authority in North America."

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, on the severe housing shortage he saw recently in Korea:

"There is more Communist propaganda in a cold wind from the north freezing a homeless Korean family, than in all the radio broad-casts and pamphlets the Communists send from the same direction."

Gambler Mickey Cohen explaining upon his release from the penitentiary why he planned to go into private business:

"I don't think anybody would hire me."

Dr. Wesley Wissell, LSU speech professor speaking at the convention of the systems and procedures association of America in Detroit:

"Our schools have courses in reading, in writing and in speaking. But it's seldom that you find a course in listening."

U. S. tennis champion Tony Trabert on his decision to turn professional for an offer that could net him $100,000:

"I felt it was an opportunity I could not pass."

Strike Ends At Waco Tire Company

WACO —UP— General Tire and Rubber Co. workers, who went on a sit-down strike when a Negro was transferred into a previously all-white department, went back to work Thursday after a union leader told the men their contract forbade racial discrimination.

What will happen, however, when Ben H. Banford, the Negro, reports for the night shift at 4 p.m. Thursday wasn't disclosed. When Banford first reported on his new job in the tire building department last Monday the white workers quit work and started playing dominoes and cards.

The striking workers met late Wednesday and voted 487 to 154 to return to work on the "graveyard" shift at midnight Wednesday. And although the union didn't officially say so, indications were that the white men would work right alongside the Negro in his new department.

Banford, who had been employed in the company's receiving department for five years, bid for and won a vacant job in the tire building department under conditions set out in the CIO United Rubber Workers union contract covering General Tire production and maintenance workers here.

Newsmen were not permitted to attend the union meeting Wednesday but it was reported that union leaders told the workers they would have to abide by terms of the contract.

The contract negotiated here by Local 312 of the union provides that no qualified worker shall be discriminated against in bidding for a vacant job because of race, creed or color.

The workers reported to the plant on schedule for all of Tuesday's shifts, but refused to work. The plant virtually was deserted Wednesday except for the brief period when workers reported to draw their pay for the partially-completed week's work.

Banford, himself, was unavailable for comment but his wife told a newsmen, "Ben's not allowed to talk until it's over." She wouldn't say, however, who ordered Banford not to talk.

Sen. Johnson Praises Fair

DALLAS —UP— Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who along with House Speaker Sam Rayburn was honored Thursday at a state fair luncheon called the fair "both an inspiration and a challenge."

Johnson said the fair "tells us that harsh and bitter words are not the best cement to hold together a strong and enduring structure. It tells us that mutual understanding and common effort will bring us to heights greater than any we have known before."

Johnson said the state fair contained in "one neat package... the finest fruits of our agriculture, industry and commerce."

Before attending luncheon he predicted that the next session of congress would seek a solution to the farm problem that he called the most pressing faced by the lawmakers.

Johnson, recuperating from a heart attack several months ago, said he had been invited to meet Oct. 20 in Washington with administration leaders for a conference on foreign policy.

"I'll follow my doctor's advice about making the trip," he said.

Regarding the nation's farmers, Johnson said "business profits are up; take home pay is high; there is prosperity for about everyone except the farmer."

"FIGHTING BRAIN" FINDS, TRACKS, KILLS FOE—Spread out in front of an F-94 fighter are components of the Hughes Aircraft Company's complex "seek-find-and-kill" system. It enables the interceptor to locate enemy aircraft at long range regardless of visibility, directs the pilot to fly the shortest course to a point where rockets are to be launched, then fires a salvo at the correct instant to score a hit. Inset diagram shows principal elements of the system. Radar transmitter sends out pulse through antenna. Pulse is reflected from target back to antenna and fed through radar receiver to computer. This electronic "brain" puts data on pilot's scope telling him how to steer a correct attack course. At precise moment, computer releases rockets to destroy the target.

European Women Look Better From Behind, Says Mitchum

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD—UP—European women look better from behind, Robert Mitchum, world traveler, has decided but from the front view he thinks they're over-advertised.
This is one observation of foreign culture the out-spoken actor has to make about Europe after a 4 1/2 month tour of the continent.
Mitchum insists he enjoyed his sojourn while he starred in a full-length movie version of the popular TV series, "Foreign Intrigue." As he puts it, "I can enjoy myself in a closet."
Yet he has a few other well-honed remarks about Europe that might quiver the travel agencies across the pond.
He thinks Europe is noisy, the citizens money-grabbers (except in Spain), the food not so fabulous, the beaches dirty and the dry cleaning terrible.

"The prettiest girls are right here in the United States," the traveler said as he slouched, eyes three-fourths closed, in his chair.
"A lot of good behinds over there. But I didn't see any good-looking girls."
"You look down the Champs Elysees in Paris and a pretty woman is one of two things—a prostitute or an American, some Smith College tourist."
Not too long ago Mitch was a near-penniless itinerant hopping a freight to California. But today the continent-hopper lounged in a French sidewalk cafe (Eberly Hills version), sipping French pernod (best described as a lethal soda) and discussing life in Europe. He even tossed around French and Italian phrases as easily as the unprintables that often pepper his conversation.

"In Genoa they were refurbishing the sewer system outside my hotel and the Italians were talking at the top of their cultured baritone voices," Mitchum said.
"The Swedes are a little embarrassed to be caught working so they work at night—cutting rock in the streets. In Paris I could hear somebody rattling cups outside our hotel door. It turned out to be the rate downstairs. You can hear everybody."
"I came home to California," he said, "to get a good night's sleep." Then there was "livestock crawling around the salad." And his sons didn't like the trip because "the milk had lumps in it, and their eyes got infected from swimming at the French Riviera—the sewer-empties there."
"People were always short-changing my wife," he continued. "Except in Spain. They don't cheat. They're too proud."
"The Swedes are kind of smug and superior. The Spaniards are gracious and wonderful. It's great for a public freak like me to walk around Spain. They enjoy your being there."

McCarthy Says Not Hostile To Harvard Prexy

BOSTON—UP—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy denied Tuesday that he felt any "hostility" for President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard University, but said he still had "no respect for the man."

McCarthy testified under cross-examination at the trial of a former Harvard psychologist charged with contempt of congress for refusing to name his old associates in the Communist party.

Attorney Calvin F. Bariett, counsel for Leon J. Kamin, 27, sought to show that McCarthy's Jan. 15, 1954, interrogation of Kamin in Boston was an attempt to expose communism at Harvard to the "glare of publicity" because of the senator's "hostility" toward Pusey.

McCarthy said exposure of communism was "always in the back of my mind" but it was not the "primary purpose" of the inquiry. He said his main purpose at the one-man hearing was to "eliminate Kamin from defense work. He was a radar technician."

AIR-MINDED—Mrs. Zaddie R. Bunker, 68-year-old great-grandmother, was recently certified by the Civil Aeronautics Authority to fly multi-engine aircraft. The vigorous, Palm Springs, Calif., flier started flying three years ago, "just for fun." Since then she's logged 401 flying hours, flying across the country twice.

Kamin is a psychologist now doing research at Queen's College, Kingston, Ont. He has filed an affidavit denying that he ever worked on classified government contracts, particularly while he was an admitted paid Communist functionary between 1945 and 1950 at Harvard.

Federal Judge Bailey Aldrich granted Kamin permission to return to his work in Canada, after Thursday's session and remain away for the rest of the trial.

Harvard has told the United Press it has accepted no classified research work since World War II except for a mobilization study at the business school during the Korean war.

Increases were shown for only eight commodities—grain sorghums, up 6 per cent; peanuts, 30 per cent; cattle, 2 per cent; sheep and lambs, 12 per cent; mohair, 45 per cent; eggs, 2 per cent; milk and milk products, 2 per cent; and fruit and vegetables, 14 per cent.

Income from corn over the eight-month period remained substantially the same as last year, the research bureau said.

On the average, prices received by farmers in August were unchanged from July, but were 5 per cent below August, 1954.

Springfield, O., has become a printing capital. It sends out an average 16 to 17 million magazines a month.

Farmers Get Less For Products

AUSTIN—UP—Texas farmers received 6 per cent less for their products in the first eight months of this year than in 1954, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported Thursday.

The research bureau reported income from 19 of 19 major farm commodities declined from the January-August period last year.

Decreases were posted for cotton, off 10 per cent; cottonseed, 25 per cent; oats, 19 per cent; flaxseed, 61 per cent; rice, 32 per cent; calves, 21 per cent; hogs, 19 per cent; wool, 24 per cent; and poultry, 3 per cent.

S. Cal - Wisconsin Game Is Top Inter-Sectional Go

By UNITED PRESS
Southern California and Wisconsin, Rose Bowl rivals three seasons back, clash under the lights at Los Angeles Friday night in a big inter-sectional game that opens a weekend of college football that otherwise will be devoted mainly to conference games.

Southern Cal's Trojans won that 1953 bowl battle, 7-0, for the Pacific Coast conference's only victory to date in the nine years of its bowl pact with the Big Ten.

But this time the odds-makers figure Wisconsin, unbeaten, untied, and ranked eighth nationally despite the graduation of fullback Alan Ameche, will win. They rate the Badgers a six-point choice over the speedier, once-beaten, 19th-ranked Trojans.

Southern Cal is anxious to take this one to atone for its stunning 7-0 upset last week at the hands of Washington, a loss that knocked the Trojans out of the top 10 in the nation.

Denver-Utah Rated Close
A tight battle is expected in the only other major game on Friday night's arc-light program, a Sky-line Conference battle in which Denver, the host, is a two-point pick over Utah. Each team carries a 3-1 record and in each case the lone defeat was by a single point.

The big Saturday program finds the nationwide emphasis switching for the first time this season from inter-sectional games to conference warfare.

Michigan, Maryland, and Oklahoma, the current "big three" in the national football rankings, set the stage for the day by sticking within their own league. And all three are heavy favorites — Michigan by 21 points in its Big Ten opener against three-times-beaten Northwestern; Maryland by 21 over North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference; and Oklahoma by 28 to score its 23rd straight victory as it opens its Big Seven season against Kansas.

However, Notre Dame, the nation's No. 4 team and not a conference member, is the favorite in the nationally televised "game of the week." The unbeaten, untied, unscathed — or Irish invade East Lansing, Mich., to face Michigan State, the nation's sophomore-studied No. 11 team which is burning to avenge last year's 20-19 loss.

Some Important Conference Play
Georgia Tech, Texas Christian, and UCLA, ranked 5-6-7 nationally, will be occupied with important conference matters. Tech is a seven-point choice over Auburn (ranked 17th) as Auburn shoots for Southeastern Conference glory with its strongest team in years. Texas Christian, the nation's leading rushing team, is a 10-point Southwest Conference favorite as it shoots Jimmy Swink and Co. at Texas A&M; UCLA, last year's national champion, is favored by "only" 19 over Pacific Coast Conference rival Stanford, which it crushed last year 72-0.

Unbeaten, untied, unscathed over Navy, ranked No. 9, and besides Notre Dame, the only independent in the top 10, is a 13-point favorite over Penn State.

In other major games, Baylor and Washington are rated even, Wyoming is favored by seven over Tulsa; Kentucky seven over Mississippi State and Mississippi 13 over Tulane in the Southeastern Conference; Colorado seven over Kansas State and Missouri seven over Iowa State in the Big Seven; Houston 13 over Oklahoma A&M in the Missouri Valley; Texas three over Arkansas and Rice six over SMU in the Southwest.

TOP BOBCAT — Marvin Lasater, 175-pound San Angelo halfback, has jumped to a commanding lead in District 1-4A totals against Midland last week. He is a two-year letterman senior who will start against Pampa Friday night.

By BOB MILBURN

San Angelo Standard Times
San Angelo — The San Angelo Bobcats, season hopes blasted by two consecutive defeats, hope to right themselves in District 1-4A play here tonight against the Pampa Harvesters.

The Bobcats, who at the end of their first two games with Fort Worth North Side and El Paso High were the highest-scoring team in the state, ran afoul with Arlington Heights of Fort Worth and Midland the past two weeks.

The Cats beat North Side, 50-0 and El Paso, 50-0 but lost a heart-breaker to Arlington Heights, 21-20, and to Midland 35-27 in the 1-4A district opener last Friday night.

Actually, the Midland game was tighter than the score. The Bobcats, trailing by only one point (28-27) and owning the ball on the Midland 23 with four and one half minutes left, had a pass intercepted that changed the picture and sent the bulldogs on to another touchdown. Before the game was over, San Angelo had a "charged up" back go over for another score only to have it nullified on a holding penalty.

The Concho Clan will be without the services of junior starting tackle Marcus Milliken and reserve end Brian Barber. Milliken injured an ankle in the Midland game while Barber was hurt in the Arlington Heights contest. Neither will suit out this week.

The Bobcats will use their usual multiple offense against Pampa with Marvin Lasater, senior 175-pound halfback running and passing. Lasater is the boy that works tackle opposite Stanley Gill, 185-pound senior. Jack Butler and Kenneth English, both 165-pound lettermen, are the guards with Charles Terrell, 215-pound senior letterman, at center.

The San Angelo eleven rates tops in the passing offense after only one district game and rate third in the total team offense. They have done well on passing defense since they are in the third spot only one place below Pampa. They are weak on team defense as they hold the eighth spot in that category.

They have attempted 25 passes and have completed 14 for a percentage of 56% while they have had only two intercepted. Pampa, on the other hand, has attempted two and have completed only one for a percentage of 50%. The game will hurl a strong offense against a strong defense.

The Pampa Pee Wees got careless at Harvester Park Thursday afternoon and allowed the Dumas Little Demons to cross their goal line for the first time of the season. They had a punt blocked on their own 11 yard line and allowed the Dumas club to score.

The final score, however, was 34-6 with the Pee Wees on the top side. Jackie Collins led the eighth graders to their fourth victory of the season with several outstanding offensive plays.

He got loose, over tackle for 50 yards for the first touchdown of the game and came right back and tossed a 30 yard aerial to end Craig Winborne for the second counter. The extra points were made by Collins and Marvin Cooper.

The third Pee Wee touchdown came when Johnny Campbell plunged over from the three to give the Pampa scrappers a 21-0 halftime lead.

Marvin Cooper came through for the fourth counter for the eighth graders when he went off tackle for three yards and paydirt. Collins attempted to run the point over but failed.

The Dumas club got a break in the third period when the Pee Wee second stringers got a punt blocked on the 11. The Dumas boys got fired up with the chance to score on the Pee Wees for the first time this season and managed to go over in four plays.

Time Out With Tom
By TOMMIE ELLIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

WELL IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN
The Harvesters are ready after a good night's sleep and a light workout Wednesday, but they are probably in worse physical condition than they have been all year. I see Cecil Reynolds was limping the other day at practice. Sharp, Kirby, Cooper, Simmons and Don Allen will be out this week.

We still think the Harvesters will give the San Angelo Ball club a better game than most fans think. The statistics show that the Harvesters have one of the top defensive teams and the Bobcats have the third rated offensive team in the 1-AAAA district. It will mean a good test of both teams' power.

We think the Harvester defense will hold the Cats while the Green and Gold offense will get to rolling over the weak defense of San Angelo. Our prediction of the score is Pampa 27, San Angelo 21.

OTHER GAMES In the district this week will find the strong Lubbock Westerners, who were defeated last week by the Odessa Bronchos, facing the once beaten Borger Bulldogs. Abilene romped over Borger last week 35-6. Both teams will probably be up this week after their defeat last week. We pick Lubbock 20, Borger 13.

Odessa and Abilene will fight it out for the top spot in the district this week when the Eagles invite the Bronchos into their nest at Abilene. Odessa is rated above the Eagles in offensive statistics since their win over Lubbock last week but they don't have the defense to hold Abilene. We think Abilene will top the Bronchos 33-19.

THEN WE HAVE the Amarillo-Midland contest at Amarillo. The Midland victory over San Angelo last week gave the Bulldogs top honors while the Midland club sets in the sixth slot. We pick Amarillo over Midland 14-13.

IN THE SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE we think Texas will defeat Arkansas. Rice will sneak by SMU and TCU should win a good ball game with Texas A&M. Baylor should take a tough victory over Washington.

Last week Texas didn't do so hot with Oklahoma and they will probably have a hard time with Arkansas. Rice bowed to the SMU ball club last year 20-6 and they will be out to win this one. Texas A&M will be out to avenge the 21-20 licking they took at the hands of TCU last year but won't have the stuff.

IN THE BORDER CONFERENCE — The loss of Ronnie Mills, fullback for the West Texas State Buffaloes, will hurt coach Frank Kimbrough's chances to cop conference honors but not enough to permit the Aggies of New Mexico A&M to topple them. We will give Arizona the edge over Texas Western and Hardin - Simmons should stop North Texas State. We think San Diego State will slip past Arizona State. Texas Tech is idle this week.

IF YOU WANT TO HEAR the Texas - Arkansas game Saturday afternoon Radio Station KPON will have it. The game will start at 1:30. Saturday night SMU - Rice contest will be on at 7:45 and the Detroit-San Francisco affair will be broadcast Sunday evening at 8.

Bruins In Run For Rose Bowl
SAN FRANCISCO — UP — This week's key to the Rose Bowl in the Pacific Coast Conference race features UCLA versus Stanford — but if the experts are right, it should be no contest. The Bruins should win in a breeze.

However, the ever-optimistic Coach Chuck Taylor of the Indians hasn't given up.

"We've got a chance," he smiles. Asked how he thought Stanford, a twice-beaten team, could upset the mighty Bruins, Taylor says: "We could do like Maryland did. Stomp on them."

While this game will have an important bearing on the conference title, two important inter-sectional games share the spotlight.

Friday night, the University of Southern California Trojans come off their 7-0 lacing by Washington to tangle with unbeaten Wisconsin in the Los Angeles Coliseum; and Saturday Washington puts its perfect record on the line against a good Baylor team from the Southwest Conference. While neither of these games has any bearing on who will go to the Rose Bowl, both promise good football with some effect on the national ratings.

In other conference games California meets Oregon at Portland and Idaho entertains Washington State at Moscow. Oregon State goes outside the map to play College of Pacific and San Jose, the other top independent, travels to take on New Mexico.

Shockers Upset Big A's Yannigans
The undefeated Pampa Shockers coached by Weldon Trice and Bob Field, had to come from behind in the last minute last night at Amarillo to upset the once beaten Yannigans, 20-18.

The Yannigans came through early in the first frame to rack up two touchdowns and take a 15-0 lead. Robert Robinson scored the Yannigans first counter and halfback Jimmy Cobb came through for the second. The extra point attempt failed which eventually meant the loss of the game.

The Shockers took the kickoff in the second period and marched for 30 yards only to loose the ball on a fumble on the one. The first Yannigan attempt to run the ball was a pitch out which Dale Lake covered in the Yannigan end zone for the first and only Shocker counter in the first half.

Robert Warren scored on a 30 yard run around end early in the third period to give the Shockers a lead of 13-12. The score terminated an 80 yard drive without giving up the ball after the halftime kickoff.

The two clubs played it back and forth in the remainder of the third period and into the fourth. The Yannigans got loose again in the fourth for another score when Robinson got six more points to make the score 18-13.

"The Shockers got lucky," said Coach Trice, and managed to toss a pass to Robert Warren for the final counter to win the game. The pass came from Buster Baird to Warren who caught the pigskin in the end-zone. That put the Pampa eleven ahead 20-18.

The strappy B-squad from Pampa attempted with success, an on-side kick off and managed to run the clock out to end the game victorious.

The Shockers play the Borger Bulldogs in Borger next Thursday night at 7:30.

Daley in Line
PROVIDENCE, R. I. — UP — Bill Daley, the manager of welterweight Vince Martinez, says he has agreements for Martinez to fight welterweight king Carmen Basilio or Tony DeMarco. Basilio and DeMarco meet at Boston Nov. 30 with the title at stake.

Patterson Scores KO
LOS ANGELES — UP — sensation young Floyd Patterson, No. 1 light heavyweight contender from Brooklyn, N. Y., scored his eighth straight knockout of the year Thursday night when he leveled Cal Brad of Los Angeles in 2:38 of the first round at Olympic Auditorium's main event.

A crowd of 6,480 watched the 20-year-old Patterson continue his march to a possible title fight with Archie Moore.

Patterson, a prohibitive betting favorite, went to work on Brad midway in the opening round of the scheduled 10-rounder; after the Californian had bothered him momentarily with a flurry of left hooks.

Using left hooks and right crosses, Patterson knocked Brad down for an eight count midway in the round. As soon as Brad got up he ran into Patterson's relentless attack.

A left hook floored Brad again. This time he did not get up and was counted out.

Patterson weighed 175 and Brad scaled 174 1/2.

'Frantic Frankie' On The Ball
CHICAGO — UP — Frank Lane's friends in the Chicago press, radio and television fields had first-hand proof Thursday that they were right in dubbing him, "Frantic Frankie."

Lane, new general manager of the Cardinals, invited them to a "farewell luncheon" Thursday only to have to interrupt it six times to answer telephone calls.

The calls were from Buzzy Bava of the Dodgers, Horace Stoneham of the Giants, Muddy Ruel of the Tigers, John Quinn of the Braves, Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, and Larry MacPhail, former owner of the Yankees.

Result: No feeds, no trades, but a lot of laughs.

T.C.U.-Ag Go May Highlight Season

By UNITED PRESS
 Although the conference campaign in the Southwest Conference has briefly started, one of the climactic games of the season should be unreeled at Fort Worth Saturday afternoon when the unbeaten TCP Horned Frogs host the Texas Aggies.

Two other conference games find University of Texas against Arkansas at Little Rock in the afternoon and Rice versus Southern Methodist at Dallas at night. A lone intersectional tilt pits Baylor against University of Washington at Seattle.

TCU, Rice and Texas are slim favorites to cop the big ones, but so evenly are all the teams matched that few would be surprised if any or all of the games went against the odds.

The TCU Horned Frogs, ranked sixth nationally after four straight victories, are favored by 7 1/2 points over the Aggies; Rice gets a 3 1/2-point nod over SMU, and Texas is given a 2 1/2-point edge over Arkansas. The Baylor-Washington game is rated a toss-up.

The teams begin tapering off in drills Thursday.

The Texas Aggies, in the best condition since their opening game with UCLA, will fly to Fort Worth tonight for the big game against TCU.

The Aggies are in near perfect physical condition with only two men—ends Dean Meeks and Roger Hobson—unable to play.

Point returns and protection for the punter were emphasized in a brisk Rice Owl workout. The Owls ran through a dummy scrimmage with all players suited up and ready for action against SMU tomorrow night in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Jess Neely slated another workout in Houston Friday before the Owls board a 5:30 p.m. train for Dallas.

SMU sharpened its offensive maneuvers and both the first and second units turned in spirited performances. Considerable time was devoted to goal line defenses as well as kickoff returns.

At Austin, Texas Coach Ed Price named guard Herb Grey, center Johnny Tatum and tackle Bob Tucker as tri-captains for the second straight week to lead the Longhorns against Arkansas at Little Rock.

Some With Injuries
 Halfbacks Mickey Smith and Ed Hawkins, fullback Larry Graham and guard Mike Trant probably will miss the game with injuries. The 43-man Texas squad was scheduled to leave Austin by plane Friday morning and arrive in Little Rock in time for a workout at War Memorial Stadium.

Their opponents, the Razorbacks, held a light workout, drilling primarily on passing, punt returns and punt protection.

Reserve guard Neil Martin is the only Razorback unable to play because of injuries.

Forty Baylor gridders left Waco early Friday via chartered airliner for Seattle and Saturday afternoon's date with the undefeated University of Washington Huskies.

Coach George Sauer's Bears worked out lightly Thursday, emphasizing the offense.

Three players who had been on the disabled list—guard Dugan Pearce, tackle Bill Parsley and end David McNair—look part in the action.

Sauer indicated all three would be available for duty.

Reds Seek Weight Crown Today

MUNICH —UP— Russian weight-lifters, off to their expected fast start, will seek Friday night to win a third straight title in the world amateur championships.

As anticipated, the Russians won the bantamweight and featherweight crowns and they also are considered a strong entry in Friday night's lightweight division. Once that division is completed, however, the United States' entries in the heavier classifications will be expected to give the Russians strong competition.

Rafael Tchmichkian followed up Vladimir Stogov's opening night triumph in the bantamweight division by winning the featherweight title with a total lift of 770 pounds — equalling his own world record. Tchmichkian, an auto mechanic, lifted 225.5 pounds in the two-armed press, 236.5 pounds in the two-armed snatcher that counted officially and 308 pounds in the clean and jerk. There were no U.S. entries in the division.

TCU-Aggie Game On TV

FORT WORTH —UP— Living room quarterbacks got a break Thursday when it became definite that the TCU-Texas A&M game Saturday would be televised.

Every last one of the 36,881 seats in Amon Carter Field Stadium had been sold Thursday morning, according to ticket manager Bruce Craig.

Thus, TCU had only to certify to the NCAA that every seat had been filled to get a video approval.

KFJZ-TV (Channel 11) has had a camera crew in the stadium for two days, working out the mechanical problems.

The TV station and the Humble Company and TCU had agreed

Georgia Star Jimmy Orr Not 'Play For Pay' Boy

TODAY'S SPORTSFRONT
By BILL FERGUSON
ATLANTA —UP— Georgia's Jimmy Orr, a pass-receiver supreme, is the answer to critics who charge that college football is no longer a game for kids who like to play.

When Jimmy came to Georgia as a freshman he was no more than a young man who wanted to get an education and play football. He paid his own way to do just that.

Playing college football wasn't easy for the somewhat frail native of Seneca, S. C., but he wanted to play real bad, and now he's considered one of the best prospects to show up at the Georgia campus in a long time.

Orr, who started out this season, his sophomore year, as about a fifth or sixth stringer, right now is one of the nation's most effective pass receivers and Georgia's leading offensive weapon.

The six-foot, 180-pounder has snared 13 passes good for 274 yards in four games. Three of the passes were good for scores. Last week against North Carolina his two touchdown receptions started the Bulldogs toward their most impressive win of the season.

While his pass catching has been sensational, he's had surprisingly few chances to run the ball from his halfback post. When Georgia Coach Wally Butts wants to start the Bulldogs moving through the air sends in Orr and battery-mate Dick Young, the second string quarterback.

Although Georgia's opponents by now know what's coming when Orr gets in the game, their best efforts don't stop the sure-handed receiver. He somehow gets in the clear on almost every play that counts.

"I don't do anything special," said the modest 19-year-old, "I just go where I'm supposed to, and most of the time, I'm all alone."

"I think it's the coach's fine pass patterns that have gotten men into the clear so many times. Those patterns drive the secondary wild."

Butt's pass patterns are certainly the finest in the South, and possibly the best in the nation, but the fact that Butts now makes his patterns work out for Orr to be in the open where he previously broke the ends loose is a testimonial to Orr's ability.

"I'm really nuts about football," Jimmy admits, "I'd like to play just as much as I can, on defense and on offense, running or catching the ball. Anything, just so I get to play."

The general opinion around Dixie is that Orr will get to play, plenty,

tonight for the big game against TCU.

The Aggies are in near perfect physical condition with only two men—ends Dean Meeks and Roger Hobson—unable to play.

Point returns and protection for the punter were emphasized in a brisk Rice Owl workout. The Owls ran through a dummy scrimmage with all players suited up and ready for action against SMU tomorrow night in the Cotton Bowl.

Gary Dearen, 140 pound Junior quarterback, will be guiding the Harvesters in their game with San Angelo tonight. The newcomer to the Green and Golders' roster is replacing Buddy Sharp who was injured early in the season. He is shown here as he worked on his passing earlier this week. He will be calling his fifth game of the season and of his career. (News Photo)

Sammy The Owl is Missing

HOUSTON —UP— Sammy the Owl, an eight-foot high paper mache football mascot for Rice Institute, was missing Friday. Circumstantial evidence immediately pointed to Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Rice's football opponent Saturday.

But now authorities aren't so sure.

An anonymous telephone caller to the institute said, "Don't worry, Sammy will be back—all painted red and white—at Rice's homecoming game with Arkansas Nov. 5."

LINCOLN FOR 1956

Longest... Lowest... Most Powerful Lincoln of all time!

Here—pictured the way you see it as it sweeps majestically by—is the new one that's been turning so many heads. And no wonder.

Lincoln for 1956—the longest, lowest, roomiest, most powerful Lincoln of all time—is far and away the newest car on the road.

It's a larger, more luxurious Lincoln—obviously. And from hooded headlights to jet-pod exhausts, the refreshing, clean-lined Lincoln look goes beautifully with this great new size. Inside, greater size means more room, and the leg-room, shoulder-room and hat-room (all increased) comfortably belie the snug-to-the-ground lowness of Lincoln's new silhouette.

And that's just a starter. Match this new Lincoln against any other fine car—on luxury, on safety, and especially on performance—and you'll soon find out why we say this car is the finest in the fine car field.

Most important of all, this new Lincoln is never too proud to prove all we say. Come in any time and take a few turns behind the wheel.

The only completely new car in the fine car field

- New 285-hp Lincoln engine with more usable power than any other car
- New Lincoln Turbo-Drive—most versatile, most obedient of all automatic drives
- New firm, yet gentle ride and effortless handling ease
- New individualized interiors—29 to choose from
- New safety all around you: Retracted steering column with Safety-Flex steering wheel... triple strength safety-plus door locks... optional safety belts... largest windshield area in any car.

Unmistakably... the finest in the fine car field

Mary Lewis, Hotel Owner, Was Born In One 77 Years Ago

WASHINGTON—UP—It was only natural that Mary Catherine Lewis eventually would drift into the hotel business.

The lovely lady was born in the Grand hotel in Cincinnati 77 years ago. Her granddaughter and her father and her husband were hotel people. And Mrs. Lewis right now is celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Lewis Hotel Training School here, the only one of its kind in the world. She and her staff train everything from the sweepers of the lobby carpets to the bellhops to the housekeepers.

Her father was steward for Abraham Lincoln, when he was president.

"Dad," Mrs. Lewis told me, "used to go out to the barn every morning, hitch up the boys and drive down to the Centra Market to do the shopping. It was his job to buy the meats and vegetables and the extras. My father was a good hand at thumping a melon to test it and he didn't waste the government's money. He made sure he had made a good buy for the table of Abe and Mary Todd Lincoln."

Those were in the days of nine to 14-course dinners, and Mrs. Lewis' dad had himself quite a big daily chore.

In her school, "Mrs. Hotel" teaches the new help how to handle and influence people. As an example she tells bellhops they should enter a room first, turn on all the lights, pull up the shades and inspect the room. The guest always is right behind the lugger of the bags.

"In hotel business, by the way," Mrs. Lewis said, "we consider the word 'tip' means to insure promptness." The prompter and the politer the bigger the tip."

Mrs. Lewis married Clifton Lewis after he had hired her as a salad tosser. Lewis at the time was steward at the old Gordon hotel.

"I really tossed him a salad," she said, "lots of them."

One of the funniest things that ever happened to the Lewis' was in 1912 when they were opening the spanking new Powhatan hotel, now the Roger-Smith.

"We had everything all set," Mrs. Lewis said. "And at the last minute we discovered that our li-

Phone Strike Threat Eases

ST. LOUIS—UP—An official of the CIO Communications Workers Union, representing 51,000 employees of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said Thursday that company willingness to resume bargaining has eased the threat of a strike.

Frank P. Lonergan, assistant director of the union's Sixth District, said company representatives had "given indications, for the first time in a month, that they sincerely wished to explore the situation."

Negotiations were resumed Thursday at the company's suggestion, with the union now asking an average 10-cent an hour wage increase. It earlier demanded a 15-cent increase with a one-year contract, against a company offer of a 5 1/2-cent raise excluding some employees, in a two-year contract. Union members recently voted 7 to 1 to authorize a strike if necessary to enforce wage demands, and the union's international executive board approved the vote. No strike deadline was set and negotiations are expected to continue as long as there is a possibility for a settlement.

ETCC to Meet on Friday
DALLAS—UP—The East Texas Chamber of Commerce will hold its fall meeting of the board of directors in Dallas next Tuesday to coincide with East Texas Day at the State Fair of Texas. Charles P. Brown of Athens, ETCC president, said more than 70 board members are scheduled to attend the two-day meeting.
