Agent Writes Of Farm Fires

In keeping with Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15, Kern Granstaff, assistant county agricultural agent at Carson County, wrote The News a letter, advising of the hazard of fire on farms. Granstaff says, "Farm fire losses in the United States in 1954 were estimated at $157 million, 12 per cent greater than in 1953. Every year, such fires cost the lives of about 3,000 farm people. These great losses of life and property are, in a large measure, preventable. A little more care, knowledge, or imagination can avert tragedy. The highest per cent, 49.5, of farm fire damage is to the home. Some of the causes are: defective heating and cooking equipment, careless use and handling of flammable liquids, overuse of the electrical system, poor lightning rod system, children playing with matches, careless smoking habits and rubbish. Barns suffer 38.1 per cent of fire damage. Causes of fires in barns and outbuildings are: spontaneous ignition, defective electrical systems, lighting, careless use and storage of flammable liquids, such as gasoline and kerosene, whose fumes will settle to the ground and not up, and smoking." Mrs. Mattie Elizabeth Watkins died at 9 p.m. Tuesday in Highland General Hospital. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Fellowship Baptist Church, Pampa, with Rev. Gerald Martin, pastor, and Rev. Hugh Atkinson of Duncan, Okla., officiating. Burial will be in Mobeetie, under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home. Born Feb. 28, 1892, in Hopkins County, she moved to Pampa from Leaky in 1950. She resided 8 miles east of Pampa with her husband, G. W. Watkins. Other survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Mattie Mae Newman of Pampa, Mrs. Gertie Lee Hawkins of Portales, N. M., Mrs. Elva Ring of Pampa; and seven grandchildren. Pallbearers will be Jess Godwin, Roy Huff, George Winegar, Buster Burney, Clarence Malone and Herman Gantz.

Florence Sets New Channel Swim Record

DOVER, England.—UP—Florence Chadwick battled through fog, icy waters and stinging jellyfish and waded ashore on a French beach Wednesday with an all-time record for swimming the English channel from England to France. The San Diego, Calif., stenographer completed her fourth and fastest crossing in 13 hours and 55 minutes to trim 11 minutes from the record set last Aug. 27 by Briton Bill Pickering. The France-to-England record, 13 hours, 45 minutes, was established by Fearnley Wheatcroft in 1938. Miss Chadwick had barely dried out when she announced that she has had enough of the channel, where the surface air was a cool 46 degrees. Timing Doubted Miss Chadwick was clocked unofficially by French reporters who said she had missed the men's record by a heart-breaking three minutes though breaking the woman's record. But Mrs. Kaye Law, an official observer of the Channel Swimming Association, reassured the angry swimmer the French timers began her swim from St. Margarete's on the Dover coast at 10:23 a.m. Tuesday and reached the French shore at 12:18 a.m. Wednesday. "The official time is 13 hours, 55 minutes and this will be put before the Channel Swimming Association," Mrs. Law said. To Approve Record Police Inspector Bill Floyd, association secretary, said the observer's report will be approved as a matter of routine.

TV May Reduce Nation To Bundle Of Flabby Monsters

By WILLIAM EWALD NEW YORK.—UP—TV watching in the opinions of some doctors surveyed by a manufacturer, may reduce the nation to a bundle of flabby monsters—fully equipped with squint, squat and stoop. That's the warning from the home institute of Travler Corp., an outfit which manufactures electronic equipment and which recently completed questioning some 500 doctors about television. According to the poll the doctors look on TV with a dim eye, a condition that might possibly be caused by their own video squint. They see a future world in which each man will look a little like an untidy salami. A Unique Specimen Basing their conclusions on information that the average viewer spends some five hours a day (and even more on weekends) ogling his home screen, the majority of the sawbones decided that homo sapiens 2055 will be a unique, if that is the word, specimen. He will be hunched-over, bleary-eyed and misshapen. His legs will be shorter, both of them atrophied from lack of use. One arm will be larger than the other from over-exercising the muscles in constant eating. And his waistline will bulge inelegantly. Right now, said the doctors, the average American doesn't exactly rank as a physical charmer. The majority of citizens are guilty of sloppy posture. But the slippiness is getting worse as the result of our slouching and loitering in front of TV sets. This, they pointed out, puts an added strain on the heart, compresses the lungs and wrinkles the living room couch. And this, in turn, cuts down the circulation, makes breathing more difficult and results in upholstery problems. Need Eye Baths Eye-strain the doctors agreed, was another serious television headache, to mix a metaphor or something. They recommended adequate light in the screening room and frequent glances away from the TV set to keep the orbiculi jellies from curdling. Also eye baths. As for the eating problem, the doctors advised viewers to give the go-by to goodies like popcorn, candy and such. Instead, they suggested radishes, cucumbers, celery, and raw cauliflower. This, it might be pointed out, will not only cut down on the viewer's weight problems, but make it impossible to hear the commercials. TV, the doctors recognized, has become as much a part of the American way of life as hotdogs, baseball and same-day cleaners. But unless television addicts mend their ways, said the docs, the man of 2055 would be a mess. As for the man of 1955, they've just about given up on him—he's too much of a mess already.

State Will Pay Mixed Schools

AUSTIN.—UP—A sharply improved feed supply has resulted in many Texas farmers and ranchers delaying fall marketing of stock to pick up increased poundage, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday. In its weekly crop and weather bulletin, the USDA said winter grazing prospects from wheat and oats pastures were materially boosted in the low rolling plains by additional rains. "Native grass in that area, the High Plains and Trans-Pecos was coming along and will make considerable feed if frost holds off," the USDA predicted. On the high plains, dusted-in wheat was reported making "excellent grazing" but only "limited grazing" was expected until early November. In favored South Texas areas, new range grass was coming along fast with some already making a seed crop. "All classes of stock were picking up on improved range feed," the USDA said.

Cold Front Hits Texas

A cold front headed into the Panhandle and North Texas Wednesday and was expected to drop temperatures by 10 or 15 degrees by nightfall. Forecasters said the front would bring a few showers with it, but that they would be brief and that the weather would clean up later in the day. The front was expected to affect only the Panhandle and North Texas and was scheduled to arrive about mid-day. The only rainfall reported in the state during the past 24 hours was .29 of an inch at Corpus Christi, .05 at Galveston and traces at Fort Worth and Dallas. Dalhart reported the low overnight reading of 47 degrees. Temperatures ranged on up to 76 at Galveston. The range Tuesday was from 93 at Presidio to 44 at Sherman and Lubbock.

Waco May Operate Bus Line

WACO, Tex.—UP—The city of Waco moved to take over bus service temporarily almost simultaneously with announcement of resignation of the manager of strikebound Waco Transit Corp. The strike by bus drivers and mechanics, to enforce demands for shorter working hours without a reduction in pay, meanwhile went into its 44th day. Resignation of Tom Green as manager of Waco Transit Corp. was announced Tuesday. H. R. DeTourney, operating manager of American Transit Corp., owner of the Waco firm, said Green's health would not permit him to continue his present duties. Green was out of town on a short vacation trip and was not available for comment. Waco aldermen held a meeting Tuesday afternoon with top officials of American Transit and asked Waco Transit Corp. to surrender its franchise so the city could provide temporary relief in the bus strike stalemate. Businessmen have complained that the bus strike is hurting trade in the downtown area.

Levine's Observes 28th Anniversary

New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana. The chain recently has opened stores in Cleburne and Beaumont. Store employee benefits include paid life insurance; health and accident insurance; profit shares; vacations with pay and sick leave. Levine's, one of the city's oldest stores still owned by its organizers, moved first to a small building by the White Deer Land Co. office, and then to its present location at Cuyler and Foster. The present site has been expanded several times. Since then, Levine's, like Pampa has grown. Twenty-eight years ago, Morris Levine, who organized the Levine stores with his brother, Bill, used to sleep in a stock room of the South Side store, and used to keep the store open nearly 24 hours a day. Harry Lipshy, now a Levine vice president, succeeded Morris as manager here. Present store manager, Philip Shelton, works with 20 full-time employees and several part-time sales persons. Of the 20 full-time workers, 10 have been with Levine's from 5 to 18 years. Levine now has 33 stores in Texas,

Water Group Elects Head

GALVESTON.—UP—A. F. Mitchell of Corsicana has been elected president of the Texas Water Conservation Association, succeeding Judge Guy C. Jackson Jr. of Anahuac. All other officers were re-elected Monday night at the association's 11th annual convention at the Galveston Hotel. Mitchell, a large landowner in Wharton county, is a rice farmer and has oil interests. He is a director of the Texas Power & Light Company. Next year's convention city will be decided in January at a meeting of the association's executive board.

Michigan, which seized the No. 1 spot in the national ranking by drubbing Army 26-2 last Saturday opens its quest for the Big Ten championship this week against three-time loser Northwestern. Despite some doubt that injured star end Ron Kramer will play, Michigan is a whopping 21 point favorite.

Here's how the odds-men regard the other favored teams in the top 10: Georgia Tech (No. 5) seven over Auburn (No. 17) in an important Southeastern Conference clash; Texas Christian (No. 6) 10 over Texas A&M; UCLA (No. 7) 19 over Stanford; Wisconsin (No. 8) 6 over Southern California on Friday night; and unscored-on Navy (No. 9) 13 over Penn State.

Other Game Odds Here's how the odds-men size up the other big weekend games: Intersectional—Baylor and Washington even; Boston College 10 over Detroit; Wyoming 7 over Tulsa; Pittsburgh 14 over Nebraska; Indiana 20 over Villanova. East—Princeton 8 over Colgate; Yale 7 over Cornell; Brown 7 over Rutgers; Army 21 over Syracuse; Harvard 1 over Columbia.

Southwest—Texas 3 over Arkansas; Rice 6 over SMU; Houston 13 over Oklahoma A&M. West—Denver 2 over Utah; Washington State 7 over Idaho; Oregon 3 over California; College of Pacific 6 over Oregon State.

Michigan State will carry a 2-1 record into their nationally televised "game of the week" with Notre Dame, which hasn't been scored upon the three games this season. The grid rivalry between Michigan State and Notre Dame dates back to 1897.

Michigan State, hungry for an upset over unbeaten Notre Dame, will bring in full strength Saturday, barring injuries during practice sessions this week. The Spartans came out of the Stanford game, which they won 35-11 last Saturday, practically unscathed.

And coaches believe first string tackle Pat Burke, who sat out the Stanford contest with a bruised knee, will be ready to go against the Irish. Burke, a sophomore who justified his pre-season buildup in Michigan State's first two games against Indiana and Michigan, worked out with the first string Monday night.

But victory, though sweet, is not paramount with good-guy Bennie. In the off-season he refuses to make the banquet circuit to coax players to Michigan. "I don't want any guy on my team no matter how good he is if he is shopping for a football job," he emphasized.

There was no special pointing for Army's legions, who had won every game played since the series started in 1945. But the Wolverines were ready. "It is an odd feeling getting ready for a big game like that

BACK TO WORK—Buddy Sharp, the Harvesters' starting quarterback who has been out since the season began with a knee injury, is back to work this week. He is working on his plays and passing and staying out of contact work. He will be out of action for the San Angelo game this week but it is hopeful that he will be able to go against the high flying Abilene Eagles in Harvester Park October 21.

Oosterbaan Named Coach Of Week

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—UP—There was a frustration of many years. Even with an authentic reputation as a national football power, there was one team they couldn't beat.

Oosterbaan, who takes matters in stride in an ulcer-producing profession where most guys don't dare to relax from September through December, admits "that was one of the real big victories for us since I took over as coach back in 1948."

But it didn't surprise him. "I think we're capable of doing better," he reasoned. "We haven't had a long sustained march yet, not even in the Missouri game when we scored 42 points. I'd really like to see a few of those 70 and 80 yard drives."

Oosterbaan, who was named coach of the year in his first season, could be heading for the same honor again because the victory over the Cadets boosted Michigan to the top in the weekly ratings of the United Press board of coaches.

But victory, though sweet, is not paramount with good-guy Bennie. In the off-season he refuses to make the banquet circuit to coax players to Michigan. "I don't want any guy on my team no matter how good he is if he is shopping for a football job," he emphasized.

PROTESTORS—Arms interlocked, Japanese women sit in a human chain to halt land surveyors in the old farming village of Sunakawa. The blockade was to protest the expansion of the U. S. Air Force's Tachikawa Air Base, just outside the village. The proposed runway would cut into the people's homes.

PUPPY STYLE—The pitter-patter of tiny feet in the Harry Howe home in Richfield, Minn., can be attributed to the six offspring of the family's pet miniature pinscher. Their feet were stilled long enough for them to hold this pose.

GOING UNDERGROUND—Reminiscent of war-time "Bailey Bridges" are these structures in Rome's Piazza Colonna, erected temporarily to carry the area's traffic. Meanwhile, workmen swarm beneath the streets to build pedestrian subway crossings for the busy intersection. Looming in the background is the impressive column of Marcus Aurelius, topped by a statue of St. Paul.

COACH AND PUPIL—Capt. Royce Flippin of the Princeton football team and coach Charlie Caldwell get together during a practice session at Princeton, N. J. The experts have pegged Flippin—who passes, runs, and kicks like a star—as a potential All-American. Caldwell certainly hopes they are right.

RRING
BIG - BUST KURGLE WARM!

Susie Q. Smith

I WANT A CHILD'S FIRST READER.
I SEE THE DOG. DO YOU SEE THE DOG? THE DOG SAYS, 'BOW WOW.'
DOG NOT SAY 'BOW WOW,' PAPA. DOG SAY 'GROW! ROW!'
I THINK HE'S READY FOR SOMETHING MORE ADVANCED!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE

CERTAINLY IT'S POISON IVY - MY BROTHER GOT IT ALL OVER OUR WHOLE FAMILY ONCE! DON'T YOU TOUCH A THING - GET THESE OFF AND GO RIGHT UP TO BED!
DON'T EVEN TOUCH THE STAIR RAIL AS YOU GO UP!
WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

IF I'M LATE FOR WORK - HEAR MURMURING? MY WORD! WHY DON'T YOU FOLLOW MY EXAMPLE AND GREET THIS PERFECT AUTUMN DAY WITH A LITTLING LYRIC? CLARS - ONE'S THROAT!
DOES THAT BIG WALRUS HAVE TO HOLD THE BATH ROOM LONG ENOUGH TO BELLOW AN OPERA? - THEN PARADE TO AN ELEVATOR JOB LOOKING LIKE EASTER SUNDAY?
IT OFF MY PAY - AND WITH THE OTHER SHAVINGS, MY TAKE HOME EGG WILL BE A SACK OF ROASTED PEANUTS!
GENTLEMEN, DO I HEAR MURMURING? MY WORD! WHY DON'T YOU FOLLOW MY EXAMPLE AND GREET THIS PERFECT AUTUMN DAY WITH A LITTLING LYRIC? CLARS - ONE'S THROAT!

Steve Canyon

GOTTA DO IT! - IT'S THE ONLY FAIR THING!
STEVE REARMS THE CENTER OF THE STREET - WHEN THE POLICE PROWL CAR, WITH LIGHTS OUT, MOVES OUT OF THE SHADOWS...
HEY! WHAT TH...?
THAT'S ONE LINE, CHIEF! WE BEEN WATCHIN' YOU - WATCHA DOIN'?
JIM - LOOK! POLICE CAR - WHAT'S WRONG?
OH, JUST SOME DRINK, PROBABLY! - LET'S WALK AROUND THE BLOCK BEFORE I HAVE TO RETURN YOU TO YOUR LAND - LADY!

Vic Flint

ISN'T IT EXCITING, VIC... THE ORCHESTRA TUNING UP AND EVERYBODY DRESSED TO KILL?
CURTAIN TIME MINUS ONE MINUTE, LIBBY.
NUNZIO'S IN HIS DRESSING ROOM OR SHOULD I SAY IN A MOOD. HE HASN'T EVEN SPOKEN TO ME SINCE HIS ARRIVAL!
OH, THAT MAN!
NUNZIO WILL YOU PLEASE GET OUT THERE - THE CLUB-TAIN'S GOING UP!

Little Doc

WOW! SOME ARTIST! LOOKS REAL ENOUGH TO DRINK!
MAY I HANG IT IN MY HOME, LIL DOC? SURE, CINDY.
CAREFUL - THE PAINTS NOT YET DRY!!

Wash Tubbs

MEANWHILE WASH TUBBS HAS ARRIVED IN THE HILLS A FEW MILES ACROSS THE BORDER...
AN HOUR BY AIR FROM OJAWABA, COKE! IT'S 400 MILES FURTHER BY DIRT ROAD! AND WE WEREN'T SPOTTED IN THIS AREA!
GLAD TO DO IT FOR AN OLD PAL, BUT I THINK YOUR PAY IS CHEAP! IT MEANS A LOT TO YOU TO GET BACK IN THE STATES!
I PAID YOU PLENTY, LEFTY! IT'S LUCKY FOR US BOTH YOU ESCAPED TO MEXICO WHEN THEY BROKE UP OUR GANG AND PUT A PRICE ON YOUR HEAD!
THIS OVERLOOKS THE TRAIL WHERE WE AMBUSH ROYCE AND HIS SISTER TOMORROW, FRANKIE WILL MEET US HERE FIRST WITH THE DETAILS OF THEIR FINAL PLANS!

Boots

MR. ROD! DORY! WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE?
YOU WANT THIS SHE-DRAGON? SHE'S DORMI - AN SHE BITES!
ANYONE ELSE IN HERE?
JUST HER BOSS! SOME BUM NAMED SMIRKOWSKI ON TH' PHONE - BUT HE'S WENT!

Mickey Finn

-AND LOUIE WANTED SOME GOOD GOLFERS TO TEST THE CLUBS IN REAL COMPETITION - SO I AGREED TO USE 'EM IN THIS TOURNAMENT -
-AND I DIDN'T KNOW THEY WERE THE WRONG CLUBS UNTIL I GOT THE TELEGRAM ON THE 18TH TEE -
FROM THEN ON, I WAS THINKING HOW DISAPPOINTED LOUIE MUST BE - INSTEAD OF CONCENTRATING ON MY SHOTS - AND YOU KNOW HOW I ALMOST BLEW UP!
-IT'S PROBABLY JUST AS WELL IT HAPPENED, HOWEVER, BECAUSE I WAS PRETTY HOT TODAY - AND IF THEY HAD BEEN LOUIE'S CLUBS, I MIGHT HAVE HAD A SCORE THAT NOBODY WOULD'VE BELIEVED!

Freckles

IT TOOK YOU AN AWFULLY LONG TIME TO SAY 'NO' TO THAT GIRL, FRECKLES!
SHE'S OKAY, POP, BUT I DIDN'T WANT TO HURT HER FEELINGS DURING TWINK SEASON!
WHEN I WANTED TO GET RID OF A PERSISTENT GIRL WHOM I WASN'T PARTICULARLY FOND OF I'D ALWAYS INVENT AN IMAGINARY PERSON NAMED MILLIE EDGAR!
SO THAT'S THE GIRL YOU WERE ALWAYS TALKING ABOUT BEFORE I MARRIED YOU!

Susie Q. Smith

WELL!!! DID YOU FIND OUT HOW I RATE WITH YOUR SISTER?
YEAH! I LOOKED IN HER DIARY.
SORRY PAL! IT'S BAD NEWS...
SHE'S CRAZY ABOUT YOU!
