Foster and were in Pampa yesterday for a short visit. (News Photo)

Bomber Explodes In Texas Skies

MARLIN, Tex. — UP — A B-47 jet bomber capable of carrying an atomic bomb to almost any part of the world and carrying "considerable classified equipment" exploded and crashed over a three-mile wooded section of Central Texas Tuesday night.

The wreckage was in such small pieces that there was nothing left which even looked like an airplane, unless you were familiar with one, a spokesman at the James Connally Air Base at Waco said.

The bodies of the three crewmen aboard the plane when it left Biggs Air Force Base at El Paso were found Wednesday about three-quarters of a mile from pieces of the scattered wreckage. Highway Patrol Dispatcher Phil Leaser received the report at Waco, but said no other details were immediately available.

so dense that search parties from Connally Air Base had to make their way on foot through the trees and underbrush.

The Air Force refused to permit civilian volunteers to take part in the search.

The Connally spokesman said that there were no bits of flesh nor pieces of bodies on or near the wreckage.

Fixtures For McLean Clinic Okayed

The Highland General Hospital board of directors approved a list of permanent fixture items for the McLean Clinic at their monthly meeting yesterday evening at 6 o'clock in the basement of the hospital.

This was to comply with the request of the Commissioners Court to make up a list of material to be used in each department of the clinic.

Included among the approved material for the X-ray room is a model KX-22 generating unit, X-ray equipment, and an exposure counter. The dark room will contain photographic equipment, an all-steel secretarial desk, letter and card files and other office equipment.

The consultation room (or Doctor's office) will be equipped with an executive, all steel desk, a letter file, and other items. Aluminum or steel arm chairs will equip the reception room, along with a round table and an electric refrigerator. Equipment approved for the laboratory includes a centrifuge and microscope. Brooklyn furniture will be used in the treatment room which will contain an instrument cabinet, an examining and treatment table, and a sterilizer cabinet. All furniture color will be specified.

A Martin all purpose table with a master base will be used in the surgery room, which will also be equipped with a castle light, a stainless steel instrument table, and an instrument cabinet. Bed rooms will be furnished with mattresses, straight chairs, and bedside cabinets.

In other action of the board, the Commissioner's court was authorized to withdraw $50,000 from the Highland hospital account and to place the sum on a time deposit.

The quarterly audit, prepared by Nensiel and Doggett, and monthly bills were approved.

Famed Twin Group Visits Brother Here

Pampans saw two sets of twins on the Groucho Marx show sometime last December. The unusual thing about it was the fact that twin boys married twin girls and have lived as one family for 36 years with one car and one bank account.

Those twins were brothers of Dr. Harry J. Loveless 601 W. Foster. The ladies are sisters of Mrs. Ed Greer, Spearman. They were in Pampa yesterday for a short visit during their vacation.

Loveless family, composed of Dr. and Mrs. H. M. and Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Loveless is well known around the United States and is one of the most unusual families in the nation.

They traveled for 10 years as a singing quartet and made appearances in well-known theaters. They are now confined to television appearances and have been on nationwide TV shows from Hollywood several times and one time from Chicago.

The men are veterinarians and work together on jobs. They maintain one bank account and live as one family. They travel in one automobile when they go. Both the men and their wives are identical twins. They now reside in Modesto, Calif.

UF Gifts: $33,456

The United Fund campaign total in Pampa now amounts to $33,456. The total was arrived at following a count of yesterday's and this morning's contributions, according to Mrs. Emmett Gee, secretary of the United Fund.

The lagging drive will continue in Pampa until an announced goal of approximately $47,500 is reached. It is hoped that the goal may be achieved in the near future so that the seven participating agencies may form plans for their operation next year.

Paul West Has Heart Attack

Paul West has suffered a heart attack in Lubbock. According to information received here this morning, he rested well last night after being placed in an oxygen tent following the attack.

West was in Lubbock for a physical check-up when the attack occurred. He was placed in the Methodist Hospital in that city.

West has been chairman of the United Fund campaign in Pampa. Charlie Cook and Johnny Campbell will take the reins of the drive in the absence of West. West is manager of the Video Theaters in Pampa.

Crash Probed By FBI

Agents Seeking Sabotage Evidence

DENVER — UP — The FBI Wednesday began a search for evidence of sabotage in the explosion of a United Airlines DC-6B in which 44 persons were killed last week. The investigation presumably would entail an exhaustive check into the backgrounds of all passengers and crew members on the plane, crewmembers who had access to the plane at Denver and the origin of air freight shipments.

The FBI was called into the case Tuesday after the Civil Aeronautics Authority became convinced after a week's intensive study that a "bomb type" blast caused the tragedy.

The CAA found definite evidence of an in-flight explosion but no sign that a mechanical failure or malfunction was responsible.

Investigation of Sabotage

Webb Burns, FBI agent in charge at Denver, said he was conducting a "preliminary investigation to uncover evidence of sabotage or any other violation of a federal statute."

If any such evidence is found, Burke said, "we will proceed with a criminal investigation."

The plane crashed near Longmont, Colo., 35 miles north of Denver, only 11 minutes after takeoff the night of Nov. 1. It was en route to Seattle-Wash., with 39 passengers and five crew members.

CAA Chief Investigator James N. Peyton said Tuesday there was evidence in the wreckage that a cargo hold in the belly of the plane was blown apart. Some parts of the wreckage and luggage had an acid odor, like gunpowder, Peyton said.

Union Offers Reward

The AFL Flight Engineers International Association, which is on strike against United Airlines, already had announced a $1,000 reward for "information leading to the arrest of any person causing the alleged explosion."

Union President William D. Kent said the rumor of sabotage aboard the plane "impelled" the union to offer the reward.

But United Airlines has said it does not believe there was any connection between the explosion on the plane and the strike of its flight engineers.

Ike Talks To President Of Guatemala

By MERRIMAN SMITH

DENVER — UP — President Eisenhower talked Wednesday on "mutual problems" with President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala in his Fitzsimons Army hospital suite.

Mr. Eisenhower will wear pajamas and bathrobe.

The conference probably will be Mr. Eisenhower's last official function in the hospital room he has occupied since he suffered a heart attack on Sept. 24. The President will fly back to Washington Friday.

Mr. Eisenhower awoke "feeling refreshed and in a cheerful mood" again Wednesday morning after a good night's sleep of more than eight hours. The 8 a. m. cat medical bulletin said "his condition continues to be satisfactory."

Castillo Armas was scheduled to arrive at Lowry Air Force Base in President Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine III, at 11 a. m. The Guatemalan president will be accorded full military honors at the base, and then will be driven to Fitzsimons to see the convalescing American chief executive.

Immediately after the hospital conference, Castillo Armas was to return to Lowry Air Force Base and fly by Military Air Transport Service to Houston, Tex., arriving there about 5:30 p. m. cat.

Castillo Armas, the wiry little colonel who led a successful revolt against Guatemala's Communist-infiltrated government last year, was accompanied to Denver by his wife, Guatemalan Foreign Minister Domingo Goicoechea Villacorta, and Herbert Hoover Jr., U. S. under-secretary of state.

ENTERPRISE PAYS OFF, BUT WHAT A SHOCK TO COPS

OKLAHOMA CITY — UP — A smooth talking swindler sold parking space at 50 cents per car to 50 motorists in the police station parking lot. He vanished before any policeman checked the parking lot directly in front of the police station.

Other Turncoats May Try Return

By PETER HAYES

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — Three former soldiers, free of charges they collaborated with the Communists while prisoners of war in Korea, said Wednesday 18 other turncoats still in China may now decide to come home.

The ex-GIs were freed Tuesday on a federal court order issued 24 hours after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that the Army has no right to try civilians for offenses committed while they were soldiers.

The three were William Cowart, 22, of Dalton, Ga., Otto Bell, 24, Hillsboro Miss., and Lewis Griggs, 22, of Jacksonville, Tex. They were arrested last July when they returned from China to the United States.

Coward mentioned how the Chinese Communists said the 21 turncoats who defected to China that they would be sentenced to death if they went home.

Now Free to Return

"When we came back there was something to keep them there," Coward said. "Now there's nothing to keep them from coming home. I know they'd like to be back."

Wearing sharply pressed slacks and sports coats, Cowart, Bell and Griggs stepped out of the guard house at Fort Baker across the Golden Gate less than two hours after Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman issued a writ of habeas corpus.

They drove to San Francisco with their attorneys, George T. Davis and Harold Brown, and checked into a hotel. They planned to leave for their homes as soon as they could arrange for transportation.

Davis indicated he may fight for back pay for the three. He said it would amount to about $12,000. He pointed out that the dishonorable discharge ordered for the turncoats while they were in China did not specify forfeiture of pay accumulated while they were prisoners of war in Korea.

JayCees Told To Support Pancake Feed

Johnny Campbell yesterday urged the Junior Chamber of Commerce to participate in the Pancake Supper, a money-raising project sponsored by the club, slated for Friday, Dec. 2, after the Santa Day Parade.

Quaker Oats, manufacturers of Aunt Jemima will appear in performing the hot cakes for the occasion. Company representatives will act as advisors on the project. Aunt Jemima will appear in person to participate on the program.

All proceeds from the supper will go toward the free dental clinic set up in Highland General Hospital. Bob Carmichael announced that dental equipment has been partly installed along with an X-ray machine, and that the clinic is expected to be open within the next 10 days.

"This is the most important project that we've had an opportunity to sponsor," Campbell said. He urged that everyone cooperate to make it a successful annual project. A steering committee was formed, after the meeting, to work out details for the supper.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Bob Carmichael, publicity and promotion chairman; Dr. Bob Sybert, ticket sales chairman; George Neef, griddles and material; Joe Gidden, location and arrangements; Dr. Harold Meador, cooking and cleanup; Pat Patton, serving and clean-up; Solon Bunnell, attendance; and Charley Willerson, special features. Other members of the steering committee are: J. C. Hopkins, co-chairman, John Jones, Ray Duncan, and Ronald Waters.

Pegler's Wife Dies In Rome

ROME — UP — Julia Pegler, 52, wife of American newspaper columnist Westbrook Pegler, died early Wednesday of a heart attack while vacationing here with her husband.

Pegler personally announced the death of his wife after informing relatives. He said the body would be flown to New York en route to the Pegler home in Tucson, Ariz.

The couple had been vacationing in Italy for more than a month.

Mrs. Pegler was the former Julia Haxman, a former top reporter on the New York Daily News. She and the famous columnist were married Aug. 28, 1922.

GOP Forces Hold Control Of New Jersey Legislature

By HERBERT W. CHESHIRE

WASHINGTON — UP — Significant gains in state and local elections Wednesday gave Democrats new power in "grass roots" political organizations for the 1956 presidential campaign.

Democrats retained the governorship of Kentucky and control of the mayor's office in Philadelphia. They also won a majority of mayoralty races in Indiana in a major setback for Republicans and scored local gains in Connecticut and upstate New York.

But Democratic forces failed to wrest control of the New Jersey state legislature from the GOP.

Leaders of the two parties were sure to differ on the significance of Tuesday's balloting. Although the elections involved no national contests, the outcomes were watched closely as the first test of voter sentiment since the Democrats captured congress in 1954 and since President Eisenhower's heart attack.

Chandler Wins In Kentucky By Big Margin

By TOM E. GISH

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — UP — Former Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler pushed his way back into the national political limelight Wednesday by winning the Kentucky governorship with what may be an all-time high vote.

Chandler's lead edged above 100,000 early Wednesday with returns in from 2,344 of Kentucky's 4,914 precincts.

The count was Chandler 300,741; Republican Edwin R. Denney 200,706.

Chandler had an excellent chance of bettering the record margin-of-106,000 run up by former Gov. Keen Johnson, a Democrat in the 1939 governor's race.

Come as Surprise

Chandler's tremendous victory margin came as a surprise to Kentucky political observers because the one-time governor and former senator ran up his vote without any help from Kentucky's present governor, Lawrence W. Wetherby.

Nationally, Chandler's victory is expected to play a part in the 1956 Democratic national convention. As governor, Chandler will lead Kentucky's delegation, a circumstance not expected to help the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson.

Chandler is looked upon as member of the southern conservative Democratic wing opposed to Stevenson.

The Chandler victory, however, might keep the chances of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.). There have been widespread reports here that Chandler looks upon Kefauver with favor.

Carries Slate to Victory

Chandler carried with him to victory a complete slate of nine Democratic state officials, also won easy control for his party in the general assembly.

Flag Display Urged Friday

The businessmen and citizens of Pampa have been strongly urged to display the American Flag on Veteran's Day, Nov. 11.

Bill Craig, commander of the local V. F. W. unit; John Frisby, commander of the local American Legion unit; and Ed Myatt, president of the chamber of commerce, voiced an appeal this morning to patriotic citizens of the Top of Texas area to display their patriotic flag on Friday by the raising of flags.

No official programs have been planned for the observance of the special day in honor of America's war veterans. Nov. 11 was formerly designated Armistice Day.

Chess Expert Due In City Wednesday

George Koltanowski, who has visited with thousands of chess clubs in the last 25 years, will give lecture, simultaneous match, and blindfold exhibition Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m. in Lovett Memorial Library auditorium.

He is chess editor of the "San Francisco Chronicle" and "Los Angeles Daily News," along with five other west coast publications. The Belgian "quiz kid" learned chess at the age of fourteen; he soon became a recognized international chess master and has traveled the world over, amazing audiences and playing the game.

About 20 players are expected to play him — all at one time — next Wednesday night. Members from the Amarillo Chess and Checkers Club and from the Tri-City Chess Club of Borger are expected to play him along with about 15 Pampa players.

"We're expecting a good crowd for this big chess event of the year," says Dr. R. H. Rutledge, club president. Everyone is invited to attend the affair, including spectators and participants alike. No admission charge will be made.

A welcoming committee was formed last night by the Pampa Chess Club to greet him upon his arrival. Officers will take him to a steak dinner before the match. Coffee and cookies will be prepared, and served during the intermission by a committee.

The memory expert is slated to speak before the Pampa Lions Club on the next day.

January Draft Calls For 8,000

WASHINGTON —UP—The Defense Department Tuesday issued a draft call for 8,000 men in January. All will be assigned to the Army.

The Navy, which started to draft men this month, will skip a draft call in January and resume again in February.

The January call will bring to 1,994,430 the number of men drafted since the Korean war started.

Government Surplus Disposal Is Suggested By Demo Solon

FORT WORTH —UP— A complete and orderly disposal of the tremendous government surplus of "food and fiber" over a four or five year period was suggested Tuesday by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), who formerly served as secretary of agriculture.

Anderson made his suggestion in a speech prepared for delivery Tuesday before the annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation at Fort Worth.

He suggested it as one means of stopping the drop in farm income, and said he intends to introduce a bill at the next session of congress to that effect.

He said such a bill would require the Commodity Credit Corp. to present to congress within 30 days a program for "the orderly but complete liquidation of surplus Commodity Credit stocks."

'Bring Back Market'
Anderson said, however, that he did not mean the stocks should be disposed of in "one month or one year, but the mere announcement that they will be liquidated in four or five years will bring the buyers of commodities back into the market."

Anderson said such a program might involve giving the surplus away—"putting great quantities in the hands of people in other lands who could not otherwise afford to buy them."
But, he said, he saw nothing wrong with this.

"These billions in food and fiber could implement our foreign policy far better than supplying arms to the Arabs or to the Israelis," he said.

"Shooting irons placed in the hands of trigger-happy people lead to war, but food and fiber can lead to peace," he said.

'Accumulation Breaks Farmers'
Anderson said the accumulation of such commodities, lying in bins and piling up in storage causes an "accumulation (which) only breaks our farmers. If they are sent abroad and removed from our economy, farm income will spurt forward..."

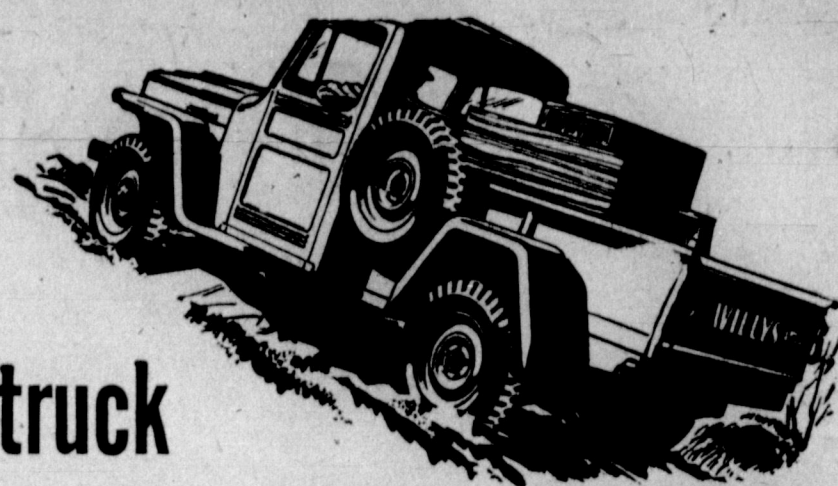

Anderson also suggested that the farm program needed to be taken out of "perpetual political strife." He called for a bi-partisan approach on farm problems.

"We need to quiet the fighting on several farm fronts...we must soon be able to bring all farm organizations to a common position in behalf of the farmer," Anderson said.

RUTH MILLETT Members Initiated During DKG Meet

Letting children grow up and learn to think for themselves and make their own decisions is largely a matter of the parents making concessions.

Wise parents handle this concession-making by sticking to their guns in important matters and giving their children leeway in less important issues.

A mother and father of a 14-year-old daughter have agreed to let her decide whether or not they should permit her to wear lipstick. That isn't for me to decide, but discussing their problem may help them and other parents to face this business of concession-making.

According to the mother: "Our daughter is beginning to take pride in her clothes, hair, etc. Now we are faced with the problem of whether or not to let her wear lipstick."

"She is one of three girls in her class who do not wear lipstick. The other two girls are younger than she is."

"I recall how I loved those first tubes of lipstick of my own and I want her to be able to wear lipstick like most of the other girls."

"Her father, however, says lipstick lowers a girl in his estimation. When she argues that all the other girls are wearing it he says: 'That's the trouble with women. They all must be exactly the same.'"

"Even though he feels that way he has agreed that he will abide by your decision."

Well, the lipstick problem is one of those minor matters. While it means a great deal to a girl it is actually a harmless thing. So if parents can overcome their objections to it and let a daughter decide for herself when she should start wearing lipstick they are really making only a minor concession.

Yet it is an important one for the girl who is taking the first steps toward growing up.

As for the father's saying that the trouble with women is that they all be alike, is it really true that teen-age girls are more sheep-like than teen-age boys?

If the father will look around at the crew cuts, the jeans, the pink shirts teen-age boys are sporting he'll see that they are as much one of a kind as the girls. It's the age, not the sex, that makes being like the others and doing like the others so terribly important.

Members Initiated During DKG Meet

Miss Mary Dean Dozier and Mrs. Perry O. Gault, both Pampa Senior High School teachers, had prominent parts in the program, which followed the 1955 theme of teacher recruitment.

The afternoon session, following a luncheon, featured Mrs. Stella Bryant of Vernon High School as guest speaker.

Twenty-four Pampa teachers-attended the meeting. Mrs. Roy Sullivan is president of Beta Delta, the local chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 19, in Lamar School.

HERE'S A CHRISTMAS STOCKING full of gift ideas for you, the easy-on-the-budget way. All you need is a wee flair for fashion to follow the simple Pfaff Sewing Institute directions for glamorizing inexpensive ready-mades overnight into Fifth Avenue creations. Delight your friends and family with these gifts that you buy for pennies and decorate on your home sewing machine for a "boutique" finish.

YOUR CHRISTMAS dollar will go far when you purchase colorful ribbons to turn into sparkling "dress up" cummerbunds.

You need: Satin or grosgrain ribbon, 3" or 6" wide, in a length double the waist measurement and a selection of sequin strings, seed pearls or miscellaneous "jewels."

To make: On one half of the ribbon, mark lightly in pencil the points where you want to stitch your decoration. This can be done in straight rows, curly-cue, zig-zag or geometric designs. Then attach sequins, pearls or jewels on a Pfaff machine to save hours of painstaking hand work. If you want a more elaborate design, use a machine zig-zag stitch to run metallic thread in - and - around the jewels.

When your design trim is complete, fold the ribbon in half (one half is undecorated), right sides together, and stitch up the two long sides on the wrong side of the ribbon.

Turn right side out and blind stitch the open end. Sew five hooks on one end of the cummerbund and five eyes at the other end to hold the finished belt in place.

A PRETTY BRUNCH coat, trimmed by you, personally, will please Mother on Christmas morning and many mornings after.

You need: Inexpensive brunch coat in the color Mother loves best and in her size. Buy it plain, so you can glamorize it for the expensive "custommade" look.

To trim: Select a contrasting color thread for an embroidery design at collar, pockets and hem. Choose a machine embroidery stitch from the Pfaff guide wheel and set the dials for quick and easy sewing.

Embroider two rows of colorful stitches around the collar and the same on pockets. Repeat the stitch around the hem, doing four or five rows instead of two.

If you are ambitious — and you need not be an artist — trace on brunch coat pocket with art store graphite paper a bird, a flower or a butterfly from a child's coloring book. Then with a very small zig-zag stitch, fill in the design by machine using colored threads just as you would use paint. You'll find it's easy to do and lots of fun.

ONCE YOU HAVE discovered how simple it is to decorate a cloche, you will want to make one for yourself as well as for your friends.

You need: A bright felt cloche base. Untrimmed and unblocked they are quite inexpensive and come in the most delicious colors. Scour the family scrap bag for small pieces of felt and buy a package of colored beads.

To decorate: First cut out two sets of initials from scraps of felt. A dime store stencil will give you perfect block letters 1" or 2" high. Apply the letters front and back to the crown of the cloche. Then stitch "glamour" beads from front to back, too, in three rows to "surround" the letters.

If you prefer, use charms instead of beads. (Most stores sell small packages with a variety of charms in each.) Stitch the charms hit and miss on the cloche and add felt bows in a mixture of colors to the edge of the brim. A Pfaff machine will sew on beads, sequins — even hooks and eyes, saving hours of monotonous hand work.

Wages In The Church

We are indebted to Carl Seet and the magazine "Liberty — A Magazine of Religious Freedom" for much information in the current issue on the so-called minimum wage. Mr. Seet, an attorney of wide experience, has written forcefully of what is happening to the world of religion because of governmental decrees concerning wages.

According to Mr. Seet, the matter of employment within a voluntary agency such as a church, has now come under the baleful eye of a watchful Department of Labor.

It seems that Pilgrim Holiness Church with headquarters in Indianapolis, Indiana, is the parent or general church which has branches in many of the states of the Union. At its headquarters it has been in the custom of preparing certain materials for distribution. Many persons helped in this work. This harmless practice was frowned upon by the Secretary of Labor, who took the church into district court claiming that this religious organization had paid its employees less than the minimum wage, had failed to pay overtime and had failed to keep adequate and accurate records of hours worked. The district court found in favor of the church, but the Secretary of Labor appealed the case, which was taken to the Federal Court of the Seventh Circuit of the United States Supreme Court, convening in Chicago. Here the decision of the district court was reversed, and the church advised that it was in violation of the minimum wage law.

Implications of this finding are profound. The record, for instance, reveals that a number of the church's employees stated that the amount of money they received was secondary to their desire to help spread the Gospel. To them, helping the church was "more than a job." Some of them gave their services as a donation.

But the federal court and the Secretary of Labor have concurred that the amount of money a person makes and what he does with his time is not his own business. It is, according to them, the business of the government of the United States.

And of towering dimensions is this statement by the court: "While the First Amendment to the Constitution does guarantee the free exercise of religion, the right so guaranteed is NOT WITHOUT LIMITATIONS. The individual has the absolute power to believe in any religious doctrine he may choose but ONLY LIMITED POWER TO ACT PURSUANT TO THAT BELIEF." (Emphasis added).

Without going further into the case, it appears to us that the federal court in Chicago has taken a great deal on itself. The First Amendment, which it obviously seeks to limit and subvert, says this: "Congress shall make NO LAW respecting an establishment of religion, or PROHIBITING the FREE EXERCISE THEREOF." (Emphasis added).

Just how a federal court judge can manage to interpret the Amendment so that his statement respecting the "limited" rights of persons in establishments of religion is expected to be valid is beyond our ken. It is apparent that here we have a flagrant case of usurpation of power by a court never intended by the framers of the Constitution.

The Constitution sets NO limits. And constitutionally any of us can give of our labor or anything else in any way we see fit without even incurring the slightest risk of federal displeasure since Congress can make NO law respecting our free exercise of our belief.

This brings to mind the infamous Declaration of Human Rights, a "treaty" of the United Nations, the wording of which is suspiciously similar to the judge's statement.

If the federal government and its courts wish to sow distrust and open rebellion among the American people, they have selected the right way here. We have seen plenty of evidence that the people will not stand for tampering with their rights to worship as they please.

If some persons wish to donate their time and energies to the promulgation and distribution of religious literature we fancy they will do it, government or no.

And if they decide that they want no pay for their efforts, the government will be taking a pretty big mouthful if it expects to establish minimum wage requirements here. We are thinking of church choirs, ushers, charity workers and social helpers, all of whom frequently function within a church without recompense of any kind. Are they to be paid now on the basis of the hours they put in? We think it unlikely.

In times past various kings and emperors sought to invoke just such rules respecting the practice of religion in their countries. Few if any of those governments remain today. But the practice of religion has continued without noticeable abatement. Will the United States now follow in the footsteps of those departed tyrants?

Brainwashing By Brain-Washed Teachers

In discussing recently the subject of the primary tyranny before the Sertoma Club, I contended that the three American turncoats who decided to stay with the Chinese Communists after the Korean armistice were not primarily brainwashed by the Communists while they were in prison.

They were brainwashed in American government schools where they were compelled to study what the brainwashed "educators" wanted them to study. These three turncoats contended that if they had been properly educated in the public schools they would have been able to resist Communism. But it is impossible for government schools to educate against what it is a part of. It is the Tenth Plank of Communism.

Who Is Brainwashed?

Now brainwashing is rather a new term and implies indoctrination and propaganda on people that are in prison or compelled to listen. I would say a brainwashed person is one that continues to advocate a course of action that he will not answer questions about as he would before a court, or can find no other person holding a position of trust who will answer questions without evasion. When a man continues to advocate something that he can not defend or no one else holding a position of trust will attempt to defend, he is certainly brainwashed. He is a victim of his brainwashing.

Another way of spotting a brainwashed person is one that cannot define honesty without admitting he has a double standard. It is doubtful if any government school teacher can define honesty without convicting himself of practicing dishonesty.

Let any government school teacher ask this question: Would it be honest for him to set up a school and use a pistol, or threaten to use a pistol, to make "A" help support this school or leave the territory? It is doubtful if any school teacher is so badly brainwashed that he would say this was honest.

Then how would this brainwashed teacher answer the question as to the number or percentage of people that have to do a thing to make it honest if it is dishonest for an individual to do it? His only answer is the majority. But if the majority can do things that are dishonest for an individual and make them honest, then they are having a double standard. Then they are trying to serve two masters. And remember Jesus said, "No man can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other or will hold to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon."

In other words, these government school teachers are trying to serve aggressive force and love. They do not mix. They are trying to serve tyranny and liberty. They are trying to show appreciation and sympathy and respect for the natural rights of every other citizen and at the same time trying to use a club to take away from their fellowmen, their natural rights to educate their children as they see fit. They are putting themselves in a position of being wiser than God and that there is no God or natural law.

They are attempting to contend that man should get what he wants on a voluntary basis and at the same time practicing that they need not get what they want on a voluntary basis. That they are free to accept money secured by the use of a tax pistol.

Brainwashing Books
If those people who believe in tax-supported schools do not believe that the books used in schools on government and political and ethical subjects are not brainwashing the youth of the land, let them present a book that does not. I have never been able to find them and I have looked at many, many text books used in public schools.

One of the types of text books that has been used in public schools so as not to embarrass the teachers who are trying to serve two masters, is Magruder's "American Government." It has been in the public schools for some thirty years.

On Page 17 this book says: "For us liberty is relative, not absolute." Of course it has to be relative for public school teachers. Because they do not get their salaries on a free or voluntary basis. They want the right to use a tax pistol to get their salaries. They do not want to teach well enough that people will voluntarily employ them.

Liberty is not special privilege or license or chaos. The liberty of our Founding Fathers pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to support is absolute. It is simply that aggressive force is not to be used against or by any individual. That is absolute. Under no circumstances should an individual use aggressive force against another or should another individual use aggressive force against that individual.

Another way of saying the same thing, is that every man is sovereign of himself, no more, no less. That is absolute. Another way of describing liberty so that liberty is absolute and there are no exceptions, is that each man is owner of himself and all he produces, no more, no less.

The preacher at the wedding ceremony was an ardent fisherman and rather forgetful. He asked the groom, "Preacher — Do you promise to love, honor and cherish this woman?" Groom — I do. Preacher — O.K. (turning to the bride) Reel him in.

U.S. Structures Might Someday Rival Europe's

By RAY TUCKER

Rome — A talented but not too well-known sculpture outside of art circles in America and Europe — Benigno Bufano of San Francisco — believes that our great modern structures will be recognized some day as rivaling or surpassing Europe's more famous buildings.

He thinks that New York-Chicago skyscrapers, the university buildings of the South, Middle and Far West and our windowed factories compare favorably with St. Paul's and Westminster in London, Notre Dame and the Chartres Cathedral in France, and the storied structures on Rome's seven hills.

Although born in Italy, Sculptor Bufano emigrated to "the states" many years ago, and is a naturalized citizen. A world traveler, he was an intimate friend of the late Mahatma Gandhi of India.

Bufano created the recently unveiled statue of St. Francis, which stands before the church of the same name in San Francisco. He is now working on three-dimensional mosaics of great Biblical figures — St. Paul, St. Peter, etc. — for the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Calif.

He met many old California newspaper friends when our delegation arrived in Rome. He accompanied us to the private audience given us by the Pope at Castel Gandolfo in the Alban Hills outside Rome.

Although we thought we had numerous distinguished men from the American Congress, Government, Trans World Airlines and the working press, His Holiness singled out the San Francisco sculptor for special honor.

Referring to Bufano's religious representations — and St. Francis is a singular favorite here — the Pope clasped his hands quietly and said, "Bravo" thrice.

Despite his classic and Italianate background, the short, stocky and sun-tanned Bufano insists earnestly that we do not appreciate the artistic validity, the solidity and the beauty of our modern architectural wonders.

He referred particularly to the Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center, the Brooklyn and Golden Gate bridges, Boulder Dam, our university halls and stadiums, and also to the many monuments in Washington.

It was a strange but inspiring viewpoint for our weary wandering group who had worn themselves out in climbing and tramping through Europe's great cathedrals, palaces and art galleries, and gazed in awe at the works of Christopher Wren, Michelangelo, Raphael, etc.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

A mother writes that her 14-year-old daughter complains that her legs hurt her on and off, especially when she has been on her feet a great part of the day. The mother adds that the youngster is less active than most girls of her age and she cannot explain this difficulty, though she worries about it.

There are, of course, several possibilities which may explain the pains which this girl complains of, such as flat feet, or improper posture when standing or walking.

The most likely explanation, however, is that this youngster is suffering from the condition which is commonly called "growing pains" and it is this possibility which will be discussed.

THERE IS some difference of medical opinion on the importance of growing pain. Most who have studied youngsters with this common complaint feel that these vague aches are usually unimportant and only occasionally a serious enough nature to require active medical treatment.

In many children with growing pains the condition seems merely to be caused by growing so fast that the bones and muscles come under some strain.

In such cases, and if the abnormalities are mild and one expects them to be corrected by the passage of time, treatment — at least extensive treatment — is hardly necessary.

Good food, plenty of sunshine and adjustment through normal aging is sufficient to take care of the difficulty.

MORE SERIOUS abnormalities may be present. The help of an orthopedic surgeon in deciding whether braces or other special measures are necessary is then worth while.

A few children with growing pains seem to have something wrong with one or more internal glands. When present this also requires correction.

Selassie's Son Occupied Pegler's German Room

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Hotel Petersberg, Konigswinter, Germany — This hotel, surely one of the most beautiful and luxurious in the world, is the Blair House of the Bonn Federal Government. It is subsidized by federal treasury as a parking place for human beings of the rank of "dignitary" who come to Bonn on political, diplomatic and financial business, all of which really can be lumped under the first of these titles. With their clothes off they are just people of various complexions from Haile Selassie's mock-turtle Maduro to that of the Icelanders who are about to shove in. They are blond, I suppose, although they may be as black as I know. But with the titles and their regimentals on they all personify the vanity of their "states," even the artificial and momentary ephemera, just as the Kaiser used to, and the overworked, worried little English queen still does.

The Russians, also, on such occasions, shoulder loads of glittering junk called orders and decorations which go back into the Kremlin vaults when, at last, they are led out in pajamas and slippers at dawn to get about for treason.

In this hotel, the weary, plaintive Chamberlain said "Peace in our time" after his last, futile interview with Hitler, who jubilated with his crazy court in another hotel called the Dreesen right on the river bank at Bad Godesberg and within plain view of the Petersberg. It is hard to find anyone who remembers anything about those fateful personalities and episodes because our people and the British had the hypocritical gall to proclaim it a crime to believe in National Socialism and to punish offenders by imprisonment and civic and professional disqualification for declaring such belief. Our "denazification courts" were heavily loaded with returned German Communist refugees. They had a field day.

The fact that Hitler liked the Dreesen and often holed up there was held by some to taint the management with criminal attachment to the Nazi party, but the truth is that thousands of Germans bowed to corrupt forces just as bowdlerized front-runners threw in with Roosevelt in their own country. Whoever refused to salute Hitler wound up on Dachau or a reasonable facsimile.

The furniture in the Petersberg is all either beautiful antiques or exquisite reproductions. The chairs are covered in neoprene and this is one of the few hotels in Europe, or the United States, for that matter, which provides plenty of candlepower in the lights without resort to the electrician. After weeks in cramped, gloomy quarters I have been spreading out in two big rooms giving onto a wide, private terrace with a long view of the Rhine and its bustle of industrial shipping; of Bonn with its parliamentary plant, its fabulous new publicity and propaganda building, its Embassies and Ministries, and its University and American golden ghetto and of Bad Godesberg.

My rent is high for Europe but, even with the statutory 15 percent for tips, it is no more than the cost of two rooms in any American hotel professing to be first class on the basis of robust tips are added on a

It turns out that old man Ad-nauer is a Rhinelander himself, a native of this very neighborhood where he has lived all his life only a few miles upstream and looks down on Prussians because they drink schnapps and on Bavarians because they drink beer.

The Negus's son, The Earl, soon took to shortly and ordered his personal goons outside and several times sat there and chatted, probably trying to get a line on things from the little waiter as foreigners often do. When the party finally pulled stakes, the Earl and Countess each gave shortly 150 marks and the Negus slipped him 250, a bonus of about $130 for the five days.

I asked the man if the studios ever provided any outside help to make him and his co-workers glad.

"Oh, mercy, yes," he said. "No one on earth could laugh at some of the things we have to laugh at. I forgot to tell you that we are strapped in our seats, but we are. This makes it easier for the studio help to tickle us under the nose with feathers, tickle our ribs, and do tricks with the bottom of our feet."

I asked the man why he broke out laughing while he was drinking coffee. "You're off work," I said, "so why laugh?"

"It is an occupational disease," he said. "You get so accustomed to laughing at nothing that you can't help it. I nearly got slugged the other night for laughing at the wrong time. I saw a man who was crossing the street get his leg broken by an automobile and all of a sudden I roared with laughter. A cop nearly took me in."

I asked him if there were any differences in wages for the shows he laughed at. "Oh, yes," he said, "I won't mention any names but there are a couple of New York shows that we get paid double to laugh at, and it's worth every penny of it, too."

He started laughing again, and I left.

Fired Up Rice Owls Could Stop The Battered Aggies' SWC Crown Threat Class A Schoolboy Race Boils To Hectic Climax

BRONCHO THREAT

The Pampa Harvesters, under the guidance of coaches Jack Lockett, Dwayne Lyon and Marvin Bowman, had tough workouts yesterday in preparation for the Odessa Bronchos Saturday afternoon at 2. Shown here is fullback Jesse Ring as he takes the handoff from veteran quarterback Buddy Sharp who will be piloting the Green and Golders this week. (News Photo)

By UNITED PRESS

Cold, crisp weather so buoyed the Rice Owls that they staged one of their most spirited workouts of the year Tuesday. Coach Jess Neely might well seek cooperation from the weatherman next Saturday, when his disappointing team takes on high-riding Texas A&M.

Some talk in College Station could sound good to the Owls. The Aggies, bruised and banged up from the Southern Methodist game, worked out in sweat clothes on a cold, rainy day and Coach Paul Bryant said he was disturbed over lack of aggressiveness, explosiveness and timing in the Cadets' last two games.

"If we don't quit flubbing signals and get some explosive speed in the line and backfield," he said, "we won't win another game this season."

Longhorns Snowed Inside

The weather had its effect on the University of Texas team when morning rain and snow forced the team inside, reducing the Longhorns to an afternoon of watching movies, skull practice and election of officers for the Texas Christian Steers.

The Steers, in an expression of obvious hope, named halfback Chester Simcik one of three co-captains—along with quarterback Charlie Brewer and tackle Bob Tucker—for the encounter with the Horned Frogs.

Simcik so far as a Texas football player has made it a tradition to give his best performance against

TCU. Last year, for example, he accounted for 62 yards and a touchdown.

At Fort Worth, the TCU Frogs, refreshed from an off-weekend, devoted all but 30 minutes of a 2 1/2 hour workout to pass defense, avoiding rough contact.

Mainly, said Coach Abe Martin, he is interested in building up a defense against Walt Fondren of Texas. The coach announced two lineup changes, Itasca junior Harold Pollard, the conference's leading extra point kicker, at fullback to replace Vernon Hallbeck, and possibly senior Bill Alexander of Paris in place of left guard Joe Williams, whose mother died Sunday.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs and the University of Arkansas, who play each other in the Cotton Bowl Saturday, were of a common thought Tuesday. Both worked on pass defense.

The Mustangs were put through their first rugged drill in preparation for meeting the Porkers. Blake Tucker, two-letter senior halfback who missed SMU's games with Rice, Kansas, Texas and Texas A&M, was back in action.

SMU is disturbed because both Texas and Texas A&M scored two touchdowns with aerial attacks. The Razorbacks were concerned with pass defense on basis of scout reports they will be up against in the Cotton Bowl one of the nation's best lines.

Signal Stealing Secret Has Leaked Out Today

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK—UP—One of baseball's best kept secrets leaked out Wednesday when it became known that the Kansas City Athletics used a surveyor's telescope in their bullpen to steal signs from other American League clubs during the past season.

The telescope came into use shortly after the Yankees, on one of their early visits to Kansas City, complained to the umpire the Athletics were stealing Yogi Berra's signs to the pitcher via an illegal relay system from the center field bullpen.

Actually, the Athletics weren't stealing signs that day—but the accusation, made by Coach Jim Turner, sure gave them ideas.

So, a surveyor's telescope was obtained from a group of workmen who were doing construction work at the ball park and the instrument was tried out during an actual game.

It worked fine. Kansas City pitchers, from their vantage point in the bullpen, would look through the telescope and get the signs being given by the rival catcher behind home plate.

If the catcher signalled for a curve ball, one of the pitchers in the Kansas City bullpen would place a rolled up towel on the bullpen ledge so the Athletics hitter at the plate could see it.

If a fast ball was called for, the towel would not go up.

Quarterback Meet Reveals Coaches' Plans For Game

The Pampa Quarterback Club met and discussed the Pampa-Odessa clash scheduled for Harvesters Park at 2 p.m. and the plans for the '35 football banquet.

Films of the Midland Pampa game of Oct. 28 were shown and Coach Jack Lockett, just as any good coach would do, took the credit for the loss. He said "We figured the wrong defense against Midland and didn't realize our mistake until it was too late."

Preparations for the game this Saturday are coming to a close with play polishing and defense strategy the big items on schedule.

Pampa Rifle Club Loses Match To Canyon Shooters

The West Texas State College ROTC Rifle Team was host to the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club Team in a 50-foot gallery match held Sunday November 6th at their indoor range at Canyon.

Each team consisted of nine men who shot ten shots each in each of the four positions; prone, sitting, kneeling and standing.

The Canyon team repeated their performance of three weeks ago by beating the Pampans but this time only by 45 points. The total score of the West Texas team was 3068 to that of the Pampa team's 3000.

The high individual scores of the first five were: Tommy Pool, Canyon, first, who shot an outstanding aggregate score of 388 out of 400, L. L. Milliren, Pampa, second with 271, Tony Welker, Pampa, third with 260, Darrell Powell, Canyon, fifth with 251.

Outstanding was the shooting of Elmer Kilpatrick, Pampa, a relatively new shooter who led the Pampa team in the first two positions by shooting a possible 100 in the prone position and a 97 in the sitting position.

Two other possibles of 100 were shot in the prone position by the Canyon team. They were fied by Tommy Pool and Darrell Powell.

Tommy Pool was high aggregate for the Canyon team and L. L. Milliren was high for the Pampa team. Other outstanding individual scores turned in were the 99 sitting, 88 kneeling and 91 offhand by Pool.

It is hoped that in the future there may be more teams to compete in a shoulder-to-shoulder match. Plans are being made for a repeat match to be held early in January. Any other rifle teams that would like to participate should get in touch with Tony Welker, secretary, Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club, 425 Carr St., Pampa, Texas.

Maryland Looks To Orange B

RALEIGH, N.C.—UP—Maryland and Clemson, who once upon a time were "simmers" for accepting bowl bids, clash Saturday for the Atlantic Coast Conference football championship and an almost certain date in the Orange Bowl against Oklahoma.

The game at Clemson, S.C., is the sort of a "natural" founders of the ACC, dreamed about when the league was organized—largely as a result of the old Southern Conference's ban on bowl games.

This is the last conference game of the season for Coach Jim Tatum's Terrapins, ranked No. 2 in the nation, and for Coach Frank Howard's surprising Tigers. The winner will have an undefeated conference record. It is the first time in the relatively short history of the league that the championship has hinged directly on a single late-season game.

Clemson's fine 1955 record so far is marred only by a loss to Rice, but the Tigers have another rough assignment a week from Saturday against Auburn.

For Maryland, the Clemson game is the last major obstacle to another undefeated season and the return bout against Oklahoma in Miami. Oklahoma defeated the Terrapins by a touchdown in the Orange Bowl two years ago, the first time the Orange Bowl matched the champions of the Big Seven and the ACC.

Shockers, Reapers Wind Up Thursday

The Pampa Shockers and the Pampa Reapers will play their last games of the season Thursday. The Reapers will meet the Berger Freshmen at Harvesters Park Thursday at 3:30 p.m. and the Shockers will play Phillips at 7:30 that night.

Both games will wind up the season for the respective teams with the Shockers expected to drop their first game of the season and the Reapers expected to fall before the Berger team.

The Shockers, who have been undefeated, are weakened by the loss of several key boys that were taken by the Harvesters and the Reapers still have several boys on the injured list.

Phillips, as usual, has a strong, fast, large team and have been undefeated this season while the Reapers' opponents have won four and lost three games and the Reapers have won three and lost four.

The Reaper football queen, Miss Betty Smith, will be crowned by the Reaper captains during the halftime.

SHE KEPT A DIARY OF TELEPHONE CALLS

Mrs. Martha Chance—homemaker, church worker, bowler, and keeper of a telephone diary that revealed an important fact.

Mrs. Chance finds the telephone a young homemaker's best friend

What one service helps the homemaker through busy days more different ways than any other?

Mrs. Martha Chance is sure she knows the answer. Her telephone. Mrs. Chance recently kept a week-long diary of telephone calls made and received in her home. The results surprised her.

Mrs. Chance listed 95 calls during the week. Not only did her calls save time and energy in managing her home, but many were actually the start of a pleasant afternoon or evening out.

In Mrs. Chance's own words, "It's so easy to take your telephone for granted. You just don't realize how much it means to you until you stop and think about it as I have."

Mrs. Chance is right. Telephone service is a busy homemaker's best friend.

Boxing Registration Over; Work Begins At 4:30 Today

Members of the Pampa Optimist Boys club concluded their registration yesterday and will hold the first workout today at the Bull Barn at Recreation Park. The workout time has been set at 4:30.

All members have their parent's permission and will begin the workouts with conditioning and won't be doing much ring work for several weeks. All boys are asked to report to their coaches upon arrival at workouts and to secure that coach's permission before leaving for home after workouts. All boys must contact their coaches for special workout times.

The program will continue at Recreation Park until facilities more convenient are obtained. The Optimist club hopes to have a gym which will be more convenient later this winter.

Several coaches have already been appointed. Eddie Lowrance will be head coach of the Panhandle Insurance Agency's boxing team. Rex Lee Jones will head the First National team and Ollie Wilhelm will guide the Citizens Bank and Trust Company team.

Coach for the Pampa Daily News team has not been named at this time. Dwayne Ross has been named as coordinator of the program and will be assisted by Johnny Campbell and Oren James. All boys will be directly responsible to his coach.

All adults working with the boys or watching the workouts are asked not to smoke while the boys are working. The smoke will hamper the boys and is also a bad influence for a boy.

The time for the first inter-squad matches has not been set nor will it be set until the coaches have had time to look the boys over and

TEEN TOPICS

By HELEN STEWARD

Guilty or not guilty?

This is the question everyone is trying to answer after seeing the Junior Class play last night and Monday night. The play was the courtroom drama of the murder trial of Karen Andre, played by Lu Koch.

A jury picked from the audience proclaimed her not guilty Monday night, but a lot of people disagreed. No matter, they wouldn't have executed her anyway.

The "execution" of the play was marvelous though. Everyone who attended enjoyed it.

Several outstanding actors were presented, like Tommy Strawn, the District Attorney, and Bill Atkinson, the defense attorney. Congratulations to the Junior Class and Miss Helen Schaffer, the director, for such a splendid performance.

Nancy Moore and Bill Kirby reigned as King and Queen over a crowd of frolicking carnival-goers at the annual All-School Carnival Saturday night.

Elected by the students, Nancy and Bill were crowned in a sparkling ceremony and entertained by a royal program.

Spanish Clubs' booth that sold cascarnes (that's decorated egg shells filled with confetti) won first prize for best decorated booth. The booth was adorned with a big picture of a chicken.

The cotton-candy booth of Latin Club won second prize.

Far, far away in South Carolina are Lee Ledrick, Rhona Finkelstein and Mrs. Ruby Capps. They are attending the Southern Association of Student Councils Convention. And probably having a lot of fun.

The gift of last year's graduating class, a school directory, has been put up in the center hall at PHS. The directory lists all teachers and their room numbers.

The Freshman Class of 1955 got its on the giving act, too. Recently they presented Pampa Junior High a picture, "Mountain Landscape with Beaver Pond," which hangs in the center hall down there. Earl Cooper, president of the class this year, presented it. Linda Skews, Mayor of Reaperville received it for the school.

Mike Price will have the Quill and Scroll Club as guests Tuesday night at his ranch north of town. The party will feature a full-course steak dinner served and cooked out in the open. Malcolm Brown will serve as chef.

Bill Russell, a 1955 grad, was elected cheerleader at Tarleton State College recently.

Two PHS students who are in the hospital this week are Johnny Claunch and Wendell Powell. Both had appendectomies.

Tomorrow night will be the last chance to see a 1955 Shocker football game. They will play Phillips at Harvester Stadium.

Going into their last game, the Shockers are undefeated. That's quite a record for a B team that lost some of its first stringers, like Jesse Ring and Robert Langford, to the Harvesters.

Good luck tomorrow, to the Shockers.

The last chance, too, to see the Harvesters play in Pampa this year will be Saturday afternoon.

They will meet the Odessa Bronchos who are probably "Laying for them" because of the 28-14 upset Pampa scored over them last year in Odessa.

The Harvesters will play two more games, Lubbock and Borger, both away from home.

Saturday night, Sub Deb and Esquire Clubs will stage a dance in the Palm Room. A string band will be there for special numbers. Admission is fifty cents.

Better hurry to the library if you haven't got your book report reading underway. Most reports are due a week from Friday, some even sooner.

Yes, it's fourth week already. Seems like only last week we were dragging home report cards, but here it is only one week until just time again.

Tests this period will be on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday because Thanksgiving holidays begin on Thursday.

That week end is scheduled to be a big one for Pampans.

Besides being Thanksgiving, there will be the Borger game and all the homecoming activities.

All the Future Teachers enjoyed a day in Canyon Tuesday at the FT Association district meeting.

Everybody ran to the windows with an "OOH, isn't it pretty?" Monday when big snow flakes began to drift down.

It was only the first snow, but some of us are already "Dreaming of a White Christmas."

Speed Costs Man $50 Fine

SAPULPA, Okla.—UP— Driving the 88-mile Turner Turnpike in 48 minutes—an average speed of 110 miles per hour—cost a Kansas City Mo. man a $50 fine Monday.

William W. Brown, 70, paid the fine to Peace Justice Lester Childress here after turnpike check stations clocked him at a speed which probably is a record on the beeline superhighway.

Brown was driving a 1955 Mercedes Benz and told authorities he once was a race car driver. The speed run occurred Sunday afternoon.

Tuberculosis can be prevented, yet about 100,000 new cases of TB are reported in the United States every year.
