Red China To Free Three U.S. Citizens

Big Four Failure Blamed On Russia

GENEVA — UP — Authoritative American diplomatic sources Thursday blamed failure of the Big Four conference on Soviet fears of losing East Germany and its other East European satellites. The conference ended with major disagreement on every point and with each side blaming the other for failure to agree. But most sources said they did not expect a recurrence of the old name-calling days of the cold war.

Japanese Monitors Hear Broadcast From Peiping

TOKYO — UP — Communist China's radio said Thursday night three more American civilians will be released. The broadcast said Communist China's people's court announced their release. The garbled names heard in the Chinese broadcast here were H. Aid, Zwoy Donic and Charway.

Land Rush Starts

GILLETTE, Wyo. — UP — More than 300 half-frozen uranium prospectors huddled around fires early Thursday on the borders of the desolate Pumpkin Buttes area to begin a land rush which could erupt into frontier days violence. By federal decree, 46,440 acres of public land around Pumpkin Buttes will be open for staking mining claims at 11 a. m. est. Beyond that, the legal picture is badly muddled.

Bomb-Killer Calm At Arraignment

DENVER — UP — John M. Graham appeared outwardly calm and confident Thursday a few hours before his scheduled arraignment before Judge Edward J. Keating on charges of murdering his mother, Mrs. Daisy E. King, 54.

Pampan Reports An Armed Robbery Try

An attempted armed robbery was reported to Police officers by Alvin Day, attendant at the Quality Service Station, 217 E. Brown, at 12:37 this morning. Day reported that a young man, about five-foot 11 inches with blond curly hair and between the ages of 21 and 24, entered the station with a .32-caliber automatic pistol and told him to hand over the money. While the two men were arguing, a colored man drove up in the driveway of the station.

Gray County Bar Group Starts Project

The Gray County Bar Association is embarked on an extensive program of public education about the laws of our state and country. The group plans to circulate pamphlets dealing with various legal problems and situations in the banks and gathering places of Pampa and neighboring communities.

Demos Expected To Adopt Compromise 'Loyalty' Pledge

By TOM NELSON
CHICAGO — UP — The Democratic national committee Thursday was expected to adopt a compromise "loyalty" pledge imposing the choice of the party's 1956 presidential convention on all delegates.

Ike Starts Work

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — UP — President Eisenhower tackled some of his administration's sternest problems Thursday from a small office in the Gettysburg post office. In near freezing weather, the smiling chief executive walked into his new office at 8:46 a. m. est to plunge into the problems of the Geneva conference, government spending, and taxes.

The proposal had the backing of Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler, who said he would recommend its approval when the committee opens a one-day meeting. Butler predicted the committee would approve the proposal, which is designed to settle a major dispute between northern and southern Democrats. Under the plan, the seating of a convention delegate would constitute a pledge by the party's leaders that state that the convention nominee will be placed on the ballot.

The major meeting of the day, however, was scheduled for Thursday afternoon at the Eisenhower farm when the President gets his first-hand report on the disappointing Geneva Big Four foreign ministers meeting from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The President rode from his farm to the post office with Capt. R. W. Streiff, his assistant military aide.

MY ARGUMENT WITH A COMMUNIST

By THADDEUS ASHBY
Coming your way Sunday is an editorial feature of unusual significance. It is the fictional presentation of a rather typical professing Christian in his argument with a cold, calculating Communist. There are several points raised which the "logical" Communist uses in his endeavor to back his adversary into a corner. Read this feature and see if you find yourself in a corner and if so, how would YOU get out?

Chess Expert Awes Large Crowd In Exhibition Here

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer
Scores of people were held in complete awe last night by the amazing mental display of "Mag-ic" as exhibited by George Koltanowski, international chess master, in his simultaneous chess match with 24 players from the region. A large crowd of spectators and participants gave their complete attention to his amazing feats, which also included a blindfold simultaneous exhibition and an intriguing lecture on chess.

Scout Leaders To Elect Officers

The Nominating Committee of the Adobe Walls Council will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Boy Scout office to select a slate of council officers for 1956. Nominated will be a council president, four vice-presidents, a treasurer, and a council commissioner. Proposed nominees will be voted on an executive board meeting on Dec. 1.

Homecoming Set At Groom School

GROOM — (Special) — Friday, Nov. 18 has been selected as the date for the first Groom High School Homecoming reunion of former students. The Tigers will play Vega here in their last football game of the season Friday night, Nov. 18. Letters are being mailed to the ex-students but unfortunately the addresses of all the graduates are not available. The reunion will get underway with a pep rally and bonfire Thursday night and the program for Friday is as follows:

Sgt. GLENN SMITH ... to be here

Marine Recruiter Due Here

Sgt. Glenn H. Smith NCO, in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting office in Amarillo, will be in Pampa on Friday Nov. 18 to interview applicants for enlistment in the U. S. Marines. While in Pampa, Sgt. Smith will be located at the U. S. Air Force and U. S. Navy recruiting offices from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

The Marine Corps initiated a three year enlistment plan on Oct. 1, 1955. Prior to that date only the four year enlistment was offered a young man entering the Marines.

The buddy system is still in effect, where-by men who enlist together will remain together throughout their entire recruiting training period, if they so desire.

If a young man desires to get ahead, the Marine Corps will recognize that fact and will afford him every opportunity to do so.

Sgt. Smith will continue to visit Pampa the third and fourth Friday's of each month in 1955.

Rotary Hears District Governor

Rotary Clubs in 93 countries and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Rigdon Edwards of Sweetwater, Governor of District 183 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Pampa yesterday, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 8,844 clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Edwards explained, Rotary International has spent more than $1,750,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 799 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students in 57 countries. Gerre Hancock, Lubbock, Texas, was chosen as the Rotary Fellow from District 183 for the coming year, and he will study at the University of Paris, Paris, France.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for more than 419,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized. "In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Edwards continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs this year on activities of their own communities which will furnish leadership in youth programs, raise standards in business and professions, promote traffic safety, develop good citizenship and build better rural-urban relationships."

Farmer Due Promises By Ike Camp

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON—UP—The Midwest's No. 1 Ike man, back home after an eastern swing, has been telling the folks in Kansas and Missouri what's what on two of the hottest political issues of the day.

He reported:
1. The Eisenhower administration is getting ready to shoot the program now staked out."

Roberts said it is a big order, almost requiring a miracle. But such, he added, is the objective of the Eisenhower administration for the 1956 presidential election year.

He reported that the big men in the administration who are swinging to the belief the President will run again may be doing some wishful thinking. Roberts, himself, does not think the President will go again. But he wrote that the outstanding impression works for the farmer."

2. High administration officials increasingly believe President Eisenhower will seek reelection.

The reporter is Roy A. Roberts, a veteran political writer, but more recently president of the Kansas City Star Co.

"Just what the detailed (farm) program will be hasn't yet been worked out," Roberts wrote in the Star.

"Apparently, the only thing definite in the thinking of the Republican leadership is that something will be done, that it is a waste of time to do anything small, and that what is done should dramatize, if possible, the administration's sympathy for the farmer without jeopardizing the soundness, for the long pull of the pro-gained during an eastern swing was the attitude of top administration men toward a second term. They were without hope only a few weeks ago.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Mark 9:35-42

Social insensibility is sin. That all of us must live alongside other people is one of the inescapable facts of life. This involves us in an endless succession of adjustments, for life must be lived at all times with a due regard for the rights of others. Robinson Crusoe was the only person who was at liberty to live as he pleased. As long as he thought he was alone on his island he might build his hut where he pleased; he might shoot in any direction his fancy dictated; he might decide his problems to suit himself. As soon as his man Friday appeared, however, his freedom was immediately limited. There was at least one spot on which he had no right to build his hut; there was at least one direction in which he might not shoot; there was a long list of questions he could not decide solely on the basis of his personal preferences.

Social sensitivity is one of the finest of the spiritual graces, and upon it good religion insists. Jesus identified himself with the poor, the weak, and the least, saying that God accepted any kindness shown to one of them as though it were a kindness shown directly to him.

There was a time not long ago when men thought of religion as a purely personal matter, but it has never been such. When Daniel Boone ranged the wilderness and lived a hundred miles from the nearest white man the social implications were limited. But when we live in apartment-house worlds, with people all about us, our social responsibilities become a major part of our religious concern. It is impossible to escape the social implications of religion and sin.

If my kindnesses offered to the weak and the helpless all about me

Texas Tax On Liquor Is Protested

EDINBURG, Tex. —UP— A 43-year-old novelist Tajaday challenged the constitutionality of a Texas law providing that a state tax must be paid on liquor brought in from Mexico.

The novelist, Ian N. Gordon, was arrested last August after he brought eight bottles of rum across the Rio Grande, and refused to pay the tax, amounting to 36 cents a bottle.

Tuesday he was on trial in Hidalgo county court-at-law on a charge of possessing untaxed liquor. Gordon called the tax statute an "illegal, untested law."

The quiet - spoken writer said he was taking the rum to Chapel Hill, N. C., when he was arrested. He had lived in Chapel Hill for two years before moving to Cuernavaca, Mex., where he worked on a novel for 10 months before the August incident.

Gordon said he did not intend to use the rum in Texas.

"I offered to post a bond that it would not be opened until I was in North Carolina," he said.

He charged that the Texas tax on liquor from Mexico amounted to an import duty. He said only the federal government has the right to levy such a duty and declared he had already cleared federal customs when state authorities stopped him.

The case against Gordon was due to go to a jury late Tuesday. If convicted, he could be fined or given a jail term.

Gordon, who said he has had half a dozen novels published — the best known being "The Night Thorn" — said he had no intention of testing the Texas law when he drove across the Rio Grande.

"It just happened to come up and I refused to pay that ridiculous tax," he said.

WOW! — That's what Mrs. Helena Farrar's visitors say when they come to her home in Southampton, England. For greeting them at the door is Mrs. Farrar—and Rajah, a 250-pound lion. Rajah was brought home by Mrs. Farrar, a zoo keeper, because the lion was ill and needed more attention. But the Farrars' lease prohibits keeping pets as dangerous as lions, so Rajah is going back to the zoo to recuperate.

Bandit Robs Bank In Van; Makes Off With $9,000

VAN, Tex. —UP— A bandit in a plaid shirt held up the First State Bank of Van Wednesday and escaped in a pickup truck with about $9,000.

C. A. Ham, executive vice president of the bank, said there were two persons in the bank—E. D. White, the cashier, and Mrs. O. S. Trant, the bookkeeper—when the bandit walked rapidly in.

He told White that he had come "after the money." White thought he was fooling until the bandit pulled a pistol and cocked it. He handed White a paper bag and said, "This is it." White filled the bag with money.

Ham had been to lunch, returned and was sitting in his automobile near the front of the bank listening to his car radio when the bandit walked out of the bank, carrying his paper bag overflowing with money.

"He came out of the bank with his arms full of money and pitched it into the back of the pickup truck," Ham said. "I thought that was too much money for one man to be carrying out of the bank."

"So I thought maybe we'd been held up. When I got to the door, the cashier met me and I asked him if we had been held up. He said, 'We sure have.'"

The money was in packages, with rubber bands around them. The bandit abandoned his pickup truck about two miles south of Van, which has a population of about 700.

W. A. Bullard, a carpenter who lives on the south side of Van, said he saw the bandit switch to a light colored Ford automobile and he thought it possible that there might have been a man waiting in it.

The bandit, according to Ham, was about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, weighed about 165 pounds, had a dark brown complexion, thick dark eyebrows and wore a plaid shirt. He double-parked his 1950 Ford

Army Secretary Says Troops Moved For Military Reasons

AUSTIN —UP— Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker said Wednesday transfer of 16,000 troops from Fort Hood to Fort Polk, La., was "made for military reasons upon the recommendations of the Army staff."

In a three-page letter answering a protest by Gov. Allan Shivers, Brucker said the movement of troops followed a "protracted period of unsuccessful negotiations with land owners in the vicinity of Fort Hood" to obtain land for Army maneuvers.

However, the Army secretary assured Shivers the Pentagon has "no intention of abandoning the excellent and costly investment at Fort Hood."

Repeats Announcement

—He repeated an earlier announcement that Third Corps headquarters and supporting troops, totaling some 1,200 men, will return to Fort Hood after completion of current maneuvers in Louisiana.

Both the First and Fourth Armored Divisions have been stationed at Fort Hood. The First Armored Division is scheduled for transfer to Fort Polk.

"I find no evidence that the Army has ever defended its budget requests for Fort Hood before congress on the basis of supporting two divisions there on a permanent basis. In all cases, our requests for funds have been presented on the long-term authorization of Fort Hood as a permanent installation for one division. The stationing of two armored divisions at Fort Hood has always been considered by the Army as a temporary arrangement," Brucker wrote.

'Helpful to Communities'

However, he expressed "hope that the continued presence of the Fourth Armored Division at Fort Hood, with its substantial number of troops, would be most helpful to the local Texas communities."

Earlier, Brucker pointed out that "although the Army is deeply sympathetic with the economic condition of adjacent civilian communities, it must be borne in mind that the stationing of Army troops must be based upon military considerations rather than upon considerations of the local economy."

CROWNING GLORY — Eye-catching is the word for this "crown" entered in an abstract hairdo contest in Berlin, Germany. The crazy coiffure was created by a hairdresser from the Soviet zone in just one hour.

Illinois voters have favored Republican candidates in eight of the past 14 presidential elections.

Handy Guide to quick & easy HOMEMADE ICINGS AND FROSTINGS

QUICK 'N' EASY 4-MINUTE BUTTER FROSTING: CREAM 1/2 cup soft butter or margarine in small mixing bowl. Add pinch of salt. ADD gradually 3 cups sifted Imperial Confectioners Powdered Sugar alternately with 1/4 cup milk or cream.

BEAT and blend well until smooth and of spreading consistency. Add 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla; beat until light and fluffy.

FILLS AND FROSTS top and sides of two 9-inch layers.

(You will find this quick 4-minute recipe on the Imperial Confectioners Powdered Sugar carton.)

To achieve special flavor combinations with your cakes, try these delicious varieties!

CHOCOLATE BUTTER FROSTING: Add 3 squares melted unsweetened chocolate to butter.

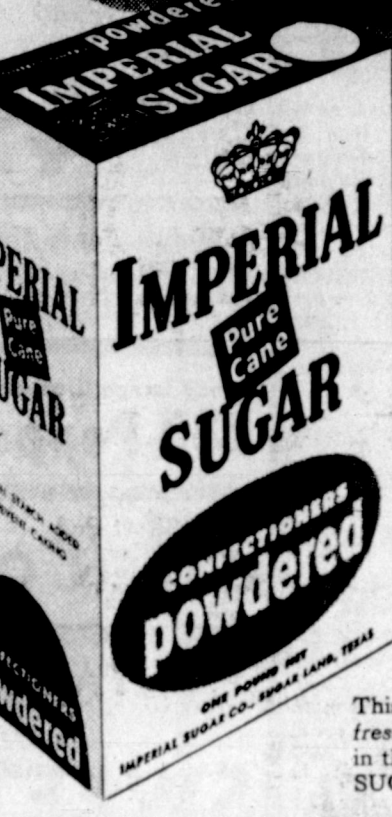

LEMON BUTTER FROSTING: Use lemon juice for milk. Omit vanilla.

COFFEE BUTTER FROSTING: Add 1 1/2 teaspoons instant coffee powder.

ORANGE BUTTER FROSTING: Add 2 tablespoons grated orange rind and 1 unbeaten egg yolk to butter. Substitute orange juice for milk; lemon juice for vanilla.

BROWNED BUTTER FROSTING: Lightly brown butter in heavy skillet before blending with sugar and salt. If you prefer the snowy, seven-minute type frosting, here is an easy, simplified recipe:

SEVEN-MINUTE WHITE FROSTING: Stir together 3 tablespoons hot water and 1 cup sifted Imperial Confectioners Powdered Sugar. Boil in covered pan until sugar is dissolved. In small mixing bowl, place 1 unbeaten egg white, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add the hot syrup. Beat at high speed until frosting is of spreading consistency (3 to 4 minutes). Add 1 teaspoon vanilla while beating. Frost tops of two 9-inch layers. For large cake double above ingredients except cream of tartar and vanilla.

BE SURE TO GET IMPERIAL POWDERED SUGAR IT'S FLUFFY-FRESH

This 100% Pure Cane Sugar is extra fine, fluffy and fresh when you buy it. A waxed, recloseable inner-liner in the carton helps keep IMPERIAL POWDERED SUGAR fluffy and fresh as you use it!

SPRY GUY—Frank (Judge) Wheeler, almost 104, is a medical rarity. The Muscoda, Wis., oldster's recent recovery from an operation has been written up in a medical publication, for successful major operations on such aged patients are rare. He's shown taking a few steps to prove he's okay after the operation to mend a broken hip.

IT'S THE LAW
★ IN TEXAS ★

How can you determine whether the title you are receiving in a real estate transaction is good, bad or indifferent? Although at first glance there may appear to be more than one alternative method, purchasers usually find that all roads of complete title security lead to a lawyer chosen by the prospective buyer to represent his interests.

In the first place, the Contract of sale should state the QUALITY OF TITLE to be conveyed to the purchaser. If the contract does not so state, then the seller may be obligated to sell — and the purchaser bound to buy — only whatever title the seller happens to possess, which may actually be quite defective. This may be true in spite of fact that seller is in possession, has a deed to the property, has been paying taxes, etc.

A real estate title is a claim of ownership or right to land and to the improvements, such as houses and other structures, located thereon. It may be partial or complete, as determined by the numerous facts in each case. If it is complete and superior to any other person's claim — if you can prove your right thereto against all the world, it is a GOOD TITLE. If, in addition, the evidence of your claim of ownership is contained in the proper public records, it is a GOOD RECORD TITLE. Ordinarily, only a GOOD RECORD TITLE is considered salable, being sometimes referred to as a GOOD MARKETABLE TITLE.

When you buy a house, you want a title which is good, so that you and your heirs will not be troubled while enjoying the use of premises. You also want that title to be marketable, in order that it can be sold when you are ready to sell — without the expense of perfecting title before your buyer will complete his purchase.

Having made certain that your contract of sale indicates the exact nature of the title to be conveyed to you by the seller, how do you go about assuring yourself that you will receive the specified quality of title? People have varied ideas about this matter.

Some consider themselves safe when they gain possession of an Abstract of Title or a General Warranty Deed. But an Abstract is merely an outline of public record on the tract of land — a history of the title — which anyone may purchase, regardless of ownership.

A General Warranty Deed from a responsible seller is comforting to have, but is a poor substitute for careful title examination. True, it entitles you to sue the seller for damages caused by defects in the title. But serious defects may not come to light until long after the seller is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt.

Safer procedures include your attorney's examination of the Abstract tendered by the seller, and the purchase of a Title Insurance Policy indemnifying you as the insured for the full amount of your investment. In any event you will want your attorney's advice when closing a real estate transaction.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin 1, Texas.

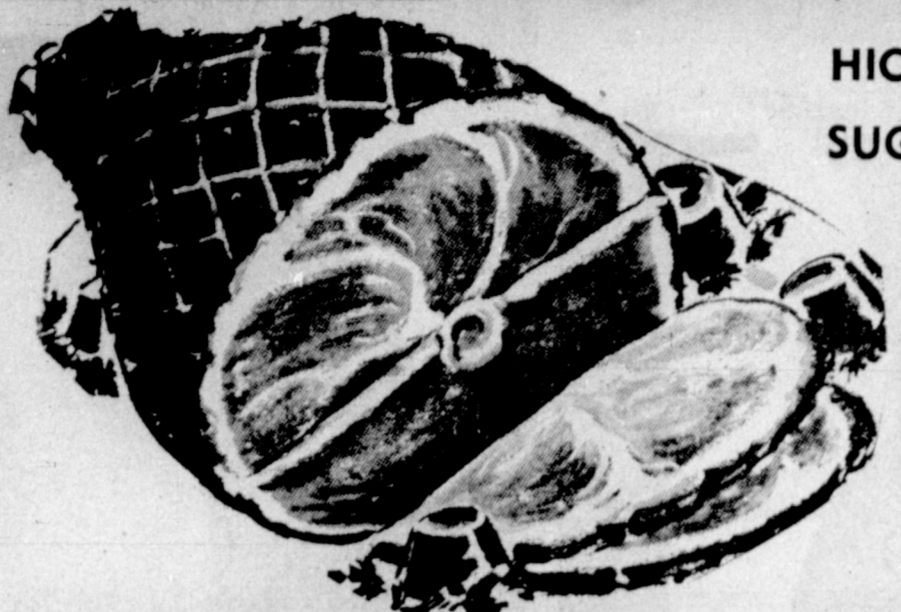

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Pumpkin Cake First For Holiday Treat

The traditional favorite, pumpkin pie and whipped cream, has now found a competitor for the headliner dessert of the holiday season, Pumpkin Cake.

Reba Staggs, home economist, suggests you try this new dessert with your family. Just watch and hear what they have to say about it. When the children voice their approval, you know for sure this recipe is a headliner.

You'll like the fine flavor and texture of this cake made with lard. It's thrifty, too.

PUMPKIN CAKE
 1/2 cup lard
 1 cup brown sugar
 2 cups granulated sugar
 2 eggs, beaten
 3/4 cup strained stewed pumpkin
 2 cups sifted enriched flour
 1/4 teaspoon soda
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 2/3 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
 1-3 cup sour milk
 Line two 8-inch layer cake pans with waxed paper. Cream lard and sugar together. Add eggs and pumpkin. Sift dry ingredients and mix with nuts. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately to the creamed mixture. Pour into cake pans and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. Cool and frost with Spiced Whipped Cream.

SPICED WHIPPED CREAM
 1 cup whipping cream
 3 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1 teaspoon ginger
 Whip cream until stiff. Fold in sugar and spices.

Fine Points Given In Meat Storage

Are you up on the fine points of meat storage? Do you know, for instance, how long you can keep hams, picnics and bacon in your refrigerator?

The smoked hams and picnics which you buy today have a mild cure and always must be refrigerated. They can't be handled like the old-fashioned, heavily cured hams. Furthermore, smoked hams and picnics should be used within a week to ten days after purchase. They may be frozen, but for only short periods of time—preferably no longer than 60 days. Ham leftovers, too, should be stored in the refrigerator for only a short time. To be at its flavor-best, sliced bacon should be kept in the refrigerator for only about a week.

PORK STEAKS WITH BROWNED RICE — With pork so plentiful, pork steaks are an economical meat selection. Here the steaks have been cooked with browned rice for a hearty fall dinner. The dish is accompanied by a tossed salad and crusty hard rolls.

Pork Steaks Give Thrifty Fall Meals

Now's the time to serve hearty dinner dishes to your family. With all the activities of the autumn season, the family's appetites often seem to reach the ravenous stage when meal time rolls around.

Pork steaks with browned rice is a hearty main dish — ideal for satisfying fall appetites. Browned rice is combined with seasonings to give good Spanish-rice-type flavor. Pork steaks, an economical meat selection right now, cook tender on top of the rice. Here's the recipe:
PORK STEAKS WITH BROWNED RICE
 4 pork shoulder steaks

2 tablespoons fat
 1 cup uncooked rice
 1 No. 303 can tomatoes
 1-1/2 cups water
 1 cup finely chopped green pepper
 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 3 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Brown shoulder steaks thoroughly in hot fat in a heavy skillet. Remove steaks and season to taste with salt. Sauté washed and drained rice in remaining fat about 5 minutes or until delicately browned, stirring constantly. Add water, vegetables and seasonings; blend

Luxurious Rarebit Is Versatile Dish

Looking for a recipe that is suitable for brunch, lunch, dinner, supper or a small party? Difficult as that sounds, here's one that fills the bill... a really luxurious rarebit. . . add a little or a lot for the rest of the menu, depending on the meal in question. As for feeding the crowd when it gathers at your house, this recipe is easy to double or treble and more than quick and easy to prepare.

TUNA-MUSHROOM RAREBIT
 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms
 2 tablespoons Sherry
 1/2 pound process sharp American cheese

7-ounce can solid pack tuna
 Place contents of can of mushrooms and Sherry in top of double boiler. Heat over hot water. Add cheese, which has been finely diced, and stir until melted. Stir in drained tuna, which has been cut into chunks, and let heat thoroughly. Serve over toasted split hamburger buns. Yields 4 to 6 servings.

well. Place steaks on top, cover and cook over low heat 35 to 45 minutes or until meat is tender and liquid has been almost entirely absorbed by the rice. 4 servings.

A good fall menu including this pork steak dish might be: apple juice cocktail, pork steaks with browned rice, tossed salad, hard rolls and pumpkin tarts with whipped cream.

Rubber sink mats won't stick to the drainboard if paste wax is applied to the underside of the pad. Kitchen tongs can be used to turn steaks and chops without piercing the surface of the meat and allowing the juice to escape.

Savory Pot-Roast Good For October

On fall days when appetites are keen, heartier foods are in order. This suggests a savory beef pot-roast served with browned potatoes and the good meat gravy. Here's a dish that's sure to appeal to the man of the house after a busy day's work.

Beef blade and arm pot-roads are, perhaps, the most familiar. Two other excellent choices are the beef rump — which is often sold boned and rolled, and the heel of round. All of these cuts are termed "less-tender," but by slow cooking in moisture they become tender and juicy.

Reba Staggs, well-known meat expert, gives these steps to follow for preparing the perfect pot-roast:

1. Brown meat thoroughly on both sides in 2 or 3 tablespoons of lard or drippings. (Dredge with seasoned flour, first if desired.)

 2. Add 1-3 to 1/2 cup liquid.
 3. Cover meat tightly and cook slowly. Let meat simmer, never boil!
 4. Cook a 3 to 5 pound pot-roast from 3 to 4 hours.
 5. Make gravy in pan in which meat is cooked. Thicken the cooking liquid with flour and boil for 2 to 8 minutes, stirring constantly.

The one-strap shoe is back in fashion favor. And so is the pump that ties. And why not? Both of them flatter the foot.

Never A Bridegroom

With Dwight Eisenhower a doubtful starter in the presidential handicap of 1956, the GOP political stables seem to be grooming a lot of strange nags including Mitt Eisenhower and Al Gruenther and looking out in the pasture at some old and retired campaigners like Tom Dewey and Earl Warren.

But of all the showman entries that keep popping up in the lists, Harold E. Stassen, the Minnesota Flash, seems by far the most motheaten pletter.

Harold who now handles some vague duties in the Eisenhower administration in relation to disarmament after a luxurious spell as "giveaway" expert for the Republicans has been galloping after the presidency for 20 years with a past performance chart peppered with "also ran."

His following in important political circles wouldn't fill a hall closet and old line bosses don't trust him any further than they figure to throw him.

Harold came charging out of Minnesota in the Thirties when GOP fortunes were at such a low ebb that any hack could get a seat at the council fire. In 1940 he showed up at the Republican convention with a group determined to fight Wendell Wilkie's nomination to the bitter end. By the time the convention was over Stassen was Willie's floor manager! In 1944 and 1948 he was right handy, willing and able, if Dewey wasn't wanted, but was left both times at the gate. He was more energetic in '52 but the late Senator Taft trounced him in the Ohio primaries and the Eisenhower write-in vote against him in his own state must have been embarrassingly exasperating. There is even strong suspicion that when the Minnesota delegation swung to Ike in the convention it wasn't Harold but Governor Thyne who gave the word.

Now Harold's in there beating his own drum again, but the safest political bet for '56 is that of all the "mentionables" Harold is lowest on the totem pole.

Humans Are Fallible

"We ask those who seek to shackle free and open competition to reflect on the consequences," said Henry Ford II recently. "The short-range effect might be to afford a measure of protection for those in a weaker competitive position. The long-range effect would only be to put a damper on America's constantly rising standard of living by penalizing the most important man in our economic system — the consumer."

There is another important factor involved here. Human fallibility being what it is, no one is wise enough to say with accuracy who may be and who may not be in a weak competitive position. No one can do more than offer an opinion which time may prove to have been in grave error. A perfect example is found in the campaign of 20-odd years ago to shackle the chains with punitive taxes and other class legislation, on the grounds that this was the only way to save the independents from extinction. Had that goal been accomplished on a national scale, it is obvious that competition would have been lessened, at a tremendous cost to consumers. Luckily it didn't happen. But the independents didn't die either. They met the chain competition with merchandising techniques that pleased the public. So today chains and independents operate competitively side by side with each doing well and each with its established and respected place in the community.

When we attempt to replace natural economic law with human judgment — and, particularly, political judgment — we are begging for trouble. We put road blocks in the way of progress. We discourage enterprise and bring about stagnation. History is replete with proofs of that.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

From time to time influenza—the dread "flue" bug—has spread over large sections of the world.

Those who are struck down during the first few weeks on such epidemics may not be hit hard. But as the time goes by the disease gets worse. Victims develop high fever and more prostration; more develop pneumonia and other serious complications.

Even when epidemic influenza is a its peak, however, those who go to bed at once and stay there until their fever has been down for several days almost always recover.

Unfortunately, when a bad epidemic is present numerous members of the same family may be struck ill at about the same time. Thus, the one most nearby well is under great pressure to get up and take care of others. This early rising from the sick bed carries terrible risks.

THE LAST WORLD-WIDE epidemic of influenza was that of 1917-18. During that period more people in the United States died from influenza or its immediate complications than were killed in World War I.

Since then there have been some large epidemics though none as bad.

The cause of influenza is a virus. But there are several varieties which have been found in lesser epidemics. They go under such names as Virus A, under and B. Influenza viruses can be grown by a complicated method on egg yolk.

WHAT IS NEEDED to combat influenza is a method of preventing it. The most promising line, as with many other diseases, is the development of a vaccine which can be given to human beings and which will raise their resistance to the disease.

Much research work has gone into efforts to develop such a vaccine but it has been hampered. Not only are there technical difficulties in preparing a vaccine which would do the job against all the varieties of virus, but also there has been comparatively little influenza during the past few years against which a vaccine could be tried out.

IT IS UNCERTAIN as to whether any vaccine now available would definitely stop a world-wide epidemic. However, there is evidence that a properly constituted vaccine is effective in at least some of the cases.

Further improvements in a vaccine against influenza are to be expected from additional research.

It may be mentioned that the vaccine is prepared from viruses grown on egg yolk, and therefore a few people who are sensitive to eggs or chickens should not receive this preparation.

What we hope for particularly is the development of a highly effective vaccine before the next world-wide epidemic hits us, the latter being a likely possibility because of the history of the disease.

Government Fiasco In Its Attempt To Educate

Here is the last installment of a 24-page booklet issued by Everett Ridley Taylor under the heading of "Look, Vigilant Parents, Toward Education!" Mr. Taylor spent his own money in printing and distributing this booklet. It shows that he has given the subject much thought. He writes: "However, as more and more parents become aware of the government fiasco in its attempt to educate, and as these parents increasingly resume their natural responsibility of seeing to the proper education of their children, we can expect to see some interesting developments. More children will attend private schools, parent owned joint-venture schools and church schools. Such schools would demand better teachers than many of those who 'get by' in government employment. They would demand more efficient teaching than that found in government schools where there is a vested interest in inefficient teaching — the usual 'featherbed' practices to employ many teachers. For instance, we might expect a development along the following lines:

"We know that there are a few exceptionally good teachers — there is, probably, as high a proportion of outstanding teachers as there is of the best doctors, or of highly skilled craftsmen."

He suggests that due to the scarcity of good teachers that their classroom work be reproduced by a movie or television concern. I cannot believe that this would work because one cannot ask a movie actor any questions unless the teacher in charge can answer questions it would not develop the reasoning faculties of the pupil. Mr. Taylor continues:

"We could expect the free-conscience educational method to have as much advantage over government operated child care centers as other parts of the free enterprise system have over other socialist activity. We can expect far better educational results with the expenditure of less time and money."

"Now of course the free-conscience schools would have to be supported by church tithes, or tuition fees, or by parent contribution to joint-venture schools. However, such costs should be moderate under the suggested methods. And it is not to be imagined, after church schools are strong again, the cost-free education would be denied to any child whose parents could not afford tuition. Thus, the only illiterates we should expect are those who refuse to learn. Indeed, some children who now instinctively rebel against government indoctrination would want to learn in the free-conscience schools."

Suffer Little Children

"Finally, there is a good solution to the problems of education — a good solution in only nineteen words: 'Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of heaven.' Do you know what 'suffer' as used here means? At first one might think it means 'permit' or 'allow.' But aren't you persuaded that Christ used the word 'suffer' in a way that requires this definition: 'To feel or undergo pain of body or mind; to bear what is inconvenient?' Then the meaning becomes: You bear the pain of mind and the inconvenience of giving your children their chance for a Christian education.

"...for such is the Kingdom of heaven." After all of the fuss and furor over the government 'school' dream, after all of the thought and words so many of us have used in trying to 'co-exist' in the government 'school' Utopia, after living with the devilish nightmare that has enshrined ignorance at the expense of education, isn't it remarkable to find that we have had the answer before us all of the time? And in only nineteen words? Heaven, certainly, must be an abode of the educated — where ideas are exchanged easily, clearly, certainly. Our great problem, as humans, is that we cannot easily understand a plain instruction: 'Suffer little children and forbid them not, to come unto me.'"

Even if "suffer" means to permit or allow, a parent it is not permitting or allowing his children to go to schools supported on a voluntary basis when he is sending them to government schools. The child cannot be two places at the same time. Invariably the parents should do as Mr. Taylor suggests — make a sacrifice to see that their children are sent to schools that can teach the difference between right and wrong.

Government schools cannot do this because they are based on acts that are not right. They are based on the theory that the majority have a right to use aggressive force to make a man pay for schooling he believes is harmful.

Nixon Passes Warren As Possible GOP Candidate

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Earl Warren's star has fallen from the political sky with the same speed that has marked the rise of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's, assuming that President Eisenhower's health eliminates him from active politics.

These conclusions, which prevail among GOP professionals, have nothing to with the qualification or "electability" of either Californian. They are based on the practical, down-to-earth considerations which move the 10 or 20 bosses in the "smoke-filled backroom," who always make the final decisions while 1,500 delegates and their wives mill around, shopping or sightseeing in such convention cities as New York, Chicago or San Francisco.

Warren's elimination comes at a particularly bad time for the scared Republicans. In view of Democratic gains in the recent local and state elections, they realize that they must put forward their best man, and they regard the C. J. as second only to Ike.

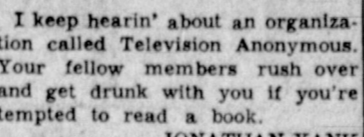

Chief Justice Warren, however, would receive hardly a single Southern delegate because of the Supreme Court's rulings against segregation in the public schools and state parks. Of the two decisions, it is probable that the one on management of state recreational facilities hurts him most heavily.

Apart from constitutional factors, there may be some semblance of validity for the school decision because of Federal contributions, there is no legal or moral ground for judicial interference with state-owned parks and beaches and other vacation spots.

Indeed, several eminent Southern jurists have expressed open defiance of the high tribunal on this issue. Their language, although couched in judicial terms, was sharp — a verbal Fort Sumter.

There is another barrier to a Warren nomination, in the opinion of Party leaders who are not influenced by partisan thoughts alone. For Warren to head the ticket, in view of these controversial rulings on a deep-seated racial problem, would be to precipitate a clash as bitter and disruptive as the religious prejudices which erupted in the Hoover-Smith Contest of 1928. It would do the nation no good.

FOR REFLECTION

As with JAMES C. INGEBRETTEN President, Spiritual Mobilization

Here's a recent United Press news dispatch from Williston, N. D.

"A cook at a restaurant here tried an experiment when a friend ordered a hamburger. The sandwich arrived with all the trimmings, ketchup, mustard, pickles, onions and relish. The customer was half-way through when the cook pointed out that the meat had been omitted."

I don't know what the cook called this clever concoction but my name for it would be: "Progressive Education Hoaxburger."

It's just like the "education" too many of our children have been getting in recent years—all trimmings and no meat.

BID FOR A SMILE

Minister — How old are you, my little man? Boy — I am five at home, six in school, and six on the train. —O—

Patrick — I say, Mike, how would you like to be buried in a Jewish cemetery? Mike — Faith, an I'd rather die first! —O—

To dissolve a command of a colonel is to invite disaster, as many a green rookie had learned. One morning, on a tour of inspection, a colonel stopped at the kitchen of one of the companies in his command, where he met Sgt. P.'s with a large soup kettle. Colonel — Here, you K. P., let me taste that soup. One of the men hurried back after a large spoon, which he handed respectfully to the colonel. The officer plunged the ladle into the pot, took a mouthful of the steaming liquid, and smacked his lips critically. Then he let out a howl that could be heard at G.H.Q. half a mile away. Colonel (roaring) — Soup, you blasted fool, do you call that soup? Sgt. P. — No, sir, that's just some dishwasher we was carrying out.

Henry's Mail Invokes His Reply To Important Query

By HENRY McLEMORE

One of the very nice things about being a columnist is getting mail. Most people know pretty well what the postman is going to bring — letters from the family, bills, invitations to the openings of new supermarkets, bills, soap coupons, advertisements for a new coffee blended in 494 ways — and bills.

But when a columnist answers the postman's knock he can't be sure of what mail he's going to get. As mortal proof of this statement, I will give you excerpts from letters I got today.

From Chicago, Mrs. Edward Hoffman of 222 Hoffman St., asks me this: "My husband and I are in a big argument about who should go first through a revolving door, the husband or the wife? We have turned to you for an answer. I say that the woman should push the door and make it easier for her. My husband says the man should go first because when there is no usher in a theater the man always precedes the lady. Would you be kind enough to settle this question for us? I am enclosing stamps for your reply."

Naturally I got off an answer to Mrs. Hoffman right away. I told her that neither she nor Mr. Hoffman was correct. Married people always go through a revolving door at the same time; only single persons use different partitions. In case Mr. or Mrs. Hoffman are so large that they can't both use the same compartment, then they can always use the door immediately to the right marked "Enter."

Mrs. Lawson of Elkhart, Indiana writes: "I have a cat that is very fond of watching Liberate on television. Since the cat has come under this influence, he insists on sleeping on the dining room table wrapped around the candelabra. What should we do?"

I have no patience with Mrs. Lawson and I wrote and told her so. Obviously her cat has taken complete charge of the Lawson household. It dominates the television set, the dining room table, and Mrs. Lawson herself. Unless this cat is loaded with money and is going to leave her a large lump sum, there is no excuse for her putting up with this domineering attitude. It's a poor household, indeed, where the cat wears the trousers. Of course, I didn't tell Mrs. Lawson that she was lucky she only had one cat that slept on the dining room table — all four of mine do!

As a clincher to my statement that a columnist never knows what his mail will bring, just read this problem sent by Milton Kwalus of Oxford, England. I quote: "I am in an utter funk and going crackers. I am in a positive flip. Not even Noel Coward could face my predicament with his chin up. I loathe tea. However, I'm confronted due to the exigencies of my social position, to absorb this drink eight times daily. To refuse tea will get me posted at my club. I could, with most impunity, use a pocket comb at the changing of the guard."

To answer Mr. Kwalus of Oxford, England was easy for me, although frightful for him. He has been an Englishman long enough to know that being an Englishman imposes certain obligations. He must call a "T" shirt a vest, he must like a clerk "Clark," he must call to trudge the moors, clutching his ancient pipe in a downpour while his dog courses for grouse. He must call his father "pater" even though his father's name is Joe. On such traditions England stands and the one thing that gives them the strength to uphold these traditions is the relentless drinking of tea. Mr. Kwalus must keep on drinking tea to the death. Stout fellow!

THE NATION'S PRESS

WHERE SECRECY STARTS

(The Wall Street Journal)

The House Government Information Subcommittee is scheduled to begin hearings today on secrecy in the Executive Department. Preliminary to the hearings the subcommittee made public reports from 63 departments and agencies on the amount of secrecy practiced and the authority for the secrecy.

The practices vary widely. They range from that of the Central Intelligence Agency which tells nothing on the premise that it would be dangerous to say anything, to that of the American Bar Association which tells everything on the premise that it would be pretty hard to hide the Jefferson Memorial.

But somewhere in between is the balance of the other Government agencies and departments. Much of what they do is withheld from the public and sometimes from the Congress.

Now there is something gravely wrong in a situation where the public is denied information by a Government whose elected officials are answerable to the public.

It is not sufficient to say that this or that must be kept secret because to tell the public would be to tell a possible enemy.

No one, we think, would want the C.I.A. to say in the public square where the intelligence agents are or what they are doing. Nor do we think it is wise to reveal the intricacies of new weapons where an untimely revelation might aid an unfriendly nation. Even so, some check must be kept on what national security agencies are doing; how else can the Congress know the security we need is there?

And the secrecy in Government is found not only in agencies dedicated to national security. The secrecy is found in such differing agencies of Government as the Alcohol Tax Unit which refused in 1951 to speak the names of bartenders who were fined for watering or substituting one brand for another and the Patent Office which placed a secrecy stamp on a process for manufacturing man-made diamonds.

These are some of the things the House Subcommittee will turn up in the course of its investigation. Whether it will uncover the reasons for the growth of secrecy is another matter.

FACTS CAN AND DO DIFFER IN THE EXERCISE OF JUDGMENT IN RELEASING INFORMATION

The latitude of such censorship is as dangerous as it is plain. What is to be done about it? We think the place where secrecy starts is the place to cure it. If the Congress will stop granting the legal privilege to operate in secrecy — even at times in secrecy from the Congress — and if the Congress will challenge secrecy orders unauthorized either by the Constitution or by statute, then the censor's stamp can no longer keep people from knowing what their Government is doing.

FORD STOCK SALE

(Chicago Tribune) The Ford Motor company, which Henry Ford incorporated on June 16, 1903 with $28,000, is now worth more than a hundred thousand times that figure. And so far as we know that was all the outside money that was ever put into the business in bringing about a $110 investment worth a million dollars because he was able to keep the bulk of the earnings in the business and because he knew how to use the money in a highly competitive business to realize a fabulous compound rate of return. The Ford company faltered in its founder's declining years, but he passed on a name and an enterprise which new management was able to raise to new heights.

In building a business of billion dollar proportions, Henry Ford made it inevitable that it would have to become a publicly owned corporation. The tax on his estate would have forced the public sale of the stock, if he had not left the bulk of it in the form of nonvoting stock to the tax-exempt Ford Foundation. Only a small minority interest, in the form of voting stock, went to his family. But as the Ford Motor company had even greater success under Henry Ford II, the Foundation's wealth became too great to be prudently held in the form of a single investment.

The Ford family lost most of its means to the foundation under pressure of federal taxation. Now, to make the foundation's stock saleable at a fair price, and make it eligible for listing on the New York stock exchange, the Ford family is obliged to give up more than half of its voting power in the company as well. The latter deprivation seems greater than it is. No aspirant for control of the company will engage Henry Ford II in a proxy fight. Twenty per cent is generally recognized as adequate for control. He would need the support of only one-sixth of the publicly owned shares to keep out any challenger.

With the sale of some of Ford stock by the foundation, it will be confronted with the problem of reinvesting the money. As an investor it becomes one of the world's giants. With that exempt income on three billion dollars, it dwarfs all other fortunes or trusts. Its economic power is of a size never before known in this country or anywhere else. The activities will inevitably receive the closest public scrutiny. It cannot deny or ignore public opinion. A multibillion dollar tax-free foundation may well decide that foundations may be big, but not that big.

Kefauver Continues Baby Probe

MIAMI — UP — The chief investigator of the Kefauver subcommittee said Tuesday that many Hollywood movie stars became adoptive parents of Augustus, Ga., children without ever visiting Georgia or having any contact with the juvenile court there.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, probed deeper into the Georgia juvenile court whose judge — Harry Woodward — was accused of using the courts for profit in placing adopted children.

Special counsel Ernest Miller related a case history of a woman in Augusta who gave birth to a baby in University hospital there and was told by "a woman" that her infant was born dead. She was asked to sign a paper authorizing public burial.

"It turned out the paper she signed was a consent for adoption. "Many members of the movie industry," Miller said, "and several colony are adoptive parents years later; after she had moved through this Georgia court," Miller to California, she was shocked to find that "The ones I talked with when a welfare worker interviewed had never been to Georgia and had had no contact with the court but had arranged to get their children through the probation officer."

"This child had been placed by the Richmond county (Augusta) juvenile court with a California family which lived just a few miles away from this woman's new California residence." The housewife feeds and breeds most extensively in manure, garbage and fermenting crop wastes.

Airline Pilots Are Developing Their Own Style Of Talking

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
 WASHINGTON—UP—Commercial airline pilots are having fun making fun of double-talkers in their own business in government and even among us newspapermen.

"The airline pilot," a magazine published by the Airline Pilots Association, has compiled a tongue-in-cheek dictionary explaining what some of the pet jargon of the trade means. For example, take this sentence:

"The co-ordinator said the program was in progress."

According to the pilots' glossary, that can be translated into plain English.

A "co-ordinator" is "the guy who has a desk between two ex-peditors." A program is "an assignment that can't be completed by one phone call."

"Being in progress" means simply that the business at hand is "so wrapped up in red tape that the situation almost is beyond repair."

The fliers' definition of air traffic is:

"A concentration of numerous aircraft over a given point, each demanding the same route and altitude and each having a special priority."

Air traffic clearance, translated, is "a verbal method of snarling the foregoing traffic."

The air traffic controller, himself, probably is a man who, after he reads this definition, would just as soon go back to cranking Model Ts or selling pencils on the street.

He is dubbed, without much affection, as "an individual hated by pilots, airline executives, assistant controllers, passengers — and other people."

A dig is dug at the press. That "reliable source" reporter is always quoting is defined as "a guy who introduced you to the guy you just met. And an "unimpeachable source" is the clown who started the rumor in the first place.

Some of the cracks can apply to bureaucrats of either government or industry.

For instance, a "clarification" means to fill in the background with so many details the foreground goes underground. To make a survey means that a man needs time to think up an answer that will get him off the nail.

To "note and initial" means "let's spread the responsibility for this."

Plain Old Horse Sense Is Best Weapon Against Colds

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
WASHINGTON—UP—The cold season is with us again. It's time to winterize.

Scientists are working on some vaccines but these won't be around for quite a while. An expert said Wednesday that plain old-fashioned horse sense is still about the only weapon man has against his age-old enemy.

The common cold is by all odds the most notorious member of the respiratory infection family. But it has some equally undesirable relatives like grippe, influenza, bronchitis and virus pneumonia.

Together, these diseases cause Americans more mass misery than any other illness. The average person gets six attacks a year. Children are particularly hard hit. And the cost in lost wages and production is more than $2 billion annually.

In spite of these discouraging facts, Dr. Norman B. McCullough said there are many simple things people can do to avoid colds—and to hold down the damage if they do get them.

His prescription: Get plenty of rest, avoid chills, wear sensible clothing, and don't dope yourself with a lot of unnecessary drugs.

McCullough knows what he's talking about. He is clinical director of the National Microbiological Institute and an authority on upper respiratory infections.

He took issue in an interview with many of the so-called cold remedies now in general use. He said science hasn't come up with a cure yet and there's no use pretending it has.

McCullough asserted that anti-histamine drugs which have been in vogue in recent years don't do any good at all. They help in some kinds of allergy, he said, but have no effect on an honest-to-goodness case of cold or grippe.

The same applies to chest rubs, bicarbonate of soda and similar home cures, McCullough said. They aren't any help and, in some cases, could be harmful.

McCullough likewise warned against the indiscriminate use of antibiotics. He conceded penicillin, for example, helps in some kinds of pneumonia and sinusitis when they are caused by bacteria.

But he said antibiotics don't do any good in ordinary cases of cold, grippe and similar infections which are mostly caused by viruses.

McCullough said nose drops help clear clogged nasal passages. But he warned they shouldn't be used for more than three days. After three days, he said, they inflame the mucous membranes and do more damage than good.

WASHINGTON—Republican national chairman Leonard W. Hall on Adlai Stevenson's announcement that he will seek the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

"The people repudiated Mr. Stevenson and everything he stands for in 1952. They will repudiate him again should he get the nomination next year."

ment: "It is a good thing for Stevenson to run and to announce his candidacy early."

DENVER—Nestor Wright, guard captain at Denver county jail where John Gilbert Graham is being held on charges that he time-bombed a United Air Lines plane, sending 44 persons to their deaths:

"He seems to feel he'll get out of the position he's in and he talked like he's quite hopeful of making his bond and getting out of jail."

mittee on pushers who try to get young people to sell narcotics: "They are selfish, greedy people who are only interested in money. Whether they are dressed as angels or not, they are real devils in disguise—murderers."

HOLLYWOOD—Blonde actress Jill Jarmyn, who withdrew a request for a battery complaint against red-haired film star Susan Hayward following a fight between the two:

"I've been through a humiliating experience and I want to forget it. I don't want to relive it again."

MIAMI—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a probable candidate himself, on Stevenson's announcement:

LOS ANGELES Actor and former narcotics addict Bela Lugosi, testifying before a Senate subcommittee:

'23 Skidoo' Bunch Is Kickin' It Up For Their Kind Of Talk

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK—UP—The Skidoos met Wednesday (society for the kindly, intelligent disinterment of once opulent slang). It was the regular monthly meeting. A quorum of 23 was present.

Members, on pogo sticks, entered a meeting hall done up as a replica of a miniature golf course, with several mahjong sets in one corner. Each member gave a sized Skidoos Sam Brown, on the the password—"oh yeah?" to which the response was "yeah!"

The session opened with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which disclosed the membership had voted to disinter, and prepare for immediate usage, the following: "Nertz," "copasetic," "cake eater," "sweep potatoe," "coffin nail," and "my stairs!"

General Order of Business

The chairman called for the general order of business and recognized in one corner, sized Skidoos Sam Brown, on the the password—"oh yeah?" to which the response was "yeah!"

"Golly Ned, Mr. Chairman,"

Brown began, "I don't want to be a worry wart, but I said at the last meeting and I'll say it again now—any disinterment worth its salt that disinters 'cake eater' has also got to bring back 'lounge lizard' and you've got to..."

He was interrupted by Skidoos Sid Widgeon and Joe Wilco.

"Hire a hall!" commented Widgeon. "Dry up!"

"Tell it to the Marines," said Wilco.

"Ah, your father's mustache!" retorted Brown. "And, I might add, 'so's your old man.'"

"So's your Aunt Emma," Wilco shot back.

Cut Out Confab

"Gee whillikers, kiddoes," said the chairman, "let's cut out the confab and buckle down. Time's awastin' and..."

"Where's the fire?" demanded

Brown. "I hardly have time to say 'greetings, gae' when you bimboes try to give me the air. You in a hurry to get outta here and rush the growler or something?"

"Drop dead," said Widgeon.

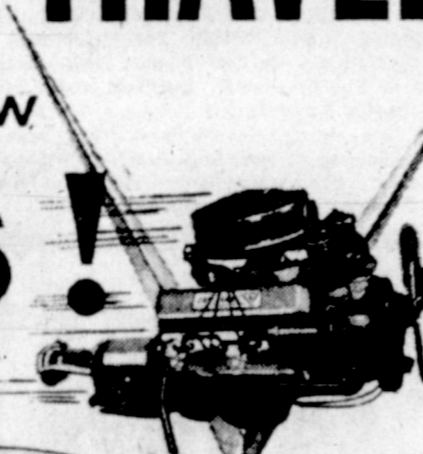

"Point of order, Mr. Chairman!" Brown yelled. "Drop dead" has not been disinterred by this society and is not permitted in usage on the floor. Matter of fact, it hasn't even been buried yet—still alive and kicking in some lazy-speech circles."

"Peachie!" said the chairman. "That was nifty, Brown; you're the cat's meow. This gives us a chance to cop some swag. Widgeon, under the by-laws of this society I now fine you fifth smack for unauthoritative usage. Put up or shut up!"

"I still think he's g-a-g," said Widgeon. "He gives me the heebie-jeebies. He's off his..."

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

IT SEEMS SO-CALLED "OLD-FASHIONED" things keep being revived, and not just in the song world. One of my few remembrances of the aunt for whom I'm named is the bread with butter and brown sugar she always fed me when I visited her house. Lately I came across an article recommending just such a treat for the children of today. I haven't heard of it for years, but this article says it is very nutritional. Hope it does come back. Maybe I'll revert to my second childhood and try it again myself.

TO SUPPLY the quick energy owner of an interesting collection of early American cook books. The earliest, particularly those of the 17th Century, combine cooking and medical tips as well as household information of all kinds.

"Under recipes," says Mrs. Rudkin, "I found a wonderful one which I'm sure everybody will want to try out some weekend."

"The heading is: 'To Bake a Pig' 'Take a pig and scald it, open it and let all the blood soak out, and let it boil, and when you find it almost tender, press it in a cloth, pull off the skin and stuff it then bake it w/ 1 vinegar, sugar, cinnamon, ginger, and a little rose-water.'"

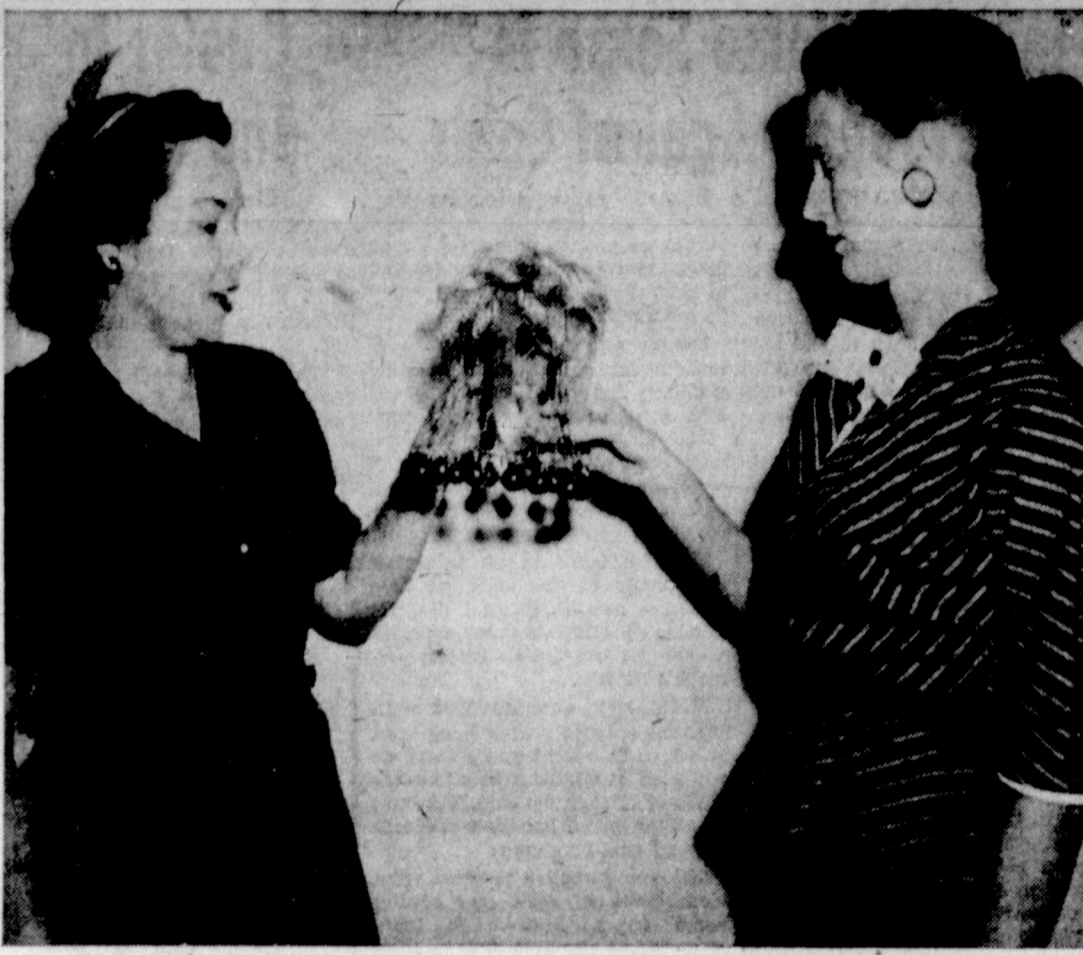

Because it is used so quickly by the body, sugar is a vital part of nature's own system of appetite control. It satisfies the craving for food faster than anything else because it almost immediately raises the blood sugar level and thus helps regulate appetite.

As nature's purest form of quick energy, brown sugar combined with bread provides children with even more health values. Bread is a foundation food for the growing child.

Also a good supplier of energy, bread is enriched to offer three B vitamins — niacin, riboflavin and thiamine and iron. Bread is a good source of protein and calcium needed for the growth of bone. When you add the butter, there is Vitamin A to influence healthy growth and development.

Next time the youngsters call for a between-meal-snack, remember the healthful, quick energy combination — brown sugar, bread and butter.

Barrett Chapel SS Group Given Party

The Intermediate Sunday School department of the Baptist Barrett chapel was entertained recently in the home of Mrs. Mike Porter, 1816 N. Hobart. A Thanksgiving dinner was served. Games were led by Miss Edie Seawright, co-sponsor with Mrs. Porter.

Attending were Marilyn Mead, Ruby Hullester, Muriene Attaway, Karl Knoll, Vernon Mangel, Gale and Sam Harris, Melvin, Aaron and Sharon Davis, Betty Wittie and Jan Porter.

Mrs. Marion Roberts, 608 N. Sumner.
8:00—Order of the Eastern Star in Masonic Hall.

Leftover biscuits and muffins can be restored to freshness by being split, spread with butter or margarine and toasted in the broiler. They should be served hot.

Birthday Party Given For Vicky Ferguson

A party was given in the Lefors Methodist Church recently for Miss Vicky Lynn Ferguson on her sixth birthday.

Cake, punch and ice cream were served. Those attending were Pat Gotcher, Paula and Pam Wilson, Jerry Teel, Joy Lynn Barnes, Brenda Russell, Judy Barnes, Sue George and Johnny Duncan, Mary Dee Jinks, Shiela and Patsy Shofit, Shirley Vincent, Joyce and Martha Carlton, Vicky Jo Cochran, Thelma and Debbie Daniels and Tollie Jinks Jr.

Adults present were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferguson of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ferguson; and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Polly Gotcher, Grace Carlton, Robert Howard, George Duncan, Bill Teel and Juanita Vincent.

Touches of wool knit as trim appear everywhere this fall: op-dresses, raincoats, coats. Makes snug fit at neckline and cuffline.

Recent Skelly Bride Feted With Shower

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — Mrs. Don Gallaher was recently complimented with a bridal shower in the Community church.

Hostesses were Mmes. H. C. Boyd, Doane Phillips, Bill Price, Frank Genett, T. C. Coter, Clarence Kaiser; and Mmes. Betty Lou Cofer and Marilyn Kaiser.

Vocal selections were presented by Misses Beverly Harlan and Annice Watt, accompanied by Mrs. Edith Beighle.

The bride's colors of light blue and white were used in the table decorations. The table was covered with a lace cloth over blue and centered with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Blue napkins with "Don and Aurelia" inscribed in white were used.

Miss Kaiser and Miss Cofer presided at the serving table. Decorated cake and punch were served.

Attending were Mmes. Leon Atkins, L. D. Cowart, Ervin Cooper, Carl Moran, Wesley Russell, C. B. McIntyre, Buck Durning, Elsie Wyrick, Pete Putman, Earl Black, George Hess, Dewey Godwin, Lena Moore, Willis Denham, Bob Moore, W. G. Welborn, Ruby Daniels, V. S. Gallaher, Bill Harlan, Edith Beighle, and Misses Addie Fern Lick, Annice Wyatt, Beverly Harlan, Becky Durning, Charlotte Welborn, Reba Daniels.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

When a proud papa introduces his son to you, it is much more flattering to discover some way in which he resembles his father than to say you don't see any resemblance.

If you use your imagination a little you can usually come up with something like, "He has your mouth." Or "He's certainly a chip off the old block." Whether the "old block" is handsome or not, he is sure to be pleased.

Worthwhile HDC Plans Dinner Meet

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Ora Wagner with Mrs. J. L. Carlton, president, in charge.

A Thanksgiving dinner was planned for 6 p.m. Nov. 22, in the home of Mrs. Roy Tinsley, for members and their families. Mrs. Tinsley gave the council report, announcing the council's Christmas party will be Dec. 13, in the Lovett Memorial Library. A suit and coat review will be presented at the party.

The program on care of the hair was presented by Mrs. Tinsley. She advised the women to brush their hair daily. If a nylon stocking is placed over the brush, it will help clean the hair, she explained. Each hair is hollow and made up of the same elements as the finger nails, she pointed out.

If the roots are damaged, no hair will grow in its place, she explained. The hair should be shampooed once a week, and twice a week if it is oily. It should be cut at a 45 degree angle and should lie close to the head, she pointed out.

Next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Marion Roberts, 608 N. Sumner.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee were served during the social period. Attending were Mmes. E. L. Clark, J. Clark, Noah Cude, J. L. Carlton, Boyd Brown, W. G. Pampa Art Club Holds Workshop

The Pampa Art Club held a workshop meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Harold Wright. The women worked on Christmas decorations, aprons, china painting, and organdy boxes.

Mrs. O. W. Applebay, president, led the business session. Mrs. W. L. Heskey reported on the art show held recently in Amarillo. She also announced that two Pampa women, Mrs. Fred Sloan and Mrs. Raymond Harrah Sr., were featured in the art magazine, "Widening Horizons in Creative Arts," this month in a section on the Panhandle.

Refreshments were served during the social period. Attending were Mmes. John Andrews, O. W. Applebay, J. P. Cornutt, A. C. Cox, H. L. Gregory, W. L. Heskey, A. D. Hills, C. P. Pursley, Ervin Pursley, D. E. Roundtree, G. E. Tinnin, Roger Willett and Loretta Killingsworth.

How long has it been since you cleaned out your handbag? No doubt it's time to remove the contents, eliminate about half of them, brush out the lining and restore the things you really need.

Shamrock Woman Is State OES Officer

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Mrs. Katherine Harbour of Shamrock was appointed deputy grand matron of district 2, Order of the Eastern Star of Texas at the recent meeting of the Grand Chapter in San Antonio. The appointment was made by Mrs. Lois Burnett, worthy grand matron of Grand Chapter.

Mrs. Harbour's territory covers 83 counties from the Panhandle and West Texas to El Paso and the Big Bend Country, including approximately 185 chapters.

In 1953-54 she served as deputy grand matron of District Two, Section One. She is a past matron of the Shamrock chapter.

Mrs. Harbour will travel with the worthy grand matron of Texas during January and will preside over and teach the schools of instruction in the district.

Mrs. Eva Starr, formerly of Shamrock and now of Wellington, was appointed deputy grand matron of District Two, Section 2, at the San Antonio meeting.

Martha Skelly Is Honored At Meeting Of Altrusans As 'Girl-Of-The-Month'

Miss Martha Skelly was honored as "girl-of-the-month" at the recent meeting of the Pampa Altrusa Club in the Pine Room of the Pampa Hotel.

A Pampa High School senior, Miss Skelly is a member of the Spanish Club and the Junior Red Cross council. She also belongs to the Kit Kat Klub, a social group, and is active in the Girl Scouts. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Skelly, 916 N. Somerville.

During the business session, led by Mrs. Frank Lard, president, reports on ticket sales for the Rubing-off concert the club is sponsoring were made by each member. Mrs. F. W. Shotwell reported on the inquiry to Representative Walter Rogers concerning the establishing of a post office at Girlstown.

The club voted to decorate a car for the Christmas parade, and reports on the recent meeting were made by Mrs. Lard, Mrs. Inez Carter and Mrs. Grant Anderson. Pampa's fourth delegate was Mrs. J. C. Coston. At the close of the talks, a collection was taken for the Altrusa Club at Tampico, in accordance with a suggestion made at the district meeting.

A classification talk on interior decorating was made by Mrs. L. A. Barber. She stated her work deals with the beauty of the home. She showed samples of imported fabrics, stating that the entire color scheme of a home can be worked around one fabric. She summarized her work as "the coordination of color, design and fabric to emphasize the beauty of the home." Attending the meeting were Mes. Lorene Locke, Frank Lard, L. A. Barber, F. M. Foster, Jack P. Foster, Mark Heath, Bob Mc Coy, Marian Osborne, F. W. Shotwell, Lillian Snow, Orvil Thornburg, Grant Anderson, Bert Arney, B. M. Behrman, Inez Carter, Iri Smith and N. G. Kadingo.

Social Meet Held By Joy SS Class

The Joy Sunday School Class of the Central Baptist Church held a business and social meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Roy Goodwin, 1041 Prairie Drive.

Mrs. Elmo Thompson gave the opening prayer. Officers elected during the business session were Mrs. Sam Hanks, vice president; Mrs. Charles Reeves, reporter; and Mrs. Bob Wilhelm, group captain.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 20, with husbands of members as special guests. The men are to bring gifts for men, and the women are to bring gifts for ladies. A Thanksgiving banquet for the men and women in the SS department was planned for Nov. 22.

Mrs. Tommy Phillips presented the devotional. Games were led by Mrs. Helen Hinds during the social period, and refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served. Attending were Mes. Bob Bailey, Bob Wilhelm, Don Warren, Derry Dunner, Roy Dunner, Roy Goodwin, Helen Hinds, Charles Reeves, Elmo Thompson, Sam Hanks, Don Horton, Glenda Killian and James Luedicke.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend

Is divorce ever justified? Some time ago a dear friend of mine living in another state became, as her doctors say, mentally ill. She will have to be confined to a mental institution for the rest of her days.

This couple who were active in church affairs had three children. Recently her husband sued for divorce and obtained it. He married again a short time ago. He states that his conscience does not bother him at all because of a devoted father and husband. He has been very kind and good to his children. In excusing himself for divorcing his mentally ill wife he states "I cannot be expected to live out my life in loneliness," and he excuses himself further by stating he still contributes heavily to his former wife's hospitalization costs.

CHILDREN BITTER

His children are rather bitter as they are in their late teens and say that he has always preached to them about the evils of divorce and that they should try to carry out the teachings of the Bible in every way. But when he was put to the test he did not practice what he preached.

Do you think a man is justified in obtaining a divorce on grounds of insanity?

Daily Reader

Dear Reader

It is a question which must be solved by each person for himself. You have probably read the many arguments for and against remarriage of divorced persons in connection with Princess Margaret's romance. If you are a devout member of such churches who oppose divorce then of course you could not justify your action, as Margaret evidently could not. Other churches teach a different interpretation of Christ's remarks against divorce and remarriage and if you follow their precepts then you would have a different feeling about it.

If you are a Mohammedan you would think nothing of it, wouldn't even have to divorce the one wife to take another. You wouldn't promise not to.

My own personal feeling is that marriage should last until husband and wife are parted by death. I feel that if young people entered marriage feeling that it is forever, they would choose more wisely and there would be less divorce.

Shamrock Road Work Considered

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Bids are being considered for improving 25 miles of Wheeler County roads. Clyde Drake, resident engineer of the Texas State Highway Department in Wellington, has announced that State Highway 152 from Wheeler west to Gray County lines will be rebuilt this winter. The road will be widened from its present width of 22 feet of pavement to 24 feet plus eight feet of paved shoulders, Drake said.

The contractors' notice of construction, asking for sealed bids, calls for "Construction of 16,871 miles of grading, widening structures, flexible base and two-course surface treatment."
Bids will be received at the Highway Department, Austin, until 9 a.m. Thursday, November 23, and then publicly opened and read.
Drake stated construction work

Handsomeness Leading Actors Are Needed In Television

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD — UP — Wanted for television: Handsome actors, not too young or too expensive, to hold hands with Loretta Young and Jane Wyman.

Television has other shortages—such as quiz masters who don't leer—but the leading man situation is approaching disaster.

This is the big problem of Ruth Burch, who is one of the most sought-after women in television. Miss Burch wields power over 5,000 actors every year. She's the casting director for 16 filmed TV shows, including "You Are There," "Frontier," "The Screen Directors' Playhouse," "The Burns and Allen Show" and "Wyatt Earp."

Her worst headache, she decided, is finding leading men for Loretta and Jane.

"They're limited on the money they can spend for leading men."

PO Holds Up Unobscene Book

WASHINGTON — UP — The Post Office Department, whose job it is to guard the mails against obscenity, has cracked down on a comic book for not being obscene.

This unusual situation was disclosed in a suit filed in federal court by A. P. R. Industries, Inc., of Los Angeles. The firm seeks to prevent postal authorities from holding "Up the mailing of its 'for men only' cartoon book."

The Post Office acted against the firm on grounds that it is engaged in a fraudulent enterprise because it promised obscenity in its advertising "and did not deliver."

With many more TV shows being filmed here instead of originating live in New York, employment for actors in Hollywood has zoomed.

As one actor says, "If you don't know Ruth Burch, you don't work in TV."
Each Tuesday the casting director talks to 50 new players in four hours, "kids from San Francisco, Chicago, New York, or little theaters. I have to keep in touch with who's new in town."

Stunned Lubbock Westerners Fear Pampa's Passing Attack

By CHARLES GILLESPIE
Sports Writer
Lubbock Avalanche Journal

LUBBOCK — (Special) — Feelings were hurt but otherwise the Lubbock Westerners escaped with only minor injuries last week while absorbing the school's worst defeat in history at the hands of the powerful Abilene Eagles.

The 62-7 shellacking handed the Westerners has done little to encourage the Lubbock squad in early week preparation for the Friday night visit of the Pampa Harvesters.

Coach Pat Farris was one of the earliest boosters the Harvesters had and still maintains that the win-loss record proves little except that Pampa will be looking hard for their first district victory.

Farris still remembers the outstanding job Pampa Quarterback Buddy Sharp turned in last year and will be priming his defense to stop the little sharp-shooter.

About the only Westerner credited with playing up to par against the Eagles was 6-3, 205-pound E. J. Holub, Lubbock's leading candidate for all-district honors.

As usual the offensive load was carried by veteran halfback Don Hogue, for two years the team's leading scorer and ground-gainer. Hogue has started every game Lubbock high has played for the past three years.

Against Pampa he'll probably be joined by co-captain Robert Benton at the other halfback and either Tom "red" Roberts or Charley Moore at fullback. Jerry Head has been the regular quarterback all season but may have lost his starting job to junior Calvin Warren, the most effective of three signal-callers the Westerners used against Abilene.

Benton has been plagued by a chronic ankle injury for two months and as usual will be able to go at top speed only on straight-away handoffs. Only other injury on the squad is a charley-horse "owned" by second-string halfback Bobby Poik, a 140-pound speed merchant.

Lubbock's probably offensive line will include ends Gary Don Ketron and Josi Austin, tackles Holub and Howard Tucker, guards David Webb and Ronny McClellan and center Joe Cox.

All are seniors except juniors Holub and McClellan. Defensively, changes will send Mickey Wilson to end in place of Ketron, 218-pound James Thompson to tackle replacing Tucker and Roy Rucker and Perry White to the backfield in place of the Fullback and quarterback.

The Odds Are Against It

By UNITED PRESS
Although the odds against a triple dead-heat in horse racing are inscalculable, two such finishes almost popped up in feature races Tuesday at eastern tracks.

In Display Handicap at Jamaica, three horses dashed to the wire together but the photo showed War Command the winner by a nose over Kope's Baby. Galidar finished third, a short neck behind the winner.

At Narragansett Park, Active Duty, Indian Lad and Can't O'Mar finished noses apart in the Riverside purse.

The only triple dead-heat in a stake race occurred in the 1944 Carter Handicap at Aqueduct when Brownie, Wait A Bit and Bossuet hit the wire in the same instant. A similar finish turned up last month at the Agua Caliente track in Mexico.

Contender to Title
TORONTO, Ont. —UP— Canadian-born James J. Parker of Paterson, N. J., was described Thursday by boxing promoter Frank Tunney as the "logical" pretender to the Canadian heavyweight title left vacant by the retirement of Earl Walls.

Colt Owner Wants To Buy Baltimore Baseball Team

BALTIMORE —UP— The Baltimore Orioles were split into two factions Thursday — one favoring the sale of the club to Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore football Colts, and the other apparently opposing the sale.

Clarence Miles, whose resignation as president of the Orioles becomes effective Friday, said he would be "very glad" to sell his stock to Rosenbloom, who is interested only if he can buy controlling interest.

"I feel almost certain that the people I represent, who own the second largest block of stock in the Orioles, would be happy to sell, too, at a fair price," Miles said. "I personally have the highest respect for Carroll Rosenbloom."

Other big stockholders besides Miles also favor the sale of the Orioles to Rosenbloom, a wealthy manufacturer who has pulled the Colts out of a rut in the National Football League, but other members of the Orioles' board of directors prefer to hold on to the stock themselves.

James Keely Jr., a board member who reportedly has the inside track on the Orioles' presidency which is expected to be voted on at Miami Beach, Fla., Friday, said he has no intention of disposing his stock at this time.

Another member of the board, Howard S. Jones, explained that he and other members of the board had banded together and placed their stock in a voting trust. He said that the members in the trust had all pledged they would not deal individually with any prospective buyer.

TRA to Meet
NEW YORK —UP— Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida will be the principal speaker at the Dec. 8 dinner of the Thoroughbred Racing Association which is expected to be held at Miami Beach, Fla., Friday, said he has no intention of disposing his stock at this time.

Abilene Gives Up NAIA

ABILENE, Tex. —UP— Abilene Thursday dropped its sponsorship of the annual NAIA track and field championships which have been held in Abilene for the past four years.

The move by the directors of the Abilene Intercollegiate Sponsors Inc., left the way open for bids for the meet by Kansas City, Mo., and San Diego, Calif.

Bill Ledbetter, chairman of the sponsors, said Abilene still had a year to run on its contract, but wanted to give up the meet, which also includes tennis and golf, because of the financial aspects. He said the sponsors lost money the first three years before showing a slight profit this year.

In Corn Bowl Game
MACOMB, Ill. —UP— Luther College of Decorah, Iowa, which has been unbeaten for two and a half years, will oppose Western Illinois State College in the fifth Corn Bowl game on Thanksgiving Day. Western Illinois has a 6-2-1 record this season.

Funk-Newman Tiff Is Hotter Than Ever Here Are The Facts Pick Army Or Navy

A POKE IN THE NOSE — The action above is typical of the action that went on for a full hour last night at the Top O' Texas Sportsman's Club arena when Bob Geigel, throwing the punch, and Art Nelson wrestled the limit without a fall. The match was scheduled for one hour two of three falls. The time was up and neither wrestler had been pinned. The match would have given Geigel a shot at the Southwest States Championship if he had won it. (News Photo)

Pampa wrestling fans saw the grudge between Dory Funk and Leo "The Lion" Newman intensified last night rather than settled. Funk won the match but the first fall was won on a disqualification because of illegal tactics used by Newman.

Leo Newman had taped some sandpaper to the bottom of one shoe for the first fall and used it to start the blood from Funk's face. The referee, George Overhuls, disqualified Newman in 7:10 of the first fall.

Funk came back in the second fall and opened the wounds that he gave Newman several weeks ago. The blood spilled freely from both wrestlers for 11:03 of the second fall with Funk taking it and the match after winning the first fall on a disqualification.

Probably the longest wrestling round in the history of Pampa wrestling came last night when Bob Geigel and Art Nelson went the full hour without a fall.

The bout went as rough as any of them with Nelson getting away with choking and hair pulling time after time. When Geigel attempted to pull hair referee Overhuls managed to be in a convenient spot to catch him. The fighting was done in and out of the ring.

The match meant a lot to both wrestlers. For Nelson it meant a chance to keep the title of the Southwest States without a fight. For Geigel it meant a chance to get a title match with Nelson to regain the title he lost because he didn't defend it. Geigel has been in the East and Nelson won the title in a tournament which Geigel was unable to participate in.

The chances are good that the two men will fight it out again next week or within the next few weeks. Luis Martinez submitted after 19 minutes of the one fall 20 minute time limit match with Jack O'Reilly.

The match looked like it would end in a draw. Then O'Reilly got a chance for his Australian leg lock and put it on. Martinez submitted with only one minute left in the match.

Bettors Own Record
MOSCOW —UP— Galina Zyblina of Russia bettered her own world shot put record Tuesday with a toss of 54 feet, eight inches.

Prepare for Olympics
OSLO, Norway —UP— The United States speed skating team will prepare for the 1956 winter Olympics by competing in two meets in southern Norway early in January, it was announced Wednesday.

The match meant a lot to both wrestlers. For Nelson it meant a chance to keep the title of the Southwest States without a fight. For Geigel it meant a chance to get a title match with Nelson to regain the title he lost because he didn't defend it. Geigel has been in the East and Nelson won the title in a tournament which Geigel was unable to participate in.

NEW YORK —UP— If you still haven't made up your mind whether you like Army or Navy in the big game, here's some information that might help you decide:

Army has the stronger defense. As a matter of fact, the Cadets have the finest defense of any major college football team in the country. But Navy is right up close in the No. 2 spot.

The Black Knights of West Point lead the nation in total defense with an average yield of 139.5 yards per game. They have yielded only 1,116 yards in eight games this season, according to the NCAA service bureau.

Navy, which has the traditional date with Army in Philadelphia, Nov. 26, has given up an average of 169 yards per game, having yielded a total of 1,332 yards in eight games. Maryland ranks third in total defense with an average of 174.7 yards in nine games while Auburn is fourth with a 181.5 average and Holy Cross fifth with 186.5.

The Cadets also head the rushing defense department. They have given up only 278 yards on the ground for an average of 72.3 yards per game. Navy ranks no better than eighth in this category with a 120.6 average.

Maryland follows Army in rushing defense with a 78.7 figure while Holy Cross is third with 92.9, Auburn fourth with 103.0 and Oklahoma fifth with 110.1. Florida took over the lead with an average of 43.8 yards yielded through the air, followed by George Washington with 45.0 and Nebraska with 45.9.

Deer Loss

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. - UP - Mrs. Omer Guilmette complained to police that someone drove an automobile into her 400-pound deer and broke it into several pieces. The deer was a metal statue on her lawn.

Proposition

VALLEY CITY, N. D. - UP - Ed Komrosky said any hunter could shoot all he wants on his farm - if he puts up 20 shocks of corn first. "Got plenty of ducks," Komrosky said, "but plenty of corn too."

Shamrock CoC Elects New Officers

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Gerald Mayfield, auto supply store owner, was elected president of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, at a re-organization meeting held recently. Mr. Mayfield succeeds Harry Frye, who served as president during the past year.

Other officers of the chamber are: Sam Pakan, vice president, succeeding Harold Teegerstrom; and John Hrciar, Jr., treasurer, succeeding Charles Sanders.

Other members of the board of directors are: Frye, Lyman Benson, Bill Clayton, James Brothers, Bedford Harrison and Jack Gibson, Mayfield, Harrison and Gibson were elected to places on the board last month. They succeed retiring directors, Teegerstrom, Sanders and Roy Scriver.

The annual membership banquet of the Shamrock Chamber of Com-

Lefors W.S.C.S. Holds Meeting

LEFORS — (Special) — The W.S.C.S. of the Lefors Methodist Church met recently in a World Day of Prayer service and luncheon.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Dan Johnson, Mrs. W. T. Cole, Mrs. W. R. Combs and Mrs. Cleo Spence.

Mrs. Wesley Daniel was leader of the program which was the ABCs of devotion, A, adoration and awareness; B, bread and belief; and C, consecration and commitment.

Other members present included Mrs. Bill Watson, Mrs. Bernard Johnson, Mrs. W. C. Breining, Mrs. Bill Teel, Mrs. Bill McBee and Mrs. Walter Pflug.

Mrs. Ted Gustin was a guest.

The service was held Tuesday night, November 15.

Robert Laycock has resigned as manager of the local chamber to take a position with Hughes Insurance Company in Pampa.

Wheeler Co. Has Dip In X-Rays

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The eighth annual X-ray clinic in Wheeler County had 2,058 persons take part. The State Health Department's mobile unit took chest X-rays during the five days in the county.

This year saw a decrease of 1,542 from the 3,000 persons who participated last year and was 987 less than in 1953. Fewer people took advantage of the free service at all three places where the machine operated, Shamrock, Wheeler and Mobeetie.

The decrease in Shamrock might be attributed to the fact that the seven previous programs had been conducted during the State-Line Free Fair.

Comparative figures for the two years with 1955 figures first show Shamrock, 1,455, 2,353; Wheeler, 313, 887; Mobeetie, 290, 360; total, 2,058, 3,000.

BACK — Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israel's chief of staff, is back at his post after his vacation. His return coincides with reports on a possible Big Four parley on the Middle East.

QUICK CHANGER—This new heavy-duty trackmobile hauls, switches and spots railroad cars. The vehicle, which can travel on roads on its four pneumatic tires, is shown riding the tracks in Chicago, Ill. To do this it retracts its tires and rests on steel wheels. The conversion takes only 90 seconds.

Quotes In The News

By UNITED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson on the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers to settle cold war problems at Geneva.

"So far as I am concerned, there is something more important than the spirit of Geneva... that is that the people of all nations—Russia as well as the United States—want peace, not war."

HOLLYWOOD — Bob Hope on the protest in Canada over his televised jokes about Princess Margaret's broken romance:

"I have met Princess Margaret on several occasions and I adore her. Being an Englishman myself, I wouldn't wish to disturb any British subject — except maybe those in Toronto. They disturb easily."

FORT DIX, N.J. — An Army post on orders to its soldiers to stop giving the public the impression they haven't got enough clothes to keep warm:

"...The public gets the impression that 'Valley Forge' has returned."

GENEVA — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the failure of the Geneva conference:

"The conference was full of interest and if it is possible to describe it in one word I would describe it as 'revealing' to us."

CHICAGO — Adlai Stevenson on the question of ex-President Truman's backing his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination:

"Mr. Truman has made it emphatically clear that he is going to be neutral... and I believe what he says."

Briton Sets New Speedboat Mark

BOULDER CITY, Nev. — UP—Britain's Don Campbell roared to a new world's speedboat record Wednesday at 218.2 miles per hour.

The son of the late speed king Sir Malcolm Campbell, raced over a kilometer course between official timing devices to shatter his own mark of 202.32 set at Lake Ullswater, England, over three months ago, in the same jet-propelled boat, the Bluebird II.

The course had been shortened from the usual mile to a kilometer because of the shape of the lake at the point selected for the run.

His triumph was not only over speed itself, but over a series of mishaps and bad luck that had beset his venture since he came to Nevada over a month ago to attempt to beat his own record.

The 34-year-old speedboat racer, whose father died in 1949 while still holding the water speed record he established in 1939 in the Bluebird I, vowed he was going to make it Wednesday "or bust."
