NATIVITY SCENE

For the seventh straight Christmas season, the eight Nativity scenes in Central Park were lighted last night in an impressive program. The manger scene pictured above, shows an Angel viewing the Holy Family with animals near by. The A Cappella Choir and the Girls Chorus and choirs from the junior high school provided background music for the program. Narrators were Lynn Followell and Dan Teed, members of the Thespian Club. Mrs. Lynn Boyd was chairman of the lighting program.

Cold Wave Grips Tighter In East

By UNITED PRESS
A bone-chilling cold wave shoved the East farther into a deep freeze Tuesday, but relaxed a little in the Midwest.
Temperatures were still well below zero in the North Central States, although Bemidji, Minn., "warmed up" from 45 below to 11 below. In other midland areas, forecasters predicted the mercury would struggle into the 30s and 20s.
In the East, however, cold wave warnings were posted for New York and Pennsylvania. And the Pacific northwest weathered another kind of wintry blast — hurricane winds and blizzards which left flood dangers in their wake.
With winter officially two days away, the temperature was below freezing early Tuesday from northern North Carolina to southern Arkansas, northern Texas, and across the Western Plains.

Low temperatures included 13 below at International Falls and Redwood Falls in Minnesota and a frosty 11 above at Dalhart, Tex.
A rash of disastrous fires, many of them caused by overheated stoves, accompanied the bitter cold.

At Springfield, Ohio, an exploding oil stove touched off a blaze which killed five children and the mother of two of the victims. Another fire burned down four buildings on the main street of Appleton, Wis., early Tuesday and the five-below cold was so intense that water changed to ice almost as soon as it left the hoses.
Blamed for Many Deaths
The cold was also blamed for a mounting list of deaths by exposure and exhaustion. One of the latest victims was a Belmont, Wis., truck driver whose body was discovered frozen in a foot and a half of creek water.
To the west, forecasters promised that a double blast of torrential rains and gale-force winds would abate. But the San Francisco area was still pounded by a terrific downpour, accompanied by rattling gusts of wind.
The California rainfalls included 12 inches in 24 hours at Los Gatos, 6.10 inches at Cloverdale, and 8.88 inches at Woodacre. The rain changed to blizzards in the mountains, dumping at least two feet of new snow on the slopes.

Fog Blankets Texas Area

By UNITED PRESS
Fog blanketed the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the Lower Gulf Coast of Texas Tuesday and extended as far north and east as Shreveport, Tyler and Longview.
The fog extended its grip at mid-morning to such inland points as Mineral Wells, Junction, Victoria, and College Station.
Light drizzles were reported at several cities.
Skies were cloudy over the eastern half of the state. Skies were clear over West Texas except for high thin clouds at Amarillo and Dalhart.
Forecasters predicted occasional light rain near the coast Tuesday night and Wednesday, with temperatures remaining mild or warming up slightly over the entire state.
Low temperatures early Tuesday ranged from 20 degrees at Wichita Falls to 60 at Brownsville.

Ford Stock Sale Readied

DETROIT — UP — The complete details of one of America's most fabulous and fascinating success stories will be revealed for the first time Wednesday.
Ford Motor Co. will open its books to the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington to clear the way for public sale of Ford stock.
The open books will reveal for the first time how the firm, up for $28,000 cash in 1903, has turned into one of the world's industrial giants.
By 1919, when Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, bought out the last of the remaining stockholders of the original 11 other investors, each $5,000 invested in the firm had grown to a return of $12.5 million.
The accounting expected Wednesday should make even that fabulous figure seem small by comparison.

Rivers In California Flooded After Storm

One Dead, Several Trapped By Swollen Northern Streams

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — Rain-swollen creeks and rivers began overflowing their banks Tuesday in the aftermath of a violent storm that whipped northern California with gale force winds and torrential downpours.

The storm was blamed for at least one death. Ten persons were rescued from cars trapped by high waters in the Eel River Valley.
Residents living along the Russian River kept an anxious eye on the swollen stream, which was expected to crest at 31 feet Tuesday.

The river had reached 26 feet at Healdsburg, a town about 65 miles north of San Francisco, and had isolated the resort town of Guerneville.

James Lytle, chairman of the Sonoma county board of supervisors, proclaimed a local emergency in the Guerneville area. Civil defense workers, Red Cross personnel and volunteers began removing families living close to the river.

Gilbert Willett, civil defense chief for the Guerneville area, said all roads to the town were flooded or blocked by landslides. Creeks in the area were over their banks. The river was at 37 feet, flood stage, at nearby Monte Rio and still rising.

Some minor flooding was reported in the dry creek area south of Healdsburg, but so far only orchards were affected. Authorities planned to evacuate six families in the lower section of Healdsburg if the flooding became more severe.

Henry Jensen, 70, of Fortuna, was drowned Monday when the car in which he was riding was engulfed by a torrent of floodwater from the Eel River.

John L. Johnson of Grizzly Bluff, driver of the car, his wife and child, and three other children climbed to the top of the car and were rescued by a boat. Jensen's body was not recovered.

Post Office Open Daily 'Til 6 P.M.

The Post Office Department will be closed on both Mondays following the Holidays, again this year, according to O. K. Gaylor, postmaster.

The office will be closed on Dec. 26 and again on Jan. 2. Packages and parcels will be delivered between 10-11 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 25.

The Post Office will continue to remain open up to 6 p.m. each day, including Christmas eve, Gaylor said.

White Deer Sets Christmas Rites

WHITE DEER — (Special) — White Deer High School will present its traditional candle-lighting program today at 8:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium.
The program will be the Christmas story in scripture and song. The high school chorus, trumpet trio, vocal and instrumental solos will furnish the musical setting.
The speech department will give the pagentry, which will consist of the journey of the shepherds and wise men, the annunciation and the adoration. A prophet will proclaim the scriptural text.
The program will open with the traditional candle lighting ceremony. Seventy high school students will participate in this Christmas pageant. The program is directed by Hobart McDonald.

US Farm Output Is A Record

Livestock, Crops Highest In History

By GAYLORD F. GODWIN
WASHINGTON — UP — The nation's farms and ranches in 1955 produced a record total of crops and livestock.
Crop production alone was the second largest — just 6 per cent under the 1948 record when the crop index stood at 106 per cent of the 1947-49 average.
But Agriculture Department officials said when the 1955 livestock production is added to the field crop index, the overall figure will be at least 111 per cent of the base production index. This will be three percentage points above last year's record of 108 per cent.

The department's crop reporting board said Monday that production in 1955 was "generally good, crop by crop and area by area, with some notable exceptions."
The combined acreage of principal crops harvested was the smallest since 1940, but generally higher yields per acre more than offset acreage reductions.

The 1955 harvested acreage of 233 million acres was 5.4 million acres less than in 1954. Largest acreage reductions from 1954 were in winter wheat, down 5.5 million acres; spring wheat, down 1.6 million acres; cotton, down 2.4 million acres; oats, down 1.4 million acres, and rice, down 700,000 acres.
Largest acreage increases from 1954 were in all sorghums, soybeans, hay, and barley.
Record productions were obtained for oats, soybeans, hay, alfalfa seed, sorghum silage, and oranges. Second largest crops of record were produced for barley, sorghum grain, and rice. Many other crops had above-average output, including corn, flaxseed, sorghum forage, cotton, sugar beets, dry beans, rye, sweet clover seed, lespedeza seed, bloomcorn, grapes, cherries, apricots, avocados, lemons, cranberries and walnuts. Wheat, both winter and spring, fell nearly 20 per cent below average. Other crops much below average were dry peas, cowpeas, sweet potatoes, buckwheat, sugarcane sirup, peaches, pecans, and tung nuts.
Many crops attained record yield per acre averages.

Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, America's top military man in Alaska was a recent visitor in the Texas Panhandle.

He is a cousin of Pampa's Crawford Atkinson, a partner at Motor Inn.

Gen. Atkinson is featured in an interview article in the Dec. 16 issue of U.S. News and World Report. Last week he visited his family in Dalhart.

Martin Predicts Ike To Run Again

WASHINGTON — UP — House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., has predicted in some of the strongest terms so far that President Eisenhower will run again.

The Massachusetts Republican said he is convinced Mr. Eisenhower will get a "certificate of health" from his physicians and will be re-elected next fall.

"He will not fail his country when they call upon him," he said Monday night in an interview on the Mutual Broadcasting System radio program "Reporters Round-up."

Doctor Tells Of Captivity In Red China

HONG KONG — UP — Dr. Homer Bradshaw, of New York, said Tuesday Communist "bandits" kidnaped him from his Chinese hospital in 1951 and held him prisoner for more than four years before charging him with "spying."

The American missionary was barely able to walk when he and his wife reached freedom here Tuesday, but after a few hours' rest he was able to talk to newsmen. Mrs. Bradshaw, whose brain gave way under the strain of Communist captivity, was unable to leave her bed at St. Theresa's hospital.

A U. S. Air Force ambulance plane will fly the couple to the Philippines as soon as Mrs. Bradshaw is able to stand the trip — perhaps Wednesday. Her husband said they plan to go to the home of his wife's family in Pittsburgh.

Bradshaw said he was brutally mistreated by his captors during the early days of his imprisonment but that they were kinder later on.

"I was handcuffed for two days at a time," he said. "I was roughly manhandled, and my arms were twisted. I was questioned for as much as six hours at a time."

He said the Reds forced him to sign a confession saying he was a U. S. spy and an "agent of Wall Street," who kept in touch by radio with Hong Kong, Manila and Tokyo, and the United States. He did not give full details of his ordeal.

"Later on, I'll give my (Presbyterian) mission accusations against these bandits that I can't give you now," he said. "I've kept all the records which I brought out."

Free Movies Set For All In Pampa

Free Movie Days begin in Pampa tomorrow for all citizens of the Top O' Texas. The movies are being sponsored by Pampa's merchants in appreciation for business received from people from Pampa and surrounding area.
The Lanora and Lavista theaters, where the movies will be shown, will open at 10 a.m. and a good feature is scheduled at each place.

If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it Lewis Hardware.

City OKs Bid On Two New Water Wells

The City commission this morning accepted the bid of H. H. Heiskell to drill two new water wells. Heiskell's bid was $24,000 for the two wells.

One well will be located on the old county park on Crawford street and the other on Lake Osborne property south of town.

Three firms bid on the job. In other action, the commission heard the first reading of an ordinance which gives Southwestern Bell Telephone Company the franchise to operate in the city for another 20 years.

The passing of the ordinance is tentative and will depend on acceptance of a contract from the St. Louis office of Southwestern Bell.

The commissioners also okayed paying for gravel work done on city streets. The bill came to $536.82.

The engineer's estimate of $3,710 for water and sewer construction done in the East Fraser addition under reimbursement contract was passed on by the group.

A tax roll correction was also made.

Turncoat Enjoys
Xmas Pageant

ALDEN, Minn. —UP—Turncoat Richard Tenneson, who said he gave up religion when he chose to stay in Red China, "enjoyed" a school Christmas pageant at his church here Sunday night.
The pageant, and church services earlier in the day, were the 22-year old Tenneson's first public appearances since he returned home.
The former Korean war prisoner chose to remain in Red China three years ago rather than repatriation, renouncing his country, family and religion. He changed his mind and arrived back home Friday.
He said it was "lots of fun to see all those little kids" two of them his half brother Eben Howe and his half sister Jan.

Princess Shocks
Fashion World

LONDON —UP—Princess Margaret, voted one of Britain's three best-dressed women, dropped a bombshell in the laps of British dress designers over the weekend by wearing a coat that no one wants to claim.
The princess turned up Saturday at the Hurst Park races wearing what one paper called an "extraordinary" knee-length camel hair trench coat with a fur collar that apparently was too much mixture of town and country.
With the coat she wore black suede accessories which the Daily Express Monday called "suitable for a cocktail party in town."
The coat itself, the Express said, "was suitable for heaving."
The Express asked Britain's top designers if they had made the coat. From Norman Hartnell, Victor Stiebel, Paterson & Cavanagh came back a unanimous "it isn't mine."
The Sunday newspaper, The People, said the dress gave fashion experts "a shock."

Five Mishaps Result In Heavy Loss

Four automobile collisions occurred yesterday and one accident took place this morning, resulting in heavy vehicle damages.

The first collision took place on S. Cuyler and 30 feet south of Tng at 10:35 a.m. Monday. John Younger Bradford, 90 Beryl St., driving a '55 Chevrolet, was in collision with Mrs. Billie Traylor Williams of 1125 S. Sumner, driving a '52 Studebaker. Mrs. Williams met with estimated damages of $150, and Bradford encountered light damages.

Another mishap occurred at the intersection of Cuyler and Brown at 10:55 a.m. yesterday. Robert C. Nichol, Amarillo, driving a '53 Ford, was in collision with Edward Ervin Baggerman, in a '49 International pickup. Nichol met with damages estimated at $40, Baggerman encountered no damage.

The third collision took place at 12:05 p.m. yesterday at the intersection of W. Brown and S. West St. Billy Jean Monroe, 1198 Prairie Dr., driving a '52 Mercury, was in collision with James Howard Buckingham, 1205 Duncan, driving a '49 Ford one-half ton truck belonging to Scott Oil Co. Monroe met with damages of approximately $250, while Buckingham encountered estimated damages of $25.

A fourth mishap occurred on N. Cuyler and 150 feet north of Foster at 1:20 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Zenobia McFarland Holloway, 1234 Mary Ellen, was driving a '52 Buick when she collided with Mrs. Jim Terrell, 213 E. Kentucky, in a '54 Mercury. Damages encountered by both parties were light.

A collision occurred this morning at 4:20 on W. Foster St. when Milton Reeves Ayres, Alamo Hotel, collided with a parked '40 Chevrolet while driving a '52 Buick. The Chevrolet, belonging to W. L. Roland of 317 N. Davis, met with approximate damages of $75. Damages were estimated at $350 for the Buick. Ayres was fined $100 and costs this morning in county court to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Hollywood Actors, Actresses In Nose-Bobbing Bit Now

By ALINE MOSSBY

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Actresses have been bobbing their noses secretly for years, and now dancer Bobby Van admitted Tuesday his recent television appearance was with a brand new profile.

Jan Sterling is among many ladies of show business who admittedly helped their careers along by altering the nose. Until now the men haven't been heard from.

But Bobby, one of the bright young hoopers of TV, movies and stage, confessed that viewers who saw him dance on the "Ford Star Jubilee" on CBS-TV last Saturday night were looking at a new Van visage.

"I felt the old nose was hindering my career," the dancer explained. "So I had the operation last April. I had to retire for three months while the swelling went down. I did nightclub all summer. And this month I was able to return to television."

Van's nose before the operation was large from having been broken twice when he was a boy. The probocks photographed "with a bump, and this stopped me from doing a lot of things I wanted to."

crop production, but there was a sizable quota of freezes, drought, wind erosion, hurricanes, and torrential rains in various sections of the country. The unfavorable factors were countered by improvements in crop varieties, increased fertilizer use, expansion of irrigated acreage, and advances in control of plant insects and diseases. Modern power equipment also increased farmers' capacity to get work done when it counts most.

The corn crop at 3,185,000 bushels was the sixth largest on record. But for severe summer drought on the western fringes of the corn belt, the crop would have been millions of bushels higher. The corn yield this year was 39.8 bushels an acre. This compares with 37.5 bushels an acre in 1954 and a 10-year average of 36.4 bushels.

Wheat yields reached a record high of 19.9 bushels an acre. This compares with 18.1 bushels last year and 10-year average of 17.1 bushels.

McCarthy Wants Zwicker Action

WASHINGTON — UP — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) introduced the Justice Department Monday for action against an old foe, Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

McCarthy contends that Zwicker, a decorated hero of World War II, may have committed perjury in testimony before the Senate investigating subcommittee.

McCarthy made public a letter to Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. saying that further delay in deciding whether there is a perjury case against Zwicker "will arouse suspicions that the department is permitting political considerations to interfere with the administration of justice."

Zwicker testified before the subcommittee about the case of former Maj. Irving Peress, Army dentist who was honorably discharged after refusing to tell McCarthy whether he was a Communist. In February, 1954, Zwicker balked at telling McCarthy who ordered the discharge. McCarthy told the general he was "not fit to wear that uniform."

FFA Judging Contest Plans Made

A committee in charge of the Future Farmers of America Livestock Judging Contest, held annually here in connection with the Top O' Texas Fat Stock Show, met in the Pampa Hotel yesterday to work on arrangements for the contest.

Quentin Williams, superintendent of the judging contest, presided at the meeting which was attended by L. M. Hargrave, associate professor of agriculture at Texas Tech; J. P. Smith, general manager of the Pan-Tech Farms of Amarillo, who is assistant superintendent of the contest; Frank M. Carter, Ralph Thomas, Robert Adamson, Paul Payne and E. O. Wedgeworth.

The contest will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 21 with registration at 9 a.m. and the contest starting at 10 a.m.

Six classes will be worked in the contest; two classes of breeding cattle, one class of fat steers, two classes of fat barrows and one class of sheep.

A banquet sponsored by the First National Bank and the Citizens Bank and Trust Company will be held at 5 p.m., at which time the awards will be made and results of the contest announced.

L. M. Hargrave and T. L. Leach of Texas Tech will be in charge of registration, tabulations and records. Dr. "Nig" Callihan of Texas Tech will be in charge of section leaders.

The Frank M. Carter Scholarship will be awarded to an outstanding agriculture student in F.F.A. The scholarship is for $300 at Texas Tech. A committee composed of E. L. Henderson of Pampa, James Gunter of Claude, and Clyde McGee of McLean will select the student who will receive the scholarship.

The Top O' Texas Fat Stock Show is scheduled for Feb. 20, 21, and 22 at Recreation Park.

UN Charges Reds Attack Helicopter

MUNSAN, Korea, UP — The United Nations military command charged the Communists Tuesday with "indiscriminate" firing upon an unarmed UN helicopter.

The UN command disclosed that one of its "unarmed helicopters" was fired upon on Dec. 7 by Communist guns when it "inadvertently flew over Red-controlled territory east of Kaesong."

"It is evident," U.S. Navy Capt. David L. Roscoe told the Red military command, "that your side is determined to shoot down every United Nations command aircraft which comes within range of your weapons."

Roscoe, secretary of the UN side of the Joint Military Armistice Commission, delivered his protest to North Korean Army Col. Li Yong in a meeting at the Panmunjom truce village. Roscoe told the Communist officers that three UN fliers have been "killed under similar circumstances," during the past 12 months.

"We protest strongly against such indiscriminate attacks," Roscoe told Yong. "Each of these needless attacks has added proof of the insincerity of your side which has often proclaimed high humanitarian principles."

The UN announcement said the pilot of the "bubble" type helicopter became confused and "mistakenly flew over Communist-controlled territory," but did not say how far into the Red region the craft got.

Name of the pilot was not revealed, nor was it known whether he was injured.

Roscoe told the Communists that the UN command "regretted" the fact that the helicopter had strayed into Red territory and he said "proper punishment" had been administered as required by the armistice agreement.

"Captain Roscoe further stated that measures have been taken to prevent any such recurrence," the UN said.

Hymns Sung For Records

Recordings of Christmas hymns and carols are being made by all elementary schools to be shipped to the National Jr. Red Cross for shipment overseas.

The annual project is being undertaken by the music program of the Jr. Red Cross that children in other countries may have a better understanding of Christmas customs in our schools.

The choral groups at Lamar, Sam Houston, Woodrow Wilson, and Horace Mann have recorded musical renditions to date through the facilities of KPDM.

Choral directors of the groups are: Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, Sam Houston, Mrs. Hester Branham, Horace Mann, Mrs. Joe Moody, Woodrow Wilson, and Mrs. Flaudie Gallman, Baker.

The Baker Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Gallman, presented its annual Christmas concert of carols this morning in the City Hall.

Recordings are being made in the First Methodist Church auditorium, for the remaining schools.

Man Fined In DWI Case

Two cases were tried in county court yesterday and this morning.

Milton Reeves Ayres, 30, Alamo Hotel, pleaded guilty to charge of driving while intoxicated this morning. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Ayres was involved in an automobile collision with a parked '40 Chevrolet belonging to W. L. Roland 317 N. Davis, on W. Foster and 130 feet west of West St., at 4:20 a.m. today. Ayres was driving a '52 Buick at the time of the accident. Damages were estimated at $350 encountered by the Buick, and the Chevrolet met with damages of about $75.

Roy Edwards, 119 S. Houston St., pleaded not guilty yesterday morning to a charge of sale of liquor in the county without a permit. His bond was set at $1,000.

Have Learned Little

To underestimate the ability of the enemy is no more disastrous than to overestimate one's self. And it seems to us that in this year of 1955, we are not nearly so far removed from savagery and barbarism as we fondly try to believe.

There are many arguments to be advanced which lead to the conclusion that, after all, most of us fall pretty short of our goals a good deal of the time. Perhaps we have overestimated our ability to a fatal degree. We cite but one example. However, its implications should be compelling.

The scene is the American stock market, June, July, August or early September of 1955. Bustling activity on every hand! The market moves under the sign of Taurus. Optimism, glowing forecasts!

Prosperity has been enthroned in a new temple. She is the new Goddess, and American business hastens to pay obeisance. Just the right mixture of government interference, government taxation, government coercion and we've licked the problem of depressions forever. So opines the merchant, casting sheep's eyes for a new government contract. Up is the only known direction. After all, if ones goes up far enough doesn't one move free of gravitational pull? Gay Phoebus in his golden chariot rides the high blue.

The scene shifts to Denver. There, amid gathering clouds, glorious Apollo plays at quaits and fish. The bears are always in the woods and now they sally forth "Isn't it our turn, now?" This prosperity is phony! "Apollo answers: "Government must assume its full partnership responsibility on the American scene. Business will be good in the foreseeable future. All is well."

Sir Oracle has spoken. The click of changing stocks can be heard across the land. Confidence was never so high. Vast plans for even vaster projects (with the help of federal money), are shaping in the future's glass.

Now it is Saturday morning, September 24th. The three Fates are spinning out a thread. The pendulous lips are moist, the great splay thumb pauses. Lightning shatters the early morning still. The great Goddess Prosperity is suddenly invisible in her Potomac Shrine.

Saturday the market is closed. Gloom shrouds the nation. By Monday commitments have been made. The doors of the Exchange crack open to rushes of selling. In a few days sixteen billion dollars is trampled under foot in the pits where augury is supposed to be a science. But Apollo is not yet far from Olympus. His wise men and soothsayers were quick to attend him. He lives. In far away New York the news serves as a balm. Men with pockets stuffed for trade, quietly leave the tables and go home.

A single heart-beat in Denver seems to be pumping up the market. In a few weeks, despite an occasional blurb, the urge is "upward, ho," and the feverish activity is resumed.

But now we see how pagan we truly are. When Apollo smiles, the sun shines and buyers spend their money. When Apollo frowns, clouds appear and trade diminishes. Apollo falters, buyers vanish, and the great wave is the sale. The nation's economy, its propensity for good and evil, are tied inexorably to the toga of one man.

But this is barbarism. This man for better or for worse, is just a man. He is no immortal. Nor has he power to stay the tides nor to bid the sun stand still.

Were we truly civilized we would have confidence in IDEAS and PRINCIPLES. Since we are not, we cling to the figure of a hero. We lend pantheonic splendor to a human personality, adorning it with powers it does not have and sanctifying it with greatness which is not there.

If we understood the nature and meaning of freedom we would place no faith in fickle human clay. If we really believed in free enterprise and in our own integrity and perseverance the cardio-vascular system of a particular individual could not affect the future of our business or our land by one ectopic beat.

For then, we would have abandoned pagan dependence for enlightened independence. We would build on foundations of solid rock, rather than the quicksands and quagmires of government benevolence.

Alas, the Roman forum and the American mall seem but a moment separated in history. The ancient Latins weren't much good. They fell for the hokey of "Pax Romanum," promoted by their Caesar. They worshipped Caesar. And they tied their business success to him. When he smiled, they laughed. When he moaned, they died in the arena. Hail, Caesar!

But a civilization tied to the abilities, the vagaries, the aptitudes and animosities of one man proved wanting. In 2,000 years we have learned so much?

"MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROADER" IS ONLY A FENCE-STRADDLER IN DISGUISE

(The Southern Conservative)

We have more respect for an outright "liberal" if he is actually sincere in what he believes than we have for one who refuses to take a definite stand on important issues and decisions by declaring himself a middle-of-the-roader, a term which means less than nothing.

Christian Economics, a Protestant church paper published in New York, in its October 18th edition, has perhaps the best editorial description of a "middle-of-the-roader" yet presented to the American people since this offensive term was first coined as an insult for fence-sitting politicians.

The editorial says in part: "A belief has developed that there is something sacred about keeping in the 'middle-of-the-road' as between the right and the left. Less effort is being made currently to determine what is right and what is wrong, and more emphasis is being placed on the desirability of steering a course between the two. Apparently a certain virtue attaches to being neither right nor wrong but in between.

This is a curious development. Upon close examination it will be seen to reflect an attitude of mind that is less interested in finding the truth than in compromising, apparently with the hope of keeping everybody happy. Compromises are sometimes necessary but not as between right and wrong, not as between truth and error. If compromises are accepted under these latter conditions they themselves also are errors.

If one group says twelve times twelve is 144 and another group contends that it is 190, why not try to discover the facts rather than assume the correctness of a middle course that twelve times twelve is 152. The middle ground philosophy is an absurdity — a plausible course to the unthinking who are not willing to bestir themselves in an effort to find the facts and are eager to appear tolerant and compromising in all hope of retaining popularity in all quarters. One might believe in the law of gravity, another might deny it. It is extremely important to ascertain the facts before one adopts a so-called middle course by stepping off a cliff in the expectation that his fall will stop when he is half way to the bottom.

What we need is a resolute determination in all quarters to find the right course of action and then to adopt it, and not to go wobbling down the middle-of-the-road, comforting ourselves that we are at least half right. If truth lies on one side of the road or the other we are certainly wrong if we stay in the middle. Let's try very hard to find out on which side the truth lies and then take our stand with other brave men who have been equally diligent in ascertaining the facts.

BETTER JOBS

How I Discovered My Handicap

In the last issue I was naming some of the persons and books I had come in contact with that helped me realize that I had been handicapped by a diploma from a government high school and from a Methodist college. I pointed out that the man that presented the clearest case of what the government should not attempt to do was Frederick Bastiat, the great French philosopher.

Another great French libertarian was Adolph Thiers, first President of the Third French Republic in 1870. He wrote a book called "A Refutation of Socialism and Communism or A Defense of Private Property." And since government schools is the Tenth Plank of the Communist Manifesto, he, of course, had to deal with all phases of Communism, including government schools.

One of his arguments against those who argued against wealth being in private hands was asking this question: Would the working man be better off if the factory had never been built? The Socialists and Communists are all contending that the wealth would have been better used if it had been distributed to the workers and they contended that to have it put into a factory and tools by private owners to produce more wealth.

Another great French libertarian was Adolph Thiers, first President of the Third French Republic in 1870. He wrote a book called "A Refutation of Socialism and Communism or A Defense of Private Property." And since government schools is the Tenth Plank of the Communist Manifesto, he, of course, had to deal with all phases of Communism, including government schools.

Then I came to realize that governments, like anything else, should render service of enough value that people would voluntarily pay for their services. But, of course, when government is used to exploit mankind, as the United States Government and its subdivisions are now doing more and more such governments could not be supported on a voluntary basis.

40 Or 50 Years Of Handicap But it took me 40 or 50 years to partially throw off and outgrow and discard the handicap I received in government schools and a Methodist college. And I have not yet, by any means, completely discarded all the collectivist authoritarian ideas that handicapped me as a result of attending government schools and Protestant colleges.

If anyone knows of a Protestant college that is not handicapping its pupils in believing in the myth of the divine right of the monarchies or the infallibility of the Bible, I would be glad to learn of such a college.

And since parents who have been handicapped by government schools and have never come in contact with persons who will answer questions without evasion and thus never overcome this handicap, believe their children can get an education at these kinds of schools, it is of the utmost importance that more and more people come to realize that one can get a better education by reading and talking to the close reasoners of the ages than going to college.

There's nothing we need more than better understanding as to the meaning of justice and the difference between right and wrong. And colleges and "educators" who have some subjects they will not publicly discuss are ill-qualified to assist anybody in getting an education. They can only train, but not educate.

Our real danger is not from Communists or Socialists. It is from people who have been indoctrinated in some form of Socialism in their school days and do not even know it.

Who's Handicapped? A good way to tell whether a man has been handicapped in his schooling and has never overcome the handicap is whether he will continue to advocate courses of human relations and will not attempt to answer questions to defend his position, nor can find anyone else holding a responsible position who will attempt to do so.

The man who still continues to advocate something that he or no responsible person will attempt to defend certainly has not overcome the handicap he learned in school. And the pity is he does not even know he is handicapped. That's the danger we face in America today.

Presidential personalities aside, the Republicans, represented by Knowland's protest against delay, disagree with many of Eisenhower's major domestic and foreign policies. They dislike particularly the Administration's perpetuation and extension of so many Roosevelt-Truman ideas in home and foreign fields.

They regard Geneva approach as "appeasement," and think it was a sore setback for the West. They agree with many Democrats that the United States has lost ground under the program of Secretary Dulles, a Dewey man. They demand a tougher attitude toward Moscow, even if it means further conflicts like that in Korea.

"They oppose, openly and fiercely, any negotiations for recognition of Red China, and her admission to the United Nations. They think our stand in the Far East has been 'weak.' They insist upon quarrels. One might believe in the law of gravity, another might deny it. It is extremely important to ascertain the facts before one adopts a so-called middle course by stepping off a cliff in the expectation that his fall will stop when he is half way to the bottom.

National Whirligig Knowland Is Symbol For Large Republican Bloc

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Senator William F. Knowland's challenge to the Eisenhower-Hall-Dewey wing of the Republican Party does not represent merely the Presidential ambitions of senior senator from California. The grim and humorous Knowland is the symbol and spokesman for a solid bloc of Republicans on Capitol Hill and throughout the country.

Most of this conservative and isolationist faction will support President Eisenhower, if he runs again, although some will fall into line grudgingly. Despite his demand that Ike declare his 1956 intentions before February, or precipitate a bitter intra-Party fight for the nomination, even Knowland would back an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. He would defer his real try until 1960.

But the Knowland faction, which consists chiefly of former Senator Taft's followers in the Far and Middle West, does not intend to permit the Eisenhower-Easterners, especially National Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Thomas E. Dewey, to drag them into a closed convention, where they will be pressured into nominating a hand-picked candidate.

Specifically, the movement is directed against Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is supposed to be the favorite of the White House place guard, if Ike does not run for re-election. The "Big Three" of California politics — Knowland, Governor Goodwin J. Knight and Chief Justice Earl Warren — have never wasted any love on "Young Dick," as they refer to him.

It means, more precisely, that if Nixon enters the California primary, he will be opposed by the combined Knowland-Knight forces, home state delegation, the V.P. And without the support of his home state delegation, the V.P. might be knocked out of the running before he began to run.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Each year a number of tragic and unnecessary deaths result from accidental carbon monoxide poisoning.

Carbon monoxide is an odorless gas which appears in dangerous quantities in the air we breathe where too much oxygen is burned up by such things as a running automobile motor or a gas heater.

Since this can occur only in a closed space, accidents of this sort are far less common in warm seasons when windows and doors are likely to be open.

When a person breathes in a toxic (poisonous) amount of carbon monoxide this gas combines with that portion of the blood known as hemoglobin and replaces the oxygen which is normally attached to the hemoglobin.

THIS RESULTS in starving the tissues of life-giving oxygen and the person who is exposed long enough to sufficient quantities of carbon monoxide quickly becomes unconscious. If it continues he dies without regaining consciousness.

When only small amounts of carbon monoxide are present warning symptoms may be present such as headache, dizziness, nausea, muscular weakness, and a generally uncomfortable feeling.

It is only when large amounts of carbon monoxide are present that the victim becomes drowsy and unconscious so fast that these symptoms are absent.

THERE IS PROBABLY no such thing as chronic poisoning from carbon monoxide. One would expect it to be found in people who are exposed to small amounts of carbon monoxide for long periods of time, such as those working in certain mining operations, near furnaces, or in garages. Actually such persons do not seem to be harmed in any way.

The use of defective stoves or furnaces and running the motors of automobiles in closed garages, however, are invitations to the next world.

Finally, and most importantly, Senator Knowland believes that his insistence on an open and free-for-all convention will advantage the Republican Party in the 1960 campaign. Otherwise, and especially if it is run by New Yorkers on a closed shop basis, it will lay the GOP open to the charge that their candidate was chosen by a few bosses in a "smoke-filled back room," and by Wall Street boxes at that!

They consider him the sponsor of Hall, Dulles and Attorney General Brownell. They figure him as a close co-worker with Sherman Adams, White House chief of staff, and Henry Cabot Lodge, our United Nations representative.

Specifically, the movement is directed against Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is supposed to be the favorite of the White House place guard, if Ike does not run for re-election. The "Big Three" of California politics — Knowland, Governor Goodwin J. Knight and Chief Justice Earl Warren — have never wasted any love on "Young Dick," as they refer to him.

Oppenheimer TV Talk With Murrow Was Illuminating

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Thanks to Peter J. King, a dealer in watches and jewelry in Monroe, N.C., I am able to present amazing and amusing extracts from the so-called interview of Egbert R. Murrow, the eye-and-ear journalist of television, with Prof. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the mixed-up double-dome who didn't know right from left and thought falsehood and truth were morally equivalent and interchangeable. This mess of gullah, like the considered opinions of Justice Felix Frankfurter, reads with equal force and meaning backward, forward and both ways from the middle.

The text of Murrow's whitewash interview with Oppenheimer has been available all this time at the office of the Columbia Broadcasting System. As far as I know no journalist ever brought him to get it, read it and then reveal to the public the actual rubbish which the Ford Fund for the Republic reproduced for free distribution in television form to 100 colleges and "groups." This exploit cost a great deal of money paid by the common man through his income taxes to make up for the Ford Fund's exemption.

Oppenheimer was canned from his status of consultant of the Atomic Energy Commission on the ground that he was admittedly a liar in formal answers to Security officers of the atom bomb project, that he married one Communist and slept with another, joined and gave money to Red fronts, and, finally, that he failed to report that a Red spy tried to get knowledge from him for use by Soviet scientists.

Here is a fair specimen of the stuff circulated by the Ford Fund with tax-exempt funds:

Q. (By Murrow) — Why don't we begin by your telling me a little about this institute for advanced study — how it began?

A. — (By Oppenheimer) — Well, I — I will try. Of course it began at the time when I wasn't anywhere near and it's already a subject for historical research. I — I'm about to find someone to see if he can find out how it began. There are no telephones ringing and you don't have to go to committee meetings and you don't have to meet classes and — it's especially for the few people who are here for life — it's quite remarkable because most people depend on being interrupted in order to live. The work is so hard and failure is — is of course, I guess, an inevitable condition of success. So they're used to having — to having to go — to attend to other people's business. When they get here, there is nothing of that and they — they can't run away.

Farmers Seek Policies On Legislation

WASHINGTON —UP—Representatives of four major farm organizations met behind closed doors Monday to seek a common policy on new legislation.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, largest farm organization was not represented at the meeting.

Attending were representatives of the National Grange, the National Council of Farmer Co-operatives, the National Milk Producers Federation, and the National Farmers Union.

The meeting, originally called by the National Milk Producers Federation of Dec. 12, was delayed until Monday because of the Farm Bureau's national convention in Chicago last week.

A milk federation spokesman said he was puzzled at failure of Farm Bureau representatives to show up.

A spokesman at the bureau's Washington office said he didn't know why they did not attend.

The meeting was called after a suggestion by Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture committee that the farm organizations attempt to get together on farm legislation.

Ellender listed as subjects for exploration, a soil fertility program, surplus disposal, two-price plans, price supports, quality commodities, marketing quotas, marketing orders, and the self-help program of dairy stabilization.

Ike Discusses A-Energy, Cattle

GETTYSBURG, Pa. —UP—President Eisenhower discussed atomic energy and Aberdeen Angus cattle Monday with Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission.

He also received a telephone report from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the NATO council meeting in Paris from which Dulles returned Sunday.

Strauss, a "fellow farmer" who shares Mr. Eisenhower's enthusiasm for Aberdeen Angus cattle, arrived at the President's farm at 9:35 a.m. and conferred with Mr. Eisenhower for an hour and 45 minutes.

Assistant White House press secretary Murray Snyder said it was "mostly a social visit," but the two also discussed the nation's atomic program. Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, supervisor of the Eisenhower farm, sat in on part of the talk.

Dulles arranged to meet personally with Mr. Eisenhower when the President returns to the White House in Washington on Wednesday.

$18,000 Fire In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH —UP—Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Spivey had more than ordinary trouble turning in an alarm early Monday after awaking to find their home in flames.

As a result, damage reached an estimated $18,000 before firemen could put out the blaze.

When he found their telephone didn't work, Spivey ran for an alarm box down the street. In her night clothes, Mrs. Spivey hurried to the house next door.

She was unable to arouse anyone until she reached the third house. There she rang the Christmas chimes on a door decoration until the residents let her in to telephone an alarm.

Pickets Quit To Ask For Loans

PITTSBURGH —UP—The International Union of Electrical Workers opened its picket lines at strike-bound Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants Monday to permit "our people" to take advantage of the firm's offer of $100 Christmas loans.

At Metuchen, N. J., union stewards sat shoulder-to-shoulder with management officials taking applications for the advances, which will be repayable after the end of the strike, now in its 64th day.

At Sharon, Pa., the company reported 100 applications were received in the first 20 minutes that the loan desk was open. At Mansfield, Ohio, 373 of the 538 employees obtained advances.

Red, Stationer In Lead Roles In French Election Drama

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

A jolly-looking Communist and a belligerent small-town stationer are playing big parts in the French election campaign.

The Communist is 55-year-old Maurice Thorez. The stationer is 35-year-old Pierre Poujade.

Thorez leads the extreme left wing of Communists and fellow travelers in the race for the 627 seats in the National Assembly, in the election to be held on January 2.

Poujade is leader of the extreme right wing union for the defense of tradesmen and artisans which he organized two years ago to fight the tax system.

Thorez Gains Seen
French political experts are predicting that Thorez will gain materially in the election.

What Poujade, a newcomer to politics, will do remains to be seen.

But he and two small extreme right wing groups which support his party have entered 180 candidates in the campaign.

Both Thorez and Poujade are expected to profit by the deep split in the moderate parties.

Premier Edgar Faure leads the moderate right wing and former Premier Pierre Mendes-France leads the moderate left wing.

Once political allies and intimate friends, they now are enemies.

Thorez five years ago was called the most powerful Communist in Europe next to Josef Stalin of Russia.

He suffered a stroke in October, 1950, and was long an invalid. Now he has come back and is campaigning vigorously.

Of friendly disposition, tall, powerfully built, with tousled hair, he is one of the most popular men in France personally.

Thorez could play a convincing Santa Claus. Mothers name babies after him.

Membership in the French Communist party has dropped to about 300,000. But partly because of Thorez's popular appeal, it polls about five million votes in elections. In the last election, in 1951, its percentage was 26.5 of the total.

Poujade is a tough guy. He is stocky, blond and loud-voiced. He has won about one million backers in his anti-tax campaign. He has successfully urged many small shopkeepers and self-employed artisans to refuse to pay their taxes.

He holds they are unfair to the small man.

Poujade also is waging a tough campaign. While he waves his arms and shouts exhortations at his meetings, his strong arm squads are going around breaking up meetings of the two moderate groups.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

ONE CERTAIN WAY OF INSURING a successful Christmas dinner is to include generous servings of appetizing and tempting stuffing. No matter what method you select to cook your turkey, you will find carefully prepared savory stuffing a popular part of your menu. Turkey without stuffing is like a cake without frosting.

EVERY FAMILY has a favorite recipe for stuffing turkey or other fowl. We would like to share three of our favorite sausage fillings with you. The thing you will like best about the following stuffing recipes is the use of delicious skinless frankfurters adds an exciting new taste... a special holiday treat.

Be sure to remember that stuffing expands during the roasting process. So be careful not to over-stuff the bird.

WILD RICE 'n FRANKS STUFFING

- 1-3 cup chopped onion
- 4 tblspns. butter
- 1 cup chopped mushroom
- 1/4 tspn. thyme
- 1/2 lb. frankfurters sliced in strips
- 3 cups par-boiled wild rice
- 1 tspn. salt
- 2 beaten eggs

NOTE: You may use fresh, canned or dried mushrooms. Dried mushrooms should be soaked overnight and thoroughly washed before using.

Par-boil wild rice until it is almost soft. Drain thoroughly. Roasting time will be sufficient to make rice completely palatable. Sauté onion in 2 tablespoons butter until lightly brown and set aside. Cook the mushrooms in remaining 2 tablespoons of butter for about 5 minutes, stirring constantly, and remove from pan. Beat eggs slightly. Slice frankfurters in strips, and brown lightly in drippings. Remove from heat and toss all ingredients, including sausage, onion, mushrooms, wild rice, beaten eggs and seasonings. Stuff bird between crop and tail. This will make about 5 cups, enough for a 10-pound, ready-to-serve turkey.

CORN BREAD AND FRANKS DRESSING

- 1 loaf day-old-bread, sliced
- 3 cups crumbled corn bread
- 1/2 lb. skinless frankfurters, chopped fine
- 3 tblspns. butter
- 1/4 tspn. pepper
- 1 large onion, minced
- 2 stalks celery, minced
- 1 tspn. poultry seasoning
- Lightly brown bread in a slow oven. Shred finely along with corn bread. Sauté frankfurters until shredded and light brown; add onions and celery. Mix together with remaining ingredients. Moisten with warm water, just enough to hold filling together. This will fill a 10-pound dressed turkey.

BREAD CRUMBS AND FRANKS

- 1 lb. skinless frankfurters, chopped fine
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 cup minced onion
- 1/4 cup butter
- 3 cups lightly packed day-old-bread crumbs
- 2 tblspns. minced parsley
- 1/4 tspn. marjoram
- 1/4 tspn. poultry seasoning
- Saute celery, onion and chopped frankfurters together in a skillet

RUTH MILLETT

Unmistakable signs that your daughter has left childhood behind for good:

When she looks into a closet filled with clothes and says disconsolately "I haven't got a THING to wear."

When she keeps changing the way she wears her hair.

When she asks hopefully, "Who is it?" when you tell her she is wanted on the telephone and her face falls if it is JUST a girl.

When she can stand in a store going through a rack of dresses and unerringly pull out the dress that is just right for her in color, cut, etc.

When she is annoyed that someone else has a coat or dress or sweater exactly like the one she just picked out for herself.

When she gets a patient look on her face as you remind her of the time you expect her to be home from a party.

When she starts borrowing your accessories.

When she stops to window shop every time she passes a dress shop.

When she checks and re-checks a guest list for a party to make sure that everyone who has a reason to be on the list is on it.

When it is a "best friend" instead of her parents who gets all the details of her personal life.

When she starts putting all the expression two words can hold into the protest, "Oh, MOTHER."

When she learns to wait for the proper moment to make a request or reveal a bit of unwelcome news.

When she is no longer completely convinced that a thing is so just because her parents think it is.

When these things happen you can no longer kid yourself that your daughter is still "just a child." She is already learning the ways of a woman.

MAKE FRIENDS MANNERS

It should go without saying that if you stop to pick someone up in your car in bad weather you should drive into the driveway or at least get as close to the door of the building they are coming out of as possible.

Whenever you are doing a person a favor, go the whole way.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Friendship Class of the First Methodist Church climaxed its attendance campaign with a turkey dinner recently in Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. W. Purviance, class teacher for many years, gave the invocation. Tables were decorated by losing teams, headed by Mrs. M. F. Eller and Mrs. F. J. Hudgel. The meal was served by girls from the young people's department.

The program was a take-off on the television program, "Two For the Money." Mrs. W. R. Campbell acted as Herb Shriner, Mrs. W. W. Adcock portrayed Dr. Gross, with Mrs. J. A. Knox doing the commercials. Ladies from the audience competed for the "money" and were given samples of "invigorating pills."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson directed the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Carl Boston was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. W. L. Rowntree was program chairman. About 50 members exchanged gifts, with Mrs. Bob McCoy, as Santa Claus, distributing the gifts.

Four members receiving awards for perfect attendance during the campaign were Mmes. B. D. Woods, Clifford Ryan, Ada Milliron and J. B. White. Yearbooks for the coming year were given to each member.

Christmas Party Set By Women Of Moose

The Women of the Moose will give their annual Christmas party at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Moose Hall for members of the Loyal Order of the Moose and their guests.

Gifts will be exchanged. Each man is requested to bring a man's gift, and each woman, a woman's gift.

Nakomis Club Honored At Christmas Party

Members of the Nakomis Club were special guests at the Christmas party of the Pampa Altrusa Club Sunday in the home of Mrs. E. M. Keller, 1905 W. Ripley. Mrs. Lillian Snow and Mrs. L. A. Barber were in charge of the event.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Marian Osborne, included a Christmas story, told by Mrs. P. A. Scoggin, and a Christmas reading by Miss Mellicie Richy. Mrs. Emma Butchic sang "Silent Night" in German, and Mrs. Barber played Christmas carols.

Gifts were given by the Altrusa members to members of the Nakomis Club.

The serving table was decorated with a Christmas centerpiece. Refreshments of green and red sandwiches in Christmas shapes and spiced punch were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Emily Coston and Mrs. Ray Martin.

Lamp; Mrs. T. C. Tosh, Mrs. G. W. DeMoss, mother of the bride-elect; and Mrs. F. S. Scott, mother bridegroom.

COMPLETE WITH HOLLY BOWS for a dressy touch, eggnog pie fits into the festive holiday scene perfectly.

COOK'S NOOK

Traditional Eggnog Lends Flavor To Holiday Treat

Everyone expects eggnog sometime during the Christmas holidays. That's an old tradition. But let's enjoy a variation on that pleasant theme and make an eggnog pie — creamy lovely to look at and flecked with nutmeg.

EGGNOG PIE
(Yield: 6 servings)

One envelope unflavored gelatin
1-4 cup cold water, 3 eggs separated; 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 teaspoon sugar vanilla extract, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 9-inch baked party shell, 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg, holly leaves for garnish.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks in top of double boiler. Add salt and 1-3 cup of sugar. Stir in milk. Cook over hot water until the mixture coats a metal spoon stirring frequently. Blend in softened gelatin. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Beat in remaining 1-3 cup sugar; fold into mixture. Set aside to cool. Beat 1/2 of the heavy cream and fold into cooled mixture along with the vanilla extract. Turn into a baked pastry shell. Just before serving whip remaining cream and place around edge of pie, sprinkle center with ground nutmeg and arrange holly leaves in cream for garnish. Here's another recipe for Christmas:

CHERRY BUTTER COOKIES

(Makes 2 to 3 dozen)

One cup softened butter or margarine, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pure vanilla, 1 cup finely chopped walnuts, 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries drained (about 20 cherries).

Cream butter or margarine with sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and mix well. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Roll out on lightly floured surface to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with floured cookie cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Frost and garnish with additional maraschino cherries as desired.

Baptist YWA Has A Christmas Party

The Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church held its Christmas party recently in the home of Miss Exie Serright, club counselor.

A missionary program, "Christ Jesus Is He," was presented by Beth Spencer. The Little Moon Christmas offering and the community Christmas project were discussed.

Refreshments of punch, cookies and Christmas candies were served.

Attending were Wanda Langford, Sandra Noblitt, Jane Brown, Charlotte Rubyson, Zeima Franklin, Delma Franklin, Jayne Giddens, LaVada Naylor, Beth Spencer, and Miss Serright.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder Fetes Piano Students With Two Christmas Workshop Parties

The piano pupils of Mrs. H. A. Yoder, 1215 Williston, met in her home recently in two groups for Christmas workshop parties.

Mrs. Chris Walsh and Mrs. J. E. Flynt were hostesses for the first event. This group was composed of the elementary school-age group. For their musical activity, each pupil played a Christmas song while the group sang, thus giving them some experience as an accompanist. Following this, a social hour including exchange of gifts was held.

A centerpiece, of a gingerbread house surrounded by arrangements of holly decorated the serving table. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

Pupils present were Martha Lou Kelley, Jo Hubbard, Jan Lively, Linda and Cynthia Key, Jim Shelhamer, Jan Adams, La Vonna Andrus, Johnlyn Mitchell, Jimmy Flynt, Carol Jean Wilson, Donna and Becky Walsh, Sharon Vineyard, Jane Webb, Carol Chase, Sara Nan Delashaw, and Linda Meech.

Parents attending and assisting with the singing were Mmes. Ronald Hubbard, Travis Lively Jr., Fay Dellis Adams, Sam Malone, H. J. Franklin, J. C. McWilliams.

Dinner Party Held By Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary held a covered-dish supper and Christmas party recently, with Mmes. Charles Gilson, Katie Vincent and Estelle Wheeler as hostesses.

Mrs. Wayne Washburn, president, greeted the guests. A Christmas story was told by Miss Inez Chubb. The group sang Christmas carols and exchanged gifts.

About 22 members were present.

Topsy Turvy Cake

Here's a cake that's just right for the coming fall season—harvest-time flavors of maple and apple are combined in a rich and tantalizing topping on a delicately tender cake. Only 1/2 package of instant cake mix is used for this dreamy dessert. The other half package can be turned into an 8" layer to be cut into wedge-shaped pieces and served with coffee ice cream and butterscotch sauce. Or cupcakes can be made and swirled with rich chocolate frosting. You name it and you can have it with this instantly delightful cake mix.

Maple Apple Upside Down Cake
 2/4 cup maple-blended syrup
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 cups thinly sliced cooking apples
 1 package Instant Swans Down White Cake Mix
 1 cup water
 2 egg whites, unbeaten

Combine syrup, butter, and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over low heat and boil 5 to 8 minutes, without stirring. Pour into 8x8x2-inch square pan. Arrange apple slices in overlapping rows on syrup. Set aside.

Empty cake mix into mixing bowl. Add water and egg whites. Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy.

Pour half of the batter* carefully over fruit mixture in pan. Bake upside down cake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Cool cake in pan 5 minutes. Then invert on serving plate and let stand 1 minute before removing pan. Serve warm with whipped cream.

*Pour remaining batter into one 8-inch round layer pan or into cupcake pans. Bake as directed on package and serve as another dessert.

Merten HD Group Has Family Dinner

Members of the Merten Home Demonstration Club entertained their families with a Christmas dinner recently in the City Club Room.

Each family took a gift to put under the Christmas tree for gift exchange. Games of Canasta and dominoes were played during the social period. Prizes were won by Mrs. Jack Prather and Bert Jones.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Bert Jones, R. V. Lewis, A. M. Nash, D. F. Flynn, Jack Howard, V. S. Day, L. F. Watt, V. Smith, T. G. Grooves, John Brandon, C. N. Edmundson, Jack Prather, Mrs. Etta Hilliard; Miss Helen Dunlap; and Kathy Watt, Linda Day, Janey and Jackie Howard, Kathy and Suzie Flynn, Michael Jones, all of Pampa; and Kenneth Dixon of Weatherford.

Jiffy Foods For The Busy Season

The season has arrived for shopping, parties, house guests, and ever so many extras for each day. Preparing the daily meals need not be a time consuming chore.

Now's when a good supply of canned foods is a great boon. Especially handy are the ready-prepared entrees. Choose the family favorites from meat or chicken pies to pop right into the oven, ready to heat and eat stews, pork and beans, or some of the canned combination dinners. For instance, a from-the-shelf jiffy is Quick Chicken Spaghetti, the recipe below. With Asparagus-Cottage Cheese Salad, relishes, hard rolls, and apple sauce topped with marshmallow creme and a few chopped nuts you have a "best."

Quick Chicken Spaghetti
 2 medium size onions
 2 tablespoons fat
 2 cans (15 to 16 oz. each) spaghetti in tomato sauce
 Dash Tabasco
 1 tablespoon thick steak sauce
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 cans (5 to 6 oz. each) boned chicken
 Grated Parmesan cheese

Cook chopped onions in fat until tender. Add spaghetti, Tabasco, steak sauce, salt and the liquid drained from chicken. Arrange chicken on top, cover, and heat gently. Put in serving dish and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Six servings.

Michigan State Spartans, UCLA Bruins Meet In Top Classic

UCLA'S Rose Bowl Team Is Better Than 1954

Editor's Note: This is another in a series on teams in the bowl football games.

By ALEX KAHN
LOS ANGELES—UP—UCLA's national championship football team of 1954 was the best in the school's history but Coach Henry (Red) Sanders Tuesday said this year's Rose Bowl squad in some respects is even better.

That doesn't mean the present team, if it were possible to have matched it with the 1954 team, would have been capable of beating that aggregation.

"Call it will, faith, spirit—this team has a desire that is magnificent," Sanders said. "Aside from the one game we lost to Maryland, our squad has been able to cope with the odds when they were against us."

And that's the situation UCLA probably will face when it meets Michigan State in the Rose Bowl. The team will have to rise to a greater peak than ever before if it hopes to score an upset.

UCLA will be making its fourth appearance in the Rose Bowl without having won the New Year's classic once. The last time the Bruins went to nearby Pasadena for the post-season appearance was two years ago.

Although UCLA shot into an early lead, the Spartans of Michigan State overcame the lead in the second half as they refused to let themselves get beat. It was a game the Spartans wanted to win for Biggie Munn who was retiring as head coach.

The West generally felt that UCLA was a victim of fate last year when the one appearance in two years rule kept the strongest team ever fielded by the Bruins from going to the Rose Bowl.

The strength of the 1954 squad was in its line which was at least two deep at every position with men of All-America of All-Coast caliber. This year's line was mainly the second string of last year. But the current squad isn't backed up by a second line almost as good as the starters.

Sanders, however, says his backfield this year is superior to last year's although the personnel isn't much different.

Tailback Sam Brown is the rushing leader of the Pacific Coast Conference with a net of 829 yards and an average of 6.4 yards per carry.

Sanders calls Brown the best runner he ever had at the key tailback spot in his single-wing offense. But Brown credits fullback Bob Davenport with clearing the way. For Davenport probably is the greatest blocker ever turned out at UCLA.

Should injured Ronnie Knox be able to play even to a limited degree, his passing would add just the touch of deception Sanders needs if he hopes to beat the Spartans.

The 1954 team won by grinding opponents to bits and didn't need a superior backfield. This year's team has been forced to depend more on backfield brilliance but, barring injuries in the line, it could come up to a single game performance that may be enough to match the Spartans in strength.

Frisco Dons Defy Jinx; Still Nation's Top Team

By UNITED PRESS
SAN FRANCISCO—The demon Dons, defying college basketball's traditional away-from-home "jinx" to run their winning streak to 31 games, again were the overwhelming choice of the United Press board of coaches Tuesday as the nation's No. 1 team.

Utah and North Carolina State maintained their No. 2 and 3 ratings, respectively, while North Carolina and Marquette were this week's newcomers among the top 10 teams.

The West Coast Dons were the No. 1 choice of 33 of the 35 outstanding coaches who comprise the United Press rating board. San Francisco's total of 346 out of a possible 350 points has been topped only once since the United Press ratings were initiated in 1950.

Superb defense and an all-star cast headed by All-America center Bill Russell were the big factors that enabled Coach Phil Woolpert's Dons to beat Marquette and DePaul last weekend in winning the Chicago Stadium Invitation tournament.

Tough Ones Ahead
But the hazards of a road trip are not yet over for the Dons. They play Wichita Tuesday night, Loyola of New Orleans Friday, and then visit New York for the Holiday Festival.

Utah received the two first-place votes that San Francisco didn't get. The Utes' 279-point total cut the Dons' lead from 99 to 67 points.

North Carolina, undefeated in five games, made the biggest jump of the week, vaulting all the way to the No. 8 ranking from a tie for 26th last week. Marquette jumped three places to 10th. Duquesne and Alabama, beaten twice in road games, dropped out of the top 10.

Dayton advanced one notch to fourth place and Brigham Young jumped four places to fifth. Iowa, Holy Cross, North Carolina, Kentucky and Marquette rounded out the top 10 teams.

Kentucky, the perennial powerhouse which has not looked too impressive against 80-90 opponents, fell three places to ninth.

Points Spread Out
With points distributed on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for a second, and so on down to one for a 10th-place vote, North Carolina State received 255 points, Dayton 156, Brigham Young 148, Iowa 108, Holy Cross 96, North Carolina 85, Kentucky 77 and Marquette 60.

George Washington moved up five places from 16th to top the second 10 group, Southern Methodist was 12th, with St. Louis and Illinois tied for 13th place. Following Louisville in 15th there was a three-team tie for 16th among Temple, Duquesne and Ohio State.

Vanderbilt and Indiana completed the second 10 group.

In all, 42 teams received points this week. Others were: Alabama, Stanford, Duke, Rice, Cincinnati, Colorado, Dartmouth, St. John's (New York), Texas Christian, Michigan State, Houston, Minnesota, Oklahoma City University, Bradley, Memphis State, DePaul, Niagara, Seton Hall, Oklahoma A&M, Wichita, Iowa State and Kansas.

By UNITED PRESS
The United Press college basketball ratings (with first-place votes and won-lost records through Dec. 17 in parentheses):

Team	Pts.
1. San Francisco (33) (5-0)	346
2. Utah (2) (5-0)	279
3. North Carolina State (7-0)	225
4. Dayton (6-0)	156
5. Dayton (6-0)	148
6. Iowa (3-1)	108
7. Holy Cross (5-0)	96
8. North Carolina (5-0)	85
9. Kentucky (4-1)	77
10. Marquette (5-1)	60

Second Ten: George Washington 68, Southern Methodist 41, St. Louis and Illinois 21 each, Louisville 20, Temple, Duquesne and Ohio State 19 each, Vanderbilt 16 and Indiana 14.

Others: Alabama 10, Stanford and Duke 8 each, Rice and Cincinnati 7 each, Colorado 6, Dartmouth 5, St. John's (New York) 4, Texas Christian, Michigan State, Houston and Minnesota 3 each, Oklahoma City University, Bradley, Memphis State, DePaul and Niagara 2 each, Seton Hall, Oklahoma A&M, Wichita, Iowa State and Kansas 1 each.

Spartans Are Determined To Fulfill A Promise

Editor's Note: This is another in a series on teams in the football bowl games.

By CLAIR M. HEKHUIS
EAST LANSING, Mich.—UP—Michigan State's splendid Spartans—who bounced back from near obscurity to national prominence this year—are determined to win the Rose Bowl football classic on Jan. 2 to fulfill a promise.

It's a vow they've made to themselves and their "Coach of the year," Hugh Duffy Daugherty.

"We're through missing the boat," said Carl (Buck) Nystrom, team captain.

Nystrom predicted in 1954, at the end of Michigan State's most disastrous football season in 37 years, "We'll make the boat next year and go all the way to the Rose Bowl."

'Come to Win'
When the Spartans arrived in Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 17 to start workouts, Nystrom told newsmen, "We came out here to win."

Michigan State has the tools to win the Battle of the Roses: A bunch of do-or-die kids who can execute almost any kind of play on the books and a coach who has developed an almost uncanny ability to spot weaknesses in the opposition.

The Spartans are not discounting their opponent, UCLA, but they figure they've got to do one more thing to square accounts for last year's dismal 3-6 season—win the Rose Bowl. They're dead serious about that.

The Big Ten representative in the bowl is a well-balanced club of steady veterans and eager sophomores.

Any member of the starting backfield—quarterback Earl Morrall, right-half Walt Kowalczyk, left half Clarence Peaks, and fullback Gerry Planutis—can break up a ball game. Each did it at least once during the Spartans' 8-1 season.

North Platte Pilot Is Manager Of Year In Semipro Baseball
WICHITA, Kan.—UP—The pilot of the North Platte, Neb., town baseball club was named "manager of the year" Tuesday among the nation's top semi-pro teams.

The National Baseball Congress gave the honor to Bob Harris, whose Plainsmen won the No. 3 national ranking behind the Wichita Boeig Bombers and the Plymouth (Tex.) Oilers.

Harris spent seven years in the American League with Detroit, the old St. Louis Browns, and the Philadelphia Athletics. But he is a non-playing manager. His team won 35 games in 1955, against only eight defeats.

BROOKLYN—UP—The Brooklyn Dodgers will play 35 exhibition games next spring against 10 different major league teams, including six against the New York Yankees, it was announced Monday.

Twelve of the Dodge exhibitions, including nine at night and three Sunday day contests, will be played at Miami, Fla.

The line is a collection of mid-dleweights — big enough to stand off a charge, fast enough to lead interference.

Stormin' Norman Masters — the heaviest man on the line at 225 pounds — is a United Press All-American tackle, a "block of granite with legs."

And Daugherty calls Nystrom, a 194-pound guard, "the finest line-man I've seen in my 10 years at Michigan State."

Sophomore tackle Pat Burke is another standout on the line along with guard Dale Holleran.

Morrall, a senior, is a brilliant ball handler, a smart signal caller, a powerful punter and the most successful passer in Michigan State history.

He's a wizard at handling Michigan State's multiple offense, designed to penetrate almost any defense by shifting swiftly to the single wing, the T, the Split-T and variations of all three.

Snead Gets Help From Crowd Says Pro Tommy Bolt
MIAMI—UP—Golf star Sam Snead said Monday that pro Tommy Bolt "must have radar eyes" if he saw someone in the gallery boot Snead's ball into a better lie during the sudden-death playoff of the recent Miami Open.

If a fan did kick the ball, it wasn't much help, Snead said.

Bolt, often dubbed "Thunderbolt" because of his temperamental nature, brought up the Miami incident during the Mayfair Open which ended at Sanford, Fla., Sunday. He charged there have been other times, too, when the gallery helped Snead.

"I saw Snead's drive roll to a stop and no one can convince me that some spectator didn't kick it out toward the fairway," said Bolt, who lost the Miami tournament to Snead on the first playoff hole.

Snead's drive had landed deep in the rough behind trees, but the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., veteran recovered with an intentional slice that winged across the fairway and plunked down 20 feet from the cup. Bolt overshot the green on his approach.

"If he could see the ball stop or see somebody kick it with two or three thousand people milling around, he must have radar eyes," Snead said after returning from the Sanford tourney.

"If somebody did kick it, he didn't do a very good job. It was still in the trees and out of sight of the green," chuckled Snead.

Bolt, stressing that he bears no grudge against Snead, called the West Virginia long-hitter "a fine golfer. He doesn't have to have help to win tournaments. Snead has made his. It is not right that he should get unwarranted help from spectator sources."

College Cagers Hail All-Time Scoring Champ

NEW YORK—UP—College basketball has hailed a new all-time high-scoring champion — six-foot, nine-inch center Bob Hopkins of Grambling College of Louisiana.

Hopkins became the first player in history to score more than 3,000 points in his college career during the past week when he scored 35 points in Grambling's 75-55 victory over Wiley College. He tallied 51 points the next night against the same team to run his all-time total to 3,062 points in 103 games.

The Grambling ace already had passed the all-time record of 2,959 points, set by Carl Hartman of Alderson-Broaddus in a four-year career ending last year. Hopkins also is playing his fourth varsity season and, oddly enough, never has won a season championship among small colleges.

TOPS This Year's Race
Hopkins' 158 points in five games (through Dec. 10) puts him atop this year's small-college race, however, with an average of 33.4 points per game, in small-college statistics released Friday by the N.C.A.A.

He's closely followed by Chester Webb of Georgia Teachers with 31.8, Al Meyer of Illinois Normal with 31.3, and Joe Girlando of Case Tech with 30.0.

Hopkins' all-time four-year record compares to the major-college three-year record of 2,587 points held by Dick Hemric of Wake Forest and the small-college three-year record of 2,537 points, new by Johnny O'Brien of Seattle.

Jerry Trux of Wheaton leads in field goal percentage, sinking .636 of his shots, and Dick Ondecker of Akron and Frank Davis of Middle Tennessee State are tied for free-throw honors, each sinking 16 out of 17 for a .941 mark. Ralph Moore of Erskine is the top rebounder with an average of 24.8 per game.

A Wide Lead
West Virginia Tech. first college team to top the century mark for a season when it averaged 107.5 points per game last year, again is leading the scoring parade with a 104.2 mark for five games. Tech has a husky lead over second-place Illinois Normal at 93.8.

The National Aggies (Pa.) are tops in defense, limiting rivals to 47.3 points per game, and Hofstra (N.Y.) is a close second at 51.2.

Midwestern (Tex.) has the top field goal percentage, .495, and Evansville (Ind.) has the best free-throw mark, .844. Ashland (Ohio) has committed the fewest personal fouls, 12.5 per game, and Mount St. Mary's (Md.), the most, 29.8.

Ara Parseghian's Post At Miami Is Still Open
OXFORD, Ohio—UP—Officials of Miami University, grid champs of the tough little Mid-American Conference, said Tuesday the post of head football coach remained "wide open" but that a new coach should be named by Jan. 3.

Head coach Ara Parseghian, 27 when named five years ago, resigned Friday to take the top job at Northwestern, succeeding Lou Saban. He can name four men to his varsity staff and two to the freshman team at Northwestern, where the entire staff was discharged.

Underdog Rattlers Prepare For Championship Playoffs

The Stinnett Rattlers and mighty Deer Park will meet in Berger Friday night in the Class A state final. The Stinnett eleven again will be the underdog as in the final clash just as they were in three of their previous playoff games this season.

The Rattlers downed the Springlake Wolverines 34-6 in the bi-district tussle and dropped the powerful Hale Center Club in regional. Rangers was upset by the Cinderella team in the quarter-finals and Chillicothe in the semifinals.

The Rattlers will be hampered by injuries in the all-important game though as they have several boys that are likely to be out of the starting lineup Friday night.

George Bodey, the powerful full-back who counted for the tieing touchdown against Chillicothe last week, will be favoring an injured right knee if he plays. Other starters on injured list are Bill Wombles, Clint Ramey and Tony Atherton.

The entire Rattler den played a heads-up ball game against Chillicothe last week and are expected to do the same against Deer Park this week.

They will have a slight advantage having the game so close to home but their injuries will far outweigh this one advantage.

They will be lighter than their opponents as the Deers have several linemen that tip the scales over the 180 mark and the Rattlers linemen going over the mark are Stover (188) and Neilson (184).

Both coaches are optimistic about the game and from Stinnett's past records the championship game could very well end in a tie. The first downs and the yards rushing would then determine the champion if the penetrations were even.

$80,000 Suit In Boxing Accident Appealed By NY
ALBANY, N.Y.—UP—New York state has appealed an $80,000 award to the widow of Brooklyn boxer George Flores and has stopped payment of the sum pending the outcome of its action.

Solicitor General James O. Moore of Buffalo said notice of appeal was filed Monday in the appellate division of Supreme Court. The appeal in the unprecedented case had been expected the award to the fighter's estate last week.

The 21-year-old welterweight died of a brain injury four days after his return bout with Roger Donoghue in 1951.

Top Coaches Whip Teams Into Shape

MARYLAND
COLLEGE PARK, Md.—UP—Maryland's football players scattered to their homes Tuesday for a brief holiday while Coach Jim Tatum complained because cold weather kept his huskies from scrimmaging for their Jan. 2 Orange Bowl game against Oklahoma. Tatum said, "We haven't been able to scrimmage more than a couple of times since the regular season ended." The team will leave for Miami Dec. 25.

OKLAHOMA
NORMAN, Okla.—UP—Coach Bud Wilkinson has scheduled a full-scale scrimmage Tuesday for Oklahoma but will cancel it if the weather is too cold. The squad, which will begin a short holiday Tuesday night, worked on defense Monday. Oklahoma will leave Dec. 26 for the Orange Bowl.

VANDERBILT
NASHVILLE, Tenn.—UP—The Vanderbilt football team, which has finished mid-term examinations, will practice morning and afternoon Tuesday in preparation for its Dec. 31 Gator Bowl date with Auburn. Coach Art Guepp said the two-day sessions would continue through the rest of the squad's pre-Christmas practice. The players watched movies of Auburn in action Monday and later took a two-hour workout.

TEXAS TECH
LUBBOCK—UP—The Texas Tech football team, which wound up its pre-Christmas preparations for its Jan. 2 Sun Bowl game with Wyoming by scrimmaging Monday, will resume practice Dec. 26. Center Dwayne West, who is nursing a knee injury, and end Pat Hartsfield, who has tonsillitis, missed Monday's workout.

Board Revokes Certificate Of Dallas Insurance Company

AUSTIN — UP — The State Board of Insurance Commissioners Monday revoked the certificate of authority of All American Home Lloyds, an insurance firm headquartered in Dallas.

The action came at a hearing at which testimony was presented that the company is insolvent by $235,217.48, and that blank mortgages and deeds of trust were listed as assets which had been signed by Dallas taxicab drivers for $5 each.

The three-member board, composed of Garland Smith, Byron Saunders and Mark Weiz, voted to revoke the firm's certificate of authority to operate, and called upon the attorney general's office to file suit seeking to place the company in receivership.

James H. Aldridge, listed as an attorney-in-fact, or operator, of the company, was asked by board legal counsel Paul Connor if the company was insolvent, as alleged in a show-cause order issued by the board.

"It is insolvent," Aldridge answered.

Tom Robinson, an examiner for the board, testified that he examined All American Home Lloyds and found it to be insolvent to the tune of $235,217.48.

Robinson said that took into account mortgage loans totaling $391,180.45 made to the company by Joe A. Irwin, and shown on the company's books as assets.

However, Robinson testified it was found that the notes were signed by persons who had no interest in the property—taxicab drivers for the Oak Cliff Cab Co., in Dallas, who were induced to sign them for $5 each.

Robinson identified two of the cab drivers as Virgil C. Johnson and E. E. Potts. Robinson also said evidence in connection with the case was presented to the Dallas county district attorney's office on Nov. 28.

Connor said the property involved consisted of two tracts of land in Dallas county, claimed to be a sub-division. However, he said there was no listing in county records of such a subdivision.

The board said a total of 10 cab drivers signed the blank mortgages.

Aldridge told the board that after receiving the notes from Irwin, he "sent back the notes once to Irwin" to be placed in proper form, and "they came back all polished up."

Texas Poll Tax Week Is Set

AUSTIN — UP — Gov. Allan Shivers Monday designated Jan. 16-21 as "Pay Your Poll Tax Week" in Texas.

"Lethargy, indifference and neglect are the most formidable enemies of democracy and free government. History proves that failure to exercise such privileges as the right to vote can easily result in the loss of those privileges," the governor said.

He designated at the same time Jan. 29-Feb. 5 as "Christian Endeavor-Youth Week," Feb. 12-18 "Distributive Education Week," and Feb. 26-March 3, "Student Council Week."

Boeing Tells Of Experiments Final '55 Crop Report

SEATTLE, Wash. — UP — Boeing Airplane Co. has announced the development of a new experimental combined thrust reverser and sound suppressor for jet engines used to power 707 jet commercial airliners.

Boeing officials said that jet engines now make so much noise that New York's Idlewild International Airport will not permit jets to operate there. They added that other airport operators are insisting that the noise level of at least commercial jet engines be reduced.

Boeing engineers said that while the present design probably is not final, the fact that the company is nearing solution to these two problems is vital because of the noise and braking factors.

"I decided clothes spoiled the effect, so I just wore my paint."

WASHINGTON — House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., on whether President Eisenhower will run again in 1956.

"I believe he is going to run because I know the man. I know the conditions that have been formed, not only in America but in the world, and I think he will not fail his country when they call upon him."

Mexico To Export Tomatoes

NEW LAREDO, Mex. — UP — Tomato growers in Mexico's El Monte district are counting on superior quality and a January lull in movement from Florida for a profitable export deal to the United States.

This was reported in Nuevo Laredo by Ernesto Ferrara, who hopes to be exporting El Monte tomatoes through Laredo almost daily, starting this week.

Ferrara, who with his brother Gerardo Ferrara, grows tomatoes at El Monte and handles the output of a number of other growers, exported the season's first shipment through Laredo early this month.

The next two loads he received from El Monte were sold on the Nuevo Laredo market because prices did not justify exportation.

The Nuevo Laredo operator attributed the demoralized market to the fact that Florida doubled its acreage this year. The season should end in one heavy tomato section of Florida this month, and it may be late January or early February before heavy movement starts from another heavy growing of that state.

El Monte growers thus have hopes of a better export market starting in January, and expect to send the bulk of their volume through Laredo during those weeks.

Private's Korean Refugees Face A Bleak Christmas

NEAR THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea — UP — Pic. Fritz Moeller and his 30 Korean refugee orphans face a bleak Christmas.

"There's not much more I can do for them," said the 22-year-old soldier who bought an acre of Korean land in an "off limits" village and built his own orphanage despite Army regulations.

"And after all, most of them are blind."

Army objections have been overcome. The soft-spoken soldier will not stand before a court martial. But Moeller, who spent $600 of his own money, is now broke.

"We haven't planned anything for Christmas," he said at his tiny orphanage. "It will probably be just an 'oh, dear' day. But at least they will be warm."

Most Disfigured

The blind children heard him. They didn't understand. But his was a familiar voice. They moved toward him cautiously, step by careful step.

They came with pock-marked faces, bitter souvenirs of a better war that divided Korea and killed or maimed and lost their parents. Some, perhaps mercifully, would never see their own faces made hideous with sunken, deforming eyes.

But they smiled and giggled in childish glee when Moeller picked up his flock, one by one, and swung them around.

Moeller didn't smile. He has solved most of his Army difficulties but is still having trouble.

Going Home Soon

"You see," he said, "I've paid the Korean fellow for most of the land. But it isn't in my name yet... there are a lot of legal complications. I've got to go to the Korean officers in several villages to see 'about it.'"

There are still problems: A Korean carpenter must finish the orphanage's ceilings. A responsible group must take over when he goes home. The legal title must be registered with someone.

"I'm going home pretty soon," Moeller said. "And so I'll try and

Air Force Probes Fatal Shooting

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — UP — Air Force authorities Monday investigated the fatal shooting Saturday afternoon of A3C Donald O. Simpson, Houston, Tex., in what was believed to be an accident involving a .38 revolver.

The shooting occurred at 5:05 p.m. Saturday in the barracks and Simpson died in the base hospital at 5:54 p.m. Authorities were unable to question Airman Arthur D. Justice, who was with Simpson at the time, "because he is in a state of shock."

"It is believed the two men were examining the gun when it discharged accidentally," a base spokesman said, "but we know none of the details yet and have been unable to learn them from Justice."

Police Quell Terror Group

TUNIS, Tunisia — UP — Tunisian and French authorities announced Monday they have smashed a "dangerous" terrorist organization and arrested 42 persons.

The announcement came as the national governments in Tunisia and Morocco took the first drastic measures to put down lawlessness which continued even after France surrendered most controls over native affairs.

JIM CRACKS

By JIM DEAN

WELL, WHEN A MAN goes way out on a limb and it develops that he was wrong, there's nothing for him to do but fall off.

When Lee Roy McBride and I returned from Fort Worth Saturday night, we found the News office was well decorated with signs announcing the score of a certain football game.

It even persisted through Sunday and Monday, with cards mysteriously turning up in drawers of my desk, or stamped on the back of some of my mail. It is good natured ribbing on the part of my colleagues, and I'm happy to say they are finding I can take it.

There's one thing about taking a good old country lick — it's easy to become philosophical about it in post-mortems.

When I previewed the prospect of a Tyler vs. Abilene state final, I was convinced that the tougher schedule the East Texas bracket had played would make them a more powerful team on the day of the final game.

But if Tyler had a more powerful team, they didn't come to Fort Worth Saturday. Abilene made such a one-sided ball game of it that Tyler fans began trying to find something amusing to talk about.

When the score was 33-0, the Tyler coach sent in a substitute with the clock running on fourth down and drew a five-yard penalty. One fan sitting in front of me, turned to a friend and complained in a joking way: "He's gonna' fool around and lose this game!"

IF THERE IS any consolation to be had, it comes perhaps from the fact that the two teams drew what may be one of the largest crowds in the history of the playoffs.

A Dallas sports writer, miffed because the game was not played in the big Cotton Bowl, had commented earlier in the week that while state final games in Dallas had averaged drawing 16,000 fans, Saturday's game would probably fall to hit that mark by about 4,000. The 30,000 fans who saw the game were about evenly divided in their partisanship.

When the announcer asked all fans from Tyler and East Texas to stand, McBride and I stood with 'em. Then he asked fans from Abilene and West Texas to stand, and we stood again although we had tickets in the middle of the Tyler section. One of my old home-town friends asked what in the world I was doing, and I told him we weren't taking any chance... we couldn't lose.

Well, as they used to say in Brooklyn — Wait 'til the next 25 years!

THIS WILL BE the last chance for me to send Christmas greetings your way, and I would like to express here my fondest wish for Christmas cheer for all the readers of our newspaper.

May the joys of the year and of life in general increase for you all at this season. And when the new year dawns, may it bring a bright promise for the fulfillment of all your dreams.

And chances are it can happen if you don't spend too much time dreaming.

AND SPEAKING of dreams and wishes, I am reminded of the wishing candle burning at the Pampa Elks Club. It's an interesting thing, set up for the parties and dances the club has. I understand it was Ken Huey's idea. The way it works, a fellow heats a coin and sticks it in the dripping wax that flows down the sides of the candle. In time the coin is completely sealed in, and so is your wish. If you harbor any romantic superstitions, this might be a good way to try 'em out.

The Elks Club will have its final dance of 1955 this Friday night beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The Notables will again furnish the music.

RADIO STATION KPBN is coming up with a brand new idea in radio programs. They've been teasing listeners about it for a while now, and won't give out the facts on it until after the first of the year. What is DJ-FAD? That's what they are asking.

El Paso Couple Found Dead

EL PASO, Tex.—UP—The bodies of John W. Chamness and his wife were found Monday in their home. They had been shot to death. The maid of the prominent El Paso family, Juana Gutierrez, was taken to an El Paso hospital. She discovered the bodies and was in a severe state of shock. A coroner's verdict had not been returned. A pistol lay across the body of Chamness, investigators said.

tribution for the poetry section. Written by a Pampa woman who still wishes to remain anonymous, like Santa Claus.

My Wish?
What do I want for Christmas?
A question old and new—
A friendly loving question.
What can we get for you?

For me, I want a Christmas
With peace, and those I love,
A season full of joy and cheer,
With blessings from above.

I wish for God to send again
A message from on high,
To dry the tears of war-torn lands
And make a bluer sky.

For those who've gone to battle
To win at any price,
The freedom and the liberty
At their own life's sacrifice,
I'd like for Heaven's glory
To shed its ray of light.
Upon a peaceful world again
This Holy Christmas night.

I'd like for God himself, to Smile
On those who've gone before
And say "Young heroes, brave and true—
There shall be no more war."

And for the loving ones at home,
In all the stricken lands,
I want — what only He can give.
The touch of Holy hands.

What do I want for Christmas?
Just peace to men on earth —
Good will to all in every land,
Remembering his birth,
Where charity stands watching
And faith holds wide the door
Where dark night wakes and glory breaks
And Christmas comes once more.

Boy Scout Committee Heads Named

Four Operating Committee heads of the Santa Fe District committee session held in the City Commission Room.

Appointed as committee heads for 1956 were: W. A. Morgan, advancement; Denver Allen, camping and activities; Bill Craig, organization and extension; and C. C. Kelly of White Deer, leadership training. Sheriff Rufe Jordan was reappointed as chairman of the Health and Safety Committee. A Finance Committee chairman will be appointed at a later date by Dr. J. B. Veale, Jr.

R. J. Rust, council president from Phillips, spoke on the "Challenge of '56" in the general session, following committee reports.

Don Cain, out-going district chairman, presided over the discussion of institutional problems and reports. The new officers of the Santa Fe District were introduced along with the operating committee chairman. District officers for 1956 are: Dr. J. B. Veale, Jr., district chairman, Kay Fancher, and Ross Buzzard.

"They also Serve," a film on the activities on men who serve in scouting and seldom see a boy, was shown by R. L. Hendricks, leadership training chairman.

Carlton Nance, institutional representative from the First Methodist Church, was received into the committee as vice-chairman in operating committee sessions, in functions.

Assignments were made, during operating committee sessions, including the preparatory work for "Boy Scout Week," scheduled for Feb. 6-12. At that time a display contest will be held in which trophies and ribbons will be awarded. Ski expedition assignments were made, and "Operation Disaster" was discussed.

Assignments for charter renewal of 23 units were made, and for nine charter applications to be started. In January, the advisory committee will begin preparations for the Court of Honor to be held on Feb. 7, and assignments that month will include the completion of training for two individual unit leaders by individual conferences. Plans were discussed for the setting up of a Merit Badge Committee at Lefors in January.

Gang Blamed For Break-Ins

MEMPHIS, Tex.—UP—Police Chief Guy Wright said Monday a gang of burglars had broken into at least 25 business establishments in West Texas since Saturday.

Wright said it appeared the burglars started in Burkburnett Saturday and "just went right down highway 287." They wound up their trip in Plainview.

He said tracks found at the various burglaries indicate they were all the work of the same two-man gang.

The gang made eight burglaries at Burkburnett, five at Quanah, some at Vernon and Childreas, six at Memphis and four at Plainview, Wright said.

He said they got about $300 in cash at the Memphis burglaries; they were able to open five of the six safes. He said Texas Rangers, several sheriff's departments and several police departments are seeking the gang.

Brownell Wants Probe Of Charge

WASHINGTON —UP—Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. demanded anew Monday that the Subversive Activities Control Board look into a charge of bias and prejudice against one of its members—former Sen. Harry P. Cain (R-Wash.).

Brownell filed with SACH a motion calling upon the agency to reopen the case and decide whether Cain is qualified to preside at a current Communist-front case—against the Washington Pension

Union. Cain described Brownell's action as "almost unbelievable." Brownell said his demand was based on new evidence consisting of statements made by Cain before a Senate committee in 1949, while he was a senator, and an article Cain wrote about the union in the November, 1955, issue of Coronet magazine.

The bias and prejudice charge against Cain originally was filed by the union last March.
