Queen In Nation's Capital

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Britain's captivating Queen Elizabeth II swept into the nation's capital today to one of the biggest, fanciest red carpet welcomes ever extended a distinguished visitor.
She flew in from Williamsburg, Va., at 11:12 a.m., e.d.t.
The 31-year-old sovereign, seemingly tireless in the face of unending ceremony, stepped from President Eisenhower's personal plane to the cheers of thousands at Washington national airport.
The President was there to greet her and her dashing escort, Prince Philip, and to escort them to the White House along the crowded, flag-decked streets to start a ceremony-packed four-day state visit.
Mrs. Eisenhower waited at the White House to give them a personal welcome on the "front porch"—the north portico.
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and a host of high diplomatic and military officials were with the President for the formal airport welcome.
Cannons Boom Salute
While a band played "God Save the Queen" and the "Star Spangled Banner," cannons boomed a solemn 21-gun salute as the royal pair stepped to the reviewing stand.
The royal couple flew here aboard the presidential plane Columbine III from Patrick Henry airport near Newport News, Va., after a whirlwind tour Wednesday of the historic early British settlements at Jamestown and Williamsburg.

Widening Of Streets Starts Here Today

Work on the widening of Foster and Ballard streets at the Post Office began today with workmen beginning the work of tearing out the curb and sidewalk.
The widening of the street is being undertaken by the city and the Post Office Department in an effort to solve the traffic situation near the post office.
Plans call for the street to be widened by moving the angle parking in front and at the side of the post office off the present street by making indentures in the curb and sidewalk.
By making the change in parking the additional space will provide for two lanes of traffic on either side of the street, according to city officials.
A traffic island will be placed in the middle of Foster in front of the post office. Four metal boxes, two for local mail and two for out-of-town mail, will be placed on the island. The boxes, one of each type, will face the street and will allow the drivers of cars to deposit mail without leaving their cars, according to O. K. Gaylor, postmaster.
Eventually the remainder of Ballard, behind the post office, to Atchison will be widened by placing the parking inside the present curb area, according to the city engineer, Monroe Moore.

US Warns Russia Against Attack

Mideast Fears Rise

Reds Say 6th Fleet Massing Off Syria

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Moscow Radio said today the United States Sixth Fleet was massing "not far from Syria's shores" and that U. S. and British warships were en route to Israel.
It was the latest of a series of Soviet statements that have aroused fears in Western nations that Russia might stumble over its own propaganda and touch off World War III.
In Cairo the government-controlled Middle East News Agency reported from Damascus that Syria's army had been placed on a state of emergency because of the threat from Turkey.
It said all Syrian army leaves were cancelled and that the army distributed arms among civilian popular resistance units at Aleppo and other points in northern Syria.
Verge of War Warning
There were no confirmation of the agency reports which followed a series of stern statements by Syria and the Soviet Union and a warning by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in the United Nations that the Mid East was close to war.
There was no immediate U. S. reaction to Gromyko's harsh statements in the United Nations, but Dulles already had warned that Soviet intervention in any Turkish action would bring U. S. retaliation against the Soviet Union itself.
The U. N. Steering Committee meanwhile was expected to meet today or tomorrow to consider Syria's request for an investigation of Turkish troop concentrations. The United States backed the move but was expected to ask that troop concentrations in Syria and Russia also be studied.

Sophomores To Put On Three Plays

Three sophomore plays will be given Monday. They are being produced by Thespian Troupe 1010 whose sponsor is Miss Helen Schaefer. Directors of the plays are senior Thespians, Pat Jones, Bobby Brown, and Heidi Schneider. Stage manager is Donald Darling.
Members of the cast of "Mind Set," directed by Pat Jones, includes Martha Marsh, as Augusta, a woman torn between two loves; John Mead as Prentiss, Augusta's betrothed, a man of high social standing and wealth; Ronnie Ehrig as Joe, the other man in Augusta's life and a photographer; Sue Foster as Great Aunt Rella, Augusta's aunt who is considered eccentric by the rest of her family; Glenda Finkelstein as the lively; and Mike McDaniel is the narrator.
"Leader of the People," directed by Bobby Brown, consists of Rodney Strawn as Jody, a little boy; Sam Harris as Carl Tiffin, a domineering father; Paultie Cooke as Mrs. Tiffin, Carl's wife; Donald Darling as Billy Buck, the hired hand; Cecil Watson as Grandfather, an old man who led wagon trains across the plains in his youth; and Judy Bond as Linda, the unkid daughter.
The cast for "More Perfect Union," directed by Heidi Schneider, consists of Kay Kolosha as Sophie, a poor girl who borrowed a formal for a program; the other girls in the club are Jackie Fikes, as Maxine; Laveeta Vance as Joan; Marquetta Cargile as Harriett; Gay Vanderburg as Sally; Carol Triplehorn as Rose; Rita Cartwright as Jeanette; Karen Capps as Mary; and Nita Cartwright as Joyce.
Under-studies include Bobby Andia, Maxine; Marily Gray, Joan; Tama Whisenunt, Harriett; and Joy Morgan, Sophie. Kay Tooley and Zoy Coronis will work on makeup.
Tickets to the plays will cost 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. They can be purchased from Thespian members and sophomore play cast members.

Solon Says Tax Cut Is Necessary

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—A Republican congressional leader said today taxes must be reduced next year despite additional defense spending which he said apparently will be necessary.
The assertion came from Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), a high-ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation.
His assertion that a tax cut is "mandatory" next year came less than 48 hours after Vice President Richard M. Nixon threw cold water on hopes for early tax relief.
Nixon said Monday that with Russia's satellite circling the earth the nation must regard its military strength as a matter of far greater importance than the "understandable desire" for tax relief.
Simpson expressed his views in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in Chicago. A summary of his remarks was released here in advance.
"We can and must cut taxes despite additional spending that will apparently be necessary in the Defense Department," Simpson said.
Any boost in defense spending can be offset by reduced spending on other federal agencies not linked with the defense effort, he said and this, would prevent any overall increase in spending.
The Ways and Means Committee will start tax hearings Jan. 7, he said, and he will "insist" that a major tax reduction be considered at the hearings.
Committee Chairman Jere Cooper (D-Tenn.) has expressed hope the hearings will lead to some tax relief.
Simpson's remarks indicated that even if the Eisenhower administration strongly opposes tax relief he will push for a tax cut and try to pin blame on the Democratic Congress if no relief is forthcoming.

Billy Davis Is Honored For Soil Work

A Gray county rancher has been selected as one of the top 25 Texas farmers and ranchers selected to receive an unusual award in recognition of the excellent soil and water conservation work done on his land.
Billy Davis, who ranches east of Lefors, has been notified by W. C. Howard, president of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation Districts, that he is one of 25 farmers and ranchers in Texas selected to receive the award.
This is the first year of the award program and the unusual award will be a beautiful 18 x 24 inch oil colored and framed aerial photograph of Davis' ranch.
The picture will be presented to Davis after it has been exhibited at different fairs and shows in the state, and after being displayed at the Jan. 15-17 convention of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors at Corpus Christi.
The first public showing of the 25 pictures was at the State Fair of Texas at Dallas where it can be seen in the Agricultural Building.
Davis was named as the rancher doing the most outstanding soil and water conservation work in the Gray County Soil Conservation District during 1956 by the supervisors of the District. He was selected as the most outstanding rancher doing this work in the region comprising the Panhandle and South Plains.

Junior Red Cross Holds Meet Today

The Junior Red Cross breakfast was held this morning at 7 in Johnson's Cafe with 19 persons present. Special guests were Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the American Red Cross chapter in Pampa; Sylvia Grider, high school Red Cross representative; and Knox Kinnard, superintendent of Pampa Schools.
Miss Grider, guest speaker, addressed the group on the purpose and necessity of the Junior Red Cross. Miss Grider stated that, "Service to the Jr. Red Cross, to some, means packing gift boxes, to others it means cutting records to send overseas to other schools so that they may hear the songs of American schools. Everything done in the Junior Red Cross is done for children whether it is the children in our community, the neighboring state or overseas."
Mrs. Shotwell gave the treasurer's report for 1956 and the activity report was given by H. A. Yoder, principal of Woodrow Wilson School and past Junior Red Cross president.
Enrollment material for the Junior Red Cross programs which will begin in Pampa and Lefors schools Nov. 1 was distributed to the teacher-sponsors.
The invocation was given by Jack W. Nichols, principal of Pampa Jr. High School.

Vandalism Of Truck Reported

The vandalism of a pickup truck and a ditching machine was reported to the police department last night by Earl Hilton, who lives on Price Road.
Hilton told the officers that sometime between 5:15 and 6 p.m. yesterday someone had placed tar on the ditching machine and the pickup. He said that the seat covers of the pickup had been ruined by the tar.
Not satisfied with destroying the seat covers, the vandals applied the tar to the steering wheel, windshield and headlights of the pickup, according to Jim Conner, chief of police.
The vandalism occurred in the alley on the west side of the 2100 block of N. Russell, where the equipment was parked, Conner said.

American Retaliation Would Back Turkey

By LEE NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—American officials said today Russia is now on notice that a Russian attack on Turkey will bring the fury of U. S. retaliation against the Soviet Union itself.
There will be no sanctuary for Soviet aggressors as the Chinese, Communists had in Korea, they said, if the Russian action is overt. Use of "volunteers" however, probably would not bring any retaliation against Russia, they said.
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a news conference Wednesday he did not think Mideast war likely. But he said none-the-less this country must be on guard lest Russia attack Turkey.
Later Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged that the Turkish general staff, with American "prodding," was planning to attack Communist-backed Syria immediately after Turkey's Oct. 27 elections.
The United States has denied repeatedly any intention of seeking or instigating an attack on Syria. But such Russian charges have been stepped up in the past few days.
American officials with special knowledge of Mideast affairs said they do not know whether Russia actually is trying to provoke a war between Syria and Turkey. But they expressed misgivings about the possible results of the Soviet propaganda campaign.
By naming specific dates for an alleged attack and stirring up violent hysteria, the officials said Russia might prod jittery Mideast nations into sudden military action.
Vice President Richard M. Nixon said that President Eisenhower and Dulles were giving priority attention to working out a peaceful solution to the problem. He said the United States "great feat" was that a single "miscalculation" could set off a war in the area.
The United States has already served notice in event of any attack on Turkey it will stand by the Turks under its North Atlantic Treaty commitments and the Eisenhower Doctrine.
Dulles was asked if, in defending Turkey, this country would do so "by attacking the attacker."
"Certainly, if there is an attack on Turkey by the Soviet Union," the secretary replied, "it would not mean a purely defensive operation by the United States with the Soviet Union a privileged sanctuary from which to attack Turkey."

Accurate Missile Claimed

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—A Soviet Embassy official here claims that Russia's intercontinental ballistic missile is capable of hitting targets "exactly."
Alexander T. Oustinov, First Secretary at the Embassy, also said the Russian space satellite is not sending coded messages as it circles the earth.
It was reported meanwhile that the Soviets probably will launch a second satellite within the next three weeks. It is expected to be even larger than the present 184-pound Sputnik, according to informed foreign diplomatic officials.
Oustinov cited Russia's satellite success as one of several examples of Soviet scientific advances at nearby College Park, Md.
He listed one of these as the Soviet ICBM which he said "has a very long range, exactly hitting on target."
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said yesterday missiles for some time and "probably have some advance over us" in that field of "potential" military activity.
The Soviet diplomat said the present Red moon is equipped with only two radio transmitters. He said Soviet scientists can gather information from the signals transmitted only by their character, such as the interval between signals and their strength.
Will Have Special Equipment
He said one or two more Red earth satellites will be launched during the International Geophysical Year—which ends Dec. 31, 1958. These will be equipped, Oustinov said, with special apparatus "to measure the force of the pushing of microscopic particles against its surface" and instruments to "reflect the influence of x-rays of the sun."
The Russians already have said officially their second satellite will be a more complete scientific vehicle than this country's official instrumented moon - shot, now scheduled for next March.
As for the timing of the second Soviet "shot," diplomats expect it will occur around Nov. 7—the date of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Pampans To Greet Air Tour Group

The All Texas Air Tour was to have landed in Pampa at 11:30 today at the Perry LeFors Field.
Plans were made by the Aviation Committee of the P. A. M. P. Chamber of Commerce to meet the tour members along with the directors of the CoC, County Airport Board, County Commissioners, City Commissioners and other officials of the city. The All School Carnival Queen Candidates from Pampa High School were to be the hostesses.
A barbecue lunch prepared and served by the local Shriner's was also on the agenda, to be followed by a brief program in which prizes would be given to the pilot coming the longest distance, a road map; flying the highest altitude, 100 g handle underwear; having engine trouble, free axline ticket; making the roughest landing, free flyer's lesson; and the worst pilot, insurance policy; along with the oldest plane, first aid kit; and the "hottest" pilot, a 100 lb. sack of ice.
The program and meal will be finished in time for the touring pilots to take-off on their flight schedule at 1 p.m.
One Collision Reported Here
One collision reported within the city limits yesterday brought the total number of reported accidents since the first of the year to 441.
The collision yesterday occurred at 6:30 p.m. at the intersection of Atchison and West. A 1955 Dodge sedan, driven by Doris Qualls Foster, 807 S. Foster, and a 1952 Plymouth sedan, driven by J. E. Bennett, White Deer, were in collision. Damages to the two vehicles were estimated at $150 each.

Secrecy Gag On Satellite Is Denied

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department denied today it had ordered a secrecy gag on U. S. rocket and earth satellite programs.
Army, Navy and Air Force orders issued Oct. 9 told officers and men to "steer clear of the controversy stirred by Russia's successful launching of a satellite five days earlier. The orders were released Wednesday by the House subcommittee on Government information, which plans public hearings on the matter.
A Defense Department spokesman said today he interpreted the orders to mean military officials who weren't informed on missile and satellite matters should not make public comments.
"The orders were intended to say in effect that 'unless you are an expert in the satellite field, keep quiet,'" he said.
If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hilde.

'Smallest Baby Born Alive' Gains Weight

By LOU FULLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
MILWAUKEE (UP)—A baby believed to be the smallest ever born alive in the United States is gaining weight steadily in her incubator home at St. Joseph's hospital here.

Linda Marie Winchester weighed only 17 1/2 ounces when born July 31. Today she weighs two pounds, 11 1/2 ounces.

The little girl's bid for life has been tough and go. When born, according to head nurse Virginia Mecikalski, Linda's chances of living longer than 72 hours were one in a thousand.

After that, the nurse said, Linda's chances were only 50-50 until she was given a blood transfusion when she was 45 days old.

The nurse said Linda couldn't swallow at first and had been tube-fed. She said Linda started out getting only one teaspoon of formula every three hours and now she gets about five teaspoons during the same period.

And the nurse said that since Linda has started taking a nipple,

Scout District Group Meets

The District Committee of the Santa Fe District of the Boy Scouts of America held a meeting recently in the City Hall and made plans for the annual district meet and banquet.

The Scout exposition that had been planned for November was postponed until a later date, as yet unannounced.

Reports were heard from Dr. Bob Ebert, advancement chairman, P. O. Gaut, camp and activities chairman; Vernon Suckey, representative from the organization and extension committee; Carl Thomas, of the commissioner's staff; and Carlton Nance, institutional representative.

They hope to have her on the bottle and away from the tube altogether in about two weeks.

Linda's home for the present is an incubator where she's enclosed in glass and kept at perfect temperature. To feed her the nurse puts her hands into a "box" through two arm apertures that look like port holes.

HOLLYWOOD, (UP)—Actress Anna Kashfi, who married Marlon Brando last Friday in nearby Eagle Rock, assured the world today that, by golly, she was an Indian from Calcutta after all.

Her statement was designed to put an end to speculation that she was a Wales lass in disguise.

Shortly after announcement of the wedding, Miss Kashfi's stepfather, William Patrick O'Callaghan, a factory worker in Cardiff, Wales, insisted that his daughter was "Joanna O'Callaghan," and did not "have a drop of Indian blood" in her veins.

How Do You Explain Murder By Juveniles With No Motivation?

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—A psychiatrist has challenged his colleagues and all others concerned with juvenile delinquency, to explain "murder by adolescents with obscure motivation."

Dr. A. Warren Stearns believes that if you don't understand the reasons for criminal behavior, you can't intelligently "correct" nor "reform" nor "rehabilitate" adolescents who behave criminally.

He cited four murders by male adolescents who were all "model" youths, who were free of all obvious signs of mental illness, and who murdered on "impulse" for no apparent reason whatever.

All that these four youthful murderers had in common, Dr. Stearns pointed out, was that their victims were females, two of whom were "scantly clad," and all the murders were "wanton and ferocious."

Revolt from Control
For the purpose of his discussion in the technical journal of the American Psychiatric Association, he found it "enough to identify adolescence as a period when extraordinary things may take place. These may be the simple revolt from parental or adult control, or suicide without motivation. Murder is comparatively rare at this period."

Two of his examples were 18 at the time they murdered; the others were 13 and 15. The crimes were as unreasonable as they could be. Aside from two victims having been "scantly clad," there was no indication of sex having had anything to do with them. All the murderers were thoroughly examined by psychiatrists who found them sound of mind.

Serve Life Terms
All were sentenced to life imprisonment and none has developed the least trace of mental illness in prison up to the time of Dr. Stearns' report. On the contrary, all have become model prisoners as they had been model youths, and two have taken advantage of prison facilities to acquire educations.

One has been in prison 12 years, another 10 years. None has any more idea of what motivated his shocking crime than the psychiatrists who studied them. Dr. Stearns' question was whether they would have killed again in the same way under similar circumstances if they hadn't been imprisoned.

Without attempting to answer the question he cited a fifth case—a 13 year old boy whose crime was like the others except that his victim recovered. In consequence, he got off with a reformatory term. He is now out on parole and "has shown no evidence of conduct disorder since."

Symptoms of Crime
Dr. Stearns argued it should be possible to establish the signs and symptoms which go with criminal behavior, just as there are signs and symptoms which go with all bodily illnesses. These would be different signs and symptoms, of course. His challenge was to find them, describe them, and use them.

"When physicians classified certain types of sickness as fevers, it was quite an advance," he said. "It at least brought the cases together which ultimately turned out to be infections. When the group was broken down into measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhoid, and so forth, it laid the way to further understanding and, as it turned out, specific treatment."

Some segments of "People" will devote a few minutes to asking individuals the same questions, such as "What does a peano sound like?" The variety of answers is endless, and most are funny.

On other occasions Alexander just ups and asks a person what he'd like to sound off about.

"Every living soul has some favorite topic to talk about," Webb says, "and they pitch right in."

The show is a natural outgrowth of "Dragnet." We use the closeup technique on interesting faces. Who knows, maybe we'll find potential actors to use for "Dragnet."

The fast-paced show never spends enough time with any one person to bore viewers. Alexander roams from the seamy side of life to the estates in Beverly Hills.

"It's an inexpensive show," Webb concluded. "Once we get a sponsor we can be on the air within 30 days. We know we have an offbeat idea, but we're also confident that it will be a big favorite when it goes on the air."

A New Kind Of TV Show, Starring Public, Preparing

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A new kind of TV show—starring the public—is being prepared by Video's best-known cops, Jack Webb and Ben Alexander.

Titled "People," the program is an intimate study of a cross-section of America's peasantry and peers. Some 30 individuals are interviewed in each 30-minute film segment on every subject imaginable.

Sound dull? Not so. In the pilot film Alexander who plays detective Frank Smith to Webb's Joe Friday on "Dragnet" talks to bums, students, bookies, scientists and just plain folks.

Television spokesmen say it's the first new type of entertainment to hit video since Betty Ferness' wrestling match with a refrigerator.

'Omnibus' To Start Out On 6th Excursion

NEW YORK (UP)—"Omnibus" wheels out of a different garage

when it takes off on its sixth TV excursion this Sunday.

It has moved from ABC-TV to NBC-TV. It will be seen in the afternoon instead of the evening. Aside from that, it will be pretty much the same sort of quality vehicle with Alistair Cooke again on hand to chauffeur.

And, as is his way, Cooke will drive without the aid of a teleprompter, a method of working that makes Cooke almost as rare a TV commodity as an unpsychoanalyzed comic.

"I don't really see much point in reading off that revolving paper towel they call a teleprompter," said Cooke in his book-lined eyrie above Manhattan's Fifth Ave.

"I shrink at singling myself out in this case, but I don't think it's any secret that the teleprompter is used, as far as I know, by just about every other emcee in TV. And it seems to me a great mistake. Only an actor can appear natural when he's reading someone else's words. And there is something lost when that naturalness is lost."

The 49-year-old Cooke, a newsman who was born in Manchester, England, but who since has become an American citizen, feels that some shows mistake disorganization for naturalness.

Fifth Ave.

"To me reading off a teleprompter is a contradiction of what TV is. An emcee is there to appeal to people of some intelligence, perhaps three or four of them sitting in a living room. He is supposed to be talking just as he would talk in a home. Intimacy should be the keynote."

Ideas Are Sprouting Fast For Out-Of-This-World Days

By Doc QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—With that 184-pound thing wending a wobbly orbit over our heads like a worry-wart moon, the wave of the future seems to be heaping toward us at a faster rate than it did in anti-Sputnik days.

And ideas are sprouting fast for the out-of-this-world days ahead. One of the most intriguing of these came from an American scientist attending the recent International Astronautical Congress in Barcelona.

Why not, he suggested, make the moon an international bullseye? Tests on Moon

His plan was for the powers of the earth to test their hydrogen bombs on the moon, which presumably couldn't be any more fouled up than it already is—with its face pocked with craters and no life showing on its bald pate.

There is the hint of a suggestion here that war in the future could be reduced to an international shooting match, with the winner being the country that makes the biggest moon-crater.

It's a nice thought, but it won't work. Who would be the umpire? Even if we got some Martian to stay on his planet and do the job, it wouldn't work. Too much danger of the joser turning his fire on Mars.

Dispose Atomic Waste

A more feasible plan would be the use of a dead heavenly body for a dumping ground for radioactive atomic waste. The disposal of this deadly poisonous stuff will pose a real problem in the nuclear-energetic future. The earth and its seas can become polluted through carelessness. utterly lifeless—would then as a dumping ground become eternally lifeless and as much to be avoided by space travelers as if it exuded an overpowering green cheese odor. "Off limits to tourists" would be its inter-stellar highway warning, and its only visitors would be the lead-shielded workers on the space garbage-scows from earth.

Travel to Planets

Of course, you can say that the enthusiasts among the rocketry scientists can't be serious when they talk of human space travel between planets, and of course that's what people said about Columbus and Magellan in their time. "Reaching for the moon" may become an obsolete and meaningless saying before the century's end.

Meantime life whirls along lightly, and today a fellow earthling who works in our office skipped in to work whistling a peculiar little melody that constantly reof outstanding achievements in general 4-H work and selections began on a county basis, then each county winner entered competition with other county winners in their district.

Groucho Marx Has Oldest Continuous TV Show On Air

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Today's quiz:

Q. Who has the oldest continuous TV show on the air?

A. Groucho Marx. His "You Bet Your Life" program moved into its ninth season this month. The mustachioed comedian not only holds the longevity record, he also has the astonishing distinction of being among the top 10 in each of his years as quizmaster.

"It's really nothing," Groucho said with exaggerated nonchalance. "But I'm afraid to look back over the years — too many people chasing me."

Signals for Service

He took time out to peruse the menu in Romanoff's elegant restaurant, and signalled the maitre'd. "Get Romanoff over here," he ordered.

Prince Michael himself marched over, his face reflecting the dread of a much abused target for Groucho's blasts.

"Mike, you fraud," the comic asked, "is there anything edible on this menu. The whole thing looks suspicious to me." Romanoff flinched. "I don't know why I ask you about the food," Groucho went on. "You can't afford to eat in this joint either."

After five minutes of wrangling, and much to the discomfort of Romanoff, Groucho ordered a raw hamburger with a single cape and a soupcon of raw onions.

Hardships of Eatery

Romanoff departed, mumbling about the hardships of running an eatery.

"Because I'm the oldtimer on TV other performers ask me how I manage to stay on the air year after year," Groucho said. "The answer is that I've saved my money and remained independent."

"I'm not kidding about this. As long as you're independent you can do as you please without worrying about losing your job."

"I do the show because it's fun — not for the money. When it ceases to be fun I'll quit. It's that simple. Actually, I haven't thought about quitting."

Having survived wrestling, quiz shows, situation comedies, panel shows, and now westerns, the little man with the big cigar figures he still will be around when pay TV enters the picture tube.

Seniors At Perryton Slate Play

(Special to The News)

PERRYTON — With all the routin', shootin' of the old West, "Annie Get Your Gun" will come to life on the stage of Perryton High School auditorium as the senior play of 1957-58. It is a three hour dramatic comedy and sports a cast of twenty players and a host of extras.

It is a light-hearted comedy and the gay costumes will make for a gala affair as Ms. Rose Powell's annual senior class production. Also, the play is based on the original musical play by Rogers and Hammerstein.

The present tentative date for the performance has been set for Dec. 2 and 5.

Leading roles in the play will be portrayed by Dixie Conley, a nd Glen Castlebury. Student director is Kaven Crum. Supporting roles are played by Zack Miller, Don Tillerson, Sammy McLain and Kaven Crum. Other members of the cast are Calvin Luncford, Ben Flowers, John Manning, Bill Shannon, T. J. Pool, Sue Ann Brashers, Kathy Huter, Gaynelle Leatherman, Virginia McLanahan, Donna Hoots, Avis Janzen, Shirley Morris, Sydney Slack and Carmen Easter.

While South's spade suit was not technically bidtable I have no criticism of his spade bid and the final contract of four spades would have been made in spite of the bad trump break if East and West had not put up some mighty fine defense.

West opened the deuce of hearts. East won with the ace and returned the queen. This put South in with the king and he promptly led the jack of spades. He had hoped of picking up a singleton ten spot in the East hand. West covered with the queen and dummy's king held the trick.

His next play was the queen of clubs which also stood up. He continued with the jack and East made the all-important play of covering. South won with the ace and led the four of spades.

West won with his ten spot and East discarded the five of hearts. Now West made the second key defensive play. He led the nine of diamonds. South won with the king in dummy and played a third spade. West grabbed that with the ace and led the jack of diamonds which went to South's queen.

At this point South was in trouble. If he drew West's last trump he could never get back to his hand to run the clubs. Dummy's ten blocked the suit. His only hope was that West would hold the one missing club so he played a club toward dummy. West knew what to do with his three of spades and the hand was down.

It has been said that nobody ever wins a war. The War of 1812, in which the United States declared war on Great Britain, in the interests of its sailors and shipping, is an illustration. Neither a single aim nor an inch of territory was gained by either side. Stranger, the greatest victory of the United States, the slaughter of the British in the battle of New Orleans on Jan. 8, 1815, took place 15 days after peace was made and the war officially ended.

From Flapjacks To Crepes, Pancakes Take To Cherries With Pleasing Result

Pancakes rank with eggs in their ability to appear gracefully at any meal of the day in one of their several forms. They welcome many garnishes, especially fruit, and among fruits the tart red cherry pleases them very well. The red cherry sets off the mildness of the pancake and adds tang without too much sweetness. Moreover, the red cherry is a lady-like creature of dainty size which will decorate and flavor pancakes at one and the same time.

Select your pancake to suit your purpose. If the purpose is a late breakfast or a Sunday brunch, our native American flapjacks are an admirable choice. Make a stack of them in the traditional manner and put a cottage cheese filling between the layers. Then bring on the red cherries. Slightly thicken and sweeten the liquid in the pan and warm it with the cherries. It makes a sauce as distinctive and appealing as the famous Vermont maple syrup. Now cut your filled pancake stack into six wedges and place three cherries with a little sauce atop each wedge. The remaining cherries and sauce are served in a separate bowl or pan of their own to be liberally applied at the table. The blending of pancake, cherry and cottage cheese produces a result that starts the day with good cheer.

GERMAN PANCAKE-ROLL
German pancakes are another deservedly famous member of the pancake family which dovetail neatly with midday dining plans. These pancakes attain such an impressive size that one to a customer would be too many. Apple pancakes are a long-standing German specialty; because the tart red cherries have the same refreshing quality as apples they are an equally good companion for the German pancake. After your pancake is nicely baked, cover it with a layer of drained red cherries and roll it up. Sprinkle it freely with confectioners' sugar and cut it in ample slices. Don't be surprised if you find it necessary to repeat the process before you're through; cherry pancakes are apt to be exceedingly popular. In most portions the cherry pancake also makes an excellent and unusual dessert.

And if you're giving a party, still another pancake dressed in cherries will make everyone sit up and take notice. This occasion demands French crepes, light, paper-thin pancakes with a delicate air. They should be baked in a pan just large enough to accommodate one at a time in order to make them perfectly circular. As you finish each one, neither stack nor roll it, but fold it in half and arrange the crepes in an orderly overlapping row on an oval serving dish. Make the cherry sauce as for flapjacks with one interesting addition: at the last minute, when the sauce is warm and the guests are eager, heat an ounce of brandy and ignite it as you add it to the sauce. The sauce will arrive at table glowing with a fascinating blue flame and, while the alcohol has burned away, the brandy aroma lingers on to give the sauce a special glow of its own. No guest could ask for more regal treatment. Besides which, the natural thinness of the crepes and the natural tartness of the cherries keeps the calorie count well within bounds!

PANCAKE STACK WITH RED CHERRY SAUCE

RED CHERRY SAUCE
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon salt
1 can (1 pound) red sour-pitted cherries (water pack)
¼ teaspoon red food coloring
Combine cornstarch, sugar, lemon rind and salt in a saucepan. Drain cherries; stir liquid into dry ingredients and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil ¼ minute. Add red food coloring and cherries.

PANCAKES

2 cups pancake mix
1 cup cottage cheese
Prepare pancake mix according to package directions for richer pancakes. To make 4 large pancakes, bake on a hot griddle, one at a time, using ¾ cup batter for each pancake. Stack pancakes, spreading 1-3 cup cottage cheese between each. Spoon red cherry sauce over top. To serve, cut into wedges. Serve with additional red

Midget Meat Muffins

Just four ingredients and 45 minutes and you're all ready to sit down to a meal of Individual Ham and Macaroni Muffins. It's ground smoked ham and ground lean pork you'll find in these macaroni muffins. Time you try 'em and see for yourself.

MEAT—FRESH AND CURED

The majority of veal and lamb cuts as well as most beef cuts are sold fresh. In proportion to the dressed carcass, more pork is sold cured than fresh.

RED CHERRY SAUCE FLAMBE

Heat ¼ cup brandy; pour into the center of hot red cherry sauce. Light brandy with match. Spoon flaming sauce over French crepes.

Midget Muffins For Meat Menu

Many homemakers are in an occasional dilemma concerning the use of leftovers. Actually it is the smart homemaker that plans on leftovers.

For the homemakers that plans on a cured pork roast for a Sunday dinner, it is a lifesaver to have this recipe for Individual Ham and Macaroni Muffins at your finger tips.

Easily prepared, says Reba Staggs, meat expert, this recipe calls for ground smoked ham, ground lean pork, cooked macaroni and cheese and an egg. For a large family, the recipe is easily doubled. Undoubtedly, the men of the household would enjoy two or three of these muffins. Menu accompaniments might include a green vegetable, tossed salad, salt sticks and an ice cream sundae.

INDIVIDUAL HAM AND MACARONI MUFFINS

1 pound ground smoked ham
½ pound ground lean pork
2 cups cooked macaroni and cheese
1 egg
Combine all ingredients thoroughly, cutting macaroni into small pieces. Grease 12 small or 8 medium size muffin pans. Fill pans with meat mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Every Bride Can Make Cherry Pie

"Can she make a cherry pie, Billy boy?" the old song inquires, coming right down to cases. Every bride worth her veil had to have the gentle art of pie baking well under command, and it's no accident that the song selected cherry pie as the variety. The tart red cherry with its refreshing flavor fits perfectly into a pastry casing, be it pie, tart or cobbler. It continues to be one of America's favorite pie fillings, preceded only by apple, just as pie itself continues to be an American specialty.

Red cherries simplify pie making too. Most other pie fruits require cleaning, picking over or peeling. With cherries, however, you merely open a can or two and find the fruit awaiting your pleasure — stoned, cleaned and cooked just enough to make a first-rate pie. Therefore no time need be spent on the filling when you bake a cherry pie, and the cherries have the additional allure of being economical. At many markets, you can buy 2 1-pound cans of red cherries for about 40 cents.

Here's a pleasant pie that every bride can easily make using canned red cherries and a prepared pastry mix. A touch of almond flavoring points up the interesting character of the cherries.

RED CHERRY PIE

Pastry for 2-crust pie
2 cans (1 pound each) red sour-pitted cherries (water pack)
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon almond flavoring
½ teaspoon red food coloring
Line 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Drain cherries, reserving ¼ cup of the liquid. Place cherries in lined pie plate. Combine sugar, flour and salt in a saucepan. Stir in ¼ cup cherry liquid. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened. Remove from heat; add butter, almond flavoring and red food coloring; stir until butter is dissolved. Pour over cherries. Cover with pastry; seal and flute edges. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 40 minutes. YIELD: 1 9-inch pie.

MORE MEAT FACTS

Always cook meat at a low temperature. Meat should be roasted fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Steaks and chops cut 1 inch thick or more are best if broiled. Steaks and chops cut less than 1 inch thick may be panfried or panbroiled. Cured meats should be kept in the refrigerator closely wrapped. Steaks and chops should be served piping hot.

Pork Casserole Is Ideal For October When Friends Drop In Unexpectedly, Be Prepared With Hospitable Treat

If your budget is in the need of a boost, Sausage Casserole, Dakota, is ready to help you out.

Here's how—first, this casserole is almost a meal in itself... meat, rice and vegetables. It's quick and easy; thaw-out during the cool October days.

It's this dish which highlights pork sausage links and price-wise it will give your budget a nudge. Reba Staggs, home economist and meat expert, emphasizes that pork sausage links are used morning, noon and night as menu favorites. Easily prepared, all it takes is about 15 minutes to cook the links. Simply place them in a cold frying-pan with about 2 tablespoons of water. Cover and cook slowly for about 5 minutes. Then pour off the drippings and brown the links.

SAUSAGE CASSEROLE-DAKOTA
1 pound pork sausage links
¼ cup uncooked rice
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped onion
1 can (8 ounces) tomatoes
1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms, if desired
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon basil
Brown sausage links in frying-pan. Remove sausage and add rice. Cook in drippings for 5 minutes or until rice is lightly browned. Add green pepper and onion and cook until tender. Pour off drippings. Add tomatoes, mushrooms, salt, pepper and basil to rice mixture. Pour into a 2-quart casserole and arrange sausage links on top of Holiday preparations include gift buying, entertaining of out of town friends, traditional family dinners and that caroling party that's always held at your home. These are all well planned events and you as the hostess know exactly how they should be handled. But how about the unexpected happenings — are they included in your holiday plans? As a gracious hostess remember to not only plan scheduled entertainment during the holiday season, but keep in mind that this is the time of year when friends just drop in. Careful planning will turn these visits into real hospitable gourmet treats making guests thrilled with your thoughtfulness.

To insure their success keep the refrigerator stocked with your favorite specialty cheeses. Gouda, Pineapple, smoked Edam and Port Salut are just a few you may want to plan on serving. The bright red outer coat of Gouda cheese will add sight appealing color to your cheese tray. Simply cut right through the red wax coat and protective wrapper, slicing the cheese into whatever size best suits your service. Leave the outer wax coat on so it will give a sparkling contrast in color to the rice. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking for 10 minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

rich golden Gouda. (When guests take their choice from the cheese tray is time enough to strip off the red wax edge.) Remember, too, that you'll be doing your guests a favor by serving Gouda cheese, because it is low in calories compared to other natural cheeses.

Before deciding what fruits and nuts to keep on hand, pick out a dish or tray that will make an attractive server, and compliment the cheese and fruit. Once you have a pleasing plan worked out it can be used throughout the season. Buy fresh fruits in season and keep a full variety of nuts handy in your cupboards.

Your husband will want to take care of the beverage end of entertaining. By planning together for unexpected guests, you will probably be known as the "most fun" twosome to drop-in on in town.

GOP Talk About Sputnik Doesn't Seem To Add Up

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Two men who stand just after President Eisenhower in the Republican Party table of organization have been talking about Sputnik this week. What they said seems somehow not to add up.

One is Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He spoke Tuesday night in San Francisco before the International Industrial Development Conference.

The other is Sherman Adams, White House chief of staff, who spoke his piece 24 hours earlier, also in San Francisco, at an Eisenhower birthday dinner sponsored by the United San Francisco Republican Finance Committee.

Police critics and others have been scolding the Eisenhower administration for what has been regarded as complacency in its reaction to the flight of Sputnik.

Adams Reasonably Content
Adams may not have been complacent about Sputnik in San Francisco. But he talked like a man who was reasonably content, as for instance when he assured the Republican fund raisers that the United States never intended to compete "with any other nation for first place in a Sputnik race."

He gave a low rating to the Sputnik as an instrument of achievement in science and also as a military fact.

"The serving of science," Adams said, "not high score in an outer space basketball game, has been and still is our country's goal."

Democratic critics of the administration's satellite program may be expected now to suggest that high score in an outer space basketball game is not the public's conception of the meaning of a Red Russian Sputnik spinning overhead.

Urges Caution
It Adams gave Sputnik a brush off, Nixon Tuesday night did not. Nixon said:

"Militarily the Soviet Union is not one bit stronger today than it was before the satellite was launched. The free world remains stronger than the Communist world."

"But," Nixon added, "we could make no greater mistake than to brush off this event as a scientific stunt of more significance to the man in the moon than to men on earth."

"We have had a grim and timely reminder of a truth we must never overlook—that the Soviet Union has developed a scientific and industrial capacity of great magnitude.

"If the free world is to survive we cannot rest on our past achievements or our present position of military superiority."

Men on earth may now ponder the question:

Is Sputnik just a high score in outer space basketball or a grim and timely reminder to the people of the United States of new life and fire in the economy of the people of the United States of new Soviet Union?

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UP)—Police Wednesday halted the demolition of a $250,000 steel building and confiscated the wreckers tools.

Charles Weatherford, owner of the building, arrived to find three youngsters engaged in ripping corrugated iron from the structure. He said they told him the building had been vacant so long they didn't know anybody wanted it, and they could use the material for a new clubhouse.

FACES PROBE—The Senate Labor Rackets Committee will open hearings on Oct. 21, in Washington, on the activities of Nathan W. Shefferman, above, a labor relations consultant. Shefferman, a resident of Chicago, testified earlier before the committee that he used union funds to buy more than $85,000 worth of personal goods for retiring Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and his family.

DIGGING HIS FORTUNE—Thomas Watson, 19, of Battle Creek, Mich., shovels his way to a small fortune in New York in the payoff of one of the oddest big prize contests of the year. Watson, a farm machinery draftsman, was allotted five minutes in which to shovel as many silver dollars as he could from a seven-and-a-half-ton pile totaling $250,000. First prize winner in a promotion contest sponsored by a soft drink company, Watson shoveled his way to $37,500.

Jane Russell Wants Orphanages Empty, Battles To Unite Orphans With Parents

By CAROL LE VARN
NEA Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Childless American couples wanting to adopt foreign orphans will get a big assist from one section of the new immigration law, passed by the 85th Congress in its final hours.

Under the new law, orphan children under 14 years of age may be brought to the United States from foreign countries for adoption on a nonquota basis. Under the old law, children for adoption could be brought in only under fixed quotas for each country. And all quotas were exhausted last January.

The new law is a cause for which the glamorous movie star Jane Russell had lobbied valiantly in Washington.

Miss Russell, whose family includes three European orphans, is adopted by the film star and her husband, Bob Waterfield, is a founder of WAIF. WAIF is an adoption agency for European and Korean orphans which has placed 4,000 children with American families in the past six years. Miss Russell said that 800,000 couples in the United States want to adopt children. There are only 90,000 children available for adoption.

"And everyone wants a little girl, about two years old, with blonde hair and blue eyes," she said.

Many older children are available, she added, and WAIF has succeeded in placing boys and girls well into their childhood.

The organization doesn't follow blood lines, but does follow religious lines.

"We don't need anyone to write and say that they want to adopt a child," she said. "We have a tremendous waiting list and we haven't had a child to place since January when the quotas were filled."

What WAIF does need, she said, is money. In many cities, the organization is included in United Fund drives, and donors may specify that contributions go to WAIF.

Jane first became interested in orphan children abroad when she adopted her oldest son, Thomas, now seven years old.

"I came back to Washington and asked if legislation could be passed to make those orphans available to couples here."

Miss Russell has finally obtained the legislation she needs through the intercession of the 85th Congress.

WAIF works through International Social Service, a long-established immigration service. WAIF uses the organizational setup of ISS overseas, supplying them with extra personnel.

Local welfare agencies here handle the adoptions. They check the American couples while WAIF checks the children. Most of the children placed have been from Germany and Greece.

"There are so many miseries in this world and this one could be taken care of so easily," Miss Russell said on her last "lobbying" visit to Washington. "As long as so many people are frantic to adopt children, there shouldn't be a single child left in any orphanage."

Kit Kat Klub Plans Post Game Dance

Kit Kat Klub members are selling mum corsages to be worn at the Sandies-Harvester game on Friday night. Orders may be placed today with any club member, or by calling the president, M. S. Raina Storms, Mo-4-8503.

The corsages, made up by Roberta's, are selling for $1.50 and $2. Delivery will be made to the home of the customer on Friday afternoon and early evening by Kit Kat Klub members. The club will receive 20 per cent of their sales to augment their treasury for projects.

The Kit Kats cordially invite the youth of the community to attend a Football Dance to be given immediately following the game in the Episcopal Parish House. Amarillo Sandies have been invited as special guests. Admission will be 50 cents per person.

Junior High Plans Baked Goods Sale

The Junior High seventh grade will hold a bake sale on Friday in the lobby of the Hughes Building. Hours for the sale are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Posters made by the art classes have been on display during this week in various spots around town, distributed by Mrs. Ralph Delashaw, room representative for Junior High.

Seventh grade chairmen for the project are Mmes. J. B. Veale, Jr. and J. B. Maguire Jr.

A variety of baked goods including cakes, pies, brownies, home made candies, cookies, cup cakes and coffee cakes will be offered for sale. Proceeds derived from the sale will be used to finance the projects sponsored by the Junior High PTA.

Mrs. Jack Inglis Has Guild Meet

(Special to The News)
CANADIAN — Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church recently met in the home of Mrs. Jack Inglis.

The first study on "Disciples To Such A Lord," was presented by Mmes. W. A. Kessie Jr., J. A. Ullom, and James Price.

Attending were Coordinator Mrs. James Price and members Mmes. Rhea Wilson, W. A. Kessie Jr., Wilbur Killbrew, Vera Morehead, Coy Holman, Jack Parsons, Gene Campbell, A. S. Jackson, Jerry McEwen, Pascal Gwaltney, Grace Spiller, and Erbin Crowell.

Many persons seem proud to boast they get through a day without a sniff of breakfast. Breakfast should provide a fourth of each day's calories needs. For a healthier outlook toward your daily routine and more vim, better pick up this meal.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth centered with a white and blue decorated cake served with coffee and Cokes. Plate favors were tiny shoes adorned with yellow ribbons.

Guest registrar was Mrs. Clemmons.

Those attending and sending gifts were Mmes. B. J. Johnson, Troy Shipman, Bob Clemmons, Leona Bewley, A. J. Rollins, W. S. Presley, Ray Jefferies, C. F. Morris, Bud Whiteley, B. T. Smith, M. E. Bigham, Bill Mullins, Howard Archer, Jess Graves, Joe Cochran, Paskal Crutcher, L. A. McKnight, A. E. Dunnam, Ed Brock, E. G. Feno, Joe Michno, Mabel Hill, Billy Keith, H. H. Roland, Floyd Franklin, and Charles Earhart.

RUTH MILLETT

When their 19-year-old daughter ran off and married the 19-year-old boy she had been dating for several months, her parents were stunned with disbelief.

They shouldn't have been. In fact, it was a possibility they should have considered when they let their tenth-grader start dating a boy who was through high school and was working.

The boy, no longer financially dependent on his parents, could do as he pleased. It didn't take him long to convince the girl that her parents were too strict, that she had a right to lead her own life, and that if they were married, there wouldn't be anything the parents could do about it.

And sure enough, there wasn't. For by the time the parents found out about the runaway marriage, a baby was on the way. All they could say to their daughter was: "We didn't choose marriage for you. You chose it for yourself. Now you will have to assume all of its obligations and responsibilities."

If the boy and the girl have enough character, despite their youth they may make a go of the marriage. It won't be easy. Both will have given up a lot for their shortsightedness.

The girl will have given up her chance for an education made easy by parents anxious to give her every advantage. The boy will be stuck in the small job he has because with a wife and child to support he can't afford to take chances.

It isn't the kind of start in life

Stork Party Fetes Mrs. W. Kingham

(Special to The News)
LEFORS — Mrs. Walter Kingham was honored with a stork shower in the home of Mrs. Carl Johnson, recently.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. M. J. Moxon, Ferguson, Harkcom, Bob Clemmons, Carl Johnson, A. D. McDaniel, Fred Cullen, Tony Bivins, and T. C. Shults.

The honoree was presented a corsage of multicolored baby socks in the shape of flowers arranged with greenery and multicolored streamers.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth centered with a white and blue decorated cake served with coffee and Cokes. Plate favors were tiny shoes adorned with yellow ribbons.

Guest registrar was Mrs. Clemmons.

Those attending and sending gifts were Mmes. B. J. Johnson, Troy Shipman, Bob Clemmons, Leona Bewley, A. J. Rollins, W. S. Presley, Ray Jefferies, C. F. Morris, Bud Whiteley, B. T. Smith, M. E. ## BWC Sponsors Girls' Auxiliary

The Business Women's Circle of the Central Baptist Church met with Mrs. G. C. Stark for a Royal Service program.

Mrs. R. E. Bradford, president, presided during a brief business meeting.

Three new offices were added to the circle; Mrs. Paul Turner, as telephone chairman; Mrs. Paul Baker, as benevolence chairman, and Mrs. G. C. Stark, assistant missionary chairman. It was announced that the circle will sponsor the Intermediate Girls' Auxiliary.

Mrs. Neal Herd presented the program entitled, "An Open Door."

Miss Grace NeCase opened the program by reading the prayer calendar. Those taking part on the program and their topics were "A Cobbler's Shop," Mrs. G. C. Stark; "Door of the Present," Miss Evelyn Patterson; "Door of Opportunity," Miss Janette Smith; "New Doors for Southern Baptists," Mrs. W. C. Bass; "Doors of Responsibility," Mrs. Paul Turner; "Doors Opened Wide," Mrs. R. F. McCallip.

The meeting was closed with meditation by Mrs. Herd and a solo by Mrs. Bass.

Members attending were Mmes. W. C. Maples, Neal Herd, Ed Stark, Paul Turner, R. E. Bradford, R. F. McCallip, Nellie Ralston, Misses Evelyn Patterson, Janette Smith and Grace NeCase.

Ike Doctrine Fails To Win Friends

EDITORS NOTE: Wilbur G. Landrey, United Press manager for the Middle East, is now in New York. Following is his assessment of the progress of the cold war in that strategic area.

By WILBUR G. LANDREY
United Press Staff Correspondent

The Eisenhower Doctrine is failing to win and hold friends in the Arab Middle East. Russian influence is on the increase. King Saud of Saudi Arabia and pro-western Lebanon appear to be cooling toward the doctrine though Lebanon says she is standing by it. Both were among the doctrine's early supporters. Encouraging the tendency away from it is the fear of a world war starting on the border between Syria and Turkey.

Among other Arab nations, with the exception of Iraq, the pact has met either only lukewarm support or downright opposition. Jordan accepts U.S. money and arms but refuses to align itself with the doctrine. Syria and Egypt have denounced it from the start.

Double-Pronged Move
The Eisenhower Doctrine was aimed at providing American requested — to combat any Communist aggression at home, and American military aid — if money to help governments communist aggression from abroad. Its failure to win wide support has left the United States and the West weaker in the area than at any time in years—at a time when Russia is rattling her missiles and there are many fuses leading to the Middle East powder keg.

The latest reports come from Lebanon where Saud is on a visit. These officially unconfirmed reports say Lebanon would like to water down her joint pledge with the United States to oppose international communism in favor of a pledge to fight the Reds at home. That would be closer to the "neutrality" of Egypt and Syria. Lebanon's Foreign Minister Charles Malik, in a press conference at the United Nations Tuesday, said that "we certainly intend to remain faithful" to technical, economic and military aid agreements with the United States.

Part of Arab World
But he was careful to say Lebanon is part of the Arab world and will stand for any legitimate Arab causes against the West. Lebanon, the half-Christian, half-Muslim country which accepted the Eisenhower Doctrine and the money that went with it, has felt increasingly isolated by her neighbors' attacks. And now the tension between anti-American Syria, an Arab country, and pro-

American Turkey, a non-Arab country, has fanned the ideal of "Arab unity" in Syria's favor. The reports say that King Saud is encouraging the move despite his good relations with the United States.

Saud is one of the most influential men in the Middle East.

Moisture Is Aiding Some Texas Crops

AUSTIN N(UP) — Moisture during the past week has aided some Texas crops and hindered the growth of others, according to a report from the Department of Agriculture.

Texas' small grain, winter legume and fall pasture prospects are the best in "many years," the USDA reported. The timely moisture will germinate the large acreage of wheat, oats, barley and winter legume seed put in the ground during the past two weeks.

On the other hand, the moisture stopped harvesting of cotton, sorghum and peanuts and lowered grades of open cotton, the report said. The USDA said the High Plains late sorghum crop was benefited by the showers on Oct. 7, but cloudy and damp weather the rest of the week, while ideal for filling silos, held grain moisture content too high for combining.

Sunday's downpour will delay digging of peanut fields in the cross timbers which would have been ready for harvest this week, the report said, but late peanuts are "quite promising."

Cloudy weather coupled with showers and heavy dews slowed the cotton harvest over most of the state. The carrot and lettuce harvest was interrupted in the Panhandle by rains early in the week, and additional rains over the weekend.

A slight lull in field work occurred in South Texas areas outside the lower Rio Grande Valley, but no serious delay was expected in the light harvest of eggplant and peppers that had started in the winter garden area.

Snap beans, eggplant, peppers and tomatoes were making good growth and fall and early winter vegetables in South Texas continued to improve.

Lush small grain and winter pasture grass was assured over a large part of the state. Earlier rain over East Texas had greened up pastures and was bringing small grain on rapidly.

Actor Is Grooming Daughter To Play Kid Star Roles

By VERNON SCOTT United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jackie Coogan, first kid star of the movies, is grooming his 4-year-old daughter, Leslie, to follow in his footsteps to moppet stardom. "I was just four years old when I started my first picture," Coogan grinned. "It was 'The Kid' with Charlie Chaplin back in 1918, and it launched the biggest child actor in history." Coogan, bald now and as homely as a rhinoceros, earned 8½ million dollars before he was voting age. But by the time various factions were through cutting up his fortune, Jackie ended up with a pittance. Considering his financial disasters, his plunge to obscurity and the heartaches of growing up in the public eye, why does he want

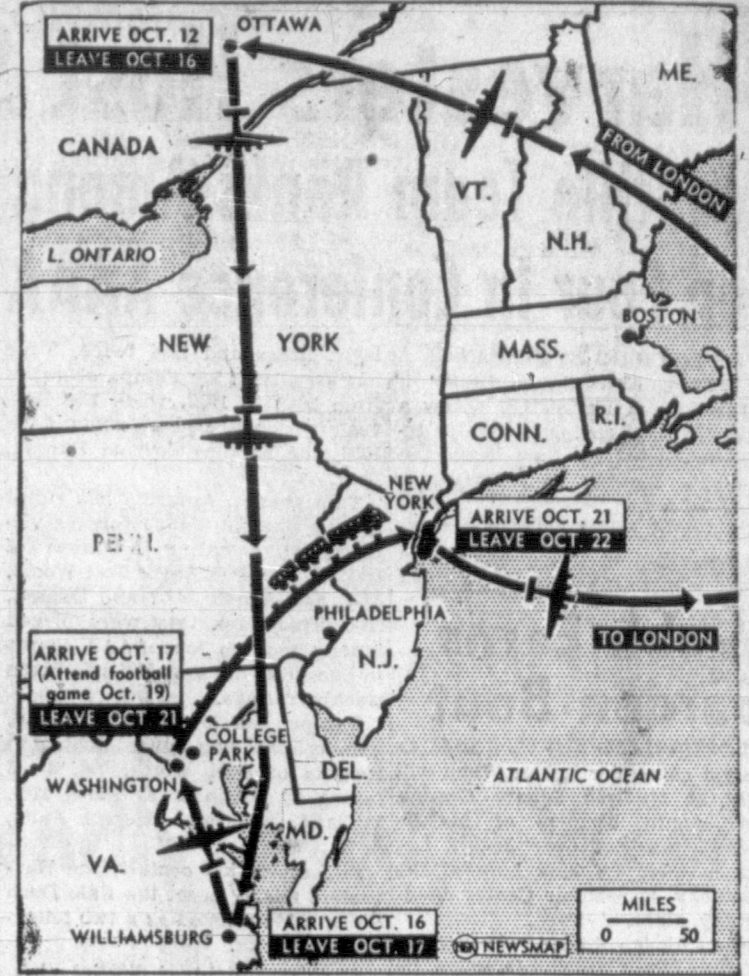

Leslie to experience stardom? "It would be a great gratification for me," Jackie said. "I take a lot of pride in her." "Knows Perils of Stars" "There hasn't been a real big child star since Shirley Temple and I think the public is ready for one. Besides, I know all the pitfalls of being a kid star, believe me, and I will see that she avoids them." "For instance, she can't lose any money she earns. My law, 'The Coogan Law,' would protect her from all the financial troubles I went through." Jackie whipped out his wallet and produced a picture of Leslie. She's a blue-eyed, blonde cutiey who bears a close resemblance to Jackie when he was that age. "So far Leslie hasn't had any professional experience," Jackie

US Is Facing Trouble From Asian Friends

By ROBERT BROWN United Press Staff Correspondent TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—The United States is facing trouble in the two nations that should be its best friends in Asia—Nationalist China and Korea. The trouble centers around American military forces stationed in the two countries and the local populations. The U.S. has not given a status of forces agreement to either the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa or to the Republic of Korea government. People in both countries feel this is almost a slap in the face—particularly since the U.S. has signed such an agreement with Japan, which was once its enemy. Key Point in Agreement The key point in the status of forces agreement, so far as the man in the street is concerned, is the right to try U.S. military personnel for crimes committed while off duty. American officials deny it publicly, but it is a known fact that they have very little faith in the Chinese and Korean judicial systems, although they do respect the Japanese courts. This is one of the main reasons why the U.S. balks at signing the same type of status of forces agreement with the Nationalist Chinese and Koreans that it has with Japan. In South Korea, friction between the GIs and Koreans has been building up steadily for several years. The main trouble now is over the number of Koreans killed by American guards protecting installations and supplies from pillage. Deep Irritation But the irritation goes much deeper there, where American troops almost take on the appearance of occupation forces in the minds of many Koreans. Despite the fact that President Syngman Rhee says he wants U.S. troops there, despite the hospitals, schools and churches that GIs have paid for, and despite

Scientist Says Russians May Land On Moon

By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—One of the world's top scientists believes the Russians may land a rocket on the moon some day. Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, believes this country "must be prepared" to meet scientific challenges of the future. Berkner, vice president of the World Committee for the International Geophysical Year (IGY), conceded Russia's speed in getting an artificial moon in the sky before any one else was a surprise. In view of that accomplishment he is not inclined to discount claims by Soviet spokesmen that they can send a rocket to the moon. Some Russians have spoken of doing this in the near future, Berkner wouldn't guess at their timetable. Berkner is president of the Associated Universities, which operates the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven National Laboratory, and is a member of a scientific advisory committee which conferred at the White House Tuesday with President Eisenhower. Some U.S. satellite scientists have expressed fear the Russians' advance secrecy about Sputnik meant they weren't capable of cooperating wholeheartedly in a world undertaking like IGY. Berkner did not agree. He said that upon launching their moon the Russians promptly "gave out the relevant information" about its orbit. "We had never agreed," he said, "to let them witness our launchings or to announce our launchings in advance. Nor did they." Berkner said Sputnik is proving to be a valuable scientific tool for what it tells about air-pressure high up and for the information the behavior of its orbit gives.

ROYAL VISIT—Newsmag shows the itinerary for the visit of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, to Canada and the United States. The royal couple will leave London by air on Oct. 12 and arrive in Ottawa, Canada, the same day. After a four-day stay in Ottawa they will fly to Williamsburg, Va., for a one-day stay. Then on to Washington where they will be the guests of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House for four days. From Washington they will travel by train to New York. After a day and a half in the nation's largest city they will fly home to London. While in Washington they will journey to nearby College Park, Md., to watch the University of Maryland-University of North Carolina football game. Highlights of their New York visit will be a ticker-tape parade up lower Broadway and the Queen's address to the U.N. General Assembly.

Harvesters Host Sandies Tomorrow

Amarillo Team Ranks Among Top Four In Conference AAAA

By CHARLES CULLIN
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters renew a long and hard-contested rivalry tomorrow night as they host the Amarillo Sandies in Harvester Park at 8 p.m.

Webb Earns Garden Bout

LOUISVILLE (UP) — Middleweight contender Spider Webb will fight at Madison Square Garden next month because of his 50-second knockout over Jackie Labua in their TV bout here at the Kentucky Exposition Center Wednesday night.

The Chicago Spider, who proved a very potent substitute when he dropped New Yorker Jackie with a right to the chin for the full count, will fight in New York on Nov. 1 or 15, according to matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club.

Brown said the opponent for seventh-ranked Webb will be ex-champion Gene Fullmer, Neal Rivers or Willie Vaughn.

Webb, weighing 160 pounds to Labua's 157, substituted Wednesday night for Ralph (Tiger) Jones, who pulled a hip ligament in training last Saturday.

And because Webb was a substitute, brawny, brown-haired Labua tore after him in the early seconds of the round, hoping to catch him "cold." Labua, in his surprise attack, did land several body punches and one left hook to the chin that rocked the Spider backward a few steps. But then Webb began firing back. He landed two hard left jabs, then a right that staggered the New Yorker. Next came a left jab, a left hook to the head and a bullet-straight right to the chin that dropped Jackie flat on his back.

Labua lurched to his feet just a split-second late as Referee Paul Matchum finished the 30-count. Labua, a 3-1 underdog, was counted out for the first time in his 39 fights, although he had been stopped once on cuts by Billy McNease in 1954.

A rainy-night crowd estimated at 1,800 saw 25-year-old Webb register his 13th knockout and 24th victory in 26 fights.

eight times and tied twice. The longest streak for Pampa occurred from 1949 to 1953, when the Harvesters won five years running. In 1956, the Sandies downed Pampa, 28-0.

This season, Amarillo has rolled to four straight non-conference victories by defeating Adamson of Dallas, 57-0, Paschal of Fort Worth, 34-7, San Angelo, 47-7 and Odessa, 35-0. This week they were placed among the top four AAAA teams in the state in the United Press weekly ratings.

Pampa has lost four of five, gaining its win over Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, 7-6, and falling to Austin of El Paso, 27-7, Midland, 20-7, and Wichita Falls, 39-7.

In last week's contest, the Harvesters nearly upset the Palo Duro Dons, a team rated as a two-touchdown favorite.

After one night of district play, the Harvesters lead district action in passing, total defense and pass defense. For the first district game, Pampa completed four of six passes for 82 yards. In total defense they allowed the Dons 184 yards, and in pass defense allowed eight yards on one pass completion in four attempts. In total offense, Pampa gained 246 yards.

In last week's game with the Dons, Pampa's offensive backs were about equal in effectiveness. Fullback Robert Langford carried 15 times for 66 yards, for a 4.4 yard per carry average. Jess Ingle also had an average of 4.4 yards, having carried 12 times for 53 yards. Don Bigham gained 42 yards in 12 carries for a 3.5 average.

As compared with total opposition, the Harvesters trail in first downs, 60 to 65 and in yards rushing, 779 to 1,085. In the aerial department they lead 309 to 163, to make a total offense of 1,088 yards for Pampa compared with 1,248 for the opposition.

Hampering the Harvesters in tomorrow night's game will be the loss due to illness of six men, including Jess Ingle, Clovis Shipp, Rex Williams, Frank Snow, Bob Arthur and Richard Newberry.

RUSSIAN BREAKS RECORD

LONDON (UP) — Galina Byatrova, who holds the Russian title of Master of Sport, set a new world record of 8,846 points in the Women's Pentathlon Wednesday.

Pampa Shockers Clash With Plainview Today

The Pampa Shockers will go for their third win of the season today as they host the Plainview "E" team in Harvester Park at 3:30.

The Shockers record now stands at 2-1, having defeated Dumas, 28-6, and Perryton, 25-13, while losing to Borger, 53-14.

After Plainview, the Shockers meet Monterey, Phillips, Amarillo and Palo Duro.

Probable starters for today's game will be:

Player	Pos.	Wt.	No.
Mitchell	Right End	129	88
Veale	Right Tackle	188	78
Coombes	Right Gd.	145	65
Dunham	Center	155	55
Ingram	Left End	159	86
Wills	Quarterback	145	22

Urbanzyk	Right HB.	135	24

Students Not Blamed In Dallas Riot

AUSTIN (UP) — Neither Texas nor Oklahoma students were to blame for rowdyism in Dallas during last week end when Oklahoma and Texas played in the Cotton Bowl, according to University of Texas President Logan Wilson.

"The schools get blamed, of course, by many who do not know the facts," Wilson said. His statement was made after Seminoles, Okla., newspaper editor Milt Phillips, president of the Oklahoma University Alumni Assn., suggested home-and-home games for the annual affair rather than always in Dallas.

Mich. U., Iowa Lead Big Ten

CHICAGO (UP) — Michigan State and Iowa, among the Big Ten's unbeaten teams, dominate the conference on both offense and defense, league statistics showed today.

The Spartans, who have averaged 525.5 yards per game, were first on offense and second on defense. Iowa, second on offense, led in defense and allowed its only opponent, Indiana, minus 30 yards rushing.

Minnesota, which along with Michigan State has beaten two conference foes, was 7th on offense and 5th on defense, while Wisconsin, victor over Purdue in its only conference appearance, was 3rd on defense and 4th on offense.

Michigan State athletes also dominated individual statistics. Halfback Walt Kowalczyk led in rushing with 137 yards and a 6.8 average, but Wisconsin's Danny Lewis, who has played in only one game, was 2nd with 134 yards and a 16.7 average.

Jim Minowski of Michigan State led in passing with 14 completions in 19 tries for 224 yards and also led in total offense with 224 yards. He has thrown for three touchdowns. Illinois' Tom Haller was second in both total offense and passing, with 10 completions in 13 tries for 183 yards. His total offense gave was 175 yards.

Dave Kaiser of Michigan State led the pass receivers with six catches for 102 yards, while Rhody Tuska of Minnesota led in punting with a 40.4 average. Dick Larson of Minnesota was 1st in punt returns with a 35.3 yard average and Tom Fletcher of Purdue was 1st in kickoff returns with a 20 yard average.

Pampa Leads District 3-AAAA Teams In Three Departments

After the first games of District 3-AAAA had been played, statistics revealed that the Pampa Harvesters led in "Passing," "Total Defense," and "Pass Defense," and placed second in "Total Offense."

Other than the Pampa - Palo Duro game, district action included Monterey over Borger, 14-7, and Plainview over Lubbock, 13-6.

In leading the passing, Pampa gained 82 yards, and in pass defense allowed only eight. Total defense went to the Harvesters with 184 yards gained against them. In total offense, Pampa had 246 yards to place second behind Lubbock at 309.

Total Statistics are as follows:

Team	Gms.	Yds.	Avg.
1. Lubbock	1	309	309
2. Pampa	1	246	246
3. Plainview	1	240	240
4. Monterey	1	214	214
5. Borger	1	192	192
6. Palo Duro	1	184	184

Wheeler Mustangs To Tackle Turkey In Area Game of Week

The Wheeler Mustangs will travel to Turkey tomorrow night to meet the top-ranked Turks in the game selected for the "Area Game of the Week."

The Mustangs have won two district games by wide margins, defeating Quitaque, 35-0, and Silvertown, 27-0. In non-district play, they have defeated only one time, by the powerful Class A Stinnett Rattlers, 12-0. In other wins, they defeated Canadian, 13-6, McLean, 20-0, and Erick, Okla., 33-13.

The Turks have compiled a 3-1 record, having defeated Happy, 6-0, Price College, 32-6, and Esteline, their only district game, 25-0. Their only defeat came at the hands of Kress, 13-6.

Turkey has been picked, along with Matador, as top contenders to the district crown held by the Mustangs. Last season, Wheeler went all the way to win the regional title.

The Wheeler squad will be considerably weakened by the loss of Larry Hunter and Jim Cox, two regulars who will be sidelined for the game.

Coach Louis Boynton, serving his first year in Wheeler, stated that he expected Turkey to be one of their roughest opponents, especially with the injuries his team had received. He stated that though Matador was strong, their main worry now was to get by the Turks.

Other than the three top teams, there is little competition in 3-A, so this game could easily prove the deciding tilt for the district.

Greenberg Helps Select Successor

By PATRICK CARRICO
United Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — A "keenly disappointed" Hank Greenberg volunteered today to serve as unofficial advisor to the Cleveland Indians in the selection of his own successor as general manager of the Tribe.

Board Chairman William R. Daley said Greenberg would advise the executive committee of the club's board of directors in finding a new general manager "as quickly as possible." The board voted Wednesday to "notify" Greenberg that his services no longer were required.

Daley had no sooner announced the decision that the departed front-office boss volunteered to advise the committee selecting his replacement, and also denied rumors of a contemplated shift for the Cleveland franchise.

Greenberg, who held the position since 1950 and watched home gate receipts dwindle from 1,727,464 to 734,000 during his tenure, admitted he was "keenly disappointed."

SW Teams Get Little Practice

By UNITED PRESS

Many Southwest Conference teams got their first outdoor workouts of the week Wednesday and prepared to taper off today for the week end action.

Rice got outside for the first time in a week of heavy rain and worked on recognition of Southern Methodist plays. They also concentrated on offensive timing and kicking, with Coach Jess Neely holding his extra point booters late in an attempt to avert more occurrences like last week's 7-6 defeat at the hands of Duke.

Arkansas emphasized defense again, and Coach Jack Mitchell said "there are still some Texas plays that are giving us trouble." His biggest concern is Walt Fondren, Longhorn quarterback, he said.

Coach Bear Bryant, with his Texas A&M squad outdoors for the first time this week, said the Aggies looked as if they "missed a week's work. They were sloppy and messy and had too many broken signals."

Halfback Loyd Taylor was running with the second unit.

Southern Methodist, which failed to make a single yard in three tries and consequently was beaten last week, worked on goal line offense in preparation for Rice. Pass offense and protection also were part of the workout.

Baylor spent most of its workout readying a passing attack for Texas Tech. Coach Sam Boyd said he saw improvement down through the third unit.

Texas Christian divided its time between offense and defense polishing and Coach Abe Martin predicted "we won't get run off the field" by Texas A&M.

All Area Teams Swing Into District Action Tomorrow

Area teams swing into a blaze of district action tomorrow night as all Top of Texas squads have battles scheduled with fellow contenders.

Wheeler and Groom have both won two district games and go for their third as the Mustangs tackle Turkey and Groom meets Follett. Teams set for their district inaugurations are Panhandle, Perryton, Lefors, Canadian, McLean and Clarendon.

Panhandle vs Stinnett
Panhandle opens 1-A as it hosts the top-ranked undefeated Stinnett in a game that will also mark the district opener for the Rattlers. Panhandle sports a 1-1-3 record in the game, having gained its only victory over the Lefors Pirates, 21-18, while losing to Childress, 32-7, Memphis, 27-0, and Clarendon, 31-0. The Panthers tie came with McLean, 13-13. The Rattlers, defending state class A champs, have run up a string of five straight victories this season, defeating Clarendon, 21-7, Wheeler, 12-0, McLean, 45-0, Price College, 25-0 and Lefors, 20-0.

Lefors vs Canadian
In one of the two games set for 2-A, the Lefors Pirates will host the Canadian Wildcats in a game that could prove crucial in this district. Lefors enters the game with a 2-3 record, having defeated Shamrock, 20-7, and Wellington, 12-6, while losing to White Deer, 20-7. Panhandle, 21-13, and Stinnett, 20-0. The Wild cats have faced some rugged customers while gaining one win against three losses. They defeated Gruver, 28-7, and lost to Perryton, 6-0, White Deer, 20-14, and Wheeler, 13-6.

Wheeler vs Turkey
In their third district game of the season, the powerful Wheeler Mustangs will encounter one of the top powers of district 2-B when they meet Turkey Friday night on the Turis home field. The Mustangs have suffered only one loss for the season while winning five. They fell to the Stinnett Rattlers, 12-0, and defeated Canadian, 13-6, McLean, 20-0, Erick Okla., 25-0, and Silverton, 27-0. The game Friday night should be a deciding factor in 2-B play, as the Mustangs and Turis, along with Matador, all rank as top powers. Wheeler will be hampered greatly in Friday night's game by the loss of Larry Hunter and Jim Cox, two regulars who may be sidelined for the season.

Perryton vs Quannah
The Perryton Rangers open 3-AA in Quannah Friday night as they clash with the powerful Indians, whose only loss for the season came at the hands of the top-rated Stamford team, 28-6. Wins for Quannah have been over Paducah, 34-8, Chillicothe, 39-0, Memphis, 46-13, and Vernon, 33-18. The Rangers have compiled a 3-2 record this deep in the season, having defeated Canadian, 6-0, Clarendon, 32-7, and Dalhart 28-25, and lost to Canyon, 20-7, and Phillips, 19-12. If the rangers can get past Quannah, they should have an easy march on to a repeat win of the district crown.

Groom vs Follett
After defeating Claude and Darrouzett, the Tigers will tackle Follett tomorrow night for their third 1-B victory. In warm up games, Groom defeated Gruver, 27-19, tied Sunray, 6-6, and lost to White Deer, 28-7. The Tiger are defending a district title, and should be able to repeat this season.

McLean vs Clarendon
The Clarendon Broncos begin defense of their district crown tomorrow when they host the McLean Tigers, who are also opening their district play. Clarendon has a 3-3 record for the season, having defeated Shamrock, and Panhandle, and have lost to Stinnett, White Deer, Perryton and Wellington. The Tigers have compiled a 1-1-4 record, having downed Shamrock, 7-6, tied Panhandle, 13-13; and lost to Wheeler, 20-0, Stinnett, 45-0, White Deer, 27-0, and Wellington, 27-13.

Wizard Of Grid Returns

After interminable astronomic calculations, the brilliant wizard of grid returns this week with more unerring facts and figures on the weekend of football.

Olympic Ski Troops To Sun Valley

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The commission for the 1968 winter Olympic Games, negotiating with the Defense Department to have 800 ski troops stationed at Sun Valley, Bob King, new executive director of the games, said today.

King, former aide to Vice President Nixon, said the troops would be needed for avalanche control, patrol, communications, etc. Meanwhile, work went ahead on the construction of facilities for the games at Squaw Valley. Dirt is being moved as work progresses on the flood control project.

Shofner Had Bad Baseball Season; Turned To Football

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
FORT WORTH (UP)—Halfback Jimmy Shofner, who will be Texas Christian's big weapon in an attempt to shoot down nationally ranked Texas A&M here Saturday, credits a poor summer of semi-pro baseball for his flashy football play this season.

Minnesota over Illinois — Last was excellent.

He broke Ohio State's back with a 90-yard punt return, punched out 44 yards rushing, averaged 28.8 on four punts including two angled out of bounds inside the eight-yard line and twice made stops in an open field to prevent what seemed like sure Buckeye touchdowns.

"So, I came back to school determined to turn all my energies and attention to the gridiron with an eye to pre football," Shofner said.

Martin won't comment on whether his plans call for Shofner, a former quarterback, to do any passing. He may be saving that up as a surprise — perhaps for the rugged Texas Aggies Saturday when the latter club opens its defense of the Southwest Conference title.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

TEXAS WATER DEVELOPMENT
The growth and prosperity of Texas are dependent in large measure upon the assurance of a plentiful water supply for all time to come. The voters of the State will soon have an opportunity to express their opinion concerning a proposed constitutional amendment which is quite pertinent to this problem.

The recent Fifty-fifth Legislature recognized the need for floor control as well as the assurance of an adequate future water supply. For those reasons they voted to propose an amendment to the Texas Constitution which, if approved by voters in a special election to be held November 5, 1957, would authorize the creation of a body to be known as the "Texas Water Development Board."

This Board, if created, would have authority to issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed $100,000,000. If more funds should be required at some later date, the Legislature would be authorized to provide for the issuance and sale of an additional $100,000,000 in bonds. A two-thirds vote of the Legislature would be required for this authorization.

Proceeds from the sale of the bonds could not be expended directly nor given away, but could be loaned to various governmental authorities for certain authorized purposes. Eligible borrowers would include cities, counties, river reclamation districts, and interstate compact commissions.

"But, mother, I have to sew fast because I want to finish it before my thread runs out!"

The money could be used to build and extend dams and reservoirs and to finance other measures necessary in preserving and developing water resources and in controlling and storing storm and flood waters. Money could also be loaned for the construction of facilities for transporting water from storage points to distribution points.

Money received by the Water Development Board in repayment of principal and interest on the loans would be placed in a sinking fund. From this fund the Board would make the payments necessary to retire the original bonds.

Two other proposed constitutional amendments will be submitted to the voters in the same special election on November 5. One of these concerns retirement of a disability fund for State employees. The other would increase benefit payments for needy children, needy aged, and needy blind persons.

Lefors Lions Seek To Make Property Qualified For FHA

(Special to The News)
LEFORS — The Lefors Lions Club authorized one of its members, Fred Blackwell, to check the possibilities of getting a waiver of mineral rights in the city of Lefors in order that its citizens might obtain F.H.A. building loans for houses or for buying houses already built that meet F.H.A. specifications.

Up to this time, such a loan has been unobtainable, thus hindering many people from buying homes, who otherwise would invest in a home of their own.

Also at the regular meeting of the club Monday night, W. R. Combs, president, agreed to check the traffic enforcement laws of the City of Lefors and see if anything could be done about speeding, etc., and checking also to see if new traffic signs could be put up.

J. R. Sparkman volunteered to see about securing middle-of-the-street school "Slow" signs, etc.

The invocation was led by J. R. Sparkman, with D. T. Pfeil leading the benediction.

Lions present were Earl Atkinson, Boyd Beck, Bob Bright, W. R. Combs, Walter Elliott, Jess Graves, Jerry Jacobs, David Robinson, J. R. Sparkman, and D. T. Pfeil.

Moveland Party Lays Big Egg When Tour Cancelled

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Moveland's 50th birthday party laid the biggest egg in history this week when the golden jubilee 17-city tour was cancelled for lack of interest by the movie stars themselves.

For months the studios, producers and other high brass planned the 20-day junket to rekindle interest in motion pictures.

Everybody was in on it—theater owners, publicity men, agents and moguls. Enthusiasm was lashed up to get a planeload of stars to visit such cities as New York, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco to let the public see its heroes and glamour girls in the flesh.

Stars Reject Plan
They overlooked one element—the stars.

No amount of cajoling could get top-notch names to go along with the idea. Thus, the invasion of the hinterlands was called off.

Originally the plan was to show off stars of the stature of Marilyn Monroe, Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Bing Crosby and Audrey Hepburn.

The Producers Assn., which backed the project with $100,000 to meet expenses, announced the cancellation because "extensive production commitments" prevented the big stars from taking part. Yet many of the luminaries contacted for the jubilee will be trekking to New York this week to attend Mike Todd's wedding at Madison Square Garden.

Upshot of the birthday party that flopped is much bitterness within the industry. With theater business down 21 per cent over last year, the movie colony is in serious financial trouble. And many Hollywoodians are pointing their fingers at the stars.

Actors Endanger Careers
They say the wealthy men and women stars, many of whom have made millions from the silver screen in the past 25 years, are bringing about their own downfall.

Others blame the major studios. But studio bigwigs point out that they no longer have control of the stars to go on the junket.

Today most players have formed their own companies, and do as they please when they're not working.
