AF Programs Cut To Boost Missile

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Air Force, determined to keep missile and space procurement programs operating full blast, was forced today into making further sacrifices in less crucial activities.

The cutbacks, coming on top of recent economy reductions, are necessary to make up increased costs in missile-plane purchases of 800 million dollars since last January.

An Air Force spokesman disclosed that the rise, amounting to almost 10 per cent of the entire program, was due to higher labor and material costs. Part also resulted from too low estimates in the budget. President Eisenhower submitted to Congress at the beginning of the year.

Costs High
The cost of the program now totals $9,200,000,000—more than half the entire Air Force budget of $18,200,000,000.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, huddled with his cabinet today for what was expected to be another high-level review of America's course in meeting Russia's challenge in the space-missile era. The meeting followed an extraordinary session Thursday of the National Security Council which presumably dealt with the same problems.

At the same time, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, raised serious doubts about the wisdom of Eisenhower's proposed plan to share U.S. atomic and weapon secrets with Britain and other NATO nations.

Anderson said the U.S. should "work with them in every possible way." But he wants to make certain no U.S. secrets find their way into Soviet hands.

Follow Earlier Cuts
The new Air Force cutbacks followed a number of economy moves this year. These included elimination of a number of jet fighter and reserve groups, stretch-outs in jet planes and B52 heavy bomber production and a reduction in civilian employment.

Defense officials have approved a three-point plan for making up the 800 million dollar Air Force procurement deficit:

—A further slowdown or cutback in a number of activities to make more funds available for missile and plane purchases.

—Slowing down payments for so-called "cost plus" contracts.

—Addition of 1,300,000,000 to the Air Force budget for procurement, ordered by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy last Tuesday.

Acts Of Vandalism On Halloween Night

While most of the "spooks" and "goblins" were having clean fun "Trick or Treating" last night other spooks and goblins in Pampa returned to medieval practices of vandalism and destruction on Halloween.

A summary of reports received by the police department last night showed that windows were broken in three residences or businesses, hubcaps were stolen from one car, seven reports of eggs being thrown and a total of 18 fireplugs were turned on.

Other acts of vandalism were not listed on the summary but included such acts as: throwing trash cans into back yards or placing them in the street to cause wrecks; using pressure shaving soap on car windows; putting signs in the streets and various other pranks that could have resulted in serious wrecks.

Windows were broken in the garage of the residence of J. C. Daniels on N. Duncan. The rocks were also thrown at new cars that were stored in the garage.

At 6:43 p.m. a window was broken in the residence of Mrs. E. R. Miller, 1100 Charles. A glazed tile was thrown through a window on

For Those Who Were Missed By UNICEF

Citizens who were missed in the UNICEF drive held last night, but who wish to make a contribution, may do so by sending it to Rev. William E. West, Ministerial Alliance Treasurer, in care of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

The drive for funds for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund was conducted last night by the young people of the community for the purpose of acquiring funds for the UNICEF's work with hungry and sick children in foreign lands.

Persons who were not at home or were not contacted during the drive, may send their contribution to Rev. West.

Miniature Security Council Gives Program For Knife And Fork Club

Members and guests of the Top of Texas Knife and Fork Club were entertained last night with a dinner meeting in the high school cafeteria. Some 240 persons attended the affair which was highlighted by a heated discussion and debate by "The Miniature Security Council," on current world and political events.

The Miniature Security Council is made up of four distinguished gentlemen who are highly noted in their countries. Honorable Camille Chateaus, four-time minister of France and one of that country's greatest statesmen headed the foursome. His companions were Honorable Ben C. Limb, Korean Ambassador and former minister; Colin Jackson, famous British commentator from London, who is one of the most popular radio and television personalities; and "moderator" of the group was the well known American columnist and syndicate writer, John Metcalfe, whose Washington comments and analyses appear regularly in more than one hundred American papers.

Each individual presented his idea and suggestion for solving current world problems which arose in the form of questions to be debated upon in last night's program.

Probably the most significant of the questions discussed was that concerning the Russian satellite, "Ipsutik." The panel's views ranged from mild acceptance of alarmism at this scientific advancement in a "Red" country.

Other questions discussed were: the meaning and outcome of the world upon the removal of Marshall Zoukov from his high post in the Kremlin. What will the Russians reveal in the atomic and scientific fields in Russia on November 7 when they celebrate their 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution? What will come of the international NATO meeting which will be held in Paris on Dec. 15?

The crisis in the Middle East was discussed along with the question of Red China being admitted to the United Nations and if there would be an exchange of atomic data during the NATO meeting later this year.

The invocation for the dinner meal was given by Rev. Otto W. Meyer of the Holy Souls Catholic Church. E. Roy Smith introduced the speakers and Travis Lively, Sr., vice-president dismissed the group in the absence of Joe Gordon, president of the Knife and Fork Club, who was ill.

Conference Hinted To Be Arms Transaction

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, chief of the joint Syrian-Egyptian armed forces, left Cairo today by Soviet jet airliner for Moscow and important talks with Soviet military leaders.

United Press Correspondent Wilbur G. Landrey reported from Cairo there was speculation another arms deal was in the making to supplement the planes, submarines, tanks and rockets already received from Russia.

His departure to attend the 40th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik revolution was another bit of evidence the Turco-Syrian "crisis" was over. The celebrations are Nov. 7.

Press Banners News
Egyptian newspapers banded news of his departure and said he would participate in "important talks" while in Moscow with the Egyptian officials who accompanied him. There was no hint whether his visit would end in closer ties with the Soviet which has supplied both Egypt and Syria with military equipment.

Although the crisis appeared over, Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Syria's President Shukri El Kuwayti issued statements today — anniversary of the end of the Suez invasion — declaring any "imperialist aggression" against Syria would meet the same "shame and defeat" as the attack on Egypt.

The only suggestion that the crisis had not died down came from Kuwayti who said, "today imperialism is launching a new round. But our stand will be the same as that of a year ago, with a deeper faith in the justice of our cause and the strength of our brotherhood and solidarity."

More Border Violations
A dispatch from Damascus Thursday night said Syrian authorities had reported four more border violations by aircraft during the day. They described the planes as four engine bombers and said they flew over the Aboukab area at 3,000 feet.

A Jerusalem dispatch disclosed the United Nations chairman voted with the Jordan member of the Mixed Armistice Commission Thursday night to condemn Israel for violating Jordan air space on Oct. 19.

Israel boycotted the meeting. The Jordan resolution found the Israeli jet fighter flew at least 15 miles into Jordan territory and tried to force a Jordan passenger plane to enter Israeli territory.

Death Toll From Asian Flu Continues Tapering Off

By UNITED PRESS
Although the number of flu cases across the country continued to climb, the death toll from influenza and its complications showed signs of tapering off.

The United Press counted a total of 478 flu-caused deaths since this summer when Asian flu first appeared. That was an increase of about 30 fatalities since Monday.

New York state had the highest toll with 126 deaths, followed by Pennsylvania with 84, Michigan 38 and California 34.

Elsewhere, Ohio state had 28 deaths, Illinois and Louisiana 21 each, Wisconsin 18, Iowa 16, Washington 15, Utah 11, Colorado 10, Hawaii 9, Indiana and Kentucky 8 each, Connecticut 7, Tennessee and Oklahoma 5 each, New Jersey and Oregon 3 each, Minnesota and Nebraska 2 each, and Arizona, Maine, Missouri and the District of Columbia, 1 each.

Vaccine Goes Beging
Federal health authorities estimated there have been about 3,500,000 persons stricken with flu in the nation.

In Chicago, which has escaped a major flu outbreak, some physicians reported supplies of Asian flu vaccine were going begging.

"Apparently many persons are being lulled into security," a medical spokesman said, "and not wanting the vaccine because the disease here has remained comparatively mild." The spokesman (See DEATH, Page 3)

Bills Disagree With Daniel's Proposal

AUSTIN (UP)—Gov. Price Daniel's special session of the Legislature today eyed lobbyist control laws after the House and Senate passed separate water bills, neither agreeing with Daniel's proposal.

Both chambers quit for the week end Thursday. Legislators will return Monday to open debate on lobbyist registration bills.

Daniel, in his proposal for state wide water planning, asked for one million dollars for a planning division for the Board of Water Engineers. The House bill, however, allows $27,000, while the Senate slashed its bill to $600,000.

Daniel recommended a provision granting full authority to the state to purchase storage space in federal reservoirs. The House deleted the provision entirely and the Senate bill allows the state to negotiate for such purchases but leaves final approval to the legislature.

The House bill requires the planning division to give full effect to master plans of river authorities unless there is substantial conflict, in which case a hearing would be held.

The Senate version carries no provision for plans of river authorities. The Senate bill also raises the salaries of the three-member board to $15,000 per year, and gives the same salary to the proposed planning engineer. It also requires the planning engineer to be a Texas citizen of at least five years residence.

Reds Prepare For Zhukov's Disgrace

LONDON (UP)—Two top Soviet publications started preparing the Russian people today for the public disgrace of Red army hero Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

The Soviet naval organ Red Fleet called for "decisive condemnation" of "exaltation of individual ... swaggering... military leaders."

The Soviet party newspaper Pravda printed an article noting the "spiteful and envenomed, right or left wing schismatisms and fractionaries" in the party have "invariably met with crushing rebuff."

Cleared Red Censors
Dispatches on both articles cleared meticulous Soviet censorship. The censors also passed a line in a dispatch that referred to Zhukov as a "former hero."

The liberal Paris newspaper "Franc Tireur" said the Kremlin was holding up announcement of Zhukov's fate because he refuses to sign a "confession of errors" at party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev's command.

None has come although informed sources said the Communist Party's 133-member Central Committee had made its decision on Zhukov Wednesday morning. All still expected the announcement within the next few days—or even hours.

Possibly as part of the groundwork for making the announcement, the Soviet News Agency Tass Thursday night distributed a Communist Chinese statement giving unqualified support to Khrushchev's insistence on supremacy of the party over the army.

Zhukov was commander in chief of the Red army as well as defense minister. Westerns as well as Communist reports have said his downfall was caused by Khrushchev's fear the army was getting more powerful than the party.

Party Is The Power
The Tass report quoted Li Bo Chen, a Red Chinese military official and politburo member, as saying in the Peiping daily that the first and basic principle of the army is "absolute leadership of the party."

Franc Tireur said that during the "bargaining" that has gone on this week between him and the army hero, Khrushchev has agreed to reduce Zhukov's "faults" to modest proportions if he would accuse himself publicly.

President Of France May Resign Post

PARIS (UP)—Reports circulated in Paris today that President Rene Coty was on the verge of resigning in disgust at the month-old government crisis.

Felix Gaillard was trying to form a cabinet but has run into difficulties because of the fence-sitting tactics of the powerful Socialist Party. He is the fifth man to attempt to end the worst political crisis since the end of the war.

The rumors about Coty were so strong that the Paris leftwing "Express" said he already has drafted a message to the National Assembly deputies warning he will quit unless a government is formed soon.

The "Express," which backs radical ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, as the only publication to carry the report. But observers already have anticipated such a move by Coty as the political deadlock worsened.

Washington Awaits Outcome Khrushchev's 'Stalin Pattern'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Tough new statements, and perhaps actions, may follow Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev's newest struggle for consolidating power in the Stalin pattern, officials said today.

Official Washington is waiting with some apprehension for word from Moscow to interpret the significance of the Kremlin battle to the Free World. Ominous overtones are seen in Khrushchev's ever-tightening grip on Soviet power in his conflict with the army. Once the crisis of defense minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov's ouster is past, officials said the bitter struggle will begin.

This will be an attempt to cover up any signs the struggle may have caused internal weakness.

From President Eisenhower on down there is no feeling that 1. The Soviet power battle is over, or 2, that Khrushchev can be trusted.

Allen Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency recently reflected top-level views when he said Khrushchev's "impetuosity and unpredictability remain a matter of grave concern in an international situation as tense as that today." This statement was made before Zhukov's removal.

Zhukov and the military became the dominate physical power in the Soviet Union after Stalin died and secret police chief Lavrenti Beria was executed. Zhukov's power was credited by intelligence agencies with keying the previous Kremlin shakeup in June when Molotov, Kaganovich, Malenkov and Shepilov were sacked in a political battle with Khrushchev.

As the collective leadership pattern is stripped away, officials said brakes likewise are removed

Grand Jury In Session

The Grand Jury of the 31st District Court of Gray County began deliberation at 10 this morning on seven cases pending in District Court.

No report was available late this morning on any action taken by the Grand Jury and it was believed that the report would not be made until sometime tonight.

Two charges of statutory rape, four charges of forgery and one charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense, were to be heard today by the Grand Jury.

To Quell Daingerfield Violence

Rangers Crack Down On Steel Strike Mob Riots

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (UP)—The high Texas Rangers broke up a crowd of men and teen-aged boys on the main street of Daingerfield Thursday night and hauled two men who gave them back-talk off to jail.

The dispersal of the crowd was more evidence of a "get tough" policy to stop an epidemic of bombings, beatings and shootings that has spread over a wide area of northeast Texas in the Lone Star Steel strike.

One man — Rangers never did find out who he was—slipped up to a non-striker's home in Avinger Thursday night and set off a big firecracker in his yard.

Two Men Jailed
The blue smoke of the firecracker had hardly lifted, when the householder, a non-striker, was out of the front door, blasting away with his shotgun. The man who set off the firecracker fled in terror.

Ranger Louis C. Rigler, of Gainesville, one of the three who broke up the crowd of 20 to 30 men and teen-aged boys in Avinger, 14 miles southeast of Daingerfield, took two men to jail.

He later let one go, but held the other, not immediately identified, for drunkenness.

All Cars Stopped
But as far as real violence is concerned, Halloween night passed quietly. Children were not allowed to "trick or treat" for fear a nervous person might get upset by a mask and shoot one by mistake.

Ranger Capt. Jay Banks of Dallas, in charge of a force of 41 Rangers and highway patrolmen, announced the arrest of three men for the beating Wednesday in a case of two non-strikers.

Rangers and highway patrolmen stopped every automobile that was out late Thursday night and searched it. They were expected to make spot checks of automobiles during the day, but there are too many out during daylight hours for them all to be stopped and searched.

Arrests Come Easier
Public sentiment was running for the strikers until last weekend, when they blew up a gas pipeline and left 13 communities shivering in a cold spell. Since then, there has been a shift in sentiment.

Banks said that two weeks ago, it would have been impossible to get a jury that would convict a striker for violence. But now, he said, the Rangers are getting voluntary information and it is easier to make arrests.

One of the difficulties in breaking up the violence is that so far there are no indications of ring-leaders. Every bombing, beating or shot-gunning appears to be planned only by the men who carry it off.

Guards at the plant are particularly careful, because they believe strikers are after two main objectives.

One is the gas pipeline that feeds fuel into the plant. The other is the dam at Lone Star Lake. If either were blown up it could put the plant out of operation.

Banks announced late Thursday three men have been arrested for the cafe brawl beating administered two Lone Star Stee non-striker Wednesday morning. All three were former employees of Lone Star.

Banks identified the men as Charles E. Breed, 23, and James Edwin Pierce, 37, both of Lone Star, and Bobby Ferguson, 25, of Diana, Tex.

They were placed in Morris county jail in Daingerfield under $5,000 bonds on charges of use of force and violence in an attempt to keep a person from pursuing a lawful occupation.

Banks said his men are particularly careful, because they believe strikers are after two main objectives.

Date Set For Santa Parade

Invitations were sent out today by the Chamber of Commerce to all schools in this area to participate in the Santa Day Parade which will be held Dec. 3 at 3:30 p.m.

According to Charles Cook, chairman of the merchants committee, 4,000 Christmas stockings have been ordered to be distributed among the children following the parade. Santa Claus will be on the Court House square to talk to the children and distribute the candy.

Decorations for the Christmas season are expected to be installed by the day of the parade. Due to the change in the lighting system along Cuyler, a different method of installing the decoration will prevail.

Instead of having the wreath and bell at the top of the light pole as has previously been done, the wreath will be hung, approximately 15 feet upon the pole and gayly decorated likenesses of carollers will be attached on each side to complete the decoration.

Dec. 18 is the tentative date set for lighting the "Nativity Scene" in Central Park, according to Chamber officials.

Court House Treated With Venison Dinner

Arile Carpenter, commissioner of Precinct 1 has returned from a deer hunting trip in Gunnison, Colo. and treated personnel in the Court House with a venison dinner today in the coffee room. Barbecued venison along with all the trimmings were served to the employees from 11 a.m. all through the noon hour.

Commissioners Court Meets

No major problems were brought before the Commissioners Court of Gray County at their regular meeting this morning. The bills for this month were paid and road damage caused during the recent rains was discussed.

Two H-Bombs Could Wipe Out Plane Production

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL - United Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK (UP) - Hydrogen bombs dropped on Los Angeles, Calif., and Wichita, Kan., could wipe out a major part of the nation's aircraft and missile production plants.

Air attacks on Pittsburgh and Chicago could cripple 37 per cent of the nation's steelmaking facilities.

A hydrogen bomb on Detroit could deal a serious blow to the nation's vital machine tool industry and other key facilities.

"Despite all the talk about the diversification of industry," an industry spokesman said, "the U.S. today is in greater danger of being completely paralyzed by an enemy air attack than ever before in history."

Leonard C. Yaseen, head of Fantus Factory Locating Service, told the United Press that despite repeated warnings, "our defense industries today are as clustered in a few primary target areas as they were at the beginning of World War II."

Destruction Ability Greater

He said the only thing that has changed "is that the potential enemy is far more able to reach and destroy those target areas than he was at the time of Pearl Harbor."

Citing the lack of progress in dispersing industry, Yaseen said the same 32 metropolitan areas which accounted for 50 per cent of the nation's manufacturing output 20 years ago, still account for the same percentage of total output.

Yaseen said without government control over the location of new industries, companies naturally concentrate their facilities in areas favored by economic factors.

He said "a realistic and enforceable dispersion program must be put into effect immediately."

Yaseen said the National Security Resources Board, the Defense Department, the Commerce Department and the Office of Defense Mobilization all have emphasized the need for industrial dispersion since 1948.

No Headway Made

He also noted that two congressional committees have recommended prompt action along this line.

"Yet, in all this time, we have made no headway whatsoever," Yaseen said.

Citing the aircraft industry, Yaseen said at the start of World

IT'S THE LAW

War II the Los Angeles industrial area accounted for 33 per cent of total U.S. employment in aircraft, airplane engines and parts.

"Today, aircraft manufacturers in the Los Angeles metropolitan area still represent 32.4 per cent of national employment in this country. Some 14 missile and pilotless aircraft plants are concentrated in this one area."

Yaseen said 55 per cent of all machine tool production is concentrated in seven cities—Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland, Springfield, Mass., Hartford, Conn., Providence, R.I., and Rockford, Ill.

Must Not Fool Selves

"It is particularly significant that Detroit, acknowledged to be a primary target for enemy attack, was allowed to advance its ranking in recent years from ninth to second place as a center of the vital machine tool industry," he added.

He said in view of the growing destructive power of nuclear weapons, the number of miles between installations must be increased.

"We must not fool ourselves," he emphasized, "into thinking that moving plants to the periphery of large cities would protect industry."

"One H-bomb would virtually destroy the lifelines of any central city, including its power, gas, transportation system and most personnel. With these lifelines gone, a plant on the periphery—regardless of distance from the central core of the city—would be paralyzed," he warned.

Russia Goads NATO Into Tightening Up

FOREIGN NEWS COMMENTARY
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia has finally goaded the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into tightening up their alliance.

The plan to hold a meeting of heads of government of the 15 NATO members in Paris in December is an effective answer to Russia's long campaign of bluster and brag.

Russia's campaign started last November at the time of the Suez Canal crisis.

It reached its climax in the amazing propaganda campaign in which Russia accused the United States and Turkey of plotting to invade Syria.

But the deciding factors were Moscow's announcement of the successful testing of an intercontinental ballistic missile and the launching of the Sputnik earth satellite.

Asked Big Four Meeting

During all this long campaign, Russia interspersed its threats and release the State's contribution on their behalf to this fund before becoming eligible for other state aid or pensions.

Pampa Represented At Student Council Meeting

The Top o' Texas Student Council Association met in Amarillo Tuesday for its annual convention.

Palo Duro High School was the host school and made plans and arrangements for the 200 students from this area who attended the convention.

The mayor of Amarillo, John Armstrong, and principal of Palo Duro High, W. W. Nicklaus, gave brief welcoming addresses to the representatives.

Following the general assembly which began at 9:45 a.m., group sessions were held on different phases of Student Council activities.

Representatives from Canadian, Phillips, Dalhart, Borger, Hereford, Perryton, Pampa, and Amarillo were in charge of the group discussions. Mrs. Ruby Capps, Pampa Student Council sponsor, was in charge of the sponsor group and presented a discussion entitled "Problems of Student Council Sponsors."

Pampa was the vice-president school of the convention and Alton Thygeson gave the response, acting in the place of Marvin Pickett, who was ill.

Linda Skewes, secretary of the PHS Student Council gave the evaluation following the general assembly.

The keynote address of the convention was given by Dr. Joseph Ray, president of Amarillo Jr. College. He addressed the group on the convention theme, Responsibility-Price of Leadership.

Russia Goads NATO Into Tightening Up

boasts with demands for a Big Four "summit" conference in which President Eisenhower would meet Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Communist chief Nikita S. Khrushchev and the prime ministers of Great Britain and France.

The Russians also angled vainly for an invitation to Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, now deposed as Soviet defense minister, to visit his wartime friend Eisenhower in Washington.

The NATO alliance was formed in 1949, when the threat of Russian aggression that would start a third world war seemed imminent. It was extended until it included 15 countries, stretching from Norway through Western Europe to Turkey in addition to the United States and Canada in the western hemisphere.

Suez Crisis Costly

But as the threat of war diminished, the ties between the 15 allies loosened, and relations between the United States and its two chief allies were weakened seriously by the British-French invasion of the Suez Canal last November.

Bulganin started the campaign of threats when, in letters to the prime ministers of Britain and France, he said Russia was determined to use force if necessary unless they called off their invasion of the canal. This direct, open threat was softened later by a Moscow spokesman who said Bulganin meant the use of force through the United Nations.

Bulganin continued the campaign with a series of letters to NATO members from Norway to Turkey threatening them with destruction if they permitted the establishment of nuclear weapons bases on their territory.

Finally came the rise of pro-Russian elements to power in Syria, the ICBM announcement, Sputnik, and the allegations of a U.S.-Turkish plot against Syria.

STEPPING UP? - On Sen. Everett Dirksen, above, will likely fall the load of carrying President Eisenhower's legislative programs in the next session of Congress. Sen. William Knowland, now Senate GOP floor leader and an announced candidate in the 1958 California GOP primary, is expected to shift many of his chores to the Illinois Republican, now the whip. The 61-year-old Dirksen, a strong Taft man in 1952, afterward supported, and had the support, of the Eisenhower administration.

FIGURES ARE SECRET—Less exposed than most beauty queens, 19-year-old student dressmaker Saga Nishiga smiles for the cameraman after she was crowned Miss Tokyo, during the Greater Tokyo Festival. Miss Nishiga is 5 feet, 8 inches tall, and weighs 112 pounds, but the judges refused to divulge her other measurements. The silver crown, with 250 pearls, is valued at 5 million yen, about $13,900.

The look of costume jewelry this year is the real look, done with simplicity and elegance. Satin-finished gold bracelets (upper left) are Florentine in feeling, are prettiest worn in pairs. Aurora beads are coupled with fake pearls in topaz color to make (upper right) three-strand bib, drop earrings and bracelet. The pieces are polished for a lustrous look. Chevron-styled necklace, bracelet and earrings (lower left) are done in rhinestones that have been set with all of the care usually reserved for real jewelry. The last of these Leru designs (lower right) is the multi-strand bib à la Chanel, shown here in tones of beige and butterscotch.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Ivy Cup Holders Project For HHC

Highland Hobby Club recently in the home of Mrs. Alvin Calvert, 1912 N. Banks. The president, Mrs. John Moore, opened the meeting with discussion of old and new business. The social hour was directed by the hostess, Mrs. Calvert.

Two games were played and prizes given to the winners. The club started on a new hobby project—making coffee cups into Ivy holders. Textile paints and plastic glasses were used in making the faces.

Mrs. Jerry Parks, who has just recently moved into the 1900 block, has joined the club.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged among the members. Door prize was won by Mrs. Joe Aultry.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, cupcakes and coffee were served. Members unable to attend were Mrs. Bob Henninger, Jack Macle and Bob Huey.

Members attending the meeting, in addition to those mentioned, were Mrs. Alvin French, Vernon Hutsell, Houston Nail, Melvin Peoples, Ray Laycock, R. W. Holmes and Walter Hurst.

The next meeting will be November 21.

Angel's Touch In Red Devil Turkey

The top of this main dish is red with paprika and golden with bubbly melted cheese! Underneath are slices of tender, cooked turkey (or chicken), creamy mushroom soup, tomatoes and fluffy tender rice. Make this ahead, to reheat and serve.

INGREDIENTS:
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 303 can solid pack tomatoes or 6 fresh tomato slices
6 generous slices of cooked turkey or chicken
1 1/2 cups of condensed cream of mushroom soup
2-3 cup milk
6 slices processed American
1 teaspoon paprika
METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan.
Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down
low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.
Spread the rice over a well greased shallow glass baking dish, about 12" x 8" x 2" or in individual caseroles. Sprinkle with the black pepper. Drain juice from the tomatoes if canned tomatoes are used. Break apart and arrange over the rice to make six servings.
If fresh tomatoes are used, arrange the slices over the rice. Top the tomatoes with the turkey or chicken slices. Mix together the mushroom soup and milk. Pour over the rice and turkey to completely cover.
Cut cheese slices in half to make triangular pieces. Arrange 2 triangles over each mound of tomatoes and turkey. Sprinkle the paprika over the top. Cover and store in the refrigerator until mealtime. Place in a pre-heated 425 degree F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until heated through and the cheese is melted and bubbly. This recipe makes 6 servings.

Altar Society Plans November Meeting
Holy Souls Altar Society will hear Mrs. Frank S. Harkleroad discuss "The Family Doctor," on Nov. 5 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Emil Urbanczyk, south of Pampa, on the Glendon Highway.
Mrs. Harkleroad, who is a member of the Altar and Rosary Society of Sacred Heart Cathedral of Amarillo has a bachelor's and master's degree and is a former teacher on the primary, secondary, and college levels.
She, her husband, Dr. Harkleroad, a physician and surgeon, and their three children reside at 928 Bowie Street in Amarillo.
Mrs. W. J. Pung, program chairman for the Altar Society, will have charge of the program and introduce the speaker.
A short business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Joe Di Cosimo, president of the Altar Society.

Now Is Time To Make Photographs For Personalized Christmas Cards

By KAY SHERWOOD NEA Staff Writer
Reminder for those of us who dived too long last year over the Christmas card list: now's the time to plan photographic greetings and personalized cards.

If this seems frightfully early to you, just remember the crowds you'll miss, the better service you'll enjoy and the assurance you'll have that your order will be filled in time for addition of un-hurried personal notes, addressing and mailing.

As beautiful as this year's cards are, family and close friends living at a distance cherish the photographic greeting.
Don't regret you didn't take a Christmas snapshot last year to use this year. Young children, especially, change too rapidly and you never want to see how they look now.

If you're a casual amateur in the camera field, don't try for tricky effects. Keep the picture simple.

SET THE STAGE to suggest a holiday atmosphere without detracting from the subjects. For "props," pull out some of the Christmas decorations you store each year. Include the greeting in the picture, if you like.

If you use one of the newer, inexpensive, box-type cameras, you can take color pictures and slides as well as black and white.

How to set the stage? Recall what you have in storage.
An artificial wreath hung on the front door conveys a holiday spirit even on a warm autumn day. Decorative felt stockings are good props, as are mantle decorations.

ONE FAVORITE TRICK of professional photographers is to suggest a Christmas tree at one edge of the picture.
An easy way to duplicate this is to rope or staple a few evergreen boughs to a wooden stand or post set in a wastebasket weighted with bricks.

With ornaments and place the tree. Trim the tips of the boughs.

on the side of the setting so that just the edges will appear in the print.
Two or three wrapped, dummy packages add to the illusion of a Christmas morning scene. This leaves the balance of the negative for the main subject.
In using dummy packages as props I've learned to stick to patterned papers or solid colored tissue with contrasting ribbons and to avoid the shiny, metallic papers.

As gala as those look to the eye, they are tricky to photograph with a single flash.
Including the greeting in the picture can be done with ready-made articles bearing the message, such as signs strung across the mantle or welcome mats.
The appropriate words can be chalked on a blackboard or spelled out in alphabet blocks.

You might print or cut the greeting from plastic tape and make signs to be used in the background.
IN ADDITION to using the finished print for a greeting card, a picture can also add a pleasant touch to small holiday gifts: tuck one into a purse-size snapshot book or a new billfold as a special mark of your thoughtfulness to someone special.

Writing Workshop Held By Parish

The Public Relations Committee of a parish is to inform and acquaint the public as to what the parish is doing. A group of interested people met in the home of Mrs. Ray Hudson for a workshop to discuss and make plans for the public relations of the Holy Souls Catholic Church.

It was stressed by Mrs. Hudson that the laity are to spread the teachings of the Catholic Church through the use of the radio, newspaper, television, and public speaking. She pointed out that it is important for a reporter to be curious, have a nose of news, and to be interested in "doing" the work.

Those attending the workshop were introduced to the manner of the writing of human interest stories, factual stories, and editorials.
Those present were Mrs. Paul Keim, Ben Wood, Charles Walsh Jr., Joseph DiCosimo, Jasper McBride, Rev. Otto Meyer, C.M. and the hostess. So much interest was shown that another study meeting will be held soon.

Tart, Refreshing Taste Of Cranberries True American Treat In Baked Goods

Cranberries are a truly American treat — older than that famous First Thanksgiving Feast in the Plymouth Colony more than three centuries ago. Cranberries grew wild in the marshes of Cape Cod when the Pilgrims landed. The Indians taught them to make cranberry sauce by cooking the berries with a little sweetening.

Since the days of the Pilgrims, cranberries have been a part of the Thanksgiving feast. Their tart refreshing flavor is excellent combined with crisp ready-to-eat cereals in breads, muffins, cookies and pies.

For this holiday season, choose these cranberry favorites — dishes to make your meals the memorable occasions they should be!

ALL-BRAN CRANBERRY NUT BREAD

1 cup fresh cranberries
1 cup sugar
1 cup whole bran cereal
1 cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped nuts

2 tablespoons shortening, melted
Put cranberries through food chopper; mix with 1/4 cup of the sugar. Combine cereal, milk, egg and orange rind; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and remaining sugar; combine with nuts. Add to cereal mixture together with cranberries and shortening, stirring only until combined. Spread evenly in greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Let stand until cold before slicing.

Yield: 1 loaf.

CRANBERRY BRAN MUFFINS

1 cup whole bran cereal
3/4 cup milk
1 egg
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
6 tablespoons whole cranberry

Combine whole bran cereal and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Press 2 teaspoons of cranberry sauce into the top of each muffin. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Serve immediately. Yield: 9 muffins, 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

CRANBERRY CHIFFON PIE

4 cups corn flakes
3/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 1-pound can jelled or whole cranberry sauce
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites

2 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1-3 cup heavy cream
Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Blend butter and sugar; stir in corn flakes crumbs, mixing thoroughly. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Chill. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Put cranberry sauce in bowl. Add lemon rind, juice and salt; beat until smooth. Stir in dissolved gelatin; mix well. Chill until mixture begins to set. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; beat in sugar, a small amount at a time. Whip cream. Fold beaten egg whites, then whipped cream, into cranberry mixture. Spread in chilled pie shell. Chill until firm. To serve, cut into wedges and garnish with additional whipped cream if desired.

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor

If you have deer hunters in your family, now is the time to read "The Venison Book" by Audrey Alley Gorton of Vermont, the friend of hunters. It tells how to dress, cut up and cook your deer.

We'll confine ourselves at the moment to how to cook your deer, using the book.

VENISON GOULASH

Two pounds venison cut in 1 1/2-inch cubes, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons bacon fat, beef suet, or olive oil, 2 cloves garlic, 1 large onion, sliced or chopped, fine, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1/2 cup red wine, 1 quart boiling water or stock, salt, tomato paste (small can) and canned tomatoes may be added; if canned tomatoes are used, the amount of water or stock should be reduced.

Roll pieces of meat in flour, pressing flour into them. Melt fat in skillet and cook onion slowly until transparent and golden brown. Add meat, browning well. Add seasons and liquid. Stir well and cover. Cook slowly until meat is very tender — 2 or 3 hours.

More stock, water or wine may be added if it boils away, although slow cooking should prevent this. Sour cream may be added to the goulash just before serving.

Note: This dish may also be cooked in a pressure pan. If you use a pressure pan, melt the fat and brown the onion and meat in the pan, adding only 1 cup of liquid. Cook for 25 minutes under 15 pounds pressure.

With broiled or roast venison serve any vegetable you would normally have with meats of this texture and cooked in this manner. With venison steaks you can limit yourself to a starch vegetable or a paste to catch the sauce, a tossed salad and French bread.

There is great variety in garnishes, led by currant jelly, good preserves, spiced crabapple, chutneys, your own best pickle relishes and horseradish sauce.

Tomorrow's Dinner: Venison goulash, buttered broad noodles, red cabbage cooked with apple, hunk of crisp French bread, green salad, fruit compote, coffee, tea, milk.

Sometimes slipping an old nylon over a hair brush will keep a brush clean longer. But the brush still needs regular bath. Warm soap suds usually will do the trick. Occasionally, a water solution with aromatic spirits of ammonia is needed. After washing, air and dry the brush before using it again.

Take a load off your feet if you want to gain weight. Besides a recommended diet and healthful snacks during each day, rest as much as possible to add weight. If you are continually active, you are burning up more calories than when inactive. Relax as much as possible and conserve energy.

49th Year THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1967 5

dew tell!

by Doris E. Wilson
Pampa News Women's Editor

One of the most significant fashion trends sparked by Queen Elizabeth's recent visit to this country is the current interest in the use of brilliant jewelry for daytime wear, the fashion Coordination Institute reports.

Inspired by the flashing diamonds the Queen wears on even the most casual daytime ensembles, American women are taking a new daylight look at the pins and brooches they have traditionally saved for after-dark occasions, according to the Institute.

Diamonds, real or simulated, are sure to appear increasingly on the easy clothes of today as American women copy a simple trick of regal elegance by adding a sparkling pin to a shoulder or neckline. Brilliant pins or brooches will also go to American heads in a literal sense, the Institute reports, as women again imitate the queenly trick of using a sparkling pin to accent a simple hat.

This new look of daytime jewelry glitter will be increasingly important in the months to come. Inspired by Paris, whose sure fashion sense was profoundly affected by the Queen's visit there, designers are showing flashing brilliants with all the newest resort clothes.

It's time to take the diamonds out of the vault, whether it is a small pin or a magnificent brooch, or copy the beauty of these priceless stones in one of the more inexpensive costume pieces and wear these glittering beauties right out in the open. . . . at high noon . . . for a new queenly look of daytime elegance.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Well, Johnny's been home from camp now for a while. You watered it, he learned how to make leather wallets, "group adjustment" and the right names of the stones and butterflies he collected. And every now and then he still sings, "Oh, Camp Minnetonka, we'll never forget your happy summer days."

But once there was another kind of "happy summer days."

"When I was kid," writes et al "When I was a kid," writes a man who knows about them, "you watered the lawn. You watered it by standing there and holding the hose and spraying it back and forth. In arcs and fountains and in figure eights and straight up in the air, energetically and dreamily and absentmindedly, washing the walk and the porch and the window screen and your father in the living room reading the paper."

His name is Robert Paul Smith and I love his book which is called "Where Are You Going? Out." Because it reminds us that childhoods were once lived in this country uncontaminated by adult eagerness to improve upon them. I hope you read it. After you've done chucking, you'll maybe just sit in your chair, thinking.

In Smith's happy summer days, you could collect lightning bugs in jelly glasses. Or sit on the back porch concocting a milk bottle finding its taste more deeply satisfying than any soda pop ever invented. You watched ants' nests. You sailed twigs down rain-filled gutters. You split and broke twigs in half. You sat in boxes and under porches; on roofs and the limbs of trees. You stood on boards over excavations, under rain dripping from eaves. You looked at knives and knives and grasshoppers and clouds and dogs and people. You skipped and hopped and jumped. You sang and whistled, hummed and screamed.

"What I mean, Jack," says Smith, "we did a lot of nothing."

In my book, too, that's the recipe for happy childhood summer days.

Is it the move to the cities and well-barbered suburbs that's ended them?

Not really, I think. I think they ended the day we got so scared Johnny would be maladjusted we decided never to leave him a minute alone with himself.

Women with chubby feet may find that the new pointed shoes are not for them. Similarly, the long-nailed pedicure doesn't take to the pointed shoe. To wear the new styles, you'll have to forego those long toenails.

Delicately Flavored Pie Flavor Treat

This oh so delicately flavored custard pie chock full of broiled sliced mushrooms and coarsely shredded fresh carrot is truly a flavor treat. It's an unusual way to present vegetables. . . special enough for a company luncheon. . . easy enough for a family favorite.

MUSHROOM CARROT PIE

Pastry for 9-inch pie shell
2 6-oz. cans sliced broiled mushrooms
1/2 cup coarsely chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
2 eggs
1 cup light cream
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1-16 teaspoon mace
1 cup coarsely shredded carrot
2 sprigs parsley, chopped

Make pie shell using your own recipe or a packaged mix. Meanwhile drain mushrooms reserving broth for future use. Saute onion in butter until just tender, about 5 minutes. In large mixing bowl beat eggs lightly, stir in light cream and seasonings which have been blended together. Add mushrooms, cooked onion, carrot and parsley and mix well. Pour into un-baked pie shell. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven until custard sets and a knife inserted comes out clean, about 45 minutes.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

November Set By Alliance For RIAL Program Here

The month of November has been designated by the Pampa Ministerial Alliance for a special "Religion in American Life" (RIAL) Program in Pampa. This is in cooperation with a nationwide program whose theme is "Find strength for your life, . . . WORSHIP TOGETHER THIS WEEK." All people are being urged to attend the church of their choice to worship together as families.

Many of the city's service clubs will be cooperating with the Ministerial Alliance as are the local newspaper, the radio stations and the billboard advertising company. In announcing the RIAL Program for Pampa, Rev. James L. Minich, president of the Alliance, says, "Religious faith is the key to the structure of the American way of life. It is now, and always has been a distinguishing characteristic of the American people. The pioneer spirit which conquered the wilderness, invaded our plains country and built a vast civilization from coast to coast was a religious spirit with its trust in God. Freedom of worship is an essential part of our constitution. If we would keep this freedom and keep our nation as a democracy, we must use our privilege to worship where and when we please."

"To preserve our precious heritage, the nonsectarian RIAL Program urges each of us to observe November as a period in which we may all renew our dedication to our individual faith."

The RIAL committee of the Ministerial Alliance is headed by Rev. David Mills, pastor of the Lamar Christian Church; Elder Rollin

Per Capita Church Giving Going Up

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The average American Protestant gives $56.74 a year to his church, the National Council of Churches reported today.

Baptists Honor Journalist

DALLAS — Ellie Hopkins, a reporter and editor for the Longview Daily News and Morning Journal for more than 27 years, Wednesday was named recipient of the 1957 Annual Press Award sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

He is now vice-president of Carl Estes publications, which include the two daily newspapers, weeklies and magazines.

Hopkins will receive a $150 engraved wrist watch and a commemorative plaque in presentation ceremonies Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7, at the convention's annual meeting in Fort Worth.

The BGCT makes the award on behalf of 3,907 churches and 1,558,000 members each year for outstanding contributions to Christianity through religious news reporting.

He will be the only layman honored by the state's largest religious body at the annual convention.

The 45-year-old editor is a member, choir singer, Sunday school superintendent and active deacon in the First Baptist Church of Longview.

He has been a member of the News and Journal staff since 1930. Starting as a general reporter, he became office editor, city and telegraph editor, managing editor and since 1945 has served as editor-in-chief of all Carl Estes publications. He was named vice-president of the firm early this year.

Other papers he has worked on since starting as a cub reporter and copyreader 31 years ago include the Marshall, Tex., News Messenger and the Jefferson, Tex., Daily Journal.

His editorials have won the George Washington Honor Medal of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., for the past five successive years in national competition "for distinguished contribution to a better understanding of the American way of life."

He has won two first place Texas Association plaques in statewide newspaper editorials.

Hopkins is married to the former Nina Hall of Hallsville, Tex. They have a married daughter, Mrs. Mary Beth Sikes, Denver, Colo., and a son, Jack Hall Hopkins, 4.

TROLLEY OF TOMORROW—Offering a striking contrast between past and future, this gleaming silver-colored monorail train in Tokyo sweeps some 30 feet above the ground over the tracks of an old-fashioned streetcar. The two-coach "flying train," the first in the Orient, carries 62 passengers in its quarter-mile journey between two zones in Tokyo's Ueno Park.

'Pledge Day' Set At First Baptist

Sunday has been designated as "Pledge Day" in the First Baptist Church.

The pastor Dr. E. Douglas Carver, will follow this theme by preaching on the subject "Investments upon which we are guaranteed a return." This message will follow a "Pledging March" by members of the Sunday School and church. During this march the pledge cards for the 1958 budget will be presented to the church.

During the afternoon and the following week there will be a visitation among the members who could not attend and bring their cards. This visitation will be directed by D. V. Biggers, chairman of the Budget Promotion Committee.

At the evening worship hour the pastor will speak on the subject "A Banquet with a place card for Jesus." The church will also observe the Lord's Supper during the hour. Worship services begin at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. and Training Union at 6:30 p.m.

The Youth Council of the church will meet at 4:30 for their regular meeting. The committees of the council will report during this time. Monday night—the men of the Budget Promotion Committee will meet to receive their visitation assignments and have a period of instruction. The time for this meeting has been set for 7 p.m. Tuesday evening the men of the Brotherhood will have their monthly supper meeting. C. C. Benson, manager of the National Auto Theft Bureau for Texas, will be the principal speaker.

Wednesday the ladies of the WMU will have their missionary meeting at 1 p.m. This will be preceded by a luncheon at 12:30. The BWC will meet Thursday evening at 5:45.

A report meeting to receive reports from the Budget Promotion Committee will be held Thursday evening at 9. Fred Thompson will be in charge of this meeting.

The seminar opened Monday with a noon luncheon and workshop sessions were scheduled for each afternoon, evening, and morning until Thursday. Only delegates were permitted to attend the sessions.

Rev. Bratcher attended a workshop this summer in Hollywood, Calif., on the topic, "American Institute of Family Relations, World Service, which sponsors the SOS program on behalf of the American churches.

Dr. Wilson's announcement followed action by the CWS Board of Managers which — composed of denominational representatives — gave approval to a continuance of the SOS program.

Since 1954, SOS funds sent overseas by the churches have aided millions of hungry men, women and children in Austria, Belgium, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Egypt, Formosa, Haiti, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Jamaica, Japan, Jordan, Kenya, Korea, Lebanon, Liberia, Okinawa, Pakistan, Philippines, Vietnam, Algeria, Brazil, Chile, Honduras, and Paraguay.

Christian Science Sunday Services

The way to overcome sin through spiritual understanding of God, divine Love, will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include Christ Jesus' parable (Luke 15) of the prodigal son who "wasted his substance with riotous living."

Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (242:18): "In patient obedience to a patient God, let us labor to dissolve with the universal solvent of Love the adamant of error, — selfwill, self-justification, and self-love, — which wars against spirituality and is the law of sin and death."

The Golden Text is from Ezekiel (18:30): "Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin."

Methodist Supervisor Attends Meet

Rev. Hubert Bratcher, district superintendent of the Pampa District of Methodist Churches of the Northwest Texas Conference, is attending a seminar on "Marriage and Family Life" for thirty Methodist ministers from Texas at the University Methodist Church in Austin Tex. The ministerial delegates were selected by their respective bishops and conference superintendents.

The seminar opened Monday with a noon luncheon and workshop sessions were scheduled for each afternoon, evening, and morning until Thursday. Only delegates were permitted to attend the sessions.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill Wednesday called on all of the state's publicity writers, whose annual salaries total $139,000, to tell them how they could improve their work and relations with the press. The meeting was closed to the press.

A NOVEL PLATFORM

BELLBROOK, Ohio (UP)—Ray Miller, 65, says he has only one plank in his platform for mayor in next Tuesday's election: "Don't vote for me." Well-meaning friends put the retired welder's name on the ballot but he says he would much rather take a long-delayed vacation to California than serve as mayor.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

HARRAH METHODIST CHURCH, Pampa, Texas
 Minister, Oland M. Butler

THE WHOLE ARMOR OF GOD

Religion in American Life will be the Theme of some Interested Laymen that have sensed the Need for Americans to Re-evaluate the Religion that We hold. November has been selected as the Month for Our Christianity to Participate. In participating in such a worthy movement could We not study the "Whole Armor of God" for the Christian.

I. TRUTH—"Having your loins girt about with Truth." By truth is intended sincerity in our Christian Profession, or a firm belief of and full consent to the Gospel of Christ. A rational conviction of its truth, joined with a sense of its importance, is our best security against apostasy in the evil day.

II. RIGHTEOUSNESS: "And having on the breastplate of Righteousness." A Holy and inoffensive Life will prevent many injuries. It will command and the reverence of bad and the compassion of good men. It will obtain the protection of God's providence and the support of His grace. It will preserve peace and serenity of conscious under the reproaches of a malignant world.

III. PEACE—"Your feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of Peace." This peaceable disposition is a preparation for the trials of an evil day, and an excellent defense against the asperities of our Christian path. This will go on before us to smooth the rough passages of life, or attend us to guard our feet against the sticks and traps which our enemies cast in our way. Possessed of this disposition we shall give no offense and provoke no injuries by an insolent, overbearing behavior.

IV. FAITH—"Above all, taking the shield of Faith," Faith is a grace of universal influence. It is the basis of all Christian graces. It is the ground work of all religion in the heart. Faith is a more effective defense against the temptations of Satan and the world than the shields of the mighty against the darts and spears of their enemies.

V. HOPE—"And take the helmet of Salvation." The hope of salvation. God brings salvation. We appropriate it by hope. We must fight the good fight of faith in hope that the Captain of Salvation will support us in the conflict and lead us to victory.

VI. KNOWLEDGE—"The sword of the spirit, which is the word of God." The Divine word is called the sword of the Spirit because it is rendered effectual by the Spirit in slaying the fleshly lusts and repelling the outward temptations which war against the SOUL.

We see of what importance it is that we have the power of religion in our hearts. It concerns us to live much in the exercise of Faith. Let us exercise our Courage according to the various exigencies of the Christian Life.

Iowa-Michigan Ranked As Top Game For Saturday

Bud Goes For 100th Win As Sooners Meet Kansas State

By FRANK LITSKY
United Press Sports Writer

College football's stay-at-home fans get a treat Saturday. They can sit by the television set and watch what should be the best game in the country — Iowa at Michigan.

This (NBC) nationally televised battle of strong defenses, rated a tossup by the oddsmakers, will affect the Big Ten race, the Rose Bowl and Iowa morale.

Since 1924, Michigan has 12 victories and one tie in 13 games with Iowa, an especially bitter pill for Iowa coach Forest Evanshewski who played for Michigan almost two decades ago. Iowa and Ohio State are tied for the conference lead with 3-0 records. Michigan (2-1) must win to stay in the running for the Rose Bowl.

The Iowa defense, best in the nation against rushing, must stop Michigan halfback Jim Pace, leading scorer in the Big Ten. Key stone of the Iowa attack is Randy Duncan, a polished quarterback who rates with the best in the nation.

The United Press Board of Coaches ranks Iowa third and Michigan 12th.

In another meeting between high-ranked teams, Notre Dame is a five-point favorite over Navy. Notre Dame is ranked fifth and Navy is tied for 13th. Notre Dame, whose green sophomores of 1956 have matured into the surprise team of 1957, must stop the passing of Tom Forrestal and the running of Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst. The Navy game touches off a nightmarish month for the Irish who play Michigan State, Oklahoma and Iowa on the following three Saturdays.

Top-ranked Oklahoma, Iowa and Notre Dame all are unbeaten and untied. Oklahoma, winner of 45 straight, hopes to present Bud Wilkinson with his 100th victory as Sooners coach by whipping Kansas State. Oklahoma is a 30-point favorite.

Perfect Records Safe

Among other perfect-record teams, Texas A & M is favored by six points over Arkansas in the Southwest Conference. Auburn by eight over Florida in the Southeastern Conference and Dartmouth by three over Yale in the Ivy League.

President Eisenhower will watch the Army-Colgate game at West Point but probably won't get the thrills those two teams provided last year when Army won, 55-16.

Aggies, Texas Are Six Point Favorites In Southwest Games

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Three of the nation's top 20 teams—second-rated Texas A&M, 13th ranking Arkansas and 16th rated Texas—are involved in Southwest Conference football squabbles Saturday afternoon that could throw the title race into turmoil if the games do not follow the form sheet.

The high-gear Aggies and tempestuous Texas, leading the race with two victories without a loss each, are six-point favorites to keep their records intact against Arkansas and Southern Methodist, respectively.

But, should both falter the resulting scramble would indeed be a wild one with three of the five other clubs getting a new lease on life.

Only Texas Christian and Baylor, which will be banging away at each other at Waco at the same time, can be figured out of contention since both have bowed to Arkansas and the Aggies in their only starts.

Rice over Clemson

Arkansas, SMU and Rice, which rates a two-touchdown edge over Clemson in a Saturday night intersectional battle at Houston, all would climb back into the thick of the fight in the wake of such a tandem upset.

Both Arkansas and SMU have the psychological "homecoming" factor in their favor, but Arkansas apparently will be weakened by mid-week attacks of the flu to one starter and several second-stringers.

The Razorback-Aggie clash earlier had been tabbed as a "showdown" for the conference lead after Arkansas had knocked off Baylor, but a subsequent Texas upset of Arkansas took the edge off that billing.

The game still is due to pack better than 30,000 fans into Razorback Stadium, however. All 25,000 reserved seats are gone, but 6,200 general admission tickets will be sold Saturday morning.

The Aggies have methodically stacked up six straight victories this season, in most cases appearing to muster just what strength was needed to win, while Arkansas

Spider In Garden Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)— Middleweight contender Spider Webb, seeking a little more lustre that might get him a shot at the 160-pound crown, fights Willie Vaughn at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 10-rounder between boxer-puncher Webb of Chicago and left-hander Vaughn of Los Angeles will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Both men—Webb, 26, and Vaughn, 24—are rangy middleweights and skilled boxers who can fight from the upright or bob-and-weave. But the Spider is a long favorite over the unranked middleweight champion of California because of his punch and his ruggedness.

Webb lost but two of his 26 bouts. He knocked out half his opponents. His 24-2 record includes 13 knockouts. And he never was stopped.

Vaughn has had the greater experience in 55 bouts. But Willie never ate regularly, trained properly nor fought often until he got himself a new manager 16 months ago—Leo A. Minskoff, wealthy New York realtor.

Accordingly Webb's overall 13-16-5 and one no decision record is not impressive. His 33 victories contain only eight knockouts. But his 16 defeats include five stops. He's a better fighter now than that record would indicate, although he still lacks that "extra something" to win the close ones.

Reapers Down Dumas, 21-19, In Final Conference Tilt

Paced by speedy halfback Joe Watkins, who galloped for three touchdowns during the game, the Pampa Reapers downed the Dumas Junior High team, 21-19, yesterday afternoon in their final conference game of the season.

The Pampa gridders remained idle in the initial period but began rolling in the second as Watkins pushed over one score from five yards out and the second on a 63 yard run. Watkins added both extra points to push the Reapers to 14 points at halftime.

Remaining scoreless in the third, Watkins again broke loose in the final quarter as he raced for 70 yards to add the third touchdown of the evening. He carried for the final extra point to account for all the Pampa scoring in the game.

The Reapers trailed the Dumas team in first downs, 11-14 but pulled ahead in total yardage gained, 342 to 268. The junior Demons went to air 19 times during the game, completing 10 for 130 yards, while Pampa did not attempt a single pass. Three of the Dumas passes were intercepted.

Sparking the team defensively was linebacker Duke Garren, while Charley Giese, Bob Followell and Eben Warner provided for the main offensive strength.

Coach Norman Phillips stated after the game that all the backs and linemen turned in a hard-fought and deserving game. Phillips is assisted by coach Gene Chance.

The only game remaining on the schedule for the Reapers is a non-conference tilt with Letors, set for next Saturday, Oct. 9.

District Leadership On Line In 19 School Games Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

District leaderships are on the line in 19 games tonight in all four divisions of Texas high school football, but only one game matches unbeaten teams.

That game, La Marque at El Campo, is overshadowed by a meeting of Sweetwater and Snyder, Class AAA's third and fourth ranked squads. It is rated a toss-up, with the victor favored to move into the state playoffs, although it must stop unbeaten Colorado City, also in that district.

In Class AAAA, district leadership will be up for grabs in District 1, where El Paso-Austin meets El Paso Bowie, and in 8, where Texarkana is at Lufkin.

In AAA—Carrollton meets Garland for the District 5 lead and in AA Perryton is at Wellington for the District 3 drivers' seat, Seminole at McCamey in 5, Cole at Hamilton in 8, Terrell at Mineola in 12 and Edna at Boling in 26.

In Class A, the District 1 leadership hangs on the game between Stinnett at White Deer. Other leaderships are at stake between Hale Center and Ralls in 4, Throckmorton at Albany in 10, Wilmer-Hutchins at Duncanville in 13, Paul Hewitt at Linden in 15, Groesbeck at Mart in 20, Humble at Tomball in 24, Madisonville at Trinity in 21, Eagle Lake at East Bernard in 25, Rogers at Eastrop in 26, and Vanderbilt at Hallettsville in 30.

La Joya can wrap up District 32 with a victory over Los Fresnos.

Accordingly Webb's over-all 13-16-5 and one no decision record is not impressive. His 33 victories contain only eight knockouts. But his 16 defeats include five stops. He's a better fighter now than that record would indicate, although he still lacks that "extra something" to win the close ones.

Phillips "B" Team Slips Past Shockers In 21-13 Battle

Scoring twice in the final quarter, the Pampa Shockers fell to the Phillips "B" team, 21-13, last night in a game played in Blackhawk Stadium.

Remaining scoreless during the first three quarters, the Shockers bounced back in the fourth as Jimmy Nealey accounted for the first Pampa score, and Jerry Daniels raced 80 yards on a kick return for the second.

The game marked the fourth defeat for the Pampa sophomores, having lost previously to Borger, Plainview and Monterey. Victories for the season have come over Dumas and Perryton.

Remaining on the Shocker schedule are Amarillo on Nov. 7, and Fylo Duro on Nov. 14. The Sandie game is slated to be played in Amarillo while the Palo Duro contest will be played in Harvester Park.

The Shockers are coached by Weldon Trice and Deck Wolft.

Crispus Attucks led the anti-British demonstration which resulted in the Boston Massacre on March 5, 1770.

NBA Official Threatens Trouble Boys

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—An official of the National Boxing Assn., irked by a recent decision of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, said Thursday he'll propose expulsion for association members who "flaunt" NBA regulations.

Fred Saddy, executive secretary of the NBA, criticized the Massachusetts commission for its action in recognizing the recent Tony DeMarco-Vergil Atkins bout as a welterweight title match.

Atkins won the bout, and Saddy announced he had taken "boxer of the month" honors as a result. But the NBA and 40 member states did not recognize the match in Boston as a title bout. Eight states approved of it.

Saddy said the NBA at its September convention in Denver agreed to recognize as new welterweight champion the winner of an elimination tournament among the top four contenders.

At that time DeMarco was the No. 1 contender and Atkins was rated No. 5 and therefore ineligible for such a tournament, Saddy said.

Harvesters Attack Plainsmen Tonight

After battling flu and injuries for the past four weeks, the Pampa Harvesters go for their first district victory tonight as they clash with the Monterey Plainsmen of Lubbock in Harvester Park at 8 p.m.

Head coach Jack Lockett stated yesterday that the team has had one of its better weeks of practice and should be almost back to normal strength after an open date last Friday.

The Harvesters lost their conference opener to Palo Duro, 12-6, and fell to the Amarillo Sandies in their second district tilt, 46-6.

Both victories won by the Plainsmen during the season were district encounters, defeating Borger, 14-7, and Palo Duro, 6-0. They fell to the Sandies last Friday, 40-7.

In pre-conference games, Monterey lost to Paschal of Fort Worth, Highland Park of Dallas, Midland and Abilene.

From a seasonal standpoint, the two teams rank nearly equal, with the Plainsmen taking an edge in offense with a total of 40 points scored compared to 39 for Pampa, while the Harvesters have allowed 151 points from the opposition and Monterey has allowed 183.

Three of the Lubbock gridders received injuries in the game with the Sandies, as tackle David Jones and Paul Isham received knee injuries and end Tommy Sessums had a sprained ankle. Coach Bill DuBose stated, however, that they should be ready for action in the game tonight.

The Harvesters were hampered in the Amarillo game with the loss of Jess Ingle, Clovis Shipp, Bill

Fearful Fraley's Report

Only The Brave Play Golf On Hazardous Japanese Courses

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

HONG KONG (UP)—The guy who claimed that golf was a sissy game never played at the Royal Hong Kong Golf Club.

This may explain why a handsome moustached man named Kim Hall is colony champion for the second straight year. Because Kim was shot up and down over Trieste and he long ago learned that fear is a no-time thing.

As for Old Fearless, you may now refer to me as Old Fearful.

Because this is a course where leopards, cobras, tigers, bamboo snakes, guerrilla warfare, camouflaged soldiers, rumbling tanks and galloping horses are no more rare than double bogeys on the Fraley scorecard.

"Don't be surprised if we see a leopard," Kim said casually as he sent a tee shot whistling straight down the middle. "There's supposed to be one loose around here right now. Down from South China mountains y'know."

I did not know or I wouldn't have come.

"Nice straight tee shot," I quavered, spraying one into the rough.

Beware of Snakes

"You have to be straight here," he replied. "Lots of snakes in the rough y'know."

I hadn't known. I hit a "Mulligan."

TRADE BARRIERS WAVER—Seventeen European nations have agreed to create a European free trade area as the result of a recent meeting in Paris of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation. The plan grew out of an agreement among six nations (crosshatched areas on Newchart) to form a common market with common tariff among them, with a view toward eventual political federation. In the expanded plan, shown above, 11 other countries (diagonal shading) will not joining the customs union with the six, would gradually abolish tariffs on most commodities. This would, in effect, create a free trade area of all 17. In addition, the Scandinavian countries are considering a common tariff and customs union among themselves. The free trade area conception presents difficulties but many consider its adoption inevitable.

Texas Voters To Ballot On Amendments

AUSTIN (UP)— Texas voters ballot next Tuesday on three proposed amendments to the state old folks' pensions, state employees' retirement and water conservation development. Unless the pattern on previous constitutional amendment elections change, the voter turnout is expected to be light. The state constitution has been amended 130 times since it was adopted in 1876. Voters have rejected 87 proposals. The three amendments on which Texans vote Tuesday are part of 12 proposals approved in the last regular session of the Legislature. Votes on the other nine come next year. Gov. Price Daniel has urged support of all three amendments up next week for consideration. The Texas State AFL-CIO has also endorsed the trio of amendments. The Governor has called each of the proposals "vital to the future of Texas."

BEER BEEFS UP BULL — Down the hatch of a junior yearling bull named Vt-million Supreme gurgles a bottle of beer served up by Bill Kiser of Waukesha, Wis., before the guzler goes out to the show ring at the International Dairy Show in Chicago. One showman says he pours a fifth of whisky into one of his prize bulls, and the "animal does real good."

US Radar Post In Turkey Watches Red Missile Tests

By RUSSELL JONES, United Press Staff Correspondent. SAMSUN, Turkey (UP)— High on a hilltop overlooking this Turkish Black Sea port, a handful of U.S. Air Force men look across the water with a radar eye aimed at the Soviet Union. World attention was suddenly focused on Samsun last week when an American aviation journal said the radar post here was the backbone of a system enabling the United States to spot a major portion of Russia's long range missile and rocket tests. There is no question that security is the watchword of the American airmen stationed here, from Capt. Leo Talbot of Kansas on down. They can admit nothing but the obvious fact that they are here. Turkish Sentinels: Tough Turkish sentinels are on constant patrol outside the barbed wire that rings the installation, housed in a cluster of old farm buildings, at a radius of about 200 yards. No one can enter without clearance from the highest American and Turkish authorities. However, the small size of the radar scanners plus the fact that the detachment is commanded by a junior officer with no civilian technicians makes it doubtful the operation has the high priority with which it has been credited. Externally, it looks very much like one of the early warning radar stations that the United States is known to operate in Alaska, Newfoundland and other arctic regions. Handful of Men: Assisting Capt. Talbot here are another captain presently on leave, Lt. George Genevoux, of Quincy, Mass., and about 300 enlisted men. The officers live in private homes while the men are quartered in the comfortable Vidimil hotel overlooking the sea. While the Air Force men can't talk, townfolk and American civilians in the area tend to consider the Samsun installation's mission as of less than world-shaking importance. "This is only one of a number of U.S. bases along the coast," one non-military American said. "There are others at Asmara, Eregly, Ayancik, Sile and Trabzon. Maybe together they add up to something but it's doubtful it's anything important."

SAN FRANCISCO — Pat Kelly, airline stewardess who with another stewardess spent several hours at the womanless South Pole, in reporting that one of the men stationed there grumbled about their visit: "Six more days and he'd have gone a full year without seeing a woman. We spoiled his record." UNITED NATIONS—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, in a letter to the U.N. charging that Turkey was preparing to attack Syria: "It must be recognized that an armed attack on Syria by Turkey, a member of the North Atlantic Bloc (Nato), cannot fail to extend the conflict to other countries." World's first general bacteriology college course was given at the University of Illinois in 1877. Present law allows a state employee to contribute five per cent of his salary, up to $180 a year, to the retirement program. The state matches the employee contribution. The proposed amendment would retain the five per cent ceiling as the maximum employee contribution, but erase the $180 limit. The state would continue to match the amount contributed by the employee. The amendment would also allow the legislature, if it approves, to embrace in the program certain elected officials, and investment regulations covering the retirement fund would be broadened. $2 Increase: The second amendment would assure every person who gets an old age pension check a $2 per month increase. One dollar would be provided by the state. The other dollar would come from matching fed-

Movie Star Tells Of Life In Europe

(Vernon Scott is on vacation. Today Kirk Douglas relates his experiences in Europe while making a pair of pictures across the Atlantic). By KIRK DOUGLAS, Written for the United Press. HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Like several hundred thousands of other Americans, I spent the summer in Europe. Although most of them were on vacation, while I was there to work, I did have enough time off to play the tourist and gape at monuments, take a crack at ordering meals in foreign languages, and expose a lot of film. Since I obviously can't invite you all into my living room to look at the home movies, I would like to talk about some of the things that impressed me most. I was definitely in favor of the 90-minute lunch hour. Europeans do not understand, and won't even try to, the American short-order quick - snack grab-it-on-the-run noontime meal. They enjoy eating and they like to savor each mouthful. Once I got used to it, I found I was for their quiet and casual acceptance of life's normal delays. While we were shooting "Paths of Glory" a friend in America cabled that he was sending a script to me airmail special delivery and wanted an immediate reaction. Two days passed and still no script. I rushed to the Munich postoffice and demanded an explanation. The official shrugged his shoulders and said, "Sometimes it happens this way." Maybe this attitude prevents the Europeans from accomplishing as much as we do, but I also noticed they do not gulp pills with each meal, nor do they need sleeping tablets or wake-up lozenges or any of the other artificial boosters so many of us seem to require.

Lake McClellan Bonds

The November 5 election on the Lake McClellan dam repairs and improvements brings into focus a salient issue of the day; namely, the feeling of many individuals that it is the responsibility of the minority to be forced by the majority to subsidize the latter's wants.

Involved in the issues to be voted upon is a 20 year, $500,000 bond to repair the dam and make improvements in the immediate area of the lake and a 10 year, $250,000 bond to pave the access roads from Highway 70 and U. S. Highway 66 to the lake.

Lake McClellan, as most of our readers know, was a do-good project of the federal government during the New Deal era and beneficiaries over the years have been the fishermen and water sports enthusiasts. Since the dam is now in a precarious condition, Uncle Sam says he will give it to Gray County only if Gray County is in a position to repair the dam to federal standards.

If the county will not take it over, the federal government says it will breach the dam so as to eliminate the flood hazard which could attend the dam's washing out.

It is easy to understand that the sportsmen who have been using the lake are disappointed at the thought of their playground disappearing but instead of taking their disappointment gracefully, they want to vote a bond issue to force non-users to subsidize their recreation. This, they feel (individuals advocating forms of socialism always "feel"), is perfectly proper since a simple majority will decide on the $500,000 issue and a two-thirds majority the $250,000 bonds.

The very important point blissfully ignored is that 84% of the county taxes are paid by oil and the allied industries which means that the parties paying this percentage of taxes themselves probably don't represent 5% of the property owners who are eligible to vote on these issues. Hence, the situation exists where one group is in a position to force another group to pay the bulk of its water recreation expense and, mind you, this is all done in the name of conscience-saving democracy.

The rationalization for such a philosophy of life usually boils down to the "ability to pay" theory which a man named Marx said was a primary weapon to strip the productive power of private capital for the benefit of the "little man."

Another important point which is receiving little circulation in the Lake McClellan discussions is that although the bond issues themselves total $750,000, the total cost including interest will run in excess of a $1,000,000 expenditure.

Gray County's present tax rate is $1.29 and it is estimated that the passage of these bonds will mean a ten year tax increase of about 16c and an additional ten year tax increase of 7c. When viewed in the light of a $1.45 tax rate (a 12% tax increase), this project certainly places a high claim on the pleasures which a minority of taxpayers would be forced to buy for lake users.

The Lake McClellan dam and road bonds deserve defeat because (a) they are the essence of socialism and (b), they are uneconomic in the light of the disproportionate burden on the oil industry and would tend to deter major industries from locating in Gray County.

All property owners with a sense of justice should make a special effort to defeat these issues next Tuesday for those who are looking for a comparatively "free ride" will be out in force.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hollis

Chamber Of Commerce-Teacher Free Enterprise Conference

II.

In the last issue I was reporting our efforts to explain to 22 teachers what I understand free enterprise to mean. They were our guests due to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce inviting some 600 teachers to different businesses with the idea of creating better understanding of business.

I was explaining that free enterprise meant that in every trade or transaction both parties believed they made a profit and thus were benefited or there would be no trade; that anything that interfered with individuals freely exchanging goods and services injured everybody. Now I want to mention some of the interferences with free enterprise that cripples it and leads to unemployment and reduces production and keeps the standard of living down.

Tariffs and immigration quotas are two of the most serious interferences of men freely exchanging goods and services. There is not much question in my mind that tariffs and immigration quotas lead to war. If men could freely exchange goods and services, or when they got too crowded in one place, they could emigrate to another country, it would make it very difficult for any nation to get an army to fight. When, however, men are penned up in a territory that does not have natural resources and are penalized for trading with other nations, there is not much left for them to do but fight and try to break the vicious restrictions that interfere with their God-given natural rights.

Just think how our standard of living could go up if we were not cursed with wars occasionally, and wars are the result of a violation of some eternal moral law. Another interference with free enterprise is labor unions that get a fictitious wage by strikes or the threats of strikes. And these strikes and the threats of strikes are very serious because they have persuaded a great many people that wages would not be as high if it were not for labor unions that strike. Thus Congress has passed laws that permit organized labor to do things that would be wicked and a crime if done by non-labor-union individuals or groups.

Another hindrance is conspiracy between businesses to divide up a market and fix prices and penalize any member that violates the conspiracy.

Subsidies, like paying farmers for not producing, also interfere with a free market method of setting prices.

The graduated income and inheritance taxes also greatly interfere with men using the talents God gave them to benefit themselves and all mankind.

The Federal Reserve System, an attempt of government to control credit, is another interference with a free market.

Drafting soldiers, of course, is a serious interference with free enterprise.

These are some of the things that interfere with a free market. Really free private enterprise means that a business does not own its customers or its employees. Nor do the customers or employees own a customer because someone else can give him better service; it really has not lost anything because it does not own its customer. If no more loses anything than a man who has stolen an automobile and has it taken from him by the sheriff.

Free enterprise means also that jobs and employers are interchangeable. That is, if any worker thinks another man is getting more than he is actually worth, the other man has a right to furnish a better service for the same money or the same service for less money. If any business firm thinks another business firm is getting a fictitious reward for his service, he also has the right to do the same thing.

A Guide
Under free enterprise, each and every individual has a guide as to what society wants most done. If prices are high in a certain business, these prices are telling workers and employers that that line of work will reward them more than other lines of work, either in material reward or peace of mind and honor that comes to the man who does the best he knows to serve his fellowman. Thus, when men are free to enter any line of business and have the greatest possible choices as to how they can use their fellowman, production goes up.

Another thing under a free economy, whatever is produced willingly is to be distributed in order to benefit the owner. He has to use it for his own enjoyment or give it away or reinvest it in his business in order to give better service.

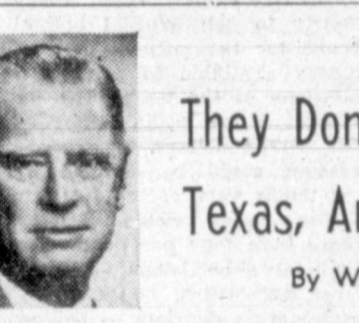

The presses and linotypes and equipment of this newspaper are of no value unless they are used and worn out to render a service to mankind.

With this free economy there would be no large farm surpluses as we have now with interference. We wouldn't have a stupendous debt if we had the government supported as the Declaration of Independence says, with consent of the governed. We would not have prices going up and up because of government interference in their attempt to regulate credit and banking and money and interest rates. We would have a true value of things. There cannot be a true value of anything when some individuals are pre-

They Don't Wear Guns In Texas, Arizona Anymore

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 31—The perceiving eyes with which I scan the antics of man have been disappointed in a long search for a six-gun on the hip of any other than a cop or sentry in some 15 years in Arizona and Texas.

One night two magnificent young men who had just been hunting cats up near Oracle pulled up at the liquor store at Casas Adobes Center north of Tucson. They had five joyous mutts in a cage of heavy screen on a trailer, one of whom, a mongrel airhead, had a mean scratch on his snout, the only wound on the whole bunch of them after a kill in which they tore a catmout to tatters. One of the young men wore a holster, but it held only pliers and screwdrivers. Protocol precluded armed intervention even to save their dogs from ignominy once the issue was joined between the quarry and the pack. Hunters will snare a cat with a wire loop around a paw and yank it to earth for the dogs, but beyond that they are on their own.

Tombstone, a prim relic of the frontier, still takes juvenile pride in Boothill Cemetery and in the formulated story of the gunfight in the Okay Corral in which Wyatt Earp and others banged away at arm's length and six were killed and others wounded. Earp was a peace officer and he refereed fights around Chicago in his closing years, and the late Jack Curley, the promoter, told me that on the night of the second Gatch-Hackenschmidt wrestling bout in the White Sox ball-yard in 1906, Earp tried to bring the city cops to take a walk while he stuck up the cashiers. Mr. Curley told me one cop, fresh here from Ireland, said he would stand fast and do his duty and that Earp therefore dropped the idea. Earp's reputation for courage behind a gun was diluted with intimations that he sometimes rode with Satan.

Tombstone today is morally and socially as quiet as Evanston, Ill., with "service" clubs of grocers, attorneys and pharmacists, a high school and a PTA. A New York tourist who reeled out of the old Crystal Palace Bar, simulating inebriety while his wife shot movies for the family from across the street, was rudely admonished by the management not to give the place a bad name.

Yet of the world has been swept by a juvenile fancy for realistic imitations of the bad man's revolvers, carried in expensive holsters, elaborately tooled. Children on the streets of Rome were wearing them, two years ago, in the pretty little pre-Lenten masquerade which, in Rome, alone, is given over to childhood. These murderous innocents slouched along amid knights and ladies of equal age in beautiful costumes out of history handed down in families for many generations.

Many western men and women carry hand-guns in their automobiles. As stated in the former article, we cannot devote too much time as individuals to better understand the free economy which is based on moral law. It is because too few people have a clear view of the blessings of a free economy that we are in the predicament that we are in today.

EDITOR:

In Monday's, Oct. 28, Pampa News editorials, you state that we know Eisenhower is a Republican, because he says he is. Likewise, that Lyndon Johnson is a Democrat, because he says he is.

Then you cite Johnson's voting record in the last session of Congress, which is as follows: voted with Eisenhower 68 per cent of the time and only opposed him 21 per cent of the time.

So you conclude that Eisenhower is a Democrat, or else Johnson is a Republican. You are wrong in both instances, they are neither Democrat or Republican, but just pure and simple "New Dealers."

It seems Eisenhower is trying to out-deal all New Dealers before him, even including FDR and Truman. We wonder if you would have needed to ask William J. Bryan if he was a Republican or a Democrat. Or would you have needed a great citizen who left many a beneficial landmark on his homeland and a son who runs the paper from a desk in the open among many other desks on the ground floor.

Young Mr. Carter, a tank officer, was captured by the Germans in Africa and spent more than two years in a prison camp in Poland. Last year he went back to visit old Polish friends, taking Mrs. Carter, and went on to Moscow where they had a decent time, though under surveillance.

Some months after that, at his desk in the Star-Telegram, Mr. Carter received a journalist from Pravda, assigned to the United Nations in New York. As they chatted, the phone rang and the FBI confided that this Russian was on the loose and headed his way to which Mr. Carter replied, "Yes, he is here now. I am talking him out right-seeing."

They had a pleasant visit and the Russian said he was taking two of those six-guns in holsters back to his little boy in Moscow.

Gubernatorial Balloting Tuesday To Be Watched

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The gubernatorial balloting next Tuesday in two strangely contrasting states—New Jersey and Virginia—will be scrutinized closely by national political leaders to ascertain voters' reaction to the Administration's recent setbacks and difficulties.

They will be interested chiefly in the behavior of the Negro, the labor and the so-called Zionist bloc. For despite the growing independence of the electorate, the experts still believe that citizens with common concerns and interests are inclined to vote accordingly and fairly solidly.

President Eisenhower's aides expect to improve the GOP's status with the colored people, to retain 1952-1956 gains among the working population and to lose votes among elements opposed to his Middle East policies and reversal of the Roosevelt-Truman attitude toward Israel.

POLITICAL TREND TEST — In addition to the fact that Tuesday furnishes the first opportunity for such a study of changing political views, it is expected to be a referendum on the Truman administration's record. Since Truman named Stephenson on the Democratic ticket and Eisenhower on the Republican ticket in 1952, how could he have been better pleased unless the nominees had been Dean Acheson and Alger Hiss?

Truman was so well pleased with Eisenhower as a Democratic President that he opposed Stephenson in 1956 as the Democrat candidate. He even publicly kissed Mamie the minute Ike had taken his first oath of office as President.

Well, if he keeps modernizing the Republican party with New Deal doctrine the Democrats will have to return to the principles of the old Democratic ideals. This would be a real blessing to all Democrats.

Yes, Ike was very much against "Centralized Government" under Truman, but now it is a gray horse of another color.

There is one thing he has accomplished, he has ruined any had of ever carrying even one Southern state and since he sent federal troops to Little Rock he could not carry one state even if he could run again.

O well! It could have been worse. How you ask? Well it could have been old "Bubble Head" Wallace, as Pegler calls him, or it could have even been Earl Warren, which would have been a calamity.

W. J. Cornelson

THE ALPS — This is a very indefinite date line, but it's the best I can do at the moment.

I know where I hope I am. I hope I am somewhere near the Bremner Pass, because I have been aiming at it all day and thinking of a good night's sleep in Innsbruck.

But darkness, which comes early in these parts now, and a pretty good snowfall overtaken Mary and me and the car before we reached it. And I'm not driving over any Alpine Pass at night in a snowstorm!

An Alpine Pass is bad enough in July and at high noon. It's a frightening road even then. At night, with the windshield pattered with snowflakes as big as silver dollars, the passes are only for St. Bernard dogs, and even they should wear chains.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bids addressed to the Mayor and City Commission of the City of Pampa, Texas, will be received at the Office of the City Secretary, City Hall, Pampa, Texas, until 10:00 A. M., Tuesday, November 12, 1957, when publicly opened and read for furnishing all work required for the construction of certain improvements consisting of curb and gutter, concrete sidewalks, concrete wearing surface, or flexible base (either caliche or gravel), or soil cement base and asphalt and aggregate wearing surface or asphalt concrete surface on streets in the City of Pampa, Texas.
All bids shall be accompanied by a Cashier's Check or Certified Check upon a National or State bank in the amount of five (5%) per cent of the total maximum bid price payable without recourse to the City of Pampa, or a bid bond in the same amount, to be secured from the City of Pampa, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into a contract and execute a performance bond within fifteen (15) days after Notice of Award of Contract to him. The Notice of Award of Contract shall be given by the Mayor within ten (10) days following the opening of bids. Bids without check or bid bond will not be considered.
All bid securities will be returned to the respective bidders within ten (10) days after the bids are opened, except those which the owner elects to hold until the successful bidder has executed the contract.
The successful bidder must furnish performance bond upon the form which is attached hereto in the amount of 100% of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety, or other bond which is acceptable to the Owner.
The right is reserved; as the interest of the Owner may require, to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informality in bids received.
Under this letting the City proposes to guarantee full payment in cash upon approval of the bids.
Plans, specifications and bidding documents may be secured from the Office of the City Engineer, City of Pampa, Texas.

Military Men Didn't Whistle At Pretty Girls In Antarctica!

By GAY FAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Well, what's the modern military man coming to!

Two pretty girls pioneered a trip to Antarctica and the 301 stationed there, many of them as long as 18 months, didn't even whistle.

"They were more like home town boys," said Patricia Hepin-stall, 25, and Ruth Kelly, 28, air-line stewardesses just returned from a 19,350-mile (round trip) flight to McMurdo Sound, the principal American military base in Antarctica. The girls were on-ly 850 miles from the South Pole, the farthest into the land of deep freeze woman ever has traveled. Miss Kelly is five feet, seven inches tall, blonde, blue-eyed, a graduate of Northwestern University and a former schoolmarm from Holyoke, Colo. Miss Hepin-stall, who is from Houston, Tex., is a tall brunette, a graduate of Southern Methodist University, and a one-time fashion model.

Pioneers With Charm
They were selected to cook and serve meals on the first commercial flight into the antarctic be-cause, as a spokesman for their employer, Pan American World Airways, put it:

"Take one look at both of them and you see why, don't you?"

The flight was a Navy charter, carrying 37 Seabees to McMurdo to relieve others on duty from 8 to 18 months.

Now, the stewardesses head for the North Pole—first to London, then working a flight back by way of the Pole to San Francisco, their home base.

The two were in McMurdo only three and a half hours, but the men planned a busy program.

Seabees Plan Full Program
"You could tell they'd worked on our welcome for weeks," said Miss Kelly. The Seabees treated the girls to a dog sled race, a tour of the base, and had them judge a beard contest. Categories in the latter were pretty extensive—in-cluding the longest tatch, the beard with the most sex appeal, the bushiest, and the one with the finest texture ("pretty obvious, that category," said Miss Kelly. "You know... woman's touch.") They returned with penguin feather souvenirs, sealskin key cases, scrolls naming them "Queen of the Antarctic Seabees" and cards giving them lifetime membership in the "Royal Order of the Deep Freeze."

This is the "warm" season for the antarctic. It was only 16 be-low zero when the plane landed. But the two girls wore navy-issue cold weather gear anyway: pad-ded jackets and trousers, parkas with fur hoods, windbreakers, padded gloves, high boots, wool stockings.

Experts Say Traffic Death Toll Down

CHICAGO (UP)—Safety experts today predicted American motor-ists can save more than 1,000 lives this year if they continue their "encouraging" improvement in the traffic toll.

The National Safety Council re-ported at least 800 lives already have been saved in the first nine months of the year, climaxed by a 9 per cent decrease in traffic fatalities in September.

The September traffic toll was 3,380 as compared with 3,710 for the same month last year. It was the ninth straight time the toll has gone down or remained un-changed in the last 10 months.

The highway fatality count for the first nine months of this year was 28,110, a decrease of 3 per cent over last year's toll of 28,910 for the same period.

"I don't imagine this is much—my English teacher recommended it!"

The council termed the current traffic trend in the nation encour-aging, and lauded drivers, pedes-trians and traffic enforcement of-ficers for reducing the toll.

During September, 27 of 47 states reporting showed a de-crease in traffic fatalities, one had no change and 19 showed in-creases. A total of 23 states showed decreases for the first nine months of this year.

Idaho led all states with a 26 per cent decrease. Other de-creases were shown by North Da-kota, Kansas, Georgia, Michigan, Florida, Maine, Missouri, Massa-chusetts, Tennessee, Colorado, Nebraska, Louisiana, Connecticut, Wyoming, Wisconsin, Alabama, Mississippi, Utah, Texas, New Hampshire, Delaware, Indiana, South Dakota, North Carolina, Washington and California.

A BEERY HALLOWEEN
EL CENTRO, Calif. (UP)—City attorney Wesley Dickinson com-mented after he discovered hallow-ween pranksters had ordered all the liquor stores in town to send cases of beer to his home: "I can't stand the taste of beer."

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP)—Police today were searching for an armed bank robber. Attendants said the man, armed with a small automatic, took four pints of type O-RH negative blood from the Spo-kane blood bank Wednesday night.

TEAMED FOR Action!

Like a well-balanced football team, Cosden products are at their best when they're working together.

Cosden gasoline—Premium Ethyl or Higher Octane Regular—are skillfully processed through one of the world's most modern refineries to deliver all the horsepower in your engine. They offer new bonus power to span the miles economically... reserve strength for fast get-away or quick passing... and instant response to your accelerator.

Cosden lubricants—10w30 or Heavy Duty Motor Oils—keep engine parts working smoothly and freely in any weather.

Get the most from your car. Use Cosden gasoline and lubricants... together.

They're teamed for action.
