Morocco King On First Visit To US

WASHINGTON (UP)—King Mohammed V of Morocco arrives today for his first U.S. visit in which he will attempt to iron out some problems and see the nation and its people from President Eisenhower to Joe Smith.

The three week tour will include a three-day official state visit here which is expected to further cement Moroccan ties with the West. From the time he enters this nation King Mohammed will get the deluxe red carpet treatment. President Eisenhower will greet him personally at the airport, an honor accorded only heads of state.

The King and President will ride in a motorcade to the White House from the airport. Mohammed V will lunch privately at Blair House and will meet the press during a reception later in the afternoon.

During his visit the King is expected to confer with the President at least twice. He will also talk with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Mohammed V, leader of a potentially rich nation of nine million souls at the western end of the Arab bloc, is one of the most respected statesmen of the Moslem world.

While in the United States King Mohammed wants to look at an American supermarket. He will visit a department store and some average American homes as well.

In his talks with U.S. officials King Mohammed and Foreign Minister Ahmed Balafout are expected to try to win support for the joint Moroccan - Tunisian offer to mediate the three-year-old nationalist rebellion against the French in neighboring Algeria.

May Discuss Bases
The question of U.S. bases in Algeria will probably come up because the agreement originally was negotiated with France. Negotiations have since been conducted with Morocco on a smooth but slow basis.

There may also be some discussion of U.S. economic aid to Morocco and of continued operation of a Voice of America transmitter.

However he defined an IRBM as a 1,500-mile missile and conceded Russia probably is ahead in 800-mile ballistic missiles.

Brucker made the statements on the CBS television program "face the Nation" amid these other developments in the missile-satellite field.

The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee planned to begin public hearings today on the U.S. missile race with Russia. Its first scheduled witness, Dr. Edward Teller, "father of the H-bomb, said Sunday night the United States has lost a battle comparable to Pearl Harbor by letting Russia get ahead in the rocket race.

Dr. Joseph Kaplan, head of the U.S. Committee for the International Geophysical Year, predicted this country will launch an earth satellite before the original target date of March.

Lockheed Aircraft Corporation has been awarded an Air Force contract to make studies of a reconnaissance satellite which may be built and launched in the early 1960's, according to government sources.

Making Economy Check
The House Government Operations Committee disclosed it has begun an investigation to determine the extent that economy curbs, waste and duplication may have hampered scientific research.

The Republican National Committee accused the Democrats of reducing U.S. defense to a "dangerously low level" when they were in office.

Brucker claimed the nose cone of a Jupiter-C missile, which was shown to the nation on TV by President Eisenhower, was "the first nose cone that we know of in the world that could... reenter the atmosphere and, of course, hit the target."

The U.S. government assumes that the Russians have solved the reentry problem for missiles.

Scout Fathers' Meeting Called

Jessie Holt, cubmaster of Pack 21, sponsored by Baker PTA, and advisor of Troop 16, sponsored by the Lions Club, and Joe Rogers, Troop 16 scoutmaster, have called a meeting of the fathers of members of the two organizations.

The meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lions Club Scout House.

The purpose of the meeting, according to Holt, is to "get lined out on the persons who will help cut Christmas trees at the Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N. M., so the Scouts can have them in Pampa for sale by Dec. 1."

3 Mishaps Reported

Three collisions, two of them at the same time, were reported to the police department over the week end.

Reports of collisions at the intersections of Mary Ellen and Georgia and at Frederic and Graham were received at 10:17 Saturday night.

The collision at Mary Ellen and Georgia occurred when a 1949 Chevrolet, driven by Joe Dean Esary, 208 N. Faulkner, and a 1957 Ford, driven by Willis Pruitt, Mobeite, collided. Damages to the Chevrolet were estimated at $250 and the Ford met with damages estimated at $350.

A collision between a 1951 Ford, driven by T. E. Stillwell, 720 E. Craven, and a 1955 Ford, driven by Donley K. Burrell, 1240 Farley, resulted in the collision at Frederic and Graham. The '51 Ford encountered damages estimated at $85 and the '55 Ford met with damages estimated at $100.

The only collision reported yesterday occurred at 4:54 p.m. on Tignor, 30 feet north of Beryl. A 1957 Chevrolet station wagon, parked at the curb, was hit by a 1946 Chrysler, driven by Robert E. Boydston, Pampa. The station wagon, owned by Richard R. Morgan, 1000 E. Twiford, met with damages estimated at $75 and the Chrysler was not damaged.

Three Religious Faiths Out To Make Week True Thanksgiving'

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (UP)—America's three great religious faiths are out to make this week truly "a Thanksgiving week."
The Protestant, Catholic and Jewish relief organizations will urge their members next week to "give thanks by giving" to the hungry and homeless of other lands.
These organizations have become the primary channels for "persons to person" American aid to destitute families abroad.
They offer Americans an opportunity to dispense a great deal of charity for comparatively little money. The reason is that they operate with low overhead costs and make full use of surplus farm products which were made available by the Agriculture Department.

Big Dollar Value
Each dollar of private contributions moves about 300 pounds of food overseas. A $5 donation will give bowls of cereal to 500 undernourished children each day for three weeks. Ten dollars will provide bread for 400 needy persons for two months.

This year the religious agencies are distributing nearly 1,500,000 pounds of food, 30 million articles of clothing and thousands of tons of blankets and medicine in 80 foreign countries. But even this program has barely scratched the surface of chronic poverty and undernourishment. The agencies hope to do much more next year — if the Thanksgiving appeals bring in enough contributions.

Proceeds of the Protestant "share our surplus" drive will go to church world service, the inter-denominational relief arm of the National Council of Churches. Contributions may be made through local churches by placing in the collection plate a check or envelope earmarked for "share our surplus." Or they may be sent directly to Church World Service, 214 Ave. N. New York.

Catholics Solicited
Catholics are being asked to contribute 10 million pounds of clothing through "the bishops' Thanksgiving clothing collection," which is more familiarly known in many Catholic parishes as "Operation Clothes Closet." The clothing collected by local churches will be shipped abroad and distributed by Catholic relief services, a branch of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

(Catholics are asked to donate cash for overseas relief in a different drive, conducted during the spring.)
Jews will contribute through their synagogue to the "Emergency Rescue Fund" of the United Jewish Appeal, sponsored by the Synagogue Council of America.

Refugees — some of them still homeless from World War II, others uprooted by more recent disturbances in Hungary, the Middle East and China — are the largest group of needy families receiving aid from U. S. religious agencies. Church World Service estimates there are at least 30 million refugees in the world today. Most of them are "homeless, hungry, disease-ridden and dressed in rags and patches," according to the Rev. R. Norris Wilson, director of the agency.

Wilson said the world's "greatest concentration of human need" is in Hong Kong, where one million Chinese have sought refuge after "voting with their feet" against the Red government.

"They are living in incredible squalor in tar paper shacks, in road drains, on the rooftops of crowded tenements and in cave-like holes in the hills," he said. "Nearly 95 per cent of the adults have tuberculosis. The children are pitifully undernourished."

Bingo is the world's most widely played gambling game, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Oilman Takes A Wife

DALLAS (UP)— Multimillionaire oilman H. L. Hunt of Dallas was married to the daughter of an Oklahoma oilman in a quiet ceremony Sunday afternoon.

The 68-year-old Hunt, reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in the world, and Mrs. Ruth Ray Wright, a longtime Dallas resident, were married in a simple ceremony before two witnesses and the minister and his wife.

The marriage took place in the home of Dr. McLain Smith, the minister of Lakewood Methodist Church, where the new Mrs. Hunt is a member.
It was the second marriage for both. Hunt's first wife died May 6, 1955. He has six children and the former Mrs. Wright has four. A spokesman said Mrs. Hunt's age is "somewhere in the 40s." She was described as about 5-foot-6, with blue eyes and light brown, almost auburn colored hair.

The spokesman said the Hunts will live in Hunt's Dallas home, which is a replica of Mt. Vernon.

Think Women's Hats Crazy? You 'Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet'

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—Okay, fellows. You can quit laughing at some of those things we've been calling hats. For you ain't seen nothin' yet!
A 77-year-old milliner named William J. just previewed his summer sports collection. And the word is, if it swims we will wear it. The designer, a self-styled "mad hatter," comes up with some fishy specimens, even if the fins are felt and the scales are sequins.
"These hats are for fun, done with style," said William J. "But I do make serious hats. My fun hats are for the young in heart. Leslie Caron, Margaret O'Brien and Audrey Hepburn are my customers."

The milliner, Boston-born, Harvard-educated and fairly new to the New York design scene, showed beach hats shaped like octopus, lobster, dolphin and other denizens of the deep. He even supplies the hooks. (Girl supplies belt).

Yard-Wide Octopus
His octopus, a yard wide, is mostly of bright orange straw, but has eyes of beaver felt with jet-head centers. Tentacles have black velvet tips and the milliner declared these wind around m-lady's head in a most fetching manner.
"Hats have just been too sedate; that's what's wrong with the millinery business," said the designer, hauling forth a lobster. This number, in straw, measured about three feet, with claws draped toward the wearer's face. The tail drapes to the back, like a streamer.

"One of my favorites is this pink sailor," said William J. It was prosaic enough at first look, but second showed a pliable line dangling from it. On the end: a four-foot long fish in pink and red felt.

Fisherman's Basket
Another hat copied a fisherman's basket — "with compartments for packing your beach lunch," he said. At the fashion show, the model pulled out a silver fox fur instead.

His "mermaid" collection featured something new in hat materials—aluminum woven to look like fine braid. He also has a group of hats for lady golfers.

These carried out the spots theme with such decorations as a bobbing golf ball on a spring. One, he dubbed the "19th hole." It featured a gold-embroidered bar scene.

William J. said the wearer need not worry about keeping these "fun" hats on. Each is built with bandeaux or other interior equipment for a firm fit.

The designer, born William J. Cunningham, now runs two firms. The other, bearing the Cunningham name, produces the "serious" hats he mentioned.

"I make more money as William J.," he said.

Last year, the designer started the millinery industry with a collection of outside fruit and vegetable hats for the beach. What's for the future?
"Oh, probably something to do with outer space," he said.

"Gotta go now—Mom will be coming in to wake me from my nap pretty soon!"

Solon Proposes Tax Deduction

WASHINGTON (UP)— Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) has proposed that parents be allowed to deduct college tuition and expenses from their federal income tax.

Smathers said Sunday he will ask Congress to change the tax laws next year to make such a provision.

The Florida Democrat said such a move was necessary to encourage more young people to go to college and help the nation face the Soviets' challenge for "educational superiority."

He said more concentration on college training by U. S. men and women is vital to beat Russia in the race for educational superiority.

Harvest Recipes From a Country Kitchen
Harvest-Time Favorites (Clockwise)

GRANDMA'S BACON-RICE MUFFINS
Mix together 1 1/2 cups cooked rice at room temperature and 1/2 cup of milk. Sift together 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons beet or cane sugar. Stir in 1/4 cup cooked, finely chopped bacon. Add the milk mixture to 2 beaten eggs. Stir in 2 tablespoons melted shortening. Make a well in the flour mixture. Pour in the milk mixture. Stir with 15 circular strokes just to moisten the flour. Grease muffin pans. Fill two-thirds full. Bake in a pre-heated 400° F. oven about 30 minutes. This makes 14 muffins 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

DROP DUMPLINGS IN CRICKEN-VEGETABLE STEW
Put 2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Turn heat down. Cover. Simmer 14 minutes. Allow to stand off heat, lid on 10 minutes. Sift together 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon black pepper. Stir in 2 teaspoons grated onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, the hot cooked rice, 2 beaten eggs. Form into balls 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Add flour if mixture is too moist. Slip into 2 quarts hot chicken stock thickened with 1/2 cup of water mixed into 1/4 cup all-purpose flour. Dumpings should hold together in the hot mixture. Add 2 to 2 1/2 cups canned or frozen peas and carrots, 1 1/2 or more cups diced cooked chicken, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning. Simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Season to taste. Cover. Simmer 10 minutes. This makes 18 small dumplings, about 6 to 8 servings.

COUNTRY GARDEN VEGETABLE SOUP
If desired make stock with a soup bone. Keep in refrigerator. Melt 1 tablespoon cooking fat in soup kettle. Add 1/2 pound ground or stew beef, 2 cups chopped onions, 1 clove garlic, minced. Brown the meat. Add 3 stalks diced celery, 2 sliced carrots, 1 1/2 cups cut up green beans, 2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice, 1 bay leaf, 6 cups of water or the stock, 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Cover. Simmer 45 minutes. Break up 1 #208 can tomatoes. Add to the soup. Simmer 10 more minutes. Thin if desired. This recipe makes 8 quarts of soup.

HOPPING JOHN (FOR GOOD LUCK AND GOOD EATING)
Place 1 cup dried black-eyed peas and 2 cups boiling water in a saucepan. Cover and allow to stand 2 hours. Do not drain. Cut 1/3 pound salt pork or bacon in squares. Brown on all sides in a hot skillet. After the peas soak, add the pork, 1 large onion, chopped, 1 spray of celery leaves, a bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon black pepper. Add 2 cups boiling water. Simmer in a covered saucepan until the peas are tender. Remove the bay leaf. Add 1/2 cup uncooked white rice. Simmer until the rice is tender. Add water if necessary. Salt and pepper to taste. Serve with the pork on top and sprinkle with 2 tablespoons minced parsley. This makes 6 generous servings.

WARM APPLESAUCE CRUNCH PUDDING
Put 2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Turn heat down. Cover. Simmer 14 minutes. Remove from heat. Leave lid on 10 minutes. Layer the cooked rice, 1/4 cup beet or cane sugar, 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice, 1/2 cup milk, 1 1/2 cups applesauce and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Mix together 1 cup quick cooking oats, 1/4 cup beet or cane sugar, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine. Spread over the pudding. Bake at 350° F. 35 to 40 minutes or until the top browns and liquid is absorbed. Serve warm with milk or cream. This makes 7 to 8 servings.

New Flavor Tops Traditional Ham

High falutin', this ham slice. Time was when a ham slice was simply broiled or baked and served, it was a favored cut of men.

Turkey is a budget buy. But only if you plan wisely how to use leftovers in a way to please all the family. Our family goes for these combinations of leftover turkey and macaroni.

HOT MACARONI HOLIDAY SALAD (4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup chopped celery, 1 medium-sized onion, chopped, two 8-ounce cans tomato sauce, 1 cup chopped cooked turkey, 1-3 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper to taste.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine; add celery and onion and saute 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce; mix well. Add macaroni and remaining ingredients and heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally.

TURKEY-MACARONI CASSEROLE (4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion, sliced, 1 cup creamed cottage cheese, 2 cups diced cooked spoons lemon juice, salt to taste, turkey, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 1 cup turkey stock or chicken bouillon, 1/4 teaspoon oregano, 2 tablespoons salt to taste, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cups applesauce and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Mix together 1 cup quick cooking oats, 1/4 cup beet or cane sugar, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine. Spread over the pudding. Bake at 350° F. 35 to 40 minutes or until the top browns and liquid is absorbed. Serve warm with milk or cream. This makes 7 to 8 servings.

CRANBERRY SAUCE and a turkey bulging with stuffing still spell Thanksgiving to most Americans.

COOK'S NOOK

Chestnuts and Cranberries Are Musts For Thanksgiving

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Market Editor
It all began in New England—the groaning board for Thanksgiving. Fifty-five stalwart Pilgrims supplied the first turkeys and the friendly Indians tossed in the earliest cranberries. That was three centuries ago.

Today, turkeys with maximum meat in proportion to bone, and bigger, more flavorful cranberries are grown not only in Massachusetts, but in many other states. Even so, the early New England Thanksgiving dinner still sets the national pattern.

Five vegetables and two kinds of pie are not uncommon and no feast would be complete without chestnut stuffing and fresh cranberry sauce.

CRANBERRY MAPLE SAUCE (Makes 1 quart)

Four cups fresh cranberries, 1 cup sugar, 2-3 cup maple syrup, 1 cup water, cinnamon stick optional.

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Cook rapidly until berries pop, about 5 minutes. Reduce heat to low-moderate and continue pie, coffee, tea, milk.

OLD-FASHIONED CHESTNUT STUFFING

Three cups boiled chestnuts (1 1/2 pounds in shell), 1-3 cup butter, 1 1/2 pounds sausage meat, 1 large onion, chopped; 1 1/2 cups hot water or broth from giblets, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning or sage, 6 cups bread cubes, toasted if desired.

Chop boiled chestnuts into coarse pieces. Melt butter in a skillet and saute sausage meat and onion. Add water or broth, seasonings and bread cubes. Stir in chopped chestnuts. This makes enough to stuff a large turkey. Serve spoonfuls of stuffing in the traditional style.

CRANBERRY MAPLE SAUCE (Makes 1 quart)

Four cups fresh cranberries, 1 cup sugar, 2-3 cup maple syrup, 1 cup water, cinnamon stick optional.

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Cook rapidly until berries pop, about 5 minutes. Reduce heat to low-moderate and continue

Square Fare For Toddler's Taste

This is a recipe that's strictly for the children... it's bound to pass the small fry test anytime. Ground ham and crushed pineapple combine to form Ham and Pineapple Fritters that'll make square fare for any short order meal.

If you think leftovers are a problem, let this recipe come to your rescue. Leftover ham, perhaps from yesterday's dinner, can easily be ground and ready to go to work for you.

Reba Staggs, home economist, emphasizes the fact that children and teen-agers like variety and surprises in their meals, after school smorgasbords and evening snacks.

HAM AND PINEAPPLE FRITTERS

2 cups ground cooked ham
1/2 cup crushed pineapple
2-3 cup sifted enriched flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-3 cup milk
1 egg

Lard for deep-fat frying
Drain pineapple. Sift flour with baking powder and cinnamon. Add sugar, milk and egg; mix until smooth; fold in ham and pineapple. Drop by teaspoonfuls into deep hot lard (350 degrees F.) and fry until golden brown on all sides. Drain. Serve with syrup, if desired. Yield: 30 small fritters.

Bringing out the best flavor in foods often is very simple. A processed cheese, for example, has the best flavor when it is served at room temperature.

Ever wonder why dieters often appear to be lettuce eaters? Lettuce, although rich in vitamins A and C, is a low-calorie food. It contains 95 per cent water. In choosing lettuce, the greener it is, the richer is its vitamin content.

soft and mixture slightly thick. Chill.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Roast young turkey, chestnut stuffing, giblet gravy, cranberry maple sauce, whipped potatoes, Brussels sprouts, soft rolls, butter or margarine, celery and olives, pumpkin pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Donut Sundaes and Cafe Au Lait Tops For A Teen-Age Party

Teen-agers should get a bang out of a new goody sundae that they can make themselves—either for a pajama party or a pre-football party. This super-duper is made from plain doughnuts along with lots of other goodies.

Here's all it takes to make it. First of all, use a plain doughnut for the base of your sundae. Now put a scoop of coffee ice cream right in the center. Pour some piping hot Coffee Caramel Sauce over the whole concoction and sprinkle it generously with peanuts. Sound good? Well, actually, it's the "living end"! A variation of the doughnut theme might be vanilla ice cream, hot fudge sauce and walnuts.

For a perfect go-with beverage, fill up your cups with Cafe au Lait, a fine half-a-half combination of steaming, fresh coffee and steaming milk, sweetened to taste. For style, add a cinnamon stick to each cup. This makes a terrific stirrer and, at the same time, lends a subtle spicy flavor to the Cafe au Lait. You can be sure that, whenever doughnut sundaes and Cafe au Lait are in the making, kids will have oodles of fun and good eating.

Coffee Caramel Sauce
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup strong coffee

Combine first 5 ingredients in saucepan. Cook, stirring, until sugar dissolves. Cook without stirring to 236° (soft ball stage). Cool slightly. Stir in cream, vanilla and coffee; mix well. Makes about 2 cups.

Warm Applesauce Crunch Pudding Will Certainly Win Family's Verbal Applause

This dessert has a delicious, crunchy topping with a nut-like flavor! The baked dessert takes advantage of the convenience of applesauce and rice. Apple desserts are always favorites. We usually use whole or sliced apples and forget how spicy and good an applesauce pudding can be. The dessert is a nutritious one and can be served with more and more milk (note well, mothers!).

The crunchy topping is made by mixing melted butter or margarine, sugar and uncooked oats together. This is spread over layers of cooked rice, brown sugar, applesauce and pumpkin pie spice. You'll like using the pumpkin pie spice because it's a mixture of several different spices and the result is a marvelous flavor.

Plan to bake the pudding in a meal time so it's warm and so good with cold, cold milk, cream or maybe even vanilla ice cream!

INGREDIENTS
2-3 cup uncooked white rice
1 1/2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup beet or cane sugar
1/4 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1/4 cup milk
1 1/2 to 2 cups applesauce

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup quick cooking oats
1/4 cup beet or cane sugar
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Milk, cream or vanilla ice cream
METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan, bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Place the rice in a well greased 1 1/2 quart glass baking dish. Sprinkle with the 1/4 cup beet or cane sugar and the 1/4 cup brown sugar. Sprinkle with the pumpkin pie spice. Pour on the 1/4 cup milk. Top with the applesauce. Sprinkle with the lemon juice.
Mix together the oats, 1/4 cup beet or cane sugar and the butter or margarine. Spread over the applesauce.
Bake in a pre-heated 350 degree F. oven 35 to 40 minutes or until the top begins to brown and the liquid is absorbed. Place under the broiler to complete browning the top.
Serve hot or warm with milk, cream or vanilla ice cream.
This recipe makes 7 to 8 generous servings.

Recent Developments Shake US Complacency Over Education

(Education—First of a Series)
By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Two years ago, a high Soviet official told an American educator who was visiting Russia:

"We're not going to fight a hot war with you. We're going to lick you in the classroom."
Few Americans were prepared in 1955 to take this Soviet boast seriously. The U. S. school system, despite its "temporary" shortages of space and faculty, was widely regarded then as the best in the world. Russia was credited with a few good technical schools but its overall educational system was considered rather primitive.

Complacency rudely shaken
Three recent developments have shaken rudely such American complacency:
1. Disclosure that Russia is training far more scientists and engineers than the United States. Russian schools graduate 60,000 engineers a year to our 34,000; 8,000 Ph.D.'s in science to our 6,000.

2. Sputniks I and II blasted any notion that Russia is sacrificing quality for quantity in technical education.
3. A U. S. Office of Education report showed that Russian students work much longer and harder, and receive far more intensive training in science, mathematics and languages than American students.

President Eisenhower had all of these facts in mind when he said strengthening U. S. schools is in his Nov. 14 broadcast that "the most critical problem" confronting the nation in its race with Russia for scientific and military supremacy.
Scientists Echo President
The President's warning has been echoed by leading scientists and educators and by millions of parents who were concerned about the state of our schools long before Sputnik I and II.

While everyone seems to agree that America needs better schools, a United Press survey disclosed a wide range of views on the kind of improvements most urgently needed.
Some critics are calling for drastic reforms in the content and philosophy of American education. They say high school and college curriculums must be overhauled from top to bottom. They would restore emphasis to solid intellectual achievement and the teaching of basic subjects—not only math and science, but also history, geography, foreign languages, English grammar and literature.

Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, a noted atomic scientist, said "scholastic standards" must be raised sharply at every level of U. S. education. He contends they have become so lax that the average American college graduate has less real education than a graduate of European high schools.
Teachers Turn Deaf Ear
Mortimer Smith, executive secretary of the Council for Basic Education, said U. S. schools are dominated by professional educators who turn a deaf ear to all outside criticism. These professors he said, are so bemused by their "readjustment" theories of education that they have "lost sight of the real functions of a school—to present an organized body of knowledge and teach children to use their minds effectively."

Millions of American youths, says Smith, are being taught to "drive cars, weave baskets, choose mates, and behave gracefully at a 'party' when they should be learning to solve quadratic equations, conduct experiments in organic chemistry, or phrase a sentence.
Professional educators say these criticisms are intemperate and unfair. Most acknowledge a need for some curriculum "adjustments" to increase emphasis on science, mathematics and other basic studies. But they oppose sweeping changes which would upstage the "balance" of American education or deprive students of freedom to choose courses which meet their individual "life needs."

Obituaries
By UNITED PRESS
NEW CANAAN, Conn.—George Thurman Bye, 70, a former newspaperman who was literary agent for many famous persons, died at his home Sunday after a long illness. Among Bye's clients were Charles A. Lindbergh, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Westbrook Pegler, Alexander Woolcott, John Erskine, Heywood Brown and Gen. John J. Pershing. He also "discovered" many new authors whose works he published for the first time.

AVON, Conn.—Sir Alfred Zimmern, 78, noted world-affairs expert, historian, political scientist and educator, died Sunday at his home after a long illness. Zimmern helped draft the covenant of the League of Nations and formed the United Nations' Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).
WASHINGTON—Mrs. Romilda L. Flanagan, secretary to Lyle C. Wilson, vice president and Washington manager of the United Press, died late Sunday at Columbia Hospital.
EAST ISLIP, N.Y.—Ethel Jackson, 80, the actress who first played the title role in "The Merry Widow" on Broadway, died Saturday at the Percy Williams home.
DENVER—Mrs. Pearl B. Ruppert, wife of one of the Ruppert brothers who built New York's Yankee Stadium, died in Denver Sunday. She was 65. Her husband, George E. Ruppert, was president of the Ruppert Brewing Co. of New York until his death nine years ago. He and his brother, the late Col. Jacob Ruppert, financed the construction of Yankee Stadium.

ROBINSON, Ill.—William W. Arnold, 80, retired United States Tax Court Judge and former United States representative from Illinois, died Saturday of a heart condition.
Aided Immigrants
Organized legal aid work in the United States was begun in 1876 to help German immigrants, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Christopher Columbus discovered Puerto Rico in 1493, naming the island San Juan Bautista.

Matter of FACT
Lacrosse, the oldest known game on the American continent, was invented by the Indians long before America was discovered by white men. For the Indians, who called the game "baggataway," it was more of a training exercise for battle than a game. Tribes played against each other for hours at a time, with hundreds of men on each side and a field often more than half a mile long. The French named it "Lacrosse" because the stick used in playing resembled a bishop's crozier.

Okinawa's Red Mayor Tossed

NAHA, Okinawa (UP)—A U.S. general and conservative members of the city assembly teamed up and threw the Communist mayor of Naha out of office today. The action ended 11 months of brought government operations in the capital of this U. S. military bastion nearly to a standstill. The city council, by a simple majority vote of 16-10, voted no confidence in Senaga at a stormy meeting today.

Lt. Gen. James E. Moore, U.S. high commissioner for Okinawa, prepared the ground for Senaga's ouster by making four changes in the local constitution Sunday. One change permitted business to be carried out by a simple majority. Another abolished the former rule that there must be a two-thirds quorum.

The city assembly is composed of 26 members. Up to today, whenever the 17 conservative members made a move to vote Senaga out, he defeated it simply by keeping his 13-man faction out of the meeting.
On one occasion the motion came so fast that Senaga's followers jumped out the windows. One lost his pants when a Conservative tried to pull him back.

Women's Society Of Christian Service Has Week Of Prayer And Denial Rites

CIRCLE ONE
Circle One of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Rowntree, 900 Somerville on Wednesday morning. The chairman, Mrs. Clarence Lutes, presided during the brief business session during which announcements were made of the Christmas program to be held on Dec. 9 in Fellowship Hall. It will be joint meeting for all circles and Guild with Circle Six as hostess. The topic will be "Keep Christ in Christmas." All members were asked to pray for the evangelism crusade on Thanksgiving morning at 7 a.m.

The Week of Prayer and Self-Denial program was led by Mrs. Loyce Caldwell with the topic "If With All Your Hearts Ye Truly Seek Me." The group worshipped in song, prayer, and meditation. Mmes. Ell McCarley, Glenn Radcliff, J. L. Colville, and Melvin Stephens, representing missionary workers in other fields, gave a brief look at the work the missionary dollars was accomplishing all over the world, as well as in the United States. The group prayerfully gave gifts in the closing worship led by Mrs. Walter Purviance.

The next meeting for the circle will be on Jan. 8, the place will be announced at a later date. Fourteen members attended; Mmes. Clarence Lutes, Luther Peterson, J. L. Colville, R. E. Dorsey, Loyce Caldwell, Travis Livey, W. Purviance, Glenn Radcliff, W. L. Rowntree, Melvin Stephens, Frank Yealy, Ell McCarley, Joe Dunham, and A. B. Whitten.

CIRCLE TWO
Circle Two met in the home of Mrs. W. A. Wagoner on Nov. 20 at 9:30 with seven members present. Mrs. Chester Thompson reported on visiting the nursing home. Members were told that there is to be a free-will offering for helping a needy family at Christmas time.

Mrs. G. F. Branson led the study for the Week of Prayer. Mrs. E. S. Williams discussed "Our Prayer Life." Mrs. Joe R. Donaldson led the group in the prayer card. All members present read scriptures about prayer. Those present were Mmes. G. F. Branson, E. L. Campbell, Joe Donaldson, R. C. Martin, Chester Thompson, W. A. Wagoner, and E. S. Williams. The next meeting for the group will be the general meeting to be held in the church on Nov. 27 at 9:30 a.m.

CIRCLE THREE
Circle Three of the First Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. L. L. Garren, 2120 Charles, for their World Day of Prayer meeting. Quiet was observed throughout the entire meeting. Members were given prayer cards as they came, to study until the meeting started. After the quiet hour, a medley of prayer hymns were played.

Mrs. H. H. Boynton led the first call to worship pertaining to relationship with God. She led the group in reading Psalm 34:1-8, meditation, and directed prayer. A recording by Miss Betty Jane Boynton, "If In Your Hearts Ye Truly Seek Me," was enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Dick Stowers led the second call to worship in relation to the church and members, after which the group sang, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord." Mrs. George Newberry gave the third call to worship in regard to the world and ourselves. After the hymn, "This Is My Father's World," she led the responsive reading, "A New Song."

Attending the meeting were Mmes. Clinton Evans, J. L. Bain, Cleo Hoyle, Leo Harrah, H. H. Keahy, C. F. Kitto, James Wiley, H. H. Boynton, Dick Stowers, George Newberry, W. H. Nichols, and Don Cain.

CIRCLE FOUR
Circle Four observed "World

Day of Prayer" in the church parlor with Mrs. A. R. Killen and Mrs. R. D. Morris as hostesses. As leader Mrs. W. R. Campbell stated the purpose of 'quiet day' and read the call to worship. Assisted by each member of the Circle, the music, prayers and meditation were woven into a prayerful and impressive service. A solo "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" was sung by Charles Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. F. L. Stallings. An offering was taken for Mother Memorial Center, Friendship Home and Ester Hall in Cincinnati; Peek Home in Palo, Illinois; schools in Hiroshima, and Tokyo, Japan. Mrs. Joe Weaver gave the closing prayer.

Those present were: Mmes. S. C. Evans, H. F. Barnhart, Tom Cook, R. E. Hamm, R. R. Lawrence, Joe Weaver, Fred Thomas, B. D. Woods, C. L. Woolley, W. R. Campbell, C. E. Shellhouse, Bert Robinson, Woodrow Adcock, and Mrs. Bob McCoy. Mrs. Addie Miller and Mrs. Stallings, visitors.

The next circle meeting will be with Mrs. Woley on January 8.

CIRCLE FIVE
Circle Five met in the home of Mrs. John Heasey with Mrs. Fred Cary opening the meeting with prayer. During the business session announcements of the coming events were made. It was voted that the circle would have a Christmas party on Dec. 18.

Mrs. J. W. Shelton was leader of the Week of Prayer program assisted by Mmes. W. R. Ewing, T. M. McBrayer, J. E. Kirchner, W. S. Exley, and W. E. Abernathy. Members present in addition to those mentioned were Mmes. Claude Byrd, H. E. Carlson, Lola Harper, John Heasey, H. B. Howse, A. L. Lawson, R. W. Lane, H. V. McCorkle, W. C. Scott, H. R. Thompson, Joe B. Williams, and one visitor, Mrs. Mosley.

CIRCLE SIX
Circle Six met in the home of Mrs. Weldon Carter with Mrs. John Brewer as co-hostess on Nov. 21. The business session was conducted by Mrs. James Smathers, chairman. The current study was concluded by Mrs. J. D. Kenworthy on the chapter, "Saying Yes and No in Truth." All members joined in reading a skit, "A Dramatic Service of Worship." Mrs. Kenworthy dismissed the group with prayer. Refreshments were served to 17 members and one new member, Mrs. Glen Cox and one guest, Mrs. Charles Thompson.

It might be the Food Page, which we prepare each Tuesday for Thursday's paper, or it might be the sweet rolls, cake, pie, minis, and dainty sandwiches, which we must refuse daily in our rounds of covering women's activities, but whatever it is, we are constantly thinking in terms of food and reducing. Which is why the One Thousand Club we heard of recently struck us as such a wonderful idea for fun and interest, while reducing.

The One Thousand Club takes its name from the number of calories each member must stay under daily. The group meets weekly in one of the members' home and answers roll call by giving their weight and measurements as of that day. If there has been a gain in pounds that member must pay a penalty per pound for each one gained. If she has lost, she is especially honored.

The one who has gained the most during the week, must take "Little Pinkie" home with her. "Little Pinkie" is a plastic pig and must be placed beside the member's plate during her meals to remind her not to be one.

Refreshments are served at each meeting and they are... you guessed it... black coffee!

The One Thousand Club would welcome new members. If you are interested in joining, we will be glad to help you get in touch with one of the members.

parties last week Little Paula Sue Kretzmeier, who is visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, celebrated her first birthday recently at a party given for her by her grandmother, Paula Sealey, 412 N. Hill entertained a group of her girl friends at a skating party after school on Friday on the occasion of her 11th we believe, birthday. And Johnny and Judy Robison, 1206 N. Charles, gave a party on Saturday evening for a group of their friends, Happy Belated Birthday to each of you.

Don't forget to visit the Art Exhibit, which opened today in the Lovett Memorial Library and will continue through two weeks. It will be an hour or hours will spend. The local Pampa Art Club is sponsoring the exhibit, where several local artists will have their work on display.

Man Says He Is Turning Into Woman

LONDON (UP)—Franz Little, a "brilliant scientist" employed by the government on electronic work, finds himself changing sex and wears women's clothes, nylons and high-heels over the week ends, the Herald reported today.

The Herald said Mrs. Little, by whom he has had two children, now looks upon him as a "sister."

The Herald said Little had told them "I seem to be changing my sex... and I find it impossible to suppress the urge to become a woman."

Little, 40, has three children—two boys of 16 and 18 and a girl of eight.

The Herald quoted his wife as saying, "I have now learned to accept the change and I feel like a sister toward him."

"But despite this, I believe we can still keep our home a happy place for all of us and see no

Turncoat On Second Lap Home

KANSAS CITY (UP)—Former Communist collaborator Edward Dickenson began the second lap of his homeward journey to Virginia today, expecting to find "some for me, some against me."

The 27-year-old one-time GI turncoat was en route to St. Louis where he will visit sisters briefly before leaving for his parent's home at Big Stone Gap, Va. Dickenson, freed Saturday from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., disciplinary barracks, also planned a one-night stop in Knoxville, Tenn., residence of a brother.

The former Army corporal had bitter words for an account of his release from the barracks published in the Kansas City Star newspaper. Dickenson said he particularly objected to a passage that he was "beaten down" and faced a "grim future."

"Sure, there'll be some folks for me and some against me," he said. Denying substantial wrongdoing, he said "I never knew what I was getting into in the first place. They told me I was going (to Korea) to fight the Communists, but I didn't know what that meant or anything else."

The dishonorably discharged soldier said he twice tried to escape from Korean prison camp where he was convicted of collaborating with the enemy.

The Virginian said he "still intends to become a Baptist minister if I can make ends meet."

He said he would attempt to secure a job in Nashville, Tenn., to put himself through the Baptist Bible College there.

Inflation Shouldn't Be Accepted

CHICAGO (UP)—A federal banking official warned today that Americans must not accept inflation as a permanent part of the economy.

James L. Robertson, member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, said that inflation is neither desirable nor inevitable.

"If we should support inflationary developments at any planned rate—creeping, walking, trotting or any other speed—the fact would soon become evident to everyone," he said.

"At once this would affect all economic calculations."

Robertson told the 65th annual convention of the United States Saving and Loan League that the expectation of a continued rise in prices would probably set off a boom that could result in another severe depression.

"Experience has shown," he said, "that it is unrealistic, in a (boom) climate, to expect people to exercise self-restraint sufficiently to control the inflationary bias... that is why the central bank and its monetary must perform, in boom times, a most important—and most unpopular duty."

Dick Powell Is Making A Comeback In Singing

By VERNON SCOTT

United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—You can tell Tommy Sands, Elvis and the rest of the ducktail crowd to move over for an old timer. Dick Powell is making a singing comeback.

Powell is one star who's happy his old movies have been revived on TV—despite the fact that televisioners think it's his sea. Thanks to such nuggets as "Goldiggers of 1933" and "Flirtation Walk," Powell has been pestered to tune up his pipes for another shot at crooning.

Warbles Album Of Oldies

Not content with being a producer-director at 20th Century-Fox, a TV tycoon (Four - Star Films) and an actor ("Zane Grey Theater"), Powell has signed a contract with Verve Records to warble an album of oldies.

He needs the money like Yul Brynner needs dandruff. So how come?

"I want to see if I can still sing," Dick claims.

"Of all the things I've attempted in my life I was never successful at making records or singing in night clubs. I want to do both."

"When I began my singing career there were only two crooners around—me and Bing Crosby. Now there are a million of them."

From 1931 to 1942 Powell made 35 musicals as a "pretty boy" singer. In 1935 he was one of the 10 top money-making stars. But by 1945 his star was setting slowly in the west, like the last scenes in some of his movies.

Then he clipped his curly hair and became a hard-boiled detective in "Murder, My Sweet," and a new career in dramatic pictures.

"Back Where I Started"

"Now I'm right back where I started, singing," he says. "My voice is a little lower than it used to be, and I haven't had much chance to practice—just in the car to and from the office. Guys in other cars look at me as if I'm crazy when I hit a high note."

Dick blinked happily when a waitress in the Fox commissary brought him a slice of cake with a candle sputtering from it.

"It's my birthday (his 33rd)," he grinned. "I didn't think anyone would remember."

Powell recently completed directing "The Enemy Below," a tense Navy drama. Asked why he doesn't tackle a musical, he said, "They're too expensive."

"One production scene today costs more than an entire picture did when I was making them. Musicals used to be the big money-makers, especially in Europe. Now people won't stand still for

Firefighters Work Against New Outbreak

AZUSA, Calif. (UP)—Nearly 1,000 firefighters stood guard today to prevent any new outbreak in a five-day fire that blackened 25,000 acres of brush and timber about 20 miles northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

Winds which had driven flames across thousands of acres of valuable watershed—causing damage of about 25 million dollars—had died. Authorities were hopeful that the fire would soon be completely under control.

"Four prisoners from the California Institution for men at Chino took 'French' leave from firefighting duties and escaped. One was captured Sunday night near Covina, Calif., but officers still were looking for three others."

The fire at one point came within three miles of inhabited portions of the city of Monrovia.

Aerial tankers, carrying 600-pound "bombs" of water and borax, dropped their fire-killing loads on hot spots Sunday and were standing by today in case the blaze should break away on a new whirlwind run.

The fire started Thursday when gale-force winds upset the outdoor stove of a prison crew and sent flames racing across the rugged San Gabriel Mountains.

During the height of the inferno, the fire threatened the Mt. Wilson Observatory and television transmitters on the peak.

Brunette Proves That Gentlemen Prefer Blondes

BERLIN (UP)—A shapely brunette dancer put on a wig and proved gentlemen prefer blondes.

Marion Peterhansel, a 19-year-old runner-up in this year's Miss Berlin beauty contest, tested the old saying by appealing to men for aid first as a brunette and then as a blonde.

In her natural hair she dropped a valise on the street, scattering its contents. She had to pick up her belongings herself.

She pretended her automobile broke down. No one offered to push it.

She begged a man to break off his conversation in a public phone booth because she had to make an urgent call. She was told to wait.

Then she tried the same test, wearing a blonde wig. Men jumped to pick up her scattered clothing. They pushed her automobile. And she got in the phone booth immediately.

Paper Says Meg Made Tearful Marriage Appeal

NEW YORK (UP)—The New York Daily News said today that Britain's Princess Margaret has made "a tearful new appeal" to her family for permission to marry Peter Townsend.

The newspaper quoted friends of the 27-year-old princess as saying "she was turned down sympathetically, tactfully—and flatly."

The dispatch from London said Margaret was "greatly shaken" by the refusal of her sister, Queen Elizabeth, the queen mother and Prince Philip to change their minds about her marriage to the divorced commoner who was once a palace aide.

"As a result, Meg has begun coldly shouldering her royal duties," the News said. "In public, she is chilly toward her sister when they appear together. More often, she is noticeably absent."

"Her stand-offishness has verged on a public scandal."

The newspaper said "Liz, Philip and the Queen mother all were

Matter of FACT

In breadmaking, when the yeast in the dough works upon the starch in the flour, carbon dioxide gas and alcohol is produced. The gas collects in bubbles in the dough, making it swell or "rise." When the bread is baked, the heat expands the gas, making the bread rise still more. The heat finally drives off the carbon dioxide as well as the alcohol, making a light, porous bread.

Final Week Sees Texas, Rice, Aggies

Top Game To Be Longhorn, A&M Thanksgiving Classic

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
The week of decision has arrived in the turbulent Southwest Conference football arena. And who would have ever thought that the cast of characters in the exciting drama to be unfolded would contain such unheralded names as Rice and Texas, winners of only one game between them as they finished sixth and seventh a year ago.

But there they are as big as life contending down to the wire with defending champion Texas A&M for the title and the curtain call that represents a date in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

Any one of the three can win the crown outright with the bowl berth going with that honor; Rice and the Aggies could share the crown with Rice grabbing the Dallas post-season invitation, or Texas and Rice could wind up co-champions with Texas drawing the bowl nod.

Texas Vs. Aggies
Just which one of these combinations will complete the puzzle hinges on how the ball bounces Thursday at College Station when the Aggies and Longhorns renew their rivalry for the 63rd time since 1884 and at Houston Saturday when Rice entertains battered-about Baylor.

At least another major bowl bid will be awaiting one of the unsuccessful Cotton Bowl contenders from this trio since both the Sugar and Gator Bowls have coveted eyes turned on the Southwest. There'll be a colorful sideshow attraction going on amidst this pressurized football frenzy as Southern Methodist throws its gaudiest crowd-pleaser in a decade, Don Meredith, against Texas Christian at Fort Worth Saturday in hopes of catching the eye of a bowl scout.

But despite the special attraction of Meredith's marvelous manipulations with a football, this contest must yield the center stage to the tense goings-on at College Station and Houston.

Interested Spectator
Rice, which mauled TCU 20-0 last Saturday, to maneuver itself into the enviable position it enjoys, will be an interested spectator to the Aggie-Longhorn head-knocking Thanksgiving Day game because the outcome of that game sets the pattern for what Rice must accomplish on Saturday.

If Texas A&M wins, as expected, then Rice must defeat Baylor to claim a share of the title with the Aggies and grab the bowl bid because of the Owls' 7-6 upset of Texas A&M.

If Texas wins, Rice must still defeat Baylor if it hopes to grab the undisputed championship and the bowl berth. A tie with Baylor would assure Rice a co-championship, but the Cotton Bowl berth would shift to Texas, which bumped Rice 19-14 earlier in the season.

If Texas and Texas A&M scrap to a deadlock, Rice could take it all by beating Baylor and could scramble out with the Cotton Bowl bid and a share of the title with the Aggies by merely tying Baylor.

JH Basketball Games Needed

The only thing lacking in the Pampa eighth-grade basketball team now is a few more games on the schedule.

Coach Bob Reynolds announced that he would like to match games with nearby towns, either with eighth or ninth grade teams or a combination of the two.

Any coaches interested are asked to contact Reynolds either by phone or letter at the Pampa Junior High.

Fraley's Facts And Figures

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP) — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

Navy will be the favorite over Army in this weekend's service academy football classic and, according to Middle coach Eddie Erdelatz, one of the biggest reasons has to be that "this team is more relaxed and has more fun than any team with which I was ever associated."

This crop of future admirals is a wise-cracking, fun-loving bunch which always has the bright quip ready. Once, during a chalk talk for the California game, the scout advised them that one rival was half-ambidextrous.

"You know what that means?" he kidded.

"Sure," one of the Middies replied. "It means he runs equally well with both feet."

Figured on Pay-TV
Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers and Horace Stoneham of the Giants figured heavily on pay-TV when they moved their ball clubs to Los Angeles and San Francisco respectively. But a poll of 45,000 readers by TV Guide shows that 96 per cent are against subscription TV—with the most opposition coming from the West Coast.

In Los Angeles, where the city administration has approved franchises for pay-TV systems, only 3.51 per cent of the voters favored pay-TV... which means that 96.49 per cent were against it.

Picking All-America teams can be slow down and listen when a team such as the University of Pittsburgh names its all-opponent beat. The Panthers tabbed Oklahoma's Clendon Thomas as the hardest runner to stop and also named as "great" Army's Bob Anderson, Oregon's Jim Shanley, Duke guard Roy Hord and Syracuse end Dick Lasse.

Horse Food Costly

The next time you complain about the high price of hamburger and black-eyed peas, be thankful you don't "eat like a horse." Horace Wade at Gulfstream Park reports that it costs $12 a day to feed and train a thoroughbred, not counting shoeing, veterinarian fees, medicines, jockey fees and shipping. The nag which doesn't win a race all year is really in trouble—and I know a lot of 'em.

The National Golf Foundation reports that 160 new golf courses were opened in 1957, topping any year since World War II. There are another 289 courses under construction and 758 courses in the planning stage. Meanwhile, there were 3,500,000 more 18-hole rounds this year than in 1956 with women's play up 15 per cent and junior play up 20 per cent over the previous year.

Arizona Nears Border Title

By UNITED PRESS
Arizona State's Sun Devils, operating at nearly a 40-point per game pace as they race toward a perfect season, seek to grab the Border Conference championship as well this week.

The Devils close their schedule on their own field at Tempe against traditional rival Arizona, which until last Saturday night hadn't been able to break into the win column all season.

A victory would give the Devils a 10-0 season record and 4-0 for their league slate, but a loss would force them into a co-championship with West Texas State, which finished its schedule two weeks back.

Only one other game is on the program this week and that is a loop contest between Hardin-Simmons and the New Mexico Aggies at Abilene Thursday afternoon.

Arizona State walloped College of Pacific 41-0 in last week's star performance, while Arizona broke a seven-game losing streak with a 17-14 victory over a Marquette team that now has lost 20 straight.

The Aggies won their second straight game with a 26-21 decision over Western Colorado, but the loop's two other active members didn't fare so well.

Dethroned champion Texas Western was upset 14-7 by Trinity, while Hardin-Simmons was smothered 32-7 by Oklahoma State.

Bowl Bids Still At Stake As College Season Nears End

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
The drama of the Army-Navy game, with a possible bowl bid at stake, sets the style for a double-barreled program of showdown games winding up the 1957 college football season this week.

With Duke officially named Sunday as Oklahoma's rival in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., four major bowl berths still are to be filled and, in addition, this week's games on either Thursday or Saturday will determine five major conference champions.

Still to be picked are both teams in the Cotton and Sugar Bowls and the champs in the Southeastern, Southwest, Southern, Skyline, and Border Leagues.

After a formal Saturday when only one of the nation's top 10 teams, ninth-ranked Notre Dame, was beaten (and then by eighth-ranked Iowa, 21-13), here's how the major bowls are lining up: Rose-Ohio St. vs. Oregon; Orange-Oklahoma vs. Duke; Cotton - Rice or Texas A&M vs. Navy or Mississippi; Sugar - Rice or Texas A&M vs. Mississippi.

Key Games Coming Up
Three games will probably settle all four bowl bids. Texas A&M (4-1-0) meets Texas on Thursday's Turkey Day card and Rice (also 4-1-0) meets Baylor Saturday. If both contenders win, they tie for the Southwest Conference crown and Rice goes to Cotton with the Aggies probably to the Sugar. If one wins while the other loses, winner gets title and Cotton Bowl berth, loser probably gets Sugar.

Meanwhile, Navy is expected to get and accept the other Cotton Bowl spot if it beats Army in Philadelphia's big game Saturday.

Also at stake in what promises to be a high-powered game is the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern grid supremacy.

Mississippi — certain for a bowl game — will take the Southeastern Conference if it beats Mississippi State Saturday and bowl-eligible Auburn loses to Alabama. For the other league titles: VMI can clinch the Southern Conference by beating Virginia Tech; Utah can clinch the Skyline by beating Utah State Thursday; and Arizona (Tempe) St. needs to beat Arizona to avoid a border title tie with West Texas State.

Seek Perfect Records
Auburn and Arizona State both will be trying to finish as the nation's only major unbeaten and untied teams. All told, the "perfect record" list now is down to 14 teams, 13 of which have ended their seasons.

In last Saturday's action: Yale trounced Harvard 54-0 and Princeton took the Ivy League title with its 34-14 win over Dartmouth. Oregon State gained a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference crown by upsetting Oregon, 10-7 and North Carolina rallied from a two-touchdown deficit to upset Duke, 21-13.

Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team, fumbled 13 times but downed Kansas State, 27-9; second-ranked Ohio State ended a perfect Big Ten season with a 31-14 rout of Michigan; third-ranked Auburn easily downed Florida State, 29-7; and fifth-ranked Oklahoma rebounded from its loss to Notre Dame to trounce Nebraska, 32-7. Other teams in the top 10 were idle.

After this week, only two top games remain to be played next week—Pittsburgh at Miami (Fla.) and Notre Dame at SMU.

Brown's Brown Paces Team To Win Over Rams, 45-31

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer
Jim Brown's best sport is LaCross, but don't be surprised if this fabulous athlete sparks the Cleveland Browns to the National Football League's Eastern Division title.

Brown, rookie fullback from Syracuse, scored four touchdowns and set a single game NFL rushing record of 237 yards Sunday as Cleveland rallied to whip the Los Angeles Rams, 45-31. Brown scored on slashes of 69, one, one and three yards. He also set up Cleveland's last touchdown with a 46-yard run as he boosted his league-leading rushing total to 769 yards in 161 tries.

Brown battered the old one-game rushing high of 223 yards set last year by Tom Wilson of the Rams. Brown, a 220-pounder who runs 100 yards in 10 seconds, propelled the Browns to their highest point-total since 1954 as they retained their half-game lead over the New York Giants.

Giants Scrape Through
New York, defending league and Eastern champion, stumbled through a poor second half for the third straight Sunday but defeated the Chicago Cardinals, 28-21. The Giants got all their points in the first half.

While the Browns and Giants whirled toward a Dec. 15 clash, the Baltimore Colts broke a first-place tie with the San Francisco Forty-Niners and Detroit Lions to take a one-game lead in the Western race; John Unitas' eight-yard pass to Alan Ameche in the last 47 seconds gave the Colts a 27-21 victory over the 49ers. The Chicago Bears gave Baltimore a big assist by upsetting the Detroit Lions, 27-7, behind Ed Brown's passes and Rick Casares' running.

Steelers Suffer Setback
The Green Bay Packers struck a blow at Pittsburgh's slim hopes of overtaking Cleveland and New York by downing the Steelers, 27-10, on touchdowns by Bart Starr, Howie Ferguson and Babe Parilli. Rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgensen threw scoring passes of 61 and 36 yards to rookie Tommy McDonald to help the Philadelphia Eagles upset the Washington Redskins in the other game, 21-12.

The National Football League attracted 240,864 fans to its six Sunday games, bringing its attendance total for the season to 2,253,145.

The Browns-Rams game drew 65,407 at Cleveland. Other crowds: Lions-Bears at Detroit, 55,749; Colts - Forty Niners at Baltimore, 50,073; Steelers - Packers at Pittsburgh, 29,701; Eagles - Redskins at Philadelphia, 20,734; Cardinals-Giants at Chicago, 19,200.

Amarillo Sandies Clash With Paschal, FW, In First Playoff

By UNITED PRESS
Abilene and Garland open defense of their Class AAAA and AAA state schoolboy football championships this week, but their opening contests will be overshadowed by some that promise to be much more explosive.

Abilene helps get the weekend's big playoff program underway on Thursday afternoon as a prohibitive favorite over El Paso Austin at El Paso, while Garland will be a solid choice over Gainesville in a Saturday afternoon clash at Garland.

But, the fireworks are due to come Saturday afternoon when Corpus Christi Ray and Austin High, rated No. 3 and 4 in the state and both undefeated and untied, meet on Ray's home ground and when Dallas Tech and Highland Park, ranked fifth and sixth, met for the second time. Perfect record Tech handed Highland Park its only loss 21-19.

Amarillo Has Rematch
Amarillo, the state's No. 1 Class AAAA outfit, also has a rematch on its hands with Fort Worth Paschal and will have in mind that the Panthers turned about and won in the playoffs last year after being beaten earlier by Amarillo.

Nederland and Sweetwater, ranked Nos. 1 and 2 in AAA and favored to hit the finals together, also have rugged opening assignments. Nederland entertains once-tied El Campo and Sweetwater plays at third-rated Breckenridge in a rematch after they fought to a 14-14 standoff in a season opener.

In other first-round action, Wichita Falls will be a slight favorite over Texarkana, Fort Arthur over Galena Park, San Antonio Jefferson over San Antonio Burbank and Bellaire and Sam Houston are rated a toss-up in an all-Houston match.

In other AAA bi-district games, Levelland will be slightly favored over Kermit, Cleburne over Kilgore, Brenham over Killeen, San Antonio Edison over Del Rio and San Benito over Cuero.

In the AA and A divisions, where bi-district play got underway last week to trim the 32-team fields in half, Terrell and Mercedes loom as possible AA finalists while Sundown is a fair choice to get to the A finals against either Bishop or Pearsall.

Terrell plays potent Electra this week while Mercedes meets unbeaten Taft. Sundown takes on four-times tied Alpine, Bishop tackles Jourdan and Pearsall meets Eagle Lake.

Tonight's Wrestling

A double main event will be featured tonight at the Sportsman Club wrestling as Paul of France battles Hans Schnable in the first half and a four-man tag match takes over for the second.

Paul, who is reputed to be one of the strongest men alive, will grapple with Schnable in a two-out-of-three fall contest, which will be limited to one hour of combat.

In the tag match, Rip Rogers will pair with Dory Funk to oppose Tokyo Joe and Great Bolo. The match also will go two out of three falls, and will carry a one-hour time limit.

In the first event, Tokyo Joe will tangle with Rip Rogers in a one-fall duel limited to 20 minutes.

The wrestling, held each Monday evening at 8:30, is sponsored by the Pampa Shrine Club. All proceeds go to the Shriners' Crippled Childrens Fund. Admission is $1.50 for ringside; $1.25 for reserved seats; 90 cents for general admission adult and 50 cents for general admission children.

Sportsman Club is located one mile south of town on the Lefors highway.

Mary Martin Contender For 'First Lady Of TV' Title

By VERNON SCOTT United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Leading contender for title of television's first lady is Mary Martin, the will-o'-the-wisp cutie who appears only in two-hour extravaganzas. A flop in movies, Mary is probably the highest-paid performer in TV. She was seen by an astonishing 100 million persons in her two performances of "Peter Pan."

cropped hair gave the impression that she was rehearsing again for Peter Pan. "I always loathed movies. Couldn't stand to see myself on the screen. But television is perfect. I've found the formula for doing a TV show that can't miss. "Before a play or musical is televised it should travel around the country as a road show. I'll never do a TV program any other way. It gives everyone an opportunity to know exactly what they're doing."

Mary took "Peter Pan" on the road the year before last. This year she toured with "Annie" for several months before beginning rehearsals for TV. Six Stages Needed "Every Broadway play has try-outs in New Haven or Boston," she piped. "So why not do the same with television spectacu-

Altogether six stages will be utilized to accommodate the cast of 80. Then there's a 30-piece orchestra, 25 pounds of makeup, 55,000 pounds of wood, canvas and steel for sets, 333 costumes weighing over a ton, three horses (one an understudy) and a treadmill for the horses, 1000 rounds of ammunition for rehearsal and show, 30 assorted guns, a million watts of power to light the show, etc. Add to this salaries of cast and crew and you begin to get the

"It was a tough decision to make, maybe the toughest of my life," said Morris of his decision to break away. "Sid is the best, the greatest in the business. And he offered me security and steady exposure. "But I felt two things. One, that his new half-hour container wasn't one in which I could perform happily or be of much use—there just wasn't enough room. And two, I consider myself an actor, not just a comic. I want to grow as an actor. If you stand still, you don't grow. I just don't want to stagnate."

Played Shakespeare All five-foot-six of Morris, whose Army career included stretches in Maurice Evans' G.I. productions of "Hamlet" and "MacBeth," will get a chance to start growing on Dec. 15. That's when Morris tackles the role of "Feste" in an NBC-TV production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." "I left Caesar so I could do a lot of things with my career. That's why I'm so delighted with this crack at Shakespeare. One of the hardest things in this business is to shift from one type of role to another. "Right now, when producers hear my name, they automatically think—'Morris' Oh, yeah, the little guy, the little comic.' That's the label I have to get rid of." Morris hooted at reports of disension between himself and Caesar. "Listen, Sid, Carl Reiner and I were like a family. You get to know each other pretty well when you work together for nine years. And believe me, we were together — from 11 in the morning until six at night, six times a week. "I think we got along fantastically well considering the dispositions that go with show people. You know, a couple of other TV shows have offered to take me on as a regular since I decided to leave Sid, but I turned them down. I figure that there's not much point in leaving the best in the business and then winding up with the second best."

Has Done Solos Morris has done a brace of solos since he left Caesar — he worked a "Matinee Theater" and a Polly Bergen show. He's also carving out a night club routine which he hopes to unveil soon. "I'm 38 now and I've got two kids and a wife and I won't deny for a while back there I'd wake up in a sweat in the middle of the night when I thought about being on my own," said Morris. "And I'm still scared. I'm petrified. It's a big chance to take—giving up the security of a steady job. But you know, for the first time in many years, I have a feeling everything's going to come out all right."

Away you'll go . . . Keotane-Quick . . . morning after morning, all winter long!

"I'll get a hot spark this morning . . . I'll start fast this morning . . . I'll save my battery this morning."

Get Keotane-Clean "Hot Spark" Starts

(Like having someone warm up your engine ahead of time)

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline has Keotane . . . and only Keotane "unglues" carbon and lead from spark plugs as you drive, by dissolving the glue-like gum that collects and binds these deposits. Result: You get a quick, clean, "hot spark" start!

ON a cold cold morning you want a fast fast start. But your gasoline is cold . . . the air is cold . . . your engine is cold. And to get a fast start in a cold engine on a cold morning, you need a hot spark. But to get a hot spark, you need clean spark plugs. To be sure of always having clean spark plugs you need Keotane. It's that simple. Because Keotane dissolves gum, it "unglues" carbon and lead from spark plugs. A 10,000-mile spark plug that's Keotane-Clean shoots a hotter spark than a 3,000-mile plug that's fouled with carbon and lead. Because Skelly Supreme Gasoline gets spark plugs Keotane-Clean as you drive, users call Skelly Supreme the "hot spark" gasoline. With Skelly

Supreme in their tanks, every time they go to start their cars, they can say, "I'll get a hot spark this morning . . . I'll start fast this morning . . . I'll save my battery this morning." Because Keotane also gets your carburetor, combustion chambers, valves, and other vital engine parts Keotane-Clean, tests show that Keotane gives an average of 12.7% more miles per gallon, 14.6% more horsepower output, and the performance effect of 3.1 extra octane points. All this adds up to 6.1c extra value per gallon — at no extra cost. Start tomorrow morning with Skelly Supreme with Keotane — the only "hot spark" gasoline.

Which Will Start Faster?

Dirty
3,000-Mile
Spark Plug?

Keotane-Clean
10,000-Mile
Spark Plug?

In only 3,000 miles, even new spark plugs can build up heavy deposits of gum-stuck carbon and lead. This layer of unwanted "insulation" makes starting slow and agonizing—and wears down your battery.

The strong, "hot" spark you get from a Keotane-Clean plug quickly ignites even a cold mixture in a cold engine on a cold morning. You get Keotane-Clean "hot spark" starts —and save your battery!

Sputnik Decision

Before Sputnik number three climbs into an orbit around our earth, or goes hurtling off to slap the man in the moon squarely in the face, there are some psychological implications arising from the Russian ascendancy in this matter which are deserving of study.

Say what we will, the Russians have employed a slave economy, a dictatorial government and ruthless suppression to bring about a technical advancement of man's conquest of outer space. Incongruous though it may seem, the fact stares us squarely in the eye.

Our own bureaucracy, sometimes larger and often more bungling than the Russian political mess, has attempted to walk a "middle of the road" between the tyranny of the Russians and the freedom of our forefathers. The result has been indecision, waste, duplication, confusion and now defeat before totalitarian methods.

It should be apparent to all that half-way, middle-of-the-road methods and ideas come up with few if any answers. On the basis of simple logic, there are only two possible positions for us, as a people, to take. We must either embrace tyranny, submit to a dictator, harness our productive genius to government control and surrender once and for all our individuality, our ideals and our purposes; or we must re-state our purposes, our ideals, depend on our individuality and abandon all thought of tyrants, dictators and super powerful governments.

If we take the first step—and make no mistake about it, there is a large public clamor now for this very thing—then we might be in position to compete with the Russians. We would have accepted their challenge on their terms. The prize, of course, would go to the most cruel, the most totalitarian, the most coercive. And the price would be a return to barbarism, both at home and abroad.

If we take the second step, we would have turned away from the Russian challenge. That is to say, we would have refused to accept their challenge on their terms. Instead, we would be issuing our own challenge and daring the Russians to accept it on our terms.

But there is a grave question in our minds that there is sufficient moral fibre left in this country to stand by such a course. We are too sated with science fiction, with dreams of galaxies, and with billion dollar . . . trillion dollar thinking in government, to consider the merits of individualism, happiness, truth, personal integrity and such an old-fashioned virtue as minding one's own business.

So it is entirely unlikely that we could or would abide by the course of wisdom.

To be utterly candid, it seems to us that the choice our government fulminators are now weighing is a simple one. Shall they continue their futilities in their "middle of the road" half way muddling? Or shall they up anchor, haul down Old Glory and turn to strong man methods in an effort to defeat other strong man methods?

While this question is being considered in many minds, there is another thought which ought to be entertained. Now that Russia has stolen a march on us by contriving a top dog in the orbital kennel, will the Russian government be more inclined to make war on the U. S., or less inclined to do so? Their capacity to do so is now revealed as being greater than our second guessers in the government imagined. But does the capacity further the design? Some will say so.

We will, at least for the moment, argue the other point of view. It has been the record of history that the aggressor in virtually every war, is the nation or the politician who feels that he has more to gain by fighting than he has to lose. To employ a hackneyed phrase, it is the "have-not" nations, those who feel that others have more than they have, which attempt a military showdown. And it is true that our own determination to have peace stems from the well-known fact that freedom in this country has turned us into the greatest "have" nation of all time.

It might be fair to inquire if the Russian ascendancy has now created sufficient of an atmosphere of superiority so that the red dictator feels that he is now a "haver" and the U. S. is a "have notter." If this is, indeed, Khrushchev's feeling, then we might have less to fear from him now than heretofore.

But conversely, how profound is the national feeling here at home of "have-nottingness"? If we now are convinced that we are in a secondary position, and if our prior postulate is also well grounded—that the government is considering a switch toward greater totality—then the possibility of war looms all over again. But this time it would come from us.

BETTER JOBS

Reuthers Confusion

The kindest thing one could say about Walter Reuther is that he is confused on moral and economic subjects.

In the last issue I was commenting on a speech he made at the First Annual Industrial Relations Conference of the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO. He started out by contending that we now had "economic abundance." He, of course, did not define what he meant by "economic abundance."

About the only rational statement made in his speech was this: "If we want to preserve and advance these interests for ourselves, we can succeed only by joining our fellow man in advancing those values for the total community." In other words, one group cannot succeed in advancing their material well-being by injuring other groups.

But I can think of no way that the labor unions try to advance their interest other than by asking that they have rights to get a non-competitive reward that other persons do not have. They do this by having laws passed that permit them to enter into a conspiracy to simultaneously quit work with the idea of forcing the employer to sell his products to other workers at a higher-than-competitive price, or reduce the profits that he can put into better tools. In either case, it injures every other worker that is obliged to buy the products of wages arrived at arbitrarily on a non-competitive basis.

Hate-Envy Speech

Reuther seems to think the best way to raise the wages of union workers is to accuse the employers of taking "a disproportionately large share of the fruits of the tools of economic abundance" and that somehow industry would pull itself into a vacuum where it could enjoy its advantage unrelated to society.

But Reuther does not explain that if employers combine to get a non-competitive wage as he advocates they would be punished by the Federal government under the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. They get their share by competing for the consumer's dollar with all other employers. Thus it is hard to tell how Mr. Reuther would determine what is the fair share of the man who furnishes the tools and the entrepreneur and the man who handles the tools.

Then Reuther wants to leave the impression that he considers the right of others by making this statement: "We need to continue to point out that collective bargaining is not something apart from the people or the community."

Labor Unions are apart from the people of the community because they practice seniority, have jurisdictional disputes, attempt to set wages arbitrarily as to how low an hourly wage a man dare work for or how much he dare get on a voluntary basis.

If there is anything labor unions do not do it is think of the other person the consumer. They try to think only of those they permit in the union and who have seniority.

Then he contends: "Collective bargaining is everybody's business and must be carried forward in the full understanding that decisions at the bargaining table have a relationship to the problems of our entire society."

How can it be everybody's business when the labor bosses determine who can enter the union, how long they dare work before they can become a member, what wages they must get when they become a member and thus exclude those who are not admitted. It is a complete denial of truth for men to stand up like Reuther does and contend that collective bargaining that takes away from an individual his right to make an individual bargain is considering the inalienable rights of other people.

Reuther seems to think that all our progress comes from forcing people to involuntarily become a part of collective bargaining groups in order to work and serve mankind. In reality, it is hard to see how the unions ever make a bargain because they always make it under the duress of the threats it strikes. It is no more a bargain than a man holding a gun at another man and bargaining for him to turn over his money. And anything that is not voluntary on both sides and is backed by threats of violence is not a bargain at all.

He said: "Collective bargaining, to contribute effectively and rationally to the achievement of these ends, must be based upon economic facts and not upon naked economic power." Then he tries to let the public believe that the employer is holding back facts that the worker and the public is entitled to know. He wants management to submit to having the government establish what profits should be and what wages should be. In other words, he wants to take out of the hands of the owners of property their right to management and turn it over to the politicians. He, of course, well knows that there are more employees than there are employers and the government will make decisions to get votes and it will not be facts at all, only confiscation of property by legal means of government.

Eleanor Is Trapped In Glaring False Statement

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Eleanor Roosevelt has been trapped in another glaring false statement in McCall's magazine for November. McCall's is a political organ of the dowager's own complexion, owned by interests not readily identified or easily described. She writes a feature called "If You Ask Me." Some of the questions published there permit her to create impressions favorable to herself and her family.

In the present case, she wrote that Georgia law required her husband to insert in all deeds a clause forever excluding Negroes from ownership or occupancy of any of the land in his Warm Springs real estate promotion. She said he did this unwillingly. That statement was immediately challenged by R. Carter Pittman, of Albany, Ga., a lawyer who has many years of real estate practice in the region. He served on the (Georgia State) Commission to manage the Franklin D. Roosevelt Warm Springs ("Perpetual") Memorial.

On the telephone, he was much more blunt than he was in the text of his challenge addressed to McCall's. In his text he said her statement was "unfortunate and without basis in fact." On the phone he said she told a lie.

Mr. Pittman said Roosevelt arranged a sneaky scheme to accomplish exclusion without assuming personal responsibility. Roosevelt and his mother, Sara, spotted the region as a promising site for a luxurious colony for rich people. Their motive was to make money. She put up the capital and Roosevelt formed a Delaware corporation called Meriwether Reserve, which sent agents around buying up abandoned land for $5 an acre or less and dilapidated houses at anywhere from $500 to $2,000. Roosevelt was president of the corporation. The so-called Little White House where he died was the estate given to Georgia as a continuing burden on the taxpayers for upkeep is not worth more than $6,000 even in its "improved" condition.

In her column Mrs. Roosevelt wrote: "No, he did not have the clause inserted. Such wording or similar wording had to be in any deed, according to the law of that part of Georgia. He told me at the time that he disliked the restriction, but that there was no other way that a deed could be written in that area."

Somewhat abbreviated but not deprived of any legitimate meaning, Mr. Pittman's open letter to McCall's reads:

"While a member of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Warm Springs Memorial Commission I became familiar with the racial restriction clause and discussed it with other members, including W. S. Allen, well-known attorney of Greenville, Meriwether County, Georgia, a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt while he visited in Georgia.

"The statement by Mrs. Roosevelt is unfortunate and without basis in fact. Since Georgia and Southern people have lately become the peculiar objects of unfounded slander and unreasoning bias, we submit the facts for consideration by fair minds;

"There was no law in any part of Meriwether County or Georgia at any time before or since that required a racial restrictive clause. The restriction against Negroes was imposed by Mr. Roosevelt for reasons solely personal to himself.

"Today Mr. Allen made the following statement: 'I have known the deed records of Meriwether County for 37 years and I have used those records in my profession almost weekly. The restriction against Negroes I have ever seen on the records of Meriwether County. I do not believe that any other such restriction can be found.'

"The two deeds involve approximately 5,000 acres wholly unrestricted when purchased by Meriwether Reserve, Inc., wholly owned by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Meriwether Reserve, Inc., in turn conveyed the property to Mr. Roosevelt. Both conveyances carried the racial restriction.

"Both the 1928 and the 1933

deeds were attested by Basil O'Connor, secretary of the corporation, and both were executed in the county of New York."

Mr. Pittman said Roosevelt hid behind two obscure vice presidents whom he used as the officers to sign the conveyances.

"By virtue of the 'Roosevelt Restriction' conveyances subsequently executed by Franklin D. Roosevelt contain the same racial restriction," Pittman continued.

"Those who practice one way and preach another frequently become involved in difficult explanations.

"It appears to be the policy of McCall's not to permit its readers to correct misstatements appearing therein.

"Respectfully, R. Carter Pittman.

"Since the foregoing was written I am informed that Roosevelt's Hyde Park property contains the same racial restriction clause as Warm Springs property. Have not confirmed.

"R. Carter Pittman."

"CHINS UP" OR "HANDS UP"?

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

The second speech in Mr. Eisenhower's series on problems posed by soviet scientific advances raises a substantial question whether the President is preaching a doctrine of "chins up" to his countrymen or addressing a demand of "hands up" to the taxpayers.

Mr. Eisenhower conceded at Oklahoma City that progress in the production of intercontinental missiles cannot be achieved in direct proportion to higher spending. Nevertheless, he went on to propose large the unspecified new federal outlays.

He said that these new costs "in the aggregate will reach a very considerable figure" and that they "must be added to our current annual expenditure for security." Thus the President announces that the present huge military establishment, inadequate as it demonstratively is to meet challenges on the new frontiers of space, must be retained intact, with all of its tremendous tax eating capacity, while additional costs to meet the military needs of a new age are piled on the old.

Mr. Eisenhower thinks it would be "misguided" to cut down conventional forces. He considers foreign military and economic aid unobtainable. He would retain every element of spending devised as an answer.

"Both the 1928 and the 1933

Virginians Want State To Resist Integration

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — "Four out of every five white Virginians feel no moral obligation to comply with the Supreme Court decree and an even greater number want the State of Virginia to resist integration by every legal means."

"It is evident further that this is no nominal resistance because nearly three out of four are willing to close a single school, and more than two out of every three are willing to close all schools in their community to avoid integration."

"Closely allied to all of this is the dramatic shift in the popularity of Eisenhower among white Virginians. Nine out of 10 disapprove his ordering Federal troops to Little Rock. Four out of every five who actually voted for him in 1956 say they would not vote for him, if he were running for re-election today."

REFLECTS SOUTHERN FEELING — This analysis of Old Dominion sentiment, and it is probably an accurate reflection of feeling in six or eight Southern states, possibly more, was not voiced by a racial or political demagogue. It is the calm, considered and factual statement of one of the South's most respected newspapers — the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

It is based on a poll conducted by the newspaper of its readers—the questionnaire was inserted in every 50th copy — and published two days before the gubernatorial election on Nov. 5. In that contest the advocate of "massive resistance," J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., defeated his Republican opponent, Theodore Roosevelt Dalton, by an overwhelming majority.

Dalton rolled up 45 per cent of the total vote four years earlier, an amazing figure for a GOP candidate. He got only 36 per cent on November 5.

RESULTS SIGNIFICANT — In an earnest effort to awaken people in other sections, and especially Democratic politicians and presidential candidates eager to retain the so-called colored vote for 1958 and 1960, to the depth of Southern emotions on this grave issue, the TOKYO, Nov. 23 (UP)—As another sign of changing times in Japan, the ministry of postal services has elevated a woman to the post of section-chief for the first time in its history. Mrs. Yoshie Oyone, 56, who has been working in the post office since 1917, was promoted on the recommendation of Mrs. Hideo Mogami, vice minister of postal services. Mrs. Mogami said she wanted to see more women holding higher positions.

Clamor For Economy Going Unheeded Now

By Thurman Sensing

Have done something we should have done first. Do we have to do everything first? This excitement has transferred itself to the general public, the general public has reacted on the Government — therefore, "phooey" on this limit on spending!

Have we thought this matter through like sensible people? Could not any reasonable person reach the conclusion after thinking it through that this is just another one of the periodic emergency scares which we have been experiencing for the past twenty-five years? If we would only look back at these various "emergencies," we would find that most of them never developed. And could any reasonable person hardly fail to reach the conclusion that this whole scare situation as a result of Sputnik might very well have been inspired by those bureaucracies that don't like to be cut down on their spending in any way, who, having been handicapped in their spending by the public outcry for economy, are now getting around that by blowing up a situation wherein the public is caused to go along with them in a loosening up on spending?

Otherwise, why remove the ceilings on spending? If the people and their responsible public officials and government agencies should reach the studied conclusion that there ought to be an increase in defense spending, why at the same time forget that great saving is still possible in other fields of the federal budget? It has been pointed out time and again by responsible agencies, such as the Hoover Commission, and by responsible individuals in public and private life that billions of dollars could be saved in the federal budget if those in authority only had the desire to effect the saving. Why should all this be forgotten all of a sudden?

What has happened? Isn't economy just as important now as it was earlier in the year? Aren't overpowering national debt and heavily burdensome taxes just as much to be deplored as ever?

Are we simply witnessing the off-repeated demonstration of the public getting all wrought up over a matter, blowing off its steam about it, and then relapsing into its usual apathy and allowing the politicians to take over?

The immediate answer one would probably get from his Government — from his Administration or his Congress — as to why this immediate abdication from the economy position would be SPUTNIK — earth satellites. We have seen members of the Administration, members of Congress in both parties, scientists and other leaders in all walks of life get all excited because the Soviets seem to

Roberta's Floral Designs Create Yule Atmosphere

Thanksgiving, the season of giving thanks for the blessings we have received during the year, opens the holiday season when we share our joys with our friends.

The decorations we use to beautify our homes create a cordial atmosphere for holiday gatherings. Flowers and floral decorations from Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, MO 4-3309, eloquently express the warmth of your welcome. The door swags say "come in" even before your friends reach your home.

Floral Decorations

Inside the centerpieces, mantle pieces, novelty arrangements, flocked Christmas trees and plants spread joy throughout the home. Flowering plants like the Christmas poinsettia, azaleas, chrysanthemums and cyclamen bloom and retain their living beauty during and after the holiday season.

The "extra" beauty of bouquets, like those of roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, gladiolas, arranged by Roberta's for holly and Christmas greens will delight you and your guests.

A floral center piece... a flowering mantle piece... a "Roberta's original" novelty arrangement create the atmosphere for special joy for your home and for your gathering.

Plan Arrangements

Consult Mrs. Roberta Valliant, J. C. Hopkins or Cecil Gill about your decorations — for your home and for your holiday entertaining. Notice how quickly their creations make you forget the cold weather outside.

At Roberta's see the wide selection of Christmas suggestions, including the Yule bulbs, decorative lanterns, the miniature strings of Christmas lights, the miniature reindeer and Santa Claus, the Christmas planters and pottery.

Roberta's has a most complete stock of holiday candles: glitter tapes, laces, colonades, lanterns, shaped like a post, and many other shapes.

Come in, browse through Roberta's. There are planters and arrangements so beautiful, you Roberta's for a flocked Christmas tree: white, pink, blue, fuchsia.

Plan to please your special customers this year with a floral arrangement tastefully designed by Mrs. Roberta Valliant, J. C. Hopkins or Cecil Gill: Bring in your special list and let these people help you.

At Yuletide our friends in the hospital and those who are shut in especially appreciate the gift just can't describe them.

Flocked Trees

In your Yule plans arrange with couraging floral messages they receive. Roberta's brings your floral gifts to your friends quickly — several times a day to both hospitals.

And Roberta's, a member of the F.T.D. (Floral Telegraph Delivery), will wire flowers anywhere for you.

Plan your Christmas decorations with Roberta's this year, and plan to give extra pleasure with floral gifts. Come in today. Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, MO 4-3309.

SANTA COMES TO ROBERTA'S—And he will be here from Dec. 1 until Christmas at Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, MO 4-3309. Santa Claus will be right at home with all the Christmas decorations and suggestions created by Mrs. Roberta Valliant, J. C. Hopkins and Cecil Gill. They design the door swags that say "come in" and center pieces, mantle pieces, plants, bouquets that say "we're so glad you came." And they will be glad to help you plan the decorations for your home and for your gatherings. Their floral offerings, that eloquently express your good wishes, are appreciated especially by our hospitalized and shut-in friends. This year delight your friends everywhere with floral gifts from Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, MO 4-3309.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Frank Westcott of North Attleboro sent me today's hand. Frank, who is the leading life master of New England, calls it a double-barreled end play.

Frank found himself in four hearts after bidding clubs on the way up. West opened the king of clubs and shifted to the deuce of spades. The king forced Frank's ace and it was up to Frank to play the hand.

One way to play the hand would be to take his king of diamonds, enter dummy with the king of hearts, discard the ten of spades on the ace of diamonds and go after the clubs.

This play would have worked like a ten-cent watch. With trumps breaking four-two and both missing clubs in the West hand he would have wound up with a snappy eight tricks.

Frank was sure that the clubs would break badly. He did not believe that West would have led the king without the ace and the jack. He knew the odds were against an even split of the trumps and he saw a sure way to bring home his contract against any combination of cards.

All he did was draw trumps, cash his king of diamonds and lay down the ten of spades. It did not matter to him what happened thereafter. Either opponent could win the trick and lead anything or the man with the queen of spades could let the ten hold. There was no possible way to beat the hand any more.

accepted by the cells. However, they differ from needed chemicals enough to interfere with the cells' metabolic processes of self-repair and self-reproduction.

Laboratory tests have shown that when cancer cells absorb certain antimetabolites, cell repairs are faulty and the cells either fail to grow and multiply or die, the institute said.

The cancer institute said hormonal substances offer another "promising" avenue of cancer research. It said both male and female hormones hinder growth of cancer cells by changing the hormone environment which the cells need to continue reproducing.

The Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., and the University of Chicago will produce new hormonal substances in quantities sufficient for laboratory studies and clinical trials, the institute said.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (UP)—Chicago police today wondered if it wouldn't be wise for them to purchase deer-hunting licenses and just chalk it up to miscellaneous occupational expense.

Several squads of police were seen last week racing up and down the Lake Michigan shore in pursuit of a tiny fawn. The animal, named Bambi, had been exhibited in a florist shop display in front of the Edgewater Beach hotel. He leaped over a barricade and darted into the water. But police finally returned him to the shop.

Almost 1,800 generals in World War II had more troops under their command than were ever under the banners of Napoleon.

C&C LIQUOR STORE—YOUR CHRISTMAS STORE
C&C Liquor at 407 W. Foster, MO 4-4434, has prepared for the holiday season with selections of fine whiskeys, brandies, wines, beers in gay holiday packages. Here you will find the bottles to please your old friends and your "gift problem" friends. For instance on one "prize" shelf there are some of the finest Bourbons ever distilled: W. L. Weller's original Barrel Proof Bourbon, Weller's Very Old Fitzgerald, and Wild Turkey Bourbon. In Scotch Whiskey there is the fine, light Long John and the equally fine and light Northern Scot. Something new and very good is the Golden Yar Vodka: aged to a golden color and entirely odorous and tasteless. At C&C there are your favorite gins, wines—both imported and domestic; and the brandies and wines you will choose to flavor your fruit cakes and other holiday goodies. Now C&C in Pampa features Heaven Hill, a 6 years old, 86 proof Kentucky Bourbon, at only $3.49 a fifth. As a special bonus this featured whiskey is only $40 a case. Regularly this is a $4.49 value. The reduction is the result of C&C's buying power! This feature is for the present stock only. C&C (the initials stand for Cut Costs) offers another feature: 6 Pak of Mile Hi Beer for only $1; and a case of 24 cans only $3.69! Come in. Browse through this store or just drive up to the handy drive-in window, the first in the Pampa handle. Easy access from both Foster Street and from Atchison Street. Drive in and enjoy shopping from the comfort of your own car.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (UP)—Patrolman Thomas M. O'Brien is blessed with the ability to sleep soundly — very soundly and today his boss was aware of it.

Capt. James P. Hackett, deputy chief of uniformed police, submitted a report saying that Thursday night he found O'Brien asleep in a squad car while on duty. Hackett said he tried to awaken O'Brien by shouting at him, since the doors were locked, and when that didn't work, he rocked the car. But O'Brien slumbered on.

He finally woke up, Hackett said, when the captain got into his own car, pulled alongside O'Brien and turned the siren on.

GOETTINGEN, German, Nov. 23 (UP)—Iran has offered to pay German scientists to go to Tehran to aid scientific advancement in that country.

Tehran University rector Prof. Farhad made the offer to Goettingen University and Max Planck Institute officials Friday. He said Iran would pay German scientists for spending one year in Tehran University to help advance Iranian scientific and medical advancement.

A HOLIDAY SUGGESTION—Old Crow, one of America's oldest favorites, is suggested for holiday giving and for holiday entertaining by Herb Lotz, (left) partner-manager of C&C Liquor Store, 407 W. Foster, MO 4-4434, Joe Mercer and Joe Jeffers. Here all popular brands are at your finger tips—or at your car window if you drive up to the handy drive-in window. There are whiskeys' brandies, gins, vodkas, wines, beers and mixes to please every person. Come in, browse through this store. Note the party supplies. Register with Herb Lotz to borrow C&C's punch bowl set or the bowl, ladle and glasses FREE for your next gathering. Notice the rare whiskeys that you have missed for a long time. Note the light Long John Scotch Whiskey, the Wild Turkey and Weller's Barrel Proof Bourbon, and many others. Note the C&C features: Heaven Hill 6 Year old, 86 proof, Kentucky Bourbon for only $3.49 a fifth, $40 a case! And the Mile Hi Beer only $1 a 6 Pak or $3.69 a case. Come in today—C&C welcomes you. When in Borger, go to C&C. There are two stores to serve you.

EVREUX, France, Nov. 23 (UP)—Eleven cargo planes from this U. S. Air Force Base airlifted 171 tons of insecticide to Morocco Friday to combat an invasion of locusts that has been devastating crops.

The planes picked up the insecticide at Marseilles and then continued on to the American base at Nouasseur, near Casablanca. The aid was requested by the Moroccan government.

TOKYO, Nov. 23 (UP)—Two prototypes of jet fighter planes to be produced in Japan have been completed by the Fuji Heavy Industries Co. It was reported Friday. They will go on display next Tuesday, the report said.

Work Started On Potential New Anti-Cancer Compounds

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S. Public Health service announced today it has put six research organizations to work producing potential new anti-cancer compounds.

The service's National Cancer Institute said one group of compounds to be synthesized under the new research contracts is known as anti-metabolites. The compound inhibits growth of cancer cells by blocking certain metabolic reactions, or life processes, the institute said.

It said these compounds resemble needed chemicals and are
